PROPOSALS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Acceptance by the Washington government of the invitation to send an observer to the League of Nations security conference appeared together improbable today, in line with reasons that prompted the decision not to participate in that conference.

Available Information
It is assumed that the proceedings of the security conference will be fully available as a matter of information to the members of the preparatory disarmament commission, upon which the United States will continue to be fully represented. This interchange of information between the two elements of the machinery here created to deal with disarmament makes it unnecessary in the judgment of some former Washington officials, that any American observer be assigned to the security conference.

Heavy Snow, Sleet
KANSAS CITY, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Snow stretched from the Rocky mountains to the upper Mississippi valley states today to support winter's threatened invasion of the east.

Middle-West Under Snow
Originating in the Canadian Rockies over the weekend the storm swept through Montana and Wyoming to close mountain passes in Colorado and then turned eastward to blanket the middle west and southeast with from one to nearly five inches of snow.

Moving along a six state front yesterday, snow flurries from the Canadian line to the Texas Panhandle sent thermometers to sub-zero marks in the Dakotas and Minnesota. The mercury slumped to the upper twenties in the southwest to nip flowers enticed from winter beds by temperatures well above seventy.

Heavy in Missouri
While seven inches of snow fell in the northwest, central Missouri points led the southwest with four and a half inches, the heaviest snow fall in that section since 1906.

Closing his stay here with an address before the Lubbock Kiwanis club at noon today, Earl M. Racey of Dallas, representative of the Southwestern Advertising company, who has been here the past few days in the interest of the proposed South Plains advertising campaign, left for his home this afternoon.

Kiwanis Club
Attentive As

At the principal speaker before Kiwanis in their regular weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Lubbock, Mr. Racey traced the history of advertising and the success of community advertising in various parts of the country. He made similar addresses before the Rotary club yesterday and before fifty prominent citizens at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night. Members of the Kiwanis organization seemed keenly interested in Mr. Racey's talk. He was introduced by A. R. Davis, manager of the C. of C. and E. C. D., who gave some figures to show that colonization is needed in this section.

The meeting was presided over by Emil L. Klett, president of the Kiwanis club and was opened by a plea for support of the Salvation Army campaign by Rev. E. L. Whidden, Dallas, representative of that organization.

E. H. Whitehead, Fort Worth, publicity manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, made a few remarks, telling of the fine support his organization is securing from Lubbock men in its annual membership drive, now under way.

Bullets, upon which appeared the club members eligible for offices in the club for 1928, were passed to Kiwanis present and the annual ballot was taken. Committees will announce the result of the election next Thursday, it was announced.

DRIVEN AWAY IN HIS OWN CAR

(By The Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Dec. 1.—Kidnaped by a lone unmasked highjacker shortly after noon today, Gus Shaw, member of the firm of Shaw Brothers Creamery here, said he was slugged, carried in his own automobile to a suburban park where he was robbed of $1,500. Later W. A. Dunn, superintendent of the creamery company, said Shaw stepped into his automobile in front of the plant about 11:30 this morning to carry the receipts of the firm to the bank. As he was driving off a young man stepped on the running board of the car saying:

"I want to see you, Gus."

After Shaw had driven about 50 feet the man on the running board climbed into the rear seat, pulled a revolver from his pocket and struck Shaw over the head. As Shaw crumpled over the wheel the man jumped into the front seat, shoved Shaw to the floor and took the wheel himself. Dunn lost sight of the automobile as the robber speeded up and dashed around a corner.

Alarm was sent over the city but police failed to find any trace of the car. Three hours later the wife of the municipal zoo keeper found the car.

REMUS WITNESS TELLS TODAY OF WILD TANGENTS

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.—Further testimony detailing outbursts of George Remus, which he declared led him to the belief that the former bootleg chief was insane, was related today by John T. Rogers, a reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, in Remus' trial for the murder of his wife, Inogwne.

Rogers was recalled for re-direct examination today at the opening of court.

Instance Is Cited

"During the Jack Daniels trial at Indianapolis when Remus was being held as a witness, George Conners and I were with him one night in December when John S. Berger of Los Angeles came into the room and said, 'George, your wife and Dodge are now down on the fourth floor having a high ball party,'" said Rogers. "Remus leaped from his chair as if he had been shot, shrieked and dashed for the door."

"Conners and I overpowered him and forced him back into his chair," Remus raved for ten or fifteen minutes. He upbraided us in a high falsetto voice for not permitting him to go and defend his honor."

"He talked wildly, struck at us, and then calmed down and became tranquil and apologetic. Then he had a bad attack of nervous prostration."

WATER RIGHTS FUSS RESUMED

COMPROMISE SEEN IN OFFER OF INSULT TO SETTLEMENT

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Dec. 1.—A compromise in the dispute over water rights on the Colorado river is expected before night fall at the meeting here of the all Texas water rights commission, representatives of the power interests, agricultural interests and others.

The session, which was being held behind closed doors, "will have accomplished something by evening," one of the committee members said. He also declared that a full statement of proceedings would be announced upon adjournment.

Ready for Compromise

Charles J. Ingham, Chicago, president of the Midwest Utilities company which proposes to spend $25,000,000 on a power program in the Colorado river basin, told the committee he was willing to agree on a compromise on some of the mooted questions. He did not divulge the exact nature of this offer but it is understood to have involved giving up all portion of the water heretofore wanted for power purposes. It was for the settlement of this question that the committee was appointed here October 17. With the exception of an adjourned meeting in San Antonio, this is the first session of the committee since that time.

Morrow Will Tour Mexico With Calles

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 1 (AP)—Although final decision has not been reached, it is almost certain that the American ambassador, Dwight W. Morrow, will start tonight on a special tour of Mexico as the guest of President Calles.

The party will travel for a week through the northern parts of Mexico. They will inspect irrigation and other development projects. The belief prevails that this opportunity for prolonged conversations between President Calles and Morrow will have a most important effect in furthering the solution of questions and differences which have arisen in the past few years between the United States and Mexico.

Mr. Morrow is attempting to solve such problems by personal discussions with the head of the Mexican government rather than through official notes.

State To Seek Cut In Oil Production

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 1.—Reduction in production of oil on Texas university lands by agreement with operators, until crude prices go up will be sought by the state, Governor Moody said today.

Mr. Moody said he would meet with J. T. Robinson, state land commissioner, R. L. Batts, member of the university board of regents, Attorney General Claude Pollard, President H. Y. Benedict, of the university and probably others, possibly late today, to work out plans with a view to reaching the necessary agreement with producers.

"For the operators to agree among themselves to cut production, that is, to keep the oil in the ground until prices are increased, would be a violation of the anti-trust laws, but the state could enforce it without any abrogation of law," the governor said.

Officials of the state and of the university met here some time ago to discuss the situation arising from poor prices for their product.

Offering more service to the South Plains section, a special refrigerator car is being sent out of Lubbock every Tuesday for Houston markets. It was learned this morning from the office of R. F. Bayless, local passenger agent of the Santa Fe. The car is offered to the shippers of perishables from this section who do not have a car load shipment to make. Any size shipment will be taken in the car. Mr. Bayless said.

At present, a local creamery is shipping from ten to twelve thousand pounds of butter in the car each week. Other perishables such as vegetables, milk, meats and similar products may be included in the car, Mr. Bayless said. The car leaves here about 4 p. m. Tuesday and arrives in Houston on Thursday.

WESTERNERS MEET PLAINVIEW FRIDAY IN POST SEASON GAME

WILL TO CLOSE CAREERS OF 11 LOCAL GRIDMEN

CONTEST WILL DECIDE WINNER IN LIEU OF RECENT TIE GAME

This afternoon the Westerners complete their training for the year tomorrow the eleven will journey to Plainview where they will meet with "Duckie" Allen's pack of Bulldogs in a post season affair. The Westerners and Bulldogs, in a regular conference schedule contest on Armistice day, played a 6-6 tie game, and since it is the policy of both schools to establish some means by which the football supremacy will be decided from year to year the authorities of both institutions arranged the play off of the tie game.

Eleven In Final Game

Not only will the game with the Plainview Bulldogs conclude the Westerners operations for the year but it will also bring the final curtain down on eleven of the Westerners' performances in high school circles. These eleven players are: L. Smith, William, Ater, Dollahite, Dickinson, Perkinson, Allen, Buckingham, Whiteside, Kerr, and Campbell.

Coaches Henry Frank and Del Morgan have worked rather easily with their recruits this week and hope that the lads will be full of fight and drive for the racket with the Bulldogs in Plainview. A better working backfield is being asked of the Westerners by their hand in this last contest. The running attack, which will be carried out by the M. Smith, L. Smith, Dollahite, Pangburn, Dowell route will be expected to turn in its best exhibition offense tomorrow.

Leave Early Friday

The local eleven will leave for Plainview early tomorrow morning and will rest several hours in a downtown hotel before going on to the gridiron. Some 300 local fans will accompany the Westerners on their play off game with their ancient and honored rivals.

"KID" KAPLAN

Despite knockouts by Billy Wallace and Jimmy McLarnin, "Kid" Kaplan, formerly featherweight champion, a title he relinquished because of inability to make the weight, is as earnest as ever in quest of the lightweight honors. Kaplan recently gained a decision over clever Mike Dundee. He insists he is the only legitimate contender, being able to make 133 ringside if necessary.

Guthrie Looking For Another Job

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Bill Guthrie, veteran umpire, who last season officiated in the American Association and who was one of the officials in the little world series between Toledo and Buffalo, is hopeful of getting another chance on the American League staff.

During the season of 1922 Guthrie was tried out in the fall of the year and did very good work. For some reason he was not signed for the following year. Guthrie's comment at the time was: "I'll be up again to stick for good. This fellow Johnson isn't going to be president of the American League forever."

His homely logic may bear fruit for him, a good umpire.

Bucknell To Get One More Kostas

For fifteen years, Bucknell has had a member of the Kostas family as a player on its football team. Joseph Kostas was the first. He entered school in 1912 and in his senior year was captain of the Bucknell eleven.

Then came Stanley, who played tackle and Tony who captained the team in his final year.

Martin followed, but left Bucknell to enter Schuykill, where he is captain this year.

The fifth Kostas is Frank. He entered school this year and is a center. He weighs 150 pounds. If precedent holds good, and Kostas play as a freshman has been very encouraging, the fifth Kostas will play center for the varsity next year.

And, perhaps, he too will captain the Bucknell eleven.

Sailor Jack Wood Loses Portland Go

No Loitering Seen In Canzoneri Fight

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—There can be no loitering on the part of Tony Canzoneri, New York's challenger for the bantamweight title, and Ignacio Fernandez, Filipino flash, when they meet tonight in a round bout at Madison Square Garden, in the "winners" of the arena.

The carpenters will be grouped for a concerted dash on the ring the moment the bout is over.

Between midnight and 3 p. m., Saturday, 40,000 feet of lumber and a ton of nails will have joined to make a 400-foot-long wall, in which fifteen teams will pedal to nowhere in a six day bicycle race that opens Sunday night.

Houston Waitress Victim Of Poison

HOUSTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Mary King, 24, waitress, died in a hospital here Wednesday from the effects of poison. Justice Campbell Overstreet found it was self-administered. A letter, he said, found among her personal effects decided an unnamed man and asserted he had mistreated her.

ton team. Certainly the Tigers' play deteriorated after he retired.

While the forward pass, Hobbs to Plawick, was the scoring play that actually won Princeton, I will always think the passing of Howe from the game to the Tigers' chances.

Watch those sophomore Tigers next year. Princeton is due for another great team.

MANY HUNTERS TAKE TO FIELD SEEKING QUAIL

SEASON OPENS TODAY WITH FEW BIRDS IN THIS VICINITY

Lubbock sportsmen are out on the hunt again.

Quail season, the most fascinating of small game, opened this morning with the peep of the sun and numerous parties left the city to get their share in the early "picking." Lubbock and immediate vicinity has little to offer for the quail hunter, according to Roscoe Parks, district deputy game warden, but there are sections in the South Plains territory where they thrive in abundance. Past communities offer plenty of quail while there are numerous coveys of the birds to the south of Ralls, around Seminole and Seagraves and in the canyons northeast of Silverton. Mr. Parks reports: "The season will close on January 16."

Mary Ducks and Geese
Ducks and geese have been found in practically every section of the South Plains. Mr. Parks reports. The season on these birds closes January 21.

The hunters of this section have been mighty nice about obeying the game regulations. Mr. Parks said today. He has had to fine a number of violators over the territory, however. His report during the past month led the state in the number of fines paid in the majority of them being for hunting without licenses.

A total of twelve hundred hunting licenses have been sold in Lubbock during the season, he said. Hunters, outside of their own county, must have a state hunting license, the regulations state.

40-YEAR ROMANCE CULMINATES IN MARRIAGE HERE

A romance which began forty years ago in Bryan culminated in a wedding at Lubbock Tuesday evening, when L. W. Erwin and Mrs. Anna Royder, formerly of Houston, were united in marriage at 8:30 by Rev. W. M. Davis, pastor of the Church of Christ.

Those present were Mrs. Della Cox of Kansas City, Miss Elizabeth Easter, Johnnie Easter, Miss Margaret Erwin, daughter of the bride, groom, and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Gore, all of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin first knew each other in 1886 at Bryan, when Mrs. Royder was a little girl, 15, and Mr. Erwin was a little boy, 12. However, parents objected to the match and each eventually married another. Recently they realized that the passing of time had left them comparatively alone, and acquaintance, which had been kept up between the two families during the years, brought about a revival of the early affection and the two were married here after having known each other 41 years.

Mr. Erwin is 66 years old, and has made his home in Lubbock two years, being the owner and operator of the Erwin Shoe and Work at 301 Avenue H. Mrs. Erwin resided in Houston prior to the marriage.

FLIERS HOP OFF TODAY ON LONG BOOSTING TOUR

The fliers were John Thornwald, representing the Texas Resources society; and Richard Barnhart and Ross Arnold, commercial pilots.

The first stop is to be at Hot Springs, Ark., where Thornwald is to make his first of 25 speeches advertising the Christmas eve program. Twenty five American and Canadian cities are to be visited, the tour ending at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, on December 24.

Governor Dan Moody, Governor Arturo Saenz of Nuevo Leon, and other dignitaries are to be on the Christmas eve program.

AUSTIN, Dec. 1 (AP)—Expenditure that would call for a $1,000,000 bond issue for improving the sewer system here, including construction of a new disposal plant to handle 5,000,000 gallons of water a day and suitable for needs for a population of 70,000 by 1940, are recommended to the city council in the survey report of James D. Fowler, Dallas expert.

Miriam Burns Is Not Superstitious

Miriam Burns Horn, women's national golf champion, feels that psychology and superstition, as well as theory and execution, play a part in golfing success.

Mrs. Burns, who lives in Kansas City, left for the east to play over the Cherry Valley course, where the tourney was staged, on the 13th day of the month, carrying 12 clubs in her golf bag. She weighed 125 and was 23 years of age. She occupied sections 7 and 11 on her trip to Gotham.

No more statistics need be offered to those who are superstitious in an effort to explain why Miriam Burns Horn upset the dope to win the national title.

MAJOR LEAGUES OPEN APRIL 11; CLOSE SEPT. 30

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 1.—The 1928 Major league baseball season will open April 11, and close September 30, the National and American league schedule makers announced here today.

The opening and closing dates are somewhat earlier than those of the 1927 season.

Opening Game

When the schedule makers ended their session this afternoon, they announced games as follows:

National League—Pittsburgh at St. Louis; Chicago at Cincinnati; Boston at New York; and Philadelphia at Brooklyn.

American League—Cleveland at Chicago; St. Louis at Detroit; New York at Philadelphia; and Washington at Boston.

C OF C FIELD MEN ARE PLEASED AT RECEPTION HERE

With 130 members signed up for the year of 1928, E. H. Whitehead and L. B. Campbell, field representatives of the West Texas chamber of commerce were warm in their praise last night of the co-operation spirit shown by Lubbock in the regional organization. Committees report unanimous responses to the membership drive which is being conducted here. W. W. Rix, vice-president of the organization reports and the city's quota of 300 members is expected to be reached in the next day or so.

A number of the local firms have taken membership blocks of ten and fifteen members, the workers report. Among them being the State Telephone company, ten; the First National bank, five; W. L. Elwood, five; Panhandle Construction company, five; Citizens National bank, five; Temple Trust company, five, and others. Several firms have taken out two or three memberships.

A number of the firm heads have not been seen by the workers and for that reason, the drive is being delayed considerable. The men say that the drive will not be concluded until every eligible for membership has been. Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Campbell plan to remain in Lubbock for another day and one member may stay longer should the drive not be completed by then.

PLAYING THE GAME

Standardization Of Offense And Defense

By FIELDING H. YOST

(Director of Athletics, University of Michigan)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 1 (AP)—Coaching schools and the associations of football leaders have associated in creating the uniformity of football offense mentioned in earlier discussions.

The football knowledge of one part of the United States now is the knowledge of the other. In every coaching school and also at all of the larger association meetings, all sections where football is played and even all states are represented. Partly because of these organizations and partly because of a desire on the part of youths to imitate the successful player of the big team football has arrived at a standard technique. Blocking, passing, kicking, tackling form of starting, all are standardized. Such differences as there may be in the play of teams usually is to make use of the outstanding ability of a man or of the unusual ability of a group of men.

Universally, ends play more closely by the tackles on defense than they did ten years ago. The end is close enough to play the game now, instead of viewing it from afar.

Deep playing quarterbacks have disappeared—those that played 50 yards back and needed binoculars to see what was taking place on the line of scrimmage. Universally now the defensive quarterback plays about 25 yards back unless the next prospective play is a kick.

Each team Michigan has played this year has presented a defense with six men in the line and the center back. This system of defense is one of the developments of the passing game.

A forward pass has ceased to be a trick or a play of last resort. It was accepted with reluctance by the old school of football coaches, but now it has become a standard part of the attack of every college football organization as the line blocking and running, kicking game has been for years. This development has been partly due to the training brought to the colleges by high school graduates and by the younger coaches.

Lacking changes in the rules, football will continue to be a standardized sport, like baseball. There is such a volume of the "old" already that necessity for something new has passed, and the possibilities innovations daily are becoming more distant. Keeping in mind all that has been developed, one cannot now foretell what to expect in the play of a game. A team, made of foot and mind would find it impossible to make use of all the known plays in a single game—the same team or any other of equal brilliance would add to its difficulties if it attempted to use the different variations waiting for the unusual man or the special set of men to give them advantageous presentation.

When all of these plays and variations are analyzed, however, they disintegrate into the standard acts of football, coached to a standard way of accomplishment by coaches who have sifted out these standards by years of study and observation.

Coaches who attend the Michigan coaching school are not different from those that attend 50 other schools. They have been here from every state in the union, South America, Hawaii and Canada. Football is taught in two phases as a part of 16 physical education subjects. Here, as from the other schools, coaches have gone back to their respective communities, not only with the class room lessons of football, but with ideas gathered in their discussions with their fellow students. Similar discussions, taking place at the meetings of national coaches' associations, also tend to spread wide the same ideas, so that today football games are not won by plays or the superiority of one team over another, but by better training and more efficient personnel—the parts that make the plays go.

GRADUATE OF U. S. COLLEGE MARRIES CHINESE LEADER

(By Associated Press)
SHANGHAI, Dec. 1.—General Chiang Kai-shek, former generalissimo of the nationalist armies, and Miss Meihing Soong, young Wellesley graduate, were married today. The couple were married by a Christian religious service and then by a Chinese civil ceremony. Although only intimate friends attended the religious service, 1,000 Chinese and 200 foreigners, making up the most prominent members of the Chinese foreign civil and official circles, attended the civil ceremony.

By the marriage General Chiang Kai-shek became the brother-in-law of Madame Sun Yat-sen, widow of the late republican leader, Dr. Sun Yat-sen, and of T. V. Soong, Chinese financial expert.

The first service, that of the Episcopal church, was performed in English at the home of the bride, the service being translated into Mandarin tongue, the prevailing Chinese dialect.

The Chinese civil ceremony took place at the Majestic hotel in the international settlement. Ceremonies were conducted throughout by Chinese except with the assistance of one foreigner, E. L. Hall of New York, a member of the national committee of the Y. M. C. A. who aided in the civil ceremony.

LARGE AUDIENCE IS THRILLED BY NOEL'S LECTURE

Carrying his audience successively by the medium of a vividly descriptive narrative, and a complete assortment of picture slides and motion pictures, across the lofty plateaus of Tibet, through the tangled jungles of India, and thence up the long and tortuous slopes of Mount Everest, Captain John B. Noel, official photographer of the 1924 Mount Everest expedition, thrilled a large crowd at the Tech gymnasium last night.

His lecture related the adventures, thrills and hardships encountered by the British expedition which reached 28,400 feet up the slopes of the precipitous Mt. Everest. The appearance was a number of the Tech artist course.

High points in the lecture, which pictured a succession of wondrous happenings, and gave one series of interesting pictures and movies included his description of the jungles of tropical India, which are literal "green houses," all varieties of flowers abounding; his realistic word portrayal of the multitudinous insects and pests which harass the Indian explorer; his account of the superstitious inhabitants of the land of Tibet; and finally his description and account of the ascent up treacherous, glacier-streaked slopes of the loftiest mountain in the world.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Leacock confesses to the murder but Vance exposes the confession as a lie to shield Miss St. Clair. Vance promises to solve the mystery on a certain date. He works up hypothetical cases against all those persons involved and then tears them to shreds—to prevent Markham, he says, to acc pt his case against the real murderer.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY

CHAPTER LIII
 (Thursday June 20; 10:30 a. m.)
 The Chatham Arms, where Major Benson lived, was a small exclusive bachelor apartment house in Forty-sixth street, midway between Fifth and Sixth avenues.
 The entrance, set in a simple and dignified facade was flush with the street, and only two steps above the pavement. The front door opened into a narrow hallway with a small reception room, like a cell-de-sac, on the left.

At the rear could be seen the elevator, and beside it, tucked under a narrow flight of iron stairs which led around the elevator shaft, was a telephone switchboard.

When we arrived two youths in uniform were on duty, one lounging in the door of the elevator, the other seated at the switchboard.

Vance halted Markham near the entrance.

"One of these boys, I was informed over the telephone, was on duty the night of the thirteenth. Find out which one it was, and secure him into submission by your exalted title of district attorney. Then turn him over to me."

Reluctantly Markham walked down the hallway. After a brief interrogation of the boys, he led one of them into the reception room and preposterously explained what he wanted.

Vance began his questioning with the confident air of one who has no doubt whatever as to another's exact knowledge.

"What time did Major Benson get home the night his brother was shot?"

The boy's eyes opened wide. "He came in about eleven—right after show time," he answered, with only a momentary hesitation.

"If he was set down the rear of the question and answers in dramatic-dialogue form, for purposes of space economy."

VANCE: He spoke to you, I suppose?

BOY: Yes, sir. He told me he'd been to the theater, and said what a rotten show it was—and that he had an awful headache.

VANCE: How do you happen to remember so well what he said a week ago?

BOY: Why, his brother was murdered that night!

VANCE: And the murder caused so much excitement that you naturally recalled everything that happened at the time in connection with Major Benson?

BOY: Sure—he was the murdered guy's brother.

VANCE: When he came in that night did he say anything about the day of the month?

BOY: Nothing except that he guessed his 'bad luck' in pickin' a bum show was on account of it bein' the thirteenth.

VANCE: Did he say anything else?

BOY (grinning): He said he'd make the thirteenth my lucky day, and he gave me all the silver he had in his pocket—nickels and dimes—and quarters and one fifty-cent piece.

VANCE: How much altogether?

BOY: Three dollars and forty-five cents.

VANCE: And then he went to his room?

BOY: Yes, sir—I took him up. He lives on the third floor.

VANCE: And there's no other way a person could leave the house except by the front door?

BOY: No, sir.

VANCE: When did you next see Major Benson?

BOY: (after thinking a moment): He rang for some cracked ice and I took it up.

VANCE: What time?

BOY: Why—I don't know exactly. Yes, I do! It was half past twelve.

VANCE: (smiling faintly) He asked you the time, perhaps?

BOY: Yes, sir, he did. He asked me to look at his clock in his parlor.

VANCE: How did he happen to do that?

BOY: Well, I took up the ice, and he was in bed; and he asked me to put it in his pitcher in the parlor.

VANCE: When I was doing it he called to me to look at the clock on the mantel, and tell him what time it was. He said his watch had stopped and he wanted to see it.

VANCE: What did he say then?

BOY: Nothing much. He told me not to ring his bell, no matter what he called up. He said he wanted to sleep, and didn't want to be woken up.

VANCE: Was he emphatic about it?

BOY: Well—he meant it all right.

VANCE: Did he say anything else?

BOY: No. He just said good-night and turned out the light, and I came on down stairs.

VANCE: What light did he turn out?

BOY: The one in his bed room.

VANCE: Could you see into his bed room from the parlor?

BOY: No. The bed room's off the hall.

VANCE: How could you tell the light was turned off then?

BOY: The bed room door was open, and the light was shining into the hall.

VANCE: Did you pass the bed room door when you went out?

BOY: Sure—you have to.

VANCE: And was the door still open?

BOY: Yes.

VANCE: Is that the only door to the bed room?

BOY: Yes.

VANCE: Where was Major Benson when you entered the apartment?

BOY: In bed.

VANCE: How do you know?

BOY: (mildly indignant) I saw him.

VANCE: (after a pause): You're quite sure he didn't come downstairs again?

BOY: I told you I'd seen him if he had.

VANCE: Couldn't he have walked down at some time you had the elevator upstairs, without your seeing him?

BOY: Sure, he could. But I didn't take the elevator up after that.

VANCE: The Major's cracked ice until round 2:30, when Mr. Montagu came in.

BOY: Yes—until early in the morning when some dame phoned him and said his brother had been murdered. He came down and went out about ten minutes after.

VANCE: (giving the boy a dollar): That's all. But don't you open your mouth to any one about our being here, or you may find yourself in the lock-up—understand? Now get back to your job?

"The boy was Jack Prisco of 621 Kelly street."

CLASS AT TECH VISITS PAPER IN BODY TODAY

JOURNALISM STUDENTS GET FIRSTHAND VIEW OF PAPER MAKING

The "coming journalists," Tech's class in newspaper writing, visited the Avant newspaper plant today and saw the Journal in the making, the first glimpse of an actual newspaper plant for many of the 21 students in Prof. Cecil Horne's class.

Swimming into the office, 1211 Texas Avenue, shortly after 10 o'clock, the young men and women were taken to each department of the paper, while Charles A. Gray, managing editor, explained the machinery of issuing a daily paper and interspersed admonitions that may tend to explain the usual newspaper writer's aversion to the term "journalist," which is particularly formed in such circles as a "journalist" without a job.

Notes on the processes through which a story is prepared, submitted to the editors, "set-up" in print, read, placed in forms and finally printed on the news sheet, were made by some of the class.

"Old Hands" of the office force stood around viewing the serious interest of the student group, remembering such pilgrimages of their college days and experiencing the feeling of the "other side" upon such visits. Smiles were provoked when some student tenderfoot in newspaper shops, dropped the "hot plug" of type handed him by a linotype operator, a proverbial trick for inexperienced visitors to newspaper plants.

Revisiting through the front office of the plant, students averred that their knowledge of newspaper work had been amplified, cast wide glances around at the force, which was taking this opportunity to loaf for a few minutes, and went away chuckling, as they climbed into the "volvo" car, to return to the Tech campus and a period of style books and types of stories.

Mr. Horne, instructor, accompanied the group of students and R. A. Mills, also of the Tech faculty, was a visitor. Among the group were Fred Wondridge, H. C. Harvey, Charles Lee, Enory Ing, Arthur Cherryholmes, Campbell Leachman, Bill McWilliams, William McCreath, L. E. Wayrick, Jeff Newton, Jake Schow, Fernal Hawk, Virgil H. By, G. Carmichael and Misses Sarah Williams, Virginia Nance, Lois Gable, Myrtle Spurrack, Martha Chamberlain, Dorothy Rylander, Elise McCauley.

NEW FORD HERE RUMOR SAYS BUT THEREIN IS YARN

Sho! Sho! Sho! The new Ford is in town. Or rather the rumor is circulating over the city that the car is here.

Going to the Lubbock Auto company, Texas Avenue and 8th street, one finds out nothing more. Tight-lipped employees, snooty, silently around while George Benson, manager of the company, merely sits back in his swivel chair and grins.

"It will be on the display floor tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock," was the only information gained in a visit to the plant. As to the model of the car, the color and other particulars, none was the word.

W. B. Malone, of the Dallas branch of the Ford Motor company, is here with the car and will add the local dealer in the showrooms Friday and Saturday. The car will be on exhibit from 10 o'clock each morning until as late as night as there are visitors. Mr. Benson said today. A booklet, telling the story of the car and details of the line of models will be given away to visitors.

NEW BUILDING IN STATE CAPITOL BLOCK IS URGED

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Dec. 1.—A new office building to house the state department of education, water board, industrial accident board, board of control and board of health will be sought of the next legislature by Representative W. T. Williams of Travis county.

Mr. Williams said he will urge need of the structure to care for the present overflow in the capitol. Some departments are very crowded for space. The banking department, for instance, has rented a portion of an adjacent rooming house for its legal department quarters. Branches of other departments function in legislative committee rooms. The entire prior building division of the railroad commission is located in two connecting committee rooms of the house.

Favored Location
Representative Williams favors locating the building at 11th and Congress avenues, the site of the old capitol building, directly in front of the governor's mansion. He also will support a move for an appropriation of about $1,000,000 to repair the capitol building and remove fire hazards.

Senator A. E. Wood of Granger recently declared that he will work for a $1,200,000 appropriation to fireproof the entire capitol.

coming to Baltimore to see them. The day of the meeting was Saturday, October 1, he said. Bark said that trick roping was his chief business but he "practiced a little law in Texas when necessary."

Robert McCarter, counsel for Mrs. Lilliendaahl, broke the line of testimony here to bring out that Bark had been admitted to bar of Oklahoma only and had no right to practice in Texas.

Bark said that his home was in Texas, but he was in Baltimore for a month at the time he met Beach there. He said that he had taken no examination to become a lawyer in Oklahoma.

In Indian Territory
"It was Indian territory, you know," he said, "and when it became a state they just ordered everybody to the bar they found practicing law."

He told them of having been admitted to the bar in Texas also, an apparent contradiction of previous testimony. He said that without examination he was enrolled in the circuit court at Dallas.

As Bark was leaving the court house after testimony, to return to Baltimore, the defense served with a subpoena.

Bark Not Known To Court Officials

DALLAS, Dec. 1.—Samuel Bark, witness in the Lilliendaahl murder trial in New Jersey, is unknown to federal and state officials here. He was not enrolled as an attorney in the federal or state courts.

Wife Is Unable To Assist In Muddle

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 1.—Mrs. Maud Bark, whose husband Samuel, has testified that Willis Beach, one of the defendants in the Lilliendaahl murder trial, confessed guilt to him, today said her husband showed her a picture of Beach a few days ago and asked her if she could identify it.

She denied ever having seen Beach in Baltimore or elsewhere. The alleged confession was made in this city, Bark testified.

No Information Given
Mrs. Bark was unable to give any information as to her husband's reputation. At the time of their marriage, six months ago, she said Bark and described himself as a lawyer and a ranch owner from Texas and that since then he apparently had not been employed. Some of the neighbors were reported to have said that Bark, two years ago, conducted a small show at a local amusement park.

A few days ago, Mrs. Bark said she discovered that her husband was the father of six children by a former marriage.

FIGHT ON OIL LEADERS SEEN

SINCLAIR AND DOHENY MAY BE BARRED AS BOARD MEMBERS
(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The New York Times today says that an effort to block the re-election of Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny as directors of the American Petroleum Institute because of the connection with the government oil lease scandals will come to a head at the organization's annual meeting in Chicago beginning Tuesday.

Prominent members of the petroleum institute have been circulating from New York by a group that is opposing the re-election of Sinclair and Doheny. Doheny will probably decline re-election to the board of directors who make the nominations and at whose meeting the fight will be made, the Times says, but friends of Sinclair will probably make a fight for his re-election. Sinclair's friends have been making a canvass of the membership to block the movement against re-election.

The newspaper indicates the opposition includes many independent oil operators who fear that the industry will suffer in public esteem unless it goes on record as opposing the re-election.

Livestock and small buildings were reported seen in the swiftly flowing stream.

Moody Says Report On Smith Is False

AUSTIN, Dec. 1.—Governor Moody today denied published reports intimating that Representative R. K. Smith of Jourdanton who said here recently that nobody but a district judge or the governor ought to be allowed to offer rewards for dead bank robbers, had taken the matter up with him.

"I have never even heard of it before," the governor said. "Mr. Smith not only did not discuss that matter with me; he discussed nothing. I did not see him."

NEW ORLEANS TRADING
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 1 (AP)—Although Liverpool was slightly lower than expected the cotton market opened steady today and first prices were 3 points up to 3 down.

Prices improved slightly after the start on some trade buying and January held up to 19.28; March 19.42 and May 19.53, 8 to 10 points above the previous close. Towards the end of the first half hour the market eased off five points from the top on lack of support.

Trading was rather quiet during the morning and prices fluctuated narrowly. Near noon the market steadied on the firmness in stocks and reports of a better demand for spots in southern markets. January advanced to 19.34; March 19.53, and May 19.59, 13 to 17 points over the previous close.

NEW YORK TRADING
NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 4 points to an advance of 2 points. A little selling on the easier showing of Liverpool was absorbed by continuation of the covering noted on the rallies yesterday, while there also seemed to be some trade buying.

The market showed net advances of 7 to 10 points shortly after the opening, but demand was less active than yesterday and prices dropped back within a point or two of yesterday's closing figures by the end of the first hour under realizing or renewed liquidating.

Offerings attracted by the early advance proved sufficient to carry prices a shade under yesterday's closing quotations, but the market firmed up again on renewed covering and trade buying. January advanced from 19.07 to 19.23, making net gains of about 2 points on the active positions and prices were within a point or two of the best at mid-day.

WALL STREET TRADING
NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—Operations for the advance were in control of the stock market at the opening today, faced by some irregular tendencies. Collins and Alkmen and Green Cananea opened at new highs. Atchison had an overnight gain of 2 points and Peoria, Mont. and Montgomery-Ward and Timken Roller Bearing were a point or so lower at the start.

Some large blocks changed hands at the outset including 4,000 General Motors, up a fraction. Further realizing and short selling in important stocks developed in the first half hour. U. S. Steel and General Motors receded 1 and 1 1/2, respectively, and Montgomery-Ward extending its loss to 2 1/2, while several others fell back a point or so. Nevertheless extensive advances were made by American Machine and Foundry which rose nearly 6 points to a new high of 177. White Sewing Machine which sold 5 1/2 points higher, and Atchison which increased its early gain to 4 points. Large offerings of the market, but it worked its way up to 101, a new high record before it finally receded to 99, where it left off yesterday.

FORD DEALER TO DESCRIBE THE NEW CAR

INTERESTED CITIZENS WILL BE SHOWN ALL OF ITS FEATURES

Lubbock will get its first full descriptions of the new line of Ford automobiles tomorrow.

A public reception to be held by the Lubbock Auto company, local dealers, is part of the national introduction of the new models. In thousands of communities all over the United States tomorrow this new line of moderate priced light automobiles will be introduced to millions of people.

The doors of the show rooms are to be opened promptly at 8 a. m. and attendants will be on hand throughout the remainder of the day to explain the new and interesting features of the car which is expected to make a new chapter in automotive history.

Cars Well Planned
The new cars are said to be the product of several years of study and planning by Henry Ford and his engineers in the great Ford laboratories at Dearborn. Mr. Ford himself has announced that "there is nothing quite like the new car" and has stated that it will prove just as great a pioneer in the present field of low price light cars of quality as the famous model T was.

A pioneer in its field for more than nineteen years.

Among the visitors to the reception tomorrow will be many city officials, executives of business, civic and professional organizations and other leaders in the life of the community, who have been specially invited.

The performance of these new cars, it is said, will be startling when viewed in the light of automobile performance of the past.

Local dealers have been notified by Ford officials at Detroit that the factories throughout the country are now preparing to produce the new cars in numbers exceeding even the tremendous production records achieved in the manufacture of the model T line.

Company officials at Detroit also repeated their announcement that production of the new line will not make the model T line obsolete. The manufacture of new parts for model T replacements will continue to be an important factor of the Ford plants as long as any of the model T cars are still in operation, the local dealers were advised.

Because of this policy, present owners of model T cars will be able to keep their cars in perfect order as long as those cars remain in commission. The Lubbock Auto company's show rooms are located on the corner of 9th Street and Texas avenue.

CITIZENS HERE OKEY ADS FOR SOUTH PLAINS

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN APPROVED BY 50 IN MEETING HERE

Fifty prominent citizens of the city of Lubbock gathered together in the Chamber of Commerce room last night and heard Eric M. Racey of Dallas, representing the Southwestern Advertising company, Dallas, and A. R. Davis, manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, discuss the plan for the advertising of the South Plains.

The campaign which is sponsored by the directors of the Board of City Development, was explained as far as it has been planned and the citizens present went on record as being for its adoption, 100 per cent. The meeting started shortly before 8 o'clock and was presided over by President Spencer A. Wells, of the Board of City Development.

Discussion Follows

Following the explanations of Messrs. Racey and Davis the meeting was thrown into a round-table discussion, the following views being given by the speakers:

MRS. C. F. STUBBS—I have waited, oh so long, for this very thing! I have lived in Lubbock county for 27 years. I know what can be done in this section and I believe we should let the world know. My own business has shown me that advertising pays. I am heartily in favor of the move.

W. A. MYRICK, Sr.—I think well of the plan as outlined and I don't believe we have started it any too early. I don't believe there is any other country in the world which offers the opportunities for settling and development, especially to the young man that the South Plains offers. The biggest pitfall which I see in the entire matter is delay. I'm for it.

R. J. MURRAY—Nothing will make money without advertising except the government mint. I am enthusiastically for the plan because I believe it will secure for the South Plains the type of settlers we need—the man with capital. The resources of this country are astonishing and we have something to sell beside climate. We are selling the greatest resources in the country—selling something a man can make money on.

CHAS. F. O'NEILL—I am heartily in favor of the plan. I saw it partially worked out in California and our lands at $20, $25 and $50 per acre will look like bargains to newcomers from the older, more settled districts. Lubbock now is about the size Dallas was when I went there in 1884. I believe we have a better chance to better ourselves than Dallas had.

HENRY T. KIMBERG—I have followed the St. Louis and Atlanta campaigns and I agree with most of the plan as outlined here. It must be a South Plains campaign, however, and we cannot condone selfishness. I endorse the proposition but believe that other towns should be called in, should hear the plan and be given a chance to share in it. As a whole the plan is a good one and I'd like to see it put over. The minute details, however, must soon be worked out.

JOHN L. RATLIFF—We have only 100 per cent tillable land left open to settlement and we know what we have to sell. There is no use to wait longer. The plan, as I see it, is wise and sane and if, through advertising, we can settle this country in 5 years time rather than wait 15 to 20 years and do it accidentally, I'm in favor of it.

JOE HESS—I have been in the real estate business 35 years—it will be 40 years this January—but I don't know it all yet. I think the plan is what we need and that we should go into it but if we wait to wait for 40 or 50 more years I'll still be here to greet the newcomers.

DR. PAUL HORN—Times have changed and with them customs have changed. We have plenty here to educate the people about. I am heartily in sympathy with the move and am glad to pledge the support of the Texas Technological college, that institution which I have the honor to partially represent.

W. P. SOASH—I am in full sympathy with the plan. We offer on the South Plains the best opportunities available to the settler and we have the best undeveloped section in the United States.

JED A. RIX—We have been so busy with our own business that we have been "kidding ourselves." I am heartily in favor of the adoption of the campaign. I have been for such a move for several years.

D. D. RODERICK—I think the plan a very fine one. I believe we should "jump on it with both feet" and not be "asleep at the switch."

B. C. D. SPENCER Wells called for anyone to point out, if possible, any errors in the plan or its ideas but no one responded. A vote was called and it was unanimous in favor of the campaign.

Must Be Plains Campaign

It was pointed out by the speakers that the campaign must be of South Plains scope. The name "South Plains, Incorporated," was suggested with advertisements, carrying under that signature the line "Division of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce." As the plan lays now and according to the advice of the Southwestern Advertising company, the sum of $23,323.33 per year for a three year term is essential to the campaign's success.

Management of the campaign, according to Mr. Racey, should be under the direction of a board of directors, chosen in an manner coincidental with the raising of the funds. An executive board, or better, one individual with full authority, should pass on all problems, he said.

Mr. Racey advises using part of the money the B. C. D. now has on hand, raising additional funds through land men and companies and the balance by subscription of 25 to 50 cents per capita.

SHIPPING LOSS IN U. S. FRUITS IS ASTOUNDING

PLANT DISEASES HELD
MAIN CAUSE OF BIG DETERIORATION

By FRANK I. WELLER
(Associated Press Farm Editor)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Staggering waste, caused by the spoiling of fresh fruit and vegetables in transit, has stimulated nationwide effort to control the plant diseases which contribute to shipping loss. Railroads paid more than $5,000,000 last year in settlement of claims for damages to these commodities. Statistics do not attempt to approximate the loss to producers and shippers.

Largely because of these conditions every state is co-operating with Dr. F. C. Meier, federal plant pathologist, in the struggle against diseases of food plants. Spraying, seed treatment and the development of varieties resistant to disease are the principal methods employed.

"It is the aim of our work," Dr. Meier explains, "to promote economic crop production, improve the quality of produce and minimize wastage in storage, in transit and at the markets."

Although the effect of some diseases is limited principally to reduction of yield, others cause lesions on the product that make it unmarketable or throw it into a low grade. Still other diseases affect the harvested crop in such a way as to cause decay in storage or during shipment. To the latter type

Mr. Ford is stamping the number on the engine. This gives you an idea of what you'll see when you look under the hood of the much-discussed, long-awaited new Ford car. of disease must be blamed destruction caused by fungi which acts when products are in the process of marketing. Decay of fruits and vegetables during transportation costs the consumer, the carrier and the producer enormous sums every year.

Current figures show field and transportation waste on potatoes to have run as high as $5,600,000 bushels in one year, and the apple loss to have been more than 22,700,000 bushels. Eighty-two carloads of potatoes were offered destroyed at Boston last September because they had arrived in bad condition. Sweet rot had attacked them in transit, following infection by a late blight organism.

Claims against common carriers were collected on charges of improper schedules or failure to carry out stipulated practices. Fresh fruits and vegetables amounted to but 1.27 per cent of the total tonnage on railroads in 1926, but they constituted 21.6 per cent of the total claims paid on all commodities.

Convinced that much of this loss was caused directly by plant diseases, the American Railway association has joined the campaign for sound products and adequate shipping preparation.

HINDS TO VIEW JUNIOR CADETS AT FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, Dec. 1 (AP)—

Cadets of the Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps of eight Fort Worth schools will pass in review before General Ernest Hinds, commanding officer of the Eighth Corps Area, United States Army, on December 14. The companies will go through with their drills and maneuvers on their own school grounds.

General Hinds and his staff, consisting of Colonel C. H. Mayo, Major Gordon H. Cates and the general's aide and son, Lieutenant John Hinds, will come to Fort Worth from Arlington. The R. O. T. C. units of North Texas Agricultural College and Arlington high school will be inspected there.

Lunches, Honors Hinds

A luncheon will be given here at noon in General Hinds' honor by Colonel A. F. McLean. This will be attended by H. H. Moore, superintendent of Fort Worth schools, the various high school principals and the heads of the military units here. A conference also will be held by the general and Colonel Moore with Superintendent Moore and the principals regarding the military training program in the schools.

That night General Hinds will meet with officers of the 35th Infantry and the 242d field artillery of the organized reserves in their headquarters here.

Holls To Arrange For Spafford Visit

FORT WORTH, Dec. 1 (AP)—

Every legion post and every legion auxiliary chapter in West Texas will be asked to send representatives to Fort Worth for an all-day conference with Commander Spafford, at which details for a state-wide membership campaign will be made.

SIX-DAY POULTRY SHOW IS OPENED AT WAXAHACHIE

(By Associated Press)

WAXAHACHIE, Dec. 1.—With attractive prizes offered and an unusually large number of birds on display, the Texas Mid-Winter Poultry Show opened here today to continue until the night of December 6.

Entries for the affair have come in from various parts of Texas and a number also are here from outside the state, principally from Oklahoma. The premiums this year were attractive and have drawn a great deal of interest.

Big Feature Seen
Leaders in the poultry show movement declare that there is more to be considered about the project than the exposition in itself, and explain that it offers a strong incentive for an important diversification feature in a region that turns the main to cotton production.

Held as it is in the leading cotton country, the show, they point out, is indicative of the interest in getting away from the all-cotton fallacy.

Ruling On Slander Law Is Given Out

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 1 (AP)—

The law against slander is mainly to protect women and slander can be "orally or otherwise," in the broad general sense dating back to common law days, the court of criminal appeals held Wednesday.

The court denied the state's motion for rehearing in the reversal of the libel conviction of the Rev. A. Relfy Copeland of Waco, fined $1,000, on a charge of defaming a nurse's character.

Reversal was on the ground the preacher was erroneously charged with libel instead of slander and the state, seeking rehearing, insisted that the offense of slander cannot be committed by use of defamatory language in writing.

To uphold this construction, the court ruled, would make the slander law fall short of the full protection intended and would "leave wholly unexplained the meaning of the broad language 'orally or otherwise'."

Get complete details
TOMORROW
at Ford salesrooms

FOR several years we have been working on the new Ford car. For weeks and months you have been hearing rumors about it. For the past few days you have been reading some of the details of it in the newspapers.

Whatever you do tomorrow, take at least fifteen minutes to get the full story of this new automobile.

You will realize then that it is an entirely new and different Ford car, designed and created to meet modern conditions—a car that brings you more beauty, speed, quiet, comfort, safety, economy and stamina than you ever thought possible in a low-price car.

Automobile history will be made tomorrow, for the new Ford is not only new in appearance and performance . . . it is new in mechanical design. Many features of it are exclusive Ford developments. Some are wholly new in automobile practice. Its low price is a reflection of manufacturing improvements and economies that are as epoch-making as the car itself.

Nineteen years of experience in building 15,000,000 automobiles are behind the new Ford car and have counted in its making. Resources unmatched in the motor car industry are its heritage and its birthright.

The Ford policy of owning the source of raw materials, of making virtually every part, of doing business at a small profit per car, has cut many dollars off the price you would ordinarily have to pay for a car like this.

So we say to you—learn about this new Ford car tomorrow. Compare it with any other car in the light-car field for beauty of line—for comfort—for speed—for quick acceleration—for flexibility in traffic . . . for steadiness at all speeds . . . for power on the hills . . .

for economy and low cost of up-keep . . . for its sturdy ability to stand up under countless thousands of miles of service.

Then you will know why tomorrow will be remembered as one of the greatest days in the entire history of the automobile industry. . . . Then you will know why the new Ford car will be your car.

27. REAL ESTATE

AN ATTRACTIVE BUSINESS DEAL

I want to call your attention to some attractive points about this home my client authorizes me to exchange for Lubbock county lands.

First, it is on the corner of two of the prominent streets in town, and real good corners are scarce.

Second, the property contains four 26-foot lots and the house can be moved on the inside lots, and you would have a home worth $6500.00 and the remaining two lots would be worth for suburban grocery and filling station another $6500.00, or a total of $13,000.00.

This is one of the valuable properties of Lubbock, and is certainly worthy of your careful consideration at an exchange price of $10,000.00.

DECEPTION IN U. S. INSPECTED MEAT CLAIMED

STAMPS FROM PROVED PRODUCTS PUT ON INFERIOR CUTS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(By Associated Press)—A gross misrepresentation of meat and meat products has developed in more than isolated instances, the department of agriculture is informed.

Food deception is practiced, officials say, by dealers in cheap and unimproved meats, who put the government stamp from proved products to keep their inferior meat from being recognized as such.

They sell the meat, of which there is no sanitation record, at the same price for which they sell inspected meat. The purchaser, who doubts the quality and asks to see the "stamp" of merit, is told that inspectors failed to mark the cuts in question.

Trickery may run the entire gamut, even to the "hot dog." Some have been found in the basements of New York restaurants where frankfurters were made of stockyard refuse and sole whistles, to pushcart vendors at 12 cents a pound. The product was retailed at the same price charged for inspected frankfurters, on which the wrappers alone cost five cents a pound. By far the greater number of animals slaughtered in the United States are free of disease and suitable for food, investigation shows. Last year more than 167,000,000 pounds of meat was slaughtered, including that butchered on the farms. Approximately 70,000,000 pounds of that amount was inspected, and still greater quantities on which there was no record of wholesomeness went over the retail counter to unsuspecting consumers.

Federal inspection covers only the meat offered to interstate and foreign commerce. Products kept strictly within the boundaries of an individual state are not controlled.

Government authorities point out, however, that each consumer can have for the asking Uncle Sam's guarantee that the meat he eats is from a healthy animal, wholesome and prepared under strictly sanitary conditions. His assurance is a round, purple stamp on the meat, it is unpretentious and frequently

Named Envoy

Colonel Noble Brandon Judah of Chicago, civilian aid to the secretary of war during the World War, has been appointed ambassador to Cuba by President Coolidge. The appointee, a Chicago attorney, is a reserve colonel, director of the executive committee of the Chicago Title and Trust company, and trustee of Brown University.

CAPE COAT

A new version of the evening cape is a flared skirt section of the coat, with the top a fitted cape, with moleskin edging the sleeve slits.

Unnoticed but the government sends $5,000 a year to put it there. Retailers have been urged to explain that the marking fluid, sometimes believed by consumers to be poisonous, is only a vegetable coloring material of approved ingredients and as harmless as any fruit juice.

LIBRARIANS TO MEET NEXT APRIL IN BATON ROUGE

(By Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 1.—Several hundred librarians will come to Baton Rouge for the meeting of the Southwestern Library association in April, the visitors representing six state associations in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico, Arizona and Louisiana.

Mrs. J. R. Dale, secretary of the Oklahoma Library commission, is president of the Southwestern Library association, and Mrs. Lois White Henderson, director of the Shreve Memorial library in Shreveport, is president of the Louisiana state organization, which with the Louisiana Library commission, of which Miss Essie M. Culver is executive secretary, will be host to the convention.

The meeting was awarded to Baton Rouge, states Miss Culver, because of the keen interest displayed by other states in the development of libraries in Louisiana, where the library commission has been active for two years in seeking the establishment of free parish libraries.

Miss Culver has just returned from conventions in Little Rock, Ark., and Beaumont, Texas, at which she addressed the state library association delegates. While in Little Rock, Miss Culver conferred with secretaries of the library commissions of Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas, and with the extension secretary of the American Library association, on the subject of rehabilitation in sections where available libraries were destroyed by the Mississippi flood last spring. Results from this conference may affect Louisiana, she said.

Chickens Now Are Picked By Machine

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Picking a chicken has become as easy in England as rolling off a log. It is now done by machinery—one chicken a minute.

The feathers are plucked entirely by suction, pin feathers and all. The inventor of the device is Lieut. Com. J. B. Kingston who, upon retiring from the royal navy, became a poultry farmer.

The machine is fan-shaped. The feathers are drawn into it by suction and stuffed neatly into a collecting bag. The fan makes about 500 revolutions for a young chicken but 700 or so are required to strip a tough old hen or rooster.

DOGS PAY TUITION
NEW YORK—Next time you see a young man promenading with a poodle or Pekinese, don't pity him; he's probably working his way through college. A number of students in Columbia and New York Universities are paying their expenses by exercising pet dogs for the wives of millionaires. They get 25 cents an hour for the job and since they can chaperon three or four dogs at a time, the boys make a fairly profitable wage.

BENES HEAD OF NEW COMMITTEE ON DISARMAMENT

(By Associated Press)

GENEVA, Dec. 1.—Edvard Benes, of Czech Slovakia, was unanimously elected president of the new committee of security and arbitration of the preparatory disarmament conference today.

Francisco Jose Gurrutia, member of the League of Nations council for Colombia, and Osten Unden, former Swedish foreign minister, who took a striking part in the negotiations for the admission of Germany to the League and the reorganization of the League council, were elected vice presidents.

No U. S. Delegate Present
It was remarked that there was no member of the United States delegation present. This was taken to indicate that Washington had not yet replied to the earnest appeal to send an observer.

M. Benes summarized the League's past activity in advancing international security. He said he conceived the committee's role to be that of suggesting ways and means of promoting the feeling of security in certain parts of Europe by regional pacts if an international pact of guarantees becomes unreasonable. This might also be done, he continued, by drawing up the model treaty suggested by Dr. Fridtjof Nansen for the obligatory arbitration of all disputes, which would be to the signature of all governments.

GAMING HALL ON BOAT

(By Associated Press)

PARIS.—A great floating gambling casino will make its appearance along the French Mediterranean coast next season. A Paris ship-building firm will fit a large yacht with gambling paraphernalia and hotel accommodations for 300 guests. It will attempt to attract tourist trade from Monte Carlo and other casinos.

Mr. L. Davy, English grocer, recently received a postcard mailed by his brother in 1908. The writer has been dead for fifteen years.

...our tenth Anniversary...

Ten years of service are behind this institution ten years filled with pleasure born of the knowledge that we have been instrumental in assisting in the development of the territory in which we are located.

On December 1st, 1917, this bank held its formal opening in the then new banking quarters. The institution had practically no business and very few customers. Unusual and not very favorable conditions were prevalent at the time of our opening. The year 1917 was the driest this section has ever experienced the country was sparsely settled and the City of Lubbock had a population of less than 4,000 inhabitants. A titanic struggle involving the greatest nations on earth was in progress, and every effort was being made to sell Liberty Bonds, support the Red Cross drives and at the same time furnish sufficient finances to carry on the business interests of this territory.

The first few years of this bank's existence saw many hardships, with the years 1920 and 1921 bringing a great financial crisis to many individuals, and every severe test known has been experienced by every bank in the past ten years.

However, through all these unfavorable conditions, this bank has been in a position to offer perfect safety to its depositors, as well as meriting its existence by extending a strong and willing helping hand to those needing financial assistance.

This has been possible only through the support and patronage of our good friends and customers, and it is only fitting that on this occasion as we celebrate our Tenth Anniversary, that we publicly acknowledge our gratitude and appreciation for the confidence bestowed upon us as a financial institution.

We hope to merit a continuation of the good friendship so concretely expressed, and pledge ourselves to give you all that could be expected of any well managed financial institution. Our interests are mutual your prosperity means our welfare.
