Mrs. Knox has been instrumental in saving at least two lives of Hart's people.

Corn Growers Have Chance To Aid Research, Marketing

Corn growers in a seven-county area of the Panhandle have an opportunity for the first time this fall to participate in a checkoff program on their yellow grain which will help finance market development and research activities in connection with their product.

Carl King of Dimmitt, president of Texas Corn Growers Association says that participation in the program at this point is minimal. He blames depressed corn yields resulting from summer drought and tight economy for the apparent reluctance of growers to participate in the half-cent-per-bushel checkoff, collected at the point of delivery.

Producers voted earlier this year to launch the corn checkoff with an assessment not to exceed one half per bushel to be collected at the first point of sale. Corn growers in Castro, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Lamb, Hale, Bailey and Swisher counties approved the checkoff.

The approval came following a continuing effort by TCGA to initiate such a project to help finance activities to secure improved markets for Texas corn and to pinpoint better production practices for growers of this area.

"Farmers need to realize that commodity groups do help, and that this is what organizations like TCGA are constantly trying to do," said King.

"This checkoff money can't be used for political purposes, legislation or other activities but only for market development and research."

King pointed out that even on a shoestring budget in recent years, TCGA has accomplished some notable feats on behalf of the state's corn growers and that checkoff funds should help to strengthen the position of Texas corn growers even more in the marketplace.

"Activities such as this will help the farmer, the processor and the consumer alike," King claims.

"The TCGA is still working on aflatoxin, a mold in corn which is not common to this area at this time, and which the organization hopes to keep out of this area in order to avoid problems," said King.

"We met with Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown last year to ask that the Texas Department of Agriculture check rail cars and trucks coming in from out of state for aflatoxin and European corn borer larvae," said King.

"We achieved a crackdown on the European corn borer with the aid of TDA and very few have been found in our area since."

King said that representatives of TCGA, along with other commodity organization officials accompanied Brown on a fruitful trade mission to Mexico about four months ago which "helped set up additional corn purchases of some nine million metric tons by Mexico."

TCGA is currently working with state officials to arrange an agreement with Mexico for a trade of corn for crude oil.

"TCGA is constantly working on gasohol research, and recently had its recommendation that all state vehicles be put on alcohol fuel acknowledged by the state government. The organization is also working to have the state tax on alcohol fuel deleted and TCGA is also working to get more incentive to build bigger alcohol production plants and more of them in Texas," says King.

The Dimmitt farmer states that TCGA led the vanguard in securing an emergency clearance for the pesticide Azodrin for the summer of 1980 in a number of High Plains counties.

Quoting from a letter from officials of Shell Chemical Company, manufacturers of Azodrin, King read, "The efforts of the TCGA may have indeed saved the corn crop on the Texas High Plains."

King also quoted a letter from entomologist Olan K. Moore of Dimmitt, reporting that "without the TCGA there would not have been any clearance for Azodrin in 1980."

"A short crop this year and the high cost of production may cause a lot of second glances at the corn checkoff this year, but corn growers in the area need to realize they will benefit from it," said King.

Farmers may make arrangements with their local grain delivery points concerning the checkoff, King states.

Checkoff funds are collected at the point of delivery and turned over to TCGA for administration by a nine-member board.

Those on the board include Jay Boston and Raymond Schlabs of Hereford, Ray Joe Riley, Doug Higgins, Harold Bob Bennett, Weldon Davis, Les Watson of Lamb County, W.L. Edelman and King.

Rusty Ammons

Maintains Lead

A royal goof in compiling games for last week's Hart Beat football contest gave every contestant four points regardless of how they marked their entry. Two college and two pro games were not scheduled to be played until this week and thus could not be counted in the competition.

Two contestants missed just one game each so the Horns-Patriots game was used to determine the week's winner. Calvin Alexander was just three points off the actual score with a 12-21 prediction. He wins five dollars for the week's best guessing performance.

Bob Reed was off eight points with 12-26 and will claim second place monies - $3. Third place and $2 goes to Rusty Ammons who came nearer than three other contestants who also missed two games. He was off three points with 13-20.

Missing out on the week's winnings because of their tie breaker guesses were Everette Heller, off nine points, 6-21; Deanna Huseman, 19, 14-35 and Tim Walker, 26, 10-42.

Rusty Ammons holds a three point lead for the season with 58 correct predictions. Contestants with 48 points or more are listed elsewhere in this issue.

Don't give up is the admonition given all contestants. It is possible to gain points on leaders since they too may suffer "predictor's slump". The one who quits is the only sure loser.

Horns Battle Valiantly

Hart Longhorns entertained the number two ranked team in Class A Friday night, the Valley Patriots. The Longhorns fought hard before their homecoming exes. Even though the Patriots were big favorites, it was two fourth quarter TD's that finally pinned a tough 18 to 12 loss on the Horns.

The Horns received the opening kickoff and drove 67 yards in 20 plays for the game's first score. It was a very impressive drive against a very tough Valley defense, who had allowed just six points in the previous four games. The drive included good runs by K. Belt, I. Ponce, and L. Washington. Also, QB D. Rich connected on several passes to C. Black and Washington to maintain possession several times. Ponce drove through the right side for the score with 4:46 remaining in the first quarter. The PAT failed, leaving the score Hart 6 and Valley 0.

It was late in the second quarter before Valley could get their offense untracked. The Longhorns provided that opportunity by fumbling at their own 44 yardline. From there it only took Valley three plays to cover the necessary real estate. James McNary got loose on the second play for a 15 yard gain. On the very next play big Ray Williams plunged over left tackle for the final 11 yards and the first Patriot score of the evening. The try for two points was no good. With 2:48 left in the half, the second was all tied. This is exactly how the halftime score ended, Hart 6 and Valley 6.

Second half began with both defenses dominating play, but the offensive tempo picked up midway through the third quarter. After several exchanges, the Horns' Ponce picked off a Patriot pass and returned it seven yards to Valley's own 18 yardline. Behind good blocking the Longhorns moved down to the one yardline. On fourth and one from the one the Horns were stopped inches short of a TD. The Patriots took over after this big defensive play.

The Patriots took the ball from their own six inch and began an impressive drive of their own. Mixing the running of Williams, McNary and the passing of R. Fuston the Patriots moved 99 yards for the score. Fuston carried over from the one to put them on top 12 to 6 with only 8:39 remaining in the game.

Unable to muster any offense on their next possession, the Horns had to give the ball up. Valley took over on the Horns' 43 yardline. Four plays later, Fuston hit QE M. Dodd on a flag pattern for 28 yards and the score. The try for two points was no good. With 4:47 remaining the Patriots stretched their lead to 18-6.

Taking over on their own 33 yard line after the kickoff, the Longhorns would not say "die". Five plays into the drive Rich hit Black for a 46 yard gain. A 15 yard late hitting penalty put the ball into play on the Patriots 7 yardline. On the next play Rich threw to Black in the end zone. A Valley Patriot defender batted the ball into Washington's hands for a Longhorn score. The Horns missed the two point try. With only 2:49 remaining in the game the Longhorns had narrowed the gap to 18-12.

An unsuccessful onside kick gave the Patriots the ball at the Horns' 42 yardline. Unable to move the ball, the Patriots punted to the Longhorns. Taking over on their own 20 yardline, the Longhorns were able to make one first down. On the next series the Horns faced fourth and two from their own 35 yardline. Unable to make a first down, Valley took over and ran the clock out.

The final score read Valley 18 and Hart 12. The Longhorns should be commended for a great team effort as they never gave up.

Hart now has a record of 2-1-1, while Valley upped their season record to 5-0.

Hart will be in Olton Friday night for the Mustangs Homecoming game. Kickoff time is 8 p.m. Be there to support your "Fighting Longhorns".

VISIT SISTER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks visited Thursday with his sister Mrs. Lee Burchette in Quaker Village Nursing Home in Lubbock.

JV's Defense Shines

Hart Junior Varsity traveled to Valley High School last Thursday evening for a rematch of their earlier game in Hart. In the first meeting the Valley Junior Varsity came out on top by a score of 6-0.

This time around it was a little different. We had a tie ballgame by the count of 0-0. Hart played a very aggressive and inspired defensive ballgame, never allowing the Patriots inside the 25 yardline. The Longhorn defense was led by LB's Robert Martinez and Joey Mancias, who intercepted two Valley passes. Also playing well on defense were Roy Rodgers, Robert Gonzales, Arnie Gonzales and Dale Scott.

On offense, the Horns were able to penetrate inside Valley's 5 yardline two different times only to be denied a score both times. Hart QB Coy Myrick completed 4 of 8 passes for 81 yards. QE Chris Reyna caught 3 passes for 61 yards, and OE Tony Hoover caught 1 pass for 20 yards. FB Trevor Peterson led all Longhorn rushers.

Leaders Needed For Girl Scouts

Girl Scout Troop 326 (three groups - Brownies, Junior Scouts and Cadets) is without troop leaders or assistant leaders. Little girls six years through the sixth grade need response to this plea is they are to continue to have the fun and learning experience of scouting.

The troop has had several projects in the past and even has a small bank account for which they have worked so very hard. They request anyone who would like to be a leader or assistant leader to call 938-2145 or 938-2396.

This is the best time of year for activities and projects. Persons willing to work in the program are asked to call now.

"Your time and effort will be rewarded by the love and respect of several very special little girls."

Party Honors

Hearing Loss Is Not A Sign Of Old Age

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

True, all hearing problems are not alike . . . and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid. But audiologists report that many can. So, send for this free model now, and wear it in the privacy of your own home. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 00000, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

Card of Thanks

To Those We Love,

It has been almost five long weeks since John Darryl's accident and words fail us when we think of the thousands of ways you have shown your love and concern through these long hours. "Thank you" is so inadequate, but please know these simple words are coupled with prayers of thanksgiving as we remember you before His throne. The hours you have spent with us, the many, many phone calls, the cards, the assurance that the crops were being gathered, the special prayer services held in every congregation throughout the area, the food, the generous donations to help meet the financial needs here - all of these acts of love and generosity have touched us deeply because they testify of your love. Perhaps someday in some small way we can repay you, but oh! how we pray it will not have to be in like manner.

John's condition has not changed neurologically - he remains in a coma, and although his doctor paints a very bleak picture for us, our faith remains in the Great Physician who can do abundantly even more than we might ask. Please continue to bombard Heaven's portals with your prayers, and accept this as our thanks for your special part in the events of our lives through this ordeal.

May God richly bless each of you in a very special way, is our prayer.

Laurence and Marguerite McLain

We want to express our gratitude to everyone in the community for the loving, thoughtful way you responded to our needs in our time of sorrow. We are so very thankful for each of our many friends who spoke words of comfort, brought us food, sent cards and flowers, said prayers in our behalf and upheld us with love. Those of us who had moved away had almost forgotten what wonderful people live here in this wonderful community.
