

Four Alabama Schools Closed

Integration Is Blocked

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Governor George C. Wallace shut down four city schools today to block integration temporarily but one group of militant mothers marched their children, through state trooper lines to register them.

While helmeted troopers balked classroom activities at the four schools, integration was blocked for one day in an executive order issued by Wallace, pupils started a new school year at 24 others.

Enrollment at the four last year totaled 2,233 and attendance at all schools in this city of 100,000 was about 24,000.

The marching mothers scored their coup at one of the three grammar schools ordered integrated by the federal courts and ordered closed by Wallace despite the protest of the City Council and the mayor.

About 25 mothers turned deaf ears to troopers and their messengers at the East Clinton School, which was closed. The troopers stood aside.

The mothers went in and registered their kids, then left when told by school officials that there would be no classes today.

"While they were making their entry, a state highway patrol spokesman boomed, 'Let them go, don't hurt them, don't hurt them go!'"

School days were delayed for the four Negro children who had been ordered admitted into white schools by the federal courts.

S.W. Hereford IV, whose father was one of those who sued in federal court for desegregation, was the first Negro turned back. Two Federal Bureau of Investigation agents accompanied the Hereford party.

It was the same story at three other schools for the three other Negro children, Breton L. Searcy, Veronica Terrell Pearson, 11, and David C. Piggie, 6. FBI agents were seen at all of these school grounds.

"Thank you, sir," Mrs. Odell Pearson told a trooper sergeant who advised her, "No school today."

City Atty. Joe Payne said the Federal Bureau of Investigation agents had assured that school opening would be permitted Monday.

"This is an unfortunate situation we have been subjected to by the governor," Mayor R.B. Searcy said. "We did not ask for troopers to be sent in here and I did not want them."

"I think Wallace should remember he is fusing at the federal government for sending troops into our state."

The early morning executive order of Wallace said he acted "in conformity with the constitutional and statutory power vested in me as governor."

He directed a one-day delay "for the sole and expressed purpose of allowing the governor to preserve the peace, maintain domestic tranquility, and to protect the lives and property of all citizens of the state."

The temporary breach of the Wallace line at East Clinton was not repeated at the other schools.

An aide to Wallace telephoned Payne, attorney for the Huntsville Board of Education, and said the closure would be for one day only. The governor's office said Wallace is a strong supporter of education and that his action was caused by unusual circumstances which he said existed in Alabama.

At the other schools, the troopers ran into resentment on the part of parents, one woman wanted to know, "What would you do if we know through?" Troopers ignored the question.

Wallace contends he can close public schools by an executive order such as that he issued early today affecting Huntsville under state law. The statutes, however, do not clearly outline his authority in such matters.

The blue-shirted troopers stationed themselves in front of the schools early in the day. They advised children and parents that their walks from home had been useless.

'Use Troops' Says Javits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., told Senate today that President Kennedy "may well have to send U.S. marshals or troops" to Alabama to reopen schools after integration is scheduled to take place.

Javits said this would be a "trying decision" for the President, but Kennedy "should have the support of the people of this country" and of the Congress in the steps he finds it necessary to take.

Javits said the federal government has no choice but "to enforce the rights of citizens of the United States in Alabama when state authorities are unwilling to enforce them."

Stock Market Hits Highest Level Yet

By ROGER LANE

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market has vaulted to its highest level in history, more than wiping out the steep losses of 1962.

Last of the major averages to go over the top—the Dow Jones industrial average—spurred to a new high Thursday.

The long-awaited breakthrough by this average of 30 industrial issues was welcomed calmly on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange. But within minutes the market perked into brisk buying.

The ticker tape was 20 minutes late in cleaning up a final deluge of transactions.

The Dow Jones average, followed by millions as a market barometer, advanced 5.06 to 737.98, exceeding the previous high of 734.91 established Dec. 13, 1961.

The Associated Press 60-stock average, another widely followed yardstick, Thursday attained another high, 100.12, after a series of historic highs it has been racking up since last May.

Wall Street brokers believed the Dow Jones action might bring "taxi-cab" investment funds back into the market.

Investors have been selling more stocks than they have been buying since "Black Monday," May 28, 1962, when the market suffered its worst setback since 1929.

Far across the country, the significance of the industrial average's breakthrough probably will be mainly psychological because you can't buy an average, you buy a stock.

The assault on the old high was accompanied by heavy volume with 6.06 million shares changing hands Wednesday and 5.73 million Thursday. Wall Street says a sharp advance on strong volume is a favorable sign.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Development plans for the border towns of Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Ariz., and San Luis Rio Colorado, near Yuma, Ariz., have been disclosed by Secretary of National Patrimony Eduardo Bustamante.

He said his ministry was working closely with a program headed by Antonio J. Bernardez to make Mexican border towns and ports "showcases of national pride."

Exhaustive development plans for the two border towns were turned over to Santa-Guay-Luis Bismarck and the two municipal governments.

'Reservation' Defeat Seen By Sen. Aiken

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., predicted today that the Senate will reject Sen. Barry Goldwater's proposed "Cuban reservation" to the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

The Arizona's demand that the effectiveness of the pact be postponed until the Soviet Union removes all its military forces from Cuba is an attempt to kill the treaty, Aiken said.

A supporter of the ban on all but underground tests, Aiken said an overwhelming majority will vote for ratification and less than one-third of the Senate's 73 Republican senators will support Goldwater, a potential Republican presidential nominee.

In announcing to the Senate on Thursday he intends to propose such a reservation Goldwater may have tossed the treaty into the Republican presidential campaign.

The greatest concern of the American people, Goldwater said, is the existence of "a Soviet military base 90 miles from our shore, a base illegally occupied and brutally held."

"This proposed test ban treaty cannot be a first step toward peace if it must stumble over Soviet missiles and troops in Cuba," he said.

There were immediate critical responses from Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, his chief deputy, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, and Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, who helped negotiate the treaty.

Goldwater's reservation, Mansfield declared, would be a mischievous toying with the health and hopes of the American people for "the first steps toward a sane and more mature world through curbs on nuclear testing."

Humphrey said Goldwater's demand "does not represent constructive policy, but rather partisan mischief" which would wreck the treaty and "result in a staggering setback for the United States internationally."

And Harriman told the Economic Club of Detroit that Goldwater is "trying to make a political issue of the pact." Goldwater's proposal "doesn't make any sense," Harriman said.

Aiken, in an interview, said he is "not in favor of any reservation."

"It's rather late in the day for the U.S. to call for side issues," he declared.

"If we should attach a resolution on Cuba, the treaty would have to be renegotiated with 86 countries which have now signed it, and the Soviets could propose reservations calling for such a pact and the withdrawal of our troops from Berlin and anywhere else we may have them."

A reservation would be an indirect but very effective way to kill the treaty instead of forcing the Soviets out of Cuba, it would guarantee they stay there."

Formal Senate debate begins on Monday when the treaty is called up for ratification.

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., announced he will "vote reluctantly to ratify the treaty, unless facts are shown which justify a reservation calling for such a pact and the withdrawal of our troops from Berlin and anywhere else we may have them."

Improved U. S. Relations Foreseen By Diem, Brother

By ROBERT E. EASON

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Ngo Dinh Nhu has given a soft answer to his Washington critics. The younger brother of South Viet Nam's president says he believes relations with the United States will improve, and he is going to work to improve them.

U.S. officials in Washington have held Nhu responsible for last month's crackdown on Buddhists. There have been some demands that he quit the government as a condition for future U.S. aid to the Southeast Asian nation. American aid in South Viet Nam's battle against the Communist Viet Cong totals about $1.5 billion daily.

Nhu, 32, a top adviser to President Ngo Dinh Diem, told to foreign correspondents Thursday. "I think they will be, and as far as I am concerned, I will actively work to that end."

Nhu's views closely paralleled those of President Diem, who granted an exclusive interview to The Associated Press earlier in the day.

"I think relations between Viet Nam and the United States will be better because American opinion will be better informed about our problems than it has been so far," the president said.

Diem, 62, did not elaborate but one interviewee was that U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who came here Aug. 22, would be more active than his predecessor, Frederick E. Nolting.

U.S. officials in Washington had no immediate comment on the interviews. But authorities said privately U.S. policy continued to stand by the views expressed by President Kennedy earlier in the week. Kennedy said the government of South Viet Nam had "gotten out of touch with the people" and lacked the popular support necessary to defeat the Communists.

Kennedy said changes in policy "and perhaps in personnel" are needed—an apparent reference to Nhu and his wife.

In his talk with reporters, Nhu said U.S. servicemen directly backing up Vietnamese units in the jungle battlefields may be pulled back to training and logistical support "on a progressive basis, starting now, because of a considerable improvement in the situation."

Nhu, who was rumored to have engaged in a power struggle with his brother during the Buddhist crisis, has often been considered to be more powerful than Diem. Both have been denied in their interviews at the presidential palace that Nhu controlled the government.

Nhu rejected an idea that he and his fiery wife, retire from politics. Nhu said he was planning to run for deputy in the National Assembly.

This is an internal matter for Americans and concerns the American government and Congress," he said.

CHALLENGED!

Cairo Dispatch Hints At Broad, New Movie Fields

BY INEZ ROBB
For the past fortnight I have been scanning the theatre pages with particular reference to the movie news, with unaccustomed zeal.
What I have been looking for is a follow-up on a one-sentence item out of Cairo by Reuters. The whole dispatch, and a more intriguing one I have seldom encountered, reads as follows:
"Cairo. — Egypt will produce a movie about Christine Koelbe which will also deal with the British aggression on Port Said in 1956, the mass circulation newspaper Al Akhbar reported today."
If I were an American editor, I would have instructed my Cairo correspondent to investigate and file at once a complete synopsis of the scenario combining both Christine and the British aggression on Port Said in 1956.
Or, lacking a correspondent on the spot, I would have pawed one of the line types and dispatched a reporter posthaste for on-the-spot investigation of this movie venture which has so much more to offer contemporary society than just another remake of that old standby "Cleopatra."
Historically, both Wm. Shakespeare and G. B. Shaw had a good bit of material to work with when assessing the Serpent of the Nile and her effect on Caesar and Anthony. If the facts did not exactly strain a jacket the two authors, nonetheless, gave both an assist.

What an intellectually curious world is now waiting for is the historic tie-up between Christine and the Franco-British-Israeli incursion vis-a-vis Egypt in 1956.
If Christine is now 21, then in 1956 she could have been no more than 14, which would make her as precocious as Cleopatra, the home-town girl. Does Gamal Abdel Nasser want to make this admission?
Certainly, the British aggression cost Anthony Eden his job as Prime Minister. And Christine cost John Profumo his cabinet post as Secretary of State for War. But how these unrelated facts can be combined into one movie, even a four-hour nonstop super-spectacle, deponent hasn't the faintest idea.
However, the Egyptian enterprise in combining the Profumo case and the 1956 aggression opens up a whole new field of historic possibilities to the movie world. Never let it be said that what an Egyptian script writer can do cannot be done equally well by American, British, French and especially Italian cinema geniuses.

For the American trade, there might be a great little picture combining "British aggression on the White House in 1812" with Mandy Rice-Davies, which neatly brings the Profumo case into the picture, too. It would be easy to have Mandy set the fire when she and some British companions accidentally knock over a flickering candelabrum with a bottle of champagne stolen from the White House cellars.
Still pursuing this historic tack, what about a strong picture of what about a strong picture of the Boers in 1899-1902, starring Peter Sellers opposite Lady Emma Hamilton, the light o'love of Lord Nelson? That would be a fine excuse for a re-enactment of the Battle of Trafalgar, with Sellers as Lord Nelson and Lady Hamilton rigged out as a cabin boy.
The historic possibilities are endless. History teems with aggressions and with Christies. All the scriptwriter has to do is get them together, as, for example, Nell Gwyn with Robert Clive in India or Lucrezia Borgia with T. E. Lawrence in Arabia.
But I still wish an enterprising editor would pawn that lino type and send a man to Cairo to case the scenario for which the world is waiting as for the sunrise. (Copyright, 1963, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Columnist Jumps At Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?—
There is a great deal of prattle about the difference between the sexes.
Less is said about how much alike they are. One of the chief characteristics of any human being is that he is a man or a woman. It is his stubborn determination to have his own way—no matter what he must do to achieve it, or how much he hurts himself and others in doing so. It is this human characteristic, common to us all as individuals, that causes willful mankind more woe than all the differences of sex, religion and money put together.
The invention of the cash register did more to promote honesty than all the laws against larceny.
Half the parents spoil their children because they are lazy; the other half spoil their children because they enjoy it.
There are only two types of people in the world: Those who are sensible—and those who eat doughnuts for breakfast.
Wealth usually forgives its foibles. If a poor man leaves a small tip, the waiter dismisses him as a stingy bum. But if a millionaire tips him lightly, the same waiter marvels that the man is careful of his money, and tells himself approvingly, "That's the way to get ahead."
Everybody feels he could run a good restaurant, and anyone who does usually makes a fine income. But more people fail in the restaurant business than in any other form of enterprise.
A girl never really settles for girlhood until she buys her first pair of bifocals.
One of the things a bachelor can't understand about babies is why, when you pick them up, they bend in so many unexpected places.
The Italians have a wonderful saying to describe a chronic complainer: "He'd find something to cry about with a loaf of bread under each arm."
Somehow we have a conviction that the office boy who carries a portable radio in his hand—so he can listen to the baseball game as he goes about his chores—is unlikely to wind up as president of the firm.
The thing most of us find hardest to understand about modern art is how anybody else can claim to understand it.

Rail Union's Law Endures

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A member of the International Brotherhood of Railway Carmen must believe in God and be an American or Canadian citizen.
That was the union's constitution says, and delegates representing 135,000 members at their 23rd convention Thursday said it's going to stay that way.
A Canadian member proposed deletion of the clause about God, saying some railroad workers might claim to be atheists and thus get around union shop agreements.
"If that's the kind of people they are," said one delegate, "we don't want them in our union."
The proposed change was rejected emphatically.
On the question of citizenship, however, it took two voice votes and a standing vote to decide that foreigners still can't join the union.

Junior Editors Quiz on POTTERY

QUESTION: Is bone china really made of bone?
ANSWER: Porcelain, or china, is distinguished from other pottery by being white clear through and translucent, so some light shows through. Porcelain originated in China but became known in Europe in the 1400s. At first rare and valuable, the spread of tea and coffee drinking created a great demand for china cups and saucers. The Chinese tried to keep the secret of how it was made, but this ceased, the addition of two materials called petuntse and kaolin, was discovered in Germany in 1709.
Trying to imitate the beautiful Chinese ware, Josiah Spode, son of the founder of the Spode family, in 1799, started to add a considerable amount of calcined ground animal bones to the petuntse and kaolin base. This made the materials fuse together better and gave a pleasant feel to the china. Bone china, light but strong, became popular and soon other makers were using Spode's formula. English china with bone ash is still made today, but little bone china is produced in America because, it is said, we lack skilled workers trained in this particular process.
FOR YOU TO DO: Take a pencil and tap some china piece very lightly—not hard, as you might break them. The one made of porcelain will have a beautiful ringing sound. On the other hand, pieces made of earthenware will sound much duller.

Sens Set For Historic Tilt

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 100,000th major league baseball game in history will be played in Washington tonight.

It is not true that the Senators have lost most of them. It just seems that way to Gil Hodges.

Actually, the Senators have lost only 5.155. But, for the rookie manager of the 10th place team, the last one must be among the most painful.

It was a 3-2, 12-inning loss to New York's Yankees Thursday in which Hodges' pitchers held the Yanks to three hits for 11 innings, his infield kicked in the tying run and he lost, temporarily at least, the services of his top hitter, Chuck Hinton.

Hinton was struck on the left side of the head, just below the protective helmet, by a Ralph Terry pitch. He retained consciousness, but was carried from the field on a stretcher and hospitalized overnight. He was listed in satisfactory condition.

Terry went all the way, winning his 10th against 13 losses on a 12th-inning double by Clete Boyer and a run-producing single by Hector Lopez.

Chicago beat Kansas City 4-1 and took over second place, 13 games back of the Yanks, when Los Angeles beat Minnesota 3-5 in a night game. Detroit beat Boston 5-2 in the only other American League game scheduled.

In the National League, the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers shut out the Chicago Cubs 4-0. St. Louis whalloped the New York Mets 9-0, Houston defeated San Francisco 5-2 in 10 innings and Milwaukee beat Pittsburgh 9-0. Philadelphia and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

The 100,000th game gimmick was discovered by an exhaustive check of files by officials at the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., and was announced just a couple of days ago by Commissioner Ford Frick.

The Senators are going to mark the milestone with appropriate pre-game ceremonies, chiefly featuring a comedian and some of his buddies. They'll have to be funny to get a chuckle from the usually pleasant Hodges, who has had his troubles.

He took over the 10th place team 11 games back of the Yankees. They're still in 10th, now 4 1/2 games back. The Yanks' loss must have been one of the most frustrating.

Steve Haidick and Ed Roebuck had held the champions to just three hits through nine innings and Ron Klime held them hitless for two more before Boyer doubled to appear to have delivered the drive that bounced into the lower right-field stands. It would have gone as a ground rule double, but Lopez stepped at first.

It takes the sixth time this season Lopez had driven in the winning run in the last inning.

Dick Phillips hit a two-run homer for the Senators in the fifth, but the Yanks matched him with two in the sixth. Tony Kubek homered and Bobby Richardson singled, stole second and scored on an error.

White Sox rookie Gary Peters won his 12th game since the All-Star break and his 17th of the season in beating the A's. He also drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly.

The Twins dropped to third place, 13 1/2 games behind, when Jim Fregosi singled in the tie-breaking run for the Angels in the ninth. Jimmie Hall, Harmon Killebrew and Bernie Allen homered for the Twins while Billy Moran, Felix Torres and Hank Foltes hit homers for the Angels.

Arnie's Ache Gets Worse

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer's aching shoulder threatened today to take the edge off his showdown meeting with burlly Jack Nicklaus, placed Julius Borge and solemn Bob Charles in the $75,000 World Series of Golf this weekend.

"It's worse than ever," an obviously worried Palmer said Thursday after winning with pain after his first practice round over the 7,165-foot Firestone Country Club course, where the 36-hole medal exhibition play begins Saturday.

"I'm not even thinking of withdrawing or anything like that," he added, "but I won't play again until Saturday unless it gets a lot better. You can just put your hand on it and feel it crack."

Palmer is suffering from a burst of the right shoulder was revealed Thursday as he began his first warmup for the television spectacular that rewards the winner with $50,000.

Golf's No. 1 money winner disclosed the pain first appeared while he was in California last week filming a sports show, kicked up again during an exhibition on the bones of his shoulder, and that the inflammation is caused by the friction of them rubbing together when he turns on the power in his mighty swing.

"I know how he feels," Nicklaus said. "Remember, I had the same sort of thing, only with my left hip last winter. He'll have trouble with it for awhile. It took me three months before my hip felt all right again and I could swing naturally."

The rest of the cast for the weekend tent, in which the last six holes will be televised nationally by NBC each day, was in good health if not bristling with optimism.

"I'm stale. Just too much golf without any rest in between," said Nicklaus the Masters and PGA champion, who was fresh enough to shoot a one-under par 69 in the first practice round.

"This course is just too long," said New Zealand's Charles, the 6-foot-1 British Open champion who lands on the scale at a mighty 140. "This one is built for the brutes and if there's something I'm not sure of."

Palmer was even with par through the first 15 holes of his practice round. He picked up after taking five shots to reach a pond in front of the 65-yard 10th hole. He parred the last two holes.

Charles shot a 75.

Ira, Hobbs Poised To Open Season

HOBBES — Ira's Bulldogs, with nine returning lettermen on hand, will meet the Hobbs Panthers here at 8 o'clock tonight in the season's first football game for both of the six-man clubs.

Although Hobbs and Ira are in the same district tonight's encounter will be a non-district affair. They will meet again Oct. 18 in Ira in a district game.

Coach Robert Ryan is counting heavily on four seniors to improve on the Ira win-loss record of 4-9 in 1962.

Norman Turner, a second team all-district back last year, returns weighing 210. Other seniors are Don Kimbrell, 160-pound back; Danny Crow, 165-pound center; and Bob Hart, 150-pound quarterback.

Jack Payne, a 155-pound sophomore back, also is expected to see plenty of action, along with Dennis Grizzle, 210, Larry Holiday 135, John Paul Rogers 145, and Johnny Lindsey 150, all freshmen.

Weary Willie Mays Due Back In Giants' Lineup Tonight

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Weary Willie Mays will be back tonight.

And that just might spell trouble for the Los Angeles Dodgers, tenaciously holding their grip on the National League lead despite a serious surge by streaking St. Louis.

The Dodgers, who have been running out front for two months and three days, maintained their five-game edge over the Cardinals as Pete Richert and Larry Sherry collaborated on a five-hit, 4-0 shutout of the Chicago Cubs Thursday night.

The Cardinals, meanwhile kept the pressure on, extending their longest winning streak of the season to eight games with a 9-0 victory over the New York Mets here.

Both the Dodgers and Cardinals have 22 games remaining, including a vital three-game series at St. Louis later this month. But for the moment, the Cardinals are hoping Mays is fit and ready to go against the Dodgers tonight.

The San Francisco Giants 100-0-9-year center fielder collapsed from exhaustion on Labor Day in the first game of a doubleheader with the Cubs. He's been resting since then for tonight's start of a three-game series with Los Angeles in San Francisco.

The Cardinals are scheduled to play a two-night doubleheader with Pittsburgh's Pirates, 8ers of five in a row.

While the Dodgers and Cardinals were winning Thursday, Houston defeated the third-place Giants 5-2 in 10 innings with Bob Sadowski's shutout. The Pirates 8-0 on eight hits in the only other game scheduled.

The American League leading New York Yankees edged Washington 3-2 in 12 innings, the Chicago White Sox defeated Kansas City 4-1, the Los Angeles Angels belted Minnesota 8-5 and Detroit downed Boston 5-2 in the only games scheduled.

Richard, 23, a left-hander, went 7 1/3 innings before he ran into a jam. Sherry took over, held the Cubs hitless the rest of the way and protected Richert's third victory against one loss. Richert actually drove in the only run the Dodgers needed with a single in the second off Bob Buhl, 9-13.

Jim Gilliam hit an inside the park homer for the Dodgers.

Flood collected a triple and four singles in support of Simmons, who brought his record to 137 by blanking the Mets. Rookie Grover Powell was the loser.

Americans Hold Paper-Thin Lead

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Seven surprised Americans held a paper-thin lead going into today's final round of the Americas' Cup Golf matches with a group of crafty Canadians threatening to capture the trophy for the first time ever.

"We sure didn't help ourselves any this afternoon," said U.S. captain Billy Joe Patton after the heavily favored U.S. team had managed only a 1 1/2-point lead in Thursday's opening round.

The Canadians, meanwhile, were elated with their performance and primed to end U.S. domination of the biennial event between teams from the United States, Canada and Mexico.

"We're still in there," beamed heavy-hitter Doug Silverberg, who swept past his American and Mexican opponents in singles play and who kept the Canadians within striking distance.

The 30-year-old Calgary insurance executive scored two points in the singles after teaming with Keith Alexander to pick up two points in the three-ball tests.

Silverberg's surge and unexpected singles sweeps by Bert Ticehurst and Bill Pridick took up the slack caused by the collapse of Gary Cowan, considered Canada's finest.

British Labor Wants Nationalized Industry

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Organized labor in Britain called Thursday for government ownership of more key industries as a means of creating a more democratic society. The appeal for more nationalization, long a basic tenet of Britain's labor movement, was carried unanimously at the annual meeting of the Trades Union Congress, which represents eight million workers. It named road transport, aircraft, steel, shipbuilding and electronics as candidates for nationalization.

Prince To Sail Races

The 26-year-old heir to the Norwegian throne will compete in the world championship for 5.5 meter yachts at Oyster Bay Sept. 9-16 and the old world versus new world races at the bay Sept. 18-21.

Common Market Problems Are Numerous And Varied

NEW YORK (AP) — Hagglers over chickens and wine is only a small part of the battle between the United States and the European Common Market. While the offer of compromise is in the air, the conflict involving money and products is far from settled yet. The United States is angry because the Common Market has raised the tariff on American chickens and all but cut off a profitable market.

Peace gestures by the Europeans

France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg are termed too small to make much difference. So the United States this week is exploring countermeasures, such as raising the tariff on European wines and photographic film, among other things. Also worrying both sides of the Atlantic is the big outflow this year of American investment money. But the two sides take different views of alarm. The United States is worried because the outflow of American dollars increases the deficit in the balance of payments which this year is far from balanced. That builds up surplus dollars abroad which could be turned into the U.S. Treasury for more of its bonds, subject to disturbing shrinkage. Some European countries, although they like to get the dollars, are worried because the American investment money could mean Yankee control of their industries. France is urging the other nations in the Common Market to work out a common policy on foreign investment. Dollars are welcome as long as they aid economic growth in general. They are suspect if they seem to foreshadow American control of particular industries.

School Devotions Are Continuing

By The Associated Press

Public school pupils in thousands of classrooms began the first days of school this year with Bible reading or a prayer, despite the U.S. Supreme Court ban against religious devotions. Open defiance was rare. But a spot check across the nation indicated that religious devotions have continued in many schools. In many cases, school authorities left the decision to individual teachers, most of whom apparently continued their own or their school's practice, whether prayer, Bible reading, silent meditation, inspirational reading or no devotions.

Sabine Pass Centennial Celebration

SABINE PASS, TEX. (AP)—This town and nearby Port Arthur are set for a celebration this weekend observing the centennial of the Battle of Sabine Pass. The Confederates, which this year every street corner, rebel will pierce the air and a Confederate cannon will boom to open the celebration. The occasion will commemorate the victory of Lt. Dick Dowling and his force of "47 Irishmen" who defeated a federal armada which attempted to invade Texas Sept. 8, 1863. Dowling's guns forced the surrender of two gunboats and the capture of 330 Yankee prisoners. The rest of the 29-ship fleet fled to New Orleans. A large quantity of weapons and ammunition also were seized. Hundreds of miles were dumped overboard by the fleeing federal boats. The Confederate resistance was credited with saving Texas from the "scorched earth" ordeal imposed on other areas of the South. Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Odessa will preside at a Saturday centennial luncheon. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr will speak on the significance of the battle.

'Unfair Labor' Charges FTC

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyers representing the Federal Trade Commission and a food store chain, Furr's, Inc., have discussed procedures for the FTC hearing on charges of unfair labor practices. Furr's operates 63 stores in Texas, New Mexico and Colorado. The lawyers agreed to meet again Dec. 6, when it is expected they will decide the time and place for the hearing. They are expected to be Furr's executives and officials of supply companies from whom Furr's buys commodities. In a complaint filed June 28, the FTC accuses Furr's of obtaining payments from supply companies in return for special advertising campaigns which Furr's promoted. Products of the supplying firms were excluded. The FTC says such payments were not accorded competitors and thus put them at a disadvantage.

Indulgence Costly For Aurora, Colo. Woman

AURORA, Colo. (AP)—Evelyn D. Gordon, 26, was fined $100 in Municipal Court Thursday and ordered to pay the cost of replacing a 30 x 36 inch window she broke at the Aurora Police Station. Mrs. Gordon, mother of four, was quoted by officers as saying she threw a brick through the window because "I just always wanted to."

Goldwater's Nomination 'Would Help'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., says Sen. Barry Goldwater's nomination as the Republican presidential candidate "would be a great help" to the party. Tower is here today to discuss party matters with Republican Associates, a California group. Tower said the Arizona Senator's "personal popularity would help greatly in the election of Republican congressmen and senators."

Tower said he won't vote for ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, but predicted it will be approved by the Senate anyway.

"The weight of military and scientific testimony indicates that under such a treaty, we might freeze ourselves into nuclear disadvantage," he said. He urged Republicans to submerge differences. "Republicans can learn a lesson in unity from the Democrats," Tower said. "They fight like alley cats during the year, but unite like thieves at election time."

Heads Bared Traditionally

WASHINGTON (AP) — An ancient tradition of Afghan royalty led visiting King Mohammed Zahir Shah to stand bare-headed in the rain Thursday during welcoming ceremonies on the White House law. When Angier Biddle Duke, chief protocol, offered an umbrella for the protection of the baiding, 46-year-old monarch, an aide murmured: "It is a tradition that his majesty has nothing over his head on ceremonial occasions," the aide said. President Kennedy also took the showers without an umbrella and with a smile. The President is said to detest umbrellas.

Whosoever Will may come to Church may come to God...

the Academic and God

The Great Teacher once said, when the fig tree buds it is spring. We might add, when the youngsters go back to school, it is fall. What a challenge back-to-school brings.

It is time to learn more about math, and science, and citizenship, and God. How necessary to our American way of life are these basic requirements in our educational system. Our curriculum must include some precepts of Jesus if we are to have sufficient moral and spiritual stamina to endure. It has been said, education without a knowledge of God is dangerous. Our teachers, our preachers, and all loyal Americans should see to it that our basic education be broad enough to include both the academic and God. Of course our youngsters should be loyal to their colors, to their school, but they should also be faithful subjects of the Great God. They should worship in church every week.
