Area Producers Take Chance On Bale Count

Hot, dry weather and spotty cotton crops did not deter area residents from making the Annual Farm Tour or from taking a stab at estimatting the number of cotton bales to be produced in Mitchell County this season.

Tour's End

More than 130 persons made the tour and almost that many made a guess, the outcome of which will not be known until ginning season is over.

Last year, gins operated full-time until the end of March, at which time 81,959 bales of cotton had been produced in this county.

Roy Holland's estimate of 81,888 bales won him the plaque presented by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce for the closest estimate to the exact number of bales ginned for the 1979 cotton season.

The preceding year, Jack Green won when his guess of 37,894 bales

Farm Tour Attracts 130 Area Residents

About 130 persons boarded three busses Thursday morning to participate in one of the most diversified Farm Tours ever presented in Mitchell County.

The Nutty Acres Pecan Orchard, located on the Snyder Highway and owned by Linden Solomon, was the first stop on the tour.

Here spectators witnessed a demonstration of the latest insect control spraying equipment for pecan trees.

Solomon explained the underground drip irrigation system installed in 1975, consisting of about 14,000 feet of PVC pipe.

"If any of you are planning to install an underground system, be sure you use PVC and not black plastic pipe," Solomon said.

"There is nothing a gopher would rather eat than that black plastic pipe," he noted.

The orchard, consisting of 48 trees per acre, was designed by Leon New, irrigation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

R.B. Golden's farm was the next visitation site. It was a rancher's dream, covered in knee-high grass.

Soil Conservation Service Director Van Mills explained the 15 varieties of grass planted on the farm were being tested to demonstrate salt tolerance.

The saline grass varieties which faired the best on the salty land were Alkali Sacaton; three wheat grasses, Jose, Platt and Largo and Kentucky 31 Fescue. A new grass called Alamo Switch was also one of the most tolerant varieties.

Mills explained the three wheat grasses and Kentucky 31 Fescue are grasses that will grow all year around with the exception of the summer months of July and August when they are dormant.

Bobby Lemons' farm was number three stop on the tour. Spectators not only got a preview of what to expect from eight different varieties of cotton, but also got a look at a successful tomato patch.

Wind erosion prevention was the fourth demonstration on the tour.

The farm of Anasticio Alvarez had been farmed with cotton burr mulching for the past three years.

This is done to prevent wind and water erosion.

Alvarez told spectators in that period his production had increased about 100 pounds per acre.

The mulch is applied at about seven tons per acre in the blanks rows only.

By the fourth year, the "gin trash" (cotton burrs) is applied, production is expected to have doubled.

One problem is created by the use of cotton burr mulch. That problem is a substantial increase in field weeds.

An enormous circular irrigation pivot system was demonstrated next on property farmed by Custom Ag.

Three of these systems were purchased by Custom Ag originally and they have proved so successful that another four have been ordered according to Roy Holland, president.

"This is the most efficient watering system in operation," Holland said. "There is about 60 per cent less water evaporation using this system. The estimated cost on one five inch pipe system is $32,000. The cost of one six and five-eights-inch pipe system is $36,000," Holland noted.

Busses pulled into the Custom Ag Plant where a refreshing watermelon break was furnished by Travis Turner before

New City Secretary On Council Agenda

The appointment of a new city secretary is one item on a 14 item agenda for the regular monthly meeting of the city council of Colorado City.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in City Hall.

The appointment of a new city secretary is necessary due to the selection of former city secretary Brenda Tarter as city manager. Mrs. Tarter will recommend Rita Campos for her former position. Miss Campos has been with the city for six years and was Mrs. Tarter's assistant for a number of years as city secretary and tax assessor-collector.

The council will also receive the 1980 tax roll for approval. The tax roll shows $11,771,200 in valuations which will bring in $245,077.29 in taxes, about $15,000 more than was estimated when the city budget was approved in April.

The council also will hear a report from the airport zoning committee. The committee is to meet at 2 p.m. Monday in City Hall. Also, scheduled to meet Monday is the cemetery board with the meeting to start at 4 p.m. at City Hall.

Regarding the new city airport northwest of the city, runway lights are now in operation and utilities have been cut off at the old airport east of town.

The city is to turn over the airport east of town to the landowner O.B. Trulock, effective Jan. 1. A contract between the city and Trulock will be considered during Tuesday's meeting of the council. The council will pay Trulock $6,000 in lieu of restoring the land to its original condition as provided for in a contract when the city leased the land from Trulock in the early 1960's.

Also to be considered when the contract with Trulock is discussed is

by Donna Watson

On November 4, Texans will be asked to vote for more than just a president and other elected officials. They will also be asked to amend the Texas Constitution nine times.

In the next few columns, I will try to give a brief insight into each proposed amendment.

Since the Texas Constitution was adopted in 1876, there have been 378 amendments proposed and 235 adopted.

Amendments are more than just political rhetoric, they are the laws under which we must all live and therefore deserve careful consideration.

The first amendment to be listed on the November ballot concerns the use of unmanned teller machines which allow banks to engage in branch banking.

The Texas Constitution prohibits state and national banks from participating in branch banking. Branch banking is "engaging in the business of banking at more than one location."

That prohibition, which dates from 1904, is the result of a distrust of branch banking based on reasons that include concern for the stability of banks, fear that many banks could fail in a short period, desire to control the influence of large banking interests and fear of a banking monopoly.

Prior to 1904, the Texas Constitution even prohibited the incorporation of banks by the state.

The federal courts have ruled than an electronic device that performs banking functions and that is installed away from the primary location of a bank is in fact a branch bank.

Arguments for the amendment are:

1. Unmanned teller machines allow customers to transact business at convenient locations at any time of day or night.

2. Because each bank has the right to share in the use of the machines, a bank will be able to serve a larger area than it currently serves. Competition among banks will increase.

3. The use of unmanned teller machines allows banks to better compete with savings and loan associations, which currently may have more than one business location while banks are restricted to a single location.

Arguments against the amendments are:

1. The cost of installing a network of unmanned teller machines would probably be passed on to the consumer, raising the costs of services currently provided by the banks.

2. The amendment provides a method to circumvent the long-standing prohibition on branch banking in Texas.

3. Instead of increasing competition among banks, the use of unmanned teller machines will allow a large bank to serve the entire community and to force banks operating on a small profit margin out of

Watering Hours Still Restricted

Hours for city water restrictions are still in force.

"The citizens of Colorado City are being asked not to water their lawns between the hours of 4 p.m. and 10 p.m.," then City Manager Ray Mason announced July 1.

Residents in the northern part of the city were without water June 30, due to a water pressure problem. As a result of recent hot weather, residents are watering lawns more than normal for this time of year. The storage tanks are emptying faster than the city pumps can refill the tank.

Then, on July 16, Mason requested that residents not water lawns or wash cars from the hours of noon until 10 p.m.

The water restriction is still in effect. Residents are asked not to use water outside between those hours.

"The restriction will stay in effect for at least another month to insure water supply safety," City Water Superintendent Buzz Rich said.

CISD To Hear Appraisal District

County To Hear Sheriff On Needed Jail Improvements

Several items listed as deficiencies on the Texas Commission on Jail Standards will be discussed by the Mitchell County Commissioner's Court Monday at 1 p.m. in the County Courthouse when Sheriff Bill McGuire meets with the court.

McGuire will discuss several areas in the jail which require immediate attention according to the Jail Commission and he will offer proposed solutions for the deficiencies.

A set of septic tank regulations for possible implementation at Lake Colorado City, similar to those implemented at Oak Creek Lake, will be presented by Judge Bill Carter during the meeting.

Colorado City Mayor Elmer Martin has requested the court establish septic tank regulations around the lakes in Mitchell County which are used as the city water source.

The progress of right-of-way purchase for a proposed new highway which would connect the State Park Highway 2836 to Highway 208 will be considered by the court Monday.

Commissioners will be requested to make a decision on funding the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP).

Representatives from RSVP in Snyder met with the court last month to request $500 to begin the program in this county.

The building insurance coverage on the library will be discussed during the meeting.

Godsey Insurance Agency representatives, who currently carry the building insurance, met with the court last month to indicate the building is probably under insured.

Chamber Selling Grubbs' Tickets

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will hear several reports on recent Chamber sponsored events in their regular meeting Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Civic Center.

A report on the Annual Farm Tour, which took place Thursday, is the first item on the agenda.

This will be followed by a report on the youth Playday held Monday in the rodeo arena.

Jody Neff will discuss the Arts and Crafts Show which usually takes place here in the Fall.

This is a choral group which originally formed in the First Baptist Church of Midland.

They now perform throughout the state for groups, organizations, banquets and conventions.

They offer renditions of patriotic, secular, western and religious music.

Jimerson will act as master of ceremonies for the event.

"We also have advanced research in hybrid cottons that might interest producers," Holland said.

Fire Department Receives Check

The Colorado City Fire Department received a check for $75 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Gerry Ritchey.

The money will be used for the loss prevention program.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Colorado City Fire Department in their program, stated Ward Cross of the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Company in Waco.

TALLER THAN GOLIATH

Roy N. Byrd
Pastor
First Presbyterian Church

What a tall man Goliath was! The Bible states his height was over nine feet. I wonder what his weight was.

My doctor read the scales on which I was standing. He looked at his weight chart. "According to this chart," he said, "you should be as tall as Goliath."

I like the way he put it. I don't have a weight problem. I have a height problem--I need literally to grow up. Then I'll have height to match my weight.

Reminds you of something the Apostle Paul wrote: "...until we all attain...to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ." (Eph. 4:13).

We Christians have a lot of growing up to do, don't we? In faith we need to become tall. In the world, we need to stand tall, too. Not measured by Goliath but by the stature of the fulness of Christ. Yes, we Christians have a lot of growing up to do. Yes, indeed.

We'll Be Happy To Explain
Value and Economy
For Your Tire Dollar
Every Michelin 'X' tire is backed by a 40,000 mile warranty for tread wear on domestic cars. That's just about twice the mileage you'd expect from a conventional tire under the same driving conditions. Also, because of its radial design the Michelin 'X' rolls with less road resistance than conventional tires, and that means you can save up to 10% on your present gas consumption (pretty good considering today's fuel crisis.) Plus, every Michelin 'X' tire gives you all the distinctive radial tire advantages over conventional bias-ply tires; smoother ride, easier handling, better traction and firmer road holding. And, they add up to a lot of comfort and safety. Invest in better driving. Stop in and have a set of Michelin 'X' radials installed today.

Doug Johnson Sustains Injury During ★ Wolves Battle Against Slaton Friday ★

We gave them everything, Colorado City Athletic Director Tom Ramsey said Friday night after his Wolves lost to the Slaton Tigers 33-0.

Ramsey referred to the charitable ways of the Wolves offense and noted that the Colorado City defense played a good game.

The Wolves fumbled three times and lost six pass interceptions as well as giving up a safety.

Slaton scored on drives of 24 yards, 13 yards and seven yards after fumbles by the Wolves. Slaton fumbled three times and lost three interceptions but the Wolves could not captalize on those opportunities.

The problem on offense was that it seemed players in several positions choked (on the pressure), Ramsey noted.

The frustration of the night for the Wolves was the fact that they only mustered three first downs during the game, all of which came in the first half.

Running back and linebacker Doug Johnson, one of the team captains and a team leader, went down with an apparent separated ligament in his shoulder. That seemed to take the steam out of the offense, one coach commented.

It is not known how long Johnson will be sidelined with the injury.

It was pointed out by one fan that the Wolves started the season in 1977 with a 32-0 loss to Slaton but then went on to win the first district championship for Colorado City in 23 years.

The Wolves started the game by receiving the kickoff but could not move it and punted. Slaton scared Wolf fans by returning the punt for some 70 yards for an apparent score but it was called back on a clipping.

The Wolves got the ball back a short time later on a punt and on the first play on a bad exchange from the center to the quarterback, a fumble gave the ball back to Slaton on the Wolves 24. The Tigers went on in to score with Fullback Jesse Titus going the final yard for a score and he also kicked the point after. That made the score 7-0 with 6:13 to go in the first quarter.

On the kick-off, the Wolves Doug Johnson touched his knee down on the one as the knelt to receive the kick. Three plays later, Quarterback Mark Carter was called for grounding the ball as he attempted to pass out of the end zone and that resulted in an automatic safety, two points for Slaton, making the score 9-0 with 4:57 remaining in the first period.

After Slaton got the ball back, the Wolves got their first opportunity when Colorado City's Mark Piland covered a fumble at the Tigers' 45. The Tigers got the ball back on an interception.

The Wolves got their first first down of the game with 1:30 left in the first quarter on their next possession on a fake punt on fourth and three when Johnson got the ball and ran for five yards. On the next play, another first down was achieved on a pass from Carter to Yancy Spivey, putting the Wolves inside Slaton's 30. However, the next play was an interception in the end zone.

Shortly afterwards, the Wolves' Mike Beights got a Slaton fumble at the Tiger 27 and as the second period got underway, the Wolves got another first down at the Slaton 12 on a pass but it was fumbled.

Midway through the second quarter, Johnson went down with the shoulder injury when he was tackled while carrying the ball. On the next play, a Wolves pass was intercepted and returned to the Wolves 13. A few plays later, Slaton's speedy Halfback Michael Whaley ran six yards to score and Titus again added the extra point, making the score 16-6 with 2:45 left in the first half.

Late in the first half, the Wolves got a punt from Slaton and an attempt to field it resulted in a fumble at the Wolves' four yardline. he Wolves defense set Slaton back three yards but then the Tigers came back on a pass from Quarterback Kevin Johnston to End Troy Moses for the score and Titus again added the extra point, making the score 23-0 with 27 seconds to go in the first half.

Slaton received the kick-off to start the second half and drove from their 41 to the Wolves 22 from where Titus kicked a 37 yard field goal to make the score 26-0 with 9:08 left in the third period.

The game from that point on until late in the fourth quarter was a series of turnovers and outstanding defensive play by both teams. Steven Light recovered one Slaton fumble for the Wolves with interceptions being made for the Wolves by Mark Piland and Dennis Heredia. Randy Uselton also blocked an attempted Slaton field goal from 34 yards out early in the fourth quarter.

With time running out in the game, Slaton got the ball on their own 35 and drove downfield, mainly on a 50-yard pass play, to score with Titus going the final five yards and he kicked the extra point to make the score 33-0 with 30 seconds to go in the contest.

The Wolves face Post this coming Friday in Post.

YEAH TEAM

Loraine Defeated Friday

Loraine was defeated 6-0 Friday in a game against Abilene Christian High School in Abilene.

Halftime left the scoreboard empty, but soon in the third quarter, Abilene Christian scored the one touchdown of the game.

Bobby Sanchez received an ankle injury early in the third quarter. It is not yet known how much damage was done.

"Not much happened after they scored in the third quarter," noted Coach Ted Wiley.

Junior Varsity Defeated

The Wolves junior varsity dropped a victory to Slaton in a junior varsity game played Thursday night in Slaton. Final score was 16-0.

The first score came when Slaton blocked a punt and Tim Beights picked it up which gave them a safety. They scored in the second quarter when the Wolves bobbled a punt on the 20 and Slaton ran it in for a touchdown. The last score came in the fourth quarter when coaches were shuffling the Wolf team around with two starters on the bench.

The Wolves had three injuries for the night, Ray DeLoera with a knew injury; John Johnson with a bruised thigh and Tom Rees with a broken shoulder blade. Rees is expected to be out for some time.

Coach Mike Hart was pleased with the defense overall.

The offense did not show much promise with only three first downs, Hart said.

"On defense, the whole unit played well. Ruben Luera had the hardest tackle of the night," said Hart. No interceptions were made.

"We had a good hard nose defense," Hart noted.

The Wolves play Post here Thursday at 7 p.m. "They won't be the caliber of Slaton, we can handle them," said Hart.

Club Members Play In Golf Tournament

George Powell, Don Powell, Bob Shamburger, Joe Weaver and Warren Anderson won first place in Colorado Country Club's Labor Day Golf Tournament.

A total of 59 members participated in the tournament with five men on each team, except one which had only four. The total number of teams participating was 12.

The club gave Titalist and Top Flight golf balls to the four winning teams. First place team received four balls each and second received three balls for each player. Third and fourth place winners each received two and one, respectively.

Second place team consited of Jene Steakley, Zollie Steakley, Ben Sparks, Royce Mahon and Margaret Lowrance.

Third place winners were Jesse Bolin, Carl Guelker, Bob Ratliff, Wayne Hulme and Willie Landau.

Receiving fourth place were Moose Montgomery, Haskel Rogers, George Witten, Jim Kelley and Alvie Petty.

Freshmen Defeated By Narrow Margin

Colorado City's freshmen were defeated 6-0 by Slaton Thursday in their first game.

Slaton scored on the first play with the kickoff being caught and run in for a touchdown.

The Wolves had 11 first downs to Slaton's nine and had more total yardage.

Four good drives were made and the Wolves were inside the 20 twice, Coach Bill Barnard said.

Larry Hamilton was leading rusher and Dennis Rivera had 36 yards total rushing, passing 2-4 and one pass was intercepted.

"We whipped them all over the field except on the scoreboard," said Barnard. "The team did a lot better than was expected of them."

members of the tour inspected the gin built by Custom Ag in 1979.

Stop number seven on the tour was made at the Tommy Fuller farm where Entomologist Bill Jany demonstrated cotton insect pest management.

As the tour progressed through the county, the 130 persons on the busses formed opinions of how many bales of cotton would be produced in the county this year.

When the busses returned to the Civic Center where a bar-b-q luncheon was served, guesses on the number of bales to be produced this season were taken.

These will be tabulated at the end of the season and the person with the guess closest to the exact number of bales ginned will be awarded a plaque by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce.

Guest speaker during the luncheon was Herman A. Propst, president of the National Cotton Council of America.

He warned producers the government deficiency payments could not continue indefinitely. He noted that a practical form of insurance program is currently under consideration by legislative committees.

He said government officials at some levels have little understanding of farming practices and needs.

"One legislator I spoke with indicated he believed that the most a producer needs to gross in one year is $20,000," Propst recalled.

Government control on the number of acres a producer may farm is one of the hazards farmers may face and the National Cotton Council is working to prevent this, Propst said.

OSHA's push for cotton dust control and the four year phase-in program for gins is another major problem which faces producers.

Propst noted if gins are unable to comply with regulations, they will shut down and if they are forced to stop operation more than 14,000,000 or 15,000,000 acres of cotton land must be converted to produce another product.

Propst indicated cotton producers are exporting more cotton now than ever before. He said although other countries are beginning to grow their own cotton, it will be some time before the gap between what they need and what they can produce is narrowed.

He said the council is working to fill that gap with exports from this country.

He said last year's peak cotton production has created a unique situation.

Cotton has produced faster than it could be moved and every available means of transportation was used.

The council even enlisted the aid of empty beer trucks to haul the cotton.

Then, the council faced another problem, there was no market for the cotton so the council pushed exports to the highest point they have reached in the past 54 years.

He noted the council will continue to work for the cotton producer.

drew cotton producers and agricultural researchers from practically every cotton producing state in the cotton belt," Holland noted.

"We feel that visiting with these people and seeing our experimental varieties will be beneficial to all producers," he said.

Items of interest include new Cascot Cotton varieties, Cascot Cottonseed Research and visiting with other cotton producers.

business, ultimately decreasing competition.

Local banker Bobby Lemons commented the amendment would probably not affect banking in Mitchell County at this time.

He said he would be against branch banking because the capital base of the banking institution would be located elsewhere and the taxes on that institution would be paid in another community.

Lemons said in his opinion, a branch bank is generally looking for deposits and does not offer a full line of services including loaning money.

"In general, branch banking is not a healthy situation," Lemons said.

The second amendment which will appear on the November ballot concerns the right to appeal in a criminal case before the conclusion of a trial.

The proposed amendment grants the state and the defendant in a criminal case the right to appeal before the conclusion of a pretrial hearing the judge's rulings on certain motions or on the constitutionality of a statute.

The constitution currently denies the state any right of appeal in criminal cases.

The main purpose of the amendment is to grant the state a limited right of appeal. The state's appeal will always precede the conclusion of the trial.

The defendant's right of appeal is also affected by permitting appeal of those same matters preceding the conclusion of the trial, whereas under the existing law, defendants must wait until the conclusion of the trial to appeal.

The 1876 constitution was the first Texas Constitution to prohibit appeals by the state in criminal cases.

The constitution is so constructed to deny appeals by the state not only from acquittals but from pretrial rulings as well. Even if the section were repealed, an appeal by the state from an acquittal would be prohibited by the double-jeopardy clauses of the state and federal constitutions.

If this seems confusing, in effect what the amendment means is that during the pretrial hearing which preceeds every criminal case, if the prosecution believes the judge has made an arbitrary judgement or interprets a law contrary to the statutes, the prosecution has the right to appeal the ruling to the court of criminal appeals. They do not have this priviledge now.

This must be done prior to completion of the pretrial hearing.

The case would then be delayed until a ruling is handed down from the higher court.

Arguments for the amendment are:

Granting the state this limited right of appeal provides the only effective way of testing the constitutionality of certain statutes and the legality of certain pretrial practices. The state, like the defendant, should be afforded a fair trial free of error.

The amendment will provide a criminal defendant with a method of terminating the criminal action at any early stage if the defendant's contentions on appeal are meritorious.

Granting the state a right of appeal will eliminate to some extent the tendency of some judges to rule in favor of the defense, when in doubt, to avoid appellate review of their rulings.

Arguments against the amendment are:

The duration of a criminal trial will be substantially lengthened when the state makes appeal. (According to City Attorney Pete McKinney, appeals are currently taking from 18 to 24 months). The trauma and expenses incurred by criminal defendants and their families will be increased.

The amendment would cause an increased case load for the court of criminal appeals and a greater work load for prosecuting authorities and court appointed attorneys. It would accordingly increase the cost of the criminal justice system.

who gets $1,000 that has been put up in restitution for runway lights destroyed in an act of vandalism at the old airport. The question will be whether Trulock gets it or the city.

Also, Mrs. Tarter will report on progress in obtaining a new sanitary landfill for the city as a number of prospective sites have been checked out.

One site has passed tentative tests and negotiations are now underway to obtain a lease on the land, provided it is approved by the state. Also, another site is to be checked out Monday.

The council also will make a decision regarding a request for funds from the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) and will hear various reports from council members.

In the city manager's report, Mrs. Tarter said she will note an arrangement regarding the position of fire marshal. Fire Marshal Mike Mikle resigned last month and the position will not be filled for at least a month, Mrs. Tarter said. The money, some $940 that would have been used for salary, will go to make improvements in the fire department with the volunteer firemen stating they will provide the labor free of charge.

Firemen last weekend made a number of improvements to the firemen's living quarters including carpeting, curtains and a couch at no cost to the city.

Veterans Receive Payment Increase

According to Bertie Kidd, Service Officer for Mitchell County, some veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces will receive an increase in their Veterans Administration disability compensation payments beginning Sept. 1, 1980. This increase was one of the future provisions of Public Law 96-128, signed into effect by the President on Nov. 28, 1979.

The increase applies to veterans who are receiving VA compensation under Section 314(k) of Title 38, U.S. Code, Veterans Benefits and commonly referred to as "statutory award." Such veterans have been receiving $56 per month for each service-connected anatomical loss or loss of a limb, eye or creative or limb, eye or creative organ. Effective Sept. 1, 1980, the monthly payment for each such service-connected loss will be increased to $62 and will appear in the disability checks dated Oct. 1, 1980.

The increases in these VA payments should come automatically on Oct. 1, with no application required from individual veterans. Anyone entitled to the statutory award payment who does not receive the increase in their Oct. 1 checks should contact the local Veterans Service Officer, who will assist in determining why it was not included.

Plans for an appreciation bar-b-q for State Representative Walter Grubbs will be discussed.

These plans include the sale of tickets to the event which is scheduled September 23 in the Sweetwater Coliseum Annex at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets will be $10 each or a single special "sponsor" ticket is offered for $100.
