AUTOMOBILE SHOW OPENS THURSDAY

Jupiter Pluvius smiled upon the people of Lubbock and the South Plains section this week and in so doing gave the automobile dealers of Lubbock promise for the greatest turnout in the history of this part of West Texas for the automobile show which opens at the Pp Town Dance Palace Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

Working hand in hand for the progress of the Plains country and depending upon the general prosperity of the section for the continued upbuilding of the automobile industry in the Hub city, local dealers have reason to believe that this first auto display staged by the Lubbock Association will set an attendance record.

"Reports from adjoining cities indicate Lubbock will be flooded with visitors during the two days the new models will be on display," G. P. Kuykendall, president of the Automobile Dealers Association in Lubbock, said this morning.

Parade to Precede Show

Led by the Lubbock high school band, the automobile dealers will stage a parade through the downtown section of the city tomorrow afternoon prior to the formal opening of the show. Business firms other than auto dealers will aid in the demonstration by floating flags in front of their firms. The parade will circle Broadway and Main and terminate at the dance pavilion where the automobile designs will await the inspection of the public for two days.

Doors of the amusement hall will remain open Thursday afternoon and night and the following afternoon and night. Fourteen Lubbock dealers will have on display the

LAMB TO HAVE SPECIAL VOTE

ELECTION ON CHANGING OF COUNTY SEAT TO BE CALLED

(Special To The Journal)

LITTLEFIELD, Mar. 27.—The commissioners court of Lamb county will be petitioned soon to call an election for a ballot on changing the county seat from Olton to Littlefield, it was announced here today. A committee of 200 citizens has been working on the proposition for several weeks and the election petition will be handed the court at its next meeting, two weeks from date, it was stated.

The present campaign is a revival of a similar one which has been dormant for several years. While the question has never been put to a vote it has been a topic of discussion for some time.

Hot Campaign Forecast

A hot campaign is forecast with the balance of power likely hanging upon the vote at Amherst, eight miles northwest of here. Sudan, further to the northwest, is said to favor Littlefield for the site but the rural vote in other sections of the county gives little indication of its stand at the present time.

Olton, the county's capital, is located in the northeast corner of the county and the campaign to move the seat of government is being based upon arguments that Olton is not centrally enough located to serve the county as a whole.

Olton Will Fight

OLTON, March 27 (Special)—A determined resistence to any campaign to move the present county seat of Lamb county, located here, will be staged by citizens of Olton and the surrounding territory, it was stated here today.

Pat Campbell, newly elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, with S. L. Kennedy, land man, are heading Olton's fight against the proposed removal.

Two 'Pineapples' Burst In Chicago

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP)—Two more bombs exploded in Chicago last night and early today. One was the most powerful of the year, causing damage estimated at $20,000 and injury to several persons.

The first wrecked a grocery on the near north side. Several persons were injured.

Neighbors told police a large car containing four or five men stopped in front of the building shortly before the explosion.

The Dorle Social and Athletic club on the West Side was the target of the second bombing. The doorway to the clubrooms was wrecked. No one was in the building.

Calles' Steam Roller Tactics Broaden Today

REBELS ALSO TO USE AIRPLANES

JUAREZ, Chihuahua, Mexico, March 27 (AP)—"The Yankee Doodle Birdmen," a fighting air squadron of American pilots, has come into being as an adjunct of the rebel army.

Captain R. H. Polk, American aviator at Jiminez has been appointed flight commander of the foreign air legion, he revealed last night he will lead at least three additional pilots from the United States in a war from the air upon the Mexican federal forces.

Identity of other pilots was not announced.

General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, has had opportunity to observe the efficacy of any air force. A federal bomber attacked Jimenez, the rebel base, yesterday, and killed four persons and injured 17. When the rebels occupied Torreon, federal air raids resulted in several casualties.

OKLAHOMA SOLONS IN FURTHER ACTION AGAINST MASON

(By Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 27.—Five articles of impeachment against Chief Justice C. W. Mason of the Oklahoma Supreme Court had been adopted shortly after noon today by the house of representatives. The last was identical with two charges pending against Justices J. W. Clark and Fletcher Riley.

One of the articles against the chief justice was adopted last Friday and four were voted out today. Charges against Clark and Riley had not yet reached a vote.

The identical articles against the three charged they participated in an allegedly corrupt opinion which reversed previous decisions in a will case and divested a widow not only of two-thirds of her deceased husband's property but also of two-thirds of her own property.

Motions for the customary noon luncheon recess were voted down as the roll continued to be called on the charges against Justice Mason.

FEDERALS CONQUER SEA OF SAND IN MARCH ACROSS DESERT

(By Associated Press)

General Calles' steam-roller tactics in fighting the rebels appeared to be developing broadly today.

The general's main army was steadily advancing northward and capture of Escalon, important rebel outpost town, appeared immientn.

A rebel chase along the west coast also was reported by the government which said the insurgents who abandoned the siege of Mazatlan after a heavy fight, faced being bottled up at Culiacan.

Insurgent headquarters insisted a small rebel force was still besieging Mazatlan.

Advices from Culiacan stated federal troops were marching on that place from Durango. If they capture it, they could cut off numerous rebel troops still in southern Sinaloa.

General Calles reported crossing the wide desert in southeastern Chihuahua and that now that this difficult barrier was past his progress would be swifter.

Quiet prevailed along the border and the attack on Naco by the rebels still hung fire although they were within eight miles of the town.

G. K. "Buzz" Morrison, American airman, captured by the rebels while flying in federal service, reached Nogales safely, having been released despite a rebel threat to hold him.

A group of American fliers is being organized by the rebels to counter the growing use of airplanes by the government forces.

START TRIAL FOR KILLING OF MINISTER

DETAILS OF SHOOTING AT TROUP BROUGHT OUT BY WITNESS

(By Associated Press)

TYLER, Tex. Mar. 27.—The cooling of friendship between the families of the Rev. Fount Wallace, Baptist minister of Troup, and Loys Wilson, Troup garage man, as noted in the community was brought out on the witness stand here today in the trial of Wilson on charges of murdering the minister last April.

Dr. A. S. Jarvis, physician who attended the minister immediately after he was shot on the sidewalk in front of the A. D. Tarbutton Drug Store, told of the community knowledge of a temporary separation of Wilson and his wife in 1927. Before that time the Wallace family frequently visited the Wilsons, and Mrs. Wilson was a visitor at the Wallace home, he said. The Wallaces also used to go riding in her car.

After Wilson and his wife reunited, the doctor said he never saw Wallace with Mrs. Wilson again. The physician told of attending the minister after the shoting.

Tarbutton, owner of the drug store, described the shooting.

"Wilson drove up in his wrecker from the garage," Tarbutton said. "Wallace was talking to several persons on the sidewalk in front of the store. Wilson said, 'All right, brother, prepare to meet your God.' The shot rang out almost as Wilson spoke."

It was brought out in Tarbutton's testimony that Mrs. Wilson had been an active Baptist worker and was a singer in the choir in the Baptist church of which Wallace was pastor.

The courtroom was packed as Miss Margaret Floore of Troup, the first witness, told of the minister's death. Several girls were showing the minister some kodak pictures, she said, and Wilson approached the group. Her testimony was practically the same as Tarbutton's in regard to what Wilson said and the shoting.

Miss Floore, and Miss Agnes Tar-

Arguments Heard In County Court Case

Arguments began shortly after noon today in the case of the State of Texas against Mrs. Lloyd Findley, on trial in Lubbock county court, charged with an attempt to perform an illegal operation on a local young woman.

R. S. McDonald, Ward county deputy sheriff, convicted in Midland county and given five years for the murder of John Jones, Grand Falls restaurant man, was awarded a new trial. ENTIRE AREA REJOICES ON FINE DELUGE

WHEAT SAVED, GROUND READY FOR CROPS IN 3-INCH DOWNPOUR

A general downpour, ranging from two to three and one-fourth inches, fell over the entire South Plains territory late Tuesday afternoon, Tuesday night and throughout Wednesday morning, long-distance telephone messages and special dispatches to The Journal said today.

The deluge was not only accredited with saving a bountiful wheat crop in the north and central plains region but also with providing a good underground season for spring crop preparations.

Every city of consequence in this territory reported that the rain began late Tuesday afternoon, was intermittent during the hours preceding midnight and then, throughout the early morning turned into a slow, steady downpour. At most points the fall slackened about 8 o'clock but skies generally were still overcast at noon and a continuation was forecast for the balance of the day.

Heavy at Littlefield

Littlefield, in Lamb county, with three and a quarter inches at noon reported the heaviest fall while Lamesa, Dawson county's capital, 65 miles south of Lubbok, had two inches at the same hour with more rain regarded as a certainty. Other points reported from two to two and a half inches at mid-day. All cities reported their particular trade territories well drenched and the Associated Press at Dallas indicated the rain was general throughout all of north and west Texas.

The preciptation is the first of any consequence throughout the plains region in several months. Reports were received from Level-

PREDICT MORE FEED ACREAGE

INCREASE LOOMS FOR ALL CROPS EXCEPT CORN AND HAY

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Mar. 27—If Texas farmers' intentions are carried out this year there will be increases in all feed crops except corn and hay, says a prospective crop report issued here by the United States department of agriculture division of crop and livestock estimates. The report indicates there will be decreases in the acreage of potatoes, rice and peanuts.

"Acreage of principal crops this year, excluding cotton, amounts to 12,423,000 compared with 12,198,000 last year," the report said.

"Preparation of land is backward in parts of the north, northeast and central districts owing to interference of rain. Farmers in some localities are several weeks behind with their work, but in the state as a whole there is a very good prospect for spring crops."

Based on farmers "intentions," the report adds that corn acreage will show a reduction of about 9 per cent compared with 1928; the oats acreage is estimated at 105 per cent of that harvested last year, and grain sorghum two per cent greater. Rice acreage shows a decline of 10 per cent.

"Because of national legislation specifically prohibiting reports on prospective cotton acreage no information on this crop was solicited," said the report.

PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT

Hectic Career Is Related By Boy, 16

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 27.—A towheaded boy of 16 confessed here today of crimes which last week startled Texas.

In company with two men now under arrest at Coleman and Ballinger, under names different to the names given by the boy in his statement, the boy said he started his career of crime by the theft of an automobile at Abilene, March 20

The three then went to Pottsboro and pried open the window of the bank there when they were frightened away by citizens.

"I stood where I was for a moment, and then 'Dick' ran out of the alley and said 'let's go,' the boy said. "We ran to the car and started. 'Paul' had the motor running and the lights on. I didn't see the shooting and don't know where the watch man was when he was shot. The time I saw him, he was sitting on the fire escape. Dick's pistol had been shot six times, and Paul's once.

"I asked Dick what happened. He said he told the watchman to stick 'em up as he didn't want to kill him. He said the watchman reached for his gun, and they both started shooting at once. I then asked Paul what he did and he said 'I shot once, and if this pistol is true, I got him.' After that we drove away."

Denny Dixon is held at Ballinger and Robert Mason at Coleman on charges of robbery with firearms in connection with the holdup of a filling station here and the shooting of Elgie Leslie, station keeper. Dixon told officers at Coleman yesterday before he was removed to Ballinger, he had fired at Echols in Van Alstyne but he didn't think he hit him.

CHANG ARMIES TAKE CHEFOO

CITY IS TRANSFERRED TO INVADERS BY NATIONALISTS

CHEFOO, Shantung, China, Mar. 27.—Marshal Chang Tsung-Chang entered this city at 8 a. m. today and practically without hindrance from its Nationalist defenders took control. The British sloop Cornflower and the United States Cruiser Trenton moved in shore to a position near the foreign quarter to meet any emergency which might arise.

Defeat of the Nationalist troops followed treachery and defection of 7,000 of their number who went over to Chang, former war lord of Stantung province.

The Nationalists, led by General Liu Chen-Nien, began to retreat at 3 a. m., after reverses in a battle which had raged for two days east of the city.

Shops all over the city were closed and shuttered tight, and residents remained inside. The Chinese Chamber of Commerce sent a delegation to Chang to arrange peaceful transfer of the town. Looting by the victorious troops was feared.

The new positions of the two war vessels, close in shore, it was believed, would have the effect of partially maintaining order.

Stokes, Farm Bureau Chief, Visits City

Lynn Stokes of Dallas, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association, was in Lubbock today in connection with a series of meetings he is to hold throughout the South Plains section.

Accompanied by N. H. Payne, field representative of the association, Mr. Stokes held a meeting at Littlefield yesterday, at Idalou last night. Tonight they will appear at Levelland, and at Ropesville tomorrow night. They will attend a district meeting of the farm bureau association at Snyder Friday.

Art Shires, Baseball Player, Facing Suit

DALLAS, March 27 (AP).—Notice of a $28,411 damage suit was served here today on Art Shires, captain and first baseman of the Chicago White Sox, by Mrs. Ida Lawson.

The suit claims Walter Lawson of Caddo Parish, La., died as the result of being hit by a baseball thrown by Shires May 30, last year, when Shires was a member of the Waco club. It is a federal suit and was set down for trial May 6 in Dallas.

This should be a wonderful Easter, judging by the number of Broadway shows that have been laying eggs for the occasion.

"I Want To Give Credit Where It Is Due," Says A Lubbock Farmer

His Health Has Returned And He Is Stronger Since Taking Orgatone, His Troubles Are Past

"I want to give credit where credit is due—to Orgatone, for it has restored my health, and I feel better and am stronger in every way," said E. H. Wassom, of rural route 4, Lubbock, Texas, in a conversation with the Orgatone man recently.

"For about twelve months, I have had an awful lot of trouble with my stomach. Everything disagreed with me and after meals I would get that puffed up, bloated feeling and belch up my food sour and undigested. I got to the point where I was almost afraid to eat anything because of the suffering I knew it would cause me. I was constipated, had terrible head aches and my sleep was very poor. My system seemed to be all run down. I was losing weight and felt tired and worn out all the time. I was losing ground all the time and felt like if I didn't get something for my condition, my troubles would soon become serious. I had sever pains in my stomach and would suffer terribly. I was very nervous and would lay awake at night and couldn't sleep.

"A friend of mine recommended Orgatone to me, and it has not only relieved me of my troubles, but has built me up amazingly. I have taken three bottles and my stomach is now in good shape. My appetite is fine and I can eat what I want without feeling a sign of indigestion. My constipation and headaches and all that tired feeling are gone, and I have gained in weight, I know. Orgatone has been a great medicine for me and I don't think anybody suffering like I did can make a mistake by giving it a trial." I can never say too much for Orgatone."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific bile preparation containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen Drug store. Out of town customers are being supplied by mail upon receipt of price, one bottle for $1.25 or six bottles for $6.25.

Levees Score Over Raging Mississippi

QUINCY, Ill., March 27 (AP).—The levees protecting thousands of acres of farm lands had won at least a temporary victory today after the Mississippi river had fallen half a foot in 24 hours.

Following a week of the highest water stage in recent years, the walls still stood, except for the break which caused the flooding of the Indian Grave district. The danger was by no means over, but the reduction in pressure, due to the lower water level, gave better chance for strengthening the dikes and for stopping leaks.

Wall Street Yet Remains Perturbed

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP).—Wall street was still in the throes of a credit stringency today and the stock market, which rallied briskly at the opening, ran into renewed liquidation when the call money renewal rate was marked up to 15 per cent, the highest opening charge since the post-war deflation crisis in the early part of 1920. Although many representative shares sagged $2 to $7 a share, prices generally held well above the low levels established in the violent decline in the early part of yesterday's record breaking session.

Rockefeller Back From Long Jaunt

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP).—John D. Rockefeller, jr., was back today from a three months vacation in Egypt and Palestine.

Arriving with Mrs. Rockefeller and their party aboard the Isle de France, he gave out a statement regarding the removal of Col. Robert W. Stewart from the chairmanship of the Standard Oil company of Indiana. He said:

"The action taken requires no comment. It makes clear, however, that the thoughtful investor estimates the permanent and underlying value of an investment not alone in terms of dividends, essential as they are, but quite as much in terms of the unquestioned integrity and singleness of purpose of the management."

DEFER ACTION ON GOVERNOR

SET OF RULES TO BE DRAWN UP FOR SOLONS

(Special To The Journal)

BATON ROUGE, La., March 27.—Action by the Louisiana house of representatives on the impeachment resolution against Governor Huey P. Long was deferred until tomorrow to permit preparation of a set of rules to guide the procedure.

Supporters of the impeachment resolution were hld back by th raising of a point that the resolution was ou of order as it was not included in the governor's call for the special session.

The senate met and adjourned after a brief session to await action by the house.

Immediately after the house opened this morning, Long's supporers sought to throw the impeachment resolution out of order. After extended debate, Speaker John B. Fournet ruled the "point not well taken" as a governor could not be expected to issue a call for his own impeachment.

At the session tomorrow, an effort will be made to reorganize the house to oust administration members from positions of control and with the aid of the attorney general draft rules to guide impeachment proceedings. Under the present plan, a vote on impeachment will be held Monday.

Headed by Robert J. Smith, general traffic manager of the Texas Air Transport, Inc., and Ike Sewell former University of Texas athlete, a delegation from the T. A. T. is expected to arrive in the city either this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

The local Chamber of Commerce was advised early this week that the visitors would visit here by air in connection with an aercade to the college town of the state. While here, Mr. Smith plans to make a talk at the weekly Kiwanis luncheon tomorrow, and both he and Mr. Sewell will talk to the Tech college student body tomorrow, according to the plans.

CHARGES TO BE FILED AGAINST MEN HELD IN COLEMAN JAIL

(By Associated Press)

COLEMAN, Tex., Mar 27 (AP).—Murder charges were pending today against Denny Dixon, who officers said, made a statement late yesterday admitting participation in two attempted robberies last week in which one man was killed and another injured, probably fatally.

Dixon and an alleged companion, Robert Mason, were arrested by a sheriff's posse near here Monday. Dixon was transferred to the Ballinger jail last night for safe keeping.

Authorities said Dixon admitted emptying his pistol toward W. L. Echols, night watchman, wounded fatally when forestalled an attempted bank robbery at Van Alstyne.

Dixon was said also to have admitted participation in the filling station robbery here two nights after the Van Alstyne affair, in which Leslie, station operator, was wounded. Charges against Dixon probably will withheld pending outcome of Leslie's wounds.

A third suspect in the Van Alstyne slaying, a youth of 16, was arrested late last night near Dallas. He was said to have made a statement admitting he was a member of the gang that shot Echols.

DAIRY BOARD MEET DELAYED

SESSION SCHEDULED TO THRESH OUT FINAL CONFAB PLANS

Due to heavy rains which blanketed the South Plains last night and today, the meeting of the executive committee of the Panhandle-South Plains Dairy Show association at Plainview today has been indefinitely postponed, Lubbock County Agent L. F. Eaton, president of the association, said this morning.

The meeting was scheduled to work out final details of the annual dairy show which will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week.

Mr. Eaton predicts that 300 exhibitors will be entered in this year's show as compared to 241 last year. An attendance of from between 20,000 and 30,000 is expected. With the completion of the new $20,000 dairy show building, Mr. Eaton reports the most widespread interest in dairying in the history of the annual show. Saturday is the last day to enter the show.

"Although exceedingly proud of our new building we regret that we did not make our dairy products building twice as large as the demand for exhibit space is twice that of the capacity of the building," Mr. Eaton said.

Soldiers File By Bier of Deceased Commander Today

PARIS, March 27 (AP)—Thousands of former soldiers who fought under General Foch filed by his casket in a steady stream today.

The body of the marshal lay where they had placed it yesterday in an open vault under the altar of the chapel of St. Louis in the Invalides.

Meantime the government has introduced a bill in the Chamber of Deputies to provide an annual pension of 100,000 francs (approximately $4,000 for the marshal's widow. During his lifetime, said the preamble of the government's bill, Marshal Foch refused gifts offered to him from the United States and England. He never sought fortune and died a poor man.

The flag-draped coffin was to be exposed until late today. A row of candles upon the steps leading down to the crypt revealed the marshal's glittering medals and decorations which with three batons rested upon seven cushions of velvet and satin in front of the casket. Upon the flag-covered coffin reposed the marshal's sword kepi and cloak.

WINDOWS NEED SPECIALLY PLANNED TREATMENT

BY HILDA HUNT

Almost all rooms of moderate size require at least two separate furniture groupings to preserve the balance. This is necessitated by the location of the windows and fireplace, as well as the dominating pieces of furniture. Where there are large windows in a group, as illustrated, there is a special need for a well-planned arrangement, or otherwise the gorgeous effect of such windows will be entirely lost, or worse yet, turned into a barn-like atmosphere.

Large window space like this is a decided addition to any room, whether it be in a city or the country. Not only does it provide a delightful outlook, but it is the means of furnishing adequate daylight, which is at a premium everywhere. The wise decorator hangs very transparent glass curtains directly against the windows so as not to shut out the light, discounts any glare that is equally as harmful as is too little light.

In this room we have the situation of grouping furniture around the French windows at one end of the room and staging a pleasant scene about the fireplace, which is directly opposite. Both of these two centers are equally important, and so dependent on each other. During the colder months of the year all eyes are necessarily centered on the fireplace. But the desire to be able to look outdoors, either at a storm or sunshine, is true of the city as well as the country.

Keynote Informality.

Informality is the keynote of this room, with its spacious green denim covered sofa that is flanked by two walnut end tables of interesting shape. Chinese lamps in duplicate are a charming decorative note, and their light is sufficient for illumination and reading. Matching chairs of the colonial barrel type are a delightful addition, not only because of their comfort, but because of their colorful tan and green chintz covers which, oddly enough, are not used for the outside of the chair. A woods brown glazed chintz covers the backs and sides of the chair, harmonizing with the inner fabric as well as the rest of the color scheme of the room.

A tall secretary in walnut adds an air of dignity, while at the same time acting as a nice point in balance between the fireplace at one end of the room and the windows at the other. The window of beige silk draperies, you will notice, are drawn well back, so as not to obstruct either the view or the light. At night they can be drawn across the windows to serve as shades.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Talk about women "holding friend husband." Husbands have to step some to hold the wife these days. Let hubby be off the job for a while, thinking that keeping house and taking care of the children will keep the little woman busy and out of mischief and he is doomed to a terrible awakening. More likely than not she's in love with his best friend and contemplating an elopment.

At least that's what I gather from some of the letters I get in which my advice is asked. Keeping everlastingly on the job is the only way to hold a wife these days. Always look your best, men, keep yourselves shaved and neat, bring in the good old dollars, keep pretty speeches always on tap and always be ready to step out with the wife; that is the price of continued matrimony.

• • •

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I have been married 11 years. I have two children and love them most dearly. My husband has not been able to do anything for me for the past ten years. Of course I know it is wrong, but I can't help it. I am 31 and in love with a man about my age, and I am sure that he loves me. I believe if I could marry him he would be good to me and make me a good home. It certainly would be appreciated if you could give me any advice on this subject.

"A. P. D."

Would this man also care for the children? And what would become of your husband? Is he ill or incapacitated in some way that he can not take care of you? If so, of course your loyalty is to him. You promised to cherish him through "sickness and health, in poverty and riches," didn't you? It never pays to go back on your word. Stand true as long as is humanly possible, for if you don't you will always be haunted by your conscience and the new husband will feel that as you went back on one man he can not trust you to be true to him.

NANCY: You did nothing wrong, Nancy. Your boy friend probably did not like the idea of your going sleigh riding with others. It is his place to apologize to you for being almost rude in not speaking when he met you. Let him do it and you have a good time until he gets over over his "mad."

• • •

MIKE: I am afraid you will not take my advice, dear, which is to just be friendly with this boy you like and make no especial effort to "win" him. He may wake up all of a sudden to what a nice little girl you are. And the same advice goes to all little school girls who love a certain boy who pay no attention to you.

• • •

PUZZLED: Why not let the second boy friend go and correspond with the first one? Then if he wants to come to see you, and you find you still love him, marry him and go with him.

FINISH PLAN FOR BANQUET

VISIT TO MUSEUM WILL FEATURE HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

(Special to the Journal)

CANYON, March 27.—Plans are completed here for the annual meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society which takes place Friday, March 29.

The meeting this year is divided into two sessions, with two special attractions between the sessions.

At three p. m. the business session will open with T. D. Hobart, the president, of Pampa, presiding. Routine business, the election of officers for 1929 and two papers will make up this session. Dr. W. P. Webb of the University of Texas will give a paper "The Great Plains in the Civil War" and Dr. H. C. Holden of Abilene will discuss "Frontier Defense."

Visits Museum

Immediately following the business session the museum of the society will be visited. Many of the members of the society get to see the museum but once each year. There are more than 3100 articles in the museum, not including pictures, books and documents. The museum represents a wide range of materials from trappers tools, to household utensils, from Aztec tools to great longhorns typical of Texas.

A large number of oil paintings, the work of Harold O. Bugbee of Clarendon will engage the attention of visitors. These include ten of Bugbee's best canvases, with a portrait of Colonel C. C. Goodnight, "Father of the Panhandle" occupying the middle position.

17 TOWNS TO SEND REPRESENTATIVES

CANYON, Mar. 27.—A check of the reservations which have been made for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society annual dinner which is to be held in Canyon, March 29, shows that there are 17 different Northwest Texas towns who will be represented at the banquet tables.

Pampa leads the list with 28 reservations. Other towns represented include: Camargo, Okla., Canadian, Miami, Clarendon, Dimmitt, Hereford, Amarillo, Olton, Plainview, Runningwater, Wellington, Claude, Floydada, Farwell, Canyon, Midland, and Breckenridge.

Reorganization Of Road Board Asked

AUSTIN, Mar. 27 (AP)—Reorganization of the state highway department "from top to bottom" is advocated by Representative Ray Holder of Lancaster, who arrived today to attend sessions of the house appropriations committee.

He was the chief advocate of the motor vehicle registration fee bill which passed both houses only to die because of lack of a quorum of the lower house to concur in amendments placed on it by the senate. The measure called for a reduction of fifty percent in registration fees. It was opposed by the highway department.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies and the wee coal men were on their merry way again. Let's hie up o'er the hill," said one, "and see what we can find. I'd like a chance to milk a cow. Don't laugh at me, 'cause I know. A drink of cooling milk is something I would far from mind."

Then, as they reached the high hilltop, brave Scouty said, "Here's where we stop." He pointed to a pasture that was not so far away. "A dandy cow's down there," said he. "Just leave the milking task to me." And, as they scampered down the hill, the whole bunch cried, "Hurray!"

As soon as bossy saw the crowd, she swished her tail and mooed aloud. "Don't worry," shouted Clowny. "We'll not bring you any harm. One pail with milk we wish to fill. All you need do is stand real still. Now you can see that there's no cause for any great alarm."

The next thing that the Tinies knew, they found a pail and small stool too. So Scouty sat right down to milk. It didn't take him long. Soon everyone had had a drink, and Coppy calmly said, "I think that this is fine. Nice milk like this is what makes youngsters strong."

Just then a big man came in sight. He stomped along with all his might. The Tinies ran behind a rock to get out of his view. The two coal men, however, stayed out in the open, unafraid. Of course the Tinies wondered what the big man planned to do.

The watched him swing a shovel 'round and finally slide it 'long the ground. It caught the little coal men quick and lifted them up high. "Let's save them," Clowny whispered low. "But still, I guess we have no show. We are so small and he's so big, there is no use to try."

Random Scraps Of News Pertaining To Sports World

Bud Taylor says Al Singer will be the next lightweight champion of the world . . . But adds: "If I didn't ruin him in our last fight." . . . McGraw said he was personally fond of Lefty O'Doul, but he had to let him go. . . . Because "he had to wind up like a pitcher before he threw in from the outfield." . . . Golden Prince, the winner of the Cofforth Handicap, was trained in the sands of the San Diego seashore. . . . Monte Munn, once an aspirant for the heavyweight championship, is working for Indiana General Service Company in Marion, Ind. . . . Art Shires, White Sox first baseman, is the best looking and best dressed fellow in the league. . . . And one of the toughest . . . Charley Fisher, one of the big automobile Fishers from Detroit, has bought a racing stable . . . of horses.

An Optimistic Fellow

"I have never been so enthused about one of our ball clubs since that other club," Harry Grabiner said in the hotel where the Chicago White Sox were staying during their spring training. Grabiner is listed on the club roster as the secretary, but baseball men will assure you he is more than that. He is the whole works of the ball club.

"That other club," that Grabiner mentioned was not named specifically. The White Sox never mention it specifically. Even to Eddie Collins it was "that club" when he referred to it in Fort Myers as the greatest offensive team of all time.

Specifically it is the White Sox club of 1919. The club that went wrong and nearly blew up baseball.

New Double Play Record

"I am really enthused about this ball club . . . No kidding," Grabiner went on. He used almost the same words that Lena Blackourne used when he said: "We have the youngest and fastest ball club in the league." Perhaps Blackburne got the words from him.

"We led the league in stolen bases last year and we're going to steal more this year. They're all fast men and we're going to use their speed to the limit of its possibilities.

"With Johnny Kerr on second base, we'll make a new double-play record also. There is no infield in the league that can compare now with Cissell, Kerr and Soires. Write that down and see if I'm not right.

"This fellow Shires is going to be a wonder. We made him captain and he's only in his second year. Kamm didn't get mad when we took the captaincy away from him. He never did want it and he was glad to get rid of it. The other older fellows didn't get sore either. They knew Shires was the type to do a lot of grounting and talking and he'll do it."

Not Champions But—

"None of us are saying anything about the pennant," Grabiner went on. "That's poor stuff for any club. The other fellows don't forget it all season and the patrons expect too much of you.

"There are several mighty strong ball clubs in the league this year. The Yankees, of course, are strong, but they're reaching the cracking age. You saw them in St. Petersburg. Is Lazzeri throwing all right? And are Pennock and Moore ready to pitch?"

We told him just what Miller Huggins told us—"Don't know."

"If they're not, the Yankees are shot," he said. "I don't look for the Babe to go so long, but he's a fellow you can't figure. Look what he did in the series last year when we thought he couldn't walk.

"I can't see the Athletics as being better than fourth place. They had their chances last year and the same bunch of players they have on the club never will forget how the chance was blown.

Watch the Detroits

"The Browns are a good ball club too, but I'm looking particularly at Detroit. There's a ball club. It was a powerful ball club last year that made a lot of mistakes. They won't make any mistakes with Bucky Harris around. He's a smart manager and one of the best leaders in baseball.

"If Detroit gets some pitching look out! And Uhle and Yde are liable to come through.

"Our White Sox club might come through, too. In an open race you sometimes can sneak in with a ball club that didn't look like a champion at the start.

"We got a lot of spirit on the club and that something we didn't have last year. The disturbers are not with us. Bib Falk may play great ball in Cleveland but he wouldn't play for us and we got a good catcher in Autry for him."

M'GRAW SAYS HURLER WILL TAKE TWENTY

PILOTS BEAR DOWN ON TRAINING FOR REST OF PRACTICES

(By Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 27.—With very little of their training grind left, the stock takers of the Giants' squad have decided that Carl Hubbell and Dutch Henry will pitch the McGrawmen to a good many victories this year. Hubbell is a better pitcher now than he was at the end of last season and should be good for 20 victories in one opinion. Henry also is in fine shape.

The condition of Second Baseman Jake Flowers is giving Wilbert Robinson more to worry about than all the rest of Brooklyn's large hospital list. Flowers may be lost to the team for two months if his doctor decides he must have his appendix removed.

Lou Gehrig, who is one reason why the Yankees won the world's championship last year, thinks his team will repeat this season, or at least take the American League pennant. "We have six pitchers this year," is Lou's argument.

Grove Decreed Rest

Lefty Grove, pitching ace for the Athletics, will not see service in any of the remaining exhibition games in the south, Manager Mack announced today. . . . nail on his pitching hand has become imbedded in the flesh.

One thing that reacts favorably on the Phillies is the confidence Manager Shotton puts in his young players, in the opinion of Cy Williams, veteran outfielder. "Shotton knows how to handle the youngsters," he said.

Be they major or minor leaguers or just college boys they are all the same to the Chicago Cubs. Yesterday the Cubs entertained the Tucson, Ariz., fans with a 14 to 4 defeat of the University of Arizona nine. Rogers Hornsby hitting two home runs. Not until Henry Grampp was loaned to the Collegians were the Cubs' bats silenced.

Hits and pitching are still lacking with the Chicago White Sox. Manager Lena Blackburne sent Ted Lyons and Grady Adkins, two of his hurling mainstays, to the mound against the Waco Cubs of the Texas league yesterday and they fare very badly. The Texans won 12 to 7.

Manager Dan Howley's regular pitchers will get the call in the remaining exhibition games of the St. Louis Browns, he announced today. Howley expects to get them in shape with only two open dates remaining before the big show starts.

WHO MANAGES MAULER MAX

NONE SEEMS TO KNOW; IT MAY TAKE BOUT TO FIND OUT

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 27.—It looks as though Max Schmeling will have to start fighting before anyone will find out who will manage his next campaign. With the "German Dempsey" still in his homeland, his affairs took another complicated turn yesterday when Joe Jacobs, the American half of Max's managerial duel, returned from Europe with the announcement that Max was under contract to the Madison Square Garden corporation and would appear under Garden auspicies against Paulino Uzcudun here June 26.

While Jacobs is trying to guide Schmeling along the road laid out by the Garden corporation, which gave him his first chance in America, Arthur Buelow, his German manager and the only one recognized by the New York state athletic commission, is trying to lead him in addition to a bout at Boston contracted for before Max left. Buelow has signed with Jess McMahon, former Garden match maker, and the Dempsey-Humbert Fugazy combination for matches for Schmeling.

STILLWATER, Okla., March 27 (AP)—In eight years E. C. Gallagher has coached the wrestling team of Oklahoma A. and M. college to 50 consecutive victories in dual meets.

This season the Aggies defeated Missouri, West Virginia and Cornell in addition to southwestern teams. They will enter the national intercollegiate tournament in Columbus, Ohio, March 29 and 30 to match holds with teams from all sections of the country.

Never has the A. and M. team been beaten in a dual meet since they lost twice on a road trip in 1920.

STADIUM OVERSHADOWS ANY IN THE WORLD

Paddy Harmon, Chicago promoter, has shown the scoffers that his plans for building an athletic stadium in Chicago that would shadow Madison Square Garden in size and magnificence were not merely idle talk. The stadium will be formally opened on March 28 when Tommy Loughran defends his light heavyweight title against Mickey Walker. Harmon, handling one of the small tractors used in building the athletic plant, is shown here. The insert shows the architect's drawing of the stadium.

'COVER UP- IN TRADES TOLD

WAYS OF AVOIDING THE DRAFT EXPLAINED BY EX-CLUB CHIEF

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 27.—In the commotion following the drastic action of Commissioner Landis in declaring nine major league ball players free agents, a question has arisen in the minds of the fans as to just what constituted the offense for which the club owners were penalized.

There are various ways of "covering up" a ball player in the minor leagues and nearly every major league club has engaged in the practice. But the system of operating it is fundamentally the same in all cases.

Dick Meade, sports columnist on the Toledo News-Bee and former president of the Toleda American association club, explains the common method of "covering up" as follows:

"Supposing last fall the Toledo officials were afraid Al Devormer might be drafted and felt it was necessary to prevent the loss of a valuable asset for the $5,000 draft fee, how would they go about it?

"The customary procedure would be to work with some friendly major league team, the officers of which could be trusted. Devormer would be sold to, say Detroit, for $2,000 cash and $13,000 additional if the player were retained after May 1.

"President Navin would send a check for $2,000 to Toledo through Judge Landis' office together with the sale papers. Devormer would then become the property of the Detroit club.

"If the Tigers could work up an excuse that might get by the commissioner, Devormer would be returned to Toledo before the training season, but generally it was figured best to play safe and to take the athlete south.

"After looking at the man for several weeks the Detroit manager would decide Devosmer could not make his team and back to Toledo would come the catcher.

"Apparently Detroit was sacrificing $2,000 rather than take a further chance with the man for the additional $13,000.

"Later on the $2,000 would be quietly returned to Detroit and the money hidden in the jugglery of bookkeeping. Some clubs work out the covering up in other ways, but this has been the most popular system and up to now regarded as the safest.

"Carelessness in bookkeeping is about the only way the falsity of the transaction could be detected. Judge Landis has the authority to drop into a baseball office and seal the books.

"If his auditors discovered that Toledo had returned $2,000 to Detroit, or found that Detroit had received this amount from Toledo, they would know at once that the player had been covered. In that case the commissioner would give the athlete his freedom and fine the two conniving clubs."

SPUDDERS TO BATTLE GIANTS

ROOKIE AND VETERAN WILL CLASH WITH M'GRAW SUBS

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Mar. 27.—George Payne and Cy Smith, a veteran and a rookie right hander, were to face the New York Giants' second team at Wichita Falls today in the first of a string of five exhibition games for the Texas league club. One long routine drill was held at the training camp here despite cold weather.

The San Antonio Bears were back in their training camp at Laredo today after four straight victories in the kerosene circuit. They took two games from the Missouri Pacific Railroaders at Kingsville and then trimmed the Corpus Christi Seahawks twice, the second time yesterday, 10 to 4, when Rudy Kenisch, left handed pitcher from the central league, twirled steady ball, and Pete Arzatti, his young battery mate, swatted a homer. The Bears break camp Friday night.

After walloping the Chicago White Sox, 12 to 7, yesterday the Waco Cubs went back to knocking home runs in the training camp today. Sanguinet started the batting spree yesterday, and the Cubs snapped out of their batting lethargy. Stein and Blake turned in some good work for Waco.

The Shreveport Sports and the Minneapolis Millers were to end their spring exhibition schedule of games at Shreveport today in their eighth tangle. Yesterday the Sports romped on the Millers, 14 to 4. Seven home runs were made. Hack Miller, former Dallas outfielder now with the Minnies, got one of them.

The De Quincy team from Louisiana, champions of the Missouri Pacific lines of the South, will invade Houston today for a game with the Buffs. Manager Snyder will send his Buffs against Detroit next Saturday in the second set of exhibition games with major league teams.

The Beaumont Exporters' rookies look so good Manager Claud Robertson has announced today he will hand out no more pink slips until time to cut the squad. Dutch Zwilling's Kansas City Blues were here for games tomorrow and Friday. The Shippers will go to De Quincy for games with a semi-pro team there Saturday and Sunday.

TECH ENTERS TEXAS RELAYS

FIVE FROM MATADOR TRACK SQUAD TO PARTICIPATE

The Tech entry in the Texas and S. M. U. Relays, together with Coach Victor Payne, will leave Thursday noon for Austin, where Friday the Matador relay teams will compete in the track and field meet with the outstanding college athletes of the southwest and middle west. Five members of the squad are to make the trip.

Unavoidable setbacks may prevent the locals from entering the mile relay, but Coach Payne expects to send a formidable 88-relay into the college division of the meet.

Coach Payne is taking an extra runner along to insure a quartet for the relay events. The following have been named to make the trip; Corley, Dallas, L. Walker, Cole and Taylor.

Rain prevented the Tech thinly clads from getting their workout Tuesday afternoon and from all indications they will be kept indoors again today. Light exercises will likely take the place of the usual workout.

GIANTS FOND OF TEXAS

Complete satisfaction with San Antonio, Texas, as a spring training camp is seen in the fact that the New York Giants recently announced they would train there the next three years.

Golden Prince, winner of the recent Cofforth Handicap, was listed as a 20 to 1 shot in the winter books on the race.

AUDITORIUM LARGER THAN EVEN GARDEN

LOUGHRAN-WALKER GO TO ATTRACT HUGE CROWD TONIGHT

CHICAGO, Mar. 27—The "Dream House" of an Irish lad from down by the gas house will be dedicated tomorrow night.

The youth was Paddy Harmon, now 51 years old. The "Dream House" is the $7,000,000 Chicago stadium, which will be thrown open tomorrow night with Mickey Walker seeking Tommy Loughran's light heavyweight title before 25,000 spectators.

Eight thousand more people than has ever witnessed an indoor fight will pay upwards of $300,000 to see Harmon's dream house and Mickey Walker battle for Loughran's crown.

Walker and Loughran completed serious training for their titular contest yesterday. The defending champion tipped the scales at 175 1-2 pounds after a stiff workout. Loughran plans to enter the ring a few ounces under the weight limit of 175 pounds while Walker will probably weight in at 166 pounds.

EMPLOY JINX

Aggies Got Bell, Now T. C. U. Gets Arkansas Nemesis

FORT WORTH, Mar. 27 (AP)—Texas A. and M. college hired its football jinx from Texas Christian university, and now T. C. U. has employed the man who gave its basketball teams very severe drubbings.

Francis A. Schmidt, head coach at University of Arkansas, and often listed as one of the "miracle workers" of basketball, will become head football and basketball coach at T. C. U. here next season. Schmidt's team once ran up a score of 66 points on T. C. U. He succeeds Madison Bell, whose T. C. U. football teams jinxed the Aggies, Bell goes to the Aggies.

Schmidt went to University of Arkansas from the University of Nebraska in 1922, and at that time the Razorback basketball teams were practicing on a dirt court and were all but unheard of. In 1924 basketball was begun there as an intercollegiate sport. Since he has given Arkansas three Southwestern conference championships and some great basketball players. He lifted the game from obscurity to a position of national interest, and perhaps dominance, at Arkansas.

Or Will You Have To Fuss With a Sulky Fire?

Ordinarily you never know. You turn the "hot" faucet and then, chances are, it's icy-cold or just lukewarm. A trip downstairs—a shovelful of coal—business of poking and grate-shaking—an impatient wait—all for hot water service. What an extravagant waste of time!

A Self-Action Gas Water Heater supplies hot water—plenty of it—day or night, at the tap's turn. Not a minute lost and you never know the inconvenience of going without. Now is the time to install a

CAPACITY OF PIPE LINE UP

GULF LOOP MAY CARRY MAXIMUM OF 50000 BARRELS DAILY.

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 27—Gulf Pipe Line Company has ordered pipe for a 136-mile 10-inch loop of its trunk line from the West Texas permian basin area to connect with its main lines to its refinery and tidewater at Port Arthur. The new line will increase its capacity from about 30,000 barrels to 50,000 barrels per day.

The new line was announced coincident with installation of new pump stations near Coahoma in Howard county, Clyde in Callahan county, and Grandview in Johnson county. The pipe is expected to be rolling by April 1 and installation completed and operation started by September 1.

The new line will not loop the Midland-Ranger district line all the way, but should increased capacity be needed later, this could be secured by completing this loop. Additional capacity is also being constructed from Central Texas to the coast.

CURTAIL AVERAGE DAILY OUTPUT

LOS ANGELES, March 27 (AP) — An agreement to curtail daily average production of crude oil in California by at least 138,000 barrels was reached here last night by 200 petroleum operators in the state. Daily average production has been near 800,000 barrels.

Operators reported as much as 400,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas had been going to waste every day in the state because of the flush production.

Fred C. Van Deinse, former president of the Ventura Refining Company, was chosen oil umpire. Committees of oil operators are to meet with him each week.

SINKING OF RUM SCHOONER TO MEAN CLARIFYING OF SMUGGLING TREATY

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 27—Differences between the United States and Great Britain over interpretation of the 1924 rum-smuggling treaty are likely to be clarified as one outcome of the sinking of the Canadian schooner I'm Alone 200 miles off the Louisiana coast Friday by an American patrol boat.

Pending study of complete official reports, no formal action is expected, either in the form of a protest or overtures looking to clarification of the rights of the coast guard to search, seize and pursue suspected rum runners found within one hour's sailing distance of the American shore.

In the meantime, official and diplomatic circles are considerably interested in the possible courses which action might take, and some observers who have followed the unofficial reports of the incident see in them the germs of differences which could lead to the necessity of arbitration. At least, in the opinion of State Department officials, the case involves technicalities which call for the skill of international lawyers.

Only a few changes are needed to make the rum smuggling treaty more effective, as Rear Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the Coast Guard, views the situation. These, he suggests, might include an agreement under which the government would require ships using their ports to furnish proof that their cargoes were delivered at the points designated in their clearance papers.

ADVENTUROUS AVIATOR TELLS STORY

WAS FORCED DOWN BEHIND REBEL LINES AND TAKEN PRISONER BY INSURGENT FORCES

(By Associated Press)

NOGALES, Ariz., March 27—G. K. "Buzz" Morrison, adventurous American aviator, captured by Mexican rebel soldiers when his federal plane was forced down in hostile territory, surprised official circles here by returning to Arizona late yesterday.

"I'm Morrison", an unshaven man with a bundle of clothes under his arm announced as he crossed the border and asked for the location of the American consul.

"The further I am away from Mexican revolutions", Morrison announced, "the better I'll like it from now on." He went to the station and bought a ticket for Tucson, saying that he would fly from there to Los Angeles enroute to Reno, Nev., where his parents live.

Resigned Before Last Flight

Morrison said he had resigned from the federal air service at Naco, Sonora, before he made his last flight. Federal General Olachea, however, wished to have information on rebel troops to the south, so he consented to go over the lines once more. No one accompanied him. Previously, he said, Olachea had gone with him and fired at rebel soldiers with a machine gun which jammed often, and always went wide.

"The border was in sight when my motor quit cold. I sat down in the first available field and started running for the boundary line. A troop of Mexican rebel cavalry were right after me and pretty soon bullets commenced to clip off the greasewood bushes around me. I halted and raised my arms. Firing ceased and I was taken prisoner.

"The rebels took me to Santa Cruz and later to Cananea, where I was taken before General Fausto Topete, rebel commander. Yesterday they sent a special train to the border with me.

"I'm through with these Mexican wars", Morrison said. "I promised the rebels that I wouldn't fly for the federals any more—gladly."

Thought For Today

...For the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.—Isaiah 57:20.

* * *

Wickedness is a wonderfully diligent architect of misery, of shame, accompanied with terror, and commotion, and remorse, and endless perturbation.—Plutarch.

Cold Water

The Mexican revolution, popular with the generals but not with the private soldiers or civilians, seems to be bogging down because the Mexican populace has lifted itself several notches higher than it used to be in the general cultural scale.

The ancient war cries, lifted as lustily as ever by gold braided and mustachioed military leaders, are not getting the good old-fashioned response. The common man below the Rio Grande is beginning to get wise.

In the old days the ordinary soldier was completely under the control of his commanding officer. If the commanding officer wanted to join a revolution he would make a short speech to his ragged, underfed troops; and they, having no conception of the ordinary ideas of military discipline and loyalty, and suspecting besides that one government would be quite as good as another, would twirl their sombreros and join him.

Now, however, according to dispatches from below the border, things are different. The Mexican army has become somewhat business-like during the last few years. The men are well clad, well fed and well disciplined. Furthermore, they have learned to read.

It is this last item that is the most important. They read and understand the appeals in newspapers and pamphlets. They can get a glimmering of the importance to Mexico of peace and order. They can see through the grasping, ambitious generals who revolt for their own selfish ends.

Consequently, they remain unmoved; and it is this, more than anything else, that is hampering the present revolt. The common men, in the army and out of it, are simply not greatly interested. Officer after officer, leaping eagerly into insurrection, finds that his men will not leap with him.

Things always begin to happen when a people learns how to read; learns, in other words, that it can think thinks out for itself, and that there is no limit to the advance it can make if it will only use its brain.

It is for that reason that friends of Mexico can be immensely encouraged by the news from that unfortunate country.

If the ordinary Mexican, downtrodden, imposed upon and deceived for countless years, is at last beginning to see through the shams and pretenses of his would-be leaders, and is discovering that he can do more for himself by clinging to peace and order than by following the will o' the wisp of intermittent revolution, then the beginning of the end of Mexico's long period of disorder is in sight.

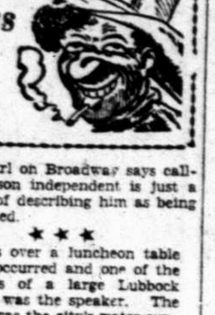

The power of the printed word is immeasurable. Once a people takes that power into its own hands it is well started on the path to real advancement. If that is what is happening in Mexico—and it seems to be—the day of the comic-opera Mexican revolution is about ended.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says calling a person independent is just a nice way of describing him as being hard headed.

* * *

It was over a luncheon table that it occurred and one of the operators of a large Lubbock business was the speaker. The subject was the city's water supply—an interesting one to everybody.

"A city makes a mistake in planning a water system just for today", the speaker, who knows something about water systems, commented. "Lubbock should be looking ahead to the day when it must make some provisions for a surface water system. The time is coming and coming rapidly."

* * *

Since the conversation The Plainsman has done a little snooping and poking around on the matter of water systems. He finds, that although the city will soon have to put down another well, the present system is doing nicely—right now. But he also finds that when a city reaches the 25,000 to 30,000 population mark that a water system based upon wells is in most case inadequate, and that a surface supply is generally necessary.

The Plainsman has no doubt but what the city fathers have their eyes on the water system as upon every other problem which confronts, or is likely to confront the municipality. Yet the matter of water supply is of interest to us all and presents a problem upon which we might well be thinking—private citizens as well as officialdom.

* * *

In view of recent water problems at Abilene and Cisco, which have been solved or are under process of solution, and a condition which is admitedly facing Childress, it behooves us to look long and well into the future. Water is essential and wherever a city is to be builded there water must be easily and cheaply obtainable.

* * *

The much maligned Yellowhouse canyon, which has taken acres upon acres of tillable land from Lubbock county's surface, may yet turn into a great benefactor. Some day—perhaps not so far removed—a dam or two across that same old canyon may form the bulwarks of a rippling lake where millions of gallons of water placidly await service in homes and business houses. We are more than likely to find Yellowhouse canyon, headwaters of the famous Brazos river, God's far-sighted gift to a busy metropolis. It will take money and planning to turn the trick but if the project is some day essential we'll find that in nature we have a doughty ally in the matter of water supply.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says in spite of everything we can do peace occasionally breaks out in Mexico.

* * *

IN LAMENTATION

Breathes there a man
With soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said
"I'd like to quit and go to bed!
I'm powerful tired today!"

And that same man will set his head
To early seek his downy bed
And then stay up once more to say
"I'm powerful tired today!"

* * *

The fellow who wrote that popular song about "Let it rain, let it pour" must have had the South Plains on his mind.

* * *

Mark it down on your calendar now that you're planning to pop up to Plainview sometime during the forthcoming Panhandle-Plains Dairy show. The dates are April 2 to 5, inclusive, and there'll be plenty there to see.

* * *

Some of the brightest minds in the South have agreed that in dairying lies a wonderful opportunity for additional prosperity. In this section of the country, particularly, this avenue of endeavor beckons most attractively. This country is well adapted to dairying. With additional stock and facilities will come an additional market and the time will come when the landscape will be dotted with business enterprises which have to do with dairy products. As proof of what will come, note that a cheese factory has been secured for Abernathy and a large, co-operative creamery will soon be located at Slaton.

* * *

The Plainsman attended the dairy show last year and was surprised at the quality and the quantity of the exhibits. During the past twelve months interest in scientific dairying has increased by leaps and bounds and to quote Lubock County Agent D. F. Eaton, president of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy association, will continue to increase. The show this year is to be bigger and better in every respect as compared to the one last year. It is an undertaking in which this entire section may well be proud and may well support.

Al Smith bought a hand organ the other day. Al can draw freely on the democratic party for the rest of the equipment; the last election made monkeys out of most of us.

It's a great day for electricity. People seem to want everything charged.

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

Foreign Relations Isn't Only Problem Bothering Your Friend Senator McWhorter; Job-Seekers Worry Him Too

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter says it is a mistake to suppose that a states man's trouble all come while he is trying to be elected. As a matter of fact, says McWhorter, it is only after he is elected that they really begin.

The senator is sorely concerned with problems of domestic relations which he says are far more delicate than those of foreign relations and if he had his way there would be a Senate committee to handle one as well as the other. The trouble seems to be that the other members of the McWhorter family do not see why Boomboom, who was never by any means the brightest of them, should be on the government payroll while they are left off.

The situation is somewhat complicated by the fact that during the darkest days of the McWhorter election campaign the senator boasted within the family circle that if he were defeated he would be appointed to the cabinet and that everyone within the family circles would then have a job in his department.

All the McWhorters, young and old, fell on Uncle Boomboom's neck and went out to contribute to the campaign fund of his opponent. When the senator was shown to have been re-elected thanks to the faithful election officials, they decided unanimously that those dollars must not have been spent in vain and that they should be cared for in any event, but would consent to the pain of separation in case Uncle Boomboom couldn't get them all into the same bureau or department.

Senator McWhorter is by no means the first statesman to be beset with such a problem. Most statesmen solve it by picking fights with their relatives well in advance and making them so mad that they won't ask for anything. But when Senator McWhorter tried that last Christmas he merely lost a fairly good suit of clothes beyond repair and was unable to return to Washington until some time after the recess, by which time he found an ultimatum from all near relatives in the form of a nomination state, partly as follows:

Minister to Mozambique: Caleb McWhorter. Caleb was originally trained for the ministry anyway and it wasn't his fault if he didn't make it.

Secretaries to cabinet members: Ethyl and Methyl McWhorter, the twins, who are rarely qualified to be confidential secretaries. Ethyl and Methyl have unimpeachable reputations for being able to keep secrets because Ethyl is always so busy talking about her boss to Methyl and Methyl is always so busy talking about her boss to Ethyl that neither ever has time to talk to anyone else.

Prohibition Agent: Addle McWhorter, the senator's brother. Addle is not so good with an axe or blackjack, but has long since proved that his stomach was designed for a protracted campaign of evidence-buying. Addle has an uncanny faculty for locating speakeasies in a strange town and after visiting one invariably blabs all he knows, so that he could be depended upon never to furnish protection to any rum shop.

Assistant Attorney General: Hoohoo McWhorter, the good looking one in the family, and flamingly youthful. Hoohoo would like Mabel Willebrandt's job and promises to keep discreetly quiet during campaigns if they will only send her to Europe or somewhere until after elections. With Hoohoo on the job no defendant could ever work any sob stuff on a jury because the jury would all be looking at Hoohoo.

Any job in the Treasury so long as it is inside: Pilose McWhorter. Pilose would have the knack of keeping other employes busy. It is known to the Clan McWhorter that Pilose is a sad victim of kleptomania, but Pilose is always perfectly honest and innocent in his attacks because whatever he gets he brings right straight home and doesn't try to hide it or anything. Unfortunately Pilose never remembers where he got it, so that the other McWhorters are never able to return anything.

There are other McWhorters demanding federal jobs besides those mentioned, but all are unanimously supporting young Pilose.

With Our Contemporaries

PRISON LOCATION MAY WIN OUT

Governor Moody and Speaker Barron held a conference Speaker Barron outlined the subject discussed and the viewpoint of the chief executive as well as the viewpoint of the lower house gavel wielder. Prison reorganization and location will be one of the major subjects submitted at the coming session. As related by the speaker this is the gist of what occurred at the conference:

"I am confident that the special session will solve the prison system problem, and if the concentration is made on the rich valley land already owned by the state, it will be a splendid accomplishment of the administration of Governor Moody. My confidence in a solution of the problem by the special session is based on the increasing disposition of members to give and take in a settlement of the proposition and the general knowledge that present conditions are intolerable and can not continue. The inclination of members to get together and work out a satisfactory plan was more and more evident as the regular session adjourned. And when the special session convenes I feel certain that this all important matter will have the best of attention and final consummation."

Conditions are intolerable. There is a prison problem to solve and the lawmakers should solve it. It is not a factional question. It is not a sectional question. It should not be made a partisan question. By their votes at the ballot box taxpayers of Texas declared for prison reorganization and prison location. At the beginning of the legislative session the Holbrook bill which received the approval of the governor, empowered the state prison board to make a searching survey and report as to removal.

Now it is well known that the prison board favors removal.

This proposal was modified in the senate so that the members of the prison board with the attorney general, lieutenant governor and speaker of the house would constitute a commission to study the prison location problem and decide whether it should be moved to another part of the commonwealth.

Then what followed? Representative Dewey Young of the far west and those who shared his views led the opposition to the senate proposals and supported a bill which would unequivocally commit the concentration of the prison system to lands now owned. Their bill named specifically the Derrington and Clemens farms as possible sites for the penitentiary.

Incidentally, under both proposals the Huntsville prison and the lands in that section of the state would be sold to the highest and best bidders. In the legislative jam that came on closing day the major proposition known as prison concentration and location was one of the 450 measures on the calendar that were swept into the ditch of defeat. All senators and all representatives are said to be in hearty accord or agreement that something constructive should be done. As for the governor, he is said to be hopeful of the prison problem being solved at the coming special session. He is said to have declared emphatically in his conference with the speaker of the house that he is not committed to the program of moving the prison system to a location in Central Texas. This is the viewpoint of the governor.

"What I favor is a thorough study and investigation of the question as to the most desired site for the state prison system. If the results of that investigation should show that the prison system can best be maintained on the farm lands of South Texas, that will be acceptable to me; but if the answer is that the prison system should be moved to another part of the state, I certainly would support such a removal. At this time I am bound to either proposition. All I am trying to do is to arrange for a survey to be made by competent persons so as to know how to act."

Constructive legislation should be the aim of all the lawmakers. They have a duty to perform. All the people are interested in the solution of this very vexed problem. It is a problem that should not be passed on for solution to the Forty-second legislature.

Laws For Marketing Of Grain Are Sought

KANSAS CITY, March 27 (AP) — Legislation to enable co-operative organizations to handle marketing of grain including a protective tariff on farm products and preferential freight rates for export was urged in discussions today of the national Wheat Pool committee here.

Virtually all the organizations represented on the committee have representatives in Washington who will appear before the esenate committee on agriculture. The new McNary bill was endorsed in general and members of the committee strove to approve legislation to place agriculture on a basis with other American industries.

Gilbert Swan

In New York

By Swan

NEW YORK, Mar. 27.—To millions of people, Broadway is merely a street of play.

They find it a care-free dispenser of anodynes; and escape from the work-a-day realities; an anesthetic against care.

And so its meaningless catch-penny places take on a carnival significance. The "cathedrals of the moving picture" bring illusions of grandeur. One is ushered to a cinema seat with all the dignity and cold politeness of a caller at a Park avenue home. And its theaters project one variously into art, slapstick, laughter, tears or life problems.

This is the Broadway known to the average New York visitor, and to quite a number of New Yorkers, for that matter.

Unfortunately, this is but one side of Broadway. Unfortunately for the play spirit of the world there are many Broadways.

There is, for instance, the Broadway of the wastrels; of the racketeers and the procurers of women; of the bootleg kings and lecherous dandies—and this is a Broadway that is seen but seldom in its own spotlight.

The rest of New York sits up with startled eyes when, for one reason or another, this picture of its play street is flashed on the public screen. There are a few chroniclers of the big street who hint from time to time of shady doings on. Or there will be a paragraph in a morning newspaper relating how So-and-so was beaten up in such-and-such a resort, or how someone else was robbed of his roll of bills.

A Rothstein will be murdered and suddenly it will develop that vice and dope and racketeering had amazing ramifications. Names of prominent people will flash into print and soon there will appear to be a tangle of plot within plot, until a master unraveler alone can follow the involved trails. It jumps here and it jumps there; it widens and it narrows. It runs through life and death and bestiality and depravity; it takes gamblers and suckers and winners and losers.

I was minded of all this by the shooting the other day in Miami of "Fatty" Walsh, who had been bodyguard to the late Rothstein. In the midst of a card game a man stalked into the room, fired his shots and walked out. And when the shooting was all over, the police were closeted with a blond girl—still in her twenties—a girl who "belonged" to the racket.

And she told them of men and women of Broadway who watched the night club tables for young girls—fresh young girls, generally new to the city and new to its lures. She told them of youngsters of the chorus who were tricked by a woman, now dead, who had a convenient way of getting them into the country on "week-end parties"—and who lived to be tossed from one rich racketeer to another.

She told them of "suckers" lured into the heavy gambling games by pretty youngsters—of an incredibly sordid world of men and women living the gay and sparkling lights of Broadway.

It is the Broadway you hear whispers about—and more than once I have found myself incredulous as I stood watching the carnivalian hordes milling back and forth. Not one of these millions had a hand in the dirty dealing going on quietly, and with amazing organization, just behind some of the blinking lights.

Only when the night has grown late and you drop into a side street and wander into some flashy hideaway does the realization come that part of Broadway plays with a gun at its hip and a leer in its eye, with drugs in its vest pocket and sinister purpose in its heart.

GILBERT SWAN.

Chief Justice Taft has sent a suit of his old clothes to help a needy farmer out west. If that's one of the suits Taft wore when he was president, and if it fits the man he sent it to, well, the poor fellow's not starving anyway.

This should be a wonderful Easter, judging by the number of Broadway shows that have been laying eggs for the occasion.

SPASTIC CONSTIPATION IRRITATED BY FRUITS

Intestinal Flu and Constipation

"My husband had intestinal flu and the doctor said he should not eat fresh fruits and vegetables. Yet your column says that is the way to prevent constipation! He isn't allowed to eat raw apples or fresh tomatoes. How in the world can he get his vitamins and mineral elements and bulk? This doctor claims his constipation is caused by eating fresh fruits and vegetables. I doubt that very much. I just wish you would straighten me out on this contrary opinion of doctors.

"MRS. J."

LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.

First I'll straighten you out about intestinal flu, Mrs. J. While the flu does affect the intestinal tract, very frequently and sometimes very markedly, the primary system to be affected by the flu is the respiratory system. (The nervous and circulatory systems are also affected.) But if it is the influenza, it's influenza, and not of any particular system. Tice states that it is misleading to divide the disease into respiratory, intestinal or other forms.

Now about the constipation. What I tell you is that the common constipation can usually be prevented by the inclusion in the diet of sufficient fresh fruits and vegetables (one and onehalf to two pounds daily), but that there is a type of constipation—the spastic—in which bulky foods irritate and cause more spasm of the intestines and thus more constipation. Until this spastic condition is relieved, fruits and vegetables must be pureed, and all irritating roughage removed from the food. Now it is quite probable that your husband was suffering from the spastic type of constipation, so you see we doctors are not so much in discord as you think. (Our article on constipation takes up both types.)

However, it is a mistake to stay off fresh vegetables and fruits too long, for this may bring on scurvy. This is being emphasized now by the specialists, so ask your doctor if your husband cannot begin to have these foods soon, at least if they are mashed and strained.

Alcohol and Drug Cures

H.—We used to hear a great deal about the institutional treatment for the alcohol habit that you ask about, and there is no doubt it accomplished cures. However, there is a more modern treatment now given by hospitals that make a specialty of alcoholism and drug addiction. These hospitals you will find advertised only in the medical journals. You might ring up your county medical society and ask if there is one in your city.

These hospitals give eliminative treatments which stop the craving for the alcohol or drug, and they have departments of physio-thearpy and well equipped gymnasiums. The permanent cure for an addict depends, of course, on his moral stamina. If he really wants to be cured and be reinstated in manhood, to be able to carry on his duties in life, he can be.

Insulin is not taken by mouth, Mrs. B. The person who quoted me was mistaken: I never have written that insulin could be taken by mouth. Perhaps your informer read the article I ran several months ago on Myrtillin, or blueberry leaf. This can be taken by mouth, but it is not known to take the place of insulin. Allen found it of help in some cases, if used with insulin. The work on myrtillin is still in the experimental stage.

We have a list of books on diabetes written by authorities on the subject for the layman.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

EARLY RETIREMENT OF NATIONAL BANK NOTES OPPOSED BY ANDREW MELLON

Secretary of the Treasury

(Andrew William Mellon was born at Pittsburgh, Pa., March 24, 1855. He was educated at the Western University of Pennsylvania (now university of Pittsburgh). He was president of the Mellon National bank at Pittsburgh, retiring in 1921 to accept the office of secretary of the treasury which he has since held. He is a director or officer of various financial and industrial corporations and has also been engaged in development of coal, coke and iron enterprises. He is chairman of several federal boards.)

The department of the treasury, in the absence of legislation by congress to other effect, is prepared to continue the use of national bank notes as such and will issue new bonds to replace the consuls of 1930, now used to secure national bank circulation.

In my annual report for the fiscal year 1928, submitted to congress last December, referring to the question of whether the national bank botes now in circulation should be retired, I said as follows:

In all probability a conclusion as to the possible retirement of the national bank circulation, through exercise of the call privilege attaching to the 2 per cent consols which arises after April 1, 1930, will be reached before the department can issue national bank notes in the reduced size.

The federal reserve act originally contemplated the retirement of the national bank currency. The problem was discussed fully in the annual report for 1924. Considerable time having elapsed, it is felt advisable to submit the matter to congress for decision at the present session.

In the event national bank notes are continued indefinitely as a part of the money circulation of the United States, the treasury will be prepared to apply the new designs to such notes and to make them available in the reduced size within a reasonable time after the issue of other kinds of currency in the reduced size.

The question has received the thorough study and consideration of this department, and I have concluded that it would be inadvisable to submit to congress, at its next session, a program looking to early retirement of our national bank circulation. Accordingly, when the new size paper currency is issued, on or about July 1, 1929, the treasury department will be prepared shortly thereafter to make available national bank notes in reduced size.

HOOVER SPLIT ON FARM PLAN

PRESIDENT FOR ACCORD WITH PLAN MADE AT KANSAS CITY

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP) — A rift appears to be developing between President Hoover and some of the congressional leaders charged with drafting farm relief legislation.

The surface reason is the determination of the chief executive to refrain from writing an agricultural measure and imposing it upon congress, but behind that is a sharp divergence of views as to the principle of the bill.

Some of the farm leaders in congress take th eposition that since Mr. Hoover led the fight before the country for a relief measure omitting the equalization fee principle and interpreted the party platform into a specific program, he should play the principal part in framing the legislation.

The President's view is that the Kansas City platform provided a basis; that this plan was presented to the country thime and again and the principles are well known alike to congress and the country.

The disagreement on the fundamental principles of the bill revolves around powers to be given the proposed farm board. Mr. Hoover's idea is for a grant of power which would enable the board to deal with not only the present problem in the agricultural industry, but also those that may arise in the future.

This is resisted in some congressional quarters on several grounds. One is that the board given such power might encroach upon the functions of other agencies of the government, such as the Interstate Comerce Commission and the farm loan board.

CALLES' COLUMNS TRUDGE SLOWLY ACROSS SUN-BAKED DESERT

PARCHED WASTES ARE GREATEST FOE OF FEDERAL ARMY

(By Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, March 27.—General Plutarco Elias Calles reported to President Portes Gil today his columns had crossed the desert of Bolsom de Mapimi, and he expected by tonight his advance guard would occupy Escalon.

The federal generalissimo described the crossing as "the most serious battle of this military campaign" and termed the desert a more powerful enemy than the rebel General Jose Gonzalo Escobar.

The rebels, retreating from Torreon, tore up almost every mile of the railroad track northward to Escalon and General Calles was able to make but little use of the line. It was necessary to provide water for his soldiers by means of tank trucks, the isolated wells in the desert, which has an area about that of the state of Ohio, being insufficient for their needs. Seventy trucks alone were necessary to carry fodder for the cavalry horses.

Water Problem Solved

With arrival today at Jaral Grande, south of Escalon, and at Escalon, the former president said, the water situation would be solved, and further advance northward would be quicker than the last hundred miles. The general's report revealed he was moving a force of only 9,000 men north from Torreon for the campaign in Chihuahua, acting under the orders of General Juan Andreu Almazan, who was forced to cross another section of the same desert for his attack on Torreon last week.

Meanwhile as the campaign on the west coast developed into another prospective chase General Jaime Carrillo at Mazatalan wired the president that all the railroad tracks north of Culiacan, capital of Sinalos, had been torn up and he hoped to force the rebels into an open battle there when they found their retreat cut short.

General Carrillo reported aviators had found the main rebel column, under the command of Generals Roberto Cruz and Francisco Manzo, at La Cruz, Sinalos, fleeing on foot and horseback to Culiacan. Aviators flew over the rebels and harrassed them with machine gun fire.

ASKS REPRISAL FOR KILLING OF WIFE BY DRY RAIDERS AT AURORA HOME

AURORA, Ill., March 27—Joseph Deking, through counsel, today demanded that immediate action be taken against county dry raiders for the slaying of his wife.

His attorney, Robert A. Milroy, called upon State's Attorney Carbary to move promptly to place responsibility for the shooting of Mrs Deking at her home Monday night.

The tragedy will not retard the state's attorney's campaign to dry up Kane county, Carbary said.

The legality of the raid on the Deking home is the crux of the entire affair, Deking's counsel said. If the raiders acted without a proper search warrant, the lawyer insisted, then Deking was within his rights in ordering the deputy sheriffs from the house at the point of two pistols. They had a John Doe warrant.

Mrs. Deking was shot by Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith as she ran to her husband, felled by a blow from Smith's clubbed weapon when he resisted arest.

Smith said he fired in self defense believing Mrs. Deking intended to shoot him.

State's Attorney Carbary said he would present the facts to the grand jury, but expressed the opinion the shooting was justified on the grounds of self-defense.

NEW SUPERIOR Whippet

"FINGER TIP CONTROL"

7 "Finger-Tip Control"—A great advance in driving convenience and safety. A button in the center of the steering wheel operates starter, lights and horn. There is no need to take your foot off the brake when starting or re-starting on a hill.

1 Silent timing chain—Like the most expensive cars, the new Superior Whippet has an adjustable silent timing chain which drives the camshaft and auxiliary shaft, for quiet, smooth and long-lived operation.

2 Full force-feed lubrication—Another costly car feature of the new Superior Whippet is the heavy, rugged crankshaft which is drilled for full force-feed lubrication.

3 Invar strut pistons—The Nelson-type design prevents distortion, assures faster pick-up, greater speed and power, smoother operation and longer life.

4 Big four-wheel brakes—In the best engineering opinion, no other kind of brake is more dependable than the new Superior Whippet's big, positive, mechanical-type four-wheel brakes. In the Whippet you are safe under all traffic conditions.

5 Snubbers and oversize balloon tires—In the new Superior Whippet you enjoy riding comfort that is unusual in a light car, further enhanced by the increased wheelbase and the longer springs both front and rear.

6 Mono-control windshield—This new type of windshield control operates by a worm and wheel, so that the windshield may be quickly and easily wound open or shut with one hand, even while the car is running.

YOUR ATTENTION IS
Called to the two very best lots for the money in town. They are not such awfully high-powered stuff, that is they are not worth $1,000 each, but they are worth every dollar of $400 each cash money, and we can sell them to you at $325. You will like the location.

STOCK RALLY MAINTAINED

SOME OF LOSSES FROM VIOLENT BREAK OF TUESDAY MADE UP

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 27.—The rally in stock prices, which started late yesterday after the violent decline earlier in the session, was resumed at the opening of today's market. New Haven opened 4 -4 plints higher; Kennecott Copper, Canadian Pacific, Coty and Warner Brothers Pictures showed initial gains of 2 to 2 1-2 points, and Johns Manville, Safeway Stores, Hudson Motors and Columbia Graphophone advanced a point or so. One block of 12,000 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey changed hands at 54, up 1-2. General Railway Signal dropped 2 1-2 points and Purity Baking 1 1-2.

The early rally assumed impressive proportions in many specialties, but it was noted that such recent leaders as U. S. Steel Common, Radio, Chrysler and General Motors still showed reactionary tendencies Packard, which staged a remarkable rebound yesterday, dropped 4 points.

On the other hand, such stocks as Simmons Co., Industrial Rayon, Commercial Solvents, Lambert, Case Threshing Machine and American & Foreign Power quickly rallied 5 to 7 points. Early gains of 3 points or more were registered by more than a score of issues including Wright Aeronautical, International Telephone, Northern Pacific, Nash Motors, Greene Cananea Copper, Inspiration Copper, American Car & Foundry, Canada Dry and National Dairy Products.

Although few large blocks changed hands in the early trading, the first half hour's sales ran above 800,000 shares.

Call money renewed at 15 percent, as against 12 on yesterday.

Foreign exchanges opened easier, with cables down 1-32 of a cent to $4.85 5-16.

New Fluid For Plane Radiators Announced.

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Ehtylene gyleol, common base for many anti-freeze solutions was announced today as the chemical developed by army engineers to replace water as an airplane engine cooling fluid. Use of the chemical is foreseen as opening an unlimited filed for future development of water-cooled engines.

The fluid boils at 387 degrees Fahrenheit. It is the first and simpliest of poly-hydric alcohols, and its constituents can be obtained on the open market at reasonable prices.

Use of the fluid, which is said to make possible a 75 per cent reduction of weight and air resistance offered by the present day water-filled radiator is expected to solve a problem that has been perplexing aeronautical engineers.

MARKET STILL IS UNCHANGED

BUYING DEVELOPS ON BULLISH WEEKLY WEATHER NEWS

NEW ORLEANS, March 27 (AP).—The cotton market opened unchanged to one point up although Liverpool cables were relatively steady. Some selling said to be induced by uneasiness over the financial situation was encountered and May traded down to 19.68, July 19.73 and October 19.52, or 6 to 8 points down from yesterday's close.

Offerings appeared absorbed at the decline and buying developed on the bullish weekly weather and crop summary. Active positions rallied 16 to 17 points from the lows to levels 8 to 10 points above yesterday's close with May at 19.84, July 19.90 and October 19.68. At the end of the first hour the market was quieter and 1 to 3 points under the highs.

The market ruled quiet for the remainder of the morning with prices fluctuating within the early range although easing off a few points on reports of beneficial rains in North Texas and Oklahoma. May sold off to 19.75, July 19.78 and October 19.54, 19.54, or 9 to 14 points below the highs. Near noon the market recovered about half of this loss and ruled steady but quiet.

COTTON OPENS ON DECLINING TONE

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP).—Cotton opened unchanged to a decline of 8 points and sold about 5 to 13 points net lower during the first few minutes under a renewal of liquidation or overnight selling orders brought in by the unsettled rulgni of yesterday. Trade interests were buyers at the decline, however, while there was a good deal of covering. After easing off to 20.43 for May and 19.75 for new October prices turned steadier. By the end of the first half hour May was up to 20.62 and October to 19.85, making net advances of about 2 to 8 points on the active months.

Trading was comparatively quiet after the early liquidation had been absorbed but the bulges met some further selling and prices worked off late in the morning with new crop positions relatively easy on reports of beneficial rains in West Texas. At midday the market was quiet at net declines of about 2 to 8 points.

Plentiful In Lubbock

In Lubbock the fall began shortly after 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, was brisk during intervals Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning turned into a soaking downpour. With clouded skines offering little indication of breaking, the rain continued throughout the morning and early afternoon. Superintendent Donald L. Jones of the state agricultural experiment station, located three miles east of the city, reported the rain gauge standing at 1.41 inches at 7 o'clock this morning but the fall increased about half an inch after he made his measurement.

In the city of Lubbock, housewives joined with farmers in the rural district in rejoicing the precipitation. Recently planted shrubs and flowers, lawns which are almost ready to turn a vivid green and backyard gardens were uniformly benefitted. More than one property owner grinned as he visioned a water bill lessened and good feeling generally prevailed about the city.

"It's a million dollar rain," venerable war cry of the plains, was the most used exclamation as the city, slightly damp, went abouts its regular labors.

BUMPER WHEAT CROP IS BEING FORECAST

AMARILLO, March 27 (AP)—Rain over the Panhandle and South Plains late yesterday and today virtually assures the largest wheat crop on record in this district. The total precipitation at Amarillo was 1.25 inches.

Farm specialists said the rain would almost insure a wheat crop to excell that of 1926 when the Panhandle produced 24,000,000 bushels.

Heavy At Childress

CHILDRESS, March 27 (AP)—A slow, penetrating rain totaling 1.35 inches fell here yesterday and today.

Wheat Is Aided

PAMPA, March 27 (AP)—A slow, light rain which started falling yesterday was continued today and broke a long drouth period on the North Plains. It will benefit wheat lands, farmers say.

Rain Holds Up Tourists

BIG SPRING, March 27 (Spl.)—A slow, general rain has been falling here for several hours causing a delay to tourists on account of bad roads. This is the third rain that has fallen over this section during the week.

Fall Nears Record

PLAINVIEW, March 27 (AP)—A 24-year precipitation record for the month of March was broken here late yesterday and today. The rainfall measured 2.93 inches as compared with 3.8 in 1905.

Early Planting Sure

BROWNFIELD, March 27 (AP)—A two inch rain fell here yesterday and today. It is the first rain of value in several months and will enable the farmers to plane early. A northeast wind accompanied the rain.

"Worth Million Dollars"

"It is worth a million dollars to this section," Lubbock County Agricultural Agent D. F. Eaton said today in commenting on the general rains which drenched the South Plains late yesterday and today.

"This moisture will be of great value to everyone. It will carry the grain crops through for some time, and it will materially aid the farmers in getting their land in shape," he said.

"And if nothing else," he continued, "the rains will put everyone else in a good humor by eliminating wind and dust for awhile."

Busses Are Hit.

With from two to three inches of moisture in every direction of Lubbock, traffic over many of the highways has been temporarily suspended, according to reports received at the Union Bus terminal of this city.

Bus schedules between here and Amarillo and from here south have been cancelled for today due to the heavy roads. Other schedules are expected to be cancelled today.

Bus drivers report heavy precipitation at Amarillo, Plainview, Farwell, Littlefield, Ralls, San Angelo, and Tatum and Clovis, New Mexico.

It is thought, however, that with a little work the highways will be placed in a better condition than before, as the heavy winds have cut up the roads considerably.

Post Reports

POST, March 27 (Special)—Heavy rains, measured at noon at the 3-inch point, fell over this section Tuesday afternoon, Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. The precipitation not only covered Garza county but also extended to the south and southeast.

Dawson County Aided

LAMESA, March 27 (Special)—Two inches of rain covered Dawson county up to noon Tuesday, with indications that more would follow. The rain also fell in Howard county, to the south of here, and over this section generally.

Levelland Is Wet

LEVELLAND, March 27 (Special)—Hockley county's share of Tuesday's and today's deluge stood at slightly more than 2inches at noon, with indications that more would fall from downcast skies. Cochran county received a similar fall.

Wheat Farmers Helped

CROSBYTON, March 27 (Special)—Tuesday night and Wednesday morning were good to wheat raisers and farmers over Crosby county with two and a half inches of rain covering the section. More rain was forecast for this afternoon.

Grins At Floydada

FLOYDADA, March 27 (Special)—The faces of Floyd county farmers and Floydadad business men were wreathed with smiles as a result of a three inch rain which fell Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, benefitting a fine wheat crop. Motley county also received a share of the deluge.

Lamb County Drenched

LITTLEFIELD, March 27 (Special)—Lamb county wheat crop was assured at noon today when rain guages stood at the 3 inch mark as a result of Tuesday's and Wednesday's precipitation. With more rain expected it appeared that the total precipitation might reach three and a half inches before the sun breaks through again.

automobiles on Monday, personally leading a long column of trucks to a desert camp a few miles north of Bermejillo.

The artillery and cavalry moved under their own power while the infantry was carried on trucks. Blinding clouds of dust hid the column as it picked its way through cactus and mesquite.

Only two small wells were found for Monday night's camp and these were entirely inadequate for General Almazan's 10,000 men and thousands of animals.

The general hoped to reach the vicinity of Escalon shortly where he will re-establish telegraph communication with his base at Torreon.

Federal planes flew over the camp on Tuesday dropping messages to keep General Almaza in touch with his advance guard and the movements of the rebel forces.

QUIET PREVAILS IN NACO SECTION

NOGALES, Ariz., March 27 (AP)—Quiet prevailed along the western part of the international border today despite the movement of Mexican rebel forces to a point within 8 miles of the federals entrenched at Naco, Sonora.

Generals Lucas Gonzales and Augustino Olachea, commanders at Naco, expressed belief the oft-threatened attack from rebels under General Fausto Topete would not develop.

To the south there were signs that federal forces had pushed farther northward into rebel territory.

REBEL FORCE AT MAZATLAN BEATEN

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—American Consul Wm. P. Blocker at Mazatlan, reported to the state department today in a telegram sent at 6 o'clock last night that the rebel forces which had attacked that city were in full retreat north of Quila.

FEDERAL TROOPS BEFORE BATTLE

button, who followed her on the stand, described Wallace as a good looking, blonde young man who was interesting and had a good personality. He was 26 years old.

The defense attorney endeavored to bring out from Miss Tarbutton testimony that the minister reached for his pocket as Wilson approached, but she insisted the minister was holding a picture in his hands when Wilson approached the group and shot.

The state rested its case shortly before 11 a. m., after presenting these witnesses, and Judge J. R. Warren ordered a recess to allow the defense time to confer with witnesses.

Rev. H. H. Wallace, Baptist pastor of this city and father of Rev. Fount Wallace, sat in the court room with five-year-old Patsy Wallace, daughter of the man Wilson was accused of murdering, on his knee. He was there when J. F. Adams, a farmer, was chosen as the twelfth juror early today.
