COUNSEL WEAVES WEB TO FORCE SINCLAIR OR FALL ON STAND

GOVERNMENT IS VICTOR IN TILT AT TRIAL FRIDAY

CROSS EXAMINATION IS CARRIED AWAY FROM DIRECT QUERIES

BRING UP EVIDENCE

SEEK TO PRESENT OIL TESTIMONY GIVEN AT FORMER HEARING

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.

—Slowly but persistently, special government oil counsel are weaving the web which they hope will force Albert B. Fall or Harry F. Sinclair, or both, to take the witness stand in the oil conspiracy trial in the district of Columbia supreme court.

Their plan of campaign began to develop today as they again blocked defense counsel in their repeated efforts to explain away or weaken the government's case by carrying prosecution witnesses on cross examination far beyond the field opened up by direct questioning.

The lawyers for the former interior secretary and the wealthy oil operator became most persistent in cross-examining K. C. Hold, a former government geologist, about a report he made in Fall in November, 1921, that there was no immediate danger of extensive drainage of Teapot Dome.

In offering Hold's written report to Fall, government counsel stipulated that it was not offered as an accurate presentation of facts but merely to show that such a report was made to Fall, who has contended that the danger of drainage was the leading cause of the lease of Teapot Dome to Sinclair.

Martin W. Littleton of New York City, on behalf of Sinclair, moved to the attack today for the defense in place of George Hoover, who carried the brunt of the bitter fighting on yesterday but he had only little more success than his colleague.

Opposing him stood Owen J. Roberts, of Philadelphia.

"RECKLESS" FLIER FREE

Court Martial Takes Only Five Minutes to Acquit Aviator Whose Plane Hit Soldier

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 21 (AP)—In less than five minutes today a court martial held at Fort Sam Houston held Lieutenant Elmer P. Rose guiltless in the death of Private Robert E. Griffin, who was decapitated by Rose's plane last July.

Immediately following his acquittal, Rose, who is now a reserve flier, announced that he would take an early examination to enter active service as a graduate pilot. He finished the course two months ago at Kelly field but still has the status of a cadet, in spite of his title, Lieutenant.

The verdict was returned by a court of officers representing almost every branch of the service. Rose was indicted after the accident for manslaughter and the case was later reduced to "voluntary manslaughter."

Rose took the stand in his own behalf and testified that he had been instructed to test the effect of his plane on cavalry horses. He also testified that "fluky" or "bumpy" air had caused his plane to dip at the moment he struck Griffin. This testimony was corroborated by several other fliers who were in Rose's formation.

LAMESA HOST FOR EDITORS' MEETING

NEWSPAPERMEN HOLD BUSY SESSION FRIDAY; FINE ENTERTAINMENT

(Special to The Avalanche) LAMESA, Oct. 21.—West Texas Editors captured Lamesa this morning in the annual editors' meeting. Carl Bounder, president of the Local Chamber of Commerce, gave the welcome address which was responded to by J. E. Martin, president of the association, in a very fine eulogy of Lamesa and Dawson county.

At noon, the local Chamber of Commerce gave a luncheon which gave vent to a deluge of editorial oratory. Bowen Pope, editor of the Hamlin Herald, of Hamlin, spoke of what this section looked like twenty years ago saying among other things: "I like the Plains for it was here I found the best woman on earth." Pope also opened fire at all opposition that had even been launched at the Del-Paso Cavern Highway saying that it was now one of the most popular highways in the state as well as one of the best. Other editors plodding cooperation to this highway are: W. E. Reid of Colorado and Judge Hill of Tahoka.

The banquet was served by the women of the First Christian church. The Ray N. Lewis orchestra rendered music throughout the luncheon. Mrs. L. M. Pratt gave a selection of humorous poems to the delight of the editors. Willie Mayfield brought the house down with his usual entertaining guitar solos. A well balanced and instructive program is being followed with the big banquet and great picnic to follow tonight. The fifty dollar gold contest will have strong competition and it is assured that many of the editors will get in for this reward. J. J. Taylor will be the principal speaker at the banquet tonight. The meeting is a strong competitor for the next convention. The editors will spend tonight and tomorrow in carrying out their programs.

FIND WRECKAGE OF PLANE USED BY LOST COUNT

WING MISSING FROM DERELICT LOCATED ON ST. LAWRENCE

LOST THREE DAYS

NO TRACE YET FOUND OF PAIR SURVEYING AROUND QUEBEC

(By Associated Press)

QUEBEC, Oct. 21.—The wreckage of the airplane in which Count De Lesseps and his mechanic were engaged in a surveying flight over the eastern part of the province, was found late today five miles below the village of Matane of the St. Lawrence river.

No trace of the fliers was found, but indications were that they had either jumped from the plane before it landed, or left it after it had descended.

In the cockpit of the plane a watch and a pair of stockings were found. Identification of the plane was made by letterings found on the front of the cockpit. The plane was a lighter engine biplane, one wing and important pieces of the motor are missing. Previous reports told of the finding of a section of an airplane, and a rudder of a plane at Sandy Bay.

The parts of the plane found at Matane were first seen by a farmer while walking along the beach. The sextant and the "joy stick" were said to have still been in their proper places, but the signals designed to hold the sextant in their places were missing. This was taken to indicate that the two aviators managed to free themselves and attempted to swim to shore, or had been picked up by some boat. The latter theory was given credence as the reports from Matane told of finding no trace, of either De Lesseps or his companion.

The aviators have been missing for three days.

ECHO OF HEROISM

Gold Star Mother Learns For First Time The Way Her Son Met Death in World War

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Vera Long, a gray-haired gold star mother from Harrisburg, Pa., today learned for the first time how her son, her only son, was killed in France, nearly ten years ago.

Mrs. Long came here to attend the first division veterans' reunion hoping to find some one who was with her son, a member of Company A, Fifth Field Artillery, when he met death.

Today she timidly approached Hugh Banks, Cleveland, Ill., and Fred Cliff, Farmington, Mich. "Did you know George Long?" "We certainly did," both men chorused, their faces sobering.

"Did you see him killed?" she asked, and when they nodded, she added "won't you please tell me?" "George," said Cliff, "was with seven others, who were killed during training in the front when a shell burst. We were just behind him."

"Thank you so much," she said. A few minutes later she was in a corner of the hotel lobby crowded with laughing veterans. She was crying softly.

STUDENT ROW OVER PRIVILEGES ENDS

TEMPEST STIRRED FOR MORE DATES AND AUTOMOBILE LAXITY CALMS DOWN

(By Associated Press) NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 21.—The tempest stirred up by the University of Oklahoma students for liberalization of the rules governing dating and the use of automobiles tonight had apparently subsided back into its tepor.

After a day of mass meetings and conferences, the student committee appointed to confer with the administrative council and demand more rights, had revised their requests until they barely bore semblance to the ultimatums laid down by another committee that met President W. B. Bizzell.

The student body started a good-natured revolution last night after the publication of university rules by the student newspaper, under the impression that further restrictions were being made in their dating and automobile privileges. Although they were informed this morning by President Bizzell that the rules dated back before the start of his administration and that he proposed to enforce them strictly, the mass of the students continued their campaign for revision.

Informing the students of his willingness to receive committees and petitions at all times, Dr. Bizzell told them he would brook no interference with classes.

The latest demands of the committee include a modification of the rules to permit seniors and juniors to have dates on all week nights until 10:30 p. m., sophomores until 9:30 and all students until 12 a. m. on all week-end nights. The present allows only four dates a week to all students.

The committee also requested that the playing of "boom, sweet boom" at week-end dances be postponed from 11 p. m. until midnight. Liberalization of the automobile rules to allow students holding permits to carry less fortunate companions also was asked. The privilege of taking "dates" on car rides with the chaperonage of parents or guardians also was asked.

PICKETING IS CONTINUED BY MINE WORKERS

ARREST OF OVER 100 I. W. W. FAILS TO HALT PRACTICE

WORK PARALYZED

OPERATORS IN DOUBT AS REQUEST FOR FORCE FAILS

(By Associated Press)

DENVER, Oct. 21.—I. W. W. leaders in the Southern Colorado coal fields announced tonight that picketing would be resumed on an enlarged scale tomorrow despite the arrest today of over a hundred pickets, including 17 women in Huerfano and Las Animas county.

Plans of Sheriff Harry Capps of Huerfano county to employ 100 additional deputies to stop the picketing received a setback late in the afternoon when the county commissioners informed him that they would authorize only ten additional deputies. Earlier in the day the commissioners had instructed Capps to employ as many deputies as he thought necessary to stop picketing. There are 25 mines in Huerfano county. All had planned to start operations again tomorrow from their decision forbidding the additional deputies. Tonight the mine owners were in doubt as to what course they would take.

Force increased. I. W. W. forces in Southern Colorado were reinforced today by additional mine strikers. Sheriff Capps and his deputies arrested 38 pickets today. Fifteen women included in the group were released in a short time. The sheriff announced that he would hold the men until tomorrow so that they could be on picket duty. No charges have been filed against any of the men as yet. The 15 arrested in Las Animas county are held in jail at Trinidad.

Frances Anderson, a large crowd of strikers today and a large crowd shall continue our picketing despite the raids.

In the Aguilar district in Las Animas county the mines were idle. The Northern Colorado lignite fields still were paralyzed by the strikers.

INTERSECTIONAL TILTS LEAD IN SOUTHWEST

(By Associated Press) DALLAS, Oct. 21.—Three intersectional games involving South conference football teams are on the slate for Saturday, the most important probably being the Missouri University, Southern Methodist University clash at the State fair of Texas here with an expected attendance of about 15,000.

Only two Southwest conference games will be played. Rice Institute comes against Texas University at Austin and Texas A. and M. southern to Fort Worth to tackle the Merno Pros of Texas Christian University.

Strolling Down Sports Lane WITH JAMES R. DOW

Now that we have had the Westerner-Tiger game, and everyone is pleased over the results—we'll all turn out to witness the contest this afternoon between two battling collegiate crews—the Texas Tech Matadors and the Sul Ross Teachers. Kick-off at three o'clock—be numbered among the three thousand to attend the clash.

Rated as the underdogs for the afternoon the Westerners swooped down on the Tigers in the first few minutes of play and scored on them—the visitors seemed to be rather startled over the matter and were unaware of the game for a few minutes afterward.

Of course the Westerners had some good breaks in their favor yesterday against the Tigers—but as the mules' time a hustling club battling club will take advantage of the breaks nine times out of ten and check, it must be considered "heads up" football.

This Cullen, of the Tiger backfield, holds the low hurdle record of the Texas inter-collegiate League—that's one big reason he got loose against the Westerners and raced down the field for 48 yards to score the only counter against Frnk's and Morgan's high school leads. Cullen, turned in some excellent work for his eleven yesterday, even though, under pressure most of the way.

I was just a little crossed up on my predictions of an aerial game for the Westerners yesterday—but that's nothing uncommon. Instead of a passing game the Westerner handlers sent their club in to battle straight football all the way. Only one forward pass was attempted by Morgan's backfield and it was incomplete.

If Coach Stanford used his second team against the Westerners, as was reported he would do so.

Three Eagles Made By Tulsa Pro, Who Wins Golfing Tilt

(By Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 21.—Birdies were too small for a big boy like Clarence Clarke so the Tulsa professional went after bigger game and bagged three eagles to win $100 prize money in the pre-amateur event of the Oklahoma City open golf tournament over the Oklahoma city golf and country club links here today.

The big nineteen year old professional, was paired with Ernest Hansberger, Oklahoma amateur. They defeated John Black, Wichita, Kansas, professional and Andy Anderson, of Twin Hills club, of Oklahoma City one up on the eighteenth hole of a play-off. Clarke and Hansberger had a low ball of 65 for the play off after turning the original eighteen in an equal number of strokes to tie Black and Anderson.

The long-driving Clarke pulled the feature of the day's play when he shot the last nine holes of the first round in 31 strokes, five under par. He scored two eagles in a row, one on a 451 yard par five hole where on the second round he carded his third eagle.

Harry Cooper, runnerup in the national open championship this year to Tommy Armour was third when he and N. F. Neill under shot a low ball score of 68.

Charles Guest of Los Angeles paired with J. E. Payne had a 65 as did Jack Hutchinson and Bill Wallace.

Seventy-two pros and forty-two amateurs will tee off at the Lakeside golf and country club tomorrow in the first 36 holes of medal play in the Oklahoma City open tournament. The pros will battle holes will be over the country club links Sunday.

TECH PROMISES IMPROVED OFFENSE

Looking for a hard fought game this afternoon on the Tech gridiron Coach Ewing Y. Freeman and Grady Higginbotham will send in their best bets against the crank "Pop Warner" coached Lobos of the Sul Ross Teachers' College, from the Big Bend country this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Ever since the Matadors got over the crank "Pop Warner" coached Lobos of the Sul Ross Teachers' College, from the Big Bend country this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Tech's offense has been drilled daily to care for the offense that is expected to be opened up today by the Lobo machine.

Graves comes to the South Plains today with a well organized and matured club. The Alphas leader has held in his roster of Tech's offense and the iron has been applied to the wrinkles shown by the home-lings in previous encounters.

"Bize" is of the opinion that a marked improvement will be seen in the action of the Matador offense today. "Dope" White back on the wing position, who is considered as one of the best pass receivers in West Texas college circles, is likely to come in handy at any stage of the contest. Another of the Tech's old-timers, J. B. "Red" Hamilton, a nice interfering back, and a brilliant defensive man, will, too, likely be included in the starting line-up. Walker and Woolbridge, always on the job, will be in the game with a daring fight and will no doubt be as brilliant in their work as ever.

Buddy Va. Buddy. As the whistle rings out for the initial kick-off this evening the fans and players as well will be "buddy" against buddy when Grady Alford, a first year letterman of the Matadors, will be seen on the opposite end of the field from the Matadors. Alford, who was a flashy backfield man of the Matadors during Tech's first football year, is still as colorful on the of-fense as he has ever been.

INJURIES HURT CHANCES OF FROGS

(Special To The Avantage)
 FORT WORTH, Oct. 21.—T. C. U. fans were looking up and hoping for the best today, despite the probability of two of the Horned Frogs' foremost stars being absent from the line-up when the Texas Aggies clash with the Purple here Saturday afternoon.
 Captain "Buckie" Williams' lameness is still giving him much trouble. He took a prolonged workout on the bad leg Thursday but it pained him on the slightest effort. Coach Matty Bell is not depending on him starting the game, but is grooming the lighter, but strong-hearted N. J. (Nasty) Clark to start at quarterback.
 The other Frog star who may be lost to the team Saturday is the brilliant "Hag" Matthews, all-conference end. Matthews has been troubled with a severe cold since the first of the season and early this week developed bronchitis. The team physician has ordered him to the hospital for a complete rest the remainder of this week with the hope that he will clear up sufficiently for him to play at least part of the game. In the interim, Bell is working "Bill" Steadman, regular right end, on the left wing and Acker on right end.
 The other starters likely will be as follows: Jake Williams and Felix Reynolds, tackles; Barr and Fair, guards; Melton, center; Clark, quarterback; Toles and Moran, halves; and Thompson, fullback.
 A complete sell-out of tickets is evident.

Lamesa Rolls Up 40-0 On Amherst

LAMESA, Oct. 21.—The Lamesa team defeated the Amherst football squad here this afternoon, 40 to 0. A strong offensive and hard playing on the part of Lamesa enabled them to pile up the high score. The Amherst squad had a well-drilled team but could not hold the heavy backs of Lamesa. West Texas editors, including State Press of the Dallas News, witnessed the game.

Rule On Punts Dissected Grid Rules Explained Here

By E. J. O'BRIEN
 Famous Football Referee

The change that has been made in Rule 13 is expected to bring back the very pretty play of catching and running back a punt. In recent years most safety men or linemen on defense, who were about to receive a punt, have been coached not to catch the ball, but to let it strike the ground. This was all for fear of a fumble, whereby the ends coming down the field would, as a result, recover the ball and run for a touchdown.
 Years ago, I will remember, what a pretty sight it was to see a safety man catch the ball and run it back, even though he knew that there were two heavy crashing ends coming at him with full speed, ready to tear him apart.
 Jack Cunnell, the old Dartmouth quarter, and now assistant coach at Hanover, was probably one of the best receivers of punts that football ever had, for his record is that he never muffed a punt.
 The rule has now been changed so that any kicked ball legally recovered by the kicker's side before it has actually passed into the hands and possession of the opponents is dead at the point of recovery. This, of course, does not hold good on the free kick.
 It simply means that if a man on defense gets his hands on the ball and it is then recovered by the kicking side, that no run shall be allowed. However, there is an opening possible here. If the defense man actually catches the ball and starts to run with it, and is tackled so hard that he drops it, this ball may be picked up and run with. There is a rather sharp line to be drawn here, but the rule is clear when it states "before it has passed into actual control and possession of the defensive side."

Trinity Walks Over Bobcats For 20 to 0 Victory On Friday

(By Associated Press)
 WAXAHATCHIE, Oct. 21.—Scoring three touchdowns in the first quarter the Trinity Tigers defeated Southwest Texas State Teachers college of San Marcos, 20 to 0, here Friday afternoon.
 Bonnie Pettit, Trinity quarter, played the best game of his career, returning a punt 52 yards to score the Tigers' first touchdown. Whitaker, Trinity fullback, took a short pass from Hill and ran 20 yards for the second counter. Hill passed to Campbell for 30 yards and the third touchdown. Fitzroy and Whitaker made the extra points.
 H. Allen, Roland, Moore and K. Zeltel played star games on the line for Trinity, while Vance, Hopper and Vineyard were the outstanding players for the Teachers.
 The teams battled on even terms. Ouachita college, 29; Arkansas of the Tigers sent its first string back into the game in the fourth end they had little trouble in making three touchdowns against the tired Bobcats.

HOWARD PAYNE WINS FROM AUSTIN

(By Associated Press)
 BROWNWOOD, Oct. 21.—A. A. Houston done to lose the Howard Payne Yellowjackets came through with an impressive Texas Conference victory here Friday afternoon, by defeating the Austin College Mustangs, 22 to 6. At no time did the Yellowjacket goal in danger.
 Howard Payne scored a field goal early in the first quarter and was never headed. Early in the third quarter Frisco blocked a punt by Austin and made his cover for the Jackets on the Kansases' 17-yard line. On the third play, Howard skinned left and for the longdown that took the fight out of the Sherman boys.
 Payne's from his own 11-yard line on a fourth down, Keeling hit the ball to an over. Baylor went through and for the second touchdown and added the extra point. Oklahoma blocked Keeling's punt and forced another touch-down late in the fourth period. Gosh, Jacket full, was the star of the week. xxxxx hope not far behind.

Cudahy's Puritan Ham
 "Ripened Naturally" for Finer Flavor
 Cudahy's Puritan Ham is "ripened naturally"—a special Cudahy method which gives to Puritan its finer flavor and greater tenderness—qualities which make it so distinguished.
 "Ripened naturally" is an exacting method. It diffuses the rich juices of the choice young meats selected for Puritan in a natural way. There is no forcing or hurrying.
 The result is like fruit tree-ripened, compared to fruit artificially ripened. Puritan is, therefore, uniformly rich, sweet and delicious and so tender and mild, that par-boiling is unnecessary before frying or broiling.
 Try Puritan. You'll be delighted with its finer qualities. At your dealers. "The Taste Tells."

At Bob Smith, Judge Chapman said the confusion can be used as evidence if you believe from the evidence found a reasonable doubt that this confession was freely made by the defendant without compulsion or persuasion and that it was made in writing and signed by the defendant, and that the defendant was warned by Clem Calhoun, first that he did not have to make any statement at all; second, that any statement made by this defendant might be used against him.

Much of the defendant's testimony this morning centered about the alleged coercion, threats, and abuse at the hands of Frank Whaley, charged that Whaley told him "I am Bob Smith's brother." This was refuted by Whaley, Sheriff O'Bar, Rains and Clem Calhoun, who took the stand to deny it in the course of the trial.

RAILROADS VOTE TO HELP FARMER

COMMISSIONERS DECLARE OPPOSITION TO REPEAL HOCH-SMITH LAW

(By Associated Press) DALLAS, Oct. 21.—Declaring opposition to the repeal of the Hoch-Smith resolution, the 29th annual convention of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners went on record today as favoring relief to the farmer as provided in the measure until proper rates shall have been fixed by legislation.

The convention at its closing session also went on record as urging the adoption of a resolution favoring the adoption of textbooks in schools and colleges which give an unbiased and instructive course in public utilities.

The resolution which urged that congress be asked to amend the Interstate Commerce Act to provide for the division of the United States into 11 districts with representation from each district, was ordered referred back to the executive committee for further action.

O. P. Jacobson, chairman of the railroad and warehouse committee of Minnesota, this morning urged that crop conditions reports issued by the federal and state governments and state universities, be stopped by congressional action. He assured that such reports were merely "food for gamblers."

More than 125 commissioners and their families left here on a special train this afternoon for a three-day tour of the Rio Grande Valley, Houston, Galveston and other south Texas cities. The train will arrive back in Dallas next Tuesday at 8 a. m. The Texas committee, consisting of Clarence Gilmore, Lon A. Smith and C. V. Terrell are hosts for the tour. The tour is arranged in cooperation with the citizens of the valley, and the chambers of commerce of Houston and Galveston.

OIL TRIAL

who is conducting the government's case with former Senator Allen Comerson of Ohio.

Justice sustains Roberts. Littleton sought to show that Field made an erroneous report and that this was the reason Field did not rely upon it. Roberts objected and was sustained by Justice Siders.

Roberts finally told the court that it was important for the government to show that such a report was made; that it was for Fall to explain why he did not act upon it. With that view, Justice Siders agreed.

Having won this skirmish, one they regard as highly important, government counsel next turned to an effort to get before the jury evidence which Sinclair gave before the oil committee nearly four years ago. Defense counsel interposed vigorous objections; the question was argued for two hours and Justice Siders took it under advisement before adjourning court until Monday.

Special oil counsel want to present to the jury Sinclair's statement to the senate committee that he visited Fall at his Three Rivers, New Mexico ranch during the Christmas holidays, in 1921, to discuss the lease of Teapot Dome. Defense counsel already have told jury that they would show that the oil wells in Osage Indian lands in Oklahoma and that the Teapot Dome subject came up only incidentally.

As they have prepared their case, counsel for the government have planned to put in much of both Sinclair's and Fall's testimony before the senate committee. They were successful in a similar effort at the trial last year of Fall and Edward L. Doherty on a criminal conspiracy trial growing out of the Elk Hills, naval oil reserve lease.

Highland Park Cadets Win Cup

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—Highland Park high school's cadet entry won the Reserve Officers Training Corps drill cup in competition with thirteen teams from over the state at the State Fair of Texas here Friday. Allen Academy of Bryan was second in the state and first in the out of Dallas division.

John Hartson, agricultural coliseum at Stephenville, was second in the latter division and Texas Military Academy, San Antonio, was third. Oak Cliff high won second in the Dallas division and Sunset Heights third. Bryan high won an award as the best appearing company.

Army officers, chiefly from Fort Sam Houston, were sworn in, in the parade of the week of the student soldiers.

Herzet Wins Suit For Crop Damage

Judgment for $150 was rendered by the jury in the damage suit which has been on trial in county court, styled Herzet versus J. B. Johnson and Walter Morehouse, yesterday when the case was set. The suit grew out of damage to crops on the lands of the plaintiff. The defendants were ordered to pay for $500 bundles of feed at six cents a bundle.

Vindication Swim Of Channel Fails

LONDON, Oct. 21. (AP)—The vindication swim of Miss Mercedes Gleitz was thwarted today by the cold waters of the English Channel when the London tylist was eight miles from her goal—the cliffs of Dover.

Starting from France, at Cape Gris Nez, to swim to England early this morning, she battled the chill of the channel waters until afternoon when she was forced to give up the unequal struggle.

The young woman swimmer was reduced to a state of semi-consciousness by the intense cold and seemed half asleep when she was taken to Folkeston Harbor.

Miss Gleitz was attempting to repeat her channel swim of October 2, as a gesture of "vindication" declaring that after the criticism perpetrated by Dr. Cochrane Logan "something must be done to restore the prestige which Dr. Logan's criticisms have impaired."

Son Lubbock Folk Will Open Revival

Two of his sermons will be put on the radio, thus affording Lubbock friends an opportunity to hear him. One of those to be radioed will be delivered tomorrow morning; the other on the night of October 31.

Labor Needs Are Now All Supplied

Few South Plains communities are now in need of cotton pickers, according to R. F. Woodward, special agent for the Federal Employment Bureau, who has established offices in the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Woodward says that the demand has been generally supplied, although requests for pickers were received from Spur, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Shallowater, Idalou and other nearby sections.

Beautify Square In Town Estelline

ESTELLINE, Oct. 21.—Work is progressing rapidly on transformation of the Estelline public square from its "forest" stage into a trim plot of cultivated beauty. It is planned to border the square with a hedge, to seed it with grass, and to set out trees, flowers, and plants of beauty. Sidewalks and a big light centering the square are expected to add much to its attractiveness. A landscape gardener of Plainview is directing the work, which will materialize wholly within twelve months. The Estelline Booster Club has been reorganized recently and much enthusiasm in civic development is apparent in all lines.

SUIT TO DISOLVE TRUST AGREEMENT IS IN PROGRESS

HOUSTON OIL COMPANY STOCK SHOWS EARNING

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—Houston Oil company of Texas and Houston Pipe line of Texas earned $1.8 a share on the common stock in the nine months of 1927, with a net profit of $1,945,748 which declined from $2,210,154 in the corresponding 1926 period, it was announced here today.

W. Miller in 1925. With the opening of the Cherokee strip in 1923 their father began expansion until the property included its present area. Colonel George W. Miller died several years ago.

While Col. Joe Miller managed the large show, his brother Beane has remained at the ranch which he has managed and George has been following his oil interests in Oklahoma and Texas.

picked up by the sheriff. The afternoon session was dull, although Judge Jeffrey, incensed by repeated disturbances in the court room, warned the crowd that he probably would have someone arrested if they failed to keep quiet. Most of the afternoon was devoted to testimony about the prejudice alleged in the defense motion. Some said that they believed Millikin could be tried fairly, others said no.

C. C. Ward, one of the three signing an affidavit expressed belief of prejudice, and A. C. Roberts told of indications of prejudice, some bitter.

Seven state witnesses, however, delivered themselves of the general tenor that almost anybody could get a fair trial in Caldwell county. These included William Tyler of Prairie, who has 600 acres of land with 12 oil wells on it and J. E. Taylor, Luling; A. J. Moyer, Dale; A. C. Grave, McMath; C. E. Daniel, Lockhart.

Makes Personal "Kick." Millikin was with a coat and wore a pair of black suspenders. He had his main lining "kicked" to the court that he was underfed at the jail. Although admitting he had been an egg, toast and coffee (or breakfast) he was taken out and fed four more eggs, coffee and milk.

He said he was born a Catholic but is now a spiritualist by belief, and used to be a student of chiropractic. He claimed to be afraid the sheriff would kill him, and told of being taken to Austin Thursday night against his will for a sanity examination arranged by District Attorney Bludell.

Bludell, after disposition of the venue motion, was smiling and content. He winked at the jurors, and affectionately impatience and courtesy. Clarence Gunn, his colleague, was urbane and Sardonian.

Cotton Oil Mill Built At Lockney

LOCKNEY, Oct. 21.—Within the next three months, Lockney will have in operation the largest and most up-to-date cotton oil mill on the entire Plains country, and one of the largest of the state. The plant will be a manufacturing plant as well as a mill. Many kinds of food will be manufactured, and various articles will be made by utilizing lint from the cotton seed. The third building of the Lockney Cotton Oil mill is practically complete, and machinery is ready to be put in running order. A fourth building is yet to be constructed.

SPORT LANE

NOW FOR TECH—SUL ROSS

Today is the day—to be or not to be—we are going to have a real good contest this afternoon for the Lobos from the Big Bend territory are tough. They have in their party several players who have long years of experience in the football circles. Moco Dowler, hefty lineman, has had experience with the Amarillo Sandles and a year of college experience. Charlie Dyer, a former Clarendon Bulldog, who battled against the Matadors, is too, numbered among the Lobos. "Cole" Younger, captain of the visitors, is a Tulsa high school product, and a running back "Galloping Baby" Ford, the heavyweight wingman, of the Lobos, too, is a former Tulsa high school lad and has had two years of college experience. Then there is E. B. Grady, formerly with the Howard Payne Yellowjackets, and Gene Alford, a former Matador, with R. C. Graves.

It is likely that Chubby De Witt and Jack Harley will be placed on the bench throughout the game today as they are both injured. Neither has been in uniform this week.

Let's fill Tech's new steel and concrete stands this afternoon. It will hold 4,000 people and there is no reason why 4,000 fans of Lubbock and the South Plains shouldn't see this game—fort from all indications its going to be a hard afternoon.

Here is the probable line-up for the scarlet and black this afternoon: Jennings and White ends; Vermillion and Carpenter tackles; Reed (Captain) and Harris, guards; Corley, center; Woodridge, quarter; Hamilton and Walker, halves; and Nicholas, full.

After A Fourth Attempt——to get his number we heard the following. Is this number—? She answered sweetly: "No this is the telephone exchange—whats for you?" Answer: "I would like to exchange my telephone for a good pair of second hand toe nail clippers."

We'll we would not exchange our telephone for anything for we still believe we might get an order over it some day. Excuse us please Central, Quinn's waiting for this ad and we had to write something.

We have today one dozen or more kinds of fresh fish and plenty of those Applegarth Oysters. Like other things of value Fish and Oysters vary in quality—try ours and notice the difference.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—Cottonseed oil was more active today with irregular price movements. Closing 5 points lower to 12 1/2. DUN'S WILL SAY:

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say: In some departments of trade signs of betterment appear. In others, however, where lack of progress has occasioned complaints, conditions are still backward, but further evidence is shown to sustain the belief in a large movement which will ultimately be helpful to business. Reports from most parts of the country reflect a broadening tendency, especially in sections of the west where remunerative prices for leading farm products have an important bearing. In the primary textile markets for dry goods, business continues below current production. As the cooler weather settles over a wider area, more reports are received of a quickening retail demand and the movement of goods at wholesale is distinctly better in many distribution centers than a year ago. Weekly bank clearings $1,711,826,000, an increase of 8.9 per cent over last year.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21. (AP)—The early decline in the cotton market today but higher prices attracted realizing and selling on fears of a large gain in total and a good portion of the advance was lost in the late trading. December contracts after selling up from 18.65 to 20.35, eased off and closed at 19.85, compared with 19.75 at yesterday's close. The May position closed at 20.95, five points down with the general market steady, net seven unchanged at 13.75 to 13.75.

points up to five down. The opening was easy it is said to lower Liverpool cables. First trades showed declines of 11 to 13 points. The continued good weather in the belt caused a further decline in the early trading and January dropped to 13.53 and March 13.87. Prices rallied promptly on good trade buying and price fixing by spinners. The market appeared to be in an over-sold condition and this probably helped the advance to a large extent. Near midmonth January had traded to 20.95 and March 20.23, 24 to 42 points above the low. The market quieted down as the decline of 11 to 15 points under continuation of recent selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of good weather for the south. All series positions made new low ground for the movement. December selling off to 19.45 and March to 19.71, declines of about 5 to 5 1/4 cents a pound, compared with high levels early last month. These prices brought in increased trade, stepped, and as the market steadied, covering became more active. Rallies followed, promoted by reports of a steady spot situation in the south and for a time the market showed firmness. Early losses not only were recovered, but more active positions sold to 20 to 22 points above yesterday's closing quotation, March advancing to 20.15. Demand tapered off at these figures, as if checked by a private midmonth report placing the indicated crop at 13,761,999 bales or about 6000 above the end September indication. Business slackened after reaction to above yesterday's closing quotations, but slight bulges seemed to meet increased offerings and selling was more active in late trading, when prices appeared to be a renewal of southern feeding and liquidation. Closing quotations were within 10 or 11 points of the lowest on most positions. Rumors of heavy private spinning figures were not confirmed, but may contribute somewhat to the unsettled condition of the afternoon market. Private cables reported hedge selling with local and continental liquidation in Liverpool. Port receipts today 62,955 U. S. port stocks 2,044,227. Exports today 35,941, making 1,506,346 so far this season.

NEW YORK MARKETS
NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—The cotton market today attracted extensive trade buying but it was supplied on rallies of 24 to 42 points. After selling up from 19.45 to 19.90, December closed at 19.85 under renewed liquidation. The general market closed easy at net declines of 5 to 11 points. Sunday-School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson For October 23, 1927.

GENERAL TOPIC: "The Call of the Prophet"

SCRIPTURE LESSON: I Kings 19: 1-19. Amos 7: 1-17. Isaiah 6: 1-7. Jer. 1: 1-10. So he departed hence, and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing, with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and he with the twelfth; and Elisha passed over unto him, and cast his mantle upon him.

20. And he left the oxen, and ran after Elisha and said, Let me, I pray thee, kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. And he said unto him, Go back again: for what I have done to thee?

Amos 7: 14. Then answered Amos, and said, Amosah, I was no prophet, neither was I a seer; but I was a herdsman, and a dresser of sycamore-trees:

15. And Jehovah took me from following the flock, and Jehovah said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

16. In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up; and his train filled the temple.

2. Above him stood the seraphim: each one had six wings, with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly.

3. And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is Jehovah of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.

4. And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5. Then said I, woe is me! For I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for mine eyes have seen the King, Jehovah of hosts.

6. Then flew one of the seraphim unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar.

7. And he touched my mouth with it, and said, Now is thy iniquity taken away, and thy sin forgiven.

8. And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here I am; send me.

9. And he said, Here I am; send me.

Elijah Finds Elisha, V. 19

"So he departed thence." Elisha as we have already learned in lesson II. of this quarter, was on Mount Sinai, fleeing from the wrath of Jezebel. There God revealed Himself to him in the "still small voice" bidding him kneel and bow as king of Syria, Jehu as king of Israel, and Elisha as prophet in his own place. "And found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing, with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and he with the twelfth; and Elisha passed over unto him, and cast his mantle upon him."

have taken him occasionally to the Northern Kingdom, which was then at the height of its power under Jehoshaphat, II, and there in Bethel, a center of idolatry, facing the angry condemnation of the chief priest, Amaziah, he denounced publicly the wickedness of court, priests, and people. He appears to have escaped, to have returned home, and there to have written his remarkably vigorous and picturesque prophecy, perhaps the earliest of the prophetic writings of the Old Testament. It is full of images drawn from the outer life which Amos lived, and it involves in a series of eight "dooms" Judah and the Northern Kingdom and all the surrounding nations, passing on to a series of vivid visions, and closing with a burst of sunshine, God's forgiveness which awaits the repentance of his people.

The Prophet Isaiam.

He is known as "the evangelical prophet," the prophet of "good news." He is the chief of the prophets, not only because of the unequalled beauty and grandeur of his language, but especially because he had the clearest vision of the coming Messiah. He expressed a profound influence over the nation, and his advice had great weight with king and court.

The Vision of Isaiam.

"In the year that King Isaiam died I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up." The throne was a lofty one, as befitted the majesty of Him who sat thereon. Isaiam had been wondering who could take the place of the powerful sovereign whose death had filled the land with mourning.

"Above him stood the seraphim." While the Lord was seated, the seraphim stood in the attitude of servants. Nowhere else in Scripture are the seraphim described as angelic beings.

The Seraphim.

"Each one had six wings, with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly." "With twain they did fly; in the ministry of God; with twain in humility they hid their face. But most sublime of all perhaps is this, that before the dealing radiance of God with twain they covered their faces; obedience, humility and reverence are thus symbolized.

Missionary Call—"Who Will Go?"

"And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" Whoever should be sent would go as a representative of the Deity and also of all the heavenly hosts attendant upon Him. The abruptness of the question is most significant. What the answer is to be, not set forth.

"Angus" means "messenger." "Missionary" means "one sent forth." Herein lies the significance of Christianity, that it recognizes God as eagerly outreaching to bring all men into His joy.

The Missionary Reply—"Here Am I; Send Me."

"Then I said, Here am I, send me." "Woe is me" cried Isaiam, conscious of his sin. "Here am I" he fairly shouted in his exuberant joy over his forgiven and purity restored. "He had been weighed down with a sense of national wickedness; in his new strength he rejoiced to be sent with God's mes-

The Manhunter's Own
True Story
Gordon Hines

WHAT Has Been Told:—

Prize. Norfleet, a Texas rancher swindled out of $45,000 by a confidence gang headed by Jon Furey and W. B. Spencer, resolves to destroy the ring if possible. After some time before he would arrive in San Bernardino, California. They are headed to Fort Worth for trial. Norfleet then follows the wild tip of a stranger and hurries to Florida where he understands that his men have gone. He spends some time trying to aid an old couple—named Bockerman, who have been robbed of a life time's savings by swindlers at Clearwater. Unsuccessful in this, he talks casually with a young garage mechanic and learns of a place at St. Augustine where many swindlers hang out. After a futile watch for a whole night he goes to a small restaurant for breakfast. Here he recognizes two of the Bockerman swindlers and he hurries away to get officers to make an arrest. When the Chief of Police is shown the Bockerman swindlers, he becomes confused and hurries away pleading another engagement.

Chapter Twelve

Sheriff Boyce lived within the prison grounds, some distance beyond the historic gates of St. Augustine. I learned that it would be some time he finds two of his men at his office. I waited. He came some time later and granted me an immediate interview. I told him the story of my near capture of the Bockerman holdups, making no mention, however, of the Chief's action when I showed him the men. I felt that it would do no good to stir up discord between the county and city officers. Boyce was interested in the case and put his force immediately into action to try to bring the outlaws into the grasp of the law. I also showed him my deputy sheriff's credentials from Hale County, Texas, and the papers I carried for Furey, Spencer and Hamlin. I was sure I could confide in Boyce. He seemed sincere and trustworthy.

He willingly wrote on the back of my warrants the authority for me to execute them in his county, and pledged me the support of his organization if I should need it. This was a great help, as his signature on the warrants gave me as much official power as if I were an officer of his county and state. After leaving the office, I went to the railroad station. Crowds drew me like a magnet and I never had an opportunity to scan the faces of those who moved among large groups and with heavy traffic streams. At the station, I walked up and down, talking freely with the crush of people. Suddenly I sighted, some distance down the platform, the dark, slender "property owner" whom I had seen in the coffee shop. He was standing near the revolving gates which admitted the arriving passengers of the train. I went up to a patrolman and engaged him in conversation. Meanwhile, I kept my eye on the figure by the gate. The officer said his name was Ward. He said he was one of the town's old-timers. He was a candidate for sheriff, running against Boyce, the man I had just visited. This news gave me a degree of confidence. What better opportunity would a candidate want than to have the honor of capturing one of the Bockerman swindlers?

If the Lord had served Mr. Ward to me on a silver platter, I would not have been more grateful. Here was a chance for Ward to prove his worth as a public servant. "The right man for the place" would be his slogan. I had just seen the morning's episode again, omitting mention of the Chief's peculiar action. "Now," I exclaimed, "what would you do if you saw one of those crooks?"

He had been sitting on the running board of a Packard car. He started up and looked at me convincingly, a glitter of determination in his eye. "Say! Say, if I ever got my eagle eye on one of those tough birds believe me, he'd never get away!"

"Well," I said, "get your eagle eye open. I'm going to show you one of them."
"Well, I'll be damned! What do you mean?"

"Look," I pointed in the direction of the bluff, "see—there by the gate, just past the electric light pole. That's him! Now follow your eagle eye and we'll have him in a second!"

We walked toward the man; as we drew near, within a few steps Ward stopped. He leaned his big body to one side and peered at the man. He trained his eagle eye on him. Then he turned to me and said, in a low tone: "I'll never forget that guy as long as I live. I'd know him anywhere on earth. But I think we'd better lay low and get him when his gang is with him. That's the best way."

With this speech, he turned away and walked rapidly from me. Failure to hand this fellow, when I had him all but in jail, made me feel that I was wasting time and

I decided in behalf of the Bockerman to carry on my own work. At least I could act in my own case, as I was armed with authority. I'd not depend too much on officers. Seeing how things were run in St. Augustine, I decided that I would accomplish little good there. If the officers were working with the confidence rings, it would not be long until I would be as well known to the swindlers as if I too were an old-timer, like Officer Ward.

My experiences made me sure that had I found Furey and Spencer in St. Augustine, I could have depended on no one but Sheriff Boyce, and it would be entirely likely that the others would be able to frustrate his efforts to help me. I realized that I was a long way from graduating from the school of experience.

I would keep my gun on my hip and free in its holster. At least, I would be able to depend upon it. Next day, while searching the morning paper for possible information, I came upon an article which stated that three confidence men had been arrested in Tampa. Three of them! It might be my own trio, Furey, Spencer and Hamlin, though I hardly expected to find Hamlin with the others, since Gerber had told me of his little holdup in St. Anthony at San Antonio. I understand, however, that crooks and thieves are very broadminded and forgiving, and I reasoned that their charitable nature might have commended Hamlin for their forgiveness, particularly if it could be made to pay.

One lead being as good as another to an amateur detective, groping in the dark, I left immediately for Tampa. When I arrived there I lost no time in getting to the police department. I inquired if the three bunco men whom they had arrested the day before were still in jail and if I might see them. I got a very cold reply that they were not there.

They furnished cash bonds and were gone. I asked their names and if their pictures had been taken; I was just as coldly told that they had not. It was certainly a frigid atmosphere. I tried to write a little further information from the dry-cell in brass buttons whose whole aim in life seemed to be to prevent official information from leaking. He evidently had a short circuit, for speech came hard with him.

I later learned that the three men were not the ones I sought. However, I also learned that they never re-claimed their cash bonds. I conceived a little scheme which enabled me to start a conversation with most any stranger regarding the operations of the con men. I carefully clipped every newspaper story I could run across which referred to swindling games and swindlers. I would take a current issue of a well-known newspaper and neatly paste my clipping over one of similar size in the paper so that it seemed to have just been published. Thus, I could carelessly open the newspaper at the proper moment and casually refer to the item, sometimes reading it to a strange listener. The strangers usually humored me and occasionally they were genuinely interested. Many, many times they made comments or dropped bits of information that helped me to piece my ragged clues together. This little "Home Edition" of my own became a regular ruse to start conversations along the right line. During the long months I trailed the fugitives, I was seldom without an down-to-date copy in my pocket. I must have used a gallon of paste keeping the edition up to date. No matter how old the clipping might be, it always passed as new when opened in current issue of a paper.

I often read these items to police officers, and, since they always know something of the swindling activities going on in their communities or near-by ones, I frequently got valuable tips. I was again haunting the train stations. At Tampa, I found an important-looking bluecoat, standing at the entrance to the waiting room. I thought I'd brace him and hit up a confab. I judged by his supercilious air that he would love to patronize me loftily and throw me a few choice chunks of his verbal wisdom. As he apparently owned a considerable portion of the station and of Tampa, I concluded that it might be well to seem a pretty ignorant block, with an altitude of holy reverence toward a blue uniform with brass buttons.

I held my home edition in my hand and walked up to him, grinning like a country simpleton. I looked up at him admiringly and spoke in a cracked, high-pitched voice: "Hi, Mister Officer. Say, kin you tell me what they mean by this here h-u-n-c-o 'business'?" I spelled out the word "I see as how some of 'em was arrested here yistiddy. Three of 'em. I seen it here in the paper."

He looked at me in surprise and, adopting the tone of one who explains to a child, said: "Do you mean that you don't know what a bunco man is?" "No," I said, round-eyed with curiosity. "No, I don't. I thought maybe you'd learn me?" (Continued tomorrow)

Contract Let For Paving at Canyon
(Special To The Avalanche)
CANYON, Oct. 21.—Contract for the grading on the first eight miles of the base for the paved road from Canyon to Amarillo will be let early in November, according to statements of county officials of Randall county. It is possible that the contract for the remainder of the road grading will be let by the first of January though it may be delayed until spring.

A viaduct crossing the Santa Fe tracks will add greatly to the safety of this stretch of road which will practically make Canyon and Amarillo one, with the college facilities of Canyon within thirty minutes of Amarillo students.

Abernathy Feed Crop Is Larger
ABERNATHY, Oct. 21.—The feed crop of the Abernathy section is estimated as being three times as large as that of last year, and large shipments of grain are being made from local elevators. Sudan is especially good this season, and though the price is somewhat lower than in former years, it is bringing considerable money to Abernathy farmers.

its future been more bright. Hundreds of acres of land are now being sown in wheat and a fine yield is indicated. Chickens, hogs, and cows are supplementing the staple crops with sure and steady income. Watermelons have been a good money crop, too, during the season.

Mocking mirrors

Mocking shapes of silvered glass that tell the truth. . . . What a tragedy that some women fade so soon! Just a few short years ago, beauty and health were theirs to spare. Now—their mirrors mock them! Wan, thin cheeks, haggard smiles, betray the price of neglect!
It is terrible—the toll that constipation takes in health and happiness. It thives beauty. It wrecks vitality. It is the cause of much suffering and disease. And all the while it could be so easily relieved! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—safely, permanently.
Why ALL-BRAN is superior to "part-bran" is a large part of ALL-BRAN is "bulk." This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the intestines, gently distending them—purifying, eliminating poisonous wastes. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is often too small to do this work. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN—because it is 100% bran—100% effective.

No more need for pills
How different from habit-forming pills and drugs! Which become useless unless the dose is constantly increased. ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak for a few moments to bring out all its delicious flavor. Try it in soups. With other cereals.
But be sure to get genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by the Kellogg Company in Battle Creek, Mich. Write for free "Treatise on Constipation."

Santa Fe Purchases Promote Prosperity
WHILE the Santa Fe is itself a large employer of labor—its payroll in 1926 totalled $107,000,000, and its employes number more than 75,000—indirectly as a buyer of materials and supplies it helps to furnish employment to many more. Such purchases last year exceeded $64,000,000. In addition it bought over $12,000,000 of new cars and locomotives.
Its largest class of material was fuel, which totalled $24,350,000. This consisted of about 2,267,000 tons of coal, and 507,800,000 gallons of fuel oil. The use of coal or oil on any division is determined primarily by which is the cheaper fuel in that locality.
The second largest class of purchases was iron and steel products, for which the expenditure was approximately $19,750,000. This included an expenditure of $9,500,000 for 152,700 tons of rail, frogs, switches, and fastenings. $1,500,000 went for wheels, axles, and tires, and $306,000 for flues and tubes for locomotives. Bridges, turntables, structural steel, forgings, and fabricated, unfabricated, and pressed steel took nearly $3,000,000. Steel and iron are basic necessities in railroading.
Purchases of forest products totalled $6,412,000, which included over 3,000,000 cross ties, and large quantities of lumber and timbers. The Santa Fe creosotes its ties and much of its timbers, otherwise greater quantities would be needed each year.
Folders, report blanks, notices, tickets, tariffs, and various items in the stationery line required $1,225,000, electrical materials $660,000, lubricating oil and grease, illuminating oils, waste, etc., $1,180,000, and air brake material $617,600.
These purchases were necessary to maintain the railroad properly and to give satisfactory service to the public. They were covered by 130,000 invoices and were made from 3,347 individuals and firms. Note the wide spread of this buying.
Thus the Santa Fe and all railroads are an important factor in maintaining the prosperity of our country through the employment arising from these large purchases of supplies, as well as the millions directly disbursed among their own employes for services.
When the railroads are doing well, they buy materials and supplies on a larger scale than when net revenues fall off. Money thus spent mainly pays for the labor of many persons, helping merchants, farmers, everybody—your own community included. You therefore are vitally interested.
