Frick Puts Finger On Goering As Engineer Of Blood Purge

Nazi Plotting Is Uncovered

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Nov. 22. (AP) — Nazi Interior Minister Wilhelm Frick slipped a legal dagger today into fat Hermann Goering, identifying the former reichmarshal as the engineer of Adolf Hitler's blood purge of 1934.

Frick's accusation, made in an affidavit, was one of two surprises American prosecutors introduced at today's session of the international war crimes tribunal trying Frick, Goering and 18 other top Nazis.

Minutes Of Cabinet Session

The second was introduction of the secret minutes of Hitler's first cabinet meetings, at which Hitler, Frick, Goering, former German ambassador Franz von Papan and Konstantin von Neurath and Walther Funk, economic minister, plotted to seize power.

The American prosecutors presented a huge mass of documentary evidence in their attempt to prove the first phase of the historic indictment against the Nazi hierarchy—that it had a "common plan or conspiracy" for snatching illegal control of Germany as a first step in world conquest.

Surprise swept the faces of the defendants as Maj. Frank B. Wallis of Boston produced Frick's affidavit, given only a day before the trial opened last Tuesday.

Frick identified Goering as the prime mover in the blood purge of 1934.

Goering Glares Back

While Goering glared at Frick, Wallis read from the affidavit, quoting Frick as saying that Hitler, persuaded by Heinrich Himmler that a putsch was being planned by Capt. Ernst Roehm, gave Goering the order to carry out the mass killings.

"Many people were killed, I don't know how many, who actually did not have anything to do with the putsch—people who just weren't liked very well, . . ," said Frick's statement.

Among these Frick named former Reichs-Chancellor Gen. Kurt von Schleicher and his wife, and former Nazi party leader Gregor Strasser, who had differed with Hitler.

Over Hundred Killed

Frick's statement said "something like a hundred, even more, were killed who were accused of high treason. All of this was done without resort to legal proceedings. They were just killed on the spot."

The long months of legal work by the American staff bore bitter fruit for the Nazi defendants as time and time again their words came back to plague them. Wallis wove such a skillful legal net with his documents that even the court had trouble keeping up under the deluge of evidence.

Twice German attorneys broke in to stress they must have time to read the hundreds of documents before accepting them as evidence. Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, the court chairman, assured them they would have time.

Positions In Cabinet

At the time of the cabinet meetings in 1933 von Papen was deputy reichs-chancellor, von Neurath was foreign minister, Frick was minister of the interior, and Goering air minister.

Hitler was chancellor, but because the Nazis had less than one third of the members of the Reichstag they were planning to pass an enabling law which put all power into the hands of the cabinet.

Such a law would require a two-thirds vote.

The minutes disclosed that the first suggestion that the Nazi try to obtain such a law came from von Papen, who said "the German nation needs a rest."

Hitler was quoted as saying he would like to suppress the Communist party, because he never could pass the law while the party was in the Reichstag, but that he feared a general strike would result.

They Listen Carefully

The defendants listened carefully.

Goering scribbled furiously for a good part of the day, shaking his head slowly in negotation when the prosecution erroneously identified Rudolf Hess as Hitler's successor. When this later was corrected Goering smiled with satisfaction.

Jew baiter Julius Streicher grinned sardonically as he and Dr. Alfred Rosenberg were named among the most vigorous practitioners of the Nazi creed of a "master race."

The tribunal announced acceptance of an examiners' report deeming Streicher sane.

The court also ruled against a motion which asked postponement of the trial in absentia of Martin Bormann, deputy fuehrer who is listed officially as missing.

BLAST DID SOMETHING TO ADOLF'S BREECHES—Sgt. Virginia Wood of Lorton, Va., holds up a pair of trousers, torn to shreds, found by U. S. intelligence officers in Eva Braun's treasure chest. Attlee And Eden Plead For Confidence, Warn On Atom

By JACK S. SMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Prime Minister Attlee and Anthony Eden today appealed for mutual confidence among all people to avoid war, and Eden urged that veto rights under the United Nations charter be abandoned to lessen the dangers of nationalism in a world of atomic power.

Opening the first full dress debate on foreign affairs since the Labor government came in, Attlee told Commons of his atom bomb conversations in Washington, and warned that civilization would "perish" if war again engulfs the world.

Sting In Nationalism

Eden, the wartime foreign secretary speaking for the conservative opposition, declared the veto power given to Britain, Russia, the United States, France and China in the modern world," and asserted "we have got to take the sting out of nationalism."

Attlee declared the United Nations organization is the one instrument thus far devised which could establish the rule of a law and prevent war — if all nations would resolve to use it.

"I say 'resolve to use it' because to me here is the essence of the problem: Just as no system of inspection or control of weapons will work without goodwill, so no international organization, however, carefully framed, will be of any value unless the nations resolve to lay aside war or the threat of war as instruments of policy, unless they are determined to establish between themselves such mutual confidence that war is unthinkable.

"We can make up our minds that if the world again lapses into war

Americans Join In Real Thanks

(By The Associated Press)

Americans throughout the world yesterday thanked God for their first peace-time Thanksgiving in four years.

President Truman and his family took inconspicuous seats in a Washington Baptist church, where the pastor told worshippers it was a blessing the nation had at its helm "one who does not hesitate to recognize his need of God either in public address or private devotion."

Traditional Dinners

American soldiers and sailors in far places bowed their heads in prayer and then sat down to the traditional turkey and trimmings.

In Rome Monsignor Walter S. Carrol of the papal secretariat said in a sermon that observance of the holiday symbolized America's "sense of dependence on the Almighty."

Services were held at Nuernberg, Germany, in the courtroom where a score of high Nazi leaders are being tried for war crimes. At Frankfurt, soldiers celebrated with football games.

Services Provide Turkey

In keeping with their custom, the Army and the Navy provided turkey for their men on land and at sea regardless of their distance from home. Thousands of the veterans ate in replacement depots where they await transportation back to the states.

Special services were held at London's Westminister Abbey as American and British diplomatic, military and religious leaders marked the holiday with vigorous appeals for increased cooperation between the two nations.

Russia Also Likes Turkey For Feasts

MOSCOW, Nov. 22, (AP)—The Soviet press picked America's Thanksgiving day to announce that Russians also like turkeys and are doing something toward putting more turkeys on Soviet dinner tables.

The Evening Moscow News disclosed that a Russian researcher, Victor Chavchanidze, is busy at the Timarazev Agricultural academy trying to acclimatize wide chested bronze turkeys. The first shipments of these turkeys was brought over two years ago from the United States.

Parker County Board Holds Up Draft Quota In New Argument

FORT WORTH, Nov. 22 (AP) — The Parker county draft board will not fill any of the county's draft quotas until it meets with the state Selective Service director to discuss a dispute over deferment requirements, Fred H. Potter of Weatherford, chairman of the county board, said today.

The board has refused to accept a change in the classification of about 50 farmers and dairymen to whom it granted deferments.

The director, Brig. Gen. J. Watt Page, Austin, has been asked to visit the board personally to discuss the matter.

Potter said the board has received no reply from a letter mailed to Page Oct. 17 in which the board expressed dissatisfaction with the reclassification of registrants by appeal board No. 8 and by Page.

No action has been taken to fill the county's November draft quota of approximately 20 men, Potter said.

Arthur Lee Moore, chairman of the appeal board, said today A. E. Zeller, Weatherford attorney and appeals agent, reviews all classifications by the Parker county board and appeals them if the classification appears unfair either to the government or the registrant.

"We've reversed 99 out of every 100 that the appeal agent has referred to us," Moore said.

Page said today that in times past he had sent some of the state's best Selective Service officers to Parker county in an effort to "straighten out," the draft board there and even increased it to a five-member board.

Solons Look To Recess On December 20

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Congress is aiming to put on an extra burst of speed in the next month and then recess Dec. 20 until after the first of the year.

Leaders disclosed they have fixed that as their goal, despite demands of many members for an earlier recess.

Administration men explained that knocking off work sooner is just about impossible with four major actions yet to be taken and many more minor matters to be cleaned up.

Big Program Ahead

For the next four weeks, there lie ahead:

1.—Action on the so-called "full employment" bill.

2.—Agreement between House and Senate on the final draft of the bill authorizing President Truman to reorganize and streamline the government.

3.—Approval of deficiency appropriations to tide agencies over until the fiscal 1946 funds are voted

4.—Renewal of the President's wartime powers.

Full Employment Bill

Some steam was put behind a variation of the so-called "full employment" bill this week. A subcommittee of the House Expenditures committee got a conpromise drafted but is sitting tight on the details until it is reported out officially. That, members said, is to stall off "pressure" on the full committee.

The Democratic leaders have figured privately that they must do something to get an employment measure rolling. Unless one materialized, they reasoned, the President's prestige might suffer. When that happens, the party prestige suffers with it.

On the deficiency bill and the reorganization measure, the leaders do not anticipate much difficulty. But they aren't so sure of clear sailing in the renewal of the second war powers act.

Involves Many Controls

This act is the authority for the President to do many things he cannot do in peacetime. It involves continuance of rationing and other emergency controls. It expires Dec. 31.

There may be some demands here and there—enough to delay action—to cut back wartime powers. Mr. Truman, it was reported, may have a special message on this subject, defining what powers should be retained and why.

McKellar Would Cut Flight Pay

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP) — Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) announced today he would ask the War and Navy departments to support his effort to reduce the extra flight pay of high officers.

"I think it is wrong for any highly paid officer to get 50 per cent additional pay just by going up in the air and staying there for four hours once a month," McKellar told a reporter.

McKellar, chairman of the appropriations committee, already has suffered a double defeat on the issue.

Seek To Attack Rider

He and Senator Overton (D-La) attempted to attack a rider to the wartime cutback on appropriations limiting the flight pay of high officers to $125 a month.

The appropriations committee rejected this 9 to 8, and the Senate reached the same decision this week by voice and standing votes.

Senators O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), Hill (D-Ala), Gurney (R-SD) and Walsh (D-Mass) spoke up against the limitation on the floor. They offered letters from the secretaries of War and Navy and General H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air forces, in opposition.

Arnold Fears Plan

"This proposed amendment will, in my considered opinion, have the effect of destroying the Army Air forces in the most critical period of its history," Arnold wrote.

McKellar disputed this and said that Arnold "simply became a little excited about this matter."

Regulations provide that flying officers receive a 50 per cent pay increase. McKellar proposed to stipulate that this increase should not exceed $125 a month. Thus, he said, it would not affect the flight pay of Army lieutenants and captains.

It would affect, on the basis of War department figures which McKellar introduced, 1,700 of 10,000 majors who receive flying pay and all officers above that grade who receive flying pay, these, the department figures showed, number 6,000 lieutenant colonels, 3,000 brigadier generals, 72 major generals, 13 lieutenant generals, four generals and one general of the army. None was identified by name.

ITALY TO GET SUPPLIES

ROME, Nov. 22 (AP)—The Italian news agency Ansa said today it had learned from official quarters that the U. S. State department has decided to provide Italy with 248,000 tons of grain a month and will send Italy 500,000 tons of coal in January, 1946.

12 Yanks Injured In Rioting At Calcutta

(By The Associated Press)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 22—Twelve American soldiers were injured today and at least 10 other persons were reported killed as rioting crowds surged through Calcutta in demonstrations marking Indian National Army day.

At least four persons were known dead, with one killed by police gunfire today, and scores of demonstrators and police were injured.

The rioting intensified tonight after two days of disorders. Hospitals were jammed. Trucks, including U. S. vehicles, were set afire.

Students On March

The demonstration started yesterday when Calcutta university students marched toward Dalhousie square for a meeting observing Indian National Army day to protest resumption of the trials of Army personnel at New Delhi. The Indian National Army was organized by the late Subhas Chandra Bose to fight beside the Japanese against the Allies.

All Calcutta was placed out of bounds to American troops by Brig. Gen. Robert P. Neyland, commander of the U. S. base section headquarters here.

Two American officers were beaten by a mob after being forced to halt their command car before a fire barricade across a road in the southern part of the city.

Attackers Rush Officers

The attackers rushed the officers as they were turning the car around. One officer reportedly suffered a fractured skull, while the other, who was able to drive to an Army dispensary with his companion, had head lacerations.

One American soldier was attacked by a mob while he was on guard duty at Army headquarters. Nine other soldiers were cut and bruised by rocks thrown at military vehicles.

At least 22 military trucks, including some American vehicles and a U. S. Red Cross truck, were burned by the rioters. The main trouble area appeared to shift from the downtown section to the Tollygunge area in southern Calcutta.

Transportation Fails

Calcutta's transportation system was paralyzed.

Earlier today police fired at a milling crowd at a precinct police station, killing one person. Three persons were killed and 53 injured yesterday when police blazed away at demonstrators in downtown Calcutta.

The students had disbanded early this morning, after 14 hours of unrest, but this afternoon they converged on Wellington square in processions from various parts of the city. By noon the square was a sea of faces, flecked with flags from the Congress party, Hindu Mahasaba, Moslem League and Khaksar organizations.

Chinese Flank Manchu Pivot

CHUNGKING, Nov. 22 (AP) — Chinese Nationalist troops today out-flanked the port of Hulutao—military prize of southern Manchuria—with a 15-mile sweep that also menaced the Communist-fortified city of Chinhsien, press dispatches reported.

Plunging 75 miles deep into Manchuria, the Nationalist soldiers of Gen. Tu Li-Ming made the Chinese Communist position in Hulutao untenable and it was possible the latter might flee to avoid being pinned against the coast.

Near Railway Town

Chungking press reports said Nationalist forces were near the railway town of Lienshaw, whose fall would cut off by rail any escape from Hulutao, less than eight miles east of Lienshan.

Thirty miles to the north lies Chinhsien, flanked by frowning hills and a logical place for a Communit stand if they intend to attempt to check the so-far-unchallenged drive toward Mukden.

(Associated Press correspondent Olen Clements in a dispatch from Tientsin said reports reaching there indicated the Communists were massing troops in Mukden, a city of industries of great strategic value.

(Clements said the Communists were expected to offer stiff resistance at Chinhsien. A Communist spokesman in Chungking also has said the first "big battle for Manchuria" would be fought there, but there have been no indications elsewhere that the Communists were yet ready to bring the Nationalists to battle.)

Troops Push On North

In their northward thrust, Tu's troops overran Hingcheng on the Peiping-Mukden railroad and pushed on north toward Lienshan without stopping. Lienshan is 150 miles southwest of Mukden.

The communists were reported to have destroyed sections of the railroad south of Chinhsien in an attempt to slow the advance.

Other press reports said fighting had flared up once more west of the Manchurian operations in the Inner Mongolian province of Suiyuan.

They said that the Communists had renewed their attacks on the provincial capital of Kweisui and on the Nationalist stronghold of Ptotow, farther west.

Arkansas Baptists Join HST Criticism

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Arkansas Baptists joined those of Texas in state convention today in a resolution forbidding its educational institutions to award degrees to persons who condone drinking and gambling.

The Baptist General convention of Texas took note of the "reported attitude" of President Truman toward drinking and gambling and instructed Baptist colleges and universities not to confer honorary degrees on "those holding to such positions."

The Arkansas convention which closed its 92nd annual session today, also disapproved peace time military training, asserting in a resolution that it would give access to "liquor and immorality."

Teachers Colleges To Ask Dormitories

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP) — The presidents' council of the seven Texas state teachers colleges will seek authorization for immediate expenditure of $4,600,000 for dormitories, Dr. J. A. Hill, council president, said here today.

The request will be presented at a joint meeting of the council and the board of regents at Dallas tomorrow.

A $1,000,000 dormitory program is planned by the North Texas State college at Denton, with expenditures of $600,000 each planned at other colleges. Dr. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, said average attendance there is 20 to 30 per cent greater this year than last.

Java Fighting Flares Anew

By RALPH MORTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

BATAVIA, Nov. 22—Japanese troops under British command battled Indonesians in eastern suburbs of the mid-Java port city of Semarang today, while in turbulent Batavia attempts to negotiate a peace between the Dutch and Indonesian republican leaders collapsed.

A British spokesman said the Japanese were "good troops" who fought well.

At least 20 Indonesians were killed in Batavia in the past 24 hours by intermittent sniping and attacks, and a British communique reported a "serious outbreak of unrest" in Bandoeng, 75 miles southeast of Batavia.

Dutch Attitude Flayed

Indonesian leaders here declared they would not meet with the Dutch as long as they keep "their present attitude." A terse communique, pointed to a complete breakdown in Dutch-Indonesian negotiations.

A conference with Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, Allied commander in chief in the Netherlands East Indies, had been scheduled for tonight.

One Indonesia spokesman said the Indonesians would negotiate with the British alone, and asserted "when the Dutch give the order for cessation of shooting and when the burning of our villages, and the murdering of our people are stopped by the Dutch, then we shall be willing to talk with them."

Battles Spread

Batiles between Indonesian and British forces were spreading ominously.

From embattled Semarang, the British sent a motorized infantry company of Mahrattas to relieve besieged Ambarawa, where 10,000 Dutch women, children and men were reported under attack by Indonesian extremists. Ambarawa was described as the current western Java "hot spot."

En route with artillery, mortars and two tanks to relieve the small garrison forces protecting the internees, the Mahrattas killed 18 Indonesians and one Japanese deserter in clearing out a bunkep just outside Semarang blocking the 25 mile road leading south to Ambarawa. One Mahratta was killed.

"STRIKE DAY" SET

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (AP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor through its executive council today proclaimed Friday, Nov. 30, as "Ford strike day" during which its 350,000 union members are urged to contribute one day's earnings to the strikers' fund at the Ford Motor company, Windsor, Ont.

Funeral Set Sunday For General Patch

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 22 (AP) — Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, jr., who died here late yesterday of pneumonia, will be buried in the National cemetery at West Point, N. Y., near the academy where he started his brilliant military career.

The body will be flown to West Point tomorrow in Patch's private plane, a B-25 bomber, and private funeral services have been tentatively set for 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the cemetery of the military academy.

Troops at Fourth Army stations will take part in memorial services at 9 a. m. tomorrow. General Patch had been headquartered here since last July as commander of the Fourth Army.

Members of the family will leave San Antonio by plane Saturday to attend the services.

Maj. Gen. Lucas, former deputy commander of the Fourth Army, has assumed temporary command of the unit.

Eisenhower Lauds UNRRA And Urges Stronger Cooperation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower defended UNRRA today and its international makeup.

Although flushed and hoarse from a heavy cold, the Army's new acting chief of staff appeared before the House Foreign Affairs committee on America's natoinal first day to declare:

1. He knew from his own observation in Germany that the relief agency "is operating with steadily increasing effectiveness." He added that "UNRRA has been infused with new and vigorous leadership in whom I have the fullest confidence."

2. He was "convinced that the best way of developing the habit of international cooperation is by building and supporting the effective operating international organizations such as UNRRA." He said that "no nation is opulent enough" to do by itself the relief job Europe needs and that it must be a cooperative venture.

Later Herbert H. Lehman, UNRRA director-general, reported in a Thanksgiving day broadcast over CBS that the agency's operations are "grinding to a standstill" for lack of funds.

Congressional delay in appropriating the remaining $550,000,000 of this fiscal year's authorization, Lehman said, "has added to the suffering of innocent war victims in Europe and China." The appropriation bill, carrying a controversial "free pess" amendment, is pending in the Senate.

Decision May Come Earlier

DETROIT, Nov. 22—John W. Gibson, special assistant to Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, tonight predicted that the strike of more than 200,000 General Motors corporation workers would be settled by January 15 "and probably before that."

Gibson, who was sent here by Schwellenbach in preliminary government efforts to bring about an end to the strike, made his statement when asked about reports that the United Auto Workers (CIO) were preparing for the possibility that the strike might last throughout the winter.

May Be Settled Sooner

"I have a feeling that the strike won't last any longer than January 15 and it probably will be settled before then," he asserted.

Gibson disclosed that he had been in touch with UAW officials during the day and that he would meet Walter Reuther, UAW vice president in charge of GM negotiations, tonight or tomorrow.

He did not indicate whether he had contacted General Motors officials during the day.

Meanwhile, as preliminary efforts to mediate the strike got underway, both the UAW and GM gave indications they were braced for the possibility the strike might be a long drawn out affair.

Started Wednesday

The strike, affecting 70-odd plants of the corporation, began Wednesday following a breakdown in negatiations on union demands for a 30 per cent general wage rate increase. An industry spokesman predicted the number of idle workers might be doubled or trebled eventually because of other companies' dependence on GM for vital auto parts.

Gibson, who earlier described his visit here as a "feeler" planned to fly to Washington late tonight or early tomorrow.

Gibson's presence raised the question of how far Washington would go in any effort to bring about a settlement in this first "all-out" struggle between General Motors and the UAW-CIO since the sit-down strike of 1937 over union recognition.

No Conference Action

The labor-management conference in Washington has yet to draw up strike settlement procedure or policy. A four-day Thanksgiving recess has now intervened and no early guidance from that quarter was expected.

President Truman has stated the government's peacetime labor position as one of greater reliance on voluntary bargaining between parties to a dispute, though the government would be willing to help with its conciliators.

The GM strike scene was quiet on Thanksgiving day today. There was only "token picketing" of struck plants, with a few pickets appearing for short intervals.

Union Marshals Forces

At the same time the union prepared to get out its full forces tomorrow. UAW-CIO headquarters in Detroit was closed, but offices of locals stayed open, laying plans for feeding and equipping picket battalions.

Still in question was whether General Motors would be able to keep its full salaried force on the job. The corporation has 73,500 salaried employes, including office workers and supervisory employes.

The UAW-CIO, in its strike instructions to locals, left it to the locals' "own judgment" whether to permit entry of office workers to GM buildings.

General Motors arranged to mail pay checks to salaried workers unable to reach their offices. Management cautioned them against trying to "force" their way past picket lines.

Strikers said foremen and supervisors would be permitted into GM factories only on an agreement with management that they would not do strikers' work.

Classroom Teachers Press Tenure Bill

DALLAS, Nov. 22. (AP) — The Classroom Teachers association today agreed to press legislation protecting their jobs at opening sessions of a two-day meeting here.

In a resolution passed this afternoon, the group favored the drafting of a tenure bill for Texas to be considered for presentation at the next session of the Legislature.

A tenure bill would assure teachers continuation of contracts and a hearing before being fired.

Great-Granddaughter Of Late Geo. M. Hunt Is Pupil In Ward School Named In His Honor

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

GEO. M. Hunt school, situated between Aves. L and M and Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, is the oldest ward school in the Lubbock Public school system. Central Ward is the oldest school in operation but it was originally used as a high school building.

The Hunt school, built in 1917, was the first building of its kind to be erected in the system. Since then additional ward schools have been constructed until there are eight, exclusive of Guadalupe and Dunbar schools for Mexicans and negroes.

Named after the late Geo. M. Hunt, beloved pioneer educator, merchant, poet and civic leader, the school had marched with the progress of education in the city and ranks with top elementary schools of the system.

Through its doors have marched many descendants of the sturdy old pioneer, Geo. M. Hunt, and today a great - granddaughter is numbered among its pupils. She is Carol Ham, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Ham and granddaughter of Mrs. I. L. Hunt, 1420 Ave. K. She is in the sixth grade at school.

CAROL HUNT

Her great-grandfather came to the South Plains in the 80's and settled at old Estacado, then generally known as "the Quaker colony." He built a house and ran it as a boardinghouse for the colony. It was known as "the Llano house." He operated a grocery store in connection with the boardinghouse and brought in his supplies from Amarillo.

In 1890, he settled in Lubbock when the town was started and continued in the grocery business. For the next 40 years the town had its Hunt Grocery, the firm being operated in later years by a son, A. G. Hunt.

A former school teacher, Mr. Hunt was always interested in the cultural phase of community life and in the early days of Lubbock he supplied a poem each week for the Lubbock Avalanche, then a weekly newspaper. His collection of poems are contained in his book, "Early Days Upon The Plains," published in 1919.

Four of the late pioneer's five children still reside here. They are: A. G. Hunt, C. E. Hunt, Mrs. W. A. Bacon and Mrs. G. C. Wolfarth. Grandchildren living here Dr. Ewell L. Hunt, Homer E. Hunt, Alvin B. Hunt, Howard E. Hunt, Mrs. Elva Mae Yeatts, Elwin, Cyril, Howard and Will Wheelock, Mrs. Ted Tipps, Mrs. John Jarrott, Lawrence Bacon, Hubert Irvin, Dwight, Donald Wolfarth, Mrs. Russell Myrick and Mrs. Dorothy Abbott. Forty great-grandchildren and seven great-great grandchildren of Mr. Hunt are also numbered in his descendants.

Lennon Hill is principal of the Hunt school and members of the faculty are: Mrs. Floyd Dunn, Mrs. Sadie Throop and Miss Frances Neutzler, first grade; Misses Beatrice English and Mittie Jones, second grade; Mrs. J. L. Holt and Miss Aileene Turley, third grade; Mrs. Lattie Rankin and Mrs. Ruby Powers, fourth; Miss Frances Conley and Miss Mildred Boone, fifth; Mrs. H. D. Woods and Norman H. Heath, sixth; Miss Edith Whitlock, music and Mrs. Dave Foreman, Spanish. Heath is also band director for the city's elementary school band.

Citizenship clubs in the school are composed of students recognized by their classmates as leaders. Various school activities are conducted through the groups and pupils learn the preliminary phases of parliamentary law and procedure, how to conduct a meeting and organization work. Citizenship presidents in the school are: Freddy Ross, fourth grade; Bobbie Lee Counts and Joan Roberts, fifth grade; Kenneth Anderson and Patricia Pruitt, sixth grade.

PRUITT

Hunt school's Pioneers is the name of its athletic teams and during the past season the touch football team went through the season with only one loss, one tie and five victories. They closed the season in a tie with Roscoe Wilson for second place in the ward school league. The most remarkable thing about their playing was that they did not have a coach during the entire season. They perfected their own plays, practiced daily and nearly upset Dupre Dogies' applecart with a 7-6 score.

One of the most remarkable students in the school is Dale Harris, 15-year-old youngster and son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris, 1708 Ave. H, who suffered the loss of one of his legs in an accident about five years ago. He uses a crutch to get around on the school ground, participating in all playground games along with the other boys. In spite of his handicap, he has a normal outlook on life and rides a bicycle with his one good leg as handily as other boys do with two. He is in the sixth grade. He's a substitute newsboy and earns part of his spending money selling papers.

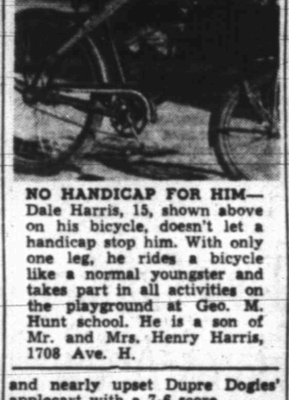

ROSS COUNTS

The number of newspaper carrier boys and street salesmen in the school is another remarkable feature about the school's personnel. The school has approximately 20 of these boys listed among its students.

The school has an enrollment of 467 in its 13 classrooms.

School patrols are as active here as elsewhere in the system and twelve youngsters wear the white belts and aid in directing traffic across nearby streets during opening and closing hours. Patrol members are: Joy Ledbetter, David Allen, Patricia Pruitt, Mary Margaret Stephens, Vivian Willard, Mangum Waller, Hulen Haley, Carol Ham, Eddie Martin, Tommy Elliott, La Rita Hyatt and J. R. Bradford.

Trumans Attend Thanks Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—President Truman, sharing a hymn book with Mrs. Truman, joined fellow-Baptists in a Thanksgiving service today.

The White House family went to the First Baptist church in downtown Washington for forenoon worship.

Dr. Edward Hughes Pruden, the pastor, noting their presence in in conspicuous seats in the middle of the church, told the congregation it was "a blessing," that the nation had at its helm "one who does not hesitate to recognize his need of God either in public address or private devotion."

Others In Family Present

Mr. and Mrs. Truman were accompanied by their daughter, Margaret; Frank Wallace of Independence, Mo., Mrs. Truman's brother; Mrs. Wallace and the two Wallace children.

In his serman, Dr. Pruden said the future of peace depends on the spiritual attitudes of the peoples of the world.

"Armed might, conferences, agreements and other such actions will be ineffective as long as greed, selfishness and aggression dwell in the hearts of men," he said, asserting it was the duty of Christians to help develop in the hearts of all the peoples of the world those qualities which make for permanent peace.

The President joined in the prayer of Thanksgiving "for whatever of good there has been in our past lives and all the hopes and aspirations which lead us on toward better things."

The Trumans drove back to the White House immediately after the services for a family dinner featuring the traditional turkey.

Army, Navy Due Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Congress may get a recommendation soon from President Truman regarding the postwar size of the Army and Navy.

A congressional leader, who asked not to be named, told a reporter today that a vote on bills which would set the Navy's size had been held up, pending such a message.

He added, however, that "action is expected soon."

This source said Mr. Truman had asked some time ago for the delay, until he received a report from the War department about the size of the peacetime Army.

The Navy has already said it wants a fleet of more than 1,000 combat ships and 5,000 auxiliaries, with an authorized personnel of approximately 650,000. The House has passed a bill carrying the latter figure but no other congressional action has been taken.

National Nutritional Program To Raise Health Standards Discussed

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 — A nutritional program designed to raise dietary—and hence health—standards of the nation is under discussion among administration officials.

Such a program might involve government subsidization of food consumption by families without sufficient income to buy an adequate diet.

Speculation that the administration may come forward with a nutritional plan developed this week after Mr. Truman sent a message to Congress urging the establishment of a national health insurance plan under which individuals and their employers would contribute to a premium fund for payment of costs of sickness.

Concern of Nation

In doing so, the President declared the health of individuals to be a concern of the nation.

Experience of the Selective Service system during the war showed that thousands of men were rejected for military service because of diseases which could be attributed to malnutrition. Hence, say government nutritional authorities, any national program designed to raise health standards would have to take into account malnutrition, if it is to succeed.

Studies on ways of raising dietary standards have been made by the Agriculture department and submitted to the White House, according to officials who cannot be quoted by name. Plans suggested include a broad school lunch program under which hot lunches would be served in every public school, with the federal and state governments and local school districts financing the program. Lunches at government expense are being served now in a small portion of the schools.

Suggested also is a food stamp program somewhat similar to that employed on a limited scale during the late thirties to help dispose of farm surpluses. A bill providing for such a program has been introduced in Congress by Senators Aiken (R-Vt) and LaFollette (Prog-Wis).

Both the school lunch and the food stamp plan would serve indirectly as farm-aid measures insofar as they increased consumption. Both plans have the support of the National Farmers union.

Rangers Ask Help In Locating 'Death' Car

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (AP) — Texas Rangers issued a nation-wide appeal today for help in locating a car believed to have figured in the slaying of T/Sgt. John W. Murphy whose body was found near New Braunfels last Saturday.

Ranger Captain Fred Olson said the car which belongs to Pvt. James Hyland of San Antonio, was loaned to Murphy on Nov. 5. This is the last day Murphy is known to have been alive.

The car is a light green 1940 Chrysler Royal sedan, motor number C-25-65383. It bore California license tax 19-D-714 and was equipped with a spotlight and two fog lights.

Murphy was a member of the military police, and has now been revealed by military authorities as an undercover agent investigating frauds practiced on service men.

Halsey Hauls Down Flag And Retires

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 22 (AP)—Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey, who led the famed Third Fleet from disaster in Pearl Harbor to triumph in Tokyo bay, hauled down his four-star flag aboard his flagship South Dakota today.

In a colorful ceremony, he turned over command to Rear Admiral Howard F. Kingman, preparatory to retirement in about a month.

"In hauling down my flag," Halsey told lines of officers and bluejackets standing at stiff attention, "I am terminating my seagoing career of slightly over 45 years. This is far from a pleasure. But I deem it necessary for men of my age (he is 63) to step aside so that younger men can take over the greatest Navy in the world."

In an interview, Admiral Halsey confessed that leaving the fleet "is like cutting off my right arm." He said he will depart Saturday for Washington, and will testify before the current Pearl Harbor inquiry.

Asked if he had been summoned to appear he replied "no comment."

U. S. Said Preparing Big Base At Shanghai

CHUNGKING, Nov. 22 (AP) — A Communist spokesman charged tonight the United States was turning Shanghai into a naval base as part of a program to give military and financial aid to Nationalist China.

Without confirmation from any quarter, the Communists spokesman, who never is identified by name, declared that work already had begun on the Shanghai base.

In this latest Communist allegation of American intervention in the undeclared civil war, the spokesman alleged the United States would construct a number of naval bases along China's coast.

He also asserted that the United States would create an economic mission and would make substantial contributions to the enlargement of China's Army and Navy.

New Car Stolen From Houston Showroom

HOUSTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—A 41-year old merchant seaman had a brand new 1946 automobile early today—for exactly one hour and 15 minutes.

Cruising cops saw the car (a green Chevrolet) parked with a man in it.

The officers decided it was just too soon for anyone to be sporting a '46 model, so they collared the man behind the wheel.

The driver told the officers that he broke a window in a dealer's showroom, took the car off its blocks and drove it out a side door.

It was the first 1946 model stolen in the city.

Whether parrots ever know what they are talking about is not absolutely certain.

Two Prominent Jap Warlords Surrender

TOKYO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Two prominent Japanese, one of them the sinister sponsor of Hideki Tojo as war premier and the other the leader of the Black Dragon terrorists, surrendered today and were jailed as suspected war criminals.

First to arrive at Sugamo prison was Baron Gen. Sadao Araki, so-called "high priest of the military cult," accused by General MacArthur of being an important influence behind Tojo.

Three minutes later, Yoshihisa Kuzuu, whose Black Dragons injected jingoism into the Japanese peoples by assassination and terror, pulled up at the gates of the three-story prison.

They were the first to surrender among 11 Japanese war leaders ordered arrested earlier this week. A third, Baron Gen. Shigeru Honjo, who precipitated the conquest of Manchuria, committed hara-kiri.

"The trial will be the best opportunity for clearing the Japanese position, which has been misunderstood by the world," said Araki. Kuzuu said nothing.

These Fruit Cakes Sure To Fill Your Holiday Needs

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In response to a request for favorite fruit cakes, four readers submitted the following recipes. They are printed this morning through courtesy of Mrs. C. M. Eoff of route 5; Mrs. C. C. McCormick, who lives on the Olton route, near Plainview; Mrs. G. C. Keith of Whiteface and Mrs. C. C. Williamson who telephoned a recipe that had appeared in the Woman's Angle several years ago and originally came from Mrs. Mattie Swann's files.)

THIS recipe for English black cake originally came from Scilly island, off the coast of England and will keep for months, getting blacker with age. It calls for no sugar, the currants and candied peel providing sufficient sweetness.

One-half pound flour
2 teaspoons soda
One-half pound butter
6 eggs
2 pounds currants
One-half pound candied peel
One cup pecans
Sift the flour with soda and work in soft butter. Add eggs, not beaten and mix well. Fold in floured currants and peel. Bake two hours in a slow oven, either in loaf pans or tube pans which have been greased and floured. Store until ready for use.

Mrs. C. M. Eoff,
Route 5.

• • •

WHITE FRUIT CAKE

One-half pound butter
One-half pound sugar
One-half pound unsifted flour
One cup wine or fruit juice
One-half pound candied pineapple
One-half pound candied cherries
One-half pound freshly grated cocoanut
One-fourth pound orange peel
One-eighth pound lemon peel
One-eighth pound citron
One-half pound pecans
One-half pound almonds
1 tsp baking powder
6 egg whites
Prepare the fruits the night before. Bake in an oven 250 degrees (F) for three hours.

Mrs. C. C. Williamson,
2321 Twenty-Fifth.

• • •

ECONOMY FRUIT CAKE

Part One:
1 cup raisins
1 cup sugar
1 1-4 cups hot water
1 tablespoon cocoa
One-third cup shortening
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1-4 teaspoon salt
Combine and boil part one ingredients for three minutes. When cool, add one-half cup of nutmeats, pecans preferred, and 1 cup of mixed chopped fruit (cook's own choice—orange peel, citron, cherries and pineapple make a delicious mixture.)

Part Two:
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
Sift three times and add to part one.

This will make one loaf or two layers. Bake loaf from one to one hour fifteen minutes in moderate oven. Layers will bake in about 40 minutes. Either pineapple or lemon icing is delicious with layer fruit cake. Only a few days are necessary for ripening.

Mrs. G. C. Keith,
Whiteface.

• • •

Dark Fruit Cake
First Mixture:
1½ cups shortening
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon salt

Second Mixture: Using a bowl large enough for the entire cake:
6 eggs, beaten lightly, add
½ cup New Orleans molasses in which 1 teaspoon of soda has been dissolved, add one-half cup cold coffee, then add to first mixture.
Work with hand until mixture is smooth, then add four cups of flour and continue working with hand until smooth. Add
1 pound chopped pecan meats
1 pound chopped pitted dates
1 pound currants
1 pound seedless raisins
1 pound glazed cherries
1 pound candied pineapple
1 package candied fruit mix
1 box coconut
Mix fruits into batter thoroughly. Bake in tube cake pan. Line bottom of pan with waxed paper and fill to two-thirds full, place in larger pan full of hot water and bake one and a half hours at a very low temperature. Remove from pan of water and continue to bake for one and a half hours.

Mrs. C. C. McCormick,
Olton Route, Plainview.

AFTER-SCHOOL SNACK—Next time your youngsters dash home from school ravenous as locusts, glamorize the favorite peanut butter and graham cracker snack with cocoa and honey. The mixture is creamy smooth and tasty as a candy frosting and here is how it is made: Two tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, three tablespoons cocoa, one-third cup honey and three-fourths cup peanut butter. Melt butter. Add remaining ingredients and blend well. Spread between vanilla wafers or graham crackers. Yield: One and one-fourth cups.

Raisin Pie

1 recipe plain pastry
2 cups seeded raisins
1 cup water
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Cook raisins with water, over low heat for 10 minutes. Combine flour, sugar and salt. Add cooked raisins and mix well. Turn into an eight inch pie plate lined with plain pastry. Dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with lemon juice. Top with more pastry, cut several slits to allow steam to escape, and seal edges. Brush top with milk and bake at 450° 20 minutes, then reduce heat to 350° and bake 30 minutes longer.

Holiday Sweets Are Re-Styled

HERE are two traditional holiday sweets re-styled to 1945 and its sugar problems.

Plantation Eggnog Pie

One tablespoon unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup cold milk, 1 cup scalded milk, 2 separated eggs, ½ cup molasses, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons vanilla, rum or rum flavoring to taste, 1 cup light cream, ginger snaps or vanilla wafers.

Soften gelatin in cold milk. Mix egg yolks, molasses, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Add scalded milk gradually, stirring all the while. Place over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat; stir in gelatin. Cool. Add cream and flavoring. Set in pan of ice water until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in stiffly beaten whites. Pour into a 9-inch pie plate, line sides and bottom with ginger snaps. Chill until firm. Sprinkle top with nutmeg.

Fruited Gingerbread

Two cups enriched all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon ginger, ¼ cup fortified margarine, ½ teaspoon light molasses, 1 egg, ¾ cup apple sauce (rather thin), ¼ cup cut up canned figs, ¼ cup cut up dates, ½ cup candied orange and lemon peel, ½ cup slivered almonds, fruit and cream cheese garnishes.

Sift, measure flour and resift with soda, salt and spices. Beat margarine with molasses and egg until very light. Add to the flour mixture with the salt. Stir until batter looks creamy then put about 1/3 into well-greased tube on spring form pan and sprinkle with about 1/3 of the fruits and nuts. Add more batter and fruit and repeat for three layers. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 55 to 60 minutes. Cool. Remove from pan. Garnish with pieces of fruit, nuts and cream cheese balls, or frost with cream cheese softened with milk to spread easily.

KITCHEN KORNER

To lengthen a hemless dress, get one-fourth inch colored braid and sew in slightly overlapping rows to the narrow bottom seam.

If you are tired of your basic dress, make it interesting with a little peplum or apron of contrasting polka dot fabric.

A dark dress can be revived for Spring by adding big patch pockets of a flower polka dot print.

Firm Develops Jet Buzz-Bomb

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22 (AP)—Development of a jet-propelled buzz bomb which could be used aboard landing craft and of a twin-fuselage military fighter with a range of 2500 miles was announced today by two aircraft firms.

Northrop Aircraft described its buzz bomb as a single jet creation with a 30-foot wingspread, much like a small fighter in appearance, and revealed that it has been making such bombs for the army since the summer of 1944.

North American Aviation made public details of its P-82 twin Mustang—latest in the series of famed Mustang fighters which saw action on many war fronts. The company said the P-82 will replace the P-51H on production lines.

Pilot In Each Fuselage

The new craft house a pilot in each fuselage, and, North American's statement says, culminates five years of research. It has a 2500 mile combat range, carrying full armament. Two 2200 horsepower, 12-cylinder engines give it speeds in excess of 475 miles per hour, the company added, with efficient operation up to 45,000 feet.

Armament includes six .50 caliber machine guns, 25 rockets which the company asserted provide the firepower of a light cruiser broadside—and four 1000 pound bombs. By use of adapters, however, two of the bomb racks can carry 2000 pounders.

Transit Service At Capital Is Resumed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Capital transit service functioned on a normal holiday basis today as bus and trolley drivers resumed work with the government as boss.

President Truman seized the system after a 16-hour strike yesterday, the second in two weeks in behalf of a 30-cent hourly wage increase demand by the AFL Amalgamted Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach employes.

The ODT said that federal operation was being conducted under an existing contract between the workers and the company providing for arbitration of differences. An agency spokesman said he assumed the union's plea for a pay increase from a present 95-cent hourly rate to $1.25 will be settled by arbitration.

Servicemen As Whole Are Found Honest

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 22. (AP)—Police are convinced servicemen are an honest lot.

Early this month, three gunmen held up the night clerk at an American Legion dormitory, robbing him of wallets and jewelry left for safekeeping by 68 overnight visitors. The Legion promptly paid off some $4,000 in claims, accepting the victims' estimates of their losses.

Today police announced that records, received with empty wallets and some watches in a duffle bag at the bottom of the bay, showed that the victims were only $11 over on their figures. Many, officers added, had underestimated.

Service Release Methods Polled

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J. — Families with a relative in the armed forces have mixed opinions about whether the Army and Navy systems of releasing men are fair or whether some changes are needed.

Those with a relative in the Navy seem less satisfied than those with a relative in the Army.

This is indicated in the following coast-to-coast poll by the Institute:

"Do you think the Army system of releasing men is fair, or do you think it needs some changes?"

People who have a relative in the Army voted:

Army release system fair	50%
Changes needed	40
No opinion	10

"Do you think the Navy system of releasing men is fair, or do you think it needs some changes?"

The vote of people with a relative in the Navy:

Navy system fair	35%
Changes needed	38
No opinion	27

All voters in today's poll who called for changes in the release system were asked to name the changes they wanted.

Army Complaint

In the case of the Army system the main complaint was that married men and older men should be released first. Other changes suggested were that men who went into the Army first should be released first; that men overseas should be released and their places taken by men now stationed in the United States, and that men who had seen combat duty should be released without regard for points.

In the case of the Navy system the chief complaints were that the number of points needed for release should be lowered, that the Navy demobilization system should be the same as the Army's, and that family men and men who saw front line duty should be given greater preference.

Over 5,000 Return From Pacific Duty

SEATTLE, Nov. 22. (U.P.)—More than 5,000 men stepped ashore from six transports today to spend their first Thanksgiving in the United States in several years.

Ships that docked here were: the SS Sea Quail, from Yokohama, with 139 officers and 1,941 men of the Americal division; SS Agwiprince, from Okinawa, with 65 Army officers and 1,140 men; SS Richarr Mansfield, from Okinawa, with 12 Army officers and 10 men; SS Cordova, from Kodiak, Alaska, with 103 Army and Navy officers and men; the USS Andromeda, with 467 Navy officers and men, and the USS Sumter, from Subic, with 1,398 Navy and Coastguard officers and men.

Three other transports carrying personnel of the Americal division will arrive by Nov. 28. A fourth will dock early in December.

Many Reforms Face Session Of Jap Diet

TOKYO, Nov. 22 (U.P.)—A plan for lowering the voting age, women's suffrage and other electoral reforms will be introduced into the 89th extraordinary Diet session scheduled to open next week.

It was understood the electoral changes will be approved by the emperor's privy council following formal opening ceremonies for the Diet session Monday. The bill should be ready for introduction Wednesday. The Diet session is expected to last 18 days.

TWO DIE IN WRECK

BOZEMAN, Mont., Nov. 22. (AP)—Two young railroad men were killed and a third injured slightly today in the derailment of a westbound Northern Pacific locomotive and baggage car on a curve 21 miles west of Bozeman.

Riots Emphasize Big Post-War Problem Facing Honolulu Area

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press Staff Writer

HONOLULU, Nov. 22—This one-time Pacific playground, turned into an armed camp after Pearl Harbor, has a post-war hangover which is straining tempers of civilians and service men to the point of creating a major problem.

The recent eruption of clashes, which prompted Interior Secretary Ickes to ask the Navy for an investigation, is surface evidence of a social problem far deeper than any hostile feelings between so-called native "gooks" and service men.

Juveniles Cause Problem

This friction has reached the point where unfounded rumors of fights put the Army and Navy men in a mood to carry a chip on their shoulder.

One of the factors involved is the islands' juvenile delinquency situation resulting from upsets in normal life due to the war.

After the Japanese attack on Pearl Marbor, troops and Navy personnel were rushed here by tens of thousands. Playgrounds and recreational facilities were taken over by the Army and Navy. The streets of Honolulu swarmed with servicemen on leave, youths looking for a little relaxation from the grind of duties, boredom and home-sickness.

Servicemen Are Blamed

James D. Lim, president of the Kaloaloa school Parent-Teachers association, admitted in a letter to a local paper that juvenile delinquency has become "our No. 1 social problem requiring special consideration and prompt action."

Profanity and insulting remarks of intoxicated service people who came to the territory of Hawaii along with the Pearl Harbor incident has perhaps contributed most to the problems so prominent in the newspapers of late," he said. "War has contributed most to our juvenile delinquency problem in this community. War deprived our children of their recreational facilities. These were taken by the Army."

Lim said that on May 4, 1944, the school requested the Army to turn back the only playground in that school community, but that the Army declined to release it until Jan. 1, 1946, and that the city has failed to provide needed recreational facilities.

Demobilization will ease the situation considerably, and in the meantime civil and military authorities are working to hold disturbances to a minimum.

Amarillo Wallops Westerners, 33-6, To Clinch Tie For Flag

Sandies Explode In Second Quarter For Win; Lubbock Scores In First

By JAY HARRIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

AMARILLO, Nov. 22—For one incredible opening period, Lubbock High's tense Westerners battled Amarillo's proud Sandies to a standstill here this afternoon, then in a nightmarish second quarter fell to pieces as the north Panhandle powerhouse made a shambles of Lubbock's hopes to chalk up a 33 to 6 decision.

The victory—the 11th straight for the Sandies over Gold and Black teams—clinched at least a tie for Amarillo in the District 1-AA title race and set the stage for the Dec. 1 championship clash between Pampa and the Sandies in Pampa.

Same Old Story

It was the same old story here this beautiful Turkey Day — and the ending wasn't any different from what has been since Lubbock last beat an Amarillo club in 1939, only the Westerners proved in an opening quarter comeback that they COULD match blow for blow with Golden Sandstorm teams if they forgot for a moment they were playing big, bad Amarillo.

Coach Bull Lynch's lads scored the first time they got their hands on the ball, capitalizing on a fizzled out Lubbock punt to its own 33 to roll to a touchdown in the first three minutes of play. The Sandies missed the extra point but that didn't make any difference later on.

12,000 Watch Game

That was just as the 12,000 fans in the stands said it would be.

Then something happened which wasn't in the books.

Big George Brewer, Lubbock's All District fullback of which there should be many more if Hub City fans ever expect to stop such stompings as these year after year, received the kickoff on his own six and roared back 39 yards to his own 45. Then in four minutes of championship play, the Westerners, with slight interruption for an Amarillo fumble to give them a scoring chance, marched all the way on the ground and in the air to even the count! The try for point here also failed.

That made it 6 to 6 late in the first quarter.

But Sandies Come Back

The fans didn't believe it. And neither did the Sandies. The latter came back to prove it was a mistake. And by the time the second quarter was over the fans were convinced.

For in that second period, the Sandies scored three times, never let Lubbock have the ball long enough even to see if it was still pumped up! And as if a 26 to 6 halftime lead wasn't enough, the mighty Lynch Lads — proud, poised and powerful — added another seven points in the third period, then sent in a stream of substitutes to toy with the, by then, thoroughly beaten visitors.

Punt Gives Sandies Chance

Here's the gory details the way they happened . . .

After receiving the opening kickoff, the Westerners weren't able to gain and Brewster's punt from his own 14 dribbled out on the Lubbock 33. Big Harland Collins, Amarillo's plunging, passing, punting tailback, picked up three. Then after being held for two downs, Collins rifled the ball on a fourth down heave to Right Half Bobby Bauman on the Lubbock four. Fullback Avon Flaniken picked up a yard to the three, then rambled through the Lubbock line for the score. Sub Back Edsel Buchanan's try for point was low.

The Sandies then kicked off to Brewer, the Lubbock left half lumbering to his own 45 on a sensational return. In four plays the Westerners were stopped cold, and punted out on the Amarillo 28. Collins lost a yard, then Flaniken, on an attempted slash at the line, fumbled on the Sandie 30, and little Noel Sikes, the Westerners' 145-pound right half who turned in a whale of a game alongside Brewer, smothered the ball. Brewer picked up a yard. A five yard penalty set the Westerners back to the 34.

Jones Connects On Pass

Then Brewer started rolling. H. hit the center of the line for nine to the Sandie 25. Big George hit tackle for nine more to the Amarillo 16, plunged to the 15 on the next play. Austin failed to gain and a pass went awry in the end zone.

Then on fourth down, Quarterback John Paul Jones—another standout for the Westerners — found Left End Dick Schmidt in the left flat with a bullet heave. The score was knotted. Lubbock's 2,500 fans went wild. Brewer's kick for the extra point was wide and with little more than two minutes to go in the first period, the Westerners had done something no other Lubbock team had been able to do in the past four years—score on Amarillo.

Amarillo Roars Back

But the happiness was short-lived.

Bauman took Brewer's kickoff on the Sandie 12, returned to his own 35. Ten plays, two minutes and 65 yards later the Westerners watched Collins whip a third down pass from his own 16 to Bauman for the second Sandie tally. Bobby Farmer, Amarillo team manager, missed the try for point.

Amarillo kicked off to Lubbock on the 30. Two plunges and an incomplete pass netted Lubbock a two-yard loss. Brewer then punted. The ball popped into the air, bounced out four yards downfield—out on Lubbock's 35.

Collins, Seale Shine

About this time, Jack Seale, Amarillo's sub fullback, came into the fray. In two plays he had the ball on Lubbock's six. A 15-yard holding penalty set the Sandies back. The Sandies surged back to the one. Another 15-yard penalty shoved Amarillo back to the 16 again. And again Seale brought it back to the six. Collins then whipped a fourth down touchdown heave to Seale and the score read 18 to 6. Sub Back A. F. Pyeatt booted a perfect placement and it was 19 to 6.

With about two minutes to play, the Sandies recovered Brewer's fumbled punt return on the Lubbock 19 to set up their next score. Five plays later, Collins stood on his own six, dropped the ball on a perfect pass in the end zone to Left End Jack Glasgow for the fourth Sandie tally, third of that wild second quarter. Buchanan kicked the point and the half ended seconds later, 26 to 6.

Sandies Score Again

Lubbock came back to make something of a ball game of it for eight minutes of the third period. Then Amarillo exploded again.

Taking over on the Lubbock 41 after Bauman recovered another Brewer fumble, the Sandies in seven sudden, short plunges scored their final tally, the irrepressible Seale slashing the left side of the Lubbock line to shreds on spinners and reverses. Seale went the last five yards over guard and tackle. That made it 32 to 6. Pyeatt planted one squarely between the uprights and that made it 33 to 6, as the quarter ended.

Lubbock In Late Rally

The fourth was played mostly in Amarillo territory with second and third string Sandies being pressed hard to hold the charging Westerners, although Brewer handled most of the charging for the Lubbocks. About midway the quarter, the Westerners took over on a punt on their own 26 and with Brewer and Sub Back John Lanham doing the driving, rolled to the Sandie 40 before bogging down. A punt exchange gave the Westerners the ball on the Amarillo 44 with little more than a minute to go.

Then Brewer sparked a dying rally which had rolled to the Sandies' four as the game ended.

The statistics show Amarillo with a clear margin in every department, and they were as good or evep better than the statistics show. This Collins, who is (the program says) 159-pounds of brawn and dynamite, can pass, punt and plunge with the best of them—only Brewer with the same blocking and teamwork is much better. And Amarillo's Seale—a whirling dervish, who with Collins almost singlehandedly engineered that second quarter debacle, will back next year.

Brewer Standout Of Game

For Lubbock, it was Brewer all the way—and he would have went all the way more than once if there were enough fast blockers to pave the way. Also sharing honors with him were Sikes, who got in some terrific tackles, Jones, whose passing was a constant threat, and Capt. and Center, Charles Presley. Left End Dick Schmidt, Left Guard Harold Wall and Right End Gerald Davis in the line.

Those were the figures and facts. But one angle which none of the statistics show is a little thing called psychology. It has something to do with being able to accomplish what you THINK you can do—regardless the odds.

That Lubbock touchdown proved that.

Many Schoolboy Titles Decided

(By The Associated Press)

Wichita Falls and Marshall scored crushing victories Thursday to become district champions in Texas schoolboy football.

Titles were decided all along the line in traditional Turkey Day battles with Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio being a surprise winner by beating Brackenridge of San Antonio 20-13.

Austin Was Favored

Austin had been favored to take the District 15 championship but lost to Jefferson which, although it had dropped one game the same as Austin, clinched the championship since the district rule is that in a tie for the title, the team that beat the other in season play gets the pennant.

Wichita Falls ran over Vernon 48-0 in an amazing show of power to win the District 2 championship.

Marshall walloped Tyler 38-0 to sew up the flag in District 11.

El Paso High Wins

Sparked by their power back, Bill Chesak, who scored three touchdowns, the El Paso High Tigers defeated Austin (El Paso) Panthers, 25-7, at the College of Mines Kidd field before a capacity crowd to give them the District 4AA championship.

Austin had copped the title last year. The Tigers won with steady ground gains interspersed with a brilliant passing attack.

Alabama Rose Bowl Report Is Stymied

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22 (AP)—The rumors that Alabama will get—or has—the Rose Bowl bid were floating around the South and East today but here—where the selection will be made—it was just another quiet and peaceful Thanksgiving.

Willis O. Hunter, interrupting his turkey dinner to answer the telephone, fell back on a pleasant "no comment." Pressed, he did add that he hoped to have something for publication soon. How soon? Definitely not on Thanksgiving.

Hunter is chairman of a coast conference committee which will announce the selection for the annual New Year's football classic. Technically, it's up to the winner of the Pacific coast conference race, which apparently will be decided after the USC-UCLA clash a week and a half away.

Actually, an agreement among the possible coast conference winners could be reached before that time—and an invitation extended.

But those in the know tonight weren't betting too heavily on Alabama. It's no secret, for example, that Army's powerhouse is definitely desirable. What the War department might have to say about a post season game still hasn't been said.

Borger Hits Early To Beat Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 22. (Special)—The Borger Bulldogs struck early, then staved off a last half rally by the Brownfield Cubs here this afternoon to defeat the Brownfield Cubs 20 to 13 in the season's finale for the two District 1-AA clubs.

Borger used a punt, a pass and a run to pile up a 20-0 lead in the first half. The Cubs came back in the second half with a pair of touchdown passes, but the rally was smothered before the Cubs could catch the Bulldogs.

A brilliant 50 yard punt return to Crow, Borger speedster, scored one touchdown, and Milton Price galloped 50 yards off tackle for another. The third tally was scored on a pass play.

South Carolina Ties Wake Forest, 13-13

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 22 (AP) Underdog South Carolina, playing inspired football, tied Wake Forest, 13-13, in a thrill-packed Southern conference contest today.

The heavily favored Deacons had to come from behind in the last two minutes to earn a tie after the battling Gamecocks had forged ahead with third and fourth quarter scores.

Tulsa Is Master Over Razorbacks, 45 To 13

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 22 (AP) — Masters from the start, Tulsa university's Hurricanes scored in every period today to overwhelm the Arkansas Razorbacks 45-13 before a Thanksgiving football crowd of more than 17,000.

Plainview Bulldogs Upset Pampa, 14-7

By MACK TURNER
Avalanche Sports Editor

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 22.—Coach W. C. O. Harris' Plainview Bulldogs came snarling back into the District 1-AA pennant picture here this afternoon before an overflow crowd of 7,000 fans, and toppled the Pampa Harvesters from the undefeated teams of the state schoolboy picture with a stunning 14 to 7 victory.

The critics who have said that Plainview couldn't win without its great passing attack left the Plainview stadium with red faces at the end of the ball game, for it was a hard driving, tricky ball handling ground game that trampled the heavier Harvesters into the sod with two long sustained drives that paid off in the second quarter after 60 and 81 yard marches to pay dirt.

Bulldogs Grab Lead

It was well along in the late minutes of the first period that Plainview suddenly sprang into life, and started rolling after most of the period had been spent with neither team offering much of a threat.

Jack Dunham of Pampa started the fireworks when he intercepted a pass by Plainview's Jack Williams, then flipped a latteral to Randall Clay, and Clay romped to the Plainview 40 before he was roped in.

Three running plays netted four yards, and Johnson gambled with a pass on fourth down. Jack Weldon leaped high, hooked the ball out of the waiting arms of Clay, and ran it back, then flipped a latteral to Jack Williams who ran to the Bulldog 40.

Little Claude May, who played a great game in the Plainview line, saved the day when he recovered Rudolph Haile's fumble for a four yard gain. Haile then made it first down at midfield. Weldon and Haile picked up another ten in three tries.

Then Weldon took the handoff from Williams, broke over his own left tackle and into the clear and roared to the Pampa 10 before he was crowded out of bounds. It was the first serious threat of the game.

Williams picked up a couple of yards, Weldon added four more, then Weldon knifed into the line, and made a first down on the one-foot line, on the last play of the quarter. Weldon smashed over on the first play of the second period, and Williams booted the extra point.

Pampa Storms Back

Pampa came storming back on the kickoff, and with big Randall Clay and Bill Washington eating up the ground with hard slashing runs, moved from deep in their own end of the field to the Plainview 19, where the attack bogged before the fighting Bulldog defenders.

Plainview stormed right back, marching from its own 19 to score, with Williams and Weldon turning in some nice gallops to start the drive to rolling, and move the ball out to the Bulldog 46 for a first down.

It was there that William's only pass of the day started the real scoring threat when Williams flipped the ball into the arms of Jack Bond as the Plainview wingman started wide. Bond broke into the clear and stormed down the sidelines and looked to be pay dirt bound when George Johnson flashed through and bumped him out of bounds on the Pampa 22.

Haile picked up seven yards, then Williams twisted through tackle and smashed down to the Pampa six before he was dropped. Weldon picked up two yards, then Williams smashed over his own right tackle for the score, and booted the extra point.

Bulldogs Hole Up

The Bulldogs then seemed content in defending their lead for the rest of the way, and neither team offered another threat until the powerful ground attack of the Harvesters started rolling in the late minutes of the ball game, and scored the lone Harvester tally.

Pampa took over on its 45 yard line on a punt exchange, and after one incomplete pass, Clay gathered in a pass from Johnson and carried the pigskin to the Plainview 30.

It was there that Bill Washington started rolling, and circled left end and weaved through the secondary to the Plainview 22, where the officials warned coaches on both benches that two minutes remained in the game.

Clay Goes Over

Washington broke away again, and smashed down to the Plainview six, a brilliant run, and when he was tackled, the referee stepped off the rest of the way down to the Bulldog one yard line for roughness. On the next play, big Randall Clay crashed over, then Clay kicked the extra point.

Plainview "froze" the ball for the four remaining plays, which included one five yard penalty for delaying the game, and that was the story of how the Harvesters were toppled.

It was the first time since Plainview defeated Pampa 10-0 in 1940 that a Bulldog eleven has beaten a Harvester eleven, and the second Plainview victory in the grid history of the two schools.

There was some brilliant defensive play from both sides throughout the game, but the play of little May of Plainview and Big Jim Terrell of Pampa that stood out in both lines.

The Pampa defeat leaves Amarillo undisputed leaders in the District 1-AA race, but a Pampa victory over Amarillo on Dec. 1 would throw the race into a three-way tie between Amarillo, Pampa and Plainview.

Denver City Swamps Sundown, 39 To 6

DENVER CITY, Nov. 22—Denver City's Mustangs ran roughshod over the Sundown Roughnecks here this afternoon before the largest crowd of the grid season, defeating the visitors, 39 to 6.

Denver City drew first blood in the opening period when Tate went 20 yards to score but Sundown came back to tie the count, 6-6, before the end of the period when Swaine passed to Etheridge for 40 yards and a touchdown.

The Mustangs started rolling after that and the visitors couldn't halt them as Tate passed to Miller for 30 yards and again to Ward for 20 yards in the second period for successive scores.

In the third quarter, Ward scampered off tackle for 35 yards to score and in the final period Tate went over from the two-yard line in the last quarter for the final marker. Tate kicked three of the six extra points.

Cecil Ray, left half and Ledbetter, guard, were outstanding for Sundown while Streety and Trice featured line play of the locals. Ward was sensational in his touchdown jaunts.

Red Raiders Off For Lobo Battle

A Texas Tech Red Raider team hampered by injuries leaves Lubbock today to meet the New Mexico university Loboes in the season's closing game Saturday in Albuquerque.

Coach Dell Morgan had hoped to close the year with another victory but indications were last night he will get none too much service from two of his best linesmen, R. W. Moyers, end, and Floyd Lawhorn, guard. Both men have been among the year's stars and have been mentioned for Little All-America honors. Moyers has not been at practice all week because of an injured knee received last week-end against the Oklahoma Aggies. His physician said last night it is doubtful if he will be able to play much against the Loboes. Lawhorn has been limping all week, with both knees and his left ankle sore from the Aggies encounter.

Colds have swept the Raider squad for the past two weeks and others of the traveling squad will not be in top shape. However, Morgan feels his charges may give a good account of themselves.

Thirty-one players will make the trip, including:

Centers Otis Turner, James Cleckler and John Stawewen; Guards Lawhorn, Russell Birdwell, Mac Weaver, Reeves Moren, Pat Farris and Earl Burum; Tackles Douglas McSwane, James Gimmell, Bernie Winkler and Charles Walsh; Ends Moyers, Bill Kelley, Billy Bob Harris, Frank Ottners, Athol Craven and Lester Hahn; Backs T. M. Cox, Bennie Tidwell, Arthur Shahan, Cecil Norris, Jack Hinson, Milton Butler, Walter Schlinkman, Ed Robnett, Dick Wiggins, Gene Hardey, Jack Dillon and Chester Jackson.

Also making the trip will be Coaches Morgan, Polk Robison, Walker Nichols and Tom Douglas, Student Managers G. W. Warden, Bruce Pipkin and Earl Lackhart, Publicity Man Clark Schooley and Earl Leverett, photographer.

Traveling by private automobile will be many other Tech officials and numerous fans, including Athletic Director and Mrs. Morley Jennings, Dean and Mrs. W. L. Stangel and Clifford Jones, president emeritus, and Mrs. Jones.

Littlefield, Sudan Battle To 20-20 Tie

By BILL BARNETT.
Avalanche Staff Writer

SUDAN, Nov. 22—The mighty Littlefield Wildcats ran into a Hornet's nest here this afternoon and had to depend on penetrations to pull them through to a victory over the Sudan Hornet eleven, with the District 5-A pennant going home with the winning team.

The score was 20-20 but the invaders, who came here favored by two touchdowns, held a 4-3 edge in penetrations and a 16 to 10 advantage in first downs, clinching the victory.

Littlefield claimed two quick scores in the first and second periods and added a third in the third stanza while the home team grabbed one tally in the second and two in the third periods for their scores.

Sudan Had the Spirit

A cool-headed crafty quarterback, Billy Lyman, was the main claw of the Wildcat game. He carried the burden of passing and running and never lost that unruffled calm that signifies a winner.

Sudan was always in the ball game and gave Littlefield players and fans the scare of the year behind the pitching arm of Jimmy Eddins and the crashing runs of Leland Bouldin. What they lacked in size and ability, spirit balanced.

Littlefield drew first blood by taking the ball on their own 40-yard marker after kicking twice and driving 60 yards for their first tally. Oscar Arnds went over from the one to climax a nine-play drive. After crossing the goal he fumbled but it was pounced on by end Gene McCanles for the score. The conversion missed.

Lyman Passes for Score

In the second period Littlefield again cavorted over half the distance of the field, this time 55 yards, to score. Lyman, whose ball-bearing arm proved dangerous all day, plunked one in the arms of McCanles for 13 yards and the tally.

Then came the conversion that fans are still wondering about. Buster Owens calmly kicked the goal. The referee signalled the kick good. The headlinesman said Sudan was guilty of defensive holding but Littlefield, already up the field, refused the penalty. The referee signalled a penalty against Sudan was refused and in his signals the crowd and players alike thought the point was bad. The score then stood 13-0 favoring Littlefield.

Sudan Got Busy Again

Sudan got busy in a hurry. They took the kickoff and began throwing and passing the ball straight downfield. Eddins passed to end Joe Price from the 30 and the receiver gathered in the pigskin and scooted from the 15 across the goal. Waymon Bellar kicked a perfect conversion. The score was 13-7 and was the same when the half ended.

In the third period the Sudan team came back again to tally a quick one. They took the opening kickoff and from their own 46 drove the remaining distance to the goal in 11 plays. Bouldin went over and Bellar converted to give Sudan a 14-13 lead.

Wildcats Took Lead Again

But champions won't be kept down. Littlefield returned the kickoff to the 30, but a holding penalty put them back to their 15. In 16 plays Lyman led the way down field, carrying five times and passing twice and running over the score. He heaved a toss to Owens on the one yard line and then slipped over from his quarterback slot. Again Owens converted, perfectly giving the Wildcats a 20-14 lead.

Everyone was convinced of Littlefield's victory but Sudan. They came charging back after being forced to punt once by recovering a Arnds fumble on the invader's 25 and moved over to score. Eddin's passed once to the 14, moved down to the nine and then crashed over. He fumbled in the end-zone but a pile of Sudan players made it a certainty by smothering the ball. The kick was wide and the final score was set.

Penetration Was Difference

Littlefield made one more definite threat in the final quarter, and made the penetration that won the game. Dal Braden, who was consistently there when he was needed all during the game, blocked a Sudan punt and McCanles ran it down to the 33. Lyman heaved to McCanles on the next play to move the ball to the 18. Three more passes failed and Owens dropped the fourth one in the end zone. The ball game ended two plays later with Sudan in possession on their own 25.

The scrappy home team got 78 yards in the air and 79 rushing. Littlefield got 229 aground and 58 in the air. Each completed six posses with the winners tossing 14 and the losers 10. Littlefield was set back 35 yards for penalties against 5 for Sudan. The winners' game was hurt my five fumbles, four of them recovered by Sudan and the latter lost the ball on 2 occasions during their 4 fumbles. Both teams showed poor defensive play on the dusty gridiron.

Littlefield will play the District 6-A champions, Denver City, in the bi-district game. Date and site are not yet set.

Floydada Takes District 4 Title

FLOYDADA, Nov. 22. (Special)—The Floydada Whirlwinds, new champions of District 4-A, outscored the Spur Bulldogs, defending champions, here this afternoon, 31 to 26, to clinch the district flag, and the right to enter the Region One playoffs in December.

Officials of the Wellington Skyrockets were on hand for the game, and following the game this afternoon, the site of the bi-district clash between the two schools was set for Wellington, but the date was not agreed upon.

Long runs featured the play of the Whirlwinds, with Glenn Carmack and Kelley Hagood sharing in the scoring honors for the new champions. Carmack started the scoring on the first play of the ball game, and Floydada was never headed off.

Carmack's first gallop was for 60 yards, and a few minutes later, he got away for another 55 yard touchdown juant. Both were on smashes through the line.

Hagood started in the first period, sweeping end for 70 yards and a touchdown, and again in the fourth period he scored Floydada's only touchdown of the last half with a 65 yard gallop on the same type play.

Watson scored for Spur in the first quarter with a 10 yard sprint to pay dirt, and in the second period McAteer intercepted a Floydada pass and roamed 40 yards for a touchdown.

Also in the second quarter, Robertson passed to Payne, and Tribble kicked the extra point for seven more Floydada points.

The third quarter was scoreless, Hagood scored for Floydada in the fourth, and Spur counted twice in a desperate rally with Watson passing to Calvert for 20 yards and one touchdown, and Watson ran over the other from the ten yards out.

Thanksgiving In City Is Quiet

Lubbock's formal observance of the first peace-time Thanksgiving in three years was concluded last night after a day spent at football games, family reunions, traditional turkey dinners and religious services.

Thousands of South Plains residents attended football games in the area. Dunbar negro high school defeated Abilene negro high school in the only game here. Perhaps 3,000 Lubbockites went to Amarillo for the game there.

Lubbock closed shop, with the exception of drug stores, cafes and a few various other businesses. Schools will not resume classes until Monday. Texas Tech did not close, as the college is observing the last Thursday as beginning of its Thanksgiving holidays.

The day passed quietly for state, county, city and other law enforcement agencies. Less than the usual number of violations were reported, although officers expected the number of drunks to increase considerably early this morning. Up to late Thursday night only five who had imbibed too generously were in city and county jails.

Wrecks were at a minimum, officers said, considering the heavy traffic. Charges were filed against two men involved in a collision Thursday morning about one-half mile south of Lubbock on the Lubbock-Tahoka highway. T/Sgt. Wallace Ray Wood, of Lubbock, stationed at Big Spring, paid a $10 fine for "driving too fast for the conditions then existing," and Jack Pope Akins, also of Lubbock, was fined $10 for "cutting a corner in making a left turn" off the highway on Fortieth. Sgt. E. L. Stroud of the Texas Highway patrol said. Wood was driving north and Akins south. Damage to the two cars amounted to several hundred dollars, but no one was injured, Stroud reported. Justice W. D. Robertson assessed the penalties.

Lubbock hospitals reported no unusual occurrences, and the fire department did not make a run during the holiday.

Special Thanksgiving dinners were served at local Army establishments.

Leases Planned For Part Of Big Plant

DALLAS, Nov. 22. (AP)—Robert McCulloch, general partner in the Texas Engineering and Manufacturing company, Ltd., announced here today that leases covering one-third of the North American Aviation plant at Grand Prairie would be signed Friday.

The leases have been given Army and Navy approval, made necessary because the NAA, plant has been designated as a stand-by unit for the armed forces, McCulloch said. Reconstruction Finance corporation approval of the leases had been previously obtained, he said.

McCulloch said a contract with Fairchild corporation, covering construction of F-24 "family-type" airplanes had been signed, and would become operative Dec. 1, following completion of lease signing. In addition, negotiations are proceeding for contracts on building C-82 cargo plane assemblies, he reported.

Stricken Boy Gets Early Christmas And Rocking Horse

NILWOOD, Ill., Nov. 22. (AP) — Harlan Lair, a very sick little boy who wanted a rocking horse for Christmas, got six of them today for his Christmas which couldn't wait.

Physicians had advised the parents of the slight, pale, four year old youngster that he might not live until late December. So Christmas came on Thanksgiving day in the Lair home. And some 1,000 persons throughout the country contributed to the early celebration.

Harlan was stricken with lymphatic leukemia, a usually fatal blood disease, after a bout with chicken pox last May. A few days ago he expressed the hope Santa would bring him a rocking horse.

The story of the boy's early Christmas plans spread. Cards, letters, money, a 16-pound live turkey, a milk goat, fruit, candy and loads of toys poured in. A registered nurse at Fairbanks, Alaska paid one dollar an ounce postage to send him a foot high doll.

Last night, standing under a huge lighted, decorated Christmas tree Harlan looked in delight at his toys — especially the rocking horses. He christened them all "Doodle"—his name for horses, real or toy.

When it came time to eat today, the family had duck.

Harlan wouldn't let them kill the turkey.

on a scale comparable with that from which we have just emerged, every weapon will be used, and we can confidently expect that full-scale atomic warfare will result in the destruction of great cities, the deaths of millions and the setting back of civilization to an unimaginable extent."

Eden, following Attlee, concurred and declared he was "unable to see any final solution that will make the world safe for atomic power, other than that we all abate our present ideas of sovereignty."

Relations With Russia

Nothing, Eden added, shows more clearly the continued hold of nationalism on all nations than the decision of the San Francisco conference to retain the power of veto for the Big Five nations in the security council of the United Nations organization of any question of using armed force.

Turning to relations with Russia, Eden said "no one would deny there has been an increase of suspicion and distruct between the Soviet Union and the other two great partners in victory, the United States and Russia.

To a cheering house, Eden begged "our Russian friends to believe" that they could make no greater contribution to international understanding than to allow foreign correspondents into Russian territory or territory under Russian control.

Discovery May Clear Mystery

GOLD BEACH, Ore., Nov. 22 (AP) A woman's skeleton with two bullet holes in the skull, found south of here, appears to be that of Mrs. Kathleen W. Tomlin, San Antonio, Texas, who disappeared a year ago, a state police officer said today.

Capt. Paul Parsons, Medford, said a watch, a ring, and pieces of slacks found with the skeleton have Texas labels, and correspond with the apparel Mrs. Tomlin was reported wearing. Identification is tentative, however, until the state crime laboratory checks on dental work, he added.

Last Word From Her

A wire sent from Florence, Ore., to her husband in Texas was the last word from Mrs. Tomlin, who operated a travel service for servicemen. Her car was found abandoned the same day—Nov. 23, 1944—at Drain, Ore.

Mrs. Tomlin was enroute to San Antonio from Portland when she disappeared. The skeleton was found at Carpenterville, 18 miles south of here and 164 miles south of Florence.

Nazis Began Early Against Catholics

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 22. (AP)—Zealous Nazi secret police as early as 1934 described Catholic church opposition to their new regime as "unspeakable behaviour," and by 1942 Himmler ordered concentration camps to put priest of some nationalities at any kind of work.

This was disclosed by secret police files submitted in evidence today before the international military tribunal. The documents showed a growing Nazi fury in the face of the passive non-cooperation on the part of the clergy.

Labor Conference Sharply Divided On Fact-Finding Plan In Dispute

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—Delegates to the labor-management conference have conflicting ideas over establishing fact-finding procedures for labor disputes but the group's federal sponsors appeared hopeful today of an agreement.

Dr. George W. Taylor, conference secretary, told reporters an executive committee decision to tackle the subject is the most forward step toward peaceful handling of industrial disputes taken so far in the three-week sessions.

Sharply Different Views

Delegates have sharply differing views on how the fact-finding machinery should operate but they generally favor the over-all aim of airing and sifting disputed points.

A subcommittee failed to agree on one fact-finding proposal submitted by management. This calls for state governors to refer disputes to fact-finding commissions of disinterested citizens. These commissions would have 30 days to make findings public. A 10-day period would follow during which strikes would be barred.

The executive committee, on motion of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, decided it would get to work Monday after a four-day Thanksgiving recess on some form of fact-finding machinery, for use when collective bargaining and conciliation fail.

One Suggests Setup

One labor delegate, who asked that his name not be used, suggested a federal fact-finding setup, a permanent agency of economic statistics and information capable of stepping in immediately when a dispute arises.

Those opposed to federal fact-finding fear an agency's decisions might strike a "pattern" favorable either to labor or management so one or the other might be prone to bypass bargaining and conciliation to get to the fact-finding process.

There is also argument over the limits of fact-finding. Some argue for a concise statement of issues, others for a recommended solution as well. Some want the fact-finders to come out with a solution that would be binding.

Examining of Records

Also, companies balk at outsiders examining their detailed records, particularly cost-profit data. Unions oppose any requirements to hold off a strike.

Some suggest industry fact-finding bodies, one each for automobile, steel, lumber and so on. But others contend these might operate without regard to general economic conditions, so working conditions in one industry might jump way ahead of another.

Ailing Hull To Go Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Ailing Cordell Hull will give congressional investigators tomorrow his account of the historic events that preceded the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Despite his ill health, the former secretary of state was described by committee attaches as anxious to appear before the Senate-House inquiry committee because of implied criticism leveled at him by an Army investigation board.

That board said counterproposals which Hull presented to the Japanese on Nov. 26, 1941, touched off the attack on the Hawaiian naval base at a time when military officials wanted to stall for time to get prepared.

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 22 (AP)—Guided to the altar by a seeing-eye dog, former Marine Edward J. Glass was married to Miss Louise Falcone at St. Thomas Aquinas church today.

The dog, "Ruff," stood quietly during the ceremony.

Glass, majoring in sociology at Stanford, has a small room, and his bride also has a tiny room. Friends said neither place was large enough for two persons and the dog, and the problem seemed further complicated because "Ruff" appears a bit jealous.

Witness Seeks To Absolve Yamashita

MANILA, Nov. 22 (AP)—Defense testimony designed to absolve Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita of blame for Japanese atrocities in the Philippines was introduced today at the war crimes trial of the one-time enemy commander here.

Lt. Gen. Akira Muto, who was Yamashita's chief of staff, sought in his replies during cross-examination to shift the blame to superiors, subordinate commanders and colleagues of Yamashita.

Questioned about deaths in prisoner of war camps, Muto said he heard Yamashita say many times he was "anxious about the care and handling of prisoners of war." Asked whether some prisoners had not starved to death, Muto replied that some Japanese soldiers starved too, "due to shortages."

De Gaulle Moves To Nationalize Credit

PARIS, Nov. 22 (AP)—Nationalization of France's credit and electrical systems are first on the list of prime reform legislation which President de Gaulle will outline to the constituent assembly tomorrow, usually reliable reports said tonight.

De Gaulle will go before the assembly for expected approval of his new government and its program of action.

Our Arctic "Weak Spot"

Defenses Must Be Strengthened

THE government is acting wisely and with admirable speed in heeding warnings from its top air generals that an adequate air defense must necessarily include safeguards of the now vulnerable Arctic approaches.

Officials are giving the most attention to a plan for a long-range agreement with Iceland, under which the United States Army Air forces may use Iceland's American-built Meeks field in peacetime. It is one of the world's most strategically located bases.

The shortest attack route from Europe against the United States by air is across the Arctic, the Senate Military Affairs committee was told by Gen. Carl (Tooey) Spaatz. He ought to know—he was commander of the U. S. Strategic Air force in Europe, later served in the Pacific.

On General Spaatz's assumption, the United States must now be in a position to defend the 3,000 miles of its northern border, despite the century-old pact with Canada not to fortify the boundary. Presumably, we would lay a string of modern air fields along the boundary.

The Arctic routes are something with which both this country and Russia are concerned. Because the U. S. has indicated that it might retain bases on Iceland and Greenland, Russia has voiced claims for similar rights on Spitzbergen, an archipelago deep in the Arctic ocean. Those who fear the Soviets say that with fields on Spitzbergen and in north European Russia and Siberia, Russia would command all the direct air approaches from Europe and Asia to the Arctic. Now that the U. S. is working for a base on Iceland, Russian can be expected to press its claims in regard to Spitzbergen, now under Norwegian sovereignty.

To be trite, times do change. There was a time when we thought our country vulnerable to attack only from the east and west, and very unlikely there, because of the wide expanse of the Pacific and Atlantic. We thought of the Arctic regions variously as the location of the North Pole, which we imagined to be something like a barber pole, only white all over; a playground for Admiral Byrd and the home of Santa Claus. Now, almost overnight, we learn that we are "wide open" at the top; that our northern border is an open gate for enemy fleets of stratospheric planes and rockets carrying atomic bombs.

Plugging this "hole" is as necessary to our security as putting a strong navy in the Atlantic and Pacific. We are glad to see the government laying the foundation for such a project.

Veterans And Insurance

A STUDY just completed by the Family Economics bureau of the Northwestern Economics bureau of the Northwestern Life Insurance company reveals a startling rate of lapsation on the government insurance policies of discharged service men. It shows that only one veteran out of 25 has converted his policy to peace-time requirements; that only one out of four is keeping his alive even on a temporary-term basis.

Too much high pressure on draftees when they took out their insurance and not enough salesmanship now to get them to keep it in force seem to form the general explanation for this state of affairs. Many of the veterans interviewed, according to the survey, say they recall only one reason advanced when they were urged to take out this insurance. That was: "We want to make this outfit a hundred per cent. Sign here." Now, at the various separation centers, discharged veterans are receiving insurance counsel which ranges from excellent, in some cases, to almost useless in others.

Needless to say, there are many cases where the veteran regarded his insurance as merely a temporary protection against the additional hazards of war, and considers any premiums paid on it as just so much spilt milk. But it is probable that such cases are vastly outnumbered by those involving carelessness, oversight or simple failure to realize that lapsation means the loss of a stake in peacetime insurance policy that is frequently very sizeable.

He's Hard To Figure Out!

SIR JAMES FRENCH, chairman of governors of the Royal Technological college of Glasgow, Scotland, is a man we do not understand.

Sir James says that if the United States conducts its widely-advertised atomic bomb experiments on naval tagets, he would be willing to board one of the ships and record his reactions.

The Glasgow-citizen, provided he is able to wrangle a berth on one of the ghost ships, will probably find it a little difficult to hold his notebook and pencil and write with a steady hand when those love drops start tearing up the ocean. It'll be a terrific strain and he will have to exercise control to keep from going to pieces.

As we get it, the principal reaction to the atomic bomb is death. Getting this down in black and white will be a little hard, we'll bound.

In attempts to solve the honorable Sir James, one can only arrive at these conclusions: (1) He thinks the atomic bomb is a grapefruit; (2) He is nuts; (3) His wife is mean to him; (4) A hot music hound, he wants to be "sent"; (5) He is joking.

Marshall's Report On The War

By Gen. George C. Marshall
Wartime Chief Of Staff

(This is the ninth of 4 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II).

ENTRENCHMENT IN ITALY

GENERAL EISENHOWER and his grand force commander, General Alexander, fully anticipated that they were in for a heavy fight at the foot of the Italian boot. They had estimated that eight German divisions were available to oppose the landings. Two were in and north of Rome. The Hermann Goering Panzer Division and the 15th Motorized Division were in the Naples area, and four more first-class divisions (the 16th and 26th Panzer, 29th Motorized, and 1st Parachute) were south of Naples. The enemy forces in the south were heavy in armor. General Alexander, on the other hand, had to lodge assault infantry on the mainland first. The shortage of shipping made it impossible for him to bring his own heavy armor into the fight until the British 7th Armored Division started to unload on D + 5. A further handicap was the necessity of making large forces available for the OVERLORD built-up at this time. The U. S 1st and 9th Divisions and 2d Armored Division which had fought in Sicily were already staging for their movement to the United Kingdom. Later the 82d Airborne Division was withdrawn from the fighting at Salerno and sent to Britain.

MARSHALL

The narrow margin on which we were compelled to allocate our resources so that Germany might be defeated at the earliest possible moment required superhuman effort by troops and commanders. Every available combat aircraft of both the Tactical and the Strategic Air Forces was thrown into the action. Bombers flew two missions a day, isolating the battle area and pounding German strongpoints. During the four critical days our Air Forces flew 3,000 sorties and dropped 2,150 tons of bombs in close support of the ground action. Naval gunfire supported the ground troops, and the Navy kept the stream of reinforcements coming in. On 13 September, and again the next day, reinforcing troops of the 82d Airborne Division went ashore. By the morning of 15 September the assault was firmly established, the high ground commanding the beaches had been taken, and the crisis had passed. While the fighting was in progress during these critical days General Eisenhower found time to inform me:

". . . We are very much in the 'touch and go' stage of this operation. We got the Italian Fleet into Malta and, because of the Italian surrender, were able to rush into Taranto and Brindisi where no Germans were present. Our hold on both places is precarious but we are striving mightily to reinforce.

Value Of Coordination

"Our worse problem is AVALANCHE itself. We have been unable to advance and the enemy is preparing a major counterattack. The 45th Division is largely in the thing we have bigger than a row area now and I am using everyboat to get the 3d Division in to Clark quickly. In the present situation our great hope is the Air Force. They are working flat out and assuming, which I do, that our hold on southern Italy will finally be solidified, we are going to prove once again that the greatest value of any of the three services is ordinarily realized only when it is utilized in close coordination with the other two . . ."

On 16 September, patrols of the Fifth and Eighth Armies met 40 miles southeast of Salerno uniting the fronts of General Alexander's Fifteenth Army Group. The critical phase of the Italian campaign had ended.

Shortage of assault shipping and landing craft continued to haunt our operations. A single division, for example, required for its landing at Salerno 30 LST's, 24 LCT's, 39 LCI's, 9 large transports, 4 freighters, and numerous miscellaneous small landing craft. Nevertheless, during the first 18 days Navy crews and Army service troops landed over the Salerno beaches a total of 108,000 tons of supplies, 30,000 motor vehicles and 189,000 troops.

The advance on Naples followed the successful campaign of the fighting at Salerno. The Fifth and Eighth Armies under General Alexander were now deployed abreast. The Fifth occupied Naples and its harbor on 1 October and the Eighth Army reached Foggia, seizing its extensive system of airfields. Field Marshal Kesserling, commanding the German Forces in Italy, withdrew northward to delaying positions along the Volturno River. Sardina had been evacuated by the Nazis on 20 September and on 4 October the evacuation of Corsica followed.

Allied Air Established In Europe

The capture of Foggia airfields confirmed our hold on the mainland. Fighters based in Sicily could carry enough gasoline to operate only about 15 minutes over the Salerno beachhead. Now they could be based in large numbers close to the battle area. From Foggia our heavy bombers could easily strike at the passes crossing the Alps, attack Germany air installations in Austria and factories in southern Germany, and raid industrial and transportation centers in the Balkans, aiding the Red Army. In addition the B-17's and B-24's of the Strategic Forces could reinforce the efforts of the Tactical Air Forces in isolating the Italian battle area.

Movements of the heavy bombers and fighter forces into Foggia was a tremendous undertaking because of the equipment necessary to establish new runways, pumping plants, pipe lines, repair shops, and warehouses. For some weeks a considerable portion of the shipping was devoted to the movement of the Air Forces onto the Italian mainland. By the end of the year 35,000 combat airmen with their supporting forces were established in Italy. There were two heavy bombardments groups, two medium groups, and two fighter groups operating from 10 airfields. The fall weather made it necessary to overlay the runways with steel mat. Pipe lines and pumping stations, largely recovered from North Africa, had to be installed to permit the necessary flow of aviation fuel to the airdromes. This build-up of air power consumed approximately 300,000 tons of shipping during the most critical months of the Italian campaign. So heavy were the shipping requirements of the Fifteen Strategic Air Force, activated 1 November 1943 under General Doolittle, that the build-up of our ground forces in Italy was considerably delayed. This decision was a difficult one for General Eisenhower since the delay would give the enemy a heavy superiority in ground troops for a considerable period.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

ONE of my readers in Newark, N. J., has sent me a letter about her young daughter who is the editor of her school paper. She attended a Girl Scout banquet at which a famous personage was the principal speaker.

My reader's daughter was assigned to interview the celebrity. The youngster was all excited, had her uniform pressed and rehearsed a pretty little speech and wrote down all the questions she intended to ask the great lady.

"But she came home completely wilted," writes the mother.

"'I tried,' she told me, holding back her tears, 'but she just looked down her nose at me and walked away.'

BRANDEIS

"And then this child said to me, 'Mother, being famous doesn't give anyone the right to be rude, does it?'"

• • •

No, my dear, being famous doesn't give anybody the right to rude. Rudeness is bred by conceit and great people know too much about the agony of acquiring fame to be either rude or conceited.

Fame is one of the most perishable commodities in the world. It takes years to acquire it and it may be lost over night.

Really great people are modest people. They know the hard work, the laborious uphill fight, the complexities of acquiring fame.

I have always considered conceit as a sign of an inferiority complex. It is fear that people may recognize you for what you really are, rather than for what you are trying to make them believe you are.

I had luncheon in a New York restaurant yesterday where a lot of Broadway folk congregate—actors, producers, writers, singers, dancers.

You should have seen the strutting and the posing, and listened to the bragging and the four-flushing. There was a lot of noise and a lot of handshaking and back slapping and "how are you, old man, certainly glad to see you."

But do you know how it impressed me?

Every one of them—except a few of the old-timers like Frank Fay and Joe Lewis and Bert Wheeler and Walter Catlett, who have been through the mill for years, seemed afraid of something, afraid that the rest of the crowd would know them for what they really are—little guys in a big fellow's shoes.

• • •

YES, you little school-paper-editor in New Jersey, I can easily understand why you were hurt because that "great lady" was looking down her nose at you.

But I am sure of one thing: She would be very glad to be in your shoes and to have ahead of her what you have ahead of you.

She was rude because she was afraid—and may be envious of you.

Her greatness may be on the way out while yours is still ahead of you!

"Parity Formula" To Be Changed

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE FARMERS' friends on Capitol Hill are waiting around the corner of the legislative barn to jack up the prices of major food products if and when organized labor obtains a wage increase in accordance with President Truman's formula. It is estimated that living costs will be boosted by at least 25 per cent if the pending measure becomes law with or without White House approval.

Under existing legislation the producers of certain specified crops, ranging from wheat to peanuts, are guaranteed a return approximately ninety per cent of parity. The subsidies necessary to maintain this level will be continued for two years after the end of the war has been officially proclaimed, either by the President or by the Congress.

TUCKER

The proposed change in the parity formula, which was sponsored by Rep. Stephen Pace of Georgia and reported favorably by the House Agriculture committee, is now before the Rules committee. It commands a majority of the members of that group, but they are deliberately withholding action on the bill for strategic reasons.

They figure that if they report the measure to the House for debate and vote now, the CIO and AFL will cite the consequent increase in food prices as justification for their demand for a 30 per cent fattening of their pay envelopes.

The legislators prefer to make it appear that the extra benefits to the farmers, as well as the hoisting of the living level, was a natural and inevitable reaction to labor gains which will boost the cost of the things the rural population must buy.

• • •

SHOTS: The Pace bill will probably pass both House and Senate, despite warnings that it may precipitate a cycle of inflation. Private canvasses indicate that both the urban and agricultural blocs will vote for it.

Congressional approval will dump an extremely tricklish problem on the White House doorstep. Should President Truman give his OK, and should higher living costs come from the operations of the measure, he may face an angry populace in the 1948 campaign, providing he is the nominee.

Some of his advisers, however, believe that the nation can stand a few shots of inflation in the financial stream. Otherwise, they see no chance of liquidating the cost of the war and making even a faint start in paying off the public debt.

• • •

HAMSTRING: Republican graybeards have decided to postpone any attempt to depose Herbert E. Brownell, jr. as national chairman when they assemble in Chicago early next month. They are afraid that a factional row at this time would jeopardize the party's chances in the 1946 Congressional and gubernatorial elections.

They still dislike Brownell's political sponsor, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and they would like to lessen Dewey's chance of walking off with the Presidential nomination in 1948. But they don't dislike the Empire state executive so much that they want to hamstring him before his 1946 re-election campaign.

• • •

OPPORTUNITY: A premature sidetracking of Brownell, in their opinion, will have that effect. The Democrats would make capital of such a move, as they have of the O'Dwyer victory in the New York mayoralty battle.

The GOP aims to retain control of the Union's greatest state until 1948, and it recognizes that its only opportunity is in a Dewey triumph next Fall. Therefore, if only for selfish, partisan reasons, it will defer action on the chairmanship until it meets again next December. By that time it will know whether it can afford to affront its 1944 standard-bearer by giving Brownell his walking papers.

• • •

COST: American housewives, only a few years ago, were asked to contribute kitchen pots and pans for some of the metal required in the manufacture of the planes needed to defeat the Axis. Now those fighters and bombers are headed for a funeral scrap heap, and the material salvaged will be of such inferior quality that it cannot be subjected to the heat of an ordinary gas stove.

Mounting public criticism of the seemingly wasteful destruction of our latest model planes has forced the various disposal agencies — Surplus Property, the Army and the Navy — to admit publicly that they will be lucky if they reclaim 10 cents on the dollar of the original aircraft cost, which represented about 25 per cent of all the expenditure for war weapons.

• • •

TRUTH: Battle planes — even such marvels of the air as B-29 bombers and P-51 pursuits — have scant peacetime value. They will be outmoded by new types within a year or so. The operation cost is too high for private or commerical owners.

Even C-47 and C-54 transports require an almost prohibitive outlay for conversion. It will not be long before they will have value only as exhibits for the Smithsonian Institution, schools and public monuments like the cannon of Civil war days that adorn many local parks.

The various government agencies charged with the disposal program expect to "skin" the planes, crush the metal and rework it far eventual industrial use. But the prospective price for this store will hardly equal the cost of the salvaging job.

Federal officials originally planned to keep this bad news from the taxpayers, fearing a hostile, emotional reaction. But now they believe it is wiser to tell the truth and admit that the billions spent for our finest weapons must be charged off under the heading, "C'est la guerre."

• • •

FOOTBALL: Sen. Omar N. Bradley was warned to beware of the politicians on Capitol Hill when he was made head of the Veterans administration. Now he knows what his friends were talking about. He is learning why the one federal agency that should minister to discharged and wounded soldiers has always been a football of patronage and politics.

The former commander of our ground forces in Europe advanced two definite and constructive proposals as soon as he had caught up on the mistakes of his predecessor, a well-meaning but easygoing gentleman now serving as minister to Panama, and studied the problem of caring for hundreds of thousands of World War II servicemen.

He favored decentralization of administrative offices and location of new hospitals where they would be comfortably available to the sick and the convelescent.

• • •

HOSPITALS: No sooner had he proposed these reforms than the politicos began to badger him. By phone, letter and personal interviews they warned him that selfish political considerations rather than consideration for the ex-soldiers must underlie his policies. They did not use that language, but that is what they meant.

MC's insist that hospitals be built in their districts, even though the sites are far from areas where patients now live. The veterans of World War I are still suffering for the fact that, medical centers were erected remote from the homes of prospective patients.

They were forced to enter hospitals so distant from their residences that their families and friends could never see them. Or, preferring to remain with their relatives, they did not take advantage of government facilities. In either case it meant that their illnesses were prolonged for lack of daily, friendly visits or hospital care.

POLITICS: The plan to transfer administrative officers to various parts of the country has met with the same resistance. General Bradley figured it would be easier for veterans if they could present their claims and applications under the GI Bill of Rights at centers near their present homes.

But the assistants, officials and clerks now berthed in Washington do not want to move to Boston, New York, Chicago, Louisville, Richmond, Charlottesville and many other cities. They have bought houses, made friends and established themselves here. So they have prodded their congressmen from back home, who have informed General Bradley that he must forget his projects along this line.

Solons Slow Up President's Legislation

HST Pushes Social Program

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Calmly and patiently President Truman continues to lay before Congress the various pieces of a broad social program for national betterment.

STOKES

About this carefully premeditated course there is the confident assurance that eventually the public verdict will be in his favor.

The latest addition is his detailed analysis of a national health program embodying the controversial compulsory health insurance. This last, however, he proposes be worked out with such safeguards as to protect the freedom and independence of the doctor and the individual and with decentralized local administration so far as possible.

"In the past," he said, "the benefits of modern medical science have not been enjoyed by our citizens with any degree of equality. Nor are they today. Nor will they be in the future—unless government is bold enough to do something about it."

That's a fair statement that will appeal to most reasonable people, as will the facts he presented about the national health and present inadequate facilities in many localities.

• • •

Other Proposals Planned

This health program will be followed later with proposals by the President for expanding our ten-year-old Social Security laws, among other ways, by insurance against loss of wages from sickness and disability.

Later also, it is learned, he will advocate federal aid to education to assist low-income sections, particularly in the south so that children in those areas may have more nearly equal opportunities with those in more prosperous parts of the country. Bills for such federal aid long have been pending in Congress.

• • •

STEP by step, the President is expanding and elaborating for the people of the country the series of measures he proposed in his comprehensive message to Congress a few weeks ago. This is to inform the people fully, as well as to fix responsibility if such measures fail of enactment.

For the present he is handicapped by the paralyzing effect of the Republican-Southern Conservative Democratic coalition in Congress that has blocked such other measures as liberalized unemployment compensation and the full employment bill.

The deadening effect of this coalition is exhibited currently in the House. While the Senate passed modified bills on these two subjects, they have been either pigeonholed or delayed in House committees. The coalition operates powerfully, too, in the procedural committee, the House rules committee, where it can block some parts of Mr. Truman's program, even if they are extricated from legislative committees.

• • •

Now, with reconversion unemployment already sizable and with the peak of Army discharges beginning to throw millions more on the labor market, Congress is about to return the unemployment service to the states — far ahead of the date recommended by President Truman, June, 1947. Officials say this will seriously interfere with re-employment which should be handled on a national basis.

It is hard to see any wisdom in all this, either practical or political.

The ultimate political advantage would seem to be on Mr. Truman's side if the experience of his predecessor is any guide. President Roosevelt encountered blockades in Congress but, once he took his case to the people, and once they had spoken at the polls, he would hammer more and more of his program through Congress. It worked out that way repeatedly.

• • •

PRESIDENT Truman is taking the first necessary step by explaining his program in messages to Congress. That will give him a record for the congressional elections next year.

Between now and then the country is in for some difficult times, if the opinion of experts is any good. The unemployment peak probably will hit in early spring. That may wake Congress up, or at least those Democrats who have been holding back on the President's program.

It is a situation that is going to require direct management from the White House, administratively. But lack of co-operation by Congress will not sit too well with the public, and it's the Congressmen who must face the voters next year.

Hunting Party Hurt When Car Overturns

BRADY, Nov. 22. (AP)—Four persons were injured, two seriously, when the automobile in which they were riding overturned eight miles from here on the Brady-Brownwood highway early today.

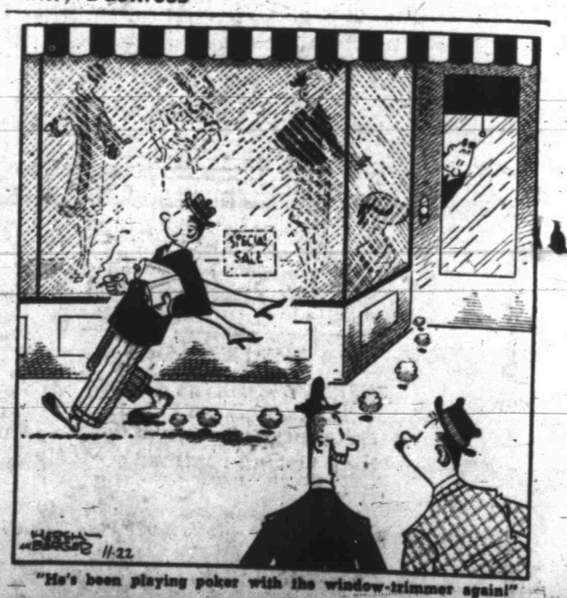

The group of two men and two boys, all from Dallas, were en route to their hunting lease in Mason county.

Injured were Charles L. Carr and C. V. Griffing, and Griffing's two sons, Bobby and Tim. Both boys suffered skull fractures, hospital attendants said.

HIGHER PAY ASKED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 22 (AP)—The executive board of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (CIO) announced after a meeting today it would seek a wage increase of $1 a day, an old-age retirement fund and six paid holidays each year for its 150,000 clothing workers throughout the country.

Women Accept Ride, Choose Wrong Car

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22 (UP) — Two women, who accepted a ride in a flashy 1941 convertible early today, got more of a ride than they bargained for.

They didn't know it at the time but it was a stolen car and the driver was a former convict.

Deputy sheriffs saw the car east of Independence and started out after it. The women learned then they were in for a hot time.

Shots from the deputies' guns punctured the gasoline tank and blew out a tire. The driver swerved to a stop and fled. The badly frightened women were taken to the sheriff's office for questioning.

Within an hour, deputies arrested Harold E. Romsberg, 32, on a public service company bus. He admitted stealing the car.

Curbs On Boosts In Farm Land Prices Urged To Halt Inflation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Federal Reserve system said today that "all signs point to the rapid rise of farm land values" and it set forth six potential methods of preventing a "tragic and costly" boom.

In an article in one of the "post-war economic studies" published by the system, William H. Fisher, of the research department of the Richmond Federal Reserve bank, cited more than 2,000,000 involuntary transfers of farms and tracts since 1920.

Increased Costs Cited

He said that as the result of this forced sale of from one-fourth to one-third of all farm land in the last 25 years, the "whole agricultural fabric is penalized through interruption of technological progress and by stabilization of improper farm practice," and both the farm and non-farm segments of the economy have been saddled with increased costs through taxes and higher prices.

As potential barriers to a repetition of the boom which began in 1920 after World War I, Fisher proposed these steps for consideration:

1. Education. Fisher said that machinery already exists to carry out an intensified campaign of public information and that present media should be expanded.

Asks Price Ceilings

2. Permitting purchase of land by those who could prove need, ability to use it properly and where the price was found to be reasonable.

3. Restrictions on purchasing power through elimination of excess liquidity in the hands of possible farm buyers and the control of credit extensions on farm mortgages.

4. Price ceiling on land.

5. A special capital gains tax, the extension of the holding period required before this capital gain could be taxable at less than ordinary income tax rates, and an increased transfer tax.

6. Forced savings of receipts from sales through some method of requiring investiture of some proportion of sales price in non-transferable government bonds.
