Ben Parks Wins First In 'Home of Month' Contest

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parks was selected by a group of out-of-town judges to receive first place in the "Home of the Month" contest being sponsored by the beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

This is the first in a series of six homes to be chosen during the coming months.

Second place for the month of May went to Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler, and third place to M. N. Orr.

Also listed were six homes for honorable mention. They were the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Temple Deaver, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mothcrhead, Mr. Myrtle Howard, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Longshore, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Beavers and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hutcherson.

In Morningside the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pink Austin received honorable mention.

Allies were also chosen for honorable mention and were 8th and 9th Streets-Montgomery and Dover, and 6th and 7th Streets, Davis and Menden.

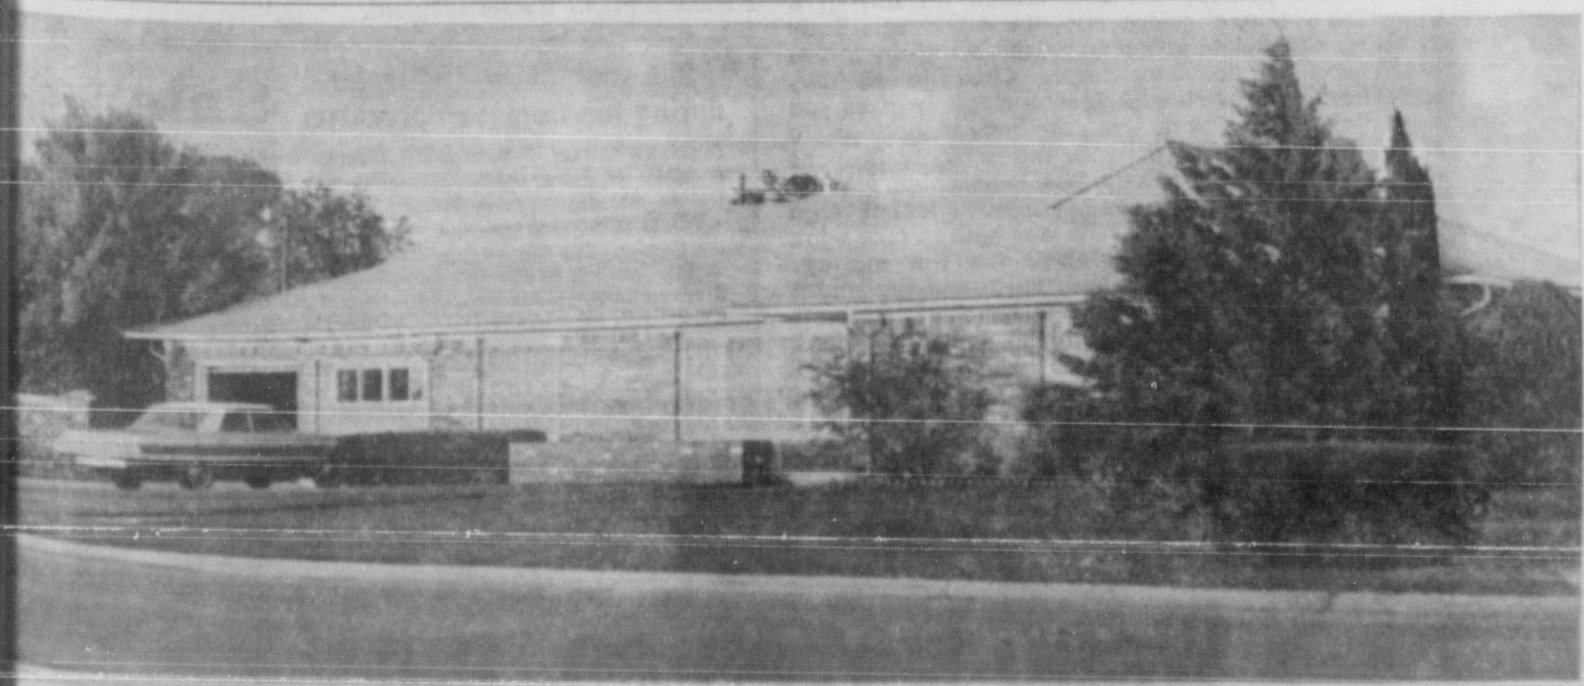

The score card used for judging was as follows: flowers, 20 per cent; shrubs and trees, 20 per cent; lawn and grass, 20 per cent, and over-all appearance, 40 per cent.

"We want to express our thanks and appreciation to members of the Hedley Garden Club for their time and effort in coming to Memphis to help us out in this contest," Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, chairman of the beautification committee, stated. "They spent one whole afternoon in driving over our town and were most diligent in scoring and trying to arrive at fair and accurate decisions."

Homes which received honorable mention are still eligible to win first place in the contest for other months, Mrs. Kinard explained.

First place winners will be presented black and white and colored pictures of their homes. These will be presented by the 1913 Study Club, whose members are cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in the project.

HOME OF THE MONTH—The home pictured above is that of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parks, 904 North 18th Street, who won first place for the month of May in the contest being sponsored by the Beautification Committee of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. A "Home of the Month" will be selected for the next six months. The Parks home was the first chosen in the contest which will end in October. The selection was made by a group of out-of-town judges.

Standard Soil Survey Is Here!

We salute the arrival of Hall County's first Standard Soil Survey, published in booklet form, which will be available from agricultural agencies this week.

After an examination of the booklet, it is obvious to see the value of the information which is now available to our agricultural leaders and land owners.

With the coming of irrigation, fertilization, and many more practices of advanced farming and ranching, Hall County has had a pressing need for a complete soil survey for the entire county, and now one is available. The value of soil sampling has been proven time and time again, and the survey helps in the making of long ranged crop and land management plans.

This soil survey of Hall County will serve various groups of readers. It will help farmers and ranchers in planning the kind of management that will protect their soils and provide good yields. It will also add to the knowledge of soil scientists.

Thanks to the generosity of our elected representatives in Washington, D. C., many of these booklets will be available and distributed to those interested, in the near future.

Until this booklet was published by the United States Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service, in cooperation with Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, there was no information available on the soils of Hall County, and each farmer had to obtain individual samples of his farm and have them analyzed. In making this survey, soil scientists looked at the soils in all parts of the county. They dug holes and examined surface soils and subsoils; measured slopes with a hand level, noticed differences in growth of crops, weeds, grasses and trees; and recorded all the things about soils that they believed might affect soil suitability for farming, ranching, wildlife, and related uses.

This is just another step toward progressive farming in our area, and we salute all those who are responsible for providing this booklet.

Home Beautification Program

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee has launched another fine campaign to encourage property owners in our city to beautify their yards. We are heartily endorsing this effort and will publish pictures of winners throughout the summer.

If a project of this kind helps our citizens to become more conscious of attractive homes and yards, and to clean up, paint up and fix up their property, we can take enormous pride in our city, for most towns the size of Memphis are not very pleasant to look upon with grown up alleys, messy vacant lots, weeds everywhere, unkempt lawns and few flowers or ornamental plants.

Memphis is fortunate in that most of the town is kept neat and orderly. But as in all towns, we have our trouble spots. These can be eliminated without undue harassment and enemy-making tactics if our citizens will do a little polite encouraging and maybe even a little volunteering to help a neighbor out occasionally.

There will be six major winners this summer; the first being Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parks, whose beautiful home on N. 18th St. has long been a show place. Our congratulations to the Parks' for setting us all a fine example, as well as to the home owners who won second and third places and honorable mention.

It takes a steady push on all quarters if any type of beautification program works; so let's do our part this summer to make Memphis a show place, a place of beauty so we can all enjoy a late afternoon drive over town before bedtime.

What Other Editors Say

Der Alte

He has not perhaps the most lovable man in the world, although his dignity and courtliness were refreshing in an age remarkably short of those qualities. But certainly Konrad Adenauer was one of the most impressive and influential figures of the century.

Obstinacy, if that is the word, was in him a virtue. While others knuckled under to the Nazis or desparingly tolerated them, he opposed them and went to jail for it. After the war his firmness was persuasive in making the Allied occupiers see the light—that the colon of sitting forever on a prostrate, de-industrialized Germany was not only vengeful but a self-defeating policy for the West, especially a West in danger of being overrun by the armies of Soviet communism.

So it was that under his leadership, aided by the economic common sense of his successor, Ludwig Erhard, the new West Germany flowered. Indeed, taught a lesson badly in need of learning elsewhere: The classical theories were still valid, still powerful. Give a nation sound money and plenty of elbow-room for private initiative and you are likely to get dynamic growth and sustainable prosperity. This was the core of the German economic miracle. It was the traditional American way, and the pity is that our own nation has strayed from it.

Adenauer understood too that economic freedom is a main bulwark of political freedom, and he was determined that Germany never again would fall into the hands of political gangsters; if it does, it will not have been his fault. He laid the groundwork for a free society of peace with its Western neighbors.

And if at times remote-seeming, he will be remembered also with affection, as his long-standing nickname "the old one" implies. History, though, cares little for such matters. It is his achievements that are towering.

The Texas State Teachers Association has sent us a news release, supported by a booklet showing where Texas ranks with the other states of the nation when it comes to taking care of public education.

The TSTA points out that Texas is growing in population and in school enrollment at a faster clip than the nation as a whole, but trails behind in financial commitment to its school system.

School enrollment in Texas has grown by 41.8 per cent over the last decade compared to a national enrollment growth of 37.5 per cent.

We also rank 31st in per capita property tax revenue of state and local governments and 44th in per capita state tax revenue.

Considering all these rankings, when you see that the average Texan ranks 33rd among the states in the income he has, then why is it so surprising that teachers pay ranks about 33rd compared with other states?

We have been telling ourselves for so long that this is the richest state in the union that we have believed it. Maybe we are not so rich after all.

Statistics tell a lot of things. It just so happens that a set of statistics presented to prove one point sometimes winds up proving just the opposite.

When you look for the most room and the smoothest ride and the best value, you'll end up with a Chevrolet wagon everytime.

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. While extra roominess is perhaps the best reason for buying a Chevrolet wagon, consider, also, these bonuses: Body by Fisher, Chevrolet dependability, flush-and-dry rocker panels and Magic-Mirror finish. Chevelle Malibu, smoother, quieter ride. A Malibu not only gives you a Full Coil suspension ride, but the body mountings are double-cushioned. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide, 54.6 inches, to be exact, 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard.

Mono-Plate rear suspension to smooth the ride is standard. Price? Below standard.

Wesleyan Guild Enjoys Salad Supper Monday

The Wesleyan Service Guild enjoyed a salad supper on Monday evening with the president, Mildred Gidden, presiding. The invocation was given by Miss Neville Wrenn.

Following the dinner, Mazine Phillips gave the annual report, stating that more than $400.00 had been given to missions, local church activities, supplies, building fund and memorials.

Mrs. Gidden introduced the program for the evening.

Annette Boswell discussed the "Two Buildings Dedicated at Sue Bennett College." She said, "The Minerva B. McDaniel Library-Science Building is a memorial to the late Miss McDaniel. She gave money to the scholarship fund while she lived, then the money left in her estate continued to do the work she had set out to do such as building the Library-Science Building. The other building was the Oscie Sanders Student Center, made possible by the contributions of Mrs. John Van Winkle. Miss Sanders was a native Texan who had served as the president of the college."

"A Little Extra for Necessities" was the topic assigned to Lillie Messer. "The necessities being boarding students need three changes of clothing, an enamel or aluminum plate, a towel and a comb," she said. "This is a school of a Methodist rural school in India. In many projects there is not enough money for the children to have money for necessities. Many of the children have been emotionally disturbed, few have had any religious training, hence a place for our missionary dollars in our supply work."

Betty Johnson told the story "New Dimension—What? Why? How?" She said, Every Methodist family needs to lengthen the reach of its concern for the Christian's role in today's changing society; to heighten its interest in the church as it seeks to be relevant and perceptive in a day of

Turkey Shower Fetes Miss Sherbut

The home of Mrs. Jack House in Turkey was the scene for a lovely bridal shower given on May 2 to compliment Miss Judi Sherbut, bride-elect of Bunky Mullin.

Guests called between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock to be greeted by the hostess, Mrs. House, the honoree, Miss Sherbut, Mrs. Sandy Fuston, Mrs. Marvin Sherbut and Mrs. J. T. Mullin, Sr., mother of the groom-to-be.

Mrs. Sandy Wilson presided at the register to secure signatures of the guests.

The refreshment table was appointed in crystal and silver, and was centered with an arrangement of pink daisies and pink ribbon streamers. The arrangement was flanked by crystal candelabra holding white tapers. Mrs. Harry Barnhill and Mrs. Smith Guest presided at the refreshment table.

Hostesses for the courtesy were Meses. Jack House, Vera Guest, George Johnson, Leonard Lusk, Bill Lane, Harry Barnhill, Smith Guest, Roger Arnold, Travis Lyles, C. P. Driskill, Jr., Mick Cotton, Rickey Fuston, Paul Hawkins, Claude Woods, Jerry Lacy, Gordon Bain, Bert Degan and Arville Setliff.

revolutionary change. Each needs to deepen the spiritual concern and gain new courage to face the issues and witness to our Christian faith.

"An Analogy" was the subject discussion of Pauline Wynn. She said, "The Guild is an organization of the Methodist Church set up to give women an opportunity to serve as a group in various ways that they could not serve individually; a means for women to grow spiritually and socially as they study and fellowship together. The mother assumes a large part of the responsibility of seeing that the needs of the family are met. A good mother knows where the family is and the activities they are involved in. She plans for the present as well as the future. The Christian mother looks to God for guidance and gives Him praise for the blessings of life."

In conclusion, Elsie Gidden gave a beautiful meditation, saying, "Each of us at some time has said, 'I am a Methodist,' or 'I am a member of the Guild,' or 'I am an officer of the Guild.' These two words, 'I am' take on a deeper meaning and significance for us as we consider the number of times Jesus used them." She read from the scriptures to emphasize her thoughts, and concluded with a prayer.

The members enjoying the supper were: M. Gidden, Boswell, Messer, Johnson, Wynn, E. Gidden, Dorothy Gowan, Viola Morris, Mazine Phillips, Ola Gowan, Ophelia Haynes, Mildred Stephens, Mable Lavender, Lucile Burnett, Neville Wrenn, Cora Belle Alexander, Lenora Greenhaw, and two guests, Kim Wynn and Patty Hamblin.

The next meeting will be June 12 at 7:30 p. m. Guild members voted to bring gifts for the Texas Mission Home at San Antonio, the Methodist home for un-wed mothers.

Rep. Healy Says Welfare Program In Texas Will Be Aided By Title 19 Bill

Editors Note: The following article was written by Virginia Gilbert, Austin correspondent, gives an on-the-ground report of Hall County's State Representative, W. S. "Bill" Healy, and his efforts for aid to the elderly, which he has supported during his many years of service. He is serving an unprecedented fourth term as chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee.

Representative W. S. "Bill" Healy, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, has introduced an additional $23 million in government welfare by the Title 19 Bill passed this year.

The bill, which implements the federal program with state aid, aims legislation providing assistance to patients over 65 in state mental health institutions. In addition, tubercular patients over 65 and 400 to 500 daily retarded who are confined to infirmaries may qualify for welfare assistance.

The federal government pays 75 percent of the cost, which means that an additional $23 million of government monies will be required through our institutions every year. "In addition to the enhancement of our Mental Health and Mental Retardation program, there may be a major amendment in our Youth Council program and an increase in welfare payments."

Mental Health His 'Pet'

Healy said the additional funds under Title 19 Bill will help immeasurably to further many needed mental health programs. "Mental health has always been one of my pets," he added, "and I have worked diligently in that area during my seven terms as a legislator."

Another 'pet' project of Healy's is assisting college young people to secure part time jobs. He said he continuously works at getting employers and students together in all 22 state colleges and universities. "I consider this a personal project," he said, "one that doesn't stop when the session ends."

One Year Budget

Commenting on the Governor's proposed one year budget, Healy said in his opinion it is "wise and logical." He added, "It is very difficult to appropriate the right budget for 30 months in advance and do so with accuracy."

Citing two major factors in state budgeting, Healy said, "So many things now are contingent upon the federal health, education and welfare programs, it is logical for the state to budget once a year in accordance with the annual budgeting of those programs." He said of equal importance is the continued rapid growth of the state. "Our present rate of growth makes biennial budgeting unrealistic," he said.

The House passed a constitutional amendment to provide for annual budgeting in the future. amendment will be put to popular vote in November.

Healy said no further tax is necessary for the current budget; however the "unpleasant but necessary tax issue" will be recognized with next session to support

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Well, when are you going to stop staring and start burgling?"

the budget that will be proposed for fiscal year 1968-69.

Employee Raise Significant

According to Healy, the Appropriations Committee has recommended a "very generous increase" to all state employees, and particularly for those in the lowest echelons. The lower echelons will receive the highest percentage increase in pay, he said. "This includes personnel in the wards of our state hospitals and institutions and will give us the holding power we sorely need to retain competent people," he said.

Interim Committee Service

Healy, now serving an unprecedented fourth term as Chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, has also served four terms as a member of the Audit Committee, as well as other major interim committees. With the exception of 1961-62, he has been a member of the Legislative Budget Board.

Healy practices law in Paducah, where he also owns an abstract plant and farming and grass lands in the surrounding area. District 82, which he represents,

Over-65 Market Has Impact On County Spending

(Special to The Democrat)

NEW YORK, May 20.—The "over-65's" in Hall County are growing in economic importance as well as in number.

They are the subject of special attention just now because this month has been designated "Senior Citizens Month."

Numerically, they have been increasing at a faster rate than most other age groups.

And, because of their greater financial strength, their status as consumers has been rising in the county.

As to their number, it has gone up considerably since 1960, when the last census was taken, according to nationwide data compiled by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

At that time, the over-65 total in Hall County was listed at 994, of whom 459 were men and 535 women.

Currently, because of their relatively fast growth, they constitute approximately one out of every seven persons in the local population.

The trend is a national one, on the basis of recent studies of the old-age market and its composition, conducted by the Commerce Department, by Cornell University and others.

The figures show that in 1940, for example, there were 9,121, sents, includes nine counties, Briscoe, Motley, Hall, Dickens, Childress, Cottle, Foard, Wilbarger and Hardeman.

000 elderly people in the United States, equal to seven per cent of the population.

There are now more than double that many, about 19 million. Their income has been rising, also, but not as rapidly as they would like. As of last year, the median income of elderly families was $3,460, which was $1,000 above the 1955 level.

The combined purchasing power of this group, as a result, exceeded $40 billion, and nearly all of it was spent. It made them an attractive market.

More steps are being taken by manufacturers and merchants, under the circumstances, to cater to their special needs and tastes.

Retail sales attributed to Hall County's over-65 population, as based upon their estimated share of the total local volume, has amounted to a healthy $1,725,000 in the year.

A further improvement of their economic position is expected soon, through an increase in the social security benefits. Under an Administration proposal, now before Congress, the increase would range from a minimum of 15 per cent to a maximum of 59 per cent.

Because you love to save stamps you ought to know...

Side-by-side comparison shows what makes Heritage Stamps different and more valuable than ordinary trading stamps

THIS IS A HERITAGE SAVINGS STAMP

It's different and better because:

* Each Heritage Stamp has an actual cash value of one-half (1/2) cent. Thus two Heritage Stamps are worth one cent (1c); twenty of them equal a dime in cash; one hundred of them equal fifty cents (50c) cash. You get one Heritage stamp with each 25c purchase.

* A starter book filled with Heritage Stamps is worth $2.50 in your personal savings account at participating banks and savings institutions. Or it is worth $2.50 in merchandise or $2.25 in cash at any store which gives them. Heritage Stamps may also be collected in regular savers books worth $7.50 in savings, $7.50 in merchandise, or $7.00 in cash. It takes 1500 stamps to fill a regular Heritage savers book.

* You can redeem Heritage Stamps in your own hometown at any place which gives them. Heritage Stamps are redeemable for a wide, wide range of merchandise and services. Many merchants who give Heritage Stamps (supermarkets for example) allow their customers to apply their stamps to their charge account. Thus, each store which gives Heritage Stamps is its own redemption center. It is convenient for you, and it keeps the money at work in your own hometown.

* Heritage Stamps give you the option of saving for many important purposes. When deposited as personal savings, they can build an educational fund for your children. They can finance vacations. They can be the foundation of your own retirement fund.

* Heritage Stamps are versatile, practical, valuable. They work like money for you.

THIS IS A CONVENTIONAL TRADING STAMP

This is the way it works:

* The usual trading stamp has an actual cash value of one mill which is one-tenth (1/10) of a cent. Thus it takes ten to be worth a penny; one hundred have a cash value of ten cents. Usually, you get one conventional stamp with a ten-cent purchase.

* A filled book of ordinary trading stamps has actual cash value of about $1.20, but they are rarely redeemed for money.

* A filled book (1200 stamps) is worth about $2.40 when redeemed for merchandise at a redemption store. The apparent difference between cash value and redemption value is due to the mark-up which the redemption store puts on its merchandise in order to make a profit.

* Usually, you must travel some distance to redeem conventional stamps. In some cases the redemption center may be in another city, miles away from you.

* While many redemption stores are attractive and well stocked, the merchandise offered is necessarily limited.

* You can redeem conventional stamps, only at the redemption store established for that purpose. You have no opportunity to shop for better selection or better value.

Doesn't it make sense to save Heritage Stamps? The merchants who give them in your town are listed below.

The 1913 Study Club met Wednesday, May 17, at 12:30 p. m. with a "Continental Cuisine" salad luncheon in the home of Mrs. Herschel Combs, with Mrs. Bob Hutcherson as co-hostess.

Everyone was in high spirits for the gala occasion that marked the close of the 1966-67 club year. It was reported.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father, in His infinite wisdom, to take from our midst our beloved member, Mrs. J. A. Odum, and

Whereas, we know that he going has brought immeasurable grief to her husband and family,

Therefore, we offer these resolutions of respect:

Resolved: That the members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy express our most profound sympathy to them and commend them to God's love and care, realizing that what God sends is always best although we cannot always see His outstretched hand in the darkness of our grief.

Resolved: That her passing leaves in our Chapter a place that can never be filled by anyone else. Her serenity, graciousness, steadfast friendships and sterling quality of Christian character endeared her to all. She was a womanly woman, a devoted wife and mother who has left an imperishable legacy to her family and friends.

Be it resolved: That we deeply deplore her passing, and while mourning her loss with remembrance that beyond the shadows of death is the light of hope and faith and the promise of life eternal.

And, be it resolved: that a copy of this resolution be placed in the minutes of the U. D. C.; a copy to be sent to her loved ones; and a copy to be furnished to The Democrat for publication. Respectfully submitted, Mrs. Herlie Moreman, Mrs. R. Ernest Clark equal Electric Payments every MONTH in the future...

IF you use WTU's Equal Payment Plan for electrical operating costs. Pay no more in August than you do in May—nor more in December than in September. Use WTU's budget plan for paying electric service bills. Here's how it works: WTU figures the amount of electricity your family would normally use in a year—then divides this figure by 12. You pay a budgeted even-dollar amount each month. Your service charge is reviewed monthly, and adjustment made either upward or downward if necessary to avoid any big lump payment. Like the idea? Then ask WTU for details...Reddy Kilowatt's people will be happy to plan Equal Payments for you.

Make a clean break with the past electrically...and budget it!

Atalantean Club Concludes Year's Activities With Luncheon Wednesday

The annual Spring Luncheon of the Atalantean Club, closing the year's activities, was held Wednesday, May 17, in the American Legion Hall with Mrs. Roy Jewell and Mrs. Glynn Thompson as hostesses.

For the meal, the members and guests were seated at a particularly alluring table which was centered with strings of pearls on a chain of gold. Bouquets of spring flowers were used on the buffet and throughout the hall.

Marking each place setting was a booklet with drawings of multi-colored fish on the cover. Inside was a sand dollar or Holy Ghost shell, and a beautiful poem explaining its meaning. These mementoes were brought from Padre Island by Mrs. Thompson, it was announced.

Preceding the meal, the president, Mrs. Milton Beasley, Jr., introduced Mrs. Cecil McCollum who gave a beautiful and fitting tribute to a recently deceased member, Mrs. J. A. Odom, Sr.

Mrs. McCollum offered the grace, after which a bountiful meal was enjoyed by the group. Immediately following the meal, a business session was conducted with Mrs. Beasley, retiring president, presiding. The minutes of the previous meeting were read; reports were given by officers and committee chairmen.

The program chairman, Mrs. W. R. Scott, introduced the program "Completed Pearls." Roll call was answered by "my favorite pearl."

The club history was given in an interesting and unique manner by Mrs. N. A. Hightower.

Installation of officers followed the program with Mrs. Beasley as installing officer. Before entering into the installation service, she said, "It gives me a great deal of pleasure and a tinge of regret to greet you today as we complete the 39th year of the Atalantean Club, and polish our 'Pearls of Potentials.' It is my sincerest hope that each one of us is satisfied with whatever pearl or pearls, she has made throughout this year. As your president, I have tried to the best of my humble ability to lead you in making 'A String of Pearls on a Chain of Gold' as you see symbolized on the table before you. It has not always been easy but together we have made the Atalantean Club a pearl to the town of Memphis; the Santa Rosa District; the Texas and General Federation of Women's Clubs. I believe it was necessary that we participated in civic and federation affairs. Because of the club's cooperation in these areas we can forever be proud of the future of the Memphis Carnegie Library; the high school home-making department; and the Hall County Hospital Save-A-Life fund. Temporarily we became a part of the Vietnam struggle through Kool-aid sent to our troops, and the City Park playground equipment is now repaired because of our club's effort. This is a total success on two long range, three short range, seven general projects as listed in our yearbook and in addition a contribution was made for the first time to Girls Town, U. S. A. Pleased to have served as president during this work year. We must pay tribute to the retiring officers for giving their time, energy and wisdom to carry out the club's objectives for 1966-67. Thank you, New let us direct our thoughts ahead, salute our new president and her official family for their willingness to accept responsibility, face challenge and welcome opportunities of leadership in continuing work of our group.

"I have been given permission to introduce the course of study for 1967-68 entitled 'The Wheel Turns' which has been selected by the program committee. Let us make it our business to see that it turns forward toward progress in every phase of our club work.

"For the installation theme I have chosen 'The Wheel,' one of civilization's greatest inventions. Representing a wheel, we have a circle with a hub and a number of spokes and a rim. Through the ages a wheel has carried the world forward in many realms: farming, manufacturing and in transportation. From the wheel we can now gain inspiration for unity, friendship and community spirit as we enter a new club year.

"Our president is the hub, fellow officers strong spokes, our department chairmen, committee chairmen and other members are the rim upon which the wheel turns. As installing officer, I now spark the light of the Atalantean Club. The officers to be installed will take their places after lighting their candles."

Each officer then gave her duties as stated in the club by-laws and pledged themselves to perform their duties.

Mrs. Beasley then said, "As installing officer, I now declare you duly installed for the coming year. May your light so shine and your wheel so turn in smooth operation that the Atalantean Club shall roll on in service to yourselves, your community, to Santa Rosa District, Texas and General Federation of Women's Clubs."

The members then formed a circle around the hub and spoke, pledging their support.

Officers installed were: Mrs. W. R. Scott, president; Mrs. Glynn Thompson, vice president; Mrs. Henry Foster, second vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Parker, secretary; Mrs. Robert Montgomery, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. C. Martin, treasurer; Miss Imogene King, parliamentarian; Mrs. N. A. Hightower, historian, and Mrs. Eddie Foxhall, reporter.

The club enjoyed having a guest, Mrs. J. J. Walker of Canyon, a former resident of Memphis.

Members present were Mes-

Mrs. R. C. Clements Is Hostess For Delphian Salad Supper Tues., May 16

The Delphian Club closed the 1966-67 club year with a salad supper in the home of Mrs. R. C. Clements of Lakeview, Tuesday evening, May 16.

Mrs. Neal Hindman gave the invocation. After the delicious meal, Mrs. Sim Reeves, outgoing president, conducted the business session.

Mrs. R. C. Clements, program chairman, introduced the program. The thought for the day was "No man is free who is not master of himself."

Mrs. F. A. Finch gave the meditation, "A New Year's Promise." She said: "Another year I enter; its history unknown; Oh, how my feet would tremble to tread its paths alone! But I have heard God's whisper, I know I shall be blest; my presence shall go with thee and I will give thee rest. What will the new year bring me? I may not, must not know. Will it be love and rapture or loneliness and woe? Hush! Hush! I hear His whisper; I surely shall be blest; my presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest!"

Mrs. Sim Reeves installed the officers for 1967-68. Her theme was "Windows."

"Great is the challenge of the coming year. Windows are important because of the good things they let in and the outlook they give us," she said.

She compared the officers-elect to an open window, saying, "open windows indicate an outflowing life. They should be giving instead of getting. The panes should be clean and clear. The officers should catch and keep the vision of what the organization can accomplish. Every member and officer must work shoulder to shoulder together."

The officers installed were: president, Mrs. R. C. Clements; first vice president, Mrs. Mildred Stephens; second vice president, Mrs. Abe Anisman; recording secretary, Mrs. Jack B. Boone; treasurer, Mrs. Gaylen Ariola; entists looked at the soils in all parts of the county. They dug holes and examined the surface soils and subsoils; measured the slopes with a hand level, noticed differences in growth of crops, weeds, grasses and trees; and recorded all the things about soils that they believed might affect soil suitability for farming, wild-life, ranching, and related uses.

Bryan Adams, Milton Beasley, Jr., K. B. Chick, J. W. Coppedge, W. C. Dickey, Bob Douthit, H. B. Estes, Henry Foster, Eddie Foxhall, N. A. Hightower, L. C. Martin, Cecil McCollum, W. R. Scott, Robert Sexauer, Robert Spicer, D. A. Neeley, Myrtis Phelan and Misses Gertrude Rasco and Imogene King.

The soil scientists plotted the boundaries of the soils on aerial photographs. Then a cartographer prepared a detailed soils map from these aerial photographs. There are all contained in the booklet.

Farmers and ranchers can learn about the soils by reading the descriptions of each soil, capability unit, range sites and other groupings in which soils have been placed.

Game managers, sportsmen and others concerned with wildlife will find information about the main kinds of wildlife, their food needs and cover, in the sub section "Use of the Soils for Wildlife."

Engineers and builders will find in the sub section "Engineering Uses of the Soils" tables that (1) give engineering descriptions of the soils in the county; (2) name soils features that affect engineering practices and structures; and (3) rate the soils according to their suitability for several kinds of work.

Scientists and others who are interested can read about how the soils were formed and how they were classified in the section "Genesis Classification and Morphology of Soils."

Students, teachers and other users will find information about soils and their management in various parts of the report, depending on their particular interests.

Newcomers in Hall County will be especially interested in the section "General Soils Maps" where broad patterns of soils are described. They may also be interested in the section "General Nature of the Area" which gives additional information about the county. The booklet also contains a series of pictures showing the of soils, pattern of soils, and samples of rolling hills in county.

LIBRARY LORE

By Jim Roark

"No entertainment is so cheap as reading, nor any pleasure so lasting."

"Tai-Pan" by James Clavell is grand entertainment. "Tai-Pan" is Chinese for supreme leader: he who wields the power. This splendid book is packed with melodramatic action of clipper ship trade, and the beginning of Hong Kong during 1861. You will long remember Dirk Strawn, Tai-Pan of trade in Asia, in this novel for adults.

Do not shy away from its length for Clavell's extraordinary power as a story-teller will make you wish there were more when you finish it.
