SENATE TOLD OF MOVE ON POOR FARMER

LEADERS OF FINANCE BLAMED FOR LOW PRICED COTTON

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Arthur Marsh, former president of the New York Cotton Exchange, suggested today before a senate subcommittee investigating cotton exchanges that Henry Ford and Julius Rosenwald of Sears Roebuck and Company, be called to tell how the condition of the cotton farmer of the south could be improved.

The proposal was a preliminary to an attack on methods used by the concerns of which Ford and Rosenwald are heads. Marsh said Ford was an outstanding exponent of high wages for labor, but his buyers were "remorseless" in using every "possible expediency" to drive down the price of cotton fabric used by Ford's plants in large quantities.

Drive Prices Down
The witness also told the subcommittee that buyers of Sears Roebuck and company, Montgomery Ward and company, and Woolworth's, who use one-fifth of the cotton goods manufactured, were the "most remorseless drivers down" of cotton prices.

He added that in an effort to meet competition of the chain stores, independent dry goods stores had organized buying syndicates with great purchasing power.

"All are combined," he said, "to throw the risk of price back on that poor devil (the cotton farmer) who cannot help himself."

Intimate Chats

with Eve Ve Verka on PERSONALITY-BEAUTY-HEALTH

Jaime Ve Verka Will Conduct The Avalanche-Journal Free School of Beauty And Charm, February 3-5

Exercise shouldn't be such a bug-a-boo. The actual time it requires can be placed in as few minutes as a day. That isn't many minutes out of the twenty-four hours, is it, for so important a thing?

And it isn't such dreadfully hard work. As a matter of fact, the most efficient exercises are usually the simplest. Many times it is because we adopt a system of advanced gymnastics that we become discouraged and give up the idea altogether.

Muscles to be strong and healthy and beautiful must be used. Muscles unused become soft and spongy and unhealthy. An arm bound to the body in an immovable position for a period of time, atrophies so far as usefulness is concerned. It hangs helplessly when released; it shrivels and is of no value to its owner.

Lack of adequate exercise brings about in proportionate degree just that very condition throughout the body. Not only do round sturdy beautiful arms become lank and flaccid, and contours become indelicate and bulky (or angular and harsh), but also every part of the bodily machine is impaired.

The entire structure of the body is suspended on its skeleton by its muscular system. Many ills follow when the tone of this muscle deteriorates. Prolapse, or sagging of the vital organs, is one result.

Lungs which are never exercised feel this deterioration. Many of the vital functions, such as the elimination of the waste products of the convened for its regular biennial session on January 8, 1929. It was in session a total of 144 days during the year, the third called session having ended on July 20 last and there having been interims between sessions.

There will be three recommendations bearing on prison centralization before the legislature. The major report will oppose a new central plant with industrial equipment on a site of 1,000 acres within 20 miles of Austin. While the estimated cost is $4,000,000, it is proposed to appropriate $1,000,000 the first year and $300,000 annually thereafter until it is completed.

Two minority reports suggest rehabilitation of the present walls at Huntsville and construction of a central plant on the Imperial State farm near Houston, respectively.

Isolation Demanded
The Governor, referring to the prison system, said "humanitarian consideration, state pride and the economic welfare of the state call for a prompt solution of this public problem."

Referring to the fee committee's report, the governor said it attempted to show that some county officers are receiving as much as $22,000 net per year; that with apparent legal sanction some county officers are placing trust funds in banks and drawing and retaining interest on the daily balances; that with apparent legal authority certain officers are being allowed additional compensation over and above that fixed by law; that fees in delinquent tax suits are more burdensome than just; and that certain communities are entering into contracts for delinquent taxes at unreasonable rates of compensation to the contractor.

BANKRUPTCY FACING CITY

CHICAGO OFFICIALS GET INTO WRANGLE AS TO BUDGET

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. — Chicago's city council still was deadlocked today over its 1930 budget; 25,000 city employees still were awaiting pay checks—and the president of the board of education predicted closing of schools.

Aldermanic leaders, the corporation counsel, Silas H. Strawn, (of the Citizens' Rescue Committee), and others representing both sides of the controversy over the nature of the budget, conferred and reported "just friendly discussion." The afternoon newspapers said, however, they learned definitely the conferees were unable to agree.

Cannot Amend Items

Administration forces insist the city council cannot amend items in the budget not vetoed by the mayor and their insistence is backed by a legal opinion from the corporation counsel which says amendment of the items is illegal. The opposing forces are determined the budget shall not exceed anticipated tax collections, and in line with this determination they seek to transfer necessary economies from the police and fire departments to other branches of the public service. It was economies in the police and fire departments, calling for the dismissal of hundreds of men, that the mayor vetoed.

The finance committee of the board of education continued work on the school budget with a confessed feeling of futility. President H. Wallace Caldwell, of the board said:

"The school system is bankrupt and the school probably will be closed in a few weeks. There is no money available and I have learned definitely that tax anticipation warrants cannot be sold."

FRUIT FLY FUNDS LOW

FLORIDA IS HAVING TO RELY ON STATE FOR WORK

(By Associated Press)

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Jan. 14.—Lack of funds has halted the work of Mediterranean Fruit Fly eradication in Florida, the state plant board announced here today.

Inspection of commercial groves and packing plants and the enforcement of the federal quarantine regulations will be maintained, but federal funds for eradication work such as spraying and the general clean up of drops have been exhausted, it was said.

The news followed closely upon an exchange of arguments between political leaders over the advisability of a proposed $15,000,000 appropriation by the federal government for continued eradication work. Chairman Woods of the house appropriations committee, charged "woeful waste of funds in eradication work" and drew a retort from Senator Fletcher of Florida, that the "placed no credence in assertions that there had been maladministration of funds."

Today's news brought the statement from the federal secretary of agriculture, Arthur M. Hyde, that despite Chairman Woods' assertion the fruit fly was a "bugaboo" and the department of agriculture had been "taken in," he would continue his support for the $15,000,000 appropriation.

CATHOLIC BISHOP SCORES THEATER

HOUSTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Disapproval of the modern theater was voiced today by Rt. Rev. C. E. Byrne, D. D., Catholic bishop of the diocese of Galveston, speaking before the Galveston Diocesan council of the National Council of Catholic Women, meeting in a two-day session here.

Bishop Byrne quoted E. H. Southern and declared that the great actor has condemned the modern stage as vulgar and unworthy of its glorious traditions.

The speaker denounced indecent books, magazines and newspaper articles.

He appealed to the women to lend their influence in keeping unseemly music, unworthy art and inferior decorations from Catholic churches.

Father Edwin B. O'Hara of Washington spoke last night before the council on the technical subject of "the meaning of the diocesan council." A number of distinguished clergymen from various sections of Texas attended.

The council session will be concluded tomorrow.

GIRL TESTIFIES TO FREE FATHER

TEXARKANA, Jan. 14. (AP)—Having sworn to the falsity of her testimony which sent her father, James C. Duke, 62, to the state penitentiary, Viola Duke, 19, was en route to Memphis today to the Home of the Good Shepherd where she is an inmate.

Upon the girl's testimony that her father had attacked her, Duke was sent to the penitentiary six years ago from Corsicana, Texas. Because the law demands it the girl came back to Texas to make her deposition.

The father had asserted several times that he pleaded guilty to the charge because he feared that he would have been electrocuted had he pleaded not guilty and been convicted on trial.

The deposition of the girl will eventually reach the state pardon board. She said she had made previous attempts to gain her father's liberty.

COOK'S PAROLE GETS OPPOSITION

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 14. (AP)—The parole application of Dr. Frederick A. Cook to be heard by the parole board in session at Leavenworth will be opposed by the Better Business Bureau of Kansas City. George M. Huser, manager, announced today.

Huser said the bureau here had co-operated with other bureaus in 1923 in procuring evidence to convict the erstwhile Arctic explorer and his associates in an alleged scheme for using the mails to defraud. "The bureau believes that to set Dr. Cook free now after he has served less than five years of a 14-year and 9-month sentence imposed at Fort Worth, Tex., would nullify the victory won by state and federal authorities," Huser declared.

"We do not desire to keep any man in prison except to protect the public," it does not seem to us that five years is sufficient atonement for defrauding the public," Huser added.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE RULES STATE GRID TITLE TIED

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS
WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Failure of the Tahoka high school basketball team to appear here last week in a pair of scheduled games with the Lubbock Westerners caused the postponement of the initial public showing of Coach Del Morgan's high school cagers. Local fans will get their first opportunity to see the Westerners in action Wednesday night of this week when the Lubbock crew tackles the Idaho Wildcats in a practice scrimmage. Coach L. F. Swinney has developed another formidable basketball team at Idaho this season and is hoped to make a strong bid for the county and district titles.

The Westerners battled the Matadors reserves at Tech to a close decision Saturday night in a practice tilt, the collegians winning out 15 to 8. Coach Morgan is well pleased with the progress shown by his pupils within the last week and Lubbock High may have a strong basketball team after all.

Earnest Dowell, captain and quarterback of the 1929 Western football team, played on the championship high school football team in New Mexico during the last grid season at Clovis. H. A. Castleberry, stellar wingman on the Lubbock club of '28, also held a regular berth on the Clovis eleven. Clovis was the only high school team in the Sunbush State to finish the season undefeated and has been recognized by the Associated Press as the state champion. Clovis won the Intercollegiate League championship in Texas, the New Mexico high school football race is divided into five "zones." In the event of a tie between two teams, the one with the most touchdowns is declared the winner. Last season no playoff was necessary as Clovis was the only club to complete its schedule without a loss in its slope with a clean slate.

Here for a brief visit with relatives and friends, Earnest contends that high school football as played in New Mexico is on a plane with Texas Intercollegiate League competition. We reminded him that Slaton, a Texas Coach B. club poured it on Clovis to the tune of 30-0 in an early season game, but Earnest retorted with something about Lubbock High beating Slaton only 7 to 0. Even at this, the figures show Lubbock to have a 27-point stronger club than Clovis and Lubbock didn't win the state championship in Texas.

Football fans of District One will watch with interest the numerous changes that are due to occur in the coaching fraternity of this section. No less than four teams in this district are likely to have new leaders when the 1930 season gets under way, not including Lubbock. Practically every high school coach in the state with any reputation has been mentioned as the possible successor of "Dutch" Smith of Amarillo, but apparently no action has been taken as yet by the Amarillo school authorities. We have no official word that Heinie Weir has resigned at Vernon, but the Lions are practically assured of having a new coach next season. School officials at Quanah have openly made an attempt to find a new coach for the Indians, but Jim Bradford's successor is yet to be selected. Plainview is another city that is in line for a new regime and if the Bulldogs land a wide-awake mentor, they are certain to give somebody some trouble next season.

It is generally understood that Barry Holton will be back at Wichita Falls and that Harvey Stanford will return to Electra. Both Wichita and Electra are due to have much stronger clubs next season, and especially the former. It will naturally take some time for Holton to get his intricate style of play going at the Coyote headquarters, but once this style has been mastered, the opposition had better saddle their nules.

Spring football training at Lubbock High school will start as soon as the present cold spell subsides. It is learned from Western school headquarters. We have just been wondering what this army of grid candidates will use for dressing quarters, starting out in the big middle of a basketball season and with forty cagers using just about all available locker accommodations. Coach Henry Franks had previously planned to begin spring training early this year in order that the annual spring winds might be avoided. This, as we have said before, appears on the surface to be a wise move, but the plan may conflict too directly with the basketball season to be worked out smoothly.

Arthur M. Beale, a Harvard star of the '20's, who played four years at quarterback, is one of the old-timers far from satisfied with the new fumble rule, which appears designed to stay in the football rules for 1930. Here's his side of the question:

"The present fumble rule is arbitrary and not logical. There is no reason why the defense may not run with a recovered fumble. The ball has always been capable of being carried by offense and defense. That is the original fundamental play in Rugby. "Why rule that the offense may recover their own fumble and rush again and at the same time prevent the defense from doing the same thing while the ball is alive? There is absolutely no reason except that the rules committee are hard put to do something. American Rugby and its troubles and defects are the results of treating symptoms. "The rule is bad from the sporting standpoint. In the blind mad chase, fumbles are often caused by temporary nerve paralysis, loss of

MATADORS IN PLAYING FORM MONDAY NIGHT

LOCALS FLASH STRONG ON COURT TO WIN, 53 TO 31

Howard Payne sent a fast basketball quintet to Lubbock to battle the Tech Matadors, but the Yellow Jackets weren't good enough last night to cope with a rampaging Crimson-clad basket shooters. In the first game of their two game series, the visitors taking a 53 to 31 beating right on the button.

As the score indicates, the Tech dribblers were "hot" last night and it is extremely doubtful that any college club in the state could have outscored them during their goal shooting jamboree. The exhibition was one of those fast and furious combats that keeps the spectators in a constant uproar and one in which both teams wonder when the other is going to slow down.

The Matadors overcame a few-point lead early in the first stanza and set a dashing pace throughout the period. The half ended with the locals leading, 30 to 19, after the Jackets had fought back doggedly in an attempt to balance the count. Although slowed down considerably by the fast pace of the first period, the Matadors continued their scoring act in the second half while the Jackets were trying desperately to stage a comeback which never materialized. Maxwell and Rodgers continued to shine in this period, accounting for 16 of the 23 points scored by the Crimson during the last 20 minutes.

When the final whistle had sounded and the dust had cleared, Bill Maxwell topped the scorers for the night with 10 field goals and a total of 20 points. Rodgers was close behind with 18 points. Neither of the offensive stars for the Matadors played the full game. Tadlock played a leading role in the Tech victory, turning in one of the best defensive performances of his college career.

Marecek, bespectacled Jacket forward, led the visitors in scoring with 10 points to his credit, but it was Wolf, rangy guard on the Howard Payne quintet, that stood out. Wolf proved a thorn in the side of the Matador forwards throughout the combat, jumping high into the air repeatedly to recover a poor shot from a Tech player.

Again it was clearly shown that Coach Payne has one good basketball team but no more. Each substitution weakened the club and only for the purpose of relieving the regulars can the reserves be used to advantage.

Tonight, starting at 8 o'clock, the same teams met again in the second and final game of the series. Simmons Cowboys are here Thursday night for a single encounter with the Matadors.

Wesley College Is Winner Over Bruins

GREENVILLE, Jan. 14 (AP)—Coach Doe Rollins' Wesley College Panthers defeated the Brunswick College Bruins here last night, 38 to 27, in the opening game of the Texas Junior College Conference basketball race. Shaddix, Bruin forward, led the scoring with 12 points. Wind or unconsciousness. It is not in the least a sporting proposition to take a ball away from an unconscious opponent, yet the slogan since 1893 has been "tackle low and hard" with the purpose (among others) of producing a fumble.

WESTERNERS TO BE HONORED

Tickets were placed on sale this afternoon for the annual Lubbock High school football banquet which will be held Friday night at the First Christian church, honoring the entire Western squad and high school coaching staff.

A special program, featuring the presentation of the 1929 letter men, has been arranged by those in charge of the event. Plans for the next football campaign will also be worked out by the group.

The banquet will start at 7 o'clock.

OHIOAN TAKES LEAD IN LOS ANGELES OPEN

DENSMORE SHUTE TOPS LIST WITH 222 CARD IN TOURNAMENT

BY PAUL ZIMMERMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14 (AP)—Densmore Shute, Ohio's young professional golf champion, today was knocking at the treasury door of the Los Angeles $10,000 open tournament.

Three strokes ahead of the field of 47 other campaigners for first place and $3,500 prize money, the entrant from Columbus, with a card of 222 for 84 holes, looked to the final eighteen as an opportunity to make his first bow as an important titleholder.

None Too Safe
This margin, which he increased by 18 holes in his play after going into the lead Sunday, was none too safe for in second position were Horton Smith and Bobby Cruickshank with scores of 225.

Five strokes back of Shute came three professionals, Tommy Armour, Detroit; Al Espinosa, Chicago; and Chet Beer, Bakersfield, Calif., all within reach of the lead with 227s.

It was MacDonald Smith, defending champion, who staged the best fight of the day. He turned in a 71 on the second time perfect figures were equal or better in the tourney, to boost himself to a tie for ninth place with 230.

Leo Diegel, national P. G. A. champion, finished in seventh place after 54 holes of play, with 228 still in the money, but almost beyond a chance to take first. A stroke behind him came Johnny Rogers of Denver, whose sensational 70 on the opening day has not been eclipsed.

Harry Cooper, winner of the first Los Angeles open in 1926, was far down the list with a 232, but even farther behind came Johnny Farrell, former open champion; Joe Kirkwood, Tony Manero, Johnny Golden, Abe Espinosa, Bill Mitchell, and other veterans, with scores ranging from 233 to 244.

WILSON LOSES TO RALLS CAGE CREW

(Special to The Journal)
RALLS, Jan. 14—Ralls Jackrabbit came from behind here last night to win over the strong Wilson High school cagers, 23 to 14, in one of the hardest fought basketball games seen on the local court this year.

The visitors took the lead over the Rabbits at the outset and were off to an early lead, but the Rabbits came back to overtake their opponents and were never headed. Stiller of Wilson carried off high point honors with 8 points to his credit. Walker and King of Ralls, with six points each, led the visitors' scoring attack. Holman, lanky Wilson center, was the individual star of the contest.

Tuesday night the same teams play again here. Coach Jimmy Kitts and his Athens Hornets, national high school cage champions, will pay their annual visit to the Jackrabbit stronghold Friday and Saturday nights.

PHILADELPHIA AND ST. LOUIS TIE IN FIELDING AVERAGES DURING SEASON; WILLIE KAMM RETAINS HIS CHAMPIONSHIP

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—The world champion Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns had the tightest defense of all American league clubs in 1929, official fielding averages disclosed today.

The Athletics accepted 5,684 chances and the Browns 5,971, each compiling a season's average of .975, or three points higher than the leading mark recorded by Washington in 1928 and two points less than the all-time major league record established by the New York Yankees in 1923.

Detroit Leads in Errors
Detroit, leader in team hitting was last in team fielding, making 242 errors for an average of .961.

Only one player, Willie Kamm of the Chicago White Sox, retained his fielding championship. Kamm defended his third base post at a .978 clip, accepting 491 chances and making but 11 errors in 145 games. In 1928 he fielded .977.

Judge Leads Sackers
Joe Judge, Washington veteran, led the first baseman. He played in 142 games, made 1,324 putouts and 88 assists and only six errors for an average of .996. Lew Fonseca of Cleveland, new American League batting champion, was second to Judge with a .995 average.

Charles Gehring, Detroit's youthful second baseman, was the best defensive player of the year around the keystone station. He had 494 putouts, 561 assists and 23 errors in 154 games for a .975 mark. Gehring also participated in 93 double plays. John Hodapp of Cleveland had an average of .977, but he completed in only 72 games.

Shortstops were unusually mediocre on defense in 1929, the averages revealed, with Joe Boley of the Athletics the best in the field with a .963 average, the same mark with Walker and King of Ralls, with six points each, led the visitors' scoring attack. Holman, lanky Wilson center, was the individual star of the contest.

Tuesday night the same teams play again here. Coach Jimmy Kitts and his Athens Hornets, national high school cage champions, will pay their annual visit to the Jackrabbit stronghold Friday and Saturday nights.

Tunney Recovering From Operation Selph Obtained By Houston Club Again

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight champion, was recovering in Presbyterian hospital today from an operation performed by Dr. George Winthrop Fish yesterday.

Houston, Texas, second baseman, has been obtained by Houston from the St. Louis Cardinals. Fred Ankenman, Buff president, announced today. His work with Houston in 1928 was a material factor in bringing it the championship.

HIS AVERAGE SALARY FOR GAME IS OVER $300 IN 16 YEARS

By CLAIRE BURCKY
NEA Service Sports Writer
With an act which consisted of swinging a small piece of against a round pellet flung at him by the pitching interlocutors of the American League, Babe Ruth has earned more than $500,000 during the last 16 years.

And now, offered a stipend of $75,000 a year—equal to the salary of President Hoover—Mr. Ruth enjoys a widely published grin and asks please if he can have some more. Sighting bills that are to become laws of the United States and autographing baseballs are two different pastimes, and though Mr. Hoover gets $75,000 a year he never has had a home run.

Because of his home run privileges, Ruth offers his services to the Yankees for $100,000 a year in a contract to hold three years. Mr. Ruth, however, condescends to perform for three years at $85,000 per annum provided he is exempt from the rigors of exhibition games.

Rejection of the Yankee offer was accompanied by a Ruthian guffaw. Tittering was evident between Colonel Ruppert and Ed Barrow as they set aside the Bambino's demand. The standing show a laugh apiece and one ultimatum for each side.

"Ruth has my terms and the next move must come from him," declares the Babe. "The president gets a four-year contract. I'm only asking for three."

Babe Ruth has been the property of the Yankees for ten years. Records reveal that Ruth has gone into action 1369 times in regularly scheduled American League encounters, from the time he became a member of the Boston Red Sox in 1914. Early in his career he was a good pitcher, but his fancy for hitting baseballs to great distances wrought a change. For a long time he has been an outfielder.

The Bambino has made $394,068 for every ball game he has played in the American League. His salary over 16 years, not including home-run bonuses, baseball and vaudeville exhibitions, testimonials, and so forth, reached $544,000, growing from $2,500 in his first season to $70,000 a year on his last contract.

If the Babe had been on piecework at the rate of his total earnings, he would have been paid during the season of 1929 more than $1,000 for each of his home runs, as he passed the

BUCKAROOS, JACKETS ARE JOINT CHAMPS

STATE COMMITTEE SAYS NO CHAMPION SHALL RULE FOR YEAR

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Jan. 14—The state executive committee of the Texas Intercollegiate League Monday decided that 1929 Texas high school football championship should be shared jointly by the Breckenridge Buckaroos and the Fort Arthur Yellow Jackets.

These two finalists played to a scoreless tie at Waco. Breckenridge claimed the game by reason of having made more penetrations of the opposing team's 20 yard line but the committee would not recognize the contention.

The meeting was presided over by T. H. Shultz, dean of the extension service of the University of Texas and chairman of the league executive committee.

Lewis Bests Iowan With Rabbit Punches

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 14 (AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, today held a victory over the flying tackle with which Gus Svenberg deprived him of his world wrestling title. After losing a fall to Howard Cantonwine of Iowa, who used the football attack, Lewis evaded several other tackles and took the deciding two falls with a headlock and free use of rabbit punches.

500 mark during the 1929 season. In acquiring such baseball wealth, the Babe has chased his name in many conspicuous spots throughout the Hall of Fame. From 29 homers, his first major league home run record, he boosted the mark to 34 and then to 35. At last reports it remained at 30 game runs, made in the season of 1927. The fact that Ruth led the American League in batting one year, won the most valuable player award another year and contributed other items such as driving in the most runs and drawing the most passes seems incidental.

By the way, the Babe will be 36 years old Feb. 7. He plans to celebrate the occasion in Florida and expects a contract to his liking as a birthday present from the Yankee owners.

Thought For Today

Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; therefore despise not the chastening of the almighty.—Job 5:17.

God sometimes washes the eyes of His children with tears in order that they may read aright His providence and His commandments.—T. L. Cuyler.

Spill The Beans?

The Navy Department, it is reported, is making an inquiry into General Smedley Butler's recent Pittsburgh speech, in which the doughty marine declared that the marines in Haiti had maneuvered elections so as to put hand-picked candidates into office.

This inquiry, somehow, doesn't especially appeal to us. Offhand, it looks very much as though someone is about to land on General Butler for spilling the beans. He talked out of turn and gave away a navy secret; hence he must be punished.
That, at any rate, is the way it appears on the surface.

General Butler's speech caused a commotion, and an inquiry is in order—but not an inquiry into the speech itself. The inquiry that is needed is an inquiry into the actions of those responsible for the state of affairs that General Butler described.

Usefulness
Submarines, evidently, will play a big part in the coming naval conference at London, England and the United States would abolish them.
France and Japan want to keep them. It will take much patient negotiating to reconcile these divergent views.

We are inclined to wonder, now and then, if the importance of the submarine as a naval weapon is not exaggerated. In the World War Germany's submarine fleet played a tight blockade on England; but, in the end, England and America found a way to cope with them. The submarine menace steadily diminished from the summer of 1917 on.

We have a notion that in any future war the submarine will be found a less efficient weapon than many people suppose.

Youth "Revolts"

A scientist at the recent Des Molines convention arose and scientifically announced that the "revolt of youth" usually begins during the high school age. At that point, he said, a young person begins to be irked by authority, and takes up arms against it.

This conclusion, he added, was gained as a result of studies made of some thousands of public school
and college youngsters.

Maybe it's all very scientific, but we insist that the gentleman doesn't know what he's talking about. The revolt of youth begins when the youth in question is able to crawl around the floor. If you've ever tried to get a dish of spinach down a child of three who didn't want to eat it, or tried to induce a toddler to go up to bed when that toddler had other ideas on the subject, you'll know at once what we mean.

His New Job

It will be very interesting to see how Mr. Joseph Grady of Pennsylvania gets along as a member of the United States Senate.

In a way, Senator Grady's appointment was highly logical. For a long time he has been influencing legislation at Washington. He has been a very real power in American government. Why should he not be in the Senate, where he can do his work openly?

If he is the kind of senator Pennsylvania wants, Pennsylvania is certainly entitled to him. Meanwhile, we repeat, it will be interesting to see how he gets along. Will he have more influence, or less, now that he has graduated from the rank of lobbyist to senator?

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway says when a fellow sows his wild oats he usually raises—cain.

The Plainsman was frankly
pleased yesterday when Rev.
R. L. Munger, pastor of the First Methodist church, took the press to task in an interview published in The Journal.
Newspapers, Mr. Munger believes, give too little space to church and religious news and too much to sports and to crime.

Were he an editor, the pastor avows, he'd lose little time in changing this state of affairs and The Plainsman agrees with Mr. Munger that the experiment would be an interesting one to watch.

Because The Plainsman is a newspaperman and Mr. Munger a minister of the gospel, they do not see newspapers, or news and its presentation, in the same light.
That is nothing more than natural.
But when pastors are heard upon topics of the day, that indicates a healthy state of the affairs and this writer for one, welcomes Mr.
Munger's opinions, albeit he differs with them.

Church and religious news is good news. There's no denying that and The Plainsman would be the last person in Lubbock to make an effort to deny it. But, when Mr.
Munger criticized the press for its lethargy in reporting such events
he missed an opportunity to do still a further service for his cause. He should have pointed out that pastors, as a group do not take advantage of their opportunities to put their churches before the public and as a group it is almost impossible to secure and hold their co-operation.

Pastors who have been in Lubbock for any considerable length of time will support The Plainsman in the statement that they have not, as a group, made use of the opportunities presented to them to put their churches before the public. The same situation holds good in every city where The Plainsman
has engaged in newspaper work.
The reporter usually must run
the pastor down and almost put him through a third degree to get information, the publishing man, which is of benefit to the church.

About three years ago The Plainsman met with the Lubbock
Ministerial alliance. "Gentlemen,"
he said, "The Avalanche-Journal
wants to carry more church news.
Particularly are the papers interested in carrying each Sunday morning a complete church directory, with sermon topics of the day and features of each meeting. All you have to do is have the announcement typewritten in our hands by noon on Saturday and we will do the rest."

Suppose that same proposition
had been made the dry goods men of Lubbock. The newspaper would print the special offerings of the dry goods store, free of charge, upon a certain morning, providing the merchant would write them out on the typewriter and have them in the hands of the editor
the day before. Can you imagine a dry goods man in town making that opportunity? Spencer Wells,
Jim Everhart, Claude Grollman,
Walker Gamel and Jack Parsons would run over and offer getting to the newspaper office and everybody knows they would. But how about the pastors? Here's the dope:

Some of them bring in an announcement one week and forget it another. Some type the announcement sometimes, some never type
it. Some have the announcement in by noon and others come dashing in about an hour late. There has never been a week when every pastor had his announcement in on time and typewritten! Believe it or not! Only two or three regularly respond with typewritten announcements, in on time.

The dry goods men, keen in the ways of business and advertising, would see immediately upon it being offered that a proposition, such as made the churches, would benefit their business. If the pastors see the opportunity they are not as a group, sufficiently interested in it to see to the line with the proposition.

Another thing Mr. Munger overlooked is the fact that the average man is not as interested in church and religious news as is the pastor himself. Regardless of whether he should be or not, the average newspaper reader is more interested in whether Babe Ruth will sign a contract, whether Lawyer Hamilton is convicted or not, than he is in next Sunday's sermons.
And that holds good for a lot of newspaper readers who attend church every Sunday.

After all is said and done a good newspaper—one worthy of the name
—is published for all the readers
not for any particular part of them.
And, after all, the interest of the people decides the prominence and the space given any news item or class of news. Editors who fail to realize the fact soon find them-

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—It's an unwritten law of New York that any policeman must give a nickel to any youngster who applies for a license, of course that the lad really appears to be lost.

The nickel is supposed to furnish carfare to the lad's home—
presuming again that the child can find its way home.

The problem of lost children is one of the minor and very difficult problems of a great city. Thousands grow confused and wind up by asking the corner policeman how to get back again. Thousands slum-ble into station houses.

Realizing the possibilities for wandering astray, the Manhattan schools make every effort to acquaint the smaller students with their addresses and telephone numbers. In fact a game played in hundreds of schools is so arranged as to make the child familiar with his address and his phone.

One school opens the morning
exercise by asking each youngster intimate questions about his home neighborhood.

Almost all the schools give prizes for the best essay on
"What I Would Do If I Were Lost." Some of the shrewd devices worked out by the street
urchins indicate a genius for survival. One of them not only was aware that policemen were supposed to part with a nickel, but admitted using "the touch system,"
as a means of getting movie money.

Four particularly precocious brats had worked out a way of getting nickels out of automatic telephones.
They had stuffed bits of paper up the return slot, so that the "coin-back" nickels could be recovered.
After a time they made the rounds of the public phone booths and secured a dime or so from each.
They're a predatory lot, these Manhattan street gamblers.

That the urchins who black boots in and about the Public Library have little in common with the lads of the Horatio Al-gates. They are not "little lar-sons" who are the heart of a business man by politeness. On the other hand they are definitely the brood of the city streets. A small army of them insists the benches about the parkway and another army battles for a customer and gets a little peace to the average shopper. No one can pass them without having a coat tail pulled,
at least.

Several little darlings from Harlem may furnish competition for performing dance steps for potential customers, and for a tip
they'll do an entire act.

A single has gone about the city streets, talking to a taxicab, Ernest Hemingway, who has been to Arma like the big model of the year.

Hemingway, as a literary tal-

OPENING OF MARKET IS IRREGULAR TODAY; FEW GAINS MADE

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—The stock market opened irregular today. Changes were exceedingly narrow in most instances, although Simmons and Westinghouse Electric were each up a point. Chesapeake & Ohio declined 1 1/2. There was fractional improvement in General Electric, International Telephone, Fox Film, American and Foreign Power and Columbia Graphophone while recessions of less than a point appeared in Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey. American Telephone advanced 1 1/2.

Railways were again in brisk demand. Southern Railway, Rock Island and Pennsylvania all recorded early gains of a point or so.

Public Utilities also attracted a fair amount of buying support with American Power and Light, Electric Power and Light and Stone and Webster among the early leaders.

Some heaviness developed in May Department Stores, Bethlehem Steel, American Woolen preferred and General Railway Signal.

Foreign exchanges opened firm with sterling a shade higher at $4.86 1/2.

Another Wichita Woman Gives Out Orgatone Praise

"It's Simply Amazing How Quickly This New Medicine Brought Me Relief," Says Mrs. Martin

All over town people are now discussing Orgatone, the remarkable new medicine that is selling so rapidly at Allison's Drug Store.

Amazing reports of gratifying results after taking the treatment are being reported daily as new users of its remarkable health building powers are made and the medicine is the talk of the town.

As an instance of the enthusiastic praise for Orgatone now heard from people in every walk of life, the following from Mrs. Della Martin, 2405 Colquhoun, Ave. Wichita Falls, Texas, is given just as she tells it, she says:

"There are no ifs or ands about it. This Orgatone does the work. Why, it is positively amazing to me how quickly it brought me relief almost after the first dose. It is no different from other medicines as daylight is from dark."

"I had been suffering misery for fifteen years with my stomach. Every thing I would eat would just lay heavy on my stomach without digesting it. Then the food would sour and form gas until I was simply miserable from bloating."

"It was just agony for me after every meal and I felt weak and sluggish all the time. My stomach pained me all the time and I was worried continually about my condition. I was just about disgusted with taking medicine, for nothing seemed to help me and I thought my case was hopeless, but somehow, I decided to try Orgatone, when I heard every body praising it so much."

"Well, Sir, they haven't said half enough for this medicine. I have only taken one bottle so far, but it sure has fixed me up. All my stomach and indigestion troubles have disappeared and I feel like a new woman."

"I eat anything I want. It all tastes good and don't hurt me a particle. No more bloating or gas and no sign of a pain anywhere now. In fact, I just feel good all over all the time now."

"I'll boost Orgatone the longest day I live and I only wish I could find words to express my gratitude for what this wonderful medicine has done for me."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

COTTON EASY ON OPENING

LATER TRADES SHOW GAINS; STEADY AFTER OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14. (AP)—Cotton opened easy, mainly because of issuance of additional January notices for 1,700 bales. January dropped to 17.25, March to 17.21 and May to 17.50, or 9 points below yesterday's close. Later the market rallied 7 to 9 points on reports the notices had been stopped, and at the end of the first hour the market was steady.

The market remained fairly steady though trading was decidedly quiet. Some disappointment was shown over postponement of the census bureau's report on December domestic consumption until tomorrow and also at the comparatively small subscription to stock in the new sales agency of the farm loan board. At noon the market was quiet and steady near the highs.

LOSSES SHOWN ON OPENING IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Cotton opened steady, unchanged to a decline of 5 points. Active morning showed net losses of 6 to 9 points under liquidation or realizing and local selling promoted by relatively easy cables. A little southern selling was reported, but the trade again appeared to be buying and selling off to 17.46 for March and 17.69 for May, the market steadied on covering and commission house buying.

Business was quiet later, but the market showed considerable firmness as light offerings were readily absorbed by trade buying and covering. March continued up to 17.58 and July to 17.82, making the market about net unchanged to 5 points higher on the more active positions but prices were 4 or 5 points off from the best at midday.

THE TINY TINKLES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The snow kept whizzing through the air and wind was zipping everywhere. "Oh, my," exclaimed wee Cloewy. "I can hardly stand up straight. My eyes are cold and near in tears and snow is blowing in my ears. I don't know why I ever thought that big snow storms were great."

"Well, let's not stand here," Scouty snapped. "Or in this blizzard we'll be trapped. I wish that we could find a cave in which to hide a while." Another Tiny promptly said, "The snow will soon be over my head. I do not want to swim in it." This made the others smile.

"Imagine swimming in the snow," said Carry. "Why, you ought to know that water's where you swim in. Come, let's hide behind a tree. That plan will be to some avail if we can step out of the gale. Most any place at all. I'm sure, is good enough for me."

They ran to several trees nearby, and then the whole bunch headed a dash. The trees were far from big enough to do the bunch much good. Then Carry said, "I have a plan. If you'll all help I'm sure we can erect a house. We'll make it out of snow. We have no wood."

"A good idea! You are no dunce!" said Scouty. "We'll begin at once. Now everyone start rolling monstrous snow balls cross the ground. We'll pack them all together and 'twill shortly make a snow house grand. Be sure that they are nice and big and also good and round."

And so the bunch all went to work. It was too cold to stop and shirk. Big snowballs were produced and rolled together, one by one. The house was made in record time and Cloewy said, "Come on, we'll climb inside the thing and all sit down. 'Twill be a heap of fun."

HOPE FOR TWO FLIERS RISES

PLANS RENEWED FOR SEARCH OF LOST PAIR IN ARCTIC

(By Associated Press)
NOME, Alaska, Jan. 14.—Prospects for solving the mystery of the disappearance of Carl Ben Eielson and Harold Gatty, two aviators who vanished on a flight from Nome, Alaska, to North Cape, Siberia, November 9, improved today.

With the arrival of the first cabin in plane of the rescue expedition here, and the finding of the second truck, wounded fatally. His companion escaped into dense brush, firing a rifle as he fled.

Manuel Zamora was arrested shortly after the discovery of bodies of the two and was charged with the liquor traffic. With a companion, Gomez was riding a liquor-laden truck yesterday near Brownsville. They drove off the road to avoid a stop sign erected by customs inspectors. Shots were exchanged, and Gomez fell from the truck, wounded fatally. His companion escaped into dense brush, firing a rifle as he fled.

COMMISSION'S PRO LAW REPORT RESULTS WATCHED IN CAPITAL

QUESTION IS DISCUSSED IN WASHINGTON

HOUSE ACTION LOOKED FOR FIRST; OPINIONS DIFFER

BY WALTER CHAMBLIN
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP) — A nation that read with intense interest the most sweeping proposal for drying up America that has been advanced in the decade since the eighteenth amendment became part of the constitution today directed its eyes to Capitol Hill as Congress moved to act upon recommendations sponsored by President Hoover.

The consensus of the membership of the House and Senate was that there would be votes to spare in both chambers to provide the legislation urged by the chief executive, who just a year and a half ago in accepting the nomination to his office said he regarded prohibition as "a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far reaching in purpose."

House Action Expected
First action toward carrying out the enforcement reorganization program was looked for in the House. Speaker Longworth said in assigning different phases of the program to six committees he had been prompted by a desire to expedite consideration.

He explained he found the recommendations of the law enforcement commission and the phases covered in the message of transmittal by Mr. Hoover and the accompanying reports from Secretary Mellon and Attorney General Mitchell embodied subjects that could best be handled in this way.

Revision of border patrol activities looking to consolidation under the jurisdiction of the coast guard naturally would go to the ways and means committee, he asserted.

Resolution Expected
Mr. Longworth said he expected one of the first steps to be the transmittal of specific legislative proposals from various government departments to provide for the suggested administrative changes. Before nightfall Chairman

Williamson of the expenditures committee was expected to introduce a resolution to authorize the transfer of the prohibition unit from the treasury to the justice department. This measure has been discussed with interested departmental officials.

Under Williamson's measure, Commissioner Doran of the prohibition bureau would be retained in the treasury department as chief of a new bureau to handle industrial alcohol permits and narcotics.

Garner in Agreement
Representative Garner of Texas, House democratic leader, said today he believed Mr. Longworth had chosen the best means of expediting action, adding that the committee to which the speaker had referred the recommendations had been dealing with such questions in a different form since almost the day of the first Congress.

At the Senate side of the capitol the first consideration of the proposed changes was expected Monday when the judiciary committee, to which the recommendations were referred, will meet. Chairman Norris of this committee reserved comment on the recommendations.

Briefly they proposed:
A ban against the entry of all persons into the United States except at points of entry designated by the president.

The transfer of the prohibition enforcement unit now headed by Commissioner Doran under the treasury department to the department of justice.

Concentration under the coast guard of all border patrol activities. Additional judges and more federal attorneys, marshals and clerks. Revision of padlock injunction regulations to prevent concealing ownership of property.

Greater prison facilities and reorganization and parole and other practices.

Should Carry Fines
The definition of "casual and slight violations" as: unlawful possession, single sales in small quantities, unlawful making in small quantities, and assisting in making and transporting as a casual employee. Such violations would carry a maximum fine of not more than $500 and imprisonment of not more than six months or both.

Further, state, county and municipal officers would be authorized to seize all liquor carrying vehicles and to proceed against their operators in the nearest federal court.

Henry H. Curgam, president of the association against the prohibition amendment, said it was clear the commission had concluded after eight months of study that the "problem of prohibition is not one to be solved by tinkering with enforcement procedure."

At the headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League it was said the board of directors in session at Detroit had taken the report under consideration. Although no announcement was available, it was predicted favorable reaction would be forthcoming later.

Deets Pickett, research secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, asserted "we favor the recommendations of President Hoover as they come to us" and added he regarded the report as a "start" that might serve as an introduction for further statements.

Today there appeared little disposition among "wets", as a whole to oppose the recommendations. Whether this attitude would continue after a more careful study of the proposed changes was a question that time alone could answer, although a number of this group privately expressed opinion there would be no concentrated opposition. For several years many "wet" members have advocated expending much larger sums of money for prohibition than have been provided, contending this would be one means

REPORT WILL BE STUDIED AT TECH

A resume of the recently published Carnegie Foundation report on college athletics in the United States will be given by Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the government department at Texas Tech and member of the college athletic council, at a meeting of the college faculty this afternoon at 4:15.

In addition to members of the faculty and athletic council, several local business and professional men have been invited to hear the report, President Paul W. Horri, said this morning in announcing the meeting.

"The purpose of the meeting is to hear an interpretation of the rules and regulations of college athletics and to find out just how we can operate on an ethical basis," the college president explained this morning.

HUNDREDS OF GREAT VALUES IN THE

Men's SUITS

The garments that represents these two great groups are not the ordinary suits of this price range. They were bought for this season's selling and are outstanding in new styles, fine tailoring and excellent quality.

A look will convince you that they are typical Grollman values and honest-to-goodness reductions have been made.
