Afghanistan Visitor Studies Area Roads

By Dick Roberts

If you had a visitor from Afghanistan who wanted to see country in the United States nearly like his own, where would you send him?

The State Department picked four states — Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Utah.

Then last Monday the Texas Highway Department had to decide which part of the big state would be the most comparable to Afghanistan.

And so, for the past three days, Joe Middleton, construction and maintenance foreman in the Snyder maintenance office has had a guest from Afghanistan.

Col. Said Amir Ansari, who though actually a military man, holds the civilian title of Director General of maintenance for Afghanistan highways, has toured Middleton's area which includes portions of Garza and Borden counties as well as Scurry.

Col. Ansari is in his fifth week of a three month visit to this country to study highway maintenance operations.

The biggest difference, Col. Ansari said, between Afghanistan and West Texas was the fact that we had a problem here of mowing grass and weeds. He said they just wish they could get a little vegetation to grow to hold the dust. Afghanistan, the colonel said, exports a large quantity of tropical fruits, both fresh and dried. But these fruits are produced, not from rainfall, but rather from irrigation water piped from reservoirs in the mountains.

Other exports of the western Asian country are karakul skins and caskets.

At present, Col. Ansari said, Afghanistan is undertaking a large road-building program. They have only about 1,500 miles of paved road at the present time.

Contractors from the United States are active in road construction and in dam building in his country, the colonel said. And while construction is done by machines, much of the road maintenance is still done by hand labor.

This of course makes for a costly operation.

Another reason for high costs of road maintenance and building in Afghanistan is that much of the mileage is in mountainous areas. Some mountains in the country are snow-capped the year around.

Roads are especially important to Afghanistan, the colonel said, since they have no other surface transportation. Most of the transportation of the country is done with large diesel trucks.

All vehicles are imported. The most popular makes of cars are the American Chevrolets and Fords, the Russian Volgas and Pobedas, and the German Volkswagens. Most of the trucks, the colonel said, were American-made Internationals.

Which part of the 64,835 miles of highways in the state of Texas impressed Col. Ansari the most? "The freeways," he said without any hesitation.

Col. Ansari was high in his praise of Texas highways in addition to the freeway system. He had come from Oklahoma today, and was to leave today for a visit in New Mexico.

Although Col. Ansari spoke with a pronounced accent, he had little difficulty in communicating. He said he had learned English in school. He also added that all students in his country learn several languages in school, usually English or French, Russian, and Arabic.

Middleton, after acting as Col. Ansari's guide for three days, said that he had become quite interested in Afghanistan and hoped that some day he might be able to accept the colonel's invitation to visit him there.

Puerto Rico Is Menaced By Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Edith threatened Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic and Haiti with dangerously high tides and struck to a west-northwest course that raised the possibility of a direct blow at Jamaica.

Residents of southern coastal areas of Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic and Haiti were advised to flee to higher ground before the arrival of dangerous tides pushed up by the hurricane.

At 8 a.m. (EST), the 100-mile-an-hour storm was churning up the Caribbean Sea 175 miles south of Puerto Rico and increasingly heavy swells were racing toward that island.

This afternoon and tonight, following the passage of the hurricane, the San Juan Weather Bureau said flooding could be expected on the south coast and central regions of Puerto Rico.

Dangerously high storm tides, Weather Bureau said, will reach the southern coast of Hispaniola (which embraces the Dominican Republic and Haiti) some time tonight.

Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center at Miami declined to predict what course the hurricane might take beyond the next 12 hours.

Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center at Miami declared, however, that the storm "is not going to dissipate and it cannot get out of the Caribbean without hitting something. Somebody is in trouble."

Since it was born in the Atlantic Ocean, and crashed through the Windward and Leeward Islands, the hurricane has maintained a heading course to the west-northwest. If it continues in this direction, the storm center would pass south of Hispaniola.

Cuba was next in line for trouble after Hispaniola. A northward turn, always possible, would be necessary before a threat developed to Florida and the rest of the U.S. mainland.

Radio reports received here by Pulse America said, however, that the hurricane damaged 90 per cent of all property on the French island of Martinique at the eastern end of the Caribbean.

Which part of the Caribbean, however, was the most threatened, death or injuries.

NOLAN VON ROEDER

Nolan von Roeder Dies After Surgery In African Village

Nolan von Roeder has died in Africa.

An emergency operation performed Tuesday at the tiny town of Iringa, Tanganyika, was successful. The exact time of death is not known, although it was sometime between 10:30 a.m. Wednesday and 6 o'clock this morning, Snyder times.

Mr. von Roeder was a member of a hunting party which left Snyder Aug. 26. Other members of the party were Mr. von Roeder, Marvin Key and John Billy Koomman.

A phone call yesterday reported that Mr. von Roeder was doing well following the operation performed on an ruptured intestine. Another call this morning, however, told of his death.

Details this morning were few as the communication over the trans-Atlantic line was difficult. It is believed that Mr. von Roeder was to have been moved to a hospital at Nairobi, but that he died before he could be taken there.

Mr. von Roeder's death came "as a surprise" to those who knew him. He was engaged in what had been his favorite hobby for a number of years — that of big game hunting. He had taken numerous trophies in the United States, including Alaska and in Mexico.

The trip to Africa was his first to that continent.

Mr. von Roeder was well known for his activities in several fields including ranching, fruit orchard operations, oil production and cotton farming. He was a partner of the von Roeder Seed Farms, and along with his brother, C. N. von Roeder, helped develop the firm's Western Shornproof cotton seed especially for this area.

Mr. von Roeder was a director of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce in 1954, and also served the chamber as its president in 1955. He was a director of the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council, and was presented the Silver Beaver Award by the council in 1957. The award is the highest that a council can make.

Mr. von Roeder also served as head of the Scurry County Junior Livestock Association. He was a director of the United Fund when it was first organized in Scurry County in 1954.

He was also a director of the Texas Rural Communities, an agency which makes farm loans and acts in an advisory capacity to the federal farm loan agency.

Mr. von Roeder was born in Lockhart, Oct. 20, 1899. He moved to Scurry County in 1909, and into the city of Snyder in 1948. He and Mrs. von Roeder had recently moved into their new home at 2901 Twentieth Street.

He had married the former Miss Maxine Maxwell in Snyder in 1927. The von Roeders have one daughter, Mrs. Carla Jean Clark, and one son, Max. Six grandchildren also survive.

No funeral arrangements had been completed at noon today.

The attorney general's previous appeals for adoption of a law permitting wiretapping of suspected criminals' telephones ran into opposition from those who fear it would erode rights of other citizens.

Legal counts now bar wiretapping in states that permit its use in state courts.

Havana Is Hit By "Asthmatic Crisis"

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A freakish atmospheric change in Havana Wednesday night caused at least five deaths and sent more than 200 persons to hospitals with asthmatic ailments, Havana Radio reported today.

The broadcast here said all cases of the "rare phenomenon of asthmatic crisis" occurred within an hour and blamed the outbreak on what it called an abrupt and "typical atmospheric change."

A similar outbreak of "collective asthma" occurred last year in the waterfront section of old Havana, the radio said. Most of those affected then were elderly and the results were not as intense, the radio added.

Small World, Isn't It?

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Two prisoners worked hard Wednesday saving through a steel wall in City Jail. But when the hole they made was big enough to peek through, they stared straight at the face of the warden, Bill Hill. He had heard their sawing.

Even if Edward Lums and Sam R. Scruggs had completed the job they wouldn't have gotten any where. Their hole opened in a plumbing-utility room leading only to the first of several locked doors.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mobs Joseph Valachi, 66, came to the capitol today to testify in a Senate crime probe and put the finger on underworld big shots.

The convicted dope peddler and murderer was hustled into a heavily guarded hearing room in the old Senate office building where the Senate Investigations subcommittee was to hear in private what he learned about a nationwide crime syndicate as one of its members.

A public hearing is to be held Friday.

After the closed hearing had been under way for about 40 minutes, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, subcommittee member, left the hearing room briefly on an errand. He told newsmen Valachi was "talking freely."

Muskie said Valachi was giving a recital of facts, names and events interrupted only occasionally by questions from senators.

Muskie was asked whether Valachi is seeking immunity from prosecution for anything he might say in his testimony. "You have to ask the chairman," Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., Muskie replied. The subcommittee itself has no authority to grant immunity to anyone.

A squat, brown-haired man in a gray suit, the grim-faced Valachi was smuggled into the office building by a guard of six U.S. marshals, and quickly taken down a long corridor to the hearing room.

The marshals held him by each arm, but in the jam of newsmen, photographers and spectators it was impossible to determine if he was handcuffed.

This is the first time in about a year the mobster-murderer had been brought out of hiding by the law. Officers believe the underworld has posted a $100,000 reward for anyone who can silence him.

Valachi hopes his testimony will help to topple the leader of his old crime society, known to its members as La Cosa Nostra.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee arranged today's session to give its members a chance to appraise the story Valachi is expected to tell of brutal murder, crime for profit and terrorism.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., already has heard the story in two interviews with Valachi.

McClellan said he saw Valachi Tuesday and that he appeared to be in good spirits and eager to testify in revenge against syndicate leaders for having ordered him slain as a stool pigeon.

The subcommittee is exploring the affairs of a nationwide crime syndicate known to its members as La Cosa Nostra, and to others as the Mafia or Black Hand. Reputedly, a paper is burned in the hand of a new recruit to the secret criminal society as he takes an oath of secrecy and vows to obey any order without question.

Deputy Chief Inspector John F. Shanley of the New York City police testified Wednesday that to his knowledge Valachi is the first Cosa Nostra member who dared to abandon the credo of silence in the presence of the law.

Shanley said police wiretapping, authorized by a New York law, has turned up evidence the syndicate is deeply upset by Valachi's decision to talk.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Wednesday's first witness appeared for new laws to legalize police telephone wiretapping and to permit his office to obtain the "less culpable" members of a conspiracy with immunity from prosecution and thus compel them to testify against the higher-ups.

The idea is to destroy their right to invoke the Fifth Amendment privilege of refusing to give self-incriminating testimony.

The attorney general's previous appeals for adoption of a law permitting wiretapping of suspected criminals' telephones ran into opposition from those who fear it would erode rights of other citizens.

Legal counts now bar wiretapping in states that permit its use in state courts.

Rowdiness Threat To School Sports

By The Associated Press

One of America's most cherished traditions — the Friday or Saturday night high school football game — may become passe because of the growth of rowdiness and vandalism among the spectators.

The seriousness of the situation was highlighted recently when the city and Board of Education officials in Toledo, Ohio and Milwaukee announced that all night games involving high school teams were being abandoned.

The schools were ordered to play in the afternoon.

The Toledo action was taken after a series of fights broke out following a Friday night game.

Four policemen were hurt in the disturbance. The Milwaukee City Council switched all games to Saturday afternoon because of what it called "unwarranted attacks and acts of vandalism."

Officials said no racial or religious problems apparently were involved.

Night high school play was banned in Providence, R.I., where officials said a major factor was "rowdiness, fights and vandalism."

Bridgeport, Conn. ended night high school games after a 14-year-old boy was stabbed. Chicago but out night football games for public high schools in 1954.

In New York, where there are hundreds of high schools, only about three per cent play games at night and these are almost always at the suggestion of an outside rival. To play a night game, it is necessary to get special permission from the school board—given only when trouble is not likely to occur.

Efforts to shift all Louisville high school games to Friday afternoon instead of playing them at night met little success.

Rightist Military Leaders Control Dominican Republic

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—Rightist anti-Communist military chiefs held power in the Dominican Republic today after deposing President Juan Bosch and accusing him of leading his country toward communism, economic ruin and war with neighboring Haiti.

Bosch, 54, a liberal intellectual, was expected to be sent into exile in Puerto Rico. But he apparently still was a prisoner.

Puerto Rican Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, a close friend, had expected Bosch in San Juan Wednesday night. An aide to the governor said he had learned Bosch had been taken to San Ysidro air base 3 miles from Santo Domingo. Bosch's wife and young son and daughter already were in San Juan, visiting Munoz Marin's family.

The Dominican military command said Bosch was "surrounded by all kinds of guarantees and considerations."

He told a news conference: "Some of the newly rich businessmen, who were happy at making a profit under the Trujillo dictatorship, have been fighting the democratic government from the start."

Bosch was seized in his palace before dawn Wednesday. The military coup ended his seven-month rule as the Dominican Republic's first freely elected president in more than 30 years.

Even Bosch's friends, some of whom called him a dreamer, had wondered whether the post-revolutionary had the practical ability, after years in exile, to lead a nation released from dictatorship by the May 30, 1961, assassination of Rafael Trujillo.

The military leaders, headed by Armed Forces Minister Elbio Vinas Roman, said they ousted Bosch primarily because he codified Communism. He had rejected a military demand in July that he crack down on leftists.

There also was widespread dissatisfaction with a recent law confiscating properties of all Dominicans who prospered under the 31-year Trujillo dictatorship. The law affected practically every Dominican who had money in a bank.

Word of the new company has swept the country, and requests have been received for bookings from Houston, Texas, to New Orleans, Louisiana, to Trinidad, to British Columbia. In fact, the company's stay in the States has had to be extended to permit to fill all of the requests. They have been received for it in recent weeks.

Gas Dealers In Mexico May Close

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Pemex, the government petroleum company and only source of gasoline in Mexico, expressed confidence Wednesday that a threatened nationwide shutdown of gasoline stations would not occur.

A spokesman suggested that those who made the threat in a price dispute with Pemex, get out of the business if they weren't satisfied with their profits.

Protesting station operators had contended the price Pemex charged them and the limit on what they could charge the public left less than two U.S. cents a gallon profit.

"The majority of the dealers are not complaining," the Pemex spokesman said, "and that's because they know how to administer their businesses."

The threat of a shutdown was made Tuesday by Pablo Martinez, president of the permanent commission of the National Union of Gasoline Dealers.

He said stations in 16 towns already were closed and the movement would spread unless Pemex agreed to lower its price to the stations or allow an increase in the retail price.

No Big Wheat Buyer Seen Yet Behind Iron Curtain

By OVID A. MARTIN Associated Press Farm Writer WASHINGTON (AP)—In all the hub-bub over a possible sale of U.S. wheat to the Soviet Union, at least one element is officially lacking: The big buyer.

Czechoslovakia, a member of the Soviet bloc, has approached the United States on the chance of a wheat deal. But Agriculture and State Department officials insist that the Soviet Union itself has made no move, either directly or indirectly.

However, action of President Kennedy in requesting two House committees to discuss the matter with two Cabinet members today was open to the interpretation that the government had knowledge that an offer was on the way.

The House Agriculture and Foreign Affairs Committees will go over the matter with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

He said stations in 16 towns already were closed and the movement would spread unless Pemex agreed to lower its price to the stations or allow an increase in the retail price.

to buy as much as 200 million bushels of wheat and a quantity of feed grain.

Generally, it's been taken for granted that the Communists would buy American grain only if they could get it at the cut-rate price at which it is sold to friendly countries under an export subsidy program.

That price is about 60 cents a bushel below the domestic price. Commerce Department regulations deny benefit of the subsidy to the Soviet bloc.

The domestic price is supported above world levels by a farm price support program.

There is nothing in the laws or regulations that would keep the Soviets from buying all the wheat they wanted at the domestic price. Obviously they do not want to pay that much.

A matter to be settled is whether congressional action is necessary.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said action by Congress may be necessary. But Agriculture Department lawyers have leaned in the other direction. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate Democratic leader, said he believed an American-Soviet wheat deal would be "worth considering" and would likely get careful study from the administration.

Mansfield, traveling with President Kennedy on his western speaking tour, told newsmen a private sale of U.S. wheat had been discussed by Kennedy and members of his party.

The President, said Mansfield, indicated interest without expressing an opinion of whether an export license should be granted.

The talks private American interests have been carrying on in Ottawa, Canada, about the possibility of a big grain deal with the Soviet Union have hit some snags.

The Peavey Co., a large mid-western milling and grain firm, said Wednesday it had sent representatives in Ottawa with the understanding that an Agriculture Department spokesman would be participating. But when none showed up Peavey withdrew its officials.

The Minneapolis Tribune and Des Moines Register which first reported the Ottawa meeting, said other rifts also had developed among the grain brokers and millers in the talks.

Wilson To Show Fords For 1964

The new Fords for 1964 are in Snyder, and will be shown tomorrow at Wilson Motors on the East Highway, along with other dealers over the country.

A preview showing is set at Wilson Motors tonight, beginning at 7 p.m.

All 16 models in the 1964 Ford lineup — including the uniquely styled 4-door hardtop models — are designed to combine an exterior look of greater luxury with still more of the luxury engineering features that have made the 1964 Ford our "best seller," said E. F. Laux, Ford Division general marketing manager.

Laux said the vehicle has been redesigned inside as well to reduce the front compartment tunnel size by one-third and to increase headroom and seat height over 1963 by as much as an inch.

"Fords are up in sales 28 percent over a year ago and account for better than one out of every two cars we sell," Laux pointed out. "We believe we are proving that buyers of low-priced cars respond to the extra value we call 'total performance.' The 1964 Ford line expresses our conviction that more car for the money — in terms of total performance — is the key to sales leadership in the hotly competitive low-priced field."

"Every ounce of the added weight over our competitors is muscle," he said. "Part of it is in deeper rucker panel sections and in a redesigned front pan for a more solid, longer-lasting body. Some of the weight is in the frame for greater ruggedness and durability. Still more is in a reduced luxury car suspension to reduce road shock and noise. Those pounds add up, we believe, to the quietest, smoothest and most stable ride over offered in the low-priced class."

Durability and ride improvements are only part of the total performance features designed and built into the Ford for 1964. Laux pointed out. He said that as a result of regular testing and knowledge gained through competitive events, all engines have longer lasting main bearings and better oil distribution for longer engine life.

New in the Ford power lineup for 1964 is a Thunderbird Special 352 CID V-8 with 4-barrel carburetion rated at 230 horsepower and offering both good performance and good economy on regular fuel.

Five engine choices, four different transmissions and five real axle options designed to tailor a 1964 Ford to every customer's exact driving requirements and preferences.

The Cruise-O-Matic Dual Range three-speed transmission will be available for the first time in 1964 with all engines except the Thunderbird High Performance 427. This tried and proven design provides a choice of low gear start for maximum acceleration and of second gear start for smoother, non-skid start-up in ice, snow or rain. The three speeds provide sparkling performance and the second gear provides a "kick-down" for passing at speeds up to 65 miles an hour compared to slightly over 50 miles an hour for standard automatic.

The three-speed, manual shift, all-synchromesh transmission introduced last year is again standard on all 1964 Fords except 500-XL models and those powered by the Thunderbird High Performance 427 CID V-8 engine. The fully-synchronized forward gears permit smooth, effortless shifting — even into low gear when the car is moving — to make all three speeds as desired.

Added to the three year or 36,000-mile major lubrication interval pioneered in the Ford last year are new extended-life headlamps. Together with a new, longer-life battery, they add a more dependable lighting and electrical supply to the reduced maintenance features. The "24-24" total car warranty — for 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever occurs first — is continued for the 1964 Ford.

The quality and luxury look of the completely restyled 1964 Ford line is keynoted by a three-dimensional, horizontal bar grille. Wide-spaced dual headlamps and a full-depth and full "wrap-around" bumper give the cars a lower, wider and more massive front end appearance.

The outboard headlamps extend slightly beyond the sides of the body and are faired into the body contour for a richly sculptured look of motion. A sharply delineated character line sweeps from the outer edge of the grille to the upper edge of the rear bumper. Lower on the body side is another sculptured line, artfully integrated to accent the wheels and to dramatize the little and luxurious look of all new Fords.

The sculptured metal treatment, suggestive of luxury and motion, carries from the rear deck into the rear body panel. The taillights continue the traditional round design but are newly styled for 1964. A new real impact bar of added strength to resist denting gives a lower, wider and more substantial appearance at the rear, complementing the massiveness of the front and the look of motion of the sides.

The dynamic roofline of each 1964 Ford is accented by tasteful sculpturing which picks up the rear roof pillar and sweeps the line back and across the top of the rear deck.

A new roof line is introduced with the 4-door hardtop in Ford Galaxie 500 and 500-XL models for 1964. Sedans, sports hardtops and

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Thurs., Sept. 26, 1963 5

Abe Is Sold On Backfield

By The Associated Press
Abe Martin shattered the early season moaning and groaning of Southwest Conference coaches Wednesday when he declared that the current Texas Christian backfield is his strongest in 11 years.
He rated the combination of quarterback Gray Mills, halfbacks Jim Fawcett and Larry Bufalch, and fullback Tommy Crutcher even stronger than the powerful TCU backfield of 1955, 1956 and 1958.
Then Martin watched his line on practice to protect the punter in Saturday's game with Florida State at Tallahassee and reverted to talking like any other conference coach.
"We've had 14 kicks blocked in a game," he said. "The first group did a fair job protecting the kicker but the other crowd stunk."

The TCU-Florida State game is one of six for Southwest Conference teams Saturday. Texas Tech, Southern Methodist goes against Texas Tech, Arkansas against Missouri, Rice against Louisiana State, Baylor against Houston, and Texas A&M against Ohio State.

At Austin, where Texas will be host Saturday to Texas Tech in the season's first conference game, Coach Darrell Royal kept his Longhorns busy polishing both offense and defense. Charlie Bucklew, who injured a knee in last week's game against Tulane, was going full speed Wednesday.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders stressed running and passing. The squad was reported in good physical shape with no new injuries.
The Baylor Bears finished heavy contact work and stressed offensive line play. Coach John Brinkley said, "We will start at end against Houston in place of injured Ken Hodges and Gwyn Corley will replace Wolf on the No. 1 defensive unit."

Texas A&M hammered away at Ohio State's defensive and offensive plays. Emphasis was placed on blocking and tackling assignments and punt return defense. Coach Hank Folsberg made two

Revolta In Golf 'Hall'

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Johnny Revolta, known as the "doctor of golf professionals," was added today to the Professional Golfers Association Hall of Fame.

He joins 32 other golf greats previously honored. The latest was Ralph Guldahl, twice National Open champion selected earlier this month in a poll of the PGA membership.

Revolta was elected by present members of the Hall of Fame.
He won 27 tournaments during his pro career. He has been professional at the Evanston Golf Club, Evanston, Ill., for 26 years.

Sea Monster Pickled

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—An ancient mariner's nightmare—a 13-foot sea creature, or serpent—now rests, well pickled, in an ichthyologist's formaldehyde solution.

The creature, officially dubbed "Our Fish," was dissected Wednesday after it washed up on the beach at Malibu.

The sea fish sports a horse-like head, silver skin, big blue eyes and a fire-engine-red dorsal fin.

Dr. Vladimir Walters, a UCLA ichthyologist, said the fish apparently resided at 600-foot depths and that the specimen was only the second one ever found in good condition.

He added that it would have measured 10 feet, but its 3-foot tail was gone.

Yanks To Open With Ford, Backed By 'First String'

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankee left-hander Whitey Ford, baseball's biggest World Series winner, will pitch the first game of the 1963 October classic, probably against Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax, at Yankee Stadium next Wednesday.
Yankee left-hander Al Downing and right-hander Jim Bouton will pitch the second and third games for the Yankees, manager Ralph Houk said today in making known his series plans. He did not specify the order of pitchers for the second and third games.
Houk said he would depend on just three starters, thus assigning Ralph Terry, pitching hero of the Yankees' 1962 World Series triumph over San Francisco, to bullpen duty.
Houk also said he planned to

The Arkansas Razorbacks polished their attack in preparation for Missouri. Coach Frank Broyles said guard Mike Hales, injured before fall practice began, would be red-shirted for the season.

The Rice Owls worked on defense against LSU plays. There has been no contact since Monday night's intrasquad scrimmage and Coach Jess Neely said: "We won't have any more before we play LSU."

Southern Methodist's Mustangs worked out in helmets, shoulder pads and shorts. Emphasis was placed on kickoffs and field goal kicking. John Buchanan and John Richey drew praise from Coach Hayden Fry for their booting.

NFL Won't Talk About A Playoff

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League has quashed an informal proposal by the rival American League that the two leagues meet in a post-season championship playoff.

"We have no plans for such a game," was the only answer of NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle. The comment came after AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said Wednesday his league might make a formal proposal to the NFL for a playoff in 1964.

"We have indicated in the past that we would like to meet them in a game," said Foss at a press luncheon. "Always in the past, their answer has been 'We don't consider playing games with people who are suing us.' We sued them because we thought our case had merit, but we lost. Now that is out of the way."

The AFL lost an appeal Monday on its $10-million monopoly suit against the NFL.

The 4-year-old AFL has made numerous overtures in the past to the 44-year-old NFL about a playoff game, but nothing has ever been formally proposed. And the NFL always has refused to elaborate on its "We have no plans for such a game" statement.

If the AFL should decide to make a formal proposal it would likely be made in late January when the NFL holds its annual meeting in Miami Beach.

Colts Rehire Patient Craft

HOUSTON (AP)—Manager Harry Craft of the Houston Colts says when a team "carried as many kids as we did you have to be patient, or you'll crack up."

Craft made the remark after it was announced he would manage the National League Colts again in 1964.

Craft has been criticized by some who said he is too patient and not tough enough.

"I have never thought that being patient was a sign of weakness," he said. "I don't think that a lack of discipline has been one of our problems. I've handed out some fines, and some of them have been pretty stiff."

The announcement of Craft's rehiring by General Manager Paul Richards put an end to the speculation about his future and announced the 48-year-old Craft.

He signed a contract for a few days ago, he said. "It was up to them when they want to announce it."

He said his second game choice lay between Podres and Drysdale.

Houk, who has been able to play his regular line-up including Mantle and Maris, only 10 days this year, said Mantle currently is in his best shape since his June 5 foot fracture.

"I'm going to go with the pitchers who have done the best job during the regular season," the Yankee skipper said.

The same starting line-up which defeated the Giants in seven games last October will open against Los Angeles regardless of who pitches for the Dodgers.

"I understand the Dodgers are going to go with three pitchers, too—Koufax, Podres and Drysdale," said Houk. "I talked with Alston (Dodger Manager Walter Alston) during a radio interview and he came right out and said Mantle would pitch the first game."

"He said his second game choice lay between Podres and Drysdale."

160 Put Spotless Records On Line

By The Associated Press
With only one-fourth the field of 619 teams having survived the first three weeks of play, 160 undefeated, untied records go on the line this weekend in Texas school football.

Top rated teams all face strong tests: Port Arthur, ranked No. 1 in Class AAAA, clashes with Pasadena.

Dumas, Class AAAA defending champion with the state's longest winning streak, 1 straight, plays Artesia, N.M.

Denver City, pace setter of Class AA, could be in for trouble as it meets Levelland. However, Denver City already has put away two Class AAAA outfits and doesn't seem to be worried.

Albany, No. 1 in Class A but not unbeaten, tackles Class AA Winters.

The feature games, however, are those matching Corpus Christi Miller with San Antonio Jefferson in Class AAAA and Nederland with Lukin in Class AAA.

Lufkin is in AAAA but Nederland—boasting a tie with Pharr—will shoot into the AAA state runner-up, and a 21-0 victory over Jacksonville—looks capable of downing the unbeaten Panthers.

Miller is rated No. 3 in the state and Jefferson long has been considered the power of the San Antonio area.

Defending Class AAAA champion Brackenridge, which opened the season last week with a 61-20 slaughter of Uvalde, plays San Antonio Harlandale and should find the competition sterner.

It's a good bet, however, that Brackenridge slams Harlandale 21-0.

Port Arthur, the No. 1 spot holder of Port Arthur, The Eagles currently are ranked No. 2.

There are 133 unbeaten teams in the four classes that play to state championships but 23 of them have ties on their records.

Thompson Is Sentenced To 10 Years

HOUSTON (AP)—Hank Thompson, former third baseman and outfielder for the New York Giants, has been sentenced to 10 years in prison for stealing a pistol and using it in a liquor store robbery.

Thompson, 39, who had been working as a house painter after coming here from New York, pleaded guilty to a $150 holdup of a liquor store last July 13. He was arrested the same night. He also pleaded guilty to burglary and theft of a printing shop.

"This is one of the toughest sentences I have ever had to pass on anyone," Judge John Barrow said Wednesday. "You are still a young man. You have a great past and you still have lots of friends. Keep your prison record clean and I'll give you all the help I can."

With time off for good behavior, Thompson could become eligible for parole in about four years.

One of the first Negroes to play in the major leagues, Thompson has had many run-ins with the law. In 1933 he was arrested on a theft complaint in Texas and sent to a state training school.

He was accused of murder in Dallas in 1934 but the charge was dismissed.

At the end of his baseball career in the mid-1930s, Thompson was arrested five times.

In 1938 on an automobile theft charge, in 1939 on a charge of assault, and in 1941 on charges of robbery, assault, carrying concealed weapons and armed robbery.

NEWCASTLE, Ireland (AP)—Joanna Gunderson, three-time United States women's amateur golf champion, was confident today that she had a good chance of adding the British title to her collection.

The 24-year-old Providence, R.I. Curtis Cup star reached the quarter-finals Wednesday with a hole victory over Margaret Sullivan of Ireland.

"JoAnne said, 'I feel I'm hitting the ball better and better,'" Judy Bell, U. S. Curtis Cup player from Broadmoor, Colo., lost by one hole to Julia Gurney of England.

Mrs. Anne Sturges of Ohio, lost 2 and 1 to Irish champion Phenomena Garvey.

2 Veterans Are Favored

HOUSTON (AP)—Veterans Jackie Burke and Jim Demaret were co-favorites today in the fourth annual Texas Open Tournament being played at the Champions Golf Club.

Prize money this year totals $7,500, with $1,000 for first.

Demaret is a three-time winner of the Masters. Burke has a Masters and a PGA championship to his credit.

Others in an imposing field are defending champion Buddy Weaver of Lake Jackson, Doug Higgins of Fort Worth, Butch Baird of Houston and Elroy Marti of Houston.

In a pro-sponsor event Wednesday, Demaret fired a 65 for individual low score honors. John Lively of Jacksonville was second with a 67.

The feature games, however, are those matching Corpus Christi Miller with San Antonio Jefferson in Class AAAA and Nederland with Lukin in Class AAA.

Lufkin is in AAAA but Nederland—boasting a tie with Pharr—will shoot into the AAA state runner-up, and a 21-0 victory over Jacksonville—looks capable of downing the unbeaten Panthers.

Miller is rated No. 3 in the state and Jefferson long has been considered the power of the San Antonio area.

Defending Class AAAA champion Brackenridge, which opened the season last week with a 61-20 slaughter of Uvalde, plays San Antonio Harlandale and should find the competition sterner.

It's a good bet, however, that Brackenridge slams Harlandale 21-0.

Port Arthur, the No. 1 spot holder of Port Arthur, The Eagles currently are ranked No. 2.

There are 133 unbeaten teams in the four classes that play to state championships but 23 of them have ties on their records.

Commie Uses American's Privileges

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A San Antonio man identified at a Washington hearing as a Communist says he did "what any other self-respecting American would have done" when he refused to register as a Communist.

John W. Stanford Jr. said Wednesday he had written President Kennedy an open letter telling why he failed to show up for a hearing before the Subversive Activities Control Board.

He "was represented at the hearing Monday by Washington lawyer Joseph Forer."

William Lowery of Dallas testified before the board that he had been a member of the Communist party since 1945 and that Stanford was elected state executive secretary of the party in 1958.

The hearing was called by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy to require Stanford's registration under the Subversive Activities Control Act.

Stanford claims he is being persecuted for his political beliefs. Declaring he does not intend to register, he said:

"When I received a copy of Atty. Gen. Kennedy's petition to the Subversive Activities Control Board I did what any other self-respecting American would have done: I told him that the government has no business telling me what my politics should be."

"I refused to file a form of self-incrimination, and I refused to answer his allegations against me."

Meanwhile, Dist. Atty. James Barlow said a San Antonio man was studying the law to see if his office could take any action against Stanford.

Walker Is Named Manager Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry (The Hat) Walker, manager of the Atlanta Braves, today was named the International League's Manager of the Year in a poll of the league's baseball writers.

It was a repeat performance for Walker, who won the designation in 1953 when he managed Rochester.

The Crackers finished the league's Southern Division season in a tie with Indianapolis, but lost in a one-game playoff.

Mays Is Still Going After Batting Title

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Watch Willie Mays, baseball's bounciest convalescent. He may be the first guy to win a batting title with an off-year.

The San Francisco Giants' center fielder, who fought through a protracted slump and then was forced into a four-game layoff with nervous exhaustion early this month, is on a hitting tear.

Willie went 4-for-4 Wednesday, a triple, two doubles and a single—although the Giants were beaten by Philadelphia 6-4, and powered himself right into the middle of the scrap for the National League batting title.

Mays was hitting .301 when he was sidelined, and in a phenomenal climb since then he has raised his average to .317. He's currently on a 13-game hitting streak, 25-for-81 and a 472 clip.

Ahead of Mays in the scramble for the batting crown are:

Defending champion, Tommy Davis of the pennant-winning Los Angeles Dodgers—batting .323 after two singles in three trips in a 1-0 triumph over the New York Mets. Sandy Koufax won his 25th in that one, and became the fourth pitcher to hit .300 in a season.

Dick Groat of St. Louis—batting .320 after two hits in five trips as the second-place Cardinals ended a six-game losing string by beating the Chicago Cubs 5-2.

Orlando Cepeda of the Giants—whacked a three-run homer in four appearances and has a .319 average.

Others in an imposing field are defending champion Buddy Weaver of Lake Jackson, Doug Higgins of Fort Worth, Butch Baird of Houston and Elroy Marti of Houston.

In a pro-sponsor event Wednesday, Demaret fired a 65 for individual low score honors. John Lively of Jacksonville was second with a 67.

SOMETHING IS HAPPENING TO US!

Rockefeller Must Put In Bid With Historians, Or Poets

BY INEZ ROBB

My friend with the whim of iron stirred another drop of lemon in to her tea.

"I've been giving a lot of thought recently to Governor Rockefeller and the decision he's going to have to make eventually," she began.

"You mean whether or not to try for the Republican nomination and the Presidency?" I asked.

"You can put it on that mundane level if you want to," she said.

"But if he is really shooting for the stars, his choice is between the poets and the historians."

For true immortality, take the poets every time. Do you seriously believe that Cleopatra would be "roaring around in living, breathing color" if Shakespeare hadn't rescued her from history?

For that matter, who would remember Guinevere or Isidore or even Phaedra, who shocks Congressmen, if it weren't for poets and playwrights and novelists?

And by the way, Congressmen apparently don't read much except the "Congressional Record," or they'd know that Phaedra never won any Girl Scout medals or entered the Pillsbury Contest.

But to get back to Rockefeller—the poets are currently running against him. Now, this could be only a temporary condition. But if the trend continues to Senator Goldwater, the Governor is in danger of winding up as a few paragraphs in some future books by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. or by Theodore H. White.

"On the other hand, if he throws in with the poets, he can be remembered as the American Duke of Windsor who renounced an empire and a throne for love. Just think what some future Keats or Auden or Archibald MacLeish or Marianne Moore could do with his story!"

My friend with the whim of iron poured herself another cup of tea.

"What Rockefeller should be working on right now is a moving, magnificent renunciation speech that will ring down the ages like that one of the Duke of Windsor," she declared.

"Yes, but the Duke has a great ghost writer for that speech in Winston Churchill," I said.

"I've been thinking about that, too," my friend continued. "But I think I know the person who can do an equally magnificent job for Governor Rockefeller. Who else but Adlai Stevenson?"

"He may be on the other side of the fence politically," she added quickly. "But who else in America is in a class with him as a master of the spoken word? Yes, Stevenson is the man to start Rockefeller and Happy on the road to poetic immortality just as Churchill put the Windsors' feet on the same path. And, anyway, Stevenson might regard the job as a favor to his own party."

"We're too close to the Windsor and the Rockefeller stories now to evaluate what the poets and playwrights in the future will do with both except rework the material until it is as familiar to future generations as Wordsworth's Lucy or Browning's Last Duchess or Poe's Annabel Lee. Poets can forget the embarrassing or unflattering facts and concentrate on the romantic legend. Who do you think immortalized Helen of Troy? The poets or the historians?"

"Who, if he could be immortalized by Keats, would opt for Carlyle or Prescott or even Tennyson?" she asked.

"It's an interesting thesis," I murmured.

"Of course it is!" said my friend with the whim of iron. "If Rockefeller is going to woo the muses, my advice to him is to leave Cleo alone and concentrate on Erato. It's his best bet."

Negro Actor Sees Life As Struggle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"I think of life as a struggle," said Sidney Poitier, "and a struggle at the core of which is man's effort to fashion order out of chaos."

"Because he has a mind and a brain, he is predestined to this struggle eternally."

At 39 Poitier, a man who says he "had to live in a hurry," is rated by many as the world's greatest Negro actor.

Although he feels that personally he is the exception to racial discrimination in the theater—if there is an exception—Sidney has taken a leading role in the fight against segregation.

"I have to be active in it," he said, "because I believe that out of that chaos must come social order. And part of that order will be integration."

Poitier's own life has been a victorious struggle against ignorance and poverty. Raised in barefoot and happy freedom on an island in the Bahamas, he came to this country at the age of 15 after only one year of formal schooling.

Before he joined the Army, which trained him in physiotherapy, Sidney worked as a longshoreman, ditch digger, pin boy in a bowling alley, truck driver, store clerk and parking lot attendant.

It was after leaving the service in 1945 that he decided to become an actor. He set out in an intensive program of self-education, listening to the radio to improve his pronunciation, endlessly reading and studying the dictionary to build his vocabulary.

He worked as a janitor to support himself while taking acting lessons.

"It was lonely work, and I hate loneliness," he recalled. "But loneliness has been my partner all my life—and still is to some extent."

"I don't lead a social life. I don't go to dances or night clubs. I am as much of a recluse as I can be and not have it too noticeable."

"My greatest recreation is doing things with my three children."

Poitier won recognition from critics in such stormy pictures as "The Defiant Ones" and "The Blackboard Jungle." In his last film, "Lilies of the Field," he plays a low-key role as a wandering workman who comes to the aid of five refugee nuns trying to build a chapel in the Arizona desert.

"I've been the angry young man for too long," he said. "I want now to do pictures that make people feel they're human—and that point out being alive is fun."

Suit Against Actor Settled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A writer suing film actor George Raft for an accounting of proceeds from the sale of his life story has settled out of court for an undisclosed amount.

Raft's life story was recently sold for motion picture purposes.

Writer Dean Jennings said he wrote the story for magazine publication under an agreement made in 1957. He said Raft agreed to pay him 20 per cent of the proceeds if the piece were sold for film use.

Jennings said that Raft sold the story for $25,000 and 10 per cent of the film profits, but was refused to give an accounting.

The suit was settled Wednesday.

Junior Editors Quiz on FRUIT

QUESTION: Why are apples also called pomes?

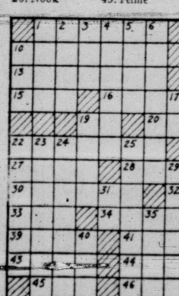

ANSWER: Fruits are of several main kinds. There are the berries, nuts, drupes, and pomes. Pomes are fruits, such as nuts, the drupes, like cherries and peaches, with a hard stone inside a soft body. Apples belong to still another group called pomes, from the Latin "pomonum." Pome fruits develop as shown on the left. In (1), we see the cross section of an apple blossom, inside the flower base, or receptacle, are several leaf-like "carpels" which will later enclose the seed. In (2) the flower has withered, but tissue from its various parts has begun to swell out around the carpel part, or "core." Tissue from the carpel also becomes greatly enlarged in (3) and in (4), with its bright red or yellow skin, it has become an apple, which many people regard as the king of fruits. Apples are not the only pomes. The pear, as our drawing shows, has a similar core and develops in the same way. Other pomes are the quince, haw and junberry.

FOR YOU TO DO: Slice an apple and look for a heart-shaped line in the flesh. Tissue outside this came from parts of the flower. Inside, it was derived from the carpel part. But when you bite into it, it all tastes equally good!

(Brenda Darter of Russellville, Ark., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.)

START OF RACE—A skunk leans over to take a nip at the ear of his opponent — an armadillo — at the start of a highly touted race held at Forestburg, Texas. Holding the participants are John Anderson and Mrs. Rex Anderson. The races were staged by Anderson and Walter Potet, dealers in the varmints, after much discussion of the relative speeds of the animals. The skunks won two out of three races. The race course was a 32-foot diameter circle and the first one to reach the outside was the winner. (AP Wirephoto)

Forces In Congo Hot Issue In U.N.

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S.-backed move to keep a limited U.N. force in the Congo through next June faced powerful opposition today from the Soviet bloc and several noncommunist nations.

Sponsors of the proposal won the first round Wednesday when the General Assembly's 11-nation budgetary committee gave top priority to the question of financing an extension of the Congo operation. But opposition was building up.

U.S. representatives have expressed confidence the General Assembly will approve the costs of a curtailed force, estimated at $48 million to $55 million. Soviet bloc delegates insist the issue should be decided in the Security Council, where Moscow could veto it. They are expected to exert the greatest pressure against assembly extension of the life of the U.N. Congo force.

France, Portugal and South Africa also were counted among the dissenters. Like the Soviet bloc, the three have refused to pay any part of the Congo costs.

Secretary-General U Thant has told the assembly he must know by Oct. 1 whether it will approve the costs of an extension. He has said 6,000 men are needed for an effective force and about $25 million is needed to maintain them for six months after the Dec. 31 expiration date. Thant has warned that unless the money is raised, he will liquidate the force of about 7,500 men at the end of the year.

The Nigerian foreign minister, Jaja Wachuku told the budgetary committee he spoke for the 32 African nations in appealing for continuation of the U.N. force. But some African states are hostile to Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula's regime and believe the U.N. force is helping to keep him in power.

Negro Co-ed First At Newcomb College

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A Negro co-ed has become the first of her race to enroll in Newcomb College, the women's undergraduate division of Tulane University. She is Deidra Dumas of New Orleans, a sophomore transfer from Xavier University, predominantly Negro school here. Miss Dumas began classes Monday at Newcomb. Tulane accepted Negro students last spring.

Nation Has Full Gamut Of Weather

CHICAGO (AP)—There were a few wet and cool spots but generally pleasant weather prevailed across the major part of the nation today.

Temperatures moderated in the Northeast after a brief spell of unseasonably cool weather. However, readings were in the 30s in some northern sections in the mountain areas. The 40s and 50s were reported in most areas.

In contrast to the near-freezing weather, temperatures were near 90 degrees in the far Southwest. Strong easterly winds Wednesday fanned warm air from the south-west Desert region along the Southern California Coast. The mercury, which reached 105 in Phoenix, Ariz., soared to 107 in Los Angeles.

More rain fell from southeast Georgia into Florida. But the heavy rains which have hit Florida areas for nearly a week tapered off. Fairly gusty winds, with high tides, were reported along sections of the northeast coast. Showers broke out in areas along a weak cold front across the Midwest from Michigan to Texas.

Reports By Panels Heard

Committee reports reviewing the month's activities were heard Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club. The attendance and membership committee reported an increase in club membership of four new members for the month of September, and are fully expecting to attain their membership goal by the end of the year.

Plans were announced for the annual Kiwanis Club Pancake Supper to be held in the Lamar Jr. High cafeteria on Friday, Dec. 6. Further details will be announced at a later date.

Inter-club chairman Bill Brown also announced plans for an inter-club visit to Colorado City next Tuesday.

Club president Jim Mathis presided at the meeting. Luncheon music was furnished by the club sweetheart, Nancy Meador.

The 1963 - 64 National Hockey League season will run through Sunday, March 22. A total of 210 games will be played.
