OKLAHOMAN SHOT BY SHERIFF DIES

COURT NAMES SUCCESSOR WHO DISQUALIFIES SELF IN CASE; SHERIFF DEMANDS JAIL ENTRY

(By the Associated Press)
MADILL, Okla., Apr. 4.—R. C. Rowland was appointed today by the Marshall county commissioners as county attorney to succeed Franz J. Kim, who died in a Sherman, Texas, hospital from bullet wounds inflicted Monday by Sheriff Edd Long.

Rowland, who has acted as Long's attorney, immediately announced that he would disqualify himself from filing charges against the sheriff, and that he would instruct his assistant, whom he expected to appoint this afternoon, to file charges.

It was thought probable that Paul Buford, Kim's assistant, would be reappointed. Buford was returning to Madill from Sherman today.

Shot During Argument
Kim, who was shot by Sheriff Long after an altercation over the allowance by the county commissioners of a claim presented by the sheriff, was found after he was wounded to have been armed with a bullet-proof vest. The fatal shot glanced from the lower edge of the vest, striking Kim in the abdomen.

The body of the county attorney was brought here today. It will be taken to a suburb of St. Louis, Mo., for burial.

Sheriff Demands To Be Locked Up

GAS BLAST IS FATAL TO TWO
AMATEUR PLUMBER IS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR TRAGEDY
LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 4.—Attempts of amateur plumbers to dispense with the services of gas company workmen and a desire on the part of one of the workers for a cigarette today were blamed by police for a gas explosion that resulted in fatal burns for a 19-year-old youth, Wesley DeWitt, and six-year-old Tatakai Tokai, and lesser burns to eleven other persons.

A neighborhood grocery store was the scene of the blast which may prove fatal to more of the victims. Five others, all small children who had been playing in front of the store were seriously injured.

Police investigating the explosion said the store recently had changed hands and the new owners had opened the gas lines without notifying company officials. A leak was discovered and one of the men closed what he believed to be the gas pipe, then took out a cigarette and lit a match. The resulting explosion blew out every window in the store and scattered its contents in all directions. Houses a block away were shaken.

MARYE and MOM Their Letters
BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

My Dear Marye: What ever are you going to do next? Think of a husband and wife having separate friends the way you and Alan have! I'd never dream of inviting a man to my house if I knew he had any tender feelings for me. So I can't blame Alan for wanting to show you how he feels to have such a person in your home.

I imagine the party was spoiled for you—and it should have been. Of course, I don't think Alan chose the best way in the world to make you realize how he felt, but at least you found out that what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

And if you can't see a better example for Florence than to have a wife should behave I think you'd better send her home. Her mother is worrying herself sick because she thinks Florence isn't coming back. And if she knew that Mabel Cary was after her to live in one of those places you call a studio, she wouldn't never get over it. It's no secret around town that Mabel is posing "undraped" for artists in the city, and there are lots of people here who don't believe that a nice girl would do such a thing.

If you would only give Florence the advantage she sought to get from her visit and not think so much about parties it would be a good thing to have her stay even longer than she planned. Kenneth is going around with a new girl so I think if Florence stays away long enough we won't have to worry any more about him.

You ought to take her to concerts and lectures and the museums. She can get all the jazz she needs right here at home. And Marge dear, I do wish you would go to church, I stand to think of the future state of mind you are preparing for yourself in the way you are living. One excitement after another. Sometimes I wonder if you know there is anything in life beside thrills? I hear girls speak boastfully of having had the most hectic day of their life. It makes me important to rush from one pleasure to another. Hardly ever do I hear any of them speak of having enjoyed an intellectual or spiritual treat. Life seems only to have a physical side. But you must grow old, you know and you will need more than memory of wild parties to bring contentment to you then.

Dearest love,
MOM

NEXT: Marye on the church.

We Believe in A Woman's Right To Be Beautiful

Long ago Puritan America decreed that beauty must be largely a cultivation of the inner virtues. Feminine faces, except for a dab of talcum powder, were as Nature made them. If Nature had been unkind—or forgetful—one's only hope lay in "good works" and an early demise.

Today all is changed. Lipsticks and the rouge pots are part of the modern women's rebellion against household drudgery. Once she had to bend over a hot cookstove, or a steaming wash tub six days a week. Today she presses a button and has plenty of time left over to make herself attractive.

We always smile rather happily when we pass our Cosmetic Department. It is more than just a counter where one may buy excellent toilet preparations for a modest sum. It is a visible symbol that Beauty once more has resumed her rightful place—that feminine charm and allurements are not to be banished utterly from the face of the earth.

RUTH HITS FIRST HOME RUN BUT YANKS LOSE TO CHATTANOOGA

BAMBINO LIFTS BALL OUT OF LOT IN ELEVENTH INNING TO RIGHT HIMSELF FOR BIG RACE

GIANTS EXTEND WINS TO TEN GAMES BY WIN FROM BENS

By BRIAN BELL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, April 4.—All's right with that part of the baseball world inhabited by Babe Ruth. Birds are nesting, grass is green and spring has come for the big slugger as he hit his first home run since 1927.

ACE ON MOUND

Not enough to win
Ruth's home run was not enough, the Lookouts tied the score in the 11th and went on to win in the 12th, 3 to 2, but the rest of the game was incidental. The field champions have dropped 11 of 14 spring games and one more means little at this stage of the campaign, when Babe Ruth hits home runs. The Yankees played the only extra inning game of the season and were the only major league to fall before a minor league team.

One of the many reasons why manager Donie Bush expects his Pittsburgh Pirates to win the National League pennant again this year is Carpin Hill, the bespectacled hurler shown here. Bush expects Hill to prove the outstanding pitcher of the league this season. He has been going good in the early spring games.

Enviably Record Set By Buff Coach

CANYON, April 4.—Coached by one who does not play the game himself, and trains his teams from the standpoint of a student of the game, the West Texas State Teachers College basketball quintet now holds the Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association title for the second time in two years.

BASEBALL RESULTS—TUESDAY

Memphis—Chicago (AL) 19; Memphis 11.
NASHVILLE—St. Louis (NL) 10; Nashville 7.
Tulsa—St. Louis (AL) 23; Tulsa 6.
Louisville—Cincinnati (NL) 6; Louisville 4.
Macon—Brooklyn (NL) 9; Macon 3.
Atlanta—New York (NL) 8; Washington (AL) 2.
Chattanooga—Chattanooga 3.
New York (AL) 2 (12 innings).
Waco—Detroit (AL) vs. Waco, rain.

THE POWER BEHIND

It's not how much brain, or muscle, or knowledge you possess that helps you upward; it's what you do with what you have.—American Magazine
Some of the umpires who can't count accurately will get the same razz that the referee in the Chicago fight got and other umpires who can't count to 20 will be clear out of luck and a job.

BRING ON ARGUMENTS

He must park in some other part of the house and the umpire has to see that he doesn't stray into forbidden territory. Constitutional rights of a citizen to sit where he pleases in an orderly manner may be involved.

THIS 'COUNTING' TASK

The umpires, after reading the new regulations, have expressed themselves privately that their responsibilities have been greatly increased and that the players have been given a great deal more to squawk about and louder.

HUBBERS PLAY EXHIBITION GAME SUNDAY

JACK DENTON IS GIVEN DECISION IN MITCHELL GO

Jack Denton of Tahoka, who boasts the welterweight title of Texas Panhandle and Plains, won a decision but over Kid Mitchell, the Douglas Flash, after the two battled a fast ten round mill, which was the main bout of the fighting exhibition staged at the Lansley Theatre last evening. Denton leading the fight all the way through was awarded the first five rounds, the sixth, seventh and eighth were fought to a draw, and Mitchell came back to take the concluding rounds.

FAST NINE AT HALECENTER IS TO PLAY HERE

Lubbock will have the distinction of being the first club in the West Texas loop to open with an exhibition game as Bennie Brownlow, manager of the Hubbers, has scheduled his flock of recruits in a practice tilt with the Hale Center nine for Sunday afternoon at the Merrill park.

SQUAD RAPIDLY GETS INTO CONDITION IN DAILY PRACTICE

Workouts are being taken daily on the Merrill lot and some twenty-five tryouts are in training under the Hubber pilot. Several more players have reported to Brownlow for tryouts with the Hubbers while Bert Hunter, pitcher, and Louis Sloan, infielder, who started the spring training under Sled Allen at Amarillo and early this week reported to Brownlow for tryouts with the local entry were cut off today as both men were class players and could not be used here. Sloan and Hunter are both veterans of the game and will likely work with Hamlin, recent entry into the loop, as the Hamlin manager called them here this morning.

WORKOUTS ARE TAKEN DAILY

With the complete equipment ordered for the Hubbers and the daily routine of work under way Bennie is just now getting in a position to work with his recruits on the field and give them all the work of a training camp.

MATADORS WIN SLUGGING BEE HERE TUESDAY

Grady Higginbotham's Matador baseball candidates enjoyed a most rambunctious afternoon with the Shallowater semi-pros as the Matadors brought out their long distance timber and busted base hit after base hit for extra bags. Some were prone to believe that instead of a base ball game there was a snappy hitting practice in order.

STICK ARTISTS GO ON RAMPAGE TO WALLOP SHALLOWATER

Grady used three hurlers against the semi-pros and all of them worked effectively on the mound. Volney (Snatch) Hill, spit ball artist, worked the spitter frequently and kept the visitors guessing. Willis Gray, old timer of the mound, too, checked the Shallowater hitters one by one and retired after working two frames with but one hit marked against him. Wilbur Edleman of Plainview, a product of the Texas staff last season, also led the visitors down with one bingle during the three sessions he worked.

THREE HURLERS USED

Red Waller, field outfielder, worked his initial game with the bull-fighters in the outer garden and proved most effective in the hitting department as he registered two homers, a triple and a single in his six appearances to the plate. Raymond (Evo) Marshall and (Chink) Taylor, too, came through with four base clouts in the contest.

VISITORS INEFFECTIVE

Barnie Blackmon, halfider of the semi-pros, sent three tossers in the box in an effort to check the Matador drive but none turned the trick as the Tech favorites busted out 20 safeties off of their offerings. The Matadors will leave Lubbock early Thursday morning for Waco where they open the collegiate card with the Baylor University Bears in a two game bill with the opening game April 6.

Light Work for Steers

At Dallas, the Steers had only a light workout in accordance with Manager Ellison's intention to give his men a chance to recuperate from influenza that has swept the club. Second baseman Morse, Pitcher Jackson and Outfielder Miller were suspended in the absence of several days, but others, including Pitcher Slim Love, remained on the sick list.

Insurgents Beaten In Attack On Town

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—(AP)—Dispatches from Guadalajara today said the police and a group of volunteers heroically defended Tequila, one of the most important towns in the state of Jalisco, against a large group of insurgents.

Much Interest In Short Course Seen

Lubbock's delegation is to speak on "Necessity of Financing County Organization" while Miss Baird's topic will be "Woman's Place in Co-operative Marketing."

TUNNEY MAKES GOOD JOB AS OWN MANAGER

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, April 4.—The fistic events of the last few days have furnished convincing evidence that Gene Tunney not only is managing his own affairs but doing pretty well at it for a young fellow whose chief aim in life not long ago seemed to be the mastery of seven syllable words.

Commands Vocabulary, HIS ACTION REVEALS

Gene still has command of an extensive and often effective vocabulary. But his latest word to the boxing commission, in addition to being noteworthy as a diplomatic rejoinder, contains no word in excess of five syllables and only two of those. It proves that simple language can be and often is more effective and forceful than complicated phraseology.

British To Remove Malaya Rubber Ban

LONDON, April 4.—Premier Baldwin announced in the house of commons today that all restrictions on the export of rubber from British Malaya and Ceylon would be removed November 1, 1928.

Once Needed Manager

There was a time not so long ago when Gene Tunney, then only a fair to middlin' light heavyweight, needed a manager and some good ring advice if he was to get anywhere. The veteran Billy Gibson filled both requirements, steered Tunney into the American light heavyweight title and paved the way for the Dempsey match in 1926 that brought Tunney to the peak.

CREW OF SHIP RECOUNT TALE OF BIG STORM

DISTRESS CALLS ARE ALL IGNORED BY TANKER CAPTAIN

(By Associated Press.)
ASTORIA, Ore., April 4.—Safe in port here after a death dodging 118 day voyage from Adelaide, Australia, Captain Ash of the four masted schooner K. V. Kruse and fourteen members of his crew today told a story of their distress signals having been deliberately ignored by an unidentified oil tanker.
 Their ill-luck started in mid-ocean. A Russian sailor—the men could not remember his name—was lost overboard in a sudden squall. Ship Caught in Gale
 As the Kruse neared American shores she was caught squarely by a gale. She attempted to run before the storm, was driven back to sea, attempted again to reach shelter in Coos bay, and again was forced to put about.
 For three weeks the fifteen men subsisted on the most meager fare. During the past week their food consisted almost entirely of eight pounds of rice, intended originally for the skipper's parrot.
 In the storm off Coos bay, Captain Ash said, they hailed a passing tanker.
 A signal was whipped to the Kruse masthead. We are short of food," it said.
 The skipper said the tanker signaled back.
 "That is very appreciating."
 "We are unable to cross Coos bay," a second signal flew from the schooner.
 "Too bad," is answer.
 "That's too bad," the tanker signalled and continued on her course, according to the crew of the schooner.
 All spare wood aboard the ship was burned in order to obtain warmth for the half starved, rain soaked crew. All spare beams were used, chairs were broken up and boards ripped from the deck.

POLITICAL TALK

EST'S 30 delegates on the first convention ballot at least, and Hoover 133 Republican delegates. Lowden has been endorsed by the South Dakota Republican convention and is slated to get 13 delegates' votes, while Smith endorsed by the Democratic convention there, will add 10 more to his growing delegate total in the May 22 primary.

 Out of the tangle of the involved Wisconsin situation today was seen the apparent defeat of Walsh's first definite bid for delegate support at Houston. With a partial slate of candidates in the field for the state's four delegates at large, the Montana senator was running far behind Smith, with a full slate, on the basis of early returns. Two Smith factions fought it out among themselves for the state's 22 district delegates. Senator Reed of Missouri had an delegate slate, but was entered alone in the preference primary, whose result was solely advisory and not binding on the delegation.

Neck and Neck Fight
 Scattered returns showed a neck and neck fight between the LeFlore-Jeff-Blairstown Republicans running for Senator Norris of Nebraska, and Walter J. Kohler and Andrew L. Kreutzer, less progressive, running as unaffiliated delegates, for Wisconsin's four seats in the convention as delegates at large.

Yesterday's balloting wound up the political calendar for the week with the exception of the Republican convention on Friday in Kentucky where Secretary Hoover's supporters are declared to be in charge of landing the state's entire 28 delegates.
 While the Wisconsin fight between Walsh and Smith could not be held as indicating the stronger of the two, a real contest between these two and Reed will take place in California May 1 when all three enter the primary with full slates of delegates.

More Smith Votes Seen
 Meanwhile, Smith's efforts to corral the nomination will be given impetus April 17, when she has stepped toward perfecting New York's slate of 90 delegates will be taken by the Democratic state central committee. The convention will select eight delegates at large, each with a half vote in the convention, to add to the 86 district delegates pledged to Smith which were chosen in yesterday's cut and dried primary.

Local Man To Open Store In Plainview

W. L. Meier, owner of the Meier Music store here, has opened a similar store in Plainview, it was learned here today. The store was put into operation today. A complete stock of music goods, phonographs, pianos and records will be maintained by Mr. Meier in Plainview.
 R. J. Preston, formerly of the store here, will have charge of the new business.

Agricultural courses lasting ten days are to be instituted for farmers in the Province University of Alberta, Canada.

ROAD AWARDS ARE STUDIED

WORK TO START SOON IN 17 COUNTIES ALLOWED AID

(By Associated Press.)
AUSTIN, April 4.—Highway department engineering forces Wednesday set about detailed work incident to the execution of contracts let Monday and Tuesday by the commission totalling $2,068,489 for road and bridge projects in 17 counties and for maintenance hard surfacing in 18 other counties.

Surfacing generally will begin when the weather is warmer and various construction projects probably will get under way soon.

Counties which will benefit in road and bridge awards: Matagorda, Guadalupe, Young, Wharton, Carson, Harris, Fayette, Houston, Wilacy, Washington, Walter, Wise, Gregg, Bexar, Caldwell, Tarrant and Randall.

Maintenance Benefits
 Benefitting in Maintenance: Brewster, Terrell, Ward, Falls, McLennan, Limestone, Angelina, McCordoches, Calhoun, Dewitt, Fayette, Bastrop, Lee, Gonzales, Maverick, Valverde, Brooks, Kleberg.

The counties of Bexar, Colorado, Brazos, Montgomery and Robertson were scheduled to figure in maintenance contracts but were not included when the rights-of-way they furnished was deemed inadequate by the commission. If they have provided it by April 24, contracts for their work will be let.

Al To Come South On Vacation Jaunt

ALBANY, N. Y., April 4 (AP).—Governor Smith is going on a vacation next week to Asheville, N. C., farther south than he has ever journeyed before.

He said the prospect of warm weather and plenty of opportunity for pursuing his favorite recreation—golf—rather than political expediency, caused his choice.

The governor hopes to leave not later than next Monday night, after spending Easter in Albany with his family. No members of the family will accompany him, present plans calling only for the inclusion of several personal friends who usually journey with him on golfing excursions.

The length of his stay at Asheville is undecided, but is probably two weeks.

After reading the testimony of Will Hays, we're beginning to wonder if the movie is such a safe place after all.

Of course the 3,000,000 circulation of the Post proves it is something the public does not want.

RAINFALL HOLDS GERMAN FLIERS IDLE IN DUBLIN

(By Associated Press.)
DUBLIN, April 4.—Their ardor undampened by continued rainfall, the German trans-Atlantic flight aspirants today prepared an artificial lagoon to enable their heavily laden plane to take the air at Baldonnel airfield.

Several hundred old railroad ties were brought to the airfield to extend the runway. Baron von Huenfeld, sponsor of the flight, hoped that this extended runway would enable it to rise before hitting the ground that has been softened by the rain.

Pilot, Backer, Silent
 Captain Herman Koehl, pilot, and the Baron maintained silence as to their plans and the rumor persisted that Colonel Fitzmaurice, head of the Free State air force, would act as relief pilot in place of Arthur Spindler.

The story was that Spindler had quit after a row last Thursday. The Bremen was being fueled on the runway for the hop and Spindler remarked that the weather was not suitable. The Baron reminded him that Captain Koehl was in command and the conversation became heated with the result that Spindler started for Berlin instead of New York.

Fire Wrecks Plant Of Scranton Paper
SCRANTON, Pa., April 4 (AP).—Employees had narrow escapes when the Scranton Republican building was destroyed by fire early today.

Five men were sent to hospital for burns.
 With all avenues of escape cut-off, men had to leap through windows and hang on the ledges two and three stories above the ground.

Using the plant of the Scranton Times, the Republican went to press after the fire.

The loss was estimated at $500,000. The fire started in the press room.

Realty Transfers Here Very Active
 Real estate transfers continue their straggling activity in Lubbock, according to the warranty deed records in the office of County Clerk Amos Howard.

Twenty three transfers filed during the first two days of the week totalled $29,276 in consideration, the records show. This brought the total for the year to near the three million dollar mark.

The normal heart beat of man is 72 per minute.

50 New Autos Sold Here Past Two Days

One of the best criterions of prosperity, sale of new automobiles continue to hold the lead of business activities in the city, the car registration records in the office of County Tax Collector I. F. Holland show. During the past two days, 50 new automobiles have been registered, bringing the total of new cars for the year to 371.

Delegates Named In New York Vote

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP).—Twenty-two Republican and 32 Democratic women, one of them Governor Smith's daughter, have been elected to attend the national conventions of the two parties. Only seven of them are delegates, however, three Republicans and four Democrats, the rest being alternates.

Mrs. Emily Smith Warner, daughter of the New York governor, was named from the 28th congressional district as an alternate.
 In addition to the district delegates elected in yesterday's primaries the Republicans are sending two women delegates-at-large and three alternates-at-large while the Dem-

New Advertising Scheme Is Evolved

AUSTIN, April 4 (AP).—A new plan for disseminating information about Texas to tourists has been drafted by Claude Teer, secretary of the highway commission.
 Mr. Teer proposes that each chamber of commerce in the bigger cities of the state send descriptive general folders to a list of travelers to be compiled weekly by the highway department.

Texan Named Head Of Light, Power Men

EDGEWATER, Miss., April 4 (AP).—J. G. Holtzclaw of Beaumont, vice-president and general manager of the Gulf States Utilities company, was elected president of the southwestern geographic division of the National Electric Light association in convention here today. He succeeds E. E. Armstrong of Gulfport, president of the Mississippi Power company. The southwestern division includes Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING
NEW ORLEANS, April 4 (AP)—Following an initial decline the cotton market rallied in early trading today in sympathy with firmness in New York, but turned easy again at the end of the first half hour as a storm warning and lost 4 points of the gain.

A storm warning for the Texas coast promising rains in the western portion where needed, promoted some selling and at the end of the first half hour prices were 4 to 6 points off from the highs.

The market steadied later in the morning on the apparent absence of rain in the west and some evidence of strength in the northern market. May advancing to 19.14, 15 points up from yesterday's close.

When the detailed weather report showed considerable rains in North and West Texas and in Oklahoma prices increased and May rallied to 19.02, July 18.81 and October 18.52, 12 to 15 points down from the highs and 3 to 4 points over yesterday's close.

NEW YORK TRADING
NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady unchanged to an advance of 7 points in response to a relatively firm Liverpool cables and failure of early weather reports to show any general rains in West Texas.

The advance met considerable selling, but it was absorbed on light setbacks, the market becoming rather more active and firmer toward the end of the first hour. July sold up to 19.28 and October to 19.03, net advances of 10 to 12 points. The trade seemed to be more influenced by bullish than bearish features in the weekly report of the weather bureau.

Selling was restricted by the outlook for unsettled weather with showers in the eastern belt, and the early advance extended to 19.37 for July and 19.06 for October, or 15 to 16 points net higher. Offerings increased at the market, however, the market eased later on reports of rains in the western belt. At midday prices were within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

STOCKS AND MONEY
WALL STREET TRADING
NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—The unexpectedly large increase in stock exchange member loans inspired sufficient selling to give stock prices a reactionary tone at the opening of today's market. Initial declines of 1 to 2 points were recorded by American Smelting, American Lumber, Chrysler, Kennecott, General Motors, General Electric, Packard, International Nickel, New York Central and Radio, Wright Aeronautical, which opened a sensational gain of 32 points yesterday, opened 4 points lower at 123 and then slipped to 127. Early losses of 1 to 2 points were quickly recovered and the market swung upward in response to a brisk demand for the rails, oils, public utilities and a selected assortment of pool specialties. Wright Aeronautical rallied from a low of 127 to a new high record at 138, or double the year's low. National Tea scored 11 3/4 points to a new peak at 210. Century ribbon ran up more than 4 points to a new top. Pittsburgh and West Virginia assented leadership of the railroad group by rapidly climbing 4 1/2 points while Chesapeake and Ohio, "Nickel Plate," Atchafalpa and St. Louis Southwestern preferred moved up a point or more.

The advance took place in the face of a number of unfavorable trade developments including a falling off in freight car loadings, a renewal of heavy gold exports to France, an increase in crude oil production and the announcement of the removal of British export restrictions on rubber next November.

Foreign exchanges opened firm with sterling cables quoted around $8.88 1/4. The closing was irregular. Stocks of all sorts went up in a spirited fashion in the late afternoon before heavy selling turned the list toward again. Total sales 3,100,000 shares.

CHICAGO TRADING
CHICAGO, April 4 (AP)—Wheat values averaged higher today in the early dealings. Reports of heavy damage by winter killing cutting demand from Ohio valley states, with excessive wind and need of rain in the Mississippi states southwest and west.

Opening 1-8 off to 5-8 up, wheat underwent a general sag but then rose all around to above yesterday's finish. Corn, oats and provisions were easy, corn starting unchanged to 3-8 higher, and subsequently showing general declines.

LOCAL ROTARY CLUB IN MEET

PLANS ON CONFERENCE ARE DISCUSSED AS CLUBMEN SESSION

Cheered by the announcement from District Governor Ellis H. Boyd at Fort Worth, that the 41st district of Rotary International, composed of clubs in Northwest Texas, had climbed for the first time into the first ten districts from a standpoint of attendance, the member of the Lubbock club held an enthusiastic meeting today at noon at Hotel Lubbock.

The district's attendance average for the month of February, International Rotary figures show was 90.42 per cent while the attendance record for the Lubbock club for the same month was 98.18. President Walter P. Jennings said:

At the regular weekly luncheon meeting today members of the club decided to inaugurate the club album plan and every member of the organization was instructed to have a picture taken by Friday night of this week.

J. O. Jones, veteran cattleman and a charter member of the club, was unanimously voted back into the organization after having been forced to spend a year in club inactivity, due to business matters which kept him out of the city frequently.

Cone Heads Program
S. E. Cone was in charge of the program of the day which included classification talks by Caille Dean, florist; Alvin Hendricks, retail grocer; and Bob Strickland, motor supply company manager. The talks were interesting and instructive. P. G. Stokes, Slaton finance company manager, made a few remarks for the Slaton club, pledging that organization's full cooperation in the 41st District conference, which will meet in Lubbock on April 19 and 20.

Following the meeting a session of the board of directors was held and conference committee chairmen also met to make reports of their work thus far.

Due to a convention of Parent-Teacher associations here next week the Rotary club will hold its next meeting at noon on Monday, April 9. President Jennings announced. The meeting will be held at Hotel Lubbock, he said.

HOTEL PLANS

will be used both for dining and dancing and most of the summer meals will be served there, officials say.

The addition will give the hotel a capacity of 270 rooms. Mr. Hedrick, the original architect of the hotel and also the Tech architect, said that it would require about six months to complete the building. He is to prepare plans as soon as possible and bids are to be requested within a short time. Construction is likely to start within the next 60 or 90 days.

day for the key to Chicago crime, to fit it—if it fits—in the keyhole of Chicago politics.

A federal grand jury which received instructions yesterday from Judge James H. Wilkinson was coached in the federal laws applicable to bombings such as those at the homes of U. S. Senator Deneen and Circuit Judge Swanson 10 days ago. The jurors were told that they are empowered to indict persons who attack or threaten a federal officer, persons who interfere with the voting rights of citizens, and persons who intimidate or corrupt witnesses in a legal proceeding.

"Hands Off" Policy
In another phase of the Chicago political situation the federal government was unofficially understood to have adopted a policy of "hands off." This was in the matter of authorizing the deputizing of several hundred marshals to guard the polls primary election day, next Tuesday.

A city hall report, unconfirmed from federal sources, was that the attorney general's office at Washington had decided that deputization of additional marshals to serve as poll guards would be contrary to law.

No new facts were divulged in connection with the federal arrest of Lorenzo Juliano and his reputed knowledge of recent Chicago bombings. Juliano was being kept in custody early today, according to Pat Roche, special agent of the federal intelligence unit, in the hope he would reveal further information. Juliano has persistently denied knowledge of the Deneen-Swanson and other political bombings.

Expect Important Findings
"All I can say now," said Roche, "is that very important developments in cleaning up bombings and murders may be expected within the next few days."

Word from Washington was that regardless of the stand of Chicago officials, the "vicious" campaign against liquor law violators would be continued here. Washington prohibition authorities were quoted by Chicago newspapers as denying that the operations of their men here were in any way connected with politics.

Bureau Plans Two New Gins On Plains

Two new gins of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association will be built on the plains during the coming season, it was learned today from the office of N. H. Payne, field representative. The gins will be placed at Idalou and Lorenzo. These additional establishments will be ready for operation at the start of the coming ginning season.

These new gins come as a result of the excellent success of the association's gins which were operated on the plains during the past two seasons, Mr. Payne said.

Thought For Today Eye for eye, tooth for tooth hand for hand, foot for foot. Deterioration XIX:21.

Revenge, we find is the subject pleasure of the subject mind. Juvenal.

Pride In Cities O Henry once wrote an amusing story about a supposedly cosmopolitan man who sat in a cafe and made fun of people who consumed by pride in their cities.

O Henry was only recognizing the fact that local pride is an ancient American characteristic that none of us ever quite outgrows.

Our patriotism begins by being aggressively provincial. Many a man has perished hugely to advance the theory that poverty-stricken, out-at-the-heels Muddy Flat is the most bustling up and coming town of its size in the middle west when all his hearers, having seen the place, knew that he was deluding himself pitifully.

This is sometimes laughable. But there is a sound reason for this traditional pride, and it has been a highly important factor in our national growth.

The first century saw a tremendous expansion in America. First there were wildernesses and untilled plains to be settled, cleared and turned into fruitful farm lands.

Then there were mines to be dug, roads to be built, factories to be established, industries to start.

It was an enormous job, the most enormous of its kind ever undertaken on earth. It required the entire attention of all the people. No time was left for the refinements of life. New towns were ugly and raw, but the people were too busy to beautify them. Men and women had to put up with drabness and uncleanliness.

So they compensated themselves by pretending that the drabness and uncleanliness did not exist. They made up for lack of color and beauty by telling one another that their towns were progressive, charming, delightful. They pretended that desolate God-forsaken settlements were outposts of the promised land. Cities, whose ugliness shocked Europeans into amazement, hence were extolled as the finest habitations man had ever brought forth.

And, oddly enough in all of these posturing there came to be a grain of truth. Dimly and with much befuddlement, Americans sensed that new country was not like any other country. That it held the seeds of something better, nobler than anything had had gone before. A vision of freedom, happiness and richness shone before their eyes. They foresaw poverty and ignorance, finally conquered and a new race, triumphant and strong, arising to give beauty and color to the cities they had founded.

That is why the American booster, often laughable, is being justified by his works. At bottom he was, and is right. Muddy Flat will yet outshine Paris.

New Insurance France has, supposedly, a "conservative" government. So far as we know, no one has ever accused Premier Poincare of any form of radicalism.

But the French have just adopted one of the most radical schemes of governmental insurance ever heard of. A fund of $200,000,000 will be raised annually through the collection from all workers and employers of 10 per cent of each worker's wage. This will go to build up a $400,000,000 fund, from which old age pensions, death benefits, disability payments and medical care will be paid a full half of the French population.

And this was adopted by a government often called reactionary! Imagine what would happen if that were even proposed over here. Apparently what is radical on one side of the Atlantic is something else on the other side.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says whenever a woman decides that there's no place like home you may be sure that something has happened at the club.

Four hundred fifty-three citizens of Lubbock went to the polls yesterday, spending probably 5 minutes each casting a vote. About 3,000 others who had the power to vote, but not the inclination, stayed in their homes or offices, too busy with other things to go to the polls.

But on yesterday afternoon and last night a "Human Fly" climbed the Hotel Lubbock and performed stunts to thrill and amaze two crowds totaling about 4,500 and of which no doubt half the people were people who voted. Each performance took about an hour.

On the surface it appears that more people in Lubbock are interested in the thrills and amusement to be drawn from a demonstration of acrobatics than are interested in doing something for their city. The Plainsman, however, doesn't believe that is a fact.

The average citizen—who did not vote in the municipal election yesterday—is not responsible for the low total of ballots cast. The leaders of the city are the ones who are to blame. Nobody—not even the biggest civic booster—can get a kick out of an election where three places are to be filled and there is only one of the places contested. You can't expect a voter to get worked up much in an election under those circumstances.

Frankly, the Plainsman, who didn't vote, is surprised that as many as 4,500 people did, as did under the circumstances.

This writer is of the opinion that every city election—or any other kind for that matter—should be contested. He is perfectly satisfied with the men chosen yesterday for the municipal political field.

Not long ago a group of public-spirited men, who had no axe to grind, made an effort to get a number of candidates into the municipal political field. They wanted a contest for the average voter. But if you had heard the answers they received as they attempted to put some civic step into the potential candidates, you would have thought that they were trying for a million dollars rather than for a million dollars.

As far as the Plainsman is concerned, there is no difference in public office-makers of different cities. As long as men are capable, honest and interested in improving their city—and that is sure that the men looking for the posts fill all those requirements with many talents left to spare—it makes little difference to this writer personally whether they are selected from a large field of candidates or whether they have no opposition for the office.

Too much political is undoubtedly a bumper crop of ballots until competition arises at the polls to give the average citizen a reason to cast his ballot.

That Man on Avenue Q says an example of wasted energy is telling a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man.

Well, folks, another one of our old friends is in the limelight again and although the Plainsman fully expects to be rewarded by the "mother" again by being like the opportunity should not go unnoticed. The gentleman in question is one of our frequent customers, Mr. William "Maggie" of "shoot first, collect afterward" fame.

Keep your good eye on the new columns for the next month or two—the wheels of justice grind exceedingly slow, you know—and maybe you'll see something further in connection with the Texas Bankers' association in Texas to take dead bank robbers. The grand jury at Rankin where a couple of collections were made in accordance with the offer, is in session to probe charges by Ranger Captain Frank Hamer that a wholesale murderer is operating in Texas to take advantage of the situation. Mr. Meese has been called, presumably to give details concerning the payments made individuals in the Upton county case.

The Plainsman doesn't think for a moment that Mr. Meese and his colleagues are guilty of anything except bad judgment in offering the reward but he is of the opinion that Captain Hamer's investigation will at least correct the bad judgment which marked the reward's offer.

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes."—Byron

We, The People, Aren't Even Close To Government, Says Fannie Hurst, Famous Writer, To Correspondent Dutcher

NEW YORK, April 4.—Once a year the immigrant boy who changed the map of Fifth Avenue celebrates the day when he got his first job as a journeyman painter.

And though he was able to make even the Rockefeller respect his power, Benjamin Winter holds his anniversary in a slaughter house "down by the docks." He allows no "soup and fan" at his dinners, providing his guests with painters' overalls at the door. The more-or-less beef comes to the tables in old tin lunch pails. His guests range from newspaper men to real estate dignitaries and city officials.

He's a stocky man with broad shoulders but by years of hard labor. He has the arms and hands of the working man, there's something boyish about his face, particularly when he smiles, he likes the implied flattery of a joke on himself when it isn't too rough; he doesn't like his stories to be too polite. There is nothing of the overnight millionaire in his behavior or appearance. At his annual parties he resembles more that average man who has worked hard and is relaxing at a labor day picnic.

Yet there's much about Benjamin Winter that is symbolic of New York. Being no respecter of aristocratic traditions or honors of social position, he can take his wrecking crews ruthlessly, through the mansions of the money and charge them over right into the New York of cloud-scratching apartments. He can—and does. And so he precipitated the old Vanderbilt mansion. Thereafter, one by one the brownstone aristocracy of Fifth Avenue was razed. Today the number of private homes on this highway of social power and wealth can be numbered. Winter dared once to take over property around the corner from the Rockefeller. The oil barons tried to halt him demanding that a limit be set to the inroads of business property. But their millions failed. The immigrant boy from Poland went right ahead with his skyscrapers. This said he, is a new age, an age that snaps its fingers in the face of snags and conservative brown fronts, an age that tears down and builds up.

And that is New York and this is, to some extent, the answer to New York. A sandwich man whose appearance reminded me of Lon Chaney in most of his disguises was parading the lower Broadway bell the other day advertising a beauty parlor. And another one whose trousers had been patched beyond any further hope of salvation was carrying the sign of a cleaning and pressing concern. But the last word in the ironic has long seemed to me that broken, dejected old fellow who stands in front of a Manhattan bank bearing a sign that tells you to save your money "against a rainy day."

Jazz may be what it is, but Joe Howard, composer and vaudeville man, tells me that he still gets the biggest applause, whether in New York or Philadelphia, with such tunes as "Chinatown" and "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now."

Miss Hurst is not one of those who credit the senate for its numerous investigations and inquiries. The senatorial inquiry, she believes, is vital institution.

Miss Hurst recently brought out a book called, "A President Is Born." Without knowing anything about the novel, your correspondent became bold and asked her when and where. The next incident was born. (Everyone here is asking such questions these days.)

By RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer WASHINGTON, April 4.—Tens of thousands of persons, quite a few of them distinguished persons, come to and leave Washington every year, and no one ever asks them the perfectly legitimate question, likely to provoke many interesting answers: "What do you think of our government?"

This neglect may be largely due to Washington's smug sense of self-sufficiency, which is rather thick except in the case of politicians who have to count their votes closely. On the other hand, it may be that the question was put some time long ago and revealed that the average visitor never did think of his government and hardly knew he had one. Personally, your correspondent has been appalled at the number of fairly intelligent and supposedly well-informed persons who ask him whether Borah is a congressman, if congress doesn't meet, at the White House and whether every big city doesn't send a senator here.

The outsider who comes to Washington, said Fannie Hurst, "is agreeably shocked to learn that there really is a capital.

"We, the well known people, pretend to run our government. But we aren't even close to it." We develop a great many things, but we never bother to think about them. We don't act."

Did Miss Hurst, in her goings about, find any particular interest among the citizenry on what went on here?

"No, the slightest!" replied Miss Hurst. "An important and intelligent type refuses to have anything to do with it. A quiet, natural, unexcited spirit is abroad in the land, and the intelligent vote in this country, under our form of government, is really impervious."

"Where's that?"

"Mass. Hurst thought a few billion yards of red tape ought to be thrown out of the government. She was the darned thing speeded up.

"The human mind," she explained, "has a certain capacity for sustained interest. Our one great defect is that we in this country are speeded up to a certain tempo. "But the mills of these governmental gods grind slowly.

"The rest of us are slaves to time. The government isn't and it simply doesn't keep up with the pace. It is quite natural that the foremost marchers should forget those who struggle far in the rear. "A government of the people, by the people and for the people might be expected to cater to the temperment of the people.

"But it doesn't—and that applies to congress, the courts and the whole system, which travels at the same old pace."

CRIMINALS VS. SOCIETY

The study of crime made by Judge Kavanaugh of Chicago points once more to the weakness of practically the entire American system of dealing with offenders against society and the law. That there should be some 350,000 criminals in the United States, the time number of murders should run up to 12,000 a year and that the annual cost of crime should run annually into huge sums, the country has heard many times. There also have been reminders of the indifferent public sentiment of the detective work and legal processes and of the extreme efforts made in defense of criminals which the Chicago judge lists as factors in the embourgeoisement of American lawlessness.

Yet the country has been drifting along with a display of alertness only here and there and without any certain assurance that the criminal is being checked. The fundamental difficulty is that it is an unequal, decidedly contest that is being waged between the criminal and society. The advantages are heavily in favor of the offender. His chances of arrest, it has been shown, are limited while the chances of conviction and punishment are extremely slight. And once the criminal is brought into the hands of the law attention turns largely to him and his welfare instead of to the welfare of society. The offense soon is forgotten; the offender be-

Hens Profitable To Harris County Man

HOUSTON, April 4.—A net profit of $1,156.80 from a pen of 310 first-year white Leghorns was made last year by Charles J. Shaffer of this city, C. L. Loebbridge, Harris county agent to whom the records were submitted, announced. The profits figured $3.73 per hen. The owner got 66,030 eggs from the flock and sold them for something more than $1,900.

"The flock," Mr. Loebbridge said, "had an average of 213 eggs per bird. The expense, including mash, each feed, grit, disinfectant and all other feeds, was $751.26 and the eggs sold for a yearly average of $4.23 cents a dozen."

Another pen of 290 younger pullets and hens produced 153 eggs per hen and made Mr. Shaffer a net profit of $1.65 per bird. A large part of the eggs, however, were laid in low market months and brought only approximately 30 cents a dozen.

2,000,000 Girls In U S Work For Living

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Nearly two million girls under 20 years of age are working for a living in the United States.

Mrs. Mary Anderson, director of the woman's bureau of the department of labor, set this figure today in connection with the issuance by the department of a poster called "Daughters of America."

"The poster shows a group of factory girls in the noise and stir of the work room, with distant windows that suggested the freedom of the out-of-doors, and ends with the question: 'They have youth—have they opportunity?'"

Mrs. Anderson said that the care given the working girls by their employers and communities in general is of great importance to their welfare and to society in general.

"Well, anyway, answered the lovely lady, 'we know he has been born."

Your correspondent braced himself against the radiator he had been sharing with Miss Hurst and admitted the probability. But—"From the standpoint of general equipment," said Miss Hurst, "who lives in New York, it ought to be Al Smith. The whole tolerance and decency of the nation is at stake. This opposition to Smith based on his religion is probably the most important issue we have faced in a long time. Our operation will be proved or disproved by his election or defeat. The issue is one of man's prejudice to man."

"Wasn't it just possible that Smith might be licked by other factors than his religion?"

"I don't believe," said Miss Hurst, "that he will be defeated on any other ground."

SNAKES GREAT AID TO MAN IN WAR ON PESTS

THREE OF 130 SPECIES IN NORTH AMERICA HELD POISONOUS

HOUSTON, April 4.—The non-poisonous snake is a great benefactor to mankind, and of 130 species of reptiles in North America only three are poisonous. Prof. H. P. Atwater, Houston naturalist, declares. He said that few offenses could be charged and proven against snakes in spite of the natural born human prejudice against them. "It is a regrettable fact that the habits of snakes are so little known, the professor said. "Observation has proved that their food consists largely of rats, mice, gophers and other destructive rodents. Many species live largely on crickets, grasshoppers, centipedes and other noxious insects. Of the many harmless snakes, the black snake and the spreading adder are the most useful.

130 Different Species
"There are about 130 different species of snakes in North America, of which only three, moccasins, rattlers and coral snakes, are poisonous. The noticeable increase in snakes in recent years is undoubtedly due to the indiscriminate slaughter of their enemies. Hawks and eagles are great snake killers. The Mexican eagle, formerly common in Southwest Texas, and now nearly extinct, put in most of its time killing and eating snakes. The road runner or chaparral cock kills all kinds of small snakes. The king snake is a great foe of the rattler and shunks destroy many of their own species as a collector of natural history specimens for many years during which time I have some narrow escapes. It is that 99 times out of 100, even a poisonous snake will retract to a hiding place at the sight of a human."

HOUSTON, April 4.—A large part of the municipal brain of Texas will be in Denton, May 7-8, Harvey W. Draper, executive secretary of the League of Texas Municipalities, says in announcing plans and tentative program for the league's annual meeting. Plans are being made for the attendance of some 200 mayors, commissioners, city attorneys and other city officials. No phase of city government will escape discussion.

The league now is sixteen years old, and its activities cover a large field of municipal affairs. Its headquarters are in Houston, and member cities may avail themselves of the services of its engineer, legal expert and auditor. Mayor R. E. Thomson of El Paso is president.

City Planning Important
The tentative program for this year's convention makes a place for discussion of city planning to be led by some national experts. The name of Mrs. W. L. Lawton, chairman of the National Committee for the Restriction of Outdoor Advertising, appears on the program.

Other subjects to be discussed include municipal accounting, ordinance revision, public utility regulation and tax collection.

Invitations will be given city officials and cities not members of the league to attend the convention. Arrangements will be made for any of those at the convention who wish to go to Dallas after it ends to attend a national conference on city planning, May 7 to 10.

SEWARD, Alaska, April 4.—If Captain George H. Wilkins hops off to fly over the top of the world tomorrow he will take off at 6 o'clock in the morning. This was the substance of a radio message last night from his operating base at Point Barrow, the most northerly point in Alaska.

Weather conditions, he said, would largely determine whether he should try to make the 2,100-mile flight to Spitzbergen on the other side of the globe. His plans, however, were not definite.

Wilkins hopes to explore the blind spot of the Arctic in a plane piloted by Carl Ben Eielson, Sourdough Aviator. This is their third and most ambitious attempt to explore the polar sea from Barrow. The principal objects of their proposed flight are to find the fabled Arctic continent and study weather tendencies.
