HOLLYWOOD

Today we visited the Farmers Market in Los Angeles. This is a fabulous place that is not a farmers market at all but is a real estate promotion where everything is sold from hot dogs to Cadillacs. In San Francisco they do have a genuine farmers market, owned by farmers and operated as a co-operative. It is quite successful. Finding much money it was made. Muscle boys tried to move in; but the original founders went to the courts and finally won out, and it is still operated as a farmers market — selling the meats, vegetables and other things the farmer grows.

This thing in Los Angeles is quite different. They do sell all kinds of fruits, vegetables, meat, poultry and any other type of food that you can imagine; but it is purely a commercial transaction. They have many shops and you can buy imported linen from Ireland, tartan from Scotland and woolsens from England. There are also imports from France such as perfume, automobiles from England, Germany, etc., and thousands of other things from the Orient and South America. The place intrigued me so much that I bought 31c worth of giant strawberries.

But the farmers market is nothing for illusion and disillusion as compared to Hollywood sets. Some of our group visited 20th Century Fox, but Louise and Henry and I were in the group that saw a little of how pictures were made at Universal Studios. When we got back to the room Henry said: "I wish I had not gone. Just think of those magnificent old southern homes we see in the movies and to think that they are made from those dirty little houses that only have three walls and nothing inside."

We saw a small dirty pond and some dead trees. This had just been used in filming a picture that had to do with the swamps and bayous of the Mississippi River, and starring Hedy Lamarr. They spent the trees with a solution that makes the appearance intact for as long as five years. They can be moved around to form an African jungle one day and a scene in Florida the next. They have whole towns set up out of the flimsiest material you ever saw. One may be a street scene in Mexico; but it does not require much work to change it to one in Spain. One is German, but they can make it a French town overnight. The rocks you see in the westerns are made of a type of paper mache and they have literally thousands of rocks, trees and scenes carefully catalogued so that they can create the illusion of anything in a few hours time, and they are quite candid in explaining how it is done. Such a visit may be educational but is something like a small boy finding out that there ain't no Santa Claus.

The props may be phony, but the actors who make the plays are very real and very much alive. We had lunch with some 25 of them at 20th (Continued on back page)

Two Picked for Order of the Arrow

Scouts Advance at End Of Week at Ki-o-wah

A week of outdoor activities at Scout Camp Ki-o-wah for 14 boys of Troop 32, ended Friday night, June 14, with the Court of Honor, when advancements were given and merit badges presented.

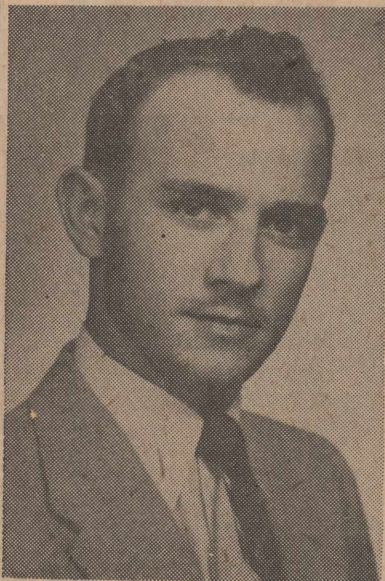

Ralph Coburn and Jackie Daves were called out for the Order of the Arrow. To receive this honor, a boy must be considered an outstanding camper and live by the Scout laws, and have camped out at least 10 days and nights.

Daves also advanced from First Class to Star Scout; and received merit badges for first aid, fishing, personal fitness, farm home and its planning, and citizenship in the home.

Harold Pigg advanced from first class to star Scout, and was presented leatherwork, swimming, painting and citizenship in home merit badges.

Wheat Crop to Market with 40 Cars Delivered During Week

Wheat harvest went into full swing in the 5-day period ending Tuesday night, June 19, and in that period approximately 40 cars of wheat were delivered to the county's two markets, Wellington and Dodson.

Merck Award To Hollingsworth

AUSTIN, Tex. — Lonnie Floyd Hollingsworth of Wellington has received the Merck Award in Pharmaceutical Chemistry from the University of Texas College of Pharmacy.

Hollingsworth, who this month received a Bachelor of Science degree with highest honors from the University, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hollingsworth, Wellington Hotel. He was an honor roll student and a member of Phi Eta Sigma, honorary society to which he was elected on the basis of his freshman grades; Kio Chi, honorary pharmaceutical fraternity, and Phi Delta Chi, national pharmaceutical fraternity. He received the 1956-57 Drug Travelers Association of Texas Award.

Linville Home Burns Sunday

The 5-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Linville at the west edge of Wellington was destroyed by fire Sunday, June 16, about noon, but neighbors were able to remove all furniture from the burning building, even the pictures from the wall and kitchen cabinets from their hangings.

Mr. and Mrs. Linville and their children, Retha and John Harold, and their other daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ingram and baby, were picnicking on Elm creek, the first outing the family has had together in several years, Linville said.

The fire is believed to have started in the attic.

The blaze was discovered by her mother, Mrs. F. D. Humphreys, who lives nearby, and who notified neighbors.

By the time the family could be notified of the fire and return to town, neighbors had moved all furniture into another house they own near West Side Garage.

Linville estimated the loss at around $3,350, and said the house was insured.

While wheat is by far the major part of the county's small grain crop, there still remains to be harvested a limited acreage of oats and a considerable amount of rye, which in the southeast part of the county jumped in popularity this season.

On the whole, the wheat coming in now, principally from the southern half of the county, is a little lower in test than was expected, and in some cases the yield is not as good, but wheat coming on the market now remains the first crop of any consequence the county has had in the last five years.

Various estimates from growers and buyers indicate that the crop is approximately one-third cut now.

Yields range up to 35 and 36 bushels, with others dropping to 15 to 18 bushels. Better yields now appear to be coming from the Dodson area, where Orville Vaughan has cut 36 bushels per acre, Glen Lewis around 32 and Herschel Tabor 34.

On the whole, the test here is

FHA Loans County Farmers $288,755 In Ten Months

More than $288,755.00 has been loaned to farmers in Collingsworth County during the ten months ending April 30, 1957, by Farmers Home Administration, the agency's county supervisor, I. G. Vaden, announced this week.

The heaviest demand has been for credit to finance farming operations, and to purchase livestock and equipment.

During this same ten months' period, Farmers Home Administration extended credit in operating, emergency and real estate loans to some 18,500 Texas farmers and ranchers for a total of $54,773,000, the agency's State Director, Walter T. McKay, reported. This is an increase over the same period last year of about $6,500,000.

"This increase is due primarily to the demand from family-type farmers for credit needed to place their farming operations on an efficient basis," McKay explained. "In fact," he added, "agency records reveal that there has been a slight decline in the demand for emergency credit so far this year. Long-term credit, to develop balanced systems and make full use of resources available, has been extended to a number of operators of family-type farms who previously obtained emergency loan assistance."

McKay and members of his staff are meeting this week with National Administrator Kermit Hansen to go over agency operations for next year. This meeting is preparatory to training meetings to be held for county office staffs throughout the State. The objective of these meetings will be to insure that maximum service is rendered to Texas farmers and ranchers promptly and efficiently.

Don Hood Gets Greenbelt Bid

All-District end, Don Hood, has been selected to play in the 8th Annual Greenbelt All-Star game to be played in Childress on August 16th. Donald was also honorable mention All-Area and All-Regional. He plays both offense and defense.

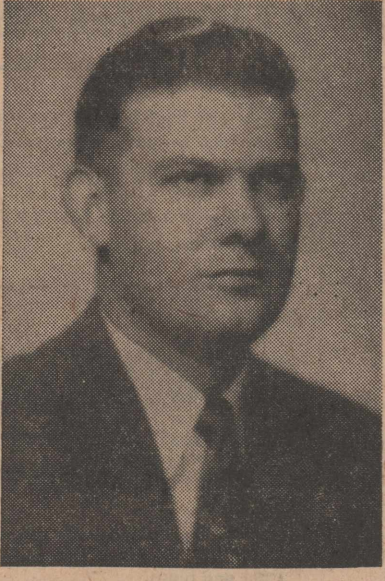

Highly recommended by Coach John B. Hurley, Don was selected from over 100 graduating seniors, representing 49 schools in Texas and Oklahoma, nominated by their coaches. Don will be coached in the game by Coach G. R. Gillstrap, coach at Arlington State College. Gillstrap will coach the 24 star players selected for the "East" team.

Hood will report to Childress on August 11th to begin a week of conditioning and practice before the big Friday night event. In addition to game practice he will participate in the election of the Greenbelt Bowl Queen and will be a guest of the city during the week.

Norwood Game Meeting June 24

Residents of the Samnorwood Game Association were reminded this week by Robert Baxter, president, of the called meeting Monday night, June 24, at 8:30 p. m. at Samnorwood school.

better than in the wheat growing sections, farther south. A small amount is testing around 60, but the test on more of the grain is from 55 to 58 although the test on a small amount has been as low as 50.

INTERNS IN HOUSTON

Dr. John E. Jones, who was graduated this spring from Baylor University School of Medicine, Houston, will begin his internship July 1 in Jefferson Davis Hospital in that city. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Jones.

Rail Abandonment Protest Goes Before I C C

Testimony of five county men was presented at a hearing before H. J. Blond, examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission, giving reasons why service on the Wellington line of the Katy Railway should not be abandoned.

The hearing opened in Hollis Thursday and continued until midnight Friday.

Presenting testimony at the hearing were Jones Singley, Velman Warrick, and County Agent Lefty Thomas of Wellington, and Ed Crowder of Dodson. Written testimony from Joe Peterson, manager of Wellington Tractor Service, was presented.

Paul Spillman, county attorney, assisted with the presentations and N. M. Higdon attended. As a member of the board representing the towns protesting the abandonment of service, the latter was not called to testify.

The case will next be argued before the Interstate Commerce Commission and two briefs will be submitted on behalf of the towns. One of these will be presented by Ryan Kerr, Altus, attorney for the towns, and T. Earl Curb, special attorney for the Oklahoma Corporation Commission. The other is to be presented by Spillman and Jack Courtney, transportation specialist for Uhlman Grain Co., Ft. Worth.

Slated for August 2 and 3

Ex-Students Association Names Committees for Annual Reunion

On August second and third, members of the Wellington Ex-Student Association will be in Wellington for the seventh annual homecoming. At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors plans were made and letters sent out to all ex-students. Basic plans are along the same line as in previous years, the watermelon supper in Ellison park Friday night and other activities in the Community Building on Saturday.

Donald Curry is president of the board of directors with Mrs. Hubert Bowen as vice-president and Bessie Rainer, secretary-treasurer. Committees were set up to carry out the plans with other members of the board of directors as chairmen. Chairmen of the watermelon supper is Richard Carter, with Cliff Campbell, Henry Sullivan, Woody Woods, Alvin

Summer Band School Opens Here Monday

The Wellington Band School will open Monday, June 24, under the direction of Doyle McElroy, band instructor, with classes for both beginners and advanced students, and a special tonette class for younger boys and girls. The school will continue to August 16.

Classes will begin at 7:30 a. m., with the junior high group, which will work until 9:30. Following a 30 minute break, beginners classes start at 10 a. m. and go until 11. These are sixth grade students.

A tonette class for the present 5th grade group is planned from 11 a. m. to 12 noon. These students will be in the beginners band in September, McElroy said.

From 1:30 to 4:30, McElroy will teach private lessons. Parents may make arrangements for these with the band director.

From 4:30 to 6:30, the high school band will practice. The 10 a. m. group, beginners, will march with the junior high band at 8:30 a. m. The high school students in the beginners group will march at 5:30 p. m. with the high school group.

On Friday, June 21, a representative of a music store in Altus will be here to repair instruments, and to make arrangement for rental or purchase of instruments of for those students who do not have them. He will also have the accessories that students may need during the school, McElroy said.

Canteen Opening Draws Seventy

Seventy boys and girls attended the opening of Teen Age Canteen Friday night, June 14.

Games of ping-pong and shuffleboard were played, and dancing was enjoyed by the group. Other entertainment features will be added in the future.

Those attending drew high praise from the adult sponsors and other guests for their fine behavior and co-operation.

Teen Age Canteen is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary and will be held each Friday night in the VFW building.

Hosts for the opening were Mr. and Mrs. Buster Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Toots Breedlove, Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson, VFW Commander and Mrs. Quinton Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Winton and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bearden.

Life Saving Class At Airpark Pool

Mary McCaskill is water instructor for Marian Airpark Pool this summer, and now has under way junior and senior lifesaving classes, in addition to regular swimming classes. Life saving classes are still open to anyone wishing to join, she said, and are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 6 to 7 p. m.

Work Renewed on Salt Fork River Dam Project

Judge Otho Dent, member of the State Board of Water Engineers, will be here Wednesday, June 26, to inspect the site of the proposed dam across Salt Fork River, and the watershed as it pertains to Collingsworth County.

Plans for Dent's two-day visit to include Clarendon, Memphis, Quana, Childress and Hedley, were made in a meeting of the Greenbelt Water Authority last week in Childress.

A breakfast will be given for Judge Dent, it was announced by George Shadid, Wellington representative in the authority. An effort is being made to have a large group of business men present for the meeting, and anyone wishing to attend should contact Shadid or Joe Terry.

Shortly after Dent's tour, plans will be drawn for an election in the various towns that constitute this water authority, Shadid said. These elections will not commit any town to any action whatever, but they are merely exploratory to learn if the citizens of those towns are interested in staying in the Authority.

Passage of recent legislation at Austin made it possible for towns to withdraw from the district.

A. A. Meredith, Borger, who heads the Canadian River Authority, was speaker at the Childress meeting, explaining the operation of a water authority and what might be expected from it.

Dr. S. H. Townsend, Childress, chairman of the Greenbelt Water Authority, presided. Attending were Shadid, Terry, Dr. Chas. B. Jones and Bura Handley.

The proposed Salt Fork Dam would cost around $7,000,000, according to engineers estimates. It would be for municipal and industrial use, and for recreation, wildlife propagation, and a certain amount of irrigation.

The authority's water rights on Salt Fork River were renewed and now run until September 1958, Shadid said.

Meanwhile, Altus and Mangum, Oklahoma, are continuing plans for a dam on Salt Fork 8 miles west of Mangum, on the assumption that the Greenbelt authority is not going to use its water rights before they expire. They cannot be renewed, according to information the Greenbelt Authority has received.

Oklahoma meetings have been held recently, and plans are being drawn up, and groups from Altus and Mangum have consulted Bureau of Reclamation engineers.

Water from Salt Fork is being sought to supplement irrigation water for the Altus-Lugert irrigation district. Behind this, however, is the need which Altus forces for additional municipal water supply within 5 to 10 years, at the present rate of that town's growth.

Altus now gets its water from Lugert, but it is limited to 4,800 feet per year, and this soon will become inadequate, officials believe.

Water from Salt Fork east of the Oklahoma line is not suited for municipal or industrial use, although it is suitable at the site where the Greenbelt Dam is proposed. Supplementary water to Altus-Lugert for irrigation purposes would in turn release additional water from the present lake for Altus municipal use.

Mangum's chief interest in a reservoir on Salt Fork is for possible irrigation and recreation, information received here indicates.

$924 Shortage Shown In Tax Office Audit

An audit of the books of John Rainey, tax collector, requested by Rainey himself, shows a shortage of $924.40 in the tax office, according to a report filed by F. E. Coan, Amarillo accountant hired by the Commissioners Court for the purpose.

Another audit will be made within two weeks by a representative from the state comptroller's office, which has been notified.

United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, bonding company, also was notified and Lewis Brians, their representative, told County Judge R. L. Templeton if the money is not found, his company will make good the loss to the county, then try to find out where the shortage is and recover it.

Judge Templeton and Sheriff Rainey, speaking separately, gave this account to The Wellington Leader.

A shortage was discovered by Louise Fulcher, tax deputy. She told Rainey, who reported it to Judge Templeton, who in turn notified the Commissioners Court at its June 10 meeting. They took the matter up with Rainey and Miss Fulcher.

"Everybody wanted an audit," the judge said. At that time it was not known if there was an actual shortage, or if there simply appeared to be one because of bookkeeping errors.

Coan's report was made June 13, and filed in the county clerk's office. Copies went to various county officials.

The audit covers a period back to January 1, 1955, when Rainey took office.

Judge Templeton and other officials pointed out that at this particular time, work is directed at trying to find out what happened, and it is not directed at any individual.

"We will make as full an investigation as possible to determine if the money was taken or if it was misplaced through mistakes over the years," District Attorney John T. Forbis said. A daily cash control has been set up in the office, he added.

Dr. Jones Speaks At N. Y. Meet

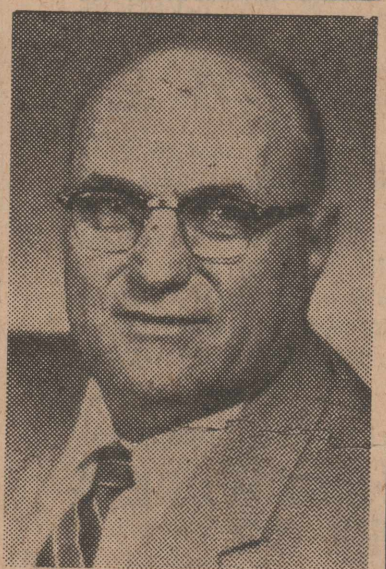

Dr. Chas. B. Jones was in New York City recently to speak at a session of the annual meeting of the American Blood Irridation Society.

His discussion, accompanied by slides, concerned the use of this therapy in treating disease.

He was accompanied by Ham Holton, who attended a series of baseball games.

Rainey said he had no statement to make at this time, explaining that the state audit would be within a short time.

The audits, both the one made by Coan and the other to be made by the state, concern only the tax collection part of an office that has three separate functions — assessing taxes, collecting them, and law enforcement.

Revival Under Way at First Assembly of God

Revival services opened Wednesday night, June 19, at the First Assembly of God, with the Rev. O. L. Bost and his family in charge of preaching and special music.

Services begin at 7:45 p. m., the Rev. Joe Calabrese, pastor, announced, and old-fashioned gospel preaching will be given.

The Bost family is from Lexington, Missouri. A preacher for more than 30 years, Rev. Bost was a pastor for 20 years before entering evangelistic work. He is widely known among Assembly of God churches.

The two sons, David, 16, and Jimmy, 15, will do special singing and playing.

There will be no services Saturday evenings.

Closing date of the revival has not been set, Rev. Calabrese said as he extended an invitation to the public to attend.

C-C Information On Industry Given

A brochure presenting advantages an industry would enjoy in Wellington has been presented the West Texas Chamber of Commerce by the Collingsworth County chamber.

This followed an inquiry on behalf of an industry seeking to locate in West Texas, N. M. Higdon, manager, said.

Verbal options were secured on two plant sites, adjacent to railroads and a highway, which could be secured for this or any other industry, according to Henry Sullivan, industrial chairman.

The industry for whom the inquiry was made would require 200 unskilled workers as trainees. Wellington would be able to furnish all the gas, electricity and water needed and meet other requirements.

Jack Davis Heads Masonic Chapter

Jack Davis was elected most excellent high priest of the Wellington Chapter 342, Masonic Lodge, in the recent election meeting.

Elected with him were Lloyd Harper, excellent king; Calvin Hurst, excellent scribe; B. W. Beard, treasurer; John Glascock, secretary; and James A. Holtman, guard.

Crackdown on Fire Truck Chasing

The city council, in a meeting Monday night, June 16, promised a crackdown on drivers following the fire trucks around town, Mayor Hiram Cudd, who is also fire chief, reported.

There has been a considerable amount of fire truck chasing recently, especially on Sundays and holidays, he said, and firemen were hampered and unable to move their trucks Sunday, June 16, when the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Lindville burned in the west part of town.

Rev., Mrs., Howard Jones Here En Route To Speaking Meet

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard Jones of McAllen were in Wellington Monday, June 17, visiting friends. The purpose of their trip was an address he made Monday night before a special Brotherhood Rally at First Baptist Church, Altus.

They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Woody Wood, and in the evening they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Misch Dukeminier.

Rev. Jones, former pastor of First Baptist Church, is now engaged in full time evangelistic work.

Farmers Urged to Vote in Wheat Referendum

The level of price support for the 1958 crop of wheat is one of the issues to be decided by farmers voting in the June 20 referendum on marketing quotas. Travis C. McGuire, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds growers.

The other issue is whether marketing quotas, with penalties on "excess" wheat, shall be in effect for next year's crop. Quotas have been in effect for the last 4 consecutive wheat crops.

Chairman McGuire explains that price support for the 1958 crop of wheat has been set at a national average of at least $1.78 per bushel in the commercial wheat States. This rate will apply if at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the June 20 referendum approve use of the quotas. This support reflects 75 per cent of parity, as indicated by the wheat supply relationships specified in the governing legislation.

If marketing quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds of the growers voting, however, the price-support level for 1958-crop wheat would be 50 per cent of parity, also as directed by law.

There will be four voting places in the county, at the following places: Dodson-Fresno communities will vote at the Farmers Co-op Gin office in Dodson. All other communities south of the river will vote at the ASC County office in the court house in Wellington; all producers in the Dozier-Sammorwood communities will vote at the High School Gym in Sannorwood; all producers in the Lutie-Aberdeen communities will vote at Red's Shop in Lutie.

Wives of eligible producers can vote also. If the husband thinks that he is to busy to take the time to vote we urge that the wife go vote any way. Your vote is needed, regardless of how you vote, the chairman said.

The polls will open at 8:00 A. M. and close at 7:00 P. M.

Ceremony at Idalou Unites Carolyn Sue Crawford and George Cunningham

Miss Carolyn Sue Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crawford of Idalou, and Edward George Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cunningham of Samnorwood, were married Saturday, June 15, at First Baptist Church in Idalou.

Performing the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Harold Elliott, Amarillo, former pastor of Samnorwood Baptist Church. Altar decorations were emerald fern, baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding white tapers. The bride's dress was marked by white satin and tulle.

Miss Sue Hudson, organist, presented the pre-nuptial program and accompanied Mrs. Loyd Swann as she sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Crawford gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding gown was an original model of imported French lace and chiffon taffeta in a soft shade of ivory. Designed with a portrait neckline framed with scalloped lace holding a criss-cross yoke of pleated tulle. The fitted lace bodice had a long torso waistline accented with a point at the center front. From this stemmed a bouffant skirt of taffeta fully shirred, encircled with a wide inset of lace that started at the neckline and dropped at the back. The immense fullness of lace and taffeta, over skirts of net, swept into a long graceful train. A veil of silk illusion was joined to a coronet of beads, rhinestones and seed pearls. On the bride's white Bible was an arrangement of stephanotis and white rosebuds, accented by white satin shower streamers, with stephanotis caught in lovers knots.

Mrs. K. R. Willson of Lubbock was her sister's matron of honor, while the bridesmaids were Miss LaCretia Pruitt of Idalou and Mrs. J. D. McBrayer of Fort Worth, sister of the groom. They wore dresses of embossed blue nylon organza with cumberbuns of blue chiffon. Their original head pieces were of hand woven braid and blue tulle. They carried colonial bouquets of feathered carnations a shade darker than their dresses, accented by blue lace and blue satin streamers. Lighting the candles were Miss Sandra Shadden of Idalou and Mrs. Raymond Mitcham of Lubbock. Their dresses and headpieces in pink were styled identically to those of the attendants.

Little Miss Denise McBrayer, Fort Worth, niece of the groom, was flower girl and Ricky Willson, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

James Allen Cunningham, Whiteface, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Kenneth Willson, Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bride, and Donald Taylor of Shamrock.

A reception followed the ceremony. The table was laid with white net over blue taffeta, centered with blue frosted reception candles surrounded by the bridesmaids bouquets. Members of the house party were Miss Catherine Varetto, Mrs. T. K. Pruitt, Mrs. Merle Walker and Mrs. J. A. Cunningham.

As the couple left on their wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride was wearing a black Egyptian cotton suit trimmed in white, and white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses and stephanotis.

The bride was graduated from Idalou high school, while the bridegroom was graduated from Samnorwood high school and is a senior in Texas Technological College, Lubbock. They will be at home at 2308 Avenue M, Lubbock.

Homemakers to Quartz Park

Wellington Future Homemakers held their leadership training camp at Quartz Mountain State Park Tuesday and Wednesday, June 18 and 19.

The girls took part in planned games, vesper services, studied parliamentary procedure, and cooked their own meals.

Going were Mary Lou Sanders, Katherine Sanders, Donna Lowrie, Judy Forbis, Ann McCarver, Barbara Mayhugh, Glenna Ward, Theda Martin, Carolyn Keller, Gaylon Jones, Joan Langford, Betty Belew, Rebecca Carter, Sandra Cooper, Carolyn Gammill, Patricia Hughes, Barbara Denley, Charlesreen Motesenbaker, Joetta Moore and Linda Brantley. Two guests were Alicia Ham of Beville and Carolyn Lockhart.

Accompanying the girls were Mrs. A. V. Lowrie, Mrs. Gene Martin, Mrs. Chas. Cason Sr., and Mrs. I. G. Vaden, homemaking instructor.

Rehearsal Dinner For Wedding

The wedding party of Miss Geneva White and John Alf Thomas were entertained at the rehearsal dinner given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zook Thomas, at their country home.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a miniature bride and groom set in an arrangement of rosebuds.

Attending were Miss White, Mr. Thomas, Rev. and Mrs. Alfred White of Canadian; Mrs. Obie White, Mrs. Jo Helen Cappel of Canyon, Patsy Aaron, Dale Ratliff, Betty Dollar, Martha Johnson, Judith Anne Wilson, Travis McGuire, Mrs. Susie Bennett of Ralls, Mrs. Joe Darden and Susan and Joe David Darden of Lorenzo, Nancy Sue Thomas, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

First Wedding in Bowie Street Church Joyce White and John Alf Thomas

The first wedding performed in the new Bowie Street Church of Christ was that of Miss Geneva Joyce White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Obie White of Quail, and John Alf Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zook Thomas of Lillie community. The ceremony took place Sunday, June 9, at four o'clock in the afternoon, with Minister Alfred White of Canadian, cousin of the bride, reading the double ring rites.

Decorating the altar were lighted tapers in candelabra, alternating with baskets of pink gladioli, while satin bows marked the bridal aisle.

A quartet of Miss Mary Beth Kelso, Miss Brenda White, Mrs. Billy Mac Sims and Mrs. Vesta Lee Orr sang a capella "I Love You Truly," "At Dawning," "Whither Thou Goest." They hummed the traditional marches as the processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white brocade faille. The bodice was made with a fitted midriff, the scooped neckline and short sleeves were edged in scallops. Her full skirt was waltz length. The elbow length veil was attached to a headpiece of pearls and rhinestones and the bridal bouquet was an orchid surrounded by white carnations in a heart-shaped satin frame, tied with satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls.

Miss Martha Johnson, Quail, was maid of honor. Her blue crystalline dress was of princess style, with a boat neckline and short sleeves. The full skirt was street length and her headband was of blue velvet. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations arranged similar to that of the bride.

Jerry Paul Cook was best man and ushers were Charles Wright of Quail and Joe David Darden of Lorenzo.

Candles were lighted by Miss Betty Dollar and Miss Patsy Aaron, who wore blue crystalline princess style dresses, with blue headbands and pink carnation corsages. Flower girls were Nancy Thomas, sister of the groom and Janice White, niece of the bride. Their dresses of blue crystalline were trimmed with lace, and they had pink carnation corsages.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. White chose an aqua dress and white lace hat. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Thomas chose a brown lace dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The reception was held in the community building.

Against a background of white gladioli in pedestal baskets and lighted tapers in 7-branched candelabra, the reception table was laid with blue net over matching satin. The bride's bouquet was the centerpiece with candles on either side. Appointments were of milk glass. Miss Sheri Graham served the tiered wedding cake and Miss Patricia DePauw poured punch. Miss Rita Boen was at the guest register.

As the couple left on their wedding trip to Lugert, Henryetta and Oklahoma City, the bride was wearing a sheath dress of sailor cloth, with multi-colored dots against a white background. Her accessories were white and her corsage an orchid.

Mrs. Jeanette Teutsch was installed as worthy matron of the Dodson Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star Tuesday night, June 10, in a hall decorated with spring roses.

Installing officers and incoming officers were semi-formal dress for the occasion.

Mrs. Helen Howell was installing officer and Mrs. Vey Wynn installing marshal. Other installing officers were Mrs. Esther Bowling, chaplain; Mrs. Gerie L. Smith, organist; Mrs. Christine Scott, warder; and A. V. Lowrie, sentinel.

Taking office with Mrs. Teutsch were Frank Smith, worthy patron; Lora Lowrie, associate matron; Silas Crawford, associate patron; Francis J. Martin, secretary; Erma Lee Lowrie, marshal; Esther Bowling, chaplain; Suzy Crawford, conductress; Gerie L. Smith associate conductress; Wilmaene Swift, organist; Edith Painter, warder; and Christine Scott, sentinel.

Star points were installed with Francis Martin as installing officer and Erma Lee Lowrie installing marshal. These were Mary Lou, Scott, Adah; Nadine Birchfield, Ruth; Vey Wynn, Esther; Helen Howell, Martha; and Maggie Webb, Electa.

After all officers were installed, Mrs. Teutsch announced her theme and goal for the work of the order this year.

Chapter jewels were presented the junior past worthy matron and Gladys Leggitt.

Former Vinson Man Stricken

Word was received recently of the serious illness of A. M. Burleson, former Vinson resident who is now living in Pomona, California. He has been in ill health for the past three years.

His daughter, Mrs. E. S. Darrow, left Monday to be at his bedside. Mrs. Lidell Casey, also of Vinson, is a granddaughter.

* REPORT

I see where Mr. Harry Truman says his new grandson looked just like any other two-day-old baby the first time he saw the youngster.

Now I feel sorry for Harry if that is the best he can do in grandpa business.

Some think he didn't make much of a president either.

I never had a chance to try for president, but have made grandpa five times, and my work in this field has been definitely superior. Not a single one of the five looked just like any other baby.

I see where inflation has hit the larceny business the same as it has hurt practically every other type of free enterprise.

Used to be nearly everywhere that stealing $50 was called grand larceny, but since inflation set in New Jersey people can't see anything grand about $50 any more and have raised the petty larceny limit to $200.

Which seems a little strong, being as the modern dollar is not hardly up four to one on the old style dollar yet, but a few more rounds of wage and price increases may get even $200 down in the petty cash class. Except in case you owe it to the Internal Revenue men, who will probably still make considerable fuss about it.

This story the scientific sharks are putting out about cigarette smoke shortening a man's life by seven or eight years has got some of our local folks bothered.

But my cheerful neighbor says he is glad to hear this news, on account of it has long been a mystery to him why he smokes anyhow, and now he can see some good in it.

He figures that if he don't give up and keeps on smoking to the end, it will save him two doses of presidential campaign suckrage, and he will have eight years less of taxes to pay.

I note that our congressmen in Washington are taking the cry for economy very seriously and trying to save money here and there, but they are not going to let this warp their good judgment.

For instance, some advocates of false economy wanted to replace a side door on the House Office building with a cheap $2,000 door, but they voted to buy a better grade $8,000 door.

After all, an ordinary taxpayer-type door would look sort of out of place in the hands of the House's $16,500-a-year door-opener.

I note that the social engineers are making some progress toward doing away with discrimination and segregation and furthering amalgamation of the black and the white races.

But even when they get this job done they won't be out of work, on account of I know many people around here who would also favor a crusade to integrate the rich and the poor.

Separation of these classes is just about as widespread as racial snubbery and cultivates lots of inferiority complexes. Like when I am discriminated against and segregated from the Cadillac-owners class by means of money.

Los Angeles June 13

Today we visited a cemetery and Hollywood, and in the latter place we met and ate with over 50 movie stars. Anyone had told us that we would be more impressed with the cemetery than with all of Hollywood, we would not have believed them; but that is the way it proved to be.

The cemetery is not just a burial place. It is Forest Lawn, a beautiful memorial park, filled with art treasures located on a serene hill in Glendale and surrounded on all sides by Greater Los Angeles.

Here we saw the world famous glass window depicting the Last Supper. It is a recreation of Leonardo Da Vinci's immortal painting, made from Da Vinci's original sketches rather than the repaired painting as it exists today. The window is of tremendous size and the figures are larger than life. As the narrative of the last supper continues, they seem to live and breathe. There is Bartholomew who springs to his feet in horror and James the Lesser who lays a restraining hand on the hot-headed Peter. Andrew shrinks from the thought of betrayal, and Judas' hand tightens on his miserable pieces of silver as he overturns the salt, an omen of bad luck even to this day. Peter draws his knife and John the Beloved bows his head.

In the stained glass window, Thomas is still the doubter and questions Jesus on the prediction of the betrayal while James and Phillip register amazement. And Matthew, the former collector of taxes who once thought only of gold, extends his hands in an appeal to the other disciples and Thaddeus frowns and Simon cannot believe.

In the center is the blond haired Jesus. The face of Jesus is there and it is not there. Just as in Leonardo Da Vinci's original painting the face in the window is not quite completed. Leonardo finally gave up with the statement that no mortal could complete the face of The Christ. You think you can see the gentle hands move as Jesus tells Judas: "Whatever thou doest, do quickly."

After the window was shown and the narrative had ended and the music stopped; our son was so filled with awe that he declined to visit the rest of the building saying to his mother: "I will go sit in the bus for a while and think."

After inspecting some of the marvelous statues, the most memorable of which is "The Mystery of Life," we were taken to see the gigantic painting of the Crucifixion. This painting is 44 feet high and over 150 feet long and a special building had to be built to house it. Done by a Polish artist, it was brought to the United States at the suggestion of Padewski, the great pianist, and shown at the World's Fair in Chicago. After that showing it lay rolled and stored for many years unseen by human eyes, until this great temple was built and it was brought to Forest Lawn in Los Angeles.

"The Crucifixion" is considered to be the most famous painting of this subject in the entire world. Nothing in Rome equals it is the opinion of the experts. Over 1,400 figures are shown. Storm clouds hang over the City of Jerusalem but there is a show of sunlight on the road to the Mount of Olives and the road where the Good Samaritan traveled. The Temple of the Scribes and Pharisees is deserted and the home of Pontius Pilate is dark, and the people pour from the walled gates of the city on the way to Calvary.

High on the hill stands the magnificent, omniscient Jesus in white. There are two crosses and you wonder why there are not three as told in the Bible. You take a second look and you understand. The Cross of Jesus lies at his feet and a hole has already been dug in which to place it.

Gamaliel of the Sanhedrin who had part in the mock trial is in the painting. So is Malchus whose ear Peter cut off and Jesus healed. The two thieves stand chained. Longinus, the Roman soldier sits on his white horse watching the threatening clouds and the more ominous crowd of people. He was the one who stood at the foot of the Cross and as Jesus forgave all of them cried out: "Truly thou art the Son of God", and thus became the first Roman to become a Christian.

Mary, the Mother of Jesus stands weeping, surrounded by friends, near the center and Peter and other disciples are in front of Longinus on his white horse.

In the very center is Mary Magdalene. She was the red-haired beauty who was seduced and enslaved by a Roman Lord and became a famous courtesan and actress until she found Jesus and became his most devoted follower. As the curtain closes it is the figure of the kneeling Mary Magdalene that is last seen in this living, moving picture.

Keep these pullets on the GROW!

Folks who let their "coast" by feeding grain without a good support, during the spring and summer months are usual for a big let-down in the fall—when egg prices are their best. That's because shortage of essential vitamins! minerals will slow up development and egg-laying forks.

If you're short of grain, or trying to feed pullets an all-rain ration, we'd like to talk to about Check-R-Mix. We make Check-R-Mix right here at mill out of local grain and Micro-Mixed Purina Concentrat these concentrates add the up that grain alone lacks to give a big push toward the ring house. And the price—why not come and see for yourself!

Folks who have already tried Check-R-Mix say we're exact right when we call it "A good feed at a good price." We're sure you agree with them.

Dick Rapp of Amarillo, who used to live here, stopping to buy a Leader . . . giving this account of his family. Joyce Rapp Sole lives in Hawaii, where her husband is a lieutenant senior grade in the Navy—they have two boys. Rebecca is Mrs. Ward Stephens of Los Alamos. Her husband is with AEC, and is a brother of Victor Lee Stephens, the Shamrock boy who was killed while helping hunt two criminals in the area east of that town a few months ago. At home are Mrs. Rapp, the former Floy Kessler, and sons, Mike, 16, and Gary, 13. The family left here in 1947.

Tom Dobbs saying, "Well, it looks like we have a drought—hasn't rained for 4 or 5 days . . ."

I don't remember of this happening before . . . When Bonita Tate and Leon Myers of the Abra community, both graduates of Samnorwood high school this year—were married Saturday, the ceremony was performed by a third member of the class, Charles McAnear, a licensed preacher of the Baptist Church.

A note from G. D. Milner of Hereford, to change his Wellington Leader to Sandpoint, Idaho, where he and his family have a summer home. He used to live here and is the son of Mrs. Dolly Whisenant of Dodson.

Boney Hunter's reputation of barbecue chef is equalled only by his reputation as a fireman—or firefighter.

Friends report that while he was barbecuing the beef for the Baptist all-church picnic, he kept piling on more wood to get a better bed of coals, and all at once the fat caught fire and quite a blaze followed. There was no damage except to the color, and folks who were served actually preferred it to that which didn't burn. Boney hasn't heard the last of it though, and already delegations to his gin office have presented him a fireman's hat and a bucket of water.

Talk is still going around among the friends of Linda Singley and Ted Stansbury of their lovely wedding . . . and not the least delightful was the incident that gave the wedding a few bad minutes, and which Father Knapp shared with the guests, to explain why they'd have to wait a little while. . . "The rings were locked in the glove compartment of the car, and the keys have been lost. It will take a few minutes to find them."

And Mrs. Chas. Jones, who helped with the wedding—Linda's a niece—saying: "I think everything went off just fine, considering that just one member of that wedding party was even 20 years old." . . . And for her children it was a get-together, Rosemary and Andy Langford and children up from Ft. Worth (he took pictures of the wedding and reception) . . . Jeanne and Gilbert Gilles from Midland; Frank Jones in from Tech to sing. . . and the daughter-in-law, lovely Marie Jones, who with Dr. Johnnie and the children arrived from Houston just in time for her to come to the wedding.

It meant a homecoming for former residents, too, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goforth, Linda's grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Goforth of Amarillo; Elizabeth Glenn of Canadian; and Mrs. D. C. McKinney of Childress, who was Ted's next-door-neighbor here.

Heard in a round-about way of Janie Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Cummings, who attends the State School for the Blind during the school term . . . that she is "wonderful in music, almost a prodigy".

R. L. Templeton saying he listened to Von McDaniel pitch a winning game Sunday—and recalling that the first Babe Ruth baseball team he ever coached got beat by Arnett, on pitching—with Von as pitcher. Then again, a Little League got beat the same way, against Von's little brother.

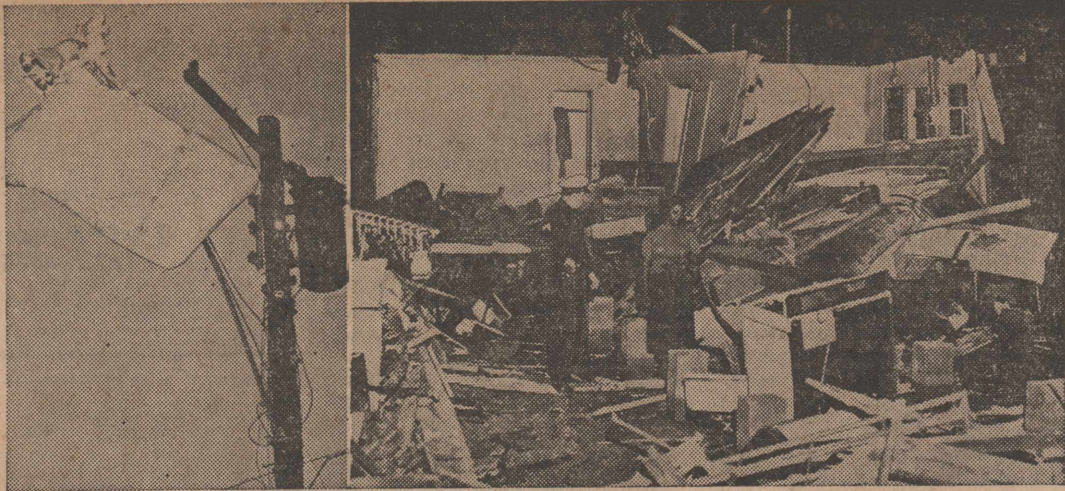

Quail Cemetery Trustees Named

New trustees of the Quail Cemetery Association, elected at the recent annual meeting, are Clarence Blevins, and G. T. Stephens, while Woodrow Wilson and Jim Langley were re-elected. These will serve two-year terms.

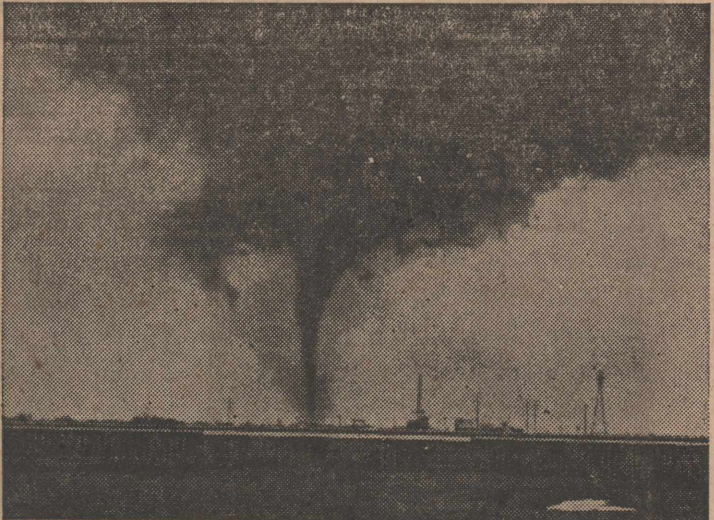

Other trustees with one more year to serve are Roy Canada, Ople White and N. E. Childers.

Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Brown of Oklahoma City visited over the weekend with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lockhart.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lockhart Sunday were Mrs. Ruth Cherrington of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Ethel Ray and Norman.

TORNADO TERROR was visited on this west Dallas apartment house (right), while the twister which hit the afternoon of April 2 also showed a grisly prankishness (left). Returning residents found only debris, and workers from Dallas City-County Civil Defense, police, firemen and Red Cross guarding the wreckage and ready to provide temporary shelter. (Dallas Morning News Photos)

BLACK FUNNEL of the tornado which hit Dallas, Texas on the afternoon of April 2 is shown as it screamed along toward the west side of the city, where heaviest damage occurred. In its 46-minute sweep, the funnel dealt death to nine persons, injured 170, and destroyed or damaged some 800 homes and businesses, worth $1,500,000. Dallas City-County Civil Defense, the Red Cross, police, firemen and other disaster agencies set up medical aid stations and shelters within a matter of hours after the twister. (Wide World Photo)

Century Fox. Pat O'Brien, who often plays the role of a newspaper man or a Catholic priest was the master of ceremonies and he was genuinely humorous. Personally I like his off the cuff, down to earth type of merriment much better than some of that we see of Bob Hope and Groucho Marx and some of the other comedians who seem to strive so hard to be funny and often fail as far as my sense of humor is concerned. Pat O'Brien was as easy as an old shoe. In fact, he was as good as Henry Sullivan when Henry is at his best.

Ten people were seated at our many tables and some actor or actress was seated at each one. Miss Mabel Albertson was seated at our table. She is a grandmother and uhh—oh, she did not look to be over thirty-five that day. She is most gracious and is an excellent conversationalist. She started out in vaudeville as a singer and actress. Later she went on the legitimate stage and for some time she has been in Hollywood in pictures and in July she will go on TV as the mother of the Whiting Girls. Her latest role was in "The Female Savage", which will be released in about six months and which will probably come to Wellington next year. Anyhow, she is a grand person and is very real indeed.

Right next to our table was a girl who arrested your attention. At the conclusion of the speaking, I saw Louise and Henry going over to shake hands and I went along to get acquainted. She was Carolyn Jones who once lived in Amarillo and who knew exactly where Wellington and Hereford are located. She is an intense young person and her charm is magnetic and Pat O'Brien said that she was the sort of actress who would reach the heights. You will see her soon in such pictures as Bachelors Party and Johnny Trouble. In the latter play she is starred with Ethyl Barrymore.

Now if Henry will hold my hand and Louise will mop my brow with a cold damp cloth, I will try to tell you of a few of the lovelies that were in the circle immediately around our table. Right next to us was Joan Jones, a red headed, green-eyed beauty. She is with Warner Bros. and her latest picture is Cheyenne and Conflict.

On the other side of us was Taina Elg, a ballet dancer and actress recently imported from Norway. And right by my elbow was a raven haired Irish beauty with almost purple blue eyes and a figure like the Greeks put in stone monuments. You will see her soon in a play called "Peyton Place" with Lana Turner. She has a pleasant voice. She wore a dress that was cut delightfully low in front. She had a nice tan and tiny little freckles on her back and we had to squeeze through the exit together. Since the food was free and I had a good look at the stern I decided that it would not hurt to look at the bow. So it is that I can tell you that she had the same delicious looking freckles on her—well, as Rev. John Ferguson used to say, there are some topics that you should not discuss too far.

Storm Heads Oil Industry Public Information Work

Amarillo oilman Frank Storm Jr., today was named chairman of petroleum's public information and service program for twenty-six Panhandle counties.

His appointment as Panhandle Area Chairman of the Texas Oil Information Committee was announced in Dallas by State Chairman James L. Sewell. Storm is a partner in the Amarillo-based independent oil firm of Storm, Hagy and Herrmann.

Also named at the same time as area vice-chairman of the OIC school program was Porter Oakes, also of Amarillo.

Storm and Oakes will offer educational services to students and teachers in junior and senior high schools, provide programs and informational materials to clubs and organizations, and promote Oil Progress Week in October.

They will work with local oilmen and women in Dallas, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, and Childress counties.

Zsa Zsa Garbor was there; but none of our family met her because she was on the far side of the room and left early. Never did think she would last long in America anyhow.

There were a lot of other beautiful actresses present: Telecia Farr, Mona Freeman, Kathryn Grant, Terry Moore, Marilyn Maxwell, Diana Merrill and that lovely Virginia Mayo. Gosh—such beauty and talent.

There were some male actors present but I can't truthfully say that I remembered all their names. There was Francis X. Bushman, who was a glamour boy when I was chopping cotton east of town. He is not in pictures anymore; but he is making something of a comeback on TV. There was that inimitable Otto Kruger and his wife. Others I have liked in pictures and who were present were: Charlton Heston, (Ten Commandments); Jacques Bergerac, Robert Dix (son of Richard Dix and husband of Janet Leigh); Jay C. Flippen, Robert Stack, Grant Williams and old Chill Wills.

Well the props on the sets may be phony; but the actors who portray the characters are vibrant and lively and they are charming.

Miss Albertson said that Hollywood had a surplus of actors; but that they were in great need of men who could write better script and better plays. Jimmie Gillentine and I are wondering if we should sell our papers and move out here to this land of glamour and illusion.

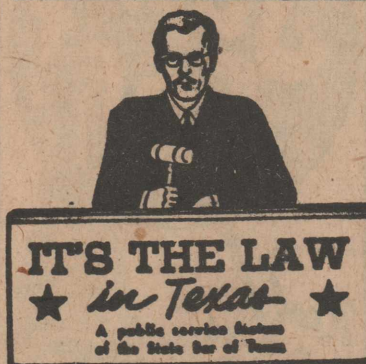

Miss Opal Boyles of Amarillo is spending several days vacation here in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gentry, and with a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyles.

Goodloes Return From Vacation

Supt. and Mrs. Bennett Goodloe and children returned recently after several days vacation spent at different points in Texas and in Old Mexico.

In Brownsville they visited with the E. L. Pritchett, who formerly lived here, when he was Superintendent of Wellington schools. Mr. Pritchett is now superintendent of schools in Brownsville. In Raymondville they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bradford also former Wellington residents.

The Goodloes also made a very interesting trip to Matamoros in Old Mexico, returning to Texas to Padre Island, San Antonio and the Breckenridge Park. They returned home by way of Dallas, where they visited a short time.

Proud men and women, ancient and modern, who fought free of tyranny, have taken the name of citizen. Others may call themselves subjects, denizens, slaves, etc. For the Greeks, with rare exceptions, citizenship came by blood. You had to be born a citizen's child.

But the Romans, like us, found ways to make citizens of those who came up to certain standards: As Gibbon said, the Romans sacrificed "vanity of ambition; and deemed it more prudent as well as honorable, to adopt virtue and merit for her own wherever found—among slaves, strangers, enemies or barbarians."

American citizenship is an office which carries power, privilege, and duties. Only citizens can do certain things—for example, teach in many schools and colleges, become lawyers, hold certain political or civil service offices.

You are a citizen if naturalized or born in the United States (subject to its jurisdiction); and in certain circumstances if born outside the United States to parents of whom one or both are American citizens.

As in ancient Greece, citizenship in most lands comes through blood; but American citizenship comes chiefly by place—where you were born.

(So dig out your birth certificates or naturalization papers if you can find them, and put them away safely; you may need them for many reasons, for example, to travel in foreign lands under U. S. protection.)

The Fourteenth Amendment holds that place of birth fixes native citizenship—all persons born in the United States. Your birth in this country automatically makes you a citizen unless you are not subject to U. S. jurisdiction, as in the case with diplomats' families and certain travelers.

In 1898 Chinese parents who themselves could then not become citizens, became parents in San Francisco of a son, Wong Kim Ark. Years later this fact settled the whole thing for the U. S. Supreme Court—he was a citizen. Nothing else mattered: not his parentage nor blood, nor his race, color, creed or ancestry.

Not all American Indians used to be citizens—only those whose tribal treaties with the federal government included citizenship. But in 1924 Congress made all American Indians, no matter what tribes, United States citizens.

Rev. and Mrs. Joe Calabrese and Nell and Patsy Wilkerson visited in Turkey last Friday with Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Bost and sons, and attended evening church services at the Assembly of God church there.

Floyd Thomas, who lived here as a young man, is now living in Watsonville, California, and is in the hospital there suffering from Diabetes, and would like very much to receive letters from old friends here. His address is Floyd B. Thomas, P. O. Box 161, Watsonville, California.

Many May Get Sick Pay Refunds On Income Tax

Thousands of North Texans are entitled to reopen claims for a refund of income tax previously disallowed for sick pay exclusion under the 1939 Internal Revenue Code, according to Mr. James Z. Pearce, Administrative Officer of the Amarillo office. A recent Supreme Court decision has allowed a taxpayer's claim for sick pay exclusion under the 1939 Internal Revenue Code. This decision makes it necessary for the Internal Revenue Service to reconsider thousands of claims for sick pay exclusion for tax years of 1953 and earlier under the Epmeier decision for tax years of 1953 and earlier that were originally disallowed.

The Internal Revenue Service officials estimated that the claims would average between $40 and

Guar Planting Deadline July 15

The bountiful drought-breaking rains have resulted in unfavorable conditions for the timely planting of spring and early summer crops and many farmers are running far behind schedule compared to the normal plan of operations.

The wide and extensive range of planting season for guar will be of particular interest to farmers in $50 each, according to some $400,000 to $500,000 total.

Mr. Pearce emphasized that taxpayers who have not filed a claim in the past are not eligible to file a claim now. He advised the taxpayers who have filed Epmeier claims in the past to write to the Sick Pay Exclusion Section, Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas, giving full details concerning their claim and request that their claim be reconsidered.

Texas where, for many crops, planting deadlines are advancing rapidly and, in instances, have already passed. Guar, a soil-conditioning summer legume, can be planted through June and the forepart of July as a combination soil-improving and cash crop offering substantial returns to the grower.

Guar is strictly a hot weather crop and thrives when moisture is available for growth. The 1957 summer season promises excellent performance for guar and appropriate assurance of crop production, even on lands following winter crops of small grain.

Seed is in plentiful supply from wholesale seed houses and available through retail seed dealers. Plant guar like milo or hegari, but at only 5 to 6 pounds per acre, and cultivate to keep fields clean. It harvests readily with standard combines.
