WTC to contract for custodial services

Trustees' decision expected to save college $75,000 annually

Saying that tough economic times leave them with no other choice, Western Texas College trustees voted 4-2 Monday to terminate 12 custodial positions and turn over janitorial duties to a contracting service.

The decision is expected to save the college $75,000 annually.

"Obviously this is a very difficult issue for everyone concerned. It would be easier to come to a decision if we were dissatisfied with these employees, but we are not. It comes down to economics," said WTC President Dr. Harry Krenek.

As trustees learned Monday, cutting an additional $75,000 from the proposed 1995-96 budget still leaves expenses some $250,000 to $300,000 short of revenues.

Discussion of custodial services took up most of the meeting, during which trustees also reviewed the proposed budget, accepted a resignation, settled on a bank depository bid and approved the 1995-96 catalog and calendar.

The custodial bid went to American Building Maintenance (ABM) Janitorial Services of Abilene, which also contracts with Hardin-Simmons University, McMurry, Howard Payne, Baylor University and other institutions and businesses. The contract calls for an annual cost to the college of $141,749.

The current custodial service budget, including supplies, uniforms, benefits and salaries is some $259,000. Salaries for 12 employees make up about $180,000 of that, with retirement and insurance — provided by the state — coming to an additional $42,000.

In taking over the service, ABM expects to hire eight to 10 employees, including a project manager. Current custodians will be offered jobs with the company at $4.50 an hour. Others will start at minimum wage, said David Hejl, company representative.

"Either we're grossly overpaying our custodians or you are grossly underbidding. Will you be able to do the same job

Disaster exercise set here

The City of Snyder, in coordination with Scurry County and the Department of Energy Management, will conduct a full-scale disaster exercise Wednesday.

The purpose of the drill is to evaluate how the various agencies work together in a crisis situation over a period of time. It involves the testing of a major portion of the basic elements existing within emergency operations and organizations in a highly stressful environment.

The exercise will include the actual movement of emergency workers, equipment and other resources required to demonstrate coordination and response capability. The drill is expected to last some five to eight hours.

Agencies participating in the exercise will include Snyder EMS, the police department, sheriff's department and fire department, the Snyder school district, Cogdell Hospital, utility companies, the building code inspector's office, the water and street departments, the justice of the peace and various elected officials.

Also to participate are the Red Cross and nursing students at Western Texas College.

John Gayle, city manager and emergency management coordinator, noted that sufficient personnel will be available Wednesday to handle day-to-day situations as well.

Clinton will unveil longterm balanced budget plan tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Republicans dominating the budget debate, President Clinton prepared a televised address tonight to unveil his plan to balance the government's books within a decade. Officials expected him to trim his proposed middle-class tax cut and health care spending.

Press secretary Mike McCurry said Clinton plans to deliver a 5-minute address at 9 p.m. EDT. In an unusual development, Vice President Al Gore personally requested air time of network bureau chiefs, McCurry said.

Officials for ABC, CBS and CNN said they will carry the president's address and would consider airing any Republican response. NBC is expected to carry the speech, but had made no immediate decision.

"The president believes within a decade you can balance the budget consistent with his priorities and address what he sees as negative consequences of" Republican plans, McCurry told reporters.

Republicans are already well on their way to approving plans for a balanced budget within seven years, making sharp cuts in social programs dear to Clinton and Democratic lawmakers. With tonight's address, Clinton is trying to muscle himself into the debate.

Clinton's original budget, submitted in February to an unwelcoming Congress, called for deficits in the $200-billion a year range into the 21st century, with no prospects of a balanced budget.

Administration officials, speaking on the condition of anonymity, said Clinton's new plan will scale back his proposed $60 billion middle-class tax cut by as much as a third. He also wants to make reductions in welfare by overhauling the system.

And, his plan cuts the growth of Medicare and Medicaid spending over the 10 years, but not by as much as the Republicans want. It also proposes some health care reforms, the officials said.

The new Clinton proposal will also seek to do away with some business tax breaks and subsidies favored by Republicans.

A lion's share of the savings would come in the final year of his ten-year plan.

Fight ends in injury, arrest of 18-year-old

What started out to be a fight involving some six people — three against three — erupted into a shooting incident when one side's number increased by two- or three-fold, according to reports from the Scurry County Sheriff's Office.

One 18-year-old was arrested for possession of a prohibited weapon.

Law enforcement agencies began receiving reports of an impending fight at Winston Park around 9 p.m. Monday.

Around 9:15, several 9-1-1 calls were received reporting shots being fired in the area of of the park.

City officers and sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the scene where a 16-year-old male juvenile was discovered to be injured.

The youth had apparently been hit with a stick. He was transported to Cogdell Hospital by EMS where he was released after treatment for a bruised back.

At least three shots were fired from a sawed-off 20-gauge shotgun but law enforcement personnel were unable to locate anyone who had been struck by the pellets.

Torence Leandrew Bean (a.k.a. Torence Leandrew Alexander), 18, was arrested for possession of the weapon. Bean told officers at the scene that the gun did not belong to him and that he had taken it away from someone else.

"What apparently was to be a three-on-three fight turned out to be a 10 or 20 on three," said Deputy Sheriff Kerry Fritz. "We're still sorting things out."

Fritz said the reason for the fight was not immediately known and the investigation is continuing, with witnesses and participants being interviewed.

TxDot hearing slated tonight

Scurry County citizens interested in the Texas Department of Transportation's three-year Transportation Improvement Plan are invited to participate in a public hearing tonight.

The hearing is set for 6:30 in the college's Fine Arts Theatre.

The 1996-98 Transportation Improvement Plan (TIP) is a three-year plan developed by the department of transportation for Scurry, Mitchell, Kent, Nolan and Borden counties as well as Callahan, Fisher, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Shackelford, Stonewall and Taylor.

It includes a priority list of projects and project segments that will be carried out within the three-year period and a financial plan that demonstrates how the TIP can be implemented.

The financial plan indicates resources from public sources and private, if any, that are resonably expected to be made available to carry out the projects, as well as any innovative techniques recommended.

Anyone wanting to make oral comments or presentations at the meeting may register beginning at 6 o'clock. Anyone may appear and offer comments, either orally or in writing. Comment cards will be available at registration.

A 10-day comment period following the hearing will permit other interested persons to submit written comments to Maribel P. Chavez, P.E., district engineer, TxDot, Abilene District, P.O. Box 150, Abilene, 79604.

All written comments must be received at the Abilene district office no later than noon on June 26.

The SDN Column — By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Some folks know so little and know it so fluently."

Some people have no sense of humor, and they go to court just to prove it.

It was obviously poor judgment when salesmen at a Des Moines dealership backed up their dare with a wager.

As a result, a female customer was taken for a ride — in the trunk of a car.

The car shopper has now filed suit against the dealership because a salesman persuaded her to climb into the trunk of a new Chrysler Concorde to check out its spaciousness.

The salesman then slammed the trunk lid shut and bounced the car several times. When he opened the trunk, several salesman, the suit claims, were standing around laughing.

The woman is seeking unspecified punitive and compensatory damages for emotional distress and false imprisonment.

The car dealership management concedes that the incident occurred, but insists that the woman willingly climbed into the trunk. The woman's attorney counters that the salesman was "very persuasive."

The salesmen say they are surprised by the lawsuit, adding the woman didn't appear upset when she climbed out. In fact, they say, she stayed around and kicked tires some more.

The salesman has now left the dealership and is selling vacuum cleaners door to door. The sales manager quickly adds his departure wasn't related to the incident.

The sales manager admits that he once promised $100 to any sales person who could get a customer to climb into the trunk, but no such offer was standing that day. Although the salesman tried to collect the 100 bucks, the manager refused to pay. He'll probably file suit now for breach of contract.

Now the woman can't afford a car...she's got to pay her attorney.

New tests may predict heart disease, strokes

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of doctors has developed a new set of tests that may predict heart disease and strokes cheaply and painlessly, and help identify patients who need aggressive therapy, The New York Times reported Tuesday.

The new method measures the difference in the blood pressures found in a patient's arms and legs, and uses high-frequency sound to measure narrowing of the carotid arteries, which carry blood to the brain, the Times said.

Scientists who developed the new tests say they are a more accurate predictor of who will develop heart disease than simply looking at known risk factors like high cholesterol, smoking and diabetes, according to the newspaper.

Many people who have high cholesterol never develop heart disease, for instance, while some of those who don't have it do develop heart disease.

"You don't necessarily have to apply aggressive treatment to everyone with bad risk factors," Dr. Lewis Kuller, an epidemiologist at the University of Pittsburgh who helped develop the new method, told the newspaper.

A study of the new methods was conducted among 2,239 men and 2,962 women aged 65 and older in North Carolina, California, Maryland and Pennsylvania, the Times reported, and the findings will soon be published in the American Heart Association journal Circulation.

The simplest and possibly the most accurate test in the new scheme involves comparing a blood pressure reading in the ankle with the more traditional blood pressure reading in the arm.

The lower the resulting ratio — that is, the lower the pressure in the ankle — the more extensive the atherosclerosis, or clogging, is likely to be in the peripheral arteries to the legs.

Another test uses sound waves to detect the speed at which blood flows through the carotid artery. Blood would speed up in areas where the artery narrows because of blockage.

Dr. Michael Criqui, a specialist in preventive cardiology at the University of California at San Diego, described the work as "an area of major importance."

The tests "provide a measure of an individual's propensity for developing atherosclerosis, and that outweighs all other risk factors" in predicting who will suffer a heart attack or stroke, Criqui told the Times.

Kuller said the new tests also could help physicians tailor treatment. Patients with high cholesterol, for instance, might still be advised to lower their cholesterol intake, but only those who also have clogged arteries might have to take drugs for the rest of their lives.

How to care for osteoporosis

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please discuss osteoporosis. After numerous medication changes, my doctor put me on expensive drugs that I will probably have to take for the rest of my life. Do I have any alternatives?

DEAR READER: Osteoporosis means brittleness of bones, due to loss of calcium. This leads to bones that break easily, especially in the hip and spine.

Now recognized to be a major public health problem, osteoporosis has led many researchers to investigate the reasons for the disorder and to develop new treatment strategies. As yet, all the answers are not in, but this much is known.

Osteoporosis is, in the main, a disease of the elderly, chiefly women: Calcium loss from bone accelerates after menopause. Those people who enter old age with strong bones — because of high calcium intake in their youths or from genetic factors (or both) — tend to suffer fewer fractures.

Also, weight-bearing exercise (walking and running) appears to retard bone-calcium loss. Finally, hormone supplements lessen the severity of osteoporosis.

Therefore, many authorities encourage young women to drink substantial quantities of skimmed milk. Once these women reach menopause, they should be considered to be candidates for estrogen replacement, which is safe and inexpensive. Such therapy is particularly appropriate if there is a family history of osteoporosis in mothers, aunts or sisters.

Other prescription drugs, such as calcitonin and etidronate, slow calcium depletion from bones and are used in selected instances, notably in the presence of pain from "crush fractures" in the spine.

Osteoporosis is diagnosed by X-rays and a special test called "bone density" measurement.

As a general recommendation, doctors suggest these steps.

- The elderly should take calcium supplements (1,000 to 2,000 milligrams a day), along with vitamin D. There are many of these products and they are available without a prescription.
- Old folks should attempt to exercise regularly.
- Smoking should be stopped because it appears to accelerate calcium depletion.
- Hormone supplements should be considered in post-menopausal women with osteoporosis or a family history of the disorder.
- Other drugs, such as I mentioned above, may be prescribed in individual cases.

To answer your question specifically: You could be helped by inexpensive estrogen supplements. Ask your doctor about this.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Osteoporosis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

Your Birthday

Wednesday, June 14, 1995

There might be a number of important developments in store for you in the year ahead that could advance your self-interests. Don't think of a slow start as defeat.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Keep a lid on your temper today if a family member does things that aren't in accord with your wishes. There are strong indications that you will deal with this very poorly. Gemini, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $2 and SASE to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Although you are usually a reasonably forgiving person, today you might react harshly to someone because of something that occurred in the past.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Try not to become financially involved with friends today. Money sometimes brings out the worst traits in even the best of friends.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Intimidation will be one way to get others to comply with your directives today. However, if used, the price you'll pay won't be worth the results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You might have a misunderstanding with a good friend today. If this occurs, bring it all out into the open and clear it up immediately.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You could be a trifle more stubborn than usual today. This attitude could present problems, especially if you lock horns with an unyielding friend.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In endeavors requiring teamwork today, everyone's motives must blend harmoniously if you hope to accomplish much. If they don't, you won't get anywhere.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you are in a supervisory position, do not be unduly critical of workers today. Praise and encouragement will motivate them, insults will not.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Keep your nose out of a friend's personal affairs today unless you've been invited to intrude. This is a very delicate area which requires diplomacy and tact.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You and your mate might have difficulty achieving a meeting of the minds today on an important issue. Shelve it for a later discussion.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you don't want to clutter up your work space today, avoid starting tasks that test your patience. Once begun, they may never be finished.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Pressure from associates might tempt you to take risks today that you would ordinarily avoid. Stay away from anything that goes against your better judgment.

SDN Letter to the Editor

Resist trend

To the Editor:

Dear Editor and president of the Little League Association,

I am appalled at the fact that during this Little League baseball season that make-up games are being played on Wednesday evening. Now, my son comes home telling me they are to play on Sunday because of All-Star practice. What has happened to giving God the worship He deserves?

It seems to me that sports has become some form of god to many of the people in this city. I know the season is at an end but there is next year and the next. Soccer, football and basketball will begin, and if this trend continues, the Christians of Snyder will be forced to give up the day in which we worship together (Mark 2:27, KJV, And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath).

I pray that the Christian community will stand firm on God's sabbath and not give in to the lords of sports. Hebrews 10:25, (KJV), Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

My son will not be at that game on Sunday, June 18, and he understands why. I hope others also understand and resist this trend.

Concerned Christian,
Tim Coffman

Dentist says 'brush to the beat'

CHICAGO (AP) — It's a smile for a song.

Dr. Luke Matranga, president of the Academy of General Dentistry, says most people don't brush their teeth long enough and advises patients to brush to the beat.

"Since many people brush during the morning or at night with the radio on, I tell my patients to brush for one song. That's about three minutes — the right amount of time to get the best results from brushing.

"People will swear that they've brushed three to four minutes, but the average person brushes for less than a minute. This is not long enough to reach all areas of the mouth and scrub off cavity-causing bacteria."

The academy recommends toothbrushes that have long, wide handles and soft bristles. Both sides of the teeth and the tongue should be brushed. Replace brushes every three or four months, before they become too frayed, and throw away brushes used during an illness, to avoid bacteria that might be harbored in the brush.

The electric toothbrush is a good choice for people with limited dexterity due to age or arthritis, the academy says. It's also good for people with braces, since the rotating heads can clean hard-to-reach spots.

Move into Baker Street

The second book recently republished by Devyn Press is "Sherlock Holmes, Bridge Detective" ($12.95; 800-274-2221). Author Frank Thomas takes hold of a magnifying glass and meerschaum pipe (unlit in this enlightened age, of course), dons a deerstalker and sets out to reproduce Conan Doyle's style as the great detective plays with Doctor Watson in a challenge match against Betty Castle and Harry Skurry.

Today's deal is typical of the 44 in the book, where textbook card-play techniques abound. How should South declare four spades against a diamond lead?

Skurry won the first trick in hand with the diamond ace and advanced the spade queen. Holmes, sitting West, decided that the declarer couldn't be trying to pull a fast one with the ace-queen of spades. He played low, allowing his partner to win the spade ace. After Watson cashed the diamond king and switched to a heart, Skurry conceded one down.

"I'm surprised you didn't take your 10 tricks," observed Holmes.

"What do you mean?" growled Skurry.

"If you had played four rounds of

The Winner
Checking for Life.
On weekdays, from 3:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., Helen watches her four grandsons.
She talks to them about the way things used to be, the value of honest, hard work and sometimes tells stories about people they don't even know. She doesn't have millions of dollars, but if you ask Helen, she'll tell you she's the richest person in the world.
By our account, she is a winner.
And we have a checking account just for her.

Courtney new Wylie coach

ABILENE — A Snyder native who has compiled an impressive won-loss record in 12 years at Jayton High School, Monday night was named head girls basketball coach at Wylie High School.

Randy Courtney, a 1978 graduate of Snyder High School, replaces Pat Penick as Wylie coach.

Courtney, the son of Ray and Betty Courtney of Snyder, has 243 wins and only 56 losses during his tenure in Jayton.

Courtney's teams have won nine district championships, three regional titles and was runnerup in the state tournament in Class A in 1994.

After graduating from SHS, Courtney attended South Plains College in Levelland and then transferred to Angelo State University.

Courtney was selected for the job from a list of 35 applicants, said Wylie Supt. Cecil Davis. The Wylie girls basketball program sports nine consecutive district championships and a state Class 3A title in 1990.

Snyder places nine on 5-4A All District

By Laura Barnes
SDN Sports Editor

In lieu of a 15-9-1 season, the Snyder High Tiger baseball team has placed nine players on the 1995 5-4A All-District Team.

Six players were named to the first team while two were named as second team honorees. Sophomore Patrick Cumbie received Newcomer of the Year for his defensive play. Cumbie, a first baseman, finished the season with 48 put-outs and four double plays. Cumbie also carried a high slugging percentage, getting on base approximately 66 percent.

Senior Reagan Key received all-district honors for pitching. Key closed the season with a 1.33 ERA and 79 strike-outs with a 6-3 record in overall play. Key has also been selected to the Texas Sunbelt Classic All Star Baseball Team and will play in the Texas-Oklahoma Baseball Series at Vernon Regional Junior College starting Friday.

"Reagan had one of the best ERAs we've had in Snyder in quite a few years," commented Coach Roland Herrera.

Other seniors named to the all-district team were Curt Rinehart, catcher, outfielders John Clinkinbeard and Chris Mitchell, pitcher Lee Idom and infielder Nathan Zalman. Idom and Zalman received second team honors.

Infielder Jeremy House and designated hitter Gene Pollard made first team as juniors this year. They, along with Cumbie, will be returning to the team next season.

Rinehart made the team based on his catching ability.

"Curt was probably the best catcher in the district even though his batting average wasn't very high," said Herrera.

Clinkinbeard, who finished the season with a .323 batting average overall, spent the season as lead-off batter. According to Herrera, Clinkinbeard did everything he could to get on base.

Chris Mitchell battled offensively and defensively for the Tigers, according to Herrera. Mitchell batted in the number two slot, finishing with a .392 batting average overall. Jeremy House showed offensive skills, batting .454 for the year in district.

The Tigers finished district 6-4. Herrera said he couldn't be happier with the turnout for all-district honors.

Brewers can't get a break

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Things are falling apart for the dejected Milwaukee Brewers, who can't seem to catch a break on the field, in the schedule, at the doctor's office or on the trading table.

"All our hits are six inches foul instead of six inches fair," manager Phil Garner said Monday night after the Brewers' 4-2 loss to Texas dropped Milwaukee to 1-4 in a 10-game stretch against the American League's three division leaders. "We've gotten no breaks."

Garner got bad news before and after the Brewers' loss, too.

Prior to the game, Garner learned power-hitting outfielder Danny Tartabull almost certainly won't end up in a Milwaukee uniform because the New York Yankees balked at paying $4 million of Tartabull's $5 million salary next year.

The Brewers desperately need some more pop in their lineup — they are last in the AL with just 28 homers — and reportedly offered the Yankees center fielder Darryl Hamilton and pitchers Bill Wegman and rookie Mark Kiefer.

After the loss, Garner learned right-hander starter Cal Eldred, who threw more innings than any other pitcher in the major leagues the last two seasons, has ligament damage in his right elbow and might need season-ending surgery.

"This comes at an awful time," Garner said.

So did the Rangers.

Juan Gonzalez hit his third homer in three games, Roger Pavlik won his fourth straight decision and the Rangers won for the sixth straight time.

Gonzalez, who had missed 35 of Texas' games with a bad back, sent a soft, fluttering pitch from knuckleballer Steve Sparks 407 feet down the left-field line for his third homer of the year and a 1-0 lead in the second inning.

"I was surprised it stayed fair," Gonzalez said. "Right now, I'm trying to be patient and concentrate and get a good pitch to hit because my back hurts. And it's not easy to face a knuckleball pitcher."

"I knew it was fair. It got out there too fast," Sparks said. "It was a slow knuckler and it stayed out over the plate. He hit it so hard it hooked around the pole. It was a no-doubter."

It was also Gonzalez's second consecutive home run. He hit a two-run shot in the eighth inning off Jose DeLeon on Sunday night in Arlington, sending the Rangers past the Chicago White Sox 3-2.

Bosnian Serbs release more hostages

PALE, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) — Bosnian Serbs said they released nearly all the U.N. hostages today, and would free the final 15 captives by week's end to end a tense standoff with the world community.

If confirmed, the release of 130 hostages after 2½ weeks' detention would ease relations between the Bosnian Serbs and the United Nations, strained since NATO air raids on rebel ammunition dumps on May 25-26. The Serbs retaliated by taking the U.N. personnel hostage, chaining some to weapons depot gates.

Even as they announced the release of the peacekeepers, Bosnian Serbs were blocking aid shipments to government territory.

The biggest winner in today's releases might be Serbia President Slobodan Milosevic. He had pressured Bosnian Serbs to free the hostages as part of his campaign to win a lifting of economic sanctions against Serbia.

The United Nations imposed sanctions on Serbia in 1992 for fomenting the Bosnian war.

Bosnian Serbs took more than 370 U.N. peacekeepers hostage after the NATO air strikes, chaining some to potential NATO targets and parking others in vehicles on airport runways to prevent possible Allied bombings.

Radovan Karadzic, the Bosnian Serb leader, told reporters in Pale that the majority of the peacekeepers were freed at 11 a.m. (5 a.m. EDT). But hours later, there was no independent sighting of the freed hostages.

Bosnian Serb sources said a bus with about 30 French, British, Polish and Ukrainian hostages left Bosnian Serb headquarters at Pale this afternoon, heading for Serbia. The Bosnian Serb news agency SRNA said 28 hostages were on their way to Serbia. Reconciling the numbers right away was not possible.

"We consider this crisis over, and we hope there will be no more crises of this kind," Karadzic said.

"We want peace as soon as possible," he added, but warned that Bosnian Serbs would use all means available to defend themselves if attacked.

Bosnian Serb officials claimed Milosevic had won assurances there would be no more NATO air strikes. Neither NATO nor the United Nations have confirmed that, although U.N. officials have said more bombings were unlikely as long as hostages were being held.

Besides a handful of peacekeepers being physically held by the Serbs, about 90 were blockaded by mines and restricted from leaving their facilities. Karadzic said today they were "free to go, or to regroup or to be replaced by others."

U.N. spokesman Lt. Col. Gary Coward said there was evidence the Serbs had removed mines and obstacles around the peacekeepers overnight.

2 people arrested on felony charges

Local law enforcement personnel make two felony arrests Monday and took another person into custody early this morning on a misdemeanor charge.

Laura Campbell, 19, 1116 N. Ave. L, was arrested at 5 p.m. Monday at the sheriff's office on a blue warrant for parole violation.

Deputies arrested 18-year-old Torence Leandrew Bean (a.k.a. Torence Leandrew Alexander) at 9:47 p.m. in the vicinity of Winston Park for carrying a prohibited weapon.

A 25-year-old male was arrested at 3:50 this morning in the 3000 block of Avenue V for public intoxication.

In other activity Monday, an offense report for Class C assault was submitted at 8:42 a.m. in reference to an incident in the 100 block of North College.

Judy Costillo requested an officer at Don's Value King at 9:07 a.m. in reference to some forged checks. An offense report for forgery was submitted.

Cindy Davis requested an officer at Big Country Autoland at 11:24 a.m. in reference to damage done to a vehicle. An offense report for criminal mischief was submitted.

An offense report for deadly conduct was submitted at 12:31 p.m. in reference to an incident that occurred Sunday night in which a subject pulled a gun on another subject.

A person notified the police department at 4:41 p.m. that her son's bicycle had been stolen from the 300 block of 25th Street.

An offense report for Class B theft was made at 8:22 p.m. in reference to an air conditioner being stolen from 200 25th St.

WTC OKs custodial contract

as is being done now," questioned trustee Jay Kidd.

"Sure," said Hejl, "The difference comes in benefits (and salary). "We've been successful doing this all over the country."

Four members of the custodial staff were present at the meeting, but none addressed the board. Trustees did hear a plea from Leeon Pettitt, director of maintenance.

Pettitt said the custodial staff performs beyond expectations because they have "a real pride in this college."

"I can't talk about these people without getting upset. They're family," said an emotional Pettitt. "...I don't see how you can pay people $4.50 an hour to come in and fill the shoes of people who have given 12 to 15 years to this college."

Trustee Bill Wilson Jr. briefly suggested the possibility of delaying a decision.

"If we table it for 30 days, would it give anybody a better feeling about this?" he said.

"The question is, can we afford not to do it?" said trustee Lee Presswood.

Trustee R.C. Patton was one of two trustees opposed to contracting custodial services.

"I don't think it can be done (by a contracted service) like it's been done in the past. I know we face some hard decisions and some cuts, but I believe we're starting at the wrong place here. I just don't know what the right place is."

Dr. Krenek said his staff was willing to go back and look at more cuts. He also told the board that the cuts which are being made involve almost all departments and programs, from administration down. He also noted that the proposed budget includes no raises or merit pay.

"I believe any cuts we're looking at now would involve personnel," said Bettie McQueen, dean of instruction.

Wilson made the motion to change to contracted services and he, Kidd and Presswood voted in favor. Patterson and Eddie Peterson voted against. Board president Carl Williams was informed by Dr. Krenek that he also must vote, and his "for" vote made it 4-2. Carolyn Barbee was absent.

Trustees got their first overview of the proposed 1995-96 budget Monday. The figures indicate some $6,996,000 in anticipated revenues, or $91,498 less than the 1994-95 budget. Most of the lowered revenue is due to a drop in local taxes of $90,000, as administrators work with the same tax rate as last year.

Expenditures in the proposed budget are $7.6 million, leaving a deficit of some $641,300. Dr. Krenek noted that expenditures have since been reduced, leaving about a $250,000 to $300,000 deficit at this time.

The board set a 5 p.m. meeting time for June 26 to work on the budget.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Jon Palomaki, assistant professor of music, approved a small class report, payment of bills and previous minutes and heard a summer enrollment report.

Trustees voted 4-0 to continue with West Texas State Bank as the college's depository. Both Patton and Wilson abstained from voting because they are shareholders at WTSB and Snyder National Bank, respectively.

The board also approved the 1995-96 catalog and calender. The fall semester begins Aug. 23 and ends Dec. 8 with the spring 1996 semester set Jan. 17 through May 8.

In addition to trustees, administrators, college staff and guests, custodians present Monday were Marline Thompson, Sharon Gill, Luther M. Brown and Robert Williams.

Dear Abby

Couch Potato Husband Makes Wife Feel Whipped and Fried

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1995 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have grown apart, literally. "Frank" has gained about 100 pounds since we married 15 years ago. He no longer participates in the activities that our two sons and I enjoy, such as hiking, biking, tennis, baseball and swimming. He won't even go to the beach.

He gets winded just walking up a flight of stairs. Frank will find any excuse just to get out of doing the most routine chores around the house. Consequently, I do all the work while he sits in his chair with the "remote" in his hand.

He has a good job, which he considers his contribution to our marriage.

He usually falls asleep right after dinner. We no longer sleep together because he snores and kicks. No amount of subtle hints or nagging has been successful in effecting any change. Frank and I separated once two years ago, but I took him back because I felt sorry for him.

I am not sure if I want a divorce, but I want my children to be raised in a healthy atmosphere with positive role models, and I have lost my respect for him. He smokes (at work) and has a history of heart disease. He has no health insurance or life insurance.

I should probably leave him, but I have neither the guts nor the money. I need your objective reply.

UNHAPPY AND INDECISIVE

DEAR UNHAPPY AND INDECISIVE: You must make your husband understand how his weight and self-destructive behavior are affecting you and his sons. You will need the cooperation of his physician, whom he probably hasn't seen in years. Arrange an appointment for a complete physical. Alert his doctor beforehand to stress the danger of continuing his present lifestyle.

If Frank doesn't shape up, waste no time in preparing to support yourself and the boys should the need arise. It may be sooner than you think.

DEAR ABBY: I have a suggestion for a baby shower for a second or third baby.

For my second baby, each guest brought a home-cooked meal, which I promptly put in my freezer. Abby, these meals provided me and my family with dinners for four weeks following the birth of my baby.

I cannot tell you how handy it was to be free from worry about what to have for dinner during that first month.

Every new mom and dad would be thrilled with such a gift. Pass this along to your readers.

NICOLE ANDREWS, SACRAMENTO, CALIF.

DEAR NICOLE: Thanks for a great idea. It's food for thought. (Sorry, I couldn't resist.)

DEAR ABBY: Regarding baldness:

Some people say that a man who is bald in front is a lover. If he's bald in back, he's a thinker. If he's bald all over, he thinks he's a lover.

NOT BALD IN GULFPORT, FLA.

We're Proud To Be Americans.

IMPORTANT DON'TS

It is generally not desirable to fly the flag outdoors when the weather is particularly inclement because exposure to severe winds and rain may damage the flag or the pole on which it is displayed.

Never in any way should disrespect be shown the U.S. flag.

The U.S. flag should never be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organization or institutional flags are dipped as a mark of honor.

The U.S. flag should never be displayed with the union down except as a signal of dire distress in instances of extreme danger to life or property.

The U.S. flag should never touch anything beneath it—ground, floor, water or merchandise.

The U.S. flag should never be carried horizontally, but it should always be aloft and free.

Always allow the U.S. flag to fall free—never use the U.S. flag as wearing apparel, bedding or drapery, festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds. For draping platforms and decoration in general, use blue, white and red bunting. Always arrange the bunting with blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below.

The U.S. flag should never be fastened, displayed, used or stored in a manner which will permit it to be easily torn, soiled or damaged in any way.

Never use the U.S. flag as a covering or drape for a ceiling.

Never place anything on the U.S. flag. The U.S. flag should never have placed upon it, or on any part of it, or attached to it, any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture or drawing of any nature.

Never use the U.S. flag for receiving, holding, carrying or delivering anything. The U.S. flag should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions, handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use or discard. Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

Never use any part of the U.S. flag as a costume or athletic uniform. A flag patch may be affixed to uniforms of military personnel, firemen, policemen and members of patriotic organizations.

When the U.S. flag is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, it should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning, privately.

Never display the U.S. flag from a float except from a staff or be suspended that its folds fall free as though staffed.
