AROUND TOWN

SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Hereford concert-goers are looking forward to Dr. Frank Asper's organ recital scheduled for tomorrow night at the Methodist Church. Known throughout the nation as the organist for the L. D. S. Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Dr. Asper will play selections by Bach, Franck, Bedell, Boellmann, Mulet, Marcello and Widor. He will also play special arrangements of negro spirituals. Concert time is at eight o'clock.

Friday night's performance will conclude the concert series here for this year. Cards enabling concert association members to renew their membership for another year will be distrbiuted following the performance. A new membership campaign is being planned for next year, the date to be announced later.

The question at the Baseball game Sunday was what is the score and what inning is it? Pointing the finger towards the absence of a scoreboard.

"There ought to be a law," said the unidentified man in the barber shop. "People shouldn't be allowed to drive around with fishing poles on their cars because everytime I see one, it makes me want to go fishing."

There's a new sign up over the Fox-Man's Shop-Nipper Electric Building, which serves the dual purpose of announcing store names and helping to modernize the store front. According to Glenn Boardman it is exactly five feet five inches tall and 23 feet two and a half inches wide.

Have you ever wondered why there wasn't any telephone in the Post Office? It's probably the only office in town that doesn't have a telephone in its black majesty reclining on the desk. Well, according to the postmaster, the reason is because when there's a phone, there is also a lot of phon-ees (get it?) who call in asking for the correct time, mail schedules, etc. However, Lipscomb's reign of silence is almost over. He figures about July they'll have to install the telephone.

When the electricity was shut off Wednesday morning, it reminded Homer Fox of the days long ago when the philosophy governing electrical power was just the antithesis of what it is today. Then, instead of making a show of turning it off, it was a big day when they turned it on, and Thursday morning was always ironing day because that's when the juice was on during the day.

Like a hangover from Skunk Hollow was the aromatic spirits that permeated the Brand office Monday morning. Somehow some lone skunk wandered inadvertently or was forcibly pushed up the stairs between the Brand office and the Star Theatre and the poor animal reacted the only way his skunk-infested nature would allow: He smelled.

It caused considerable comment; blue Monday was bluer than usual. Half a dozen people called up offering to de-odorize the office.

Johnny Pool started up the stairs to deliver two wagon wheels for a child's wagon, but a couple of steps in that direction proved enough, so he went back to his office and sent a card to Clarence Dixon telling him to please come by and pick up the wheels himself. If he was up there, he had to come down anyway and nobody should be sent up through that smell needlessly. Clarence came by.

Furr Food, after spending a week repairing, re-decorating and re-modernizing the interior of their store on Third Street opened for business Monday. They are following suit along with the numerous merchants overtown who are specializing in streamlining their businesses either outside or inside.

The formal opening Monday evening was really a gay occasion. There were flowers, free

Spelling Bee Finalists

DEAF SMITH CHAMP MISSES 'CARICATURE'

Richard Tucker Wins Second In Spelling Bee

Richard was close, mighty close, but he was spelled down by a girl!

Nevertheless, Richard Tucker, Deaf Smith County's candidate in the Panhandle-wide spelling bee came out second place winner in the contest held in Amarillo High School Auditorium Saturday night. He walked home with the ten dollar second place award. His competitor, Rebecca Smith, of Memphis, won an all-expense paid, seven day trip to Washington, D. C.

The word that stumped Richard was "caricature." He spelled it with two "r's". Rebecca was given the word next, and she misspelled it also, so by the rules of the national contest, she was given another word. "peremptory," which she spelled correctly and walked away with the prize.

It was quite a contest, and Deaf Smith's black-eyed young representative battled it right through to the end. The word war began about 8 p. m. Saturday night. It was 11:15 before Richard was spelled down. With 35 candidates in the contest to start with, 33 of them had slipped up on some word or other, thinking their way through such sticklers as "millenium" and "encroachment," until during the last twenty minutes of the contest it was Richard versus Rebecca.

One 'R' Too Many

And then the bad break came. Richard rolled his "r's" and Rebecca won the honors, representing the Amarillo district at the national meet in Washington.

Third place winner in this symposium of syllables was Jimmy Davis of Childress County.

Second place winner Tucker is a 13-year-old eighth grade student at Hereford Junior High School. He's always been an exceptional student, and won the right to represent this county by spelling down Mary Ann Beckman, contestant from St. Anthony's School.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Tucker, he's particularly interested in airplanes, cowboys and related subjects. This summer he plans to work on a farm—to prove that just because he's a spelling champ he's not above sweat of the brow labor.

A future ambition? Well, Richard isn't really too sure, yet, but he know he's going to college and learn lots of things to make his life successful. Oh yes, he also says he does not plan to take over the lexicographer chores of Samuel Johnson and Noah Webster. He does not plan to write a dictionary.

High School Seniors Look Towards Graduation: Honor Students Named

Graduation week activities for the 70 seniors at Hereford High School will begin Sunday evening, May 15, with Baccalaureate Services and will conclude with Commencement Night activities Friday evening, May 20.

Both ceremonies are scheduled for the Hereford High School auditorium and will begin at 8 p. m.

In conjunction with the announcement by these end-of-the year fetes, comes the announcement of the two honor students among the 1949 graduates. Miss Jo Ann Witherspoon has been named valedictorian and Miss Inez Tucker, salutatorian of the class.

Miss Witherspoon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Witherspoon, had a high point average of 94.18 to win top honors from her classmates in scholastic averages. Salutatorian, Miss Tucker with a close second place rating of 93.42, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Tucker. Each of these girls will give their addresses on Commencement night.

Four other outstanding students, named because they have an average of 90 or more for the junior and senior years are Sallie Womble, Jane Welch, Neely Kimbrough and Danny McLallen.

The Baccalaureate speaker will be Rev. Don Davidson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who was chosen by the class to give the address. Special music for this Sunday evening service will be by the Glee Club and Mixed Choir who will sing "Beautiful Savior" and "The Lord's Prayer," and an accordian solo by Mrs. E. Ward, Jr.

Speaker for the Commencement Night service will be Arch McMillan, professor of Journalism of Wayland College, Plainview. He was selected by the sponsors and administration of the school. The girl's sextet will present the special musical selections, singing "Memories," and "Now Is The Hour."

This final week of activities will be the highlight of a senior year which has included for the graduates a Junior-Senior Banquet, held March 3 at the First Baptist Church, a special banquet given by the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church April 8 and the senior trip to Craterville Park in Oklahoma from April 21 to April 24.

Secretary Brannon To Speak To Group

Four officers of the county agriculture Committee and the Farm Bureau have been chosen as representatives of Deaf Smith County at the state wide meeting of farm groups to be held in Waco Friday night.

Nester Gass, president of the County Agriculture Committee, his vice-president, Paul Mathers, Clarence Morrison, president of the Farm Bureau and H. H. Caraway, vice-president, will leave Thursday to attend the session to be held at Waco Hall.

Feature speaker for the evening will be Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan who will outline the proposals of the new farm program for these representative growers from all over Texas.

Saturday night Secretary Brannon will be in Lubbock to speak at the Jackson Day dinner there. This will be his only appearance in the Texas Plains, and the only other speaking appearance in Texas.

Lions To Purchase Ceiling Projector

Hereford Lions voted to purchase a ceiling projector for hospital patients who would benefit through use of it at their regular Wednesday meeting in the Lions-Rotary Hall.

Bill Warren was appointed carnival chariman and Urlin Streu chairman of the committee overseeing the Boy Scouts who will have charge of the eating and drinking concessions. They will use the money derived

? QUESTION of the WEEK ?

When you were a child, what was your ambition?

Mrs. T. W. Alderson: In as much as my mother was a teacher, I decided I wanted to teach school, also. Of course, as it turned out I never did do anything about it, but I used to think school teaching was the career for me. I think most little girls want to be very much like their mothers.

Delbert Kinsey: I wanted to be a cowboy. I had a cowboy suit and spent my days riding stick horses or real horses, whichever was around. I'd go to the movies some, but not much, to see the cowboy pictures and even learned to rope a little bit.

Mrs. Frances Houston: I was going to be a ballet dancer. I have no idea where I got my ambition for such a future, but I dreamed of being a toe dancer, and wearing those lovely dresses. I never did get even a ballet lesson, and now that I have a daughter I have given her all sorts of lessons, hoping she would become a dancer, too, but she isn't the least bit interested. So I just have to satisfy my ambition by going to the ballet whenever I have the chance.

Guy Lawrence: Well, its been a long time ago, but way back in those days I was going to be an Indian fighter. I read books about their exciting lives—that was back in the days before there were many movies—so I guess I got my enthusiasm from the books. Anyhow there was a gang of us boys and we used to make our own wooden pistols, and put on our cowboy suits and tear out after the Indians—I've killed them by the scores.

Mrs. Zona Evans: Well, its hard to think right off, as my memory has always been a little unpredictable, but it seems to me I've always wanted to be a school teacher. After I grew up, I even had a try at it, and its nice but it wasn't as easy as it looks.

Art Manjeot: When I was a boy I dreamed of going to South America. I was going to go down there with some harvesting company and work with machinery. Just anywhere in South America, it really didn't matter. As it turned out, of course, I never got near the continent and now I've given up all plans of ever getting there.

Mrs. R. A. Sullins: I wanted to be a dressmaker, but I never even had time to make doll clothes, because I was the oldest of seven children, and had to help take care of them. You see, I grew up in a log cabin on a farm in Cannon County, Tenn. and we used to raise our own sheep, shear them, take the wool to the factory to have it made into thread. Then we wove it ourselves, dyed the cloth, and then cut it into clothing which we also made by hand. By the time you've done all that, and helped make the clothes for the family, there wasn't time for much other sewing. We'd dye the wool with package dyes or bark, roots or herbs we picked in the woods. You know, that's the reason I can't stand wool today.

Training School For Army Reserve Starts In Hereford Tuesday

All members of the Reserve Officers Corps of the Department of the Army are urged to be present at the office of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, May 10th, at 8:00 p. m. for the purpose of forming a school unit for Hereford and this immediate area. Attendance at this school will provide the necessary number of points that are required for retirement and promotion in the ORC. Attendance at the school will also qualify the officer for 1 day's pay which is payable every three months.

Whether one is now in the active or inactive reserve does not make any differnce. Those in the inactive reserve may become active again by attending this school.

Officers in the Dimmitt and Friona area are particularly invited to attend this meeting.

Don Zimmerman and O. P. Cowart were in conference Monday with Capt. F. J. Dabney of the Amarillo Instructors office and Captain Dabney will be present for the formation of the unit.

Prospects of Bumper Harvest Appear Bright For Deaf Smith

Deaf Smith County wheat farmers, with a look of mild anticipation in their eyes, are facing the prospects of a bumper harvest season this summer, because if normal conditions continue to prevail, there is a possibility of a near record crop from the largest acreage ever seeded.

There are 70,000 acres under cultivation in Deaf Smith, and the two inch rain in April provoked all sorts of pleasant predictions from farmers, local agriculture authorities, the Santa Fe crop survey, and the Department of Agriculture.

Harvest is scheduled to start in about six weeks, and unless the weather should suddenly go completely haywire, the outlook is for a crop of large proportions.

It's a much happier situation than the farmers were expecting this time last year. In April, 1948 wheat prospects were anything but bright, farmers faced a late harvest, subjecting their grain to more hazards that cut profits.

That was the season Texas produced 50,290,000 bushels of wheat. The Department of Agriculture on April 1, 1949 estimated the Lone Star State would harvest almost a hundred thousand bushels this year, placing their exact figures at 99,190,000 bushels, almost doubling last year's output.

Billion Bushels Predicted

This same survey says the United States will produce more than a billion bushels this year as compared with the 990,098,000 cut last year. They expect almost 666,000,000 bushels to come from the southwestern wheat belt which comprises ten states with Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, in that order, as the leading wheat producing states.

Deaf Smith County, is situated in a convenient area. Just west of it and also north, conditions exist to mar the overall wheat outlook. At the far western edge of the wheat belt, which includes dry land wheat in Colorado, a few western and north central Kansas counties, the Oklahoma Panhandle, western tier of counties in the Texas Panhandle and in New Mexico, a spotted situation exists among crops.

Summer fallow fields in this part of the territory generally are in promising condition, but continuously cropped land shows need of additional moisture. Considerable wind damage has been reported and this danger is not entirely over, although favorable weather conditions have brought an improvement during the last two weeks.

East of this area more than two-thirds of the wheat belt has plenty of moisture, and winter kill was comparatively small.

Still the farmers are not geting too elated. They know that before that crop is in, there is the threat of hail, greenbugs, rust, too much, too little rain and enough other worries to keep them cautious.

No Clean-Up Week Designated Here Individual Co-operation Is Asked

No official Clean-Up Week has been designated by city officials or welfare authorities this spring, but they are asking the individual co-operation of every homeowner or renter to take the responsibility for cleaning up his own premises during this preparation season.

Spring is the time when flies, mosquitoes and other insects begin to breed, and every fly killed in May, say the statisticians, eliminates almost a thousand flies in September.

This is the time then, for people to make a close check on their house and particularly their yards, cleaning up around garbage cans, and other places where a collection of filth might accumulate.

Last year, representatives of civic organizations, instigated the third annual Clean-Up Week, in the line of a routine spring cleaning check-up. This year no such action has been taken.

However, members of the Federated Clubs, recognizing a need for sponsorship, have begun a club wide campaign to call attention to cleaning up the premises around the homes, and to initiate an inter-club competition for enrolling the most homes in such a drive. This idea was introduced at the Federation Tea by Mrs. A. L. Manjeot.

Last summer the flies were so bad in town they necessitated spraying the town several times. Officials are considering purchase of such a sprayer for the town, but no definite action has yet been taken on the project. Such measures, in reality health measures, can be even more effective if breeding places for those insects are removed early in the season, health authorities point out.

236 Cars Of Milo Boosts Month's Shipping To 366

The Commodity Credit Corporation release of grain sorghums under the government loan accounted for the 263 cars of milo shipped from Hereford this month, largest single commodity on the Santa Fe records for April.

A total of 366 cars were forwarded, and 137 received. Building materials are still the number one item shipped into Hereford.

The huge number of cars of milo shipped from Deaf Smith tie in with the CCC provisions that grain sorghums could be sold after April 1 if the producer wished to sell then, instead of waiting for the April 30 deadline. Deaf Smith farmers snapped up the chance. Fourteen carloads were shipped from the Summerfield station, also. Dawn shipments are registered through Umbarger.

Cattle and calves accounted for 69 cars from here and 18 from Summerfield, making it the second largest commodity among those forwarded, but April shipments fell way below the March tally of 389 cars.

There were 28 cars of wheat, one of seed, four of hogs and one car of scrap iron shipped out.

A total of 94 cars of building materials were sent in to provide materials for all the business houses, civic enterprises and homes being constructed over town. They included 65 cars of sand and gravel, 10 of lumber, 14 of cement, 4 of brick and one of pipe.

Hereford also received seven cars of cattle and calves, two of grain sorghums, one of seed, eight of potatoes and ten of fertilizer, right in line with the agricultural background of local economics. Three cars of automobiles, one of oil and eleven cars of machinery emphasize the importance of mechanization in maintaining that agriculture set-up.

Increase of Polio Noted Over State

During the first seventeen weeks of 1948 there were only 55 cases of poliomyelitis reported to the State Health Department, while in this same period for 1949, there have been 142 cases reported from different sections of the State, according to Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. Seven cases were reported in the past week, with three from one county.

"Poliomyelitis is one of the most dreaded of all disesases," Dr. Cox said, "and justly so. It is more often a crippler than a killer, but in either case it takes a heavy toll among young Texas citizens, and is a health menace against which our children should be carefully guarded."

Immaculate cleanliness of person and homes is urged as a precautionary measure against polio, and community hygiene assumes a place of major importance when the disease makes its appearance. Clean communities, clean homes, and strict personal hygiene all play a part in helping to prevent the spread of diseases, and Dr. Cox advises close inspection of home screens for keeping out flies, and unremitting efforts in rodent control, and the extermination of roaches.

"Until is is definately understood just how polio is transmitted, it is well to guard against all household pests and eliminate all insanitary conditions," Dr. Cox said. "We do not know with certainty how polio may be spread, and filth, which affords a breeding place for germs, should not be tolerated."

New Substation Is Hooked In On Line

The electric power on town service and REA lines was turned off early Wednesday morning so that Southwestern Public Service could hook up their new substation south of town.

Manager C. D. Hardesty announced Wednesday morning that part of the line was being used now, and it will increase transformer capacity from 1500 KVA to 4500 KVAs, tripling capacity and allowing the company to serve three times as many stations as formerly.

This is a part of the project which has been under construction for several months.

Electricity was shut off from 5:50 to 6:10 a. m. Wednesday, and although it occurred at an early morning hour and many people did not know of the shut off, it stopped electric clocks over town for twenty minutes, making some people late for work and some children late for school.

Postal Receipts During April Fail To Show Increase

It happened during April and it happened last November, but those are the only months in more than two years that postal receipts from the Hereford Post Office have not made a gain over the corresponding month of the previous year.

During 1949, April receipts reached $3,703.63, which was barely $30 less than the $3735.25 that marked the total returns for April, 1948.

"Don't worry," said Postmaster Jim Lipscomb. "It's less than a third of a hundred dollars difference, and with the way May is starting out we are in for a boom time month, that will sail right over last May's receipts.

Lipscomb pointed out that Monday, May 2, was one of the biggest days for the post office and compared it to the last minute Christmas rush that haunts that office seasonally. A combination of Dollar Day and the fact that the first came on Sunday, leaving most of that end of the month mailing for Monday, were the reasons he gave for the rush.

Average Is Up

According to these figures, this year averages $915.44 per month more than the receipts of two years ago, and $401.08 a month more than the receipts of a year ago.

Even if April did slip behind, the receipts for the year still show that 1949 is leading 1948. For the first four months of the year, 1949 totaled $14,971.75; 1948 totaled $13,387.45 and 1947 totaled $$11,309.56, showing the trend of the increased business handled by the local post office.

Now a first class post office, and also an office in the process of enlarging their city delivery service, members of the force report they have been busy enough this month, even if receipts were not as heavy as last year.

A comparison of monthly receipt figures follows:

	1949	1948
January	$4229.38	$3668.69
February	3196.73	2841.05
March	3842.01	3202.46
April	3703.63	3735.25
TOTAL	$14971.75	$13387.45

Boy Saves Girl Bitten By Snake

Donald McDonald, 15-year-old nephew of Will S. Kerr, was the young Canyon lad that saved the life of a school classmate when she was bitten by a snake Friday afternoon while on a picnic at Palo Duro.

The accident happened about 2:30 p. m. when Carlene Rogers of Canyon was on an outing with some 400 other students at Canyon High School and a boy in the group stepped on the snake. The reptile bit Carlene.

While Tommy Gooch, another classmate, ran back to the Canyon for aid, Donald slit the wound and sucked poison from the bite. Later he helped carry Carlene back down the hill to a car which took her to the hospital. Doctors say the girl is recovering nicely.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Byran McDonald of Canyon. Mr. McDonald is associated with his brother in the Kerr Implement Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Colby Conkwright this week moved from their home on McKinley Street to their new home at the corner of Fifth Street and Roosevelt.

Lubbock Officials Favorably Impressed

Chamber of Commerce representatives of Hereford who went to Lubbock Tuesday to raise support for the Canadian Dam site at Tascosa were favorably received, according to Pete Cowart, chamber manager.

He said they contacted the mayor, city water planning board and members of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. The groups were impressed by Hereford's points for the Tascosa site and said they hadn't been informed of them before. Although there wasn't much they could do directly they did call Harry T. Burleigh, engineer in charge of the Bureau of Reclamation for Texas and make an appointment for Hereford representatives in Austin for Friday.

Guy Lawrence, Wayne Evans, Troy Moore, R. L. Thompson and Pete Cowart made the trip.

Frio Draw Floods Area Near Friona

Frio Draw, once the belligerent water stream that overflowed with every big rain until 1941, lost its boundary outlines Wednesday at Friona and a busy stream of water gushed into the draw rising about an inch a minute.

About 10 a. m. the water was noticed about 200 feet from the bridge in the west part of town, and the rise hit the bridge about 10:30. About 12 noon Wednesday it was covering Main Street at the edge of town, filling up the low spots along the roadway, and the rise was still coming.

According to Roy Hart who reported the rise, the draw ranged from a quarter of a mile in width in some spots to two miles across in others. At Giles Williams in Bovina the draw was a couple of miles across. Tilden Slagle reported 200 acres under water. Four farm roads in the area were reported blocked by the water.

The threat of cattle loss ranged in some places where stock pastured in the draw were fenced in with no means of escape. Rabbits, driven from their holes by the rising stream, were seen to swim across the draw.

And while the water seeped over Friona roads, townspeople reported they had received no rain during Tuesday's cloudy weather, a mere sprinkle that night and Wednesday the dust was blowing slightly.

This is the first rampage the draw has seen since the flood year of 1941 when the water rushed down the draw destroying animals and homes and doing thousands of dollars worth of damage. In that year the Santa Fe Railway built dykes along the draw to keep the water under control.

Since that year, the dykes had not been tested, but Hart said they were keeping the water back during this seige.

By 2 Wednesday afternoon Texas Highway 299, the farm road west of town was impassable in one spot right at the edge of town, and water was pouring over the abutment of the bridge. No one seemed to know just how deep the water in the bridge was, but public opinion said the water wasn't as deep as it was spread out.

Hereford Man Named In Arizona Slaying

Associated Press releases Tuesday reported that a man who gave his home address as Hereford and who was an ex-convict, has been charged with the April 7 slaying of motorist Glen Yarbrough in Kingman, Arizona. The release continued:

Sheriff Frank L. Porter of Mohave County said he had a complete confession from William Edward Thorn, alias Ivan Leroy Miles, 23, who gave his home as Hereford, Tex. County Attorney Carl D. Hammond also was present when the confession was made, the sheriff said.

Porter said Thorn had been released from the New Mexico prison last year after serving 30 months on a forgery charge.

The suspect had been held in jail since the day after two bullets were fired into Yarbrough. The Corcoran, Cal., carpenter and former combat infantryman, had swerved his car into the Gypsy Auto Court here attempting to thwart a robbery. He was shot as he attempted to leave the car.

Yarbrough had been driving from his mother's home in Rule, Tex., to Corcoran.

"He told a fantastic story with lots of holes in it," the sheriff said.

Hippo Sneers at Cupid

There's bait in the crate, but Bubbles, two-year-old hippopotamus at Chicago's Brookfield Zoo, stages a sitdown strike. A mixture of alfalfa, crushed oats, bran, chopped apples and carrots, flavored with five cloves of her favorite garlic, failed to lure the 1800-pound female into the crate for shipment to Columbus, O., where Pete, a lonely male hippo, is awaiting her arrival.

Marriage License Sales Below Par

They always say that in the spring love is in bloom right along with the flowers and the trees. Well, maybe so, but judging by the marriage licenses, this year has failed miserably.

April, season of young love, was responsible for only three marriage licenses. They were issued to Robert Laney Owen and Bettye Katheryne Hodges on April 11, to Floyd L. Lynch and Sidney Lancaster on April 23 and to Leslie Perdain Thompson and Gynell Reed on April 26.

But maybe things are picking up. April had to wait practically two weeks before the county clerk's office even sold a license. On the first day they were open in May Glenn Anderson and Winnie Ruth Hardin bought their marriage license.

According to records in the clerk's office, only 13 licenses have been sold this year, which is less than one a week for all in 1949, in fact, only one every nine days.

Business has been so slow clerks in the office are drumming up trade, and this week they reminded the world in general that there was no waiting period on licenses. All you have to do is be of age (man, 21; girl, 18), or have the consent of one parent, the man must have a health certificate, and one of the two has to finance the $2 charge.

If the couple wish, they can come in, buy their license, get the justice of the peace to marry them, file their license with the clerk and take care of that binding contract, all without even leaving the building. However if they buy the license for use later, it must be returned and filed within 60 days or it is no longer valid. Marriage licenses sold in Texas are valid only in Texas, however. They aren't legal for marriages performed out of the state boundaries.

A Bird In The Hand

Ronnie Patient, 9, of St. Louis, tightly clutches the beak of a blue heron which he found lying beside a road with a fish hook embedded in its neck. He took the injured bird to the Humane Society for treatment, the hook was extracted, and the patient is reportedly doing fine.

County Court Hears DWI And Check Case

One DWI charge and one hot check charge were heard in County Court this week according to County Judge Leonard Foster.

Lorenzo Cruz of Hereford pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of driving while intoxicated and paid a fine of $75 and costs. He was picked up Saturday in a local filling station by Sheriff J. C. Reese, according to the judge.

Tuesday morning M. E. Eagle appeared in county court to pay a fine on a hot check charge. The check, for $24.64, was given October 19 to Phillips and Lawrence Service Station on a bank at Panhandle.

Fund Raising For Camp Fire Girls Commences Today

The Camp Fire Council is planning a fund raising project to supplement the donations and money received by Camp Fire dues which has been the sole support of Camp Fire activities in Hereford since the inception of the organization.

Kick-off dinner to outline plans for this drive will be held today at noon with members of the finance committee attending, announced Ernest Wade, who has been appointed finance chairman.

"This drive will be similar to the one sponsored for the Boy Scouts. The Camp Fire needs money for kitchen equipment, chairs and maintenance on their club house. All money received will stay right here in Hereford and we are not setting a goal for the drive," said Wade.

The big project will get underway on Sunday.

Members of the finance committee include: V. O. Hennen, W. R. Hair, Berry Jacobsen, Ben Childers, Troy Moore, Wilbur Axe, Bruce Wooddell, Earl Plank, Jim Kirby and Ira Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bell of Silverton, Colo., announce the birth of a son, April 24. The baby weighed 9 pounds, five ounces, and has been named Mark Douglas. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. A. G. Bell of Hereford.

The Hereford Brand

Thursday, May 5, 1949 — Section Two

These pictures are of the irrigation school held at the Ed Dziuk and Walter Hodges farms south of Hereford, Tuesday, April 26, one of three such schools to be held in the Panhandle to focus attention on the importance of correct irrigation methods. In the scene below left, Ivan Wood, irrigation engineer for the Soil Conservation Service at Denver and Bob Thurmond, irrigation specialist with the Texas Extension Service, are shown demonstrating one of the methods they outlined. In the picture below right, a part of the 150 farmers who attended the school gather to watch county agent Hugh Clearman discuss methods of sprinkling from pit water with farmer Carl Frye. The photo above is a picture of Walter Hodges and Ed Dziuk, neighboring farmers whose land was used for conducting the school. (News-Globe Photos).

Agriculture Trends of Today Wouldn't Surprise Pioneers

By PHYLLIS RADOVICH

The visions that they saw, the early pioneers who settled Deaf Smith County, are beginning to unfold now, and if those long ago residents could, or do, come back to view the land that was once a rolling plainsland cattle and wheat kingdom, they might not be too surprised at the turn that agriculture has taken on their land.

For they were a far-sighted bunch—the hardy land breakers and cowboys who rode herd or planted prairies and they saw more in the land than was actually there to see.

The cotton gin, for instance, that rises in its aluminum painted majesty out on Highway 60, would not startle them completely. Modern methods and machinery might perk up their interest, but the 7,500 acres of cotton, which is the predicted planted acreage for 1949-50 would only call for an "I told you so."

In 1924 they had a big cotton boom on, but even back in the early 1900's people dreamed of cotton fields along the plains.

Sugar Beets Then, Too

And sugar beets, root plant stable that caught the fancy of growers in this Deaf Smith area about four years ago, and zoomed up to a booming 4,200 acres last year, isn't strictly an innovation either. Back forty years ago the Brand was carrying articles on sugar beets and how they grew, asking farmers to consider planting them here.

The degree of mechanization which farmers employ in planting, watering and harvesting their crops might fascinate the older boys, and they'd tug at their chain whiskers in amazement at the beet loaders, and beet dumps, but the vegetables, turned up out of the soil, is true to their early day plan.

But it was a cattle-and-wheat land to start with, and in reality it still is. Of the 548,000 acres under cultivation in the approximate one million acres of Deaf Smith County land, the largest single crop of cultivated land is given to wheat. Grain sorghums are second in command and irrigated pastureland is third.

Acreage Increases

This year farmers are raising 70,000 acres of wheat, 45,000 acres of grain sorghums, approximately 5,000 acres more of each crop than was planted last year. There are 11,000 acres of irrgiated pastureland.

Potatoes, which brought in more than a million dollars in farm revenues last year, account for about 4,000 acres of the land, alfalfa is sown on 5,000 acres and corn on about 6,000 acres of the land.

Truck garden crops such as onions, lettuce, carrots and cantelopes produced mineral-packed on the mineral-enriched soil of Deaf Smith, are sprouting up in patches, sometimes large, sometimes small. An estimated 3,000 acres of lettuce will take root around here. This particular crop has caught the fancy of lettuce growers all over the country and the possibilities in Deaf Smith are apparently such stuff as dreams are made on, if the claims should prove true.

Carrots got a sudden start last year, but enthusiasm for carrot growing died down after the 1948 season, apparently replaced by trial starts in 1949 on cantelopes. More than a hundred acres have been given over to the melons this year.

Irrigation Is The Difference

Of course it's irrigation that has made the difference in crop staples and diversified farming; the pioneers knew that too and they talked irrigation enthusiastically. Probably wouldn't astonish them to learn of the 3,000 wells in the Hereford trade territory, with almost half of them lying right within a 15 mile radius of the town.

Practically all the soil in the irrigated section is highly productive, according to the agriculture experts, but they warn that there is already some indication that several irrigated farms are becoming less produc-

Second Guessing

BACK OF HOME PLATE

By JERRY STOLTZ

Larry Loerwald left himself wide-open for second guessers with his ninth inning squeeze play strategy Sunday afternoon. Manager Larry called it the safe way, but it turned out otherwise. The second guessing comes in as to what Stan Barrett would have done if he had taken a full cut at the pitch instead of laying down the bunt. Would it have been a long fly (he had already hit two round trippers) which would have scored the runner on third with the winning run, or would he have hit into a double play? Larry didn't want to take the latter chance—resulting in a very close decision at the plate. Personally I thought George was safe.

The VFW'ers lost their zip with that play and the consequental bombardment Vega batters put on in the tenth was anti-climaxical.

However, I'm sure George Loerwald dropped Blue Turpin's throw to second that cut off a Vega steal earlier. The umpire wasn't in position to see it and called the runner out. The next Vega batter punched a clean single over short which would have scored the runner from second. This would have changed Larry's ninth inning strategy and possibly have won VFW a ball game.

Blue Turpin provided the most comical and some of the finest plays of the day. He caught a towering fly in front of the plate in the third for a third out when the bases were loaded then on the way to the dugout he told bleacherites not to ask him how he did it, because he didn't know. He made believers out of them later by completely missing one just in front of the plate which luckily was turned into an out when Ray Lueb picked it up to catch the hitter, who thought it was foul, at first. Then his "boner" to cap that

Failure of a ninth inning squeeze play cost Hereford VFW their Central Plains League opener Sunday afternoon at Veteran's Park, although the final 12-7 score doesn't show it.

Vega started the scoring in the second, after being stopped by a neat double play in the first, with two runs on a single, error and double. VFW tied it up in the fourth with a single and Stan Barrett's long, towering drive over the left field fence.

Vega took a two run lead again in the fifth with two singles, a walk and a pair of doubles. Two runners were caught trying to stretch hits, quelling what otherwise could have been a bad VFW inning. They lengthened it to four with a brace of runs in the sixth on three hits, a walk and fielder's choice.

Barrett Homers Twice

Stan Barrett hit his second home run with a mate on for VFW in the last of the sixth. Blue Turpin then scored in the seventh to make it 5-6. Vega picked up their 2-run margin again with one in the eighth on a single and VFW errors.

Stan Barrett went to first on an error to start the VFW half of the eighth. He stole second and scored on Lueb's single, who in turn scored the tying run on Stengal's hit. Vega was down one-two-three in the ninth and Carroll led off for VFW. He singled and advanced to second on Burdine's single. George Loerwald advanced both runners with a sacrifice bunt. Barrett bunted with the squeeze play on and Carroll was called out at the plate. Lueb flied to out and the fireworks fizzled for the home nine.

Vega shelled the outer garden with 6 hits including a triple and a homer in the extra inning to sew up the game.

VFW plays at Canyon next Sunday.

Kimbrough Leaves To Run In State

Neely Kimbrough, lone whiteface hope in the State Track Meet this weekend, and Coach Dalton Criswell are on their way to Austin. Neely will run in the 880 preliminaries Friday and the finals Saturday if he qualifies.

Kimbrough placed second to Horn of Whitedeer in the Greenbelt track meet Saturday night at Childress. Coach Criswell reports that his time of 2:07.3 was about the same as he ran in the district but that he finished with a little more kick.

Honor MOTHER with Gifts

On Her Day... Sunday, May 8th

Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago

"In the funniest political convention ever held in any man's country, presided over by the county chairman and participated in by just two men, Deaf Smith county's two votes in the state democratic convention to be held at Waco Ma/ 27 were instructed for McAdoo for president, and the delegates ordered to support McAdoo in the national convention." Thus begins a unique story in the May 6, 1904 Brand which continues:

"Owen P. Smith made the motion, Owen P. Smith seconded the motion, Owen P. Smith carried the motion with his ten votes against Carl Cockrell's four.

"Owen P. Smith then nominated Captain John Estes as a delegate from this county to cast both votes, and Homer K. Fox as alternate. Mr. Cockrell not assenting Mr. Smith seconded the motion and carried the motion with his ten votes against Cockrell's four."

The reason for this strange procedure is explained by the Brand: Precincts One and Two met in joint meeting to elect their delegates to the county convention. Those who were for McAdoo for presidential candidate, and against McAdoo were rather evenly divided, so the meeting broke up into precinct groups. Precinct One elected Carl Cockrell, E. B. Black, Rev. W. R. Hill, and Prof Dillehay as delegates to go "unrestricted." In Precinct Two, Owen P. Smith was chosen to cast the entire ten votes of the precinct "uninstructed." Already having stated that he was for McAdoo, and for instructed delegates, Smith interpreted his position to mean that he could do as he pleased in the county convention. When the county convention met, the only delegates were Carl Cockrell with four votes for Precinct One and Owen P. Smith. This is the way the Brand describes the meeting:

". . . Only Travis Dameron, county chairman, and Carl Cockrell, Precinct One, met with Mr. Smith. Mr. Smith, with ten votes in his hip pocket, smilingly put through the program, and smilingly moved adjournment. The Brand man and two or three other voters without a vote in the convention sat around and interestedly watched the smiling steam roller work. It was a thorough job and one that will stand in the county's history for years as the most unique stunt of the kind ever witnessed in political circles here or anywhere else."

And a golfing story in this issue of the 1904 Brand reports: "Eleven Hereford golfers played eleven Hillcrest golfers in Amarillo Sunday afternoon and emerged victorious from the fray with six of the contests safely won. The Amarillo report in Tuesday morning's paper had this score reversed and claimed victory for the Hillcrest men, but telephone conversation with the Amarillo secretary Tuesday revealed the misunderstanding about one match, and the victory of the Hereford men was conceded." Matches played and their results were: John Edmisson, Amarillo, defeated A. Herbst, Hereford; Bill Smith, Amarillo, defeated J. J. Clark, Hereford; W. W. Woolsey, Amarillo, defeated W. R. Steckman, Hereford; W. C. A. Rumpnell, Amarillo, defeated J. A. Pitman, Hereford; L. E. Clements, Amarillo, defeated H. J. Fox, Hereford; H. Wilkinson, Hereford, defeated W. H. Chandler, Amarillo; Dow Mercer, Hereford, defeated H. T. McGee, Amarillo; W. H. Russell, Hereford, defeated J. H. Croft, Amarillo; E. B. Williams, Hereford, defeated Walter Parr, Amarillo; Frank Marrs, Hereford, defeated W. J. Satterwhite, Amarillo; H. L. Rice, Hereford, defeated J. C. Rose, Amarillo.

Local items include: "Dr. J. A. and Mrs. Freeman went to Amarillo Saturday morning. Mr. Freeman left for Dallas Saturday afternoon at which place he will visit his son, Earl Freeman and family;" "Miss Thelma Oglesby returned to her home in Amarillo Monday morning. Miss Oglesby has been visiting her sister, Mrs. George L. Muse and family;" "Mrs. B. L. Branson and son, T. D. Branson of Fort Worth arrived here Tuesday morning."

Fruit fritters, for dessert, are delicious with a sprinkling of confectioner's sugar and a dusting of spice. Use nutmeg or mace, but dust it on sparingly.

Sour cream may be flavored with salt, sugar, and lemon juice and served as a dressing for fruit salad. Orange, grapefruit, and banana slices on romaine or watercress makes a particularly good salad for this dressing; sprinkle the banana slices with a little of the citrus juice to keep them from turning color.

For an easily-made Sunday night supper serve canned green asparagus (drained) on toast with cheese sauce and Canadian bacon. Use the liquid from the can for a cream soup.

Memorial To Disaster Victims

The family of M. D. Westmoreland, a volunteer fireman who died in the Texas City, Texas, disaster two years ago, kneels before the Serene Angel statue in Memorial Cemetery, Texas City. The statue was erected this week by members of the volunteer fire department in tribute to the firemen who lost their lives in the disaster. It was two years ago, on April 16, that the SS Grandcamp, loaded with ammonium nitrate, exploded at the docks in Texas City and set off fires and other blasts that took a toll of 576 dead, 4,000 injured and $50,000,000 (M) property loss. With Mrs. Westmoreland are her three sons (left to right), David, Don and Richard. (AP Wirephoto).

Mrs. Tannahill Is Hostess For Club

Mrs. Maurice Tannahill and Mrs. Delbert Kinsey were hostesses for the Child Study Club meeting held in the Tannahill home Thursday evening.

Plans for the final session of the year were outlined during the business portion of the meeting with Mrs. Merlin Kaul presiding as president. The final meet will take the form of a garden party and will be given at the home of Mrs. R. P. Coneway on May 12.

Mrs. Cawthon Bryant was leader of the program for the evening, reviewing an article "You and Your Child" by Zella M. Walters who gave a frank discussion from experiences as a teacher and mother. Mrs. Bryant named tolerance, brotherly love, unselfishness, obedience and cheerfulness as important virtues parents should encourage in their children if they are to learn true values. She cited Edison and Lincoln as examples of poor families where a mother set high standards with faith and understanding.

Mrs. Deward Roberson spoke on "Children Need Pets" making the statement that "All children are more or less lonely and need something to love as well as something to love them." She recommended a pet to help a child overcome an inferiority complex, to provide little jobs of love for a child to do and as an emotional stabilizer as it responds to love. She concluded her part of the program with a personality quiz and Mrs. Dale Tinnin was awarded a tulip corsage for a perfect score.

Members of the club present were Mesdames Cawthon Bryant, Worth Covington, Frank Daniel, Ira Foster, George Heard, Clinton Jackson, Merlin Kaul, J. C. Reese, Deward Roberson, Joe Story, Earl Springer, Dale Tinnin, Carroll Whiteside, J. L. Woodford, Herman Neff, Joe Wagoner, R. P. Coneway and the hostesses.

Two Minor Accidents Only One Broken Arm

A tourist from Minneapolis, Minn. was discharged from Deaf Smith County Hospital Friday after she received a broken arm in a minor car accident Thursday.

The traveler, Mrs. Stella Moury, was a passenger in a car driven by her brother. He drove off onto a slick road and hit a post. In backing up to turn around, his hister, who apparently was holding the door open, helping him get his directions, caught her arm in the door and broke it. This was the information given to hospital officials regarding the accident.

She was released Friday after her arm was set, and attendants reported her condition satisfactory.

Another minor collision occurred at the corner of Miles and Highway 60 about 6 p. m. Thursday evening.

The accident actually involved four cars according to patrolman McBrayer who investigated the accident. J. D. Lester, driving a 41 Ford coupe was going south on Miles when he stoped behind a pick-up at the stop sign on the intersection.

Another driver, coming out of Roberson's Service Station, apparently didn't have enough room to get out of the drive, so Lester pulled up to let him out and collided with a 1941 Oldsmobile car driven by Jeanne Kreighauser which was turning onto Miles from the highway.

No charges were filed in the accident and damage was negligible.

As A Teacher Sees It

By DELLA STAGNER

Around Junior High school I am known, if at all, just as the eighth grade arithmetic and science teacher. Perhaps there's nothing bad with such a label, but if I had my choice I'd change it. I'd rather be known as a teacher who places boys and girls in importance above subjects taught, and as one who believes that character education is more important than any arithmetic problem or scientific principle ever drilled into the mind of a child.

I'd like to be thought of as a teacher who strives to get her pupils to see that they are being educated in direct proportion to their ability to think for themselves; to make decisions that are both socially approved and morally right, and to recognize that each individual has a place in the general scheme of things, and that he must be equipped to fill his place if he is to be happy and of service to his fellow-man. Arithmetic and science are merely tools to be used for cultivating this growth. A means toward an end.

Then I'd like to be known as a teacher who believes that the only discipline worth having, in the school-room or elsewhere, is self discipline and that it is a part of my job to teach such by exemplary behavior as well as by other means. Again, having my choice, I'd like to be known as a teacher who holds that if I teach only arithmetic and science subject matter ever so well, and neglect or disregard character development, that I have failed as surely as though I were graded an "F."

Finally, I'd like to be known as a teacher who has an abiding faith in the goodness of boys and girls, and as one who feels that a little love and a great deal of patient understanding are perhaps the most helpful qualifications that a teacher can have. George E. Carrothers has said the same thing more beautifully in this way:

"'Tis the understanding spirit,
'Tis the soul resolved to give;
'Tis the love behind the lesson
That can make the lesson live!"

"Mother's Day"

By GERTRUDE BETZEN

For anyone who has done something great a national holiday is set aside.

Who is more deserving of this tribute than a mother? In the mothers of America and other nations of the world is our only hope for a lasting peace. It is they who train the children of today, the adult citizens of tomorrow.

It is the mother who makes the sacrifices that her children might have the things they want. It is the mother who must work to make a home. If someone else in the family is ill (unless seriously) life goes on much as usual but if the mother is ill the home cannot be cheerful. Everyone in it will go around with a long face. There is no laughter in the home when the mother cannot share it.

Who is it that we ask for when we are suffering—our mother. She alone can comfort us. A good mother brings light into her home and laughter and gaiety into the hearts of her family. Poor indeed is the home that has lost a mother.

Boys and girls, we don't realize what we have in our mothers. Pernaps, we do appreciate them but we do not show this appreciation enough.

Sunday, May 8 is Mothers' Day. Let us on this day remember all mothers whether living now or long since departed from the earth with a feeling of gratitude to them and reverence for them. Say a little prayer for the mothers who are suffering in this world of ours and ask God to grant them happiness and peace of mind for the rest of their days.

Just a few words to the Heavenly Father in behalf of the builders of all nations—OUR MOTHERS.

SPORTS SLANTS

By PAT CORBETT

I was talking to our school paper sponsor, Mr. Joe Smith, and he got to telling me about a good story in the New York Times Magazine and so I thought I would write a feature story this week instead of the regular column.

The column starts out telling the total major league games that have been played since the turn of the century. Want to take a guess how many? There have been at least 58,386 regularly scheduled games and when you throw in the all-star games and the world series you have quite a few games on the old baseball diamond. The fine article was written by Arthur Daley and is entitled, "Baseball's 'Ten Greatest Moments.'"

Mr. Daley's first story describes the biggest bone head play that has ever been pulled in a major league game. Or if not the biggest then it was the one that caused the most damage. The story was about a man named Fred Merkle. On a September day in 1908 the Giants and Cubs were battling it out for the National League pennant.

John McGraw was the manager of the Giants and Frank Chance was the manager of the Cubs. Going into the last half of the ninth inning, they were tied 1-1 with two men out, a man on first base and one on third. Al Birdwell, of the Giants, was at bat. He hit a sharp single off the Cub's pitcher. Jack Pfeister, and McCormick came home with the winning run for the Giants, they thought.

Fred Merkle was on first base, and when he saw McCormick go home he stopped short of second base and started for the clubhouse. Johnny Evers, the second baseman of the Cubs, called for the ball from the umpire and when he got the ball from the ump he started for second base, before he could get there the Giants pitcher, Christy Mathewson, wrestled him to the ground and Iron Man McGinnity got the ball and threw it over the fence. The umpire ruled that the run hadn't counted and the game was to be replayed.

After the season the Giants and Cubs tied for the lead and when the game was played off the Cubs won it 4-2, winning the pennant. To this day John McGraw still thinks he was robbed of the pennant.

The next story for today is about none other than Mr. Lou Boudreau, the manager of the championship Cleveland Indians. The tribe was tied for the league lead with the Boston Red Sox and they were going to play a run-off game with the Bosox at Boston. Lou started Gene Bearden and they both played some good baseball. The skipper got two home runs and two singles. This was one of the greatest individual exploits in baseball history. They won the series easy from the Braves after this thrilling game.

JUNIOR HIGH

There are two new students at Junior High School this week. They are Gloria Nell Jacobs and Peggy Jacobs. Both of the new students are from Friendship School near Lubbock.

The eighth grade commencement will be held on Thursday, May 19. It will take place in the Hereford High School auditorium.

Mrs. Hromas and Mr. Thomas directed the program for PTA on Tuesday, April 19. The theme of the program was safety and fire prevention.

With only three more weeks of school left the Junior High teachers and students are busy finishing their studies to be left until next year.

NOT IN STOCK

An American official stationed in China finally arranged to have his wife come over to join him. He asked his Chinese houseboy to make out a list of kitchen supplies that might be needed.

The boy came up with a neat handwritten document which included several interesting items:

Bacon powder, tomato soap, one woolen bowl, washing soup, one kitten knife, one flying pan.

CARL LEE

In reviewing the history of the west
In the story so often told,
It's always the tale of a frontier man
Who is both courageous and bold,
Like Buffalo Bill and other scouts,
Outlaws like the Dalton brothers.
But not one word is ever heard
Of the life of the frontier mothers.
Even now as you travel through the states to the West
You see a sign by the side of the road,
'Two miles to the grave of Billy the Kid
The outlaw's last abode."
In other states you will also find
The graves of many others.
While sage often blooms on the unmarked tombs
Of our pioneer mothers.
Now let's view the life of the pioneer bride
Who gave up a mansion so grand
For a prairie schooner and the man she loved
To conquer the untamed land.
Yes, she gave up the comfort of a city home
Her parents, a sister and brother.
And rode away that she might play
The role of a pioneer mother.
As the years rolled by, a son was born
To this couple one autumn day.
But the mother didn't have the strength to survive
Soon she passed away.
Unlike the men who died behind guns,
She died giving life to another.
In an unmarked grave now lies this
Brave unselfish pioneer mother.

LAUGHS

NO TAIL-LIGHT?

There had been a motor wreck. One of the drivers climbed out in a fit of temper and strode up to a man standing on the sidewalk, thinking him to be the driver.

"Say, where is your tail light?" he said.

The innocent bystander looked up at him. "Wot do you think I am—a bloomin' ligthnin' bug?"

THE DOCTOR'S CHILDREN

The doctor of a country village had two children who were acknowledged by the inhabitants as being the prettiest little girls in the district.

While the two children were out walking one day, they happened to pass quite near two small boys; one lived in the village and the other was a visitor.

"I say," said the latter to his friend, "who are those little girls?"

"They're the doctor's children," replied the village boy. "He always keeps the best for himself."

HEAD INJURY?

The inquisitive old lady was bending over the bed of a wounded soldier whose head was swathed with cotten and linen. "Are you wounded in the head, my boy?" she asked. "No'm," replied a faint voice. "I was shot in the foot and the bandage has slipped up."

HARD BED!

"Rastus, you god-for-nothing scamp, where have you been loafing all day? Didn't I tell you to lay in some coal?"

"Yassuh, boss. Ah's been layin' in the coal all day, tho' dere am lots of softer places whar ah'd ruther lay!"

EXPIRED!

"Do you wish the court to understand that you refuse to renew your dog license?"

"Yes, your worship, but . . ."

"We want no 'buts.' You will be fined. You know the license has expired."

"Yes, and so has the dog."

ABSENT MINDED

We're all heard about the absent-minded professor who poured syrup down his back and scratched his pancake, but the one that worries us is the one who poured catsup on his shoelaces and tied up his spaghetti.

POOR KITTY

Four-year old Bobby was stroking his cat before the fireplace in perfect content. The cat, also happy, began to purr loudly. Bobby gazed at her askance for a while. Then suddenly seized her by the tail and dragged her roughly away from the hearth. His mother interposed.

"You must not hurt your kitty, Bobby."

"I'm not," said Bobby, protestingly, "but I've got to get her away from the fire. She's beginning to boil."

DOUBLE SAFETY

A pretty airline hostess buzzed among the passengers as the plane taxied toward the runway. "Fasten your safety belts please," she chirped.

The passengers snapped to, all except one portly old gentleman.

Thinking the man was deaf, she spoke directly to him: "Fasten your safety belt, please sir."

"Why little lady!" he gasped, shocked. "Why, (gulp) I don't have to. I wear suspenders."

MONEY-MAKING SCHEME

Georgie: "If I could get someone to invest a hundred bucks in a scheme I have I could make a lot of money."

Porgie: "How much could you make?"

Georgie: "A Hundred bucks."

FREE PRESS

A Hollywood tailor shop sports his sign in the window:

"We believe in Freedom of the press; for every three suits we dry clean, we give you one free press."

A teacher asked her class to submit a couplet which would impress motorists with the need for careful driving in school areas. This was one of those handed in: "Drive slowly. Please obey instructions, we love our little tax deductions!"

NOW THERE ARE TWO

A Baltimore mother was much distressed by an accident in her household which seemed to indicate cruelty in one of her offspring.

"Oh, Harry," she exclaimed, "how cruel of you. Why did you cut the poor worm in two?"

"Well, Mother," answered Harry, "he seemed so lonely."

PERSONALITIES

We have only three more personality quizes for you this year, so see if you can interpret them.

NO. 1:
1. Likes climbing beans
2. Nickname resembles that of of a yellow freight train.
3. A great discoverer.
4. Guarded a tarsus ball.
5. Name related to that of the character who played "Janie" in the movies.

NO. 2:
1. Cares for sheep and flowers.
2. The last name is first choice
3. Had recent dealings with a crater.
4. Goes with a grasscutter.

Gets Key Post

Admiral Alan G. Kirk, above, former U. S. ambassador to Belgium, has been named by President Truman as ambassador to Russia. He succeeds Lt.-Gen. Walter B. Smith, now commanding the First Army.

The Swish of The Tail

My, My, after two weeks you can still hear occasional groans from one of the Seniors, somewhere or other. I guess they will remember that trip forever, all the bruises and everything.

I haven't heard as yet how the band came out at their Annual Band contest at Canyon. I'm sure they did swell—in fact, if they are from Hereford, I know they did wonderful!

Wandering around the halls lately you often pick up the old saying, "I wish the Glee Club sweaters would come. It is soon gonna be too hot to wear them." If it keeps up the slow pace, we will have to have school a week longer. Ha! Ha!

Practically all you hear among the senior girls is "I just don't have the slightest idea what I'm gonna wear for graduation. White is the prettiest but I don't particularly care for white." Wouldn't all the seniors look pretty if they all wore white with those beautiful flowers they are going to receive from that marvelous junior class—THEY HOPE!

I do declare; I don't know what the weather is coming to—one day it is cold, the next hot, and the next you have such a bad cold you can't tell what kind of weather it is!

Did you ever have to write a theme entitled "My Personality?" Well, if you haven't just wait until you are a senior and Mr. Sullivan will see what he can do about it. I bet there have been more broken mirrors in Hereford than ever—you sit in front of the mirror on your dresser, and then before you know it—NO MIRROR! It really is a lot of fun though, and you really learn a lot about yourself that you didn't know.

Have you heard the Glee Club Club practicing lately? They are getting ready for the Baccalaureate Service, May 15, in the auditorium. They are really beginning to sound pretty.

Does it seem as if we have been in H. H. S. for nine whole months? I just can't believe it—and just think of the seniors—poor things not getting to come back next year. Oh well, it happens to the best of people, and to the best of families.

I am quite sure everyone is happy to see Betty and Squeak back in school again. They are rather pale, but I bet you would look pale too if someone had yanked your appendix out. Everyone will also be happy to see Naomi Carter back in school again also for the same reason. Poor things should learn to stay healthy!

Well, since nothing else has happened around here, I will stop yapping for the time being.

Everyone be sweet!

Mrs. J. W. Covington arrived Thursday for a short visit with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Covington. She returned to her home in Turkey on Friday.

Farm Bureau Dinner Meeting Is Tuesday

Farm Bureau members and their families will hold their first general meeting since the membership drive Tuesday night at the Lions-Rotary Hall announced Clarence Morrison, president.

A dinner and entertaining evening, combining business with pleasure is on the schedule, beginning with dinner to be served at 8 p. m. The home demonstration clubs of the county have been invited to serve this meal.

After the dinner Austin Crownover, an official of the state Farm Bureau organization, will speak to the crowd and Walter Upchurch, who was chosen as the representative of the Panhandle Wheat farmers to appear before the agriculture committee in Washington last week, will report on the activities and decisions made at that meeting.

The Hereford Barber Shop Quartet will provide the musical entertainment for the evening, and Morrison will act as toastmaster for the occasion.

All members of the Farm Bureau and their families are invited to attend this meeting, Morrison announced. The membership drive, which was concluded in March, gained a total membership for the organization of about 80 farmers.

Personals

Miss Neville Wrenn of Lubbock, former science teacher in Hereford High School, spent the week end with Miss Jonnie Estes in Hereford. She accompanied Miss Mary Lou Roberson who was visiting relatives here. Both Miss Roberson and Miss Wrenn are members of the Lubbock high school faculties.

Garden Club Meets Friday

Garden Beautiful Club will meet in the home of Mrs. J. W. Kirby Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Subject for the afternoon's program will be "Two Freedoms of the Garden."

Medium-sized sweet potatoes will usually bake in a moderately hot oven in about half an hour. When they are ready they may be served as is or removed from the shell and mashed with butter or margarine, salt and freshly ground pepper; a little celery salt may also be added when mashing, if desired.

Second Guessing

was a foul which hit about 15 feet back while he was getting another ball from the ump. Again luckily the next pitched ball was a third strike and it didn't matter. He watched the fouls the rest of the day. Blue deserved a good pat for the plucky diving putout he made earlier to cut a run off. He was having a lot of fun, and he also wasn't the only one making mistakes. His were just closer to the grandstand.

Enough for baseball—the boys played a very interesting, if somewhat erratic game, the unexpected was closer to the rule than the expected, but the crowd ate it up. They really came to their feet applauding in the ninth when a Vega runner was cut down going into third trying to make two bases on a single to left-center and then the batter was trapped between second and first trying for the extra base on the play at third.

Fish rodeo season is apparently going full blast with Anglers winning trips to Alaska and various other prizes. Superman, the $400 tagged fish that died in Buffalo a few days ago is to be replaced soon.

Let us hear from some of you fellows on how it is done if you catch one so we can pass the "know-how" on to the unfortunates, us too.

Jack Wilkins caught five nice sized channel cat Sunday at Buffalo. I understand he was casting with shrimp way out in the shallows.

Golfers can soon put in a few practice licks, according to Jim Terry. He says his driving range will be ready as soon as they get the electric wires down to the course and wired up. All of the greens are seeded. A little water, sunshine and luck and the divot diggers will be hard at it soon.

Any of you who have a special opponent ought to keep tab on him because there's someone down there practicing pretty regularly.

Mrs. J. H. Dobbs Will Test Gauge At May 18 Home Demonstration Meet

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

There were about 100 present or church Sunday. Rev. Harper of Hereford preached in Rev. Shannon's place. Several visitors from Hereford were present. Other visitors were Misses Alice Lee and Martha Criswell of Lubbock, who were spending the week end with Miss Lee's sister, Mrs. Henry Andrews and family. Another visitor was Mrs. Alma Spruill of Loco, Okla., who is spending this week with her brother, J. E. Andrews, and other relatives.

Mrs. Alma Spruill of Loco, Okla., accompanied the W. S. Littrells home on Friday. The Littrells have been visiting friends in Oklahoma for the past several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robbins and Carrol Sue and Miss Lyla Robbins left Saturday for a visit with relatives in central Tennessee. They expect to be home the first of next week. Mrs. H. D. Robbins is teaching the third grade at the Springlake school while Lyla is away.

J. B. and Wade Thompson spent Saturday night and Sunday in Amarillo with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Fisher.

Mrs. Carl Carey and son of Sundown visited her sister, Mrs. Henry Andrews the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Little took Sunday night supper and spent the night with his mother, Mrs. Little, at Hereford. The occasion was in honor of Little's birthday, which was Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Snow and family spent Saturday night with the Thompsons.

Gladys Thompson was skating with friends on Thursday night at the new skating rink in Dimmitt. The rink is locally owned, having recently been built by Dimmitt business men.

Frances and Veradelle Andrews were visiting Sunday in the H. F. Benson home. Miss Genelle Benson was entertaining them, honoring Frances's birthday, which was on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vogler are announcing the arrival of a son, born April 30, whom they have named Harry James. Mrs. Vogler and son are at the Hereford Hospital.

Miss Ella Vogler, Mr. Vogler's sister is staying in the Vogler home helping care for the family.

Because of the rain, not enough members were present for the H. D. club meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Robbins last Thursday. The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. N. McClure on May 12.

Little Sheila Jo is the new member in the Harold Balze family. The other daughter is little Miss Karen La Von.

J. H. Simpson has been in the Dimmitt hospital since Tuesday of last week. He recently returned from Dallas, where he received medical treatment.

Week end guests in the Olin Parris home were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Parris and grandmother, Mrs. Poindexter, all of Lubbock.

The E. B. Berrymans spent the week end in Wellington with his parents, who are ill.

Mr. and Mrs. David Yandell and Rose were Sunday dinner guests of the Irwin family and visited the W. H. Thompson and "Shorty" Hollis families in the afternoon.

The Robert Lamb family of Borger, were dinner guests Friday in the W. H. Andrews home, as they were enroute home after a visit with other relatives in New Mexico.

Andrews, Dobbs and Andrews were in Clovis with some cattle Thursday and Friday at the sale. Sam and Harmon Lindley and Henry Andrews helped them haul.

On May 18, everyone is invited to bring pressure cookers to the Owen Andrews home, where Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. J. H. Dobbs will test the gauges. This is a Home Demonstration club project, and is considered important because many times gauges which have become inaccurate cause the loss of food canned and waste of labor. A fee of ten cents is to be charged by the club for non club members, for each cooker tested. Not more than thirty minutes will be required for testing each cooker and three cookers can be tested at once as three master gauges are supplied by the H. D. Council. The clubs in the county are taking turns using the equipment and Frio's turn is the 18th.

Seven Bank Employees Attend Banking School

A class in the fundamentals of banking is being conducted twice a week at the Hereford State Bank by William R. Phillips, cashier. The seven students in the class represent the First National Bank and the Hereford State Bank here and the Friona State Bank at Friona.

Meeting on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 4:30 until 6 p. m. the class first convened in February and will probably last until June. It is a 14 hour survey course which touches on the history of banking, departments of a bank, manner of operation and such fundamentals of banking practices.

Authorized by the American Institute of Banking which is a branch of the American Banker's Association, it conforms to a regular course of study offered to all bank employees.

Participating in the course at present are Lola Goodwine and Charles Allen of Friona, L. E. Goss, Hope Bowman, Myron Morgan, Don Gardiner, and Wayne Williams of Hereford.

The over-all course of study includes four fundamental courses, four standard courses and then specialized courses. The work offered at present is the first of the fundamental courses. The other three are on negotiable instruments, commercial law and economics.

Phillips said at present officials were planning to offer the other three in semi-annual sessions, probably presenting the next one in the fall.

Cost for the course include an enrollment fee, membership in the American Institute of Banking and purchase of the text book.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boyd of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Houser of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Hereford were callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sevier Sunday.

Agriculture

tive each year as a result of improper management.

There has been a very marked increase in the number of irrigation units in the last three years. With the increase in irrigation there has come about a gradual change in the kinds of crops grown as well as a change in farming practices, in general. Farmers on irrigated farms reduce the acreage devoted to wheat and increase acreage of other crops accordingly.

Just as it was the wind that proved the salvation of this country originally, it is the water below the soil that is proving the possibilities of the land today. And the man of 1898 who worked and watched while the town of Hereford had its birth, who looked at the whirling windmills turned by the powerful winds that swept the plains, and saw in his dreams fertile crop-producing lands instead of barren prairies of wheat that grew by whims, had a vision which has reached fulfillment.
