Pollsters In Doubt As Balloting Nears

(NEA Telephoto)

CONFIDENTIAL LETTER—Maj. Gen. Orlando C. Mood, left, said a letter he received from Gen. James Van Fleet was "confidential and personal." General Van Fleet, at right with his wife, said in the letter he had been unable to get permission to replace American GI's in the front lines with ROK troops.

Adlai Insists Ike Victory Would Put Taft In Saddle

CHICAGO —(AP)— Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson declared Saturday night if Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is elected President it would mean the "most reactionary elements" in the Republican Party would run the country.

The Democratic presidential nominee brought his campaign travels to a close with a major speech in Chicago Stadium. Stevenson's vote stumping took him into 35 of the 48 states and covered 32,000 miles.

In his Chicago speech, Stevenson made it clear that he included Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin among reactionary elements of which he was speaking. Then he said:

"Nothing has happened to indicate the general, having yielded to these men throughout his campaign, would suddenly be able to take his administration away from them—even if he wished to do so. They are the men who dominate the Republican Party—and they are the men who would run the country."

Stevenson has called Eisenhower the captive of Taft and has argued that Taft lost the presidential nomination but won the nominee.

The Democratic candidate said the contention has been made that a Republican triumph next Tuesday would consolidate the position of progressives in the party and that a Republican defeat would "enable the most reactionary elements to take over the Republican Party."

"This seems to me about the most fantastic argument of the year," he declared. "For it suggests that Senator Taft, having laid down the general's program, will be humbled and routed by the novel experience of Republican victory.

"It suggests that the junior senator from Wisconsin will be chastened by the heady wine of triumph.

"I see no foundation for these wistful hopes. It is obvious that these men would be emboldened by victory—that they would regard it as the result and the vindication of squalid tactics in these closing days of the campaign."

Military Moves In On Airpark Monday

Training planes from the Webb Air Force Base at Big Spring will begin using Midland Airpark as an auxiliary landing field Monday.

City Aviation Director Clyde Sharrer said Saturday the opening date for use of the field was set by military authorities after operational procedure for both civilian and military craft had been worked out.

Both types of planes will use the field north of the city and civilian aircraft will be given right-of-way in all landings and takeoffs.

Sharrer said the Air Force will begin using the field on a limited basis with the number of aircraft increasing gradually.

No students will be based in Midland. They will be flown daily from the base at Big Spring for training in the propeller-driven T-28 aircraft at Airpark.

A mobile radio control unit will be maintained by the Air Force to control both military and civilian aircraft. In addition, there will be ground control devices such as flares and signal lights.

Sharrer said that, under the plan worked out with military authorities, the east-west runway will be used as the preferential runway inasmuch as the other runways are in line with residential areas.

However, when wind velocities are greater than seven miles an hour, light civilian aircraft will be cleared to utilize the runway most closely aligned with the wind direction.

Military aircraft have been instructed to avoid flying over the City of Midland or residential districts.

Aircraft will use a left-hand traffic pattern when entering the east-west runway from the west or the north-south runway from the south. The right-hand pattern will be used when landing from the opposite directions.

In Odessa, the vote was 496 to 81 in favor of the proposal, while Goldsmith endorsed it, 17-0, and Penwell, 8-1. Notrees cast four votes for and four against.

Funds from the bond issue will be used to finance construction of three new elementary schools, a new junior high school in Odessa, a combination junior high school and elementary school for negroes, and additions to two elementary schools and Odessa High School.

Gifts Continue Pouring In To Boost Red Feather Total

Returns in Midland's 1952 Community Chest finance campaign Saturday totaled $75,466.33 as cash gifts and pledges continued to pour into campaign headquarters.

Campaign leaders, jubilant over the skyrocketing receipts and the generous response accorded by Midlanders generally, said the campaign headquarters in the Petroleum Building will remain open indefinitely to receive and tabulate late contributions.

Although the drive officially is ended, workers are urged to continue their efforts until all assigned prospects have been contacted. Persons not solicited in the drive are invited to mail their gifts to Community Chest, P. O. Box 3000, Midland.

John E. Reid, campaign coordinator, said Saturday all divisions of the campaign have exceeded their respective quotas by wide margins.

Divisions Exceed Quotas

A tabulation by divisions was announced, as follows: Advance $26,750; Special $16,000.50; Employe $15,200.76; Commercial $8,961.71; General $8,553.36.

Hundreds of Midland residents participated in the successful campaign, which opened early in October. The record quota was attained in less time than ever before in a Chest finance campaign here.

Success of the fund-raising effort was termed by leaders "one of the greatest accomplishments in Midland's history."

Joe T. Dickerson, campaign chairman, again expressed appreciation to division chairmen, team captains, volunteer workers and donors—"everyone who had a part in the success of the campaign."

Police Department Aid

Special appreciation was extended members of the Police Department who made calls to pick up Community Chest contributions in all parts of the city.

Agencies participating in Community Chest funds are: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Center, Latin American Youth Center, Goodfellows, Salvation Army, USO, and Colored Day Nursery.

Representatives of each of the agencies have issued "thank you" messages to Midland citizens for their prompt and generous giving to Community Chest.

'VOTE EARLY,' OFFICIALS PLEAD—

First Two-Party County Election Rolls To Climax

Midland County's first bi-partisan political campaign in its history neared the end of the trail Saturday as election officials handled last minute details to prepare the way for Tuesday's general election.

From the officials came a plea that voters go to the polls as early as possible to cast their votes Tuesday so the mammoth job of counting the votes can be completed as early as possible.

"If everyone who can will vote early Tuesday," said County Judge Clifford C. Keith, the impresario of the election in Midland, "we will be able to tally the ballots through the day.

"If everyone waits until the last minute, it will mean our elections workers will have to work on through the night."

Precinct officials will continue at the tallying job, he said, until the last vote is counted.

Rally Monday Night

Meanwhile, the eight candidates for contested local offices prepared to make a last-minute appearance Monday night at a rally sponsored by the Midland League of Women Voters.

The rally, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m., will be held in the City-County Auditorium at Colorado and Missouri Streets and the public is invited.

Scheduled to speak are:

Democrat W. M. Stewart and Republican Mahlon Keel, for Precinct 4 county commissioner.

John Braue, immediate past president of the Midland Toastmasters Club, will be master of ceremonies and will introduce the speakers.

Mrs. Richard B. Dorn and Mrs. M. B. Taubman are co-chairmen of the League's Voters Service Committee arranging the rally.

As the election date neared, County Clerk Rosenelle Cherry finished the job Saturday of assembling election supplies for the seven voting precincts. The ballot boxes and all other paraphernalia will be ready for distribution Monday morning.

Mrs. Cherry reported that a last-minute rush Friday brought to 1,536 the total number of absentee ballots either already cast or mailed out. She said 754 had been voted already while 782 other ballots have been mailed.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Seven Polling Places

Precinct 1 (North Side Fire Station) — Hank Avery, presiding; Mrs. Noel G. Oates, Mrs. Otis Ligon and Mrs. Bryan Denson.

High Drama, Muck-Raking Cloud Issues

By The Associated Press

The 1952 presidential campaign, a strange blend of high drama and fierce muck-raking, approached its hour of great decision Sunday with politicians and pollsters tormented by doubts about the outcome.

Despite a brave front put up by strategists in both camps, most of them still were "running scared" on the big question:

Will the sovereign American voter choose Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower or Gov. Adlai Stevenson next Tuesday to cope with world communism and a crowding host of domestic problems in the next four years?

Forecasts of generally fair weather strengthened predictions of a mammoth outpouring of 55 million or more votes—far more than the previous record of 49,820,000 set in the Roosevelt-Willkie contest of 1940.

The voters will choose, not only a President and vice president, but 34 senators, 432 House members, 29 state governors and a multitude of lesser officials. Maine elected its governor, a senator and three representatives, all Republicans, in September.

Out Of Adjectives

The electorate had been treated to a campaign which ranks in bitterness with any of the past—and toward the end there were signs that some of the citizenry had become bored with it all. The candidates had in many cases run out of adjectives and were repeating themselves.

The encounter between Eisenhower's "great crusade" and Stevenson's "talk sense" drive at first looked like it might be a gentleman's argument. But it speedily became a general brawl. President Truman, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of

Eisenhower Warns Europe May Be Next Russian Target

NEW YORK. —(AP)— Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Saturday night called Korea an important symbol of Communist aggression but said the free world's attention must never be diverted from the possibility of a Soviet attack on Western Europe.

In a nation-wide television and radio address, the Republican presidential nominee said the task of stemming Red aggression is a global problem, and added:

Eisenhower went on Saturday night's program after pledging earlier to carry out a 10-point "program of progress" for America if he wins the presidency in next Tuesday's election.

In his earlier statement, Eisenhower said that on this weekend before election day "the American people" have a right to a brief summary of the pledges that I have made to them during this campaign."

His 10 Points

Eisenhower pledged:

1. That as President he would serve "all the people irrespective of their race, their creed, their national origin, and irrespective of how they voted."

2. That the social gains achieved by the people "whether enacted by a Republican or a Democratic administration are not only here to stay but are here to be improved and extended."

3. That he would work for "restoration of integrity and competence in our national government."

4. That the full resources of a GOP Administration would be thrown into the battle against inflation.

5. That the Republicans will eliminate "waste, inefficiency and duplication of government," along with taking steps that will make a tax cut possible.

6. That he would "support and strengthen, not weaken, the laws that protect the American worker."

7. That he will support programs to promote a healthy, prosperous agriculture, based on the present law calling for government price supports of basic commodities.

8. That he would devote himself "to making an equality of opportunity a living reality for every American." He said there is "no room left in America for second-class citizenship for anybody."

9. That a Republican Administration would "stamp out disloyalty in government" without engaging in "witchhunts or character assassination."

10. That a Republican Administration would pursue a "firm consistent foreign policy with one primary goal — the attainment of peace in the world for ourselves and for all people."

Fred A. Wycoff, 64, Midland Executive, Dies In Road Crash

Fred A. Wycoff, 64, manager of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company of Midland, was killed almost instantly Saturday afternoon when his automobile collided head on with a heavy transport truck near Artesia, N. M.

Well known in Midland and a resident here since 1929, he had left for New Mexico Saturday morning on a business trip and was scheduled to return Sunday.

Artesia police, who investigated the accident, said it happened about 3:45 p.m. (Midland time) 16 miles south of Artesia on the Artesia-Carlsbad highway.

Police said Wycoff, who was alone in the automobile, apparently died instantly.

His body was taken to the Paulin Funeral Home in Artesia and probably will be returned to Midland Sunday.

A native of Kansas, he moved to Midland from Oklahoma City in 1929 and resided at 721 Kansas Street.

Surviving are the widow, two daughters, Frieda Wycoff of Midland and Mrs. Maxine Smith of Elsa, and a son, Glenn Wycoff of Farmington, N. M.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed Saturday night, but the body probably will be forwarded from here to Enid, Okla., for interment.

District Legionnaires Go Mildly Crazy As Prelude To Serious Session Sunday

Several hundred American Legionnaires from throughout West Texas arrived in Midland Saturday to open up the two-day Fall convention of the 16th District of their organization.

And Midland wasn't the same Saturday.

While the members of the Auxiliary sat around Legion Hall and visited and gossiped, the men went mildly crazy Saturday afternoon as the 40 and 8 staged its zany "Wreck" in front of Hotel Scharbauer on Wall Street.

The "Wreck" marked the initiation of 26 "goofs" and the hapless men kept Wall Street in a turmoil with their crazy antics.

They stopped motorists, washed their windshields with mops, swept out their automobiles and generally played havoc with what usually is considered the normal flow of traffic on the busy thoroughfare.

But the crazy antics of Saturday were only the preliminaries to the more serious business of Sunday's sessions.

There was a reception Saturday afternoon, with the Woods W. Lynch post as host, and there was a dance Saturday night.

Two or three hundred visitors from the area extending from Midland to El Paso and from Presidio to Lubbock arrived for the opening-day preliminaries.

Sunday will begin with a golf tournament opening at 7 a.m. at the Ranchland Hill Coutry Club.

A joint meeting of the Legion and the Auxiliary will be held at 10:45 a.m. and solemn Memorial Services will be held at 11 a.m. in the City-County Auditorium.

Here the Legionnaires will gather to hear addresses by Albert D. Brown of Austin, Texas department commander, and Harvey G. Foster, special agent in charge of the El Paso office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Maury H. Albert of Kermit, 16th District commander, will preside. Other district officers include Robert E. Brown of Pyote, vice commander; Carter Magendie of Kermit, adjutant, and Mrs. Lillian Beaver of Pyote, district auxiliary president.

Among the special guests at Sunday's sessions will be Eugene L. Jackson of Cisco, 5th District commander, and Mrs. F. C. Canfield of Canyon, 5th District Auxiliary president.

The business sessions Sunday afternoon will be followed by a buffet supper at the Legion Hall.

Bing Crosby's Wife Dixie Dies With Family At Side

Mrs. Crosby, who had been in a coma since Monday, succumbed in her Beverly Hills home with her family by her side. She became critically ill last week and doctors had said there was no chance for survival.

She died at approximately 10 a.m.

Receives Sacraments

Mrs. Crosby was received into the Roman Catholic Church last Monday, the day before she sank into a coma. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick Concannon said he baptized her and she since had received sacraments including extreme unction.

The priest said: "She had asked to be baptized many months ago. The intention has always been there."

Mrs. Crosby rallied sufficiently after her operation for Bing to make a movie location trip to France. She had been in ill health several years.

When he returned by train from New York last Saturday, Dixie disregarded her doctor's orders, got out of bed and met him at the depot in Los Angeles. As a result, she had a relapse next day.

Dixie Lee Crosby, a star of Broadway musical comedies and the screen in the late '20's, was born Wilma Wyatt in Harriman, Tenn., Nov. 4, 1911.

A gifted singer and dancer, petite and blonde, Dixie won a blues singing contest at the College Inn in Chicago's Sherman House. This led to a singing engagement at the Lincoln Tavern in the same city. She adopted her new professional name, Dixie Lee.

On Broadway, at 17, she had a featured role during the entire run of the popular musical, "Good News." Critics called her the state's foremost Southern blues singer.

Bing was a little-known singer with Gus Arnheim's band at the Cocoanut Grove, in Los Angeles' Ambassador Hotel, when he and Dixie met. She liked to recall a movie producer's telling her: "If you marry that Crosby character, you'll have to support him the rest of your life."

They were married Sept. 16, 1930. Bing was 27, Dixie 18.

JayCees Set Ball Rolling For Big Yule

Preliminary correspondence to assure one of the biggest Christmas celebrations ever to be held in Midland now is being mailed by the sponsoring Midland JayCees, E. Sherman (Bud) White, general chairman, announced Saturday.

Ken Durham mailed letters to 250 business firms and organizations Friday, urging them to enter a float in the colorful downtown parade to be unreeled December 4. Durham plan to follow this up with additional letters in the weeks to come.

Letters have been mailed to public schools in this area inviting them to have an entrant in the "Miss Christmas Spirit" contest, and to have their band participate in the parade.

White announced that permission has been obtained for use of one of the Midland theaters to stage the children's Yule party on December 22.

Charles Lacey is heading a committee soliciting advertising from business firms with proceeds to be used to finance the Christmas celebration.

Christmas trees already have been ordered by the JayCees and will be placed on sale December 6 at a convenient downtown location.

Funeral services will be conducted in Electra but arrangements had not been completed.

Survivors include his widow, two daughters, two brothers, two sisters, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barrow, Electra.

Stevens Given 30-Day Stay Of Execution At Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE —(AP)— Lester D. Stevens, who had said earlier in the day that "I'm giving my life for another man's crime," was given a 30-day state of execution Friday.

Gov. Allan Shivers signed the stay about seven hours before Stevens, convicted of murder in the 13-cent robbery and fatal beating of a Panhandle recluse, was to be executed.

The Board of Pardons and Paroles recommended the 30-day stay to permit Stevens' attorney to present additional evidence in an appeal for clemency for the 51-year-old Amarillo man. Earlier the board had rejected a plea.

Stevens cried when told he would not be executed shortly after midnight Saturday morning. "I know God's will will be done," were his only words.

He was convicted of murder in the robbery and fatal beating of Joshua Blocher, 85-year-old eccentric recluse who had founded the small community of Progress in Bailey County.

Another Amarillo man, Thomas Livesay, 30, was convicted in Blocher's death. Livesay was given a life sentence in a separate trial.

Fortune Discovered

Both Stevens and Livesay admitted that they, together, robbed Blocher of 13 cents—but each insisted that it was the other who beat Blocher to death.

Six weeks after the slaying, Blocher's fortune—an estimated $10,000 in $100, $50, and $20 bills—was found in jars buried beneath the dirt floor of the old man's shack.

Stevens, in death row at the Huntsville state prison, had wept bitterly Friday and said: "I'm giving my life for another man's crime."

"I'm not guilty of the crime, and it's hard to die for something you didn't do, however, I still trust in the Almighty to see me through," he said.

Reynolds Returns From New York

Harry P. Reynolds, who recently attended the annual meeting of the regional governors of the National Society of Appraisers in New York City, returned home Saturday.

Reynolds, governor of Region Six, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Louisiana, addressed the Columbia Society of Real Estate Appraisers last week. He also delivered an address to the real estate appraisal class of Columbia University, and took part in the Sigmund Rothschild television show.

TEXAS YOUNGSTERS POCKET $166,052.17—

Checks Go Out To Winners In State Fair Competition

DALLAS —(AP)— The State Fair of Texas has mailed checks totaling $166,052.17 to 781 Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys and girls in 175 Texas counties.

The $154,220.32 paid for 1,120 of steers, lambs and pigs put up by 620 boys and girls was $22,778.30 more than was paid for 879 head last year, livestock manager Ray W. Wilson said. He said this broke all State Fair records both for the number of animals and the amount of money paid for them.

A total of $9,629.35 was paid for 775 turkeys sold by 80 youngsters and $2,192.50 was paid for 810 broilers sold by 81 boys and girls, Wilson said.

Prices paid for all animals and poultry were substantially higher than current market prices, Wilson said. The $3 a pound paid to Ann White, Big Spring, by Hotel Adolphys, Dallas, for her grand champion steer was one of the best prices ever brought by a junior steer at the fair. The 975-pound animal sold for $2,925.

Record Prices

Not including the grand champions, average price per pound included: 120 prime steers, 46.3 cents; 119 choice steers, 39.2 cents; 24 good steers, 33.1 cents; 229 lambs, 36.5 cents; 79 top pigs, 37.1 cents; 510 group lot pigs, 23 cents. Even the 23 cents a pound for the group lot pigs was 4 cents above the current market price, Wilson pointed out.

Whopper Didn't Get Away And Story Of Catch Won't

EASTBOURNE, ENGLAND—(AP)—A Sussex fisherman who came up with a whale of a fish story Saturday bemoaned the fame his tale has brought him.

Vivian Gell said crowds knocked at his door before breakfast demanding to hear again and again how he tossed an anchor on a 50-foot line of rope into the sea and pulled out a two-ton whale.

"My phone has been ringing all the time—fishermen, students, and just ordinary people, wanting to hear the story first-hand. I got a bit tired, but believe me, I'd no need to embroider the story. My fish has not got bigger as time goes on," said Gell, 42.

There were other disadvantages too. The Coast Guard insisted he guard his catch to see it is not washed away by the tide. So Gell had to get up at 1 a.m. to stand watch.

Shivers Warns Against 'Party Loyalty' Pressure

AUSTIN —(AP)— Gov. Allan Shivers said Saturday voters should beware of politicians who claim party regularity is an end in itself.

"They are not thinking of the best interests of the nation, but of their own interests," he said in an early-morning state-wide radio address.

He quoted Adlai Stevenson as saying in a Hartford, Conn., speech during this campaign: "We must look at the record and character of the candidates, not at their party labels. I will not accept the proposition that party regularity is more important than political ethics."

"As for me, I am convinced the right man is Ike Eisenhower," Shivers said.

Native-Born Americans Shun Communism, Says FBI Chief

WASHINGTON —(AP)— J. Edgar Hoover said Saturday native-born Americans in general don't go for communism—and he offered some statistics to prove it.

In an article in the current issue of Pathfinder magazine, the FBI director said his bureau recently reviewed the origins of 5,395 leading members of the Communist party in the United States, and came up with these findings:

1. Only 411 were negroes—"strong evidence that the American negro is not being hoodwinked by these false messiahs."

2. Of the remaining 4,984 leaders, all white, 4,555 or 91 1/2 per cent were foreign-born or had strong alien ties—for example, marriage to a foreigner or foreign parentage.

3. More than half of the top American Reds have their origins in Russia or her satellites.

Hoover said he is frequently asked "how can Americans be such dupes" as to embrace communism.

"First of all," he wrote, "the American Communists are not real Americans. They have become fanatic converts to communism and have sold their birthright for a mess of pottage.

"Communism's greatest appeal is to some of the foreign-born and their offsprings, although their propaganda does not flourish among the great majority of foreign-born who come to America seeking freedom and opportunity."

Party Membership Drops

The FBI chief reported three months ago that the known Communist Party members in the United States had dropped off to 24,847, which compared with his figure of more than 40,000 in early 1951.

He said Saturday the arrests and convictions of party leaders on charges of conspiracy to overthrow the government by violence has disrupted the party's work, deprived it of anything resembling good organization." But, he added, the party's turn underground has required the use of more agents to keep track on party activities.

He said some leaders have changed their names, bases of operations, mode of life and physical appearances, using plastic surgery in some instances.

On the other hand, said Hoover, the general public has become more alert in reporting to the FBI and other security agencies occurences which they might have let pass unnoticed in other times.

"We have good indications of what is going on in the Communist Party," he said. "The tightening of their own efforts at security is a good index of the effect of our work. Despite these efforts on their part, we know what they are doing."

HERE ON FURLOUGH

Pvt. Johnnie N. Brewer is spending a 20-day furlough in Midland. He has been stationed at Fort Hood and is scheduled to report to Camp Stoneman, Calif. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Brewer, 307 East Ohio Street. Brewer has been in the Army since January.

SHE GOT A GOOD STEER—Faye Mugge, 15-year-old, 4-H Club girl from Claghorn, Ia., stands proudly behind "Shanty," her entry in the American Royal Livestock Show at Kansas City, Mo. The 1025-pound Angus was declared Junior Champion Steer of the show.

SHE FINDS "SWEET" IDEA ALL WET—Eleanor Benveniste, who is a TV actress in Hollywood, decided to help promoters of National Honey Week "feather" their nest by allowing herself to be coated with three gallons of honey, left. Eleanor thought she'd be tickled to let bystanders toss feathers at her, but found the idea was "all wet," at right, when she tried to wash off the gooey mess.

Forest Fire Losses Staggering

By The Associated Press

Southeast Texas forests still burned Saturday. The State Forest Service tersely summed up a week of hopeless fire fighting in terms as dry as the Autumn-colored woods.

The service told of more than 20,000 acres of timber charred in one day, Friday, worst of the year —and of more than 50,000 acres burned in five days earlier in the week.

Fire fighters faced fewer blazes Saturday — but careless hunters still tramped the woods and there was no hope of rain to offset untended camp fires and discarded cigarettes.

Smoke blinded lookout towers in the Woodville district. Heavy layers of smoke—left by 18 fires which burned almost 8,000 acres Friday — cut visibility to zero. Five fires burned Saturday in 520 acres of the Woodville district. There were three fires burning 125 acres in the Kirbyville district.

Throughout East Texas, Forest Service Headquarters reported, 26 fires were out of control. There had been 61 Friday.

Most Critical In Years

A. D. Folweiler, director of the service, called the week "the most critical in recent years."

Many parts of the nation were in as bad shape — or worse. No fire area could expect rain.

Arkansas and Missouri, among the states hardest hit, banned hunting. The biggest Arkansas fire of the season swept over 10,000 acres of timber near Camden Friday.

Des Moines and Marshalltown, Iowa, declared states of emergency because of danger from woods fires. Emergency regulations were slapped on 17,500,000 acres of national and state forest land in northern Wisconsin.

Folweiler said:

"In the last week, 13 homes and other dwellings have been destroyed by forest fires in East Texas. Livestock has been killed, fences burned, hay crops and barns destroyed in addition to damage to the forest resources."

NO PAY

Although their duties require most of their time, both the chairman and the leader of the London County Council receive no salary. The chairman has the use of a car and an office, and the aid of a secretary.

Taft Lists States 'Cinched' For Ike

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Senator Robert A. Taft says he believes Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will win the presidency—perhaps by a "large vote."

In a relaxed, cheerful mood, the Ohio Republican made that prediction to newsmen Friday but conceded in "all political predictions your feet are in quicksand."

Here is Taft's prediction:

He listed Illinois as "all right" for Eisenhower, called Kentucky "perhaps doubtful" and gave him an "even chance" in Missouri. He said it will be "very close" in Washington.

No Guess On Texas

With respect to some other states, he forecast:

Florida—probably for Eisenhower. Minnesota—even chance. New York—"Ike can win without New York, but I think he will carry New York." But he said than on both New York and California "I'm going on the polls and the reports. I have no personal knowledge there." Montana—very close but in Ike's favor.

Texas, Louisiana and South Carolina—"completely unpredictable. You have a brand new condition with governors coming out for Eisenhower. We start from zero, and it depends on whether the governors will swing 50 per cent more of the vote."

Mississippi—Eisenhower might win, particularly because he is listed on the regular Democratic ballot in this state.

Women tend to remember pleasant experiences of their and forget the unpleasant while men remember the unpleasant and forget the pleasant, according to tests.

They can snort at the good old days if they want to, but before the World Wars if an airplane had made a round trip across the Atlantic in less than half a day, it would have been something to cheer about. Now it's just an ominous something to worry about.

Anderson Denies Knowing Of Saxon Firm's Operations

ALBUQUERQUE —(AP)— U. S. Senator Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) Saturday disclaimed any knowledge of irregularities alleged by the Texas Railroad Commission to have taken place in oil production in the Cree-Sykes field of Texas.

Anderson and two other New Mexicans were listed by the San Angelo Standard-Times earlier Saturday as "silent partners" in the Saxon Exploration Company.

The firm is one of five companies on whose property the Railroad Commission said 62 oil wells were found to be non-producers after being reported at full production by operators.

Anderson indignantly denied that there was anything underhanded about his connection with the Saxon Company.

"It's pure politics," Anderson told a reporter. "If it had happened a week after election, there wouldn't have been a word said."

In a prepared statement, Anderson said:

'We Assumed Name'

"As a starter, let me say that no person is using an assumed name in any venture where I am associated.

"The Texas statute requires partners who use a partnership name like Saxon Exploration to file what is termed an assumed name report, if it consists of the names of those who make up the firm.

"We have done that. It is just too cumbersome to list all the names of those who make up the firm. And then say, 'Doing business as the Saxon Exploration Company.'

"Next we are not 'silent' partners, in my opinion. We are non-operating partners. The non-operating partners several years ago hired Norman Fitzgerald to buy leases, drill wildcat wells and develop and produce any oil he might discover.

"He was the sole manager and it was his full responsibility to watch the gas-oil ratios and close down the wells if they became dead.

To Check Reports

"He alone has the records and his engineering organization does all the work.

"Personally, I have not been satisfied with the reports we have received and have been trying for months to get the same information the Texas Railroad Commission is now demanding.

"No one seems to have it now, and because of that fact, the non-operating partners have removed Mr. Fitzgerald from his removed sibilities and those partners who were at Abilene have arranged to test the gas-oil ratios and see which wells can now flow and which wells need to be re-pressured or pumped. That report should be made soon to the commission and it will decide what comes next.

"I plan to go to Abilene Wednesday to see what the trouble has been."

Special Service Set At Episcopal Church

A special service of Holy Communion is scheduled at 10 a.m. Monday in Midland's Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. Robert J. Snell, rector, announced Saturday.

Mr Snell said Monday has been set aside by the presiding bishop as a special day of prayer before Tuesday's general election.

Allied Planes Break Destruction Record

SEOUL —(AP)— Allied warplanes set destruction records for 1952 during October despite poor flying weather, Fifth Air Force Headquarters reported Saturday.

The stepped-up destruction showed the increase in air power in recent months is beginning to take effect.

Lt. Gen. Atto P. Weyland, Far East Air Force commander, has said he is increasing his air power almost one-half.

Pilots claimed this destruction in October:

2,600 buildings—highest since 6,000 were destroyed in June, 1951.

2,500 supply vehicles — highest since 2,600 destroyed last May.

Dana Smith Silent To Most Questions On Stopped Check

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Dana C. Smith, trustee of a Nixon expense fund, declined to answer most questions at a deposition hearing on a $4,200 check on which Smith stopped payment, an attorney announced afterward.

Smith said at the hearing Friday that the check had no connection with the campaign of Senator Richard M. Nixon, Republican vice presidential candidate. And Smith emphasized after the closed hearing that the check was not drawn against funds collected for Nixon but upon Smith's own personal bank account.

Recently the State Department disclosed that Smith, a Pasadena attorney, had written the U. S. Embassy in Havana, Cuba, asking information in a case in which he had stopped payment on a check given for gambling losses at a Havana night club.

Minor GOP Candidates Get Little Attention In Texas

By The Associated Press

The few Republican candidates for lesser office have had a hard time getting any attention in Texas because of the din of the presidential contest.

But there will be Republican candidates—one for Congress, several for county offices, one for state representative—on some Texas ballots Tuesday.

The states' first "talkathon" was staged by Randolph Reed, Beaumont attorney running on the Republican ticket for the Second District congressional seat given up by Rep. J. M. Combs, Beaumont.

Reed, whose opponent is Democratic nominee Jack Brooks, Beaumont, had radio stations KRIC of Beaumont all to himself from 2 p.m. Thursday until 12:30 a.m. Friday. He answered between 1,500 and 2,000 questions put to him via telephone by the public. Ninety-five per cent of the questions, he said, were intelligent ones.

The usual slate of GOP candidates for state offices does not appear on the ballot this year. Instead the Republicans adopted the strategy of cross filing the Democratic nominees, from Governor Shivers on down. Only John C. White, agriculture commissioner, asked that his name be withdrawn from the Republican column.

Other contests in which there are Republican candidates include that for state representative from Galveston County. Charles B. Smith, Galveston attorney, is the GOP candidate opposing incumbent Democrat Harold Seay. Both have campaigned actively.

For the first time in history, there are Republican candidates for county office in Hutchinson, Midland and Gray Counties.

Blandard W. Spearman is campaigning vigorously for commissioner in the Hutchinson County precinct which includes Borger and more than 80 per cent of the county's 35,000 population. Spearman is the GOP candidate opposing A. A. Bullard, Democrat who unseated longtime Commissioner Fritiz Thompson in the primaries.

In Gray County, the GOP nominee is Clayton Husted, campaigning for commissioner against Democrat W. E. Jarvis. Husted has made a few short radio talks.

Midland County has four Republican candidates, two for commissioner, one for judge and one for attorney.

In Dallas County, Republican Grover Hartt, Jr., is running for County Court-at-Law No. 2 against Wiley H. Rawlins.

Midlander Hurt In Auto Accident Reported Improved

KERMIT—Condition of Joseph B. Fryer of Midland, who was injured in a recent accident 10 miles east of here, was described by Winkler County Memorial Hospital attaches Saturday night as satisfactory.

Fryer suffered injuries to his back and neck when his 1951 Ford sedan turned over several times.

Since the accident occurred on a straight piece of road not near a curve of any kind, State Highway Patrolman Billy P. Smith surmised that Fryer went to sleep at the wheel.

ON THE RECORD

Adlai Not Man For Change; Thompson Is Backing Ike

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

As an independent voter I have found it difficult to make up my mind in this election. From time to time I have criticized statements of each candidate. One result has been letters from readers irritatedly asking when, if ever, I was going to get off the fence. To these I now respond.

I am disappointed with both sides for avoiding the paramount issue before us today. As I conceive it, that issue is the American commitment under the United Nations charter, which, as interpreted by President Truman, is — in my belief — a formula for permanent war, in the places, and on the terms, chosen by our enemies. On this issue I discern no fundamental disagreement between the parties, although there is disagreement in the ranks of their followers.

What has further made decision difficult is: (1) I would prefer, all things being equal, not to have any general for President. (2) Adlai Stevenson originally seemed to represent a wise balance between the conservative and the progressive; to show a disposition to resist the pressure groups which have had so powerful an influence over his party; and his personal tastes, obvious cultivation, and gift for expression are very attractive to me. But (3) I believe a very real change is necessary in Washington.

The issue has, therefore, been the question: Are Stevenson and Truman in general equal to each other, policically speaking? Are the personal differences between them sufficient to insure a change? Or are we likely, in the event of a Democratic victory, to get merely more of the same thing?

President Truman's campaign has greatly contributed to help my decision. I freely confess my prejudice — if it is prejudice.

Truman is the man who dropped the atomic bomb on two Japanese cities, destroying hundreds of thousands of noncombatants at the end of a war that Japan had already lost, rather than negotiate a peace.

Truman is the man who signed the Potsdam agreement, three months after it had been made abundantly clear that the Soviet Union, which could only profit by this agreement, was no longer an ally but an enemy.

The excuse that can be made for Yalta and Teheran is that our leaders were still counting on postwar co-operation with the Soviets. But at Potsdam that hope had already been shattered. The Soviets' cold war began in April, with the publication of the "New Line" by the French Communist leader, Jacques Duclos. The American Communist Party was purged in June to conform to the anti-Western orientation. The Potsdam Conference began in mid-July and ended in August with the agreement, the political consequences of which were obvious then even to me, who makes no claim to clairvoyance.

President Truman kept the full texts of the agreements with the Soviets from the knowledge of the American people and Congress for nearly two years after he took office.

Then, in 1950, President Truman took this country into our first undeclared war; a war for which we were not prepared; one which, as the events have shown, neither he nor his advisers had the foggiest notion how to win; and one which has cost 120,000 American casualties without, apparently, causing President Truman to lose one night's sleep, or even to keep him at his desk during this election campaign.

I want to vote against Truman and Trumanism. For a while I thought that I could vote against Truman by voting for either candidate. I no longer think so. A vote for Stevenson is a vote for the same organized groups, forces, pressures, influences, and personalities who have directed American policy, domestic and foreign, to its present condition.

These forces have directed us toward unlimited wars; toward a formidable federal apparatus absorbing more and more of the functions of the whole of society; toward dependency in the place of self-reliance; toward the depreciation of the currency; toward an unlimited and apparently, in their eyes, an illimitable national debt; and toward a cynicism regarding integrity, honor and loyalty, producing not one administration scandal, but a whole succession of them.

Thus with all the mental reservations that afflict a mind like mine, I am voting to give other forces and the other party — the Republican — their chance.

Both Candidates Confident Of Victory

Ike Hammers Hard At Mess In Washington

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is roaring down the stretch of his first political campaign, buoyantly confident that his strategy of unrelenting attack and a promise to clean out Washing has been a winning one.

Although the Republican presidential nominee was forced over to the defensive at times, at the end it was a continuous, ceaseless, hammering attack, built around the spearhead of the Korean war as the overshadowing issue of the campaign finale. On war he spoke as the victorious general of Western Allied forces in the greatest world conflict.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower

Eisenhower used the Korean issue now and then all the way, since he first started the heavy cannonading around Labor Day. But once he voiced his "I shall go to Korea" pledge in Detroit a week ago Friday night, he never let up on it.

The general and his advisers believe he is striking political pay dirt with the issue. Crowds give him a tremendous hand every time he repeats that he intends to go to Korea, if elected—regardless of criticism from Democrats.

Korea and all the other issues—change, communism, corruption—have been put together into what the Republican candidate calls his "great crusade"—a crusade in which he believes victory now is only two days away. He sized it up this way to a crowd at Lancaster, Pa., last Monday:

"It is on the march. Everywhere we find the enthusiasm swelling, confidence growing. And there is going to be the biggest cleanout on Jan. 20, 1953, that Washington has yet had the good fortune to witness."

Deep South Invasion

Some of his worries evaporated with the first invasion of the Deep South in many years by a presidential candidate of either party—an invasion of the GOP claimed as a tremendous success.

There were developments centering around people and personalities:

1. The teaming up of Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the man he defeated for the GOP nomination in a brawling national convention which seemed likely to leave the party scarred and split. Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson called it the "great surrender" to the "Old Guard." But apparently it swung most Taft followers into line behind Eisenhower. And the general insisted he never changed or yielded on his convictions.

2. The reunion between Eisenhower and his tearful vice presidential running mate, Senator Richard M. Nixon of California. Eisenhower pronounced Nixon untarnished from use of an $18,000 expense fund donated by California supporters. The GOP figures Nixon's dramatic airing of his financial position television-radio helped the party cause.

Controversial Endorsements

3. The Eisenhower endorsement of such controversial men in his party as Senators Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana. Both senators have criticized Gen. George C. Marshall in strong terms, whereas Eisenhower has called Marshall a great patriot. Eisenhower endorsed them as members of the Republican organization. He said he differed with McCarthy on the Wisconsin senator's methods but approved his goal of ridding the government of subversives.

4. Party bolts that shifted Democratic Govs. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Robert Kennon of Louisiana and Allan Shivers of Texas to the Eisenhower standard and Republican Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon to the Stevenson banner.

Both Eisenhower, the man, and the method changed to some degree as the campaign moved along.

Constant cracks from the opposition got under his skin, sent his temperature soaring and sometimes, he said, made him so mad he couldn't talk—the people would have to do it for him election day.

General Cuts Loose

His earlier pledge not to deal in personalities went by the board toward the end, the general was cutting loose with all he had at President Truman and Stevenson, accusing them of lies, vilification, slander, hitting below the belt, getting as low as they could get.

But as the campaign came to a close, it was the Korean issue which was getting paramount emphasis in the GOP attack, and it was the specter of depression—Democratic charges that Republicans might bring another depression—against which the GOP was throwing up its tighest defense.

Republican strategists felt they were making real headway with the argument that Eisenhower is the nation's best bet to find a way out of the Korean War. They especially like the general's announcement he would go to Korea if elected President.

GAS CHAMBER NOT FOR IKE

SAN QUENTIN, CALIF.—(AP)—State prison guards said Saturday an executed slayer was granted permission to keep a photograph of Dwight D. Eisenhower with him almost to the end.

Bernard Gilliam, 36, cotton picker convicted of fatally kicking a cellmate, kept the presidential candidate's picture beside him Friday night in death row, they said.

He carried it to the door of the gas chamber Saturday morning. As he stepped inside, Gilliam handed the picture to a guard and murmured:

"I won't take Ike in there."

75,579,785 Voters May Decide Contest

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The estimate of eligible voters for Tuesday's election now has reached 75,579,785, more than 700,000 above the national estimate of two weeks ago.

Since the October 18 estimate made by state and other authorities for The Associated Press, nine states have completed their official registrations boosting the former national total of 74,810,561.

Voting Split Ticket Legal Anywhere, GOP Figure Says

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Wayne Hood, executive director of the Republican National Committee, says a registered Democrat may vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower while voting for Democratic candidates to other offices.

Hood made the statement in a letter to Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, publisher of the Houston Post, who had written that "a campaign of intimidation is going on around the country in an effort to confuse the voters" and asked clarification on the point.

The National Republican Committee Saturday made available the exchange of letters between Hood and Mrs. Hobby, national chairman of the Democrats-for-Eisenhower.

"The word is being spread that if you are a registered Democrat, you cannot vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Republicans," Mrs. Hobby wrote.

"There are many people in Texas and the South who want very much to vote for the general but are reluctant to do so if it means they cannot vote for Democrats for state and municipal offices.

"And there are people in the North who are being told that if they vote the Democratic ticket they are voting for General Eisenhower."

Hood replied:

"A person registered as a Democrat can vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Republican ticket. In the South, he can vote for Dwight Eisenhower and any other candidates he wants, irrespective of party.

"General Eisenhower is a Republican; you cannot vote for him by voting the straight Democratic ticket."

'I LIKE IKE' OR 'GLADLY WITH ADLAI?—

Tense, Edgy Voters Of Texas Have Two Days Left To Decide

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff

Texas voters, tense and edgy, have just two more days to make up their minds how much they "like Ike" or whether they will go along "gladly with Adlai."

Last-minute volleys of oratory, bitter charges and counter-charges echoed from the Gulf to the Panhandle in final, desperate efforts to persuade voters who still don't know or haven't said which candidate they prefer.

Tuesday's general election climaxes a harsh and ugly campaign. Its uncompromising bitterness will flavor the Texas political scene for many years.

A two-party system could be one major product.

It did not develop after Herbert Hoover's slim victory 24 years ago, but that rebellion against Democratic nominee Al Smith was mostly underground.

State Convention

This year Gov. Allan Shivers, Attorney-General Price Daniel and the state Democratic organization openly allied themselves with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and a New Guard Republican organization hoping to win permanent recruits for their party.

The long smouldering resentment back to 1940, opposition to Franklin D. Roosevelt and policies deemed inimical to states rights. It broke into flaming revolt when the September state convention repudiated Gov. Adlai Stevenson and endorsed Eisenhower.

This brought stinging charges of party disloyalty and a fierce counter-attack including threats of future reprisals from staunch party-line Democrats who have formed the core of the Roosevelt-Truman liberal faction.

Semblance Of Unity

The conflict within the party has torn it to shreds year after year but always before there was some semblance of unity in the general election campaign. Ultra-conservatives splintered off into small separate parties in 1944 and 1948. This year they joined the Republicans, along with the more moderate conservatives.

Former Democratic Govs. W. P. Hobby, Dan Moody and Coke Stevenson have endorsed Eisenhower. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and James V. Allred, now a federal judge, have not.

Lined up in support of Stevenson were such nationally-known Texas Democrats as Speaker Sam Rayburn, retiring Senator Tom Connally, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and a substantial block of House members.

Most state officials have kept prudent silence in this conflict between what might be called the "Texas Democratic Party" as contrasted with the "National Democratic Party."

All but one state official nominated by Democrats in the July primary accepted cross-nomination and filing by the Republicans. The holdout was John C. White, agriculture commissioner, who is stumping for Stevenson.

Daniel, double nominee of the Democrats and Republicans, is unopposed to succeed Connally. There has been some talk of Democratic write-ins aimed at him and Shivers, but it has not been encouraged by the liberal faction leadership.

They want their numerical strength in the party maintained, looking ahead to 1954. Vote allocations in precinct, county and state conventions then are determined by the total Democratic vote for governor in this general election.

If Shivers draws as many as 200,000 votes as the Republican nominee for governor, the GOP will be required to hold a primary in 1954. Many Republican leaders would welcome this as another step toward developing a working two-party system here. In the past, Old Guard Republican leaders did not like the idea. They wanted firm control of their own affairs, including patronage, through the convention system.

Presidential elections often hinge on a few votes. Texas' block of 24 electoral votes—largest in the South and sixth largest in the nation—could swing the outcome either way. So doubtful and vital was the outlook in Texas that both parties for the first time sent their presidential candidates on campaign tours here, matching each other speech for speech and mile for mile of whistle stopping.

Never before has Texas been so tightly organized by the two parties. The dissident Democrats formed a separate unit knwn as Democrats for Eisenhower, but they coordinated their grass roots campaigning, advertising and oratory with the New Guard Republicans. The National Democratic Party's organization headed by Rayburn got a late start but worked furiously to catch up.

Both Parties Split

Texas drew national attention as long ago as May, when both state party conventions split.

The Republicans fell out over Eisenhower and Robert A. Taft. The Eisenhower faction finally won. The Democrats broke wide open on the old row between conservatives and liberals. The conservatives under Shivers won seats at the Chicago convention in a national party effort to keep the Texas organization in line. Shivers promised to put Stevenson's name on the ballot in the Democratic column and made his pledge good.

At that point, the state organization's support of the national candidate ended. The September convention repudiated him and endorsed Eisenhower.

Then the national party sent Rayburn hurrying to Texas to pick up the pieces.

He and his campaigners have asked the voters if they would like to go back to the depression with its five-cent cotton and 10-cent oil, or stick with the Democrats, 40-cent cotton and $2.65 oil. Stevenson told farmers here they have had a chance to "put on a little fat." He needled Shivers by saying a person "who is a Republican ought to be willing to call himself one."

The Democrats emphasized "peace and prosperity" as their theme. They said the Tidelands question, which brought the final break between Shivers and Stevenson, was overbalanced by other issues.

GOP Hits 'Corruption'

Shivers said Stevenson would carry on Trumanism which he said implied "corruption, ineptness and inefficiency in high places, Communist infiltration into the government, an unstable and stalemated foreign policy, the theory of high taxing and high spending, the doctrine of paramount rights over the Tidelands and other property."

Eisenhower in his tour here said talk that he would cut back the farm program and social security was "rot."

A record turnout of 1,500,000 to 1,800,000 voters is expected. Absentee balloting soared to new highs in big cities, small cities and rural areas.

The Republicans are eyeing the cities and West Texas especially for the chief strength. The Democrats hope for a substantial city vote backed up by the traditionally Democratic rural vote.

Nobody was sure, nothing was in the bag as election day approached.

LINEBACKERS—Second men on the major tickets are the vice presidential candidates—Republican Senator Richard Nixon, left, and Democratic Senator John J. Sparkman, right.

YOU PAY YOUR MONEY AND TAKE YOUR CHOICE—

Predictions Are Pleasant But All Can't Be Correct

By The Associated Press

(Editor's note: Predictions make pleasant reading when you agree with the predictor. The Associated Press, in the paragraphs below, is giving both sides a chance. Take your choice and enjoy yourself.)

Jack Porter, Houston, Republican national committeeman: "I am convinced that two-thirds of the people of Texas still believe in the principles of government for which Thomas Jefferson stood, and that they also now realize that the Truman Democratic Party does not believe in those principles, and has left them as it left me, and that Texans will give our native-born son, Dwight D. Eisenhower, a big majority."

Sam Rayburn, Bonham, speaker of the House and chairman of the Texas Stevenson-Sparkman Campaign Committee: "As a result of my travels over the state since this campaign began I am convinced Texas will return a solid majority of the Democratic ticket on Tuesday."

Alvin Lane, Dallas, state GOP chairman: "Texas-born Dwight Eisenhower has earned the confidence of an overwhelming majority of Texas citizens—Democratic and Republican alike. I feel confident he will be their choice on Tuesday by a substantial majority—at least 100,000 votes."

John C. White, state agriculture commissioner: "We (the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket) will win by 60 per cent of the vote. An overwhelming majority of the farmers know that the Democrats are interested in their welfare and want to see continued farm prosperity."

Ben Guill, Texas campaign manager for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket: "There is no substitute for hard work and the thousands of good Texas people who are working their hearts out for Eisenhower are going to share in the victory Tuesday. Ike will win Texas." Guill predicted Eisenhower will have a 30,000 to 50,000-vote victory margin.

Lloyd Forrester, 59, Belton cotton and cattle farmer: "My father before me was a Democrat, and I'm going to remain a Democrat. I don't want a 10-dollar calf following my $200 cow. Stevenson will win. Why, sure, he'll win."

Wright Morrow, Houston, Democratic national committeeman: "I think the vote in Texas is going to be close. More and more Democrats who believe in the basic principles of the party are realizing that the party has left them, and that they must make a choice between loyalty to their country and loyalty to a party label. If enough of them come around to this thinking, the chances are good for General Eisenhower to win Texas."

Rep. Paul Kilday, San Antonio: Texas will go "comfortably Democratic" after the roughest campaign in his memory. Kilday said he is supporting Stevenson as a "good Democrat" and expects a majority of Texans will do the same.

Gov. Allan Shivers: "I think Eisenhower is picking up considerably. I think the trend toward him is larger than I expected. I think Eisenhower will carry the state and that it will be the biggest vote the state has ever seen."

Robert Johnson, manager of the Texas Election Bureau (the unofficial vote gathering agency which will count the votes): "There will be a lot of votes but I'm not guessing how they'll be divided. My job is to count them. I will say this—it looks to me as if the total Texas vote will hit near 1,800,000 and that will be more than we've ever had before."

Adlai Denies He Is Captive Of Any Group

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois will win or lose the presidency next Tuesday with the belief firmly implanted in his mind that he owes no man either major favor or blame for the result.

The Democratic presidential nominee outwardly is extremely confident of victory. His strategists can "prove" with their pencils that he will carry enough states to run his electoral total to about 300, thus giving him something to spare over the necessary 266.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson

If he should win, Stevenson already has written in advance his own declaration of political independence. In this declaration, voiced at Philadelphia earlier last week, Stevenson declared:

"I have refused in this campaign to barter my principles and those of my party for the support of any politician or any political boss and I don't intend to.

"I have not made promises of huge tax cuts or quick and easy solutions to the problems of Korea that we knew could not be kept. I have supported only those interests of farmers, of labor or business men which are in the public interest."

Then, in a direct reference to the Republican accusation that he is captive of the Truman Administration and must continue its policies, the Illinois governor asserted:

"I am the captive, if they will have me, only of all the American people."

Those words summarize Stevenson's own view of his campaign—a drive that started far back of scratch last July when he was nominated to oppose Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, but which has so gained momentum in the last few weeks that most politicians now call the election extremely close and few nonpartisans will predict the winner.

Rough Campaign

It has been a rough and tumble campaign—some say the dirtiest in years. Both sides have slung personal charges at each other. Although President Truman has been the principal tough talker on the Democratic side, Stevenson has indulged in acid-etched sallies at Eisenhower which he never would have thought in August would be coming from his lips in October.

There is evidence, however, that Stevenson—like probably many of his opponents—is inclined to look upon all of this as "campaign oratory" of the type the late Wendell L. Willkie once described as having little lasting meaning.

Win or lose, Stevenson obviously looks for no revolution.

The campaign itself has had its ups and downs. In early September, Stevenson was ripping off sparkling speeches while Eisenhower largely was silent.

Ike Invades South

Then Eisenhower went South and got tremendous receptions. His campaign began to boil and Stevenson's to simmer while the Democratic nominee painstakingly outlined his views on major issues in speeches that hardly were rousing the crowds, polished as they may have been.

Eisenhower's conference with Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, his acceptance of many Taft views and endorsement of such Taft supporters as Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana, gave the Stevenson campaign a target and a lift.

Depression Angle

And Stevenson, who once said he never would run against Herbert Hoover, began talking about the depression which started in Hoover's Administration and saying a GOP victory might be followed by another one. He preached to the people throughout October the Democratic doctrine—tested in 1948—"you never had it so good."

In the minds of most politicians the governor's attacks on Eisenhower, Taft, McCarthy, Jenner and others—combined with the appeal to the "pocketbook nerve"—brought Stevenson up fast in the last three weeks.

Then Eisenhower came up with the statement that he would go to Korea if elected and try to bring the war there to an early and honorable end. The GOP was confident that was a telling political blow.

Stevenson has been striving mightily to label that pledge as only a political gesture that could accomplish nothing.

The quick success in settling the riot after his arrival seems likely to impress some voters with his ability to act quickly in an emergency and to be exploited by the Democrats as indicating his capabilities as an executive.

Stevenson Sure Winner, Says Truman

ST. LOUIS —(AP)— President Truman wound up the most strenuous campaign of his career Saturday night with a forecast of victory for Adlai E. Stevenson—and a warning of national disaster if Dwight D. Eisenhower is elected instead.

"We would have the ultimate irony of a general who stood for the defense of the free world when he was in uniform, presiding over the liquidation of our foreign policy," the President declared.

Truman's final speech of the 1952 campaign was prepared for delivery in the same Missouri city where he ended his own 1948 fight for his election to the White House.

"I finished my 1948 campaign in St. Louis and we won," Truman said. "We're going to win again this time."

Then in an address bristling with barbed attacks on Eisenhower and the GOP leadership the President summed up the case he has made for Stevenson in some 18,000 miles of campaigning through 30 states from coast to coast.

He traveled farther and spoke oftener than in 1948—but that campaign was spread over a longer period and the President was four years younger.

He accused the general of using campaign tactics on Korea which "have already begun to undermine our unity in the struggle against communism."

Fortunately, Truman said, Eisenhower's "loose and pernicious talk" about Korea—the general's raising of "false hopes" that American troops can be brought home soon—has not hurt the morale of men now fighting in Korea.

DEMOS CLAIM McCARTHY LIED

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Democratic National Committee said Saturday Senator McCarthy, in a 17-page speech attacking Gov. Adlai Stevenson and delivered to a nation-wide radio and television audience from Chicago Monday night, "used at least 18 false statements, distortions or quotations wrenched from context."

CAUGHT BY SURPRISE!

NOT SO FAST THERE!

MM-M-M-GOTTA THINK!

Many times the other guy has a good point or two and a little head scratching is necessary. Ike, left, and Adlai, right, are seen above stirring up the gray matter a bit.

Texas Pours It On To Trip SMU, 31-14

AUSTIN —(AP)— A raging defensive guard recovered a fumble and blocked a punt to set up two first-quarter touchdowns and Texas rolled over SMU, 31-14, Saturday.

Marvin Leath, a senior who has never lettered and who got his first starting defensive assignment today, was the rampaging player who rattled SMU before the Mustangs could get started.

Texas already had a 7-0 lead on a 16-yard sprint by Billy Quinn when Leath began making his name known. He pounced on an SMU fumble on a kickoff return at the 33, and Quinn pounded over for his second touchdown nine plays later.

Leath Blocks Punt

Leath rocketed through to block a punt at the SMU 12, and Texas End Bill Georges grabbed the ball to take it to the 2. Gib Dawson hit for the touchdown.

Dawson kicked the third of four points, and Texas was over the hill and out of sight with 21 points before SMU woke up.

SMU pushed 78 yards in the second period, but Texas matched that with 62 yards, the last 32 on a T Graves-to-Tom Stolhandske pass.

The Mustangs stirred hopes of SMU fans with a 63-yard scoring beauty from Benton Musselwhite to Val Joe Walker in the third quarter to narrow the gap to 28-14. But Dawson chilled any expectations of an SMU victory when he booted an insurance field goal in the final period.

Defense Shines

Though the game was a high-scoring affair, the 55,000 fans saw some of the most powerful defensive performances in many a moon.

Leath's opportunistic performance thrust him to the top of the list, but close behind were two fine Texas ends, Carlton Massey and Bill Georges, and Guard Harley Sewell. In one series of three downs, they rocked SMU's great halfback, Jerry Norton, for losses totalling 36 yards.

How tough was that Texas defense? SMU had a minus 76 yards rushing for the afternoon. The Mustangs found the Texas pass defense porous enough to collect 208 yards in the air, but the Longhorns were rough near the goal line.

Jones mixed the running chores almost evenly among his ball carriers, Dawson getting 58 yards on 13 carries; Quinn, 46 on 13, and Fullback Dick Ochoa, 37 on 18.

Stephen F. Austin Downs Sul Ross

NACOGDOCHES —(AP)—Punching across a touchdown in each quarter, stephen F. Austin downed Sul Ross Saturday, 28-7.

Alfred Parker's 50-yard scamper to the two-yard line set up Austin's first touchdown three minutes after the kickoff.

Texas A&M Tags Arkansas, 31-12

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)— Texas A&M clung to a fighting chance for the Southwest Conference crown Saturday night with a 31-12 triumph over a gallant band of Razorbacks from Arkansas.

It was a sweep passing combination, Ray Graves to Don Ellis, that kept the Aggies alive in the conference race and sent the battling Porkers into oblivion for 1952. Graves passed 31 times for 19 completions and 231 yards.

Graves to Ellis made three of the five Aggie touchdowns, but the Razorbacks will long remember the work Aggie Joe Boring, who five times during the night intercepted Razorback passes, one time on the Aggie goal. His interceptions killed inspired rushes by the Porkers to score.

Cadets Lead Early

The Cadets got off to an early lead with a pass from Graves to Ellis scoring from the Porker 16 with two minutes left in the first quarter. The drive had begun on the Aggie 34 when Boring intercepted Lamar McHan's pass for no return.

The Porkers roared back to carry to the Aggie 39 as the quarter ended and scored less than five minutes in the second quarter when McHan passed to Floyd Sagely from the Aggie 8.

The Aggies rolled back in two minutes to grind out 65 yards in several plays and a roughing penalty. Graves passed 25 to Ellis to score.

An Arkansas drive died after they made 62 yards in 11 plays when Cadet Joe Schero intercepted McHan's pass back of the goal line.

Hogs Scratch Back

Arkansas scratched back for a TD in the third after Boring stopped a drive with an interception on the goal line.

After a punt, the Razorbacks smashed down field for 74 yards in two plays, a 34-yard run for Troxell and a 40-yard scoring pass from Ralph Troillett to Lewis Carpenter.

Big Connie Magoairk scored five minutes deep in the fourth after an Aggie drive took the ball to the ten yard marker. He went over standing up.

The final score came after an exchange of punts with two minutes to play when John Salyer raced 20 yards through befuddled Porker line. Again Hill's conversion attempt was wide.

New Mexico Aggies Win Loop Tilt, 33-9

LAS CRUCES, N. M. —(AP)— Al di Carlo scored three touchdowns Saturday as the New Mexico Aggies swept over Arizona State College at Flafstaff, 33-9, in a Border Conference game.

The Aggies scored all 33 points in a hot first-half attack, then coasted to the victory on their reserves. Flagstaff's nine points, all scored in the fourth quarter, came against the reserves.

Georgia Tech Aces Crush Duke, 28-7

DURHAM, N. C. —(AP)— Georgia Tech's fabled race horse backfield aces—Leon Hardeman, Glenn Turner and Billy Teas—broke loose in a thundering stampede of touchdowns Saturday to crush hitherto unbeaten Duke, 28-7, in Dixie's battle of gridiron giants.

It was the twenty-first game without defeat and the seventh straight victory of the year for the slashing men of Atlanta, who needed only to pick up the telephone receiver to receive a bid from either the Sugar or Orange Bowl.

Representatives of these two January 1 fixtures were in the sellout crowd of 45,000, which was awed by the speed and ferocity of the Engineer attack.

It was reported later that both bowls had proffered bids, but Coach Bobby Dodd lets his players vote on where they should go.

Hitting with tremendous power on the ground, Tech scored two touchdowns in the opening period and added scores in the second and third before Duke roused itself for one scoring burst late in the third quarter.

Tech's magnificent defense platoon, led by tackle Bob Sherman and end Sam Hensley, contributed materially to the triumph, blocking two kicks and recovering fumbles at crucial stages.

The hard-hitting Tech defenders completely bottled Duke's celebrated sophomore triple-threat star Worth Lutz, and the harrassed young split-T quarterback was benched for Jerry Barger late in the first half. It was Barger, playing for himself perhaps as much as for the team, who sparked Duke's offensive maneuvers in the third period.

Sub Back Stars

Tech's scoring was distributed among five players, including sub quarterback Pepper Rogers, who made good all four conversions.

Two Tech touchdowns, the second and last, followed blocked punts deep in Duke territory. The first came on a crunching 73-yard drive entirely by land climaxed when Teas, a sophomore speedster from Andrews, N. C., skipped over. The third followed two sparkling runs by Bobby Moorhead and Teas, with Hardeman slamming over from the two.

In this quick and exciting sortie, Moorhead returned a punt 42 yards and Teas set up the score with a 40-yard sprint on a pitchout.

UCLA Bruins Smash Bears By 28 To 7

BERKELEY, CALIF. —(AP)— Rangy Paul Cameron, playing his first full game, led the undefeated UCLA Bruins to a smashing, 28-7, win over the California Bears Saturday in their annual football clash, played before 82,000 fans.

The six-foot 185-pound tailback, who had seen only 40 minutes of action in six previous games, threw touchdown passes in the first and third quarters and directed the ground attack that accounted for the second period score.

Tiny Ted Narleski, replacing Cameron late in the last period, completed a 21-yard scoring pass to end Ike Jones for the last touchdown.

Half Don Johnson, racing 98 yards on a thrilling kickoff return, gave California its lone touchdown in the third period.

The victory kept the hard-knocking, alert Bruins in the Pacific Coast Conference championship race and in the running for the Rose Bowl, tied with Southern California, also undefeated.

UCLA tops the league with four wins. USC, idle Saturday, has won three.

Odds-makers had called the game a toss-up. Cameron and his Bruins quickly dispelled the myth. The UCLA blockers hit like charges of dynamite. They hawked the ball every minute. California was outclassed all the way.

Abilene Christian Downs Texas A&I

ABILENE —(AP)— Co-Captain Don Smith sparked the Abilene Christian College Wildcats to a 48-13 Texas Conference victory Saturday over Texas A&I.

Smith scored two of the seven ACC touchdowns — on runs of 21 and four yards — and ripped off 151 yards in 21 carries.

Halfback Jimmy Firth tallied two Wildcat touchdowns, zipping nine and 26 yards around end and Jerry Mullins, quarterback Ted Sitton, and Don Mullins, sophomore brother to Jerry, each contributed six points.

Fullback Reggie West, who entered the game as the leading ground gainer in the Texas Conference, scored both Texas A&I touchdowns.

COUGARS MAKE IT 25

PULLMAN, WASH. —(AP)— The Washington State Cougars held the line against their country cousins from Idaho for the twenty-fifth straight time Saturday and the 36-6 score was one of the worst Idaho humiliations in the long Vandal-Cougar rivalry.

Golden Baylor Bears Roar Back To Tie Frogs, 20-20

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Baylor's Golden Bears fought from behind on the power of Parson Jerry Coody, and the runs of Allen Jones and L. C. Dupre to tie TCU, 20-20, Saturday in a Southwest Conference football thriller.

TCU had rolled to a crushing 20-7 lead in the second period as Sophomore Ronald Clinkscale and Blasting Malvin Fowler cashed in on Baylor miscues. But the Bears came back with a late rush.

Three times this season they have won games in the last half and it looked like they would do it again Saturday.

As the hushed crowd of 27,000 watched, C. O. Brocato, Baylor's man with the "money toe," tried for the point after touchdown that would have given the Bears Victory. But out of the smashing TCU line came Charley Rogers to throw himself in front of the ball before it was three feet from Brocato's foot.

Brocato has won four games and tied one with his gifted toe in the last two seasons but this wasn't his day.

There was time for two more scoring threats—one by each side. TCU roared from its 48 to the Baylor 10-yard line with only three minutes to go. But the Golden Bears dug in like rocks and the Frogs couldn't budge them. So Johnny Crouch tried a field goal from the Baylor 24 and it was short and wide.

Baylor threatened in the last minute as Guayford Donaldson bobbed up to intercept a Ray McKown pass and run to the TCU 48. Allen Jones and Jerry Coody hammered down to the TCU 31 but Ronald Fraley intercepted a pass from Cotton Davidson on the Frog 11 and that was the ball game.

It was a tremendous offensive duel with Baylor rushing and passing to 270 yards and TCU to 233.

Wisconsin Shrugs Off Rice, 21 To 7

HOUSTON —(AP)— Young Jim Halsuka scored one touchdown and passed for two more as Wisconsin shrugged off torrid Texas heat and Rice Institute, 21-7.

It was a dull exhibition of fumbling, penalty ridden football that an estimated 36,000 persons sat in 78-degree weather to watch.

The Badgers ground out 224 yards rushing and kicked up 139 more in the air while holding Rice to a puny 75 on the ground and 92 in the air.

Wisconsin's power finally paid off in the second period with two touchdowns, Halsuka getting the first on a two yard dive over the center and pitching 42 yards to Gerald Witt for the second one. His 20 yard heave to Bill Hutchinson in the third netted the third Badger tally. Paul Shwaiko booted three extra points for the Badgers.

Rice Flashes

Rice, held to 26 plays in the first half, flashed something that resembled an offense just once and went 48 yards for a touchdown early in the final period. David Johnson, whose prodigious punting saved Rice's hide on more than one occasion, accounted for 32 yards, including the final one.

Haluska, who has pitched for 10 touchdowns this season, guided the Badgers 35, 59 and 69 yards for touchdowns, but it was really Rice's butter-fingered backs who were Wisconsin's biggest asset on the first two scores.

Fumbles set up both tallies, but in the same breath, fumbles stopped three Badger drives and an intercepted pass another. In the fourth, Alan Ameche fumbled as he dived over the goal and Rice recovered for a touchback.

DETROIT PULLS UPSET

NEW YORK —(AP)— Ted Marchibroda was a flinging fiend Saturday, completing 11 of 22 passes for 252 yards to set up all four Detroit touchdowns and lead the Titans to an upset, 28-20 football triumph over favored Fordham.

Sandies Bury San Angelo

AMARILLO — The Amarillo Sandies slaughtered the San Angelo Bobcats, 41 to 7, in a District 1-AAAA battle here Saturday afternoon.

The Sandies displayed both a potent ground and aerial attack to roll up yard after yard, with reserves playing in the final quarter.

Kent Gathright went two yards for the initial touchdown for Amarillo in the opening minutes of the first quarter. Louie Flores kick was wide.

Bob Crump dashed six yards for another Sandy TD in the second quarter. Jackie Miller booted the point, and his educated toe was good for three other points following Amarillo touchdowns.

The Sadies pushed across two other scores in the same period. Bobby Graham galloped 41 yards for one of the TDs, and Gathright went three yards for the other.

In the third quarter, Gathright crossed the double stripes again, and a few minutes later Crump went 37 yards to the end zone to make the score 41 to 0 in Amarillo's favor.

San Angelo recovered a Sandy fumble on the five yard line, and on the fourth play from scrimmage, Lon Slaughter went the last two yards. Mickey Sallee converted.

OREGON STATE LOSES

PORTLAND, ORE. —(AP)— Don Heinrich, a Washington passing wizard, threw them underhand, overhand and side-arm Saturday in a display that carried Washington to a 38-13 victory over bewildered Oregon State.

Tech Raiders Handed Fifth Straight Loss

LUBBOCK — (AP) — The University of Houston scored in the first, second and fourth quarters Saturday to deal Texas Tech's Red Raiders their fifth consecutive defeat, 20-7.

The Cougars were in the driver's seat all afternoon, holding Tech to 65 yards net rushing while rolling up 228 yards.

One of two pass completions gave the visitors their first score and it would have been enough for victory, except for a freak pass interception by Tech which led to the lone Raider score.

Houston failed to show an impressive offensive, despite their yardage and the score. Instead, the Cougars relied on a powerful defensive unit to force the breaks their way. Linebacker Paul Carr and tackle J. D. Kimmel stood out on defense.

Two South Plains products, fullback Tommy Bailes, and halfback Jack Howton of Plainview, came back to haunt Tech.

Mississippi Sets Down LSU, 28-0

OXFORD, Miss.—(AP)—Mississippi University's magic-legged Harol Lofton stomped off great hunks of yardage and three touchdowns Saturday to push the Rebels to a 28-0 homecoming football victory over LSU before 22,500 fans.

Lofton, joined by Halfbacks Dick Westerman and Lea Paslay, staged a rollicking broken field running exhibition that demoralized LSU in the first period.

GOBBLERS WIN, 20-2

RICHMOND, VA. —(AP)— Elusive Billy Harrison and Leo Burke, a pair a freshman halfbacks, scored all three touchdowns Saturday as Virginia Tech's Gobblers ran over the University of Richmond Spiders, 20-2, in a Southern Conference game.

Eagles Edge Bulldogs, 6-0

By COPE ROUTH

The Eagles of Abilene High School screamed down on Midland High School's Bulldogs Friday night like a flock of devilish Hallowe'en witches.

They put the hex on Midland's famed attack with the persistence of a group of small fry scouring the neighborhood for tricks-or-treats.

They pounded and clawed the Midland defense apart with all the happy and ferocious glee of a bunch of kids letting the air out of the teacher's automobile tires.

And when it was over, they trotted off the Memorial Stadium with a 6-0 victory the 7,000 fans didn't think they could earn.

But earn it they did and just about everyone of those 7,000 fans felt that some kindly Hallowe'en night phantam kept the Bulldogs from suffering a worse defeat.

The Bulldogs, the leading ground-gainers of the tough District 1-AAAA with an average of well over 300 yards per game, were held to only 84 net yards rushing and only six first downs while the Eagles picked up 309 yards on the ground with 18 first downs.

After the first quarter tug-of-war, there was little doubt about the outcome.

The tip-off, however, came in the opening minutes of the game when Midland was stopped cold twice and, the first time he got his hands on the ball, Bill Vaughn slashed over his right tackle and went 18 yards.

Midland had taken the opening kickoff and had to punt after three running plays.

The kicked ball bounded off an Abilene player downfield and Robert Keisling, the tall Midland end, fell on the ball to give the Bulldogs new life on the Eagle 37-yard line.

But again, they were stalled and finally lost the ball on downs after gaining only eight yards in four plays.

Aside from that initial 18-yard spurt by Vaughn, however, it was touch-and-go until the closing minutes of the first period.

Eagles On March

Then the Eagles began to march, launching an attack from their own 48-yard line.

First Vaughn ripped off nine yards, then Tommy Overman made it a first and 10 with three more through the middle.

And after a 15-yard Bulldog penalty had helped the Abilene cause along, big Hal McGlothlin took over. First it was nine yards, then 11 and then one and the ball rested on the three-yard line.

Once again, the ball went to McGlothlin and the 175-pound back bulled his way through the line for a touchdown.

But, with the Eagles leading 6-0, that was the ball game.

Midland grunted and groaned, pounded the line and passed through the air but they could never get started.

They even recovered three Abilene fumbles during the last three quarters of play but each time, it made little difference.

The best Midland could do was advance once to the 22-yard line before giving up the ghost.

There were times, however, when the Midland defense came through nobly, for twice they stopped the Eagles on the two yard line, once by recovering a fumble and another time on downs.

Vaughn Moves Out

But in the meantime, Abilene did everything but score with Vaughn picking up 121 yards by himself with McGlothlin not far behind with 91.

Little Jesse Hatfield, the district's offense leader, was held to a net of only 32 yards in 15 tries and neither Dick Spencer or Roy Kimsey could do any better.

Midland, beginning on its 37-yard line, began marching downfield and in seven plays, including a 13-yard pass from Hatfield to Bill Mims, had reached the Abilene 30.

But there they were stalled again and gave up the ball after two incomplete passes.

Midway in the second quarter, they began to make another bid after Rusty Rutledge returned one of Jim Bourland's punts 24 yards to the Abilene 41-yard line.

This time they reached the 22-yard line in five plays, including a six-yard pass from Hatflied to Keisling.

And, once again, they lost the ball on downs.

From then on it was over for the Bulldogs. In the last half, they never even crossed the midfield stripe.

FIFTEEN YARDS TO NO AVAIL—Roy Kimsey is brought to earth by Eagle End Tommy Ash and Center Dick Seale after a 15-yard run in the third quarter, the Bulldogs' longest run of the night, but Midland lost the ball on downs a few minutes later. In the background are Bill Leonard (55) Bulldog guard and Bill Pierce (80) Eagle end.

Spartans Halt Purdue Team By 14 To 7

LAFAYETTE, IND. —(AP)— Michigan State's top-ranked and beautifully-balanced Spartans showed their offensive prowess in the first half of their copper-clad defense all the way Saturday in stopping Purdue's Big Ten football leader, 14-7.

It was the Spartans' 21st straight victory.

Purdue, left alone atop the Western Conference standings by Illinois' 22-13 triumph over Michigan today, gave the Spartans their stiffest contest since an early season 17-14 squeak past Oregon State.

Michigan State's ferocious defense, headed by End Ed Luke and Center Douglas Weaver, had all it could do to hold Purdue in a wild final quarter before 49,500 fans in Summer-like weather.

Purdue drove to the Michigan State 8 in the last four minutes on Quarterback Dale Samuels' brilliant passing but Weaver pulled down a Samuels' pass on the Michigan State 18.

Purdue cut down Michigan State's 14-0 half time lead on Halfback Earl Heninger's one-yard scoring plunge in the third after Samuels set it up with a 34-yard pass to End Bernard Flowers.

A 15-yard Purdue penalty and a Norman Montgomery punt that traveled only 17 yards started Michigan State's first-quarter touchdown drive at the Purdue 29. Wayne Benson, Don McAuliffe and Bill Wells moved to the 3 on quick openers and McAuliffe plunged over.

The Spartans' second touchdown came after Samuel's fumble on the Michigan State 43. It was recovered by Tom Yewcic's short passes to Wells and End Paul Dekkar helped carry to the Purdue 7. Yewcic ran wide to the right from a single wing formation for the score.

Samuels completed 14 of 26 passes for 149 yards. Flowers caught six for 84 yards.

Westerners Roar Back For Victory

PAMPA—The Mighty Lubbock Westerners roared from behind in the final six minutes here Saturday afternoon to score two touchdowns and down a fighting Pampa Harvester eleven, 20-7, before 11,000 wildly cheering fans.

The Westerners had trailed the underdog Harvesters since late in the second quarter when the Pampans drove 82 yards for their only score of the afternoon but which put them ahead after the conversion try was good. Then, after the Westerners failed to tally in the third quarter with the brisk wind to their backs, the fans began to sense an upset with the Harvesters holding tenaciously to a 7-6 lead.

The Westerners started a drive late in the third quarter that finally was stopped on the Pampa five early in the fourth when the Harvesters took over on downs. This loomed as a fine defensive gesture on the part of the Harvesters at the moment for, with the wind to their backs, They were able to pull out of apparent danger.

John Darby booted a 50-yarder that rolled dead on the Lubbock 46. But the Westerners set out on a scoring drive from this point with Jimmy Welch and Red Noland heading the march. Noland, practically an unknown before Saturday's tilt, picked up 26 yards in the drive on runs of 13, 4, 7 and two yards. Welch climaxed the drive by plowing over from the Harvester four. Dickie Lowery converted from placement to make it 13-7 for the Westerners with six minutes left in the game.

A tremendous break against the Harvesters on the ensuing kickoff prevented what chances the Harvesters had of overtaking the Westerner eleven. Jimmy Keel received the short kickoff on the Harvester 30 and after carrying for 15 yards he fumbled and the Westerners recovered.

The play took the life out of the Harvesters and the Westerners marched from here for their final score of the afternoon to ice the game. With less than two minutes to play, Welch swept wide for the last 20 yards on the last Westerner scoring drive.

The Westerners drew first blood early in the second quarter when Jimmie Haynie passed 48 yards to end Mike Brady for the touchdown. Brady, who had worked his way behind the Harvester secondary, pulled in the aerial on the Harvester 10 and covered the remaining 10 yards as a couple of Harvesters got him down but too late.

Lowery's kick was wide and Lubbock lead 6-0, one minute deep in the second period.

The Harvesters, after an exchange of punts following Lubbock's touchdown, took over on their own 18 and drove 82 yards against the wind for their only score of the game. Ed Dudley was the big gun in the Harvester scoring drive, picking up 44 yards on six carries.

Harvesters Held

After making first down on the Lubbock five, the Westerner line braced and held the Harvesters to a net of three yards on the next three plays. But on fourth down, John Darby was hit hard on the goal line and fumbled but Teammate Tommy Sells recovered for the TD.

Dudley, back to kick the extra point, took a direct snapback instead and passed to Darby who was all alone in the flat, Darby going over easily for the conversion. This gave the Harvesters a 7-6 halftime lead and until the late surge by the Westerners, the Harvesters enjoyed this one point lead.

Oklahoma Express Rushes Over Iowa

AMES, IOWA. —(AP)— The Oklahoma football express, rated No. 3 in the nation, rushed along at its dazzling pace Saturday in a 41-0 victory over Iowa State.

Oklahoma, gunning for its seventh straight Big Seven championship, sent the under-manned Cyclones to their fifth conference defeat with a bewildering offense led by Quarterback Eddie Crowder, and a solid defense that held Iowa State to 119 yards.

The Oklahoma Big Seven record now is 3-0-1 with Missouri and Nebraska left. The Sooners are a shade behind Missouri, its Nov. 15 foe which made it three straight with a 10-6 win over Nebraska today.

Oklahoma, striking with equal effectiveness from far out or close in, started its scoring with a 50-yard spurt by Billy Vessels through the Iowa State middle. The trap play got its inception on a beautiful fake by Crowder.

The Sooners picked up two more touchdowns for a 21-0 lead in the first period to settle whatever issue there ever had been in the one-sided contest.

Iowa State suffered a severe jolt in the first quarter when Quarterback Dick Mann, the top passer, broke his left leg in a pileup involving Tom Catlin, who had intercepted a Mann pass on the Iowa State 34.

Oklahoma got another touchdown in the second and added two more in the third. The Sooners, with reserves in action while most of the regulars rested for the big duel with Notre Dame next Saturday, did not score in the final period officially.

Vessels took a lateral to cross the goal on a 46-yard play but Oklahoma had a backs-in-motion penalty against it.

Vessels and End John Reddell participated in the next to the longest touchdown. It was a 40-yard pass-run maneuver in which Reddell made a net over the shoulder grab of Vessels' toss on the 16.

Iowa State's big bid started late in the first period from its 20 and ended in disappointment on the Oklahoma 23 early in the second quarter when Paul Shupe was shunted back a yard after needing only one yard for the score on fourth down.

Alabama Sweeps Over Georgians

BIRMINGHAM — (AP) — Corky Tharp and Bobby Marlow, Alabama's two great running backs, were too much for pass-minded Georgia, as 'Bama took a 34-19 decision here before 30,000.

Zeke Bratkowski, Georgia's deluxe passer, kept Alabama partisans on the anxious seat until the final whistle. He completed 17 of 26 throws for 228 yards.

But it was the Alabama running which proved decisive.

IDAHO STATE FLIES, RAPS COLORADO MINES

GOLDEN, COLO. —(AP)— Stalled on the ground, Idaho State struck through the air to conquer Colorado Mines, 21-13, Saturday in a Rocky Mountain conference football game.

End Phil Roche gathered in two long passes and skipped away for two of the Idaho State scores.

San Jacinto Upsets Pups

The seventh grade San Jacinto Mustangs fought their way from behind here Saturday morning and went onto triumph over the Cowden Bullpups in a 26-7 upset. Cowden was a heavy favorite in the contest.

San Jacinto tallied first in the opening quarter, on a drive which started on their own 30. Tailback Allen Bryson shook loose at the mid-field stripe, and went 50 yards for the TD. The conversion failed.

In the second quarter, Cowden retaliated when tailback Lupe Hernandez took a pitchout on the San Jacinto 20 and scored. Fullback Gary Stanford made the extra point to give the Bullpups a 7-6 halftime lead.

Fullback Jimmy Walton scored for the Mustangs in the third stanza on an inside tackle play from the six-yard marker. The drive started on the San Jacinto 40. Bryson ran the extra point across.

Early in the final period, a San Jacinto pass from Walton to blocking back Gary Littlejhon was good for 10 yards and a tally, capping a thrust that started at midfield. The extra point effort failed.

With two minutes left in the game, wingback John Cisneros scored the final Mustang TD on a scintillating 80 yard run starting from a double reverse play. He had fumbled the ball, and then picked it up to go on. The flashy run was made possible by a tremendous key block by left end Steve Farmer, who took out four mustang defenders. Bryson converted.

Linebacker Ray Eatherley and left end John Hunter were factors in the efficient San Jacinto defense. Center John Yonger was a threat on both offense and defense for the improved Bullpups.

Tennessee Employs Aerials To Win

KNOXVILLE, —(AP)— Tennessee took to the air lanes Saturday for the first time this season to smack down North Carolina, 41-14.

The orange-clad Vols scored their first three touchdowns on passes, set up their fourth with an aerial and grabbed a wayward Carolina toss and returned for their fifth. The sixth was registered on the ground.

North Carolina, unable to make any headway against the big Vol defensive line, dented Tennessee's pass defense for both its touchdowns. It was the first time this season Tennessee yielded a score through the air.

Braves Run Amuck Over Marfa, 33-12

IRAAN — In their second consecutive District 5-A win, the Iraan Braves walloped the Marfa Shorthorns, 33-12, here Friday night.

Gary Monroe ran wild for Iraan, accounting for all but one of the Braves' scores and covering plenty of ground while doing it.

Marfa took an early lead but were unable to retain it. Sam Jimenez managed two touchdowns in the opening minutes.

Leroy Bibby, 170-pound Iraan tackle, was outstanding in the line for the Braves, smearing the Shorthorns behind their line of scrimmage, time and again.

Mighty Maryland Rolls Over Boston

BOSTON —(AP)— A devastating opening attack that reached almost point-a-play proportions gave mighty Maryland its 19th consecutive football victory, 34-7, over hopelessly outclassed Boston University Saturday at Fenway Park.

The Terps from Maryland, who rank second nationally, clinched matters by scoring thrice on 29 plays during the opening period. Ralph Felton tallied two of those touchdowns on a four-yard slam and by snatching a lateral from winger Lou Weidensaul, who had caught a pass from Chet Hanulak on Boston's 20.

Between those counters, Bob Laughery smashed from 10 yards out after the Terps had moved there from their 47 on seven plays.

Before the first half ended, Chet Hanulak and Leland Liebold had counted to run up Maryland's lead to 34-0, helped by four conversions by Don Dekcer.

While Maryland's split-T offensive was stunning most of the 32,568 crowd, its defenders smeared all three of Harry Agganis' passing attempts while holding the Terriers' ground attack to minus 14 yards.

The highly regarded Agganis was under terrific pressure at all times and took such a pounding that he was forced to turn over his quarterbacking to 139-pound Johnny with six minutes left in the opening half.

Startling as it may seem, Boston University's play improved as soon as little Nunziato took over and the Terriers held Maryland scoreless the rest of the way. Late in the final period Joe Terrasi saved B. U. from shutout humiliation by running back a punt 55 yards for a touchdown.

The largest home crowd in B. U.'s history roared again when Titus Plomaritis' conversion try was good.

Unbeaten Freshman Teams Missing Now From SWC's Records

By The Associated Press

There were no undefeated freshman football teams left in the Southwest Conference Saturday.

Southern Methodist was the last to take the plunge. The Colts were beaten, 21-20, Friday by Texas.

Baylor pulled into first place by downing Texas Christian, 13-6. The Cubs have won three while losing one.

Texas and SMU hooked up in a duel of stars. Don McIlhenny of SMU scored two touchdowns and rolled up a tremendous 253 yards on 35 carries. Joe Youngblood of Texas gained 133 yards rushing, made two touchdowns and kicked three extra points, thus furnishing the margin of victory.

Jerry Matthews scored one touchdown and passed for the other in Baylor's victory over Texas Christian. Julio LaGuarta and Bill Curtis turned in a 44-yard gainer on a pass for the TCU touchdown.

Don McAuliffe, Michigan State's football captain, scored the opening touchdown of the 1951 season against Oregon State. He also scored the first six-pointer this season in the opener against Michigan.

Illini Upsets Michigan

ANN ARBOR, MICH. —(AP)— Illinois came up off the Big Ten floor Saturday to smack Michigan with a 22-13 upset that jarred the Wolverines' Rose Bowl chances and gave the Illini their first victory in four conference games.

A crowd of 64,752 screaming fans saw the fired-up Illinois team score all its points in the first half.

From the first moment when Illinois' Frank Wodziak blocked a punt attempt by Michigan's Bill Billings for a safety, Michigan was on its way to its first conference loss in four games.

Never allowing Michigan to move consistently until just before the halftime intermission, the Illini added three touchdowns. With slightly more than four minutes left in the first period, Fullback Ken Miller skipped 26 yards for a second score that put Illinois out front, 9-0.

Nimble Irish Crush Navy By 17 To 6

CLEVELAND (AP)— Notre Dame's nimble Irish crumbled Navy's vaunted defense Saturday and defeated the Middies, 17-6, in the twenty-sixth game of their uninterrupted intersectional series before 61,927 fans.

The Middies were held to six first downs, 83 yards rushing and 51 yards passing as they bowed to the Irish for the seventh straight year.

Notre Dame poured through the Middie line for 209 yards and went overhead for 125 for an 18-first down total.

Navy was stymied until midway in the final period, when the Middies struck for their lone touchdown on a 25-yard pass from Quarterback Steve Schoderbek to End Jim Byron.

By that time, the Irish had the game wrapped up on a first period, 16-yard field goal by Bob Arrix, two short-yardage touchdowns by Fullback Neil Worden, and a safety—when Notre Dame's End Bob O'Neil caught Schoderbek in the end zone on an attempted pass play.

Until the Navy touchdown, which came after Capt. John Gurski had recovered a fumble by Notre Dame's Ralph Guglielmi, the Middies had been unable to get beyond Notre Dame's 48-yard line.

The Irish, in winning their seventy-fifth victory for Coach Frank Leahy, against 10 losses and eight ties, broke from the barrier as if to make it a runaway in the opening minutes. Starting from their own 27, they moved to the Navy's one-foot line in seven plays. They had to settle for the field goal.

Lubbock Nears District Title

Only Two AAAA Powers Remain Unbeaten, Untied

The Lubbock Westerners virtually clinched the District 1-AAAA championship Saturday with a 20-7 victory over Pampa and continued its march in defense of the state championship.

The big clash Saturday afternoon followed a hex-happy Hallowe'en [illegible] that saw eight powers voodooed from the unbeaten ranks.

But there are a lot of tough hombres in that class outside District 1 facing any would-be champion.

One is Wichita Falls, the other unbeaten-untied AAAA power.

Friday night the Coyotes, rated by many as the top team in their division, knocked over a strong Waco squad, 14-0, in what was deemed a test of strength. The game was a District 5 conference opener.

And mighty Baytown, also of AAAA, rolled over Orange in a District 8 clash hardly without batting an eye. The score was 57-13.

Tyler upset Highland Park of Dallas, 21-14, in another District 5 game. Meanwhile, the cream of Class AAA kept up winning ways.

Temple, acknowledged kingpin in that class, crushed Corsicana 41-9, in the District 5 headliner. Defending AAA champion Breckenridge affixed a 34-6 hex on a well-rated Grand Prairie eleven in a District 2 conference match. And Brownwood, another top-ranking AAA power, galloped over Weatherford, 34-13, also in District 2.

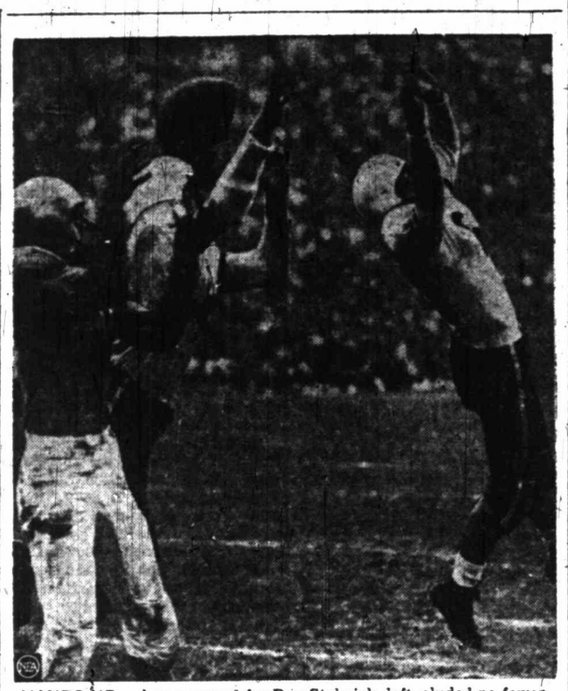

The only unbeaten-untied team in AAA to see its record marred was Lufkin, which could do no better than a 7-7 tie against Palestine. But Lufkin remains undefeated. Heads rolled in Classes AA and A. Three teams fell from the unbeaten ranks in AA and five in A.

In AA it was Burkburnett, Anson and Humble. Burkburnett lost, 34-6, to unbeaten-untied Quanah. Anson went down, 41-9, before Stamford in another battle of the undefeated. Huntsville maintained its perfect record by crushing once-tied but previously undefeated Humble, 24-7. Huntsville did it with the help of O'Neal McCaffety, a twinkle-toed lad who kicks extra points and field goals barefooted.

Arlington Wins

Defending AA champion Arlington whipped White Settlement, 25-6, in a District 11 conference game.

Tumbling from Class A undefeated ranks were Itasca, Fairfield, Palacios, Pilot Point and White Deer.

Odessa High Broncs Blank Borger, 31-0

BORGER — In a game that was all Odessa, the Broncs pulverized the Borger Bulldogs here Friday night 31-0 in a District 1-AAAA battle.

It was a rough ball game, with Borger being penalized 101 yards and Odessa 130.

A pass from Ken Weinberg to John Held for 18 yards accounted for the first Bronc TD. The conversion attempt failed.

Just before the half, Cal Schleymeyer passed to Charlie Ward for 49 yards and a touchdown. The try for the point failed.

Improved De Zavala Drops Termites In Year's First Win

An improved De Zavala elementary eleven finally forced its way into the ranks of the victorious here Friday afternoon, but it was at the expense of the winless Terminal Termites, 6-0.

The game was largely an aerial duel, with both squads flinging passes freely during the contest.

The first quarter was a back-and-forth affair, and Terminal made its only serious scoring threat in the second stanza. De Zavala, facing fourth down on their own 10, pulled a Notre Dame trick out of the bag and tried for a first down instead of punting out of danger. Terminal took over when De Zavala failed to make the necessary yardage.

The Termites could not capitalize on the break. In the ensuing series of downs, they were pushed back to the De Zavala 30-yard stripe and lost the ball there.

Stephen Perez broke the scoring ice for De Zavala in the third period, going for a TD from the terminal 25 in a trick single reverse play. The drive had started from the De Zavala 30-yard marker.

Recovery Of Fumble Proves Difference In Crockett's Win

A fumbled ball, recovered over the goal line in the final quarter for a TD, was the difference here Friday afternoon, as Crockett elementary played the breaks to defeat the La[illegible] Longhorns, 12-6.

Crockett tallied first in the opening quarter when halfback Jerry Roberts took a handoff from his own 30 and went the distance.

The Lamar Longhorns stormed back into the game in the second stanza on a pass from their own 30, quarterback Lannie Smith to end Larry Stanley. The score was knotted at 6-6 when the first half ended.

In the third period, Lamar threatened, working down to the Crockett 20-yard stripe, only to lose possession on a fumble.

Quarterback Carol Mitchell set the stage for Crockett in the final quarter on a 30-yard dash to the Longhorn three-yard line. Roberts plunged from there, fumbled the ball, and recovered it for the winning TD.

Kermit High Edges Monahans, 13 To 6

MONAHANS — The Kermit Yellow Jackets bagged a District 8-AA victory here Friday night by edging the Monahans Lobos, 13 to 6.

Kermit brought the 8,000 fans at Estes Memorial Stadium to their feet early in the initial quarter with a sensational pass from Bob Almond to Don Handlin, who took it on the 30 and went all the way. Almond booted the oval through the uprights.

In the second quarter, Don Hixson romped 45 yards to place the ball on the one, where Don Handlin lugged it over. Almond failed to convert.

Conder Goes Over

Later in the same period, Doug Cramer got off to a nice 35 yards run for the Lobos to Kermit's 10. At this point the Lobos were penalized 5 yards for an off sides infraction, but a penalty against the Jackets for unnecessary roughness placed the ball on the one, where Donnie Conder took it to pay dirt. The kick for the point was blocked.

The last half was a close affair with neither team able to muster a scoring punch.

The statistics:

First downs	13	13
Passes attempted	19	12
Passes completed	8	4
Passing yardage	90	56
Punts	4 for 33	6 for 33
Penalties	4 for 30	5 for 55

Crippled Buffaloes Smothered, 48 To 6

O'DONNELL — Playing without the services of four starters, the Stanton Buffaloes were defeated, 48-6, by the O'Donnell Eagles here Friday night.

It was the second District 4-A loss for the Buffs, having been edged, 25-20, last Friday by Seagraves.

The Buffs have 107 points to their opponent's 101 for the season play.

Fort Stockton Wins First Over McCamey In 12 Years

McCAMEY—Fort Stockton triumphed over McCamey 22-19 here Friday night, for their first victory over McCamey in 12 years, but it took a Hollywood finish to turn the trick.

* * * * *

Darwin Parr, spotted at the 10-yard stripe, coolly booted a field goal in the final 35 seconds of play to hand the narrow win to Fort Stockton in the District 5-A tilt.

George Gonzales accounted for two of the Fort Stockton TD's, while Jim Huckaby tallied for the other one. Charles Dixon scored all of the McCamey scores.

* * * * *

McCamey was in the lead at half-time 7-6, and the score was knotted at 13-13 in the third period. It was all tied up again at 19-19 in the final stanza, when Parr came in to provide the field goal margin of victory.

Blue Jays Pull Year's Surprise, Upsetting South Wildcats, 6-0

The victory crowned the Blue Jays conference champions of the elementary league for 1952. Both teams entered the contest with a record of five wins and no losses, and South previously had been unscored on.

But the storybook finish of the game ended the favorite role that South has enjoyed most of this season. The Blue Jays had fought their way up through the ranks, winning at least three of their five previous triumphs by close margins. But Coach Jerome Blanton's versatile squad had what it takes when the chips are down.

The struggle was as evenly matched as any football game could be. The Wildcats started out in the first period with a drive down to the Blue Jay one-yard line, where they lost the ball on a heartbreaking fumble. Right halfback Kenny Ballard recovered for Sam Houston to end the most serious scoring threat of South during the game.

Brown Scores

Starting from midfield, late in the first period, the Blue Jays drove down to the Wildcat seven-yard line. From there, a reverse play by wingback Billy Brown through the weak side went over for the TD.

The second quarter was a seesaw affair, played mostly in the middle of the field with both sides in possession of the ball several times.

In the third period, Sam Houston worked inside the South 20 twice, and South got down past the Sam Houston 20-yard stripe on two occasions, but neither team could get across the goal line.

The Wildcats opened up with a passing assault in the third stanza, and connected for some good gains, but to no avail.

The fourth period saw the Blue Jays in possession of the ball most of the period, and they had control of it when the game ended.

Sam Houston never threw a pass during the game, relying solely on their smooth running attack.

Fumbles hurt South, since they dropped three, two being recovered by Blue Jay defenders. Sam Houston did not have a single bobble.

Guard Ruff Ahders and end Ronnie Nunneley starred on defense for the Blue Jays, breaking up South plays. Fullback Bubba Jones and quarterback Peter Lekisch were big offensive ground gainers for Sam Houston.

Hardaway Injured

Lamesa's Tornadoes Swarm Over Snyder Tigers, 45-0

LAMESA — The Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa almost blew the Snyder Tigers off the gridiron here Friday night in a one-sided contest that ended with a 45-0 Lamesa victory.

In the first period, fullback Glenn Crecelius passed 18 yards to end Carlos Berry for the first Tornado tally. Crecelius added the extra point. In the same stanza, fullback Leland Bartlett scored again for Lamesa on a 45-yard jaunt to touchdown territory. Crecelius stepped in and again converted for Lamesa.

Crecelius made two TD's in the second quarter, one on an aerial from Quarterback Johnny Jones, and the other on a plunge from the seven-yard stripe.

In the third period, Bartlett rambled 85 yards for another Lamesa score, and also kicked the extra point. The next Tornado touchdown came on a pass play from Jones to Crecelius.

The final Lamesa tally came in the last period, on a 52 yard pass from Jones to Crecelius.

North Elementary Fights Off West For 6 to 0 Win

The first half was a deadlocked contest. West drove inside the North 10-yard stripe several times, but lacked the scoring punch needed to put over a touchdown.

In the third period, West made its big threat of the game. A skillfully executed reverse play sprang Bobby Dickey into the clear for 30 yards, but he was brought down from behind shy of the goal line.

Don Hillen and Jimmy Poteet turned in fine quarterbacking performances for West. Halfback Doug Cooper covered the field expertly, both on offense and defense, for West.

Frisco 49ers Seeking Sixth Straight Win

NEW YORK —(AP)— The unbeaten San Francisco 49ers, attacking for a savage average of 34 points a game, shoot for their sixth straight victory Sunday when they entertain one of the weakest Chicago Bear teams in National Football League history.

Improving each week, the high-powered 49ers are 15-point favorites to hand the Bears their fourth setback in six games.

Likewise, there's a good chance the 49ers can increase their two-game lead in the National Conference. For while they're meeting the Bears, the runnerup Detroit Lions 3-2 will be playing host to the rugged Cleveland Browns, pacesetters in the American Conference. The Browns are given a slight edge in this game.

A win by San Francisco and a loss by Detroit would give the 49ers a three-game lead. With only six games to go, that would be a mighty impressive margin.

These are the top games of a six-game card which also finds:

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Penn State upset Pennsylvania, 14-7, before 67,000 Saturday when Stewart Scheets intercepted a pass to set up the winning touchdown in the last four minutes.

Scheets grabbed one of Glen Adams' passes and ran it back four yards to Penn's seven yard line. Bob Pollard made two yards and then Chick Jones bulled through center to score.

This was the first time Pennsylvania had been beaten although twice previously it had been tied.

Wink High Coasts To 54-20 Victory, Holds Lead In 5-A

BIG LAKE — Scoring in every period, the Wink Wildcats coasted to a 54-20 District 5-A victory over the Reagan County Owls here Friday night to retain their district lead.

It was Wink all the way as they racked up their fifth straight win.

Taking the kickoff, the Cats mustered a 63-yard sustained drive to the 4, where Dan Vilarreal bucked the line to the double stripes. Dale Dodd booted the oval through the uprights.

Minutes later, Wink scored again after an 80-yard drive, on a 19-yard pass from Ken Vinson to Vilarreal. Dodd's try for the point failed.

Still in the initial period, the Owls chalked up six points with Gary Thompson lugging the pigskin 25 yards to the end zone to climax a 69-yard drive. Jackie Holmes failed to convert.

White Scores

The Cats tallied again in the second period with Jimmy White getting off for a 44-yard dash to paydirt. Dodd failed to make the point.

Billy Bishop set up the next two touchdowns for Wink before the half, by recovering fumbles. The first was on the Owls' 35, and on the first play from scrimmage, Vinson shot a pass to Vilarreal to the end zone. Dodd failed to convert. Bishop recovered the other fumble on the Owls' 45 where Vilarreal went all the way on a pitch-out. Dodd booted the point to make the score 33-6 at the half in Wink's favor.

Early in the third quarter, Vinson returned an Owl punt for 65 yards to the end zone, but the play was nullified because of an off-sides penalty on Wink. Later in the same period, Thomas Rainey blocked a Big Lake punt. Bishop recovered and dashed 15 yards for a Cat TD. Dodd kicked the point.

Holmes Goes Over

The Owls got back into the scoring picture in the fourth period. Holmes scored from the one-yard line after a 50-yard jaunt by Jerry Thompson had placed the ball down in scoring position. Holmes also booted the point.

New Murder Threats Told In Uneasy Duval Election

AUSTIN —(AP)— Threats of death returned to the South Texas political wars Saturday.

J. L. McDonald, Benavides rancher, said his life has been threatened twice by anonymous telephone calls to his hotel room in the last 10 days.

He has been here collecting signatures of five state candidates on a petition that will order election supervisors in Duval County's six precincts. He said he got the fifth required signature Friday night.

Elderly and distinguished in appearance, the rancher volunteered the developments to reporters in a personal call to the Capitol Press Room. He successfully had evaded earlier efforts of reporters to reach him.

"I was told I would never be able to deliver the petition and if I did try to carry it through I would probably be killed," he said. Then he added:

"I intend to take this petition back personally and I hope they do try to do something."

In response to questions, he admitted he was armed.

"Everybody is down there in this thing," he said.

Report of the threats came just one day after Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison said he would send extra Texas Rangers to "maintain order" in the Nov 4 election in four of South Texas' politically turbulent counties. They included Duval, Starr, Jim Wells and Zapata.

Garrison's action was in response, he said, to request of "numerous persons" after a write-in campaign was announced for two men defeated in the Democratic primary and opposed by Political Boss George Parr. The write-ins are sought for District Judge Sam G. Reams and Mark Heath of Falfurrias, defeated for district attorney.

The petition McDonald obtained signatures for will go to Judge Reams for official action. The supervisors it authorizes would have power to keep watch over ballot counts and report any irregularities.

Petition Signers

Signing the petition for supervisors were Gov. Allan Shivers, U. S. Senator-elect Price Daniel, Attorney - General - elect John Ben Shepperd, State Treasurer Jesse James and State Supreme Court Associate Justice-elect Frank P. Culver.

McDonald said Culver authorized his name to be added Friday night by telegram just when it appeared his mission would be fruitless.

McDonald said it is not the first time his life has been threatened. He said it had happened before he came to Austin, always anonymously by telephone.

He said he had been told he was on a list marked for death along with Judge Reams and political leader Jack Floyd when Floyd's son was killed by mistake. The trio has been active in opposing Parr's political regime.

McDonald said he would return to Duval County immediately with the petition and turn it over to Judge Reams.

Cotton Bowl Ducat Sales Close Soon

DALLAS—Applications for tickets to the 1953 Cotton Bowl game started pouring into Dallas Saturday as the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association began accepting ticket requests for their seventeenth annual New Year's Day classic.

The first day's mail busines indicated another heavy demand for tickets again this year, and Howard Grubbs, CBAA Secretary-Treasurer, said that he expected even heavier mail deliveries over the weekend.

There are only 25,000 tickets available for this sale, but there is still plenty of time to get an application in the mail.

All applications for tickets must be made by mail only to Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, 1129 National City Building, Dallas 1, Texas, and must be postmarked before midnight, November 4 in order to be accepted by the Cotton Bowl office.

A check and self-addressed, stamped return envelope must accompany each application. The price is $4.80 per ticket with a 25c mailing fee to be included in the check. Tickets are limited to four per person.

Since the demand for tickets always exceeds the supply, a public drawing will be held to determine the order in which ticket applications will be filled. When the supply of tickets is exhausted, unfilled applications will be returned with the original checks.

200 Psychopathic Convicts Aroused In Prison Mutiny

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(AP)— Two hundred psychopathic convicts, excited by the million-dollar Hallowe'en rebellion of 2,000 fellow prisoners, slowed clean-up work at burned and riot-torn Ohio Penitentiary Saturday.

The emotionally unstable convicts, quartered in their battered A and B cell blocks, gave no indication they would make trouble when it came their turn to move across the prison compound.

But, Warden Ralph W. Alvis adopted a give no-quarter attitude and told his guard force, "If they don't come out, go in and get 'em."

John H. Lamneck, state welfare director, said the edgy 200 must be taken from their cell blocks in order to find out how badly they have damaged their cells.

Extent Unknown

"They tore up plumbing and broke out windows," said Lamneck, "but we don't know yet how much of the two cell blocks will be usable."

Arthur Glattke, state corrections commissioner, said he thought the guards would not run into any more trouble.

Although the big trouble definitely was over and even minor skirmishes seemed remote, Warden Alvis took no chances. He asked Gen. Albert Henderson, state adjutant general, to keep his 600 Ohio National Guard members on duty at the prison in full battle dress.

Prison officials scaled down their list of damages. They said only four buildings were destroyed in Friday night's Hallowe'en hell. In six hours the convicts burned down the Catholic chapel; the personnel building that contained the commissary, the deputy warden's office and the records room; a storage building and the prison laundry.

Escape Thwarted

Rioters smashed and tore at the dining hall and kitchen, but they didn't put them to the torch.

Rapid pressure by scores of guards, policemen and state highway patrolmen snuffed out what looked like a latent desire by 1,200 rioting convicts to escape in a body.

A few minor injuries from fights among the convicts were reported.

No hostages were taken, no convicts were shot, none escaped.

Warden Alvis said he found no ring-leaders of the "bad food" riot. He said apparently dissatisfaction with their food prompted a spontaneous uprising that began before dark in the prison dining hall.

South Plains Farmers File Protest On New Wage Scale

LAMESA —(AP)— South Plains cotton farmers — who Friday won a reduction in the government-set wage they must pay Mexican national cotton pickers — decided Saturday to file suit, protesting the new scale.

Plans to file an injunction suit against the government were laid by a cotton-farmer group from Dawson, Lynn and Terry Counties.

The group will invite in farmers from 19 other counties from Castro to Glasscock along the western half of the Plains and Panhandle country.

A new wage was set last week by the U. S. Department of Labor at $2 a hundred pounds of cotton picked. The old figure was $1.55.

Under an international agreement, the prevailing domestic scale of an area must be applied to Mexicans working in that region.

New Survey Made

Ed McDonald, regional director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, said in Dallas that the new survey had established the prevailing wage for citizen labor was $1.75 per hundred pounds picked. McDonald also said "re-surveys of other West Texas counties will be conducted next week."

W. G. Boyd, Jr., manager of the Dawson County Cotton Growers Association, and Sam Allen, director of the Dawson County Farm Bureau, said the farmers object to the new re-survey results on these points:

They claim that $1.75 is not the prevailing wage.

Fringe Benefits

Farmers say they already are paying more in fringe benefits to the Mexicans, providing cooking utensils, insurance, bedding and cotton sacks that is not given to migrant citizen workers.

In addition, the new $1.75 wage has been made retroactive to October 13 by the Department of Labor.

Representatives of the farmers' group says it plans to meet with attorney Tom Milam of Lubbock Sunday to draw up the petition.

Another meeting of the group has been scheduled Monday night in the Terry County Courthouse in Brownfield. The other 19 counties will be invited.

Chinese Delegate Warns UN Against Armistice In Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —(AP)— Nationalist China's foreign minister, George K. C. Yeh, warned the United Nations Saturday to be on guard if the Communists agree to a truce in Korea. He said it might be an obstacle to final peace and commented grimly that the Reds have shown no desire for peace.

"Much as we desire peace, we believe that the armistice now under negotiation in Korea is desirable only in so far as it constitutes a step, a necessary step, toward the restoration of peace," Yeh told the UN Political Committee, whose 60 top-ranking delegates are debating the whole issue of Korea.

"Uppermost in our minds is the question whether the armistice in Korea, if it should come to pass, would prove to be a step towards the restoration of peace or whether it would develop into an obstacle to peace," he continued.

Cites 'Bitter Experience'

"In other words, we must not delude ourselves into thinking that the solution of repatriation of war prisoners means the solution of the whole Korean question . . . The Communists at Panmunjom have yet to show that they do desire peace. The United Nations should not, therefore, go on indefinitely cherishing the hope that the Communists may eventually be motivated by such a desire."

Yeh said his government had had 30 years of "bitter experience" with the Communists. He said his government had found that, after agreements had been reached, the Communists would repudiate them.

Sun-Times Predicts Illinois Will Go Ike

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Chicago Sun-Times said Saturday night its straw poll of Illinois indicates Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican candidate for President, will carry the state with 53.68 per cent of the votes cast.

It also said the poll indicates Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic nominee, will receive 46.16 per cent of the votes of his home state.

The poll also indicated that William G. Stratton, Republican candidate for governor, will get 53.87 per cent of the votes, while his Democratic rival, Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon, will receive 46.13 per cent.

Pollsters—

Such words as "bigotry," "smear," "manure," "fraud," "slander," "flim-flam," and "lies" became standard campaign ammunition.

In the closing weeks, both sides seemed to reach the conclusion that the Korean War might be the deciding issue. Eisenhower charged that bungling by the Truman Administration had got this country into it. More South Koreans should be trained to man the front line, cutting American losses, he said.

Then Eisenhower made a major move. If elected, he said, "I shall go to Korea" to try to bring the war to "an early and honorable end."

Stevenson hotly declared there was "no slick and easy" way out of the stalemate; he said he would not make "false promises" even if it cost him the election.

The pollsters lined their forecast with feathered clauses on which they could fall back if the limb got sawed off.

What puzzled the experts were such questions as these:

How will the women vote? Women of voting age now outnumber men by about two million.

What effect will the drop in farm prices have on farmers' votes, many of which Truman garnered four years ago?

As the campaign drew to its end, politicians anxiously scanned the political skies in such massive states as New York, California and Illinois, all rated as doubtful. Together they have 104 votes, a big chunk of the 266 needed for victory.

It all added up to a national political picture in which, the experts figured, anything might happen. Even those who shunned the pedestrian technique of poll-taking and relied on pure reason could not agree.

'Mothball' Fleet Officer Sentenced

BEAUMONT, —(AP)— Manuel Gonzales former superintendent of the U. S. "mothball" fleet here, was convicted Saturday of federal conspiracy charges and sentenced to five years.

Harold Gray, former assistant fleet captain, and Emile Schmidt, New Orleans rope dealer, were given two years each on similar charges.

ROK Troops Hold To Hill Positions

SEOUL —(AP)— South Korean troops fought within 25 yards of the crest of Triangle Hill in determined day-long attacks Saturday but stalled at dusk under a hail of fire from Chinese Reds.

Front dispatches said doughty Eight Army troops, now in the twentieth day of indecisive action, pulled off the exposed slopes to stronger positions.

In the west, a strong United Nations tank raiding party drove Chinese defenders from a hill, killing or wounding 500 Reds. An Allied officer said the Communist position overlooked the Sachon River which flows across the battle line, south of Panmunjom, where truce talks are now in recess.

Far to the north the aerial war flared for the first time in six days. The Fifth Air Force claimed U. S. Sabre jets shot down two Communist MIG's and damaged four others over Northwest Korea.

The Chinese penetrated part of the Allied line at dawn. Then a furious close-quarter fight raged throughout most of the day. By nightfall a briefing officer said neither the Allies nor the Reds were in contol.

A later front dispatch indicated the Allies had repulsed a Red probe on Jane Russell and still held the height.

The Fifth Air Force announced its planes during october destroyed 2,600 enemy-occupied buildings—the largest toll in 18 months. A spokesman said an estimated 1,350 Reds killed or wounded in air strikes during the month was the highest since December, 1951.

LANDS SAKES! WITHOUT ADVERTISING, WHERE WOULD WE BE!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this:

Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good values. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Advertising... BY SELLING MORE GOODS TO MORE PEOPLE
Makes your job more secure

DOGGONE GOOD SAFETY LESSON—"Lassie," (no relation to the movie dog star), shows pupils of Barton school, in Minneapolis, the safe way to cross the street. "Baby," in the buggy, is an anonymous bit-player who travels with an all-dog troop which is helping to teach school children safety lessons. Policeman Ernest Pressley, of Charlotte, N. C., who is taking his safety show on a 90-state tour, says the ever-popular act has played to more than 3,000,000 children so far.

HAL BOYLE LANDS IN MADRID—

By HAL BOYLE

MADRID —(AP)— Spain has come up with a curious program for the problem of inflation which now bedevils almost every modern land.

After losing its attempt to keep prices in check during the last year, Spain has decided to try holding the fort by granting a series of cash bonuses to workers instead of flat salary increases.

This is a compromise worked out by Generalissimo Francisco Franco's advisers, who earlier licked Spain's black market problem by doing away with bizarre economic experiments that had crippled individual effort here.

The stop-gap compromise calls for one or more monthly salary bonuses to all employes of private firms—bonuses to be paid entirely by the employer. It was adopted after a heated argument between Spain's labor minister and the minister of commerce.

Bonuses Vary

The labor minister said the workers simply could not live on their present income. The commerce minister contended a general pay hike would bring a new wave of inflation.

The number of these emergency, 1-month salary bonuses to be granted varies with the industry. For example—bank employes, who already get a month's paid vacation each year, under the new scheme will be paid 17 months' salary for the 11 months they work.

The ordinary day laborer, paid by the hour, gets nothing extra under the new program. He remains Spain's forgotten man—feeding and clothing himself and family and told it's patriotic to have more and more children on 14 to 18 pesetas a day. That's between 35 and 45 cents a day.

Works Without Shoes

He is so low on Spain's economic totem pole that he often works without shoes and his clothing is ragged and tattered.

He is able to get by only because every member of the family, including the small children, work at any job they can find. It is common for a man in this country, even a government employe, to hold two and even three jobs if he is fortunate enough to find that many.

It does the day laborer no good to protest at his pittance because there is plenty of unskilled labor available. Yet the supply of really skilled labor is so short that Spain must import technicians from other countries for her factories.

Soundproof Chamber Tests Radio Devices

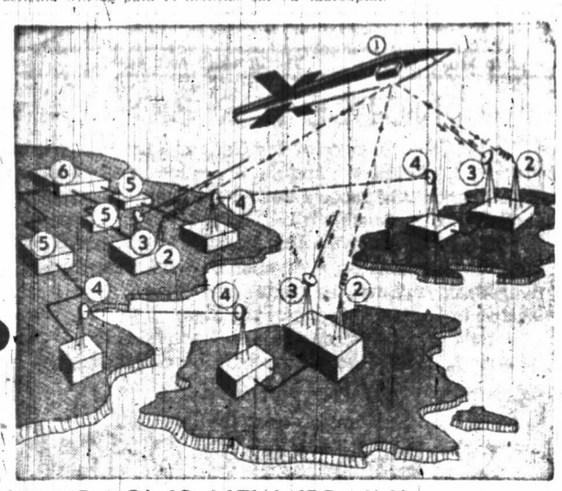

BALTIMORE —(AP)— The U. S. Air Force may be able to improve future design of radio equipment through the use of a soundproof and echo-free testing chamber, the Air Force reported here.

The new $35,000 chamber is a facility of the Wright Air Development Center, Dayton, Ohio. Technicians believe the chamber will be useful in determining and calibrating the performances of all types of radio communications equipment. Goodwill Industries, made an important contribution to the project by building 4,280 sound-absorbing wedges used in the chamber.

NEGRO VOTE FORECAST

CHICAGO —(AP)— John H. Sengstacke, publisher and editor of four negro newspapers, said Friday night that "Adlai E. Stevenson will receive 80 per cent of the negro vote."

'RAYDAC' IS NEW 'BRAIN'—

Destined to aid in guided-missile research at the Navy Air Missile Test Center in Point Magu, Calif., is a new electronic brain just completed at a cost of $2,000,000 in the Waltham, Mass., laboratories of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company. Diagram above shows how the thinking machine keeps track of a guided missile (1) by picking up raido-signals with receiving stations (2). Double check on speed and course is kept by radar tracking-equipment (3) which sends data through microwave-links (4) to recording instruments (5) where it is stored until fed into computer (6) for breakdown by the Raytheon Digital Automatic Computer, nicknamed RAYDAC. Console of the calculator is seen below. Solving problems in a few minutes which would take human teams 20 to 30 days, RAYDAC's 15 control panels are 44 feet long. The machine is capable of 1,900 additions or subtractions, 1,400 multiplications, 1,100 divisions, has 5,000 radio tubes or enough to build 1,000 home radios.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— John L. Lewis and hard coal operators signed a new contract Saturday raising the wages of 65,000 anthracite miners $1.90 a day, effective November 16.

The new contract is subject to approval by the Wage Stabilization Board which recently chopped 50 cents off a similar agreement reached by Lewis and the soft coal industry.

The new hard coal contract was announced by Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers, and Edward G. Fox, who led the operator's negotiating team.

They told newsmen all money benefits in the new contract, with the exception of increased payments to the union's welfare fund, have been applied to the wage structure and not to fringe benefits.

FPB Investigates Cree-Sykes Situation

KILGORE —(AP)— An officer of the Federal Petroleum Board said here Saturday the board has been making an investigation of unreported dead oil wells in the Cree-Sykes field in Runnels County.

James Lewis, chairman of the board, said no prosecution has yet resulted.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

MIDLAND SPREADS WESTWARD, and on Franklin Street we have a neat 2-bedroom (rather large) asbestos home. Comfortable living room, family-sized kitchen, bath, and attached garage. Close to shopping, schools, and transportation. Can be handled for as little as $1,000 down on good terms. Full price is $8,500.

EVERYTHING THAT YOU NEED in order to make a home complete. Located on paved Brunson, and only two blocks from school, it is constructed of JOHNS-MANSVILLE asbestos siding (never needs painting, and reduces insurance payments). Two nice bedrooms, 17x21 living room, plastic tile wainscoating in the clean kitchen. And the den is huge: 12x26 and paneled in California Redwood with oak floors. There is a huge floor furnace and air-conditioner. Tile bath, more than ample closet space, and washer connection. Surrounding the beautiful lawns is a high tile fence. Newly constructed 12x16 tile storage house. It bears repeating that here you will find everything for a complete home. $11,750.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR and fact for fact. Here are the facts for your dollars. Constructed of brick and paneling, located on West Louisiana, and featuring superior construction thru-out, this attractive home has 3 bedrooms, 2 tile baths, lovely living room and dining combination, and attached garage which can be inexpensively converted into a huge den (it's finished and painted). Central heating, ducted for air-conditioning, luxuriously carpeted throughout. Superbly designed kitchen with tile wainscoating, pine cabinets, washer connection, pantry, and Vent-A-Hood. Rear patio and large lot. Will consider TRADE and priced at ONLY $17,950.

ON QUIET EAST ESTES which is paved and only two blocks from the Crockett grade school, we have a lovely 2-bedroom home. Austin Stone entry hall and guest closet, elongated living room, and convenient kitchen. Rear screened porch, washer connection. Nice lawn, large outside planter box. Assume 4% GI loan and make payments of only $57 per month. Full price is $8,900.

ONLY ONE MAN can win the presidential election. Make sure it is your choice. VOTE on November 4. If you take time from your work, it is the law that you will be paid by your employer.

1904 North Lamesa is a two-bedroom, asbestos home with a large living room and immaculate, pearl Masonite kitchen. Full price is only $6,550.

3229 West Franklin has two bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath. It is priced at ONLY $4,500, and is ideally located for investment property. Will stay constantly rented.

TRY 513 West Hicks. Two bedrooms, Masonite bath, and large kitchen. It has an 18x20 quonset hut in the rear, water well and its own butane system. The main house is 768 square feet. Total price is a low $5,500.

ON THE SOUTH side, look at 1206 Camp Street. Clean, asbestos siding home with 2 large bedrooms, nice living room, and bigger kitchen. Approximately 900 sq. ft. of floor area. Water well, nice lawn, too many trees (in Midland, yet!), and even a hen hut. The lot is 100x140. The price is an encouraging $6,900.

ATTRACTIVE 108 East Pine deserves first consideration. Solid masonry, 2 bedrooms, large living room, nicely arranged kitchen with dining area. Can be handled for ONLY $1,725 down, including all closing costs. Full price is $8,570.

1203 West Kentucky, you'll like. Two bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, nice bath, and attached garage. Nice lawns and trees, paved street, fenced yard. Can be handled for about $1,600 down. Priced at $9,080.

FOR SALE, TO SETTLE ESTATE

1,169-acre ranch, first time offered for sale. This ranch is about half open, with live oak and post oak, and some cedar. Fronts on paved road two miles, has two miles of river. Three wells. Good barns, sheds, fences. 33 acres in cultivation, plenty more could be plowed. This is black and red waxy soil; you can't find any better than this if you hunted a lifetime. ATTENTION CATTLEMEN

Should you care to finish your cattle out close to the Chicago market, I have 2,900 acres of rich, level farm land located 69 miles northwest of Chicago. The corn for the past 7 years on this land has been averaging 90 to 120 bushels to the acre. It is all under cultivation—there is no waste land. There are 20 modern dwelling units as well as tremendous hog and cattle raising and feeding facilities. This land could be divided nicely into 3 different farms, with the price averaging $300 per acre. However, it will vary, depending which portion one might buy if you don't take it all. 50% financing can be had. For complete information, telephone or write

HONORED BY SHELL—B. P. Walsh, left, Shell Oil Company production foreman, is shown receiving a wrist watch and diamond tie-pin from M. A. Sherwood, Midland area production manager, in recognition of 25 years of continuous service with the company. Walsh is located at the Shell office in Monahans where he supervises production activities in that area. He was honored recently with a luncheon at the Midland Country Club. Others attending were S. Metz, A. H. Vineyard, E. L. Kimrey, R. G. Patterson and M. A. Sherwood.

Strike In Lynn Ellenburger Is Given Offset

Round Top Oil Company of Abilene and C. M. Ashby of Dallas are to start drilling immediately at their No. 2 Garza Land & Cattle Company which is to be a 9,500 foot exploration to try for production in the Ellenburger in Southeast Lynn County.

It will be a one-location northeast offset to the same operators' No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company, flowing Ellenburger discovery which is now in the process of completion.

Site for the new exploration is to be 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 432, block 9, EL&RR survey. It is 12 miles east of the town of O'Donnell.

To Take Potential

Drilling will be with rotary tools. Round Top and Ashby No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company is preparing to take potential test and complete from perforated section in the Ellenburger at 9,310-35 feet.

Informed observers report that the project had produced at the rate of approximately 300 barrels of oil per day on preliminary tests.

Total depth is at 9,367 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented on bottom. Top of the Ellenburger is at 9,306 feet. Elevation is 2,915 feet. The perforated zone has been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

DST In Ellenburger

Before the pipe was set this project had run a three-hour drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 9,252-9,367 feet. Gas came to the surface in one hour.

Recovery was 6,890 feet of clean 43.2-gravity oil and 360 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 140 pounds to 2,340 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure was 3,878 pounds after 45 minutes.

On SE Side Of Pool

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 431, block 9, EL&RR survey. The Round Top and Ashby No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company is on the southeast side of the O'Donnell field.

That area has one producer from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian and one producer from the Mississippian. Both those wells drilled to the Ellenburger and made water in that formation.

Produced In Mississippian

The Round Top and Ashby No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company showed as a producer from the Mississippian, as well as discovering flowing oil from the Ellenburger.

Operators probably will test the Mississippian pay in the near future.

In a previous report on the Round Top and Ashby No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company it was stated through error that the well was in Lea County, N. M.

Wildcats Are To Be Drilled In Five West Texas Counties

Wildcats have been reported for immediate drilling in five West Texas Counties.

Duncan Drilling Company of Big Spring will drill No. 1 McCrary as a 3,000-foot wildcat in Southeast Garza County.

Projected depth should take the venture to the San Andres-Permian. Combination cable and rotary tools will be used to drill the test.

NE Of Justiceburg

Location is 1,300 feet from south and 1,950 feet from west lines of section 127, block 5, H&GN survey and five miles southeast Justiceburg.

To Test Ellenburger

Projected depth is 6,700 feet for a test of the Ellenburger. The venture is four and three-quarters miles north of the Nenny pool. It is on a farmout from Kewanee Oil Company, which previously was reported to have arranged with A. L. Wimmer of Dallas to drill the wildcat.

In Southwest Motley County, Humble Oil & Refining Company has staked location for its No. 1-K Matador Land & Cattle Company.

It will be drilled with rotary tools to 8,500 feet to test the Ellenburger.

Southwest of Matador

Location is four miles southwest of Matador and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 22, T. G. McNutt survey.

C. A. Hurst and S. P. Smith of Midland have spotted their No 1 G. Clayton as a 4,000-foot rotary wildcat 12 miles east of Ballinger in Runnels County.

Another New Test

Wilson and Mitchell of San Angelo will drill No. 1 University as a 2,500-foot cable tool wildcat in Northeast Crockett County, 12 miles southwest of Barnhart.

The project is one-half of a mile north northwest of Val-Carroll No. 1 University, which was plugged and abandoned at a total depth of 750 feet.

Amerada To Complete Yoakum Wildcat As Two-Pay Discovery

However that plan has been changed.

The well flowed 86.27 barrels of oil, plus 83/100 of one barrel of basic sediment and drilling water and 3.4 barrels of drilling mud in four hours and 15 minutes from perforated section at 11,850-860 feet in the Devonian during a drillstem test.

After the tool was closed operators bled off 6.92 barrels of fluid to tanks and then reversed out an additional 44.24 barrels of fluid. All of it was oil except a small shakeout of basic sediment and drilling mud.

Then when all of the drill pipe had been pulled after the test an additional 600 feet of mud, cut with 22 per cent oil was recovered. There was no formation water.

After that test was completed the hole was circulated for 24 hours. A proper circulation of the drilling fluid could not be obtained.

That failure to regain circulation on the perforated section at 11,850-860 feet which caused the abandonment of the plan to drill No. 1 Weems on down to the Devonian water table.

The Devonian was topped in this wildcat at 11,692 feet. Elevation is 3,813 feet. Top of the Mississippian is at 10,960 feet.

The entire Devonian section was cored through before the 5 1/2-inch casing was set on bottom at 11,860 feet. None of the Devonian section has been tested except the one at 11,850-860 feet.

The cores showed that practically all of the Devonian has as good prospects for producing as does the ten feet at 11,850-860 feet.

Operators plan to squeeze more cement back of the casing and after it has set they will perforate and test more of the Devonian.

This wildcat produced more than 400 barrels of oil during a three hour and 23 minutes drillstem test in the Mississippian at 11,020-11,095 feet.

Patteson Promoted To New Position In Gulf Division

R. W. (Bob) Patteson, of Midland, Permian Basin oilman has been promoted to a new job with Gulf Oil Corporation.

He will become, effective December 1, field staff assistant to F. J. Adams of Fort Worth, vice president in charge of the Fort Worth producing division.

R. W. (Bob) Patteson

On that date he will give up the job as Gulf zone agent in Midland, which he has held since October 1926.

Brown Coming Back

He will be succeeded on that assignment by W. L. (Brownie) Brown, a former Midlander who is returning to this city after about seven years service in the Fort Worth division office.

Prior to going to Fort Worth in 1945 Brown had been assistant zone agent.

On his new job Patteson will maintain his office in the Gulf Building at Odessa. However, he will continue to live in Midland.

Come Here In 1926

He came to Midland when the Gulf land and geological office for West Texas was moved to this city on October 15, 1926. In less than a month he was named zone agent and has continued in that job ever since.

Principal responsibilities of Gulf zone agents are to handle land, leasing scouting and other connected assignments.

During the more than 26 years Patteson has been in Midland he has taken care of many items of Gulf work which was not directly connected with land, leasing or scouting.

Is "Mr. Gulf" In West Texas?

He has for many years been considered by thousands of persons in West Texas to be "Mr. Gulf."

Prior to coming to Midland in 1926 Patteson had worked for Gulf at Breckenridge, Amarillo, Wichita Falls and San Angelo.

He went to San Angelo in 1924 and remained there until the Gulf office was moved from that city to Midland in October 1926.

Gulf was the first major oil company to establish an office in Midland on a permanent basis.

Humble Sets Stepout To Upton Oiler

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Ella M. Corbett is to be a 6,400-foot exploration in Central-South Upton County, eight miles south and slightly west of Rankin.

Location of Humble No. 1 Corbett is 960 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 21, block B-2, GC&SF survey. Drilling with rotary tools is to start at once.

Field Is Designated

The Woodward and Auld No. 1 Corbett has been designated as the opener of the Rankin, South (Wolfcamp) field.

It reported a daily potential of 336 barrels of 32-gravity oil, flowing through open two-inch tubing after the perforated section at 6,130-60 feet had been treated with 4,000 gallons of mud acid and with 3,000 gallons of regular acid.

Gas-oil ratio was 530-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 25 pounds.

Location of the field opener is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block B-2, GC&SF survey. It is four and one-half miles northeast of the shallow Crockett field.

M., office as a pumper in the Drinkard, Brunson and Hare Fields. Reeves and his family now reside at the Shell production camp near Eunice, N. M.

Plymouth To Set Liner In Martin Test

Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 J. E. Millhollon, one location northeast stepout to a small pumping Spraberry discovery in Southeast Martin County, has drilled through the Spraberry section without test-

Operator will cement 5 1/2-inch liner on bottom and perforate and test in the Spraberry and try to make an oil well. There is no way of telling what it will do until it is tested.

In that work he had been associated by G. J. (Doc) Sevier, Pure's veteran district landman in Midland for the Permian Basin.

PB Geophysicists To Present Papers At Regional Meet

Two Permian Basin geophysicists will present technical papers at the Midwestern Regional Geophysical meeting in Fort Worth November 13 and 14. The meeting is being jointly sponsored by the Permian Basin Geophysical Society along with societies in Tulsa, Shreveport, Dallas and Fort Worth.

H. L. Swords, with Union Oil Company of California in Midland, will deliver the first technical paper at the opening session on the morning of November 13. His paper is entitled "Exploratory Activity- Permian Basin."

Second Paper

Ralph H. Fellows, The Atlantic Refining Company, Lovington, N. M. will deliver the second technical paper at the opening meeting. It is entitled "Unconformities Associated with Oil Accumulation, Denton Pool, Lea County, New Mexico."

The prominent position given these papers on the program is evidence of the importance the geophysicists place on Permian Basin activities.

About 1,000 geophysicists are expected to attend the meeting. Many of the members of the Permian Basin group are planning to take their wives along since a special entertainment program has been set up for the ladies.

MPC Ups Jennings To Assistant Chief Geologist In Dallas

Phillip H. Jennings, Magnolia Petroleum Company staff geologist in the concern's Dallas office, has been promoted to assistant chief geologist succeeding John W. Clark who recently was advanced to chief geologist for the company.

Jennings, Columbian University graduate with an A. B. degree and a Ph. D. in geology, has been a staff geologist for the last three years.

The new organization is under the direction of W. W. Clawson, recently named general manager of the unit and formerly chief geologist of Magnolia.

Rouse has been staff geologist in Magnolia's general offices in Dallas and Menefee was formerly assistant director of geophysical exploration. They will be located at Casper, Wio., temporary headquarters of the new Socony-Vacuum unit.

Sharp Drilling Jump Shown In PB Areas

A sharp increase in Permian Basin rotary drilling activity in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico was recorded by Reed Roller Bit Company October 25 in their semi-monthly survey of activity in the area.

At that time, the area covered by the survey showed 508 rigs in operation as compared to the 488 October 10.

Midland County picked up one rig during the 15-day period and had 18 drilling October 25.

Andrews, "hottest" county in the West Texas portion of the Permian Basin, was credited with 34 rotaries turning. October 10, there were 29 in that county. Most of the rigs in Andrews are over deep tests.

Upton and Reagan Counties, two of the chief Spraberry areas, had 29 and 27 rigs going respectively.

Sinclair Wildcat In C-E Lea Gets Free Oil In Deep Section

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Renshaw, Central-East Lea County, New Mexico, wildcat, two miles east of McDonald and 14 miles north and four miles east of Lovington found a good indication of being a discovery from a deep lime section which is possibly in the Pennsylvanian formation.

That show came in a drillstem test at 10,947-971 feet. The tool was open three hours. A 1,000-foot water blanket was used.

Had Clean Oil

Recovery was 3,300 feet of clean oil, the 1,000-foot water blanket and 100 feet of drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water. Gravity of the oil has not been reported.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,325 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 30 minutes was 1,700 pounds.

The prospector is drilling deeper. It is contracted to 14,000 feet to try to find and test the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 2-14s-36e. It is seven miles northwest of the multipay Denton field and is about 10 miles south and slightly east of Tatum.

This prospective new discovery is three and one-half miles west and one mile north of a location reported a few days ago by The Wilshire Oil Company, Inc., for its No. 21-9 E. L. Harbison, a slated 12,500-foot wildcat which is to start drilling at once. The Wilshire project is to test into the Devonian.

It is located 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 8-14s-37e.

On Farmout

The Wilshire prospecter is to be drilled as a result of a deal worked out by W. G. Ross and A. C. Holder of Midland and Lovington, N. M.

They took a farmout on a one-half interest in a block of 3,000 acreas of leases in that region from Sinclair for the drilling of a Devonian wildcat.

Ross and Holder turned the acreage and the drilling obligation to Wilshire and retained any overriding interest in the project and in the leases which were involved.

Le Sassier Is To Present Program At WTGS Meet

The West Texas Geological Society will hold its regular luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Cactus Club, West Highway 80.

The program is to be presented by John W. Le Sassier. It will consist of Kodachrome slides showing various points of geologic and scenic interest in New Mexico.

William W. Clawson

John W. Clark

IN MAGNOLIA SHIFT—John W. Clark, right, of Dallas is the new chief geologist for Magnolia Petroleum Company. He succeeds William W. Clawson who has been made general manager of a new producing organization which has been established by Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., to conduct exploration and producing operations in the Williston Basin and in the north portion of the Rocky Mountain states. Magnolia is an affiliate of Socony-Vacuum. Clawson had been chief geologist for Magnolia for six years. He had been associated with that concern since 1933. Clark has been with Magnolia since 1932 and had been assistant chief geologist since 1944.

WASHINGTON OIL—

Major Issues Affecting Petroleum, Natural Gas At Stake In Election

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A score or more major issues affecting petroleum and natural gas are at stake as the nation goes to the polls Tuesday in the voting that delivers either a Republican or Democratic Administration for the next four years. The control of Congress also is at stake.

The bulk of indications are that the industry, in the overall, would fare better under the Republicans. There is a question of just how much better. And there are reservations for on some issues it is anticipated, the Democrats would treat the industry better.

On the Tidelands issue, there is a virtual certainty of better treatment at the hands of the Republicans. General Eisenhower has said he's for state title to the offshore lands. By and large, the bulk of the Republicans in the U. S. Congress have voted for state title. On the other hand, Governor Stevenson has come out for federal title. If he is elected President of the United States, and state-title legislation would be vetoed, probably, and, to be enacted, would have to win a two-thirds vote of both chambers of Congress. This total has been impossible to reach during the last few years.

On oil imports, where a lively battle is anticipated in the Congress next year, a Republican Congress and Administration well might prove more favorable towards steps to slow down oil imports. This is the history of the Republican Party, and there are few signs of a major change. The Democrats, on the other hand, have been cutting tariff barriers in the last decade or so resulting in a slash of up to one-half in excise duties on oil imports that went into effect last month.

Next year a complete review of tariff policy is in store on measures to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act beyond its June expiration date.

As for the 27.5 per cent depletion allowance for oil and gas producers, there is some uncertainty whether the Republicans would be kinder than the Democrats. In the past, it has been Democratic Presidents who assailed the allowance and asked it be eliminated or reduced, but it was Democratic majorities on the tax-writing committees and in the House and Senate who voted to keep the allowance as is. By and large, Republicans in Congress went along with the Democratic majorities, but at least part of the opposition may be attributed to defiance of a Democratic Administration. Few Republican members of the tax-writing committees are from major oil producing states, while many of the Democratic members are from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, California and the like.

Natural Gas Possibilities

The natural gas industry might see Thomas C. Buchanan, a man favoring strict controls over gas, renamed as chairman of the Federal Power Commission in the event of a Stevenson victory. On the other hand, General Eisenhower would be certain to name someone else to succeed Buchanan whose term expires next January. The guesses are that the general would name some one more welcome to the gas industry.

There is evidence that the Republicans would try to reduce taxes and spending and to hall inflation at its source, a large factor in which is government inflationary policies. A natural result of such efforts would be to take away the need, if any, for price controls. A Democratic Administration on the other hand, might carry on the momentum of the last two decades which have seen spending, waste, taxing and inflation. On this score, industry might benefit, at the same time, it is basic politics that thousands benefit from big spending, taxing, waste and inflation.

The government's crackdown on the "international oil cartel" well could become a casualty during the post-election period, no matter which party moves into the White House.

Vote-Getting Effort

There is a widespread feeling that the whole case was brought up only as a Democratic effort to obtain votes by going after big business. Many say the Democrats will allow the matter to lapse after the elections. And even more persons have a hunch that if the Republicans take over next January, they would be even surer to disown and abandon the matter. Beyond that, there is the prospect of a drive for legislation to say just what the companies abroad can and cannot do under U. S. laws. In the event of Republican influences in Washington next year, the chances are the industry would like the legislation better than if the Democrats wrote it all by themselves. If any criticism of a decision to drop the "oil cartel" case arises, there is ample evidence on the record that the inquiry already has done more harm than good, and promises further harm to the country if allowed to continue.

The matter of labor legislation is sure to come up, but there is a question whether the Republicans would behave much, if any differently than the Democrats. Changes in the GOP-written Taft-Hartley Law, will be debated, but whether any changes are to come is yet to be seen. It's certain that the Democrats have had time to change the act in the last few years if they really wanted, just as it's certain the Republicans wrote the law, and stand behind it, in general.

'Ifs' Of The Election

On the eve of the elections, it is futile to speculate at any length on all the "ifs" of the coming election. But it is important to point out what many forget. This is the possibility of a Republican Congress and a Democratic team in the White House and Cabinet. If this occurs, it could touch off a series of inquiries by Congress—some of them into petroleum—of operations under the Democrats during the last few years. A reverse situation, which appears even more probable,

Oil Men Are Told That Federal Rule May Creep Up

DENVER—Oil men were warned Saturday that complete control of the petroleum industry can evolve from government activities which tend to restrict market outlet, control prices and "otherwise ignore the essentials of a competitive economy."

Russell B. Brown, Washington, D. C., general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, cited "three essentials to adequate oil supplies" in an address at the annual meeting of the Rocky Mountain Oil & Gas Association.

Three Essentials

Simply stated, he said these essentials are 1) the right to free exploration, 2) market outlet at reasonable prices, and 3) a good government atmosphere.

Brown cited several government activities which he said "continuously plague the domestic oil producer and threaten his success in filling the nation's oil needs."

He listed these as price controls by OPS, controls of both price and producing operations by the Federal Power Commission, inequitable control of steel by the Office of International Trade, control of market outlet through State Department policies, and failure of the Treasury Department to recognize production hazards in tax laws.

Play Down Ability

He said these efforts to weaken the domestic oil industry, consistently "play down" the ability of United States producers to meet the nation's requirements.

"Unfortunately, foreign producing oil companies have been the ally of government bureaus in many such activities," he said. "Ironically, should they succeed in destroying confidence in the domestic industry, these bureaus would then turn on foreign operating companies and attack them as a monopoly."

"Complete control of the entire industry would thus be accomplished," he added.

Reflects On Entire Industry

Commenting on the government's "oil cartel" charges, Brown said he doubted that "anything useful will come from procedures now in process."

"This assault merely demonstrates what I have said here—that anything which harms one segment of the industry, reflects on the entire industry," he said. "It shows the wisdom of each segment respecting the other's problems."

Brown said the United States oil industry today faces "the greatest task in its history," in addition to mounting peacetime needs, it must develop ample productive capacity for national defense, he said.

He declared that success in this goal is "severely threatened" by unrealistic policies such as inflexible price controls and tax reductions allowed on imported oil under the recently revised Venezuelan Trade Agreement.

Imposed Without Authority

Price controls were imposed without authority, have been "administered without realism," and "have served to retard rather than stimulate expanded oil production as intended by Congress," Brown said.

The effect of rigid price controls and the harmful influence of continued increases in oil imports are interrelated and "constitute a double threat to domestic oil expansion," he said.

"The domestic industry cannot generate the capital required to meet defense goals," he asserted, "unless imports are reduced, price controls are removed, or both."

Fair And Impartial Guide

He said domestic producers have long advocated an import policy which would provide a fair and impartial guide for government, for importing companies, and for the domestic industry.

"Government favoritism to foreign oil has seemed to discount the importance of maintaining a strong domestic industry," Brown declared. "It also has become obvious that harmful policies are not always corrected merely because the power exists to do so.

"If wrongs cannot be righted by the industry itself, a resort to legislative relief is greatly encouraged," he said.

Rights Threatened

The speaker warned Rocky Mountain oil men that "the right to explore," although guaranteed by the American form of government, has in the past "been threatened by attempted government edict."

He referred to unsuccessful government proposals in the late 1930's to withhold the public domain from oil exploration.

Pointing out that the federal government now owns about one-fourth of the total U. S. land area, principally in the Rocky Mountain region, he said "only temporary protection from this concentration of ownership lies in our public land laws."

Could Change Purpose

"The philosophy of these laws is one of encouraging development of our natural resources," he said. "However, some continue efforts to change this basic purpose and would convert the public lands to a source of primary revenue to the federal government."

"The association which I represent (IPAA) successfully opposed the effort to close down the public lands, and since that time, great oil resources have been developed on the public domain from Mexico to the Canadian border. The people, communities, and states have benefitted, as well as the federal government. Any change from laws now in effect would be disastrous."

Senator Anderson Reported As Silent Partner In Saxon

SAN ANGELO —(AP)— The San Angelo Standard-Times said Saturday U. S. Senator Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico is listed as a silent partner in Saxon Exploration Company, Abilene, on an assumed name register file at the Taylor County Clerk's office at Abilene September 14, 1950.

Saxon Exploration Company is one of five companies on whose leases in the Cree-Sykes Fields of northeastern Runnels County 62 oil wells were found to be dead shortly after operators had reported them at full production.

Of Saxon's 52 wells on two leases in the fields, 27 were found to be dead.

The Standard-Times said others listed on the form are M. R. Prestridge, Alamogordo, N. M.; L. R. Allison, Tornillo, Texas; L. G. Armstrong, Roswell, N. M., and Norman Fitzgerald, Abilene. The Entry, "not a partner but conducting said business," was made after Fitzgerald's name.

Check With RRC

The paper said a check with the Railroad Commission office in Austin disclosed that only Fitzgerald's name appears on two Railroad Commission Form 7's (organization report) filed with that office, one on June 22, 1949, the other on Nov. 2, 1949.

The Railroad Commission October 22 ordered pipe lines severed to the leases and called an emergency hearing for October 27 at Austin for operators to explain the irregularities and show why their properties should not remain shut in."

Three of the companies were cleared of any irregularities at the hearing. These companies are G. B. Cree, Abilene; Union Sulphur and Oil Corporation, Houston, and Skiles Corporation, Mt. Carmel, Ill.

Pipe line connections to the leases operated by Cree and Union Sulphur were restored Thursday. The pipe line connection to the Skiles lease is expected to be restored as quickly as that company files its Form GC-2 (gas-oil ratio test) with the commission. The status of the Southen California Petroleum Corporation, Los Angeles, leases, also involved in the severance order, has not been announced.

The pipe line connection to Saxon's leases in the fields was not restored. Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray told Hiram M. Dow, Roswell, N. M., attorney representing Saxon's silent partners, that the pipe line severance would continue until Saxon answered the question as to whether good wells had been making the allowables for bad wells on the leases and had filed its GO-2 form, which form was supposed to have been filed October 15.

Well Completions Continue To Drop

AUSTIN —(AP)— The slackening drilling pace for the last quarter of the year saw 158 oil wells completed in Texas last week. The year's total dropped farther behind that of last year, 9,957 to 9,228.

The Railroad Commission reported completion of 18 gas wells and a year's total of 701 against 737 a year ago.

Operators reported 102 dry holes and a similar number of dry wells plugged. Four gas wells and 30 oil wells were plugged.

Venezuelan Oil Activity Is Setting New Records

Venezuela, world's largest crude-oil exporter and second in oil production, continues to set new records in oil, according to Petroleo Interamericano of Tulsa, an affiliate of The Oil and Gas Journal.

New records are being made in crude oil production, refining throughout, oil pipe line mileage, drilling activity, and the number of producing oil wells, the monthly magazine stated in its annual Venezuelan number.

Long a leader in Latin-American Oil, Venezuela produced more than 622,000,000 barrels of oil last year, or 14.62 per cent of the world's total. In September, Venezuelan fields produced 1,830,000 barrels daily compared to the daily average of 1,700,000 barrels in 1951.

Creole Petroleum Corporation, the largest operators, and companies in the Shell group are currently producing together about 1,300,000 barrels of oil daily, according to Petroleo Interamericano.

Proved oil reserves in Venezuela have risen from seven billion barrels five years ago to 10 billion barrels at the beginning of this year.

The number of producing oil wells in Venezuela has more than doubled during the last six years, and how totals 10,700, which account for almost half of all producing wells in Latin America.

The number of drilling rigs operating in Venezuela is now at a four-year high. There are 120 active rigs in that country today which compares with the 1948 average of 134.

More than three-fifths of all footage drilled in Latin-America is recorded in Venezuelan fields. This year will see an all-time high of about 7,000,000 feet of hole made by an estimated 1,350 wells.

Crude oil processed in Venezuela has trebled during the last five years. Today, Venezuelan refineries process about one-third of a million barrels of crude a day.

Petroleo Interamericano will discuss the new $35,000,000 expansion program of Creole which will double the capacity of its Amuay Bay refinery from 60,000 to 120,000 barrels daily. This expansion will permit Creole to refine almost 200,000 barrels of crude daily at Amuay and Caripito of which 75 per cent will be exported.

Pressure maintenance operations in Venezuela today represent a total investment of 91,258,178 Bolivares. These plants process 7,787,607 cubic millimeters per day. Prominent plant operators include Creole, Mene Grande Oil Company, Sinclair Oil Company, Phillips Oil Company, and Venezuelan Atlantic Refining Company.

The first natural-gas system in Venezuela, owned by two subsidiaries of The Atlantic Refining Company, is reviewed in the magazine. Complete during May of this year, the project has a design capacity of 70 million cubic feet per day. The line originates from fields in Central Guarico in Eastern Venezuela and delivers gas to markets and terminals located in Caracas, La Guiara, Arrecife, Santa Lucia, and Valencia.

Pipe Line Expansion

Crude oil pipe lines completed this year have stepped up the country's total crude oil pipe line capacity by 137,855 mubic millimeters per day to a total figure of 611,876 cubic millimeters daily. This marks a 50 per cent increase in pipe line capacity since 1949.

O. B. Irizarry, editor of Petroleo Interamericano, and well known to Latin-American oil circles, has completed recently a trip to Venezuela where he gathered special material for this issue of the magazine.

Research Keeps Supply Of Petroleum Plentiful And Prices Reasonable

LOS ANGELES—Continuous scientific research is the key to the oil industry's ability to keep on supplying the American public with more and better oil products at low prices, Pacific Coast members of the American Society of Petroleum Geologists were told Friday by Ira H. Cram, Houston, vice president of Continental Oil Company.

"Geologists must be interested vitally in any scientific research that has even a remote chance of contributing data about the earth," said Mr. Cram.

It is the oil industry's unending research efforts that has made it possible to keep the prices the public pays for gasoline and other oil products almost static in the face of steadily rising prices for other commodities, Cram pointed out.

Actually Price Is Lower

"As a mater of fact, petroleum products prices, when measured in 1942 dollars, actually have decreased 24 per cent in price while the quality of these products has continuously been improved," he stated.

The combination of alert research, great resourcefulness and free competitive enterprise—which Cram described as "United States-ism"—has been responsible for oil men's ability to produce record quantities of petroleum products, and at the same time vastly increases the oil and gas reserves in the ground.

But government policies regarding military manpower, and the administration's "continuous tampering" with the country's economic system make a continuation of the industry's spectacular performance increasingly difficult, said Cram.

"The production of enough properly trained research men and women is an educatjonal problem of gigantic proportions aggravated by well-know governmental policies on manpower for the military," he declared. "Certain individuals can do the country more good looking through a miscroscope than they can carrying a gun."

Not only the oil industry but the whole country must not relax its efforts to avoid radical changes in our economic system, Cram warned.

"Any change by governmental action that materially decreases the incentive to try to make an honest dollar is radical," he added

He pointed to the percentage depletion allowances and deductions of intangible development costs, the oil industry's historic sources of the vast amounts of money needed for oil field exploration, as economic "musts" for continued maintenance of adequate oil and gas reserves.

Have Been Attacked

These sources of the capital to finance new exploration have been the targets of frequent attacks during recent federal administrations.

"The modern system of finding oil and gas works well, but it costs money—real money," Cram said. "The depletion allowance and deduction of intangible drilling costs supply this money to an extent.

Any decrease in these incentives to find another barrel of oil or cubic foot of gas in the face of the necessity of increasing scientific investigations and drilling an increasing number of wildcat wells to satisfy this nation—come war or peace—makes no sense whatever."

Following is a letter received by Speaker Sam Rayburn this week from the DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS, Bonham Chapter No. 129. This letter shows the deep concern over the coming national election, especially by the veterans of World War I who remember the soup lines of the Hoover days. T. Frank Stewart).

Bonham, Texas
October 20, 1952

Hon. Sam Rayburn, Speaker
House of Representatives
Bonham, Texas

My Dear Congressman:

At our regular meeting last Friday night I was instructed by a unanimous vote of the members of this Chapter of the Disabled American Veterans which has a membership of 116 men and women who were wounded, gassed, injured or lost their health in World Wars I or II to write you a letter and congratulate you and your colleagues for the fight you are making for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket. We, to a man, are for this ticket, win or lose, and we know in our hearts if right prevails, we will not lose.

How any veteran in his right mind could even think of voting the Republican ticket this year is beyond our comprehension. We, especially here in the hospital and domiciliary, know what we have here and with what excellent care we are being given. We know this would be impossible under a Republican administration for those of us old enough to remember when we were not drawing compensation, the time we were not able to work, did not have enough clothes to cover our nakedness, and to eat we were lucky to get one bowl of soup and a hamburger once a day, to get this some of us had to sell apples and pencils on the street corners. That was under three Republican administrations: Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. We cannot go back to that and we will not, but if the Republican nominees are elected the veteran stands a chance of seeing the same thing some of us old World War I veterans did see as it will be the same old bunch running things who run them then.

So, Mr. Speaker, we say to you, 116 of us from your own home town DAV Chapter, God give you speed and God bless you and your colleagues for we know right will prevail and that Stevenson and Sparkman will be elected.

Sincerely yours,
James E. Boley, Adjutant
Ray W. Smith, Commander

DRAFTEES DON'T NEED MONEY, WEST POINTERS DO, IKE SAYS

General Eisenhower's views of less than two years ago, on the subject of pay for men in uniform, make interesting reading while he campaigns for the Presidency.

A clipping from The Springfield (Ill.) Journal bears the headline: DRAFTEES SHOULDN'T BE PAID, IKE SAYS.

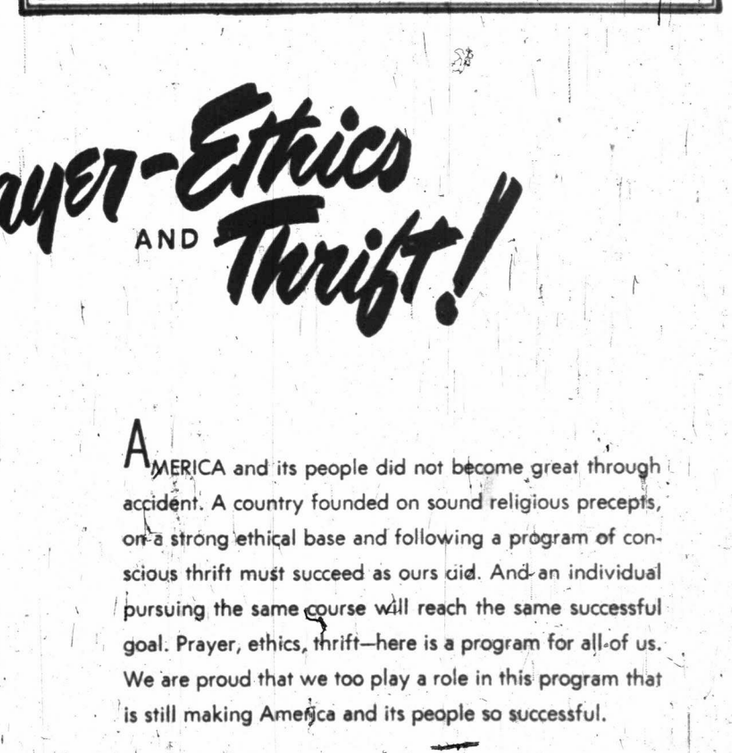

The body of the story, a United Press dispatch from Washington of January 4, 1951, follows:

"Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that men called to military service involuntarily—under the draft, for example—should get little if any pay because they are fulfilling an obligation to the state.

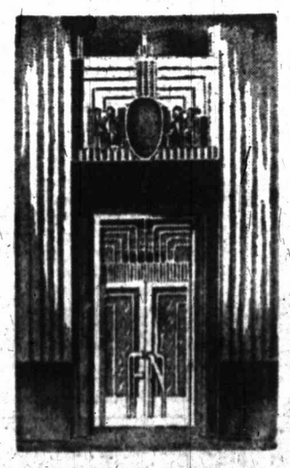

"He told a news conference that men who undertake a military career should be paid 'along professional lines.' But the Government's only concern for those who are simply discharging their citizenship responsibilities should be to take care of dependents and disabilities, he said.

"You don't pay a person to go to school," Eisenhower said. 'You don't pay a person to work out his poll taxes. As far as I am concerned, it is an obligation to the state.' "

(Pol. Adv.—Paid For by Stevenson-Sparkman Committee, Sam Rayburn, Chairman)

Prayer-Ethics AND Thrift!

AMERICA and its people did not become great through accident. A country founded on sound religious precepts, on a strong ethical base and following a program of conscious thrift must succeed as ours did. And an individual pursuing the same course will reach the same successful goal. Prayer, ethics, thrift—here is a program for all of us. We are proud that we too play a role in this program that is still making America and its people so successful.

PAD Undertakes Long-Range Study Of U. S. Reserves

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A new blueprint of the oil industry's potential is being undertaken with the idea of assuring adequate petroleum supplies in the event of all-out war.

The expansion program sponsored by the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) since outbreak of the Korean conflict has just about kept pace with 21 per cent increase in demand for oil and gasoline.

The industry, in the eyes of the PAD, must be prepared to do far better than this. Hence, the PAD has called for a new study of this country's potential production.

The first step will be to determine the present production capacity in excess of current needs. PAD has set up a force of specialists to do this and then to arrive at an estimate of the additional capacity required as stand-by protection in event of full-scale war.

How Many in '57?

This group of specialists also will try to forecast how many new wells will be drilled through 1957.

To start with, the researchers have these facts:

When World War II broke out the nation had an excess productive capacity of about one million barrels of crude daily, largely because of the discovery of new fields in 1940. By 1943 that cushion had been absorbed and war demands necessitated production at a rate slightly above the level consistent with maximum efficiency and conservation standards.

At present the reserve productive capacity is estimated at between 800,000 and a million barrels daily. While that is almost as much as in 1940, the protective margin is far less because of greatly increased demand. The reserve now is only about 15 per cent of domestic consumption.

More Every Year

Last year 44,516 new wells were drilled, compared with approximately 39,000 in 1949. The 1952 total is expected to be approximately 47,000. The 1953 goal is 55,000.

Wrapped up in the study are highly problematical angles, such as how long a war with Russia would last and how much steel could be spared from other essential industries to drill a yet-to-be determined number of wells between now and Jan. 1, 1958.

Perhaps the biggest problem facing the PAD study group is finding a way to get the excess productive capacity. Wells are costly, and the industry naturally is inclined to sink only enough to meet foreseeable needs, plus those drilled in normal wildcatting operations.

The PAD, while it has power under the Defense Production Act of 1950 to order things done, prefers to achieve its goal through voluntary action from the oil industry.

Texan Gets Spot Promotion On First Mission In Combat

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA—(AP)—Guerdon Sines, 23, Texan and 1951 West Point graduate, won a battlefield promotion to first lieutenant after only one week in Korea and his first real action, a combat patrol.

He led out a patrol the other night and in 15 terrible hours it killed 40 Chinese and wounded many more.

Sines' home is Houston.

The Red attack hit at 3 a.m.

Said the Texan: "There were about 100 Chinese and they came to us 10 at a time. We bobbed up and down in our foxholes to fire at them, minimizing our chances of getting hit. One of our men bobbed at the wrong time and his face was blown off wit' mortar."

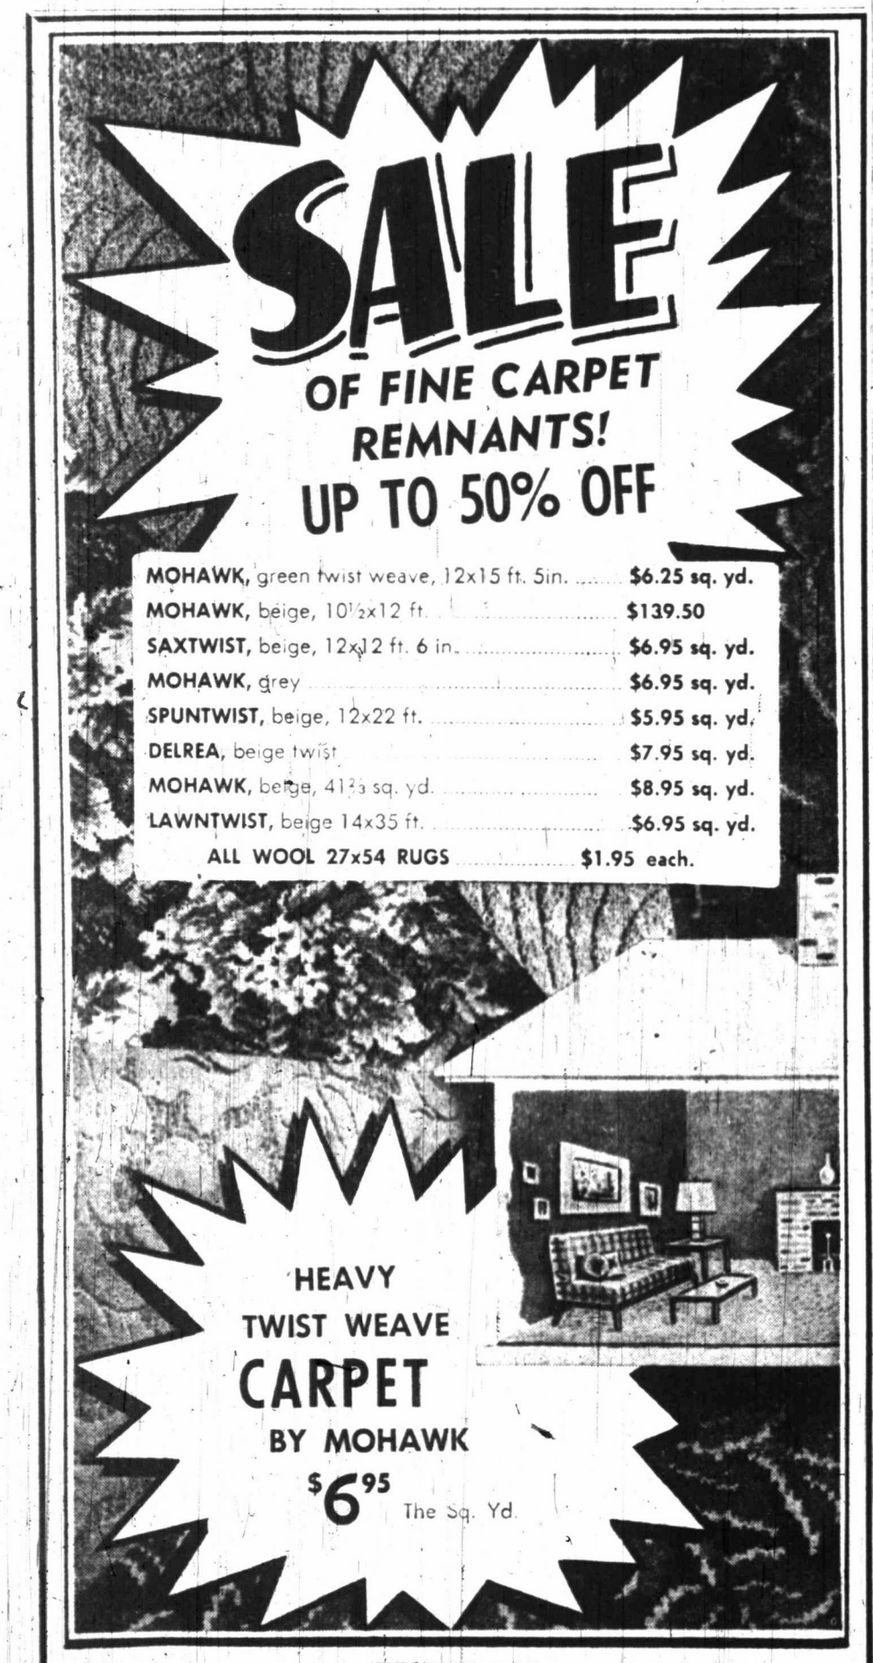

Pfc. James Miller, Canadian, Texas, a Browning automatic rifleman, killed 15 charging Reds, every one shot through the forehead. Some Chinese reached the crest before being shot down.

Finally the Chinese withdrew.

"We could hear occasional moans from Chinese down on the hill," Sines said, "and we could hear them crying for their medics. We tossed grenades down there to try to finish them off." At dawn, the patrol counted 40 bodies.

The ABC's of the TEXAS TIDELANDS

A. WHAT ARE THE TEXAS TIDELANDS

Approximately 3,250,000 acres of submerged land along the Texas coast extending three leagues (about 10½ miles) into the Gulf of Mexico.

B. WHAT WAS TEXAS BEFORE IT BECAME A STATE?

Texas was a Republic, an independent sovereign nation, for nine years, from March 2, 1836, when it proclaimed its independence from Mexico, until 1845, when it became a state.

C. HOW DID TEXAS JOIN THE UNION?

By treaty of annexation. An offer was made by joint resolution of the Congress of the U. S. offering to admit Texas as a state under certain terms and conditions. This offer was accepted by joint resolution of the Congress of the Republic of Texas and the treaty was made.

D. DID THE TREATY OF ANNEXATION PROVIDE THAT TEXAS WOULD RETAIN ITS PUBLIC LANDS?

Yes, it provided that Texas "Shall also retain all the vacant and unappropriated lands lying within its limits."

E. WERE THE TIDELANDS WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THE REPUBLIC OF TEXAS?

Yes. When Texas won her independence from Mexico in 1836, her boundaries were established as "beginning at the mouth of the Sabine River, and running along the Gulf of Mexico, three leagues from land, to the mouth of the Rio Grande . . ." (1 Gammel's Laws 1193). This particular boundary (three leagues into the Gulf) was recognized by the U. S. in the treaty of Guadalupe-Hidalgo (Art. V) and in the Gadsen Treaty (Art. 1).

F. DID THE TREATY SAY WHAT TEXAS WAS TO DO WITH ITS PUBLIC LANDS?

Yes, it said that they must "be applied to the payment of the debts and liabilities of said Republic of Texas, and the residue of said lands, after discharging said debts and liabilities, to be disposed of as said State may direct."

G. WERE MINERALS CONSIDERED A PART OF THE PUBLIC LANDS?

Yes. In fact, a proposed provision that would have ceded to the U. S. the minerals under the public lands of Texas was stricken from the treaty before it was adopted. (Proceedings of 29th Congress of the U. S., 1845).

H. WHAT DID THE STATE OF TEXAS DO WITH ITS PUBLIC LANDS?

It sold enough to pay the public debt as the treaty provided. Then it dedicated the balance (including the Tidelands) to its perpetual Public Free School Fund as a heritage for the education of the school children of Texas. (Constitution of Texas, 1845, Art. X; Arts. 5416 and 5421c-3, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas).

I. HAS THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT EVER GIVEN TEXAS ANY LAND FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES?

No. Although the Federal Government has conveyed more than 44 million acres of land to western states for school purposes, Texas alone has received none.

J. WHO HAS HAD POSSESSION OF THE TIDELANDS AND REGULATED THEM FOR ALL THESE YEARS?

Texas alone, for over 100 years.

K. WHAT ARE THE TIDELANDS WORTH?

No one knows for sure. According to the most reliable information obtainable as to reserves, however, if retained by the State the oil alone should net the Public School Fund over three and one-half billion dollars. Prior to the Supreme Court decision, over eight million dollars has been received by the School Fund, and the development had hardly begun. (Texas General Land Office Records).

L. WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO THREATEN LOSS OF THIS REVENUE?

The administration of the U. S. Government (after Congress had been asked to direct federal intervention and had failed to do so) took it on itself and sued three of the 48 states (California, Louisiana and Texas) in the U. S. Supreme Court, and moved for judgment in each case without evidence. The motion was granted by the Supreme Court, acting (in the case of Texas) through four of its nine judges (3 dissented and 2 did not participate). 339 U. S. 709; 94 L. Ed. 1221.

M. WHO REPRESENTED TEXAS, AND WAS ITS TREATY POINTED OUT?

The Attorney General of Texas, assisted by Dean Roscoe Pound of Harvard, Manley O. Hudson (First Chairman of the U. N. International Law Commission), and other world famous international and maritime law experts, ably represented Texas. They emphatically presented and urged the Court to respect the treaty provisions.

N. DID THE SUPREME COURT DECIDE THAT THE U. S. OWNS THE TIDELANDS?

No. It merely held that the U. S. had "paramount rights." The decree proposed by the U. S. read "paramount rights of proprietor-ship," but the underlined words were omitted in the Court's decree. (Note 1 on page 1230 of 94 L. Ed.)

O. WHAT, THEN, IS THE EFFECT OF THE COURT'S DECREE?

No one knows, except that it clouded the State's title. Neither Texas nor the U. S. is getting anything from the Tidelands now, and development is at a standstill.

P. WHAT HAS BEEN DONE TO SETTLE THE CONTROVERSY?

As suggested in the Supreme Court opinion, Congress has power to act. It has twice passed quitclaim bills to clear up the States' titles, both of which Acts of Congress were nullified by presidential veto.

Q. WHAT, THEN, WILL EVENTUALLY HAPPEN?

No one knows. If Congress would again pass quitclaim legislation and if the President would not veto it, the State's title would be cleared, development would proceed, and the Public School Fund would receive the revenues. Otherwise, it is assumed that the Federal Government will eventually attempt to take possession of the Tidelands and in some manner find out how far it can go under its "paramount rights."

R. IS TIDELANDS OIL NEEDED FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE?

Oil is needed for defense. But there is no difference between Tideland oil and other oil. Nor is oil more essential than steel, coal, food, etc. The Federal Government can always obtain what it needs by paying for it.

S. WHAT IS THIS ABOUT TEXAS LOSING HER LANDS WHEN SHE SECEDED DURING THE CIVIL WAR?

Just conversation. According to the U. S. Supreme Court, Texas did not secede, but merely tried, and the Civil War had nothing to do with title to her Tidelands.

T. WHAT IS THE POSITION OF THE OIL COMPANIES?

Generally they want the controversy settled one way or another. Present holders of state leases have assurance of confirmation and exchange of their leases by the Federal Government. They have nothing to lose either way. Costs of federal leases are far less than the State has been realizing, and federal rents and royalties are generally less than those of the state; so it would be to the selfish interest of the oil companies to prefer federal ownership. Well over a thousand companies and persons now hold federal lease applications on Tidelands of California, Louisiana and Texas.

U. THEN WHO IN TEXAS IS SUPPORTING STATE OWNERSHIP BESIDES STATE OFFICIALS?

Everyone concerned with protecting and safeguarding the permanent Public Free School Fund for the education of the school children of Texas. For instance, the State Board of Education, the State P. T. A., the State Bar, the State Departments of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The Texas State Teachers Association has unselfishly championed the cause for many years.

V. HOW CAN YOU HELP?

You can (1) learn the true facts concerning the Tidelands, (2) tell others, (3) correct untrue propaganda, and (4) follow the dictates of your conscience. An informed public is our greatest safeguard.

Remember the Tidelands When You Vote
Tuesday, November 4th!

Letter From Texan In Red Prison Puzzling To Family

SHAMROCK —(AP)—Relatives of Marine Sgt. Dewey E. (Doc) Brittain, war prisoner of the Chinese Reds, were puzzled by a letter received at the Shamrock Texan last week.

The letter, signed with the sergeant's name, is dated July 7, 1952, and apparently was mailed from Prisoner of War Camp No. 1, North Korea.

The letter states that the former Kelton youth has not heard from any relatives since he was captured in North Korea Nov. 30, 1950. An appeal is made by the writer that the letter be given widespread distribution so his relatives will learn that the POW is not hearing from them.

Sergeant Brittain is the son of Mrs. Huanita Brittain, formerly of Borger, who recently moved to California. He is a nephew of Charlie Brittain, Kelton.

Relatives said they have written regularly and some of them have received letters from him as recent as a month ago.

Warrant Officer Doug Rives, Shamrock, brother-in-law of Brittain, said the letter is not in the sergeant's handwriting and is not phrased in the sergeant's characteristic way.

BOARD ACCEPTS OATH RULING

BERKELEY, CALIF. —(AP)— University of California regents unanimously have decided not to seek a rehearing on a recent State Supreme Court decision outlawing the special loyalty oath which the regents had demanded of faculty members and university employes.

Major Issues—

might see the Democrats in control of Congress and the Republicans in the White House. A result of this might be a steady war of nerves between the two branches of government, leading to stalemate in the way of getting bills enacted, and in approvals of appointments to various posts such as the Cabinet and in the agencies where Senate approval is necessary.

Contributions And Bets

The story of oil contributions in the present campaign is one of oil money going, in general, to the Republicans. There are no statistics as yet, but Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell is telling intimates his sources of revenue have all but dried up in Texas. He points out that, in the past, Texas oil men have been generous to the Democratic Party. At the same time, he explained, large companies, including oil companies, have been niggardly with the Democrats. The Republicans have indicated no such complaint. Within Texas, itself, there are reports that one oil man after another is placing bets on a victory for General Eisenhower. One rumor is that one oil man put up $7,000 against $5,000, in support of his belief.

Heroic Negro Girl Succumbs To Burns

WACO—(AP)—Mary Nell Young, 12, negro girl who carried three younger children out of their flaming farm home to safety, died of burns in a Waco hospital Saturday.

The children were alone in their home about two miles from Mart when fire of unknown origin broke out Friday.

Mary Nell first led out a brother, Allen, four, and then carried out a sister, June, three. When she reentered the blazing building to get her three-week-old brother, Junior, her own clothes caught fire. Although she managed to rescue the third child, she was burned critically.

Newshawk Destroys Marauding Intruder

Then one of the "flying mice" made the mistake of venturing on into the news room, where it was felled by a firmly rolled copy of the newspaper. The marksman was Merl Hawk.

FALL CUTS LIP

Michael Murphy, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy, Holliday Hill Apartments, fell down some steps Friday and suffered a cut of his upper lip. Treatment was given at Midland Memorial Hospital.

ACCIDENTLY SHOT

THE CONSTRUCTIVE CHARACTER OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

1. The Republican Party is NOT the party of privilege and the tool of Wall Street or "big business."

The gigantic economic development of this country after Lincoln's Emancipation of the slaves led to new oppression of free men. These were abuses by big business, monopolies and restraints of trade.

In 1890 the Republicans passed the Sherman Act. Big business did not rejoice at this.
In 1906 the Republicans passed the Pure Food and Drug Acts.
In 1924 the Republicans secured regulation of the Federal fisheries.
In 1926 the Republicans passed a bill to regulate aviation.
In 1927 the Republicans passed a bill to regulate radio.
In 1930 the Tariff Commission was transformed into a bi-partisan body for the regulation of the tariff in order to take the tariff out of politics.
In 1930 came the creation of real Federal Power Commission.
In 1932 the Republicans reformed the Bankruptcy Laws so as to prevent the flood of fraud on creditors.

THE NEW DEAL DEMOCRATS PREFER CREEPING SOCIALISM TO ESTABLISHMENT OF PROPER STANDARDS OF CONDUCT AMONG FREE MEN.

2. The Great Depression was NOT caused by Republicans and they DID do something about it.

The Great Depression started elsewhere in the world before it struck the United States. Its major violence came from the inevitable bankruptcy of Europe as the aftermath of the First World War.

There were about eleven million unemployed at the time of Roosevelt's election in November 1932. But the New Deal violated its every election promise and attempted to mix fascism and socialism into the American system. From the actons of these NEW DEAL DEMOCRATS the American people continued to wallow every winter with ten to eleven million unemployed.

EIGHT YEARS OF THIS NEW DEAL UNEMPLOYMENT ONLY FOUND REMEDY IN JOBS FROM THE SECOND WORLD WAR.

TOO MANY YOUNG VOTERS HAVE BEEN LED TO BELIEVE THE NEW DEAL ENACTED THESE REPUBLICAN MEASURES:

Relief to the Unemployed:
The Republicans organized direct relief to those in distress and indirect relief to the unemployed by HUGE public works.

Aids to Farmers:
The Republicans established the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks to finance the Marketing of farm products in 1923.
The Republicans established the Federal Farm Board in 1929. It is now known as the Bank for Farm Cooperatives.

Aids to Business:
The Republicans established the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.
The Republicans created Home Loan Banks.
The Republicans expanded the Federal Reserve Credit System.
90% of the Loans under Republican Administrators went to the following organizations which represented the small savings of the people:
1. Building and Loan Associations.
2. Savings Banks.
3. Insurance companies.
4. Small country banks, and
5. Farmers' Loan Associations.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS REFUSED TO REFORM OUR OBSOLETE BANKING LAWS. BUT THE REPUBLICANS PREVENTED PANIC IN THE UNITED STATES UNTIL AFTER THE ELECTION OF THE NEW DEAL. THE REPUBLICANS SECURED THE COUNTRY FROM BEING FORCED OFF THE GOLD STANDARD AND KEPT THE AMERICAN DOLLAR RINGING TRUE ON EVERY COUNTER IN THE ENTIRE WORLD.

3. The Republican Party IS forward looking and is NOT a reactionary party opposed to change and reforms so necessary in a progressive national life.

In 1903 the Republicans created the Department of Labor and Commerce.
In 1923 the Republicans abolished the 12-hour day industry.
In 1926 the Republicans established collective bargaining by creating the Railway Mediation Board.
In 1912 the Republicans established the Children's Bureau in the Federal Government.
In 1924 the Republicans submitted a constitutional amendment prohibiting child labor. The Democratic State Legislatures killed it.
In 1921 Republicans proposed subsidies for Rural Child Welfare. By filibuster, a Democratic senator killed it.
In 1932 the Republicans proposed the retirement of marginal lands from production to remedy the farmers' chronic surplus production. The Democratic Congress turned it down.
In 1932 the Republicans established the Home Loan Banks and initiated the first Federal aid to slum clearance.
In 1926 and 1930 the Republicans established the FBI.
The Republicans have passed numerous bills for all veterans of American wars.
From 1921 to 1933 the Republicans built 46 hospitals with 25,000 beds for veterans.

4. The Republican Party has not neglected and is not opposed to the conservation and development of natural resources.

In 1872 the Republicans established the first National Park. Of the 28 major National Parks, 23 were founded by Republicans.
In 1928 the Republicans undertook the public building program which has so beautified Washington and many other cities.
From 1929 to 1933 the Republicans built more useful public works than in the entire previous thirty years.

5. The Republican Administrations were NOT corrupt.

There were only nine men involved in the Harding Administration episode. The other members of the Administrations were aghast! Before the Republicans had finished with them, two of them had committed suicide, one died while awating trial, four landed in prison, and one escaped by a twice-hung jury. In the past twenty years of Democratic Rule there have been over 300 cases of Congressional or administrative condemnation or public exposure of every variety of transgression of national honor. Less than twenty five persons have landed in jail.

6. The Republicans are not incompetent to preserve peace.

It was a Republican Administration in 1929 that established the Good Neighbor Policy.
It was the Republicans who created the Open Door policy in China in 1899.
The Nine-Power Treaty of 1922 brought about the protection of the Open Door policy in China.
From 1921 to 1932, the Republicans entered into over 60 conciliation and arbitration treaties with different nations.

THE CRITICS ARE CORRECT THAT MOST REPUBLICANS OPPOSED THE UNITED STATES JOINING WITH STALIN IN THE SECOND WORLD WAR. THE REPUBLICANS BELIEVED THESE MONSTERS, STALIN AND HITLER, SHOULD EXHAUST EACH OTHER. THE REPUBLICANS REPEATEDLY SAID THAT BY JOINING WITH STALIN IN WAR THE UNITED STATES WOULD SPREAD COMMUNISM OVER THE EARTH. IF THIS POLICY WAS ISOLATIONISM, THE REPUBLICANS ARE PROUD OF IT.

7. The Republican years of the Depression DID NOT cause the growth of Communism in the United States.

The Republicans tolerated no communists in the Federal Government. At the end of the Republican Administrations the Communist Party had grown to a meagre 13,000 members.

IN THE TEN YEARS AFTER THE NEW DEAL RECOGNITION OF COMMUNIST RUSSIA, THE COMMUNIST PARTY IN THE UNITED STATES GREW TO OVER 80,000 MEMBERS. THEIR FRONT ORGANIZATIONS CAST OVER 500,000 VOTES.

THE REPUBLICANS NEVER DID GIVE RECOGNITION TO RUSSIA, A SLAVE STATE, AND NEVER HAD RELATIONS WITH IT.

RE-DISTRICTING IS NOT AN ISSUE IN MY RACE

Re-districting can only be accomplished by a vote of the Commissioners to re-district and I have long ago gone on record of being willing to vote in favor of re-districting the Commissioners' precincts. However, as County Judge, I cannot vote on the issue until such time as there is a tie among the Commissioners.

A Few Of The Steps Of Progress During My Administration

Four-lane highway to Odessa; a nearly completed program of over 50 miles of County roads built by contract; Approximately 25 miles of hard-surfaced County roads without additional tax money; About 30 miles of Farm to Market roads constructed and right-of-ways procured; an adequate storm sewer for drainage of Front Street and adjacent territory; an almost completed truck by-pass on Front Street that is worth millions to Midlanders; establishment of welfare and probation departments under the guidance of trained and capable personnel.

McCraw Cites Graft In Shivers' Regime

LUFKIN —(AP)— Former Texas Attorney General William McGraw, D[illegible] said Saturday Gov. Allan Shivers is "so busy shouting about the Administration's housekeeping that he isn't paying any attention to the dust balls in his own parlor."

McGraw said Internal Revenue Bureau records show 42 state officials "paid $227,655 income tax on graft" last year.

He read a quotation he said was from a Houston Post editorial of October 17: "If 42 public officials paid $227,655 as taxes on graft, the graft itself was presumably a much greater amount."

McGraw, in a campaign speech for Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson, said Shivers, "having been on both sides of the Tidelands question—for compromise and for no compromise—finds himself without an issue. When he now talks about corruption he should be ashamed to. In his own state a great daily newspaper — an Eisenhower supporter—is shocked into editorial comment at tax paying grafting public officials."

Kiwanis To Hear Speech By Regan

Rep. Ken Regan of Midland will be the principal speaker Monday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Cactus Cafe.

President Herschel Ezell said the congressman probably will discuss the political situation.

NEGRO DEMO BACKS IKE

DETROIT—(AP)—Emmet S. Cunningham, president of the National Council of Negro Democrats, announced Friday he is shifting his support to Republican candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Midland-Headquartered Unit Motivates Tidelands Drive

Like "Ole' Man River," the question of federal or state ownership of Tidelands, "just keeps rolling along."

And in Texas, the motivating force is the Keep The Tidelands Association, with Midland as state headquarters.

Youthful Jim McHargue of Midland, state president, declares the association will continue to roll until Congress passes the necessary legislation returning the Tidelands to state ownership.

The association was organized July 15, 1951, in Midland, at a time between national conventions, and now includes district chapters in every section of the state.

McHargue says the sole purpose of the association is to bring the facts before the people regarding the Texas Tidelands controversy. He points out that it is a non-political, non-partisan organization whose purpose has been carried to the people of Texas by means of radio, newspapers and literature.

Other district chapters and their presidents are as follows: Lawrence Hagy, Amarillo; E. L. Green, Pampa; Sproesser Wynn, Fort Worth; E. C. Bunch, Odessa; David Castle, Jr., Abilene; Cletis Hines, Dallas; Robert Lee Bradley, Houston; J. D. Warren, Gilmore, and Truman Warren, Tyler.

The organization has functioned in close co-ordination with Gov. Allan Shivers, Senator-Elect Price Daniel and Land Commissioner Bascom Giles in its efforts to bring its educational program to the people of Texas.

Activities of the organization has been credited with great service to the people of Texas and of the United States as a whole in bringing the tideland facts before them and has been recognized by Texas officials.

"The support and enthusiam of the citizens of Midland and the State of Texas has been gratifying," McHargue said. He added that inquiries had been made from as far as New York and New Jersey and other points outside the State of Texas.

The state headquarters are located at 201 North Carrizo Street in Midland, and anyone interested in the association should contact officials at that address.

A state charter recently was granted the organization, and McHargue plans to add other district and local chapters of the Tidelands question rolls on.

API Research Work Greatly Expands Knowledge Of Oil

NEW YORK—Two fundamental research projects which have done much to expand man's knowledge of oil will mark their 25th anniversaries at the upcoming American Petroleum Institute's 32nd annual meeting in Chicago.

They are the oldest of the many basic studies which the institute has sponsored through the years to probe the mysteries of petroleum and shed some light on its occurrence and composition.

During the quarter of a century they have been in existence, both have contributed substantially — perhaps dramatically—to petroleum science and technology.

Saved Distillate

One, for example, led to an understanding of reservoir phenomena which utilimately saved tens of millions of barrels of high quality distillate which otherwise might have been lost forever.

The other has successfully isolated 129 of the several thousand hydrocarbons present in crude oil, and has made available, mostly through synthetic methods, 200 pure samples of hydrocarbons which are now accepted as standards throughout the world.

Known prosaically as API Project No. 6 and API Project No. 37, the two studies are segments of the institute's over-all fundamental research program covering these points: the composition and properties of petroleum; and the occurrence and recovery of petroleum.

Nine Projects Active

At the present time, nine projects are in existence. Since the beginning of the program in 1927, a total of 51 studies have been undertaken. Some have been completed, some merged with others, and some have been terminated, so that efforts could be concentrated on selected projects. Projects No. 6 and No. 37 are the only survivors of the original listing in 1927.

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board of Standard Oil Company (Indiana), is chairman of the research committee of the API board of directors, and as such is the top director of the entire program.

Howard G. Vesper, president of California Research Corporation, San Francisco, is chairman of the committee on the composition and properties of petroleum, while Lloyd Elkins, production research director of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company, Tulsa, is head of the committee on the occurrence and recovery of petroleum.

Started In 1927

The API fundamental research program was launched in 1927 when John D. Rockefeller and Universal Oil Products Company, of Chicago, contributed $250,000 each to a special fund for this purpose.

It was specified that the research must be fundamental, and that it must not be concerned with research which would be of a competitive nature. These restrictions have been adhered to rigidly through the years.

Since its inception, the institute has administered the spending of more than $5,000,000 on fundamental research. These funds have been underwritten by voluntary contributions from a variety of oil companies and individuals through the years on an annual basis.

The information that has resulted from the studies has been made available to all segments of the industry and all interested parties throughout the world.

At the API annual meeting itself, which opens on November 10, reports having a general appeal will be made on six different projects dealing with the composition and recovery of petroleum. These will be presented at a symposium on the opening day.

Sunray Consolidates Four Exploration Offices Into Two

TULSA—The exploration and land department offices of Sunray Oil Corporation now located in San Antonio will be moved to Corpus Christi, on or about December 15, where the company has a district production office already established.

The Sunray exploration, land, and production offices will be located in new first floor quarters of the Wilson Tower Building in Corpus Christi, the production office moving into this space from their present quarters in the Bevly Building.

E. V. Potter will be district landman in charge of Sunray's South and Southwest Texas land activity. W. M. Easley is to be district geologist. Both are moving to Corpus Christi from San Antonio along with some of the personnel from that office.

Merged Houston Offices

Sunray also has recently consolidated its former exploration activity conducted from Houston offices with the district exploration and production office at Lake Charles, La.

Bert Timm is district geologist in charge of the Lake Charles exploration office. Robert Mitchell is district land man. A. E. Hoffman is also superintendent and manger of this office for Sunray's production department.

The Lake Charles offices for both the exploration and the production offices will be concerned with company activities throughout Southeast Texas and South Louisiana.

The move of Sunray's Houston office to Lake Charles, and of the San Antonio offices to Corpus Christi is to effect a closer cooperation between the land, geological, and producing divisions of the organization according to H. O. Harder, Sunray vice president and manager of the exploration department.

The correlation of Sunray's extensive activities in the Red Fish and Mustang Island fields in the Corpus Christi area and of its active development program in Acadia Parish and other Southern Louisiana fields will be benefitted by the office consolidations, Harder declared.

Net Income Rises 34 Per Cent For Continental Lines

DENVER, COLO.—Major increases in passenger and cargo traffic of Continental Air Lines, Inc., during the third quarter this year contributed to a 34 per cent increase in the net income of the company, compared to the same period of 1951.

The airline realized $129,733 for the period, compared to $97,097 for the third quarter of 1951, it was reported by Robert F. Six, president of the company in a statement to the stockholders, coverin the third quarter and nine months period of operation of this year.

A "healthy trend" was emphasized by Six, who pointed out that while total operating revenues of the period were up 28 per cent, the operating expenses increased only 23 per cent.

Net income of Continental Air Lines for the nine months period of this year totaled $218,873, equivalent to 55 cents per share on the 400,000 shares of outstanding stock on Sept. 30, 1952, as compared to $286,826 for the nine months of last year, equivalent to 93 cents per share on 309,631 shares outstanding on Sept. 30, 1951.

Livestock

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Livestock prices were uneven here during the week as cattle and sheep arrivals ran far ahead of a year ago, while hog movement was smaller. Butcher hogs closed $1.25 lower and sows were 50-$1 off. Top hogs were $17.25 at the close. Slaughter ewes rallied for a $1 advance and other sheep were 50 or more higher.

Closing prices included: good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $23-$32.50; common to medium $14-$22; beef cows $13-$17; good and choice slaughter calves $19-$24; best heavyweights to $25-$26; common and butcher calves $14-$18; medium, good and choice slaughter lambs $17-$23; stocker and feeder lambs $8-$15; fat yearlings $15 down.

Chihuahuas Conduct Canine Campaign—

VOTES STRAIGHT TICKET 89 YEARS—

Civil War Veteran To Mark 110th Birthday November 14

FRANKLIN —(AP)— The world's troubles are far-away things to the old man who sits on his front porch hoping some friend will drop by and talk to him.

Col. Walter W. Williams, the nation's oldest surviving Confederate veteran, is looking forward to his 110th birthday November 14. There is always a party then and many people to talk to.

The bitterest political strife in Texas history has split political parties, set friend against friend, and caused strained relations at many a dinner table.

But few echoes of that battle have reached the isolated farm 14 miles east of this South Central Texas town where Williams lives. He has no radio, not even a telephone.

He seems a bit surprised when you ask him how he's going to vote.

The Straight Ticket

"I haven't missed voting for the past 89 years," he replies. "I have always voted the Democratic ticket and do not intend to bolt now."

The colonel—an honorary title conferred on him two years ago by the Texas governor—speaks in a quiet, easy way. You know his mind is alert, just as his build is wiry and his complexion ruddy. He is very much alive.

He and his wife, Ella Mae, already are preparing for the birthday party. Ella Mae, 78, will do most of the work. Their nine surviving children and their many grandchildren and gerat-grandchildren will come here for an old-fashioned barbecue. The party will be November 16, the first Sunday after his birthday.

Food Scrounger

Born Nov. 14, 1842, in Adawoma County, Miss., Williams joined the Confederate Army when he was 22 and served in Company C, Sixth Division, General Hood's brigade. He was "forage master"—he was responsible for scrounging food for his outfit. A few years ago he gave his musket to a youngster who wanted it to hunt rabbits with.

Typhoid has weakened his knees, and Ella Mae usually has to help him up and down the flat rocks which serve as steps to the porch. He sees out of only one eye, but sees well. His day begins early with a plug of tobacco before a 9 a.m. breakfast, more tobacco before his 4 p.m. dinner and glass of milk and another plug of tobacco before retiring.

VETERANS TO REUNITE

DALLAS—(AP)—The 90th Division Association will hold its thirty-fourth annual reunion in Dallas November 14-15-16, Ernest Tutt, Dallas, first vice president, said Friday.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Please explain the rule that applies after the last card of the stock pile has been taken," requests a Portsmouth, Ohio, reader.

"In a recent game, the player at my right took the last card of the stock pile. He discarded a king, which I promptly picked up for a meld. This left no cards at all in either the stock pile or the discard pile.

"I then discarded a ten. My opponents had already melded five tens. If the next player picked up the ten, she would have to discard one of the three cards in her hand—and any of them would have given our side a natural canasta.

"What is the rule in this situation? Is she obliged to pick up the ten even though that will force her to make a costly discard? Or does she have a choice in the matter?"

Let's begin by answering the question. The player is obliged to pick up the ten even though that forces her to make a costly discard. She has no choice.

Now let's examine the entire rule. When a player takes the last card of the stock pile, the game may proceed. It doesn't automatically end.

Let's suppose that North draws the last card of the stock pile and discards a king. It is now East's turn to play.

If East can take that king and add it to a meld that he already has on the table, he must pick the king up; he has no choice. This would not be so, of course, if the discard pile were frozen, for then East would need a fresh pair of kings in his hand. But if the pile is unfrozen, and the discard matches a meld on the table, East must take the pile.

Suppose East has no meld of kings on the table, but he does have a pair of kings in his hand, or perhaps one king and a wild card. Must he pick up that discarded king? No. He may pick up the king or refuse it, just as he pleases.

If East has no way at all of melding the king, he naturally cannot act. And if East has kings in his hand (but not on the table) and chooses not to take the pile, he likewise does not act. In such a case the hand comes to an end.

If East takes the pile and discards, the same rule now applies to South (the next player). She must take the card if it matches a meld she has on the table. She may refuse to act if it matches cards in her hand that are not on the table.

If South fails to act (which is permissible if the discard does not match one of her previous melds), the hand ends at once. If she picks up the discard and melds it, her discard now puts West (the next player) in the same situation.

This continues until somebody melds out, or legally fails to act. Each player in turn may be obliged to pick up a discard and then discard. These forced discards may be very costly at times.

There is one exception to the rule. A player with one card in his hand may never take a discard pile that consists of only one card. If this situation is brought about after the stock pile is exhausted, the hand ends immediately.

Three Counties Get Bracero Wage Drops

DALLAS—(AP)—Cotton farmers in three West Texas counties have won a reduction in the government-imposed wage they must pay Mexican national cotton pickers.

The Bureau of Employment Security, a Labor Department agency, said Friday the prevailing wage for native American labor in the counties of Lynn, Terry and Dawson is $1.75 per hundred pounds.

Farmers had been forced to pay $2 per hundred to the braceros. Surveys of other counties are to be made this week, BES spokesmen said.

Texas Is Entitled to Know

To the Hon. Sam Rayburn,
the Hon. Lyndon Johnson,
the Hon. William McCraw:

Sen. Joseph McCarthy has made documented charges against Adlai Stevenson. If these charges are true, Mr. Stevenson ought not to be President. Among these charges are:

1. That Americans for Democratic Action demands: (a) Repeal of the law under which Communists have been convicted of conspiring to overthrow the United States Government by force; (b) recognition of Red China; (c) abolition of loyalty oaths for members of government, college or school staffs; (d) condemnation of FBI; (e) opposition to the House committee on un-American activities.

2. Adlai Stevenson says (Aug. 23, 1952): "As for the ADA, I have never been a member of it." Yet, (a) Adlai Stevenson was "a charter member of ADA" (ADA World for February, 1952, page 1 (b) Stevenson was the "spokesman for Americans for Democratic Action" (Daily Worker, New York, June 21, 1949); (c) photographic reproduction by ADA publication for April 20, 1949, shows Adlai Stevenson in the center of five, with underline, "Five Leading ADA Statesmen; (d) Wilson Wyatt, personal representative of Stevenson, was former head of ADA; (e) Arthur Schlesinger Jr., head speech writer for Stevenson, was former vice-chairman of ADA; (f) ADA in general is now supporting Stevenson against Dwight Eisenhower.

3. Adlai Stevenson says that he was not intimate with Alger Hiss, convicted on proof of espionage against the United States. Yet (a) Stevenson swore to the good reputation of Hiss; (b) Alger Hiss and Frank Coe (alleged Communist) recommended Stevenson to a conference on foreign policy on Asia; (c) Adlai Stevenson included Alger Hiss on the list of lecturers brought to lecture Stevenson's students in 1946 at Northwestern University; (d) the Hiss defense said to the court in its petition: "Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois was closely associated with the defendant (Alger Hiss) in the course of certain international diplomatic undertakings in which both men participated. . . . During the course of these associations, Governor Stevenson has had an opportunity to form an opinion concerning the reputation of Alger Hiss for veracity, loyalty and integrity."

4. Archibald MacLeish was responsible for bringing Adlai Stevenson into the State Department (Stevenson's official biography, page 77); MacLeish is cited in the 1948 California Report on un-American Activities at pp. 96, 181, 244, 248, 310, 331, 358, 389.

5. It is not charged that Governor Stevenson is a Communist. It is not charged that he prefers or supports Communism. It is charged that he has not shown in the past, and does not show now, a suitable awareness of the importance of looking into the record of those whom he selects for important service.

These charges are true—or they are untrue. If true, they are serious enough to warrant the withdrawal of Adlai Stevenson from the presidential race. If true, they demand that you gentlemen abandon further support of Stevenson and close up his headquarters under your direction and endorsement.

On that issue, the people of Texas must know the truth. The News suggests that you gentlemen proceed, by the shortest means of transportation, to confront Adlai Stevenson and demand documentary disproof of these charges which Senator McCarthy supports with date, page and physical evidence. If you fail to take this action, Texas must reluctantly draw its own conclusions as to the basis of your refusal.

Texas Awaits the Answer

(An Editorial)

To the Hon. Sam Rayburn,
the Hon. William McCraw:

The News, Wednesday, Oct. 29, addressed to you the suggestion "that you gentlemen proceed, by the shortest means of transportation, to confront Adlai Stevenson and demand documentary disproof of these charges which Senator McCarthy supports with date, page and physical evidence." To date, the only reply has been a 750-word letter from the Hon. William McCraw saying: No.

Charge 1. Americans for Democratic Action demands the repeal of the Smith act (which makes it a crime to conspire to overthrow by violence the Government of the United States.) The News has printed the admission of ADA that this is true.

Charge 2. ADA urged recognition of Communist China. ADA admits this is true, but says it does not now so urge.

Charge 3. ADA opposed the application of loyalty oaths to governmental employees. The News possesses documentary proof that this was and is true.

Charge 4. ADA criticized FBI for its work in running down spies. ADA's admission: "We did criticize the use of wire tapping" (listening to telephone conversations of spies) "in the Coplon case."

Charge 5. ADA opposed House and Senate committees who exposed Hiss and other Communists in government employ. ADA admits that this is true.

Charge 6. ADA supports Stevenson. The News has a letter, signed by Robert R. Nathan, chairman of the ADA executive committee. It reads, in part:

"ADA has endorsed Governor Stevenson for President. His successful veto of the Broyles act" (imposing the loyalty oath on certain employees of the State of Illinois), "the Illinois version of the McCarran act, is a strong token of his stature as a Governor. . . . We need your financial help. The decisions on liberal issues for the next four years are being made now. ADA is organized and ready for chapters all over the country for registration drives, Senate and congressional fights and get-out-the-vote campaigns."

The letter was received by an East Texan who will have no dealings with ADA and who has forwarded the letter to The News.

Charge 7. Adlai Stevenson was a charter member of ADA, was photographed as an "ADA Statesman" and was proclaimed by the Communist Daily Worker of New York as the "spokesman" of ADA. To this no documented answer from Messrs Rayburn, Johnson and McCraw or from anybody else. In order to be perfectly fair to Governor Stevenson of Illinois, the following telegram has been sent:

ADLAI STEVENSON
GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS
SPRINGFIELD ILLINOIS

THE NEWS OF DALLAS HAS BEEN CRITICIZED FOR USING THE FULL TEXT OF SENATOR JOE MCCARTHY'S SPEECH. THE NEWS OF DALLAS WILL BE GLAD TO MAKE AVAILABLE TO YOU EQUIVALENT SPACE FOR A DOCUMENTED REPLY. PLEASE UNDERSTAND THAT THIS IS NOT AN OFFER FOR A PERFUNCTORY REPLY, BUT FOR A FULLY DOCUMENTED ONE.

THE DALLAS NEWS.

Texas awaits the answer. Texas is entitled to know.

Chicago ADA Wants Adlai For President

CHICAGO — The Independent Voters of Illinois, the Chicago affiliate of Americans for Democratic Action, has urged that Governor Adlai E. Stevenson be nominated for president by the Democratic party.

Richard A. Meyer, IVI-ADA Chairman, announced the unanimous decision of the IVI Executive Board.

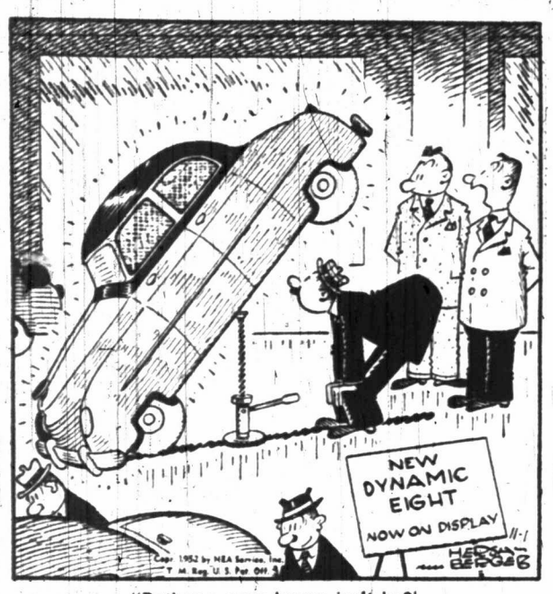

Meyer explained that the Chicago group acted in response to the "rapidly mounting enthusiasm for Stevenson and a growing appreciation of his many outstanding qualifications." He added that the board's unanimous vote, which is contrary to ADA's policy of not endorsing national candidates except by action of the National Board or the annual convention, was a reflection of "mature deliberation" and was in the spirit of the desires of the membership of the IVI.

Stevenson, a charter member of ADA, has been mentioned increasingly as a strong possibility for the Democratic nomination should President Truman not seek to succeed himself. Stevenson was elected as Governor of Illinois in 1948 by a record margin of almost 600,000 votes.

PORCH DOUBLES AS CARPORT — Two modern trends in home building, each combining economy and good design, are illustrated in the houses pictured above. One is the inclusion under an extended roof line of a porch which also is a carport, an arrangement which eliminates the cost of a garage and adds spaciousness to the house. The other is the use of asbestos-cement siding shingles as the exterior sidewall finish. Both trends are becoming increasingly popular for new home construction.

New Trend In Wall Covering Favored By Noted Engineer

By HENRY J. WINGATE
Nationally-Known
Architectural Engineer

In the average home, daily wear and tear on the wall finish—plaster, paint, paper — adds up to damage which calls for periodic renewal or replacement. Walls in bathroom, kitchen, entrance hall, children's rooms and utility room come in for extra wear.

For walls of permanent beauty, smart coloring and long life, and to avoid the expensive periodic renewal and repair needed by most other wall finishes, many homeowners are using asphalt tile as a wall covering.

Variety Of Colors

Kentile is available in a wide variety of plain and marbelized colors, which go clear through each tile and therefore cannot be washed or scuffed off.

Decorators like the material because any desired design and color plan can be created by using strips and squares in contrasting colors. Home-makers like it because it cleans easily and quickly, merely by wiping with a damp cloth. Cove base, made of the same material and used instead of the conventional baseboard, is curved near its lower edge so there are no hard-to-get-at corners where wall and floor meet. Tiles with pictorial designs can be used on the walls for added interest.

Easy Installation

To cover a wall with asphalt tile, it can be applied over any smooth, dry wall or plaster, plasterboard, plywood or hardboard. Serious holes or cracks should be filled with a latex-type filler and the patch sandpapered smooth. Plaster walls which have not been painted should be primed with wall-tile primer. All paper on the existing walls should be removed.

After the wall surface is prepared, a level starting line is drawn on the wall about seven inches above the floor and a thin wood strip tacked to the wall, its upper edge on the line. This is to prevent the first row of tiles from slipping down before the adhesive sets.

Starting at the door casing and working along the horizontal line, adhesive is spread over an area that will be covered by five or six tiles. Tiles then are pressed into place from the door casing all along the horizontal line until a row of tiles extends clear across the wall. This procedure is continued upward, row after row, to the ceiling. Let adhesive set for about two hours. Then remove wood strip at base of wall. Cut tile for bottom row to fit contour of floor or baseboard at their lower edges. Apply adhesive, spreading it below first row of tile, and install. To go around corners, pipes or door casings or to fit any curving surface, Kentile can be bent by heating tile on back and face, according to instructions.

Homebuilders Have Varied Choice Of Hardwood Flooring

If you are among the thousands of persons who plan to build homes in the near future, you will profit by seeking out information concerning the numerous building materials available for various parts of a house before making your selections, lumber dealers assert.

By so doing you will be better able to choose products that will suit your budget and styling preference as well as give lasting satisfaction. This often is true even when you already have settled upon a general type of material because of its almost universal use or its established reputation for quality.

In considering the flooring for most rooms, for example, it is likely you will decide on hardwood, preferred by the vast majority of home buyers. The next step is to specify the exact species, type, grade and size. There is a wide variety from which to choose.

Attractive Floors

While oak is by fare the most extensively used species, there are others which also make durable, attractive floors. These include hard maple, beech, birch and pecan. Less plentiful and more expensive flooring species include walnut, cherry, ash, hickory and teak.

In types or styles three general groups are available—strip, plank and parquet. Unit block flooring, a modern form of parquetry, also can be obtained. The strip type, noted for its adaptability to any type of home or style of furnishings, is favored by most home owners. It also is the most economically priced.

Another Choice

Another choice lies between unfinished flooring, which receives its finishing treatment after installation, and the pre-finished kind. Strip oak flooring, for instance, can be obtained in seven grades of unfinished stock and four of prefinished.

Most persons, in selecting strip oak flooring for new homes, choose the 25 32-inch thickness. This is available in widths ranging from 1 1 2 to 3 1 4 inches.

Gray Now Tops As Wall Color For Bathrooms

Mrs. America has a new favorite in colors for baths and kitchens.

Gray, which in 1940 ranked only ninth in popularity, has moved to top spot in clay tile colors installed in kitchens and bathrooms, a check of leading manufacturers shows.

Green, pink, white and yellow, in that order, are the next most popular colors in wall tiles, according to the survey. Before World War II, white and ivory headed the list.

White still holds the lead in clay floor tile sales, as it has over a period of many years. Gray has moved from sixth place to third sinch 1940, and green now is second place. Pink, peach, ivory and yellow are next most popular floor colors, in that order.

The popularity of gray as a clay tile shade reflects the tendency to make bathroom walls a background for vividly colored towels, shower curtains and bathmats, say decorators. Practically any color can be combined with gray, so that homemakers can change color schemes in a tiled bath merely by changing the shades of the towels and accessories.

★ Daddy Ringtail ★

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail Dog On A String

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, came walking along, and walking along the Elephant Path. He was happy as happy could be. He was holding the end of a string in his hand. The other was tied to the collar of a big, big dog.

What a monstrous big dog it was! He was larger even than the Huffen, but his wrinkled old face was very kind and wise and patient, too. He followed along after the Huffen, with the Huffen leading him by the string, until they came at last to the very tall tree where Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, lives up in the top.

"Daddy Ringtail!" called out the Huffen. "Daddy Ringtail, it is I, your old friend, the Huffen Puffen! Come and see the new dog I have!"

Daddy Ringtail came sliding down to the ground. "Happy day, Huffen Puffen!" Daddy Ringtail said in a merry voice. He stopped very still to see the Huffen with the monstrous dog. Oh my eyes! What a monstrous, monstrous, big, big dog it was.

The Huffen chuckled. Said he: "I bought him from Senator Algynon. I did, and now he is mine, all mine."

"Why, Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail, "how nice that you now have a pet to be your very own."

"Uhuh," said the Huffen, "and now I am leading him around with a string. I am, all to show him who is boss, because the boss is who I am."

"Oh, but Huffen," laughed Daddy Ringtail, "a great big dog surley could break the string that you lead him with."

Oh, but the Huffen knew about that, he did, and of course the monstrous dog could pull away and break the string if he wanted to do it. Why, oh why did the dog not break it?

Because he had learned already to follow wherever the string might go, and soon he would know that the Huffen was really and truly the boss and master, and then there would be no more string at all. No, because the love of a dog for a kindly master will make him follow to the end of the earth, I guess, don't you? Happy day!

Jackson's Old "Hermitage" Becomes Top Tourist Shrine

NASHVILLE, TENN. — (AP) — The 150,000 or more persons who are visiting Andrew Jackson's familiar homestead, the Hermitage, this Summer see the place, just as Old Hickory left it on June 7, 1845.

For this fact they can thank a determined group of Nashville women. [illegible]-three years ago the Ladies Hermitage Association was formed to fight a plan to convert the Hermitage into a Confederate home.

From time to time the ladies have sent out flying squadrons to combat other moves to convert the old shrine to practical uses. But their main work has been to reseue the Hermitage from dilapidation and preserve it through the years.

This long range campaign is paying off now in more financial security for the old estate than it has ever had, even during the occupancy of its famous tenant.

Last year there were 157,487 paying guests and this year sponsors expect more. With the admission fee newly doubled from 25 cents the Hermitage is now able to put aside a reserve for lean years.

Vies With Mount Vernon

The heavy attendance making the Hermitage, next to Mount Vernon, the most popular shrine of the sort in the nation—can be traced to an insistence upon authenticity. The old mansion is brick just as Jackson rebuilt it after a fire in 1935.

Visitors therefore will find the Hermitage looking just like the Hermitage did when Sam Houston rode up the cedar-lined driveway one Sunday in June, 1945. The interior, too, has the same furniture.

The former president of the Texas Republic arrived just a few minutes too late that day to grasp the hand of his old military chief. He had planned to tell Jackson all about a decision to bring Texas into the Union.

A worry that Texas was going to join Great Britain had been pestering the 77-year-old Jackson as he wilted away with sickness. A few months before, he had written a friend: "We cannot bear that Great Britain have a Canedy on our west as she has on our north."

But Houston was told when he pulled up at the gate that Jackson had died only a few minutes before. Today visitors find few rooms in the Hermitage more entrancing than the one in which Old Hickory died beneath the portrait of his beloved Rachel.

The Hermitage caretaker, Andrew J. (three guesses what the "J" is for) Baker, says the coming of the automobile is what made possible the maintenance of the Hermitage. Before the automobile and good roads the old estate, 12 miles from the heart of Nashville, was considered remote and seldom visited.

Baker is the son of a man who was caretaker for 45 years. Born in the Hermitage himself, this 54-year-old man recalls that in the days of the buggy there was only a trickle of traffic to the Hermitage.

Even before formation of the Ladies Hermitage Association the Hermitage narrowly escaped disaster one or more times.

When the state of Tennessee bought the 500-acre property for $48,000 in 1856 it proposed, at the suggestion of Gov. Andrew Johnson, that the United States establish a branch of its military academy there.

Congress apparently took a dim view, however, of setting up a branch of West Point in the heart of what was to become the Confederacy. Nothing came of the move although a Congressional committee approved it.

Various legal heirs of Jcakson relied on the property for years after his death but the property became badly run down.

Garden Becomes Pasture

During the Civil War, Federal Gen. George H. Thomas threw a cavalry guard around the estate to protect it from the swirling tides of battle. That was fine, except that the cavalry animals were let loose to forage in the formal garden where Andrew and Rachel lay buried.

The garden suffered again during the Winter of 1951 when a severe ice storm and sub-zero temperatures nipped and destroyed many priceless box plants.

After the last of the Jackson heirs left the place in 1887 the proposal came before Tennessee's Legislature that the Hermitage be converted into a Confederate home.

That stirred the Nashville women into action. They sent brigades of lobbyists before the Legislature to protest. The Ladies Hermitage Association was only partly successful. Although it got possession of the Hermitage a part of the property was reserved for a soldiers home which was built and used until 1934.

BEGINNER'S LUCK — Charley Fearing is as happy as any five-year-old would be with beginner's luck in his first try at fishing. Trolling with a bucktail lure in Roanoke Sound, near Manteo, N. C., the youngster caught five striped bass totaling five pounds. (NEA)

Herd Of Deer Jams Airport In Montana

BILLINGS, MONT. —(AP)— The roar of airplane engines is music to the ears of 40 deer. The herd roams the runways of the airport in search of grass. A truck tries to scatter them before a deer-hopping plane lands.

Residents of the surrounding game preserve want to lift hunting bans until there are 40 less deer blocking traffic.

FROM BROWNFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Boatwright and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baker of Brownfield were visitors in the city Friday.

India To Fall Into Commie Orb Without War, Reds Say

Red leaders arriving for the six-week Parliament session opening November 5 laughed off evidence that Communist strength has nosedived since the string of upset Red election victories nine months ago.

They are working overtime to get party propaganda machinery ready for the session, refurbishing parliamentary headquarters on fashionable Windsor Place and the new national party office nearby.

The Indian Communist Politburo recently switched national headquarters from the Southern state of Madras to the capital to make the most of the publicity spotlight in Parliament politics.

In addition to elaborate research facilities to keep Communist solons a step ahead with facts and figures, General Secretary Asoy Ghosh said party headquarters will now coordinate Parliament offensives with the lively, vernacular language Communist press springing up throughout the country.

Since Parliament adjourned in August, surface signs have been increasingly pointing to a decline in Communist power in the shifting party lineups.

Some observers, however, question the importance of anti-Communist alignments in the face of the growing intensity of Communst propaganda drives.

The Communists bitterly attacked the recent merger of the Socialist party and the Praja, (People's party) into the new People's Socialist party. At the insistence of Socialist leaders, the new group ruled out any ties with the Communists.

The combined Praja-Socialist bloc in Parliament will now number 22. This will challenge Communist claims to leadership of the opposition. The new group may attract often independent party deputies to its banner.

Charges Are Filed On 'Wealthy' Texan Who Tricked Widow

MOBILE, ALA.—(AP)—A San Antonio man who posed as a wealthy Texan to woo and win a Mobile widow, according to FBI accounts, has been indicted by a federal grand jury on two charges.

Henry P. Hawkins, agent in charge of the Mobile FBI office, said Brunka floated a series of hot checks to cover a $1,600 wedding ring, clothing for the bridal party, a swanky private club for a reception, a $1,200 trousseau for the bride-to-be, and an Hawaiian honeymoon cruise.

Hawkins said a few days before the wedding, Brunka, who has a wife in San Antonio, borrowed his prospective brother-in-law's automobile to go for a spin, and kept going.

FBI agents arrested him in San Antonio last week after a long trip that carried him into Canada.

Fire Eats At Nation's Tinder-Dry Forest Lands—

Thousands of acres of U. S. forest land have gone up in smoke, as shown in Newsmap, below, as fire eats through tinder-dry woodlands from coast to coast. Hardest hit so far is the five-state area of Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Illinois and Arkansas, where more than $1,000,000 worth of forest preserve already has been destroyed. Typical of citizens who have joined fire fighters in battling the menace, is the unidentified woman at left, below, who is desperately wielding a broom to beat out blazing grass in an Indianapolis suburb.

Midlanders Are Reminded To Vote On November 4

STUDIES SAMPLE BALLOT—Stressing the individual's right to vote and his responsibility to vote intelligently, Midland's women and children are joining in an enthusiastic campaign to "get-out-the-vote" in Tuesday's general election and to distribute bi-partisan information on issues and candidates. Mrs. R. B. Hamm, 2703 Roosevelt Street, pictured above as she studies a sample ballot, is typical of Midland women doing advance "homework" before they go to the polls.

PLAN RALLY—Continuing its program of providing non-partisan information on public issues, the League of Women Voters is sponsoring a political rally at 8 p.m. Monday in the City-County Auditorium. John Braue is to be the moderator, and speakers will include opposing candidates for county offices. Pictured above, two league members check details of the rally with the county attorney aspirants. Left to right are Reagan H. Legg, Democratic candidate; Mrs. M. B. Taubman, co-chairman of the league's voter's service committee; Mrs. John R. Culver, league public relations chairman, and W. H. Price, Republican candidate. The league also has mailed a voter's guide to each Midland County resident who paid a poll tax.

BABY SITTING SERVICE FOR VOTERS—Several Girl Scout troops are cooperating to set up baby sitting services from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m. Tuesday at each official voting site in the city to accommodate parents who want to vote. Joye Poarch, left in the picture above, and Billie Donnell, third from left, get in a little advance practice as they "baby sit" with one-year-old Danny Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hill, 709 North Lanham Street. Jeanne Price, second from right, shows Jeannette Hill, Danny's sister, one of the tags Brownie Scouts are using to remind their parents to vote.

DISTRIBUTE ELECTION POSTERS — Even the youngest Boy Scouts, members of the city's Cub Packs, are assisting in distributing approximately 7,000 reminders to Midlanders to "Use Your Freedom to Vote." Picturing the Liberty Bell, the posters remind all citizens to "Vote as you think and think to vote." The four Cub Scouts above are pictured as they study a map of their distribution route and fasten one of the posters to the door handle of a Midland home. Left to right are Hal Leake, David Putnam, Ronnie Havard and Bob Hill.

NEED A TAXI?—A free election-day taxi service is one of the projects planned by federated clubs cooperating with the get-out-the-vote campaign sponsored by the new Americanism Department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Each clubwoman is responsible for getting 10 other persons to the polls Tuesday. Texas clubwomen are hoping to better the 1948 record, when only 25 per cent of the Texans who had the right to vote exercised that privilege. Preparing for election day in the picture at left are, left to right, Mrs. R. L. Merrill, Americanism chairman for the Twentieth Century Study Club; Mrs. H. H. Redding, the club's publicity chairman, and Mrs. J. T. Gist of the Modern Study Club.

Courses offered in the school have been approved by the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States and the credits awarded will be accepted by participating denominations. The school is financed by the churches participating and by the registration fee of $1 paid by each person enrolled.

NEW! VITAMIN SECRETS! DISCOVERED BY DOCTOR!

MINERALIZED "B" COMPLEX

After 20 years of research and clinical study, Dr. B. M. Sparling of Toronto, Canada, has perfected RX-THIRTY. His formula maintains a complete balance and ratio of Vitamin B Complex combined with the essential minerals which are in turn fortified with 12 micro-grams of Crystalline B-12 in each day's supply consisting of 3 Capsules. Dr. Sparling's remarkable discovery has, in the opinion of many of his colleagues, completely antiquated formerly accepted theories in Vitamin therapy. Dr. Sparling states it is an established fact that for Vitamins to function properly in the body it is necessary that they have their counter-part of essential minerals. These Vitamins and Minerals fortified with Crystalline B-12 combined in a Chlorophyll coated Capsule make Dr. Sparling's RX-THIRTY one of the most important discoveries made in the field of Vitamins.

DR. SPARLING'S sensational discovery, Mineralized B COMPLEX is the only formula which gives you your daily supply and scientifically balanced ratio of vitamins, minerals, plus TWELVE micrograms of Crystalline B-12 contained in a chlorophyll coated capsule.

High School Slates Opera And Comedy

"Down in the Valley," an opera with music by Kurt Weill, and "Box and Cox," a one-act comedy by John Madison Morton, will be presented Thursday and Friday through the collaboration of the Midland High School music, speech and art departments.

Curtain time will be 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The opera deals with the escape from prison of a condemned man, Brock Weaver, who wants to be with his sweetheart, Jennie Parsons, before he dies. The scenes which follow are a recapitulation of the events which led to his arrest for the murder of Thomas Boreche. Arnold Sundgaard is the author of the opera.

Supporting the cast will be the A Cappella Choir and a 20-piece orchestra composed of members of the Silver Strings, ensemble and teachers and students from the high school.

Cast Named

Members of the cast will be as follows: Brock Weaver, to be portrayed by David Breith, Thursday, and Charles Whitmore, Friday; Jennie Parsons, to be played by Ruth Ann Rhodes, Thursday, and Sally Breeze, Friday; Jennie's father, Steve Thorson; guard, Royce Measures; Peters, Dan Ratcliff; leader and preacher, part to be shared by Robert Stubbeman and Dwayne Chesnut; Thomas Boreche, Roy Thomas, Jr.; men, Addison Young and John Cronley, and women, Jean Anne Watts and Yvonne Shain.

The opera had a long run on Broadway and since has been presented by numerous colleges and civic groups.

"Box and Cox" has been widely done in Europe and American since 1847. The plot is built around complications which arise when two men, each unknown to the other, rent the same room.

Members of the cast are Bill Robitsek, Cox; Walter Cremin, Box, and Catherine Carter, Mrs. Bouncer.

R. C. Michener, Verna Harris and Inez Parker head the music, speech and art departments, respectively.

Mrs. Joe Crump and Mrs. A. N. Hendrickson feted the honoree with a luncheon Thursday in the Petroleum Club.

The table was centered with an arrangement of coral daisies and chrysanthemums in a flower cart fashioned of styrofoam. Coral-colored maline bows on either side of the cart bore the names of the engaged couple. A coral-colored, maline parasol completed the centerpiece.

The place-cards, which also were fashioned of styrofoam, carried out a similar theme. They were shaped like miniature flower carts filled with tiny coral daisies. Arrangements of pink and coral roses were used in the living room.

Bride-Elect Is Party Honoree

Mrs. John Perkins, Mrs. Dorothy Perkins and Mrs. George Shelton, Jr. feted the bride-elect at a luncheon Friday in the Petroleum Club.

The decoration theme featured Mexico, the country Miss McMillian and Pluta plan to visit on their wedding trip. Centering the table was a big sombrero with a jeweled flannel brim and a crown fashioned of a mass of gardenias. Places were marked with gardenias from which ribbons extended to the centerpiece.

• • •

Miss McMillian was complimented Saturday with a coffee in the home of Mrs. Homer Ingham. Co-hostess was Mrs. Buster Cole.

SPANISH DANCERS

Carmen Is Feature For Ballet Concert

A four-act production of Carmen, danced to the familiar music of Georges Bizet, will make up the second half of the concert to be given in Midland Sunday afternoon by Ana Maria's Spanish Ballet.

The concert, scheduled for 3:30 p.m. in the Midland High School auditorium, will open the Fall season for the Midland Civic Music Association.

Character Added

In Ana Maria's adaptation of Carmen for the Spanish Ballet, a new character has been added — the figure of fate, the destiny of Carmen. Choreographically, the work is constructed from a number of the Spanish regional dances, in which Ana Maria is a recognized authority, flamenco and pantomime.

The ballet presentation will follow the familiar story of Carmen, the beautiful, thieving gypsy, as she bewitches Don Jose, an officer of the guard, who aids her to escape and goes into hiding—as Don Jose becomes jealous when Carmen flirts with the bullfighter, Escamillo—as Carmen foresees her death and is later stabbed by Don Jose.

First half of Sunday's concert will be devoted to classical, folk and flamenco dances, chosen from the ensemble's repertoire of more than 60 works. Music for two of the dances, "Flamenquerias" and "Evocacion Gitana," was written by Alfredo Munar, musical director for the troupe.

Dances Listed

Other dances in the first half will be "Valencianas" (J. Nin), "Orgia" (J. Turina), "Andaluza" (P. Sarasate), "La Dolores" (T. Breton), "Sacramonte" (J. Turnia), "Aires de Castilla" (G. Gombau), "Huesped del Sevillano" (J. Guerrero), "Mallorca" (I. Albeniz) and two popular dances from the Flamenco School.

There also will be a piano number by Munar and a two-piano selection by Munar and Daniel Block, pianist for the troupe. Rolando Valdes Blain is guitarist for the ensemble.

Ana Marie, who began dancing at the age of eight, later gave up a successful movie career to engage in a study of Spanish folk dances in their native habitats. After building an extensive collection, she performed throughout Europe, and, in 1939, went to Cuba to lay the groundwork for the first independent Spanish ballet company.

Two years later, her ballet company made its debut in Havana, and within six months, had given 70 performances. In the last seven years, they have appeared throughout Latin America, and a year ago, Ana Maria took her troupe back to their native Spain for a tour of the principal cities.

West Texas Chamber Opposes Changes To Constitution

ABILENE—Two proposed amendments to the Constitution of Texas, concerning workmen's compensation and medical practice, are being opposed by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as a step toward centralization of government and socialized medicine.

The amendments, of which the taxation and legislation committee of the WTCC urged defeat at the convention in Wichita Falls, contain these basic provisions:

1. To empower the Legislature to enact laws to enable cities to provide workmen's compensation insurance, including the right to provide their own insurance risk for all employes, and provide suitable laws for administration of such insurance, and for payment of costs, charges and premiums on insurance policies and the benefits.

2. To require that the Legislature create a State Medical Education Board, establish a Medical Foundation Fund, and make adequate appropriations for that fund to provide grants, loans, or scholarships to persons desiring to study medicine and to practice in rural areas in Texas, upon such terms and conditions as shall be prescribed by law. The term "rural areas" would be defined by law.

Winter Cottons Set New Trend Toward Lightweight Wardrobe

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

ST. LOUIS — Winter cottons are a coming thing in this Midwestern city that has a definite southern flavor. Defined, the term means simply that these are new dark cottons, in new weights, that carry on from Summer into Fall.

But even more this year, the phrase will be used to cover cottons actually worn in Winter, even though this is looking very far ahead.

Here in St. Louis, they're using the corded cottons traditionally worn by railroad workmen for Fall dresses that combine the sturdiness of wool with the lightweight of cotton.

★ RUTH MILLETT ★

Sure, Girls Marry Younger, But Not Because They're Lazy

American girls are getting married younger and younger, according to Department of Commerce statistics. A university professor of human relations figure it is because American girls are getting lazier and lazier.

He says it is hard to get a job and harder to keep it, but adds: "How much easier it is to slip into a housecoat, put on the percolator, push down the toaster, kiss hubby goodby and sit down to an after-breakfast cigaret and the morning paper?"

Oh, come now, professor. What about all the girls who are marrying at a younger age because they are willing and able to combine a job AND marriage and so don't have to wait around until a young man is able to support them?

What about the ones who are making homes in all kinds of makeshift dwellings, including trailers, while their husbands finish their educations?

And how about all the up-and-coming young women who are making attractive homes for their young husbands because they can run up living-room draperies out of a pair of sheets and wield a paint brush like a professional?

Do you call those girls lazy? As for that leisurely cup of coffee you seem to begrudge the housewife, most business offices now expect their workers to take a morning break for coffee and often an afternoon break as well.

Ask any young woman who has had working experience and housekeeping experience and probably you'll hear that she thinks a job is a snap beside housekeeping.

As for jobs being harder to get—well they're no harder to land than a husband. And if you'll take a look at the divorce rate you'll probably see they're not any harder to keep than a husband, either.

GIRLSTOWN SCENE—Pictured above is Amelia Anthony, founder and director of Girlstown, U. S. A., with four of the younger girls who are living in the home.

Girlstown Shelters 64 'Unwanted' Girls

The dramatic story of Girlstown, its growth and plans are told in a colored, motion picture portraying equipment and activities of the home, made by Midland Beta Sigma Phi members as part of their contribution to the state-wide project of the sorority to aid Girlstown.

The original film is in Midland and will be shown to any organization in the city upon request and by appointment. Copies of the film have been placed in the International Beta Sigma Phi Library, in the University of Texas Library, and a copy presented to Miss Anthony.

Located at Whiteface, near Lubbock, Girlstown now has 64 girls in residence—including one from Midland. Its physical dimensions cover 1,425 acres of land, and it has the start of permanent buildings and equipment, including one residence. There are 17 adult staff members.

That's a good record for the three years since Girlstown was founded. However, it is only a start in the dreams of Amelia Anthony, director and founder, and the increasing number of Americans who are aiding the home.

Applications Pour In

Miss Anthony has applications for 1,100 girls throughout the United States who want a home in Girlstown. To achieve the 1959 goal, the home must have seven residences and the supplementary buildings needed in the daily life of 500 residents.

And there must be a permanent dining hall and one new residence before another girl can be accepted.

In addition to money for expansion and improvements, it costs $480 to keep a girl for one year in Girlstown, and the average monthly expenditure is $5,300.

Who are the residents of Girlstown? They are children from unsuitable environments, neglected by parents who do not want them, but who do not want them adopted.

The 15-year-old was shoved out by her mother, who was living with a common-law husband, and was left homeless when her brother was called into the Army. When she was sent to Girlstown, she had been picked up for "shoplifting" a pair of shoes and was to be placed in a reform school. Some of the girls were so badly mistreated that they required instant medical attention when they were taken to the home. Six or more of the girls had been held as slaves by their step-fathers, with the consent of their mothers.

Teaches Self-Reliance

What does the home do for its "unwanted" children? In addition to providing a home, schooling and the security of love, it teaches them to be self-reliant, it teaches them the art of homemaking, and it teaches them to be good citizens.

Girls past 12 years of age make their own clothing, do their own laundry, learn to cook, to raise fryers, cattle and pigs and help with other duties at the home.

This year the girls have put 1,800 fryers in the frozen food locker and provided enough for family use—and the family at Girlstown requires 25 fryers for each meal. They also have 30 head of pigs ready for Winter use of the home.

After her first two years in social work, she became conscious of the interest in reclaiming delinquent boys—there are more than 350 boys-towns and boys ranches in the United States—and the comparative lack of interest in delinquent girls.

Administrators Named

For the next 10 years, she worked, saved her money to open Girlstown and trained herself for her work there.

The administrative body for the home includes a board of incorporators with Miss Anthony as president, and Judge A. J. Doss of Abilene and Owen McWhorter, Lubbock attorney. There also is an advisory board of 13 members which meets twice a year and includes leaders from many communities.

Incorporated under a state charter and with federal approval, Girlstown, U. S. A., is financed and developed solely through contributions.

The contributions are made through a partnership plan. Every person who makes a donation to Girlstown becomes a working partner in creating a home for some of America's "unwanted" girls.

The MATURE PARENT

Sex Instruction Is Part Of All Moral Instruction

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

On our radio, a feminine voice said, "Yes, in my new book, I come right out and warn girls that they will lose men's respect if they go in for heavy necking before marriage. I think . . ."

The voice was snapped off. "That old line!" said a young guest disgustedly. "Why should men lose respect for girls for doing something before marriage—and keep respect for us for doing the same thing after marriage?"

Ann is 16. I said, "Would you feel happy and comfortable making love to a man you weren't married to?"

My young guest wriggled. "Well . ." she began.

She has no mother and so I made a little speech. I said "You wouldn't feel comfortable—or you wouldn't wriggle at the idea. The answer to your question is that men lose respect for girls who engage in sex activity before marriage, not because they have engaged in sex activity, but because they have cooperated in a sneaky, defiant experience. What loses the respect is not the sex activity, but the fact that the girl has shown herself to be an uncertain person who lets others make up her mind for her.

• • •

"A man would lose some respect for you, too, if you told him you were on a diet—and then let him persuade you into eating two banana splits. There's nothing the matter with men that isn't the matter with us, too. We can't respect people who believe one thing—and do another. Neither can they."

Someone has given Ann the impression that sex activity in itself means loss of male respect. So she is a little defiant on the subject.

This impression often makes young girls unhappy. So we should take great care to point out that this loss of male respect occurs only when two people do not take legal and moral responsibility for the sex activity.

We don't want to confuse them by implying that the sex activity is the bad thing, when the bad thing is the refusal to take proper responsibility for it. Sex is not the enemy of our girl children, but joy and communication.

• • •

The enemy is terror of displeasing, uncertainty, secret defiance and the romantic imaginations that express themselves in irresponsible behavior, as well as premature sex activity. These are the real destroyers—and wise sex instruction must make this clear.

So I said to the child who has no mother, "Men keep their respect for us when we make love after marriage because marriage enables us to take responsibility for the love-making. We have earned the joy and so we can make love openly, proudly and decisively."

Time was when parents thought it suficient to say, "Don't let him go too far making love to you—or he will lose respect for you." That is not sufficient, for we cannot divide sex morality from other morality like that and expect to make any sense.

Our sex instruction has to be part of all our moral instruction, so that we say, "Don't let anyone at all go too far in persuading you to forsake what you know is good and responsible for you to do."

☆ TEEN TALK ☆

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

It takes a little while to get into the swing of being back before the blackboard . . . teacher . . . algebra equations . . . Latin . . . Greek . . . homework. So you can't blame a girl for dreaming.

Here are some random thoughts from the notebook of Priscilla Torsleff, junior at Horace Greeley H. S., Chappaqua, New York . . .

"Progressive education is a thing of the past. By this I do not mean that the schools have lost their ability to deal with the different or the difficult student. I mean that students at the end of the Summer vacation go back to school. If education is supposed to be progressive, then why don't we go forward to school?

Writes Of School

". . . Let us analyze the subject — school is an inanimate object. By this I do not mean the teachers and the pupils. I mean the desks and the chairs and the books. The teachers and the pupils are growing older and the pupils are growing bigger. Now the school doesn't grow and so in time the pupils leave it behind. This means that the school is behind them and this is a back-handed way of doing things. If you don't think I am making sense it is not the fault of the teachers. They don't make any more than I do. We can go to class and go to games and go to schools but the school doesn't go anywhere.

". . . This is not the fault of the teachers . . . it is the fault of the men who made the school . . . They made it too heavy.

". . . Anyhow, whether or not you go forward to school are back to school, that's not the problem. It is whether you get there . . . so . . .

"Welcome back to school . . . I don't know how the school feels about this subject as it can't talk we will never know."

Brighten Up Your School

It you want to be a little gem, bring some joy to your classroom with flowers or greens. Philodendron, African violets, Coleus and any number of interesting plants can perk up the school room or even your room at home. Take cuttings from original plants and you will have new ones in a matter of months.

You can enjoy a touch of Spring by forcing corcus, daffodils or tulips. Hyacinths come in lovely shades of yellow, blue, pink, white and red and their fragrance will permeate every cranny of your schoolroom or den.

Dutch hyacinth, tulip or daffodil bulbs can be bought from any local or mail-order garden dealer and many supermarkets.

Open the bags of hyacinth bulbs and leave them in a cool (50 degrees) dry, dark place until December 1. Special hyacinth glasses can be filled with cool water, and a bulb placed in it so that just the root base touches the water. A little charcoal helps sweeten it.

Keep In Dark Place

The glass is placed in a cool, dark closet or cellar (about 50 degrees) and left until the top growth is about four inches above the bulb. This takes about two months. Then place the glass in a window in a warm room, adding water if necessary, but not changing it.

You can force tulips, daffodils and corcus to flourish from early February until Easter if given enough light and moisture. Hyacinths may be potted any time up to December; tulips, daffodils and corcus should go in during October and November. Set tulip and daffodil bulbs one-half inch apart with the tips of the bulbs protruding above the surface. Corcus bulbs should be completely covered. About one-quarter of the upper part of the hyacinth bulb should be exposed.

Pots should be watered thoroughly after planting the bulbs and stored in a cold (40 degrees) dark place. It takes from eight to ten weeks for roots to develop. The flower buds will be out of the necks of the bulbs then, and can be brought into the house. Keep the pots in partial light at a temperature of 60 to 65 degrees for the first week, then place them in a window that gets lots of sun. Water them as needed to keep the soil from drying.

● The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: GOP senate control depends on two new seats; Loss of three Republican senators anticipated; Langer and Morse cause added worry.

WASHINGTON — One thing worrying the GOP high command is that while capturing the White House they might lose the Senate. This is because only one-third of the Senate is up for election, and it happens that this year Republican senators chiefly are affected, many in marginal states.

To win control of the Senate, the Republicans must pick up two new seats. Instead they are likely to lose six states, and pick up three —a net loss of three senators.

New York—Senator Irving Ives, Republican, frequent bolter to the GOP-Democratic liberals, will be re-elected.

Connecticut—With two Democratic seats at stake in Connecticut, the Republicans are likely to pick up at least one. Chief issue in Connecticut is "McCarthyism", Senator Benton having been the only senator with the courage to ask for a Senate probe of McCarthy's unethical conduct. As a result, McCarthy and friends have thrown everything except the kitchen sink into Connecticut to defeat Benton.

Michigan — Senator Blair Moody, Democrat, is fighting an uphill race against Congressman Charles Potter, a legless veteran. Potter voted against everything Eisenhower was working for — defense funds, Mutual Security aid to Europe; while Moody championed the principles of the late Senator Vandenberg. Nevertheless, sympathy for a legless veteran plus the powerful support of both Ford and General Motors, is likely to defeat him.

Washington — Congressman "Scoop" Jackson, Democrat, is a probable winner over Senator Cain, the Republican who played footsie with the real estate lobby and the isolationist bloc.

Missouri — Another GOP senator of the class of 1946, James Kem, is due to be mowed down by Stuart Symington, who cleaned up the RFC.

Nevada — Tom Mechling, the young newsman who defeated Senator McCarran's law partner in the Democratic primary, now faces the open and bitter opposition of the most powerful man in Nevada — McCarran himself. This means that the Democratic machine is not actively behind him. However, such sympathy has been aroused for Mechling's lone battle that he may defeat GOP Senator Malone. Nevadans know that Malone, whom McCarran now backs, previously was treated by him like dirt.

Massachusetts — Young Congressman John Kennedy, Democrat with a liberal voting record, is considered likely to defeat Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, despite the powerful support given Lodge by Eisenhower.

New Mexico — Senator Dennis Chavez, Democrat, has an understanding with Republican leaders whereby the state probably will go for Eisenhower, but simultaneously defeat the ebullient Pat Hurley, now running against Chavez for the Senate.

Wyoming — Joe O'Mahoney, Democrat, a skilled and respected Senate veteran, is in the tough fight with GOP Governor Barrett. The race is close, but O'Mahoney is expected to squeak through.

Utah — Senator Arthur Watkins, Republican, is in a seesaw battle with Congressman Walter Granger, Democrat. Watkins has become so desperate that he has imported a professional ex-Communist, Harvey Matusow, to attack Granger. Granger, however, has been a solid, hard-working congressman and the attack may boomerang.

Ohio — Senator John Bricker, voted No. 96 by Washington newsmen in contrast to Taft's rating of No. 1, is being pushed by Mike DiSalle, the former price administrator. Hurting Bricker is the fact that rents are being raised all over Ohio, following his consistent voting with the real estate lobby to remove rent controls. Bricker also has admitted receiving $69,000 from his law firm, while the firm in turn received $138,000 from the Pennsylvania Railroad. Bricker consistently voted against the St. Lawrence Seaway, although Ohio is a Great Lakes state.

Kentucky — The Republicans may pick up one seat in the close race between ex-Senator John S. Cooper, Republican, and Democratic Senator Tom Underwood. Cooper is a Vandenberg Republican with a fine record.

West Virginia — Ex-Senator Chappie Rivercomb, the Republican whom Governor Dewey snubbed in 1948 because of his votes against minority groups, isn't given much chance to win against Democratic Senator Harley Kilgore.

Delaware — A close race is developing between Senator John Williams, Republican, and Lt. Gov. Alexis I. DuPont Bayard. Although the DuPonts usually back a Republican, in this case they either are keeping neutral or giving some quiet support to their Democratic cousin.

New Jersey — Senator Alexander Smith, Republican, probably will win out over efficient Undersecretary of the Army Archibald Alexander, Democrat.

Should the above calculations be wrong, however, and should the Republicans win three new seats instead of dropping a net of three, they still have to worry about Senators Wayne Morse of Oregon, who recently bolted, and Bill Langer of North Dakota, who rode on Truman's train. Their two votes might be necessary in order to organize the Senate.

DEMOS FOR IKE BALLOT — A resolution of the State Democratic Convention recommended that "every Democrat in Texas vote and work for" the election of Eisenhower and Nixon. The sample ballot reproduced above shows the easiest way a Texas Democrat can vote for Eisenhower. Another method is the write-in plan recently approved by Attorney General Price Daniel. Voters may scratch Stevenson and Sparkman and write in Eisenhower and Nixon under the Democratic column, crossing out the Republican and other slates.

Dwarf Apple Trees Produce Good Fruit

LEXINGTON, KY.—(AP)—Experiments with dwarf apple trees at the University of Kentucky experiment station indicate that this type of tree may be grown in the backyard.

Dr. C. S. Waltman says that early production, easy spraying and harvesting make them practical. The trees, planted at the experiment station farm 10 years ago, are 10 feet tall and produced as much as nine bushels a tree.

The trees begin bearing fruit as early as the second or third year, he reports. They should be planted 10 to 15 feet apart in the late Fall or early Spring.

WHEN TIMOTHY TAXPAYER IS BOSS FOR A DAY—

Paper Ballots Carry As Much Weight, But Voting Machines Carry It Faster

By HAROLD WHITTINGTON
Reporter-Telegram Staff

Midland voters will use their pencils Tuesday to tell the world whether they like Ike or Adlai.

Voters in many other cities will make their choices by turning a little lever in voting machines.

Midland voters will not know for many hours the totals and the verdicts of their ballots.

Voters elsewhere will have that information less than an hour after the polls close.

What are the pros and cons in the use of voting machines?

Major cities in many parts of the nation — as well as a number of minor cities—have abandoned the paper ballot in favor of the machine. Their citizens step before a large, illuminated panel, turn a handle that will draw a heavy curtain around the booth, and cast their votes in shorter time than the paper ballot requires. Names on the "ballot" are printed in larger, black letters to keep things simple.

There is no record of any community having tried out voting machines and then gone back to the old voting methods. A number of Texas cities are included.

Voting machines have sold themselves to citizens because they feel counting ballots by hand is too cumbersome, awkward and slow, particularly when voting is heavy. The counting is done as soon as the votes are cast in the machine, and the results are made known as soon as the machine is unsealed.

After Midland's Democratic primary election in July the ballots in one city box still had not been counted by dawn the next day. Election officials there didn't have even an adding machine to speed their task.

Anxious, weary candidates whose races were in doubt got little or no sleep that night, nor did other persons closely concerned with the election's outcome. Had voting machines been used in the heavy voting, the results would have been made available many hours earlier.

The machine ballot is simple to operate, foolproof and as honest as cold metal can be. There has been no instance reported wherein a machine has been "fixed" in order to affect the outcome.

How It Operates

When names of the candidates are inserted beside the lever representing their votes, all the counters inside the machine are set on "zero" and the cover locked and sealed over the dials in the presence of the election judges.

The seal is not broken until after the election, when the cover on the back of the machine is removed and the votes recorded. As soon as the totals are jotted down, in the presence of the judges, the machines are resealed to await further auditing.

The voter needs no paper ballot. He steps into the booth and pulls a large handle which closes a curtain behind him to insure complete privacy.

To cast his vote, he merely turns the handle beside each of the names he prefers—voting a straight or a split ticket. But once he has turned the handle, he can't stand there twitching it back and forth to run up a large vote for his man. The handle remains down until he again pulls the larger lever to open the curtain. That motion "clears the board" for the next voter.

Write-In Voting

Writing-in candidates' names are handled simply. A pencil is provided in the booth, and adequate area is provided behind a slot for the written name.

And again, the voter can't vote more than once. The metal door over the write-in slots will not close until the curtain-handle is pulled, and then it does so automatically and seals the space, dropping the written notation into the proper box and leaving the space available for the next voter.

Cities in Galveston, Bexar and Dallas Counties which have switched to voting machines, report that the average time a voter requires to cast his ballot has been shortened so as to eliminate long queues and tired feet. Other cities in Texas, however, have complained because not enough machines were provided.

The Price Tag

Voting machines cost between $1,400 and $1,500 each, and several are needed for each precinct where voting is heavy.

The price varies according to the model. One type is large enough to permit voting on 25 propositions or constitutional amendments along with 70 different offices. That's the largest. Others trim the number of offices down to about 50.

The only fiscal economy comes in a vast reduction of the printing bill for paper ballots and a slight reduction in salaries for election personnel. The physical economy is apparent.

Storage of the machines also may present problems to some communities. Most of them are an inch or two more than six feet tall and are little more than three feet wide in the larger models. When the privacy-curtain is open, the machines are but about one foot deep. Because several machines might be needed for each polling place a good room must be provided for storage between elections.

Voting machines can be used for all types of elections, however, with no mechanical jiggering. A one-issue school bond election can be voted by machine as well as a full slate in the presidential years.

Two-Party Primaries

In fact, two parties can conduct primary elections at the same time on the same machines!

The voter tells the election clerk whether he wishes to vote for the Democratic or Republican primary candidates. Before the voter steps into the booth the clerk or judge turns a knob on the outside of the machine to lock the voting handles of the "other" party.

Thus, the voter if he is a Democrat, will be unable to turn the levers beside Republicans' names, and vice versa. Counters inside the machine continue to log the number of votes cast for the individual candidates.

In general elections, however, the board is wide open. If a voter so desires, he can split his votes among as many parties as are entered in the election. Or he can vote a straight ticket.

And there is no way in the world for anybody other than himself to learn how he voted.

News Of Presidential Campaign Scant On Korean Front Lines; GI's Too Busy

TOKYO—(AP)—The U. S. presidential candidates are talking quite a bit about the Korean War and the frontline soldier—but the American fighting man seldom gets to hear or read much of it.

Many troops in the lines have never heard the voices of the nominees—Republican Dwight Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson. And many have not read much of what they have said.

Despite thorough coverage of the campaign by the Armed Services Radio and its network of stations in Korea, Marines and infantrymen haven't had a chance to hear it. There are few radios at the front.

Airmen in rear area fields and sailors are better posted. There is about one radio to every 20 men in rear areas.

Betting Increases

Associated Press correspondents noticed only lukewarm interest in the election bets in the last two weeks.

Most of those who will vote have cast their absentee ballots and returned to their war chores. Many learned of the issues through letters and newspaper clipping sent from home.

The Army radio has urged all servicemen to vote.

Van Fleet's Letter

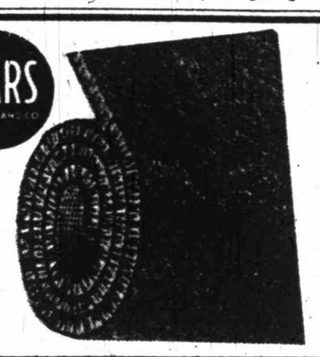

The Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, has printed equal stories and liberally used most of the statements of both candidates. But the newspaper usually arrives at a division headquarters in Korea three to four days after it is published in Tokyo and Korea. And it takes more time to get the newspaper to the fighting troops.

Some of the more controversial issues have been missing from the newspaper's columns—notably a letter attributed to Gen. James A. Van Fleet which said the South Korean Army is in "apple pie order" and should be used more to replace American troops. The letter was released by General Eisenhower. There was no mention of it in Stars and Stripes on the day the general released it.

News of the campaigns also reach servicemen through American magazines, such as Time, Newsweek and the Reader's Digest, which have good circulation in Japan and Korea.

Mid-September Rain Eases Area Wind Erosion Threat

Improved cover conditions as a result of the mid-September rain and planting of Winter cover crops have eased the severity of the wind erosion threat in the Midland area next Spring, a revised estimate of cover conditions by the Soil Conservation Service this week showed.

Although about 90 per cent of the farm and ranch land in the county is still expected to be serious soil blowing because of inadequate cover, the acreage expected to suffer very severe damage has declined from 45 to 22 per cent, Ben Osborn, work unit conservationist, reported.

The area protected by good cover, where blowing will be slight, has increased from 5 per cent to 10 per cent of the county.

Biggest improvement was on range and where growth of grasses and weeds following the rain increased the acreage of good cover by 30,000 acres, and raised an estimated 91,500 acres from poor to fair classification.

Sorghums Improve

Growth of grain sorghum or dry land increased the expected cover condition on 11,000 acres from poor to fair, leaving only 10,000 acres with little or no protective cover.

Planting of Winter grain has reduced the fallow acreage by 500 to 1,000 acres, although the success of these plantings depends upon additional moisture.

The effectiveness of the improved cover during the blow season depends upon its being left on the land, Osborn pointed out. Sorghums need to be combined or cut with a high stubble, and not grazed, for the stalks to protect the land from blowing.

Ranges have not grown enough to justify additional grazing during the Winter. Pastures need to be rested until the next season is well advanced.

Saving stubble and residues on cropland and resting pastures to protect range cover are features of the three-point drouth-defense program sponsored by the Martin-Howard soil conservation district and Midland chamber of commerce.

Better keep that slicker handy, Pardner!

The entire growth of sudan will be left for soil cover on a field on the Sam Preston farm south of Midland. Preston is sacrificing the possible grazing of the field in an effort to prevent soil blowing and to build up the land. He also has planted perennial grasses on a part of his land as a part of his program with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

Each citizen of Alpine, population 5,500, consumes 171 eggs annually, according to a recent survey made by the range animal husbandry students enrolled in the poultry production class at Sul Ross State College in Alpine. Terry Simms of Midland was among the students conducting the survey.

San Angelo, Marfa and Waco provide more than half of the 80,000 dozen eggs and 10,000 fryers used each year by the Alpine merchants. The report showed that the poultry industry is taking large sums from that beef producing community. Approximately ten per cent of all meats brought through Alpine stores are fryers and hens, one per cent mutton and lamb, nine per cent pork, and eighty per cent beef.

Midland has been invited to have a special day at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. The letter received by the Chamber of Commerce was writen by W. R. Watt, president-manager of the Fort Worth exposition. The invitation says:

"We hope to present a still better show, January 30 through February 8, and to do this we need your help. Your city is invited to have a special 'day.' Name a Cowgirl Sweetheart, bring the band and a whoopingly enthusiastic caravan of citizens displaying badges and hatbands to publicize your city and your rodeo, fair or other civic enterprise.

Two new classes have been added to the Quarter Horse Show to be held during the San Antonio Stock Show, February 20-March 1, according to Fred Shield and Gay Copeland, co-chairmen of the horse show.

The show, which is approved by the American Quarter Horse Association, is under the direct supervision of the San Antonio Livestock Exposition.

For the first time this year there will be a class for roping horses and a class for novice horses with $250 in premiums being offered for each of the new classes.

Stock show officials have set aside a total of $4,900 in premiums which are added to entry fees. Last year 173 horses competed in the halter and reining classes and cutting horse contest for a grand total of $8,552 in premium money.

A total of $1,850 has been set aside for the halter classes of the 1953 show to which will be added the $5 entry fee of each horse entered in these classes. During the 1952 show, 105 quarter horses were entered in the halter classes.

Reining Classes

Premiums for the reining classes, including the new roping and novice classes, have been set at $1,050 to which will be added the $10 entry fee of each horse entered. Last year 25 quarter horses competed in the performance or reining classes.

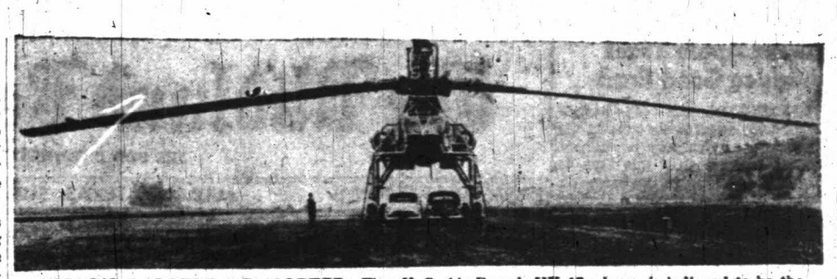

The cutting horse contest, which is approved by the National Cutting Horse Association, also is under the direct supervision of the San Antonio livestock Exposition.

A total of $2,000 is being offered by the stock show to which the $75 entry fee for each horse will be added. The cutting horse contest during the 1952 horse show had 44 entries.

Prince Sunbeam 249th, an Aberdeen-Angus bull, one half of which recently was sold for $100,000 by Dr. Armand Hammer, owner of Shadow Isle Farm, Red Bank, New Jersey, was flown to his new home at Murchison & Ljungdahl Ranch, Burnet, Texas, last week. The world's record price bull will be the first International grand champion Aberdeen-Angus bull to go to Texas where he will remain six months out of each year and then be flown back for a six-month stay at his original home at Red Bank.

Prince Sunbeam 249th made the trip in a DC-3 the interior of which has been constructed to resemble the especially built barn the bull has occupied at the Red Bank farm.

Chinese Reds Form 10 Collective Farms

HONG KONG—(AP)—Chinese communists have established 10 collective farms in tht Swatow area of coastal Kwangtung province, according to the independent Chinese press.

The farms range from 6,000 acres down to 65 and are mostly on reclaimed land along the coast.

Reports say the reclamation work was done by convicts, former Nationalist troops, dependents of liquidated landlords and unemployed workers.

EXPOSED ELEVATION

Somehow his name was entered as Nickolas Gonzales Frebes. The new soldier protested to no avail, finally revamped his signature. "I couldn't collect my pay unless I signed my new name," he recalls.

But the brass was investigating. They sent off a request for his birth certificate. It came back with this name: Nickolas Guadalupes. That's all—at if Guadalupes were his last name.

With three versions of his name chasing each other through channels, it was inevitable that variations should crop up on the record. They include Nickolas Ferb-Gonzales.

"All my brothers are Gonzales, my father's name was Gonzales, my social security card and draft board list me as Gonzales, and all I want to do is be a Gonzales, too," explains the Puerto Rican private first class.

It's Up To The Voter!

This election year of 1952 rightly is termed a "year of decision," and the time now is at hand for Americans to express themselves at the polls—deciding the issue or issues involved.

In Midland, as in every other city and county of the state and nation, voters will trek to the polls Tuesday, general election day, to elect a new President of the United States and to fill other public offices from precinct levels up.

It is the time for decisive action on the part of the American voter. It is the time for him to make the decision in this "year of decision."

• • •

Never before perhaps in the history of our great and freedom-loving nation has it been so important that citizens vote in record numbers. Never before perhaps has so much been at stake in a general election. Never before perhaps has it been so important that citizens consider all the issues involved in order to vote intelligently when they go to the polls.

Yes, all elections are important, but this general election in the year of 1952 assumes greater and more important proportions than ever before.

It is the duty—it is the responsibility—of every qualified voter in America to express himself or herself in Tuesday's election. It is the American way!

A most encouraging factor is the record number of absentee ballots cast here and elsewhere in Texas, indicating that previous voting records of the Lone Star State will be smashed in Tuesday's election. Similar reports come from other states over the nation.

The fact that more groups and organizations than ever before are engaged actively in "get-out-the-vote" campaigns is another encouraging sign.

"Vote as you please but please vote", is heard on every hand as patriotic Americans urge their fellow citizens to avail themselves of their precious privilege of voting their convictions in a free election in a free America.

It has been a hectic campaign which now is drawing to a close, and surely citizens have been exposed to more than enough information on all candidates and all issues to make up their minds on how to mark their ballots.

The outcome of the all-important general election now is up to the individual voter, who after all will be the most important person in the United States come Tuesday. It is his individual vote which will write the verdict in this "year of decision."

Vote . . . Vote intelligently . . . Vote early . . . in Tuesday's general election!

Grand And Glorious Feeling

Never before has a Chest drive here exceeded its quota so promptly and by such a wide margin. It is something of which every Midland resident may be justly proud.

Meeting its record quota in record time is an achievement which speaks well for the city and for its loyal citizens who, by their actions again have exhibited their sincere interest in the youth and welfare organizations of their community.

Congratulations certainly are in order for the hundreds of volunteers who worked long, hard and diligently to assure the success of the campaign. Never before perhaps have so many Midland residents been engaged in a fund-raising effort, and the prompt success of the drive speaks well indeed for their unselfish and tireless endeavors.

The record number of donors — men, women and children who responded promptly and generously to their Community Chest also are deserving of congratulations, commendation and praise.

It was the will of Midlanders to do the job promptly and well, plus a superb campaign organization, which spelled out SUCCESS in Midland's Community Chest finance campaign.

Yes, it's a grand and glorious feeling!

A Worthy Contribution

The Ford Foundation warrants general praise for providing funds to develop an adequate program of information and education for the country's armed forces.

Its survey and othes have shown a sad lack in this field. There is strong evidence that thousands in the military service have no real notion why they are in uniform today. Their morale has suffered in consequence.

If the Ford fund's program succeeds in improving the training of these men who must carry the battlefield burden for our armed forces, it will have contributed very usefully to the security and safety of the nation.

Filed For Future Use

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: NAM asks extra dues for political emergency; McCarthy spent weeks digging into Stevenson's life; Massachusetts mother campaigns for would-be senatorial son.

WASHINGTON — The National Association of Manufacturers has been telephoning members asking them for last-minute "dues" to be used for political purposes to put across the Republican ticket.

Most interesting angle about the "dues" or "contributions" is that NAM spokesmen have told NAM members that they woud be tax-deductible.

Since political tax contributions are not tax-deductible, several NAM members have balked or contacted Treasury officials to see what the score was.

The NAM appeal was made chiefly by telephone rather than by letter, and what NAM members were told was that the nation faced a critical political situation which required the association to send out a lot more literature at once. This, NAM members were told, was an obligation on the part of every American businessman in order to preserve the free-enterprise system.

Doubling the ordinary dues, it was urged, would not be taxable. These dues, incidentally, range from $100 for smaller firms to $5,000 for bigger firms.

What some NAM members fear, however, is that this will open up the association to further scrutiny by the Justice Department and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. While the NAM has a Treasury ruling that it is a non-profit organization and therefore its dues are deductible, the Justice Department brought action against it as a lobbying organization rather than an educational association.

The suit was tested in the courts, and although the NAM won in the lower court, the ruling was vacated by the Supreme Court on a technicality. The whole matter doubtless will come before the courts again, at which time some NAM members are fearful that the current political activity will cause trouble.

McCarthy's Futile Probe

Only a few insiders know how desperately Senator McCarthy scrapped the political barrel for ammunition to throw at Governor Stevenson last Monday night.

Inside story is that McCarthy's sleuths bloodhounded every remote trail in Stevenson's past. A total of nine investigators were kept busy rummaging through newspaper files and court records or tracking down tips and rumors. In the end they came up with so little that McCarthy decided to concentrate his attack of Stevenson's aides, rather than Stevenson himself.

The Wisconsin senator got most of his help from the old America First members, who tried to keep this country out of war with Germany. Ex-America First chief Robert E. Wood turned him loose in the old America First secret files, also raised the money for his broadcast.

McCarthy, in turn, submitted the first draft of his speech to the America First group. However, he worked on it again after receiving it back. The only outfit that got an advance copy of the finished speech before it was released to the press was Col. McCormick's Chicago Tribune. The Tribune received a copy at 2:30 p.m. Monday—four hours before the rest of the press.

Aside from his America First backing, McCarthy also got some help from Robert Stripling, former investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee.

As an example of how thorough McCarthy's dirt-digging expedition was, one investigator even went through back copies of the Bloomington Pantagraph, one - quarter owned by Stevenson, to see whether Adlai had written anything damaging under his by-line as a young reporter. The search yielded nothing.

Campaigning Mother

A lot of women are running for Congress in the current campaign, but one of the most exceptional is not running at all. Instead, she is running her son. She is Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, whose son, Congressman Jack, is the Democratic candidate for the Senate in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Kennedy is the mother of nine children, lost one son in the war, doesn't care much for politics, and generally lets her dynamic husband keep the family in the headlines. But in the case of her congressman son, Rose Kennedy has hit the hustings.

When Kennedy's opponent, GOP Senator Lodge, enlisted the support of his beautiful sister-in-law, the former Francesca Bragiotti, to speak before Italo-American voters in Massachusetts, Mrs. Kennedy also spoke in Italian on behalf of her son. She had studied the language when her husband was ambassador to Great Britain and recalled enough to get a big reaction from Italian audiences.

What they hope to do after November 4 is boost the interest rate on government bonds by one per cent, which automatically would add $2,500,000,000 to the national debt. Since the banks hold a large share of the government bonds, this means the banks would get a big cut of the $2,500,000,000 pie. The taxpayers, of course, would have to foot the bill.

Already forking out interest on the $260,000,000,000 national debt is costing $6,000,000,000 annually. To this the banks now would like to add $2,500,000,000 annually.

Note — The bankers sparking this plan are among General Eisenhower's most powerful supporters. Advisers say, however, that he would oppose such a move.

Shooting our pilots — The Communists are marking their parachutes with streamers, so their parachuting pilots won't be picked off by their own snipers. It is a favorite sport for Red Korean ground troops to shoot helpless airmen after they bail out. For awhile, the snipers picked on American and Communist pilots alike. Now they use streamers to distinguish which helpless victims the ground troops should fire on.

Atomic artillery — The Army's new budget gives first priority to atomic cannons and guided missiles. This has caused an uproar inside the joint chiefs of staff, particularly over the atomic cannons. The Air Force and Navy consider atomic cannons too slow and clumsy for the high cost of making them.

Russian Five-Year-Plan — British intelligence has warned the United States that the latest Russian five-year-plan proves that the Pentagon again has underestimated Russia's ability to produce war equipment. A British study shows the Russians will turn out from 15 to 20 per cent more guns, tanks and planes than American production experts believe possible. The British warn we'd better revise our thinking about Russian production capacity before it's too late.

Nazi generals — U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery has cabled the State Department from Cairo that a group of former Nazi generals are now actually running the Egyptian army. No. 1 man is Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Fahrmbacher, who commanded a German army corps on the Western front. Caffery says the German influence is spreading rapidly throughout Egypt and that the West German government may use this as a wedge for re-entering North Africa and the Middle East.

South's opening bid of three no-trump shows a balanced hand, a sure stopper in each of the four suits, and a point-count of 25 to 27 points.

North can afford to raise to a slam since he relies on the point-count. With his own nine points and his partner's announced 25 to 27 points, North knows that the combined count will be 34 to 36 points. This should be enough for a small slam but not enough for a grand slam.

As soon as he sees the dummy, declarer can count on winning three spades, three hearts, and four clubs. He therefore needs two diamond tricks in order to make his contract.

Against average defense South could make his contract. He wins the first trick in dummy with the king of hearts and returns a low diamond, playing the king from his own hand.

	NORTH 1
	♠ Q J 5 ♥ K 10 5 ♦ 6 4 3 2 ♣ Q J 9

South	West	North	East

Opening lead—♥ 9

The average West player hops on this trick with the ace of diamonds without giving the matter a second thought. South must eventually get back to dummy and lead another diamond in order to finesse the ten. South wriggles and squirms over this finesse, but it wins and the slam is home.

Put a first-class player in the West seat, however, and see what a hard time he can give South. When South plays the king of diamonds at the second trick, West plays a low diamond without a moment's hesitation. Now South cannot tell who has the ace of diamonds.

How should South try to win his second diamond trick? Naturally he will get back to dummy and lead a low diamond. East plays low, and South must guess whether to play the queen or the ten.

The expert defense has presented South with an excellent chance to guess wrong. The average defense gave declared no guess at all. An expert should always aim to give his opponents a chance—to make a mistake.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 N. T.	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades Q-10-7-5-3-2, Hearts 5-4-3, Diamonds Q-J-8, Club 8. What do you do?

A—Bid two spades. Since you have a good six-card suit and a singleton you have good reason to prefer a suit contract to no-trump. If North bids two no-trump you must sign off by bidding three spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-5, Hearts 5-4-3, Diamonds Q-J-8, Clubs 8-2. What do you do?

Lewis, Truman Bury Hatchet At White House Love Feast

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis and President Harry S. Truman have buried the hatchet, and not in each other. The United Mine Workers' boss got back in the White House on Sunday night, October 26, for the first time in more than six years.

The last time Lewis was there, April 20, 1946, was in company with the late Judge Lewis Schwellenbach, then secretary of Labor, to consult ineffectively about ending a coal strike. This time Lewis came back into the White House to consult about the latest coal strike, and this time he got what he wanted.

It was reconsideration of the Wage Stabilization Board order granting the coal miners only $1.50 a day of the $1.90 raise they had bargained and contracted for with the mine operators.

The inside story of how this latest White House love feast was arranged makes an intriguing story of how things get done in Washington—if you know your way around.

The middleman who thought up this White House industrial peace conference was David B. Charnay, head of Allied Public Relations Associates, which handles some of the mine workers' publicity. Charnay, it may be recalled, is the man who got John L. Lewis and Georgia Senator Richard B. Russell together, to win Russell's opposition to the Taft-Hartley law just before the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Lewis and all the United Mine Workers' officials were in Cincinnati attending the union's convention when the Wage Stabilization Board handed down its order disapproving the top 40 cents a day of their wage increase. The order caught the miners' boss off base. He had thought the full increase would be approved by WSB.

Doubts About Parley

The miners' strike was the first result. But the problem then became to get the full contract approved and get the men back to work. Lewis conferred with a number of people the first part of the week of October 13, but accomplished nothing.

Then Charnay, in New York, had his brainstorm. He called up Washington and got an appointment with John R. Steelman, the assistant to the President. Flying into Washington late in the afternoon, Charnay went straight to the White House. To Steelman he spelled out his plan for a meeting between Lewis and the President.

From the White House, Charnay went to see Lewis. He had his doubts, but gave his approval of the plan. The job then was to bring other interested people in on the deal and to write the communique that would be issued after the conference. This was an important detail. The result already was agreed to, cut and dried, before the meeting began.

Thursday, October 16, Lewis and Charnay met with David L. Cole, new head of the Mediation Service. Harry M. Moses, head of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, who had made the original contract with Lewis, also got in on the act.

On Friday Lewis went to West Virginia to make a political speech, but he returned to Washington early Saturday. At lunch in a hotel suite, Cole and Charnay hammered out the communique for the President to issue.

Putnam, Lewis Agreement

The first draft began: "Because of the unfortunate conditions in the bituminous coal mining industry, I thought it wise, at the suggestion of Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Association, to call a conference this evening at the White House. At my invitation there were present Messrs. Moses, Lewis, Steelman Putnam and Cole."

The first sentence of that was finally changed to read:

"Because of the situation now prevailing in the bituminous coal mining industry, it was deemed advisable to call a conference this evening at the White House."

Only minor changes were made in the balance of the text. The draft of the announcement then was taken over to the White House for an okay.

There was some difficulty getting hold of Roger L. Putnam, director of the Office of Economic Stabilization. He had gone to New York for the weekend, after meeting with two WSB members to announce that he would review their recommendations. Finally located, Putnam flew to Washington Sunday afternoon in time for the meeting at nine o'clock Sunday night.

The agreement "reached at the meeting" was that Lewis would call off the strike and Putnam would review the WSB ruling. No promises were made that Putnam would approve the $1.90 increase instead of the $1.50. But wiseacres in Washington consider it a safe bet that John L. Lewis would not join in any love feast of this kind unless he knew he was going to get what he wanted.

So after the agreement was reached, they went on a presidentially conducted tour of the White House.

All this is a far cry from the speech John L. Lewis made to his UMW four years ago. In that hour-long harangue, he called Truman "cowardly . . . dangerous . . . malignant . . . totally unfitted" to be President.

Murder she yelled

By Joseph Shellit

THE STORY: Al Kemmer unwisely moved the body of a murdered racketeer which was found by Midge Burnett, a guest at High Hill, which Al runs. Now Al has received a note demanding payment of $50,000 for silence on Al's move to protect the reputation of his place. Al and Dan Morrison, the athletic director, talk it over and Al decides to pay $2500 and say he can't raise the rest.

• • •

XII

I MET Al in the office at 8:45 p. m. He shakily ripped open a pack of spearmint and threw me a stick. He was chewing two at a time this evening. On the desk was a brown grocery bag, packed full and standing upright. Through the open window came the jumpy music of the record-player. It was a big night—the Friday dance—the only time in the week when we had neckties and evening gowns.

I read the note Al had written:

This is all I can raise, positively. Any more would bankrupt me, and then I wouldn't care who you talked to. So it don't pay you to be a hog. Be satisfied.

He stuffed the bag under his arm. "Okay, let's go out and be somebody's sucker."

"Taking the office gun?" I said.

"No gun," he grunted. "I don't want to shoot anybody, and I don't think anybody'll want to shoot me."

Our shoes made a slight rattle on the cinders, like sounds being made far-off. Al chewed with tight jaws. "I hope they're all at the dance," he muttered. "I don't feel like running into anybody."

The little hall lights shone faintly. The cottages looked deserted, never-lived-in, but I knew there were girls in some of the rooms. There were always some who missed a dance—girls who'd made a conquest during the first few days of their stay, only to have the guy snatched away by some seductive new arrival—and now, shunning the public humiliation of the dance, they stayed in their rooms and wrote home what a wonderful time they were having.

The cinders ended—we were walking on soft dirt. The air was rich with cool piny smells. Al held up his luminous watch. "Only seven more minutes," he said unsteadily. "Let's hurry up."

I stopped. I caught his arm. I listened. Soft footfalls.

• • •

THEY stopped immediately. I looked back, squinting, blinded by motes of darkness. I thought I saw a dim figure—

I gave Al a push. "Keep going."

I slipped off the road to my right and crouched behind a tree. Al's footsteps clomped away. In a moment I heard the crumple of earth again. I tensed. I tested my footing.

"Taking a walk?" he said pleasantly. "Swell—nice night for it." He walked quickly ahead. "Is that your friend Kemmer up there?"

"Yes," Al mumbled, "it's a—it's a—"

"Nice night for a walk, like I was telling Morrison. Say—I see you've brought your lunch along."

Al hunched the bag into his armpit. "Yeh—my lunch—I gotta eat all the time, account of my colitis."

Healey smiled sympathetically, and reached under Al's arm and took the bag. He popped a pencil flashlight inside. "Look at that. Now, what do you want to carry all this money around for?" he chided.

Abruptly Al said, "The safe. The door won't lock good. When I go out for a walk, I take half of the money with me, so in case there's a robbery or anything, half of the money will be saved, anyway."

"That's using the old bean," Healey said. "Now suppose we take a walk back to your place and have a little talk."

As soon as we were inside the office, Healey closed the door, turned at Al and said, "We know that body was on your land."

Al laid his lower jaw on his chest. He groped behind him for his chair and unrolled himself into it. "What body?"

"Let's cut the kidding," Healey said. "Once we got on to the fact the body had been dragged it was easy to find where from."

Al was rapidly stuffing gum between his teeth. "Owh shzhoh nuvvin about it," he spluttered through the wad. "Supposing it was on my land—does that prove I moved it?"

"Not by itself. But there were a couple of strange coincidences. Somebody used the phone to tip us to it being on Stacey's land; somebody with a fake accent. Then you called Stacey."

"Somebody's trying to get me in trouble. That animal Stacey. He wants to push all his troubles on me." Al's voice got shriller as he began to believe his own spiel. "I ain't going to stand for that kind of monkey business. I'll get a lawyer to take care of him."

• • •

HEALEY let him run down. "And who were you paying off with this dough?"

Al cleared his throat. "I told you—"

"The safe wouldn't lock. I know." Healey moved lithely across the room to the safe. He pulled at the handle—

The door swung open.

"You outfoxed me that time," Healey said.

"No foxing about it," Al said daintily. "When I tell you something, it's good as gold."

Healey seemed abstracted now. "Kemmer, till we clear this thing up, I want you to stick around. Don't leave your grounds."

Healey went out. Al followed him to the front doorway and watched him walk away past the rec hall. Then Al came back, smiling. "Nice guy, for a cop."

BULLDOG EDITORIAL

The outcome of the forthcoming elections lies partially with us as only 45 per cent of America's eligible voters are going to the polls.

The huge debts which have accumulated, the Korean war, all these things and many others will lie on our shoulders in a very few years as many of the graduates of 1953 will be able to vote in the next election.

So get your parents to vote for whomever they please but PLEASE get them to vote.—Sherry Page.

Two Plays Given By Stage Students

The third period Dramatics class has been busy again and last week they presented to the student body two one-act plays. The first was a comedy, "Five for Bad Luck" by William Carson.

It is a story about college life in which one of the leading boys on the campus has been paid $5 to take Effie Trask, the supposedly very undesirable "old-fashioned girl" to the sophomore mixer. When Effie herself finds out this plot, the story develops into a very complicated one.

Those in the cast were Margie Waters, Dan Ratcliff, Elaine Johnson, John Petty, Dwayne Chestnut, Evelyn Heil, Wayne Cooper, Barbara Wilson, and Carol Garrison. Katherine Carter was student director.

On Thursday the class presented the other play, "The Last Trip Out," a tragedy by Walter Hadreth. The scene is a house on a rocky island just off the coast of Maine, with a heavy fog rolling in. The plot hinges around the death of a young man on his last trip out fishing with his seaman father, his mother, who hates the island, and his intended bride, young, pretty, full of expectations for their life together, and crushed by his death.

The actors and their parts were: Tildy—Shirley Brown, Annie—Carol Ann Wilkinson, Jennie—Anne Kennamer, Eben—Steve Thorson, Otis—Bill Robitsek, Martha—Helen Heidelberg, Josey—Marilyn Dunagan.

Directors for the play were Joycelyn Newberry and Judi LeFever.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS: The girls of Midland High are tired of staying at home.

WHEREAS: The girls are ready to do something about this situation.

WHEREAS: T. W. I. R. P. means The Woman Is Requested To Pay.

THEREFORE: We, the girls of MHS in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for their common welfare, and insure the blessings of dates to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish November 1 through November 15 as TWIRP Season.

In order that the public may be informed of regulations with which it must comply, the Student Council receives and publishes the following rules and regulations, that have general applicability and legal effect.

1. All girls must have a TWIRP license before obtaining a date. There will be a booth selling them for 10 cents each.
2. Girls caught without a TWIRP license, on a date or trying to get one, will be fined $1.
3. Girls must spend at least a nickel (5 cents) on their dates.
4. Girls must ask the boy for the date at least thirty (30) minutes in advance.
5. Girls must perform the same common courtesies expected of the boys at other times of the year.
6. Girls may not have more than one date at a time.
7. Girls must have a TWIRP license before they will be admitted to the All School Party November 15.

TWIRPS BEWARE!

I've tried being shy, I've tried acting coy,
But I still haven't caught myself a boy.
Sometimes I smile; then sometimes I pout,
Still no one asks me out!

I'm not so homely; I don't look too bad.
At least, that's the opinion of my dad.
But trying to make a fellow fall
Is like being up against a stone wall.

With my girl friends I can talk all day.
But around a boy I haven't a thing to say.
But all you boys be on the alert—
I'm out to catch myself a twirp!

PAMPA GAME HAMPERS 'DEAR RUTH' AUDIENCE

The play "Dear Ruth," presented by Abilene Christian College, was a wonderful success by way of production, but was underattended for various reasons.

Those who were able to attend enjoyed not only the play, but the Bulldog-Harvester game in brief, because the scores were announced between scenes by the understanding director.

Glenda McNeal

Glenda McNeal Is Selected To Be Football Sweetheart

The "M" Club has selected Glenda McNeal for its Football Sweetheart for 1952-53. She will be presented at the half-time activities of the Homecoming game November 22, and also will be featured on a float in the parade preceding the game.

Glenda is a pert, pretty brunette with sparkling green eyes, and a sweet smile and disposition that accounts for her popularity.

She was born in Midland 15 years ago on March 20. She is a junior, interested in football (one player in particular), cherry pie, fried chicken and the color green.

The most interesting thing that has happened to her is a trip to Canada several yeasr ago.

She plans to attend Texas Tech after graduation, and admits that her innermost desire is to get married.

VIA THE GRAPEVINE

By BETTY BOLTON and NELL CURRAN

Have you noticed all the odd haircuts walking around school lately? Jim Ten Eyck has a lovely one given him by that well-known barber, Charles Worthen. Some of the other boys with weird haircuts are Don Hudson, Jay Schlichting, Bill Leonard and Bill Erskine.

In case you've been wondering whose jacket Mary Jane Miller had on Tuesday night at the Youth Center, it was her brother Kent's, who is an ex-MHS student.

Hooray, Hooray! It's finally here! TWIRP season is here and now all of the dateless girls can have dates at least for two weeks.

Two weeks ago Ruth Nell Kuykendall went to Denver, Colo., to visit Kay Stalcup, an ex-classmate of ours and freshman favorite in 1950.

Congratulations to Jay Schlichting, the champion of the new game played at the Youth Center. The game is played with a broom, which you hold, look at it, and turn around 20 times, you throw the broom down and step on it. Some of those who have tried it are Nancy Klingler, Atrelle Pace, John Petty, Tommy Johnson, Harold Wallace, Glen Duke, and Bill Crenshaw. We know it sounds easy but just try it some time.

Betty Acker, ex-MHS classmate of last year. Has been named Queen of High School in Colorado Springs, Colo. Betty was a sophomore last year and moved to Colorado right after school started this year.

There were a lot of sleepy people drifting around town Saturday week. It seems that these smart but rather tired persons had driven home after the Pampa game and didn't get much sleep.

At last report Jean and Don Hudson are moving to Lubbock. We surely will miss both of them and we all hate to see them go.

We know that every one remembers Sharon Shanks, an ex-MHS student, we hear Sharon moved to White Plains, N. Y. from Calgary (Alberta), Canada. Sharon is a senior this year.

Even though it was rough losing to Pampa last week, now the pressure's off and the Bulldogs can settle down to winning the rest. The going will be rough, but maybe they can pull through. The two teams seemed about evenly matched at the start of the game. Midland's line was supposed to be two pounds heavier per man but the Pampans were larger, according to several of the Bulldogs. Coach Jones' promise to make a touchdown the first time we got the ball held true with Midland scoring on the third play after the opening kickoff.

After that, the breaks were all against Midland. Several large gains and one touchdown play were called back because of an offside or backfield in motion penalty. Then too, the Bulldogs had two passes intercepted. One, by Dudley, set up a Pampa touchdown and cut off a Midland scoring drive. That was in the fourth quarter with Pampa leading, 32-26.

Friday the Golden Standstorm from Amarillo will blow into town. It will be the first time Midland has ever played the Sandies. The Amarillo eleven has yet to win a conference game this year, losing to Pampa, 13-7; Abilene, 7-6, and Odessa, 14-0. Despite this unimpressive record, the Sandies have a fine team, as can be shown by the close scores they lost by. In each game the Sandies were dogged by bad breaks. One of these days they will have the breaks on their side. Here's hoping it's not Friday!

The Question Of The Week

Miss Storey: Scream for help.

Grace Boles: Ask it for a Twirp Date.

Judi Le Fever: Heck, I don't know.

Mike McNeil: I would have to run into one to find out.

Ar[illegible]mpbell: I'd stomp it.

Ne[illegible]n: I would turn and run [illegible]er way.

J[illegible]y: I would dance with it.

Bob [illegible]ce: Eat it.

(Editor's note: "Lepidoptra" is the biological name for the butterfly. Our advice is not to run away screaming upon encountering a Lepidoptra, but to catch it and turn it over to the science class.)

Quite a few students in MHS are members of the Civic Music Association. These students are reminded to attend the Anna Maria Ballet which is to be held Sunday afternoon in the Midland High School Auditorium. This is the association's first presentation for the 1952-53 season.

For the information of those teenagers who are interested in literature from other countries, a nice collection of a British magazine called "Punch" may be seen in Miss Perkin's room. "Punch" is comparable to our own "New Yorker."

Evidence that the high school art department has been busy during the last three weeks was seen almost everywhere in town. Posters advertising the Hallowe'en Talent Show which was held Saturday night were seen in almost every place of business. Posters advertising the opera, "Down in the Valley" and "Box and Cox," a short one act play to be presented with the opera, are now prevalent.

Speaking of the opera, work was begun last week on the stage set. The music and art departments are working together on this project.

The Saturday Teen Review presented a preview of the opera over KJBC. Joe Cates also entertained.

SCHOOLING IN AUSTRIA WAS DIFFERENT—

Maria's In Akron Now, But Her Senior Ring Says 'MHS'

By MARY JANE MILLER

Her flashing smile and bright shiny eyes accentuated by a dark complexion are only a few characteristics of this well-liked Austrian.

Maria, her nine-year-old sister, and her father and mother arrived in the United States only nine weeks before school started last year from Salzburg, Austria. After school was out last Spring, they left Midland, and moved to Barberton, Ohio. Maria registered for school there, but attended for only two days because of the subjects offered. She asked the priest if she couldn't attend a Catholic High School in Akron.

There the students are required to wear blue skirts and white blouses to classes. Her subjects include Latin, chemistry, English, typing, religion and study hall.

This is quite different from her subjects in Austria. There she studied religion, German, English, shorthand, cooking, history, chemistry, drawing, writing, botany, arithmetic, knitting and the people and customs of the peoples of the world.

The school hours are the same in Akron as they are here, but while attending school in Austria her hours were from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. during the week, and from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday. Schools in Austria are co-educational, but not the classes.

When asked what she missed most about Midland High School, she said she missed being in the FHA club. As a lot of you know, Maria was vice president of the Midland chapter.

She has ordered her senior ring, and expects to graduate there, although she said she would rather graduate from Midland High School.

During her lunch period the school furnishes music in the gymnasium and she is learning to dance.

Maria said that Midland had a much better football team than the Akron school because they had already lost three games and had won just two.

She said the weather was wet and cold compared to the warm, dry climate of Midland.

While in Midland she amazed her classmates with her ability to talk and write English, which she has studied only one hour a week for one year.

I am sure Maria would enjoy hearing from any of you, so if you have time, why not drop her a line. Her address is: Maria Schieffer, R. D. 9, Box 608, Akron, 19, Ohio.

Midland Schools On Radio Present Numbers By Choir

The A Cappella Choir presented the second program of the Midland Schools on the Air over KJBC Thursday morning. The choir, under the direction of R. C. Michener, recorded the program during class Wednesday and it was a re-broadcast.

Second on the program was "I Wonder as I Wander" with Ruth Ann Rhodes, soloist.

"Rain and the River" followed and then a short sketch of the operetta "Down in the Valley," which will be presented November 6 and 7, in the High School Auditorium, then the main theme was sung. "Almighty God" followed and they closed with the "Benediction."

WE'VE BEEN PEEKIN'

Many MHS students can be seen hiding strange objects in lockers, under books or behind their backs. What could they be? Why, of course, it's their annual pictures which were given out Wednesday and Thursday.

The Reminiscent Reporter

By DON DWIGHT

One year ago Nancy Cooper was named Catoico Queen. Anna Bess Doyle was named Band Sweetheart. Twirp Season was over and all the girls were broke. Elaine Conger was the featured student of the week. The Speech Department presented a trio of one-act plays. Several girls got quite a scare when their car burned up on the way to the Big Spring-Midland football game. The selling of chewing-gum during the noon hour was stopped as a result of negligence with the gum and wrappers. The widespread practice of chewing gum is probably due to its power of getting a foothold everywhere. The civics class tried a pleasant murderer in a fictitious murder case. A pleasant murderer is one who takes life cheerfully. Freddy Bilbo was the junior lion of the week. Grace Boles was given a surprise birthday party, and she really was surprised, too. Pay telephones were placed in the band hall and in the front entrance for the convenience of students. A convenience is what the telephone used to be.

Two years ago preparations were being made to present the junior play, "Growing Pains." That must have been a popular play; it was presented twice here at MHS. A play was presented in assembly on National Book Week. Students observed Fire Prevention Week. "School Days" might have been the theme of the parents who visited MHS during the School Day program. Nowadays it's more like "School Daze" than "School Days." All the students were given eye tests. "The hand is quicker than the eye," which explains why there are so many black eyes. Seniors who wrote the best scientific themes were offered cash prizes and expense-paid trips. The Junior-Senior classes sold more than 5,000 bangles during football season. The last pep rally of the football season was held. Radio programs, a new feature in MHS, were presented.

Three years ago a new fire escape system was explained in assembly. A fire escape is all religion means to some people. Mr. Bohn, the new science teacher, was an answer man. Anybody can be an answer man, because no answer is also an answer. Students enjoyed the long weekend provided by Armistice Day. The DE class sponsored a hobo hop. The Hallowe'en Carnival had a record attendance. One physics student poisoned himself by swallowing copper sulphate. Fortunately, it wasn't fatal. Physics couldn't be as bad as that, could it? Several students who didn't believe in being caught napping were caught napping in class by their teachers. The leading lady in the junior play lost her false hair when it caught on a chair. Oh well, hair today and gone tomorrow.

A Capella Choir Prepares For Two Showings Of Opera

"Down in the valley, valley so low," were the phrases being rehearsed in the auditorium all this week, as the A Cappella Choir moved into the final week of rehearsals. Production nights will be November 6 and 7 in the high school auditorium.

Ruth Ann Rhodes will sing the lead the first night and the second night will feature Sally Breeze.

Brack Weaver, Jennie Parson's lover, will be played by Charles Whitmire, and Robert Stubbeman and Dwayne Chestnut are the preacher and the leader respectively. Roy Thomas plays the part of Thomas Bouche, the influential friend of Jennie Parson's father. The guard is Royce Measures, Dan Ratcliff is Peters, and Steve Thorson is Jennie's father. The two men will be played by Addison Young and John Crowley with Yvonne Shain and Jean Ann Watts as the two women.

The square dancers are Mary Jane Miller, Ray Young, Carol Ann Wilkerson, Stewart Hollingsworth, Theresa Jones, John Crowley, Mary Wynn, Allen McCree. Dan Ratcliff will be the caller for the square dancing.

The words for the opera were written by Arnold Sungaard and Kent Weill wrote the music. G. Schirmer, Inc. has given permission to present the opera.

The story takes place in the hill country of Alabama. Brack Weaver is in jail for the slaying of Thomas Bouche, which was the outcome of a quarrel over Jennie Parsons, who in in love with Brack Weaver. Having received no word from Jennie while in jail, he escapes in order to spend a few hours with her before his death.

The rest of the choir comprise the chorus.

Many MHS Students Hear Nixon Speak On Behalf Of Ike

The fact that teenagers are interested in national affairs was verified last Monday night by the presence of many MHS students at the speech by Senator Richard Nixon's at Midland Air Terminal.

Senator Nixon's speech was to be made at 7:25 p.m., but he and Mrs. Nixon accompanied by his campaign staff arrived by chartered plane approximately 28 minutes later.

After an introduction by Robert C. Stripling, the senator was presented an oil field worker's helmet and gloves. The senator delivered a short address before boarding a special plane for El Paso.

Mrs. Nixon, a blonde, was presented an orchid corsage to adorn her rust colored suit. When asked by this reporter how she and the senator liked Texas, Mrs. Nixon replied, "The Texas people are very friendly and we've had a wonderful time in Texas."—James Johnson.

1,400 Teachers Due At Dallas Convention

Texas will be host to some 1,400 social studies teachers who will be attending the thirty-second annual meeting of the National Council for the Social Studies (NCSS) in Dallas, November 27-29.

Convention activities include a number of meetings to present a point of view in each of the social sciences, meetings to discuss the five fundamental issues in social education common to all levels of instruction, a number of luncheons will be given, and also the real highlights, a banquet and a square dance on November 28.

Club News

The Future Teacher's Club met Monday and divided into committees to discuss the different phases of teaching; the second, the disadvantages of teaching; the third will list the characteristics and qualities needed for a good teacher and the fourth group will look into the preparation required for the different certificates in the teaching field.

At their last meeting the Future Teachers elected their officers for the coming year. They are Nancy Guyton, president; Neil Sutton, vice president; Lois Nell West, secretary; Terry Fuglar, treasurer; Russel Rutledge, parliamentarian, and Mary Wynn, reporter.

The Library Club planned their short plays that will be presented in an assembly later in the month. The members divided into three groups and each chose a novel to work into a 10 or 15 minute skit.

The Thespians discussed their plans for a float to be entered in the Homecoming Parade, November 22. Death Takes a Holiday probably will be chosen as the theme for the annual play.

The Future Homemakers plan a trip to Eldorado to attend the FHA District 5 meeting. They will leave at 5 a.m. Saturday by bus to be at the meeting at 9:30. It will last until 3:30 p.m. and they will return in time to decorate the tables for the Hallowe'en Supper Saturday night.

The Junior Red Cross also is planning to enter a float in the Homecoming Parade. The members are going to make stockings and fill them with candy to take to the Veteran's Hospital at Christmas.

Members of the Bulldog staff, Catoico staff, and the speech classes will attend a workshop in Lubbock on November 8 in the Journalism Building at Texas Tech.

There will be a definite change in the workshop this year. Instead of having speakers predominately, there will be a number of workshop sessions. Every school will be given an opportunity to bring one-act plays, declaimers, debaters, etc. Also the journalism classes will have programs giving attention to photography, printed and mimeographed newspapers, and yearbooks.

The schedule is at 9:30 a general session at the auditorium, then the rest of the day will be given over to workshop sessions of the different activities represented.

Sponsors will be Miss Louise Boyd and Miss Verna Harris.

MANY LOOPHOLES TO BE PLUGGED—

Amarillo Crime Study Sets Long Look Into Liquor Law

By BOB BRAY
Amarillo Globe-Times Reporter

AMARILLO —(AP)— A Lubbock County grand jury reported recently that Texas' dry-county bootleggers probably can best be controlled by effective liquor law enforcement in the wet counties.

The grand jury said bootlegging should be cut off at the wet-country source of supply rather than in the dry county where the goods reaches the consumer.

Under the state Liquor Control Act, agents for the state Liquor Control Board police the wet counties and take administrative action in Austin against offending liquor dealers.

The state House Crime Investigating Committee, which has slated a bootleg liquor probe in Amarillo November 6-7, will study current and proposed means of control. Under present law, officers of the liquor board have two possible means of stopping the flow of bootleg whisky into dry counties.

Can Canel Permits

First, liquor agents can file criminal charges of illegal transportation, possession or sale against offenders, in local courts. Next, under certain circumstances, the board administrator can suspend or cancel the sales permit or liquor dealers supplying the whisky to botleggers.

Neither liquor agents nor liquor dealers agree on what result the Liquor Control Act has on the industry. Some liquor agents say the law is full of loopholes that let liquor and beer dealers dodge prosecution and administrative action.

On the other hand, liquor dealers charge the law gives the liquor boards "gestapo-like power" over their businesses.

The Potter County grand jury, in a recent report on the liquor situation, was inclined to agree with both the agents and the dealers on at least some phases of the law. The jury said the law was obviously inadequate if a major bootleg liquor syndicate could exist without being caught.

Pressure Told

The Potter jury was particularly critical of the wide powers vested with the liquor board. It said the board had authority without parallel in state government. It charged the liquor law put "almost unlimited discretionary power in the hands of a group of persons as few as two and no larger than six."

As an example of political pressures applied to help defend people charged with liquor violations, the jury report referred to a case involving the relative of a state senator. It reported:

"A whisky running prosecution against a relative of a state senator was dismissed at the request of a district supervisor for the board; the violator involved was apprehended by liquor agents while wearing a .38 pistol and driving a car loaded with whisky. The senator's law firm represented the violator in the case."

In another case, the jury said:

"A charge of violation of the liquor act against a hotel night club, in which hotel a high state official is interested, financially was withdrawn by the board in an administrative hearing in Austin."

Agents Complain

Liquor agents complain that the act gives liquor and beer dealers too many loopholes if they violate the law.

One referred to that portion of the act pertaining to sale of intoxicants to minors. "The law charges knowingly sold to a minor," the agent explained. "Therefore if a minor buys intoxicants we are virtually in a position of having to prove the permit holder knew the age of the boy or girl, which is almost impossible to do." He said that if a permit holder "decides to fight such a case," he can almost always beat it.

These and other phases of the law are to come under study by the crime committee in its Amarillo hearings.

Opium Addicts Ask Government Ration

SINGAPORE—(AP)—Relentless police raids on illegal opium dens in this British colony have forced addicts to come into the open and appeal for government distribution of the drug.

Truckloads of police swoop several times a night on some of the estimated 2,000 dens in Chinatown and along the waterfront and riverside districts.

Since the campaign began last July, more than 550 persons have been charged before the courts and 333 have been jailed for smoking, running dens and trafficking in the drug. Smokers get sentences of two weeks imprisonment, the denkeepers and smugglers six months.

The addicts, under the name of the "Opium Smokers Association," appealed to Gov. John F. Nicoll to reintroduce legal opium distribution in the name of "humanity and mercy." The petition added:

A legislative councillor, Dr. C. J. Paglar, asked the government to consider registering the estimated 80,000 addicts here and rationing the drug to them on a diminishing scale.

The Only Cure

There is not much likelihood the Singapore government will consider seriously either suggestion. The colonial secretary, W. L. Blythe, made this statement:

"We are sure depriving addicts of opium is the only certain cure. I cannot agree at this stage that the government should open the opium trade and introduce rationing."

Before the war opium cost $4.30 for one and one-fourth ounces. Now it costs $23 for the same amount. A smoker pays 35 cents for enough to fill a pipe.

PUERTO RICAN HONORS FIGHTING NEIGHBORS—Jaime Marin, of Jayuya, Puerto Rico, honors his fellow townsmen who are fighting in Korea, with this memorial, erected in his restaurant. Jayuya has sent nearly 100 citizens to serve with Puerto Rico's famed 65th Infantry Regiment, which has often been cited by the UN command for its achievements in battle. Marin, above, has just received word of another casualty and is painting a purple heart on the roll of honor.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

BY NORTH CALLAHAN

NEW YORK—Elmo Roper told me at dinner recently that according to his latest poll one-third of the American people still are undecided as to whether they will vote for Stevenson or Eisenhower. A lot of them, as usual, will not vote at all, partly because they are undecided. When kidded about the big bust that pollsters made in 1948, Elmo tried to explain that a lot of things happened then that were not supposed to happen. He predicts (which is not unusual for a pollster) that the experts will not be so wrong this time. Well, in a few days, we shall see. . . .

Jaywalkers this election year are represented by a word in the dictionary—a lot of them also are represented in the morgues. Here in this old town of late, this species who are trying to win the human race, are coming in for considerable attention. A plan is on foot to expedite said species to the nearest hospitals, thus helping, perhaps, the financial deficits of the hospitals and making room in the streets for more jaywalkers. Anyway, black-bordered cards are being printed for these spurious sprinters whose slogan is a breathless, "I just made it!" These cards state on their funereal faces the following: "I am a jaywalker. When I am injured or killed, please send me to one of the following hospitals." There follows a listing of such institutions, plus the county morgue. Plans are for cops to give these cards to the awful offenders.

From a news service comes pictures of the candidates you will vote for Tuesday. This pictured foursome make an interesting study. Eisenhower and Stevenson both are baldheaded, so we might as well make up our minds, we're stuck with a polished-top prexy in the White House, come '53—a sort of ironic consolation to those myriads of us who are losing the upper foliage. Apparently the women like these onion-like open spaces all right too, judging from their pre-election enthusiasm. Sparkman and Nixon both have dark, wavy hair. Now if they can get a law passed permitting them to sponsor hair tonic ads, their pay will be sufficiently supplemented and would not come from the taxpayers money. But I imagine Ike or Adlai would veto such a measure.

That this election is going to the dogs is proven by what is being done by one of the big dog food companies which is cooperating with civic groups in getting out the largest possible vote Tuesday. This canine concern has designed and is distributing special dog blankets which it gives free to owners who will parade their pooch publicly in their communities. On one side of the blanket is the message, "Be Freedom's watch-dog—Vote Nov. 4th." The other side reads, "Vote as you dog-gone please, but VOTE!"

Registration was up only six per cent in New York City, 15 per cent in upstate New York over the 1948 figures. Now this might seem encouraging were it not for the fact the population of this region has increased more than 20 per cent in the last 10 years, meaning that this year there is something like this percentage of new qualified voters. Actually New York City had less registrations than in 1944, the peak year. Let us hope that your community shows an even better record of loyal Americans properly participating in their public affairs.

Not that there is any connection, but election time brings beauty to this village which the English called Gotham. It's only because Fall is a pretty time of the year here, especially at twilight when the lighted windows of skyscrapers brighten up the dusky sky and the animated faces of the homing commuters reflect the radiant glow of the shop windows. Even New Yorkers sometimes stop and look around at this magnificent city in which they spend their hurried lives. Whether one likes the place or not, it must be admitted that it is a constant show, a drama of stone and steel adorned by more human beings than the Lord ever before allowed to get together in one place. Maybe this is why so many folk like to get away from New York. Yet most of them always come back.

ATOMS INTEREST STUDENTS

WINNIPEG, CANADA—(AP)— Dr. W. A. Mackintosh, principal of Queen's University, said here that students nowadays attach more importance to Geiger counters than to great works of literature. He said he is confident the stress on "the practical assets of life" is only a passing phase.

Michigan contains 6,808 miles of railroads.

BEEF SANDWICHED—City life was too much for this steer. After escaping from the Chicago stockyards, he wandered through several stores, was hit by two autos, and finally was captured when he became sandwiched between two buildings. Boys in background are taking no chances on the steer backing up.

WHERE 4,250,000 PERSONS VOTE—

Both Sides Claim Victory In Big Pennsylvania Race

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Talking with Republican and Democratic leaders about the probable result of the November 4 presidential election in Pennsylvania you can't escape the thought they must be discussing two different contests.

Victory is in the bag, say spokesmen on both sides.

Pennsylvania had long been a Republican state until President Franklin D. Roosevelt won in 1936. He carried the state again in 1940 and 1944, each time by smaller margins. Republican Thomas E. Dewey won in 1948 by a solid 149,000 votes.

Both of the state's two biggest cities, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, now have Democratic city governments. The federal payroll in the Keystone State is big. So is the state payroll, directed by a completely Republican state administration.

Ike 53, Adlai 47

Most polls show Republicans ahead in Pennsylvania. Two weeks ago, an Associated Press survey of newspaper editors produced a composite opinion that Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower would receive 53 per cent of the vote had the election been held then, with 47 per cent going to Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

Editorially, most newspapers in the state are pro-Eisenhower. Only four dailies—in Lancaster, Scranton, Erie and Waynesburg—have endorsed Stevenson. Fifty or more, including major newspapers in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, are supporting Eisenhower on their editorial pages.

There is some evidence on how party leaders appraise prospects for Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes in the fact that both presidential nominees, and many other big name campaigners, chose to visit the state in the final week before election.

Three Big Visitors

Eisenhower formally opened his campaign at a giant rally in Philadelphia September 4. He came back for a day-long tour across the state this week and a major speech in Pittsburgh.

Democrats sent President Truman into Pennsylvania for what amounted to three days of whistle-stopping last week. Stevenson chose Thursday and Friday to bid for Pennsylvania.

Republican — National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett says "We'll do better than 1948 — much better. I look for Eisenhower to win by 300,000. It could be as high as 500,000 although I'm not predicting that."

The Labor Vote

Democrat—Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, veteran Democratic national committeeman: "Stevenson will win. We lost the state by only 149,000 four years ago, when Truman got only a small majority in Philadelphia. We'll do a lot better there on Tuesday. Labor is uited behind the Democratic ticket for the first time. John L. Lewis' endorsement and the United Mine Workers' backing will help us a lot in both the anthracite and bituminous areas."

Registration: 3,128,773 Republicans; 2,137,490 Democrats; 74,873 minor parties and non-partisan. The former registration record was 5,104,710 in 1940.
