Hospital Board Sends Protest To HEW

WORLD WAR I VETS—J. R. Woodfin, Winters; Eddie Voelker, Winters; Ralph Burns, Winters; H. O. Abbott, Winters; C. A. Wilkerson, Winters.

WORLD WAR I VETS—James Corbet Cooper, Winters; Vernon Webb, Ballinger; William Marion Hays, Ballinger; Joe Mueller, Ballinger; Enoch Johnson, Winters; Leo Multer, Ballinger.

WORLD WAR I VETS—John Adams, Bronte; Henry E. Barker, Winters; Arville W. Hancock, Wingate; Ralph Lloyd, Winters; Sam Behringer, Ballinger; Richard K. Thomason, Ballinger; Roy E. Tyree, Ballinger.

In a belated attempt to join the drive to head off the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's proposal of wholesale hospital reorganization and probable closings, it was learned this week, the board of North Runnels County Hospital District has forwarded letters of protest to HEW, as an official group and also individually.

Also, it was learned, although the hospital board has not officially called upon the public for assistance in this effort, the local Hospital Auxiliary began Monday an attempt to persuade local residents to write personal letters to their senators and congressmen, and to HEW, protesting the program HEW has proposed.

HEW has set Nov. 22 as a deadline to receive and consider any type of protest, narrowing the time in which any type of local protestant action can be taken.

Clay Miller, administrator of North Runnels Hospital, said Monday that the board of directors of the hospital district had decided to forward individual letters of protest to representatives and to HEW.

The Hospital Auxiliary Monday distributed appeals to the public to write personal letters protesting HEW's proposals, and listed addresses to those to whom the letters should be sent. (List is included at the end of this article.)

HEW's GUIDELINES

Hospital beds and services will be rationed if Department of Health, Education and Welfare proposed "standards" are adopted.

So said O. Ray Hurst, President, Texas Hospital Association (THA), Austin, as he described the HEW proposals published in the Federal Register Sept. 23, 1977.

Hurst pointed out that these proposed regulations mean that within five years Texas will be required to reduce the number of hospital beds by approximately 17,500.

Hurst said that "such loss of beds coupled with previously announced ceilings on allowable patient days means that one in every four patients that need to be admitted to a hospital will be turned away."

He pointed out that this will be accomplished by forcing the closure of entire hospitals or portions of hospitals.

The proposed guidelines as published will require hospitals to have an occupancy of at least 80 percent over all. Also, a hospital must have, in order to maintain obstetrics services, a minimum of 500 deliveries per year (2,000 in or near cities over 100,000). Hospitals will be required to comply with special restrictions on open heart surgery, cancer therapy, renal dialysis and cardiac diagnostic procedures. In addition, there are geographic restrictions on services that are available to a community within 45 minutes travel time.

It was pointed out that "a part of the stated purpose of these proposed guidelines is to reduce health care cost while improving the care of patients, yet no consideration is given to the medical needs of the community."

Number of general hospital beds in a community would be limited to four per 1,000 population. The requirement

Other ministers participating will be the Rev. J. S. Tierce, Sister Martha Woelke, Rev. Charles Steinberg, Rev. Harvey Carrell and the Rev. Fred Thomas.

The public is invited to attend this special Thanksgiving service. A special offering will be taken for use by the Winters Ministerial Alliance to help needy people with food, clothing, and other temporary assistance.

Krueger Critizes HEW's Hospital "Guidlines"

Cong. Bob Krueger of Texas criticized proposed Health, Education and Welfare National Guidelines for Health Planning which would result in the phase-out of hospital beds and care units across the nation and throughout Texas.

"These proposed rules seem arbitrary and unjust," Krueger said, speaking of HEW guidelines printed in the Sept. 23 Federal Register. "Certainly they do not take into consideration the special needs of non-urban areas for quality health care."

One such case is McKenna Memorial Hospital in New Braunfels where the obstetrics service could be completely cut off within five years. Under the proposed regulations, expectant mothers there would have to travel 30 minutes one way to the nearest obstetrics unit at Northeast Baptist Hospital in San Antonio. The regulations could also seriously affect hospitals in counties throughout the 21st Congressional district, possibly closing obstetrics units in Coke and Concho counties as well.

"Citizens in communities such as New Braunfels have worked to develop unique and responsive care centers," Krueger said, "and they deserve to keep them."

If implemented, the guidelines could close obstetric units in all cities of under 100,000 that do not have 500 deliveries annually. An exception would be made if a unit served an area in which travel time to the next nearest facility is more than 45 minutes.

Regulations could also affect the number of beds hospitals would be allowed to maintain, pediatric units and many other services offered.

Krueger emphasized that the regulations are not yet final and that the comment period is open until Nov. 22.

"These directives go contrary to the spirit of the Rural Health Care bill recently passed by Congress, which calls for using more nurse practioners and physician extenders to improve non-urban health care," Krueger said.

"The Rural Health Care Act allows many more people to receive care close to home. These HEW regulations would force some expectant mothers to travel many miles not only for delivery but, in some cases, for vital prenatal care.

"By centering health care exclusively in urban areas, smaller towns such as New Braunfels and others stand to lose fine obstetrical and other units because of regulations which fail to consider the very specific needs of particular communities.

"These needs must be seriously taken into account before guidelines are considered," Krueger said.

Blizzards Drop Homecoming Game 31-9 To Ballinger

Friday night was Winters' 1977 homecoming, and the forty-ninth meeting between the Blizzards and the Ballinger Bearcats. And before a capacity crowd, the Bearcats picked up their third district victory, defeating the Blizzards 31-9.

The Bearcats got on the scoreboard with 2:51 left in the first quarter, when Ellison Portis took a handoff from QB Simon Rodriquez and ran ten yards for the TD. Johnny Rodriquez made the score 7-0 with a successful PAT kick.

Early in the second quarter, a 32-yard field goal by Winters kicker Johnny Lujano tightened the score to 7-3.

The only other second period score came just before the half when Portis caught a 27-yard pass and went over for the score. Blizzard Wayne Kraatz blocked the PAT kick attempt.

Ballinger had a touchdown called back early in the second half because of a holding penalty. However, five plays later it was Mike Allcorn who scored for the Bearcats. PAT attempt was no good.

Late in the third period, a Bearcat pass was deflected by Winters senior Leroy Jones and intercepted by Gary Schwartz, who ran 12 yards for the TD. A try for two extra points failed. The score, 19-9 at that point.

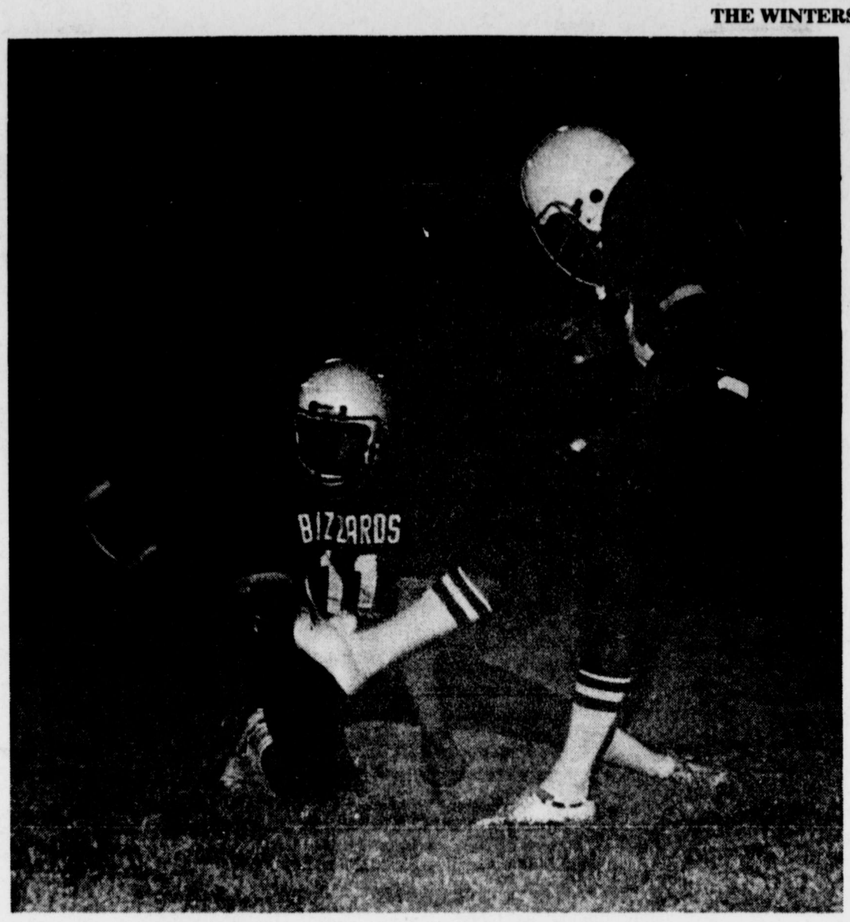

Two TDs in the last two minutes of the game, one by Portis and the other by Cary McQueen, pulled the Bearcats ahead to a 31-9 victory.

Friday night's game gave the Blizzards a 3-7 season record and a 1-5 district record.

While the Blizzards may not have had an outstanding season, these boys have worked hard, played their hearts out, and never once gave up against the tough, larger teams they played this year.

WWI Vet Says Thank You

Dear Winters People:

I wish to thank you for the good meal and the football tickets and also the splendid courtesy and kindness shown the World War I veterans last Friday night.

I am sure all the veterans would join in a note of thanks. It was an enjoyable occasion, including the football game. The game wasn't as one-sided as the score indicated, in my opinion.

Sincerely,
Marion Hays

NELSON WOLFF

Nelson Wolff To Be Here Friday

Nelson Wolff of San Antonio, Democratic candidate for Congress, 17th District, will visit in Winters Friday, Nov. 18, and will attend the annual senior citizens Thanksgiving dinner at the Community Center at 6 p.m.

Wolff will be on a barnstorming tour of the area, visiting Winters, Ballinger, Rowena and several other places Friday.

Mrs. Rosemary Bennie, director of the Senior Citizens group in Winters and Wingate, said that any person 60 years of age and over is invited to share the dinner free of charge.

The Thanksgiving dinner is sponsored by the Winters Ministerial Alliance, and annually about 250-300 people attend.

Tickets may be obtained from any local minister or from Mrs. Bennie. Everyone attending the dinner must have a ticket.

Menu for the Thanksgiving dinner will include the customary turkey and dressing, cranberry sauce, vegetables, tea, coffee, and pie.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Winters String Band and a group of youngsters from the school.

Bloodmobile Will Be In Winters 22nd

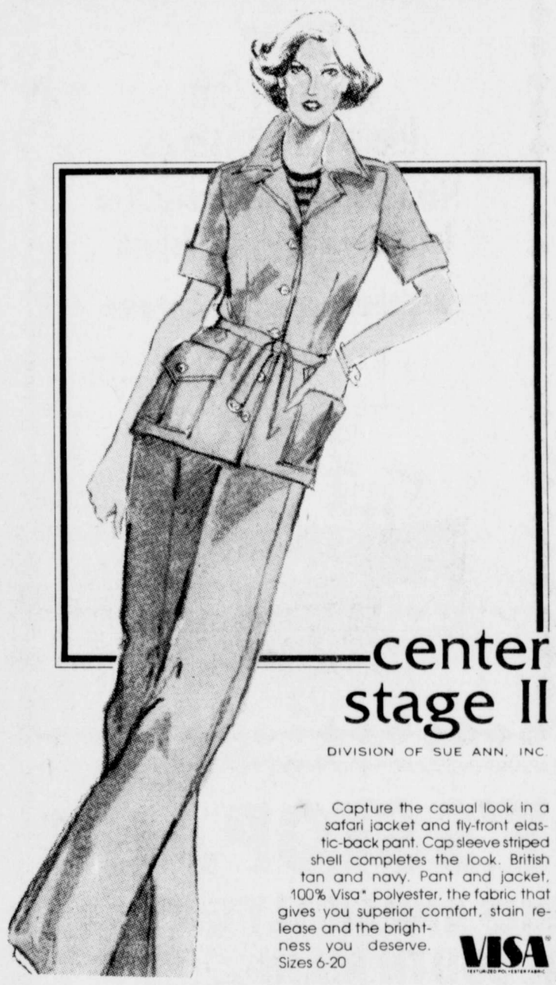

The West Texas Blood Service Bloodmobile will be in Winters Nov. 22, from 1 to 6 p.m., at the Community Center.

Clay Miller, administrator of the North Runnels Hospital, said that "estimates indicate that we use from 75 to 125 pints of blood each year, at the hospital, with a replacement of only about 27 pints. West Texas Blood Service of San Angelo supplies the hospital with blood, but there has been a lack of donors in this community, and there is a vital need to replace the blood. He urged that all local residents who can give blood to do so when the Bloodmobile is here Friday, "to pay off our debt."

Generally, Miller said, all healthy men and women 17 and through 60 may qualify as blood donors. They should weigh at least 110 pounds, and must have waited eight weeks since their last blood donation.

Hospital Board—

also would set frequency standards for certain specialized medical procedures so that only hospitals that regularly perform such procedures could offer them.

Final regulations will be issued in December or January, after the public has had a chance to comment on the proposals. Local health service agencies then would have one year to draw up plans for putting the standards into effect and four additional years to actually put them into effect.

It could not be learned from local hospital officials this week to what extent these HEW proposals would affect North Runnels Hospital, but some observers have insisted that this hospital would be put out of business by the new regulations.

Agencies and representatives to which local residents may send letters of protest are listed below. Nov. 22, 1977 is the deadline.

WWI Veterans Eat Turkey

Nineteen veterans of World War I were guests of the Literary and Service Club at the club's annual turkey dinner Friday, and attended the football game after dinner.

The veterans were seated at special tables in the school cafeteria for the dinner, and spent the time visiting and remembering old times.

Following dinner, they were special guests at the Winters-Ballinger football game, and were introduced to the football fans before the game.

This was a special Armistice Day celebration sponsored by the Winters Chamber of Commerce, with cooperation of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce. All veterans in Runnels County were included in the invitation to attend the dinner, but many were unable to attend.

"This is the first time Armistice Day has been observed, and the veterans of World War I have been recognized in many years," one of the vets said in appreciation.

Plans are being discussed to make this an annual affair.
