"And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought spices, so that they might go and anoint him. And very early on the first day of the week they went to the tomb when the sun had risen. And they were saying to one another, 'Who will roll away the stone for us from the door of the tomb?' And looking up, they saw that the stone was rolled back: for it was very large. And entering the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, dressed in a white robe; and they were amazed. And he said to them, 'Do not be amazed: you seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified. He has risen, he is not here'..."

Volunteers to march April 20-30

Cancer crusade set

An American Cancer Society volunteer might be knocking on your door sometime between Monday, April 20, and Thursday, April 30, with some good news about early detection of breast cancer, as part of the society's 1987 Residential Education and Fund-raising Crusade.

According to Anna Staats, chairman of this year's Residential "C-Days" in Mitchell County, the purpose of the drive is to distribute lifesaving information on cancer, as well as to raise funds for the society's research, education and service programs.

The theme of this year's drive is mammography - a highly effective tool in the early detection of breast cancer. A mammogram is a low-dose X-ray of the breast which can detect tumors as small as a freckle.

A mammogram can reveal a breast cancer before it becomes large enough to be felt. Then, if a tumor is detected, it can be removed through less extensive forms of surgery and when the survival rate is highest. Chances of survival can approach 100 percent if breast cancer is detected at its onset.

The American Cancer Society urges women without symptoms between the ages of 35-39 to get a baseline mammogram, for future comparisons. Women the ages of 40-49 should undergo this test every one to two years, as recommended by their physician. Women 50 and over should have mammograms taken annually.

Mitchell County volunteers will distribute the folder, "Now, Breast Cancer Has Virtually Nowhere to Hide" to local residents. The society's guidelines are included in the pamphlet.

For more information about the crusade or for more information about the society, call Anna Staats at 728-5976, Virginia Dearen at 728-3704 or Mary Posey at 728-8097.

Service is key to program

The goal of community education at Wallace Community Center is to serve people and to promote closer relationships with the schools and community, creating a better environment for all, said CISD Supt. Charlie Uselton.

Community education began in the fall of 1975 when it was no longer practical for the Wallace School to be used in the regular school program. The superintendent and school board, the city and county agreed to plan making the school a central source for an education center, thereby retaining the use of the facility.

The Community Education Advisory Council is composed of a 16-member council representing a cross-section of the community.

In addition to Texas Education Agency and local ISD funding, the Wallace Center receives financial assistance from Mitchell County, the city of Colorado City, West Central Texas Council of Governments, Area Agency on Aging, Manpower, Medicaid-Dept. of Human Resources, Green Thumb, Inc., donations from community clubs and others and nominal fees charged for some activities.

One of the many innovative projects undertaken by the senior citizens is "Adopt a Highway" with the State Highway Department in which senior citizens will keep two miles of highway clean. A sign on Highway 208 recognizes their efforts.

According to Community Education Coordinator Barbara

I'd never seen Maxwell (fake name) before he came walking out from behind ambulances and police cars the other day.

Nobody was sure how he had gotten himself into this predicament, but you knew the way officers from the Department of Public Safety, the local police and Dyess Air Force Base were walking with him, that he'd gotten himself into one fine mess.

Nobody appeared to have witnessed the accident, and Maxwell wasn't making any speeches about it, either. Therefore, what I am about to describe is pure theory.

From the track marks that left the small county road and meandered through the weeds, stopping abruptly and reappearing well on the other side of a fence leading to the air base, it appeared Maxwell could have been exceeding the speed limit at the point of the curve.

It is an almost L-shaped curve - the kind that wear out brakes. It appears the vehicle flipped over once, then became air-borne for several feet; at least long enough to clear four-foot barbed-wire fence without harming it. Some insist he went through the fence without breaking it. Some insist James Dean is still alive.

Somehow Maxwell's V8 Olds managed to land on all four Goodyears inside military boundaries. Then, from the spot where it landed, the vehicle seems to have traveled at least a hundred more yards - this time in reverse.

Maxwell was still a good ballfield off the air-strip where the nation's controversial B1-Bs were in the process of landing and taking off.

At this point, he did manage to attract some attention. You just don't fly onto military bases without a pass - especially in a car.

Within minutes, military vehicles were all over the place and important-looking men were taking a good long look at the V-8 Oldsmobile Maxwell had managed to park in the highly restricted area.

Nobody was sure who had jurisdiction in the matter - at least not at first. Sure, he wound up on the base, but the accident had started well within civilian territory.

There was a military ambulance, a city ambulance, a fire truck with medical emergency equipment and personnel. Everybody seemed to want to put Maxwell in a body bag.

For all the excitement, though, he escaped with a slight cut to the head. The meat wagons left body-less.

Boundary lines had to be determined to see which law enforcement official had the right to haul him down to the station house. After putting their hats together, it was determined the police officer from the nearby suburb would be the proper authority.

First they walked Maxwell across the field on his wobbly legs. Then they let him try to cross the barbed-wire fence - the same one he'd cleared with his V-8 Olds. Using his two feet this time, the fence flattened him.

They got him back to his feet and when Maxwell reached the squad car, the officer leaned him against it, pulled his arms behind his back, handcuffed him, and placed him gently in the back seat.

Maxwell offered no resistance. He'd gone too far. How and why, he'd have to figure out another time. For now he was in total control their control. Considering everything, it might have been comforting.

When reporters and cameramen moved in close to get his picture Maxwell squinted and stared into the cameras - much as a pooch stares through the bars of an animal shelter window.

No one knows what he saw, of course. Maxwell may not remember himself. The police officer gave reporters his name and address and told them he was arresting the guy for DWI - driving while intoxicated.

A man is innocent until he's proven guilty, and for all I could prove, Maxwell never touched a drop of anything. Maybe he just liked the thrill of doing 98 on a deadman's curve.

What can you say at this point? No harm, no foul? Except for plowing up a few weeds that needed to be plowed, and except for driving in forbidden territory at an undetermined rate of speed, and except for the slight dent he put in his V-8 Olds and his own forehead, who's the worse for wear?

Maxwell, you say? I suppose we'll have to play the "what if" game now. Like, what if Maxwell had hit another car coming around that curve? Now we're talking multiple funerals.

What if Maxwell's V-8 Olds had kept on backing in reverse until he got to the runway? And what if a B1-B had been landing about that time and had been blown to smithereens? Hundreds of millions of tax dollars could have gone up in a disquieting ball of smoke. Not to mention several human beings.

And what if the military had secretly loaded just that B1-B with a live nuclear weapon?

It could have been worse, all right. If you think about this long enough, Maxwell could have destroyed earth by creating a bizarre series of chain reactions when his car rolled over.

Maxwell had to be arrested all right. He's a tough little guy who seems to have reached the point of invincibility in his mind, and who had all but proven it with his V-8 Olds.

Given a chance to do it again, he could be less impressive.

"He was wounded for our transgressions; He was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and by His stripes we are healed." Isa. 53:5.

Great men have come and gone, yet Christ lives on. Herod could not kill Him, Death could not destroy Him, the grave could not hold Him. He conquered death, rose on the third day as He said He would, ascended into heaven, and one day He will come in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory of His own blood-bought ones to be forever with Him, after which He will judge the world righteousness when every knee shall bow to Him and every tongue shall confess Him as Lord.

He is the only One who can satisfy the soul and give everlasting LIFE to those who will receive Him as Lord and Master.

Odell, Carlock exchange vows

Kayla Kathleen Odell of Gorman and James A. Carlock of Abilene exchanged marriage vows in a formal ceremony at 7 p.m. Feb. 14, in the First Baptist Church in Gorman.

Dr. Clyde Majors of Brownwood officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sandra J. Warren of Gorman and the late Ross Don Odell. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Carlock of Colorado City.

Red roses and white daisies with greenery covered a large brass archway and two heart-shaped brass candelabras flanked it in the altar area. Two brass baskets filled with white azaleas were placed on the steps leading to the altar. White tapered candles were lighted by Tom Carlock of Colorado City, brother of the groom, and Bill Townley of Irving, who also served as ushers.

The unity candle was lighted by the bride's mother and maternal grandfather, Frank Midkiff of Moran, and the parents of the groom.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Michael Warren. She wore a formal gown of white taffeta which featured a fitted bodice and a sweetheart neckline embellished with Venice lace. The leg-of-mutton sleeves were accented with chantilly lace that enhanced the Venice lace trimmed petal-point cuffs. The bouffant skirt featured a soft drape of chantilly lace and box bows at the drape points. The hemline and semi-cathedral train were edged with tiers of tiny lace ruffles. A two-tier waist length veil attached to a floral tiara of white silk azaleas and pearl spray completed the bride's gown.

She carried a heart shaped cascade bouquet of white daisies, red roses and English ivy. For something old, she wore the wedding ring of her late grandmother. Something borrowed was a pearl necklace from the groom's mother. For something blue, she carried a blue handkerchief of her late great-grandmother. Her gown was something new. Her brother, Michael Warren, placed a coin minted with her birthday in her shoe.

Kristi Odell was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of red glitter satin fashioned with white and red ruffles around the off-shoulder neckline and the deep drape of the hooked skirt. She wore flowers in her hair. Pearls and white gloves, gifts from the bride to each of her attendants, completed the attire.

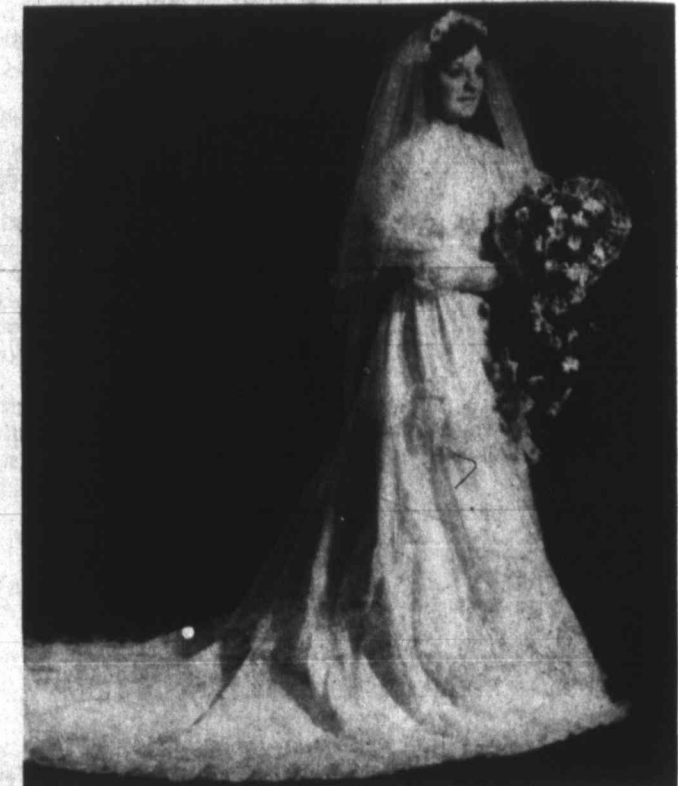

Bridesmaids dressed identical to the maid of honor were Penny Williams of Ranger and Donna Beth Arnold of Gorman.

Flower girl was Monica Evan of Stephenville, cousin of the bride. She also was dressed as the bride's attendants. She carried a heart shaped basket of red and white silk flowers.

Jason Warren of Gorman, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. He wore a white tuxedo, red cummerbund and tie as did the ushers and groom's attendants.

Edwin Carlock of Colorado City served as his son's best man. Groomsmen were Craig Merket and Rodney Dockrey, both of Colorado City. The groom was attired in a white tuxedo, cummerbund and tie. He wore a red rose boutonniere.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown of turquoise blue glitter satin with puffed sleeves, fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. She wore a corsage of white and blue.

The groom's mother chose a gray crepe floor length gown with tiny pleats and a sheer chiffon overlay cape. Her corsage was of red and white.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Claude Fuller at the piano. She accompanied Carole Ables of Mineral Wells who sang "The Change in Me is You" and Daryl Hirst of Gorman who sang "You Are My Only Love." Mrs. Ables and Mr. Hirst also sang a duet "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do."

A reception followed in the church fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered in a white on white lace cloth. A three tiered heart shaped wedding cake was decorated with red and white flowers and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The bride's bouquet, red candles and red punch, nuts and heart shaped mints also were served.

The groom's table featured a western-Valentine theme with a western designed and decorated cake served with an assortment of sandwiches and coffee. Two western boots filled with dried wild flowers and draped with red bandanas were on each side of a framed western portrait of the bride and groom in costume.

A large heart shaped table placed between the bride's table and the groom's table held homemade candles.

Those serving at the three tables were especially designed bibbed aprons with red and white padded hearts, a gift from the bride. Serving were Barbara Brides, Ruby O'Neill, Mary Jones, Tammy Eoff, Angie Garcia and Debby Carlock, sister-in-law of the groom.

A table decorated with a red kerosene lantern of red roses and "Grandma and Grandpa" dolls was placed for the bride couple's grandparents. They are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Midkiff of Moran, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Craddock of Stephenville and Mrs. Sie Hamm of Fort Worth.

Cory Carlock, nephew of the groom, and the bride's brother, Jason Warren, distributed red and white rice bags made by the bride, her mother and sister. The rice bags featured counted cross stitch red and white hearts, ribbon and flowers.

The bride chose a white suit with red and white accessories as her going away attire for their wedding trip to Angel Fire, N.M. Following the trip, they are home in Abilene.

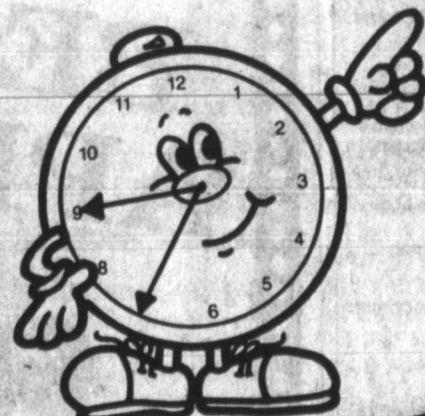

Out-of-town guests were from Moran, Albany, Abilene, Fort Worth, Austin, Copperton, Cave Ranger, Eastland, Irving, DeLeon, Stephenville, Alaska and Colorado City.

The groom's parents were hosts for a rehearsal dinner at Lone Cedar Country Club, Eastland, Friday evening, Feb. 13. The Valentine theme was carried out in the decorations which featured red silk flowers, candles in heart holders and Valentine candies as place favors. Thirty four guests attended.

The bride was honored by friends, Sunday, Jan. 25, with a lingerie shower in the old Gorman Hotel.

A gift coffee Saturday, Jan. 31, at the ranch home of Mrs. C. C. Thompson of Colorado City, honored the bridal couple. Hostesses were Leola Anderson, Laverne Chalker, Marcilene Cox, Virginia Fuller, Barbara Gray, Gayle Houston, Peggy Ratliff and Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. Nelda Duke of Gorman was hostess in her home Saturday, Feb. 7 for a miscellaneous shower.

Badgers win

ABILENE WYLIE—The Merkel Badgers won the 5AAA boys track and field title here Thursday, won the 400 and 1600 meter relays and qualified individuals in ten events for the Region IAAA meet to be held in Odessa April 27-May 2.

The Badgers scored 155 points followed by Ballinger with 141 and Colorado City with 71.

Wylie won the girls title with 170 points followed by Ballinger with 135 and Coahoma with 75. The top three teams in the junior varsity girls division were Sonora 160, Coahoma 97 and Wylie 96.

Trailing Merkel's ten individual regional qualifiers were Ballinger 6, Colorado City 5, Clyde 3 and Wylie and Sonora 1.

Wylie, Ballinger and Merkel girls teams all qualified seven to the regional meet, Clyde 2 and Coahoma 1.

Colorado High School junior Ismael Silva qualified for regional in two events. Silva convincingly won both the 1600 and 3200 meter runs. Silva left the pack with two laps left in the eight-lap 3200 meter run to easily win with a 10:19.02. Silva came back to hold off Picon of Ballinger to win the 1600 in a personal best of 4:43.59.

Also claiming a first place was Michael Swann, who erased last year's disaster by winning the 300 meter intermediate hurdles with a 40.84.

Swann, a senior, and Silva will be joined in the individual regional events by junior Guy Compton and sophomore Mark Russell. Compton won second in the high jump with a CHS school record of 6'6". First place finisher Brit Pursley of Merkel cleared the same height but won first with fewer misses at 6'2". Compton just missed on an attempt at 6'8".

Russell will be running in the regional 200 meter dash after taking second with a 22.93.

Merkel barely won the relays. The Badgers won the 400 relay in 43.70 and taking second was the Colorado City team of Pat Tillis, Russell, Swann and Larry Mayes, who ran a season's best of 43.75 to qualify for regional.

Tillis added a third place medal with his 11.27 in the 100 meter dash. Ricky Arispe won fifth in the pole vault with a 12' vault and placing sixth in the 400 meter dash was Darvin Jackson's 54.56.

The top finish for the Lady Wolves was senior Robin Edwards' 13.39 for fourth in the 100 meter dash. Edwards ran a personal best of 12.9 in the prelims.

A fifth place was the 2:01.31 run by the 800 meter relay team of Melissa Rivera, Monica Hamilton, Denise Lowrance and Amy Chitsey. Sixths were Sally Mendoza's 15:23.59 in the 3200 and the 55.95 run by the 400 meter relay team of Rivera, Mendy Conner, Lowrance and Kendra Ritchey.

Other showings for the Wolves were 100 meter prelim dashes by Tillis (11.05), Mayes (11.30) and Dennis Smith (11.42). Derek Ramsey threw a personal best 138'7 1/2" for seventh in the discus. Corey Flanagan threw 128'11" in the event.

In the girls 400 meter prelims Chitsey ran a 67.2 and Ritchey ran a 69.9. Rivera ran a 29.58 in the girls 200 and Oria Gonzales threw 93'7 1/2" for eighth in the discus.

Martinez wins 1600

Colorado Middle School eighth grader Corrie Martinez was inadvertently omitted from the 5AAA junior track and field meet reported in Thursday's RECORD. Martinez won the 1600 meter race in 4:29.00 and won second in the 800 with a 2:40.66.

ISMAEL SILVA patiently follows picon of Ballinger before making his move to take the 3200 meter run.

On-The-Job Injury
 Don't let it
 keep you off the job a day longer than necessary

"I want to get rid of the pain and get back to work." We hear this a lot.

Temporary pain killers may be okay for temporary pain. But when the pain stays . . . or keeps coming back . . . it's time to try something else. The chiropractic approach to pain is to locate the CAUSE of the pain and correct it. When the cause is corrected, the pain usually goes away in short order. Why not try chiropractic FIRST for on-the-job injuries?

A consultation and preliminary examination can help determine whether chiropractic might help. If treatment, x-rays or other lab tests are indicated, they are covered by most Workers' Compensation insurance plans. CALL US TODAY.

"SPRING HAS SPRUNG" BE CAREFUL!

Yes, those April showers that bring spring flowers can also bring a great deal of misery to those many people who may suffer from certain allergies. It can be especially difficult for those who do not know what it is that causes their problems.

If you ever experience such problems, don't suffer meaninglessly. There are many tests that can be done to find out to what you may be allergic. An appointment with a physician with specialized training (allergist) would be a first step for you to take.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy!"
