Memorials Planned For Negro Girls

By HOYT HARWELL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — They hold the funeral today for three victims of a church bomber—and already memorial services for the four Negro girls killed by the explosion are being organized over the country.

The funeral for one of the girls, Carole Rosamond Robertson, 14, was held Tuesday with hundreds of persons some white, paying silent tribute before she was buried in the red clay beneath cedar trees.

National Negro leaders, including Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, were en route to join in tribute to Denise McNair, 11, and Addie Mae Collins and Cynthia Wesley, both 14.

In Congress, a resolution asked President Kennedy to set aside next Sunday — the 101st anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation announcement—as a day of mourning for the four girls.

The Congress of Racial Equality in New York asked 100 of its chapters to observe mourning Sunday, and the 10 chairmen of last month's march on Washington asked all Americans to do the same.

Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, was to be joined at the afternoon funeral by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Bayard Rustin, deputy director of the Washington march, Fred L. Shuttlesworth, president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, and others prominent in the integration fight.

In Washington, assistant Senate majority leader Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and other senators asked the President to proclaim Sunday "a day of national observance in memory of these children and a day of rededication in this nation to the principles of law, equality and tolerance."

Humphrey said Southern leaders—what he called "the Southern establishment"—have a calculated policy of enforcing inequality and segregation on Negroes to further their own economic interest.

The Alabama congressional delegation said in a statement that the church bombing was "a heartless criminal atrocity" and "a blot on the name of our fair state."

The four girls were killed Sunday morning when a dynamite blast rocked the Sixteenth Street Baptist church during Sunday School. Twenty-three other persons were injured. Later in the day two Negro boys were shot to death as racial feeling here increased sharply.

There was no hint of revenge at Carole's funeral, however.

"The greatest tribute you can pay to Carole is to be calm, be lovely, be kind, be innocent," one minister told the congregation.

"For we know that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord," said another, the pastor of the bombed church. The Rev. John H. Cross cautioned against retaliation and said, "her death was not in vain."

Man Dies At Lake Thomas

Funeral services are pending at Rix Funeral Home in Lubbock for Mr. W. L. Joosten, 60, of Lubbock.

Mr. Joosten, who in addition to his home in Lubbock had a house trailer parked at Boyd's Lodge on Lake Thomas, was the victim of an apparent heart attack at 11:45 p.m. Tuesday.

He was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bolger Ambulance Service where he was pronounced dead on arrival. It was believed Mr. Joosten had suffered previous heart attacks. Mrs. Joosten was with him at the time of his death.

Mr. Joosten's body was transferred from Bolger Funeral Home to Rix Funeral Home for completion of funeral arrangements.

3 In Family Have Birthdays Together

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — "We'll have one cake, but probably three times as many candles," said William R. Elms after his wife, Virginia, gave birth to a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, weighing 6 pounds, 7 ounces.

All three share the same birthday—Sept. 17.

Mother and daughter are doing fine at Akron General Hospital after the blessed event Tuesday. Elms, 32, is a mechanical engineer. His wife is 30.

The couple's son, John, is an outsider in the family, at least as far as birthdays go. He'll be 5 on Oct. 18.

Geologist Missing

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A search is on for a state Water Commission geologist John Staves of Austin, missing since Friday.

Commission officials called Staves a "steady worker" and said they were sure he was "not missing of his own will."

Staves, 32 and father of two, left Austin Friday to check water wells in Laredo and Webb County. He planned to return Sunday.

His commission truck was found early Saturday in San Antonio with his clothes locked inside and his spectacles slightly bent under the truck.

SEEK BLOOD FOR VICTIM OF BURNS

Snyder Jaycees are seeking blood donors in behalf of Mrs. D. R. Hearn, who suffered critical burns in a mishap Sept. 3.

Mrs. Hearn has been receiving treatment in John Sealy Hospital in Galveston for nearly two weeks.

Gene Williams, president of Snyder Jaycees, said that Jaycees are heading up an appeal for blood donations which would be made when the mobile blood bank comes here Sept. 25.

Those who wish to participate may contact Williams at HI 3-9888, or Mrs. Roy Williamson at HI 3-7570.

spite its ideological dispute with Peking.

The Russians made clear, however, they will support the demand for seating Red China, even though it came from Albania, Peking's ally in the party dispute.

Outcome of the China debate is expected to follow last year's pattern when the assembly rejected a Soviet proposal to oust Formosa and seat Peking. The vote was 56 to 42 with 12 abstentions.

The opening meeting, usually a routine ceremony devoted to the election of an assembly president and other officers, was jolted when 11 young demonstrators burst into the hall, shouting, running down the aisles and scattering anti-Castro pamphlets. Some got to the front of the speaker's platform before they were collared and ushered out of the chamber.

The interruption came as the 111-nation assembly was electing officers for the Trusteeship Committee.

A jarring note also was sounded when Indonesian Ambassador Lambertus N. Palar voiced reservation to the seating of the delegation representing the new nation of Malaysia. The federation, which takes the seat of Malaya, was born Sunday and promptly severed relations with Indonesia and the Philippines. Both nations opposed formation of the federation.

BLAMES WALLACE FOR BOMB DEATHS—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. tells a mass meeting in Birmingham, Ala., that "words and actions" of Alabama Gov. George Wallace were to blame for the deaths of four Negro girls in a church bombing. The meeting of about 1,200 persons voted to stage a march on the state capitol in Montgomery to protest racial violence. (AP Wirephoto)

Krush Upbraids Farmers For Short Crop Harvest

MOSCOW (AP) — Angry over another poor harvest, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has berated farmers for inefficiency and assailed bureaucrats for exporting fertilizer because our economists haven't learned yet to calculate realistically what this costs," he told a farm meeting in Volgograd—formerly Stalingrad.

"If they calculated, then they would see that it would be better to put a ton of these fertilizers in the earth. It would be more economical to export the grain received than mineral fertilizers. And only after we have fully satisfied our domestic needs for mineral fertilizers can we then export them."

Khrushchev spoke Monday, the day Canada signed a $500-million deal to sell 218 million bushels of wheat to the Soviet Union. The Soviet press and radio have not told the Russian people about the wheat deal, made necessary by the failures of Soviet agriculture.

Fertilizer always has been short because much of the Soviet economy is devoted to heavy industry. But in his speech, published Tuesday in the Soviet press, Khrushchev said farmers often neglected to use the fertilizer they have.

Khrushchev said fields in Yugoslavia, where he recently visited, produce higher grain yields than Soviet fields because of the use of fertilizer.

In the Soviet Union, Khrushchev said, some farm officials regard their fertilizer allotments as a burden.

"The matter has reached the point where directors of some collective and state farms must be persistently reminded to take fertilizer they have been allotted out of the storehouse and not let it lay for months," he said.

It was Khrushchev who advocated plowing up the vast virgin lands to increase food production, but he indicated he was having second thoughts about this. Drought and inefficiency have dogged the virgin land program.

"We have spacious fields and we took the way of expanding cultivated areas," he said. "Now, evidently, we have to concentrate our efforts on the question of raising productivity — consequently, on the production of mineral fertilizers."

Khrushchev said he hoped to expand mineral fertilizer production to about 100 million tons by 1970. This, he said, compared with an estimated production of 20 million tons in the Soviet Union this year and 35 million tons in the United States last year.

Khrushchev clearly was in a sour mood when he addressed the farmers. When one asked for additional irrigation pipes, he snapped: "I didn't come to you from the supply section. Pipe is not the question we ought to be occupying ourselves with now."

Man Found Guilty In County Court

E. E. Pinkerton of Snyder was found guilty in a non-jury trial Tuesday in county court on a charge of theft.

Pinkerton had pleaded not guilty on Dec. 29, 1962 to the charge which involved theft of an oil field tool.

After being found guilty he was fined $25 plus costs of $26.35 and sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Rites Pending For Snyderite's Mother

Funeral services are pending at Wallace Funeral Home in Tulia for Mrs. W. K. Hinkle, the mother of Mrs. Jay Rogers of Snyder.

Mrs. Hinkle died in her sleep at her home in Tulia early this morning.

In addition to Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Hinkle is survived by her husband; one son and one other daughter.

British Embassy Looted, Burned

By TONY ESCODA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian demonstrators protesting creation of anti-Communist Malaysia looted and set fire to the British Embassy and attacked homes of embassy personnel today. The three-story embassy was left a burned out shell.

Indonesian troops were reported moving tonight to quell the rioting, the most savage in a three-day outburst of mob violence directed against the new federation, created Monday with Britain's backing from four former British colonies.

U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones said he received official word that the Jakarta garrison had been instructed by the government to take over responsibility for quelling the outbreak. Jones said he had heard that the troops were ordered to points throughout the city.

The British flag was ripped from its staff, torn and burned.

Flames broke out of a third floor balcony window in the modern, three-story chancery building and spread throughout the top floor before they subsided.

Rioters from a mob estimated at 10,000 methodically began sacking the building, tossing out papers and furniture.

Five cars were set afire—three inside the embassy compound and two outside—and the odor of burning rubber filled the air.

In London, Foreign Secretary Lord Home summoned Indonesian Ambassador Burhanudin Mohamad Diah and demanded that the Indonesian government immediately stop "such uncivilized behavior."

In Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaysia, the government announced it was putting the country in "a state of preparedness" because of hostility from Indonesia and the Philippines.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio, pausing in Manila on a flight from Jakarta to the United Nations in New York, told newsmen "things look very difficult."

British sources said Ambassador Andrew Gilchrist and his staff were safe and unharmed. At one time about 20 armed troopers with bared bayonets concentrated on collecting a dozen of the British Embassy personnel and rushed them to safety in one corner of the compound as the mob swept by.

The Federation of Malaysia is a union of four former British colonies — Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak, and North Borneo.

President Sukarno of Indonesia, who is believed to have designs on Malaysia's Borneo states, has denounced the new nation as a British plot to prolong colonialism and encircle Indonesia.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I met a man at work and liked him right away. I knew that he was married, but we saw each other anyway because he said his wife didn't care if he went around with other women. I guess it must be true because he never has to rush home, and he can get away to see me as much as he wants to. I am divorced. I don't want any trouble, Abby, so I told him I wasn't going to go on seeing him unless he brought me a note from his wife saying she didn't care. If she will do this, I'll go on seeing him—otherwise, I won't. He says he'll put her on the phone, but he won't ask her to sign anything. What do you think, Abby? I am 44 years old and I don't want a shot in the head.

CAREFUL

DEAR CAREFUL: Note or no note, you're in the wrong game, with the wrong guy, at the wrong time. You've admitted it — now act on your confession.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I wanted to will our bodies to a medical college. When we wrote telling them about it, they wrote back and told us we would have to pay the shipping charges. We wrote back asking them how much it would cost. They wrote and said they didnt know, but when the time came they'd take it out of our estates. Wouldn't you think if they wanted our bodies they would be glad to pay the shipping charges? Or at least tell us how much it will cost?

MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.: More information is needed here. Send me your full name and address (it will be confidential) and the name of the medical college to which you wrote.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have been invited to a number of weddings this summer and my problem is I never know what to say when I go through the receiving line. I have a friend who always says something funny when he shakes hands with the parents of the bride, like "Well, you aren't LOSING a daughter, you're GAINING a bathroom!" Is this appropriate or shouldn't something a little more serious be said?

STUMPED FOR WORDS

DEAR STUMPED: The parents of the bride and groom, and the groom, should be congratulated—never the bride. She is wished a lifetime of happiness, and the jokes are saved for later.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO MAX'S WIFE: You are mountain-climbing over molehills. Be grateful that you still have a husband who always leaves his shoes in the living room.

* * *

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Panel Set To Begin Crime Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced today the Senate Investigations subcommittee will begin Tuesday its massive new probe of "syndicated crime" and the narcotics traffic. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy will be the leadoff witness.

McClellan still kept under wraps the date on which another star witness, the talkative mobster Joseph Valachi, is to take the witness stand to describe inner workings of a secret criminal organization known to its members as Cosa Nostra (Our Thing).

McClellan said the plans call for an original three weeks of hearings. They will deal with crime in New York, Boston, Chicago, Detroit and other areas which he did not specify. He said that the testimony would determine whether later hearings should be held.

Valachi, a New York gangster now under life sentence for murder, has been described as anxious to testify and publicly put the finger on his former crime bosses in revenge, he says, because they have ordered him slain.

Police Investigate Two Mishaps

Snyder city police investigated a mishap at 1:15 a.m. today at Twenty-fourth Street and Avenue I.

A 1957 Ford driven by Douglas M. Highfield sustained about $200 damage when it ran through a fence and into a yard there.

Traffic charges were filed against the driver and intoxication charges were filed against a passenger in the auto.

The department also investigated a mishap this morning at 9:20 at Twenty-third Street and Avenue S.

Involved were a 1963 Chevrolet driven by Billy Earl Grimmett and a 1962 Chevrolet driven by Bill Jack Murray. Damage to the Grimmett car was estimated at $175 and to the Murray car at $300.

There were no injuries in either mishap.

GUEST LUNCHEON—The Twentieth Century Club started their new club year with a guest luncheon Tuesday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. Twenty-three members and guests heard a most interesting program by Mrs. B. J. Bartels. The theme of the event was "Bon Voyage" with the table decorations carrying out various methods of transportation and a suitcase centerpiece. Mrs. Mattie Wilson was hostess.

Art Guild Hears Talk On Safety

The Art Guild Club met Tuesday evening at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. M. E. Stanfield as hostess.

Mrs. Ivan Gatlin, program chairman, gave a short talk on "Safety On The Highway". She then introduced Mr. Erwin C. Wiseman, wire chief with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., who showed a film on safe driving. He told the Club to "always drive as your life depends on it". Another statement was "We know better, why don't we do better?"

Mrs. Dona McPherson presided over the business meeting. Mrs. W. G. Herring was welcomed as a new member.

A delicious salad plate was served to two guests, Mr. Wiseman and Mrs. Wolf and 14 members.

Fall Social Held By ABWA

The American Business Women's Association, Scurry Charter Chapter, held their annual Fall Enlistment Party Friday September 13th at the home of Mrs. Flora Hughes 2908 Thirty-fifth Street. The enlistment party was in the form of a "Garden Party."

Hurricane lamps guided the guests and members to the beautiful back yard which was lighted with numerous lamps. Folding tables were set up in the yard to accomodate the members and guests. Each table was covered with a white cloth and the center piece was a hurricane lamp with small yellow flowers encircling it, carrying out the chapter colors of black and gold.

Guests and members registered at the entrance of the yard where a small hurricane lamp cut from construction paper bearing the persons name was pinned on each. The register book was in the shape of the hurricane lamp also. The invitations mailed out to guests carried out the same design as the register book, name tags and yard decorations.

Mrs. Lois Leech served as chairman of the party and her committee members were Flora Hughes, Dawnell Wells, Clara Carey, Clara Mae Noah, Hazel Berry, Lucille Bynum and Estelle Swan.

A short program enlightening the guests on the activities of ABWA was presented. Miss Dawnell Wells gave a talk on "Why I Joined ABWA; Mrs. Clara Carey gave a talk on the local chapter activities and Mrs. Lucy Dennis, Chapter President and "Woman of the Year," gave a talk on general activities of ABWA nationally and locally.

Following the program delicious refreshments of home made ice cream and cake were served to members and the following guests:

Mrs. Barbara Mott, Mrs. Maggie Best, Mrs. Carolyn Furnace, Miss Louise Taylor, Mrs. Juanita Farquhar, Mrs. Paula Gilbert, Mrs. Ann LaRoux, Mrs. Jan Roberts, Mrs. Ann Kimbrough, Mrs. John Erwin, Mrs. Margie Callaway, Mrs. Dan Callaway, Mrs. Ophelia Trevey, Mrs. Sandra Browning, Mrs. Kay Pope, Miss Elaine Haskell, Mrs. Coy Rhodes, Mrs. Louise London, Mrs. Maxine Wright, Mrs. Katherine Shelburne, Mrs. Vera McClanahan, Mrs. Judy Schmoken, Mrs. Ben Thorpe and Mrs. Agnes Brown.

Guests who were interested in becoming a member of the local chapter were counseled with by the chapter's membership committee chairman, Clara Mae Noah. ABWA material, scrap book and enlistment forms were placed on a table on the lovely patio. The beauty of the home and the graciounsess of the hostesses added much to the affair.

The local chapter was organized in Sept. 1960. Mrs. Pat Hinshaw was the first president, Miss Ethel Roberts served as president in 1961, Mrs. Elizabeth Herring 1962, and the current president is Mrs. Lucy Dennis.

Can Your Children Wash Their Hands?

Doctors and public health authorities continue to emphasize the importance of hand-washing — especially after toilet use. A real health risk is involved if children are not able to wash their hands properly before meals. Therefore soap, warm water, and clean toweling are vital equipment in every school.

To assure yourself that your children's school is safe from a health standpoint, start the new term by exerting your privilege—and duty — to make a personal inspection of washrooms. Then speak up if wash-up facilities need to be improved.

Another Glaring Example Of Male's State Of Inequality

BY INEZ ROBB

One of my annoying habits — annoying to me, at least — is that of destroying envelopes as I open the day's gift of mail. I stack all the letters and then read them in a gulp.

As a result, I have lost the clue to the city of origin of a fascinating letter that brings up the old problem of equal rights for men, a rights issue to which I have dedicated my time and typewriter for years.

My correspondent, a gentleman who signs his name, encloses a piquant — even poignant — item from a newspaper called The Record. But whether it is The Record of Hackensack, N. J., The Record of Traverse City, Mich., The Record of Statesville, N. C., or The Record of Wooster, Ohio, I cannot tell because it would only be the postmark on that missing envelope.

At all odds, the item reads:

"During the course of a day, The Record staff is called upon to answer all sorts of questions — which we are glad to do. Sometimes we can give a correct answer and on occasions we cannot.

"Some person called on Friday and asked this question: 'If they arrest a man for dressing like a woman, as was the case on Thursday morning, then, why don't they arrest women who go about the streets dressed like men?' The caller was referring to women who wear men's pants.

"Well, to be honest about it, we could not give a sensible answer."

My correspondent, who reads the Record of either Wooster, Statesville, Traverse City or Hackensack, asks, "Do you know the answer?"

Not to beat around the bush about this matter and to be honest about it, I can't give a sensible answer, either.

This is merely another glaring example of man's inequality before the law and the general need of equal-rights legislation in his behalf.

Who will deny that it is flagrant discrimination to arrest a man for wearing women's clothing when women in men's clothing are one of the most common (and often painful) sights across the land. And the bigger the gal, the bigger the discrimination. There's an awful lot of discrimination, any way you look at it, in a woman who is a perfect size 42 — that is 42-42-42 — who crowds herself into pants before she goes to do the marketing.

There is a woman who doesn't need a credit card half so much as a parado permit. It is hard to believe that Milton Berle, even in one of his mother's old hats, provides such a spectacle as this woman who is straining the seam at the beam.

But let a man, even as innocent as Miltio, parade down the street in mom's hat, and he is apt to be arrested if he can't prove that it is all part of a fraternity initiation. Or an election bet.

On the other hand, a woman in a tight pair of pants who looks like a brace of overstuffed knockwurst is free to roam any street or highway in the nation. And if a policeman so much as lays a finger on her, she can yell, "Cossack! Hün! Beast!" and have him thrown off the force as a foe of American womanhood, the Girl Scouts and momism.

These are the days in which a woman who wears a dress in the supermarket is strongly suspect of being subversive. If she doesn't wear slacks or shorts, topped by her huband's shirt, the neighbors are prone to suspect she is a candidate for the psychiatric couch.

But if a man borrows his wife's habiliments, the neighbors don't bother to call the group therapist. They dial the police and report another fiend at large.

Probably the only solution is for men to get together and fight for an equal-rights plank in both the G. O. P. and the Democratic platforms in 1964.

Somewhere, in this situation, there ought to be a jigger of sauce for the gander.

In the meantime, in the face of such flagrant discrimination between the sexes, I retreat behind the classic statement of The Record:

"Well, to be honest about it, we could not give a sensible answer."

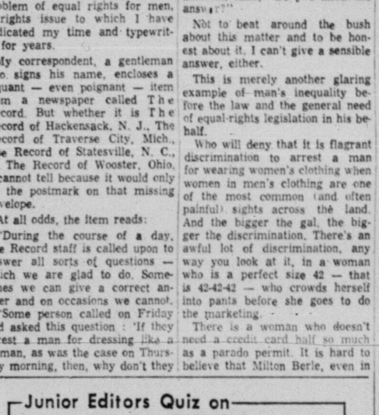
Junior Editors Quiz on THE AZTECS



QUESTION: How could a few Spaniards have conquered the whole Aztec nation?

• • •

ANSWER: The Aztecs had the same ancestors as the American Indians. Their civilization arose after about 3,000 years of development by other tribes such as the Toltecs. The Aztecs built a great city, Tenochtitlan, on the site where Mexico City now stands. They were wonderful artists and craftsmen, but their main interest was in religion and war. They worshipped many gods, to whom they made continual sacrifices, including thousands of human beings, mostly prisoners taken in battle. From 20,000 to 50,000 victims were sometimes sacrificed yearly.

When the Spanish leader Hernando Cortez arrived in the Aztec capital in 1519, the Aztec king, Montezuma, welcomed him, possibly mistaking him for a god. But other Aztecs rebelled and attacked. Outnumbered, the Spaniards withdrew from the city. But the Aztecs were hated by other Indian tribes because of their cruelty, and Cortez had little trouble getting help. He built up a great army and captured Tenochtitlan in 1521, ending the Aztec nation.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: There is an interesting legend as to why the Aztecs built the capital city on that particular spot. See if you can find it in an article telling about the history of the Aztecs or of Mexico City.

These Letters Are Rarely Received

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Fragments from letters people would like to get — but rarely do:

"For some reason, dad, ever since I married the dean's daughter all my professors are giving me better grades, and it now looks like I'll make Phi Beta Kappa for sure. The dean also managed to wangle me a $3,000 scholarship, so you can discontinue sending me my allowance, as I really don't need it any more."

"It's a mystery to me why my secretary sent you a bill for $513 for your new dental plate. Actually, she got the figures backward. The amount should be $315, but I feel so embarrassed over the error, I'm going to knock off another $100 and make it a flat $215. But there's no rush. Send me your check whenever it's convenient."

"You don't know me, but I'm Rudolf Bing, and I manage the Metropolitan Opera. While out for a stroll the other evening I passed beneath your apartment, and couldn't help overhearing the bawling out your wife was giving you. We haven't had a dramatic soprano voice like hers in our company for years. If your wife would care to audition for us, I'm sure we could reach contract terms agreeable to all concerned."

"The years have done poorly by me since our high school mates picked you as class dunce and voted me the boy most likely to succeed. But the post as custodian at City Hall is going to open up soon, and I know I can get it with a little pull. The next time you play golf with the mayor would you mind putting in a good word for me — for old times' sake?"

"Frankly, Mr. Schmerz, we feel that if your small son hadn't made faces at Jojo and stuck his fingers through the bars, he wouldn't have been bitten. Jojo is one of the most sensitive baboons we've ever had in our pet shop. However, since we are about to sign Jojo to a starring role in a new television show, we are willing to settle your lawsuit out of court for a cash lump sum of $2,500, and forget the whole matter."

"Although you say you merely raised your hand to stifle a yawn, our auctioneer took it as a signal you were bidding $35,000 for Von Rumpsprungle's famous landscape, "Cows in the Watercress," and closed the sale. This morning a noted collector came to us and offered $50,000 for the painting. Would you care to part for it for this amount, minus our usual commission, of course?"

"While cruising in the waters off Hyannis Port recently, JFK couldn't help but admire the skilled way in which you handled the small sloop you'd rented for the day. He has been having some trouble with his spinnaker lately, and wonders if you could give him a few sailing lessons at your convenience. Naturally, we'd like to keep this private. 'You know how Republicans like to gossip."

Chinese Build Wall

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A Berlin-type wall is being built by the Chinese Communists along part of China's border with the Portuguese colony of Macao, the official Chinese National Central News Agency reported today.

The agency quoted unidentified persons who arrived in Macao from the south China province of Kwangtung as saying several thousand persons are working on the wall, apparently designed to stop Chinese from fleeing to Macao.

'Bama, Texas Due To Win

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—New stars, new coaches, new rules and new rivalries appear ahead in the new college football season. But among them is the same old trouble of picking the winners. Anyway, here are the victors in this weekend's major games:

Alabama over Georgia: No ifs, ands, or Butts. This likely to be the most bitterly contested game of the Southeast Conference season with Alabama's quarterback Joe Namath the hero. The 1962 version of this game got into the courts later because of a reported telephone conversation.

Washington over Air Force: If you want to see if the Coast Conference's possible champion can stop the passing of quarterback Terry Isaacson, you can find out by watching your television screen.

Texas over Tulane: They claim this is a new look Tulane team but chances are the results will be the same with Texas a relatively easy winner Friday night.

Northwestern over Missouri: The Wildcats are the pre-season choices in the Big Ten, Missouri is a possible threat in the Big Eight. A good test for Jack Cvercko's surgically corrected knee.

Navy over West Virginia: The Middie backs are exceptional but there is a definite question about the Navy line. Could be close.

Oregon over Penn State: The edge goes to the host club because Mel Renfro will be playing before the home folks.

Oklahoma over Clemson: The 1963 Sooners are earmarked for the same greatness as the Oklahoma teams of a decade ago.

Pittsburgh over UCLA: The Panthers have double protection at quarterback in Fred Mazurek and Ken Lucas. It is a Friday night struggle.

Elsewhere:

Duke over South Carolina, Syracuse over Boston College, Southern California over Colorado, Louisiana State over Texas A&M, Arkansas over Oklahoma State, Miami over Florida State.

East: Army over Boston University, Villanova over West Chester State.

South: William & Mary over The Citadel, Wake Forest over East Carolina, Kentucky over Virginia Tech, Maryland over North Carolina State, Mississippi over Memphis State, North Carolina over Virginia, Tennessee over Richmond, Vanderbilt over Furman, Virginia Military over George Washington.

Midwest: Bowling Green over Detroit, Cincinnati over Drake, Brigham Young over Kansas State, Dayton over Toledo, Nebraska over South Dakota State, Ohio University over Buffalo, Tulsa over Montana State, Wisconsin over Western Michigan.

Southwest: Auburn over Houston, Texas Christian over Kansas, North Texas State over Texas Western, Washington State over Texas Tech, West Texas over Arlington State.

Far West: Arizona State over Wichita, Arizona over Utah State, California over Iowa State, Fresno State over Idaho, Wyoming over Montana, Pacific over Colorado State University, Stanford over San Jose, Utah over Oregon State.

New Tennis King Gathers Friends

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—After Rafael Osuna had crushed skyscraper Frank Froehling III in straight sets for the tennis championship of the United States, he was asked how he would have played if he had faced himself.

"Put yourself in Froehling's shoes," a reporter, straining for an angle, said. "What would you have done?"

Osuna broke into a toothy grin. "I'd say, 'I quit. That Osuna—he much too tough. I not want to play him.' "

Tremendous charm, a touch of rakishness and an impish sense of humor are trademarks of the new National tennis king — a son of Mexico, adopted by the United States. He attends the University of Southern California.

"Now that I win, I give a big champagne party at my hotel," the Mexican, who still speaks Jose English, said to the more than a score of newsmen clustered around him. "All of you are my guests."

"How can you spring for this big a crowd?" someone asked him.

"My father—he's very rich," Rafael replied. His dad is a prominent Mexico City oil executive.

Osuna, never cocky nor brash but brimming with confidence, predicted midway of the tournament that he would win it.

"We brown-skin Latins are taking over this game," he said.

He made it sound like a jest. He wasn't joking. Maria Bueno of Brazil won the women's title and Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador captured the Forest Hills Plate, the consolation tournament, for a Latin sweep.

Pancho Gonzales, the old pro, dubbed Osuna the "Blur," because of his lightning speed at getting to the net. His fellow tennis tourists call him the "Cat Man." Bob Kelleher, the U.S. Davis Cup captain described the Mexican as "the fastest hands in the West."

The lithe, bronze-skinned Mexican became a favorite with the millions of television fans who watched the final matches on their parlor screens.

Although the natural tendency was to try to root an American in and thus end the eight-year drought of home-bred champions, it was impossible not to lift an occasional cheer for the crafty, animal-like volleying wizard from below the border.

Osuna completely captivated Australia a year ago when he and the Mexican Davis Cup team traveled to Brisbane to challenge for the Davis Cup.

"This Osuna," said one of his keenest rivals, "he is a tough guy on the court but, off it, a perfect gentleman."

LARRY LEE

Know The Tigers

The biggest man on the Tiger team is Larry Lee, who weighs in at the 246 pound mark. Larry is a senior, and his number 75 is usually seen in the starting lineup at tackle. He is a mmber of the Letterman's Club in Snyder High.

Larry, a lifelong resident of Snyder, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee of 2411 Twenty-ninth Street. He hopes to attend Texas Tech after his graduation from high school this year.

Larry celebrated his 18th birthday Monday.

All Local Junior Highs Due Action

Action will be unaminous in the junior high football ranks tomorrow night.

All six Snyder teams will go into battle, three of them for the first time this season. And they will look to teams in three cities for competition.

On the home gridiron, the Lamar 7th grade charges of Coaches Eddie Logan and Paul Hayes will get a triple-header underway when they face Big Spring Goliad's 7th graders at 5 p.m. Lamar 8th will tangle with Big Spring Runnels 8th at 6:30 p.m. and Travis 9th will entertain Colorado City 9th at 8 p.m. to round out this week's home card.

Meanwhile Travis 7th, coached by Larry Roberts and Bill McLaughlin, will play Sweetwater 7th in Sweetwater at 5 p.m., Travis 8th, coached by Charlie Sparks, will meet Sweetwater 8th in Sweetwater at 6:30 p.m. and Travis 9th will travel to Big Spring to meet Runnels 9th at 7:30 p.m.

Lamar 8th, coached by Bob O'Day and Ned Underwood, will be seeking their second victory of the season, having downed Big Spring Goliad, 20-6, last week. Also seeking No. 2 will be Travis 9th, coached by Wayne Tyrone and Speedy Moffett. Travis 9th nipped Lamesa 9th, 14-12, here last week.

Lamar 9th, will be after its first victory. The charges of Coaches Ace Amos and Dub Holt battled Goliad to a 0-0 tie last week.

Writers Say Porkers To Win Title

By The Associated Press

The men who saw Southwest Conference football teams in action have selected Arkansas to win the championship, replacing Texas in the throne-room.

Fifteen writers who have just completed a tour of the eight training camps gave Arkansas the top spot by three votes.

Eight selected Arkansas and one picked Arkansas and Texas to tie. Five selected Texas to win.

Texas Christian was third with one first place vote.

The only writer picking anybody besides Texas or Arkansas was Roy Edwards of the Dallas News, who chose Texas Christian.

Andy Morris of the Arkansas Democrat, Jack Agness of the Houston Post, Joe McLaughlin of the Houston Chronicle, Bud Shrake of the Dallas News, Blackie Sherrod of the Dallas Times Herald, Burle Pettit of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Sam Payne of the Amarillo News-Globe and Charles Eskew of the Austin Statesman picked Arkansas to win.

Orville Henry of the Arkansas Gazette, Bill Van Fleet and Jim Trinkle of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Joe Heiling of the Austin American and Jim Browder of the Fort Worth Press went for Texas.

Dave Campbell of the Waco News-Tribune picked Texas and Arkansas to tie.

This is the order of finish predicted: 1. Arkansas, 2. Texas, 3. Texas Christian, 4. Rice, 5. Texas A&M, 6. Baylor 7. Southern Methodist 8. Texas Tech.

Tony Trabert To Retire

LONDON (AP)—Tony Trabert, the new head man of the pro tennis traveling show, announced his retirement today, both as a player and a front office man.

Trabert, who lost 6-2, 6-3 to Ken Rosewall in the Wembley pro tournament Tuesday night, said he will travel with the tour through South Africa next month and then quit.

The Cincinnati player holds the title of executive manager of the Professional Tennis Players Association. He took over the pros' business affairs from Jack Kramer.

Who will succeed him is not known.

Trabert said he will take an appointment with a Los Angeles manufacturing firm in November.

He turned pro after the 1955 season, when he won Wimbledon, Forest Hills and the French titles.

Liston Cuts His British Tour Short

LEICHESTER, England (AP) — Sonny Liston, world heavyweight champion, cut short his British exhibition tour Tuesday night and announced he was heading home to be with a sick daughter.

He startled his entourage in the small hours by telling them he was packing. Details of the daughter's illness were not known here.

Liston arrived in Britain August 31 for a series of exhibitions. His tour had several days to go with shows scheduled for Birmingham and Blackpool.

University of Houston football has come a long way since the Cougars lost their first intercollegiate football game to Southwest Louisiana Institute n 1946. Last season, they defeated Baylor, Texas A & M and Miami of Ohio in the Tangerine Bowl.

Andrews Tougher Than Expected

"We were lucky to get out with an 8-7 score," Coach Horrace Bostick told members of the Quarterback Club last night at their regular weekly session.

Bostick was referring to the Tigers' season opener last Friday night in Andrews when the Mustangs surged from an 0-7 deficit to pull the game out by a two-point conversion.

Bostick said the Tigers, who had no scouting report, of course, were somewhat surprised over the Mustang defense.

"Their linebackers ate us up," the Tiger coach declared. "We tried to adjust at the half, but didn't have much luck."

Bostick said he was disappointed over the offensive blocking of his charges, but felt that the situation would improve.

"I will say one thing," the Tiger mentor went on. "This is the toughest Andrews team, physically, that Snyder has ever played. They just ran over us, especially in that fourth quarter. It was just plain power football."

Bill Hartsfield and Roy Carter, B team coaches, gave a scouting report on Levelland, which comes into Snyder for the Tigers' home opener this Friday night.

In a 14-12 loss to Seminole last Friday night, the scouts reported that the Lobos ran a versatile offensive attack from a formation featuring an end split wide and a slot back. Their defense was somewhat similar to that Andrews used against the Tigers last Friday night.

In the "team" contest for attendance of fathers at the Quarterback Club session, the Tiger A team was announced as the winner, and Lamar 7th was second.

Roy Meador, secretary of the club, announced that the film on Southwest Conference Highlights of 1962 will be shown at the Quarterback Club meeting of Oct. 22. This is the session following the open date on the Tiger schedule.

Showing of the Snyder-Andrews game film concluded last night's session.

Bullets Tie Up Playoff

By The Associated Press

The San Antonio Bullets tied up the Texas League best-of-five-games playoff at 1-1 Tuesday night when they scored a 5-0 victory over the Tulsa Oilers.

Joe Hoerner, picked as the league's top lefthanded pitcher only last week, allowed only one runner to get as far as third base in scattering seven Tulsa hits. Tulsa's Jerry Wild, who was on the mound for seven innings, allowed only three Bullet hits.

A first inning homer by Mike White put the Bullets ahead and San Antonio scored again in the fifth on a double by Ed Olivares, a wild pitch by Wild, and a sacrifice fly by Charley Harrison.

The two teams move to Tulsa Wednesday night for the third game.

An Ohio State fullback has been the rushing leader in Big Ten football in four of the past five years. [illegible] twice and Dave Francis and Bob White once each.

BILL BLUM

Know The B Team

Bill Blum is a 15-year-old sophomore who will be seen a great deal at the quarterback post on the B Team this year. He is a native of Snyder and is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John Blum of 2900 Thirty-fifth Street.

Bill, who wears number 10, weighs 140 pounds. He played on Lamar's ninth grade team last year. He plans on attending Texas Tech and hopes to be a dentist.

What's Length Of 'A Few Seconds?'

NEW YORK (AP)—How many seconds are a few seconds?

The question may arise under a new code of golf rules adopted for use next year and announced Tuesday by the United States Golf Association.

Some of the changes should save some strokes, and one is designed to save time. It's a rule about how long a golfer may wait for a putt to drop that is hanging on the lip.

The current rule allows a "momentary delay" in hopes the ball will drop. The new rules allows a "few seconds."

The Royal and Ancient Golf Club, which runs the game in Britain and many other parts of the world, rejected a couple of the rule changes.

Thus, there will be differences in the rules between Britain and the United States next year for the first time. Previously the two nations had differed only on the size of the ball, which is larger here.

A joint American-British committee met last May in an effort to get complete agreement. They agreed on the rule on a ball on the lip of the cup, a milder penalty for carrying more than 14 clubs and simplified and clarified 21 of the 41 rules of golf.

However, the British rejected these changes, which go into effect in the U.S. on Jan. 1:

1. A ball striking an unattended flagstick from within 20 yards of the holes, will entail a two-stroke penalty, or loss of hole in match play.

2. An unplayable ball may be dropped within two club lengths with the penalty reduced from two strokes to one.

3. A provisional ball may be played only for a ball which may be lost or out of bounds, not one that may be in the water or unplayable.

Don Stuart, first baseman for the Boston Red Sox, is the only major leaguer who ever drove home 100 runs in a season in both leagues.

The New York Mets drew more than one million fans for the 1963 season with nine games left for the old Polo Grounds.

Dodger Lefty Makes Cards A Long Shot

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

With only 87 pitches, splendid southpaw Sandy Koufax has made the St. Louis Cardinals as much of a long-shot as General Custer.

Making their last stand in a vital three-game series with the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers, the Cardinals lost for the second night in a row Tuesday as Koufax spun a four-hit, 4-0 shutout and posted a record-setting 11th shutout.

The loss, only the third in the last 22 games for St. Louis, left the Cardinals three games back—four in the all-important loss column. Including the finale of the series tonight, the Cardinals have only eight games remaining to 10 for the Dodgers.

While leaving the Cardinals with only a long-shot chance of overtaking the Dodgers, Koufax also made the night a personal triumph by becoming the first lefthander in major league history to post 11 shutouts, and the most prolific shutout pitcher since 1916.

Koufax, who has a 24-5 record, broke the shutout mark for lefthanders set by Carl Hubbell, who pitched 10 for the 1933 New York Giants. Koufax' 11th was the most by any pitcher since Grover Cleveland Alexander pitched 16 for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1916.

Informed he had made only 87 pitches, Koufax appeared astonished.

"You don't say," he exclaimed. "Why I don't believe I've ever pitched a game when I made under 100 pitches."

Then, he honestly admitted: "It wasn't my best game, but it was my biggest."

While the Cardinals and Dodgers were playing the big one, San Francisco clubbed Milwaukee 11-3, Philadelphia downed the New York Mets 8-6, Cincinnati edged Houston 4-3 and Chicago and Chicago and Pittsburgh split. The Cubs took the opener of a twi-nighter 3-1, the Pirates the nightcap 4-3.

Cleveland edged the American League champion New York Yankees 3-2 in 10 innings, the Chicago White Sox defeated Boston 2-1, Minnesota downed Detroit 3-1 and Kansas City nipped Washington 4-3 in 10 innings. The Washington at Los Angeles twi-nighter was rained out.

The fireballing Koufax, the fleet Maury Wills and the towering Frank Howard all played key roles in the Dodgers' victory.

Koufax was the key man. He had a no-hitter until Stan Musial, the Cardinals' 42-year-old grandpa, lined a single to center leading off the seventh, and he allowed the Cardinals two hits only in the eighth inning.

At that point, Tim McCarver and Julian Javier were on with singles, but Koufax got Dick Groat, tied for the league batting lead, to line out to Willie Davis for the inning ending out.

Wills scored the only run Koufax needed when he led off the first with a single off Curt Simmons, 15-8, stole second, raced to third on a wild pitch and scampered home on a double by Jim Gilliam.

Howard provided additional working room with a homer in the eighth following a single by Tommy Davis and the Dodgers closed out the scoring in the ninth on an infield hit by Willie Davis, his steal of second and a double by Johnny Roseboro.

"Well," said a jubilant Leo Durocher in the Dodger dressing room, "it looks like we've cooled off the red-hot Cardinals.

Manager Walt Alston took a more reserved attitude.

"It looks good," said Alston, "better than it did yesterday. I hope I can say the same thing after tomorrow's game."

As for St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane, he sang the familiar refrain. "We're still in it."

The Giants ruined Warren Spahn "night" in Milwaukee, building a 4-0 lead and shelling the 42-year-old left-handed great out in three innings. Orlando Cepeda, Felipe Alou and Jose Pagan all homered for the Giants as they dealt the Braves their eighth straight loss.

Johnny Callison led the Phils over the Mets with two homers and two singles. Bob Skinner's homer in the eighth gave Cincinnati its close one over Houston.

Max Alvis brought in the 10th-inning clincher for the Indians on a throwing error by Yankee reliever Stan Williams. Alvis led off the inning with a single, was sacrificed to second and stole third before Williams' wild peg to first on Joe Azcue's grounder.

Earl Battey's two-run homer in the eighth powered the Twins over the Tigers. Harmon Killebrew accounted for the other Minnesota run with his 39th homer.

LSU Coach Frets Over New Rules

By BEN THOMAS

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Charlie McClendon, the soft-spoken Louisiana State University football coach, has been fretting about the new football substitution rules for months.

He's still not sure what to expect. But he'll have a much better idea Saturday night about the time the first quarter ends in the Tigers' opening game here against Texas A&M.

McClendon plans to utilize LSU's traditional three teams as much as possible. But the new substitution rules work against him.

The youngest LSU varsity team in years will be on display before a sellout 67,500.

McClendon is depending on 20 or more sophomores to fill the gaps left by the loss of 20 lettermen as he enters his second season as LSU head coach.

Likewise, Hank Foldberg will be launching his second year at the helm of the Aggies. But he has 23 lettermen back, including six starters.

"I think it will be a real fine football game," he said. "We feel like we will be a stronger team and will be able to give LSU a good game. LSU has a fine team and we have a great deal of respect for their team."

Foldberg closed the gates of the Aggie practice field this week to prepare for the game.

Garbage Men Dismissed

DALLAS (AP) — The City of Dallas dismissed 348 demonstrating garbage collectors for failing to show up for work Tuesday while union leaders announced they were starting a "welfare" fund for the men.

Garbage service in the city, meanwhile, was more than cut in half with one area—Northwest Dallas—going without any service at all.

Tuesday's action by City Manager Elgin Crull came as about 330 sanitation workers staged their second sit-in around city hall. On Monday about 250 "sat in"; however, they all returned to work after city council agreed to give them a hearing.

The men were told, however, that any further demonstrations would result in their losing their jobs. The warning went unheeded as more men appeared at city hall about 7 a.m. and stayed there until 3:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Crull announced that the sanitation department would immediately start hiring people "on the spot" to man the garbage trucks.

Only 89 of 196 trucks rolled Tuesday making the demonstration better than 50 per cent effective.

The Dallas News said that the unions supporting the garbage collectors were starting a welfare fund to be distributed to the demonstrators on a pro rata basis. Since it is illegal for city employes to strike, the money cannot be called a "strike fund."

Cuba's Guns Fired

H. H. Allen, unit manager of SACROC, pointed out that a repressuring program is ready to be started as soon as Railroad Commission approval is granted.

Medics Fail To Trace New Infant Killer

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is evidence that a mysterious epidemic killer and crippler of newborn infants struck at least two areas of the United States last year.

The latest report is from Vermont—but doctors, left with the job of caring for the stricken infants who survived, are still without clues as to the cause.

The Vermont episode may be another expression of the epidemic of the brutal birth defect that struck Atlanta, Ga., last fall — and may have hit elsewhere.

From a one-block areas in Montpelier, Vt., in just six weeks last summer, came three babies born with the rare defect. Six months later, from the same city block, came a fourth case.

All of the babies in this tragic cluster suffered from spinal bifida—a congenital separation in the spine which allows spinal cord nerve tissue to balloon out from the body.

It can leave a baby vulnerable to death through infection. Or it may leave a child paralyzed from the waist down and incontinent for life. Frequently, there are complications, sometimes brain damage.

The cluster of cases from Montpelier stirred a medical investigation.

For one doctor, it was a sad coincidence. He had delivered all of the four Montpelier babies. Normally, a doctor might go through a lifetime without ever delivering a child with this defect.

An investigating team under Dr. Jerold F. Lucey, University of Vermont pediatrician, surveyed birth and death certificates on babies, combed the records of the university's two hospitals—where 23 per cent of the state's births occur—and checked the only three neurosurgeons in Vermont, all of them in Burlington.

The investigators wrote to every one of the state's 432 doctors outside of Burlington, getting responses from 90 per cent of them.

Putting their data together from all these sources, the doctors found 21 cases in all—of which only 10 survived in 1962.

Although the normal rate for Vermont would predict 98 cases in 100,000 live births, in 1962 the rate was 232 cases per 100,000 live births.

Meanwhile U.S. Public Health Service researchers in Atlanta, Ga., were looking into an outbreak there.

They discovered 18 cases between August and October of 1962. Only two babies survived. The rate was six times normal for the Atlanta population.

They interviewed mothers of the stricken babies, looking for some common clue. Was there something in diet, drugs or infectious disease—anything that may have caused the defect?

In Vermont, similar interviews were conducted.

There were no clear-cut answers—no common agent was found. In both cases, the epidemic passed. So far 1963 has been normal. In Vermont's neighbors — New Hampshire and upper New York State—there was either no increase or a decline in the birth defect rate in 1962.

Heart Victims Can Live Normally

By LEE LINDER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—America's "Physician of the Year" says a heart attack is devastating but rarely crippling, and only permanently damaging if the patient fails to resume near normal work within 120 days.

"After four months the chances of a patient getting back to work at all definitely goes down," says Dr. David Gelfand, internationally famous cardiologist who heads heart departments at Philadelphia General Hospital and Kensington Hospital.

"Some people accept a heart attack as fate, as part of life, recover and go back to work," Gelfand says. "Others take it as a disabling illness and say let someone else support me. You can't ever forget that heart disease is an emotional ailment."

Gelfand, 54, father of two daughters (one married), a chain pipe smoker and an every-chance-I-get golfer, recently was named No. 1 physician by the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped the 11th to be so honored.

He'll get the award formally on Sept. 26 in San Francisco at the American Medical Association's annual congress on occupational health.

Gelfand believes the worst kind of treatment a heart patient can get—"there are always exceptions"—is too much bed rest, too much sitting down and doing nothing, just too much restriction.

The attack victim's doctor frequently is his worst enemy, says Gelfand, "prescribing three months in bed, six weeks walking about slowly upstairs only, and then six more weeks climbing the stairs just once a day."

Studies by Gelfand and his associates, he says, indicates that more activity—as early as possibly — and the fastest return to normal and to working is the best medicine. [illegible] he says.

Gelfand's team, in an eight-year period, examined 683 patients, and recommended that 92 per cent return to work full or part time.

"A heart attack is a tremendous blow to the ego of younger Americans," says Gelfand, "and they tend to tell friends their doctor is wrong. And then to prove their point they go out deliberately and kill themselves by failing to take proper precautions."

Nixon Votes Miscounted Says Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Tuesday blamed South Texas and Cook County, Ill., for the defeat of Richard Nixon in the presidential election of 1960.

Goldwater, apparently heavily favored by Texas Republicans for next year's GOP nomination, said in an interview that Nixon "would be president now had the votes been counted accurately in Cook County and South Texas last time." Chicago is in Cook County, Ill.

The Arizona senator when asked about Nixon's Republican presidential nomination chances in 1964, said, "I don't see how he can be erased."

Nixon said he would never seek public office again after he lost the 1962 California gubernatorial election. He moved from California to New York this year and joined a law firm.

Postmaster H. D. Moreland announced today that Rural Mail Carriers are distributing 1963 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes.

The Post Office Department assists U. S. D. A. in making this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1963.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmaster Moreland urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mailbox.

Rural mail carriers working on this project are: Mr. Warren Dodson, Route One; Mr. Hilton C. Lambert, Route Two; Mr. Joel R. Hamlett, Jr., Route Three; Doc Morton, Arah Route; Mrs. Lenoir, Fluvanna Route, and Mr. Jim Hassell, Clairemont Route.

Gamble Ending 3 Year Marriage To Porumbeanu

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — American heiress Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu is ending her marriage to the penniless Romanian ex-chauffeur she wed in defiance of her guardian and the courts. She charges him with misconduct.

Her Swiss lawyer, Eugen Curti, announced Tuesday Mrs. Porumbeanu, now 22 and the mother of two sons, is seeking a divorce from André Porumbeanu, 37, after three years of marriage.

The lawyer said Mrs. Porumbeanu, who inherited a $20-million Remington typewriter fortune, also has withdrawn powers of attorney her husband had held.

Her husband is in New York, where he is well known in cafe society circles. He declined comment.

The couple's whirlwind romance from Long Island beaches to Paris night clubs drew worldwide headlines and bitter opposition from Katherine Geddes Benedict, Gamble's grandmother, who called Porumbeanu a fortune hunter.

Gamble and her grandmother never were reconciled but Mrs. Benedict left Gamble the bulk of the family fortune at her death Oct. 29, 1961.

Several months earlier, when Gamble's first son was born, she had expressed hope that some day "Grammie will sincerely show concern for me and my family."

Porumbeanu's first wife, Madi, whom Porumbeanu divorced three weeks before his marriage to Gamble, said at the time Gamble "doesn't know what she is letting herself in for."

Porumbeanu and Gamble met in the summer of 1959 on Long Island. Porumbeanu was a society chauffeur then and later became a hair dresser.

Instead of finishing her freshman year at Briarcliff College, Gamble took a freighter to Belgium with Porumbeanu in January 1960. They turned up in Paris night clubs. Family lawyers took Gamble back to New York after two weeks. A New York court declared her a wayward minor.

In ensuing legal battles, Gamble tried unsuccessfully to obtain control of the family fortune and was made to promise she would not see Porumbeanu until he was no longer married. Porumbeanu promised he would not see Gamble until she was 21.

But the lovers defied the courts and applied for a marriage license in Dillon, S.C. They were turned down there but encountered no difficulty in North Carolina. They were wed April 6, 1960, before a justice of the peace in Hendersonville, N.C.

When the dark and handsome Porumbeanu returned to New York, he was given a 30-day sentence for breaking his promise not to see Gamble. The sentence was voided on appeal. Porumbeanu spent only four days in jail.

While Porumbeanu moved in high circles, he never seemed to have much money. When his ex-wife sued for alimony, Porumbeanu testified he couldn't even support Gamble.

The couple appeared to be happy. At the birth of her first son, Gheorghe Mihai, April 2, 1961, in New Jersey, Gamble said: "I have found one year of happiness. Having a child is indeed an overwhelming event, since for me it symbolizes the love that my husband and I so dearly fought for."

They moved about the United States and eventually settled in Zurich, where their second son, Grigoreo, was born last Nov. 30.

Porumbeanu has a daughter, 13, by his first marriage.

Blood Donors Are Sought

The American Legion and VFW posts here are taking the lead in receiving commitments from blood donors for the grandchild of a veteran.

Joe V. Robinson and C. C. Allen, commanders of the local Legion and VFW posts, respectively, said that they would accept commitments from those who wish to visit the mobile blood bank here Sept. 25 in behalf of the grandchild of John Taggart. The child is scheduled to have heart surgery. The commitments must be wired to the blood bank within the next day or two, and those who wish to participate have been asked to contact either Robinson or Allen.

Dionne Quints Tell Story

NEW YORK (AP)—When Papa Dionne got his millionaire daughters away from the crown and Dr. Allan Dafoe, he put them to work cleaning the bathrooms in the mansion he built with their money, the quints say in their autobiography.

"It was the saddest home we ever knew," they added.

The life story, as told to James Brough, by the four remaining quintuplets — Annette, Yvonne, Marie and Cecile—appears in the current issue of McCall's magazine.

In it they tell how the secret of the fifth quintuplet's epilepsy (Emilie died after an attack in 1954) was carefully guarded because "the family considered her illness a shameful thing," and how the five little girls were made to feel set apart from the rest of the family, and filled with a sense of guilt.

"If love begets love, guilt begets guilt," the 29-year-old quints said. "The air of the big house was thick with it. Mom and dad behaved toward each others as though they had been partners in some unspoken crime in bringing us into the world. We were drenched with a sense of having sinned from the hour of our birth."

The quints, who spent their first seven years in a special government-built and government-supervised nursery on the family farm at Callendar, Ontario, were "wards of his majesty" by an act of the Canadian Parliament and were cared for by a corps of nurses, teachers and guards superintended by Dr. Dafoe, the country doctor who had delivered them.

They describe these early years as happy and carefree, but recall few pleasant memories of their life after they returned to the family — a victory for their father, Oliva Dionne, after a long legal battle against Dafoe.

"Dad wanted us and the quintuplet funds in his own exclusive custody," the sisters said. "In the beginning he needed money for the sake of the other children. But afterward, his fortunes improved, it made no difference. By then, it was a matter of self-esteem that he should win. We were such a prize."

Today, three of the quints are married and mothers and the fourth, Yvonne, is in a convent.

Cecile, the wife of television technician Philippe Langlois, was the first of the quints to have a child. She now has three sons and a daughter. Two of the boys are twins.

Annette, whose husband, Germain Allard, is a finance company executive, has three sons, and Marie, wife of government clerk Florent Houle, has two daughters.

Cop Cans Canners

ATLANTA (AP)—A policeman's knowledge that the canning season had passed its peak in this area led to the discovery of $14,000 to $17,000 worth of illegal alcohol.

Noticing a truck loaded with fruit jars as it passed him Tuesday, officer P.E. Johnson decided to investigate.

The driver fled on foot when Johnson stopped the truck, which turned out to be loaded with 1,258 gallons of illegal whisky. A similar truck, parked nearby, contained jars with 1,071 gallons of moonshine.

HERE ARE THE RULES OF THE CONTEST

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played in the country this week-end. Get an entry blank from one of the merchants who are helping sponsor this contest and whose message is on this page. Fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only . . . opposite the name of the firm on the entry blank. Then send your complete blank to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie score must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the cash money of $12.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and a tie for second place, the second prize winners will divide the money for the place. If more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize money will be awarded and the cash will be added to next week's prize. Tie for perfect score will split $25.00. There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted from any one person. More than one will disqualify all of the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing on the choice of the winner. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number — and watch for the story on next Wednesday's front page for the winners. Situation In Flood Areas Still Critical

By ED STATTS

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Slowly rising waters at the eight-foot levee protecting suburban Port Acres intensified a critical situation today, and an emergency call went out for fresh workers to bolster sandbagging operations.

If flood waters topped the levee they would pour into hundreds of homes.

"The situation is still very critical," said Sawyer Wilson, Civil Defense coordinator for the southeast Texas area slapped by hurricane Cindy and swamped by subsequent massive rains.

"We need at least 200 more workers," Wilson said. "Most of those who worked through the night have either dropped out from exhaustion or returned to their jobs."

There was no way of telling if heavy runoffs upriver would push the water level at Port Acres over the levee.

The Weather Bureau revised downward its prediction of a major rise on the Sabine River at Deweyville. The agency now says the river should crest at 14.5 feet—just above flood stage—and stay that way for the next day or so. Earlier, the prediction was for a rise four feet above flood stage of 14 feet.

The Red Cross said in Houston it has closed all its evacuation shelters at Beaumont and Orange.

The agency said flood waters had receded enough to permit all families to return home.

Cloudbursts of the past two days subsided, meanwhile, into occasional light showers. All but a few of several thousand evacuees were able to return and start shoveling mud from soggy homes.

Emphasizing that losses could not be appraised accurately until flood waters finish ebbing, the Jefferson County Civil Defense Council estimated damage might reach $10.5 million.

There also were a few showers in the east edge of South Central Texas early today. Skies were cloudy in the south part of North Central and Northeast Texas, and clear to partly cloudy elsewhere.

The Weather Bureau predicted still more showers tonight and Friday in the southeast and south central sections of the state, with skies clear to partly cloudy in other areas.

Embassy Burning 'Regretted' - Sukarno

By TONY ESCODA
Associated Press Staff Writer

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno's government, under pressure from London and Washington, expressed regret today for the burning and looting of the British Embassy and other British property by an Indonesian mob.

An uneasy calm prevailed in Jakarta. But British women and children started leaving Indonesia.

The International School catering to children of foreign diplomats was closed for the day. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the wives and children of Americans were advised to stay at home.

Strong forces of Indonesian troops stood guard at various points, including British Ambassador Andrew G. Gilchrist's residence, the residential compound of the Shell Oil Co., and British homes which had been pillaged by rioters Wednesday.

Troops appeared to have restored order after the rampage by more than 10,000 Indonesians protesting creation of the British-sponsored, anti-Communist Federation of Malaysia.

Two Asian statesmen — Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda of Japan and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand — offered peacemaking servies.

Ikeda, who is heading to Southeast Asia Monday, said in Tokyo he will try his "very best to facilitate a solution." In Bangkok, Khoman pledged Thailand will undertake "anything we can do" to solve the crisis.

Sen. Lausche Opposed To Ratification

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, previously counted as a supporter of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, told the Senate today he will vote against its ratification.

He said that the ban on all but underground testing of nuclear weapons could "create a condition that will bring Russia to a position of supremacy in power."

He added if that occurs, he has "great misgivings about what will happen to our country." He said that peace has been maintained only because of U.S. military might.

Lausche had been regarded as a supporter of the treaty since, as a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, he lined up with the majority in its 16-1 vote in recommending it to the Senate. At the time, he reserved the right to change his mind.

He became the 14th senator to announce his opposition to the pact. His switch from indicated support reduced to 80 the number of senators who have announced their support of the treaty or indicated they will vote for its ratification.

President Kennedy has asked for a big margin "to show the world that the American people want a just peace."

He made a fresh bid for support of the treaty in his national radio and television address on tax legislation Wednesday night, saying the pact is "the first concrete limitation on the nuclear arms race since the bomb was first invented."

The Senate held its longest session of the treaty debate Wednesday — running almost 11 hours, and more speechmaking was on schedule today.

The opposition — the 13 senators who so far are committed against the treaty — concentrated its efforts on an attempt to attach two reservations to the ratificaion resolution. Senate leaders were confident the reservations will be rejected when they are called up for votes.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, acting on behalf of himself and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, won a unanimous consent agreement Wednesday for the Senate to vote Tuesday morning on final ratification.

Under the agreement, votes on reservations, understandings and similar matters will be taken on Monday. Debate starting then will be limited to one hour to each reservation plus six hours on the treaty itself.

JFK Meets With Negro Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy meets today with the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., and six other Negro leaders to discuss the simmering racial situation in Birmingham, Ala.

On Monday, five of the Negroes called on Kennedy to send federal troops to Birmingham to control "civil disorder."

Long weeks of racial tension in the Alabama steel city reached a climax Sunday when a bomb was tossed into a Negro church, killing four children and injuring 23 others. In later incidents the same day, two Negro youths were killed.

In advance of Kennedy's late afternoon meeting with the Negro leaders, many civil rights leaders across the nation called for recognition of next Sunday as a day of national mourning for victims of the Birmingham church bombing.

A bipartisan group of senators, headed by Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota assistant Democratic leader, has introduced a resolution calling on Kennedy to proclaim Sunday "a day of national observance in memory of these children and a day of rededication in the nation to the principles of law, equality and tolerance."

The senators, who also include Thomas H. Kuchel of California, assistant Republican leader, sent a similar request to President Kennedy by letter. Asked for reaction to it Wednesday, Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said "It's in the hands of the Senate."

A group of religious leaders, including Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders, called on House Speaker John McCormack and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Wednesday, seeking support for a "Sabbath of silence" or silent prayer period on Sunday.

In New York, leaders of the 10 organizations that sponsored last month's civil rights march on Washington issued a statement "calling upon all Americans to observe this Sunday as a day of mourning."

Observances are also planned in other cities.

Soviet Union Cautions Red Chinese

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today cautioned Red China that good neighborly relations depend on respect for borders. It made clear Moscow will not side with Peking in any Chinese conflict with India.

The apparent reference to reported tensions on the Soviet-Chinese border appeared in an editorial in the Communist party organ Pravda, assailing the Chinese attitude in its border dispute with India. The editorial reproached Peking for refusing to negotiate a settlement with India.

In what appeared to be a veiled allusion to Moscow's concern over Chinese claims to Soviet territory, Pravda said:

"As for the Soviet Union, it treats with respect those countries on its borders. It understands that good neighborly relations are possible only with respect for the frontiers established between states.

"In the question of frontier disputes, we hold to the Leninist view and are convinced that there are no such disputable questions which cannot be settled by peaceful means, by negotiations, without bloodletting."

Peking recently revived traditional Chinese rivalry with Russia over vast territories China lost by conquest in the 19th century.

Fluvanna Is Pilot School In Project

FLUVANNA — The Fluvanna School is among 50 pilot schools in the Texas Small School Improvement Project, and five students have been selected for a series of 12 seminars, L. M. Dawson, Fluvanna superintendent, announced today.

The project is designed to improve instruction in small schools of the state, and pilot schools select gifted students for participation in the seminars.

The five Fluvanna students selected include Gwen Landrum, Sue Herring, Kietha Kever, Beatrice Dunnam and Janie Gleghorn. Miss Dunnam is a junior and the other four are seniors.

They will attend a series of 12 seminars at South Plains College in Levelland during the year. The first seminar is scheduled for Oct. 9.

The project is carried out by the Texas Small Schools Association and is backed by the Texas Education Agency. Dawson is regional chairman of the association.

This is the third year for Fluvanna to participate in the project.

Gromyko Proposes Summit Meeting

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today proposed an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament during the first quarter of 1964.

The proposal was made by the Soviet leader in a major policy declaration before the U.N. General Assembly. President Kennedy will give the U.S. policy statement Friday.

Gromyko asserted that the assembly session was opening in a more favorable atmosphere this year as a result of recent developments, including the signing of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Gromyko specifically proposed that the 18-nation disarmament committee meet "with the participation of leading statesmen of the highest level." He suggested that the meeting might be held in Moscow.

He said that the meeting should deal both with the question of complete and general disarmament and with separate measures to achieve the further alleviation of international tension.

The speech was generally mild, in comparison with Soviet declarations at recent U.N. sessions, and Gromyko stressed repeatedly what he called the change international climate.

His harshest words were reserved for West Germany. He charged that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had consistently tried to block measures which would relax tensions.

Gromyko spoke after Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson had called on member nations to take advantage of the improved international atmosphere. He called this session "the assembly of opportunity."

Brazilian Foreign Minister Joao Augusto de Araujo Castro led off the general debate by challenging the nuclear powers to broaden immediately the limited nuclear test ban treaty to include underground testing.

Gromyko ranged over the whole field of foreign affairs.

Turning to outer space problems, he proposed an agreement between the Soviet Union and the United States banning the launching of nuclear-bearing vehicles into space.

On the question of Red China, Gromyko once more pressed for the seating of the Peking regime in the United Nations despite the Moscow-Peking split.

Pressure For U. S., Soviet Trade Grows

WASHINGTON (AP)—Canada's big wheat deal with the Soviet Union is putting new steam into pressures already building up for more liberal U.S. trade with the Communist bloc in nonstrategic goods.

Sen. Frank Carlson, a Republican from wheat-growing Kansas, stated the proposition flatly to his colleagues today, calling on the administration to study proposals to do more business with the Reds in such materials as food.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges had indicated only Wednesday, not in direct connection with wheat, that the subject is coming up for consideration.

Carlson, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said in a Senate speech that Canada's agreement to sell Russia $500 million worth of wheat, with $33 million of it earmarked for Cuba, "should prove to us that we must be practical and realistic in our trade program."

His remarks came on the heels of word from Secretary of Agricultue Orville L. Freeman that he would be willing to sell some of this country's surplus wheat to the Soviet Union if the Russians pay "our price."

Freeman was referring, before a farm audience at Monticello, Iowa, Wednesday, to the 70 cents a bushel subsidy this country pays on export wheat to make it competitive in world markets.

Freeman said it would require approval "in the highest circles of government" to subsidize shipments to Russia.

Today's New York Times said Soviet representatives are reported to have approached American traders with offers to buy wheat. The story quoted a highly placed source as saying the Russians are expected soon to make a direct approach to the U.S. government.

On Chicago's Board of Trade, future quotations have risen on reports of the short Russian crop and foreign buying by the Soviets.

Jackson Classes Resumed Quietly

By KEN SINER

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Classes resumed peaceably at police-guarded Parkside High School today after troubles Wednesday during which stones were flung at police and nearly a score of white and Negro youths were taken into custody.

Fifteen policemen, in contrast to the customary one officer, were stationed in the immediate area of the newly opened $3 million school.

After a few uneasy moments in a crowded hallway of the school, all students went to their rooms without incident.

A Negro girl walked into a crowd of Negro students blocking the hall and told them to go to their home rooms. Most did so promptly. A few stayed to jeer the others but then also went to their rooms.

Negro teen-agers threw stones at police Wednesday after an incident in the school parking lot. Some shouted references to "Alabama." Wednesday night police broke up a crowd of 100 to 150 Negro adults who had massed at a residential street corner.

Principal George Kiesel indicated he felt the racial troubles in Birmingham, including Sunday's church bombing in which four children were killed, contributed to unrest here.

Parkside had 205 absentees today, compared to an 86 daily average. Kiesel said the absences were hardly noticeable.

Bank Robber Still At Large

ALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Officers sought today to solve the robbery Wednesday of $9,000 to $10,000 from the Allen State Bank.

The robber, described as being six feet and three inches tall and weighing about 240, escaped in an old car and headed south toward Dallas, 25 miles away.

Dudley Robertson, president of the bank which opened last April, estimated the loss. He said the robber entered the bank and said he was a mechanic wanting a loan. Then, said Robertson, the man pulled a snub - nosed pistol and demanded money.

Robertson and an employe, Cashier Jerry Cauthen, were alone in the bank. Both were bound with their own belts.

FBI agents questioned Robertson and Cauthen.

Production Set At Same Allowable

By EARNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP) —The Railroad Commission ordered today that Texas oil production held again to 28 per cent of potential during October.

The production pattern sets the allowable for next month at 2,878,206 barrels per day. September production was limited to 2,834,392 barrels daily under a 28 per cent of potential order.

The order was read at the monthly statewide proration hearing.

October, 1962 production was limited to 2,717,771 barrels, a 50,000-barrel per day decrease from the previous month.

Three of 13 major oil purchasers and producers asked at the hearing for continuation of the 28 per cent order. One nominated on the basis of a 29 per cent formula, four on the basis of a 27 per cent formula, four on the basis of a 26 per cent formula and one on the basis of a 25 per cent formula.

Nominations to the commission for October oil purchases totaled 2,528,606 barrels daily, an increase of 6,151 barrels daily over September.

The Bureau of Mines forecast the October demand for Texas crude is 2,480,000 barrels daily, a decrease of 80,000 from September.

GOP Asks Equal Time For Tax Cut Opponents

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has urged the people to speak up in support of his tax reduction program. He said its benefits would range from new washing machines for families to new strength around the world for the American dollar and freedom.

"But that bill is in danger of being weakened or deferred," declared Kennedy. "It needs your help, your voice."

Thus through a national radio and television speech, the President sought to light a grassroots fire under Congress on behalf of the $11-billion tax reduction — which he called the most important domestic economic measure in 15 years.

The first major hurdle will come next Wednesday when the House is expected to vote on the tax program. But Kennedy was also looking toward the Senate where the bill faces a stormy time.

Kennedy directed his appeal all along the economic front, from businessmen to factory workers, from families watching their own shaky budgets to citizens worried over the government's unbalanced budget.

He asked for quick passage of the bill without a proposed Republican amendment tying tax cuts to curbs on spending.

Almost as soon as Kennedy finished his address, William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, fired off telegrams to the networks asking equal time to reply to the President.

Retorting to GOP charges of fiscal recklessness, Kennedy said:

"No wasteful, inefficient or unnecessary government activity will be tolerated on the grounds that it helps employment. We are pledged to a course of true fiscal responsibility, leading to a balanced budget."

Much of his appeal was directed to people like the $8,000-a-year family whose prospective benefits he singled out as an example. The head of such a household, he said could look to the tax cut for for enough extra take home pay to meet "the installments on a new dishwasher for his wife."

Other families, he went on, might prefer to use theirs on "a new spring wardrobe, or a washing machine, or a longer vacation trip, or a down payment on a new car or a new home." And he said the demand so created would help the country "skip a recession" and provide the 10 million jobs needed in the next 2¼ years.

Kennedy obviously was looking for some help from Republicans, too.

He said:

"This is not a question of party — it is a question of jobs and growth. It is a question of whether our taxpayers and businessmen and workers will get the break they deserve. As the Congress prepares to vote on this issue, I strongly urge you to support this bill for your family's sake and for your country's sake."

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband manages a Little League baseball team. The boys think he's tops, but oh, the parents! My husband tries to play all the boys, but recently, during the all-star game, we were behind and my husband was afraid we'd lose the game, so he played the boys he thought could win for us. Well, two boys didn't get to play. After the game the mother of one of the two boys came over and called my husband every low name in the book. My husband just said, "I'm sorry, ma'am." Then the father of the other boy stepped up and cursed my husband, and said baseball was only a game and it was more important to play all the boys than to win the game. My husband just said "Yes, sir," but I could see he took it hard. He loves working with those kids, Abby, but he can't take the abuse from the parents. Should I make my husband quit?

MANAGER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: No. I'm sure there are box seats behind the dugout in heaven reserved for Little League managers who have taken abuse from grown-ups in order to teach young people good sportsmanship. Your husband is one of them.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My son graduated from high school in June. I sent invitations to our close relatives. All my husband's side of the family sent him a card of congratulations or a gift. But not one word came from MY side of the family. I was hurt and shocked. We went back to where my family lives for a vacation this summer. When I saw them I let them know how they had hurt me. Since we have returned I haven't heard one word from them. My husband says they're probably annoyed because I brought up their thoughtlessness, and I should forget it. I can't forget it. I feel terrible. Should I write each one and apoligize?

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Your husband is right. Forget it, and give them a chance to forget it, too.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 14, and the oldest of five children, so it is my job to help my mother with the housework and with my younger brothers and sisters. They are a pain and I don't think it is fair that I have so many household responsibilities. Whenever I complain about the washing or ironing or baby-sitting, my mother gives me the old routine about what good "practice" it is for later on in life. Please help me. I plan to be a model or an actress and I don't NEED all this practice.

SLAVE

DEAR SLAVE: That's what YOU think. What do you think happens to all those broken-down models and actresses?

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOYAL TO MY WIFE": Your kind of "loyalty" is far from admirable. If your wife finds your parents "objectionable", go to visit them without her, and take your children with you. It isn't fair that your parents see nothing of you or their grandchildren just because your wife "doesn't care" for them.

Probes Pushed In Bracero Deaths

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—Mounting investigations and outcries over Tuesday's railroad crossing crash which killed 28 Mexican migrant workers raised a question mark today over the status of the nation's bracero program.

As probes were pushed on both federal and state levels, Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., called for defeat of a pending bill which would extend for one year the right to import Mexican laborers, or braceros, to do farm work.

"My witnesses are the dead and maimed," he said.

At Boulder, Colo., the migrant committee of the National Council of Churches said the crash, in which a freight train demolished a makeshift bus carrying 62 workers, underscored the need for more protective legislation.

"Such appalling accidents, which occur in every harvest season, should cause every American to take to heart the plight of one million migratory farm workers," stated a resolution passed by the committee.

Six of the more than 30 injured in California's worst vehicular accident in history remained near death.

Francisco Espinosa, 34, driver of the bus which was carried a half mile down the track while bodies tumbled on both sides, was in jail in felony manslaughter charges.

Federal and state investigators planned to question him further as to why, after stopping, he started across the tracks near Chualar eight miles south of Salinas, as the three-diesel freight bore down on the crossing.

Tunnel Under Channel Is Suggested

LONDON (AP) — A group of British and French experts today recommended their governments build a tunnel under the English Channel but warned that financing it may be difficult.

After a two-year study the British and French officials estimated the capital cost of a tunnel at 143 million pounds ($400,400,000.)

They rejected an alternate suggestion of a bridge, saying it would cost twice as much and would be a serious hazard to shipping.

The plan calls for a 32-mile railway tunnel between Folkestone on the English side and Sangatte, a French village five miles west of Calais. It would take about six years to complete.

The experts suggested a "joint" venture by the British and French railways, both state-owned, or by the governments themselves "would be better suited to the nature of the project" rather than to leave in the hands of a private operating company.

Traffic Mishap Logged

The Snyder police department investigated a minor mishap at 12:23 p.m. Sept. 18 in front of Snyder High School.

Involved were a 1959 Chevrolet driven by Mike D. Williamson and a 1963 Corvair driven by Lisa C. Bowden. Damage to each car was estimated at $35, and there were no injuries.

Turkey, Lamb Among Top Meat Buys

By The Associated Press

Fall output of turkeys and lamb places them among the meat leaders at supermarkets over the nation this weekend.

Other main course attractions include ribs of beef, fish, pork loins, hams and chickens.

Vegetable offerings include large supplies of rice and seasonpeak selections of many fresh vegetables.

Fruit counters continued to offer considerable variety, with summer berries and melons overlapping into fall tree fruits.

The turkey crop is expected to run about 93½ million birds, up slightly from last year.

Other fowl attractions include broiler fryers, with production running 5 to 8 per cent above a year ago as the seasonal peak tapers off. Stewing hens and roasters are also featured.

Beef attractions include rib roasts, chuck roasts and steaks.

Pork production is beginning its fall pickup and prices are already reflecting this in some areas. Chops, loins and some cured varieties are most widely offered.

Cold storage stocks of fish are about 10 per cent higher than a year ago, so many stores are offering bargains in this line.

Fresh vegetables include sweet corn, snap beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, celery, cucumbers, squash, eggplant, cauliflower, green and yellow onions, peppers, radishes and tomatoes.

Only Small Mistake

DENVER (AP)—His insurance premium was $6.71, but Edward Fowler Jr. mailed off a check for $900,006.71 to his insurance company.

When he blamed the mistake Wednesday on his office check-writing machine, an insurance company official agreed to overlook it.

Thousands Mourn As Girls Buried

By HOYT HARWELL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — "They did not die in vain," said Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. before grieving thousands buried three Negro girls killed in a bomb blast during Sunday school.

"God still has a way of bringing good out of evil," he assured the parents Wednesday. "The innocent blood of these little girls may well serve as a redemptive force for this city."

Denise McNair, 11, Addie Mae Collins and Cynthia Wesley, both 14, were buried a day following the funeral of the fourth victim of Sunday's unsolved bombing, Carole Robertson, 14.

Still to be buried, next Sunday, are two young Negro victims of violence that broke out a few hours after the bombing of the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church.

Meanwhile, seven Southern integration leaders went to Washington to report today to President Kennedy on the racial crisis in Birmingham, where Negroes have generally followed their advice against retaliation for the dynamite blast.

The seven included King, who said at Wednesday's funeral:

"This tragic event may cause the white side to come to terms with its conscience. In spite of the darkness of this hour we must not despair, we must not become bitter.

"We must not lose faith in our white brothers. Life is hard, at times as hard as crucible steel. But today you do not walk alone."

The children, King said quietly, were "the modern heroines of a noble crusade for human dignity and freedom."

Police estimated that 4,000, including numerous white persons, went to the funeral although only about half that number could get inside the Sixth Avenue Baptist Church, across town from the church where the girls met their deaths while studying a lesson on "the love that forgives."

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said:

"We came to this place to restate our determination to press on undeterred in the crusade that is not ours alone—a crusade for the righteousness and redemption of the soul of a nation."

BUFFET BREAKFAST—The Altrurian Daughter's Club opened their new club year with a buffet breakfast at the Martha Ann Woman's Club Wednesday morning. Twenty-five members and guests enjoyed the meal in a clever Fall color theme setting. Individual tables were laid with yellow and brown linen and centered with grape centerpieces. Napkins were embossed with Fall leaves. The executive committee were hostesses.

Dr. Lightfoot Speaks To SSFSA

The Snyder School Food Association met Tuesday at Travis Junior High School cafeteria with Ida DeShan and co-workers as hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Maxie McNew. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the secretary gave a report.

Ollie Belle Clements presented the president gavel to Mrs. McNew.

Gwen McLaughlin, music teacher at Travis, sang two songs and Ida DeShan led the group in prayer.

Opal Spikes introduced the guest speaker, Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the First Baptist Church. He told the group to give their best to their work.

Zoe Horton received the Lucky Lady gift. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to 40 members and two guests.

Py-Lo 4-H Club Elect New Officers

The Py-Lo 4-H Club held their monthly meeting in the home of Janie Taylor recently. Margie Davis opened the meeting with the motto, pledge and prayer.

The following were elected to office: Kathryn Helm, president; Shirley Stirl, vice president; Carolyn Collier, secretary-treasurer; Nelda Rannefled and Sherry Adams, recreation leaders and Dolores Schwarz and Diane Hess reporters.

Mrs. Taylor served refreshments of cookies, candy and punch to the following: Carolyn Collier, Margie Davis, Vickie Jones, Sheila Mason, Delores Schwarz, Norma Wright, Janie Taylor, Shirley Stirl, one new member, Wilma Stirl, and Mrs. Walter C. Stirl, leader.

Don't forget that moist soap helps relieve itching caused by insect bites.

Lamar P-TA Holds First Meeting

The Lamar Junior High Parent-Teachers Association held its first regular meeting of the school year in the school cafeteria Monday evening, with Mrs. Willard Gladson, president, presiding.

Mrs. Harry Vanderpool opened the meeting with an inspiring poem and a prayer.

Mrs. Gladson recognized the following officers and committee chairmen for the coming year: Mrs. Joe Thompson, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Bill Newsom, secretary; Mrs. Bud England, treasurer; Mr. Charles Anderson, parliamentarian; Mrs. Wiseman, historian; Mrs. Joe Alexander, publications; Mrs. Jack Owen, publicity; Mrs. Bob Reneau, hospitality; Mrs. Charles Snyder, membership; Mrs. Harry Vanderpool, spiritual life; Mrs. Leland Herod, room mother; Mrs. Fred Bullard, corresponding secretary; Mr. Robert Crowell, budget and finance; Mrs. Kenneth Davis, memory book; and Mrs. Malven Stevenson, city council.

Mr. R. E. Cooper, principal, introduced the faculty after the business meeting. Mrs. Joe Thompson, program chairman, introduced Mr. Clois Henry who spoke on "Policies and Guiding Principles of P-TA."

Refreshments were served to approximately 100 members.

Carry Them Back

THE GARDEN. By Yves Berger.

It would be advisable to bring along your scuba diving equipment before venturing into this murky sea of words. It is one of those experimental novels that require more brow-knitted effort on the part of the reader than a crossword puzzle in a foreign language.

Its original language, in fact, was French. French readers perhaps found it less puzzling than would the Americans.

The narrator is a youth, variously described as 17 or 18, whose name never apears in the text. His father, owner of a farm in the south of France, is a real nut about two things: (1) he thinks the world stopped existing in the American state of Virginia about 1842, when as he believes, it achieved a sort of idyllic Garden of Eden perfection unsoiled by modernity; (2) he finds a wild intoxication in words, which he spouts forth in the fond belief that words really were things, back in cornpone Virginia.

Like father, like son. Plus some misty pseudophilosophic, Gallic notions about time standing still in defiance of death.

But the young marrator also has a 21-year-old sister. Virginie, who encourages the reader by scoffing at their fey dreams. The author has her seduce her brother; he says it is because she wants to bring him out of his father's foolish fantasies. Some reader may reflect that a more natural motive would be simply biological. In any event, the incest doesn't accomplish much.

The early part of the book is filled with endless sentences. We have the odd spectacle of the author defending his style self-consciously on the ground that these gibbering skeins are for the purpose of evoking great visions. The tip-off that something is roquefort comes when even Virginie starts spouting effusions about death and eternity.

Believe us, frere Jacques, Virginia never was like this — in 1842 or 1963.

Colorful Braid

Decorative braid can be used to make a new version of the room divider Stretch lengths of sturdy, textured braid from floor to ceiling, leaving a few inches of space between lengths. Use glue, thumb tacks, or transparent adhesive tape to secure ends at top and bottom.

These multiple braid "slats" add color as well as an illusion of privacy. When soiled, just wipe them down with a sudsy sponge.

Soap-and-water is rated by experts as the best "cleanser" for any complexion.

Beta Sigma Phi Meeting

Tuesday evening the Lambda Kappa Chapter No 3693 of Beta Sigma Phi met in the community room of Snyder Savings and Loan at 7:30.

The names of prospective rushees were read to the chapter.

The rush parties to be held honoring the prospective members are as follows: a coke party, Italian Spaghetti Supper, "Come As You Are" breakfast, model meeting and the Preferential Tea.

Reports from the standing committees were heard and discussed.

The business meeting was adjourned and two programs were given.

Faye Oliver introduced Bobbye Carpenter who spoke on "The Body Beautiful."

Kathy Winans then gave an informative program entitled, "Painting The Person," telling each woman how to make the most of her natural facial features.

Members present were Mmes. James Adams, Basil Arnold, Doug Ayers, John Carpenter, Bill Gilbert, Ronnie Leveridge, Bennie Oliver, L. A. Patterson, Troy Scott, Bob Terrell, Rod Waller, Bobby Winans and Miss Lanette Miller.

Refreshments of coconut and chocolate pie with coffee and Cokes were served to the members by the hostesses, Pat Leveridge and Faye Oliver.

Leftover cooked rice is good added to tomato soup.

Dodge For 1964 To Show Friday

Fresh styling, engineering refinement and quality-first techniques distinguish the standard-size, low price Dodge for 1964 which goes on display tomorrow at Wellborn Motor Co. on the Big Spring Highway.

Free coffee and doughnuts will be served throughout the day at Wellborn's as the local Dodge dealer shows the new models.

Commenting on the new models, Dodge General Manager, Byron J. Nichols said:

"The five-year, 50,000-mile warranty on our engines and power train is modern evidence of the dependability that has been a Dodge tradition for 50 years.

"The Golden Anniversary Dodge is an attractive car that has been thoughtfully engineered and carefully built. It is a better new car now — and it will be a better used car in the years ahead.

"The anniversary line is an exciting one, and our company enters 1964 on the crest of the best sales year it has ever had."

The styling of the '64 Dodge is new, clean and uncluttered. The lines are graceful but forceful. The front is keynoted by a massive wrap-around bumper and a convex, bright-aluminum grille of thin, vertical bars.

A new windshield provides better visibility, and two-door hardtop models feature a "semi-fastback" roofline. Larger front door openings make it easier for passengers to get in and out.

Styling at the rear accents the width and stability of the car. A two-inch wider rear-wheel track—the distance between wheels — gives the Dodge a stronger, more-powerful appearance.

The 22 models in the standard-size Dodge line are in three series: the low-price 330, the middle-line 440 and the deluxe Polara.

The 1964 model line-up includes a wide variety of sedans, hardtops, station wagons and convertibles. Polara 500 sports packages are available on the Polara two-door hardtop and convertible.

The sports packages feature bucket seats, a center console and luxurious all-vinyl interiors. Selector levers for either the four-speed manual or the three-speed automatic transmission are placed in the console, which also houses a storage compartment. A console-mounted, transistorized, electrical tachometer is optional.

Dual tail lights are featured in the 330 and 440 series. The Polara models have triple lights, with the back-up lights in the center.

Fourteen different exterior colors and 16 subtle two-tone combinations are offered.

Interiors are luxurious in appointment and practical in instrumentation and control. New vinyls and fine fabrics are combined to provide both beauty and durability. The instrument panels are two-tone, with a suede, anti-reflection paint on top and a glossy paint below.

Improved ductwork and control systems allow a better distribution of either hot or cold air in the passenger compartment. The instruments are all large, easy-to-read gauges. Armrests are bigger and softer.

All 1964 Dodge models except station wagons are built on a 119-inch wheelbase. The over-all length of sedan, hardtop and convertible models has been increased almost two inches. Headroom has also been increased in both the front and rear. And there is a higher level of comfort on all models.

Buyers of the 1964 Dodge have a choice of six engines. The six-cylinder powerplant has a displacement of 255 cubic inches and a higher compression ratio (8.4 to 1), which improves fuel economy.

Like the six-cylinder engine, the standard 318-cubic-inch V-8 operates efficiently on regular grades of gasoline. Both of these engines have proved their ability to provide top mileage by amassing a series of victories in the annual Mobil Economy Run.

Optional engines are: a 383-cubic-inch V-8 with two-barrel carburetion; a 383 V-8 with four-barrel carburetion; a new 426-cubic-inch V-8 with a four-barrel carburetor; and the nationally known Ramcharger 426 with dual four-barrel carbueretors.

The horsepower of the six engines ranges from 145 to 425.

NEW DODGES ARRIVE—A. D. Groseclose, salesman, and H. P. Wellborn look over a 1964 Dodge Polara 880, which is among the new models to be shown tomorrow at Wellborn Motor Co. on the Big Spring Highway. Coffee and doughnuts will be served throughout the day as the local Dodge dealer shows off the new models.

Only 80 Years Late

ATHENS, W. Va. (AP) — In 1883 a smallpox epidemic forced Concord College to close before graduation exercises. Among the graduates deprived of a diploma was Nannie Bee Gore.

Wednesday, 80 years later, President Joseph Marsh of the college visited a small rustic home near here and formally presented a diploma to Nannie Bee Gore Hearn.

"Better late than never," joked Mrs. Hearn, a spry, 99-year-old great-great grandmother.

Stevens was fined $25 plus costs of $26.35.

Papa Dionne Says Reports Untrue

CALLANDER, Ont. (AP)—The father of the Dionne quintuplets said today his famous daughters' story about a hard and unhappy childhood is untrue.

"There are two sides to every story and Mrs. Dionne and I have ours," said Oliva Dionne in an interview in the rambling farm house the family lived in before the quints were born. The mansion where the five sisters grew up was sold in 1957, and the parents moved back to the homestead.

He expressed dismay over the publication of a magazine article in which the four surviving sisters said: "It was the saddest home we ever knew."

Dionne said "the magazine article is full of untruths."

"I cannot understand why the girls, who will be 30 next May, should after all these years suddenly hold their parents up to public ridicule and dishonor," he said.

"I hate to think it was for financial gain, but if it wasn't for that, what was it?"

In their story, told to writer James Brough and published Wednesday in McCall's magazine, the girls complained of hardships, misery and rejection by their parents and other brothers and sisters.

"Our conscience is clear," said Dionne. "Mrs. Dionne and I may not have been the best parents in the world and we undoubtedly made many mistakes, but we tried our best under very trying circumstances."

The quints spent their first seven years in a special government nursery at Callander, but were returned to their father after his long legal battle with Dr. Allan Dafoe, who had delivered them.

Some 100,000 visitors usually browse at the annual Boardwalk Art Show at Virginia Beach, Va. Art from some 250 painters are displayed for six blocks against a background of sand and surf.

Voyagers Could Be Caught In Citizenship Tangle

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — To naturalized Americans thinking of paying a visit to their old homelands, the State Department gives this urgent advice:

"Check up beforehand, lest you get caught in a draft."

A military draft, that is.

The problem came up recently in the case of Samuel Cohen, 27, a Chicago Educator. He went to Israel this past summer to study briefly—but he may have to stay another 2½ years as a soldier.

Cohen was born in Israel but became a naturalized American after he came to this country 12 years ago. The trouble is, the Israelis consider him still a citizen of their country. They are holding him for military service.

U.S. diplomats are working to release him, with dubious prospects of success.

The case illustrates the tangled international situation with regard to citizenship. What nationality you are may depend on where you are.

The United States, for example, does not recognize dual citizenship. Once an alien takes the U.S. citizenship oath, he is considered an American—period.

But Israel holds that an Israeli remains an Israeli until he formally renounces citizenship and this renunciation is accepted by the interior minister of Israel.

Other countries have similar laws, but U.S. officials say the Israelis seem to be "stickier than most" in enforcing them.

In fact Cohen's case is relatively rare. The eagerness for tourists' dollars being what it is, many countries are loath to make it difficult for Americans, whether native-born or naturalized.

But a U.S. official recalled the recent case of a naturalized American of Greek birth. He served a hitch in the U.S. Marines, then went back to Greece for a visit. There he found himself facing the prospect of another hitch.

"Proper representations got him out," the U.S. official said. "He was lucky."

Greece takes the view that her nationals naturalized in other countries after 1914 still are Greeks, unless the government of Greece gave them permission to change citizenship.

Countries behind the Iron Curtain present a special problem because "they are so unpredictable," the official said. However, he continued, about 15,000 Americans traveled to Czechoslovakia during the past year and, although many of them presumably were natives of that land, there have been no complaints that any are being held to military duty.

The United States has agreements with a number of countries, notably NATO nations, ironing out some citizenship problems. Several countries exempt men from conscription if they served in the U.S. armed forces in World War II.

To switch from British to American citizenship requires a double ceremony, a person must be naturazlied here and also formally renounce his old citizneship before British authorities. Otherwise he's still a Briton, in her majesty's eyes.

However, he could go back to Britain without fear of the draft. Nobody is being conscripted there just now.

In general, though, the State Department advises that naturalized citizens planning trips to their native lands should check with consulates to see what they may be getting into.

There's another warning. If a naturalized citizen stays three years in the country of his origin, he may risk losing American citizenship. However, he may safely stay abroad as long as eight years if he hops from country to country.

Military To Feel Squeeze Of Tighter Federal Budget

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We've had a couple of good years. Now it looks like we may have a couple of tougher ones."

This was the way one senior Pentagon official sized up today the prospects facing the Defense Department in the light of what appears to be a toughening mood in Congress.

The realization is expected to act as one more factor in holding down next year's defense budget requests, although even before the congressional pattern became clearer Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was putting on the brakes himself.

The feeling that Congress no longer will be relatively openhanded in defense appropriations —as it has been for the past three years—was underscored by actions of the Senate Appropriations Committee two days ago.

The committee restored only about half of the $577 million the Pentagon had asked be put back after the House had slashed the current fiscal year's defense money bill.

The bill sent to the Senate totals $7,371,407,000, more than $1.6 billion below what President Kennedy asked in January.

Thus, for the first time since the Kennedy administration took office in January 1961, Congress is wielding a sharp scalpel on its defense-spending proposals.

Last year Congress gave the administration $48,350,000,000 for defense, somewhat more than it had asked.

In 1961, Kennedy's recommendations for big increases over the Eisenhower administration's military spending went through without difficulty.

Congress voted large increases in 1961 in response to arguments that the nation's missile striking forces and conventional fighting power were badly in need of beefing up.

Another factor was the Berlin crisis of two years ago when the Soviet Union was threatening military action to drive the United States and other Western nations out of Berlin.

The intercontinental ballistic missile buildup is well on its way, and Congress has appropriated all the money needed to build the Polaris submarine fleet to its goal of 41 boats.

Also, the armed forces now have about 200,000 more men than when the Kennedy administration took office. They now total about 2.7 million men.

And for three years the Army has been getting hefty infusions of money to modernize with the latest in tanks, artillery, helicopters and other equipment.

Even with the cuts made by Congress, the Army still stands to get nearly $3 billion.

The Army probably has seen the peak of its modernization splurge, although its leaders feel they need a few more years at the present rate.

The services are due to turn in their budget proposals around Oct. 1.

Knowledgeable sources said they expect the services to come up with realistic proposals that may need a minimum of cutting.

A mock official dubbed Lord of Misrule was traditionally named during the Middle Ages to preside during Yuletide festivities in England. The same custom was followed in Scotland where the title of Abbot of Unreason was applied.

Circus Is Coming Here For 2 Days

"They float through the air with the greatest of ease," said Bob Mann, advance representative of Rudy Bros. International Circus.

He was referring to the spectacular Lopez Bros., the acclaimed aerialists featured in the big show which is coming to Snyder for a two-day engagement Saturday and Sunday.

The performances will be at the Snyder Rodeo arena. There will be a matinee at 2:15 p.m. Saturday, and evening show at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, and a matinee at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Ernesto Lopez, spokesman for the trapeze wizards, explained that the apparent ease with which they fly through the air is really the result of many years of very difficult and strenous training in acrobatic skills and the ability to land safely in the net.

"Just because there is a net underneath us does not mean we can't get hurt," said Ernesto. "You see, there have been many broken arms and legs as a result of wrong landings. We spend as much time in learning to land safely in the net as we do in learning the difficult tricks we perform in mid-air."

So, at the very conclusion of their breath-taking act, when they do their spectacular dives and spins into the net, you can bear in mind that this, too, is a very dangerous part of their performance.

Rudy Bros. International Circus also boasts a huge array of trained animals acts, including Kurt Jensen's Chimpanzees from Germany for the first time in America, E. P. Althoff's Performing Elephants just returned from a tour of Hawaii, Keller's Jungle Killers mixed group of jungle-bred animals in the big steel arena, plus performing poodles, prancing ponies and horses —all sharing the three-ring displays.

The Rudy Bros. International Circus is the only circus booked for Snyder this year.

Search Is Abandoned

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force today called off a search for the United States' first winged spacecraft, which apparently sank in the Atlantic Ocean.

Officials decided after studying reports from Wednesday's 19-hour hunt that possibility of finding the 1,100-pound payload was remote.

Although the main goal of retrieving the craft was not achieved, project personnel reported some positive results.

The six-foot-tall payload flew its prescribed course and radio devices sent valuable information on pressures and temperatures which punished the vehicle.

A second launching in the series is scheduled in December.

County Clerk Addresses Kiwanis Club

"Poll tax laws and voting procedures" was the theme of the talk by County Clerk Dan Cotton at Wednesday's meeting of the Kiwanis Club. Cotton discussed the recent changes in the law by the legislature; and the need for careful study of the ballot by the voters.

The program was introduced by the chairman for the day, Bob Crowell.

Club president Jim Mathis presided at the meeting, and reminded the members of the planned inter-club visit to the Andrews Kiwanis Club this Friday.

Stanford Gets Royalty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Prince William of Gloucester arrived Wednesday from London to enroll as a graduate student at Stanford University.

Prince William is Queen Elizabeth II's first cousin and seventh in line of succession to the British Throne.

He will be the first member of the royal family so close to the throne to study at an American university.

A graduate of Eton and Magdalene College, Oxford, Prince William hopes to enter British civil service and go into the Commonwealth relations office.

James Wilson, America's first globe maker, lived to be 92. He spent his last years building a planetarium which, by cranking, showed the earth revolving around the sun.

Waterflood Project Is Discussed

DALLAS (AP) — Atlantic Refining Co. disclosed Wednesday plans for a major waterflood project in West Texas for secondary recovery of oil.

The unit, due to be operating by early next year, will be about 25 miles northwest of Odessa in Ector County.

Company officials said the Goldsmith-Cummins San Andres unit will include more than 100 miles of oil flow and water lines and a water injection pumping station with initial capacity of 45,000 barrels daily.

Atlantic Refining will be the operator. The unit will combine operations of 18 companies.

Plans also call for eight automatic test stations, the initial electrification of 95 producing wells, centrally located oil-water separation facilities, oil storage tanks, and a data collection station automatically reporting production statistics from the remote test stations.

The unit has a present combined allowable production of 1,049 barrels of oil per calendar day from 177 wells on approximately 5,300 productive acres, officials said.

Atlantic engineers estimate the waterflood operation will increase production to about 4,600 barrels per calendar day.

The oil, automatically tested at the remote stations, will flow to the central battery area. Any water will be separated there for re-use for injection with purchased water through 20 injection wells, a spokesman said.

The unit is in the northwest sector of the Goldsmith Field, discovered in 1934. The field now contains 1,112 wells on 37,000 productive acres. Secondary recovery operations have been in effect in portions of the field since October, 1954.

Three - quarters of the 700,000 persons in Basutoland live crowded on the boulder-strewn, deeply eroded lowlands to raise meager crops of corn, wheat and vegetables. A major conservation program has been underway since 1936.

IT'S DODGE'S 50TH ANNIVERSARY

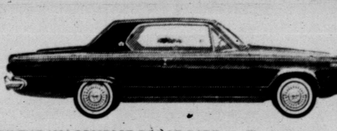
Oh boy, it's D-day . . .

The '64 Dependables are on display

SEE THE '64 DODGE . . . The low-priced car that doesn't look or feel like one. If you think new-car announcements are old hat, we've got news for you. Not this year. Not with Dodge. That handsome hardtop, above, gives you a good hint of what's in store. And there's lots more where that came from. A full line of '64 Dodge cars. Some models have bucket seats, some standard seats, some have a flip-down center arm rest that lets you enjoy bucket-seat advantages without paying extra for them. And, you also get a whole host of service-saving features. Like self-adjusting brakes, thorough rust-protection of the body, and with every '64 car built by Dodge, you get the extra bonus of a 5-year 50,000-mile warranty.*

When it comes to price, don't let the nameplate fool you. '64 Dodge is priced right along with Ford and Chevy. If you think this is a good deal, you'll know it is when you visit your dependable Dodge Dealer.

*THE DEPENDABLES' 5-YEAR 50,000-MILE WARRANTY—Chrysler Corporation warrants, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, against defects in materials and workmanship and will replace or repair at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business, the engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings of its 1964 automobiles, provided the owner has the engine oil changed every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, the oil filter replaced every second oil change and the carburetor air filter cleaned every 6 months and replaced every 2 years, and every 6 months furnishes to such a dealer evidence of performance of the required service, and requests the dealer to certify (1) receipt of such evidence and (2) the car's then current mileage.



TRY THE 1964 COMPACT DODGE DART . . . The fresh new compact in the large economy size. Dart is a family compact all the way. Lots of room. Lots of comfort. Lots of performance. And a nice low price. In fact, few compacts cost less than Dart. Not one gives you so much for the money.

DRIVE THE BIG DODGE 880 FOR '64 . . . The quiet, thoughtful step above the low-price field. Big room. Big ride. Big luxury. Big power. Big in everything but price. The new Dodge 880 is the one big car that doesn't give you the business when it comes to buying. Two series, nine models.

Qualifying For Meet Near End

Tomorrow is the deadline for qualifying in the Snyder Country Club's Invitational Golf Tournament.

Tournament play will get underway Saturday and continue through Sunday.

Entrants will compete during a total of 45 holes. The activity will get underway Saturday with 18-hole matches. Winners in the Saturday matches will then return Sunday to play 27 holes of medal play, while the losers in Saturday matches will play medal-style in the consolation bracket.

Prizes of golf clubs, including both woods and irons, will be awarded to the winner and runner-up in each flight, including consolation flights.

Entry fee for the tournament is $17.50. This fee will include admission to an informal dance, a barbecue and bridge for wives of the entrants.

Charlie Bruce, golf manager at the country Club, said a good field of golfers is expected to compete in the event.

NEW SWC 'FIRST'

Gridder Hurt In Classroom

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference teams don't start the 1963 campaign until this weekend but there's already another saga in the colorful league's history book — a football player was injured in a classroom.

This injury — physical not academic — befell wingback George Walker of the University of Arkansas Razorbacks.

"Walker stood up in class today and hurt his back," Coach Frank Broyles reported.

The Razorbacks, hosts to Oklahoma State Saturday night, also suffered other injuries Wednesday.

"Glen Ray Hines hurt his back in a dummy scrimmage and Jim Lindsey stopped and tried to turn around and cover a fumble in dummy practice and sprained his ankle," Broyles continued.

"We'd be better off in a full-scale scrimmage. We don't get anybody hurt then. We get them hurt either before we start, or in dummy scrimmages, or just walking down stairs."

At other Southwest Conference camps, workouts were a little more prosaic.

Only Texas Christian reported a new injury as the Frogs prepared for Saturday's battle with Kansas.

Starting end Tom Magoffin turned an ankle but TCU trainer Elmer Brown said it would take at least a day to tell whether he can go against Kansas.

TCU first string tackle Rickey Williams reinjured an ankle Tuesday and will miss the opening game.

Two teams worked out in steady rains triggered by Hurricane Cindy.

At College Station, Coach Hank Foldberg sent his Texas Aggies through complete offensive and defensive patterns. Despite the rain and waterlogged field the Cadets made few mistakes in handling the slick ball. They play Louisiana State at Baton Rouge Saturday night.

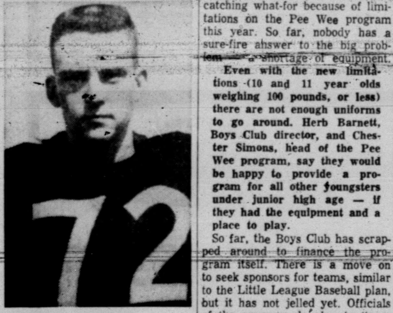
The Rice Owls, who open against the LSU Tigers Sept. 28, worked out in a steady rain. Walter McReynolds and Benny Hollingsworth directed the first and second teams at quarterback in scrimmage against the reserves.

At Austin, the Texas Longhorns, defending conference champs, ran through a one-hour polishing drill in preparation for Friday night's game against Tulane. Coach Darrell Royal said the Longhorns would take a light workout after the squad of 38 players arrives in New Orleans.

Contact work was held to a minimum at Lubbock, where Coach J. T. King had his Texas Tech Red Raiders devoting most of their session to polishing tactics for use against Washington State Saturday night.

The Baylor Bears, who open against Houston Sept. 28, had a brisk workout. They welcomed back 220-pound sophomore center Ralph Dunlap and quarterback Ronnie Wilson, who had been sidelined by injuries.

Coach Hayden Fry put the Southern Methodist Mustangs through a two-hour drill that included a controlled scrimmage. While he had some praise for the squad, Fry said he was glad SMU's opener against Michigan isn't until Sept. 28 because his team is not in condition for a game this weekend.



KIRBY McCRAVEY

Know The Tigers

Kirby McCravey is a 180-pound senior who plays at the tackle position of the Tiger Varsity. His number 72 will probably be familiar to most Tiger fans before the season is over.

Kirby is 17 years old and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McCravey of 3741 Ave. V. He plans on attending either San Angelo College or West Texas State. He intends to study Social Studies or Law.

Tough Games Included On Week's Slate

By The Associated Press

Port Arthur meets Baytown, Dumas clashes with Borger and Corpus Christi Ray takes on Houston Austin in feature games of a big Texas schoolboy football schedule this weekend.

There will be 350 games in the four divisions that decide state championships.

Port Arthur, rated No. 1 in Class AAAA, will be meeting an old and rugged foe Friday night. Baytown lost to Spring Branch 13-0 last week while Port Arthur was clubbing Houston Bellaire 16-0.

Since Spring Branch is also one of the top rated teams, the clash should be quite meaningful. It at least may indicate if Port Arthur merits the No. 1 rating given after the first week of play.

Dumas, the Class AAA defending champion and holder of the state's longest winning streak—13 games, will be host to Borger Saturday night in a test of great importance indeed.

Borger toppled pre-season leader San Angelo 14-2 last week and shoved Port Arthur into the top spot. It should furnish the kind of opposition needed to show if all they say about Dumas is correct.

Corpus Christi Ray will meet the acknowledged power of the Houston area in taking on Houston Austin at Corpus Christi Friday night.

Corpus Christi Miller, ranked No. 2 in Class AAAA, plays San Antonio Alamo Heights and does not appear to be in any danger.

Two Teams Still Seek First Wins

Hermleigh's Cardinals, still seeking their first victory of the season, travel to Rule tomorrow night for their third 1963 football game.

The out-manned Cardinals have suffered two defeats, a 54-0 loss to Coahoma, and a 54-6 loss to Aspermont.

Meanwhile, the Ira Bulldogs, a six-man outfit, will be participating in unusual grid match on the Ira field. The visiting Klondike team is an eight-man aggregation.

So, in a 50-50 mixing of the style of play, the teams will have eight men each on the field when Klondike has the ball, and six men each when Ira takes the offensive.

In previous outings this season, Ira dropped a 27-20 decision to Hobbs, and a 43-38 loss to Central Catholic of Abilene.

SPORTSCUTTLE

Reg Scarborough, the hefty Snyder junior, is scheduled to break into the starting lineup for the Texas Tech Red Raiders Saturday night when J. T. King's lads initiate their season against Washington State. With C. C. Willis, the do-everything lineman, and Scarborough both available for duty at center, it is reported that King decided to use Willis at guard on offense and then drop him to a linebacker's spot on defense. That left offensive center chores to Scarborough, who undoubtedly was just waiting for such a chance to play regularly.

Charlie Gladson, Scarborough's classmate at Snyder High, is due to start at an end position for the Raiders, thus putting two Snyder products in first string berths at Raiderland.

Officials of the Scurry County Boys Club Pee Wee football program have more problems than usual this year. They have been catching what-for because of limitations on the Pee Wee program this year. So far, nobody has a sure-fire answer to the big problem — a shortage of equipment.

Even with the new limitations (10 and 11 year olds weighing 100 pounds, or less) there are not enough uniforms to go around. Herb Barnett, Boys Club director, and Chester Simons, head of the Pee Wee program, say they would be happy to provide a program for all other youngsters under junior high age — if they had the equipment and a place to play.

So far, the Boys Club has scrapped around to finance the program itself. There is a move on to seek sponsors for teams, similar to the Little League Baseball plan, but it has not jelled yet. Officials of the program do plan to "pass the hat" at games this year, just as is done at Little League baseball games. They reason that the Pee Wee program is the same for football that the Little League program is for baseball.

Then, there is the probelm of a place to play games. At present the rather cramped facility at Central Elementary School is being used.

Names of 163 players are listed in the college Football Hall of Fame, but only seven from Texas. Three of the seven played their college football at Texas Christian. Texans on the list are Ki Aldrich, Davie O'Brien and Sammy Baugh, all from TCU, John Kimbrough and Joe Routt of Texas A&M Bulldog Turner of Hardin-Simmons, and Doak Walker of SMU.

If there has been a "golden era" of individual stardom on Texas gridirons, it must be that period from 1935 through 1940. All but one of the hall-of-famers from Texas were making their marks in college during that brief span. Walker, who didn't come along until 1947-48 is the lone exception.

Coaches of Texas schools have fared better in the "Hall" percentage-wise, with four in a total of 50. On the elite list of coaches are Matty Bell, Dutch Meyer, Ray Morrison and Dana X. Bible. Bell had the distinction of coaching at three different Texas colleges, TCU, A&M and SMU. He's still athletic director at SMU. Bible coached at both A&M and Texas, Morrison at SMU, while Meyer's entire career has been spent at TCU as a player, coach and athletic director.

Incidentally, venerable Amos Alonzo Stagg is the only person whose name is on both lists —as a player and as a coach.

A mild "feud" has developed between Big Spring High School Coach Don Robbins and Lamesa Coach Al Langford. Apparently it solidified somewhat when Robbins learned that a Lamesa scrimmage session at Lubbock was to be held behind locked gates. The Big Spring mentor recalled that he had invited Langford and his staff to be guests at Big Spring's spring game, and he reasoned that he should get a look at Lamesa before the two teams met in their opener, especially since Lamesa had no spring game for anyone to see.

Then, a report out of Lamesa noted that the Tornado coaches didn't consider themselves "guests" at the spring game in Big Spring because they paid the regular admission fee to get into the stadium.'

At that stage, Big Spring and Lamesa played their opening game and it appeared that was the end of the argument.

Now, an official of the Big Spring Quarterback Club, which sponsored the Steers' spring, has been quoted as saying that no Lamesa coaches identified themselves at the gate at the spring game, and that if they had, no admission would have been charged. Robbins, the man said, had left instructions for all coaches to be admitted free of charge.

Triumphant Dodgers Defy Chokeup Charge

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The triumphant Dodgers today had finally laid to rest the chokeup charge that has followed them and placed it besides the cold Cardinal corpse.

Walter Alston's vindication-bent Los Angeles club all but buried valiant St. Louis' pennant hopes in Busch Stadium Wednesday night with a come-from-behind 6-5 victory in 13 innings that left 25,975 Redbird rooters stunned and speechless.

The dramatic victory gave the Dodgers a sweep of the three-game series here and boosted their first place lead over the Cards to four games.

The team that had to listen to such cruel taunts as "choke up artists" and "quitters" heard nothing but praise as they left this city for Los Angeles where they need win only five of their nine remaining games to earn the right to meet the New York Yankees in the World Series.

It was a wildly joyous and defiant group of Dodgers who whooped it up in the visitors' clubhouse Wednesday night. They cheered Ron Perranoski, whose brilliant pitching through six runless relief innings kept the Dodgers in the game.

They hailed a newcomer, Dick Nen, who hit a game-tying ninth inning home run in his first major league game.

They lauded Tommy Davis, who got the key hit, a two-run single, in a three-run eighth inning that closed the Cardinal gap to 5-4. They hugged Willie Davis who ignited the winning rally in the 13th with a single and embraced Maury Wills who drove Willie home with the winning run.

"There isn't a guttier team in baseball," shouted Don Drysdale, the team's ace right-hander who earlier had vowed to make the choke-up critics eat their words.

"All this choke-up talk just made us that much more determined to win it," snapped Wally Moon.

The Dodgers appeared beaten as they faced Bob Gibson in the eighth inning, trailing 5-1. The Cards' ace righthander, through seven innings, appeared invincible. He had permitted only four hits while striking out nine.

Then the Dodgers went to work. Hits by Wills, Jim Gilliam and Tommy Davis, with a walk to Moon and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis sent Gibson to the showers and trimmed the Cards' margin to 5-4.

With one out in the ninth, young Nen, who had joined the Dodgers from their Spokane farm club only eight hours before game time, stroked a home run against relief pitcher Ron Taylor. That tied the score at 5-5.

The game's most dramatic moment came in the Cards' half of the 10th. Perranoski had already pitched two shutout innings but Dick Groat led off the 10th with a triple to right center.

Working with the same calmness and effectiveness that had earned him 15 victories and 18 saves this year, the southpaw relief artist struck out Gary Kolb, purposely walked the dangerous Ken Boyer and Bill White to fill the bases, then disposed of the next two batters without permitting Groat to score.

MANY TICKETS STILL IN OFFICE

Holders of season football tickets have been reminded that they'll need to have those tickets before they get to the gate Friday night.

School officials report that a good number of tickets, already paid for, are waiting to be picked up at the school administration office.

The office is open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Stadium Rules Are Posted

Rules for student seating, etc., at football games have been posted at Snyder High School.

Senior high students will sit as a group in Section 2 on the east side of the stadium. Junior High students will sit in Section 1. Elementary school students will not be allowed to sit with senior high and junior high students.

Parents are responsible for their children at all games. Elementary students are urged to sit with their parents. Otherwise, elementary age children will sit in general admission seats in the west stands.

All students at ball games are subject to discipline of the school. Students will be asked to leave the stadium for misconduct or disobeying of school rules. All children under the age of 10 years must be accompanied by an adult to be admitted to the stadium.

All student tickets sell for 50 cents each. Neither students nor adults may go on the playing field, either before or after a game.

Persons who have reserved seats should be prepared to show ticket stubs to ushers in the stands. Non-conference games begin at 8 p.m. and conference games at 7:30 p.m.

TERRELL AUSTIN

Know The B Team

Terrell Austin is one of the larger boys on Snyder's B Team this year. He weighs 198 pounds and is 15 years old. His number 74 will be seen a lot at tackle this year.

Terrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garth Austin of Route 2. He hopes to attend college, but is undecided as to which one. He is interested in studying science. He is a member of the Letterman's club, and is in the sophomore class.

Milwaukee Faces Loss Of Braves

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves' "miracle" is faced with a "bust" ending and community leaders are feeling the pinch of a shoe on the wrong foot.

Eleven years ago, Milwaukee lured the Braves from Boston by presenting owner Lou Perini an ultimatum: Move or we'll get another club. Now Milwaukee is threatened with loss of its major league baseball franchise.

A syndicate of young businessmen, headed by Bill Bartholomay, purchased the Braves from Perini for $5.5 million last fall. Although financially independent as individuals, the new owners borrowed most of the purchase money.

Now financial pressure has been applied on Bartholomay and his partners. As Milwaukee attendance dwindles, they are faced with a tremendous decision. Other cities, especially Atlanta and San Diego, are making fabulous offers to get the Braves.

The Braves were welcomed with open arms when they came to Milwaukee. Players and club officials were showered with gifts and hailed by baseball fans hungry for major league status.

The Braves drew 1,826,937 fans in their first season at County Stadium. They attracted more than two million in each of the next four years, hitting 2,215,004 while winning the National League pennant in 1957.

Milwaukee repeated as league champion in 1958, but attendance slipped to 1,071,101. Home turnouts have fallen off ever since. Last year only 766,927 paid admissions were recorded and, with only five home dates left this season, the count is 30,000 behind that low total.

Bartholomay says he can't "imagine" the Braves playing outside Milwaukee. John McHale, club president and general manager as well as an owner, says only that any decision must be made by the board of directors.

Kennedy Has Been Cautious In Approaching Tax Cuts

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has had to feel his way toward the $11-billion tax cut he asked the people to support Wednesday night in his television and radio broadcast.

His argument can be put this way:

Taxes are too high and have been for years. If they're cut, people and corporations will have more money to spend. This, by pepping up the economy, will be insurance against another recession.

Concern about a recession has been on his mind since he took office in 1961 although the word "recession" can be a delicate one with presidents.

President Eisenhower on Jan. 18, 1961—two days before he turned over the White House to Kennedy—told Congress in his economic report that there had been a "decline" in the economy.

Kennedy went a lot stronger than that 11 days later. In his State of the Union Message to Congress on Jan. 29, 1961 Kennedy said "we take office in the wake of seven months of recession, three and a half years of slack."

He pointed back to the recession of 1958—which Eisenhower, at the time had also called a recession—and said this country's recovery from that one was incomplete.

By the end of June 1961, after he had been in office six months, he reported the United States "had emerged from the recession." But fear of another one was high in his mind, as he showed later.

He referred Wednesday night, as he had before, to four recessions since the war: 1948-49; 1953-54; 1958-59; and 1960-61. He said high tax rates had helped cause the last two recessions.

In his first year Kennedy proposed various measures to bolster the economy but by 1962 he had definitely settled on a tax-cut as a program to pursue, although in the beginning he only inched up to the problem.

In his budget message in January, 1962 Kennedy didn't ask for a direct tax cut but suggested Congress give him stand-by authority to cut taxes if the economy began to show sickness.

Later in the year he went further and talked of wanting Congress to cut taxes across the board for individuals and corporations in 1963, a cut applying to 1963 income. This didn't get anywhere.

But, starting out this year, he made the across the board tax cut his major program for 1963. It eventually became apparent, as this tardy Congress dawdled along, that even if it approved a cut it wouldn't apply to 1963 income.

Then last week he got over his first big hurdle when the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles tax matters, approved 17 to 8 a tax cut of $11 billion.

Fifteen Democrats and two Republicans teamed up to approve the measure over the opposition of eight Republicans. Approval by this committee was a necessary preliminary before the full House could get a chance to vote on it.

The full House tackles it next week. And Wednesday night Kennedy used some of his television time to take a swipe at foes of the bill, mostly Republicans. Republicans quickly announced they will demand equal television time to answer.

But even if the House gives Kennedy the tax cut he wants, there can't be any tax reduction unless the Senate also approves and it may be weeks before a Senate committee even begins hearings, and more weeks before thre can be a full vote on the bill in the Senate, if it ever gets there.

In his economic report last January Kennedy said in the 198-49 and 1953-54 recessions a tax cut had helped check the decline and spur recovery.

Congress cut taxes $4.7 billion in 1948, just before the full impact of the recession was felt. The upturn began in October, 1949.

In the 1953-54 recession individual, corporate and excise tax reductions cost the government, Kennedy figured, about $7.4 billion in revenue. That recession ended in August, 1954.

But Kennedy said it might have ended sooner if the cuts had been made sooner. There's no recession in sight now. Kennedy takes the position a tax cut before there is a recession will help avoid it.

The main protest of his opponents is that it's poor economy to reduce government revenue, through a tax cut, when government spending is outdistancing government income.

Junior Editors Quiz on FISH

The trigger fish is full of surprises

QUESTION: Do fish sleep?

• • •

ANSWER: This is a difficult question to answer. It is very easy to find higher forms of animal life sleeping, such as the little birds in upper left. But fish are harder to find out about. In the first place, they don't have eyelids and so can't tell us that they are asleep by closing them.

Yet fish appear to rest at times, often lying quietly on the bottom or hiding in some sheltered spot. Experts say that fish have so many natural enemies that they tend to keep on the alert as a rule. Frequently, fish change their behavior with light or darkness. But some fish become more active at night. Certain fish, like the mackerel, are said to lie dormant on the sea floor at times of the year. Yet again, this is not sleep as we know it.

However, experts at the New York Aquarium tell us that there is at least one fish who really sleeps: the trigger fish. He makes a kind of bed and sleeps on his side. This fish has a very sharp spine which springs up at any alarm, and this is perhaps why his enemies leave him alone when he's taking a snooze.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Do a little research whenever you see an aquarium. Do any of the fish appear to be napping?

Office Of Today Is Pawnshop

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The average business office today is a pawnshop without the usual gilt three-ball sign.

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be," wrote Shakespeare, a bit of advice from the bard that is honored more in neglect than in observance.

The employes of most firms spend at least part of the working day borrowing from each other, and the custom has many social as well as financial advantages.

It helps them to pass the time, it improves their arithmetic, it enables them to find out who their real friends are (if any), and it keeps alive some wastrels who might otherwise starve between paydays.

While office borrowing isn't universal, it is practically so. A crisp new $5 bill, loaned to one person in the morning, may travel briefly through half a dozen pockets before nightfall — as it is borrowed and reborrowed. Sometimes it even winds up in the same pocket from which its journey started.

If you look around your own office, you may find the following types of white collar borrowers familiar.

"The competitor" — If he sees you lend $3 to someone, he immediately asks you for $6 — because he can't stand to see anybody else get ahead of him at anything.

"The tragedian" — Before he makes his touch, he breaks your heart with a tale of woe. "All I want is carfare and enough to buy one red rose," he weeps. "My daughter is having her adenoids out, and I want to visit her in the hospital."

"The grand evader" — "Don't bother me with trifles," he says loftily when you ask him humbly for the $25 he has owed you since Christmas. "I'm working on a deal now that'll make us both rich."

"The compulsive wheedler" — If you don't have any ready cash, he'll borrow anything else you have. It's a matter of pride with this guy never to go away empty-handed.

"The hypocondriac" — You can keep your money. It's your medicine this fellow wants.

"The pyramid artist" — On payday he pays you the $5 he borrowed, and the next day he borrows $10. He keeps building up his debt this way until, when he is fired at the end of the year, he leaves with you holding the sack for $10.

Might Have 'Expected'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Leona Renz, 30, gave birth to her second set of twins at South Side Hospital Wednesday night. Mrs. Renz herself is a twin, her mother also having given birth to two sets of twins.

The newest twins are a seven-pound boy and a five-pound girl. Mrs. Renz and her husband, Bernard, a contractor of Castle Shannon near here, also have six-year-old old twins (a boy and girl) and three other children.

Daughter Joins Firm

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Diane Carroll MacDonald has joined her father, former U.S. Sen. John A. Carroll, D-Colo., in opening a law office in Denver.

Mrs. MacDonald, 31, is the wife of Donald P. MacDonald, an assistant U.S. district attorney in Denver.

She was among 21 who passed the most recent state bar examinations.

TOP TV TONIGHT

By BUD EVANS

8:30 NBC "Temple Houston" is a new sixty-minute dramatic series set against a backdrop of legal practice in the early American southwest. Jeffrey Hunter stars in the title role as a young traveling lawyer. Jack Elam co-stars as an itinerant lawman-for-hire. In tonight's opener, Houston is hired by a woman to defend her two brothers who are accused of killing the town sheriff during a drunken spree. Collin Wilcox, Richard Evans and Anthony Call are featured.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

7:00 CBS "Perry Mason". A contractor is astounded to learn that because of faulty survey maps his equipment has trespassed on private property and that a court order has been issued to stop his road building project. Facing bankruptcy, he calls on Perry Mason when he is also accused of murder.

7:30 NBC "Dr. Kildare" falls in love with Dr. Lillith McGaw, a beautiful intern who is aiming for a career in surgery. Diana Hyland is seen in this rebroadcast.

8:00 CBS "Twilight Zone". Simon Oakland portrays the captain of a U. S. Navy destroyer whose discovery of a sunken submarine causes a strange reaction by one of the destroyer's crewmen. Mike Kellin is featured.

8:30 NBC "Hazel" returns tonight when Shirley Booth, as Hazel, entertains dinner guests who arrive at the Baxters on the wrong night. Hazel rises to the occasion in her own fashion and suggests a heaping serving of "Potluck a la Mode". COLOR.

9:00 CBS "The Nurses". Ruby Dee, one of the country's top Negro actresses, is guest star as a nurse determined to achieve professional respect and stature. Neva Patterson, Carl Lee and Claudia McNeil co-star.

9:00 NBC "An Experiment in Excellence" is a news special examining the significant revolutions in education.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — This is becoming a very cosmopolitan city, what with the Italian film spectaculars being imported for the movie fans.

And we might as well review the one we saw last night, which was Mr. Steeve Reeves bearing the honors in The Trojan War.

This seemed to be a story about the Greeks and Trojans who were always fighting about something. And since even the Greeks spoke Italian, the best we can offer is an uneducated guess.

At any rate there were many historical characters involved including Ajax, Achilles, Ulyses, Helen of Troy, Paris and another fellow whose name I forgot. Maybe it was London.

The best character was a gentleman named Hector who got killed a few moments before the movie started and they opened with a four second scene of him lying there late and departed. End of Hector.

The Greeks lived inside a pole stockade, which they probably copied from a John Wayne western, and the Trojans lived in a nice city built out of stones on top of a hill where they could watch the Greeks.

And they were eternally going to each other and making long speeches in Italian which wound up with a cavalry charge and the Greeks on the sharp end of the spear.

On one occasion Mr. Reeves visited the Greek camp and they egged him into a fight with Ajax who was the strongest man in the world. Naturally Mr. Reeves picked up some bumps but finally he lifted Ajax over his head and flung him out of the ring. Which was a terrible shock to the Greeks.

The villan was Paris and he did not like Mr. Reeves. But he liked Helen of Troy who seemed to like everybody including Mr. Reeves who would have no truck with her. Paris was a sneaky young fellow who did cowardly things and said words in Italian that sounded a little uncouth.

And one day when Mr. Reeves and Achilles were engaged in mortal combat on the battlefield, Paris slipped up behind a tree and tried to give Mr. Reeves an arrow in the shirt but the arrow hit Achilles in the foot and killed him before he could even make a speech.

Since Italian is all Greek to me, the only reason I could see for this was that Paris didn't care for Mr. Reeves and he was a lousy shot.

At any rate, the Trojans gave the Greeks an awful walloping and tore up their stockade and chased them down to the ocean where they got in some boats only they sneaked back later.

Well, you know about the wooden horse they made. And the Trojans pulled it into their home town at the orders of Paris and much against the will of Mr. Reeves who was arrested by some of Paris' troops and escorted to jail, also against his will.

So this red-headed lady named Cassandra woo ran around in a black night gown and predicted things said there was death in the wooden horse.

And sure enough, that night when the Trojans all had hangovers the Greeks came out of the horse and made a mess of the city. They set fire to everything and there were some gorgeous scenes of the stone buildings and stone columns blazing while everybody screamed and ran. Mr. Reeves got out of jail and caught Ajax and broke his neck, then left town with what was left of the Trojans.

A Spanish sub - title said they went to a new land and founded Rome. But it didn't explain what happened to the Greeks.

Apparently they scattered all over because we have a number here who operate restaurants which they probably picked up off their G. I. Bill.

Looking Back

10 Years Ago
From The Snyder Daily News
Sept. 19, 1953

AUSTIN, (AP)—The second severe cut in two months was ordered in the Texas oil allowable . . .The (Railroad) Commission effected the cutback by maintaining a 19-day state-wide producing schedule.

* * *

A near-record turnout is expected at 8 o'clock tonight at the football stadium when the Snyder Tigers host the Fort Worth Tech Bulldogs. More than 400 season reserved seat tickets were sold . . . .this week which is a record here.

5 Years Ago
From The Snyder Daily News
Sept. 19, 1958

Snyder area residents were greeted by a real fall morning today as the temperature dropped to a 49 degree reading.

* * *

Omar Burleson of Anson, U. S. representative for the 17th Congressional District, discussed Snyder's possibilities for a post office building yesterday in a meeting here with representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and a talk before the Rotary Club.

California Collision Kills 28

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—A speeding freight train shattered a makeshift bus jammed with Mexican field workers Tuesday, killing 28 and injuring 35 in the worst vehicle accident in California history.

At least six of the injured were reported in critical condition today. The 28th victim died hours after the crash at Monterey County Hospital.

Bodies were strewn for half a mile along both sides of the track after the crash at a farm road crossing near the town of Chualar, eight miles south of Salinas.

"Bodies just flew all over the place," said Tony Vasquez, 29. He was working in a nearby lettuce field and saw the converted truck ripped into pieces.

Vasquez called the California Highway Patrol and then went back to do what he could.

"Two of those men died in my arms," he said.

"One body was hooked under the engine," said Coroner Christopher Hill Jr. "shoes, hats, and cutting knives were all around. Everywhere you could hear the injured moaning."

Twenty-two died by the tracks. Others died as 15 ambulances rushed them to three Salinas Hospitals.

The workers were returning from a celery field to the Earl Meyers, Co. labor camp near Salinas, 100 miles south of San Fancisco.

They rode on four board benches running lengthwise on the flat bed truck.

Francisco Gonzales Espinosa, 34, of Salinas, the driver, said he stopped at the crossing and looked to his right. Highway Patrol Capt. Francis Simmons said Espinosa declared he did not hear or see the train until the front wheels were on the track.

Engineer Robert E. Cripe of San Luis Obispo said he blasted the Southern Pacific locomotive's whistle when he saw the bus stopped at the crossing.

Astonished and shocked, Cripe saw the bus move onto the tracks. Before he could slow his train of 70 sugar beet gondola cars, rolling at 50 miles an hour, the engine hurtled into the midst of the jammed workers.

A highway patrol spokesman said Espinosa was held on an open charge of felony manslaughter.

Senate Gets Shelter Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $190 million program of federal aid and government construction to provide fallout shelters for 11 million Americans heads today for the Senate, with Civil Defense officials voicing cautious optimism about its chances there.

The Kennedy administration measure won House approval Tuesday with surprising ease. Its staunchest supporters had forecast an uphill struggle to get the bill through the House.

Administration officials said the Senate in the past has been more sympathetic to Civil Defense measures than has the House.

"We've got a nucleus of support there," one official said.

Before it passed the bill on a voice vote, the House turned down a bid by Republicans to erase a section offering $175 million worth of federal aid for shelter construction in public and nonprofit institutions.

That, sponsored by Rep. Edgar F. Foreman, R-Tex., was turned down on a 172-67 standing vote.

Kennedy Address To Bid For Tax Reduction Support

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy goes before the nation tonight to try to stir up a strong tide of support for his $11-billion tax reduction program.

The bill is awaiting a vote in the House. But the Senate is expected to provide the toughest hazard, with opposition running strong and a possibility the bill could be lost in a filibuster over civil rights legislation.

In advance of Kennedy's 7 p.m. EDT speech over all the national radio and television networks, Republicans in Congress demanded a dollars-and-cents pledge of spending control.

"We are tired of listening to these generalities," said Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, the chief Republican tax spokesman.

Although the House is not expected to vote on the tax cut until a week from today, preliminary parliamentary maneuverings were under way as Republicans and some Democrats sought an opening to tie a spending limitation to the bill.

The House Rules Committee called a meeting to decide under what procedures the measure will be brought to the floor next Tuesday.

Kennedy is expected to renew the argument his administration has been making—that spending will be rigidly controlled and is in fact leveling off, and that next year's budget deficit will be smaller than this year's.

The administration position is that the proposed tax cut, which would be effective in two stages —Jan. 1 and a year later—will stimulate business, thus increasing tax revenues and eventually balancing the budget.

Many congressional observers also expect the President specifically to recognize a declaration written into the bill calling for economy and use of additional revenues to reduce the public debt.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, who drafted that section, has said it is intended to mean a choice of tax reduction, and not big government spending, as a means of building the U.S. economy—"And we want it understood that we do not intend to try to go along both roads at the same time."

Republicans contended such expressions of sentiment by the executive or the Democratic majority were not enough.

Complaining that administration economy pledges "are never anything you can hold them to," Byrnes said, "We want a limitation in figures. We want to tie the second portion of this tax cut to a requirement that spending next year, at least, not go beyond the $98 billion called for in this year's administrative budget.

"The President has not abandoned the plan to spend $4 billion more."

As for Mills' statement, Byrnes said, "I've heard too many of those made, and seen them forgotten the next day."

JAMES R. LACY

Lacy Rites Thursday

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday for James Robert Lacy, 53, of 3705 Galveston Avenue.

Mr. Lacy died suddenly Tuesday evening from an apparent heart attack. A barber in Snyder for the past 13 years, Mr. Lacy worked Tuesday, but complained of not feeling well. Late in the afternoon he walked to a nearby doctor's office from his shop at 1718 Twenty-sixth Street.

The doctor sent him to the hospital in an ambulance immediately. Mr. Lacy died shortly after being admitted. It was not believed that he had had any previous heart condition.

The services will be conducted at the Trinity Methodist Church with the Rev. T. Gerald Cates, formerly of Snyder and presently pastor of the Highland Park Baptist Church in Abilene, officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Allen Adams, pastor of the church. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Mr. Lacy is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lamoyne Lacy; one daughter, Mrs. Billie Nunn of Carlsbad, N. M.; one son, Jimmy L. Lacy of San Antonio; three sisters, Mrs. Mamie Lee and Mrs. Zona Chambless, both of Kilgore, and Miss Barnett Lacy of Dallas; four brothers, Horace of Kilgore, John of Longview, Ivy of Houston, and Oscar of Texas City; and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Lacy was born Feb. 10, 1910 in Kilgore.

Pallbearers will be Gene Thompson, Sam Chorn, Roger Mize, Gordon Warner, A. M. Ramsey, Jr., S. A. Taylor, Morris Ashley, and Alvis Sellers.

Treaty Vote May Come Next Week

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, declared his support today for the limited nuclear test ban treaty, becoming the 80th senator to indicate approval.

Ratification of the agreement to prohibit all tests except underground will require a two-thirds majority in the Senate—67 if all 100 senators vote.

An Associated Press survey shows 13 senators opposed to ratification and seven uncommitted.

The final vote on the treaty, which Republican and Democratic leaders had hoped would come by this weekend, seems likely to be delayed until next week.

Miller had been among the uncommitted until his announcement today which bristled with criticism but concluded that the military risks are "acceptable."

"Within reasonable limitations, we have a moral obligation to keep trying for better relations with the Soviet Union in our efforts to secure a just and lasting peace," he said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Senate.

One of those opposed, Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., assailed the treaty today in a speech prepared for the so-called "Great Debate."

"A missile-atomic age has moved our country into the front line of a possible war," said Curtis. "A treaty that weakens our missile defense endangers the security of our military defenses, our cities and our homes."

Miller's removal from the doubtful list followed announcements of support Tuesday from Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and Alan Bible, D-Nev.

The prospect of a floor fight over a proposal by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., seemed to be fading. Russell had proposed that the resolution of ratification include a provision insuring that any future amendments to the treaty also be submitted to the Senate for ratification.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, disclosed Tuesday a "strong possibility" he and treaty backers can agree on satisfactory modified language making the treaty subject to the understanding that any amendment will be handled like a treaty itself.

But he said it would not lessen his opposition to the pact.

Senate leaders had hoped for an early vote on a proposed reservation by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to delay the effectiveness of the treaty until after the Russians have removed their military bases from Cuba under international inspection to verify the departure.

But Goldwater told a reporter he may not bring up his reservation until next week.

Miller said in his speech that while he might be inclined to support a reservation providing for "a reasonable condition precedent to the treaty's effectiveness, the failure of such a reservation's adoption would not cause me to vote against ratification of the treaty itself."

Curtis, in a lengthy address in which he quoted witnesses who testified to the treaty's dangers, said, "Our military superiority has prevented the Communists from attacking us. The military disadvantages of the nuclear test ban treaty will lessen the power of the United States as a force for peace."

FIVE SHARE PRIZE IN FIRST GRID CONTEST

Seventy-five per cent was tops in the first week of the Snyder Daily News football contest, and five entries shared the prize.

The five, each of whom missed seven selections out of the 28 games in the contest, will divide $12.50, and since there was a tie for first place, no second prize will be awarded, according to the contest rules.

Sharing the first week's prize were Edward Schulz, 2509 Twenty-ninth Street; R. B. von Roeder, Rte. 2; Vicki Burney, Arah Rte.; J. T. Trice, Rte. 2, and Billy Kay, 4102 Avenue U.

Such upsets as Borger's humbling of mighty San Angelo and Olney's surprise victory over Jacksboro threw most of the contestants. However, among the winners there was a tendancy to go along with some upsets. In fact, Levelland's 14-12 loss to Seminole was the only game missed by all five of the winners.

Another contest gets underway today, and the list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements on the contest page in this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

Widespread Floods Follow Hurricane

Reports Of 22.78 Inches

BEAUMONT (AP) — Dying Hurricane Cindy, stalled over this Southeast Texas industrial area, set off cloudbursts that measured up to 22.78 inches today.

Widespread flooding sent hundreds fleeing to higher ground. Many were rescued by trucks and boats.

Cindy struck the Texas coast with winds up to 80 miles an hour Tuesday but almost at once lost its force and failed to sweep inland as rapidly as most hurricanes do.

It was centered north of Houston today, retaining no damaging winds but causing massive rainfall.

Deweyville, 13 miles north of Orange, reported 22.78 inches of rain by late morning. Orange had 19.30 inches and Beaumont more than 15. Kountze, 20 miles northwest of Beaumont, reported 12.50 inches.

The Weather Bureau said additional rains of 5 to 8 inches could be expected in the area during the day.

The Neches River, which flows on the east side of Beaumont, was expected to begin flooding by midnight.

Port Acres, a town of 4,000 between Beaumont and Port Arthur, is protected by an 8-foot earthen levee, and the Jefferson County sheriff's office reported water began flowing over the top. The same levee broke when Hurricane Carla struck two years ago this week.

Civil Defense authorities declared a state of emergency in Jefferson County, which includes Beaumont and Port Arthur and smaller places which cluster around industrial plants.

Torrents also poured down on southwest Louisiana, tapering into steady, soaking rains.

"Cindy is decaying slowly due to a large portion of the circulation still over the Gulf of Mexico," said a Weather Bureau advisory. The bureau predicted the hurricane, reduced to a tropical storm, would ease northward at 5 m.p.h. or less.

All Beaumont schools opened to house flood refugees.

Water lapped into many Beaumont stores and homes, and each passing rescue truck set up waves which caused more water damage.

Big trucks rolled through water up to their radiator caps to move 325 persons to higher ground from Beaumont's west side during the night.

An Air Force truck carried six families, menaced by rising waters from their homes in the Green Acres and Fannet communities near Port Arthur.

The Red Cross and civil defense workers reported 100 persons evacuated from homes in Orange County just east of here. Orange is the county seat.

J. Cullen Browning, editor of the Orange Leader, said the county was converted into "virtually an inland sea."

Space Payload Feared Lost In Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The first American space payload with wings rocketed down the Atlantic missile range today, but after several hours recovery vessels failed to find it and officials feared it may have sunk in the sea.

The shot was the first in Project Asset, which is testing techniques for developing manned spacecraft with wings.

The sleek, stub-wing craft rode a Thor rocket more than 35 miles high and then streaked back through the atmosphere to a splashdown in the Atlantic Ocean about 1,000 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral. Tracking devices followed the vehicle throughout the 20-minute, 9,000-mile-an-hour flight.

The Air Force reported the Asset craft hit in the planned landing zone and ships and planes began to search the area.

Several hours after the launching, the payload had not been sighted. Recovery was important so that officials could determine how well the vehicle survived the jarring journey.

An early indication of possible trouble came when search vessels failed to receive signals from a radio beacon on the payload. The beacon was to have activated on landing to aid recovery forces.

There was no report whether a parachute landing system worked.

The launching was the first of six scheduled in the Air Force's project Asset, which stands for aerothermodynamic-elastic structural systems environmental tests.

Purpose of the Asset flights is to verify structural soundness of the spacecraft and to determine how well various materials withstand atmospheric re-entry heat up to 4,000 degrees fahrenheit.

The $34 million program will provide data for developing manned spacecraft which could return through the atmosphere from orbit, maneuver over thousands of square miles to select an appropriate landing spot, then touch down on a jet field like an airplane.

BACK HOME AFTER A THREE-WEEK VACATION is John Dillinger, young alligator owned by E. R. Massingill, 1711 Avenue I. Snyder police were called to 3710 Avenue U Tuesday afternoon after it was discovered that John was using a mud puddle there, and didn't want to share it with the neighborhood youngsters. After John was arrested, he was taken home much faster than the trip on his own had been.

Viet, Africa Recommended For Agenda

By TOM HOGE

Associated Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N.'s powerful Steering Committee recommended today that the question of treatment of Buddhists in South Viet Nam be placed before the current session of the General Assembly.

The 21-nation committee took the action after hearing Ceylonese and Indonesian delegates declare that the situation in South Viet Nam has become a matter of international concern.

The committee was acting on the more than 80 items on the assembly's agenda.

It approved placing South Africa's racial segregation policies on the agenda despite an objection from that country.

Before the assembly is a request from a special U.N. committee that the assembly and the Security Council consider without delay expulsion of South Africa from the United Nations because of its refusal to abandon its racial policies.

It also called on U.N. members to carry out penalties against South Africa suggested by the assembly last year. These include an arms embargo, a petroleum embargo and an end to foreign investment in South Africa.

The 11-nation special committee of Asian, African and Latin-American nations was established last year to review South Africa's racial policies. Its report was submitted to the assembly shortly before the U.N.'s Steering Committee met to draw up an agenda for the 18th General Assembly session.

African racial quarrels took top billing, along with the Buddhist conflict in South Viet Nam and the question of Red Chinese admission to U.N. membership.

The powerful 21-nation Steering Committee had an agenda of more than 80 items. It was expected to approve all controversial questions for debate during the session.

The assembly opened Tuesday on a spark of hope generated by the limited nuclear test ban treaty. But the first meeting was full of surprises.

Albania, black sheep of the Soviet flock, seized the initiative and issued a surprise call for assembly debate on giving Red China the U.N. seat held by Nationalist China.

The Soviet Union had been expected to make the proposal de-

'Like A Dream' Says Mom Of Famous Fischer Quints

By DON REEDER

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — Mrs. Andrew Fischer, red-haired mother of quintuplets, looked forward today to returning home from the hospital as her tiny infants steadily gained in strength.

The four girls and a boy, born two months prematurely last Saturday, were at last report continuing active and healthy with the outlook good that all five would survive. The infants were expected to remain in the hospital for at least two months.

Dr. James Berbos, the family physician who delivered the quints, said he might weigh them today.

The infants are being handled as little as possible in order to conserve their strength. They are being fed about a teaspoonful of artificial milk formula and water every two hours.

"I told them upstairs that I would rather go into the delivery room than come down here," the 30-year-old mother told a battery of newsmen and photographers Tuesday night at her first news conference since the quints were born.

She had been kept in seclusion by her doctor and attorneys to give her time to recover.

Mrs. Fischer said she has not been told when she may leave St. Luke's Hospital, but Berbos indicated it would be late this week.

Visibly nervous and speaking barely above a whisper, Mrs. Fischer said she was concerned about her other five children at home—also four girls and a boy—as she was about her famous new brood.

"It's like a dream," she said when asked how she felt about becoming world famous overnight. "But I am very happy."

She added that her other children "will take a long time to get used to the publicity." She said also that they "were real tickled" about the newcomers.

Mrs. Fischer held the news conference in the warm and muggy hospital cafeteria with nearly 30 newsmen and a like number of white-robed nuns looking on.

She entered the room in a wheelchair, flanked by her attorneys, Joe Barnett and Stan Siegel of Aberdeen, and her husband.

Her husband, an $80 a week billing clerk, told newsmen he had been dividing his time between his home, about a mile northwest of the city, and the hospital.

"I've been looking at the babies about every three hours," he said.

Chamber of Commerce officials reported that the flood of gifts for the family has begun to slack off—but said the Fischers already have received money and merchandise conservatively valued at about $75,000.

The gifts range from cattle feed for Fischer's two cows to college scholarships for each of the five newborn.

Fischer, 33, said he planned to return to his job at a grocery warehouse but he was unable to say when.

E. C. Pieplow, president of the chamber, said the community would observe Oct. 14 as "Fischer Quintuplets Day" to celebrate the infants' first month of life.
