Three Important Elections Now Facing Floyd County Residents

Floyd County Red Cross Begins Annual Fund Drive Thursday

According to Don Cheek of Floydada, chairman of the Annual Red Cross Fund Drive, the drive will begin in the county today, April 2 in both Lockney and Floydada.

Jimmy Seay is chairman of the drive in Floydada, and Bill Fowell is chairman of the drive in Lockney and the Floydada Young Farmers have been asked to solicit the rural areas on the drive but this has not been confirmed.

Cheek said "I would like to see this drive underway, because people are having an opportunity to see how the Red Cross Funds are benefiting people in Alaska who have been hit by the earthquake".

The County quota for this year is $2,671.00 and is considerably less than last year's $2,830.00. However, last year the organization fell short of its drive it reach the needed funds. The local group is determined to do better this year though.

The county officers elected at a February meeting are:

Chairman, Claude Estes; Vice-Chairman from Lockney, R. L. Knox; Vice-Chairman from Floydada, Melvin Henry; Directors are Ned Bradley, who will serve until 1966, Naveli Burk, who will serve until 1967, and the carry-over director is J. E. Cox. Mrs. Vagle Shaw is Secretary-Treasurer.

City Council Approves New 1964-65 Budget

At a special called meeting the city council last Thursday evening in the City Hall approved the proposed budget for the city's fiscal year of 1964-65. The budget became effective April 1.

The council voted unanimous approval of the detailed itemized statement which shows that the city can operate efficiently just as a private business can. The budget is actually a forecast of expenditures and expenses the city should encounter the next year. It is a guide, only, but any deviation from the budget must be approved by the city council.

The council reviewed a petition by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Theford for annexation of a tract of land east of the Homer Steen Addition. The council members agreed to accept the land pending Theford's bringing the land up to the standards now required by the city.

Two ordinances were considered by the council concerning animals kept inside the city limits.

Locals Place Third In Meet At Springlake

The Floydada Track Team raced up 83 points and four first place positions at the Springlake Irrigation Track Meet last Saturday only to be edged by Olin and Friona who each totaled 85 points to be named co-winners of the meet.

The locals first place winners were Potts in the shot putt, Potts in the discus, Teague in the 800-yard run, and Wats in the 120-yard high hurdles. Potts and Teague set new track records in their respective events.

Placing second place in the various events were: Sutherland in the pole vault; Munde in the 40-yard dash; and Wats in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Point Totals — Friona and Olin, 85; Floydada, 83; Tulla, 71; Abernathy, 46; Lockney, 32; Frenship, 25; Dimmitt, 23; Clovis 14; Morton, 6; Spur, 5.

Monday Is Dollar Day!

Monday April 6 will be Dollar Day in Floydada. Watch for the big circular check full of bargains that will be good Monday only and will be published by the Hesperian Saturday.

Hospital And School Elections Saturday

Saturday, April 4, will see three elections that are of interest to local residents. The Floydada School Board, The County School Board, and the Caprock Hospital Board will be elected on that day.

The Floydada School Board election will be held in the north end of the hall way in the county courthouse. The hospital election will be conducted the same day, only in the County Courthouse.

Floydada School Election

The Floydada School Board election has developed into a race between four farmers for the two positions being vacated by the expiration of the terms of Howard Gregory, and W. L. Davis. Both of the incumbents are seeking re-election.

Floydada Continues Population Growth

Slowly, but surely, the City of Floydada is continuing in its steady growth. The estimated population of the town is now 4,254. Of course, the true population can be found only by a door to door census which the U. S. Government conducts every 10 years.

However, there are a number of ways to estimate the number of people that live in a town at a given time. One of these is to determine by the U. S. census, the number of people per water meter. At any time, one can multiply this factor (number of people) by the number of meters in operation and get a relatively accurate determination of the population.

The method used by this city is a combination of water meter count, and gas meter count. The later is done by Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

In 1960, the Bureau of Census set the Floydada population at 3,798. At that time there were 1,353 gas meters inside the city limits. By dividing the people by the meters one finds there were 2.74 people per gas meter.

In January, 1964, the gas company lists 1,589 gas meters in operation inside the city limits. By multiplying this number by the factor (2.74) the estimated population comes to 4,354.

One should keep in mind that the factor may change from time to time. Next year there may be more people per gas meter or water meter than there were the year preceding.

Although this is not an accurate count it does indicate the City is growing despite the unavailability of land.

Effective this Saturday, April 4 the City Light and Power Company and Southwestern Public Service Company will close their business offices each Saturday.

These two companies join other utility companies of the city in closing Saturdays.

Heretofore these companies had been open on Saturday mornings, closing on Saturday afternoons.

Both companies publish emergency telephone numbers in their closing announcements in this issue of The Hesperian.

Moore Opens Funeral Home

Edell Moore has announced the opening of the Moore Funeral Home in Floydada at 208 S. Wall.

Moore said this location would be temporary until plans are complete for a new building. He has purchased a modern ambulance and conducted two funerals last week.

The Moores have lived here for the past 13 years and belong to the First Baptist Church. He has been active in civic work.

Moore is a licensed mortician and has been in the business for 15 years while associated with a funeral home here.

Farmers Cooperative Gins To Give $125,000 At Meet

According to a report from Harold Ellison, manager of the

JOHN ACRES

Farmers Cooperative Gins in Floydada over $125,000 will be distributed to the members and stockholders of the gins at the annual meeting next Thursday night, April 9.

Interest checks, dividend checks, stock retirement checks and notices of allocated dividends will be distributed at the door.

The meeting is set to begin promptly at 7:30 P.M. in the High School Cafeteria and a banquet type dinner will be served.

According to Ellison an outstanding guest speaker from Washington, D. C. will speak at the meeting. He is John Acres, a farm economist in the national agriculture department. His subject will be "How To Raise Cain, Kids and Cotton."

Sandhill Resident To Attend 4-H Leader Forum In Washington D.C.

Twenty-four volunteer adult 4-H leaders from Texas will receive training in youth leadership work at the National 4-H Foundation Center in Washington, D. C., April 6-11, and among them will be Mrs. Lynn Miller of Route 3, Floydada.

This leadership training is being offered for the first time says Sherry Mullin, County Home Demonstration Agent. Two delegates — a man and a woman — from each of Texas Extension Service districts will participate in the training.

The over-all objective of the 4-H leader forum is to help the participants become more effective in working with young people in 4-H.

Youth leaders who participate in the National Leader Forum will help plan and participate in a Texas Leadership Forum, which is expected to attract more than 200 4-H Volunteer adult leaders. Dates of the state leader forum are to be announced.

Prior to leaving Washington, the adult leaders will attend a one day orientation program in 4-H Club leadership.

The group will arrive at College Station, April 3. They will leave for Washington, the following day by chartered bus, and are scheduled to arrive back in College Station April 13.

Representing Extension District II will be Mrs. Lynn Miller outstanding 4-H leader from Floyd County, and Floyd Terrell another top 4-H leader from Hale County. Besides working with 4-H programs in their respective counties, they have assisted with district-wide youth leadership activities.

Mrs. Lynn Miller has worked with 4-H clubs in Floyd County for nine years serving as organization leader, foods leader, and clothing leader. She has two outstanding 4-H members in the family, Janice a sophomore at Texas Tech majoring in Home Economics and Ronnie a student in Floydada Junior High School. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller serve as leaders in the Sandhill Community 4-H Club.

In support of 4-H Club Work, Mrs. Miller states that, "To me, the purpose of 4-H Club work is to help boys and girls to learn new skills for common tasks, to find their own abilities, and become more self confident. Through 4-H our young people can become the effective citizens and leaders this Nation and the World needs."

on the council.

NEW DESIGN—Not often does nature change an original design, particularly one as functional as a common hen egg, but the one held by Bates McClung and owned by C. B. Carmack is an exception. Actually one can expect to find one perfectly round egg in every million, one like this occurs about once every 50 million, according to Carmack. The gourd shaped egg was found in one of the cages owned by Carmack Monday afternoon.

for one year. Thereafter, all directors will serve two year terms. The only present board member who is not seeking re-election is A. H. Kreis. He has chosen not to run due to health reasons.

Qualifications for a candidate include the requirements of being a resident of the district, an owner of land subject to taxation in the district and he or she must be at least 21 years of age.

Those candidates seeking positions on the hospital board and why they are running are:

M. P. Goen, insurance agent — I was appointed by the people to start a hospital, and I would like to complete that item of business.

Hollis Bond, real estate — When I was requested to serve on the board, I was willing to do so in an effort to secure a facility I thought was much needed in the area. I am still willing to work to that end.

M. S. Robertson, retired farmer — I was appointed to the position by the Commissioners Court. I was then willing to serve to see the hospital completed. If I can be of any help to see this done, this is my desire.

F. M. Marquis, M. and N. Auto — I have been asked by a number of people to serve on the board and help get a first class hospital. When we build one, we should build one of the best, so it won't be outdated by the time it is completed.

Travis Jones, farmer — I have been asked to serve on the hospital board. I agreed to because I feel we need the hospital. I seek no personal recognition for running.

L. T. Wood, farmer — I was appointed by the Commissioners Court to serve on the board, and if I am elected I will continue to strive for the hospital we need.

Tuesday afternoon there had been 11 absentee ballots cast in the Caprock Hospital District election. Tuesday at 5:00 p.m. was the absentee deadline.

are seeking re-election. The challengers for the two positions are E. A. Nolan and Louis Lloyd.

Other Elections
In surrounding area elections, Don Probasco and Phillip Smithman have filed for the school board in the South Plains Community.

The terms of Ursel Taylor and southernman are up at South Plains this year. Taylor is not seeking re-election.

Earl Edwards, Jr. is retiring from the Lakeview school board. Oscar Phillips at Providence is stepping down, and Jack McIntosh and Travis Jones are leaving the board at Dougherty.

Those running for the County School Board are: Pet. 3—Leighton Teeple; pet. 4—Joe Thurston; member-at-large—Tom Porter and S. J. (Jack) McIntosh.

Floydada Board

When asked by a Hesperian reporter why each was seeking a school board position for the Floydada School District, these were the replies:

Howard Gregory — The main reason I am running is to complete the unfinished business that we started last year.

W. L. Davis — I was on the board when we started the re-evaluation of property and proposed the new buildings. I feel I can still serve the school district if I am re-elected.

E. A. Nolan — I was asked by a number of prominent individuals if I would consider running for the school board. After that I felt it was an obligation I needed to meet.

Louis Lloyd — I am running because I think we need to get things smoothed out a little bit. We need to get things going as fast as we can. The good schools we have need it.

Have You Read At Your Library?

Where America stands today as far as resources and beauty spots are concerned in the face of growing wastefulness, ugliness, and the gradually shrinking of open spaces is the concern of many farsighted people.

This problem is treated in a recent book authored by Stewart L. Udall, currently Secretary of the Interior. The book is entitled "The Quiet Crisis" and can be found at your Floyd County Library.

The book points out how American society has progressed to a high standard of living, yet our environmental standards have declined.

How people very land-conscious and outdoor people in the earlier days of this nation loved the land, but now have become a victim of the machine and as a result have set about in a methodical way to desecrate the land.

Ethics in the use of our great heritage, the land, is the responsibility of every person who lives in this land, so states Udall.

MRS. SCOTT SIX (former Verna Pate)

Double Vows Repeated By Verna Pate And Scott Six

White candelabra tied with white satin ropes and straped to form an arch of candle light formed the wedding scene Friday evening, March 27, for Miss Verna Dell Pate, daughter of Mrs. Bill Landress of Amarillo and Scott Taylor Six, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Webster Six of Garland. The double ring vows were read in the First Baptist Church in Floydada at 8 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Floyd C. Bradley. A white kneeling bench flanked by white wrought iron baskets holding arrangements of white gladioli and similar baskets placed in the baptistry also containing a large arrangement of white gladioli, completed the setting.

Aisle of the sanctuary were lighted with white candelabra. Miss Lana Davis of Floydada, was organist and accompanied soloist, Linda Christian of Canyon.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, T. J. Pate. She wore a formal gown fashioned from luster satin featuring a deep yoke of Gulpure lace and satraa neckline. The lace bodice was carried at the waist line and lace points adorned the long sleeves. The skirt was highlighted by Gulpure lace bands which cascaded down the sides from the waist to the hemline and terminated into a sweep train. Her veil of hand-made silk roses topped by a flat bow held three tiers of silk illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids tied with a garland of feathered carnations, showered with bridal satin and trimmed in coral accessories.

Mrs. Harland Weaver of Lubbock, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. LaVorna Dalton of Lubbock and Misses Lajana Rimmer, Pam Gresham and Darlene Johnson of Floydada.

Each were attired in street length sheath dresses of candy coral sheer fabric over taffeta. They featured a scoop neckline, French cut bodices and elbow length sleeves. The dresses were highlighted by a detachable skirt bearing a butterfly low atop the bustle back. Their headpieces were of fabric roses with matching crests of tulle.

Feminine attendants carried nosegays of white feathered carnations trimmed in coral satin and coral net to match their dresses.

Gary Dalton of Lubbock served as best man. Groomsmen were Charles Giddens of Odessa, Ray Lubke of Eden, Lewis Walker and Charles Grier both of Garland.

Ushers were Harland Weaver of Lubbock and Roger Poage of Floydada. Garry Pate of Amarillo, brother of the bride and Jon Six of Garland, brother of the groom, were candlelighters. Flower girls were Julie Poage and Jill Poage of Floydada, nieces of the bride.

Following the wedding a reception honored the couple which was held in the parlor of the church. Assisting with the house-party were Mrs. Wilson Edwards, Mrs. John Fowler, Mrs. Bryant Smitherman, Mrs. Preston Watson, Mrs. Wiley Rogers, Mrs. Alton Noland and Capota Graves.

Study Club Will Promote Crusade For Seat Belts

The 1956 Study Club in conjunction with the General Federation of Women's clubs is promoting a crusade for seat belts in Floydada for the safety of its citizens.

Research in auto crash injuries has shown that seat belts help protect automobile passengers from being ejected and reduce the force of impact of the body on any part of the car's interior. Also when the driver is kept firmly in position he is able to maintain better control of his car and thus prevent a minor collision from leading to a more serious one.

For those who have growing children another important fact is that a crash stop at only 15 miles an hour can kill a child in a split second. Most of all, children should wear seat belts. When children are securely and safely packaged for both short and long trips, the driver can drive better avoid distractions and keep both hands on the wheel.

You will find it takes a few weeks to get used to wearing a seat belt but it will have a tranquilizing effect on your children. Point out to your teenagers the importance of seat belts. They are our future drivers.

We can help them acquire greater driving skill and knowledge and thus be better equipped to compete in today's automotive age. We can help them come home alive!

The 1956 Study Club has undertaken this lifesaving project with a specific goal in mind, widespread regular use of seat belts. They feel they have the opportunity of giving families, friends and the community a greater chance to survive. The club is asking for your help.

"Americanism" was the theme for the 1956 Study Club meeting Tuesday night of last week with Mrs. Bill Curry as hostess.

Troy Buster of Slaton gave the program on "Knowing Your Neighbor". He showed a film to the club.

Club collect was given in unison as was the pledge to the flag. Roll call was answered with the name of an admired patriot.

Mrs. Charles Tye presided over the business meeting at which time Mrs. Roger Poage and Mrs. Ronald Evans were given a leave of absence. The resignation of Mrs. George Spears was accepted regrettably.

Members present included Meses, Marvin Wells, Charles Reid, Bill Garmack, Max Dyess, Carmel Eastham, Fred Marble, Charles Tye the hostess and guests, Troy Bruster and Thomas Parks.

April 14 will be the next meeting with Mrs. Marvin Wells. A book review by Roberta Hardin is to be given at this time.

HOW TO STRETCH A DAY — Electric dishwasher eliminates the housewife's most tiresome daily task, trees her for more hours with family. It seems no chore, not even housecleaning and meal planning has so sinister a connotation as dishwashing. And why not? Looming ahead of the housewife in a calendar year are some eleven hundred meals. Planning, shopping, cooking for the family holds a reward as she sees the family relish her good works. But not so with the dishwashing! Off goes the family to enjoy fun in the living room or outdoors. Even with the best of co-operation from the family a mother still has the biggest share of the burden of dishwashing. But the electric dishwasher means more time for her to spend with her family. In good dishwashing by hand, there is scraping, rinsing — hot water for greasy dishes, cold for starchy and egg ones. Then soap, rinse, and towel dry. With an electric dishwasher it's a different story: After scraping, or scraping and rinsing, stack them into the dishwasher, add recommended detergent, turn on switch, and it does the work for you. Pots and pans, scraped and rinsed, can be washing while the meal is being eaten.

There is no danger of chipping; the very hot water is most efficient (less is used than in hand dishwashing), and the dishes dry themselves by evaporation — and all for the turn of a switch!

The Mt. Blanco Home Demonstration Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Bobby Kendrick for their regular monthly meeting. The demonstration was "What's New in Appliances, Merchandise, and Groceries". Electric Scissors and an Electric Butcher Knife was demonstrated also. An electric skillet with a broiler attachment in the lid of the skillet and Hamburgers were broiled in the skillet and a pound cake was "baked" in an electric stew pan. Refreshments were served to members and a number of guests.

Walters Learn Daughter Safe In Anchorage

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Waller were greatly relieved Tuesday upon receiving the news their daughter, Mrs. Charles Copelen, the former Faye Waller, and her family were safe in Anchorage, Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Copelen have a married daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Billington, who resides in Tulsa. Mrs. Billington received a letter from her parents which was mailed by friends in Seattle. She surmised that the friends had landed there from Anchorage after the earthquake and had mailed the letter to her.

The news related the new split level home of the Copelens was heavily damaged by the shifting earth. Their fireplace and all the upstairs of the home suffered the blunt of the quake. But the letter said the family was safe and were staying with friends.

The Wallers and the Billingtons had tried every day since the earth quake to get through to the Copelens to no avail. Their home is some 11 miles south of Anchorage. Mrs. Copelen works in the business office of the telephone company in Anchorage.

Mrs. Waller said she is now awaiting a letter from her daughter with details of just where the family was when the quake struck and possibly pictures of the damaged home.

Floyd Data

Mr. and Mrs. Derel Couch and two children have recently moved to Floydada and have rented a home on Houston Street. Mr. Couch is in partnership with Doyle Redding at White's Auto.

The life of a dollar bill is 13 to 14 months.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS — Land levelling on the east side of the City Park was taking place last Monday as the Floydada Garden Club plans a number of improvements on the property. The Club has hopes of extending the park from its present boundaries to the Ralls Highway. This work is being done courtesy of John Fowler. Elmer Williams is running the dozer.

Garden Club Excited Over Citizens Response

Garden Club members are excited with excitement instead of gloom this week over the wonderful response from citizens of Floyd County toward the Floydada Garden Club.

Mrs. B. A. Robertson and Mrs. Lady Walker who are members of the park committee, said this week that through radio and newspaper articles here that people had come forward with cash donations, and pipes to build frames and plant vines for temporary shelter.

The Sun-view Nursery has returned to plant more trees and shrubs and the City of Floydada has graded a winding drive through the park area located southwest of town.

Mrs. Robertson said soon small flowers would be planted at high points near the drive for beauty spots. Trees and shrubs will dot the area but to the extent to hamper plenty of play and picnic space. Concrete picnic tables are now being made and will be set soon, as will children's play equipment.

All this is being made possible through the generosity of the Floyd County people for a Floydada Park.

The Garden Club has continued their work on the park since starting their project last year. The land was donated by the City of Floydada and the club has taken the project of its development. They have held drives, held various forms of entertainment, held bazaars and have contributed many hours of work to get the project underway so the people of this area can have a place of relaxation.

Local farmers and implement companies have donated their time and equipment in preparation of the park grounds. Monday morning John Fowler of Pritchett I. started pushing dirt, rock and concrete in low places to level the ground.

Much improvement has been made the past year but the project isn't complete. Additional dirt and small rocks are needed to fill the old caliche pit hole, playground items are needed and the Garden Club is asking for used equipment in the way of swings, slides, etc., that in newly fair condition with fairly heavy poles for support. This will be re-painted before being set in concrete. Anyone having usable playground equipment to donate may call Mrs. Grady Walker or Mrs. B. A. Robertson and they will make arrangements to have it picked up.

Local clubs and individuals have donated generously. Clubs who plan to donate and have not already done so are encouraged to do so as soon as possible in order

Trash Examinations Show Weevils Can Survive High Plains Winter

Final ground trash examinations to determine winter survival of the boll weevil have been completed and sufficient weevils are still alive to cause serious damage to the 1964 cotton crop according to W. L. Owen, entomologist at the Texas Research and Extension Center, Lubbock.

"However," Owen continued, "weather conditions before and after cotton is planted greatly influence survival and later weevil infestations, making it impossible to forecast weevil activity for 1964 with any degree of certainty."

Trash samplings were made both above and below the Caprock, Owen, explained that looking for weevils on the thousands of acres covered is like "looking for the proverbial needle," and does not necessarily mean that weevils are not living above the Cap.

Additional information relevant to weevil overwintering will be yielded soon when inspection of 148 weevil "cages" begins. The cages were placed in likely locations above and below the Caprock last fall to test the weevils' ability to withstand High Plains winters. Some 200 locally collected weevils are being studied in each cage.

In early April "trap" crops of cotton will be planted to attract the first weevils to come out of hibernation and give a further indication of where he spent the winter, all of which will be valuable information in the boll weevil eradication program.

The program was decided upon by representatives from every county on the High Plains after leading entomologists who have studied weevils all over the cotton belt advised that the weevil is an ominous and very definite threat to cotton production on the High Plains. These specialists in boll weevil migration and wintering habits have said that this threat will continue to hang over farmers' heads regardless of weevil activity in any given year unless strenuous measures are taken to stop him.

The High Plains has committed itself to taking such measures in the form of fall "diapause" control, which consists of killing the weevil with repeated sprays immediately prior to the time he goes into hibernation. While Plains Cotton Growers is spearheading and working for the project, actual control and direction is in the hands of various committees organized late in 1963 for that purpose.

Texas because the Texas oil and gas dollar pays for 42 per cent of the state's cost of public education and almost 60 per cent of the state's cost of teacher retirement-old-age assistance, blind assistance and aid to dependent children.

He stated that oil production is up three per cent over the previous year, and "an even more encouraging" jump is expected for 1964.

and time it must literally go out and buy it.

We've watched towns like Tulsa, Memphis, Tampa, Herford, offer all sorts of deals for new industry, and all have been very successful. We saw an advertisement in the Lubbock paper Sunday advocating the election of a new mayor because the present one is not leading Lubbock in getting as many new industries as Plainview, Amarillo and Abilene.

We know that citizens in neighboring Littlefield have formed an industrial group and have pooled a considerable amount of money to be used in buying more industry for that town.

Floydada folk might very well form a similar group and go out and seek more industry... yet if a new industry announced tomorrow that they needed to move 40 families in here by next month I don't know where we would put them.

We simply must build some homes before we can expect more people to move here. Why not organize a group of citizens who will take on a rent house project with each pledging enough money to build one rent house in Floydada?

In the meantime, let's show some appreciation for the industries that we now enjoy. Many a town would like to have the mining and compress industry we have here. We're mighty glad to have the auto transport companies... Lighthouse Electric to mention only a few of the major industries who have an appreciable payroll.

Saturday is election day for members of two very important boards... the school board and the Caprock Hospital District Board. We urge you to make your plans now to cast your vote on your preference. Both elections are conveniently located in the county courthouse.

To the residents of Floydada we remind you about the Tuesday city council election. If you are happy with the way the city is operated or if you're unhappy, here's a good chance to vote your convictions.

BACK TO this discussion on houses... the opening of the Steen Addition and Wayne Willford has opened another block for building, plus the possibilities of opening of two more additions by Theford and Withers means that we will soon have plenty of building sites for new homes.

So if you're interested in building a New home... lots will soon be available. I thought of a plan last week, it goes something like this: "It used to be the Steen Edition... Now it's the Steen Addition."

IT'S EASY TO SPOT the strong and weak wells this time of year. I've been out of town three or four times the last week and had the opportunity to see a lot of this good Plains Country.

Most everyone is pouring the water to wheat and row crop beds. Some fields look like they have been burned off, they are so wet and black it looks like the entire field was watered at one time. It's easy to see that this farmer has a good strong irrigation well.

On the other hand we see the field that shows 40 to 50 rows wet and we know this farm has a weak well that will water very few rows at once. Many a farmer has learned to tie three or four little wells together and make use of small wells this way.

Time was when a well that pumped 50 gallons a minute was considered a dry hole... not so now. A farmer looks at his neighbor watering sugar beets 7 or 8 times

Lubbock Man Joins Harmon Staff April 1

Frank Wilson, formerly of Lubbock and a partner in the firm known as Henderson-Wilson Funeral Directors, has joined the staff at Harmon Funeral Home effective April 1.

Wilson is a graduate of Graham High School, North Texas State University and the Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science. He also spent four years in the Air Force. He is a licensed funeral director and embalmer.

Wilson is married to the former Jimmie Lee Swift of Dallas, and they have two children, both girls. Kathy Renee is four years of age and Karla Kaye was born last Friday, March 20.

The Wilsons will move to Floydada as soon after the first as they can. Their main problem now is finding a place to live.

and says it takes too much water to raise sugar beets. It is true that more water is required to grow sugar beets than milo. But, when you consider the fact that this Plains Irrigation Farming amounts to how much you can sell your water for... the fellow who nets $150 per acre on sugar beets gets more money return for the water used than the farmer who waters milo three or four times.

CONSTABLE: "Let me see your driving license." Girl: "Well, as a matter of fact, officer, I don't happen to have it on me, but if it will save you any bother I can assure you it's very much like any other old driving license."

WE'RE ALL EATING ourselves to death but according to recent waist statistics the long tall Texan is still considered pretty lean in the mid section.

A company that manufacturers belts says that belt sizes provide a barometer of business. During the depression a size 31 measured the girth of the average American. Today he takes a size 35. Also it seems that average sizes vary with the country's geography. Washington runs to large measurements as does Chicago, but men of the deep south are thin-waisted.

In Texas and California, figures are trimmer, too. In New York, a 31 or 32 is normal for the mature man.

"Why under the sun does a woman say she's been shopping when she hasn't bought a thing?" asked the husband. Answered the wife: "For the same reason that a man says he's been fishing when he hasn't caught a thing." (Arkansas Baptist)

SUBJECT —

"HOW TO RAISE CAIN -- KIDS -- COTTON"

When Is An Area Eligible For Municipal Water And Sewer Services?

Anyone who has been on the street of Floydada recently has heard a number of questions being asked concerning the new areas of residential development, in the city, old residential areas, and those areas whose owners are considering annexation.

Questions such as, "Why does Homer Steen and Wayne Williford have to pay for the paving, sewer and water services to their developments, when Ray Reed and Aaron Carthel do not?"

"Does the City of Floydada extend these services to the business expansions freely, yet the residential owners have to pay for their own improvements?"

"Why can't I connect my house with the city water lines, even though I live outside the city limits?" I know a number of people who have done so, and the city employees read their water meters just like they read those inside the town proper."

True, there are a number of people who get city water service that are outside the city limits. Almost every residential area outside the city that is adjoining the city, has municipal water service.

A few months ago the owner of a business outside the city limits was called before the council. He had connected his business water system into the city lines via a private residence and was paying the individual for the use of the water. That private citizen, in turn, was paying the city for the additional amount of water passing through the meter.

The owner of the business couldn't understand why he had to get off the city water lines when people on the Ralls Highway, and other sections, not inside the city limits, are allowed to continue using the city water.

1960 RESOLUTION

Actually there is a rather simple explanation for what appears on the surface, and only on the surface, to be inconsistency on the part of the City Council.

Prior to August 9, 1960, people within reasonable plumbing distance of the city water lines who were outside the city limits, were allowed to tap the lines for use of the water in their homes.

However, on August 9, 1960, the City Council passed a resolution setting the standards any area must meet before it would be annexed by the City of Floydada.

Also, there would be no more city water services going outside the city limits. Those that were already connected to the water lines could stay, however.

When a new area was annexed it was to have sewer services. No cesspools or septic tanks would be dug on property inside the city limits. However, a person may have his own private well.

RESIDENTS BEAR COST

But when these sewer and water services are offered the residents in a newly annexed area, the cost must be borne by those residents and not by the city. The city has no responsibility to those people outside the city limits, so when the owner of an area applies for annexation he must bring that property up to certain standards.

This being the case, land will not be annexed by the City of Floydada that is not paved, and gutted, does not have sewer lines, and has not been offered municipal water service.

CITY PAYS SOME PART

Occasionally, the city does pay part of the improvements in a new area of development. For example, an engineer shows the developer of an area that a 6 inch water main will service his area quite efficiently. But the city officials can foresee that a surrounding area may apply for annexation in the near future as well. To service both areas of development may require an 8 inch water main, so the city pays the difference between the 6 inch and the 8 inch line.

If the residents of an area that have been inside the city limits for a number of years, since 1910 for example, want sewer service extended to their homes, this is usually done at the expense of the City. When as many as three residents on any given block request this service, the city bears the expense of extending the service.

In this case, the city is obligated to these residents, for the homes that will be receiving the service are mortgaged to stand good for the bond passed to put in the city sewer lines. Those in a new area of development are not so mortgaged.

In summary of water and sewer services, Homer Steen and Wayne Williford are footing their own improvement bills, because those are new areas of development that have been annexed by the city in accordance with their 1960 Resolution, and these developers will not be reimbursed for their expenses.

On the other hand, Ray Reed and Aaron Carthel are improving land that is already inside the city limits, and has been for a number of years. This land has been taxed by the city for its own operation and the land has thus paid its way with the city.

But, Reed and Carthel are actually paying for the improvements out of their own pockets, and will be reimbursed by the city. Reed will be reimbursed for his share of the expense as soon as he connects a business onto the line. Carthel will be treated the same. As soon as he completes a business in that area and connects onto the city line, he will be reimbursed.

Reed and Carthel paid the city the cost of the sewer and water extension. When each receives service from the utilities, each will receive his money back. However, there is no interest paid to the two investors while their money is being used.

STREET SIGNS

Speaking of financing city improvements, the street signs that are on their way to Floydada now, and that will be installed in the near future, are being financed entirely by donations. A number of people, and organizations, contributed heavily to this improvement which will benefit the entire town.

If there aren't enough funds available to mark every street in Floydada, the city council will decide what corners will have the signs and which ones will not.

If there is any question about city improvements, annexation, or any other city business, the city officials, and the council, welcome these. The council members feel the more questions they can answer direct, the less chance there is for misunderstanding of an issue, and the spreading of a "street talk" which has an undesirable gathering momentum in the wrong direction.

However, the city officials report this question has not come up in a number of years. The last time new street lights were installed was in the mid 50's. This installation was the downtown lights.

The street lights are often financed by bond issues. This is true in Floydada as well as in other area towns. Here, once again, the placement of the lights would be set by the city council. However, in the 1964-65 city budget there are $400 set aside for street lights.

When city improvements are mentioned, usually the question of street lights arises. People wonder why their friends across town have street lights and they don't.

If an entire block of residents requested street lights for their block, if funds were available in the General Fund of the budget,

Highlights From Pioneer Days

THE HANK SMITH STORY

by L. A. Marshall
Speaking of pioneers, one of the most colorful, famous and widely known men that ever lived on the South Plains was known as Uncle Hank Smith.

He lived near what is now the Floydada to Crosbyton highway, just under the Caprock. His home was a two-story rock house, which burned down only a few years ago.

Uncle Hank was known far and wide for his many good deeds and good deeds—his home was on the route for cattle and travelers going west. In fact, it was a post office for a number of years.

When Uncle Hank wrote of his adventures, he said they once figured out a plan to stop these Indian raids. They first captured some 12 to 15 squaws and put them into a pen as prisoners.

The idea was to get the Indians to stop the raiding of provision trains, and if they would, the squaws would be released.

The Indians came to visit the squaws. They surveyed the situation and found the squaws were being fed good, so the Indians said they could keep the squaws.

Since this bargaining power didn't work, and provisions had to be hauled from Dodge City, to feed the prisoners, they released the squaws anyway. It was costing too much to feed them.

The graveyard at Pinos Altos is on the Continental Divide. The water on the east side runs into the Atlantic and on the west side it runs into the Pacific.

Whiskey Creek runs east from Pinos Altos, and was named as the result of a broken wheel on a wagon loaded with barrels of whiskey. There couldn't be any repairs made on the wheel, so the whiskey was sold out from the wagon.

To this day it has been Whiskey Creek.

There are four different minerals found near Silver City.

The gold regions at Pinos Altos have left many deserted mines in the sides of the mountains. At least a hundred of these are hard

Former Resident Dies In Abilene

Mrs. Edmond (Eddie) St. Pierre, 37 year old former resident of Floydada died Sunday in an Abilene Hospital. She was the sister of L. C. Jones of Floydada.

Mrs. St. Pierre and her family resided in Floydada for some seven years before moving away. Her husband was employed at Consumers Fuel Association during this time.

The deceased had been ill with a malignancy since December.

Survivors include her husband, a daughter, Brenda Joyce; a son Terry Don all of the family home her mother, Mrs. Carl Jones, Crosbyton; three sisters, Frances Jones, Crosbyton, Betty Ellis of Duncan, Okla., and Grace Brookshire of Gainesville, Ga.; and four brothers, Jerry, Dean and Buddy Jones of Lufkin and L. C. Jones of Floydada.

There are 28 miles of underground tunnels in a worked out silver mine near Silver City.

Uncle Hank wrote that things got so dangerous in Pinos Altos that he and seven of his friends decided to sell out, organize a pack horse train and go on west to look for new gold discoveries.

They did find gold about 200 miles further west, which was even richer than strikes at Pinos Altos, and with larger nuggets. This find was in a dry gulch on the north side of the River Pl.

There they pulled the gravel out of a well they had dug in this gulch and with a rope and bucket carried it down to the river and panned it out. Some of the nuggets were worth $20 each.

Just when they were going good tragedy came along. A roving band of Indians had found them and shot the guard who was watching their horses. Horses in that day were very valuable, so they were left about 200 miles west of Pinos Altos.

They buried their man and dug a cave in the bank of the dry gulch. They placed their possessions, picks, shovels, etc. in the cave and covered the entrance.

They started back to Pinos Altos. Of course, their provisions ran out, they wore out their shoes, and had to keep a guard at night for Indians.

Over a month later they arrived back at Pinos Altos, hungry, foot sore, practically no clothes, but very happy men to be back home.

This is only a fraction of the Uncle Hank Smith story, but it is the reason yours truly got into the gold business, that lasted eight years.

Hats, LBJ And November

Although it might be too early to assess the new Administration, there is a good possibility President Johnson will go down in history as the man who saved the American hat brim.

In recent years male headgear has grown progressively skimpier, from the floppy flaps through the narrow brim to the head-bugging, almost rimless Ivy League.

Just as the national hat style seemed headed inexorably toward a cap along came the tall Texan sporting a wide-brimmed western sombrero. Aside from getting his picture published frequently wearing the hat he handed out several as souvenirs, and still does.

Hatmakers jumped for joy, sensing a bonanza in the offing. This, they thought would be the biggest thing for the industry since President Eisenhower showed up for inauguration in a black Homburg.

Quicker than you could say LBJ a hat style by that name was rolling off the blocks. Although the White House says it has no record of any official indorsement of the model by Johnson, the industry is claiming it has the permission at least to name the hat after the President's initials.

The LBJ hat style is yet to set the haberdashery world on fire. A survey in every state except Texas shows the male citizen a little bit leary about buying the wide-brimmer.

This can be expected, to some extent, in an election year. There's not much point investing in a new hat if it may go out of style in November.

Effects Of Television

For the past several years, with the dull realities of actual life, the advent of television as a part of American living, there have been people who worry about its ultimate effects upon people.

We can notice some effects on adults now, such as bulging and red eyeballs, pot noses from TV snacks consumed without any exercise, other side effects that come when television gets to be a habit with an unrelenting grip.

Children are apt to become TV addicts, more likely to stay inside looking at the lighted screen than outside playing in the fresh air and what this will do to their general health in future years remains to be seen.

Television effects may be even more deep seated in the future. Stanford University psychologist Albert Bandura has made a study in which he says that children are subtly influenced by television and are reacting emotionally to what they see.

Children are strongly influenced by the aggressive characters they watch on television who slug, stamp, shoot and stab one another. Scenes of brutality do not impel viewers to immediate violence themselves, but inhibitions against aggressive behavior are reduced.

It has been said, too, that children are becoming so accustomed to a heightened level of excitement on television that they tend to be restless, ill-at-ease, bored

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: I guess everybody calls on the newspaper editor for everything. My problem is that I am trying to get some information for a family history of my grandfather, William A. Stephens, who died in 1902. I think he had a brother James (?) Stephens who lived in or around Floydada around 1915 or later. I am wondering if there are any old-timers around there by the name of Stephens or anyone who knows anything about them.

I would be very grateful for any help or advice that you could give me.

Yours truly, Raymond L. Caskey, Rt. 4, Stillwater, Okla.

Qualifications For School Trustee Given By Board

Governor John Connally has proclaimed April as "School Board Month," and the Texas Association of School Boards has sent out two little booklets outlining the basic responsibilities, qualifications, and importance of school board members.

For information of new school board members, as well as to the general public, the press is asked to present the following "Do's and Don'ts for the School Board Members":

1. Keep foremost always in your thinking the good of all school children, whether they be normal, healthy children, or handicapped.

2. Confine your time and energies to policy making and the evaluation of the school system—not to details that are the business of the staff.

3. Use all available sources to inform yourself as a new board member and continue to use these sources as long as you serve.

4. Ask questions to learn for all board members and the staff are willing to help, as it is in the beginning necessary to absorb much from watching the operation of the board, administration, and teaching staff. (One finds that he thinks he knows about the school system, but whatever contacts he has had with schools and however broad he may think his knowledge of school problems, he will find that actually he knows little and gradually learns there are many phases he didn't know existed.)

5. Spend as much time on the instructional phases of the system as on buildings.

6. Listen and take into account the knowledge and judgment of the more experienced board members.

7. Think carefully and objectively on any and all problems.

8. In trying to make a decision on problems, think carefully as to whether or not a precedent will be set. No one case or plea from patrons can be decided on the merits of the case alone.

9. Respect the opinions and decisions of the staff. They are trained people in technical school affairs and usually know more about education than board members who are not trained to operate schools. Delegate the detailed and technical duties to the staff.

10. Regard the superintendent as the community's educational leader.

11. Give the superintendent and his staff the benefit of community feelings and ideas, but weigh in each case whether or not these represent a small segment of the community. Make your decision in such cases as to whether the solution is best for ALL the children, or only a FEW.

12. Use community groups to weigh new ideas or changes.

13. Never make decisions on the basis of personal prejudice (or that of friends). Serving on the school board requires the ability to give and take. Decisions are the results of the considered judgment of all.

14. Support the majority decision even if it is contrary to your personal opinion.

15. Always remember that you are a school board member only when the board is in session. You can never speak for the board, only for yourself as a citizen.

16. If you are absent from a board meeting, feel responsible to catch up before the next meeting. Do not take up the board's time to bring you up to date.

17. Weigh carefully the advisability of practicing excess economies in initial school costs. False economy may cause expense later.

18. Keep the interest of children ahead of all other interests!

19. KEEP THE PUBLIC INFORMED.

First High Plains Textile Mill To Be Built At Ralls

RALLS, Texas — Construction of the Texas High Plains first textile mill was announced today by Joan D. Smith, president of Ralls Text Mills, Inc.

The Ralls Text firm is owner of the new building which will house a modern automated textile mill. The masonry and steel structure will include over 50,000 square feet for manufacturing and packing.

The primary product of Ralls Text will be the production of cotton bale bagging, Smith said. "At long last a dream of the cotton industry will be a reality — to wrap cotton with cotton competitively."

Ralls Text recently acquired manufacturing rights to a blending process from Ronald H. Marks of Dallas which will enable them to produce a material using seven parts cotton and five parts other natural cellulose fibers. Exhaustive tests show this new knitted fabric to be more uniform, stronger and presents a more marketable package.

It will be competitive with traditional bagging material, Smith said.

Airman 2-C Jasper Van Cleve has been home on a 35-day leave. He will depart for overseas duty to the Azar Islands this week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Van Cleve of Floydada.

Woody Morris, Brenda Nelson, Lu Ann Lovell, Jennifer Teague, Kay Russell, Carol Bramlett, and Reba Jordan were the members who participated in the Show.

Floyd Philosopher Tells How Nation Can Save Billions Of Hours With New Type Lawn Grass

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass lawn reports on a new invention he has run across.

Progress sometimes shows up in the least expected places, and I read an item in a newspaper last night about an invention that I've wondered for years why somebody didn't think of.

The Japanese have invented plastic lawn grass.

This grass looks so natural and feels so natural that a lawn tennis club has tried it out and reported it works as well as regular grass.

You can see immediately what this means to everybody, except maybe the lawnmower makers.

All you do is surface your lawn with the small squares of grass on that, like you'd lay tile on a kitchen floor. The results are indistinguishable from a freshly mowed green lawn.

This eliminates such things as weeding, mowing, watering, fertilizing, and makes every lawn look just like the one next door, which is the purpose. If I understand lawn people. Furthermore, it stays green twelve months out of the year, it doesn't hurt it to walk on it, as it does regular lawns, and if part of it gets worn down, you can replace a few squares easily. Also, you can sit on it without getting grass stains, chiggers, etc.

I'm just guessing, but I figure there must be at least 20,000,000 lawns in the United States, and if each lawn takes two hours of work a week during the summer months to keep it mowed and watered and weeded that's 40,000,000 man-hours of labor saved per week, and figuring an average of fifteen weeks per year, that's 600,000,000 man-hours. In other words, by this new invention, the United States could save 600,000,000 hours of labor, and come to think of it, hours is a lot of thing, sing from television.

I am happy to hear this item and commendation of the inventor. It was just because I don't know myself. I don't know I turn my cows at

Yours truly, J. A. Carr

Veteran's Ask

Q—Are widows of veterans eligible for GI home loans?

A—Veterans' widows may be eligible for GI home loans if they meet these requirements: — they must be unmarried widows of veterans of World War II or the Korean Conflict who died in service or after separation from service as the result of service-connected disabilities. Entitlement for World War II widows expires July 25, 1967, and for widows of Korean Conflict Veterans January 31, 1975.

Q—Why is so-called "C-number" necessary in connection with veterans' benefits? Shouldn't the veteran's name and proof of service be sufficient?

A—There are many veterans (sometimes hundreds) with the same name and middle initial. Periods of service are often duplicated. A C-number (claim number) positively identifies the record of the individual veteran.

Q—Can a war orphan who has his entrance into VA educational training delayed or interrupted by military service have his completion date extended?

A—Yes. He has five years from the date of his first release or discharge from military service in which to complete his training.

The Boy Scouts of America have participated in three National Good Turns in the Get-Out-The-Vote Campaigns.
