Six More U. S. Planes Lost Over Red Vietnam

To Help Cubans
Taxpayers Ante Up

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — U.S. taxpayers are paying more than $1 million each week to help a seemingly endless stream of Cuban refugees start life anew in this country.

Total expenditures in the program have climbed to hundreds of millions of dollars, officials say.

A Cuban Refugee Center spokesman called it "one of the finest investments in humanitarianism." He said the migration is the most extended in U.S. history.

Endless Stream

The number of Cuban exiles who have reached the United States since Fidel Castro's takeover in 1959 is estimated at nearly 400,000. About half live in Miami, the rest are scattered throughout the United States.

Some 80,000 Cubans have arrived by daily airlift established Dec. 1, 1965. Two planeloads of refugees come each weekday. Each flight costs U.S. taxpayers $850.

And thousands of Cubans have sneaked out of their country by boat and headed across "death corridor," as exiles call the waters between the Communist island and Florida. The Coast Guard reported it has rescued 13,450 refugees in these straits. The number rescued ranged from nine in 1959 to 5,730 in 1965.

14,000 On Welfare Rolls

This year's appropriations for the refugee center, operated by the Health, Education and Welfare Department, total $51 million. This compares with $1 million daily the Soviet Union reportedly spends to maintain the regime from which the refugees flee. Since its establishment in 1961, refugee center expenditures are estimated at $300 million. In addition, th refugee situation has meant expenditure of other millions by the Coast Guard, Immigration Service, customs, law - enforcement bodies and other agencies. Maintenance of a State Department Cuban affairs office here costs $60,000 annually.

The refugee center, which previously spent large sums on supporting refugees in Miami, has shifted emphasis on their resettlement to other cities where they can find employment. Only 14,000, considered unemployable, remain on Florida welfare rolls, as against a 70,000 peak in 1962.

Tradesmen Demonstrate

DETROIT (AP) — Union and company negotiators pondered today the portent of a demonstration Wednesday by hundreds of skilled tradesmen in defiance of the leadership of their United Auto Workers Union.

The demonstration at Ford Motor Co. emphasized an often-asked question: Whether the union can win a sufficiently high wage increase to keep skilled tradesmen from vetoing any new contract at either Ford, General Motors or Chrysler.

Under a 1966 change in its constitution, the UAW permits skilled and production workers to vote separately on contract ratification, and approval of both is required.

Traffic Jam

Chanting, "One, two, three, four — we want a dollar more," the tradesmen ended more than five hours of demonstrating by storming up and down the entrance ramp past front doors of Ford headquarters and snarling traffic, then dispersed quickly.

Many carried placards supporting a previously announced goal of skilled tradesmen to win a $1-an-hour increase yearly over the life of any new contract with the Big Three automakers.

Other placards left no doubt the aim was to put pressure on UAW officials as well as that of the companies.

UAW demands, laid on bargaining tables when new contract negotiations began more than six weeks ago, call for a "substantial" wage boost for all and a "substantial" extra amount for skilled tradesmen.

First Martin Cotton

STANTON (SC) — Clyde Nichols, Tarzan, has ginned the first bale of cotton in Martin County. It was irrigated cotton and was ginned at the Lenorah Gin Co. Tuesday.

A Chinese auction will be held Saturday, 10 a.m. near the First National Bank in Stanton.

Nichols, a farmer all of his life, has farmed in Martin County for the past 16 years. With his dryland and irrigated farm, he has 320 acres of farm land. This is his first time to have the first bale of cotton.

Daughter Dies

Foul Play Ruled Out

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Coroner Raul Urich said he would conduct an autopsy to determine the cause of death of Ethel Six Geary, 26, daughter of stage and screen star Ethel Merman.

Mrs. Geary was found dead Wednesday in the summer cabin she rented near Green Mountain Falls, 14 miles west of here.

Neighbors said they were summoned to the cabin by Mrs. Geary's two children, Barbara, 6, and Michael, 5. They said they had been unable to awaken their mother.

The neighbors called the Green Mountain Falls fire department and an ambulance but Urich said she had been dead 9 or 10 hours.

Mrs. Geary married William Geary in 1960 while attending Colorado College in Colorado Springs. They are separated.

Mrs. Geary was the daughter of Miss Merman and her second husband, Robert Levitt. She took the name of Miss Merman's third husband, Robert Six.

Urich ruled out the possibility of foul play. Mrs. Geary's drivers license listed her home as Denver.

Group Touring St. Lawrence

ST. LAWRENCE—Big Spring business and professional men were in high cotton here today.

On their annual tour of the St. Lawrence community in southern Glasscock County, the 36-man delegation made stops to inspect the fields on the Dan Hirt and Lawrence Yost places. What they saw in the irrigated fields made them forget about the drouth that has plagued most of the Howard County area.

At noon, they set down to a table groaning under loads of tasty food and chatted with men of the community. Later today, the group was to tour the area west of St. Lawrence, and among other things to see a cantaloupe raising project in operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hirt came aboard the bus as it reached their place and pointed out the plots on their place where long staple cotton is being grown. They also showed some excellent grain sorghum.

In addition to waist-high cotton, Lawrence Yost showed four acres where he had raised two varieties of watermelons. He said he had grossed between $250 and $300 an acre. Trucker contracting of crops is making melon production more profitable now, but there is still a high labor cost involved.

In charge of the delegation which left Big Spring aboard a bus at 10 a.m. is John L. Taylor. Jimmy Taylor, chairman of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, assisted agriculture committee, assisted in the narration.

Oil Fire Claims Two More Lives

GALVESTON (AP) — A fire at the Atlantic-Richfield refinery at Port Arthur Aug. 4 claimed two more lives today, bringing to six the number killed.

John Steele, 45, of Groves and Wilbert Pierre, 30, of Port Arthur died at a Galveston hospital.

Leonard Woodard of Port Arthur remained in critical condition at the hospital.

Secret LBJ Memorandum Causes Furor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secret Johnson administration memorandum attacking sharply the $5.2 billion antipoverty bill drafted by a Senate Labor subcommittee is causing a furor among Labor Committee Democrats.

The memorandum demands:

—Removal of a special $3 billion emergency job program for slum dwellers attached to the bill by subcommittee Chairman Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

—Detention of a requirement that the Office of Economic Opportunity disclose the projected five-year cost of the antipoverty program. The memo said "this would create political problems for the administration in an election year."

JOB PROGRAM

—Scrapping of a special $105 million item to finance a slum job program backed by Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y. The memo said "this will invite slashing amendments on the floor and will seriously affect passage of the legislation."

The memo said Johnson particularly was exercised about the subcommittee revisions because "the President has spent more time on the language in this bill personally than he has on any other domestic legislation that has been sent to the Congress this year."

CLOSED MEETING

The memo was discussed at a closed meeting of the full Labor Committee earlier this week.

Clark declined to discuss the matter but a newsmen obtained the memo from other sources, who gave this picture of the furor:

The memo was drafted in OEO after a meeting in the White House office of Joseph A. Califano Jr., special assistant to the President. The meeting was held after the subcommittee approved its version of the antipoverty bill.

Copies were sent to all Democrats on the committee except Clark. The White House said later Clark was omitted by mistake and it had apologized to the Pennsylvanian.

'STUPID'

Clark quickly learned about the memo and read it at the committee session Monday.

Some Democrats on hand denounced the administration's handling of the matter as "stupid" and said their reaction was to support the subcommittee bill.

The subcommittee bill authorized $2.2 billion for a one-year extension of the controversial program, $148 million more than Johnson asked.

But it also tied to the bill Clark's proposal, growing out of this summer's riots. For a $3 billion emergency program.

Wind Gusts Fan Flames

By The Associated Press

Dry electrical storms, pushed by wind gusts up to 30 miles per hour, fanned forest fires in north Idaho and western Montana on Wednesday chasing several fire crews from the path of blazes.

In British Columbia, the Northwest's other critical fire area, conditions were little changed early today. A 30,000-acre blaze at Shuswap Lake, 250 miles northeast of Vancouver, still burned out of control. Canadian officials reported 335 fires still burning.

More than 100,000 acres of forest land in Idaho, Montana, Oregon and British Columbia have burned in the past two weeks. Early today, it was estimated about 80,000 acres were still aflame or smoldering.

As wind gusts bore down on two blazes totalling more than 5,000 acres in Glacier National Park, officials reported crews were scurrying to avoid shifts in fire directions. No injuries were reported.

Eight Fliers Are Missing; Two Rescued

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. losses this week in the air war against North Vietnam rose to 12 planes and 18 fliers Wednesday as Communist MIGs and ground batteries downed six more American jets, the U.S. Command announced.

American pilots shot down two Communist MIGs in the fourth straight day of raids into the heavily defended Communist heartland around Hanoi. A third MIG was hit and probably downed, the U.S. Command said.

RAILS RIPPED

One flier was rescued and 10 were missing. On Monday, when six other American planes were downed, the command said, two fliers were rescued and eight were listed as missing.

Returning pilots reported spectacular destruction in choked rail yards around Hanoi.

Although the ground war remained generally quiet, Communist terror and sabotage was on the rise. Military authorities reported a train blown from the tracks near Saigon and two buses blown up by mines near Hue. The explosions killed 12 civilians and wounded eight.

TERRORISM UP

The bloody increase in terrorism as the Viet Cong tries to sabotage the Sept. 3 presidential elections was emphasized by an announcement that terrorists killed 167 civilians last week, nearly three times the 64 killed the week before, wounded 232 and kidnaped 126.

The U.S. Command reported 108 Americans died in combat last week and 883 were wounded compared with 82 killed, 748 wounded and nine missing the week before.

Communist losses also increased, from 1,328 killed to 1,498, while South Vietnamese casualties were 172 dead, 538 wounded and five missing, less than the previous week's total of 283 killed, 683 wounded and 62 missing.

BLANKET BARRAGES

The continued heavy raids against the Hanoi area reflected the U.S. Command's determination to pound North Vietnam as hard as possible while favorable weather continues. However, the mounting raids have brought the North Vietnamese air force out in strength, and Red ground gunners are sending up blanket barrages of conventional fire and Soviet-built missiles.

Two of the U. S. planes lost Wednesday were the F4 Phantoms, considered the hottest American jets flying. They were downed by missiles from their Red counterparts, MIG21s.

U. S. headquarters reported seven aerial dogfights in the Hanoi area Wednesday and other MIGs sighted indicating a maximum effort by the North Vietnamese air force, which U. S. intelligence officers estimate numbers about 80 combat-ready jets.

COPTER RESCUE

Of the four U. S. jets lost to groundfire, the command said, three were the Phantoms and one an F105 Thunderchief. The headquarters did not disclose whether they were brought down by missiles or conventional ground fire. One was a carrier-based Navy plane, the rest Air Force.

In addition, a helicopter attempting to rescue one of the downed fliers was badly shot up and had to turn back. A second chopper made the only successful rescue of the day, snatching the flier from jungle south of Dong Hoi while circling planes laid down a ring of fire and a protective smokescreen around the injured pilot on the ground.

CONFIRMED KILLS

The air losses Wednesday raised to 659 the total of U. S. combat planes reported lost in North Vietnam since the bombing began in February, 1965. Communist losses announced by U. S. officials are now 84 confirmed MIG kills and 12 probables.

Both MIG kills Wednesday were credited to 1st Lt. David B. Waldrop, 25, of Nashville, Tenn., an F105 Thunderchief pilot. A squadron mate, Maj. Billy R. Givens, 35, of Dunmor, Ky., was credited with the probable. They were firsts for both men.

Nuclear Disarm Pact Submitted

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union jointly put forward today the draft of a treaty to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

The draft was submitted to the 17-nation disarmament conference by U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster and Alexei A. Roshchin of the Soviet Union.

TURNING POINT

It marked a turning point in more than five years of negotiations to prevent an uncontrollable proliferation of nuclear weapons throughout the world. But the draft text had significant gaps and much hard bargaining still lies ahead before a treaty can be signed and ratified.

The biggest gap still to be negotiated concerned the control and inspection system to verify compliance with the treaty. Article 3 of the draft, which is to contain the control provisions, was left blank.

COMPROMISE

Submission of the draft was delayed for months by Russian refusal to submit the draft without an agreed Article 3. Today's move marked a major American-Soviet compromise on this issue, since work on the treaty can now proceed in the United Nations and elsewhere while the thorny control issue is left in abeyance.

The treaty as now envisaged by the United States and the Soviet Union would seek to perpetuate the present nuclear weapons monopoly of the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Red China.

It would require all nuclear power to promise never to hand such weapons or weapons know-how to any other nation. The nations which at present have no nuclear weapons would promise never to manufacture or acquire them.

BLACKMAIL

Britain is in agreement with the treaty draft, but France and Red China are both absent from the Geneva conference and are in no way committed.

Some nations such as India and Sweden are taking part in the conference but have reservations about the treaty because they fear it may one day expose them to nuclear blackmail.

The treaty draft was handed to the conference delegates by the United Nations secretariat in official English- and Russian-language versions.

RECESS LOOMS

The conference is expected to be recessed soon. Final negotiations for the treaty probably will take place at the U.N General Assembly this fall. Few delegates had any illusion that Red China—which remains excluded from the United Nations — was likely to adhere to the treaty in the foreseeable future.

The Russian delegation is expected to call for a quick recess of the conference—possibly before the end of the month—so that there will be little or no time for other nations to study the treaty or make comments on it in Geneva.

The Soviet Union reportedly believes that the two super powers should work out a complete treaty with the minimum of outside interference.

Western sources said the United States will not oppose a recess—provided that the draft be fully discussed at the forthcoming U.N. General Assembly in New York.

The two main points of the draft treaty are:

1. Nuclear powers pledge never to hand over nuclear weapons to other states or in any way assist them to manufacture nuclear arms.

2. Non-Nuclear states promise never to acquire nuclear weapons or attempt to manufacture them.

Shooting Spree Youths Accused

SONORA, Calif. (AP)—Two shoeless, denim-clad youths—accused of a one-a-day shooting spree through three states that resulted in three killings—faced more criminal charges as a fourth victim continued her battle for life.

Thomas Eugene Braun and Leonard Maine, both 18 and from Ritzville, Wash., at first declined, then agreed to have court-appointed attorneys during their arraignment Wednesday before Judge T. Wesley Osborne in Groveland Judicial District Court.

They were bound over for preliminary hearing Aug. 29 on charges of attempted murder in the shooting of 17-year-old Susan Diane Bartolomei of Ukiah, Calif., four times. She was found on a mountain road 30 miles southeast of this Sierra foothill community Tuesday morning.

UNCONSCIOUS

Miss Bartolomei—still unconscious and in critical condition but holding her own at Communist Hospital—lapsed into a coma after gasping words about being kidnaped by two youths.

Surgeons probed for five hours but were unable to remove a bullet from her brain. They were successful in retrieving one from a lung.

If she improves, the Washington youths are expected to be returned to Ukiah, 200 miles northwest, to face charges of murder in the slaying of her 17-year-old boy friend, Timothy Luce, on Monday.

SHOT IN BACK

Luce, son of Lake County Dist. Atty. Dave Luce, was shot in the back of the head and dumped in a Hopland vineyard south of Ukiah, 200 miles to the East. Rape and kidnap complaints also have been filed against the pair at Ukiah.

Braun and Maine also are wanted on charges of killing Deanna Buse, 22 of Monroe, Wash., about 20 miles north of Seattle on Saturday, and Samuel Ledgerwood, a salesman, on an Oregon logging road Sunday.

Bodies of Mrs. Buse and Ledgerwood were found Tuesday night and early Wednesday using information obtained in a telephone interrogation of the pair by out-of-state officers.

Investigators said rape and car theft appeared to be the only motives in the crimes.

Death Claims State Senator

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — State Sen. George Parkhouse, a conservative Democrat who helped write Texas' right-to-work law and pushed through far-reaching water conservation programs during 26 years in public office, died early today.

He was 67 and had suffered repeated strokes. He died at 4:05 a.m.

NO FAVORS

Parkhouse lost an arm and a leg as a child when he threw a firecracker in a drum but he competed as an equal with every person, asking no favors because of his severe handicaps.

"Every individual in Texas will directly or indirectly benefit as a result of Parkhouse's foresight to develop, conserve and manage Texas' water," said Otha F. Dent, a member of the Texas Water Rights Commission.

"He was perhaps the most knowledgeable person in the legislature about water resources. Through his influence there was more productive water legislation in the last three sessions than since the creation of the water board in 1913," Dent added.

GRAVEL-VOICED

The gravel-voiced senator was chairman of former Gov. Price Daniel's 101-man water committee and then was chairman of the committee studying proposed legislation.

When Gov. John Connally signed the 1965 water program he gave the pen to Parkhouse, saying "I have never put my name to any bills in which I take more pride than these."

Parkhouse's hoarse shout of a voice was his trademark along with his cantankerous attitude toward pro-labor legislation.

CONSERVATIVE

He said his conservative philosophy stemmed from his childhood.

"I was taught you owe the government everything and the government owes you nothing, except the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," he once said.

Riot Doctor

Warren M. Christopher, 41, new U.S. deputy attorney general, says white suburbs hold the cure to ills that sparked summer riots in Negro slums. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Claims Cure In Suburbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cure to ills that sparked summer riots in Negro slums lies in the nation's overwhelmingly white suburbs—but suburbanites aren't likely to help right now, says the new U.S. deputy attorney general.

Warren M. Christopher, 41, the Justice Department's No. 2 man, said in an interview that white suburbanites may show their fear and anger over the Negro riots by blocking efforts to clear up big city problems.

PREJUDICE

Although he predicted suburbanites eventually will "overcome fear and prejudice," he said their initial reaction to the riots will be to reject necessary closer ties with Negro inner city neighborhoods. Suburbanites, he said, probably will reject pleas for more money needed for new schools, hospitals and transportation.

Christopher, formerly a Los Angeles lawyer, was vice chairman of a commission that investigated 1965 rioting in that city's Watts section. He also was the top-ranking Justice Department official on the scene during last month's Detroit riots.

BENEFITS

Christopher conceded the riots may show some very short term benefits for those in Negro slums.

But, he said, "the setbacks will far outnumber the steps taken to ameliorate the situation thereafter. The fear instilled in the white community —the bitterness—is just incalculable in terms of the harm it does."

'Balkanize' Rap Denied

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Both sides in Nigeria's civil war claimed control today of the the strategic town of Ore and both claimed their forces inflicted heavy casualties in the crucial battle for the crossroads town 115 miles east of Lagos.

Radio Lagos said federal troops were pursuing forces of secessionist Biafra into the Midwest region after the battle for Ore which the rebels seized Monday. Informants said about 1,500 troops from each side had been thrown into the fight, which a government spokesman earlier said could determine the outcome of the seven-week war.

A broadcast from Enugu, the rebel capital, said the Biafrans still hold Ore despite bombing raids by federal planes.

A report from Fajo, a village 14 miles west of Ore, said Nigerian soldiers claimed that white mercenaries fighting for Biafra had inflicted heavy casualties on their forces. There have been unconfirmed reports of mercenaries fighting on both sides.

In Washington, the State Department rejected a charge by Lagos Radio that the United States is trying to "balkanize" Nigeria to get control of its oil fields. State Department Press Officer Carl Bartch told a news conference that the United States still recognizes the federal government.

Rains Wash Out Bridges

By The Associated Press

Heavy rain drenched areas from Alabama to the middle Atlantic states, with downpours causing flooding in parts of northeastern Georgia today.

More than 14 inches of rain doused Burton Lake, Ga., 85 miles northeast of Atlanta, washing out some bridges and closing roads. Streets and lowland areas near Augusta were flooded.

More than 2 inches of rain splashed Augusta, Ga., in a six-hour period during the night, with nearly 1½ inches in a one-hour span. Other heavy amounts in the wet belt included nearly 2 inches at Columbia, S.C., 1½ inches at Cape Hatteras, N.C., and more than 1 inch at Atlanta, Hickory, N.C., and Florence, S.C.

Early morning readings ranged from 41 at Alpena, Mich., to 92 at Blythe, Calif.

At Least 50 Arabs Jailed

TEL AVIV (AP)—Israeli security forces said today they arrested more than 50 young Arabs believed to be members of the guerrilla Palestine Liberation Army, as they tried to cross the Jordan River into Jordan earlier this week.

The PLA, led by Palestinian firebrand Ahmed Shukairy, had been active in terrorist raids into Israel before the June 5-10 Arab-Israeli war.

Authorities believed the young men, some wearing army combat boots and shirts, were planning to form the nucleus of an underground army in Jordan.

There was no report of any shooting and it was not immediately known if the men were armed. Authorities said all came from the Gaza Strip with Israeli passes to visit relatives on the west bank of the Jordan.

Security officials said the men told them several dozen already had crossed into Jordan.

In Jerusalem, demolition crews are tearing down the Mandelbaum Gate, which for 18 years before the June war was the only crossing point between the Israeli and Jordanian sectors of the city.

Israel now controls the entire holy city. The gate and houses around it are being demolished to widen the road for heavy traffic now going between the old and new cities.

The slow return of Jordanian refugees to their homes on the west bank continued Wednesday. The day's total of 1,732 brought the total for five days to 7,600, the International Committee of the Red Cross said.

Barry Claims LBJ Fiddled During Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater accused President Johnson Wednesday of turning a request for Army troops to quell the Detroit riot into an attack on Michigan Gov. George Romney.

The President, Goldwater said, "made this a political thing, a cheap maneuver in the midst of genuine crisis. He fiddled while Detroit burned. He fiddled while men died. He finally turned the whole thing into a political attack on a Republican governor."

He spoke to employes of Republican congressmen.

In another aftermath to the Detroit violence, Chairman Edward Hebert of a House Armed Services subcommittee, accused the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders of indicting the National Guard "without one scintilla of evidence."

In one of its first acts the commission called for an Army review of the performance and qualifications of Guard officers. Hebert criticized that move and also criticized the Army for appointing at once a board to carry out the review.

Hebert, D-La., said members of the President's panel "are people who probably never heard of the National Guard before they were put on the commission."

In other quarters, the talk centered on the cause of riots.

Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee heard a parade of witnesses—mostly young men from Negro slums—tell them the Negro wants most to be respected as a human being.

Among the witnesses were Norris Morrow, 26, of Tampa, Fla., one of the "white hats," who helped cool tempers during rioting there in June, and Rufus Mayfield, 20, of Washington, who has organized a large band of youngsters into an antipoverty project called Pride, Inc.

Another civil rights issue —open housing—was criticized by a real estate industry spokesman testifying before the Senate Banking subcommittee, as having hindered attempts to improve slum housing.

Former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, a member of a special panel on insurance within the president's advisory commission on civil disorders, said Wednesday the New Jersey Insurance Commission has assessed Newark riot damage at $10.2 million.

The insurance panel, headed by New Jersey Gov. Richard Hughes, held its first meeting in private. Its assigned task: Finding methods to assure reasonably priced insurance coverage for urban properties believed likely targets in any future uprisings.

Land Merger Hearing Set

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Judge Perry Pickett has issued a restraining order to prevent filing of further lawsuits seeking to halt the $500 billion merger of Kern County Land Co. of California and Tenneco, Inc., of Houston, Tex.

The state judge set 9 a.m. Friday for a hearing on whether he should issue a temporary injunction.

The planned merger was announced in June. Several suits to block the action have been filed.

Named in the restraining order issued Wednesday were George T. Conly and W. Wayne Peters, Midland accountants and Kern stockholders; their attorneys, the Lubbock law firm of Crenshaw, Dupreee and Milam; the Harjean Co. of Nebraska, and Occidental Petroleum Co.

The Harjean Co. also filed a suit Aug. 21 in Benjamin, Tex., seeking to block the merger.

The original petition of Conly and Peters was dismissed Aug. 17 by Judge Peters.

The Harjean Co. has obtained a restraining order in federal court in Lincoln, Neb. Conly and Peters filed a $105 million damage suit in San Francisco, claiming the deal dd not fully represent the value of Kern stock. Ker has fled a cross action here against Conly and Peters claiming damages of at least $2 million because of the litigation.

The restraining order petition signed by Judge Pickett is aimed at preventing a multiplicity of suits. The document claims that if the defendants frustrate the merger by continuous filing of suits the stock will decline, "causing a loss in the savings of thousands of innocent investors ranging from $43 million to $130 million."

In the order, Judge Pickett prohibited further prosecution of the suits or taking any action except moving for dismissal. He also prohibited any similar efforts before any administrative body or officers with the purpose of blocking the merger.

Accused Of Triple Slaying

Texan Admits Taxi Killing

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Pfc. Donald Gene Wollard, 18, of Aransas Pass, Tex., and a fellow soldier changed their pleas to guilty Wednesday on charges of murdering a Columbus taxi driver.

Wollard and Pfc. Lee Edward Cook, 22, of Bronson, Mich., were charged with murder on the eve of their departure for Vietnam. They pleaded innocent in February to charges of killing and robbing retired Army Sgt. Joe H. Taylor.

Taylor's body was found near his bloodstained taxicab Dec. 22 in a densely wooded spot on the Ft. Benning reservation.

Wollard and Cook told U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott they were changing their pleas voluntarily and understood they could face sentences of death or life imprisonment.

Newlyweds Back Home

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. George Scott Romney and members of their families were back home in Michigan today, following Wednesday's wedding in the Salt Lake Mormon Temple.

Scott, 25, eldest son of Michigan Gov. George Romney, and his new bride, Ronna Eileen Stern, 23, of Birmingham, Mich., were married for "time and all eternity" in private rites of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

Only the bride and groom and members of the Romney family were present when Elder Hugh B. Brown, first counselor in the first presidency of the Mormon Church, performed the marriage.

The bride's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Kraus, were unable to attend Wednesday's temple ceremony because they are not Mormons, but will hold a reception Friday at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

The couple plans to live in Cambridge, Mass., where Scott is a second-year student at Harvard Law School.

Superintendent Wins School Fuss

AUSTIN (AP) — The Lake Worth School Board has been ordered to reinstate Supt. Grady Vaughn or to pay off his two-year contract, at a cost of $28,800.

The order was issued Wednesday by Dr. J. W. Edgar, state education commissioner, after a hearing of more than 7 hours on why Vaughn was fired May 18.

Edgar said the charges against Vaughn—ranging from insubordination to mishandling school finances—were not fully proved and were insufficient to cancel his contract.

The Lake Worth board has 15 days to either accept Edgar's ruling or appeal to the State Board of Education.

Larry Turnbull, school board secretary, said one of the major complaints was that Vaughn would not give Turnbull his unlisted telephone number.

Vaughn, superintendent since 1962, said he wanted the money owed him on the contract, instead of reinstatement.

Beet Sugar Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced Wednesday that no acre for next year's crop of sugar beets, continuing the policy for this year. The department said increased sugar beet crops are needed in 1968 to replenish stock of beet sugar.

Flash Flood Alerts Out

CLEVELAND, Ga. (AP) — Flash flood warnings were extended today as streams, swollen by as much as 14 inches of rain, gushed out of banks in north Georgia to spill over bridges and unearth landslides on highways.

Small, rippling brooks and creeks turned into torrents. The 14 inches of rain fell at Lake Burton and 13 inches drenched the small town of Helen during a 36-hour period.

Little relief is in sight. The Weather Bureau forecast scattered showers today and Friday.

No injuries were reported, but state troopers said several persons were almost trapped along the Richard Russell Scenic Highway.

At least 15 homes were flooded in Helen. Cattle sought high places in flooded pastures.

Several highways were closed. Flash flood warnings were extended as far as Athens where the Oconee River inflicted heavy flood damage earlier in the year.

The heavy rains in the Southeast were caused by a stationary front extending from Virginia over Tennessee with moist air moving in front to the Gulf of Mexico. The heaviest thunderstorms were reported near the front over the mountains.

Stock Mart List Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recovered mildly today from three straight daily losses. Trading was fairly active.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 3 to 2.

Prices rose from the start. An early gain of a point or more in the Dow Jones industrial average was trimmed back gradually, however.

At noon the Dow industrials were off .23 at 904.88.

The Dow Jones composite of 65 stocks as well as other stock market averages showed gains.

Most blue chips were laggard, accounting for the indifferent performance of the Dow industrials. The margin of gains over losses was wide enough to justify calling the market higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 333.6 with industrials up .6, rails up 1.2 and utilities off .1.

The strength of the rise seemed to lay in a scattered assortment of issues. Burroughs gained about 5 points, Raytheon, Johns-Manville and Collins Radio about 2 each, while gains of a point or so were posted for Control Data, Phelps Dodge, Zerox and U.S. Gypsum.

Delayed in opening, Allis-Chalmers dropped more than 3 points in reaction to denial of a false report on Wednesday that General Dynamics was making an offer amounting to $45 a share for Allis-Chalmers stock. Allis-Chalmers climbed 3⅛ to 38⅞ Wednesday.

General Motors held a gain of about a point despite concern about tough labor negotiations and a possible strike.

Prices rose on the American Stock Exchange.

Gasoline Flames Kill Two Boys; Mom Rescues Tot

DALLAS (AP) — Two small boys were killed and their mother trying to rescue them was badly burned Wednesday when spilled gasoline caught fire at their Oak Cliff apartment.

Three firemen also were injured when they plunged through the flames to get one of the boys.

Fatally burned were Robert Lane Smith Jr., 2, and his 10-month-old brother, Roderick. They were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lane Smith.

Mrs. Dora Smith said she spilled a jug of gasoline in her kitchen, left the room to get a mop and returned to find it in flames. Firemen said a burner on the kitchen range ignited the spilled gasoline.

The mother grabbed a 10-month-old child and rushed him to safety but the roaring gasoline fire prevented her from reaching the older boy.

Police Checking On Two Thefts

Detectives are investigating two thefts reported this morning. Two front fender chrome strips were missing from C. L. Mason Auto Sales, 400 Galveston. They are valued at $15.

The sliding door on the west side of the Dryer Music Company building, 308 Gregg, was found lying on the ground this morning when employes opened the store. Approximately $15 in change was taken from an office desk, according to police.

Kasch Has Lowest Bid For Hospital

Kasch Bros. Construction Co., Big Spring, has been awarded contract for the $2,442,000 Brownwood hospital. The Big Spring firm offered the lowest bid Tuesday when the contract was considered. The Brownwood Community Hospital will have 120 beds.

There were 12 bids opened at the session Tuesday. Turn out of interested persons was so large that the opening of the bids was moved from the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce to the Brownwood Coliseum. More than 150 were on hand for the occasion.

The bid offered by Kasch was $230,000 under the estimate given the Brownwood Community Hospital Inc., by federal agencies.

The total cost for the project, when it is ready for operation, will be $3,016,500.

The new three story institution will replace the community's two antiquated hospitals. These have a combined bed total of 90. The building is designed to add an additional 54 beds by building a fourth floor.

Housing and Urban Development loaned the community $1.7 million. A community fund drive to raise $500,000 has already produced $250,000.

Man Is Treated After Car Mishap On Andrews Road

T. Sgt. Curtis Oneal Barnes, 1800 Lancaster, is in satisfactory condition today at the Webb Hospital after suffering lacerations and abrasions in a two-car collision around midnight Wednesday.

The accident took place one-fourth mile west on SH 176. The parked car of Ramon Alvarez, 505 N. Nolan, was also involved.

James Harlan, Irving, and J. Margaret Covert, Van Buren, Ark., were in collision on IS 20 in front of the Americana Motel. During the noon hour Wednesday the driverless car of Frank Winans, Vealmoor, was involved in a mishap with the Quigley Floral Company Building in the 300 block of West Sixteenth. Third and North Bell was the scene of an accident involving Bobby Edward Nagiller, Odessa, and Cuca Puga Everett, 104 NW 8th.

Tools Stolen

Norris Streetman, a construction worker, reported theft of a number of assorted small tools, a large fire extinguisher and a 16 foot length of chain from his pickup two nights ago. Sheriff A. N. Standard said that the theft was at a local motel where Streetman lives. No clues to the lost articles have been found.

To Pave Town Red

MILAN, Italy (AP) — They plan to pave the town red in Milan, or at least part of it.

Art experts in the city public works office have decided after considerable study that red paving can bring out the beauty of ancient architecture far better than black asphalt.

Police Check After Communist Attack

Hong Kong police inspect wrecked car in which radio comedian Lam Bun and his brother were riding when Communist terrorists bombed it, threw gasoline on the brothers and set them afire. Red China Sounds Blast At British LONDON (AP) — Red China blared new threats today at British rule in Hong Kong and praised the Red Guards' attack on the British mission in Peking as the British government refused to break relations with Peking.

The official New China News Agency said Communist Chinese in Hong Kong await a signal from Peking to "completely smash the reactionary rule of British imperialism."

BROTHERS AFIRE

In the colony on Red China's southern shore, terrorists burned a Chinese radio comedian known for anti-Communist jokes and his brother. The comedian, Lam Bun, was reported near death after terrorists threw a bomb into his car, then doused him and his brother with gasoline and set them afire.

Japan's Kyodo news service said the official Peking People's Daily praised the burning of Britain's legation in Peking Tuesday as "a revolutionary action."

HUMILATED

The attacking Red Guards, youthful followers of Chairman Mao Tse-tung, forced some of the 23 legation staff members to kneel and bow their heads then photographed them while they were taunted and humiliated, reliable sources in London reported.

The British Foreign Office accused Red China of "breaking all normal rules of civilized behavior." But a spokesman said: "It is not our objective to rupture relations. Where we go from now on depends entirely on the attitude and behavior of the Chinese authorities."

HOSTAGES

Britain's most immediate concern is for the safety of the estimated 190 British nationals scattered throughout Red China. Because of the present internal upheaval in China, London could not be certain even of being able to communicate with many of them.

However, the British have some hostages. The 50 or more Chinese officials, businessmen and newsmen in Britain have been told they cannot leave the country without special permission.

The British also have silenced the radio transmitter of the Chinese legation in London until the British legation in Peking is allowed to resume broadcasting. The flare-up came over Peking's demand that the British allow three pro-Communist Hong Kong newspapers to resume publication and release leftist newsmen under arrest.

Donald C. Hopson, Britain's charge d'affaires in Peking, reported that staff members caught by the mob were "well, though shaken, bruised and cut."

Three young advertising men tried to protest at the Chinese legation in London. They rang the bell and a small red book came hurtling out at their heads. It was a copy of the thoughts of Mao.

A group of young liberals pushed a petition under the legation door. Someone promptly pushed it back.

Soviet Threat Is Discounted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet threat of possible "retaliatory steps" to intensified U.S. bombing of North Vietnam is discounted for now by a critic and a supporter of President Johnson's war policies.

The Soviets said in a statement Wednesday that what they called the latest U.S. escalation of the conflict will "inevitably lead to the necessary retaliatory steps." They didn't spell out the threat further.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called it "a mild warning that none the less should be taken seriously." He has labeled the bombing of targets near the Red China border a "stupid" move, inviting Chinese intervention.

STRAW HINT

"I don't reach the conclusion from this that the Russians are about to intervene in the war," he said. "But it might be a straw indicating which way the wind is blowing."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview he doubts anybody can guess the Soviet intentions.

"But they sound like they have before," said Hickenlooper, a backer of U.S. war policies. "I think this may be in the nature of an objection for the record to reassure their friends in North Vietnam."

RESULTS

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said testimony of Adm. T. H. Moorer, chief of naval operations before his Senate preparedness subcommittee demonstrated how "critical and crucial" intensified bombing was to successful prosecution of the war.

But Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said the air attacks are not "producing the desired results" of bringing the Communists to the negotiating table.

Morton said he does not oppose the attacks on military targets near Red China and only hopes "the dividend is worth the risk involved."

"What disturbs me," he said, "is bombing right around the metropolitan areas of North Vietnam—Haiphong, Hanoi. Whether the civilians are hit or not, they see it, and this increases their morale and their will to resist."

Morton's views were aired on a National Educational Television program, "In My Opinion."

Phone Cable Cut, Service Restored

Three hundred telephones were put out of order Wednesday noon, but less than four hours later telephone crews had them back in working order.

Harry Sawyer, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone, said that a machine in connection with a road project at FM 700 and Goliad, severed an underground cable at 12:30 p.m. In addition to the 300 pairs of lines snapped, several lease lines were cut. Four cable splicers and a supervisor were dispatched at once and by 4:15 p.m. had service restored.

Attempted Thefts

Two attempted thefts were reported to city police Wednesday. John Sherred, Wright Street, told officers his former residence at 2105 Alabama had been entered but nothing of value was missing. Some of the objects had been removed from the house, taken to an alley and scattered. B. L. Mason, Route 1, said his car parked at FM 700 and Birdwell, had been tampered with.

Wrecks Take Two

HOUSTON (AP) — Two persons died today as a result of automobile accidents in Houston.

Lois Matthews, 33, Houston, died of injuries received in an Aug. 21 accident.

Timothy Carlton, 41, Houston, was killed when the demonstrator car he was driving left an expressway. Two hours earlier, police said, he was involved in another accident.

Barbecue Slated

Ribbons will go to riders who place first through sixth.

May Send Deputy To Brownsville

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that he would know by Friday if he will send a deputy to Brownsville to bring back R. L. Gumm, held there on a local warrant.

Sheriff Standard said that Gumm is wanted here on charges of theft over $50. He added that Gumm may make bond in Brownsville and if this is done there is no reason to send a deputy for him.

PLANES

Wednesday was the Yen Vien rail yard seven miles northeast of Hanoi, which Air Force pilots reported was choked with about 100 boxcars, some damaged in previous raids. Pilots reported at least 50 cars destroyed or damaged Wednesday.

SPANS BLASTED

Similarly, the Bac Giang yard 28 miles above Hanoi on the main northeast rail line to Red China was left in a cloud of smoke and debris.

The rolling stock from Red China has been building up in the yards north of Hanoi because earlier raids dropped the rail bridges spanning the Red River into the North Vietnamese capital.

Navy pilots reported dropping three of the five spans on the 430-foot Thai Binh bridge 37 miles southwest of Haiphong. Another bridge at Vat Cach only seven miles from the big Red port also was reported cut.

122 MISSIONS

Other Air Force, Navy and Marine fliers ranged from Hanoi to the 17th parallel blasting bridges, trucks, rail cars and canal and river traffic. A total of 122 missions were flown.

While the fighter-bombers kept up the war in the North, B52s kept up the pace with four heavy strikes in South Vietnam Wednesday night and today.

The big eight-engine bombers raked Communist supply points and suspected hideouts in the Mekong delta, the central highlands and the coastal plains of the northern provinces, where most ground fighting has recently centered.

PANEL PICKED

Despite the mounting U. S. air losses, a parade of top American military leaders continued to advocate stepped-up bombing of North Vietnam. Appearing before a Senate subcommittee in Washington, Adm. T.H. Moorer, the new chief of naval operations, expressed agreement with other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff that the "air campaign against North Vietnam is now being prosecuted in an effective manner."

Cambodia meanwhile informed the U.N. Security Council that its forces killed two South Vietnamese soldiers who crossed its border on July 28.

Mrs. Jackson Is Convalescing

HOUSTON — Mrs. William L. (Margaret) Jackson is in Hermann Hospital here following surgery Sunday.

Although seriously ill, latest reports indicated an improvement in her condition.

Mrs. Jackson is the daughter of Mrs. Carl Campbell, and the sister of Don Campbell and Gene Campbell of Big Spring.

She and Mr. Jackson resided here when he was the head of Cosden's chemical research and development program. The Jacksons and their three children now reside in Mexico City.

Science And You

Gibbons Are Smart

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

In the hierarchy of intelligence amoung apes and monkeys, the chimpanzee has always lorded it over the poor gibbon. Now it appears that the chimp's egotism may not be justified.

Like many other animals, gibbons have been tested for intelligence from time to time by curious scientists. The results have always been disappointing. Chimpanzees outdid the gibbons evert time and became almost the traditional choice for studies of advanced animal intelligence. But recently one doubting Thomas gave gibbons another chance. The results are rather surprising. It turns out that gibbons can exhibit considerable insight which the scientist cautiously calls "something akin to thought." The tests which showed gibbons to be just as clever as chimps were done by having the animals pull strings as a means of getting food. The strings were arranged in different ways so as to provide some five kinds of problems with remarkable efficiency. Apparently, the reason they had failed miserably in trials by other scientists was because the test strings in previous tests were just laid flat on the ground. In these new tests, the strings were slightly elevated.

This small change made all the difference in the world. Why? Because the gibbon has a hand which is not well adapted to picking things up off a flat surface! When the strings were up where they could grab at them, the gibbons did very well indeed.

In one particular test, two strings were attached to a piece of food. One string led into the gibbon's cage and he could pull on it directly: the other string led away from the food and away from the cage, passed around a fixed peg and then came back to the cage, where it was tied onto a bar.

Since you're at least as smart as a gibbon, you can surely see what would happen. If the gibbon pulled on the string that came directly to the cage, all he would do is tighten the loop of string around the peg and the food would not move. But if he pulled on the string tied to the bar — a not-very-obvious place to pull — he'd get the food because it would come around the peg and into the cage.

The detailed behavior of one particular gibbon on the test is especially intriguing. At first, he pulled on the obivous string repeatedly and, of course, didn't get anywhere. After a time he became frustrated and finally quit. He then walked and played around in his cage, ignoring the food entirely. But then he suddenly turned and pulled on the right string, to the the food without any hesitation.

It seems reasonable to assume from the behavior of the gibbon during this whole process that he was turning the problem over in his "mind." When the light dawned, he achieved what in a human would have to be called an "insight" and came back to solve the problem and claim his reward.

Surely, we have much to learn about the extent to which the thought processes in the higher animals resemble our own. But one thing seems clear from these studies: Some forms of animal thought do exist.

Hedy Lamarr Changes Mind

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police say Hedy Lamarr accused a public schools repairman of raping her at gunpoint, but after his arrest the actress withdrew her complaint.

Detectives arrested Donald Blyth, 40, of El Monte at Miss Lamarr's West Los Angeles home Monday. He was booked on suspicion of rape, but he was released Tuesday when she declined to press the case.

Miss Lamarr, 52, was questioned at length by Deputy Dist. Atty. Mark T. McDonald in Santa Monica.

Afterward McDonald announced: "In an interview with Miss Lamarr she indicated after going over all the facts that she did not wish to go further with this matter."

Detectives said Miss Lamarr told then she had known, and dated, Blyth for six months. She said he called at her home during the weekend and made advances which she repulsed, whereupon he drew a gun, forced her into a bedroom and attacked her, the detective reported.

Blyth denied her charge, claiming she accepted his advances, police said. The detectives said he was not armed when arrested.

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — James Thomas, 29, of Sherman, was fatally shocked Wednesday when he came in contact with a 440-volt power line while installing an electric hoist at an industrial plant.

Juarez Divorce Business Booms

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — A change in the laws of New York State is credited for a boom in the divorce court business of this Mexican Border city just across the Rio Grande from El Paso.

Umberto Lara Leos, officer in charge of registering divorce applicants, said Wednesday that of 4,000 divorces granted in Juarez since Aug. 1 about 90 per cent went to New York applicants.

He said he understood that after Sept. 1 New York no longer will recognize out of state or Mexican divorces unless more stringent residence requirements are established.

Divorces can be obtained in Juarez on grounds of mutual consent and incompatibility of character, with the only other requirements a court appearance and a signature.

Takes Bus Spin

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — Robert Christopher Seale always liked buses so Wednesday he decided to take one for a spin.

Police said Seale, 18, was arrested after a six-mile chase that reached speeds of 85 miles per hour. Officers said police bullets punctured the tire of a new bus he had taken from the Greyhound bus station and the bus was forced off U.S. 80 into a marsh.

Seale was jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond pending a hearing on several charges, police said.

A Devotional For The Day

This is how one should regard us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God. (I Corinthians 4:1, RSV)

PRAYER: Eternal God, grant us an awareness of the value of our faith, of what it has cost others in devotion and sacrifice through the years. May we through our stewardship share this rich heritage. We pray in Jesus' name and for His sake. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Federal-State Cooperation

Aid to the states has become second only to military spending in the federal budget. The total topped $15 billion this year, in some 400 programs, and is steadily growing despite the fiscal pressures of the Vietnam war effort.

That trend has reached a point requiring drastic innovation. For the federal aid programs are becoming too numerous, too large, too complex, and too inflexible for efficient administration and coordination. Broadly, three approaches to improvement, in combination, seem advisable.

One is some degree of federal tax sharing with the states, so as to augment the latter's resources while decentralizing policy-making and administrative responsibility. This can help check the further expansion of federal grants-in-aid programs, but can likely be only a supplement and not a substitute for them, for such programs have become too institutionalized to be replaced.

Another approach is accelerated improvement of state and local governmental structures so that they can more effectively administer both their own expenditures and federal aid.

The third related approach is to strive to improve federal-state relations—policy-making liaison, cooperative program formulation, and administrative coordination. This is what former Florida Gov. Farris Bryant, director of the U.S. Office of Emergency Planning and President Johnson's designated "ambassador" to the governors, has been working on for the past year.

Bryant claims hopeful progress in what is essentially a bipartisan effort. Bryant's flying federal team conferences with 40 governors in recent months will culminate this fall in governors' meeting with federal officials in Washington to continue discussions of how joint federal-state efforts can be made less confusing and wasteful and more effective.

Priorities On Spending

The concept of priorities has begun to play a significant role in public thinking about the space program. A poll shows that — for the first time, so far as we know, since President Kennedy called for a national commitment to sending a manned expedition to the moon — a majority of Americans now oppose this undertaking. One of the main reasons for this shift appears to be a growing belief that the billions of dollars allocated to this purpose might be better spent on more pressing needs.

It is particularly interesting to note that a whopping 60 per cent of those interviewed said they would not favor continuing our space program at the present rate if the Soviet Union were not in the "space race." Only 30 per cent would approve going ahead at the present rate if our country were the only one exploring space. Thus it appears that the element of competition is a very strong factor in opinion.

One cannot fairly conclude that Americans have begun to reject the space program; the vote on the lunar project is closely divided. The shift might well be taken, however, to bolster the view that we should push harder for an international, cooperative approach to an enterprise in which the entire human race ought to be involved. That would reduce the cost to the United States and allow us to devote some of our billions to other things higher on the scale of priorities.

Responsibility For The War

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's significant reference in his recent news conference to the fact that Congress could at any time withdraw the concurrent resolution it passed in August, 1964 authorizing the military operations in Viewnam doesn't mean that the chief executive really wants to see the resolution terminated. It does mean that, in President Johnson's opinion, Congress along with the executive is clearly responsible for the continued presence of American armed forces in Vietnam.

BUT SOMETHING else — in certain respects even more important — can be inferred from the President's comments. It is that Congress could have declared a "state of war," and thus could have made possible the search, if not the seizure, of all ships carrying arms or military supplies to the North Vietnamese. Since this has not been done, it may be argued, therefore, that Congress is in part to blame for the prolongation of the conflict.

THE DECLARATION of a "state of war" is far from irrelevant in Vietnam, where both Red China and the Soviet Union have been supplying to the North Vietnamese the weapons and munitions with which to kill American soldiers. Under international law, if a "state of war" is declared, American naval forces or airpower can be applied against supply lines. Since this might involve a possible entry into the war by the Soviet Union and Red China as "belligerents," the State Department presumably theorizes that the advantage in our exercising what is known as a belligerent right of search and seizure could be outweighed by the dangers of an enlarged war.

CONGRESS, HOWEVER, has one remedy it can use. It can at least forbid Americans from "trading with the enemy," either directly or indirectly. Certainly the pending treaties or agreements to ease up on restrictions in trade with the Soviet Union and Communist countries in Eastern Europe could be put aside until peace comes in Vietnam.

It is inexplicable why so many members of Congress who are critics of the President seem to have forgotten the content of the resolution passed on Aug. 7, 1964. After reciting the attacks by Communist naval units on United States vessels and stating that these were "part of a deliberate and systematic campaign of aggression" against the government of South Vietnam — which formally requested the help of the United States — the resolution says:

"RESOLVED BY the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as commander-in-chief, to take all necessary measures to repeal any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

The resolution is all - inclusive. It is not confined, as some critics have tried to imply, to an authorization to use only our naval forces for the Gulf of Tonkin incident alone. If a majority in Congress holds any such view today, they can terminate the resolution at any time or restrict its scope. The record to date, however, shows that the President has acted with the specific authorization of Congress.

SO THE WAR in Vietnam is today, therefore, the joint responsibility of the President and the Congress. If any part of the government here has been remiss, it is Congress, which has failed to cut off trade with the countries supplying goods to the enemy.

LBJ Attempts To Silence Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has bowed to pressure but found a way to take some of the load off his own shoulders after listening to 24 days of new criticism about the way things are going in South Vietnam.

Johnson, with an instinct for the middle road, Wednesday night named a 20-man delegation of prominent citizens to go to Vietnam and observe the election. They will not be supervisors. They will not make a formal report.

But they apparently will be free to say what they think individually when they return here after the election Sept. 3. Since they probably won't all agree, the chances of a continued dispute here look pretty good.

THE NEW LOAD of criticism began to hit Johnson July 31. There had been increasing growling about Johnson's handling of the war, particularly by Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

On July 31 he introduced a resolution—the Senate hasn't acted on it yet and perhaps never will—that would greatly reduce a President's power in foreign affairs.

It would require joint approval by Congress and the President to seal any national commitment abroad. This already is required if the President wants to make a treaty. But a President can do a lot of things abroad without a treaty.

SO THE Fulbright idea would tie a President's hands far more than ever before.

Then on Aug. 10, 21 House Republicans called on its Foreign Affairs Committee to modify the Gulf of Tonkin resolution, which both houses approved in 1964. It pretty much gives the President a blank check on how he wants to stop Communist aggression in Vietnam.

On that same day 57 House Democrats called on Johnson to warn the ruling military regime in South Vietnam that unless it allows a fair presidential election there this country may do some rethinking about helping South Vietnam.

Does All Seem Chaos?

NEW YORK (AP) — And what is your problem, sir?

Oh, I see. The world is so crazy and mixed up today that you are beginning to wonder whether you're really normal yourself?

Well, sir, a lot of people are in the same plight. In itself it's a pretty encouraging sign. But, just to be sure, would you like to take our painless five-minute sanity test?

Good. It's quite simple. Just lie down, close your eyes, and consider how you would answer the following questions:

WHEN YOU HAVE to listen to a long, dull after-dinner speech, do you find your mind wandering off and starting to think about money or sex?

Do you think that if you were just wealthy enough you could get any girl in the world to fall in love with you?

Does it sometimes annoy you that the guy next door to you not only has a newer car and bigger power lawnmower than you but also a better-looking wife?

NOW AND THEN, are you swept by a feeling of uncertainty because the hippies you see, even though they spend their lives laughing, scratching themselves and smelling flowers, seem to be having more fun than you are?

When you rake up the first leaves of autumn, does a wind immediately spring up and blow the leaves from your neighbor's yard into your yard?

Do you have a disgruntled feeling that "somebody up there" must be mad at you, because nobody seems to have the woes that you have?

If you and three friends went for a hike through the woods, are you the one who would come down with a bad case of poison ivy?

DO YOU LIVE beyond your income and owe more than you can afford?

Does it seem like it has been forever since life surprised you with an unexpected pleasure?

Are you convinced that your dog has it better than you do?

Do you excuse your own lack of ambition and drive by glumly agreeing with the people who say, "What's the use of killing myself to earn more dough when the government will just take it away from me?"

INSTEAD OF SIMPLY enjoying the sight of a lovely girl in a mini-skirt, do you start wondering what kind of parents she must have—to let her go around dressed like that?

You did? Cheer up. That means you are exactly as normal as most people.

But, of course, it's normal people like you and me who keep the world in the shape it's in.

Billy Graham

Please explain just what you mean when you say, "A personal experience with Christ? P.C.

You see, there are two kinds of religion: theoretical and experimental. The one is speculative, the other actual. The one is creed, the other a walk with Christ. The one is of the head, the other of the heart. Jesus said: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, mind and strength." If we love God in this fashion, it is an experience. If worship is just a matter of duty, it lacks the warmth of true Christianity.

The Apostle Peter put it this way: "For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of His Majesty." But you may come back and say: "But we were no eye-witnesses of Christ." The same Peter said: "Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with Christ. Thousands can say: "Old things are passed away, and all things have become new." If you will open your heart to Christ, this experience can be yours too.

Relative Trust

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Being kissed by a kissin' cousin is nice but being robbed by a friendly cousin is bad.

This was the experience of John Stevens and his wife after bringing the cousin with them from Chicago.

Stevens told police that his cousin went for a walk after the couple had retired. About 4 a.m. there was a knock on the door. The cousin, who had returned earlier, rushed to answer it.

A stranger stood in the doorway with a gun in his hand.

When Stevens took a second look the cousin turned around, pointed a gun at him and at his wife.

The cousin and friend robbed the Stevenses of $600.

Child Has Trouble In Kindergarten

Dear Dr. Molner: My son, six, has some sort of a problem. He cannot color or cut with scissors, did not walk or talk until he was two. He seems bright but something is wrong. He is stubborn as the dickens. You cannot either go along with him or scold him to do what you want him to. He will never answer a question, just looks at you. He drives his teachers crazy and they do not know how to handle him.

He has been in kindergarten a year and will have to stay another year. The school suggested a physical examination by the school doctor, and thinks there may be brain damage.

He has been very much in the care of baby-sitters for unavoidable reasons, and I wonder if his trouble could be emotional. But I would like him checked physically first.

Where could I take him for a complete test? I have listened to so many people and have come up with exactly nothing. I do not now where to start. Mrs.E.G.

When a child is so hard to handle that he has to repeat kindergarten, it is obvious that something is wrong. Perhaps brain damage is responsible or involved to some extent. Emotional disturbance would, from the description, seem to be involved, but whether it would spring from so much supervision by baby-sitters is problematical.

You need answers from specialists who, after studying the boy, can tell you what problem you are, actually facing.

A good physical examination is in order to start with, but it seems obvious to me that psychological testing and study of his emotional responses will be necessary.

There is no point in your trying to guess; go where you can get some positive determinations.

I presume, or hope, that you already have a pediatrician. He can start the examination and then refer you to more specialized experts.

Or — since you live in one of the cities which has an excellent children's hospital — arrangements could be made to have all the testing, of various sorts, conducted there.

For parents in other communities, a child guidance center is the best source of help, but at many of them, perhaps most or all, such centers will want a physician to make his examination and then refer the youngster to the center.

For non-city dwellers, the best place to start is with your own family physician or pediatrician if you have one, and let him make the necessary referrals in the nearest appropriate city.

The important thing, Mrs. E. G., is that you recognize that something may be wrong. You gain nothing by trying to guess in advance what the problem is. That's what specialists are for, to diagonse difficult conditions.

Whether the problem is basically physical, mental or emotional, or a combination, the place to start is with your pediatrician.

Around The Rim

They Demanded-Commanded Respect

Apologists for the rioters and looters apparently discount the lack of respect for authority—indeed, if this concept still holds any value in a modern society. Parents, gathered to pass the time, inevitably get around to the problems of rearing children, citing this troublesome problem.

IN ANOTHER time, almost in another world, things were different. It recalls a story of a fine old gentleman, who reared his children on the farm, gave them a strong upbringing, with an often-used hickory stick or mesquite branch to back up his decisions. As the saying goes, there wasn't a rotten apple among 11 youngsters.

In his 80s, he still fixed his own windmill and managed his own interests, after the children had married off, and he was a widower.

THE TIME came when his eldest son, in his 60s, was also alone, when his wife died and his children married. The other children thought it best if he move back with "the old man" so neither would be alone out there on that "lonely place."

The son moved in, and except for occasional visits to his children and grandchildren, helped his Dad manage things. But there was never any question of who was running things. The son followed orders, just as when he was a strapping youngster, and had his chores assigned daily.

WHEN HE decided to go into town at night, his Dad pulled out an ancient pocket watch, looked at the dial, and reminded the son he expected him in by 10 p.m. The 60-year-old youngster made it a point to be in by that time, for the simple reason he had no doubt but that the old man still had a mesquite branch around the place somewhere—and wasn't above using it.

WHAT A FAR CRY from today's parents who plead they cannot manage to get their teenager in before 1 a.m. "I just can't do anything with him (her)," is heard on many occasions.

The "old ways" of rearing children are attacked at every corner by modern social workers, and psychiatrists, pointing out all manner of ills they caused. For all I know, they're right.

BUT MANY generations of fine folks were raised that way. True, there were some problems in those days, but as many as today?

Is a show of respect for one's elders, even when in disagreement, so old-fashioned and worthless? It's possible to change things, without violence and disrespect for what has gone before. Isn't it?

The New Fulbright Approach

WAHINGTON — Sen. Bill Fulbright (D.,Ark.) is our lost sheep that's been found.

There is a duty to remind the conservative community of this, and the task was recently done for us by the dependable Washington Post, which is harder to fool about its anti-liberal targets than a woodpecker is about a tree.

THE POST, after years of adulation and forgiveness toward Fulbright, hauled off and editorially slugged him for his a) long-ago signing of the Southern Manifesto, b) his inherent belief in "gradualism" of racial reforms and c) for saying that we've been over-preoccupied with foreign relations at the cost of domestic improvements. In sum, Fulbright has found his way back into the fold. At heart he's a Southern Democrat, a make-hast-slowly reformer, a pro-American isolationist.

THIS MUCH for prelude. The senator, who's chairman of Foreign Relations, is undertaking to disengage U.S.A. from what somebody once called "perpetual war for perpetual peace." He isn't so much trying to get us out of Vietnam. He's trying to prevent future Vietnams. He isn't trying to prevent us from honoring national commitments, or from asserting national interests, but he's trying to define these terms. He isn't against wars, so long as they're our wars, understood by the people, agreed upon by the Congress, not ignited by the personal diplomacy of Presidents, nor by intellectual arsonists in Presidential advisory groups.

WHEN WE finally get descriptions and synonyms for national "commitment" and "interest," they will be the joint work of Fulbright, of the Foreign Relations Committee, of the Senate as a whole, and of an array of erudite witnesses who are currently giving testimony.

The lead-off witness was Dr. Ruhl Bartlett, professor of diplomatic history at Tufts University in Massachusetts and author of several standard books on American foreign policy. Dr. Bartlett's testimony was lengthy, profound, understated and documented. But he spoke of "reversal since 1789," the year that constitutional government was founded. He gave three "reasons advanced in defense" of the presidential usurpation of foreign policy.

1. THE ARGUMENT of technology. Presidents since Franklin Roosevelt have said the world moves too fast for congressional consultation. Dr. Bartlett: "There has never been a case when the imminence of danger to the nation was so great that . . . decision . . . could not be entrusted to Congress."

2. The argument that the President has secret information which he cannot share with Congress. Dr. Bartlett: "Nothing is more destructive of democratic institutions than the concealment of information essential to them (the people and the Congress)."

3. THE THEORY of expertness. It is that foreign relations are so intricate that only "experts in the executive branch" can comprehend. Dr. Bartlett: "In addition to being insulting, this argument is fallacious . . . there are no experts in human wisdom . . . there is nothing in the realm of foreign policy that cannot be understood by the average American citizen."

Thus the lead-off witness. Let the American people carefully follow this inquiry - in - depth. It could literally turn us back to better days than these.

The War Of The Edsels

WASHINGTON — We were sitting around discussing the war in Vietnam the other night when somebody remembered that Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara used to work for the Ford Company.

Then somebody else said, "I wonder what would have happened if Ford continued making the Edsel motor car?"

This is what we decided could have happened.

The year the Edsel came out a high level conference was called.

THE VICE PRESIDENT in charge of sales made his report. "Sir, we might as well face it. The Edsel is a bomb. We can't sell enough of them to pay for one advertising spot on the Ed Sullivan show. I think we ought to take our losses and get out."

"Wait a minute," a board member said. "If the Edsel fails, the Ford might fall, then the Mercury and then finally the Continental. Psychologically this would be the greatest victory General Motors could possibly achieve, and our prestige in the motor industry would be impaired forever. We've got too much at stake for us to stop the Edsel now."

"I disagree with you, sir. I think we made a mistake and should admit it."

"BALDERDASH. The solution is to pour in more men and money. Surely with all our resources we can make the Edsel a big success, and we will show General Motors once and for all that if Ford makes a commitment to a car it will keep it."

"What's your plan, sir?"

"Let's send in our top engineers and develop the best car money can buy."

A year later the high-level group stared glumly at the sales figures. "Sir, as you can see, we only sold 43 cars this year. The people just won't buy the Edsel. It's not their kind of car. Let's get out before it's too late."

"WE CAN'T just get out. We've got 50,000 workers committed to making a successful car and we'd be the laughing stock of the world if we quit now. The problem seems to be with the Edsel management team. Let's change the management, send in another 75,000 workers, add an additional $30 million, and we're bound to have a winner on our hands."

A year later the same group met to hear the news that only 23 Edsels had been sold. But one of the top-flight executives, who had just returned from a visit to the Edsel factory, was optimistic.

"IT MAY TAKE more time than we thought," he said, "but progress is being made. We have to concentrate harder on the customers to win them over before we'll see any results on the sales charts. Our industrial intelligence division says that General Motors is hurting badly and that with each new Edsel coming off the production line their morale is sinking to a new low. This is no time to let up. I propose we pour in another 125,000 workers and $50 million additional funds. GM must be made to realize that their hard-sell tactics won't pay off."

THREE YEARS later, with 550,000 workers on the production line and a billion dollars invested in the car, only one Edsel was sold—to the Smithsonian Institution.

"What do we do now?" someone asked.

"I think we should stop making Fords, Mercurys, Thunderbirds and Continentals and put all our resources into the Edsel. Our engineers say that all they need is 250,000 more workers and another billion dollars, and they'll have General Motors on their knees."

BERNIE HAGINS

Childers, Reid Divide Time At Quarterback

COAHOMA — Coach Bernie Hagins reasons the Coahoma Bulldogs still have a lot of work ahead of them if they are to be ready for their season's opening game with Colorado City the night of Sept. 8.

The Bulldogs scrimmaged Iraan in Odessa Tuesday night. The varsity outscored the Iraan reguiars, two touchdowns to one, but Hagins foresees depth problems for the Bulldogs in the secondary and a need for a more fluid attack, which will only come with practice.

Dean Richters scored both of Coahoma's touchdowns on runs of 15 and 40 yards.

Mike Childers and Royce Reid divided time at quarterback for the Bulldogs. Both boys weigh about 155 but Childers is a senior while Reid is only a junior. Childers exhibited good passing form against Iraan.

Bernie expects the end situation to brighten from the standpoint of depth when Bill and Lynn King, who have spent the summer in the state of Washington, return to Coahoma this weekend. They'll divide time with Mark Barr and Gaylen Williams at the terminal spots.

R. L. Coates, a tackle who rated the all-district team last year, suffered a painful mouth injury in the Tuesday scrimmage and will be out for several days. He was hospitalized following the action.

Had Coates not had his mouthpiece in at the time, he probably would have lost some teeth. As it was, he escaped with a bad bruise.

L. D. Bender and Robert Winn have been running first string at tackle for Coahoma but Coates was due to be moved up before he got hurt.

Including freshmen, who are being worked separately, Coahoma now has about 53 players in camp.

The Bulldogs are working twice daily until school begins next week.

The Bulldogs visit Stanton a week from tonight for another scrimmage. That one will all be under the lights and will afford Hagins another chance to see his reserves in action.

TOKYO — Mitsunori Seki, 128¼, Japan, outpointed Roy Amolong, 128, Philippines, non-title.

Wetsel Takes Job At Jal

Applications are now being accepted by the City of Big Spring for the job of golf pro at the Municipal course.

J. B. Wetsel, associated with the local course since Feb. 14, 1966, has resigned effective Sept. 9.

Wetsel said he planned to become affiliated with the Jal, N. M., Country Club as pro. At Jal, he will succeed Pat Dolan.

The Jal course boasts a nine-hole layout and has about 170 members. It is largely financed by El Paso Natural Gas.

Before coming to Big Spring, Wetsel served as pro at the Sweetwater municipal course from Sept. 1963, to Feb., 1966.

Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, said the job was wide open here and he hoped it could be filled as soon as possible.

Texan, Partner Are Eliminated

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Another Texan was eliminated from the national doubles tennis tournament Wednesday.

Sherwood Stewart of Baytown, who teamed with Gary Rose of Brookline, met defeat at the hands of William Bowrey and Owen Davidson of Australia 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

Golf Prizes Impressive

Prizes valued at $287 will be given away to winners in each flight of the 36th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament, which will be staged at the Country Club Sept. 1-4.

Sets of irons costing $154 will go to flight winners. Runners-up earn sets of woods valued at $78. Consolation winners get golf bags which sell for $40 while consolation runners-up receipt for a dozen golf balls, which cost $15.

In addition, the tournament medalist will be awarded a pair of Foot-Joy golf shoes, which retail for $42.50.

Youthful Mike Cleckler of Odessa is the defending champion and is due back to try and defend his laurels.

He faces stern competition from what promises to be a seasoned field. Already entered are such players as Robb Smith, the reigning Country Club champion; Roy Peden, Kermit, runner-up a year ago; Bobby Bluhm, Odessa; John Shepperson, San Angelo; and Rick Terry, Big Spring.

In all, more than 50 players have already registered for the four-day meet, which is always timed to end on Labor Day. Entry fee is $20.

Those paying entry fees can start practicing at the course Saturday, whether or not they are members of the club. Notices of entry should be forwarded to Buddy Hughes, club pro, whose mailing address is PO Box 1027, Big Spring.

No more than 224 players will be accepted for the tournament. That is enough for 14 flights, including the championship division.

This will be a match play event throughout. Last year, survivors resorted to medal play on the final 18 holes to determine the winner.

Wildcats Launch Workouts Today

Wheeler will greet 23 returning lettermen and 21 incoming freshmen. Four offensive and five defensive starters are back from last year's 4-6 team.

Most prominent returnee is Kenneth Smith, a 215-pound sophomore fullback who gained 531 yards and averaged 6.3 yards per carry in 1966.

Packers Out To Set Record This Fall

WEST DE PERE, Wis. (AP) —Green Bay is gunning for a third straight National Football League title and another slice of that rich Super Bowl cash with Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski playing the roles of Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor.

No team has won three in a row in the NFL since the league adopted the playoff system in 1933. Seven clubs, including the Packers twice, have faltered after taking two straight. Only the 1929-30-31 Packers have gone all the way three years in succession.

ON HIS MIND

"We haven't given much thought to it," said Coach Vince Lombardi, a statement that has to be accepted with a grain of salt. Lombardi always gives much thought to anything involving football, and you can be sure the idea of being the first to take three straight has entered his mind.

"Records don't mean that much to me," added that man who has won five Western Conference crowns and four league titles in eight years at Green Bay.

Many of the old familiar names still are on the scene Jerry Kramer, Forrest Gregg, Fuzzy Thurston, Max McGee Henry Jordan, Bob Skoronski. Willie Davis and Ray Nitschke all have been around for 10 or more years. Of course, Bart Starr still is very much in evidence.

But Lombardi has been moving in new people quietly so that men like Gale Gillingham, Ken Bowman, Bob Brown, Jim Weatherwax, Bob Jeter and Tom Brown have taken over regular jobs or are pressing the first stringers.

Green Bay's new image is being built around Anderson the fabulous running back from Texas Tech, and Grabowski, the former Illinois fullback, who cost the Packers close to $1 million when they signed a year ago.

It is too early to tell but many sound football people think Anderson is the next super star of pro football. The Texan has blazing speed; quick moves and is a fine receiver as well as a devastating runner. To top it off, he throws left-handed and completed a 67-yarder to Carroll Dale in the preseason game with Pittsburgh.

Elijah Pitts, the fine runner who helped the Packers win the NFL and Super Bowl last year, and Ben Wilson, picked up from the Los Angeles Rams in a late deal, give Lombardi a chance to maneuver in his backfield. Travis Williams, a blur of speed from Arizona State, may make the club.

STARR IS KEY

Starr, the Most Valuable Player in the league last year, obviously is the key. His accurate passing and brilliant play calling have earned him the rank as the No. 1 quarterback in the game. Zeke Bratkowski, a veteran backup man, and rookie Don Horn of San Diego State, give the Packers solid insurance.

Boyd Dowler is healthy again after an operation on his left shoulder but flanker Bob Long's knee has failed him again. Dale will be the regular flanker unless rookie Dave Dunaway of Duke comes on real fast.

Marv Fleming is the tight end with Allen Brown finally getting a chance to show his stuff. The veteran McGee, Super Bowl here, is back after reconsidering his earlier decision to retire.

STINGY ON DEFENSE

Skoronski and Gregg man the tackle posts in the offensive line with Kramer and Thurston or Gillingham at the guards. Bowman is the center.

The Packer defense, the real strength of the champions, gave up only 17 touchdowns last year, nine on the ground, seven in the air and one on a fumble recovery. The other clubs scored 163 points or about 11½ points a game.

It will be the same veteran crew again with Willie Davis and Lionel Aldridge at the ends and Jordan and Ron Kostelnik at the tackles on the front four. Bob Brown at end and Weatherwax at tackle are ready to take over.

No club has a better trio of linebackers than Dave Robinson, Nitschke and Lee Roy Caffey. Herb Adderley, Jeter, Tom Brown and Willie Wood make up a secondary that is the best in the league.

Don Chandler probably will concentrate on place kicking, letting the left-footed Anderson do the punting.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Now that they have Fran Tarkenton, the New York Giants may let the St. Louis Cardinals have Earl Morrall to replace Big Spring's Charley Johnson as their quarterback — now that Charley has gone into the Army.

The Giants, however, would want a high future draft choice in exchange, now that the Cardinals have expressed desperation.

Young Jim Hart looked good at quarterback for the Cards Monday night but hasn't the experience coach Charley Winner reasons he needs if the Cards are to remain in championship contention.

Big Spring's Danny Birdwell is running at first string left tackle for the Oakland Raiders of the AFL.

Danny, who tips the scales at 250, must be playing well in his seventh season as a pro. Performing behind him is a rookie named Richard Sligh of North Carolina College, who outweighs Birdwell by 50 pounds.

* * * *

Stan Hollmig, who accompanied the Hondo AFB team here in 1945 for a post-season football game with Southwestern University, is now scouting for the Houston Astros.

Billy Capps, a fine third baseman for the Big Spring mercenaries prior to World War II, is still a scout for the Chicago Cubs.

* * * *

Of the 29 officials who will work Southwest Conference football games this fall, three reside in Abilene. They are Curly Hays, Shorty Lawson and Dick Stovall.

Houston, on the other hand, has but one official in the group. He is Frank Golden, a field judge. Midland's Burns McKinney and Buddy Barron of Lubbock are the only other West Texans in the elite company. The rest of West Texas got shut out when it came time to appointing the arbiters, although many applied.

Dallas has fewer on the list than Abilene.

A few years ago, fighters in the lighter weights couldn't make a dime plying their trade.

Now Carlos Ortiz, the lightweight king, says he is rolling in dough. His recent bout with Ismael Laguna earned him $83,000.

Vicente Saldivar of Mexico, the current featherweight boss, successfully defended his title against Howard Winston in Wales not long ago. His end of the take came to a robust $89,000.

Incidentally, the former lightweight titlist, Jimmy Carter, is now trying to make it as a rock-and-roll singer. He's now 43.

Someone who obviously has had a lot of experience at tearing up pari-mutuel tickets remarked recently at Ruidoso Downs:

"In my dad's day, when you wanted a horse to stand still, you tied him to a post. Nowadays, you put $2 on his nose."

* * * *

A newspaper in Chicago says that the present rate of turnover in season tickets offered by the Chicago Bears is only about four a year.

In other words, apply now for a season's ducat and expect to have your order filled by the year 2342 or 3467.

In this new "Golden Age" of sports, pro football tickets have become the most coveted of status symbols with which an urban man surrounds himself.

Families fight over them. Business partnerships dissolve because of them. Divorce litigants contest them. Wills dispose of them.

The Dallas Cowboys, by the way, have distributed 30,123 season tickets to home games. The Washington Redskins sell 48,000 annually.

Best basketball shot of Lamesa's all-state player, Pat Fees, is the jumper from the side. It's hard to defense, according to coach Kirby Pugh of Big Spring, because Pat stands 6-6 and he has an uncanny eye for the basket.

Does Fees have a weakness? According to Pugh, Pat is not strong on the boards.

Halas Lauds Chiefs After 66-24 Rout

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "They gave every indication tonight they could play as good as any team in the National Football League," said 72-year-old Papa George Halas after his Chicago Bears were thrashed 66-24 by the revenge-minded Kansas City Chiefs.

Halas was generous in his comments about coach Hank Stram's unbeaten American Football League champions, who cut the NFL's lead to 5-3 in the current exhibition series.

"He's a great one," said Halas of flanker Otis Taylor. "Len Dawson is as fine as any quarterback in the game. Buck Buchanan is an outstanding football player."

"I can only be most complimentary about Hank Stram," Halas said. "He's got a well-coached ball club."

His words were music to the ears of Kansas City players and fans who couldn't forget Green Bay's 35-10 world title victory. This time they saw a club scoring mark.

Green Bay coach Vince Lombardi had few kind words that day for Stram's innovations—the play-action pass, the triple-stack defense, etc. Lombardi said the Chiefs showed him nothing new, but the Bears obviously had a lot of trouble with play action. Last week, the Pears held Green Bay to one TD in an 18-0 loss.

Dawson, waived out of the NFL five years ago, didn't miss his chance to credit Stram's play-action plays, which start like a running play.

"What did it was the play-action pass," Dawson said. "We knew they were tough defensively against a stand-up passer and we knew they hadn't seen the play-action much. We had a pretty good idea it would work."

Dawson was 10-for-15 for 212 yards and four touchdowns. He triggered an amazing 32-point second period. It was 46-17 when he left.

Stram was subdued in his comments.

"We didn't talk much about revenge for the Super Bowl," Stram said, "but I wouldn't be truthful if I said we didn't have that in mind."

Taylor caught 4 passes for 130 yards, including a 70-yard bomb for the game's first TD on the last play of the first quarter, and a 29-yarder which made it 36-10 less than 15 minutes later.

Pete Beathard threw an 80-yard TD to rookie flanker Gloster Richardson and scored with perfect faking on a 2-yard bootleg. In between, little Noland Smith returned a kickoff 99 yards, as the sellout crowd of 33,041 yelled for more.

The Chiefs scored their first two TDs in a 68-second span, E. J. Holub's interception setting up the second one. Dick Gordon scored on a 102-yard kickoff return and Ralph Kurek on a 32-yard run for Chicago. Gale Sayers, ex-Kansas All American, was held to 35 yards in 10 carries.

DUCAT SALES MOUNTING

A total of 572 season tickets to home games of the Big Spring Steers had been sold by the School Business Office at 11:15 a.m. today.

The ducats, priced at $7.50 each, will remain available to last year's ticket holders through Friday afternoon.

Next week, the tickets — good for locations in the west stands — go on sale to the general public.

Last year, a total of 1,026 season ducats were distributed locally.

SPEED, BIG BACK MISSING

Prospects Are Looking Up For Midland Lee Rebels

MIDLAND — Asked if he hoped to do anything differently in his second year as head coach at Midland Lee, Bob Burris didn't hesitate.

"Yes, we hope to win a few for a change."

Burris came to Midland Lee last year after guiding Hobbs, N.M., to the state finals with an 11-1 record in 1965. Installing a pro-type defense on short notice, Lee looked brilliant at times, but still wound up with a 1-9 record and a spot in the 2-4A basement.

With 14 lettermen back, Burris has the nucleus for an improved club this fall.

"We don't have the speed or the big running back that great teams have," Burris commented, but we have more depth and experience and more over-all speed. For example, last year we had one boy capable of running the 100-yard dash in 10.4. This year we have several."

During spring drills, the big concern of the Rebel coaching staff was an improved defense and a better running offense.

One big plus in the Rebels' favor will be the return of quarterback Greg Frazier, who connected on 177 of 253 passes for 1,425 yards. A big minus is the loss of end Rick Maroney, who caught 40 for 495 yards.

The battle for positions as split men will be between Kelly Roach, 200, junior, Sonny Rector, 138, senior, Mark McIntosh, 140, senior, and Richard Ramsey, 130, senior. All but McIntosh lettered last year and Ramsey was all-district as a defensive safety last year.

Billy Morris, 160, senior, and Mike Davis, 180, senior, both stood out at tight end during spring drills. Chances are Morris would have been a regular last year, but was sidelined by knee surgery.

In the interior line, prospects are bright for the Rebels. Burris will have enough size on defense to abandon the stunting tactics of a year ago for straight head-to-head play.

Offensively, there's a wide open battle at tackles with Charles Zielski, 225, senior, and Butch Howle, 230, senior, both lettermen, are battling Mark McDonald, 205, senior, and Jim Butler, 200, junior. Butler lettered at fullback last year while McDonald, a transfer from Roswell, N.M., was ineligible.

Burris feels the Rebels are stronger at guards than any other position with Charley Moore, 188, senior, Jim Miller, 196, senior and Steve Johnson, 190, senior, back. Back up guards are Bob Swinea, 188, and Bob Huff, 178, seniors up from the junior varsity.

Jeff Orwig, 175, senior, and Richard Wigzell, 218, senior, a converted tackle, are the center candidates. Both are lettermen.

Defensively, on the basis of spring drills, Burris feels that Johnson, Davis and Jim Miller at ends; Moore, McDonald, Zielski and Wigzell at tackles; Howle, Baxter and Randy Wilson, at middle guard; Orwig, Molinare backed by Jim Butler and Buck Dollar at linebackers; and Ramsey, Steve McMillan, Mike Cross, McIntosh, George Deffenbaugh and Frazier are his best.

If the Rebels are to move up in the standings, however, much will depend on how the running game develops to augment an established aerial attack. Burris thinks the ingredients are there.

Molinare, 190, senior, Deffenbaugh, 160, senior, both lettered last year at other positions but figure to be running back regulars this fall. Steve McMillan is a quarterback by trade, but Burris felt it was a shame to waste his talents as an understudy, so he has shifted him to a deep back. And Mike Cross, 155, junior, was a sparkler this spring.

"I hope to have two of those boys in the game at running back at all times," declares Burris, "but Molinare, McMillan also may be in the lineup at other positions." Molinare played split back last year as well as linebacker and McMillan was a B-team quarterback.

Santo Still Finds McBean A Mystery

By The Associated Press

Ron Santo is one of Al McBean's biggest boosters, but flattery still can't get him to first base against the Pittsburgh Pirates' newest starting pitcher.

McBean, making only his second start in two years Wednesday night, went the distance for a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs . . .and protected his slim edge by robbing Santo of a hit with the tying run on third base in the eighth inning.

"He's good and cocky and he gets the job done, which is what counts," Santo says of the Pirate bullpen specialist, who has the Cubs this season after working exclusively in relief since August, 1965. "He's as fast as anybody in the league and he almost dares you to hit the ball."

GOES HITLESS

Santo went hitless in his first three at-bats Wednesday night, then challenged McBean in the eighth with two out and Don Kessinger on third. But McBean made a leaping stab of the Chicago slugger's smash through the box and threw him out, ending the Cubs' last threat.

Elsewhere, San Francisco blanked St. Louis' National League leaders 6-0 behind Mike McCormick's five-hitter; Atlanta trounced Houston 9-3; Philadelphia edged the New York Mets 3-2 and Los Angeles pounded Cincinnati 8-0.

In the American League, first-place Chicago trimmed New York 5-2; California smashed Cleveland 16-5; Washington upended Boston 3-2 and Detroit divided a doubleheader with Minnesota, winning 10-0 before losing 4-3.

McBean, given an early two-run lead, scattered eight hits on the way to his fourth victory in seven decisions. Losing pitcher Bill Hands' fifth-inning single delivered the Cubs' run.

Matty Alou singled in the Pirates' first, stole second and scored on a single by Roberto Clemente. Manny Mota's double, an infield hit by Gene Alley and a ground out produced the deciding run in the second.

NOTCHES 17TH

McCormick rolled to his 17th victory—tops in the league—and beat the Cardinals for the third time without a loss this season With the help of Willie Mays' 16th homer, a two-run blast in the third.

Orlando Cepeda, the league batting leader, had three of the Cards' five hits off McCormick, 17-6 for the year.

Hank Aaron and Tito Francona each knocked in four runs in Atlanta's comeback victory, which snapped a five-game losing string for the Braves.

Aaron drilled the first of his two two-run doubles in the seventh, sending the Braves ahead 4-3. Francona socked a two-run homer in the first and a two-run single in the Braves' five-run eighth.

The Phillies extended New York's losing skein to seven, longest of the season for the Mets, as Johnny Briggs rapped a two-run homer and Dick Ellsworth combined with reliever Dick Hall to scatter 11 hits.

Southpaw Claude Osteen blanked Cincinnati on three hits for his 15th victory against 11 losses and Wes Parker drove in three runs with as many singles to pace the Dodgers' attack.

Mercer Signed By Methodists

DALLAS (AP) — Baseball at Southern Methodist got a boost Wednesday when Lee Charles Mercer, all-national junior college tournament shortstop from Odessa College, signed a letter of intent.

Mercer will be eligible to play varsity baseball next spring.

Bobsledder Dies

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — John J. Helmer, an Olympic bobsledder and alternate coach of the United States' bobsled teams for the 1968 Winter Olympics, died Tuesday night in Physician's Hospital. He was 46.

Helmer, who lived here, had been ill for nearly two years.

Ronnie Broadrick Opens Play In Andrews Meet

ANDREWS — Ronnie Broadrick of Big Spring is one of 10 players eligible for competition in the 16-18 age bracket of the Tournament of Champions, a 36-hole event starting here today.

The two-day meet is sponsored by the West Texas chapter of the PGA.

Broadrick won the right to take part in the tournament by scoring a 68 in a one-day meet held at the Muny course in Big Spring several weeks ago.

A total of 44 players are entered in three divisions of the Andrews meet, which will be staged under the direction of Don McDaniel.

Broadrick apparently faces his sternest competition from Con Hartman, San Angelo; and Freddy Smith, Lubbock.

It took an 80 or better to qualify for the tournament in the 16-18 age bracket and Dick Pack of McLean just made it.

Tinker Nolen of Seminole and Alan Pursley, Midland, rank as favorites in the 14-15 group while Dub Huckabee, Monahans; Shane Fox, Abilene; and Terry Sinclair, San Angelo, are the likely contenders in the 12-13 age group.

Competition was to begin at 1 p.m. today.

Stops on the tour, in addition to Big Spring, included Pampa, Abilene, Andrews, Dumas, San Angelo, Floydada, Odessa, Monahans and Seminole.

The tour was arranged by S. A. Smith, club pro at Andrews, with the cooperation of club pros at each stop.

Title Match Set Sunday

Bob Waters and Don Lovelady plan to meet at 1 p.m. Sunday on the first tee at the Muny course, at which time they will attempt to decide the 1967 City Golf tournament winner.

Waters moved into the finals earlier this week by beating Richard Pachall. Lovelady took out a former champion, Bernard Rains, in his semifinal test.

A new champion is assured, since neither Waters nor Lovelady have ever been in the finals before.

Wednesday's results:

FIRST FLIGHT CONSOLATIONS

SECOND FLIGHT
D. O. Gray over James Petty, 1 up.
FOURTH FLIGHT

Dear Abby

Let Him Do The Asking

DEAR ABBY: I am a fairly attractive (so I'm told) 23-year-old girl who has just received my B.A. degree. My problem is a fellow who is about my age (I think) who works in the filling station where I trade regularly.

We exchanged conversation and I found out he goes to an engineering college near here. We are also the same religion. For the last three months he has been saying to me, "When are you going to take me out?"

Then I say to him, "YOU are supposed to take ME out." Then he says, "I don't take girls out. They take ME out," and he kind of laughs and drops the subject right there.

Abby, I am interested in him. He's very nice looking and does not strike me as the irresponsible type, but how long should a 23-year-old girl play this game? STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Games are for children. The young man could be married, engaged, going with someone, or just a great kidder. In any case, if he were sufficiently interested and available he should be able to engineer his own date. And until he does, don't take him seriously.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Is there any defense, except rudeness, against avalanches of wedding invitations and announcements that come from the most casual of acquaintances who never indicate otherwise that they know we exist? Often these communications are from people we so seldom see, we shouldn't recognize them if they appeared at our door.

I am deeply suspicious that much of this practice has the ugly aspects of a "racket." One friend said she heard a bride-to-be and her mother discussing the wedding invitation list, and the mother said, "Let's invite So and So's. They will be good for a nice gift." Then months later, these young people send a juvenile, unenthusiastic "thank you," sometimes mentioning the wrong gift.

Baby after baby is duly announced by a printed card, giving us further opportunities to donate.

Must youth be served forever? PAST 70

DEAR PAST: A gift, be it a card or a Cadillac, should be voluntary. Feeling as you do, but "donating" anyway, only helps to perpetuate the "racket."

• • •

DEAR ABBY: About the girl who was piqued when catty friends inquired in front of others whether she was wearing a wig:

Whenever a woman asks me publicly (with obvious feline overtones) whether I am wearing a wig, or is that "my own" hair, I look directly at her bosom and ask, "Are you wearing falsies or are they your own?"

I can tell immediately by her reaction whether the query has hit home in more ways than one. WIGGY IN LAWRENCEVILLE

Panel Okays Mail Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee voted Wednesday to raise third-class mail rates by the amount the administration proposed, rejecting the lower increase approved earlier by a subcommittee.

By what was described as "a substantial vote," it set the bulk mail rate at a minimum of 3.8 cents a piece, effective next January, compared with the present rate of 2⅞ cents and a subcommittee plan to boost it to 3.5 cents over the next three years.

The change restored more than $50 million in anticipated new revenue to the bill, leaving the nearly completed measure some $74.3 million above the administration's proposals.

The bill provides increases for all classes of mail including a rate of 10 cents for airmail letters and 8 cents for postcards; 6 cents for regular mail and 5 cents for postcards.

Since almost all of the increases is in higher first-class and airmail rates which will be effective next January, the postal rates bill will raise enough money to pay for the increased salaries for government employes voted Tuesday by another subcommittee.

The pay bill, providing for a 6 per cent increase for postal workers and 4.5 per cent for other federal workers in October, is expected to cost some $73.1 million more than the administration's proposal for a 4.5 per cent across-the-board increase. All of the additional cost is in the postal portion.

By providing the additional revenue from postal rates, the committee hopes to prevent any presidential veto of a budget-busting pay bill.

Flames Destroy Mart's Drug Store

MART, Tex. (AP) — Fire destroyed the only drug store in the Central Texas town of Mart Wednesday and caused an estimated $40,000 to $50,000 damage.

The store's co-owners, Earl Curry and Frank Martin, who estimated the damage, said all stock and medicines were a total loss.

The fire was discovered about 1 a.m. by a policeman on a routine patrol.

Cause of the fire was not immediately known.

Curry and Martin reopened for business in a vacant building across the street.

Opening lead: Jack of ◇

West opened the jack of diamonds against South's six spade contract, and dummy's ace won the trick. The ten of spades was led and ducked, however, East went in with the ace when trumps were continued.

East shifted to the nine of hearts and South paused to study the situation. It did not appear likely that his opponent would lead away from the king into dummy's broken holding, for the play had little to gain and might actually surrender a trick if West had the jack of hearts.

South decided to take East's shift at face value and he put up the ace of hearts. Declarer now had two heart losers and the only way he could dispose of them was to somehow develop discards on North's clubs. In order to obtain two sluffs, he must play West for both the king of hearts and the king of clubs, and force the latter to unguard one of his honors in an end position.

The king and queen of diamonds were cashed and the fourth diamond was ruffed in dummy. The queen of spades was overtaken by declarer's king and the remaining spades were led, producing the following position at trick 10:

SOUTH

West was obliged to discard on the eight of spades, and since he obviously could not give up the king of hearts, he sluffed the four of clubs. The nine of clubs was led next, West followed with the seven and dummy's jack was finessed. The ace of clubs dropped the king and North's queen took the fulfilling trick.

Interestingly enough, East could have broken up the squeeze position by shifting to a club when he was in with the ace of spades. Altho this play presented the declarer with a free finesse, one discard does not solve his problem—he still has a losing heart. The club shift severs South's line of communications with the dummy and a profitable end position can't be developed.

A LOVELIER YOU

Classes Start Soon-- So Teens Save Face

By MARY SUE MILLER

It's a rare teen who has a perfect complexion. Sad to say, in trying to improve the situation too many girls do their skins more harm than good. Ill-chosen products and harsh handling account for much damage, all avoidable.

You will be able to check your present methods by studying the do's and don'ts below. To save mistakes — and your face — follow the advice in the future.

Don't use any product, from soap to powder base, unless it is designed for your skin type — normal, oily, dry, combination of oily-dry, or seriously blemished. Do give corrective products a fair try; make applications regularly for at least a month. (Unless, that is, a product causes irritation; then discontinue use.)

Don't fail to handle your face with a feather touch when washing, applying treatments and making up. Do keep your skin hospital clean. Wash several times daily or more often if your skin is oily or blemished. Be sure to use warm water, rinse well and pat dry.

Don't even squeeze a blemish. Treat it with a medicant. Do go at once to a doctor when blemishes become widespread. Don't take your skin for granted. In its head-to-toe care, your health as well as your looks are at stake. Your skin is what literally holds you together!

TIPS FOR TEENS

Fifty ways to ideal skin and natural make-up for young adults — ages 13 to 19 — are detailed in my booklet, "Model Tips for Teens. Advice covers corrective skin care; how to use make-up to accent good points and play down problems; fashion model make-up tricks. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Mrs. R. O. Lewis, membership committee chairman, planned the program assisted by Mrs. Oma Buchanan, Mrs. Cass Hill, Mrs. Garland Morrison, Mrs. Flora Bell Wright and Miss Ruby Jo Bains.

Make Yummy Dessert With Custard Base

Blushing Top Bavarian owes its creamy-rich taste and texture to double-rich evaporated milk. One portion is used to make a gelatin custard base; another portion is whipped and added just before the mold is set. Flaked coconut adds subtle flavor and a "bite" of pleasure, while frozen raspberries "blush" the topping.

BLUSHING TOP

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1-4 cup cold water
3-4 cup sugar
1 2-3 cup evaporated milk (1 tall can)
1-2 teasp. salt
3 1-3 oz. can flaked coconut (about 1 1-3 cups)

Soften gelatin in water in a 2-quart saucepan. Add sugar, 1 cup evaporated milk and salt. Cook and stir over medium heat until gelatin is dissolved. Chill. Chill 2-3 cup evaporated milk in tray until almost frozen at edges. Put ice-cold milk into cold small bowl of electric mixer (or 1 1-2 quart bowl). Using cold beaters, whip with electric mixer at high speed or with rotary beater until stiff. Beat in coconut and gelatin mixture at low speed, scraping sides of bowl often. Put into six 1-2 cup molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Top with Blushing Sauce.

BLUSHING SAUCE

2 10 oz. pkgs. frozen raspberries, thawed
1-2 cup sugar
3 tablesp. corn starch
2 teasp. lemon juice

Drain raspberries, saving syrup. Mix sugar and corn starch in a two quart saucepan. Stir in gradually reserved syrup and lemon juice. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture bubbles. Boil and stir until thick and clear, about one minute. Take off heat. Stir in raspberries. Cool. Makes about two cups.

Recipe For New Bride's Collection

Chicken breasts get interesting treatment.

CHICKEN PARMESAN

2 chicken breasts, about one pound (keel bone removed and split)
1 large egg, well-beaten
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
¼ cup (about) butter

Wash and dry chicken. Dip chicken in the beaten egg, then in the Parmesan. Heat butter in a large skillet over moderate heat; add chicken and cook and brown on under side — about 10 minutes; turn and cook another 10 minutes or until cooked through and brown. Makes two to four servings.

Dessert Time Is Here

This double rich dessert is made from evaporated milk and features a delicious topping. Coconut enhances the flavor and raspberries add a lovely color accent.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Old - fashioned recipes involved with deep-fat frying, usually directed cooks to drain the fried food on "unglazed" paper. That direction meant that heavy brown paper with a dull surface could be used—the kind of paper used for wrapping packages and from which grocery bags are usually made. If you use a grocery bag, just split it and open out so the paper lies wide and flat.

* * *

An old - fashioned New England "boiled dinner" often consisted of corned beef, cabbage, carrots, parsnips, potatoes and beets. The beets were cooked separately so that they wouldn't color the other foods; the other vegetables were all added to the kettle in which the corned beef had partly cooked. Nowadays we would still cook the beets separately, but we wouldn't add the cabbage until shortly before the beef and other vegetables were done because modern tastes call for tender-crisp rather than soggy cabbage!

When you are steaming a pudding, be sure to grease the inside of the cover of the mold. If your mold has no cover, grease foil and tie in place so the pudding will be securely covered during the steaming. If the mold cover is not a tight-fitting one, cover the mold with foil before adding the cover.

Ever serve squares of chocolate cake with a topping of applesauce flavored with orange? Interesting and delicious combination!

To plump raisins, cover with boiling water and allow to stand a few minutes. Drain thoroughly, then dry on paper toweling.

A pound cake baked in a loaf pan will have unusual (and old-time) flavor if you add very finely cut candied orange peel and caraway seeds. Call the result English Seed Cake.

Ever mix pork sausage with ground beef for burgers? Just make sure you cook these meat patties thoroughly.

A fish and potato stew is particularly delicious when tomatoes are used as part, or all, of the liquid.

MRS. LEO K. GEE

Frugality Influenced By German Ancestor

By RHODA LEMONS

"I was strongly influenced by my German grandmother, Mrs. Clara Dodd of Oklahoma City," said Mrs. Leo K. Gee as she told of saving all jars that come into her home so that later they may be filled with pickles, chili sauce, jellies and jams.

"We are particularly fond of this type of canning, and I fill every available container with dill pickles, bread and butter pickles, chili sauce, chow-chow, and all flavors of jellies, jams and preserves."

Mrs. Gee lives at 101 Washington with her husband, the Rev. Gee, pastor of First Methodist Church, and their four daughters, Amy, 11, Rita, 9, Kelly, 6 and Ginger, 17 months.

The Gees like simple foods, served on a flexible schedule, because emergencies often arise. The Gees always dine together in the evenings and make an event out of the meal, as they can't always be together on other occasions.

The three older girls are skilled in the kitchen, and Amy and Rita can prepare a number of dishes by themselves. Mrs. Gee works with just one daughter at a time in the kitchen, and the others pitch in to help with clearing the table and loading the dishwasher. Six-year-old Kelly works best at "licking the beaters" but can prepare simple dishes along with her sisters.

Rev. Gee tries to take Friday off, and on that morning he prepares a family breakfast treat to which the children look forward all week. He makes chocolate pancakes with homemade peach brandy syrup that is prepared in advance by Mrs. Gee.

Rev. Gee makes his own recipe by using regular pancake mix and adding one-and-one-half to two tablespoons of cocoa to the mixture. At other times, they top the pancakes with whipped cream and chocolate slivers.

The Gees moved to Big Spring two years ago from Lubbock, and have enjoyed the local parsonage for its large rooms and livability. The church had the home redecorated and Mrs. Gee made the color selections. The home is attractively decorated in colors of soft moss green, gold and orange.

Mrs. Gee shops for staples every two or three weeks, and picks up necessary items during the week. She has a large pantry and can store many items. She has a separate utility room and leaves the ironing board out, and is assisted in this task by her two older daughters who also help by baby sitting the youngest child.

"I sew occasionally for the children," said Mrs. Gee, but in reality she alters hems and does mending more than actually creating a garment. With four daughters and a husband on call at all times, Mrs. Gee has her hands full with keeping everyone's schedule separate and the duties and obligations of each family member met.

The Gees like to entertain small groups. They often have several couples over after church for cake and coffee, and at these times, children are included in the invitation. They usually have separate tables for them, so that the adults can visit with one another.

Mrs. Gee and her husband have dinner out one night a week, and either attend a movie or do visitation for the church. They have a cabin at Deer Lake, N.M., which they visit for one month each summer, and the family eagerly looks forward to this trip.

Rhubarb Can Be Made Delicious

One of the most enjoyable ways to prepare rhubarb!

RHUBARB WITH STRAWBERRIES

1 small bunch (¾ pound) pink or red rhubarb
½ cup sugar
½ cup water
1 pkg. (10 ounces) frozen sweetened strawberry halves, defrosted

Remove any leaves from rhubarb; wash but do not peel; cut crosswise in one-inch long slanted pieces. Into a one-quart saucepan turn the sugar and water; bring to a boil; add rhubarb. Bring quickly to boiling, stirring twice; remove from heat; cover; chill. Just before serving, gently stir in strawberries taking care not to break up rhubarb pieces. Makes four to five servings.

Celebrate Sandwich Month Now

Join with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the food industries of America and help celebrate Sandwich Month. You can start off by having sandwiches for breakfast. Why not? They can be real eye-openers. You won't have to worry about dad reading the morning paper, he will be too busy complimenting you on the novel breakfast.

You can combine all of the ingredients of a good wholesome breakfast for the breakfast sensation. Eggs and milk are the "dip" for the bread; chopped prunes, nutmeats, sour cream and maple syrup compose the refreshing filling. Just toast the bread to golden brown crispness, and add the filling. That's a real breakfast eye-opener!

The balmy breezes of the Islands will lure your family to the table when you serve them Polynesian Beef Sandwiches. For the filling: "Pour one cup water into skillet and add ½ pound thinly sliced roast beef cut into small pieces. Pour in one cup sliced water chestnuts and cover the skillet and heat. Combine two tablespoons each cornstarch and soy sauce, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and ¼ teaspoon pepper with ½ cup water. Pour the mixture over the meat.

Stir constantly until thickened and clear. Portion ¼ cup of meat mixture onto eight sliced sesame sandwich buns. Served hot, there is enough here to satisfy eight hearty appetites.

Zesty sandwiches make great "Po'Boy" favorites. To prepare, have ready six sliced poor boy buns, ¾ cup pizza sauce, 2-3 cup cooked sausages, thinly sliced, and 12 ½-ounce slices Swiss cheese.

Fill each bun using two tablespoons pizza sauce, 1½ tablespoons green pepper, 10 to 12 slices sausage and two strips cheese. So good you feel like climbing the Leaning Tower of Pisa!

Sandwiches make hearty meals when you include all of the makings. Depend on the foods that are in plentiful supply. This will help you cut down on meal costs. For August, USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that turkeys, fish fillets and steaks, lemons and limes, seasonal vegetables and peanuts and peanut butter are abundant. Use them in your sandwiches.

Prepare Early, Use As Needed

Try this for a fine dessert.

APPLE DATE RELISH

About 2½ pounds tart apples, pared and sliced ½-inch thick to make 6 cups
2½ cups sugar
1 tbsp. salt
2 pkgs. (each 10 ozs.) pitted dates
¾ cup currants
¾ cup finely chopped onion
1-3 cup sliced crystallized ginger
1 clove garlic, crushed
5 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
Tabasco sauce to taste
1 tsp. ground ginger
1½ cups cider vinegar
½ cup fresh or frozen lime juice
Red food coloring

In a large bowl, with your hands, thoroughly mix together the apples, sugar and salt; let stand several hours. Into a large kettle turn all the ingredients except the apples; add one cup water; boil gently for 20 minutes.

Add apples and cook gently until relish is thick (about 50 minutes) adding ½ to one cup water as needed. Add enough red food coloring to give a rosy hue. Pour hot relish to within ¼ inch of top of pint or half-pint fruit jars.

Wipe any spills from top or threads of jars; add dome lids; screw bands tight. Makes about 3½ pints. Store for several weeks before using.

Lacy Wafer Is Worth Baking

A delightful cookie that is well worth baking.

LACY WAFERS

½ cup sugar
1 tbsp. flour
2-3 cup unblanched grated almonds (use a hand-operated rotary-cone device)
2 tbsps. milk
½ cup (1 stick) butter

In a 10-inch skillet mix together the sugar, flour, almonds and milk; add butter. Slowly heat until butter melts; stir several times to distribute butter evenly. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls, several inches apart, on buttered and floured cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until lacy and slightly browned — six to eight minutes. Cool 30 to 60 seconds or just until wafers can be removed with wide spatula without crinkling—then remove to wire racks to cool. Store in tightly covered tin. Makes about 3½ dozen.

Fish Fry Supper For Patio Party

If you use an electric fryer on your patio, you may want to serve this menu outdoors.

HUSH PUPPIES

½ cup milk
1 tbsp. sugar
1 tbsp. instant minced onion
½ tsp. salt
¼ cup warm water
1 pkg. active dry yeast
1 egg, beaten
1 cup yellow corn meal
½ cup unsifted flour
Peanut oil

Scald milk; stir in sugar, minced onion and salt; cool to lukewarm. In a small, warm bowl dissolve the yeast in the water. Add lukewarm milk mixture, beaten egg and corn meal. Stir in flour to make a slightly stiff batter. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 30 minutes. Drop by teaspoonsful into deep hot peanut oil (380 degrees). Fry until golden brown — about 1½ minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes about 20.

Chocolate Sauce Has Many Uses

This is a chocolate sauce on the bittersweet side.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE

1 cup sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
¼ cup water
3 envelopes no-melt chocolate
One 6-oz. can (2-3 cup) evaporated milk, undiluted

In a one-quart saucepan over low heat, stir together the sugar, corn syrup and water until sugar dissolves; boil, without stirring, to soft-ball stage (235 degrees on candy thermometer). Remove from heat; with a spoon or fork, thoroughly beat in chocolate and milk.

Sauce will thicken as it cools; serve warm or at room temperature. Makes about one pint.

Beans For Salad

Nice for a change: Snap beans, cut in short lengths and cooked only until tender-crisp, added to chicken or turkey salad. If you use the beans, you can omit the usual celery addition.

OFF BEATEN TRAIL

Chisholm Trail Sooner Property

By ED SYERS

Remember the old verse describing "stompead" on the Chisholm: "popped my foot in the stirrup and gave a little yell; the tail cattle broke and the leaders went to hell?" Well, Texas cowboys inspired it, but the Trail isn't ours. Not technically.

For a time, OBT's carried a line - riding skirmish: where, the Chisholm's origin — Texas or Oklahoma. No matter, the 10 million Texas longhorns uptrail, it's Sooner property.

Fort Worth cattleman Tom B. Saunders, whose folks helped ramrod our traildrivers association years past, is one of our best authorities on the Chisholm that many a marker puts in Texas. Listen to him:

NOT TRUE RESEARCH

"Please advise (other claimants) that historical maps saying the Chisholm Trail started north of Austin were dreamed up in the minds of some writers of western lore that never drove longhorns north nor bothered to research a true log of cattle trails, 1860-1900.

"Had these song composers and writers done so, they would have found that the Chisholm Trail never entered Texas, but was intersected north of Red River Station (above Nocona) in Indian Territory by the Eastern Northern Trail to Abilene, Kan. . . . which all Texas trails funneled into . . . to make this safe crossing on Red River, then to follow this one well - defined trail. The enterprising young Abilene stockyard builder, Joseph McCoy, had part - Indian Jesse Chisholm mark that trail, to encourage drovers to his stockyards in Abilene."

Some say that Chisholm wagon-rutted the route to the Red; others, that he plow - furrowed it. Cattleman Saunders sent me documentation from scores of cattle drive logs. They show that a drive boss knew he hit the Chisholm only after he crossed the Red. "Hope you can help keep the record straight as these old cowboys wished."

In short, Texas cowboys drove the Chisholm, beyond the Red, after the ordeal of freeze, parch, Indian, rustler, stampede, infiniate weariness — all from the scores of trails that converged from across this state on the marked route to McCoy's yards in Abilene. You read trail or you don't, and Chisholm's in Oklahoma.

COM-E-CHE-TAH

We were asked what Indian mothers called their baby-carrying back 'saddles'; veteran Amarillo newsman Bob Wright answers:

"Indian names' for cradle boards have been topics of conversation about (many a) fireside. I first obtained a usable answer from Chief Baldwin Parker, son of renowned Quanah Parker, when interviewing him in Wichita Falls on a 50th anniversary celebration in 1932.

"The Comanche word is 'com e che tah'. One of his braves provided the spelling phonetically. The word likely differs according to dialect or tribe."

Rifle Sights Probe Begins

HOUSTON (AP) — The House Education and Labor Committee begins a probe today of the Harris County Community Action Association and the anti-poverty project's ordering of seven telescopic rifle sights.

A congressional investigation of the order and other HCCAA activities was requested by U.S. Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., and U.S. Rep. George Bush, a Houston Republican.

Robert McCord and John Buckeley, two employes of the committee, arrived in Houston Wednesday from Phoenix, Ariz.

Houston Police Chief Herman Short disclosed the sight order Aug. 4. George T. Miller, 64, property manager for the HCCAA, said he ordered them because he thought they could be broken down and used as microscopes.

The Office of Economic Opportunity said the order will not be filled and officials of HCCAA said they considered the affair closed.

Francis Williams, executive director of the HCCAA, would not comment on the investigation.

'Blue Law' To Limit Buying Habits Monday

AUSTIN (AP) — A new law described by opponents as religious discrimination will start limiting Texans' weekend buying habits Monday.

That's the day the latest state "blue law" wipes out the emergency certificate loophole in the 1961 weekend closing law.

Sept. 2-3 is the first weekend affected.

Since 1961, sales of about 40 types of merchandise normally stocked by discount houses have been limited on weekends to either Saturday or Sunday—not both.

The openly declared intent was to halt Sunday operations of the booming discount stores.

But Sunday sales continued because of the law's emergency certificate provision.

A store could sell any of the listed articles, including furniture, jewelry, toys and phonograph records on both Saturdays and Sundays as long as the customer — usually on Sunday — stated in writing the purchase was needed because of an emergency.

Discount houses memeographed certificates and put them near the cash registers. Business continued as usual. In 1964 the state Supreme Court upheld the emergency certificates and said, in effect, that an emergency existed if the customer said so.

The new law is short and simple.

It repeals the emergency certificates. That's all.

Debate against the measure in the Senate was led by Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston, a Jew.

"We are telling people how to practice their faith. If a democratic society protects the rights of a minority, then we shouldn't pass a religious law," he said. Jews and Seventh Day Adventists observe the Sabbath on Saturday, not Sunday.

A check of several discount houses in Austin revealed they planned to shut down on Sunday.

The president of the Texas Association of Retail Department Stores, Inc., J. S. Fichtner of Dallas, said last week his group was looking into the possibility of a new way to continue Sunday sales. But he declined to reveal the details.

Soviets Launch Spy-In-The-Sky

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched the 173rd in its Cosmos series of unmanned earth satellites.

The series is a catch-all one that includes spy-in-the-sky satellites, dry runs for manned space flights and other scientific research. The purpose of any particular Cosmos is never disclosed at the time of its launching.

No. 173 was reported moving in an orbit varying from 331 to 174 miles.

'Anzio' Battle Stars Named

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

ROME (AP) — Notes from Hollywood-on-the-Tiber—

They're fighting the battle of Anzio again, but not where it happened. "We wanted to shoot the picture at the historic sites," says Edward Dmytryk, who is directing the high-budget Columbia-De Laurentiis "Anzio." "But we found out that is impossible. Anzio is now a prosperous beach resort with TV aerials all over."

Anzio was one of the most controversial battles of World War II, since the invading Allies became mired in a costly holding position although they were apparently able to press forward. "But the picture will take no sides on the military controversy," said Dmytryk. "It is the story of eight survivors of a Ranger outfit that was virtually annihilated by the Germans."

"Anzio" stars Robert Mitchum, whose first big break with a film about the Italian campaign, "The Story of G.I. Joe." He has continued fighting the war in Normandy ("The Longest Day"), in the Pacific ("Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison") and on other fronts.

Asked how he was enjoying his current film, the actor replied: Mitchum's remarks could not pass the censor. . Italian film workers are seeking an end to the six-day work week, but industry insiders doubt it will be granted. They fear that the increased cost of a five-day week would drive producers to other countries or out-of-the-studio locations. Hollywood has had the five-day production week for a decade. . .

The eminent English performer, Robert Stephens, brought his bride Maggie Smith and their baby here while he is enacting the Prince of Verona in Franco Zeffirelli's "Romeo and Juliet." Stephens is on vacation from the National Theater, to which he will return for a production of "As You Like It," with an all-male cast, as it was done in Elizabethan times.

"It would make sense if we had enough boys to play the girls' roles, which is how they did it in Shakespeare's day," said Stephens. "But there aren't enough boys in the company, and the girls will be played by 26-year-od men. The whole enterprise is fraught with dangers."

Scattered Showers Still Pepper Parched Texas

By The Associated Press

Showers continued a hit-and-miss pattern across vast sections of Texas today.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast scattered showers for most parts of Texas through Friday.

Heavy rain fell in spots Wednesday. Barksdale, in Southwest Texas, reported 3.50 inches of rain. Hundreds of miles to the east, Conroe in the piney woods, got 3.15.

WARMUP DUE

Other heavy amounts Wednesday included Hewitt 2.06, Brownsville 2.20, Flat 2.41, Sugar Land 2.37, and Washington 2.30.

Temperatures were well below seasonal norms, mostly in the 80s and 90s and ranging from 96 at Del Rio on the Rio Grande to 79 at rain-drenched Palacios and Victoria.

Readings were expected to warmup somewhat today, but still remain below normal for late summer.

Memoirs Of Nazi Called Distorted

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany's major youth organization today opposed the publication of the memoirs of Baldur Von Schirach, the Nazi youth leader. Von Schirach, now 60, was released last year after serving a war crimes sentence. He has been publishing his memoirs in Stern, a popular illustrated weekly, under the title "I Believed in Hitler".

The Federal German Youth Ring, which includes most West German youths organizations, issued a statement calling the memoirs a one-sided and distorted account.

Postal Workers Cancel Walkout

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian Union of Postal Workers has canceled its plans for a strike by some 12,000 post office clerks and dispatchers for 24 hours Friday, a walkout the government ruled would be illegal.

Brooke Echoes League Goal

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts echoed one of the goals of the National Urban League Wednesday by calling for political organization of the Negro slums.

The Republican and first Negro popularly elected to the U.S. Senate challenged the Johnson administration's handling of the Vietnam war and problems at home.

He said leadership is needed to solve the problems of urban revolt which has gone through its fourth summer of rioting.

"The people of this country know that a nation which must send troops and tanks down the streets of its cities is a nation at war with itself," Brooke said.

He was in Portland to address the annual conference of the league.

Earlier, he told a news conference he hopes the United States can start pulling out of Vietnam after the Sept. 3 elections.

"I believe our commitment to the people in America must take precedence over our commitments to any foreign power and to any space program," he said.

Medicaid Due To Aid 350,000 Texans

(Editor's Note: Medicaid, a new program of medical aid to the poor, goes into effect Sept. 1 here. Some 350,000 Texans are expected to get further medical care as a result. Here's how it works.)

AUSTIN (AP) — Everyone on the state welfare rolls will be eligible for most kinds of necessary medical treatment—free—starting Sept. 1.

That is when the medicaid program goes into effect in Texas.

Welfare and hospital officials hope the program will mean better health for the poor and at the same time afford relief for the hospital cost squeeze which gets tighter every year.

Medicaid is part of the 1965 federal law which brought medicare—medical care for the Elderly—into existence.

TEXAS' POOR

Do-it-yourself, makeshift home remedies often have been the answer of Texas' poor to their medical problems.

"Because they didn't have the money to go see a doctor, they just didn't go," said Burton Hackney, state welfare commissioner. "A kid got his heel busted, or his finger, why the mama would wrap it up and go on about their business. We think when they do find out medical service is available to them they'll be using it."

Other poor Texans who are not on welfare but who fit whatever definition the legislature chooses for "medically indigent," will start getting free medical treatment — in about three years unless the federal law is changed—Hackney said.

STATE SHARE

The legislature approved limited participation in medicaid this year and appropriated $25.7 million as the state's 20 per cent share of the first-year cost. The other 80 per cent comes from the federal government. First-year cost will be about $128 million. In 1969, the state's part will increase to one-third.

Hackney said he believes there is "no doubt" that the health of the poor will improve. He said there is a connection in many cases between poor health dropping out of school and inability to make a living.

Besides the poor themselves, the hospitals will benefit from medicaid, Hackney and O. Ray Hurst, executive director of the Texas Hospital Association, agreed.

TO BE PAID

"Frankly, we don't anticipate any major problems at all in implementing medicaid in Texas," Hurst said. "The primary difference is that hospitals will be paid their full costs for caring for these patients where they were not always paid before. It will help hold hospital costs down. This unpaid portion of the bill gets passed along to the paying patients."

"It will be to a great advantage to hospital districts and counties which have been subsidizing the indigent in hospitals," Hackney said.

Hurst said hospitals "don't anticipate any real upsurge in the patient load, at least initially."

NOW COVERED

Most medical expenses for old age pensioners already are covered by medicare and the Kerr-Mills program. Since last year the state has had an insurance program paying some hospital costs for welfare recipients.

Some doctors object to medicaid's provision that bills for welfare patients be sent to the state program office rather than being paid at once by the patient.

"There is still a pretty big element of them (doctors) who won't have anything to do with it," said a state official.

"We'll just have to wait and see how it works," said Dr. Howard R. Dudgeon Jr., Waco, president of the Texas Medical Association. "If it works like medicare, we will have to wait four or five months to be paid. Most doctors are not in favor of assignment (billing the program office instead of the patient)."

QUESTIONS

Here are questions and Hackney's answers about key points of medicaid.

Q: Who is eligible?

A: Originally in Texas there will be only those people who receive a money grant: those receiving old age assistance, aid for the blind, help for families with dependent children and the totally and permanently disabled. In addition to that, for the first time we will be able to pay for people that are eligible for one of those four programs who are now patients in a state mental institution or a state tuberculosis hospital.

Q: Have many people applied?

A: They don't have to apply. If they are on our rolls for those four programs, they're automatically covered for medical purposes.

AGE LIMIT

Q: What is the age limit for medicaid for a young person under the dependent children program?

A: 18, and 21 if they are still in school.

Q: How many will be covered?

A: We estimate there will be, outside of the institutional care, about 350,000, and I think the best estimate we have on these people who are in an institution is about 6,600 to 7,000.

Q: What services will this program provide?

A: For those outside the institutions it will provide in-patient hospital care, out-patient hospital care, diagnostic services such as laboratory work and X-ray, the doctor's usual fees and nursing home care.

FULL AMOUNT

Q: The full amount?

A: Yes.

Q: How does this work?

A: If a patient gets sick, he can go to a doctor of his choice. If he is one of our recipients, he will have an up-to-date identification card mailed monthly with his welfare check. Then he must be admitted to a hospital by a physician. We will pay that hospital bill up to a 30-day limit in the hospital for what we term one spell of illness. Then there must be a space of 90 days after release from the hospital before he's eligible to return under the program because of another spell of illness.

Q: How will hospitals and doctors be paid?

BLUE CROSS

A: We're contracting with Blue Cross-Blue Shield. We'll pay the hospitals their actual costs as shown by an annual audit. They get paid as their bills come in. At the end of the year, if the audit shows they've been overpaid they've got to kick back in or take a credit for the next bill. Or if they've been underpaid then we'll pay the difference. The patient can't pay the doctor and get a receipt and send it in and say, "Pay me." Blue Cross-Blue Shield has a profile on every doctor in Texas on his usual and customary charges for every procedure. So when the bill comes in to them, they will compare this charge with his profile. If it's within his profile of charges, they'll pay it. If it's over, they'll kick it out.

Q: Is this going to replace the old program you had for old age assistance recipients?

A: The Kerr-Mills—it's out as of Sept. 1.

NO DENTAL CARE

Q: Will the program pay for things like drugs, glasses, hearing aids and prosthetic devices?

A: Not at this time. Medicaid says that between now and 1975 we must show progression towards 19 other services. That includes prescription drugs, dentures, eyeglasses, prosthetic devices, hearing aids, wheel chairs crutches and transportation.

Q: There's no dental care?

A: No, not now. The only thing that we provide is that in case of a broken jaw or teeth knocked out in a wreck or something like that, the victim can go to a dentist or orthodontist to have his jaw set or he can go to an M.D.

Q: Suppose a person has a medical problem involving the eyes where special glasses are needed as part of the treatment. Would they be included?

A: Not the glasses. We will pay for an eye examination once a year. We will also pay for an examination by a podiatrist—once a year. We will pay a chiropractor up to $15 a year. And we will be paying to the Christian Scientists—it is specifically written into the federal law.

Q: How much a year?

NO LIMIT

A: There's no limit. Their usual and customary fees. Of course, they must go to the hospital so they have a sanitorium. They only have one in Texas and that is at Dallas.

Q: Does medicaid cover all dependents within a family other than the primary recipient?

A: It covers all dependents within the family only on aid to families of dependent children. On the aid to the blind and aid to the permanently and totally disabled, it only covers the patient and not his family.

Q: Although the (welfare) check may be the sole source of income for his family?

A: Yes.

Q: Can a doctor refuse to take welfare patients?

A: Yes.

Q: Do you have power to go to court against a doctor who refuses to take a patient?

A: No.

Lions See Film Of Cowboys' Loss

Downtown Lions got a closeup of a historic football game Wednesday, but it still came out the same. The Dallas Cowboys lost to Green Bay's Packers.

Jim Hatler and Charles Dunnam presented the film of the play-off game between the Cowboys and Packers in the Cotton Bowl. Super-slow motion sequences showed three crucial plays in the last series when it seemed inevitable that Dallas would go over for the tying score.

Next week's program at the Settles will be the occasion for induction of new members.

NEW WAY TO SER VE NECTARINES
Nectarines are delightful served with rice and curry sauce as meat accompaniment

Fat Nectarine Slices Circle This Rice Ring

More than ever before, nectarines have gotten around in our markets. This juicy smooth-skinned fruit, with its delicate aroma and flavor is usually eaten out of hand. But nectarines may be used other ways.

In this recipe, nectarines are mixed with melon and bananas and served with a curry sauce and rice. The whole combination makes an interesting accompaniment for roast lamb or veal or turkey (roasted with or without stuffing or poached). A main course festival enough for a company meal. Add a salad and a non-fruit dessert and you'll probably be quite satisfied with yourself as a hostess.

The sauce prepared by this recipe has a thin consistency, and this is as it should be. Because curry powders differ in strength, you may wish to adjust the amount given here.

FRUIT WITH CURRY SAUCE

- 3 large nectarines
- 1 small honeydew melon
- 2 cups white wine
- 1 tbsp. cornstarch
- 1 tbsp. curry powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 tbsps. light brown sugar
- 1 can (10½ ozs.) beef consomme
- ¼ cup currants (rinsed in hot water and drained)
- 2 bananas

Slice the nectarines and melon into matching - size wedges; marinate in the wine for a couple of hours; drain. In a medium saucepan stir together the cornstarch, curry powder, salt and sugar. Gradually stir in the wine drained from fruit, keeping smooth, and the undiluted consomme; add currants. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until clear and slightly thickened. Cut peeled bananas into slices or strips and arrange with nectarine and melon wedges around a cooked rice ring. Serve with hot curry sauce.

Note: In preparing the melon, cut into quarters and remove seeds; cut away flesh, then slice into wedges.

New Recipe For Homemade Bread

A new version of an easy-to-make yeast bread.

CHEESETOP MUFFINS

- 1 envelope active dry yeast
- ½ cup warm water
- 1 cup finely grated cheddar cheese, lightly packed
- 2 tbsps. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 egg
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine, melted
- 2 cups (about) unsifted regular flour (stir before measuring)

In a medium mixing bowl dissolve the yeast in the water. Add 2-3 cup of the cheese, sugar, salt, egg, butter and one cup of the flour.

Beat until cheese is thoroughly mixed in — about two minutes at low speed of electric mixer. Gradually and thoroughly mix in the rest of the flour. Fill 12 muffin cups, (½ cup capacity) about half full of dough.

Sprinkle remaining 1-3 cup cheese over tops. Cover and let rise in warm draft-free place until doubled — 1 to 1½ hours. Bake in 375 degree oven 12 to 15 minutes. Serve hot.

Warm Leftovers

To save time when warming up small portions of left-over foods, line a large baking dish into sections by using aluminum foil. Place leftovers into each section to warm. Everything will be ready at one time, and best of all, no dirty pots and pans.

Barbecued Pork Chops Make Good Party Fare

Pork chops from the grill fit right into summertime meal plans. In fact menu plans geared to balance flavor, variety and good nutrition will certainly include pork. Today's pork has tenderness, consistent leanness and wonderful flavor. Besides the high quality protein which meat provides, pork is the richest food source of thiamine. Pork also has unexcelled digestibility.

Rib or loin pork chops should be cut at least one inch thick if they are to broiled over charcoal or in the oven. Distance of the meat from the heat should be adjusted to allow for slow broiling and thorough cooking. To test for doneness, make a slit in the meat near the bone and observe the color. Pork chops should be cooked just until pinkness has disappeared. Pork chops cut less than one inch thick are best cooked in a skillet with a cover. Fresh pork designated as tender and lean at the meat counter is assurance of greatest eating enjoyment.

Fruit accompaniments are especially pleasing with pork. A spicy apricot conserve is a bright one in flavor and color. Coarsely chopped walnuts give it a bit of crunch too. Hard rolls, molded vegetable salad and corn on the cob are easy to manage go withs for the grilled pork chop dinner.

CHARCOAL BARBECUED PORK CHOPS

6 pork rib chops cut 1 to 1½ inches thick
Salt and pepper

Cut edges of the pork chops to prevent curling. Place over low charcoal heat so that the chops will cook slowly and brown without burning. Turn once. Cook just until pinkness has disappeared when a cut is made near the bone. Season with salt and pepper and serve hot with Spicy Apricot Conserve. Yields six servings.

SPICY APRICOT CONSERVE

- 1 cup (8 oz. pkg.) dried apricots, cooked and chopped
- ½ cup white seedless raisins
- ¼ cup water
- 1 tbsp. grated orange rind
- ½ tsp. ground ginger
- ¼ tsp. ground mace
- ½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Combine all ingredients except walnuts in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat five minutes. Add walnuts. Serve hot with pork chops. Note: If desired, one teaspoon of honey may be added for a sweeter conserve. Yields two cups.

Cookie Bar Mix For Quick Sweet

A new cookie bar mix makes a quick and delicious dessert.

TAFFEY BARS

- 1 pack. (11 ¼ oz.) pecan bar mix
- 1 tbsp. melted butter
- 1 egg
- ¼ cup molasses
- 1 tsp. ginger

Prepare bar base as directed on package. For topping, beat together the melted butter, egg, molasses and ginger; blend in bar topping mix. Spread evenly over base. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 25 to 30 minutes or until topping is firm and golden brown. Cool and cut into bars. Makes 24 bars.

Fruit On Pork

Braise pork shops with sliced onion; make a delicious last-minute addition to the skillet by adding dried fruit — prunes, apricots or raisins. Plump the fruit overnight in water or wine before using.

Cook Beans And Tortillas Today

Tortillas filled with beans will give the family a taste of south-of-the-border cooking.

MEXICAN BEANS

- 8 tortillas
- Salad (not olive) oil
- 2 cans (each 1 pound) beans in barbecue sauce
- Shredded Iceberg lettuce
- Grated cheddar cheese
- Chopped sweet onion

In about ¼ inch hot oil in an 8-inch skillet fry the tortillas, one by one, in flat style until crisp on both sides. Meanwhile heat the beans. Heap the beans on the tortillas; top with layers of lettuce, cheese and onion. Serve at once. Makes four servings — two stuffed crisp tortillas per portion.

Simple Way To Steam Peppers

AIR FORCE PIPE BAND TO PERFORM HERE
Featured attraction at Webb Anniversary Sept. 8-9

Colorful Pipe Band Will Be At Webb's Anniversary

What is probably the most unique and colorful musical unit in the military forces will add color and sound to the Webb Air Force Base 25th anniversary celebration on Sept. 8-9.

This is the Air Force Pipe Band, a swingin' aggregation of a different sort. Resplenedly attired in authentic kilts of the Mitchell Tartan (chosen in honor of Gen. Billy Mitchell), this unusual organization always creates a sensation.

The Pipers will appear at a number of anniversary occasions. Open to the public will be their appearance at the parade at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 9. This review is in honor of graduating class 68-B. The public is invited to attend this ceremony, as well as view exhibits on the base on Saturday.

The Pipe Band also will give a special program on Friday night at the class 68-B dining-in, and then on Saturday evening will repeat programs at a class reception, and then at the military ball which climaxes the anniversary festivities.

The Air Force pipers have been recruited from outstanding organizations in the United States and Canada.

Due to the exemplary standards of the Air Force Pipe Band and the difficulty of the instrument, only extremely well qualified pipers are accepted into the unit. The band numbers among its present performers members of the Kimberly Pipe Band (British Columbia, Canada), the Manchester Pipe Band (Connecticut), the Angus Scott Pipe Band (Idaho), the Cleveland Caledonian Pipe Band, and many others.

The drummers of the Air Force Pipe Band were originally schooled in popular dance drumming, a far cry from the style used in pipe bands. Pipe band drumming is exceedingly difficult, intricate and fast, and it intrigued the Air Force drummers. But working closely together for long and arduous hours, they have reached a proficiency which has amazed several of the world's leading pipe band drummers.

The uniforms of the Pipe Band were authorized by Gen. Curtis LeMay and were made in Scotland. They were received by the members of the Air Force Pipe Band in June, 1960, at Bovington Royal Air Force Station near London, England, while the Air Force Pipers were appearing in Great Britain.

The Air Force Pipe Band appears often at the White House and at various Air Force and government functions throughout the Washington, D. C. area. In addition, it has appeared numerous times in New York City, performed for Independence ceremonies in Jamaica, and annually appears at Bermuda's Flower Festival.

Food Assistance Hearing Booked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman W.R. Poage, D-Tex., of the House Agriculture Committee, will hold a hearing the week of Sept. 18 on a Senate bill authorizing emergency assistance to persons in dire need of food or medical help.

Poage said he conferred with Mississippi House members before setting the date.

The bill, by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., would authorize $25 million in federal money.

Poage said he is not convinced the bill is necessary.

"We now have two food programs," he said "This sets up a third food program. I'm willing to be shown, but I'll have to be persuaded that it is necessary."

Last Puffs Spark Risk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three research experts testified Wedesday that cigarettes and the habits of people who smoke them can be altered to reduce what health authorities have labeled the danger of cancer.

They told a Senate commerce subcommittee that more effective filters, less inhalation and steps to discourage smokers from taking the last few puffs on a stubby cigarette would help curtail any health risk.

"Thus far, no easy solutions are readily apparent," said Sen. Warren G. Mganuson, D-Wash., opening a new Senate inquiry into cigarettes and health problems. "But we do hope to hear that some meaningful progress is being made."

Dr. George E. Moore, director of public health research in New York, proposed that the government set minimum standards of effectiveness for cigarette filters and limit the maximum tar yield.

"Cigarettes should be labeled as hazardous to health and tar and nicotine contents should be listed on the package," he said.

Moore also recommended that longer filters or some other design method be used to make sure that people do not smoke cigarettes down to tiny butts.

Moore said the last puffs of a cigarette contain substantially more tar than the first and are "substantially more dangerous than the smoke of previous puffs."

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, said the use of selected tobacco strains, reconstituted tobaccos and effective filters can produce an overall reduction in the amount of tar in a cigarette.

Dr. Armstead B. Hudnell of Winston-Salem, N.C., filed a statement reporting that by punching a hole at the base of a cigarette filter, tar, nicotine and toxic gases in the smoke can be reduced by 60 to 91 per cent.

Bay City Solon Takes New Post

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Otha Birkner of Bay City, a member of the legislature since 1961, has resigned to become county commissioner of Matagorda County, Speaker Ben Barnes announced Wednesday.

Birkner, 43, represented Matagorda and Wharton Counties in the legislature.

He was vice-chairman of the House Parks and Wildlife Committee and was a member of the Committees on Common Carriers, Counties, Highways and Roads and Livestock and Stock Raising.

Barnes said, "It is with regret that I accept the resignation of Representative Birkner. He distinguished himself in everything he undertook and was a truly outstanding member of the community."

Two Texas Gls Killed In War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Texas servicemen were listed by the Defense Department Wednesday as killed in action in the Vietnam War.

They were both Army men. Killed in action:

Texas—Cpl. Juan Valenzuela, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Valenzuela, 2101 Newport, McAllen; Spec. 4 Billy F. Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel C. Watson, 1405 N. Cleveland, Sherman.
