TESCO Asks County Cut

Tax Firm Meets With Board Monday

Colorado Independent School District isn't alone on Texas Electric Service Company's list for tax reductions.

Mitchell County is there too and Dave Kelch, TESCO secretary-treasurer from Fort Worth, conferred with Commissioners Court Wednesday.

It was the day after Kelch, TESCO Division Manager Bill Brown of Sweetwater and Colorado City Manager Don Benson told school board members TESCO deserved a 14 million dollar reduction in assessed school tax valuations and a $132,000 cut per year in actual school tax payments.

But with the county officials the power company had a different tone.

Kelch and Benson presented the same figures flip-charted before school board.

"They want us to work with them for something (reduction) in the next few years," said County Judge Bill F. Carter.

"They are not asking for county reductions in 1971," Carter said.

Commissioners pointed out that the county and state roll already had been official approved and sent into the state, as required by law.

Carter said he probably would attend the school board meeting Monday night when Pritchard & Abbott, tax valuation engineers, would report their side of the tax problem with TESCO.

A major change in the whole TESCO tax picture for both the schools and county is in the power company's new approach for reduction allowances for "obsolescence."

Commissioners and school board members, alike, say the Morgan Creek Power Plant originally was set up on the tax roll with a lifetime depreciation. This brought an immediate 35 per cent reduction in valuation when the property was placed on the tax rolls, the same officials say.

Then, the property (after the depreciation is deducted) is placed on the roll at 55 per cent of 1965 value level (for the schools) and about 25 per cent of value (for the county).

"Now, they are asking absolecence," said Carter.

Precinct 1 Commissioner Marcus West, who told the TESCO pair that he was for giving Texas Electric "no more than smallest "John Doe" citizen, said he is like the school board and wants to hear what Pritchard & Abbott have to say.

The Record has learned from out-of-town newspaper sources that TESCO also has been pressing strong for similar tax valuation and pay payment reductions for its plant at Graham. However, the Graham school board has not yet offered any sizeable cut.

Barrera Top Choice For Deputy Job

Commissioners Court may make it official Tuesday for Simon Barrera to fill a new deputy's place on the staff of Sheriff Lewis Claxton.

The Colorado High graduate and father of 2 children is the top choice for the post which is being made possible with a $4,695 in the federal program of Employment Under Emergency Employment Act.

Barrera, who was reared in the county, will be Mitchell County's first Mexican-American in the sheriff's department.

County Judge Bill F. Carter revealed recently that a Mexican-American would be sought for the postition because of an increasing need for a person in local law enforcement who is fluent in Spanish.

Barrera, who is in his late 20's, has been employed since boyhood in the farming and livestock operations of James Kelley.

His wife, Margie, has been on the teacher aide staff of Colorado City public schools for several years. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barrera.

Commissioners Court also this week is expected to join with Colorado City officials in the final draft of a new rural firefighting agreement which will pay the city $75 for each fire call (no minimum or guarantee) and also pay $5,000 lump grant to the city for equipment.

Officials of Loraine, who opposed the county's new fire-fighting proposal to that city, will also meet with Commissioners Tuesday. The county has offered to pay Loraine $40 per call plus a $2,500 grant.

Stock Show Board To Meet Monday

Mitchell County 4-H & FFA Livestock Show Board will meet Monday, at 7:30 p.m. at the City National Bank.

The board is organizing to sell advertisements in the show catalogs and to sell memberships.

It's Definite - No Race

Sheriff Claxton To Quit At End Of Term

Sheriff Lewis Claxton stated Saturday that he definitely will not be a candidate for re-election when his term ends Dec. 31, 1972.

The date is 13 months ahead on the calendar, but the sheriff said he wanted it understood now that he would not seek a fourth term in the law enforcement office he has held since 1960.

His chief deputy, Forrest Smith, already has announced that he will be a candidate for the sheriff's office in next year's election.

Another deputy, Bill McGuire, has yet to officially announce his candidacy, but is sure to be in the race too.

Claxton, who will complete 9 years as deputy sheriff and 12 years as sheriff when his term ends, said the decision not to be a candidate for re-election was a difficult one.

"It is hard to leave a law enforcement career after devoting your life to it for 21 years," said the sheriff, "but I believe it is in the best interest of my family and my health.

"I'll be 2 months short of 60 years of age when my term ends and the position--with its county area, the conditions and the time--is too demanding. It is an assignment for a younger man, I believe."

Claxton said he had endeavored to be a fair, efficient sheriff at all times honest with the public and his fellow officers.

"I always will be deeply appreciative of the splendid cooperation to me and the sheriff's office by all the citizens and by all other law enforcement officers--city, precinct, area and state," the sheriff stated.

Sheriff Claxton had indicated for months he probably would not be a candidate again for the office he won from R. E. (Dick) Gregory Jr. 12 years ago.

"That is why I am making this public statement now," he explained. "This is my decision. It is final."

"Friends have been coming to me asking about my plans. I want them to know that I will continue to serve with all my energy and integrity through the remainder of this term. But it ends there--Dec. 31, 1972."

Wolves Lose 27-6

Travel To Brownfield Next Week

The score was 27-6, Sweetwater over the Colorado High School Wolves.

But to those who saw the game, the Wolves all but won the game.

Although the game was not the best statistically for the Wolves, the Colorado City team was impressive as it worked on offense, putting together several good drives.

But an elusive ball was the nemesis of the Wolves throughout the night with errors giving Sweetwater three touchdowns they shouldn't have had.

Colorado City received the opening kick-off. On the second play from scrimmage, there was a mix-up in the Wolves backfield and a fumble was the result and Sweetwater got the ball on the Wolves' 36 yard-line.

The Mustangs had to run two touchdown plays before they actually scored as a perfect pass to halfback John Houston, all alone in the end zone, was dropped.

That play was followed by a pass from quarterback Faron McCain to end Jerry Shifflett for the score. William Hunt kicked the PAT with 9:10 left in the first quarter.

The Mustangs again kicked off to Colorado City, and three plays later, as Wolves Quarterback David Matthews went back to pass, he was hit by two Mustangs and fumbled the ball.

Sweetwater recovered the ball

Parade, Contests Open Yule Season

Colorado City will mark the start of the final Christmas shopping season with a Santa Claus parade, prizes for best floats, and bikes, a window decoration contest with prizes and Miss Merry Christmas contests.

The entire program of events will be sponsored by Chamber of Commerce merchants committee.

"Miss Merry Christmas" and "Little Miss Merry Christmas" will be selected in penny-a-vote campaigns as in the last two years.

School grades 1 through 6 will be invited to name candidates for "Little Miss Merry Christmas" for each grade, grades 7 through 12 will be invited to nominate candidates for "Miss Merry Christmas" for each grade.

Candidates can place their vote jars in local stores and businesses with each penny counting as one vote. Winners will be recognized at special Dec. 23 program in Civic House sponsored by Business & Professional Women's Club.

Annual Santa parade will be Dec. 3 at 5 p.m. with "Little Miss" and "Miss Merry" candidates who desire to ride on parade floats or in cars.

School classes, school rooms, clubs and organizations will be invited to enter floats in the parade.

Prizes for floats will be $50 for first, $25 for second, $15 for third.

New for the Santa parade will be a special event for decorated bicycles with a $15 first prize, $10 second and $5 for third.

Almost a tradition here, the Christmas window decoration contest will offer $15 first prize, $10 second prize and $5 for third.

School grades and class - rooms naming candidates are requested to notify the Chamber of Commerce as soon as nominees are selected.

All proceeds from the Chamber of Commerce sponsored contest will be used to defray expenses of the parade, program and Santa Claus.

All night Wednesday the hospital will take blood donations from persons who are unable to donate during daytime hours.

Thursday Hicklin will be in Loraine at Johnson - Terry Clinic for volunteer blood donors in that area from noon until the line of donors ends.

Final effort to rebuild the bank will be Saturday in Colorado City with downtown facilities set up in the 200 block of East 2nd all day for the convenience of the public.

Planned to end at noon, the tour will also offer date on the economic imporant of wildlife hunting to the county.

Decision Time Nears For Farm Program Options

Between now and the signup period for the 1972 farm set-aside programs, January 17 - February 25, local producers will be carfully studying all their farm management options, according to Don E. Stewart, Mitchell county farm program official.

Details of the feed grain and cotton programs for 1972 were announced in mid-October by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The 1972 wheat program had been announced by USDA in mid-July.

Essentially the 1972 set-aside programs expand on the policy of leaving to farmers the determination of what "mix" of crops to plant on their farms. At the same time the programs are designed to increase farm income, help farmers get maximum return on investment, and reduce excess carryover supplies, Stewart said.

For feed grains, the 1972 program raises the qualifying set-aside to 25 per cent of the base acreage and offers farmers two new options for additional voluntary set-aside. It also raises the feed grain set-aside payment. Included in the 1972 feed grain program are corn, grain sorghum, and barley.

A wider choice in making their 1972 plans is offered to farmers with feed grain bases or wheat allotments since they may sign up for program participation and plant soybeans, corn, grain sorghum, barley or wheat--singly or in any combination--to protect their farm base or allotment history.

As in 1971, set-aside programs put no limits on crop acreages. On feed grain grown on participating farms, loans will be available on all production, with national average loan levels of $1.08 per bushel for No. 2 corn, $1.79 per hundredweight for grain sorghum, and 86 cents per bushel for barley.

The loan level for soybeans will continue at $2.25 per bushel, for oats at 54 cents per bushel, and for rye at 89 cents per bushel. All soybean, oats and rye production is eligible for loan without being tied to farm program participation.

Detailing the feed grain set-aside program for 1972, Stewart cited provisions as follows:

For corn -- Farmers who sign up will set aside a qualifying acreage equal to 25 per cent of their farm's corn base, for which they will earn payments of 80 cents a bushel on the established farm yield times the acreage set-aside. (This is equivalent to the legal formula of 40 cents per bushel times the farm yield times one-half the farm base.)

At signup, a farmer may also, if he chooses, agree to set aside up to 10 per cent more of his corn base, for which he will receive payment of 52 cents a bushel times the established farm yield on this additional acreage.

To assure that sufficient land is taken out of production Secretary Clifford M. Hardin is asking farmers, also at signup, to offer to set aside an additional 5 to 10 per cent, at the 52-cent-a-bushel rate. If the regular set-aside is less than 38 million acres the Secretary of Agriculture will announce by mid-March whether one or both of these offers will be accepted.

For Grain Sorghum--The details are the same as for corn, except that the payment rate for the qualifying 25 per cent set-aside of the grain sorghum base will be 76 cents a bushel (This is equivalent to the legal formula of 38 cents per bushel times the farm yield times one-half the farm base), and the payment rate will be 49 cents a bushel for the 10 per cent additional voluntary diversion and for the 5 or 10 per cent offer, if accepted.

For Barley -- Farmers who sign up will set aside a qualifying acreage equal to 25 per cent of their farm barley base, for which they will earn payments of 64 cents a bushel on the established farm yield times acreage set-aside (This is equivalent to the legal formula of 32 cents per bushel times the farm yield times one-half the farm base). At signup a farmer may agree, if he chooses, to set aside up to 20 per cent more of his barley base, for which he will receive payment of 42 cents a bushel times the established farm yield on this additional acreage.

Farmers have many choices to make in the 1972 set-aside programs, emphasized Curtis Latimer, Chairman of the Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

First of all, he said, is the choice by farmers who have feed grain bases or wheat or cotton allotments on whether to participate in one or more of these voluntary programs. If a producer has a farm with feed grain bases and wheat and cotton allotments, he could participate in none, some, or all of the programs as he chooses, without penalty for non-participation.

For corn and grain sorghum farmers who decide to participate, another choice will be whether to offer to set aside 5 or 10 per cent more at the option of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Barley producers who decide to participate will be choosing whether to offer voluntary set-aside up to 20 per cent of their farm base in addition to their qualifying 25 per cent set-aside for participation.

Other choices to be made in relationship to program participation include decisions on: What crops to plant inview of potential farm yields and markets; what financing will be sought; whether to put in new farm storage facilities, buy new machinery, lease or buy more cropland; how to manage storage and marketing of previous-year chops whether to plan for more intensive input per acre, in terms of fertilizers, herbicides, pesticides, land preparation, and crop cultivation.

"The set-aside farm programs are designed to give farmers as much latitude as possible, consistent with the aim of improving farm income. It means producers make their own farm management decisions. The government doesn't decide for them," Latimer said.

He added, "It also means for 1972 that a lot of decisions must be made this winter, since sign-up for the 1972 feed grain, wheat and cotton programs is set for January 17th through February 25th. Because of the options which the Secretary of Agriculture must decide on by mid-March, that sign-up period will not be extended, and farmers who may want to participate should underscore it on their calendars right now.

"As soon as official detailed program information is received in the county ASCS office, we will get it out to farmers via mail, meetings, and all news channels. Phone calls, visits and letters of inquiry from farmers will be welcome."

First Christians Set Attendance Goal

"Each One Bring One" is theme for current services at First Christian Church.

Rev. Weems Dykes, minister, last Sunday challenged members of the church to bring one or more persons with them today (Sunday).

Goal for the congregation is "no empty pews" by Thanksgiving Sunday, according to Rev. Dykes.

A Bible will be presented to the one bringing "the most persons the next Sunday that were not present that Sunday."

Theme for this morning's worship will be "Resistance To Change". Charlie Helmer, choral director in Colorado Schools, will sing special music, "God Is My Shepherd".

Rev. Dykes Saturday extended an invitation to the public to attend worship services at First Christian.

CONVERSATION CORNER

SOME EDITOR of a paper called the STAR in Smithtown, N.Y., has been quoted as saying "Freedom of speech was arranged by ancestors who couldn't possibly have had an idea of what-all was going to be said." He could well have added "or what-all was going to be written, either."

Another editor somewhere in Michigan opined "The Constitution gave us the right to do out own thinking. It's up to us to acquire the ability."

Heck. Most women are born with the ability to do their own thinking. That's probably why women are better than men when it comes to problems and politics. They think what they think and stick to it, right or wrong, no matter what anybody else thinks or says or writes.

FELLOW named James Stephens, a poet, once said "Women are wiser than men because they know less and understand more."

That was very sweet of him but he had it backwards. Women are wiser than men because they know more and understand less of what they know and because they think what they think and stick to it.

Men waste too much time trying to convince opponents on any issue--public or private--how right they are and how wrong everybody else is.

Men always have to have a reason for everything. Women don't, 'cause there usually ain't no reason. They know things are like they are "just because" and that's the way they are.

WOMEN are wiser than men because they can say in 25 words or less what it takes a man 25 minutes to expound. Most of the time, that is, of course.

Women are better than men at any number of things they don't expect or get any credit for. Ask a man to spread his own bed on some rare occasion of emergency and the result looks like a Cub Scout pup tent after a night of camping out.

Put his handkerchiefs in his sock drawer and he is so utterly lost he has to yell for help. Hang up his favorite sweater and he thinks he must have left it down town somewhere.

MOST MEN resent changes in everything from quarterbacks to the moving around of furniture from where it was in the first place.

Men are born to win. And it is a wise woman who does not comment when her man's side loses. A wise woman agrees that it was either the rain or the referee.

A man had rather be dead than to admit he's wrong. The world is supposed to be his apple. Well, a woman named Eve gave it to him in the first place.

Women are wiser than men because they NEVER are wrong. And even if they should be, they still think what they think and stick to it.

Women don't need to be further liberated. They already are because they think they are. Right or wrong they think what they think and stick to it.

Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church Tuesday evening was setting for a monthly covered dish supper for the church's Wesley Bible Class.

Hosting the affair were Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. Arnel Smith and Mrs. R. P. Ware.

Mrs. A. J. Hooks was devotional leader. Using as her theme, "Time I Didn't Know I Had," she told of a doctor who accomplished projects 15 minutes at a time.

She quoted the doctor as saying, "It is surprising how those 15-minute periods can accommodate a host of things, things we would have once denied ourselves because we were too busy."

Mrs. Hooks spoke of "15-minute spiritual interludes - reading a chapter from the Bible, a prayer for someone or simply meditation to bring one to the presence of God."

She continued by telling that the doctor first thought it would be difficult to find one 15-minute period a day. But with self discipline he soon managed two such periods, then there were three, four and more.

"It adds up when multiplied by a week or month.

"I still find myself short of hours for many things I want to do," Mrs. Hooks quoted the doctor, "but my life has been enriched greatly since I discovered time I didn't know I had.

In closing her remarks Mrs. Hooks read a poem, "Ain't Cha Got Time?"

Dining tables were marked with fresh fall flowers arrangements.

Guest for the evening program was Mrs. O. L. Simpson.

Members attending were Mrs. B. W. Womack, Mrs. E. H. Winn, Mrs. Ed Richardson, Mrs. Gurely Carter, Mrs. Roy Dozier, Mrs. Dewey Davis, Mrs. Lessie Costin.

Mrs. H. H. Gainey, Mrs. L. B. Elliott, Mrs. J. P. Nunn, Mrs. Wilma Reynolds, Mrs. Tom Glover, Mrs. E. M. Fisher, Mrs. Hooks.

Lightfoot Speaks To Loraine FTA

Preston C. Lightfoot, sponsor of Loraine High School Future Teachers of America Chapter, Tuesday presented a program to that group in the school.

Lightfoot discussed attitudes and attributes needed for a successful teacher.

"Such teachers combine the talents of discovering and spreading knowledge,' Lightfoot explained, "and often reveal the following abilities and capabilities - above-average intelligence, knowledge in specific fields of study, persistance and patience, enjoyment of challenge and work, sense of humor and strength of character and conviction."

The sponsor listed a group of thought questions used by students to evaluate themselves as teachers.

"Teachers are proud to invite talented young people to become their colleagues because they know that teaching is an investment in people - in the future of mankind.

"Those who join the teaching profession find themselves working with men and women on whom the free world depends," Lightfoot concluded.

FTA members received bulletins concerning exploring teaching, opportunities in teaching and a future of teaching.

The regular meeting was opened with invocation by Glenda Ellington.

Officer reports were by Debbie Brame, secretary; Jesse Vallejo, treasurer; Nancy Graham, historian, and Betty Graham, vice president.

Local dues were increased to $1 effective next school term.

Douglas Graham was named as a historian co-chairman.

WOLVES

on the Colorado City 22 and two plays later, McCain connected with Houston for a 22 yard pass play and the score. Hunt kicked the PAT, giving Sweetwater a 14-0 advantage with the first quarter not yet half gone.

The next time the Wolves got the ball, they drove from their own 27 to the Sweetwater 48 before having to kick it away.

Taking over on their own 28, Houston ran 59 yards and it looked like Sweetwater was headed for another score. However, the Colorado City defense tightened, and with the aid of a penalty, forced the Mustangs back and then caused a fumble which Bob Benson recovered for the Wolves on the Colorado City 30.

The Wolves couldn't move the ball, so they had to kick and Sweetwater, moving from its own 30, mounted a drive that ended with a 23 yard scamper by quarterback McCain for the only deserved Sweetwater score of the game.

Hunt kicked the extra point with 10:59 left in the first half.

The Wolves ran the kick-off back to their own 29 and from there, Colorado City unveiled a new wrinkle as they ran a sweep with Rickey Parks rambling 39 yards behind good blocking.

The good run by Parks went for naught as the Wolves turned the ball over on downs on the Sweetwater 24.

Then a short time later, Sweetwater fumbled and Dean Brooks recovered for the Wolves on the Mustangs 27.

The Wolves drove to the five yardline where they got a first down and then on the next play there was a fumble and Sweetwater came up with the ball on their own 7 yardline.

On the Wolves nex possession, they got fancy. Starting from their own 36, quarterback Dewain Nix ran for 11 yards. The next play there was a flea flicker with quarterback David Matthews handing off to a back, the back lateraling back to Nix who lined up as a flanker, and Nix throwing to wingback Bob Benson. The play was good for 24 yards.

I-Back Rickey Parks ran for eight more yards but again a fumble stopped the drive, this time on the Sweetwater 22.

To start the second half, Colorado City kicked off and held the Mustangs on their first possession of the half.

On fourth down and long yardage to go, Donald Hager went back to kick for the Mustangs. The snap back from center was high and before he could get the ball away, he was tackled at the one-foot line by onrushing Wolves.

On the next play, Nix took the ball in for the Wolves only score of the night. Parks attempted to run for two yards but came up short of the needed yardage for points-after-touchdown.

Sweetwater then got a drive started but they fumbled on the 50 with Benson recovering the loose pigskin. The Wolves couldn't go anywhere and had to kick.

The game became a defensive struggle until Sweetwater got to the Colorado City 33 and fumbled. Larry Kinard grabbed the loose ball and the Wolves started another drive.

With the aid of a 15 yard penalty and good runs by Melvin Jackson, Nix and Benson, behind the blocking of linemen Scott Hudson, Gene Hunt, Carl Guelker, John Ridge, Jerry Boyd, Larry Kinard and Mike Hallford, the Wolves moved the ball to the Sweetwater 25.

Again, the Wolves fumbled.

Sweetwater then mounted a drive that went to the Wolves 10 before the Colorado City defense toughened and stopped the Mustangs.

The Wolves took over on downs but couldn't move the ball and were forced to kick. However, the kicker, Tim Stansel got a low snap from center and was forced to run with the ball. He was tackled at his own two yardline.

On the next play, John Houston took the ball in for Sweetwater and an attempt to add on two extra points failed. With 1:12 left in the game, the score became 27-6.

Next week, the Wolves travel to Brownfield.
