Living Costs Increase To Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs rose one-tenth of one percent in July to set a record for the fifth straight month.

The Labor Department living cost index rose to 126.6 percent of the 1947-49 base.

The July increase, while it raised the figure to a new record, was the smallest June-July rise since 1954.

Increases for food and gasoline, and a continued increase in prices for services, were main contributors to the new record.

But food prices rose less than they usually do in July.

The price rises during the past three months were insufficient to warrant a wage boost for nearly one million workers whose wage contracts required a quarterly living cost adjustment based on today's government index.

Of about 1,100,000 workers whose wages are subject to adjustment only some 180,000 will get a raise of about one cent an hour.

These include about 105,000 electrical industry workers and about 40,000 farm equipment industry workers. The 900,000 workers in the auto and related industries will not receive a raise.

Ewan Clague, labor statistics commissioner, said he expects living costs to show a moderate decline in August because of seasonal food declines. But he expects a new rise to be touched off in September.

Clague described the index as having remained stable for several years now and added: "There isn't anything inflationary about this situation."

The Labor Department reported that the after-tax earnings of factory workers declined by 36 cents a week during July to $81.23 for the worker heading a family of four. The reduction was attributed to a seasonal work week decline.

Services which contributed most to the rise in the index in the past year, Clague said, are those associated with home ownership and medical care.

Registration Set Monday

Parents of elementary school pupils were reminded today that registration for the 1960-61 term has been set for Monday afternoon at all elementary schools in the city.

The youngsters will begin registering at 1 p.m. and pre-school for first graders will be conducted next Tuesday and Wednesday.

All teachers in the school system will report on Monday, and class work will be launched with a full day on Thursday. School cafeterias will be open on their regular schedule on Thursday.

On the way toward final action is a plan to place medical care in the public health system, which is opposed by the Senate.

Rejected Kennedy plan to finance such a program through social security taxes.

Compromise Wage Bill Cleared

Pilot, Wife In Private Meet Today

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Barbara Powers had a final secret meeting Wednesday with her husband, Francis Gary Powers, her lawyers disclosed today. The young couple were left completely alone behind the closed door of his prison cell for more than an hour.

It was the first privacy they had had since before he left Turkey for his May Day U.S. flight over the Soviet Union, which touched off an explosive situation internationally and led him to a 10-year sentence for espionage.

"Barbara is much brighter now than we've seen her for some time," said attorney Frank Rogers of Roanoke, Va.

Rogers and lawyer Alexander Parker of Richmond, Va., also told newsmen they had been unable to get satisfactory receipts for Barbara's mercy petition to Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev when it was delivered today.

Consequently, they said, they took it away with them and mailed it from a postal box in a downtown hotel.

The two lawyers had gone to Brezhnev's office to deliver a short handwritten letter from Barbara begging the Soviet President to arrange a reduction in the 10-year sentence given Powers last week for espionage.

Barbara already had asked Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, vacationing in Yalta, to grant her an interview.

Unless a meeting is arranged with Khrushchev or Brezhnev, she will leave Moscow Friday for Paris. Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Montine Brown of Milledgeville, Ga., and her doctor, James Baugh, she plans to spend a few days in the French capital with a brother of Dr. Baugh.

Powers' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., arrived back in New York Wednesday night.

There were growing indications that Cuba would take a walk as the Organization of American States meeting of foreign ministers began drafting a resolution condemning foreign—and particularly Communist—meddling in the Western Hemisphere.

Castro rushed a special envoy here with a message to the Cuban delegation after hurrying defiance at the OAS in a speech Wednesday and pledging friendship with the Soviet Union and Red China.

Diplomats of other Latin American nations said the boarded Prime Minister had pulled the rug from under their efforts to get him to accept the good offices of neighbor nations in settling his bitter battle with the United States.

Castro's remarks were generally taken to mean that the Cuban delegation would walk out of the conference, but C-ban Foreign Minister Raul Roa was expected to deliver a sharp attack on the United States before making his exit.

Roa promised a reply today to the charge by U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that Cuba has become communism's beachhead in the Americas with the aim to overthrow every other government in the hemisphere by force.

Herter called on the ministers Wednesday to vigorously condemn Soviet and other Communist intervention in our affairs and clearly indicate our great concern over Cuba's toleration and encouragement of such intervention.

Olympics In Hot Start

ROME (AP)—The XVII modern Olympic Games opened Thursday in intense heat and amid colorful pageantry before a crowd of close to 100,000 in Rome's new Olympic Stadium.

President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy arrived five minutes later than his schedule called for, entering the stadium to the strains of the Italian national anthem played by six military bands.

His entrance was followed by a blare of ten trumpets from a corps dressed in medieval costumes. Then, the Greek team which traditionally leads the olympic parade, marched into the stadium, its athletes using a quick lively step.

The Greek team was dressed in conservative gray trousers and blue jackets with no hats.

The Argentinians marched with nearly 100 men, but no women. One of the loudest ovations was given to the Australians, preceded by a dozen very pretty young women dressed in copper colored uniforms. The Aussies themselves, host to the 1956 games, were a dapper lot in white pants, bright green coats and snappy straw hats.

Only minutes before the official opening, the Nationalist Chinese delegation issued a sharp announcement that its team was participating in the games under protest.

The Nationalists objected strongly to a ruling by the International Olympic Committee that the team must participate as Taiwan. The team entered the vast stadium in uniforms that had no name on them.

The great hop step and jump champions, Adhemar de Silva, gold medalist in the 1956 games, led the Brazilian athletes.

After the Bulgarian and Canadian groups had passed in procession, a loud cheer went up for the Czechoslovaks whose color bearer was Emil Zatopek, triple medalist in the 1952 games at Helsinki in the distance races.

All of the teams appeared much smaller than expected. Many of the athletes chose to sit out the parade because of the intense heat.

$1.15 Floor In Prospect

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee gave a go-ahead, signal today for a compromise on minimum wage legislation.

By vote of 8-3, it cleared the way for Senate and House conferees to work out differences between the bills passed by the two branches.

The Senate bill would hike the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 hourly, and extend coverage to about four million more workers. The House bill would provide for $1.15 an hour and coverage for a million additional employees.

The Senate measure was backed by Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic presidential and vice-presidential nominees. It was opposed by the Eisenhower administration.

There were indications that the compromise, already informally worked out, would keep the wage rate at $1.15 and extend coverage to around three million extra workers.

The Rules Committee action was in keeping with a reported agreement by Democratic leaders not to press for housing and school aid bills, in exchange for clearance of the wage measure. The Rules Committee had refused to clear the housing and school bills and had threatened to tie up the wage bill as well if sponsors of the other measures insisted on trying to get them cleared.

The reported agreement would clear the biggest obstacle to adjournment of the post-convention session of Congress next week.

It apparently was based on these factors:

1. The House Rules Committee seems determined not to let a school aid bill go to a compromise committee. It still is blocking a general housing bill, and it has issued a thinly disguised ultimatum that if efforts are made to pry those two bills loose, a minimum wage bill may suffer the same fate.

2. The post-convention session isn't making the Democratic leadership look too potent, and the longer it lasts the darker the picture may be.

3. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic presidential and vice-presidential nominees, want to hit the campaign trail as quickly as possible but don't want to desert their leadership roles while Congress is in session. The pressure for quick adjournment is coming from the Senate, which normally drags its feet on ending a session.

4. Legislation acted on so far during the abbreviated session is falling into a pattern more to the liking of President Eisenhower than of Kennedy and Johnson.

There still was some talk of a possible adjournment this week-end, but House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said he didn't see how Congress could possibly get through by then.

The outlook now is that a limited program of medical care, for the aged and a modified minimum wage bill will be sent to President Eisenhower in such form that he will not veto them.

A Senate-House conference committee started work Wednesday on the medical aid bill and expects to reach full agreement today. In general, it agreed to most provisions of the Senate bill, but decided temporarily over a Senate provision to include aid for mental and tubercular patients.

Apparently with enough votes to back him up, Chairman Howard W. Smith (R-Va.) of the House Rules Committee pointed the weapon which led to the tentative decision to drop housing and school aid bills.

Smith's committee, dominated by Republicans and conservative Democrats, has held up those bills for some time despite heavy pressures to turn them loose.

And it delayed until today action compromise of Senate and House difference.

OAS Peacemaker Role Fails

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Latin American foreign ministers today abandoned hopes of serving as peacemakers between Fidel Castro and the United States.

There were growing indications that Cuba would take a walk as the Organization of American States meeting of foreign ministers began drafting a resolution condemning foreign—and particularly Communist—meddling in the Western Hemisphere.

Castro rushed a special envoy here with a message to the Cuban delegation after hurrying defiance at the OAS in a speech Wednesday and pledging friendship with the Soviet Union and Red China.

Senate Approves Foreign Aid Bill

By JOE S. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a $3,980,054,000 foreign aid bill to help friendly nations, while barring aid to countries which help Cuba or the Dominican Republic.

The measure, which now goes to a Senate-House conference, would give President Eisenhower almost all the money he asked.

The Senate restored all cuts made by the House except 200 million dollars for military aid. It also added an extra 100 million to deal with unforeseeable crises such as the Congo situation.

Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy and his running mate Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, led 38 other Senate Democrats in backing the President's request. Twenty-six Republicans voted for the measure.

Seven Republicans and 19 Democrats voted against it, bringing the tally to 67-26.

Eisenhower originally had asked $4,175,000,000. But in earlier legislation authorizing the program, Congress limited spending for the next year to $4,088,300,000. The appropriation last year was $3,600,000,000.

By voice vote, the Senate adopted amendments to deny foreign aid funds to any country which provides either arms or economic help to Cuba's Fidel Castro regime, deny aid to any country which supplies arms to any Latin American country being subjected to economic or diplomatic sanctions by the Organization of American States—the target of this limitation was the Dominican Republic, limit U.S. aid to no more than 50 percent of the total cost of the entire program in any country.

The $3,980,000,000 provided by the Senate for military assistance is 500 millions above what Congress voted last year. In addition, the bill includes 675 millions in defense support funds. This is 75 millions above the House figure.

The defense support funds are limited to 12 countries which maintain larger armed forces than their economies can sustain without outside help. They are Korea, Formosa, Viet Nam, Turkey, Pakistan, Cambodia, Greece, Iran, Laos, the Philippines, Spain and Thailand.

Other items include 172 million dollars in technical assistance and 700 millions for loans to underdeveloped countries for economic assistance to help them build up their own economies.

A waitress at a Walgreen drug store on South Main served two Negro women coffee on a "go" basis.

"I would have served them at the counter had they sat down," she said.

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Lipstick prevented a divorce from being granted Wednesday.

Leandro Flores, seeking a divorce, saw the suit thrown out when his wife's lawyer used traces of the makeup to prove Flores and Mrs. Alice Flores have lived together since Flores filed his petition.

Under Texas law, this is grounds for automatic dismissal of a divorce suit.

Flores denied living with Mrs. Flores. His lawyer accepted the verdict when Flores, at the request of his wife, raised the tail of his shirt and showed that the word "Alice" was written in bright red lipstick across his back.

Mrs. Flores said she wrote her name on her husband's back as he slept after her lawyer told her she would need evidence that she and Flores were living together.

23 Persons Hurt In Train Wreck

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (AP)—The locomotive and 11 cars of a New York Central passenger train hit the tracks and derailed here today.

Only one of the injured people, a woman, was seriously injured. She was transported to a hospital. The other 22 were treated for minor injuries.

The train was carrying 100 passengers and 20 crew members. It was traveling from New York to Chicago.

The accident occurred at 10:15 a.m. on the main line between East Chicago and Chicago.

The cause of the accident is still under investigation. It is believed that the train was traveling too fast for the conditions.

Nixon Supported By Houston Paper

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Post in a front page editorial declared today that "because of the proven fact of Richard M. Nixon's statesmanship, the Post recommends him to you as the wisest choice for president of the United States."

The Post supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956. Mrs. Oreta Culp Hobby, president and editor of the Post, was secretary of health, education and welfare from 1953 to 1957.

Mrs. Hobby said Monday she has joined a voluntary campaign committee to enlist one million members to work for Nixon.

Declaring that Americans are thinking deeply and are more concerned about their choice of a president than they have been in many years, the Post said:

"America is fortunate to have two able men asking for this most keenly. Both are dedicated to our nation and its future. Both are vigorous. Both are the hardest workers. Both have proud records in war and peace."

"America in the next four years will be tested by the qualities of its leadership."

"And it is going to need experienced, statesmanship of the highest order."

"President Eisenhower's foresight and his generalship have led him to train men who can handle any eventuality."

"Under that system, one may have emerged and grown greatly in the statesmanship that America is going to need so much in the years ahead."

"As vice president, Richard M. Nixon has had the most remarkable training of any man in the history of the presidency of the United States."

"He has demonstrated at home and abroad the world his strength, his courage, his ability to find a way to understanding even in seeming impossible situations. He has not dodged or evaded any issue."

The Post said its decision is based on thorough study and observations of the candidates "and is not a matter of party."

"However, the sound platform on which Mr. Nixon stands and his experience as vice president are the best assurance of the best possible America, both at home and in the eyes of the world," the editorial said.

"Sen. John F. Kennedy, has shown capabilities. He has proved his skill in political organization and strategy, both on the state and national level. As senator, he has served well and in time may gain the experience and maturity needed in a presidential candidate."

The Post recalled that a Jan. 9 editorial in the newspaper said Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic nominee for vice president, "stands out among the contestants for his party's nomination as a man who is preeminently qualified for the duties and responsibilities of the presidency."

"Three times after that, Post editorials about the eligibility of Sen. Johnson's eligibility for the presidency. But the Democratic National Convention did not nominate him for the presidency."

"The presidential race, as a result, is between Kennedy and Nixon, and it is between them that the voters must choose."

DE Program In 11th Year

The Distributive Education program of Snyder High School is set to begin its 11th year this month, with Jack Freeman of San Angelo as the coordinator.

Thirty-five juniors and seniors are enrolled in the training program, which is designed to improve the job performance of workers engaged in the distribution of merchandise and services.

"The students receive a part-time occupational training from Snyder businesses, which serve as 'training stations.' Their work experience is then closely related to classroom instruction."

Freeman is now in the process of contacting Snyder businesses in the field of distribution who might have possible training stations. Those who desire to conduct him may do so by calling HI 4-2602.

Judy Garland Hunts School

LONDON (AP)—Judy Garland went looking for an English school for her children today while her husband, Sid Luft, shopped for a furnished apartment in the Mayfair district.

Judy said today she plans to live in London for five or six months while she makes concert appearances in Britain and on the Continent. Her first show is Sunday night at the London Palladium.

"I like London a great deal," the singer said. "I like the tempo and the courtesy of the people. But I'm an awfully good American and I'm voting in the election by absentee ballot in California."

What happens after six months, she was asked.

"I don't know," she replied.

But from what she and her husband said, there seemed no indication they planned uprooting themselves from the United States.

Still a bit plump, Judy said she was on a "very mild diet" and was losing weight. The slimming process apparently started with an attack of hepatitis several months ago.

She also said she is writing an autobiography, to be entitled "pin spot."

Youths Foil Holdup Plan

TRUMBULL, Conn. (AP)—Two Bridgeport youths, looking for their missing automobile Wednesday, not only found the vehicle but, police said, they also broke up a bank holdup plan.

Anthony Cavalieri, owner of the car, and Warren Jacques, both 19, found the car in the parking lot at the Trumbull shopping center, about a mile and a half from where they had parked it before going off to summer school in New Haven.

Said in the car, was John Lyons, 17, who, police said, had planned for six months to rob a branch of the Connecticut National Bank which is located in the shopping center.

While Jacques went to telephone police, Cavalieri dragged Lyons from the car and they started to walk. Police said Lyons pulled a loaded revolver, Jacques returned to the scene and joined the battle.

Ex-Diplomat Found Slain

ROME (AP)—Harold Charles Gibson, a former British diplomat once accused by life Communists of tinkering in anti-Red underground activities, was found shot to death today in his Rome apartment.

Police said the London-born former first secretary of the British Embassy in Rome had taken his own life with a pistol. Police said they found a letter written shortly before his death. Neither police nor the embassy would disclose its contents.

Gibson, 63, resigned as embassy first secretary two years ago. The embassy said he still served on the staff there, but would not say in what capacity.

In his pre-Roman past Gibson had mysterious charges reported against him by Communists behind the Iron Curtain. His name was among those mentioned in a Czechoslovak Communist treason trial in Prague after 1948 as having been involved in anti-Communist underground conspiracies.

He leaves his widow, Ekaterina Alifimova Leschenko, 42, a blonde Romanian-born dancer, who runs a ballet school in Rome. They were married in 1951 and have a 10-year-old son who attends school in England.

Revenue On Liquor Told

AUSTIN (AP)—Liquor revenue brought the state $3,170,685 during July, the Liquor Control Board said Wednesday.

Excise taxes on beer, wine and spirits took in $3,098,326, the board said. Some $671,517 went into the available school fund, and the omnibus tax clearance fund received $2,909,981.

Some 456 liquor law violation charges were filed, 282 of them in dry areas. Fines and court costs during July totaled $40,585. The board said local option elections during July left Justice Precinct No. 2 in Hardin County still dry, made the city of Denison wet, and left Justice Precinct No. 3 of Calhoun County dry.

Stockmen Warned Of Market Bulge

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Marketing Service said today cattle producers and feeders should be alert to the possibility of a bulge in marketings and lower prices.

It added, however, that unless triggered by a widespread drought or a marked change in economic conditions, the prospect for next year is for gradual rather than sharp changes in marketings and prices.

The outlook for beef cattle in 1961, the agency said, "has special significance for producers of feeder cattle this fall and to those who fatten for sale next spring."

"In looking at prospects for cattle feeding, one fact stands out—it is that cattle numbers have now progressed to a point where increased marketings of all classes of cattle is inevitable. The potential slaughter in 1961 is considerably greater than in 1960."

The report said the key element in price prospects for the next few years is how much slaughter actually does increase.

The current cattle buildup began with greater acceleration than earlier ones, the agency said, but appears to be slowing sooner. Cattle and calf numbers by the end of this year are expected to be 12 per cent larger than at the beginning of 1958, the start of the current cycle.

"While similarities and differences in the current upswing in comparison with past cycles are helpful guides, they do not make up an exact blueprint for the future," the Marketing Service said.

"Expansion in this cycle began after a decline of only two years. Moreover, the cattle industry is advancing into unexplored territory in some of its aspects—record number on hand, record slaughter weights, record high beef production (total and per person), for example."

"From history we cannot gauge future limits of some of these conditions."

Hillbillies Respected

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Judge Justin Ruark revoked Lowell Moore's divorce Wednesday and ruled it is not an intolerable indignity to be called a hillbilly.

It's a compliment, said the judge, who has lived all of his 59 years in the Ozark Mountains.

"An Ozark hillbilly is an individual who has learned the real luxury of doing without the engaging complications of 'things' which the dependent and over-pressured city dweller is required to consider as necessities," he said.

The hillbilly is not familiar with new models, soires or office politics but he does have the time and surroundings conducive to sober reflection and honest thought and an opportunity to get closer to his God."

Moore lives on an Ozark farm about 35 miles south of Springfield. A Circuit Court judge granted him a divorce from Minnie Moore on grounds she was bossy and domineering, interfered with Moore's fishing and stock trading, and called his relatives hillbillies.

Mrs. Moore appealed to the Court of Appeals.

Jaycees To Boost Safety Campaign
AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Jaycees will lend a hand to Gov. Price Daniel's Labor Day safety campaign, the governor says.

Daniel said Wednesday that Bill Leonard of Dallas, vice president for traffic safety of the Texas Safety Assn., advised him that Texas Junior Chambers of Commerce plan to participate in the campaign to prevent fatal holiday traffic smashups.

The Jaycees' highway "safety breaks" often involve erection of large signs, inviting motorists to stop for coffee, cold drinks or road information. The campaign began in 1958 as a project to keep U.S. 80 death-free.

Patrolman Suspended For Outside Work
NEW YORK (AP)—Patrolman Salvatore J. Messina was suspended Wednesday night after authorities learned he earned more than $40,000 doing outside work while on sick leave.

Messina, 36, of Massapequa, reported sick 366 days in the last five years.

Officials found he was working as a metallurgist and welding engineer for the Grumman Aircraft Corp. at Bethpage.

SS Bill Is Modified By Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate conferees on the Social Security bill were reported today to have knocked out a Senate provision that would permit men to get retirement payments at age 62 on a reduced scale.

Another Senate provision which would raise to $1,800 the amount a person can earn in a year and still get Social Security retirement benefits, has been considerably watered down. It was reported that both of these actions were taken after administration officials advised it would be necessary to raise Social Security taxes to pay for them. The Senate bill provided no tax boost.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming has been sitting in on the conferees, along with several experts from the Social Security Administration.

It was learned that on the major provisions on the bill, the conferees agreed largely accepted the Senate formula. It provides for larger payments than the House version.

However, they did not act finally on the question of allowing such payments to be used for care of the mentally ill and tuberculous patients. This was to be considered later.

The administration opposes this because of its cost, estimated at about 120 million dollars a year.

Beef Recipes Are Ideal For Informal Social Events

There was a time when entertaining was limited to a formal "season," but Texas hostesses are as likely to entertain guests, neighbors or vacationing friends in the summer as during the winter months.

The real advantage of summer entertaining is the Texas Beef Council believes, is in the more relaxed atmosphere which makes summer parties more fun for hostesses as well as guests.

An increasingly popular summer party is the Sunday brunch, featuring an easy-to-prepare but hearty menu. Sautéed chipped beef and mushrooms in cream served on toasted English muffins, accompanied by fried tomatoes, fresh fruits and coffee is a Sunday brunch menu recommended by the Beef Council.

For quick canapés for drop-in guests, try this easy recipe: 1/4 cup minced corned beef, 1/4 tablespoons sherry, 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Mix thoroughly, spread on crackers and broil under high heat for about a minute.

Sandwiches have become standard fare for anytime entertaining. This sandwich filling keeps well in the refrigerator, and can be prepared well in advance of a planned luncheon, or kept for children who come home from the swimming pool "starving."

BEF-AND-CHEESE SANDWICHES

1/4 cup sharp American cheese, grated; 2 tablespoons mayonnaise; 1/4 cup of dried beef or corned beef; 1/4 cup sweet-sour pickle, chopped fine; 1 tablespoon minced onion; 2 tablespoons minced celery or parsley; 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard or pinch of curry powder; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; Salt if needed.

Mix thoroughly. Spread evenly on slices of white or rye bread. For luncheon use white bread and toast the prepared sandwiches under the broiler, then cut diagonally to divide sandwiches into halves or fourths for attractive arrangement.

For a cocktail party, prepare midget meat balls which will eliminate a nuisance.

Eliminating Nuisance

One of the most unpopular jobs around the home is getting rid of garbage. With the concentration of population around cities the problem has become acute for city governments, too. A new disposable system has brought relief to many suburban communities throughout the country. It does the disposal job without producing smoke or odor. In the home it efficiently reduces a bushel of trash and garbage to a handful of ash. This dispenser may be seen at major appliance stores and gas utilities.

Sewing Aid

Use cellulose tape to fasten trousers. Good results in place where buttons are torn.

mer quietly and give the hostess ample time for last-minute preparations. This recipe makes 20 to 30 meat balls.

SWEET-SOUR MEAT BALLS

1 pound ground beef; 1/4 medium onion, minced; 1 bottle chili sauce (7 or 8 oz.); 1/4 cup grape jelly; 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Combine chili sauce and jelly and simmer over low heat until blended. Mix onion with ground beef and roll into balls about one inch in diameter. Gently place meat balls into sauce and simmer over very low heat for about 2 1/2 hours, stirring occasionally. Prepare sauce from sticking. Remove excess fat from sauce, stir in lemon juice, insert tooth picks in meat balls, and serve in chafing dish.

More Comfort-More Style In Upholstered Furniture

New arm chairs and sofas for autumn, 1960, are going to give you "more" two ways—more comfort and more obvious luxury. This is true in all price brackets. The dacron fluff and polyfoam construction, used only in expensive furniture two years ago, is now found in the low-medium range. You sink into down-like luxury when you sit on a dacron fluff

Hot Weather Dinner Menu From Java

Now that jet-planes are streaming vapor trails across the vastness of the Pacific, and Singapore is just a week-end away, traveling Texans are finding new vacation lands—and new food tastes. The Texas Beef Council has found, the island of Java, which lies just south of the Equator, houses 30 million people on its 30 thousand square miles of tropical mountains. Beef, which has to be imported long distances, is used sparingly, but in combinations to tempt Texas hot-weather appetites.

For a deliciously different summertime dinner, the Beef Council suggests this adaptation of Javanese Dinner. This recipe makes 4 servings.

JAVANESE DINNER

1 pound ground beef; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon curry powder; 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; 1 cup sliced onion; 1/2 cup sliced green pepper; 1 cup light or dark seedless raisins; 2-3 cup cashew nuts; 2 bay leaves; 1 1/2 oz. can peas; 1 1/2 oz. can pineapples, cut in large pieces; 1 orange, sliced; 3 cups hot, pre-cooked rice.

Break up meat with fork in mixing bowl. Sprinkle with salt and curry powder over surface of meat. Toss gently to distribute seasoning. Melt butter in 3-quart saucepan. Add onion and green pepper and cook until tender, but not brown. Add seasoned meat and cook over low heat, stirring and breaking up with fork, until well browned. Add raisins, nuts and bay leaves. Drain peas, add liquid to meat mixture. Simmer 10 minutes. Add peas and pineapple. Arrange orange slices over top. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Serve.

RECEPTION IS PLANNED HERE FOR MC DANIELS

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie C. McDaniel, residents of Scurry County from 1900 to 1929, have invited all of their friends to a 50th wedding anniversary reception Sunday, Aug. 28.

The reception will be held on the announced date between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Berry, 2402 Sunset Avenue.

Charlie C. McDaniel and Lena Berry were married on Aug. 29, 1910, in the home of the late C. H. Kelly.

Early American Has Future, Past

It's safe to predict that a hundred years from now our descendants will demand new Early American furniture designs.

The style took foothold with the first settlers. Today it is as firmly embedded in American hearts as is Plymouth Rock in American shores.

The Puritans didn't intend to start something new in furniture when they whacked up the native trees. Their plans were to imitate Tudor, the puritan's furniture in 17th Century England.

Our devout forebears did innovate a furniture style, and it is still growing and developing. Today's Early American includes Chippendale highboys and spool-turned designs of the Victorian period. It offers coffee and lamp tables, unknown to the Pilgrims but basic furniture today.

Same Family Allied with Early American are two kindred styles: Georgian and Federal.

Early American was the country style of its day, made out of homegrown woods by hometown craftsmen. It was informal in spirit and often its only finish was time.

Georgian furniture in its era was known as "modern." It belonged to the landed people who could afford the finest English imports or trained cabinetmakers (often slaves) who could imitate.

Double Curves Georgian was the era of the double curved cabriole leg and of mahogany. Designers were proud of their decorative details, and upstarts were lavish. Finishes were dark and rich.

Then came the Revolution. English furniture stopped being patriotic. Cabinetmakers looked to France and Europe where the

Twice Yearly Waxing Enough For Furniture

Girls, you don't have to polish your furniture every few weeks. It doesn't help the furniture at all. Polishing twice a year should be enough.

Much present-day furniture never needs waxing. The finish includes ingredients that make it possible for you to wipe it clean with a damp cloth.

When you buy furniture, hang on to the manufacturer's care instructions. Often they will advise cleaning every six months. You start with warm soap and water and a soft cloth. Follow with clear water, dry, and apply a good paste wax. Then polish. Oiled walnut finishes generally are cleaned with boiled linseed oil. Don't experiment. Get instructions from the place you bought your furniture.

Wood experts warn that frequent use of some easy-to-do polishes form a permanent film, almost impossible to remove, on the original finish.

Ice Cube Ejector

Gas refrigerators that make ice cubes automatically also feature a unique system for ejecting the ice cubes. When a tray full of ice cubes is frozen a sensitive element at the back of the refrigerator signals a midget motor that heats the coil under the ice-tray. The combination of heat and force ejects the ice cubes into a container. This is done so efficiently that the cubes don't melt or stick together in the basket.

B&PW Pays Tribute To Mrs. Hope

Members of the Snyder Business and Professional Women's Club paid tribute to their state president, Mrs. Lillian Hope, who died last week, at a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Carrie Lipe.

A quotation by Emerson, which was quoted by Mrs. Hope at the state convention last spring was repeated: "Guard well your spare moments. They are like uncut diamonds. Disregard them and their value will never be known. Improve them, and they will become the brightest gems in a useful life."

Mrs. Phil Ruth Fox of Dallas will succeed Mrs. Hope as state B&PW president.

Following the tribute, members of the local club had a picnic in the backyard at the Lipe home.

Inez Brown showed slides taken on a trip she and Mrs. Lipe made recently to Nova Scotia.

Those attending the picnic were Elizabeth Beavers, Ethel Mae Sturdivant, Donnie Chorn, Frances Brown, Charlie Robertson, Ruth Lee Brown, Marionette Baze, Leah Johnson, Carrie Lipe, Vera Periman, Dell Smith, Mildred Sparks, Betty Swansberger, Billie Payne, Verba Logan, Florence Leftwich, Artie Pinnell, Lida Rhoades and Louise Hewitt.

Candidates Covet Role Of Underdog

Editor's Note — Jack Bell, an Associated Press veteran of many political campaigns, takes a humorous look at the candidates in political techniques—underdog.

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—It's getting so a presidential campaign manager's best friend is his underdog.

Time was when campaign directors claimed everything in sight. Their candidate, they would announce solemnly, would sweep the country from Stockholm, Maine, to Banger, Calif.

This was calculated to keep the badwagon rolling and convince hesitant voters they ought to grab on to the tailboard as it whizzed by.

But even politics fashions change. Campaign managers bristle now when it is suggested that their candidate is ahead of his opponent.

Say it isn't so, they wall in anguish. My man is the underdog, they cry, and they try to prove it by any means at hand.

Take for example a recent national poll which showed Vice President Richard M. Nixon running 6 points ahead of his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, 50 per cent to 44 per cent.

In the old days this would have been greeted with cheers and triumphal statements from the camp of the man on top, and denounced as false, loaded, and otherwise unreliable by supporters of the man shown to be trailing.

Shark Patrol Assigned To Guard Beach

NEW YORK (AP)—Six police launches and two helicopters went into action Wednesday as a shark patrol to guard bathers at the city's beaches.

The patrol, prompted by the shark attack on a bather last Sunday at Sea Girt, N.J., will continue indefinitely.

At Sea Bright, N.J., yesterday, three big fish, believed to be sharks, were spotted in the Atlantic Ocean about 350-400 feet offshore at the Ship Ahoy Beach Club. The private club promptly shut down its beaches.

At Bridgeport, Conn., two bathing beaches were closed in a precautionary move after a 15-foot shark was reported being bitten by what he believed was a shark while swimming.

Clyde Trudeau, 38, said he received a jagged slash on his left arm as he was swimming about 75 yards offshore at Seaside Park. As a result, both seaside and pleasure beaches were closed.

Trudeau was taken to a hospital, where his condition was reported as good. Trudeau said he saw a fin in the water before he was bitten.

John Brodeur, 24, of Jersey City, N.J., may require amputation of his right leg after a shark bit him in shallow surf at Sea Girt. His fiancée, Jean Fiorano, 22, a Jersey City school teacher, frightened 11 sharks away by splashing violently while Brodeur limped ashore. Brodeur's physician said the young man was doing "as well as can be expected."

Boy's Purchase Of Peacock Pays Off
LOS ANGELES (AP)—When County Purchasing Agent Fred Cain held a sale of peacocks to rid the county arboretum of the overbreeding birds, Paul Valenzuela, 6, mailed in a bid of a dollar, saying that was all he had. Cain saw it that the boy got a peacock and peacock.

Cain received this letter from the lad: "I want to tell you I have good news. The peacock and the mother liked my house and now I have three babies. She had 5 eggs but a snake ate 2 eggs so my brother and I kept one and guarded them. They are an cute and 4 weeks old. Come and see them soon. Your friend, Valenzuela."

Says Life May Exist On Other Planets
MEXICO CITY (AP)—There are evidences to support the presence of life in other planets. Mexican astronomer Guillermo Haro told the American Astronomical Society Wednesday.

Haro said the presence of physical and chemical conditions favorable to life on other planets has been established in some other planets. He added, however, that a definite hypothesis cannot be made. He supports his theory with evidence.

Tower Says Many Resent LBJ Acts

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP)—The Republican challenger of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's reelection bid says many Texans resent recent acts by the senator, and he hopes to win votes because of it.

John G. Tower, 35, a young Wichita Falls educator, said he has found a great deal of "deep-seated" feeling against Johnson in recent travels over Texas.

"I have no illusions about the ease of defeating Johnson, but I am much more confident than I was six weeks ago. I find that many people resent Johnson's irresponsible action in running for reelection to the Senate and for the vice-presidency on the same ballot," Tower said in a news conference yesterday.

"I find that many people feel that Johnson turned his back on Texas in favor of himself when he accepted the vice presidential nomination and when he subscribed to the radical Democratic platform."

Tower opens his campaign against Johnson's reelection officially Friday at Dallas and Houston with the help of Sen. Barry Goldwater R-Ariz., with whom he teamed in conservative causes at the GOP national convention in Chicago.

Tonight the former government professor at Midwestern University holds a downtown rally at Woodridge Park in Austin.

Tower said he has no intention of withdrawing as the Republican candidate against Johnson. That was in reply to a request for comment on reports that former Gov. Allan Shivers is being urged as a substitute for Tower.

Shivers and Johnson are longstanding political foes. Shivers is a more experienced and better-known campaigner than the young Wichita Falls Republican.

Tower said he has not talked to anyone close to Shivers, nor to the GOP leadership, about the Shivers reports. He said he has evidence of strong Republican support both in Texas and from the national organization and hopes to make a strong statewide campaign.

He said that while he hopes to benefit from the negative vote of persons opposing Johnson through resentment or otherwise, he also hopes for much positive support for his conservative policies.

Tower said he has evidence of strong support in such metropolitan centers as Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Austin.

When the sheriff told me they'd caught two men I was so happy that if he'd come out here, I'd hug him," said motherly Mrs. W. H. Blaine today.

"And he did, and I did, too!" That said Mrs. Blaine, 66, was her reaction to news of the arrests of two Indiana men and recovery of most of the more than $82,000 stolen from her home 10 days ago.

Mrs. Blaine and her husband, 72, have operated a small grocery store in this western Kentucky town of 5,000 for 39 years. They work long hours and save their money.

Last week, thieves smashed a window in the Blaine home, snatched a purse containing savings bonds and cash and fled.

FBI Special Agent Wallace R. Hoagland of Louisville said federal agents arrested Charles H. Hodges, 25, and Richard Lee Brownfield, 21, both of Morocco, Ind., Wednesday in connection with the theft. They face charges of unlawful flight, interstate transportation of stolen property, and burglary.

The FBI said it recovered $55,000 in bonds and $10,240 in cash from the Hodges home at Morocco. Another $5,630 was recovered from the home of Brownfield's father, Lester James Brownfield. The younger Brownfield was arrested in Moline, Ill., about 20 miles west of Morocco and 40 miles south of Chicago.

Mrs. Blaine said it was "green of me" to be carrying so much money, but "we just neglected to put it in the bank. I've been carrying money like that for the 39 years we've had our grocery here, and we've never had any trouble before."

Hammerstein Rites Held

HARTSDALE, N.Y. (AP)—The ashes of Oscar Hammerstein II were placed in Fenchill Cemetery Wednesday after a brief funeral service in the cemetery chapel attended by his family and a few close friends.

Hammerstein's long-time collaborator in show business, composer Richard Rodgers, was present.

The Rev. Donald Harrington, of the Community Church, New York City, delivered the words of committal. He then recited one verse of the lyrics of "I'll Climb Every Mountain," from Hammerstein's final show, "The Sound of Music," which is a current Broadway hit.

Playwright Howard Lindsay delivered a eulogy at the chapel service.

Hammerstein, who wrote the lyrics for many Broadway hit musicals, died of stomach cancer Tuesday at his Pennsylvania farm home. He was 65.

Caravan Transports 32 Blood Donors
WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—A caravan of eight station wagons escorted by state Troopers brought 32 people from Wilkes County last night to offer blood for a 12-year-old girl who undergoes heart surgery today.

The girl, Carol Cockerham, weighs only 52 pounds as a result of the heart condition.

Marriage Is Pain In Neck
LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Marriage for Robert and Constance Ammon has been a pain in the neck.

It wasn't always that way, of course, at least not for the first three hours after their wedding last Saturday in nearby Green Tree.

But while they were driving to Ocean City, N.J., for a honeymoon, their car was rammed by another.

Both Robert, 26, and his 18-year-old bride, suffered pulled neck muscles. They have been in traction ever since at Lancaster General Hospital—in rooms across the hall from each other. They'll probably be discharged next week.

"It takes all the enjoyment out of it," said Bob, who was laid off from his job as a maintenance man the day before his wedding. "We had really planned to have a good time. This makes me mad."

"As soon as we're out of the hospital," said Constance, "we're going to try this trip again."

Veep's Name Not Enough
DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—A Detroit newspaper boy complained he needed more than a signature for credit.

"Denny J. Jacobs, 13, was selling souvenir newspapers to VFW conventioners Wednesday when he stopped a man in a hurry."

The paper boy said he would be right back, as soon as he had made a search, and rushed into a auditorium.

The man did come back and sign the application blank. Then he handed Denny a pen and whisked away, saying, "Don't forget to send those papers."

Printed on the pen was "Vice President Richard M. Nixon."

Unimpressed, Denny simply beamed. "He forgot to give me the money."

Religious Issue Showing Up Early In Presidential Drive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bit by bit the country is seeing the Roman Catholicism of Sen. Jack F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, being made a campaign issue by mail and from pulpits.

This anti-Catholic drive has been spreading rapidly in the South—particularly in Texas and the Carolinas. And one top Democrat told reporters Kennedy's religion may be a greater issue in the Middle West than the farm problem.

Nonpartisan observers also report that the campaign is growing. Bruce L. Felkner, executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, said Wednesday: "The circulation of rabidly anti-Catholic material already is many times greater than we have ever seen it. We think at this point there is a substantial danger the campaign in 1960 will be dirtier on the religious issue than it was in 1928."

In that year Roman Catholic Alfred E. Smith was defeated for the presidency by Herbert Hoover after a campaign in which the religious issue was a big one.

Kennedy's advisers are acutely aware of what is happening and are concerned.

His press secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters Wednesday the Democratic organization will create a special section—with branches in every state—to deal with the religious problem.

It will reply to questions as they arise on certain types of anti-Catholic literature being distributed. Salinger said it will supply facts on Kennedy's position on church and state.

Recently two Southern churchmen said in interviews with the Nashville Tennessean that preachers and ministers in their denomination will use their pulpits to oppose Kennedy for president.

One, Dr. Ramsey Pollard, president of the nine-million-member Southern Baptist Convention, said: "Since the Roman Catholic Church is not only a church but a political entity, we feel we are justified in making an attack upon Mr. Kennedy on that basis."

The other, B. C. Goodpasture, editor of the Church of Christ publication, said the Church of Christ is against Kennedy because "he owes his allegiance to the Pope."

On Aug. 20 at Greenville, S.C., the South Carolina conference of the Southern Methodist Church went on record as opposing election of a Roman Catholic to the presidency. It unanimously adopted a resolution saying the Catholic Church has "no line of separation of church and state."

When Kennedy last spring defeated Sen. Hubert Humphrey in the West Virginia presidential primary, it was thought anti-Catholicism might ruin him. The Catholic population of that state is less than 5 per cent.

But when Kennedy won overwhelmingly, many observers felt that if he went on to get the Democratic presidential nomination, as he did, his religion might not be much of an issue in the campaign.

This is beginning to look like one of the grand illusions of 1960. Felkner's Fair Campaign Practices Committee, which is nonpartisan and privately supported, seeks to prevent unfair campaign tactics. Backed by both major parties, it screens questionable material perceived throughout the country.

Felkner said: "It is becoming much more virulent, and overt. What's so disturbing is that so much of this garbage is showing up so much earlier than it habitually does in an election."

He emphasizes there has been no indication that any of the material in question came from responsible Republican quarters.

Berle Says Popping Off Halts Ulcers

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Milton Berle, rich and famous and owner of a stockpile of at least eight million jokes, has a simple formula for staying healthy—blow your top!

"The quickest way to get ulcers is to hold in your feelings when you are upset or annoyed," the comedian said.

"I believe in letting them out—not in tears, but verbally. A good shout can prevent an ulcer."

He has to let off steam. "I believe this is true not only in the theatrical field, but in social life, at home and in business. It is one of the secrets of not getting in bad with your stomach."

Berle is a man who practices what he preaches. During a recent luncheon he was interrupted by a series of telephone calls. At each he erupted as regularly as a geyser.

"Everybody thinks I'm Alexander Graham Bell," he grumbled. But he currently is in a state of personal euphoria and wide good will. Next month he acts as host on a bowling program.

"I've made so many comebacks I couldn't count them," he remarked cheerfully.

"This is something new in my career, but I've been a sports enthusiast all my life."

At 52, a veteran of 42 years in show business, the fast-talking comic says he has no real professional goals left to conquer.

He has tarried in vaudeville, movies, radio and television, and he is still one of the nation's highest-paid night club performers. A lifetime contract with the National Broadcasting Co. guarantees him a six-figure income annually until 1980.

Many people have wondered how he has stayed on top so many years, but Berle, still as brash as a burp at a wedding ceremony, has no doubt. He feels it is the quality of endurance beaten into the real show world pro by hard times in their youth.

"Too many people simply give up too easily. You have to keep the desire to forge ahead, and you have to be able to take the bruises of unsuccess," he said.

Easy Money Is Not Spreading Rapidly

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—How far and how fast will the trend toward easier money spread?

Short-term interest rates turned downward months ago. The first signs of easier mortgage terms have been reported. But it was only this week that the banks took the first step toward making business borrowing cheaper.

The stock market greeted the cut in basic interest charges by many U.S. banks as a promise that easier money would need a sluggish economy. The bulls saw it as inspired by government financial agencies and aimed at getting business on the go again.

But many brokers aren't so sure that the easier money trend will spread to all bank borrowers soon. The cut to 4½ per cent from 5 per cent was in the prime rate. And that is afforded only to a relatively few of the biggest corporations with the best credit ratings. These are the ones that are said to suffer least when money is tight and dear.

The majority of bank loans are made at higher rates. And each bank with an eye on what its competitor is doing—determine how prime a customer is and how much he should pay for whatever money the bank is able and willing to lend him.

Even the charmed circle of those enjoying the prime, or lowest, interest charge is subject to contraction in times of tight money, or to expansion when the banks have idle money on their hands they need to put to work.

"Many banks complain that they are loaded up at present. This is especially true in some booming sections, such as the Pacific Coast, where bankers are saying there's no slackening in demand for loans and no reason for them to cut interest charges. And lending conditions and rates are often quite different in the big cities and the smaller ones."

While these banks may drop the prime rate, they can prune the prime list. And some say they may.

The Federal Reserve Board has taken pains to see that the banks as a whole have more money they can lend. It has twice cut the costs of borrowing such money from its banks, once in June and again this month.

And between today and next Thursday it is relaxing various bank reserve requirements so that in all some 600 million dollars more will be made available. These added reserves could be used to swell loans by about 2½ billion dollars.

This should come in handy, since demand for business loans normally turns upward in the fall as factories borrow to produce and retailers to carry stocks, for the Christmas trade.

VFW Wants More Manpower In Nation's Armed Forces

By A. F. MABAN
DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The Veterans of Foreign Wars wants a larger Army and Marine Corps and a Navy that is "the strongest and most versatile in history," although Vice President Richard M. Nixon has assured it the United States "is first in the world militarily."

Shortly after Nixon addressed it Wednesday, the 1,300,000-member VFW's 81st convention adopted a resolution calling for a 925,000-man Army, a Marine Corps of 200,000, a strong air striking force, an air defense capable of meeting any threat, the strongest Navy in history, and no cut in either the National Guard or Army Reserve.

The Army now has approximately 870,000, the Marine Corps 175,000, the National Guard 400,000 and the Army Reserve 300,000.

The VFW also went on record for "continued development of atomic and hydrogen weapons and the necessary testing of such weapons."

This suggestion was at least partially met by the vice president's assertion that "We must not be frozen into acquiring and depending on the weapons of the past to fight the wars of the future, because if we do we will be in a position of inferiority regardless of how many of these weapons we may have."

"As we make breakthroughs, it means we must move from the old to the new, and move imaginatively and boldly so that we stay ahead in the old as well as the new."

Top brass of the VFW, meanwhile, whipped into shape, plans to see that Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for president, gets a Friday reception exactly like that given Nixon, Kennedy's GOP rival.

Kennedy's scheduled speech resulted from a second VFW invitation. He canceled a scheduled Tuesday appearance because of Senate votes set that day on medical bills, but offered to telephone an address. This, the VFW re-

Trio Charged With Plot At Prison

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Two women and a man were charged Wednesday with plotting to sneak barbiturates to a convict in the state prison here.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hendrix, 24, of Greenville, Ala., signed a statement admitting to officers she obtained contraband capsules at the request of Aubrey H. Smith, 32, a prison guard. In hope they "would help my husband to get special favors in prison."

County Atty. John W. Phillips said Smith declined to make any statement.

Prison officers and sheriff's deputies arrested Smith, Mrs. Hendrix and Miss Clara Garner, 25, of Mobile, Ala., at a motel the night before. Authorities said they found a supply of barbiturates in the room where they seized the trio.

Bonds for all three were fixed at $3,000.

Jack Heard, an assistant director of the prison system, said he learned about the plot after Mrs. Hendrix and Miss Garner visited at the prison Sunday with Norman Hendrix, husband of the accused woman. Hendrix is serving a five-year prison term from Harris County for robbery.

Drifter Gets Death Penalty

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A homicidal drifter from Kentucky today awaited a death sentence for one of eight slayings to which he has linked himself.

An all-male jury deliberated only 32 minutes Wednesday before convicting Emmett Spencer of first-degree murder. Without a mercy recommendation. This makes it mandatory for Circuit Judge Aguilino Lopez Jr. to sentence Spencer to Florida's electric chair for the bludgeoning slaying of Johnnie T. Keen, 52.

Spencer took the verdict calmly. Keen, a Key West Navy Yard pipe fitter, was found fatally beaten in his home April 15. Spencer was captured in Keen's car at Leesburg.

Spencer testified Keen must have been killed by Leon C. Hammel, a Jacksonville bartender who was traveling with Spencer and Mary Catherine Hampton of Sandy Hook, Ky. Spencer's home town. Spencer said he later killed Hammel in self-defense.

Twins Have 2 Birthdays

AUSTIN (AP)—Little Sebastian and Sylvester Castillo, born here this week, are twins but they have different birthdays.

The twins sons of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Castillo, were born 12 hours apart. Sebastian Jr. arrived at 10 p.m. Monday.

Then Mrs. Castillo, 23, Mr. Castillo, 22, and the midwife who delivered Sebastian in the Castillo home waited.

After seven hours of waiting, the midwife was so frantic that Castillo called an ambulance and had his wife rushed off to Brackenridge Hospital here.

At 9:40 p.m. Tuesday Sylvester was born.

"I was good to me," said the father, who was at the hospital, "I mean, giving us two at once."

Travelers Report Fears Of Ruthless Purge In Red China

By RO YESSOYAN
HONG KONG, (AP)—Recent visitors to Red China report growing fear that the Chinese Communists are planning a ruthless nationwide crackdown or purge.

The aim, they say, would be to quash increasing discontent aroused among China's millions by one of the worst food crises in Chinese Communist history.

The food shortage is so widespread and severe, they say, that the discontent may get out of hand. The classic Communist tactic in such cases is to tighten, not loosen, the screws.

One recent visitor to Shanghai reported: "This is the worst year since the Chinese Communists conquered the mainland 11 years ago. There is just not enough food to go around. If this continues, something is bound to happen."

Other visitors expressed fear that the crackdown, if it came, would match the violence the "Three Antis" and "Five Antis" campaigns that spread a reign of terror through the land in 1952 and 1953.

The "Three Antis" campaign was aimed against corruption, waste and bureaucracy among government officials. The "Five Antis" was directed against bribery, tax evasion, sabotage, theft of government property and a catch-all called "new malpractices."

The campaigns resulted in a wave of public trials. Hundreds of people committed suicide, and thousands disappeared.

A Hong Kong resident who returned from central China this month said the number of suicides in Shanghai is increasing again.

He said Communist authorities warn visitors from this British colony not to talk about conditions in China after they leave. But, the growing food crisis is apparent from official as well as independent reports from the mainland.

More than a month ago Peiping launched a nationwide campaign to whip its overworked millions to intensified production in the face of spreading floods and drought and the consequent threat of famine.

Calls for increased production still dominate the Red press and radio, relegating such important Communist announcements as the recent successful flight of the Soviet dog-carrying spaceship to third or fourth place.

Another ominous sign reported by one returning visitor is that the Communist authorities are turning down practically every application for exit permits to Hong Kong and Macao.

Trail Blazed By Seadragon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American nuclear-powered submarine Seadragon, ducking under huge icebergs in the arctic's northwest passage, has pioneered a short sea route from the eastern United States to Alaska.

The Navy announced the Seadragon's feat Wednesday. It said the sub had blazed the trail for a possible military and commercial route through the Parry Channel. The trip also helped develop techniques and test equipment for submarine under-ice operations.

The Seadragon left Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 1. It headed north between Greenland and Labrador, through Baffin Bay, then west through a series of sounds and straits designated as Parry Channel. Part of the trip was made on the surface, part under water.

At one point the submarine nosed down more than 300 feet to get under an iceberg 875 feet wide and 1,471 feet long. Five earlier, submarine efforts to make the east-west passage on the same route had failed because heavy block ice forced the vessels to detour.
