Search For Two Missing Fliers Thought Futile

LANDING OF PLANE ON ISLAND REPORTED TO SPUR HUNT BUT LITTLE HOPES ARE HELD

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Sept. 10.—Ships of the coast guard cruised south of the Aleutian islands today hunting the missing trans-Pacific fliers, Don Moyle and Cecil A. Allen, but officers of the guard termed the search a hopeless one before they started.

One incident remained to bolster up the convictions of the few who clung to the belief that the aviators were safe—an anonymous message saying a large monoplane had been seen to land on a small island off the British Columbia coast.

Time Limit Passed

The fliers left Samushiro Beach, Japan, early Tuesday with a 47 hour supply of gasoline. Their fuel could not have lasted longer than until about noon yesterday. Pacific Standard time, and they had expected to land in Seattle some time during the morning. They were last seen 110 miles from Samushiro, 70 minutes after the takeoff.

Three coast guard cutters, the Northaldn, Chelan and Taska, started searching along the rocky and storm scoured islands late yesterday.

The cutters were ordered to cruise to the western extremity of the island chain and make a thorough search of the water and the coastline for the fliers of possible wreckage of the plane.

"It is almost a hopeless task," said Captain H. D. Hinckley, division commander. "We'll do the best we can—but I'm afraid that will not be enough."

A check of radio and telegraph stations along the British Columbia coast last night failed to reveal a trace of Moyle or Allen or the source of the report that a plane similar to the one flown by the airmen had been seen along the coast.

As hours passed with no reports of the airmen, even the most optimistic began to lose hope they would be found alive.

FARMERS VOTE IN FAVOR OF CROP BAN

STERLING HECKLED AT MASS MEETING AND LONG CHEERED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—The 1932 cotton prohibition plan advocated by Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana was mounting in strength in Texas today as the result of continued agitation from other southern states and a large mass meeting of farmers who vigorously cheered the complete "holiday" idea here last night.

While no later poll of the legislature than the one taken by Governor Ross S. Sterling before he called the special cotton session was available indications were the fight Governor Long and his supporters were making for adoption of the no-cotton plan was gaining legislative adherents daily.

A canvas of a week ago showed Texas legislators overwhelmingly in favor of a 50 per cent curtailment plan.

Bills covering a variety of plans are before both branches of the legislature and the time when the first test of strength will arrive was awaited.

More than 7,000 Texas farmers listened to cotton oratory for hours last night. Governor Long speaking over radio was cheered and Governor Sterling of Texas was heckled at intervals.

At the close of Governor Long's speech a motion endorsing the Long plan was adopted with a roar of ayes.

Governor Long in urging the people of Texas to fight for the "no-cotton" plan predicted the price of commodity would sink to two or three cents per pound with possibly no market unless planting was prohibited in 1932. A law reducing acreage would be unconstitutional, unenforceable and would not help the price, he contended.

He pointed to the huge carry-over supply of cotton now as sufficient to care for the demand next year and asked why should southern farmers plant a single cotton seed. He charged speculators were trying to give the farmers a "pacifi-

ANOTHER DIES AS A RESULT OF SHOCK

WIDE SEARCH STARTS AT WICHITA FALLS FOR ASSAILANTS

(By Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 10—One man was dead, another with a bullet in his spine was given little chance to live and a 23-year-old girl was in a serious condition at a hospital here Thursday as the sequel to an attack by two negro men upon the couple as they sat in an automobile on one of the better residential streets about 10 o'clock Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, practically every officer in Wichita and adjoining counties either was on duty or prepared for instant duty while the search, unsuccessful as noon approached Thursday, for the assailants was continued.

Indirect Victim

J. D. King, 43, manager of service stations of the Continental Oil company, was the indirect victim of the outrage, having died of a heart attack in an automobile while accompanying officers in a search for two negroes who had been reported to have been seen on the Windthorst road south of the city limits. His widow and 10-year-old daughter survive him.

Audrey N. (Ted) Noduft, 25, formerly of Wichita Falls but now of 1804 Alston street, Fort Worth, a bookkeeper for the Continental Oil company, who is suffering from a probably fatal bullet wound, and his 23-year-old fiance, a stenographer for a business concern here were the patients in the Wichita General hospital as the result of the attack.

Noduft, informed as to the seriousness of his wound, calmly though with obvious difficulty, detailed to George Anderson assistant district attorney, during the early hours of Thursday morning the story of the attack.

It corroborated in detail that hysterically related by the girl after she had pushed her companion from beneath the steering wheel of the automobile and had taken him to the hospital. Opiates still were necessary Thursday to calm her hysteria.

The bullet which struck Mr. Noduft was described as having severed the right side of the neck, completely severing the spinal cord and lodging beneath the skin on the left side, according to hospital authorities.

While there had been no evidences of feeling, officers here were prepared for emergencies in the event of the capture of the assailants, according to Perry Browning, sheriff, and Dick Morris, chief of police, who were directing the search.

BONDS TAKES STAND IN OWN DEFENSE TODAY

First Autocade Leaves Today To Advertise Fair

BOLSTERED BY CORPS OF SPEAKERS, STRING QUARTET AND BAND, 125 BOOSTERS LEAVE

Bolstered by the Lubbock High school Westerner band, the Green brothers' string quartet, a corps of speakers, and bushels of wooden whistles encircled by brightly hued strips advertising the approaching Panhandle-South Plains fair, the first goodwill autocade of the season left City hall at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

About 125 persons in 25 or 30 automobiles comprised the delegation, led by Joe Bowman, chairman. Speakers included Robert H. Bean, former Lubbock county judge; H. D. Woods, former Lubbock mayor; Jess Levens, assistant city attorney, and Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church here. The Lions club sponsored the first booster tour, itinerary of which called for 185 miles travel, 77 miles of pavement being on route. Today's trip is the shortest of the four scheduled.

Towns north and east of here had been notified of slated arrival of the fair autocade and indicated they would form local delegations to meet the trippers. Members of the motorcade were guests at luncheon at Plainview.

Schools were dismissed on the route so that more than 5,000 whistles could be distributed to children, who learned of plans for the fair which will be held here from September 28 through October 3.

Morning stops scheduled were Abernathy, Hale Center, Olton, and Plainview; afternoon appearances were to be at Lockney, Floydada, Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo, and Idalou.

The trippers expected to arrive in Lubbock at 5:50 p. m.

DEFENDANT IN MURDER CASE TESTIFIES

BIRTH OF CHILD DAY AFTER MARRIAGE TOLD IN TRIAL

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Journal Staff Writer

BROWNFIELD, Sept. 10—A child was born to the 15-year-old daughter of J. C. White, Brownfield grocer subsequently shot to death by J. A. Bonds, late the day following her marriage to one of the latter's sons, it was testified in 106th district court here this morning in trial of the elder Bonds for murder.

Bonds took the stand at 11:30 a. m. and told of the wedding of his son, Vester, and White's daughter, November 19, 1930, at Lovington, N. M. Bonds testified he did not know Vester and the White girl had been companions until the girl's father and mother came to the Bonds home that day.

Says White Armed

The grocer declared his daughter had been mistreated by the Bonds youth and that they must be married, the elder Bonds testified. White was armed with a pistol, which he pointed first at Vester and then at his father after being admitted to their home, the defendant alleged.

"Jay (White) turned on me and threatened to kill me," Bonds testified.

When the Lea county, N. M., clerk refused to issue a marriage license because the girl said she was only 15 years old, Bonds said he went to Mrs. White and told her "it's your turn to lie." The mother told the clerk the girl was 16 years old the preceding October 22, and the clerk—a Methodist minister—performed the ceremony, Bonds said. The five arrived in Brownfield from Lovington about midnight of the same day—Wednesday—or 1 a. m. the next, according to Bonds.

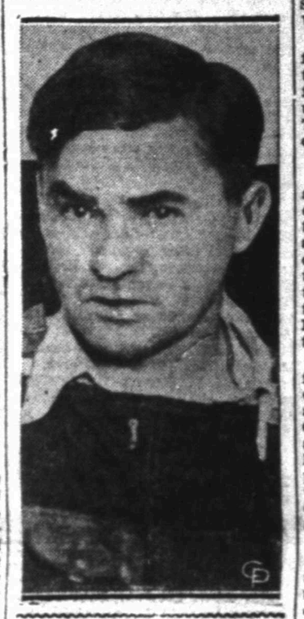

A girl was born to the young wife late the following day and Vester Bonds ran away Saturday of the same week, his father related.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

Double worries beset John H. Smith, below, once Farmer-Labor candidate for governor of Iowa. He is in jail, at Adel, Ia., on a bigamy charge.

JOBLESS CURE IS SOUGHT

HENRY DOHERTY GIVES HALF MILLION TO OBTAIN FACTS

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 10—Henry L. Doherty has challenged the assertion of a fellow engineer that responsibility for the present unemployment situation rests upon applied science and has given $500,000 to obtain the facts.

Dr. Roy V. Wright, president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and editor of Railway Age, issued the charge against engineers and scientists in a speech before the National Association of Power Engineers here Monday. The head of the Cities Service company answered him yesterday.

Dr. Wright had said "distribution and consumption have been thrown out of balance with production" as a result of their work and "it is their business now to apply their science in correcting the situation of unemployment."

Dr. Wright urged that engineers attempt to obtain $500,000 to find a remedy, saying the American council of engineers had "recognized the need, but so far has been unsuccessful."

Doherty announced in a telegram to the Kansas City Journal-Post that he had wired Dr. Wright protesting against the purchasing of the speech, denying personal responsibility for the industrial tangle and offering the entire research fund himself.

DALLAS, Sept. 10 (AP)—City Manager John N. Edy announced today that he was planning to cut 21 men from the Dallas police force as a measure of economy. A reorganization was to follow.

TESTIMONY ENDS IN PRYOR TRIAL

WSEELER, Sept. 10 (AP)—The fate of Clarence Pryor, on trial here for the murder July 12 of his father-in-law, Dr. W. Guyton, was to be in the hands of the jury late this afternoon.

Rebuttal witnesses completed their testimony during a brief session this morning and arguments in the case began this afternoon.

Pryor's plea is self defense. He testified Wednesday during a four hour stay on the witness stand that the aged physician had threatened his life.

"He threw sand into my eyes," Pryor testified. "I was half blinded and afraid he was going to shoot me."

FARMERS AT FIELD MEET

THREE TRY TO AID COTTON

HOOVER, CLAYTON AND MEYER SEEKING TO RAISE PRICES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—Three of the men who sought means to arrest the decline in cotton prices following the huge crop of 1926, again are trying to raise the depressed price of the staple.

One is President Hoover, secretary of commerce five years ago. Another is Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve board. The third is William L. Clayton, head of one of the largest private cotton firms in the world.

Their efforts have been directed toward arranging some form of credit for the export of cotton, now at one of the lowest prices in its history.

No decision has been decided upon or methods of relief. However the president plans to continue his conference with bankers and the cotton men in the hope that some solution may be found soon.

The 1926 crop, of approximately 18,000,000 bales, was the largest on record. A near panic prevailed as it started to market.

Cotton mills, anticipating lower prices, bought chartly and cotton trade channels seemed clogged.

In early October the average price in southern spot market was 13.26 cents a pound, which was below production cost but double the 1931 price.

East Texas Field Production High

KILGORE, Sept. 10 (AP)—Production in the East Texas oil field under the proration order of the railroad commission had mounted beyond 400,000 barrels per day according to estimates of military authorities in charge of the area today. The field was reopened Saturday under the order after a 19-day shutdown.

Every indication pointed to a prolonged occupation of the oil field by the skeleton force remaining to enforce the proration order under martial law rule. No additional violations of the 225-barrel-per-well quota had been reported.

ABOUT 150 FROM SIX COUNTIES LEARN OF EXPERIMENTS

Farmers from a half dozen counties this morning learned at first hand of projects and work of the Lubbock substation of the Texas Experiment station, by a tour over the farm, four miles east of Lubbock. The tour marked the opening of the annual field day demonstrations of the substation.

About 150 farmers, representing Lubbock, Garza, Hockley, Dawson, Hale and Deaf Smith counties, attended the opening session. Additional visitors were expected early this afternoon.

Jones In Charge

D. L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment farm, supervised the tour. He was assisted by other employes of the farm, R. E. Dickinson, manager of the Spur substation, and W. L. Stangel of the department of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college. Every department of the farm was inspected by the visitors.

This afternoon roundtable discussions on the different crops viewed this morning, will be held. The discussions were to be conducted by Mr. Jones, Mr. Dickinson and Mr. Stangel.

Breeders To Meet

A meeting of Pure Seed Breeders also was scheduled for the afternoon.

The visitors were served lunch at noon through the courtesy of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Practically the same program, attended by about the same number of visiting farmers, will be given tomorrow, Mr. Jones said. Farmers from Lamb, Bailey, Lynn, Gaines and Swisher counties are expected Friday.

RED CROSS READY TO OFFER RELIEF

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Red Cross stood prepared today to administer relief next winter through its local chapters to those suffering and in want from any cause which is not being met by others.

This policy was set forth in a letter from Chairman John Barton Payne to all chapter heads, at the same time he said in a statement more than 1,000 units were engaged in unemployment relief work.

"Where there is suffering and want from any cause and the fundamental local needs are not being met," Payne said, "chapters may participate in the community plans for meeting the need."

He offered the advice and cooperation of national headquarters to local units in meeting their relief problems, but stressed the Red Cross principle of distinguishing between distress resulting from "natural" and "economic" causes.

Texas Oil Men To Form New Groups

DALLAS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Texas oil men met here today to organize two new associations for the protection of independent operators.

Organization of the oil producers sales agency was to be effected first. S. A. Gulberson, elected president at a conference of operators recently, was to preside. Discussion was to center around the marketing plan as drawn up by Sam McCorkle of Mexia.

Col. J. Lewis Thompson or Dr. W. L. Todd was to preside at the gathering of independents. Proposed legislation up for discussion was to be creation of a special oil and gas commission, and advisability of trying for a law setting it up at the present special session of the legislature.

ROOSEVELT RAPS HOOVER PROPOSAL

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt believes New York state would be "very foolish" if it followed the policy of President Hoover's administration in meeting a deficit in government finances by issuing long term bonds.

In his first attack on the national Republican administration since he has been prominently mentioned as a possible Democratic presidential candidate, the governor said "this depression is today's problem and we must not borrow against the future to meet it."

His criticism of the Hoover financial policies was made during a general discussion of governmental financing problems arising from the unemployment emergency at the annual farm dinner given by Jerome E. Barum, publisher of the Syracuse Post-Standard, in connection with the Syracuse state fair.

U. S. Steers Clear On Chinese Trouble

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—State department officials indicated today the United States would decline to use its good offices in the Mexican-Chinese expulsion controversy unless both countries request such action.

A formal request was received from the Nanking government for the United States to intercede in the expulsion by the Mexican states of Sonora and Sinaloa of Chinese.

Encouraging Signs Loom On The Business Horizon

Negro Murder Case Nears Jury Today

DALLAS, Sept. 10 (AP)—The case of Walter "Bud" Curtis, a negro, on trial for the slaying of Mrs. Irene Todaro, wife of a Dallas groceryman, was expected to go to the jury today.

The negro was identified by Todaro as the man who shot Mrs. Todaro while in the act of robbing his store.

Curtis was previously convicted on the charge and sentenced to death, but the court of appeals reversed the verdict and ordered a new trial.

Largest Amphibian Plane Tested Out

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—The largest amphibian plane ever constructed flew to Floyd Bennett field today from the Sikorsky factory at Stratford, Conn., to complete a successful ground load test in which it lifted 34,000 pounds of lead.

The giant plane is designed to carry 40 passengers and a crew of five. It has a wing spread of 114 feet, weighs 22,000 pounds and is equipped with four 575-horsepower Pratt-Whitney motors. It was designed by Igor Sikorsky.

SILAS STRAWN SAYS AMERICANS NEED MORE FAITH

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—Encouraging signs, in the expressed opinion of Silas Strawn, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, are appearing on the business horizon.

He expressed this belief last night in a radio address in which he said that "more faith and fewer nostrums" was the need of the day.

Leadership Needed

"Let us quit talking about our troubles and regard the present as an opportunity to demonstrate our capacity for accomplishment," he told his radio listeners. "The whole world looks to America for leadership. Let us justify their expectations.

"I cannot predict when we shall evolve out of our present economic condition, but when we look backward and see that in the past we have always come out of depressions and gone on to greater prosperity, I am confident that we shall repeat our past experience. When that recovery will come, no one will have the hardihood, definitely, to forecast. Certain it is that it can only be brought about by cooperating individual effort and not by government action.

"Meanwhile, let us be courageous and optimistic. Let us have an abiding confidence in the fundamental soundness of American institutions, in the enduring principles of our government. Let us have faith in our financial institutions and in the securities of our industries and utilities and let us be patient and frugal."

Cooperation Seen

On the matter of wages, the former president of the American Bar association, expressed belief that the situation would receive cooperation from capital and labor.

"By reason of the lack of continuous employment," he said, "the difficulties of our wage-earners would be increased if obliged to take a reduction in wages. On the other hand the wage earners must come to a realization that some manufacturers cannot resume production at a cost too high for the consumer to pay."

M. Wagnon, and L. R. Waldrop.

ABILENE, Sept. 10. (AP)—Swallowing of a small amount of gasoline, which she found in a quart container on the floor of her parent's home, resulted fatally for Peggy Leveta Preslar, 9, of Lawn, last night. Mrs. Huel Preslar, the child's mother, heard her strangling. She was rushed to a hospital here, dying a few minutes after reaching it. Physicians said gas fumes in the lungs caused death.

MORE YOUNGSTERS ATTENDING SCHOOL THAN DECADE AGO, CENSUS REPORTS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—As millions of children throughout the country mournfully answer the toll of school bells for the fall term the census bureau today reported more youngsters in classes than a decade ago.

The bureau found in its 1930 county that of 36,387,032 persons between five and 20 years old, 26,849,639 or 69.9 per cent were attending school. Ten years ago, 21,373,976 or 64.3 per cent of 33,250,870 between the same ages were pupils.

An increase in older children attending classes over the number ten years ago was shown. There remained, however, a sharp decrease in school population in children 15 and older although a slight gain was shown in 1930.

The largest increase in older students was reported in the 21 and over division, which showed 1,034,782 in school, against 344,789 ten years ago. The total of eligibles in this division was not given.

Girls and boys were about equally divided in the total school citizenry. Of the 19,112,883 girls, 13,327,871 were in school, while 13,521,768 of the total of 19,274,149 boys were enrolled.

VIALS OF PRICELESS CORDIN BEING GUARDED IN EFFORT TO SAVE LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Two small vials of cortin, so valuable that it is priceless, were carefully guarded by physicians who were today making a determined effort to save the life of Mrs. Andrew Nelson, the poverty-stricken mother of six children.

The cortin, rushed here by airplane yesterday, was only enough to treat the woman, who is suffering from a strange malady known as Addison's disease, for three days. It was furnished by Dr. Frank A. Hartman of the University of Buffalo. No more could be spared because three of his own patients require daily treatments of it. Additional quantities of the substance must be obtained from other medical schools, Dr. Richard Torpin said.

Cortin, which is extracted from the adrenal glands of cattle, was discovered only recently. The glands of 150 cattle are required to manufactured enough for one day's treatment. It is used in the treatment of persons whose adrenal glands are destroyed.

Mrs. Nelson became ill several months ago, and at about the same time, her husband lost his position. The youngest of the children is two years old; the oldest is 18.

Pre-Convention Committee Meetings Hold Interest Of Local Women

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

DR. MYERS

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

PARENT'S LOVE

THE BABY'S grip at birth is very pronounced. Some then can hang by a bar bearing their whole weight. This reflex weakens during the first hour or five months, but as soon as the child begins to handle objects like blocks or balls, he may still have to learn to let go. I observed my own children attempting to drop objects which would not fall from their grasp for half a minute or more, and you must have seen how surprised your child beginning to throw a rubber ball was when, as he made the throwing movement, the ball did not always leave his hand. The ape never learns to use his thumb with each finger. The baby cannot at birth; but in this respect he passes the ape and learns to use his thumb with the fingers within four or six months.

The baby does not hear during the first several hours or few days. His eyes at birth are not well co-ordinated, as a rule; mothers need not be distressed by the infant's wobbly or crossed eyes in the early month. Most observers report that the newborn baby's eyes will not follow a light. However, my second baby, three hours after birth, in a dark room, followed perfectly in unison the slow moving of a burning match.

Every parent and nurse must have observed the new-born infant, when lowered or raised suddenly throw out its arms with catchiness of breath. This, and starting at sharp sounds after a few days, are generally considered the basis of all fears which later develop in the child's lifetime. So he is born with a capacity for fears, while specific fears, such as of a snake or the dark, he learns.

The baby does not need to learn anger. He is born with it. Grasp the new-born baby's head with each open hand against his ears, pressing gently, not allowing him to move his head; or attempt to straighten out his limbs, and he will show a nice fit of rage. I tried this on my own babies. John B. Watson first reported this phenomenon in literature.

Babies are born with a cry but not a smile. Every parent eagerly awaits the first smile, which appears after about two months. Very early the infant stares at shining objects, particularly if they move rapidly within short range. Hence the eager mother, after several weeks, is rewarded by his response as she talks to him with her dancing eyes. Once he begins to respond the temptation of the fond parent is to stimulate him too much, and I guess nearly all of us parents have been guilty.

A simple pleasurable emotion which is later to develop into love or affection, is stimulated in the newborn infant by stroking or caressing his body. Of course, we pat; cuddle and caress the baby mostly for our own pleasure, not for his. Mother, in spite of what some have written to the contrary, don't hesitate to kiss the baby. Better not kiss him on the lips, of course, lest you might kill him. But to kiss the baby elsewhere will do you good and keep alive your affection for its more intelligent expression later, when by your smile and tender tones and interest in his creations and inventions, listening to all his fancy yarns, answering all his questions sympathetically, treating him as a sacred personality, and growing up with him a pal, you prove your love more substantially.

In spite of the cramping of his movements by your big, rough arms, and crowding out the air and light by your huge face and head, he can probably stand it for your sake, though he doesn't want it, doesn't need it, and doesn't like it, certainly not in the early months and years. Anyway, I guess your mother kissed you without ruining your morals. I have a notion that what the world needs is more love, not less of it.

Miss D. Wilkinson Again Heads U.D.C.

With the vanguard of college students arriving daily and faculty people at Technological college returning from vacation trips, the comings and goings of people continues to be of interest.

With the opening of schools, young people who have been dancing, swimming and picnicking all summer will settle into the routine of school with socials of week-ends. Women of the city are looking forward to convention and fair activities for the fall months. Hardly a day passes without committee meetings for one of the three gathering in which women are most interested: the United Daughters of the Confederacy meeting in October, the convention of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Music clubs, on the last day of that month, and the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in early November.

Meet Today

Music club committees are meeting this afternoon with Mrs. Richard L. Douglas to plan for that meeting and Sunday's Avalanche-Journal is to carry a story on the general plans. Various committees are being appointed for the club federation meeting and some plans for this event are pending, awaiting the return of some women from late vacations.

Members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy elected officers Wednesday afternoon but retained Miss Delia Wilkinson as president. She has served during the last year and is in charge of arrangements for the state meeting here.

This was an annual election Wednesday in a meeting at Miss Wilkinson's home. Reports were heard from officers and chairman and other business was transacted.

The other elections were as follows:

First vice-president Mrs. Lon Mullican; second vice-president, Mrs. Fred Snyder; third vice-president, Mrs. Mike Barrier; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. H. Meador; recording secretary, Mrs. J. F. Tom; historian, Mrs. G. W. Scott; registrar, Mrs. Mary Lovell; pallamentarian, Mrs. J. S. Johnson; custodian, Mrs. E. P. Williamson; treasurer, Mrs. C. S. Middleton.

Mrs. A. V. Weaver was elected poet laureate; Mrs. Eppie Sowder is recorder of crosses and Mrs. R. A. Barclay was named chaplain.

Needle Clubs Meet

Several regular needle club meetings were conducted Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw was at home to members of the Lindy society in her home on 20th street and the time was spent sewing. Those who attended were Mesdames Allen Stewart, Paul Jones, Vaughn Wilson, W. G. McMillan, Harry Blocker, Hubert Allen, D. D. Cross, J. H. Murdough and N. L. Peters.

Wednesday Needle club members were guests of Mesdames W. B. Atkins and R. M. Chitwood yesterday afternoon in Mrs. Atkins' home at 2223 Broadway. Mrs. R. J. Ellis of Abilene was a special guest. Members attending were Mesdames T. B. Duggan, E. L. Klett, T. W. Thomas, James H. Goodman, C. J. Wagner, John L. Ratliff, L. B. Wright, H. A. Davidson, L. C. Ellis, S. C. Wilson, Fred Litton and Frank Maddox.

Mrs. Ralph Moore was gracious hostess to members of the Loyal Sisters Needle club Wednesday afternoon in her home at 1618 19th street. Recipes were exchanged by the guests who brought their needle work. Miss Mae Vaughn of Dallas and Mrs. Forrest Stephenson of Rockwall were special guests. Members attending were Mesdames John R. Hall C. A. Paulger, W. G. Lofland, C. J. Branch, Mike Fry, J. A. Hodges and V. H. Venable.

Martial Reign In Idaho Is Lifted

BOISE, Ida., Sept. 10 (AP)—Martial law in the timber areas of southern Idaho was ordered at an end at midnight last night and troops were recalled from the seven counties in which they have held sway for ten days.

The order for withdrawal of the troops was issued by Brig. Gen. M. G. McConnel, adjutant general, who said he had verbal orders from Gov. C. Ben Ross to end the martial low.

Withdrawal of the troops which have patrolled seven counties for more than a week followed a series of cold nights, showers and snow which reduced the fire hazard, particularly in western Idaho forests.

CLEANEST STATE

OAKLAND, Cal.—If the figures of the Laundry Owners of California can be taken as authentic, California is the cleanest state in the Union. Only two states, New York and Illinois, top California in the amount of money spent annually for laundry, the association points out, and these states have populations far in excess of California's.

MARKET ASKED FOR WHEAT

FARM BOARD SEEKING BUYERS FOR HUGE GRAIN SURPLUS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.(AP)—The farm board is negotiating in several quarters for additional sales of a part of the 200,000,000 bushels of wheat it holds.

Chairman Stone of the farm board made the statement at a press interview, but added that he had "nothing to say whatever" on reports that Germany was negotiating for 200,000 tons of farm board grain.

The board chairman would not say whether any exchanges with Germany on the reported deal had been made or whether it was even being considered.

"We have several wheat deals in view," Stone said, "but there is nothing to say for the present on any of them."

The board has sold in the past few weeks 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China and has exchanged 25,000,000 bushels for 1,050,000 bags of Brazilian coffee.

SEEK TO RECOVER POWER'S DEPOSIT

CLARKSBURG, W.Va., Sept.10.(AP)—Steps will be taken to compel J. Edward Law, attorney for Harry F. Powers, accused slayer of five, to reveal under oath what he found in Powers' safety deposit box in a local bank, counsel for the estate of Mrs. Dorothy P. Lemke, of Northboro, Mass., one of Powers' alleged victims, said today.

The box was empty when Frank M. Powell, Lemke attorney, opened it after serving attachment papers on the bank. Powell said he was informed by the bank that Law had withdrawn the contents of the receptacle under power of attorney given him by Powers August 28, the day the bodies of Mrs. Lemke and Mrs. Asta B. Eicher, of Park Ridge, Ills., and the latter's 3 children were found buried on the grounds of the matrimonial agent's garage.

Law declined comment on contents of the depository.

Lemke counsel, acting for the administrator of the woman's estate, seek to learn what disposition was made of money, bonds and other property valued at upward of $15,000 which belonged to the New England widow.

"Sky-Writing" In A New Form

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.(AP)—Elsie Janis, erstwhile of the stage and now rushing a writing career for the talkies, is en route by airplane to Hollywood, typing a story as she flies. It became known today.

Miss Janis, who has a student's pilot license, said she found a plane an excellent place for working. "You get that detached feeling. Nobody ever drops in," was her explanation of the preference for the new form of "sky-writing."

Levelland Schools Will Open Friday

LEVELLAND, Sept. 10.—(Special)—One thousand children will turn their footsteps toward the Levelland school Friday as the system opens for the 1931-32 session. About five hundred of the group will come in from the surrounding territory in sixteen busses.

Supt. L. T. Green expects a banner session. He and the corps of teachers are to return this afternoon from Lubbock where they have been attending the teachers institute at Texas Tech.

Fat Man

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles. If you will take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 4 weeks and cut out pastries, sugar and fatty meats—

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts; it will last you 4 weeks. After you have taken one bottle the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work—you'll sleep like a top and probably live years longer. Get Kruschen at Mark Halsey Drug, City Drug Store, Lubbock Drug Co., Bowen's Drug Store and Bowen's Hilton Pharmacy or any live druggist in America with the understanding that you must be joyfully satisfied or money back.

W. R. Daniels of Richmond Hill, N. Y. writes: "After 2 bottles of Kruschen, I've removed 3 inches from my belt, feel 25 per cent more active, mind is clearer, eruptions have disappeared. Am 46 yrs. old and feel 20 yrs. younger, I get up feeling 100 per cent. Kruschen Salts is great!"—Adv.

The Tinymites were set for play. At Rio de Janeiro they were just as thrilled as they could be to watch their big boat dock. Said Scouty, "Gee, that landing was a very wondrous thing because we slid right in real quietly and didn't even rock."

The Travel Man then told the bunch he thought it would be a good hunch to go ashore and get a bite. The Tinymites agreed. And, when they sat down to a meal, wee Carpy said, "Gee, this tastes real." "You bet," replied the Travel Man. "Now, all eat all you need.

"Right after eating we will go out to a spot where I will show you lads a very wondrous sight. Don't drag your meal too long. Upon a cable you will ride. It is a thrill when once it's tried. And there is naught to fret about because the cable's strong."

"Where does it lead to?" Clowny said. "Oh, you'll find out when you are fed," replied the friendly Travel Man. "Eat now, and then we'll go." Of course, this made the happy bunch real anxious to clear up their lunch, and not a single one of them from then on ate too slow.

They soon hiked to a small house where the cable car hung in the air. Then Scouty cried, "Oh, I know where our cable ride will end. Up Sugar Loaf we'll slowly rise. 'Twill seem like sailing in the skies. I'll bet the weight of all of us will make that cable bend."

Then, as they sat down in the car, one said, "Oh, gee, but that looks far up to the very mountain top. I hope we're safe and sound." The Travel Man replied, "Don't fret. Up to the top we'll safely get. The scenery below is great. All of you look around."

THE NEWS OF THE DAY — THROUGH THE CAMERA'S EYE

After New York's Bandit War Ended With Six Dead

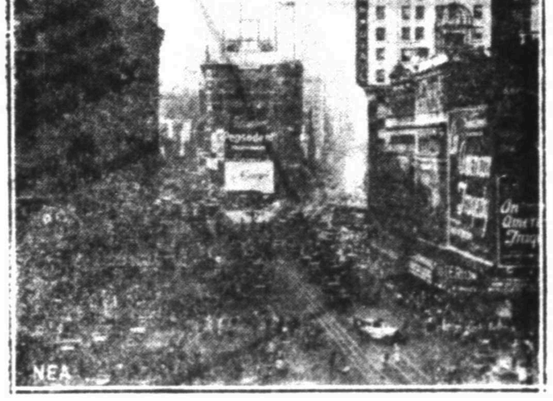

Here is the bullet-ridden auto from which two bandits spread a hail of bullets in a 90-minute running gun battle with police, firemen and pedestrians along a 12-mile front through upper Manhattan, killing six and wounding 12. The battle started when the gunmen deliberately shot down a payroll guard and ended when the bandits and their driver were killed. Detectives, who for hours after the daylight fight were unable to piece together the story of what happened, are shown beside the auto trying to identify the body of one of the gunmen. One of the victims was a four-year-old child.

Twenty-Four Hours On Broadway

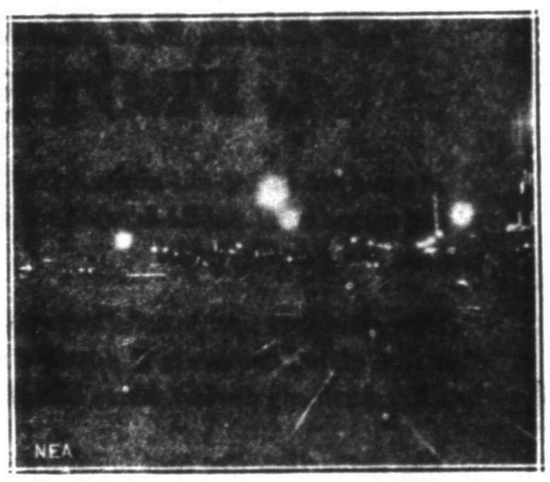

It's dawn on Broadway. Looks like a quiet country lane, doesn't it? Where is all that rush and roar you read about? Well—here it is! Times Square, jammed with trolleys and taxis, is seen as it appears in daytime. But not till night can you view—the famous capital of the theater world in its dazzling dress of bright lights. This is how Broadway looks during the play hour. But—even New York sleeps. And in the small hours the lights wink out, one by one, leaving the street cloaked in darkness.

Swift As The Swallows

The moral of this isn't to let Junior have his breakfast on the run when he wakes up late for school. But this strange race staged by New York public school children shows it could be done in case of emergency. The racers were on roller-skates and the idea was to drink a bottle of milk before reaching the finish line.

"Alfalfa Bill's" Philosophy

"A dole system is unwise. Charity to an honorable person is offensive. Every person who can work should be privileged to find employment," declared Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma as he posed at the Mississippi Valley Unemployment Conference at Memphis, Tenn.

"They say fish is good for the brain," continued the governor. "I know a lot of folks who should eat whales."

"We need a moratorium on scientific inventions. Our ingenuity is about to get the best of us," declared the wise-cracking executive in a caustic conclusion.

This Baby Gets Classy Care

No wonder 11-months-old baby Jack is becoming "tubby." He has all the girls in the senior home economics class at Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, to care for him. One girl is his nurse for four weeks at a time, feeding him, dressing him, and supervising his social development.

Insures Shoulders For $15,000

Lil Dagover, German stage and screen star, arriving at New York bound for Hollywood and stardom there, is reported to have insured her shoulders for 60,000 marks (approximately $15,000) with a Berlin insurance agency prior to sailing.

Ruth Nichols Gets New Transatlantic Airplane

Just as soon as Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., society girl, recovers sufficiently from the injuries she received when her plane cracked up on landing, at Newfoundland, on her intended first flight across the Atlantic, she will attempt a second flight in this new plane. Clarence Chamberlin, who probably will make the flight with her, already has inspected the ship and found it satisfactory.

No Target

Charging that he threw furniture and dishes at her, Ethel Clayton, former blond beauty of the screen, filed suit at Los Angeles against Ian Keith, famous actor, with whom she is shown above.

Ex-Mate, Best Man Change Places

June Ramsay, Broadway beauty of two decades ago, left, has announced plans to marry Sabino Maraschio, below, right, Spanish sugar magnate, who acted as best man at her first wedding to Adolph Erdmann, New York yachtsman and coal merchant, above. And since Maraschio and Erdmann are the best of friends, the latter will act as best man for the former.

Russia's Leaders In "State" Attire

It was a "state occasion."—but the rough and ready attire of Soviet Russia was in striking contrast to the top hats and gold-braided uniform worn at official ceremonies by statesmen of other nations. Oblivious of the camera, Maxim Gorky (right), Joseph Stalin (center) and A. S. Yenukidze (left), secretary of the Central Executive Committee of the U. S. S. R., are shown here during celebrations attending International Red Day in Moscow. They reviewed a gigantic parade of physical culturists.

Chicago's "Jungle-on-the-Loop"

Here's one of the habitats of that curious American creature, the Genus Hobo. Yes. It is a hobo "Jungle" and it is situated right in the great city of Chicago, on the very edge of its famous Loop. Fashioned from any scrap material available, these shacks provide shelter for nearly 100 tramps, whose means of sustenance remains a mystery. Insert is Joe Lorraine, one of the denizens of the "Jungle," enjoying a feed of corn off the cob.

Tokio's Mayor

American mayors have nothing on the Japanese when it comes to taking part in the opening of important baseball games, for the sport is popular in Japan. Here is Mayor Hidejiro M. Nagata of Tokio pitching the first ball at a recent inter-city championship contest.

Little Victim Of Lawlessness

New York and the country at large is again shocked by the shooting and killing of a child in a gun battle in the streets of the metropolis. Little Gloria Lopez, three, shown above on her deathbed in a New York hospital, was shot and fatally wounded when two payroll bandits, in flight, fired into the car driven by Gloria's father, who was also wounded. The bandits, a taxi driver, two policemen and little Gloria were killed in the running fight and thirteen others were wounded.

SPYING ON SPORTS
BY COLLIER PARRIS

BATTERIEES for t'night's game: For Tahoka, Knight shall chunk, Cox will catch; for Lubbock, Graham on the hill, Galey at the plate. Play ball!

Forecasting batteries for a game in Lubbock is about as disastrous as trying to pick the winner in a Kentucky Derby five years hence, but the above has been handed us to be translated literally. To pick a battery for next day's game would give us a bigger kick than to accurately forecast the outcome of a ski race in Death Valley, or a Texas Tech football game.

Which reminds us that it is time to scram out to Matador Field and see the first edition of the 1931 Texas Tech varsity football team as it comes off the press, untrimmed and deckle-edged. We expect to see about fifty men apply for equipment this afternoon.

A great question mark hangs over Matador field. It cannot be evaded, and would that we knew the answer now.. What can Cawthon show us after a year of preparation? We've been reading and hearing a lot about Tech's sophomore team for 1931, the beginnings of a new era of football in West Texas. Now what is it going to do to justify all the nice things, hopeful things which have been said about it? What will the scoreboard show on the night of November 26? What are Texas Tech's chances to break into really big print Tech is seven years old. It is time something was coming of its athletics.

In the first place, Pete Cawthon, with the able help of Assistants Del Morgan and Dutchey Smith, is going to show us more than the ordinary coach could and as much as any coach could under the circumstances. Of that we are quite convinced, and we wish to go on record here as saying that whatever happens during the next two and a half months we are going to be convinced that the Tech mentor is doing his best. If it is in the 1931 prospects to play ball and if an earthquake doesn't swallow Matador Field, fans out to the end of Seventh, Eighth and Ninth streets are going to get their money's worth this fall.

As for Tech's sophomore lineup, we'd advise you not to go out to the field or to make any of the trips with the expectations of seeing only a gang of youngsters playing under fire for their first time. There'll be some veterans in there to keep the kids under control, and the combination should do something. Which means that reserve strength should not be one of the missing factors when Matador meets opposition.

The scoreboard on the evening of November 26? It may show Tech on the small end so far as that day's game is concerned, for Les Cranfill is not going to have any slouchy team on the Cowboy field that day. But for a season's total we believe that the pendulum will have to swing a "fer piece" to cover the total score, and not so far on the other side. There is a tough schedule to face, the toughest ever looked forward to by a Tech team. There is Baylor to play at Waco, Haskell institute at Dallas and the Texas School of Mines at El Paso, not to speak of the University of New Mexico at Lubbock, the Colorado School of Mines at Lubbock and New Mexico A. & M. at Las Cruces. But at that we predict more victories than losses for the Matadors this season.

Tech made a great start when it opened seven years ago, placed a couple of great teams on the field. But it was only a flash in the pan. Something was lacking in the plan to carry on and keep building up. We believe that that something was replaced last year with the introduction of a new set of coaches. Subsequently there was an increase in school spirit and a renewal of athletic vows, or so it seemed. Now let the good work go on and never stop until Tech reaches and surpasses that standard which characterises the great schools of the nation. Amen.

The Sweetwater series, scheduled for Saturday night and Sunday afternoon at Merrill Park, has been called off. Management of the Sweetwater outfit failed to agree to the terms, or couldn't get off on those particular dates, or something. Anyway, at this scribbling, thre is no game posted for the week-end. Manager Fred Stanton was in to say that perhaps a series would be arranged with Amarillo for Saturday night and Sunday.

A number of Class B coaches and school authorities met at Tech Tuesday afternoon to talk over various and sundry things in connection with the approaching football season and to deny Spur High school a chair in the league's business this fall. Spur, you remember, was kicked out on its respective ear last winter for alleged infraction of the ineligibility rules. It was never quite clear to us what that infraction was, though it was rumored that certain members of the 1930 team had never been born, or were born a couple or five years too soon or had never been legally identified. The result was a request by the District 3 executive committee to the state authorities that the team be suspended for a couple years. Now with a new coach, though the old one was one of the best in the league, and a new raft of players Spur seeks admission, promising to be good and all that. But it didn't work and Coach Washam has a year in which to prep for a team next year.

FIFTY REPORT FOR VARSITY CLUB HERE

ABOUT HUNDRED FIRST YEAR MEN ON HAND FOR TRAINING

The atmosphere about Matador Field reverberated with the whoops and hellos of a hundred and fifty football prospects and three anxious coaches when the lid was taken off the Texas Tech practice season at 9 o'clock this morning. Of that number, about fifty are candidates for Pete Cawthon's varsity team for 1931. The rest are first year men, coming to college and to a college gridiron for the first time.

Equipment was issued yesterday to the Tech football hopefuls. With the exception of one or two, every varsity candidate who had received an invitation to return this season was on hand, together with a dozen or so junior college graduates from various sections of the country. Thirteen of them are veterans of Matador Field, returning for their last year here. About twenty-five are sophomores, from whose lists there is a possibility of drawing a complete lineup for the 1931 season.

Coach Cawthon yesterday intimated that the two-a-day plan would be carried out through the practice season, the varsity candidates meeting at 9 each morning and again at 3 o'clock in the afternoons for two periods of two hours practice. Freshman training does not officially open until the opening of school, but the first year men will be allowed to do their own practice between now and the opening of classes. Freshman Coach Dutchey Smith will assist Cawthon and Morgan with the varsity men through the early training sessions.

All of which made Detectives Wilson and Armstrong shed large tears. Burglars broke open the safe, got $200 from it and left the room so full of tear gas that when the detectives appeared on the scene they had to break down and cry.

GAME TO MARK LOCAL HIGH DEBUT

THREE-WEEK TRAINING PERIOD ENDED FOR CHAPMAN COHORTS

The Lubbock High school Westerners will open their 1931 playing season Saturday afternoon when they meet the Floydada High school Whirlwind at Matador Field. The game will start at 3 o'clock. After three weeks of practice, the Westerners appear in shape for an extended scrimmage and the Floydada team, under the direction of Coach L. T. Barksdale, who begins his second year as coach there, have been practicing that long.

Saturday will mark the first public debut of Coach Weldon Chapman as coach of the Westerners, and his assistant, Berl Huffman. Chapman for the last nine years has been coach at Cisco High school and Huffman for three years has coached the White Deer school teams.

The Westerner mentor did not designate a probable starting lineup for Saturday's game, choosing to wait through two more days of practice in order to see how the candidates shape up in signal work and in plays that will be stressed today and tomorrow. Most of the practice work so far has been confined to fundamentals and general practice.

PIRATES OPEN LATE SPURT

WINNING STREAK IS EXTENDED TO EIGHT GAMES WEDNESDAY

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Completely out of the pennant race but hopeful of gaining a first division berth in the National league, the Pittsburgh Pirates have begun a brilliant spurt just in time to do some serious damage to the chances of the teams they meet.

Triumphing over Brooklyn yesterday, the Pirates extended their latest winning streak to eight games, their longest of the season and left the Robins in the uncomfortable position of being within a half game of mathematical elimination from the struggle for the flag.

Washington carried off the honors of the American league's only game, downing the Philadelphia Athletics 2 to 1 in a ten inning duel between "General" Al Crowder and Rube Walberg without doing any serious damage to the A's pennant prospects. The victory still left the Senators 13 games behind with only 18 to go.

The two exhibition games, played on an off day for nearly all the major league clubs, netted $104,131.60 for the unemployed of New York and Chicago, brought a victory apiece for the two leagues and apparently proved that it is easier to score with the National league ball than the livelier American league sphere.

Yanks Down Giants

As 60,549 fans saw the New York Yankees beat the Giants 7 to 3, only three of the ten counters were scored with the American league ball in the first five innings while the rest, including a homer by Babe Ruth, came in the last four frames.

The results o fthe comparison were much the same in Chicago, where a crowd of 34,865 saw the Cubs and Charlie Root down the White Sox 3 to 0. Not a run was scored with the American league ball and all three in the last half of the game.

DOEG IMPROVES IN TENNIS FORM

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—Before he started in defense of his national singles tennis title, two predications were made about the chances of Johnny Doeg and to a certain extent both have been fulfilled. The first was that, dropped to fifth in the seeding, he stood about as much chance of repeating his 1930 victory as that place indicated; the other that if he got safely past his first few matches his chances would look somewhat better.

Doeg had a close call in his opening match with Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore and fared only a little better against Ned Herndon of New York. With these two struggles behind him, the big titleholder from Newark, N. J., showed a considerably better brand of tennis yesterday when he eliminated Bryan Grant, jr., the little Atlanta player who had conquered Jacques Brugnon and earned a right to favorable consideration today when he faces Frank X. Shields, tall Davis cup star who is ranked second in the United States.

JIM McGRATH AND TONY GARDINI TO WRESTLE TONIGHT IN MAIN EVENT IN ATHLETIC PROGRAM; BOXING CARDED

As the main event in the second weekly Golden Glove amateur boxing and wrestling program, sponsored by the Lubbock Community Chest and managed by Joe Blinn, a three-fall match between Jim McGrath of Kansas City and Tony Gardini of Roswell will be staged at the Avenue H arena north of the underpass.

The program is the second of a series during which elimination process is applied to local and sectional amateur boxers entered in the Golden Glove tournament.

Sixteen rounds of amateur boxing are scheduled in four bouts, and a semi-final one-fall wrestling match between Chief Stine, Indian heavyweight, and Gorilla Duke, claimant of the Oklahoma middleweight title, is offered tonight, the show beginning at 8 o'clock.

McGrath, 210-pound heavyweight appearing in the main event, has met Ed "Strangler" Lewis, Jim Londos, Stan Zbyszko, the late Wayne Munn, Rudy Dusek and other outstanding heavyweights. His opponent tonight, the rotund Tony Gardini, won over Stine in a wrestling match here last Friday night.

FIGHT CALLED DRAW

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—(AP)—King Levinsky, Chicago heavyweight, floored Con. O'Kelly, rugged Boston Irish, twice in the first round of their 10-round battle in the White City out-door arena last night, but the judges and referees disagreed on their verdict with the result the fight was called a draw amid howls of disapproval from the spectators.

Hubbers, Tahoka To Play Tonight

TWO RACE CONTESTS WILL BE FEATURE OF GAME HERE

Tonight's card at the ball park will be featured by a couple, if not three, acts of vodvil, for when baseball players run races in baseball uniforms it could hardly be termed a track meet. To settle an argument in the stands and on the field as to who is the swifter of the two, Ed Hambright and "Evo" Marshall, Hubber outfielders, will engage in a 100-yard dash against stop watch- a 100-yard dash against stop watch- big Hersh Galey, catcher, also have a speedy argument to settle in a like manner. The program begins at 8:15 o'clock.

A baseball game between the Lubbock Hubbers and the Tahoka Bulldogs will follow the track events. Willis Knight, former Hubber pitcher who has been touring the country since leaving the local club several weeks ago, returned yesterday and is slated to pitch for Tahoka tonight. He called bases last night. Blue-Eyes Graham is carded as Lubbock's pitcher in the second and final of the series.

Last night saw the Hubbers and Bulldogs in one of those heavy scoring, uninteresting things that happen in the best of baseball circles but should not happen too often. The locals pecked away at four pitchers to run up a final score of 16 to 5 against the Lynn county lads. The Tahoka team was allegedly strengthened by the addition of several players from Lamesa but all to no avail.

Greer Dickey had a 3-hit pitching performance behind him until the eighth when he stumbled to let about six Bulldogs hit him, resulting in four more runs. Both teams were hard on the error column and gave poor support to the chunkers.

SPUDDERS SPLIT WITH SHREVEPORT

(By The Associated Press)

Wichita Falls and Shreveport closed their combats against each other yesterday by splitting a doubleheader. The Sports won the first, 6 to 4. The Spudders grabbed the nightcap, 2 to 1. Lefty Erickson, who has been sold to the Chicago White Sox, was in top form. He limited Wichita Falls to nine hits. His mates collected fourteen off Presnell. Lee and Ferrell engaged in a mound duel in the second game, with Ferrell the winner.

The Beaumont Exporters celebrated Manager Del Baker's day by sweeping a doubleheader from the San Antonio Indians, 3 to 0 and 9 to 3.

LET'S QUIT Killing People IN THIS TOWN!

A car roars madly down the street. Suddenly brakes screech. A limp body drops in a huddle before horrified onlookers, and Death claims another victim of reckless driving.

4. To go through intersections only when I have the right of way.
5. To observe all traffic signals.
6. To give signals myself that can be clearly seen and understood, before turning or stopping in traffic.
7. To drive only when in full possession of my faculties.
8. To keep my brakes, lights, and horn in good condition.
9. To operate my car on tires which assure a positive grip on the road—safe traction—and freedom from hazardous tire failures.

Thought For Today

When a man resists sin on human motives only, he will not hold out long.—Bishop Wilson.

No Honor Here

IF the outlawed element of society could be given enough rope it would hang itself undoubtedly. But in the process it would destroy entirely too many innocent bystanders. When one gang makes war upon another, in the sinister fashion of the underworld, it is sounding a warning to cemetery sextons to get busy. However, these self-dug graves are always surrounded by slim green plots of innocent victims.

New evidence of this has come from the Michigan state prison at Marquette, where three gangsters, foiled in an attempt at escape, and one confederate, committed suicide. The three desperadoes realized that they would be captured. They twisted Patrick Henrys challenging words, "give me liberty or give me death," to their own crooked needs. They weren't game enough to meet their conquerors. So they killed themselves.

But as they started their attempt at freedom they shot the prison physician. It was a cowardly act. Even gangsters sometimes are better sports than that. The three men pretended they were ill. They appealed to Dr. A. W. Hornbogen for medical attention which was granted immediately. Probably laughing to themselves at their own cleverness the crooks cold-bloodedly killed the physician.

Blood thirsty enemies of society can scarcely be called men. They are motivated entirely by beastly motives, and if another is in their way, he must die. Not because he has wronged them. Just because he happens to be there. With so many finer interests in the world it is regrettable that society must spend so much of its time and money in destroying a human element that cannot be controlled in any other fashion. This element must be stamped out before people will be free to pursue more pleasant lines of interest.

Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness are all endangered today. More so, because the criminal-minded have access to the same scientific knowledge that the protective element has. Desperadoes, at heart, are cowards. The Michigan men were. When they were defeated they killed themselves rather than face the consequences. A good old-fashioned scare may not convert a desperado but it will protect an innocent man sometimes.

Chivalry

IN spite of the fact that it is a brave man who gives a woman his seat on a street car today, there is a hangover of chivalry left in the world in the old-fashioned sense of the word at that.

Amos W. W. Woodcock, prohibition director, has announced that women are not to be employed in collecting evidence of law violations. In other terms, it is a man's business to attend to this warfare and women are being given a certain deference when they are removed from the liquor battle lines. There is something wholesome and refreshing in the realization that gallantry still takes a hand in the game now and then.

Children And Jobs

The stay-in-school campaign, which has been announced by President Hoover's new organization on unemployment relief, deserves the co-operation of every father and mother in the country. There are 6,000,000 jobless people in America. Yet the children's division of the Labor Department has revealed that an alarming number of boys and girls, 14 and 15 years of age, are obtaining labor certificates. The report, based on a 1930 survey, shows that there is a decrease from the previous year, but that there is a regular army of youngsters seeking work.

That Girl on Broadway says the nagging wife, who lives next door, took her husband to the dentist and still wouldn't let him open his mouth.

If all the careless drivers in Texas put their heads together their skulls would make wonderful highways and there'd be enough concrete left over to pave Lubbock's lovely center parkways.

IT IS encouraging to note that the City administration, prodded by school authorities, is giving attention to traffic hazards in the neighborhoods of school buildings but Superintendent M. H. Duncan is "right as a fox" when he says it "will take more than suggestion to keep motorists from parking along 19th street, fronting the high school."

Mayor Clements said "drivers are being asked" not to park there, for the very good reason that the parked machines obscure vision of the thoroughfare and add to traffic hazards. The Plainsman agrees with 'Doctor' Duncan in that "there ought to be a law" to prohibit such parking, in the interest safety of hundreds of students.

There is plenty of parking space in the neighborhood adjacent to the high school building and it won't hurt any of the kids to walk a block, or so, to reach the school or to return to their cars.

An ounce—or, if necessary, several ounces—of prevention is worth a pound of cure, especially when life and limb hangs in the balance.

That Man on Avenue Q says this is the time of year when the average coach wishes he had gone into the grocery business.

Lubbock people have discovered that when you can buy it for five cents a pint, there's no use crying over spilt milk.

* * *

SOMEHOW or other The Plainsman can't convince himself that the depression is as bad with the rank and file of people as it is with the business men. Support being given entertainments does not indicate that it is.

Take the Dempsey comeback, for instance.

The one-time Manassa Mauler has fought three times, at least, since starting up the comeback trail and each time the 'gate' has run into the thousands of dollars. The Plainsman remembers at least two of the fights as receipting $31,000 and $15,000—good hard dough plunked down to see an ex-champion, albeit a most popular one, manhandle a bunch of setups.

There was a circus man in The Plainsman's office the other day.

"What kind of a season are you having?" he was asked.

"Pretty fair, taking everything into consideration", he answered. "I've seen a lot worse in 12 years with a circus."

He went on to explain that the show this year had struck several poor belts in which they were booked to perform for a period of from two to three weeks.

"We lost money in those belts", the circus man said, "but as soon as we got out of them, we made it back and then some".

LATE last summer—or rather it was early fall—with an admittedly poor year in the offing, Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey's Combined circus played to the largest circus crowds in South Plains history. A showman "in the know", told The Plainsman two weeks later that Ringling took in $31,000 in Lubbock—more than the show took in in San Angelo and about $1,000 less than Amarillo paid.

In that circus audience The Plainsman saw acquaintances from as far away as Matador, Flydada, Levelland, Seminole, Post, Snyder and Spur.

Understand. The Plainsman is not criticizing people for supporting amusements. Not at all.

In times of stress, a little entertainment is worth a lot for it takes harried minds off of troubles, offers interests to at least temporarily supplant the worries of the work-a-day world. People who can at all afford amusements should take them in just for their own benefit if for no other reason. As stated in the column yesterday, "go to the circus if you can" and by that we mean to include all decent public amusements "for you'll never know the difference when you're pushing up daisies".

BUT until the women folks quit playing bridge every other day for fancy prizes; until the attendance at amusements of all types falls off and until people quit driving as far as 180 miles to see a circus, The Plainsman isn't going to believe the depression's as bad as it sometimes painted.

Oh, it's here all right—there's no denying that. But it will be quite awhile before the best thing to do will be for everybody to cut his throat!

The Plainsman's fine enthusiasm, aroused at the announcement by P. G. Wodehouse that movie companies were paying authors $100,000 per year to loaf, has entirely diminished. The author of "The Sheik" is writing another novel.

"Is that an eight or a twelve?" a Lubbock man, admiring his neighbor's new car, inquired.

"It's both", the owner replied. "Eight cylinders and twelve payments."

Wealthy People In United States Are Becoming Nervous As National Unemployment Relief Plan Gets Under Way

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The unemployment relief issue is the biggest story in the country today and everyone in touch with the situation agrees that it is going to get bigger.

DUTCHER

Seldom in peacetime has thought been so generally directed at any problem. The president, governors, politicians of all sorts, labor leaders, business men and, goodness knows, several million jobless persons, are intensely concerned and will become more intensely concerned as cold weather approaches, as drives are launched for unprecedented sums and as Congress prepares to assemble.

It is no secret that many substantial persons, especially those who have a great deal of money, are nervous. It is axiomatic that almost anyone who accumulates money or inherits it soon begins to worry about the possibility, however remote, of losing it. So the specters of Communist riots and "socialistic" legislation both, or a select few whereas they do not worry the great majority of us who realize that there will be no Communist uprising and that the country isn't going to turn Socialist overnight.

Nevertheless, the aforesaid nervousness is perhaps the best bet President Hoover and Walter S. Gifford, head of the national unemployment relief organization, have as they try to raise big enough subscriptions to local relief funds to take the steam out of the movement for federal relief appropriations. Figures are available to indicate that in last winter's relief drives the very wealthy citizens bore a proportionately puny share of the burden.

At the same time, however, the agitation for direct federal relief is becoming steadily stronger. There is now even a respectable body of opinion which holds that President Hoover himself, stout defender of rugged individualism and proponent of the theory that there must be community and state "doles" but no federal "dole," is getting ready to jump in case popular and political pressure become too heavy.

It is no great comfort for the administration to hear William Green, the conservative president of the American Federation of Labor who says there will be 7,000,000 jobless persons this winter, predict that federal appropriations will be necessary.

Green apparently is not primarily bent on pleasing the administration because he also asserts that wage reductions already "have served to extend the distressing period of unemployment." The capital anticipates with interest the annual A. F. of L. convention early in October. The federation may not demand federal relief, but if not there probably will be some real fireworks.

Governors of the two most populous states, Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Roosevelt of New York, after looking over their situations, respectively have demanded an extra session of Congress to grant federal relief and asked the New York legislature for a $20,000,000 relief fund to be raised by increasing income taxes. Mr. Hoover, according to his spokesmen, sees a Pinchot-Roosevelt plot to embarrass him and force him to act. At any rate, the two governors have added to the strength of the movement for federal aid.

The current idea that the president may yet back down from his vigorous opposition to federal relief is not supported in any way by his favorite journalistic protagonists, who insis there is nothing more certain than a presidential veto for any such legislation.

Nevertheless, others are pointing out that Mr. Hoover is now in a position to pass the buck to the commission of 60 or more prominent Americans whom he chose as an advisory commission to back Gifford. If he should put the matter up to the commission and it decided in favor of federal help, the president could act gracefully. Perhaps the chief factor in encouraging this view has been Gifford's refusal to express himself either for or against the proposal for federal appropriations.

The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding," and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

X-RAY TREATMENT

ACNE, THAT disease of the skin which consists of a pus infection of the sluggish oil glands of the skin, is very common. In this column yesterday and the day before was considered the treatment of the more or less simple cases.

Dr. Clendening

All of the cases, however, are not simple. Often the infection when it is of long standing, causes deep scarring of the skin, and the infection itself may be very deep-seated and stubborn.

Under such circumstances, indeed under all circumstances, when the conditions persist, the patient should consult a physician. Many of the patients become hopeless and despairing. For their benefit, it is well to let them know that great benefit can be given nearly every case.

Many patients with this condition are unaware of the value of X-ray treatments properly carried out. In the Vanderbilt Clinic, New York, 80 per cent of the cases are treated by the X-ray.

The X-ray is especially valuable in cases where "the comedones are numerous, large or hard, or the intervening skin is thickened," according to a well known textbook on the skin. Also where there is a deep-seated change in the skin with scarring and thickening. In slow, more or less stationary cases, but where improvement is not evident accompanied by a good deal of oil in the skin, they are also indicated.

In certain cases X-rays should not be used. Mild cases are better treated by cleaning the skin, extracting the comedones and dietetic and general methods, as described yesterday. When the inflammation of the skin is very acute it should subside before X-ray treatment is attempted. In cases when after three or four exposures to the X-ray no good results are obtained their use should in most cases be abandoned. But this leaves four-fifths of the cases in which X-ray treatment is recommended.

X-ray treatment clears up more cases more rapidly than any other method. With proper supervision the disease disappears under X-ray treatment in three or four months.

Ultra violet light is also very valuable in many cases but the results with the ultra violet light are not as good as with X-ray. Recurrences are more frequent with the ultra violet than with the X-rays. But in properly selected cases they are efficient and have their place in the treatment of the disease.

All methods of treatment, however, must be combined for the successful eradication of the disease. It tends to get better as time goes on, but for many young men and women it constitutes a greater problem than more serious diseases.

Mrs. M. E.: In a recent article you mentioned dried milk preparations. Where can they be purchased? I cannot afford to keep ice and would like to use them in my tea.

Answer: There are various dried milks. They should be obtainable at any drug store or grocery. They are excellent for the purpose you mention.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—Nine years ago, a courageous young theatrical producer opened his own playhouse "way-up-town," just a few steps away from an ancient car line terminal. That car barn is now the Roxy theater. And Earl Carroll, who pioneered in the Broadway outskirts, has just opened a new theater on the site of his first venture.

In the years that have elapsed, the ascetic-faced Carroll has managed to get his name nationally identified with vulgarities and nudities. Perhaps his new showhouse, which is spectacularly ingenious in its equipment and trappings, may introduce the other side of this strangest of personalities on the strangest of highways.

The "other side" of Carroll is a scientific side, an inventive personality; a studious, thoughtful, experimental personality.

For instance: Just a few months back, I was in Schenectady and paid a visit to the General Electric laboratories. Like all visitors, I was taken to the famous "house of magic."

A short movie subject was shown, and in it was starred none other than Earl Carroll. He had conferred for weeks with the laboratory wizards on trick lighting innovations he had heard about. He had gone away with every available gadget for his new show house.

And this was the same fellow whose name was dragged across front pages in connection with a bath-tub orgy and arrests for permitting ultra nudity.

Just a few days ago a note came to me from the Western Electric offices. It announced that Carroll had "adopted for the first time innovations that promise to revolutionize legitimate stage producing. Six loud speakers have been installed in the auditorium and in 20 other parts of the building insuring perfect transmission from the stage to any part of the house. It will also make possible a disappearing orchestra, working on an elevator platform. The orchestra descends to the basement and the platform can be used for stage production, while the orchestra's music reaches the audience despite its location. Combinations of off-and-on stage musical effects can be obtained through push-typing operated by any one of the actors which automatically manipulates a microphone to almost any position. Special records have been made to give value to off-stage effects."

And there you have Carroll, the scientific innovator.

One time I asked Carroll about the nudities of his chorus. He smiled his sad smile and said quietly: "When I put on my first show I didn't have money enough to buy many costumes. That was a chief reason why many of the girls didn't have much to wear."

There's another little-known tale about Carroll's beginnings on Broadway. The money that launched him came from a wealthy oil-and-mine genius from the west named Edrington. Edrington arrived on Broadway with much gold in his jeans and the desire to "angel" a show. He begged to get into the theater. Carroll was putting on a play in 42nd street. There was little hope of keeping it alive, but the producer was using pulmotor methods. Someone steered Edrington into Carroll's office and the newcomer offered to toss some of his money into the production.

"You'd only lose it. Don't be silly." You couldn't save this play. Put it into something that's got a chance." In some such words Carroll is said to have discouraged the investor.

Naturally Edrington was amazed. He had heard of Broadway as a sucker-street, and here was someone warning a sucker. So impressed was the rich man that he staked Carroll in later ventures, including the building of his first theater. The westerner is now a New Yorker and one of the executives in Carroll's concern.

George Bernard Shaw, commenting upon the economic situation in Great Britain, says "the bankers are always wrong, too." But, George, not when they send you a notice of an overdraft!

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

KERSHNER ANSWERS ARTICLE BY CITY PASTO

Dear Plainsman: Referring to an article appearing in Monday's Journal by Rev. Bradner J. Moore, I agree with that writer that the world faces a "crisis in that we are about to enter on a third winter of appalling unemployment" and that in America there is plenty of "political graft", political cowardice and plenty of plain old political dumbness. But when the gentleman states that there is "no hope" for better conditions under the present economic system and that our social and economic life "will have" to be reconstructed "on sound religious principles", I am afraid he is a bit pessimistic.

No doubt present anti-trust laws should be enforced and the accumulation of great wealth by individuals and corporations should be discouraged by reasonable legislation, but the depression has not been caused by the capitalists any more than by the laboring class.

One great extreme follows another. Since the war in America, as well as in other nations, greater prosperity has been enjoyed than ever before known. Now Americans are naturally wasteful and during these fat years, both rich and poor have become ridiculously extravagant. When we finally realized we were in for some hard times, few men had anything laid up for times of unemployment but instead they were in debt for fine homes, cars, radios and other luxuries.

Our people, as compared to the people of Russia and many other countries, know nothing of real hard times and less of economy. For instance, whole wheat flour ca[n] bought today for less than one [cent] per pound and yet most of [us] who will "ride" the bread line [this] winter are now paying ten cen[ts] pound for bread.

The depression is bad—ter[rible] and unnecessary and could, pos[sibly] have been almost averted if we had enough farsighted states[men] who were unselfish enough, [as] with the courage of Bill Murra[y]. In fact, this writer believes it [can] now almost be wiped out within [sixty] days if the state legisla[ture] would pass laws cutting down [the] working day to five or six h[ours]. Figure out how many more [men] would be employed.

This is a temporary measur[e] would, of course, work a hard[ship] on those now holding a job of [forty] hours but who can say it w[ould] not be fair? It would only be ne[ces]sary for every one to practice [true] economy and in a short time, [with] everyone at work, earning an [honest] living by the sweat of [the] brow, industry would soon be h[um]ming.

Now, anyway, with our states realizing the seriousness of the [situ]ation and with such men as [Wil]liam Green leading labor, we are [on] the road to recovery. Within a [few] months we can look back on [these] days of trouble and say it [may] have been for the best". At [any] rate, we, both rich and poor, [will] be a wiser people by having the [ex]perience.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10 (AP)—The cotton market had a firm opening today, responding fully to much better Liverpool cables than due, first trades showing gains of 8 to 9 points, although there was a slight recession of 1 to 2 points right after the start prices soon rallied again on trade buying and covering by shorts scalpers. October traded up to 6.99 and December to 7.22, or 12 points above yesterday's close. The action of the Texas farmers probably helped the early advance.

At the end of the first hour the market was steady and within one point of the highs.

The market became somewhat quieter after the early advance but ruled steady for the greater part of the morning but towards mid-session prices eased off on considerable hedge selling, October dropping to 6.90 and December to 7.63, or 9 points down from the early highs. After these offerings were absorbed the market became steadier and rallied 2 to 6 points from the lows.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Cotton opened at an advance of 8 to 10 points on a continuation of the buying which developed here yesterday and which found additional encouragement in the relatively firm showing of Liverpool. There was a little southern selling, but contracts were comparatively scarce with the advance soon extending to 7.18 for December and 7.48 for March, or 11 to 12 points above yesterday's closing quotation.

The buying was accompanied by further talk of a holding movement in the south and Washington press reports concerning the proposed establishment of credits for cotton exports, appeared to make a favorable impression.

Liverpool cables said the market there had been influenced by covering with continental and Bombay buying was reported in the local market, although Liverpool was a seller here at the start, presumably on the differences.

The early advance was checked by realizing or reselling by some recent buyers, and later fluctuations were somewhat irregular. Comparatively light offerings were absorbed on reactions of 6 or 7 points, however, and the market was quiet but fairly steady at midday with December holding around 7.14 and the general list about 6 to 8 points above yesterday's closing quotations.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10 (AP) — Cotton futures opened very steady. Oct. 6.96; Dec. 7.19; Jan. 7.27; March 7.46; May 7.65; July 7.80.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Cotton futures opened very steady Oct. 6.90; Dec. 7.16; Jan. 7.25; March 7.45; May 7.63; July 7.79.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Stocks turned heavy today after early short covering had lifted representative leading shares a point or two.

Omission of the Rock Island dividend, coming so soon after the New York Central cut, proved unsettling, especially in the railroad group, but industrials, especially electrical equipments, gave ground.

Rock Island common quickly dropped 10 points and there were net losses of 1 to 2 in Union Pacific, Atchison, New York Central and others. Westinghouse and General Electric sagged a couple of points. American Telephone, which opened 2 points higher, dipped fractionally under the previous close and U. S. Steel turned a smaller rise into a narrow loss. Allied Chemical, Columbian Carbon, Du Pont and Consolidated Gas declined a point or more.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

JEWISH HOLIDAY TO BE OBSERVED

Observing the high holidays of Rosh Hashanah, Saturday and Sunday, stores owned by Jewish citizens will be closed here Saturday until 6:30 p. m. and will be open from then until midnight.

Rosh Hashanah opens the Jewish period of repentance and is the Jewish New Year. In this period, annual reading of the Torah is concluded. Tradition is that God records the fate of the universe and its people for the coming year in this judgment book at this time.

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, most solemn of all days on the Jewish calendar, will close the period 10 days later.

Stores to be closed Saturday are Levine's, the Model store, Grollman's, the Cinderella shop, La Mode shop, Pearl's grocery and J. Cohn's.

BONDS TRIAL

The child was born at the White residence.

"There goes the man I'm going to get if he doesn't get me first," Juanita Murphy testified she heard White say in reference to the elder Bonds while in White's store the Wednesday immediately preceding the slaying Sunday, April 5. Miss Murphy is a daughter of Mrs. Sam Murphy, who also joined the parade of witnesses.

Mrs. Murphy is a sister-in-law of John Murphy, who had been a partner of White in the grocery business and who bought White's interest last January 22.

Other Threats Claimed

The groceman also threatened Vester Bonds, his son-in-law, Miss Murphy testified. The day after she heard White threaten the elder Birds, the young woman said she was in the Murphy store when White referred to his son-in-law and allegedly remarked:

"I'll kill the —— if I ever find him—I regret that I didn't do it when I started to."

Mrs. Murphy's testimony corroborated her daughter's version. Mrs. Dewey Murphy, aunt of Juanita, also was named as having heard White's statement concerning the Bonds youth.

The elder Bonds, a stocky brunet of dark complexion, is expected to be on the stand most of the afternoon. Although he has not undergone cross-examination, he thus far has been a steady witness. His appearance this morning was neat. He was coatless, wore a blue shirt and harmonizing tie, and gray trousers.

John Murphy took the stand to report evidence of ill feeling between Lester Bonds, twin brother of Vester, and White. Murphy testified that White, armed, tried to force Lester to drive him to the Bonds home. The version was similar to that of Lester Bonds, Wednesday.

Other witnesses this morning were Mrs. F. M. Ellington, W. A. Tittle, and F. B. Earnest, all of Brownfield.

The defendant this afternoon probably will relate the slaying of White with a .380 caliber automatic pistol early one Sunday morning in a Brownfield cafe. White was seated on a stool, a cup of coffee before him, near the center of the builddding when Bonds began to fire, states witnesses testified Wednesday.

Ill feeling between Bonds and White also was attributed to Bonds' dismissal from a state highway department crew in testimony recorded Wednesday. H. E. McBride, foreman for the state department in Terry and Yoakum counties, testified White had told him about a letter to division headquarters at Lubbock, asking McBride's discharge. White said Bonds and a Dr. Stephens had brought the letter to him to be typewritten, the foreman testified.

"When I found out about the letter, I made a trip to Lubbock to see Mr. Carver, of the division headquarters, and asked him to come to Brownfield and investigate the trouble," the witness said. "Mr. Carver told me he was not interested in the affair and that I should discharge the employe causing the trouble.

"On the following Saturday night after the conference, I discharged Bonds, telling him the reasons for doing so," he said.

With McBride's testimony, the state rested its case. Prior to the state's resting, E. Brown, city marshal of Brownfield, told of finding White's body in the cafe. The man was dead when the city marshal reached the place, the witness said. No gun was found on or near the body, he testified. Four shells were found on the floor.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators throughout Wednesday. Many persons failing to find seats or standing room in the court chamber, thronged the courthouse corridors. Witnesses were handled with dispatch, there being very few objections to testimony by either state or defense counsel.

LONG PLAN

fier" through adoption of some plan.

Governor Sterling was interrupted at times in by cries "hurrah for Long."

"When you get too much government in business you won't be a free people very long," the Texas executive warned the farmers.

Governor Sterling attributed the condition of the farmers largely to unsympathetic policies of the federal government. He attacked the Republican tariff bill and referred to President Hoover as "that spineless cactus at the head of the government at Washington." He said something must be wrong with the distribution system which permitted hunger in a world of plenty.

"What would Sam Houston think if he should suddenly return to life and see the governor of Louisiana telling the people of his beloved Texas what to do?" Sterling asked.

"Hurrah for Long," several shouted.

HOUSE MEMBERS SCORE SENATORS

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (AP)—Cotton farmers awaiting action on many bills proposing cotton acreage reduction crowded the gallery today while house members in the Texas legislature digressed to accuse senators of "cheap politics, cheap publicity and horseplay" in voting to serve without pay during the special session.

When the discussion was concluded, the house voted by a large majority not to concur in senate amendments to the house salary resolution, providing $10 per day and mileage, and asked for a free conference committee.

Rep. J. S. McGee of Tyler accused the senate of attempting to break the house quorum by stampeding the lower branch into accepting the amendments and declared the senate was trying to dodge a vote on cotton acreage control bills.

The senate agriculture committee began hearings on cotton control bills, the first bill taken up today providing for restriction of cotton planting to one-third of the tillable acreage in 1932 and 1933. It was estimated this would reduce acreage approximately 50 per cent. The measure was introduced by Senator Oliver Cunningham of Abilene, author of the crop rotation bill defeated in the senate during the last special session, a month ago.

MISS CATHERINE ALBERTS AND OLD JOHN.

AL G. BARNES SHOW TO EXHIBIT HERE ON TOMORROW

Atta boy! Tomorrow is circus day. The day when the kiddies and the juvenile populace comes into its own.

Yep, one whole splendiferous day of bands, red wagons and spangles, and no end of other wonders cingling with the "10,000 wonders" of the great Al G. Barnes circus. The first of the three long show trains is scheduled to arrive at dawn over the Santa Fe railroad from San Angelo.

In consequence, no end of youngsters will go to bed tonight with the alarm clock set for an unearthly hour, to dream of a seat in the very front row with the prettiest of bareback riders and aerialists blowing him kisses from the backs of galloping horses or out of trapezes swung miles high in the air. However, the lure of the circus is by no means limited to the little folks, and many of the "boys" who have been eagerly awaiting the arrival of the big show, range in age from seven to seventy.

Street Parades Abandoned

But the sound of the alarm will dispel all such startling happenings and the first streak of dawn is bound to find a goodly gathering of youngsters and grown-ups in the railroad yards. As most everybody knows, the big show has grown to such tremendous size that street parades were long since abandoned. But just to see the three herds of trained elephants, the hundreds of horses, cage after cage of wild animals and red wagons, the cavalcade of zebras, camels and yaks moving to the show grounds, on Broadway, opposite the fair grounds promises to afford a "free show" not to be overlooked.

The Al G. Barnes circus is a third larger than when it last visited Lubbock.

Enormous new displays have been introduced, such as 70 camels, zebras and horses performing at one time. There will be forty dancing horses, forty dancing girls, altogether more than two hundred separate acts.

A gorgeous and magnificent extravaganza, "Persia" and the Pageant of Pekin serves as a prelude to the circus performance proper. Upwards of 1,000 men, women, horses, elephants and camels take part in this fairyland spectacle. There will be great choruses of trained singers, one hundred dancing girls, vast orchestras, golden-toned organs, lutes and cymbals. Seventy thousand dollars was expended on the wardrobe. A solid train is used to transport the paraphernalia, equipment and accessories used in this fairyland production. Thousands daily view with awe its stupendousness.

Carries 1,080 People

Of the 1,080 people carried with the circus, will be seen the champion aerialists, bareback riders, ground and lofty gymnasts, high wire artists and super athletes. From England comes the Belmont family of equestrians; Belgium contributes the Grizelle Troupe of riders; from its Imperial Winter Garden in Berlin comes the Great Gretona troupe of amazing performers who work on a tight wire in the dome of the huge "big top," climaxing their act riding bicycles scores of feet above the ground, on a slender wire. Alex Acevedo, the dancing, tumbling, somersaulting wire marvel, comes from Mexico to thrill and amaze. Petite and pretty Catherine Albert hails from the Ural mountains of Europe and presents a great herd of dancing and acrobatic elephants. Mabel Stark, the world's greatest lady wild animal trainer, this season presents a group of seventeen performing Royal Bengal tigers. Scores of other champion wild animal trainers will be seen with hundreds of performing wild animals. Little folks will be delighted to learn that the addition of a score of European clowns has increased the fun making contingent to an even sixty.

Tents Cover 12 Acres

Each season the Al G. Barnes circus exhibits in more than 200 cities. Traveling from its winter quarters at Baldwin Park, Calif., each season the big show makes a transcontinental trip across the country from coast to coast and return, covering more than 20,000 miles and visiting all the principal cities. Starting as a little wagon show that was looked upon as a joke, in the short space of twenty-five years, it has grown to be one of the world's largest amusement organizations. Twenty-two tents, covering 12 acres of ground are used to house the transient city. Every day more than 3,000 meals are served in the dining tents. It maintains offices in the principal cities of Europe and regularly sends out expeditions into the jungles of Africa, Asia, Smyrna, Abyssinia and India.

Notwithstanding thousands upon thousands of dollars each season pass through the ticket wagons, yet a profit of only 2 1-2 per cent may be looked for. The death of one rare and costly wild animal frequently consumes the profits of days.

There will be performances at 2 and 8 p. m. The doors to the big show will open an hour earlier to permit an inspection of one of the world's largest traveling zoos, or to enjoy a concert of popular and operatic music by Prof. Redrick's military band. Reserved and admission tickets will be on sale all day tomorrow at Bowen's Drug Store, Broadway and Avenue J.

On the show grounds, the white ticket wagon will be continuously accessible for the sale of reserved seats. General admission tickets will go on sale at the red ticket wagon simultaneously with the opening of the doors.

PLAINVIEW PHYSICIAN IS BURIED ON EVE OF 7TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Today would have been the seventh anniversary of Dr. R. H. Howell's marriage. At 6 p. m. Wednesday, the Plainview man's body was lowered into a grave at Throckmorton, his former home, following reading of funeral rites at 9 a. m. at the First Methodist Episcopal church at Plainview.

Doctor Howell died in a sanitarium here Tuesday afternoon following an operation. He would have been 40 years old October 11.

Members of the board of stewards of the First church, to which Doctor Howell belonged; of Sunday school classes and church societies, of the American Legion and its women's auxiliary, and of the Masonic lodge attended the ceremonies as bodies.

Dr. D. B. Doak, pastor of the First church; Rev. C. A. Bickley, presiding elder of the Lubbock Methodist district, of Lubbock, and Rev. M. M. Beavers, presiding elder of the Plainview district, officiated. Rev. Mr. Bickley is a friend of the Howell family. A group of Lubbock friends attended the funeral ceremonies.

A native of Mississippi, Doctor Howell had attended Alabama Polytechnic institute at Auburn, was a graduate of Texas A. & M. college at College Station, and held a master's degree from George Peabody institute at Nashville. Doctor Howell had practised medicine at Plainview several years. Previously, he taught vocational agriculture at Mineral Wells.

The widow; a three-year-old daughter, Helen Jane; and two brothers, Dr. McKinley Howell of near Plainview and L. D. Howell of Washington, D. C., survive. The four were at the bedside when death came.

HOOVER WILL LEAD REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS WILL SPLIT ON QUESTION OF PROHIBITION, KLAN CHIEF SAYS

Herbert Hoover will be the Republican presidential candidate again in 1932, the Democrats probably will split on prohibition, and Al Smith possibly will be nominated a second time by his party, although the national political situation is "pretty badly befuddled" and little more than conjecture is possible.

If Smith is a candidate, "the Ku Klux Klan will be right back in the middle of the fight."

Such were the expressed opinions of Dr. Hiram W. Evans, for the past nine years leader of the klan, who visited briefly Wednesday with his brother, Dr. A. W. Evans, 2307 16th street, en route to Washington from California where he has been for several weeks.

Still In Work

Dr. Evans said he was still in klan work but that its activities was now devoted to an educational program after rounding out a campaign for restricted immigration. He said the klan had "not near the membership that it formerly had" but that "it will always be in the thick of a fight where Americanism is at stake."

"Our next job is to make Americans of the people who are here," he said as he spoke of the unbalanced system of education in the nation today which is "producing more criminals per 10,000 population than anywhere in the world."

No Political Body

"The first amendment has produced too many people who stand so straight they lean backward".

Dr. Evans said the klan was no political body but that it had centered its support in opposition to Smith in the last election and "would do so again if he's nominated".

"There's no question about Hoover," Dr. Evans predicted. "He's sure to go back in for no man will run against him. The Republicans have no choice, they must accept Hoover. If they could choose another, it would more than likely be Coolidge or Dwight Morrow."

Demos To Split

"As for the Democrats," he said, "the chances are they'll split for the eastern party leaders want to ride the wet plank and the states that are normally Democratic will go the other way. The southern vote is somewhat doubtful while a western movement might be able to swing things one way or the other."

What about Roosevelt?

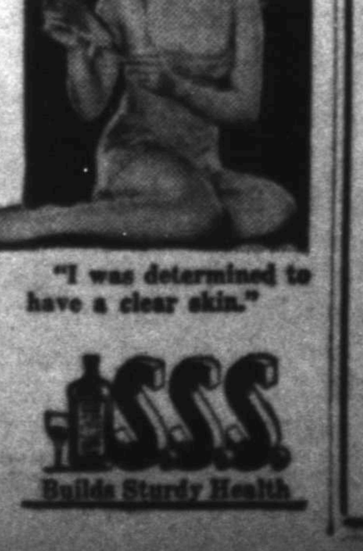

"Did you ever see the horses run?" the doctor said. "Well, the horse that does all his running at first usually never comes in under the wire. And that's how Roosevelt will run."

The east is picking Newton Baker, he said.

Asked about a southerner's chances for nomination either for president or vice-president, he answered that there wasn't many. Huey Long, he said, "has done the biggest fool thing possible when he passed the cotton law and I'll venture to say that he'll be afraid to stay in the state by the fall of 1932."

He declared that he would be "for Hoover against any wet Democrat, that is an Eastern Democrat". He said he opposed Smith "just because he wore a brown derby, and I've often wondered why such a man as Smith should think that a voter hasn't the right to oppose any candidate on account of his religoin, because he wore a derby hat or any other reason. Smith, next to Coolidge, is America's most popular citizen and a capable man."

EVANS BACKED FOR PLACE

TECH PROFESSOR IS ENDORSED IN RACE FOR STATE POST

The candidacy of Dr. Arthur W. Evans, head of the Texas Technological college department of education, for the presidency of the Texas State Teachers association was endorsed in a resolution adopted unanimously by 800 teachers at the last general meeting of the seventh annual South Plains Teachers institute Wednesday.

Resolutions also endorsed selection of Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college at which the institute was conducted here, as conductor and recommended continuance of the institute.

Other resolutions included approval of the work of S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction, his faculty and the state board of education; the Northwest Texas Teachers association; continuation of proper financial support for all state institutions of higher learning and elementary and high schools; endorsement of the Texas Technological college and its work; the Texas State Teachers association; members of the faculty; the legislature for its consideration of legislation pertaining to school matters and the state health program.

Clements Presides

In the business session, which closed the formal program except for the section meetings and the county meetings, W. P. Clement, of the department of education, presided in the absence of Dr. Evans. I. R. Witt, superintendent at Post and secretary treasurer, reported a balance of $287.01 from last year, receipts of $871.10 and incomplete expenditures of $727.50.

James M. Rankin, the ranking member of the audit committee, of which Miss Ola Legg of Hale county was chairman, read the report which stated that the books of the secretary-treasurer were in "good condition." The report was accepted.

Report Is Read

Miss Mae Murfee, county superintendent of Lubbock county, read the report of the future of the institute committee, of which she was chairman. It "favored the continuance of the institute under the capable leadership of Dr. Paul W. Horn and Dr. A. W. Evans." The report was adopted.

Before beginning his closing talk, on "The Purposes of Education," Dr. Shelton Phelps took occasion to exercise his extreme personal appreciation of the splendid visit he had in Lubbock at the institute. He stated that while he had had some conception of this city and the college and its remarkable growth, yet he was" agreeably surprised" and delighted at the advance, which was far beyond his expectations.

"As far as history records, there is no other nation that has an educational system on the same scale as the United States," Dr. Phelps stated, adding that the chief difference between the educational systems of this country and Europe was the "scale upon which we have undertaken to educate the great masses of the people."

French secondary education, on the whole, is better than that of the United States in the matter of training of teachers and other professional matter. "But it is for a very, very small group," he pointed out. On the other hand that of the United States is for a "larger group."

Scotland, with Edinburgh as the chief center, is the nation that more nearly approximates America in the scope of its educational system, he said.

Cites Three Groups

Dr. Phelps gave three groups of "aims of education," quoting from the writings of the Greek philosopher Plato, from Herbert Spencer, the famous English philosopher and from the report which Charles Kingsley, noted American educator, made about 1918. He also mentioned the similar statement of H. G. Wells, modern English novelist and writer.

Plato's aims were: ethical, cure of body, knowledge of citizenship, vocational, patriotism, guarding of posterity and complete development. Those of Spencer were: How to care for the body, how to care for the mind, management of one's affairs, bringing up a family, behavior as a citizen, use of faculties for greater good of others and how to live completely. The Kingsley aims were: Health, worthy home, fundamental processes, vocation, civic education, more use of leisure and ethical character.

H. G. Wells mentioned as the aims the following: Complete knowledge of English, elementary knowledge of Latin and Greek; alien's knowledge of two foreign languages, all around knowledge of geography, general knowledge of chemistry and physical condition and health and industrial education.

Counterfeit Bills Are In Circulation

Counterfeit ten dollar bills are in circulation on the South Plains and a man and a woman are known to have passed them.

J. P. Edgar, United States deputy marshal, displayed two specimens of the bills, both passed Tuesday on Hershel Patterson, a filling station and store operator, seven miles west of Olton in Lamb county.

The bills, both easily detected upon study, were reproductions of federal reserve notes and bore serial numbers L0162379A and L0162389A.

Mr. Patterson reported to Marshal Edgar that a man in a truck passed one of the bills on him, purchasing a quart of oil and getting $9.65 in change. Later a woman came by in a large coupe and passed the other bill in a similar purchase, getting $9.65 in change and a quart of oil.

Mr. Edgar reported the case to officials at Amarillo who are to keep a close watch for the pair.

Statistics kept by the Las Vegas, Nev., chamber of commerce indicated 100,000 persons visited the city during the first quarter of the year.

COMPARE

The Values As Well As The Price

We've had a lot to say this season about new, lower price levels. But we don't want you to think SO much about price that you overlook value.

The important thing is that the Levine Suits we offer for fall are just a little bit finer than ever before. But the prices are substantially lower. Which makes a value worth shouting about.

THREE YOUTHS OF SLATON ARE FINED

Pleading guilty of theft of less than $50 in county court before Judge E. L. Pitts, four Slaton youths ranging in age from 18 to 21 years Wednesday afternoon were assessed fines of $10 and costs of about $22 each and sentenced to pass five days in jail.

The youths, Cecil Austin, Fred Cook, Marshall Simmons and D. Howell, all of Slaton and vicinity, were arrested Tuesday night in connection with the theft of a quantity of athletic goods samples from the car of J. E. Biggs of Shamrock, representative of a Wichita Falls concern, at Johnston's ranch Monday night.

In statements made to Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks and County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson, the young men admitted taking a basketball, football and automobile casing from the car, but denied taking other samples which were found about a mile west of Slaton Tuesday. Biggs valued the samples, suitcase and woman's coat, which were alleged stolen, at $309, he told officers. All but the suitcase containing wearing apparel and the coat valued at $100, were recovered by Slaton officers and members of the sheriff's department.
