U. S. Court Suit Attacks Motor Carrier Law

AGED ARCHER MAN BURNED TO DEATH

ATWELL CITES OFFICIALS TO APPEAR HERE

Governor, Attorney General And Others Named In Injunction Plea

HEARING SATURDAY

Truck Operators Deny They Are 'Common Carriers' Under State Law

Gov. Ross Sterling, Atty. Gen. James V. Allred, all state railroad and highway commissioners, and three Dallas county officials were named in an order issued by Judge William H. Atwell in federal district court Thursday afternoon ordering them to appear before the court here Saturday afternoon, Nov. 28, at 2:30 o'clock in connection with an application filed Thursday for injunction against enforcement of the Texas motor carrier law upon certain petitioning operators of interstate motor truck lines.

Infringement Claimed

The principal issue advanced in the 22-page petition filed before Judge Atwell Thursday afternoon involves the alleged infringement upon rights of contract carriers engaged in interstate business by enforcement of the law passed by the 42nd legislature allegedly to control operations by common carriers using motor trucks.

Twelve persons who declare themselves to be operators of interstate truck lines as "contract carriers" brought the action through Daily & Keller, Dallas lawyers, and are signers of an accompanying affidavit declaring themselves injured as set out in their petition to the court.

The petitioners charge that their agent at Dallas has been arrested and charged with violation of the motor carrier law, and that trucks and other equipment of the plaintiffs are being held because of the owners' alleged failure to comply with requirements of the new state law. Heavy losses due to inability to make promised deliveries are alleged.

Signers of the affidavit claim that the provisions of the law endow the state railroad commission with "arbitrary, capricious and discriminatory powers," and plead that regulations imposed upon common carriers within this state can not equitably be extended to "contract carriers" operating from Michigan, Ohio and other distant points into Texas.

An emergency situation is pleaded by the applicants for permanent injunction. They charge that valuable cargoes of merchandise are

Family Of Five Drowns As Car Dives Into Creek On Way To Holiday Reunion

TYLER, Texas, Nov. 26. (UP)—Five persons were drowned today on the way to a Thanksgiving dinner when the roadster automobile in which they were riding went over a 15-foot embankment and overturned in Deep Prairie creek. The accident happened eight miles northeast of here.

The dead:
Ebb Hughes, 30.
Sam Hughes, 38, brother of Ebb.
Mrs. Sam Hughes, 28.
Claude Hughes, 8.
Robert Hughes, 5.
The latter two are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hughes.

The creek was so deep the car was completely covered. A negro walking down the road saw a hand sticking from the water. He pulled on it. It revealed the tragedy and all five bodies were recovered.

A blinding rain which fell in the vicinity today was blamed for the accident. Physicians said the five had been dead less than an hour when discovered.

All lived in Wright City, Smith county, where the Hughes brothers operated a garage. They were driving to the home of the father of the brothers, near Mineola, for Thanksgiving dinner.

Mother Waits

Mrs. Ebb Hughes, widow of one of the victims, was waiting with her three children for arrival of their father, at the S. S. Hughes home, at Jamestown, where the dinner was to be held. It was late in the day before word of the tragedy was sent to them.

The bodies were identified by a reporter, with a photograph found in the woman's handbag as the only clue. A sign reading "Hughes Garage," faintly visible in a photograph, finally led to identification. All possibility of learning the cause of the accident passed with death of the quintet. The fact that the woman's face was badly crushed has led to a theory that she was killed before the car went into the waters of the creek.

Body Recovered

After the negro discovered the bodies in the creek, he ran for help and later nearby farmers and motorists dragged the coupe, with its victims, from the water.

Two brothers of the drowned men, Tom and Arch Hughes, living in Oklahoma Ctiy, have been notified. Still another brother, Ernest, survives. He operated the garage with the late Sam Hughes. Ebb Hughes had been visiting them at Wright City.

Marooned Indians Rescued When Sun Melts Heavy Snow

GALLUP, N. M., Nov. 26. (AP)—A warm Thanksgiving day which melted heavy snow made it possible for hundreds of Navajo and Zuni Indians snowbound in northwestern New Mexico to make their way to shelter and obtain food and forage.

Superintendent W. A. Trotter of the Zuni agency said tonight he had been informed that of the 1,300 Indians reported marooned, between 500 and 600 remained to be rescued. These Indians, he said, were on the high mesas where continued cold weather made it impossible for them to break their way through the snow to the lowlands and shelter.

Three parties carrying food and forage are breaking trail to the high mesas where the remaining Indians are snowbound, and are expected to reach there some time Friday.

No more deaths have been reported and the number now dead from exposure is nine. Four of these were children.

LEAGUE SEEKS NEW TERMS

PARIS, Nov. 26. (AP)—China's League of Nations representative accepted tonight as a basis for discussion the league council's proposals for restoring peace in Manchuria.

Japan's spokesman likewise accepted the plan, with certain reservations, and the council appointed by Aristide Briand, in the hope of producing a formula acceptable to all concerned.

In the course of these secret meetings of the council leaders such few official statements as have been made give a little idea of what is actually going on, but it was understood in authoritative quarters that the Chinese realize that ultimately they will have to abandon their demand that the council fix a definite date for evacuation of Manchuria by the Japanese army.

Fears for City

Dr. Alfred Sze, the Chinese member, was understood to have told M. Briand that his government was particularly anxious about Chinchow, the city in South Manchuria toward which the Japanese were reported advancing from Mukden.

He asked that every possible measure be taken to prevent a clash

Louisiana Jurist Kills Opponent In Political Dispute

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 26. (US)—Louisiana was stirred tonight by one of the most sensational political shootings and killings in the history of the state. Opelousas was the scene and Judge Gilbert L. Dupre, the killer. Charles Dejean, prominent in business affairs in the state, was the victim.

Judge Dupre is 72 years old and has been a member of the legislature continuously for 30 years. He had been a violent opponent of Gov. Huey P. Long.

Long retaliated by putting a candidate in the field against Dupre for the legislature. Judge Dupre several weeks ago withdrew from the political race and announced he would support Governor Long's ticket.

Today in Opelousas, Charles Dejean saw Dupre on the street and is said to have criticized Judge Dupre for his shift to Long.

The two parted and Judge Dupre went to his law office, got a revolver and returned. Dejean advanced toward the aged lawyer, who retreated toward a wall. Dupre says he told Dejean if he advanced another foot he would fire. Dejean walked forward. Judge Dupre fired and Dejean fell dead.

Police Nab Three As Suspects In Robberies Here

Three men were held in the city jail Thursday night while police continued to investigate the trio's possession of a set of tools suitable for knob knocking.

They have been held since early Thursday morning, when they were arrested shortly after the rear entrance of the Lamar Street Pharmacy, 1504 Lamar avenue, had been broken open. Nothing had been taken from the drug store, it was said.

It is believed the three men are wanted in Oklahoma. One was said to be an ex-convict. Efforts are being made to connect one of the prisoners with the holdup of a store Monday night at Altus.

Surprised by employes who returned to the Altus store, a burglar was removing articles of stock through a skylight. He escaped with about $22 in money after covering store employes with a gun.

Intruders also entered the Citizens Lumber company office, 1419 Eighteenth street, where the knob of the safe was knocked. Papers from the safe were scattered over the office, but nothing of value was obtained. Entrance was gained by prying a lock from a side door.

Texas Teachers Hear Attacks On State System; Officers Named

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 26. (AP)—Two nationally known speakers told teachers attending the Texas State Teachers association convention here today that false economy brought about by the depression was jeopardizing American education.

System Attacked

Miss Florence Hale, Augusta, Maine, president of the National Education association, spoke on "The Challenge of the Present Crisis," and Dr. Willis A. Sutton, Atlanta, retiring president of the same organization, talked on the causes of the depression and the resulting effects on education.

Speakers at the evening session criticised the educational system of Texas as absolete, and contradicted the program offered by afternoon speakers.

James O. Guleke of Amarillo, member of the state board of education, said expenses must be curtailed, especially with regard to the building program.

"We must avoid too much standardization," Guleke said. "It is indeed probable that we shall be compelled to revise our views and our actions concerning the heavy investment in school plants.

"No private enterprise would maintain a plant investment of $200,000,000 and leave it idle for 25 to 40 per cent of the time."

Senator W. E. Thomason of Nacogdoches said the elementary and secondary school system were "obsolete and unstatesmanlike."

"If $50 per child were put into the coffers, the system as it is now operated would be unsuccessful in educating rural children," the senator said. "It is a primitive model, hitting on three cylinders."

Thomason Suggests

Senator Thomason recommended an educational experiment station, stricter certification laws, more attractive salaries for rural school supervisors, consolidation, appropriations on basis of actual school attendance, curtailment of the athletic mania, and a revision of the curriculum to include more social

VERNON MIXES PASSES, RUNS TO WIN EASILY

2,400 Fans See Fighting Pack Bow to Superior Football Team

LIONS SCORE EARLY

Withrow Leads Futile Drive To Four-Yard Line In Lone Threat

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

Scoring a touchdown on the first four plays in the opening minutes of the game, Coach Heinie Weir's Vernon Lions maintained an offensive pace that gave no quarter and presented a brilliant defense to trample the Wichita Falls Coyotes at Athletic park here yesterday afternoon, 25 to 0, before a crowd of 2,453 fans.

The victory gives Vernon undisputed possession of second place in district No. 2 and evens the count in the traditional rivalry of the two teams, each of which now has won six games in the 12-year feud.

A sensational passing game, sandwiched in between long off tackle shoots and line plunges by a battery of four stellar ball-luggers, Lutz, Thompson, Christian and Weir, made a Coyote victory seem remote from the very start of the game. Emrick received Wichita Falls' kickoff on his 44-yard line. Christian and Weir split the Coyote forward wall for 10 yards and a first down and after Lutz had bucked off left tackle for three yards, Weir passed to Judd, Vernon right end, who was all by his lonesome in the flat zone. The pass was a 13-yard heave and Judd took out from the 30-yard line and rang up the first touchdown without further ado. Christian's extra point placement failed and the Coyotes resumed play six points behind before the game had hardly started.

With but one exception, from that point on the Vernon warriors were superb masters of everything they surveyed on the field. The exception was Wichita Falls' one lone penetration of Vernon's 20-yard zone, toward the middle of the first period. On this occasion the Coyotes lugged the leather down to Vernon's four-yard line and had four tries to avert a shutout, but the Vernon defense stiffened and instead of gaining, the local lads lost ground.

After the Coyotes had lost about six yards on an exchange of punts, J. R. Holton and Capt. "Scrapiron" Withrow teamed with Bob Daugherty to start a Coyote drive that attained its climax when Withrow shot through the line and got clear for a 33-yard run, one of the prettiest of the afternoon. The gain gave the Pack a first down on Vernon's 15-yard line. Daugherty and Withrow on alternate drives registered a first down on the four-yard line. On the first down Withrow picked up two through center, but on the next play Emrick, star Vernon end, ploughed through to hurl the Coyote captain for a five-yard loss. Daugherty picked up a couple of yards but Watson, Vernon captain, smeared Holton on the four-yard line on the next play and the ball went over, Lutz kicking out of danger.

From then on, the Lions didn't have much to worry about. The second Lion counter was scored in the second quarter on a drive from Wichita Falls' 41-yard line, where

MANY ATTEND CHURCH RITES

Wichita Enjoys Quiet Day Of Thanksgiving

Heavy skies and an almost constant drizzle discouraged outdoor celebration of Thanksgiving day in Wichita Falls, but proved ideal for promoting the assembly of reunited families about the annual turkey-and-cranberry-laden board, in fireside association, and in public services of meditative worship.

With the exception of the 3,000 gridiron fans who defied the dampish weather for the Coyote-Vernon Lions football clash in the afternoon, the city took its Thanksgiving day largely indoors and more quietly than usual. After a battle which revealed again the elements of furious combat characteristic of the annual Vernon-Wichita Falls game, the encounter went to Vernon by a score of 25 to 0.

Business Halts

Offices of the city government and county officials were closed throughout the day, save those connected with law enforcement, and the postoffices also observed a complete holiday with the exception of one hour in the morning. With three more days of vacation ahead, many pupils and teachers of local public schools planned week-end excursions to other cities, with heavy patronage of various football games on Saturday assured by these migrant Wichitans.

Annual Thanksgiving services held at the First Baptist church at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning were attended by an unusually large audience, despite drizzling rainfall throughout the morning, and were featured by an impressive sermon delivered by Rev. Finis Crutchfield, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church.

Approximately 500 persons occupied the auditorium of the church for the worship service. Another feature of the observance was the singing of two numbers by an ensemble of 18 male voices directed by W. E. Young and accompanied by Mrs. F. R. Collard, organist.

Rev. Crutchfield, speaking from the text, "Bless the Lord, Oh my soul, and forget not all his benefits," found in the 103rd Psalm, declared that first of all a thankful man is a thinking man.

Crutchfield Gives Sermon

"Thoughtfulness will prompt us to be thankful for the possession of things given us from divine sources," he said. "At this hour, every person in this house is thankful for teh impulses which brings him into the house of God for this Thanksgiving day service. We are thankful for the capacity of humankind to make great pictures, to frame majestic thoughts in musical form, and to intone those expressions of beauty as they have been voiced here this morning. David, the sweet singer of Israel, arose after a night of meditation to 'praise God that he had thought upon his way.'

Speaking of the depressed economic state which has existed in the country during the past two years, Rev. Crutchfield asserted that "it is in times of material discomfort and distress that the soul reaches highest in the realm of spiritual worship.

"Depression is followed by impression and expression," the speaker continued. "Such times as we have experienced apparently must come to remind us occasionally that the material things of the world are the lesser things, after all; to teach us that spiritual qualities are to be evaluated and cherished far above those of material possession. So long as we set aside

Koy Leads Texas in Valiant Fight to Overcome Small Lead

By BILL PARKER

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 26—"Frenchy" Domingue, a maroon-clad youngster who learned his high school football at Port Arthur and is showing his college wares at Texas A. & M., went on a wild running stampede here today to beat the University of Texas 7-6. It was the 38th annual game between the two schools and never has historic Kyle field housed a more superb offensive contest which left an estimated crowd of 20,000 more exhausted from excitement.

This Domingue boy, whose first name is Clifford and who started the current season like a whirlwind but faded down to a tame breeze, pulled the old comeback act this afternoon to lead his A. & M. mates on a 60-yard drive that terminated with Domingue carrying the ball the final three yards for a touchdown. He then kicked from placement for the seventh point that was the difference between victory and a tie for the Aggies.

at Chinchow and he renewed his suggestion that detachments from neutral forces in China establish a deadline between Chinchow and Mukden past which the Japanese must not go.

It appeared the council also was worried about Chinchow and observers agreed the Japanese military policy there would be a test of Japan's attitude toward the league's efforts to restore peace.

Help Asked

It was said the leaders on the council had agreed to advise their governments that observers in the Far East be directed to join in a concerted international effort to turn aside the threatening battle. Lieut. Col. Nelson Margetts, American military attache, is one of the foreigners at Chinchow.

The foregin office said that military operations, except against bandits, have been discontinued in Manchuria and that "no pressure will be brought" unless unexpected fighting is begun by Chinese near Chinchow.

Bandit Clash

A small force of Japanese clashed with bandits at Machungho, on the South Manchurian railway today. The skirmish is continuing and reinforcements have been sent, the war office reported.

Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, deposed Manchurian governor now at Peiping, has more than six brigades of troops between Chinchow and Peiping awaiting the arrival of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, Nanking president, it was reported here today.

Three Chinese brigades are at Chinchow, three more between Chinchow and Tientsin, and "additional troops" on the frontier between Peiping and Tientsin. Two thousand troops under Gen. Wang Yi-Ting passed through Tientsin yesterday en route to Chinchow, it was reported.

King-Murray Break Widens

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 26. (UP)—Atty. Gen. J. Berry King advised his friends here and the local league of young Democrats that he would speak here Friday night "even if I have to speak in the street."

His remark was prompted by Judge Freeman Miller's refusal of permission to hold the political rally in the district courtroom. Opponents of Gov. W. H. Murray's initiate petitions, opposed by the attorney general, charged that an attempt was being made to throttle free speech.

"I'm going to speak in Stillwater Friday night and I'm going to speak against Murray and Judge Miller," King said.

The speech will be broadcast over radio stations WKY, Oklahoma City, KCRC, Enid, and KVOO, Tulsa.

MURRAY LOSES TAX SUIT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 26. (UP)—A new breach between Gov. William H. Murray and Atty. Gen. J. Berry King developed today over the state's tax collection suit against the Southwestern Bell Telephone company.

Judge R. P. Hill with Orel Busby and Sam Hooker concurring in the verbal opinion sustained the company's demurrer to the suit which sought $644,000 in fees and penalties from the company for alleged failure to pay taxes on state investments since 1920.

King Blamed

"I did not lose that suit," Murray remarked when asked if he planned to appeal to the supreme court. "J. Berry King lost that suit. I thought he could win this case as it was a pure question of law. I think I shall appoint a special attorney who will ask for a rehearing."

King vehemently replied to the governor's statement.

"This office has not lost any cases other than those which the governor had been advised would be lost before suits were filed. We have won all other cases and the favored cases have gone to the governor's special friends.

"We'll continue in this case. We'll welcome any assistance from the governor or anyone else but he can't take us out and I have no thought of being displaced," King said.

RITES TODAY FOR J. S. FORE

Wichita Resident for 43 Years Dies Thursday

the plains and prairies in the early history of West Texas.

During his long residence in Wichita Falls Mr. Fore served Wichita county both as sheriff and as county commissioner.

One-Time Cowboy

Born in Kentucky in 1851, he removed when still a young man to Throckmorton, Texas, in 1869. He resided there for 18 years, working as a cowboy on large ranches then common in that section. His duties were to tend the huge herds of longhorn cattle, which have long since been replaced in the cattle country by stock of more scientific strains. He continued this occupation for a short time after removing to Wichita Falls in 1888, but later he engaged in the cattle business for himself.

In the closing years of the 19th century, Mr. Fore opened a livery stable here, located at the northeast corner of Seventh street and Scott avenue, which he operated for 10 years.

In 1900 he successfully ran in the election for sheriff of Wichita county. He served here as sheriff for a number of years, and later was elected county commissioner, in which office he also served for a period of years.

During the first years of his residence in Wichita Falls Mr. Fore lived at a home located at the corner of Indiana avenue and Eighth street, where now stands the First National bank.

Eagle Days in Wichita

Stories told by Mr. Fore of his early life in West Texas recall how he rode range for $25 a month and how, when he first came here Wichita Falls had a population of 1,000. There were two dry goods stores and a few other small business establishments.

During recent years Mr. Fore had given his time to the management of his real estate holdings and other properties here. However, for the past number of months his illness confined him to his bed. He had been in failing health for some time.

During his residence here, and as a business man and public official Mr. Fore acquired many friends in this section, particularly among those persons who now are considered pioneers. Several years ago, celebrating the 37th anniversary of his residence in Wichita Falls, he entertained many old-time citizens of Northwest Texas.

Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Guinn, with whom he resided here, is a son, C. T. Fore, who operates a farm on the Charlie road, and six sisters and seven grandchildren.

Fears Felt for Noted Australian Ocean Flier

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 26. (US)—Bert Hinkler, noted Australian aviator, who started a South Atlantic flight for the African coast from Natal, Brazil, yesterday morning, has not been heard from in more than 24 hours. Fears are felt for his safety.

Great Liner Twists, Fishing Smacks Bumped

HAVANA, Nov. 26. (US)—The winds and currents in Havana harbor played a queer trick on the Cunarder Mauretania this afternoon, causing the great liner to twist from the channel and bump eight fishing smacks tied up in the long harbor strike.

There was considerable excitement for a time among the 900 vacation passengers cruising on the Mauretania and among crowds on shore who feared the ship would capsize. No damage resulted, however, and the Mauretania almost instantly righted.

CHARITY CREW GIVEN FEAST

Iowa Park Lions Honor Chest Workers

Special to The Record News

IOWA PARK, Texas, Nov. 26.—The workers of the Community Chest drive were given a banquet by the Lions club in the basement of the First Baptist church Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The program began with a singsong led by Miss Katherine Sue Ralston. The invocation was given by Rev. Glen Neafus, pastor of the First Baptist church. This was followed by the banquet. The president of the Lions club, Jim Griffin, made a few remarks.

Then the program was turned over to Lion C. C. Hudson, as spokesman. A male quartet consisting of Tom Rogers, Joe Stumpp, Arthur Fielder, C. H. McDowell rendered two numbers.

Director General John C. Murphree gave a short talk on the purpose and method of the drive. Preceding the reports from the different team majors, a report of the expenditure of the funds of last year was given by J. C. Searl, secretary of the chamber of commerce. B. L. Bradford, secretary of the community chest board, made the financial statement of the chest fund of last year, and he stated that there was a balance of $752 remaining.

Each of the 12 majors made a report telling their quota and what proportion was raised. G. G. Burgess, a well-known farmer, gave 66 sacks of flour. A goal set was $1,000, and it was over-reached by $443.65, and oll of the canvass is not yet complete.

Mrs. C. W. Coppock sang. Mrs. Mamie Dale, chairman of the investigating committee of the chest, made a most interesting short talk complimenting the workers for their faithfulness and untiring work. County Commissioner L. L. Kuntz gave a brief talk on the method used by the commissioners in charity work. Dr. Gordon G. Clark, chairman of the Red Cross roll call, made a short talk.

Impromptu speeches of their first impressions of Iowa Park were given by Rev. C. B. Fielder, pastor of the First Methodist church; Rev. Glen Neafus, pastor of the First Baptist church; Supt. W. R. Bradford and Mayor T. J. Pace.

The meeting closed with another singsong, and a prayer by Rev. C. B. Fielder.

Before 1920, out of every eight women married in England, one was a widow. In 1929, out of 42,316 brides, only 2,489 were widows.

AL AND F. D. R. SWAP SECRETS

But Brown Derby Gets The Better Trade

By LOUIS SEIBOLD

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (US)—Two events of Democratic national significance recently provided members of the New York branch with intriguing topics for lively discussion.

The "harmony" luncheon between National Leader Al Smith and Governor Roosevelt was the most important. Tammany Boss Curry's debut in national affairs was of more than passing interest.

Many versions regarding the luncheon talk between the two outstanding—and perhaps rival—leaders have been advanced. The Governor and Mr. Smith both attested that it was devoted to "state finances," and was without political significance. This explanation, of course, was interpreted in a Pickwickian sense.

Peace Wanted

From a generally reliable source, a more acceptable account is available. Governor Roosevelt's invitation was prompted by the wish to remove irritations provoked by their dispute over the reforestation amendment. Governor Roosevelt favored it. Mr. Smith opposed it. The governor won.

The two men were far apart in their conclusions as to the value of the project. Their meeting the other day did not result in any change of opinion on either side.

There is excellent reason to warrant the statement that Mr. Smith proved a very good listener. He permitted the governor to do most of the talking.

The conversation finally veered around to the national situation as a matter of course. The net result was more comforting to the friends of Mr. Smith than to those of the governor.

Smith Learns Something

Here too, the governor was the chief contributor. Mr. Smith appears to have emerged with a more definite idea regarding the presidential plans of Governor Roosevelt than the latter secured concerning the ambition—if any—of the national leader.

Mr. Smith made at least one interesting discovery. He learned that the governor has finally awakened to the fact that there is a movement on foot to nominate him for president. Previously the governor repeatedly stated that his sole information about it came from the newspapers. Mr. Smith discovered otherwise.

From the authoritative source responsible for this information, it is learned that Governor Roosevelt's discoveries regarding Mr. Smith's plans were less satisfactory. The national leader was unusually coy, in striking contrast to his former confidential relations with the man he "elected" governor.

Al Side-Steps

Mr. Smith is said to have sidestepped "leading questions" most adroitly. He did not even remotely outline his inner thoughts on the presidency or regarding features for the national program—except prohibition. He is still wringing wet.

The most definite statement made by Mr. Smith was that he had not reached any conclusions regarding either worth talking about at the present time—except to make it clear that he did not approve of the Roosevelt plan for a moderate expression on prohibition.

The governor's friends now admit that the Smith-Raskob element in the party is at present opposed to his nomination. Realization of it is causing deep concern in the Roosevelt camp.

Boss Curry's invasion of Washington marks his first venture beyond the Tammany sphere of ward influence. His conference with John Garner obviously contemplates a wider horizon.

Up to date Curry has been neutral between Smith and Roosevelt, a circumstance that also causes concern to the supporters of the latter.

LLOYD ROSS ADAMS

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 26.—Burial services for Lloyd Ross Adams, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Adams, Manitou, were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church at Manitou. Rev. Baker of Manitou conducted the services.

The youth has been confined in the S. A. & A. hospital for treatment of serious internal injuries received when a mule kicked him several years ago, and was removed Tuesday afternoon to the home of Mrs. Edison Carter, North Eleventh, Frederick, where he died Tuesday night.

These brothers and sisters survive, in addition to the boy's parents: Horace, Howell, D. D. Adams, all of Manitou; Mrs. Troy Wilkerson, Lawton; Mrs. J. Roark, Grandfield; and Miss Estelle Adams, Manitou.

Burial was made in the Manitou cemetery.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Adv.

Defense Expert to Give Mental Examination to Mrs. Winnie Judd

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (AP)—A mental and physical examination is to be given Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd by a defense psychiatrist in the Phoenix, Ariz., jail where she is awaiting trial on charges of murdering Mrs. Agnes Le Roi and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, her friends.

Paul Schenck, defense attorney, said he and Dr. Edward Huntington Williams of Los Angeles will leave for Phoenix tomorrow night and the examination will be made Saturday and Sunday.

Schenck declined to specify just what defense will be presented for Mrs. Judd, who admitted killing the women and sending their bodies here in trunks. He indicated, however, there was a possibility of an insanity plea.

Finland Cabinet Asks Referendum On Prohibition

HELSINFORS, Finland, Nov. 26. (AP)—Finland will vote next Dec. 30 in a prohibition referendum if the diet approves a measure to be presented on Tuesday by the cabinet.

This is the result of agitation over a period of months during which a government commission investigated prohibition enforcement, recommended lifting of restrictions on wines up to 12 per cent alcoholic content and beer of 3.2 per cent.

Prohibition is 13 years old in Finland and its opponents have waged a persistent fight. Government figures showed the confiscation of 225,000 gallons of smuggled liquor in 10 months of this year, and government estimates placed that amount as about one-tenth of the total illicit importations.

Algot Niska is generally recognized as the country's No. 1 bootlegger. He published his memoirs not long ago in what was described as a thrilling collection of adventure stories about life in the rum fleet.

6,500 Fed in Annual Kansas City Banquet

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 25. (UP)—A real Thanksgiving was made today for 6,500 white and negro needy persons by Casimir J. Welch who furnished them with "turkey and all the trimmings."

The dinner has become an annual affair. Last year Justice of the Peace Welch furnished meals for 1,500, but was unable to care for the hundreds more in line.

Friends this year contributed and Welch matched dollar for dollar to make the huge holiday dinner possible.

More than 400 Ozark turkeys were roasted.

The meal is sponsored by the Jeffersonian Democratic club.

North Carolina School Dedicates Bell Tower

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 26. (AP)—The University of North Carolina today formally received and dedicated a bell tower, the gift of two alumni, John Motley Morehead, minister to Sweden, and Rufus Lenoir Patterson, New York manufacturer.

The tower, rising 172 feet and containing a carillon of 12 bells, was built at a cost of $100,000. It was presented by Frank Patterson, Baltimore editor and brother of one of the donors, and was accepted by Gov. O. Max Gardner.

George Gordon Battle, New York attorney and alumnus of the university, made an historical address.

INDICTMENT QUASHED

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 26. (INS)—Indictments against Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley of New Orleans, charging improper investment of city trust funds, had been quashed here today.

Judge A. C. O'Donnell, dismissed the case against the mayor yesterday. The state demurred, asking an appeal, and Judge O'Donnell directed state and defense attorneys to arrange a date at which time he will hear arguments on the propriety of an appeal.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 26. (AP)—The waiting room of Gov. Flem D. Sampson's office has been crowded for days with parole and pardon seekers in anticipation of his leaving office Dec. 8, but the most laconic plea came yesterday through the mails. It reads:

"Honorable Sir:

Satterfield has been known as No. 14,412 since July 3, 1928, when he came to the penitentiary here from Louisville to serve a term for burglary.

GUYER STARTS TARIFF DRIVE

Kansas Takes Oil Tax Plan to Capital

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Nov. 26. (AP)—With the announced intention of working in the interests of a tariff on oil, Representative U. S. Guyer of the second Kansas district prepared to leave tonight for Washington for the opening of congress Dec. 7.

The failure af large companies to buy Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas oil, thus closing down thousands of small wells, Mr. Guyer said, indicated the industry needs protection against cheap, imported oil.

Philadelphia Battles For G. O. P. Convention

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26. (AP)—Philadelphia business leaders have thrown into high gear machinery for bringing the 1932 Republican national convention to this city.

Philip H. Gadsden, president of the chamber of commerce, who has been empowered to name a committee to raise a $150,000 fund to finance convention details, said today he would invite agents of the Republican national committee to Philadelphia to judge its desirability from the convention standpoint.

Thanksgiving Dinner May Unite Couple

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (UP)—A Thanksgiving dinner suggested by Judge Joseph Sabath today may reconcile a socially prominent Chicago couple who yesterday were seeking a divorce.

The Thanksgiving dinner was suggested by the court when James L. Baldwin, wealthy manufacturer, and his wife, president of the Francis Willard hospital, appeared before him.

Mrs. Baldwin sought a divorce on grounds of infidelity. She was in court asking temporary alimony. Her husband, who filed a crossbill charging cruelty, was protesting his wife's action.

Judge Sabath advised the pair to meet over a Thanksgiving dinner and try to adjust their differences. The Baldwins indicated they would try the experiment.

HURLEY PORTRAIT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—A portrait of Secretary Hurley is being painted by Josef Sigall for hanging in the war department with paintings of other chieftains of the department.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Coughs

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute relief for colds and coughs due to colds. Authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk sixty cents for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold or cough fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.—Adv.

Singing as an exercise is a great benefit to any one suffering from chest or throat weakness.

Rust is estimated to cost the world more than five billion dollars a year.

It's goodbye to the old-fashioned notion that a cold should be treated only through the stomach. The modern way is to also attack the trouble direct. Rub Mentholatum on the chest, and the blood is drawn to the surface, relieving congestion and inflammation of deeper organs. Inhale Mentholatum vapors deeply into irritated passages, soothing inflamed membranes and loosening phlegm. Insert Mentholatum in the nostrils to open them and clear your stuffy head. That's the modern way, and a thousand times better than the old. Jars and tubes, 30c. Three times as much, 60c.

MENTHOLATUM

"I'll stand by it!"

"I'll stand by tobacco . . .
in good times, in hard times . . .
all kind of times . . . it helps a whole lot!

"I GREW up with tobacco. Mostly I smoke cigarettes now—but I've smoked plenty of cigars, and pipes, too. And I never got anything but good from tobacco in any form—pipe, cigar, or cigarette—and that goes for every smoker I ever heard about.

"Why, I remember as a boy, way back, how the old folks in the fall used to pick and cure tobacco from a little patch they'd raised, and save out the best for their own smoking. And my father fought all through the war, and lived to be ninety.

"He'd certainly appreciate what we get today, though. Just think about these CHESTERFIELDS of mine—fine tobaccos from all over the world, and cured and blended just so; you couldn't get anything purer, or milder. Cleanest factories you ever saw, too—never a hand touching the cigarettes . . . everything up to date.

"A big improvement over the old ways . . . reckon that's why I like CHESTERFIELDS so much. I notice most of my friends get a lot of pleasure out of them, too.*

"But what I started out to say was, you can always depend on tobacco, no matter how things are going. Probably there was never anything in the world that meant so much to so many people, and cost so little, as tobacco—whatever way they smoke it.

"Yes, sir—I'll stand up for tobacco as long as I can strike a match!"

*NOTE. In the sections where tobacco grows and where people know tobacco, Chesterfield is usually the largest-selling cigarette.

Holiday Guests Inspiration For Many Pretty Courtesies

While Thanksgiving day was, until late in the afternoon, a day of family festivities in Wichita Falls, popular girls home from college, a charming group of collegiate houseguests and women whose names are associated with all that is good in the building of Wichita Falls were named as honorees in many small parties covering the week-end.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

It's past—Thanksgiving day. One doesn't have the washed out, let-down feeling that comes after the rush and worry, the stretching of moments and money that marks the season when we celebrate the natal day of our Savior in civilized countries. So little of Christmas expresses the peace and quiet and holiness we love to link with the manger scene.

Thanksgiving day — which we heard — or started to hear — explained via radio by a throaty voiced lady on Thanksgiving morning—is purely an American celebration. Doubtless other countries went on being ordinary and business-like and thankless while the American nation's great heart overflowed with thanks. Oh yeah?

But anyway, meditating on the day, we find much to be thankful for, even if reading in the morning paper of 41 violations of the eighteenth amendment did bring the thought to our mind, "and not one real Christmas eggnogg in the lot." You see eggnog is—we mean was—also an American institution; one once celebrated by a beautiful old South that is rapidly losing all the earmarks that made it notable.

But back to our thanks; we were thankful that we do not have to listen all the time to a radio going full blast. How can the term of life in these years be really lengthened for an inveterate radio hound?

Looking at left-over Christmas card (which, by the way we are thankful we have left over to give this season) we were thankful we do not have to go about in the snow clad as shepherds and seraphim and poor old Joseph had to go, if Christmas cards tell of real life. Two-thirds of their bodies are exposed to the wintry blasts.

A thankfulness that remains with us all through the winter is that for soft music and good books and a warm fireside. The very heart of home lies in a warm fireside with those whom you love about you.

We are thankful that the very painful small boil in our nose is not calling for a major operation and deem it a matter for thanks that our family bears with us in our complaint at the pain it causes. We know a very lovely lady who has been suffering wretchedness (for a longer time than our nose has afflicted us) with an abscessed tooth, and we are thankful that we can still feel sorry for her. That doesn't mean anything, however, to a person who is doing the suffering. We know by our nose.

We are thankful that to this date we have been able to distinguish between Signor Dino Grandi and Mahatma Gandhi, when their names occur on the front page. But Grandi and Gandhi are terribly confusing although the two are nothing like in appearance—nor probably in character.

But truly, even if we seem to mock, we have been thankful for much. We are even thankful our heart can still be touched by the wretchedness or sorrow of others and hope that so long as we live the Lord may leave sentiment in us without permitting it to grow into sentimentality.

A Thanksgiving open house at the home of Miss Elizabeth Langford was the first occasion of the meeting of girls from different colleges. Miss Langford's guest, Miss Anease Volkman, who is a S. M. U. student, has been a delightful Wichita Falls visitor before and many friends called at the spacious home Thursday evening from 5 to 6 o'clock.

Misses Joline Woods with her house guest, Miss Florine Mounts; Miss Mary Agnes Riley with her house guest, Miss Kay Jacobson, and Miss Mildred Miller, all students at Oklahoma U., and Misses Martha Ellen Hines with Miss Elizabeth Langford and her guest, the charming Miss Anease Volkman, students at S. M. U., will be guests at an informal luncheon arranged by Miss Mildred Sherrod at 1 o'clock Friday.

A buffet supper at Miss Elizabeth Langford's home will honor a group of "home for the holiday" girls and boys with their guests Friday evening and Miss Catherine Steiner, who will have Miss Florence Cohn of Dallas as her house guest will entertain a few college friends in her honor with a holiday bridge Saturday. Another buffet supper for visiting girls and those home for the holidays will close the week-end festivities for the young set Saturday evening at the home of Miss Joline Wood on Berkeley.

Names that are associated with the history of Wichita Falls will be noted in the honorees at several functions Friday and Saturday when Mrs. W. J. Grisham of Dallas, who is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. J. C. A. Guest and her mother, Mrs. J. M. Sweeton, will be named in several pretty courtesies. Mrs. Ralph Darnell, who is the guest of Mrs. J. T. Montgomery, and Mrs. Grisham will be honored Friday by Mrs. T. T. Reese at the Forum clubhouse, when a group of their close friends will be invited to luncheon with them.

Mrs. T. B. Noble will entertain at luncheon Saturday and a very few of Mrs. Grisham's closest friends will be invited to meet her Saturday afternoon at Mrs. T. P. Duncan's home.

Wedding Unites Windthorst And Electra Couple

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 26.—A wedding of unusual interest to this community took place Tuesday at Windthorst, when Alexander G. Reis of Electra was married to Miss Marie Veiteheimer of that community. The ceremony was read at 9 a. m. at St. Mary's Catholic church by the Rev. Father Leo. Miss Katherine Munchreth of Windthorst played the wedding march and special music was furnished by the choir during the ceremony. Attendants were Miss Caroline Reis of Electra, sister of the groom, and Albert Veitenheimer, brother of the bride. High mass was held immediately following the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in a white crepe model and wore a long lace veil. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore peach crepe and carried an arm bouquet of rosebuds.

Following the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Veitenheimer, near Windthorst, where luncheon was served. A reception was held during the afternoon after which the party came to Electra where a dance was given in their honor at the Knights of Columbus hall. Approximately 300 people were present at the dance. The couple and members of the Reis family attended a Thanksgiving dinner and family reunion at the Veitenheimer home Thursday.

Electrans attending the wedding were Mrs. M. Reis, mother of the groom; his sisters, Misses Mabel and Caroline Reis; Mr. and Mrs. John Mengwasser and family; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reis and family of Vernon; and Andrew Batzner of Chicago, Ill., house guest of the groom. The young couple will reside near Electra where the groom has been in charge of the Reis farms since his father's death several months ago.

TYPICALLY IRISH

PORTLAND, Ore.—Bricks are jokingly termed the national weapons of the Irish. But when the H. V. Daugherty family had a little squabble recently, Mrs. Daugherty used another typical Irish token, the potato, as her weapon. Daugherty, in suing his wife on the grounds of desertion, informed the court that she had picked up a dish of potatoes and had thrown them at him. They weren't mashed either, he added.

"Safety-Sealed" FOR FLAVOR-PROTECTION

Alaska-Canada-Panama stored it away for 3 months...

-but all the original flavor was there when opened!

M-J-B Coffee was stored in Alaska, Canada and Panama.

After four months we asked impartial experts to test this coffee for freshness and flavor.

"The M-J-B Coffee stored away under these different climatic conditions was as fresh and flavorful as coffee just roasted," the experts declared.

Here's positive proof that the richer blend of M-J-B stays rich. This is because M-J-B (which is the only coffee company owning its own can factory and its own vacuum process) protects its rare blend with the patented "Safety-Seal" that cannot close unless all the air is removed.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has 762,042 horses on farms, over a half million fewer than it had in 1900, but 1,040 mules, increase of more than half a million in the same period. It has 6,602,703 head of cattle, decrease of almost 3,000,000 from the 1900 total, but its 1,076,287 milk cows on farms represent an increase of more than 200,000 in the same time.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

A new quarry to supply Texas stone to Texas builders has been opened at Kingsland, a spur line built to handle its shipments. Harlingen's new 1,000-barrel refinery, recently completed, has started operations.

Re-organization of closed banks continues in various towns. Many, closed to protect the interest of depositors, have been found solvent, local capital has been secured to take the place of frozen but sound assets, and the communities in the meantime learned just how essential a bank is to carrying on business. At one town where re-organization was effected with virtually every business man in town acquiring stock, there was a new kind of bank "run"—a "run" to see who would be the first depositor in the reopened institution.

Plans are ready for submission to an early meeting of the state highway commission for 20 road projects and two expensive bridges in 19 counties. There are few Texas counties in which there is not some road building activity under way or projected. Contract has been let at $121,540 for closing the gap on the Exall highway from Richland to the Navarro-Freestone line.

Orange county has completed a survey preliminary to voting on drainage bonds. Plano is sinking another deep well to furnish additional water supply. Beaumont has let contract for paving Washington boulevard. Cisco appropriates $15,000 for a water treating plant at Lake Cisco and is ready to start work.

Frederick Rules Against Parking Of Heavy Trucks

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 26.—Frederick's city council Tuesday night ruled that heavy cotton trucks be prohibited parking space in the city streets, and in future be required to use a vacant block on North Second for stops.

Parking in the center of the streets, as has been practiced, is considered dangerous to other traffic by the council. Mud scraped from the trucks onto city streets has also angered the councilors, who intend to prosecute drivers guilty of the act. Paving is injured by the passage of the heavier trucks, it is thought, and the council plans to ask cooperation of the state highway authorities in stopping these carriers from traveling over paved streets.

Officials Charged With Pocketing Bribe Money

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 26. (AP)—A former police magistrate, three deputy sheriffs and a professional bondsman and his son have been presented by the Anne Arundel county grand jury here on charges of graft and bribery in connection with gambling and liquor rackets.

The former magistrate was Harry Melvin of Brooklyn, just outside Baltimore.

Rising From Obscurity

ONE of our favorite traditions is the belief that only in the United States can the son of poor parents rise to the highest positions in the land. The "log cabin to the White House" story has convinced us that this is true. Only America holds opportunity for the underdog.

To a certain extent this is true. But there are more exceptions than we generally suppose; and a recent dispatch from Paris by an American newspaper man contains some information that is apt to be surprising.

Europe, this writer points out, is today very largely ruled by men who came from the lower strata of the population.

In England, of course, there is Ramsay MacDonald, brought up in the bleak poverty of a Scottish village, and now prime minister of the empire. Paralleling his case is that of another famous English prime minister, Lloyd George, who was a penniless orphan and who was reared by a shoemaker.

In France, Premier Laval was the son of a butcher. His family was so poor that he had a hard time getting a decent education. Foreign Minister Briand, similarly, was the son of exceedingly poor parents. Former Premier Herriot is another who came from a poor family.

Chancellor Heinrich Bruening of Germany did not come from a poverty-stricken family, but his people belonged to the lower middle class. In Czecho-Slovakia Thomas Masaryk is president, the son of a blacksmith; and another blacksmith's son who rose to power is none other than Benito Mussolini himself. Russia, of course, is ruled by men who came up from the depths, and has been ever since the revolution.

This list is rather impressive. To be sure, it is probably perfectly true that opportunity is still greater on this side of the Atlantic than in Europe. The son of poor parents has more chances. But it is quite obvious that the avenues to fame and riches are by no means closed to him on the other side of the ocean. Europe's so-called ruling class is by no means the closed corporation we generally suppose.

Shorter Work Periods

THE rail unions' demand for a six-hour day will probably evoke horrified shrieks from the diehards who fail to realize that the world has moved since the invention of the steam engine; but it is interesting to note that almost simultaneously the Magazine of Wall Street printed an article far more radical in tone than the union manifesto.

"It is perhaps too early," says the article, "to say that one of the definite results of the depression is to be a five-day work week, or a four-day work week, but it is by no means too early to say that there is every indication that we shall emerge with a profound readjustment of the whole work life of the nation on some new basis of fewer hours of work per day, per week and per year. . . . There seems no other way to transform unemployment into leisure."

When so conservative an organ as the Magazine of Wall Street can talk like that, it is obvious that a demand for short hours has ceased to be a hallmark of the radical.

Danger in Hunting

THE opening of the fall hunting season has brought an amazing number of reports of deaths and injuries to hunters, especially in the populous states of the East and Middle West; and a reading of them almost makes one think that there are large sections of the country in which there is no longer any room for the hunter.

For that seems to be the cause of a huge percentage of these accidents. The hunters are too close together. There are too many cities and towns, and the open fields where game abounds do not have space for all who wish to hunt to do so in safety.

It is odd, when you stop to think about it. Much less than a century ago such items as venison, wild turkey and pheasant were common on the bills of fare almost everywhere west of Pittsburgh. Today the congestion is so great that the hunters can't get out of each other's way.

Worst Depression?

THE head of a large life insurance company recently took up arms against the prevailing notion that the current depression has been the worst one in American history. Speaking to a writer for the Magazine of Wall Street, he declared:

"In 1839 every single bank in the United States outside of New England closed its doors. On May 10 of that year every bank in New York City closed. . . . In 1873 there were 3,000,000 men out of work in a population of 40,000,000, 89 railroads went into the hands of receivers, and 300 out of 307 iron and steel plants absolutely shut down. As for 1893, I remember it distinctly, and I want to tell you that as a nation we are in ease now compared with what we went through then."

Cold comfort? Perhaps. But it doesn't hurt to be reminded that our condition not only could be, but in the past has been, a great deal worse than it is now.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE TURKEY SHOULD BE THE U. S. EMBLEM—Benjamin Franklin, probably the most learned American of his time, was a staunch advocate of the turkey as the emblem of the United States in preference to the bald eagle, and he was greatly gratified when, after adoption of the eagle by congress, he was shown a poor reproduction of the kingly bird. In his letter dated Passy, Jan. 26, 1784, which he addressed to Mrs. Sarah Bache, he comments on it with the words "I am on this account not displeased that the figure is not known as a bald eagle as it looks more like a turkey." There follows the excerpt quoted in may cartoon of yesterday, to the effect that the turkey is a native of America, and is far more respectable and courageous than the eagle. The letter is printed in full in John Bigelow's "Life of Benjamin Franklin," Vol. 3, p. 253.

SYNOPSIS

Stephen Ashe, one of San Francisco's greatest criminal lawyers, was a hard master with every one but his motherless daughter, Jan, whom he adored. Since babyhood, Jan had been allowed to do as she pleased, and now, at 13, is a wilful, independent youngster. She dearly loves her father but fears his fondness for liquor which he takes to lessen the mental strain of his legal battles. Stephen's mother and sisters, disapproving of the freedom allowed Jan, suggest that Stephen send her to school. Furious, he tells his sister, Dorothea, he does not want his daughter to be a decorative hypocrite like her, but wants her to live her own life. He reminds them of his unhappy marriage with a woman who abided by social convention. Jan's mother deserted her husband and child during the fire which destroyed San Francisco. Jan goes to Los Angeles with her father for the Channing trial. Channing, candidate for governor of California, is involved in a scandal and Stephen is to defend him.

The case is a hard one and Stephen has little to work with. For business reasons, he dines with a prominent dowager friend of his mother's and her lovely daughter. He wants his whereabouts well known.

In the meantime, Jan accompanies Mac, Stephen's bodyguard, on a mysterious mission. In an alley outside the Channing home they pause. Mac fires two shots through the window and flees. Stephen returns home interested.

In court, next morning, Stephen tells of the attack by persons "unknown" and demands a guard for his client. He cross-examines the girl in the case.

CHAPTER XII

"Now, let's get this straight. On the fifth of November of last year, you met Mr. Channing at your usual meeting place in the park, and he kissed you and gave you a lavaliere and you talked about an hour? Is that it?"

"Yes, sir."

"That's all," said Stephen Ashe with his swift smile. "Thank you."

Too late the district attorney scented danger. But it was the end of his case, and he rested, because he didn't know what else to do.

When court convened in the morning, Stephen Ashe stood up and looked around. "Mr. Smith," he said.

A little, negative man with a large official-looking book under his arm. The district attorney glared at it. The jury watched him curiously. This was not what they had expected. The reporters whispered, puzzled.

"Now, Mr. Smith," said Stephen Ashe, "what is your business?"

"Clerk in the weather bureau," said the negative little man.

Impressively, Stephen Ashe said, "Were you employed as a clerk in the weather bureau in this city during the month of November of last year?"

"I was."

"You have brought with you the record of the weather for that month, which it was your duty to keep?"

"Yes, sir, I have."

"Will you be good enough, Mr. Smith, to tell us what the weather was upon November fifth, particularly in the afternoon?"

Mr. Smith peered, pondered, and said, "Well, strangely enough, we had a terrible rain storm on November fifth. Most unusual, of course, for that time of the year. Dear me, it was the heaviest rainfall of the year. In the afternoon there was a cloudburst. It also hailed."

Suddenly the audience had a vision of Channing gallantly presenting the girl with a diamond lavaliere in the midst of a California cloudburst, which, all weather propaganda to the contrary notwithstanding, is some cloudburst; of his whispering sweet nothings into a dripping ear, unmindful of the descending hail; of his kissing her, with his feet carelessly immersed in a mud puddle.

A shout of laughter rocked the courtroom.

"The defense rests," said Stephen Ashe swiftly.

Like a bombshell, it exploded. Even Jan shot a startled glance at her father. But he was right. He was always right. He had felt the thing click. He had destroyed the prosecution's case with ridicule. He made a witty and amusing speech, which entertained the jury hugely. The district attorney made the fatal mistake of losing his temper in his argument, and frothed while Stephen Ashe sat and laughed at him.

The jury acquitted in twenty-seven minutes, and Channing was eventually swept into office by a tremendous wave of popular sentiment, for people always rally to the support of a martyr.

That is called being a genius.

Coincident with the triumphant ending of the Channing case and before the Ashe menage could get started for San Francisco, the war clouds that had hovered for so long broke, and America leaped to answer the bugle's call.

Young Jacky Wilfong came out of a narrow doorway into a narrow street in the Chinatown of Los Angeles, and paused to light a cigaret. In the years that had passed since he sold violets to Stephen Ashe for his kind daughter, Jacky had grown tall and slim-waisted, and even in that dim place shutters opened a crack so that bright almond eyes might look admiringly upon him.

If he knew it, he gave no sign. Jacky came to Chinatown to gamble, and he was interested in nothing else. He liked to gamble with the Chinks. He liked the impassivity of their countenances and was beginning to achieve something not unlike it himself. Also, their game was straight, and now at 18 Jack's word was as good as it had been at 12. He drifted down to Los Angeles every once in a while to take a fling at Sule Sing's game, just by way of broadening his education.

The little back room had been dark, and now the lights blinded him, so that he heard her before he saw her. Often there were sighs, ghosts of sobs, flitting about in those dark doorways. But this was no incense-odored sigh. Just plain, noisy, American kid gulp.

Jacky looked up and down the narrow street, scowling. What was that kind of a sob in this alley? He saw nothing except a nondescript roadster parked in front of a dingy Chinese shop. Then, beneath it, he spied a pair of small feet in highly polished brown brogues, very boyish and expensive. He crossed the street in less than a breath, and yet he appeared to move casually.

She was sitting on the curb, feet in the gutter, head buried on the step of the car. The instant she looked up, he knew her, and a tiny shock went through him. Those reckless gray eyes, set so blackly in the creamy face, and that scorching hair.

"Hello!" he cried. "What's wrong, kid?"

Her eyes widened in recognition, but she only said viciously, "What business is it of yours?"

"There's something in that," he conceded, "only I wouldn't choose this special place to do my weeping in. Anybody hurt you?"

"N-no," she wailed furiously, "I'm not weeping. Do go away, will you? My dad's going to that damn war. Maybe you heard there was a war. And I'm glad he is; but just the same, if he gets killed, I shall d-die."

He dropped down beside her, one arm giving a comfortable but impersonal support to her drooping shoulders. "That's tough," he said.

And suddenly his shoulder seemed a better place to bury her head than the cold step of the roadster. Very strange, but that was the way she felt about it.

"I'm going myself," he said.

She nodded. They sat in silence until she was quiet. Then she got up and climbed into the car. He handed her the box she had left on the curb.

"Chessmen," she explained. "I came down to get 'em for dad. I thought he might like to play—going over on the boat. We've—always played chess a lot—evenings."

Her voice trailed off disconsolately. Under her feet, the motor hummed. She held up one hand, wiggling the fingers absently. His hat was already off, so he only nodded gravely. The little car vanished around the corner, filling the street with its echoing sputter.

But in some inexplicable fashion both their hearts were comforted. Jan went back to her dad with her grin in fairly good working order. And Jacky made his way to the recruiting office whistling as he went.

Stephen Ashe and Ace Wilfong both went to war. Stephen was a captain. Ace was a buck private. And Aunt Dorothea had her way at last, for Jan went to school. Jan said she preferred that to living with relatives, and her father agreed that it was probably the lesser of two evils and wouldn't do her any real harm as it was only for a little while. As a roommate they gave her Dwight Sutro's younger sister, Metha, which also pleased Mrs. Joliffe greatly.

"I've always thought," she said graciously to Mrs. Sutro, "that those two—Dwight and Jan, you know—might make a match of it."

Mrs. Sutro smiled amiably. "That would be nice," she said. She hadn't that worried look of most mothers, Mrs. Sutro. But then, Dwight was safe and entirely contented in the intelligence department somewhere, but not somewhere in France.

Jan existed, white and agonized but uncomplaining and belligerently patriotic, until her father returned, when there was great rejoicing.

And now came those nightmare years that encompassed the backward swing of the pendulum. Afterwards it sometimes seemed to Jan that those years were the product of some delirium, not unlike that actual delirium of her father's in which she watched him fight the unslayable demons of a tortured imagination. But at the time, realization came to her only in dark flashes of despair. Otherwise, life seemed a most thrilling and amusing business. Nothing stood between her and her desires. All things that she craved were here for the stretching out of her hand. The river is never merrier than when it dashes over the cliff. Probably it does not know that it runs downhill, or care.

Most of the time Jan did not know—or care. If her world changed its outward aspect, what did it matter? She and dad were together. People still worshipped him, still gathered to listen to his words; and, though they were very different people, they were quite as amusing, perhaps more so. She was used to all sorts. The cleverist pickpocket in the country may not be as correct socially as a federal judge or a famous painter, but he is apt to be more entertaining. And the half-world gang that gathers in a cabaret at midnight may not have the tone of a dowager's dinner guests, but they can listen as well and applaud more loudly; and what they lack in class they often make up in color.

Besides, Jan liked anything her dad liked except booze. In that alone would she admit even to herself a flaw in her idol. One does not question much the mysterious way of a god.

War Hero Appeals To U. S. for Job

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26. (UP)—John Lewis Barkley, credited with stopping two German attacks single handed during the Muese-Argonne offensive today was appealing to government officials for a job.

Barkley, who lives in Holden, Mo., near here, wrote to the American Legion explaining that he was badly in need of work and "all I ask is the privilege of becoming a plain ex-doughboy with a job to enable me to make an honest living." The legion wrote to government officials in his behalf.

He was the only "buck private" mentioned by General Pershing in his memoires.

Pershing's account tells of Barkley finding a damaged machine gun in a tank. He repaired it "and holding his position under a hostile barrage and against direct artillery fire, he broke two counter attacks against our lines."

Barkley received many medals for his bravery.

Mexican Resents Plan For American School

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26. (AP)—Reports of a plan to establish an American university in Panama brought a charge of "another advance of United States imperialism," from Limbardo Toledano, director of the school of plastic arts of the national university, at a university council meeting last night.

He said the reported plan, of which he had heard on a recent trip to Panama includes "an attack against the cultural influence of Mexico," which he said is now regarded as the cultural patron of Central America.

Toledano said the United States would offer many scholarships to Latin-America, "in order to continue propaganda for Pan-Americanism which is the same as imperialism."

English Police Probe Steamship Shooting

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 26. (AP)—Phoebe Sorrel, who was taken off the liner Asturias with a bullet wound on Tuesday night, remained in critical condition in a hospital today while police investigated the shooting.

It was learned that the ship's surgeon, summoned by a steward who heard groans from within the cabin, found the door locked on the inside but was admitted by the woman just before she collapsed. At the time she was wearing the evening gown in which she had appeared at a dance earlier in the evening.

Pocketbook Strain Hasn't Hurt Health, U. S. Survey Reveals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (INS)—Economic conditions apparently have had little effect upon the health of the nation, judging from reports to the U. S. public health service today.

From the standpoint of epidemic diseases there has been a substantial improvement over the last month. The outbreak of infantile paralysis, which assumed alarming proportions earlier in the year has subsided, while diphtheria of a month ago has disappeared.

There was virtually no influenza in the country the week ending yesterday, and no indications that an epidemic would appear this winter.

The only development which might be considered as reflecting depressed conditions has been an increase in pellagra, principally in the South. This is a disease attributable to improper or insufficient diets.

With the approach of cold weather the public health bureau issued a warning against neglect of the prevalent disease of "common cold." This may be the forerunner of much more serious respiratory disease such as bronchitis or pneumonia. In view of its possible association with these serious respiratory diseases the cold may actually become a menace to life, the bureau said.

W.C.T.U. Frowns on Four-Foot Beer Mugs as Street Decorations

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (UP)—Beer mugs four feet tall decorated lamposts along Chicago's State street today but, for some reason, perhaps because the women's Christian Temperance Union already had expressed its disgust" at the spectacle, they were shrouded in canvas.

The colorful symbols, placed on 70 two-story posts, were part of a transported "fairyland" which the street's association devised for an annual Christmas celebration, one official explained. They were not meant to hold real beer, he added. And they were supposed to be secret.

But to the W. C. T. U. the premature vision of the varicolored steins was more than a Christmas "fantasy." One officer regretted that the designers "had to go to the bar room for an art motif."

"We'd hoped to get all the statues in place over night and cover them with tarpaulin. If we could have done that, the W. C. T. U. wouldn't have known anything about it. But the cold wave came along just as we were in the midst of putting them up, and all our workmen got stiff fingers, which delayed the work," a spokesman said.

ANY OBJECTION?

Colorado Man Thinks People Should Have More Dollars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Representative Eaton of Colorado claims people should carry more of those big silver dollars in their pockets and fewer greenbacks.

Hardly any body owns any this side of Des Moines, he said today, and that is one reason why silver is in the dumps. Treasury figures which show there is $44.20 in circulation for each American also disclose there is only 27 cents worth of silver dollars available for every person.

Eaton favors a law to prohibit issuance of silver-secured dollar bills for six months or a year so as to get the coins to jingling in pants pockets again. It will help, he argues, not only silver but all business.

Witnesses Called In Wheat Sample Case

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 26. (INS)—Six additional witnesses today were subpoenaed to testify Monday regarding the alleged falsifying of wheat samples in the ouster proceedings brought against the state railroad commission.

Names of the new witnesses were withheld by State Senator Gerald Mullin, who filed the ouster charges.

GANDHI LOOKS FOR ARREST

Indian Leader Expects Trouble When He Returns

LONDON, Nov. 26. (UP)—The Mahatma Gandhi, failing in his demands for India, prepared today for his return to Indian convinced he would be arrested within a month of his arrival.

Gandhi's cold, which was extremely bothersome to him yesterday, was reported considerably improved today.

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Nov. 26. (INS)—Today was a happy Thanksgiving day for some 1,000 coal miners, for plans for the resumption of the Brewerton Coal company's mines here and at Besser, near here, had been approved by Federal Judge Walter L. Lindley. Hoisting of coal at both mines is expected to begin next Friday, mine officials said.

ALLAHABAD, India, Nov. 26. (UP)—Six thousand peasants at a mass meeting today decided to refuse immediately to pay rent and revenue taxes, thus affirming their support of the India national congress campaign for self government.

COLDS and SORE THROAT reduced 66% tests show

You simply gargle twice a day with LISTERINE

How would you like to escape colds entirely? Or reduce their number as much as 66%? How would you like to avoid a sore throat, cold's most frequent symptom?

Now research has revealed a simple, easy, pleasant way to help Nature to prevent colds. We refer to the systematic twice-a-day gargle with full-strength Listerine, the safe antiseptic.

Medically supervised tests on 204 individuals in normal health reveal this remarkable fact:

That those who gargled with full-strength Listerine twice a day contracted from 50% to 66% fewer colds than those who did not gargle with it.

And that when Listerine users did contract colds they were one-fourth as severe and lasted only one-third as long as colds contracted by non-users.

Choose Mouth Washes Carefully—Some watered—Others dangerous

Of 203 mouth washes submitted to laboratory examination, 94 were non-antiseptic, 107 could not kill germs in 3 minutes, 143 could not kill in one minute, others were so harsh they were dangerous to tissue, dozens had no deodorant effect whatever.

Surely, you can see the advantage of such regular daily treatment.

Only Listerine, under test, has shown such remarkable results. They are due to the fact that Listerine kills germs in the mouth in the fastest time without irritating the tissue. For your own protection, avoid mouth washes so harsh that they may irritate mouth membranes and thus help germs in their work of destruction.

Always keep Listerine handy in home, and office. Carry it when you travel. Use it twice a day. By so doing you combat infection and at the same time put your breath beyond power to offend others. For Listerine, as you know, is the swift deodorant which immediately overcomes halitosis (unpleasant breath).

RECIPES

Hot Creamed Egg Sandwiches

Three cupfuls white sauce.
Eight round slices of buttered toast.
Four hard-cooked eggs.
Eight strips broiled bacon.
Parsley or watercress.

Add to medium thick white sauce the cooked eggs, cut in slices. Put four slices toast on serving plates, cover with the creamed eggs, top with the other slices of toast, and pour on the remaining sauce. Garnish each sandwich with two strips of crisp bacon and with the parsley or watercress.

Baked Stuffed Pork Tenderloins

Split three pork tenderloins so that they lie flat. Bush them with melted butter. Meanwhile prepare the stuffing as follows: Toast enough bread to make two cupfuls when crumbled. Place in a bowl and pour over one-third cupful of boiling water or enough to moisten the crumbs well. Then add one egg beaten lightly, one-fourth cupful of butter, one-half a small onion finely minced, one-half teaspoonful of minced parsley, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of celery salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of powdered sage, and a speck of pepper. Mix all together until light. Then spread this mixture on the pork tenderloins, about one-quarter to one-half inch thick. Fold up the tenderloins and tie with string or pin together with skewers. Arrange in a baking pan, sprinkle lightly with salt, put about one-half cupful of water in the bottom of the pan, and bake at 400 degrees F. for about one hour or until the tenderloins are tender. Remove the string and serve garnished with parsley or watercress. A gravy may be made from the dripping in the pan, if desired.

Cranberry Punch

Prepare a rich cranberry sauce, then press through a fine sieve, in order to remove the seeds. For two pints of this sauce, soak in cold water and dissolve in hot water one tablespoonful of gelatin. Add two cupfuls of sugar and the juice of two lemons. Place in a freezer and freeze very stiff. Serve wiled high in long-stemmed glasses with a candied cranberry on top of each.

Sweet Potatoes and Pineapple

One-fourth cupful sugar.
One-fourth cupful hot milk.
Eight slices canned pineapple.
Eight marshmallows.
One quart hot riced sweet potatoes.
One-fourth cupful butter.
One teaspoonful salt.

The sweet potatoes should be boiled, then peeled and put through a ricer. Add butter, salt, sugar and milk. Beat until fluffy and pile in mounds on the slices of pineapple. Top with marshmallows and place in oven long enough to melt and brown marshmallows. Serve on dish with roast pork. To put the potato on the pineapple by means of a pastry bag is attractive.

Angel Rolls

Two compressed yeast cakes.
Two cupfuls sweet milk, scalded and cooled.
One-half cupful shortening.

After the Thanksgiving Feast

Thanksgiving! The very word suggests the family home-coming and the heavily laden table. Thanksgiving dinner is, of course, the festive occasion of the week. Yet in many homes sons, daughters and guests alike remain over the week-end. For them the hostess strives to make each meal one of pleasant memories.

In spite of very careful planning, the housewife often has a great deal of food after the Thanksgiving dinner has been served and does not know how to utilize it in an acceptable manner. The following delicious recipes are suggested as they call for previously cooked materials.

Jellied Turkey

The small pieces of turkey which cannot be used as slices may be utilized for jellied turkey. Use one quart of turkey broth or bouillon, three hard-cooked eggs, three cupfuls diced cold turkey, and two tablespoonfuls granulated gelatin which has been soaked in one cupful cold water. Heat the broth or bouillon and pour over the gelatin. When dissolved, add the turkey and salt and pepper to season. Place a little of the liquid in a mold and set on ice to harden. Place sliced eggs around the side of the mold in a definite pattern. Add more liquid and let harden. When firm, add the turkey. Place in the refrigerator overnight. Serve on lettuce leaves, and garnish with tomatoes cut in quarters. Serve with mayonnaise dressing.

Turkey Casserole

Six tablespoonfuls butter or margarine.
Two tablespoonfuls flour.
One and one-half cupfuls milk.
Three egg-yolks.
Two teaspoonfuls salt.
One pound mushrooms.
One-fourth cupful bread crumbs.

Cut left-over turkey into good-sized pieces. In the bottom of a casserole arrange a layer of cold stuffing and then place the turkey slices on top. Meanwhile prepare a sauce by melting two tablespoonfus butter, adding flour and stirring until smooth. Next add milk and, when the sauce is thickened, pour it over beaten egg-yolks and add one teaspoonful salt. Pour this sauce over turkey and cover with mushrooms which have first been chopped and cooked in two tablespoonfuls of butter until tender, then combine with the bread crumbs two tablesponnfuls butter and one teaspoonful salt. Bake in a hot oven of 400 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Serves six.

Deviled Turkey

Sliced left over turkey.
One medium onion, chopped.
Four seeded green peppers, chopped.
One teaspoonful chopped parsley.
One cupful water.
Four tablespoonfuls butter or margarine.
One cupful chopped mushrooms.
Two tablespoonfuls flour.
One can condensed tomato soup.

Slice cold roast turkey in as attractive slices as possible, then arrange on a baking pan, sprinkle two tablespoonfuls metled fat and heat in a moderate oven of 375 degrees F. for 10 minutes. Meanwhile prepare this sauce: Chop onion and green peppers fine. Saute' in two tablespoonfuls of melted fat until quite tender. Then add chopped mushrooms and parsley. When thoroughly mixed add flour and stir until smooth. Next add condensed tomato soup and water and continue stirring until smooth. Add salt if necessary. Serve as a sauce with hot sliced turkey. Serves six.

Turkey Timbales

Three cupfuls minced turkey.
One cupful soft break crumbs.
One-half cupful milk.
One teaspoonful salt.
Three eggs.
One-eighth teaspoonful pepper.
One teaspoonful minced parsley.
One-fourth teaspoonful grated onion.
Two tablespoonfuls melted butter.

Heat bread crumbs with milk until thick, then add turkey, seasonings, butter, onion and parsley. Beat egg-yolks until light and add to turkey. Then fold in egg-whites beaten until stiff. Turn into greased custard or timbale cups. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees F. until set or until a silver knife inserted in center of the timbale mixture comes out clean—about 35 minutes. Serve with mushroom sauce. Serves six.

Mushroom Sauce

Two cupfuls mushroom liquor and milk.
Four tablespoonfuls flour.
Dash of pepper.
One-half pound mushrooms.

RECIPES USE 'LEFT OVERS'

Mrs. Dawson Tells How to Utilize Extra Food

Four tablespoonfuls butter.
One-half teaspoonful salt.

Remove the stems from the mushrooms and cook them slowly in two cupfuls of water about 20 minutes. Discard the stems and measure liquor, use in place of an equal amount of milk; melt butter add flour, salt and pepper. Blend thoroughly. Pour in the liquid and stir constantly until thick. Saute' the mushroom caps in butter until golden brown and add to the sauce. (A slice of onion cooked with the stems improves the flavor for some. Serves six.

Turkey Turnovers

Sift one cup and one-half of flour with one-half a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of sugar, and three teaspoonfus of baking powder. Chop in one-fourth a cup of butter, and work to a dough with one-half a cup of milk. Roll to one-quarter inch thick, or less, and cut in four-inch squares. There should be about eight squares. Lay in the center of each a good tablespoonful of chopped turkey mixed with left-over stuffing and even with a little left-over vegetables. Turn over the squares of dough cornerwise, to make triangular shapes, moisten the edges, join, press with the tines of a fork, and bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees F. for 15 minutes or until well browned, piping hot, and smelling of turkey and trimmings.

Turkey au Gratin Sandwiches

Turkey au gratin sandwiches are inviting even though it takes a few minutes to make them ready. Bread and butter sandwiches containing thin slices of turkey are toasted and placed in a large shallow pan. One sandwich is usually enough for each person. Pour over the sandwiches a rich white or cream sauce. (The sauce may be made and placed in the refrigerator several hours in advance and reheated while the sandwiches are being toasted.) Sprinkle grated cheese over the top and leave in the oven just long enough to heat thoroughly and to melt the cheese.

Cranberry Mold

One package lemon Jell-O.
One and one-half cupfuls boiling water.
Juice one-half lemon.
One-half cupful celery, finely cut.
One-half canned shredded pineapple.
One cupful thick cranberry sauce, sweetened.

Dissolve Jell-O in boiling water. Chill. When slightly thickened, add lemon juice, celery, pineapple, and cranberry sauce. Turn into mold, chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with Mayonnaise. Serves from six to eight.

Stuffed Drumsticks

Chop together one-third a cup each of cooked tongue, cooked ham and mushrooms, with, perhaps, one-half a cup of well-seasoned mashed potato to bind the mixture. Remove the bones from the turkey legs, cut open and fill with the mixture. Sew up with coarse thread, working the stuffing so that the legs appear very plump and shapely. Fasten strips of breakfast bacon over them with wooden toothpicks, and braise in a covered pan in enough good gravy or stock to cover them half-way. After 20 minutes or when they are hot through serve on a bed of spaghetti in a thick tomato sauce after removing the bacon, which can be cut up small and added to the sauce,) and cutting away the stitches. Delicious for lunch or supper for two.

Democrats in Congress Anxiously Await Coming of 'Cowboy' Kleberg

By FRASER EDWARDS
(Copyr't, 1931, By Universal Service Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Democrats have reclaimed Texas and Jack Garner's smile today resembled a sunrise over the Rio Grande.

For the election of Richard M. Kleberg of Corpus Christi, a Democrat, to suceed the late Harry M. Wurzbach, Republican, in the 14th Texas district means a number of things.

First, it means that Texas has returned to traditional Democratic ranks. Some 200,000 residents of Texas strayed in 1928 and gave the state's electoral vote to Hoover. They had a Republican representative in Wurzbach since the debacle of 1920.

Second, it means that Garner will be elected speaker of the house without a struggle. He will be the first Texan to have the opportunity to add luster to that illustrious post.

Third, it means that the house will have added to its membership a real, sure-'nuf cowboy—a rootin', shootin', rip-snortin' buckaroo, who can rope, throw and hog-tie a steer in less than 20 seconds at any rodeo. And he's going on past 50 years.

Dick Kleberg has no notches on his gun and it is even said that he does not carry one. There will be no jingling of spurs when he walks into the house chamber. And probably he will not be wearing a 10-gallon hat. But as one of his college mates at the University of Texas, Representative Fritz Lanham, described him:

"Dick is an honest to goodness, real, live red-blooded Texan, ready for a fight or a frolic and he will be a real addition to the house."

Dick is one of the descendents of highly honored German stock which settled in Southwest Texas back in the days of Stephen F. Austin. He is the son of old Bob Kleberg, manager of the famed King ranch.

It is no idle boast of the Kleberg's that their front door is 100 miles from their front gate. For the King ranch covers more than 1,000,000 acres. Rhode Island would get lost in one of their smaller pastures.

GANGSTER SLAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (UP)—Chicago's war on banditry continued successfully today with the slaying of the second holdup man in 24 hours.

Policeman George O'Brien shot and killed John Smalley and wounded Winton Cagel as the pair sought to hold up a haberdashery shop where O'Brien was stationed as a guard.

O'Brien killed another bandit in the same ambush just a year ago. Smalley's slaying was preceded by 24 hours with the fatal shooting of a bandit in a drug store holdup.

British Tariff Move Slated

LONDON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald announced today that a financial resolution would be presented in the house of commons next Monday to authorize imposition of customs duties on agricultural products.

Sir John Gilmour, minister of agriculture, elaborating on this announcement, said the government had decided to apply the quota principle to home-grown wheat of milling quality and to introduce a measure to reduce imports of "certain non-essential articles of agricultural produce," by means of tariff levies.

Because of the overwhelming government majority, there is no question that these measures will be approved.

Sir John told a questioner to await presentation of the bill when he was asked whether the proposed duties would govern canned goods and whether any decision had been reached regarding extension of the quota principle to empire wheat.

Turtle Race Flops When Sleet Drives Speedsters Inside

EL RENO, Okla., Nov. 26. (UP)—The weather eye of 300 terrapins, slow but sure racers on the sanded turf, has caused postponement of the big Thanksgiving terrapin derby here.

The derby was officially proclaimed no contest today by J. W. Tipton of the Oklahoma Sheriffs' and Peace Officers' association which sponsored the turtle classic. He stated his reason thus:

"You know these darned terrapins took one squint at that sleet squal yesterday and crawled in their holes. I tried hot water baths and putting hot coals on them but they balked just like a donkey."

Money paid for tickets on the terrapins was refunded. Tipton plans to hold the derby next May when the terrapins bestir themselves from the winter hibernation.

Flier Sets Out to Find Wreckage of Balloon

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26. (INS)—Traveling in a more substantial conveyance than the one in which he made his first trip northward, Milford Vanik, 25, Cleveland aeronaut, today was en route to Ontario in search for the wreckage of his blalloon which he lost in the Canadian wilds.

With three friends, Vanik started toward the region of Dean Lake, Ontario, in an automobile puling a trailer, hoping to recover the bag and return here by Sunday.

CITY ENJOYS QUIET HOLIDAY

2,400 Brave Weather At Football Game

such a day for Thanksgiving as we observe today, we are in a safe position. We still are 'on praying ground and pleading terms' with our God.

"A thankful man also is a conscientious man," Rev. Mr. Crutchfield continued." He will give thanks to God for the elements of nature which he is privileged to assume and control for his use. We are all too prone to take them as a matter-of-fact. There is need for us to become more God-conscious. Religious people founded America. Religious people must save America. We must keep before us the ideals of the Pilgrim fathers. We are met here today to accord unto God that share which really belongs to Him."

The speaker declared that there can be no such thing as a "self-made" man. All of the elements which make possible a successful life come from without the individual, he asserted, save the divine spark of life. That, he reminded, is God-given before all else.

Thanksgiving also should be voiced at this season, Rev. Crutchfield said, for bodily comfort. He extolled the willingness and ability of human beings today to carry life-saving serums and equipment into hidden wastelands in order to rescue an individual from death.

Capone and the Law

The speaker expressed the conviction that a higher plane of living is to be attained by the American people.

"Eventually, we shall learn the truth of the psalmist's declaration that 'righteousness exalteth a nation," he said. "We have deplored conditions which have brought pain and regret and sorrow upon our people. We have been sorry that one of largest cities should have become the laughing stock of the world because of the lawlessness of Al Capone and his henchmen. But have we been thankful enough for the kind of a judge who would sit on that bench, look Capone in the eye, and pronounce upon him the sentence returned against him? I am thankful for that sort of a judge, that type of protector for the law. I am thankful that we have as much loyalty to the law, as much respect for it, as we do. We need more of both. But I believe that

'The thoughts of men are widened With the process of the suns,' and that we are making progress. You can not mark progress upon the increasing number of automobiles and airplanes in use. But if the boys and girls of today can catch up the refrain, 'Faith of Our Fathers,' then I shall say we are making progress. If we shall have a greater number of boys and girls in our churches, then I shall say we are making progress. I think our young people are as fine a lot as the world has ever seen. I believe they are going to carry on. We should give thanks for their vigor, their eagerness, and for the opportunity to guide their lives into paths of healthy human service."

Other Services Well Attended

The male chorus sang "The House by the Side of the Road," and "Remember Me, O Mighty One," and with the congregation sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," and "Stand Up, Stand Up, for Jesus." Mrs. Collaro was at the organ throughout the service, playing the prelude, offertory, and postlude in addition to accompaniments.

A free will offering for the benefit of the community chest was taken. Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, presided at the service, and was assisted by Dr. George P. Horst, Dr. O. L. Powers, Dr. H. T. Wood, and Rev. J. E. Montgomery.

Members of the male chorus were F. P. McDougal, Luther Thurman, Burt Kurtz, Willard L. Underwood, first teners; R. E. Shepherd, Orville Medford, Baldwin Montgomery, Milton Johnson, second tenors; George Napier, Julius J. Klein, J. L. Eggleston, R. L. Snell, James Williams, baritones; J. L. Jackson Jr., J. M. Bridges, Paul Teague, and Joe Utiz, basses.

Larger than anticipated attendance also marked the special Thanksgiving services held in other local churches. Congregations of the Episcopal church and the St. Paul's Lutheran assembled at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning for worship, both services featuring special music and Thanksgiving sermons by their pastors. At the Sacred Heart church, high mass was said at 8 o'clock by Rev. Father Patrick J. E. O'Beirne. On Thursday night, at 7:30 o'clock, members of the Trinity Lutheran church gathered for a service of thanksgiving conducted by Rev. A. H. Muehlbrad, pastor.

Old Formula Heals Severe Eczema

This formula for skin diseases is astounding the most skeptical in the marvelous way it heals severe cases of eczema, tetter, ringworm, itch and athlete's foot. The minute it touches the sore you feel a cooling, soothing sensation; in a few days you marvel at how your skin has healed. If you suffer with eczema, or any skin disease, get from any druggist a 60c box of Tetterine and get relief or get your money back. Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga. —Adv.

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

If you have catarrnal deafness or head noises go to Allison's Drug store or your druggist, and get 1 ounce of Parmint (Double strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

LIONS CINCH SECOND PLACE

Brilliant Attack Swamps Local Crew

the visitors took the ball after an exchange of punts. Christian, Thompson and Lutz took turn about in the steady march, Lutz and Christian getting off a nice lateral pass that gave Vernon a first down only nine yards away. Thompson made this distance on the next play. Coach Weir sent Smith in to try for the extra point and his placement was successful, boosting the score to Vernon 13, Wichita Falls 0.

The third Vernon touchdown came largely as the result of another heave by Weir, this time received by Emrick early in the third period. Christian returned a Wichita Falls punt 15 yards to the locals' 45-yard line. On the last of three plays Vernon drew an offside penalty, setting the ball in midfield, and from this spot Weir passed 30 yards to Emrick, who trotted the remaining distance to the goal line, which he crossed standing up. Mason's place kick for extra point failed and the score was Vernon 19, Wichita Falls 0.

Late in the same period Christian intercepted a Coyote pass on his 45-yard line, returning 23 yards to Wichita Falls' 34-yard line. The Lions started a drive from this point that ended in the final marker. Christian himself raced 10 yards on the next play for a first down on the Coyote 24-yard line as the third period ended. After three plays had failed to gain much, Thompson crushed through for a 12-yard gain and Christian on the next play made the remaining eight yards to cross the goal stripe. Mason's place kick failed.

It was a fighting bunch of Coyotes that met the Lions, and at times the local backfielders got off long and sensational gains, but for the most part they were made while the Pack was deep in its own territory. First down statistics show Vernon made 12 to Wichita Falls' 10. The figures on yardage gained from scrimmage are likewise close, the Coyotes making 180 yards to 190 for Vernon. In the passing game Vernon was clearly ahead, completing four out of 10 attempts for a total gain of 116 yards, while the Coyotes completed two of 12 attempts for a gain of only 24 yards. Lutz had the edge on Allen and Mauldin of the Coyotes in the many punting duels.

Emrick and Watson were the principal bearers of bad news to the Coyote backfield, although the entire Vernon wall stood out brilliantly. These two, however, were constantly breaking up Coyote plays during the few times the locals managed to get in position to start a drive to the goal.

For the Coyotes, Mauldin and Sepkovitch, Huff and Daugherty made some great tackles, while Brandon, Greenwood, Hanks and Anderson, all ends, were vital in breaking up passes. The entire Coyote team gave a good account of itself in that fumbles and boneheads, heretofore a menace to their hopes, were conspicuous by their absence. The team made a splendid showing, and bowed in defeat only to a team that obviously was its superior.

The game was played on a slippery field, parts of which were muddy, but the thick turf of Athletic park provided good footing for the athletes.

Despite the cold and clouds that threatened rain, it was a colorful spectacle. The newly-uniformed high school band, and the girls' pep squad staged their entre-act between the halves, and the Vernon band and pep squad provided additional merriment, and plenty of support for their team.

Officials of the game praised both teams for their sportsmanship and for the absence of rough play. It was a cleanly fought game from beginning to end.

CUBS CINCH FOURTH TITLE

Acker's Men Astound Fans With Power

By JACK WILLIAMS
Record News Correspondent

OLNEY, Texas, Nov. 26.—The Olney Cubs rose to supreme heights here today to crush the Eagles of Chillicothe under a 45 to 0 score in a sea of mud and earned their fourth straight district 3 championship and the right to play the Masonic Home team of Fort Worth for bi-district honors next Friday.

The manner in which Albert Acker's footballers ran, blocked, passed, and tackled was a surprise even to the most ardent Olney fans. The first quarter was rather slow with neither team showing a great deal of offensive strength. Both quarterbacks sparred around feeling out the defense, which was good for both teams.

Chillicothe received and after two tries at the Cub line kicked to midfield. Ellis, who had been pulled out of the line for backfield duty, failed to gain for Olney on the first play. Wright then fumbled and Bagley recovered for Chillicothe in mid-field. Ramsey failed to gain. Two more tries at the line failed and Ramsey punted to the Olney 20-yard stripe. Duckworth punted 40 yards but the play was called back and Olney penalized for offside. Duckworth passed to Gilmore for 15 yards and the initial first down of the game. Olney then punted to Ramsey on the Eagle 30-yard line. Ramsey punted 35 yards to Duckworth who returned 20. Emerson intercepted a long pass from Ellis intended for Gilmore and was downed on his 20-yard line.

Eagles Jerk Chain

Cook and Ramsey conspired to make the first Eagle first down. Neither team could muster any kind of scoring threat and resorted to kicking with Duckworth having the edge. The Olney line rushed Ramsey so much he had little time to get his boots away. The first quarter ended, 0 to 0.

Wright killed an Olney punt on the Eagle three-yard line to start the second period and started the home boys on the road to victory. Ramsey failed to gain and was rushed so on his kick out that the ball went out of bounds on the nine-yard line from where Rue and Graves plunged over, Graves making the score on fourth down from the one-yard marker.

Graves fumbled the pass from center and no attempt was made for the extra point.

The Eagles received and failed to gain. Vaughn blocked Ramsey's punt and fell on the three-yard line from where Rue plunged over in two tries. Attempt for the extra point was wide. The Eagles chose to kick to Olney and Graves returned 30 yards to the Eagle 40-yard line with Rue, Graves and Duckworth alternating at carrying the ball. The Cubs marched down the field for another score, Graves went over the goal line and Duckworth made good the point to bring the score to 19 for the home team. At this point of the game Olney worked like a clock and all blocking assignments were perfectly cared for. Cook kicked for the visitors and Vaughn received for Olney on his 35-yard stripe. After Graves picked up two yards over center Duckworth kicked over the Eagle goal line, the ball going 63 yards from the line of scrimmage. After two tries at the fighting Cub forward wall Ramsey kicked out of bounds on the Olney 48-yard line.

Elmore Makes Sprint

Elmore carried the ball for the first time in the game and raced 52 yards through the entire Eagle team for a touchdown. It was a beautiful peace of work on the part of blockers and the runner. That ended the scoring for the half which ended 25 to 0 for Olney.

The visitors received and failed to gain. Ramsey punted 40 yards to the Cub 11-yard line. Duckworth was rushed and kicked poorly out of bounds on his own 30-yard stripe. This was the first Eagle chance to score but their attack bogged down after a clipping penalty had put them back to midfield. Olney took the ball at the 20-yard line and Graves raced to midfield on the play. Elmore and Graves picked up 20 yards between them in two tries. Duckworth punted out of bounds on the Eagle eight-yard line. Ramsey immediately returned the kick and Olney started for the goal line in a hurry, only three plays being necessary to make the final chalk line. Graves went over on a long jaunt around end. Duckworth converted the extra point.

Pass Intercepted

The visitors received and on an attempted pass Duckworth intercepted and carried it back to the Eagle 20-yard line.

Two tries at the line netted only a few yards and Graves passed to Duckworth for 15 yards. Graves picked up three yards and Duckworth hiked the remaining distance for the score. The point attempt was wide.

Duckworth kicked to Hutchins who was downed on his 30-yard line, Wright intercepted an Eagle pass and raced to the 15-yard line before he was downed. Graves smashed his way to the three-yard marker before he was hauled down by a flock of Eagles. Duckworth plunged over for the score and then kicked the extra point to end the scoring for the day.

Chillicothe received and Ramsey passed to Wigington for 20 yards near midfield. The rally was short lived because Sloan intercepted the next attempt in midfield. Elmore picked up 20 yards in two tries. Graves added nine more and Rue made it first down. A holding penalty moved the Cubs back 15 yards. Duckworth punted over the goal line. The Eagles failed to gain and kicked to Elmore in midfield and he returned 20 yards with the oval. A flock of Cub substitutes came on the field at this juncture. Rue, Morris, and Perkins failed to make first down and Graves kicked out on the Eagle seven-yard stripe. The Eagle attack again failed to function and Ramsey punted. Three tries at the line netted Olney only five yards and Graves booted over the goal line.

Chillicothe punted on the first down and Morris ran it back 25 yards as the game ended, 45 to 0, in favor of Olney.

Today's win brought the fourth straight in the district 3 championship flag to the Cub flag pole. In today's game it seemed that the Cubs rose to supreme heights and made the breaks and took complete charge of the game after the first quarter. It would be difficult to pick a star out of the line which allowed one first down on running plays. Vaughn played his best game of the year at guard and all the others followed him with a brand of playing that could not be denied. The backfield looked at its best. Graves was the best ground gainer with Rue, Elmore, and Duckworth picking up plenty yardage. Captain Ramsey and Emerson starred for the visitors. If Ackers' boys can take up where they left off the Masons of district 4 will have their hands full when the two teams meet

CLARENDON BEATS DALHART, 7-0

LAMESA WHIPS FLOYDADA, 6 TO 0

75-Yard Dash By Reid Gives Win To Broncs

Special to The Record News.

DALHART, Texas, Nov. 26.—A sweeping 75-yard end run by Halfback Fred Reid in the third quarter made district champions out of the Clarendon Broncs here Thanksgiving day and gave them the right to meet the winner of the Floydada-Lamesa game for the bi-district championship. Although clearly outplayed in three quarters of the game by Blake Bolton's Wolves the Clarendon boys made good on the one opportunity and the game ended 7 to 0 for the visitors.

With the exception of Reid's sensational run the visitors failed to get inside the Dalhart 20-yard line and only in the last few minutes were able to make any substantial gains. Twice the Wolves got inside the five yard line but one time failed to make downs and the second time Yarberry fumbled when only two yards were needed for a first down. Captain Nichols of Clarendon was stopped in practically every play but Andis and Reid made several good runs.

The game opened with Dalhart receiving and the locals made three first downs with line plunges by Yarberry, Howell, Webster and Thompson carrying the ball. Clarendon held on the 25-yard line and on the first play Nichols made 15 yards but a 15-yard penalty was assessed against the Bulldogs in the next play and they were forced to kick.

In the second quarter the Wolves advanced the ball to the four-yard line with passes from Howell to Yarberry, and Brewer and Thompson. Only one yard was needed for a first down when Clarendon held, and the ball went over. On an exchange of punts Clarendon got the ball on their own 20-yard line and Andis and Nichols made several line plays that netted small gains. The half ended with the ball in Clarendon's possession on their own 20-yard line.

Dalhart received again in the second half and Thompson returned 15 yards. A pass from Howell to Thompson was good for eight yards and a five yard penalty made it first down. Clarendon held and gained the ball, Nichols making five yards on the first play. Taking the ball on his own 25-yard line Reid started around left end with perfect interference and went down the side line for 75 yards and a touchdown. It was a beautiful run and perfectly executed. Captain Nichols made the extra point with a perfect place kick.

Dalhart came back strong on the kickoff with Thompson returning the ball 25 yards. Howell and Webster made a first down and Howell kicked across the goal line. On an exchange of punts Dalhart gained the ball and carried it to the five-yard line but Yarberry fumbled to lose on downs. In the last few minutes of the game the Dalhart passes failed and the line play of the visitors got better. The game ended with the ball in Clarendon's possession in the middle of the field.

Dalhart was penalized a total of 25 yards and Clarendon 55 yards. The Wolves made 12 first downs, Clarendon six. Dalhart attempted 21 passes, completed 12 and Clarendon intercepted one. Clarendon attempted one pass which was completed.

Burk Defeats Seymour, 6-0

Special to The Record News

SEYMOUR, Texas, Nov. 26.—In one of the toughest battles of the year on the local gridiron, the Burkburnett High Bulldogs eked out a 6-0 win over the Seymour Panthers here Thursday afternoon before a large holiday crowd of fans.

Seymour held a decided edge over the invaders during the major portion of the struggle, but allowed Glenn Buckner for the Bulldogs, to get away with a forward pass which he carried half the length of the field for a touchdown.

Seymour's best threat at scoring occurred in the second quarter. Hardy received a forward pass, cleared the Burkburnett halfbacks, and sprinted 70 yards before being overhauled by a speedy Bulldog tackler.

Tornadoes Capture District Two Crown

Special to The Record News

LAMESA, Texas, Nov. 26.—The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes won the district 2 class B championship against the fighting Whirlwinds from Floydada, 6 to 0, here Thanksgiving day before a crowd of 2,000 fans.

The Tornadoes scored on a fake end run in the first quarter when upon an exchange of punts they came in possession of the ball on Floydada's 15-yard line. Both teams played heads up football the entire game. McCollum, Tornado coach, made only one substitution during the game, taking out Moore, right half, and sending in McKinnon, while Barksdale, coach of Floydada made several substitutions in the last quarter in an effort to tie the score. Floydada was very effective in passing Bridges to Heald in the final period for a supreme effort to score.

A muddy field proved a jinx to the visitors. On two occasions in the last half they threatened to score only to be stopped by the Tornadoes in a sea of mud.

The Lamesa defense stood out as the most outstanding feature of the game. Every member of Lamesa's line played sterling ball, dragging down opposing runners in their tracks and knocking down dangerous passes in crucial moments. Stars for Floydada were Bridges, fullback; Heald, left half and captain, and De Cordova, right end, and Murray, quarter. For Lamesa, Jordan, left guard, Treadway, fullback and captain; Quarterback Marr, Conklin, substitutes center, and Moore and Cox halfbacks were outstanding. Conklin was the outstanding defense man. He was placed in Womack's shoes due to an injury the regular received recently.

During the contest Floydada made seven first downs to Lamesa's four. The locals pierced the enemy territory three times, once more than Floydada. Yardage gained through line: Lamesa 124, Floydada 78. Floydada completed three passes for 100 yards. Lamesa did not try passing.

By winning this contest Lamesa will play the winner of the Clarendon-Dalhart scramble in district 1.

Snyder Defeats Stamford, 52-6

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Nov. 26.—About 1,000 wet and shivering fans celebrated Turkey day here Thursday afternoon by watching the Stamford High Bulldogs take a 52-6 mulling at the hands of a class B district 9 champion eleven from Snyder High school. Snyder's victory Thursday gave them the district crown.

Slippery going seemed to put McClinton, Snyder quarterback, into high gear, for the youngster scored four of the visitors' touchdowns, flipped six successful passes in 12 tries for a total gain of 146 yards, punted seven times for a 39-yard average, and made most of the winning team's 194 yards from scrimmage.

P. Rigsby, Snyder guard, also acquitted himself with brilliance in the line, while Dunn, left end, received most of McClinton's passes.

Stamford's best showing was made in the second quarter, when they marched down the field on line play to score their lone touchdown. During the remainder of the game, they advanced three times to the Snyder 20-yard zone, but were stopped abruptly at that point. Bounds, Stamford fullback, went over for the locals' score.

The visitors presented a smoothly function line behind which McClinton engineered scoring plays with unusual brilliance. The first quarter yielded 14 points for Snyder; the second period 13 points; six points were scored in the third canto, and in the fourth quarter the visitors broke loose for three touchdowns and 20 points. Stamford garnered nine first downs, their opponents making 14. The locals hurled all of 26 forward passes, but completed only seven, netting 73 yards.

ORPHANS WIN DISTRICT FLAG

McCall Lays It on After Slow Start

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Nov. 26.—The Masonic Home football team of Fort Worth won the championship of district 4, class B, by virtue of a 24 to 0 victory over Graham in a thrilling contest here this afternoon.

McCall, quarterback of the Masonic eleven, led the slashing attack against the Young county warriors, with the able assistance of Black, half, and Selman, fullback.

Black and Selman bore the orphanage offensive through the first and a part of the second periods. McCall was thoroughly covered up until this point by the Graham defense men. However, late in the second quarter, McCall came into action and gained time and again through and around the Graham line.

Passes Thrill Crowd

The championship tiff contained every feature of the game of football, including breath-taking aerial plays, which, at times, met with both extremes of success. Failing to gain through the line, each time resorted to the pass, method for yardage.

Masonic Home made the first of its four touchdowns in the first quarter. McCall opened the offensive, but the Graham defense on each play was prepared for him. Black and D. Selman, however, gained on most every play.

McCall dropped temporarily out of the limelight early in the first quarter, after the Graham line partially smothered two of his punts. Consistent ground-gaining line plays, however, brought Selman into scoring position and he plunged across for six points after the ball had been carried 35 yards on short advances.

Opening the second period, a lateral pass, McCall to Selman, resulted in a first down. Selman through most of this quarter was the ground gainer, but later McCall, with a seven-yard advance through right guard, got his stride. On the next play he took the ball three more yards for a first down.

A pass, intended to mark up the Masonic second scorer, was intercepted by Wignal on his own 11-yard stripe. Parsley then made a good gain of 11 yards through center.

Two afforts at the orphanage line were stopped, and on the third down Graham punted to Black on the local's 41-yard line. Black was downed as he caught the ball.

McCall made five yards through right tackle, and on the next play passed six yards for a first down, as the half ended.

Second Half Starts

McCall kicked to Parsley to open the second half of the struggle, and Parsley returned the ball 20 yards to his own 40-yard line.

Graham made a first down with two lateral pass plays. Failing to gain on the next two plays, Wignal punted on the third down to Black on the Masonic 40-yard stripe. Black returned eight yards.

Roberts fumbled on the next play and Bigham recovered for Graham on the Masonic 45-yard line. A pass, Nicklas to Walker, was good for seven yards. Walker fumbled on the next try, and Bigham recovered after the ball bounded three yards, making a first down.

Nicklas then picked up 17 yards through the Masonic line.

In the next four plays, Graham lacked making a first down by a meager two inches. The Masons received the ball on downs on their own 10-yard line.

McCall Gets Started

At this point McCall laid down a barrage. Taking the ball on his own 10-yard mark, in four plays he went through the Graham line for a first down. On the next he ran another 10 yards for another down. In the third series he carried the ball three downs for 10 more yards.

Then, with the ball on the Masonic 40-yard mark, and after McCall had returned it from the 10-yard line, he was thrown for a six-yard loss when Bigham broke through and smeared the play.

McCall kicked over the Graham goal line. Wignal retaliated with a 60-yard punt from his 20-yard stripe. Black received on the Masonic 30-yard line and returned for 10 yards. The orphanage team did not profit by the exchange of punts.

On the first play of the fourth period, McCall reeled off five yards through left tackle. On the second down a pass was knocked down by Nicklas.

Then McCall ran 25 yards through a broken field to set the ball back of the Graham goal line for the second Masonic touchdown. Selman failed for extra point on his plunge.

McCall kicked to Nicklas, who returned the ball 15 yards to his own 30-yard line. Two Graham pass attempts failed, and Wignal kicked 40 yards to Roberts who returned 10 yards to the center of the field.

Graham held the next two attacks for no gain, and McCall kicked to Wignal on the 20-yard mark, where the receiver was downed by Adams.

Nicklas Gains

Nicklas took the ball around end for 11 yards. On the next three plays Nicklas and Parsley picked up another first down.

The next play, a pass, was intercepted on the Graham 45-yard stripe by McCall, who galloped through a broken field for the third touchdown of the game.

Parsley received McCall's punt on his own 30-yard line and returned 10 yards. At this point the orphanage school ran in a string of substitutes and Graham opened a daring passing attack in a fourth-quarter effort to score. Four passes, however, were incomplete, and the visitors received the ball on their own 40-yard line.

A pass, McCall to Stages, was good for 30 yards. Pickett, a Masonic substitute, carried the ball seven yards to the Graham five-yard stripe. Pickett again tried but could pick up but one more yard. McCall then made three yards and a first down to place the ball on the Graham one-yard stripe. On

AMARILLO'S SANDIES SMASH LUBBOCK BY 25 TO 2 SCORE

DISTRICT RACE IN TRIPLE TIE

Sandies Stomp Westerners On Muddy Field

Special to The Record News.

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 26.—Completely outplaying the Lubbock Westerners in every department of play, the Golden Sandies of Amarillo not only retained their record of no defeats on Butler field but threw district one into three-ways tie by beating the South Plains eleven, 25 to 2 here this afternoon.

Field Muddy

Although the game was played in a sea of mud the Sandies romped and stomped over the Westerners like a flood might do to a chicken coop. The victory for the Sandies was complete. They out-kicked, out-plunged and out-smarted their opponents on every occasion.

The first touchdown came after Amarillo had punted on the first down every play until they were in scoring position. Enochs hit the weak side for the first time this year for a 30-yard run for the initial score in the second quarter. Howes, a guard, was pulled out of the line to count the Sandies' second touchdown early in the second quarter. Carroll, Sandie sub for Enochs, scored the third touchdown in the fourth period with a beautiful 60-yard return of a punt. LaBarge, Sandie half, plowed four yards for the Sandies' last score late in the fourth quarter.

Lubbock Counts Safety

The Westerners scored their two points in the fourth quarter when Dunaway, Sandie reserve half, allowed himself to be tackled by Crawford, Westerner center, near the end of the game. Dunaway was backed up behind his goal line and the safety was intentional.

Scoggins was the big offensive star for Lubbock with his sweeping end runs and line plunges. Merrell, half, also contributed to the Westerners' glory.

In the matter of first downs, Lubbock made 10, Amarillo eight. Six of Lubbock's first downs came in the first quarter, Amarillo kicking the first five times they got the ball on the first down.

The first Amarillo line play lost three yards and the next gained the touchdown by Enochs. The play completely took the Westerners by surprise.

Both Lubbock and Amarillo employed the Warner double wing back system to good advantage, although Lubbock finally resorted to straight line bucks and few passes from the old style formation. None of the Westerners' passes were complete. Amarillo did not attempt a pass.

The general play of the Sandies showed more fight than any Amarillo team has put out in history. As a result the Sandies are still undefeated on Butler field.

PAMPA MEETS LUBBOCK MONDAY

AMARILLO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Good fortune continued to smile upon the Golden Sandies of Amarillo today.

Following the Sandies' surprising 25 to 2 victory over the Lubbock Westerners today which threw district one into a three-way tie with Amarillo, Pampa and Lubbock deadlocked with three wins and one defeat each, superintendents of the schools met to decide what procedure would take place to decide the district winner.

Amarillo, represented by W. A. McIntosh, head of the Amarillo school and Blair Cherry, coach of the football team, won the bye in a flip that resulted in the Sandies' good fortune.

When the coin called by Mr. McIntosh turned up "heads" and he was "odd" it meant that the Pampa Harvesters and the Lubbock Westerners will meet on the gridiron at Lubbock Monday afternoon. The Sandies will sit in the stands watching these two teams battle to determine which shall meet Amarillo for the district title Thursday afternoon.

If Lubbock beats Pampa Monday, Amarillo will play the Westerners in Lubbock Thursday. If Pampa wins, the Harvesters will come to Amarillo Thursday. The winner of the final game will meet the winner of district two next Saturday for the bi-sectional championship. Quanah is leading district two with a clean slate and has to beat Childress this week to clinch the title.

the next play he went over for the final touchdown.

Parsley returned McCall's kick from the five-yard line to the 25-yard marker. A pass was good for a first down. A second pass was incomplete. Three more plays were attempted without gain and the ball went over to the Masonic Home. McCall went through tackle for 11 yards. Two passes then were tried but were knocked down. D. Parsley intercepted the third pass on his own 20-yard line. On the next play Wignal lost five yards on a bad pass from center.

After an incomplete pass, Wignal threw to Wheeler for 10 yards. The next pass was incomplete and the visitors took the ball. Graham having failed to make its 15-yard first down.

McCall took the ball on Graham's 25-yard stripe and made five yards. He made six yards on the next try. The game ended as the Masonic Home eleven made two incompleted passes.

Despite the muddy field, both teams handled the ball exceptionally well. Although the Graham crew fought its mightiest, it was outclassed by the visiting eleven from Fort Worth.

University Of Pittsburgh Routs Nebraska Cornhuskers, 40-0

23,000 FANS SEE CONTEST

Pitt Strengthens Claim To Eastern Title

By MILTON A. FISHMAN

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26. (AP)—Thanksgiving day's most important intersectional football game was turned into a riot today when the powerful University of Pittsburgh machine swamped the University of Nebraska, 40-0, before 23,000 spectators to enhnace its claim to the eastern title.

The Big Six champions folded up like a tent before the Panthers' aerial offensive and line plunging. Only once did the Cornhuskers, who outweighed the Pitt eleven, threaten to score and that was in the second period when they advanced the oval 51 yards to Pitt's five-yard stripe through a series of forward passes. Sauer, Nebraska's plunging fullback, made a mistake of trying another forward which Tormey, playing in place of Daugherty at center for Pitt, intercepted and ran 23 yards before he was tackled.

The strong Nebraska line did not click as the Pony Express Panther backfield went through gaping holes made for them by their own forward wall, impregnable except for one occasion during the contest.

Warren Heller, Steelton, Pa., left halfback and one of the East's leading scorers, tallied four touchdowns. Michael Sebastian, Sharon, Pa., playing at right halfback for Paul Reider, who suffered a broken bone in his left shoulder when tackled hard in the initial frame, set the stage for some of Heller's markers with several sensational sprints. Nebraska was unable to match the speed of the fast flying Sebastian who also flipped forward passes that netted long gains.

Hugh Rhea, Nebraska's all-America tackle, saw little action, being removed in the first period when Heller crashed his left tacket for six points. He returned to the fray later, however, only to be replaced again.

Statistical analysis of the game showed the superiority of the Panthers. Pitt garnered 33 first downs compared to the Cornhuskers' eight. The Nebraskans got only one first down through the Pitt line, the other seven going through the air.

Lineup and summary:

Indiana Wins Charity Tourney

STAGG FIELD CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (UP)—Indiana's red-shirted Hoosiers triumphed in the Big Ten's first football carnical today by defeating Chicago, 6-0, in the tournament final of 30 minutes duration.

A crowd of 10,000 saw the four weakest conference teams—Indiana, Chicago, Illinois and Iowa—engage in three 30-minute post-season games for the benefit of charity.

By winning the tournament, one game was added to Indiana's conference record, giving the Hoosiers a season record of two victories, four defeats and one tie in Big Ten competition. Oddly enough, Indiana's other victory was over Chicago, 32-6, in a regulation game during the season.

37-yard run by Stanley Saluski, 158-pound halfback, enabled the Hoosiers to defeat Chicago. Saluski broke through the Maroon's right guard, cut back and ran down the side lines for Indiana's touchdown, early in the first period. Cassels, Chicago left tackle, blocked Edmond's attempt at the extra point In the opening game Illinois held Indiana to a 0-0 tie but the Hoosiers won the right to enter the final by making eight first downs to four for the Illini. Indiana had the ball on the Illinois 4-yard line as the final shot ended the 30-minute game.

A spectacular 85-yard run for a touchdown by Pete Zimmer, Maroons' halfback, enabled Chicago to defeat Iowa, 7-0, in the second game, also of two 15-minute periods.

N. Y. U. Wins Over Carnegie Tech, 7-6

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Roundly outplayed for 30 minutes, the New York university Violets made a rousing comeback in the second half today to nose out the Tartans of Carnegie Tech, 7-6, in a sensational offensive battle before 25,000 fans.

A perfect placement kick for extra point by Jim Tanguary, big Violet halfback, after he had plunged across Tech's goal line in the opening minute of the final period to culminate a stubborn 52-yard march provided the margin by which Coach Chick Meehan's eleven triumphed.

Collins Stewart, Carnegie end, had missed a similar opportunity in the opening quarter after he had taken a 30-yard pass from Ewing and raced another 30 for the Tartan's touchdown. His kick sailed a few feet wide of the uprights and with it the tie that might have been Carnegie's.

Goal After Touchdown Gives Aggies Margin for 7-6 Victory Over Texas

touchdown yardage in the first period to eventually drive across the Aggies' goal strip for a touchdown. Blanton missed placement kick.

Six down after the first period, the fighting Aggies started and they drove and drove like the crashing of a thunderbolt with Domingue the chief ball lugger. And up the field they soared, five, 10, 15 and on for 60 yards and a touchdown. That tied the count. It was a cool Domingue who patted Spencer on the back as Spencer prepared to hold the snap-back. It was perfect. Spencer placed the ball on the ground, the Texas linemen charged hard, but the alert foot of Domingue was quick and struck with accuracy for a goal and the inning point.

AGGIE FULLBACK HURT IN GAME

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 26. (AP)—Jimmie Aston, Aggie fullback, injured in the first quarter of the annual Texas-A. & M. Thanksgiving game today was reported resting easier tonight.

X-ray pictures will be made to determine the nature of injuries to his head.

Aston was taken from the field unconscious. He was then taken to a hospital between halves.

That was the football game. It was a hard old battle the remaining minutes. A battle in which Ernest Koy, Harrison Stafford, Captain Baumgarten and other Texas players fought a gallant and desperate fight but a losing one.

Domingue played only a part of the last half, but while in there he kept the Longhorns deep in their territory with his slashing off-tackle and brilliant end runs.

Pass Intercepted

Texas, desperate to score, allowed Koy to pass from his own goal line late in the fourth period, but even this daring bid proved only another of the many thrills for the fans. After their touchdown in the first period, the Longhorns only other scoring possibility was a drive to the Aggies' 38-yard line where it was halted when Malone intercepted one of Koy's passes.

Capt. Carl Moulden, Charlie Malone and Davis played sterling football, Davis in particular who ran most of Domingue's interference and should share in much of the glory.

The victory gave A. & M. third place in the Southwest conference race.

Arkansas Defeats Centenary, 6 to 0

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 26. (AP)—Arkansas ended its losing streak at the expense of Centenary college today in an encounter played during a continued downpour which made it difficult to handle the ball. The final score of 6 to 0 marked Arkansas' sole score, made in the last quarter after the Razorbacks had gained advantage in punts, bringing them to the home team's 11-yard line.

Early in the game both teams tried numerous passes with but little success and the lines appeared evenly matched, although Centenary carried most of the play into Arkansas territory.

Fumbles were numerous and scoring threats of both Centenary and Arkansas were wiped out by muffs at critical times.

The touchdown was scored when Murphy carried the ball 11 yards around right end after Cameron's punt from behind the goal line had been partly blocked. Cameron had previously waited for Ledbetter's punt to roll over the goal line but instead it rolled out of bounds on Centenary's one-yard line. Cameron then found it difficult to kick with his back against the boundary fence.

In the second quarter Arkansas had taken the ball on the Gentleman's 37-yard line and on line plays advanced to the eight-yard line. Here they were penalized five yards for delaying the game and Arkansas fumbled with Centenary recovering.

Simmons Ex-Students Hold Meeting Here

A group of ex-students from Simmons university, Abilene, met Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Solon Featherston to discuss the old school days at Simmons, according to Miss Ruth Mounts, an ex-student of that institution.

Miss Mounts announced Thursday that the exes are making plans for the organization of all Simmons ex-students in this part of Texas. The next meeting will probably be held near the first of the year. Meanwhile, as plans proceed, any ex-student of Simmons is urged to turn in his name to Solon Featherston, 1526 Britain.

BRECK DOWNS RANGER, 25-0

Buckaroos Look Good In Final Game

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Nov. 26.—Winding up an in-and-out season with an attack which clicked behind a proficient line, the Breckenridge High Buckaroos Thursday afternoon plastered a 25-0 defeat on the 1931 escutcheon of the Ranger Bulldogs, erstwhile nemesis of oil belt football teams.

Forgetting that he is but 15 years of age, Quarterback Pitzer of the local eleven forged into the limelight like a veteran, accounting for five or six yards on each effort at the line, and unwinding two 15-yard dashes off tackle for touchdowns.

Henry, Breckenridge wingman, converted a Ranger threat into a touchdown for the Buckaroos in the fourth quarter. The Bulldogs had worked the ball to the locals' six-yard stripe, and uncorked a fast pass over tackle in a scoring effort. Henry grabbed the oval as it was about to fall into the arms of a receiver, evaded the scrimmage line, side-stepped the passer, and sprinted the remainder of 24 yards for a touchdown.

The Buckaroos' first score was made by McFall, halfback, in the second quarter on a line plunge.

Jones, Ranger halfback, was the outstanding individual performer for the visitors. Through his efforts, the Bulldogs found themselves on the Buck's four-yard line within three minutes after the game started. With four plays in which to make the distance, the Ranger attack was smothered, and the ball went over.

Breckenridge scored 13 points in the second period, six in the each of the two closing quarters. The game was played on a slightly muddy field before 3,500 persons.

Henrietta Downs Bellevue, 18 to 0

Special to The Record News

HENRIETTA, Texas, Nov. 26.—Henrietta High school celebrated Thanksgiving day in a big way here Thursday afternoon with an 18-0 victory over Bellevue High school before a sizable crowd which wore overcoats and galoshes.

Jackson, Kerbow and Neville combined their talents to put in operation a consistent scoring machine for the locals. Jackson negotiated two touchdowns and Neville one, while Kerbow not only stopped the majority of Bellevue's plays, but contributed sensational interference to aid Jackson and Neville in their dashes.

Bellevue presented a stubborn defense with the exception of the three occasions on which Jackson and Neville got away. In the first quarter, the locals marched to the enemy one-yard line, only to lose the ball on downs. Bellevue's punt, however, was ill-fated. The slippery ball came down only a few yards ahead of the kicker's position. Jackson leaped into the air to make the catch, and fell across the goal line for the first score.

In the second quarter, Brister, Henrietta last tackle, captured an errant Bellevue pass and galloped 30 yards behind good interference, placing the ball deep in Bellevue territory. On the next play, a pass from Kerbow was completed by Neville for the marker. Just before the half ended, Townley raced 35 yards on an end-around play, but the gun prevented a score.

In the third period, Captain Brown of the locals intercepted an enemy airshot, but the oozy ball squirted from his hands. It fell into the hands of Jackson, who ran 40 yards before being downed. A pass, Kerbow to Jackson, produced a touchdown on the next play, the latter running 20 yards after receiving.

In the fourth quarter, Bellevue outplayed the locals, and were in scoring position when a fumble was covered by Jenkins, local lineman, to break up the advance.

Faulkner and Shults contributed brilliant games for Bellevue. In the Henrietta line, Brister, Williams, Bynam and Moore captured premier honors.

Laval Outlines Policy On German War Debt

PARIS, Nov. 26. (AP)—There must be no cut in Germany's reparations unless a corresponding reduction is made in the war debts owed by France, Premier Laval told the chamber of deputies today, and France can not permit consideration of Germany's private obligations before reparations.

The deputies applauded as he took this stand in a speech defending his foreign policy, an address during which he discussed briefly his recent trip to the United States.

CAPITOL HILL BEATS ALTUS

Oklahoma City Team Wins On Break, 6-0

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 26.—Another chapter in slippery ball disasters on the gridiron was written here Thursday afternoon when Capitol Hill High school of Oklahoma City converted a sloppy punt into a touchdown for a 6-0 victory over Altus, Southwest conference champions.

Except for the one break which resulted in the score early in the first quarter, the game was played between the 20-yard lines, both teams sharing in yardage gained and playing at a stand-off throughout the afternoon.

Shortly after the first kick-off, Ellis of the local eleven dropped back to punt. The grimy ball slipped from his fingers, delaying his kick, which traveled for a gain of only seven yards. From the Altus 24-yard line, the visitors were aided by two penalties against Altus which set the locals back for 20 yards. From the seven-yard stripe, Olivey crashed the Altus line for a touchdown.

Capitol Hill, one of the stronger elevens in the Mid-Oklahoma conference, depended largely upon Ferrill, tackle, for its defense, and the visitors' quarterback, Bradshaw, played brilliantly. Hall, Chism and Ellis were stellar performers for the losing team.

Cornell Wins Closely Fought Battle With Pennsylvania, 7-0

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—Cornell's youthful backfield power house, Bart Viviano, proved too much for Pennsylvania to handle today for the second straight year. As a result Cornell whipped its ancient rival, 7 to 0, in a closely fought Thanksgiving day battle before a crowd of 70,000.

Viviano scored the only touchdown, early in the first period, as the climax of a brilliant 80-yard drive down the field. He then played a spectacular role in the Cornell defense that repulsed all of Pennsylvania's counter charges.

Although the Quakers, lacking a real punch, lost the holiday classic for the second successive year, they again saved their goal posts from being ripped up by the victorious Cornell rooters. Rival adherents surged from one end of the field to the other in the demonstration after the game but Pennsylvania's superior numbers preserved the uprights. Many a head was punched, however, before the melee broke up.

The game was largely devoid of thrills after Cornell swept down the field at the outset to post its decisive margin on the score board. Jack Ferraro, fleet sophomore back, aided Viviano in the touchdown drive launched from Cornell's 20-yard line, tossing a pass to Dick Beyer that was good for a gain of 27 yards and planted the ball on Penn's 18. From there, Viviano took charge of the ball-lugging aided by a five-yard offside penalty against Penn. The broad-shouldered Cornell back plunged across the goal line on the last of four line bucks from the six-yard line. Les Handleman place-kicked the extra point.

Pennsylvania came back with a series of brisk counter charges, featuring some fine line plunging by Ford and Perina. The first and best opportunity for the Quakers to score in the early part of the second period went glimmering when Perina fumbled and Beyer recovered on Cornell's 17-yard line.

Thereafter Pennsylvania tried desperately to score through the air but so many aerials were intercepted that it looked as though the Quaker tossers were using Cornell's defense men for targets.

Tyler Lions Tied By Nacogdoches

TYLER, Texas, Nov. 26. (AP)—Tyler High school Lions, 1930 schoolboy champions of Texas, and the Nacogdoches High school Dragons battle to a scoreless tie on a muddy field here today.

Despite the tie, Tyler wins the district 10 championship.

The Lions outplayed their opponents throughout, keeping the ball deep in Nacogdoches' territory for three quarters.

Tyler registered six first downs to Nacogdoches three. The punting of Freese kept Tyler at a comparatively safe distance.

Tyler is scheduled to play Corsicana at Corsicana Dec. 5 for the bi-district title.

TEXAS TECH STOPS SIMMONS

Three-Year Record Ends In 6-0 Defeat

ABILENE, Nov. 26. (AP)—Texas Tech's well oiled football machine ground out a 6 to 0 victory here this afternoon to end a three year winning streak of the Simmons university Cowboys, who played before a homecoming crowd.

The running and pass grabbing of Shorty France took the ball to the Simmons 10-yard line in the second period, and from that point, Nichols, the Matador's only substitute of the day, made the touchdown in three stabs at the line. France's place kick for point was blocked by Huestis, Cowboy end. A 48-yard run back of Simmons punt by France and a circus catch of Crites' pass by the same player led up to the Tech tally.

Massed interference punished the Simmons tackles all afternoon, and behind the protective Crimson wave France, Crites, Koffett and Nichols galloped for many long gains. France raced off tackle for 48 paces in the third period, and Crites spun through the middle of the line for 38 yards in the fourth for the feature play from scrimmages. Exclusive of the scoring drive, Tech penetrated the 20-yard zone four times.

Simmons' bet effort came in the second frame when Byron took a 25-yard pass from Pee and stumbled to the five yard line. The Matador line, led by Ayres and Price, rose up to stop the threat, however, and Pee's place kick from the 17-yard line was blocked.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Children Also Dieted for Tonsillitis

Question—G. K. writes: "I received your pamphlet on "Saving the Tonsils," but as my little girl is only three, I am afraid to put her on the diet. Her tonsils are enlarged and she has a very bad breath."

Answer—Thousands of children have been relieved of tonsillitis by following the dieting instructions given in the article I sent you. In my practice I have found that children are able to adhere to the fasting regimen more readily than grown-ups; and to receive the best results, it is necessary to follow the instructions exactly as they are written. You will find all the foods listed that are advisable until your little girl gets well.

Enlarged Veins

Question—Mrs. Martha E. writes: "I have enlarged veins on the front of my abdomen. The doctors tell me there is nothing that can be done about it.

Answer—Enlarged veins on any portion of the body are usually due to pressure upon the vein which interferes with its circulation. Of course, only a thorough examination can determine the cause. Enlarged veins on the front of the abdomen are usually produced by a congestion of the liver, but there might be other reasons. A fast of from five to 10 days on tomato juice usually will be of assistance in relieving congestion of the liver if this is the cause. The application of ice to the enlarged veins helps to contract and tone their walls.

LOVE'S TRIALS

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—The path of love is not one of down and roses, Clyde Kisbaugh has found. He went to see his girl friend, Margaret Ford, with his trusty banjo tucked under his arm. In the parlor he played and sang sweet songs to her. Daddy Ford had retired when the music started. Kisbaugh, in court, charged that Daddy Ford came downstairs, enraged at his slumber being interrupted, and broke the instrument over the young swain's head.

Pantages Jury Locked On Assault Verdict

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (US)—More than 44 hours of wrangling had failed today to bring an agreement on a verdict by the jury trying Alexander Pantages for the second time on charges of attacking Eunice Pringle, a young dancer, two years ago.

The jury spent the entire morning listening to the reading of the testimony of eight trial witnesses. Superior Judge Tappaan was called upon to give a more detailed definition of the differences between "reasonable doubt" and "probable doubt."

The jurors, according to reports, are widely at variance in their balloting.

Murray Praised For Attitude Toward Killings

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26. (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Manuel C. Tellez, who was Mexico's ambassador at Washington when two Mexican students were killed at Ardmore, Okla., last June, praised Gov. William H. Murray today for his statement that Oklahoma would give $5,000 to the families of each of the youths.

Governor Murray's attitude has been praiseworthy all through the matter, the secretary said, and his "splendid gesture" showed him to be extremely human.

Mrs. Penick, wife of Col. R. L. Penick, died at her country home near Leuders early Wednesday night. She had been in ill health over a prolonged period.

Services Thursday were conducted by Dr. M. A. Jenkens, pastor of the First Baptist church of Abilene. He was assisted by Rev. Joel V. Grimes of Avoca.

Pallbearers were Byrd Billingsley, M. D. Smith, O. W. Lamb, Dick Rowland, R. E. McDonald of Stamford, and Bob Dillard of Leuders. Honorary pallbearers were members of the T. E. L. Bible class of the First Baptist church, of which Mrs. Penick was a member.

Mrs. Penick was a member of one of Jones county's oldest and most prominent families. She came to West Texas from Louisiana with her parents when this section of the state was a wilderness of range and prairie.

Surviving in addition to Colonel Penick are one daughter, Miss Lila Penick of Stamford; a son, R. E. Penick of Johnson City, Tenn.; two sisters, Mrs. M. E. Igo of Sherman and Mrs. Willie D. Kennedy of Anson; one brother, C. S. Potts of Mina, Ark., and three grandchildren, Mary, Tom and Blanche, who are the children of R. E. KELLY HUNT TRIAL TODAY

Spicer and Russell Expected To Plead Guilty

Kelly Hunt is scheduled to be arraigned before Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court at Archer City at 9 o'clock Friday morning on a charge of burglary growing out of the robbery of the bank at Dundee last January according to District Attorney Sam B. Spence.

Trial of Hunt's case was set for last Monday morning, but has twice been continued since that day because his attorney has been engaged in the trial of another case.

The safe was taken from the Dundee bank on the night of last Jan. 16, and approximately $1,600 in cash was said to have been lost by the institution. While the safe has not been found, burned scraps of metal, a burned coin, scorched money wrapers and other remnants were found at a site near Kelly Hunt's home west of this city several weeks ago. Empty acetylene gas drums, presumably used in cutting open a strong box with torches, were fished from the Wichita river near that spot shortly after the burned portions had been discovered.

If Hunt's trial is held Friday, Mr. Spence said, Erwin Spicer and Hunter Russell also will be arraigned before Judge Montgomery on similar charges in connection with the same case. Both are expected to enter pleas of guilty, Mr. Spence said. Each is under sentence for a number of other burglaries during the past year.

Atwell Hears Two Cases In Brief Court Session

Two cases comprised the criminal docket discharged by Judge William H. Atwell in federal district court Thursday morning before dismissing jurymen and court attendants for a belated observance of Thanksgiving day.

May Howard, charged with having sold morphine, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned at 10 a. m. Thursday and sentenced was deferred by the court.

L. W. Kilroy and Frank Shirley, charged with having passed counterfeit federal reserve notes, pleaded not guilty, but were convicted by a jury. Sentence was deferred in this case also by the court.

Members of the United States district attorney's staff indicated that the federal grand jury will return its complete report Friday, and a number of new criminal indictments were predicted.

WICHITA BOYS KILL BUCKS

Other Wichitans Also Bag Fine Deer

Carter McGregor Jr., 14, and Bobby McGregor Burns, 10, each killed a deer on a Thanksgiving deer hunting trip with a party consisting of seven persons at the Ford ranch in Kerr county, near San Antonio. The deer were five point bucks.

The two youths, grandsons of W. M. McGregor of this city, accompanied their grandfather and others on the hunting trip, which started late Wednesday evening. John F. O'Donohue, another member of the party, was reported also to have killed a deer.

Other members of the party included Roy B. Jones, Will Daniels, and little Jack O'Donohue.

THREE BLACK-TAIL DEER SECURED

Hunting was good in the Big Bend country of Brewster county early this week for three Wichitans who returned late Thursday afternoon with three unusually choice black-tail deer.

Driving to The Record News office, the favored hunters found themselves instantly the center of a large group of envious onlookers whose Thanksgiving game had been gleaned from the nearest poultry house. R. B. Kinsner, A. S. Bates, and W. R. Stevens comprised the trio of sportsmen who brought back the big game.

Arriving in Brewster county Sunday, the men spent three days there. One of the bucks sports 12 points, another 11, while the third is a six-point buck.

Sky-Gazing Blamed For Automobile Accident

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (UP)—A "blimp" airship operated over Los Angeles by a rubber company, was blamed today for an automobile accident as a defense plea in a suit for $6,190 damages.

Leo Frankel, 17, testified that if Mrs. Minnie Thomas had not stopped to look at their airship she would not have been struck by his automobile.

Mrs. Thomas, however, said Frankel was driving at excessive speed, and that the accident was his fault.
