

Amarillo Druggist Sold On Spur and Buys Drug Store

Clyde Holtzclaw of Amarillo is another man who believes in Spur and this area of West Texas, and has backed up his belief by purchasing the Chastain Pharmacy which he plans to improve and make into one of the finest drug stores of this area.

Born in Texas, Holtzclaw moved Union county, New Mexico when a lad of school age and acquired his high school education in the schools of the Adobe state, working on a ranch during the summer months and "popping soda" in a drug store during the school season. Later he moved to Portland, Ore. where he worked in the day time and attended night school as offered by the University of Oregon.

After completion of an accredited two-year course in pharmacy he moved to Wichita, Kan. where he attended pharmacy school and assisted in teaching pharmacy and chemistry. After completion of that study, he moved to Lincoln, Neb. and successfully passed the State Board Examination. After one year he returned to Kansas and managed a drug store for a short time.

In 1926 Holtzclaw moved to Amarillo where he has since resided. In 1928 he became a junior member of the firm known as the Maxor Drug Co. In November, 1940, he purchased the two stores operating in Amarillo still bearing the firm name.

In May, 1943, to return to his boyhood love, Holtzclaw purchased a small ranch in the old home state of New Mexico where he raises QUARTER horses and Hereford cattle.

He is a member of the First Baptist church in Amarillo, Polo Duro Lodge No. 1239, A. F. & A. M., Khivea Temple, Amarillo Lodge No. 923, B. P. O. E., Will Rogers Range Riders, The American Business club, Polo Duro Fishing club and the Amarillo chamber of commerce, in all of which he is very active. He will spend about one-third of his time in Spur, and plans a formal opening for his drugstore here in the near future. Watch this newspaper for the date.

WATCH EAST WARD GROW

East Ward school is proud of the start the PTA has made this year. Mrs. Joe Long, president, presided very graciously last Tuesday afternoon when the organization met for the first time this year.

Mrs. A. G. Dunwoody's beginners presented a most timely skit in the form of an action song, "We Must Be Happy."

Mrs. George Gabriel sang "My America" by Allie Wrubel.

One of our old friends, Howard Hollowell, gave a most inspiring talk on "If I Were a Teacher." The following is a summary from a longer selection given by this able speaker.

"If I Were a Teacher," by Charles M. Sheldon. Mr. Sheldon, as you know, is the author of the book, "In His Steps." He says if he were a teacher he would:

1. Teach the class to have an humble and teachable spirit.
2. Teach the need of a clean life.
3. Take some time to teach the value of being independent.
4. Say something about seeing things in the right proportion.
5. Teach the need of universal citizenship (Egotistic Nationalism is a great curse).
6. Teach the need of having a share in some great cause to help make a better world.
7. Teach the need of religion. He says, "By religion I mean loving God and your neighbor, which was what Jesus taught and lived."

We do appreciate the interest the ministers of the town show in the school and we are always ready to lend an ear.

The hospitality committee, consisting of Meses. George Gabriel, Oscar McGinty, F. B. Crockett, D. J. Dyess and Chap Reese, served punch and cookies.

Miss Smiley's room had the most parents present.

Revision of Cotton Price Stabilization Agreement

We have been informed by the State AAA Office that the War Food Administration and the Office of Price Administration have announced jointly, that until May 1, 1945, the Commodity Credit Corporation will not offer for sale any of the cotton owned or controlled by it except at prices which will not prevent cotton from averaging parity. For the present, this will mean that no government owned or controlled cotton will be sold in the open market except at 50 points (1/2 cent a pound) above the parity price. The margin of 50 points will not be reduced prior to May 1, 1945 unless the price of cotton should average above parity in an amount that would allow manufacturers an adequate margin under ceiling prices on cotton textiles.

This action is taken in furtherance of the purposes of the law recently enacted by Congress that directs the President, acting through any department, agency, or officer of the Government, to take all lawful action to assure that the producers of cotton and other basic agricultural commodities, receive parity prices. Hubert L. Karr, Secretary Dickens County A.C.A.

School News

FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

The high school work is getting underway very satisfactorily considering the fact that we are operating without a commercial teacher and a band instructor whose vacancies, I am sure, will be filled at the earliest possible date.

I am glad to have the opportunity of working with Mr. Cook. I appreciate his able and efficient leadership and his appreciation and thoughtful consideration of the teachers and students. I especially appreciate the good job that has been done and the school board in securing the faculty that we have. The teachers have been very cooperative in the scheduling and planning of their work for the year.

I find the students of Spur high school a very likeable group, and I appreciate the splendid spirit of cooperation they have manifested thus far. I am happy to have the privilege of working with them in the promotion of their educational and general welfare.

I would like to become acquainted with the patrons of the school so that we might understand each other and work in close cooperation throughout the school year. We want you to feel free to call on us at any time that we can be of assistance.

In spite of the strenuous war time conditions, it is our desire and purpose to give to the students and patrons of Spur high school a school program that will merit your appreciation.

A. Z. HAYS.

I want to thank all the parents for this splendid cooperation.

Mr. Hays, high school, Mr. Williams, Junior high, and Miss Smiley, East Ward principals, have been doing some fine work in getting each of their schools organized. We are now in full swing. Thanks to these fine workers. They express thanks to each teacher under their supervision for the help they have given.

Area Cotton Farmers To Air Problems In County Meetings

Cotton farmers in approximately 70 counties comprising the West Texas area are meeting in their respective counties for the purpose of determining whether they desire the Washington office of Labor, War Food administration, to establish wage ceilings on cotton pulling under Public Law 729, Chas. A. Taylor, Dickens county farm agent, said this week.

Before ceiling prices can be established by the Labor office a majority of the cotton farmers in this West Texas area must request such action, Taylor said, adding that if ceiling prices are established they will be applicable in the cotton producing areas involved. It is required that a majority of cotton farmers sign a petition before ceiling prices will be established. The following meetings in Dickens county have been arranged to explain the provisions of this program:

Dickens—Thursday, Sept. 14, 8:30 p.m., at court house.

Croton—Thursday, Sept. 14, p.m., at the community house.

Afton—Friday, Sept. 15, 8:30 p.m., Patton Springs school building.

McAdoo—Friday, Sept. 15, 8:30 p.m., high school building.

Spur—Saturday, Sept. 16, 2:30 p.m., Spur theatre.

With the cotton harvest season here farmers are requested to submit their labor needs to the county agent. Movement of migratory labor in the cotton harvest is the direct responsibility of the State Extension service. Laborers are moved from area to area upon signed requests on file in the county agent's office.

Taylor stated that farmers desiring cotton pickers should submit their request a short time before the pickers are needed, adding that movements of these laborers will be in an orderly manner.

PUNISHMENT REQUIRED

It is inadvisable, during the course of a war, to believe everything that is alleged by belligerents. During the last war, there were many stories of atrocities and some of them did not stand up when the truth became known after the Armistice.

For this reason, we have not devoted much space to the repetition of charges against the Germans and the Japanese, although both have been guilty of brutal atrocities. The facts will come out in due course of time and, even now, the Russian-Polish Atrocities Commission is gathering details as to the operations of the Nazis in Russia and Poland.

The Germans seem to have had in operation at Majdanek a system of execution that almost staggers the imagination. Correspondents have visited the place, with six concrete vaults for execution by gas and an open air crematorium, to handle 1,900 corpses a day. Until their visit, the newspaper men could not imagine the proportion of frightfulness involved.

Several German officers have told their story to the investigators. On November 3, 1943, according to one of the Germans, 18,400 prisoners received "special treatment," which reduced the number of inmates by that number. While the prison held about 30,000 prisoners, investigators estimate that its turnover in three years probably exceeded 600,000.

The Germans who told the story allege that their orders came from above. This seems to put the responsibility for these, and similar, atrocities upon the Nazi High Command and it is hard to disbelieve that the brutality of the Germans was not deliberately designed to kill off enemy peoples. The preponderance of the evidence thus far submitted seems to establish it.

Certainly if the full truth substantiates stories of suffering and death, the civilized people of the world can do little less than demand the punishment of those who perpetrated the crimes.

BETTER LIVING AHEAD

The national income of the people of the United States, for the first six months of this year, was at the rate of $158,000,000,000 a year. The rate of production was at the $196,000,000,000 level.

The experts tell us that "if war continues" these rates will also continue but that "if peace comes" the rate will depend upon many factors, including how the government handles conversion and similar problems.

It is strange that a great nation, like our own, can gird itself for a war emergency and produce miraculously. Even the financial system is able to take the war's demands in stride without talk of bankruptcy and financial collapse.

What a nation we would have if somehow we could transfer this war unity and activity into the work of peace. Certainly, there is enormous demand for goods, even if some Americans do not have the money to buy what they desire.

Maybe the tempo of war will be reduced but not quite to the pre-war level. Some way may be discovered to improve our capitalistic regime and to make it entirely feasible for millions of Americans to enjoy a standard of living higher than they have ever imagined would be possible.

AIR TRAVEL AT 3.5 CENTS A MILE

The average American is fascinated by predictions of transportation facilities in the age of the air, which, we are assured, is just around the corner.

It is often difficult to eliminate excessive optimism from the rosy prospects that are dangled before our eyes. It is hard to get a direct statement as to the cost of air travel, and, of course, utilization of aircraft on a large scale will depend largely upon prices charged.

Recently, Dr. D. H. Davenport made a survey of the post-war period for the Curtiss-Wright corporation. He concludes that air passenger travel will increase seven-fold and air express thirty-fold within five years of the end of the war, with passenger fares at 3.5 cents a mile and express at thirty cents a ton-mile.

The findings of the expert are considered conservative by many officials connected with aircraft manufacture and transport lines. Nevertheless, it may be assumed that the rates quoted will develop considerable business for aircraft lines and that, as business warrants, special planes will be developed for cargo and for passenger service.

9,000,000 BONDS A MONTH

For every $100 worth of War Bonds sold in the second quarter of this year, $22 were cashed in, according to a Treasury report, which says that this rate is far above last year when only $9 per $100 sold were cashed. In 1942, the redemption rate was only $4 per $100 sold.

The average American will learn with a shock that between nine million and ten million individual bonds are being redeemed every month and that the rate is growing. In the face of this tendency, the Treasury will put into effect next month a plan to make it easier for individuals to cash in bonds.

Everybody knows that some people, under the stress of war bond drives, over-extend themselves and buy more bonds than they can afford to hold. Moreover, many industrial plants, where all employees were pledged to the ten per cent per month purchase plan, produced a situation where the redemption of many bonds was inevitable.

Nevertheless, the people of the United States generally should realize the necessity of considering their purchases of war bonds an investment for the duration of the war at least. This does not mean that an individual facing an unexpected emergency, should not cash the bond except as a last resort and of necessity.

What redemption means, in the way of additional money to be borrowed, is seen when we recall that in May, June and July, $754,000,000 worth of bonds were cashed in. This means that $3,000,000,000 worth of bonds must be sold in 1944 to provide the funds with which to pay for bonds redeemed.

The Japanese do not know when it will arrive but they do know that something is coming their way.

Local self-government is an important right regardless of what some nationalistic experts assert.

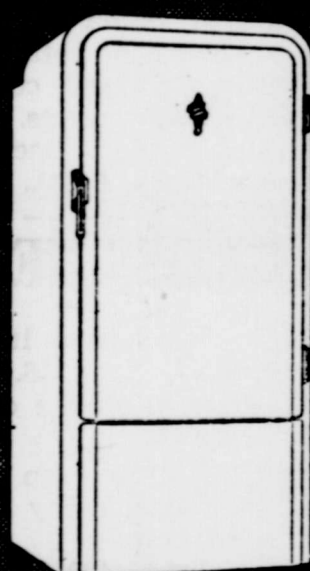

The way some politicians seek the votes of special groups illustrates the way the tail sometimes wags the dog.

Highway accidents continue to kill people but those who are extremely careful on the road furnish few victims.

It is interesting to listen to a braggart when he gets to talking about a thousand miles from his home town.

Dickens Wallops Midway-Afton By Score of 11 to 4

Sunday, August 27, Dickens and Midway-Afton teams locked horns on the Owl field at Dickens. The game was a very interesting one. A large crowd from all over the county attended.

Dickens, with the aid of Raymond Powell of Spur, defeated the Midway-Afton combination by a score of 11-4.

Ganaway, 230 pound right hander, tossed the ball for Dickens, giving up five hits, while Rainbolt of Afton and Smith of Midway gave up a total of 16.

Midway, Roaring Springs, Afton, Matador, Spur and Dickens all expect to furnish a hard base ball team for next season.

Sunday, Sept. 3, Afton came to Midway and both Midway and Afton played good ball. Midway batted Rainbolt of Afton hard; Hodges replaced Rainbolt; Midway continued hard hitting and walloped Afton 10-11. Johnson started the game for Midway and was relieved first by Martin and then by Mullins.

There is a possibility of Dickens and Midway playing one more game this season, Sunday, Sept. 10, either at Midway or Dickens.

We're Fighting To Protect 156 YEARS OF FREEDOM

It was a solemn occasion, one hundred and fifty-six years ago, when the representatives of seven states gathered together to form a government for a united people. In that assembly were set down the principles by which the common honour and the common safety depended. Americans realized that they had a people's constitution, made by the people and answerable to the people, and towards that end they devised the immortal definitions for a free land. We, as the descendants of Washington, and Paine, Hamilton and Madison, still think of our country as "a kind of asylum for Mankind." Today that is what we are fighting for. As the men in the front lines scream their challenge to the enemy, we can enumerate the principles that made us believe that every single living being has the right to freedom of worship, freedom of speech, freedom from want and freedom from fear. They are the definitions of the rights of man . . . a man living in a democratic country where the essential aristocracy of the individual is recognized. You, in the factory; you, in the field, it is you who set down these principles. Today you will want to participate in the nation's activity, celebrating Constitution Day. You can buy your share of Bonds and Stamps . . . join war organizations . . . pledge yourself to do more for the war effort. It is a day to take into account what we are fighting for, and you can show your appreciation for those beliefs by an increased effort. Let's all do our share, "and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."
