City Pledges Co-Operation On Projects

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

PLANS for five housing projects including 700 to 800 dwelling units costing $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 to provide for the requirements of the reactivated Lubbock Air Force base were presented to a special meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

The commission was asked for and gave assurance that water and sewage lines will be supplied for these and similar projects, provided they actually are built.

This assurance was described as necessary before the promoters of the undertakings can hope to get the FHA financing they must obtain to carry the projects to completion.

Much Work To Be Done

The plans were outlined to the commission by Earl B. Collins, chairman, and L. E. (Jack) Davis, member, of the chamber of commerce LAFB housing committee, and A. B. Davis, chamber manager.

They were emphatic in saying that none of the projects is assured. A great deal of work remains to be done, with the possibility of many slips, before any new housing actually is built, they declared. They said further that present plans for each project are highly flexible and that the building actually done may be substantially more or considerably less than is now contemplated.

But they were of the opinion that the housing, if constructed, will "pretty well take care of the minimum initial needs" of the LAFB personnel and the GI Tech students now residing there who must be moved out by around Aug. 1.

Need For Housing Seen

The consensus of the city and chamber officials was, however, that the actual needs when LAFB gets into full operation will be for at least 250 more dwelling units than those called for in the plans discussed Thursday.

The official groups stressed, therefore, that they are eager to cooperate with anyone who might be able to fill the additional anticipated needs.

The discussions produced the most definite information supplied officials thus far which is indicative of the housing needs resulting from reactivation of the base.

Chamber Manager Davis said he has been advised the reactivation will involve the transfer from Barksdale base, Shreveport, La., of about 550 families with approximately 1,700 children.

Of these, approximately 200 will be quartered at the base. The remainder, nearly all with children, will require housing off the base.

In addition, provision must be made for about 200 GI families who are to be moved from LAFB. They will require low-rent places. A good many probably will reside in light housekeeping rooms.

The housing included in the

"BIKINI" THUNDERCLOUD—A mushroom-shaped thundercloud that formed late Thursday afternoon northeast of Lubbock and towered an estimated 30,000 feet into the sky brought dozens of phone calls from worried residents to the Lubbock Weather station. The cloud, pictured above, was photographed from the roof of a downtown office building as it reached its maximum height in the sky. The atomic bomb "mushroom" shape is clearly shown, along with a heavy row of smaller thunderclouds that hung just along the Lubbock skyline. The Weather bureau said the unusual formation was caused by the boiling currents of wind which swept the clouds one way, then another. The top portion of the formation was made up of snow and ice clouds, the Weather bureau said. (Staff Photo by Bill Hams.)

Congress Acts To Ease Grain Storage Crisis

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2—Congress today passed a compromise bill to provide critically needed storage facilities for the nation's bumper wheat crop.

The compromise, which broke a long deadlock, was approved by both Senate and House and sent on to President Truman for his signature.

The legislation gives the Commodity Credit corporation power to provide storage facilities on crops—especially grain—on which the CCC makes loans to maintain crop price supports. Grain must be in storage to qualify for government loan.

Control Work Started

The action came as a storage crisis was reported developing in the Southwest. Earlier, the Agriculture department had asked the Maritime commission for some laid-up liberty ships to use as emergency storage bins.

Coincidentally, Secretary Brannan announced the Agriculture department had started work on control measures designed to cut the 1950 wheat crop as much as 25 percent under this year's yield—likely to be of near-record proportions.

The two houses had been deadlocked over Senate insistence on authority to confirm CCC directors, and the equally insistent House demanded that they be named by the secretary of agriculture without Senate confirmation.

President To Name Board

The conferees agreed the six-man board will be appointed by the President and approved by the Senate.

Shortly before agreement was reached, Brannan told newsmen that wheat farmers, particularly in the south-central crop region, face sizable crop losses because Congress has not authorized the government to supply storage bins.

Brannan said losses in the Texas-Oklahoma area, where many farmers are unable to find storage for the bumper new wheat crop, may run to 30 cents a bushel below the $1.89 a bushel price support.

He has received reports, the

U.S. Planes Now Able To Pass 1,000 MPH Range, Solons Told

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—A Senate group was informed today that the United States has warplanes that can travel faster than 1,000 miles an hour and is preparing to test 6,000 mile-an-hour guided missiles.

Sen. Johnson (D-Tex) made the disclosure to the Senate Armed Services committee.

Johnson's statements were based on testimony received from scientists and military leaders before an Armed Services subcommitte of which he is chairman.

After Johnson submitted his report, the Armed Services committee promptly approved a $311 million program to build wind tunnels to test high-speed planes and guided missiles.

The Texas senator did not identify the planes which he said are flying faster than 1,000 miles an hour.

It has been reported that the Air Force's rocket-powered X-1 has flown "several hundred miles" faster than the speed of sound.

Post Battered By Three-Inch Rain And Hail

THUNDERSTORMS — riding against a background of huge thunderclouds and brilliant electrical displays—rattled over scattered portions of the South Plains last night, dumping an estimated three to five inches of rain in the Post section along with hail and scattered showers at several other points.

The heavy downpour at Post, amounting to almost a cloudburst at its heaviest stage shortly after 9 p.m., apparently was the main blow from the storm activity which brought on a rush of inquiries and fears of approaching tornadoes.

The rains, although not general, struck with sudden fury at the points where they did fall. Spur, Ralls, Slaton, some rural areas near Floydada and the Lubbock vicinity received the heaviest falls, apparently.

Shower Hits Lubbock

A brief, but fairly heavy downpour, struck Lubbock and the immediate vicinity just at midnight and continued for approximately 30 minutes early today. However, the Weather bureau recorded the fall there as only a trace.

Additional thundershowers were forecast for this morning with partly cloudy weather prevailing during the day and tonight.

Some Hail Reported

No undue concern was expressed by Boy Scout officials early today for approximately 118 Boy Scouts, 70 of them from Lubbock, who are camping at Camp Post approximately five miles southwest of the Garza county town. It was believed they rode out the heavy rain without trouble, although no direct word had been received from the camp at midnight.

The Santa Fe dispatchers office at Slaton at midnight was the only contact with Post. All telephone circuits to Post and Dickens were out, the Southwestern Bell Telephone company reported.

Starting about 8:30 p.m. and getting harder shortly after 9 p.m., the cloud at Post was estimated

New Rule For Berlin Asked

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, June 2—The United States asked the foreign ministers conference today to give the whole of Berlin a new government.

It would operate with greater freedom from interference by the Allied occupation powers after being set up in free citywide elections under four-power supervision.

The proposal was made in a simple document on a single sheet of paper and was coupled with a demand for discussion in a secret session.

Power Would Be Less

While the proposal was made independently by Secretary of State Dean Acheson for the United States, French sources indicated earlier it had approval of Britain and France.

It agreed on one point asked earlier by Vishinsky: Re-establishment of the Allied Kommandatura which administered Berlin until the Russians boycotted it early in 1948.

But the great change asked—and this was certain to bring some heavy scuffling—was the proposal to trim the power of the Kommandatura and leave more administering powers in the hands of German officials.

The extent of proposed trimming in Allied authority over the city was not definitely indicated. But the whole debate in past sessions has been over the question of single-power veto—or unanimity, as Vishinsky calls it.

Unified operation of Berlin broke down when the Kommandatura collapsed. The sectors operate now almost like separate countries; they even have separate currencies and that is one of the bitterest points of conflict.

Stormy Session Marks Atomic Probe

U.S. Atom Material Reported Still Lost

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2—Senator McMahon (D-Conn) disclosed tonight that the long-missing bottle in the Chicago uranium-235 mystery has been recovered from a buried box, but a tiny portion of the atomic material itself has not yet been found.

McMahon said the loss of the material appeared to be due to "carelessness and negligence."

The announcement was made at the end of a day studded with developments in the congressional investigation of the Atomic Energy commission, headed by David E. Lilienthal.

Other developments:

1. Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) accused Lilienthal of violating the law on atomic secrecy with "brazen effrontery" and of permitting persons to take part in the 1948 Eniwetok A-bomb tests without a full loyalty checkup.

Lilienthal Denies Charges

2. Testimony was received that a guard at the Chicago atomic laboratory where the uranium is missing had a police record. Carroll L. Wilson, general manager of the Atomic Energy commission, said the guard's record showed a charge of grand larceny, but no conviction. He expressed confidence the guard had nothing to do with the loss.

3. Atomic chief Lilienthal coldly and emphatically denied Hickenlooper's charge of law violation in clearing some AEC employees without a full loyalty checkup immediately. This was necessary, he said, to speed vital atomic work.

4. McMahon said congressional investigators are trying to find out why a new atomic plant at Hanford, Wash., under construction by General Electric Co., is

Chambers Says Hiss Aided Spies

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Whittaker Chambers pointed at Alger Hiss today and said the former State department official fed government secrets through him to a prewar Soviet spy ring.

The deal to funnel secrets from the State department to the spy ring was made across a table in a dimly lit restaurant in New York's Chinatown, Chambers said.

The Russian ring also sounded out the possibility of getting documents from Hiss' brother, Donald, the witness said, but Hiss was not sure he could be used.

Chambers, self-styled former courier for the Communist spy ring, said Hiss was connected with the same Russian underground "apparatus" that he was.

Defense Hits Testimony

He described Hiss and his wife, Priscilla, as stubborn Communists who refused to leave the party when Chambers did in 1938.

"I urged the Hisses to break with the party," Chambers said. "They replied that they would not break. Alger Hiss said what a great pity it was I had broken.

Shortly before the trial recessed for the night, the defense began cross-examining Chambers. Hiss' attorney hammered away

Atlantic Pact Report Raises Objections

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Senator George (D-Ga) raised strong objections today to a tentative report on the North Atlantic pact, being considered by the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

George left his hotel despite a recent illness to bring his views to the committee.

For one thing, he said, he wants the report to make crystal clear that the President can't send American armed forces to aid a foreign nation without the consent of Congress.

The pact would pledge 12 nations to mutual aid against aggression. Backers of the treaty have said the exact form of the aid would be up to each nation to decide.

The Senate Foreign Relations committee, which held hearings on the treaty, is now trying to agree upon a report it will send to the Senate, which must ratify the pact before it becomes effective.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) told reporters the committee staff had prepared "an able and splendid report" which he hoped to bring before the Senate Tuesday with full committee approval.

DISTRICT REGULATION SET UP

Jester Signs Underground Water Control Legislation

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 2 — The governor signed into law today a local option plan for control of underground water in Texas.

The bill by Rep. I. B. Holt of Olton, was the first successful action in years for any degree of control over the use of underground water. State control of surface water use has been in effect since 1913.

The House passed the bill, 111-11, on April 25. The Senate added two minor amendments and approved it 27-1 on May 19.

Holt's bill, which was sponsored in the Senate by Senator John Bell of Cuero, allows property owners of the same underground water reservoir, or a portion of it, to organize an underground water district. Five elected directors would head the district.

Can Set Up Districts

These directors have the power to require water well drilling permits, to set up well spacing rules, and to regulate the withdrawal of ground water to prevent waste.

Under the new law, the state will enter in the picture in only two instances. The boundaries of underground water reservoirs will be designated by the State Board of Water Engineers. Second, if the proposed district will cover more than one county, the Board of water engineers will supervise the organization of the district.

Backers of the bill stressed the absence of any state control in the plan. This lack of state regulation probably contributed much to the success of the bill.

For a number of years underground water control bills have been introduced in the legislature, but in the past different areas of the state have not been able to agree on the methods and extent of control.

Truman Complains 'Insane' May Drive In His Home State

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Truman complained today that even the insane in his home state of Missouri can get a driver's license in a drugstore for a quarter.

The Chief Executive also told delegates to the third annual conference on highway safety that four men found driving automobiles in Washington "couldn't see an inch in front of their noses."

These four men, the President related, got their licenses in "one of those 25 states that don't take care of their populations."

The conference is meeting to work out a program for a further reduction of traffic accidents.

Stronger Laws Sought

The President commended the delegates for developing programs which saved "almost 11,000 lives and prevented injury to nearly 400,000 persons" last year.

"Nevertheless," he said, "the frightful slaughter on our streets and highways continues."

He asked them to help build up sentiment for tightening driver licensing systems in states where "the laws are pitifully weak."

In some of these states, the President declared, "the procedures for driver examination are scandalous."

Departing from a prepared address, he went on to say:

"I am sorry to relate that my great state of Missouri is still in that column. Terrible? Why, a man can go down to a drugstore from an insane asylum and spend a quarter and get a license to drive on any road in that state, if he wants to."

He deplored the fact that 32,000 persons were killed and more than 1,000,000 injured in traffic accidents last year.

Truman Fair Employment Bill Okayed By House Labor Group

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The first piece of President Truman's controversial "civil rights" program started today on the long and probably rough road through Congress.

By a unanimous vote, a House Labor subcommittee approved an administration bill to set up a federal fair employment practices commission (FEPC) to prevent discrimination in employment because of race, color, religion or nationality.

Still in committee are other parts of the program, including anti-poll tax and anti-lynch measures.

Rep. Powell (D-NY), Negro chairman of the subcommittee, discounted open threats of "filibuster" from Southern Democrats and forecast House passage of the FEPC bill before Congress adjourns this year.

Suits Are Filed For Beer, Truck

Two suits—asking forfeiture of 206½ cases of beer and a 1949 model Ford truck — were filed Thursday by the county attorney's department in 99th district court.

The beer and truck were seized May 27 in a raid by the Texas Liquor Control board on the Veterans of Foreign Wars clubhouse at Thirty-fourth and Ave. N.

Steve Wells, of Westbrook, driver of the truck on which 180 cases of the beer were found, has been charged with illegal transportation of liquor. William Earl Creel, VFW commander, and Eldridge Raybun, clubhouse manager, also face liquor law violation charges resulting from the raid.

To Fight Case

The three men have pleaded innocent of the charges and indicated their intentions of fighting the charges into higher courts if necessary. The VFW membership here has thrown its weight behind the three in their forthcoming trials in county court.

Protection Asked For Home Buyers

Members of the City Planning commission, meeting last night in regular monthly session in City Hall, unanimously approved a recommendation to the City Commission which would affect—and seeks to protect—local buyers of "ready built" dwelling units.

The matter, made in form of a motion by Chas. A. Guy, and seconded by Homer D. Grant, recommends to the City Commission that in the absence of an ordnance to cover, an ordnance be passed requiring all essential city inspection prior to moving ready-built houses into the corporate city limits of Lubbock.

Must Meet Code

The recommendation was made in the interests of purchasers of ready-built units who frequently in the past have had to pay out additional sums of money to bring their houses up to the standards

First Shipment Of Hereford Cattle From Boys Ranch Set

AMARILLO, June 2 (AP)—The first shipment of cattle from Boys Ranch will arrive in Kansas City to be marketed next Monday.

Twenty-three head of sleek, fat whiteface Hereford steers that were a gift from Plainview citizens last September, have been consigned to the boys and girls committee of the Kansas City stockyards.

Seven cowboys, ranging in age from 11 to 16, who fed and took care of the herd all winter, will make the trip to market. They will be accompanied by Lyle Jackson, Plainview meat packer who headed the group which helped to stock Boys Ranch farm, 50 miles west of Plainview. Boys Ranch proper is located at old Tascosa, north of Amarillo.

For the 114 boys on Boys Ranch the shipping of cattle to market is a big event. The ranch is a non-profit organization for indigent youngsters.

San Angelo City Officials Take Drastic Action To Curb Polio

(By The Associated Press)

POLIO laid its dread hand heavily on Texas Thursday.

Schools, movies, churches and swimming pools were closed at San Angelo. The city health director there has declared polio is in the epidemic stage.

San Antonio threw a helicopter into its aerial campaign against both polio and diarrhea.

Waco and Austin reported additional polio deaths.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, at Austin, warned that half-way measures won't stop polio —that clean-up campaigns must be thorough.

Hardest hit, apparently, was San Angelo, a thriving West Texas community of 54,600.

The city commission at San Angelo met Thursday morning to issue its orders closing the municipal swimming pool, movie houses, school and churches for one week.

The action was taken as San Angelo polio cases reached 61, with four deaths already this year.

A C-47 from Goodfellow Air Force base at San Angelo made a quick round trip to Charlotte, N. C., Wednesday night. It brought back 24 hospital cribs and five hot

Spur Opens Three-Day Cowboy Jubilee With Parade, Rodeo

By ED WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

SPUR, June 2. — That the old hard riding, roping cowhand is still with us was well demonstrated at the third annual Cowboy Jubilee here today. All amateurs from the area ranches, the cowpokes roped, busted broncs and rode on pure dynamite in the form of Brahma bulls, along with the finest in the country.

The three-day rodeo opened at 1:30 p.m. today with a long and colorful parade. More than 200 riders took part to add real western flavor. At the head of the parade, with the flags of the United States and Texas, were the judges and officials of the show. All of them were old hands with a horse and a rope.

The only float in the parade was one entered by the Dry Lake Home Demonstration Club. It was a long flat affair depicting a home, (mostly the kitchen) in which several women were preparing a meal. Many children rode bicycles decorated with gay colored paper.

The biggest hand was given to

By RONALD V. ROLFE
United Press Staff Writer

CALCUTTA, June 2. — India faces the threat of a plague epidemic which might reach the proportions of that which swept the sub-continent at the turn of the century, one authority believes.

The warning was sounded by Dr. S. C. Seal, professor of epidemiology, All-India Institute of Hygiene and Public Health.

History has been found to repeat itself in the matter of bubonic plague epidemics, according to the professor, and unless all concerned —the people themselves no less than the health authorities—take the utmost precautions, the present outbreak may well develop as did that of 1898.

The dread disease originally appeared in Calcutta in 1895, but only in a mild form. Three years later however, it flared into an epidemic which apparently nothing could check. For eight long years it raged, and when it finally subsided in 1906 the toll of lives it had taken in the city alone was 62,000.

Death Toll High

The death toll in Bengal presidency was: 1898, 219; 1899, 3,264; 1900, 38,412; 1901, 78,629; 1902, 32,967; 1903, 65,680; 1904, 75,438; 1905, 126,084; 1906, 59,619.

Meanwhile the epidemic had been sweeping the country as a whole with the most disastrous effect.

Fifty-three years after making its first appearance in Calcutta, plague made its second in April, 1948. Again, it was in comparatively mild form.

This year's outbreak has not yet reached epidemic dimensions, but it has stretched out longer and is taking a heavier toll than did that of 1948. A further complication has been the appearance of pneumonia plague, more contagious and a deadlier killer, if not correctly diagnosed in time, than the bubonic variety.

Many New Cases

According to the latest official figures available, there were 159 hospital admissions of plague cases in the city between January and April this year. Deaths numbered 18.

Whether history will repeat itself on this occasion is yet to be seen. Dr. Seal points out that medical science has progressed far in the past half century, and today knowledge of the scourge is much wider and means of combatting it more readily available and highly effective.

One of the sulfa drugs, sulphathiazole, has been found effective in the treatment of plague and might well keep a new epidemic of the disease under control.

The co-operation of potential victims in offering themselves for inoculation and destroying rats and fleas is still of the highest importance if the spread of the disease is to be checked before it gets out of control.

Auto Firm Observes Birthday At Dinner

Celebrating the 28th birthday of the company, officials and employes of the Lubbock Auto company attended a birthday party dinner at Mexican Inn Wednesday night. Seventy-one persons attended the affair.

Awards of service pins to 17 employes with a total of 228 years of service with the company featured the meeting. Harry Morris, president, made the presentation of the pins. Prizes and surprise gifts to personnel also featured the dinner.

Harry Morris, Joe Wyche, and Geo. E. Benson, vice president, were three members of the original five of the company, which was established on June 1, 1921. They received 27-year pins.

Twenty-year pins went to Monroe Williams and Billy Davis; 10-year pins with tenure of service in parenthesis went to: W. J. Spain (10); Elmer Tarbox (1); Lucille Coltharp and Ewald Lamprecht (12) and Bailey Wright, Bob Rogers, Fred McQuinney and Bryan Landers (13).

Five-year pins went to Ray Reynolds, Hubert Rhodes and C. B. Gilliland (8), I. E. Wallace (7), and Albert Ellis (6).

Closing remarks at the dinner were made by Benson. Ned Hardin furnished music for the occasion.

Sharp Drop In Wool Production Reported In Fort Worth Area

FORT WORTH, June 2 (U.P.) — Wool production in the immediate Fort Worth area has dropped to one-fourth of the annual average prior to 1945, it was reported today.

Jack Faulkner, buyer for Texas Wool & Mohair Marketing Assn., said dry weather last year contributed materially to a decrease of thousands of pounds off the season's average.

Faulkner said his firm expected to buy less than 200,000 pounds of wool this season, which is about 25 percent of the season average four years ago.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

THE COURAGE of the Dutch people was brought home to us during conversations with passengers aboard the Nieuw Amsterdam, Holland-American vessel, in early May. On that ship were hundreds of people from the Netherlands on their way to the United States or Canada, part of the list of immigrants that will be admitted during 1949.

Many of the men were farmers and the women were housekeepers, whose future had been vouched for by someone either in the United States or Canada.

ONE OF our cabin mates was a large, smiling Dutch girl by name of Hilly van Dijkhuizen. It was from Hilly (pronounced as if it were spelled with an "E") that we learned about the people of the low countries. At first we confined our brief visits in the cabin to smiles. Hilly was a farm girl and she arose early, even before the first sitting at breakfast. We suppose she went for a sunrise stroll about the deck; as a matter of fact we didn't wake up enough to find out.

This large, even tempered girl was on the way to Nanton (Alta) Canada to work on a farm as a housekeeper. Her sister, who was a passenger in another cabin, was going on to British Columbia where a brother lived. They were from a very large family.

ONE DAY when we were chatting (with Hilly saying "don't speak the English so fast") we asked the reason for the great exodus of Dutch folk.

It is because there are too many people living in that small crowded country, the girl said. When you consider that Holland is only half again as big as Massachusetts, you'll see that must be true.

The young women want to leave because there are not enough men, Hilly added. The men are either young or old, and yet on the ship there were many young men, some of them fleeing from their country rather than go to the Dutch Indies through compulsory Army service.

THE Hollanders are great for celebrations and had enjoyed two big events just before the ship sailed. One was the tulip festival, held on April 30, birthday of Queen Juliana, and the other was the Liberation day celebration, staged May 4. On the latter occasion there was dancing in the streets throughout the night.

During World War II, the Germans opened or destroyed many of the dikes, causing much of the land to be flooded. Work has been resumed in restoring the land and the construction of the dikes and Holland has put in her bid for tourists this summer.

The Nazis came into Holland May 10, 1940 and four days later the country went down. The Germans continued their invasion until May, 1945. We asked Hilly about those years.

The country people got by fairly well, she said, since they hid out enough food to get by. The town people were hard hit, however, and the time came when they ate tulip bulbs.

THE van Dijkhuizen sisters and their brother lived on a farm not far from Arnhem. During those years there were several runins with the Germans, but luck was with them each time.

There was the day that an Australian flier crashed in the far end of the field and came staggering into the yard later, seriously wounded. He was taken inside and given good care.

Within a short time the yard was full of German soldiers, Hilly said. They stood about 15 feet away and shouted to inquire if anyone had seen a flier. Hilly said no but invited them to come inside and look. The Germans took her at her word and fled. Why?

Because the farm girl had tacked a quarantine sign on the front door and the Germans took her word that a diphtheria patient was inside.

THE DUTCH people have many things they'll remember when the subject of World War II arises. They are incidents that cut so deeply days on end will not erase them. One is the matter of the men being taken to concentration camps. Of that Hilly said that she knew of 620 who went away and 20 who came back. Included in those who went away and did not return was her teen-age brother.

J. Johnson Is Married

Miss Jeanette Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson of 2201 Twenty-seventh, and Harman Edge of Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Edge of Grapeland, were married Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the Johnson home. Rev. J. T. Clinton performed the double ring ceremony before an arrangement of pink gladioli.

Mrs. Boyd Crooks, great aunt of the bride, played "Always" and offered wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an aqua dress and hat with brown and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Myrtie Ellen Bartley of Crowell, cousin of the bride and maid of honor, wore a dusty rose crepe dress with cocoa brown accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Jimmy Johnson, brother of the bride, served as best man.

At the reception given following the ceremony, the bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and decorated with roses and a tiered wedding cake. Parents of the bride, Mrs. S. V. Johnson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Geneva McDaniel, a cousin of the bride, served guests. Out-of-town guests were from Crowell, Carlsbad, N.M., Grapeland, Slaton and Wilson.

For a wedding trip to Grapeland and Galveston, the bride wore a brown linen dress with brown and white accessories and a gardenia corsage. The couple will be at home in Lubbock. Mrs. Edge is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Mr. Edge is a graduate of Grapeland High school.

New Backing Claimed Assured For Three-State Airline Firm

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 2 (AP) — Keith Kahle, Oklahoma City, charter airline operator, said today he has obtained new backing for his Central Airline company, authorized to operate five feeder routes in Oklahoma, northern Texas and southern Kansas.

The Civil Aeronautics board recently ordered Kahle begin operation by July 1. Kahle said he will seek extension of the deadline.

Guy Marchant, Oklahoma City oil man; William C. Marchant, his son; and Luther Bohanan, Oklahoma City attorney, have agreed to sell their stock to F. Kirk Johnson and Deane Gill, both of Fort Worth, Kahle said.

Kahle said he will retain an interest and continue as general manager.

Among some African native tribes, a wife may divorce her husband if he fails to sew her clothes, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Mother-Daughter Luncheon Is Given

Thirty-five persons attended the mother - daughter luncheon given Thursday by First Baptist Euzelian class at the church annex. Dr. and Mrs. J. Ralph Grant, their daughter, Jane and Ann, and Mrs. Howard Logan were special guests.

Mrs. Grant presented a devotion on the mother - daughter theme and Patsy Logan gave a reading. The invocation was by Dr. Grant.

The program was presided over by Mrs. H. E. Archer.

RECITAL WILL BE FRIDAY

Miss Mary Dunn will present Wanda Roberts and Clara Ruth Hooten in junior high piano recital at 5 o'clock this afternoon at 2013 Fourteenth.

It requires approximately 25 minutes to take a roll call of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Town Talk

OUT-OF-TOWN guests for the Weiss-Fraser wedding will be entertained at a tea to be given as a courtesy to them by Mrs. H. S. Weiss, mother of the bride, this afternoon between 4 and 5:30 p.m. in the Weiss home 3412 Twenty-first.

The bride's trousseau is to be shown, and guests will be introduced to close Lubbock friends of the Weiss family.

Out-of-town honorees will be Mesdames C. B. Fraser, sr., of Houston, Clyde Wood of Arlington, Odis Wood of Arlington, and W. L. Owings of Fort Worth.

Family night will be observed tonight at the Lubbock Country club, and Saturday night a club square dance will be staged in the ballroom.

Both entertainments are for members of the club only.

Home from a visit in San Antonio are Mrs. Kenneth Y. Alexander, 2511 Twenty-eighth, her daughter, Anne, and Johnnie Zimmerman.

Besides visiting historic points in the Alamo city, the trio attended the graduation exercises of San Marcos academy.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Allen, 3110 Twenty-first, left Thursday for a Colorado vacation in Chipita Park. The couple will return to Lubbock about June 10.

Mrs. Marion Sanford, 3007 Twenty-second, was hostess for luncheon in her home Thursday with members of her sewing club attending.

Larkspur was used in decorating and a salad plate and a parfait were served to each guest.

Attending were Mesdames T. B. Duggan, jr., Newton Walton, Bill Morrison, Bob Tucker, W. H. Evans, W. F. Eisenberg, Bill Honey, William V. Stone, Sam West and George P. Livermore.

Mrs. Curtis Black, 3317 Twenty-second, has returned from a six weeks stay in California.

Most of the time she visited in Long Beach with her daughter, Mrs. Bill R. Covington, the former Dorothy Black. A new addition to the Covington family is baby Susan, weighing 7 pounds and 15 ounces.

Mrs. Black also went to San Francisco to see points of interest there, and to visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton B. Dabney.

When the Lubbockite returned home, she found a gift waiting for her from her son, DKSN Stanley Black, who is stationed in Pearl Harbor. The hospital where he has been stationed closed recently, and he has been transferred to receiving station work. (The gift, incidentally, was an islander hula skirt.)

Shallowater High school seniors of 1947 held their annual class reunion Wednesday night at 8:15 o'clock in the Chicken Village.

Red roses, the class flower, were used in a red and white decorative motif which carried out the class colors. A program was given on new marriages, new family additions and activities of class members for the past year.

Attending were J. B. Wages, Jacky Reed, Jean Strother, Misses Lou Giles and Eloise Woodruff and Messrs. and Mesdames Wilford Beene, James Kinder, Jerry Putman, Gene Beach and Howard Harmon.

Dean-Rogers Service Read

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lane, 308 Uvalde, Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, Miss Iris Jean Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Lane, and Norman Leroy Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dean of South Ave. H, were married. Dr. C. A. Bickley performed a single ring ceremony.

Miss Yona Parr sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by A. L. Syfrett.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Lane, wore a white crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of white flowers. She carried a white Bible. For something old, she carried an heirloom handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Syfrett, and for something blue, she wore blue earrings.

Mrs. Pat Clement, sister of the bridegroom and matron of honor, wore a gray dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Jimmy Moore served as best man.

Miss Joy Bowles presided at the punch bowl and Misses Parr and Mickey Willis served the wedding cake at the reception given after the ceremony. The cake was made to resemble an open Bible.

The couple left Thursday morning for Michigan, former home of the bridegroom, for a three weeks wedding trip. They will be at home in Lubbock where the bride is a student at Senior High school. Mr. Dean is a graduate of the school.

Insufficient water in an automobile battery is certain to cause trouble during cold weather.

Ceremony Is Read

The wedding of Miss Sherry LaRue Tibbets and William Allen Blackwell was solemnized in a ceremony read Wednesday at high noon at First Christian church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Tibbets of 2709 Thirty-first and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Blackwell of Quitman. Dr. Travis A. White read a double ring service.

Miss Beth Sue Lang of Oklahoma City sang "Because" and Dorrell Patrick of Victoria sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white imported organdy over white satin. The dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice with a flanged collar. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a halo and she carried a bouquet of roses showered with white satin streamers.

Miss Shirley Tibbets, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a pink dress fashioned after the bride's. She carried pink rosebuds showered with blue satin streamers. Miss Juanita Tibbets of Robert Lee, cousin of the bride, was candlelighter. She wore an aqua organdy dress with pink rosebuds in her hair.

Eugene Click of Seminole served as best man and Bill Tibbets, brother of the bride, and C. C. Blackwell, jr., of Quitman, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception was given in the Tibbets home after the ceremony. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. R. M. Patrick and Darrell of Victoria, Mrs. J. A. Lang and Beth of Oklahoma City, Mrs. L. A. Tibbets and children of Robert Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lee of Brownfield, Mrs. Jimmy Rosenberger and Mrs. A. C. Giffin of Seminole, Mrs. Charles C. Blackwell and son of Quitman, Misses Virginia and Charley Blackwell of Baytown, and Mr. and Mrs. Shaw of Quitman.

The couple will be at home in Schenectady, N. Y. For her wedding trip, the bride wore a gold floral silk dress with green accessories and a white rosebud corsage.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell are graduates of Texas Technological college. She majored in music and he in electrical engineering.

Jefferson Davis Tea Is Planned For Afternoon

Hotel Lubbock ballroom will be scene of a Jefferson Davis memorial tea to be given this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Stephen W. Wilkinson chapter of United Daughters of the Confederacy. Members of the UDC will model Godey fashions at the entertainment.

A feature of the program will be a review of "Bride of Fortune" (Hartnett T. Kane) by Mrs. Russell Ray. The book tells the story of the romance and marriage of Varina Howell and Jefferson Davis.

Proceeds will go toward chapter benevolences.

Women's Council At Meeting Thursday

A constitution and budget were adopted by Women's council of Lubbock View Christian church at a called meeting held Thursday afternoon in the parlor of First Christian church, Mrs. O. J. Snow, president, presided.

The council's next meeting will be June 27. Regular Monday meetings will begin in July.

Mrs. L. O. Armstrong led a prayer. Seventeen persons attended.

ATTEND GRADUATION

Senator Connally's Wife Reveals Passages From Personal Historical Record Of Washington Scene

By SARAH McCLENDON
A Famous Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 2 — Mrs. Tom Connally, wife of the senior senator from Texas, who, perhaps more than any woman living today with the possible exception of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, has had opportunity to observe history in the making, revealed here this week to friends some of the most interesting passages of her 23-year-old diary.

Mrs. Connally was first married to the late Sen. Morris Sheppard of Texas, a man respected throughout the nation. She watched his attempts to build a national defense machine as head of the Senate Military Affairs committee. She saw him virtually wear himself out physically in that effort.

Today, she observes her husband, chairman of the Senate foreign Relations committee, in his attempts to build the peace through the Marshall plan and the Atlantic pact.

Attended Washington School

Mrs. Connally was born Lucille Sanderson in Texarkana. She was educated in Washington at an exclusive girls' school. She married Senator Sheppard and settled down in official life in Washington where she has been ever since. During that time, she has observed two world wars, the business depression, the peace talks and the comings and goings of Democratic and Republican administrations

One item in Mrs. Connally's 10-volume diary, which she is now revising, tells of bringing together the wives of Texas Congressmen for the first time, 20 years ago. Recently the Texas Ladies, as they call themselves, met for luncheon as they have been doing every month during congressional sessions since that memorable occasion. This time they reminisced and presented Mrs. Connally with a silver bowl. Referring to her diary, Mrs. Connally noted that the purpose of starting the meeting was so the Texas ladies "could become better acquainted."

Diary Started In 1926

The group is unique. Congressional wives of no other state delegation have these regular, informal, chatty meetings. "Perhaps they don't love each other as much as we do," said Mrs. Connally. "We always have such good times together."

Mrs. Connally's diary has much to say about how the late Mrs. John Nance Garner, Uvalde, enjoyed these gatherings but how she often had to hurry back to the office to help her husband who was speaker of the House and later vice-president.

Mrs. Connally began her diary in 1926 with a cruise down the Potomac as guest of President and Mrs. Coolidge on the yacht, Mayflower. She went alone as Senator Sheppard was then in Texas on business. She was the ranking lady so sat on the President's right at all meals.

Trio Described

She recalls the President and Mrs. Coolidge were most courteous and thoughtful at all times. He and the First Lady would come from their cabin, and the President would approach Mrs. Connally in a methodical, timed pace, as he offered her his arm to go out to dinner. "I have wondered since what would have happened had I missed that arm as he sailed by. I suppose I should have raced him for it," she wrote.

Andrew Mellon, then secretary of the treasury, was another guest.

Her most interesting partner at official Washington dinners, Mrs. Connally thinks, was President Roosevelt. "He was always witty and entertaining. I sat by him several times."

She tells in detail of the events which surrounded the entry of the Roosevelts into the White House, beginning with the glee felt by Democrats in Washington who for a long time had been "the underdogs," during repeated Republican administrations. Mrs. Connally sat on the presidential platform directly behind the Roosevelt family at the first inauguration. She also attended the speech by Vice-President Garner which she notes "was the briefest address on record for a vice-president."

Concerned Over Future

"But our pleasure was mixed with considerable concern," she wrote. "The country is in the most desperate plight. There are 12,000,000 unemployed. Conditions are as terrible as any ruler ever had to deal with. Business is almost completely paralyzed. The whole country is holding its breath, waiting for any remedies that can be forthcoming."

"The Senate met at once and confirmed Roosevelt's cabinet so that they could meet. And at 2 p.m., that very day, the cabinet met to see what could be done in the nation's crisis."

It was 1933, and she added: "The President sent his budget message to Congress. He mentioned that by 1935 we would have a public debt of almost 32 billions of dollars. It takes one's breath away to think of these figures."

Here was an added thought: "We are on our way somewhere—nobody knows just where, it seems."

Today, Mrs. Connally commented: "This amount seems small indeed to our present public debt of $251 billion."

Many Incidents Secret

Many interesting incidents in Mrs. Connally's diary she never intends to make public. They were things said to her in an informal manner at dinner parties and were never meant for others to hear. They might be embarrassing to those who said them or to others. She will not reveal confidences.

When pressed to tell of some incidents at the White House, she recalled this story told by Mrs. Roosevelt at luncheon one day. A little old lady, a true daughter of the Confederacy, had been a guest for tea at the White House the week before. She came up to Mrs. Roosevelt to say she had just one request—would Mrs. Roosevelt permit her to go to the piano in the big gold East Room and play "Dixie." Mrs. Roosevelt readily consented.

Mrs. Connally recalls the instructions sent to the White House for the comfort and convenience of their majesties, the king and queen of England. The king liked his comforters folded one way, the queen liked hers another. The ladies in waiting would like hot water bottles for their beds.

"It was June and they did not know what Washington weather could be like," wrote Mrs. Connally.

Royalty Visits Washington

Her diary tells of the visits of numerous royal personages to Washington in the summer of 1942. King George of Greece, King Peter of Yugoslavia and others. After a White House dinner for Queen Wilhemina of Holland, Mrs. Connally wrote: "She was a motherly sort of person with a great deal of ability and intelligence."

She told of meeting Winston Churchill several times, of lunching with Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, of a country visit to the English home of Lord and Lady Astor and of a reception given by the king and queen at Buckingham palace. Once at a dinner for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor at the British embassy in Washington, Mrs. Connally, who was ranking lady, having been seated on the duke's right at table, made the final move to leave after she learned the Duke and Duchess "would stay up all night." "I wasn't about to stay up all night," said Mrs. Connally.

Another interesting character she met was a Russian woman soldier who had killed 200 Nazis. "She really looked equal to the job," wrote Mrs. Connally.

Mrs. Connally wrote of the hard task confronting Senator Sheppard of building up the war machine. He died in April, 1941.

"His work was so very heavy during his last years as he was chairman of the Senate Military Affairs committee, a body of great importance at that time. General MacArthur, who as chief of staff had known Morris well, wrote to him before his death: "No man now in Congress has done quite as much for the security of the United States as you have."

"One thing my diary reminds me of—the time my husband tried so hard to get the Senate Appropriations committee to vote funds for the purchase of 500 additional airplanes. Many senators opposed this as absolutely unnecessary. It was not long afterwards that President Roosevelt called for us to buy 50,000 more airplanes."

Diary Interrupted

After her husband's death, there is a lapse in the diary accounting for several years. Then she started again.

As wife of Senator Connally, the writer relates many interesting experiences.

She was present in the Senate the day he introduced his resolution "which would give assurance to the world that the United States desires to co-operate with the sovereign nations to insure and preserve peace." That was looking to formation of the United Nations.

With her distinguished husband, she attended the Chepultepec conference in Mexico, the signing of the United Nations charter in San Francisco, the first meeting of the United Nations in London.

"We went to Paris four times in 1946 and in 1947 we went to the Inter-American conference in Rio de Janeiro which was held to implement the Monroe Doctrine. Last year we went to Rome to the Inter-Parliamentary Union conference. Then there was the Atlantic pact meeting where 12 nations signed for defense of the North Atlantic, and where I met again Britain's foreign minister, Ernest Bevin, whom I once sat by at dinner. France's minister, Schumann, Italy's Count Sforza and others.

Levelland Firm Wins Action Against Bank

Findings in favor of the Union Supply company, Levelland, in a suit against the Levelland State bank, and for the bank against third party defendants, have been returned by a federal jury here.

The suit arose when a former employe of the Union Supply accepted a check made out to the company in the amount of $5,650.22 and allegedly appropriated the cash and received for it to his own use. The check was issued by the Country Club of Levelland in payment of an open account.

The jury found that the Union Supply was not negligent in checking on their accounts. They further found that the bank had no reason to believe that the former employe, B. J. Hargroves, had authority to endorse and cash the check.

In the involved case the jury found for the Levelland State bank against B. J. Hargroves, now in the U. S. Army, B. J. Childress and Sherman Davis, both of Lubbock. The three men were named jointly and severally. Hargroves and Childress to be accountable for the full amount of the check and Davis for the amount of $1,300. The jury stated that they believed Davis had not acted in good faith in collecting $1,300 based on the larger check.

In the final finding the jury indicated that Hargroves and Childress had entered into a scheme to defraud the Levelland State bank of $5,650.22. Judgment will be entered sometime this week.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves! If reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blood disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 306 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Hubbers Bury Pampa, 10-2

Haskins Pitches Four-Hit Game

PAMPA, June 2. (AP) — Chris Haskins threw a four-hitter in the face of the revamped and disorganized Pampa Oilers here tonight and his mates went on to pound out a 10-2 victory. Haskins was robbed of a shutout by a fifth inning rally on a home run by Catcher Newt Secrest with one on board.

Six Pampa errors committed behind Lefthander John Martin gave the Hubbers seven unearned runs in the first eight frames. Two doubles, with a walk, a hit batsman and a single accounted for the final three Hubber tallies in the ninth inning off Charley Bodine.

The Hubbers picked up a run in the first inning. With one man out, Teyema dropped Nelson Davis' long fly for a two-base error. He went to third as Martin tried to pick him off second and came in to score on a single to right by Jim Prince after Dempsey had bounced out.

They tallied five more times in the second. Dooley walked. Sullivan was safe on an error and Willis beat out a bunt to load the bases. Haskins fanned, but Wisniewski was hit by a pitched ball. Forcing Dooley cross. Davis lifted to centerfield, Sullivan scoring after the catch. Dempsey then lined a double to rightfield scoring Willis and Wisniewski. Prince drove Dempsey across with a single over second with the fifth run.

Another run was added in the fourth when Davis was safe on an error by the third baseman, went to second when the second baseman dropped a throw on the front part of a double play, and then came in to score on Prince's third single of the night.

Pampa's two runs came in the fifth. With one out Peacock singled, but was forced at second by Teyema. Secrest then lined his home run over the left-centerfield fence, for the only two Oiler scores.

The final three Hubber runs came in the ninth off Bodine. Duarte walked and went to third on a single by Dooley. Sullivan fouled out but Willis doubled to center scoring Duarte, and sending Dooley to third. Haskins' long fly to center scored Dooley, Willis moving to third on the throw to the plate. Bodine then let loose a wild pitch, Willis scoring.

Organized Ball Gains Point In Appeal By Three Former Players

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Organized baseball won a point today when the United States Court of Appeals denied the request of three former major league players that they be re-instated immediately.

The trio—Danny Gardella, former outfielder of the New York Giants; Max Lanier and Fred Martin, one-time pitchers of the St. Louis Cardinals—is barred from baseball for five years for jumping to the Mexican league in 1946.

The decision upheld a lower court ruling denying temporary injunctions to the players against Organized Baseball.

Yankees Batter White Sox 12-7 And Tigers Rally To Lick A's

Nats And Tigers Turn In Victories

CHICAGO, June 2. (INS) — The front-running New York Yankees piled up an 8-0 lead today, then hung on to batter the Chicago White Sox 12 to 7 in a game that lasted more than three hours.

Tommy Henrich and Cliff Mapes homered for the winners, the former getting his 11th circuit smash of the season in the first with two on to put the Yanks off to a lead they never relinquished. It took two relief pitchers to follow Ed Lopat and check the Sox bats, however, and Lefty Joe Page was the winner.

Randy Gumpert, first of four Sox pitchers, took the loss.

BOUDREAU LEADS TRIBE TO VICTORY OVER RED SOX

CLEVELAND, June 2. (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau, playing with a broken finger, belted a single and a double tonight as his Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 3.

It was the first time since Sunday Boudreau has been back at his old position at shortstop. Bob Lemon, who has been out of play with an injured side for three weeks, held the Sox to five hits.

Dukes Blast Clovis, 11-1

ALBUQUERQUE, June 2. (AP)—The Albuquerque Dukes won their eighth West Texas-New Mexico league tilt in nine starts tonight, setting down Clovis 11 to 1.

Frank Shone, with the Dukes about a week, won his second victory. He allowed seven scattered hits, no earned runs, walked only 4 and struck out 12.

The Dukes scored eight runs in the first two innings to pile up a long lead.

Les Mulcahy's ninth home run of the year came in the fourth.

Clovis got two hits in the first inning, but Shone struck out Coates to end the threat.

In the bottom of the first, Cooper walked two men and Allen Maul singled. The single was mishandled in the outfield by Wilcy Moore and the two men on base and Maul scored.

His successor, Smith, issued two singles and another walk for the rest of the runs in the frame.

In the second, Smith issued two walks and a hit batsman and Martin singled bringing home two runs. Drake came to the mound but the Dukes scored three runs before the side could be retired.

Albuquerque produced another run in the seventh off two walks and a single by Mulcahy.

Clovis' shortstop, George Mendoza, had a great night. He started three double plays and snared two line drives.

Two SWC Track Men Will Miss Big Meet

DALLAS, June 2. (AP)—The Southwest's chances of winning its annual intercollegiate meet with the Big Seven at Kansas City Saturday night were further dimmed today with the loss of the best sprinter and broad jumper.

James H. Stewart, conference executive secretary, announced that Perry Samuels of Texas, who won the conference 100-yard dash in 9.5, would not make the trip because he had to go home and work on the ranch. Cleburne Price of Southern Methodist, the conference broad jump champion, has an infected foot and is in a hospital. He will be unable to go.

There will be no substitution for either Price or Samuels.

Yanks, Sox Split Boys Club Games

In games at Boys club Thursday afternoon, the Pygmy Yankees set a new all-time high in scoring when 38 runs were scored off 26 hits as they defeated the White Sox, 38-7.

Dan Knight had two triples, two doubles, and a single to pace the Yankees, and Billy Stevenson pounded two home runs and a triple in three times up.

Harrison Hits Homer

The White Sox batting was lead by Robert Seal with a home run and a single in three times at the plate.

In the Pee Wee game the White Sox downed the Yankees, 18-10, with Joel Austin getting two singles and a home run for the winners in three times at the plate. Keith Harrison hit a homer for the White Sox.

W. L. Bloodworth tripled and singled twice for the Yankees.

In the first Junior league game, ABC made 21 hits in defeating Methodist men, 11-8. The Methodists had 13 hits.

Davis Leads Winners

Kenneth Davis was the leading hitter with a triple and single for the winners. Jimmy Hudson knocked a four-bagger.

George "Midge" Guy singled three times in three times up for the losing Methodist nine, and Jimmy Welch knocked a home run and a triple in two official times at bat.

Today the Dodgers play the Pirates in the Pygmy and Pee Wee leagues and Exchange meets the Jaycees in the Junior league.

Beaumont Is Winner, 3-2

BEAUMONT, June 2. (AP)—The Beaumont Exporters defeated San Antonio's Missions 3 to 2 here tonight to sweep the two game series.

George Elder, recently acquired by the Exporters, made his debut in the Shipper starting lineup and drove in the winning run in the eighth inning to break a 2-2 tie.

Procopio Herrera of the Padres and Earl Ray of the Ships hooked up in a pitchers' duel for the first six innings, but both weakened and were lifted from the game.

Zeke Melignano finished off the game for the Shippers and was credited for the win, while John Crocco finished for the Missions and was charged for the loss.

Cloverlake, Barbers Take Softball Leads

Barbers College and Cloverlake went into the lead in their respective leagues in City Recreation softball games last night at Jumbo Webster field as the Barbers defeated Bennett Motor, 4-2, and Cloverlake dropped VFW, 6-3.

A triple in the last of the sixth inning by J. B. Hance with two men aboard gave Barber College their advantage and Pinkert hurled three-hit ball for winners. A double in the top of the sixth by Gerald Hise with two men on base gave Bennett a temporary 2-1 lead. P. Thedford and R. Stewart had a double and single each to lead the Barber attack.

All the scoring in the Cloverlake-VFW was done in the fourth and fifth inning. Cloverlake made two runs in the bottom of the fourth, but VFW scored three in the top of the fifth. A four-run rally in the bottom of the fifth by Cloverlake gave the team the victory.

Ira Layman and Fred Schultz had two singles to lead the Dairymen, and T. Cain doubled for VFW to score two runs.

Tonight at 7:30 p. m. Asbury Methodist meets Pioneer Methodists, and Bluebonnet plays Thomas Tinkers in the finale.

Lamesa Here Today

Strong Legion To Face Westerners

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

Lubbock High school's baseball team went through a long practice Thursday afternoon at Chapman field diamond beneath a blistering sun in preparation for the tilt with the Lamesa Junior American Legion team at 3:30 p. m. today at Chapman field in a nine-inning game.

Hitting and fielding were the high points of the lengthy workout, and some of the boys looked very good at the plate. Fielding of infield ground balls was as hazardous as ever due to the unevenness of the infield, but the outfielders had little disadvantage.

Only Three Regulars

The Lamesa team that plays here today will have only three regulars from the District 3-AA championship team, but earlier it was believed that most of the team members would be playing on the Legion club. In its first start this year, the Lamesa nine defeated Hobbs, N. M., 14-5, and stiff competition is expected from the team managed by Joe Spikes.

Admission to the game will be 30 cents for students and 60 cents for adults. Gate receipts will be used to send the Westerner team to the state schoolboy finals in Austin June 6-7-8. In the first game of the single elimination tournament to decide the first state baseball champion in the history of the Texas Interscholastic league, Lubbock will meet Austin High school, the team considered as the best bet to take the title.

Hart, King To Hurl

The Westerner team coached by Fred Taylor has a good record of 19 victories and only three defeats going into the game today, and it is expected to take the contest although facing one of the best pitchers in District 3-AA. Bill Hart, righthander, will divide the mound chores with Royce King, a lefthander. During the district race Hart was credited with four wins and no losses, and King had two victories and two defeats.

The starting pitcher for Lubbock will be Righthander Jimmy Hamilton, and he will hurl the first three innings. Bennie Day will come on at the end of three and be relieved by Jimmy Richards going into the seventh frame. Richards and Day each won four games and lost none during the district and bi-district race, and Hamilton suffered his lone defeat to Amarillo while winning two games.

Lineups Named

Probable starting lineup in the batting order for Lubbock will be Bob Brown, shortstop; Powell Hinson, third base; Morris Turner, catcher; Charles Galey, second base; Jesse Fullerton, first base; Dean White or Jimmy Sexton, rightfield; James Burgess, leftfield; Garnet Reeves, centerfield; and Hamilton, pitcher.

For Lamesa it will be Bobby Hawking, third base; Delbert Dickenson, centerfield; Lemual Kidd or Ray Taylor, right field; Frank Loot, shortstop; Jerry Brown, left field; Lowry Martin, first base; Jerry Millsapps, second base; Jim Bob Boothe, catcher; and Hart or King pitcher.

Other reserves expected to see action for Lamesa are John Pruitt, Pat O'Neal, Jerry Howell, Clive Cline, Carlos Berry, jr., Donald Holt, Bill Martin, and Jesse Leathers.

PAPER TEAM WINS

Avalanche-Journal softball team defeated the First Methodist church 11 to 4 last night. Garner had four for four, including two doubles for the winners, besides hurling the game. Dunham pitched for the losers.

Stan Grzywacz Loses His Third Game

Abilene Blue Sox Club Loboes, 14-8

LAMESA, June 2. (Special) — The Abilene Blue Sox handed Lamesa's luckless Loboes their seventh straight defeat here tonight in their series opener, shelling three hurlers for 16 hits and a 14-8 victory.

The Blue Sox counted six runs in the third on seven hits, including doubles by George Lopez and Righthander Rene Vega and a triple by Acting Manager George Sturdivant to overcome an early Lamesa lead. Three runs in the fourth and four more in the sixth accounted for Abilene's comfortable win.

Sox Centerfielder Bobby Fernandez paced the winners at bat with four hits, one a double, and stole three bases. Lopez drove in four Abilene tallies. Vega gained his fifth win after working seven frames. Lefty Ralph Sangil finished for the Sox.

Grzywacz Loses Third

Stanley Grzywacz, who was driven to cover in the fourth, suffered his third loss. Manager Haney juggled his lineup and used 14 players in an effort to break Lamesa's losing streak. Third Baseman Eddie Melillo led the Lobo attack with two doubles and a single in five trips. Lamesa Shortstop Jackie Wilcox suffered a spiked knee in the fourth inning and may be out of action several days.

Lamesa gained a 4-1 lead in the first two frames, scoring twice in the initial inning on a walk to Wilcox, catcher's interference on Hank Melillo, Manager Haney's double, and D. C. Miller's single.

Another brace of markers was added in the second on Ed Melillo's double, singles by Frank Calo, Grzywacz and H. Melillo.

Jim Sinovick, obtained from Clovis in a straight player swap by the Pioneers for First Baseman Glenn Coates, and John Gibbs, a rookie outfielder, just out of Hardin-Simmons university made their debut in the Lobo lineup.

Tomorrow night Eulis Rosson will twirl for Lamesa. Sturdivant, acting as Abilene's skipper in the absence of Hayden Greer, was undecided as to the starter.

Texas Suspends Ray Robinson

HOUSTON, June 2. (AP)—Promotor Ralph Smith of Houston said today that he would ask the Texas State Boxing commission to stop Sugar Ray Robinson from defending his welterweight title this summer is Philadelphia unless the champion made good on a contract he has failed to fulfill with Smith.

Protests from Smith resulted last Saturday in the state boxing commissioner's office in Austin suspending the welterweight champion from fighting in Texas.

Referred To NBA

The commissioner's action was referred to the NBA, whose rules govern boxing in 43 states.

The suspension of Robinson in Texas will not interfere with his title bout against Kid Gavilan of Cuba July 11, Commissioner Leon Rains of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission said in Philadelphia.

Rains said he discussed the matter with Robinson before the contract signing yesterday and "is satisfied Ray will straighten things out with the Texas commission.

Robinson To Make Good

In Paterson, N. J., NBA Commissioner Abe J. Greene said "The situation is in the process of adjustment and will not interfere with the Philadelphia fight.

"Robinson will make good with the Texas promoter, either by going through with a fight there or by financial settlement."

Borger Whips Gold Sox, 12 To 7

AMARILLO, June 2. (AP)—Striking with tremendous fury in a big eighth inning, the Borger Gassers scored four runs to put themselves comfortably ahead and went on to defeat Amarillo' Gold Sox, 12-7, before 1,603 chilled fans here tonight.

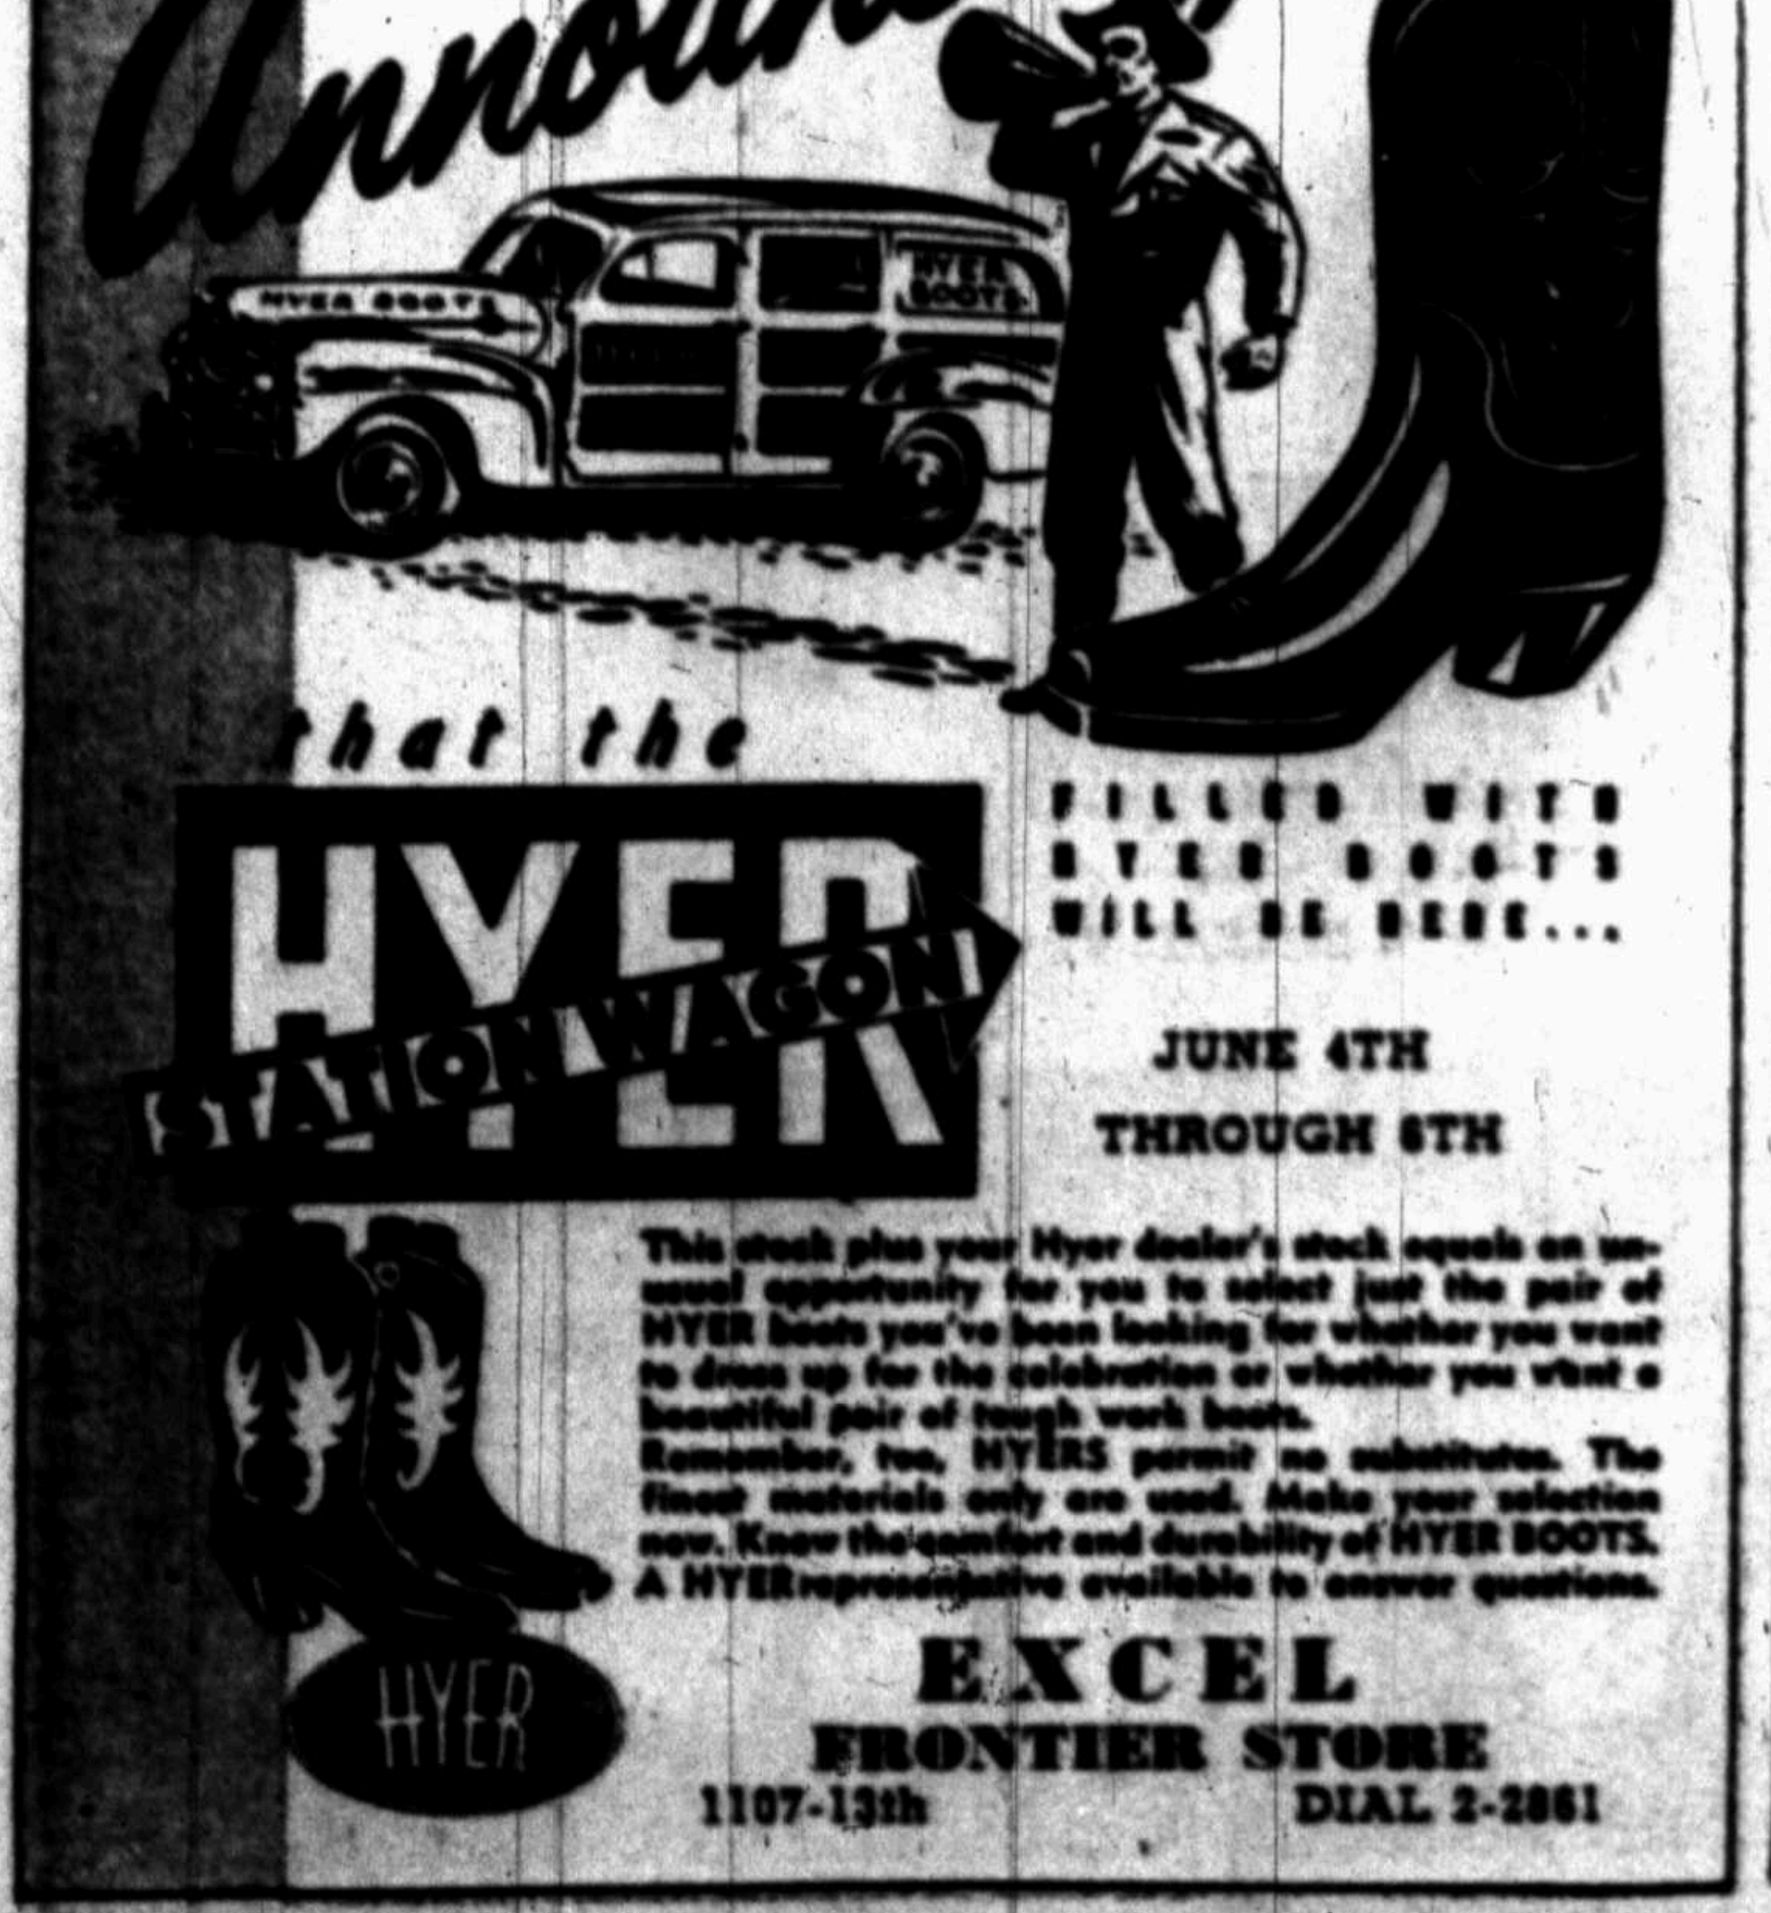

The Gassers had been matching Amarillo hit for hit, run for run, during the first six innings, then tallied twice in the seventh to go ahead 8 to 5. Amarillo came back with a pair of their own, and it looked as if the two clubs might go down to the wire neck and neck when the Gassers lashed out.

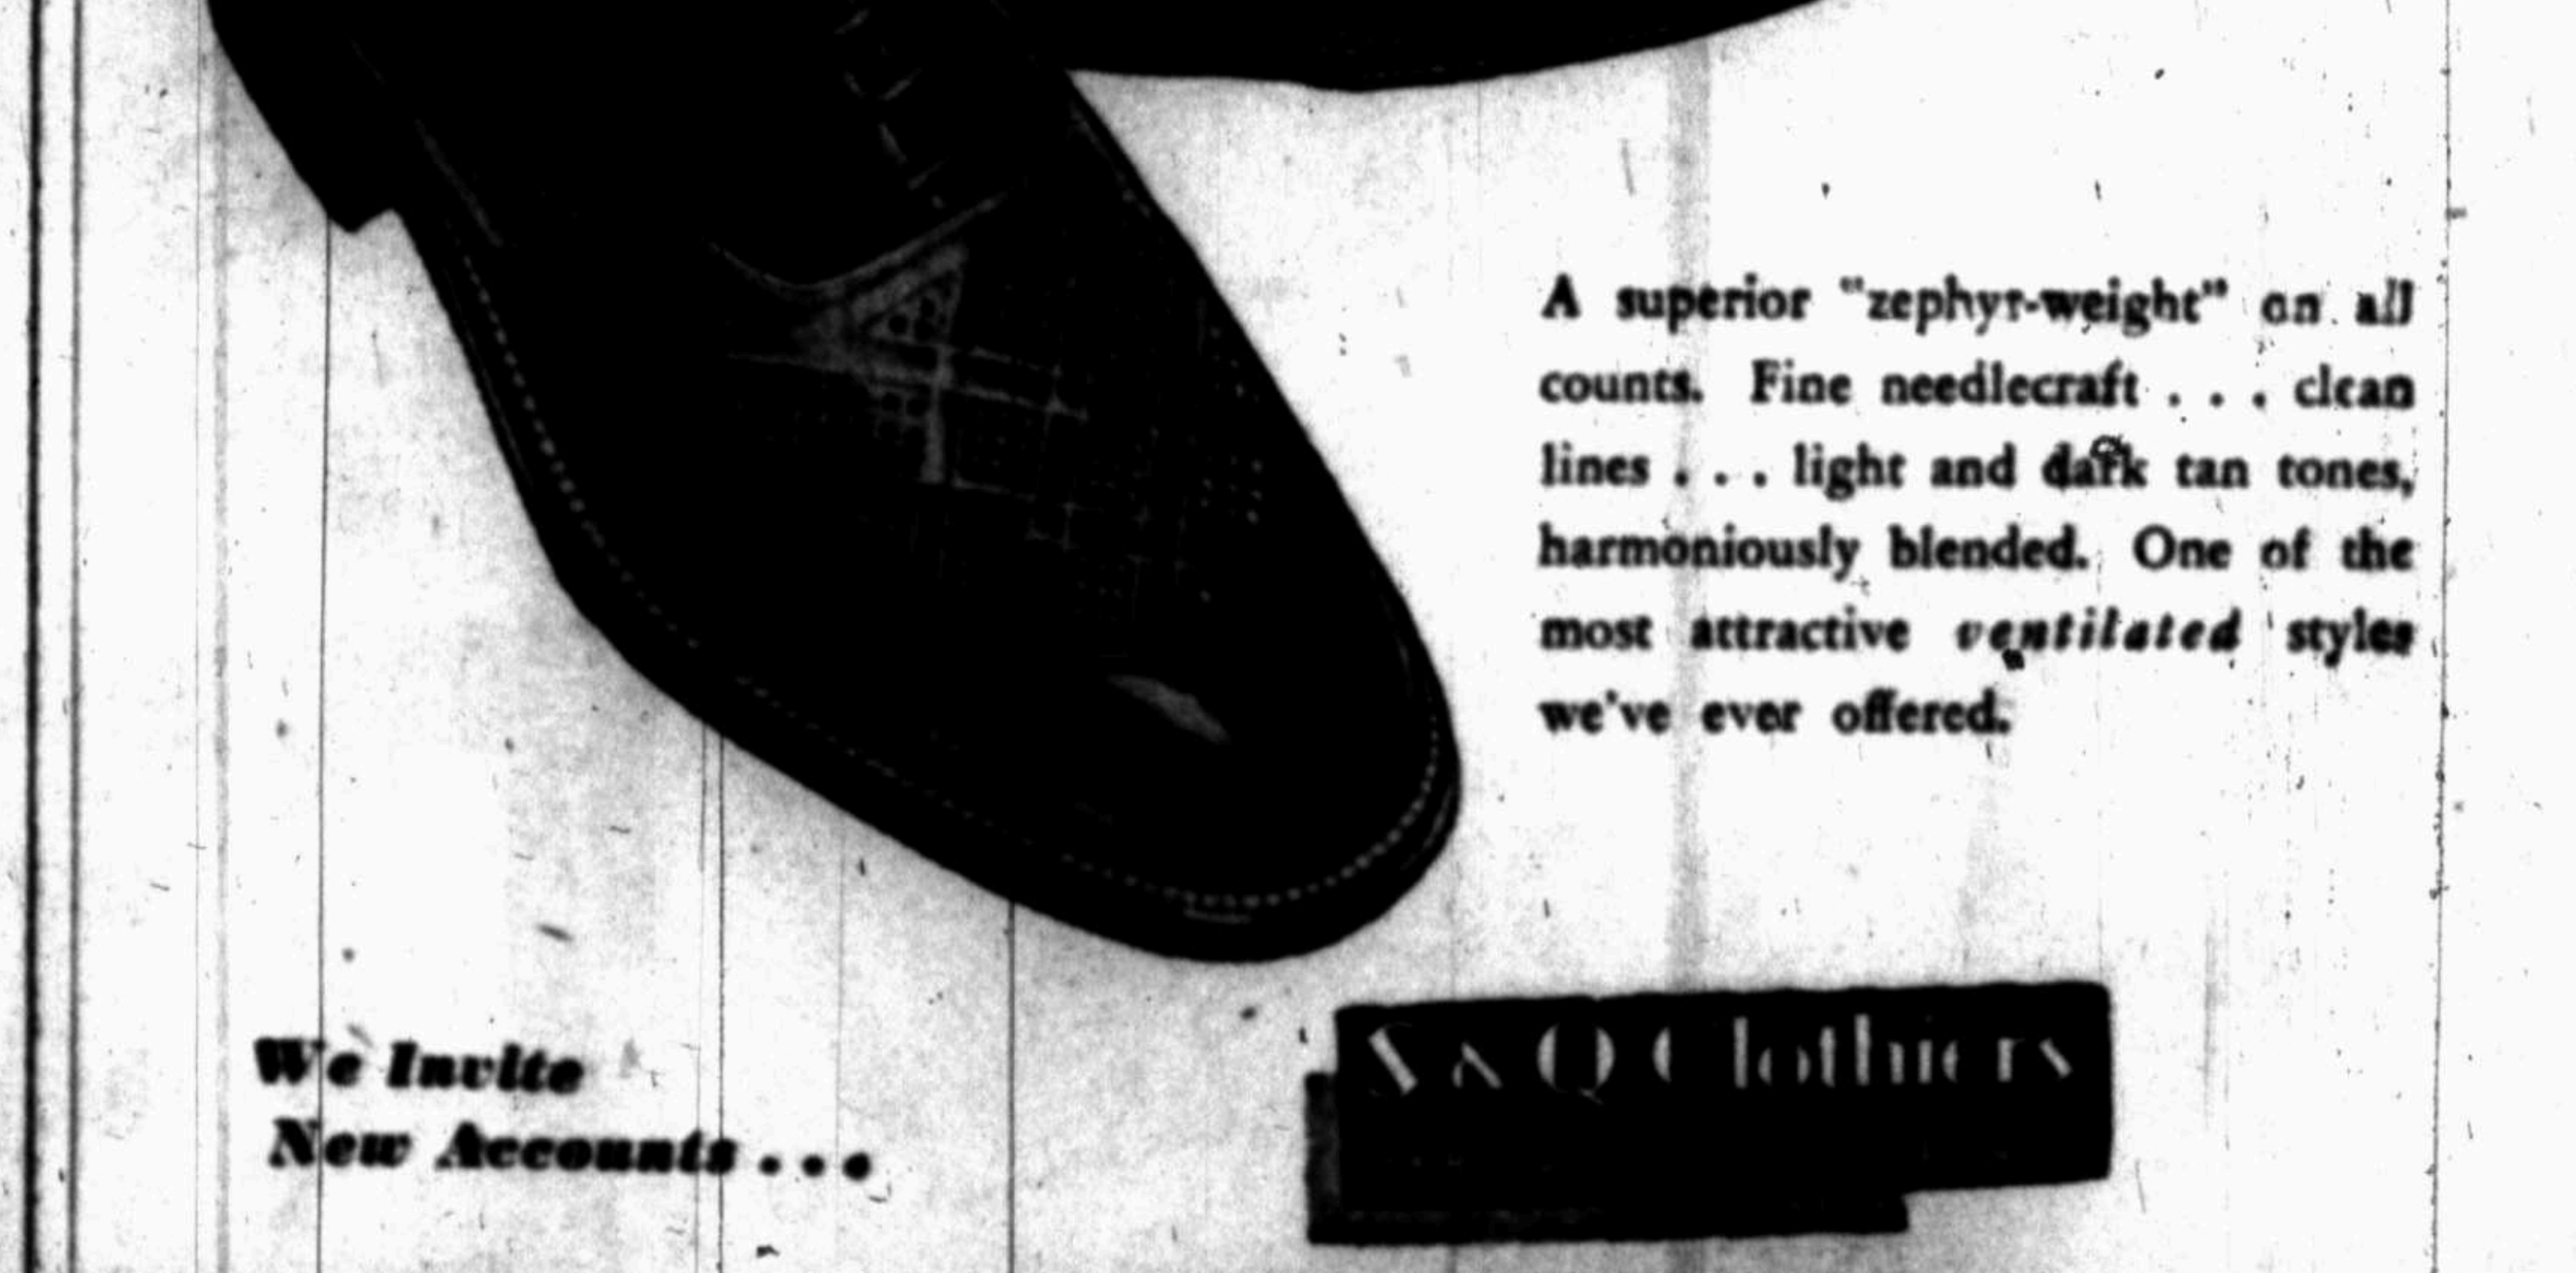

Gordon Nell greeted Relief Pitcher Bob Glass with a double to start things off. Ken Sears, who had gone hitless all night, stepped up and blasted a home run over the left field wall. Manager Jess Landrum elected to send Jim Reynolds into the Borger tempest. He was introduced to Hugh King, who stroked the Gasser's fourth circuit clout over the left field fence.

Don Cherry Is Favorite At Hobbs

Two Lubbockites In First Flight

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

HOBBS, N. M., June 2 — Don Cherry, a sunbaked sharpshooter from Wichita Falls, established himself as the man to beat in the annual Hobbs Country club invitational golf tournament today by firing a scorching seven under par 65 to easily capture medalist honors.

Cherry, winner of two Texas tournaments and runner-up in a third already this year, unleashed a deadly long iron game to hand par a thorough battering over the 3,214 yard nine hole Hobbs layout. His scorecard showed eight birdies and only one bogey, on the final hole where he missed a four-foot putt. Bobby Maxwell the lesser known half of the famed Abilene golfing twins team of Billy and Bobby Maxwell, was runner-up for medalist honors with a 68. George Paulowsky of Hobbs was next in line with a 69, while Charles Townes of Tahoka posted a 70. Jack Williams of Plainview posted a 71.

Williams Falters

Williams, one of the top pre-tournament favorites faltered on the incoming nine today after going out in a two under par 34. He encountered difficulty with his tee shots and needed 37 strokes coming home.

A score of 76 was necessary to get into the 32-man championship flight. Five golfers tied at that figure and a sudden death swat-fest was held to determine the last three berths. Two Lubbock men, Bill Tatum and Lindsay Telford, made the grade and will play in the top flight.

Cherry's blistering round was particularly impressive in view of the fact that it was his first trip around the Hobbs course which this year is characterized by glassy slick greens. The wiry Wichita Falls ace started with a birdie on the first hole on the eighteenth green. In the first round Friday Cherry will meet Bob Farmer, Odessa, who qualified with 73.

South Plains Golfers enjoyed a field day today, garnering half the 32 berths in the championship flight. Charles Townes, Tahoka, posted a 70 to lead the South Plains golfers.

Those making the championship bracket with their qualifying scores were: Charles Townes, Tahoka, 33-35—70; Jack Williams, Plainview, 34-37—71; Bob Ewers, Lubbock, 36-34—70; T. E. Patterson, Lubbock, 39-34—73; Jack Trammel, Lubbock, 37-36—73; R. S. Cryer, Denver City, 37-36—73; Dr. W. A. Schaal, Tahoka, 37-36—73; Fenner Tubbs, Lubbock, 36-38—74; Roy Cooper, Lubbock, 38-36—74; A. B. Holton, Lubbock, 38-36—74; W. O. White, Lamesa, 40-34—74; Dave Lawson, Lubbock, 37-38—75; Houston Trammel, Lubbock, 38-37—75; Bill Tatum, Lubbock, 36-38—76.

Other South Plains entrants and their qualifying scores included: Don Mitchell, Lubbock, 42-37—79; Hobby Layne, Lubbock, 42-37—79; M. K. Dean, Lubbock, 40-39—84; Clyde Fortune, Lubbock, 48-44—92; Weldon Counts, Lubbock, 38-39—77; George Canon, Lubbock, 40-37—77; Hugh Anderson, Lubbock, 40-37—77; Joe Dick Slaughter, Lubbock, 46-43—89; L. G. Raney, Lubbock, 40-40—80; Eldon L. Rawlings, Lubbock, 41-43—84; Truman Hutson, Lubbock, 41-40—81; George Carter, Lubbock, 40-41—81; Weymond Newton, Lubbock, 41-39—80; John Markham, Lubbock, 40-39—79; Jacque Sholts, Hobbs and Texas Tech, 42-42—84; Chester Jackson, Monument and Tech, 40-42—82.

First Round Pairings

First round pairings in the championship flight of South Plains entrants are: Townes, Tahoka, Vs. White, Lamesa; Cryer, Denver City, Vs. Guy James (78); Patterson, Lubbock, Vs. Bobby Maxwell, (68); Ewers, Lubbock, Vs. Doc Lillie, Roswell (75); Tubbs, Lubbock, Vs. Jack Williams; Dr. Schaal, Tahoka, Vs. Jack Williams; Ross Mitchell, Lubbock, Vs. Jack Hord, Midland (72); Roy Cooper, Lubbock, Vs. Joe Sholts, Hobbs (71); Jack Trammel, Lubbock, Vs. Lindsay Telford, Lubbock; A. B. Holton, Lubbock, Vs. George Peulowsky, Hobbs (69); Houston Trammel, Lubbock, Vs. Red Roden, Odessa (73); Dave Lawson, Lubbock Vs. Billy Maxwell, Abilene.

Braves Retain League Lead By Licking Pirates, 4 To 1

BOSTON, June 2 (INS)—The Boston Braves made it two in a row as they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates this evening by a score of 4 to 1.

Southpaw Warren Spahn allowed but five hits while winning his sixth game. The Braves' lefthander had the Pirates shut out with only one out to go.

A two-run rally against starter Tiny Bonham in the fourth inning clinched the game for the National League leaders.

Eddie Stanky started by drawing a walk. Elbie Fletcher and Pete Reiser singled to load the bases.

Stanky scored the first run when Bob Elliott forced Reiser at second and Fletcher scored the second counter when Danny Murtaugh threw wild trying for a double play.

PHILLIES TIE MAJOR MARK WITH FIVE HOMERS IN 8TH

PHILADELPHIA, June 2 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies hit five of their six home runs in the eighth inning to tie the major league record for circuit blows in one frame as they defeated the Cincinnati Reds 12-3 tonight.

Andy Seminick hit three of the homers, two in the eighth, and the others came off the bats of Del Ennis, Willie Jones and Schoolboy Rowe.

Cards Won't Sell Or Trade Musial

ST. LOUIS, June 2 (INS) — President Fred M. Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals said in a formal statement today that Stan Musial, most valuable player in the National League last year, is neither for sale nor for trade.

No other Cardinal players will be sold for cash alone, Saigh added.

The complete statement follows:

"Stan Musial is not for sale to any ball club at any price. Nor will he be traded.

"We do not intend to sell any other Cardinal ball players for cash alone.

"Naturally, if the opportunity arises to make a trade beneficial to the Cardinals, we will take advantage of it.

"But proposed deals for Musial and certain other Cardinals will not even be given a thought."

Texas, Oklahoma High School Baseball Teams Play Saturday

WICHITA FALLS, June 2. (AP) High school baseball squads of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma will play here Saturday night with proceeds going to the local YMCA kid baseball program.

There will be 20 on the Texas squad and 17 for the Sooners.

Hal Hilprit of Altus and Ray Hogan of Friendship will coach the Oklahoma squad.

Dick Moss of Wichita Falls and Preston Watson of Archer City will coach the Texans.

Ring Cited As Greatest Killer

CHICAGO, June 2. (INS)—Boxing was characterized today, in an article in Hygeia, health magazine of the American Medical Association, both as "organized mayhem" and as the greatest killer in American athletics.

The use of doctors "as members of advisory boards and as medical examiners dependent for their fees on the whims of politicians" was described further as having the effect of "furnishing a phony respectability to an otherwise dubious activity."

No Lines Drawn

Thomas Gorman, assistant managing editor of the magazine, drew none of the customary lines separating the professional and amateur phases of the fight game, in penning the forthright article. Said he:

"The participants for our 'sport' of professional boxing come from the thousands of high school boys and young men in college who engaged in amateur boxing. This has become so highly organized through vast inter-city tournaments that the only division between professional and amateur boxing is the funnel by which the first is supplied with man-power from the great reservoir of the second. They are both part of the same picture."

Most Boxers Punchy

Noting that boxing has produced more deaths per number of participants than any other sport, Gorman wrote further that fatalities in themselves constitute only a part of the situation. Fifty percent of active fighters, he said are punch drunk to some degree.

"A boxer doesn't have to be knocked out or have his skull broken to be seriously injured," Gorman wrote. "He may suffer pinpoint hemorrhages or other harm to his brain not outwardly apparent even to the trained physician.

"These injuries can result from any hard blow to the head. Pinpoint hemorrhages caused by the concussion from a hard blow may destroy nerve tissues. Brain tissues do not heal as do other tissues of the body.

"Some parts of the brain can suffer destruction of a small amount of tissue without immediate paralysis or changes in behavior. These injuries are permanent. As more are received they will contribute to loss of mental powers or bodily control."

MILLS DROPPED IN FOURTEENTH

Woodcock Wins Right To Meet Savold In Knocking Out Mills

LONDON, June 2 (INS)—Bruce Woodcock, British Empire heavyweight champion, tonight knocked out his countryman, Freddie Mills, world's light-heavyweight champion at 1:27 in the 14th round of their scheduled 15-round bout in London's White City Stadium.

Woodcock, by his upset victory, qualified for a September bout with Lee Savold, Paterson, N. J. heavyweight. The British board of boxing control will recognize the winner of this match as the heavyweight champion of the world, a title that has been vacant since the retirement of Joe Louis.

Woodcock weighed 195½ pounds to 175½ for Mills. A capacity crowd of 46,000 saw the match.

In a previous meeting in 1946, Woodcock outpointed Mills in 12 rounds.

Tonight's bout was one of the toughest seen in any British ring for many years. The first 13 rounds were almost as vicious as the tremendous right which Woodcock landed behind Mill's left ear to end the fight.

Woodcock surprised the fans by the manner in which he countered his opponent's furious attack with fast and hard lefts and rights. From the start, both men disregarded defense and tried for a knockout.

First-Round Knockdown

Mills went down for a count of two in the first round, but gave Woodcock a bloody nose in return. Freddie also hit the deck for a count of four in the third round, but retaliated with a storming, two-fisted attack.

From the sixth round on, Woodcock was the steadier, although Mills again bloodied Bruce's face. Freddie took several more brief counts late in the fight, but always returned to the offensive with rallies which kept the crowd in a frenzy.

White Sox Sign Schoolboy Star

CHICAGO, June 2 (INS)—The Chicago White Sox today announced the signing of Jimmy Baumer, widely-sought 18-year-old shortstop from Broken Arrow, Okla., for what Sox officials termed "one of the highest bonuses in history."

The bonus payment was estimated at $50,000.

Baumer, who graduated from high school May 27, was signed to a contract with the Sox' Waterloo, Ia., farm team in the Three-Eye League, which means that as a bonus player he will have one season in the minors before either being called up by the Sox or becoming subject to the baseball draft.

Seven other major league teams, including the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Pittsburgh Pirates, were understood to have been bidding for the services of the 185-pound, six-foot-two Baumer.

Like Luke Appling, 40-year-old shortstop perennial for the White Sox, Baumer is a right handed hitter.

DEL RICE FINED

NEW YORK, June 2 (INS)—Del Rice, St. Louis Cardinals catcher, was suspended today for five days and fined $50 for a run-in with an umpire in Wednesday's game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Arena Owner Is Fall Guy

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — Walter A. Brown, president of the Boston Garden, proposed today that the big arenas throughout the land take over boxing.

"Both the boxers and the public will benefit by it. The reputation of the arena owners will be at stake. In order to live they will be compelled to put on good shows.

"As it is now, a promoter moves in and takes over an auditorium for a boxing show. If the show isn't any good, the promoter doesn't worry. He moves on somewhere else. But the owner of the auditorium—the man who really has an interest in a good show—is the guy that suffers."

Brown, a solid, forthright sports promoter who tangled head on with the American Olympic committee over hockey at the 1948 winter Olympic games, is here for the annual convention of the Amateur Hockey Association.

Brown said if his project ever actually was adopted—and he has no specific ideas on this line—championship fights would go on as usual, but a new element would be added to boxing: "Team fights between the best boxers of the arena in one city against those in another."

Housing Program Is Studied Here

planning reported to the commission includes about 500 units, mostly in duplexes, at rents ranging from $65 to $85 a month unfurnished for a minimum of two-bedroom dwellings, and 220 to 250 smaller units renting for around $45 a month.

The conditions for the reactivation call for ample supplies of lower rent units at about $40 a month for the non-commissioned and civilian personnel residing off the base and better quarters at $80 to $100 a month for the officers and higher-salary bracket groups.

Projects Presented

The projects for which plans were presented follow:

About 250 units, mostly in two-bedroom duplexes, in a development extending south from Thirty-fourth street to about Thirty-ninth and westward from Lincoln avenue nearly a half mile. Leland Payne and W. S. (Buck) Moss were listed as the interested parties in the development.

About 250 units of similar type bounded by Fortieth, Forty-fourth, Jefferson and Monroe, sponsored by Homer Maxey and others.

About 96 lower-rent units in the four square blocks bounded by Third, Fourth, Jefferson and Monroe in northwest Lubbock, sponsored by Don Davis, A. C. Jackson and others.

From 124 to 174 lower rent units in two tracts in North Lubbock sponsored by James H. Whiteside, C. E. Fulgham, Robert Howard and others. One 24-site tract in between Third and Fourth west of Sherman street. The other, calling for 100 to 150 units, consists of 10 acres between First and North Second west of Waco avenue.

Utility Problems Arise

None of the sponsors speculated on the construction costs their projects might involve. But a conservative computation placed the total cost of the entire program at a minimum of $4,000,000, and probably closer to $5,000,000.

The Payne-Moss and Homer Maxey developments are outside the city limits and will have to be annexed before the city can provide the water and sewer lines necessary to secure FHA financing, officials said.

The Maxey tract adjoins the city limits and annexation will present no problem. The provision of utilities will cost only a few thousand dollars, officials said.

The Payne-Moss development is more difficult. It is more than a mile from the present city limits. Taking it into the city will require the annexation of considerable areas of intervening territory. The mains to serve the area will cost about $98,000.

Of this amount, the city will pay about $37,000 and Payne and Moss will arrange for the balance. If the project is developed as proposed, they will be reimbursed for their investment over a period of years — the last reimbursement payment being made five years after the development is completed. If the project should not be developed, they will lose whatever they put into the line.

Large Main Proposed

Steve Matthews, city manager, and R. L. Oldham, director of public works, explained the city's $37,000 outlay is proposed in order to provide for a water line 16 inches in diameter. A six-inch line would be sufficient for the needs of the Payne-Moss project. But 16 inches will insure ample water for all the development which may take place between the present city limits and the project. The area is large and sparsely settled.

Officials were of the opinion the large line, giving assurance of water and sewage, will stimulate a great deal of building in that portion of Lubbock.

The Don Davis, et al, project will require only the extension of existing lines and will mean better water and sewage service for all of northwest Lubbock and the adjoining areas likely to be brought inside the city limits before long.

The necessary water and sewage mains already border the Whiteside, et al, tracts, and the work there will involve the laying of laterals to provide connections with the units—mostly duplexes and triplexes, contemplated there.

$50,000 Cost Foreseen

Oldham estimated the city's immediate outlay to provide the necessary utility services will approximate $50,000. It will commit itself to reimburse the promoters for about $85,000 additional over a five-year period after their projects are completed. If the projects aren't built, there won't be any reimbursement. If they are built partially, reimbursement will be in proportion to the work done.

The commission was unanimous in approving the conditional commitment recommended by the chamber officials. Commissioner E. K. Hufstedler, offered the resolution, Commissioner Clarence Whiteside seconded, and Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners John Spikes and W. B. Price voted for it.

"And we want to emphasize that the same proposition is open to anyone who wants to help provide the new housing needed in Lubbock at once," the mayor declared as the meeting recessed.

Levelland Man Dies Of Injuries Suffered In Oil Field Mishap

LEVELLAND, May 2. (Special)—M. C. L. Coats, 23, of Levelland died today in Snyder hospital.

Coats was injured Tuesday in a Scurry county oil field accident, George Price Funeral home reported, and was taken to Snyder hospital. Details of the accident were not available late today. He had been working in the oil fields about three weeks before the accident, and had lived at Levelland the previous six years.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete late today, Price Funeral home said, however services will probably be held Friday in the Church of Christ here.

Survivors include the wife; a daughter, Diana; a sister Allene; a brother, L. D.; and parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Coats; all of Levelland.

Congratulations to:

Dr. and Mrs. Lee E. Hale of 1807-B Seventeenth on birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 11½ ounces at 4:44 p. m. Thursday in West Texas hospital. The father is a member of the staff at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Jones of 1502-A Fifteenth on birth of a daughter weighing 8 pounds 2 ounces at 3:26 p. m. Thursday in Lubbock Memorial hospital. The father is vice president of Tech Memorial Park, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Talcmitt of Wilson on birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 4½ ounces at 10 p. m. Thursday in Lubbock Memorial hospital. The father is a farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gordon of Idalou on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 12½ ounces at 3:09 a. m. Thursday in Lubbock Memorial hospital. The father operates a service station.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard D. Joplin of 1502 Twenty-first on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 6 ounces at 1:20 a. m. Thursday in St. Mary's hospital. The father is employed by Hub Motor Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Brownlee A. Gregg of 2706 Twenty-ninth on birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 9 ounces at 1:42 a. m. Thursday in West Texas hospital. The father is a student in Texas Technological college.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Webb of Lubbock route 4 on birth of a daughter weighing 8 pounds 10 ounces at 6:39 a. m. Thursday in West Texas hospital. The father is a carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Anderson of Muleshoe on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 6½ ounces at 10:49 a. m. Thursday in Lubbock Memorial hospital. The father is a farmer.

Spur Rodeo Opens

an eager bunch of small fry mounted on broom sticks and wooden horses, dressed in full western regalia and firing toy pistols as they pursued the main body of the parade down Spur's crowded main street.

The martial music was furnished by the high school band.

The whole town was decked out in rodeo color and hundreds of visitors, appropriately dressed, attended the afternoon show.

The night program attracted a crowd of approximately 1,500 persons despite threatening weather which forced the final two contests to run off in intermitted showers. A heavy rain fell shortly after the night program closed.

Kiddies Thrill Crowd

The first session of the day's events began at 2:30 p.m. in Jones stadium. The grand entry was made by 136 official entrants, men, women and some children. Then the judges were introduced to the small but attentive audience who braved the 97 degree heat to watch the riders perform. Bareback bronc riding, calf roping, girl sponsors, saddle bronc riding, double mugging and steer riding followed in that order.

Two or three times the crowd was brought to its feet by the violence of some of the spills but the hardy cowpokes escaped any serious injuries. One top-flight cowboy, Douglas Northcutt of Dundee, was thrown onto the high wire arena fence after he stayed the limit on a bareback bronc.

Good Marks Made

Bilby Wallace, of the O Bar O ranch, Clairemont, an old hand at the game, twisted his leg badly after roping a calf and attempting to dismount too quickly.

Some near records were established in the roping contests. Murray Rogers of the O Bar O tied his calf in 19 seconds. Bobby Byrd, Clairemont, set a mark of 23 seconds in the double mugging contest only to be topped by the last man, Jimmie Bird, Post, in 22.6 seconds.

Others who made outstanding showings in the roping events were: Turtle Love, Spur, 19.1; Jimmie Bird, 19.1; Shorty Freeman, Electra, 21.3; J. H. Mayo, jr., Petrolia, 26; John F. Moore, Spur, 31.

In the double mugging: Ab Smith, SMS Ranch, 25.7; John F. Moore, 26.8; Glenn Smith, SMS, 38.8; Olney Walker, Spur, 41.3.

Winners in rodeo events at tonight's rodeo performance were: Calf roping, Dee Burroughs of O'Donnell, 13.9 seconds; double mugging, Odell Blackwell of Spur. Names of winners in other events were not available tonight.

In the cowgirl sponsor's contest, Miss Juanell Ward of Spur is leading, it was announced here tonight. Others in the contest are Freida Gibson of Dickens, Sadie Smith of Spur, Ella Copeland of Spur, and Mrs. Shorty Freeman of Electra.

Rodeo performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m.

The stock for the show was furnished by Goat Mayo of Petrolia. Mayo said his broncs and Brahmas were some of the meanest animals on earth and they proceeded to demonstrate this fact as soon as the chutes were opened. It took a rugged man to stay on board after the animal broke clear. The calves used for roping were especially fast which made the contest more difficult. Most of the Brahma calves were two-year olds.

Two More Performances Set

Officials of the show are J. E. Swenson, president of the Cowboy Jubilee; ex-mayor Martin Pope, chairman of the rodeo events; Ab Smith, arena director; R. L. Westerman, vice-president; W. R. Weaver, secretary; W. T. Andrews, treasurer.

Directors include, Carl Murray, John Koonsman, Tom Johnston, John Matthews, Bynum Britton, and M. L. Rickels.

The judges for the competition are; John Koonsman, Crate Snyder, Bob McAteer, Rusty Whitlock and Slim Metteer. Mrs. Bob Simmons was hostess of the Girl Sponsors riding contest.

The Cowboy Jubilee rodeo will show again Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. Prizes totaling $2,500 will be distributed among the winners who will be announced at the final show Saturday. An added annual feature Saturday is the old-timers roping event in which all participants are 55 years of age or older.

ABC Continues Trips Boosting Rodeo Here

ABC boosters for the approaching Boys' Club rodeo were active again Thursday.

Fred Hinson led a caravan which stopped at all points between Lubbock and Spur, informing citizens that the rodeo June 8-11 in Jones stadium is expected to be nothing short of sensational.

Another group, under the leadership of Frank McElroy, will leave early today for Clovis, thus completely covering the area around Lubbock with news of the event. Previous trips have extended in all other directions.

Planning Group

and requirements of the city.

The above resolution recommends that houses completely meet the city's building requirements before they are allowed to be moved into the city.

At last night's meeting, members of the Planning commission approved a number of zone change requests after such requests had been studied and recommended for approval by the zoning committee, rejected others, and tabled others for further study before definite action is taken.

Zone Changes Approved

Among the zone change requests approved were:

Request from C. J. Ward to change lot 8, block 8, McCrummen addition, from a "B" residential zone to an "H" business zone. (Located just south of Nineteenth between Ave. O and Ave. P.)

Requests from five property owners to change the north one-half of Block 8, Morningside addition, from an "E" apartment zone to a "J" industrial zone. The affected property is located on the south side of Twenty-eighth between Ave. F and Ave. G.

Request from A. C. Kirk for a zone change on the northwest one-quarter of block 62, Original Town, which would allow the enlargement and improvement of a retail grocery store located at 319 Seventh. The property previously was in an "E" apartment zone.

After recommendation from the zoning committee, the group approved a request from Minnie B. Sanders for a change of lots 19 and 20, block 1, D. C. Cross addition, to a "B" zone which would allow construction of a church building. The property is located on the northwest corner of the intersection of Thirty-second and Tyler Ave.

Request from Ignacio Huerta for a zone change in the west one-half of block 4, Richmond second addition, which would allow the continued operation and expansion of a grocery store on lots 5 and 6. Huerta's property is located on North Ave. N east of the Mexican school.

In addition, the group approved a request from Guy L. McAfee to change the north one-half of block 2, Denison Heights, to an "F" zone to allow for construction of a community shopping center. The property's location is on the south side of Thirtieth from Fillmore to Pierce Ave. However, the approval of the zone change was made subject to a 35-foot setback on Thirtieth, on Fillmore, and on Pierce.

At last month's meeting, William M. Davis had appeared before the Planning commission requesting that the northeast one-quarter of block 38, Easley subdivision of Roberts and McWhorter addition, be changed from a residential to a business zone which would allow the continuing operation of a furniture store located at 112 Sherman Ave.

Must Move Building

Prior to meeting with the Planning commission, Davis had been notified by the building inspector's office that he would have to discontinue operation of his furniture store, since it was in a residential zone. It was explained by Davis and by his attorney that he had operated the store in that location before Lubbock's zoning laws were put into effect; hence, continued operation of the business was lawful under the "non-conforming use" section of the city zoning laws.

At last night's meeting, the zoning committee disapproved of changing the zoning of the property in question. It was recommended, however, that the city building inspector review the case and make certain that the store was in operation before the zoning laws were put into effect several years ago, and that Davis move an ice house which he also maintains on the property back from the street.

Referred to the zoning committee for further study was a request from Gust Kallas and others to change the south one-half of the block between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth from Tyler to Polk from an "A" residential zone to an "F" retail business zone.

Other requests which were tabled for more extensive study were:

Request from John E. Toles to change lots 20 and 21, block 12, O'Neal Terrace, from an "A" to "F" zone. The property is located on Thirty-fourth street, 135 feet west of Ave. Q. Toles and Roy Furr appeared before the commission on behalf of the proposed change, which seeks to add to an existing "F" business zone.

Request from J. M. Davis and others, to place in an "F" zone the following property which is located on the four corners of the intersection of College Ave., and Thirty-fourth: Lots 15 through 18, block 4, College View addition; lots 1-4, block 1 Kinser addition; lots 7-10, block 1, Thirty-fourth Street second addition; lots 13-16, block 5, Massey Heights addition.

Rejecetd were the following zone change requests:

Request from Earl C. Scott for a zone change which would allow the construction of apartments on lot 10, block 49, of the north one-half of Overton addition. The property is located in the 2100 block on Eighteenth street.

Request from approximately 21 property owners for a change to business zone on all property abutting Sixteenth street from Ave. L to Ave. Q.

Following completion of other business, members of the Planning commission discussed at some length the necessity for stricter enforcement of the city's zoning and building laws, pointing out the injustice done to those who abide by the ordinances by those persons who do not adhere to such laws.

City Manager Steve Matthews told the group of the city's plans for spraying with insecticides to kill flies and other insects. He also outlined steps which already are being taken along this line. A separate story dealing with the matter will be forthcoming.

Members attending last night's meeting included K. N. Clapp, chairman; Homer D. Grant, J. H. Murdough, Chas. A. Guy, Dr. J. T. Krueger, Steve Matthews, C. J. Griggs, and R. L. Oldham.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 2 (AP)—Wheat prices retreated today as harvesting of the new crop in the southwest picked up speed. At one time the market broke around 3 cents, July going under Tuesday's low, but a mild recovery developed before the close.

Worries over storage space for the new crop acted as one reason for the selling. It was felt wheat which cannot be stopped for a government loan will have to be dumped on the free market. Traders were concerned over the amount of this free market wheat.

Wheat closed ⅛-1¾ lower, July $1.87 ⅛-¼, corn was unchanged to ¼ lower, July $1.28 ⅛-⅛, oats were ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, July 57 ⅛-¼, and lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $11.25.

Polio On Increase

pack machines so that a new polio ward could be set up at a San Angelo hospital.

A summer recreation program set to begin at San Angelo Monday was postponed. The recreation workers are needed by the health department. The statewide Civil Air Patrol cadet encampment set for Goodfellow Air Force base was cancelled.

Thorough Job Needed

This statement came from Dr. Cox:

"We are trying to do everything possible to get the cities to do good, bang-up sanitation jobs.

"It won't do much good to spray a bunch of DDT from airplanes if they don't follow up by cleaning up toilets, dump piles, garbage cans, and all breeding places of flies—and keep them cleaned."

NO CASES REPORTED HERE

A check of Lubbock's three main hospitals last night indicated that no polio cases were now being treated in the city, although there have been one or two such cases earlier in the spring. The city health department currently is in the process of keeping parts of the city sprayed with DDT to combat the possibility of an outbreak of disease and has urged all residents to keep trash cans tightly closed and alleys clean.

Austin has had 19 polio cases this year. Five have died.

San Antonio has had 51 cases and six deaths from polio this year, compared with only nine cases and one death at this time last year.

Odessa Man Stricken

At Big Spring there was only one current polio case Thursday. But Big Spring had one polio death last week—a child from San Angelo.

Plainview reported two mild cases of polio under treatment at the West Texas Polio center there.

Abilene said Donnie D. Woolverton, 32, Odessa, who was admitted Tuesday, is the only acute case of polio in Hendrick Memorial hospital there in recent weeks. About 19 persons are patients in polio wards in Abilene, however, all except Woolverton being called convalescent cases.

Two cases of polio were under treatment at Wichita Falls. Six cases have been reported there this year and two have been brought in for treatment. All have been children and no fatalities have resulted.

A lone case of polio was reported in Port Arthur.

Water Plan Signed

were quoted to show that the water stored in underground water reservoirs greatly exceeds the capacity of all surface water resources, both natural and artificial. Where ground water is available, water supplies can be developed quickly, and they are relatively inexpensive for many industrial, public, domestic, and stock supplies and certain irrigation supplies.

A recent report from the state board of water engineers shows that out of 730 public water supply systems, 528 use ground water, 137 surface water, and eleven a combination of both.

Wells in the Winter Garden district of Southwestern Texas and in the rice growing district of the coastal plains yield water for irrigation of about 150,000 acres. Approximately 1,000,000 acres are irrigated from wells in the high plains area of the Panhandle.

Formations Given

One water bearing formation (Ogallala) lies beneath much of the Panhandle, extending south as far as Ector, Midland and Glasscock counties. A second formation (Edwards limestone) continues on south to the Rio Grande as far as Uvalde county. It reaches from Reeves county on the west to Travis county on the east. A third great water reservoir (Travis peak formation) lies under North Texas from the Red River to Williamson county. Three other reservoirs (Carrizo sand, Catahoula sand, and Goliad-Willis-Lissie group) stretch completely across the state in a northeast direction from the Rio Grande to the Louisiana Border. A seventh reservoir (Beaumont clay) lies beneath Matagorda, Brazoria, Galveston and Orange counties on the Gulf.

Under the bill just signed the water users from any one of these reservoirs, or portions of it, could organize an underground district to conserve and develop underwater supplies. If a water sand becomes depleted through waste or overuse, a district could vote a bond issue to recharge the reservoir.

Chambers Testifies

with questions intended to show up Chambers as a liar.

Chambers admitted that he committed perjury in 1937 when he took an oath of office for a job with the Federal Works Progress administration.

He swore to uphold the Constitution, he said, at the same time he was working as a Communist for the government's overthrow.

The witness was vague as to what secrets Hiss allegedly passed on to him.

Congress Acts

secretary added, that some farmers already are selling new wheat at 30 cents a bushel below the support price, because they cannot put their grain into storage to qualify for government price support loans.

The storage crisis in the grain belt was a major campaign issue in last year's elections.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw, 48, of 2514 Twentieth, who reportedly fainted and struck her head on the sidewalk as she was leaving a grocery store near her home about 11:30 a.m. Thursday, was considered "improved" in condition late last night at West Texas hospital. X-rays had revealed no sign of a skull fracture, a member of the family said.

A one-roomed house at 2502 East Ave. B was destroyed by fire shortly before midnight last night, Lubbock firemen, who answered the alarm reported. Cause of the blaze was not known. The structure was owned by George Cato.

Wheat Facilities

men contemplate the use for grain storage of the following: The former South Plains Air Force base, in addition to Pantex ordnance plant, Bluebonnet ordnance works, McGregor, Camp Hood, Killeen, Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, other air base hangars in the state not now required by the military, stretches of paved roads if covering could be provided, the huge citrus warehouses in the Rio Grande valley which, because of the freeze are not needed for fruit and canned juice, and 170 surplus ships now in mothballs at Beaumont.

USE OF PANTEX STUDIED

Duncan Myers, of WAA, who is in Amarillo regarding use of Pantex buildings for wheat storage, Thursday conferred with Chanslor Weymouth, of the Texas Tech Board of Directors, and J. F. Smith, manager of Pantex farm. Announcement of action to be taken was not made Thursday, however it is expected today.

Churches Utilized

Rep. Eugene Worley, Shamrock, said churches in his area are already being used and even homes might be.

Rep. Wingate Lucas, Fort Worth, demanded to know what is the final solution—are Texans going to keep on growing grain until every house in the state is filled?

He said warehousemen in Fort Worth told him they were jammed with wheat from last year and the year previous. Trigg denied this. Worley produced figures to show Fort Worth warehouses only 37 percent filled.

Trigg said when the bill is passed permitting the government to establish warehouses many privately operated warehouses will open their doors to the farmers. He said vast amounts of warehouse space are unused today while owners wait for farmers to become fearful and sell at a low figure. These warehousemen will then buy the wheat and hold it until the market reaches the government price support, around $1.87 a bushel. The profit they would thus make "would be no small change," said Trigg.

Bill Is Introduced

He also said crop controls along with support prices, are the only answer. He reminded Texans that the Department of Agriculture introduced a bill to that effect this week and urged their support.

Texas congressmen set forth there are ample public buildings in Texas not in use, but asked the Agriculture department to operate these buildings as warehouses or to help set up an organization so that farmers can take advantage of public storage.

Two facts were emphasized by Trigg—it is the individual farmer's responsibility to obtain suitable storage until the government buys his crop. The government does not pay for it until acceptance and then price is regulated by quality. Therefore, it was pointed out, that any loss from rust, etc., would be borne by the individual farmer.

Another fact is that farmers should organize themselves to make contacts for storage. Trigg said local county committees stood ready to advise farmers if storage is suitable.

AEC Investigation

costing three times more than the original $7,000,000 estimate.

Hearing Postponed

5. Without explanation, the Lilienthal hearing was postponed at the end of today's stormy session. No date was set for renewed public hearings.

Senator McMahon, chairman of the joint Senate-House committee investigating Hickenlooper's charges of "incredible mismanagement" by Lilienthal, said the missing vial turned up in a box used to bury "hot" radioactive materials from the AEC's Argonne laboratories in Chicago. The loss was discovered last Feb. 8 but was not reported to the FBI until seven weeks later.

Disappearance Unexplained

McMahon said three boxes were dug up before the bottle—which originally held more than an ounce of U-235—was discovered.

The AEC has reported that seven-eights of the lost uranium has been found in a laborious combing over of waste material, but has never been explained how it got out of the bottle into the waste.

"The facts seem to indicate that what happened was the contents of the bottle containing the enriched U-235 was dumped by mistake into a can of unenriched material," McMahon said.

Taking the witness chair for the second day before the congressional investigators, Lilienthal defended his policy of clearing some AEC employes without an exhaustive check, to save time.

Accidents to farmers cause enough lost time in a year to produce more than half the average annual wheat crop in the United States.

Thunderstorms Hit

to have poured at least 3½ inches of rain and hail on the city within the space of little more than an hour, the Santa Fe dispatcher at Slaton said. Another estimate near midnight placed the fall at between four and five inches with some hail.

No Cause For Worry

The Santa Fe said it had received at least one report of heavy hail from Justiceburg to Southland. The latter point reported light showers and continuing rain at 11:30 p.m. last night.

W. R. Postma, area Boy Scout council executive, told The Morning Avalanche late last night that he was not too worried over the Scouts camping at Camp Post as they had adequate facilities to protect themselves from the elements, unless something unusual occurred. The camp is located in a protected area and has a mess hall and kitchen in which the Scouts could go during severe weather. They were staying in tents during their camping period.

TORNADO IN OKLAHOMA

CARNEGIE, Okla., June 2. (AP)—A tornado struck between the towns of Alfalfa and Eakly in southwest Oklahoma early tonight, Harry Jolly, editor of The Carnegie Herald reported. No persons or property were damaged.

Ralls Has Half Inch

The thunderstorm activity first started boiling up on the South Plains about 5:45 p.m. in the northeast.

Huge thunderheads which formed and boiled up with rolling wind currents created an unusual sight an estimted 30 to 40 miles northeast of Lubbock. Numerous calls were made to the weather bureau at the time. At one point, the cloud looked like pictures of the atomic bomb explosions.

A short time later, heavy thundershowers started falling to the southeast.

Ralls reported that .52 inch of rain fell there starting about 9 p.m. The area hit near Ralls was comparatively narrow, apparently, as no rain was reported eight to 10 miles north and northwest of there. Light hail was reported at Ralls but no damage caused.

Heavy At Spur

A heavy shower started falling at Spur about 9:40 p.m. just after the night performance of the annual Spur rodeo. The rain continued to get heavier with considerable electrical activity and by 11 p.m. more than an inch of rain was estimated in that vicinity.

The thunderclouds which circulated toward the north and northeast failed to move over Floydada or Matador. Weather-wary residents there watched the thunderstorms that drenched Ralls and Spur during the night. Wheat in the Floyd, Hale, Crosby area is nearing harvest stage and high winds, heavy rain or hail would cause severe and costly damage to the ripening crop, it was reported.

Lamesa residents also watched thunderstorms form to the northeast and north but Dawson county reportedly failed to receive any moisture yesterday. Tahoka reported light shower from a thunderstorm shortly before midnight. A heavier rain was reported east of Tahoka, but no accurate reports were available early this morning.

Slaton Has One-Fourth

Telephone lines to Dickens were reported "out of order" apparently from rains which had drenched the Spur section earlier.

The cloud apparently approached within 10 to 15 miles south of Floydada and it was believed the southern part of Floyd county received rain, although no definite reports were available. There was only heavy electrical activity at Floydada.

Slaton reported a fall of approximately one-fourth inch of rain.

Temperature Hits 92

The temperature hit a maximum of 92 degrees in Lubbock Thursday with some high winds during the morning.

Meanwhile most of the state continued to sizzle under high temperatures, the Associated Press reported.

Presidio led the heat parade for the third straight day in Texas Thursday. The mercury climbed to 107 there, the Dallas Weather bureau reported.

Wink, 101, and Laredo, 100, were the only other two Texas points listed with temperatures at or above the century mark.

Clarendon had a cool maximum of 83—lowest in the state. Amarillo was next with 84.

More of the same was forecast for Friday, except for a few widely scattered thundershowers in northeast Texas, and slightly cooler temperatures in the extreme northwest portion of East Texas.

Johnson said some witnesses told his group that in six or seven years "we won't have any pilots in our planes."

He declared that the measure providing for construction of the wind tunnels offers "insurance" that funds spent on aircraft will be used to buy the best possible.

He said his subcommittee received testimony that the tunnel construction program is needed at once because of "revolutionary changes" brought about by jet propulsion.

Tunnels Provided

The measure provides for 13 small wind tunnels to be constructed at universities, primarily for training students. The cost of these was estimated at $4,440,000.

Liquor Suit Filed

investigation of law enforcement officers Thursday.

A $40 portable radio was reported stolen from W. R. Isbell of 3138 Fourth street, and S. H. Spinks of 1313 Ave. O said that windshield wipers and a sideview mirror had been stolen from his car.

Valuable papers consisting of a power of attorney, deeds, contracts, releases and the like, as well as a leather jacket and other properties, were reported stolen Wednesday night from R. K. Pittman of 215 Forty-fourth.

They were in his car, which was pilfered.

Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank said papers had been recovered Thursday. They were reported found scattered near the place where the car had been parked, he said.

Sheriff John Freeman of Muleshoe informed the Lubbock county sheriff's department that a tool box containing numerous tools had been stolen from the tool shack of the American Legion building there. Wiley Bowers was listed as the owner.

Steer Is Missing

A black Angus steer was stolen in Muleshoe this week, the sheriff also said.

C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, set peace bond of $500 for John Santidanez, 34, a Mexican who pleaded guilty of having threatened to kill his wife Ascension with a pistol. The bond was posted late Thursday.

The sheriff's department said 10 Mexican nationals who had entered this country illegally were removed from county jail and started on a trip to their homeland. Port of entry will be Presidio, it was expected.

Negro Pleads Guilty

A 35-year-old Mexican man—one of four arrested Thursday night by police for vagrancy—was held on informal charges that he was carrying a pistol. Formal charges will be filed today against the man, they indicated.

An 18-year-old youth, who was reported absent without official leave from Lackland Army base at San Antonio, was arrested late Thursday and held for military authorities, police reports showed.

James Smith, 21, a negro, pleaded guilty Thursday of a charge of drunk driving and was fined $100 and court costs and sentenced to 30 days in county jail, the county attorney's office announced.

Smith had waived his two days limit to enter a plea and his right of trial by jury, and said he did not want a lawyer, the judgment signed by Judge Walter Davies indicated.

Billy Sam Faulkner, 10, Dies After Two-Week Illness Here

Billy Sam Faulkner, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Faulkner, of 3012 Twenty-first, died about 11:30 p.m. Thursday in the family residence.

The youth had been ill about two weeks. He had returned to his home Wednesday from St. Mary's hospital, where he had been a patient for about eight days.

Funeral services were indefinite late last night, Rix Funeral home reported.

Truman, Churchill Express New Hope About Peace Possibilities

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Two of the world's best informed men, President Truman and Winston Churchill, have just expressed renewed optimism about the possibilities for peace.

The President says we are closer to it than at any time in the last three years.

The former British prime minister, famous for his prescience, says he does not hear "ancestral voices prophesying war" as he did in the middle '30s. He feels a "growing hope" that "we may avert forever the horrible vision."

Views Are Different

Speaking almost simultaneously, the two leaders seem to be saying the same thing. But there is a difference. The President seems to take into consideration that what we have now is not peace. Mr. Churchill is talking about averting a change from what we have now to actual shooting war.

At the same time, General Clay, who has been leading the western spearhead of the cold war in Germany, says the ideological conflict will continue for years "between those who promise equal economic return and security that cannot be provided to the person without surrendering individual rights and life under control of the state, and those who believe in Democracy, which should provide for equal opportunity, social advance and social progress."

HST Policy Understandable

The general seems to be taking a certain amount of issue with the President. But Mr. Truman was speaking policy to White House visitors. The whole administration foreign policy provides ample qualification for his statement. This policy fully recognizes the long-term requirements for keeping the peace through unassailable military strength economic security in both America and Europe, and the general elimination of insecurity among the underdeveloped peoples of the world.

If we were near to peace we would be near to a situation in which relations between all nations would be comparable to relations between the United States and Canada. The nearest hope for that, it seems to me, is for a working agreement between East and West during which there would be less stress on the areas of conflict and more on the areas where cooperation is possible.

Eisler Case Termed Living Memorial To Individual Rights In Democracies Of West

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Communist Gerhart Eisler is a living memorial to one of the most priceless treasures of the West: the rights of an individual in a democratic society, even when he'd like to destroy that society.

Twice convicted in the United States, but free on bail, pending appeal, he fled the U. S., was seized in England, was brought before an English judge, was freed on a legal technicality, and is now safe in Communist eastern Europe.

His case was judged entirely on legal grounds—on what his rights were under the law—and not on political grounds, although a congressional committee had called him America's No. 1 Communist and he had a notorious history of intrigue.

Comparison Given

Suppose the situation had been reversed and Communist Eisler was in Russia, was considered the No. 1 foe of the Soviet regime, had admitted a crime, fled, and was caught in another Communist country behind the iron curtain.

There isn't much doubt he would have been whisked back to Russia, probably without a court hearing at all, and for a reason that illustrates perfectly the difference in the attitude of the East and West toward an individual:

Under Communism, an individual exists for the state, not the state for the individual. It's just the other way around in a democracy like America's or England's.

In Russia when government policy—which means the desires of the ruling group—conflicts with what a particular law calls the "rights" of an individual, the government comes first.

Treaty Signed In 1870

Under Communism a man looked upon as an enemy of the ruling group, which wants to stay in power, gets short consideration. It's different in the West.

There every individual has certain guaranteed rights and he can appeal to the courts for the protection of those rights if they're interfered with.

In this country Eisler was convicted of contempt of Congress and of falsifying a passport. He was sentenced to prison but got out on bail while he appealed to a higher court. Then he skipped to England.

In 1870 England and this country signed an agreement to return to one another a person who had been convicted of perjury in either country.

Case Decided On Law

But the English judge decided that Eisler's falsification of a document here couldn't be considered perjury under the meaning of the treaty, because it didn't cover falsification of documents. So he refused to send Eisler back here.

Knowing perfectly well that Eisler once let loose again would be free to continue to try to destroy western Democratic government, the judge considered, first and only what his rights were under the law, as an individual.

The irony of the whole case, of course, is this:

Eisler won his freedom under the laws of the western democracies which he despises and would destroy and—

If they were destroyed and replaced by Communism, an Eisler who was an enemy of that new regime and committed a crime here and fled to England, would be bounced back here in a hurry.

Fort Worth Levee Board Quits After Negligence Charge Made

FORT WORTH, June 2. (AP)—Fort Worth's three-member levee board, under fire for negligence during the recent Trinity river flood, resigned today.

Commissioners court immediately named replacements from a group of northside and west side businessmen which Tuesday told the county commissioners "we have no confidence in the levee board and will have none in you unless you replace them."

The board's letter of resignation absolved the City of Fort Worth, the Frisco railroad and the levee walker, Walter H. Miller, of any blame for the flood condition.

"No efforts of mortal man could have prevented the damage brought about by the flood," the letter stated. It also pointed out that the levee was broken in 14 places and closing of Frisco railroad gaps would not have prevented the flood.

With its resignation the levee board recommended that the river channel and floodway should be cleared and that large stocks of sandbags should be stored at strategic points.

VISIT DOUBTFUL

HST Is Invited To Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, June 2 (AP)—Wichita Falls has invited President Truman for June 9, but a White House announcement dimmed prospects for the visit.

Mrs. H. W. Weir, state Democratic committeewoman, said she was "almost positive" the President would come to Wichita Falls for a celebration beginning June 9.

"I have talked with the White House," she said, "and today I talked by phone with U. S. Rep. Sam Rayburn, the speaker of the House. I am very confident—I am almost positive, that Mr. Truman will come to Wichita Falls."

In Washington, assistant White House Press Secretary Eben Ayers said the President has no plans to visit Texas.

The White House announced yesterday the President would make an important speech at Little Rock June 11 during the annual reunion of the 35th division.

The Wichita Falls celebration, from June 8 through 11, will be on a theme of "build Democracy" and will honor members of the second "Lost Battalion of the 131st field artillery.

Pastor Of Houston Catholic Church Claimed At Galveston

HOUSTON, June 2. (AP)—The Rev. James P. McCarthy, 61, pastor of Houston's Christ the King church since 1928, died at Galveston yesterday after an eight weeks illness.

A native of Phoenixville, Pa., Father McCarthy completed his theological training at St. Mary's seminary, La Rorte.

Bishop C. E. Byrne, present bishop of the Galveston Catholic diocese, will conduct funeral services at the Houston church tomorrow morning. The body will be sent to Phoenixville for burial.

Dallas Pawn Shop Owners See No Indication Of Hard Times As Quick Loan Business Drops

By H. SMITH JOHNSON
United Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, June 2.—If hard times are coming, it has not been indicated along "skid row"—the quick loan companies, pawn shops, and "broker's row" reported today.

Dozens of pawn shop owners said that "business was terrible." They were crying the blues because an unexpected slump apparently had struck without warning.

Loan Business Slumps

Generally, shop owners agreed, there was a slight rise in "business" at this time of year, but at present it was not even steady.

Few persons, other than habituals, were hocking valuables. A United Press reporter stood in one pawn shop for an hour today. There were five customers. Four were habitual, one was "new."

The "newcomer," a carpenter, explained that he had been out of work lately because of wet weather. He "hocked" a saw and hammer for $2. "I'll be back and pick these up when I get a good payday," he told a clerk.

The habituals were mostly students—negroes attending a trade school under the GI bill of rights. Toward the end of each month each would appear with some valuable, pick up $10 or $15 "to sustain me" and then return after his government check arrived.

Layoffs Foreseen

The procedure is the same each month. Clerks know when to expect them, and often have "hock" forms already prepared.

Many habituals, police officers assigned to look for stolen goods in the loan shops said, keep a valuable on hand for "hocking" purposes only.

"For instance," one officer explained, "a habitual will buy a good suit or watch and never use it. He keeps it neatly in a box, and takes it out only when he needs quick cash."

In fact, business was so bad these last few days that several clerks at each store had nothing to do. Owners were talking of possible layoffs unless there was a "pickup."

At one store, clerks were standing in the doorway and every prospective customer was surrounded as he approached.

One clerk said that he thought he might try to get a "big stick with a hook on it to get people inside the store."

"We can sell them if we can get them inside, but nobody wants to come inside," he moaned.

It was as bad as that.

Laughing Contest Between Texan, Californian Proposed

BRENHAM, June 2 (U.P.)—Radio station KWHI today proposed a world championship laughing contest between laughing John Frazier of Huntington Park, Calif., and laughing John Liescheski, of nearby Wesley.

The winner would receive a "laughing cup."

Frazier is the laughing Californian whose hale outbursts so infuriated a judge that he was haled into court.

Liescheski has no such claim to laughing fame, but KWHI is pretty proud of his talent. The station wired Frazier: "You may laugh like a giraffe, but our laughing John laughs like nothing animal or human."

The radio station suggested the erstwhile laughers meet in person or, if that is not possible, submit recorded laughter to a set of impartial, unlaughing judges.

Justice Finds That Right To Laugh Is Upheld By Court

HUNTINGTON PARK, Calif., June 2. (INS)—Justice of the Peace Stanley Moffatt found out today that the right to laugh is one of mankind's most cherished possessions.

The justice had brought a disturbance of the peace suit against John G. Frazier, 68, claiming that Frazier's "coyote-like screams" and laughter upset his judicial equilibrium last May 16 while he was dinning in a Huntington park cafe.

Moffatt told police Judge Charles G. Hedgecock:

"The defendant made a horrible noise while I was eating. It was an ear-splitting scream that went all through my body. Then he laughed to beat the band."

However, Judge Hedgecock ruled that Frazier had showed no malice and found him not guilty.

The decision was greeted with loud applause from the jam-packed courtroom.

AP Unable To Confirm Report Vet Forced To Unload Vessel

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—On Jan. 21 and 22, 1943, The Associated Press sent to its members several stories based on a copyrighted story appearing in the Jan. 21, 1943 issue of the Akron, Ohio, Beacon-Journal.

The AP stories stated in substance that the Navy was investigating reports that sick Guadalcanal Marines were forced to unload their own supplies when the National Maritime union crew of a merchant ship refused to work on Sunday because of union regulations.

The Beacon-Journal story was attributed to six Guadalcanal veterans: Three Marines, two sailors and a Navy pilot, all on individual visits to Akron. The story added that confirmation had come from a high official (but anonymous) source in Washington, who witnessed these things during his Guadalcanal service.

A thorough investigation conducted at the instance of The Associated Press has produced no evidence attributing such conduct or such an incident to a National Maritime union crew.

MAN SHOT TO DEATH

CHILDRESS, June 2. (AP)—William Nelce Kent, 67, was found today in his cellar with the top of his head shot off. A 12-gauge shotgun was found nearby. Justice of Peace Wade McConnell returned a suicide verdict. Kent had been ill.

• When you use "BC" for the relief of simple headaches, neuralgic pains or minor muscular aches you get the full relief-giving effectiveness of not just one, but several of the world's most popular pain-relieving ingredients. In combination these ingredients are remarkably effective—far more so than either would be alone. This is something worth remembering when a headache strikes and you want relief, and want it in a hurry. Nowadays when you buy "BC" you may have it in either tablet or powder form. In both you get the same famous "BC" formula—the same fast relief. You also get a preparation that has stood the test of time—one you can use with complete confidence. Buy "BC" today and use as directed. You'll agree that nothing is more comforting or relieves faster. Two "BC" Tablets equal one "BC" Powder. 10c & 25c sizes.

DEMOS PLOT ECONOMY MOVE

HST Forces To Urge Funds To Hunt Savings In U.S. Spending

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 2. — An administration move was made in the Senate today to provide the general accounting office with $1 million to hunt for savings in government expenditures.

This counter measure followed Senate Republican action in putting fiscal experts to work on a new economy resolution. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) says this resolution would make both Congress and the President responsible for cutting expenses.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said he would offer to the independent offices appropriation bill an amendment giving the GAO, a "watchdog" agency on spending, one million dollars to search for savings.

O'Mahoney is chairman of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee handling the independent offices measure, and thus acts as administration spokesman on this bill.

He said he would ask that Comptroller General Lindsay Warren be given power to hire a special staff without regard to Civil Service requirements to make the proposed inquiry.

He commented that government agencies will "begin trimming sails immediately" if the plan is approved and investigators start moving through them in a quest for waste and inefficiency.

O'Mahoney opposed proposals of Republicans and some conservative Democrats for across-the-board cuts of five to 10 percent. Such reductions, he insisted, would be "unintelligent" and would do "more harm than good."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) ranking GOP member of the Senate Appropriations committee, denounced as "ridiculous" a suggestion that members of Congress vote themselves a five percent salary cut.

This proposal was made by Sen. Tydings, Md., one of the Democrats supporting GOP proposals for across-the-board cuts. Tydings said Congress should reduce its own budget at the same time it cuts the executive establishment.

He said he did not object to a five percent cut in the legislative budget, but that he opposed singling out salaries.

Bridges agreed with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that Congress should stay in session until Christmas if necessary to act on the government reorganization proposals of the Hoover commission. Former President Hoover, commission chairman, has estimated that they would save up to five billion dollars a year.

Taft said the GOP Policy committee, of which he is chairman, has authorized its staff director to prepare an economy resolution to be presented to Republican senators for their approval.

The Senator disagreed with a Budget bureau statement that only $17.5 billion of President Truman's $41.9 billion budget for the 1950 fiscal year is subject to economies.

4-H Club Contests Set At Tech Today

Between 150 and 200 4-H club members from the Panhandle-Plains area are to gather at Texas Tech Saturday for elimination contest in 4-H judging events in preparation for state contests at Texas A. & M. on June 13.

Two high teams from each district in the various contests will be eligible to go to the state contests.

Livestock, dairy, field crops, grass, tractor maintenance and entemology judging will comprise the six contests.

Districts 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6 will be represented in the contests under direction of W. N. Williamson, district agent. County agent, assistants and club leaders will accompany the boys here.

Most of the youngsters in the contest will attend a showing of "The Green Promise." 4-H club picture at the State Theater this afternoon. The visitors will sleep in barracks at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair grounds tonight.

Bandleader To Fight Wife's Efforts To Win Annulment

HOLLYWOOD, June 2. (U.P.)—Bandleader Don Sylvio said today he wouldn't let film star Margaret O'Brien's mother end her brief and stormy marriage to him without a battle.

Mrs. Gladys Sylvio has announced she wants to annul the marriage.

"I'm going to fight this thing because I still love Gladys," Sylvio declared. "I never would have married her if I didn't love her. I'm hoping for a reconciliation."

Sylvio wouldn't say whether the 12-year-old star's opposition to his marrying her mother had broken up the union.

"That would make quite a story but I can't talk bout it now," he said. "If and when my wife files her annulment suit I'll make a statement that will make interesting reading."

The big-eyed young actress cried at her mother's wedding last February in Palm Beach, Fla., after at first refusing to attend.

Fort Worth Teen Agers To Seek Ban Against Sexy Literature

FORT WORTH, June 2. (U.P.)—A group of Fort Worth teen-agers today planned a test case in a move to ban what was termed obscene and sexy literature from newsstands in the city.

Conrad Kalmbacher, president of the Junior Catholic Youth organization, said he planned to confer early next week with Dist. Atty. Stewart Hellman.

He said he and other members of his group planned to act as complainants in a test case which would place the matter before the county grand jury in determining what material to ban from newsstands.

BANKING IN REVERSE

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (U.P.)—Mrs. Anna M. Ally was cashing a check in a bank when she tripped, plunged through a window and landed on Main Street. The same day in Nashua, N. H., Mrs. Elizabeth Carter lost control of her automobile on Main street, crashed through a bank window and landed beside the teller's cage.

Spread of Television Adds New Words To American Language

HOLLYWOOD, June 2. (AP)—Television is adding new words to the American language.

Every day television pushes its frontier into a new part of the country and carries with it a new lingo. The language grows and changes as the new medium develops, and it's time for a report on how it stands now. Here are the findings:

It was only natural that "television" would be too unwieldy for fast-talking Americans. The most common brief term is "TV," it is terse and to the point.

Members of the trade refer to "video" as what is seen on the screen and "audeo" as what is heard over the loudspeaker.

"Telegenic" appears to be a definite addition to the language. Referring to a person or thing that makes a good appearance on television, it stems from "photogenic," also a fairly recent word.

Set owners on the West Coast are fairly well acquainted with the term "kinescope," which is a four-bit word for the filming of shows to be televised at a later time. The best shows out here are those which are kinescoped in New York.

Television performers themselves are still confused about what to call their audience. Many of those trained in radio still use "listeners," although some have switched to the more accurate "viewers." Neither is adequate and perhaps a wholly new word should be coined to supply the need.

Terms for picture distortions are being transferred from repair men to consumers. Many a set owner can identify a "ghost" or "halo" which describes the effect when two images appear where there should be one.

Technicians have devised their own names for their equipment. They range from "plumbing" or "dish pan" (for the pan-like gimick that sends the signal) to "V.S.B.F." (for vestigal side band filter, whatever that is.)

Station workers told me they have no new terms for television actors. Evidently ham is ham in any medium.

Prayer Helped Keep U.S. Troops Going In Combat, Survey Shows

NEW YORK, June 2 (U.P.)—Prayer helped more than anything else to keep American GI's fighting when the going was tough during World War II.

That is the statement of the soldiers themselves, disclosed in one of the largest social science research projects in history.

Two volumes just published deal exhaustively with the American soldier, his adjustment during army life, and combat and its aftermath. They were compiled from data gathered by the Army and released to a civilian committee of sociologists after the war.

In both the Pacific and Italy, at different stages of the war, a larger proportion of enlisted infantrymen said they were "helped a lot" by prayer than said this of any other personal adjustments cited. Seventy percent of those surveyed in the Pacific said it helped a lot, and 83 percent of the line infantrymen in Italy gave the same answer.

Prayed In Tough Spot

"I sure prayed when I was in a tough spot," one combat veteran said. "I just asked the Old Man above to lead the way and take care of me. When I was hit in the leg, I asked the Old Man above to heal my leg. We had prayers sometimes before going into action. It helps a lot."

Second only to prayer as a source of support in combat was the thought "that you couldn't let the other men down." Closely related to that code of group loyalty was a sentiment of pride in outfit, the study reveals.

The combat study shows that there was little tendency among troops to deny their own fear reactions. In one survey among wounded combat veterans in the European theater, 65 percent admitted having had at least one experience in combat in which they could not perform adequately because of intense fear.

Not Considered Coward

Enlisted men with combat experience developed a "permissive attitude" toward fear in combat:

"The man who was visibly shaken by exposure to danger, who trembled violently and who burst out weeping like a baby, was not regarded as a coward unless he made no apparent effort to stick out his job."

Studies among men who had been exposed to a variety of German weapons disclosed that the 88 mm. gun "seemed most frightening," followed by the dive bomber, the mortar, the horizontal bomber, and the light machine gun.

The American soldier typically was without deep personal commitment to a war which he nevertheless accepted as unavoidable, the studies showed. He showed little positive concern with war aims but had a conviction that America was on the right side and that the war was necessary.

Other Books Coming

"The American Soldier: Adjustment During Army Life" and "The American Soldier: Combat and Its Aftermath" (Princeton University Press, $13.50 together or $7.50 separately) are huge, richly-documented volumes intended for the student of social science and the military. They are the first half of a projected four-volume work based on data collected by the Information and Education Division of the Army and edited by a committee of the Social Science Research council under a grant from the Carnegie Corp.

One of the interesting studies is the "very resentful" attitude of ground combat troops toward rear echelons. Something of the bitterness felt toward soldiers still in the United States shows in the comment of a private in the South Pacific:

"Us guys over here that's left of the outfit are beat up with malaria and tropical ulcers. We should have a chance to breathe a little fresh air for a while. But I guess you better keep them USO boys back there or there won't be any USO. If we have to, we'll take another crack at the Japs. There is nothing to look forward to, anyway."

Two Florida Men Buy Wylie's Drug Store; Firm To Keep Name

Sale of Wylie's Drug Store, 1106-08 Texas avenue, by H. W. Wylie, owner, to R. J. and E. Simmons, brothers formerly of Miami, Fla., was announced Thursday. The Simmons brothers have already assumed charge of the store.

Another brother, J. Simmons, will join the store later.

Formerly in the wholesale drug business in the East and in a retail business in Florida, the Simmons decided on coming to Lubbock after hearing of the opportunities here while talking to acquaintances in Dallas.

"I've been looking at Texas the past two years and almost had my mind made up to enter business in Dallas when someone recommended Lubbock," R. J. Simmons said. "We checked on Lubbock and think it's a good country out here. Now if we can get used to saying 'howdy' instead of hello, I think we'll be all right."

The store will retain the name of Wylie's Drug store and there will be no change in personnel other than the management, the brothers said.

"We hope to maintain the same service and policies Mr. Wylie has built up through the years," Mr. Simmons said.

Wylie moved to Lubbock in 1927 after the store had operated a year as Wylie-Jarrett Drug store at 1007 Main. Later Mr. Wylie purchased the interest of D. Jarrett in the store. It was moved to its present location in 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie said they planned to live in Lubbock, but would spend considerable time looking after ranching and farming interests in Stonewall county.

Lubbock Sheriff's Posse To Take Part In New Mexico Rodeo

The Lubbock Sheriff's Posse, 30 strong, today will help open the Elks Club rodeo in Carlsbad, N.M.

The posse, a group of business and professional men who like to ride, will be in the 10 a.m. parade preceding the first rodeo performance. This afternoon they will be special guests at a barbecue given by the rodeo promoters.

Sheriff Grady Harrist is president of the posse.

Slight Decline Is Noted In Nation's Crude Oil Output

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Daily average crude oil production declined 6,900 barrels in the week ended May 28, the American Petroleum institute reported today.

At 4,897,000 barrels, daily production compared with 5,451,650 a year ago.

The industry was estimated to have operated at 83.5 percent of potential in running to stills 5,297,000 barrels of crude daily. Daily average the previous week was 5,307,000 barrels, indicating operations at 83.7 percent of capacity. Runs were 5,715,000 barrels a day a year ago.

Total heavy fuel oil output was 8,144,000 barrels, against 8,354,000 the previous week and 9,508,000 barrels a year ago. Light fuel oil production was estimated at 5,943,000 barrels, compared with 6,177,000 the previous week and 7,054,000 barrels a year ago.

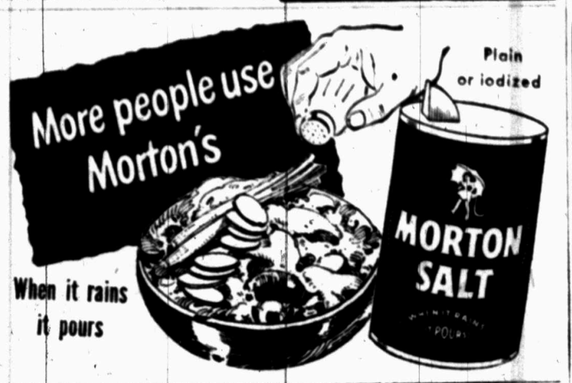

Total gasoline production was estimated at 18,324,000 barrels, against 18,230,000 the previous week.

The institute announced revision of its figures on inventories of gasoline, light fuel oil and heavy fuel oils for the period April 24 through May 21.

Gasoline stocks for the week ended May 28 declined 136,000 barrels from the previous week's revised total to 120,661,000 barrels. Light fuel oil stocks climbed 1,620,000 barrels to 55,971,000 and heavy fuel oil inventories were up 284,000 to 63,758,000 barrels.

AIRPLANE TESTING ADVANCED

Revolutionary Hypersonic Wind Tunnel Unveiled In Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, June 2. (AP)—The University of Minnesota today unveiled a hypersonic wind tunnel, called the first in the world to create a proved air flow seven times the speed of sound.

Prof. John D. Akerman, head of the aeronautical engineering department, said tests conducted with hypodermic needles showed the air stream in the six by nine-inch test section reached mach 7.06. He explained a mach number is a comparison of the velocity of air to that of sound under similar temperatures and density conditions. Thus, mach 1 means air is travelling at the same speed as sound—760 miles per hour at sea level.

The tunnel operates on a pressure diffenential principle. At one side of the huge laboratory is a large tank in which dry air is compressed to a high temperature. Opposite are five similar tanks in which a low vacuum is created. A pressure difference ratio of 150 is built up before the high pressure air is released through a nozzle to the vacuum tanks.

A major problem was perfecting a nozzle to meet the extreme temperature conditions, Dr. Akerman said. Plastic tore loose and various metals proved unsatisfactory. The tunnel is now fitted with a birch jet with a .050 throat expanding into the test section, where the free air stream temperature reaches—408 Fahrenheit, he said.

Test runs are possible for only brief periods because of the rapid exhaustion of the pressure tank, which runs out in 23 seconds. That period is further cut by time taken to open the valves so that an average test can be observed only for about eight to ten seconds.

Even that is sufficient time for technicians to make many photographs at speeds of a millionth of a second. Facilities are also installed for automatically recording lift, drag, pressure distribution and skin friction temperature.

Observation walls of the tunnel are 1.56 inches thick. With a bright light behind the glass and ground glass in front of it, onlookers can view the shock waves develop as the rushing air stream piles around the fixed missle in the test section.

Minnesota is the only college in the world with tunnels producing air flows from mach 0 to 7, Dr. Akerman reported. The new installation and the three tunnels built previously are all served by the same 3,800-horsepower compressors. All are located in buildings at Rosemount, Minn., where the university took over most of the former Gopher ordnance works.

Broadway Star Gets Role In Goldwyn Film; Margaret O'Brien Asks Release From MGM

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 2—Kent Smith was all packed up, heading back to Broadway for the Helen Hayes show, when Sam Goldwyn flagged him down for "My Foolish Heart." Kent discovered he would have time to make the movie with Dana Andrews and Susan Hayward because it is starting immediately and rehearsals for "Good Housekeeping," the Hayes play, have been set back to August 1.

"My Foolish Heart" is Mark Robson's first directing stint on his new Goldwyn contract — another big reason why Smith wants to do the picture.

Robson has a gift for elevating leading men to star status. Look what he did with Kirk Douglas in "Champion."

Studio Rift Denied

Margaret O'Brien's agent, Vic Orsatti, denies that there is any tiff back of Mrs. O'Brien's asking for Margaret's release from MGM. That isn't the way I heard it. But, anyway, the official story is this:

When Maggie and Mother were traveling abroad they had interesting offers from stage producers, vaudeville agents and English and French producers. If she were able to pick and choose she could keep working all during her growing upstint.

But there just aren't enough properties at one studio to keep a child of Margaret's age sufficiently busy.

Star Escapes Injury

MacDonald Carey has been borrowed from Paramount for the co-starring role with Shelley Winters in "Java" at U-I. Liberace, the famous pianist, makes his screen debut in the same picture.

Poor Mac had a scare on the set of "Cooper Canyon," the picture he is making now. He was sitting on the sidelines, and struck a match to light a cigaret. Before he knew what was happening, his false beard caught fire—ditto the long-haired wig he was wearing. He might have been badly burned if a prop boy hadn't tossed a full jug of water in his face.

Doctor Avoids Publicity

Hollywood in shorts: Dr. Peter Lindstrom slipped into London quietly from Paris. He's dodging reporters—didn't even check into a hotel. A pal had rented an apastment for him in advance..

Patrjcia Roc, the English actress who made a movie or two in Hollywood, was married May 19, in Paris, to Andre Thomas, French cameraman. They returned to London for their honeymoon. She's in "The Man On The Eiffel Tower" with Franchot Tone.

Arlene Dahl, pronounced Doll, at Ciro's with Charlie Feldman. Same place, same night — John Carroll, just back from Argentine, was saying "hello" to old pals. He has been away for four months.

Did Nick Janios get married at Palm Springs over last weekend?

Soleen Gray visits Nelson Barclift backstage at 'Marie Antoinette in Pennsylvania." He isthe boy whose acting, dancing and choreography rated him a "cut" in the show.

Charity Bazaar Planned

Bill (Hopalong Cassidy) Boyd will be the chief attraction at the 12:30 club's charity bazaar for war veterans on Saturday. It's at the Bud Abbott valley home.

Laurie Niblo, daughter of the late Fred Niblo, will marry Warren Justice, radio advertising man, in Beverly Hills on June 24.

In spite of the separation, John Huston is coaching Evelyn Keyes for her big scenes in "Mrs. Mike"—nice and friendly like.

Dan Dailey has been hitting the nightspots solo since his marriage broke up.

Ann Blyth hosted a small dinner party at the Sportsmen's Lodge before taking off for Washington, D. C.

TRYGVE LIE ISSUES REPORT

UN Outlines Plan To Carry Out Truman's Development Program

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, June 2.—A plan for spending more than $85 million in two years to put new life into under-developed countries was outlined by the United Nations today.

The plan is the UN response to President Truman's call for a bold new program designed to spread technical know-how around the world and raise the standards of living. This program must be approved by the UN economic and social council and by the UN General Assembly. It is not likely to get under way, even if only partially approved, until early in 1950.

The estimated cost of the technical assistance proposed in a 328-page report issued by UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie would be $35,862,576 the first year and $50,079,807 the second year.

Council Issues Report

UN planners made no estimate of the cost for succeeding years, but emphasized that any economic program, to be effective, must be figured in decades.

The money would be raised through voluntary contributions from governments. No country would take part in any phase of the program if it did not so desire.

In his inaugural address, Mr. Truman proposed a program for making benefits of "our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of under-developed areas."

The United States delegation to the UN Economic and Social council next proposed that Lie and the heads of specialized agencies prepare a comprehensive plan for economic development through the UN and the agencies. The council agreed and the report issued today is the result.

Agency Work Outlined

Specialized agencies are cousins of the UN, tied to the general organization by agreements but operating on their own.

Here's a breakdown of the general work and the amounts set out in the report:

UN—Industry, transport, power, government, administration, fiscal, and statistical services, $4,855,500 to be spent through the UN during the first year, and $7,643,500 the second year.

International Labor organization—(ILO)—Training, migration, social security, industrial safety, labor problems, $4,678,400 first year, $6,793,500 second year.

Food and Agriculture organization (FAO)—Agriculture, fisheries, forestry, nutrition, $9,425,456 first year, $11,345,383 second year.

Aviation Problems Studied

United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural organization (UNESCO)—Elementary, technical and adult education, $6,150,000 first year, $10,705,500 second year.

International Civil Aviation organiztion (ICAO)—Development of air navigation and transportation, $516,200 first year, $1,007,400 second year.

World Health organization (WHO)—Malaria control, environment sanitation, public health administration, $9,152,520 first year, $10,983,024 second year.

International Bank for Reconstruction and Development—will continue help in making general surveys and resources and formulating development programs.

International Monetary fund—Will continue giving advice regarding money and banking policy and organization.

International Refugee organization (IRO)—Can provide skilled labor or technicians or specialists from its displaced persons manpower pool until field operations end.

PLUG PULLED

WEST GLOCESTER, R. I., (U.P.)—John Fagan, caretaker of Casimir Pulaski Memorial Forest, reported to work to find the 30-acre Peck's Pond had disappeared. Investigation revealed someone had pulled the plug by sawing off a padlocked chain on a dam valve and let the water run out.

GALVESTON, June 2 (AP) — Newsreels of the April, 1947, Texas City disaster were shown as evidence in federal court here today.

They were shown by Shad Graham, Fox Movietone's representative from Houston, who explained the scenes.

A group of plaintiffs have sued the federal government for $200,000,000 damages on grounds of negligence in not marking ammonium nitrate fertilizer as an explosive.

The story of the original blast was re-told in court by James Corbett of Lamar, a longshoreman aboard the French freighter Grandcamp at the time. He said that shortly after he boarded the ship at 8 a.m. April 16 and uncovered hatch No. 4 someone yelled from the hold that smoke was coming from the bags of fertilizer.

Crewmen Flee Ship

"Men began removing the bags where the thin line of smoke was rising," he testified. "They dug deeper and deeper into the paper bags stacked in the hold of the ship but could not find the fire. I was on deck and lowered three or four fire extinguishers and a couple jugs of water into the hold. Part of the French crew also went down into the hold to fight the fire.

"About ten minutes later the longshoremen and sailors were ordered out of the hold and we covered up the hatch, working as rapidly as possible. Then Mr. Suderman (C. P. Suderman, director of loading operations) ordered the French captain of the ship to turn on the steam. When the steam was turned on the fire it looked like the fire got worse."

Corbett said he and other longshoremen then were ordered forward to get about 15 crates of small arms ammunition out of the ship. They had removed 3 to 5 crates when they saw deep orange smoke rolling out of hatches and fled to the shore, Corbett said.

Two Houston policemen testified yesterday.

DRESSED FOR D-DAY—Dressed in her American flag dress which she wears every June 6, to celebrate D-Day, Danielle Patrix, 10, sits before the paratrooper mural in her father's bar in St. Marie-du-Mont in Normandy. Danielle's father, Paul, had the mural painted in tribute to the GI's who liberated the French town on D-Day in 1944 and appropriately re-named his establishment "Bar of June 6th."

STILL CRITICAL

Vernon Youngster Fights For Life

VERNON, June 2. (AP)—Donnie Woodard, his little body a mass of deep burns, was in a critical "condition" condition tonight despite a difficult blood transfusion.

The ten year old farm boy has astounded his doctors by living 23 days with 70 percent of his body burned. A brother accidentally threw a bucket of flaming gasoline over him while the boy was burning weeds.

Dr. Jack Restivo used the large, femoral vein as a conductor for the transfusion. He said there was little change in the boy's condition.

The physician said use of the femoral vein for a transfusion is rare and that further transfusions will be made daily by this means. Burns are so widespread and deep that other veins have been hard to find.

Hospital attendants said it would be late tonight or early tomorrow before the reaction from this latest transfusion is known.

Last Rites For Man Who Died Here Are Set In New Mexico

TATUM, N. M., June 2. (Special)—Funeral services for Luther M. Eudaily, 67, of Tatum, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Tatum Baptist church.

Burial will be in Tatum cemetery under the direction of Rix Funeral home.

Eudaily died today in Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he had been a patient the last two days.

He is a long-time resident of the Tatum vicinity, having lived here about 20 years.

Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Eva May Eudaily of Tatum; four brothers and two sisters, none of whom live in this area.

IMPROVED EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM IS GOAL

Gilmer-Aikin School Plan, Finally Approved By Legislature, To Go Into Active Effect This Fall

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 2—The Gilmer-Aikin school plan, embodied in three bills finally passed by the 51st legislature, will go into active effect when public schools open their doors next fall.

What is the significance of these three bills which drastically change the educational setup?

You can just about boil it down to this, from the viewpoint of legislators who backed the bills: The new program tries to equalize and improve educational opportunities for Texas school kids.

Three Objectives Outlined

Opponents say the new system won't be as good as what we've had. Only historians will be able to say which side was right.

The Gilmer-Aikin bills seek to do three basic things:

1. Unify the school administrative setup at the state level, doing away with alleged conflicts in authority between various educational agencies and officials.

2. Assure school-age children they can have a good, minimum education program nine full months of the year if they want it.

3. Equalize and guarantee the financing of the school program, making all counties pay proportionately according to their ability.

Texas for many years has had an elective state superintendent of education and a board of education appointed by the governor. The G-A plan reverses the procedure.

Board To Be Elected

Voters will elect a 21-man board—one member from each of the congressional districts—in the state Democratic primaries and general election. The board will appoint a commissioner of education. He must be confirmed by the Senate.

The administrative G-A bill—signed by the governor yesterday—did not receive the required 100 House votes to make it immediately effective. It will take effect 90 days after the legislature adjourns. Within 30 days after that a special election for the first 21-man board will be held. By the time the board appoints a commissioner, it may be November or December.

Meantime, State Auditor C. H. Cavness has been authorized by the legislature to put the new program into effect. This in effect deposes State Supt. L. A. Woods. But he is permitted by the G-A bills to remain as advisor to the commissioner until Jan. 1, 1951. That is the date Woods' elective office expires.

Legality Questioned

Legality of the auditor's temporary assignment to get the new school plan rolling has been challenged by several legislators. They say the auditing and administrative jobs are incompatible.

The board of education will determine policy for the public school system. The commissioner will act as their executive officer in applying those policies. This is supposed to wipe out argument such as has occurred in the past as to what authority the appointed board had over the elected superintendent.

Teachers with bachelor's degrees were boosted to a minimum beginning salary of $2,000 two years ago. Now they are raised to a minimum of $2,403 for a nine-month school year.

They will receive an extra $6 a month for each year of teaching experience up to 12 years, thus letting them earn a minimum of $3,051 after 12 years.

Teachers with master's degrees will start at a minimum of $2,628. With added allowances for teaching experience, they can draw salaries of at least $4,432 at the end of 12 years.

The Texas State Teachers association figures teachers were earning an average of $1,700 in 1945. The average beginning this fall will be approximately $2,900.

School room teacher allotment will be based on average daily attendance of the pupils. A district with 15 or 25 students at their school desks each day will be allowed one teacher. Larger districts will receive at least one teacher for each group of 26 students in daily attendance.

Financing of public education in the past has been done with no statistical regard to the comparative ability of counties to pay.

The G-A plan makes use of an economic index—a principle long used by business firms—in measuring the wealth of each county in proportion to the total wealth of all counties.

This index is in the form of a percentage figure. It will determine how much each school district must raise locally for its education program.

Factors determining the economic index are assessed county valuations, county school population, and income for the county.

The income is measured by value added by manufacture, minerals produced, agricultural products, and payrolls for retail, wholesale, and service establishments. Figures on these items are available in reports of federal and state agencies such as the census division of the United State Department of Agriculture.

Indices already have been worked out for each county for use the next two school years. After that the commissioner of education will work out new indices every four years.

G-A calls for school districts to raise a total of $45,000,000 in local funds. This is one-fourth the $180,000,000 overall cost of the program as originally estimated by people who worked out the plan.

Resolutions introduced in the House and Senate of the 50th legislature two years ago by Claude Gilmer of Rock Springs and A. M. Aikin, jr., of Paris called for appointment of a committee to study the needs of the Texas school system.

The three bills soon to become law embody the basic recommendations offered by the committee after 18 months of study.

Electric trackless trolleys were considered as early as 1905, although they did not come into regular use until 1928.

Mayor Proclaims June 4-11 'Western Week' in Lubbock

The week of June 4-11 was proclaimed Thursday as Western Week in Lubbock by Mayor W. H. Rodgers, who issued a formal proclamation on the event in behalf of the Lubbock Jaycees, who are co-operating with the American Business club in the observance.

The week is being observed in connection with the staging of the ABC Boys' club rodeo at Jones stadium, June 8-11.

A. L. Hawkins, jr., is chairman of the Western Week program of the Jaycees and honorary sheriffs during the week will be: Ted Waldrip, Joe Gaylor, Pinkie Ganaway and Norman Igo.

Dr. White Speaks At Kiwanis Club Meet

The building of a stronger Christian democracy is as important as the building of a strong defense for protection from the outside, Dr. Travis A. White, pastor of the First Christian church, declared in a talk at the luncheon program of the Lubbock Kiwanis club at Hotel Lubbock Thursday.

"Encroachment of the rising tide of isms, not only Communism but secularism, is as much a danger to our democracy as the threat of war," Dr. White said. "The responsibility facing us is a two-fold task.

"One place where we can take hold is the creation of a Christian democracy . . . How can we expect to lead other peoples unless we are something ourselves.

"A lot of us are concerned with the footprints we leave on the sands of time," Dr. White declared, "but about all some of us will leave will be the mark of a heel.

"We do a lot of talking about free enterprise and the threat to our personal liberties, etc., but everyone of us wants to get up to our knees in the porkbarrel of privilege. Our economy ought to be considered in terms of the greatest good for the greatest number of people."

Dr. White was introduced by G. E. Dawson, program chairman. Prior to his talk, two speakers, W. C. O'Mara and Dr. O. W. English, made an appeal for completion of the campaign to finance the Girls Scout building project.

Joe Long of Amarillo and Hollis Moore of Henrietta were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

HST RULES OUT STUMPING TOUR

Truman Still Hopeful Congress Will Enact Legislative Program

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 2—President Truman said he still is optimistic that Congress will pass most of his extensive legislative program at the current session.

The President virtually ruled out any back-platform stumping tour of the nation, such as he hinted at several months ago unless Congress enacted provisions of the Democratic platform which comprise his legislative program.

To Stay In Washington

Mr. Truman told a news conference he intends to stay in Washington most of the time while Congress battles over his legislative proposals.

He said he will remain in the capital, with the exception of occasional two or three-day trips, until Congress recesses and his own tasks are completed.

Other White House developments:

1. The President asserted he does not favor a United States loan to the Spanish government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

2. He sidestepped questions about establishment of a joint U. S.-Argentine commission for trade studies between the two countries.

3. He said in an address to the Conference of Highway Safety it is the "duty" of government to deny the public highways "to the irresponsible, the unfit and chronic law violators."

Campaigning "Out"

Mr. Truman emphasized that any "back-platform" campaign to take his legislative program back to the people is not now contemplated.

He had hinted at this in a nationwide address before a Jefferson-Jackson day dinner in Washington.

He was asked:

"Will you make such a tour in August or September?"

The President shot back a blunt no. He added that the trip may never be necessary. A reporter inquired:

"What about next year?"

Mr. Truman said to let next year—the year of the next congressional elections—take care of itself.

Entire Program "Must"

The President was asked whether he had added any new legislation to the "must list" for congressional action at this session.

Mr. Truman replied that he had not, and that the "must list" includes his entire program. He pointed out that this program was set forth in his state-of-the-union, budget and economic messages to Congress last January.

The President's list includes repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law, a $4,000,000,000 tax boost, compulsory national health insurance, civil rights bills and numerous other measures as yet unacted upon. A reporter asked:

"Suppose Congress quits without passing the program—what are you going to do about it?"

The President replied that the question was hypothetical.

Youth Killed In Collision Of Two Trucks, Car Near Denton

DENTON, June 2. (AP)—Charles Lee Bland, 22, of Denton, was killed today when two trucks and an automobile collided three miles south of here.

Bland was pinned in the wreckage of a gravel truck he was driving. Lawrence Hand, a city employe driving the other truck, and Clyde Teasdale of Argyle in the automobile escaped injury.

New-Born Lubbock Baby Boasts Eight Living Grandparents

A fifth-generation baby with eight grandparents is the unusual distinction of three-day old Tommy Gene Cleere, 3204 Ave. J, born Monday in Lubbock Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. Cleere, 3204 Ave. J.

The grandparents are Mrs. Edith Cleere, 3202 Ave. H, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Howard, 2803 Twentieth street, who are parents of the mother, the former Miss Reita Jean Howard; and Tom Schnaubert of Hobbs, another grand parent.

The great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Schnaubert, of Carlsbad, N. M., and Mrs. Ollie Rice, of Council, Idaho. Mrs. Sarah Conners, 86, of Bristow, Okla., is the only surviving great-great-grandparent.

Mrs. Edith Cleere is 36 and her mother, Mrs. Rice, is 55, making them contenders for the distinction of being the youngest grandmother and great-grandmother with kin in the Lubbock area.

Former Austrian Supreme Court Justice To Speak Here Sunday

Dr. Manfred Arie, who formerly was presiding judge of the Austrian State Supreme court, will speak at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Congregation Shaareth Israel, on behalf of the $250 million United Jewish Appeal campaign, Rabbi Julius Kerman of Congregation Shaareth Israel said Thursday.

The speaker was appointed district attorney of Vienna shortly after close of World war I and advanced steadily in public positions until he became presiding judge of the Supreme court in Austria. He recently traveled extensively in Israel and will tell of observations during his trip.

Arrangements for the speech were made by the United Jewish Appeal of New York City, of which Henry Morgenthau, jr., is chairman. Purpose of the campaign is to raise money for aid to refugees and overseas aid. Dr. Arie's present home is believed here to be in New York.

Albert Skibell is chairman of the appeal campaign in Lubbock. Sunday's meeting will be open to the public, said Rabbi Kerman.

Louisiana 'Blue Baby' Undergoes Delicate Operation In Dallas

DALLAS, June 2 (AP) — Blue-eyed Neida Susan Pelt was no longer a "blue baby" today.

The 15-month-old Pitkin, La., infant was "doing nicely" at Bradford Memorial Hospital for Babies after a corrective operation yesterday.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delford Pelt of Pitkin, who waited anxiously outside the hall during the hours-long operation. Within a few hours after the operation she began losing her purplish color.

Texas Poultrymen Open Annual 'Fryer Frolic' At Gonzales

GONZALES, June 2 (AP) — The first annual Gonzales County Fryer Frolic opened today for a three-day stand with more than 1,600 birds entered in the county broiler show and the 1949 Texas Chicken of Tomorrow contest.

Gonzales is the South's largest broiler producing center.

Contest winners will be announced tomorrow afternoon. A big parade started the three-day frolic this morning and a "homecoming get-together" at Independence park is on tomorrow's program.

Meeting In Faraway Places Is Good For An Unusual Explosion

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 2.—Joe Jones lives in the same suburb of New York—I think it's Mamaroneck—as Bill Doakes. They see each other about three times a year; maybe twice on the 5:28 and once (from a distance) at a dance at the Westchester Country club.

They do not even nod, back home. But let 'em meet on the Champs Elysees! The greeting given the prodigal son must have been cool by comparison. The reunion of longlost and loving brothers must fall in the same frigid category, when lined up against the meeting of Joe and Bill.

Made Trip In Style

Joe—Holy cow! If it isn't old Bill Doakes!

Bill (embracing him)—Joe! Imagine running into you here in Paris, France.

Joe—Stand back a moment and let me get a good look at you, Bill. I just can't believe my eyes.

Bill—It's like a dream, ain't it, Joe?

Joe—Better; This is the McCoy. Brother, am I glad to see you!

Bill—Likewise, I'm sure. How long you been over?

Joe—Came over on the Queen and the Golden Arrow last week. How long you been here?

Bill (not without pride)—Flew in yesterday on TWA. Breakfast in New York, lunch in Gander—that's in Newfoundland—dinner in the air over the Atlantic ocean, early breakfast in Shannon—that's in Ireland—and here bright and early.

Joe—Flew in from New York, eh. Boy, your arms must be tired. Ha! Heard that on Milton Berle's program before I left.

Joe—Pulling out the day after tomorrow. Brother! Have I been on a merry-go-round.

Bill—I'm leaving Tuesday. Got a lot of things to attend to.

Agree To Meet

Joe—Found any good spots I don't know about?

Bill—Wouldn't be surprised if I did. What do you say we hit a few of them tonight.

Joe—Great, Bill. I found a nice out-of-the-way restaurant named Maxim's. Plenty of Parley-Voo-Francais dished out with the food.

Bill—That's for me. When I come to France I want to see France, get the idea?

Joe—Okay, it's set. We'll have a drink first at the Ritz bar. Only place in town where you can get a decent martini.

Bill—Oke. Sure is great running into a fellow you know here.

Joe—You're telling me!

Bill—Aw ree-war, like they say.

Joe—That goes double. See you soon, Bill old pal.

The French are a very clever race, especially at recognizing Americans.

You can study French for ten years, live an additional five years with a French family to capture the nuances of the conversational side of the language, bone up on every bit of slang, grow a beard, wear a beret and slightly high-heeled squeaky shoes—and you cannot walk 40 feet down a French street without a guy sliding up to you and whispering, "You got American dollars today? Good price."

Or do all those things, arm yourself with a French girl with a low-cut gown and a cigaret hanging out of her mouth, sit in the darkest corner of one of those romantic plush-joints where a dozen strolling violinists play only the dreamy music of old Europe and—like a flash—all the violinists will congregate around your table and ply "Deep In The Heart Of Texas."

Maybe it's these spurs.

New Mexico Newspaper Firm Purchases Farmington Weekly

SANTA FE, N. M., June 2 (U.P.) — Lincoln O'Brien, president of New Mexico Newspapers Inc., today announced the purchase of the weekly Farmington Times-Hustler, which he said will be converted into a daily newspaper.

The Times-Hustler was sold by G. L. Butler, business manager, and Orval Ricketts, editor. Ricketts will continue with the daily as publisher.

New Mexico newspapers also has purchased daily newspapers in Tucumcari and Las Vegas.

James Green, former circulation manager of the Clovis (N.M.) News-Journal, has been named over-all circulation director for the papers.

Death Of Boy Ends Oklahoma Town's Traffic Safety Record

STILLWATER, June 2 (U.P.) — Stillwater's 10-year record of no fatal traffic accidents was broken today by the death of a 2-year-old boy.

The child, Edgar Oral Ballard, was fatally injured near his home when he apparently ran into a car driven by C. P. Peck, city milk inspector.

Stillwater's last fatal traffic accident was on Jan. 23, 1939. Since that time the city has won national recognition repeatedly for its record and its program of accident prevention.

Denison City Commission Votes To Petition For Rent Decontrol

DENISON, June 2 (AP) — The Denison city commission this morning voted unanimously to petition Governor Beauford H. Jester for rent decontrol here.

The action followed a public hearing last night at which landlords were the only speakers. No tenants answered an invitation to come to the platform.

House, Senate Send Six Bills To Governor

Wage, Hour Plan Given Approval

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 2.—Action-packed sessions of the House and Senate today sent six bills, including one to ban high school secret societies, to Gov. Beauford H. Jester's desk.

A bill setting up a mandatory minimum wages and hours scale for firemen and policemen in cities over 40,000 population, but allowing cities of 10,000 to 40,000 population to vote on the matter, was passed by the House, 92-25.

The measure, by Senator Walter Tynan of San Antonio, returns to the Senate for acceptance or rejection of amendments. One change made by the House exempts cities which have wages and hours equivalent to those proposed. Such cities would have to hold an election on the program if wages and hours ever drop below the minimum.

Driver's Bill Stalled

A driver's financial responsibility bill which had almost made the grade was detoured into a blind alley when the House voted 57-52 to send it back to committee. This stalled action at least temporarily on the furiously debated measure which would make drivers show financial responsibility up to $11,000 if involved in accidents causing at least $200 damage, injury or death.

The House adopted a resolution by Rep. Bill Fly of Victoria to adjourn from today to June 13. But representatives backed down after the Senate said in effect, "quit if you want to, but we are going to stay here and work."

The Senate gave consent for the House to take the 10-day holiday, but voted 17-10 against taking such action itself.

The bill to do away with high school secret societies, fraternities and sororities is similar to one vetoed by Jester last session. He said then that present laws allow school boards to take local action on this subject.

Senate Okays Funds

Another money bill was approved by the Senate, this one for $4,015,614 to take care of vocational education the next two years. It returns to the House for approval of a minor change in wording.

A bill directing the University of Texas regents to establish a new $2,000,000 medical school was passed by the Senate and forwarded to the House.

It is a technical bill designed to bring the Senate and House in accord on medical school legislation. The House had approved three separate bills for creation of medical schools at San Antonio, Dallas and Temple. Provisions for a single school had been writ-

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Friday, June 3, 1949

Tom Tyson, Demo Leader, Claimed

CORSICANA, June 2 (AP)—A heart attack today claimed the life of stocky, personable Tom L. Tyson, a power in Texas Democratic and Baptist circles.

The secretary of the state Democratic executive committee suffered the heart attack at his home here at 7:40 a.m. and died in five minutes. He was 44.

Tyson had been ill since a previous heart attack three weeks ago. He had been hospitalized then, but had returned to his home to recuperate. His death brought statements of shocked distress from other political leaders in the state.

Fought For Truman

Tom Tyson, an attorney, had been a dynamic orator and a hard-working organizer for his party. As a foe of the Texas Regular forces, he fought successfully in the behalf of Franklin D. Roosevelt and as chairman of the state Democratic convention in Fort Worth last September as he was strong for Harry Truman.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester was "terribly shocked" at the news of Tyson's death. "It is too tragic for words."

And John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, said: "It was a great shock to me. We have been close personal and political friends for 15 years. . . His death is a great loss to Texans."

Rites Slated Today

Tyson was a member of the board of Mary Hardin Baylor college at Belton; a member of the board of the Buckners Orphans home, a Baptist institution at Dallas; a trustee of the Navarro County foundation; the chairman of the board of deacons of the First Baptist church of Corsicana and the teacher of the men's Sunday school class at the church.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the First Baptist church with Dr. Jared I. Cartlidge, pastor, in charge.

After the services, the funeral procession will move overland to Calvert, where Tyson was born in August, 1904. There, Friday afternoon, additional services will be held at the graveside.

Survivors include Tyson's wife; a son, Luther; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Tyson of Calvert; a sister, Mrs. Vernon G. Miles of Minden, La., a brother, Arthur Tyson, professor at East Texas

Fifth Division Convention Opens Saturday

Legion Meeting Is Slated At El Paso

(Special To The Avalanche)

EL PASO, June 2.—Sight-seeing tours, military displays, floor shows, a bull fight in Juarez and an address by their state commander, former attorney general Bill McCraw of Dallas are among the many events awaiting American Legion delegates and visitors to the Fifth Division convention which will be held here Saturday and Sunday, June 4 and 5.

The Fifth Division is composed of Legionnaires from 198 posts in the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth and Twenty-first Congressional districts and is commanded by Vernon Blodgett of Kerrville. The Fifth Division had 24,241 members as of May 19.

Busy Schedule Planned

Convention headquarters will be at the Cortez hotel where delegates will register starting at 9 a.m. Saturday. At noon a luncheon will be enjoyed at the hotel followed by a sight-seeing tour to Beaumont hospital and other El Paso points. This will be followed by a visit to Juarez in Mexico. That night a reception, dinner and dance will be given at Cortez hotel.

Activities Sunday will begin with a Legionnaire club breakfast from 8 to 9 a.m. The group will then go to Fort Bliss for memorial services in the chapel, there. From 11 a.m. until noon the delegation will watch an Air Force display at Biggs Field. This will be followed with a dinner at the officers' mess at Biggs Field. At 2 p.m. a business meeting will be held at the Cortez hotel. At 3:30 p.m. the group will go to Juarez for a bull fight. At 6:30 p.m. a dinner, floor show and dance have been arranged at the Tivoli in Juarez.

Col. A. M. Lawrence is general convention chairman; Department Adjutant G. Ward Moody; National Executive Committeeman H. Miller Ainsworth and the five district commanders under Commander Blodgett are scheduled to attend the convention. The commanders are William J. Sohl, Alpine, 16th district; P. C. Stacy, Stephenville, 17th district Charles C. Gibson, Amarillo, 18th district; T. A. Thigpen, Big Spring, 19th district and George Sullivan, Kerrville, 21st district.

SMALL CHANGE

VINCENNES, Ind. (U.P.) — An automobile thief who took Max Gelb's car gave him a rebate, police said. The thief took Gelb's late model 5-passenger vehicle and left a miniature Crosley in its place. The small car was found to have been a stolen one.

Lubbock Delegation To Attend Meeting

Delegates from the local American Legion Post will be among those in attendance at the El Paso convention of the fifth Division Saturday and Sunday, officials announced Thursday.

The delegates named to attend the convention from Lubbock include:

James H. Goodman, chairman of the delegation; Fred Young, Bob Sisson, Woodrow Epperson, George S. Berry, Hugh Anderson, A. M. Armstrong, T. F. Andrews, Charles J. Byers, Hugh Cordell, G. P. Cunningham, Walter Curtis, Morren Dobbins, Riley Duff, J. R. Eagan, Lee Echols, Alex Eskridge, John W. Estes, Calvin Duff, Joseph H. Fireman, Cecil Flynn, Major Harold Fulgham, Eldon F. Fuller, T. D. New Borden Oil Field Foreseen

Sinclair Oil & Gas company, (formerly Sinclair Prairie Oil company), No. 1 Williams, northwest Borden county prospective wildcate discovery, 11 miles northwest of Gail, was botomed at 10,000 feet, in a lime formation, thought by some geologist to be in the top of the Ellenburger, and it was pulling the testing tool after taking a three-hour drillstem test at 9,945-10,000 feet.

A 1,000-foot water blanket was used for that investigation. Gas showed at the surface in 37 minutes. Drilling mud and drilling water started flowing out at the top in 95 minutes.

The project was flowed to pits to clean for 55 minutes. Most of the recovery during that period was mud and water.

Report Not Official

It was then turned to tanks for 30 minutes and unofficial sources report that during that period the project made 20.75 barrels of 34 gravity oil.

The foregoing report has not been officially verified.

Interested observers think that this prospector has definitely assured that it will be completed as a commercial oil well and the opener of a new field.

Up to now no formation water has been developed from any of the sections which have shown possibilities of making oil in commercial quantities.

This venture has previously shown considerable free oil and had kicked out some fluid, while the drillpipe was being pulled after drillstem tests on the horizon between 9,830 feet and 9,928 feet.

Probably Mississippian

Some observers think that the formation between 9,830 feet and 9,928 feet is probably in the Mississippian.

Those same observers think that the Ellenburger was entered around 9,945 feet. That is no official verification for either of those surmises.

It is understood that the section between 9,945 feet, and the current bottom at 10,000 feet was extra soft. Considerable mud was lost in that section while it was being drilled through.

Surface elevation of this prospector is 2,957 feet. It is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, TP survey, T-6-N.

An extension to Devonian production in the Dollarhide field of southwest Andrews county has been proven at Cities Service Oil company No. 1-E Cowden, outpost to the field, 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 14, block A-32, psl survey.

Bottomed on 8,792 feet, the venture made production tests of the

Beaumont Labor Dispute Watched

AUSTIN, June 2. (AP)—An appeal for "outside help" in Beaumont labor troubles was taken under advisement by Gov. Beauford H. Jester today.

Herman Brown, of Austin, president of the construction firm of Brown and Root, Inc., spent 45 minutes in conference with the governor this afternoon. Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, was also present.

"The governor said he would take it under advisement and make some investigations," the grey-haired ruddy business executive said after the meeting.

The governor offered no comment.

Escorted From City

"He is going to a funeral tomorrow and won't be back before tomorrow afternoon. He may not have a decision until Saturday," Brown said.

Brown declined to say whether or not he had requested the aid of state rangers.

"The only answer, of course, is outside help," he said.

Brown was escorted out of Beaumont last night by police after at least 12 men had been injured in labor disturbances. Brown said that local police told him that unless he left and withdrew the firm's non-union Houston carpenters they "could not guarantee" to handle the trouble that might ensue.

Seven employes were beaten early last month. Five more were hurt Tuesday when a busload of the carpenters was stopped by union men as it left the grounds of the Texas-Eastern Transmission corporation, Brown said. The bus was forced to the curb and bottles were hurled through the open windows.

Bombay, India, will fight anti-social activities through a new institute.

BIG HAND FOR SMALL FRY—These clever youngsters, dressed in the best of the west, gallop madly down the main street of Spur in pursuit of the rodeo parade. They were referred to as the 'stick-horse brigade.' They shouted in true cowboy fashion and fired cap pistols as the large crowd lining the streets gave them loud applause. Spectators who witnessed the first day's show Thursday pronounced it one of the best ever performed in this area. All contestants are amateurs but their ability surpasses that of many show stars. U. S. Launches New Move In Fight For New Mexico Lands

ALBUQUERQUE, June 2. (INS)—A new move was made today in the battle for 427,120 acres of New Mexico land.

Attorneys for the U.S. government moved to strike an amended answer filed by New Mexico in a condemnation suit involving extension of White Sands proving ground, U.S. Rocket Research center.

Arguments will be held before U.S. District Judge Carl Hatch in Albuquerque, June 21.

Argument also will be held on the state's motion for a bill of particulars. New Mexico's attorneys seek to question former Secretary of War Kenneth C. Royall.

The amended answer which the government seeks to have dismissed declared that the U.S. government has taken or seeks to take more than four million acres of New Mexico land.

The state claimed that this amounts to creation "of a new state or province" within the state of New Mexico.

Princess Aly Khan May Be Called As Witness In Suit

DENVER, June 2 (INS) — The Princess Aly Khan, nee Rita Hayworth, may be called as a witness in the $1,000,000 damage suit brought against Columbia Pictures by Gilda Gray, the "shimmy queen" of two decades ago.

The possibility was seen today after attorneys for Columbia asked U. S. District Judge J. Foster Symes to dismiss the entire suit.

Miss Gray has charged that the motion picture, "Gilda," produced several years ago by Columbia, and starring Rita Hayworth, had invaded her privacy.

Attorneys for the studio contended that Miss Gray, throughout her career as an entertainer, "exposed her techniques and all incidents and experiences of her life to public view."

The answer, filed in the Denver federal court, said that Miss Gray "waived any rights to privacy," because she "neither reserved nor protected any quietude or privacy from public exposure."

Job Security More Important Than High Pay, Survey Finds

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 2—Which is better—a high-paying job that may not be secure, or a job that doesn't pay so well but is steady?

Voters questioned about that in a national poll show little hesitancy in choosing.

Most of them pick the sure, steady job.

This desire for job security or dependability, rather than higher stakes involving risks, seems to be more or less universal. Surveys in four foreign countries show virtually the same result.

The survey in the United States was conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion among a cross-section of persons who are gainfully occupied fulltime. They were asked:

"Some people prefer a job which pays very well even though it may not be so secure (permanent). Other people prefer a steady job even though it may not pay so much. Which would you, yourself, prefer—the steady job or the better-paying job?"

The vote:

Steady job	81%
Better paying job	14
Undecided	5

Other Nations Agree

Affiliates of the Institute in Canada, Australia, Holland and Sweden conducted surveys on this issue, with the question worded in almost identical fashion.

The results:

	Steady job	Better Paying job	Undec.
Canada	85%	13%	2%
Australia	85	12	3
Holland	79	13	8
Sweden	71	8	17

In Sweden an additional 4 percent said that the two types of jobs were "equal," depending upon individual circumstances.

The American survey found that, in general, the best educated voters, the ones in business or the professions, and the younger voters are less interested than the average in a sure, steady job and more in a job with higher rewards.

The vote by education, occupation and age follows:

	Steady	Better Pay	Undec.
By Education
College	72%	20%	8%
High School	82	14	4
Grade School	84	12	4
By Occupation
Prof. & Bus.	76	17	7
White Collar	81	17	2
Farmers	81	9	10
Manual Workers	84	13	3
By Age
21-29	77	19	4
30-49	81	16	3
50 & over	85	8	7

New Field Foreseen

Fusselman and develoed considerable water. That formation has been abandoned as a completion prospect.

Perforations were shot in casing at 7,755-7,800 feet opposite the Devonian. That zone was acidized with 1,000 gallons.

After swabbing oil and acid load, the well kicked off and flowed 380 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a one-half inch choke.

Operator To Perforate

On last report operator was preparing to perforate at 6,545-6,652 feet and test the Clear Fork-Permian, where good shows were encountered when drilling through. If the Clear Fork flows oil in commercial quantities, dual completion might be attempted with the Devonian.

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 2 Shafter, outpost to production from Spraberry field's lower Permian sand, in Southeast Dawson county, 15 miles southeast of Lamesa, has logged signs of oil in streaks in the zone between 6,539 feet and 6,628 feet, and as soon as a core now being cut from 6,628 feet to 6,665 feet is out of the hole, a drillstem test will be run to check the petroleum yielding ability of the section between 6,539 feet and 6,665 feet. The exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 48, block 34, TP survey, T-5-N.

Tom Tyson Claimed

Baptist college, Marshall.

Tyson was appointed secretary of the state Democratic committee by Calhoun, shortly after the September state Democratic convention. The appointment was another instance of Tyson's party fidelity. He did not want the post because of the pressure of personal affairs, but he took it because party leaders insisted they needed his help.

At the bedside when Tyson died were his wife, Matt Dawson, a law partner, and a neighbor, Mrs. J. J. McColpin. Leighton B. Dawson, another of his law partner's and brother of Mass Dawson, arrived at the home one minute after Tyson died.

Tyson served two terms as Robertson county attorney before he moved to Corsicana in 1937, and in 1946 he entered the race for U. S. representative to the Sixth district. It was for a post long held by Rep. Luther Johnson who had resigned. The district includes Ellis, Hill, Navarro, Limestone, Freestone, Leon Robertson and Brazos counties.

Tyson, high man in the primary, was voted into a runoff with Olin Teague. But he withdrew from the race in favor of Teague, explaining: "I think Olin Teague will represent the district well."

Tyson was graduated from the Calvert, Tex., High school in 1922. He attended the University of Texas one long semester and two summer semesters, alternating his education with school teaching at Somerset, Tex., in Bexar county, then he entered Baylor university at Waco. Baylor granted him a law degree in August, 1926.

He began practicing law at Franklin, Tex., Robertson county, on Sept. 1, 1926. On Jan. 1, 1929, he became county attorney of Robertson county and served four years. During that time he was vice president of the Texas State Convention of County and District attorneys.

From Jan. 1, 1933, until June, 1937, when he came to Corsicana, Tyson was in private law practice at Franklin.

He was a delegate to the National Democratic convention in Chicago in 1932, the convention that nominated Mr. Roosevelt.

On June 28, 1943, he declined an appointment as district judge in Navarro county, made by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson.

He was a member of the Navarro county bar, the Texas State bar, the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce and the Civilian club.

NEWS BRIEFS

Baseball and basketball facilities at the Chapman field athletic plant at Twenty-third and Ave. W will be open to school age children from 8 until 12 o'clock every morning, Lubbock High Athletic Director C. R. (Pat) Pattison has announced.

An instructed verdict for the defendant, R. C. Young Feed and Seed company, was ordered by Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court, court officials said Thursday. The verdict was signed by T. C. Williams as foreman. Judge Blair Wednesday morning had dismissed the remainder of his jury panel. McClish, 54, sought damages totaling $20,000 as outgrowth of injuried alleged to have been suffered in 1947 when employed by the defendant feed and seed company. He said stacks of feed fell on him, and charged his employers with negligence. The company was represented by the firm of Carr and Carr and the firm of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam.

Residents of southeast Lubbock who live on what they have called Overton drive may continue to use that street designation and receive their mail, it was announced from Lubbock postoffice. Under the new naming system adopted for purpose of mail delivery, that street was designated as Ave. D A spokesman for several residents told Ernest Ohnemus, superintendent of mails, that Overton drive was the name preferred. Mail will reach residents if addressed to either Ave. D or Overton drive, with the house number, said Ohnemus.

Fire destroyed an unoccupied residence Thursday in the McCrummen addition, approximately two and a half miles from the west city limits on the Shallowater highway. Will McCrummen of 1616 Sixteenth is owner. Another residence about 15 feet to the westward, also was damaged, city firemen said. Cause of the fire had not been determined. The alarm was turned in shortly after 1:30 a.m.

Theft of a windshield wiper and a sideview mirror from the car of S. H. Spinks of 1313 Ave. O was reported to the police Thursday.

Last rites for W. J. Sullivan, 75, of Lubbock route 3, were conducted at 3 p. m. Tuesday in the First Baptist church of Lubbock. Rev. Avery Sullivan, of Smyer Baptist church, officiated. Sanders Funeral home directed burial in Tech Memorial park. Sullivan died early Wednesday in his residence after suffering a heart attack.

Pat Garrett, of 2519 Twenty-third, Thursday was reported "greatly improved" in condition at Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., where May 25 he underwent major surgery. Doctors at the clinic said today that Garrett should be able to return home within two weeks.

Funeral services for Mrs. Edith Galloway, 42, of near Welch community in Dawson county, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Lamesa Methodist church. Rev. Sam Thomas, pastor, and Rev. J. A. Martin, of Welch, will officiate. Mrs. Galloway was fatally injured Tuesday night in a truck-car collision near Welch. Her daughter, Bessie Jean Galloway, 12, who was seriously injured in the accident has been reported recovering satisfactorily in Lamesa General hospital.

Funeral services for Edgar Bow-den Varner, 64, of 2706 Ave. P, were held Thursday in First Baptist church. Burial was in Lubbock Memorial park. Varner died Wednesday in a local hospital. He had lived here the last 26 years and was in the wholesale drug business.

Closing program of the Daily Vacation Bible school at the Central Baptist church will be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock at the church 1309 Eighteenth, Mrs. Boyd Crooks, supervisor, announced Thursday. The program closes a week of classes in the school. The public is invited to attend, Mrs. Crooks said.

Dr. Thomas R. Wright, chief of professional services, medical division of the Lubbock Veterans administration regional office, will leave Saturday for two weeks active duty training with the 36th National Guard division at Camp Hood, Major James Samsel, instructor, Lubbock Organized Reserve, announced Thursday. Dr. Wright is a counsel in the Medical Corps reserve and has been assigned to the 4606th General Hospital, the newly-activated reserve unit recently allocated to Lubbock.

Six Bills Approved

ten into the general appropriation bill for higher education.

The Senate solution of the medical school problem may now be accepted or rejected by the House, both in the general money bill for colleges and the measure adopted today.

Also passed by the Senate was a House-approved resolution to set up an insurance code commission to study the state's insurance laws and report its recommendations for revisions to the legislature. The measure returns to the House for consideration of Senate changes.

Other Measures Okayed

Sent to the Governor after Senate passage was a bill to provide a $5,000 emergency appropriation for travel expense for the livestock sanitary commission.

The House gave majority votes to the following Senate bills, which go to the governor:

Permitting building and loan associations to close for holidays, deaths, or something similar.

Prohibiting building and loan associations from charging membership fees.

Providing that counties of 40,000 population and cities of 20,000 with two district courts shall use a jury wheel. This lowered the limits from 58,000 for counties and 25,000 for cities.

Allowing employes of the state and its political subdivisions to receive paid leaves of absences in addition to National Guard pay when they attend summer encampments. The bill will not become effective until 90 days after adjournment of the legislature and therefore will not apply this summer.

Rep. Jimmy Horany of Archer City secured House permission to bring up his $400,000,000 veterans bill at any time. He also must secure Senate permission.

House and Senate adjourned until Monday morning.

TCU Student Killed, Soldier Hurt In Tarrant County Wrecks

FORT WORTH, June 2 (AP) — A TCU student was killed and a Carswell air base enlisted man was critically injured in two auto accidents early today.

Simon Oliva, 26, of Commerce, died instantly when the car in which he was riding plowed into a utility pole. His death raised Tarrant county's 1949 traffic fatalities to 36.

PFC William D. Stoutt, 20, of Success, Ark., was treated at the Carswell hospital for a possible skull fracture, jaw and a crushed cheek. Stoutt was one of three passengers in a car that struck a house being moved by a motor van.

Spanish unemployment recently increased for the fifth month in succession.

THE TIP-OFF:

Somebody's Scared

THE MOUNTING fear among those who direct the University of Texas that the other State colleges some day will obtain a fair share of revenues from the so-called "University Permanent fund" was given the strongest confirmation imaginable this week.

The existence of the fear, now grown almost into the proportions of a nightmare, has been a matter of common knowledge for a long time. But the high brass would not acknowledge it openly, recognizing that such an admission probably would stimulate to more vigorous effort those who are trying to bring about the very thing the University fears.

It was of profound significance, therefore, when Dr. T. S. Painter, the president and foremost official spokesman of the University, publicly "warned" the 1949 graduating class of the "threat" represented by the efforts to force a fair division of the permanent fund revenues. His address was an acknowledgment that the "threat" has reached proportions demanding use of the biggest University guns to resist it.

AS MOST Texans are aware, the permanent fund, now totaling close to $100,000,000, and potentially worth many times more, has been acumulated from oil lease sales and royalties on state-owned lands in West Texas. The lands were set aside in the very early days to provide the opportunity for a college education for ambitious young Texans. Our Texas forefathers had no idea, of course, of the enormous wealth these lands were destined to produce. They could not have imagined the expansions of the higher educational system which became necessary to give as many young Texans as possible an opportunity to go to college.

So the lands were designated for the "university," and from that day until this, every penny of revenue derived from these West Texas lands has been hogged by the University and, more recently, in part by A. & M. college. They will keep on hogging it until the other State colleges unite to correct the condition under which young Texans seeking an education are refused a share of this fund unless they enroll in the University or A. & M.—and many could not scrape together the money to attend either of those schools.

DOCTOR Painter undoubtedly was correct in saying that, with retention of the permanent fund, the "University of Texas will become the greatest of all state supported institutions." But it is no flattery to the memory of our Texas forefathers to suggest that their purpose was to create one unwieldy school where one relatively small group of their descendants would be accorded advantages denied the great majority. Their idea clearly was to create, not only one school, but a state system of higher education available to all.

Doctor Painter's address was nothing more nor less than a confession of selfish fears that the wishes of our forefathers to provide equality of educational and all other opportunity to those who followed them may be closer to realization than most of us now appreciate.

It was different in the old days. When a fellow slipped into office, he didn't consider it a mandate from the people to put in new reforms.

If You Fellas Can Sew On The Button—

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Bea Cosgrove, unsatisfied that the death of Lilly Warren on Speare Island was suicide, goes to the underground storehouse in search of signs of blood. Lilly's body was found in a car of the funicular railway running to the store rooms. Bea is surprised in the storehouse by Miguel Oak, skipper of a fishing boat which earlier brought Bea, Lilly, Mabel Jones and Agnes Firth to the island. Oak had returned secretly to investigate his brother's accidental death on the island. Oak admits to Bea that he is not a fisherman, but a lawyer. Bea shows him a scrubbed spot on the floor of one of the passages in the storehouse. Returning to the home of Henry Gough Harding on the island, Bea finds the owner and master of Speare Island awake.)

XXIV

BEA COSGROVE mumbled something about wanting some air until she saw he was not listening.

"Oh yes, of course," he said absently. Henry Gough Harding stood up. "Come with me. And we must be careful not to disturb Miss Stark." He picked up a candle from the table, led the way into the tower room.

Miss Cosgrove heard a rustle from Mollie's bed. She looked back, saw the girl's eyes were tightly shut.

Bea smiled grimly. Harding had not glanced toward the cot. She followed him through the almost bare second story room with its cot, the case of rifles and a small trunk for clothes. She could not help remembering Lilly Warren.

The top room was filled with a modern and highly effecient looking radio transmitter. The next flight of stairs was even steeper, almost a ladder. Harding threw open a trap door, then reached down to light her way onto the flat roof of the square tower.

Bea evaded his helping hand, squirmed through the opening by herself.

"I had to talk to someone. I've done a great deal by myself, and now I'm thinking seriously of taking a vital step. Vital for the future of Speare Island. In a way it's different from my plan. I had thought of an older woman."

He sounded so embarrassed, Bea decided to help him out before he retreated into himself and talked no more. "You're speaking of Miss Stark?"

"Why how did you know?" he demanded in surprise.

Miss Cosgrove stifled her first impulse and said, "A woman understands those things." She sounded hammy even to herself, but Harding relaxed.

SHE had to remind herself she was talking to Henry Gough Harding, master of Speare Island, and not a present day teen-ager, but the adolescent of a generation ago when knighthood was in flower.

"I knew you'd understand," Harding said. "From the very first I recognized that quality in you. Look, Miss Cosgrove, you may not believe this. But I really haven't had much actual experience with women. . . You understand, don't you?"

"I understand," she murmured.

"I knew you would. Even though you yourself cannot be worldly. I had to leave school in the middle of my second year of high school and from then until I was 33 I had to work hard. Mother was a semi-invalid you see. She was so gentle and sweet, and would try to do things for herself so I would have a chance to go out. She insisted once I enter a boxing tournament. I did. The first night I went she fell and hurt herself. I blame myself, but she forgave me.

"And after—after she passed away it was difficult for me. I realized fully what I had lost." His voice took on a deeper timbre. "But I had to go on. I had to make something of my life. I owed it to her.

"Then the war and good times came. People changed for the worse. I began to make a little money and the women were so hard and mercenary. My chance came and I took it." His voice was querulous. "I had to take my chance, didn't I? How could I know . . ." He stopped and began on a new tack.

"But now, I have Speare Island. I will make it a monument to her. A living monument.

"Now I'm going to ask a great favor of you. I feel you will be honest though it may mean an actual sacrifice on your part. Tell me what do you think about Mollie and me?"

BEA Cosgrove turned toward the white blur of his face, met the demands of the moment with a theatrically outthrust hand. Her voice was low. "You must look into your own heart for the answer."

"I understand," he said somberly. "And thank you for putting truth above your own wishes."

Bea hurried down the steep steps of the tower. In the lower room a candle burned now and its light fell softly across the face of Molly Stark. She opened her eyes, saw Bea Cosgrove and sneered.

Bea would have enjoyed an old-fashioned hair pull at the moment, but she went to her own room.

Bea went to the window, stared out into darkness that swirled, grew gray, became a picture of the sunswept dockside of so long ago.

In that past she leaned again over the rail of the converted liner and waved to Jim below.

Her last sight of Jim was etched on her mind. She'd been so proud. Jim would get hold of himself when she was no longer there for him to lean on. Many times in loneliness she had called up that picture to reassure herself she had done the right thing. Before she had learned of Jim's death. She had been so sure Jim would learn to know himself as she knew him. She forgave Jim everything but not realizing his true worth. Forgave. . .?

She remembered Harding's tone of voice when he said, "But she forgave me."

Bea shook her head violently. There would be no forgiveness from her for Henry Harding!

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT IS certainly the height of something or other for me to sit here in the Nittany Lion Inn at State College, Pa., and do what I am about to do.

What I am about to do is to make fun, once again, of the so-called science of psychology.

BRANDEIS

Yet, tomorrow morning I am supposed to address the journalism class of more than 250 boy and girl students, and in any such talk one cannot, of course, keep away from the subject of psychology. It sounds so learned.

This is what is provoking my latest ire.

(By the way, and this has nothing to do with the case, now is the first time I have ever been able to use the word "ire," which appears so often in crossword puzzles. One of these days, I hope, I shall even have occasion to use ani, oca, ocelot and Og.)

A group of psychologists, employed by a research firm, have got together and issued a set of rules telling business men what brand names to use and why.

"Some brand names tend to cheapen the product" is one of the rules.

But who can deny that some of the most popular and profitable products have some of the silliest brand names you ever heard?

I like good advertising. Furthermore, since advertising to a large extent, makes it possible for publishers to pay for this column, I shall not bite the hand that is feeding me.

So I shall not use real names. Let us take "Itsybitsies." If there is such a cereal, any similarity to it is purely coincidental.

But "Itsybitsies" certainly sounds cheap and silly, doesn't it?

The fact notwithstanding, can't you well imagine yourself eating a plate of crispy, crunchy "Itsybitsies" with rich cream poured all over it and enjoying it gloriously?

"The brand name must be free of undesirable connotations" is another rule set down by the psychologists.

Only yesterday we passed a restaurant called "The Ruptured Duck."

Certainly an unpleasant connotation, isn't it? Can't you just see that poor, ruptured duck waddling around in pain and misery?

Nevertheless, the place was crowded with people, whose appetite did not seem the least bit impaired by the connotation of its name.

IT BEING lunch time we stopped at a cute little place called "The White Cat."

Again the place was crowded and we had a most excellent and enjoyable meal.

Yet, you certainly cannot for a moment consider the connotation of cat and food very pleasant, can you?

One of my favorite delights —

"George never knows when fatigue is going to overtake him!"

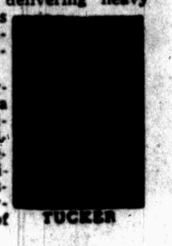

BY PARCEL POST RUSH

Postal Setup Slowed

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Postmaster Jesse Donaldson, an old mail carrier himself, has been bombarded with protests from P.O. customers and his postmasters over the nuisance burden which increased parcel post shipments have imposed upon them as a result of increases in Railway Express rates.

Uncle Sam has been forced into the business of transporting and delivering heavy freight in a way that was never intended by the Congress or by the founding fathers.

TUCKER

Besides costing the government about $60,000,000 a year, it slows up the handling and distribution of ordinary mail. It will require renovation of post office facilities—loading platforms, distribution centers and delivery methods—at a cost of many millions of dollars.

WAIT: The effort of manufacturers, distributors and retailers to avoid the high Railway Express rates, which are at least 25 percent above those of parcel post schedules, is responsible for this new problem.

Shippers now break their cargoes down to the maximum allowed for parcel post handling—seventy pounds—and clutter up the mail channels with their heavy freight.

People seeking to buy stamps, register a letter or purchase a money order at post offices throughout the country frequently must wait for hours while a broken cargo of heavy commodities is handled at a single post office window.

Uncle Sam's delivery system was never intended or built or planned for this kind of business.

INCREASE: The Railway Express company's five rate increases, which were granted by the Interstate Commerce commission, are responsible for this sad state of affairs. Instead of shipping by this private, profit-making service, shippers are almost compelled by economic considerations to use the cheaper government system.

This extra burden has swamped the post office system. The increase in the number of pieces shipped by parcel post in 1948 over 1947 was approximately 1,300,000. The increased volume totalled 1,300,000,000 pounds. The shippers saved millions of dollars at the expense of the taxpayers.

POSTCARDS: Mr. Donaldson has suggested an increase in parcel post rates to narrow the difference between government and private charges for commodity shipments. But even if Congress approves his new schedules, the differential will still be sufficient to operate in favor of bulk shippers, and cluttering of the post office machinery will continue.

Business houses also profit from the postal service in another way. To cut the annual loss of $57,000,000 on penny postcards, the Postmaster General urges an increase of one cent on the poor or lazy man's method of communication.

Senator Russell Long, however, objects to this extra tax on the ground that it will bear most heavily on those least able to afford it. He has introduced a bill barring retail distributors and advertisers generally from conducting sales campaigns with penny postcards addressed to "occupant."

He thinks that this cheap means of correspondence should be reserved for the "little people" instead of for big or small business.

TROUGH: Here is the basic question which Congress must soon decide in trying to wipe out the P.O.'s annual deficit of from $300 to $500 million, although even Postmaster General Donaldson does not seem to recognize it yet:

Shall the Post Office serve as a means of communication and for transmission of intelligence and information on a limited scale, or shall it become a heavy freight service in an attempt to compete with private enterprise?

Incidentally, don't blame Mr. Donaldson for this situation. If there is one government agency over which Congress retains supreme control including rates, routes, appointments and services, it is the Post Office. The P.O. is a pigs' trough for the politicos.

CARS: When members of the House and Senate recently accepted a belated invitation to attend the signing of the North Atlantic Treaty at the White House, the honorable gentlemen who did not own their own cars had difficulty in obtaining transportation. At that hour, between one and two in the afternoon, there are few taxicabs around the Capitol.

When they finally taxied into Mr. Truman's front yard, they saw a sight which did not improve their tempers. The "brass" from the Pentagon dismounted from some of the most expensive limousines made in Detroit. Even relatively unimportant officials from the civilian departments were hauled in their own official automobiles, with well-paid chauffeurs at the wheel.

Many M.C.'s groused, but one did something about it—Representative Daniel Flood of Pennsylvania. As a member of the Appropriations committee, he killed all appropriations for private cars for many of the "brass" and lesser officials. At last count he had deprived the Pentagon of 71 expensive cars.

In view of the incident on North Atlantic Pact day, he had no trouble in persuading the full committee and the House to uphold him. It is good for Mr. Flood that he does not represent a district in Detroit, Flint or any of the other auto centers in Michigan.

Cath Thomas, 18-year-old Australian girl boxer who recently sparred an exhibition bout with a male opponent at a Sydney stadium, has been barred from giving public exhibitions in New South Wales.

District No. 2 of the W.M.S. of the First Methodist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. B. Ellis, with twelve members present. The business session was conducted by Mrs. George R. Bean. The lesson was postponed because of the illness of the study superintendent, Mrs. Emory Butler.

On Monday, June 10, this circle will entertain all the other circles at the home of Mrs. W. W. Royalty, 1619 Nineteenth street.

SECRECY, LOW PAY COSTLY

Able Men Shun Hardship Of AEC

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Here's an advertisement you might possibly see in your newspaper some day unless the particular situation improves:

"Help wanted—top flight executives now making $25,000 to $75,000 yearly in private business and industry and top flight scientists in research for big corporations or universities. Apply to Atomic Energy commission, headquarters Washington, D. C. Salary from $10,000 to $18,000. Long hours. Confining work.

"Must be willing to have your entire life, your political and economic views, etc., combed over by the FBI. Must be willing to work in complete secrecy and lead a monastic life. You are checked in and out of the AEC project where you are employed everyday, and must lock safe, leave no papers around. Persons of a sociable nature or inclined to talk in sleep need not apply.

STOKES

Calm Temperament Required

"Calm and equable temperament required for you must expect at any time to be summoned before a congressional committee where some congressman, who may be merely looking for a political issue for himself or his party, is likely to ask you all sorts of questions. Some of them will be very silly, but you must keep your temper and answer him politely, for he can fire you or denounce you, under his congressional immunity, as a Communist or whatnot."

This poses, with little more than permissible literary license, one problem now being explored by the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. It is once again the familar problem of getting able men to work for the government, but it is much more of a problem in the case of the AEC because of the atmosphere that surrounds that agency which David Lilienthal, AEC chairman, described as "wholly foreign to our ways" for in our country "our habits are all against secrecy."

This problem became a live issue again, as it does recurrently, for the reason that Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) cited the big turnover in AEC personnel, including executive positions of various sorts, as the number one count in his bill of particulars to back up his sensational charge of "incredible mismanagement" by Chairman Lilienthal and the Atomic Energy commission which includes four other members. All five are equally responsible for management under the law.

Drearily, as the crowd which had assembled for a "sensation" waited in bored disappointment, Senator Hickenlooper asked Mr. Lilienthal about one after another executive who had left AEC. The AEC chairman was not familiar with every case, but showed surprising knowledge for such a vast enterprise. It employs 64,000 persons.

In the case of top executives, men who had left business and industry and big universities to give one or two or more years to their government, the story was no more sensational than the familiar one that these men wanted to get back to their regular pursuits and lives. In many cases it was a necessity because of financial responsibilities for their families. Working under conditions as they are in atomic energy, with the heavy responsibility and the secrecy, is more of a strain, too, than in the free sort of life a business executive or scientist or university professor usually enjoys, as Mr. Lilienthal properly pointed out.

"After all, these people are human beings," he said.

Salary Is Important

He told how in cases of very able men he had personally induced them to work in atomic energy, and how he tried to get them to remain when they wanted to leave.

Salary is, of course, an important factor. Congress provided for paying in excess of government classification salaries in special cases, but this applies only to technical and scientific people and does not apply to managerial talent which is so much needed.

Significantly, it was brought out that the big turn-over in personnel of which Senator Hickenlooper now complains was known for two years in the 80th Republican Congress through regular quarterly reports on employment. These were part of the 562 letters and documents submitted by the AEC to the joint committee during that period. But the senator waited until now to bring this "sensation."

It is good, however, to have public attention focused once more on the continual problem of getting able men in the government. It is a major problem in a government which now exercises such a dominant role in world affairs.

Eire is considering declaring the housing shortage a national emergency and naming a special Minister to spur production, Dublin reports.

Sponsors Being Assigned Boys In Race; Letters To Be Mailed

Assignment of sponsors to boys in Lubbock's second annual Soap Box Derby, to be run here on Monday, July 4, is being made this week and will be announced Sunday.

List of sponsors and entrants will be published in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal.

Letters will be mailed to each sponsor, informing him of the boy he is sponsoring and giving the youth's address and telephone number, and to each boy telling him who is his sponsor and suggesting that he contact him within the next few days.

Boys Building Cars

The big race is being sponsored by the Lubbock Exchange club in co-operation with The Avalanche-Jounral and Kuykendall Chevrolet company.

Most of the boys entered in the Derby have made good progress on construction of their tiny racers and the next three weeks will find them completing their cars. Preliminary inspection of the cars will be conducted at Kuykendall Chevrolet company the last week in June with final inspection scheduled for Saturday, July 2.

Inspection Rigorous

Every car entered in the local Derby and every champion's car at the National finals in Akron, Aug. 14, will be subjected to a rigorous exacting examination by experienced officials.

The inspecting officials make every effort to ascertain that all contestants have lived up to the letter and spirit of the rules. The official rule book is the guide to inspectors, who also are ever mindful of the factor of safety in every car.

In order that inspection practices will be the same for every boy, they are standardized throughout the country in every race, and at the Akron finals. Thus each contestant, no matter where he races, will be subjected to the same standards as every other contestant, and the champions from all cities will meet in the National finals on the same footing.

Car Must Be Boy-Built

Primarily, the inspection committee is alert to see that every car is boy-built. This is one rule to which there can be no exception. If there is any suspicion that the boy contestant has had adult help in his car-building, the inspection committee, locally and at Akron, is severe. Remember that adults—your father or older brother, your friends or school teachers—may give advice only.

The new rule banning the use of power tools or paint sprayers will be subject to the closest scrutiny by the inspectors, who may question contestants about construction details on the car.

This rule was imposed by the National Rules committee to make it more certain that all boys will have an equal chance. Rule changes of 1948, still in force, also were designed to this same end.

The committee decided against the use of power tools by those few boys to whom they were available because they gave them an unfair advantage over boys who had no way of obtaining such tools.

Power Tools Not Necessary

And remember, boys, just because you cannot use power tools does not mean that your racing car won't be as good as the cars of previous years. You know that most of the finest products of American workmanship were done by hand.

Remember, too, that the early inventors had nothing but hand tools, ingenuity and manual dexterity in making their products.

Another new rule which will change inspection techniques is the one which governs weight. In the 1949 rule book it is stated that the only weight limit is 250 pounds on car and boy combined. Previously the car itself was limited to 150 pounds.

This means that a lightweight boy may build weight into his car, if he thinks it will make the car go faster, to make the total weight approach the 250-pound limit. Inspectors will still be strict, however, in determining that there is no added weight "which is not necessary in the construction of the car and is used primarily to increase car weight."

"Let's see . . . that leaves just 3½ pounds for the car!"

British Music Impressario To Direct Metropolitan Opera

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP) — A British music impressario is scheduled to take over as managing director of the Metropolitan Opera next year.

Rudolf Bing, 47, artistic director of the Edinburgh International Festival of Music and Drama, was appointed to the post yesterday.

"Nothing less than this, the biggest job of its kind in the world," he said, "would have induced me to leave the Edinburgh festival."

Bing will replace Edward Johnson, who retires as managing director of the Metropolitan June 1, 1950. He will start working with Johnson next fall.

Bing, who also is director and general manager of the Glyndebourne opera, was named to the post for three years. Salary terms were not disclosed.

A native of Vienna, Bing is now a British subject.

Aircraft Worker Takes Over When Streekar 'Runs Away'

DALLAS, June 2. (U.P.) — A Chance Vought aircraft tool expert late yesterday stopped a runaway Sunset streetcar when the operator fell unconscious.

The tool "expediter," D. P. Wilkinson, said he was sitting on a front seat when the operator apparently had a heat stroke.

The streetcar was moving along the viaduct from Oak Cliff at a speed of about 30 miles per hour. Wilkinson said that some 30 passengers on the car were standing in their seats. Several women were screaming, he said, as he announced, "Don't worry—I think I can stop this car."

Straddling the unconscious operator, Wilkinson grasped the air brake handle and gradually brought the car to a "jerky" stop. He had no previous experience as an operator.

Dallas Railway and Terminal company officials said the operator was treated at a hospital and released.

Australians built 48,368 houses last year and had 48,300 under construction.

Presbyterian Reunion Issue Expected To Blossom Again

MONTREAT, N. C., June 2 (AP) — The argument in the Southern Presbyterian church over reunion with the northern church is expected to blossom again in local areas during the coming year.

The southern group, known as the Presbyterian church in the U. S., ended its 89th general assembly here yesterday after agreeing to increase cooperation with the northern church.

The decision to cooperate with the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., (northern), apparently paved the way for re-agitation of the whole re-union question. The controversial issue had been hanging quietly since last year's general assembly placed a five-year moratorium on re-union plans.

At least half a dozen commissioners (delegates) said yesterday's action negated the moratorium. As a result, they added privately, they now feel that they are free to campaign against reunion openly in their presbyteries.

The assembly during its final day "accepted" a report contending that good Christians should protect the basic rights of all men, white and negro.

The assembly action was not interpreted by officials as endorsement one way or the other of "human rights." It meant simply that the assembly commended the report to its various churches for "consideration and study."

Looking At Life

Is that a pleasant connotation?

It isn't. So, according to psychology, you should detest hot dogs.

I have great respect for science and scientists, as I have said before. But I do wish scientists would stick to their lasts and confine themselves to things we don't understand and therefore admire.

Or at least they should eat a nice, juicy hot dog every now and then. It wouldn't be good manners to talk with a full mouth.

Care Of Baby Cases Resumed By Hospital At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, June 2. (U.P.)—City-county hospital today resumed care of obstetrical patients and delivery of babies after a one-week interim resulting from 23 diarrhea cases caused by the May 17 flood here.

Most of the diarrhea cases were infants, resulting in the hospital's decision. It's obstetrical cases were handled by two other hospitals.

Only seven diarrhea cases now remain at city-county.
