FIVE MINUTES — Former President Dwight David Eisenhower, accompanied by his wife, Mamie, were greeted by more than 500 well-wishers who were seeking autographs and pictures when Santa Fe's San Francisco Chief stopped in Pampa for five minutes Tuesday evening. The former chief executive and his wife were en route to their Gettysburg home after a five-month winter vacation in Palm Desert, Calif.

Brewers, Union Foam Up Over Sudsy Subject

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The "beer break" is a secondary issue at stake in a contract dispute between California beer distributors and the Teamsters Union.

Bottlers in the warehouses now get a 15-minute beer break in the morning and again in the afternoon — and drivers who are out on the road all day can have "all the cold beer they can drink in half an hour after their run."

An industry spokesman said Tuesday that "some of the wives have complained their husbands come home half-gassed at times, so we propose instead that we give them a six-pack each a week." In place of the beer breaks, the employers proposed the traditional coffee break.

New Chief Selected By NATO

THE HAGUE (UPI) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Council today unanimously elected Italian Ambassador to Paris Manlio Brosio as the alliance's new secretary general.

Brosio succeeds Dirk U. Stikker of The Netherlands, who retires Aug. 1 after three years in the alliance's No. 1 spot.

The appointment was approved at a three-hour secret session of the council this morning.

The election of Brosio came as Allied diplomatic sources said the United States and Britain had failed to persuade France to join an agreement barring the further spread of nuclear weapons.

The sources said Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler discussed the issue Tuesday with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville in a meeting on the sidelines of the NATO foreign ministers' conference here.

The sources said Couve de Murville remained noncommittal and showed no interest in the program. Diplomats pointed out that France would not agree to any nuclear ban that might lead to the abandonment of its independent atomic force.

France refused to sign last summer's Allied-Soviet nuclear test ban treaty for this reason.

Guard Patrols Eastern Town To Quell Rioting

Demonstration Threat Hangs Over Race-Tense Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (UPI)—The threat of more Negro demonstrations hung over this racially tense Eastern Shore community today although the steel-helmeted National Guardsmen patrolled the city's streets to enforce a ban on such protests.

Guardsmen, bayonets at the ready, threatened to use tear gas Tuesday night to quell the second street demonstration in two days by about 150 singing, chanting Negroes. The crowd dispersed without incident.

Thirteen integration leaders, including Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Non-Violent Action Committee, were to appear before magistrate's court here on disorderly conduct charges.

The 13 have been held in custody under "civil arrest" at the Pikesville Armory, near Baltimore, since Monday night. The guard used tear gas to break up a wild brick-throwing demonstration by about 200 Negroes staging a "freedom day" rally in opposition to a rally for Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Cambridge has been under "militia law," a form of limited martial law, since the bloody riots of last summer. Under militia law demonstrations such as those Monday night and Tuesday night are banned.

But John Lewis, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), who led Tuesday night's demonstration in Mrs. Richardson's absence, indicated the ban would be ignored.

"There will be no peace until all of the people have the rights that only some have," he said.

Elsewhere:

Jacksonville, Fla.: Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., warned Tuesday that thousands of Negroes have developed a "martyrdom complex" and are ready to die to gain equal rights. "But they are not going to die alone," Morse added.

Nashville, Tenn.: A scuffle occurred Tuesday during the 16th day of a desegregation drive in the Tennessee capital. Three demonstrators, two Negro girls and a white girl were arrested at a segregated restaurant where the blouse of a white waitress was ripped during a sit-in attempt.

New York: An advisory committee to the New York state Education Department issued a report Tuesday declaring that total desegregation of New York City's schools was impossible. The committee said that neither planning nor pressure would achieve integration. The committee said the city Board of Education's plans since 1954 had not contributed to integration and recommended a complete revamping of its plans to improve the quality of education and to facilitate better racial balance.

Sign-up Time on Wheat Program To Be Extended

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department said Tuesday it is extending the sign-up period for the 1964 voluntary wheat program from May 15 to May 22.

The department said the extension is because many farmers have been busy with field work and might miss an opportunity to enroll in the program.

Farmers who comply with federal acreage allotments and other conditions of the program can qualify for government price supports and acreage diversion program.

More Discussion Set Over School Prayers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee opened its fourth week of hearings today on 147 proposals to change the Constitution to override the Supreme Court's ruling that prayer and Bible-reading should not be required in public schools.

Dr. Jefferson B. Fordham, dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law School, labeled as "sheer nonsense" claims that the Supreme Court's school prayer decisions were "anti-religious."

The big gun for supporters of the legislation, Dr. Carl McIntire, president of the International Council of Churches and a well-known radio minister, also was scheduled to testify.

Fordham said it was ironic that "we are told in one breath that what the Supreme Court did is in keeping with governmental attacks upon religion in Communist regime, and in the next, that what we need is governmental action to advance religion."

Other congressional news:

Baker: Chairman B. Everett Jordan, C-N.C., of the Senate Rules Committee charged that Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., scaled "the height of demagoguery" when he demanded that each senator be asked about his business dealings with Bobby Baker. Jordan said Case's proposal would be "an insult to a senator." Case made his request at an open hearing Tuesday.

IDA: Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., predicted that the House would reverse itself and approve an additional contribution to the International Development Association (IDA). Strong Republican support developing within the past three weeks was expected to salvage the bill which was defeated last February. The IDA makes loans on easy, long-credit terms to underdeveloped nations for projects intended to spur economic growth.

Aid: President Johnson has urged administration forces on the House Foreign Affairs Committee to hold the line against cuts in his $3.4 billion foreign aid bill. Johnson asked Chairman Thomas R. Morgan, D-Pa. to bring a bill to the House floor with a total as close to his request as possible.

Answer to Charges Of Outmoded Planes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first planes in a new, modified fleet of U.S. bombers "are en route now and will arrive in South Viet Nam early next month," the Pentagon disclosed today.

The planes are two-seater Douglas A1E Skyraiders, propeller-driven aircraft.

The fleet is expected to be brought speedily to a total of 75 planes, each with approximately three times the load-carrying capacity of the 72 U.S. bomber types previously sent to South Viet Nam.

The disclosure came from Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert in answer to charges that American pilots have been dying in obsolete planes in South Viet Nam.

Concedes Some Failures

Zuckert conceded two and possibly more cases of structural failure in the earlier planes, but said losses had been primarily due to "the increased effectiveness of (Communist) Viet Cong antiaircraft fire."

He said the T28 and B26 bombers which have been used in South Viet Nam were brought to "like-new" condition before being sent there. In general, he said, these planes have performed well.

Zuckert, on behalf of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara who has been in South Viet Nam this week, wrote a letter to Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, who said earlier he would call McNamara for questioning on the subject.

Zuckert said the replacement of the T28 was planned in September last year, and added:

"The modifications involved extensive engineering and complete overhaul, which have been carried out as quickly as possible. The first A1E (Skyraider) aircraft are en route now and will arrive in Viet Nam early in June."

Carry More Bombs

The Skyraiders carry 12,000 pounds of bombs and rockets, compared with 3,000 to 4,000 pounds for the T28 and B26. The 41 B26s in South Viet Nam have been grounded since April 15, but the T28 is still flying.

The House Armed Services Committee asked the Defense Department earlier for a full explanation of recent incidents allegedly involving equipment failure that took the lives of American pilots.

The demand for the inquiry was led by House GOP Whip Leslie Arends, Ill., top Republican on the committee, and Reps. Charles E. Chamberlain, R-Mich., and Ed Foreman, R-Tex., two other members.

In related developments:

—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., citing "reports of American lives being lost...because of inadequate and obsolescent equipment," introduced a resolution calling for modernization of the Viet Nam war effort.

—A group of relatives of U.S. servicemen killed in Viet Nam urged, in an open letter to President Johnson, that the United States fight a "battle to win" in the Southeast Asian country. The letter was in the form of a full-age advertisement in the Washington Star. It contained the names of 127 Americans killed in Viet Nam.

—Scripps-Howard writer Jim G. Lucas reported from Viet Nam Monday that two American pilots, Capt. Edwin G. Shank Jr. of Winamac, Ind., and Capt. Robert N. Brumet of Bethesda, Md., died because the wings came off their planes during combat sorties.

Lucas said that the two men died "because they were ordered to fly planes that might better have been consigned to the scrap heap." The plane involved in both cases was the T28, which has long been used in Viet Nam.

The T28, which first went into production in 1950, is regarded by pilots in Washington as very well suited to Viet Nam because it is a rugged plane and can land and take off in a short distance.

U.S. Tests Space Device Successfully

WHITE SANDS, N.M. (UPI) —A unique "quick getaway" device today rescued a dummy Apollo spaceship from a deliberately exploding rocket, scoring a major success in America's bid to launch astronauts toward the moon in 1969.

The make-believe drama of space, testing a vital emergency escape system, was performed by a Little Joe-2 rocket that made a spectacular dash into the skies above White Sands missile range at 6 a.m.

More than three miles above the ground a potent escape rocket mounted on a tower atop the cone-shaped Apollo capsule thundered into life and sent the craft hurtling on a steep, fiery path into the sky at more than 60 miles per hour.

Deliberately Blown up

Simultaneously, the Little Joe-2—now left thousands of feet behind—was deliberately blown up. The explosion sent hundreds of chunks of flaming debris raining harmlessly on the barren stretches of the missile range.

Two giant red and white parachutes blossomed from the top of the Apollo and lowered it gently to earth, despite the fact a third chute failed to open. But space scientists said all indications were that the finish to what Dr. Joseph F. Shea, chief of the Apollo program called a "fairly major test" was successful.

The shot, first of five tests of the escape system, that someday may save the lives of astronauts blasting off on flights to the moon aboard Saturn-5 super booster rockets, took barely seven minutes from start to finish.

December Test Next

Shea said the next test of the escape system, at an even higher altitude, was planned for December. The remaining three shots, he added, will take place in 1965—well ahead of the day when astronauts will begin riding Apollo capsules into space.

Among those on hand for the spectacular shot were five men whose lives may someday depend on this same safety system — astronauts Donald K. (Deke) Slayton, Alan B. Shepherd Jr., James A. Lovell, Charles (Pete) Conrad and L. Gordon Cooper Jr.

Rocky and Nixon Show Popularity

By United Press International

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon demonstrated vote-getting power in West Virginia and Nebraska primaries Tuesday but Sen. Barry Goldwater salted away another cluster of convention votes from three states.

Rockefeller, running unopposed in the West Virginia GOP primary, won nearly two-thirds of the vote—a showing better than had been expected.

However, the results are not binding on the state's 14 delegates. As matters stand, Goldwater, although not on the ballot, is expected to net at least three and possibly more convention votes, with two for Rockefeller and nine still publicly uncommitted.

The Rockefeller camp claimed a "moral victory" for the New Yorker and hoped his showing would persuade the non-committed West Virginia delegates to swing to his side in San Francisco.

In Nebraska, Goldwater won an easy victory and his backers predicted Goldwater was assured of 15 of the state's 16 convention votes.

On the other hand, Nixon scored with a write-in vote of about 30 per cent and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had a write-in of about half that size.

Rockefeller came in a distant fourth. Goldwater's was the only name on the ballot, with the others making their showing by write-in votes.

Nixon's performance, in the state which went for him in a landslide way in 1960, was hailed by the managers of his write-in campaign.

"This is the beginning of the Nixon surge," said former Interior Secretary Fred Seaton. "Here you have a state where everyone wrote that the territory was safe for Goldwater. Now look what's happened—the prairie's on fire!"

Bishop Hit on Prayer Views

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jewish theologian said today that Roman Catholic Bishop Fulton J. Sheen ought to return to his seminary and learn the true meaning of prayer.

Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath criticized as "hypocrisy" a suggestion by Sheen that public school children be allowed to say as a prayer the phrase: "In God we trust."

Eisendrath testified today against amending the Constitution to allow prayer in the public schools. He appeared during hearings of the House Judiciary Committee.

"Let us not indulge in hypocrisy," Eisendrath said, "by pretending, as even a distinguished clergyman has done in testimony to this committee, that invocation of the phrase 'In God we trust' would advance either religion or morality.

"To believe that is to yield to magic and superstition."

Sheen recommended authorization of 'In God we trust' when he testified recently before the same committee.

The rabbi, who is president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, New York, added: "I would recommend that he return to his seminary."

Eisendrath said that prayer must be a personal thing and that Sheen's suggestion did not meet this test.

"Have the words, 'In God we trust', on our coins truly elevated American morality?" the rabbi asked. "To me, it verges closer to blasphemy than to genuine religion."

"If we plastered stickers proclaiming 'In God we trust' on all public buildings and recited it hourly in every public school, would we be saved?"

Court Battle Looms On Waggoner Estate

VERNON, Tex. (UPI)—Because a wealthy young man who had been married seven times died in 1928 without leaving any children, a complex lawsuit involving perhaps a $50 million estate is on file today in 46th District Court.

It involves the empire of ranching and oil built by W. T. Waggoner, composed of 600,000 acres of land in Northwest Texas and New Mexico that includes 5,000 oil wells.

Waggoner formed a trust in 1923 to leave his estate equally to his three children after his death, which came in 1935. The children were Electra, Guy L. and E. Paul, who is the only one still living.

Electra made a will in 1925 leaving her one-third to her two sons, Tom, married seven times, and Buster. It was Tom who died at 21 just three years later without any children. The present legal complexity developed one year ago when the other son, Buster, died to terminate the provisions of their mother's will.

One of many attorneys in the case, Ney Sheridan Jr. of Vernon, explained that if Tom (his last name was Wharton) had left children his portion of grandfather Waggoner's estate would not be in doubt. But with the death of his surviving brother, Buster Wharton on May 28, 1963, their mother's trust terminated.

A suit was filed to dispose of Electra's estate, her original third of Waggoner's millions. No doubt a portion will go to Buster's survivors, his widow Lula and their two children.

Others with an interest include Paul, in his late 60's who lives at Vernon, his heirs and the survivors of Guy L. Waggoner, who died in 1950. At that time his share out of the overall estate was pulled out by his son W. T. Waggoner Jr., who died in 1962.

Hecklers Fail to Ruffle Wallace

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace took his presidential primary campaign back to Baltimore today apparently unruffled by a heckling at the University of Maryland.

Wallace, who is running against Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., in next Tuesday's primary, planned to spend the day answering phone calls from voters and being interviewed by radio newsmen.

He was scheduled to speak off-campus to students at Frostburg, Md., State College at 7 p.m., EDT.

Addressing University of Maryland students Tuesday night at College Park, the segregationist governor overcame spirited heckling with sarcastic and sometimes humorous remarks.

A crowd of about 8,500 turned out for Wallace's appearance, sponsored by two student organizations. Before the address, Brewster and Sen. William E. Proxmire, D-Wis., spoke for the civil rights bill at a campus rally held in a light rain.

Wallace, who got heavy applause before the evening was over, replied to his hecklers with such remarks as "If you folks don't get quiet, you're never going to get promoted to the second grade."

At one point, he said: "I always heard that the hallmark of a liberal was a willingness to hear the other side. Listen to me, and then if you don't agree, we'll agree to disagree aggreeably."

Wallace drew howls of laughter with a slip of the tongue when he defended the "system that you are guilty until proven innocent."

WHEELS-UP LANDING

CHANTILLY, Va. (UPI) — A United Air Lines prop-jet Viscount on a training flight made an apparently inadvertent wheels-up landing Tuesday at Dulles International Airport, damaging its belly and propellers.

Aboard were instructor Lawrence Rooney, Capt. Frank D'Amico and James Seaton, a Federal Aviation Agency, air carrier inspector, who was acting as a student observer. They were not injured.

A Civil Aeronautics Board spokesman said the Dulles tower saw the plane approaching the runway with its landing gear up and tried unsuccessfully to warn the crew.

Breakthrough in Cancer Treatment Termed Likely

OKLAHOMA CITY (Spl)—The American Cancer Society announced today what could be a major breakthrough in the treatment and possible cure of patients with inoperable head and neck cancer.

A drug known as methotrexate was administered to 21 patients having such cancer at the Oklahoma Medical Research Institute here.

In a short time 14 were relieved of pain and seven experienced partial regression, shrinkage of tumors and relief of symptoms for one to three months.

In another group, large doses of radiation were added to the drug. Of this group one - third experienced severe toxicity and discomfort. Nevertheless, more than 90 per cent received benefits lasting an average of more than six months.

The institute also found that a few small doses of supervoltage X-rays and methotrexate could be given to the patients with no serious ill effects.

In all groups the average remission was 12 months and 40 per cent were still alive at the end of two years.

All patients were beyond help by conventional surgery and radiation and almost all had earlier treatment without hope.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

Realistic contemplation of the civil rights problem now lowering over the nation turns up a fact that should alarm all concerned, white and black, North and South.

That fact is that the problem of civil rights does not respond readily if at all to legislative solutions. For example, in New York City, the capital city of civil rights, there have been threats and achievements of shocking civil disorder. In his "EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK" published in the Knight newspapers, John S. Knight well stated the situation, like this:

"The irony of such rabble-rousing (by civil rights leaders) is that New York has done more to protect Negro job rights, assure open housing, provide equal accommodations and use buses to transport children from segregated neighborhoods than any other city in the country."

New York has plenty of law. Moreover, the elected public officials of New York City and state are dedicated civil rights politicians, some of them because they need the Negro bloc vote. Both state and city have civil rights laws. These are administered by sympathetic public servants.

Believe in Laws

Until the problem of civil rights plopped into the job market or the house next door, it was assumed that a great majority of New Yorkers aggressively believed in all-out civil rights laws and their enforcement.

In this friendly legislative and administrative environment, New York Negroes still feel themselves to be so deprived and put upon that they must undertake all sorts of angry means of self defense. And this is what makes for more alarm.

If self-imposed state and municipal civil rights legislation supported by a majority of whites will not do the job in the friendly New York environment, what chance is there that federal legislation will be able to accomplish more in a resentful, unfriendly South?

The bleak answer to that is, not much.

And if federal legislation falls far short in the South of achieving its objectives, what then? Then, of course, will come the overwhelming political pressure of northern whites and Negroes for the federal government to enforce in the South a federal law.

Prospect is Chilling

The South will be ridiculed and condemned and, perhaps, its cities invaded and occupied by federal troops or marshals. And all of this will be applauded by northerners whose own states and cities enact but scamp the enforcement of civil rights legislation. A chilling prospect. There is a chill for the North, too.

On April 27 the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) complained that state fair employment practices laws didn't bring about any basic change in the status of Negro labor in northern states. NAACP spokesman was Herbert Hill, labor secretary of the association. He said state fair employment commissions had been timid, reluctant to act. He warned that these attitudes must change, and fast.

"This is now especially important," Hill added, "as it becomes clearer each passing day that the next great crisis in American race relations will be in the North."

That is fair warning to those naive citizens and politicking statesmen who assert that enchantment of the pending civil rights bill will bring racial peace to the United States. It may, but probably won't.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Back in Europe for a meeting of NATO foreign ministers, United States Secretary of State Dean Rusk finds himself facing a now familiar adversary—Maurice Couve de Murville, foreign minister of France.

The voice is that of Couve de Murville but the words are those of French President Charles de Gaulle.

It was on May 15, 1962, that De Gaulle formally put into words a three-point program which ever since has been the guide-post to French foreign policy.

France's task, he said, was to disengage itself from the political, military and economic obligations it once held overseas.

It must "construct Europe" in the political, defense and economic fields in close cooperation with Germany and establish a balance within the Communist bloc.

It must secure a French atomic striking force so that France can have "her own share in her own destiny" within a framework of "necessary alliances."

That was the program, and the United States could like it or not.

At It Again

Last Saturday, in Brussels, Secretary Rusk found himself jousting with the same old windmill.

Americans, he said, "simply cannot understand the revival of the notion of absolute independence in dealing with affairs within the free world."

U.S. freedom of action, he said, is "rigorously circumscribed" by commitments which include the defense of France against attack and a pledge to consult Paris on affairs within the area of NATO.

In U.S. eyes, De Gaulle's declaration of independence from U. S. influence and dictates largely has been negative—his refusal to participate in Geneva disarmament talks, his insistence upon reorganization of NATO, and even his recognition of Red China.

Say Times Change

The French reply has been that France recognizes the importance of the Atlantic Alliance and remains a good ally. But, the French say, times have changed since the beginning of NATO in 1950, and the United States should not expect its allies to remain her "proteges."

As for recognition of Red China, France simply is recognizing a force in being, that neither peace in Asia nor world disarmament can be achieved without the cooperation of the power in control of the vast Chinese mainland.

One De Gaulle objective already has been attained and another is close. France, freed of the wars in Indochina and Algeria, has established close relations with most of the new African nations which formerly were its colonies and has achieved a new prosperity based upon Europe.

The day is almost here when France must be recognized as a nuclear power.

Slower of achievement but not yet a failure have been De Gaulle's efforts to "construct" Europe in the image which De Gaulle sees for it.

Taft Considered As Keynoter for GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, is being talked up as a likely choice for keynoter of the Republican National Convention in a shift away from a little-known state leader.

Party leaders, it was learned, have scrubbed the prior consideration given Minnesota state Chairman Robert Forsythe. When word leaked out that the keynoting assignment was being set up for the not-so-well-known Minnesotan, negative reaction chilled his prospects.

Taft, son of the late Senate GOP Leader, was pushed into national prominence just a week ago by his smashing four-to-one victory for the Ohio Republican senatorial nomination.

The 47-year old Taft beat Ted W. Brown, Ohio secretary of state, and is favored to win the seat held by Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young, who won renomination.

The GOP arrangements committee meets May 25 in Washington to pick officers for the convention opening in San Francisco on July 13. On May 26, the Republican National Committee will give formal approval to the choices for temporary chairman, keynoter and permanent chairman.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., who was party chairman from 1959 to 1961 and now heads the Senate GOP Campaign Committee, is slated for the role of permanent chairman.

Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon is regarded as the best bet for temporary chairman. Both chairmen, as well as the keynoter, deliver nationally televised speeches. But the heaviest load falls on the permanent chairman, who presides during adoption of the platform and nomination of the presidential and vice presidential candidates.

Yarborough Plan On Tv Criticized

AUSTIN (UPI)—A proposal by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., that the Federal Communications Commission prepare a manual for political candidates buying radio and television time came under fire Monday from Republican Senate hopeful George Bush.

Bush faces Jack Cox in a June 6 runoff to pick the Republican candidate to oppose Yarborough in November.

He said such a move by the FCC would mean political speeches would have to "conform to a book of rules written by a curious collection of bureaucrats in Washington looking for new and different ways to interfere and obstruct."

Bush said Yarborough "plans to use all the alphabetical agencies at his disposal to assure his reelection."

He cited Yarborough's use of an FBI statement which Yarborough said cleared him of charges in the Democratic primary campaign that he took $50,000 from Billie Sol Estes before Estes was convicted of swindling. Bush said it will take "more than the FCC and FBI" to keep Texans from "knowing the truth" if he is chosen to oppose Yarborough.

Goldwater to Talk On Nationwide TV

Senator Barry Goldwater will make political history tonight by becoming the first presidential candidate to go before a nationwide audience in advance of the national convention.

At 7:30 p.m., on Channel 10, Goldwater will appear on nationwide television to explain to the people why he is running and how he would lead the nation and the Free World.

Goldwater has cut short his campaign tour in order to remain in Washington to participate in the Civil Rights Bill debates.

"I cannot fulfill my Senate responsibilities and still maintain the full speaking schedule that I had planned," he said. "The problem of civil rights, and its vast importance to the American people, must take full precedence over any personal aims and political considerations of my own."

Goldwater plans to make maximum use of television and radio throughout the remainder of his campaign in order to bring the issues directly to the nation.

Texan Favors Private Firm To Mint Coins

WASHINGTON (UPI)— A Texas congressman says he realizes minting coins is "an historic function of government," but private industry should start minting some to help the current coin shortage.

Rep. Bob Casey, D-Tex., submitted a bill Monday that would authorize the Treasury to hire private firms to make coins. "Business, not only in my area, but over the nation, is suffering from this shortage of coins," he said.

He said Mint Director Eva Adams told him the Denver mint is working three shifts a day and funds are being diverted to put on extra shifts at the Philadelphia mint.

Plans to expand both mints will provide the long-range solution, he said, "but the problem is acute and immediate action is needed."

Judge Rules in Favor of Lippy

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (UPI) — A judge ruled Tuesday that Leo Durocher will not have to return to Vermont for a hearing in a $150,000 alienation of affection suit filed against the Los Angeles Dodgers baseball coaa by a Middlebury bricklayer.

Judge Rudolph J. Daley of Addison County Court said it would be "unjust and oppressive" to require Durocher to return to Vermont for deposition.

Rene Morin charged Durocher with alienating the affections of his 51-year-old wife, Anna. Durocher denied the charges.

Judge Daley ordered Durocher to produce, by June 1, all correspondence, motel or hotel receipts or photographs of himself and Mrs. Morin since Jan. 1, 1962.

Durocher earlier admitted dating Morin's 27-year-old actress-model daughter, Carolyn, once the coach's personal secretary.

However, he denied any involvement with Morin's wife. Durocher said the charges were "asinine."

Carolyn, her mother and three married sisters have rallied to Durocher's defense saying, "There is no truth whatsoever in the charges by our father."

Political Parties Meet To Check May 2 Vote

AUSTIN (UPI)—State Democratic and Republican party officials met Tuesday to canvass votes from the May 2 primary and both groups put in a plug for their presidential candidates.

Frank Erwin Jr., chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, laughed at claims Texas is now a two-party state.

He said Democrats got 92 per cent of all votes cast in both primaries and "that's a long way from being a two party state in my books."

Committeeman Byron Skelton of Temple chimed in with: "Republicans in Texas are a parasite party—they can't elect anyone without the help of defecting Democrats."

Predict LBJ Victory

Erwin and Skelton both predicted President Johnson would carry the state in November along with Gov. John Connally.

The GOP executive committee heard talks by Senate candidates George Bush and Jack Cox. National committeeman Albert Fay praised Sen. Barry Goldwater, saying "he speaks for those Americans who still think the American belief in human dignity holds true."

Democrats certified candidates for all statewide and district offices except one and took note of runoff elections between Rep. Joe Pool and Robert Baker for congressman-at-large. There were 28 other runoffs scheduled, one for state senator and 27 for state representative.

Printing Mistake

The committee did not certify results in a State Board of Education post in East Texas. In that race, E. C. Brice was inadvertently left off the ballot in Red River County. Brice had a 1,200 majority vote in the other 10 counties but lost that majority to his opponent, Doyle Corley, who picked up 4,700 votes in the county where he was the only candidate listed.

As a result of Brice being left off the ballot, the SDEC voted to declare the May 2 vote in that race void and to have the two men run again in the June 6 second primary.

Erwin told the committee Texas will have 99 votes in the national Democratic convention this year, compared with 66 at the 1960 convention.

Langdon Heads Spenders' List For Campaign

AUSTIN (UPI)—Jim C. Langdon's expenses in campaigning successfully for renomination as railroad commissioner amounted to $142,679, topping the list of reports received from Democratic candidates Tuesday by the secretary of state's office.

However, Gov. John Connally and senatorial candidate Gordon McLendon had not yet filed their reports. Under the law, the reports had to be postmarked by midnight Tuesday night.

Don Yarborough reported he spent $135,895 in his losing campaign against Connally, and Sen. Ralph Yarborough said he spent $123,880 to win renomination.

Langdon reported gifts of $124,149, Don Yarborough $89,594 and Ralph Yarborough $102,593.

Expense reports filed so far in other contested statewide races:

—U.S. Senate, Republican: George Bush, expenses $144,784, gifts $139,792; Jack Cox, expenses $47,054, gifts $41,665; Robert Morris, expenses $20,960, gifts $19,177; Milton Davis, expenses $17,874, gifts $30,513.

Congressman-at-large, Democratic: Robert Baker, expenses $39,591, gifts $18,370; Bill Elkins, expenses $1,452, no gifts; Joe Pool, expenses $9,773, gifts $16,013.

—Lieutenant governor, Democratic: Preston Smith, expenses $25,204, gifts $29,931.

—Supreme Court, Democratic: Sears McGee, expenses $23,865, gifts $20,790.

—Land Commissioner, Democratic: Jerry Sadler, expenses $1,517, gifts $1,250.

—Agriculture Commissioner, Democratic: John C. White, expenses $14,692, gifts $14,855; Millard Shivers, expenses $5,979, gifts $5,972.

Case Accused of Demagoguery by Fellow Lawmaker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate Rules Committee charged today that Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., scaled "the height of demagoguery" when he demanded that each senator be asked about his business dealings with Bobby Baker.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., said that Case's proposal "would be an insult to a senator."

Jordan said Case's suggestion was tantamount to a blanket indictment of all senators. He challenged the New Jersey Republican to bring in any charges he had and said "We will look at them."

Case made his request at an open hearing Tuesday which quickly degenerated into a partisan heckling affair.

Jordan said that of all the witnesses who had business connections with Baker, none testified that any senator was involved.

Estes Associate To Face Trial Next Month

AMARILLO (UPI)— Robert Earl Clements Sr. former Amarillo civic leader, will go on trial June 15 on state charges of theft growing out of the Billie Sol Estes scandals.

The charges stem from the sale by Clements of the Superior Manufacturing Co. to associates of Estes. The company made the fertilizer tanks involved in Estes' complicated financial dealings.

Clements was convicted on state charges of fraud, but the conviction was reversed by the court of criminal appeals on technical grounds. The indictment against him failed to say from whom a $37,000 check was taken.

Dist. Judge E. E. Jordan of 47th Dist. Court set the June 15 trial date Monday at the request of Potter County Dist. Atty. Dee Miller. Clements is currently free under $3,000 bond.

U.S. Atty. Barefoot Sanders plans to prosecute Clements on federal fraud charges in October.

Barry Makes Plea for Unity Within GOP

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater issued a plea for Republican party unity and assailed the Johnson administration at a mass rally in jam - packed Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

"I do not say that the Republican party must do it my way or I don't play," he told more than 18,000 cheering supporters. "I want to find ways that we can work together—as a team."

Absent from the rally were New York's two senators, Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating. Javits has indicated he might not support the Republican candidate for president if Goldwater gets the nomination.

"I'm not interested in defeating any Republicans in 1964," Goldwater said. "I'm interested in defeating Lyndon Baines Johnson."

The Arizonian's 45 - minute speech was interrupted 108 times by applause from the audience, which included supporters from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and other nearby states.

Goldwater appeared to be overwhelmed by his reception and the 10-minute standing ovation which greeted him and his wife as they entered the Garden.

Goldwater accused the administration of being power-hungry and predicted that if it continued in the White House "we may well live to see the day that the 50 states of this Union become just 50 pigeon holes in a new Washington bureau."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bache & Co. says the relatively mild decline in stock prices and the ability of the market to arsorb selling wall "indicated underlying strength."

Bache adds that it would seem to us that the oulls have the upper hand at this moment and we would look for higher prices in well chosen issues over the near term." It cites as favorable groups autos, heavy equipment, oils and tobaccos.

Hornblower & Weeks notes that public participation in the stock market has broadened without triggering speculative excesses. The brokerage firm says the market likely will attempt a "traditional summer rally." Cautious funds, it adds, seem to be concentrating on oils, utilities, foods, retail and tobacco issues.

Visiting clergymen from all over the Panhandle were on hand last night to help Rev. E. J. Cashman of St. Vincent de Paul Church in Pampa celebrate his 25th anniversary in the priesthood.

A solemn high mass of thanksgiving was read followed by a dinner in St. Vincent School Cafeteria.

The highlight of the Jubilee Mass was the announcement that Rome had granted Father Cashman the esteem honor of bestowing the Papal Blessing on all those present at the mass.

Rocky Supports UN In Speech in Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller today interrupted his final push for Friday's Oregon primary for a half day of campaigning in northern California.

In remarks prepared for delivery at Humboldt State College in Arcata, Calif., Rockefeller said, "I want to keep the United States in the United Nations and the United Nations in the United States."

Rockefeller, who faces Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater in California's June 2 primary, said, "Here in California a vital and dramatic battle for control of the Republican party is joined.

"At stake is whether the Republican party shall remain a party of progress, moderation and responsibility or whether it shall become a party of narrow radical extremism."

Rockefeller reiterated his support of civil rights legislation and the need for "selective federal assistance for education without impairment of state and local control."

He said he believed in civil control over the military and re-stated his belief in the Social Security system.

Dear Abby....

End the Relationship Now Before Innocents Suffer

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am involved with a married man. We love each other deeply and have for many years. We know our relationship is wrong, but we have always been very discreet as I would not hurt his family for the world. In the beginning we agreed not to disrupt his family, but now he has started to talk of divorcing his wife to marry me. Abby, I can't let that happen. His wife recently had a change-of - life baby, and she couldn't manage without him. He is financially unable to support two families. How can I make him see that he has to stick with his family without losing him completely? He's the only man I have ever loved.

DISTRESSED

DEAR DISTRESSED: As long as you continue to see him, you are encouraging him to leave his family for you. It is more painful to cut off a puppy's tail an inch at a time. End the relationship in one clean break. It will be painful to both of you, but if you allow this affair to continue on any basis, two innocent families could suffer from your selfishness.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and I dress like a lady, act like a lady and expect to be treated like one. Recently, while shopping in a supermarket, I pulled my cart into the first aisle when one smart checker snapped his fingers at me and said, "Next aisle!" There was no checker there, so I asked, "Where is the checker?" He barked, "KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON!" The checker never did come, so I was ordered back in the first aisle. As I was emptying my basket, he snapped his fingers at me again and said, "Tax items first, sister." Then he started throwing my food around, so I said, "Don't throw that food — we have to eat it." He asked who I thought I was, and I told him I was a cash customer, that's who I was. Then a man who looked like the manager walked by and said, "Hold down the noise, please, Miss." Do you think I should let it go, or should I go to the higher authorities and demand an apology? This is a big chain store market.

DEMANDS RESPECT

DEAR DEMANDS: No. There must be another market in your neighborhood where the service is more civil and super than at this one. Try it.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I had a serious falling out four years ago over some lies she spread about me, and I haven't spoken to her since. I just learned that she has an incurable disease and can't last more than a year. Her husband plans to keep it from her as long as possible. Abby, I want to make up with her, and help to make her last months happier by doing what I can for her and her family. I am afraid if I suddenly go to her and offer my friendship, she will suspect the truth about herself. Yet, I don't want her to leave this world thinking I never forgave her. What should I do?

TORN

DEAR TORN: Go to her and offer her your friendship. It is not unusual for relatives to "bury the hatchet" during times of illness.

DEAR ABBY: I feel sorry for the woman whose husband never remembers her birthday. My husband never forgets mine. He wouldn't dare. His is the next day, and he always gets me a nice present so he'll be sure of getting one himself. Sincerely,

ETHEL

Symbols of Christian Church Used As Study Theme of Association Meet

"Symbols of the Christian Church" was the subject of the program presented to 31 members and guests of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church at a Wednesday morning meeting in the church auditorium.

Mrs. Berton Doucette exhibited pictures and charts she had made to depict religious symbols known to Christians through the centuries and in use today. Mrs. John Nutting explained the origin, history and meaning of each symbol. "Symbolism is not just decoration," she explained, "Through symbols we may understand the spirit of God in events of life."

The Fish, used as identification by early Christians during periods of persecution, "the Eye of God," as pictured on the dollar bill, the "Chalice," "Celtic Cross," "Star," "Dove," "Candles," and the "Hand of God" were among the many symbols studied. "Pictured in stained glass windows, as motifs for carvings in church architecture and furniture, or used as objects, these symbols suggest to us the nature of God and remind us of our Christian heritage and beliefs," Mrs. Nutting pointed out.

Preceding the study, a devotional on the theme, "A Woman Wants God," was presented by Mrs. Warren Beale.

The association president, Mrs. J. B. McCrerey, reported on the Spring Presbyterial in Dalhart.

During the business meeting Mrs. Homer Johnson, chairman of the World Service Department, announced that 240 pounds of good used clothing had been shipped for use overseas. Plans were made for members to assist in keeping a nursery during the Vacation Church School in June.

Hostesses for the coffee hour were Mrs. Lloyd Batson and Mrs. T. G. Green.

Wally Post Gets Pink Slip From Cleveland

By United Press International

Wally Post, a professional baseball player since 1946, received a pink slip for the second time within a year Tuesday when the Cleveland Indians asked waivers on the 34-year-old outfielder for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

Post, a National Leaguer most of his major league career with Cincinnati and Philadelphia, was signed by the Indians as a free agent last November after the Minnesota Twins released him outright following the 1963 season.

A long ball threat wherever he played, Post who has 210 lifetime home runs, was just one of a number of men who were sliced from big league rosters as the cutdown deadline drew closer.

All major league clubs must be down to the 25-player limit by midnight tonight.

Sell Seyfried

Cleveland moved to within one of that figure by selling pitcher Gordon Seyfried to Atlanta of the International League.

The Washington Senators completed their cuts by selling pitcher Howie Koplitz and optioning catcher Ken Retzer to their Toronto farm club.

Baltimore optioned 21-year-old receiver Larry Haney to Elmira, reducing to 26 the number of men on their roster.

Cincinnati was left one over the limit after optioning third baseman Chico Ruiz to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

The Los Angeles Dodgers lost $65,000 bonus pitcher Paul Speckenbach to the St. Louis Cardinals for the $8,000 first year player price. The world champions must drop one more by midnight.

George Banks, an infielder-outfielder, was optioned to Atlanta to the International League after he notified Minnesota Twin officials that he refused to report to Tacoma of the PCL, where the team had originally planned to send him.

Exchange Pitchers

Houston exchanged pitchers with its Oklahoma City affiliate, sending lefthander Joe Hoerner to the 89'ers for righthander Gordon Jones.

Veteran catcher Hank Foiles was sold to Hawaii of the PCL as the Los Angeles Angels reached the player limit. Foiles, 34, spent his eight seasons with seven teams in the big leagues.

Kansas City has one more to drop following the optioning of Tommie Reynolds to Birmingham of the Southern League.

The Pittsburgh Pirates got down to the required 25 after a day of player shuffling. Sent to Columbus on option were pitchers Frank Bork and Tommy Sisk and outfielder Rex Johnston. Added to the parent club were relief pitchers Bob Priddy and Fred Green.

VAN CLEAVE SIGNED

EDMONTON, Alta. (UPI)—The Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference have signed defensive tackle Bill Van Cleave of Oklahoma State.

Say Hey! Willie, Marichal Propel Giants Into First

By United Press International

It looks like baseball fans will never know what happens when the unstoppable hitter faces the unhittable pitcher because both are playing for the San Francisco Giants.

Those are just about the only terms that accurately describe the performances of Willie Mays and Juan Marichal.

The great outfielder and the brilliant pitcher have combined to whisk the Giants into a two-game National League lead. And in the bargain they've raised the question whether Willie can become the game's first .400-hitter since 1941 and Marichal can become its first 30-game winner since 1934.

Neither goal seems unattainable in the light of early season performances.

Mays, just past his 33rd birthday, is batting at a fantastic .478 clip, with 13 home runs and 34 runs batted in—to lead the league in all three departments. With a 19-game hitting streak he's also more than halfway to the league's record of 37 straight games set by Tommy Holmes in 1945.

On 12 Game Streak

Marichal, a 26-year-old righthander from the Dominican Republic, has reeled off six straight victories and with only 11 earned runs allowed in 58 innings has a fancy 1.71 earned runs allowed in 58 innings has a 12-game winning streak because he hasn't been beaten since the Los Angeles Dodgers turned the trick on Aug. 30, 1963.

Mays drove in four runs with two homers and a single and Marichal pitched a five-hitter Tuesday night to lead the Giants to an easy 6-0 victory over the Houston Colts. Mays homered in the third to give the Giants a 1-0 lead, connected with a mate aboard in the fifth to boost the lead to 3-0 and contributed a run-scoring single to a three-run rally in the seventh.

Marichal, meanwhile, didn't walk a batter and struck out three as the Giants ended a two-game losing streak.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2, the Milwaukee Braves downed the New York Mets, 2-0. The Chicago Cubs shaded the Dodgers, 3-2, and the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, in other NL games.

Simmons Wins Fourth

Curt Simmons defeated his former Philadelphia club for the 13th time in 15 tries, although he needed the late-inning relief help of Roger Craig, who shut out the Phillies for the last 1 2-3 innings. It was Simmons' fourth win of the season and the 160th of his career. Doug Clemens, Dick Groat and Julian Javier had two hits each for the Cardinals.

Hank Fischer pitched a three-hitter for his fourth win of the season as the Braves dealt the Mets' Al Jackson his fourth setback against three victories. The Braves scored both their runs in the fifth inning when Frank Bolling was safe on an error and Rico Carty homered.

Bob Bunl, who has beaten the Dodgers more than any other active pitcher, raised his lifetime mark against them to 27-19 with a six-hitter. Don Landrum scored the winning run for the Cubs in the ninth inning when second-baseman Dick Tracewski let Joe Amalfitano's grounder go through him with the bases filled and two out.

Jim Maloney, who pitched four perfect innings to start the game, walked across the run that gave the Pirates their victory over the Reds in a rain-delayed game that ended at 12:43 a.m., EDT. Gene Freese homered for the Pirates and Vada Pinson had a key double for the Reds.

RACING PROGRAM CLOSES

WESTBURY, N.Y. (UPI)—The most successful spring racing program in Roosevelt Raceway history closes tonight, with the $35,650 U.S. Harness Writers Trot for three-year-olds the feature race.

If the pattern of betting holds to form tonight, Roosevelt will wind up with an average $2 million nightly total handle.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Golf definitely should be in the Olympic Games, Fred Corcoran asserted today, because the Canada Cup and International Trophy matches have proved it to be a world-wide sport.

Once international competition was limited to the amateur Walker Cup established in 1922 and the professional Ryder Cup started in 1927. The theory then was that they represented "world" championships because only Great Britain and the United States played the game.

The truth is that today both of those events are as obsolete as antimacassars, and you young sprouts can ask grandma what they were.

"Golf is actually a world-wide sport today which unquestionably should be in the Olympics," said Corcoran, the Boston Irishman who has contributed more to golf than the wedge. "The results of our matches prove that it is more widely played, and well, than many of the so-called Olympic sports."

Canada Cup Records

Bearing out his contention are those Canada Cup records. The cup, a team prize, has been won by two-man teams from such scattered places as Australia, Argentina, Ireland and Japan. Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, our team the last time out, barely snatched it from Spain and together they have to be ranked the best in the world.

The individual International Trophy has been taken by players from Argentina, Canada, Belgium, Spain, Argentina and Japan.

There is a thought in Corcoran's mind, too, that golf would do a lot more to help promote international harmony as an Olympic sport than some of the other events which almost always provoke dissension.

"You get out there and shoot your score," he pointed out. "Nobody can change it on you. But look at the scoring in Olympic diving, for example, where a U.S. diver gets a good score from judges of the free nations and a ridiculously low score from Communist country judges. The whole thing becomes a farce."

The International Trophy matches last fall in Paris drew two-man teams from 33 nations and went off without a hitch. The amity among the players was genuine and unforced.

Impoverished Happiness

One incident stands out above all in Corcoran's mind. It concerns the matches in Australia where a two-man team from Indonesia appeared in impoverished happiness. One player had three irons and one wood. The other had three woods and one iron. Neither ever had worn spiked shoes.

Corcoran presented them with golf shoes and full sets of clubs. They couldn't have been more appreciative if they had won the tournament.

"Uncle Sam made a couple of friends right then and there," he said.

Personally, I'm not too sure.

One of the Indonesians shot himself a 98. As casually as possible I asked him why he had played so badly.

"That's not too bad a score for me," he said defensively.

Then, as an afterthought, he added:

"Besides, I have been too busy giving lessons to practice very much."

But you do have to go along with Corcoran, on the basis of the Canada Cup's success, that golf undoubtedly does belong in the Olympics.

Dancer, Hill Rise Choices

PIMLICO, Md. (UPI) — The serious training is over for Saturday's $150,000 added Preakness Stakes and the prospect once again is for a two-horse duel between Kentucky Derby winner Northern Dancer and runnerup Hill Rise.

Hill Rise, from El Peco Ranch, was the last of the probable field of six starters to drill Tuesday when he stepped a mile in an impressive 1:40 1-5.

Although the California-bred son of Hillar recorded the good time with astonishing ease, trainer Bill Finnegan said he would have preferred a somewhat slower workout.

This was in marked contrast to Northern Dancer's trainer, Horatio Luro, who thought his colt ran too slow in Monday's workout in which he worked a mile in 1:42 3-5.

Mrs. Harriet N. Ball's Big Pete was declared a definite starter Tuesday by trainer Bernie Bond. Big Pete is the only one of the six horses entered that did not run in the Derby. The other starters are The Scoundrel, Roman Brother and Quadrangle, who finished third, fourth and fifth at Churchill Downs, respectively.

SWC Earns Respect of All

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—The Southwest Conference, which put two schools on probation for recruiting violations last weekend, has earned "the respect of the entire nation," said Missouri University football coach Dan Devine Tuesday night.

"The conference has proved it can handle its own problems within the league," Devine told some 4,000 Texas Tech supporters at the school's annual all-sports banquet.

Devine has a coaching record of 71 victories, 18 losses and 5 ties second best in the country.

Texas was put on probation for a year, with no other penalty, and Southern Methodist put on probation for two years and ordered not to play in post-season bowl games at the annual spring conference meeting last Saturday.

FIGHTINGEST WILDCAT — A stunned Bill Grist is awarded the 11th annual "Fightingest Wildcat" award by athletic director Dwain Currie at last night's Canadian High All-Sports Banquet. Grist, a starting quarterback, broke his hand in the first football game of last season, but his fighting heart led him back to play again before the year was out.

Grist Wins Fighting 'Cat Sport Honor

CANADIAN — An overwhelmed Bill Grist climaxed an eventful day last night by being named the second member of his family to receive the coveted "Fightingest Wildcat" award at the Canadian High All-Sports Banquet.

Grist, president of the banquet - sponsoring "C" Club, had earlier that day been elected president of the student body. The popular Grist was near to tears as he emulated his older brother by winning the 11th annual award.

Another award winner to a standing ovation was Keith Yarnold, who received the best all-around athlete plaque from the hands of athletic director Dwaine Currie for his work as an all-district halfback in football, starting guard in basketball and sprint and relay runner in track.

Ken Willis was named by basketball coach James Anglin as the Most Valuable Player on the cage team. The Most Valuable Girl basketball award went to Dixie Petree, three-time all-district, for the second straight year. Two-time all-district guard Mary Rivers received the best defensive player award.

A special citation was given Joe Schaef for being the year's only three-sport athlete, Schaef being one of the leading scorers in both football and basketball and the district high jump champion.

Guest speaker was Jeff Cohane, sports editor of the Pampa Daily News, who reviewed the school sports year, giving praise to coach Currie for his tremendous work in his first year with the football team, and Anglin for the Cats' fine cage performance with the shortest team in the district. Cohane awarded certificates for making the All-Top O' Texas football team to Stan Swires, Bennie Echols, Joe Gutierrez, Yarnold and Schaef.

Don Crosier and Schaef presented the roses and crown symbolic of the Football Queen to Janet Green with a kiss, Schaef giving her an extra buss for good measure, and still one more for the photographers.

John Ball was toastmaster. Coach Currie introduced the members of the varsity football team, coach Anglin A and B boys and girls basketball, coach Mose Damron the B football team and coach John Ramp the track team.

Dark Says Baseball Better Than Ever

HOUSTON (UPI)—San Francisco Giant Manager Alvin Dark believes baseball, like the movies and bubble gum, is better than ever.

He said as much Tuesday at a press conference called for the Houston Press corps in a rustic setting called the "Fast Draw Club."

Dark pointed to improvement of the game in general and this year's National League pennant race in particular as two proving points for his contention.

Garrison Blanks Longhorns, 6-0

A supposedly sore-armed Jerry Garrison stopped a personal four-game losing streak with a vengeance yesterday, pitching a two-hit shutout to lead the Pampa Harvesters to a 6-0 victory over the Caprock Longhorns at Optimist Park.

The Harvesters evened their district record at 7-7 in their final home game as Garrison pitched near-perfect ball after the first inning, allowing only two baserunners while his mates got eight hits off Duane Gore.

Garrison got in tremendous trouble in the first inning allowing three bases on balls and an infield single, but fought his way out without a run scoring. The little Chink was near-perfect after that, allowing only a bad-hop single in the third, with the only other Caprock runner being safe on Pampa's lone error in the seventh. Garrison struck out 13 and allowed no walks after the first inning.

Ricky Smith walked to open the game, but catcher Shotgun Gregory picked him off first base. Garrison walked two more batters and then Rusty Branigan singled past Garrison, but The Chink struck out two batters to end the only Horn threat.

Pampa bats, aided by some odd-ball fielding, started swinging in the third inning. Garrison walked with one out and Jerry Simpson went in to run for him. Kyle Vann laid down a perfect bunt single. With two out, Gregory singled, and Vann overran second base. Kyle dodged and scattered all over the field while Simpson scored, and finally made it back to second base after a lengthy visit through the entire infield. Steve Molberg was safe on an error and Vann scored the second run.

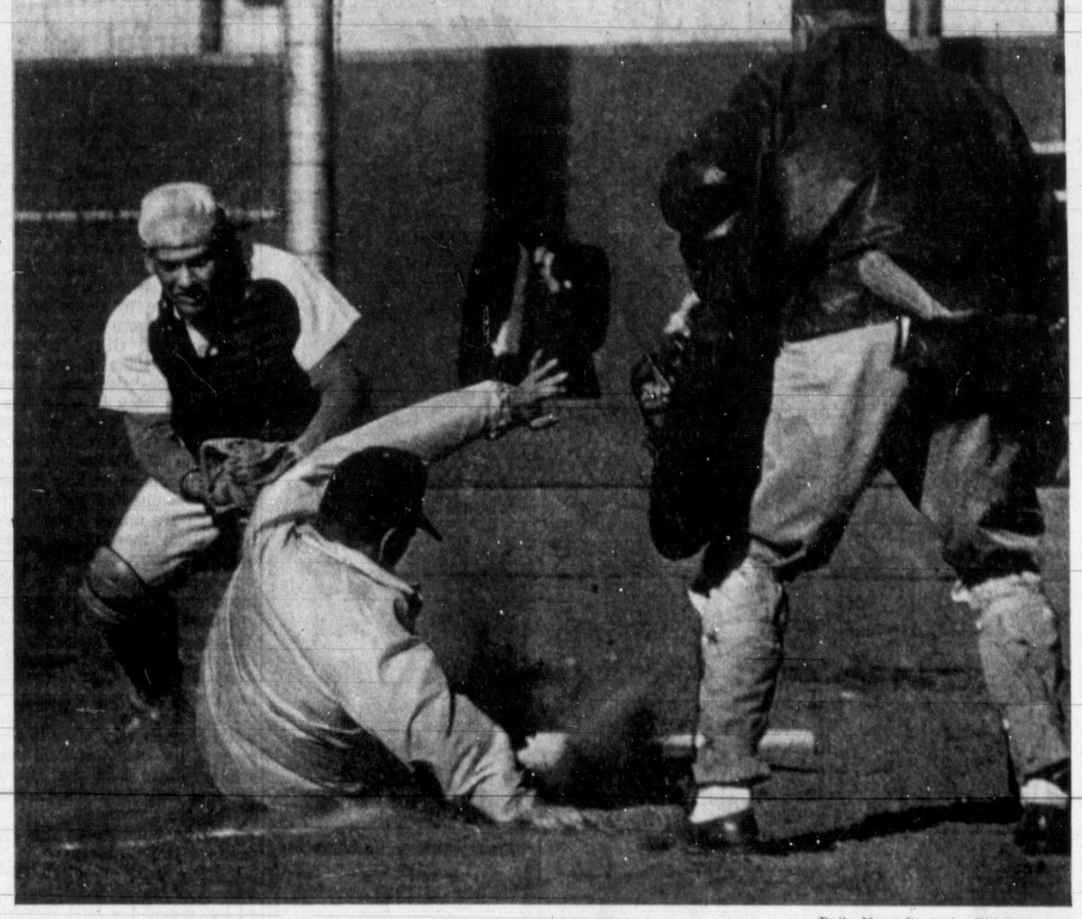

Pampa got their other four tallies in the fifth as Garrison led off with a triple down the right field line. Vann again bunted and the Horns tried unsuccessfully to get Garrison at the plate as Vann crossed first. Stewart then lashed a line drive between right and center. The two fielders collided in a chase for the ball and both were decked by the crash, later being taken out of the game. The hit went for a triple and Rick scored on an error. Jim Arthur was safe on the bobble and was moved around by singles by Rick Maynard and Ricky Goodwin, and forced home with the final tally when Claude Middleton was hit by a pitch.

The Harvesters play Tascosa tomorrow in Amarillo and close out the season Saturday at Plainview.

SAFE! — Cries umpire George Smith as Pampa pitcher Jerry Garrison slides home past Caprock catcher Jerry Dunivan in the sixth inning of yesterday's game. Garrison opened the inning with a triple and Kyle Vann laid down a sacrifice bunt. The 'Horns tried to get the runner at the plate, but not in time as Garrison kicks Vann's bat out of the way.

Updegraff Up For Western

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Dr. Ed Updegraff shoots for his third Western Amateur golf title today in his own backyard —over the 6,977-yard Tucson Country Club course.

The Tucson neurologist heads a field of 125 golfers into the Western Amateur championship which opened today and closes Sunday.

A 72-hole qualifying test will be played today, Thursday and Friday. The low 60 golfers will qualify for the final 36 holes, and the low 16 of these battle each other in match play on Saturday and Sunday.

Updegraff, winner of the event in 1957 and 1959 and a member of last year's Walker Cup team, is favored since the tourney will be held at his home club. However, Updegraff has failed to qualify for the match play segment in his last three attempts. But he is confident of doing better this year.

Toughest competition for the doctor was expected to come from former Walker Cuppers Bob Gardner and Billy Joe Patton.

Kaat's Hurling, HRs Top Twins

By United Press International

The Minnesota Twins always have plenty of punch going for them — and they also have plenty of pitching when Jim Kaat is on the mound.

Somewhat of a disappointment with a 10-10 record and 4.20 earned run average in 1963, the 6-foot, 4-inch, 210-pound Kaat is off to a fine start that suggests he may reach the stardom predicted for him this year.

It takes more than average pitching for the Twins' rivals to forget all that muscle that's thrown at them, but Kaat is doing just that with a 4-1 mark that includes four complete games and a 2.60 earned run average.

The Twins combined Kaat's air-tight pitching with their daily output of "bombs" Tuesday night to score an 11-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox that prevented the White Sox from gaining ground on the losing New York Yankees and also kept the American League's first division under a blanket of 1½ games.

Hall Homers

Don Mincher and Zoilo Versalles each had four hits and Mincher and Jimmie Hall homered to lead the Twins' 15-hit attack on Ray Herbert and four successors. Kaat, who hurled a four-hitter and struck out six, was tagged for the White Sox' run in the second inning when Dave Nicholson hit his fifth homer of the season.

Sensational rookie Tony Oliva continued his early-season pace with two hits in four tries to stretch his batting streak to 11 games and leave his average at a cool .450.

The Detroit Tigers snapped their five-game losing streak and the New York Yankees' five-game winning streak with a 7-2 win, the Cleveland Indians beat the Boston Red Sox, 6-5, the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Washington Senators, 5-0, and the Kansas City Athletics topped the Los Angeles Angels in other AL action.

Left-hander Mickey Lolich pitched a three-hitter and struck out five to win his third game for the Tigers behind an eight-hit attack that included two triples by Willie Horton and doubles by Don Wert, Bill Freehan and Dick McAuliffe. Lolich is the first left-hander to beat the Yankees and the first pitcher to go the distance against them this season. Hector Lopez homered for the American League champions.

Radatz Takes Loss

A walk, Bob Chance's double and Larry Brown's sacrifice fly enabled the Indians to score their running run against Boston relief ace Dick Radatz, who suffered his first setback of the year. Dick Howser and Woodie Held had two hits each for the Indians and Eddie Bressoud had three for the Red Sox. Don McMahon picked up his second win in relief.

Dave McNally pitched a two-hitter and Johnny Powell hit a three-run homer for the Orioles, who kayoed Dave Stenhouse in three innings and tagged the Washington pitcher with his second loss. Luis Aparicio stole three bases and Willie Kirkland pilfered two for the Orioles.

Texas Ags Dominate All-SWC Baseballers

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas A&M, Southwest Conference baseball champions, dominated this year's United Press International all-conference baseball team.

The Aggies placed six players on the 13-man squad and lefthanded pitcher Steve Hillhouse was picked sophomore of the year.

Another hurler, senior righthander Bob Myer of Texas, was named player of the year. The team was picked by the loop's sports information directors.

Baylor placed three players on the squad, Texas two, Texas Christian one and Southern Methodist one. There were no Rice players on the first team.

Three Unamimous

There were only three unanimous choices—Aggie first baseman Frank Stark, whose bases-loaded double gave A&M the title in the final inning of the final game; Aggie centerfielder Lance Cobb, runner-up to Hillhouse in the sophomore honors, and Baylor pitcher Henry Perkins.

Although he wasn't a unanimous first-team selection Myer was an easy winner in the player-of-the-year balloting. His closest competition came from Stark, Hillhouse and Aggie second baseman Bill Grochett.

On the other hand, Hillhouse barely managed to edge teammate Cobb for top sophomore honors. A third Aggie soph, outfielder Alan Koonce, was the only other player mentioned in that category.

Seven seniors, two juniors and four sophomores made up the all conference team.

Three Repeats

Three players repeated after being named all-SWC a year ago—A&M catcher Bill Hancock, TCU outfielder Jay Walrath and Meyer of Texas. Hancock was all-conference at third base last year.

The three all-conference pitchers had a composite 18-4 league record. Batting averages ranged from a high of .375 (by Cobb) to a low of .266 (by Crochett).

A&M players named to the team included Stark, Crochett, Jerry Ballard (at utility infielder), Cobb, Hancock and Hillhouse. Three more Aggies made the second team.

Texas placed only Myer and outfielder Ward Summers on the first team, but had four on the second team.

Baylor's first-teamers were third baseman Jerry Hall, utility outfielder Donnie Laurence and pitcher Perkins. The Bears had three more on the second team.

A&M won the SWC with a 12-3 record. Texas and Baylor tied for second with 10-5 marks.

Nielson Nurses Busted Beak

LONDON (UPI) — Heavyweight Billy Nielsen of Omaha, Neb., today was nursing a busted nose and added respect for Billy Walker, London's "blonde bomber."

Walker avenged an earlier loss to Nielsen by knocking out the American at 1:20 of the second round before a capacity crowd of 10,000 Tuesday night at Wembley's Empire Pool.

In the co-feature Howard Winstone of Wales retained his European featherweight championship when Italian titleholder Lino Mastellaro quit after two minutes of the eighth round of a scheduled 15-rounder.

Hornets 2nd Despite Loss

MOBEETIE (Spl) — Mobeetie backed into second place in the district baseball race yesterday, despite losing a 3 - 2 ball game!

Visiting Hedley could bring only eight players and had to forfeit, giving the Hornets a 3-3 record and sole possession of second place. The two teams played a five-inning exhibition game however, which was tied 2-2, with Hedley scoring the winning run in the sixth.

The Quail-Samnorwood game was postponed until Thursday because of wet grounds. A win by Samnorwood would tie them with the Hornets in the final standings.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

Only one game was played in the Optimist Babe Ruth League last night, the Lions wallopping Enco, 12-0.

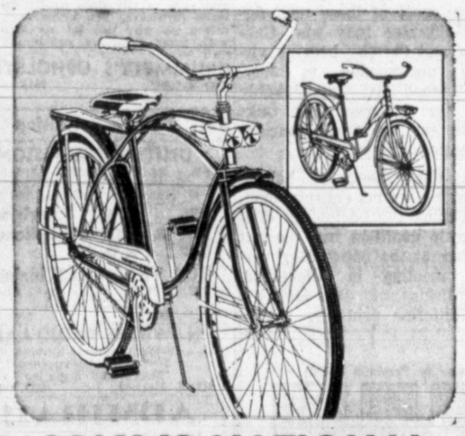

Dickie Henley pitched and batted the Lions to victory, allowing only two hits while striking out 11 batters. At the plate he went 3-for-3 and scored four runs.

The Babe Ruthers are open tonight, with Cree vs. Fannon and Bank vs. Ideal tomorrow's twin bill.

Dollar Wages and Real Wages

Because most of us tend to measure our earnings in terms of dollars, it behooves us to understand certain things about dollars which are not always readily available on the surface.

In this respect, we can refer to dollars in two ways:

1. How many dollars we receive in pay.

2. What those dollars will buy after we receive them.

Most of us are so intent on the first point that we tend to overlook the existence of the second point. And this shortsightedness can get us into no end of difficulties when we try to understand what is really happening to our money.

An example of this type of thinking is readily apparent at any time. Most persons who work for wages or salaries keep their attention on dollar amounts. Their constant hope is that, somehow the number of dollars they receive will increase. Then, they imagine, they will be better off automatically.

Think back to a time, it isn't very far distant in the past, when the average "good" wage came to $40 per week. This was during a part of the 1920's and on into the 1930's. A person getting $40 per week in those days was probabaly a skilled worker to some degree. We know of a druggist who received $40 per week and out of it he was able to invest in certain choice stocks. He was married and had two children.

What of his other expenses? He rented a house, furnished, and paid his utility bills out of one week's wages. A second week's wages bought all the food for the entire family for a month. The third week's wages went for clothing, transportation, entertainment and so on. The fourth week's income could fairly well be considered "surplus." It was saved, invested, or used for emergency events such as unexpected guests.

A young fellow starting could anticipate $15 per week. When he was really proficient he got a raise of $1.00 bringing his weekly take-home pay to $16. Some we knew got as high as $18. A good stenographer could command anywhere from $20 to $22.50. Secretaries got about $25 and after many years could make as high as $28.50 to $30.

Truck drivers were getting $18 to start. And they were raising families and managing their affairs. Day laborers were getting from $3.00 to $5.00 per day.

Now, of course, we anticipate that some who do not want to be bothered with facts, will claim that we are calling for a return of wages of this size. This is not the case.

The point is that on wages which by today's inflated dollars appear to be tiny, most people were getting along very well. They were enjoying the highest standard of living in the world.

Since that time, as a nation we have produced many more things, of course. But in process, we have experienced such a tremendous inflation that things are not the same at all.

For instance, a furnished house in every way comparable to the one occupied by our druggiest friend of the 20's, would rent for $125 to $150 today. Yet there are some druggists today who are making no more than $100 per week. Some make $110, $115. A few, $125. Those making $100 per week are not as well off as our friend of the 1920's who was making $40 per week and obtaining all his housing requirements for one week's wages.

This is the point we are trying to explain. It does you no good at all to obtain a dollar increase in wages, if goods and services you require are going to go up in price faster than your pay check enlarges.

And in many instances this has been the case.

So, to understand wages, it is not sufficient to think only in terms of numbers of dollars received. It is also important to think in terms of what those dollars will buy.

Is This Democracy?

Several lives might have been saved were it not for the recent doctors' strike in Belgium, and public indignation all over the world has been vocal.

One left-leaning Eastern paper has taken the doctors to task for their protest against the "democratically" arrived - at decision to take medical practice out of the hands of physicians and give it to lawmakers. The doctors are required to treat all comers, charge some low fees decreed by their government, and charge others nothing at all. This is forced labor no plumber would tolerate.

Belgium's far away, but this concept of "democracy" is spreading in America, too. Federal departments are agitating to take the pricing of drugs out of the hands of those who invented and developed them. They argue that these substances are too important to be expensive. They say nothing about the fact that individuals brought them into being, and if such individuals are penalized for it, few new cures will appear in the future.

Under urban renewal, property is taken away from one private owner and sold cheaply to another on the pretext that the new owner will put the property to better "social" use. This concept of "democracy" is growing, too, and even today no one can be sure his home or business is completely safe from seizure.

Increasingly, our Government is engaged in awarding the earnings and properties of some to others who have not earned them. Popular votes may support this, but a mere majority does not create right.

Otherwise, three thugs who vote to hold up one citizen would clearly be in the right.

The Belgian doctors are criticized for striking, but the majority had spoken, and they had no choice but to withhold their services or submit to bondage.

Allen-Scott Report

Documents Refute State Department Denials Of Story on Procurement of Girls for Sukarno

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — State Department authorities are either amazingly uninformed or deliberately concealing the facts in claiming that their files do not contain documents showing that "call girls" were provided for Indonesia's President Sukarno during his 1956 visit to the U.S.

Not only do these highly explosive documents exist, but copies are now in the hands of Senate investigators who are probing the department's lax handling of its own homosexuals and security risks.

For the information of these State Department cover-uppers, the dates and names of the officials signing these documents are as follows:

— Memorandum dated November 15, 1957 and classified "Secret" from Randolph A. Kidder, special assistant to the deputy undersecretary of state for administration, to Roderic L. O'Conner, deputy assistant secretary of state.

— Attached copy of Bureau of Security & Consular Affairs report on Sukarno's visit, showing that "call girls" were provided for the Indonesian playboy ruler.

— Letters dated November 1 and 4, 1957, to Loy W. Henderson, deputy undersecretary for administration, from Scott McLeod, then U. S. Ambassador to Ireland and former director of the Bureau of Security & Consular Affairs.

On February 21, this column exclusively reported that, "A congressional investigating committee is poring over some astounding State Department documents revealing that arrangements were made to supply Sukarno with what amounted to a harem of 'call girls' during his junkets to the U.S."

THE DENIALS — This sensational disclosure was followed by a barrage of official denials by State Department authorities, foremost among them Assistant Secretary Frederick Dutton, who handles the department's relations with Congress.

These carefully drafted denials were made in letters to members of Congress and indignant citizens outraged by this shocking scandal. At no time did any State Department officials get in touch with these writers, although they did launch an investigation to determine where this column obtained the information.

But because of the vehement refutations these denials encountered, the State Department is now issuing an unsigned denial in the name of the Office of Public Service, of the department's Bureau of Public Affairs, stating:

"The Department of State began an intensive investigation immediately upon publication of rumors concerning the alleged furnishing of call girls to a visiting foreign head of State.

"The Department's files have been thoroughly examined and contained nothing even remotely resembling the alleged 'State Department document' mentioned in the news story.

"All officers in the Department involved in any way with such visits were closely questioned, and all emphatically denied that they had ever participated in actions such as described in the news article, or that they would countenance such action on the part of any official of the U. S. government."

Significantly, the Bureau of Public Affairs is headed by Assistant Secretary Robert J. Manning, who in a major policy speech in Boston last week charged that the government is handicapped in carrying out its foreign policy because of what he called the unlimited freedom of the press to pry into and print government secrets.

Manning questioned the principle that "the people have the right to know" when the knowledge can compromise or affect the nation's foreign policy. The press, he claimed, "wants to know a great deal more than the people in whose name it acts."

THE SORDID DETAILS—One of the secrets Manning apparently believes should remain hidden from public view is the scandalous conduct of Sukarno during his trips to the U.S. and the State Department's own role in this shocking affair.

As reported in this column last February, the suppressed State Department report shows clearly that officials not only assisted in meeting Sukarno's demand for "call girls," but condoned his flouting of the Mann Act in taking them across state lines, stating:

"A representative of the Indonesian embassy approached the State Department regarding having women available for Sukarno. Sukarno wanted a Latin type, an American type, and a Nordic type woman available when he felt so inclined. State Department officials told. . . . that they could not have anything to do with obtaining these women officially, but suggested . . . . ., a former FBI agent then engaged in private investigation business in Washington.

"X agreed to obtain the women for Sukarno. He contacted an inspector of the New York Police Department and wanted to arrange for himself and the girls to stay at the . . . . . hotel in rooms not too distant from Sukarno and his party. The inspector refused to involve the New York Police Department, despite assurances that the State Department approved. X and the prostitutes subsequently stayed at a hotel near where Sukarno and his party were staying. . . ."

TYING IT DOWN — A letter dated November 1, 1957, from the late Scott McLeod, former director of the Bureau of Security & Consular Affairs, to Undersecretary of State Loy W. Henderson of the "Sukarno affair" corroborates the highlights of this report.

Because of the highly sensitive security matters in this particular letter, which is still in the State Department's files, it is not possible to disclose it in full at this time. However, following are extracts from this letter, pertaining to the Sukarno visit:

"Dear Mr. Secretary:

"I hasten to respond to your letter of October 23, which was received this morning. I have knowledge of both incidents referred to. . . .My recollection of these incidents is as follows:

"First. . . .approached me in the early spring of 1956, before I knew that President Sukarno was to visit the U. S., to tell me that his friend. . . .had been handed a terrific problem by the Indonesian Ambassador. The Ambassador had asked. . . to ascertain what plans the Americans had for furnishing women for the President in connection with his visit.

". . . . . .insisted that in this enlightened era there surely must be some branch of U. S. government that had funds to seduce foreign nationals. . . . As a result of his insistence, I inquired of the CIA informally and was told that no such function would be undertaken by them.

"In an effort to be helpful to. . . ., I then suggested to my friend. . . .that he might wish to contact. . . .if he was interested in making any such arrangements I subsequently learned that. . . .did contact. . . .and that they had entered into some arrangements which apparently were satisfactory to all concerned."

In addition to this suppressed letter and still other unpublished corroborating evidence, Detroit's Circuit Judge Edward Piggins, then the city's Police Commissioner, confirmed the local aspects of the "Sukarno affair" in an interview with the Detroit Free Press, which carried the original column.

President Sukarno canceled his plans to visit the U. S. this month after the State Department advised him that the American public is hostile.

Today is Wednesday, May 13, the 134th day of 1964 with 232 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1607, the first colonists to establish permanent English settlements in the New World started to build their fortress community near the James River in Virginia, which was later to become Jamestown.

In 1940, Queen Wilhelmina, Crown Princess Juliana, and key figures of the Dutch government arrived in England after fleeing from Nazi invaders of The Netherlands.

In 1945, Prime Minister Winston Churchill said in a victory address to the British Empire that Britain would throw her entire military might behind the United States in the war against Japan.

A thought for the day—English author John Morley said: "You have not converted a man because you have silenced him."

Governors Fearful of G.O.P. Rift

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — The Republican party may be in the greatest internal trouble of its long life. The gulf between its moderate - liberal wing and its right wing is widening to perilous dimensions.

The very serious concern felt on this score by many leading Republicans were underlined by a number of GOP governors who attended the recent Western Governors' Conference here.

They are back in their home territories now. But they left behind them in San Francisco, where the 1964 Republican presidential nominee will be chosen in two months, an atmosphere in which are mixed a shrugging resignation, resentment, bitterness and fear.

The only exceptions to this mood among western governors are Governors Paul Fannin of Arizona and Tim Babcock of Montana, who are, of course, for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP nomination.

The growing belief that Goldwater may be very close to that prize if he wins the California primary June 2 is the matter which so deeply worries the other Western governors.

Let's be blunt about the elements of this concern:

1. They believe — and their view appears to be shared by all but one of the nine Republican governors outside the West — that to nominate Goldwater may be to pick the worst presidential loser since Alfred M. Landon of Kansas in 1936.

The non-Goldwater westerners were stunned that a candidate like Harold Stassen could collect 105,000 to Barry's 262,000 in conservative Indiana's presidential primary.

Richard Nixon, a moderate believed to be less to Indiana's taste, ran up 408,000 votes there four years ago. Nixon's 1960 showing in conservative Illinois also exceeded Goldwater's total in 1964 — by 270,000 votes.

Says one western governor: "If we choose Barry in July, it looks to me like we'll get our tails beat in November."

2. The non-Goldwater governors, a majority by 13 to 3, believe further that to nominate Goldwater would be to place the party in the hands of "unrealistic" arch-conservatives — here-and - there extremists — who would assure Republican defeats at presidential and governorship levels for the next two decades.

Another troubled governor speaks:

"It strikes me they (the arch-conservatives) may be less interested in winning an election than in possessing the wreckage."

3. These same leaders were severely annoyed at what they regard as harsh, roughshod practices by Goldwater forces pressing for convention delegates in state after state.

"I know the name of this game is not fairness," notes a mountain state governor, "but they are going beyond all bounds."

Governors in San Francisco echoed a complaint heard often in many parts of the country — that "rule-or-ruin" tactics by Goldwater backers are forcing "good people" to wither out of the party or into inactivity.

Some governors are particularly upset that Kansas Gov. John Anderson, 1964 chairman of the National Governors' Conference, was kept off his state's convention delegation because he refused to plump for Goldwater. He wants a moderate choice.

Since most of these men figure Goldwater may win California and thereby become virtually unstoppable in July, their mood is unmistakably dark. One governor even talks of skipping the San Francisco convention altogether.

Yet their hopes of halting Goldwater are not entirely dead. Some think the beginnings of a moderate coalition may be put together at the national governors' meeting in Cleveland, which begins four days after the big California primary.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "If socialism and its progeny — fascism, nazism, communism, Fabianism, etc. — are so bad, then why is it the rich who advocate these systems and support them? History proves it is they who have the most to lose under tyranny.

"By rich, I mean the intelligentsia, leaders, intellectuals, professors, etc., who hold top positions in society and are in the wealthy facets of it.

"Communism doesn't prevail in South Italy where poverty abounds and there is little industry, but rules in the north of Italy where heavy industry and the wealth prevails."

Answer: A great deal of study has gone into this phenomenon, and students have come us with different answers. Some have laid it to a "guilt complex" by members of the wealthy families who seem to have been indoctrinated with the idea that accumulating capital is wrong. However, it is noted that the members of the wealthy families advocating some form of socialism seldom have enough of a guilt complex that they are willing to divest themselves of the personal fortunes accumulated by their fathers and grandfathers.

Others seem to believe it is because the wealthy advocates of socialism are thinking only of short - term gains and are not thinking of the long - term damage to the people from adoption of collectivist actions.

The fact that the persons named by Mr. Stewart generally are graduates of colleges and universities whose faculties have been indoctrinated with the philosophy of John Maynard Keynes (See "Keynes at Harvard" by Veritas Foundation), probably is responsible for a great many of the wealthy and members of the so - called intelligentsia promoting socialistic practices.

Office Cat

Johnny's mother was tired of having her table cloths stained so she instituted a fine of a penny for every spot. At supper a few days later Johnny was observed rubbing his rather grimy finger on the cloth beside his cup and saucer.

Mother — Johnny, what are you doing? You'll soil the table cloth.

Johnny — Oh, no, I won't! I'm just trying to rub two spots into one.

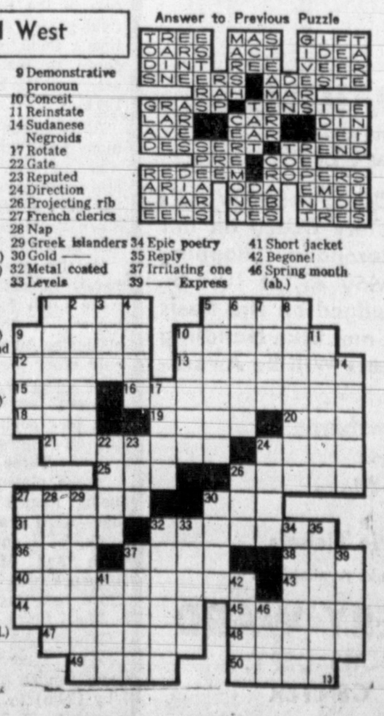

All pleasure may be bought at the price of pain. The difference between false pleasure and true is just this; for the true, the price is paid before you enjoy it; for the false, after you enjoy it.

Trade, Tariff Talk Good for US Farmers

The position of U.S. negotiators in the Geneva trade and tariff talks which began this week in Geneva is good news for American farmers. The United States stand is that we will not make any industrial tariff cuts unless barriers to our farm trade abroad are lowered. The policy applies most directly to the protectionist barriers raised by the European Common Market. The negotiations may stretch out another year or eighteen months before agreements are reached in this most complex area of international relations, but I hope our negotiators maintain the position on agricultural trade.

This is the Kennedy Round of negotiations in the 17-year-old General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), which meets periodically to reach agreements furthering world trade. The meeting that began Monday is called the Kennedy Round because the late President promulgated the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 which permits the United States to seek reductions in trade barriers abroad and to reduce our own. Its enactment insured the new round of talks. President Johnson outlined U.S. agricultural trade policy in the GATT meeting by stating: "The United States will enter into no ultimate agreement unless progress is registered toward trade liberalization on the products of our farms as well as our factories."

Last year, U.S. exports totaled $21.9 billion, an increase of $1.4 billion over 1962. Of the increase, $560 million was accounted for by the sale of agricultural products. With the U.S. able to supply much of this hungry world's needs — under proper trading arrangements — it is very much in our interest that the Geneva negotiations bring breakthroughs to permit a higher rate of expansion in agricultural as well as industrial exports.

By 1980 the population of the United States may top 274 million persons. By then, the problem of our agricultural surpluses may be a matter of history as our farmers supply not only greatly increased domestic requirements but also vastly larger markets all around the globe. Our effort to preserve the soundness of our agricultural economy today has as an important objective the preparation of American agriculture for the heavy demands to be placed upon it tomorrow.

Thus, among the many important considerations involved, soil and water conservation efforts, are vital in insuring future as well as present farm productivity. No one knows this better than the farmers themselves, for they are truly the "stewards of the soil." This week was observed throughout the United States as "Soil Stewardship Week."

Sponsored by the 3,000 local soil and water conservation districts, their national association, and cooperating church groups, the week's theme was "To Each Among Us A Share." Among inspirational material distributed by soil conservationists was this very meaningful paragraph:

By any standard of measurement, the land is big; but it is not endless. So it is with the companion resources — the water, grass and forests; the game, fish, and wildlife — which are influenced and supported by the land. Together they constitute a treasury of indispensable value, entrusted to us by God for our use and for which we must accept responsibility."

The evidence of conservation activity is all around us in the Panhandle. All of us on the plans are conscious of the essential value of soil and water conservation work, and great progress has been made. Some of the most interesting and challenging work I perform in the Congress comes in connection with my duties as chairman of the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation of the House Committee on the Interior. This week our subcommittee held hearings for four days on several reclamation proposals being advanced as part of the nationwide effort to protect, conserve, and enhance our vital resources of land and water. This work and many other similar efforts on the local, State, and Federal levels — as well as on the land itself by the men who farm it — all are aimed at one objective: To maintain America's bountiful ability to provide.

Walter Rogers Reports

Trade, Tariff Talk Good for US Farmers

The position of U.S. negotiators in the Geneva trade and tariff talks which began this week in Geneva is good news for American farmers. The United States stand is that we will not make any industrial tariff cuts unless barriers to our farm trade abroad are lowered. The policy applies most directly to the protectionist barriers raised by the European Common Market. The negotiations may stretch out another year or eighteen months before agreements are reached in this most complex area of international relations, but I hope our negotiators maintain the position on agricultural trade.

This is the Kennedy Round of negotiations in the 17-year-old General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), which meets periodically to reach agreements furthering world trade. The meeting that began Monday is called the Kennedy Round because the late President promulgated the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 which permits the United States to seek reductions in trade barriers abroad and to reduce our own. Its enactment insured the new round of talks. President Johnson outlined U.S. agricultural trade policy in the GATT meeting by stating: "The United States will enter into no ultimate agreement unless progress is registered toward trade liberalization on the products of our farms as well as our factories."

Last year, U.S. exports totaled $21.9 billion, an increase of $1.4 billion over 1962. Of the increase, $560 million was accounted for by the sale of agricultural products. With the U.S. able to supply much of this hungry world's needs — under proper trading arrangements — it is very much in our interest that the Geneva negotiations bring breakthroughs to permit a higher rate of expansion in agricultural as well as industrial exports.

By 1980 the population of the United States may top 274 million persons. By then, the problem of our agricultural surpluses may be a matter of history as our farmers supply not only greatly increased domestic requirements but also vastly larger markets all around the globe. Our effort to preserve the soundness of our agricultural economy today has as an important objective the preparation of American agriculture for the heavy demands to be placed upon it tomorrow.

Thus, among the many important considerations involved, soil and water conservation efforts are vital in insuring future as well as present farm productivity. No one knows this better than the farmers themselves, for they are truly the "stewards of the soil." This week was observed throughout the United States as "Soil Stewardship Week."

Sponsored by the 3,000 local soil and water conservation districts, their national association, and cooperating church groups, the week's theme was "To Each Among Us A Share." Among inspirational material distributed by soil conservationists was this very meaningful paragraph:

By any standard of measurement, the land is big; but it is not endless. So it is with the companion resources — the water, grass and forests; the game, fish, and wildlife — which are influenced and supported by the land. Together they constitute a treasury of indispensable value, entrusted to us by God for our use and for which we must accept responsibility."

The evidence of conservation activity is all around us in the Panhandle. All of us on the plains are conscious of the essential value of soil and water conservation work, and great progress has been made. Some of the most interesting and challenging work I perform in the Congress comes in connection with my duties as chairman of the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation of the House Committee on the Interior. This week our subcommittee held hearings for four days on several reclamation proposals being advanced as part of the nationwide effort to protect, conserve, and enhance our vital resources of land and water. This work and many other similar efforts on the local, State, and Federal levels — as well as on the land itself by the men who farm it — all are aimed at one objective: To maintain America's bountiful ability to provide.
