MISSOURI GOVERNOR FLAYS LYNCHING

Motorists Feel Brunt Of Drive

CONCERTED CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED AGAINST CARELESS DRIVING

As police continued a concerted drive against speeders and other careless motorists, 35 persons had paid fines for traffic law violations in the 20 hours ending at noon today. Thirty of them paid the assessments this morning.

Few of the summonses issued this morning had been received at the station, virtually all the drivers upon whom fines were imposed having been summoned earlier. Of the 35, all except two charged with over-running stop signs, and one making an illegal U-turn, were charged with speeding. The fine for speeding is $5 for the first offense and double that for the second, Sgt. Randolph Rampy said.

Plainclothes men in private automobiles last night at midnight had given tickets to 60 drivers accused of speeding, failing to stop at stop signs, and other offenses.

Speed Limits Set

In connection with its campaign for safe driving, the department yesterday announced that 20 miles an hour would be top speed for trucks within the city limits. Several truck drivers, arrested yesterday, were released after they were informed of the speed limit. Prosecution will follow all arrests starting today, it was said.

Speed limit for automobiles is 30 miles an hour.

Roosevelt Lures Aides For Rest?

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt was accused today by his secretary of agriculture, Henry Wallace, of luring his aides down here for a rest.

Mr. Wallace, one of the administration chieftains who have been fighting the battle for recovery, frankly stated he believed the principal purpose of his visit to Warm Springs was a desire by the president for him to get some relaxation.

The smiling president almost bore it out last night when he remarked to newspapermen at the show given by the patients here that he would like to write tomorrow's story, and added, "I bet you wouldn't carry it."

ESCAPED CONVICT CAPTURED TODAY

Ten months' freedom, which began when he escaped from the Oklahoma penitentiary, ended this morning for H. F. Broders, 37, who was arrested near Idalou by county and state highway patrol officers.

Broders admitted his identity, the sheriff's department said. Sheriff Tom Abel, Deputy Sheriff Baxter Honey, and three state highway patrolmen, John Keller, Jack Reaves, and W. E. Renfrow, took the fugitive convict into custody.

Oklahoma penitentiary records showed Broders received a 10-year sentence in Pottawatomie county for an attempt to kill. He was received at the prison at McAlester, Dec. 31, 1927, subsequently became a trusty, and escaped last Jan. 26.

A $25 reward had been offered for Broders' capture.

The fugitive's daughter was attending a public school and his sister lived at Fort Stockton, the sheriff there reported. Broders, however, eluded officers at Fort Stockton, Oklahoma penitentiary authorities said.

AGREEMENT IN STRIKE MADE

STOCKYARDS WORKERS GO BACK TO JOBS AS PAY BOOSTED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov 20—The strike of approximately 8,000 workmen at the Union stockyards was settled early today, at least temporarily, when the employer organization agreed to a ten per cent wage increase, pending further negotiations. Within a few minutes after the agreement was reached pickets were withdrawn and the strikers started back to their jobs.

A parley, beginning at midnight last night, arranged by Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago and chairman of the Chicago regional board of the NRA, brought about the agreement, which was regarded as a partial victory for the stockyards workers, who had demanded a return to the 1929 wage scale, an increase of about 50 per cent over the pay they have been getting in recent months.

All Men Reemployed

The agreemeent provided among other things that all men are to be reemployed without discrimination, and that while further negotiations are in progress any points on which the affecteed parties are unable to agree are to be submitted to the regional labor board for meditation.

Other points in the agreement provide for the launching of negotiations by the Union Stock Yard and Transit company with representatives of the men for a settlement of points of dispute, and the naming of an arbitrator if steps toward mediation fail.

Strike Threatened By Truck Owners

AMARILLO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Members of the Panhandle Truck Owners' association today notified state highway department officials that they would not use their trucks on highway construction for 50 cents an hour, a wage schedule which will become effective Friday on CWA projects.

Approximately 200 truckers, who will complete their week of 30 hours today, announced at a meeting last night that they would not return to work Monday unless the old schedule of 65 cents an hour is maintained. Such action would throw more than 2,000 hand laborers out of work.

NEGRO HANGED AND BURNED BY CROWD

PARK SAYS ACTION OF MOB NOT JUSTIFIED; PROBE ORDERED

(By The Associated Press)

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 29 — Governor Park in a statement today said that "there is no justification" for the lynching last night of Lloyd Warner, negro, at St. Joseph.

"While it appears from press reports that Lloyd Warner, the negro boy lynched by a mob in St. Joseph last night confessed to a heinous crime, punishable by death, yet there is no justification for the action of the mob."

"Always Wrong"

"Mob violence, whether in the punishment of crime or in attempts to obtain alleged civil rights, is always wrong and is destructive of good government," the chief executive said.

"To condone such an offense is to encourage lawlessness, deny the efficiency of the courts and the power of constituted authorities," he said.

Throughout the night the governor was in close touch with the action of the mob.

He had no comment on the action of any officials in connection with the lynching. He has asked Attorney General Roy McKittrick to make an investigation.

VIOLENCE CLAIMS THIRD VICTIM

(By The Associated Press)

Another lynching was added today to two which preceded it early this week.

A 19-year-old negro was taken from jail in St. Joseph, Mo., and hanged from an elm tree to the cries of "string him up" from a crowd of 7,000, including many women. The crime for which he was under arrest was an attack upon a white girl Sunday night.

After the hanging the body was soaked with gasoline and set afire.

The week's previous lynchings were those at San Jose, California, of two men who had confessed the

FOUR CONSPIRACY CASES REVERSED

AUSTIN, Nov. 29. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today reversed and remanded for new trial a case against W. H. McClelland, L. E. Shultz, E. J. Farnsworth, and A. F. Dargle, convicted in Starr county for conspiracy to murder.

The appellants had been given two years imprisonment in connection with an alleged plot to kill Walter Weaver, T. W. Hooks and Harry Ridgeway. All those involved have been on opposite sides of a political controversy in that section which has been going on for a number of years.

IMPORTERS OF LIQUOR TOLD OF PLANS

FOREIGN BARRIERS TO AMERICAN PRODUCTS MAY BE LOWERED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The government today notified liquor importers it intends to use repeal to bring about a lowering of tariff barriers against American products in foreign countries, through allocation of liquor imports after December 5.

Edward G. Lowry, jr., economic adviser of the treasury department, at the opening of hearings on a proposed government code for importers of beer, wine, and spirits, predicted keen competition among foreign countries to get American liquor business.

This will militate against domestic distillers and brewers.

"Chance For Correction"

Due to "a growth of economic nationalism" in foreign countries in recent years, he said, American products have been discriminated against and the administration feels that through importations of liquor an opportunity is afforded to correct "some of this."

Under the substitute code submitted to the importers, Lowry said this government not only will control volume of liquor imports but also will control "margin of imports."

He explained that up to February 1, the first quotas to the different countries would be alloted by representatives of the secretaries of agriculture and of the treasury.

TWO CHILDREN ARE HURT IN ACCIDENT

Two children were hurt when automobiles driven by their mothers collided about 8:40 o'clock this morning at Eighteenth street and Avenue O.

A Plymouth sedan driven by Mrs. O. L. Peterman, of near Lubbock, northward on Avenue O, and a Nash sedan piloted by Mrs. C. C. Ragland, 1620 Eighteenth street, eastward on Eighteenth street, were in the collision, police reported.

Mrs. Peterman's four-year-old son, who suffered a minor laceration in the region of the right temple, was dismissed after emergency treatment at West Texas hospital.

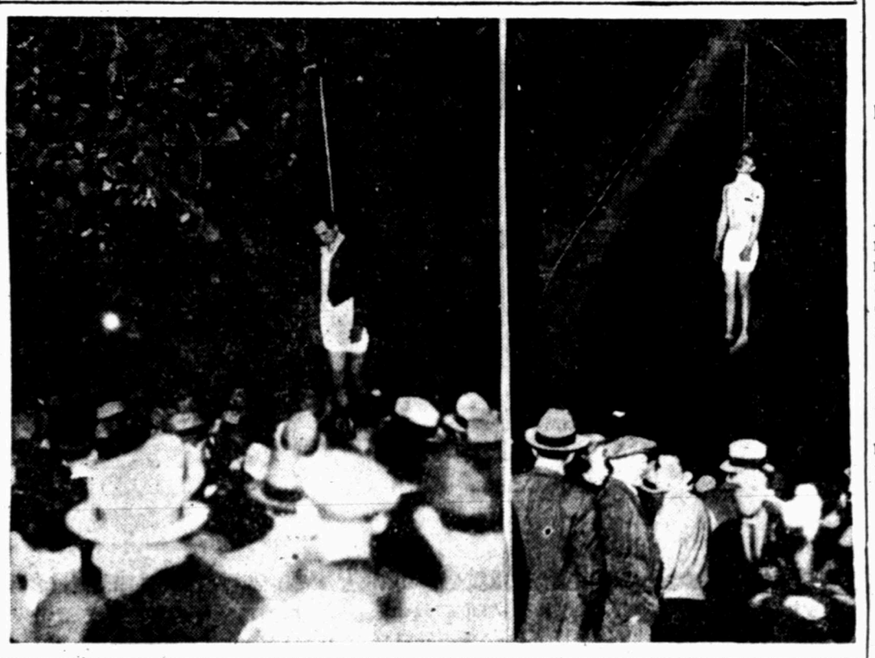

Mrs. Ragland's son, about 10 years old, was hurt. His injuries were not believed to be serious, an incomplete report indicated.

GANG KIDNAPS WRONG MAN

ABDUCTORS GET ONLY $11 INSTEAD OF THE $20,000 DEMANDED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 29—Kidnapers had to be content with $11 today instead of the $20,000 they demanded because police said they made a mistake in identity and abducted the intended victim's chauffeur.

The whole affair was over in two hours last night and aside from disturbing the slumber of Thomas E. Maloy, head of the Motion Picture Operators' union, and costing George Graham, 28, his chauffeur, $11 and some anxious moments it had no other immediate effects.

Seized By Gunmen

However, police said they saw in it an attempt to abduct Maloy himself or his son, a student at Morgan Park Military academy. Graham was seized early in the evening while putting the Maloy automobile in the garage at the rear of the residence on the south side.

He had just returned from driving Mrs. Maloy to Racine, Wis., and she witnessed the kidnaping from the rear door. Several gunmen, she told police, forced the chauffeur into another car.

Later, before he turned up again at the Maloy residence, Maloy himself received several telephone calls demanding $20,000 ransom.

Graham told police he was ridden around the city with his eyes bandaged and was finally taken to what he believed was an apartment hotel. There he said he heard several of the men say something about "getting the wrong man." Several telephone calls were made, he said, before he was taken away, robbed and released.

C. C. MCDONALD ANNOUNCES

WICHITA MAN ENTERS RACE AS CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 29—C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls announced today that he would be a candidate for governor next year.

McDonald long has been a close personal and political friend of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, a former governor.

Supported By Jim

Ferguson supported McDonald against Maury Hughes, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, when it became necessary to select a national committeeman after Jed Adams resigned to become a member of the federal board of tax appeals. Because sentiment among Texas Democrats was divided, Adams withdrew his resignation and remained the Lone Star state's national representative.

McDonald also has been actively interested in the Texas oil industry.

Statement Issued

McDonald issued the following statement:

"To the Democrats of Texas:

"Some time ago it was suggested in the press of the state that Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson would not again become a candidate for governor.

"Since she has now publicly announced her intention to retire, I feel that it will cause no confusion

GROWERS WILL BE PAID FOR REDUCTIONS

PRICES WILL BE FROM LESS THAN $3 TO $18 AN ACRE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The Farm Adjustment administration cotton acreage reduction contract for 1934 and 1935, made public today, provides that cotton growers who agree to reduce will be paid a rental on land taken out of production ranging from slightly less than $3 to $18 an acre.

This was a change in the original plan which called for rental of from $3 to $11 for the land taken out of production.

The farm administration is seeking to reduce cotton acreage next year to 25,000,000 as compared to an average planted area of around 40,000,000 acres.

Allotment Payment Set

In addition to the rentals, producers will be paid not less than one cent per pound on their "domestic allotment."

The domestic allotment is 40 per cent of the average yield of cotton land during the years 1928-1932.

Kansas State Exes To Attend Luncheon

Alumni and other former students of Kansas State Agricultural college, which will send its purple-clad Wildcats against the Texas Tech Matadors here Thanksgiving afternoon, will attend a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. Thursday in the Aztec room of the Hilton hotel.

A. C. (Tex) Magee, a Kansas State graduate of 1924, has charge of arrangements. Mr. Magee said he anticipated "Bo" McMillin, head football coach at Kansas State, and possibly other members of the staff would attend the luncheon.

A. H. Leidigh, dean of the division of agriculture at Texas Technological college, probably will be toastmaster. Dean Leidigh also is a Kansas State alumnus.

K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufactures at the college here, is a former Kansas State graduate student. F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the Technological college architecture department, is a former member of the Kansas State faculty.

JAILER SLAIN IN ESCAPE ATTEMPT

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 29. (AP)—A negro, Benjamin J. Davidson, gave his life to prevent the escape from the Shawnee county jail last night of Cecil Thornbrugh, white, bank and post office robber.

Soon after the 53-year-old negro jailer was slugged and then fatally wounded with his own pistol, a menacing crowd gathered outside the jail and Thornbrugh was hurried to the state penitentiary at Lansing.

Captain George Reid of the Topeka police department, reporting the safe arrival with Thornbrugh at the prison, said the Kansas desperado admitted the shooting of the negro.

The Kansas house of representatives, in special session at the statehouse a few blocks away, approved a measure for the return of capital punishment.

Convicted Former Sheriff Pardoned

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—N. L. Speer, former sheriff of Walker county and one time warden of the penitentiary, who was convicted in Travis county of theft in connection with the collection of fees of office, was given a full pardon by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today.

Speer was convicted last March and sentenced to three years imprisonment.

It was alleged that a warrant issued to Speer exceeded the amount due him by $1,000 and he failed to return the overage.

MAN IS CHARGED IN LONDON WITH AN ATTEMPT TO BLACKMAIL KING GEORGE

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 29—Clarence Guy Gordon Haddon, a middle-aged, well-dressed man, was charged in police court today with an attempt to blackmail King George V.

Haddon told the Scotland Yard inspector who arrested him:

"I do not see why I should be hounded for being the illegitimate son of the duke of Clarence."

The duke of Clarence was the eldest son of King Edward VII, then pince of Wales, and the title became extinct when he died in 1892.

The specific charge in court was that Haddon had written a letter "demanding money from the king with menaces and without reasonable or probable cause."

Haddon replied to the charge:

"I deny that I pleaded for the right to live, as the letters I wrote to the king show."

The hearing was short and was adjourned to Dec. 4 with Haddon remaining in police custody.

The interest was intense, for the case is one of the rarities in which royalty figures in court proceedings. A big crowd besieged the drab building in which so many London prisoners receive their first arraignments.

Haddon said he was 43 years old and a consulting engineer. The hearing, which was con-

HALF MILLION DOLLAR CRIMP PUT IN RENO'S DIVORCE BUSINESS THIS YEAR

(By The Associated Press)

RENO, Nev., Nov. 29 — The depression put a $500,000 crimp in Reno's divorce business this year.

Lawyers, the county treasury, hotels, apartments, dude ranches and restaurants were nicked for about that much, all told, as a result of about a 25 per cent decline in the annual Reno-rush of the unhappily wed.

Last year the divorce courts of "the biggest little city in the world" put 3,105 couples back on the single standard. This year, through November, only about 2,200 had gone through the mill, and December 31 probably will see this number not so very much larger.

Other states and their liberalized divorce laws may have had something to do with the decrease, but most folks hereabout incline to the belief that many who would have come here otherwise just couldn't raise the train fare.

As goes the divorce business so goes Reno. Money is plentiful when the nation's mismated flock her streets. When their numbers dwindle everybody gets it in the neck, including the lawyer, the landlord, the night club operator, the dude ranchers, restaurant owners and keepers, the taxi driver, the county treasury and, even the butcher and the baker.

Here Come The Winter Furs With Many A Fashionable Swirl; Sophistication Is The Slogan For This Year

BY RITA FERRIS
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

PARIS (AP)—Sophistication is the slogan for this winter's coats.

Rich fabrics, luxurious fur trims, unusual colors displayed in the 1933-34 fashion shows tell a tale of tasteful and worldly winter wraps.

Fur trims are the outstanding news in the designs. Foxes swirl about throats, shoulders and backs. Astrakhan and beaver make high collared capes or yokes occasionally extending in points over the top of the sleeves. Otter and lynx trim the side or band hemlines. Sleeves are sometimes made entirely of fur.

Designers have kept a balance in the profile, however. Coats heavily furred at the top are unadorned at the hem and wraps with furred hem-lines generally are simply collared.

Silver, blue and brown foxes, Indian lamb, galyak, astrakhan, seal, panther, otter, mink and sable are all seen. Black furs generally are used on black coats grey or brown pelts on colors.

Soft smooth fabrics such as duvetyn, broadcloth, hairy wools and velvets are the materials used. Colors include a wide range of burgundy and carnation reds, bottle and olive greens, mahogany and cocoa browns, grey, navy blue and wine purple tones. Black is also popular.

Formal models lapping well about the waist generally fit the figure gently, while sports coats hang on a more straightened line and are often belted. Collars, whether large or small, are almost universally high. Sleeves of many models are cut with a deeper armhole reminiscent of a kimono, although the average sleeve fits more closely.

SLEEVES OF BLACK FOX

PARIS (AP)—Black fox sleeves in a short cap design give a striking touch to a black velvet evening frock which Madame Edouard-Renard, bride of the Prefect of the Seine, included in her trousseau. The gown, which is cut on a slender, fitted silhouette, is lined with shell pink satin.

Left-over vegetables can be served in soup, stews, escalloped mixtures, combined with meats or fowl or washed off in warm water, chilled and served as salads.

He's Next

"Who's the gentleman with me? Why that's my fiance," confided dynamic Mary McCormic, happily smiling upward at Harry Bannister, actor. And thus the secret was revealed, just as the camera clicked to take this picture of the couple at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, the other day. Bannister is the former husband of Ann Harding, film star.

CAR HITS TRUCK THEN RUNS INTO CANYON GARAGE

When a Chevrolet coach driven by E. C. Bush of Idalou stopped in a garage Tuesday morning at Canyon community, 8 miles east of Lubbock, it ended a freakish mishap chain which began when the coach was in collision with a truck, from which a woman hurtled.

Barely swerved from its course by the crash, the automobile lunged through the front of a locked garage and catapulted a Plymouth coach through the back of the building.

The accident occurred about 9:30 a. m. at a cross-roads, Jack Reaves, a state highway patrolman, reported. Canyon schoolhouse, an automobile service station, and the garage occupy three corners of the intersection.

A Mexican, Jose Ma Santos, of Poteet, was driving the truck, a Ford-T, southward from the filling station run-way when the coach, piloted eastward by Bush, struck the truck and turned it nearly eastward.

Santos' 28-year-old wife was knocked from the truck by the impact. An attending physician at West Texas hospital said she had suffered a fracture of the first joint of the tail bone, a fracture of a wing of the sacrum, and slight concussion of the brain.

Goes Through Garage

After the collision with the truck, the automobile occupied by Bush crossed a road and went through the front of a garage, its door locked, knocked a car owned by Miss Nell S. Hawthorne, a teacher in Canyon school, through the back of the garage, and stopped. Bush was not hurt.

G. C. Burks owned the car which Bush, who was alone, was driving, Patrolman Reaves said. The highway patrolman, Deputy Sheriff Bedford Carpenter, and Constable Reagan Reed of Slaton investigated the mishap.

Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, is pictured with the Senate Banking and Currency Committee in Washington before which he testified that in 1929 the president of the Prairie Oil Company had received $300,000—a "Santa Claus gift"—from pool profits while negotiations were under way for a merger of that company with Sinclair's own firm. Other members of the committee are R. F. Bayless, representing the school board; Superintendent Duncan; Principal R. W. Matthews of Senior High school, and Carroll Thompson, principal of Junior High school. E. J. (Pinky) Lowrey is business manager of athletics.

BEAUFORT, S. C. (AP)—Herman Von Harten, local fisherman, can call it fisherman's luck. Trawling with his shrimp net he pulled up a round metal ball. Curiosity prompted him to pound it with a hammer. A few blows revealed it was a cannon ball—charged with powder.

LUBBOCK AND SOUTH PLAINS PLAN TO CELEBRATE THANKSGIVING THURSDAY

Many of them sobered enough by adverse circumstances to have a contriteness of heart, akin to that of those pilgrim fathers at the first Thanksgiving in 1621, Lubbock and South Plains folk today prepared to observe Thanksgiving day Thursday.

With business on the upswing, and relief of the needy who want to earn what they receive in view, there was something tangible for which to be thankful. Too, market lists showed a real holiday dinner need not be expensive.

Turkeys, chickens, and pumpkin pies will be the favorites of shoppers as last-minute purchases are made for the feast which traditionally comes on Thanksgiving.

Banks, the postoffice, public offices, and many stores will be closed Thursday. A union service will be conducted at 8 a. m. at First Presbyterian church. Rev. J. O. Haynes, pastor of First Methodist church, will preach, and choirs of city churches will sing. Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of First Christian church, will preside.

All activities except those absolutely necessary will be halted at the postoffice, according to Acting Postmaster M. M. Brown. There will be no deliveries on city or rural mail routes, but there will be the usual holiday pickups of mail at 1 and 6 p. m.

Although directors of Lubbock Retail Merchants association prior to Nov. 11 voted to abandon their schedule of store closing dates, all the merchants present favored closing their businesses Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving services are to be conducted at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Thursday at 11 a. m. The golden text is taken from II Corinthians 4:15—"All things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many rebound to the glory of God." The service is open to the public.

House Rented As Stigma Removed

BELTON, Nov. 29. (AP)—Jeff Murray, negro, has finally rented his tenant house.

A long time ago, according to legend, the body of a negro who played the leading role in a "necktie" party lay in state in the house and negroes since have declined to reside there.

A contractor, however, cut away six feet of the room where the body rested and the stigma thereby was removed.

A negro man then signed up for a long lease.

Lynching Removed From Kidnap Film

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29. (AP)—After concluding that "such a thing would never happen in civilized California," Paramount studio executives recently ruled out a lynching scene in a kidnaping picture that was finished only last Saturday.

The following day an infuriated mob stormed the San Jose jail and lynched John Holmes and Thomas Thurmond, confessed kidnap-killers of Brooke Hart, young San Jose business man.

The scenario was written by Adela Rogers St. John, and adapted from the story by Rupert Hughes. It is laid in California and depicts the kidnaping of a motion picture actress' child. As written, a mob charges a train carrying the kidnap-slayers to San Quentin prison for execution, and hangs them. At the insistence of the executives, the scenario was changed and law and order took its course, the prisoners being sentenced to life imprisonment.

Matadors About Ready For Game

SPYING ON SPORTS
BY COLLIER PARRIS

From North Side High school of Fort Worth, which gave him his start in the rudiments of football, he went to Centre college, a Presbyterian school at Danville, Ky. Going "up" with him were such later notables as Bill James, line coach at Texas U.; Matty Bell, Texas Aggie mentor; Bill Boswell, Sully Montgomery, "Uncle Charley" Moran, Red Roberts, "Humpty" Tanner, et al. If you've followed your football, these names are familiar to you.

At Centre college, as quarterback and spark plug of the nationally famous "Praying Colonels," he became famous. It there that his prowess came under the observation of the late Walter Camp, originator of "All-American" team selections and the last official picker of the All-America teams. Camp named hi mon the All-America team twice. It was largely through his ability that Centre was able to beat Harvard. Later this young man we're talking about took the coaching job at little Geneva college, and coached a team that again defeated Harvard. And Harvard, in those days, was something big to beat. Then he went to Centenary, where he stayed, turning out good teams, until six years ago. Thence to Kansas State, where he has been since 1928. His record there is recent and readable history, which we won't repeat in detail here.

Alvin "Bo" McMillin tonight rides into Lubbock with one of his greatest Kansas State football teams. Tomorrow afternoon he pits his Aggies against Texas Tech's popular Matadors in the final football game, in all probability, we shall see here this season.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY

Tech Matadors, your work for the season is nearly over. You have done tolerable well thus far. You have won most of your games. You have been complimented and congratulated on every side. Your fans expect great things of you. It's up to you, now, to justify their compliments. The coaches have done their work. They're through with you. You face a great opportunity to get up in the football world. Beat a team coached by the man whose previous activities are sketched above, whose team is bigger than you, whose gridders come from a tougher conference, and you're "in." Just play football like you're capable of playing it, and nobody's going to kick—unless they're Aggies from Kansas. You have a fine opportunity to make a name for yourselves in collegiate football, and there'll be a lot of people out there tomorrow to see how you cope with the situation.

NOT A WITHDRAWAL

Another group of hardy gridiron warriors takes . . . . What's this? And how do they get that way? It is announced in the Amarillo print that tomorrow's game between Lubbock and Amarillo on Butler Field will be a District 1 conference game. We plead for a bit of enlightenment. Amarillo announces to the world that its football team has forfeited all its conference games and has withdrawn from the race. Now it announces that the Thanksgiving game will count as a conference tilt; that an Amarillo victory would make the Sandies' standing as follows: Games won, 1; games lost, 3. So their withdrawal was withdrawn, and they're still in the race. It's too deep for us. Here were we snickering up our sleeve that Lubbock had won a moral, if not a physical, victory over Amarillo, since Amarillo's widely publicized "withdrawal from the race" would leave no other way to snicker, apparently. What is a withdrawal, and why isn't it?

Well, that makes it pretty important that Lubbock win the ball game. Maybe the Westerners can turn the trick. That'd be "sumpin'". With Captain Corbitt, the brains and brass of the Amarillo offense and defense out of the lineup, there's a much better chance. If the Westerners will play football like they played against Ranger and Abilene, if they forget all about the traditions of Butler Field and remember that they're playing only eleven high school football players, they might.

HE MUST BE GOOD

This Kopecky fellow must be pretty good at the grappling game. A pupil of Pet Brown, who at one time held some sort of world's championship in wrestling, Kopecky is said to be even better than his old tutor. At any rate, the powers in this wrestling circuit have had their hooks out for Kopecky for a long time, and consider themselves very fortunate indeed to have finally located him and procured his presence.

Kopecky is another of the rough and tough guys, like Sailor Moran and Dutch Mantell. That he is considered pretty much of a such is indicated by certain mysterious circumstances involving his coming to this section. For several months, Cal Farley, uncrowned head of the circuit, has been trying to bring Kopecky to Amarillo for a bout with Sailor Moran, the unbeaten demon from the U. S. navy and Arkansas. Now it is a strange coincidence that Joe come bobbing up just when Sailor Moran leaves town. "Maybe," suggests the Amarillo scribe, "Moran's leaving had something to do with Joe's sudden appearance after local promoters had scoured the whole country for him. Perhaps Moran's disappearance was caused by the news that Kopecky was headed this way."

At any rate, we'll see tonight just what sort of a guy this Kopecky is. He takes on a tough opponent in Sunshine Heinz, who gained considerable prestige last week by defeating that strong man artist, Dick Kanthe. Kanthe returns tonight to meet that fine limbed fellow from Tucson, Andy Tremaine, who believes he's ready to win his first local fight. He has had a run of hard luck in the local ring, but never fails to put on a good exhibition. Fans who saw the vicious Kanthe cut loose with a flock of hay-makers intended for Heinz following the third and decisive fall last week will hurry back tonight hoping to see him cut loose again.

TECH TEAM TO TAPER OFF TODAY FOR THE KANSAS AGGIES

Declaring his team "just about ready" for the final and climactic game of the season, Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech announced that the Matadors would go through the repertoire of plays in "shadow scrimmage" this afternoon as they taper off for the important game with Kansas State tomorrow.

"I believe we're ready to go," stated the Matador head man this morning, "and if it's in us to play decent football, we'll be playing it tomorrow. We're in line for a good beating, but I believe we'll hold 'em to a pretty close score, anyway, and if we do that, I'll say it has been a good job."

Will End Season

The Thanksgiving day game will be the last of the season for Texas Tech and Kansas State, and the final collegiate game for eleven Texas Tech and a dozen or more Kansas State senior gridders.

Tickets for the game will remain on sale throughout today at the J. & J. Sporting Goods store, or as long as they last. Officials anticipate a grandstand sellout long before game time. The tickets will be moved to the Tech Field box offices at 9 o'clock in the morning. Until 6 o'clock this evening, they may be obtained at the sporting goods store.

A gigantic pep rally is booked for tonight, at which time the Tech band and student body will display their musical and vocal abilities respectively, and offer publicly their moral support of the Matadors. A section of the street running by Hotel Lubbock will be roped off, and cheer leaders will direct activities from the hotel balcony. Lubbock townspeople are invited to join in the chorus.

Following the pep rally, the students and all fans so disposed will march to the Santa Fe depot, there to welcome the visitors from Manhattan, Kansas. The train bearing the Aggies is scheduled to arrive at 10:10 o'clock.

Gridders who will be representing Texas Tech in a football uniform for the last time tomorrow are:

Yancy Price, regular fullback, Lubbock; Whacker Barton, regular center, Lubbock; Captain Elva Baker, regular tackle, Abilene; Toby Greer, regular guard, Comanche; Ealy Harris, "shock troops" guard, Ralls; Clarence Young, shock troops tackle, Ralls; Matt Hitchcock, regular end, Lexington; Lefty Sollis, regular halfback, Sherman; Lacy Turner, regular guard, Claude; Aubrey Butts, regular halfback, Waco, and Bennie McWilliams, regular tackle, San Benito.

KANSAS STATE ELEVEN OFF FOR TECH

TWELVE PLAYERS ARE TO PLAY IN LAST GAME AT LUBBOCK

(By The Associated Press)

MANHATTAN, Kas., Nov. 29—The Kansas State football squad left Tuesday for Lubbock, Tex., where the Wildcats will wind up one of their most successful season in years, opposing Texas Tech on Thanksgiving day. Twelve players will be participating in their last college football game for Kansas State. A light workout preceded the departure.

Though second place is the highest the Wildcats have finished, they occupy third in the All-Time Big Six standings, a shade behind the Oklahoma Sooners, who have won 15 games as has Kansas State but have lost only 13, two being checked in the tie column. Kansas State has not played to a tie game in its 30 Big Six encounters, and is the only conference team with that record. In fact Colonel "Bo" McMillin doesn't believe in tie games, and has had only two of them in 12 years of coaching football.

Pleasantly Surprised

McMillin was a much surprised coach when Kansas State and Michigan State played to a scoreless deadlock at East Lansing. In his period at Kansas State the Wildcats have engaged in several important battles which might have been turned into ties had the Wildcats elected to play it that way. Some of them were won by taking a chance and others were lost that way, but McMillin feels that on the whole the best plan is to give the spectators a break by trying to settle the issue, even though in some cases it may have caused the loss of a cinch tie.

Considerable mourning will be occasioned in Aggieville at the passing of the men graduating this season, most of whom started their college football careers with a 10-0 victory over Kansas U. freshmen four years ago this fall.

Senior Backfield

Seldom does a backfield such as the Graham-Bushby-Russell-Morgan-Stoner combination fall to the lot of one Big Six school, and four out of the five members graduate this year, along with H. R. "Doc" Weller and Ray Doll, both senior veterans and capable football men.

In the line the squad loses a half dozen men who have, with the aid of some sophomores and juniors, caused a lot of people to regret the harsh things they said about line prospects at the start of the year. The supposition was that the Wildcats could win this year only by amassing big scores to make up for the weak defense, but the 1933 line has the second best defensive record of the Big Six, and second only by a shade. Nebraska was the only conference team to score on the Wildcats, and the 9 Husker points, three made by a kick, are only two more than the 7 scored against the Huskers by Oklahoma. Six of the eight. K. S. C. opponents have been held scoreless.

Seniors finishing competition are:

Backs—Captain Ralph Graham, El Dorado; Dougal Russell, McDonald, Pa.; Tom Bushby, Belleville; Lee Morgan, Hugoton; Ray Doll, Claflin; H. R. Weller, Olathe.

Plainview Juniors Win Over Cowboys

Coming from behind in the last half to overcome a two-touchdown lead, the Plainview Junior high school Bullpups defeated Coach Mule Davis' Lubbock Junior high school Cowboys, 14 to 12, here yesterday afternoon in the teams' final games of the season.

With Rutledge doing the heavy offensive work, the Cowboys struck twice in the first frames, but failed to convert in each instance.

The Bulldogs came back strong after the half recovered a fumble in Lubbock territory and from here worked the ball down the field for a touchdown. Later in the last period a blocked kick again put the Bulldogs in a nice scoring position with the ball. A dash from the 20 yard line was good for another marker. Both attempts at conversion went squarely between the goal posts.

Basketball, swimming and golf team captains at the University of Iowa in the 1933-34 school year will be appointed for each contest.

Score Of Major Clashes On Thursday To Uphold Thanksgiving Tradition

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Thanksgiving day has lost much of its old glory as an outstanding football date but a score of major games tomorrow will keep the tradition alive.

Except for the intersectional clash at Lincoln between the Nebraska Cornhuskers, Big Six championships, and Oregon State, the program is marked by the renewal of a long series of Turkey day rivalries. Notable among these will be Penn and Cornell, Brown and Colgate in the east; Virginia and North Carolina, Virginia Military and Virginia Poly in the south; Kansas and Missouri in the mid-west; and Texas and Texas A. and M. in the southwest.

Upsets Probable

On no other day of the year, perhaps, is the football dope so liable to be scrambled but on the basis of results to date, the prospects for tomorrow's games line up about like this:

Nebraska-Oregon State—On the basis of their performance against Fordham ten days ago the Beavers from the far west look slightly the stronger but there's considerable doubt whether they can hit that peak again. Nebraska, too, is all but invincible at Lincoln, inspiring a faltering ballot for the Huskers.

Penn-Cornell — Penn would like to close one of its most dismal seasons with a victory over Cornell but the Ithacans, none too successful themselves, will be favorites.

Alabama Favored

Alabama-Vanderbilt — Alabama the choice to win and gain at least a share in the Southeastern title.

Kansas-Missouri — There's nothing whatever in the records to indicate that Missouri can hold the Jayhawks in check.

Colgate-Brown — Despite the defeat by Tulane and the tie with Lafayette, Colgate's Red Raiders loom at least a touchdown better than the Bruins whose only major victory was scored over Syracuse.

St. Mary's-Oregon — The passing attack the Gaels showed against U. C. L. A. last week, plus a sturdy running game, should give Oregon plenty of trouble.

Kentucky-Tennessee—Since Tennessee's early season defeats by Duke and Alabama, the Volunteers have run up 94 points in winning four successive victories and that sort of thing looks much too tough for Kentucky.

Aggies Given Edge

Texas-Texas A. and M.—Comparative scores help not a bit in the quest for the winner here. If there's any advantage in a home field, the edge belongs to A. and M.

Pitt-Carnegie — The Panthers seem to pack too much power for Carnegie.

Kansas State-Texas Tech—Texas Tech's no pushover but Kansas State should win.

Tulsa-Arkansas — A tight battle indicated with the edge apparently belonging to Tulsa's strong eleven.

Oklahoma-Oklahoma A. and M.—Two of the most evenly matched rivals of the day with a narrow edge apparently in A. and M.'s favor.

Parker Is Chosen Centenary Mentor

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 29. (AP)—Curtis Parker, for seven years assistant football coach of Centenary college has been named head coach, to succeed Homer H. Norton, who has resigned. Parker will assume full command in the spring. It is said that his contract calls for two years. Parker is a graduate of the University of Arkansas where he was a star in football and basketball.

KOPECKY WILL TANGLE WITH RED HEINZ

ANOTHER ROUGH NIGHT IN PROSPECT HERE AT AUDITORIUM

Another rough night is in prospect at the Auditorium this evening when Promoter Sled Allen launches his Thanksgiving eve wrestling program.

Joe Kopecky, erstwhile cotton picker of East Texas, now a cosmopolitan grappler of considerable renown, has returned to this section. Tonight he tangles with Lubbock's favorite veteran, Tommy "Sunshine" Heinz, lately of San Diego, in the main, two-out-of-three-fall match, no time limit.

Heinz, who has rung up a remarkable winning record since wrestling opened in Lubbock, will meet his toughest opponent of the season thus far, critics are agreed, and if the light-haired Teuton can beat Kopecky, his reputation will be "made" here.

Tucson Ace Here

Matchmaker Allen also has two other neat bouts scheduled for tonight. Andy Tremaine, the Tucson Thunderbolt, returns to the local ring to display his wonderful physique before Lubbock fans again. Tonight he meets that strong man artist, "Professor" Dick Kanthe of Detroit. It is billed as a one-fall, 30-minute bout.

Tremaine, who has experienced a hard time in his local combats, believes he can toss the strong man tonight. Heinz did the trick last week, after losing the first fall, but he had plenty of trouble doing it. "He's the strongest man for his weight I ever run up against," opined Heinz, "and I've wrestled some tolerable powerful scrappers. He could bend me down to my knees and I couldn't do anything about it."

Post-Bell Battle

After their fight last week, Heinz and Kanthe went to blows to thrill a lingering ringside crowd. Kanthe evidently having become vexed at losing the third and decisive fall. The referee parted them, but not until each had blasted the other quite effectively.

Kopecky, pupil of the once highly popular Pet Brown, has been sought by the local promoter and by Amarillo's promoters. He was located, finally, and brought to this section. He arrived in Amarillo Monday afternoon, displaying the ego and bravado that have made him famous. He drove to West Texas in a new, high-powered automobile, and wore a derby hat—one of the variety made famous by Al Smith.

In Fine Fettle

But derby or no derby, Kopecky appeared to be in fine fettle when he reached Amarillo. Since he was there last winter, he has wrestled in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, New York, Ohio, Missouri and Kansas. He reported he did not suffer one loss on the entire trip.

Kopecky is the same type of fighter that distinguishes Sailor Moran and Dutch Mantell — the rough and ready, tough and tingling.

In a 15-minute preliminary tonight, Lobo Brown of Amarillo meets Dave Reynolds of Borger.

Westerners Off For Sandie Tilt

THURSDAY GAME WILL COUNT IN DISTRICT ONE STANDING

With stout hearts and burning ambitions, the Lubbock High school Westerners departed this morning for Amarillo where on the morrow they tangle with the Amarillo High school Golden Sandies in a feature football game at Butler Field.

A workout is scheduled this afternoon on the historic battlegrounds where the Sandies have never been defeated. It is with anxious desire to break this undefeated record, as well as to stay in the District 1 title race that the Westerners invade the traditional stronghold.

26 Players Make Trip

Coaches Weldon Chapman and Burl Huffman took a squad of 26 men to Amarillo.

"We're going to make it as tough on them as we can," Coach Chapman said at the railroad station this morning. "The odds are against us, but if we play heads up football and get a few breaks we might upset the dope. The boys are in fighting spirit, and if there's anything in that, we won't be so bad off."

Although Amarillo "withdrew" from the schoolboy grid race, having been charged with playing an ineligible man in three conference tilts, the game will count as a District 1 championship game. The Sandies forfeited games to Pampa, Plainview and Borger after beating these teams on the gridiron, but with Captain Corbitt, the ineligible player, out of the lineup, the Sandies are playing for their only legal victory tomorrow.

Pampa Held Eligible

The Pampa Harvesters, to meet Borger tomorrow, were declared eligible yesterday by the District 1 executive committee, meeting in Plainview to determine if one of Pampa's players was eligible. Pampa was protested by Amarillo last week.

Head Coach Chapman was absent from yesterday's tapering off drill, being with Superintendent Duncan at a committee meeting at Plainview, but the Westerners went through a light but spirited workout with particular attention given to pass plays.

The squad is physically in better condition than it has been since the beginning of the campaign. Although a few of the boys are limping a little, Weymond Newton's bruised nose is the most conspicuous injury on the squad.

Tough One, Anyway

Not disposed to be elated over the absence of Captain J. R. Corbitt, supposedly the heart, soul, and gizzard of the Sandstorm attack, the Westerners are going about their preparation with the same seriousness that they displayed before Amarillo was skidded down the percentage column.

Year in and also year out, a long line of fine Lubbock gridsters have gone out with high hopes only to have their hopes dashed. This year they go on the famous field with greater hopes of an upset victory.

Ends: Whitehorn, Griggs, Calhoun, Meador, and G. Jones; tackles: Wimberly, Doherty, Dowell, Speer, White, and Prather; guards: Phillips, Hodges, Barnes, and Aycock; centers: Jenkins and Young; halfbacks: Ryan, Granbury, Haley, and Hiatt; quarters: Simmons and Hale; fullbacks: Newton and Alderson.

When the final gun of the time-keeper signals the close of the game Thanksgiving Day the '33 football season for Tech's Matadors will have been ended. Whether this particular game happens to be won or lost, the Matadors unquestionably have experienced a successful football year. In each and every conflict they have acquitted themselves creditably and honorably—Texas Tech has been ably represented by the Matadors of 1933. Among the scarlet and black clad players who trot from the field Thursday afternoon will be eleven who will have played their last game for Texas Tech. Eleven Matadors will turn in their uniforms—for all time. To them, the doors of college football are closed forever. Baker, Barton, Price, Harris, Sollis, McWilliams, Turner, Greer, Butts, Hitchcock and Young will not again respond to the shrill whistle for the kick-off—no more will they give their every ounce of power to defend Tech's goal. Their college work will soon be ended, and accordingly, their participation on college sports comes to a conclusion. The names of these players are indelibly etched on the scroll of Tech athletics. In the minds and hearts of their fellow players, their opponents, their coaches, their student associates and their "fans". These boys have earned high tribute for clean, unselfish sportsmanship. In the game of Life itself may the same fine success be theirs!

ALL-STARS OF BIG TEN ARE ANNOUNCED

MICHIGAN HAS FOUR BALL PLAYERS ON MYTHICAL TEAM

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Out of probably the closest race for individual honors in a decade, the outstanding aces of Michigan, Iowa, Purdue, Minnesota, and Ohio State won berths on the 1933 all-star Big Ten football team as selected by the Associated Press with the assistance of coaches, officials and critics, who saw every player in action this fall.

Michigan, undefeated champion of a league recognized as one of the toughest in college football, led the way by placing four of its stars on the first team. Iowa, Minnesota, and Purdue each placed two while Ohio State landed a repeater from the 1932 all-star aggregation.

One Choice Unanimous

The only unanimous choice was Francis Wistert, Michigan's 6 foot 1-2 inch tackle. His teammate, Charles Bernard, missed joining him as a unanimous choice when one coach placed him on the second team.

The closest race involved the quarterback position, which Joe Laws of Iowa, leading scorer in Big Ten games this year, won by a single point over Jack Beynon, field general and forward passing wizard from Illinois.

First and second all-star Big Ten football teams for 1933 selected by the Associated Press:

MITCHELL'S CAFE WINS FINAL GAME FOR INDOOR FLAG

The Mitchell's Cafe nine defeated Avalanche-Journal, 15 to 6, last night to win the championship of the Lubbock Indoor baseball league and bring the schedule to a close.

Pitcher Richard Godeke, working his fourth straight game in seven days, tossed remarkable baseball last night to limit the Publishers to a minimum of hits while striking out thirteen batsmen. In each of the first, third and sixth innings, he retired the opposing side with strike outs.

Wind Up Season

The game was the second and decisive of a scheduled three-game series a la "Shaughnessy" system play - off. The Hashers defeated the Lydick Roofers in the first series last week, while the Publishers were eliminating the J. & J. Sporting Goods company team.

On Monday night, the Hashers defeated the Publishers, 36 to 13, in a wild scoring contest.

Off to a five-run lead in the first inning, the Mitchellmen added three more in the second, one in the third and six in the sixth inning. A seventh-inning rally by the Publishers netted only two runs. The Publishers had scored twice in the first, once in the third and once in the fifth.

The lineups:

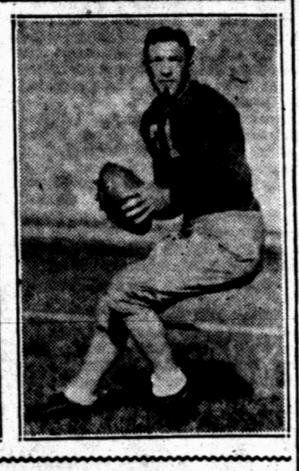

Mitchell's Cafe — Woods, lf; Knight, cf; Allen, 3b; H. Godeke, 1b; Brock, 2b; Montgomery, ss; McElleroy, rf; R. Godeke, p, and Bundrant, c.

BIG SHOTS OF KANSAS STATE TEAM

Below are pictured two of the big guns in Coach Bo McMillin's Kansas State team which invades Lubbock tonight and meets Texas Tech's Matadors tomorrow. At the left is that fleet-footed runner and ace kicker, Dougal Russell, the star against the University of Oklahoma a couple of weeks ago when the Aggies clinched second place in the Big Six. Russell plays a halfback position. At the right, Kansas State's great passer, Lee Morgan, who divides time between a halfback slot and an end position. He does nearly all of the Aggie passing, and the Aggies have completed 54 out of 107 passes this season.

PRINCETON WILL NOT BE ELIGIBLE FOR ROSE BOWL

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 29. (AP)—Citing a clause in the Yale-Princeton agreement of 1927 which forbids the playing of post-season contests, the board of control of the Princeton athletic association announced the undefeated Tiger eleven would not be available for selection as Stanford's opponent in the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena New Year's day.

The announcement came as a distinct surprise in view of intimations from Princeton earlier that any invitation to compete at Pasadena would receve serious consideration in the event the Tigers defeated Yale on Saturday.

Tuesday, however, the board reaffirmed its policy against post-season games on the ground that "a prolongation of the Princeton football season beyond its normal limits would not be for the best interests of the players or the sport at Princeton."

AGGIES CLASH WITH STEERS IN CLASSIC

BATTLE MAY BE LAST FOR COACHES BELL AND LITTLEFIELD

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 29 (AP)—The annual Southwest conference football classic—the University of Texas against Texas A. and M.—will be played here tomorrow afternoon. Twenty thousand persons are expected.

The Longhorns are completely out of the conference championship race. The Aggies have a slender chance providing the athletic committee of the conference makes Arkansas forfeit the championship because of the ineligibility of "Heinie" Schlueter.

Always Colorful

But it never matters where these two teams stand in the percentage column—their game is always the most colorful of the conference campaign, and other conference members do not play on Thanksgiving day in order to give the Longhorns and Aggies their gala day without competition.

It will be the last time that Coach Madison Bell will send the Texas Aggies on the field. His resignation was received several weeks ago. It may be the last "fight talk" for Coach Clyde Littlefield of Texas who has announced he will not fight to retain his job. There have been rumors that he would be released at the conclusion of this season.

Curtain Drops Saturday

Tomorrow's game will be the semi-final for conference competition. The curtain will drop Saturday when Southern Methodist plays Texas Christian at Fort Worth, and Rice institute invades Waco to compete against Baylor.

After all the games have been played, the conference athletic committee will meet at Dallas on December 9 to award the championship.

Several players will make supreme bids for all-conference recognition tomorrow. Frenchy Domingue, fleet quarterback; Cummings, husky tackle, and Spencer, giant fullback, are three A. and M. candidates Bohn Hilliard, slippery halfback and one of the conference's leading scorers; Charles Coates, tackle, and Bill Smith, center, are prominent Texas candidates.

Cannell Quits As Dartmouth Mentor

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 29. (AP)—Jackson Cannell yesterday resigned as head coach of the Dartmouth varsity football team.

Cannell, however, has a contract that does not expire until after the 1934 season and it can be terminated only by the Dartmouth athletic council, which does not meet until Dec. 17. He served as head coach during the past five seasons as well as in 1921 and 1922.

Capt. Ralph Graham of the Kansas State college football team is a tough line-cracker on the football field and also stars in varsity basketball and tennis.

B. Henderson of Austin, director of the interscholastic league, after it was discovered that both San Saba and Winters had played the limit of ten games without a playoff game in district thirteen.

Schools Will Flip A Coin For Title

SAN SABA, Nov. 29. (AP)—Officials of the San Saba and Winters High schools will flip a coin at Brownwood today to determine the district thirteen winner in the interscholastic league high school football race, W. M. Campbell, superintendent of San Saba schools, announced.

He said that method of deciding the race was decided upon by Roy

MATADOR TO MEET LAMESA THURSDAY

MATADOR, Nov. 29 (Special)—Extensive plans are being made here this week for a gala Thanksgiving day celebration and a district championship football game between Matador and Lamesa High schools.

With the Class B grid title of District 2 in the Texas Interscholastic league race at stake, the Bullfighters and Golden Tornadoes will meet on the local field Thursday afternoon with what promises to be the largest crowd of the season looking on.

The Golden Tornado has plummeted its way through all opposition in its class this year defeating Spur two weeks ago for the title in the northern half of the district. The Bullfighters have an equally sensational record this fall, and their two star ball-carriers Buram and Pyron behind a sturdy forward wall has bowled over every class B team met thus far.

A large crowd that possibly may hit the 4,000 mark is anticipated for the important tilt.

About 300,000 stock fish were placed in Lake Brownwood, a newly created Texas lake, last summer.

Steve Sabol, North Carolina State College center, was credited with 240 minutes of uninterrupted playing in the first four games of the season.

ALL-SOUTHERN TEAM CHOSEN

AGGRESSIVE LINE AND SPEEDY BUT LIGHT BACKFIELD NAMED

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 29. (AP)—An aggressive and fast charging line with ample poundage from flank to flank and a speedy but surprisingly light backfield compose the All-Southern conference football team for 1933 named in a vote conducted among coaches, officials and critics by the Associated Press.

Scoring two points for first team selections and one point for second choices, the first eleven is composed of:

Ends—Tom Rogers, Duke, 45 votes; Warden Hengri, Virginia Tech, 23. Tackles—Fred Crawford, Duke, 60; Ray Burger, Virginia, 31. Guards—Amos Bolen, Washington & Lee, 32; George Barclay, North Carolina, 50. Center—Eugene Wager, Virginia, 17. Quarterback: Horace Hendrickson, Duke, 33. Halfbacks—Earl Clary, South Carolina, 47; Alfred Casey, Virginia Tech, 40. Fullback—Bob Cox, Duke, 33.

Fred Feary, heavyweight boxing representative of the United States in the 1932 Olympic Games, has won 13 straight bouts since turning professional in Stockton, Cal.

Washington university of St. Louis will choose its 1933 football captain at the end of the season from among nine single-game leaders named by Coach Chile Walsh.

Thought For Today

Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.—I Corinthians, 9:14.

* * *

Inheritance Tax

One of the unpleasant jobs Uncle Sam will have to take on in the near future is the task of finding new ways to get money.

Nobody likes the idea of higher taxes. Nobody denies that a mounting tax rate is bad for business. Nobody, rich or poor, gets any particular kick out of paying his taxes.

But nobody, on the other hand, can look at the vast sums that are being spent these days without realizing that some new sources of revenue will be necessary in the not-distant future.

Never before, save in war time, has the government spent at its present rate. This money can't be plucked out of thin air.

All of which brings us up to the latest declaration of Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, who urges a heavy stiffening of the inheritance tax by the next Congress.

Here is an idea which cuts two ways. Not only would it provide the government with badly needed money; it could be made into a weapon to promote that more equitable distribution of wealth which seems to be one of the goals of the era now beginning.

In considering an inheritance tax, it would be well to get a clear picture of the exact nature of the things it would be expected to accomplish.

"Such law," remarks Senator Norris, "should allow a liberal exemption—an exemption even large enough so that the beneficiary might live the remainder of his life in luxury—and then it should be increased by progressive steps so that the residue of the fortune would be passed back to the people through this method of taxation, and thus be returned to the government."

Every man who manages to lay aside a little surplus has the right to seek to provide for his children. That should be possible, under even the stiffest sort of inheritance tax law.

But the idea of preserving a vast fortune intact through generation after generation, and preserving with it the great power that goes with extreme wealth, handing wealth and power down to those who have done nothing to earn them—that is something else again, and we properly can keep it in mind in framing our law."

There need not be any "soak the rich" tinge to such a step. Uncle Sam needs every dime he can get; the country as a whole needs to do something about the congealing of great wealth in the hands of a fortunately born few. Both goals can be reached through sane revision of the inheritance tax.

Russia is raising ostriches for food. Think how tough it would be if the carver passed you the neck.

The strongest men in history never have been silent, says a noted diplomat. Consider what a powerful man Huey Long must be.

Sleeping sickness has attacked horses in Texas. That must have been the trouble with the last one we bet on.

The least intelligent fish are those found in schools, says a piscatorial expert. But it wouldn't take an expert to figure that one out during the football season.

That Girl on Broadway says if a woman's in style you may be sure she's in little else.

Maybe figures don't lie, but it's remarkable how many different kinds of business statistics you can get now-a-days.

If you like music, gorgeous spectacles and a good plot thrown in, don't fail to see 'Footlight Parade', playing its last first run engagement at the Lindsey today.

The Plainsman thought 'Forty-Second Street' and 'Gold Diggers of 1933' were great—and they were. But 'Footlight Parade' is greater, far more encompassing and, on the whole, better.

It has no number quite as good as 'The Forgotten Man', in 'Gold Diggers'. No talking picture likely will equal that timely feature in many a moon.

But it has a number of others almost as good and reaches a new high in screen entertainment.

Just how the 'idea' men of Hollywood think of so many outstanding features is little short of a miracle.

With each succeeding success it appears to the layman that every possible phase of entertainment has been exhausted.

Then along comes a new picture, better than ever.

It is a salutation to ingenuity.

CLOSE to the heights to which the invention of radio has risen is the heights reached by the talking picture.

Not only has it brought the finest of Broadway plays to main street the nation over. It has brought productions even larger and more lavish than Broadway can produce and operate.

Aside from furnishing the run-of-the-mine entertainment for millions of pleasure-seekers, the talking picture in the depression era must be accredited with furnishing many happy hours of surcease from the tribulations of the day to those near the breaking point from adversities.

It is a triumph of the age—the talking picture.

You never find true religion and bad manners in the same individual.

That Man on Avenue Q says many a fellow who thinks he has a lot of troubles would forget them all if he had a tooth ache.

IN this festive Thanksgiving period, while we are pausing to give thanks for whatever we have that we might not have, let us not forget to be thankful that state politics has taken a new twist.

The fact that Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson will not be a candidate to succeed herself is worthy of statewide gratitude on the part of all Texans, whether pro or anti-Ferguson. It opens the way for a regeneration of Texas politics—something that has been a crying need for many a year.

As has been suggested many times before in this column, Texas needs to get away from the 'rings'—both of them—which have dominated public office within the state.

Both the Ferguson and the Moody-Sterling groups should be junked and with them the time-worn prejudices which have so long been permitted to cloud the real issues.

Withdrawal of Jim Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson from the state political lists offers an opportunity for a reorganization, even if Jim, as many believe he will, runs for the United States senate.

THE gubernatorial field is likely to be crowded with aspirants next summer and from the list it should be possible to elect a man to govern rather than, as has been the case for so many years, elect a man who is 'with the right bunch'.

The average voter is sick and tired of trying to decide which is 'the right bunch'—or, more correctly, which is the lesser of two evils. He wants to vote for a man who is able, brave, clean and honest instead of for this, that or the other 'ring'.

Among those most likely to aspire for the governorship are James V. Allred and Tom Hunter, of Wichita Falls; Edgar Witt and Lawrence Westbrook, of Waco; Clint Small, of Amarillo, and, possibly, Walter Cline, also of Wichita Falls.

There is also a rumor going the rounds that the Ferguson toga may be transferred to the shoulders of Charlie McDonald, Wichita Falls, or T. H. McGregor, Austin, both long time Ferguson henchmen and the latter Jim Ferguson's law partner for many years. Neither, however, can command the Ferguson vote en bloc and cannot be taken any more seriously than if they did not have the approval of the present administration.

Coke Stevenson, speaker of the house in the last legislature, is definitely out of the gubernatorial picture, he having decided to run for Congress from the newly formed district of which his Junction home is a part.

PROBABLY other names will be added to the list before campaign time runs around but by and large, at the present, the above named gentlemen consist of the choice.

Texas, which takes its politics in a desperately serious manner, has a good era coming up if you like that sort of thing.

The set up will bear watching—and thinking about from now until next July.

Hush-Hush Policy Which Has Been Creeping Out Here And There In Administration Is Worrying New Deal's Friends

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
The Evening Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.— That hush-hush policy which has been cropping out here and there in the administration worries some of the New Deal's warmest friends.

Censorship, suppression, gag rule—officials suffering from "jitters" resort to them just when the administration comes under fire and many of its policies are questioned.

Dutcher

Calmer officials, more philosophic, think it's too bad. Some regard it as significant of weakness.

Irritation over "leaks" has been evident in the emergency agencies for many weeks, especially in the NRA, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and Public Works Administration. Secretary Ickes and Solicitor Margold of the Interior Department imposed a gag rule to prevent subordinate officials from talking to newspapermen. The order was rescinded after vigorous protest.

Lid Jammed On

President Roosevelt and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins began to play up pleasant figures and play down disagreeable ones. An order went out restricting the interpretation of statistics to the new Central Statistical Board, threatening the usefulness of dozens of government publications.

First result came sensationally when the Federal Reserve Board abandoned its monthly analysis of business and financial conditions.

Then Acting Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., ordered treasury officials to give no information to newspapermen. News, views, and interpretations must come from him or his publicity agent. He denies, however, that this is censorship.

All of which appear to have Mr. Roosevelt's approval. No one knows how far it's going to go.

Leaks Everywhere

This has been the "leakiest" administration anyone remembers. That's the reason behind the irritation and censorship and also the reason why censorship won't work.

The New Deal lineup is full of communicative liberals and objective, non-political experts, who don't mind talking frankly to their friends—including correspondents.

Many of them were hollering against fact suppression during the Hoover administration. It will be hard to bottle them up.

Government agencies have their own publicity men working directly under department or administration heads. But correspondents get much out of their news unofficially, from gents who don't want to be quoted.

Frankness Vanishing

The pleasant atmosphere of almost complete frankness which characterized the whole administration—except the Department of Justice—in its first few months, is disappearing.

The reasons are understandable. Plenty of unfair propaganda has been directly lately at the administration. Dissension in the administration quickly has become public property.

Unpalatable facts came to the surface. And the White House itself was irritated when treasury and federal reserve officials allowed it to become known that they were good and sour on the new gold policy.

Undersecretary Dean Acheson's retirement was one result of the irritation.

Roosevelt and members of his official family still are amiable and relatively frank at press conferences. But the more effective censorship becomes, the less likely are correspondents to have information-inspiring questions, the answers to which might be disagreeable.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

READER URGES PUBLICITY FOR TEXAS TECH

Dear Plainsman: Texas Tech deserves a place in the Southwest conference. This statement of a fact brings to mind the late Knute Rockne, first man of big-time football. Rockne believed in instilling a fervor pitch fighting spirit in his players before entering a game. Tech's Pete Cawthon has been successful in establishing winning teams, whether it be by the "spirit" method, or by a thorough grounding in the basic fundamentals of the game. Results is the answer the pragmatist desires, and Cawthon has produced.

The question is now, what other team-mate is failing to produce? Let us take to task the publicity department of the college, as well as the local newspaper for not "playing up" Texas Tech. The newspaper, and copy men out at Tech need a coach to push them on to bigger and better banners. This grandstand coach takes it upon himself to give them a pep talk Rockne style:

"Boys, you are going into the game. We want results, not alibis. Get your typewriters going full speed. Dash off reams of copy. Flood the down-state papers with so many facts about Tech that we will even permit you to exaggerate a little. Get into print for Tech. Fight! Remember to watch those passes, and when they make one at you, catch it and turn it into a boomerang. And when you catch that pass, make them weaken; you are on the offense then, and hurl additional passes and phrases until you score. And that score just calls for another score. Bury them under an avalanche of words. Make them eat their own phrases. Awaken the state to the fact that Texas Tech is the ONE logical college to be added to the Southwest conference."

The idea behind it all is that an intensive campaign should be entered into, with Southwest conference membership the final victory. Alumni of the college should deluge the state papers with requests that Tech be admitted to the conference. Every charge that might be made by the down-staters should be answered and converted into a touchdown for Tech. Get into action, Plainsman!

Sincerely yours,
Franz A. Finberg,
Columbia Univ. '28.

(Dear Mr. Finberg: Your suggestion to make the state Tech-minded' as regards the Southwest conference is good although under present conditions nothing short of a miracle can accomplish the goal of getting Tech into the Southwest conference, where most of us think it should be and will, eventually, be. As to publicity for the college, that is strictly a matter for the college publicity bureau. Working agreements between Lubbock and down-state newspapers are based entirely upon dissemination of news matter and do not cover publicity. Thanks for your letter. The Plainsman.)

ONE FROM NEW YORK

Dear Plainsman: It has been a long time since you have heard from me, but I'm writing you about something I found in the Syracuse Journal yesterday. It is about the statement that Mr. A. B. Davis sent to the N. R. A. I didn't doubt it much, however. That is a pretty good advertisement for the "Hub of the Plains", and I am very glad to hear that things are good there for I'll always call Lubbock my home town.

After traveling around here and there for some time I landed up here in New York state at Hamilton—as you know, the home of Colgate university. I like this little place, and the climate, and the people. Colgate is a fine school and has a good football team. But I'm sure you know all about the footballers.

I get the Sunday Avalanche-Journal each Tuesday morning and enjoy it very much. I even read Collier Parris' column which I never did before.

Here's wishing still better business for Lubbock and the health and happiness for all its citizens.

Yours sincerely,
David Powell,

With 'Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Nov. 29. (AP)—Dr. A. C. Scott of Temple is an institution in this state, most persons will affirm. He has a great "institution" himself in the hospital he directs there. It is one of Temple's institutions and one of Texas' institutions. Dr. Scott, being professionally ethical, would probably scold if he knew these lines were being typed.

The managing editors of the Associated Press in Texas of whom there are nearly 100, held their annual conference in Temple. Dr. Scott was hospitable to them. He was one of the givers of a banquet, which was attended also by his daughter and Dr. A. C. Scott, jr., as well as many of the doctors and surgeons on Dr. Scott's staff. It was fine recognition from Dr. Scott.

Is Civic Booster

The reason Dr. Scott entertained the editors was his desire to "sell" Temple to them. He is a civic builder; a worker in the cause of town-building. He has succeeded in the Bell county metropolis.

Dr. Scott has a "cabin" a few paces from the main street. It is an attractive structure of logs when he hibernates at intervals to read medical books on cases that concern him and his patients. He goes there also for relaxation, light reading, sleep and meditation. Mrs. Scott goes along at times. There isn't a telephone on the premises. There are wonderful old oaks on the grounds and a swing—wide of seat and high of back—under one of the most venerable and sturdy of the trees.

Has Stone Collection

In the cabin is a mantlepiece in which are set a collection of pretty and rare stones he gathered in his travels to many countries—Ireland, England, Scotland, Mexico and others. They are green, red, yellow, white, pink, every color and mixture of colors. He knows exactly where he obtained each.

Flashlight in hand he described individually those stones and rocks. There must be more than 100 of them, all different, and each with an interesting history. He recalls how he came into possession of every one. In most cases he hunted them out himself. Some of the nation's most renowned surgeons, writers, lecturers, and travelers contributed others. Some of those rocks and stones are used for making medicines of efficacy, he explained.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Cotton opened somewhat firmer today. Liverpool cables were a trifle better than due, sterling advanced and gold gained 8 cents. First trades here were 7 to 8 points up and the market continued to improve slightly after the start, March trading at 10.04 and May at 10.18, or 8 to 9 points above yesterday's close.

At the end of the first half hour the market was steady and one point under the highs.

Owing to tomorrow's holiday, trading was light.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 5 to 10 points advance on steady cables, the advance in the government gold price and higher foreign exchange. Dec. 9.80; Jan. 9.93; March 10.08; May 10.21; July 10.35; Oct. 10.54.

Trading was moderately active at the start. There was a little hedging in the later months and some liquidation of December brought out by the issuance of a few additional notices but offerings were readily absorbed and the market held steady during the first half hour. December worked up to 9.84 and May to 10.33, making net advances of 8 to 10 points on the active positions. There was some early buying through houses with continental and Liverpool connections and a few selling orders from the far east.

Trading was quiet later in the morning and prices held steady within a narrow range. Traders appeared to find little in the news to stimulate operations in advance of tomorrow's holiday and the market at midday was dull at net advances of about 3 to 6 points.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Brisk jumps in grain values took place early today following a new hoist of the Washington quotation on gold. Action of the Argentine government in appointing a grain regulation board empowered to buy wheat at fixed prices was also construed as bullish.

Opening 1 1-8 to 1 3-4 higher, wheat afterward rose further. Corn started 1-2 to 1 cent up, and subsequently held near the initial limits.

situation for several years estimated today that on the average each divorce seeker spends around $500 during his six-weeks stay in Reno.

Many, of course, spend considerably less than that, but there are those among the wealthy who scattered the sheckels broadcast during their brief residence. Attorneys' fees for some mount into four figures, while few of Reno's 130 lawyers will accept less than $150 from a client even though the work involved might as easily be done by the office Gertie.

Suspect Is Caught Soon After Robbery

SUDAN, Nov. 29 (Special)—A suspect was arrested by City Marshal C. E. Luce and Constable E. L. Weldon and the $29 lost returned to the owner within three hours after the Nichols store at Beck's gin, southwest of here, was robbed recently.

The arrest was made five miles south of the gin. The suspect is said to be facing a suspended sentence in Colorado. Mr. Nichols a few days before the robbery, missed his store key, but, having another one, did not get another lock.

During his absence for supper the store was entered and the money taken. The key was left in the door.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Stocks limped through a typical preholiday routine today with most of the sleepy-toned leaders ignoring market influences.

The domestic gold rate was boosted eight cents an ounce to $33.93 and sterling jumped about 6 cents. French francs also firmed several points. In the early afternoon, however, both these currencies had yielded most of their gains. Metal equities firmed in response to the gold advance, and a number of other improved moderately, but there was no buoyancy in any category. The ticker tape was silent for minutes at a time. Wheat got up a cent a bushel and cotton again improved. Silver was in demand. U. S. government securities and prime investment bonds sagged.

On an unusually small turnover, shares of U. S. Smelting showed a gain of 2 points and McIntyre, Dome, American Smelting and Cerro De Pasco were up about 1 each. Other gainers of around a point included Allied Chemical, Du Pont, U. S. Steel, American Can, Case, Sears Roebuck, Chrysler, Columbian Carbon, Goodyear, N. Y. Central, Santa Fe, and Pennsylvania. American Telephone was about unchanged.

Ross, hotel proprietor, offered testimony regarding the condition of Boaz and his two companions and their surroundings immediately following a brawl in a local hotel room.

Boaz, who once was convicted at Dallas on a manslaughter charge, testified yesterday that his companions, M. L. May and James McCauley of Wichita Falls, stabbed each other while he was trying to separate them. May and McCauley had previously testified that Boaz slashed them with a butcher knife.

MOB VIOLENCE ADDS THIRD VICTIM IN WEEK AS NEGRO ATTACKER IS HANGED

kidnaping and murder of Brooke Hart.

Echoes of still another lynching were heard from Maryland where efforts were made today to release by habeas corpus proceedings four men arrested by state soldiers yesterday. The four are charged with participating in the lynching of a negro several weeks ago.

LYNCH LAW TAKES LIFE OF ATTACKER

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 29 (AP)—Lynch law has settled the case of Lloyd Warner, confessed attacker of two women.

The 19-year-old negro died in flames at the end of a rope last night before the eyes of a mob of 7,000 which battered its way through national guardsmen and peace officers to seize him in the Buchanan county jail.

Body Set Afire

Warner was hanged to an elm tree near the courthouse, drenched with gasoline and set afire. Women and children watched him die. Some were friends of the white girl of 21, who, officers said, Warner assaulted in an alleyway here Sunday night.

"String him up," shouted from many throats, drowned out the last attempt of the muscular young negro to speak.

Terror-stricken and stripped to the waist, he was pulled from a third floor cell by four young members of the mob, beaten, kicked and cursed.

"I'm a fighting Dutchman," said Sheriff Otto Theisen, 60, "but there are too many Irishmen here for me."

Tear Gas Used

Tear gas fumes, remnant of the defense of forty city and county officers and the hastily mobilized members of the 35th tank company, Missouri National Guard, floated on the stairway down which the negro was dragged to death.

He was hanged and burned about a block from the jail after impatient members of the throng decided against a plan to lynch him at the scene of the assault, a mile away.

The girl victim of the attack, waylaid on her way home from a motion picture theater, was reported near hysteria. Battered and bruised by her assailant, she was found in the alley tied with her own stockings.

Second He Attacked

Officers said she was the second woman Warner had attacked. He was accused of assaulting a negro girl six months ago, but there was no prosecution.

Machines were called into play for both the offense and defense in the jail warfare, started soon after dusk with the hurling of stones and a vain attempt to break in the front door with a 5-inch pipe as a battering ram.

Officers scattered the crowd with tear gas.

Governor Guy B. Park ordered out the tank company.

The mob obtained a truck and moved it around to the grilled back door. A chain was attached and the truck took the door away. A tank driver who failed to close a door of his vehicle securely was hauled out and interned. The tank went out of action.

Sheriff Draws Gun

Sheriff Theisen drew a revolver as the mob started in. He held the leaders at bay momentarily. They brushed past him as tear gas fogged the corridor.

Police and sheriff's deputies battled hand to hand with the crowd, but were pressed back by the heavy odds. Tear gas bombs exploded at intervals. A few wild shots were fired.

State highway patrol headquarters appealed to northwest Missouri peace officers to "rush all available men to St. Joseph."

The mob had won, however, before reinforcements arrived.

The noose was placed on Warner's neck, gasoline obtained from a nearby filling station was hurled upon his trousers and a torch was applied. Later men built a fire beneath the body. The flames burned the rope and the body fell upon the embers.

At 1:05 a. m. Fire Chief Leo J. Urbanski drove to the scene and extinguished the fire. The body was taken to an undertaking establishment.

Tried To Plead Guilty

Officers said Warner sought to plead guilty yesterday to the assault charge. Judge J. V. Gaddy, however, directed postponement of the case until today.

"I don't want to rush things," he said.

Governor Park declined to comment on the lynching.

The jail wrecked last night three years ago withstood the assault of a mob seeking Raymond Gunn, a negro accused of the brutal slaying of Velma Colter, a young Maryville, Mo., school teacher.

A few days later, however, Gunn was seized by a crowd on his way from jail to court at Maryville. He was taken to the frame school house where Miss Colter was slain, chained to the roof and burned with the building.

LYNCHING SUSPECTS WILL GET HEARING

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP)—A hearing for the release of two alleged participants in the negro lynching at Princess Anne Oct. 18 on habeas corpus writs today laid the way for Attorney General William Preston Lane, jr., to make public the evidence on which he sought the arrest of the lynching mob.

William H. Thompson and Irving Adkins, residents of Princess Anne, were to be returned to their home town in the company of Sheriff Luther Daugherty and three deputies and escorted by Harry C. Martin, warden of the Baltimore jail.

Hearing Set At 3

The hearing set for 3 p. m., before Judge Robert R. Duer, presented the opportunity for the attorney general to reveal his information. He has declared he did not want to take it into the secret deliberations of the grand jury.

Thompson, a druggist, and Adkins, a special officer, with William P. Hearn of Shad Point and William S. McQuay of Pocomoke City were brought to the Baltimore jail yesterday after 300 national guardsmen, sent by Governor Albert C. Ritchie, battled off an infuriated crowd at Salisbury which sought to free the four prisoners.

The guardsmen, bruised and many of them soaking wet from the battle with the mob, ended their day's work with the order to disband and return home. After the withdrawal of the troops, the newspapermen were driven from Salisbury by the threats of the mob.

Luker, who will talk with the representative of the federal board for vocational education who is in charge of twelve southern states.

Woman Files Suit Against Officers

DALLAS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Claiming she was twice arrested falsely and illegally by Sheriff Smoot Schmid of Dallas and his deputies, Mrs. M. F. McKinney filed suit for $30,000 damages against Schmid in district court here.

Mrs. McKinney was named as a witness in the recent investigation by Texas rangers of an alleged statewide theft ring which reputedly handled $100,000 worth of stolen merchandise and as a result of which O. J. Hukil, Fort Worth deputy sheriff, was removed from office and indicted on November 3. In her suit, Mrs. McKinney alleged she helped Texas rangers in their investigation of the theft ring.

Hotel Is Building New Sample Rooms

Twelve additional sample rooms are being built in the Hotel Lubbock annex to take care of demands for display rooms by traveling salesmen, C. A. Sheffield, manager, states.

A new entrance from the mezzanine floor is being cut to permit easier handling of sample cases and trunks in the new rooms, Mr. Sheffield said. The past several months have seen a steady increase in the number of salesmen on the road and the demand for more rooms, he said. W. G. McMillan, local contractor, has the job.

TURKEY MART TO BE TALKED HERE

To discuss plans for the Christmas market, Lubbock county turkey growers will meet at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon here, O. G. Tumlinson, county agent, announced Tuesday.

Letters to a list of growers were mailed last night announcing the meeting place as the assembly room of the federal building.

In the event the growers decide to ship dressed birds as they did for Thanksgiving, the work will have to be done within the next week or ten days, Mr. Tumlinson said. The community killing project is to be held at the fair grounds.

All turkey growers, whether they receive letters telling of the meeting or not, are asked to attend Saturday, the agent added.

Rites For Johnson Child To Be Today

Funeral services for Royce Luther Johnson, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson of Brownfield, were to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Brownfield, Sanders Funeral home announced. Burial was to be at Brownfield.

The child died at 3:15 p. m. Tuesday in a hospital here.

The child was undergoing an operation for adhesions in his throat when he died. Royce Luther previously had suffered of diphtheria, which disease caused the adhesions, it was said.

The child was survived by his parents; two brothers, Elton and Alvey Johnson, and one sister, Loraine Johnson.

TECH EXES ANNOUNCE LUNCHEON AT STATE MEET AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—Thirty-two banquets, luncheons, breakfasts, and teas have already been scheduled for groups of teachers who will assemble in Austin for the annual convention of the Texas State Teachers' association November 30 to December 2, according to association headquarters.

Ex-students from a number of colleges and universities will hold special reunions. Breakfasts will be given by exes of West Texas State Teachers' college; Sul Ross State Teachers' college; East Texas State Teachers' college; and the Omnibus college.

Tech Luncheon Planned

Luncheons are to be given by exes of the Southwest State Teachers' college, San Marcos, and Texas Technological college, Lubbock. Banquets will be held by ex-students of the University of Texas, Austin; Columbia university, New York; Southwestern university, Georgetown; Abilene Christian college, Abilene; and North Texas State Teachers' college, Denton.

The state department of education will have open house for visitors Friday and Saturday, Edgar Wilson, second assistant state superintendent, said. Austin teachers will serve as hosts at a tea to be held in the new university junior high laboratory school. Various sections of the convention will meet for luncheons and banquets.

Austin is preparing for 8,000 to 10,000 visitors during the convention, stated Walter E. Long, secretary of the Austin Chamber of Commerce.

Child Killed When Winds Wreck Barn

DALLAS, Nov. 29 (AP)—One child was killed by a wrecked barn, numerous plate glass windows were smashed, signs blown down and other damage done by a freakish high wind which swept Dallas yesterday.

Thomas Paul Fleming, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel D. Fleming, was killed when a barn toppled and fell on him at his home, near Lisbon, Dallas county.

excess of the $728,000,000 maturity. One suggestion heard is that about $1,000,000,000 in new treasury obligations may be sold, divided between one-year and two-year obligations.

The treasury has no maturity to meet on Dec. 15, 1934, and none on that date a year later, so it would be convenient to issue new securities maturing on those two dates.

TEXAS' CAPITOL MAY BE RENOVATED THROUGH USE OF CIVIL WORKS FUNDS

AUSTIN, Nov. 29. (AP)—Texas' imposing capitol, which has fallen into a sad state of repair, may be renovated in the immediate future through the beneficence of the federal government.

For years the legislature has put off appropriating funds for reconditioning the building awaiting more prosperous times. At each session the harsh marks of constant useage of the building are bemoaned. With limited funds the board of control has done the best it could to give it a presentable appearance.

CWA Funds Proposed

Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas relief commission, believes civil works funds can properly be used to aid in the renovation. He said he intends to confer with the board of control on the project, with the likelihood it will be undertaken.

The plan to repair the building was disclosed to the relief commission shortly after one of the large sections of heavy plate glass in the ceiling of the senate chamber dropped and hurled splinters over a wide area. One of the pieces fell with such force that it cut its way through the quarter inch floor.

The chamber was unoccupied. Had it occurred during one of the senate's sessions, several persons likely would have been badly injured.

Westbrook advised the relief commission that it might be necessary to supplement the CWA fund with state funds to improve the pretentious red granite structure.

Work Discussed

The commission met Monday to discuss relief work. It adopted a resolution to match federal relief funds with proceeds of a state bond issue and to disburse the combined fund in accordance with regulations of the federal relief administration as long as the regulations did not conflict with terms of the Texas relief law.

The commission deferred action on a resolution asking the federal relief administration to modify its wage scale in the rural communities. Earle Adams, commissioner, said farmers and ranchmen were having difficulties in keeping or obtaining labor because of inability to meet the wage scales prescribed by the public works administration.

No Smoke

PHILADELPHIA—Ed Hinkle, 16, wanted a smoke in the worst way and, it appears, that's about the way he went after it. Police said he whipped out a pistol and demanded a cigaret from Charles Palmer. The latter shouted for help and Hinkle was captured and lodged in jail—still without his smoke.

Unhappy Ending

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis.—The Martins and Gustafsons went to a dance and enjoyed themselves until they left the dance hall and two women allegedly bossed Archie Martin while he was tinkering with a balky automobile motor. Martin lost his temper. He began beating the women. Carl Gustafson drew a pistol and wounded Martin. Gustafson went to jail and Martin to a hospital.

PROJECT ON SOIL EROSION PLANNED

TEMPLE, Nov. 29 (AP)—Plans for a $250,000 soil erosion development program encompassing four black land counties and centering in eastern Bell county were revealed today by Dr. H. V. Geib, recently appointed regional director of the federal soil erosion service in Texas.

He said the project would be entirely separate from the sub-marginal land project.

Location of the project, Geib said, will depend on the willingness of farmers to cooperate with the government, although it has been definitely decided to start the project somewhere in the blackland district, with preference given to Elm creek in eastern Bell county and parts of Falls, McLennan and Milam counties.

He said the government would furnish machinery, expert advice and conservation corps labor for all technical work, if the farmers would provide land for experimentation and provide power to pull the grades and labor to operate them. Plans called for completion of the project by June, 1935.

NORMAL REFUNDING OPERATIONS SEEN BY WALL STREET AS BONDS IMPROVE

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. (AP)—With the improvement in the market for United States government bonds, Wall Street dealers are now looking for a normal and comparatively simple refunding operation to take care of the treasury's maturities of $728,000,000 falling due Dec. 15.

While there was considerable excitement about this maturity a week or two ago, when the treasury issues were declining, and "hard money" advocates were wondering whether the government might resort to use of unsecured paper money or "greenbacks," Wall Street is now fairly confident that the operation will be handled in orthodox fashion.

U. S. Bonds Rally

U. S. government bonds have rallied vigorously since last week's selling climax, which came on the heels of the resignation from the treasury of Dr. O. M. W. Sprague with a declaration that the present monetary policy was impairing the government's credit. Since the treasury obligations have regained a substantial part of their losses in the recovery which started last Thursday, dealers now feel that a substantial issue of one-year notes could be sold on a 1 per cent basis, or a two-year issue on a basis of perhaps a little above 2 per cent.

How large the Dec. 15 issue may be, is a matter of considerable conjecture. The treasury now has more than $1,000,000,000 in cash, and could pay off the Dec. 15 maturities without new financing. But it will need funds in considerable amounts during the winter, so some Wall Street quarters are inclined to look for new borrowing somewhat in

From a play by Dawn Powell

Jangled nerves can make an evening at home a nightmare

An evening at home ruined by jangled nerves!... Rustling of papers, ticking of clocks, and other little things that ordinarily don't matter, driving one crazy! To get full enjoyment out of living your nerves must be under perfect control.

Watch your nerves... Get your full amount of sleep every night. Eat regularly and sensibly. Find time for recreation.

And smoke Camels—for Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

How are YOUR nerves?
TEST No. 11

Beginning with your left foot—place the heel of one foot in front of and against the toe of the other foot. Take twenty steps forward in a straight line. See how quickly you can complete this test. An average record is 12 seconds.

Irving Jaffee (Camel smoker), famous Olympic skating champion, can take the 20 steps in 7 seconds.
