Home mortgages rate 'war' waged

By EILEEN McGUIRE

The battle over whether it is or not necessary to raise an imposed 10 per cent interest rate on home mortgages in Texas is now entering its fifth month.

In Big Spring, Dallas and across the state, a prediction made in January by savings and loans corporations is coming to pass as they withdraw from the home mortgage market.

On the opposing side, labor unions and consumer groups challenge the claim of lending institutions that an interest rate increase is necessary. The labor unions say that savings and loans are making record high profits and that the average consumer cannot afford the higher 12 per cent interest limit.

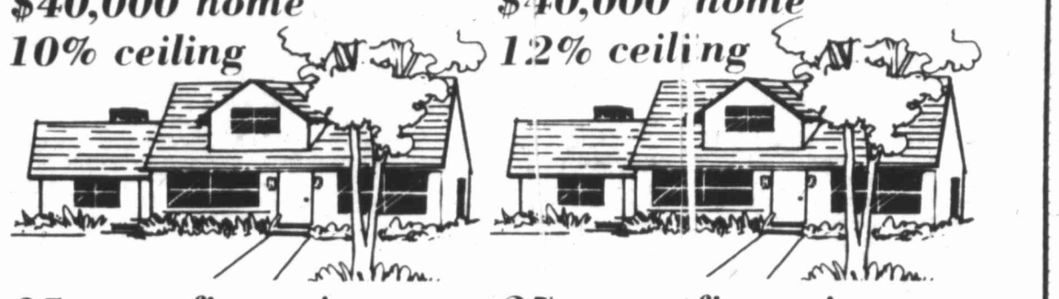

Caught in the middle is the home buyer, the realtor, the contractor and others who depend on the real estate market for their daily bread.

Efforts by the Savings and Loan League to get the state usury limit raised from 10 per cent to 12 per cent were thwarted in April when Gov. Bill Clements announced that he would veto any legislation calling for an increase that reached his desk.

Many savings and loan associations, in turn, announced that they could no longer realize a profit in extending home mortgage loans and, thus, the availability of loans would be drastically reduced.

The situation has resulted in a lid on VA and FHA mortgages in many Texas cities due to a recent increase by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development on the amount of interest that the lending institution must pay in order to

Stenholm to Demos: We must cut spending

Democrats of the 30th State Senatorial District gathered at Howard College Saturday for a love feast, lingering to hear talks by U.S. Cong. Charles Stenholm, State Sen. Ray Farabee and State Reps. Mike Ezzell and Charles Finnell.

The luncheon, planned by District Committeewoman Jane Ray, attracted a crowd of about 75 persons from all over West Texas.

District committeeman Calvin Gambill of Seymour presided.

Seated at the head table with Gambill, Ms. Ray and the four elective officials were Hal Boyd, Howard County Democratic chairman; and Mr. and Mrs. Salty Price of Vernon.

Offering his listeners an update on activities of the Congress, Stenholm said it was mood of that legislative body to work toward balancing the federal budget, something he said he did not believe could happen this year.

"We must cut spending," Stenholm said. "We must see that your money is spent in an appropriate way."

Stenholm reminded his listeners that Congress recently voted to raise the limit on the federal debt to $850 billion and said he foresaw the time when the debt would balloon past the one trillion mark.

"These are real problems," Stenholm said, "it's going to call for real input from you if we are to solve those problems....We must either cut spending or increase taxes."

The congressman from Stamford, who represents Howard County in Washington, said that 17 percent of the residents in his congressional district were either drawing Social Security or disability pay of some kind.

"Double digit inflation is hurting that group," said Stenholm..."there is no trust fund to support Social Security. To pay for our Food Stamp program, we must borrow money to keep it going."

President Carter's decision to deregulate the oil and gas industry drew applause by the Texas Democrat, which he termed "a painful decision...We have to get on with our energy program."

Stenholm also said that as unpopular as nuclear power issues might have become that until the country utilizes other means than gas and oil to convert to energy's use, the nation could have a 20 percent shortfall in electricity by the late 1980s. That means, added Stenholm, that as many as one in every five homes may have to do without power.

Democratic meeting here Saturday attracted 75

The congressman also said the country is supporting many programs it cannot afford. He lauded the cooperative spirit of Big Spring residents for encouraging an industry like an oil refinery to exist, pointing out that other communities are offended by the thought.

Stenholm predicted passage of some kind of Sunset bill in Congress before the present term ends, said he regarded "gasohol (made, in part by grain alcohol) the greatest thing since sliced bread," adding he thought a future campaign promise should not be a "chicken in every pot but a still (gasohol) on every farm."

Farabee lauded other West Texans for the help they offered after his home town, Wichita Falls, had been hit by a series of tornadoes last month, citing the cooperation as a good example of what can be accomplished when the private sector and governmental agencies work together.

Farabee also said that those who advocate good roads, good schools and good health care should realize that all such programs cost money.

In closing, Farabee said that he was "proud to be a Democrat, because the party is quicker to realize" a need for action and invariably reacted quicker to neutralize a problem.

"Invariably, the party rises to the occasion," Farabee said.

Finnell, now in his sixth term as a state representative, said it appeared the legislature would approve a seven percent pay hike for both state employees and public school teachers and reminded his listeners that the legislature cannot end its sessions until it provides money to operate the 1,100 school districts in the state.

Ezzell said the legislature had only 23 days left in its current session, with monumental decisions still to be made. He said prospects are bright that the legislature will pass some kind of gasohol bill before ending the session.

Ms. Ray said that Wichita Falls had invited the 30th District Democrats to hold their next meeting in that city. The date will be set later. It was also announced that a Rural Affairs meeting will take place in Waco May 19.

One of the rallying cries of the meeting here was "get out the vote."

It was pointed out that the number of district delegates to the 1980 State Democratic Convention had been reduced from 173 to 144, simply because party members refused to go to the polls in the last general election.

Howard County, incidentally, suffered unusually heavy attrition, losing nearly half of its representation as a result of its vote count. The figure is now nine, compared to 38 for Wichita Falls and 11 for Hale County. The district is made up of 29 counties.

Two more folks face truth tests

A second possible suspect in the execution-style slayings of Ann Laurie Reeves and her son, Tracey, has been cleared by a polygraph test, according to Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard.

"There are two more individuals who will be given the polygraph test, probably next week," Standard said. "All these are local people, but we are working in other areas of investigation as well."

According to Standard, the investigation is still "very active," with excellent cooperation between Texas Ranger Eddie Alman, the Big Spring Police Department and Standard's office.

Smoking vote booked Tuesday

MIAMI (AP) — Foes of tobacco hope Miami voters will send a smoke signal to the nation Tuesday when the showdown comes on a referendum that would largely restrict smoking in most public buildings.

But the tobacco industry, like it did in California last fall, is bankrolling a high-powered campaign to defeat the measure on the ballot in Dade County, which includes Miami and several other southern Florida resort communities.

Plus $400 in prizes at Fun Breakfast

'Up with People' band to play

At 6:26 p.m., Tuesday, another in a series of Big Spring Area Chamber of Fun Breakfasts will be held in the cafeteria at Howard College.

This one should be something special. In addition to $400 in prize money which could be given away, the "Up With People" band will be on hand to provide entertainment.

The band will be in town to appear in Big Spring Herald-sponsored performance of the youth group scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock that evening in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

It's a cinch cash awards of $25, $25 and $50 will be given away during the program and some Chamber member will learn he has won $300 in silver dollars if he's present or has lost it if he's not. The Chamber membership prize grows each time some one's name is called if he or she hasn't taken the trouble to attend the breakfast. That person is out of luck.

Emcees for the breakfast program are Jim Baum and Pete Jones. Julie Shirey will entertain at the piano.

This particular "fun breakfast" is sponsored by Montgomery Ward Company.

Theme of the breakfast is "Clean Up — Fix Up — Paint Up." Everyone who attends will receive a door prize, compliments of Montgomery Ward's.

Other prizes to be given away include gifts from Eloise's Personalized Hair Fashions, McMahon Supply, Big Spring Hardware, Jay's Farm and Ranch Supply, Bob O'Day, Crown Decorating, Pat Walker's Figure Protection Salon, International and Big Spring Automotive.

Those planning to attend can call the Chamber office, 263-7641, anytime Monday for reservations.

ENTERTAIN EARLY AND LATE — A troupe from the "Up With People" group of entertainers will appear at Tuesday morning's Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast at Howard College, starting at 6:26 a.m., Tuesday. The big musical extravaganza itself, sponsored by the Big Spring Herald, will be staged at 8 p.m., that day in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The "Up With People" group arrives in Big Spring this evening. Units of the company will make other appearances around the city Monday and Tuesday. "Up With People" tickets, priced at $5 and $3.50, can be purchased at the Herald, Chamber of Commerce and at the coliseum box office today, Monday and Tuesday.

'Up with People' 'preview' at HC

The public can get an idea of what to expect from the "Up With People" company by attending a slide presentation scheduled at the Howard College Auditorium at 3 p.m., today.

Following the slide show, members of the cast will encourage the audience to take part in a "question and answer" session about the Tuesday night show here.

No admission will be charged for the auditorium program today.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Bike riders

Q. Bicycles are the favorite mode of transportation in China and in many parts of Europe. Why haven't Americans adapted to them and helped beat the energy crisis?

A. The truth is, ten million of them have and more likely will, as the price of fuel goes on up. The distance many Americans travel to and from their work have stopped many from using bicycles, that and the fact that many can be stolen unless they're properly secured. Did you know that four out of every ten Americans ride a bike at least once a year?

Unions, consumers challenge claim of lending firms

The increase means that Texas savings and loan firms would have to contract the VA or FHA loan at an interest cost of 10 per cent and, by Texas law, would be required to extend the loan to the homebuyer at the same interest rate of 10 per cent.

Because making a VA or FHA loan is no longer profitable, Charles Beil, president of First Federal Savings of Big Spring, announced Monday that First Federal would not extend any VA or FHA loans until a change in either the legislation or the economy rectified the situation.

"If we obtained the money at 10 per cent from VA and FHA, and we loan it out at 10 per cent, we would be giving away our work in administering the loan," he said.

Monday's announcement was followed by another on Wednesday that, pending a solution, First Federal would not be extending conventional home mortgages either. In a statement issued from First Federal, Charles Beil said:

"Historically, this institution has successfully planned to provide an uninterrupted flow of funds to the mortgage lending markets which it serves. This remains true despite the current economic cycle which has seen most institutions curtail or eliminate such loans.

However, due to artificial factors and concerns which have been brought to the mortgage lending market by governmental entities, considerable confusion exists within the market place. Consequently, this institution feels that it must refrain temporarily from lending on the security of first mortgage liens upon single-family residential real estate.

"We anticipate resuming this service at our offices in Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder as quickly as the variety of factors affecting the market place are resolved by the economic cycle, the state legislature or the courts."

Conventional mortgages are still available at Big Spring Savings Association, according to its president, Ray Don Williams. Big Spring Savings has never extended VA or FHA loans, however, so Big Spring's source for those loans, First Federal, is now gone.

William and Beil are in agreement, along with other savings and loan institutions across the state, that unless the Texas usury law is amended to allow an interest rate of up to 12 per cent, a shortage of available funds for home mortgages will have devastating effects on the Texas economy.

Union labor leader Kenneth Howell disagrees. Howell, business manager of International Union of Operating Engineers, the largest union in this area, says an increase in the rate of interest allowed on home mortgages will slow the economy because it will make homes unaffordable for young homebuyers.

He said that the home buyer who finances a $40,000 home over a period of 25 years at 12 per cent interest would pay $19,200 more in interest than if he bought if at the current rate of 10 per cent. The monthly payment for that home at 10 per cent interest would be $353 before adding taxes and insurance. If the interest rate is increased to 12 per cent, the monthly payment for that same home would be $427 per month.

"Raising the interest rates will prevent kids from entering the home market," he said.

He also questioned whether savings and loans are really as bad off as they say they are.

"They act like they're not making any profits when they are making record-breaking profits. They present themselves as small town merchants, yet most savings and loans are corporation-owned."

He alleged that the savings and loan business is growing in Texas because it is very profitable.

"With $1.8 billion in assets, Gibraltar is the largest savings and loan corporation in Texas," he said. "And it's owned by a corporation in California."

In addition to corporations of other states setting up offices in Texas, he said further proof that savings and loans are profitable investments is the fact that utilities are investing in them.

"ENTEX, a Houston-based energy and utility company, purchased four Texas savings and loans last year," he said. "The company was making so much money, it invested some of it.

"The United Savings and Loan Association of Texas was purchased by KANEB Service Corporation, a diversified national corporation. Why would these companies invest in savings and loans if it wasn't profitable?"

He also stated that most savings and loans are not privately owned by small businessmen, but are corporation-owned.

"In Harris County where Houston is," he said, "there are only two savings and loans companies that are personally owned. The rest are all corporation investments."

"In 1967," he continued, "Texas savings and loans made $24 billion in interest. In 1977, they made 95 billion in interest. That's a 293 per cent increase over a period of ten years."

He did not have figures for 1978 or 1979, but alleged that the savings and loans companies must have still been making high profits since ENTEX found them a good investment as recently as 1978.

"People are sick and tired of paying more for everything," Howell said. "The savings and loans are forgetting that we went to the polls in May, 1978 and overwhelmingly defeated a proposal to raise interest rates. It failed in every county in Texas."

He compared the savings and loans businesses to oil companies.

"It's just like the oil industry. The resources are there, but they're not going to make them available until they get what they want. They're just greedy.

"If I was young, I'd be out in the streets protesting," he concluded.

Howell alleges that the money for home mortgage loans is available but that the savings and loans are holding it back to force legislators to increase the allowable interest rate in Texas.

Savings and loans say that the money is not available and that to loan it now would have to be done at zero profit and possibly a loss.

Governor Bill Clements, who took a firm stand against raising the interest rate just two weeks ago, now says he is considering replacing the 10 per cent interest limit with a "floating" interest ceiling.

His reconsideration follows an announcement last week by the Federal National Mortgage Association, known as Fannie Mae, that no more FHA and VA loans from Texas mortgage dealers would be accepted because of the current practice of attaching "points" or special charges to the loan in addition to the 10 per cent interest.

The series of events has begun to make it difficult to buy a home in Texas. And Big Spring is no exception.

"The situation is preventing us from serving our customers," said Del Austin of La Casa Realty. "It's having a disastrous effect on the real estate industry.

"When a customer comes to us, part of our service is to assist them with financing. Until recently, a person who qualified could pay 10 per cent down plus closing costs and buy a home. "If someone came in this morning to buy a home, I'd have no recourse but to go elsewhere for financing."

"A veteran can still get a loan out of other areas," he said, "but we like to get it here in Big Spring."

If a prospective home buyer is not a veteran, he said, he can not easily buy a home. A recent customer had to pay 30 per cent down in order to purchase a home.

"She was fortunate. She had the resources. But most people need the biggest loan they can possibly get."

"Until recently, Big Spring was blessed with good home financing. Now, our only choice is to go out of town when we'd rather get the financing in Big Spring."

It's still possible to buy a home, Austin said, but he doesn't know for how long.

"We have to take each individual case and work like the dickens to make it work. So far, we've managed, but this situation has onpy existed for two days. If it keeps up, in the next few days our sales will be cut by 30 to 40 per cent.

"I can't service my customers," he concluded.

Don Yates of Area One Reality said that the demand for housing is there, but with First Federal's withdrawal from the home mortgage market, the lack of available funds is beginning to affect the Big Spring real estate industry.

"If the situation is unresolved," he said, "It will be a detriment to this area and to the real estate market and industry. It's already affecting us."

"The action of First Federal Savings and Loan in curtailing loan applications will certainly have an adverse effect on the real estate market place in Big Spring," according to Bill Estes of Reeder and Associates.

"They have been one of the primary sources for conventional home loans. This will put considerable pressure on Big Spring Savings as it continues to supply the conventional money to Big Spring homebuyers under extremely adverse conditions.

"Some political accommodation between Gov. Clements and the mortgage bankers must be reached and soon or else idle money will be long-termed out of state. I strongly feel that Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) will come up with a solution so that government-backed loans, FHA and VA, will again be available to homebuyers.

"I feel that a political accommodation is a must and intervention by Fannie Mae necessary if money for real estate financing in Big Spring and Texas is to be available.

"Lack of money," he concluded, "will eventually dry up home sales and halt construction."

And that's the situation in Big Spring. The financing problems expressed by both Beil and Williams since the first of the year has resulted in First Federal closing its doors to home buyers while Big Spring Savings continues to practice selectivity in extending conventional loans. FHA and VA loans are no longer available here.

And, as in Austin, labor questions the validity of the savings and loan claim that the home mortgage loan business is no longer a profitable one.

Caught in the middle of the dispute is the home buyer, the home seller, the real estate broker and all others who depend on a thriving real estate industry for their living.

So far, there's no relief in sight.

Carter visits John Wayne

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Carter visited actor John Wayne at UCLA Medical Center on Saturday to tell him "he had the love, affection and prayers of not only everybody in our own nation, but of millions of persons around the world."

Carter met with the veteran actor for about 15 minutes, stopping at the medical center on his way to the airport. Wayne, 71, was in stable condition, recovering from an operation on his intestines that turned up traces of cancer. Seven members of Wayne's family were in the private room with Carter.

In brief remarks to reporters outside the hospital, Carter said Wayne "was in good spirits ... and made several jokes and thanked everybody for loving him so much."

Carter was greeted at the hospital by administrator Bernard Strohm and movie company official Lew Wasserman, a prime mover in southern California Democratic Party circles.

Since being told he had more cancer, Wayne volunteered for an experimental medical program that may not save him, but could help others in the future.

Strohm said the program Wayne had volunteered for was "experimental medicine," in which doctors are "searching for the unknown."

Chuck Wagon Party lures crowd of 260

The Heritage Museum's Chuck Wagon Party, held Friday in the Dora Roberts Community Center, attracted a crowd estimated at 260 persons.

Museum curator Gerri Atwell pronounced the event a complete success, adding the acts arranged for the event probably were the best ever seen at the membership party.

Tumbleweed Smith (Bob Lewis), a radio personality, regaled the crowd with some of his best stories. Smith's daily radio program, "Sounds of Texas," can be heard on over 70 stations throughout the state.

Faulkner's Talent World also supplied a group of diminutive but multi-talented dancers and tumblers that added spice to the evening.

A number of out-of-town members and guests were in attendance.

Barbecue with all the trimmings were served to the crowd.

PHS presents awards to three

'Unblazing Frontier---Early Law, Order in Howard County'

MIDLAND — Three longtime Permian Basin residents were honored by the Permian Historical Society, during the Society's annual meeting Saturday at Midland College.

PHS customarily bestows these prestigious accolades in four categories: Permian Academy of History, Fellows of the Permian Historical Society, Permian Pioneers and Permian History Preservation.

This year there were awards in three categories.

Recipients include Neva Burt Campbell who came to Winkler County in 1917 as a school teacher; J. Wayne Holmes, Mertzon, teacher-historian; and Nancy Rankin McKinley, Midland, for historical development.

Mrs. Campbell helped organize the county school district and the First Methodist Church in Kermit. She and her late husband, Seth, founded the noted Campbell Ranch and later introduced the first pure-blooded Hereford cattle to the area.

Holmes of Mertzon along with his late father, Judge Herbert A. Holmes, compiled and wrote "Pioneer Days in Sheffield." This book was the first written history about Sheffield since its founding in 1884.

In addition to the Sheffield book, Holmes has written a number of articles and papers.

Mrs. McKinley was selected to receive the Society's highest, the Permian Academy award due to her unlimited work in the development of historical resources.

Dr. Rofwe Olien, Midland, was elected president of the Society, and among the directors elected were Jerry Worthy, Big Spring, and Mrs. Rich Anderson, Gail.

Papers read at the meeting included one on "Keeping House in a Tent, by Mrs. Dian Olien, Midland; "Doing Business in the Oil Patch," by Dr. Olien; "Unblazing Frontier — Early Law and Order in Howard County," by Joe Pickle, Big Spring; "Indian Depredations in the Texas Big Bend," by Kenneth D. Perry, Alpine; and "The Lobos," James Fenton Loop. Upwards of 200 attended the meeting.

Woodworking awards made

The Coahoma High School Industrial Arts Clubs returned from the Texas State Industrial Arts Association Convention in Waco with four firsts and one second place.

All the awards were in the woodworking category. Leo de los Reyes, Bobby Addy, Scott Riddle and Steve Davis earned firsts with, respectively, a spittoon, breadbox, and compound bow. Tracy Hinds earned a second for her cake cover. Gary Bayes attended the state competition as a result of placing in regional competition.

Bill Coudding, woodworking instructor at CHS, sponsored the group and traveled with them to the state convention.

Stabbed at Roloff home

'We made a mistake in sending Misty there'

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — The mother of a 16-year-old girl who was stabbed at a Lester Roloff youth home now says "we made a mistake in sending Misty there.

"We just didn't know what it was like," said Dorothy Hardman of Marysville, Kan.

Mrs. Hardman and her daughter returned here Friday to talk with a grand jury about the July 1, 1978, stabbing. The grand jurors apparently want to know about the attack that left the girl with three knife wounds in the back after she was reportedly assaulted by five fellow residents at the Rebekah Home for Girls. The home is one of several operated by evangelist Roloff.

"I probably would have forgotten it within this year if this hadn't come up," Misty said before going into the grand jury room." "Now I'm afraid it will be with me for several more years."

The young girl is now a high school junior in her hometown. She recalled it did not take her long to decide the Rebekah Home was not for her.

"I went there because I thought I hated my parents. The whole thing has made me very loyal to my family," she said.

"I knew the day I got there that I wanted to go home, but they wouldn't let me," she added.

Misty was not seriously injured by the stabbing. She was able to walk from the prayer room where the assault occurred to an office at the home. She was treated by a staff worker, and the incident was never reported to law enforcement officials.

"We just wanted to get our daughter home," Mrs. Hardman said. "She was very emotionally upset."

The five girls said they stabbed misty in order to get officials to shut down the home. Roloff has said the girls have taken a new vow of Christianity since the stabbing.

Misty said the attackers had told her "they wanted to be my friend."

"I was the kind of person who didn't have many friends," she added.

Mrs. Hardman — complaining that news reporters were "taking advantage of us" — called an abrupt halt to the Friday courthouse interview.

"We've never told anyone at home about this — even our relatives didn't know about it.

"It's very unfair. You're taking advantage of us and exposing our private lives. We just don't like it."

Moments later Misty and her mother were whisked into the grand jury room for a two-hour morning session. They returned for a shorter afternoon session and then left the room with a prosecutor shielding them from television cameras.

Senior team wins second

Glasscock County 4-H Club Livestock Judging Teams participated in the District Livestock Judging Contest in San Angelo May 1.

The senior team won second place and qualified to compete in the state contest at Texas A&M in June. Team members are Kevin Hirt, who was second High Individual in Giving Reasons, David Frerich, Elaine Schwartz and Candy Overton.

Third place was won by the junior team which consisted of Richard Batla, Lisa Halfmann, Brian Frerich and Carol Schwartz. Richard Batla was his team's High Individual in Giving Reasons.

The teams' coach is 4-H Club Leader Delmer Batla.

PRESCRIPTION COUPONS

Did you ever see an ad for prescriptions with coupons?

Who would treat your good health like a coupon??

Would you choose your doctor (who wrote the prescription) because of a coupon??

Is your coupon prescription only good for a week? On renewal will the price double?

Why only one coupon per family? Shouldn't every patient be treated equally and fairly?

What if your doctor didn't want you to have a hundred tablets or maybe your illness doesn't require all that medication.

Some "pharmacists" just don't know that there is more to your good health and your prescription than 100 tablets.

Is your pharmacist available on weekends and holidays?

Does your pharmacist provide emergency service?

Does your pharmacist keep complete patient records of your prescriptions, your allergies to certain medications and foods???

Does he deliver to your home when you are sick???

Does he charge your medication when an illness may be unexpected??

Does he provide you with income tax and insurance records???

Does your pharmacist really care about you and your health???

Don't be treated like a coupon.

After your visit to the doctor — continue your professional health care.

A septuagenarian who looks ahead

A few years ago, a Big Spring resident made an appointment with a San Antonio ear-eye-nose and throat specialist to treat a nagging problem.

When this individual arrived to consult the San Antonio specialist, the doctor asked where his new patient was from.

"Big Spring," the patient replied.

The physician looked at the patient quizzically, then asked:

"WHAT DID YOU come down here for? You hve one of the best men in the field anywhre in your own town."

The answer was predictable when the patient asked who that might be:

"Dr. P.W. Malone."

Dr. Malone is now a septuagenarian but his enthusiasm for life and the community in which he lives hasn't diminished one iota.

He teamed with a doctor named John E. Hogan many years ago. From that association emerged the idea for a medical center envisioned as one of the best in the Southwest. The Malone-Hogan Hospital here is no longer owned by the Malone and Hogan families but Dr. Malone still remains very much a part of the medical community here. He has never surrendered his hope for making Big Spring a cancer treatment center.

Hospital Corporation of America, which acquired the Malone and Hogan interests here, will set about to honor Dr. Malone with a special day Sunday, May 20.

Mayor Wade Choate has already declared May 20 Dr. Malone Day. The hospital will stage a reception for the doctor at 2 p.m.

Highlight of the event will be the unveiling of a bronze bust of the co-founder of the hospital by Dr. Thomas F. Frist Sr., HCA founder.

A BUST OF DR. Hogan, who died in April 1976, was placed in the hospital lobby in 1977. It was sponsored by employees of the hospital. The busts of both Dr. Malone and Dr. Hogan will be placed on lighted niches, just across from the public elevators on the first floor.

The sculptor who did the Hogan bust was unavailable for this undertaking but a Malone-Hogan committee commissioned Glenna Goodacre, formerly of Lubbock and now of Boulder, Colo., to do the job.

Such undertakings are usually started after a person has departed this mortal coil but Dr. Malone likely will be the liveliest one at the party.

Auto-graphs

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I was sitting with Carol Burnett at the Kennedy Center the other evening at dinner when a lady came up, plunked a piece of paper in front of her and said, "My son will kill me if I don't get your autograph."

Carol signed it and the lady left with the paper clutched in her hand. Then Carol said to me, "Do you think she was serious?"

"About what?" I asked.

"Do you really believe her son would have killed her if she hadn't come home with my signature?"

"I don't know. I've heard people say it before. I guess you can't take a chance."

CAROL SAID, "That's what I thought. Can't you just see the scene tonight if I hadn't signed her paper? The kid is waiting by the door and he says, 'Did you get Carol Burnett's autograph?' and the mother says, 'No, she wouldn't give it to me.' So the son picks up a shotgun and shoots her."

"It's obvious you prevented a matricide," I agreed.

We started talking about people and autographs. "I get threatened all the time," Carol said. "A man last week told me his wife would die if he didn't get a signature. He didn't say he'd kill her though he looked like he might. I felt like asking him how she would die, but I really didn't want to know."

"Have you noticed when people ask for autographs they rarely admit it's for themselves? It's always for someone in the family. A man asked me for one last month and said it was for his mother. I wanted to know his mother's name so I could autograph it to her, but he said he forgot."

CAROL SAID SOME people are rather strange about autographs. "There is the type that always says, 'I've never asked for anyone's autograph before.' Then I say 'Are you sure?' and they get very red in the face."

"I wonder why people want autographs?" I said.

"I think it's a question of credibility," she replied. "Someone says, 'I saw Tim Conway in the restaurant,' and the person who is listening wants proof. No one believes anybody any more."

"You're right," I said. "I was once dining in a Madrid restaurant with Cary Grant, and an American tourist came up to him while he was struggling with a plate of paella and said, 'How about putting your John Hancock on this paper napkin?' Cary was furious and said, 'My name isn't Hancock.'

"'I know that,' the tourist said.

"'What do you want it for?' Cary asked.

"The tourist replied, 'My wife won't believe I saw you unless I have your autograph.'

"Grant stared at the man with steely eyes and said, 'What kind of relationship do you have with your wife, that she wouldn't believe you if you say you saw me in a restaurant?' The tourist went back to his table a broken man."

Many celebrities are so used to signing autographs that they do it automatically. The great football coach Vince Lombardi used to sit at the first table at Duke Zeibert's Restaurant in Washington. One time at lunch a little boy of 10 came shyly up to the table, and before he could say anything Lombardi took a menu, and signed it for him. They boy said, "I don't want a menu. I want to borrow the catsup."

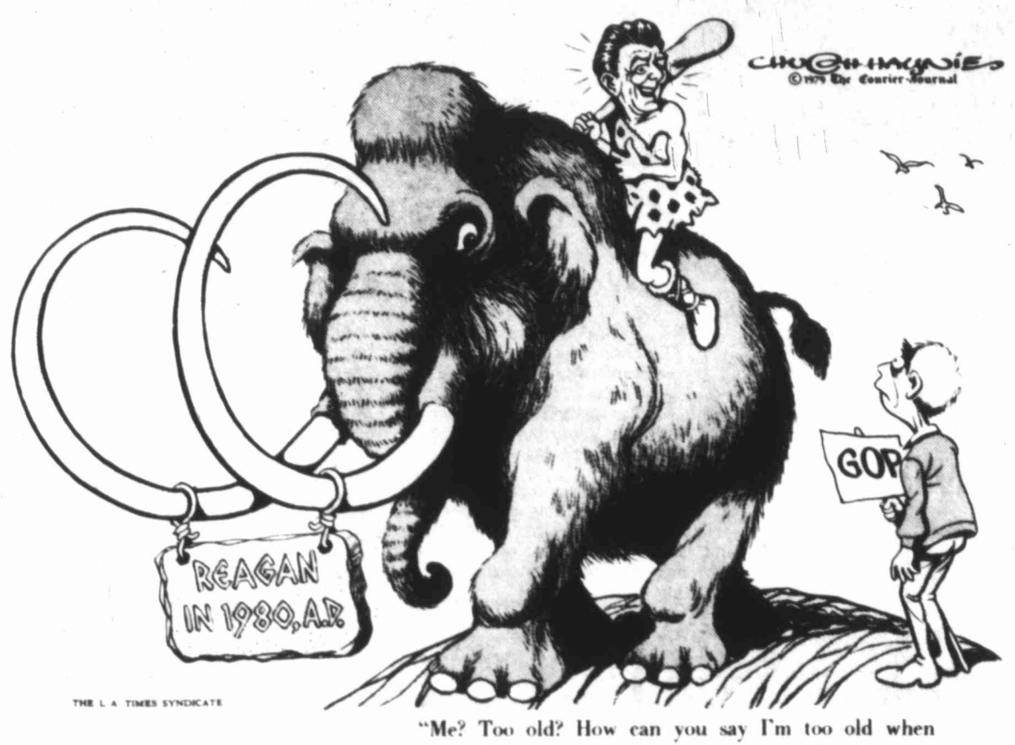

Another lady came up to Carol and said, "Can I have your autograph?"

"Who do you want it to?" Carol asked.

"Me," the lady replied.

Carol looked up and said, "Me, what?"

The lady said, "Just to me is enough."

"Me? Too old? How can you say I'm too old when I've kept my young, progressive ideas?"

Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: After a recent heart attack I was put on Coumadin. Today my doctor took me off and told me to take two aspirins a day. I am a little concerned as to why. I would very much like you to explain all this and set my mind at ease. We think highly of your column and are encouraged by your answers. — S.G.

It's a safer treatment. Until recently, patients were treated with blood thinners for prolonged periods after heart attacks. Coumadin (warfarin), a blood "thinner," was commonly prescribed. After many years of experience doctors determined that bleeding problems due to thinners outweighed their advantages as a heart attack preventive. So today, most doctors use these drugs only for limited periods and for persons who are high risks — for blood clotting, but not as a heart attack preventive measure

Newer drugs are being tried in attempts to minimize future attacks. They include sulfinpyrazone and dypiridamole, alone or in combination with aspirin. Other physicians feel they can accomplish as much through the mild blood-thinning action of aspirin alone. The idea of trying to accomplish the most benefit with the least medication is a valid one.

Much publicity has been given, of late, to the aspirin idea. There is always the danger that some will read stories and assume they no longer need to follow their physician's wishes with regard to heart medicines, feeling that aspirin will "do it all." That is a dangerous notion. Each patient's medicine needs are based on his or her individual circumstances.

Dear Dr. Ruble: My doctor told me I have an enlarged uterus. He said it should be taken out right away. Please let me know something about this. I am 30 and have had three children. — F.S.

There are many causes for an enlarged uterus. Some require surgery. Many do not. Did tests indicate a serious problem, and if so, what? Was a test for pregnancy negative?

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

It is always a source of amazement to me to read an article such as the editorial in Tuesday's Herald. Not because I disagree with any or all of the opinions expressed, for, on the whole, I am in agreement with what was said.

The recent decision by the Supreme Court, permitting court inquiry into the "state of mind" of news reporters is dangerously close to violating the sanctity of the First Amendment, it is true. The question posed by John Troan, editor of the Pittsburgh Press, would truly evoke some interesting answers from the six affirming Justices. Malice aforethought? I was always taught that the law could not convict a man for thinking evil, only for acting evil.

Back to my amazement: never have I heard or read a single word in the media on the responsibility of the press. There has been much written, however, on the RIGHTS of the press. To quote the old song, "You can't have one without the other." Acceptance of its responsibility by the press, properly done, will never "muzzle its inquisitiveness."

Also, how can the press cry "foul!" at the top of its lungs on page four because its First Amendment rights have been tread upon, and attack one or more of the other nine basic American rights on the other pages? I refer specifically to the attack on the Second Amendment, spearheaded by Sen. Edward Kennedy and Rep. Abner Mikva in the Congress, and aided greatly by the media, both audio-visual and point.

Without getting into the specifics of the gun registration argument, suffice it to say that if those who would repeal or negate the Second Amendment by regulation succeed, the press should prepare for a fight to the death in defense of the First Amendment. Article Ten has already been diluted to the point of barely being recognizable, often at the request of state and local governments.

The time has long since past when all of us should have realized that the rights given by the First Amendment do not include repeal of the other nine, and that an attack on any of the basic freedoms is an attack on ALL of them.

D. S. Holmes
1802 Morrison Dr.

Dear Editor:

In regard to the recent commotion concerning the scarcity and high cost of gasoline these days, I wonder if we have been sent this dilemma to slow us down a bit?

We all realize that a lot of traveling in our jobs is necessary but for those of us who spend so much time running up and down the streets and highways maybe its time we slowed down.

This could possibly bring families closer and make us realize what great friends and neighbors we have right here in our fair city.

It's only a thought but perhaps our Blessed Lord is giving us another chance to enjoy all of the beautiful things he has given us that are free.

Someone said this so well before "let's take time to stop and smell the flowers."

Shirley McNallen

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My pastor says there is a difference between "heart knowledge" and "head knowledge" of God. I'm not sure I understand what he means. — L. N.

DEAR L. N.: Your pastor is using these terms to point out something very important. If you ask some people if they believe in God, they will say that they do. They may even say that they believe that Jesus was the Son of God, and that He can bring us forgiveness and salvation. And yet there is something lacking in their lives, and that is COMMITMENT. They believe in their heads all the facts of the Gospel, but they have never personally committed themselves to Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior of their lives. "The devils also believe, and tremble" (James 2:19).

Other people, on the other hand, have not only believed in the facts of the Gospel, but they have actively invited Jesus Christ into their lives. They not only believe that He can save them, but know He will because they trust Him. They also have come into a personal relationship with God because Christ dwells in their hearts. They have a "heart knowledge" of Christ.

The Bible tells us that being a Christian is not just believing that Jesus can save, but believing that He can save us, and trusting Him to do it. Yes, I must be convinced that the Gospel is true. But I must also act on that truth and yield my life to Jesus Christ. Bot the mind and the heart are important. The Bible says, "If you confess with your mouth, 'Jesus is Lord,' and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For it is with your heart that you believe and are justified, and with your mouth that you confess and are saved" (Romans 10:9-10, NIV).

Have you ever told God humbly and sincerely that you want Jesus Christ to come into your heart and life, to forgive you and cleanse you? If you have never done this, you can by a simple act of faith.

I THINK ABOUT DANCING girls, home run hitters for Big Spring Extras and beautiful West Texas sunsets all the time.

That's a good thing, too, because the Supreme Court has just opened up a reporter's "state of mind" in public view.

If a public person claims a news story unfairly damaged his reputation, that person can inquire about the state of mind of the reporter who wrote the story, the court ruled April 18.

Now, think about that for a minute (unless you're a reporter, in which case think about pretty seashells and soft music).

ANY PUBLIC FIGURE who sues a publication or broadcast station for libel can get a reporter on the witness stand and ask, "What were you thinking about when you did this story?" and the reporter has to tell the truth.

Some of the single reporters at the Big Spring Herald are in big trouble. And some of the married reporters are in big, BIG trouble.

I have all the respect for the Supreme Court that it deserves, but I'm afraid this ruling that opens a reporter's mind to public scrutiny has opened a can of worms — so to speak.

WILL JOURNALISM students in college have to take a course called Beginning State of Mind, then a course called Advanced State of Mind? Will law school students have to study Libel and the Art of Mind Reading?

I can save everyone a lot of trouble by telling you what reporters think about. They worry about how to stop smoking. They worry about the high price of groceries and about getting a speeding ticket. If it's the first of the month, they worry about how to pay the bills.

IF IT'S THE MIDDLE of the month, they worry about how to pay the bills.

The court's decision also opens to public view the minds of editors and television reporters, but those are minor considerations, at best.

What we're really talking about here is the reporter's mental attitude — and from now on, what a reporter is thinking about when he writes a story just might become an issue to a lawsuit.

I hate to do it, but I'm going to start thinking and tiddly-winks and television game shows. It's the only way I know to keep the mind truly blank.

'Get the business'

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — Women who run their own companies are being given short shrift by the Carter administration on their fight for a fair share of government contracts under the anti-discrimination statutes.

In plain terms, the Small Business Administration is giving women the business figuratively but not literally. Though by law, companies owned by women can qualify as disadvantaged contractors eligible for special consideration in government awards, in practice they are being virtually shut out by the SBA.

THE REASON IS simple: The "black capitalism" program set up under President Nixon was designed to set aside a certain amount of federal spending for underprivileged contractors. That was in the days before women's equality became a major political issue; blacks and other ethnic minorities were regarded as the only targets of the program, and the SBA has become oriented in that direction.

And black business interest are determined to protect their hard-won turf. "If white women join the minority umbrella, we can just wrap it up and go back to the plantation," one black business lobbyist told us.

Yet the disadvantaged status of female-owned firms is undeniable. According to the last census, women own fewer than 6 percent of the nation's businesses and these account for only .3 percent of all sales.

These statistics make a convincing enough case, but the Civil Rights Commission has also made an official finding that women have been discriminated against in the federal procurement process.

But minority groups — through their political clout and the experience in government contract hunting they have acquired over the years — have succeeded in limiting the access of businesswomen to the federal contract pie set aside for minorities. Today only about 30 of the 2,700 firms in the so-called "8-A" anti-discrimination program are owned by white women.

A RECENT SBA investigation concluded that the exclusion of women from the set-aside contract money has not always been legal. The investigators' report has been suppressed by SBA officials since it was completed in October.

The investigators found "obvious and deliberate" discrimination against Marilyn Andrulus, a white woman whose 8-A status was revoked because the SBA decided she was not socially disadvantaged. Officials interviewed by the investigators admitted Andrulis was kicked out of the program "simply because she was a woman," a source told us.

The investigators found that similar sex discrimination exists throughout the SBA. They recommended agency-wide reform, as well as administrative action against two of its officials.

But the well-entrenched minority groups have successfully blocked the reform moves. Their allies in the SBA have squelched the report and their representatives have managed to lobby through Congress changes in the law which makes 8-A status even more difficult for women to obtain.

President Carter's response to the plight of businesswomen was to create an Interagency Task Force on Women. The task force is expected to release an executive order on women's business enterprise within a few weeks. But a rought draft we obtained indicates that the Administration is more concerned with cosmetic changes and high-sounding phrases than in substance.

"All it is, is nice PR," one women's rights advocate told our reporter Rochelle Sharpe. "All I hear is, it's 'nice-to-women' year. Women don't need to be patted on the head . . . We need money opportunities."

MEDICAL MONOPOLY? The Federal Trade Commission is checking into a small but influential group of doctors in the lucrative field of plastic surgery to determine if it is engaging in anti-competitive practices.

The American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons set up a certification arm in the 1930s called the American Board of Plastic Surgery. According to an internal FTC memo, the society "has sought to exclude competitors by misrepresenting to the public and to nospitals that only Board-certified plastic surgeons are competent to perform plastic surgery."

The FTC investigators have interpreted their findings as a "conspiracy to exclude competitors" on the part of the society.

THE SOCIETY has denied the FTC staff charges and has complained that the agency should be spending its time going after hack plastic surgeons who advertise their services.

The FTC investigators believe that this is a responsibility of the states.

Month of April noted 17 traffic accidents

The month of April noted 117 traffic accidents in the city of Big Spring, 19 of which involved injuries.

That information is provided by the Traffic Division of the Big Spring Police Department as a part of the Selective Traffic Enforcement Program (STEP) instigated four years ago.

"The traffic division actually grew out the development of the STEP program," said Sgt. Jimmy Wallace, who heads the division. "Originally, STEP called for regular officers to work one overtime hour per week at trouble-spots and high risk intersections particularly during heavy traffic periods.

"Now, traffic has grown to a four-officer division and our contract was only renewed last October," Wallace continued. "Our purpose is to try to enforce the laws and not only report, but reduce the number of traffic accidents by reminding people to drive carefully."

The STEP report for April showed 14 more accidents than the 103 reported in April, 1978, as well as four more accidents involving injury to an involved party. A total of 23 persons were injured in April, 1979 accidents, as opposed to 18 in April, 1978.

There were 344 traffic arrests made, 155 warnings issued, 370 charges filed and 348 of those charges adjudicated. The four traffic officers drove 5,432 miles and worked 630 hours in the STEP program.

The April figures bring the city's total to 440 accidents for the year, of which 50 involved one or more injuries. A total of 71 persons have been injured in city traffic accidents this year, but so far, there has not been a single traffic fatality in the city limits.

60 training slots now available

A total of 60 training slots are now available through the Howard County Office of the Comprehensive Employment Training Act Consortium.

Nabar Martinez, local director, stresses that certain criteria must be met before an applicant can become eligible for training. Those interested must be economically disadvantaged, and unemployed for at least 10 out of 12 weeks prior to application.

Verification of income (W-2 forms and check stubs) must be produced, in addition to proof of age, residence and Social Security number.

Training slots will be in the private and public non-profit sector. Wages will vary, with the minimum being $2.90 an hour.

Applications will be processed Monday through Friday, between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon, and 1 and 5 p.m., in suite 246 of the Federal Building. For more information, call 263-8373.

$6,000 per plate

ROSEMONT, Ill. (AP) — About 2,000 plates that probably never will hold a bite to eat went on display Saturday at the two-day National Plate Collectors Fair, with one selling at up to $6,000.

The plates — call them dishes and you'll be thrown out — are big items in the fast-growing hobby of collecting "collectibles," along with stamps, coins, books and antiques.

The plates today are a $200-million-a-year industry. There are 29 listed collectors clubs in the United States — up by 15 in the last year — with about 4,000 members.

More than 40 of the world's top platemakers and importers are showcasing their newest collector plates at the fair.

The plates — porcelain, silver, gold-plate, pewter and ceramic — are works of art, with a full spectrum of colors and scores of different themes.

Among the present favorites are limited edition plates featuring the paintings of Norman Rockwell, with some now claiming almost $900 each.

But the most valuable item is a plate entitled "Behind The Frozen Window." Seven inches in diameter, it was handsculpted in 1895. The use of black cobalt oxide powder in the ceramic underglazing turned the plate a deep blue when fired.

Gimmick ires police

DETROIT (AP) — Everyone liked the Detroit radio station's gimmick of exchanging 10 gallons of gasoline for a loaf of bread.

Everyone, that is, except the police.

The country music station Friday announced the giveaway on the air as a promotion for a new song that protests the high price of petroleum and the low price of wheat. The promotion gave the address of a gasoline service station where the trade was available.

Within minutes, traffic was snarled in front of the gasoline service station, on a major thoroughfare.

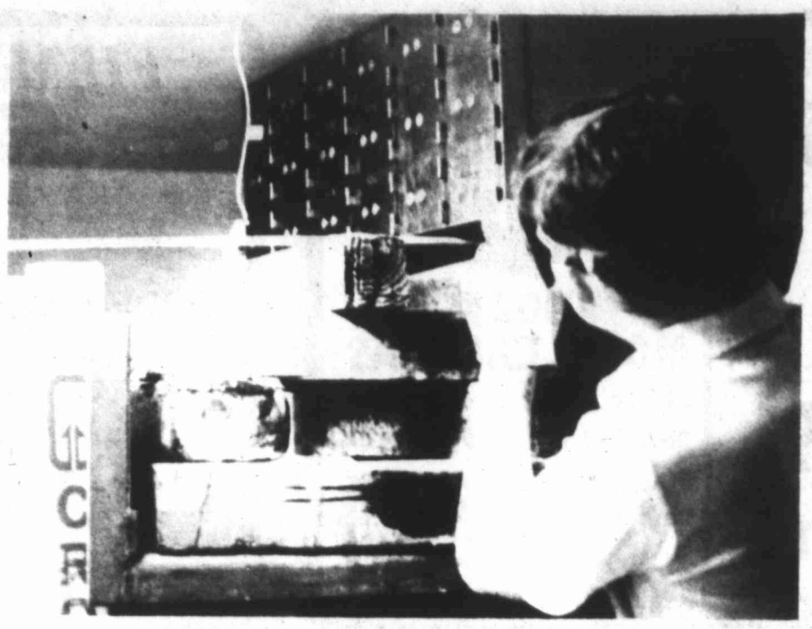

Six police vehicles unscrambled things, then told the station to broadcast another message:

"Don't block traffic or you'll get a $20 ticket."

Listeners obediently lined up, some for more than two hours, until the 2,000-gallon supply was exhausted.

At least three ran out of gas in the line.

The bread was donated to the Salvation Army, said a spokesman for radio station WCXI.

LOTS OF SCOOTING, BLOCKING, RAISING AND BLOCKING NEEDED

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES NOT EMPTIED INTO GUNNYSACK FOR MOVE
. . . Weidman and an associate rest while moving an 84-box section

It takes skill to move safety deposit boxes

There is a special art to moving safety deposit boxes, and Dean Weidman and an employee of Ed Weidman and Associates from Garland come to perform the task for the State National Bank.

"You don't just dump things into a gunnysack, tote it to the new bank and sort it out," Weidman said. "The boxes are built in sections, then stacked, so you move it by sections."

The trick is having the equipment and know-how to separate the heavy sections and get them to the new location intact.

"These boxes are probably about 40 years old, and they are about 80-box sections on the bottom and smaller ones on the top," Weidman said. "They are packed into a very small space, and it will probably take until noon Sunday to get them set and level at the new bank."

Weidman, who works with his father and does contract work for Hamilton Safe Company, said that security during the move is very important.

"You don't worry about somebody picking up one of the sections and walking off," Weidman said as he strained to move a heavy section away from the wall where it could be lifted with hydraulic equipment. "You worry about someone getting in the pickup and driving off with the trailer-load of sections.

During the move, several unmarked police cars and plain-clothes policemen watched to make sure no such heist occurred.

'Macbeth' wins for Synder High

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Snyder High School won the top award Friday night in the University Interscholastic League's Class 3A one-act play contest with a production of "Macbeth."

Freeport-Brazosport was second and Gregory-Portland third.

The best 3A actor was Ronald Carlson of Daingerfield, and the best actress, Lacine Shirley of Wichita Falls.

Garden City Auditorium dedicated to Mrs. Cook

The Garden City Auditorium was dedicated on April 28, to Mrs. Ruth Cook, retiring teacher who dedicated 31 years to working in the Garden City Independent School District.

There of the dedication ceremony was "This Is Your Life," with Wilburn Bednar as master of ceremonies. Participating were Mrs. Cook's husband, Jack, her son Bill, daughter and son-in-law, Margaret Jo and Bud Saunders, and grandchild Jackie Saunders.

Several Garden City residents participated in the program, including Bobbie McDaniel, Mary Joyce Wilkerson, Harry Calverly, Millie Hirt, Kenneth Chandler and Cecilia Livingston. At the close of the program, Mrs. Cook was presented a plaque commending the 38 years she has taught in Texas schools, 31 of which were in Garden City.

The auditorium was named Ruth Cook Auditorium in honor of the teacher, and her picture hangs in the foyer at the school where she spent many hours working on art projects and school programs. Her enjoyment of her job and its daily association with the children she taught aided the education of many students who entered her classrooms.

Special out of town guests were Mrs. Cook's sister and husband, Nell and Dr. Porter, from Denison; a cousin and husband of Big Spring, Marie and John Hale; Donald Cox of Lamesa; Leonard Hanson of Midland; Taylor Etchison, Lubbock; and an early student, Dick Cunningham, who flew from Norway for the ceremony. Special guest was Miss Gracia Ross, of El Paso, who roomed and taught with Mrs. Cook in their early years in Garden City.

Laws stiffer than before for pot dealers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation has been introduced in Congress that would require a 10-year prison sentence for persons convicted of trafficking in over 100 pounds of marijuana.

Rep. Billy Lee Evans, D-Ga., introduced the bill Wednesday, saying marijuana trafficking has become a major problem and new research shows marijuana is more harmful than previously thought.

EXTRA ALERT — Revolutionary guards were doubled Saturday outside Khomeini committee headquarters which was machine-gunned in three separate attacks Friday in Tehran, Iran. Here guards are on extra alert outside the ornate HQ, which was formerly the Majlis — the Iranian parliament.

Country remains torn by numerous problems

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Nearly three months after Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolution, Iran is far from settling down. The country remains torn by economic problems, unrest among ethnic minorities and the aftermath of two spectacular political assassinations.

Some questions and answers on how things stand in Iran:

Q. How firmly is Khomeini now holding on to power?

A. Almost every group in the country recognizes Khomeini as the revolution's titular leader. The 78-year-old Islamic holy man will almost certainly be Iran's symbol of revolution for the rest of his life. But many Iranians are likely to pressure his aides and government leaders over the formation of future policy.

Middle-class women are not yet convinced that they will be allowed to retain freedom of dress and job opportunities under the Islamic state. Leftists fear a restoration of business as-usual capitalism, without progress toward their vision of a proletarian workers' state. Ethnic minorities — among them Arabs, Baluchis, Kurds, Turks and Turkomans — worry that the new regime will share the old leaders' tendency to let economic development slide in their provincial areas.

Q. What is the biggest single problem in the country now?

A. The economy. About 20 to 30 percent of the work force of 10 million people are unemployed, leaving fertile ground for leftist agitation and trouble in economically deprived minority areas. One ethnic area where trouble now threatens is oil-producing Khuzestan, where Iranian Arabs are demanding autonomy.

Q. Has the overthrow of the monarchy itself been a success?

A. Yes. It is generally accepted by observers that most Iranians appear pleased that Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi is gone, however wary they may be of what is happening now. Pro-shah elements are being eliminated from the army, formerly the shah's main pillar of support.

Q. Is leftist influence significant in the country?

A. The left in Iran is large but divided. It ranges from the orthodox Tudeh Communist Party, loyal to the Soviet Union and low on public support, to the heavily armed Fedayeen and Mojahedeen guerrillas.

FOCUSING ATTENTION ON SPECIAL WEEK — Big Spring Mayor Wade Choate (left) gives a proclamation declaring May 6-12 as National Hospital Week to Garlond Evers, manager of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Medical Center. The designation has a special significance to patients in government hospitals and their families.

Campaign to contain health care costs grabs spotlight

A nationwide campaign to contain health care costs will be the focus of activities at the VA Medical Center May 6-12 during National Hospital Week.

The campaign is called the Voluntary Effort to Contain Health Care Costs and the VA Medical Center joins 6,400 hospitals around the country during National Hospital Week to call attention to the Voluntary Effort (VE).

The VE, established in late 1977, is a coalition of hospitals, physicians, health insurers, health industry suppliers and representatives from government, business and consumer groups. The aim of this coalition is to provide national leadership for an all-out assault on rising health care costs. The coalition recognized that everyone must share in the responsibility for rising costs.

During National Hospital Week, one effort of local action is being demonstrated by the Veterans Administration Medical Center. Under the direction of the Chief, Social Work Service, James Janeway, all employees are being asked to submit suggestions for cost containment. A determination will be made as to how much money is saved as a result of the suggestions and the best suggestion will receive special recognition.

Accounting Technician, Mrs. Betty Ray Coffee, and Chief, Ward Administration - Medical Records Section, Mrs. Billie Y. Mize, will be in charge of a contest on cost estimating. The employee whose estimate is closest to the actual cost will receive special recognition by the Medical Center Director.

An audio-visual program involving preventive care will be presented to employees in the hospital and will also be available to visitors and patients. Dr. Francis M. Graham, Clinical Psychologist, is responsible for this program. The Chief, Voluntary Service, Joe Rouleau, will be in charge of various programs related to hospital cost containment through the use of volunteers. Included will be a blood drive, Youth Volunteer Recruitment Campaign, and a Volunteer Awards Ceremony.

Family pride, religion at stake

Town name fuss heats up

By JACK KEEVER
By the Associated Press

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — In a rural county east of Dallas, residents of a small community have gone to the state, to court — and some seem ready to go to war — over the spelling of the town name.

The Rains County name is "Dougherty" or "Daugherty" — and family pride and religion is at stake, as well as historical accuracy.

Mike McKann of the General Land Office is the state's investigator in the furious spelling bee. The account that follows was based on papers in his possession and a telephone interview with him.

The U.S. Geological Survey recently discovered an apparent discrepancy in spelling as it was working on a large-scale topographical map of Rains County as part of a statewide project.

State highway signs, such as on Farm 514, identify the town to motorists as "Dougherty." The name on a church sign near the highway, however, is Daugherty Baptist Church.

The U.S. Board on Geographic Names sought the advice of the land office, and the land office asked for information from six state agencies, the East Texas Council of Governments, the Rains County judge and the Rains County Historical Commission.

Those requests, said McKann, are where the "o" versus "a" controversy "started boiling."

McKann did two days of on-the-scene research, and recalls the pastoral setting — "beautiful county, with cattle grazing" — belied the simmering emotions of "jealousy, pride and hatred."

He estimated the town population at 75, but said residents "are spread out. There are no real next-door neighbors."

An irate Leo Dougherty, the founder's great-great-grandson, wrote the land office:

"Although it seems inconceivable that anyone should have nothing more constructive to do than contemplate and plot the misspelling of the names of people and places, nevertheless, there exists, in the community, an officious cabal of non-Doughertys which, with the persistency of the Lilliputians' strife over their dispute as to the proper end of an egg to break, and with equal substance, periodically instigates a drive to subvert the official spelling of the community's name to (DAUGHERTY), with an 'a' instead of an 'o.'"

Dougherty, a San Antonio lawyer, said he understood the current name-change drive is "spearheaded ... by a retired schoolmarm whose maiden name was Scott. I could never be so presumptuous as to tell others how to spell their own name, nor would I defame her ancestry with the silly assertion that it should be spelled Scatt, with an "a'."

A copy of the letter was published in the Rains County Leader, McKann said, some of the local populace resented it.

Emley Dougherty Saffel and Rick Dougherty wrote in support of the "o" spelling. They contended the community was named after James Dougherty, who paid $150 in 1850 for 640 acres of land and acquired the headright to the community.

Mrs. Saffel is James Dougherty's great-granddaughter.

"It seems to me that it would be a shame if 129 years after James W. Dougherty founded the settlement the name should be changed by a survey based upon the wishes of the people who merely think an 'a' looks better than an 'o,'" said Rick Dougherty.

The land office received 25 letters, however, opting for an "a" spelling.

Four Doughertys' went to court in San Antonio and obtained a temporary restraining order prohibiting the land office or state highway department from changing any highway signs, maps or records to read, "Daugherty."

Eight days later, on March 20, Valeria Groves, a high school teacher who chairs the Rains County Historical Commission, informed the land office her telephone survey showed 41 residents favored Daugherty and only 11 Dougherty.

Additionally, she said, 1909 church minutes document the naming of the Daugherty — with an "a" — Baptist Church.

BSSH employees lauded at banquet

The employees of Big Spring State Hospital were honor guests at their annual awards banquet held Friday night in the High School Cafeteria. Estimated attendance was 250.

Before the awards were passed out, a singing group composed of hospital personnel, entertained the gathering with some lively songs and repartee.

Adolph Supak heads the quartet, which calls itself Tumbleweeds. Their professional approach inspired repeated applause from the gathering.

Dr. Jack B. Hillman, who will be leaving the hospital shortly to further his education, served as master of ceremonies.

Supak offered the welcoming address in the absence of Dr. Grace Ferguson, the hospital superintendent. Supak also handed out some of the awards.

Evelyn Buchett was named the winner of the Psychiatric Aide of the Year award. The Charles McCall Junior Rehabilitation prize went to Iva Jo Murphree. Connie Bell Burks was presented with the Educators Award.

Those earning 20-year awards were:

Dr. Bob Stenberg received a 25-year service award.

Friend of the Hospital awards were presented to:

Jewell Richter, Colorado City, a volunteer worker for the hospital since 1967; Velma Bartlett, Lamesa, active in hospital work since 1968; Vance Kimble, Big Spring, and Doris Day, Big Spring.

Coveted Commendation Awards went to Barbara Davis, assigned as an Administrative Technician; William B. (Bill) Hodges, laundry manager; Mrs. Ruth Eubanks, Therapist Technician; Evelyn Buckett, MHMR Specialist; and the late Ferrol Dodd.

Lightbulb sale on Monday

You will have opportunity to help light up some youngster's life Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday when Downtown Lions come calling on their annual Lightbulb Sale.

Net proceeds from the project go toward the Lions blind and sight conservation work, also other humanitarian pruposes. Annually the club provides more than 100 pair of eye glasses to children (and adults) who can't afford them. At times the club participates in eye operation expenses, financial assistance for training with guide dogs, special reading glasses and Braile material at the library, etc. Another service is the Texas Eye Bank in which the club rushes corneas willed by donors to persons in need of them, or vice versa.

Larry Farthing heads up this year's bulb sale, being aided by teams led by Marvin Wise, Tim Hall, Tommy Welch, Bill Alexander, Byron Wicker, Dan Conley, M.A. Barber, James Welch. The sale kicks off shortly ater 5 p.m. Monday for the packet of six bulbs at $3.

WHY WAIT?

Here are 9 good reasons to buy a CAPP HOME now!

1. YOU CAN SAVE THOUSANDS
The Capp Homes custom building program puts you in control. You decide where you want to live. You buy the lot and together we work out a design. Capp builds your home on the foundation you provide and fully encloses it. Next, you control the finishing work. You can finish it yourself – hire craftsmen for some of the work – or do both. This way, you eliminate the "middlemen" and their healthy markups. The result – your dream home, for thousands of dollars less compared to having an ordinary builder construct the same house on your lot.

2. THE COMPLETE CAPP HOMES PROGRAM
Capp custom constructs a fully enclosed home and gives you the basics that you need to finish your home yourself. That includes plumbing, heating and electrical systems, kitchen cabinets and appliances, flooring, lighting fixtures, energy saving features, and much, much more.

3. YOUR HOME IS CUSTOM-BUILT, ANYWHERE YOU WANT IT
Your new Capp dream home is custom-built, board by board, according to your personalized plans and Capp Homes rigid specifications and standards. And we'll build anywhere you want us to, even in remote places.

4. YOUR CAPP HOME IS UNIQUELY YOURS
Your home is custom-designed to meet your family's needs and lifestyle. Together, we'll design a home that's right for you. We'll build from your plans or from one of our 50 home designs.

5. YOUR CAPP HOME IN A WORD: QUALITY
Capp Homes are built by skilled craftsmen who use only top quality building materials. And because we've built over 60,000 homes nationally, we can't afford to let our reputation slip. Our quality building standards are rigidly enforced.

6. CAPP HOMES "CUSTOM SERVICE"
Whether it's finding a lot, financial assistance or getting references on sub-contractors, Capp is right there ready to help. It's part of the personal attention and service you can expect from your Capp Representative.

Homes range from $22,300 to $75,000 and up.*

7. "FINISH-IT-YOURSELF" SAVES YOU MORE
Doing your own finishing work is easier than you'd think with the help of our Capp Finishing Manual. Get your friends to help. And even if you hire craftsmen, you'll still save by eliminating the regular builder's markups. Remember, the more you do, the more you save.

8. MORTGAGE MONEY IS AVAILABLE
Capp offers various financing programs, including short term construction loans as well as permanent long term mortgages. With a small deposit, qualified customers can get Capp financing at competitive interest rates. Or if you prefer, use your local lender for part or all of your financing requirements. Either way your Capp Representative can help.

Michigan now ranks among top 10 in oil

HOUSTON (AP) — Michigan supplied the only bright spot in the new report on domestic crude oil reserves.

By increasing its proved reserves 42.8 percent last year, Michigan now ranks among the nation's top 10 oil states.

Michigan moved ahead of Mississippi, Florida, North Dakota, Utah, Montana, and Illinois while jumping from a No. 16 ranking to No. 10 by boosting its reserves from 133 million barrels to 190 million barrels.

Only seven of the 27 oil states recorded increases and the 57 million barrel gain by Michigan dwarfed the others. Runner-up North Dakota increased its reserves by 11 million barrels.

Total domestic reserves meanwhile were declining a seventh consecutive year, dropping to 27.803 billion barrels, some 28.7 percent below the all time high of 39 million reported at the end of 1970.

The 1978 decline by 1.682 billion barrels was the third largest drop to be recorded by the American Petroleum Institute since it began releasing the annual reports in 1946.

There were no spectacular changes among state rankings as the American Gas Association reported similar trends for natural gas reserves.

After eight consecutive years of decline, the new estimate of 200.3 trillion cubic feet for domestic gas reserves is 31.7 percent below the record 292.9 trillion recorded at the end of 1967.

Top ranked Texas, Louisiana, and Alaska were not among them but five of the top 10 gas states increased their reserves, New Mexico, Kansas, Wyoming, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania.

By increasing its reserves by 209 billion cubic feet, Pennsylvania moved up a notch and edged Colorado out of the No. 10 ranking among gas states.

Gas reserves in Texas now have dropped to 54.6 trillion cubic feet compared with an all time high of 125.4 trillion at the end of 1967. Second ranked Louisiana has now dropped to 49.6 trillion as opposed to its record level of 88 trillion cubic feet in the 1967 report.

Third ranked Alaska saw its gas reserves drop from 31.8 to 31.6 trillion cubic feet but the bulk of its reserves, about 26 trillion cubic feet, still awaits a pipeline that will provide access to Lower 48 markets.

Domestic gas production last year declined a fifth consecutive year, totaling 19.3 trillion cubic feet compared with a record output of 22.6 trillion in 1973.

Alaska strengthened its position as the No. 1 state in crude oil reserves despite seeing its reserves drop from 9.6 billion to 9.2 billion barrels during the first full year of operations for the Trans-Alaska pipeline. No. 2 Texas meanwhile saw its reserves drop an eighth straight year, from 8.4 billion to 7.6 billion barrels.

Thanks to the Alaskan output, domestic crude production increased a second consecutive year after four years of decline, totaling 3.029 billion barrels compared with the record high of 3.319 billion in 1970.

With production that totaled 447 million barrels, Alaska edged ahead of California as the No. 3 oil producing states. Production in top ranked Texas totaled 1.097 billion barrels and was followed by 491 million for Louisiana. California was No. 4 at 352 million.

The top 10 crude oil states, with 1978 and 1977 reserves:

Alaska 9.247 and 9.616 billion barrels; Texas 7.689 and 8.467; California 3.471 and 3.631; Louisiana 2.893 and 3.113; Oklahoma 1.073 and 1.121; Wyoming 804 and 815 million barrels; New Mexico 485 and 490; Kansas 380 and 359; Colorado 198 and 241, and Michigan 190 and 133.

The top 10 natural gas states, with 1978 and 1977 reserves:

Texas 54.600 and 62.157 trillion cubic feet; Louisiana 49.674 and 52.685; Alaska 31.612 and 31.832; New Mexico 13.261 and 11.931; Kansas 12.032 and 11.926; Oklahoma 11.463 and 11.712; California 5.095 and 5.198; Wyoming 4.315 and 3.962; West Virginia 2.683 and 2.375, and Pennsylvania 2.093 and 2.025.

Jenkins given 20-year award

Bobby C. Jenkins of Midland, who served four years in Big Spring as an intermediate accounting clerk, has received a 20-year service award by the Atlantic Richfield Company.

The ceremony was held in the Atlantic Richfield Building in Midland. Accounting director L.L. Cassady made the award. Jenkins joined the firm April 16, 1959, after three years at Texas Tech University and two years in the Army.

Jenkins was assigned to Arco's district office in Midland in 1973 and is currently a Technical Accounting Specialist.

Jenkins and his wife, Ann, have two sons, the elder of whom is a junior at Angelo State University.

Starlight Special reset

The Starlight Special Gospel Sing night scheduled for Saturday, originally to be sponsored by the Phillips Memorial and Midway Baptist Churches has been postponed until June 9.

Instead, the first Gospel Sing will be May 20 at 8:45 p.m. under direction of David Scott and Crestview Baptist Church. The special will be a homecoming for the church.

At 7:30 p.m. May 28, there will be a special memorial day program featuring the community band.

A total of 11 programs have been scheduled for the summer Starlight Specials, all of which will take place in the Comanche Trail Park Amphitheater at a charge of 25 cents. According to Starlight Specials Director Frank Wentz, the admission donation will be used for renovation of the amphitheater.

More disaster funds needed

The Howard-Glasscock Counties Red Cross Chapter continues to request contributions for the Red Cross Disaster Fund to aid families whose property was damaged by a tornado that ripped through Wichita Falls, Vernon and Lawton, Okla. April 12.

The goal for our local chapter is $1,883. Retiring Chapter Secretary Nat Roll said the current total is still far from the goal. You may make a check out to Red Cross Disaster Fund and mail to P.O. Box 1970, Big Spring, Tx., 79720.

The local chapter is also looking for volunteers to read to V.A. Medical Center patients and write letters for them. Interested persons may call the Red Cross office at 267-5031 and leave their name and phone number. A Red Cross orientation class will be taught when a sufficient number of volunteers have applied.

There's Never Been A Better Time, Or A Better Reason, To Change To Gas-Saving Goodyear Radials.

The energy crisis is here. We all have to start saving gas in every possible way.

One good way to begin is by changing to Goodyear radials. For it's a fact that radials do help save gas.

Belted radial construction stiffens the Goodyear tread. This enables our tires to roll like a hoop — with a significant reduction in rolling resistance when compared with bias or even bias belted tires.

By making Goodyear radials easier rolling, we've also made them fuel efficient. The result — fuel savings that extend over the entire life of the tread.

But saving gas isn't the only advantage. Goodyear radials are also efficient in terms of wear, for the belts add muscle that inhibit tire wasting squirm. This reinforcing action of the belts also helps keep the entire tread face in contact with the road, for effective traction and handling on your car.

Goodyear gives you a choice of six gas savers. For an extra good reason for going Goodyear, now, see the offer in the adjacent box. It's a winner!

After 45 years of service

'It's time to hang up the fiddle and bow'

By DON WOODS

Salvation Army Brigadier Robert Ball and his wife, Helen, are retiring from the ministry after 45 years of service. Ball said, "It's time to hang up the fiddle and bow."

They have been in charge of the Big Spring Corps three and a half years.

Brigadier Ball began his career in 1934 in Atlanta, Ga., where he trained as a Salvation Army officer. He received his commission in 1935 and went to Memphis, Tenn., as an assistant lieutenant.

He was promoted through hard work to the leadership of the Portland Corps in Louisville, Ky., shortly after his commission.

In 1937 he married another young lieutenant named Helen he met at a Salvation Army meeting at an L and R Railroad shop. While they were courting, the Louisville flood inundated his church and home and ruined his personal belongings.

The two officers married despite the devastation. On June 9, Brigadier Ball's birthday, they will observe their 42nd year of matrimony.

Helen Ball, formerly Helen Mallott, is a daughter of Salvation Army parents from Port Arthur. She and her brother, Roy, stood on the edge of a drum and sang during open air meetings their parents participated in. She became a full time officer in 1934 when she was commissioned as a lieutenant. She took her first assignment as an assistant in Montgomery, Ala.

While the couple was directing the Seventh Street USO Club in Wichita Falls, they had their first child, Phyllis Rae. Their second child, Bobby, was born in 1944 while the family was in Cumberland, Md.

Bob and Helen have lived in many places during their 45-year career. "Above all," said Ball, "our lives have been enriched and blessed because we have been in the ministry all those years and have touched the lives of thousands of people." "Our greatest thrill comes when we recall the many people whom we have been able to lead to the Lord and helped to develop into good mature Christians."

Ball continued, "I am primarily a preacher and teacher of the Word and I figure I have preached approximately 6,600 sermons during my 44 years of ministry with the Army. We have been privileged to command some of the best and largest corps in the Southern Territory and also have had a few of the small ones and hardest, but we can honestly say we have done our very best in whatever field of endeavor to which we have been sent. I never want to forget that I came from the coal pit to the pulpit."

BRIGADIER, MRS. ROBERT BALL

Ball commended members of his advisory board in Big Spring as his "personal friends."

Ball and his wife are involved in many community endeavors.

Bob is a Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, and Ministerial Association member. He was a member of the Quarterback Club and a supporter of high school and college athletics. He was a Veterans Hospital volunteer and visited area rest homes. He worked closely with alcoholic restoration, welfare agencies and the churches.

Mrs. Ball is a member of the Scenic Chapter of A.B.W.A. and Church Women United. She has put in long hours at the V.A. Medical Center and the Malone-Hogan Hospital. She is director of all the women's activities connected with the Salvation Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Ball begin Honored Retirement with the Army June 10. There will be a ceremony in their honor at 3 p.m., that day.

The Local Advisory Board has invited their many friends and associates in the community to attend this service in the Salvation Army Building. A reception will follow in the Fellowship Hall. Many items of memorabilia from their careers will be on display.

At 7 p.m. Edna Lytton will show a slide presentation entitled "This Is Your Life."

Lt. Col. Harlan Cleveland will conduct the ceremonies on the Balls' official day of farewell and changing on June 17. Col. Cleveland is in charge of all Army activities in the state. He will also announce who will take over the Big Spring corps at that time. Balls will leave the next day for their retirement home in Orlando, Fla.

Texas newsprint crunch building

By the Associated Press

Paper mill strikes on the West Coast and an increasing demand has tightened supplies and slashed reserve stockpiles of newsprint of many Texas newspapers, an Associated Press survey shows.

Newspapers that normally keep 30 to 60 days of paper in reserve have reduced stockpiles by half or more, and generally the larger the circulation the bigger the problem, the random survey showed. The Houston Chronicle said its supplies were as low as three days.

"We've been very tight since about the first of the year," said Fred Barnes, the Chronicle's press room foreman.

"We have three to five days supply in reserve, and we like to keep 45 days in reserve. That's very close — too close for comfort."

Dallas Times Herald Vice President Bob Hollingsworth said all five companies that supply his paper are behind in their shipments.

"We like to keep a five-to six-week reserve. We don't have anywhere near that now," Hollingsworth said. "While we are not in a criticial situation, we have to agree with everybody that newsprint is in very short supply."

A spokesman for the San Antonio Light said their normal 30-day stockpile is down to 14 days. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram said its normal 40-day supply stands at 25.

The Amarillo Globe News said it has been able to maintain its normal two-month reserve supply, but has not been able to increase its tonnage.

The Temple Telegram has also kept its 60-day reserve supply, according to production supervisor Bland Smith.

The Cleburne Times-Review said it has seen only minor delays in delivery. The Waxahachie Light which also keeps a 60-day supply in reserve, said it has not experienced any paper supply problems at all.

Mill strikes on the West Coast which contributed to the paper shortage have been settled, but the threat of more strikes in Canada looms as contracts expire in June. Despite the West Coast agreements, it will take time for the mills there to catch up with back orders, production supervisors said.

Another reason for the tight supplies is simply that newspapers are using more paper.

"Consumption is up throughout the Southwest and pretty much throughout the country," said Hollingsworth. "We, like most other newspapers, are simply printing more pages now, and supply has not caught up with the increased demand."

Publisher Joe Dealey of the Dallas Morning News said, "It seems to us the mills have oversold and they are underproducing. We think the price is inordinately high.

BIDDING FOR VICTORY — Spectacular Bid, on the inside, with Ronald Franklin up, and General Assembly, left, with Laffit Pincay, Jr., up, come down the home stretch in Saturday's 105th running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Spectacular Bid won with a time of 2:02.2. General Assembly finished second.

Spectacular Bid wins 105th Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Favored Spectacular Bid, with 19-year-old Ronnie Franklin in the saddle, took the lead in the upper stretch and charged to victory in the $304,900 Kentucky Derby on Saturday at sunsplashed Churchill Downs.

Spectacular Bid was the odds-on favorite and ran like one as he took the lead from General Assembly after turning for home and drew away to a clear victory.

General Assembly was second, followed by stretch-running Golden Act and long-shot King Celebrity.

The time on a fast track was 2:022-5, well off the tgack record but time doesn't matter to a winner.

After winning the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland on April 26, Franklin said, "I know one thing. They won't beat us in the Derby."

It was a big day for Franklin, who has been criticized in the press and was called an idiot by trainer Bud Delp aftr his poor but winning run in the Florida Derby.

Spectacular Bid did not go for the lead as expected. He was seventh going into the clubhouse turn after the run past the stands for the first time. Shamgo led.

Shamgo continued to lead entering the backstretch, followed by General Assembly, Lot o'Gold and Flying Paster.

General Assembly then took the lead entering the final turn but Franklin had Spectacular Bid moving on the outside and he moved up to challenge General Assembly with a quarter-mile left in the 1¼-mile race. Once the two straightened for home, Spectacular Bid, the roar of another huge Derby crowd ringing in his ears, took charge and scored his 11th straight victory.

The grey colt, owned by Harry, Teresa and Tom Meyerhoff, finished 2¾ lengths ahead of General Assembly and paid $3.20, $3 and $2.80.

General Assembly, owned by Bertram Firestone and ridden by Laffit Pincay, made a gallant bid to write Derby history. His sire, Secretariat, won this race six years ago to the day. General Assembly paid $5.80 and $3.40.

THE BIRD IS BACK — Detroit's Mark "The Bird" Fidrych made mound grooming his duty Saturday as he made his 1979 debut against the Minnesota Twins. Fidrych is coming back from an April, 1978 injury which sidelined him.

McLaughlin's hit sinks San Angelo

Steers topple Bobcats

SAN ANGELO — Kevin McLaughlin's two-out single in the top of the seventh inning scored two runs and propelled the Big Spring Steers to an exciting 4-3 victory over the hapless San Angelo Bobcats in the final District 5-AAAA game for both squads.

Big Spring entered the seventh inning trailing 3-2. David Manley singled to open the inning, then Mike Gomez drilled a single to move Manley to second. Tim Shaver then sacrified the runners on a bunt into scoring position. But Mark Warren struck out to put the Bobcats one out away from their first victory in the second half of play.

McLaughlin spoiled the Bobcats hopes, however, when he connected on a Fields pitch to right field to score both runners.

Big Spring took a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning. McLaughlin opened the game by connecting on a single. One out later, Ysa Rubio was safe on an error by David Martinez. Clean-up hitter Ricky Myers then drilled the only extra base hit of the contest, a double, to score both runners.

San Angelo countered off Steer starter Manley in the third. Rusty Herndon singled, and one out later Martinez was safe on an error. Fields was then intentionally walked. San Angelo catcher John White then drove a Manley pitch deep into centerfield for a three-rbi single.

Larry Smith relieved Manley in the bottom of the sixth inning and stopped the Bobcat batsmen the remainder of the game, picking up a win in the process. Fields went the distance for the Angry Orange and accepted the defeat.

Big Spring thus finished the second half with a 2-5 record and the season with a mark of 10-17. San Angelo finished at 0-7 and 4-16.

In other 5-AAAA games, Cooper defeated Abilene 3-1, Permian outscored Odessa High 17-8, and Lee whitewashed Midland 2-0.

The Cooper Cougar win enables the Big Blue Crew to win the district championship and earn the right to represent 5-AAAA in the state playoffs.

Aggies edge UT

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Senior Mark Ross held off a ninth-inning Texas rally Saturday as Texas A&M blanked the Longhorns 1-0 in a Southwest Conference baseball game that broke Texas' 20-game winning streak.

A&M raised its SWC record to 13-8 and 29-16 overall. Texas fell to 20-2 in conference play and 45-6 on the year.

Will 'Magic' thwart the Spartans heart?

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Basketball fans in the Lansing area are waiting nervously to learn if Earvin Johnson — their beloved "Magic" — will turn pro and break their hearts.

While Johnson himself insists he hasn't made up his mind, Michigan State fans seem resigned to the love affair ending. They know deep down the bright lights of the big city and the big bucks of a long-term contract are tough competition for college loyalty and another two years as the biggest man on campus.

And Johnson — who has to make up his mind by May 11 and says he'll announce a decision about mid-week — will offer no apologies to his college worshippers if he joins the National Basketball Association.

"I tried to give them two of the best years of my life, and if they can't understand that, if they bad-mouth me for leaving, I can deal with that," the easygoing teenager explained last week as he waited to be interviewed for an official NCAA film. "Naturally they want you to stay, but it depends on whatever Earvin Johnson wants to do — what's best for him. I can't think about what they're going to think."

It has been a remarkable and bittersweet two years for Michigan State fans, sure as they were that Earvin would not stay four full years. He strolled out of Lansing Everett High School, just a few miles from campus, to lead the Spartans to a Big Ten title as a freshman. Then he returned to spark them to the school's first NCAA championship.

Along the way, his slight-ofhand wizardry with a basketball and open friendliness in person attracted national attention to match the devotion of local fans.

"His market value will never be as high," said Roy Englebrecht, publicity director for the Los Angeles Lakers, who have the first choice in the NBA's June 25 draft.

Irwin, Rachels share Houston Open

HOUSTON (AP) — Hale Irwin fired a 7-under-par 64 on the still-flooded Woodlands Country Club course and moved into a tie with longshot Sammy Rachels for the lead Saturday in the rain-delayed second round of the $300,000 Houston Open Golf Tournament.

The steady Irwin, a frustrated non-winner on the American tour last year, and Rachels, who hasn't even come close to leading a tournament before, had 36-hole totals of 133, 9 under par going into Sunday's 36-hole windup. Rachels had a second-round 65.

The double-round finish was necessitated when heavy overnight rains drenched the course and forced the cancellation of Friday's play.

It also forced officials to make some changes in the course that played as a par-72 at 6,997 yards last year when Gary Player, the eventual winner, set the course record at 64.

This year, at the start of the tournament, the 10th hole was converted from a relatively short par-5 to a long par-4, measuring some 460 yards.

Then rain flooded the 16th fairway. In order to make the hole playable, officials moved the tees far forward on that hole, reducing it from 569 yards to 335. To simplify scoring, however, it remained listed as a par-5. In all, the course was reduced by about 360 yards to a length of 6,637.

Guidry volunteers for bullpen duty

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees announced Saturday that Cy Young Award winner Ron Guidry, a 25-game winner in 1978, would become the team's late-inning relief mainstay until bullpen ace Rich Gossage returns from a serious thumb injury.

Manager Bob Lemon said that Guidry voluteered before Saturday's game to bear the brunt of the bullpen load. The Yankees' relief pitchers have failed in the late innings four times in the past eight games.

"It's something I wouldn't have told him to do," Lemon said. "But he came to me and said he thought he'd be of more value to the ballclub in the bullpen than starting every fifth day. He'll be a relief pitcher until we get straightened out with Goose (Gossage)."

Lemon said Jim Beattie, recalled fom the minors earlier this week, would take Guidry's place in the starting rotation.

Trimble Tech claims AAAA state girls title

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Galveston Ball set a national high school girls' record but faded in other events as defending champion Fort Worth Trimble Tech sped to the Class 4A girls track championship Saturday.

Ball's 800-meter team, with 200-meter champion Dorene Hayward running third leg, was timed in 1:37.8, a full second faster than Fort Worth Eastern Hills ran in 1977.

Tech chased Ball to the record in finishing second and also broke the national mark with a time of 1:38.5.

Tech sprinter-jumper Donna Thomas scored 37 points as Tech far outdistanced Ball and Houston Sterling for the team title. Tech has 66 points, and Ball and Sterling each had 40.

Sunray's third place finish in the climatic 1,600-meter relay — worth 12 points — enabled Sunray to edge Karnack 48-46 for the Class A championship. Karnack failed to place in the top six in the 1,600-meter relay and got zero points in that final event.

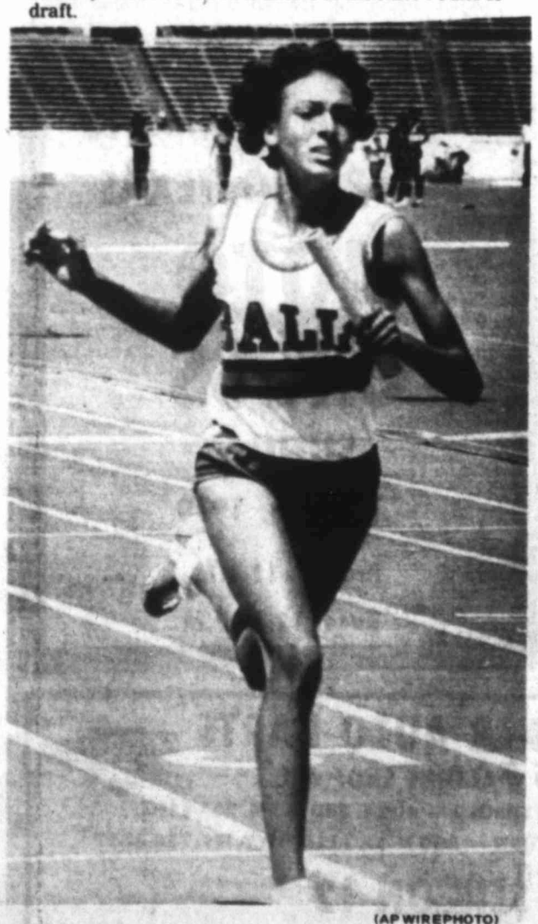

Miami won the B title with 52 points to 46 for Matador Motley County, as Susan Bean of Miami scored 25 points. She won the 200 in conference record time of 24.5, was third in the long jump and ran the anchor on Miami's first place 1,600-meter relay and second place on the 800-meter relay.

Thomas missed tying a state and national record in the triple jump by one-fourth inch, leaping 40 feet. She had won the long jump on Friday, and on Saturday she also was second in the high jump with the same height as the winner — 5-foot-7 — and ran on Tech's winning 400-meter relay and the 800-meter relay.

Hayward's 24.0 in the 200 was a 4A record, but Ball's 400-meter relay team slumped to fourth, and Carla Thomas was fifth in the 80-yard hurdles.

Kelly Heverly of Richardson Pearce lowered the girls' state record in the mile to under five minutes by winning the 4A event in 4:59.9. Patsy Norman of El Paso was second in 5:00.3 as both broke the state record of 5:05.2, set last year by Lorie Scott of Amarillo.

Another state record fell in the 800-meter run as Kathy Vetter of Richardson Berkner charged past defending champion Disa Lewis of Houston Memorial in the final 70 yards to win in 2:10.1. Lewis in 2:10.7 and third place Suzanne Sheffield of Plano also bettered the old state record of 2:14.0.

SETS NEW NATIONAL RECORD AT SCHOOLGIRL TRACK MEET — Leisa Biggers, running the anchor lap for Ball High School of Galveston, crosses the finish line to set a new national record in the Conference AAAA 800-meter relay event at the schoolgirl track and field meet at Austin, Texas Saturday. Winning time was 1:37.8.

Selena Harris takes sixth

AUSTIN — Big Spring's Selena Harris placed sixth in the state Class AAAA long jump here Friday when she leaped 18'¾". Harris jumped 19' on her second jump, but narrowly scratched. This leap would have given her third place.

The winner of the event was Donna Thomas of Fort Worth Trimble Tech with a jump of 19'3". Second was San Antonio Roosevelt's Vicky Finch with a jump of 19'2¾". Rounding out the competition were Richardson Berkner's Paula Lake at 18'8", Gwen McCray of El Paso Parkland at 18'3", Tanya Rigsby of Houston Jones at 18'¾", and Harris. Rigsby placed higher than Harris because she had fewer jumps.

Harris' best leap of the year was a district record breaking 18'4¼" in the 5-AAAA meet. She also ran on the 440 and 880 relay quartets, as well as competing on the 220 dash.

DIES — Bill Lucas, the highest ranking black executive in major league baseball, died Saturday, three days after suffering cardiac arrest and a massive brain hemorrhage, his doctors said.

Saturday baseball

Brewers 6, Blue Jays 1

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Charlie Moore's two-run triple on a misjudged fly ball sparked a four-run Milwaukee second inning, and Jim Slaton scattered eight hits to lead the Brewers to a 6-1 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays on Saturday.

The Brewers capitalized on three Toronto misplays in the second inning. A walk and singles by Sixto Lezcano and Robin Yount scored one run. Center fielder Rick Bosetti's fumble of Yount's hit put runners on second and third. Right fiedler Bob Bailor charged Moore's fly, which sailed over his head for a triple.

Reds 6, Astros 2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Morgan and Johnny Bench each drove in two runs in the second inning, leading the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-2 victory Saturday over the Houston Astros.

The victory brought the Reds within 1½ games of the firstplace Astros in the National League West.

The Reds got two runs in the first inning and four in the second off Houston starter Joaquin Andujar, who suffered his first loss of the season after three victories.

Red Sox 11, Mariners 4

BOSTON (AP) — Jim Rice broke a mild slump by driving in four runs with a homer and a pair of singles Saturday, powering the Boston Red Sox to an 11-4 victory over the Seattle Mariners.

Fred Lynn triggered a 14-hit attack off four Seattle pitchers with his 10th homer in the first inning, and Rice capped the scoring with a three-run homer in the eighth. It was Rice's third homer of the season and his first in two weeks.

Carl Yastrzemski contributed a two-run doubled and George Scott had a double and two singles as the Red Sox boosted their record to 16-8, tops in the American League East.

Bosto starter Dennis Eckersley, 3-1, managed to last only six innings, giving up eight hits and four walks before being replaced by Dick Drago, who earned his third save.

Lynn extended his hitting streak to six games with his homer into the left-field screen off Seattle starter Odell Jones, 0-2.

Tigers 8, Twins 4

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Mark Fidrych, making his first regular-season start for Detroit since April 17, 1978, threw four innings of four-hit ball and the Tigers held on to defeat Minnesota 8-4 Saturday.

The Bird, as the 24-year-old right-hander is known, won 19 games as a rookie in 1976 but has been battling a sore shoulder and tendonitis for the past two seasons.

The Tigers' hopes were buoyed by his performance, however.

Fidrych retired seven of the first eight batters he faced and threw 50 pitches, 28 for strikes. He allowed runs in the third and fourth innings before being replaced by reliever Sheldon Burnside.

Giants 6, Mets 4

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jack Clark fouled off a bunt attempt, then slammed a two-run homer in the seventh inning to give the San Francisco Giants a 6-4 victory over the New York Mets on Saturday.

Clark's homer off New York reliever Jesse Orosco, 1-1, broke a 4-4 tie. Orosco hit Terry Whitfield, the first batter he faced, and Clark was given the bunt sign for two pitches.

With the count 1-1, Clark was allowed to hit away and drilled the ball over the left field fence to give the Giants their fourth straight victory and send the Mets to a fourth consecutive loss.

Royals 3, Indians 2

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rich Gale and Al Hrabosky stopped Cleveland on six hits and got the benefit of three Indians errors in one inning as the Kansas City Royals beat Cleveland 3-2 Saturday.

The only earned run of the game came on Hal McRae's two-out homer in the fifth inning, which was one of only four hits off Cleveland's Rick Wise, 3-3.

The Royals got their other two runs in the seventh in a strange series of events. McRae reached first with two outs on an error by shortstop Tom Veryzer. Clint Hurdle followed with a grounder that went through second baseman Duane Kuiper's legs for another error. McRae headed home as the throw from center fielder Rick Manning went to second. Hurdle was safe at second, and Veryzer threw home but McRae eluded the tag by catcher Bo Diaz.

Cubs 9, Braves 3

CHICAGO (AP) — Four home runs, including a threerun blast by Jerry Martin and a two-run shot by Bobby Murcer, carried Dennis Lamp and the Chicago Cubs to a 9-3 victory Saturday over the Atlanta Braves.

Ivan DeJesus led off the Chicago first with a homer off Phil Niekro, 3-5. Martin capped the Cubs' four-run first inning with his shot, his second of the season, after Bill Buckner reached on an error and Steve Ontiveros singled.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

SAFE AT THIRD — Mike Edwards of the Oakland A's is into third base safely as New York Yankees third baseman Graig Nettles comes down on top of Edwards and bobbles the throw (by Nettles chin) in the second inning of Saturday's game at Yankee Stadium in New York. Edwards took third on Larry Murray's single and the throw came from the Yanks' Juan Beniquez.

Michael Carter sets national mark in shot

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Michael Carter of Dallas Jefferson set a national record in the shot put Saturday during a high school track meet sponsored by Abilene Christian University.

Carter's first throw of the day sailed 77-feet, two feet more than the national mark.

Carter said, "It didn't feel like a 77 throw. I was going to go slow and just get a good throw, and it went 77, so I figured that was good enough." Carter took no more throws the rest of the day.

Carter also won the high-school division discus and finished third in the University Open division discus.

McEnroe, Borg to meet in WCT finals today

DALLAS (AP) — Impulsive John McEnroe has his sights set on No. 1 and with the accompanying loot.

The 20-year old refugee from Stanford and collegiate tennis goes against the world's No. 1 player, Bjorn Borg of Sweden, Sunday in the finals of the World Championship Tennis classic. With the title comes a $100,000 check.

"I'm glad to win here because it is big money," said the youngster who was born in West Germany but now plays out of Douglaston, N.Y. "Better winning here than in those tournaments that pay a lot less."

McEnroe knocked off second-seeded Jimmy Connors with a tantalizing semifinals performance considered by some as a major upset. "I'm not so sure about that characterization. I got to do more of what I wanted to do against Jimmy. I played the ball deep and had my service working; I certainly was more patient," he said.

The irrepressible McEnroe won in straight sets over Connors and the youngster, who was playing collegiate tennis a year ago, admitted "I'd hoped Jimmy would play terrible. He returned badly."

McEnroe had his words with the umpire during the match. "I went to him and asked that he make Connors stop talking between my service. The umpiring was inconsistent and we felt he was trying to make the players look bad."

McEnroe said his game against Borg would be patterned after his successful play against Connors. "I'll not let up and I'll make him win his points. His service is his forte but I'll not play defensive tennis."

Borg entered the Dallas WCT finals for the fifth time by turning back a peaky Vitas Gerulaitis 7-5, 7-6, 2-6, 6-2 in two hours and 40 minutes. Borg's service was his strong suite as he forced into repeated errors. Borg won the second set on a tiebreaker.

This is the fourth meeting between the stylish Borg, a three-time Wimbledon winner, and McEnroe, who has an even break with victories in the Stockholm Open and at WCT-Milan.

"I know I must play my best tennis against Johnny," said the 23-year old Borg. I know his game and he knows mine. I feel that if I am to win I must handle his service."

To McEnroe, going to the top in WCT here will enhance his position in world rankings. "I see it now as a continuing process of my having to beat Borg, Connors and Gerulaitis in each tournament before I have a shot at first money. Then, odds are that I will have to play one of them for the big check.

"I'd like to go to Wimbledon at the top of the pile, or at least ranked No. 2. Along the way, however, I am gaining confidence each time I come off the court a winner."

Connors and Gerulaitis each picked up $16,000 as semifinalists here.

Vasicek loses in AAAA finals

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Kristen McKeen of Richardson defeated Vicki Vasicek of Midland, 6-3, 7-5, to capture the Class 4A girls' singles tennis championship Saturday.

In the 4A doubles, Houston Stratford's Ellen Hopkins and Mary O'Rourke defeated Houston Memorial's Mary Giammalva and Lynn Daniels, 6-4, 7-6, for the title.

In other singles competiton, Elsa Hinojosa of Falfurrias beat Sally Bowman of Austin Westlake, 6-4, 6-4, for the 3A championship.

Ramona Iribeck won the 2A title, defeating Dianne Plocheck of Van, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Sonja Hutcherson of Memphis defeated Diane Senterfitt of San Saba, 6-1, 6-2, for the Class A title, and Brenda Niemeyer of Knippa won the B championship, 6-0, 6-0, over Beverly Fussel of Eola.

Yankees rally past Oakland

NEW YORK (AP) — Lou Pinella's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the bottom of the ninth inning rallied the New York Yankees to a 5-4 victory over the Oakland A's on Saturday and enabled unbeaten Tommy John to become the first sixgame winner in the major leagues.

Lake Spence report

Monroe Copeland, Big Spring, set a pattern for catching yellow catfish at Lake E.V. Spence during the past week.

He boated five with an aggregate weight of 78 pounds, ranging from 7 to 32 lbs.

J. W. and Mary Lee Purser, who have a habit of landing big striped bass, were at it again. This time he had the largest, a 19-pounder, while she had one weighing 14 lbs.

Reports from Lake Spence concessionaires included:

Paint Creek Marina — Charles Hukaba and party, Odessa, five stripers to 12 lbs.; Ray Rowe, Lubbock, a 13½-lb. striper; Wilma Craig, Hobbs, N.M., 18 crappie; J.W. and Mary Lee Purser, Big Spring, 14 and 19-lb. stripers.

Wildcat Fish A Rama — Gary and Glenda Gillihan, Big Spring, six stripers to 10¾-lbs.

Skinny's Grocery (formerly Hillside)—Monroe Copeland, Big Spring, five yellow catfish; from 7 to 32 lbs., including one 20-lbs.

12 SWC players drafted on second day

Cowboys use draft for depth

The National Football League draft ended Friday with the Dallas Cowboys attempting to gain some bench strength and the Houston Oilers going for offensive talent.

NFL teams also chose players from seven of the nine Southwest Conference schools on the final day.

The Cowboys picked Greg Fitzpatrick, a linebacker from Youngstown State, defensive tackle Bruce Thornton of Illinois; linebacker Garry Cobb of Southern California, defensive end Mike Calhoun of Notre Dame and linebacker Quenton Lowery, also of Youngstown State.

The Oilers chose defensive back Tim Ries of Southwest Missouri; McNeese State wide receiver Johnny Dirden, offensive tackle Mike Taylor of Georgia Tech and running back Wayne Brown of Shepherd during the final day.

Southwest Conference players chosen in the final rounds included, Houston running back Emmitt King, New York Jets; tackle Cody Riesen of Texas A&M, Cleveland; punter Luke Prestridge of Baylor, Denver; defensive lineman Marshall Harris of Texas Christian, New York Jets; defensive back Glenn Blackwood of Texas, Miami; running back Randy Love of Houston, New England; tackle Eugene Sanders of Texas A&M, Tampaa Bay; wide receiver Charlie Taylor of Rice, Denver; defensive tackle Grady Ebensberger of Houston, Los Angeles; wide receiver Brian Nelson, Texas Tech, Minnesota; and running back Michael Forrest of Arkansas, Kansas City.

Other Texas players chosen in the final rounds included wide receiver Alvin Garrett from Angelo State, San Diego; wide receiver Paul Darby of Southwest Texas State, New York Jets; and wide receiver Bryan Sweeney of Texas A&I, Detroit.

Dallas chose center Robert Shaw of Tennessee and cornerback Aaron Mitchell of Nevada-Las Vegas in the first two rounds and Coach Tom Landry was pleased with the selections.

"Shaw was no gamble," Landry said. "He has the potential to play guard as well as center. It gives us some needed depth in our offensive line."

He said Mitchell has good size, speed and is very aggressive.

"We were delighted to get him," Landy said. "We would have to be awful lucky to do better than we have done."

The Oilers' first two selections were defensive linemen Mike Stensrud of Iowa State and Jesse Baker of Jacksonville State.

Oiler offensive coordinator Ed Biles said the pair have a chance to "develop into great defensive linemen."

Two of the Southwest Conference's great placekickers also found employment. Texas' Russell Erxleben was taken by New Orleans and Texas A&M's Tony Franklin was selected by Philadelphia.

Oiler draftees impressed by Bum

HOUSTON (AP) — Anyone raised on a farm or adept in the art of tobacco chewing shouldn't have any problem getting along with Houston Oiler Coach Bum Phillips, or maybe even Oiler center Carl Mauck.

And since Iowa State's Mike Stensrud was raised on a farm and Jacksonville State's Jesse Baker enjoys a good chew, the two second round selections in the National Football League draft already feel right at home.

"As soon as I said one word to Coach Phillips I knew everything was going to be all right," said Baker, a 6-4, 265 defensive end. "I think it's going to be really fun playing for a coach like him."

Stensrud also was impressed with Phillips' homespun approach.

"He's a real down-to-earth person and that's what I liked," Stensrud said. "I really enjoyed talking to him."

Stensrud and Baker became the highest Oiler picks in this year's draft after Phillips traded Houston's first round choice to Kansas City in exchange for the Chiefs' second round picks this year and next year.

Phillips made Stensrud the third player picked in the second round and used Houston's 23rd position in the second round to take Baker.

The Oilers hope to make the pair feel at home as added depth for Houston's defensive front in the Oilers' 3-4 defense where they will back up ends Jim Young and Elvin Bethea and middle guard Curly Culp.

Stensrud and Baker visited the Oilers Friday and in their first interviews with the media defended criticism against them in various scouting reports.

Stensrud, according to some reports, was a passive player who had to be revved up before games and Baker had an attitude problem.

The passive tag, Stensrud said, apparently came after his coach said in the press that he wasn't playing up to his potential. "I think I've proven that passiveness wasn't there," Stensrud said.

Baker said his bad attitude reputation came from an incident his junior year when he was dismissed from the team because he was in a room where marijuana was found by his coach.

Baker said he was admitted back to the team after a friend admitted to possession of the marijuana.

Brenham, Powderly North Lamar capture girl's state crowns

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Carolyn Amos sprinted and leaped to four victories, Dana Olson set a state discus record, and Brenham and Powderly North Lamar captured team championships by wide margins at the girls' state track meet Friday.

The meet resumes today with team titles to be determined in Class B, A and 4A.

Brenham, fifth last year, piled up 78 points to defeat defending champion Canyon by 40 points for the Class 3A team title.

North Lamar collected 46 points in three relay races to hold off Marble Falls for the 2A championship, 60-40. Amos, the only entry for Marble Falls, got 10 points for each of her first places.

North Lamar was runner-up to Bellville in 1978.

Amos, a 5-foot-2 senior, missed tying a state record by ¼-inch in the long jump but won that event for the second straight year with a leap of 19-5½ for a 2A record.

She also repeated as the 2A champion in the 100-yard dash and won the 200-meter dash and triple jump in non-record performances.

Olson broke her own state discus record by 1½ feet with a throw of 152-6, and set a conference shot put record of 49-11 to lead her Austin Westlake team to third place in 3A, with 36 points.

Brenham, northwest of Houston, was paced by Kay Schwartz, who scored 25 points by running on a first and second-place relay team and finishing second in the long jump and 80-yard hurdles. Teammate Katherine Felvey won the 800-meter run and ran on two relays for 19 points.

Canyon set a 3A record in the 800-meter relay, beating Brenham in 1:43.1, and Ann Quigley of Westlake lowered her conference mile record by nearly three seconds to 5:08.6.

In 2A, Waller trimmed its 400-meter relay record from 48.2 to 48.0 and finished third in the team standings with 36 points.

Margaret Hillary of Bridgeport set a 2A mile record of 5:18.3.

Slow Pitch Tourney slated May 18

The Third Annual Cleveland Athletics David and Goliath Slow Pitch Tournament will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 18-20. The three day affair will be conducted at Johnny Stone Park.

The host team for the tourney will be Kwiksilver.

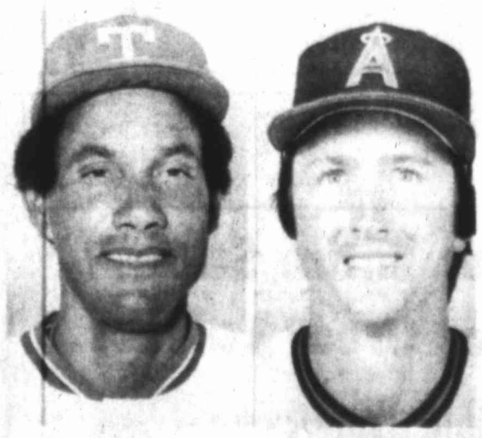

The tournament will consist of two divisions. The Class A division will consist of 32 teams, with the open division having eight teams. Both divisions will be double elimination affairs. The tournament committee reserves the right to seed teams in what they feel is the proper division. The entry fee will be 60 dollars for the Class A division and 75 dollars for the open division.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in each division. Each individual on the winning team will receive a first place trophy. There will also be 10 All-Tournament choices in each division, as well as a home run trophy and most valuable player gift. The tournament will be concluded by the annual David and Goliath game, with a special trophy to the winning team.

Each team will be limited to 16 players on their roster. There will be a one hour time limit on all games, except the finals of the winners and losers brackets and the championship games.

A 20-run rule will go into effect after four innings, with a 15-run rule after five innings. This, however, does not include the non-time limit games.

Any team wishing to enter must do so before May 15. Submit all rosters and entry fees to John Weeks, 1512 Stadium, Big Spring, or call 267-8323 or 263-2051. Make all checks payable to Kwiksilver.

BODY PRESSURE — Washington Bullets Kevin Grevey knocks San Antonio Spurs George Gervin to the court and gets called for an offensive foul during their Eastern Conference Finals game at Capital Centre Friday. San Antonio won the first game of the series 118-97.

Seattle takes 2-0 series lead

Sonics edge Suns at the line

SEATTLE (AP) — Supposedly one of the easiest shots in basketball, the free throw, proved to be the most difficult — and damaging — for the Phoenix Suns.

"Free throws is what did it," said a dejected Suns guard Paul Westphal. "That, plus rebounds."

Normally a fine shooting team from both the floor and the foul line, the Suns hit just four of 10 free throws in the final seven minutes in Friday night's 103-97 National Basketball Association loss to the Seattle SuperSonics.

The victory before a Kingdome crowd of 31,964 gave the Sonics a commanding 2-0 lead over the Suns in the best-of-seven Western Conference championship series.

Games 3 and 4 are set for Sunday afternoon and Tuesday night in Phoenix.

Seattle, the defending conference champion, is shooting for a second straight appearance in the NBA finals.

"We can probably wrap it up (in Phoenix)," said Sonic power forward Lonnie Shelton, whose 18 points and game-high 15 rebounds highlighted a balanced Seattle performancne at both ends of the court.

"If we can get one win we'll be happy," added Shelton, "but we'll be shooting for two."

A basket by Suns center Alvan Adams tied the rugged, seesaw game for the last time at 87 with 5:40 to play. Then Phoenix went cold at the line.

Walter Davis, an 83 percent free throw shooter, hit four of six foul shots down the stretch. Don Buse, a 77 percent foul shooter, missed four free throws in a row with the Suns behind 93-88.

"We had our opportunities," said Phoenix forward Truck Robinson, who made his first start in the Suns' 10 playoff games and responded with 10 points and nine rebounds in 35 minutes. "I thought we outplayed them as far as total play. The last couple minutes was the key.

"Missing all those free throws, you don't win that way."

John Johnson's 21 points led six Seattle players in double figures. Gus Williams finsihed with 16 points, his lowest total in seven playoff games this season. Fred Brown had 15, Dennis Johnson 12 and Jack Sikma 10.

Spurs sprint by Bullets

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — San Antonio's James Silas said he could see a Spurs victory in the eyes of the Washington guards.

"It was in their faces," said Silas after the Spurs defeated the Bullets 118-97 Friday night in the opener of their National Basketball Association Eastern Conference championship series.

"They were so tight," he said. "They were so far out of it and that gave us confidence. We were all fired up because we knew (Elvin) Hayes couldn't do it all."

The five Bullets guards, continuing an inept performance that started during the semifinals against Altanta, helped the San Antonio cause by hitting only 10 of 39 field goal attempts.

However, George Gervin scored 34 points and Silas 28 in addition to 24 by Larry Kenon, to power the Spurs to the victory.

In taking the opener of the best-of-seven conference championship series, the Spurs recorded their first victory in 10 outings at the Capital Centre since they joined the NBA three years ago.

Game Two is scheduled here Sunday.

Spurs Coach Doug Moe said he thought his team, after finishing an emotional seven-game series with Philadelphia Wednesday night, would have to struggle in the opening game. Instead, the Bullets had their difficulties after a fiveday rest.

"After that seventh game, we said we wouldn't have a chance up here so we decided to slow it down to keep them from running," Moe said. "In the second half, we got our running game going when they were having a difficult time.

"We knew they would go to Hayes and (Bob) Dandridge, so we doubled (coverage) there and left their guards free. But when they had a guard shooting, we had a man running at him."

Dandridge was high scorer for the Bullets with 25 points. Hayes had 22.

Hawk Queens gain All-WJC honors

The Amarillo College Badgerettes, winners of the Region V Girl's Tournament, dominated the Western Junior College All-Conference squad by placing three performers on the first team.

Howard College placed freshman guard JoAnn Lefridge on the elite first team, with sophomore Sherrie Coalson placing on the second team.

Other members of the first team include Nodia Vaughn of Western Texas, and the Amarillo trio of Tammi Crafton, Ramona Spencer and Christi Newman. Vaughn was the top vote getter with 56, followed by Lefridge, who accumulated 53.

Coalson, who recently signed with Abilene Christian, was joined on the second team by Emma Deanda of Odessa, Teresa Wright and Sandra Tiscler of Clarendon, and Linda Vaughn of South Plains. Vaughn is a freshman, while the rest are sophs.

BIG SPRING BAND SENIORS HAPPY — Band seniors take a break from their preparation for the National - International Music Festival in Denver. They, and the rest of the band, left for Colorado Thursday. The band will return Tuesday.

Steer Band travels to Denver

The Big Spring High School Steer Band left Big Spring Thursday, May 3 to take part in the National-International Music Festival in Denver, Colorado. They will compete in nine different categories over the span of the contest and will return to Big Spring on May 8.

Two of the nine categories of competition will be concert performance and sightreading. The band competed locally in these events at UIL on April 25.

For the concert portion, the band will perform Blue Lake, a contemporary piece of music by John Barnes Chance, and Mannin Veen, a tone poem by Haydn Wood. Mannin Veen features soloists Toni Myrick on flute, Liz Ruiz on oboe, Jim Griffin on clarinet, Scott Shortes on cornet, Steve Chavez on euphonium, and Carl Condray on tuba.

The sightreading portion of the contest consists on an unknown work of music given to the band that must be performed without rehearsal.

Another category is parade competition. The Steer Band will march in the parade along with all other bands entered in competition.

Coahoma High

Track team places second in meet

By LISA PETTITT

The Coahoma varsity boys track team traveled to C-City for the district track meet on April 21. The team took second place. Those placing first in the 400 meter relay were Tim Childers, James Dever, Ronald Sundy, and Larry Newton. Gary Gee placed first, and Cecil Walker placed fourth in the 110 meter hurdles. Bryan Neff took sixth place in the 800 meter dash, and Cecil Walker came in third in the 400 meter dash. Placing in the 100 meter dash was Larry Newton, second; Tim Childers third; and Ronald Sundy, fourth.

In the 200 meter dash, Ronald Sundy came in second; Larry Newton, third; and Tim Childrers, sixth. Gary Gee took fourth place in the 300 meter hurdles while James Dever placed fifth, and Ambrosia Uranga placed sixth. Mike Meyer took fourth place in the mile run. Tracy Frazier took fourth place in the shot put, and Jerry Roever took sixth place in discus. Randy Wallace placed second in the pole vaulting event.

Gary Gee palced first in the high jump and fifth in the broad jump. Placing third in the mile relay were Clint Elliott, Gary Gee, James Dever, and Decil Walker. Those qualifying for regional were Tim Childers, James Dever, Ronald Sundy, and Larry Newton in the 400 meter relay. Gary Gee qualified for the high jump and 110 meter hurdles. Also qualifying were Randy Wallace in pole vaulting, Ronald Sundy in the 200 meter dash, and Larry Newton in the 100 meter dash.

The results from the regional track meet were quite honorable. Randy Wallace placed second in pole vaulting, Gary Gee, second in the 100 meter hurdles, Ronald Sundy, fifth in the 200 meter dash, and Larry Newton, sixth in the 100 yard dash. There were two state qualifiers. Gary Gee qualified for the 100 meter hurdles, and Randy Wallace qualified for pole vaulting.

Roxanne Daniell qualified to go as alternate to the state U.I.L. contest in Ready Writing.

There will be a talent show May 18 at an assembly. Any talent is invited to apply in the office. Students interested should contact Mrs. Hanson or Janie Wallace. Gymnastics, singing, or comedy routines are invited to compete. Singing groups are also invited.

Last week was Western Week at Coahoma High. Everyone wore their hats and boots. This activity was to get the spirits up for those competing in the school rodeo, which was Friday, May 4.

The band left Thursday morning at 7:00 a.m. to journey to Houston. They have several activities planned through Saturday and will return Sunday. They will visit the Galleria Mall and Astroworld.

Twirler and drum m ajor tryouts were held Thursday, April 26. The new twirlers for the 79-80 school year are Rhonda Griffin, head and feature twirler; Louise Shive, Terri Jo Cook, and Kim Thompson. Head drum major is Kellie Birkhead, and assistant drum major is Lynn Brockman.

There will be a blood drive Monday, May 7, in the home economics department. Those 17 years of age need to get a minor donor card from their parents to sign. The blood drive will begin at 8:30 a.m.

FHA members elect new officers

By NIKKI TIDWELL

The FHA had a meeting Tuesday, May 1 where they elected new officers and made plans for the annual banquet which will be held Tuesday, May 8 in the school cafeteria. The theme will be "Youth of Today - Tomorrow's future." The guests will be each of the girl's parents and the FHA beau, Clay Kingston. It will be concluded with the installation of next year's officers. These are Fran Halfmann, president; Juanita Lopez, 1st vice-president; Nancy Batla, 2nd vice-president; Janet Hoelscher, secretary; Crystal Overton, treasurer; Denise Schwartz, historian; Lani Kay Frerich, reporter; Mary Kay Halfmann, parliamentarian; and Anita Jansa, recreation leader. Practice for the installation and the skits will be Monday during activity period.

The feature seniors this week are Carmen Ramirez, Tammy Sawyers, and Jeanie Schwartz. Carmen has played volleyball for three years. She has been a teacher's aid for three years and this year she is a member of the band. Her junior and senior years she also served as a stage hand for the one-act play.

Tammy has been a member of the Beta Club and FHA for four years. She has been a member of the Student Council for three years and the FTA for two years. This year she is the class secretary. She has played volleyball for four years, and she was captain her senior year. She also played tennis for four years and she was a regional qualifier her junior and senior years. She was elected "neatest" two years. She has also been elected class favorite, most athletic, and Miss G.C.H.S. She received honorable mention in the one-act play her sophomore year. Tammy is a member of the Bearbat Hall of Fame.

Jeanie has been a member of pep squad and F.H.A. for four years. She was a manager for basketball her junior and senior years and tennis manager on her sophomore year. She has worked in the office for two years and has been a teacher's aide for three years.

Big Spring High

"Up With People" to present assembly

By SCOTT CAMPBELL

On Thursday, May 3, the Big Spring High School Steer Band left to go on tour, the National-International Music Festival in Denver, Colorado. They will compete in 9 different categories. Among the various categories there are concert performance, sightreading, parade competition, field marching, and the newly-organized Drill Team will also compete in the contest. Songs featured in the competition are "William Tell Overture", "Horsin' Around", "Espana", "Eli's Coming", the wedding dance from "Fiddler on the Roof", "Bottle Dance", "Prime Time", "Boogie Nights", and the theme from "S.W.A.T.". Also Kathy Birdwell, Steer Band Sweetheart will be entered in competition for the Queen of the Festival. The members will return on May 8.

"Up With People" cast members will be featured Monday in a morning assembly to provide a sneak preview of the musical variety show to be held Tuesday, May 8 at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

All seniors are reminded of the Senior Talent Show rehearsals to begin on Monday, May 7. They will continue through the week until the night of the performance, May 7. They will continue through the week until the night of performance, May 11. Tickets will be $1 at the door. Questions should be directedat Dereck Horton, chairman, or any senior class officer. The proceeds will go toward the senior gift for Big Spring High.

Cindy Knight, Bobby Brazel, Wendy Pegan, and Tiffany Whiteside along with Vice-Principal Craig Fischer, Student Council sponsor, attended the state Student Council Convention in San Antonio, Texas.

Election for sophomore, junior and senior Student Council representatives will be held Wednesday, May 9, on the patio. Campagin signs should not be hung in the cafeteria.

On Thursday, May 9, Student Council representatives will give a party for the adolescent wart at the State Hospital. According to senior representative Cindy Mullins, the jubilation will start at 7:30 p.m.; members are to meet at the hospital.

On Monday, the Big Spring High School Key Club will meet at 6 p.m. in the study hall. The May 22 banquet plans will be discussed as well as fundraising and membership development programs. Mr. Rothell, sponsor, says membership applications can be obtained in the Guidance office.

Varsity Cheerleaders for the 1979-80 school year will be working for a day at the Sonic Drive-In to raise money for their many and varied activities and supplies. Mrs. Nancy Dunuum, advisor, is counting on a big turn out.

Seniors, as well as other students, can be looking forward to a special senior dedicated Corral edition to be distributed on May 22, the last day for the seniors. Any idea is welcomed; they may be turned into journalism, room 120.

The Quill and Scroll sponsored car wash that was planned for Saturday, May 5, has been postponed until May 12 because of the bad weather that had been forecasted. Tickets for the car wash may be attained from any journalism student or through the journalism room.

Mrs. Dana Strong, journalism instructor, will host a Quill and Scroll meeting at her home, 3205 Duke, at 7:30 Monday night, May 7. The program will concern the car wash, banquet and induction.

Journalism participants will celebrate their year of work Friday, May 11, at the Brass Nail. Dr. Rothstein from Odessa College will be the speaker.

Mr. Joe Reed, biology instructor, and his wife will accompany the winners of the Permian Basin Science Fair to the Internationa Science Fair. The fair is in San Antono, Texas, May 7-12. Projects in science and engineering will be entered in competition at the fair.

Members of the Future Teachers of America had a meeting Wednesday, May 2 to elect officers for the 1979-80 school year. Officers elected were: president Angela Kohl assisted by vice president Ronda Beene, secretary Marianne Burchelle, Treasurer Glenda Koh, parliamentarian Carolyn Torres, and reporter Susan Proffitt. There will be a hamburger supper for all Future Teachers of America members Monday, May 14 at 6 p.m. It will be held at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Jenkins.

Runnels Jr. High

Choir members receive high ratings in contest

By SEAN GRAVES

"Runnels leads the Way" is the theme of the red and white annuals which were distributed Tuesday to eager students who had waited all year to see their picture, and those of their friends, in print. Proving that 1978-79 was an outstanding year, the annuals passed from hand to hand as students excitedly signed book after book. Friday a thirty minute annual signing party climaxed the week. Members of the annual staff and their sponsor are Kim Grant, Bret Crenweldge, David Armstrong, Sean Graves, Becky Stephens, and Mrs. Cornelia Gary.

The Runnels Choirs, directed by Miss Joyce Hull, went to the U.I.L. contest in Odessa, Wednesday. The local choirs made the best ratings of all the schools represented. The girls choir made a 1 in concert and a 2 in sight reading. The boys made a 2 in concert and a 2 in sight reading. The Runnels choir should be congratulated on their good ratings.

The answer to the week before last calendar clue game was "spoon," and the students to correctly answer it were: Stephanie Russel, Debbie Hamill, and Theresa Deflitch. The answser to last week's game was "Thomas Nast". Students who first answered it correctly were: Susan Smith, Mary Lin Spencer, and Patricia Jones.

The fifth six week's honor rolls were announced Monday. The following students earned straight A's on their report cards: Teresa Alexander, Loanne Biddison, Stacey Bott, Heidi Brown, Bret Crenwelge, Monica Dominquez, Kim Grant, Sean Graves, Patricia Jones, Kristy Matheww, Carla Maynard, David Moore, Leslye Overman, Jamie Phillips, Amy Ragan, Kelly Rogers, Garry Spence, Esther Strain, and Gene Warren.

He isn't afraid to say: 'I don't know'

Clements makes feelings clear

and
JIM DAVIS
HARTE-HANKS AUSTIN BUREAU

AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements frowned, whether from the question or from the glare of TV lights is debatable. Sounding like a stern father lecturing children, he leaned against a microphone-cluttered lectern and said:

"It serves no purpose for us to do our negotiating with respect to solutions for Brother Roloff out here with the media. You know, you people can't decide anything."

It was blunt, but that's the way Clements deals with the press—and apparently everyone else.

Reporters had been grilling him about negotiations over regulation of evangelist Lester Roloff's homes for children.

Clements answered as best as he could and then made clear what was obvious — that he couldn't tell everything about on-going negotiations.

During other news conferences, Clements has shown exasperation when reporters asked questions he thought already had been answered. When he doesn't like the way things are going, the governor makes clear his feelings.

Capitol reporters don't mind at all. They generally give Clements high marks for his dealings with the press.

He holds weekly news conferences—a big improvement after six years of reporter-dodging Dolph Briscoe as governor.

Clements' major plus, however, is that he seems to enjoy the give and take of news conferences or interviews.

He doesn't talk around subjects he doesn't want to discuss or doesn't know about. He isn't afraid to say: "I don't know."

The governor's press relations may seek of no importance to anyone but the governor and reporters, but most Texans will know Clements only through what they read or see on television.

Briscoe felt uneasy with reporters and projected an air of aloofness through them to the voters, who told him last year he could have all the privacy he wanted back in Uvalde.

The late-session crunch of legislation this year may be the worst in history.

The appropriations process is running late, major legislation is backed up and lawmakers have numerous pet bills they want to pass.

May will be interesting month for legislature-watching, but also a disturbing one.

Bills will go flying through both houses like bats through a cave. That is certain. The only question is how much guano they will leave behind.

During debate in the Senate last week, Sen. A.R. "Babe" Schwartz of Galveston and Sen. Carl Parker of Port Arthur argued about definitions of "Center" and "branch" in relation to senior colleges.

Parker told Schwartz—the legislature's only Jew—"I could call you a Baptist, but that wouldn't make you one."

Schwartz replied: "You could call most of the Baptists in here Baptists, and it wouldn't make them so."

Homecoming at Sagerton

SAGERTON — The Sagerton Homecoming has been set for Saturday and Sunday, May 26 and 27, at the Sagerton School Community Building. This is the sixth homecoming (held every five years) and also marks the Fiftieth Anniversary of the school at the present site. Three school buildings were built between 1907 and 1964. Commemorative plates will be sold picturing the last building built.

Reece Clark is chairman of the Homecoming Committee and some twenty people have been appointed to help him.

The Sagerton Homecoming event is unique in that no tickets are sold for the Sunday dinner; only donations are given. Reservations are requested.

A special feature will be a bus tour on Saturday afternoon between 3 and 5 p.m.

New owner of restaurant

Fell in love at first sight with Big Spring

Vincent M. Partsch, formerly of Newport News, Va., is the new owner-manager of Family's Country Kitchens Restaurant, 308 Gregg.

Partsch fell in love at first sight with Big Spring, he said.

"I moved from Virginia to get away from the humidity, and I really love the weather here. I plan to be here quite awhile, and I have already found Big Spring to be one of the friendliest, most cooperative communities I have ever lived in," he said.

Partsch speaks from experience. He grew up in Poway, Calif., near San Diego, which he left to serve a hitch in the Air Force.

While in the service, he traveled extensively and he served as a dental technician, which, he said, gave him his first experience in management.

After the service, Partsch worked for five years as the manager of a fast-food hamburger restaurant in Newport News.

Following this, Partsch served as manager of a Wendy's Restaurant, also in Newport News. It was one of the chain's highest volume restaurants in the nation, said Partsch, who had 65 employees serving under him there.

Partsch left Wendy's to become the owner-operator of another chain eatery, Bigsby's, again in Newport News. This offered a wider variety on the menu, and a greater challenge for the manager.

From there, Partsch traveled to Big Spring in November, and spent several months gathering experience at another local restaurant. He has already instituted several innovations at Family's Country Kitchens which are sure to please customers here.

VINCENT PARTSCH

The restaurant will now be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays, an hour later than before. It will also remain open on Sundays from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the first time.

The salad bar at Family's Country Kitchens stretches 12 feet, and should supply the ingredients for even the most imaginative salad maker. In addition, the buffet-style restaurant serves many varieties of cooked vegetables and nine or 10 meat dishes, said the new manager.

"And our chef, James Johnson, makes everything from scratch; no canned gravies or anything like that," he added.

The restaurant will not lack atmosphere, either, said Partsch, who has added several decorating touches of his own to the interior of the restaurant.

All in all, Family's Country Kitchens promises to be an eating experience you won't forget.

VILLAGE AT THE SPRING

A SUBDIVISION TO THE CITY OF

BIG SPRING, TEXAS

EXCLUSIVE RESIDENTIAL LOTS

BEAUTIFUL TOWNHOUSE TYPE

CONDOMINIUMS

The Village at the Spring is not just another sub-division that has lots to build on, but a deluxe community, sparse on difficult to maintain yards, and long on lovely condominiums and homesites. Minimum yard maintenance was the key word in the planning and the zoning of the land. Natural growth left as it has always been, is encouraged at every turn on lots, by-ways, along planned paths and the shore area of Comanche Trail Lake. The vistas created for the lots on these natural paths and the lake against the nearby mountains, with the historic "big spring", the part of the city's skyline, is unequaled in West Texas anywhere.
Easy maintenance flows over into the building restrictions; clay tile roof is required on homes, not only for the performance and maintenance aspect, but to add to the beauty of the site, there next to the lake. Together with stucco or brick walls makes homes greatly functional and gives an appearance that is sure to be called Mediterranean or Californian, but for our own West Texas use, it may be called Southwestern. Only 1600 square feet of building is required by the architectural control committee, because quality is more important here than size. Lots are living size, not "working" size. A typical lot is about 72 feet wide. Pier and beam or split level building works well on some of the scenic lots, so as to minimize expansive dirt work and to preserve the natural low maintenance beauty of the land. The "Village" has easy naturals for leisure living, the best in the entire area. Look at it this way:

- Easy access from a major thoroughfare (U.S. 87 South)
- Close to regional shopping centers, Coronado and Highland South
- Free access for all residents to the beaches and lake — sailing, fishing, and paddle boating may be enjoyed. Recent catches include a 47 pound catfish and an 8 pound bass.
- Designated paths for walking and jogging, on the property
- Walking or Golf cart trail (across our own canyon bridge) to the unusual Comanche Trail Park for golfing at a beautiful and complete 18 hole City course, swimming pools, picnic areas, a very well equipped childrens playground area, and old stone amphitheatre which provides an enchanting backdrop for the summer musicials held in the park, an up-to-date, well lighted tennis center with pro-shop, and the popular Dora Roberts Community Center.
- Townhouses are being built for condominium living on the property
- A small shopping plaza is planned for the future.
- Very near to great restaurants and clubs, and motels.
- Close to the Big Spring Country Club county road, off U.S. 87

The master planned property under development lays along the South shore of Comanche Trail Lake, Highway U.S. 87 South on the East and generally along Comanche Trail Park on the West. A great deal of planning has been done, by leading professionals to insure that "Village at the Spring" will be a fun place to live, in a highly respected area of the city, and in a manner successful people desire.

LOOKING BACK 7 YEARS?????? Remember the great buys in HUD homes? They're gone, but a similar opportunity exists now — only in Big Spring. Capehart properties on pretty winding streets-trees, brick, 3 br, 1½ bth, refrig air, mid $20's. Best selection now.

EXECUTIVE HOME Front to back door charm — this aristocrat is a fine blend of desired features: liv rm, fireplace, form dining area, plus sunny breakfast rm, spacious closets, 3 br, 2 bth, dbl garage. Nestled among expensive Edwards Hts. homes. $68,500.

-0- DOWN — VA loan or little as $350.00 down FHA, plus usual Buyers closing costs. 3 br 1½ baths, central heat, air, garage, fenced yd, Low $20's.

$8,600.00 Not one, but two 1 bedrm homes. One with pretty vinyl siding. Ideal for retirement, rental or 1st home. Priced to sell!!!!

SILVER HEELS area-acreage lo as $800. per acre in 20 acre tracts, or $1,250 smaller tracts. Also, beautiful, incomparable 8 acre home site with water well fronting 2 roads.

$7,500.00 — ACREAGE Approx. 10 acres, wtr tap, cheapest land we've ever listed on IS 20 nr Birdwell Lane.

Howard College history instructor to retire May 11

Leslie Kelley, long-time instructor in United States and Western European history at Howard College, is retiring from full-time service with the college at May 11 close of the spring semester.

LESLIE KELLEY

He will retire with the distinction of having served the college longer than any other faculty member. He is also the only one who has served under all four men who have served as presidents of the college: Dr. E. C. Dodd, Dr. W. A. Hunt, Dr. Thomas Salter, and the current president, Dr. Charles Hays. Kelley has a cumulative total of 24 years with the college, four years as part-time instructor in Old and New Testament, and the past 20 years full-time instructor in history. In addition to teaching duties, he has been head of the Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences the past seven years. Kelley joined the full-time faculty in June, 1959, at the invitation of then president, Dr. Hunt, moving here from Lubbock.

In addition to instructional responsibilities he has been an active member of Texas Junior College Teacher's Association, National Education Association, American Association of University Professors and American Historical Association.

He has authored articles of area history which have been published in Ranch Headquarters Quarterly, the West Magazine, and several regional newspapers. In Big Spring he has spoken to numerous club and civic organizations, worked with high school interscholastic league literary events, served as faculty advisor of Baptist Student Union, and in other ways has represented the college.

The retiring instructor estimates that during the nearly quarter century he has been associated with the college approximately 7,000 students have been under his instruction.

He says, "Of the 7000 I have liked and appreciated every one of them. I have tried to impress them all with the fact that history is a dramatic story filled with high adventure and humor. I feel that most of them came to like and appreciate history, and that is the important thing."

He adds, "These have been years of change in education. To me it has been a disappointing thing that studies in the humanities and other subjects of academic nature are not emphasized to the degree that one time they were. However, it is encouraging to note that it seems the pendulum is about to swing in the other direction."

Kelley concluded, "Concerning my long association with the college, I am reminded of words spoken by Theodore Roosevelt when he was retiring after a stormy tenure as president of our country, 'I have enjoyed every minute of it.'"

Realizing that interests of students and methods of teaching were changing when he came to the college in the beginning of the turbulent '60's, Kelley led his division in building up a vast library of films and other audio-visual equipment, and has placed library book orders that have made the history and other social sciences holdings in the local college among the tops in Texas community colleges.

Kelley is a native of Snyder. In high school he was two years editor of the campus newspaper and three year member of the debating team. His qualifications as a teacher include extensive travels in the United States, North Africa and Europe when he was a member of the Army Air Force in World War II, serving in Europe with the Ninth Air Force Advance Service Command.

Following three years Air Force service he enrolled in Hardin-Simmons University where in 1948 he was recipient of the Featherston Award for excellence in biographical writing.

As a college and Southwestern Seminary student he was pastor of churches in Roby and Snyder. Later, serving as pastor of a Lubbock church, he earned the Master of Arts degree from Texas Tech, later completing all course work for the Ph.D, with a major in United States and European history, and minor in American and English literature.

He and Mrs. Kelley originally came to Big Spring from Fort Worth in July, 1951, when he became pastor of the Prairie View Baptist Church. This led to his association with the college on a part-time basis. He also has served as pastor of Salem Baptist Church, and recently was interim pastor of First Baptist, Knott, for eight months. As college instructor he has on weekends been guest minister in many churches in a broad area bounded by Odessa, Lamesa, Snyder, Sweetwater and Big Lake.

Mrs. Kelley also holds the B.A. degree from Hardin-Simmons and has done extensive work in the graduate school of Texas Tech in education, and has 20 years teaching experience in elementary schools of Anson, Snyder, Big Spring and Lubbock.

Starting Wednesday

Anthony Hunt Library at HC will close for inventory

The Anthony Hunt Library at Howard College will close for inventory Wednesday. The spring semester officially ends May 11. Registration for the first summer term is scheduled May 31, with June 1 designated as the first day of classes.

The Library will remain closed following completion of inventory until the beginning of the new summer semester. Summer hours for the college library are 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Sunday, May 6, marks the last Sunday afternoon for library opening until the fall term begins Aug. 27.

Mary Crawford, College Librarian, says there is still plenty of time to come to the Campus library and secure some favorite reading material. Just arrived is the latest shipment of "Paperback Parade" books — newest in popular reading issues.

If one has been watching the PBS Masterpiece Theatre Presentations on Lillie Langtry, he or she will be intrigued by a novel by David Butler, upon which the television series is based. Lillie Langtry, along with Queen Alexandra (wife of Edward VII), was acknowledged to be the most beautiful woman in Edwardian England.

Lillie was Edward VII's mistress, yet she was protected by Queen Alexandra herself when she bore an illegitimate child in secret. Lillie was courted by King Leopold of Belgium, loved by Oscar Wilde and painted by Millais. The novel takes Lillie's story from her girlhood through the glamour, scandals and tragedies to 1902 and Edward VII's accession to the throne.

For an abrupt change of pace, one can take out if life is a bowl of cherries — what am I doing in the pits? — the latest by Erma Bombeck and a Book-of-the-Month Club selection. Women read Erma and laugh, when they want to cry, over domestic dilemmas. Her driver's license lists her occupation as housewife — but she is also the author of 5 books and has had a syndicated column appear for 13 years in 700 newspapers. Erma says she'll hang all her awards and recognitions in her utility room where she's earned them (but she's never won any). She says she "brags a lot—and her hobby is dust."

There is always a latest political book. A Time for Truth was written by William E. Simon, a former Cabinet member. It has become a runaway best seller, and it is a book about our Freedom—what is happening to it and what we can do about it—before it is too late. To quote from the author:

"There has never been such freedom before in America to publish anything and everything, including the most scurrilous gossip; to take drugs and to prate to children about their alleged pleasures; to propagandize for bizarre sexual practices; to watch bloody and obscene entertainment.

CARD OF THANKS

In the deepest appreciation for all the kindness and love shown the W.R. Rogers family in our hour of need.
To Dr. Nell and Dr. Virgil Sanders and the hospital staff.
To Pastor Cravens for the beautiful and in depth service.
To our Christian brothers and sisters at Trinity Baptist Church for the prayers for spiritual strength and all the food for physical strength.
To the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 for the food and sweet thoughtfulness at this time.
To all our many friends, neighbors.

The W.R. Rogers Family

CARD OF THANKS

Perhaps you sang a lovely song,
Or sat quietly in a chair,
Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers.
If so, we saw them there.
Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words
As any friend could say;
Perhaps you prepared some tasty food,
Or maybe furnished a car;
Perhaps you rendered a service unseen,
Near at hand or from afar;
Whatever you did to console the heart
We thank you so much,
Whatever the part.

Charles & Kevin Reeves and Family

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to all our friends and neighbors who so generously gave of themselves to help us through our time of sorrow. We will always be grateful for your kind expressions of sympathy and your comforting words and prayers. May God bless you.

The Family of Maggie Gibbs

Up With People is coming to Big Spring!

Approximately 80 young people between the ages of 18 and 25 will unite in a two-hour performance, Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, guaranteed to keep you suspended in awe.

Up With People will present a musical extravaganza revealing a side of the human race most have forgotten — the positive side.

"People are what we're all about," revealed cast member Carolyn Merrow, who is one of three now in Big Spring to promote the show.

"Our purpose is to get people to look on the positive side of things," she added.

"Up With People was incorporated in 1968, a time of rioting and uneasiness among college-age kids. The show was promoted to make people realize that there was just as much good in kids as bad," conveyed the enthusiastic brunette from California.

Since its origination, the organization has endeavored to establish a format for communication and interaction between people of different cultures, nationalities, ages, and points of view.

It aims to help its participants, currently 400 from 17 countries, discover their potential in an effort to make the most constructive contribution to society possible.

"Up with People is known around the world through its international musical productions," stated Public Relations Manager Mark Kinney, another member of Up With People who arrived almost 3 weeks ago in order to educate Big Spring and surrounding communities as to what the organization is all about.

"It provides those participating the opportunity of experiencing various cultures, through travel, participating in all phases of the show production, and accepting responsibility of handling day-to-day cast operations," concluded the California native.

Such a program furnishes students involved in Up With People a creative educational framework and at the same time adds college credit to their academic goals.

"If everything I've learned out of my involvement with Up With People had to be narrowed down into one classification, I would have to say that maturity would be it," revealed Mark in reference to his accomplishments and benefits received from his participation in Up With People.

"Today, it's easy to get up in front of a crowd and talk. Working with the group gives you self confidence. You know what you have to do, and you just do it.

"I try to keep a high level of enthusiasm all of the time. Sure, sometimes we're not as well received by one place as another, but you can't let that bother you. I feel a greater sense of independence and my involvement in Up With People has made me completely aware of what I want to do with my life."

Mark, who someday wishes to own and operate his own restaurant business said the public relations and business aspects of Up With People have given him the confidence needed to venture out into the field.

Karen Issak, completing the promotional group for the nearing performnce of Up With People in Big Spring, explained that while on tour, each student lives with at least 80 host families and participates in approximately 230 performances.

"These experiences provide each one of us the opportunity to develop integrity as well as broader perspective," stated Karen, whose home is in Denver, Colorado.

"I now have a greater sense of compassion," continued Karen, "you learn to understand people from different backgrounds and you learn to understand their problems.

Karen recalls her very first day with Up With People.

"We all met at Tucson, Ariz. It was like a zoo. There were 400 people from all over the world trying to get to know each other in one room."

Karen revealed that she had also learned patience and how to cope with frustration since her involvement with the group.

In the 10-year history of Up With People, 4,500 young men and women from 30 different countries have performed in a 42 nations on six continents and have lived as guests in 40,000 homes.

"My involvement in Up With People has taught me not to judge a town by its appearance, but by the people who live there," explained Miss Merrow.

"Like Texas, everyone is so friendly as opposed to California where everyone is in too big of a hurry," she said.

For every one performance open to the public with an admission charge, this enthusiastic corporation for young people usually performs six non-income-producing appearances in settings such as high schools, senior citizen homes, elementary schools, hospitals and prisons, always leaving a tremendous impact on their audiences.

Contributions, large and small are depended upon to cover approximately 30 per cent of its operating costs.

Revenues earned from the public performances and sale of records and music provide only about 35 per cent of the needed income. From royalties and interest, approximately 5 per cent of its income is derived and 30 per cent is obtained from tuition and student fees. All gifts to Up With People are tax deductible as provided by law.

"Everyone making a gift automatically becomes a member of Up With People's Associate Program and is kept informed of the outreach and development of Up With People during the following year," explained the promotion crew who have worked diligently the past week to secure performance success in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

As for the performance of Up With People, those across the world who have witnessed the extravaganza have described it as 'captivating', 'uncomplicated' and 'contagious.'

For someone who has seen the professional performance of the organization, Up With People means bright, exciting music.

The shows of 1979 combine a disciplined vocal sound with the power of a 14-piece instrumental section.

Vigorous choreography, colorful costumes and audience involvement add to the impact of Up With People on stage.

A sequence of international folksongs and pageantry, a medley of hit tunes and steps of the past fifty years, and original compositions whose lyrics are, as expressed by Neue Zurcher Zeitung of Zurich, Switzerland, 'the reflections of a sane world,' are featured in the two-hour performance.

The new Dorothy Garrett Coliseum has yet to see a near capacity crowd at any one performance.

Here is the opportunity to attend a production which will appeal to all ages and all cultures and at the same time help the United Way.

As one reviewer put it, "It all adds up to the highest caliber family entertainment available today."

"This show, visually and musically, is one of the most captivating to be experienced here lately . . . The quality of the Up With People members is doubtlessly due to their flawless discipline . . . The lyrics are the reflections of a sane world."

International president highlight of luncheon

Many hours, days and months of planning and preparation culminated Friday when the members of Church Women United gathered at the First Christian Church for May Fellowship Day.

Church women and guests sat down to a lunch prior to the entertainment provided by Marilyn Newsom, Michelle Hunter, Jim K-Watrus, Margie Hill, Gayle Bledsoe and Charles Parham Jr.

Welcoming those attending was Mrs. Ben Boadle, Church Women United President. Other officers introduced included Mrs. Albert Davis, first vice president; Mrs. Paul Kionka, second vice president; Mrs. C. E. Lenox, secretary; Mrs. Ted Hatfield, treasurer; Mrs. Lee Porter, publicity; Mrs. Brig. Robert Ball, representative to Westside and Mrs. Darrell Fellows, past president and chairperson for the May Fellowship Day celebration.

Highlighting the event was guest speaker, Rev. Mary Louise Rowand, current international president of Church Women United.

Mrs. Rowand is an ordained minister in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and is the wife of Dr. E.C. Rowand, who recently retired as the minister of Central Christian Church, Dallas.

She is a trustee of Texas Christian University and Brite Divinity School as well as an outstanding church woman, church leader and community leader.

"We all want to be more than we are," stated Rev. Rowand, "because we are more than we are?"

The international president revealed to the large crowd in attendance that it is "not easy to lead women" due partly to the fact that women are in a revolution against women.

She revealed five gradual steps taken by women over the years in an attempt to express themselves as persons. She stated that this was the "I want to be me" era.

The first step taken by women was earning the right to vote and hold office, followed by elimination of double standards, thus allowing women to be treated equal to men.

The third was the clothing revolution; the fourth obtaining the right to smoke and fifth and final was the job revolution.

Rev. Rowand claimed women now make up 42 percent of the working force in the United States.

Concluding her enlightening and informative talk, Rev. Rowand revealed the one major crisis in the world today — transformation.

"We must harness some of the things loose now, or we're doomed."

The event was ended with a gift presentation to Rev. Rowand by Mrs. Boadle.

Double-ring ceremony performed in Arkansas

Anna J. Dobbs became the bride of Marlin R. Medlin in a double-ring ceremony recently in the Armorel Baptist Church, Armorel, Ark.

The Rev. Wayne Moore, pastor, performed the wedding before baskets of apricot gladiolus, white mums and yellow pompons flanking a branched candelabrum entwined with greenery. Apricot satin bows enhanced the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Shirley Crenshaw, Blytheville, Ark., and Solon O. Dobbs Jr., Armorel, Ark. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Medlin, 2114 Grace, Big Spring.

Providing the wedding music for the 7 p.m. ceremony was Steve Hudson, vocalist, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jack Ashmore.

The bride was presented down the aisle in an organza and chiffon gown designed with a standup collar and long, full sleeves. Chantilly lace and crystal sequins accentuated the bodice and chapel-length train. Her full-length veil, edged in lace, fell from a headpiece of white organza encircled with crystal sequins.

She carried a colonial bouquet of apricot roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Raymond Moore, Memphis, Tenn., served as matron of honor. The bride's sister, Pam Orchard, Blytheville, Ark., attended as bridesmaid.

Phillip Medlin, Big Spring, served his brother as best man. Groomsman was Carl Thibodeaux, Blytheville, Ark. Solon O. Dobbs III, Armorel, Ark. and James V. Smith Jr., Holland, Ark. seated guests.

Flower girl was Amy Thibodeaux, Blytheville, Ark. Ring Bearer was Jason Alexander, Cooter, Ark.

The Armorel Baptist Church fellowship hall was the setting of a reception held immediately following the ceremony in honor of the newlyweds.

Serving were Mrs. Linda Alexander, sister of the bride; and Mrs. Renda Dobbs, sister-in-law of the bride. Annette Orchard, also a sister-in-law of the bride, registered guests.

The new Mrs. Medlin is a graduate of Armorel High School and attended Memphis State University, Memphis, Tenn. The groom is a Forsan High School graduate and received his B.A. Degree in counseling from Lamar University, Beaumont, Tex. His Master's Degree in counseling was obtained from Memphis State University, Memphis, Tenn.

The couple now reside in Parsons, Tenn., following their wedding trip to Memphis, Tenn.

Teen wants to be next disco queen

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 years old and I never thought I'd be writing to you about a problem, but here I am.

I want to become a rock singer very badly and have dreams of being the next queen of disco.

Well, I thought I had it made when I tried for a singing part in our school play. I thought I was terrific but the part went to the most popular girl in school.

I'm so disappointed I don't know what to do. If I talk to any of the judges, I'm afraid I will start crying.

I can't talk to my mother because there is a lack of communication between us. I can't talk to my counselor because I'd rather talk to a complete stranger.

My best girlfriend decided she had enough of her own problems and has decided not to listen to mine.

Please, Dr. Wallace, what can I do? I want to be a singer. It's a dream I can never lose. — Harriet, Walnut Creek, Calif.

Harriet: I'll admit that when I was a high school principal, I felt some students made it on popularity, not talent, but that's the way life is.

This disappointment is only a temporary setback, not a defeat. Keep the faith and continue to practice. Get involved in school and church choirs.

Donna Summer got her start by singing in church. She didn't try out for her high school musical because she didn't think she was good enough.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 and my parents are really making my life a mess. They don't seem to care about my needs. They only buy me clothes at the beginning of the school year. I wouldn't complain except they bring home big fat paychecks.

They are also letting our house go down the drain. I'm so embarrassed when my friends come over. At one time our house was the nicest in the neighborhood.

Please tell me what to do to shape them up. — C.W., Joliet, Ill.

C.W.: I know this sounds cruel but I don't mean to be. But at 14 you can baby-sit and do other odd jobs to earn enough to add to your wardrobe. This will give you a form of independence and will allow you to buy the clothes that you particularly enjoy.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE BURNS

Mr. and Mrs. Burns honored on 50th

Mr. and Mrs. George Burns will be feted with a reception celebrating 50 years of marriage today from 2-4 p.m. in their home.

The couple met in 1927 in the Midway Community south of Lamesa and were married May 11, 1929, in Big Spring by Claude Wingo, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Born in Riesel, Tex., Mr. Burns farmed throughout his life until his retirement in 1967. Mrs. Burns, the former Ollie Ballew, was born in Collin County, Tex.

Their home is located on a farm 2½ miles west of Ackerly on FM 2002.

Three children were reared by the Burns who are acting as hosts for the celebration. They include Mrs. Don (Shirley) Frazier, Albuquerque, N.M.; and Mrs. Gene (Dorothy) Burrow; and Wayne Burns, both of Big Spring.

They have seven grandchildren.

Everyone is invited to come by for refrestments and visit the couple on their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Mrs. Annie O'Keefe celebrates 95th

Annie O'Keefe was recently honored on her 95th birthday at the Park View Manor nursing home.

Born Annie Scholz April 29, 1884 in Stanton, her family moved to Big Spring when she was an infant.

On April 24, 1903, she married the late Thomas O'Keefe. They had one daughter, Irene, who now resides in Arlington.

Mrs. O'Keefe is a member of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church and a former member of the Firemen Ladies and the Altar Society.

Senic Chapter ABWA receives prison insight

Mayor Wade Choate has issued a proclamation declaring May American Business Women's Association Scholarship Month in the City of Big Spring. In his statement he salutes the American Business Women's Association for their "Efforts toward opening the doors of educational opportunity, and developing an informed and responsible citizenry."

ABWA's Scenic Chapter met Tuesday night at the Country Kitchen for their May meeting with President Dolores LeVier presiding.

Two of Scenic Chapters Scholarship recipients were introduced. Barbara Myers and Leslie Stovall are both taking nursing courses. Barbara is at Malone and Hogan Hospital and Leslie is attending Howard College.

Bert Johnson III, facility manager for the new Minimum Security Prison was introduced as the speaker by Ms. Marie Rowland. Johnson has been with the prison systems over 11 years and came to Big Spring from Safford, Ariz.

The speaker said there are seven department heads here now and they have been coming in at two-week intervals. The prison will cover 63 acres at the old Webb Air Force facility and when completed there will be 500 inmates.

Completion is expected by October. There will be a fully accredited hospital and two factories will be brought in. The industries will be a cable factory which is being moved here from McNiel Island and a glove factory which will make five different kinds of gloves. Three-hundred inmate employees will be in the factory.

The prison will have 120 employees and should bring in a $3 million payroll to the City of Big Spring.

All prisoners will be screened by the federal prison systems and many of them will be highly skilled people. There will be classes held at the prison for those who would like to get their G.E.D. and also for those who need and want higher education.

Vickie Morrow was installed as a new member and Norma Morrow from Cactus Chapter was a guest.

Homemakers schedule style show

The Center Point Extension Homemakers Club will sponsor a May Day Tea in the Kentwood Center Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Highlighting the event will be a style show staged by members using the theme "What the well dressed women wear from morning till night."

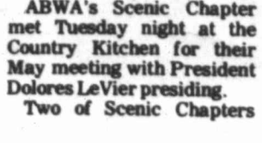

Garments modeled will be a Burlesque of the incoming new spring styles. Mrs. Mattie Wren will introduce the narrator, Mrs. Ireba Griffith, program chairman.

The affair is open to the public and everyone is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Shower fetes bride-elect

Natalie Mayo, bride-elect of Larry Shaeffer, was the honoree at a wedding shower in the Trintiy Baptist Church fellowship hall April 23.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Jan Powell, Mrs. Glenda Long, Mrs. Lila Adkins, Mrs. Deantha Cotton, Mrs. Mildred Hooser, and Mrs. VaLinda Stout.

Miss Mayo was presented with a corsage of peach carnations. Her mother, Mrs. Mozelle Osborne, received a blue carnation corsage and the prospective bridegroom's mother was given a yellow carnation corsage.

Hostess gift was a set of procelain cookware.

The table was draped with pure white organza cloth and enhanced with blue and green ribbon. Accenting the setting was a silver and crystal candelabrum entwinedwith English Ivy. Blue candles and crystal and silver appointments were used.

Clusters of peach flowers adorned a white sheet cake.

Miss Mayo and Shaeffer will be married June 1 in the Trinity Baptist Church.

Officers elected

The Big Spring Garden Club met at the Big Spring Country Club for a spring luncheon May 2 with Mrs. D. S. Riley, J.C. Pickle and W.G. Wilson Jr. hosting the event.

Mrs. J. I. Balch, president, was in charge of the business session and each member answered roll call naming the ribbons they had won at the spring flower placement show held at the home of Mrs. Grady Cunningham.

A Golden Gardener Award was presented to Mrs. Clyde Angel for her long-time service.

Mrs. Balch thanked Mrs. John Davis for her composition of this year's scrapbook.

An installation service of new officers was conducted by Mrs. L.B. Edwards choosing "A Chain of Power," as her theme.

New officers installed were Mrs. James W. Cowan, president; Mrs. Earnest Wade Green, first vice president; Mrs. John Hogan, second vice president; Mrs. O. T. Brewster, recording secretary; Mrs. Grady Cunningham, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lillah Adkins, treasurer; and Mrs. Noble Reed, parliamentarian.

Members were charged with their duties and presented a representative color of ribbon for their office, which was pinned a circle, joined in a circle to form a rainbow chain.

At the close of the session, in-coming President Mrs. Cowan announced the chairmen and committee members.

The next meeting will be held in September.

ADELLE SMITH
Artist of the Month

Chamber elects Artist of Month

"Painting is fun at any age, but I can wholeheartedly recommend it as a retirement pastime," stated Adelle Smith after the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce announced her as Artist of the Month.

Mrs. Smith revealed that a few years before retirement from Cosden in 1976, she spent many evenings in art classes and a few weekends at special seminars, but she had little time to practice at home what she was learning in class.

"Now that I have more time, painting is still not something I do every day — I wait for theright mood."

Mrs. Smith is a member of 11th and Birdwell Church of Christ in which she takes part in the various services classes and activities of the church.

Other interests of this artist include restoring antiques, and gardening.

She explained, however, that her high priority goes to oil painting, with limited interest in pastels, watercolors and mixed media.

Mrs. Smith's daughter, Teresa Broughton, has given her much encouragement and support in her painting.

"The art of painting has brought much joy into my own life, and hopefully, some of my creations have brightened the lives of others," concluded the new Artist of the Month.

High blood pressure serious

By JANET ROGERS,
County Extension Agent

The Howard County Council on Aging and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are again sponsoring a high blood pressure screening for all adults 60 years old or older.

The screening will be Tuesday, at the Howard County Senior Citizens Center, First Presbyterian Church, 7th and Runnels. The screening will be conducted from 1-4:30 p.m. Check your blood pressure and help yourself to a longer, healthier life.

Efforts to achieve good health and a longer life reflect a current trend among Americans today. People are exercising more, improving their eating habits, and giving up smoking. As a result, they feel better and are helping themselves to a healthier life.

For some persons, one way to achieve a long and healthy life is to take medication regularly. That's one of the things a doctor might prescribe if a patient has high blood pressure. When high blood pressure is not detected and treated, it makes a person especially susceptible to a stroke, heart disease, kidney disease or other disabilities.

Treatment on a daily basis, often with medication, sometimes by diet — usually for the rest of their lives — is what's required for people with high blood pressure. There is usually no cure for the disease. But, medication is only effective each day it's taken. If patients do not understand this aspect of the treatment regimen, they may think that a lowered blood pressure means it's been cured. That's not true. If they stop taking medication, their blood pressure will probably go back up again. High blood pressure must be treated one day at a time, every day.

In addition to medication, physicians often advise patients with high blood pressure to stop smoking, lose weight, reduce salt in their diet and exercise more. This good advice because it helps the medication work more effectively. If medication has been prescribed, the other measures usually can't control blood pressure by themselves. Sometimes patients make a mistake and choose to stop smoking or lose weight instead of taking their medication. That's a serious mistake — they should do all the things the doctor tells them, not just one or two.

Some diseases have obvious symptoms, such as a cough or a rash that can be treated. High blood pressure is not like that — it usually has no symptoms. But some people think that they should "feel" something, such as a headache or dizziness before they take their medication. They're wrong. They should take it every day even though they don't have symptoms.

People often think that high blood pressure is related to being nervous or tense. They are probably confusing hypertension, the medical term for high blood pressure, with nervous tension. The fact is, nervous people as well as calm people, can have high blood pressure. The only way to know if someone's blood pressure is up is to measure it. No one can tell for sure by the way he or she feels.

Mrs. Highley new member

The home of Mrs. Luke Fortenberry, 1207 Lloyd, was the site of the May 2 meeting of the Planters Garden Club.

Presiding was Mrs. Paul Guy, president. Roll call was answered by members naming the last rose they had planted.

Mrs. D.L. Highley was welcomed as a new member.

New officers installed by Mrs. John Knox for the coming year were Mrs. Guy, president; Mrs. B.M. Keese, vice president; Mrs. Fortenberry, secretary; Mrs. Cass Hill, treasurer; and Mrs. Fannie Kent, coiuncil delegate.

Each member was asked to name the type of programs they would like to hear for the coming year.

Certificates presented

Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of the Easter Star met May 1 at the Masonic Temple with the Worthy Matron Candy Andrews presiding.

Deputy Grand Matron Katie Floyd, Margaret Crum, Chapter Caring Committee; Effie Adcock, Benevolent Service; Grace Kinney, Chapter Caring Committee; Lona Bradley, Robb Morris, anniversary; and Steve Baker Masonic Strength Committee all of District 2 Section 8, Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star were introduced.

Reports were given by Mary Anne Hartin and Mrs. Kinney.

Joe Fortson was elected trustee.

The Worthy Patron John Gee presented 25-year Membership Certificates to Sara Griffith, Vera Gross, Mildred Murphy, Charlotte Sheedy, Adele Tibbs, Vera Winn, Dorothy Driver Neel and Jewel Williams.

Mr. Gee also presented a Meritorious Certificate to Past Matron Dorothy Driver Neel in recognition of distinguished services and personal contributions of time and effort to Eastern Star Ideals in general and to Big Spring Chapter in particular.

The Charter was draped for Orna Rosson.

Mrs. Andrews introduced Claudine Floyd, worthy matron of Coahoma Chapter No. 499 and Mary Dean Strickland, worthy matron of Lamesa Chapter No. 363.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Good day to reach the right decision concerning whatever is most important for you to do in the future. Take in amusements later. Be happy with close ties.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Important you handle matters of basic security and make home affairs more tenable. Find new ways of expressing your finest talents.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A fine time for going to lectures that can help you to widen your horizons, give you an insight into the future. Lend a helping hand where needed, also.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study into new interests that can help you to become more affluent in the future. Become more interested in property affairs and improve them.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you are more practical in personal affairs, you gain them more quickly now. A good day for much sociability and having a good time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have the opportunity to handle personal matters wisely now and get good results. Be sure to confer with a good adviser who has been helpful in the past and can be more so now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) This is the best day to contact a personal friend for a specific reason and attain your aims. A good day for entertainment also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Think over what is best to do to improve your position in your community. Get into career work with greater wisdom and insight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get a new start at career work and you easily improve it, get better returns from it. Plan time to look into a new outlet also.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Your intuitive faculties can be most helpful to you now, so use them wisely. Look to the one you love for further assistance in a good project you have in mind.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contact associates and talk over mutual plans so they work out more intelligently in the future. Get into civic matters also and be successful with them.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be more cooperative with persons you want to deal with in the future and come to a fine understanding. Go on with health measures that have proven to be right for you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who dreams of success and gains it. Try not to force anything down your progeny's throat, be it food, or whatever. Permit to grow naturally as possible, but teach right ethics and good manners early.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!

FORECAST FOR MONDAY, MAY 7, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: After a confusing start early in the day, you are able to wind up details of an important plan you have been working on and make considerable progress. Study new outlets later.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can now complete that work load that has been building up. Take no risks where your health is concerned.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Exercise your skills and accomplish a great deal today. Show more affection for the one you love and there is a fine response.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) State your ideas to associates and come to a complete agreement. Don't disappoint a family member at this time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Go after that data you need from whatever source is available and get it. Use extreme care in motion today.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A monetary expert can be helpful if you discuss your financial position. Steer clear of one who is detrimental to your progress.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be sure to take no risks with your credit now. You can easily gain the support of a higher up at this time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Contacting those who can help you mind a more secure foundation is wise. Be sure to keep promises you have made.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you are of service to those you want to have as friends in the days ahead, you pave the way to greater understanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make sure you follow through with the expectations of those who have power over your affairs. Be logical.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan time to cultivate new contacts you have made recently. Your intuitive perceptions are good, so be sure to follow them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be alert to what is expected of you by associates and try to please them. Make plans for needed recreation.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Putting business affairs on a more practical basis is wise now. You can make a fine impression on others at this time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will do well in any work of a specialized nature, so find the right forte and there could be great success here. There is much marital happiness in this chart. Be sure to give good ethical training early in life.

The Stars impel, they do not compel! What you make of your life is largely up to you!

'Screaming Eagles' map reunion in Hot Springs

All residents who served as members of the famed 101st Airborne 'Screaming Eagles' Division during the Normany invasion, the airborne operation in Holland, the Battle of the Bulgeat Bastogne, Germany, in Korea and Vietnam are eligible to attend a reunion in Hot Spring, Ark., in mid-August of this year.

Any ex-trooper desiring information can contact the association's national secretary, George E. Koskimaki, 101th Airborne Division Association, P.O. Box 101AB, East Detroit, Mich., 48021.

The 101st was twice during WWII by the President of the United States for outstanding service, the first time such a unit had been so honored.

BSHS grad participates

Marine Lance Corporal Ismael M. Palomino, son of Francisco and Juanita Palomino of 314 NE Eighth, Big Spring, recently participated in a Mechanized Combined Arms Task Force test exercise held at the Marine Corps Air-Ground Combat Center, Twenty Nine Palms, Calif.

He is a member of 1st Battalion, 4th Marines, Force Troops, based at the Marine Corps Air-Ground Combat Center.

This test of mobile assault capabilities involved more than 200 tracked vehicles and about 4,000 Marines. His unit traveled 130 miles of mountain and desert terrain in five days under mock combat conditions, including live fire from artillery, tanks and aircraft. Resupply to the underway force was supplied by Marine aircraft, also under combat situations.

The test exercises will help to determine the effectiveness of current tactics, techniques and equipment in armor-heavy situations. Results may be used to establish new doctrine for use by all Marine air-ground task forces.

A 1976 graduate of Big Spring High School, Palomino joined the Marine Corps in August 1976.

Readiness exercise held

FORT HOOD, Texas — Sgt. Rodolfo Dominguez Jr., whose parents live at 1207 Mobile St., Big Spring, Texas, is participating in BRAVE SHIELD 19, a joint readiness exercise held in central Texas.

Dominguez is a wheeled-vehicle mechanic with the 2nd Armored Division at Fort Hood, Texas.

His wife, Yolanda, lives in Killeen, Texas.

Garden City grad promoted

FUSSA, Japan — Gary L. Robinson, son of Mrs. W.L. Robinson of Garden City, Tex., has been promoted to technical sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

The sergeant, an avionic navigation systems technician at Yokota AB, Japan, serves with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

Sgt. Robinson is a 1966 graduate of Garden City High School.

162 who served on destroyer escort eligible for reunion

There are 162 men, including eight from Texas, who served on the destroyer escort, the USS Osterhaus, during WWII who are eligible to attend an Oct. 6-7 reunion in Jennings, La., who haven't been located.

The Texans are Andrew J. Beilamowicz, Roger Craig, William L. Gilbertson, Thomas L. Mehr Jr., Vernon L. Bowen, Willie R. Dillard, Billy Dean Huffman and Bill Moffige.

Those knowing the whereabouts of any of the eight are encouraged to contact Raymond Farris, 9021 Ohio Place, Highland, Ind., 46322.

Training completed

FORT JACKSON, S.C. — Pvt. Danny W. Rainwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Rainwater, 1000 E. 15th, Big Spring, Texas, recently completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Conn joins combat test

FORT HOOD, Texas — Spec. 4 Richard A. Cohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Noyes, 2402 Cheyenne Drive, Big Spring, is participating in BRAVE SHIELD 19, a joint readiness exercise held in central Texas.

BRAVE SHIELD 19, involving nearly 16,000 troops, will provide the opportunity to test and evaluate selected Army, Air Force, Army Reserve and National Guard units performing specific missions in a combat environment.

Approximately 600 tracked vehicles, 1,650 wheeled vehicles and about 140 Army and Air Force aircraft will be used in the exercise.

Cohn, a carpenter with the 1st Cavalry Division at Fort Hood, Texas, entered the Army in February 1977.

The specialist's wife, Joan, is with him near the fort.

Menix earns promotion

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. — DeWynn R. Menix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Menix of 501 N. 17th, Lamesa, Tex., has been promoted to airman first class in the U.S. Air Force.

The airman, a material facilities specialist at Plattsburgh AFB, N.Y., serves with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Airman Menix is a 1978 graduate of Lamesa High School.

Hocker serves on destroyer

Navy Gunner's Mate Third Class Kevin L. Hocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hocker of Sterling City, Route Box 114, Forsan, Tex., recently returned from a deployment in the Western Pacific.

He is serving as a crew member aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Somers, homeported in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

During the cruise, his ship participated in various training exercises with other Seventh Fleet units, including a week long exercise that involved U.S. ships and a group of ships from the Japanese Maritime Self Defense Force. He and his shipmates had the opportunity to visit the Republic of the Philippines, Japan, Guam, Thailand, and Hong Kong.

A 1976 graduate of Forsan High School, Hocker joined the Navy in April 1977.

Battlefield survival tips

Navy Hospital Corpsman Third Class Scotty D. Langford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Flangford of 1605 Sycamore, Big Spring, was graduated from Field Medical Service School.

The five-week course at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C., is designed to prepare Navy hospital corpsmen and dental technicians for duty with Marine Corps combat units. During classroom instruction, practical application periods and field training exercises, he studied the fundamentals of battlefield survival and personal protective measures.

He received instruction on basic tactics and the use of weapons for self-defense. To graduate, he was required to demonstrate basic proficiency in emergency medical techniques, casualty evacuation, field sanitation and preventive medicine procedures.

A 1973 graduate of Big Spring High School, Big Spring, he joined the Navy in August 1978.

Watson wins promotion

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. — Clarence E. Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Chadbourne of Cambridge, Maine, has been promoted to master sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

The sergeant, an aircraft maintenance technician at Little Rock AFB, Ark., serves with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

Sergeant Watson is a 1965 graduate of Piscataquis Community High School, Guilford, Maine. His wife, Rachel, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Beights of Rt. 1, Loraine.

Lt. Col. Dixon in command

ABILENE — U.S. Air Force Lt. Col. R. T. Dixon Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R.T. Dixon at 415 Bay St., Miami, Okla., has assumed command of the 463rd Organizational Maintenance Squadron at Dyess AFB, Tex.

Colonel Dixon, previously a maintenance control officer with the 463rd Tactical Airlift Wing at Dyess, is a member of the Military Airlift Command.

The colonel, a 1955 graduate of Miami High School, received his B.S. degree in military science in 1960 from Oklahoma State University.

His wife, Janet, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thorburn of 2902 Parkway, Big Spring.

'Crime of the century' recreated

"The Brink's Job," A Dino De Laurentiis Presentation of A William Friedkin Film for release in U.S. and Canada by Universal, is a wild, off-beat, often hilarious comic adventure that recounts one of the most famous and dramatic armed robberies in American history.

Under Academy Award winner William Friedkin's direction, the film spans more than 30 years — from the 40s to the 70s — to focus on the wild, improbable career of the Brink's mastermind, Tony Pino, played by Peter Falk.

In spite of the unlikeliness of the man who pulled off the robbery, the name Brink's — to this day — because of him and his gang — is synonymous with the most successful heist in American history. This was Boston's famous armed robbery that lasted less than ten minutes on the night of January 17, 1950 and netted a booty in excess of $2.7 million. The crime cost taxpayers $29 million for a six-year manhunt by the police and FBI that failed to produce the culprits. With only five days remaining on the statute of limitations for the near-perfect crime, the Brink's bandits were betrayed by an accomplice.

It was director Friedkin's idea to make the film entirely on location, using Boston as a backdrop. With "The Brink's Job," Friedkin returns to the colorful, rough-and-tumble urban milieu so skillfully captured in his Oscar-winning, 'he French Connection." This time, however, there's humor as well as mayhem on his mind as his cameras prowl the wind-swept Back Bay and North End of Boston to film this outrageous saga.

Friedkin's meticulousness and almost legendary attention to detail served him well during the fourteen-week shooting schedule. It is not likely that any director has ever acquired a worldwide reputation with fewer — or better — films than Friedkin. His "The French Connection" won five Oscars including one for best director, and two years later, "The Exorcist" became one of the industry's all-time top grossing hits, as well as one of the most talked-about movies of the decade.

Dino De Laurentiis, now considered an American producer and an impressario of some six hundred films, moved from Rome to New York to Beverly Hills, demonstrating that this filmmaker can produce movies no matter where his offices may be. His first two films made in America — both starring Charles Bronson — were "The Stone Killer" and "The Valachi Papers." The third, starring Al Pacino, was "Serpico." He followed these with the controversial and hugely successful, "Death Wish," "Mandingo," "Three Days of the Condor," and "King Kong."

"The Brink's Job" culminates six years of planning and preparation by veteran producer Ralph Serpe ("The Bible ... in the Beginning," "Mandingo," "War and Peace") who brought together the Brink's bandits after they completed their 13-year jail sentences for the crime, and won cooperation for a screen version of their story.

The screenplay was written by Walon Green based on "Big Stick-Up at Brink's" by Noel Behn ("The Kremlin Letter"). Green also wrote the screenplay for Friedkin's last film, "Sorcerer," Sam Peckinpah's "The Wild Bunch" and won an Academy Award for "The Hellstrom Chronicle."

The role of Tony Pino is absolutely perfect for Peter Falk. The likeability, compulsiveness and off-beat charm of the character suit him like the booster coat he wears in the film. As with his Columbo characterization on TV's popular series, Falk was on the right side of the law in his last two films. He played a private dick — a variation on Sam Spade — in two Neil Simon comedies, "The Cheap Detective" and "Murder by Death."

Portraying the unlikely band of six — boosters and bookies all — who pull off the heist under Falk's leadership is an impressive cast.

Peter Boyle plays Joe McGinnis, the most feared and distrusted member of the gang. Boyle's most recent film was "F.I.S.T.," and his versatility allowed him to be a highly comic Frankenstein monster in Mel Brooks' "Young Frankenstein." His portrayal of the title role in "Joe" brought him major attention, and since then he has appeared in "Taxi Driver," "Steelyard Blues," "The Friends of Eddie Coyle" and "The Candidate."

Allen Goorwitz plays Falk's bumbling brother-in-law, Vinnie Costa. A former New Jersey newspaper editor and Golden Gloves boxer-turned-actor, he adopted the stage name of his favorite actor, John Garfield, and recently decided to return to his family name of Goorwitz. As Allen Garfield, his roles in "Nashville," "The Conversation," and "The Candidate" brought him excellent reviews. Recently, he starred in Universal's "Skateboard" and "The Stuntman" with Peter O'Toole.

Gerard Murphy portrays Sandy Richardson, the ex-sailor and crony of Falk's who plays a major part in the planning of the heist. Murphy made his film debut in Friedkin's "Sorcerer." He is a former longshoreman who worked the Chelsea docks in New York and also shares with the real-life character he's playing, a first-hand knowledge of the rough-and-tumble life on the back streets of urban America.

Warren Oates plays Specky O'Keefe, the Brink's bandit who squealed on his friends. Oates has been in more than 40 films, but perhaps his most relevant role vis-a-vis "The Brink's Job" was playing the title role in John Milius' "Dillinger."

'BRINK'S JOB' SCENE — "Skinhead" McGinnis (Peter Boyle) and ltony Pino (Peter Falk) argue about the stolen money from "The Brink's Job," a new Universal release that opened at the Ritz II theatre in Big Spring.

Howard County Library

Have you ever tried to get a teen-ager interested in something you think they will like and they turn up their noses at your suggestions? This can be the case with any age. Suggesting that a reluctant reader pick up a book and read will most likely bring about the turned up nose reaction also. The Children's section at the Howard County Library has books that can almost guarantee the reluctant reader a good time. High interest books in the form of movie tie-ins are the answer.

Movie tie-ins are one of the easiest ways to get motivation out of a reluctant or even an avid reader. These books offer a chance to "see" the movie over and over again without an admission price, the wait for it to come to the theatre, or the hassle of trying to get to town before that last showing. If you think the popcorn and cokes will be missed, fix a batch for your young person to munch on while he relaxes in his easy chair and takes as much time and intermissions needed to read his book.

Superman; Last Son of Krypton by Elliot Maggin, will prove popular with many teen-agers. Superman has been around for many years, but most kids identify him with the recent movie starring Christopher Reeves. Clark Kent still works for the Daily Planet and Lois Lane still hasn't figured out who Superman is although she goes for a long "ride" with him over the streets of New York.

If you ask any girl from kindergarten up, the majority will swoon that John Travolta is their idol. Boys will not admit it, but many yearn to one day disco their way into a girls heart. What better way to ease your youngster into reading than by bringing the books Saturday Night Fever or Grease home? You could even add to the mood by checking out the Grease or Saturday Night Fever albums we have available. No one could resist reading these books with visions of John Travolta coming through the stereo speakers.

Midnight Express by Billy Hayes, the controversial winner of two Academy Awards, will bring a different insight into prison life. This true story of Billy Hayes' five years imprisonment in a Turkish prison will bring chills and excitement to the older reader.

Walt Disney based two movies on books by Alexander Key. Escape to Witch Mountain and Return From Witch Mountain follows the adventures of Tony and Tia, two children unlike any other people, in their race against time to find their own people.

Help your reluctant readers by taking home one of the many movie tie-in books available at the library. Don't miss the chance to entice your child into the reading habit through these and many other books. They are waiting at the library in the paperback section to give your young ones a second or maybe even a first peek at the movies.

A MESSAGE FROM THE NEW BOGARTS ESPECIALLY FOR YOU!

Since Sept. '78 we have worked long and hard to make Bogarts a respectable and enviable entity for its members, guests and the community at large. With the invaluable assistance of your local police, sheriffs department, and local T.A.B.C. agent, we feel we are fulfilling our goals.

We are undergoing physical changes designed to provide two different atmospheres for all ages to participate and enjoy — at the same time.

We personally invite you to visit our facilities and acquaint yourselves with our accomplishments.

We're proud to be in Big Spring, and we're proud of our club — we think you will be too!

Thank you
Tom Burke

Head Start, Kindergarten Round-up begins Friday

"The annual Head Start and Kindergarten Round-Ups for students entering school next fall will be Friday at Kentwood and Lakeview Elementary School," announced the Big Spring Independent School District.

Parents are asked to bring their children with their birth certificates and immunization records to one of the round-ups.

At Kentwood, which has a half-day kindergarten program, the round-up program is from 2:30 p.m. to 3:45 p.m. Friday.

At Lakeview which has a full-day kindergarten program and Head Start, parents may register children between 1 and 4 p.m. Friday.

Kindergarten children must be 5 years old on or before Sept. 1, 1979.

Head Start students must be 3 years, 6 months on or before Sept. 1, 1979.

Immunization requirements are at least three doses of polio vaccine if one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday.

At least three doses of Diphtheria-Tetanus (DPT and or Td vaccines) provided at least one dose has been received on or after the fourth birthday.

Measles requires one dose or proof of illness.

Mumps requires one dose or proof of illness.

Rubella (3-day or German measles) requires one dose.

Principals and teachers will explain programs, distribute materials and answer questions parents may have at the round-ups.

The Head Start and Kindergarten programs in the Big Spring Independent School District presently have enrolled about 450 students.

In addition to classroom teachers, the services of counselors, speech therapists, nurses and librarians are incorporated.

Parents who have questions concerning round-ups or the Head Start-Kindergarten programs should call the central administration office at 267-8245.

The round-ups will serve as the official registration of Head Start and Kindergarten students. The Big Spring Independent School District stresses the importance of attendance at one of the round-ups in order that necessary planning be completed before school begins in August. The cooperation of parents is appreciated.

The Wages Of Thin . . .

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have twin daughters, 18, who are driving me crazy. They are obsessed with being thin. They were always a little on the plump side until two years ago when they decided they wanted to be as thin as fashion models. They dieted themselves down to skin and bones.

Now they eat whatever they want — and force themselves to upchuck afterwards. They also take a lot of laxatives to stay thin.

I've tried to tell them that they are ruining their health but they won't listen to me. They think they look wonderful, but they look sick to me.

I am worried about them, Abby. What should I do?

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Get your daughters to a doctor! They could be suffering from "anorexia nervosa" (self-starvation). Your physician will probably recommend psychotherapy for the girls, as this condition involves psychological as well as physical problems. I urge you to act at once. They can be helped, but they can't do it alone.

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years and respect your advice.

I just learned that our 19-year-old daughter, a junior in college, bought birth control pills. I am distressed and shocked and wouldn't have believed it if I didn't have the facts.

She will be home in a few weeks. Please tell me how to handle this.

I can't give you my address because my husband opens the mail first. I haven't told him. He'd be heartbroken.

I hope to read your answer in your column.

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: I can understand your disappointment, but there is nothing to handle now. Apparently your daughter is either considering having sex or she's already into it. However, she's over 18 and it's her decision. In any case, be grateful that your daughter is protecting herself against accidental pregnancy.

As for your husband's reaction, would he be less heartbroken to learn that his college daughter was pregnant instead of on the pill?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NAMELESS IN EVANSVILLE, IND.": You are mistaken, sir. To quote Harry Bridges: "No man was ever born a Jew-hater, and Negro-hater or any other kind of hater. Nature refuses to be involved in such suicidal practices."

Hall-Bennett Memorial receives recognition

As an accredited hospital, Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital has received special recognition from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals in observance of National Hospital Week, May 6-12. In an open letter of commendation, John E. Affeldt, M.D., president of the Joint Commission, stated:

"The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals extends special appreciation to this hospital for the quality of health care provided to its patients. Its voluntary efforts to improve the quality of health care while mindful of the need to contain health care costs are to be applauded.

"The achievement of accreditation is evidence of success in complying with national standards of excellence. It signifies a voluntary commitment to maintain a high quality of patient care. By attaining accreditation, this hospital has demonstrated its accountability to the patients and community it serves."

The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals is a private, not-for-profit organization that sets standards for and surveys health and health-related facilities and services. In addition to its program for hospitals, the JCAH also conducts accreditation programs for long term care facilities, psychiatric facilities and mental health services, ambulatory health care organizations, and services for mentally retarded and other developmentally disabled persons.

LVNA states Monday meeting

The monthly meeting of the Licensed Vocational Nurses Association will be held Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Reddy Room at the Texas Electric Service Co.

Cyneather Woodruff, LVNA president, announced that Champe Philips, physical therapist in the Rehabilitation Services department at the Big Spring State Hospital, will be the evening's guest speaker. Her subject will be "Acupressure," an Oriental method of curing which involves only the use of hands — not the needles used in acupuncture.

All LVNA members are urged to attend the meeting, and student nurses or prospective association members may attend as guests.

Son's birth announced

Mr and Mrs Terry Johnston, Odessa, announce the birth of their first child, Jeffrey Heath, born April 13 at 8:41 a.m. in the Women's and Children's Hospital in Odessa.

Jeffrey weighed 7 pounds 10 ounces and was 20 inches long at birth.

Maternal grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Sledge, Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Johnston, also of Big Spring, are the paternal grandparents.
