FATHER BUSCH HONORED - Father John Busch, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Colorado City and St. Joseph's mission in Loraine, holds the plaque he was presented Monday night in honor of his 50th year of priesthood. Participating in the ceremonies were, from left, Mayor Pro-Tem Bob Reily, Loraine Mayor Catarino Martinez, Frank Costabile, Bishop Joseph Pfeifer, Jesse Munoz, Luis Davila and Mayor Jim Baum.

St. Ann's pastor honored on 50th anniversary of his ordination

Father John Busch, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church for the past 15 years, was honored Monday as he begins his 50th year in the priesthood.

Following a special mass with Bishop Joseph Pfeifer, a dinner was held in the parish hall with Frank Costabile of the church council acting as emcee.

"The man we honor, honors us, by the example of his years of ministry and his dedication to his church and its people," said Costabile.

Costabile gave a history of Busch's life, noting that he was born in Artesia, N.M. and came to Texas at "the age of reason" when he was about six years old.

Busch entered St. Anthony's Minor Seminary in San Antonio on Sept. 2, 1929 and was ordained to the priesthood on June 2, 1940. He came to St. Ann's on Dec. 9, 1974.

Costabile said Busch related to

- Frank Costabile

him that he was ordained by Bishop Maurice J. Zarate of Huehuetla in Our Lady of the Lake Chapel in San Antonio along with seven other priests. "Three have died, four are retired and 'one is still hanging in there'," he said.

"During a newspaper interview, Father Busch stated that a goal of his would be to help church members get an educational building," said Costabile.

"He succeeded. Construction began on the center in 1979 and was decided on June 2nd of that same year. In December, 1981, the parking lots were paved. A few years later, a new hall was under construction, completed dedicated." "The building continues and soon we will have a nice storage building behind the hall to complement the rest of the church grounds," said Costabile. "I think that all can appreciate, in addition to the construction of new buildings, the amount of work that Father Busch has spent on the flowers, trees and grass."

Busch also is pastor of St. Joseph's in Loraine. Within less than two years after Busch's arrival, construction began on a new hall and C.C.D. at St. Joseph's and was dedicated Oct. 3, 1976.

Costabile noted that since

Busch has been here, 632 people have received first communion.

"The years have been very rewarding for Father Busch, but also tough," said Costabile, explaining that Busch has been hospitalized 10 times and six of those times he had to be temporarily replaced by other priests.

Before coming to Mitchell County, Busch pastored churches in Austin, Houston, Port Lavaca, Eagle Pass, McAllen and San Antonio.

Busch noted that when he came to Mitchell County, it was the first time since ordination that he did not have another priest stationed with him.

Mayor Jim Baum and Mayor Pro-Tem Reily presented Busch with a key to the city of Colorado City and Jesse Munoz of St. Ann's church council and Luis Davila of St. Joseph's church council also made remarks and presented gifts.

The second play which will be done this summer will be announced at a later date.

"It will be a pleasure to see the Operahouse come to life once again," said Moore.

Smoke debate may be over

The debate on environmental tobacco smoke may be near an end, says Dr. David A. Weeks of Boise, Idaho. According to the physician, who serves as a consultant on indoor air quality, the issue will not even be discussed five years from now.

Weeks' comments come as a result of the findings of an international symposium on environmental tobacco smoke he attended last fall in Montreal. More than 80 researchers from 20 countries were present, and their conclusions stated that "the published data does not support the notion that environmental tobacco smoke is a health hazard."

Further, Weeks believes that most efforts toward researching and regulating environmental tobacco smoke are misguided. "Right now, we're spending far too much time, energy and effort on an issue that is social, not health-related," he told the Richmond (Va.) News Leader.

PROJECT CELEBRATION - Jack Stain leads a group of high school students in a game at Project Celebration, the drug-free and alcohol-free graduation party held last Thursday night. Organizers of the annual event had a variety of games and plenty of food for the students to enjoy through the night.

San Antonio: A fiesta of cities

You're on a riverboat floating lazily on a ribbon of jade beneath arched bridges of a centuries-old city. Along the shore are cobblestone walkways, sidewalk cafes and boutiques. Where are you? Venice?

Standing in an open air market, you're surrounded by a kaleidoscope of bright clothing, crafts and fresh produce. You're bargaining for that exquisite piece of Mexican pottery. Is this market day in Guadalajara?

No. You're in San Antonio, the city that American humorist Will Rogers called "one of America's four unique cities." With its River Walk, Spanish missions, marketplaces and fiestas, historic neighborhoods, expansive theme parks, wonderful zoo, tropical gardens, museums, art galleries and shopping palaces, San Antonio is a fiesta of unique cities.

According to the 1990 Auto Visitor Survey conducted by the Travel and Information Division of the Texas State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, San Antonio is the top travel destination in Texas. For more than the past decade, the city's leaders have actively courted the vacation and business traveler's dollar.

In 1988 and 1989 alone, seven new attractions debuted in San Antonio: Sea World of Texas, an IMAX Theater, Rivercenter Mall, Ripley's Believe It or Not, the Lucile Halsell Conservatory, the redone Majestic Theater and Memory Lane Museum of Dolls and Toys. Planned for a 1990 opening is an Opryland-owned theme park, "Fiesta Texas."

Sea World of Texas is the world's largest marine life park, a showplace for family entertainment and educational fun. The 250-acre park hosted approximately three million visitors in its first complete year of operation, 1989.

Sea World's top billing goes to the gravity-defying Shamu and fellow killer whales at the 4,500-seat Shamu Stadium. In 1989, the audience witnessed the thrilling and needless to say show-stopping birth of Baby Shamu, who now shares the limelight with mother and friends.

No less entertaining are the antics of dolphins, walrus, sea lions and otters in other watery performances. A 12-acre lake is the setting for precision acrobatic waterski shows, and there's more: penguins in a polar habitat, a 400,000-gallon aquarium stocked with sharks, a marine mammal touching and feeding pool, ice skating rink and the Texas Walk with life-sized sculptures of notable Texans.

Speaking of famous Texans, larger-than-life heroes appear in "Alamo...The Price of Freedom," a 45-minute, sabre-rattling film of the 13-day siege that sparked the Texas Revolution. The cinematic reenactment plays daily at the 21,000-square-foot IMAX Theater, with a six-story-high, 84-foot wide screen that makes film images ten times larger than on conventional screens.

Right next door is the Texas shrine, the Alamo, one of San Antonio's famous missions. The Alamo houses relics from the days of Davy Crockett, Jim Bowie, William B. Travis and the others who died fighting the mighty army of Santa Anna. Visitors here often stay for hours, as there is much to read, see and reflect upon.

Ready for some levity? Also downtown are the mystifying exhibits of Ripley's Believe It or Not, where one finds oddities such as the stuffed remains of the first monkey in space, a pair of fleas dressed as a bride and groom, and a film of a man who could rotate his head 180 degrees. The 12,000-square-foot Ripley's offers eight galleries of curiosities from 198 countries, gathered over the last 30 years by Robert Ripley.

Unique wonders of the plant world appear at the Lucile Halsell Conservatory, a 90,000-square-foot complex of five greenhouses filled with exotic flora. Part of the lush, 33-acre San Antonio Botanical Center, the greenhouses exhibit desert plants, hot tropical plants, ferns, palms and seasonal displays.

No matter where you visit, you'll always return to the semi-tropical River Walk, with its winding San Antonio river, barge rides, mariachi bands, outdoor cafes, nightclubs, quaint boutiques and historic hotels. For the ultimate in River Walk shopping, Rivercenter Mall is a ten-acre monument to contemporary development. River Center features 135 stores, specialty shops and fine restaurants, and is anchored by a 1,000-room, 42-story Marriott Hotel.

The many cultures of San Antonio come alive at The Institute of Texan Cultures at HemisFair Plaza near downtown. Twenty-six ethnic and cultural groups are represented in exhibits that all but resurrect the people who created today's Texas. Each August, the institute hosts a not-to-be missed Folk Life Festival.

As for San Antonio's Spanish culture, it is everywhere, in the smiles and bright eyes of more than half of the city's residents, in El Mercado (The Marketplace) at Market Square and especially at La Villita (The Little Village) beside the river downtown. La Villita captures the charm of the past amid narrow streets, shaded patios and authentic adobe houses.

July 4thFest activities scheduled

July 4thFest activities are being planned for a fun-filled day at Ruddick Park.

The chamber of commerce is planning a beach volleyball tournament, fishing tournament, Ryan Express (baseball throw), games, food and arts and crafts booths.

"Finishing the day, we will have a hamburger supper with entertainment before settling back to watch the fireworks display by the volunteer fire department," said chamber manager Etie Walker.

Call the chamber office at 728-3403 or go by 157 West Second to reserve a booth. Cost will be $10 for a single space. Electricity is limited.

To sign-up for the beach volleyball or for more information, call Susan Anderson at 728-8416.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00. A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Group seeking host families for foreign exchange students

Educational Resource Development Trust (ERDT), a non-profit organization, is looking for local families to host foreign exchange students the 1990-91 school year. ERDT is a government-designed sponsor trust and is listed in the current Council on Standard for International Educational Travel (CSIET).

Students come from many different countries, range from 15 to 18 years old, and speak English. They are covered by medical insurance and have their own spending money. Host families usually include two parents and children although single-parent families, young couples (at least 25 years old) with no children and older couples whose children have grown have all had successful hosting experiences. All a host family needs to supply is a bed, food and a loving environment.

Two students who would like to come to the U.S. are Marie-Christine Fossaluzza and Roberto Gouvea.

Marie-Christine is from France and she is 16 years old. She has a friendly personality and a great sense of humor. She enjoys horseback riding, martial arts, volleyball, basketball, drawing, painting, running and skiing. Her father is a businessman, her mother is a homemaker and she has a 22-year-old brother.

Roberto is 16 years old and he comes from Brazil. He is a good student, with an above-average proficiency in English. He plays basketball, volleyball, soccer and he enjoys water activities. He has a very close relationship with his family. His father is a businessman, his mother is a teacher and he has two sisters and one brother.

Sometimes a student is placed by the time ERDT gets an inquiry. If that happens, they try to match another student, whose interests match that of the eligible host family.

Anyone interesting in hosting a student for eight five months or 10 months is urged to Janie Upshaw, local area representative, at 728-2073 or ERDT at 1-800-321-3738.

Mammograms to be offered here

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of every 10 women in the United States will develop breast cancer, sometime during her lifetime. Every year over 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

According to a spokesman from the regional breast care center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa, "the death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have mammograms done before a problem exists." By using modern state of the art X-ray equipment, breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt. A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has a 90-97 percent survival rate. However, a woman who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50 percent survival rate in five years.

In an effort to find cancers at the earliest possible stage and prevent unnecessary deaths, a mobile breast cancer detection unit will be made available to local women on Tuesday, June 19.

The mobile unit will be parked at Mitchell County Hospital, 1543 Chestnut, Colorado City. Appointments may be made by calling 728-3431, extension 222.

For more information, call the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital at 334-8888 or 561-9999.

Charity
Do something today to bring gladness to someone whose pleasures are few,
Do something to drive off sadness-- or cause someone's dream to come true.
Find time for a neighborly greeting
And time to delight an old friend;
Remember-the years are fleeting
And life's latest day will soon end.
Do something today that tomorrow
Will prove to be really worthwhile;
Help someone to conquer sorrow
And greet the new dawn with a smile
For only through kindness and giving of service and friendship and cheer,
We learn the pure joy of living
And find heaven's happiness here.

We had a house fire last week at the old Fred Ison place as it was called for years. It did a lot of damage. It happened about 5 or 5:30 a.m.
By the time our fellows could get there it was really burning. Well you know about fires, but this is about what a life long citizen did about it.
He lives south of town and was coming in that early to make coffee for the early birds when he saw the blaze as he came up the Walker hill. He probably drove a little faster because it looked bad to him.

He didn't know anyone lived in the house until he turned the corner at Iris Preston's. He saw a car and pickup in the drive so he jumped out and ran to the door and began beating on it. Soon the father came to see what was wrong and our friend told him to get out, the house was burning. He also discovered a wife and four children were also asleep inside. Soon they were all safely out and the fire was soon under control.
Everyone was safe, scared but happy that no one was injured. All this to the clear thinking of our own Linton Ray Webb. Thanks Webb.
No, our firemen were not late, they had a very quick response time but L. R. Webb was the guy at the right place at the right time and he used his head. We could have had a Sweetwater fire with six victims instead of four had it not been for the early morning coffee.
I am not trying to make a hero out of Webb, he'll probably have my head for this but I felt we should give him credit for a bad accident that didn't happen.

Bill and Barbara Long from Savannah, Georgia are spending the week with their mothers, Irene Kidd and Annie Bell Jones.
Bill and an uncle M. L. Chandler of Snyder have put a new bright and shiny roof on Irene's house and they plan to paint it this week if the wind will quite down a bit. Our neighborhood is changing.

Mrs. Clovis Hale of Austin is here this week visiting with Irene Punk, Annie Bell and Bill and Barbara Long. Jean also visited with her mother-in-law, in Colorado City. She is Punk Hale.

Sally Compton attended the funeral for her uncle Pete Duncan in Abilene on Monday. He was buried in Roscoe. Mr. Duncan grew up in Roscoe.

Donnie, Sandy and Chris were in Buchanan on the weekend. There they visited her mother Reba Gross.

Chris Owens of Odessa visited with his grandparents recently, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rainey.
Since it was Mother's Day he let his parents come with him.
Chris' mother is the former Mary Glenda Ellington. They reported a very nice day.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Parnell of Irving spent the weekend visiting his parents, the Virgil Parnells and attended church at the First Baptist Church.
It was good to see them as it has been a while since they were here.

Inez Webb and I were in Colorado City Monday. Yeah, you guessed it, we had to have pill bottles filled. We made a day of it, ate at the DQ with a lot of other people. Saw a friend with her parents eating out. She said they were driving for her now days, but it may be the other way around. However, they looked real well and got around better than some folks I know.

At a drug store we saw Ruby Honea, Mrs. Bernie Honea. They lived over here lots of years and Bernie was connected with the gins a long time. She is the daughter of the late John Yarborough. They have lived in Colorado City a long time. It was nice to visit with her.

We also saw Grady and Elnora Mitchell eating at the DQ. I guess Elnora refused to fix lunch so they came to town.

The Donnie Phillips were in Odessa where their son Chris was in a junior golf tournament.

Sunday, June 10, will be Bro. Keith's last Sunday. If you have not heard him or seen his family I am inviting you to visit us.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Ray Robertson of Sweetwater and Mrs. Michelle Burn and children also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Williams over the weekend.

Betty Hackfeld is varnishing her kitchen cabinets and paneling this week. I am sure she would be glad for you to go help her. So all her friends be sure and go by to help her. Just kidding, if anyone can do a kitchen it will be Betty. She is Mrs. Klean No. 1.

Sharon Green's sister and her children have been visiting the Greens.

I guess you know that we have traded our Little League field for a regular baseball field. Our school plans to add high school baseball next year. Our old Little League kinda feels apart so our kids, Westbrook and Roscoe are all going to Colorado City for summer baseball.
Hope everyone can enjoy high school when it's added. We have some very good athletes in our school. They just need a place to play so maybe this is the answer.
We hope so and really believe the guys who wanted these changes are correct in doing this. After all, it is the kids we should be interested in.

Summer Safety At Home

Responsible self care by children is important to most parents. Every child at home alone needs to be able to handle minor problems. It is better to prepare the child for minor problems than to depend upon a neighbor who may not be at home. Discuss with the child situations that he or she can handle and situations which need adult emergency medical treatment.

A First Aid Kit

Prepare a first aid kit for use with minor problems and keep it in a convenient place. Assemble the kit with the child, explaining how each item is to be used. Use a box (plastic, metal or cardboard) clearly marked FIRST AID. Organize contents for quick selection and check periodically to see that supplies are maintained. Contents depend on child's age, maturity level and first aid skills.

Contents

- *Assorted sizes of bandages (for small cuts)
 - *Sterile gauze pads (for large cuts)
 - *Adhesive tape (for gauze pads)
 - *Small scissors
 - *Triangular sling
 - *(Elastic bandage (for sprains)
 - *Tweezers
 - *Medication for insect bites
 - *Peroxide or liquid soap (to clean cuts)
 - *Small clean washcloth
 - *Thermometer (to check fever)
 - *Icepack (for swelling)
- (If aspirin or any medicines are placed in kit, limit the amount to a single dose.)

Public Notice

TO ALL FORMER AND CURRENT INTRASTATE WIDE AREA TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE (WATS/800) SUBSCRIBERS:
Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has instituted a Class Action Lawsuit seeking judicial approval of a settlement reached in Docket No. 7297, an inquiry of General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission of Texas into possible overcharges which occurred between September, 1976, and February, 1987, due to rounding practices, on bills of intrastate WATS/800 customers sent by Southwestern Bell and other telephone companies which concur in Southwestern Bell's tariff. The suit is styled "Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Plaintiff, vs. MCI Telecommunications Corporation, A Member of the Class of Texas Intrastate WATS and 800 Service Customers Who Paid Overtime Charges From September 1976 Through February 1987, Defendant," and identified as Cause No. 471,460 in the 126th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas.
Pursuant to the settlement, while not admitting liability, Southwestern Bell, the other local exchange telephone companies in Texas, and AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. have agreed to pay refunds to those WATS/800 customers who paid overtime charges attributable to the rounding practices for intrastate WATS/800 services at any time between September, 1976, and February, 1987. The refunds will be based upon either the actual or estimated amount of overtime charges attributable to such rounding practices. An exact refund will be determined for customers able to produce copies of their WATS/800 service bills. For customers who do not have copies of their WATS/800 service bills to establish actual overtime charges paid, an average refund of $4.53 to $5.95 per WATS/800 service line per month will be applied. All claims will be subject to verification. The refunds will also include interest at the rate of 7.80% per annum.

Claim Forms And Additional Information

Those customers who think they may be entitled to a refund or who desire more information must call 1-800-782-3026, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, or write to WATS Refund Pool Administrator, One Bell Plaza, Room 670, P. O. Box 650376, Dallas, Texas 75265-0376, to request a WATS Refund Information Package. The WATS Refund Information Package will contain further information regarding the lawsuit and eligibility for a refund, a description of documentation required to support a customer's claim for refund, and a refund claim form to be filled out and submitted requesting a refund. REQUESTING A WATS REFUND INFORMATION PACKAGE DOES NOT OBLIGATE YOU IN ANY WAY.
All claims for a refund must be received by the Refund Pool Administrator by Friday, October 5, 1990, and all rejections of the settlement (that is, requests for exclusion from the class action lawsuit) must be received by the Court by Wednesday, September 5, 1990. Only those who respond by filing a claim or by filing a rejection of the settlement, as explained in the WATS Refund Information Package, will receive notice of future developments in this proceeding.
Persons who wish to obtain further information may also contact the Public Utility Commission, Public Information Division, at (512) 458-0257 or (512) 458-1221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Quilt exhibit scheduled at Scurry County Museum

SNYDER - Antique and contemporary quilts will be displayed in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College from June 10 through July 4.

The quilts have been grouped according to themes suggested by their designs, ranging from patriotic to family and community life. About 30 quilts will be included in the show.

Displayed with a saggan will be a watercolor by Kenneth Wyatt on loan from the Diamond M Museum collection. Saggans were made of heavy fabrics such as discarded men's coats and pants and were often carried by cowboys and others whose work required that they sleep outdoors. Wyatt's painting shows a saggan at a cowboy burial on the prairie. The painting is titled "O Lord, Were It Me".

The Scurry County Museum is open from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1-4 p.m. on Sundays. Information about the museum and the quilt exhibit can be obtained by calling the office at 573-6107.

HOME STRETCH - Colorado High School seniors march down the center of the football field last Thursday night as the 1990 commencement exercises got underway.

'90 hunting lease directory available

(AUSTIN)—"Hunting has always been a way of life for many Texans. The sale of hunting leases is helping many Texas farmers and ranchers make a living, and the publication of the 1990 edition of the 'Texas Hunter's Clearinghouse Directory' will assist a growing number of rural Texans in making use of this valuable source of extra income," Deputy State Agriculture Commissioner Mike Moeller announced here.

The 1990 directory, along with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Deer Hunting Lease Register, lists 956 available leases covering a total of 4.3 million acres in every region of Texas. The 118-page directory, which is available free of charge, is a joint project of TDA and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Interested hunters and rural landowners will receive copies of the directory upon request.

"More than 200 listings in this year's edition of the directory are new, and a large number of these listings have never been hunted on a lease basis before," Moeller said.

"The directory listings are arranged by county in alphabetical order, and the directory includes a wide range of fish and game. Hunters can find leases to hunt and fish for wild turkey, bass, catfish, javelina and whitetail deer. We've also got listings for exotic game species like axis deer and blackbuck antelope. The listings also include useful information such as the location of the nearest airports and hotels, as well as services and amenities provided on leases.

"The four-year-old clearinghouse program has become popular with hunters and rural landowners alike. More than 1.3 million Texans hold hunting licenses, and land capable of producing huntable wildlife is limited. The directory puts hunters in contact with rural landowners who need the additional income generated by hunting leases. In previous years, farmers and ranchers who leased their land through the clearinghouse program added an average of $2,200 to their income. Hunting leases generate about $146 million each year for Texas farmers and ranchers. As the demand for hunting leases increases, many rural landowners are putting more emphasis on wildlife management practices in order to satisfy this demand," Moeller said.

Farmers and ranchers with land available to lease may apply to the Texas Department of Agriculture for a free listing in the directory. Applications for inclusion in the directory are accepted throughout the year.

Peaches to be plentiful this summer

County Agriculture

NOTES

by BRYAN LIMMER
County Extension Agent-Ag

The weather certainly cooperated with Mitchell County cotton producers during planting time but the top soil moisture is limited and in need of a slow rain shower. Otherwise, the crop is progressing at a good rate.

Boll weevil trap catches increased substantially last week, but it was to be expected with the weather. The peak emergence period is almost upon us and then the catches will drop off. There is a large decrease in trap catches this year when compared to last year. Mitchell County producers should be in good shape as far as overwintered weevils go. Those places that have been considered historically weevilly will probably need more treatments. Broadleaf litter habitats such as creek bottoms and old home sites are prime overwintering habitat.

A Scout school will be conducted on June 12 and 13th by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The school will be held in San Angelo and Taylor. The school is free to attend with your cost being meals, lodging and travel to the various destinations. If you are interested in attending, you need to call Dr. Tom Fuchs at the Texas A&M Research Center in San Angelo at 915-653-4576 and reserve a space. Lodging arrangements for Tuesday night can be made by calling the Texas Village Motel in Taylor at 512-352-8565.

East Texas, which has 10,000 acres of bearing peach trees, expects to harvest "an excellent crop," according to Marty Baker of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Overton. County agents in Parker, Limestone and Freestone counties predict harvests ranging from 60 to 80 percent of a full crop.

During the 1980s, the Hill Country was plagued by winters that were either too cold or too warm to produce plentiful crops, and by spring hail storms that blemished fruit or destroyed it altogether. Overall production nose-dived and in 1987 practically disappeared, driving some growers out of business.

This year the outlook is considerably brighter. "Most all the varieties are showing a good crop," said grower Gary Marburger, who owns a pick-your-own and wholesale orchard in Fredericksburg. Marburger said Hill Country growers started picking peaches two weeks ahead of schedule. Since May 1 baskets of juicy cling peaches have lent their familiar blush to roadside stands from Stonewall to Fredericksburg and surrounding areas. Some pick-your-own orchards also welcomed peach lovers earlier than usual.

Between 30 to 40 Hill Country growers with small orchards operate from roadside stands or pick-your-own operations that draw crowds of summer visitors to the area. Peaches are also available in some supermarkets. The Gillespie County Fruit Growers Cooperative in Stonewall wholesales its top-quality peaches to San Antonio produce dealers. Manager Gilbert Eckhardt said the five-grower cooperative produces about 40 percent of the county's peaches. He estimates that 65 percent is sold in grocery stores.

The first peaches to ripen are clingstones, which have flesh that adheres to the pit. "Clings are smaller-than-average but juicy," said Texas Department of Agriculture home economist Carol Guthrie. "When they're good and ripe, their flavor is excellent." Semi-clings are picked next, followed by freestones, which separate easily from the pit. In the Hill Country freestones start to market around June 15. Hill Country fruit should be plentiful throughout July, tapering off but available in August.

In East Texas 70 to 75 percent of the crop is sold at farms, pick-your-owns, roadside stands and farmers markets. Independent grocers sell the remainder. Smith County, which ranks second in production statewide, is looking forward to a big harvest. Growers there lost 10 to 20 percent of their crop to freeze but anticipated no major damage from heavy spring rains.

Texas peaches are most abundant during June and July. Clay and Freestone counties will have ample supplies in August.

PEACH DUMPLINGS

3 C. sliced fresh or frozen peaches
2 C. water
1 C. sugar
2 T. fresh lemon juice
1 C. pancake mix
2 T. butter or margarine
1/4 C. firmly-packed brown sugar
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 C. milk

Combine peaches, water, sugar and lemon juice in a 3-quart saucepan. Bring to a boil. In separate bowl, combine pancake mix, butter, brown sugar and nutmeg. Add milk, stirring lightly. Drop batter by tablespoon into boiling peach mixture. Reduce heat, cover and cook 15 minutes without lifting cover. Serve warm with ice cream or whipped cream. Makes 4-6 servings.

Time to head for peach-picking country

(AUSTIN)—Nothing tastes better than just-picked peaches. Pick them yourself at orchards that welcome the public. Or buy them by the basket at farms and nearby roadside stands. This county-by-county list, compiled by the Texas Department of Agriculture, gives information on pick-your-own and other outlets selling farm-fresh peaches. It's a good idea to call before driving out.

Iva Helen Lee honored as outstanding college teacher

Iva Helen Lee, a computer data processing instructor at McLennan Community College in Waco, has received the Regional Faculty Member Award from the 10-state western division of Association of Community College Trustees. The official presentation of this prestigious award will be made in Santa Fe during the June 7-9 ACCT Western Regional Seminar. Lee, who has taught at MCC for 21 years, was born and reared in Colorado City. Her parents were J. Ralph and Mary Lee. Her brother is Rodney Lee, a lawyer who lives in Waco and who was speaker at the Oldtimers' Reunion in 1988. Lee has had several books published dealing with computer and data entry curricula for community and junior colleges. The regional award makes her eligible for the national William H. Mearns Faculty Member Award in October. Letters from Lee's former students extolling her dedication and teaching abilities were part of the application MCC filed on her behalf. The western district of the Association of Community College Trustees includes schools in Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota, New Mexico, Idaho, Montana and Nebraska. Known for her long-time service as a member and officer for both the Texas Junior College Teachers Association and the Association of Computer Educators in Texas, Lee also was one of a select group of faculty members invited to serve on a regional forum to work on the TASP, which went into effect the fall of 1989.
