SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

While sitting in the auditorium watching Snyder High School students present their version of "Oklahoma" the other night we could not avoid thinking of the play in terms of a sort of triumph for our school system.

Then, it followed naturally that we were reminded of other triumphs that have been earned through our schools. This has been a fruitful year any way you take it.

Our school started off with a district football championship, and then followed with a first place, class 4A band performance in statewide competition, a district basketball championship, and now apparently can boast of the first presentation of "Oklahoma" by high school students, which was highly successful.

* * *

Success in competition and in public exhibitions may not necessarily mean a strong, over-all system, but they certainly are symptoms of strength, and especially so when the fields represented are so varied as they are here. On the other hand, weakness in competition and public exhibitions virtually always are intrepreted as indicating a weak system.

* * *

Consequently, we are inclined to look for a "tongue-in-cheek" whenever we hear reports that there are those who would like to see our school system apply the brakes and go ultra-conservative. Almost without fail such persons call special attention to financial aspects of the question. And few remember that, although "figures don't lie," you can prove almost anything you desire with them.

* * *

We will be among the first to agree that "they" are "educating" children "cheaper" in other places than we are in Snyder. Emphatically, yes. "They" are "educating" them "cheaper" in Arkansas, Mississippi and several other states. But in most cases it is not by choice.

New War Fears Stirred

GAZA, March 16 (AP)—The swift Egyptian takeover in the Gaza Strip brought ominous rumbling from Israel tonight.

An Israeli spokesman in Jerusalem declared Foreign Minister Golda Meir's flying trip to the United States is "the last diplomatic effort to safeguard an exclusive U.N. regime in the Gaza Strip."

The spokesman referred to reports Egyptian military police already are on duty under the new governor, Maj. Gen. Mohammed Hassan Abdel Latif, and declared:

"This would mean a further serious deterioration of the situation in the area and would have a grave bearing on Israel's attitude."

In New York, a member of the Israeli U.N. delegation spoke of the danger of a new conflict over the Gaza Strip or the Gulf of Aqaba, on which lies Israel's port of Eilat.

The delegation source said Israel received renewed U.S. assurances only this week on the U.N. role in the Gaza Strip and freedom of shipping in the gulf.

"The prevention of raids and blockades is . . . the only alternative to the danger of war ensuing from Egyptian belligerence," he said.

Israel withdrew its army last week from the gulf and from the Gaza Strip on the assumption that U.N. Emergency Force would maintain order in both regions pending a settlement.

"Israel," the spokesman told reporters, "will restate to the U.S.A. its determination to fight against any forcible attempt to hold up shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba and to defend its rights if conditions in Gaza continue to deteriorate."

The informant added that Mrs. Meir is expected to ask Secretary of State Dulles what action the United States plans to back up the assurances when she reaches Washington tomorrow.

Before leaving Paris, Mrs. Meir said she would talk to Dulles about "the grave situation created by the entrance into the Gaza Strip of Egyptian personnel." She told reporters she was satisfied with talks she had with Premier Guy Mollet and other officials in Paris.

The fatal wounding of an Arab in the city of Gaza threatened to create a crisis between the population and the UNEF.

Egyptian military police said a bullet from UNEF headquarters struck down Ismail Yacoub Bakka in a street 300 yards away.

A UNEF announcement said an investigation showed a UNEF guard on a balcony saw some persons trying to enter the headquarters area, shouted a warning, then fired one shot into the ground and one into the air.

The UNEF said the guard was a member of the Danish-Norwegian battalion and an investigation is under way.

Two Snyder Youths Pass Stiff Tests

Two Snyder High School youths are among finallsts still in competition for the National Merit Scholarship program.

The two are Fred McFarland and Bill Smallwood, who were the only ones remaining of the Snyder seniors who began competition. These two in January were among five seniors from here who had passed first exams in the program. The five took extensive tests in further elimination, with only these two passing. The tests included a three-hour college board exam, intensive screening of leadership and extra-curricular records.

Sometime in May, the winners of the merit scholarships will be known. More than 700 four-year college scholarships will be awarded in the U.S. in the program, many of the scholarships sponsored by business and industrial firms.

There are still close to 7,000 students in competition for the 700 awards. The program began with some 162,000 seniors in 12,500 high schools competing last October.

The 700 merit scholars will choose the colleges they wish to attend. Value of scholarships varies with the financial need involved, ranging from $100 per year minimun to 2,200 per year or more.

CRASHING WALL — The front wall of a warehouse crashes to the street as fire rages through 14 buildings in the Harlem area of New York City. The buildings were being demolished to make way for a new housing project and were mostly unoccupied. The fire was reported to have started by sparks from a torch.

Arabian Dispute Feared

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—American officials were concerned today lest Saudi Arabia get embroiled in the Israel-Egypt dispute over unfettered shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

If that happened, the United States would have to reappraise its Saudi Arabian relations — placed on so happy a plane only last month after King Saud's talks with President Eisenhower.

U. S. Saudi ties are closely cemented by such practical considerations as jet planes and money.

U. S. oil interests pay 300 million dollars a year to King Saud for the privilege of extracting oil from his desert kingdom. The U.S. government is training Saudi pilots and tankmen in the use of modern military gear which Saud buys from the United States. In exchange, the U. S. Air Force is allowed to use the Dhahran Airfield less than 1,000 miles from Russia's Middle East border.

Recent statements attributed to the Saudi Arabian government have caused concern here, though American officials doubt they will result in an overt act any time soon. The statement, broadcast by Cairo radio, said the Saudis regard the Gulf of Aqaba as "absolute Arab territory" and would "take all measures to defend its legitimate right."

This runs counter to statements by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles that the gulf is international and no nation has the right to block free and innocent access to it through the narrow Straits of Tiran.

Drilling In Electra

ELECTRA, March 16 (AP)—The first oil well drilling within the city limits of Electra started here this weekend. Oil wells have almost completely surrounded the North Texas town.

Coke County Stockman Acquitted Of Murder

SAN ANGELO, March 16 (AP)—Vernon Glenn, 33, Coke County stockman, was acquitted on murder charges by a 51st District Court jury here today.

Glenn was charged with the fatal shooting of Hollis Stevens, 31, a state highway department section foreman, July 25 in an alley behind the Bronte Post Office.

7 Indictments Are Added In Oregon Probe

PORTLAND, Ore., March 16 (AP)—Sheriff's officers held seven secret grand jury indictments today and it appeared their addition to the unfolding charges of Portland vice would be deferred until Monday.

Two arrests last night were on re-indictments of men first charged months ago—Frank J. Malloy, 44, Teamster Union business agent, and Raymond J. Roadnight, city policeman.

There was no hint whose names were on the remaining indictments. There was no comment, either, on when they might be served.

Interest in the current grand jury was heightened by return from Washington of mayor Terry Schrunk. He was closeted with the grand jurors for several hours Thursday and again for more than two hours yesterday.

In Washington he was charged with, and denied, picking up a gambler's $500 bribe when he was sheriff.

This question of the bribe is believed to have been explored by two previous grand juries. Neither brought in any word against the mayor.

However, Malloy was indicted earlier as he was yesterday in what the grand jury called a conspiracy by the Teamsters Union to take over the Oregon pinball industry. He was charged with both extortion and conspiracy to extort and went free on $2,000 bond.

In addition to the indictments here, Malloy was cited for contempt in his refusal to answer questions before the Senate subcommittee probing labor racketeering.

Roadnight is one of several Portland policemen indicted last summer on a charge they lied when they told the grand jury they had not offered a bribe to another policeman to overlook certain gambling operations. The specific charge is swearing falsely, a misdemeanor.

Roadnight's arrest last night was on a re-indictment covering the same ground as that of last year. He posted $1,000 bond.

A number of those indicted last summer were re-indicted a month ago to correct technical flaws in the original charges.

Absentee Voting Going Slow Here

Absentee voting is in progress on two elections to be held here early in April and will begin in slightly more than a week on another.

Scheduled April 2 is the city council election for three places in Snyder, as well as the special Senate election to select a U. S. Senator to fill the place vacated by Gov. Price Daniel.

On April 6, school board elections will be held in the various school districts in this area. Absentee voting will be open March 27, the day following the deadline for filing names for candidacy.

Absentee voting will end at midnight March 29 in the Senate election and the city election. So far there has been only light voting in the two.

In the city election, there is no contest, with the three incumbents being the only candidates. They are Hollis Fields, Jim Mixon, and G. W. Parks, Jr.

So far, there have been three names filed in the Snyder school board race. They are those of E. H. (Ab) Williamson and Dr. Wilton N. Jones, incumbents, and R. M. Phillips.

In all the school board elections in this area, the filing deadline is March 26. To be placed on the ballot, a person's name must be filed by the petition of at least five qualified voters of the district. For the Snyder board, petitions must be filed with Hardy Scarborough, school tax assessor-collector, while those for the three other districts in this county must be filed with Edgar Taylor, county judge.

Economy Talk May Hit School Plans

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today that "to a certain extent" he believed the current wave of economy talk in Congress had hurt chances for President Eisenhower's school construction bill.

Smith, chief administration spokesman on the issue in the Senate, also told a reporter that, contrary to Republican hopes, it appeared his branch was going to let the House act first on the measure.

GOP leaders said early in the 1957 session they hoped the House could carry the ball first on civil rights this year, while the Senate led off with the school measure.

But Smith said it now appeared this was contrary to the wishes of the Democratic leadership so far as schools were concerned.

Sen. Hill (D-Ala), chairman of the Senate Labor Committee which handles school legislation, confirmed he had no plans to start hearings until the House sends over a bill.

"The Senate has passed school bills by overwhelming votes several times, bills which provided money for operations as well as construction, only to see them die in the House," Hill said.

The school construction measure died last year after an antisegregation amendment sponsored by Rep. Powell (D-NY) was tied to it. Then a combination of Southern Democrats and Republicans defeated it.

Smith said he was sure there would be "foot dragging" on the bill this year because of widespread concern over Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget. But he said he had not given up hope on it.

Eisenhower asked Congress to approve $1,300,000,000 in grants to the states for school building over a four-year period; the bill also contains features designed to help school districts borrow money.

Driver Education Is Urged By Officials

AUSTIN, March 16 (AP)—The Texas Assn. of School Boards said today a poll it took shows 92 per cent of local school officials favor making driver education a part of the minimum school program.

The Association said it queried 300 local school boards and superintendents about their opinions on pending legislation.

Ike Keeping Up His Golf

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER AT SEA, March 16 (AP) — President Eisenhower is not a man to be denied his golf, even while crusing the Atlantic Ocean.

The President is aboard the Navy cruiser Canberra on a leisurely voyage to Bermuda. Today he got plenty of the warm sun his doctors had ordered.

So while the big warship meandered in the Bahama Islands area southeast of Florida, the Canberra's crew set up a golf driving net for Eisenhower on the main deck.

McLaughlin Infant Dies

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St John's Episcopal Church for James Michael McLaughlin, one-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark McLaughlin, 2508 Thirty-fifth Street.

The child died at 11:30 a.m. Friday in an Abilene hospital, where he had been since Feb. 26. The child was born Feb. 12 here.

The Rev. Donald Hungerford, vicar, will officiate at services. Burial will be in Elmwood Memorial Park in Abilene under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

The family has asked that friends, instead of sending flowers, make contributions to the American Heart Association.

Survivors include the parents, paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. David O. Johnson of San Antonio.

Reds Blast Economic Union

MOSCOW, March 16 (AP) The Soviet Union today denounced the plans of six West European nations for economic union and an atomic energy pool as "an attempt to deepen the divisions between East and West."

It proposed that both projects be abandoned, and instead that all the nations of Europe attend a conference to consider greater economic and atomic cooperation.

The Soviet move came only nine days before West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg are to sign treaties setting up a common market and the atomic pool, called Euratom—two big steps toward their cherished dream of a United States of Europe.

Russia charged Euratom and the common market "serve the interests of those circles in the West which seek to rearm the revenge seekers in West Germany with nuclear weapons." It said the groupings "would be subject to the aims of NATO, whose aggressive nature is known to everyone."

On the other hand, the Soviet government said, all-European cooperation in economic and nuclear fields would "contribute to the liquidation of international tensions.

But the Russians declined to be drawn out about whether their proposed conference would do any more than consider closer cooperation. Notes sent to the Western European governments and the United States said the conference should take up:

1. An all-European system of cooperation in the construction of large hydroelectric power schemes.

2. Cooperation in developing fuel energy reserves to support the industries of participating countries and to keep their fuel supplies balanced.

3. Measures for improving trade between all European states.

4. Plans for rendering mutual economic and financial aid.

Complete agreement on the European common market and Euratom treaties was announced only last Saturday. They have been submitted to the six governments for ratification and are scheduled to be signed March 25, probably in Rome.

Euratom provides for sharing of atomic know how, nuclear raw materials and installations to produce atomic power for peacetime uses along the lines of Western Europe's coal and steel community.

Leaders of the six nations feel the common market eventually will wipe out all economic barriers between them, bringing about the sharing of capital and common wage scales throughout the area. It begins with an agreement gradually to lower tariff barriers within the area and erect a common tariff wall toward other countres.

Blakey Is Named Jaycee President

Charlie Blakey, accountant with Deffebach-Yorgesen Agency, was electered president of the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce by acclamation at the Friday luncheon of the club.

Blakey succeeds Mel Zane Gilbert, who has been president of the Jaycees for the past year. Installation of the new president and other newly elected officers will be held in the annual installation banquet of the Jaycees in the West Elementary School Cafeteria here next Friday night.

Charles Hooser was elected vice president, and succeeds Hershel Hinshaw. Ernest Sears was also a nominee for office of vice president.

Sears, who was later nominated for the office of second vice president, was elected to that post. Doug McGlaun was the other nominee for second vice president.

Jack Nesbitt was elected secretary by acclamation to succeed Lee Pitman, and Howard Milburn was elected treasurer by acclamation to succeed Billy Bob Hardee.

Three new directors were also elected. They are Arthur Blanchard, F. G. Hoefer, and Dr. Robert H. Hargrove. They were elected for terms of two years each, to succeed retiring directors Gene Thompson, Doug McGlaun and Bob Dawson. Holdover directors with one more year to serve are Bob Littlefield, James McClure and Charlie Blakey. Gilbert, as immediate past president, will be a member of the board of directors and a member of the board of directors of the state Jaycee organization. He succeeds Steve Birdwell to those posts.

The installation banquet Friday night will be unique for such banquets in that no speaker will appear. Instead entertainment will be provided by the Snyder High School stage band. The only formalities planned are the actual installation ceremonies which will be conducted by Buddy Gray, Ballinger, a state vice president.

The director post vacated when Blakey resigned from the board Friday will be filled in a future election by the club.

FOR FREEDOM-LOVING PEOPLE

More Surplus Shipments Urged

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP) — Congress was urged tonight to give government officials a freer hand to ship farm surpluses behind the Iron Curtain to advance "the aspirations of freedom loving peoples."

The recommendation, by the National Planning Assn., was made public by a special Senate committee studying the foreign aid program. The report came in the midst of talks between U. S. officials and a Polish delegation seeking farm products and financial aid.

A second report by the same association, released simultaneously, said that the cost of all foreign aid, seen in "the perspective of the economy as a whole" has been "relatively small."

H. Christian Sonne, chairman of the association's board of trustees, said it was up to Congress to determine whether foreign aid spending is justified on policy grounds, since the reports did not aim to settle such questions.

The first report recommended a number of changes in the surplus agricultural disposal programs, and declared:

"The administrators of the program should be free to make disposal agreements with Iron Curtain countries when and if there vance the aims and aspirations of is an opportunity thereby to ad-freedom-loving peoples."

It added:

"With increasing signs of unrest in Soviet-dominated countries, it may prove useful to give the administrators of the programs additional freedom of action in this respect."

President Eisenhower told his news conference last week that if government negotiators decide aid to Poland was in this country's interest he would ask Congress to examine the question and consider legal changes.

The National Planning Assn., a Washington private, nonprofit research organization of economists, said that during the period between 1948 and 1955, the United States provided approximately 43 billion dollars of economic and military aid around the world.

The Senate committee is assembling studies to guide its consideration of the $4,400,000,000 foreign aid program the administration is asking for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Weather Blesses The Irish

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP) — Weather as glorious as old Ireland itself blessed New York's sons of Erin today as they set forth upon their gigantic annual St. Patrick's Day parade up green-striped Fifth Avenue.

Hundreds of thousands of spectators — all Irishmen, naturally, since all New York turns Irish on this day—jammed sidewalks and windows to watch their fellow countrymen stepping jauntily to the tunes of bands and pipers.

The celebrated Irish luck never was greater. A miserably dark, clammy and rainy spell yesterday and last night gave way to brilliant sunshine right from the crak o' dawn today.

And by the time the big march got under way at noon the temperature had risen to 54 degrees and still was going up.

Spectators poured into town hours ahead of time and all but swamped areas bordering Rockefeller Center and St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Ah, but 'twas an occasion to gladden the heart of man, woman and child.

Springlike apparel blossomed everywhere, always, of course, with appropriate touches of green —the festive green hats, the shamrock, the green tie.

On the steps of St. Pat's was Francis- Cardinal Spellman, waring a sprig of green shamrock on his chest.

From 44th St., where the parade began, to 96th, where it' ended, they were all there—all true-green Irishmen, though their names be Kelly, Kohn, Kosciusko or Kirsch. For what does it matter? Everyone began his name with an "O" today.

In the reviewing stand with Mayor Robert F. Wagner was Robert Briscoe, the first Jewish lord mayor of Dublin. If that didn't make it official, nothing would.

Sinatri Is Subpoenaed To Testify

LOS ANGELES, March 16 (AP)—Frank Sinatra and 16 other persons have been subpoenaed to testify Tuesday at an inquiry into a bungled private detective raid on an apartment house where Marilyn Monroe was staying.

Deputy Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzi said the county grand jury will try to determine whether the raid constituted felonious conspiracy to commit a misdemeanor, such as trespass or malicious mischief.

He said the jury also will consider whether previous testimony on the raid contains perjury.

At a recent State Senate committee hearing on private detective practices, private eye Philip Irwin testified the raid was staged in November 1954, to obtain divorce evidence against Miss Monroe for exbaseball star Joe diMaggio, her former husband. She had been given an interlocutory decree shortly before, but it takes a year for California divorces to become final.

Irwin also testified that Sinatra took part in the raid and was among the men who mistakenly entered the apartment of Mrs. Florence Kotz Ross, thinking it was the one in which Miss Monroe would be found.

The singer testified, however, he was outside in his car when the raiders entered the apartment.

Miss Monroe and DiMaggio have not been subpoeaned to testify at Tuesday's hearing, but the district attorney's office said they have been "invited" to appear.

Error Holds Up Signing Of Measure

AUSTIN, March 16 (AP)—A key water program bill is on Gov. Price Daniel's desk for signature, but an error is holding it up.

Rep. Leroy Saul of Kress, Water Conservation Committee chairman, said "It's in trouble, but not bad trouble." He said an important word was unintentionally left out.

"It will not change the meaning of the bill as we explained it to the people, but could cause trouble if not corrected," Saul said.

The bill would allow the State Board of Water Engineers to cancel certified filings and water permits or portions not used for 10 years.

Water experts have predicted the bill would cure "75 per cent of the state's water problems.'

It is one of the major measures introduced in the Legislature by the Water Resources Committee.

Saud said the error was leaving out the word "filing" after the word "certified" in the bill. The certified filling is the old-time water permit issued prior to 1913 The proposed bill would not affect certified filings held by cities.

Saul said he would introduce a resolution Monday to get the error corrected. This would allow Daniel to sign the bill into law. Daniel has spoken in favor of the measure.

"Overall, I think our water program is going good," Saul said.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, with Saul the legislature's leaders on the Water Resources Committee, has supported the water legislation in the Senate.

During the week, the Senate passed a bill to put the 200 million dollar reservoir construction aid plan into action.

Both houses have passed the proposed constitutional amendment which would create the program to allow cities, towns and other political subdivisions to borrow money from the state. The state would loan up to one-third the cost of the project or up to 5 million dollars, whichever is smaller. A conference committee must work out the quirks.

Art Treasure To Be Sold

ROME, March 16 (AP)—Ex-King Farouk said today he has learned President Nasser's government plans to auction off to the highest bidders the golden treasures of Tut-Ankh-Amen, a Pharoah of the 14th Century B. C.

He told newsmen such a sale would be "a crime against the Egyptian people" and appealed to art lovers not to buy.

Heavy golden vessels, a gold death mask and a gorgeous coffin richly wrought in gold are among the treasures of the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen—popularly known in the west as King Tut. The tomb, cut in the Nile River cliffs, was unearthed by British archaeologists in 1922. Most of the treasures have reposed since in the National Musem in Cairo.

Shipyard Workers In Britain Strike

LONDON, March 16 (AP) — Britworkers—key employes in manuworkers walked out today in a strike that threatened to spread through key manufacturing industries employing up to three million men.

The crippling labor disputes—the worst in Britain since the general strike of 1926—burst upon Prime Minister Harold Macmillan just five days before his Bermuda conference with President Eisenhower opening next Thursday.

Macmillan called in Labor Minister Iain MacLeod for a conference this morning. Then he worked with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Chancellor of the Exchequer Peter Thorneycroft on preparations for the Bermuda talks.

Leaders of the 40 unions in the Engineering Unions called out the shipmakers to support demands for a 10 per cent pay increase.

The CSEU at the same time ordered a strike for next Saturday among the nation's engineering workers—key mployes in manufacturing industries such as machine tools, aircraft, automobiles, electrical equipment and heavy machinery. They also demand a 10 per cent pay increase.

Ike prolonged, the shipyard strike could have a disastrous effect on the nation's economy.

Labor's disgruntlement stemmed from a steady rise in the cost of living under the Conservative government and persistent friction between management and unions, marked by charges and counter-charges of highhandedness and clumsy leadership on both sides. Among the British people as a whole, there was subdued anger against both management and the unions for allowing a strike to develop while Britain is fighting for economic survival.

Nixon Gets Report On Italian Reds

ROME, March 16 (AP)—Vice President Nixon arrived in Rome for a springtime good-will visit today. Within hours he was told next year's elections will be "very crucial" for the Italian government in its battle to beat back a mounting Communist challenge in the impoverished south.

Traffic stopped a half dozen times on Rome's ancient streets as the U. S. vice president, smiling broadly, demonstrated the handshaking technique which has helped make him a political success back home.

"Viva Nixon," cried out hundreds of spectators as, ringed by American and Italian security people, he plowed into crowds grasping outstretched hands.

Nixon was brought face to face with the facts of Italian political life during a call on Giovanni Leone, president of the Chamber of Deputies, Italy's lower house. Nixon asked about the moderate Italian government's political prospects in nationwide elections next spring. Leone told him of a big Communist campaign to win votes in the south, now that the Reds have lost political strength in the industrial north.

On arriving from Africa aboard his special Air Force plane, Nixon lauded the Italian government for standing "side by side" with the United States in seeking to settle many critical foreign relations problems in the postwar years.

Prime Minister Antonio Segni, who led a welcoming delegation at Ciampino Airport, hailed Nixon as "the authoritative representative of a great country, our friend and ally, and the foremost collaborator of President Eisenhower."

Nixon's reception from sophisticated Romans, who have seen hundreds of distinguished visitors, started out slowly, but picked up steam during the afternoon when Nixon began his round of calls.

He halted his motorcade four times to get out and shake hands with surprised Italians, who are not used to the informal political campaigning technique which Nixon also employed during his 16-day visit to Africa.

Ceremonies Are Slated

DENVER, March 16 (AP)—Extraction of oil from shale by private industry—which may foreshadow major development for the west—will be demonstrated in Western Colorado May 18, Gov. Steve McNichols announced today.

Governors of 11 states, Undersecretary Thomas Gates, Jr., of the Navy Dept. and a delegation of congressmen are being invited to attend the ceremony at the Valley, Colo., Plant of Union Oil Co. of California.

The plant, a company spokesman said, represents about a four million dollar investment by the company in an effort to extract oil from the dry, light brown and black rock at a price competitive with petroleum from wells. It is one phase of an eight-million dollar program by the firm to tap oil in the shale.

The Bureau of Mines formerly operated a test plant at Rifle, Colo., about 10 miles airlines from the Union Oil Plant and on the same mountain. It now is in the hands of the Navy and is on a standby basis. The new plant is about 12 miles north of U.S. Highway 6.

Governors invited include those of Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Ike Helping In Move To Cut Budget

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today President Eisenhower is cooperating in efforts to make congressional budget cuts stick.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told reporters Eisenhower has been alertd to the practice by which government departments whose budgets have been cut often get the money back later through "supplemental" appropriations, which attract little attention.

"Congress is going to tighten up on these 'supplemental' requests," Knowland said. "This matter has been discussed at the White House conferences with the President. The executive branch has been asked not to approve such requests except where they are absolutely necessary."

Knowland had predicted Congress will cut about two billion dollars out of Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget. He said he is interested in seeing that this reduction stands and is not washed out later in the year.

Beyond saying that Eisenhower had agreed to cooperate to stop these "leaks," Knowland declined to go into details.

However, it was learned from other sources that at last week's Cabinet meeting — which Eisenhower said was wholly devoted to budget discussion — department heads were told to clamp down on back-door requests for funds which would nullify economies Congress voted earlier.

Eisenhower has said he is willing to re-examine his budget — and in fact has executive agencies at work on this now — but that Congress can make substantial reductions in his spending estimates only if it slows down or abandons programs it already has authorized.

Knowland predicted, meanwhile, that the Senate will make no substantial changes in a House bill which would continue corporation taxes at their present 52 per cent level and retain the Korean War increases in excise levies.

Some Rain May Fall

By The Associated Press

Gray Clouds piled up over most of Texas Saturday bringing hopes for weekend rains.

The Weather Bureau said scattered showers could be expected in all parts of the state except West Texas Saturday night and Sunday.

Continued mild temperatures were forecast.

A rain on the Rio Alamo and light rains on other streams below Falcon Dam has increased the flow of the Rio Grande at Rio Grande City to 1,900 cubic feet per second.

Special Water Master Kenneth M. Smith of McAllen said the inflow would be enough to take care of the needs of cities in the Valley and releases of water from the dam still were off Saturday.

Cage Says He's Natural Scapegoat In ICT Probe

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 16 (AP)—Texas businessman BenJack Cage blamed what he called the "personal animosity of a few people" today for connecting him with the collapse of the ITC Insurance Co.

Committees of the Texas Legislature are investigating the failure of the firm. Cage, in Brazil on business, denied responsibility for the collapse in an interview at the Copacabana Palace hotel.

He said he would be happy to testify before any official body, but his business might prevent accepting an invitation to testify before the committee April 10.

"The personal animosity of a few people identified with the labor management of the ICT Insurance Co. have made me a natural scapegoat for their troubles," he said.

Cage refused to identify the persons but he said the management that took over the company when he was ousted a year ago was trying to "vindicate themselves."

Cage said he had nothing to do with the company, which is made up of union groups, in the past year. Until he was ousted, he said, ICT had a clean bill of health. He said any problems facing the company afterward were due to the management which took over from him.

"From published reports and letters to stockholders," he said, "it is of record that the company underwent an official convention examination by examiners representing approximately 3 states. Letters from the present management and published newspaper ads stated that the report on the company was favorable.

"In addition, the company was relicensed by the State of Texas for 1956. I certainly had no reason to doubt the accuracy or thoroughness of the examiner representatives of the National Assn. of Insurance Commissioners."

Cage said the company failed because the new management group failed to carry out the long range plans he started.

"One of the reasons for failure of the company was the fact that after my management ended my plans already in progress for expansion of the company as a group were reversed," he said. "This reversal was done in favor of a drastic retrenchment and individual development by each company (ICT subsidiaries) without regard to concerted action."

Cage said he wanted to emphasize that charges that he utilized a heavy expense account and made poor investments with ICT money were untrue. He said expenses and "all promotion" were done with funds of his own Jack Cage & Co.

As a specific example, he said, $850 that was spent to obtain an option on actress Anita Ekberg several years ago was the money of his own firm.

He said this was before Miss Ekberg was under contract and that he had hoped to get her a television spot but "time didn't permit me to capitalize."

The money for the Ekberg option and other promotion investments, he said, came from the 15 per cent commission paid Jack Cage & Co. by ICT and commissions from other companies. He said the 15 per cent commission on premiums is average for a management company such as his.

Miss Ekberg and her husband, actor Anthony Steel, passed through Rio this week but Cage said he did not see her.

Cage said Texas Sen. Charles Herring, the committee chairman, invited him to appear April 10 and offered to pay his plane fare.

"I'll be glad to discuss this with any official body upon my return," he said. "Obviously I have a job and I have to make a living. If business conditions permit, I will go to Texas before April 10. If not it will be later.

"All the records are in their possession. I have been out of touch with the records for more than a year."

Cage said he was in Brazil surveying the possibility of establishing a fiberglass plant.

"My plans on the fiberglass plant are in a preliminary stage and I prefer not to talk about them now," he said. "I am not at liberty to name my associates."

SAFETY AWARDS—For the second time in the past 30 months, the Snyder district of the Western Co., has won a one-year safety award for establishing a 12-month record without a loss-of-time accident. The period for which the above award was presented was from Dec. 4, 1955 to Dec. 4, 1956. The award was presented by Walter Beadle, right, vice president and operations division manager for Western Co., to Charles A. Butler, center, district manager of the Snyder district. Cyrus H. Helm, left regional manager, added his congratulations. Approximately 50 employes averaging 60 hours per week working time established the record. They and their wives were guests at the awards banquet.

For Awhile He Was Miler Of The Age

MANCHESTER, England, March 16 (AP)—For a brief moment last night Ken Wood was the miler of the age. His announced clocking of 3:37.4 made him an immortal with seconds to spare.

Then somebody realized the runners on the indoor banked track had miscounted their laps. Hours after the race there was still confusion on just how far Olympians Wood, Brian Hewson and Derek Ibbotson had raced.

Some said they ran 128 yards short of a mile. Others said the distance was 70 yards short.

Letters Pouring Into Capital Asking To 'Cut That Budget'

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Bulging mail bags crammed with calls from the folks back home to "cut that budget" are piling into many a congressional office.

Some people want economy only if it doesn't apply to their favorite programs.

But the general run of merchants, housewives, laboring men, Republicans, Democrats — people of every description — are setting up a howl that the Eisenhower administration's record peacetime budget of 72 billion dollars is too big and taxes are too high.

Peppered through their letters, an Associated Press survey discloses, are such adjectives as scandalous, wasteful, exorbitant, lavish, wild, disgusting, fantastic, silly, New Dealish.

Citizens of Centralia, Mo., even set up a campaign to send shirts off their backs to Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee. Cannon diverted the shirts to the Budget Bureau.

"Tear that budget down," a constituent urges Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who is inclined that way himself.

Some letter writers draw a direct bead on President Eisenhower.

Said an Omaha, Neb., man: "I expected Ike to come out with a solid program but he stubbed his toe and will make the New Deal look like a dirty dime."

An Enid, Okla., man wrote that he and his wife have been solid Republicans and enthusiastic Ike supporters but "in his budget message I am overwhelmed at his attitude which seems to be about as New Dealish as it can get."

Among congressional constituents who become specific, some want reductions in school and highway programs. A few would whittle away at national defense, which takes about $2 out of every $3 the government spends. More than anything else, they call for a slash in foreign aid.

It seems to be spontaneous rather than inspired—no form letters or printed postcards with some organization behind them. Yet here and there, members seem to think the letters do reflect to some extent budget trimming efforts of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

The complaints about the budget don't stop with Capitol Hill. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey is getting them too—some 1,700 letters since Eisenhower handed the budget to Congress two months ago today.

Humphrey's office says this represents the biggest public response on any question during the secretary's four years in the Cabinet.

About two thirds of the letters are from women, with a strong representation of schoolteachers, farm families, retired persons and others with fixed incomes.

One thing is sure. What with all the surge of sentiment from the grass roots, Washington is about as steamed up over economizing as it ever has been. Eisenhower says he is all for economy. So do members of his Cabinet. Members of Congress are pouring out speeches and statements on the subject. And the House has shaved a little off all the appropriations bills it has passed this year. (So far no money bill has reached the Senate floor.)

Deep Well Drilling Richer In Experience Than Profit

HOUSTON, March 16 (AP)— Oil operators have had fairly good luck in drilling deep wells but many ventures have become more valuable in experience than in profits.

Since 1938 U.S. operators have drilled 409 wells 15,000 feet or deeper. Producing wells have totaled 198. This is a 48 per cent average that holds up very well against industry-wide figures. The industry last year drilled 58,850 wells of all types and had completions on 62 per cent.

The deep well survey by the Petroleum Engineer magazine says the 150 wells drilled 15,000 feet and below last year offer a glimpse of great potentials but emphasize great costs. The magazine said good prospects in offshore areas offer a possibility average costs can be lowered.

The average cost of the 150 wells was $667,000. The cheapest well cost $200,000, the most expensive $2,550,000.

The well that cost $2,550,000 was drilled to a world record depth of 22,570 feet in Louisiana's Plaquemines Parish. Production began in January at 260 barrels daily at 20,745 feet, also a record.

"In itself it can never pay out, but the fact that it has been done opens a new depth horizon," the magazine said.

The oil industry gained much information from the Plaquemines Parish well but many, many years of steady production would be needed for the operator, Richardson & Bass, to recover its investment.

The nation's oil fields producing from 15,000 feet jumped last year from 10 to 23. Deep well operations brought in three new fields in Louisiana and one in Oklahoma. Eight old Louisiana fields also began producing below 15,000 feet for the first time.

Petroleum Engineer believes some of the 23 fields offer prospects sufficient to call for more development wells than at any time in the past.

The magazine said the drilling boom in offshore areas, where geologists have predicted deep production, indicates increased activity below 15,000 feet.

McCarthy Ties Cut

HOUSTON, March 16 (AP)—The last tie between oilman Glenn McCarthy and the 18 million dollar Shamrock Hotel he opened eight years ago on St. Patrick's Day ended today.

McCarthy moved his swank Cork Club from the hotel, now the Shamrock Hilton, to new quarters on the ground floor of an office building 20 blocks away.

Although an insurance company took over management of the hotel in 1951, McCarthy continued as president until the purchase by Conrad Hilton two years ago. McCarthy then continued only as president of the Cork Club. The club's lease, however, expired today.

Shamrock Hilton officials plan to convert the Cork Club area and added space into an international club.

Forfeiture Case Decided By Jury Here

A county court jury Friday turned down an attempt by a Lamb County man to have a bond forfeiture here set side.

He was J. B. Davis, who with his bondsmen, two other Lamb County men, asked that a $500 bond forfeited in court last September when he failed to appear in court on a charge of driving while intoxicated be reinstated.

Davis, represented by attorney Billy Hall of Littlefield, claimed he was plysically unable to appear in court on the day of the trail. The state, represented by District Attorney Wayland Holt, then county attorney, and County Attorney George Killam, contended that Davis' trail had been put off until that time and that he had said during the week of the trial that he would be ready for trial on the day the case was set.

The jury found that Davis was able to appear and upheld the forfeiture, which had been made by County Judge Edgar Taylor.

Davis' attorney gave notice of appeal.

The jury was composed of Frank G. Welch, H. D. Holmes, E. J. Vineyard, Mrs. Ruby Benson, J. W. Layne, Jr., and Mrs. Lou Etta Turner.

The Davis case ended the term of court, which had lasted all last week.

AFTER NASSER

Here's Another Kick For Dulles

By INEZ ROBB

The current Ides of March find both John Foster Dulles and Dag Hammarskjold in a pretty pickle. These gentlemen must be at their wit's end today to discover further ways and means to appease that naughtly boy, Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser, the updated serpent of the Nile.

First, they let Nasser — such a cutup! — kick them in the rear. Then they turned around and offered him their teeth, which he converted into a point after touchdown. And his foot is still itching.

So let us not be surprised if Dulles offers to build the $1.3 billion Aswan dam if Nasser will only be good. Nor should we be disconcerted if Hammarskjold promises to disband not only the United Nations Emergency Force but to disband the United Nations as anything more than a debating society.

Indeed, if Hammarskjold orders the withdrawal of the United Nations forces from the Gaza Strip (save a handful to supervise the demarcation lines between the strip, the Sinai frontier and Israel), as Nasser demands, the Secretary General will be relieved of the necessity of ordering the reduction of the United Nations to the status of an International Chowder and Yakking Society. His action will have automatically accomplished this purpose.

In fact, Hammarskjold began the effective reduction of the United Nations as an instrument of action and its descent into a discussion group by his refusal last autumn to use either his own inherent powers or those of the United Nations in the pitiful Hungarian situation.

The timid (and that's putting the best face on it) and impotent behavior of the United Nations and its Secretary General in the Hungarian crisis, abetted by the United States which has no foreign policy of its own, has now lead to the impasse in the Middle East.

Does the world really need Middle Eastern oil so badly that honor is not too high a price to pay? Or do I merely reveal my age when I prate of honor? Is not too high a price to pay? Is the Suez Canal so vital that it makes tolerable the taste of boot polish to the U.N. and the U.S.?

It is one woman's opinion that the Western world, which so brilliantly solved the blockade of Berlin, could solve the blockade of Suez if it would utilize, as in the Berlin, instance, initiative, intelligence, imagination and guts.

There is ample oil for Western Europe in other parts of the world. The problem is getting it where it is needed. The problem of Berlin was getting supplies where they were needed, too. And the West solved it.

The oil situation may take a little longer, but it can be done if there is will and courage. The solution will require sacrifice. But surely this is preferable to perpetual groveling in the sand to a tinpot dictator.

So far, the West, led by the U.N. and the U.S., has been too busy appeasing Nasser to put its talent to work to solve the problem he has created. It is obvious that never again will the world be able to rely on safe passage through the Suez. It is high time to write it off and for the Western world to find suitable substitutes.

And while we're about it, what about suitable substitutes for Dulles and Hammarskjold?

Agriculture In Texas Is Nearing Return To Normal

COLLEGE STATION, March 16 (AP)—A return to near normal is the big news in Texas agriculture this week, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today. For the first time in nearly a decade farmers and ranchers vision the possibility of a good season.

"The drought isn't broken yet, but farmers are starting the season with more water in the ground than in about eight years," extension director G. G. Gibson said after a report from district agents.

Field preparation and planting is increasing, ranges and pastures are improving and prospects for a small grain crop are excellent. Some cattle are being removed from grazing to allow small grain to grow and mature for harvest.

For the first time in years cattle are suffering from bloat on lush Central Texas pastures. Stock water in the Rolling Plains is adequate for the first time in at least five years. Childress County reports wheat the best since 1947.

The heavy frost and below freezing temperature about a week ago damaged fruit in blossom, but not as heavy as first thought.

"Cotton planting is about complete in the lower Rio Grande valley and generally up to a good stand. Planting is at peak in the Coastal Bend area. The onion harvest is underway in the valley," Joe Rothe said at Weslaco.

In deep East Texas the freeze did some damage to fruit and tender vegetables, but orchard owners have a chance to make a fair to good fruit crop. General conditions are good for planting early corn, and for pastures and cattle.

"Everything will have to be just right from now on for wheat in the Panhandle to make a crop," Knox Parr said at Amarillo. "Wheat is responding to moisture and more fields are green. Oats and barley are being sowed and onions set in fields. Cattle are being fed. There's very little wind for March."

Far West Texas cattle and sheep are in fair to poor condition as drought-ridden ranges greenup. More rain is needed for continued improvement. Surface moisture is fair and sub-moisture is inadequate. Farmers are preparing irrigated cotton land and irrigated small grain is excellent.

Surface moisture in the South Plains is good in most places, but sub-moisture is needed in nonirrigated sections. Much land preparation is in progress and wheat and winter weeds on ranges are growing.

North Texas frost damage to fruit is reported to run from 15 to 20 per cent. It might be higher on some farms. Crop prospects are the best in a long time, and there's an excellent chance to make a bumper small grain harvest. Livestock feeding continues to decrease as pastures and ranges improve.

Fruit tree damage was reported heavy in Blanco County and surface moisture in the Edwards Plateau is being depleted by high winds even though some scattered showers fell, according to V. G. Young at San Angelo. Sub-moisture is inadequate, but land preparation is underway in most counties.

Planting of corn, grain sorghum and sudan grass will begin in the Gulf Coast area when field conditions permit.

Field work was reported very active in Northeast Texas. All small grain, legumes and pastures are making excellent growth, especially those top-dressed with nitrogen fertilizer.

Tomatoes are being placed in cold frames for hardening before setting in the field and sweet potatoes are being bedded to produce plants.

The Rolling Plains' surface moisture good for the first time in many years, however, subsoil still needs moisture. Grain is making excellent growth and land is being prepared for planting. He said Childress County wheat is reported the best since 1947, and that stockwater supplies are adequate for the first time in many years. Ranges have improved and feeding and marketing of livestock have decreased.

A variety of weather has meant further improvement in Central Texas, especially in the Eastland, Comanche, Goldthwaite section. Farming operations are increasing as corn is being planted. Frost damaged tender vegetation and the peach crop, in full bloom, suffered some damage. Bloat of cattle has been reported in some lush pastures in the eastern part of Central Texas, and ranges in the western part are improving.

Texas May Lose Acreage

ABILENE, March 16 (Spl) — West Texas will lose approximately 150,000 acres of cotton allotment acreage in 1958 if House Resolution 5686 is adopted, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce said today.

The proposed bill would change the present method of calculating cotton acreage allotments from being figured on a basis of the cotton planted in the various counties during the five years immediately preceeding the national allotment to only three years immediately preceeding the national allotment.

The WTCC estimates that Scurry and surrounding counties would lose approximately 3,400 actual allotted acres under the proposed three year history method of calculation.

The WTCC expressed keen opposition to the proposed bill, explaining that the effects of the drouth are still being detrimental to the region's economy and the proposed bill would do additional and irreparable damage to the region's economy.

Counties in this area which would lose a minimum of 3,461 acres in acreage allotment include: Baylor, Coleman, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Scurry, Stonewall and Taylor.

Lamesa Hosts Annual Rotary Club Meeting

The Lamesa Rotary Club will be host to an expected 500 Rotarians from all over West Texas at the annual Spring Conference of the Organization April 7-9.

Plans for entertaining, housing and feeding the larger than usual number of members who are expected to attend, are well underway by the local club. Hundreds of rooms are being made available by hotels, motels and private citizens for the influx of visitors.

The planned "Friendship House", set for Sunday afternoon and evening, will be held at the newly completed Lamar Forrest Community Center, in beautiful Forrest Park.

The $40,000 structure, erected with funds obtained by voluntary subscriptions from Rotarians and Lamesans, was turned over to the City of Lamesa upon completion, for use by all the residents of the city.

Several entertaining and interesting sessions have also been arranged for Rotaryanns, wives of members.

Several top speakers in International Rotary will be on hand for the general sessions of the organization. Entertainment will also be sparked by top names in the world of entertainnment.

Members of the housing committee have announced that reservations have already begun to pour in, several requests are being filled daily, and an attendance mark of over 500 persons is almost assured.

Ford Plowing Contest Is Slated Here

Annual plowing contests under sponsorship of Ford implement dealers have been scheduled for the latter part of March and early April.

During that time, county contests will be held.

Here, Floyd Boston and Sid Worrell of Scurry County Tractor Co. will be sponsors of a two-county contest for Scurry and Borden.

Boys who are members of the Future Farmers of America will participate, with each chapter allowed one boy per teacher.

The date of the local contest has not yet been set but will be decided, along with local rules, at a meeting set for agriculture teachers at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Hilander, where they will attend a dinner under sponsorship of the local firm.

The winner of the local contest will go to a district contest, which will be held in April with about 14 counties participating.

District winners will then go to the state finals, which will be held just prior to the state FFA convention at Fort Worth, on July 16. There will be 12 districts represented.

The state winner will be awarded a 1957 Ford tricycle-type tractor, model 740.

Traffic Accidents In State Drop In January

AUSTIN (AP)—Traffic accidents in Texas during January totaled 178 compared to 195 last year.

The Department of Public Safety said today 4,532 persons were injured compared to 5,455 hurt in January, 1956. Property damage totaled $18,744,584 for the month.

Reds Supply Middle East

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 16 (AP)—The Soviet Union is pumping more and more supplies through the Turkish Straits to the Middle East.

Westward Soviet traffic through the narrow Bosporus and the Dardanelles has nearly tripled in the past year. An accurate private check disclosed.

In January and February of 1956 the Russians sent through 44 ships with a gro tonnage of 286,216 tons. In the same months this year the number was 114 ships totaling 725,947 tons.

The increase appears tied to developments in the Middle East. Observers began spotting a notable rise in Soviet tonnages in the midsummer, about the time of Egyptian seizure of the Suez Canal. By November, the time of the British-French attack on Egypt, monthly records were being broken.

By the end of last year 430 Soviet-registered ships had passed through the Straits, compared with 251 in 1955.

Tight Money Now Being Felt On Farms

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The nation's tight money markets are being felt down on the farms.

Some producers are paying 40 per cent more for money for shot-term operating loans than they paid two years ago. Most are paying at least 20 per cent more.

Government finance officials say it is possible — and likely — that interest charges will go even higher this year.

The farmer-owned system of federal land banks — the backbone of the farm mortgage credit system — have found it necessary to raise their once famous 4 per cent annual rate to as much, in some cases, as 6.5 per cent. On a percentage basis, this is a boost of nearly 63 per cent for the maximum increase.

Similar increases have been made by insurance companies, banks and other private lending institutions.

Of course, not all farmer-borrowers are feeling the impact of the increases on their farm mortgage loans. Those who borrowed money before 1955 — the date when demands for loans began to increase in relation to the supply — are continuing to pay the old and lower rates. Their mortgate contracts protect them against increases.

But those who have borrowed since that time are paying higher rates. And those who borrow this year and possibly next may pay even higher rates than those who have secured loans during the past six months.

The Agriculture Department estimated that farmers as a group paid nearly 450 million dollars last year in interest on loans on farm real estate. This amount, which did not include interest charges on nonreal estate loans, was 10 per cent higher than in 1955.

Officials say another 10 per cent increase on such loans is likely this year.

The federal land banks get their money through sale — by the government's Farm Credit Administration — of farm loan bonds. The FCA supervises the land banks and 497 farmer-backed production credit associations, local units which advance short-term farm operating loans to farmers.

As interest rates advanced in the money markets, the FCA found it necessary to pay higher and higher interest rates on these bonds, just as many local government units, such as school districts, have had to pay higher rates on bonds floated for school construction.

Before money supplies became tight, the FCA had been able to sell bonds for interest rates as low as 1.5 per cent a year. In January this year it had to sell bonds at 3.98 per cent. Officials expect the agency will have to pay even higher rates to get additional money before the year is out.

Thus the basic cost of money now being obtained by the land banks is slightly more than 4 per cent. But the amount the banks charge farmer-borrowers must be increased enough to pay the cost of administration of the FCA appraisal fees, and costs of operating the land banks and the production credit associations. These costs average around 1.5 per cent a year.

The latest interest rates charged by the individual banks, all of which a few years ago were able to provide loans at 4 per cent, include: Springfield, Mass., 5.5 per cent; Baltimore, Columbia, S. C., Louisville, St. Louis, New Orleans, St. Paul, Houston and Spokane, all 5 per cent; and Omaha and Wichita 4.5 per cent.

Van Doren Turns Down Easy Money On Program

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Before he was tripped by a relatively easy question, Charles Van Doren made some difficult decisions and came up with the right answers on the quiz program Twenty-One.

Now Van Doren has made the most difficult of many decisions—and come up with the right answer. He's turning down the easy money. He will continue to teach at Columbia University and to work for his doctorate in English literature. He is going to write what he wants to write.

Ever since Van Doren, 31, began winning money on the quiz program, he began winning the esteem and literally the affection of television viewers. He became, as they say, the hottest personality on television in this winter season.

Profitable offers inundated him. They have increased since he was defeated Monday evening by Mrs. Vivienne Nearing when he failed to remember that Baudouin is the King of Belgium. There are offers to deliver lectures in all parts of the country, offers to make recordings, to endorse an amazing array of commercial products, to make guest appearances on all kinds of TV programs.

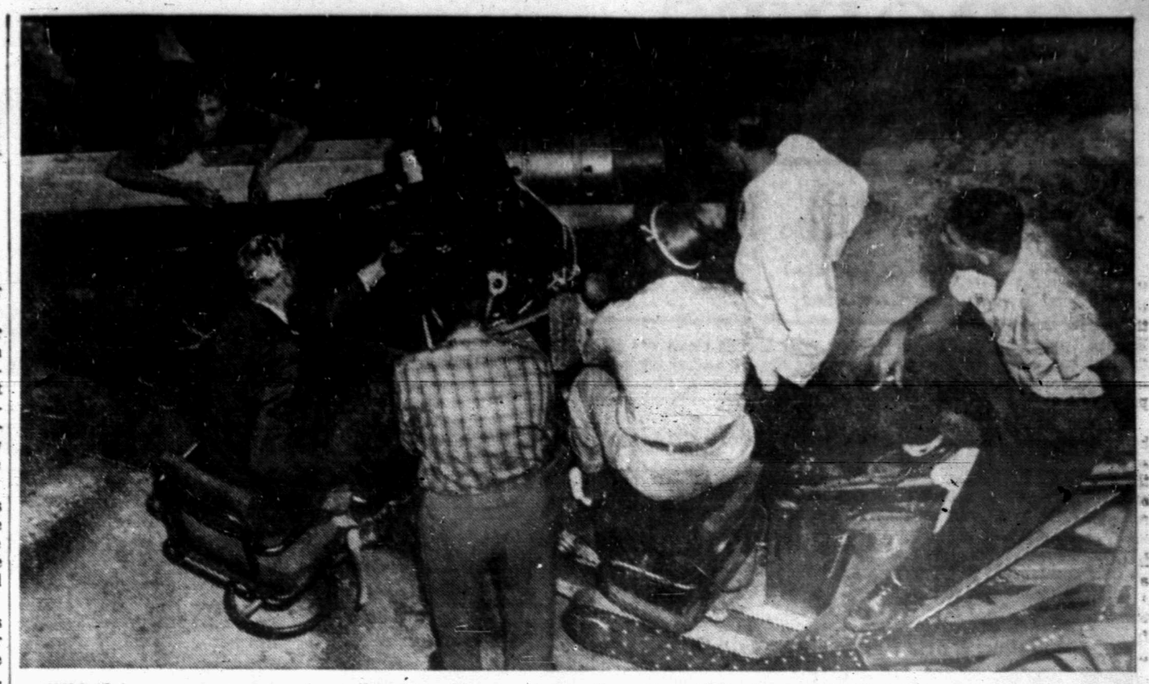

Somebody wants him to start his own television quiz program and somebody else wants him to go to Hollywood. There was a $50,000 screen offer. (That was an easy decision; he turned it down on the telephone.) Being a "personality," Van Doren learned, can be a trying experience.

Very wisely he obtained an agent to handle these complex affairs. Now, says his representative at Music Corp. of America, he "will do nothing that is inconsistent with his career." As of this writing he has turned down every offer—except one. He will appear on NBC radio's Conversation, that excellent program which returns to the air March 21 for a regular Thursday evening series.

For one who earns $4,200 a year as a teacher, it is not easy to turn down offers of thousands of dollars. One might say, "But look at all the money he won on Twenty-One. Actually, his take-home winnings after taxes are unofficially estimated at only $38,000 of the $129,000 he won.

The point is that Van Doren is not trying to trade on his name as a popular quiz contestant. He is going ahead, rather, to make his own name as a teacher and writer.

Scarcely anyone remembers who won a quiz contest a year ago. But a writer and teacher like Charles' father, Mark Van Doren, has an honored and lasting place in the life of America.

THIS IS how moviemen go about "shrinking" actor Jack Arnold in "The Incredible Shrinking Man," shown here being saved from drowning in a drain by a pencil.

Stewart Content In Smaller House

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—James Stewart, one of the all-time top stars of the movies and newly nominated a brigadier general, lives in an English-style home on Roxbury Drive in Beverly Hills.

It is a roomy, comfortable house, but not a mansion by Hollywood standards. It sits side by side with other 30-year-old houses on the tree-shaded street while lesser stars live in homes surrounded by acres of grounds.

After Jimmy and his wife, the former Gloria McLean, bought the house, they stood out in front and gazed at the ivy-covered exterior. "Oh, dear," she gasped, "it looks like a dormitory!"

"Well, isn't it?" Jimmy deadpanned.

For a 42-year-old bachelor, Stewart certainly acquired a family in a hurry. His wife has two boys by a previous marriage, 12 and 11, and the Stewarts have twin girls, Judy and Kelly, nearing 6.

After retakes for his new Western, Jimmy Stewart sat in his den in the late afternoon, nursed a scotch and soda and answered a variety of questions. The answers came slowly and earnestly.

Q—Do you like interviews?

A—Yes, I like them. I wouldn't be going out on a tour for my new picture if I didn't.

Q—What do you do for kicks when you're not working?

A—I like to fly. And I like music. I've got a cabinet full of pop stuff. Also some Elvis Presley and that sort of thing that the kids drive me nuts with. When I had a press conference in Chile a few weeks ago, I happened to remark that I didn't like rock 'n' roll. Well, you'd think I had insulted the whole Chilean republic. I had to backtrack on my statement.

Q—If you didn't act, what do you think you'd do?

A—Probably fly. I'd be an airlines pilot.

Q—When did you get the flying bug?

A—I guess I've always had it. I first learned to fly in 1935 at Mines Field, now Los Angeles International Airport.

Q—What are your favorite pictures?

A—Certainly "The Glenn Miller Story." "Harvey" is a sentimental favorite, maybe because I played it on the stage first. I'm sure even 10 years from now I would pick "The Spirit of St. Louis," because the Lindbergh story is very close to me. I suppose I'm identified with "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" as much as any picture.

Q—Which were your worst pictures?

A—There was "Murder Man," my first. Then "The Last Gangster," "A Miracle Can Happen" and "No Time for Comedy"—even Roz Russell will attest to that one. And then a picture that was the first and last for a poor fellow (Elliott Roosevelt), "Pot of Gold." That was my last before going into the service!

Q—Did you ever take acting lessons?

A—No.

Q—How did you happen to become an actor?

A—I did a little stuff in college (Triangle Club, Princeton). Then I was lucky to hook up with an outfit that included Hank Fonda and Josh Logan (Provincetown Players). When you go on the stage and people say you're doggone good, you know that's what you want.

Q—Do you resent people saying you always play Jimmy Stewart?

A—No, because I AM playing James Stewart. There's nothing wrong with being typed. The bad thing is when you develop a set of mannerisms and rely completely on them.

Q—What do you think of your future?

A—Eventually I'd like to direct. I'd like to use the tools I've developed in my years in the movie business. If I haven't learned enough in all this time, I'd better quit and go back to my father's hardware store.

Corpus Christi Symphony Opens Drive For $65,000

By MARSHALL COMERER
The Associated Press

The Corpus Christi Symphony Society is in a drive to raise $65,000 for its 1957-1958 season.

Society President T. S. Scibienski says the increased budget will improve the orchestra's pay scale and provide for expansion.

Conductor Jacques Singer will return for his fourth season. Guest artists signed for next season are violinist Yehudi Menuhin, the duo piano team of Arthur Whittemore and Jack Lowe, Metropolitan Opera tenor Albert de Costa and pianist Claudio Arrau.

The Abilene Symphony Orchestra, which earlier found itself in financial troubles, now reports its continuance next season seems sure.

The Abilene Symphony Assn. says its fund campaign has brought in $7,000 of the minimum of $10,000 needed to finish this season and start its concert series next fall.

The Dallas Symphony Orchestra recently denied reports that Walter Hendl was planning to leave and said he will again conduct the orchestra next year. He has been granted six weeks off during the season, instead of the customary two, to make guest appearances with other orchestras.

Dallas' State Fair Musicals have lined up four glamorous girls for its summer shows. The revue starring Judy Garland is all but certain for the opening. Patrice Munsel will appear in "South Pacific," Gisele MacKenzie in "Annie Get Your Gun," and Anna Maria Alberghetti in "Rose Marie." The national company of "Fanny" will be the second show. Drunken Policemen

WARSAW, Poland, March 16 (AP)—The newspaper Zycie Warszawy wants something done about drunken policemen. It says they've been attacking innocent persons with clubs recently given them as protection against thugs. The paper also complained that too many policemen, especially in Polish villages, spend their free time drinking and dancing in dives.

Tax Business Is Confusing

DENVER (AP)—This income tax business can get awfully confusing.

Take the fellow who showed up at the Internal Revenue Service office and asked Mrs. Juanita Hammond for help on preparing his return.

She asked his address.

Answer: "well, now . . ."

Mrs. Hammond, not sure she understood, inquired again.

Answer: "Well, now, I'll tell you. I just don't rightly know, but I could sure take you there."

She asked if his name was in the telephone book.

Answer: "No, but I'll tell you what—I'll go home and find out, and be right back."

Mrs. Hammond is still waiting for the man to reappear.

LUBBOCK, Mar. 16 — The only appearance in this area of the Ice Capades, 12th international this year, is scheduled at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum April 2-7.

"The Biggest Show on Ice" is being sponsored by the South Plains Lions Club in cooperation with the American Business Club and Optimist Clubs, with profits going to the Lubbock Boys Clubs.

Advance ticket sales are being kicked off by the combined Lubbock service clubs and many clubs throughout the area. The show will run eight performances in six days, including one matinee on April 6, and two matinee performances April 7.

Club and Ice Capade officials said admission has been kept at a minimum. All seats are reserved, and prices are $1.50, $2, $2.50, and $3. Advance sale tickets to be applied against the purchase of reserved seats are $1.

Ice Capades president-producer John Harris said the large arena in the Lubbock coliseum makes the giant production possible.

Swede Wants Solons To Pay For Party

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Assemblyman Lee M. Backstrand, who says he's a full - blooded Swede, believes the Legislature should pay for its St. Patrick's party itself—not the taxpayers.

Each house has appropriated $500 for the St. Pat's program but Backstrand said he'll pay for the party himself . . . then pass the hat among the lawmakers when the bills are figured up.

The $1,000 in appropriations just wouldn't be spent.

Choose rump, chuck, blade or round for that beef pot roast.

ROCK HUDSON portrays the "flying parson" of two wars, Col. Deon Hess, shown here in a Korean combat scene from Universal-International's "Battle Hymn," which also stars Martha Hyer, Dan Duryea, Anna Kashfi, Jock Mahoney and Don DeFore. Col. Hess became known as the "flying parson" when he left his pulpit in Ohio to become a fighter pilot in World War II. He again vacated his pulpit for the Korean War.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

TIGER PITCHING HAS been short of sensational in the first week of play for the Bengal diamonders.

Only one earned run in three games to date have been charged against the Tiger hurlers. And only five runs have been scored against the Tigers altogether.

The pitchers, as a general rule, usually are ahead of the hitters early in the season but even so the Tiger mound staff has displayed a lot of promise in the early games.

The Tiger hurling corps will get their first biggest test of the season this coming week, when the Black and Golders play five games in as many days. We will find out just how deep the Tigers are in pitching.

There are seven on the Tiger pitching staff but only three have seen action to date. Ronnie Baker, Dwayne Prince and Tim Roberts have each gone the route in the first three Tiger games.

All seven may get into action this week.

Stick Work Promising, Too

The Tiger hitting has looked good, too, considering the earliness of the season. The Bengal batsmen, as a team, posted a .262 average — 22 hits in 84 trips — for the first three games.

This isn't a bad team batting mark to begin with but we feel sure the Tigers will improve on this mark as the season wears on.

Second baseman Joe Reaves has belted the ball well in the first three Tiger outings. Reaves has come up with six hits in 10 trips so far for a .600 average.

And the four times Reaves didn't hit safely he flew out deep to the outfielders. In other words, Reaves has hit the ball to the outfield in every official trip he has made to the plate this year.

Reaves, who led the Tigers in runs-batted-in last year, is off to a good start in repeating this honor. The peppery keystone has six RBI's to his credit already.

Busy Week For SHS Athletes

Well, it's still far too early to predict big things for the Tigers baseballers this season but if the first three games are indicative, the Bengals should have a fine season.

There's 27 more games to be played before getting into bi-district play so the Tigers will just take one game at a time as the season wears on.

This is going to be a busy week for the Snyder High School athletic program.

The Tiger baseballers, play five games, the tennis team and girls volleyball team will each see action three times with the track and golf teams slated for one appearance.

The Tiger baseball team will go to San Angelo Tuesday, play Odessa here Thursday and San Angelo Friday and then play a doubleheader at Big Spring Saturday.

The Tiger tennis team will host Big Spring Tuesday and Hamlin Thursday and then take part in the tournament to be held in connection with the West Texas Relays at Odessa this weekend.

The volleyballers will go to Forsan tomorrow, and then return home to meet Colorado City Tuesday and Sweetwater Thursday.

Both the Tiger track and golf teams are slated for action in the West Texas Relays at Odessa Friday and Saturday.

PLAY TWICE THIS WEEK—The Snyder High School Tigerettes, volleyball team, with the combined Varisrty and "B" teams pictured above, will see action twice this week. Both games are to be played in Tigerette Gym, with the first games here Tusday night when they meet Colorado City teams. The second set of games will feature the Tigerettes "A" and "B" squads facing Sweetwater conterparts here Thursday night. The "B" games will start at 6:30 o'clock and the "A" games at 7:30 o'clock each night. Pictured above, from left, standing: Kay Banks, manager, Betty Morgan, Annette Hock, Patricia Page, Polly Clark, Janelle Moore, Ann Taylor, Blenda Stone, Ann Emerson, Dianne Kerley, Lawanna Row, and Wanda Sue Keen, manager. Tiger Netters In Second Straight Sweep

The Tiger tennis team made their second straight sweep Friday by blanking the Hamlin tennis team, 6-0.

Ronnie Smith, No. 1 singles player, and Rockney Pletcher, the No. 2 man, each won two matches for the Tigers.

Smith defeated Perry Davis of the Pied Pipers, 6-2 and 6-1, and Don Shivers 6-0 and 6-0.

Pletcher won over Davis, 7-5 and then bested Phillip Miller, 6-1.

The other two Tiger wins came in doubles play. Pat Murphy and Danny Tankersley, the No. 1 doubles team, came from behind to down Miller and Shivers of the Pipers, 4-6, 6-2 and 6-3.

Jimmy Crowder and Chuck Warren of the Tigers won over Lynn Wright and Ronnie Dodd, 6-2 and 6-0.

The Tigers will make their home debut Tuesday against Big Spring on the Towle Memorial Park courts. Then the charges of Coach J. P. Ward will host Hamlin Thursday and go to Odessa for a tournament this weekend which is being held in conjunction with the West Texas Relays.

Iba, Jowers Added To Coach School Staff

AUSTIN (AP)—Henry Iba of Oklahoma A&M and Milton Jowers of Southwest Texas State have been selected to instruct in basketball at the Texas Coaching School at Dallas in August.

Naming of Iba and Jowers completed the staff of major instructors for the big clinic scheduled Aug. 4-9. Previously Bud Wilkinson, coach of national champion Oklahoma, and Bowden Wyatt, Wyatt, coach of Tennessee, the nation's No. 2 team last season, were picked to lecture on football.

Oliver Jackson, coach of Abilene Christian College, has been named instructor in track. Elmer Brown, trainer at Texas Christian, will lecture on training methods.

All the instructors selected thus far except Wyatt have previously appeared at the coaching school.

Ropesville Girls Take Cage Crown

AUSTIN, March 6 (AP)—Ropesville, making its second appearance in the girls high school basketball tournament, came from behind in the last half today to down Cooper 64-51 and win the State Class A championship.

Cooper took an early lead and maintained the edge until midway of the third quarter. Leading at halftime 26-23, Cooper blew it in the third period and Ropesville held a 43-38 margin at the end of the quarter.

Once the Ropesville girls got the advantage they never relinquished it, although three times in the last six minutes Cooper pulled to within six points.

Leading scorers for Ropesville were Emma Jane Christopher with 32 points and Yvonne Bevers with 20.

Wilma Strong had 24 points and Bab Janes 21 for Cooper.

The Dimmitt Bobbies took third place in the Conference AA bracket of the tournament by defeating defending champion Angleton, 63-58.

Dimmitt's superior height advantage gave them an early lead and they maintained it throughout the game. Angleton trailed 32-19 at halftime, but out-shot the Bobbies in the second half and narrowed the lead to one point with two minutes to play.

Fouls came at crucial moments, however, giving Dimmitt a chance to insure the victory.

Mikey Pelley led the Dimmit scoring with 26 points, and Joyce Van Sickle scored 23 for the losers.

Roosevelt High of Lubbock and Hawley won semifinals games in the Conference B. division today and meet for the championship tonight.

Roosevelt held off a valiant try by North Hopkins of Sulphur Springs to take a 61 to 52 victory.

North Hopkins inched to within one point of the lead with four minutes to go. Roosevelt's Gloria Gammill hit 10 straight points to salt the game away for Lubbock.

Miss Gammill led with 33 points. Lou Jane Jones was high for the losers with 22.

Roosevelt met Hawley in the championship game at 9 p.m.

Texas, Arkansas Dogs Hold Lead

MEXIA, Tex., March 16 (AP)—Dogs from Texas and Arkansas held the led today after two nights of running in the National Mountain Music Wild Coon Hunt being staged here.

In the lead in the registered division was Bonnie Blue, owned by W. J. Sharp of Pangburn, Ark., with 1,241 points. Well behind was Sampson, owned by Warren Haslouer, Arkansas City, Kan.

Leading in the grande division was Smoky, owned by Maurice Mitchell of Purdon, Tex., with 1,462½ points. In second place was Rowdy, owned by Leo Robert, Bosqueville, Tex., with 1,262½, and third was Jake, owned by Morris Kuehl, Waco, with 1,212½.

The coon hunt finishes tomorrow morning.

Cards Whip Redlegs

TAMPA, Fla., March 16 (AP)—The four-game Grapefruit League winning streak of the Cincinnati Redlegs came to an abrupt halt today as they were tumbled by the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3.

The Cards pounded out 11 hits including a homer by Wally Moon in the second inning with none on.

Tigers Trip Rotan, 9-2, For 3rd Straight Win

The Tiger baseballers put together eight hits and as many enemy errors afield for an easy 9-2 victory over the Rotan Yellowhammers at Towle Memorial Park Friday afternoon.

The win made it three straight for the season for Coach Speedy Moffett's charges and the second straight over Rotan. The Bengals had defeated the same Yellowhammer club Thursday in the the series opener at Rotan, 6-2.

Next on tap for the unbeaten Tigers will be the San Angelo Bobcats who will host the Black and Golders Tuesday. The Tigers will then return home to meet Odessa Thursday and San Angelo Friday at Towle Memorial Park.

The Tigers will close out the week's slate with a doubleheader at Big Spring Saturday.

Tim Roberts, sophomore left hander, hurled the Tigers to victory Friday. Roberts gave up only three hits and one earned run. The young southpaw struck out three and walked only one.

Roberts retired the first eight Yellowhammers to face him before his only free pass broke the spell in the third. The first Rotan hit didn't come until the fourth inning when Bubba Edwards singled left. Edwards then went onto score the first Yellowhammer run after going to second on a passed ball and scoring on a double to right by Ivey.

The Tigers, in the meantime, however, had built up a 7-0 lead before the Yellowhammers scored. Six of the Tiger runs came in the first inning.

Leadoff man Gary Vice opened the Tiger first inning rally by beating out a slow roller down the third base line. Neil Boyd followed with a single and after Dick Hayes went down swinging, Milton Ham singled to right to score Vice for the game's first run.

Joe Reaves, who has led the Tigers at the plate in each of the three games to date, then slammed a double to right center to send Boyd and Ham across with run Nos. 2 and 3. The last three runs in the Tiger first resulted from Rotan miscues.

The Tigers made it 7-0 with a run in the third. Reaves, who had singled and advanced on a wild pitch, scored the thrid inning Tiger marker on a single to left by Tom Falls.

Rotan scored once each in the fourth and fifth innings to cut the Tiger lead to 7-2 but the locals extended their lead to seven runs again by scoring twice in the lower half of the fifth.

Reaves got life on an error by rightfielder George Bridges who dropped Reaves' deep drive after a long run. Reaves swiped second and scored on a double to left by catcher Charles Popnoe. Popnoe then scored the final run of the game on an error.

Reaves, with two-for-three, was the lone Tiger getting more than one hit.

Chance Given For Braves

BRADENTON, Fla. March 16 (AP)—Lou Perini, owner of the Milwaukee Braves, says that "If the Braves get spittin' mad they can win the pennant" this year.

"We've got to get more serious about this thing. The boys will have to be more mean in the field. That's all it takes—more determination," he said after watching the Braves defeat Philadelphia 2-1 in an exhibition game yesterday.

Perini also feels that "more consistent hitting holds the key in the final analysis to our pennant hopes."

"I was never more sure of anything in my life when I said we'd win last year," Perini said, "and I know I never should have been more right.

"We weren't outlucked for it, eighter," he went on. "We just beat ourselves. I can sit down with the boys today and cite countless examples of how we lost it—failure of a bunt here, or a ball rolling up someone's sleeve there."

Cub, Giant Pilots Juggling Lineups

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 16 (AP)—The first week of "Cactus League" play found things progressing just about as expected for the four major league clubs training under the Arizona sun.

The Cleveland Indians were able to win with only the faintest hint of the lineup new Manager Kerby Farrell will assemble to go after the New York Yankees' scalps.

The Baltimore Orioles showed more zip and young blood than any time since Paul Richards took over three years ago. The Oriole pilot, still waiting for his unreported shortstop, Willie Miranda, has been shuffling his players with almost as much ease as Farrell.

But the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs, almost from the word go, have been striving to jell a lineup as soon as possible to determine if things somehow will be a little better than their respective sixth and eighth-place finishes of last year.

Manager Bill Rigney, feeling the heart attack which apparently ended the career of No. 1 Giant catcher, Bill Sarni, has been getting some balm from the great shortstop play of ex-cricket player Andre Rodgers and, of course, from the peerless Willie Mays.

New pilot Bob Scheffing saw his Cubs drop five of their first six games, no great surprise considering their biggest star, hard-hitting shortstop Ernie Banks, was out with an ailing throwing shoulder. Without Banks, the Cubs indeed are something to worry about for Scheffing.

The retirement of Cleveland third baseman Al Rosen has left the Indian infield a jig-saw puzzle which Farrell methodically is trying to fit together.

Third base and shortstop could have new Tribe faces this season and there even could be a change at second if veteran Bobby Avilla stays on the merry-go-round at third.

Shortstop Larry Raines, who batted .309 for Indianapolis last year, could displace Chico Carrasquel, who hit his lowest mark last year, .243, in seven major league seasons. But Farrell intends to give Raines a shot at third base.

Another bright rookie prospect from Farrell's championship Indianapolis club in the American Assn., last year, swift Roger Maris, could be an outfield starter if versatile Al Smith proves the only solution at third base.

There was worry in the Tribe's Tucson camp this week over Vic Wertz, veteran first baseman who made an inspiring comeback from a polio attack last year. Wertz complained of headaches for several days and missed an Indian invasion of the Giant camp at Phoenix. Tribe officials hoped it was from too much sun and no recurrence of his old ailment.

Burke Tied With Cooper

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Pressure putting by Pete Cooper and fine chipping by Jackie Burke Jr., left the two veterans tied for the lead today after three rounds of the $12,500 St. Petersburg Open.

Cooper, one stroke behind Burke at the start of the round, sank a 14-foot birdie putt on No. 18 for his third straight 68 and a 204 total.

Burke, playing in the threesome behind Cooper, was short with his second shot at 18 but threw a neat chip about 30 inches from the cup and holed the putt for a 69.

"I figured I needed that birdie either to tie or take a stroke lead," Jackie said. "I was sure glad to see that chip shot pull up close."

Hottest round of the day—and the tournament—was a seven-under-par 64 by Don January of Abilene, Tex. He rode the best round of his career into a tie for third at 206 with Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa. Wall fired a 69.

Women's Invitational Golf Tourney Slated

PINEHURST, N. C., March 16 (AP)—The 55th annual North and South invitation golf championship for women begins here Wednesday without the defending champion. Pert Marlene Stewart, the Canadian cutie who won last spring, has informed tournament officials that due to her forthcoming marriage she will not be on hand for a title defense.

Wanda Sanches, the tall Baton Rouge, La., runner-up to Miss Stewart, and Wanda's semifinals victim, Anne Quast of Marysville, Wash., are among the more prominent contenders.

Nothing For Willie Mays

TAMPA, FLA., March 16 (AP) — Brooks Lawrence, Cincinnati right-hander, served notice today what the National League pitching fraternity might have in store for Willie Mays this season. It amounts to this. . . give him nothing good.

"If Willie Mays expects to get a good pitch to hit at from me," said Lawrence, "he'd better forget it. I'm not going to give him anything near the plate. He's going to have to work hard for his base hits.

"I'm not going to take any chances with that man. He's the guy who's going to break your back. He's the only one on the New York Giants you've got to really worry about. Who else on that club is going to hurt you?"

Willie drew 68 passes last year, 20 of them intentional, as he slugged 36 home runs on a .296 batting average. Unless the pitchers change their minds, Mays may double his bases on balls this year.

BITTER MEDICINE

The administration of medicine to youngsters often poses problems which only parents can understand. To win co-operation from a finicky child sometimes requires the patience of Job and the persuasion of Paul. The taste of modern pharmaceuticals, however, is greatly improved over the intensely bitter preparations used a few decades ago. Distasteful drugs are carefully masked by sugar-coatings, capsules, syrups, and other pleasing vehicles. To provide medicine in palatable form is the pharmacist's art. This is of primary concern here. Naturally, we cannot guarantee that all prescriptions will be pleasing to the taste, but we do our very best to make them so.

Tigers 3rd In ABC Relays; San Angelo First

Pollard Wins Both Sprints

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

BIG SPRING, March 16—Scoring heavily in the hurdles and sprints for the second straight week, the Tiger tracksters placed third in a field of 33 teams in the 12th running of the ABC Relays here Saturday before an estimated 3,500 fans.

The San Angelo Bobcats overtook Odessa in the final event of the day to capture first place in the high school division. San Angelo, by winning the mile relay, erased Odessa's one-half point lead going into the mile relay which closed out activities for the afternoon.

The Bobcats thus finished with 32 points to 28½ for Odessa. The Tigers came in a strong third with 20 points. The host Big Spring Steers were fourth with 11½ points. The remainder of the points went as follows: Midland and Littlefield, eight each; Dumas and McCamey, seven each; Pampa ifve; Plainview, four; Borger, Monterey, Abilene, Portales, N.M. and Ysleta, three each; Hermleigh and Lovington, N.M., 2½ each; Tom S. Lubbock, two; and Lamesa, one.

The Tigers held one distinction in that they had the only double winner of the day. Bobby Pollard turned in blazing performances to win both sprints, the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Pollard sped the century in 9.8.5, just five-hundreths of a second off the ABC record. Pollard's time was also five-hundreths of a second faster than his time last week in the Canyon Reef Relays which he won in 9.9.

Pollard won the 220-yard dash in 21.6 which missed the ABC record by three-tenths of a second.

Pollard, in winning the two sprints, collected 10 points to rank as the second high point man in the high school division. Mike Ellington, who won or placed in four events, was the high point man with 10½ points.

The other 10 Tiger points came in the two hurdle events where junior Bud Morgan led the way. Morgan amazed the onlookers by breaking the previous ABC record in the 180-yard low hurdles in the preliminaries and then breaking his own record in yesterday afternoon's finals.

Morgan clicked off a 19.8 low hurdle race in the preliminary to break the old record of 19.9. Then in the finals, Morgan breezed home in 19.6 to break his own record. It's the second straight week Morgan has new meet records in the lows. Morgan established a new record in the Canyon Reef lows last week, also in 19.6.

Prior to his low hurdle race here today, Morgan had placed a close second in the 120-yard high hurdles. W. A. Kennedy of Odessa beat Morgan to the tape by less than half-a-step to win the highs in 15 flat.

Rex Wilson of the Tigers placed fourth in both hurdle events to round out the Tiger scoring.

Powell Berry, the Tigers' ace high hurdler, sat out the ABC meet with a sprained ankle he suffered in workouts Wednesday, Berry attempted the highs in Friday's prelims but didn't run after being disqualified after two false starts.

Berry, who beat today's high hurdle winner, Kennedy of Odessa, in the Canyon Reef last week, is expected to recover from his injury by next week's West Texas Relays at Odessa which is the next meet on tap for the Tiger thinlies.

One other Tiger, John Ward, qualified for the semi-finals. Ward gained the 440-yard dash semi-finals in Friday's prelims but he was eliminated in the semis run Saturday morning.

Roy Eisenback of San Angelo was named the "Most Valuable Athlete" in the high school division. Eisenbach set or help set three new ABC records.

Eisenbach lowered the 440-yard dash mark in 49.5 and he then ran on two relay teams which set new records. Eisenbach ran third on the San Angelo 440-yard relay team that set a new record of 43.6 and then anchored the mile relay team that also established a new record of 3:27.6.

Agent Helps Ball Players Gather Cash

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16 (AP)—When Mickey Mantle or any one of 91 big league ball players appears on television or endorses a product, the man at the cash register is Frank Scott, who operates the fastest growing business in sports.

The 39 - year - old former New York Yankee road secretary grossed $250,000 last year with his one-man organization known as Frank Scott Associates on Madison Avenue in New York. He currently is on the prowl signing promising rookies to contracts that run two years with an option of a two-year renewal. The athlete gets 90 per cent and Scott 10 per cent.

"I don't guarantee anybody anything," Scott explained, while watching the Yanks practice. "All I promise is to do my best to get the player his share of the outside money and give him an honest count."

Mantle who earned $60,000 in six months time in 1956 is the head man in Scott's stable. He has a special deal with Mantle who is incorporated. Scott owns 10 per cent of the corporation and also is hired by the corporation as an agent.

Until Mantle hit the jackpot last year, the top outside money was about $15,000 with Yogie Berra, Eddie Mathews, Robin Roberts and Duke Snider the leaders. Scott estimates that about 25 of his 91 players are "money makers" who pick up at least $5,000 in outside fees. The others may average 1,000 each but 10 per cent of $66,000 helps pay the rent too.

Longhorns Easily Win Fort Worth Rec Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, March 16 (AP)—Texas dominated the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field Meet like a blanket today.

The Longhorns set a world's record, furnished four meet records, won 11 first places and contributed the top men of the meet in Bobby Whilden and Eddie Southern.

The mighty Longhorns took the university class title with a strapping 75 7-10 points. Their 440-yard relay team of Wally Wilson, Southern, Hollis Gainey and Whilden smashed Texas' new world mark around two turns with a great 40.4 seconds. Texas set the record at 40.5 and it was tied by University of Houston last year.

Texas already is holder of the world's mark of 40.1 around one turn.

Whilden established a 20.8 record in the 220-yard dash. He won second in the 100 to Abilene Christian's Olympic star, Bobby Morrow—who tied the meet record at 9.5—and ran on two winning relay teams. Whilden was picked as outstanding athlete. Southern was runnerup.

Southern had sped the 220-yard low hurdles in a record 22.7 was second in the high hurdles and ran on his two winning relay teams.

The big meet, which drew almost 1,500 athletes, saw 2 records put into the books with two other records tied.

It was one of the few meets in the past three years that Morrow hasn't been the outstanding athlete. But ACC's Olympic sprint champion had a head cold and ran only in the 100 and 440-yard relay. His team was beaten in the latter event although Morrow made a fine anchor run.

Morrow's ACC team finished a distant second in the university class with 30½ points while North Texas wound up third with 14 7-10.

East Texas wrapped up the college division title with 51 points, with Howard Payne second with 30 1-3. The Kansas State Teachers of Pittsburg were third with 17 1-3. East Texas won seven first places.

Texas Tech, a name new to winning track, captured the college freshman - junior college class title with 35½ points. Abilene Christian was second with 21 1-3. Tech had five first place winners.

Byrd of Shreveport galloped in with the high school division title with 19 1-5 points, beating out Abilene, which had 16 1-5. Byrd produced three first place winners.

Only the university class failed to produce a double winner. In the college division, Clyde Harris of East Texas won both sprints and ran on the winning 440-yard relay team.

In the freshman-junior college division Billy Hollis of Baylor duplicated this trick setting a record in the 220-yard dash with 21.3.

In the high school division Mike McClellan, Stamford's all state football player, won both sprints, setting a record in the 220 with 21.1. Stamford had no relay teams.

Paul Schumann of Texas cracked the record in the shot put with a heave of 51 feet 2½ inches.

Two records were established in the college division where Oberle Albritton of Louisiana Tech vaulted 13 feet 7 inches and Gerald Blansitt of East Texas shoved the shot 50 feet 8 inches.

In the freshman - junior college division Gene Cox of SMU threw the discus 147 feet, Aubrey Dooley of Oklahoma A&M vaulted 13 feet 3 inches and Tommy Davis of Texas Tech sped the 440 in 49.2 for records.

The high school division had two records and a tie. Carlos Gonzales of El Paso ran the mile in 4:27.8 for one and McCellan hung up the other. Andrews tied the mile relay mark with 3:26.2.

Gonzales cracked the mile mark two days in a row. He had smashed the record in the preliminaries with a time of 4:31.4. Today John Cooper of Fort Worth Tech almost nipped Gonzales and bettered the record himself.

The biggest surprise was the victory of Ken Fannon of Abilene Christian over Southern in the high hurdles. Fannon nosed out Southern in a time of 14.4—four-tenths of a second over the record.

Jayhawks Topple OCU Chiefs, 81-61

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, March 16 (AP) — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain led Kansas to the championship of the NCAA Western regional basketball tournament tonight as the Jayhawks crushed Oklahoma City University 81-61.

Chamberlain, the 7-foot Negro center of the Jayhawks, flipped in 30 points to make his total for the tournament 66.

But his value to Kansas was as much his rebounding, ball-hawking and blocking as his scoring.

The game was a rough-and-tumble affair with the fans throwing cushions and money on the floor in protest at some of the rulings of the officials.

Once the two coaches — Dick Harp of Kansas and Abe Lemons of Oklahoma City—got into a heated argument at the scorers' bench.

The trouble came when the fans and Oklahoma City protested when a foul was not called on Chamberlain as he ran into Cecil Magana of Oklahoma City, knocking him sprawling.

DALLAS, March 16 (AP)—Big Jim Krebbs closed his career by leading SMU over St. Louis 78-68 and third place in the NCAA Western regional basketball tournament.

The 6 foot, 8 inch center was never more magnificent than leading the Mustangs to victory over a St. Louis team that never was ahead after the first minute of play. He tossed in nine field goals and 15 free throws and he had the ball all night with his great rebounding.

SMU led St. Louis 36-28 at the half. The score was tied four times midway of the period, but SMU took the lead on two free throws by Krebs and never was headed, once boasting a 11-point bulge and drawing 14 ahead with a minute left to play.

Hal Alcorn topped the Billkins, scoring 22 points with his dazzling jump shot.

A crowd of 7,600, another sell-out, showed up for the final night's schedule.

Southern Methodist, which had a 22-4 record for the year wound up as the fourth team in the nation. St. Louis was 10th.

The Methodists had a 38 per cent shooting average on field goals but scored two less than St. Louis. It was on the free throw lane that SMU triumphed, sinking 24 out of 33 tries. St. Louis could cash in on only 10 of 17. But SMU got more free throw chances since the Billikins fouled 20 times, SMU only 11.

Rosenbloom Free On Bond Of $200

CHICAGO, March 16 (AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom, former light heavyweight boxing champion turned entertainer, was arrested today on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 13-year-old girl.

Rosenbloom, who denied the charge, was freed after making $200 bond.

The former champion, known as "Slapsie Maxie" said he merely complied with the girl's request for an autograph and photograph.

The complaint was signed by the girls's father, Everett P. Thompson, 32, an unemployed insurance adjuster.

Rosenbloom, who is booked for a night club appearance beginning Tuesday, told newsmen at Central Police Station that the girl telephoned him four times while he was appearing as an entertainer at another Chicago night spot Jan. 10-23.

He said she asked for an autographed photograph, saying she wanted to start a fan club for him.

"I finally got tired of all her calls and told her to come to my hotel and meet me in the lobby," Rosenbloom added.

"When she got there I tried to get a bell boy to come with us. I'm careful of anything that could look suspicious.

"The nearest bellboy was busy, so I took the girl to my room and signed a picture for her. We were only up there five minutes and she left.

"I hope the public doesn't believe what these people say. I signed the picture, 'Be good to your mother and father and they'll always love you.' That's all that happened."

Thompson declined to discuss the complaint, saying: "I must see my lawyer."

Rosenbloom is scheduled to appear on the charge in Domestic Relations Court March 21.

Pitchers Have Bad Day From Free-Swingers In Exhibition

By The Associated Press

Eager free-swingers, a month away from the major league openings, belted pitchers all over the Cactus and Grapefruit circuits yesterday in baseball exhibition games.

The Cleveland Indians, supposedly emphasizing speed this spring, led the pack with a 25-hit, 22-6 larruping of the New York Giants in Phoenix, Ariz. and the Detroit Tigers broke out of their five - game losing streak with 18-hits and a 14-3 shelling of the Washington Senators in Lakeland, Fla.

Some of the day's best pitching was turned in by rookie outfielder Bob Bowman of the Philadelphia Phillies. He pitched the final four innings and earned the victory as the Phillies bested the Milwaukee Braves 7-6 in 13-innings at Clearwater.

In other games, the St. Louis Cardinals snapped the Cincinnati Redlegs' three - game winning streak 5-3 at Tampa; the New York Yankees rallied for four runs in the seventh to topple the Chicago White Sox 6-2 at St. Petersburg; the Kansas City Athletics scored three in the eighth to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-4 at Ft. Myers, and the Chicago Cubs beat the Baltimore Orioles 7-6 in Los Angeles.

The Indians' exploded for a nine-run sixth inning, featuring a bases loaded home run by rookie catcher Gus Nixon. Joe Altobelli hit a three-run homer in the same inning.

Mel Clark lined three hits and shortstop Harvey Kuenn cracked a two-run homer and two singles to lead the Tigers' assault. Frank Lary, a 21-game winner last year, pitched the first four innings and picked up the victory.

Wally Moon hit a homer for the Cardinals and veteran Murry Dickson pitched shutout ball for the first three innings.

Tom Sturdivant allowed two hits in the last five innings against the White Sox. Rookies Tony Kubek, Bob Richardson and Woody Held and Elston Howard, making his first spring appearance, singled in the Yankees' four-run seventh.

Death Probe Is Launched

TYLER, March 16 (AP)—Officers dug deeper today into the strange death of Loren Coy Smith, 21, Dallas WFAA-TV station employe whose charred body was found in a vacant farm house near Lindale.

Asst. Dist. Atty. R. S. Burrus said "there is no doubt that the bo, was saturated with gasoline." Little fire damage was done to the interior of the vacant farm house. Autopsy results were awaited.

Smith, had been missing from Dallas since Wednesday. Sheriff Ross Turner said that a truck driver who had lived in the house in which Smith's body was found until a few days ago had been questioned.

Smog is tough on clothes, says University of California textile chemist Rita Landry. It causes colors to fade and makes fabrics lose their strength.

Hidden Arms Hunted

ROME, March 16 (AP) — Italian security police made a nationwide sweep for hidden arms in January. A vast store of arms, including heavy and light machineguns, rifles, pistols and grenades, was collected from World War II partisans who did not return their arms when the war ended.

Escaped Slayer Sought

HOUSTON, March 16 (AP)—A man whose wife thinks he is wonderful and who has been a model stepfather and step-grandfather here nine years was held by the FBI today as an escaped Ohio murderer.

Aaron Gordon, 54, was arrested yesterday. He had lived here since shortly after his 1947 escape from a London, Ohio, prison where he was under a life sentence. Gordon was convicted for the 1931 jewel robbery murder of Rose Becker, a close friend of his first wife.

Gordon had used the name of Louis Snipes since coming here. In recent months he had been in the remodeling business. Earlier he operated a floor finishing business and once owned a club boat, the Texas Explorer.

His wife, 55, was in tears.

"I'd never have married him if I'd known," she said, "But I wish I had him back home again. He is a wonderful man. He certainly has been good to me. My children and grandchildren are all crazy about him."

Mrs. Snipes met her husband in 1948 through friends.

George Burton of the FBI said Gordon choked Miss Becker to death upon being surprised in her apartment while taking $2,500 in jewelry.

Burton said he understands Gordon's first wife obtained a divorce while her husband was in prison.

Champion Dogs Returned Home

Two champion Dachshunds owned by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Keeble, SACROC 2 Camp, were returned home with the Keebles, who returned last week from a one-week vacation in Arizona.

The American Kennel club champions are Red Locket Parisian (Frenchy) and Red Locket Romulus (Romie). Romie is tte newest of the champions, having completed requirements by taking winners dog and best of winners at the Oakland, Calif., Kennel Club Show this month.

Two other Keeble Dachshunds are still in shows, one of them near a championship. Dandy Dachs Dorothy is the one nearing championship with 13 of the 15 required points. Also still being shown is eight-month-old Red Locket Nita Louise, a wire-hair Dachshund. They will be shown March 31 at Glendale, Cal. The young wire-hair's sire is Tubac's Abner, American, Canadian, and Mexican shampion.

The Keebles attended dog shows at Phoenix, Mesa, and Tucson while on vacation.

At the Phoenix Dachshund Club Specialty March 8, champion Frenchy was best of variety of breed for best smooth Dachshund in the show and moved on up to best of breed, opposite sex. Dandy Dachs Dorothy won the balck and tan open class at the same show. Nita Louise was winners bitch, best of winners, and best of opposite sex for a five-point major win. This was the first time Nita Louise had been shown. Judge was Herman Cox of Fort Worth.

A few days ago at the Superstition Kennel Club Show at Mesa, Dorothy was winner of the open black and tan bitch class, where the show was judged by George Spence of Dallas.

Last Wednesday at the Tucson Kennel Club Show, Dorothy won the open class but went on to winner's bitch for a three-point major win under Mrs. Lillian Harlow of California, Judge.

Pubs In Ireland Get Set

DUBLIN, Ireland, March 16 (AP)—It's a great day for the Irish tomorrow, and the boys will be feting their patron saint with more freedom than usual to "drown the shamrock."

St. Patrick's Day falls this year on a springtime Sunday and there'll be a blaring of brass bands and a colorful parade through the streets of Dublin. But there's this important difference from recent years—the pubs will be open.

City authorities have decreed that ordinary Sunday licensing hours will prevail all day. Pubs and hotel bars usually are shut down 24 hours when St. Patrick's celebrations take place on a weekday.

The easy going Irish will be rejoicing in the absence of many of the country's best known figures.

Robert Briscoe, Dublin's Jewish lord mayor, is visiting the United States. President Sean O'Kelly and his wife are visiting Rome. Gen. Sean MacEoin, defense minister in the outgoing Costello government, will be wearing his shamrock in Buenos Aires as head of an Irish delegation to ceremonies commemorating Adm. William Browne, Irish-born founder of the Argentine navy.

New Prime Minister Eamon de Valera, the 74-year-old American-born fighter who made a spectacular political comeback in last week's elections, plans to spend St. Patrick's Day quietly at his home in the seaside town of Booterstown.

High Court Blasted By Martin Dies

FORT WORTH, March 16 (AP)—Rep. Martin Dies in a statewide radio broadcast today called for a constitutional amendment to take the appointment of Supreme Court justice out of the hands of the President.

Dies spoke after meeting with his supporters in his campaign for the Senate.

"Virtually all of the social and economic problems our country faces today," Dies said, "have stemmed, directly or indirectly, from illegal and unconstitutional acts of the United States Supreme Court, in disregarding legal precedent and basing decisions on ideology rather than on law."

He said if he is elected he will introduce legislation to let Supreme Court vacancies be filled by a body made up of all the state Supreme Court justices and the top state civil appeals court judges.

No individual would be eligible for consideration for the high court unless he is of such judicial status, with a minimum of five years experience at such a level immediately prior to his appointment.

FAIR OR FOUL—Cries of "fair ball" or "foul" will be back in a month along with warm April sunshine. Playing fair is not only important in sports. It is also the beginning in teaching young people to be good citizens. The Girl Scouts, who yesterday celebrated out-of-doors-day on the Girl Scout Week calendar, prove that good citizens don't just "happen," they grow, learning to respect the other fellow's point of view, his rights and property. Shown around a campfire yesterday above from left are: Linda Gayle Miller, Sonja Gillean, Sue Stokes, and Patsy Connor, members of troop 24. (Lee Watson photograph)

Mrs. H. G. Burchett Named Head Of University Women

Mrs. H. G. Burchett was elected president of the Snyder branch of the American Association of University Women at a meeting held Thursday night at the Women's Club.

Other officers elected, to take office in May, were Mrs. Carter Parkes, first vice president; Mrs. J. A. Thompson, second vice president; Mrs. Dan Gibson, recording secretary; Miss Ruby Butts, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. G. A. Parks, Jr., treasurer.

Miss Butts directed the evening's program on Family Economics. She pointed out that women frequently say they "have no sense about money," yet they usually spend most of the family income. To help get the most for the money she is to spend, the shopper should first determine as nearly as possible the amount to be spent, Miss Butts said. The shopper should then know what she wants to buy and how to get what she wants.

Food shopping was cited as an example of buying which can be improved with planning. Preplanned menus are an excellent buying guide, Miss Butts said, but if menus are not planned in advance some other shopping system should be followed to minimumize impulse buying and too-frequent trips to the grocery store. The wise shopper buys food primarily for its nutritional quality rather than for the prestige of a label or for the service offered by foods which require little home preparation, Miss Butts stressed. However, she pointed out that family preferences, short time available for meal preparation and other factors can warrant additional cost under individual circumstances. To emphasize the price difference because of labels, Miss Butts asked members of the audience to taste peach slices from three different cans and showed that the taste of each was acceptable despite the price difference.

Mrs. Burchett directed the business meeting which preceded the program. It was announced that the annual tea honoring Scurry County high school senior girls will be held on April 18. Mothers of the girls will also be invited to attend. Club members voted to pay part of the expenses of delegates attending the state AAUW convention in Tyler in April.

NORMAN HARTNELL—The dressmaker for the Royal Family views his model, Azetta, wearing the spectacular evening gown, "Caesar's Wife," from his spring collection.

ROYAL DRESSMAKER SPEAKS

Hemline Hysteria—Baloney!

By LEONARD LEDDINGTON

LONDON (AP) — Long skirts or short skirts for 1957 — it's all a lot of high-class baloney, madame. This year's styles, says Norman Hartnell, won't be set by anyone but you.

Hartnell, who dresses Britain's royal family, insists he's not getting mixed up in any controversy over the rise or fall of the hemline this spring.

"It doesn't matter where we put it," Hartnell says. "The women who buy our dresses have the hemline fixed just where they want it.

"The designer presents, but the women decide. The ladies always have the last word."

Hartnell, who became Britain's first dressmaker back in 1923 when he was 22 and fresh out of Cambridge University, made the collection of clothes Queen Elizabeth took on her recent state visits to Copenhagen and Lisbon, as well as those planned for her visit to Paris later this spring.

Hartnell, now 55, prepared the dress collection for the Queen's mother in 1938 when she paid a similar state visit to the capital of feminine fashion.

"The Queen Mother had long dresses and large hats then," Hartnell said. "The present Queen prefers them more practical."

Royal Wardrobe

There is lots of white, silver and gold among the royal colors for the Paris visit. "The Queen wears the bright scarlet sash of the Legion of Honor and her dresses must be deisgned accordingly," Hartnell said.

Daytime dresses of the royal spring wardrobe are similar bright — "they must be of clear colors visible from a long distance" — but the materials must be able to cope with unsettled weather of April in Paris.

Hartnell recently showed a few choice items of his new spring collection to Princess Margaret and the Queen Mother. But he doesn't expect many orders for new spring clothes from Princess Margaret this year. "She took quite an extensive wardrobe on her African tour last year and her clothes do not 'date'," Hartnell pointed out.

Caesar's Wife

He has one stirring gown — a slick classical creation called "Ceasar's Wife," the lady beyond reproach — which is a highlight of the new collection.

It is a strapless white gown in what Hartnell calls "the Roman line" — the kind of dress that's certain to draw long, low whistles in even the best circles. It's drawn tight about the body so that the wearer has to take tiny steps. A thin embroidered band of gold runs down the front to lift the floor-length hemline to ankle length for a peek-a-boo inverted V in the center.

That old Roman effect, even in 1957, is pretty devastating.

Hartnell's salon is a fairyland setting of perfumed air, glittering crystal chandeliers, thick fiesta blue carpeting and dove grey walls. And all of Hartnell's young ladies, from the receptionists to the saleslades (they're called vendeuse in the expensive Hartnell bracket), wear individually deisgned dresses, all in dark Hartnell green.

Hartnell gives afternoon showings of his new spring collection on a daily basis to a selected audience of British blue bloods. The prices, by normal haute couture standards, aren't terrific — somewhere between 100 and 200 pounds ($280 to $560) per dress would be about average.

Unlike the Paris fashion houses who sell mainly to dress manufacturers, most of Hartnell's customers are private buyers just picking up a thing or two.

Any dress chosen by the Queen or Princess Margaret, Hartnell says, is immediately withdrawn from the showing. The rule is that nobody in Britain wears what the royal women wear.

Men's sports shirts knit of orlon or part orlon are comfortable, easy to wash, and retain their washing is preferable, using warm soap or detergent suds and rinses. Drape each shirt over a non-rusting hanger and allow to drip-dry. The method is so simple, any man can be his own "wash lady."

Plains Girl Named State 'Homemaker Of Tomorrow'

Texas' Homemaker of Tomorrow is Willie Mae Addison of Plains High School, Plains, Texas.

The blonde 17-year-old daughter of a retired rancher received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes administered to 13,649 senior girls in 656 schools throughout Texas.

Miss Addison will receive a $1,000 scholarship and becomes a candidate with 47 other state winners and the representative from the District of Columbia for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Each state winner and her school advisor will receive an expense-paid educational tour to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City April 27-May 3. Score in the original test and personal observation on this tour will be the basis for selection of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, to be announced May 2 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000.

Mary Roberts of Moody High School, Moody, rated second in Texas and will receive a $500 scholarship.

Miss Addison, the state winner, has participated in a great many extracurricular activities during her high school course. She has been editor of the school paper, was secretary of the Student Council for two years, secretary of the Pep Squad and of the Future Homemakers of America. She also sings in the chorus, is active in dramatics, and has been an officer of her class for three of her four years.

In addition, she finds time to help her mother with the home responsibilities. "I do the cleaning," she says, "and most of the cooking on week-ends when I'm home."

She loves to travel, and she and her parents start out almost every summer to see some new part of the country. "We've been to California, to Yellowstone Park, and to Florida," she says. "But one of the most enjoyable trips I've had was last summer when I was chosen as one of the Texas delegates to the national convention of the Future Homemakers of America in Chicago. I had never been north before, and though it rained most of the time we were there, I had a very good time. It was a wonderful experience seeing a part of the country that was entirely new to me, and meeting girls from other places."

Miss Addison plans to attend West Texas State Teachers College next year to prepare herself to be an elementary teacher — probably of third or fourth grade children.

Miss Roberts, state runner-up, likes to cook, especially experimenting with new recipes. She will study journalism at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

The test in this third annual national homemaking program was designed and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago. The school of each state will receive a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. This year, for the first time, girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national finals will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

New Swim Suits Make Big Splash

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

THIS SUMMER American bathing beauties will have the international look.

They will go swimming in suits inspired by native arts of Africa, the South Seas and south-of-the-border countries, designed by fawith American know-how in figure York and California, constructed mous couturiers of France, New control.

The bathing suit business these days has become a field of international competition, with big-name designers all over the world getting into the swim.

Latest member of the French couture to enter the American swim-suit market is Hubert de Givenchy, under contract to Jantzen. Previously Christian Dior bathing suits have been presented by Cole of California, and Schiaparelli designs have been available in this country under her own label for several years.

The Givenchy bathing suits are guaranteed to make a splash wherever they appear. Most startling is a long-legged, form-fitting sheath suit with high neck and cap sleeves, in an elasticized cotton knit, printer in an African motif. Another is a one-piece suit in a bold print, also with modest neck and covered shoulders in the same lastex-cotton knit.

The covered-up look is apparent throughout most of the new swimwear collections, with knit suits in both wool and cotton high in favor.

At the other extreme is the Bikini suit, but this year it comes with a modest cover-up oversheath.

Wide Range Of Furniture Is Displayed

Anything goes might be the theme of the new upholstered furniture introduced at the winter home furnishings markets around the country. By this we mean that, more than ever before, there is a great variety of style within this category of furniture.

Traditional sofas, for example, are being seen with more refinement of line. Their time-honored beauty rings clear and true but the extra aspect of comfort has been added.

Comtemporary upholstered furniture draws its design inspiration from many sources. The foreign influence is still very much with us. A definite Scandinavian, or Far Eastern, or French, or Italian flavor is apparent in many pieces.

More exposed wood is being seen on upholstered pieces. Neat legs lift sofas and chairs off of the floor, giving them a light look. Backs are higher, for more comfort, but retain their slimness of line.

Wood, mostly walnut or fruitwood, is used decoratively in today's upholstery. Sculptured or shaped wood are rests are shown in various forms. In some pieces, side panels are wood or wood frames may surround cane panels.

Pillows are an important part of upholstery, of course, and the trend seems to be to more and more of them. The long sofas feature rows of small, loose cushions, often in contrasting color to the body of the piece.

Tight backs and seats are not neglected, however. They create a nice smooth line. Tufting creates a pattern in many of the sofa backs.

Although designed with an eye for beauty, the main feature of today's upholstery is comfort. Manufacturers realize that it is not enough for a seating piece to look good — although they are making sofas which look attractive from all angles. They have kept the function of a sofa and chair in mind and have designed them so that you, the homemaker — and your family — will have comfortable furniture in which to relax.

Expensive Taste

A workman was awarded $150,000 damages after he testified he couldn't taste or smell his wife's cooking because of an accidnet.

When dipping nutmeats into a fudge mixture to coat the nuts, put a little of the candy mixture into a small container to make the dipping easy. The rest of the fudge should be kept over hot water until needed.

Add dried dill to skillet shoulder lamb chops for an interesting flavor.

New Finishes

Porcelain enamel finishes, long contributors to good looks and easy cleaning in the kitchen are gaining an increasingly important role in the basement. The brightly finished jackets of such items as boilers and automatic water heaters have an insulating function, too.

Baking In Glass

Foods baked in glass are usually crusty and heavily browned since most recipe temperatures are based on the use of aluminum containers. To avoid this, oven temperatures should be figured 25 degrees lower when baking in glass.

No Stale Cake

To keep cakes moist and fresh-tasting longer, try using honey. Range experts say that substituting honey for all or part of the sugar in some baked goods adds to their flavor and color.

Baldness Is New Problem Facing Women In U.S.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN in this country hide their heads in shame every day. Why? Because for one reason or another they have begun to grow bald. They not only do not venture outdoors, but hesitate to confide in anyone about their problem.

I caught up with this problem recently when I visited a friend, one who had faced the reality of the situation. She greeted me at the door wearing a scarf, with the remark that she was waiting for her wig to be returned from the laundry. I assumed she was being facetious. But no. A man appeared from her hairdressing salon with her wig — newly shampooed and coiffed.

It was dumfounding to realize that her lovely hair was not her own, but more so to see how remarkable a transformation could be. She was typical of women whose hair gets sparser and sparser, perhaps after an ilness.

Doris and Joseph Fleischer, brother and sister team operating a hair business established by their great grandfather 125 years ago, have made their life's work building hair pieces. They estimate there are hundreds of thousands of women in America now wearing them. Miss Fleischer explains:

"The reason wigs are not more popular is that they are difficult to detect and the average woman confronted with the problem is likely to think she is unique. Sometimes a girl suffers with half a head of hair, wearing a bandanna or hat most of the time to hide her secret. Sometimes all she needs is a little fullness at the side of her head or a cap of curls at the crown to fill out her own sparse locks."

Problem pieces are planned, she says, so they may be integrated naturally into one's own feathery wisps. The proof of the effectiveness of the operation is that thousands of women wear these false hair pieces without detection. Some times these extra pieces may change the entire look of the wearer. Miss Fleischer suggests that thin-faced types do not need much hair, perhaps just a little height and softness around the face. Extra length, she says, is needed for a long neck. Fat-faced girls may avoid the heavy, cumberson looking wig. It is best to have a wig styled just as you would a coiffure of your own hair.

Bangs are built into nightcaps so that wigs and problem hair pieces may be kept in good condition. There are turbans with built-in locks, expecialy designed for natural but often flatter the wearer more than her original hair, emergency shopping.

These hair pieces not only look which may have been thin and unmanageable to start with.

Dressmakers Strike Gold On Beaches

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

BATHING SUITS are big business, as evidenced by the high-powered designers now getting into the sun-and surf act.

It is a recent trend of the times that American women have become designer-conscious, and take as much pride in the labels in their swim suits as in those in their evening gowns.

Nettie Rosenstein is the most recent arrival in the swimwear couture lineup, having discovered that a swinsuit is as basic a part of the average woman's wardrobe as the indispensable little black dress for which this designer is famous.

Mrs. Rosenstein's swimwear designs, however, have no hint of the understated restraint of her discreet dress creations. When she turns her designing eye toward the surf, this noted dressmaker throws off all inhibitions and shoots the works on allure. Her theory is that a lady should be discreet in the drawing room, but daring on the beach.

That's why you may see a 1957 bathing beauty in a gold-lame swimsuit that fits like a second skin, in a perky creation of candy-striped can-can ruffles or in a startling creation of white fishnet over flesh-colored jersey.

Rivalry runs high along our rich beaches this season, as such designers as Hubert de Givenchy, Christian Dior, Schiaparelli and Nettie Rosenstein all get in the swim. And the competition is not only in the designs but also in the presentations. At present Mrs. Rosenstein holds the showmanship lead, after unveiling her latest swimwear collection amid icicles and snow peaks, beside a heated outdoor pool in Sun Valley, Idaho.

SUN AND ICE—This brave model reaches for an icicle beside a heated outdoor pool in Sun Valley. She is wearing Nettie Rosenstein's Can-Can ruffled swimsuit.

Color, New Fibers Help Your Carpet

You can let yourself go with color in carpet this year. Thanks to new dyes, new man-made fibers, and new ways of handling the old stand-by wool, there is a range in color neve before achieved.

The most delicate of gem tones are seen, clear and brilliant with the emphasis on rose, blue, and gold. There are soft colors in pastels, even pearly white. And white carpets are making news, as well as carpets with white touches.

Reflecting the general current affection for traditional styling, there are muted subtle colors that blend with the "inherited look." Olive, gold with a bronze cast, soft greens, blues and reds, look as though they came from a museum picture.

This freedom with color is a result of scientists at work, who have opened the way to new shades, and a new cooperation fabrics.

DECORATING with carpet — as you like it with color — is newly easy. Carpet can be the basis of your decorating scheme. It brings warmth and beauty to a room, as well as unifying the setting.

Besides color, there is texture news. Carpets have the hand-loomed or home-spun look, and can be loosely or tightly constructed. Some new carpets look as though Grandma had knit them, but machine looms did all the work, thanks to clever technicians and electronic devices. These make the carpets easily available across the country, as you like them, even though you don't have an old fashioned Grandmother.

The list of man-made fibers is growing so fast, it takes a scientist to keep up with the many varieties: acrilan, dynel, new versions of nylon and rayon — all specially engineered for carpet use.

All of these fibers are aimed for perfect carpet performance to give quiet, insulation, and easy care. Your insurance is a brand name manufacturer who would not produce a carpet unless he believed in its worth, and a reliable dealer who will give you the information needed to have lovely and long-lasting carpeting in your home.
