Ingrid, Yul Win Oscars

United Press Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Ingrid Bergman, a self-made exile from the United States because of flaming headlines seven years ago, won the world's highest acting honor, the Oscar, Wednesday night as the best actress of 1956. Yul Brynner, the bedroom-eyed matinee idol as bald as the Oscar he clasped, smilingly accepted the 29th annual Academy Award as best actor for playing the arrogant, child-like ruler of Siam in "The King and I."

INGRID BERGMAN ... best actress

Veteran Anthony Quinn, who portrayed artist Paul Gauguin in "Lust for Life," was cited as best supporting actor in a surprise upset. Dorothy Malone, the man-hungry, rich girl of "Written on the Wind," received a gold statuette as supporting actress, and lovingly dedicated it to her 16-year-old brother, struck dead by lightning two years ago. Fast-talking Broadway showman Mike Todd, the new husband of beautiful Elizabeth Taylor, won the best picture Oscar for his first try at movies, "Around the World in 80 Days."

YUL BRYNNER ... best actor

But it was the award to the stately Miss Bergman for her role in "Anastasia" that captured the spirits of the 3,500 film stars and cheering fans who jammed the Pantages Theater on Hollywood Blvd. for the town's annual backslapping event. Miss Bergman, now in Paris, won another Oscar 13 years ago for "Gaslight." Seven years ago she left this country and her husband to bear Italian Director Roberto Rossellini a child. After their controversial marriage, she announced her retirement from the screen. Later she appeared in foreign movies. Twentieth Century-Fox Studio finally talked her into starring in "Anastasia," filmed in Europe, last year.

Quinn in 'Upset' Oscar brought cheers because it was the only upset. Robert Stack had been touted to win, but the Mexican-American Quip who won in 1952 for "Viva Zapata!," copped the trophy. Todd celebrated his status by kissing Miss Taylor backstage and declaring, "Now I'm the winner of the two best prizes in Hollywood."

Egypt States Canal To Be Open Soon

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold returned to New York early today with Egypt's answer to the future of the Suez Canal and the U.N. Emergency Force in the Middle East.

Israel and in lifting a travel ban. Government sources expressed fear the United States might use this to "pressure" Israel into accepting UNEF troops.

Egypt announced officially today the canal would be reopened to traffic "around April 10" but there were growing indications the reopening would be on a provisional basis till its future is settled.

Amendment To Constitution May Be Asked

The status of the UNEF was in doubt. Egypt has made no move to oust it from the Gaza Strip or areas along the Gulf of Aqaba. But President Gamal Abdel Nasser has signed no formal agreement, apparently because of Israeli refusal to permit the troops on the Israeli side of the border.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration is expected to ask Congress soon for a constitutional amendment permitting a president to hand over his powers "temporarily" to the vice president upon being disabled.

Hammarskjold was not talking. He avoided the press throughout his six days of conferences with Nasser and other Egyptian officials and on his arrival at New York refused to make any significant statement.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. is expected to outline the White House position on the question when he goes before the House Judiciary Committee on Monday. The Justice Department has been studying the problem of succession in case of presidential disability for more than a year. Brownell is reported by informed sources to have recommended a constitutional amendment which would:

His aides said he probably would confer during the day with U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and perhaps Israeli Ambassador Abba S. Eban.

—Permit a president to declare his own disability.
—Permit the vice president to take over temporarily the duties and powers of the presidency while the chief executive is disabled.

Lester B. Pearson, Canadian minister of external affairs, gave the Israeli position his support in a statement in Ottawa. He insisted the canal must be freely open to ships of all nations, including Israel.

Constitutional amendments must be passed by a two-thirds majority in both Houses of Congress and ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures to become effective.

At his news conference Wednesday, President Eisenhower said he hopes to confer shortly with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders on legislation to clear up the present confusion over who should run the government when a president cannot carry on.

Mr. Eisenhower said he had ordered a study of the subject some time ago and that the results will be sent to Congress "very soon."

Expect Beck Indictment

By HERBERT FOSTER
And JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
United Press Staff Correspondents

WASHINGTON (UP) — Dave Beck's attorney said today he expects the Teamster Union boss to be indicted for income tax violation "at any time now." The attorney, Arthur D. Condon, told the United Press he believes a federal grand jury in Seattle will act soon against Beck, who said he has been warned he faces income tax prosecution. However, in Seattle, Federal Dist. Atty. Charles Moriarty said he knew of no forthcoming indictment against Beck. He said a regular federal grand jury will be summoned in June "in the normal course of events."

The Internal Revenue Service refused to comment on whether it plans to act against the burly Teamster boss. A spokesman said only that action against anyone is customarily taken in the district where the individual pays taxes. For Beck, this is Seattle.

Beck gave his tax troubles as the reason for dodging 117 times behind the Fifth Amendment in two days as the Senate Rackets Committee charged he took more than $322,000 from Teamster Union funds and still owes more than $50,000 to the nation's biggest union.

The belligerent Beck, said repeatedly a truthful answer to what he did with union funds might tend to incriminate him. Beck, excused as a witness while the committee took a two-week breather, headed for Seattle today and the palatial home which plays a big part in his troubles with the Internal Revenue Service and the rackets committee.

He bore the grim promise of Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) that the committee will do its best to punish him for "utter contempt" of Congress.

McClellan, who said "proper propriety" prevented him from expressing his real opinion of Beck, seared the paunchy union boss with an angry concluding statement at the close of Wednesday's hearing.

He said Beck had shown "arrogant contempt for the million and a half members of honest laboring people in the Teamsters' Union... illogical disregard and disrespect for honest and reputable unionism... (and) utter contempt for this committee, for the Congress of the United States and for his government."

The chairman sent a copy of Beck's testimony to the Justice Department — and said the Internal Revenue Service could have one too if it was interested.

Beck faced yet another hazard. The AFL-CIO Executive Council meets here Friday to consider what action to take against the Teamster boss for his alleged misuse of union funds and for invoking the Fifth Amendment.

The council adopted a policy statement in February that any union official who invokes the Fifth Amendment has no place as a union leader. Walter P. Reuther, No. 2 man in the AFL-CIO and a council member, has indicated he will demand Beck's removal as a council member and AFL-CIO vice president.

Beck's place at the head of his 5,500,000-member union, however, is strictly up to the Teamsters themselves. Their next convention is in September. Beck has declined to attend.

API Chapter To Meet Tonight

Area oil men will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Palm Room of City Hall under the sponsorship of the Panhandle chapter, American Petroleum Institute.

Plastic pipe and plastic coated steel pipe and tanks will be the topic for discussion. Speakers will be V. R. Ogilvie, Plastex Company, Borger; G. S. Rice, Internal Pipeline Maintenance Company, Odessa; and W. F. Volk, Southwest Plastic Pipe Company, Fort Worth. J. G. Glenney of Pampa, chairman, will preside at the meeting. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

clared he will put his case in his membership's hands by standing for re-election.

Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz) urged members of Beck's union Wednesday to oust Beck and Western Teamster official Frank Brewster, who has figured in earlier committee hearings. Udall sent telegrams to all Teamster locals.

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (UP) — The House Labor committee voted today to investigate union welfare funds to prevent their "pillaging" by racketeers.

In Arizona saying such action would be "a healthy demonstration of the basic honesty of the rank and file of the labor movement." Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Beck had been under income tax investigation since 1954. Kennedy told the committee that this set off some of Beck's big-money maneuvers to restore funds he had taken from Teamster treasuries.

Livestock Losses Continue To Climb

The toll of dead cattle in Gray County resulting from the week end blizzard has risen to approximately 100, Ralph Thomas, county agent, reported this morning.

According to reports received by Thomas from farmers and ranchers in the county, the percentage of loss of herds has been small so far, but complete reports are not available as yet.

A total of 15 dead cattle were reported at the Taylor Ranch, south of Pampa, but all of the cattle have not been checked according to the report. Other reports received by the county agent indicate that the losses range from one to five head of cattle on most of the farms and ranches.

The complete report of losses will not be available for several days, Thomas reported, because of large drifts in gulleys on most of the farms and ranches. The stockmen will have to wait until all of the snow melts before a final check can be made to determine the exact amount of cattle lost.

Reports from other areas in the Top O' Texas indicate that Gray County may have been fortunate. Most other counties are reporting quite a bit more losses of livestock in the blizzard.

Some of the dirt roads in the county are still impassable according to reports received late last night. The moisture from the snow, added to previous moisture, has caused many of the roads to be extremely muddy and some farmers and ranchers are having difficulty leaving their homes.

If the warm weather continues for the next few days, the roads are expected to dry out and county road maintaining equipment will be placed on the roads, to level the ruts, as soon as conditions permit.

In Pampa most of the streets were open, but in some sections of town, city equipment had not reached the side streets. Motorists were still having to use roundabout routes to get to and from work.

In some sections of town residents were still unable to move their cars because of drifts in the streets blocking their driveways. The snow was melting rapidly, and except for extremely large drifts in some parts of town, was expected to be gone by tonight.

In other sections, the reports of cattle losses in the blizzard continue to mount and some observers, according to United Press, reported that some small ranchers probably will be forced to quit.

Late information from Colorado and New Mexico indicated extremely heavy losses, and in Texas it was estimated that up to 3,000 head of cattle perished in the snowstorm.

The latest United Press reports showed at least 45 persons have lost their lives as a result of the storm. The count, which began Friday night, showed 10 deaths in Illinois, nine in both Texas and Kansas, five in Oklahoma, three each in Nebraska and Indiana, two each in Missouri and Iowa and single deaths in New Mexico and Ohio.

Hotel Board To Meet Tuesday

A meeting of the board of directors of the Pampa Community Hotel Company has been called by George Cree Jr., president, for Tuesday morning at 9:30.

The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce conference room and Cree has said that it is expected that further information in regard to available sites and costs of these sites for the location of the new hotel will be reported on. It is also possible, Cree said, that some recommendations will be made at this time by the site committee.

Cree, in discussing the matter this morning, expressed the hope that all members of the board will be present since the meeting was, in his words, "a very important one."

Commission In Talks About Right-Of-Way

In a called meeting yesterday afternoon, the City Commission discussed business that had been scheduled for Tuesday when the meeting was cancelled because of the weather.

Loyce Caldwell met with the commissioners and discussed the obtaining of right-of-way by the city of property owned by him at the corner of Hobart and Francis. The city needs to obtain right-of-way along Hobart for the widening of the street as part of the Hobart Street underpass.

No definite agreement was reached by Caldwell and the commissioners, according to Fred Brook, city manager.

In other action, the commissioners approved the transfer of $10,784 from the general fund to the library fund. The amount was in the budget but had not been transferred to the library for use as operating funds.

The commissioners also approved written excuses of the various commissioners for the past year.

CoC Committee Talks Banquet

The sports committee of the chamber of commerce met this morning in the chamber office to double-check details for the banquet to be held tomorrow evening in the High School cafeteria in honor of this year's Harvest basketball team, which was runner-up in the State Tournament held recently in Austin.

Johnny Campbell, chairman of the committee, said that a few tickets to the affair were still available and that persons wanting them could obtain them by contacting the chamber of commerce or any member of the sports committee.

Representative Asks Campaign Probe

AUSTIN (UP) — Rep. Jerry Sadler of Pecos charged today promoter Ben Jack Cage contributed to Price Daniel's campaign for governor and demanded an investigation into "every dollar" contributed to Daniel's campaign.

Sadler made his demand in a 15-minute personal privilege speech before the House of Representatives.

"Up until last Sunday, the records in the Secretary of State's office reflected that Robert Hall, who received $40,000 from ICT Insurance Company, had made a donation to Price Daniel's campaign."

Calls For Full Probe
"The records had reflected that Ben Jack Cage had donated to Price Daniel's campaign," Sadler said.

Sadler did not explain the implication that records had been removed from the Secretary of State's office.

"I think this House of Representatives should go into every dollar that was contributed to the Governor's campaign," Sadler told the House.

He received a scattering of applause as he stepped away from the microphone.

Seeks "Rotten Apples"
Sadler said Daniel, in a speech last Monday night, had said "only one per cent of rotten apples were in the barrel" among state employees. Sadler said that meant there were 400 "rotten apples" among the 40,000 state employees.

"I'm calling on him to name the 400," Sadler said.

"I think the time has come for us to cease this name-calling. I think the time has come for us to cease the investigations," Sadler added.

"I think the time has come for the Governor to name the 400," Sadler told the House.

He Approved Charter
"As attorney general, he approved the charter of ICT Insurance Co., and U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co., but as governor he 'inherited' the scandal of the 400," Sadler said.

Sadler quoted Daniel as saying he "inherited" scandals "of the past" in state government.

The East Texas legislator pointed out Daniel has called for enactment of a lobbyist registration bill, and a state law enforcement commission bill.

Sadler referred to the law enforcement commission proposal as "police state and Gestapo methods." (See PROBE, Page 4)

Ballet And Ballads To Close Concert Series

Critics have been exclaiming for the past few years about Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder and the unique combination of dance artistry and theatrical impact in their "Dance Drama Duo" program. Now they have joined Will Holt, the widely hailed young ballad singer and guitarist. The result: Ballet and Ballads, an evening's entertainment with a striking range of mood and meaning. They form a young and vital team, with provocative ideas, dramatic imagination and an impressive mastery of technique and projection.

Ballet and Ballads will appear here Friday at 8 p.m. at the Junior High Auditorium, closing the 1956-57 season of the Pampa Community Concert series.

Emily Frankel, formerly with the Charles Weidman Dance Theatre and soloist on major television network shows, is one of the youngest and most rapidly rising among the new generation of dancer-choreographers. Red-haired and striking, she combines personal beauty with an exciting dramatic and creative gift. Hers is an essentially lyric and delicate style, and yet she is "touching in repose, graphic in motion and hilarious in satire."

Mark Ryder has been praised throughout the country as one of the most stirring and powerful of Martha Graham's dance soloists. A versatile dancer — choreographer, he has a monumental physical power — particularly in slow legato movement — as well as phenomenal elevation. He is, as The New York Times' John Martin noted, "One of the finest of the young male dancers."

DR. ORVILLE BORCHERS ... choir director

SMU Choir To Sing In Church Here

Forty students of the Southern Methodist University Choir will present a program of sacred music in the First Methodist Church on Sunday beginning at 10:35 a.m.

Director of the choir is Dr. Orville J. Borchers, well known throughout the Southwest for his choral organizations, having conducted state choruses in Texas, Kansas and Minnesota as well as conducting choral clinics in many sections of the country. He was also co-director of the National College Choir for the Music Educators National Conference held recently.

As dean of the school of music, Dr. Borchers has served as president of several state organizations and many national committees. The School of Music, under his direction, has attracted such teachers as Gyorgy Sandor, Mack Harrell and others to its staff.

Its summer session is affiliated with the Aspen School of Music.

Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder are just about the slickest and most appealing performers among the dancers of the younger generation in the choreography; they prove to be sufficiently skilled to provide their audience with a genuinely happy dance event. Their costumes are handsome. Their technique is good. (See CONCERT Page 4)

South's three club response to the opening no-trump indicated that he thought a slam was possible. Otherwise he would have bid three no-trump. You don't fool with minor suit games after a no-trump opening bid.

North raised to four clubs and normally the slam would have been a lay down. Unfortunately North had exactly as many cards in each suit as South and neither hand could use its trumps for ruffing purposes.

In spite of the duplication the slam would normally have been made. South won the opening heart lead, drew trumps, played three rounds of diamonds to get rid of that suit and threw West in with his queen of hearts.

Larceny Lou sitting West saw what happened. A heart lead would give declarer a ruff and a discard so that was out of the question. A low spade lead would also give South the hand if he held king-nine-small of that suit because East's queen would fall to South's king and South could then finesse for Lou's jack.

Spectacular Senate Probes Come Along Every Few Years

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Spectacular Senate investigations seem to come along every two or three years.

Teapot Dome... the midget in J. P. Morgan's lap... the munitions-makers... call up memories of the 1920s and 1930s. More recent spectaculars have involved "five-per centers" in the Truman administration, the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the Army-McCarthy brawl and the big time hoodlums who paraded before the televised Kefauver Crime Committee hearings.

The 1957 edition of the big Senate investigation is being conducted by a specially-created group bearing the imposing title, "select committee on improper activities in the labor and management fields." The committee is particularly interested in racketeering by labor unions and, at this time, in evidence of improper activity by the huge Teamsters' Union and its hefty president, Dave Beck.

These investigations regularly produce arguments about the limits of congressional investigations and whether committees abuse their powers.

Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment and other constitutional provisions Tuesday in refusing to answer questions. He said, in effect, that he would prefer to take his chances in the courts where he felt his rights were better protected.

In dealing with cases involving contempt of congressional committees, the courts historically have taken a broad view of the investigating powers of Congress. These powers are only implied in the Constitution, although they

"You'd better head for the hills! Mom's giving Mrs. Bisby a baby shower this afternoon!"

Weekly Newsletter From Congressman Walter Rogers

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:
House Action Bears Fruit
The action of the House of Representatives in returning the budget to President Eisenhower has not met with the warmest welcome at the White House. However, like most unpopular moves, its impact has brought some indirect results. As I pointed out in last week's newsletter, the Housing Administrator indicated a willingness to make a measurable cut. Since that time the Secretary of Defense has moved in the direction of economy so that some 50 million dollars, according to the estimates of some House Members, may be saved in the Pentagon. More of this sort of thing is foreseen.

In the meantime, the House of Representatives Appropriations Subcommittee, headed by the very able Albert Thomas of Houston, Texas, proceeded to slash some $17 million off of the budget estimates for 1958 expenses of 19 federal agencies. This is commonly called the Independent Agencies Appropriation Bill. When the bill came before the House, 21 million dollars was knocked off. The final cut amounted to about 10 percent of the budget estimate. If all bills could be cut in like manner, it would mean a 7 billion dollar reduction in the proposed expenditures for this year.

Approximately 82 percent of the funds included in the bill passed by the House were Veterans Administration funds. The other 18 percent was allocated among 18 other independent agencies. I thought that this action would be front page news in Washington, but not so. When my morning paper came there was slight mention of the bill on the front page, but the story was in the second section of the newspaper.

The House of Representatives is in a budget cutting mood and chances are that measurable cuts will be made in each bill as it reaches the House for debate. Some have said that Congress is getting itself in position to again be accused of "fiscal irresponsibility", as it was when it tried to cut taxes for the small income people. One fellow was heard to remark that if the recent budget was an example of "fiscal responsibility", a little touch of "fiscal irresponsibility" might be in order. He felt that if someone didn't stop being so "fiscally responsible", it was going to bankrupt the nation.

Mid-East Situation
Everyone is getting into the act in trying to settle the Mid-East problem. There are a number of independent committees composed of self-appointed individuals and groups. Some of these are strongly partisan, either for Israel on the one hand or for Egypt on the other. Others appear to be organizations that recognize an opportunity to turn a quick dollar. Some are business groups who feel that they can provide the answer. One such group has termed itself the "Mid-East Settlement Committee" and is headed by Mr. E. W. Greenwood as Chairman. The headquarters for this group seem to be the Shoreham Hotel in Washington. It has issued a press release, a plan and proposal to handle the situation, and a proposal to finance handling of it by issuance of world peace bonds. According to the press release, Mr. Greenwood has visited with Nasser in Egypt and has had constructive talks with him. He states that his plan has been submitted to President Eisenhower, to Secretary Humphrey, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the State Department. He doesn't state why he by-passed the House of Representatives Committee on Foreign Affairs.

I have heard by grapevine that the State Department has told this Committee its proposals are impossible. I am told the Committee is made up of several businessmen from the West Coast and that they are spending their own money to get this movement snowballing. I read their proposals, especially those concerned with the issuance of world peace bonds, the proceeds of which are to be used to assist all of these countries. The NOT UNUSUAL provision in this proposal is the suggestion that the bonds be guaranteed by the United States Government. There seem to be quite a few people willing to take a chance and enter into a new program and new venture if their success is guaranteed by Uncle Sam. Washington has a full share of those who preach free enterprise but hang around the Capitol trying to get handouts from the federal government.

Some of these are most vociferous about free enterprise, private enterprise and keeping the government out of business. Personally, I would defer to no one in my sincere desire that free, private and fair enterprise prevail, with only such amount of interference from the government as would be necessary to prevent exploitation and to see that the rules of fair play are observed. It is for that reason that I am sometimes amused at some of the individuals or groups who appear before the Congress bellowing free enterprise, but these schemes are operated under misleading names, but the end result sought is usually some law giving preferred treatment to a particular group, either in tax matters or by guaranteeing obligations or otherwise providing a cloak of protection. It has been suggested that these types of groups have their own definition of free enterprise, viz: "A philosophy whereby the government enacts laws to provide one preferred group with the freedom to exploit all others, if such preferred group will furnish the enterprise to do it."

A ballad singer with a striking purity of style, Holt can chant anything from a New England folk song to "Lazy Afternoon."

Board members of the local concert association wish to express their appreciation to each member for their support during the past year. "Because of this excellent cooperation we were able to bring to Pampa the five splendid numbers we have been privileged to hear during the current season," association representatives said.

New members for the 1957-58 series will be privileged to attend the concert Friday evening by presenting their membership receipts at the doors.

Dr. Rutledge Is Posture Week Head

Appointment of Dr. R. H. Rutledge of Pampa as city-county Correct Posture Week chairman for this area was announced today.

His appointment was made by Dr. C. E. Henley of Amarillo, regional chairman for this area.

He is one of several hundred chairmen who have been named to direct Posture Week activities, May 1-7, in nearly 300 Texas cities and towns.

This will make the seventh straight year that the Texas State Chiropractic Association has sponsored the observance of Posture Week in Texas.

The purpose of Correct Posture Week, the sponsors said, "was to stress to the public the importance of good posture and good health and the relationship of the spine to good posture."

Transfer McLean Phone Exchange

The McLean telephone exchange will be taken over by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company next Monday, according to word received from George Newberry, district manager of the company at Pampa.

The changing of companies operating the exchange is a part of a transfer of systems between Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and Southwestern States Telephone Company involving towns in Oklahoma and Texas.

Final approval for the transfer was received from the FCC on March 18, Newberry reported.

No plans have been made for any changes in the McLean exchange as yet, Newberry stated, and will not be made until after the transfer is completed. The exchange will be under the direction of the district office at Pampa.

Suit Is Filed In Court Here

A suit was filed this morning in 1st District Court by Robert W. Curry of Pampa against W. O. Davis, also of this city for a total of $12,385.55.

The petition charges that a fire starting on April 25, 1956, at a building owned by Davis, on S. Cuyler, spread to a building owned by Curry, scorching and burning it to the extent of the damages asked.

No date has been set for a hearing.

Rotary Club Hears Former School Head

Jerry St. Iard, formerly superintendent of schools for the cities of Denver, Philadelphia and Los Angeles, yesterday addressed Pampa Rotarians for their program of the day.

St. Iard's talk was broken down into three parts: first, emphasizing language as the essence of a people and civilization; second, the importance of freedom to our well-being.

St. Iard was introduced by Knox Klard.

Visitors and guests for the day were Ed Leonard, Ralph Thomas, E. E. Thomas, D. W. Page and Bill Gibbs.

LIVESTOCK (Continued From Page 1) were not regarded as major disaster in relation to the overall livestock supply, they were tragic to many individual stockmen who had hung on through seven years of drought.

In Texas, Odham county Agricultural Agent G. C. Franks estimated the cattle loss will total 2,000 to 3,000 head, valued at up to $600,000.

Officials said many of the cattle that survived the storm have been without food for a prolonged period and probably won't be marketable this year because of loss of weight.

At La Junta, Colo., rendering companies were swamped with requests to haul away dead cattle which are posing a health problem due to warmer weather. Losses on ranches in Colorado and New Mexico ranged from 20 to 800 head.

Besides taking a heavy toll of cattle, the storm did little to ease drought conditions in Texas, Colorado and New Mexico. Most of the Plains were swept clean of snow, and the winds once again were raising dust in the area.

Officers Want Man Held Here

A detainee was received this morning by the police department from the U.S. marshal in New Mexico for Thomas Hughes Hills, being held by the local officers for the marshal placed the detainee.

According to information received by Jim Conner, chief of police, the marshal placed the detainee on Hills for an offense which allegedly occurred in New Mexico in the 1940's.

Hills was arrested by the local officers on Wednesday of last week as the result of a warrant received from the Illinois officers. He is charged with confidence and forgery.

Hills had signed a waiver of extradition last Thursday but the Illinois officers have not arrived in Pampa to return him to Paxton, Ill.

Americanism Class To Start

Sunday, April 7, will mark the beginning of an Americanism class at the Baker Elementary School to be sponsored by the Pampa Lions Club.

O. K. Gaylor, secretary of the club has said that the classes will be given free of charge to those wishing to attend with the purpose of assisting those who do to prepare for citizenship examinations. All expenses will be incurred by the Lions Club.

Tentative plans call for one class to be held each week until the student feels that he is prepared to take his citizenship examinations. Gaylor has emphasized that these plans are only tentative however and will be ironed out at the first meeting of the group.

The school is located at 300 E. Tule and the time for the first class is 2 p. m.

Grand Jury To Meet Tomorrow

The Lipscomb County grand jury, which was scheduled to meet last Monday morning at 10 o'clock, met this afternoon at 2 o'clock instead, according to Bill Waters, district attorney.

Waters said that the jury meeting of 16 persons, of which 12 were to be picked this afternoon to serve for this jury term, was rescheduled due to weather conditions Monday which made such a meeting impossible.

The Gray County grand jury is scheduled to be called tomorrow morning, Waters said, at which time it will hear those cases which have been completely investigated.

No definite number of cases have been set for trial at this time, Waters said.

Six Pairs Make Shoe Wardrobe

Most American men lead a double life these days — and dress accordingly.

No longer does the same pair of shoes suffice for work, leisure and play.

With the growing trend toward the suburbs — and the increased time available for relaxation and fun, casual shoes have joined business shoes as an important part of the male shoe wardrobe.

For Typical Wardrobe. A shoe wardrobe that should meet the needs of the typical well-dressed man would include:

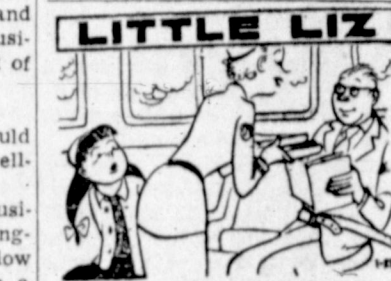

Two pairs of black shoes for business wear. One might be a wing-tip in smooth leather with the low continental lines, and the other a slimmed-down grained leather slip-on.

Two pairs of brown shoes, also for business wear. Here, you might choose a two- or three-eyelet moccasin-toe style in a medium tan leather, and a U-wing or plain toe in dark brown or cordovan leather.

For active leisure, a soft-constructed slip-on in butter-soft glove-type leather or the popular brushed leathers; and for dress-up leisure a pair of brown-and-white, or black-and-white.

Students Come To Aid Of Professors

ELKHART, Ind. (UP)—A group of Elkhart University students today came to the defense of three faculty members charged with staging drinking parties for coeds who wanted to "benefit their scholastic efforts."

Police said seven teen-aged coeds signed statements saying they went on drinking parties with the teachers. They said one of the teachers would comfort them with "fatherly kisses" when they got sick from drinking.

The teachers were free on $300 bond. Authorities said they would be arraigned Monday on charges of furnishing liquor to minors. They face maximum penalties of $300 fines and six months in jail if convicted.

The teachers were identified as Hugh A. Woosley, 40, head of medical courses at the university; and Frank Schultz, 28, and Robert Zimmerman, 32, laboratory instructors.

In their statements, the girls told of enjoying more than 100 cans of beer at one of the drinking parties. Police said one of the girls also charged the instructors with supplying mixed drinks at the party.

On "occasions" when some of the girls got sick from too much liquor, Woosley tried to soothe them with "fatherly kisses," the statements said.

Explosives Storer Sought In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Local and federal police tried to pin responsibility today for the storing of 20 tons of high explosives that blew up in a densely populated area Wednesday — spreading death, destruction and injury for a quarter of a mile.

Rescue workers ended their search for bodies early this morning and said the final death toll probably would remain at 16. At least 235 persons were injured, many of them seriously.

Earlier, Dr. Roberto Gomez of the Mexican Red Cross said that because bodies were blown into small pieces the death count may rise as high as 50.

There were two explosions. They demolished the warehouse in which the explosives were stored, left a block-wide crater and leveled every building and one-story adobe shack in the congested area for 200 yards.

Most of the casualties occurred in the second explosion. It came as spectators rushed to the scene following the first blast. Seven firemen were among the dead.

Nanette Fabray's Emmy Award Kicked Up 'An Embarrassing Fuss'

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Nanette Fabray has collected a new half of last year! Pat Carroll of fiance, a new TV series—and an Emmy award that, she sadly sighs, has kicked up "an embarrassing fuss."
 The per-nosed singer arrived here from New York fresh from getting engaged to screenwriter Randal MacDougal, signing for an NBC series and taking the "Best Comedienne" award for her work during the first half of last year's Sid Caesar television show.
 But Nanette was met by the dull thud of a controversy in TV circles as to whether she should have accepted the Emmy because she left the show in June.
 "All this fuss has been embarrassing," confessed Nanette. "I was flattered and thrilled to win, I was sure people would have forgotten my work on Sid's show."
 "But to read all this to-do because, I was on the show only half of last year! Pat Carroll of fiance, a new TV series—and an Emmy award that, she sadly sighs, has kicked up "an embarrassing fuss."
 "Actually the TV awards are set up cockeyed. The TV year begins in October and ends in June so the Emmy's should be judged for the season, not the calendar year. I think they should launch "Best Comedienne" award for the fall season with a bang by handing out the awards in September."
 Nanette's Emmy might play cupid and bring her back to Caesar's show, now that Janet Blair is "divorcing" the comic. If an opportunity came to work with Caesar again, Nanette said, "I wouldn't pass it up, although I don't know whether I would want to do an hour show every week again."
 Meantime she is busy with her own projects. She plays a lady

Next Season Will See TV Go Thataway

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Next season, partners will be the one in which TV goes thataway.
 More than a half-dozen new westerns are scheduled to sashay onto home screens in the fall to join up with such other oaters as Wells Fargo, Gunsmoke and Wyatt, you should pardon the indigestion Eap.
 If you've watched any adult westerns (an adult western is one which ends with the hero and the villain walking slowly towards each other from opposite ends of a long street accompanied by the mournful chords of a guitar), you know the language is a little different from adult westerns.
Too Sore To Sit
 In the interest of more intelligent viewing, therefore, we have compiled the following lexicon of authentic western terms to aid all you dudes:
 Cowpoke—Punch administered to mooring animal.
 A ranger—Fellow who writes music for show.

The Boss Is Going Back To School

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The boss is going back to school.
 One of his campuses—a place where an average of 400 bosses a week for 10 months of the year go in for intensive retraining in executive problems and methods—is smackdab overlooking Times Square.
 However, the American Management Association (AMA), which runs the business executive schooling operation at the top of the Sheraton Astor Hotel, reports that the old boys buckle right down to work, for the most part, and snun the bright lights and naughty nleries.
 The AMA now occupies a third of the hotel. Six months ago, it started using the famous old Astor roof—reconverted, of course—as its Times Square campus.
 On the site of the bandstand, where Rudy Vallee used to croon and Harry James heave hot into a horn, is a 120-seat auditorium for the general management course.
 There are 30 soundproofed, custom-tailored meeting rooms for seminars, clinics, and other meetings—all walnut-paneled, air-conditioned, fluorescent-lighted, projection-screened.
 Indicative of the national trend toward executive training is the fact that the AMA grew 60 per cent in number of activities during the last fiscal year, over the previous year.
 What is the national picture of executives going back to school? AMA President Lawrence A. Appley estimates that this year a quarter-million executives are going back to some sort of training. About 100,000 of these will go to internal company schooling programs. Another 100,000 will attend activities by outside institutions, such as those offered by the AMA.
 Faced with growing complexity in their jobs, the executives swap managerial know-how and study basic techniques and approaches. The AMA uses 3,000 executives a year as its "faculty"—a policy of management teaching management.
Antelope Growth
 Baby antelope weigh from five to six pounds and stand about 16 inches high at birth. They gain nearly a pound a day for the first few days.

Producer Is Having The Tar Beaten Into Him

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Bill Castle, producer of a new TV series, "Men of Annapolis," is having the tar beaten into him.

Castle took over the reins of the syndicated show last year when Ziv, an independent outfit, received permission from the Navy to turn out a series based on the naval academy at Annapolis.

"Before I did anything else, I spent a whole month at Annapolis," said Castle today. "I actually attended classes—things like ordnance and gunnery, seamanship and navigation—sat in on meetings and talked constantly with middies.

Want Perfection
"Then I lined up five writers and sent them to Annapolis for a two-week indoctrination course. It was all pretty necessary. You know, the Navy is terribly snobbish, terribly aristocratic. They have a long and proud tradition and we knew we'd really have to toe the line on this one."

The Navy informed Castle in advance that he would not be permitted to take license with any phase of academy life.

"They insisted that each show be perfect technically," said Castle. "That means, for example, we couldn't have a plebe drive a car or keep a pet or go out with a girl."

Plenty of Help
"Our actors had to get Navy haircuts and to make sure the uniforms were correct, the Navy furnished them. Our actors, when they're in uniform, have to conduct themselves like members of the academy. They even have to salute."

"We've got one commander and two nava. lieutenants overseeing the show. One story that takes place in a terrain room had to be rewritten seven times before it was satisfactory. Another scene in a damaged control room had to be rewritten 10 times."

The Navy's interest in the series has its strong advantages, too, pointed out Castle.

"The co-operation is fantastic," he said. "We have the entire academy at our disposal—3800 men. If you want a plane, they get it for you. If you want a submarine, they get that, too."

Walter Rogers On Forum At Convention

ABILENE — Six West Texas Congressmen will participate in the annual Congressional Forum at the 39th Texas Chamber of Commerce, Ray Graham, president of the WTCC, announced today.

The forum will be the last item on the convention agenda and will be open to the public, Graham said. The convention, scheduled for March 27, 28 and 29 in Abilene, is expected to draw some 600 members of the WTCC from throughout the 132 county region served by the organization.

The Congressmen, which includes Honorable George Mahon of Lubbock, Honorable O. C. Fisher of TELEPHONE BABY—Something new in obstetrics was introduced at the Georgia Baptist Hospital in Atlanta when Nurse Marie Jones, right, by telephone, aided Mrs. Jackie Hill in delivering her own baby. Mother, of three others, Mrs. Hill went into labor at home, realized she could never make it to the hospital. So she called up, got Miss Jones, who calmly gave her instructions as the child was born. Mother and her new daughter were later brought to the hospital.

Jury Service Is Citizen's Duty

One of these days—perhaps soon—you may get a notice telling you to report for jury duty—and to "fall in." In serving, you share one of the most solemn duties known to our democracy.

Some people try to get out of jury service. It may be inconvenient or unpleasant. Yet, when you are put on a jury you should think of this as a chance to help make good one of the promises of our Constitution—trial by jury. Say the following to yourself:

"My forefathers wrested my right to serve as a juror from tyrants."

"Under our law no one's life, liberty, or property can be taken without due process of law."

"Trial by jury is our basic right. All who seek their day in court should have a fair hearing. They will get it from me."

"I will not ask to be excused from jury service except in an emergency."

"On my oath I will well and truly try each case before me, and a true verdict render under the law given me by the judge and the evidence introduced at the trial—without fear, favor, or hope of reward."

"I will listen closely, with open mind to all of the testimony, instructions, and arguments. I will not make up my mind until all the facts are in and the judge has instructed the jury on the law. I will search for the truth reardless of wealth or poverty, friendship or enmity, or any party or witnesses.

"To someone my decision may mean the difference between freedom or imprisonment, poverty or wealth."

"Justice, once but a dream, is a reality when I, as a juror, do my full duty. No act of mine shall bring shame to our system of liberty under law."

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Juicy Pot Roast Has Nutritive Value As Well As A Family Palate Pleaser

This veal rump roast was browned in hot fat, then braised in a sweet-sour sauce. It could have been cooked by dry heat — oven roasted — with bacon or salt pork strips covering it. Cauliflower and carrots accompany the juicy pot roast.

SAVORY VEAL POT ROAST
5 pounds veal rump roast
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon basil, marjoram, or poultry seasoning
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 small onion, diced

2 tablespoons vinegar
1/4 cup water

Roll veal in flour mixed with paprika. Brown in hot fat in a large, heavy pan. Add mustard, basil, sugar, salt, pepper, onion, vinegar and water. Cover pan and cook over low heat about 2 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender. (To test doneness, pierce the meat with a fork to determine tenderness.) To thicken drippings for gravy, blend 1 1/2 tablespoons flour with 1/4 cup water, then slowly add to drippings in pan. Continue to stir while cooking until gravy boils and thickens. Taste for seasoning adjustment. 8 to 10 servings.

Hot And Hearty Meals Satisfy Most Especially When They're Handy, Too

The proof of a good cook is in making the most of foods which are plentiful and low in price by serving them often in many different ways. Economical macaroni products and ground beef are two of the most versatile items on a homemaker's shopping list, for they can be combined in dozens of delicious and appetizing dishes.

Molasses Makes Springtime Treat

Unsulphured molasses! What an ideal sweetener for springtime cookies! Because this molasses is concentrated sugar cane juice, it supplies the body with energy. It also provides a rich amount of iron, plus the calcium and B vitamins found in natural cane juice. Its taffy flavor, too, comes from sun-ripened sugar cane.

Molasses gingerbread boy and girl cookies, assembled in two steps and offer a spring tonic in price by form. Cream together shortening, sugar, molasses, and egg in one operation. Then add flour, leavening, and spices.

If the dough is chilled two hours, it can be rolled out neatly for cutting. The cookies bake crisp and fragrant and inviting.

Frosting - trimmed, they make more festive party refreshments. Or, these gay cookies might be sent to school on the birthday of one of your children for sharing with schoolmates. If the gingerbread cookies make a St. Patrick's Day appearance, the frosting could be tinted green.

Molasses Coconut Drop Cookies are speedily made and are of delightful flavor medley. To a molasses-sweetened dough, add coconut, nuts and raisins.

Molasses cookies truly present daily food needs in a form popular with the whole family. And when served with milk, the two foods enhance each other nutritionally and enjoyment wise.

Taffy Milk

Mix together 1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses and 1 cup of milk in a 12-ounce glass. Add 1 scoop (1/4 pint) vanilla, chocolate, or coffee-ice cream. Stir and serve immediately.

Chili Beef Spaghetti
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces spaghetti
1 pound ground beef chuck
2 tablespoons salad oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
2 cups grated processed American cheese (about 1/2 pound)

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Cook beef in oil until lightly browned. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt and chili powder and mix well. Arrange alternate layers of spaghetti, tomato sauce, beef mixture and cheese in greased 2-quart casserole. Bake, covered, in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes.

Cookbook Guard

Here's another use for the handy photo-film bags many fruits, vegetables, and household items are wrapped in. When following a cookbook recipe, slide the open book into a bag. Printing can be read clearly and the pages will be protected from any splatters.

If you dread cleaning your oven, broiler, barbecue grill, or range top, try the new nonflammable chemical-solvent spray that is packed in an aerosol can. It is available in the house-ware section of your grocery market, hardware store, or department store. Just aim the spray on the greasy surface, wait 10 minutes, then sponge it off with warm water.

Parisienne Touch Added To Good Old American Pot-Roast With Onion Soup

The old American favorite — pot roast — gets a French touch in a recipe in April Family Circle Magazine. To make Pot Roast Parisienne, you simply cook it in onion soup. Serve it with your choice of vegetables. We suggest Noodle Crisp as a delicious change from potatoes.

POT ROAST PARISIENNE
Makes 6 servings
4 pounds boneless beef, chuck or round
Flour
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 can onion soup
Green-pepper rings
1. Dust beef well with flour; brown on all sides in salad oil in large heavy kettle or Dutch oven; pour onion soup over.

2. Cover kettle; simmer about 2 hours, or until beef is tender when pierced with fork. Add green-pepper rings for garnish during last 10 minutes cooking.

3. To make gravy: remove meat; skin any excess fat from liquid in kettle; measure liquid and return to kettle. For each 1 cup, blend 1 tablespoon flour with 1 tablespoon cold water to make a smooth paste; stir into hot liquid; cook stirring constantly, until gravy thickens and boils 1 minute.

NOODLE CRISP
Cool: 1 package (8 ounces) noodles according to direction; drain; season with 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and salt and pepper to taste. Place in heated serving dish; garnish edges with 1 cup toaster buttered bread cubes; top with mince strips. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Beat a path to the door of your nearest hardware store for this better mousetrap, operated on mouse current. The interior of the plastic dome-shaped cage is coated with an electric conductor that electrocutes the mouse venturing inside after the bait. Only the interior conducts electricity, so the mousetrap cannot harm children or pets when the cord is plugged into an outlet. When the cage is lifted, its floor can be pivoted downward to make disposal easy.

Star Recipes

Though she typifies sophisticated glamour to most moviegoers, lovely Joan Fontaine is strictly a meat-and-potato gal when it comes to dining. And, in addition to her many charms, Joan is one of filmland's more accomplished cooks. Joan says, "My special man-pleaser is this easy-to-make Corned Beef and Potato Bake. These days, when everyone is so calorie-conscious, properly prepared potatoes add a filling and nutritious touch to a meal. I like to serve crisp radishes and celery or a nippy mustard-flavored green salad with this dish. It has gotten me so many compliments, I thought I'd pass it along to you."

CORNEBEEF AND POTATO BAKE

(6 servings)
4 medium potatoes
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups shredded cooked corn beef, or 1 1/2-ounce can corned beef
1 cup milk

Wash, pare and slice potatoes. Arrange layer of sliced potatoes in bottom of margarine or buttered baking dish. Sprinkle lightly with flour, salt and pepper. Dot with butter or margarine. Cover with a layer of corned beef. Repeat, ending with layer of potatoes. Pour milk over all. Bake in moderate oven (400°F.) 45 to 60 minutes, or until potatoes can be easily pierced with fork.

When you buy potatoes see that they're firm and hard and have relatively smooth skin. Best to buy them in paper bags with a mesh window such as those made by Union Bag-Camp Paper Corporation. The paper shields the potato from light; the window allows you to see their color and quality.

Date Squares Are Not "Square" With High Rating On Dessert Hit Parade

For a special dessert or party treat, date squares with ice cream will rate compliments from young and old. The recipe below from the April issue of Family Circle Magazine is one you'll want to try soon.

DATE SQUARES A LA MODE
Bake at 325 degrees 30 to 40 minutes.
Makes 16 two-inch squares

DATE FILLING
1 package (about 7 ounces) pitted dates
1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup water

CRUMB MIXTURE
1 cup sifted flour
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine

2 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
Ice cream for topping
1. Make date filling: Cut dates in small pieces with scissors; combine with 1/4 cup brown sugar and water in medium-size saucepan.
2. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly and mashing dates as they soften, until thick.
3. Remove from heat at once; spoon into small bowl; cool. (Filling will continue to cook if left in pan.)

4. Make crumb mixture: Measure flour, brown sugar, baking soda, and salt into sifter; sift into large bowl.
5. Cut in butter or margarine with pastry blender or 2 knives until mixture is crumbly; mix in rolled oats.
6. Pat half the crumb mixture into the bottom of a buttered pan, 8x8x2; cover with cooled date filling; top with remaining crumb mixture; pat down lightly.
7. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) 30 to 40 minutes, or until top is lightly browned. Cool in pan on wire cake rack; cut into 2-inch squares.
8. Serve topped with a mound of ice cream; garnish with whipped cream if you wish.

If you place a long narrow piece of sponge in the pocket of a baby's bib, the sponge will hold open the pocket to catch crumbs and will also absorb spilled liquids.

Scientists Say Man Will Travel To The Moon Soon

HOUSTON, (UP)— Two scientists who are working on the man-made moon the U.S. will shoot into the skies, believe that humans will ride in rockets "soon."

The scientists are Walter E. Green Jr. and Raymond G. Sipe of the Martin Company, Baltimore, Md., which will send the earth satellite into space between July, 1957 and December, 1958.

Green and Sipe were in Houston to explain the satellite project to delegates attending the silver anniversary convention of the American Society of Tool Engineers.

Green and Sipe said the three-part rocket (earth satellite) will be launched at night from the Patrick Air Force Base on the east coast of Florida.

Bottom Falls Off

"It will be propelled by a liquid rocket fuel which gives the equivalent thrust of 270,000 horsepower," they said.

The rocket will reach an altitude of 32.5 miles when the bottom portion of it will fall off into the ocean. The remainder of the rocket — or "second stage" — will carry on to a height of 139 miles above the earth.

"At this point the rocket will be ripped by explosive bolts that will open it up like a banana," Green said. "All that remains at this altitude will be the 21-inch sphere which is the man-made moon or 'earth satellite'."

10 Minutes Across U.S.

The sphere, weighting 21 pounds and carrying sensitive instruments to allow scientists on earth to follow its course, will circle the earth at a speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

"It will stay up from one day to one year," Sipes said. "We don't know how long it will stay up. It will range in altitude from 300 miles above the earth to 1,400 miles as it circles the globe."

The satellite eventually will "burn" itself out, they said.

The satellite will circle the earth every 90 minutes and will take 10 minutes to cross the United States.

JAMESTOWN CELEBRANTS—One of the sure-fire attractions at the eight-month festival celebrating the 350th anniversary of the Jamestown, Va. colony are these three hand-wrought wooden vessels. They are full-size replicas of the 40-ton Godspeed, left; the 100-ton Susan Constant, rear; and the 20-ton Discovery, right, the ships that brought the New World's first successful English colonists to found Jamestown in 1607. Permanent mooring during the April 1-Nov. 30 celebration will be in the James River, off Jamestown Festival Park.

US Officials Are Killed; Wife Of One Kidnapped

TEHRAN, Iran, (UP)— Two American officials were killed and the wife of one of the slain men kidnaped by bandits in southeastern Iran, U.S. authorities revealed today.

The American officials killed with two Iranians in a bandit ambush two days ago were identified as Kevin M. Carroll, 37, of Issaquah, Wash., and Brewster A. Wilson, 35, of Portland, Ore. Carroll's wife, Anita, was kidnaped.

Carroll was an official of the U.S. Point Four program, administered by the International Cooperation Administration. Wilson worked for the Near East Foundation.

No trace of Mrs. Carroll has been found.

Nadlerized, Nadled, Nadlepatted: Still Overstuffed Brain

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP) — Dim views on glaring subjects:

With Teddy Nadler, the St. Louis quizzang, soaring to new summits of wealth with his ability to ape facts upon the TV screen, let us consider a new word to describe persons suffering from overstuffed brain. How about "Nadlerized?"

party was traveling in two jeeps in rugged country near the tiny town of Iranshabr in the wild and arid region of Baluchistan. The party ambushed by bandits apparently from Baluchistan, which lies in southeastern Iran and western Pakistan and is inhabited by Iranian - speaking Baluch Nomads.

Or, perhaps, for the sake of simplicity, just "Nadled."
No, that's too simple. Maybe "Nadlepatted" is better.

There's a gent named Pat Anthony, a former paratrooper with the 11th airborne division, the outfit that jumped into Luzon and helped retake Manila in World War II, who knew what he wanted when the war was over. He wanted to educate himself under the GI bill of rights.

So he did. Took an extensive course in lion taming at a wild animal farm, and now he's in a lion training act with the Hamid-Morton, Hunt Brothers combined circus. No one can say the GI bill didn't help him get a liberal education.

NO HAIR CARE—Shirley MacLaine's tousled look in hair styles isn't recommended for every girl but it has paid off for her. The girl who says she cuts her tresses without looking and never combs them was featured in "Around the World in 80 Days," and has a big role in "Hot Spell." Girls Town And Boys Ranch Discussed At Recent Art And Civic Club Meeting (Special to The News) LEFORS — Mrs. J. E. Carter presented a program on "Texas Day," relating the founding and function of Girls Town and Boys Ranch, at a recent meeting of the Lefors Art and Civic club in the civic center.

She related the history of Girls Town by stating that this home had been a life-long dream of Amelia Anthony, the founder, and became a reality on Mar. 13, 1949 at Buffalo Gap, with the savings of Miss Anthony being the only financial means of support. Shortly after this, Miss Anthony received deeded surface rights to a 1425 acre plot of land nine miles south of Whiteface which is the present location. Gradually, the buildings were added as more funds were available.

Girls of all ages and walks of life are accepted in the home by the board of directors and helped to grow into normal adulthood. They learn to become worthwhile individuals for God and our nation; however, the home was not founded for delinquent girls necessarily, but for girls who had no home.

Girls Town is not complex. It has no bars or walls, but does

Musical Program Is Presented PTA

(Special to The News) MOLETTE — The Mobeette PTA met Mar. 18, with Mrs. J. R. Patterson, president, conducting the business meeting. Monroe Rogers led the group in singing, "The Eyes of Texas." Rev. C. F. Copeland gave the invocation.

Mrs. Patterson appointed the following members as the nominating committee: Mmes. Murel J. Trout, chairman; C. R. Copeland and A. G. Caldwell.

Mrs. Lir-down Sims' music pupils presented a musical recital. Those in the recital were, Phyllis Grimes, who played "Pinning The Tail on the Donkey"; Linda DeWitt, playing "Fairly Waltz"; Judy Bailey, "Man in the Moon"; Eddie Hodges, "Sky Lark"; Brenda Rogers, "Narcissus"; Mary Margaret Trout, "Beautiful Dreamer"; Glynnda Beck, "At the Ballet"; and Loretta Copeland, "The Spinning Song".

A one-act play, "Time out for Ginger" was presented by the following cast, Wanda Gene Gudgel, Donna Risner, Laura Lancaster, Marcelle Patterson, Kaye Quarles, Alfred Corcoran, DeWayne Trout, and Ferrell Baird.

This drama will be presented again on Thursday evening in Wheeler, when the group will be competing for first place in Wheeler County in the presentation of one-act plays. Superintendent L. R. Reeves is director.

have in operation, twenty-four hours of every day, a simple rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." All efforts are expended in the direction of a quotation from Proverbs, "Train a Child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

On the other hand, Boys Ranch is a haven for boys who have known juvenile judges firsthand and have seen the inside of reform schools. But due to the foresight of Cal Farley, they are taught the meaning of prayer.

The ranch is an oasis on the Panhandle plains, near the Canadian river, forty miles outside of Amarillo; the site of a ghost town, Old Tascosa.

The ranchers are not angels, but conform to their ranch founder's definition, "A boy is a product of God with a little devil in him."

"With the help of many famous and some not-so-famous persons, these two homes for boys and girls are truly a picture of democracy in action," aptly stated Mrs. Carter.

Mrs. Bill Watson, vice-president, presided over the business meeting leading the group in the club collect. Roll call was answered with the names of cattle brands.

It was announced that the club has door-hangers for sale. They may be obtained from any club member.

The meeting was closed with each member present giving a Bible verse. Those present were Mmes. Bill Watson, Raymond Jordan, J. E. Carter, Ted Gustin, Babe Hall, D. D. Lewis, Howard Archer, Bud Cumberledge, Charles Gilson, L. R. Spence, R. H. Barron, Earl Atkinson, Ray Boyd, Bob Peterson, and H. W. Callan.

Manners Make Friends

A gracious hostess tries to keep something on-hand to offer the drop-in caller. Whether she offers a cup of tea and a plate of homemade cookies or something else isn't very important. But it is important that she be able to offer something.

Best way to be sure of always being mannerly in this respect is to have a "company shelf" well stocked for the unexpected guest arriving either at tea time or meal time.

It happens over and over, judging from the letters that come to this desk.

The son or daughter who offers to take the major responsibility, providing the parent with a home, soon is bearing all the responsibility.

Brothers and sisters not only neglect to chip in financially. Often they don't even bother to write the mother or father regularly.

A daughter whose mother has been living in her home for five years says: "I love my mother and I am happy to have her living in our home."

"But there are four other children in the family and it doesn't seem quite fair that my husband, whose salary isn't large, has to pay all of my mother's expenses."

"Yet not one of my brothers or sisters has come forth with an offer to help out financially."

"Not only that. Only one of them writes her regularly. That makes it difficult for me, for she is constantly worrying about them and is hurt by their indifference."

"It isn't easy to keep happy an older person who has had to give up her own home. It is doubly hard when she feels that she is no longer important to her children."

The only solution would seem to be for the child who is offering a parent a home to make it quite clear to the other children that they must all agree on a monthly sum the parent will need for living expenses and then divide it equally.

Also, the one giving the parent a home should insist that the other children write the parent regularly and do everything else in their power to bolster the older person's morale.

Such cooperation is not only fair, it is better for the family as a whole. It helps to keep them close. Ignoring a common responsibility makes them drift apart.

Luncheon Begins Ladies' Golf Year

The Women's Golfing Association began its golfing season with a luncheon for guests and members at the Country Club recently. Fifty-two members and guests turned out for the luncheon and organization plans.

Mrs. Scott Hall, president, introduced each of the association officers, who outlined their plans for the year.

Mrs. Vernon Watkins, tournament chairman, outlined a group of activities, which will be held in the near future, among them are an 18-hole putting contest; a three club tournament; a three-hole tournament.

Each guest and member introduced herself, after which Hart Warren, Country Club golf pro, gave a short talk. He discussed the tournaments, which will be held at the club for both men and women and stressed the importance of good etiquette on the golf course, which is as necessary and is as important to the golf game as for any social function.

Sentence Is Suspended In Traffic Deaths

HOUSTON (UP)—A 29-year-old Humble, Tex., man won a five-year suspended sentence in the deaths of two persons Wednesday and vowed he would never drive a car again "as long as I have blackouts."

A district court jury which received the case Tuesday night, then retired, returned a verdict at 11 a.m. Wednesday recommending a five-year suspended sentence and revocation of license of Ernest Wilkins.

Wilkins stood trial for the auto deaths last November of Wesley A. McIntire, 34, and his son, Glenn, 5. Witnesses testified that Wilkins was drunk, speeding and driving on the wrong side of the road.

The defense presented testimony that Wilkins was temporarily insane at the time of the accident. A doctor testified Wilkins received mental treatment at a Galveston hospital.

Wilkins claimed he suffered "blackouts."

Wilkins was fined $300 in February, 1956, for negligent homicide in the death of another man in a second car wreck. The prosecution was prohibited from bringing out this fact at the current trial.

Wilkins, thanking the jury in Judge Langston King's court, said he was "terribly sorry this thing happened."

Regents Say Okie Colleges' Future Not In Their Hands

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—The State Regents for Higher Education said today the fate of Oklahoma colleges and universities now lies "in the hands of the governor and the legislature."

Gov Raymond Gary's budget is nearly $14 million under what the regents want for the next two years.

"The regents cannot levy taxes nor make appropriations," the statement said. "Their duty, under the laws of the state, is to determine needs. This they have conscientiously attempted to do, using all the data and studies available in making their decisions.

"The regents can do no more.
The matter is now in the hands of the governor and the legislature to determine at just what level of excellence our institutions are to be operated."

The statement, released by Chancellor M. A. Nash of the regents, said the regents oppose a general increase in student fees and do not believe they should raise fees "unless directed to do so by the legislature."

Archeological Discoveries Being Studied

NORMAN, Okla. (UP)—New archeological discoveries in eastern Oklahoma pointing to an ancient Indian civilization dating back to Biblical times were being studied today.

Dr. James B. Shaeffer, archaeologist at the University of Oklahoma, said he had unearthed signs of a dwelling and various utensils at a site one mile south of an area acquired by the Navy for building a $36 million high energy fuel plant. He said he obtained permission to do excavating in the area during the latter part of February and early March.

"It's a pre-ceramic type of culture and we don't know the date of it," Shaeffer said, "but runs
A.D. This may fall in the period from 2,000 or 3,000 B.C. to 1,000
A.D."

"There were no houses before that type of culture. Dwellings consisted mainly of posts in the ground. We were fortunate to find parts of some rectangular dwelling and a circle of stones which appeared to be a fireplace.

"There also were some flint projectile points, scrapers, choppers and a few grinding stones," Shaeffer said the findings indicated a "pre-agricultural economy."

"They probably did some hunting, but mostly were a gathering type of people."

Pampa Golfers In Three-Team Battle

The Pampa Harvesters, Amarillo's Sandies and the Borger Bulldogs are expected to stage a close three-team battle for team honors in the District 3-AAAA golf tournament at the Plainview Country Club Saturday.

The Harvesters won the West Texas Relays golf meet in Odessa last week to beat the Borger squad by five strokes. Amarillo finished third.

Coach Weldon Trice's Harvesters won the district title last year and then went on to take the regional title and finish fourth in the state meet. Three of the four members of the 1956 team are back this year.

The Harvester quartet is composed of Les Howard, Bill McLeod, Burt Watkins and Melvin Chisum. Chisum, a junior, is the new member of the team. Chisum, a brother of Joe Chisum of the 1956 team, was medalist at Odessa last week, firing rounds of 75 and 74 despite the wind and dust.

The team will leave Friday afternoon to play a practice round at the 71-par course. The meet, a 36-hole event, opens Saturday morning.

ABC BOWLER — Ray Stephenson will bowl for Friendly Men's Wear at the ABC bowling tournament at Ft. Worth this week end. Two Pampa teams are entered in the meet, Friendly Men's Wear and Brown and Hinkle. (News Photo)

Spahn Hurls Braves Past Reds

Tigers Blast Bums, Maglie In 18-1 Win

By UNITED PRESS
Warren Spahn, who wept unashamedly when the Milwaukee Braves lost the National League pennant on the next-to-last day of the 1956 season, was smiling again today.

So, too, was his hulking teammate, Joe Adcock, who never has been known to weep in public but knows how to make opposing pitchers cry.

The reason for Spahn's joy was a six-hit, seven-inning stint against his favorite "cousins," the Cincinnati Redlegs, Wednesday, at Tampa, Fla. and while Spahn was soft-soaping the Redlegs with his tricky routhpaw slants, Joe Adcock drove in five runs with a pair of homers, giving the Braves a 12-4 victory.

It was Spahn's first victory of the spring training grind and served as a warning to the N.L. clubs that the 35-year-old dean of the Milwaukee staff still has his "stuff."

While Spahn was flashing some of his old-time form, another old-timer, Sal Maglie of the Dodgers, was subjected to another pounding. The 29-year-old "Barber" had hopes to pitch six innings against the Detroit Tigers, but was derelicted after giving up seven hits and six runs in three innings.

The Tigers went on from there to clobber the Dodgers, 18-1. World Series hero Johnny Kucks became the first New York Yankee pitcher to go nine innings, allowing only four hits against St. Louis, but the Cardinals emerged with a 1-0 victory on a double by Del Ennis and Hobie Landrith's triple in the second inning.

The New York Giants extended their spring record to 12 victories in 17 games—the best mark in the combined Grapefruit-Cactus League circuit by blasting the Boston Red Sox, 5-2. Phillies edged the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3, in 10 innings; the Chicago White Sox scored eight runs in the third inning to down the Washington Senators, 2-1; and Bob Lemon allowed only two hits in five innings as the Cleveland Indians blanked the Chicago Cubs, 4-0.

Coach Dwaine Lyon's Harvesters will compete in every event except for the pole vault. Other members of the district taking part are the Amarillo Sandies, Borger Bulldogs, Palo Duro Dons, Plainview Bulldogs, Lubbock Westerners and the Monterey Plainmen.

The Sandies, who won every conference championship in the old District 1-AA, will be favored once more to take the 3-AAAA title. Coach Dan Salkeld's Sandies gained 20½ points in the West Texas Relays in Odessa last week while

Top Field Is Readied For Azalea Meet

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UP)—Six former champions led a blue-ribbon field into the ninth annual Azalea Open golf tournament in search of $12,500 in prizes and the competitive keenness needed for the famed Masters tournament next week at Augusta, Ga.

The Azalea event annually attracts the world's best golfers seeking to prime themselves for the Masters, which begins just four days after the Azalea tournament closes Sunday.

The former champs seeking an unprecedented second crown here were burly Mike Souchak, the ex-Duke University star playing out of Grossinger, N.Y.; Henry Ransome, winner of the first Azalea in 1949; tiny Jerry Barber of Los Angeles; Bob Toski, the mighty mite from Holyoke, Mass.; E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock and Billy Maxwell, the sun-tanned kid from Odessa, Tex.

Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., third money winner on the PGA tour this year, was counted out as a dark-horse in the tournament because of an automobile accident Wednesday.

DID YOU EVER TRY TO WRITE, study or concentrate while watching television? Well, I tried it in writing this while watching the Oscar nominations last night and I thought I'd never finish. That Jerry Lewis was great, wasn't he?

But to get back to sports, did you hear about one of the most fantastic, but true, stories to come from the West Texas Relays in Odessa last week?

Pampa's Bill McLeod can testify to the off-hand remark that if you don't like the West Texas weather just stick around a few minutes and it will change. Bill was playing in the golf tournament at the Odessa Country Club Saturday and he saw the weather change with each shot he took on one hole — all six of them.

Bill's drive was into the blowing dust which offered very little visibility. He took his second shot and it was raining. The third shot — more sand. He ran into snow when he took his fourth shot, an approach. The 25-miles per hour wind was howling on his chip shot to the pin and the sun came out in all its brightness on his only putt. Bill was ashamed of taking six strokes on that one hole but he thought the story merited telling.

WHEN BOBBY MORROW jumped the gun in the 100-yard dash final at the Odessa meet, this first in years of running, someone in the press box related the story about an entry in the 5,000-yard walk in a San Antonio track meet who jumped the starter's gun.

Another story was told about a runner in the mile run at the Dogwood Relays in Brownwood. The runner dropped far behind the leaders so he hid in some hedges in the shadows of the stadium. He got back into the race on the last lap and finished the race — but still failed to win.

Legion Team Meeting Set For Tonight

Plans for organizing an American Legion baseball team will be made at a meeting tonight at 8 in the Kerley-Crossman Post 334 hall, according to Lester A. Jones, post commander.

The team was formed last year after several idle years and the American Legion post will resume sponsorship this season. Coaches and managers are expected to be named at the meeting. All interested players and coaches are asked to be present.

Age limit on the team is 17. A player must have been 17 before Sept. 1, 1956. There is no minimum age although the team will be cut to 20 by June 30 and to 16 after that.

The team will compete with Amarillo, Borger and other northern Panhandle county teams in District One. Playoffs continue to the national level.

Pampa Youth Is Honored

LExINGTON, Mo. — Cadet Jimmy B. Alvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Alvey, 2100 Christie, Pampa, will be inducted into the college "W" Club at Wentworth Military Academy here this week end, according to Capt. John C. Reader, athletic director.

The "W" Club is made up of cadet athletes who have won major sports letters in varsity competition.

The induction follows a week of initiation activities directed by holdover members. The induction is held in connection with the annual two-day "W" Club fest under the sponsorship of Wentworth's athletic department.

Willie Vaughn In Victory Over Joey

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Elated Willie Vaughn expressed desire today for a shot at fifth-ranked Tiger Jones while Joey Giardello, loser to Vaughn Wednesday night, said he wants a court decision on the battle.

Vaughn, the aggressor in the 10 rounds was awarded a split decision over the sixth-ranked Philadelphia middleweight.

Referee Ray Sissom and Judge Frank Brown scored it for Vaughn while Judge L. E. Robbins gave it to Giardello. However, Sissom, who had marked his card 52-44 before turning it in, changed it to 47-45.

Manager Frankie Carter contended it should have been declared "no fight" and the boxers rematched, but O. G. Arnold, member of the Missouri Athletic Commission, ruled the decision would stand as the referee's revision did not change the outcome.

"We're going to take it to court and have it reversed," said Carter.

Vaughn, unranked before his upset, probably will move into the top 10 contenders. He displayed power, ring poise, boxing skill and aggressiveness.

Budweiser Team 2nd In ABC Meet

FORT WORTH (UP) — The St. Louis Budweisers roared back from an unhappy 958 start with games of 1,058 and 1,061 to go into second place in the Open team division of the American Bowling Congress tournament Wednesday night. They totalled 3,077.

Dick Weber, the 124-pound anchorman, led the Bud with a smashing 227-223-256-706. Don Carter, the national match-game singles champion, went nine frames before getting his first strike. He had only 10 all night as he shot games of 184, 180 and 214 for a modest 578 series.

Ray Biuth shot 181-228-195-554. Pat Patterson rolled 188-228-224-441. Tom Hennessie shot 197-196-172-565.

Dodgers' Roy Campanella Looking For Good Season

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

ORLANDO, Fla. (UP) — Roy Campanella looked at his right hand today and vowed he would make those who said he was through "eat their words."

"Why man, I've never felt better and my hand isn't giving me any trouble at all," the stocky Brooklyn catcher said. "If I don't get hurt, I'm sure I'll have a good year."

That right hand bothered him all of last season. He couldn't grip a bat properly and he wound up hitting only 219. But he knocked in 75 runs and hit 20 homers. He knew last June that the hand would have to be operated on to remove four bone chips from the thumb. But when the doctors told him the operation would sideline him for the season, he decided to keep on playing. He had the chips removed last November after the Dodgers returned from their Far East tour.

"There hasn't been any pain at all," Campanella said. "I haven't been hitting this spring, but I'm not worried. I can grip the bat properly now and as soon as I get my timing fixed, I'll be ready."

Campanella, who will be 35 in November, said he felt like "I can go on forever. Those people who think I'm reaching the end of the road are badly mistaken. And I'll prove it if I can avoid injuries."

Tribe's Farrell Seeks Winning Formula

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 10th in a series on the 1957 prospects of the Major League clubs.

By BILL McFARLAND
United Press Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—Manager Kerby Farrell of the Cleveland Indians still is looking in vain for the secret formula for whipping the New York Yankees.

"We need more hitting and more team speed to win," said Farrell, but so far he hasn't produced either commodity, though he has experimented all spring as patiently as a research chemist.

Thus, the Indians will head into another American League campaign with the most impressive lot of pitchers in base ball — Bob Lemon, Herb Score, Early Wynn, Mike Garcia and a solid second line — but with virtually the same supporting cast that finished nine games behind the Yankees in second place last year.

Rosen, one-time home run king and the league's most valuable player in 1953, complicated Farrell's first season as boss of the Indians and led to the endless experiments he has been forced to conduct.

Until he clears his third base situation, neither his infield nor his outfield is likely to be settled. He has been trying second baseman Bobby Avila, outfielders Al Smith and Dave Pope and rookie Billy Harrell at third.

Farrell starts with three 20-game winners — Lemon (20-14), Score and Wynn each 20-9. Then he has Garcia (11-12) plus excellent relievers in Ray Narleski, Don Mossi and Art Houtteman.

The catching is safe though not powerful in the hands of the veteran Jim Hegon. Hal Naragon and young Earl Averill.

Tribe's Farrell Seeks Winning Formula

polio last season and belted 32 home runs.

At shortstop there's Chico Carrasquel or George Strickland, both light hitters on their current performance.

Avila, the league's batting king with .311 in 1954, is the regular at second unless Farrell finds he can be more useful in the trouble spot.

BELMONT, Mass. (UP)—Henry H. (Bert) Haines, rowing coach at Harvard for 35 years before his retirement in 1952, died Wednesday at the age of 77. Haines, a native of England, held the one-mile sculling record of the Isles at one time during his youth.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—New York Yankee first baseman Bill Skowron, who injured his right thumb two weeks ago, returned to the lineup Wednesday and had two hits in four trips to the plate.

at third. In that event, Strickland can play second or the job might go to rookie Larry Raines, a .309 hitter up from Indianapolis.

At third, there's Rudy Regalado back for another twist hoping he can hit big league pitching, plus the others — Avila, Smith, Pope and Harrell, the latter a .279 hitter at Indianapolis last season.

In the outfield, Smith has been stationed in center and Farrell would like to keep him there.

Rocco Colavito, who hit 21 home runs in 101 games last year, is back in right field and Farrell is convinced the 25-year-old is a coming star.

Other outfielders include Jim Busby who is back after nursing a shoulder ailment the veteran Gene Woodgett, Pope, rookies Joe Caffie and Roger Maris. Maris has looked exceptionally good, though it's too early to tell until he has a few more looks at major league pitching.

Track Meet Switched To Amarillo

A 20-man team competing in 13 events will represent the Pampa Harvesters in the District 3-AAAA track and field meet at Amarillo Stadium Saturday.

The annual track carnival was originally scheduled to be held at the West Texas State track in Canyon but the rain and snow has left the cinder track in bad shape and officials moved it to Amarillo. Borden Price of West Texas State will direct the meet.

Coach Dwaine Lyon's Harvesters will compete in every event except for the pole vault. Other members of the district taking part are the Amarillo Sandies, Borger Bulldogs, Palo Duro Dons, Plainview Bulldogs, Lubbock Westerners and the Monterey Plainmen.

The Sandies, who won every conference championship in the old District 1-AA, will be favored once more to take the 3-AAAA title. Coach Dan Salkeld's Sandies gained 20½ points in the West Texas Relays in Odessa last week while competing against many of the Kirbie, Alton Thyngerson, Bill Brahears, Frank Snow, Walter Heil, Kenneth Keith and Dickie Watkins. Cooper and Kirbie were entered in the field events and the others competed in the hurdles and relay events.

The Harvesters collected four points in the Odessa meet on a third place finish in the 150-yard low hurdles and a fifth place in the discus. Lyon expects them to be the strongest this week in the two hurdle events, the discus and the 440-yard relay.

Preliminaries will get underway on the Amarillo cinder track Saturday morning at 9 and the finals are set for 2 p.m. Districts 1-AAAA and 1-AA will also compete in the district meet. Winners and runners-up in each event will enter the regional tournament in Lubbock on April 12-13. Winners and runners-up in each event will be eligible to compete in five individual events at Lubbock but relay representatives will be allowed to enter only the relay in which they placed.

Nine of Pampa's entries competed at Odessa last week, including Dick Barrett, Earl Cooper, Bill

The events and Pampa entries include:

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate to anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Human Rights

In our prior treatment of relative values respecting property and human life and energy, it is entirely possible that an erroneous conclusion could be drawn, namely, that human rights are greater than property rights.

But in point of fact the greatest human right of all is liberty, and one of the greatest expressions of liberty is the right to acquire and use property. Thus it is clear that more must be said if we are to escape the trap of over-simplification.

Specifically, property has no rights. All rights in property are vested in human beings. Only human beings have rights. And the right to private ownership of property is one of them.

From our preceding effort we can conclude that in primitive cultures where property is scarce and difficult of attainment, human energy is cheap. In such a culture it is common for a man to labor at back-breaking manual work in order for him to have enough food to eat. Surpluses are rare or non-existent. Human toil is long and arduous.

The advance of civilization springing from such unpromising roots, occurs when tools are invented or developed which conserve human energy. Thus not only does toil become easier, but the results of the toil are far greater. Primitive man scratched the earth with a bent stick in lieu of plow. His efforts produced barely enough food in a year for himself and his family.

Today, one man driving a multiple plow behind a tractor can place under cultivation so many acres in a corresponding period of time that a whole city can be fed.

Notice what has happened. One man, plus zero tools, plus 100 per cent of his time, produces food in quantity sufficient for three persons. Under such a condition food must be terribly valuable. Any trespass against a loaf of bread or a sheep is a most serious offense indeed. And hunger is no excuse for theft, when everyone is at least partly hungry.

But now we have one man, plus 100 per cent tools, plus 100 per cent of his time. The result is food in quantity sufficient for many more. In early America 85 per cent of all persons were directly engaged in food production. It took that many in order that 100 per cent of the people could be fed. With modern tools employed the percentages are reversed.

Only 15 per cent of our population is now engaged in food production, yet 100 per cent of the people are fed and there is a surplus. Then the relative value of food has shrunk. A trespass against a loaf of bread or a sheep shrinks in importance. Why worry about it unduly when there are so many loaves of bread and so many sheep?

This is not to endorse thievery, either petty or grand. It is merely to establish that when men are free from the harassment of excessive laws and excessive punishments, they can more profitably employ their time, and thus devise better tools. And when their time and tools are more profitably employed, greater abundance inevitably results.

Specifically today, were it not for governmental harassment, punishment and duress, this productive nation, especially insofar as food is concerned, would have such an abundance, and that priced so modestly, that a good steak with all the trimmings ought to cost no more than 35 cents, if even that.

But the government, in its apparent zeal to protect the property of the producer, has taxed, fined, controlled, restricted and curtailed the producer, so that food is now one of our highest priced items.

In the end it must be seen that ALL penalties inflicted by law, whether in advance or after the commission of a crime, are levied against human beings. The source of the penalty can spring from an act of violence relating to property, or it can originate in the violence of government.

But whatever its source, people pay the penalty. And history will establish that the more severe the laws, the more exacting and cruel the punishments, the more barbaric the culture.

Thus it must be that if potentially productive people are hanged, drawn and quartered, jailed, at public expense, fined and thus robbed of their resources, and any or all of this done to excess, then the burden on all is greater and the contribution of these potentially productive units is curtailed or eliminated.

Perhaps, when we are truly civilized, we will view some of our government's actions of alleged justice as incipient barbarism. We will marvel at the cruelty of life circa the 20th century. And we will be astounded that it took so long for us to realize that every crime is a case of bad judgment and that the cure for bad judgment is good judgment, encouraged by sound and moral education.

"The Wisdom Of The Living Religions"

Since I believe all human relations such as economics and government, in the final analysis, reduce themselves to religion, I was very much interested in the book, "The Wisdom Of The Living Religions" by Joseph Gaer. He as the title intimates, selects the gems of wisdom in the various religions.

Mr. Gaer is the author of some 15 other books. He is a student of religion, as shown by his book, "How The Great Religions Began." To me, what the great religions are, from an ethical standpoint, is more interesting than how they began. He lists and treats the different religions alphabetically. They are: Buddhism, Christianity, Confucianism, Hinduism, Jainism, Judaism, Mohammedanism, Shintoism, Taoism and Zoroastrianism.

The Buddhism religion has Ten Commandments. They are: Do not destroy life. Do not take what is not given you.

Do not commit adultery. Tell no lies and deceive no one. Do not become intoxicated. Eat temperately and not at all in the afternoon.

Do not watch dancing, nor listen to singing or plays. Wear no garlands, perfumes or any adornments. Sleep not in luxurious beds. Accept no gold or silver.

Here are some gems from the sayings of Buddhism: Though a man go out to battle a thousand times against a thousand men, if he conquers himself he is the greater conqueror.

He who lives to be a hundred years without perceiving the highest law, a life of one day is better for him if he perceives the highest law.

One's own self is the most difficult to subdue. By oneself evil is done; no one can defile or purify another. Let a man after he has discerned his duty be faithful to his duty.

Let a man put away anger, forsake pride, and overcome all bondage. The fault of others is easily perceived, but that of one's self is difficult to perceive. A man winnows his neighbor's faults like chaff, but hides his own, even as a cheat hides an unlucky cast of the die.

Through meditation wisdom is won; through lack of meditation wisdom is lost. The man who knows this twofold path of gain and loss thus may place himself that wisdom may grow.

The man who guards not, nor is guarded, lives happy, freed from slavery to lusts. Shame upon him who wins gain or glory by the destruction of others.

Of whom shall I be afraid, when I have done him no evil in thought, word, and deed, whereby I could come to misfortune? Christianty

Since most readers of this column have their Bibles and have available the gems and ethics in Christian religion, I will pass that over. There are, however, some statements accredited mostly to Jesus that are not in the Bibles most people have. They are called the Agapae and the Logia. Agapae is a Greek word meaning unwritten and Logia also pertains to statements accredited to Jesus or his Disciples.

Gaer relates that there was a papyrus found in Upper Egypt which contained sayings between 150 and 300 A.D. These are called Logia. I want to quote a few of these unwritten statements that are generally believed to be statements of Jesus but not recorded in the Gospels:

I am thou, and thou art I, and where thou art there am I also, and in all things am I sown. And from whencesoever thou gatherest me, in gathering me thou gatherest thyself.

The soul must be made to grow through faith and knowledge. Love rules willing hearts; fear, the unwilling. The giver is happier than the receiver.

Anger destroys even the prudent. Excepting for a few saints, men have always thought that they could atone for their crimes with money.

If anyone does not work, let not such a one eat; for the Lord our God hates the slothful. The Heavenly Father desires rather the repentance than the punishment of sinners.

No one shall be called good who mixes evil with the good, for gall does not mix well with honey. Men must give an account of every good word that they fail to speak.

If you cannot keep that which is small, how will you trust you with that which is great? For he that is faithful in very little, is also faithful in much.

Beware how you sit with sinners. Take not the world for your lord; lest it take you for its slave. One day Jesus and his disciples passed a man who spoke evil of them in a loud voice; but Jesus spoke only good in return. And when his disciples asked him why he spoke good to him who spoke evil, he replied: "Each gives out of his store."

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

Mrs. L. and several other readers have asked for a discussion of glandular fever and particularly the outlook for recovery.

To answer the last question first, it can be said that most victims of this disorder recover after a few weeks, though often they feel "run down" for months after the acute illness has passed.

Once in a while there are serious complications and physicians are concerned that these serious results may become more frequent. However, it is still true that the majority recover completely without any obvious lasting effects.

GLANDULAR FEVER is better known as infectious mononucleosis. It is a disease common among children and young grownups, though it does sometimes occur in later years. It is my impression that it is becoming more frequent, though why this should be the case—if it is—is hard to know.

There are several strange features about infectious mononucleosis. It is probably the result of an attack of a virus. It frequently offers some problems in diagnosis as its symptoms are not always alike, and its course may vary from an extremely mild illness to one which is incapacitating for a long time.

WHEN IT FIRST BEGINS, infectious mononucleosis may produce symptoms much like those of other conditions. Sore throat, loss of appetite, vague pains and a general feeling of distress are common.

There is likely to be a low fever. Symptoms such as nausea and vomiting, pain in the abdomen and nervous symptoms are by no means unusual.

How To Hang On To White House: Republican Problem

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — How to win the 1958 and 1960 election without Eisenhower or his "modern Republicanism" is the problem which confronts the GOP as it prepares campaign plans to recapture Congress and to retain the White House. As of today, the dominant strategy is to move considerably to the right of their first President in more than 20 years.

The question has become acute for other reasons than the realization that Ike cannot seek a third term, even if his health and age did not incline him to retire. It results from the demonstrated fact that many Republicans are beginning to suffer some disillusionment over Eisenhower's advisers, his philosophy, his program and the direction in which he would like to lead the Grand Old Party.

But Capitol Hill GOP-ers of responsibility would not be showing their disappointment so openly, if they did not have reason to believe that a fairly large segment of the general public and the conservative business community shared their viewpoint. Privately or publicly, most of the supposed Administration leaders are sabotaging his legislative proposals, or egging on the Democrats.

They are kicking his top-heavy budget around not only because of its size, and the economic consequences of such heavy spending. They condemn it because it finances so many social services and economic expansions of Roosevelt-Truman origin.

With the assistance of a split in the bipartisan, West-South farm bloc and the reinforcement of price-conscious Representatives of city consumers, they even defeated a Benson agricultural amendment. If school construction and Civil Rights measures get through, even in emasculated form, it will be due to the votes of Democrats rather than regular Republicans.

President Eisenhower's Middle East policy has been generally condemned by many leading Republicans on and off Capitol Hill. They feel that he favors the Arabs against the Israelis, and that he is "appeasing" Colonel Gamal Abdel Nasser. They do not share his trust in the United Nations, or his faith in the Dulles-Lodge-Stassen management of foreign affairs.

Senator George Aiken's several explosions are extremely significant, for the blunt and honest Vermont expressed the feelings and convictions of many of his colleagues. And Aiken is no last-ditch conservative of the Jenner, Malone-McCarthy type. He is regarded as progressive and far-minded in his thinking.

But he recently suggested that "We throw away the term 'modern' because it irritates a lot of people." No patronage grabber, he also grumbled about the appointment of so many Democrats to the diplomatic corps. If Aiken will blurt out such heresies, it is easy to imagine what other corridor conversationalists on Capitol Hill are spouting these difficult days.

The new Republican National Chairman, Meade Aldrich, discovered symptoms of revolt after only a few days at Washington. At his first press conference, he was flanked by such arch-conservatives as Senator Andrew F. Schoepel of Kansas and Representative Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania. Yet these two admitted reactionaries are chairmen, respectively, of the Republican Campaign Committees of Senate and House.

It was after conferences with Party spokesmen that Aldrich said he would support any properly nominated Republican, including Senator Joe McCarthy. Not only did Ike refuse to endorse this blanket promise, he extended the boycott to the social world by refusing to invite McCarthy to a White House reception.

This growing disillusionment may hurt Richard M. Nixon's current lead in the 1960 Presidential race, for it will envelop him if, as he must, he conducts a fight for Ike's legislative and foreign program at the eastern end of Pennsylvania Avenue. In their present mood, Republican bigwigs on Capitol Hill, and the National Committee have scant sympathy for Ike's "modern Republicanism."

Candy Confesses: It's Fun To Be A Mother Confessor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Candy Jones Conover, former cover girl and now director of the Conover Career Girl School, takes over today as guest columnist in "Woman's View". In the following dispatch she says you can tell where a girl is from by shape, personality or accent.)

By CANDY JONES CONOVER (Written for United Press) NEW YORK (UP) — It's fun being a schoolmarx. As mother confessor to the Conover girls — photographic models and television actresses — and director of the Conover Career Girl School, I meet intelligent women of all ages who know their personal appearance and personality projection are as essential to their future as their technical skills.

Most of these girls and women are "sleeping beauties" — very much in need of development of their self-confidence, to awaken their "get up and go on to better things" attitude. Although countless girls have used our personal improvement training with modeling and television their ultimate goal, equally as many were aiming for more stable career fields.

Beauty Problems Differ Right now we have an interesting assortment of students. An Egyptian debutante, a Parisian teen-ager, a secretary from Harrisburg, a southern belle —

Streamlined Circus Hits Road Minus Big Top

SARASOTA, Fla., March 27 (UP) — The circus train begins its northward journey Thursday, leaving behind most of the more than 100 railroad cars that once signaled the coming of the big top.

In past years, two full train sections pulled out of this Florida suncoast city carrying the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus on its annual summer tour.

However, Thursday the train will have only a few special cars for animals and about three coaches for performers. Most of the once-gleaming but now sun-battered railroad cars are being left behind to rust and decay in the winter quarters.

The big top, brought to a sudden and startling death last year by John Ringling North, also has been stashed away in the boarded tent shop at the sprawling 200-acre winter quarters to become a relic of a bygone era.

The old circus train and the big top became too cumbersome and expensive for the fast pace of today. Their replacement is a "new circus, a streamlined circus, geared to the pace and economics of modern day living.

Most of the performers and officials have already gone to New York, where the circus opens its 1957 tour April 3rd with a 40-day stand in Madison Square Garden, the traditional opening spot.

In place of the old familiar big top will be an elaborate rigging system. A handful of riggers have replaced the hundreds of riggers, roustabouts and circus hands once required to set up the bulky big top and the more than 14,000 seats once carried by the circus train.

Cookhouse, Missing, Too Also missing is the old cookhouse where the circus personnel, once numbering more than 1,200 were fed.

Population Of US Growing Faster Than Was Expected

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The population of the United States is growing much faster than experts expected. It already has passed the "peak" it was supposed to reach in 1950.

The present rate of population increase—1.7 per cent a year—is more than double that of the 1930s. If it keeps up, America will have more than 220 million persons to feed, clothe, house, educate, employ and transport by 1975.

These facts now are receiving earnest attention at the highest levels of government and business. They have, in the words of Dr. Joseph S. Davis of President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers, "profound significance" for the future of the nation and for each individual who will be hunting a job, going to college, buying a home or building a factory in the next 20 years.

Some results of the baby boom which has been under way since World War II already are obvious—in overcrowded elementary schools and mushrooming suburban housing developments. But other important implications of the rapid population growth "are not yet widely appreciated," Davis said in an interview.

Predictions in Error
Until a few years ago, Davis said, virtually all authorities thought the United States had reached the end of its long period of population expansion, and that the latter half of this century would bring a stationary or declining population.

The wartime jump in birth rates was regarded as purely temporary. As late as 1945, the Census Bureau forecast that the population would be 153 million in 1960 and at the ultimate peak of 164.5 million about 1990.

But the baby boom continued—and still shows no sign of a let-down. The population shot past the 154.5 million mark in 1955, 35 years ahead of schedule. It now is just over 170 million. It will pass 200 million before 1970, and will continue to climb with no peak in sight.

Without making any attempt to guess future birth rates, Davis pointed out some of the ways in which U.S. life will be affected simply by the growing up of babies already born.

Demand for Goods
There will be a sharp increase in consumer demand starting in a few years, as postwar children reach their teens. Teen-agers eat more, they spend more for clothes and entertainment. They buy used cars, cigarettes, record-players and sports equipment.

The number of boys and girls going to college or starting to work will climb rapidly in the 1960s. Competition for jobs, especially the kind of jobs that offer a good beginning for a career, is likely to be intense. Getting into college may be even harder than finding a job.

The median age for marriage now is slightly over 20. As successive waves of postwar children arrive at this threshold age, there will be a big jump in the

US May Propose Spain For NATO

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The United States soon may propose the admission of Spain to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Spain's admission to the great European alliance against Communist aggression is favored by the Eisenhower administration. Spain itself is eager to join.

It would be surprising if President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan did not discuss the question in their talks in Bermuda last week. Britain and France long have opposed Spain's admission to NATO. But it has been reported recently that they have changed their minds.

At a time when some other NATO countries are trying to reduce their armed strength as an economy measure, Spain's addition to the 15-nation alliance certainly would strengthen it.

Urged By House Group
The House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee on March 18 unanimously approved a resolution calling for Spain's admission.

The resolution, which is awaiting passage by full House and Senate, was proposed by the State Department. It said that the department should "continue to use its good offices toward the end of achieving participation by Spain in the NATO organization."

Britain and France have been cold toward Spain partly because of its neutrality in World War II and of allegations that Generalissimo Francisco Franco shaded his policy in favor of Germany.

annual rate of "household formations" and a rise in demand for housing and durable goods.

Some economists, such as Prof. Joseph J. Spengler of Duke University, believe that rapid population growth poses a serious long-range threat to U.S. prosperity. They foresee growing shortage of natural resources, rising costs of production as the pressure of demand forces industry to tap sub-marginal sources of raw materials, and a general downward slide in living standards.

Davis does not share this pessimistic outlook. He believes that America's long-range increase in productivity, which has been averaging 3.5 per cent a year, or about double the rate of population growth, can continue to raise living standards. He is also confident that scientific and technological advances will open up new sources of raw materials.

Spain denies this. It holds that neutrality was its only course after the civil war that bled the country white, and that its policy gained Germany nothing.

There also is opposition to Franco in some NATO countries because of his totalitarian rule.

But Franco is about as anti-Communist as anybody could be. That is one thing in Spain's favor. Franco has an army of about 300,000 men, and could mobilize about 2 million if another war broke out.

The United States signed a military agreement with Spain on Sept. 25, 1953. Under this agreement the United States is constructing four big air bases and one naval base in Spain.

France Can't Apply
France can not apply for admission to NATO. But there is no doubt he would join enthusiastically if asked.

Aside from the fact that Spain's entry would give NATO a needed lift at this time, there is the country's important strategic position to think about. Sheltered behind the formidable Pyrenees Mountains, it might become the last al-

Housewives Are Reminded To File Security Forms

Housewives failing to report the earnings of their domestic workers under the Social Security Law may be depriving them of valuable credits at retirement or death, warned John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, and James Z. Pierce, administrative officer-in-charge, Amarillo Office, Internal Revenue Service.

At the same time, they are headed for trouble with Uncle Sam, added the Revenue Officer.

One day the domestic worker will report the housewife fails to pay the tax, they warned.

Pierce revealed that severe penalties may be applied to willful delinquencies.

Sanderson said that the social security tax amounts to 2 1/4 per cent each for employee and employer, since January, 1957. The tax had been 2 per cent. Employers must pay tax on household employees who earn $50 or more in any calendar quarter, such as January through March.

The law applies to such workers in and about the home as maids, cooks, waiters, butlers, housekeepers, governesses, valets, baby sitters, janitors, laundresses, furnace men, gardeners, and chauffeurs for private autos.

Pierce said the tax is paid to Internal Revenue Service on a simple, easy-to-complete Form 942, which Internal Revenue Service will supply upon request. Wages include payments in cash, check, or money order. Not included for household workers is the value of food, lodging or clothing. Cash payment for car fare is included, but not the cost of bus tokens.

"Here's a typical question that we get daily at our office," Sanderson said. "I do work in private homes, one day each week for three different employers. Should all my employers deduct social security tax?"

Social Security's reply: "Yes, if each pays you $50 or more in cash wages in a calendar quarter."

Pierce concluded, "Form 942, showing name, social security number, wages paid and tax withheld from each household employee, should be completed and returned to Revenue Service within one month after the calendar quarter's end—that's by April 30 for the January-March period."

The human body needs iron particularly in the blood, where it forms part of the red coloring matter, called hemoglobin, that carries oxygen to the tissues from the lungs.

Spaniards also point out that, if Spain joined NATO, its Canary Islands off the northwest coast of Africa might provide an additional allied air base. The United States has big air bases in near-by Morocco. But that newly independent country might become politically unstable in wartime.

There is to be a big meeting of NATO foreign ministers at Bonn, capital of West Germany, on May 2. It could be that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will raise the question of Spain's admission then.

INFLAMMATION FROM HOT NERVES CURABLE

When we write that inflamed areas cool down after Chiropractic adjustments have removed the irritation from the nerve lines, some people freeze up. However, Gray's Anatomy, a standard medical textbook, boldly states that the first step in an inflammatory process is heat from hot nerve end-plates caused by irritation. Anyone can read that and be informed.

Some people live their lives in darkness because they refuse to see, and "there are none so blind as those who will not see."

Seeing is a matter of perception, interpretation, and understanding. Ignorance is your greatest darkness. Everyone is ignorant of some things because they can't learn everything. Many are in darkness, however, from choice, because they are stupid, or prejudiced, or jealous.

It must have been these that Spencer had in mind when he wrote, "There is a principle which is a bar against all information, which is proof against all argument, and which cannot fail to keep a man in everlasting ignorance. That principle is condemnation—before investigation."

When you hear someone berate Chiropractic you can lay odds and bet they are just voicing a fearful feeling they have assimilated, and have never personally investigated Chiropractic.

Fear causes strange reactions. A Senate bill, giving away to school boards the law-making right of the Legislature, might stem from dread to fear.

The school board ruling which takes from you the freedom to choose and the freedom to protect your own child's life, stems from fear and ignorance of all facts.

Here are some facts for anyone to see:
A seven year old girl fell down hard. The next day she was in bed, with a sick headache and vomiting. The second day found her still with the headache and one arm and leg becoming useless. The third day she was carried to the Miller Chiropractic Clinic for an examination and adjustment. By the seventh day she was back playing in the yard as though nothing had happened.

Don't let fear, ignorance, and prejudice stop you from investigation, for your health's sake. You have nothing to lose and Health to gain.
