BREVITORIALS

Musings of the moment. Jazz has a place in modern life that we would not contest, although we personally could get along quite well without most of it. But for real enjoyment either as a thoughtful listener or as providing a harmonious background for an evening of reading by the fireside, give us classical music and nothing else, unless it be an occasional, melodious old ballad. All children are little animals. Some are fairly good, and some take after their fathers—or their mothers or grand-parents. Magazine articles on how to serve wines with food remind us that most Americans think of beverages "in the raw," as a hog thinks of his mash. Where do all the pretty little girls disappear to when they grow up?

Although four Abilene football boys will be playing in perhaps their last game for their school here at 2 p. m. Saturday, flanked by juniors and sophomores, the Eagles will have only one letter man on the field. We get this information direct from Prexy Anderson, sports editor of the Abilene Reporter-News. That youth is Frank Cogdell, captain of the team and third leading scorer in district 2. He has made six touchdowns and kicked We'll see you all on Santa day—tomorrow—and don't forget the "open house" down here at The NEWS with souvenir newspapers (a tiny NEWS) and free eats. Come to see us!

Time was when the shovel was one of the most common household and vocational devices. It was a symbol of honesty and willingness to work.

Such symbols are surprisingly scarce now. When C.W.A. officials started looking for shovels in hardware stores they found the supply wholly inadequate.

Willingness to use the shovels is adequate, and that's fortunate. If anyone needs any instruction in the technique of shoveling, call on this columnist—he knows the Irishman's art.

We're not politician enough to run for any office under the sun, public or otherwise. But then, we were not brought up in Wichita Falls.

Abilene expects to be beaten in Pampa. Let us not disappoint our guests next Saturday.

We hear that Judge W. R. Ewing and Roy Bourland went hunting Saturday on Charlie Carpenter's place; that the judge got the bag limit in quail, rabbits, corn shucks for tamales, black-birds, and turkeys.

One point after touchdown for a total of 27 points. His running mate, Johnny Brookshire, is the leading scorer with 71 points, made by scoring nine touchdowns and kicking 14 extra points. Ordinarily, Abilene's coach, Dewey Mayhew, appoints a letter man captain for each game, but with Cogdell the only letter veteran on the team, he is captain of all games this year.

It is unlikely that Abilene will bring a special train to Pampa.

CHILDREN AND ADULTS ALIKE TO GET THRILL

ST. NICHOLAS TO HAVE CANDY TO GIVE TO YOUNGSTERS

TOMORROW—Pampa's third annual Santa day sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce—will further in the Christmas season with the greatest parade ever offered as an entertainment feature for this territory. And old St. Nicholas will be there, of course, perched high and conspicuous in his shining suit of red velvet on a truck furnished by the Pampa fire department.

A parade of about 25 gorgeous floats on such subjects as The Madonna, Pilgrims Going to Church, NRA, and New Deal will form at 2:30 o'clock on South Cuyler street near the Merrick & Boyd lumber yard and will move northward at 3 p. m.

Floyd 'Double' Not Identified As 'Pretty Boy'

PORT SMITH, Ark., Dec. 5 (AP)—Bob Carney, whose singular resemblance to Charles Arthur (Pretty Boy) Floyd led to reports of the capture of the much-wanted outlaw here yesterday, remained in a hospital with little to say.

He was recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident in which Mrs. Ruby Floyd, wife of the outlaw, Stella Collins, cousin of Floyd, and Fred Stiles were hurt, Stiles fatally.

SPEER GIVEN CONTRACT ON McLEAN ROAD

To Crush Caliche For 30c Per Yard; Must Get Fifty Thousand From Bonds.

GRAY county commissioners yesterday let a contract to Oran Speer for crushing of caliche for the Pampa-McLean highway project. The bid of 30 cents a yard for all the caliche needed was accepted. This is well below prevailing prices, it was learned.

The contract is contingent upon the county's obtaining $50,000 from the sale of bonds to the Brown-Crummer company. Under an arrangement with the bond company, Gray county will also buy back some of its bonds from the company out of a surplus in the bond interest and sinking fund. Judge C. E. Cary explained today. It is the policy of the county to use such surpluses to buy back long-term outstanding bonds, thereby reducing the county indebtedness and the interest which otherwise would accrue annually. Some bonds have been bought for as low a figure as $90.

Jaysee Officials Are Installed In Busy Session

Clarence Kennedy took over the direction of the Junior chamber of commerce as president at today's luncheon, succeeding W. T. Fraser.

Other officers are: First vice-president, H. C. Polley; second vice-president, John Osborne; secretary, Dr. C. H. Schulkey; treasurer, E. M. Conley; directors, Marvin Lewis, Jack Vance, Dr. A. B. Goldston, A. J. Johnson, Elmer Pitt, John Osborne; alternate directors, Robert Knox, Dr. C. H. Schulkey, Harry E. Hoare, John Sturgeon. Mr. Sturgeon made the informal installation talk.

Mr. Fraser thanked the members and officers for their services during the last year, and President Kennedy praised the old officers in accepting his new job. Gilmore N. Nunn expressed the appreciation of the club for the work of the officers this year. He was vice-president.

Price of Gold At Same Figure For Fourth Day

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—A strong dollar abroad and a firm government bond market failed to prompt a new boost in the R.P.C.'s gold price today and the three-day-old figure of $34.01 an ounce was a fourth time.

It was the first quotation named for newly mined domestic gold since President Roosevelt reached the White House yesterday from a two weeks' vacation at Warm Springs, Ga. During his absence, the gold price advanced 45 cents.

FANS EAGER TO BUY SEATS FOR FOOTBALL GAME

Tickets For Abilene Tilt Selling Fast

Long lines of football fans stood in the courthouse this morning waiting to buy tickets for the Pampa-Abilene game next Saturday.

Joe Smith, business manager of the Pampa independent school district, said that tickets would be on sale at Pampa Drug No. 1 from 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. daily in order to accommodate oil field people and relieve congestion at the courthouse.

Good seats are going well, but there are many choice blocks left on both sides of the field. Five hundred seats in the middle of the east grandstand were sent to Abilene. The school board will place general admission unpreserved seats at the ends of the field as in the Pampa-Amarillo game.

Tickets are 75 cents for general admission and 25 cents for reserved seats. Students may buy tickets for 25 cents if they apply at the high school. Holders of reserved seats in the season just closed may have their same seats by presenting their old tickets and paying one dollar each not later than noon of Friday.

DAILY NEWS "OPEN HOUSE" TO BE FEATURE OF BIG SANTA DAY

THE big "family" which daily issues THE NEWS is looking forward to its "open house" party tomorrow with great interest. Open house will be held from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. as one of the features of Santa day.

TIME TO TURN BACKWARD IN SHOW TONIGHT

Both Old and Young May Be Seen in Old-Time Clothing, Dances, Scenes.

OLD-TIME music, songs, dances, costumes and customs will be the graceful, if gaudy, and noisy, but rhythmical, entertainment the high school Parent-Teacher will present in its period style show at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the gymnasium on the campus.

Admission will be 25c for adults and 10c for all school students and children. Proceeds will be used to furnish awards and prizes for students in scholastic competition next spring.

In recent years, Pampans have seen several entertainments which featured "the mauve decade" (1890-1900)—the Frontier Days celebration, an A. A. U. W. banquet, the Little Theater's play, "Gold in the Hills," but the P.-T. A. attraction tonight goes further than any of them, and capitalizes on those old-time customs with which Southwest inhabitants are especially familiar.

A final rehearsal of the large cast last night was hilariously successful. It lasted until 10 o'clock, and largely because the sponsors of the program just couldn't find it in their hearts to stop the old-time dancers who seemed inclined to want to make a night of it.

This group including Mr. and Mrs. George Walstad, Mr. Foster, Mrs. Heiskell, Roger McConnell, Mrs. Inez Carter, Willis Price, Mrs. Katie Vincent, danced the schottische, the old-fashioned waltz, the heel and toe minuet, the square dance, while two violins, a guitar and an organ, played by Mrs. Mel Davis furnished the music.

The show will open with a singing bee when "After the Ball" and other songs will be sung. Then a photographer, Neal Bean, will enter and take a picture of the family group which will include numerous sons and daughters, the father, Jess Wynne, the grandfather, J. E. Crawford. Some of the "children" will be Harry Kelley, Ben Gull, Sue Dodson, Rex Rose.

A special feature of the "period style show" will be the modeling of ancient wedding dresses. Among these costumes of long ago will be a wedding dress worn in 1888 which will be worn by Miss Ruth Siddons.

Between acts, specialty numbers will be presented by Mr. Gull, Mr. Bean, E. G. Harris in blackface, and a mixed quartet, and a girls' trio. The high school band will furnish music.

TO CAST VOTE ON WET ISSUE THIS EVENING

WESTERN STATE BOUND TO BE LAST; NEW YORK 'PEEVED'

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 5 (AP)—A sudden switch in the program of the Utah ratification convention decided upon by the delegates this afternoon, provided for action around 2:15 p. m. (MST) on ratification of the 21st amendment.

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 5 (AP)—Definite plans for delaying until after 7 p. m. (Mountain Standard Time) Utah's deciding action on national prohibition repeal were announced today as delegates to the state ratification convention went into caucus.

It was expected that Utah's vote as the twenty-sixth state to ratify the twenty-first amendment would be cast about 7:30 p. m.

This evening the reports of the credentials and resolutions committee will provide the occasion for an address by Franklin Ritter, chairman of the resolution committee and head of the Utah League for Prohibition Repeal. He will offer the resolution for ratification.

Utah, so long considered impracticable for the drys, made its present move to have its convention be the thirty-sixth and decisive one. If the other two conventions meeting today were going to dilly-dally for delay to get the "honor" or "glory" then Utah would go them one better and dilly-dally, too.

Pennsylvania Acts. HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 5 (AP)—Pennsylvania, once famed for the liquor it made, quietly ratified repeal of prohibition at 12:50 p. m. today.

Fifteen delegates, elected Nov. 7, cast the official votes which made Pennsylvania the thirty-fourth state to approve overthrow of the eighteenth amendment.

STABLE GOVERNMENT

It is a common thing for students of the science of politics to complain that the American system of government is unduly rigid and inflexible as compared with the parliamentary systems of such democracies as England and France.

All this may be quite true; but recent events in France seem to indicate that a parliamentary system can be altogether too flexible.

One premier follows another in dizzy succession in Paris just now. The ill effects of such continual changes are too obvious to need mentioning; one only can add that a little more rigidity in government, after the American fashion, might be an excellent thing for France just now.

BETRAYING THE VICTORS

Congressmen, says a Washington correspondent, are getting ready to do a little gunning for Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, when the next session opens.

One reason is that the Tennessee Valley program was a bit slow in getting under way. The other is that Dr. Morgan has been absolutely impervious to the appeals of patronage-seeking politicians who want to hand out jobs to party backers.

Criticism on the ground that there has been undue delay is one thing; criticism on the ground that Dr. Morgan has rebuffed the spoilsmen is something else again. Any congressman who has the nerve to squawk about this second point automatically will convict himself of having a peanut-sized conception of his own duties and responsibilities.

If Dr. Morgan has turned down the deserving-Democrat boys, he deserves the thanks of the nation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—The government is considering a plan to release all medicinal liquor stocks for beverage purposes immediately after proclamation of repeal this evening.

While President Roosevelt and Acting Secretary Phillips at the state department awaited the repeal convention in Utah to proclaim the passing out of the eighteenth amendment, serious consideration was given to assuring an adequate supply for the twenty or so states that either will allow liquor immediately or soon.

To hamper the bootleg trade is one goal. The plan about liberating the medicinal liquor supplies was being weighed by Joseph H. Choate Jr., federal alcohol administrator, and E. S. Greenbaum of the president's special committee.

One official said that in all likelihood the plan would be approved late in the day. The Utah action is expected about 9:30 EST.

It was estimated that the plan would release for immediate consumption approximately 500,000 gallons.

Don't make the mistake of counting Ablene out of the race too soon. DONT COUNT THEM OUT

Two years ago they were giant killers although rated as underdogs. They have not been beaten since October. Here is their season's record: Ablene 46, Winters 0; Ablene 0, Sweetwater 19; Ablene 20, San Angelo 12; Ablene 0, Lubbock 6; Ablene 6, Ranger 7; Ablene 14, Brownwood 0; Ablene 13, Breckenridge 7; Ablene 31, Eastland 7; Ablene 20, Cisco 0; total, Ablene 150, opponents 58.

(Our guess for Saturday: Pampa 13, Ablene 10.)

Captain Cogdell is a giant killer de luxe and candidate for all-state honors as a half-back. He is the A BIG, BAD GRID RECORD star track man of Ablene high. He was on the relay team which took third place at Austin last spring. He has almost unbelievable speed in getting down under passes. When called upon to plunge the line, he is no slouch. So we must WATCH COGDOLL. Note this also: ABILENE HAS NEVER BEEN BEATEN IN BY-DISTRICT COMPETITION BY A PANHANDLE TEAM. Here are some statistics on this competition and other games: 1920—Ablene 52, Plainview 7. 1922—Ablene 3, Amarillo 0. 1923—Ablene 48, Amarillo 0. 1925—Cisco 76, Amarillo 0. 1927—Ablene 46, Amarillo 0. 1928—Ablene 26, Amarillo 21.

New Yorkers Iried. NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—Manhattan is somewhat irked at the manner in which Utah wants to administer the coup de grace to prohibition.

It's a fine thing per se, the consensus is among hotel and night club operators, but the western state's decision to make a dramatic gesture of ratifying repeal by postponing its action until 7 o'clock tonight (MST) is going to cause a few difficulties. The big town rather planned on beginning some decorous, refined, leisurely imbibing some time in the afternoon. But now it must wait until 9 p. m.

"What is wanted is a good cocktail, sanctioned by law—not a 'dry' cocktail," commented J. J. Atkinson, manager of the St. Regis hotel. "Preparations have been made to usher in liquor around the cocktail hour. I think I speak for many of Manhattan's hosts when I say it's too bad Utah won't fire the starting gun a little sooner."

Another hotel manager was inclined to be philosophical about the matter. "It's a little inconvenient," he said, "but after 14 years, what's another hour or two?"

Z. M. Johnson of LeFors visited here yesterday.

Business Men Help. H. L. Polley, general chairman of Santa day, told THE NEWS that merchants had supported the project admirably.

The colored lights were being installed in the business section, that floats for the parade were being completed; that the lights would be trimmed in holily before the end of the week. The colored lamps will be turned on tomorrow evening at dusk.

Gilmore N. Nunn, in charge of judging of floats and show windows, asked that all merchants have their windows decorated by tomorrow morning so they can be judged.

Children will be interested in knowing that Santa has ordered 200 pounds of Christmas candy to be handed out during the parade.

Junior chamber-of-commerce officials said that Santa "would be good to those who are good to him." He was a bit annoyed last year when children "mobbed" him in the rush for souvenirs.

These Enter Floats. Groups which have already agreed to enter floats include: Woodrow Wilson school, B. M. Baker school, Merken school, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Horace Mann school, Sam Houston school, Junior high school, Hopkins No. 1 school, Hopkins No. 2 school, Grandview school, First Christian church, Central Baptist church, Methodist church, Catholic church, Nazarene church, Lions club, Presbyterian church, Rotary club, Kiwanis club, and fire department.

If there are other organizations which wish to enter a float, they may do so by notifying Guy E. McTaggart, chairman of the floats, and having their floats on South Cuyler street by 2:30 p. m. Wednesday. Dr. R. M. Johnson will be parade chairman.

Route of the parade, outlined by President W. T. Fraser and the Jaycee directors last night, is as follows: Begin at Jitney Jungle corner on South Cuyler, move north on Cuyler to Texas Garage corner, west to Worley hospital corner, south to Pampa Daily NEWS corner, east on Foster avenue to White House Lumber company. Those walking will drop out of the parade but the floats to be judged are to be parked until the judges have completed their work. Show windows will not be judged until Thursday night. It was decided.

SENIOR PLAY TICKETS SELLING WELL; 'JOBYNA STEPS OUT' MAY BE PRESENTED ON TWO NIGHTS

Will Be Produced On December 14 at Auditorium

Tickets to the senior class play, "Jobyna Steps Out," to be presented at the City Auditorium on Thursday evening, December 14, are going fast, according to Samuel Stennis, who is in charge of the ticket sales, and a full house is expected. There is a possibility that the play will be presented twice. Admission will be 35c for adults and 20c for the students.

The play centers around a group of seven gay, irrepressible college youngsters and their excitement over the biggest dance of the season at the club. The father and mother of three of these and the cook also appear in the play, most of which takes place in the family living room.

The entire cast are working hard on getting the play into shape for production December 14. Ben Gull is assisting the sponsors in directing the play. Elbert Gillham is busy as stage manager, and Richmond Eastup is putting out some good advertising.

He has been a steady smoker of Camels for years, and says: "I like their taste and mildness...they never jangle my nerves."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

WALTER BEAVER, holder of the coveted Grand American Handicap, says: "Winning a trap-shooting championship is partly a matter of luck, partly the result of practice and partly healthy nerves. I'm a steady smoker. People kid me about it at the tournaments. They say I never have a cigarette out of my mouth. During all these years I've been smoking Camels, not only because I like their taste and their mildness, but also because they never jangle my nerves."

It's no fun to feel that your nerves are ragged—and to wonder why. Check up on your eating...your sleep...your cigarettes. Get a fresh slant on your smoking. Switch to Camels. Your nerves and your taste will tell you that Camels are a more likable cigarette—and that they don't upset your nerves.

Revue Setting Is Elaborate

COLORED BAND REPLACED FOR CLUB DANCES

Jacques Is To Bring Orchestra Here Instead

Joe Jacques and his Paramount Club orchestra will play Dec. 11 for a dance sponsored by the American Association of University Women, and again on Dec. 18 when the Business and Professional Women's club sponsors a dance, replacing Alphonso Trent's colored orchestra.

The change was announced today by the Paramount Amusement company when Trent's band was held in Seattle, Wash., on contract.

Jacques' orchestra has come recently from California, and is now playing an engagement in Blossom Health night club at Oklahoma City. It has 11 playing members and will present a floor show featuring a sister team that has played four years on the RKO circuit.

Both dances are to be at the Schneider hotel ballroom. Invitations for the first event were mailed the first of this week.

Reserves Places

Mrs. Glen Pool, above, is in charge of reservations for the Business and Professional Women's club luncheon and dinner style revues of Thursday. She is also one of the young matrons of Pampa who will model costumes for every occasion of the mid-winter season.

TOMORROW IS LAST DAY FOR RESERVATIONS

GUESTS TO SEE SHOW AT LUNCH AND DINNER

Elaborate staging is being arranged for the style revues which the Business and Professional Women's club will present at a luncheon and dinner at Schneider hotel Thursday.

Tomorrow is the last day for making reservations. Only 150 persons can be accommodated, and about half that number of places had been reserved yesterday.

Business and Professional Women's club members and other friends at Borger, Shamrock, Canadian, Clarendon, and Wheeler have been invited in the past week to attend the revue. Several out-of-town reservations have been made.

To Show Wedding Party

The display of late styles for women and children will be staged formally. The most pretentious scene will be a wedding party, with a "mystery bride" whose identity will not be announced before the event.

Shops from which clothing will be shown are Jarrett's, Levine's, Murphy's, Mitchell's and the Violet shop. First rehearsals of the models were held Sunday.

Preparations for the style revue are under the general direction of Mrs. H. H. Hicks, chairman of the club's finance committee. Mrs. Glen Pool is in charge of reservations and Mrs. Charles Woolley of publicity.

Interesting Old Clothes Appear In Show Tonight

Shoes, old and new, typical of the contrasts that will appear in the period style show sponsored by the High School Parent-Teacher association at the gymnasium this evening, have been arranged in a window display at Surratt's Bootery by Mrs. S. G. Surratt.

One pair is 20 years old, and others are of the era of high cloths tops, exaggerated French heels and toothpick toes. They will all be worn in the scenes tonight.

Another interesting group of garments is the collection of waists to be worn. Some are the severely tailored type of shirtwaists, while others are more elaborately styled. One lace waist came from the Philippines, and another is an Italian importation that was the pride of its owner.

Many garments of sentimental and traditional interest have been taken from the moth balls for this event, which will be climaxed with a parade of old and new wedding dresses.

L. R. Crouce of Mobeetie was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

Several Meetings Are Postponed for Santa Day Parade

expense connected with the preparation of the caliche for the road. The county, meantime, is going ahead with plans to seek a federal 30-70 loan for topping the caliche with asphalt next spring. Bill Dee has been named supervisor of work in the three projects of the Pampa-McLean road building program. The appointment was made yesterday by the Gray county board of relief and employment. There are 23 men and three trucks at preliminary work yesterday and more were put on the job this morning. All were from LeFors and

McLean. Equipment is being ordered and Pampa men will be put to work when it arrives. Foremen will be selected at a later meeting of the board. Men from the board are working on Highway 93 through the city and Highway 152, east to the Wheeler county line. Many of the men are in the caliche pits. Men who do not work conscientiously will be laid off. Also men participating in fights will be discharged and put on direct relief which means they will get no money. Peanut shells are so abundant in a South African town that they are being used for fuel under boilers in factories.

KLEIN'S HIT RECORD BEST IN NATIONAL

CHUCK ADDED TO 1934 LINEUP OF CHICAGO CUBS

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—If there's any doubt about the wisdom of the Chicago Cubs in adding Charles E. (Chuck) Klein to their lineup for 1934, a glance at the official National League averages for last season should remove it.

Klein not only won the batting championship with an average of .368, but topped all rivals in four other departments of play as he carried his sensational slugging achievements through the fifth successive year. During that period, he never has made fewer than 200 hits, scored less than 100 runs or hit less than 337.

The great outfielder, traded to the Cubs by the Phillies in the most important of the off-season deals, led his closest rival and teammate, Virgil Davis, by 19 points in the batting race. Davis, who since has been traded to the St. Louis Cardinals, wound up with a mark of .349.

Klein's other "titles" came in base hits, where he had 223 against 200 for Chick Fullis of the Phillies; in total bases, with 365 against 299 for Wally Beger of the Boston Braves; in doubles with 44, against 40 for Joe Medwick of the Cardinals; and in home runs with 28, Berger finishing second with 27.

Back of Klein and Davis in the batting parade trailed Regis Stephenson of the Cubs in third place with a .329 average; Tony Piet of Pittsburgh, traded recently to the Cincinnati Reds, with .323; Bill Terry, manager of the world champion New York Giants, .322; Wes Schulmerich of the Phillies, .318; John L. (Pepper) Martin of the Cardinals, .316; and Floyd Vaughan, Pirates, .314.

Martin picked up two of the individual championships, with 122 runs and stolen bases, while Fullis was at bat the most times, 647, and collected the most singles, 162. Vaughan hit the most triples, 19, while Dick Bartell of the Phillies had the most sacrifices, 37, for the second successive year.

Klein and Paul Waner of the Pirates were second to Martin in runs with 101 and Waner finished runner-up to Vaughan for triples with 16. Frankie Frisch, manager of the Cardinals, was Martin's closest rival as a base-stealer, pilfering 18.

Klein's durability also was proved by the fact that he was one of five players who took part in every one of their club's games. The others were Bartell of the Phillies, and Paul Waner, Harold (Pie) Traynor and Gus Suhr, all of the Pirates.

Restrictions On Prescriptions To Be Lifted Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—The bureau of industrial alcohol said today federal restrictions on issuance of liquor prescriptions will be lifted automatically with repeal of the 18th amendment.

Thus in states dry by provisions in their own statutes or constitutions, such as Texas, doctors may write liquor prescriptions merely by complying with whatever state regulations may be in effect, the bureau said, adding that the applicable provisions of the Volstead act would "fall with eighteenth amendment."

Pair Arrested In Robbery Of Movie Actress

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5 (AP)—Charged with robbing Mae West of $20,400 in money and jewels more than a year ago, two men were under arrest today and a third was sought.

Harry O. Volter, one time manager for the late Texas Guinan, was held in Chicago in connection with the robbery, and Edward Friedman was held here. Detroit police have been asked to search for Morris Cohen.

The three were indicted by the grand jury here yesterday. Chief of Police James E. Davis said Friedman confessed the robbery and named Volter and Cohen as his accomplices. Volter, who had known Miss West for several years and frequently accompanied the screen star in her automobile to the studio, was named by Friedman as the "finger man" and directing leader in the robbery.

Friedman told of meeting Volter and said the latter suggested he get another man and that they "put Mae West on the spot." For their part in the crime, Friedman said, he and Cohen were to receive $1,000 each.

Friedman said the actress was robbed in front of her apartment when Miss West, her manager, J. A. Timony, and Volter drove up in Volter's automobile.

Bombs Explode In Cuban City

HAVANA, Dec. 5 (AP)—The explosion of four bombs in midtown Havana and a revival of talk of a general strike punctuated today administrative efforts to arbitrate labor and demands for reductions in rates for gas and electricity.

No one was hurt in the explosions, but they added to a tension arising from a parade in which 2,000 persons urged that a 50 per cent native labor decree raised to 75 or 80 per cent.

The crowd also attacked a newspaper they considered a Spanish colony organ and shouted "down with Spaniards" and "protect the Cuban workers" before the Spanish club.

President Grau San Martin prepared to sign a decree calling for 33 to 40 per cent reductions in rates of the Cuban Electric Light and Gas company, but Arthur E. Jones, president of the concern, declared that the proposed cut could not be accepted and offered a 20 per cent island-wide reduction.

Mrs. Sabin Will Disband Famed Repeal Group

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—This is the day that means victory for the ideas of Mrs. Charles C. Sabin, and the end of the task for her women's organization for national prohibition reform.

So that picturesque group will meet here Thursday to disband. Blonde, always smartly-gowned, Mrs. Sabin, who rallied a million and a half women to crusade for repeal, will preside over the final session of the four-year-old organization.

Her followers claim that the women's vote they organized in local, state and national elections for only avowedly wet candidates was an important factor in determining this major political issue.

Women from 49 states have accepted Mrs. Sabin's invitation to come to Washington. Nearby states will send large delegations. New York's numbering thirty. They will make their final reports, close their financial books, arrange the recording of their history. Spashy was the canvas painted by the "women wets." Beives of society girls pinned "repeal" buttons on convention delegates; gay garden parties were held, with "repeal" funds as the object; all sorts of gadgets blazoning their watchword — handkerchiefs, neckties, scarfs, playing cards, cigarette cases — were sold.

Arkansas Due To Lose Grid Title, Is Writer's Guess

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The press box at Kyle field Thanksgiving day was crowded with Texas sports editors to cover the annual gridiron classic between the Texas Longhorns and the Texas Aggies. A discussion revealed that the majority believed the University of Arkansas conference championship would be forfeited when the conference faculty athletic committee met Saturday. Most of the editors were of the opinion that the committee could hardly do less than forfeit the Arkansas championship because it was discovered that "Heinie" Schlueter, substitute tackle, was ineligible after he had played in games against Rice, Baylor and Texas Christian. Several believed that the investigation at the conference meeting would reveal some startling facts. One writer predicted that the Razorbacks would withdraw from the conference and that Coach Fred Thompson would resign. The majority merely believed the championship would be forfeited and the case a closed chapter in conference history.

COGDILL, A 10-SECOND MAN, IS MAINSPRING OF ABILENE'S TRICKY PLAYS

EAGLES WILL ARRIVE HERE EARLY FRIDAY

HARVESTERS CAN LOOK FOR PASSES AND SPINNERS

ABILENE, Dec. 5.—Traveling by bus, the Abilene high school squad will leave Abilene Thursday morning for Pampa, where Saturday afternoon the Eagles and the Harvesters will meet to determine which shall enter the interscholastic league quarter finals.

The Eagles will reach Amarillo in time for a workout Thursday afternoon. They are to spend the night there and will move on to Pampa Friday morning.

Only three practices will be held in preparation for the game with the Harvesters. After the battering contest with Cisco Thursday of last week, the squad was given the remainder of the week off.

Fear has been expressed that three regulars of the Abilene lineup will be missing when the game starts. They are H. J. Jones, center; Gervis Galbraith, right half-back; and James Baldwin, right end, all of whom have been hurt for several weeks, and who were re-injured Thursday.

Harold Ables will be groomed to take H. J. Jones' position; Earl Jones is ready to work for Baldwin, whom he so ably relieved last week; and Jack Blackmon, Grady Shyless, or Carroll Graves will get the right halfback job if Galbraith is unable to play.

Abilene has anything but a one-man football team, but if the Harvesters can stop Captain Cogdill they will have killed the best part of the Eagle offense. Cogdill is the boy who was timed at 10 seconds flat for 100 yards in a foot-ball uniform last week. Line Coach Argus Fox reported when he returned from Abilene Sunday. He is the pass receiver of the team and is a tricky runner.

The Harvesters went through a stiff, long workout yesterday afternoon which featured plays to break up Abilene's pass attack. Although the Eagles went to the air only three times against Cisco last Saturday, the "birds" have a dangerous overhead attack which may be displayed against the Harvesters Saturday afternoon. Brookshire, quarterback, is on the heaving end of most of the passes.

Abilene uses a punt formation on many plays, which consistently keeps one opposing player "bottled up" so far back that he is useless excepting on long passes. The Eagles

WHITLOW AND CHIEF PARRIS WILL FIGHT THURSDAY NIGHT

Eddie Zilitis And Reams of Fort Worth Will Clash in Four-Round Bout.

The Allen Whitlow-Chief Parris fight at the Pla-Mor auditorium Thursday night will be supported by one of the best series of fights ever to be staged in a Pampa ring. Preceding the 10-round main event, Dick H. Gesspeth, 157, Bryerton, will meet Mickey Dunivan, 158, Springfield, Mo., in a 6-round bout. Eddie Zilitis, 137, fighting little boy from Collinsville, Ill., will clash in a 4-round bout with Murrel Reams, 142, of Fort Worth. The card will be opened with Kid Samper, 151, Macon, Ga., meeting Dick Whittington, 150, of Wellington. Whittington is a brother of the late Freddy Whittington, who once was a favorite in Pampa several years ago.

Whitlow is known as one of the best boys in the junior welterweight class. He recently met Cecil Payne in St. Louis and received the referee's vote but lost the decision by a shade on the decision of judges. Next week in Chicago Payne will meet Tony Canzoneri.

The Oklahoma Indian is on the climb to higher honors in his class. He has the scalps of such well known fighters as Johnnie Nichols, Howard Scott, Woody Wyndum, and others on his belt. He is fast, hits hard, and can take punishment. He uses a style of fighting all his own. Parris was to arrive here this afternoon in time to work out.

This Dunivan is a tough looking man who has had a long list of battles against some real fighters. He was nosed out by Ari Dula and Abe Stillman, Jow Rivers, Billie Alger, and a number of other top-notchers. He started fighting in 1926. Hedgspeth is the boy who stayed six rounds with Babe Ruth of Amarillo in a wild-swinging exhibition here several weeks ago. He is in a puncher and never quits rushing.

Reams is a good boxer and fast. He worked out with Whitlow yesterday and made a great hit with the rail birds. Whittington will also be making his first appearance runner. He also use a play with a "spinning" guard. The guard on a shift play spins and faces his backfield and then comes out of the line to run interference, or makes a second spin back into his right position in the line to draw the opposing team off-side. It is a favorite play when in scoring position.

The Eagle line, although not considered heavy, has stopped most opposing attacks late this season. Brookshire, although only weighing 135 pounds, is a great line backer.

Both Miles Marbaugh and Bill Dunaway, out for more than a week because of injuries, were on the field yesterday afternoon. Marbaugh was not in uniform, however, and was used only in passing plays. Dunaway exercised a little but did no strenuous work. He is improving rapidly and may be able to play Saturday.

A scrimmage was set for this afternoon. Another scrimmage is on the list for tomorrow, weather permitting. The Harvesters will appear in the game wearing new uniforms. The team was weighed again yesterday afternoon. Several of the boys have put on considerable weight since the season opened. The new weights will appear on the program Saturday.

Texas University Will Cast Ballot For Porker Title

AUSTIN, Dec. 5 (AP)—W. E. Metzenthin, chairman of the athletic council of the University of Texas and the university's representative in the Southwest conference, has announced he will vote to award the conference football championship to Arkansas, unless additional evidence causes him to reverse his opinion. The claim of Arkansas to the title has been questioned because of use of an ineligible player in two of the conference games won by Arkansas. The conference meeting will be held next Saturday in Dallas.

WITH THE HARVESTERS BY HARRY E. HOARE

The Abilene football team will be battling to uphold some kind of a tradition when it comes to Pampa Saturday to match strength and prowess with the Pampa Harvesters in the bi-district game. It seems that an Abilene high school football team has yet to bow in defeat to a team from the Panhandle in bi-district competition. Amarillo has fallen by some huge scores and also by some small scores, and Lubbock defeated Abilene early this season before the Eagles hit their stride.

Abilene has been noted for her great high school football teams. In the 11 years Abilene has been in Class A competition, the high school team has been in the state finals five years. Back in 1922 when the Eagles were in the finals for the first time, they met Waco. With two minutes to play, Abilene was leading 10 to 7 with Waco in possession of the ball. Boodie Johnson then stepped back to the 50-yard line and lifted the ball thru the uprights to tie the score. Abilene kicked off to Waco and Waco took the ball back to the 40-yard line. They made two first downs and with 10 seconds to play, Johnson again stepped back to the 50-yard line and kicked the ball between the uprights to win the game. Johnson broke his leg the next year. Later he went to Baylor, but never recovered from his leg injury.

Football fans throughout the country wonder why we don't have players in this day and age that can do stunts like that. Why, we don't even have boys who can kick points after touchdown consistently from 10 yards back. Pampa could have won one game and tied two this year with a good place kicker. McLean tied Pampa while Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City and the Canyon Freshmen both defeated the Harvesters by one point.

Coach Dewey Mayhew has been in Abilene several years and his teams have been the sensation of high school football. He has built great teams from poor material and this year's team is a shining example. When Mayhew looked his squad over this fall, he had one man with first-strong experience. He was Captain Cogdill, pass snatching halfback from last year. Undismayed, Mayhew started work and presto—district champions.

In a local ring. He fights along the same style as his brother.

COLUMBIA TO PLAY INDIANS IN ROSE BOWL

PRINCETON COULD NOT COME; SELECTION IS DISPLEASING

BY PAUL ZIMMERMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer. PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 5 (AP)—For the first time in the 18 years of the annual rose fiesta, a New York City football team will parade its prowess in the garlanded stadium New Year's day. Columbia university made it possible, accepting Stanford's invitation to participate in the inter-collegiate gridiron classic January 1, 1934.

There was little surprise over the announcement which was made here yesterday by Al Masters, graduate manager of Stanford, since the report that Coach Lou Little's Lions had been invited last week leaked out 24 hours before the acceptance statement was released.

There was, however, more than the usual expression of local dissatisfaction over the team selected, born of the fact that only one of the nine Eastern teams to participate in the annual festival of football ever went home victorious. Two of the remaining eight games ended in ties.

Southern California, predominantly of middle western extraction, voiced an opinion more acceptable, especially since only two representatives from that section ever made an appearance. The West won one of these and lost the other.

And the South had its say, too, for it alone holds the edge over the Pacific coast defenders with three victories, one defeat, and a tie.

Stanford and Columbia have something in common in this situation, however, because the Rose tournament committee's choice of Coach Tiny Thorn III's stalwarts was not given universal approval.

Stanford wanted Princeton but the Tigers couldn't come. Neither could Michigan, unofficially understood to be one of the favored teams. Army, Duke, Navy, and Nebraska also were mentioned as possible opponents. Then Columbia was invited.

As in the case of Columbia, which lost one game this season—a 20 to 0 defeat by Princeton—Stanford's slate was not clean. The Indians were held to a scoreless tie by Northwestern and were defeated by Washington, 6 to 0.

Jack Jeffries of Wichita Falls is spending the week-end with friends here.

JUAREZ, Mex., Dec. 5 (AP)—Enrique Fernandez, former Juarez gambling concessionaire, who was ambushed and shot once in each leg and once in the shoulder near his home in Juarez, said today he will ask the Chihuahua governor and the president of Mexico to punish the men who attempted to assassinate him. He recognized three men in the assassins' automobile, he said.

Mustangs Leave To Play Gaels

DALLAS, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Southern Methodist Mustangs rode out of here today on their last 1933 football round-up which will be a game against the St. Mary's Gaels Saturday at San Francisco. The Mustangs will workout at Tucson, Los Angeles, and San Francisco.

Coach Ray Morrison made no secret of the fact that he is taking his cohorts to the coast to put on an aerial show.

"We have discarded most of our running plays," explained Morrison. "They want to see our passing out there and that's O. K. with me. We'll give twenty passes for a starter, a running play and then twenty more passes if that's what they desire."

Robert Wilson, distinctive all-conference halfback on the Associated Press' consensus team, was slightly injured Saturday against Texas Christian but will be able to play against St. Mary's Galloping Gaels.

SANTA CLAUS, NOW AT DENVER, IS COMING TO PAMPA PARADE TOMORROW

Santa's Factories Rushed

WRITER SEES MANY THINGS IN NORTHLAND

ELVES AND FAIRIES IN JOLLY MOODS ALL THE TIME

Everyone would like to take a journey to the big toyland factories of Santa Claus' own country. But few have an opportunity such as faced a representative of the Pampa Daily NEWS last week. Dispatches just received tell about his wonderful experiences. We will let him tell readers about the wonderful gifts which are made in Santa Clausland and are arriving at Pampa stores daily to make Christmas bright and happy for everyone.

Armed with a pass obtained for him from Santa Claus by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, our reporter journeyed to the far northland and knocked at the door of the wall of ice surrounding Santa's home city.

A smiling little gate keeper opened the door, looked at the pass, bowed three times and told the elves standing about to show the Pampans through the factories. And what a sight!

What a wonderful sight! Row upon row of pretty things—all waiting to brighten the faces and homes of thousands of good people all over the west panhandle.

On every side toy life was in motion. An electric train whizzed along its circular track and trucks continually lumbered up and down the aisles forcing the touring party to step aside every few minutes. The trucks were loaded with ABC blocks, marbles, doll clothes, candy, nuts, fruits, beautiful jewelry, balls, whistles, whirlers, French harps, horns, and bubble gum.

Fire Sirens Sound

A siren sounded and fire engines roared into action, speeding far to the south end of the immense chamber to pump perfume on a package of fire crackers that had become unruly and threatened the Home of the Dolls.

My! But how sweet those dollies were! Some of them were dressed in the loveliest lace dresses and some had on aprons and were cooking the mid-night dinner in teeny-weeny dishes on the cutest stoves.

And do you know? Some of the baby dolls didn't have on a thing! Not a speck of clothes! The mama dolls were busy covering the little youngsters with blankets so they wouldn't have a bad cold and sneeze too loud and wake up some little girls when Santa slipped those same baby dolls into waiting stockings hanging up some place Christmas Eve night.

And you should have seen the clowns at play. They were hopping in the aeroplanes, running up and down the keyboards on the pianos, shaking the boxes trying to find out what they contained, spinning tops, pulling the little wagons, falling off the tricycles, shooting the cap pistols and making threatening gestures with air guns and machine guns.

Straight down the right side of the storehouse the march continued, on and on to the big throne in the south end where sat the fairy Gift King all dressed in purple robes and on his head was a crown of sparkling stars.

"Welcome to Gift Mansion," was his greeting. "I have just a moment ago had a call over my toy telephone of your purpose here," he continued.

"I will be glad to grant the interview but the clocks are warning me with pointing hands that the hour of one is near and a moment ago I must leave. I will be brief but I am so glad of having this opportunity of sending greetings to all our friends—the good boys and girls, their brothers and sisters and mothers and fathers.

"We are awfully busy here as you see. It is just such a short time now until Santa will come to take my subjects to their new homes where they will make many happy dreams come true. Ours is a wonderful work—making people happy.

"Our plan of procedure is simple. As fast as the North Pole factories can give permission everything—the soldiers, trucks, and dolls are rushed to the great storehouses stationed all over the world. Then at this time each year my subjects go to the stores where everyone may see them on the shelves and in the showcases and then Santa comes on Christmas Eve night and takes them to his friends.

"This year is going to be the happiest in a long time for Pampa and Gray county and all the people out there.

"The merchants in Pampa have made great plans for us this year and you just can't imagine all the wonderful things from my kingdom that will be seen in the stores there. We want everybody to join with us in having the greatest time of all in having the greatest time of all.

"My subjects will be everywhere

NO CODES ARE HINDRANCE TO SANTA CLAUS

GEN. JOHNSON SAYS NO LIMITATIONS ON HIM

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 5 (AP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson assured Columbians today that Santa Claus would meet no restrictions this Christmas "because of codes."

In telegraphic response to a chamber of commerce inquiry, the national relief administrator said: "Ask Santa Claus to assure all the good children of the United States (and all the bad children too) that the activities of the dear old Christmas saint are subject to no limitations this year because of codes.

"What we are trying to do is to enlist the entire American nation under a code of 'peace of earth, good will to men,' under which Santa Claus has been operating for close upon 2,000 years."

—many of them will be seen in the Toylands and in all the stores. We sincerely hope that every courtesy will be shown our guardians, the clerks, and that all the visiting with my subjects be done before the last minute in observance of the Gift King's wishes.

"Not all the little kiddies will get to see us again after we leave the stores with Santa but I hope that the good people of this region will begin now to make a list of those in need and make arrangements to see that Santa gets their names. There is no greater joy than the giving of an appreciated gift.

"Conditions have been trying and we realize that most everyone has been concerned with the necessities of life. But this year we sincerely hope that Santa will get to visit more homes. He has been receiving some mighty welcome news about things in general and he's going to call on some folks who were not able to welcome him last year because of unpaid debts.

"We want all the boys and girls to come and see us in the stores at Pampa. Give them our love, will you, in your paper, and tell their mamas and papas that they may keep in touch with us by reading

CHILDREN ARE SURE TO GIVE HIM WELCOME

ST. NICHOLAS MUST GO BACK HOME FOR NEXT TRIP

DENVER, Dec. 5.—Santa Claus spent today in Denver dodging newspaper reporters and visiting the schools to see his happy children.

Tomorrow he will leave before dawn to fly to Pampa, where he will be the leading figure in a big parade arranged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The procession of religious, patriotic, and historical floats will move through the business section at 3 o'clock, Santa said.

"I'm expecting my children to be in Pampa from all over that territory," Santa Claus told reporters. "This is the third year I have been there and each time we have a bigger crowd. The parade this year is going to be bigger and better. But I can't stay here long; I've got a lot of work to do before Christmas eve.

Travels Swiftly.

The time is drawing near when Santa will return to the North Pole to prepare for his Christmas eve journey over the whole world, traveling with the speed of light behind his magic reindeer.

In the event that any of the reindeer are forced to drop out because of the tremendous driving pace Santa will be forced to extract from them, additional teams will be added at points along the way.

The sleigh's route stretches across the rugged mountains of Greenland, down through the barren fields and impenetrable forests of Canada, skirting Hudson Bay and thence to the region of the Great Lakes. On through the United States—and from there—around the world!

Plans Long Completed.

Plans for the journey have long been completed. And for a year the factories at the North Pole have been at the peak of production. Toys of all sorts—gay dolls that talk, skates, sleds, miniature airplanes, quaint animals and little trucks have poured in an apparently unending flood through the efficiently organized workshops.

Never before have Santa's workers been so busy. Last month's Santa

"Ah! There nears the stroke of one! You must hurry! Best wishes to all! Take that aisle there to your right. Those great boxes are filled with surprises for the big folks—things to wear and enjoy—radios, furniture, dishes, silverware, jewelry, manicure sets, candy—everything.

"Good bye, my friend. Good bye until next year!" A hurried march to the door, a farewell to the soldiers and then the lights were turned out but from beyond the closed doors there came a faint musical sound barely audible, but its origin was unmistakable—the Coo Coo clock was striking the hour of one . . . then all was still."

McLean Poultry Judges Win In Post's Contest

Saturday, December 2, Coach A. A. Tampke and his poultry team completed the Annual Post poultry judging contest emerging successfully by winning the banner for high team. McLean also had the three highest individuals as follows: Arthur Ledbetter, first with 464 points; Wilburn Lynch, second with 417 points, and Charles Finley, third with 414. McLean beat the runnersup, Abernathy, 101 points and they also scored higher than the highly rated Post team which only competed for practice.

A. A. Tampke also served in the capacity of official at the poultry show at Post last Saturday. An outstanding feature of the show was the high quality of birds on display and only two disqualified birds were discovered by the judge.

NEW STEPS LOOKED FOR IN ROOSEVELT'S MONETARY PROGRAM

POLICY ENTERS NEW PHASE IS OPINION NOW

IMPORTANT CHANGE IS LIKELY AFTER DECEMBER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Sluggish response of financial and commodity markets to recent gold price advances and a sturdier dollar abroad combined today to indicate that President Roosevelt's monetary policy has entered a new phase of its development.

The course from this stage, which was accompanied by a stronger government bond market, was closely guarded. Not since the REC posted its first gold price had there been official indications of a shift in the president's plans.

But the apparent slender reception both at home and abroad of latest gold price advances to the high of $34.01 an ounce was believed in some quarters to point the need of new energy to achieve Mr. Roosevelt's declared purpose of higher commodity prices.

Further and more vigorous boosts in the daily quotation was one course discussed unofficially. Heavier buying of foreign gold was another. Purchases abroad have been concealed carefully but up to now have been light, while all domestic offerings of newly-mined metal have been taken.

Mr. Roosevelt watched the situation closely. Whatever his plans he kept them to himself.

One accompaniment of the stronger dollar has been a firmer government bond market. Before the week is out, Acting Secretary Morgenthau plans to announce the treasury's program for meeting $727,000,000 of December 15 maturities and possibly offering additional securities in exchange for fourth treasury loan bonds.

Some who looked for a new step in Mr. Roosevelt's currency policy recalled that his gold buying plan was disclosed just a few days after a mid-October sale of $500,000,000 in 10-12 year treasury bonds. They considered any important change in his present policy unlikely until after the December refunding.

Forbidden Valley

—By WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

SYNOPSIS: Curt Tennyson and Paul St. Clair are trailing Igor Karakhan, millionaire crook, into the wilds of the Lilluar. They have joined parties with Sonya and Ralph Nichols. Sonya and Ralph claim to be entomologists on a scientific expedition, and to be brother and sister. Curt, who is interested in Sonya, finds they are neither scientists nor related. Sonya is bound on a secret mission, and will not explain it to Curt, who nevertheless promises to protect her as best he can against the dangerous Klosohees, whose territory they are entering.

Chapter 21 THE BATTLE

At the mouth of the pass the next morning Curt stood up in his canoe for a last look ahead. To get his party through that narrow was a job that he would gladly have handed to someone else. He had the uneasy feeling that eyes were watching his three canoes and dusky hands were toying with fluted arrows.

The pass was more than a mile long, with a strong current to buck and no midstream islets to take refuge on. He and Paul had scouted it out that morning while the others were still asleep and had discovered only one favorable circumstance.

Sometime that spring lightning fire had swept down the east shore cutting a swath half a mile wide, and burning to the very water edge. Along that whole east shore there was hardly a place where a rabbit could have made its form.

If the Klosohees were watching the pass, they had to be on the west side. By hugging the east landwash with his party, he could make them shoot all the way cross the river. No bows that he had ever seen could do effective work at that distance.

Before sitting down, he gave his final orders: "Paul and I will lead, Sonya and Francois'll come next, Ralph and Jocku last. We'll keep struck out in single file so it'll be harder to hit us. One other thing—nobody shoots at those men unless I say shoot. Jocku, that's meant for you and Francois."

They skirted into the narrows, in spite of the stiff current they put the rods behind them, hoping to slide through unmolested.

A quarter way through, it happened—the thing Curt had expected. Twenty yards ahead of his canoe something plunked into the water. Watching the opposite side closely, he saw a second object, so swift that it seemed a mere flash, come whizzing out of a rocky ravine and sail across the river in a low graceful arch. It too fell up ahead. Another and another followed, not aimed at the three crafts but deliberately placed in front, as a warning to turn back. They came faster and faster till perhaps fifty arrows had been shot. Then they suddenly stopped.

The range of these horn bows daunted Curt. They could do damage at that distance. They could do deadly work.

He stopped and let Sonya's craft glide up alongside.

"You lie down, girl, flat in your canoe. Don't expose yourself, you will be taking chances on your life if you do." He pulled her blanket roll beside her and laid his own sleeping poke on top of it for extra protection.

Francois and Jocku dip those paddles deep and fast. The quicker we get through here, the less time they'll have to make targets of us."

They skimmed on, hugging the east landwash.

As they came exactly opposite the rocky ravine, the Klosohees opened on them again, this time in earnest.

If the arrows had come singly, they could have been dodged by an alert person, for their polished heads glistened in the sun and their flight was visible at the height of its arch. But they came too thick to watch. One struck Paul's paddle, upraised for a strike, and pierced clear through the ash-heart blade.

One hit the canoe in front of Curt's knees, clipped through the thin side, and whanged into the spruce-gum pot. Behind him somebody yelled. He turned and saw Francois grabbing at his hat as it fell into the water with an arrow through the crown.

Ralph had gone pale, but he kept his eyes straight ahead, and was paddling valiantly. Tenderfoot as he was, in those hectic moments that brought out a man's real nature he showed more courage than the "breeds who had spent all their lives in the bush."

Disobeying orders, Sonya had sat up, seized the paddle, and was helping Francois.

"Get down!" Curt ordered her. "Don't you know you're liable to be killed?"

Sonya shook her head as though saying, "Well, aren't you too?" An instant later a vicious arrow whizzed over her, so low that she dodged and gasped. Another splintered the thwart she was sitting against.

A third hit the sleeping poke that Curt had placed at her side. If the poke had not been there, that third arrow would have shot her through the heart.

Francois shipped paddle and then grabbed for his rifle.

"Drop that!" Curt snapped at him. "You can't touch 'em. They are in cover, we're on open water. That paddle will get you out of danger quicker than a gun."

Bent low, they clipped on up stream, trusting to sheer luck.

Slowly the arrows tailed off, began falling behind, and finally they stopped altogether as the range became too great.

Curt let the other two canoes catch up and looked them over. Nineteen arrows in the three craft! It was a miracle that none of his party had been killed or wounded.

Ralph flicked the sweat from his face and stared across at the forbidding woods, with fright in his eyes. Francois and Jocku were now ready to turn in their tracks and whip back south. Sonya was the coolest of the lot.

He picked the arrow out of the sleeping poke and examined it curiously. A superb piece of workmanship, its obsidian head was painted to needle sharpness and its shaft was neatly feathered with split hawk quills.

"They're leaving the ravine. Now look! There by the four birches goes one now!"

Curt glimpsed a shadowy figure slipping into a buck-brush thicket. Another and another followed. Eight of them. To be only eight, they certainly had let loose a flock of arrows.

He knew why they were hurrying up stream. Their first ambush had failed but they still had time to lay another one before his party could get through the pass. No use to race them; they were loping along a game trail while his canoes were fighting a ten-mile current. There was nothing to do but go ahead, keep a sharp lookout, and try to get by them again.

He gave the word and his party went on.

Near the upper end of the narrows a long granite rock jutted out into the river, extending fully a third of the way across; and at its tip a big pile of break-up debris had lodged. Quite sufficient to hide eight men. Curt looked at it sharply as the canoes approached.

If the Klosohees were hiding there, it was suicide to try to get past.

On above it lay a big river widening, the end of the pass. It tempted him, that broad sun-glistening water. In ten minutes his party could be skimming out upon it.

He reached his binoculars, drew the granite rock up close, studied the pile of debris, but saw nothing suspicious. He had almost made up his mind to take the risk when a magpie with a stolen egg in its bill came flapping downstream. Directly above the rock it suddenly breasted up high, nearly tumbled over itself in the air, dropped the egg, and veered abruptly out across the river.

Curt and Paul looked knowingly at each other. The magpie was a dead give-away. There were men lying behind the drift.

The three canoes pulled in to the shore and stopped.

Sonya spoke up, "I know how you can do it! We're not stopped. We can't pass them on the river, but why can't we portage around them? Just as we would at a rapids or a falls!"

The move was so simple and self-evident that Curt felt ashamed for not thinking of it himself. If his party kept three hundred feet back from the water edge, they would be entirely safe. They could portage their stuff at one high and be up at that widening in ten minutes.

Paul and Francois shouldered one canoe, load and all, and headed for the bank above. Jocku and Ralph staggered after them with the second. Curt handed the paddles and his rifle to Sonya, swung up the third canoe and followed.

At the bank he put down his load, told the others to wait there, and started back along the beach.

Directly opposite the ambush he walked out on the sand to the river edge, palms out in the sign for peace. It was a risky act; at so short a range he was completely at their mercy.

Document Says Washington Was 3rd President

GALVESTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Dr. M. P. Van David of San Antonio, noted collector, has in his possession a document which supports a contention that George Washington was the third, not the first, president of the United States.

Dr. Van David has secured from a great granddaughter of Mat Tilgham, who served as an aide-de-camp to General Washington during the Continental army's stay in winter quarters at Valley Forge, an historical document of great value. It is a paper drawn up by the first committee representing the United States, or rather the United Colonies in their severance from Great Britain, and signed by many of those who are signers of the Declaration of Independence.

This document was drawn up in the congress then meeting in Philadelphia, on October 20, 1774, and has the signature of Payton Randolph, who was president at that time, affixed to it. Two days later, historians say, Randolph resigned, and Henry Middleton, another signer of the document, became president. George Washington, who also signed, succeeded Middleton as the third president.

Relief Leader

Marshalling her forces to meet the rapidly growing need for relief as winter approaches, Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army is shown here, leaving the White House.

Canadian Man Slew 6 Indians To Save Family

CANADIAN, Dec. 5 (AP)—R. "Uncle Dick" Bussell, former Indian fighter, buffalo hunter, and pioneer of the southwest, celebrated his 88th birthday recently by relating a story of how he once killed six Indians single-handed and saved a family of four from being massacred.

The incident of which "Uncle Dick" told his friends for the first time occurred in the Solomon Valley of Western Kansas in 1868 when he was camped with 125 other buffalo hunters. A family of four had moved into the valley from Missouri and built a log cabin a few miles from the camp.

Armed with his long range Buffalo gun and hunting for any kind of game which would come within his view, Bussell found himself in the vicinity of the settler's cabin, just in time to see an Indian brave dragging a girl from the house. He had killed the first Indian when a second appeared carrying another member of the family. This time the girl was killed, as were two others who had dismounted. Before Bussell and members of the family could get away from the cabin, two other Indians rode into view, their horses were shot from under them, and they were killed.

Bussell escorted the family to the buffalo camp, where they arrived shortly before Indians laid siege to the camp. The Indians, armed only with bows and arrows, would not ride within range of the buffalo guns, but settled down to starve out the hunters. Almost two weeks later, when rations in the camp had dwindled to dried buffalo meat, the Indians gave up the siege.

Mrs. W. D. Benton has returned from Amarillo, where she was called Monday by the serious illness of a nephew.

state brewers had planned to ship beer with a high alcoholic content into Texas. The Texas beer statute limits alcoholic content of beverages to 3.2 by weight.

"This cannot be done legally; it is a penitentiary offense," Alford said. "It presents a serious question to the citizenship of this state. Our laws must be upheld and enforced until and unless they are changed by lawful methods, which would include constitutional amendment voted upon by the people."

Alford laid particular emphasis on the Texas laws that provide for seizure and condemnation of any vehicle used in illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor and warned transportation companies that violations would subject them to heavy fines and their charters to forfeiture.

HOW TO WRAP PACKAGES FOR CHRISTMAS MAILING IS TOLD

Necessity for wrapping packages securely, as well as mailing them early, is pointed out by Postmaster D. E. Cecil.

He added:

"All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine.

"Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks, should be reinforced their full length by strong strips of wood tightly wrapped and tied or otherwise sufficiently wrapped to withstand transportation.

"Hats: Pack in strong corrugated or fiber-board boxes. Ordinary pasteboard hatboxes must be crated. Ladies' hats and stiff hats easily damaged should be marked 'FRAGILE.'

"Shoes: Pack in strong boxes, preferably corrugated cardboard. Wrap with strong paper securely tied with heavy twine.

"Cut flowers: Place in strong suitable boxes of wood, tin, or heavy corrugated cardboard. Wrap with tissue to retain moisture.

"Candies: Enclose in strong outside boxes or containers.

"Drawings, paintings, unmounted maps, etc.: Pack or wrap in strong material to avoid damage. When not flat, roll around a wooden core and then wrap and tie carefully or place in strong pasteboard tube.

"Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments or tools must have points and edges fully guarded to prevent injury to clerks in handling or damage to other mail. Crates suitably or thoroughly wrap so that they cannot cut through the wrapping.

"Article easily broken or crushed must be securely wrapped and crated or boxed. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in around, and between the articles and the outside container.

"Glassware, fragile toys, or crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

"Cigars: Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper only will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar. Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material. Cigars must be in good shipping condition.

SEMINOLES DREAM OF LONG LOST RESERVATION IN MEXICO HILLS

By HUGH WAGNON Associated Press Staff Writer
NEWOKA, Okla., Dec. 5 (AP)—Once more the eyes of the Seminoles, whose erstwhile hunting grounds are dotted with the white man's oil derricks, are gazing longingly toward the timbered hills of Old Mexico.

A "lost reservation" in the state of Coahuila, granted to their forefathers, so they say, by President Alestus about 1850, long has been a land of promise for the restless tribesmen, stirred by dreams of a return to the tepees of their ancestors and a life of ease and hunting.

More than 300 Indians met secretly at New Lima this week for a pow-wow with George Jones, Seminole chief, to discuss emigration to a land where game and fish abound and where the tribal council might regain its pristine glory. Only two years ago, by an act of congress, the Seminoles revived their government, dormant a quarter of a century.

There are remaining fewer than 3,000 descendants of the hardy band of Seminoles which trudged the "trail of tears" from Florida to Eastern Oklahoma, then Indian territory, in 1836.

They have seen their lands gradually taken by the white man, by due process of law, and their efforts to reclaim oil leases, valued at a total of more than $100,000,000 fail. There is no hunting now and the braves are mostly plowmen.

But around the tribal campfires, the tug of the wild, the urge for a freedom altogether different from that designed by the white man, still is strong. In 1921, a delegation, the second of its kind, went to Mexico to survey the "lost reservation."

gave a special dinner for them at which he thanked them for their cooperation and help during the past year. He assured them that he knew that all the world would join in hearty approval of their efforts to create more and better gifts than ever before.

Everyone at the Pole feels entire confidence in Santa Claus' ability to do what he has so proudly announced that he was out to do—beat his own world record and circle the globe in 12 hours with gifts for all.

Everybody in Rush.

When Santa Claus gets ready for a trip, there is feverish activity in his village in the snow. Gnomes and elves flit about to do his bidding, all happy to serve the patron saint of childhood. Nearly every night there is a light snowfall, making everything glisten with sparkling white. For most of his journey, Santa wears his suit of crimson trimmed with white fur. His jaunty cap gives him a dashing air. His warm gloves are lined with the downy feathers of penguins. For trips into the warm countries he leaves off the gloves and sometimes the fur. His flowing beard is a distinguishing characteristic, along with his little round figure, rosy cheeks, and laughing eyes.

Everyone in Santa Claus land laments for the hearty command: "On Dancer, on Dasher, on Prancer, on Vixen, on Cupid, on Comet, on Dunder, on Blitzen!"

Then the merry little man shoulders his big pack full of toys and steps into his magic sleigh. The tiny reindeer move through the air with scarcely an effort, the sleigh leaving barely a trail in the feathery snow.

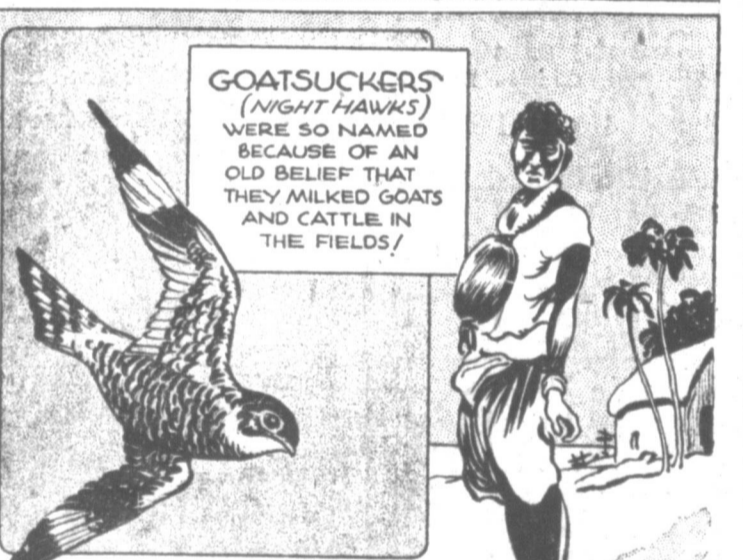

Then as dusk settles down on Christmas eve, Santa Claus and his toys appear magically all over the world. Santa follows the night as it encircles the earth, and when Christmas morning breaks in its golden, eastern glory Santa is well on his way back to start work on toys for another year, his heart happy because he has proved once more that THERE IS A SANTA CLAUS and that good will and good cheer are re-born in civilization.

Alford Orders Enforcement Of Texas Dry Law

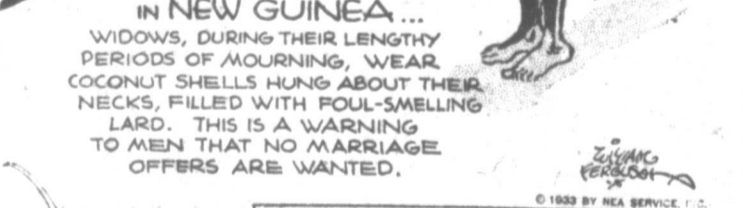

AUSTIN, Dec. 5 (AP)—While 16 states today returned to the prohibition era—most of them in revised form—Texas law enforcement officers were reminded by Jas. V. Alford, Texas attorney general, that this state's strict laws against the sale of "hard liquor" still were in effect and should be rigidly enforced.

Alford said complaint had been received at his office that out of

THE TROPICAL ISOGNATHUS CATERPILLAR CARRIES A WHIP ATTACHMENT, WHICH IS WAVED ABOUT TO SCARE OFF ITS FOES.

THE GERMANS CALLED THE WORLD WAR TANK A "SCHUTZENGRABENVERNICHTUNGSAUTOMOBIL."

CATERPILLARS of the genus isognathus present quite a military picture when crowded together on a leaf. They arrange themselves parallel to one another, all facing the same direction, and each carries its red, whip-like weapon erect. When interfered with, the whip is put into action.

Translated literally, the German word for a war tank means trench (rifeman's pit) destruction car.

OF FINE TURKISH TOBACCOS

— why Luckies taste better, smoother

On certain mountains in the Near East is a limited collar of earth—called in Turkish, "Yacca." Tobaccos grown there cost as high as $1.00 a pound. Carefully they are examined, leaf by leaf. Often it takes a man a whole day to select two pounds of certain of these fine tobaccos. Lucky Strike is the world's biggest user of fine Turkish tobaccos. For these tender, delicate Turkish leaves are blended with choice tobaccos from our own Southland—to make your Lucky Strike a cigarette that is fully packed—round and firm—free from loose ends. That's why Luckies taste better, smoother.
