Quail Extends Two Contracts, Names Teacher

The Quail School Board recently gave one-year extensions to the contracts of Supt. James Stavenhagen and Mrs. Isla Mae Morris, principal, then added a public school music instructor to the faculty.

* Mr. Stavenhagen is in his second year of a three year contract and the extension will take it to June 1974. Mrs. Morris extension is for one year beyond her present contract.

Mrs. Patsy Bowen was elected to set up a music program for the remainder of the year, Supt. Stavenhagen said. She lives in Clarendon, where her husband is band director, and will commute to Quail.

"We feel fortunate to have Mrs. Bowen in the school and hope to build music up to be an important facet of our educational program," said the superintendent.

Mrs. Bowen studied at Panhandle A&M College, Goodwell, Oklahoma, and West Texas State University. She was a member of band and choral groups in both high school and college.

"We are trying to get a choral program on all levels in the school, and probably later on we will expand it," said Mr. Stavenhagen.

Faculty members to form the new textbook committee were named, including Mrs. Jim Lowe, Mrs. Sue Pride, Mrs. Glen Thomas, Mrs. Dollie Mae Wilson, Billy Wilson, Mrs. Morris and John Masten.

New texts will be adopted next year for music in grades one through six; reading, one through three; art, four through eight; some English in high school and junior high; a history and general math and related math.

Hartman Asks Precinct Post

Cliff Hartman has authorized The Wellington Leader to announce his candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct 1, subject to action of the Democratic Primary. His statement follows: I would like the opportunity to serve the people of Precinct 1 and of the county as a Commissioner. I have no campaign promises, but I will work to spend the county's tax money as it was intended in order to have a business-like administration of its affairs.

As a farmer, I know the problems of our farmers and ranchers. For 17 years, I have also operated an aerial spraying service that depends on the agriculture of this area.

While I lived in Wellington, I served a term on the City Council and am familiar with governmental procedures.

I have lived in Collingsworth County all my life, except for four years as sergeant in the Air Force and six years as a civilian employee of the Air Force.

I will try to see each of you before the First Primary, and I hope you will discuss any questions you may have in mind. If I fail to see you, please take this as my personal request for your vote and support.

Group Asks First Street Paving at Austin Monday

A delegation representing the county, city and chamber of commerce will appear before the Texas Highway Department Monday, January 31, to request the hard surfacing of Wellington's First Street.

All members of the Commissioner's Court will attend, including Judge Zook Thomas, and Commissioners Orville Vaughan, Melvin Seale, Pat O'Hair and W.R. Breeding. Representing the city will be Mayor or John Coleman and Council members Glen Warrick, Bobby McAlister and Ralph Owens. Sandy Parsons, president, Deskins

Wells, past president, will attend for the Chamber of Commerce. Wives of most members of the group will attend also.

"We will ask the Texas Highway Commission to pave first street to take the traffic, and especially cotton trucks, off of 15th Street," said Judge Zook Thomas.

It is hoped that if the project is approved, the surfacing can be done at the same time that widening of Highway 83 takes place.

First Street runs east and west along the north city limits of Wellington, and its hard surfacing has long been sought by both the city and county.

As a connecting link between Highway 83 and FM Highway 1035, it will play its most important role in taking heavy traffic off 15th Street, along which are located the Wellington Elementary and High School Junior High; St. Joseph's Hospital; Wellington Clinic; Thomas Nursing Home and First Baptist Church.

Trucks hauling multi-bale loads of cotton from west and southwest of Wellington must now pass along 15th street en route to any of the three gin plants.

All livestock bound for Wellington Livestock Sales which comes in on US Highway 83 from both the north and south, State 203 and FM 338, must also travel 15th on their way to the Sales Barn.

Surfacing of First Street between US Highway 83 and FM 1035 will remove most of this traffic from 15th Street, which is also FM 338 through Wellington. It will also be an alternate route used by many other drivers during peak school hours.

Rockets to Meet Seymour, Quanah

Wellington Skyrockets and the B team have two games slated for the coming week, but the Rockettes and B team girls will not see action again until February 4.

Wellington will travel to Seymour Friday, January 28, then host the Quanah Indians Tuesday, February 1.

Speaker Slated For Prospective DAR Members

Mrs. John Glen Eckel of Amarillo will be here Friday, February 4, to meet with women who are potential members of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

This will be at Corky's Flower & Gift Shop at 7:00 p.m., with Mrs. Hubert Bowen in charge.

All who are interested are urged to attend, Mrs. Bowen said, although they may not intend to become members of the chapter at this time.

Mrs. Eckel will discuss organization of the chapter, proving eligibility for membership, and other points in which the group is interested.

The first meeting of those interested in organizing a DAR chapter was held Monday evening, January 24, with a good turnout and keen interest in the formation of a group here, Mrs. Bowen said.

District 2-AA teams are now in their second round of play. In the first go-round, Quanah gave Wellington its only conference loss, but the Rockettes in turn defeated Seymour in a game played here.

The B team boys lost to both Quanah and Seymour the first time around.

Skyrocket Ray Shrubs is the leading scorer in District 2-AA, having a total of 96 points, in four games for an average of 24 per game.

At the week end, Wellington Skyrockets were second in District 2-AA, having won three and lost one in conference play. Standing for the entire district was:

Team	Won	Lost
Childress	4	0
Wellington	3	1
Shamrock	2	2
Quanah	2	2
Seymour	1	3
Electra	0	4

In the girls bracket, the standing is: Shamrock 1 0, Wellington 1 1, Electra 0 1.

The season record for the boys is 16 won, 5 lost; for the girls, 13 won, 8 lost.

In boys games Friday night, January 21: Shamrock 66- Seymour 65, Childress 61- Quanah 40.

Rocket fans are also looking toward next year: In District 2-A, Memphis boys knocked Claude from the loop unbeaten with 76-50 win.

City Calls $350,000 Bond Election for February 19

An election to determine the issuance of $350,000 in revenue bonds to develop Wellington's municipal water system will be held Saturday, February 19. The election was called by the City Council in a special meeting Monday night, January 24.

The announcement was made by Mayor John Coleman Tuesday morning.

The proposition provides for pledging of revenue from water and sanitation department and specifically exempts any tax revenues, according to Paul Spillman, acting as city legal advisor.

Absentee voting will begin Monday, January 31 and continue through Tuesday February 15.

The plan for the water supply will include the development of the water field north of Wellington and piping water to town. It will also include the laying of 8-inch lines within certain areas of the City of Wellington in order to provide adequate water pressure throughout the city, Mayor Coleman and Mr. Spillman told The Wellington Leader. The routes of these lines will be more specifically defined for the voters before the election. These are additional lines to the present system and existing lines will not be replaced. The lines will be part of a loop that will eventually encircle the city, said Mr. Spillman. A new cut-off system is called for.

Plans also call for the continued use of the present water field east of town as an auxiliary system Mayor Coleman said.

Development of the water farm north of town near Salt Fork River will include drilling two wells, in addition to the one already drilled for test purposes.

The election must pass by a simple majority.

It will be held in the club room of Bura Handley Community Center between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. Joe Terry was named by the council as election judge and Earl Hunter assistant judge.

There will be two voting boxes, one for tax-paying voters and the other for non-taxpaying voters. The election —See #7, page 10

Veterans Claims Total $153,360

Riley Dunson, county veterans service officer, said that $153,360 was brought into the county during 1971 through new claims filed and approved through his office.

This represents a number of types of benefits to veterans or their beneficiaries, Mr. Dunson said. Some is from insurance or burial benefits. Increased payments accounted for part of this money, but there were also many claims for veterans and widows, he reported.

License Plates Go On Sale February 1

Motor vehicle license tags go on sale in the county tax office Tuesday, February 1, Mrs. Rita Owens, assessor-collector, reminded this week. Midnight April 1 is the deadline for purchasing license plates and putting them on vehicles without penalty, it was pointed out.

Two new categories are available this year. The new combination plate takes the place of the truck-trail tag formerly used, and the token trailer plate is used with the combination plate, Mrs. Owens said. The 1972 license tags have the same off-white luminescent background, but the letters and figures are green. Personalized plates are again available, and these have blue lettering.

The Various license tags and the numbers assigned to Collingsworth County, include: Passenger cars: BPX 775 through BPX 999; BPY 10 through BPY 999; and BPZ 10 through BPZ 999.

Joe Baumgardner Shows Champion at Amarillo

Thirteen-year-old Joe Baumgardner took grand champion honors Monday afternoon, January 24, on the Charolais-Herford cross he exhibited in the junior livestock division of the Amarillo Stock Show. Just a little more than a week earlier, the steer captured grand champion honors in the Collingsworth Livestock Show. In the steer sale at Amarillo, Tuesday, Joe received $2,000 for his calf, the champion's price paid by the banks of Amarillo.

The steer also was the heavy-weight crossbred winner and crossbred champion.

Eight other calves shown by Collingsworth youths placed high in competition, to give the county its best year ever at the Amarillo show, declared County Agent Don Reeves.

But this was not all.

Pride surged high during the steer sale Tuesday as a group of Wellington businesses and individuals banded together to assure that every youth who sold his calf at Amarillo got at least 45 cents, 9 cents above the base price set by the packing plants for the show calves.

Winners, in addition to the champion, included:

Black Angus, lightweight: third, Keith Davis; mediumweight, second, Jenny Ernest; heavyweight, tenth David Baumgardner and eleventh, Joe Baumgardner.

Herefords, lightweight: sixth and seventh, Joel Ross of Quail, tenth, Kathy Patterson; mediumweight, sixth and thirteenth, Bart Patterson and Kirk Patterson.

Crossbred, lightweight: tenth, Keith Davis; mediumweight, thirteenth, Jim Bob Nall; and heavyweight, the grand champion.

Youths showing these calves are members of the Collingsworth 4-H Club with Mr. Reeves as sponsor.

He praised the work of the boys and added that there were —See #3, page 10

Rockets Win Over Shamrock, Electra

Wellington Skyrockets took two conference games on their home court, defeating the Shamrock Irish 62-45 and the Electra Tigers 70-48. In the other half of the twin bills, The Rockettes lost to the Irish Lassies 49-40, but came back to defeat the Tigerettes 55-34.

The Rockets and Irish played an even game during the first half, tying the score 13-13 at the end of the first quarter and with Wellington leading by two points, 25-23 at halftime.

It was a second-half victory, with Wellington scoring 21 points in the third period and 16 in the last quarter. They made 40 per cent of their shots from the floor and 63 per cent of the free shots. Shamrock's percentage was 35 and 39 respectively.

The Rockets 6'3" Ronnie Pennon had his work cut out, playing opposite the Irish 6'8" sophomore Walter Bond, who is not only a good ball handler but is also unusually agile for his youth and size. On the other hand, Pennon hasn't been outjumped yet, Coach Don Lacy points out. He has tremendous spring in his legs that takes him up and up on the jumps. So far this season, he is averaging around 20 rebounds per game. Rocket Ray Shrubs scored

Ambulance Body Sets Meeting On Thursday

By-laws of the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service will be adopted in the regular meeting to be held Thursday, January 28, in the Chamber of Commerce office, at 7:00 p.m.

The Ambulance Service charter has been received from the Secretary of State, according to Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary, and this will be reviewed at the meeting.

Don Welch, president, will be in charge. Attending will be the officers and directors, those who have signed as volunteer drivers and attendants, and any interested citizens who would like to come.

The Ambulance Service answered 12 calls in the first 19 days of operation, Mrs. Vines said.

23 points to become high point man in the game. Other Wellington players in the double figures were Denny Carter, 18, Danny Waters, 11, and Ronnie Pennon, 10. Also playing quite a bit and doing an excellent job on defense were Bruce Oney and Jay Thomas.

Bond had 17 points as Shamrock's high point man.

The only thing that hurt the Wellington girls was the foul trouble they got into late in the game. Play was nip and tuck with Shamrock leading three points at the first quarter and four at the half. The game was tied 34-34 at the third, and then the Rockettes lost two players the costly way.

Each team made about 35 per cent of their shots from the floor, The Rockettes, however, made only 44 per cent of the free shots while Shamrock was highly accurate with 72 per cent.

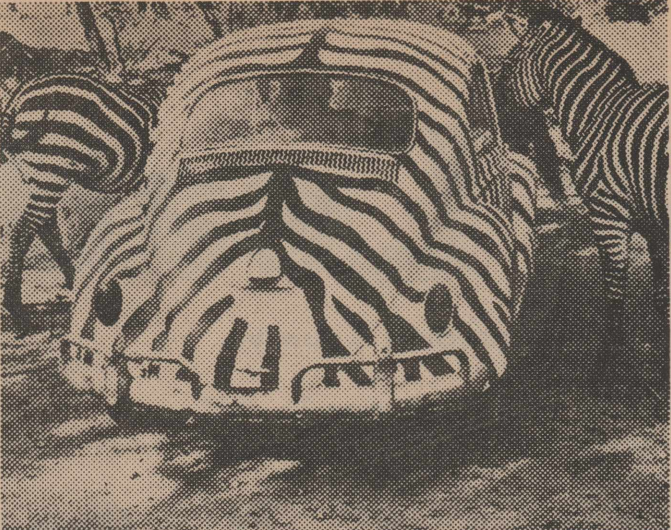

Patti McAlister scored 20 points; Phyllis Sullivan and Ed Watkins 6 each; Pam Black and Leigh Nall four each. Terry Ramsey had 32 points for Shamrock.

WELLINGTON-ELECTRA

Wellington girls had an easy victory, 55-34 over Electra, with all the girls getting to play and all forwards scoring. The guards played exceptionally good defensive ball against a much larger team and were praised by their coach for holding Electra's score to 34.

The Rockettes made 42 per cent of their shots from the field and 52 from the free-throw line. Patti McAlister had 29 points; Phyllis 10, Leigh and Ed 5 each, Pam four and Teresa Patterson two. Guards were Mary Saied, Janie Davis, Katy Sullivan, Gwen Lewis, Gwen Barber and Mary Thomas.

Wellington boys stepped ahead early in the game and added to their margin until the third quarter, when the score was 53-21. At that point Coach Don Lacy sent in all substitutes and most scored. Ray Shrubs, leading scorer all year, scored 22 points; Ronnie Pennon and Denny Carter 11 each; Danny Waters and Rozell Outley, 6 each; Jay Thomas 5, Steve Hunter four, and Barry Long three. Other players were Mike Belew and Gary Wright. Terry Durbin was high point man for Electra, scoring 9.

Birthday Party Salutes Sherman

In appreciation for Senator Max Sherman's service to the Panhandle area, a birthday party was held by the counties in the Senatorial District on January 19 in the La Casa Room of Amarillo's Holiday Inn I-40.

Co-chairmen of the bipartisan event were Troy McNeill of Dumas and Mrs. B.M. Sims. Rudie Tate was Collingsworth County chairman for the reception that hosted about 800 people from over the Panhandle and further south to Lubbock and San Angelo.

Heading the receiving line were Mrs. McNeill and Mrs. Sims, as the guests arrived to extend best wishes to Senator and Mrs. Sherman. Performing hostess duties at the gala reception were Mrs. Tate, Mrs. Edd Henard, Mrs. Ernest Nipper, and Mrs. Truett Holland. Representing the Collingsworth County delegation was Mrs.

John Coleman, County Democratic Chairman.

Included in the decorations was a Texas Flag which has flown over the Lone Star State's capitol and a 6-tiered cake of red, white and blue topped with a metallic gold miniature Texas-shape towering above the heads of the guests. On a gold easel in front of the background music was a metallic gold, white and royal blue relief map of the newly established Senatorial District. Music was by the All Included of Amarillo College and the Tascosa High School Dixieland Group.

The beverage table featured a red and white bouquet of 37 flowers, one for each of Senator Sherman's years of age. Appointments here and on the cake table were of white ironstone on floor-length cloths of red crushed vinyl dotted with large white and blue stars at random.

Cotton Harvest Moves Into Final Quarter

Clear weather over the entire area allowed cotton harvest to move into the final quarter this week, according to W.E. Cain, in charge of the USDA's Memphis, Texas Cotton Classing Office.

The Memphis office classed 15,600 samples this week to bring the season total to 102,750.

Spotted grades accounted for 43 percent and Light Spotted grades for 41 percent of samples classed. Grade 43 accounted for 25 percent and grade 42 accounted for 20 percent. Samples with bark accounted for 50 percent.

The predominant staple was 30 with 35 percent followed by staple 31 with 30 percent and staple 29 with 15 percent.

Micronaire readings showed 22 percent miked in the 3.5 to 4.9 range. The 3.3 to 3.4 range accounted for 17 percent. The 3.0 to 3.2 range accounted for 34 percent and the 2.7 to 2.9 range accounted for 22 percent.

Pressley readings showed 90 percent of the samples tested 75,000 psi or higher.

The cotton market continued active this week but demand and prices weakened up to 100 points on 3.2 and lower mikes. Prices were steady on better mikes. Prices ranged from 26.00 to 33.00 cents per pound, with most selling for 30.00 to 32.50 cents.

Singley Will Sponsor Hog Seminar Feb. 3

The Ralston Purina Company and 20 Purina Dealers in the High Plains Area are co-sponsoring a series of Hog Seminars for the purpose of bringing to the area hog producers the latest information on hog management and feeding. Two different seminars will be held in each participating dealer's market.

The first of these meetings will be held for the purpose of discussing the latest feeding and management practices for farrowing operations; while the second series of meetings, scheduled four weeks later, will cover the same type of information for the feeder who finishes hogs for market.

These seminar type meetings, each lasting two hours, are being conducted by Ralston Purina Company personnel with the help of new audio visual equipment and films prepared for the meetings.

Corot, DeKooning Studies Continue Series at Excelsior Club Dinner

"The Michael House" was the scene for Excelsior Club meeting Thursday evening, Jan. 20th, Mrs. J.F. Michael as hostess and Mrs. Henry Vaughan as co-hostess. A dinner was served to the nine members. Mrs. Lowell Wells, president, presided over short business session and the roll call brought some interesting facts about Art or Artists.

Mrs. Michael presented a study of Camille Corot, the French artist whose life spanned the nineteenth century. Corot was from a prominent family and unlike most artists of his time, he never lacked for money, and strangely, his works sold during his lifetime. He was always ready to help struggling artists. He was noted for his saintliness, in contrast to many artists of that time. He never married. He painted from sketches, using simple girls for models.

He left over 2500 paintings, and was famous for his paintings of women. His landscapes are of two styles; one sunlight, solidly constructed pictures of France and Italy; the other misty, poeticized forests. Mrs. Michael displayed a large reproduction of this latter style.

Mrs. Vaughan gave a study of William de Kooning, the American artist born in Rotterdam, the Netherlands in 1904 and who is still living. He studied in the Netherlands and in Belgium and came to the United States in 1926. His first years in this country were difficult. He worked as a house painter and a designer of theatrical sets, and in the early '30's worked under the WPA program on the Federal Arts Project.

De Kooning's first works were still life's, reflecting his traditional formal training and offering no hint whatever of the revolutionary artist he was later to become. Soon after arriving in the US he began to study the basic concepts and aims of Cubism, Dada and Surrealism and one can see this influence in his work... fragmented lines, shapes suggesting human figures. His portraits were also dominated by this view, his work became more complicated, his canvas richly variegated.

He did a series of works, called "Positive-Negative" using only black and white enamel on background of paper (this was an economic necessity) but these are considered among the most powerful and dramatic of his paintings.

But he is best known for his paintings of women. He did a series of these, named Woman I, Woman II, and etc., sometimes laboring for months over a single detail. But in the '50's his style changed. His abstractions show more open spaces and his color tones are light and airy. These paintings are called "Interior Landscapes".

Again, in the '60's he changes his style. His forms are less angular, the shapes smoother. His best known work of this time is called, "The Big Gain". It is painted on newspaper, one sees the large, sweeping form of Woman, and with witty irony he allows a juxtaposition of news items to show through the paint as part of the work... the story on Civil Rights, Violence, the Births and Deaths columns and several advertisements for fashions, bargain sales and house hold furnishings.

De Kooning's most significant contribution from a historical point of view is the prime role he played in the formulation and development of Abstract Expressionism.

Club women in attendance were: Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Miss Bonnie Willis, Miss Rose Shadid, Miss Marie Shadid, Miss Dorothy Robertson, and Mrs. Michael and Mrs. Vaughan.

Next meeting will be a guest day International Luncheon at the WSB Heritage Room on February 3.

WHO IS A PASTOR?

By Gaylord Cook

It is a surprise to many to learn that though I am supported by the church and preach on a regular basis, I am NOT A PASTOR. The term "pastor" means the same, or at least refers to the same persons as the term "elder", "presbyter" and "overseer". The qualifications for these men are to be found in I Tim. 3:1-7 and Titus 1:5-9. There is no record in Scripture of a single pastor over a church, but it is always in the plural that they are mentioned. There has been a confusion of the work of the preacher or evangelist, the deacon and the elder in the minds of many in our day. The work of each is outlined in the Bible, and we believe that a great need of our day is a careful study of the Word of God to determine the proper function of each and then a sincere effort on the part of each to fulfill his work. As a preacher of the gospel, I do not oversee or rule the church. That is the God-given work of the elders or pastors.

Deadline to Vote 30 Days Prior Election

Although voter registration is now on a year-around basis in Texas, there are several points to remember.

In order to vote in an election, the voter must be currently registered 30 days prior to the election, Mrs. Rita Owens county tax assessor-collector said.

"We want to encourage everyone to register by the last of this month, as the voter list for the county clerk must be made up by then," said Mrs. Owens. Supplemental lists are sent to the clerk continuing the names of those registering after February 1.

Several major elections are due even before the May 6 Democratic and Republican primaries.

Slated for sometime early this year is the $350,000 water bond election proposed by the City of Wellington.

Three elections will be held on the first Saturday in April, which is also the first day of the month. These are:

- Hospital Board Election.
- Wellington and Dodson City Elections.
- School Board elections for Wellington, Samnorwood and Quail.

This means that March 2 is the last day a person can register and vote in these three important elections.

Norwood 8th Loses Pair

Samnorwood junior high teams were defeated by Shamrock eighth graders Monday, January 17, with the girls losing 32-25 and the boys 38-25. The game was played in Shamrock.

Shamrock girls led the scoring in the first and third period Norwood girls in the second and fourth. The game was tied at half time.

Norwood girls also hit 11 field goals and three of 13 free shots. Shamrock hit 14 field goals and four of ten free shots.

The boys game was decided in the first quarter when Shamrock scored 13 points and held their opponents scoreless.

The three remaining periods were equal as to scoring, each scoring 10, 7 and 8 points per quarter.

Leonardo Segura led Samnorwood scoring with 20 points on 10 field goals. Holmes led the scoring for Shamrock with 11 points.

Merchants at Summer Market

Merchants from three Wellington firms were in Dallas early this week to attend the summer women's wear market.

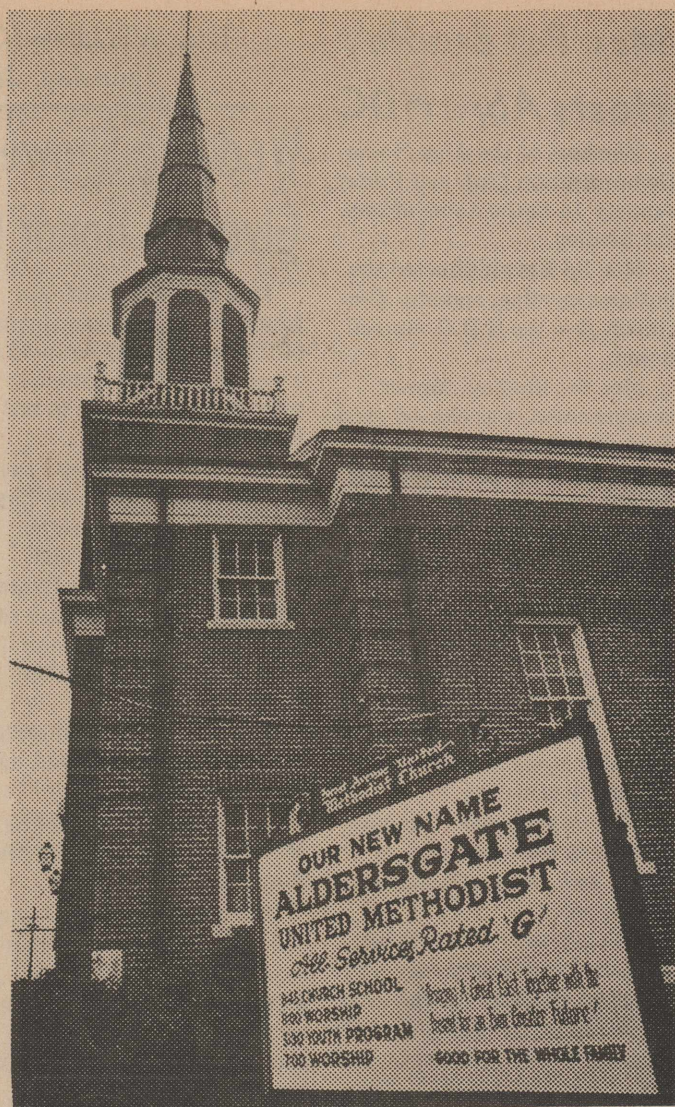

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Mack Saied, Jr. of Saied Department Store, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hatch of Hatch Dry Goods, Miss Rose Shadid and Miss Marie Shadid of The Fair.

Cholera Program Phase IV Begins

Texas is now in Phase IV of the hog cholera eradication program. The state passed the last milestone on the way to becoming free of hog cholera on December 7 after a three-month period free of cholera out-breaks. The eradication program began in Texas 10 years ago, according to Woodrow Bailey, Extension livestock and meat specialist and hog cholera information officer. Texas will be declared "hog cholera free" if no outbreaks occur over the next year.

Traders Ships County Cotton To Venice, Italy

Traders-Pioneer Compress recently shipped from its Shamrock plant Collingsworth County-grown cotton to Venice, Italy.

The fourteen bales of 1971-72 cotton was grown on the W.R. Coleman farm by Douglas Coleman. It was ginned at Lutie Gin in November and compressed to Hidee Density by Traders. It was then trucked to Galveston by R&T Truck Lines for loading aboard the S.S. Christopher Lykes by January 20. The shipper is Esteve Cotton Company of Dallas.

According to Traders-Pioneer manager Ed Holley, most of this season's cotton has been compressed to Hidee Density and delivered to Galveston for overseas shipment.

Viet Veterans Move Up on VA Appeals Board

Vietnam era veterans have begun moving into positions of responsibility on the Veterans Administration's top appeals board, it was announced today.

Lawrence R. Pierce, Jr., chairman of the Board of Veterans Appeals in Washington, D.C., discloses that he has 30 attorneys, one physician and four supervisory administrative employees on his staff, all of whom are Vietnam era veterans.

Currently, the board is composed of 20 physicians, 126 attorneys, and 154 administrative support personnel. In addition to the expertise available within its own staff, the board receives independent opinions from medical experts who are faculty members in 67 leading medical schools. Pierce said that the board handles about 27,000 appeal cases annually.

The majority of cases heard are presented without fee by trained experts retained by major veterans service organizations. Many veterans personally appear before the board in Washington with their representatives.

To make it even more convenient, the board has "travel boards" out of Washington.

PRPC Awarded $48,273 Grant For Planning

The Panhandle Regional Planning Commission (PRPC) has been awarded a $48,273 Regional Planning Assistance Grant. Governor Preston Smith announced today.

In a letter to County Judge E.B. Nobles of Potter County, Chairman of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission (PRPC), Governor Smith commended the regional council for its work in the Panhandle area.

The State grant, for use in 1972, is designed as general assistance support for a variety of PRPC programs, the Governor's Office said. Past projects of the council have included development of 1970 census statistics, rural water and sewer planning, establishment of in-service training schools for law enforcement officers, criminal justice planning, review of federally assisted projects, and technical services to member governments. New programs include activities associated with the development of model housing codes, health planning, transportation planning, manpower development and a regional jail feasibility study.

Under the leadership of Chairman Nobles and Executive Director Ernest R. Clark, the PRPC has become one of the States most responsive regional councils. One of 24 such associations in Texas, PRPC has 61 member governments including 30 cities, 10 special districts and Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Collingsworth, Donley, Hall, Hartley, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Moore, Oldham, Swisher, Wheeler, Potter and Randall.

Texas is one of only a few states granting direct general funding to regional planning commissions. At the request of Governor Smith, $1.6 million was appropriated by the 62nd Legislature to provide general support funds to Texas regional councils of governments during the State FY 1972.

The PRPC's 1972 grant of $48,273 is an increase over the 1971 allocation of $12,450.

It Is Urgent That We Register to Vote Now

There is convenience in the new year-around voter registration procedure, but there are also pitfalls. One of those is near us.

Citizens must be registered at least 30 days before an election in order to vote in it. Dates of our regular elections—city and school, the primaries and general election—are set. But there remain the special elections, as the $350,000 water bond election that is coming up. There could be others before the year is out.

Under the law, these elections may be held in less than the 30-day registration requirement. It is urgent, therefore, that you register immediately if you have not done so.

There are other reasons for registering. It is the one way we can have a voice in who sits in court house offices for four years ahead. It is our voice in choosing the men who govern us in Austin and Washington.

That voice is strong or weak, depending on whether we can exercise our right at the ballot box. It is a language to which all who aspire to rise politically are extremely sensitive. It is a sound that is silent in much of the world.

We who have the right to vote are a minority among nations. Some have lost that right because they did not act at the local level.

Other Editors Say . . .

Are Children Worse?

Sydney Harris, a syndicated columnist, said that a couple of days after Halloween, he picked up the small town Wisconsin newspaper to which he subscribes, and read this item:

"The usual pranks were perpetrated on the public Halloween eve, consisting of tearing up sidewalks, knocking over small houses, tearing down fences, etc. Time was when only harmless jokes were indulged in, but of late years it appears that the juvenile population are not content unless they can inflict damage that entails monetary loss on the victims."

Before the middle aged readers got excited Harris explained that this item was in a column called "Travelling Back" and was a reprint of an article 60 years ago, from the issue of Nov. 2, 1911.

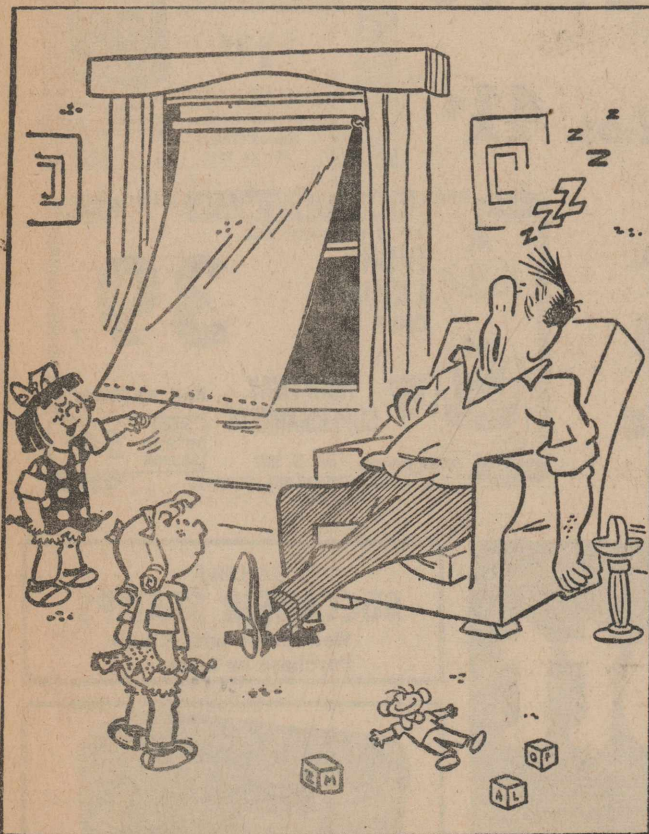

And the people of 1911 looked back upon the golden era of 1850 when kids were still kids and indulged only in harmless jokes.

Every generation looks upon the succeeding generation as odd and unruly. Even Shakespeare had quite a lot to say about children not being what they used to be.

If Halloween activities are any yardstick, certainly the kids of today are better behaved in this community than they were a generation ago. Damage was extensive, actual property damage that cost plenty to repair, just a few short years ago. Who can remember when Main Street was littered with farm machinery and debris from a night of exciting destruction?

Children are no worse than they were in the past, but it has to be admitted that they have more opportunities to get into more trouble in a day of mobility and instant communication than their parents did in a more rustic society. —The Perryton Herald.

Sweetie Pie

"Watch Pop take off when I let go!"

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Another federal court ruling -- voiding the new political filing fee law -- jarred state officials and posed the possibility of an emergency special legislative session soon.

While an earlier decision invalidating the old filing fee law was still on appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, three judges in Dallas knocked out a back-up statute passed last year.

If rulings stand, Texas will be without any method of financing its May and June party primary elections. The filing deadline is February 7.

In the original 1970 decision on the old law, fees were declared unconstitutional because they were used for revenue-collecting and were an absolute requirement to get on the ballot.

Legislators in 1971 passed a law effective January 1, 1972 setting maximum filing fees amounting to four per cent of a candidate's term salary. Another provision provided for getting on the ballot by pauper's affidavits of inability to pay, together with a petition signed by 10 per cent of area voters. This, too, was invalidated by a federal court last Thursday.

State is now enjoined from implementing any fee system for financing the primaries.

Gov. Preston Smith and Secretary of State Bob Bullock have expressed hope courts will stay the latest order until the Supreme Court rules on the first case.

Circuit Judge Homer Thornberry advised party county and state executive committees to make new rules for carrying out the latest ruling.

Since there is no authority for state financing of the primaries, a special legislative session apparently would be necessary to provide for that before May. One suggested alternative is voluntary contributions to pay the election bill -- an estimated $1.5 million statewide.

OIL ALLOWABLE DELAYED -- Texas Railroad Commission decided to delay setting the February oil allowable pending further study.

Major purchasers, the commission explained, report inventories are higher than needs, although crude stocks are at a four-year low mark.

Seven of 14 major crude oil purchasers requested a larger oil allowable factor for February. Two requested a small one, and five proposed to keep the January factor of 67.5 per cent of potential. The U.S. Bureau of Mines predicted demand in February would be 3,530,000 barrels a day, or 10,000 less than January.

MARIJUANA PENALTY DROP SUGGESTED -- Two Texas task forces looking into problems of children and youth in preparation for a White House conference recommended the penalty for first offense possession of limited amounts of marijuana should be reduced.

The groups advised Gov. Preston Smith the penalty should be lowered from felony to misdemeanor status.

A total of 264 recommendations were made to Smith covering 16 areas of exploration by the steering committee.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

It is now assured that bankrupt big cities will get hand-outs from country and small-city taxpayers, via the federal pocket-picking system.

Which is in accord with the current policy of making the productive, thrifty and beardless support the underprivileged, lazy and impotent.

But my upspeaking neighbor is in favor of treating the big cities just like they have treated the small towns: If they can't make the grade on their own, let them ghost out.

COURTS SPEAK -- Court of Criminal Appeals upheld state marijuana laws against attack that they are unconstitutionally vague.

State Supreme Court found The University of Texas at Austin used "undue influence" on a 90-year-old retired professor to get him to leave valuable property to the institution.

The decision determined the old professor's home should go to an attorney who signed a $35,000 purchase contract for it, and that his other property, on his death, should go to his nephew.

A February 16 hearing was set by the Supreme Court on a Houston barber's damage suit which involves a claim that freon cans should contain printed warnings they may blow up if attached to the wrong part of an auto air conditioner. The barber was injured when a can exploded as he was attempting to "recharge" his air conditioner.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED -- Robert H. Norris III of Dallas was named to the State Board of Architectural Examiners. Gov. Preston Smith reappointed W.R. Dede Matthews of Bryan to the same board.

Thomas M. Maes II of Beaumont and Lloyd L. Hayes of Port Arthur were appointed to the board of regents of Lamar University. A.H. Montagne of Orangefield was reappointed to the Lamar Board.

Jack Dale of Houston is chairman of the state committee planning the 1972 National Governors Conference in Houston.

Frank M. Horlock Jr. succeeded C. Stanley Banks of San Antonio as chairman of the Texas Library and Historical Commission.

DEMOCRATS IN QUANDARY -- Just about the time a controversy over party rules appeared to be settled, Democrats found themselves with a leadership dispute on their hands.

State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Roy Orr of DeSoto accepted appointment as a Dallas County commissioner, setting the stage for the new wrangle.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock said he would not issue a certificate of appointment as a commissioner to Orr until he resigned his SDEC place because election duties of the two offices may prove incompatible.

Orr was quoted as saying he wouldn't, then that he might in 30 days and then again that he wouldn't.

Meanwhile, Gov. Smith asked William R. Anderson Jr. of Corpus Christi to seek the chairmanship. Anderson said he would agree to be a candidate, if and when Orr vacated the job.

HOG CHOLERA ATTACK PLANNED -- State and federal animal health officers plan to send a task force of inspectors into South Texas to try and destroy the virus which causes cholera in hogs.

Texas Animal Health Commission drafted stringent quarantine rules to restrict movement of breeder and feeder hogs in 54 counties to stop spread of the disease.

Success of the operation, according to Dr. E.S. Cox of the U.S. Department of Agriculture animal and plant health services division, could mean complete elimination of the virus in the U.S. Dr. Cox said the virus is not known to exist in this country outside of South Texas.

SHORT SNORTS

Beer drinkers consumed the equivalent of 21.47 gallons for every man, woman and child in Texas last year, according to Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission figures.

Bully In The Family

Sixteen-year-old Teddy had a nasty habit. He would coax younger children into secluded places, then beat them up. Finally, the father of one of the victims filed a damage suit against Teddy's parents.

But in court, they denied liability.

"The mere fact that he is our son," they argued, "does not make us automatically responsible for everything he does. We never encouraged him to beat anyone up."

But if they had never encouraged Teddy, they had never discouraged him either. The court decided they had shirked their duty as parents, and would therefore have to pay the claim.

Parents who are overly permissive may find themselves in trouble in the courtroom. If they tolerate a dangerous habit in their child, they can usually be held legally liable for the consequences.

But it is a matter of degree. While the law says parents must try to curb the child, it does not insist on success. Take this case:

Chuckie, age five, liked to toss rocks at his playmates. To deter him, his parents tried everything from scoldings to spankings—all to no avail.

But this time, when a damage suit was brought against the parents, the court held them blameless. Saying they had done their best, the court observed that they could scarcely be expected to keep Chuckie under lock and key.

Furthermore, standards of discipline may change with the times. In another case, a boy playing football in the street overran the curb and knocked down a passing pedestrian.

In short order, the pedestrian sued the boy's parents, claiming they should not have allowed him to play in the street. But the court said such tight discipline by parents is just not customary in this day and age.

"Strict control of children is today so rare," said the court, "that its absence is no indication of a lack of reasonable care."

The Go Ahead People

That's another good thing about Production Credit. Rolling Plains PCA has grown. The figures speak for themselves. And you can bet that our Rolling Plains PCA members, who are stockholders and sole owners of their credit source, have grown too.

Look at the growth rate. Loans outstanding and total amount loaned have more than doubled in the past 5 years. Association capital has increased almost 100 percent.

Still another good thing about Rolling Plains PCA is that all this time, we've been reducing the amount of difference between what money costs us and what it costs our stockholders.

You've seen us grow. Now find out how you can grow. Come in and talk to the go ahead people at any one of our offices in

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

THE PECULIAR shaped Congressional Districts established by the last State Legislature were ruled unconstitutional by a panel of three federal judges last Saturday. At the same time the panel accepted a proposed new plan based solely on population and said it will be the law until the next census in 1980 unless the legislature meanwhile comes up with some new plan the court will accept.

PLAN C places Collingsworth County back in a solid unit with the 22 counties of the old 18th district plus 11 additional counties directly to the south plus parts of three more. Bob Price will retain his old district almost intact in addition to those contiguous counties that were in Graham Purcell's district. The decision hands him reelection to Congress on a platter. The Democrats will try to run someone; but it will be a candidate without experience, money, political organization, acquaintance and former nominating power for political position. Bob Price has all of these plus good looks, good energy and a good record in Congress. He can't be defeated this year.

THE DECISION of the Federal judges pits three experienced Democratic congressmen against three other valuable members which means that the seniority of three able congressmen will be lost to Texas anyway you look at it. They will be lost if they run or if they retire. For instance Graham Purcell is now in the same district as his old Democratic friend Omar Burleson.

LAST FRIDAY, Jan. 21, we heard four Texas Congressmen on a panel speaking before the members of The Texas Press Association in Ft. Worth. It was a brilliant presentation and question and answer period by four experienced, urbane, sensitive and intelligent men. Two of them were under the sword of Damocles for the Federal court assembling as they talked. These two were Jim Wright of Ft. Worth and Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls, who will now be pitted like bulldogs against their neighboring congressman and friend. It is a sad waste of talent and experience anyway you look at it. It is also a grievous loss in seniority in committees for Texas.

LOUISE and I became acquainted with Congressman Graham Purcell by listening to the panel and in private conversation afterward. He had his plans well laid for coming to Wellington and other towns. All that is out the window now and he will be campaigning in distant counties just as Bob Price will no longer be going to Wichita Falls. I note that the astute Bob Price does not intend to neglect any of his contacts in Vernon, Wichita Falls and other points in what would have been his new district. This is wise. The Supreme Court has not acted. Neither has the Texas Legislature been called into session.

GOV. Preston Smith has said that he will not call a special session to settle the matter of redistricting. Why should he until the Supreme Court acts. A special session would put the

Teachers Group Sponsors Trio Of Ball Games

The Classroom Teachers Association sponsored a trio of basketball games among Junior High students recently, with their scholarship fund benefitting from the sports entertainment.

Proceeds amounted to $158. Two games featured fourth and fifth grade girls against teams of sixth grade girls. The third game was between two teams of sixth grade boys, the Skins and Shirts.

The Shirts won 24-20, while the first team saw the sixth graders win 22-6 and the sixth grade girls won again in the other game, 8-3.

In the girls game, No. 1 Jennifer Pendleton, Zulima Bueno and Sandra Saxon each scored two points. Other players were Carol Ann Daves, Robin Amorette, Sylvia Gonzales, Kim Judd, Kim Cook, Karen Gofforth, Kathy O'Rear, Marie Cantu, Linda Brooks, Melanie Watts, Tammie Sanders, Pam Turner, Laura Gragson, Jeanne Morris, Dian Cantu, Leja Grubb, Irma Aguilar, Gwen Edgett, Beverly Orr, Gail Rudy and Connie Daves.

Sixth graders who scored were Sandra Shrubbs, 8; Tammie Lovell, Kioette Camp, Myrna Saxon and Margie Anderson, four each; and Cindy Hernandez two. Others who played were Leigh Ann Sessions, Debra Wood, Lori Collins, Susan Kimbro, Kelly Baker, Barbara Anderson, Leigh Ann Jeffrey and Lisa Wilson. The second game saw Lucy Saldana score two points and Patricia Runnels one for the fourth grade team. Other players were Darla Seitz, Lucy Saldana, Kelly Covey, Carla Seitz, Peggy Popwell, Wanda Thomas, Charlotte Hicks, Sharee Bailey, Vera Parker, Patricia Turner, Rosa Benton, Louise Key, Cindy Roberts, Teresa Hodges, Patti Gray, Terri Thomason, Lisa Johnson, Susie Chandler, Patty Turner, Tammie Hernandez, Kandi Ford, Patricia Runnels, Callie McDonald.

Sixth grade scorers were Margie Dixon, four, Melissa Holt and Linda Wolf, two each. Others on the team were Debbie Hicks, Kathy Mote, Diane Mejia, Connie Langford, Connie Brown, Deborah Guevara, Betty Lewis, Yolanda Gonzales, Jackie Seitz, Sue Sosa, Elizabeth Davila.

SHIRTS AND SKINS Scoring for winning Shirts were Curtis Moore 12, Clay Don Lacy 6, Ronnie Waters four and Porfirio Mejia two. Completing the team were Randy McGill, Craig Needham, Leonard Chambers, Lynn Hurst, Alan Murdock and Gerald Bonaparte. Making points for the Skins were George Darton, 12, Robert Sterling, 6, and Mike Reed, two. Other boys on the team were Stephen Settle, Roger Baker, Ricky Anderson, Otis Van Meter, Pat White, Terry Fowler, Kent Riley, Lynn Pence, Jeff Langford and Richard Aguirre.

AT THE Ft. Worth meeting we also heard George Bush, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations and Senator John Tower; but that will need to wait until next week. It was a thought provoking program.

CONGRATULATIONS to young Joe Baumgardner on winning the grand championship with his calf at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show. I understand the animal sold for $2,000. Before the calf was judged the winner in the Wellington show, I thought that it would take some calf to beat it; but I was thinking of the local show. All our animals were excellent.

DEAN COBB, speaker for the B&PW banquet had to land his plane in Shamrock because the local landing field has no lights. He was asking me why the city did not install them. I told him I didn't know since they had the money. He was considerably disturbed over the inconvenience. Another man who flew in on a windy day came by the office to complain because no wind sock was flying at the field. Since the city has money in the bank, it makes you wonder what is going on.

HAVE YOU registered? It is the only way you can vote in a year in which you will want to vote many times. Local officials, state officials including a Governor and federal officials including the President will be selected in 1972. It costs no money to register - just a trip to the courthouse.

more good steers in Amarillo this year than he'd ever seen. "They were good down to 15th and 20th places - real, real good steers," he declared.

Rancher Dee Coleman spearheaded the drive that brought community-spirited Wellington up to the auction block. Not all the people who participated in the program could go up, but they put their money where the bidding was.

Coleman and the others went prepared to pay 6 cents above the 35 floor offered by packers. As it was, no Collingsworth calf brought less than 45 cents per pound. Bidding was so lively on these animals that they could buy only three of the six offered for sale.

"This is one of the finest examples of community spirit I know of," declared Col. Walter Brittain of College Station, auctioneer. "If we had more people over the state to do this, we'd have a better calf program." Collingsworth was the only county to do this for its youth exhibitors at the Amarillo Show.

Firms and individuals who participated in the program included:

Wellington State Bank, City State Bank, Parsons Drug, City Grocery, John Holton Enco, Steve Owens Gibson's, Tiny's Auto Supply, Langford Brothers Conoco, Farmers Co-op Gin, Farm Bureau, Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., Warrick's Feed Store, Singley Mill and Elevator, Cochran Drug, Wells and Wells, John Nash Texaco Wholesale, Hartman Flying Service, Wellington Leader, Deskins Wells, Wellington Livestock Commission, Sears Catalog Store, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Christian, Sagebrush Feed Lot, Herbert Beard, en, manager; Bob Willoughby, and Buddy Yarbrough.

"I am sure there are others who would like to have contributed that we didn't get to see. We hope to include you next time," Mr. Coleman said.

Largest coral formation in the world is the Great Barrier Reef which is 1,350 miles long.
