Ray H. Page Describes Fatal Accident In Trial For Murder Of Electra Girl

TRIAL CLOSES TODAY

Jury Gets Case on Close Of Arguments Over Girl's Death

Arguments of attorneys to the jury are to begin before Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court at 9 o'clock Thursday morning in the trial of Ray H. Page on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Evelyn M. Patton near Electra as the result of a traffic accident on the night of Nov. 13, 1931.

Almost two days have been consumed in the introduction of evidence. The trial opened Monday morning, and more than one day was required for the selection of 12 jurors. Both sides closed their cases at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

All of Wednesday morning and part of the afternoon was taken by Bernard Martin, defense counsel, in the examination of witnesses whose testimony was designed to show that Miss Patton's death was the result of an unavoidable accident.

Taking the stand in his own defense, Page told of having been at work in his shop throughout the day of Nov. 13, but of driving several miles into the country south of Electra about 9:30 o'clock that night to take home Howard Ellis, a customer at the defendant's welding shop. The defendant denied having drunk any intoxicating liquor on that date. He said that it had been raining that night, that the pavement was wet, and that his windshield was so wet as to obscure his vision of the road.

"As I drew near the culvert, just south of where the accident occurred," the witness said, "I saw two lights, like headlights of a car, which seemed to have turned into the highway ahead of me. They came toward me, and rapidly grew further apart, as though they were approaching at high speed. It

Ex-Governor Summoned To Indian Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur late today telegraphed former Gov. H. J. Hagerman at Santa Fe, informing him of the request of Chairman Frazier of the senate Indian committee that he appear before the group.

Secretary Wilbur declined to comment upon Frazier's request, but it was announced he had asked Hagerman to come to Washington to appear.

Department officials pointed out the request for Hagerman to come before the committee went to him as a member of the defunct Pueblo lands board and not as an official on the Indian bureau.

The committee will open hearings Tuesday on the Bratton-Cutting bill to add approximately $760,000 to the board's awards to Indians and $238,000 for white settlers involved in the land cases.

Woman Tells Story of Two Men's Attack

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20. (US)—In a hysterical condition, pretty Mrs. Clarice Lombardi, young wife of a Phoenix, Ariz., business man, today told police she had been kidnaped, criminally assaulted and robbed by two men who held her captive in the Malibu hills for six hours.

As she tearfully recited details in her apartment, her husband, C. F. Lombardi, was reported speeding here by plane from San Francisco.

Mrs. Lombardi told detectives that the two men forced entrance to her car Monday night in front of her apartment. Upon arrival in the hills north of Santa Monica the pair beat and attacked her, she declared. Then they stripped her of jewels valued at $600 and $125 in cash. The men drove her back to Los Angeles and then fled in their own machine, a small delivery truck.

Patman Wants Bonus Paid With New Money Issue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Full cash payment of the soldiers' bonus certificates through issuance of new money was urged in the house today by Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas.

"This debt should be paid in treasury notes which would circulate as money," he said. "This would cause a moderate inflation of $2,200,000,000 in the currency which is much needed at this time."

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20. (AP)—Fire damaged the library of the Kansas City Star and burned an adjoining broadcasting studio of radio station WDAF before it was extinguished late today. No great damage was done to the Star building but valuable files and books were lost.

Oklahoma-Texas Congressmen Introduce Bills For Oil Tariff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Protective oil levies based upon the tariff commission's report on foreign and domestic petroleum cost differences were asked today in a bill introduced by Representative Disney, Democrat, Oklahoma.

Meanwhile, vigorous indorsement of a similar measure submitted by Representative Sanders, Democrat, Texas, came from the Independent Producers association, which is waging a campaign for an oil tariff.

Disney's bill seeks a duty of $1.03 a barrel on crude petroleum, the difference between foreign and domestic costs set forth by the commission in its recent report.

Each measure recites that "reports of the tariff commission show an import duty upon crude petroleum, fuel oil, gasoline, lubricating oils and other products of petroleum is necessary to equalize the cost of production."

A levy of 50 per cent ad valorem on refined products is asked in each measure, with the rates to be based upon the American selling price.

Hearings on these proposals and a number of other oil tariff measures are expected to be started in February or early in March by the house ways and means committee.

R. B. Brown, counsel of the independent producers, said of Sanders' bill:

"If the house will follow that bill, it can give a very definite relief to the oil industry. It is absolutely in harmony with the principles of both parties for scientific revision of the tariff."

GUN VICTIM WAGES FIGHT FOR HER LIFE

Mrs. Parker's Condition Unchanged; Brother-in-Law Makes Bond

Mrs. La Vina Parker, estranged wife of a wealthy Wichita Falls oil operator, continued to hold her own Wednesday night against the ravages of two bullet wounds, inflicted early Tuesday morning as she stood in front of her home, 1706 Elizabeth street. Physicians at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital said her fate would not be known for another 24 hours.

Meanwhile the husband, James E. Parker charged with the shooting, continued to weep aloud in his cell at the Wichita county jail, making no effort to obtain bond on the assault to murder charges. His brother, Roy, accused with him, was released on a $1,500 bond Wednesday afternoon.

The young woman, mother of two children, was shot through the lung and the abdomen after Roy Parker had called her from her bedroom to the car where James Parker and an unwilling witness were waiting. Horace Cozart, summoned to the house by a mysterious telephone message, was kidnaped, forced to enter Parker's car, witness the shooting, and go with the husband to the police station after the woman had slumped, screaming, to the ground.

Bridegroom Rushed To Hospital After Wedding Ceremony

WACO, Texas, Jan. 20. (AP)—It was Clarence Oliver "Preacher" Thurman's wedding night, but he barely made it. An attact of appendicitis almost broke up the wedding of the Galveston baseball star at the altar.

About 8 p. m., Thurman was married to Miss Letha Douglas of Waco by his father, a Methodist minister of Chillicothe. It was from this connection the pitcher obtained the name "Preacher" by which he is known in Texas league circles.

Instead of embarking on a honeymoon trip, however, Thurman was rushed to a hospital immediately after the ceremony for an emergency operation.

The attack came shortly before the ceremony, and for a while it was thought Thurman would not be able to go through with it.

Hoover Opposes Cut in Federal Workers' Pay

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (US)—President Hoover is unalterably opposed to a general wage reduction for federal workers it was said at the White House today as the movement in congress was brought to his attention.

It was said that the president on every occasion has gone on record as opposed to cutting the wages either in the government or industry.

It was said, however, that there are some individual cases of government employes who are overpaid and he would have no objection to seeing them reduced on the same basis that he would like to see the wages of the underpaid increased.

Bankers Glad for France To Have Gold Moved

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—International bankers said today they welcomed rather than disapproved France's plans to withdraw $125,000,000 gold from New York in the early future.

This amount, it was explained, had been set aside in the federal reserve bank's "ear-marked" account for export three months ago, when it was deducted from America's gold supply. The gold does not come from the American supply, but represents purely a shifting of some of France's own gold supply, it was stated.

DALHART MAN NEW GOVERNOR OF PORTO RICO

James R. Beverly Selected To Succeed T. R. Jr. In Island Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (US)—James R. Beverly, a native of the Panhandle of Texas, was today selected by President Hoover to suceed Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., as governor of Porto Rico.

Beverly has been in Porto Rico for the last seven years. He went there on the public utilities commission and two years later was made attorney general. He was frequently acting governor. He speaks the language of the islands fluently and is familiar with the political and financial problems. He was strongly recommended by Governor Roosevelt. He is a Republican.

DEMOCRATIC DAD SWELLS WITH PRIDE

DALHART, Texas, Jan. 20. (AP)—William Beverly, 77, Democrat father of the new governor of Porto Rico, is proud of his Republican son.

"James was always a studious and ambitious boy, and his mother—now dead five years—was ambitious for him," the father said when advised of his son's newest appointment. "His success may be attributed in great measure to his mother."

Beverly, a retired rancher, is a staunch Democrat. His friends have "razzed" him frequently in recent years about his "Republican son."

"James deserted the party in 1924, when his devoted friend, Dr. George C. Butte, made the race for governor against the Fergusons," Beverly said. "He had been a good Democrat until then."

The new governor of Porto Rico graduated from the Dalhart High school as an honor student in 1913, and the same year was elected principal of the school. He left the University of Texas to enlist in the army on the day the United States entered the world war.

He has three brothers in Texas, two of them in army service. Lieut. George H. Beverly is an instructor at Kelly Field, San Antonio, and another brother, William Jr., is in the air service there. Henry Beverly is manager of a lumber yard in Amarillo.

Oil Men Agree to Curb Oklahoma Stripper Wells

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 20. (AP)—After planning to launch a strong protest to curtailment of flow from the 56,000 stripper oil wells of Oklahoma, leaders of the movement decided today to abandon their plans.

Winston P. Henry of Tulsa, leader of the movement, said many stripper well owners believed it better to leave their oil in the ground than take present low prices and revealed the owners were not agreed as to the best course of action for them.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 20. (UP)—Two high school boys confessed this afternoon to Police Chief Owen Kilday that they, with three others, Sunday night blew up the skeet tower of the San Antonio Gun club and a bridge on Sunshine drive.

Business Aid Measure Speeded on Way to Congress Vote This Week

ACTION DUE FRIDAY

Backers Hope to See Great Financial Corporation At Work Monday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (US)—Under instructions from the White House to speed action, senate and house conferees late today unanimously adopted the conference report on the $2,000,000,000 reconstruction finance corporation bill.

Gen. Charles G. Dawes, selected as president of the gigantic fiscal agency, brought word to the conference room prior to the session to resolve all differences quickly, so that the corporation can begin functioning to bolster business.

Action Due Friday

The conferees meet again tomorrow morning to sign the report. It will be presented to the senate and house in the afternoon. Under the rules the report must lie over a day. Final enactment is expected Friday and the measure will be sent to President Hoover Saturday for signature.

With Dawes already named as president and Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, as chairman, the corporation will be ready to launch operations next week. President Hoover plans to send the names of the seven directors to the senate for confirmation shortly after he signs the bill.

Provisions Outlined

Provisions agreed to by the conferees were announced jointly by Senator Walcott, Republican of Connecticut and Representative Steagall, Democrat of Alabama, coauthors of the bill. These are the main features:

The corporation shall have $500,000,000 capital and $1,500,000,000 in revenues to be loaned to financial institutions and railways to aid agriculture, commerce and industry.

Relief is provided for closed banks, which may borrow up to $200,000,000 of the corporation's funds.

No Foreign Loans

Corporation bonds may not be rediscounted by the federal reserve system, but they are eligible for purchase and sale by the treasury department.

No loans can be made on foreign securities as collateral.

A fund of $50,000,000 is to be given immediately to the secretary of agriculture for loans to small farmers. Steagall explained this amount may later be expanded to $200,000,000 under the bill's provision, but Walcott disputed this point.

Report April 1

The corporation must make report quarterly to congress, with the first report due on April 1, 1932.

Corporation bonds are subject only to surtax, estate, inheritance and gift taxes.

A provision was stricken out of the bill which might have permitted loans to such private institutions as the National Credit corporation.

The $200,000,000 apportionment for closed banks is designed as a temporary measure, declared Walcott, who announced that action would be rushed in congress on the Glass bill for federal aid to depositors in closed banks.

Attorney for Mrs. Fortescue and Three Men Seeks to Kill Charges

Honolulu Circuit Court Asked to Dismiss Complaint as Legislator Answers Kentucky Criticism

HONOLULU, Jan. 20. (AP)—A motion asking dismissal of the police court complaint charging Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three navy men with the murder of Joseph Kahahawai was filed in circuit court today by their attorney.

Basing his motion on constitutional grounds, the attorney, Montgomery Winn, charged the right of the defendants to a speedy trial had been prejudiced and that the city and county attorney would not ask the grand jury for an indictment tomorrow as originally promised.

Held Without Bond

Mrs. Fortescue; her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, navy enlisted men, are being held without bond in custody of naval officers at Pearl Harbor for the slaying Jan. 8 of Kahahawai, suspected attacker of Mrs. Massie.

Winn asserted City and County Attorney James F. Gilliland would not present an indictment to the grand jury tomorrow because "he is attempting to secure outside counsel to prosecute the case and that in the event he does not succeed in the attempt" he will postpone action until a public prosecutor is chosen under a proposed act of the territorial legislature now in session.

Gilliland Under Fire

Gilliland has been under fire in the recent investigations and reform movements growing out of criticism of law enforcement. The bill before the legislature would relieve him of criminal prosecutions and place that task in the hands of an assistant to the territorial attorney general.

Prejudice Charged

Winn's motion also charges that Gilliland gave to the newspapers statements allegedly made by Mrs. Fortescue and Jones, thereby prejudicing the rights of all four to a fair and impartial trial.

The defense counsel also alleged that Gilliland had completed the investigation upon which the murder charge was based but was postponing grand jury action pending appointment of a special prosecutor or enactment of the bill transferring the prosecution to another official.

'TIGERESS' TO BEGIN BATTLE OF LIFE TODAY

Testimony to Open After Final Approval of Twelve Jurors

STRATEGY HINTED

Defense May Attempt to Shift Guilt; Hallaran Is Summoned

By RALPH O. BROWN
COURTHOUSE, PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 20. (AP)—Slender Winnie Ruth Judd, once-confessed slayer, will begin in earnest tomorrow the battle for her life, with a phantom co-defendant awaiting possible materialization when the horde of witnesses begin their parade to the witness stand.

Whether this ghost of a three months old murder investigation, brought into open court today by defense counsel in questioning of prospective jurors to try Mrs. Judd for murder of Agnes Anne Lerol, ever will be embodied in the present case will depend, it was indicated, on the trend of testimony during trial.

In addition to the present case, in which first witnesses will testify tomorrow, Mrs. Judd is accused of slaying Hedvig Samuelson, tubercular convalescent friend both of herself and Mrs. Lerol.

Panel of 29

A jury panel of 29 and an alternate panel of four was seated, according to Arizona law, before Judge Howard C. Speakman's Maricopa county superior court adjourned today. Overnight, opposing counsel were to decide upon the names to be stricken by peremptory challenge, to be prepared to produce the trial jury of 12 men immediately after court convenes tomorrow. One alternate will be seated. The prosecution may exercise 10 peremptory challenges and the state seven.

The broad hint, placed on court records by Herman Lewkowitz, attorney associated with Paul Schenck in the defense, of defense plans to endeavor, should circumstances permit, to establish "reasonable doubt of the connection "of Mrs. Judd with the slayings, and the possibility the crime was com-

Woman's Body Is Her Own Property English Court Decides in Balm Suit

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., Jan. 20. (US)—"A woman's body does not belong to her husband. It is her own property, not his."

This striking interpretation of British jurisprudence, bestowing new freedom on the modern English woman, was handed down today by Justice McCardie, England's famed "bachelor judge," in an alienation of affections suit. The court ruled no act of "enticement" could be proved against the defendant in the light of this interpretation.

The suit was brought by J. D. Place, Cambridge grocery clerk. He charged that Dr. C. F. Searle, a local physician had enticed Mrs. Place away from him.

Dr. Searle and Mrs. Place admitted their "deep friendship" to the court and Mrs. Place admitted she had left her husband. Justice McCardie said:

"The position of women in this country has changed in an extraordinary manner, both by statute and by decision, during the past 50 years. I must put the matter bluntly.

"I must tell you a woman's body does not belong to her husband. It is her own property, not his. She can leave her husband by her own will. She can choose her own occupation, political party, and religion. She can decide whether to bear children.

"No man today can make himself the owner of a woman under the guise of marriage. The married woman in this country has gained her freedom. She is a citizen, not a serf. She can exercise her own judgment. She can choose her own part; she can decide her own future."

Friends of 'Grandma' Kemp Pay Last Tribute to Pioneer Wichita Woman

Wichita Falls and West Texas Wednesday paid final tribute to Mrs. Emma Frances Kemp, 92, mother of Wichita Falls' builder, the late Joseph A. Kemp.

Funeral services for "Grandma" Kemp, as she was known to the most of her scores of friends in this section, were held Wednesday afternoon from the First Baptist church. Dr. O. L. Powers, the pastor, officiated with the assistance of Dr. George P. Horst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial was in Riverside under the direction of the Hines mortuary.

Active pallbearers were all grandsons-in-law, Orville Bullington, John F. O'Donohoe, S. M. Gose, Clyde Straus Jr., W. Newton Maer and Charles L. Francis.

Although accorded honor as the mother of Wichita Falls' "first citizen," Mrs. Kemp was known and respected for her own numerous activities and accomplishments in civic affairs and social service. Her life although devoted primarily to her children and grandchildren was marked with her untiring efforts in the interests of others.

She died Tuesday morning at 4:30 at her home, 1911 Lucile. Until stricken Monday with an attack of acute indigestion she had enjoyed good health for one of her advanced years.

She had resided in Wichita Falls for 27 years, joining her children here in 1904. She had resided in looked like they were coming straight at me. I pulled to the right, and they seemed again to be headed right at me. Then there was just a flare of light, and I jerked by head to the left to try to see around the windshield. That must have been when the cars crashed, for I didn't know for a while just what happened."

Page Injured

Page testified that his left side, chest, and neck were injured by the impact, and that his head was knocked violently against the metal arm supporting the top of his roadster. Accounting for the presence of a gun found by officers in his car, the defendant said he once served at Burkburnett as a traffic policeman, and had procured at that time the "Special Officer" badge found on the holster of the pistol. It had been tossed in the car on the morning of Nov. 13 after being oiled as protection against the wet weather, he said.

The defendant's wife took the stand to testify that at supper time on the day of the accident, Page was not intoxicated.

Howard Ellis told of coming to the defendant's shop about 8:30 p. m. on Nov. 13 on business, and remaining there until Page took him home about 9:30. D. C. Ellis, father of Howard, testified that Page brought his son home about 10:30 p. m., and stopped at the house for a while. Both witnesses said that defendant appeared to be sober during the time he was in their presence.

Brother Testifies

Bert Page, brother of the defendant who said he came from California to assist in the defense, told of making a test Tuesday evening with two cars at the scene of the accident. A car parked where the crash occurred, he said, was picked up by the lights of a car approaching from the south at a distance of 130 feet, owing to the curve in the road. The witness also told of having photographs of the two cars made, and these pictures were introduced in evidence by the defense. They showed that the parked car of Eschol Holbrook had been hit just about center rear by the defendant's car.

The witness also testified that on a dark night, the lights of an automobile often are reflected by the back window of a car ahead making it appear that another car is coming from the opposite direction.

Physician Called

Dr. L. Mackechney, local physician, told of having examined Page about 15 days after the accident occurred. He recalled that the patient had tape about the left side of his body below the arm, and complained of soreness in the left side of his neck and head. The witness also testified that concussions of the brain might under some conditions cause the victim to talk with a thick-tongue, and to be uncertain of his gait.

Rebuttal witnesses were presented by the state just before closing. Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney and special investigator, told of having examined the highway where the accident occurred a short time after Nov. 13. He said the car belonging to Constable O. E. Whisenand of Electra was driven upon the dirt shoulder at that point with all four wheels off the pavement, and that the car remained almost level. The defense had offered testimony of Bert Page to show that the shoulder measured no more than 30 inches wide at that point.

Eldon Patton, Clarence Johns, E. E. Wheeler, mayor of Electra, Frank Watkins, Wichita county jailer, and Dewey Doble of Electra took the stand to testify that Page appeared after the accident to be intoxicated. Patton saw the defendant at the scene of the wreck before the ambulance arrived to pick up the body of the dead girl, he said. Johns and Doble, firemen at Electra, told of seeing the defendant walk from the constable's car to the door of the city building after Page had been arrested. Mr. Wheeler saw the defendant standing by his car shortly after the wreck occurred. Each said that the speech and gait of the defendant indicated drunkeness.

Officers Testify

Mr. Whisenand said that on the morning of Nov. 14, Page's breath smelled plainly of whisky when he was brought to the county jail here, and Mr. Watkins said that the odor of whisky was very noticeable when Page was brought to his desk for registration as a prisoner. Roy Hart, night police chief at Electra, also testified that in his opinion Page was intoxicated when taken into custody on Nov. 13. Patton also told of driving by the Holbrook car a few minutes before the crash occurred, and said that both headlights and the tail light were burning brightly.

The girl was killed while standing behind the Holbrook car with her escort, who had stopped to repair a tire. The state's indictment for murder charges that Page was driving a car upon the public highway while intoxicated.

Thieves Nab Newly Captured Still While Sheriff Sleeps

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Jan. 20.—As scarce as are good whisky plants these days, it's getting so it's a hard proposition for a man to keep a still, as Sheriff J. B. Foster of Young county can testify.

Sheriff Foster yesterday had one of the best stills it had ever been his official pleasure to witness. But today the still has a new owner—but just who is the proud possessor of that new, shiny, 70-gallon manufactury of bliss-inducing fluid is not known. And the sheriff would just about swap his chances at the next election to know.

Sheriff Foster and two deputies of Stephens county captured the still Tuesday after a long and tiresome search for it on the Young-Stephens county line near the Huffstuttle community. To make bad matters worse, the two operators of the still escaped the law after leading a foot race that left the officers breathless and somewhat out of humor.

Sheriff Foster returned the plant to Graham. It was so large that he couldn't get it in the jail for safe keeping until it could be officially destroyed. It didn't occur to the sheriff that there would be any immediate demand for the still.

He leaned it up against the jail door.

With the dawn the sheriff was up and about. He went to take a look at his capture of yesterday.

It was gone!

Heartless thieves had stolen the sheriff's prize still while he slept!

Rites Held for 'Grandma' Kemp

Texas for more than 70 years. She was a native of Missouri, the daughter of Joel and Fanny Stinnett. As a young woman she visited a married sister in 1860 at Clifton, Texas, where she met William T. Kemp, who founded the first grist mill in Bosque county.

Their marriages followed. Shortly after the birth of her first son, Joseph A. Kemp, the young wife was left at Clifton to manage the mill and a community store while her husband fought for the Confederacy in the war between the states.

After the close of the war and during their residence in Bosque county, six other children were born to the couple. Five children preceded her in death. Three sons, Thomas Kemp, Maples Kemp and William Clinton Kemp, died many years ago. Her eldest son, J. A. Kemp, died in November, 1930. A year later, a daughter, Mrs. M. M. Adickes, prominent Wichita Falls business woman, died.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Fanny Terry of Columbia, Texas, and Mrs. Lottie Kemp Hill of Comanche, Texas, and 31 grandchildren, 38 great-grandchildren, and several great-great-grandchildren.

Kidnapers Hold Bakery Manager

DENVER, Jan. 20. (AP)—The whereabouts of Benjamin F. Bower, Denver bakery manager, remained unknown tonight as more than 700 police and firemen searched for him and two extortionists who kidnaped him for ransom.

Fear he may have been killed as expressed by Mrs. Bower, who said her husband's abductors had told her he would meet death if she interfered with their plans.

With an elaborate trap arranged by police, awaiting a telephone call which the kidnapers said they would make at noon today, the call was placed a few minutes after 12 o'clock. The caller clicked down the receiver shortly after Mrs. Bower answered the telephone.

Police had arranged for such a contingency and were to plug in on the message and dispatch riot squads to the point of the call, but the call was over so quickly they obtained no information.

Ex-Convict Held In Prison Break

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 20. (AP)—The source of the weapons with which seven inmates of the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., forced their way to temporary liberty last Dec. 11, was believed by United States investigators to have been discovered today with the arrest in Windsor of Harold Fontaine, a former inmate of the prison.

Fontaine was released from Leavenworth last November after serving a sentence for smuggling aliens across the Detroit river. He was arrested on a Windsor street Tuesday. He has announced he will fight extradition to the United States but faces possible deportation as an undesirable.

United States officers said they believed the weapons reached the convicts in a large can of shoe polish which was shipped into the prison shoe factory where Fontaine had worked.

Cisco Woman Found Slain Beside Shotgun

CISCO, Jan. 21. (AP)—Mrs. May Smith, wife of B. L. Smith of the Scranton community, near here, was found shot to death in the yard of her home Tuesday night. A discharged shotgun was at her side.

Several friends with whom her husband was playing dominoes saw her leave the house with the gun, they said. Mr. Smith followed and heard a shot before he could reach his wife. She had been despondent recently, it is said.

HAWAII SOLONS WORK ON LAWS

Attorney Seeks Dismissal of Murder Charges

en against the possibility of criminal attack, the territorial government advanced its reform program another notch.

Bill Passed

The house of representatives passed and sent to the senate a bill to reorganize Honolulu's police department.

Gov. Lawrence M. Judd submitted to the special session of the legislature a bill eliminating from the present law a provision barring juries from convicting men of criminal attack on the uncorroborated testimony of a woman.

The senate, having devoted some of its time to hearing sharp outbursts of its members over the action of the Kentucky legislature in asking presidential intervention in the present local situation and suggesting martial law as an extreme measure, was expected to pass the police bill by Friday.

Representative Harry T. Mills introduced today in the territorial house a concurrent resolution asking Kentucky "which has worn the deserved appellation of 'dark and bloody ground' by reason of many murders, lynchings and outrages" to ascertain "the facts as they apply to Hawaii and the Hawaiian people."

The Kentucky legislature previously had adopted a resolution proposing presidential interference in the Hawaiian situation and advocating martial law here in case other measures were deemed insufficient.

A motion to table Mills' resolution was defeated and over his objection it was referred to the house judiciary committee where Mills asserted it would be "embalmed."

FIFTH DEATH IN KENTUCKY FEUD

LONDON, Ky., Jan. 20. (AP)—Kentucky's worst gun battle in recent history, from the standpoint of lives lost, was written into the records today. The toll of the feud shooting in the New Salem churchyard was brought to five with the death last night of "Little Henry" Johnson.

The other victims were "Big Henry" and Earl Johnson, brothers who were cousins of the man who died last night, and Forrest and Homer Crook, brothers who were neighbors of the Johnsons. They were slain Saturday in the feud outbreak in which "Little Henry" was mortally wounded by a stray bullet.

Willie Johnson, brother of "Big Henry" and Earl, was the only member of the two families present who survived. He was wounded in the arm. Willie was the cause of it all, according to the Crooks who accused him of wronging their 17-year-old sister Ruby.

The girl, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Will Settles, near Connersville, Ind., said she and Willie Johnson were principals in a mock wedding which she thought was legally solemnized. Sheriff W. H. Steele said no charge would be placed against Willie unless further investigation revealed he took part in the shooting.

Kentucky's worst gun battle during the 20th century heretofore was the Clayhole election shooting in Breathitt county in 1921 in which four men were killed and 17 wounded. Four men were killed and five wounded in the battle of Evarts in Harlan county last May, arising from mine labor troubles.

Amarillo Man Announces For Congress

bling and speculation;" and to fight against further meddling in European affairs and further reduction or moratoriums on foreign debts.

"What we need in America is a fair price for what we produce—not gamblers who bet on the want and misery and suffering from depressed prices," he said. "Instead of sending money to Europe we had better do some constructive work at home. We have been the sucker long enough."

Restore Democracy

Colonel Thompson said he would work for a more liberal policy in the issuance of currency, call on his fellow congressmen to look after the interests of the common working people, and try to help them himself by a study of corrective legislation to take privilege from the few and restore democracy.

"If he performs for the people of Texas," declares The News-Globe editorially, "as he has served the people of Amarillo, Texans today are assured that the Lone Star state will have a representative in congress who will make national history from the moment he goes into office."

Three years ago Colonel Thompson told Amarilloans that it was time the tax-payers "had a new deal." In setting out some of the things he believed should be done he said:

"We deserve cheaper utility rates lower taxes and reduced cost of city government. I will immediately start action," he said, "which will get results, and it will be done openly and in a manner that will have the sanction of all our progressive citizens."

Record as Mayor

"What has Mayor Thompson done?" asks his home-town newspapers.

"He has effected a saving for his people," the papers declare, "totaling $1,000,000 a year through reduced light, water, gas and telephone rates, and lower taxes. He has reduced city taxes 25 per cent and has slashed city government costs $240,000 a year, at the same time maintaining an unprecedented program of public improvements which kept the people of his city employed and which gave Amarillo national distinction as a city remaining at the top of the country's business condition map into and through the darkest months of the depression.

"He made good on every campaign promise. He will do for the people of Texas what he did for Amarillo when Texans send him to Washington."

Student of Finance

A student of finance and politics all his life, Mayor Thompson believes the paramount need of the country today is a definite policy on international affairs, especially in its financial phases.

"Instead of sending money to Europe," he declared, "we had better do some constructive work at home. Our government should give no aid whatever to the international bankers who have bled our country dry to make fabulous commissions in working off doubtful bonds on a trusting public."

He believes it is time "our congress should again begin to look after the interests of the common working people. The rich and powerful people of America have received more than their just due at the hand of congress.

"If elected I shall bend my efforts to the end of giving relief to this class of our people through a study of corrective legislation to take the privilege from the few and restore Democracy."

Record Well Known

Colonel Thompson has a richer experience in finance, business and politics than any other young man of Texas today, The Amarillo News-Globe declares.

"His public service in the many fields of endeavor is already an open book to most citizens of his state. His outstanding record as chief executive of Amarillo followed a brilliant war record and a post-war era in which Colonel Thompson served the people of Texas. He was one of the founders of the American legion. He was one of the six Americans selected by the legion in 1923 to represent our nation at the Inter-Allied Veterans conference in Brussels to formulate a world program on disarmament and equitable reparations.

"Colonel Thompson, a graduate of the University of Texas law school, was appointed a member of the board of regents of the Texas Technological college when that great state institution was established at Lubbock.

"He left the army in 1919 to be distinguished as the youngest lieutenant-colonel in the service. He was a machine gun officer in the 90th division. Today he is serving the state as a colonel in the national guard and reserve officers corps."

Firemen Hurt When Noted Temple Burns

DALLAS, Jan. 20. (UP)—The Bush temple, downtown structure here used for a quarter of a century for presentation of concerts and drama and teaching of music, was a blackened ruin tonight. Owen George, a district attorney's assistant, was investigating the fire which broke out in the four-story untenanted building before day and raged for five hours.

Seven firemen were injured. The blaze was the city's first five-alarm fire in years. Two explosions occurred at the height of the blaze. Damage to the building and adjoining mercantile structures was estimated at $60,000. A small stock of merchandise, stored on the third floor of the temple, was ruined.

The music company which had occupied the temple moved to new quarters recently and it had been announced that the building would be remodeled into a group of fine arts studios.

"B.C." Relieves Periodical Pains In Three Minutes

It is so unnecessary for you, lady, to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B.C.," a pleasant acting remedy, will bring soothing relief in three minutes.

"B.C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time.

'B.C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B.C." wherever drugs are sold, in 10c and 25c packages.—Adv.

EAGER TO TELL ABOUT HER STOMACH

"I want to tell others about my experience with Pape's Diapepsin," says Mrs. B. Eastman, 1200 California St., Denver, Colo. "I tried a lot of things for my indigestion, but none of them did any good. Then a friend persuaded me to take a few tablets of this wonderful preparation.

"Now I even eat cabbage without any distress afterwards. It used to cause real suffering. I am not nearly so nervous as I used to be; feel much stronger and better in every way."

A medicine must have real merit to bring forth enthusiastic statements like this. And when not one, but hundreds, even thousands, are telling the same story of success, there seems no reason to doubt the day-in and day-out reliability of Pape's Diapepsin to help stomach sufferers.

These harmless, candy-like tablets relieve the heartburn, nausea, gas, belching, headaches, dizziness and other symptoms of indigestion.

JURY FILLED IN JUDD TRIAL

Testimony in Trunk Murder Opens Today

mitted by another party," harked back to the early days of the murder investigation.

Accomplice Once Sought

The state at one time bent its investigation on the theory Mrs. Judd was not physically able, without aid to commit the slayings and ship the bodies to Los Angeles in trunks. Later the prosecution abandoned that tack. Shortly before the trial, the state was reported to have pressed again its investigation of possible accomplices, but the office of County Attorney Lloyd J. Andrews declined to confirm it.

Mrs. Judd, however, is known recently to have made new statements to her counsel, which are and may continue to be held secret, unless the trend of the trial allows defense attorneys to produce them to the defendants' advantage.

J. J. Hallaran, wealthy lumber dealer of Phoenix, was indicated definitely as an important witness in the defense expectations, when the three talesmen who admitted acquaintance or friendship with the lumberman were accepted for the panel after close questioning by Mrs. Judd's counsel. Halloran was identified early in the investigation as a friend of all three women.

Contractor Named

Another name was placed in the record of Lewkowitz in examination of Henry J. Aten, contractor. "Have you ever done business with the firm of Momsen, Dunnegan & Ryan?" demanded the defense attorney, naming a wholesale hardware and building supply company of Phoenix and El Paso, Texas.

Aten said he had not.

"Are you acquainted with Mr. Ryan of that firm?" Lewkowitz continued.

"No," answered Aten, "I am not."

Hallaran's Friend

The name of Fred Ryan had been brought into the case shortly after the investigation started, as a friend of Hallaran and of the three women.

The defense hint as to possible shifting or division of the burden of guilt fell like a bombshell in the courtroom in the form of a question addressed by Lewkowitz to a prospective juror.

"If you find human life has been taken," asked Lewkowitz, "and there is no direct evidence showing connection of this defendant with the taking of human life, and the court instructs you as to circumstantial evidence and the value thereof, and the evidence raises in your mind a question as to the possibility the crime was committed by another party would you vote not guilty?"

Assistant County Attorney G. A. Rodgers interrupted the question with an objection, but the talesman was allowed to answer he would so vote, after a conference of counsel and reframing of the question by the court.

OLD VESUVIUS ACTS UP A BIT

Slight Quake Disturbs Naples, Italy

NAPLES, Italy, Jan. 21. (Thursday)—(AP)—Inhabitants of Naples were aroused from their beds late last night by a light earthquake and loud explosive noises from Mount Vesuvius, volcano of restless and disastrous history.

Rumbling sounds continued to come from the volcano depths periodically for two hours after the first explosion at 11:19 p. m. Then they ceased.

Something appeared to be wrong inside the volcano and its peculiar behavior caused uneasiness among the inhabitants. There was no report of casualties or damage.

The volcano's crater, which always had been illuminated at night by internal fires, went dark.

The earth shock was light, but together with the ominous sounds was sufficient to wake many of the inhabitants of the surrounding region.

The Vesuvius observatory reported the earthquake apparently had its epicenter under the mountain.

Home of Wichitans Burglarized of $50

House prowlers obtained about $50 in cash late Wednesday night at the home of H. C. Cheshire, 1806 McGregor, while Mr. and Mrs. Cheshire were absent. The intruders apparently knew where to look for the money as nothing was molested in the house, according to Harry King and Herbert Pogue, motorcycle officers who investigated.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheshire returned home shortly before 11 o'clock. They found the rear door open. Upon investigating they found a window had been forced to admit the burglars. The money was taken from a purse which hung in a closet behind clothing. A number of checks were left in the purse.

Intruders were believed to have opened the rear door of the home to make their exit, after having gained entrance through the window.

Illinois Senate Favors 15-Round Boxing Bouts

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 20. (UP)—A boxing bill, authorizing 15-round heavyweight bouts in Illinois instead of the present limit of 10, was passed by the senate today, 38 to 3. It now goes to the house for action.

The bill, backed by Chicago interests, would open the way for a heavyweight championship bout in Chicago between Champion Max Schmeling and the best contender, possibly Jack Dempsey.

Wichitans to See a Bit of Old Spain

Gomez and Winona, celebrated Spanish dance stars, who will be seen in Billy Rose's "Crazy Quilt" at the Memorial auditorium, Wichita Falls Friday, Jan. 29.

Theatrical World Closely Observing 'Crazy Quilt' Tour

The booking of Fannie Brice, Phil Baker and Ted Healy in Billy Rose's "Crazy Quilt" at the Memorial auditorium for one night, Friday, Jan. 29, marks a changed attitude on the part of major New York theatrical producers towards what in show parlance is called "the road."

With the coming of mechanical forms of entertainment the road started to slip. There was a time when even the biggest stars from Richard Mansfield down, considered a tour of the hinterland a part of the season. Then original casts and productions were offered in the large cities of the East and North. The road resented secondary attractions and manifested it by remaining away from the box office.

When laying out a route to follow the Chicago run of "Crazy Quilt" Rose looked upon the pitiful returns that have greeted some excellent attractions in the East during the past season and a half. He cast his eyes southward and westward. Here and there he found cities possessed of civic or fraternal auditoriums with large seating capacities with an occasional theater of ample proportions.

The result is that "Crazy Quilt," with its entire Chicago and New York production intact, is being sent on tour in sections that have not been visited by a comparable attraction in two decades. The result is being watched closely by show men who predict that if Rose's venture is profitable the road will come back into its own as the vertabrae of show business.

Following a program of entertainment in which artists of KGKO participated, a radio was tuned in to receive speeches of George Olmsted, president of the national organization, and Silas Strawn, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, broadcast over the NBC network. Galloping Gunman Draws 'Blank' In Bank Raid Attempt

ST. JOE, Ark., Jan. 20. (US)—Arrayed like an outlaw of the Jesse James era, with 10-gallon hat, prancing steed, silver spurs, silver-mounted saddle and belted with a two-gun holster, a rough looking individual galloped today down the narrow mountain road that leads into St. Joe from the north.

He reined his mount to its haunches in front of the Citizens bank building. Dismounting, he ran into the bank as fast as his high-heeled boots would permit.

Simpson Depriest, owner of the bank, was seated at his desk. His eyesight is almost gone, but he is certain that the man covered him with two guns demanding the bank's money.

Depriest invited the bandit to inspect both vaults carefully and if any money was found to declare a dividend. He informed the bandit that the bank had been closed more than a year and that liquidation had completed the first of the year, but having been a heavy depositor, he had taken the building in settlement of the claim.

The bandit cursed the financial situation that had closed so many banks and "ruined our trade." Remounting, he rode out of town.

IT IS safe { Heals tissue while it kills germs. Reduces mouth bacteria 98%.

When you want relief from sore throat, do not expect it from ordinary mouth washes. Weak ones accomplish nothing. Harsh ones may irritate the very delicate throat tissues, and thus allow germs easier entrance to the body.

Physicians and nurses, and at least 10,000,000 people, have found that full strength Listerine promptly relieves ordinary sore throat. One trial will convince you also. When you use Listerine, you know you are safe—that this great antiseptic actually heals tissue; no irritation whatsoever. You know also that it kills germs in the fastest time. That it reduces bacteria on the surface of the mouth 98%.

Listerine's success in arresting infection and its acceptance by the medical profession and public are based on these properties. They are the subject of comment by The Lancet of London, "the physician's bible."

Use Listerine not only as a treatment for colds and sore throat, but as an aid in preventing them. Note below the remarkable results achieved by Listerine, in this direction.

Only half as many colds

Several hundred people were divided into three groups and kept under medical supervision for periods ranging from 4 weeks to 4½ months, during the winter of 1930-31. One-third of them gargled with full strength Listerine twice a day. One-third gargled with it five times a day. One-third did not gargle with it at all.

Those who gargled with Listerine twice a day contracted only one-half to one-third as many colds as those who did not gargle at all. When Listerine users did develop colds, they were approximately one-fourth as severe and lasted only one-third as long. In a number of tests, even greater resistance was registered.

Those who gargled with Listerine five times a day showed still greater resistance but not in the direct ratio to the number of times used.

These results, amazing as they are, do not mean that Listerine should be used as a substitute for the family physician, who is always your best friend in time of illness. They do mean that the average person can reduce the risk of ill-health considerably by the systematic twice-a-day use of full strength Listerine. Begin now. See how your health improves.

Ask for Listerine at your druggist's—and see that you get it. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo.

OLD CATHEDRAL TO BE MUSEUM

Soviet Makes Use of Famous Church

LENINGRAD, Jan. 20. (AP)—Kazan cathedral, masterpiece of the Russian architect, Voronihin, in the days of Emperor Alexander I, housing priceless religious paintings and dedicated to the Virgin of Kazan, is to become a scientific museum by order of the Soviet government.

The announcement was made closely following another order for the destruction of the Cathedral of The Redeemer, Moscow's largest church, to make way for a new immense auditorium, the "Palace of the Soviets." A third order called for converting the Strastnoi convent at Moscow into a museum.

Kazan cathedral is to be turned over to the Soviet Academy of Science. When its transformation into a museum is completed it will still contain many objects of a religious nature but they will be presented as relics of a past age, to be viewed under the Marxian interpretation that "religion is opium for the people."

The cathedral is built in the form of a cross. It is 236 feet long and 180 feet wide and occupies a prominent location on the once famous Nebski prospect, now known as the prospect of the 25th of October. It is approached by a semicircular colonnade modeled after that of St. Peter's in Rome.

Within are a richly-made ikon of the Virgin of Kazan and a balustrade of solid silver. On great granite pillars in the interior hang 103 banners and eagles captured from Napoleon's army. To the right of the entrance is the tomb of Prince Kutuzoff, a Russian field marshal of the Napoleonic campaign who died in 1813, two years after the cathedral was completed at a cost of $2,000,000.

Tennessee now has a state tax of 7 cents per gallon on gasoline.

Oklahoman Tracks Down Man Accused of Swindling Mother

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20. (AP)—The trail which E. D. Walton, Homestead, Okla., has been following more than a year in search for a man alleged to have swindled his mother out of her life savings of approximately $7,000, was ended here today.

A fugitive from justice complaint was filed against James A. Echols, 47, who was held for Oklahoma City officers. A charge of obtaining money under false pretenses was filed against him in Oklahoma shortly after Walton's mother, Mrs. Ida S. Walton, lost her savings to a man selling purported insurance company stock in November of 1930.

The woman's son, after the man fled from Oklahoma, traced him to Houston. Walton came here yesterday and obtained a job as salesman for an insurance company. Through business associates he learned the whereabouts of the man he was seeking. He had maintained an insurance office here for about 60 days, it was learned.

Deputy Sheriff Rhodes, accompanied by Walton, arrested Echols today.

Felix Robertson Sees Garner Gaining Favor

DALLAS, Jan. 20. (AP)—Judge Felix D. Robertson, former Dallas county magistrate and one time candidate for governor, expressed belief today that the dry element of the Texas Democratic group would support John N. Garner, speaker of the house, if he chooses to run for the presidency, regardless of his stand on the liquor prohibition question.

Robertson, who classed himself as a Hoover Democrat in the 1928 election, said Texas Democrats of all factions would support Garner even though he does not take the stand certain dry leaders insist upon—that is, coming out against repeal of the 18th amendment and for its continued enforcement.

GOING UP

Woman's Profanity at Judge Raises Term Twelvefold

CARBONDALE, Ill., Jan. 20. (AP)—An original sentence of 15 days in jail was gradually stepped up to six months in the case of Mrs. Lee Jordan for using profanity in County Judge Fred Herbert's court.

Mrs. Jordan cursed the judge for the first penalty which was promptly doubled, then raised to 60 days and next to 90 days as her flow of profanity continued unabated. The term finally reached six months when officers led her out of the court room.

Lions Club Enjoys Iowa Park Program

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 20.—Iowa Park Lions enjoyed a social event Tuesday evening when they were hosts to their wives at a rural literary society meeting under the direction of Mrs. Gordon G. Clark. The program consisted of a piano solo by Miss Chida Kildow and two musical melodies by Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Harrison of Chicago. Mrs. Gordon G. Clark gave an old time recitation entitled "Lasca." A heated debate, "Resolved That It Is Not Wrong for a Nigger to Steal a Chicken," was represented by N. E. Waldie, C. C. Hudson, Cicero B. Fielder and James A. Griffin. The affirmative proved its allegation beyond question.

A committee composed of Dr. Gordon G. Clark, J. C. Searl and C. C. Hudson were named to map out the major activities of the club for the ensuing year.

OFFICERS KILL HOLDUP MAN

Second Suspect Held After Road Battle

ERIE, Kan., Jan. 20. (AP)—Henry Hughes of Tulsa, Okla., was shot and killed and Glenn McQuarter of Tulsa was captured today by Sheriff Lloyd Sands and Deputy C. E. Yockey near Thayer after the attempted hold up of R. J. Funk, a paint salesman of Kansas City.

Two men in an automobile attempted to stop Funk in his car eight miles east of Thayer. He outdistanced them and telephoned the sheriff at Erie from a farmhouse.

The sheriff and his deputy found Hughes and McQuarter driving near the scene of the attempted holdup. Sheriff Sands said he and his deputy fired upon the men when they attempted to escape after being accosted by the officers.

The officers said the two men had been identified by Funk as the men who tried to hold him up. McQuarter gave the sheriff his name and that of his dead companion.

Status of Tips as Part of Salary Argued

AUSTIN, Jan. 20. (AP)—The question of whether tips should be included as part of the salaries of certain hotel employes in figuring the amount of compensation to which they are entitled under the workmen's compensation act will be argued before the board of insurance commissioners here tomorrow.

Discussion of the question will be had at a meeting of the directors of the Texas Hotel Men's association prior to the hearing before the insurance commission.

Several persons have contended that tips form a part of the wages of certain hotel employes.

Club Holds First Meeting of Year

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 20.—The Beaver Creek Home Demonstration club began work for the year with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. A. Randolph, nine miles south of Electra. Following the luncheon, the president, Mrs. W. H. Claer, called the meeting to order. The new club song, "Count Your Blessings," opened the program with Mrs. S. Y. McAllister leading the singing. Mrs. H. L. Jinks led the discussion of the club commandments after which the roll was called. Various reports were given and a short business session was held. The home demonstration agent, Miss [illegible] Webb, was unable to be present, and the members put in a quilt for the hostess. The afternoon was spent in quilting and a social hour was enjoyed.

Three new 100 per cent members, Miss Orrie King, Miss Stacy Bowery, and Mrs. John Hughes, were welcomed into the club. Members also expressed the opinion that the meeting was one of the most enjoyable affairs the club has had and desire to make all other meetings of the year as interesting. Those present were Mesdames Jack Bradley, W. J. Bingham, T. L. Jones, H. L. Jinks, S. Y. McAlester, Ed Richardson, W. H. Claer, Roy Ackerman, Ernest Cossey, Annie Byrd, P. J. Weaver, the three new members, the hostess, and two guests, Mrs. O. E. Whisnand, Electra, and Mrs. George Gates, Altus, Okla.

Einstein Links Two Great Forces

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 20. (AP)—The scientific mind of Dr. Albert Einstein, described by contemporary scientists as "the greatest thinker since Newton," has brought together a union of gravity and electromagnetism.

Wearing a loose-fitting grey suit topped off by a bat wing tie Dr. Einstein, in addressing a group of scientists at the California Institute of Technology said:

"You see, we had the wife, electra-magnetism, and the husband, gravitation, but they were separate. Now we have them together and what could be more natural?"

Dr. Einstein said he had worked out new mathematical equations by which gravitation and electro-magnetism are logically unified. This is considered an important link in his "unified field theory," which seeks to prove there is but a similar background for all material activity in the universe.

To complete the wholesale union of nature's forces, Dr. Einstein set out to show that gravitation and electricity are so closely welded that they may be considered theoretically as one and the same thing.

Car Accidents Take Toll of 33,000 Lives

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (INS)—Though 33,000 persons were killed in 1931 as the result of automobile accidents—the highest total in the nation's history—there was an actual decrease in the death rate per 100,000 unit of population.

Figures released by the National Safety council here today revealed that there was a decrease of two-tenths per cent over 1930.

Motor deaths in 1930 totaled 32,750, the rate per 100,000 population being 26.6.

Chicago had 1,306 persons killed as the result of motor accidents, an increase of 206 over 1930.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Jan. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Hall, two miles north of Sunset, have canned enough beef to supply them with a sufficient quantity for several weeks to come. Saturday morning, two pressure cookers were put into operation at their home, cooking a fat beef, and by night 68 cans of the choice part of the beef had been cooked and set away. They gave part of the 160-pound beef to some of their neighbors. They were assisted with the cooking and canning by Mr. and Mrs. John Grimes, Mrs. Oscar White and Mrs. Sophia Hall. The assistants were helping just as sociable neighbors and were served with a bountiful dinner while there.

The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ferguson, two miles south of Sunset, was painfully injured Monday by getting his right hand wound into a washing machine wringer. The bones of his fingers were crushed and made necessary the removal of all of the fingers from his right hand at the second joints. He is getting along as well as could be expected.

A drenching rain fell here Friday night and Saturday and overflowed all of the creeks in this vicinity. The ground will be too wet for plowing for several days, perhaps for the balance of this month. But while the farmers are having to wait about their plowing they have the satisfaction of knowing that these rains are putting a soaking season into the ground that will be beneficial to spring crops. The subsoil is being soaked sufficiently to hold good moisture for a long while.

We have had but little cold weather here this winter. There has been just a little ice on a few mornings this season. A little snow fell two or three different times but melted as it struck the ground. The warm winter has been favorable to the welfare of livestock. Stock on reasonably good pastures is staying in good condition without being fed. But the warm winter season is causing people to begin to fear that the fruit crop may fail again this year like it did last year. Unless we get some cold weather within a short time fruit trees will bloom as early as they did last year.

At the age of 62.

That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One dose will clear up almost any case of headache, biliousness, or constipation. But if you want to keep in shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. You will never need to take another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. This gentle, natural stimulant makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every way. Remember, it is the tested prescription of a physician—and it isn't expensive.

"Whistle, girls . . . it makes lovely, tempting lips"

Julia Foster picks up a new exercise that moulds the mouth into youthful lines

WHISTLE TWO MINUTES A DAY.....
Here's a stunt—and a mighty good one, too, for keeping lovely lips kissable. Whistle! Whether or not you can make a noise, pucker up your lips and try to whistle at least two minutes—and preferably five—every single day. An expert whose word is law in American beauty culture told me this can do more to chase away mouth lines and keep the lips up-standing than any other exercise she knows. So here we go . . . a whistling chorus!

THOSE UNSIGHTLY ELBOWS.....
Question—what is one to do about unsightly elbows, when evening dress is in order? Answer: Dip pads of cotton in a Palmolive Soap lather, and rest each elbow on these pads for as many moments as you can spare. (It's the olive oil, in the soap, I suspect, that makes this so effective a treatment.)

GOING PLACES AND DOING THINGS.....
Have you ever used Palmolive in the bath? Melt up a bar of Palmolive, pour the rich liquid of olive and palm oils into a tub of warm water, step in and relax. Then massage your whole body with the lather from another cake of Palmolive Soap. In no time at all, tired toes will feel like dancing . . . and your whole body will be refreshed.

* * *

*Julia Foster is employed by Palmolive to report last-minute beauty news. She visits hundreds of beauty salons, from month to month. She talks with experts. She attends beauty conventions; visits smart restaurants, clubs, theatres. She reports it to you in these news flashes.

BEWARE HARSH WASHCLOTHS..
If you prefer a washcloth for washing the face be sure you use a very soft cloth. The rough thick, hard-rubbing cloths some women use are much too hard on delicate skin tissue. Work Palmolive lather gently into face and throat, then rinse it off with warm water. Palmolive Soap is recommended by experts, you know. Just try it once. That's all I ask.

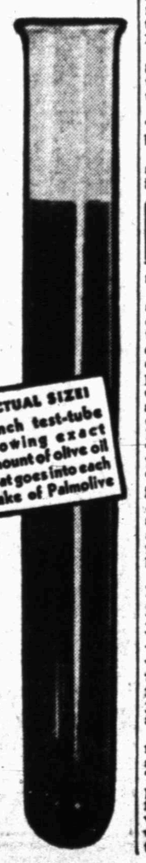

Beauty in a test-tube

OLIVE OIL for the complexion! Always known to keep skin soft, supple, youthful.

But can you get enough olive oil in soap? How much, actually, goes into Palmolive? There is the exact amount—in that test tube at the right. To this generous olive oil content can be directly traced the great benefits of Palmolive Soap to the complexion.

Do you know what is in the soap you are putting on your face? Palmolive tells you. Palmolive is the only large-selling soap made of vegetable oils exclusively—the only one using olive oil as a base. Other Palmolive ingredients are simply palm oils necessary to produce a richer, creamier, more workable lather than possible with olive oil alone.

Knowing the value of a liberal amount of olive oil in soap, and knowing Palmolive to contain olive oil in its most modern, most practical form, more than 20,000 of the world's leading beauty experts have for years urged its use.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

In the fortress palace of the archduke Leopold III of Austria in the latter part of the 14th century, there were numerous officials in the household running not deemed necessary now. For a head kitchen man, a silver room man, a lights man and various others were named in the domestic personnel. And among them, there was a man who knocked on doors at night so that all might go to sleep.

Such simple methods that I wonder if they were efficacious. Lying sleepless at times through long, dark hours, when, unless I could turn on a light and either read or write, time became torture, I have thought of those who were ordered "out with the lights" and who had to lie quiet, perhaps feigning sleep.

There are times when sleep will not come. That sleep which Shakespeare in his divine wording speaks of as "sleep that knits up the ravelled sleeve of care." One lies with the restless brain unfolding duty upon duty; reeling out memory of those things that may not be undone and thought of ways of life yet to be solved. He believes he will stop thinking and the brain will not become dormant.

But back in Leopold's palace, he deemed it correct to say when men must sleep. And here in 1932, there are parts of the civilized world, where advancement has not gone much further. For in the last Saturday Evening Post, I read Essad Bey's story of the Stalin who dominates Russia, bidding a sick friend get well as he is needed. If the friend does not get well, Stalin proceeds to summon the best physicians and tell them to get his friend well. Woe to the physician who does not obey. Usually he pronounces the patient well in a certain time, even if he is again ill within 10 days, and this is permissable. Sometimes it might be nice to be a treasured friend of Stalin's. (Not however for the physicians; a patient might die).

But back to this sleeping business. (I have a wandering foot—or rather a wandering hand upon the typewriter). Bedside books are the greatest charm I know as sleeping potions, though there are books so full of life, they keep the reader wide awake. Someone once wrote a beautiful essay on bedside books. It is one of those many things that is faint in my mind.

The bedside companion that soonest makes my eyelids fall is one I name to my shame. Something wrong with my mentality refuses to be held by Boswell and Dr. Johnson and, remembering alert minds that treasure the "Life" as a mine of wit and wisdom, I look upon it as a quicksand.

Cranford, which I find to my horror is unknown to many of the younger generation of well-read people, is a charming bedside book. Any readable letters, read once before, are delightful things to make wits sweetly drowsy. Essays that do not tax the mind—gentle and light little essays that touch the sense of humor and send the mind into pleasant byroads are invaluable volumes.

With Dickens coming back into popularity (according to one of the late book reports) and with an authoritative statement that "Little Women" is again being read, why worry about bedside books? I once adored "Little Women" and I still adore many characters of Dickens, though I cannot see myself again weeping over them. I might very pleasantly, however, go to sleep over Louisa May Alcott and regard Dickens as an efficacious "knocker at my door."

How Doctors Fight FAT

Medical science finds that lack of a certain gland secretion is a great cause of obesity. Food that should create energy goes to excess fat. People slow down and gain weight. Now doctors the world over supply that lacking factor. Instead of starving people, they combat the cause of fat. Abnormal figures, in late years, have been disappearing fast.

That modern method is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 24 years—millions of boxes of them. Now almost everyone has friends who know and show the delightful effects of Marmola.

If you overweigh, go try Marmola. All druggists supply it, and a book in each box tells you all about it. Start Marmola now and watch results.

Mackie at 1 o'clock Wednesday, the impressive ceremony being read by Dr. George P. Horst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. G. Lomax on Huff avenue, in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

The ceremony was read before an improvised altar of southern smilax, pink gladioluses and snowy calla lilies, while cathedral candelabra held softly glowing tapers.

The prenuptial music was "Because" sung by R. E. Shepherd with Mrs. S. P. Cunningham at the piano and Mrs. Cunningham played the wedding mareh from Lohengrin as the processional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Thornton Lomax Jr., was radiantly lovely in her gown of blue suede lace with an American Beauty velvet sash. Carroll G. Maxwell Jr., her small nephew, carried the ring in the heart of a lily. Mr. Mackie had as his best man his cousin, Leland P. Beamer of Tyler, Texas.

An informal reception followed the ceremony when about 50 guests were served a dainty ice course. Guests were received by Mesdames A. C. Smith, Earl Clayton and Miss Dorothy Nolen and out of town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Jones, Leland P. Beamer and Miss Mary St. Mary of Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Lomax Jr., of Dallas.

Mrs. Mackie, who is the daughter of Mrs. T. G. Lomax, is one of the most charming girls of Wichita Falls and a member of a pioneer family. Mr Mackie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Mackie of Bradford, Penn., and is vice president and general manager of the Bradford Supply company in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackie left for an extended trip to Louisiana, Florida and Cuba and will be at home to their friends about April 1.

Tell City in Indiana was named after William Tell when settled by a Swiss colonization society.

Royal Neighbors To Have Dinner Day

The Royal Neighbors of America will meet for luncheon at 12 o'clock Thursday at the I. O. O. F. hall, it has been announced. Members who have not been solicited for the menu are expected to pay the usual nominal fee.

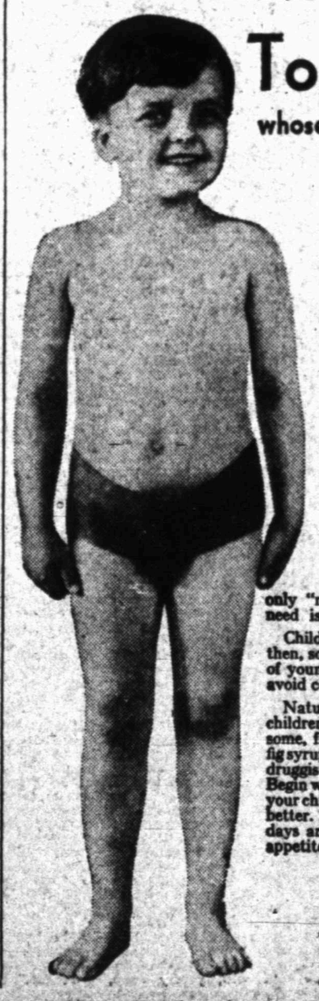

The program will be given at 1:30 o'clock and installation of officers will be open to guests. A business meeting will conclude the session.

How Do Sportswomen Manage?

Cup winners can't be quitters. The woman in any field of sport must take her sporting chance with Nature. Any strenuous match may bring on her monthly sickness. But there need be no pain! Midol always meets this emergency, as all active women should know. It will block periodic pain for hours.

And Midol is as harmless as the aspirin that stops your headaches. (It is non-narcotic.) If you want your next monthly period to begin and end without even a moment's discomfort, just ask for Midol at any drug store. Tuck the little box in your purse and be ready.

To Mothers whose children won't eat

NATURE knows best. Never coax a child to eat! Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite. When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, don't give small children a constipating cathartic that drains the system. California fig syrup is all the "medicine" they require.

The Child's Appetite Will Always Respond

Specialists will tell you that a sluggish appetite almost always means the child has a sluggish colon. Correct this condition called stasis, and see how quickly a listless, drooping boy or girl begins to eat—and gain! The only "medicine" such children seem to need is pure, unadulterated fig syrup.

Children who get fig syrup, now and then, soon have the appetite and energy of young animals! They keep well and avoid colds and sluggish spells.

Nature never made a finer laxative for children; and they all love the wholesome, fruity flavor of the real California fig syrup. It's purely vegetable, but every druggist has it all bottled, with directions. Begin with it at once. The very next day, your child will be eating better and feeling better. Keep on with the fig syrup a few days and see amazing improvement in appetite, color, weight, and spirits.

A single IF

The promises made by the bottlers of California Fig Syrup are true, and it will do the same for you, IF it's genuine CALIFORNIA Fig Syrup. Don't accept substitutes.

Famous Writer To Lecture at Woman's Forum

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON.—But for Postmaster General Walter Brown, Jan. 14 would have gone down in 1932 political history only to Democrats as a day of special note. Many things politically happened that day; but they were all Democratic happenings except for what Mr. Brown had to say.

WALTER F. BROWN

Mr. Brown put President Hoover in nomination: He did it after a conference with the president and also in the light of the general expectation that Mr. Brown himself soon will take over the chairmanship of the Republican national committee.

Now it is no news that Mr. Hoover will be a candidate. About the only thing on that subject Mr. Brown could have said, in itself constituting big news, would have been a declaration that Mr. Hoover would not run.

So the true significance of the Brown outgiving was that while he was careful to say he spoke only for the friends of Hoover, he was accepted as the voice of Hoover himself.

Monopolizing the News

General Brown's strategy prevented a complete Democratic sweep of the political news that day. Maybe that is what he had in mind.

With the Democratic "victory dinner" in New York, with Gov. Frank Roosevelt as headliner, a Boston party rally with Al Smith in action, an Ohio show with Senators Bulkley and Lewis sounding off, a Chicago gathering hearing a Jouett Shouse's word of warning about over-confidence, obviously it was going to take something right out of the main Republican feed box to get any attention at all.

General Brown turned the trick.

That January 14 was a great day politically in even more ways than that. North Dakota Democrats formally started the Roosevelt-for-president drive for delegates, inviting the New Yorker to get into the state primaries.

Up in Boston Al Smith's adherents called a similar "Come-on-in-the-water's-fine" invitation to him, evoking only his customary grin.

Little Joy Here

There was one happening that same day, however, which may have caused a considerable group of Democrats very little joy. The friends so ardently urging Newton Baker's nomination got another evidence that Mr. Baker himself is still their greatest difficulty.

Writing to a League of Nations association convention in Philadelphia, Mr. Baker called again for American entry into the league "as a member on a 100 per cent basis."

That attitude only confirms what Mr. Baker has been saying early and late for years. In view of post-1920 political happenings, however, Baker men must have moaned to themselves when they read of it:

"Why bring that up now?"

Turtles are said to have a larger percentage of bone than any other animal. But that must have been said before the stock crash called attention to investors' heads.

A professor says feeding "light" to cattle helps their production. But apparently feeding baloney to the public doesn't have the same effect.

Time to Call a Halt

IN THE scramble to liquidate stocks the prices of nearly all articles, goods and commodities have been to depths (we started to say levels, but there are no levels) far below their costs—costs to the producer, the manufacturer, the wholesaler and the retailer. Both the big and the little men are being squeezed. Of course the little fellow is being liquidated to the point of dryness just because it takes less time for squeezing a little fellow than it does a larger one.

This scramble to unload goods at less than it will cost the merchants to restock is being blamed to a number of causes. One of them is the attitude of the consumer himself who in many instances is Mrs. Housewife. Mrs. Housewife has noted that this week's prices are lower than last week and that one merchant is trying to undersell another and there has developed something like a "buyer's strike" aimed, not at high prices as the buyers' strike of the early nineteen-twenties, but below prices that already represent losses to everybody connected with the production, manufacture and distribution of the merchandise.

The attitude of the consumer seems to be that he is not concerned with anything but the price he pays for the goods and he is certainly getting lower prices by holding or hoarding his money in the hope and expectation of more distressed liquidation.

This attitude is adding to the distress and is delaying the recovery of business, a recovery that the consumer wants and needs as badly as the merchant and the manufacturer. Right now we are getting quality goods at prices lower than in many years. By making price the criterion in our buying we will soon be getting cheap goods to meet the cheap prices.

If we would conclude that it is hardly fair to anybody to expect lower prices for quality goods, that distressed liquidation drives all of us deeper into depression and that good merchandise at reasonable prices is essential to healthful business conditions and would go out and buy now, we might save the day for fair and honest business and improve conditions for all of us.

Fright in India

THE real seriousness of the situation in India became a good deal clearer when it was announced that the British government has sentenced a 9-year-old boy to four years in prison because he stood outside a Bombay store and urged shoppers to buy only Indian goods.

A government that makes such savage war on children is, quite obviously, inspired by fear, which is nearly always back of cruelty and repression. If England's proconsuls in India are sending 9-year-olds to prison, the proconsuls must be more badly scared than they have ever publicly admitted.

And, by the same token, if children are courting such sentences—this particular youngster produly told the court he was "willing to die for Gandhi"—the movement for independence in India must go clear down to the grass roots. The inference is that the desire for freedom is not confined to a small circle of agitators, as some people would like to have us believe.

Hunting Ducks

THE huge size of the army of duck-hunters that invades the marsh and lake regions of the United States every year was never better revealed than by the recent discovery that ducks on a certain lake in Minnesota are actually dying of lead poisoning.

Thousands of ducks on this lake died in a short space of time. When scientists made an investigation, they found in the gizzard of each dead duck a quantity of lead shot. Charges fired at the ducks had lodged in the muddy bottom of the lake, and the ducks, digging into the ooze for food, had eaten the pellets.

The investigators asserted that the lake's bottom contained many tons of lead.

Could there be more striking evidence of the vast numbers in which duck hunters sally forth each autumn?

Wealth of Gang Kings

AMERICAN newspaper readers in recent years have heard a good deal about the late Arnold Rothstein, big shot New York gambler, racketeer and general, all-around leader of crookdom. The man's power and wealth have been described over and over, and are accepted now as part of the underworld legend.

But the other day the administrators of Rothstein's estate went into court and pleaded that they could not meet a debt of $2,076—because the liquid assets of the estate are only $250!

Something seems to have happened to those vast riches. Can it be that some of our underworld "kings" are not as plentifully equipped with funds as we have been supposing?

A Columnist's Sec'y Jots Down a Few Notes

Dear W. W.: Whew! . . . It's stifling here . . . Even with the window wide open it's hot . . . Very few readers know why New York has been getting such unusual weather in winter . . . I heard this somewhere . . . That skippers of liners for the past 30 years have predicted that the gulf stream was slowly moving nearer to America away from the old country . . . And that in another 25 years or so—our January and February weather will be so warm that one need not go to Florida, etc., for there will be palm trees on Montauk Point, Long Island . . . In error you were credited with the simile: "New York is like strychinne: it perks you up until it lays you out" . . . It is Galsworthy's—You'd better say so before you are kidded about it . . . Mr. Brulatour phoned. Said they aren't blessed eventing or anything and would you kindly announce the fact? . . . Chas. A. Hughes of Detroit, is in town—like to see you . . . Morris has his job back at Palace . . . He called to say he will be a good boy and cut out shooting craps, et cetera.

Edna Decker, of Dayton, is a happy bride and wants the world to know it . . . She says she knows the no-good who started the wild rumors about her—and hopes you will help stifle the person . . . The Grand Nat'l Steeplechase $600,000 affair due at Liverpool in March is being handled by a charity over there . . . The attorneys for Mary Lewis, the opera singer, would like to locate her ailing brother . . . And said thanks for not worrying her in Yurrop . . . Al Schwartz hopes all your children become columnists—and have to associate with editors! . . . Haw!

The Honolulu affair has played havoc with the steamship lines—82 cancellations for there were received an hour before departing time the other night. . . Trucks that carry explosives must not travel more than one block where there is an elevated railroad in N. Y. . . . I heard this repartee today between song writers near Lindy's: First Songsmith—"I hear Mary has been making advances to you." . . . 2nd Songwriter—"Mary? Huh? Her advances are like a music publisher's" . . . Bill McCaffery is now romancing Wilma Cox . . . There appears to be great mystery attached to the pair of love-birds that were sent anonymously to the John Schultzs (Lynn Cantor) of the RKO booking dep't . . . John doesn't know if an admirer sent them to his wife and his frau wonders if an admirer of John's sent them to him . . . Most annoying, don't you know—or do you? . . . At any rate, the "love-birds" fight with each other incessantly—so what kind of love is that? . . . It was Gilbert Swan who, four years ago, wrote you were a fad and that your vogue would die soon . . . Tee-hee.

During casting of the Maude Adams-Otis Skinner show it was incessantly pointed out to applicants that "only British actors need apply" . . . So things were evened when J. Brooks Atkinson, the Times critic, reported: "Some of the members of the company were almost adequate!" . . .

Peggy Cleary's sister was welded to C. Henry Gordon, the actor, on the coast last week . . . She thought you'd like to know . . . Van Lear has his exploiter's job at the Palace again . . . It's Margaret McCarthy who is being storked, not Dorothy, who was long ago . . . Miss Edith I. Green, secretary to the pres. of the Coney Island board of trade, uses colored borders on her memo pads, expecially printed for her by the Coney Times, to suit her temperament, if you please . . . That is, on different days of the week. Blue for rainy days, red for sunshine and so forth . . . Ho, hum . . . A Detroit movie house billed its show in this wise: "$25 Cash Given Away Free Tonight—also—'Leftover Ladies'" . . . The lovely ladies of the chorus these days are complaining, too . . . They have to furnish their own apartments . . . Ben Ellman called to tell you that "whoopee" appears in an old Joosh folk-song like this: "Simchas Torah whoopee nu; Milt dem Fuslech clop-penu."

Benny, of the art dep't, just came in—I showed it to him—he says there's no such word in Hebrew . . . Incidentally, the theatrical ads on the show "Wolves" at the 49th Street Theater is in Joosh and even the English name of the play, which is spelled "Volves" . . . That is, it appeared that way in the Forward . . . Dorothy Waller and her husband, who manages shows, and who were Reno-vated about a yr ago, are that way again and no foolin'! . . . In Chicago, Marc Lachmann says, passes for theaters are known as "Go-Ins."

Here's an item: The Democratic party's trio of possibilities for the presidential race all have D as middle initials . . . Newton D. Baker, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Owen D. Young . . . Be careful about the Elsie Janis item—it broke, you know—so only use the statement she made three years ago about love . . . Novarro phoned before entraining . . . Said the next time he can arrange it he wants you to meet GG and really understand her. . . . He thinks you dislike her, so I assured him you didn't and that you merely wanted to prove she was here when the Coast defenders said she wasn't.

The complaint over the crooners on the air by Cardinal O'Connell of Boston is most interesting to certain locals . . . Because John McCormack, the tenor, said the same thing not so long ago . . . Amusing to me is that that colliteh professor who said people who whistled were morons (and people who played bridge, ditto) now joins the Cardinal's band wagon and breaks into print (for only a paragraph this time, however) by concurring with the man of the cloth . . . I couldn't sleep last night thinking about radio advertising and whether or not it is effective—considering that on the air you can't use a girl's ! ! to illustrate your ads . . . That lovely nude figure was sent by McClelland Barclay, whose magazine fronts of girls are among your pashs . . . It fits into your office like a pair of sheer hose do on Miss Dietrich.

—YOUR GIRL FRIDAY.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THREE DEAD-HEATS IN SUCCESSION—One of the greatest thrills of the turf was produced in a race at Newcastle-Under-Lyme, England, in which four horses participated. They were handicapped by Dr. Bellyse, a famous turf figure of that day. "Taragon," owned by Sir William Wynne, and "Handel," owned by Mr. Mython, dead-heated three times during the same race. In their third attempt the two horses ran on until they reeled like drunken men and could scarcely carry their riders to the scales. "Astbury," owned by Sir John Edgerton, a third participant, finally won, although he had been beaten by the dead-heaters by a neck in the first heat.

JOHN DE WITT—The life of John DeWitt, 78 years of age, has been filled with adventure and peril on both land and sea. Although he has been the victim of 50 accidents, ranging from sea-hurricanes and battles with sharks to a seven-story fall down an elevator shaft, he has had the good fortune to never sustain a broken bone. Mr. DeWitt lives at the Y. M. C. A., Portland, Ore.

THE RIFLE FIRED 285,000 TIMES—To test a newly created special cartridge, a firearms company took one of its stock .22 caliber rifles and fired it 285,000 times without cleaning the gun barrel. After the test the gun was found to be in good condition with no corrosion, pitting, or leading in the barrel.

This is attributed to the cleanliness of the cartridges used in the experiment.

CHAPTER LXIV

Of all the word pictures Stephen Ashe had ever drawn, perhaps that one that he drew of Ace Wilfong was the rarest. His honesty. His charity. His kindliness. Newsboy to gambler.

"And if I have much blame for all three of them, you cannot rid yourselves of some blame where he is concerned. They have called this boy a gambler and a criminal and an outlaw. All right. But who let him go on breaking the law? Do you suppose every official in this city didn't know he was breaking it? Didn't they accept his disobedience to the law? What can the police and this district attorney here, who is so very bitter against this gambler, expect of such methods? Why, if he knew he was a gambler and a lawbreaker, as he tells you he is, why didn't the district attorney stop it. And if he didn't know he was, why didn't he know? Isn't it his business to know about those things? The collapse of law can't go on being a collapse in little things only.

"But back of the collapse of authority in the nation, there is the breakdown of authority in our homes. They are an exaggerated, a pitiful case, Ace Wilfong and little Jan Ashe. They never had half a chance. But there are too many others who come out of homes without any excuse, who have no respect for law and no steel of obedience in their characters. Let us put the blame where it belongs. On the mothers and fathers who won't inflict the necessary pain in youth to avert disaster in maturity. Put the blame for much of this great crime tide that is sweeping the country where it belongs, upon the breakdown of all kinds of authority in the homes."

He nailed it before them, unmistakable, tremendous.

Then he said, "Do you think a man like Ace Wilfong would shoot another man unless he believed he had great provocation? He believed he acted in defense of his home and to protect his wife. That is what he believed. Women who have known nothing but freedom all their lives, a woman brought up as Jan was brought up, might make a man believe that without committing any deadly sin."

The pause was long. Into it broke a voice of pleading tenderness.

"They stand here, hand in hand, and they ask, as the prodigal son once asked, if they may come home. I cannot restore that other boy to his mother. I would if I could. He has paid in one way for his madness; they are paying now in a thousand others. They beg you only for a chance to redeem themselves. They want the chance only to be as the hired servants. They will no longer be heirs, no longer be lords of all they survey. They do not hope or care for that. No human pardon could carry that with it.

"And no second chance can relieve them of the payment they must make in this world and the next. The scars upon their lives are indelible. If you give them a chance to work out their own salvation, that is all you give them. You do not give them back the good opinion of their fellow men, or the right of happiness, or the lost confidence in each other or the right to pass on a stainless name to their children. You do not wipe out the great punishment they have already endured.

"If I could make you understand and feel a little of what they have suffered since the day this thing happened, what they suffer now and will always suffer, you would know that the grace of being ready to be forgiven is theirs, earned by the sweat of agony.

"They are lost sheep, but they have felt the rod, it has seared marks upon their souls that will never disappear in this life. They say to you, 'We have sinned. But have mercy upon us for the sake of the lesson we have learned, and the truth we have seen, and the good we promise to do now'

"Have you ever been forgiven? Have you ever experienced in your own life that rush of joy and gratitude that comes when you read the parable of the lost sheep, or the prodigal? If you have, you must know the great desire to do and be good that flames up within a man and makes him ready to be torn to bits rather than fail again. There is no healing power the equal of loving forgiveness."

Tears of a man. Those hard, furious, ashamed tears. No one can look upon them unmoved. No one did.

"It's too late for me," said Stephen Ashe harshly, bitterly. "Don't tell me it's too late for them. I am the man on trial. I am already condemned to hell-fire. I am already in hell-fire. But give them another chance."

Mrs. Wilfong looked up and blinked. Her face was white, pinched, against the short golden curtain of her hair.

"You want me leave him dinner wait on table any longer?" asked Wong impassively.

Jan sat up straight, staring at the clock. "No, Wong," she said, "you can take it away now and go to bed. It's very late. I'm sorry, I had no idea it was so late."

She had come straight home after her father's speech; she had eaten her dinner alone; she had sat waiting for Stephen Ashe without being conscious of the passage of time.

She shivered a little and stirred the fire, her eyes blank as a sleepwalker's.

Very deep in her thoughts she had been buried in them. Her father's words in the court room that day marched by her in review. Over and over, endlessly, they marched before her. For she knew he had not spoken to the jury alone. More than to any one else he had spoken to her. If he meant to save Ace Wilfong from their judgment, he meant to save her at last from herself, to cement the new understanding, the new convictions, that these last months had bred in her thought.

She knew that when he turned to her at the finish, his eyes searching hers, ignoring the wave of excitement and applause that the bailiffs held in check.

The ticking of the clock emphasized the loneliness of the big room. But she did not want to go to bed. Dreams caught up with her sometimes. Perhaps this would be her last night alone. By tomorrow night they would know. But she had grown able to bear loneliness. After all, was it not perhaps the first requirement of a strong soul that it should be able to exist and carry on and love—alone?

"Jan," said a peevish voice from the head of the stairs, "why don't you come to bed?"

Jan grinned to herself; in her face, there was something new, a new look. It made her dazzling.

"I will, pretty soon, Gwennie," she called. "Run in, darling, and get some sleep."

She felt Gwennie trembling on the brink of another question. But she hadn't the nerve. Her feet padded down the corridor and disappeared.

The silence held until suddenly Jan heard a short, sharp shout in the street, one of those sounds that forever and always announce birds of the night, that, heard in the dark hours testify to revelers returning from their revels.

Jan Ashe sat very still, attentive to the noises without. Mac's voice. Rattle of a lurching taxi. Shuffling of feet. Silence. A curse. More shuffling of feet.

Then she flew across to the front door and flung it wide.

Stephen Ashe stood on the step. In his hand he had an enormous bouquet of gay and frivolous flowers. He was very drunk.

They stared at each other. Lion and lion's whelp.

"Madame," said Stephen Ashe, with a grand flourish, "your humble and obedient servant."

But Jan stood motionless, buried deep in her thoughts. The end of the trail—this, then, was the end of the trail of freedom. She put out one very tender hand and drew him into the house.

The time had come. In the little room behind the dark door with its stained-glass panel, 10 men and two women weighed the balance of life and death.

Ace Wilfong and his wife sat together in the cage at the jail. And in this hour it was he who comforted and cheered her. Her spirit turned to his for shelter and found it beyond anything she had dreamed.

He read her thought. But he answered only her words, and very cheerfully. His rare smile was much in evidence. "I am not much afraid of being shut in, myself," he said, "though I have met people that got pretty much upset going through a tunnel even. And I knew a man once that couldn't even crawl under the bed after a shoe without the sweat breaking out all over him. Folks have a lot of funny notions that way."

He patted her hand, and it clutched his frantically. The fingers were ice about his.

"There are people," he went on—and it seemed to her that she had never seen him so melted from that great reserve to which his life had bred him, and she knew that this was for her sake—"that have a queer feeling if they get up real high, like on skyscrappers. Have you ever been up in an airplane?"

"I—yes."

"They claim that's different, though, not like a building. I expect that is because you ain't connected with the ground at all. You have got dominion." And he laughed.

"How long has it been?" her voice quivered.

He looked at the watch on his wrist. "Well, now it's been about half an hour since they went out," said Ace Wilfong, in a voice as gentle as a lullaby. "That's not long."

"No. But dad said if we'd won they wouldn't be more than two hours. If they go beyond that, he said, they begin to think instead of feel."

She felt his arm about her, drawing her back to her chair. Felt his kiss upon her mouth and eyes.

"We must not get afraid," he said slowly. "We must not get afraid. I have noticed in a card game that if you get afraid of a man's streak of luck, he will always beat you. I have known in poker games where there was always one man could beat a certain other one. He might lose to everybody else at the table, but he could still beat that certain one. Why is that, do you think?" When she did not answer, he answered himself: "It is because that man was afraid of him."

Answers to Questions

Any reader of this newspaper is welcome to make use at any time of the free information service of this department. Address your inquiry to the Record News Information bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C., and you will receive a personal letter in reply. Enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope, or enclose two cents for return postage. Be sure to state your question clearly, and to write your name and address plainly.

Q.—What is meant by clipping in a football game?—E. McC.

A.—Clipping is throwing the body from behind across the leg or legs below the knees of a player not carrying the ball.

Q.—Why do airplane motors operate more efficiently early in the morning than at any other time?—S. K.

A.—This is one of the mysteries of mechanics which automotive engineers have vainly tried to solve. It is an established fact that for a period slightly before dawn at the earth's surface to an hour afterward an airplane motor operates at its highest efficiency. A similar although modified effect is noted for a like period immediately after sunset. Automobile motors on the ground are affected but in a lesser degree.

Q.—How can lead foil be distinguished from tin foil?—E. H.

A.—Lead foil is heavier and has a duller finish than tin foil.

Q.—Who determines whether a poet shall be buried in Westminster Abbey?—J. S. C.

A.—There will be no more burials in Westminster Abbey. The dean and the chapter have been the ones to determine who should or who should not be buried there.

Q.—What was the origin of traveler's checks?—G. O. S.

A.—In 1423 the Giro, a sort of clearing house established in connection with the Venetian banking system, operated a system of credits entered on its books. The owner of such a credit received a bill or check which was valueless in the hands of any but the true owner. No robber or finder could cash it.

Q.—What causes the fog known as London fog?—F. L. H.

A.—It is due principally to the condensation of aqueous vapor upon the immense number of nuclei floating in the atmosphere as smoke from the soft coal fires.

Q.—What is the ceremony connected with crossing the line?—M.E.

A.—In the modern ceremony of crossing the equator, Neptune appears carrying a trident with his attendants, among whom is the barber carrying a huge razor and tub. Neptune is accompanied by Amphitrite. A sheep pen lined with canvas and filled with water is prepared. The victim is seated on a platform laid over this and blindfolded; first he is shaved by the barber, then plunged backward into the water. It was formerly the custom to attach the victim to a rope and dip him into the sea.

Q.—How long has the Soviet government been established and what date marks the termination of the five year plan?—H. T. T.

A.—The Soviet Union entered its 15th year on Nov. 7, 1931. The five year plan was entered upon Oct. 1, 1928 and ends Sept. 30, 1933.

Q.—What are sippets, frequently mentioned in English cook books?—H. A.

A.—These are small thin fingers of toast, dry and crisp, served with wine, soup, or as a garnish to make dishes such as ragouts and minces.

Q.—Has the Manchurian territory now in dispute between China and Japan any substantial natural resources?—P. T.

A.—Manchuria has various natural resources some of which have scarcely been touched but, in a metal age, her reserves of iron ore are regarded as of special importance. It is estimated that Manchuria has deposits of 738,000,000 metric tons of iron ore, having an actual iron content of 259,000,000 tons, in the ground. A good quality of cooking coal also is available in the region, the two resources combining to furnish the potentialities of a steel industry. Many Japanese long-term concessions are held and the importance of protecting these figures is the Japanese attitude in the present embroglio.

Q.—There is a reference to "The Immortal Tinker" in an article I have just read. Who is meant by that?—D. R. E.

A.—John Bunyan.

BROWN URGES POSTAL HIKES

Postmaster General Gives Rates to Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (INS)—Postmaster General Brown today recommended an increase of letter postage from two to three cents to raise $100,000,000 toward meeting his department's anticipated deficit of $150,000,000.

The recommendation was made to the house ways and means committee, considering tax increase legislation.

He suggested the postage increase be made a part of the tax bill and that the committee also consider an increase in second class postage.

Brown also disclosed other proposed means of meeting the post-office deficit. They are:

An increased revenue of $5,000,000 is expected next year from raising the weight and size limit of parcel post packages already authorized; application is pending before the Interstate Commerce commission to increase in fourth class rates to raise $7,600,000; revision of registered letter fees and limits on indemnity to raise $2,000,000; increase parcel post insurance rate to raise $2,500,000; revision money order fees to raise $1,250,000.

Brown said that an increase of two to three cents in letter postage is justified and would not decrease the volume. He said nearly all other countries have higher postage rates.

He suggested that adoption of the 1921 rates on second class postage would yield $5,000,000 a year.

"An increase in second class rates involves careful study and we are not prepared to say whether it would affect business recovery," he said, "I doubt if it could be dealt with in a revenue measure."

Mississippi 'Peonage' Prosecution Promised

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Further action against any Mississippi flood control contractors found not to be "fair and just" toward their laborers was promised the house labor committee today by Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown chief of army engineers.

Brown referred to reports by American Federation of Labor representatives of "near peonage" in some flood control work. He said one investigation already had been made as a result of which "I found some things which didn't suit me."

"I notified the contractors they would have to stop them, and I think they will," he added.

Brown said, however, there was nothing he could do to force contractors to pay prevailing wages on jobs they already are doing.

He added he could "strike them off the list of government contractors," and see that they get no other federal work.

Provided with warrants for 20 persons, state police and conservation officers, scattered through the upper peninsula, expected to make the arrests by night.

Evidences of the traffic in furs taken out of season and without licenses was gathered by Elgin C. McDonough, former secret service operative. Federal customs officers recently seized $16,000 worth of furs shipped into New York.

No one can "listen in"

PERSONS with a "party-line" telephone sometimes are annoyed by someone "listening in." They complain at times that the telephone always is busy when they want to use it. Or they are annoyed by the disturbing "click" as another party on the line lifts his receiver.

There's satisfaction in the privacy of an individual line. The telephone never is busy except when you or a member of your family are talking; no one can "break in" on your conversations.

The cost: a few dimes per month additional. Just call the business office and say: "I want an individual line".

Your name in the telephone book . .

But he didn't call Henry Jones. Henry's name wasn't in the telephone book.

Henry lives with his brother-in-law, M. J. Black, and the telephone is in Black's name. Yet, for 25 cents a month, Henry Jones could have had his name in the directory . . . and perhaps had the job!

The directory would have listed:

Perhaps an additional directory listing will help friends find you. Ask at the business office.

Health and Diet Advice

Acute Nephritis

The kidneys are always throwing out a certain amount of bodily waste but, when extra poisons are generated in the tissues, the kidneys are forced to carry on an unusual burden and sometimes they break down under this overtime work; developing the condition called acute nephritis. This may be only temporary but in many cases it leads to the more serious disease of chronic nephritis or Bright's disease. The predisposing factor is always a general toxic condition of the body, but exposure to cold, or scarlet fever, or serious burns, or pregnancy may serve to bring on acute nephritis.

An attack of acute nephritis usually begins with a severe pain in the back, fever, vomiting and nausea. In the worst cases the first sign may be convulsions, caused by a sudden retention of toxins which should have been eliminated by the kidneys. The convulsions are more likely to occur with those cases which follow exposure to sudden cold and in these cases there may be a startling dropsical swelling often within such a short space as 24 hours, since the cold closes the pores of the skin and the wastes which are generally gotten rid of by the skin are locked in the body.

There is some dropsy caused by the kidneys retaining the water which should be thrown out; while the albumin which should be kept in the body seeps away. Not only is water kept in the body but the wastes which should be eliminated are also retained until the whole system is poisoned.

The symptoms of acute nephritis will usually disappear if the patient is put on a fruit juice fast for a day or two and drinks two or three gallons of water daily. Several sponge baths should be taken every day and at least two enemas to wash out the intestinal wastes should be used daily.

During the acute attack, if there is fever, the patient should be in bed. Buttermilk as an exclusive diet may be used with good results in some cases. No salt or spices should be used.

I would suggest the use of some form of hot pack or sweating treatment. For a child the best treatment is to wring a blanket out of hot water, squeezing it partly dry. The blanket is wrapped securely around the child, being careful not to have it too hot, and then a dry blanket is put around the outside. Plenty of blankets should be used and the child should be kept in this for at least an hour. Adults usually find that taking a hot bath as hot as can be borne for 20 minutes and then being wrapped in plenty of woolen blankets will bring satisfactory results, both in increasing the flow from the kidneys and lessening the dropsy. Warm water should be drunk while in the blanket sweat bath to increase perspiration.

If one will use these simple eliminative measures which aid the overworked kidneys to recover their normal function, they may usually expect a rapid recovery from acute nephritis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Hot Drinks and Milk

Question—The Family asks: "Can we drink tea, coffee or milk with the menus?"

Answer—I do not recommend hot drinks with the meals either in my weekly menus or in those I outline for individual patients. It is better to use a small amount of water if it is necessary to satisfy the thirst. If coffee or tea are used at all, they are better without the addition of cream or sugar. Milk should be considered a food rather than a drink and, when used with a meal, should be the principal protein and only combined with fruit or non-starchy vegetables.

Stuttering

Question—H. H. asks: "Could you advise me as to the cause of a slight stuttering when I begin talking? I have also noted that my voice does not ring clear, but thick. I am also troubled with constipation which enemas do not seem to overcome. Is there a diet I could go on?"

Answer—I would advise you to consult a teacher who is an expert in methods of overcoming stuttering. You can doubtless cure your constipation by eating less starches and more of the bulky green vegetables. Also take exercises for your abdominal muscles and walk several miles daily.

About a Pound a Day

Question—Mrs. Lia E. asks: "If I were to go on an orange juice diet for a period of 12 days, what would be the loss in weight approximately?"

Answer—It would depend upon your weight and also your type. If you are much overweight, you would probably lose between 10 and 15 pounds.

Popeye Meets an Old Friend

Your old friend Popeye grabbed off a few days between adventures to accompany his boss, E. C. Segar, on a holiday visit to New York. Mr. Segar caught the battling sailor in a pensive moment paying homage to a great American institution. (The reclining figures in the background are a few old "enemies" upon whom Popeye chanced while he was in the big city).

School Term Depends on Tax Payments

Special to The Record News.

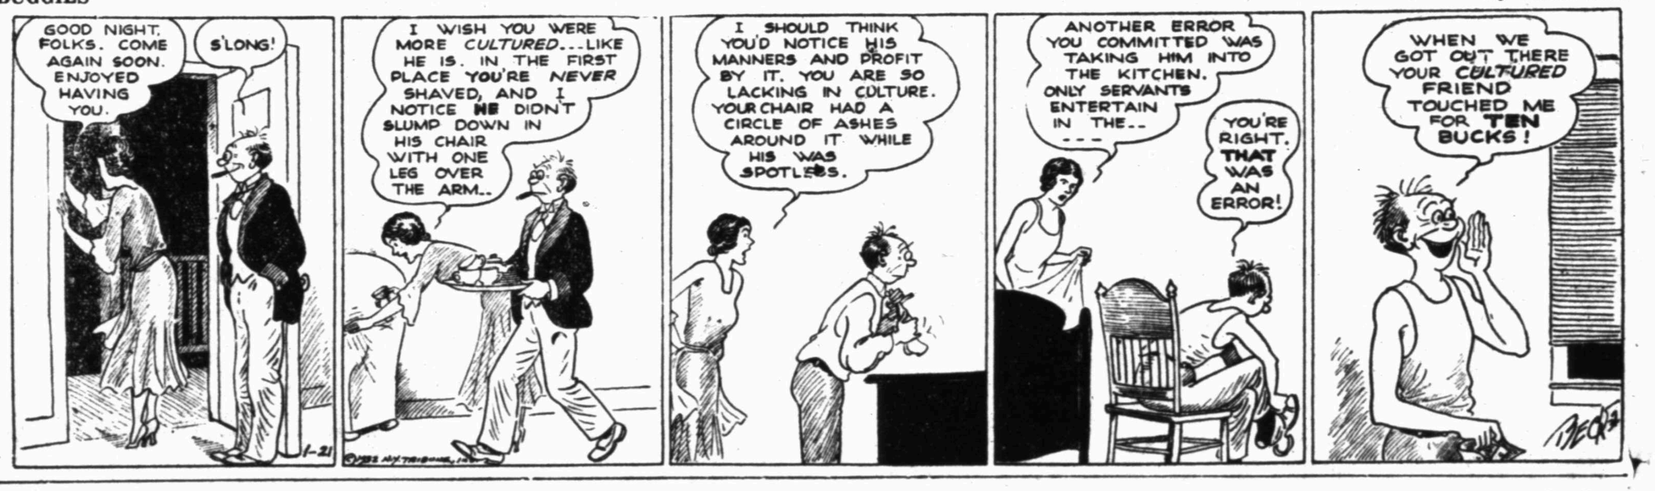

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 20.—Thirty-one thousand dollars must be raised through the payment of local school taxes in order to enable the school system to complete nine months of school, according to an announcement made by school officials Tuesday afternoon.

An estimated total of $61,880, will be required to pay up all bills for the remainder of the school year, but estimated receipts from all other sources except local school taxes are $28,000, leaving a difference of $33,880. Enough taxes have been collected to leave $31,000 out of the $33,880 yet to be collected from local taxes. School officials are emphasizing that the $31,000 in school taxes is the amount the schools need beyond what will be received from the state and from deposits in the old state bank and other sources; therefore taxes should be paid to enable the schools to meet their bills.

Only 10 days remain until school taxes will become delinquent for 1931, on Jan. 31 of this year. "Pay your school taxes now" is the urgent appeal being made to all citizens and concerns connected in any way with the Electra independent school district.

The salaries of faculty members, school officials assert, have been cut and the salaries of others who are on the school pay roll. Every expense has been reduced as low as possible without destroying the efficiency of the schools. All supervisors have been eliminated this year to curtail expenses and several courses have been omitted from schedules to eliminate expenses.

COYOTES DEFEAT ELECTRA, 35-17, FOR NINTH STRAIGHT WIN

PACK TAKES SLOW CONTEST

Brandon Starts Slow But Comes Out on Top

The Coyotes took the lead in the "Big Five" race and accomplished their ninth consecutive victory by defeating the Electra Tigers, 35 and 17 in a slow contest on the Junior college court last night.

Both teams started slow, and the fast going never began until the final period when a Coyote rally headed by Captain Brandon gave the Coyotes a substantial lead for the remainder of the contest.

Although Brandon made only one field goal in the first half, he was high point man of the game with a total of 14 points. Reeves was not far behind with a total of 10 points. Parr was high point player for the Tigers with six tallies. The defense of both teams was a bit ragged, but the combined forces of Janeway and Greenwood held the team that scored 35 points against the strong Vernon team to a bare 17 points.

Coyotes Take Lead

The game opened with Presley scoring the first points. There was very little scoring in the first period and it ended at 3 and 3. At the opening of the second quarter, Reeves made two goals followed by one by Brandon to give the Coyotes a slight lead. The half ended with the Coyotes on the large end of a 15 to 5 score.

The Pack slowed up considerably in the third period, and the Tigers threatened the Coyote lead with a scoring rally that landed the Tigers only a few points behind the Wichita Falls team.

Two more goals early in the fourth canto placed the Tigers only two points behind the vaunted Coyotes. Brandon, who had been removed from the contest, entered the game and sank three goals followed by one by Reeves to give the Pack a substantial lead until the end of the game.

Brandon Is Captain

Brandon was slow and lagging in the first half, and did not play in the third quarter, but he returned to the contest early in the fourth canto and made a total of 12 points in that one quarter. Brandon was serving his first game as captain of the Coyotes.

Before the basket ball game, the Electra girls volley team defeated the Coyote volley ball team in two straight games, 15 to 7, and 15 to 3. The game was a duel between the two captains of the respective teams. Ruth Jones packed a mighty wallop that sent the ball flying across the net while many times it was the Coyote captain, Jean Worley, who usually returned it.

The Coyotes will journey to Nocona for their next game Friday night. The regulars will play, and then a game between the second strings of both teams will be played.

Hill Country League Leaders Plan Season

FREDERICKSBURG, Texas, Jan. 20. (INS)—The way had been paved today for a third successful season of the Hill Country Baseball league. Directors of the league, representing Kerrville, Mason, Llano, Junction and Fredericksburg, met here to formulate plans for the season's game schedules.

Comfort, a member of the league for two seasons decided not to re-enter the league this year because of financial questions. Four cities, Brady, Bandera, San Antonio and Boerne, applied for the berth vacated by Comfort. One of these will be chosen for admittance to the league at a future meeting of the directors.

Bob Bennett, Kerrville newspaper man and founder of the league was elected to the presidency of the league for a second time. The directors voted a split-season. A 26 Sunday game schedule will open April 3.

Wisconsin Athletic Department Reorganized

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 20. (AP)—Reorganization of the University of Wisconsin athletic department took concrete form today as the board of regents made changes in personnel and the state legislature set forth its views on athletic policies.

The board approved appointment of Irwin Uteritz as director of intercollegiate athletics and accepted the resignations of George Little, director of athletics and Glenn Thistlethwaite, head football coach.

The legislature adopted a report by its special investigating committee recommending changes in the university athletic council and the employment of the best athletic coaches the university is able to hire.

Little was offered the position of director of intramural athletics. He asked time to consider. The board approved a proposal to put intercollegiate athletics in a separate department and voted to postpone decision on a new football coach.

Gene Tunney Would Pick Boxing if He Had to Start Over Again, He Says

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—If he were 21 again and faced with the choice of a career, Gene Tunney would follow his original course and pick boxing, he said today.

Ever since his retirement as heavyweight champion of the world, Tunney has insisted that when the time came for his autobiography to be prepared, he would write it himself. He has dictated 85,000 words for this purpose and Collier's weekly will publish his story.

"Independence is the goal of all ambition," he write. "Fortunate men occasionally find the way to independence without much search. Wise men select the medium for which they are best equipped by nature and training.

"In my case though the ladder was short, the climb was sheer."

Tunney said he had no intent to discredit professional boxing in his series of articles and had no vindicative intent if he happened "to step on the toes of the great or the small."

"I have only told the circumstances as I remember them and as I reached to them at the time," he said.

"But, although I am an ardent devotee of the sport, it could only be with my tongue in my cheek that I could express affection for all the elements that make up the profession."

Runyon Explains Why Fiermonte Was Late in Reaching 'Big Time'

By DAMON RUNYON

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Some of the boys were marveling the other night that as good a fighter as Enzo Fiermonte, the Italian middleweight who stole the last show, had never before been seen on what, in New York, we call the pugilistic big time, which means Madison Square garden.

I am told that Fiermonte's services were offered to the former matchmaker of the garden, Mr. Thomas McArdle, on several occasions, without arousing Mr. McArdle to any frenzy of interest, and some would have you believe that Mr. McArdle's calm in this matter was a reflection upon his sagacity, especially in the light of Fiermonte's showing.

Now I always found Mr. McArdle a cold, unresponsive individual on all counts, and I certainly hold no brief for his matchmaking, but I think his attitude toward Fiermonte is easily explained. The accomplishments of the Italian in this country during Mr. McArdle's tenure of office were practically nil. They were, in fact, less than nil.

Indeed, Mr. McArdle probably did Fiermonte a favor by not showing him, although I really shouldn't mention this. The thought that he may have done anybody a favor may distress Mr. McArdle. Especially a favor to Fiermonte, for Fiermonte is managed by Mr. Charley Johnston, of those Johnstons who swept Mr. McArdle out of garden office.

Fiermonte, in Mr. McArdle's time, wasn't ready for a Madison Square garden display. Just one of at least two appearances that he made in this country on the occasion of his first visit here would have ruined Fiermonte for garden purposes.

It was only after he returned to Italy and won the middleweight championship of his home land that Fiermonte began acquiring the form that made him the stand-out of the garden show last Friday night. Many a fighter who laid an egg on his first appearance in the garden afterwards made pugilistic history without ever being able to get back on the big time. The New York ringworm has the memory of an elephant, especially for a bad showing.

One of the best heavyweights in the world today is Larry Gains, the Canadian negro, who was licked in the garden by old Martin Burke. Gains has knocked out Herr Max Schmeling, now heavyweight champion of the world, and most of the other heavyweights in Europe, and could lick all those heavies they showed at the garden the other night in one sitting, but he has never been back here since the Burke incident.

Fiermonte might have had the same bad luck had he appeared before he was ready. As it is now, he may be one of the best cards produced by the boxing game in years.

When it comes to good fighters who haven't appeared in New York, on the big time, or otherwise, just consider that the number includes two champions of the world, and a number of real title contenders.

Their non-appearance here is for no reason in particular, except that up to this time no one has bothered to book them, an omission that I am inclined to think will be remedied by Mr. James J. Johnston, the old boy bandit, now in charge of boxing at the garden.

The champions are Lou Brouillard, undisputed welterweight champion of the world, and Young Perez, flyweight champion of Europe, and recognized as holder of the world's title by the N. B. A. of America.

Some of the other good fighters who have never been seen here are:

Billy Jones, of Pittsburgh, leading contender for the light heavyweight title.

Hein Mueller, German heavyweight, conqueror of Salvatore Ruggirello in one of several Chicago appearances, and now matched for the heavyweight championship of Europe.

Locatelli, great Italian lightweight, who just recently beat Pete Nebo, the American Indian.

Speedy Dado, sensational Filipino flyweight, who has been fighting on the west coast since 1926.

Paul Pirrone of Cleveland, one of the best of the new crop of light heavies.

Dave Maier of Milwaukee, a southpaw, one of the most dangerous punchers in the world.

Al Lasky, young Jewish heavyweight of Minneapolis, who went two tough rounds with Jack Dempsey.

Bisselman, great German welterweight.

GOLF REQUIRES MOST SKILL

Thus Votes Country's Sports Experts

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of a series of stories analyzing results of The Associated Press sports editor's poll of newspaper opinion on sports facts, fancies and recollections. It answers the query as to sports involving the most skill, stamina, strategy and luck).

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—Even though this may serve only to intensify the points of argument among the country's sport experts, the fact is they have voted golf as the sport requiring the most skill as well as involving the most luck. Baseball is next on each count.

In this respect The Associated Press athletic poll reveals a house sharply divided against itself. Otherwise there is substantial agreement that rowing requires the most strength or stamina and that football calls for the most strategy.

Only three sports, football, basket ball and boxing, are voted for each of the four major factors considered.

Here are the results of the national poll showing the first five sports in each category, the number of votes for each, also the approximate per cent of the element involved, as figured by those who gave detailed answers:

1. Sport requiring most skill:
Golf .....24 votes (80 per cent)
Baseball ....19 votes (70 per cent)
Tennis .....17 votes (68 per cent)
Billiards ....10 votes (83 per cent)
Boxing ..... 8 votes (60 per cent)

2. Sport requiring most strength or stamina:
Rowing .....27 votes (76 per cent)
Wrestling ...18 votes (63 per cent)
Boxing .....14 votes (45 per cent)
Football ....12 votes (40 per cent)
Basket ball . 4 votes (50 per cent)
Marathon and distance running ... 4 votes (82 per cent)

3. Sport requiring most strategy:
Football ....57 votes (44 per cent)
Baseball ....14 votes (36 per cent)
Boxing ..... 4 votes (25 per cent)
Tennis ..... 4 votes (45 per cent)
Chess ..... 2 votes (100 per cent)

4. Sport involving most luck:

CADETS GROOM FOR BAYLOR

Aggies Gloomy After Being Beat by Gents

Special to The Record News

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Jan. 20.—Discouraged by their lowly cellar rank in Southwest conference standing and disheartened by their thorough trouncing at the hands of the Centenary college Gentlemen the past Saturday night, Coach John Reid's Texas Aggie cagers are working out in a fog of gloom this week in preparation for their game with Baylor university's Bears Saturday night on the Memorial gymnasium court.

A heartening factor is found, however, in the slim possibility that Lester (Squawk) Veltman, veteran guard from San Antonio, may be able to play in the game. Veltman injured an ankle in early season practice and has been missing from the Aggie lineup since the Christmas holidays. His eventual return to play is expected to aid materially both the Cadet morale and team strength.

In and Out Team

The Aggies so far this season have appeared to be an "in and out" quintet. After breezing through a pre-season schedule, the Cadets lost to the Rice Owls by a margin of 11. Then after defeating the Centenary Gentlemen decisively by this same opposing team Saturday night. Although comparative scores in basket ball usually mean less than nothing, the Aggies can get no encouragement from the fact that Baylor beat Texas Christian university by eight points, T. C. U. beat Rice by 25 points and that Rice defeated the Aggies by 11 points.

The Aggies' passing game so far this season seems to have left much to be desired and their follow-up work after long shots has been noticeable because of its absence. The Cadet forwards so far have failed more or less to live up to expectations and the brunt of both defensive and offensive work has fallen on the shoulders of Captain Charlie Beard, a guard from Fort Worth. Beard now ranks among the leading high point scorers of the conference and has been high point man or has tied for high point honors in two of the Aggies' past four games.

Probable Starters

Aggie lineups for the past several games give no light on what the lineup for the Baylor tilt will be. In all probability, however, the Cadet starting five will be selected from the following players: "Pete" Robertson, Austin, forward; Clarence (Bull) Marcum, Estelline, forward; E. T. (Shep) Shepherd, Port Arthur, guard; Joe Moody, Corpus Christi, forward; B. M. (Honk) Erwin, Kosse, center and guard; Oran (Dooley) Dawson, Crockett, center and guard; Capt. Charlie Beard, Fort Worth, guard; Lester Veltman, San Antonio, guard; Gradie King, Fort Worth, guard; Clifford (Frenchy) Domingue, guard.

Following Saturday night's game the Aggies will meet no scheduled competition until their return clash with the Baylor Bears at Waco on Feb. 1.

Aggie Hurdler On Honor Team

Special to The Record News

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Jan. 20.—Texas Aggie hurdlers, for the past five years kingpins among Southwest conference "timber-toppers," for the fifth straight year received nation-wide recognition when Herman V. Harlan was named on the 1931 all-American track and field honor roll published recently by the Athletic Journal. It also was the second straight time that Harlan has received this honor.

The first Aggie hurdler to receive the honor was J. R. Kennedy who was placed on the honor roll in 1927 and 1928 as a low hurdler. In 1929 Don Slocomb won the mention as a low hurdler and in 1931 Slocomb was placed on the roll as a low hurdler and Harlan as a high hurdler. Slocomb and Harlan, incidentally were conference champions in low and high hurdles respectively for three straight years. The past spring both ended their collegiate careers by graduation but not before Harlan established a new conference record of 14:6 seconds for the high hurdles.

In compiling its all-American honor rolls the Athletic Journal each year takes the five best times, distances or heights for each event.

Fishermen of Seymour In 'Last-Period Drive'

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Jan. 20.—Local fishermen are wasting no time in their determined "last-period drive" against the finny tribes of the waters of Lake Kemp. The season closes Jan. 31.

Recent fair weather has permitted the roads to dry, making possible travel to and from the lake, and as a result hundreds of cars are noted daily, with their loads of poles, minnow buckets, boats, and sportsmen.

Game fishing has not been as good this year as in other years, perhaps due to the rainy season, but there is still hope that fair weather will play its part with aiding fish to bite between now and midnight of the 31st. The season is closed from Feb. 1 to May 1.

Dietzel Scores 15 Points In Conference Game

AUSTIN, Jan. 20. (AP)—A scrappy University of Texas basket ball team took a hard one on the chin here tonight, losing a Southwest conference game to Texas Christian university, 52 to 22.

The only time Texas was on a par with the Horned Frogs was at the start of the contest. There was no doubt of Christian's superiority after the first tipoff.

The half ended 20-14 with the Christians leading. Texas ran its total to 18 shortly after the second half opened, and the Christians took time out. Before Texas scored again the Christians had made their total 51.

Sumner opened for the Christians with a free throw and was followed closely with field goals by Green, Walker and Sumner himself. The Christians then were off to the races and soon had the score 16 to 13.

Although closely guarded, Dietzel scored 15 points on five field goals and five free throws. They ran his conference scoring total to 48.

Summer and Brannon each made 12 points. Kubricht, Texas center, scored eight, making his conference total 41.

Beard-Pulling May Spice Grapple Card

The ancient art of beard pulling is very likely to be revived Friday night at Bob Connor's wrestling arena when George Ligosky, the bearded Russian, and Silent Condell, the deaf and dumb Scotchman, tangle in the main event of the weekly grunt and groan card. While Ligosky comes to Wichita Falls rated as one of the most colorful men in the business while Condell's power is well known here.

The semifinal match should also prove to be a bang up affair with Otis Clingman, pupil of the far famed Dutch Mantell in the rough and tumble tactics of the present day ring, meeting Doc Muller, the Austin chiropractor. Muller fast has become a favorite here through his colorful battles with Teddy Waters and has a large following.

Both Ligosky and Clingman are newcomers to Wichita Falls, but they come with a good record behind them, and Promoter Connor assures the fans that they will get their money's worth out of the pair.

NBA MAY OUST MAX SCHMELING

Question of Heavy Title To Be Voted On

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP)—Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, faces the possibility of losing the title without throwing a glove.

This was indicated tonight as the result of a poll made by The Associated Press of members of the National Boxing association, who will vote on a proposal to vacate Schmeling's championship because of his failure to defend it or to sign to defend it within the six months time limit prescribed by the N. B. A.

Gen. John V. Clinnin, president of the N. B. A., dispatched ballots to the membership and expects them to oust the German title holder.

"The rules are made by the membership of the N. B. A." General Clinnin said tonight, "and I expect them to be followed out to the letter. That, at least, has been the procedure before when the membership has been asked to vote on questions of vacating a champion's title."

General Clinnin said the complete balloting would not be available until probably the middle of February, as the votes must come from 29 states.

"Times are always bad for him"

LET him blame his troubles on the depression if it gives him any satisfaction. He's always found it hard to get and hold a job—yet he thinks he's a victim of the "times". It never occurs to him that his untidy appearance has cost him one opportunity after another. He's careless about shaving—frequently leaves a repulsive growth of stubble on his face. Can he expect an employer to overlook this fault?

Possibly you think this warning is unnecessary—but it would surprise you to know how many men shave every other day—and sometimes even less often. Yet everyone concedes that daily or twice-daily shaving is required for a neat, trim appearance.

Try today's Gillette blade and prove to your own satisfaction that frequent, close shaving can be entirely comfortable. This blade is keen and smooth—skims over your face quickly and easily. Complete satisfaction is positively guaranteed. Buy a package and try two blades. If every shave isn't amazingly clean and comfortable—return the package to your dealer and he'll refund the purchase price.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—After selling off during the earlier trading, cotton steadied in the last hour on trade buying and covering promoted by the late firmness in grain and stock.

March contracts after easing off to 6.62 or 12 points net lower, rallied to 6.70 and closed at 6.67, with the general market closing steady at net losses of 4-7 points.

January sold up to 6.61 and July to 7.03 or about 8-9 points from the low levels of the day, but closing prices were slightly off from the best.

A good part of the day's selling was attributed to liquidation through houses with Wall street or western connections, while the bulk of the buying on the decline was believed to be for trade account. Reports of continued favorable weather for the movement in the south, but nothing was heard of any easing of the basis. Private reports from the southwest said that the basis in some sections was higher.

Liverpool cables said the decline in that market was due to hedging with local and continental liquidation on the less favorable international situation, but this factor seemed to be offset by some extent by the action of the stock market. Exports today 48,611 making 4,568,746 so far this season. Port receipts 61,403. U. S. port stocks 4,890,036.

Futures closed steady, 4 to 7 points lower. Spot steady; middling 6.75.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20. (AP)—Cotton after ruling quiet and lower all morning rallied in the afternoon owing to a sustained advance in stock, closing the day with net declines of only 2 to 4 points.

The market opened easier as Liverpool cables were 8 to 9 penny points worse than due. Private cables stated that there was hedge selling and local and continental liquidation. Manchester cables said that there were moderate cloths sales to India.

The market became quite active in the late trading and price advances sharply owing to continued strength of stocks. Active months advanced 10 to 11 points from the lows to new highs for the day at 6.70 for March, 6.86 for May and 7.02 for July and closed at or near the top. March closing 4 points net lower for the day and May and July 3 points net lower.

Liverpool is due 2 to 3 penny points up tomorrow on New Orleans.

The stock of cotton at New Orleans passed the million bale mark to 1,006,376 today, the largest local stock on record.

Speculative Influence Credited With Moving Stock Prices Higher

By BROADAN WALL
(Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Stocks moved higher today, although the limited turnover suggested only speculative significance to the session's fluctuations. Rail shares felt the initial benefits of an improved technical position and when this group turned toward higher levels, the remainder of the market responded easily.

Short-covering undoubtedly played a leading role in the price betterment, since nothing concretely cheerful developed in news of the day. Trading proceeded on an exceedingly dull scale, most of the day even during the rallying period. Perhaps this dullness in itself was the most optimistic sign for the market, leading to the interpretation by some speculative factions that the late somewhat cheerless news has been unable to inaugurate another period of heavy liquidation.

The probability of a huge outward gold flow was fully recognized, although few in the financial district were prepared for the immediate withdrawal of sizeable French balances aside from her previous accumulation of earmarked gold.

It is too early yet to interpret properly the significance of this latest move in France's vast game of international finance; fortunately, this nation is well prepared to stand enormous gold drain if the foreigners prefer having their funds in their own or other countries than in the United States.

France has been aggressor throughout in the game of high finance, involving gold movements from nation to nation, abandonment of the gold standard by various countries, and similar manifestations of international maneuvering, a good deal of which is inspired by political motive.

But it has been noticed that the leading financial powers of New York for the past fortnight, well aware undoubtedly of the impending gold movement, have been devoting their principal attention to a purely domestic affair, the financing of the city of New York. The final move in this great world gold game has not yet been made.

Talk of wild inflation in the United States to accrue from the easier money policy of the federal reserve or from the Reconstruction Finance corporation precludes any knowledge of the men who have been designated to manage their respective affairs. Neither Eugene Meyer, head of the reserve system and contemplated chairman of the reconstruction corporation, nor General Dawes, who will be president of the reconstruction unit, can by the widest stretch of imagination be classified among inflationists. They are of the hard-headed, banker type whose prototypes were sadly missed during the era of reckless financing and banking which led up to the collapse in 1929.

They are hardly likely, under prevailing circumstances, to proceed in reckless fashion.

It is more reasonable to assume that they will move directly toward the major objective: termination of irresponsible deflation and the creation of a firm foundation for revival.

Today's rally in rail shares developed despite advices from Chicago that a further postponement had been voted in the wage meetings.

However, there was a well-defined report that some surprise development may come from the conference. It was even suggested that instead of the 10 per cent unconditional wage slash demanded by the railroad operators, a 15 per cent cut may become effective.

The unions will be asked to consider this larger cut in return for the managements' agreement to accede to virtually all of the guaranty provisions of the labor program.

General Electric, the most active issue of the day, was the only one of the leaders to close net lower for the day. Expectation of a poor 1931 report is responsible for the steady selling of this stock.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP)—In a sudden outburst of buying wheat prices made a lightning-like advance at the close today.

Quick changes of front on the part of speculative traders appeared to be chiefly responsible for the day's net gain in wheat values. Earlier, the market had been oppressed by reports of heavy chartering of vessels to carry grain from Russia and Argentina.

Wheat closed nervous at the day's top level, ⅝@1c above yesterday's finish, corn ⅛@½c up, oats unchanged to ¼c off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

Provisions were easier, responsive to downturns in hog values to a new low since 1899.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (US)—Wheat traders continued to find the market a puzzling affair. Despite a lack of favorable news there was steady absorption of wheat on the dip and the pit crowd found a scarcity of offerings in attempting to cover.

Exports of wheat from Rumania are expected to total 34,000,000 bushels this season, or about double the previous season's shipments, cables say.

Active chartering of vessels in both Russia and Argentina was reported today.

Return of abnormally mild weather has started wheat growth again in the Ohio valley, resulting in further apprehension over the possibilities of damage from cold weather.

C-C AT RYAN GIVES BANQUET

Annual Meeting Brings Enthusiasm

Special to The Record News.

RYAN, Okla., Jan. 20.—The chamber of commerce had its annual banquet Tuesday night at the Epperson cafe. A large attendance was registered. There were several out-of-town visitors some of whom made splendid speeches. G. J. Williams, the master of ceremonies, introduced the speakers after making a splendid introductory speech.

Rev. R. M. Holland spoke on the possibilities of Ryan, basing his remarks on two very important things—quality and service. The speaker strongly emphasized the importance of quality in any business rather than quantity, and cited several characters of modern times who had succeeded on the basis of quality of service and not quantity.

He was applauded by the crowd when he called attention to the fact that the tide is now turning toward the small town and village instead of the big cities.

Senator C. S. Storms, editor of the Waurika Democrat, and president of the Waurika Chamber of Commerce, brought greetings from Waurika and urged cooperation between town and country, town and town, village and village.

Beeson Grantham of Duncan, Okla., spoke on the distinctive advantages and opportunities of the smaller towns over the larger towns and cities. He illustrated his point from his travels through the north during the summer.

RAIL HEADS GIVEN DELAY

Labor to Wait Until Today For Wage Answer

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (US)—An additional 24 hours was granted the railroads today to prepare a specific outline of their financial needs in 1932, detailing why a 10 per cent cut in workmen's wages is mandatory.

Today's scheduled sessions were postponed at the request of Daniel Willard, chief spokesman for the committee of the nine railroad presidents at the joint conference on wages and employment.

The conference will be resumed tomorrow morning.

Details Demanded

David B. Robertson, spokesman for the nation's 2,000,000 railroad workers, had demanded that all technical language be removed from the carriers' statistics on finances, obligations, employment and cost of living figures. He said that labor must know in definite terms the situation confronting the owners.

A committee of economic experts worked far into the night yesterday to compile the mass of information requested but announced today that additional time would be needed to complete the statistics.

Figures Protested

Labor in its answer to the demand for a 10 per cent wage cut had attacked the statistics previously presented as being unfair; had asserted that comparison of living costs with 1913 was not a true estimating basis and that valuation of railroad properties presented at the conference did not agree with Interstate Commerce Commission figures.

"Tell us specifically what debts you owe," Robertson asked. "We also want to know the definite amount of obligations due in 1932 and if the wage cut is made what disposition will be made of the savings thus effected."

The wage cut would save approximately $250,000,000 in the period of one year for which it is asked, it is estimated.

Answer Today

"The answer to labor will be in complete form tomorrow," Willard said today, following the announcement of the postponement.

In addition to the statistical information, the presidents are expected to reply also to the question of the union chiefs on stabilization of employment—fixing a minimum working force on the roads.

In making this question, the labor leaders indicated they would be willing to accept the wage reduction if the road adopted the year 1930 as an employment basis.

Would Give Jobs

This would amount to an increase of working hours of approximately 10 per cent and employ more than 100,000 railroad workers now out of work. Maintenance of way and shop employes would benefit mainly if the proposal is accepted by the carriers.

Union chiefs at the conference are still hopeful to renew a discussion on the six-hour day plan although the presidents are understood to have definitely rejected it from the negotiating program.

Leaders of both sides reiterated today that they were hopeful a satisfactory agreement would be reached.

Labor and Medicine Unite in Plea for Dry Law Modification

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (US)—Modificationists concluded their testimony at the senate beer hearings today with a sharp attack on prohibition by organized labor.

Prolonged applause, mingled with hisses from dry adherents, greeted a statement by Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of labor, that gangster rule and corruption, resulting from prohibition, are undermining the American social and political system.

Warning that continued drinking of bootleg booze would increase the narcotic drug menace in the country was sounded by Dr. Alfred Stengel, vice president of medical affairs, University of Pennsylvania. He said:

Attacks Clerics

"One way to the narcotic habit is through the use of hard liquor. Continued indulgence in hard liquor will lead to an increase in the drug habit."

Turning toward the audience, which included several high officials of the Anti-Saloon league, Woll challenged the drys to a showdown fight on modification, saying:

"If the clerics stoop to politics, as they are now doing, they must take the dirt that goes with it. Labor is ready to meet them in that field."

Dry Hearing Set

Drys will present their case 4 per cent beer when hearings are resumed on Jan. 25.

Ex-Senator Gould of Maine, leaning heavily on a cane, amazed the committee with testimony that Maine, regarded as a rock-ribbed dry state, is strongly inclining toward modification. He added:

"More hard liquor is being consumed in Maine today than ever before."

Dr. Martin Dewey of New York, president of the American Dental association, pleaded for return of beer "in the interest of protecting and nourishing the health of expectant mothers and their unborn children." He said beer and wine are necessary in the diet.

Senator Barbour, Republican of New Jersey added his support to the beer bill.

Amarillo Man Escapes Attack of Gangsters

AMARILLO, Texas, Jan. 20. (AP)—Warrington Durrance, 23, who came here four days ago from El Paso, told police he was "taken for a ride" last night and escaped only because of doubt concerning his identity.

Durrance said he was forced by two armed men to enter a motor car on a down town street and was taken to a house where he was identified by several men and two women.

"They kept asking me about somebody I didn't know," he said.

After being guarded by armed men for three hours, Durrance said he was taken into the country about 10 miles, stripped of most of his clothing and released. He was brought to town at midnight by a ranchman.

Our Children

What Then?

Children sometimes exasperate us to the point of desperation and we, in a tearing rage, announce some drastic sentence.

"Young man, I've had enough of this. This is no stable where you come for shelter and food. I'll have you know that you'll respect your home and your parents sufficiently to behave yourself like a human being or you're going out of this house and stay out."

"That will be about all from you, young lady. You'll do what I say and that's all about that. If you don't like it you can find some place else. Maybe you can find somebody who will wash your clothes and cook your food and take care of you when you're sick and the rest of it without a bit of appreciation or pay. Maybe you can find somebody who will put up with your carelessness and your impudence. It isn't me. I don't care whether you do or not. Suit yourself. I won't ask you to come back."

Tempted beyond your strength by their seeming heedlessness you say the hot words that are going to burn themselves into the minds and hearts of the children long after you have begun to wish you had never said them. These adolescent children who do such silly things, such dangerous things, are not defying you. They are stumbling along as best they can with the light they have. You did not know so much at 17 as you do now at 45. Remember.

There isn't one of us, saint or sinner, who has not made mistakes that we want to forget and to have others forget. We didn't grow up full of wisdom. We gave our fathers and mothers and teachers plenty to do to keep us from injuring ourselves and other people. But we forget all that and remember only our present days of strength and knowledge. We lose our tempers and our common sense. We need to keep both.

Whenever you feel like making a drastic announcement go off by yourself and think it all out. Say it all out loud if that helps you any. When you have cooled off think it all over again and always test yourself with the question, "What then?"

After you have sent the child from you what then? Where will he go? What will he do? Then what? Unless you can see two clear steps ahead and both of them good for the child's future, reserve your decision and go on working with him. Keep quiet until you can see one step ahead and then take it and ask again, what then?

There is no final decision rendered in this life. No matter how wise you may be, no matter how deeply you wish to be wise, you will fall short of the truth and your wisest word will not stand up under the test of time. If you were all wise, if you knew what was to happen tomorrow, or even tonight, you might feel free to make final gestures and thundering decisions. But you don't and you can't. The next hour may change all the conditions and bring on a new situation and you find yourself at a fresh beginning.

It is best to be quiet and patient and work out the child's salvation with his cooperation. There will not be so many things to unsay or to undo. There will be a better chance for effective work if you wait until you can answer that important question: What then?

EASIEST WAY TO BREAK UP A COLD

Millions Say of This Proved Way

Works Fast—Makes You Feel Like a New Person Before You Know It

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets every three hours. Drink lots of water between times—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

Negro Women Outrun Housewife After Raid on Food Supplies

Two negro women outdistanced a white woman in a speed demonstration here Wednesday after the white woman surprised the negresses ransacking her pantry. Although the white woman gave chase and pursued the raiders as the latter two hurriedly made their exit from the home and scurried down an alley, the race was decidedly one-sided. With foods of various descriptions under their arms the negro women quickly scurried from sight.

The white woman, Mrs. C. R. Cobb, 1808 Seventh street, was occupied in a section of her home away from the kitchen at the time. However, she heard a noise in the rear of the house. Going to investigate she found one of the negro women loading her arms with choice ham, preserves and other delicacies from the Cobb refrigerator.

As the dusky raider took to her heels she was joined by a companion who had been removing the contents from the refrigerator of the occupants of the other side of the house.

Police were called, and Detective F. M. Dowdy was given an account of the black prowlers' hasty departure.

Mrs. W. T. Wright Claimed by Death

Funeral services for Mrs. W. T. Wright, 68, who died at a hospital here late Wednesday morning after prolonged ill health, will be held Thursday at 10:30 a. m., from the chapel of the Merkle Undertaking company.

The Rev. Patrick J. F. O'Beirne of the Sacred Heart church will officiate. Following services the body will be forwarded Thursday afternoon to Denison for burial.

Mrs. Wright's husband died a month ago. Grief at his death was believed to have aggravated her illness.

Surviving are two sons, E. J. Wright and C. A. Wright of Wichita Falls; and three daughters, Mrs. J. W. Marriott and Mrs. J. G. Adams, both of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. H. H. Askew of Birmingham, Ala. The family residence here is at 1316 Eighteenth street.

Clay County Jurist to Address Bar Association

Judge Vincent Stine of the district court for Clay and Montague counties, and H. J. Bruce, local attorney, will be the principal speakers at the annual banquet of the Wichita County Bar association at the Wichita club Friday evening of this week at 6:30 o'clock.

A musical program for the event is being planned by John Kilgore. Luther Hoffman, A. H. Britain and Joe Carrigan comprise the committee in charge of general arrangements for the banquet. Temple Shell and Milburn Nutt are the ticket sales committee. President Ralph Mathis will preside.

Court Administration of Oil Conservation Urged

Enforcement of state conservation laws by a constitutionally accredited court rather than by a commission is the only plan that will curb heavy waste of oil in Texas, John Kilgore told members of the Optimist club Wednesday noon.

Pointing to the fact that 60 per cent of the taxes paid into the state treasury in 1930 came from crude oil, Mr. Kilgore emphasized the importance of safe-guarding such resources. A controlled program in any field can be destroyed by one greedy operator who pumps his wells to full capacity, the speaker said.

Dance numbers by Miss Faith Galmiche, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Gilbert Galmiche, were included in the program.

DEATHS

DORIS FAY LEATH

Funeral services for Doris Fay Leath, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Leath of Charlie, Texas, were held Wednesday afternoon from the chapel of the Merkle Undertaking company. The Rev. W. P. Crouch, pastor of the Charlie Baptist church, officiated. Burial was in the Charlie cemetery.

The child died at the home in Charlie early Wednesday morning. In addition to the parents she is survived by a brother, Clarence, and a sister, Nelline.

A Bible 202 years old that has been in possession of his family all of that time is owned by Ismael Young of Tiffin, Ohio.

Don't neglect a COLD

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old Musterole with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. Musterole gets action because it is a scientific "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy—jars and tubes.

To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

CRAZY QUILT
110 IN THE COMPANY 110
WICHITA FALLS is one of but few cities on the Transcontinental Tour of CRAZY QUILT where less than an engagement of a week will be played. The Tour of CRAZY QUILT marks a Revolutionary Departure in the customary procedure. Until NOW no major revue has been booked over a Coast-to-Coast route before having dimmed the lustre of its success by protracted engagements in the big eastern cities of Boston, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Washington and Baltimore.
In the case of CRAZY QUILT only Chicago and New York have been visited prior to the current tour. The management makes no claim to disinterestedness. Billy Rose has acted on the theory that by sending forth CRAZY QUILT, with Chicago and New York cast and production intact, while still in the full flush of its youthful vigor and unsullied sheen, to the important cities of the South and West, more profit can be garnered than in the depression-ravaged industrial communities of the East.
