Japanese Rout Chinese After Bitter Battle

Japan Abandons All Talk Of A Compromise Before League; Program Of Conditions Laid Down By Delegate

Heavy Casualties Reported On Front; Japs Enter Squarely Into Zone Of Influence Of Soviet Government

(By The Associated Press)

THE Japanese army routed General Mah Chan-Shan's Chinese troops in Manchuria yesterday in an all-day battle fought in below zero weather.

Unqualified dispatches from Mukden said Tsitsihar and Anganchi had been occupied by the Japanese, but Peiping reported receiving a radio message from Tsitsihar saying both cities were in the hands of the Chinese.

Chinese Attacked

A telegram from the front, received at Mukden, said the Japanese had occupied Tsitsihar station on the Chinese Eastern railway, to the south of the city of that name, and that the Chinese were being attacked along the railway.

Japan abandoned all talk of compromise before the council of the League of Nations in Paris. The Japanese delegate laid down a program of peace conditions described in some League circles as tantamount to turning Manchuria into a political and economic protectorate of Japan.

Insist On Duty

Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese spokesman, told the council China was prepared to invoke article 15 of the covenant and would insist that the council do its full duty under the covenant, the Kellogg pact and the nine power treaty.

Peiping heard from Tsitsihar by radio that bitter fighting was in progress early today between the Chinese and Japanese armies in the vicinity of that city and Anganchi. It was not known in Peiping whether the cities were in Chinese or Ja-

Police were without clues either to the identity of the slayers, who were believed to have used a machine gun, or to the motive for the double killing.

The shooting was performed in typical gangland fashion. Witnesses reported seeing a curtained car slow up as it passed Scheidigger and his wife, and of hearing gun fire.

Broad Taxation Program Advanced By Reed Smoot

New Excise Levies Are Advocated By Senate Leader

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — The administration's tax program was reflected today in a declaration by Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee for increased rates on incomes and new excise levies.

Smoot, usually an administration spokesman on revenue legislation, proposed raises in all the income brackets to a maximum of 40 per cent on incomes over $100,000.

He advocated also a broad system of sales or excise taxes applying on so-called luxury commodities. He mentioned automobiles and radios among articles to be included.

Smoot spoke after a call at the treasury where Secretary Mellon was completing a draft of the program which will be recommended to congress by President Hoover.

Program Differs

The Smoot program differs somewhat from that of the Republican independents and Democrats, who would concentrate on the big incomes and inheritances for the bulk, if not all, of the new revenue. With congress almost evenly divided, a compromise seems inevitable. This probably will include increased estate tax rates and few, if any, new excise levies.

Smoot estimated $1,200,000 must be raised by new taxation next year. This is the highest figure mentioned so far. Other congressional leaders believe Secretary Mellon will be willing to resort again to borrowing to cover part of the deficit of more than a billion dollars expected this year.

Respite Given Indian; Story Being Checked

New Story Of Child's Death Told By Chief Red Wing On Eve Of Death; Date Is Set For November 30

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. — Chief Red Wing, who had been sentenced to die in the electric chair at Huntsville early tomorrow, was given a reprieve by Governor R. S. Sterling until November 30.

A temporary stay was granted the alleged slayer of Angelina Cavazos, 2-year old Cuban girl, late today, to permit Texas rangers to complete an investigation of a last-minute story told by the condemned man, who claims to be a descendant of the Cherokee tribe of Indians, that another crushed the baby's skull with a rock.

Man Questioned

The rangers were questioning a man arrested in San Antonio. Red Wing told William W. Sterling, Texas adjutant general, who interviewed him in the death house of the state penitentiary, that the man being detained had killed the child.

The little girl's body was found in New Braunfels, where her father, Enrique Cavazos and her mother, as well as Red Wing, were members of a tent show troupe. The parents claimed Evangelina disappeared from her bed while they were performing. After his arrest Red Wing signed a confession in which he said he had slain the child with a rock after criminally attacking her.

Checking possible clues, authorities telephoned Roswell, N. M., Houston, Dallas, Naco, Arizona, and San Antonio but received no encouragement. It was learned the youths arrived in Guymon where they transacted some business for the Rev. J. R. Wade, father of one of the missing youths and pastor of the First Christian church at Boise City. They left Guymon, Oklahoma saying they were going to Lamar where Parrent was to have been married.

Long Wins In Skirmish For State Office

Dismissal Of Ouster Suit Is Ordered By District Court On Grounds That There Is No Cause For Action

Appeal Announced

Cyr Will Continue To Fight; Administration Policies Are Attacked; Long Recognizes King As Lieutenant

(By The Associated Press)

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 18.—Huey P. Long today won the first legal skirmish in his battle to retain the governorship against the challenge of Dr. Paul N. Cyr, his elected lieutenant-governor.

The Caddo district court ordered dismissal of Dr. Cyr's ouster suit, which was directed against Long on the contention Long automatically vacated the governor's chair when he certified his election to the United States senate last spring.

Upholds Motion

Judge T. F. Bell upheld Long's motion to dismiss on grounds of "no cause of action," based upon the plea that Long had not yet taken his seat in the senate.

Cyr's counsel announced an appeal to the supreme court and the two principals exchanged pot-shots across the length of the state.

Long, speaking at a fair at Coushatta up state in behalf of a slate of administration candidates in the January state elections, was handed a telegram announcing the decision and read it to the crowd, chuckling.

King Recognized

"Dr. Cyr is not governor and is no longer lieutenant-governor," he said, reiterating a declaration that Cyr "faded out of the political picture completely" when he took the oath as governor last October 13.

Long has since recognized Alvin O. King, president pro tem of the senate as his lieutenant governor.

Dr. Cyr was told about the Caddo court ruling at New Orleans, just before starting an address before the Young Men's Business club. In the address he repeatedly referred to "that boy Long" and attacked the administration policies.

"When this suit is finally settled," he said, "and I am in the governor's chair, the fight of decency against debauchery in Louisiana—which is the issue—is going to continue to the finish."

"Neighbor John," Back In Florida, Predicts "Sunlit Days" Are Ahead

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 18. Bringing with him a word of optimism for the future, John D. Rockefeller, sr., resumed the role of "Neighbor John" as he arrived in Florida today for his winter sojourn.

In poem, prayer and meditation, the 94-year-old founder of one of the world's largest fortunes expressed his sentiments on the "sunlit days" that are ahead.

It is customary for Mr. Rockefeller to find expression of his own thoughts in the words of others.

The first warm rays of the morning sun, when he comes to Florida every winter to enjoy, filtered into the drawing room of his private car, where he and two feminine members of his household were having breakfast, as an Associated Press staff writer was ushered in.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

"You are just in time to share with us our morning meditations," he smiled cordially, waving his visitor to a seat beside the table, after felicitations had been exchanged.

Then the reporter read Folger McKinsey's "Sunlit Days."

A tear trickled down the cheek of the aged multimillionaire as the poem was concluded.

"Ah," he murmured, "that is indeed a beautiful and timely sentiment. Will you read the prayer?"

That was done and then the talk turned to lighter things.

"And how," the reporter asked, "is your golf, Mr. Rockefeller? As good as usual?"

He threw back his head and

Two Former Oklahoma Officers Face Trial Today In Slayings

International Tension Broken Over Killing Of Youths On Way From American College To Mexican Homes

(By The Associated Press)

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 18—In an atmosphere somewhat relieved of international tension, two former Ardmore peace officers will go on trial here tomorrow for the slaying of Manuel Garcia Gomez, shot down with his Mexican student comrade, Emilio Cortes Rubio, last June 7 while the youths were motoring home from an American college.

One of the accused men, William E. Guess, has been acquitted of killing Cortes Rubio, a kinsman of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico. This time he faces trial along with Cecil Crosby, his peace officer associate.

Apprehension Felt

At the time of the killings there was widespread apprehension concerning their possible effect on international relations but recent developments indicate this has been allayed. Salvador Cortes Rubio, who accompanied the slain youths has gone back to the American college — St. Benedict's, at Atchison, Kas.—the University of Mexico and Tulsa university met this fall in a "good will" football game on an Oklahoma field.

Guess accepted responsibility for firing the shots that snuffed out the two boys' lives.

A Shallowater man, in county jail Wednesday night, will make his nineteenth appearance within two years in justice court today to face charges of drunkenness.

The eighteen appearances in court have resulted in as many pleas of guilty, said Wm. H. Evans, assistant county attorney yesterday. Based on the minimum fine and costs, a total of $236 has been assessed against the man —and much of it was paid in cash. The remainder was laid out in jail.

"Yes, he's a regular visitor — was in my court two weeks ago on the same charge," Justice H. K. Porter said. "It would be cheaper if he lived here—officers' fees to Shallowater make the minimum fine $13.15."

Football Talk Is Big Topic In This City

Two Special Trains To Carry Fans To Amarillo; Sale Of Ducats Is Rushing Here And In Panhandle City

LUBBOCK football fans had better buy their tickets for the Thanksgiving game in Amarillo as early as possible as the "first come-first served" method is being used in the disposal of ducats for the contest, both here and at Amarillo.

With less than 200 tickets of the seven hundred received at noon Wednesday left and with approximately 800 more tickets due to arrive today, it appeared last night that there would be only about 3,500 tickets available for Lubbock fans. The entire east side of the field will be occupied by Westerner fans, there being 3,135 seats available at present. Amarillo school officials are planning, however, to build stands in the north end zone so that a hundred or two more will be available for local people.

Matter Clarified

M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, received a letter Wednesday which clarified the matter of tickets, the number being sold, etc. There is a seating capacity of 7,195 in the Amarillo stadium at the present time but plans call for more bleachers to run the total to 10,200. The remainder, unless there is more ground available, will be used only for standing room, it was said.

Amarillo fans will not have a better section of the stands, the letter to Mr. Duncan stated, although they will be seated in a grandstand. The grandstand was built for baseball and extends around the south end of the field coming around the southwest corner and only extends

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 18. — Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the independent Republican governor of Pennsylvania, today resigned from the board of directors of the Pennsylvania council of Republican women as a protest against "overloading of the board with organization members."

"Because the minority of independents is so small that it is impossible to guarantee that the board will not use the council to strengthen the power of the organization," she said, "I am reluctantly forced to withdraw as a director."

Her decision was conveyed by letter to the council, meeting here in its ninth annual convention, while Mrs. Hannah M. Durham, Allentown, was reading the report of the nominating committee which included the nomination of Mrs. Pinchot for another two-year term as a director.

Strickel Case Moves Toward Higher Courts

Notice Of Appeal Given After Verdict Rendered By A 72nd Court Jury Wednesday For Murder Of Mexican

Second Conviction

No Emotion Shown By Ranchman As Verdict Is Read; Given Four Years At Former Trial In Hockley County

W. T. STRICKEL'S two-year fight against the law's demands that he pay for the life of Francisco Carasco, a Mexican sheep shearer, shot to death in Cochran county July 18, 1929, moved toward the state court of criminal appeals again Wednesday.

The 62-year-old rancher, convicted of Carasco's slaying and given a three-year term in the penitentiary by a jury in 72nd district court late Wednesday, gave notice of appeal. Verdict was returned at 4:15 o'clock, exactly two hours after the jury received the case.

Tried In Hockley

Strickel, tried in Hockley county, was convicted of murder in connection with the death of the Mexican and was given four years. He appealed that conviction, winning a reversal. The case then was transferred to Lubbock county. He made $5,000 appeal bond Wednesday.

Strickel heard the verdict yesterday without outward show of emotion. When the jurors reported to Deputy Joe Reiger they had reached a verdict the defendant was sitting with his back to the jury box. He was smoking a pipe. He did not change position until after Judge Homer L. Pharr read the report. E. R. Davis, Acuff farmer, was jury foreman.

On First Ballot

The rancher was convicted on the first ballot, a jury member said. The remaining period was used to determine what sentence to assess.

The trial opened Monday and jury was completed that afternoon. Testimony, including that of Strickel in which he told of shoot-

REVOLUTIONARY WAY TO ROAST COFFEE USED BY HILLS BROS

Controlled Roasting Just the Opposite of Ordinary Method

By a radically different roasting process — Controlled Roasting — Hills Bros. give their rare blend a flavor no other coffee has!

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the matchless, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting — the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. While the coffee passes through the roasters, the heat is automatically controlled. Any variation in the roast is thus absolutely prevented!

Such uniformity is not possible by bulk methods. In spite of watchful care, some of the coffee is roasted too much — some too little. Flavor variation is therefore inevitable.

As fast as Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted, it is ground and packed in vacuum. By this process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can, and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if "air-tight," will not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

Winter's Cold Grasps Nation

Tornadic Winds Sweep Through Oklahoma While Other Areas Shiver Under Blankets Of Heavy Snowfall

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18. (AP) — The approach of winter, heralded by storms in the mountain regions of the west over the week-end, is becoming evident in other parts of the nation.

Tornadic winds swept Oklahoma yesterday in the wake of heavy rains.

The southwest was drenched by general precipitation, and autumnal downpour that freshened grass and provided needed moisture for wheat. Strong winds prevailed to the north. Snow or rain was the forecast for upper Michigan, Minnesota, North and South Dakota today. Rainfall in this section yesterday extended to the great lakes region and to eastern Tennessee.

These manifestations came as clearing skies came back to the greater part of the Pacific coast region after week-end storms which piled snow high in the uplands.

Irrigation farmers will benefit from the heavy fall which ranged as deep as 56 inches at Norden, Calif.

The United States weather bureau said there would be more snow in the Sierra Nevada mountains of California and rains in far western Washington. Seasonal rainfall on the coast was ahead of the average to date in numerous places.

Lamesa Tornadoes Down Tulia, 7 - 0

LAMESA, Nov. 18. Special)—In a hotly contested non-conference tilt here this afternoon the Lamesa High school Golden Tornadoes annexed another victory, this time over the Tulia High Millers. The final score was 7 to 0.

The Tornadoes played a slothful game for three quarters and in the early part of the fourth period. Marr, Tornado quarterback, passed to Halfback Addison for ten yards and the lone touchdown.

The Tornadoes will meet Floydada High here on Thanksgiving Day for the Class B championship of District 2.

Mustangs Leave For Navy Battle

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP)—Undefeated this season on Southwestern soil the Southern Methodist university football squad left here this afternoon for Annapolis, where it plays the Navy Saturday in an intersectional match.

Twenty seven players and five attendants, including Coach Ray Morrison, composed the party. About 100 S. M. U. fans will leave for the east tomorrow.

Following their last practice here Coach Morrison was distinctly pessimistic. "It doesn't look so good now. I have never seen such a bunch of mechanical football players," he commented.

Kansas Aggies May Play TCU In Post Season Charity Tilt

FORT WORTH, Nov. 18. (AP) — Through the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, Texas Christian University has been invited by the Kansas Aggies for a post-season football game to be played here for the unemployed. The invitation was received today.

This game was sanctioned today by the T. C. U. athletic council in that it would permit the Horned Frogs to play and donate its stadium.

However, no definite steps have been taken toward playing the contest.

The Kansas Aggies are coached by Alvin (B) McMillin, former North Side High star and member of the Praying Colonels of Centre.

Slaton Tigers Invade Amarillo Today For Last Attempt To Win District Go This Season; Team, Fans Optimistic

Coach Wright Tells Of Hopes To Hold Amarillo Down

The Slaton High school Tigers were to leave home at 6:30 this morning with Amarillo and Butler Field as their destination. Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock they meet the Amarillo Sandies in an important Dirtsrict 1 championship game, and Slaton fans and players are paying no heed to th e pennant-hunting Sandies.

On the face of it, Amarillo is a favorite to win, due to the heavy scoring against nearly all opponents so far this season. But Slaton would not look at the face of it. And Lubbock is pulling 100 per cent for Slaton.

Coach Wright Speaks

In a long distance conversation last night, Coach Paul Wright told the Morning Avalanche that he hoped and believed that the Tigers would make as good a showing against Amarillo tomorrow as they did against the strong Pampa Harvesters last week. In holding the Harvesters to a 19 to 7 score, the Tigers showed a world of power that had not previously made its appearance.

"The team has improved 100 per cent since the early games," Coach Wright said last night, "and it will be in tip-top condition for the Amarillo game. We have nothing about which to complain; there are no injuries of consequence and the team is whipped into fine fettle so far as a mental attitude is concerned. We want to beat Amarillo, of course and we shall be satisfied with nothing less than a mighty close score at least.

"Our game at Pampa last week showed us that we are capable of playing in Class A football. Our one-sided loss to Lubbock did not indicate that, but the team has shown such wonderful improvement since the Lubbock game that we'd even like to take on the Westerners again. The whole town is behind us and we're going to give 'em hell up at Amarillo. We believe Lubbock is behind us and we're glad of that. If we can make things tough for the Sandies it will help Lubbock's chances on Thanksgiving."

Commenting on the publicity given the game tomorrow, Coach Wright said it was perhaps just as well. "If they're not looking for us, we might be able to step in and play the daylights out of them before they know it. We're not overconfident or cocky over here, but we're sure going to do our best," Wright said.

Wright was highly pleased over the spirit and ability shown by his gridders in practice this week. He suggested as his probable starting lineup, Henry and Anderson at ends, Jackson and Poteet at tackles, Gassoway and Covington at guards, Foutz at center, Captain Demp Cannon at quarter, Alford and Johnson at halves and Rucker at full. Rucker has shown perhaps the greatest individual improvement of the quartet in the backfield, Wright said last night, and will be depended upon a great extent in tomorrow's game at Amarillo.

Several hundred fans of Slaton will make the trip to Amarillo for the game, Wright estimated. Spirit is hight in the Tiger town.

Plainview Bulldogs Entertain Pampa Friday

Anxious to topple over one of the bigger and more publicized teams of District 1 and facing its last chance to do so tomorrow, the Plainview Bulldogs are drilling hard and fast for their game tomorrow with the Pampa Harvesters. The game is scheduled to start tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and will be played on Wayland Field at Plainview.

Coach Froggie Lovvorn of the Bulldogs was in Lubbock yesterday to see the Littlefield - Floydada clash and was halted long enough for a statement regarding the game:

"Geez, guy, we're gonna get beat, I betcha, but we're gonna give Pampa a good fight if I know my Bulldogs. The kids are working pretty hard, even like they hoped to win the game, and I'm for 'em. We've been kicked around by everybody in the loop except Slaton and Pampa and maybe Pampa will kick us around Friday, but not until after a pretty good game. We'd like to win at least one more district game and we've pointing to the Panpans."

The game at Plainview will mark the final district game for each team, unless there should happen to be a three-way tie for the district title evolving out of Lubbock-Amarillo game next Thursday. The Bulldogs are being trained in passing offense this week and may rely on that department for yardage gained.

Tech Picadors Meet Simmons Frosh Saturday Afternoon At Tech Field

Scrimmage Is Dished Out To High Gridders

While Fans Clamour For Tickets Westerners Go Through Hard Workouts In Preparation For Thanksgiving Tilt

Since the acquisition of tickets has become the main issue in connection with the Thanksgiving Day celebration at Amarillo next week, the football teams of the respective towns have been pushed in the background, which is just as well if one would believe Coaches Weldon Chapman and Blair Cherry.

The wild scramble for tickets has made page 1 news this week and attention has been diverted from the practice fields where the Westerners and the Sandies are preparing for the football game. The gridsters apparently are not worried about the limited seating capacity; all they desire is a rectangular plot 100 yards long by 160 feet wide upon which they may let go at each other.

Encouraged by the rapid physical improvement of his star backs, Coach Chapman is devoting full practice periods this week to fundamentals of play, blocking, tackling, passing, punting and signal drill. Satisfied that his repertoire of plays is large enough, the Westerner mentor is dealing in the execution of plays this week.

Team In Scrimmage

A hard scrimmage session yesterday between two squads, one coached by Chapman, the other by Burl Huffman, left the Westerners in a state of weariness but eagerness. The light of day was gone when work was halted.

Gene Barnett, regular fullback who was injured in the Childress game two weeks ago to the extent of a broken foot, was on the field yesterday but not in the role of fullback. He was not in uniform, nor will he don the moleskins until next week, but he followed the team about the field with the aid of a cane and took close notice of everything that is being done.

Bill Davidson and Cecil Merrill, also injured for several days, are able to do their regular turn and their knee and arm injuries apparently have been forgotten. With the exception of Barnett, the entire team will be ready and in tip top condition against Amarillo, provided no injuries result from the rigid practice this week. There is an even chance that Barnett will be ready to go against Amarillo.

Oklahoma Aggies May Not Be So Hot On Grid But Look—

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 18. (AP) Whatever its rating may be on the gridiron, the Oklahoma Aggie football squad claims the matrimonial championship.

The number of men on the squad who have marched to the altar was increased to six when Walter Barham, halfback, married Miss Hope Grubbs, of Cushing, who is a junior attending classes with her husband. They were married September 6 but did not announce it until today.

Other married members of the team are Captain Chet Dotter, Melvin Riggs, Duane Fisher, Grady Burleson, and Dick Butts.

Coach Del Morgan's Texas Tech Picadors will play before a home fandom for the second time this season, perhaps the last time, when they meet the Simmons University freshmen at the Matador field Saturday afternoon. The game is to start at 2:30 o'clock.

The game ends a heavy week of football in Lubbock. Floydada and Littlefield played an important Class B game here yesterday which was witnessed by some 2,500 fans. One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to turn out tomorrow afternoon to see the Tech Matadors play their Homecoming Day game with the University of New Mexico and Saturday see a big representation of fans at the Simmons game, which precedes the tussle between the varsity teams of the two schools by four days.

The Picadors showed a world of power Friday night against the West Texas State Teachers college Buffalo Yearlings, winning by a 44 to 0 count and thus turning in their first victory of the season. They have at least one more game to play this season, meeting the Wayland college Jackrabbits at Plainview next Wednesday.

Hickey Is Given Year's Contract In Baseball Fuss

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. (AP)—Thomas Jefferson Hickey has turned back another assault to topple him from the American Association baseball throne he built 30 years ago.

Backed solidly through a two-day deadlock by four of the eight clubs, the veteran leader of the class AA league emerged victorious with a one-year's contract stuffed in his coat pocket.

The contract was grudgingly given by his foes for one year instead of the customary three only after it was definite that the deadlock of ballots could not be broken. Thus the outcome was identically the same as that of the battle to unseat him at last year's meeting in Montreal where the same four club owners voted for him and the same foes opposed his re-election.

St. Paul, Minneapolis, Louisville and Columbus held out stubbornly against his re-election while Milwaukee, Toledo, Indianapolis and Kansas City supported him.

After a two-day discussion on the financial condition of the Toledo club, now in the hands of a receiver, the owners decided to send a committee of two—Norman Perry, Indianapolis, and L. S. MacPhail, Columbus—to see what can be done toward rehabilitation.

Horned Frogs Ready To Meet Baylor Bears In Waco Game

FORT WORTH, Nov. 18. (AP)—The Horned Frogs of T. C. U. will leave Friday morning for their last game on foreign fields, when they take to the rails for Waco, where the Baylor Bears will be met Saturday afternoon on Carroll Field. The game concludes their away from home play and leaves them with the season's finale against S. M. U. here, November 28.

A stiff session was given the Christians this afternoon, with the offense coming in for much time. Almost the entire afternoon was spent in seeking more precision in the running attack.

HOUSTON, Nov. 18. (AP) — John Coffee of Vernon, Rice Institute football end, was released today from a hospital. He had been under treatment for head injuries suffered in the Institute's game last Saturday with Texas A. and M. college.

Two Important Games Feature Class A Slate

Highland Park And Oak Cliff To Battle In District 6; Sweetwater Meets San Angelo; Standings Are Given

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 18—Texas Interscholastic League football warriors will strap on shoulder pads, lace their cleated shoes and go forth to their weekly football battles Friday and Saturday—games that will stress importance on numerous district championship races.

Perhaps the outstanding game will be at the Southern Methodist Stadium at Dallas where Highland Park and Oak Cliff, both of Dallas, battle for the District Six crown. Both are undefeated in four conference games, respectively. Last week, the Highlanders trimmed Dallas Tech 14 to 7. Oak Cliff stopped Woodrow Wilson 7 to 0. Jack Gor, Oak Cliff's most brilliant player and Bob Martin, Highland Park's thunderbolt backfield ace, are expected to put on a personal football show for their respective supporters. The team to win this game will have a clear road to the District Six championship. They met last year for the district crown, Oak Cliff winning.

Sweetwater vs. San Angelo

Another big game Saturday will be at San Angelo where San Angelo and Sweetwater, tied for first place in District Four with three victories and no defeats each, will play. Sweetwater made a serious bid for the district title last week by beating Big Spring 7 to 0. It was Big Spring's first defeat this season, and the first time its goal line had been crossed. The San Angelo and Sweetwater affair looms as a football natural plus a toss-up.

Other important games this week-end include Polytechnic and Central at Fort Worth; Sulphur Springs at Greenville; Tyler at Athens; and Cisco at Eastland.

Coach Reveals Backfield Hit With Injuries

Moffett, Price And France On Injured List But Matadors Go Ahead With Plans To Win Homecoming Day Contest

Tech's Matadors will taper off today in their hectic week of training and go through a reasonably hard drill as final preparation for their game tomorrow afternoon with the University of New Mexico Lobos at Tech Field. The game is the last one of the year on Tech's home schedule and is further interest in that it has been selected as the Homecoming Day game for Tech alumni and ex-students.

Investigations yesterday, following a hard workout, revealed that all is not as well as it should be in the ranks of the Matadors. The backfield suffers loss of strength as results of injuries received in games during the last two weeks. Outstanding among these are injuries to Speed Moffett, quarterback, and Lawrence France, outstanding backfield man of the team. Moffett was hurt in the Texas College of Mines game at El Paso a week ago yesterday, a blow striking him in the back and along the spinal column. France took a nasty lick in practice Tuesday and was forced to have several stitches taken in a cut across the forehead.

Price On Sick List

Yancy Price, regular end, will not be in his best condition for the game. He is taking things lightly this week due to a slight illness. He has lost considerable weight and power as a result of sickness. He may not get the call tomorrow, though Cawthon plans to use him part of the time.

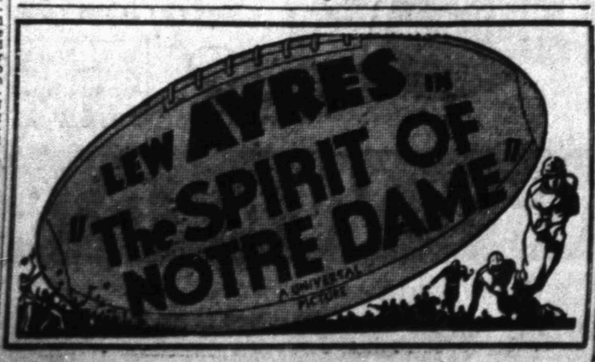

As indicated yesterday, Cawthon plans to shoot in his best team to start the game. In all previous games the second team or "shock troops" has started, the regulars going in at the first show of weakness. According to the lineup hinted by the mentor yesterday, the regulars, composed of Hitchcock and Price, ends; Baker and Owen, tackles; Captain Durham and Harris, guards; Tribble, center; Moffet, quarter; Close and France, halves and Crites, fullback.

Colorful Coaches

Headed by a colorful coaching staff composed of Chuck Riley, former quarterback at Notre Dame, as head coach and Tom Churchill, former Oklahoma star, and Joe Nash, recently a Notre Dame regular, the University of New Mexico contingent will arrive in Lubbock at 1 o'clock this afternoon, according to a wire from Business Manager Popejoy yesterday. The squad hopes to work out here this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Internationally Famous Violinist To Appear Here This Evening In Concert At High School; Proceeds For Band

Music lovers of Lubbock will have the opportunity of hearing an internationally famous violinist when Christian Thaulow plays in a concert here this evening at the new high school auditorium. He is appearing under the auspices of the Lubbock high school band, the proceeds to be used to pay the group's expenses to the Thanksgiving game in Amarillo.

The concert is scheduled to begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

This eminent native of Norway, who has been in the United States nine years, is best known in the Southwest for his connection with Morris Gest's "The Miracle" and the Friberg Passion Play. He was musical director of both of these stage productions. He is now professor of violin at Simmons University, Abilene, a position which he accepted last summer.

Began Studying at Five

Born 37 years ago in Paris of Norwegian parents, Thaulow began his musical career early. He began the study of the violin at five under the tutorship of his famous father, Fritz Thaulow, and at six gave a concert of his own in Paris. He studied in Europe under masters of France, Norway, and Russia, including the great d'Indy and Leopold Auer.

He has played concerts in every country in Europe except Turkey. Besides playing in violin concert, he directed a number of European orchestras. For several years he held a position as leader of the Royal Symphony at Oslo. His work in the United States has included solo playing with the New York Philharmonic orchestra.

Newspapers over Europe lauded him as one of the leading virtuosos of the new generation and Norwegian papers especially bemoaned his departure for this country.

Airplane Party Lands Here En Route To Oklahoma Town

An airplane party of four persons and pilot landed at Lubbock airport Wednesday, one hour and 50 minutes after taking off at El Paso. The air distance is approximately 300 miles.

Walter D. Mauk was piloting the ship, a Lockheed monoplane powered with a Wright J5 motor. Dr. D. C. Tisdal of Elk City, Okla., owns the plane. The party, arriving at 11:25 and leaving at 12:15 after lunch, was en route to Elk City. Names of the passengers were not learned at Lubbock airport.

The percentage of live stock handled by the Producers' Commission association at the Cincinnati market increased from 11 per cent in 1925 to 28 per cent in 1930.

Court Decision Given Reversal

The Amarillo court of civil appeals Wednesday reversed and remanded a 99th district court decision which upheld a provision restricting building on two lots here to residential construction. Style of the case was H. C. and L. R. Ragland vs. Dr. M. C. Overton.

Lots involved are Nos. 13 and 14 in block 99, Overton addition, plotted by Dr. Overton about 1908, and are located at Broadway and College avenue.

Deeds to the lots contain a clause restricting use of the property to residential purposes and provides that if the property is used otherwise it shall revert to the grantor. The Raglands filed a petition August 16, 1930, citing establishment and growth of Texas Technological college and asking that the restrictions on the two lots be set aside. In an instructed verdict, a district court jury decided last April 27 in favor of the defendant.

All of that part of Overton addition on Broadway between College avenue and Avenue Q was deeded under the same restriction as that on the two lots involved in the controversy, Dr. Overton said.

Verdict For Defendant Is Granted In Civil Hearing

A verdict for the defendant was rendered by a jury in 99th district court Wednesday in the case of Orr vs. Kessel.

The case was decided on a special issue, as to whether A. Kessel entered into a contract with G. H. Orr that he would put into a corporation $3,500 in cash or merchandise over and above certain property to constitute the capital stock of the corporation of the ready-to-wear store. The jury held that Kessel did not make such a contract.

Trial of the Cicero-Smith Lumber company suit against Pearl Davis was started Wednesday in 99th court and a jury impaneled. Testimony is to begin Thursday before Judge Clark M. Mullican.

Brothers United After 31 Years

For the first time in 31 years, G. W. Gaddy of Fort Worth recently saw his frother, W. D. Gaddy, 1708 Avenue E. The two men now are exchanging boyhood reminiscences.

Only last May the Fort Worth man learned that his brother was living. G. G. Gaddy had written letter after letter to his brother, only to have them returned. Twice in that period he read of men with identical names dying.

"I thought that he had moved to this section of the country," he said Wednesday," and last May when I was visiting in Austin I met my brother's son and learned his father was here."

ON GREENS

If your salad is made of greens or light vegetables, select a dressing that will let the flavors of the salad assert themselves. Bachelor Club Dressing would be an excellent choice.

To make Bachelor Club Dressing: Beat together twelve tablespoonfuls of Wesson Oil, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful each of dry mustard and paprika. Then stir in two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped onions.

ON FRUITS

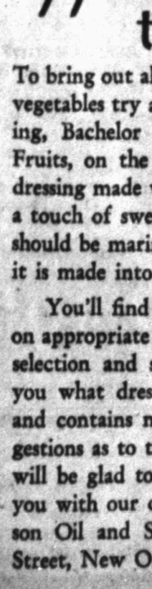

Fruits, on the other hand, don't go very well with a tart, sharp dressing. They respond best to a dressing to which a little cheese or some nuts have been added. Or one that is slightly sweetened . . . like Bar-le-Duc Dressing.

To make Bar-le-Duc Dressing: Beat together six tablespoonfuls of Wesson Oil, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoon of paprika and one-eighth teaspoon of white pepper. Into this mix six tablespoonfuls of red Bar-le-Duc or currant jelly.

ON SEAFOOD

If your salad is going to be something hearty and substantial, made with seafood, serve it with Lemonaise (mayonnaise made with lemon juice). The flavor of the salad will be improved however, if first you marinate the ingredients.

To marinate: Mix twelve tablespoonfuls of Wesson Oil and three tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Add one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoon of pepper. Pour over seafood and set aside in the refrigerator for several hours. Serve with Lemonaise.

Cheese goes with Celery but.. not with fish

Some things go together and some do not. We make salads out of so many different things no one dressing can suit all of them. There is a right kind of dressing for each different kind of salad. Don't smother all their delicious individualities of flavor under a blanket of heavy dressing like mayonnaise.

mix a dressing appropriate to the salad

To bring out all the flavor of greens and simple vegetables try a tart dressing like French dressing, Bachelor Club or Vinaigrette Dressing. Fruits, on the other hand, respond best to a dressing made with cheese . . . or one to which a touch of sweetness has been added. Seafood should be marinated in French Dressing before it is made into the salad.

You'll find Mary B. Murray's new booklet on appropriate salad service very helpful in the selection and service of your salads. It tells you what dressings go best with what salads and contains many interesting hints and suggestions as to the proper service of salads. We will be glad to send Miss Murray's booklet to you with our compliments. Address the Wesson Oil and Snowdrift People, 210 Baronne Street, New Orleans, La.

Let The People Be Heard

YESTERDAY'S news dispatches brought the word—be it welcome or unwelcome—that both dry and wet organizations are girding for battle. Whether they like it or not, even the most optimistic—or is it pessimistic?—must admit that before many more moons have waned we'll be again deluged with all sorts of information and misinformation concerning prohibition and whether it is good, or bad, and why.

Regardless of the individual views on prohibition, temperance and the topic of intoxicating liquors in general, we must admit, wet and dry alike, that prohibition is a public question. Further than that—unless we are deaf, dumb and blind hermits, we must admit it is a political question. Burying one's head into the sand after the declaration that "prohibition is settled; it isn't a political question" doesn't change the complexion of things at all.

Unless one is so stubborn that one refuses to listen to or see what is going on about him, one must realize that the American people, sooner or later, must settle once and for all the question of booze control and temperance. Until it is settled the hullaballo will continue unabated, with two very large groups of citizens calling each other all kinds of odious names.

No matter where one goes, one hears prohibition discussed.

The conversation may first run on the depression. It may take in Amos 'n Andy, the Lubbock-Amarillo football game, the Manchurian situation and the latest national scandal. But sooner or later—and it's generally sooner—prohibition bobs up. It's as sure as death and taxes. The Red menace pales before the problem of "to drink or not to drink" and the success or failure of the 18th amendment.

We can't agree with Alfalfa Bill Murray, who says the present situation is perfect because the drys have prohibition and the wets have all they want to drink. We believe too much time is being wasted arguing about the law in Congress and everywhere else; that too much money is being spent in an effort to enforce it when enforcement officers themselves do not know whether their bosses, the people, really want it enforced or not.

Being Democratic and, we hope, practical, we say let's hear from John Public once and for all, in a nation-wide amendment. Let majority rule. Let the people decide the people's own question—and then let's go about our business unhampered by argument from either wets or drys.

SATISFACTORY ALL AROUND

By the time January 1st, 1932, rolls around the Mexican population of southwestern United States will have decreased by 70,000 during the last six months of the current year.

That is good news for both southwestern United States and for Mexico. It means that the unemployment problem in this part of our country will be of less import. It also means that Mexico will gain back some of its population losses in the form of citizens who, after having seen how people live in this country, will be in a position to spread the gospel of better living to their untraveled friends in the old country.

Incidentally, many of those 70,000 returning Mexicans have been working in West Texas. Their leaving West Texas will open up some jobs for native citizens of this country.

Nobody stands to lose in this retreat. Both Mexico and United States should be satisfied.

THE PLIGHT OF MR. CURTIS

Republican leaders who have no doubt about the future of their jobs are whistling in the graveyard. To all outward appearance certain that the Hoover administration will receive an o.k. by the voters in the next general elections. But while Senator Moses and the rest of the Pollyanna brigade are putting on the bluff, consider the sad plight of Vice-President Charles Curtis.

Mr. Curtis is, to use popular language, "in a tough spot." If he offers for his old post as Senator from Kansas he can, in all probabilities, be easily elected. But, on the other hand, if he stays with the administration's wallowing ship and continues to ride President Hoover as a Vice-Presidential candidate, he may find himself on the outside looking in after the ballots are counted.

Mr. Curtis has recently been at home in Kansas, looking over the lay of the land. What he discovered, and what he is going to do still remains in doubt, however, and he has promised that he'll make a statement about December 1st.

Mr. Curtis is worried—and we don't blame him.

Practical Health Problems

PHYSICAL DEFECTS OF CHILD

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

WE take it for granted that children able to go to school are, in general, healthful and sound. Investigations made by the United States Public Health service over a period of 10 years, in almost a dozen communities, indicate that perfection is practically never seen, and that most school children suffer from preventable and curable defects.

The most common defect among school children throughout the United States is the presence of one or more decayed teeth. Nearly two-thirds of all of the children examined had one or more teeth that showed active decay.

Nearly one-third of all of the children were unable to read the normal line of vision on the eye-sight chart, although most of them were able to read the next line, which is an indication that the defect is minor in character.

MORE than 30 per cent of the children had defective tonsils, which means either that they were enlarged or infected. One-fourth of the children were reported as having enlarged glands in the neck. Ten per cent were reported as having enlarged thyroid gland or simple goiter; about six per cent had adenoids, and about 10 per cent breathed through the mouth instead of through the nose.

More than one per cent of school children have defective color sense. The prevalence of inability to judge colors is about eight times as frequent among boys as among girls.

Hookworm infestation is a frequent observation in children in southern schools; malaria was also fairly frequent.

Hardness of hearing affects a tremendous number of young children. There are also such disturbances as cross-eye and similar ophthalmic disorders. The child in school has a difficult time keeping the least of its work. It has every right to the help that modern medicine can give it to make its opportunity equal to that of other children.

For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins.—Hebrews, v, 1.

Washington Rumors Heard

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Japan so manifestly is the aggressor power in Manchuria that American public sympathy (judging from press comment and the utterances of recently-arrived members of congress, who presumably reflect sentiment throughout the country) evidently favors the Chinese in their clash with the invading islanders on the mainland north of the Great Wall.

CHAS P STEWART

At the outbreak of the Chino-Japanese war in 1894 feeling on this side of the Pacific was just the other way.

Of the affair's merits Americans knew, indeed, nothing whatever.

The thing that did attract their attention was the spectacle of a nation with approximately 40,000,000 population (at that time) boldly tackling 400,000,000. Naturally their hearts went out to the supposedly gallant minority.

THE FIRST actual engagement, to be sure, disclosed that, in point of fighting strength, the well-drilled, well-armed (for the 1890's) Japanese outclassed the practically unorganized, medievally-equipped mainlanders as a pack of wolves outclasses a flock of sheep—of no matter how many times the wolf pack's number.

Then of course it immediately was realized that the islanders would win in short order. When they did so, it was not regarded that they had given a particularly convincing demonstration of their prowess, since it was apparent that they had had no competition worth mentioning.

Their victory over Russia in the war of 1904-'05 was entirely a different matter. Military men everywhere recognized it as a brilliant performance, and it generally was conceded that Japan had emerged from the struggle as a world factor with which to be reckoned.

WHETHER rightly or not, there is no question that occidental diplomacy views Nippon as having suffered from a superiority complex from that day to the present—a dangerous cockiness; a profound confidence in Japanese ability to dominate eastern Asia (and maybe still more of Asia later) and a determination to do it, with other countries' acquiescence if they choose to acquiesce, but to do it anyway.

That this estimate of the Tokio government's attitude is the one which prevails in League of Nations circles has been made clear by reams of dispatches from Geneva during the strained situation of the last few weeks in Manchuria.

It is equally plain that the same idea is the popular one here.

It is not so certain that it is the Washington administration's idea.

AT ANY RATE, all accounts agree that the Japanese continue to go straight ahead with their Manchurian program, the Chinese putting up the best resistance they can, but to no more effect than in the 1890's.

The League of Nations, having protested vehemently but vainly, turns imploringly to Washington, to add America's voice to the protest.

The state department, however, seems to have nothing to say on the subject. It is true, the United States is not a member of the League of Nations, but it was the prime inspiration of the Kellogg pact, which unmistakably was designed to cover precisely such cases as the existing one in Manchuria. Secretary of State Stimson himself so interpreted it a couple of years ago, when friction developed between the Chinese and Russia, and athough Moscow snubbed him when he tried to intervene, nevertheless, he did try. Now he simply confers amiably with Japanese Ambassador Debuchi and the Kellogg pact is hardly even referred to.

IF ONE SEEKS a reason for Washington's Manchurian policy, one must rely on pure rumor, for no official version is obtainable.

Rumor, for whatever it may be worth, has it that President Hoover, who has lived in China and knows conditions there from personal observations, thinks Japan has a fairly good excuse for its Manchurian activities.

Until the Japanese began to exploit it, starting about 25 years ago, Manchuria, he is said to be well aware, was a bandit-ridden, thoroughly uncivilized region; today it is one of the most progressive areas in the Far East. Mr. Hoover is understood to deem the Japanese entitled to credit for this, and as he sees it (quoting rumor) they are entitled to protect their Manchurian investments and improvements.

If so, Washington's unwillingness to hamper the islanders' campaign, which so seriously disturbs the League of Nations, is accounted for—but rumor, it cannot be over-emphasized, is the explanation's sole foundation.

RUSSIAN armed interference with Japan's plans, in the judgment of competent American military experts, is not much to be feared.

Army men say that Moscow could not now put, relatively, as formidable a body of troops in the eastern Asiatic field as the force under General Kuropatkin, which the Japanese defeated in 1905; whereas the Japanese comparatively are far stronger. While it is conceded at the war department that the Soviet government may threaten, the prediction is made that threats are all it will employ until vastly better able to fight than at present.

The military forecast is that Japan simply will get Manchuria.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE WASHINGTON NAVY YARD IS NOT A NAVY YARD:

The Washington Navy Yard, situated on the right bank of the Anacostia River, ceased to be a Navy Yard proper in 1886, when Secretary of the Navy Whitney, by order dated August 14, converted it into a Naval Gun Factory. The order was predicted upon the increasing shallowness of the Eastern Branch of the Potomac, which made the "yard" more and more inaccessible to ships.

At present the Washington Navy Yard is a manufactory of guns, naval armament, optical instruments, etc., and the title of its commander is "Commandant and Superintendent of the Naval Gun Factory."

TOMORROW: "A One-Legged Golfer Who Shoots a 74."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Rich old MRS. JUPITER is robbed and murdered during an engagement party she is giving for her secretary, MARY HARKNESS. Marys' scrapegrace brother, EDDIE, is supposed to have been in the house at the murder hour.

DIRK RUYTHER, blue-blooded young lawyer, Mary's fiance, advises her to keep silent about having arranged to meet Eddie, secretly, until he can locate the boy. Eddie has disappeared.

Mary prevents a maid, BESSIE, from telling BOWEN, police reporter for the Star, about Eddie's supposed visit. Dirk telephones that he has found Eddie and will take her to see him that afternoon.

Dirk oversleeps and Bowen drives Mary to the rendezvous. Eddie is run down by a car as he crosses the street to meet Mary. Delirious, in the hospital, he mumbles about a fly. He dies.

Weeks of police investigation come to nothing, and finally INSPECTOR KANE tells Mary the case is closed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

Cold fury such as she had never dreamed she could feel possessed Mary at Inspector Kane's indifferent words. Within a few hours of each other, someone's hand had struck down the two people she loved best on earth, except her sweetheart, Dirk. She had thought of the wheels of justice as grinding slowly but surely toward the capture of that man. While he lived, how could anyone with a drop of pity in his heart, rest content?

"Everything that could be done has been done," Kane said. "If the jewels ever turn up—or if we find the car, we'll have positive evidence. Nothing to do but wait."

Mary suffered a feeling of vast disillusionment concerning the processes of justice and that great institution known as "the Police." She had believed in "the law" as she had believed in God, and in Inspector Kane as its prophet. And here he was, helpless, like any other mortal.

She did not realize it, but in that moment was born the great scheme that was later to take possession of her. The idea of seeking personal vengeance on her brother's killer, who, she was sure, was Mrs. Jupiter's murderer, too, came later in all its details. But the genesis of it was right there, in the chilling discovery that in deep extremity the only one to be depended upon is one's self.

Perhaps Kane felt her criticism, for his affability gave way to grievance.

"Police work is not so simple as some people think, Miss Harkness," he told her. "It's hard enough at best, and when people put stumbling blocks in our way—well— If you'd been frank with us about your brother coming to the house that night, we could have had the story out of him at once—and the case settled. It's too late now. We can do nothing but let the matter drop."

Slowly the implication of his words came home to the girl.

"What do you mean by that?" she asked, "you mean you think Eddie came in—and killed—"

"I meant only what is self-evident from the facts in the case," he said. He made a restless movement of dismissal. "I don't think we'll get anywhere threshing this out any further, Miss Harkness. You come in and see me again any time you like. If I have anything to report, I'll be glad to tell you."

Mary said, "Tell me what you meant!" impiacably.

"Well, what do you think?" he burst out. "What are the facts?" He held up two massive fingers and ticked them off, one at a time. "Your brother had opportunity, and he had motive. What does it matter that he never did such a thing before in his life? How do you know he didn't? What do you know about him, anyway?" Before she could answer, he added with an air of wisdom, "Nobody on earth knows less about a man than his sister. Unless it's his mother, maybe."

"You think that Eddie killed Mrs. Jupiter?" Mary was shivering uncontrollably. She sat stiffly, fighting for self-control, cold fingers gripping tightly the gloves lying in her lap.

If she cried she would make a fool of herself, and this man and his stupidity must be fought with other weapons than that. While she struggled to stop the tears that squeezed out and ran wetly down the sides of her nose, Kane went on "making his case."

"Eddie had to get his hands on $15,000 and do it in a hurry. We know that much. I had those boys in, those roommates of his. One's an elevator boy in an office building. He was the one got your brother in the way of following the races. He used to place bets for 'clients' in the building. Eddie made a little pile and was feeling rich, so he went down to the tracks and started playing the sport. He met some 'big shots', and the boys didn't see quite so much of him for awhile. But it wasn't long before he was back. He'd got hold of the long end of a 15-to-1 shot, and couldn't pay off.

"It must have suprised him some when the chap, whoever he was, demanded his money. That's the trouble with a kid that plays for big stakes. When he loses, he's like a woman—he wants to wiggle out of it. Every man hates a welsher. Eddie knew that, and he knew more than that—if he didn't come through quick, he was due for a good beating-up, at least. They've got funny ideas around the race-tracks about taking bigger odds than you can afford to lose.

"Evidently the chap Eddie picked up with was a hard cookie. Maybe he needed the money in a hurry to meet obligations of his own. Maybe he was just sore and wanted to give the kid a lesson. Anyway, he put it up to the kid to come through, or—

"In desperation, Eddie went to your employer and asked for a loan. Jupiter don't like kids much, does he? I guess he's had his hands full with that wild one of his own. Anyhow he offered him a job at $35 a week learning the automobile business. You can figure out yourself how long it'd take Eddie to pay off at that rate, even providing the guy would wait.

"Why didn't he come to you for it? Well, he knew you didn't have it. And he had some idea you'd bawl him out, I expect. Jupiter tells me the kid made him swear not to tell you he'd even asked.

"There was nothing left but to take it off people that had it and wouldn't miss it—the guests at your party. He made it all right with you to let him in, came and went in the other fellow's car. Only it wasn't in the cards that he was to shoot. That was pure funk.

"The old girl was no set-up though—she yelled. And that was her big mistake. If she'd kept still and forked over, she'd be alive today. He knew he had to silence her or have it all come out and spoil your party, not to mention your life. So he shot her."

Mary listened with fascinated attention as the links fell into place, forming a chain of probability so plausible that for the moment she was benumbed into seeing the thing through his eyes.

"He may not have meant to kill her, I don't know," Kane continued. "The gun went off right in my hand.' God, I've heard 'em say it a thousand times! But he plugged her just the same, even if it was just a nervous twitch of the finger. Instinct of self-preservation, they call it. I call it funk."

"If," said Mary, "all this should be true, why don't you arrest the other man—this 'hard cookie' you speak of? Eddie was just a boy. Nineteen. He didn't know his way around, and that man did. He's to blame, as much as Eddie—more so. Why don't you arrest him?"

"I'm willing," Kane said, sardonically. "Why don't you tell me where he is?"

Mary perceived that this was humor, but she was not amused.

"Surely, the car—"

"There's a hundred Lorimors like that in this part of the country, most of 'em parked in garages you have to have an engraved, gold-edged invitation to get into. My theory is the man's a society blood. I wouldn't be surprised if that Lorimor was parked in some Park Avenue garage right this minute, and the man that owns it dining at the Ritz."

"It was a Lorimor that brought —whoever came to rob the house that night, too. Doesn't that look as if the murderer wanted Eddie killed?"

"Yeah, I know. We thought of that. But it don't tie up. Look here. If anybody was trying to kill your brother to keep his mouth shut would he take a chance on knocking him down with a car? It would have taken perfect timing to be at that particular spot at that particular time. No, the kid was rattled and got hit, that's all. It's them big cars that shoot through like that—some Wall Street guy tryin' to make time up a side-street, beating the lights at a corner where there was no cop. Might a been a Rolls or a Mercedes—any of them big cars. It happened to be a Lorimor, that was all. There was a uniformed driver, like they all have. Pure coincidence, Miss Harkness."

It had looked so damningly clear to her before—the cars being the same, that deadly swerve, just as Eddie was crossing the street to speak to her, to tell her the whole story. Now it seemed a dim, impractical theory. And she could never prove it, now. Eddie's lips were sealed. Only one man knew—the man in the Lorimore car.

She would find that man and make him talk. She would get from him the true story, somehow. If no one else would do it, she would do it herself. The absurdity of this fierce resolve did not occur to her. She was too grimly serious.

Oh, if only Eddie were here—Her eyes filled with tears.

"Oh, if only I'd gotten there sooner! It always seems to be my fault. My carelessness. I'm to blame for it all!"

Kane chose her moment of weakness to grow pompous.

"Not that Miss Harkness, but you certainly might have been franker with us than you were." That was a sore spot with him, apparently, and would remain so.

"Oh, please! I've explained that so many times!"

"I know. That boy friend of yours told you to keep still. He'll get too big for his boots some day. Withholding evidence. You know, I suppose, he went to the district attorney and asked him not to make a special investigation. The family was satisfied, he said, to let the matter drop."

"Dirk did that? Why, he wouldn't do such a thing!"

"Wouldn't he? He and his father represent Jupiter, you know. And Jupiter wants the whole inquiry quashed. Told me not to go any farther with it, and refused any further help."

Mary gasped. "Why, I heard him say he'd never be satisfied until he found the man who killed his wife!"

"Maybe he thinks as I do," Inspector Kane said.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 18. (AP) — The cotton market was moderately active in today's trading and the price trend was easier. Liverpool was better than due which was responsible for an opening advance of 3 to 7 points. The market soon turned easier on hedge selling and considerable long liquidation due to easier stocks and grain and a decline in silver.

Hedge selling increased as the morning advanced and near noon prices showed losses of 14 to 17 points from the opening highs and 11 to 12 points down from yesterday's close. After recovering a point or two in the early afternoon, prices turned weak again later and made new lows for the day 15 to 18 points below the early highs.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—A slight opening advance in cotton today on trade buying and covering was followed by declines under liquidation of old long accounts, combined with some local and southern selling.

Prices eased from 6.46@6.31 for January, or about 9 points net lower. January closed at 6.32 with general market closing barely steady at net declines of 8 to 12 points.

Stocks Give Up Without A Struggle And Declines Steadily To The Close

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—Stocks gave up without a struggle today, declining steadily from the opening and reaching their lows in the last hour.

Weak commodity prices, unfavorable action on some railroad dividends, the copper situation, and negative mid-week trade reports dictated the reaction, which averaged 3 points and put the market back to the level of late October.

Bonds were spongy, although rather inactive. Bar silver softened both here and in London, while wheat dropped 2 cents and more, carrying other grains with it. Cotton sagged somewhat reluctantly but could not fight the trend of other markets and closed 40 to 60 cents a bale lower.

Visiting Violinist To Play At Kiwanis Luncheon Today

Christian Thaulow, noted violinist who will appear in concert Thursday night at the high school auditorium, will play at the Kiwanis club luncheon today. Thaulow, born in Paris of Norwegian parents, has won considerable praise for his mastery of the violin.

Dr. R. E. Garlin, Texas Technological college instructor, will address the Kiwanians on education, the program being dedicated to national education week, generally observed last week. Because of the Armistice observance here, the civic clubs postponed the educational programs.

Supt. M. H. Duncan of Lubbock High school will be in charge.

Hoover And Grandi Search For Solution Of Problems

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP) — President Hoover and Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy spread the trouble map of the world before them tonight and searched together for a way to make it one of prosperous peace.

With Secretary Stimson, the two sought to define the world's difficulties in which international cooperation or Italian-American collaboration could offer a solution.

Eye Witness Testimony Is Given In Trial Of Miner

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Nov. 18. (AP)—Eye witness testimony that William Burnett, 36, coal miner, hid behind a coal car and killed Jesse Pace, a deputy sheriff in the first fatal clash in the Harlan coal fields April 17, was offered at his trial here today.

The defense indicated that when its time for testimony comes it will seek to prove the deputies started the fight and cross-examined commonwealth's witnesses in an attempt to make them say so.

Contracts For Construction Of Bridges Will Be Awarded

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—The estimated total of work to be placed under contract by the state highway commission at its meeting November 30 and December 1 was brought to slightly more than $2,500,000 today with announcement that contracts for bridge construction estimated at $508,000 would be awarded.

A road construction program estimated to cos. $2,000,000 was announced yesterday.

EXPLOSION FATAL

SHANGHAI, Nov. 18. b—An explosion in the engine room of the motorship Ito today killed four members of the crew and caused ten Chinese passengers to jump into the Yangtse river where they were drowned.

The vessel caught fire and was finally beached. The rest of 200 passengers were landed safely.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 18. (AP) — Cash grain demand moderate.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or group three points, freight paid:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard 65@66; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 66 1-2@67 1-4; 14 per cent 70 1-2@71 1-2; 15 per cent 74 1-2@75 1-2; 16 per cent 78 1-2@79 1-2.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 45@46; No. 3 white 46@47; No. 2 yellow 46@49.

Barley, No. 2 nominally 42@48.

Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 lbs 81@83; No. 2 kaffir 80@82.

Delivered group three points: oats, No. 2 red 27@28.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. (AP) — Almost a complete halt in North American wheat export business, together with a sudden drop in Liverpool quotations, gave grains an all around tumble today. In addition, a decidedly unsettling factor was a report by a leading British authority that Europe's 1931 wheat crop, not including Russia, would total 27,000,000 bushels more than last year's production. There also was increased selling pressure owing to assertions that the aggregate of United States government-sponsored holdings of wheat on Sept. 1 was 194,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed nervous, 1 3-4 to 2 3-8 cents under yesterday's finish, rye 2 1-8 to 3 down, corn 7-8 to 1 5-8 off, oats at 3-8 to 5-8 decline and provisions unchanged to 25 lower.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18. (AP)—Better grades of fed steers and yearlings were scarce around the circuit and sold at strong to 25 higher levels while the bulk of short feds held steady. Chicago secured 12.75 for 1,328 and 1,310 lb. steers. General bulk of short feds were taken at 9.35@8.00 with plain Oklahoma steers down to 4.00. Sale Is Brisk

The sale of tickets was brisk at Bowen's Hilton drug Wednesday afternoon but slackened last night when it was found that the remainder of the tickets were behind the goal line.

J. O. Smith, manager of the store who has charge of the tickets, said that an Amarillo man, who was in the store last night when informed that local fans were hesitant in buying these tickets behind the goal line, asked that he be allowed to reserve them for Amarillo fans, declaring that 'they sure did want them up there, regardless of where they were for a seat was a seat to them."

Mr. Smith, however, refused to let the tickets go, believing that they will be purchased Thursday and Friday.

Reports from Amarillo Wednesday indicated that about 5,000 fans would have to stand at the game and that probably 5,000 more would be turned away from the gate.

Early Buying For Specials Urged

Lubbock fans who plan to go to Amarillo on the special trains can do the railroad company a big favor by buying their tickets early, E. Kancher, division passenger agent, of the Santa Fe, said Wednesday. Indications are that two trains will be run to the game and the company must know the approximate number of passengers as early as possible so that equipment can be sent here to accommodate the crowd.

Sale of the tickets for the trip started Wednesday, tickets being hold at Hotel Lubbock or Hilton Drug store, the Myrick building office of the company or the depot.

100 Sold Wednesday

Mr. Kancher and E. A. Tusha, traveling passenger agent, are in charge of the sale of tickets.

More than 100 tickets were sold Wednesday afternoon, it was said. Employes of the West Texas Gas and South Plains Pipe Line companies purchasing ninety.

One of the two trains to be run is to be known as "The Westerners" in honor of the high school team while the other has been christened "The Plainsman" after the columnist of the Lubbock Daily Journal, Mr. Kancher said.

Separate Coaches Are Being Asked

Students and townspeople will make the trip to Amarillo in separate coaches Thanksgiving, if a petition presented by deans of the high school is granted. J. C. Brown is dean of men at Senior High school and Miss Nell Parmley is dean of women.

"Under the arrangements completed," said Mangelsdorf, "we will immediately place in storage and hold for spring sales all seed delivered by our members to country elevators. We will pay the grower an initial advance of 75 cents per 100 pounds f. o. b country points. In the spring the seed will be sold at best possible prices obtained and additional sales dividends paid the members on the basis of quality delivery by each member.

"The market position of this commodity is much more favorable within the past few weeks. Reports from all sections indicate a good spring demand and we confidently expect a firm and higher market at that time. All growers who are not in immediate need of cash are advised to hold their seed for the present. Buying and handling arrangements with elevators will be completed within the next few days."

Several cars of sudan grass in Lubbock county probably will be placed in the cooperative association, D. F. Eaton, county agent, said Wednesday. Two or three cars have been reported in the vicinity of Wolfforth.

Panhandle City Plans Goodwill Trip To Alaska; Lubbock And South Plains People Are Expected To Make Journey

AMARILLO, Nov. 18. (Special)—Better start making your plans now for that trip to Alaska!

Definite announcement was made yesterday by Wilbur C. Hawk that plans have been completed for a good-will trip next summer for Amarillo and Panhandle people into the land of the midnight sun.

It will be the second annual good-will tour sponsored by the News-Globe, a special train being run last summer from Amarillo to Mexico City.

Will Be Early In June

The dates will be early in June, Mr. Hawk announced. It will be a 20-day trip, with 10 days on the train and 10 days on boat with many points of interest and scenic beauty in the Northwest to be visited before taking the steamer at Vancouver, B. C., for the cruise along the Alaskan coast and return.

The most northern point will be reached about June 20 at a time when there is only four hours darkness ,the sun setting at 11 p. m., and rising at 3.

Starting at Vancouver the steamer will make stops at Powell River and Prince Rupert, B. C.; Ketchikan and Tauo Glacier, Alaska, before reaching Juneau, the capital. From Juneau the party will proceed to Skagway, and then by railroad to Lake Bennett, Sitka and the old Russian capital of Wrangel, and then by way of Seward on the return to Juneau. The steamer will return to Vancouver where the special train will return to Amarillo over a different route.

The definite itinerary hasn't been worked out yet, Mr. Hawk said, but the route will be through Denver, Billings, Spokane, Portland, Seattle and Lake Louise and Banff, Canada, and the other will include cities of the Middlewest such as Minneapolis, St. Paul and Kansas City. Interesting side-trips are planned at all principal stops.

The trip is being planned on the basis of all expenses paid for the entire 20 days, and it will be at an unusually attractive fare, Mr. Hawk declared. The co-operation of railroads and steamship companies has been tendered on a liberal scale, he said, toward making it an outstanding trip at a moderate cost.

Mr. Hawk expects from 150 to 200 Amarillo and Panhandle people to make the trip. In addition to special trains for the inland trip; a special steamship will be chartered for the 10-day cruise through Alaskan waters.

At least a score of Lubbock and South Plains people are expected to make the trip, Mr. Hawk said.

Milder because they're fresh

CAMELS are never parched or toasted!

FOLKS who smoke really fresh cigarettes made from choice sun-ripened tobaccos never have to give a thought to their throats.

That's because such fresh cigarettes retain natural moisture—and are gratefully smooth, cool, throat-friendly, mild.

Camels are the fresh cigarette—everyone knows that now—they're blended from the finest Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that money and skill can buy.

We would never dream of parching or toasting these choice sun-ripened tobaccos—that would only drive off or destroy the natural moisture that makes Camels fresh in nature's own mild way.

The Camel Humidor Pack protects a fine cigarette fresh with natural moisture—it could do little or nothing to freshen a cigarette that is dried-out or factory-stale.

If you smoke for pleasure, see for yourself what freshness means in mildness and flavor—switch to Camels for just one day—then leave them, if you can!
