VOLUME XXXIII — MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 — AUGUST 29, 1969 — NUMBER 40

CONFETTI By CON"FETTE

The word is out that liberation of this country from "the Establishment" by left wing terrorists and revolutionaries is scheduled for this year. In fact, some of the fanatics are said to have announced the specific date—— October 1.

Another report making the rounds is that the revolution's leader will be Robert Williams, traitor and fugitive from justice, who is expected to make a brazen and arrogantly triumphal return to this country in just a few days.

An old saying tells us that where there's smoke there's sure to be fire. Though no one can say at this time just how serious the threat is, the country has good reason to take it seriously. Black militants have been working at the confrontation for a long time, they are dedicated to it and very likely have definite plans. We could be headed for trouble which would make former uprisings seem like mild rehearsals.

Yes, it could be that rough, but our guess is that it will not be. We'd rather think that the FBI at this very moment knows exactly what the score is and where every militant revolutionary is. On short notice it could conduct a roundup which would leave the revolution with few if any leaders.

Regarding that character Williams, we can't imagine the FBI's allowing him a minute of freedom. With his record he ought to be at the very top of the most wanted list. Besides evading a murder charge for several years, he has preached treason against US in all the red strongholds and has authored treasonable literature, which is widespread over here, advocating bloody and destructive revolution. No one has ever been more deserving of arrest and the sternest prosecution our law will allow.

And there are lots of others, radicals who have been mean mouthing the country for years, preaching hate and violence and armed revolution. They too are prime candidates for an FBI roundup.

Our confidence in the efficiency of the FBI and in the good judgment of top men in Washington prompts us to predict that the threatened revolution will fizzle. We expect that lots of key personnel will be out of circulation on D day, that lots of guns and other revolutionary equipment will have been seized, and that police will be ready and able to cope with those who attempt the rough stuff.

Likewise, we like to think that our authorities will not stop at just preventing the boasted outbreak. Next in order is a thorough search and cleanup of persons and equipment supporting the revolutionary movement.

We may as well face the facts. The traitors behind this movement are a menace to our security. They are co-workers in the global red conspiracy which told us years ago that it intends to take over our country. The time has come to realize that patience and tolerance are wasted on them. They need to be treated like enemies.

The time has come to adopt a few of standards used by reds themselves in dealing with their enemies— as seen in Czechoslovakia and Hungary and East Germany. Our kind of people over there were ruthlessly brought under control when they got out of line. While not imitating their extremes of prosecution, we should be equally determined that their kind of people over here also need to be brought under control when they get out of line.

The Most Rev. Bishop Augustine Danglmayr, brother of the 50-year bride, offered the anniversary Mass and officiated at renewal of nuptial vows in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m. Father Arthur Hughes of Dallas and Father Placidus Eckert, pastor, were assistants to the bishop. A granddaughter Miss Patsy Spaeth was organist and joined other granddaughters Margie Felderhoff and Janie Knauf in singing.

Grandsons David Spaeth, Bobby Knauf and Ernest Voth were ushers, and grandchildren Sharon Rose Voth, L. W. Voth, Billy, Rose Mary and Susie Felderhoff presented the sacred vessels at the offertory. Yellow gladioli adorned the main altar and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the two side altars.

A reception followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall. The honor couple's table held a large anniversary cake on which the family was represented in decorations. It was made by a daughter Mrs. Henry Spaeth.

A floral centerpiece, golden candelabra and coffee service were on the board of pick-up food.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Avery of Fort Worth, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Randell McDonald who moved here Tuesday from Saint Jo.

The tragedy occurred about 2:35 to 2:40 p.m. As explained to Sheriff Bill Pratt, the body was discovered on the driveway shortly after Dwayne Myers, a friend of both families, backed out and drove away.

Dr. Antonetti, notified at the Medical Center, arrived at the scene at 2:45. He said that the child had died instantly. A similar opinion was expressed by Justice of the Peace Carl Burchfield after his investigation.

Light Rain Brings Big Heat Relief

Rains adding to 1.05 inch during and after the past weekend have brought a welcome improvement to the weather condition of the community — especially in the temperature.

Mercury readings this week have been mostly in the eighties — seventies at night — a delightful change from the heat wave that prevailed for about two months.

However, Muenster was short changed in moisture while many areas of the state were getting good soakers.

The best local rain was .81 inch recorded Wednesday at 7 a.m. for the previous 24 hours. Other readings were .11 Saturday morning and .13 Tuesday.

The month's present moisture total is 1.97 and the year's is 25.53 inches.

4-H Clubbers Win In Horse Show

Winners in the Cooke County Horse Show, an annual feature of the county fair, included Muenster 4-H Club members.

Miss Mary Lou Fleitman and Dandy were first in the barrel racing event, 12 years and under. Allan Fleitman showed the best quarter horse colt, Roska, and Lenora Fleitman, placed third with Ginger in the barrel race, 13 through 18 years.

They are members of Muenster Community 4-H Club. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Fleitman.

Miss Margaret Kralicke took second place honors astride Georgette Siemon in the Western Pleasure Class, 13 through 18 years.

Schools Enroll 786 11 Under Last Year

For the first time in several years the enrollment has declined in Muenster's two schools. The combined count reported after late registrations Monday and Tuesday was 786, as compared with 797 after the late registrations last year.

All of the decline plus four more losses was felt at the public school where the total figure drops from 416 to 401. Meanwhile Sacred Heart added four increasing its total figure from 381 to 385. Actually this is a loss of 2 at Sacred Heart since the early registration report.

The gain of four clashes sharply with last week's report in this paper indicating a gain of 60 at the parochial school. The mistake was in comparing with the 1967 total, which was 327. The correct figure for last year was 381, and the big gain credited to this year actually happened last year .

The decline of total enrollment this year is explained in part by a drop in the number of transfers from other districts, especially those who previously had transportation problems.

A break down of the combined enrollment shows 538 in the elementary grades and 248 in high school. At Sacred Heart there are 298 in the grades and 87 in high school. At the public school there are 240 in the grades and 161 in high school.

Enrollment by grades in the two schools and the combined totals for the two are as follows.

	S. H. Sch.	P. Sch.	Total

Gr. 1	42	23	65
Gr. 2	53	21	74

Hornets Will Meet Chico in Practice There Friday, 7:30

Coaches Glenn Richardson and Dan Hamric are looking forward eagerly to the practice scrimage with Chico High's Dragons Friday night at 7:30 in Chico. What the Hornets do in that tussle will give a fair idea of how they will look in the double tough schedule ahead.

According to Richardson, Chico rates as a strong threat in its district this year. Losing fourth place team, the Dragons have made a big gain in size and experience plus some more talent that was ineligible last year. The Hornets are expecting a man sized job. And their coaches think they are ready.

The boys are in good physical condition and have a good background of experience. however they are still awaiting their first test in teamwork. Defensively and offensively, they have had only a limited time of working together.

Selection of starters still is not definite as extra prospects are available at tackle and in the backfield. They are Leon Klement, David Fette and James Eckart at tackles and John Monday, Andy Knabe, Earl Koelzer, Carl Endres and Henry Knabe as backs.

Other probable starters are John Felderhoff and Bobby Bruns at ends, Henry Sicking and Tommy Henscheid at guards, and Tim Hartman at center.

Membership of the squad now stands at 33. Mark Lippe is an ddition since the practice started. Lonnie Hellman, Eddie Knabe and Richard Fisher have dropped out.

Tigers Travel To Callisburg for Scrimmage Game

The Sacred Heart Tigers, under direction of Coach Tom Joy, are getting set for a rugged test when they face Callisburg's Wildcats in scrimmage Friday night, 8 o'clock at Callisburg.

Shortage of manpower is their principal problem as they draw on a total squad of 18 while the Wildcats have over 30. Nevertheless Joy has a feeling that his boys are conditioned to keep going and require few calls on the reserves.

Work to date has been mostly on offensive play, and the Tiger boss will be particularly interested in how well his boys move the ball. Emphasis on defense is on next week's program, with results expected to show as Tigers meet Pilot Point B stringers in their second rehearsal.

Probable offensive starters for the Tigers at Callisburg are Gary Endres, Kevin Swirczynski, Melvin Schilling and Ronnie Hess as backs, Tim Bindel and Myron Hess at ends, Bill Bartush and Henry Knabe at tackle, Alan Hess and Paul Bayer at guards and Mark Schmitt at center.

Joy was pleased by the addition of two players to his squad as classes started this week. They are Gene Hess and John Luttmer.

Electric Co-ops of State Gather for 29th Convention

"Energize Rural Texas" was the challenge given to more than 750 rural electric leaders and ladies in San Antonio when they gathered for the 29th Annual Membership Meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc.

Ideas and plans to spur efforts in this direction were outlined during the August 13-15 sessions by a number of speakers headed by Texas' senior U.S. senator, Ralph Yarborough of Travis County. Others included Congressman Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio; Jerry K. Johnson of Nacogdoches, president of the Texas Association of Rural Water Supply Corporations; and the leaders of the state's youth and young adult organizations, as well as Texas and national rural electric officials.

Suggested areas of accelerated activity ranged from rural water supplies and other community services to industrial

Religious-Social Event Observes Hubert Felderhoff Golden Wedding

A half century of memories of a happy married life were recalled here Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Hubert F. Felderhoff celebrated their golden wedding at a religious service and social gathering.

The Most Rev. Bishop Augustine Danglmayr, brother of the 50-year bride, offered the anniversary Mass and officiated at renewal of nuptial vows in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m. Father Arthur Hughes of Dallas and Father Placidus Eckert, pastor, were assistants to the bishop. Father Bede Mitchel of Muenster delivered the congratulatory sermon and Father Anthony Gajda of Valley View was present in the sanctuary.

Mass servers were grandsons Donny Knauf, Chris Felderhoff, Glenn Voth and Tommy Felderhoff. The latter was master of ceremonies.

A granddaughter Miss Patsy Spaeth was organist and joined other granddaughters Margie Felderhoff and Janie Knauf in singing.

Grandsons David Spaeth, Bobby Knauf and Ernest Voth were ushers, and grandchilren Sharon Rose Voth, L. W. Voth, Billy, Rose Mary and Susie Felderhoff presented the sacred vessels at the offertory. Yellow gladioli adorned the main altar and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the two side altars.

A reception followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall. The honor couple's table held a large anniversary cake on which the family was represented in decorations. It was made by a daughter Mrs. Henry Spaeth.

A floral centerpiece, golden candelabra and coffee service were on the board of pick-up food.

Side tables were decorated with anniversary candles rep-

Child Killed in Driveway Mishap

Little Calvin Avery, 18 months old, was killed instantly Wednesday afternoon when he was accidentally run over on a driveway in the 900 block of North Main Street.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Avery of Fort Worth, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Randell McDonald who moved here Tuesday from Saint Jo.

The tragedy occurred about 2:35 to 2:40 p.m. As explained to Sheriff Bill Pratt, the body was discovered on the driveway shortly after Dwayne Myers, a friend of both families, backed out and drove away.

Dr. Antonetti, notified at the Medical Center, arrived at the scene at 2:45. He said that the child had died instantly. A similar opinion was expressed by Justice of the Peace Carl Burchfield after his investigation.

Myers apparently was not aware of the tragedy until he returned shortly after the doctor's arrival. Shock of the discovery caused a severe emotional upset and he was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Light Rain Brings Big Heat Relief

Rains adding to 1.05 inch during and after the past weekend have brought a welcome improvement to the weather condition of the community — especially in the temperature.

Mercury readings this week have been mostly in the eighties — seventies at night — a delightful change from the heat wave that prevailed for about two months.

However, Muenster was short changed in moisture while many areas of the state were getting good soakers.

The best local rain was .81 inch recorded Wednesday at 7 a.m. for the previous 24 hours. Other readings were .11 Saturday morning and .13 Tuesday.

The month's present moisture total is 1.97 and the year's is 25.53 inches.

4-H Clubbers Win In Horse Show

Winners in the Cooke County Horse Show, an annual feature of the county fair, included Muenster 4-H Club members.

Miss Mary Lou Fleitman and Dandy were first in the barrel racing event, 12 years and under. Allan Fleitman showed the best quarter horse colt, Roska, and Lenora Fleitman, placed third with Ginger in the barrel race, 13 through 18 years.

They are members of Muenster Community 4-H Club. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Fleitman.

Miss Margaret Kralicke took second place honors astride Georgette Siemon in the Western Pleasure Class, 13 through 18 years.

Schools Enroll 786 11 Under Last Year

For the first time in several years the enrollment has declined in Muenster's two schools. The combined count reported after late registrations Monday and Tuesday was 786, as compared with 797 after the late registrations last year.

All of the decline plus four more losses was felt at the public school where the total figure drops from 416 to 401. Meanwhile Sacred Heart added four increasing its total figure from 381 to 385. Actually this is a loss of 2 at Sacred Heart since the early registration report.

The gain of four clashes sharply with last week's report in this paper indicating a gain of 60 at the parochial school. The mistake was in comparing with the 1967 total, which was 327. The correct figure for last year was 381, and the big gain credited to this year actually happened last year .

The decline of total enrollment this year is explained in part by a drop in the number of transfers from other districts, especially those who previously had transportation problems.

A break down of the combined enrollment shows 538 in the elementary grades and 248 in high school. At Sacred Heart there are 298 in the grades and 87 in high school. At the public school there are 240 in the grades and 161 in high school.

Enrollment by grades in the two schools and the combined totals for the two are as follows.

Hornets Will Meet Chico in Practice There Friday, 7:30

Coaches Glenn Richardson and Dan Hamric are looking forward eagerly to the practice scrimage with Chico High's Dragons Friday night at 7:30 in Chico. What the Hornets do in that tussle will give a fair idea of how they will look in the double tough schedule ahead.

According to Richardson, Chico rates as a strong threat in its district this year. Losing fourth place team, the Dragons have made a big gain in size and experience plus some more talent that was ineligible last year. The Hornets are expecting a man sized job. And their coaches think they are ready.

The boys are in good physical condition and have a good background of experience. however they are still awaiting their first test in teamwork. Defensively and offensively, they have had only a limited time of working together.

Selection of starters still is not definite as extra prospects are available at tackle and in the backfield. They are Leon Klement, David Fette and James Eckart at tackles and John Monday, Andy Knabe, Earl Koelzer, Carl Endres and Henry Knabe as backs.

Other probable starters are John Felderhoff and Bobby Bruns at ends, Henry Sicking and Tommy Henscheid at guards, and Tim Hartman at center.

Membership of the squad now stands at 33. Mark Lippe is an ddition since the practice started. Lonnie Hellman, Eddie Knabe and Richard Fisher have dropped out.

Tigers Travel To Callisburg for Scrimmage Game

The Sacred Heart Tigers, under direction of Coach Tom Joy, are getting set for a rugged test when they face Callisburg's Wildcats in scrimmage Friday night, 8 o'clock at Callisburg.

Shortage of manpower is their principal problem as they draw on a total squad of 18 while the Wildcats have over 30. Nevertheless Joy has a feeling that his boys are conditioned to keep going and require few calls on the reserves.

Work to date has been mostly on offensive play, and the Tiger boss will be particularly interested in how well his boys move the ball. Emphasis on defense is on next week's program, with results expected to show as Tigers meet Pilot Point B stringers in their second rehearsal.

Probable offensive starters for the Tigers at Callisburg are Gary Endres, Kevin Swirczynski, Melvin Schilling and Ronnie Hess as backs, Tim Bindel and Myron Hess at ends, Bill Bartush and Henry Knabe at tackle, Alan Hess and Paul Bayer at guards and Mark Schmitt at center.

Joy was pleased by the addition of two players to his squad as classes started this week. They are Gene Hess and John Luttmer.

Electric Co-ops of State Gather for 29th Convention

"Energize Rural Texas" was the challenge given to more than 750 rural electric leaders and ladies in San Antonio when they gathered for the 29th Annual Membership Meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc.

Ideas and plans to spur efforts in this direction were outlined during the August 13-15 sessions by a number of speakers headed by Texas' senior U.S. senator, Ralph Yarborough of Travis County. Others included Congressman Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio; Jerry K. Johnson of Nacogdoches, president of the Texas Association of Rural Water Supply Corporations; and the leaders of the state's youth and young adult organizations, as well as Texas and national rural electric officials.

Suggested areas of accelerated activity ranged from rural water supplies and other community services to industrial

Developers in a Maryland suburb are planning a maximum security subdivision. This happy collection of homes will have a guard house and electrically wired mesh fence.

Furthermore, identification cards for every resident will be needed. Homes will run upwards from $300,000.

Whether machine gun nests will also be installed has not yet been revealed.

Grandma demanded her old-fashioned featherbed—no modern electric blanket for her! A lot of unions are like grandma—down with change or improvement! They —require station attendants where trains no longer stop, and are trying to force railroads to hire firemen on diesel engines where there is no coal to shovel, nothing for them to do. (Featherbedding is already costing hard-pressed railroads 500 million dollars a year.)

—force newspapers to set the type (and promptly throw it away) for advertisements already supplied complete by the advertiser and in most cases already run.

—demand goods arriving in modern containers be emptied and repacked by local unions.

—require entire crews in steel plants who do nothing but push a button twice a day.

—force employment of 6 men on a truck at a missile base, where one man is needed.

The unions claim this is "protecting American jobs." They know full well it is costing American jobs, by driving business to lower-cost oreign supness to lower-cost foreign suppliers. —Warner & Swasey

East Of The Wall

Americans fretting over inflation should cheer up slightly upon considering the plight of wage-earners in Communist East Germany. A black-and-white television set with a 17-inch screen retails at $500. An automobile is cheap at $5,000. The East Berliner spends from 50 to 70% of his salary on food, rent and clothing. Only 10% of East Berlin families own a car or a TV set. A third have been able to buy refrigerators and washing machines. The average East Berliner earns $160 a month. Wages are low, prices are high and luxuries are rare in the workers' paradise.

THE "VISITING" RUSSIAN SHIPS

Recent news of the presence of a fleet of Russian warships some 25 miles off the American coast had a peculiar ring to it.

Although we do not like to have enemy ships so close to our coast, the Russian ships obviously have a right to be there, for they are in international waters that all ships have a right to occupy. Perhaps one purpose of the Red fleet was to observe the Apollo 11 moon shot from Cape Kennedy, also non-prohibited. Then perhaps the Rusians will put in at Communist Cuba, possibly even taking military weapons such as the missiles the Russians deployed there several years ago in violation of the U.S. Monroe Doctrine, which our leaders hastily abandoned.

It is significant to note that the Russian ships off our coast were much closer than was the USS Pueblo to the coast of Communist North Korea when it was illegally seized by the Korean Communists in what since has ben described as a Russian-planned incident.

The Russians approach the United States as they have a right to do, but our ship was victimized when it remained much farther away from North Korea.

While the body of the one American serviceman killed and the 82 others who were held prisoner for 11 months by the Korean Communists have been returned to us, we should not forget that the Pueblo is still in enemy hands. The thieves still hold the loot.

Yet we continue to do business with the Rusians and all sorts of Communists, while our leaders seek without much foundation to indicate there is some hope that Vietnamese "peace" talks with Communists in Paris may bring some acceptable solution to the Red war of aggression against South Vietnam.

The whole picture is an unreasonable one that under other circumstances intelligent people would not believe and would not condone.

We suffer a sort of self-induced "hypnosis." We do not see the truth because we do not want to see the truth. When such a thing ocurs individually, there is a psychological explanation for it. When a single person views or considers some occurence too awful to bear, there may be a mental withdrawal that not only denies reality but seeks to escape it. We have adopted that psychological aberration as a sort of national policy.

There is always some"explanation" as to why we back down or surrender or fail to accept the truth. The Communist enemies have come to count on it, realizing they may push us quite readily if they will only allow us some way to construct an alibi that seeks to camouflage the facts.

If there were British ships off Florida, we would think little about it. But we noted the presence of the Russian ships with a different sort of feeling—but go right ahead and ignore the cause of that feeling in our many dealings with the Communists who threaten us, plan our destruction and receive too much cooperation from us in advancing their cause.

Welfare Diet

Taxpayers who gag at the idea of providing guaranteed incomes for the "disadvantaged" won't be influenced greatly by these "liberal" congressmen who say they gag on experimental welfare diets.

The families of a half dozen members of the Senate and House have been eating peanut butter sandwiches, hot dogs and other food commodities available to welfare recipients at the expense of the taxpayers. Lawmakers particpating in these gustatory heroics include such "liberal" friends of the poor as the generously proportioned Sen. Frank Church of Idaho and his Democratic colleague, Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota.

The experiment involving the congressional families was sponsored by an outfit calling itself the National Welfare Rights Organization which is campaigning for what it considers an "adequate" guaranteed income instead of the government's present food program of the needy .It says a guaranteed income of $5,500 a year would be "adequate" for a family of four.

"What we learned," said Mrs. Mondale concerning the experiment, "was how bland, tasteless, monotonus and uninteresting the food was—and I,m hungry."

Many and varied are the considerations entailed in giving every welfare family a guaranteed income regardless of the ability or willingness of the recipients to do anything useful in return. About the least important of these considerations is how the welfare diet appeals to the discriminating palates of congressmen who only recently have voted themselves 41 percent salary boosts to $42,500 a year.

More impressive is a reason President Nixon gave as a candidate for the opposition he expressed then to a guaranteed annual income or a negative income tax. He said he based his opposition on a conviction that such a dispensation in the first place "would not end poverty, and second, while it might be a substitute for welfare, it would have a very detrimental effect on the productive capacity of the American people."

The effects plainly would be harmful to the extent that they encouraged idleness and fueled still more consumer demand on the part of able-bodied adults who added nothing in return to the nation's productivity and therefore contributed to heightened inflation. This heightened inflation would fall with particular cruelty on the working poor, many of whom would be trying to suport families on incomes below the $5,500 the National Welfare Rights Organization says it considers "adequate" for a family of four.

Another consideration to ponder is the nearly predictable upward presures that a guaranteed income would exert against existing federal minimum wage scales. If the guaranteed income exceeded the rewards available from working at the minimum wage, the minimum wage would have to be raised. It has been the experience also that an increase in wages at the bottom required corresponding increases all the way up the scale in order to maintain pay differentials between unskilled and skilled job classifications.

What this would do to inflation is apparent. The new inflation could become so pronounced, in fact, that the congressmen who recently have been experimenting with welfare diets might feel they deserve another whopping pay increase themselves.

Mary Pels, Bride Of Harvey Lamkin at Nuptial Mass

Sacred Heart Church was the setting Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Mary Pels and Harvey Lamkin who pledged vows in a double ring ceremony at six o'clock Nuptial Mass. Father Placidus Eckart officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Ed Pels of Muenster and the late Mr. Pels, and Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Lamkin of Saint Jo.

The bride's brother Jerry Pels of Houston gave her in marriage. She wore a formal gown of white Chantilly lace and silk peau de soie. The fitted Empire bodice of lace had long sleeves and high Victorian neckline edged in scalloped lace ruffles. The slim A-line skirt of peau featured an overlay of lace and a bouffant chapel-length train appliqued and framed in lace, caught at the shoulders with bridal bows.

A princess crown of aurora borealis crystals and seed pearls held her veil of silk illusion edged in scalloped lace and she carried a boquet of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Joanie Pels was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Judy Lamkin, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore Empire dresses of rose silk linen, with modified scooped neckline. Swiss embroidered flowers in shades of forest green and rose marked the waistline above the A-line skirts. Their matching headpieces were covered with brief veils and their flowers were bouquets of pink elegance and ivy.

Jerry Nipp of Fort Worth was best man and the bride's brother Bob Pels was groomsman. Gary Lovett of Fort Worth and Don Hess of Dallas ushered.

Wedding music was furnished by Anthony Luke, organist and Mrs. David Walterscheid and Dr. Martin Kralicke vocalists.

After Mass the bride placed a bouquet of white gladioli on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

resenting each of the children's families and floral arrangements were in the anniversary theme. The candles were made by a daughter, Mrs. Henry Voth Jr.

The registry table held the guest book, pictures of the honor couple now and on their wedding day, August 26, 1919, an anniversary candle and a long-stemmed yellow rosebud. Granddaughters Lynn and Lisa Felderhoff and Mary Ann Voth registered some 200 guests.

Mrs. Felderhoff wore a white dacron crepe formal with three quarter sleeves trimmed in white lace. It was made by a daughter, Mrs. Ed Knauf. And she wore the gold diamond and pearl lavaliere she wore at her wedding 50 years ago. It was a gift from Mr. Felderhoff when he returned from service in World War I. A yellow-throated white orchid was her shoulder corsage.

Her sister Thesesa, Mrs. Tony Felderhoff, maid of honor fifty years ago, wore an apricot crepe formal, the same color she wore before. Her corsage was an apricot glamelia. Tony Felderhoff, brother of the jubilarian, took the place of the late Rev. Henry Felderhoff, a brother, who was best man in 1919 before he entered the priesthood.

Mr. Felderhoff, 75, is a son of the late Henry and Christina Felderhoff, and his wife, 72, the former Marie Dangelmayr, is daughter of the late Joseph and Theresa Dangelmayr, all pioneer residents. Both Mr. and Mrs. Felderhoff are Muenster natives, active members of Sacred Heart Parish.

Vatican honors were conferred on the couple when they were admitted to the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem on October 15, 1961. As knight and lady of the Holy Sepulchre they earned other honors during the years and in 1966 traveled to the Holy Land to receive the Pilgrim's Shell. Co-op Convention - - development, and included better housing, as well as expanded rural electric and telephone service.

"Your concern must extend beyond your local co-op," Senator Yarborough told the crowd,"to the whole of rural America to which you have brought electricity and all of the benefits it can provide." Emphasizing the need, he reported this situation in rural America:

"Since World War II, over 25-million farm and rural people have migrated to the cities. Approximately 30,000 rural communities are without adequate water systems and about 45,000 are without sewer systems. Nearly 50 percent of the nation's substandard homes are to be found in rural America, although it has less than one-third of the population.

"We must reverse this socio-economic deterioration of our rural areas. We must stop this continuing migration of rural people to urban centers. We must develop programs to attract industries and commercial enterprises to rural areas, to provide jobs for unemployed and underemployed, and for our young people who are going out and looking for jobs. Let's create jobs at home so that the young people can live in the open and not be driven into the concrete jungles of the cities."

Before the senator spoke, the president of the Young Farmers of Texas, Ben Holcomb of Dimmitt, suggested that "one of the things we all should promote in the next few years is the development of rural industry, both from your point of power sales and from our point of stabilizing the economy, encouraging growth, and keeping youth in rural areas, maybe not necessarily employed on the farm, but at least out of congested cities."

The president of the 50,000-member Texas Future Farmers of America organization echoed the plea to keep youth in rural areas. Murray Edwards of Clyde said, "You are to be commended for your job of the past, but I urge you and challenge you to double, triple, and quadruple your efforts in promoting rural America, in trying to keep rural youth on the farms."

Cooke County Electric Cooperative, a member of Texas Electric Cooperatives was represented at the convention by Manager Mike Sloan, Vice President Al Wiesman, Secretary, Vincent Zimmerer, and Directors J. A. Klement and Doye Doty. All were accompanied by their wives.

Years ago, a skirt that was "halfway to the knees" meant from the ankles.

Linda Corcoran And Thomas Brown Say Vows at Mass

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lamar Brown are at home in Gainesville following a wedding trip to Colorado after their marriage August 16. She is the former Miss Linda Corcoran, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Corcoran of Gainesville. Mrs. Charles Brown of Hallsville and the late Mr Brown are parents of the bridegroom.

The couple was married in St. Peter Church at Lindsay with Father Damian Wewer, pastor, officiating.

Thomas W. Corcoran presented his sister for marriage. She wore a white floor-length gown of silk organza designed over mist peau de soie. Appliques of Venise lace adorned the dress and bordered the full length illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis. As a touch of sentiment she carried the handkerchief the bridegroom's mother and sister carried at their weddings, and her late mother's rosary.

Miss Dona Neu was maid of honor and Misses Deborah and Denise Zwinggi of Marshall, twin nieces of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore mint green chiffon dresses over taffeta and each carried a single Fiji mum.

Nephews of the bride, Stan Zwinggi of Marshall and John Kasparek of Lindsay were acolytes.

Larry Walker, Amarillo was best man. John Talley of Longview and James Greer of Hallsville, cousins of the groom were ushers. David and Richard Rogers of Longview, nephews of the groom, were groomsmen.

Reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville. Members of the houseparty included Mrs. John Tally of Longview who served punch and Miss Linda Hoelker of Lindsay who served the wedding cake. Miss Elizabeth Ann Rogers of Longview, niece of the groom, registered guests.

The bridegroom is an instructor of computer programming at Cooke County Junior College. He was graduated from Hallsville High School and holds a BS and master of business education from Louisiana State College.

The bride graduated from Lindsay High and received an associate of science degree from CCJC. She is purchasing secretary at Southland Paint Company in Gainesville.

Willie Fuhrmanns Are Honored on 50th Anniversary

When Willie Fuhrmann of Lindsay took as his bride Miss Margaret Orth on August 19, 1919, at Lindsay they settled there, farming and rearing their family. And it was at their home in Lindsay that they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

A son, Father Nicholas Fuhrmann of Subiaco, Ark., celebrated the anniversary Mass in their home at 10 a.m. Among those attending were their nine other children, Alois, Joe Paul and Tony Fuhrmann of Lindsay and Brother Henry Fuhrmann of Subiaco, Mmes. A.J. Huchton, Meinrad and Frank Stoffels and Bernard Haverkamp of Muenster and Gerald Wachsman of Wichita Falls.

The goldenweds have 46 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Dinner for the family, the honor couple's sisters and brothers and other relatives was served buffet style on the lawn. During the afternoon the group sang German songs and took pictures.

The celebration was held at the family home so that Mr. Fuhrmann could enjoy it to the fullest. He has been in failing health recently.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fuhrmann are natives of Iowa but consider themselves Texans by merit of their long residence. He is 71 and she is 72 years of age.

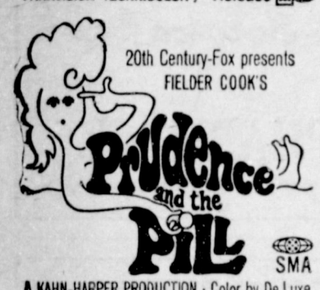

Among out of town relatives at the celebration were Father Leo Koesler, Father David Flusche, Father Bruno Fuhrmann and Brother Michael Fuhrmann, all of Subiaco, and Sister Mary Lin Koesler of San Antonio. Other guests included Father Damian Wewer, Lindsay pastor, and Father Placidus Eckhart of Muenster.

Guests of the Andy Schoechs Sunday and Sunday night were their son Father Frowin and his friend Father Malachy, enroute to their monastery home at Subiaco after serving as assistant pastors during the summer at Garland and Dallas. Gene Schoech was Father Frowin's guest at the Cowboys-Packers football game Saturday night.
