

Dukes of Wellington Open Baseball Season Sunday

The Dukes of Wellington baseball team will open the season of the Red River Valley League in a game with Mangum at Mangum Sunday, April 24. The game has been called for 3:00 p.m.

Virgil Francis, whom many of the fans will remember as the short stop for the Dukes the latter part of last season, has been chosen to manage the club this year.

In a recent meeting, J. M. Strong was chosen president of the Baseball Association, which sponsors the Dukes of Wellington. He succeeds Bud Manzer, who resigned as president of the Association several weeks ago. Serving with Mr. Strong are A. Y. Bell and Bill Sims, vice president; and Henry Sullivan, secretary.

"The Dukes have a formidable roster and fully expect to have a top notch ball club this season," Mr. Strong declared.

The following players are listed on the roster, which was filed with the league at a meeting in Childress Monday night, April 18, attended by Mr. Bell and Mr. Strong: Catchers: Lewis Morris, C. W. Duvall, Darrell Miranda; Pitchers: James Batchelor, Vern McClendon; Blair McGee, Thurston Moore and Lee James Freeze; Infield: Charlie Henrich, Bob McAllister, Gus Barton, Wayne Jones and Virgil Francis; and outfield: Mr. Thompson, Floyd Cole, J. M. Strong Jr., Boone Eads and Raymond Nealey; and Utility: Luther Thompson.

Mr. Strong also announced that all who had car stalls at the ball park last week and wish to retain them this season should contact L. P. Jones at the Wellington Ice Co. First choice will be given those who had stalls last year.

Ted Phillips Here Thurs., April 28

Teddy Phillips, his golden saxophone and his orchestra, will play at the community building in Wellington Thursday night, April 28, Russell Yates, entertainment chairman for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced this week.

Featured with the orchestra will be Lynn Royt, talented songstress, and the Phillip-Aires Glee Club. "Irrepressible" is a one-word description of this young but silvery-haired conductor who brings his modern-styled orchestra to Wellington.

Phillips writes many of his own arrangements. He leads the band. He plays an outstanding alto saxophone; doubles on clarinet, flute, and several other instruments. He has composed a number of tunes, some of which he has recorded. He is a fountain of energy on the bandstand, an animated front-runner who rarely relaxes; "mugging with a vocalist, talking to dancers, playing frequently on one of a variety of instruments.

It is this enthusiasm, combined with the satiny perfection of his dance music, that has tabbed Teddy Phillips as the "boy to watch" in the newer crop of name bands.

Basing his band's style on a full, rich ensemble sound, contrasted by occasional solos on alto sax or the celeste, Phillips insures each arrangement of having first, dance appeal to those who delight in a firm, relaxed and easy-to-dance-to beat; second, ear appeal for those who enjoy melodic arrangements of old and new favorites; and third, entertainment appeal for those watching, dancing, or listening. To accomplish this, he spices his program with vocal and comedy presentations.

Mr. Yates said that there will be plenty of seats for those who wish to sit and listen during the evening.

through Saturday, April 30, closing at 6:00 p.m.

Any person wishing additional information should phone the Chamber of Commerce, No. 267-M.

Telephone Service Step Nearer

Telephone service for the north part of the county appears one step nearer, it was learned here late last week after a representative of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at Shamrock told Orval Couch, manager of the Greenbelt Rural Electric Co-operative, that an engineer will begin staking the lines sometime during the remainder of this month.

Plans for such service were first announced more than a year ago. The date when actual stringing of the wires will begin or when it is anticipated the lines will be finished are not known locally.

Greenbelt Electric and Southwestern Bell are co-operating on this work in that the telephone company will string its own cable into the Samnorwood and Dozier communities, but Greenbelt Electric lines will be utilized for the feeder telephone lines.

Mr. Couch said that telephone

The early history of the Friendship church is fairly complete. Records for all but eight years of its existence are in Mr. Hartman's hands, and he hopes eventually to locate those.

Organizers of the church were the late Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Goodnight, Mrs. Jeff Lawrence and the

Combined Assets Standing Near Six Million Mark

Collingsworth Countians and others who do their banking here have between five and five and one-half million dollars on deposit, and those four banks with which they do business have assets that total almost six million, reports of these institutions show in the reports of condition to the Banking Commissioner, Federal Land Bank, and Comptroller of Currency.

The call was made April 11, and the report was announced this week.

The actual figure on deposits is $5,389,784, while combined assets of the banks are $5,920,441, the reports show.

Of the deposit figure, the banks have $5,021,411 in demand deposits, while the remainder is made up of time deposits, United States Government obligations, deposits of state and political subdivisions, and miscellaneous deposits.

Loans and discounts amount to less than half the deposit figure, with only $2,536,983 shown.

Undivided profits for the four banks are $131,831.

The report this time shows a normal seasonal drop in deposits and assets from the first of the year, when the previous call was made. At that time the deposits stood at $6,462,698, and assets at $6,947,363. Loans and discounts at that time were $2,287,796.

The first of each year marks the high point financially of the county, with the normal seasonal drop following during the spring months. A rise is to be expected after the harvesting of the wheat crop and another during the closing months of the year when the money from the cotton and row crops begins to come in.

J. P. Sullivan has been critically ill this week. We hope he will soon be up and about again.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. McClendon visited in the J. D. McClendon home. Their granddaughters, Sue and Jennifer, have the measles.

The R. E. A. line men have been out in this community doing some more work on the incompleting lines here.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon McClendon and Kenny visited in the B. A. Bledsoe home in Wellington Saturday.

Mrs. Herman Belew has returned from her trip to California, where she visited her brother and sister.

We extend heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Lacy upon the death of his uncle.

In a letter received here this week, Chester Hunter of Memphis, Tenn., reported that his brother, Eugene Hunter was very much improved. He came home for a visit last week for the first time since Christmas. We were all very glad to hear that Eugene is up and about again.

Mr. Hunter also said that a 5 1-2 inch rain fell in Memphis Thursday. He said it was the best rain he had ever seen fall at one time.

Black Cats Win Opening Game 12-0

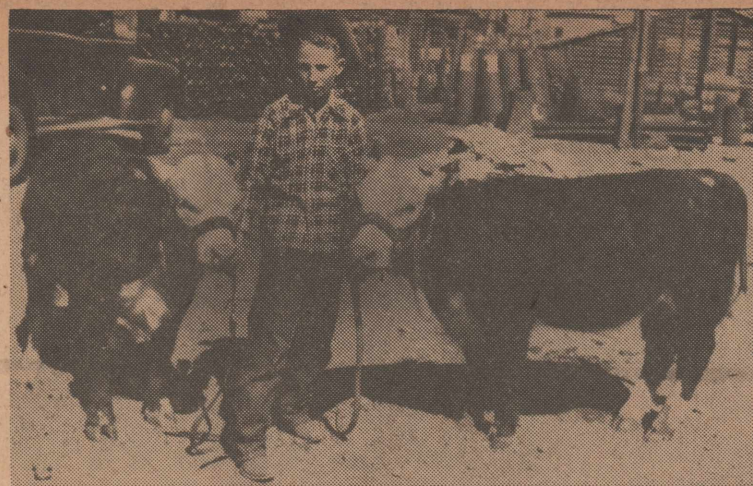

The Wellington Black Cats were up to their usual form Sunday, April 17, and it was no surprise to themselves or their fans that they took the opening game from the visiting Borger team 12 to 0.

Roosevelt Shahan, 19-year-old pitcher, playing his first game with the Cats, allowed the visiting team only three hits.

Another newcomer was William Joe Hunnicutt, a 16-year-old, who lived up to expectations in this opener.

A majority of the players, however, were with the Cats last year, and some of the men have been with the team for a good many years.

Others on the team are Howard Alexander, Darlee Spikes, Harvey Washington, Wilmer Dell Boyd, Will Jones, Shorty Dill, J. B. Ford and Charley Powell Jr.

Deck's

DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Hugh Painter down at Dodson decided to spread commercial fertilizer over his farm this week. He told his helper he could find it in a certain barn. In this barn there was also a sack of concrete. They look quite a bit alike in color. The man spread over half a sack of concrete on Hugh's field before the error was detected.

Let's switch from concrete to asphalt. While all the wheat farmers are praying for rain, Clyde Drake is hoping that it will hold off one more week. If it holds off he will have the dirt work on the Rolla road finished by Saturday. Pouring of asphalt will start next week, weather permitting. Oh, well, this second farm to market road is going to be completed in time rain or shine. So let it rain—let it rain.

A farmer in Deaf Smith county is being sued by a neighbor for allowing his farm to blow. His neighbor charges that his wheat crop suffered $2,500 damages because the defendant used "improper farming practices." Nothing will come of this in all likelihood because the defense is claiming that it was an act of providence; but it does give a startling idea of how modern farmers are thinking.

Virgil Johnson will leave Wellington May 15 to accept a position with the Second National Bank of Houston. He will be executive secretary of "Friends of the Land" an organization devoted to the promotion of wise use of land and all products of forest, field and stream. About 50 per cent of his time will be spent in office work and about 50 per cent in field work. He says he hates to leave Wellington; but he considers his new job too good an opportunity to advance to pass it up. He also said that he had never worked in any community where he enjoyed the work more or had received more cooperation than in Wellington. The directors of the C of C have not met to consider a successor.

Monday, May 2, will be Dollar Day in Wellington. It will be the day that the merchants will be competing against their real competitors and not against the ones across the street. Today real competition is between town and town more than it is between merchants in the same town.

O. B. Wilsons Make Improvement on Farm Home at Houselog

By MRS. R. L. KARNES
Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Wilson, who bought their farm in the Houselog community last fall, have been working hard making new improvements.

They rearranged the inside of the house, adding a bath room and installing new bath fixtures. They redecorated throughout, sanded and refinished the floors.

Now, they have begun work on the outside, such as repairing the yard and garden fences, resetting the lawn, making rose gardens and flower beds. They have what it takes to make flowers blossom during the hot dry months of summer, that is, a well that furnishes plenty of good soft water.

The Wilsons now have a modern country home and fell repaid for all their work.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our deepest appreciation to our friends and neighbors, and to anyone who did anything to help us during the long illness and at the death of our husband, father and grandfather, S. G. B. Littleton.

Rockets Down Memphis In First District Game

Wellington's Skyrockets won their first district baseball game of the season when they defeated the Memphis Cyclone in Memphis Tuesday afternoon, April 12, with a score of 35-7.

Strongly fortified by consistent hitting which amassed twenty-six hits from the Memphis moundmen, the Skyrockets were out in front from the second inning until the end. Both teams collected two runs in the first inning, and the Rockets then added four in the second, two in the third, four in the fourth, six in the fifth, five in the sixth and twelve in the eighth. Memphis had its big inning in the fourth when the Cyclone collected three runs after having two outs. McQueen and Rasco singled, Coter doubled to score the runners and he was in turn brought home by the next batter who knocked a single. One run in the sixth and one in the eighth was all the wind the Cyclone had left.

Burl Brim started the ball rolling for the Skyrockets with a single in the first inning. He was scored by Boone Eads who slammed a homer. In the second inning, Dale Hively, Walter O'Neil, Newell Van Pelt, Orville Copeland, Bob McCutchen and Brim each singled with the first four of these scoring.

Lindell Norman doubled in the third inning and Hively and O'Neil crossed the plate. McCutchen and Donald Joe Terry singled in the fourth and Eads tripled to score them. Norman was scored by Hively. Copeland, Brim, Terry, Norman, Hively and O'Neil scored in the fifth inning on a single by Brim, a double by O'Neil and a single by Van Pelt.

Brim again singled in the sixth inning followed by McCutchen, O'Neil and Van Pelt who scored.

Jay's Drive-In Holds Inspection Day on Monday

Inspection day for Jay's Drive-In, Wellington's newest business, will be held Monday, April 25, J. C. Ward, owner, announced this week. No food will be served on that day, but the firm will start serving meals Tuesday, April 26.

The new home for this business, built of logs with quantities of glass in the dining section, is being completed this week on Eighth Street, across the street from Holton Auto Store, and all equipment will be in place for the opening Monday.

Fine sea food of all kinds, chicken and steaks will be the specialty of Jay's Drive-In. "We intend to give the people of Wellington sea food such as they have not been used to finding this far inland, as well as the traditional steaks and fried chicken of the highest quality, and we intend to do all of this at prices the public will appreciate," the owner declared. Making every inch count inside, the booths have been designed for comfort, and upholstered to add both to the comfort and appearance of the place.

John (Boots) Sechrist will be manager of the grill. Well known here, Mr. Sechrist has been undergoing intensive training in recent weeks in the preparation of the food as it will be served.

"We hope all of you can visit us Monday. We know you will like it, and we are happy that we can give the Wellington trade area a drive-in grill of which they will be proud," Mr. Ward said.

Mrs. O. C. Massey Dies in Oklahoma

Word was received here Tuesday evening, April 19, of the death that afternoon of Mrs. O. C. Massey of Rocky, Okla. Mrs. Massey was the mother of Mrs. Henry Langford, who lives near Lillie, and a sister of Gordon Peters, Allen Peters and Hunter Peters. She also formerly lived here.

The message received here said that a tractor turned over on Mrs. Massey, causing her death. No other particulars were learned.

Mrs. Langford and Gordon Peters left Tuesday night for Rocky, and other members of the family went Wednesday morning.

service would extend as far south as Salt Fork River, beginning along the section lines of sections

85 and 86, block 15, extending north to sections 15 and 16, then east to Lutie, then roughly northward to the county line.

Communities receiving telephone service will include Samnorwood, Dozier, Abra, Plymouth, Lone Mound and Enterprise. Lutie is now served by a line out of Shamrock, the only one in the north part of the county.

Mr. Couch pointed out that while a large area will receive telephone service — much of it for the first time — there will still be a large area, particularly in the northeastern part of the county that is without telephone service. Southwestern Bell officials told Mr. Couch they hoped to extend their lines into this area, particularly into the Aberdeen section, within the next year or two.

How Much Clerical Work for the Teacher?

Giving teachers all the pay they are worth will not still all their complaints, observes the Texas Outlook in a recent issue. The complaint is the overload of clerical work required of the average teacher is traditional in our whole educational system. Yet the business sense of school board members should grasp the absurdity of asking teachers, paid at higher rates than clerical workers, to spend many hours each week on task such as these rather than on those for which they are professionally trained.

It is something for the trustees and superintendents to think about. Why burden skilled teachers with marking balancing the totals, cutting stencils and mimeographing in addition to minding the office and a number of other tasks that they could spend in solving the student problems of their pupils and in preparing more interesting and valuable lessons.

With school finances such as they are an improvement in this particular situation is undoubtedly a long way; but it is worth consideration. We are purchasing at taxpayers expense, a public service—a teacher whose primary function is to teach his pupils. With professional salaries just over the horizon, it is doubtful economy to continue daily tallies in attendance registers and to press teachers into the performance of numerous tasks for which they are not trained, and which rob the pupil of the most important purpose of his attending school—the help, leadership guidance and understanding of teachers richly endowed for their function.

The teacher at great expense is trained to teach, he wants to teach and he will teach better if he can consistently pursue activities that will enrich his teaching potential. If they were relieved of clerical duties, teachers could begin to put first things first. Staff morale would improve. Instruction and learning would attain new effectiveness. Additional time would be available for needed planning and pupil guidance. Faculty leadership of the activities program would have a fair chance of being inspired. Along with this there might be a weeding out of those who are not qualified to teach either by training or temperament—perhaps they might be the ones to use for office routine with the salary commensurate with their ability.

Dollar Day Must Give Dollar Value

Dollar Day on the first Monday of each month in Wellington will be effective with the first Monday in May.

Sponsored by the Wellington merchants and the Chamber of Commerce, it is primarily a trade development program. Its aim is to get more people to do more of their trading at home. It is an old merchandising idea and one that has worked well.

The sponsors rightly emphasize that two things are necessary: the cooperation of majority of the Wellington merchants; and the giving of dollar value for dollar received. Dollar Day, it is pointed out, is no time to dump unwanted merchandise on the public.

Those who buy in Wellington on Dollar Day, both from this trade area and visitors from other towns, are going to expect to find some good buys—buys that will keep pennies in their pockets. They will expect to be served by courteous sales people, who are efficient and who know the merchandise they are selling.

The merchants are going to expect from Dollar Day that it will keep money at home—in their stores—that otherwise would go somewhere else. Many of them are stocked with merchandise identical to that handled by the specialty shops or department stores of the cities.

They have the added advantage of having sales people who know the customers and know their tastes and needs. Dollar Day will be a good time for buyers to find out just what merchandise they can get at home.

Dollar Day in Wellington can be profitable to both the merchants and their customers.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:—

Prices or Taxes, It Costs the Same

Mr. Truman's new farm program promises to keep farmers' income up. It promises to make some food products more abundant and drive down retail prices. It promises a bigger volume of business to a lot of retailers. But unless we have read the explanatory figures incorrectly, the ultimate cost to the consumer would be about the same.

The present subsidy program assures the farmer a fair return by supporting prices. The new program would support the farmer and let prices find their own level. So perhaps the question comes down to this: would the consumer prefer the impact annually or quarterly on his tax return or would he rather have it in smaller but more noticeable quantities on his grocery bill?

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan says that the consumer's grocery bill would probably go down under the new program, but he is not certain that the consumer's tax bill would go up. He thinks the proposed system would be less costly to operate than the present one. Yet it would seem that if the government does not get the same money through taxes to support the farmer's income directly.

Maybe the idea is good. Maybe a bit more government control will be offset by more diversified farming. Maybe wholesalers and retailers will make up in sales what they lose on individual price tags and do as well or better than they are doing now. Maybe the program will even collect some votes in the next national election.

For the producer will do all right. The distributor won't suffer. And the consumer, though he ultimately pays the same amount, may remember the lower food bill. He may pay less for potatoes and more to the treasury. But at least he will know that the surplus potatoes aren't being burned or buried. And that will appeal to a lot of frugal souls.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek is a little mixed up on the difference between wire-tapping and party-line listening, his letter this week reveals. It's our observation he's mixed up on a lot of other things too.

Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday afternoon restin and watchin Spring unfold, enjoyin the sunshine and bein lulled by the sound of tractors runnin on farms all around me until along toward mid-afternoon when a tractor belongin to one of my less-ambitious neighbors startin missin out and the sound threw the whole symphony out of tune, as there ain't nothin more disturbing than an inharmonious set of tractors and if a man's gonna farm he ought to do it right and when his tractor starts missin ought to cut off the motor and let me meditate in peace, when I noticed a copy of The Amarillo News flutterin down and since the wind whipped it right over to where I was thinkin and spread it out in front of me I went ahead and read it.

I noticed there is considerable excitement in New York over wire-tapping, with folks there talkin about it like it was somethin new, like maybe somebody had just made a non-stop flight across the Atlantic.

New Yorkers are supposed to be pretty far advanced, but if they're just now gettin around to the pleasures of listenin in on telephone conversations, they could come out here and learn somethin. It's been goin on for years.

While I ain't got no telephone myself, I use my neighbors a good deal, on the theory it don't wear a telephone wire out none to use it and I might as well take advantage of it as not, I've borrowed so much from him a little more ain't gonna matter, and I don't mind sayin a good party line has got The Leader beat two to one for gettin at the heart of the news. Ain't no libel lawsin effect on a telephone wire, it's as free as the floor of the United States Senate, and a lot more interesting. Get

Self-Control Is the Essence Of Temperance

This is a temperance lesson. Temperance lessons were formerly built around the principle of total abstinence from alcoholic liquors. That principle has been basic in such organizations as the WCTU and various temperance societies, and in the main it has been the emphasis in temperance activities in most of the Protestant churches. But it requires very little observation to note that in respect to this there has been a great let-down among church people in recent years.

Liquor has of late become more strongly entrenched in social custom, and social custom takes on in this respect a somewhat exacting and domineering aspect. The normally social abstainer, who would not hesitate at a party to decline courteously a cup of tea, or a cup of coffee, hesitates to decline a cocktail, lest he be regarded as socially unco-operative or peculiar.

For my own part, when I have been offered liquor, as has happened even on pastoral visits I have been wont to say that I am as dry as the Sahara, but that I am neither Pharisaic, nor apologetic, about it. I am not Pharisaic, for I know that far better men than I drink habitually. But I am not apologetic, for I resent the social imputation that I should eat or drink what I neither want, nor like, and particularly something with which a great deal of personal and social unhappiness is associated. It is my feeling that it is the drinker, rather than the abstainer, who ought to be on the defensive.

But all this leads up to the plain truth that it is self-control that is the essence of temperance. And the highest form of self-control, which implies a self capable of controlling, is the control of the spirit of God in the inward life. With that well established one cannot far go astray, whatever his reactions to the problems of conduct.

Natural gas enters the local distribution mains of the cities and towns we serve at metering and regulating stations located just outside the city limits. These are the "city gates" for natural gas service... service to gas ranges, gas water heaters, gas refrigerators and heating equipment in homes and apartments... service to boilers in factories and power plants, and gas air conditioning units in homes, stores and office buildings.

Construction and operation of these metering and regulating stations are among many functions of the United Gas organization... all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued supply of natural gas to our customers.

Alcoholism Talk at Clarendon April 21

A prominent Dallas businessman will make three separate talks in Clarendon April 21st on a disease of Alcoholism and the rehabilitation program of Alcoholics Anonymous. He will speak to the members of the Lions Club Thursday noon. He will speak to the High School students Thursday afternoon and then appear before the public in general at the Pastime Theatre Thursday night at 8 p.m.

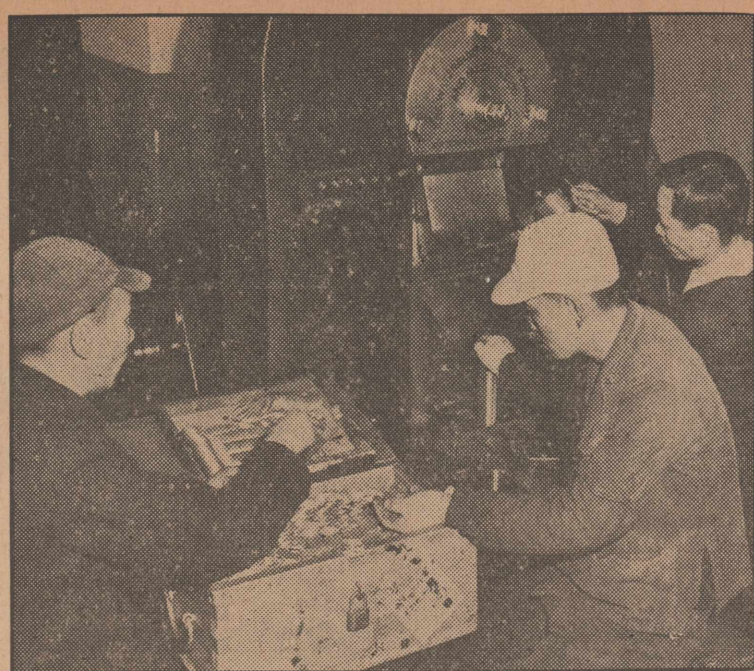

"There are 3,700,000 Americans suffering from the disease of alcoholism. At least 12,000 Americans die each year from the disease. This is a public health responsibility but almost nothing is being done about it."

The above points will be brought out by the visiting speaker when he visits here Thursday, April 21. The speaker, a successful Dallas businessman — a businessman who once wagered his entire business fortune on the effort to make himself quit drinking — and lost — will be speaking both as a member of A. A., the rehabilitation fellowship, and of the Dallas Committee for Education on Alcoholism.

"I suffered from the disease of alcoholism for 17 years," the speaker has previously announced. "For 17 years I tried to drink socially — and never could."

The speaker recovered control of compulsive drinking through Alcoholics Anonymous, and then became interested in the program for educating the non-alcoholic public on the problem of alcoholism.

and fatal disease, yet alcoholic addicts who begin in time may attain normal health and sobriety. Other diseases demand and get scientific attention, the best medical men can give. The great mass of the sufferers of the disease of alcoholism are left to the administration of policemen, police courts, to horrors of jails and madhouses, and are subjected to public scorn and neglect.

The purpose of these talks is not to make an indictment of public attitude. Rather it is a plea for better understanding and most of all a message to the alcoholic himself.

By BILL HUGHES

Dear Column,
We've had a terrible time this last month what with Deck losing you and me getting the measles. Deck says I'm mistaken. He didn't lose you; rather, you got misplaced. At any rate, it all adds up to the same — you've been running out of sight mostly.

Of course I apologize to you for the measles. I'm supposed to have been grown up now for several years; however, that simply goes to prove an old point of mine, this business about growing up can't be measured in years alone. Growing up is a relative thing that goes on all through life or at least it should go on all through life if individually we are going to get anywhere when the time has come to graduate to some other life.

I got a letter from Ralph Stowell down in Fort Worth the other day. He seems to be busier than a bird dog in a quail patch and doing right nicely. He thinks we ought to do a piece on "time." It is certainly something we all deal in every day and it's worth our full consideration and best effort; however, it is going to take some thinking to do it any justice and a prayer to God for insight because time is one of His great assets to His children. So many of us little understand and scarcely appreciate time. It has an enormous meaning and value beyond being a measure in terms of hours, days, months, and years; but of time we shall say more at a later date.

Right now I am still interested in the Gilmer-Aikin bills and also federal aid to education. It seems as though the state superintendent's job is a ripe political plum around which revolves the fight that is holding up the Gilmer-Aikin Bill. Education is one pie that I don't believe belongs in politics at any level. Our head educator I believe will be a better man selected for merit by a representative state board than he would be by having to seek and hold office through political machines.

As for the question of federal aid to education, I was reading an article in favor of it the other day. In answering the criticism of the danger of federal control, federal aid to roads was cited as an example of federal aid without any such consequences. To me this is an insidious and very false and misleading comparison. Any unorthodox and unfair attempt to control roads would be challenged by a dozen states at the drop of a hat.

Any such attempts would be felt and seen immediately because in roads we are dealing with material matters. On the other hand control of people's minds and their thinking through education is not a material vision. You do not see, feel, or hear what is happening until it has happened and then it is too late.

Power is not derived by control of material things unless it controls the human power that creates them. The government is checked for grasping tyrannical power so long as it cannot control the minds and thinking, the will of the governed. There is no incentive to try to control roads. There is a tremendous incentive to try to achieve control of people's minds, their thinking, the public will. There are always a minority of unscrupulous who are not just waiting for the chance but who are every moment of the waking day attempting to set up an opportunity to seize such a control. The chance comes from any possible avenue to centralize control of education of the people.

We derive our right of freedom, our right of free speech, our right to worship as we will, our right to think our own thoughts not from governments but from God. If we are to enjoy a better life with work, clothes, shelter, medical care, education, and more leisure time for all, it will come from our own individual actions within the spirit of the ten commandments, not from federal aid promised to us by a benevolent government.

Sincerely yours,
Bill

Kiwanis NOTES

Thanks to Mrs. Aaron or Mrs. Alexander or some of the other ladies, I found a place setting, where the plate was perfectly centered on the dividing line between the tables. I received plenty of food from both directions. I gained 4 pounds today.

It is evident that Tom Bryant recognizes good food when he sees it, from the way he eats.

Guests: Paul Cornwell, who was formerly manager of the Ritz Theatre here and is now living in Oklahoma City; Mack Saied, Jr., home from school; Mr. Norwood from Corpus Christi and Alfred Knoll, R. L. Templeton's guest.

Emmett Passmore is one of the indispensable members. Through the courtesy of the Ritz Theatre (Emmett is manager) the youngsters will see or I should say did see (due to the fact that this was written before the show happened) But Emmett is due the credit for making the necessary arrangements for these children to see "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn."

Guy Clay was well pleased with the way the "F. F. A. Stock Show" was exhibited but was not pleased, as well as several others, (including myself) the prices that were being offered for these fine animals. Many of these animals were sold below the cost of production. In my estimation that is a poor way to encourage these fine boys to try to produce animals of quality.

Incidentally the Kiwanis Club, through the efforts of Morris Reed as bidder bought one of the highest priced calves that was sold. Thanks Morris, you helped create some interest among the boys.

About that ball game Kiwanis vs. Key Club: Someone (probably J. K. Porter Jr.) misrepresented my attitude toward the sentiments of Calvin Coolidge. (Whoever it was said "I do choose to play"). The correct statement is: I do not choose to play. Jack Gibson, did you have anything to do with that, how about you, Deck?

Hand out your surplus change for tickets for the banquet on April 29th when the Key Club boys and their girl friends along with the Younger Set (Kiwanis Club) Also Johnnie Linn meet to present the charter for this Key Club organization of teen age boys who are going to be the ones to take the places of the members of the Kiwanis Club. Fellows, let's go. All out for this affair. Thanks.

J. M. Moore is extremely jealous of L. B. Bratten after hearing him sing "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." J. M. admits that L. B. is a much better singer than he.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kersten of Dumas spent Easter with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kersten.

After attending the Easter Pageant in Lawton, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Jack VanBebber of Phillips spent the remainder of the day with Mrs. VanBebber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baldwin.

Personal

Mrs. C. C. Ralls and Mrs. Ola Wall left Tuesday for an extended visit in Mineral Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dakil spent Sunday in Childress.

Mrs. Joe McWilliams has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas of Lubbock for the past several days. Mr. McWilliams joined her there Sunday and they returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Raburn of Canyon visited home folks during the week end.

W. A. Dodgin is spending a few days with his sisters, Mrs. Bertha Williams of Oklahoma City and Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Pollock of Ada, Oklahoma.

Mrs. W. T. Huston and daughter, Jerry spent the past week in Amarillo visiting with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Koerner were week end guests of his mother, Mrs. O. F. Koerner in El Reno, Oklahoma. Mrs. Koerner returned home with them for an extended visit.

Mrs. Dean Davis of Fort Worth spent the week end in the home of her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Capp Davis. Mrs. Davis served as matron of honor at the Bartlett Cook wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tollett and sons were in Panhandle Sunday visiting his sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Darnell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dennis visited friends and relatives in Brice, Memphis and Hedley Sunday.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Owens Sunday were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Walton of Perryton. All attended the Easter Pageant in Lawton, Oklahoma.

Miss Rita Lowrie, a student in West Texas State Teachers College in Canyon, is here visiting relatives and friends over the holidays. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Lowrie.

him. Mr. Littleton farmed throughout his active life retiring in 1928. He then moved to Wellington and this had been his home since.
