Relief Plan Is Driven Through House Thursday

STRENUOUS BATTLE WITH PROLONGED DEBATE EXPECTED IN SENATE; ATTEMPT TO ATTACH PATMAN BONUS BILL TO MEASURE FAILS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—The Democratic leadership, after driving the $4,880,000,000 "lump sum" bill for works and relief through the house in a surge of power that flattened last stand opposition 329 to 78, prepared today for a more prolonged debate in the senate.

Plainly happy over the house action in voting the money without "strings," administration leaders looked for the senate struggle to open next week. They expressed confidence that that branch would approve the bill, too, despite signs that some Republicans and Democrats would make strenuous attempts to delete certain of the powers the bill gives to the president.

After sharp fighting marked by cries of "Hitler will be green with envy" from the group of Republican opponents, the measure was jammed through last night. The final vote found 27 Republicans voting for the administration measure while 10 Democrats, including half the Georgia delegation, were in the opposition camp. The bill gained the support of the entire progressive and farmer-labor delegations.

Explanation Given

Apparently taking cognizance of Democratic insurgents who succeeded in attaching some amendments to the bill and were seeking to "earmark" funds for specific purposes, President Roosevelt had sent an explanatory message to the house.

He had said "segregation of items" was impossible because of the unemployment "emergency" and

It Was 7 Below—Cold Enough For Pair To Make Up

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (AP)—Henry and Helen Wakup weren't getting along.

Said she to the judge today: "Henry told me it would be a mighty cold day in January before he took me back."

Judge Francis B. Allegretti glanced from the calendar to the frosted window pane to Henry. It was 7 below outside.

"This ought to be the day," said the judge.

The Wakups made up.

Allred Proposal Is Pushed Today

BACKERS HOPING FOR PASSAGE; SENATE IS IN DEBATE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan 25—Sponsors of Governor James V. Allred's bill to establish a state planning board to direct recovery activities hoped to obtain approval of the proposal today by the Texas house of representatives.

There were only three dissenting votes yesterday as rules were suspended to permit the start of discussion of the bill. A short time later a motion to postpone further consideration until Monday was defeated overwhelmingly.

Engage In Debate

Senators meanwhile engaged in another sharp debate over a resolution calling upon legislators to list corporations from which they receive

BILL IS PASSED

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred's chief recovery measure—establishment of a state board to plan Texas recovery in cooperation with the federal government—was passed finally today by the Texas house of representatives and dispatched to the senate. The bill mustered an overwhelming majority in the lower branch, being finally passed 117 to 15.

retainers if any. The house had approved it, 119 to 0.

The paragraph of the proposal which aroused the resentment of some of the senators was that stating that "it is commonly believed and talked throughout the state that members of the legislature are representing interests that are antagonistic to, and conflicting with, the interests of the masses of the WEST TEXAS: Fair, warmer east portion tonight: Saturday fair, warmer in southeast portion, probably colder in the Panhandle.

EAST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, warmer tonight; Saturday partly cloudy, warmer, except in extreme northwest portion. Light to moderate northeast to south winds on coast.

OKLAHOMA: Fair, warmer tonight; Saturday fair, probably colder.

GERMAN'S WIFE PROUD OF HIM

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 25 (AP)—Anna Hauptmann was proud of her husband during his first hour on the stand, but she felt he could have done even better had not imprisonment deprived him of sunlight and her cooking.

"I saw him for ten minutes in jail," she said, "and I told him I was proud."

"Everyone was more nervous than I."

YOUTH LAUGHS AT HIS FATE

LA ROY LANE SMILES AS HE IS PLACED IN DEATH CHAIR

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 25—La Roy Lane, 24-year-old Denton county farmhand, went to death in the state's electric chair early today, denying to the last the slaying of a Dallas county deputy sheriff.

Lane laughed aloud in his cell shortly before the execution as Warden W. W. Waid read the death warrant.

The youth told Warden Waid to "tell the world I didn't fire the shot that killed Cecil Chapman." He smiled and waved to Dallas officers as he sat in the chair.

Brother Also Killed

Chapman, Dallas county deputy, was slain in a gun fight near Dallas Sept. 8 in which Lane's brother, Eugene, also was killed.

Yesterday, Ora Lee Hood, 18-year-old Denton county girl, told Dallas officers it was she who killed Chapman and not the condemned youth. She had hitch-hiked to Dallas to tell her story, arriving at daybreak.

Finally, she admitted her story was untrue, explaining "I am in love with La Roy Lane and hoped to be able to save his life, or at least get a stay of execution."

American Mission In China Looted

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 25—The looting and destruction of property of the American Evangelical church at Tungjen, Kweichow province, by Chinese national government and provincial troops was reported here today.

News of the looting, suppressed by national government censors, was received here through Chinese and foreign sources.

The troops, pursuing communist bands in western China, were said to have gotten out of hand and forced entry into the church's mission properties.

ESCANABA, Mich., Jan. 25 (AP)—Mrs. John H. Stack, jr., member of a prominent family in Portland, Ore., died in a hospital here today, a week after the death of her husband, the auditor general of Michigan.

ISADOR FISCH SAID OWNER OF MONEY

ALL EVIDENCE BUILT UP BY THE STATE DECLARED FALSE

BY WILLIAM A. KINNEY

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 25—Bruno Richard Hauptmann today denied any connection with the kidnaping and murder of baby Charles A. Lindbergh, jr.

He declared the dead Isador Fisch gave him in a box, the $14,600 Lindbergh ransom money, discovered in his garage, in December, 1933, and was not discovered by him to be money until August, 1934.

Denies Each Detail

Testifying in his own trial for his life, Hauptmann categorically denied each and every detail of the crime. He denied that he built the kidnap ladder, that he stole the Lindbergh baby, that he wrote any of the ransom notes, or that he collected any ransom.

"Were you ever in Hopewell in your life?" Edward J. Reilly, defense chief attorney asked.

"I was not," he said in his heavy gutteral way.

He was deadly serious.

Not On Grounds

"On the night of March 1, 1932, were you on the grounds of Colonel Lindbergh's estate at Hopewell, N. J.?"

"I was not!"

"On the night of March 1, 1932, did you enter the nursery of Colonel Lindbergh?"

"I did not."

"And take from the nursery Charles Lindbergh, jr.?"

"I did not."

The answers snapped.

"On the night of March 1, 1932, did you leave on the window seat of Colonel Lindbergh's nursery a note?"

"Well, I wasn't there at all."

"You never saw baby Lindbergh in your life, did you?"

"Never saw it."

Note Is Introduced

Reilly called his attention to the original ransom note left in the nursery and asked him:

"You never saw it except in the courtroom?"

"No."

"Did you write it?"

"I did not."

"Telling of Fisch calling at his house in December, 1933, the night before Fisch sailed for Europe never to return, but to die of tuberculosis, he quoted Fisch as saying as he handed over a shoe box:

"I leave it. I leave it something. If you don't mind. Keep care of it and put it in a tight place."

Hauptmann testified:

"I didn't ask what was in it. He only said that is paper in it. I

Federal Licensing Of Utilities Asked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Federal licensing of public utility holdings was suggested by the federal trade commission today. It said the "stage is now set so that a combination of the present holding company systems would produce one nation-wide monopoly."

In 1929, the commission reported, 16 holding company groups had an ownership interest in about 92 per cent of the nation's electrical output.

World Court Vote In Senate Assured

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The senate Thursday assured itself of a vote on the world court early next week after it had adopted, near nightfall, the Vandenberg reservation.

The reservation, by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) states that in entering the Hague tribunal for settlement of international disputes America does not depart from its traditional policy of not interfering in internal affairs of other nations, nor does it relinquish its time-honored attitude toward "purely American questions."

Invalid Mother Of Youth May Testify

CHANGE OF VENUE IS GRANTED KENNAMER BY COURT; SECOND DEATH INQUIRY RE-OPENED

TULSA, Jan. 25 (AP)—District Judge Thurman Hurst today set February 11 for trial of the Phil Kennamer murder case at Pawnee.

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, Jan. 25—The invalid mother of 19-year-old Phil Kennamer may testify for him when his trial for the murder of John Gorrell is held next month at Pawnee.

Defense attorneys, who yesterday succeeding in obtaining a change of venue, disclosed today that Mrs. Franklin K. Kennamer, wife of Federal Judge Kennamer, had been asked to appear in behalf of her son.

The mother of defendant has been ill for six months, but C. A. Coakley, a defense attorney, said her physician would permit her to testify if her health is improved by the trial date.

The defendant told police he shot the 23-year-old dental student in self-defense in an attempt to thwart an alleged extortion plot.

An angle—all but forgotten in frequent clashes between attorneys over points in yesterday's hearing—was revived today with reports that the father of the late Sidney Born, jr., an important witness, had employed a private investigator to determine whether the youth was murdered or committed suicide. The father, Dr. Sidney Born, would neither affirm nor deny the report.

Young Born, a friend of both Kennamer and Gorrell, was found fatally shot 10 days after the shooting of the dental student. Officials have not been able to de-

Six Days Remain For Tax Payment

TOTAL OF 1,204 HAS PAID POLL TAXES UP TO DATE

Six days remain for poll taxes of 1935 to be paid. A total of 1,204 persons in Lubbock county have paid poll taxes, 150 of that number not on the assessed tax roll. About 16,000 Lubbock county citizens are eligible to vote, it was learned at the office of the tax collector.

Election of trustees of school districts of this county will be conducted the first Saturday in April. The United States congress and the state legislature are in session and citizens may be called on to vote concerning repeal of the Dean law or some other subject, the collector's office reminded. Hurley Carpenter, collector, urged persons to pay their poll taxes.

6,900 Are Assessed

The number of persons assessed is 6,900, about one-fifth of the population of the county.

During years in which regular elections are not conducted, poll taxes are paid by only about one-third of the number who pay their taxes in election years, Mr. Carpenter said. Approximately 10,000 persons paid the taxes last year.

Poll taxes are $1.75, and may be paid at the tax collector's office on the first floor of the courthouse or at the branch office in Slaton.

Payment of poll taxes began Oct. 1.

Burns Anniversary Will Be Observed

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—The immortal songs of Robert Burns will ring out tonight as Scottish organizations throughout the United States observe the 176th anniversary of the birth of the famous bard.

"Auld Lang Syne" will echo from many a hall where Burns will be honored at dinners, concerts and dances.

Aged Attorney Of Texas Is Claimed

FORT WORTH, Jan. 25 (AP)—S. D. Lary, 84, attorney and resident of Fort Worth since 1902, died today.

During his political career Lary was first justice of the peace and later county judge of Bowie county, serving for three terms during that county's fight over location of the courthouse. He also served two terms as sheriff of Bowie county and for four years was mayor of Texarkana.

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Texas senate today confirmed Governor James V. Allred's appointments of D. S. Meredith, jr., of Longview and Paul G. Brown of Henderson as district judges. Meredith will be judge of the new special court for Gregg county and Brown will preside over the re-established special court for Rusk county.

FUND INQUIRY IS SOUGHT

SPECIAL MESSAGE IS SENT LEGISLATURE BY GOVERNOR

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 25—Legislative investigation of the condition of the state permanent school fund was urged by Governor James V. Allred today in a special message to the Texas house of representatives.

Representative Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg introduced a resolution Wednesday calling for an inquiry by a house committee into investment of moneys of the permanent school fund in refunding bonds by the board of education.

Many Prove Worthless

The resolution set out the amounts assertedly invested in refunding bonds and stated "this record on its face suggests that our permanent school fund is being rapidly invested in securities of a questionable nature and many of which may prove absolutely worthless."

"I respectfully direct your attention to the resolution by Petsch calling for an investigation by a committee of the house of the condition of the permanent school fund of this state," the governor said in his message.

"It is my judgment that some character of legislative investigation of this matter should be had. Such investigation would not only disclose the present condition of the permanent school fund, and the manner in which it has been administered but would afford the basis for any needed legislation."

Oil Allowable For Texas Is Increased

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today increased the state oil allowable from 998,612 barrels to 1,010,339 barrels daily, effective February 1. The new allowable was 21,361 barrels under the federal quota of 1,031,700 barrels set for next month by Secretary Ickes.

AMENDMENT OFFERED

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—Senator John W. Hornsby of Austin has proposed a constitutional amendment to set at four years terms of all elective state, district, county and precinct officers.

BILL IS APPROVED

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—A bill to aid financially troubled school districts by permitting taxpayers to pay school taxes if unable to pay all their property tax was passed today by the Texas house and sent to the senate.

RICH AREA OF MISSISSIPPI HARD HIT

FAMINE AND DISEASE FEARED AS WATERS SWEEP STATES

BY J. B. CROSSLEY

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

MARKS, Miss., Jan. 25—With at least 25 persons reported dead and approximately 18,000 others marooned, icy floodwaters raced madly with famine and disease through the rich delta lowlands in northwest Mississippi today.

Marks felt the brunt of the flood seige as the overflow waters from the rain-swollen Coldwater river rose steadily in the town, which has a population of 1,200.

Give Up Battle

Volunteers and a hundred convicts gave up a three-day battle to save the levees last night after the water plunged through.

As the water retreated from Tunica and Tate counties, it struck Sledge and Darling in Quitman county and then rushed headlong upon Marks, threatening further destruction in the rich Tallahatchie basin below. The overflow section varies in width from 5 to 15 miles.

The damage has already been estimated at more than $1,500,000 while railroads expect a loss of more than $1,000,000 through washed-out tracks and damaged bridges in Mississippi and lower Tennessee.

Fear Is Expressed

Fear was expressed by Mayor C. P. Smith of Marks, for some 5,000 inhabitants in the path of the overflow in the Quitman-Panola basin south of here. Many in that section have already come here or gone to Crowder.

Schools, churches, the railroad station and box cars were pressed into service to house the refugees from the flood.

There was intense suffering in Tate, Tunica, Panola and Quitman counties as shivering refugees trekked into the little "cotton country" towns by the hundreds and sought any available sort of sheiter.

CADET CORPS AT TECH TO PARADE

Cadet corps of Texas Technological college will parade at 5 o'clock this afternon and will salute their military queen, Miss Marie Zimmerman, and an honorary colonel and several honory majors. The co-eds were elected by members of the cadet corps in a recent meeting.

Miss Zimmerman will reign as queen at the annual military ball February 22 in the Auditorium. Miss Judith English is honorary colonel, Misses Eva Mae O'Neal, Pauline Anderson and Mary Frances Standefer, honorary majors.

The co-eds will be presented with decorations of their honorary ranks at the military ball.

Jackson Is Named To Sanitary Board

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today appointed Roy Jackson, Laredo cattle man, as the third member of the live stock sanitary commission. He previously had named Dave Nelson of Orange as chairman and R. H. Martin of Del Rio as a member.

The governor also named R. G. Waters of Texarkana as casualty insurance commissioner to succeed W. S. Pope of Anson, and former District Judge J. B. Keith of Stephenville to the pardon board to succeed Fred S. Rogers of Bonham.

HELD FOR TRIAL

Ward line officials said they did not have a list of the crew.

NEW RAIDS BY JAP BOMBERS

ATTACK RENEWED AND 54 PERSONS DEAD AFTER RAIDS

BY HAROLD TIMPERLEY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

PEIPING, Jan. 25—New Japanese air bombing raids into Chahar province bringing death to 54 Chinese were reported today by Chinese sources, indicating apparently a renewal of the Japanese attack.

The cities reported bombed were Tungchetze and Tuhsikou, the two places which suffered most heavily in the fighting of two days ago.

Damage Is Heavy

Chinese military authorities here stated that the Japanese fliers dropped three bombs into Tungchetze killing 18 Chinese militiamen and 5 villagers while other Japanese airplanes dropped eight bombs into Tuhsikou, killing 21 militiamen and police of that city.

The Chinese further allege that the Japanese air force raided Kuyuan, dropping three bombs there but without casualties.

Governor Sung Chen-Yuan of Chahar was reported to have telegraphed the national government at Nanking for instructions as to what he should do, but it was said that he had not yet received a reply.

Band Teachers Of Texas In Meeting

ABILENE, Jan. 25 (AP) — Annual convention of Texas Band Teachers association opened here this morning with D. O. Wiley, director of the Texas Technological band, Lubbock, president, in charge. Chief speaker was N. J. Whitehurst of the state department of education, Austin, who discussed affiliation for the band course of study in public schools.

Tonight, visitors will be guests of Hardin-Simmons Cowboy band at a banquet, with a concert by the Abilene High school band to follow. The meeting closes Saturday morning with the annual election of officers.

Two Suspects Are Questioned Today

Two Meadow men suspected of theft and sale of large quantities of certified cotton seed were questioned in the sheriff's office here this morning.

Deputy Sheriff Baxter Honey had arrested them in the highway between Lubbock and Slaton. They were in an automobile towing a trailer.

Three hundred dollars worth of certified seed that evidently had been stolen had been sold at Slaton, and several thefts of certified seed in this area had been reported, the sheriff's department said.

LINER RAMMED AND SENT TO THE BOTTOM

RESCUE SHIPS SCOUR AREA IN EFFORT TO FIND SURVIVORS

BY B. L. LIVINGSTONE

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

SEA GIRT, N. J., Jan. 25—Two seamen were known to have perished and 44 persons were unaccounted for today after a collision between the chartered Ward liner Mohawk and the freighter Talisman in icy waters off the Jersey coast.

The vanguard of 117 survivors, many of them in a serious condition after struggling through frigid seas, were taken to New York by the coast guard cutter Champlain.

Boat Is Missing

Coast guardsmen and other rescue workers after an all-night vigil off the coast, reported one of the Mohawk's lifeboats missing.

Whether that boat held the 14 passengers and 30 members of the crew unaccounted for, had not been determined.

Rescuers expressed the hope that some of the missing were aboard the Talisman, which was limping into Brooklyn with its bow stove in. The Mohawk, making its first southern trip for the Ward line, sank rapidly after the collision at 9:30 p. m. yesterday.

NO SURVIVORS

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—The possibility that 49 persons lost their lives in the sinking of the $2,000,000 Ward liner Mohawk grew this afternoon when the freighter Talisman—which rammed the Mohawk off Sea Girt, N. J., last night—limped into port without any signs of survivors.

Robert Tex Barnett, 22, an ordinary seaman on the Mohawk, from Houston, Tex., who was rescued by the Champlain, said he was on the bridge at the time of the accident, and that the automatic steering gear went "haywire."

Two Seamen Crushed

The two seamen were crushed to death, a mate on the Mohawk told coast guardsmen, when the prow of the freighter knifed into the $2,000,000 liner, five miles from Sea Girt.

The news of their deaths was brought here by the boatswain of a coast guard motorboat, one of six which patrolled the scene of the disaster for more than eight hours.

"One of the picket boats picked up, I should say, about 12 persons out of the water and put them on the Champlain," said Boatswain W. F. Burton.

Burton and his crew of two were covered with ice, their fingers so numbed by the near-zero weather that they could not button their jackets.

Run Into Traps

"It was so misty that we ran into fish traps on the way in," he said.

"The skipper of the Talisman seemed pretty excited," said Burton, "but he seemed to be doing everything he could."

The liner Algonquin picked up 37

TRADE TEMPO IN GENERAL SLOWER

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—The unusually severe weather during the current week slowed perceptibly the general tempo of trade, but was highly beneficial to certain lines, according to the weekly review of Dun & Bradstreet.

Notwithstanding the slight interruption in retail trade, the review says, there was a further broadening in wholesale buying, and industrial operations in some lines continued at a rate unequalled in any January in more than 4 years.

Financial statements thus far received covering the past year, the review continues, indicate generally profitable operations for 1934.

Industrial operations for the country as a whole are running 20 to 30 per cent higher than a year ago.

Tech Clubs Plan Socials For Week-End

Suppers And Dance Planned By Groups

Students at Texas Technological college are planning several socials for the week-end since "dead week" begins Monday, curtailing their parties and dinners for a time.

Las Chaparritas club is to entertain with a buffet supper at 7 o'clock this evening at the Lubbock Country club.

Los Camaradas club will be host with an annual dance from 9 until 12 o'clock Saturday evening at the Hilton hotel.

The Block and Bridle club is to have a steak fry from 6 until 9:30 o'clock this evening at the George Boles' ranch east of Lubbock.

The Fireside Forum has postponed a meeting scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. McDonald Has Party For Classes

Mrs. W. S. McDonald entertained for Lubbock High school public speaking classes of Miss Lulu Mae Cravens Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Gamble, 2402 Twenty-fourth street.

Games and contests constituted the entertainment. Jack Green won a prize for making the best "bridal costume" of newspapers in a boy's contest and Ocie Griggs was declared the most popular boy present in a contest conducted by the girls.

Mrs. Gamble and Miss Cravens assisted in serving refreshments.

About 20 students were present.

Girls Enjoy Theater Party Tuesday

The Oikade club of the Junior High school attended a theater party Tuesday afternoon. Members, who are girls studying home economics, went to the Broadway to see "Anne of Green Gables." Those attending were Charlie Marie Moore, Brunette Beard, Edith Ausmus, Fanny Pettijohn, Beurene Vickery, Ruth Kendrick, Geneva Durham, Nell McKinley, LaVerne Weaver, Sarah Jackson, Rozeltha Smith, Loys Tubbs, Marie Barnard, Onita Bell Hufstedler, Mildred Hankins, Betty Nash, Eleanor Stinson, Mary Irene Gregg, Lucille Brown, Madeline Cobb, Virginia Norman, Fern Anderson, Anabel Wood, Margaret Coffman, Anna K. McNeil, Katherine Chauncey, Loyce Holland, Mary Webber and Fern Wood.

The sponsors, Mrs. Louise Hardy and Miss Ruby Atwood and a guest, Miss Winnelle Ward, also attended.

SAULS-YEARY

SPUR, Jan. 25 (Special)—Announcement was made here of the marriage January 14 at the Methodist parsonage of W. F. (Bill) Sauls and Miss Bessie Yeary, with the Rev. E. L. Yeats, pastor, performing the rites. The couple went on a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., and other New Mexico cities.

FARMER HAD HIM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—One of the Democratic neophytes in congress, Representative Lee of Oklahoma, drew a big hand and a hearty laugh today for his first speech in the house.

Rising to defend the administration's public works bill, he recalled a vitriolic assault on the measure yesterday by Representative Short (R-Mo).

Lee said he had been up around Short's home town, Galena, Mo., and heard this one:

During his campaign last fall, Short was making fun of the government's "alphabetical relief."

"AAA, FERA, NRA—you can't name any combination of letters that doesn't mean relief," Short told an audience.

"Yea?" said an old farmer. "How about GOP?"

Miss Hotton Talks To Parent Classes

"Normal Emotional Development" was discussed by Miss Fern Hotton at a meeting of the adolescent unit of parent education classes this morning at junior high school.

Other lectures of a series being delivered in this unit of work by Miss Hotton and dates they will be delivered are: "Undesirable Reactions," February 1; "What Adolescents Want," February 8; "Freedom and Discipline," February 15; "Sex-Education for Older Children," February 22; "Recreation and Leisure Time Activities," March 1. The lectures are delivered at the came time and place on each date.

Rebekah Lodge Plans Ritual Service

A social was planned for next Thursday night at a meeting of the Rebekah lodge Thursday evening at K. P. hall. The group will meet at the hall at 7:30 o'clock for lodge ritual and the party will be conducted afterward. Nineteen members and two visitors attended the meeting.

Shallowater Club Is In Lecture Hour

SHALLOWATER, Jan. 25 (Special)—Members of Shallowater Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Bob Crump Thursday afternoon.

Miss Hazel Bratley, county home demonstration agent, demonstrated the making of tamale and vegetable chowder and talked on plans for the annual meat show in Lubbock the last week in March. Nineteen members were present. Mrs. Fred Haught will be hostess for the next meeting.

FEDERAL WARNING IS OFFERED HERE

Suspecting that misleading information has been given, the United States civil service commission has issued a warning that persons anticipating taking civil service examinations may guard against loss of money paid as "tuition," information to the Lubbock postoffice civil service department showed.

No one can promise appointments to positions for which the United States Civil Service commission holds examinations. The claim that such assurance can be given brands the person making it a fraud.

Information regarding examinations for the United States Civil service may be obtained from the boards of United States Civil Service examiners. There is such a board in each community which has a postoffice of the first or the second class. (There is such a board in Lubbock.)

Before paying money for tuition, or signing a contract, it is advisable to make inquiry concerning the prospect of examinations. There is reason to believe that agents of some schools deceive the public as to the probability of early examinations.

No school has advance information regarding the need for employes or the probability of examinations.

The commission has announced several open competitive examinations recently. Applications to take the examinations may be filed at the Lubbock postoffice. Examinations will be for the following positions:

Engineering draftsman (highway), Bureau of Public Roads; junior medical officer (interne), St Elizabeth's hospital, Washington, D. C.; associate supervisor of elementary education, Indian Field service. Closing date for receipt of applications for these examinations is February 18.

IN BAKING PIES

To help prevent the filling from soaking into the undercrust of a two-crust or custard pie with uncooked filling, beat an egg white just enough to have a few bubbles form. Spread thinly over the lower crust and then add filling.

When heated the white forms a little coating which helps prevent the filling from going into the crust.

Two-Year-Old Girl Is Party Honoree

Marie Grover was honored on her second birthday Thursday afternoon when her mother, Mrs. Jake Grover, entertained with a party at her home, 1609 Twenty-third street.

Guests complimented the honoree with gifts after which games were played. Mrs. Grover was assisted in entertaining by her neice, Miss Miriam Grover, and Miss Allyne Connell.

The birthday cake, bearing two tapers, was cut and served with ice cream and candy hearts. Dolls were favors. The Valentine motif was used.

Posey Society Meets In Johnson Home

POSEY, Jan. 25 (Special)—Posey Women's Missionary society met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. T. A. Johnson. Twenty-one members and seven visitors were present. Two of the visitors were received as members. After a business session, a program of song and scripture was given. Prayer for the recovery of Mrs. J. T. Howell and two other members who are ill was offered. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Kyle Hart at 2 p. m., February 14.

Doctor Jack M. Lewis Addresses P-TA

Speaker at a meeting of George M. Hunt Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon at the school was Dr. Jack M. Lewis, minister of First Presbyterian church. A program was presented by room pupils of Misses Clarice Hull and Estelle Griffith.

Mrs. Marcus Helber presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Clayton Carter.

Pot plants were given the room of Miss Mittie Jones, first floor, and Miss Hull, second floor, for having the most mothers present. Seventy patrons attended.

Ladies Day Observed At Country Club

Bridge was played Wednesday at Lubbock Country club. This was in observance of Ladies Day and several women met for lunch, enjoying the games later. Favors went to Mesdames Guy McAfee, M. M. Brown and W. F. Helwig.

Attending were Mesdames W. L. McAfee, Guy McAfee, Brown, F. L. McRee, Cliff Dean, Ford Benham and Lee Jones.

Mrs. R. C. Richardson entertained with a surprise party honoring her husband on his birthday Thursday evening in their home near Lubbock. Bridge was played. Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames B. C. Clutter, Buel Judd, W. H. McDonald, R. C. Boswell and Randolph Rampy.

Baptist Executive Group Plans Work

Work for the next three months was discussed when executives of Women's Missionary society, Lubbock Baptist association, met in an all-day session with Mrs. O. A. Tyner, 3611 Twentieth street, Thursday. The hostess served lunch at noon.

The following announcements were made after the meeting: The associational stewardship elimination contest will be conducted at the First Baptist church in Abernathy Sunday, March 3, at 2:30 p. m. Sixty-five quarts of food was given to Wayland college, Plainview, during the past quarter by two churches of the association, Idalou and Calvary.

Committee Appointed

The executive board voted unanimously to conduct a meeting each quarter; the president appointed Mesdames B. F. Foster, J. J. Rozzell and O. W. English to determine the time and place and arrange the program for each meeting.

Attending were Mrs. O. J. Hull, First church, Lubbock; Mrs. W. J. Anderson and Mrs. Foster, Calvary church, Lubbock; Mrs. F. M. Wilson and Mrs. Rozzell, College Avenue church, Lubbock; Mrs. W. H. Crow, Mrs. C. C. Griffiths, Mrs. R. H. Anderson and Mrs. J. M. Fields, Abernathy; Mrs. E. T. Daniell and Mrs. N. G. Kelley, Idalou, and Mrs. R. D. Bumpass, Smyer.

Society Re-Elects Officers Thursday

With the exception of vice-president, officers were re-elected in the Lubbock Woman's club Thursday afternoon at a meeting at Seaman hall. The executives for next year are:

President, Mrs. J. E. Hamilton; vice-president, Mrs. T. H. Barnard, secretary, Mrs. J. R. Weiss, and treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Bidwell. Critic and parliamentarian are to be appointed at a later meeting.

Arrangements were perfected for a seated tea, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Hamilton, 1701 Avenue Q, for prospective members of the Junior Lubbock Woman's club, organization of which is the club's spring project.

Modern Needle Club Is Entertained

Modern Needle club members presented Mrs. R. M. Marchbanks with a gift Thursday afternoon when they met at her home, 1626 Ninth street. The hostess is leaving Lubbock.

CHILD KILLED UNDER BUS

FUNERAL RITES BEING HELD FOR VICTIM OF ACCIDENT TODAY

LEVELLAND, Jan. 25 (Special)—Last rites for 8-year-old J. D. Cunningham, who died under the dual wheel of a school bus near his home, 8 miles southwest of here, late Thursday afternoon, were to be read at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Fairview community church, Davis-Mason company, funeral director, said.

The mishap occurred about 150 yards from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cunningham, parents of the lad.

Backs Over Body

The bus was stopped, Supt. L. T. Green said he was informed, after a child's cap had dropped or had been tossed out. E. C. Grimm, about 60, driver, did not know the boy was behind the truck. The machine was backed across the child's body, causing almost instant death.

Superintendent Green said the bus usually left Levelland with about 45 students living southwest of here. He estimated about 30 were still in the bus at the time of the tragedy.

Head, Chest Crushed

Arthur Roberts, a Levelland football player, who lives in that section, carried the body to the Cunningham residence. The father was in Levelland and the mother was attending a home demonstration meeting. A local doctor was called.

The lad's sister, Lucille, 10, and his brother, Earl, 14, were passengers.

A double wheel, at the rear of the truck, passed over the child, one tire across his head, the other across his chest.

Superintendent Green said Grimm, who lives southwest of here, had been driving the bus since opening of school last fall.

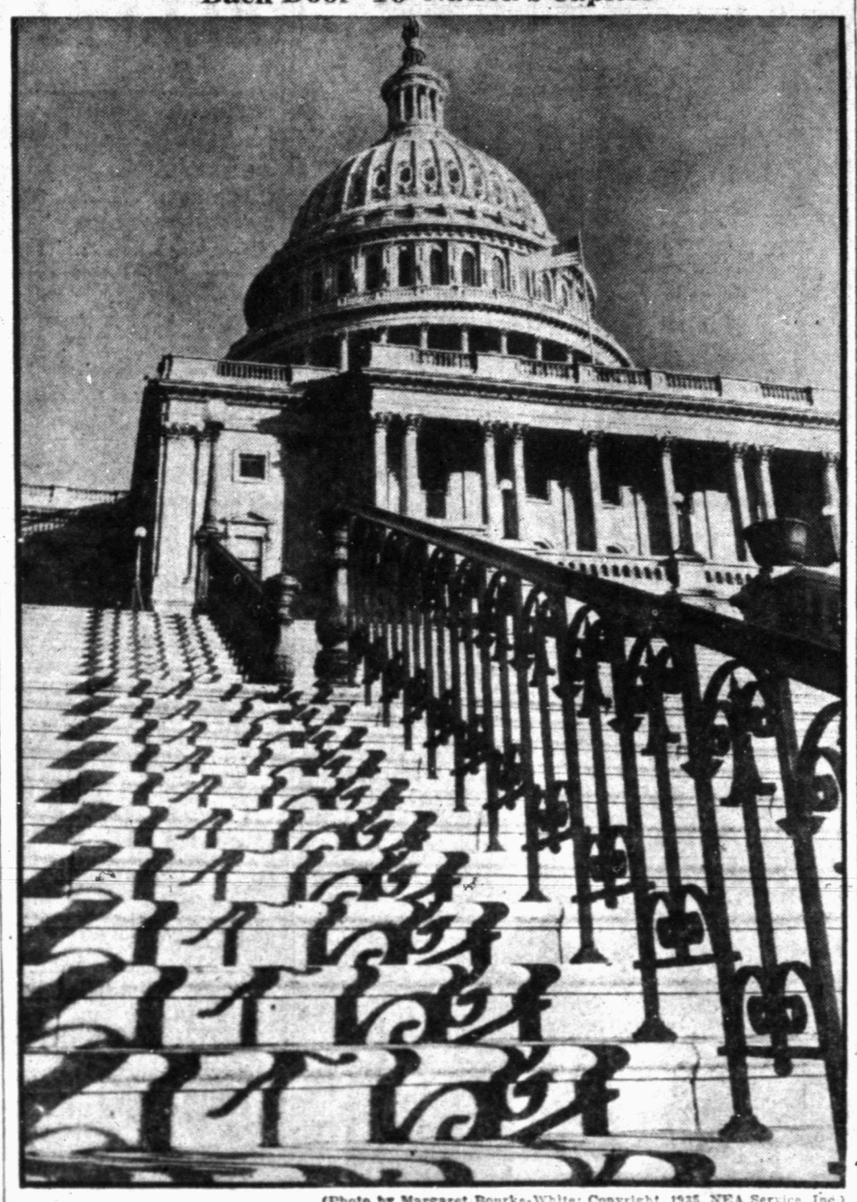

Annual Play Will Be Offered Feb. 22

Annual senior class play at Lubbock High school this year will be "Rosalie Runs Riot," a 3-act musical comedy by Charles George. It will be presented in the high school auditorium Feb. 22.

Miss Lulu Mae Cravens, head of the dramatic department, and Mrs. Waldo Trotter, head of the music department, are directors, the Western World, high school newspaper, said yesterday.

Geneva McGehee and F. M. Roberson will play the leading roles.

'Back Door' To Nation's Capitol

Much less familiar at close range than the east (or postcard) front of the U. S. Capitol . . . this "back door" view by Margaret Bourke-White shows the west front, with Liberty on the dome turning her back on the greater part of Washington City . . . This imposing facade looks down on the trees, lawns, and walks of the shady Capitol Hill grounds, rather than on the paved plaza that spreads before the "business entrance" on the east side . . . Note the interesting patterns created on the stone steps by the winter sun filtering through the iron grill work.

Lamb Teachers Are To Meet Saturday

AMHERST, Jan. 25 (Special)—To discuss plans for a spring interscholastic meet, Lamb county school teachers will meet here Saturday, J. I. Warren, superintendent of Amherst schools, has announced.

It will be the second meeting of the Lamb County Teachers association this academic year.

Beginning in the morning, the session will last until afternoon with out-of-town teachers guests of the Amherst faculty. Mr. Warren is director general and head of the teachers association.

Hightower Funeral Services Are Today

Funeral services for 8-day-old Vera Fay Hightower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hightower, were to be at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. M. Hightower, at 1714 Avenue N.

The child died at 7:15 o'clock Thursday night in a sanitarium here. Surviving were her parents; one young brother, and a grandmother, Mrs. N. M. Hightower. The T. C. Hightower, who formerly lived here, live near Levelland. Sanders Funeral home was to direct burial in Lubbock cemetery.

REPORTS OF RESOURCES BOARD GIVEN AS FOUNDATION FOR PERMANENT PLAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt pointed today to the reports of the national resources board and the Mississippi valley committee, remarking that both together "constitute a remarkable foundation for what we hope will be a permanent policy of orderly development in the United States."

Here are some of the recommendations of the resources board:

A six-year public works budget, with a $10,000,000,000 reserve fund.

Retirement of Land

The retirement of 75,000,000 acres of sub-marginal land at the rate of 5,000,000 acres annually.

Broadening of subsistence homestead projects accompanied by a decentralization of industry.

Federal assistance to and control of the mineral industries.

Surveys looking to the development of power, irrigation and flood control in 17 watersheds.

Prevention of soil erosion.

The Mississippi valley committee proposed:

Federal control of the transmission of electricity and development of rural electrification.

Completion of navigation facilities on the main stem of the Mississippi and connections with the Great Lakes.

Unification Urged

Unification of all forms of transportation as parts of a coordinated system.

Flood control on major tributaries of the Mississippi.

Cooperation with states in promoting rural land zoning, land use, forestation and restoration of grass crops.

Abolition of the southern tenant system.

Utilization of water resources for the development of power.

A commission to regulate inland water transportation.

A section of the department where Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended.

Just what is meant by cross-blending tobaccos... and how does it make a cigarette milder and taste better...

Well, in blending you take two or more tobaccos and mix them together—a rather simple process. But cross-blending goes a step further...

IN making Chesterfields we take Bright tobacco from Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. We take Burley tobacco from Kentucky and Tennessee, and tobacco from Southern Maryland.

Then in addition to these home-grown tobaccos we take tobacco grown in Turkey and Greece.

We balance these mild, ripe home-grown tobaccos with the right amounts and the right kinds of aromatic Turkish.

Then, instead of just mixing the tobaccos together, we blend and cross-blend them so that all the different flavors go together into one full flavor—the Chesterfield taste that so many smokers like.

Cross-blending tobaccos as it is done in Chesterfields gives the cigarette a pleasing taste and aroma—they're mild and yet They Satisfy.

BANQUET HELD LAST NIGHT

TWO CLUBS JOIN TO MAKE BROWNFIELD AFFAIR BIG ONE

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 25 (Special)—Joined by the Rotary and Lions clubs, the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce had an annual dinner last night.

The two service clubs attended the dinner instead of having their usual weekly luncheons, and it drew a crowd approximating 175 persons, one of the largest assemblies of the kind that Brownfield has had. The dinner was given in the Ford sales agency building.

Ray Collier presided as toastmaster. A part of the entertainment program was given during the serving of the meal. James Harley Dallas led the audience in singing of America, after which Rev. J. W. Hale gave the invocation.

Program Presented

Nine little girls, pupils of Mrs. W. H. Dallas, presented "Tiny Tot" revue, followed by the young son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McDuffie, who sang a special number. Miss Minnie R. Hanson gave a ballet dance and Miss Laura Lee Jones sang a solo.

An acrobatic stunt dance by Miss Ida May Mahon was a feature of the program. Miss Gertrude Rascoe played a medley of popular airs on a xylophone. Three students of Miss Reta Tarpley presented a song and tap dance, a sailor number.

Wayne (Cowboy) Tipton, of the Saucer Block ranch, sang several cowboy songs, with a guitar accompaniment.

Several Speak

President Tom May of the chamber of commerce, on behalf of his organization and the city, extended greetings to out of town visitors. Secretary J. E. Shelton said that his talk was contained in a resume of the year's accomplishments of the chamber of commerce, to be found at each plate.

Short talks were given by Paul F. Lawlis for the Lions club; Jim Miller for the Rotary club; Roy B. Davis, Plainview and former Terry county agent; J. W. Hale, Littlefield chamber of commerce secretary, and W. R. McDuffie, chairman of the Terry county president's ball committee.

The program closed with an egg balancing stunt by Polk Pool and Tom May.

From Lubbock were Mr. and Mrs. B. Sherrod and W. E. Inmon.

Experiments in Canadian laboratories have resulted in discovery of a method of processing the sap of the sugar maple in such manner that the maple sirup may be extracted in greatly concentrated form.

SUNNY LIVING
starts at the table

How you feel and how you look depend largely on the foods you eat. The balanced menu provides the "bulk" to prevent common constipation—caused by lack of this essential fiber.

Common constipation frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet, in most cases, it can be overcome pleasantly and safely by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural food for normal individuals. It furnishes "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this sunny way better than taking patent medicines? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If relief is not obtained, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Keep on the Sunny Side of Life

NOT TO THE MEDICINE CHEST

Don't blame it on "that stuffy classroom" or that pastry he had at dinner. One child of every five suffers headache, nervousness and digestive disorder because of uncdrrected defective vision. Have his eyes examined; it is one way of getting to the real trouble.

Bombs Damage South Bend Shops

Damage unofficially estimated at $150,000 was caused at South Bend, Ind., by three bombs which exploded in a restaurant of a downtown theater building, doing about $100,000 worth of damage in the restaurant and ruining property in nearby shops. Orchestra labor trouble at the night club-restaurant was blamed for the explosions. (Associated Press Photo).

ANOTHER TEST IS POSSIBLE

ABSTRACTS ARE SENT TO DALLAS; NEXT LOCATION SOUGHT

Abstracts of public school lands in the south half of Cochran county having been sent to Frank Kelsey, a Dallas oil operator, another oil test in Cochran county seems probable.

Definite location of the test has not been announced. The abstracts were for a portion of league 150, Randall county school land and all of league 151, the same school land; west half of league 134, Armstrong county school land and west half of league 135, Armstrong county school land.

On Slaughter Land

The school lands are on Slaughter properties. They are located south of the Bledsoe branch of the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad and between Bledsoe, near the New Mexico state line, and Haven Switch, where the West Texas Development company has begun operations on a test.

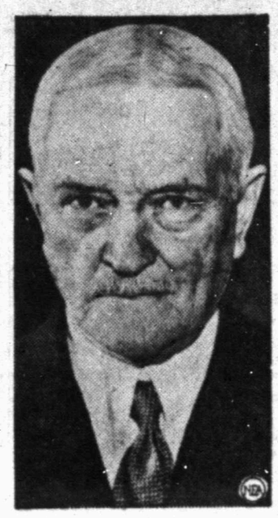

According to reports, Col. C. C. Slaughter in Dallas has given an extension of time on this block of land and drilling may be underway within the next 30 to 60 days.

Technicalities are understood to be delaying resumption of operations at the Havens Switch test.

HEARING IS SET

HOUSTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Habeas corpus hearing for Mrs. Dora Bullock Frost, 46, on a charge of slaying her 17-year-old son, Woodrow Wilson Bullock, by poisoning, will be held next Tuesday.

Time Is Kind

The years that have passed since the Great War ended have taken little toll of Gen. John J. Pershing, as this new picture vividly shows. In his 75th year, he still presents to the world a keen, masterful fighting face as he goes about his many military duties.

A large black spider with a red spot on its back killed a three-inch centipede in an all-day fight on a sidewalk at Miami.

Dream Treasure Hunt Claimed As Man's Ruin

BUDAPEST, Jan. 25 (AP)—Discovery of the grave of Attila the Hun, with rich treasures believed to have been buried with him, is the goal of 30 years of excavations which have brought the financial ruin of a prosperous family.

Mrs. Ferenc Forgacs, widow of the man who began the digging on Prod Hill, near Hajdubossormeny, finally has found a large corridor which experts say may lead to the grave.

She carried on the work for 20 years after the death of her husband, who spent most of his fortune on the work because he dreamed that the grave was in the hill. The same dreams came to the widow, she says.

EACH SLOW START
MAY COST YOU 2 MILES OF GASOLINE

Phillips 66

AREN'T you amazed to learn that 50 warm-weather starts of the average car take as much gasoline as driving it for 20 miles!

Cold-weather starting uses up still more of your gasoline mileage. Recent tests indicate that each slow start may consume as much motor fuel as driving your car two miles.

Hence the way to increase miles per gallon and save money, right now, is obvious. Switch to Phillips 66.

You actually feel the difference which high test Phillips 66 makes in your motor. It starts with split-second speed. Warms up at once. Acceleration is flashier. Running is smoother. And in addition you get the silent action and anti-knock of genuine Lead Tetraethyl.

In any weather, cold or warm, this superior performance is protected against climatic changes by Phillips pioneer achievement, CONTROLLED VOLATILITY. This method of refinery control so perfectly matches your gas to your weather that Phillips 66 is recognized as the 100% custom-tailored gasoline.

Remember, Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline. Remember, too, that extra high test Phillips 66 costs nothing extra. So get the money-saving facts about faster starting and more mileage by getting a trial tankful at any Orange and Black 66 Shield.

QUICK ACTION IN PROSPECT

CONNALLY BILL WILL BE TAKEN UP NEXT WEEK BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP) — Quick house action on "hot oil" legislation appeared likely today as leaders moved to take up the Connally bill to regulate interstate shipments of "contraband crude."

"I'm going to take up the Connally bill next week," said Chairman Rayburn (D-Tex) of the interstate and foreign commerce committee.

However, Rayburn called a committee meeting for Friday morning and it was considered possible that the oil legislation might be considthe oil legislation might be considered. The call listed "miscellaheous matters." The Connally bill, passed by the senate, may be referred to the sub-committee which made two cross-country trips to investigate oil and gas production. Representative Cole (D-Md) is chairman.

Oil bills by Representative Disney (D-Okla) and Lee (D-Okla) already have been introduced in the house and some disposition will have to be made of them. Disney plans to submit still another measure in a week or two.

The senate bill, proposed by Senator Connally (D-Tex) after consultation with oil administration officials, is designed to replace section 9-C of the NRA which the supreme court held invalid.

Mermaids Ready For Swim Meets

Two midwestern swimming meets, the national junior backstroke competition at Indianapolis, February 22 and the national championships at Chicago in April, will attract these eight members of the Indianapolis Athletic club swimming team. COTTON MEET TO BE HELD

ALL PROGRAM PHASES WILL BE DISCUSSED AT BIG SESSION

DALLAS, Jan. 25 (AP)—Opponents and proponents of the government's cotton reduction program will discuss all phases of the industry at a conference here Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

Dr. Charles C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, has been named to open the conference which is to be an institute of public affairs conducted by the Arnold foundation at Southern Methodist.

Speakers Named

Other speakers named on the program include Dr. J. T. Sanders, head of the agricultural economics department at Oklahoma A. and M. college; Will L. Clayton of Houston, exporter and known opponent of the agricultural adjustment administration's cotton policy; Peter Molyneaux, editor of the Texas Weekly; Dr. William F. Hauhart of the S. M. U. school of commerce; Dean E. D. Jennings of the S. M. U. college of arts and since.

Speakers on the second day's program are Dr. Charles S. Potts, dean of the S. M. U. law school; E. D. White of the cotton production section of the department of agriculture, and Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the Texas university bureau of business research.

JAP BOMBERS RAIN DEATH

FIFTY OR MORE DEAD IN THREE DAYS OF FIERCE BATTLES

BY HAROLD TIMPERLEY
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

PEIPING, Jan. 25 — Japanese bombing planes, raining death, roared out again today over the Mongolian plains that echoed 700 years ago tho the hoofs of Genghis Khan's horsemen, reports reaching Peiping said.

With 50 or more killed and wounded in the three days of Sino-Japanese fighting along the Jehol-Chahar border some 90 miles north of Peiping, the Japanese military attache's office in Peiping asserted "no further action is likely."

A Japanese infantry advance into the Chinese province of Chahar, lying adjacent to the southwestern portions of the Japanese-created empire of Manchoukuo, apparently had been halted by the Japanese themselves.

Operations Renewed

The Rengo (Japanese) news agency, however, reported from Hsinking, capital of Manchoukuo, that bombing planes, active yesterday along the border, renewed operations today.

A fleet of 20 armored cars, which which cleared the way for the estimated 2,000 Japanese and Manchoukuan soldiers who struck at three Chahar towns Tuesday—also was reported cruising about the Chahar plains, near Tuhsikou and Kuyuan at the Jehol boundary.

The Japanese military authorities here denied the planes had dropped any further bombs, asserting "the desired conditions within the disputed area have been accomplished."

(Advices to the Chinese national government at Nanking said the Chahar dispute had been settled. The advices came from Peiping.)

No Major Developments

A Chinese military spokesman here said there had been no major developments along the border since 7 p. m. yesterday, confirming reports the Japanese advance had been halted.

The Chinese placed their casualties at 40 to 50, while the Japanese said they lost two killed and six wounded. All the Chinese were killed or injured in the aerial raids, it was said.

(Dispatches from Tokyo quoted Rengo dispatches from Hsinking as saying one army sergeant was killed and two officers wounded by machine gun fire when an advancing Japanese column met resistance from Chinese troops.)

While General Sung Chen-Yuan, Chinese governor of Chahar, conferred here today with Hoy Ingh-Ching, chairman of the Peiping military council, dispatches from Kalgan near the border of inner Mongolia said 500 more soldiers arrived today to reinforce Japanese troops near Kuyuan, in Chahar.

Admit Occupation

The Japanese military authorities here admitted their forces occupied Kuyuan, which is 75 miles north of Kalgan on the road to Dolo-Nor and outside the great wall.

A regiment of armored cars, a battery of field artillery and cavalry made up the force, it was understood.

(The Rengo dispatches to Tokyo said the Japanese occupied "several" obscure villages. Whether they were in Jehol, considered part of Manchoukuo, or in Chahar was not clear, however, since the Jehol-Chahar boundary is disputed.)

EIGHT BEAUTIES AT TECH CHOSEN

Eight Texas Technological college co-eds had rainbows 'round their shoulders today, for a noted illustrator, John La Gatta, had chosen their photographs from among those of 50 women students as the ones to appear in the beauty section of La Ventana, college yearbook.

In the order of their placing, the eight girls are: Miss Leila May Zorns of Meadow, sophomore; Miss Judith English of Plainview, senior; Miss Ellen K. Clapp of Lubbock, freshman; Miss Harriette Roach of Lubbock, graduate; Miss Geraldine Wicker of Slaton, junior; Miss Lois Watson of Lubbock, junior; Miss Janet Hambright of Lubbock, sophomore; and Miss Christine Bundy of Silverton, senior.

Misses English, Watson, Roach, Hambright and Wicker have been chosen beauties for former editions of La Ventana. Miss Hambright presided as Aggie queen at the annual college rodeo last fall.

Yearbooks will be given out at the end of the second college semester.

An expedition in the waters near the Aleutian Islands is taking samples of sea water from various depths and will make records of sub-surface temperatures through tests of these samples.

Baby Tries Fish-Swallowing Act

The cat that looks longingly up at the goldfish bowl has nothing on Dean Lewis, (left) 9-months-old Kansas City youngster, who upset the bowl and picked up and swallowed a three-inch fish before his mother could stop him. Dean, named for "Dizzy" Dean, is the son of a wrestler. Don Lewis. His brother, Donald Bell, 2, has decided the remaining fish—and Dean—will bear watching. (Associated Press Photo).

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Death Of A Miser

NEW YORK. — For 23 years Nestor Fernlein ate his meals at the Ritz-Carlton hotel, but lived in a room on the Bowery at $1.75 a week.

He was a silver polisher at the Ritz and ate in the hotel kitchen. Then he'd go home to the Bowery where no one paid much attention to him.

He was found dead yesterday in his room at the age of 84. Police found he had a savings of $8,600.

He left no known relatives and unless one appears unexpectedly he will be buried in potter's field and his savings will be taken over by the state.

Costly

MILWAUKEE — The menu listed hamburgers at a nickel, but Emil Decker, a bellboy, paid $10 for one.

When Nolan Rash, attendant at a stand, asked Decker to pay, the bellhop raised such a howl that police were called to quiet him.

At the station, Decker readily jerked $35 bail from his wallet and later was fined $10 and costs on disorderly conduct charges.

Youthful Old Age

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. —J. H. Brawner, 83, is cutting a tooth. He is not surprised, however, for his wife, who is 75 years old, recently recovered from an attack of whooping cough.

Too Small For Him

OAKLAND, Calif. — Because the cut of pie he allegedly was served was too small John C. Henderson filed suit for $5,000 damages against John Williams, restaurant proprietor. Henderson alleged the portion was so small it caused him "humiliation, embarrassment and mental anguish."

Senate Flareup

TOPEKA, Kas. — Senator Claude Bradney's pipe almost caused premature adjournment of the Kansas senate yesterday.

Using a mechanical pencil he attempted to poke down the live ashes which were overflowing the bowl.

The pencil was made of celluloid.

Scented Romance

CHICAGO—The hearts and flowers of Mary Ann Kaufman's romance have faded, all because the scent became overpowering.

She filed suit for divorce yesterday against Marie S. Kaufman, manufacturer of paper flowers and perfumes.

His penchant for perfumery led him, Mary Ann declared, to keep perfume about the house, and on one occasion to drench her with some when she protested. The scent, she said, was too much for her.

They married on St. Valentine's day, 1932.

BARS RED BUILDINGS

NANKING, (AP)—Recent air-raid maneuvers over Nanking showed that red buildings make conspicuous targets for bombers so the city has prohibited the use of red brick or red tile in future construction, recommending instead gray or green.

There were 3,563,100 persons listed on the udarniki (or shock workers' list) in Soviet Russia on Jan. 1, 1934, as against 903,100 on the same date of 1930.

FIVE DEAD IN REBEL FIGHT

PITCHED BATTLE SAID STAGED; ATTACK IS MADE ON TRAIN

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mexico, Jan. 25 (AP)—Five were listed as dead and two wounded in reports reaching here of an outlaw attack on a passenger train in the state of Durango, and of a pitched battle between Coahuila agrarians and police sent to oust them from private lands.

Both outbreaks occurred in districts where insurgent elements have been causing apprehension for months. Small rebel bands burned bridges and slashed telephone lines twice recently in Coahuila in a purported attempt to start an uprising.

Train Derailed

The report from Durango said a band of outlaws, believed to be rebels, derailed a passenger train yesterday between El Salto and Durango City and fought a half-hour battle with soldiers aboard the train. The attackers finally retreated. Jose De Los Rios, engineer; and A. Garcia, fireman, were reported shot to death in the first firing. A log placed on the rails caused the engine and several cars to jump the track and hit an embankment.

Mexican authorities said the agrarians involved in the clash at Villa Union, 20 miles southeast of Piedras Negras, were for the most part repatriates from the United States and had "squatted" on privately-owned lands.

When District Judge Jose Victory Villarreal and other authorities tried to evict them, the agrarians, numbering about 25, drew up in line of battle.

Chief Is Killed

Police Chief Leandro Garza of Allende and two agrarians whose names could not be learned were killed. A company of Mexican federal troops from the Piedras Negras garrison, under command of General Porfirio Cadena, joined in the fight and finally forced the agrarians to surrender. A truckload of arms and ammunition was confiscated.

One of the agrarians killed was said to have been the leader. Two sub-leaders, one named Augustin Hernandez, were brought to Piedras Negras for prosecution.

In its agrarian movement to place destitute repatriates and farmers back on the land, the Mexican government has arbitrarily taken possession of certain lands from private ranchers and farmers. But the land on which this particular group of agrarians had settled was still privately owned.

Doctor Is Slain By Boy's Father

MEXICO, D. F., Jan. 25 (AP)—Believing his nine year old son, Javier had died while undergoing a tonsil operation, General Javier Romo Velazquez today shot and killed Dr. Ignacio Aguado Escalona in the physician's office.

The general fired when he heard the doctor exclaim to his assistant, "quick, give the boy an injection, otherwise he will die."

General Romo Velazquez fled, while the boy was taken to a hospital. There it was said he would recover.

COAST GUARD CUTTER REPORTS THAT IT HAS NO SURVIVORS FROM MISHAP

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—The coast guard cutter Icarus wirelessed its headquarters here today that it had no survivors of the Mohawk-Talisman collision aboard, increasing the fears for the safety of 45 of the passengers and members of the crew.

Previous reports had indicated the Icarus had some survivors aboard.

The Champlain brought 22 into port, and the S. S. Algonquin had 96 aboard.

Fourteen of the passengers had not been accounted for definitely, and 31 members of the crew were unreported.

The Ward line office announced that its reports showed 14 passengers and 32 members of the crew were not officially accounted for.

This total of 46 was one higher than an Associated Press compilation.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Melvin Hymer of the coast guard said a member of the crew of the steamship Mohawk told him two members of the Mohawk's crew were crushed to death when the ships collided.

Advertising Shows Gain In December

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Newspaper advertising registered a 38 per cent increase from its depression low point to the end of December, it is shown by the new index of newspaper advertising published by 'Printers' Ink' today. The December figure stood at 75.4 against a low of 54.5 reached in March, 1933, and was 9.3 per cent above the figure for December, 1933.

The new index is based on the monthly average of newspaper advertising lineage for the five years 1928-32 inclusive, with 100 as the index figure.

If a million dollars in gold were made into a single coin, it would weigh 1785 pounds.

SCHOOL TEAMS GATHER HERE FOR GAMES

LEAGUE CAGE TOURNEY WILL BE CONTINUED AT TECH COURT

Lower Class B school teams and the two Class A teams, Slaton and Idalou, gather here today and tomorrow to resume the Lubbock county interscholastic basketball tournament.

Runner-up positions in the rural division were determined last night when the Hardy girls team defeated Woodrow, 21 to 12, and the Woodrow boys lost to the New Hope lads, 12 to 30. These games were postponed from last week when time did not allow for the rural division to complete its schedule. Union won the rural boys championship last week, and Hurlwood won the girls title in that division.

Grovesville vs. Estacado

Today's schedule begins at 6 o'clock this evening at the Tech court when boys teams of Grovesville and Estacado meet. After that, Wolfforth and Carlisle girls play, Foster and Liberty boys, Foster and Estacado girls, Wolfforth and County Line boys.

At 8 o'clock Saturday morning; Monroe and McClung girls, Monroe and Canyon boys, Liberty and Canyon girls, County Line and Grovesville girls, McClung boys drew a first round bye. Drawings will be made for second round matches Saturday evening.

CONTENDERS WILL BATTLE TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Henry Pylkowski fights Vincenzo Lazzaro in Madison Square Garden tonight and that's boxing news.

For Henry Pylkowski is none other than Babe Risko, the Syracuse, N. Y., middleweight sensation, and Vincenzo Lazzaro is better known as Vince Dundee of Newark, not long ago ruler of the 160-pound division.

Risko, who learned to fight while serving a couple of hitches in the navy, catapulted himself into the public eye on New Year's day when he walked into the ring against Teddy Yarosz of Pittsburgh and proceeded to knock the middleweight champion down six times before winning on a technical knockout in the seventh round.

Yarosz, who had dethroned Dundee three months before, escaped with the title still in his possession only because he had had the foresight to force Risko to come in at 162 pounds, two pounds over the class limit.

Whether Risko, despite his inexperience, is championship material possibly will be demonstrated tonight. The betting fraternity has made Dundee an 8 to 5 favorite.

The Garden hopes to match the winner of tonight's ten rounder against Yarosz for the title.

Dickens Teams To Battle Feb. 1-2

SPUR, Jan. 25 (Special)—To determine the Dickens county interscholastic basketball championship, teams of Dickens, Dumont, McAdoo and Patton Springs will meet at the new Dickens gymnasium for a round-robin play-off on February 2, the county executive committee has decided.

The February 1 schedule opens at 7 p. m. with Dickens playing Dumont, Patton Springs meeting McAdoo and Dumont versus McAdoo. On Saturday, Patton Springs meets Dickens in the first game, Dumont plays Patton Springs and Dickens vies with McAdoo.

Cook, of Peacock, will be the official.

HARDIN-SIMMONS university may announce a decision before this gets into print, but a prediction just now is that Frank Kimbrough will succeed Leslie "Fats" Cranfill as head coach of the Cowboys.

They let Cranfill out, despite this department's protest. School officials and a few of those "in on the know," confided that it was the only thing to do. Maybe they should know best. Our appeal, probably, was based on Cranfill the man more than on Cranfill the coach, although he did turn out some creditable teams at Abilene. Perhaps he had served his time, just as Ray Morrison served his time at S. M. U.

In a list of twenty or more applicants for the Cowboy coaching job, the name of Kimbrough stands out as the logical choice. He was a star athlete at Simmons. He produced winning clubs at Amarillo. He easily ranks with the top-most coachers of the state. He has just about everything a coach should have. His boys like him, his superiors get along great with him, and he's popular in a gathering of coaches.

In addition to his personality and ability, Kimbrough embodies other qualifications which appeal to Hardin-Simmons magnates. If he goes to the Abilene institution, it is to be expected that several star athletes from Amarillo college will follow him. He had some dandies last season and the season before. Graduates of that junior college would be eligible to play varsity at Hardin-Simmons this fall. Perhaps no coach the university could select would bring along as many qualified athletes.

AND WHERE might be Henry Frnka while all these applicants for the Cowboy job are considered? It is a rare thing indeed when the name of the Greenville High coach is not listed along with other applicants for a coaching vacancy. Some way or another—Frnka is not always responsible—his name usually tops the list. The present roster includes Kimbrough, Vernon Stafford, Wayne Fitzgerald, Claude Daniel, Joe Gibson, A. R. McHaney, Matty Bell, Mack Saxon, Harry Phillips, Potts Anderson, G. H. Hines, Laurie Vejar, Ben Boswell, Hoot Masur, Arthur Doolen, Bill Stevens, J. C. Moore and Pat Kneiff, but not Frnka.

Matty Bell, line coach at S. M. U., was not a candidate for the H-S job, but he is being considered by the athletic board. Bell looms as the next head coach at S. M. U., succeeding Morrison.

THE SHIFTING SANDS which so frequently and sometimes so suddenly attack athletic offices have caught another popular coach. William H. (Jew) Keeling, nervous little man who helped Henry Frnka coach Lubbock High school athletes up to 1931, has been let out at Brownwood High school. After leaving Lubbock, Keeling went to Kerrville to become head coach there. He enjoyed marked success at Kerrville, then went to Brownwood last September. With only two letter men and very little other material, Keeling's 1934 team failed to score a point all season. A scoreless tie with Coleman was the season's highlight. So Keeling moves on. He doesn't know where he'll land next.

The county basketball championship tournament is raging again at the Texas Tech gymnasium tonight and tomorrow. Teams in the lower Class B division are playing for the championship. The winners and runners up will return next week to play in the final round which includes champions in all divisions. The county championship proper will be established, and first and second place teams will be eligible to play in the district tournament.

Virgil Ballard, head basketball coach at Tech, also succeeded Dell Morgan as district athletic director, and will have charge of the district tournament. Dates and schedules will be announced early next week.

Other basketball on the local program this week finds Lubbock's Westerners and Amarillo's Sandies in a Panhandle League match tomorrow night at the Lubbock High gymnasium. It should be a pretty fair contest. Amarillo, on a four-day jaunt over the South Plains, played Plainview Wednesday night, Lamesa last night. The Sandies meet Bill Stevens' Levelland club tonight, and come into Lubbock for the final game of the trip tomorrow night.

Lubbock's chances to defeat Amarillo appeared bright after Wednesday night's game at Plainview. The team which which couldn't score but 16 points to Lubbock's 29 last week, lost to Amarillo, 29 to 30, the other night. Since then Lubbock's club has been improved by the addition of three promising cagers. Although they dropped a 23 to 32 game to Lamesa Wednesday night, the Westerners looked much better than in previous games.

SPEAKING OF the Sandies, if any of those state championship footballers happen to be playing on the basketball squad when they come to Lubbock tomorrow, do not think one of them is punch drunk from so much football if you ask him the time of day and he replies "D after O," or some such apparent nonsense. According to his watch, that may be strictly correct. You see, the members of that state championship team are to be given gold wrist watches, in addition to regular letter sweaters. In place of the usual 1, 2, 3, 4, etc., around the dial, the twelve letters in "Golden Sandie" will be printed. Quite a souvenir, if you should climb out of a cistern and ask us.

SANDIES DROP TO LAMESA

DAWSON COUNTY TEAM CONTINUES TO MAKE BIG TOWNS SICK

LAMESA, Jan. 25 (Special) — Coach Lester Gregg's rampant Tornadoes of Lamesa High school continued to make big town basketball teams look bad with a 34 to 9 victory over Amarillo High school here last night.

Taking the lead early in the game, holding Amarillo to five points in the first half, Lamesa scored 15 points for heavy advantage at the intermission, and continued to shoot goals in the last two periods to smash the Golden Sandstorm in impressive fashion.

It was the second of four games the Amarillo club is playing on a swing through the South Plains. The Sandies defeated Plainview, 30 to 28, Wednesday night. Friday night finds them in Levelland, and Saturday night at Lubbock for a Panhandle League game with the Lubbock High Westerners. Lamesa defeated Lubbock, 32 to 23, Wednesday night.

Harrell Leads Attack

Harrell, tall center, led the Lamesa attack with 15 points, three of them from the foul line. Hilburn was second with six points. No Amarillo player scored more than one time. Bufkin, captain, Williams, McClendon and Kendrick accounted for one field goal each and Rains scored a free toss for Amarillo.

Walker and Kidd, forwards; Harrell, center; Boswell and Burkhart, guards, was Lamesa's starting lineup. For Amarillo it was Wilson and Stidger, forwards; Bufkin, center; Peterson and Rains, guards. Stidger, Bufkin and Peterson were members of Amarillo's state championship football team.

Seniors And Sophs Meet On Gridiron

Football for 1935 in Lubbock makes its debut this afternoon at 4 o'clock when the Seniors meet the Sophomores in a high school intramural game at the Fair Park gridiron.

The sophomore gridders are coached by Dixie White, star tackle, and Robert Allen Hill, regular quarterback of the 1934 Lubbock High team. Woodrow Aycock, Howell Young and Eugene Alderson, guard, center and quarterback last fall, coach the Seniors.

While 41 Michigan State college footballers played in the Spartans' 1934 games, only three started every game, and only nine played at least part of every game.

In a basketball game against Drake, Long Island university sharpshooters sank field goals on all of their first eight shots at the hoop!

BRITISH WILL INVADE U. S. FOR MARKS

FAMOUS RACE DRIVERS WILL SEEK RECORDS IN THIS COUNTRY

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 25—Two of England's most famous race drivers, Sir Malcolm Campbell and Capt. G. E. T. Eyston, are preparing to burn up America's super-speedways during the coming year.

Campbell's celebrated Bluebird II, which already holds the world's land speed record of over 272 miles an hour, will return to Daytona Beach once more in February in an effort to lift the mark up to 300 miles an hour.

Months Required

More than 18 months were spent in reconstructing the monster racer at a secret workshop outside London. Wind resistance, Sir Malcolm believes, has been reduced to an absolute minimum. Only the engine remains of the original Bluebird.

Captain Eyston, an old rowing "blue" at Cambridge, is building a new machine at an estimated cost of over $60,000 for a crack at the 24-hour record set by the American star, Ab Jenkins, at Salt Lake City a few months ago.

Has High Speed

The new British creation, to be christened "Speed of the Wind," will pack more than 300 horsepower and is expected to attain a speed of around 170 miles an hour. Eyston, doing most of the driving himself, expects to average at least 140 miles an hour for the long grind round and round the big circular track laid out on the dry salt lake bed. Jenkins' record was slightly over 127 miles per hour.

Eyston expects to make his attempt in July or August.

TWENTY GRAND TO STEP OUT TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25 (AP) — Twenty Grand steps out in fast company today in an effort to disprove the old sports adage that they never come back.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's 7-year old Kentucky derby winner of 1931, after half dozen thwarted attempts to get to the post here, will test his legs after almost three years of absence from the turf in the $1,200 bay city handicap of seven furlongs.

In doing so, he will renew a turf feud now dormant four years with Mate, who like the Greentree stables runner will be making his first venture here in anticipation of the Santa Anita $100,000 handicap a month away.

It will be a four-horse race, with High Glee, a 4-year-old filly, and Teralice, twice a winner here, filling out the field.

LUBBOCK TACKLES ROPESVILLE TEAM

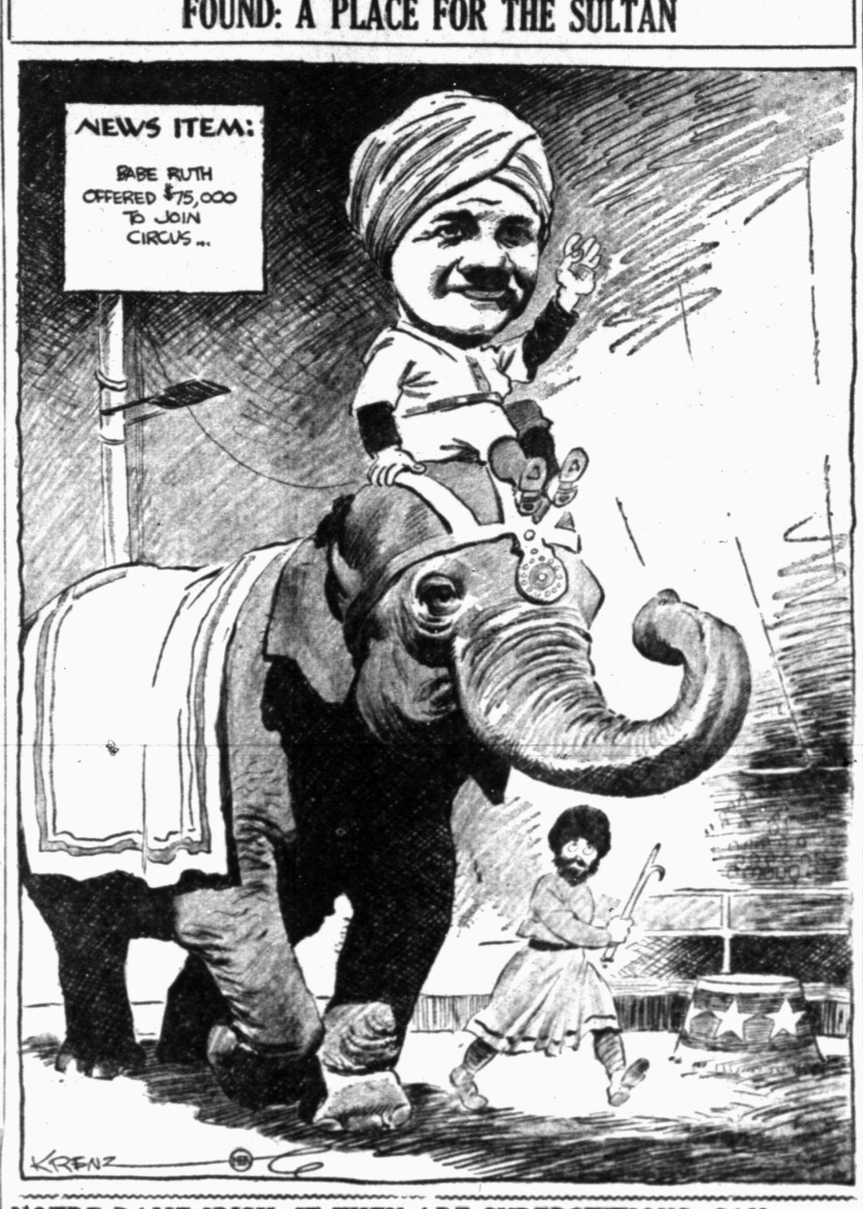

Lubbock High school's basketball team engages Ropesville High tonight in the latter's gymnasium. The game will mark the first meeting of the year between Coach Berl Huffman's lads and the former district and bi-district champions.

With eyes on the district schoolboy championship, Ropesville has challenged every team in the section that threatens to get somewhere in the basketball race. Once, at least, Ropesville has defeated the high-flying Shallowater team.

The Westerners yesterday accepted a challenge to come to the Ropesville gymnasium. The game, against tough competition, should at least serve to give the Lubbock High cagers a valuable lesson on the eve of an important game with Amarillo's Golden Sandies.

Coach Bull Lynch and his Sandies play at Levelland tonight, coming into Lubbock tomorrow for a Panhandle League game with the Westerners at Lubbock High school gymnasium. The game here starts at 7:30 o'clock.

NOTRE DAME IRISH, IF THEY ARE SUPERSTITIOUS, CAN SEE ENCOURAGING SIGN IN SELECTION OF NEW LEADER

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 25.—Maybe the Irish—the Notre Dame Irish—can see, if they're the least bit superstitious, an encouraging "sign" for next autumn's football campaign in the election of Tackle Joe Sullivan to the captaincy of the Rambler eleven.

For not only is the handsome Brooklyn lad the first full-blooded Irish captain Notre Dame has had for five seasons, but at the other end of that five-year period was Tom Conley. And Tom captained Knute Rockne's last team, the unbeaten 1930 outfit.

Starred In Brooklyn

Sullivan starred for St. John's prep of Brooklyn in football and track.

His election broke up a lengthening string of ends as field leaders of the Ramblers. Paul Host, Hugh Devore and Dominic Vairo, all flankers, captained the teams of '32, '33 and '34, respectively. Conley was an end, too, which meant Notre Dame had four ends as captains in the five seasons of 1930-1934, inclusive. Center Tom Yarr piloted the 1931 oufit.

LOCAL RAMBLERS FALL TO SLATON

Slaton High school's Tigers have handed the Lubbock Ramblers, independent basketball team, their first defeat of the season. The Ramblers went down, 25 to 34, Wednesday night at the Slaton gymnasium.

Douglas Blanton and Earl Miller led the Rambler attack with eight points each. The Rambler lineup consisted of Dale Buckner and Sid Stout, forwards; Blanton, center; Miller and "Peewee" Haynie, guards.

After taking a 4 to 1 lead early in the game, the Ramblers found themselves trailing Slaton, 9 to 13 at the half. From there the Tigers went on to keep ahead of the visitors.

State Tourney Is Set On March 8-9

GALVESTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The state basketball tournament of the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation will be held here March 8 and 9, J. M. Nash, state vice president, has announced. Nash said he expected a record entry for the tourney, scheduled during the week of the Mardi Gras.

PAIR LEADING FRISCO OPEN PLAY TODAY

REVOLTA AND PINNELL HOLD A ONE-STROKE MARGIN IN CHASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25—Paced by a veteran campaigner of golf's golden trail and a comparatively unknown youngster from the Pacific northwest, more than a hundred fairway troupers set off today in the final round of 36 hole trials to determine 29 qualifying places in the San Francisco match play open tournament.

Johnny Revolta, Milwaukee, and Bob Pinnell, Everett, Wash., held a one-stroke margin over the rest of the field as they teed off at the Presidio club course in the chase that will lead to a total of $4,000 in prizes.

Posts Similar Figures

Until Pinnell came booming in during late afternoon, Revolta clung to the leadership with a fine 70, two under par. Pinnell posted similar figures to share top honors.

A stroke behind the leaders as they unlimbered clubs for the dash to qualifying positions were Jimmy Hines, Timber Point, L. I., Byron Nelson, Texarkana, Tex., and two Pennsylvanians, Sam Parks, jr., of Pittsburgh and Henry Picard of Hersl...

The par 72 division listed Harold McSpaden, Kansas City, Kas., Clarence Clark, Bloomfield, N. J., Jim Demaret, Galveston, Texas, Verne Torfin, Tacoma, Wash., and Joe Nevi, San Francisco.

BELL TO CONFER ON ABILENE POST

DALLAS, Jan. 25 (AP)—Despite reports that Madison (Matty) Bell, Southern Methodist university line coach, planned to confer today at Abilene with Hardin-Simmons officials concerning the football coaching vacancy there, the belief grew here that he would be appointed head coach at the Methodist school.

Dr. Charles C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist, said that the list of 30 candidates for Ray Morrison's job, left open when he resigned to accept a similar post with Vanderbilt, would be pruned to "three or four of the outstanding candidates Saturday."

Bell's name headed the list of likely choices, while it was strongly rumored that Cecil Grigg, backfield coach of the powerhouse Rice institute eleven, would also be named to the staff.

HUGE TOLL OF LIVES TAKEN

COLD WAVE BELIEVED BREAKING; FLOODS A GREAT MENACE

(By The Associated Press)

The cold wave appeared to be breaking for the time being today, but the death list mounted steadily as the storm spent its fury along the Atlantic seaboard, and southern flood waters swirled destructively.

At least 25 of the dead perished in the southern flood sector which embraced parts of Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas. Twenty of the fatalities occurred in Mississippi, four in Tennessee and one in Arkansas. Red Cross officials feared an even larger loss of life would be disclosed later. Estimates placed the homeless at approximately 18,000 persons.

Bitter cold still prevailed in the snow-bound east and New England but the weather man saw indications of some moderation. It had warmed up the middle-west, although there were predictions that the temperatures were ready to sag again tomorrow.

Of more than 170 deaths attributed directly or indirectly to the storm's fury, a dozen were reported in the nation's metropolis, where 30,000 men were put to work to dig the city out of a snowfall of 17.5 inches.

The S. S. Mohawk, under charter of the Ward line and the Norwegian freighter, Talisman of the Wilhelmsen line collided off the New Jeersey coast while a heavy wind was blowing in zero weather.

COMPTON GIVEN FIVE-YEAR TERM

A 5-year prison term was meted out to G. L. Compton, 28, by a 99th district court jury late Thursday upon his conviction of armed robbery of W. S. Hodges here last May 1.

Compton previously had received an 18-year sentence, as a result of the downtown, daylight holdup of George A. Meiser, five-and-ten-cent store manager.

A. P. Chambless must not drive an automobile for one year, a 99th district court jury ruled yesterday after it had convicted Chambless of two charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. In one case, in which he pleaded guilty, Chambless was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to 60 days imprisonment in county jail, and forbidden to drive a car for a year. In the other he was fined $1 and costs.

Judge Clark M. Mullican late Thursday dismissed jurors for the week. District Attorney Daniel A. Blair and Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, prosecuted the cases.

WARNING GIVEN TO CAB DRIVERS

A warning to taxicab drivers to obey traffic ordinances was issued by City commission Thursday afternoon.

Purchase of a used motorcycle by the police department was approved.

The commission scheduled for its next regular meeting, two weeks away, a hearing on an application for a new franchise for operation of a city bus service.

Grady Lane is applicant for the new franchise. His application was presented by Geo. Berry, local attorney.

Passage of ordinance 528 designating the Citizens National bank as city depository and Ordinance 529 fixing leins on property on Seventeenth street and Avenue V to be passed was approved.

Acquittal Is Only Escape From Grim Prison

Only an acquittal verdict can save Bruno Hauptmann from the ordeal of entering the grim gray portals of this New Jersey State Penitentiary at Trenton. Death or life imprisonment sentences would doom him to go there. The practically escape-proof impregnability of this penal fortress is revealed in the pictures above. At top is the entrance carved with hieroglyphs and resembling a pharoah's palace; at left below, the bullet-proof glass enclosure behind which guards keep eternal vigilance; and the walls are patrolled by armed sentries, the deadly import of whose weapons Hauptmann knows from his experience in the World War.

LAST OF FAMOUS YUMA WARRIORS SLIPS AWAY TO HAPPY HUNTING GROUNDS; NO ONE KNOWS THE AGE OF FIGHTER

YUMA, Ariz., Jan. 25 (AP)—El Capitan Kelly, last of the famous Yuma warriors and venerable chieftain of his tribe, slipped away to the happy hunting grounds last night.

Members of his family had watched him close his eyes in apperent death. They began the solemn chant for the dead.

Thursday morning the chant was stilled on their lips and they gazed in awe as the figure of their chief stirred and life "returned." Throughout the day the great Yuma leader clung to life. But his heartbeats finally ceased.

Indian agency physicians, called to attend the dying warrior said his family had mistaken a coma for death.

No one knew the exact age of the old chief but it has been reliably established. Indian agency officials said that he was born between 1810 and 1815.

Chief El Capitan Kelly is believed to have been the last survivor of the battle between the Yuma Indians and General John Fremont's fourth expedition to the west coast. He was one of the Indians who guided General Fremont and his men across the desert after the entire expedition had been captured by the Yumas after a battle lasting two days and two nights.

Perhaps Mrs. Herbert Hoover is correct in saying that the world needs more followers, but it doesn't need more of the kind that follow without knowing whither.

DICK SMITH tells this story, which, of course, may not be true even if he says it is.

"I was coming out of the postoffice the other day and a couple of farmers were standing there conversing.

"'We might get some rain today, Bill', one remarked. "'It is a little cloudy'.

"'Phooey', returned Bill. 'You've been in this country for ten years and you ought to know by now that just because it is cloudy is no sign we're going to get a rain.'

"'I dunno about that', was the reply. 'It was cloudy the last time it rained!'"

To which Herb Hilburn, editor of The Plainview Evening Herald, remarks as follows:

"A Missourian, enroute to New Mexico, stopped off in Plainview to get some gasoline. He noticed some clouds in the sky and remarked to the filling station attendant that they looked full of rain.

"'Shucks', said the filling station man, 'you must be a stranger in this country. Them clouds ain't loaded with rain. They're jest empties from East Texas, comin' back for another load of sand!'"

H. R. KNICKERBOCKER, Mr. Hearst's famed European correspondent and a brother of Prof. Kenneth Knickerbocker, former Texas Tech faculty member now teaching in Rhode Island, has been doing a bit of studying in Russia and from his studies has been writing some pieces for the press.

That despite depression and its accompanying ills of stagnation in commerce and unemployment, United States is a better place to live for anybody, regardless of station, is Mr. Knickerbocker's testimony. Russia, in spite of its many "plans" and its "fool proof dictatorship," hasn't done so well, he has found.

Writing in the Houston Chronicle, Mr. Knickerbocker says the average Russian must work 17 hours for the same amount of food the average American workman must labor four hours for. And, to go even further, the quality of Russian food is far below that of the American variety.

We have a lot of faults to correct in this country. There is no doubt of that.

But the fact remains that we still have a pretty fair land to live in, after all.

The next amorous rumor to be expected from Hollywood is that Mary Pickford will either marry or adopt Buddy Rogers.

THE school teachers, God bless them—and that is said in all earnestness and with all respect—for heaven alone knows how much quiet relief work they have done in these United States since the economic going got tough.

Down at the Rotary club at Slaton yesterday The Plainsman heard mentioned the fact that many teachers there have been helping unfortunate pupils who have needed shoes, clothing and school materials in order to follow their trail to education.

The same thing has been going on in Lubbock and, we strongly suspect, in practically every other community in the land.

The teachers, rocked and socked by the depression themselves, their salaries slashed and their work made heavier by the enlarging of their number of pupils necessitated by teaching forces being cut to bone, have never-the-less dug down into their slender purses and helped the more unfortunate.

Unsung and unknown, their efforts doubtless have saved many a kid from a future life of ignorance and there's no telling how many successes will be made by those kids in the years to come.

The teachers, we repeat, God bless them!

JUDGE RALEY has the best reason we've heard yet for following the practice of not picking up hitch-hikers.

"Those folks", Judge says, "have made all their arrangements before leaving home and I don't want to do anything that might upset those arrangements!"

Pretty sound reasoning, we say, and add that those folks who can't afford to travel ought to stay at home.

Henry Hathaway Laughs Off Success Of Film That Others Shunned, But It Puts Him Among Top-Notch Movie-Makers

BY DAN THOMAS
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25—A new name has been added to the all too short list of genuinely capable motion picture directors.

Henry Hathaway is the name—and the man behind it is a young, unassuming chap who looks upon the making of pictures as a business, not an art.

Although he only recently completed his first big directorial assignment, "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," Hathaway really is one of Hollywood's old-timers. For 15 years he worked and studied, learning every phase of film production, so that he would be ready when his break came.

About 18 months ago he was promoted to a directorial post and given a series of westerns to make. Then came "Lives of a Bengal Lancer." At the time Henry didn't know whether to consider that assignment his real start or his finish. For three years the story had been kicked around the studio. Every writer had had a crack at it, every director had refused to make it.

However, Hathaway isn't the sort of man who refuses to do things. It was a tough job, but he tackled it with whole-hearted enthusiasm. And the result is a magnificent piece of screen entertainment—lots of action, lots of suspense, and plenty of thrills.

Hasn't Gone to His Head

Overnight recognized as one of our foremost directors, Henry hasn't changed a bit. He still is the same individual I first met when he was an assistant director on "The Rough Riders" nearly nine years ago.

While his new success has instilled in him a certain amount of self-confidence, he has acquired none of the high and mighty airs which usually come with success in Hollywood. And he is attacking his next picture, a naval story entitled "Target," with the same matter-of-fact attitude that has marked him from the beginning.

Hathaway makes no claims toward being an artist or a creator of screen innovations, leaving those intangible achievements to others. His job is the making of entertainment, and that is the sole basis upon which he works.

"I have no sympathy for so-called artistic directors," he declares. "It seems to me that their principal aim is to exploit their own talents without any regard for their employers or the public. They forget the real definition of that word 'entertainment.'

"Entertainment has some very definite rules. Violate them and you may produce a work of art by accident. More often, however, the result will be a flop."

No Reflections, Please

A genuine problem confronted studio technicians the other day during the shooting of cafe scenes for Carl Brisson's new picture, "All the King's Horses." The center of the cafe floor was made entirely of glass and reflected everything on the set.

The problem was solved by lowering the huge lights and moving them back a considerable distance from the floor. Then the camera was hidden behind a flower pot and operated by remote control from a vantage point some distance away.

The scene called for Brisson and Rosita, tiny blond dancer, to dance and sing "My Little White Gardenia," which the actor wrote.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

REAPPOINTMENT OF TOM HICKMAN

Appointment of Tom Hickman to again be a captain of Texas rangers indicates beyond doubt that Governor Allred is in earnest in his decision to rehabilitate that old and famous organization of peace officers.

It further indicates the return to the force of other tried and efficient officers many of whom were unceremoniously 'ditched' by the Ferguson administration in favor of political friends and henchmen of the last administration.

If the ranger force is to be continued in Texas it is essential that it be made up of men who can and will enforce the law without fear or favor. It takes more than a big hat, a couple of six-shooters, a swagger and shop made boots to be a real ranger. It takes good judment, a steady nerve and a pile of what is known as 'good, old hoss sense' on the part of the individual officer.

If there is any state department which should be forever and a day divorced from politics it is the ranger force.

Employment as a ranger should be entirely based upon the honesty, ability, industry and integrity of the individual—not at all upon his political affiliations. It should not be—as it has been—that every new administration wrecks the force and then rebuilds it along the lines of passing out political pie.

Tom Hickman is known throughout the nation as an honest, fearless and efficient officer whose very presence on the force acts as a warning to criminals.

The Journal is glad to see him reappointed and to note that the new administration at Austin is starting out to make the ranger force what it is supposed to be—a unit of peace officers who can and will keep the peace.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—President Roosevelt's big economic program is the talk of Washington and has shoved even the gold clause trial out of the conversations of major economists and dinner sophists.

Big business men wag their heads, saying it's too big a slice to cut at one sitting. Left-wingers wag their heads because they think it's too small a slice. The great middle-of-the-road class, including labor unionists, think it's the biggest thing that has happened to the United States in decades.

Indeed, it does mark a historic abandonment of the whole theory of the Rugged Individualists. That a goverpment which three years ago refused to accept the burden of feeding even the hungry should now propose to take over the beginnings of a security system for 20,000,000 wage earners, and even to sell annuities to the middle classes, is said to amount to little short of a revolution.

Townsend Plan Again

So far business men have been sitting more or less silent on the anxious seat. They will be mollified by the fact that the program will cost them as taxpayers only about $100,000,000 this year; that workers must contribute half of their security funds; that the states are being left to choose their own systems, subject only to federal guidance and minimum standards.

Many enlightened employers already had come to accept industry's responsibility for its hazards.

Left-wingers are more vocal. Ready to hurl forensic thunderbolts at the program are the vociferous members of the Townsend bloc in Congress. Congressman John Stevens McGroarty, California's poet laureate and author of the Townsend plan bill to pension all oldsters past 60 at $200 a month for life, provided they spend everything they get each month, said he would wait until the president's Wagner bill got to the House floor and then offer the Townsend plan as an amendment to the old age security section.

Just "Pauper Relief"

In this way he will get the plan, now interred in the Ways and Means committee, to the floor for a free-for-all argument.

McGroarty and his fellow Californian, Dr. Townsend, say it's "pauper relief" to offer only $30 a month to the aged poor.

Likely to make trouble also is little Dr. Abraham Epstein, moving spirit of the Association for Social Security. Dr. Epstein thinks old age pensions, for which he's battled for seven years, should be voted on separately instead of blanketed into a bill with certain controversial features. He also wants health insurance.

Why Convicts Revolt

California not only furnishes Townsend plan headaches for the government. It just has supplied an object lesson in its recent San Quentin prison break.

Dr. F. L. Bixby, assistant director of federal prisons, recalls that a friend of his, after a recent trip to California's great fortress-prison, wrote that a break was inevitable, owing to the overcrowded condition of the place.

The prison was built to house 3500. It houses 6000 prisoners. The federal government took warning from recent jail breaks, built a new prison, and enlarged several of its old ones. Then it took pressure off the walls by repealing the 18th amendment.

The states for the most part have been too poor to build up to their increasing prison population.

"The two most frequent causes of jail disorders," said Dr. Bixby, "are overcrowding and idleness among convicts."

A recent NRA report by the so-called Ullman committee recommended PWA loans to states to industrialize prisons and establish factories for making state-use furniture and other articles.

Hiram Is Licked

And, speaking of California, it was noted that Senator Hiram Johnson of that land of sunshine, fruit, and flowers, had lost much of his old vigor in his latest attack on the World Court.

In the 15 years he has fought the League of Nations and World Court across the continent and back, he has never unflexed his fighting fist or modulated his highpitched voice. This time he seemed to realize he was licked—and he was. Even the galleries that usually fill up to hear a Johnson speech were sparsely occupied.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANN HOLLISTER, pretty and 20, finds work in a library. She falls in love with TONY MICKLE, though warned against him by her room-mate, SARAH KENT.

Later Ann meets PETER KENDALL, wealthy and prominent and engaged to VALERIA BENNETT, society girl. Without Peter's knowledge Valeria goes about with a gay set. One night she attends a party at which a man is shot. Peter, learning how Valeria has deceived him, tells her their engagement is at an end.

The same day Ann breaks her engagement to Tony. She and Peter meet in a restaurant and discuss their mutual unhappiness. When he asks her to marry him she agrees. They are married that night and set out for Florida.

Peter's mother is horrified by news of his marriage. His sister, CAROL, who is much attracted by the chauffeur who drives her mother's car, receives the news calmly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

Past driving brought Peter and Ann to the vicinity of the little Florida home on the afternoon of the third day. For hours Peter's powerful car had been cutting its way along a road leading through a tangle of tropical growth. A forest so thick with shadows that it seemed late afternoon although the sun was still high.

Tall pines, palms, huge water oaks, flaming hibiscus and the more delicately hued oleander breaking the deep green with color. And over all the intense, brooding stillness, broken only by the rustle of a leaf or the cry of a bird.

As the shadows lengthened the gray moss, swaying in the wind, was like ghostly white arms reaching out toward them.

Ann moved closer to Peter. "Weird, isn't it?"

"Frightened?" He laughed and reached over to give her hand a reassuring pat.

No, she couldn't be frightened with Peter. Peter's strong, splendidly muscled shoulders, his fighter's chin meant adequate protection. And there was something about him, apart from his rugged strength and bigness, that gave Ann a feeling of security. It was the way Peter looked at life.

"It's just around the bend of this lake," Peter said. And then, "Here we are."

On the top of the slope, almost hidden by orange trees, was a small bungalow, Spanish type. A little path bordered by flowers ran from the steps to the edge of the lake.

"Peter!"

"Like it?"

"I'm afraid I shall love it and you'll never get me away."

Peter got out, opened the side gate and the big car climbed the slope, crushing thick grass under the wheels.

"A garage and everything!" marveled Ann.

Peter smiled. "People lived here once, you know."

The garage was clean and free from cobwebs. Ann wondered. And then, as they came outside, Peter sprang his surprise.

"See that house. You can just see the red chimney through the trees. A family lives there."

"I thought we were alone in the world."

"Thought I'd make you cook on your—your—" He stopped, embarrassed.

"On my honeymoon," Ann supplied. Well, it was a queer kind of wedding trip.

"I expected you to help," she continued. "Sarah could tell you I'm not much good in a kitchen. But I'm learning. What about the family?"

"After I bought the place I realized it would be a white elephant on my hands. But I hung on to it for some reason, and finally I got this family to stay here. I give them the proceeds from the oranges and a small monthly wage to keep things up."

He had opened a door and now turned on the light. Ann stood, lost in admiration. The living room was typically Spanish, with its tapestries, its balustrades, dark, ornate furniture supplemented by big wing chairs covered with bright cretonne. The curtains were cream with rich draperies of blue brocade. A stair with a wrought iron balustrade wound upward at one side of the room. A bright fire glowed in the fireplace.

"Oh, what a darling place!" breathed Ann.

"The bedrooms and bath are upstairs," Peter said. "Let's have a look at the kitchen."

The kitchen floor was covered with linoleum in large gray and black blocks, copying an old flagged stone flooring. The room had rough plaster walls and dainty ruffled swiss curtains at the windows.

Upstairs the survey led from Ann's bedroom to Peter's. The furniture in her room was painted cream and decorated in roses. Soft silk shades covered the lights. There were gay pillows on the window seat, a gay chintz-covered chair under the reading lamp.

Peter's room was furnished in walnut and there was a practical, green-shaded light near his bed for reading.

Ann peeped in at the blue and white tiled bath. A tub and shower. Electric light. "Such luxury! I thought from what you said we'd be camping."

"I've run down a few times, so I furnished the place. But there are defects, as you will find out. Sometimes the water runs low. If it does, we'll do lots of our bathing in the lake."

"In January!"

"Lots of mild days. I'll walk over and tell Sam and his wife we're here."

"I'm going with you," Ann said. Not for worlds would she have

Popular Old Laxative

While other laxatives have come and gone, increasing numbers of men and women have continued to use the old, reliable, purely vegetable Thedford's Black-Draught.

"My father used Black-Draught," writes Mrs. A. M. Brumley, of Steele, Mo., "and we haven't found anything that can take its place. I take Black-Draught for headache constipation and smothering after meals. Black-Draught relives me at once."

Black-Draught helps to relieve headache and discomfort after meals where simply due to constipation.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 4 to 8 lower under near month liquidation and owing to the slow demand. Jan. 12.39; March 12.46; May 12.50; July 12.50; Oct. 12.43; Dec. 12.49.

There was a moderate volume of business at the opening with prices lower under the near month liquidation.

Offerings were comparatively light after the opening and prices steadied 2 or 3 points on trade buying or covering with active months showing net losses of about 4 to 6 points at the end of the first half hour. Near months were relatively easy under liquidation with January selling off to 12.39 or 9 points net lower.

The market worked off to 12.44 for March and 12.42 for October later, making net losses of about 5 to 8 points on the active months. This decline seemed to bring in a little more trade buying while offerings were light and prices steadied up from the lowest with March selling at 12.48 and October at 12.44 at noon or about 4 to 5 points net lower. January sold down to 12.35 or 13 points net lower during the morning but later rallied to 12.40 before trading in that position ended at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 25 (AP)—Cotton opened slightly easier today.

First trades showed losses of 3 to 4 points. March and May rallied one point right after the opening call on a little covering.

March traded at 12.47, and May and July at 12.52.

There was some liquidation by tired longs which caused March to ease off to 12.45 and May and July to 12.50, or 5 points down on all months compared with yesterday's close.

A slight rally of a point or two near noon on shorts covering followed but new crop months were practically untraded during the morning, there being but one sale of Oct. at 12.43, or 5 points under the close of yesterday.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (AP)—Downturns of grain prices early today accompanied persistent notice taken of reported uncertainties regarding Canadian government wheat marketing plans. Opening unchanged to 1-2 lower, May 96 3-8 to 96 3-4, wheat afterward declined all around. Corn started 1-8 to 1-2 down, May 84 1-2 to 84 5-8, and later underwent a general sag.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Most financial markets were wistful but wary today and price trends mildly mixed.

Dullness continued to rule stock trading, although power and light corporation issues, together with scattered specialties, moved to higher levels. There was little news that could be interpreted as stimulating. Commodities offered no assitance to equities. Bonds were quiet and a trifle spotty. Foreign exchanges again sagged in terms of the dollar.

Shares of National Department Store preferred and Spiegel-May-Stern got up about 2 points each.

Such issues as U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, General Electric, Westinghouse and Du Pont were extremely narrow. American Telephone yielded fractionally. Freeport Texas dropped more than a point following yesterday's dividend reduction.

The rails were not especially responsive to a little more than seasonal gain in freight loadings for the week ended Jan. 19, of 9,280 cars. The total was 562,955 cars, which was 1,053 above the like 1934 week and 63,401 over the same week in 1933.

While the markets apparently were still gold-clause conscious, brokers reported there now seemed to be less apprehension among traders as to the decision which may be handed down by the supreme court.

RELIEF PLAN

the "physical impossibility of weighing and testing each and every project."

Backing his stand, the Democratic leaders had made a plea to support the president in his announced drive to transfer 3,500,000 persons from relief roles to public works jobs averaging $50 a month. They called it a vital part of the recovery campaign.

Among the attempts that failed was a move by Rep. McFarlane (D-Texas) to attach to the measure the Patman bill to pay the $2,100,000,000 bonus with new treasury notes. It was ruled out of order.

Arguments To Open In Sickles Trial

PANHANDLE, Jan. 25 (AP)—Arguments were scheduled to start this afternoon in the W. L. (Bill) Sickles murder trial. Sickles is charged with the fatal beating of W. E. Wright, a city employe, last November 24.

The case was expected to go to the jury tonight. Testimony closed last night.

District Judge E. J. Pickens spent this morning working on his charge to the jury, after several exceptions had been made by defense counsel.

RELIEF FUNDS TO BE SPENT

EASTLAND COUNTY TO PROFIT MOST WITH NEW ALLOTMENT

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Texas relief commission today authorized expenditure of $175,485.09 in 97 projects giving work to 2,656 persons for a total of 3,152 days. Counties will spend $76,499.18 on the same projects.

The largest amount, $13,880.70 was allotted Eastland county for the marking streets in Eastland, grading roads leading to Cisco, Eastland and Ranger, improving the Cisco sewage disposal plant and improving Eastland's water suply equipment. The county will spend $7,677.27 on the work.

Relief Administrator Adam R. Johnson anncunced the following changes in administration:

In Brewster county, Harris S. Smith was appointed administrator, succeeding J. W. Gilmer; in Wheeler county, C. W. Wells was appointed administrator succeeding W. Veale and in Taylor county, Doyle T. Brooks was appointed administrator, succeeding Lloyd B. Thomas.

Relief officials said the government emergency education program begun last September and scheduled to last through Jan. 31, probably would be continued beyond that date. They estimated between 2,000 and 3,000 Texas school teachers had been provided employment and approximately 50,000 students were receiving instructions from the program.

LEGISLATURE

people by whom the members of the legislature are elected."

Inquiry Is Sought

Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth said he intended to ask that the scope of the resolution be broadened to provide for an investigation. He stated he did not object to disclosing his employment, "but I do resent this indictment of senators and legislators."

"If they have information to sustain the indictment, then let 'em bring it in here," he said.

After considerable discussion action on the proposal was postponed until next Thursday.

Senator Gordon M. Burns of Huntsville, who had called it up, argued that the Democratic party platform demanded publicity on employment.

A Statewide Matter

"It is a statewide matter," he said, "and the citizens are entitled to know if senators or representatives are on pay rolls of any corporations. Anyway, all ought to be willing to tell who are paying them retainers."

The senate still was working under rules prohibiting committee hearings on ordinary bills until February 7. A motion to permit committee work at any time carried 19 to 10 but a four-fifths vote would have been necessary to set aside the constitutional provision restricting the first 30 days of the session to introduction of bills. Indications were that a compromise might yet be worked out.

The house committee on oil, gas and mining last night heard arguments for a bill by Representative Charles Tennyson of Wichita Falls to make gas pipe lines common carriers. Opponents will be heard Tuesday night.

Tennyson said the bill would enable cities to construct distributing systems, purchase their gas in the field and have it transported to city gates through existing pipe lines. The transportation lines would be limited to a six per cent return.

Building Program To Speed Recovery

DALLAS, Jan. 25 (AP)—J. Howard Ardrey, deputy administrator of the federal housing act, Thursday predicted that the building program would speed recovery of American industry.

He said the government's insurance on home mortgages would restore a desire for home ownership and vitalize the building industry.

Ardrey left last night for Houston where he will address the convention of national real estate boards today.

TWO ARE DEAD IN DISASTER

passengers and 58 members of the Mohawk's crew and hastened them to New York, where ambulances awaited them.

"We picked up five of the Mohawk's ten lifeboats," Captain McKenzie of the Algonquin wirelessed the Associated Press.

All 34 members of the Talisman's crew were saved.

The cause of the collision mystified experienced seamen who pointed out that the freighter, a much slower ship, left its Brooklyn pier an hour after the Mohawk sailed yesterday afternoon.

No Hint Of Cause

Wireless reports from the Mohawk, which was abandoned an hour after the collision, and from the rescue ships, gave no hint of the manner in which the vessels rammed.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Melvin Hymer of the coast guard said a member of the Mohawk's crew gave a brief but graphic account of the crash.

"The sailor said he was on watch in the control cabin of the liner," said Hymer, "and that the freighter loomed up suddenly through the night.

"The sailor said it was impossible to avoid a collision and that the bow of the Mohawk was stove in.

"In the collision the seaman said he saw two members of the crew on the forward deck of the Mohawk crushed to death."

Names Not Known

The names of the two victims were not known.

The hunt for the missing persons went on ceaselessly during the morning only six miles south of the spot where the Ward liner Morro Castle burned with a loss of 124 lives last September.

Although the Mohawk's lifeboats were put over the side immediately, coast guardsmen said they saw many persons floundering in the icy sea.

As 8,000 Jersey residents lined the snow-banked shore during the night to watch searchlights from the rescue ships, all lights on the Mohawk went out. Failure of wireless operators to raise any response from the vessel indicated she had been abandoned within an hour.

An Associated Press photographer flying over the scene shortly after daybreak reported no trace of the Mohawk was visible.

Survivors Picked Up

The United Fruit liner Limon picked up more than 20 of the survivors but transferred them to the cutter Champlain in order to continue her voyage south.

The Champlain after searching throughout the night, put in to its Staten Island pier with 22 of the rescued. Ambulances and physicians were at the dock.

Meanwhile, Red Cross workers and ambulances rushed to the foot of Manhattan to meet the Algonquin. Thirty patrolmen commanded by six sergeants hastened there to keep in line anxious relatives and friends.

E. Bates McKee, of Mount Kisco, N. Y., whose wife, Ruth was a passenger, and Oswald B. Lord, of New York, whose wife also was aboard, were at the pier early in the morning with coats and furs. Their wives had sent wireless messages they were safe on the Algonquin.

Within a short time after distress signals and then an SOS were intercepted, ships stood near the sinking Mohawk and others knifed through the waters toward the scene.

Boats Are Found

One by one, the lifeboats bobbing about with their cargoes of shivering survivors were picked up. The long fingers of searchlights stabbed the darkness, shifting restlessly over the vaporous surface.

After an all night search, one of the Mohawk's lifeboats could not be found; it was believed to contain the Mohawk's captain, Joseph E. Wood, and at least 10 members of the crew. The Jersey coast, piled with snow, was patrolled in the hope it would appear.

The Talisman, able to proceed under her own power after the collision, put about and headed for New York.

Both ships were of steel construction. The Mohawk had a gross tonnage of 5,897 tons, was 387 feet in length and was an oil burner. The Norwegian boat, commanded by Captain Wang, is 400 feet long, and is of 4,765 gross tons.

Coincidence and ill-luck that has pursued the Ward line during the last several months figured ironically in the disaster.

The Mohawk is the fourth Ward liner to come to grief since last September. The Morro Castle, pride of the line, burned with the loss of 124 lives on September 8, off the Jersey coast not far from last night's accident.

Hulk Is On Beach

Her rusted, fire-twisted hulk lies on the beach at Asbury Park, about six miles from Sear Girt, and one of the tugs engaged in salvaging the wreck steamed to the aid of the Mohawk last night.

On December 8, 1934, the Ward liner Cauto lost her propellor off the coast of Florida. And last January 8 the Havana, another ship operated by the Ward line, grounded on a coral reef off the northern tip of the Bahamas.

The Havana is still fast on the reef, and to replace her in the service the line chartered the Mohawk from the Clyde Mallory line.

Bad luck has plagued the Mohawk; the Jersey coast is her nemesis. Groping through a thick fog on May 20, 1928, she was in collision with the liner Jefferson off Staten Island, proceeded like a wounded creature to shore and beached near Seabright, N. J.

It requires 2,800 years for nature to build up seven inches of top soil, according to estimates of the extension service of the soil erosion service of the U. S. department of agriculture.

DUCHESSES NAMED FOR CELEBRATION

GALVESTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—In addition to young women representing cities in Texas in the Mardi Gras coronation ball here March 4 duchesses will be presented from three other states, it was announced here today.

Miss Glynna Fay Colwick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Colwick of Durant, Okla., will be duchess of Oklahoma. She is a student at the University of Oklahoma. Miss Mary Elizabeth Trapp of Norman, Okla., will be her lady in waiting.

Miss Mary Moses, duaghter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Moses of Little Rock, Ark., graduate of the University of Arkansas, a former student of Sweetbriar college, Virginia, and a member of Chi Omega sorority, will be duchess of Arkansas.

Miss Lucille Watkins of Welch, La., former student at Southwestern university, has been selected as duchess of Louisiana.

OFFICERS FOR GROUP NAMED

ENGINEERS AT TEXAS TECH ADVANCED AT RECENT MEETING

Five senior engineer students of Texas Technological college with the highest scholastic rating of the class, and the highest ranking junior engineer were voted members of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Scholarship at a meeting of the group Wednesday afternoon. Officers were also elected at the meeting.

The five students, who make up one-eighth of the senior class of engineers, are Ross Watson, Erie Mayo, Truman Green, Marion Royalty and Tom Chesser. The junior student with the highest scholastic rating is Mark Townsend.

Officers elected, at the Wednesday meeting are: president, Thomas Young; vice-president, Watson; secretary, Dan Davis; treasurer, Royalty.

Retiring officers of the group were: president, Howard Hurmence; vice-president, Davis; secretary, Atmar Atkinson; treasurer, Young.

Engineers of a group, comprising one-eighth of the total number of senior engineers, with the highest scholastic rating of the class, and the junior with the highest rating are taken in the honorary society each fall semester. One-eighth of junior engineers with the highest rating are taken in during the second semester.

Members of the society are making efforts to gain for the college a chapter of the national honorary engineering fraternity, Tau Beta Pi, which the SPES would merge with.

Amelia Earhart On Hop To New York

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25 (AP)—Amerlia Earhart and her husband, George Palmer Putnam, left the union air terminal in Burbank today on a flight to New York. She lifted her red monoplane of the ground at 7:45 a. m. (Pacific standard time, after saying she did not wish to disclose the route she would take because she desired to avoid crowds.

She was reported over Kingman, Ariz., at 10:50 a. m. (Mountain standard time).

She will stop about every 500 miles to refuel. Airport officials said they believed she would go by way of Albuquerque, N. M., and Wichita, Kas., and that she would stop in Washington, D. C.

Islanders Prepare For A Hard Winter

ISLE ROYAL, Mich., Jan. 25 (AP)—Until the spring sun of 1935 breaks up the ice on Lake Superior, the 21 residents of this small water-locked island will be without direct communication with the outside world.

Winter officially began on the island late in November when the supply boat hauled anchor and sailed for the mainland after its final fall visit.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Holger Johnson attend a public school in which they are the only pupils. Their teacher is Miss Eva Cooley.

All other inhabitants of the island are fishermen, except two Michigan conservation employes assigned to observe and feed the island's numerous wild moose.

LICENSE SOUGHT

ELKTON, Md., Jan. 25 (AP)—Violet Hilton, right half of the famous Siamese twins, applied here today for a license to wed Maurice Lambert, Keyers, W. Va., musician.

RED CROSS TO STUDY WORK

ANNUAL MEETING FOR LOCAL GROUP WILL BE HELD TODAY

Having surveyed Lubbock county's needs in view of the Lubbock county Red Cross chapter's proposal to attempt to procure a Red Cross nurse for the county, R. H. Ziehm, field representative of the Red Cross's midwestern division, will speak at an annual meeting of the Lubbock county chapter this afternoon. He considers the need for a nurse pressing, it was said.

The meeting, at 212 Lubbock hotel, will begin at 4:30 o'clock, O. J. Sexton, chairman, announced. Program and budget plans will be studied and officers and directors elected. Included in discussion of program plans will be plans for social work for service men.

A revolving plan of directorship will be started. Twenty-one directors will be elected in groups of seven, one group to serve one year, the second group to serve two years, and the other group to serve three years. There are not 21 directors at present. Officers of the county chapter, other than Mr. Sexton, are Mrs. J. S. Johnson, vice-chairman; Mrs. George Benson, secretary; and L. C. Ellis, treasurer.

ELECTRIC CHAIR IS MAN'S FATE

MORRISON, Ill., Jan. 25 (AP) — Fred Blink, middle aged farmer, today was convicted and sentenced to death in the electric chair for the murder of five persons he slew while in a rage over a $40 debt.

The jury disregarded Blink's defense that he killed the five while under the influence of "poison liquor." He was convicted on only one charge, that of slaying John Hamilton.

thought maybe they are bills."

Put Box On Shelf

He said he put the box on the upper shelf in the broom closet in the kitchen and did not disturb it until the middle of August, 1934.

"And what caused you to disturb it?"

"I was looking for a broom, and when I took the broom I must hit the box with the broom handle, and I looked up, and that way I saw that it is money. I damaged the box."

"And you saw money?"

"Yes."

"Well, now had there been any moisture or wet or anything in that closet?"

"All soaking wet."

Pipes In Closet

Hauptmann explained there were pipes running through the closet. Asked what he did with the box, he replied:

"I put it in the boiler and took it down to the garage."

"What money did you see in that box?"

"Only gold certificates."

"About how much?"

"I didn't count it from the beginning."

"Is that the money that you afterwards started to spend?"

"That is the money."

"Is that the money that was found in your garage?"

"It is."

"And was Fisch dead at that time?"

"Yes."

Photographs Are Shown

Photographs and a map of Woodlawn cemetery in the Bronx were shown to him and Reilly asked:

"How far away from your house would you say the main entrance of Woodlawn cemetery was?"

"Well, I don't know where the main entrance are of Woodlawn cemetery."

"You are not familiar with the cemetery at all, is that right?"

"No."

Dr. Condon had testified he met Hauptmann the first time to negotiate ransom at the main entrance of Woodlawn cemetery in the Bronx.

"Were you at that gate or inside that gate March 12, 1932?"

"I was not."

Studhalter Talks At Club Luncheon

Dr. R. A. Studhalter of Texas Technological college, speaking at an American Business club luncheon today at Hilton hotel, described the personalities of Yaqui Indians encountered by the college's expedition last April and May and a smaller expeditionary party in September into the Yaqui country of Mexico.

The Yaquis were especially interested, Doctor Studhalter related, in photographs taken there by members of the expeditions.

Letters from Yaquis, among them a 12-year-old boy who has attended school in Arizona and an English-speaking guide, have reflected a wish that their white friends return.

Thord Dockary was program chairman.

PIANO IS ROBBED

Again last night or early today a player-piano in Butler's cafe, 1714 Avenue A, in the negro quarter, was forced open, police reported. The owner estimated only 20 cents in pennies was taken. Entrance to the cafe was effected through a rear window.

Mrs. W. R. Vivrett of Weatherford is the guest of her son, the Rev. W. R. Vivrett, and Mrs. Vivrett.

CHURCH PLANS FOR PAYMENT

BAPTISTS MAKE REAL EFFORT TO PAY OFF BIG DEBT BURDEN

(Special To The Journal)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 25—Southern Baptists are making a real honest-to-goodness effort to pay all the debts on all the agencies of the Southern Baptist convention, amounting to some five and a half million dollars, which were created during the period of over-expansion and the depression which followed.

Some time ago Dr. Frank Tripp, pastor of the First Baptist church of St. Joseph, Mo., and also a member of the executive committee of the Southern Baptist convention, offered the following simple plan for retiring all the debts of the convention within five years, namely: form a club of 100,000 members, each promising to pay a dollar a month over and above his regular contributions to his church for the retirement of debts, which would amount to $1,200,000 a year, or $6,000,000 within five years.

Plan Is Adopted

This plan was adopted by the convention which met in Washington in May, 1933, and enthusiastically endorsed by the convention in Fort Worth last May. Dr. Tripp, who was selected to lead the movement from the beginning, was authorized to put on an intensive drive during January and February of this year to bring the membership of the club up to 100,000 or more. For months he has been perfecting his organization in the different states and getting his material ready to launch the campaign on a mammoth scale January 1, which he has already done.

Up to the beginning of this year between twenty-five and thirty thousand members of the club had signed up and had actually paid in cash approximately $200,000 on the principal of the debts aside from what had been subscribed to be paid later. No money accruing from this source is used for interest or expenses. This money was distributed according to debt needs to the home and foreign mission boards, the four theological seminaries, the Baptist hospital and the education board.

The week beginning January 20 has been designated loyalty week among Southern Baptists and a strenuous effort will be made in thousands of the churches at that time to bring the hundred thousand club up to its maximum strength.

ANNUAL MEETING CARDED FEB. 12

MATADOR, Jan. 25 (Special)—Annual meeting of the Motley County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Texas cafe here February 12, Harry Willett, president, announced here. Committees in charge of details were named by Mr. Willett.

Farris Fish was named chairman of the nominating committee; Henry Pipkin, of the arrangements committee; J. L. Woodruff of the program committee; G. E. Hamilton of the invitation committee and R. E. Campbell of the ticket sales committee.

Senator Grady Woodruff, brother of J. L. Woodruff, has been invited to be the principal speaker.

Minor Injuries In Thursday Accident

Minor injuries were suffered by Mrs. J. P. Newman, 1920 Fifteenth street, in an automobile collision at Thirteenth street and Avenue J at 9:10 o'clock last night. She was treated at West Texas hospital.

A Studebaker taxicab driven by Leo Hollingsworth, who lived at Twenty-fourth street and Avenue L, and a 1931 Ford coach piloted by G. W. Parkhill, 2124 Twenty-sixth street, collided, Parkhill's automobile overturning. Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Glenn Hunt were in the Ford.

Patrolmen Don Reeder and John L. McCullough investigated the crash.

Admits Kidnaping Baby Boy

Mrs. Dorothy Marsh, 19 (inset), was charged with kidnaping and jailed in Indianapolis after detectives said she confessed abducting a four-day-old baby boy, William Joseph Robbins, son of a relief project worker and his wife, as part of a plan to regain her husband's affections by an assumed motherhood. The little kidnap victim is shown with his parents after he had been returned from the escapade. (Associated Press Photos).

They started out, through the grove. The path was rough and the grove was dark, with black shadows along the path. Ann slipped her arm through Peter's and trudged along by his side while he pushed aside branches and guided her through the trees.

A light streaming from the open door of the frame cottage made the path clear and she slipped her arm from his.

"Hello, Sam!" Peter called.

The family trooped to the porch. There were Sam and his wife, a younger woman and her husband, a little girl about three, and a boy. Ann judged that the boy, who had bright dark eyes, was around 10.

"Howdy, Mr. Kendall," Sam said. "We tried to fix everything right, sir."

"Everything's fine," Peter said. "The house looks nice. Mrs. Kendall likes the flowers."

"We have a garden," Sam's wife told Ann. "A little patch at the back. We're going to have lots of vegetables.

While Ann was chatting with her, Peter was talking with Sam, man-fashion, about blights and sprays and smudge pots. He was glad they had done so well with the oranges last year. What were the prospects this season?

Presently Ann and Peter were on their way back to the bungalow, the lighted windows of the house gleaming cheerfully in the darkness.

Lena, Sam's wife, had volunteered to do the cooking for the young couple. Sam had stocked the pantry with provisions and would go to market every other day for vegetables.

"And so, Mrs. Kendall," Peter said, "we begin housekeeping."

After she had gone to her room Ann heard Peter in his room, softly whistling. Peter whistling! The whistling stopped abruptly, as though he had realized how lighthearted he sounded.

Ann, lying in her small bed, called to him, "Peter, I feel much safer with these burglar bars."

Peter's deep laugh. "Ann, you idiot. Haven't you any imagination? You're a pretty senorita looking through a grill."

Lying awake, Ann looked through the grill. Watched a silvery moon moving across the sky, touching the leaves with strange enchantment. She thought of Tony. Was it possible that only a week ago she and Tony had been dancing on the roof? Had it only been a few weeks ago that Tony had caught her in his arms, saying, "You're my girl—" She buried her face against her pillow as though she could shut out the memory of Tony's dark, eager face and his lips against hers.

She tried to think of Peter. Visualizing his tanned face, his brown hair, his gray eyes, his strong, resolute chin. Peter had been wonderful. She could never, never be grateful enough. But she was lonely, lonely! A sob was in her throat.

In his room, Peter was probably thinking of Valeria Bennett, just as she was thinking of Tony. Ann wondered, vaguely troubled by the thought, if Valeria and her aunt had been guests here in Peter's Florida home.

Finally she dropped off to sleep, to dream of Tony and Peter. It was a mix-up dream in which Tony and Peter, dark forests and alligators figured prominently.

The sun was shining through the window near her bed, making bright patches on the spread, when Ann opened her eyes. The air was mild and sweet, stirring her pleasantly. She remembered Peter's lake, which would be sparkling now under the sun, rippling up against the white, sandy beach.

It was a temptation too great to resist. Ann remembered Sarah had tucked her bathing suit into one of the traveling cases. She had remonstrated, but Sarah had said that no one ever went to Florida without a bathing suit.

The house was very still as Ann, dressed in the white bathing suit, her bronze hair under a white cap, slipped out the front door and down the long, flower-bordered path that ran gayly, like a bright ribbon, to the water.

LEVELLAND IS DINNER HOST

ANNUAL MEETING FOR C OF C IS STAGED THURSDAY NIGHT

LEVELLAND, Jan. 25 (Special)—Levelland Chamber of Commerce bent its 1934 efforts to cooperation with every agency in the national recovery program and, Levelland and Hockley county generally were aided materially, about 80 persons attending at annual dinner in the First Methodist Episcopal church were told last night.

Credit Not Overtaxed

C. M. Elder, secretary, revealed that Hockley county's "credit is not overtaxed" and declared that given a good crop, the area will "come back doubly strong." Mr. Elder reported briefly on the year's activities.

A sumptuous dinner was served by ladies of the church. Music was furnished by an orchestra composed of W. A. Loyd and Virgil Scarborough, T. M. Shannon and C. R. Powell.

Speaker Not Present

Judge J. D. Hamlin, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was scheduled to speak but was unable to attend. J. L. Nisbet of Lubbock, field representative of the WTCC, was present in his stead and spoke briefly on projects under way by the organization.

J. H. Jones, president of the Levelland organization, presided informally as toastmaster. Short talks were made by: Garnet Reeves, J. I. Kilpatrick, C. W. Ratliff and H. L. Allen of Lubbock.

L. T. Green, superintendent of the Levelland schools, made a talk on the system, praising the work of the school board in its advancement of education in the community.

Five new directors were named to serve on the board for 1935-36. They were: Perry Smith, Harry Mann, Lamar West, Roland Royalty and B. A. (Jug) Warren. Retiring directors are: Gene Aycock, Major Rogers, J. A. Turrentine, President Jones and H. E. Clingan.

Leader In Break

Michael J. McDonough, above, head of the Building Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor, is the leader in a movement to withdraw 12 affiliated unions from the federation, which in turns threatens to organize a new building trades department without them. McDonough's faction moved out of the federation building in Washington. Negotiations are under way to prevent a final split-off.

NO MAN ALLOWED TO HAVE OFFICES

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 25 (AP)—A building in which the feminine mind is to rule completely, and where men may do well to tread softly and say little, is planned for construction here during the coming year.

The project is to include store and office space, restaurants, apartments and a hotel—but only women doctors, women dentists, women lawyers, women shopkeepers, and the like, are to occupy the building.

There will be no rule, however, against men being customers and patients.

The idea of this "House of Women" dates back 40 years to one Mrs. Erima Gad, a well known Copenhagen clubwoman. Plans for its construction fell through several times, but the lots now have been purchased. Building costs will be approximately 1,000,000 kronor (about $250,000).

To start things off right a woman architect will design the building.
