Ballot Box Stuffing Charged In Louisiana

FIRE THREATENS TOWN

WITNESS SAYS VOTES CAST IN BUNCHES

"WADS OF FROM FOUR TO SEVEN" DROPPED AT ONCE, CLAIM

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—The senate committee investigating the election last year of Senator John H. Overton (D., La.), today heard testimony that ballots were cast in "wads of four to seven" at one precinct.

William J. Hahm, unofficial watcher for ex-Senator Edwin S. Broussard, who was defeated in the election, said he was permitted to help count ballots in precinct 16, ward 10, and that he found "wads of from four to seven" which appeared to have been dropped in the ballot box as a single vote."

Refusal In Record

Senator Connally (D., Texas) read into the record the refusal of Senator Broussard to reappear at the hearing and present witnesses.

Conally announced that the committee had also invited Burt W. Henry, chairman of the Honest Election league, to reappear.

Both Broussard and Henry recently withdrew from the proceedings last week with the statement that they had "lost confidence in the investigating committee."

"Commissioner Drunk"

Hahm testified that the only Broussard commissioner in his precinct, Walter Robracher, "kept going into the alley to drink" and that he became intoxicated "about noon." He said that Herbert Baker, an unofficial Broussard watcher, was then named commissioner in Robracher's place.

Senator Overton commented:

"He took the count early—at midday."

The crowd laughed.

"Where did he get the liquor?" asked Senator Connally.

"I can't say," replied the witness.

"Was there liquor in the polling place?"

"Yes."

"Who brought it?"

"I don't know."

RECORD CLAIMED FOR SETTLE BAG

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—A calibration of the barometer carried by Lieut. Settle in his stratosphere flight showed the balloonist had ascended 61,237 feet.

The National Aeronautic association, in announcing the figure, said it would be forwarded to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale as a new world height record.

Ray Cooper of the NAA said that although the Soviet stratosphere balloonist had claimed a height of more than 62,000 feet, the U. S. S. R., was not a member of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and that no official proof of their height was held by that international organization.

Officially, Cooper said, the 53,153 feet ascended by Auguste Piccard, the Belgian scientist, had stood as the world record.

The ceiling reached by Settle and Major Chestor L. Fordney of the Marines was a distinct surprise to officials here.

SIX HELD FOR ROBBERIES

BRIDE OF AN HOUR IS ARRESTED; HUSBAND IS SHOT TO DEATH

(By The Associated Press)

KENOSHA, Wis., Nov. 23—A 17-year-old widow and five other persons, one a girl of the same age, seized when officers shot and killed the former's husband of an hour, were charged today with a series of robberies and holdups.

All were captured last night after officers surprised them at a filling station and Walter Bergman, 21, West Allis, Wis., the bridegroom, was slain after he shot and wounded Paul Cheney, 21, the filling station attendant.

Confessions Made

Later Sheriff Clarence Ericksen said some of those in custody had confessed to an unsuccessful attempt to rob a bank at Manchester, Ia., and to at least seven thefts, robberies and burglaries in Wisconsin.

Those held are Alice Piuta, 17, who was married to Bergman at Waukegan, Ill., an hour before the shootings; Jerry Schnomier, 21, and his wife Hazel, 17, Chicago; Joseph Mieszjewski, 20, Milwaukee; Don Donovan, 21, La Garge, Wis., and Sterling Hart, 20, Chicago.

The trouble started when Sheriff Ericksen and deputies drove up to the filling station while on a search for Kenosha bakery robbers and found guns and ammunition in the two mud-spattered automobiles. Officers said the cars had been stolen.

RELIEF PLANS TAKING FORM AT CAPITAL

FOOD, CLOTHING FOR MILLION FAMILIES TO BE AVAILABLE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Plans for feeding and clothing approximately 1,000,000 American families they expect to remain on relief rolls this winter were said by relief officials today to be rapidly taking final form with the Federal Surplus Relief corporation busy buying supplies for distribution.

The Surplus Relief corporation and the Federal Emergency Relief administration have joined with the Agricultural Adjustment administration to buy farmers' surpluses and distribute the foodstuffs to the destitute. The Civil Works administration, the fourth of the relief agencies, is now engaged in the announced task of trying to put 4,000,000 men to work by December 16.

To Use State Groups

The Emergency Relief administration, parent organization of the Surplus Relief corporation and the Civil Works administration—all headed by Harry L. Hopkins—is attempting to provide food and clothing through state organizations.

During the last two weeks, the relief administration has allotted over $1,000,000 with which various states are to purchase clothing and bedding for the needy.

Bean Bids Open

The Surplus Relief corporation yesterday opened bids for 5,000,000 pounds of beans. It previously had bought 400,000 pounds of canned beef, 100,000,000 pounds of pork cured from hogs bought by the Agricultural Adjustment administration; nearly $100,000 worth of Washington, Maine and Missouri apples; 11,500,000 bushels of wheat through the Farm Credit administration; 19,000 hogs and 30,000 to 40,000 Texas range cattle. It has ordered 300,000,000 pounds more of pork through the AAA and authorized direct purchase and processing of 100,000 sheep.

DESPERADO OR WOMAN COMPANION WOUNDED IN GUN BATTLE

(By The Associated Press)

GRAND PRAIRIE, Nov. 23—A fusillade of machine gun bullets nearly ended the outlaw career of Clyde Barrow last night as he and his woman companion, Bonnie Parker, shot their way out of a trap officers had set for them.

Splotches of blood found in the bullet-torn Barrow car after he had abandoned it and escaped in one taken from two Fort Worth men, indicated that either Barrow or the woman was wounded, perhaps badly. Thirteen bullets hit the Barrow car on the driver's side, tearing gaping holes in the doors and shattering glass.

Forced Car To Halt

After speeding out of range of the officers' deadly fire, Barrow and the woman ran up along side a car in which two Fort Worth attorneys, Thomas R. James and Paul Reich, were returning home from a Scottish Rite reunion in Dallas.

Swerving at high speed in front of the Reich car, Barrow forced it to a stop. The gunman and Bonnie

LEE TRACY AMONG UNEMPLOYED RANKS AS RESULT OF MEXICO BALCONY ACT

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Lee Tracy, the screen actor who got into trouble in Mexico City for an impromptu scene he staged on a hotel balcony, was due back in Hollywood tonight where he will find himself among the ranks of the unemployed.

Describing the actor's unscheduled appearance in the Mexican capital as "deplorable behavior," Louis B. Mayer, executive of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios which held Tracy's contract, announced the actor could no longer consider himself in any way connected with his organization.

Arriving in El Paso en route to Hollywood Tracy offered an explanation for his conduct. He said Mexico City newspaper erred when they reported he appeared unclad on the hotel balcony and thumbed his nose at a group of cadets on parade.

"I was just helping them celebrate," said Tracy. "I'd been on a cabaret party and had some drinks and like any drunk, I began yelling.

"Someone yelled back and I shouted, "why don't you go to ---?" The next day I went to jail, paid a small fine, apologized and that's all there was to it."

Mayer sent a telegram to President Abelardo Rodriguez of Mexico in which he apologized for Tracy's conduct. The actor was in Mexico to take part in the film, "Vivi Villa."

BLAZE OUT OF CONTROL IN CALIFORNIA

HUNDRED AND SEVENTY MEN REPORTED SAFE FROM FIRE TRAP

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—One hundred and seventy men, cut off by a roaring brush and forest fire in the foothills northwest of Los Angeles, were reported safe this morning by a motorcycle officer who ran a gauntlet of flames and found them scurrying to safety.

The men, county welfare workers engaged on unemployment relief projects, were making their way over the hills and apparently were in no danger, the officers said.

Fire Out of Control

The fire was completely out of control and was eating its way through the foothill town of Tujunga which was reported doomed by the fire.

Fear Held For Fighters

Concern was expressed for the safety of 40 additional fighters, members of the Civilian Conservation corps, who had failed to report to their headquarters for more than two hours.

The brush fire, completely out of control, was raging in three separate canyons along a front of more than a mile, and at 4 a. m. had entered the northern end of Tujunga, a community of 3,000 persons.

Nearly 800 men were concentrated at Tujunga in an effort to save the city. Several residences and a winery, containing more than 15,000 gallons of choice wines, were destroyed.

Residents Ordered Out

Residents of Briggs Terrace, a community of more than 200 small homes, were ordered to evacuate.

A 40-mile an hour wind made efforts of firemen virtually useless.

Telephone communication to the stricken area was interrupted, and reports of the progress of the blaze were being relayed from La Crescenta by firemen traveling to and from the scene in automobiles.

The foothills boulevard was closed to public traffic as the flames were licking across it, and firemen were forced to run a red gauntlet in bringing in their reports.

The fire could be seen plainly from Los Angeles. Ashes were falling over San Fernando valley.

Wind Saves City

The wind saved the city of La Crescenta, neighbor community of Tujunga.

ROOSEVELT TO CONFER WITH MORGENTHAU

DOMESTIC PRICE FOR GOLD IS UNCHANGED FROM YESTERDAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Paying little outward heed to the vehement controversy over monetary policy, the administration proceeded with its gold program today, holding the price of domestic price of the metal at the same level as yesterday.

The quotation was $33.76 per ounce. Meanwhile the world price was $33.96 at the opening London foreign exchange quotation of $5.40 1-2 to the pound. The dollar later improved carrying the London gold quotation down to $33.80.

To Confer With FDR

Acting Secretary Morgenthau made ready to travel to Warm Springs, Georgia, where he will review the steps thus far taken with the president and make plans for future operations.

An assertion that the federal credit is "solid as the Rock of Gibraltar" was Acting Secretary Morgenthau's reply to assertions that it is threatened with collapse by the administration monetary program.

He made this assertion in replying to contentions that the weakness in government bond prices was attributable to depreciation of the dollar abroad through the gold buying plan.

Statement Ordered

Neither he nor members of the Federal Reserve board would comment upon the action of the federal advisory council in ordering a statement of attitude on the gold program prepared for private distribution among member banks.

The council which in the past has not hesitated to speak its own mind, has no official governmental status. It consists of members chosen from the various Federal Reserve districts who meet in Washington from time to time to exchange the views of the various sections of the nation on business and monetary conditions.

The members of the council all of whom appeared today to have left Washington upon conclusion of their meeting, include Joseph H. Forst, Dallas.

Decision In Doubt

No authoritative official here had forecast whether the decision at Warm Springs would be for continued administration silence or a counter word-offensive to meet that set off by Dr. O. M. W. Sprague's resignation and criticism of the

Inventories Fixed On Gasoline Supply

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Secretary Ickes today set gasoline inventories as of December 31, 1933, to be 51,000,000 barrels in an effort to control production there as he is now controlling production of crude petroleum.

The figure set will allow an increase of about 600,000 barrels, over existing levels, but will prevent stocks from increasing considerably more, as they normally would between November and December.

Flounce Of Fur

The tunic effect, illustrated by this coat, is smart nowadays. What really distinguishes the garment shown here, however, is the flounce of sable squirrel draped across the front. The lines in the flounce are carried out by the drapes of the high collar, fashioned of the same fur. Black cloth makes the coat.

FARLEY FLAYS JOB-SELLING

TWO MEN ARRESTED IN PATRONAGE SWINDLE; TRAP IS URGED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. (AP)—James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, disclosed his organization had appealed to two branches of the government—the justice department and the post-office department, which he heads—to trap persons seeking to sell federal jobs to gullible job seekers.

Farley declared himself "very much pleased" at the arrest of two men by justice department operatives for alleged connection with a patronage swindle.

"The only persons authorized to solicit funds for the Democratic national committee, said Farley in a statement, "are the authorized officials of regular Democratic state organizations and officials of the Democratic national committee at headquarters who are not on the federal payroll.

"No contribution to the Democratic national committee has been or will be accepted which is contingent upon any job or favor." He recalled he previously had appealed to the public for information on "any improper action on the part of persons in our organization or outside who may be holding themselves out as able to get jobs, retain jobs or secure promotions."

The truce was suggested in a message from Governor Floyd B. Olsen of Minnesota to give midwestern governors a chance to seek from the coming session of congress the holiday group's program of farm aid.

PAUL MITCHELL LEAVES TODAY FOR DEATH ROW OF PRISON

CONDEMNED SLAYER IS SCHEDULED TO DIE ON DECEMBER 27

Paul Mitchell, who last Saturday was sentenced to die in the electric chair two days after Christmas, left Lubbock for Huntsville about 7:30 o'clock this morning with Sheriff Tom Abel, Deputy Sheriff Baxter Honey, and Charles B. Metcalfe, district courts clerk.

After doors of the state penitentiary close on him Friday, only clemency from Governor Miriam A. Ferguson can save him from this punishment for the holdup slaying of Robert Tharp Oct. 15, 1932.

"Seems some times I've been given a little more than I can do," Mitchell told a reporter yesterday.

Praises Local Officers

In the presence of his 42-year-old mother, Mrs. Clara James Mitchell, and his young wife, Mrs. Irene Mitchell, the blond young man praised members of the sheriff's department, declaring he could die "if necessary," and said he sought commutation of his sentence for the sake of his wife and his mother.

Jail sounds — the high-pitched song of a woman prisoner, the harsh voise of a trusty shouting at her—frequently interrupted the interview. Paul and his wife were seated on the cell bunk; the mother, with a large envelope filled with papers at her side, sat on an iron bench. The man's black shirt was open at the neck, his sleeves rolled above his elbows. His trousers and shoes were black.

Humor Is Grim

Humor — grim, ominous because here sat a man whom the law had said must die — frequently caused the group to chuckle.

Declaring he was speaking without bravado, Mitchell said he could die "like a man." Then, laughing, "Here's hoping I don't have to prove it."

Previously Mrs. Mitchell had explained that she and Irene soon would move to Huntsville. In a low voice, Paul said:

"Some time before my demise."

The two women have spent hours with Mitchell since he was sentenced last Saturday by Judge Homer L. Pharr of 72nd district court.

The mother spoke of the 23 years her son lived a "straight" life before he went wrong, of his "cutting loose completely" from bad associates, and of his conduct since that time.

She said she thought of him as "Billy." All the Mitchell children have nicknames. Worth, 22, is "Jack"; Mary Dale, 10, is "Peggy," and James Crawford, 8, is "Jimmy." Much of the responsibility of the two younger children fell on Paul's shoulders, she said. The mother is a stenographer. Mitchell taught Jimmy to draw pictures. Yesterday Mrs. Mitchell exhibited a pencil sketch Jimmy had drawn.

Clumsy Little Fellow

"He was such a clumsy little fellow I hadn't thought he could do that well," Paul commented.

The sorrow Mrs. Mitchell said she had felt has been expressed by her in verse. While in Lubbock Wednesday she said she wrote:

"When sorrow came to live with me
"The load was hard to bear
"'Til shafts of jeweled sunlight pierced
"The darkness gathered there;
"A word, an act, a friendly smile,
"A hand in sympathy;
"Thus God in man I comprehend
"Since sorrow came to me."

Sorry For Two Women

Why does Mitchell think Governor Perguson should commute his sentence?

"I killed a man, and the custom is an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth," he replied.

"I don't say she's obligated to do it. I think if she commutes it, she won't be making any mistake."

The commutation, he said, was sought because of his mother and Irene.

"According to custom I should pay, but it would hurt them both bad if I died. For their sake I've asked clemency—not for my own sake.

Faced Death Before

"The thought of death doesn't bother me; I've faced death before."

He was seriously wounded by an officer at Broken Arrow, Okla., after Tharp was slain here. Previously he was critically injured in an automobile accident.

After he was wounded, he decided to return to his mother and go to school, he said. His capture at Kingsville ended those plans.

"If it is necessary for me to die I can do it," he said, "but I cannot right the wrong by dying. If I live I'll try in every way to atone for the wrongs.

"I'm not asking to get out of the punishment; 99 years or life in the penitentiary is not to be laughed at."

Get It Over With

Mitchell said he pleaded guilty because "I wanted to get it over with, pay for it, and go straight."

"I think this is the squarest force I've ever seen," he said of Sheriff Tom Abel and his staff. "They've been real white, and they've helped me."

The three indicated that they believed if clemency came it would be only a short time before the execution date.

"I don't care how long it takes, just so it happens," Mitchell said. "I can stand the suspense."

"I can't," Mrs. Mitchell said.

Wants Freedom Honestly

Mitchell declared that he had determined that "if I was coming out of jail it would be honestly."

He said if he broke out "I'd have to kill somebody else."

"Or get killed," his mother added.

"That doesn't hold any terrors for me," Paul replied. "I don't want to kill anyone else."

The ebb and flow of persons outside the law have sent dozens through Mitchell's tank, where he was kangaroo court judge.

Many have remembered him with money, cigars, and candy, he said.

Wants A Harp

He said he hoped state penitentiary authorities permit him to have a harp. Since being jailed here he said he had learned to play a guitar "to keep from going crazy." He understood condemned men could listen to a radio.

When Jailer Parum Posey went to the second floor of the jail building to give prisoners the afternoon meal, the interview ended. Among Mrs. Mitchell's last words were:

"If he goes into the chair, he takes with him my pride in his manhood shown before he was in wrong and in breaking away from it since then."

BABE RUTH COMES THROUGH FOR TWO CRIPPLED BOYS WHO WANTED A DOG

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 (AP)—This story is about two crippled boys, a dog, and Baltimore's most famous orphan, Babe Ruth.

Last week the local newspapers carried a story about Jack McCann, 12, and Stanley Hardesty, 9. They wanted a dog.

They are patients at the James Lawrence Kernan hospital for crippled children, and the doctors have prescribed plenty of exercise for them.

Jack was attacked by a strange disease when he was a small child which has gradually caused him to lose the use of his muscles. Stanley has tumors of the bone.

Each day the doctors send them on long walks, tramping over the fields near the suburban hospital. It is part of their cure.

It had seemed to the boys that these walks would be more enjoyable if they had a dog, so they appealed to the newspapers.

After the story appeared, somebody thought of Babe Ruth and what it would mean to the boys if they had a dog from him.

The Bambino was told about it, and he came through in great style. Jack and Stanley now have a three-months-old collie, white with a brown spot on its forehead.

"And it's from Babe Ruth," they exclaim in awed tones.

SPORTS

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

The athletic powers that be got together the other afternoon and considered a tentative Tech football schedule for 1934. As a matter of fact, what they considered isn't even tentative yet, just a pipe dream. They will await with anxiety the public response given the Texas Tech-Kansas State game here on Thanksgiving before making any contracts.

STEERS, BEARS, PONIES

Inaugurating the regular season next year will be the University of Texas game in Lubbock. That contest has been settled definitely, for September 22. On October 21, the Matadors will go to Ruston to play Louisiana Tech, filling out the two-year, home-and-home contract. Baylor's Bears come back for the November 17 game. These games are fixtures. The following are highly tentative: Southern Methodist at Dallas, the University of Arkansas, or Colorado university at Lubbock, University of New Mexico, Texas Mines here, Simmons, and University of Arizona at Tucson, this game being definitely fixed for Thanksgiving.

Whether Texas Tech goes ahead with efforts to line up this rather imposing schedule, including four Southwest conference teams, depends upon the manner in which cash customers fill Matador Field a week from this afternoon. If the crowd is there, if Lubbock and surrounding territory shows faith and desire, then the above schedule, or an even better one, will be offered next year. Otherwise, the Matadors will go back to playing Wayland, McMurry, A. C. C., Trinity, Sul Ross and the Podunk Pedagogues.

IMPS AND ANGELS

Was that crack yesterday about eligibility rules and Amarillo High school prophetic? No sooner had it appeared in print than here came an Associated Press dispatch from Pampa to the effect that the eligibility of Captain J. R. Corbitt, the big gun of Amarillo's attack, had been protested. It seems that Corbitt started playing high school football back in 1929, or when Santa Claus was a babe in arms, and that his years of eligibility had terminated prior to this season. If it is proven, Amarillo will go the way of Temple and Ranger, leaving the District 1 title in Pampa's lap. The Pampa-Amarillo game would be forfeited to Pampa.

From the local standpoint, an Amarillo kick-out wouldn't change matters much as far as a district championship for Lubbock would be concerned. Pampa would have it, having beaten Lubbock, and Lubbock's satisfaction would be an automatic victory over Amarillo. So that's Pampa's and Amarillo's fuss, our kick being registered again at the rule that makes one of the state's best football players ineligible, and completing the ruin of a prediction that Amarillo and Temple would play for the state rag.

Meanwhile, until the affair is settled, the Westerners go ahead in the hardest series of workout they have had all year. The cry still is "Beat Amarillo" and that bunch of boys would rather beat Amarillo and lose the district championship than to lose to Amarillo and win the state title.

Coach Weldon Chapman is pretty blue or was this time yesterday. "We might beat 'em if we were playing in Lubbock but at Amarillo—well it's just tough luck. We could have played the game here at home if the folks had wanted it that way. But they didn't so it's Butler Field again and the odds against us more ways than one. We are not giving up by any means and if fight and spirit and desire and ambition count anything we'll give Amarillo a harder game than anybody expects."

NOT A WESTERNER

Another of those crank letters came yesterday. It started off "We the members of the Lubbock High school football squad" etc., and was signed L. H. S. W. The letter gave this column plenty of thunder for recent remarks in this column relating to the Westerners, but you can't convince this bureau that the Westerners authorized the letter. It's not like a Westerner, or any football player. If there should happen to be such an ingrateful cad on the team as the person who wrote the epistle, he would be ordered by Coach Chapman to turn in his suit immediately. In spite of the threat or implication at the bottom of the letter, we're not messing up good white paper to reprint it. We get a lot of letters like that, too silly for consideration.

Football teams of western and eastern All Stars will report in San Francisco Dec. 23 for the annual Shriners' New Year's game for the Hospital for Crippled Chidren.

LUBBOCK HIGH WESTERNERS SCRIMMAGE

GRIDIRON HOPES ARE PINNED ON UPSET OVER SANDIES

They may be down, but not out, and their spirit is as high as it ever was as the Lubbock High school Westerners go through long and earnest drills in preparation for their Turkey Day tilt at Butler Field with the vaunted Amarillo High school Sandies.

One of the stiffest scrimmage sessions of the year kept the charges of Coaches Chapman and Huffman busy yesterday afternoon, and the teams crashed against each other with plenty of battle in their eyes and hearts.

And a lot of the second stringers were giving the regulars some gridiron lessons. Assistant Coach Huffman takes a flock of replacements to Slaton Saturday to mix it with Paul Wright's Tigers.

Stepped up from the Cowhands Glen Jones, rangy, pass-snatching wing, was working out with the Westerners, and his practice performance yesterday augered that he might see some service Thanksgiving.

They'll Be Fighting

"If the team is not in a fighting frame of mind next Thursday it won't be our fault," said the Lubbock coaches yesterday. And visiting fans, heartened by the vicious workout yesterday, and the apparent favorable psychological outlook of the team, saw visions of an upset next week.

"As far as we are concerned, I would much rather Lubbock would win this game," said Bull Lynch assistant Coach at Amarillo during the Pampa-Lubbock game last week. Smarting from their whitewashing from the Harvesters, Chapman's gridmen worked yesterday with more fire and spirit than they have shown all season.

A seven-man line of regulars versus a five-man and roaming center wall of second string forwards skirmished viciously for an hour and a half, with the regular secondary throwing power plays at the subs and getting scarcely anywhere. Strong indications are that some of the reserves—big Speer, Aycock, Prather, or Barnes—might get the first nod over men hitherto listed as starters.

Tickets for the game with the Sandies, 500 of them, are on sale at the J and J Sporting Goods store.

RING REFEREE OVER-RULED

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—With the aid of one of the most surprising actions ever taken in a New York ring, Tommp Loughran, the veteran boxer from Philadelphia, has demonstrated that the young giant, Ray Impellittiere, isn't ready to become a heavyweight title contender yet.

The big moment of the battle, which otherwise was mostly a demonstration of Loughran's well-known boxing skill, came in the sixth round. A right uppercut caught his mouth and cut it badly. Referee Pete Hartley wasted no time about halting the proceedings. After one look at the stream of blood pouring down Loughran's chest he raised Impellitiere's hand in token of victory.

At this point General John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, took a hand. Fighting his way through the howling crowd of 6,000 to the ringside, he ordered the fight continued.

No one at the ringside could recall a similar situation in which a commissioner had over-ruled a referee. Tommy was patched up between rounds and promptly lit into his oversize opponent and never stopped punching until the fight ended.

Loughran weighed 185 3-4 pounds, Impellittiere 255 1-2.

THIS TEAM BOASTS OF A BROKEN-NOSE BACKFIELD

No, Nostalgia, these four young men do not belong to a secret order that requires those masks. They comprise the star backfield quartet of George Washington University, and each of them had suffered a shattered proboscis shortly before the picture was taken. They are, from left, Finis Parrish, Don Bombe, Edward McCarver and Chris Doose. The Generals were quite a sensation until they bumped into Tennessee Nov. 4 for their first defeat.

MAJORITY OF COLLEGE GRID PLAYERS SAYS PRESENT FOOTBALL RULES GIVE TOO MUCH ADVANTAGE TO THE DEFENSE

(This is the second of a series of three stories on the reaction of college football players to current discussion over rules.)

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Although there are equally as sharp differences among the players as exist among the coaches, a substantial majority of college football stars polled by the Associated Press is convinced the present gridiron rules give the defense too much advantage.

The tabulation of country-wide opinion today reveals that 37 players out of a total of 65 think the defense has a more or less decided "edge." Of the others 18 believe the game is now evenly divided as to opportunities for both sides while the remaining 10 consider the advantage rests with the offense.

Change Favors Offense

The majority opinion is somewhat striking inasmuch as the only important change in the rules for 1933, designed to eliminate the out-of-bounds play along the sidelines, favors the offense. However, it apparently reflects the general reaction to this year's unusually low scoring among major teams as well as a conviction among the players that the offense is severely handicapped by the rule which automatically stops the ball-carrier if any part of his body except his hands or feet touches the ground.

Specific reasons cited otherwise for the defensive advantage include these:

George Canrinus, end, St. Mary's—"Officials are too vigorous in enforcing rules on offense and too lax in enforcing on defense. They are too strict on the one second stop on shift plays."

Al Dowd, captain and center, Santa Clara—"Seems unjust that a big 230 pound defensive tackle should be allowed to use his hands on a 170 pound end on offense."

Lee Carlin, captain, George Washington—"Due to rules and dead ball and those applying to passes, defense has slight advantage."

Sam Davis, captain, Florida—"Blocking and clipping rule also has slowed up offensive."

"Sound Plays Work"

Frequently expressed in the replies is the belief that the team with a smart quarterback and well-coached offense is under no handicap, so far as the rules are concerned. Irvine (Cotton) Warburton, Southern California field general, asks: "When the quarterback calls 'em right and the rest of the boys click, most sound plays work. That's the idea, isn't it, to outguess the defense?"

Others, in the minority, who see the offense through rose colored glasses include Sid Gillman, Ohio State co-captain and end; Art Buss, Michigan State tackle; Don Merriman, Colorado Teachers fullback; Joe Laws, Iowa quarterback; George Henry Sauer, Nebraska fullback; and Frank Tisdale, Syracuse captain.

Numbered among the majority who want something done to break up the defensive stonewalls are the following college captains: Cliff Montgomery, Columbia; Bill Pendergast, Manhattan; Fred Callahan, Georgetown; Colin Stewart, Carnegie; Arnold Arenz, St. Louis; Bill Smith, Texas; George Parke, Montana State; and Joe Gallus, Ohio State.

As to sundry suggestions offered, Joe Skladany, Pittsburgh end, thinks the offense could put more burden on the defense by using more lateal passes, which are encouraged under the present rules. So far as Larry Siemering, star center and captain of San Francisco university, is concerned, "the hardest charging team usually has the edge both on offense and defense."

PICADORS SET FOR BATTLE

MEET FRESHMEN FROM NEW MEXICO U. HERE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Coach Dell Morgan's Texas Tech Picadors, longing for a battle, will occupy the local football spotlight this week end when they tangle with the University of New Mexico freshmen here Friday afternoon at Matador Field.

Tomorrow marks the final game of the season for the Tech frosh, who are just about the cockiest and most confident bunch of collegiate footballers ever to enroll at the local institution.

Coached by Tom Churchill, the Sunshine State Slimes are a colorful and fighting outfit with a cosmopolitan squad list. Chavez will be in there at center for New Mexico opposite Freshman Wiggington. Fernandez is the hard-driving fullback for the invading outfit. Several more of the squad-members are of Latin antecedents.

Reserves To Amarillo

Likewise getting ready for a weekend tilt, some 16 members of the Tech varsity reserves were working hard yesterday against their game with Amarillo Junior College's Badgers Saturday at Amarillo.

Most of the boys that Coach Morgan will take to Amarillo are sophomores, who as Freshmen, last year won a 7-6 victory over the Badgers after a bitterly contested grudge battle. Mack Scoggin, Burt Williams, and Bob Crawford, reserve varsity men, will be facing some of their former Amarillo high opponents in the Badger line-up—Howes, Lee, and Foster for instance.

Use New Kickoff

In yesterday's workout the Picadors experimented with a new kickoff formation. Extensive dummy scrimmage, with one group working New Mexico plays while another bunch looked on, also occupied the evening's session.

Jim Neill and Walter Goodenough, back in uniform after recovering from injuries, relics of the game with Panhandle Aggies, were cheering notes for Picador prospects this week.

SKEET CLUB HERE WILL BE HOST AT A TURKEY SHOOT

The Lubbock Skeet club will be host to visiting shooters here Sunday afternoon in a turkey shoot.

H. I. Stock, of the South Plains Hardware and Supply company here, originator of the local skeet club, has invited shooters from Amarillo, Floydada and Littlefield to compete with local sportsmen in the turkey shoot, to be held at the skeet traps north of Lubbock Country club.

All members of the Lubbock Skeet club are urged to be on hand. There are about 25 members.

Some of Amarillo's leading marksmen, among them, J. O. Holland, D. L. McDonald, Dee Caldwell, Johnson, Polley and Devers, have been invited to attend and have signified their intention of being here. Mr. Joe Dudley of Floydada and other shooters of that section, and Duck Johnson and his trap shooting friends of Littlefield are to be here.

The shoot will be conducted so that nearly every shooter can win. Inexperienced shooters will be given as much opportunity as the veterans, since two "classes" will be organized. "It will be so arranged that even the 'fifty per cent' shooter has a good chance to win a turkey," Mr. Stock said.

First grade turkeys will be delivered to the winners at the close of the shoot.

HEINZ THROWS DICK KANTHE

JACK VAN BEBBER OF TECH STAYS LIMIT WITH THE SAILOR

So anxious for victory was Dick Kanthe, the strong man stunter from Detroit, to win his first wrestling match here last night that he sought to continue the fracas after Red "Sunshine" Heinz of Lubbock had taken the third and decisive fall and the final bell had rung. The referee had to separate them when Kanthe lunged at Heinz with swinging fists after assuming a vertical position following the last fall.

Heinz, after losing the first fall, came back to hold his undefeated Lubbock record by pinning the giant Kanthe with a terrific "Indian stake hold," or "Indian death lock" to win the second fall in 11 minutes. When he finally maneuvered into the punishing "stake hold," Heinz reared back and clamped down, standing on his feet with his legs so entwined in his opponents appendages that they had to get help from the referee before they could untangle. Kanthe's shoulders were on the floor. They couldn't have been anywhere else, and there was no breaking the hold.

The Old Crab Hold

They came back with a bang for the final fall, exchanging toe-holds, hammer locks and scissors in a flying match. Once Heinz fixed a good leg lock, but they were in the ropes and he had to start all over. He charged the towering Kanthe twice, knocking him flat with a smashing shoulder block, then got a toe-hold which he soon turned into a double toe-hold, or Japanese crab, Kanthe finally patting the mat in defeat after 9 minutes.

The better man as far as physique, strength and power go, Kanthe was outdone by a cleverer wrestler, one who knew his ropes and holds. He lived up to his title as "strongest man of his weight in the country," but Heinz' smarter fighting stood him in good stead.

A Full Nelson

Bending Heinz almost at will and threshing him all over the ring when the "Sunshine Kid" left a careless opening, Kanthe had the better of the match at the outset. He applied vigorous leg splits and head-locks, but it was a full Nelson that brought Heinz down. The big, stout man fixed the Nelson standing up, bore Heinz to the mat and stood him on his shoulders to win the first fall after 20 minutes of active fighting.

In an exciting 30-minute special event, Jack Van Bebber, Texas Tech mat coach, Olympic and national amateur collegiate king, stayed with Sailor Moran, the tough guy from the Arkansas hills, former welterweight champion of the U. S. navy, all the way, and tossing the Sailor around like a child.

Mixes With Referee

As points go, it was Van Bebber's match, although he never pinned his opponent. He carried the fight all the way, and the Sailor had little time to "show off" or do any extra tricks. Once he came to blows with Referee Bo Sexton, but a short hay-maker to the jaw convinced Moran that Sexton was not to be agitated. He got the big boo from a crowd with some of his unorthodox and possibly "dirty" tricks, but he had to call on all his resources to stay the limit with the more powerful and heavier Van Bebber.

Several times it looked impossible for Moran to come out, but, being used to rough and tough and punishing wrestling, he always managed to wiggle free. Van Bebber could not worry him with toe holds and splits. Jack tried flying tackles and mixed in three "flying Dutchman" efforts, but the wiry and limber Sailor stood them all. Once a vertical split gave Moran some anxious moments, but he managed to crawl through the ropes before giving up. Again Jack got a good split, standing up, with one of Moran's legs pointing toward the southwest ringpost and the other indicating the north star, but he managed to break loose. Even when Jack fixed what might easily have turned into a Japanese crab, the little Sailor who has bowed to nobody in a Texas ring, threshed out.

In a fifteen-minute preliminary, Claud Swindell of Lincoln, Neb., and Art Belcher of Amarillo fought to a draw, neither getting a fall in a rather listless and easy-going match.

CADETS TRAIN FOR CONTEST WITH NAVY

ENTHUSIASM SEEN AS SERVICE ELEVENS WORK FOR GAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. (AP)—While there may be bigger crowds at other games Saturday, there's no lack of enthusiasm in either camp as preparations for the Army-Navy football battle at Philadelphia Saturday go on.

At practice sessions every Cadet or Midshipman who wasn't busy on the field has been present to cheer the players on. West Point broke out yesterday with an array of banners, painted sheets and so forth exhorting the Cadets to "beat Navy."

Light Drill Today

Today Army was scheduled for a light drill before leaving for the Pine Valley Golf club, near Philadelphia, where the team will remain until Saturday.

Navy, hopeful after its great showing against Princeton last week, pinned most of its hopes on the kicking of Bill Clark. The Midshipmen stressed defensive work in yesterday's scrimmage against the "B" squad but it appeared that Clark would have to get more than an even break in the booting duel with Jack Buckler if Navy was to go far.

Work On Offensive

Offensive power and tactics were the chief concern of Harvard and Yale in their preparations for their 52nd clash. Yale, drilling behind locked gates in contrast to the turnouts at West Point and Annapolis, worked on some new spread formations together with a drill on defense Crimson passes.

Irish Get Rest

Coach Hunk Anderson is about convinced that what Notre Dame needed all season to provide a scoring punch was rest.

The week prior to the Northwestern game, the Ramblers didn't engage in one scrimmage because of a consistent downfall of snow and they responded by flashing impressive power to defeat the Wildcats. So far this week, during the preparation for Southern California's invasion, they have had only one scrimmage and that's all they are going to have.

"It looks like the Trojans are too strong for us," said Hunk, "but we're going to be ready to give them the best battle we can. All the boys are in fine shape, rested and crazy to play that ball game."

Ticket sales soared around the 40,000 mark today and a host of political and film notables wired for reservations.

Matadors Start Workouts Again

TECH VARSITY TRAINS FOR CONTEST WITH KANSAS WILDCATS

A rip-snorting bunch of Matadors, representing the football interests of Texas Tech, took to the field yesterday for their first workout in nearly a week, and it looked like the beginning of a new season rather than preparations for the final contest of the year.

Appreciative of and grateful for the rest since beating Baylor last Friday, Coach Cawthon's men were in fine fettle as they prepared to get down to the serious business of perfecting an offense and defense to cope with the stout Kansas State Wildcats of the Big Six conference.

Lost One Game

Second only to Nebraska in the Big Six, the Kansas State team, or the Kansas Aggies, will bear down on Lubbock next week to help provide the fun and fireworks for Lubbock's Thanksgiving Day feature at Matador Field. Runners up in their conference, the Wildcats have lost only one game, that to the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers, this season. A 62-yard run brought about Nebraska's touchdown victory. Over other opponents in the conference and in other conferences, the Aggies have wielded the upper hand, successfully and conclusively. A scoreless tie with Michigan State was a victory for the Kansans in everything but touchdowns.

Coached by the famous A. N. "Bo" McMillin, selected two years hand running by Walter Camp for All-America honors, the Aggies will show a defense here, peculiar and unorthodox, but startling in its smoothness and ground gaining ability, and a defense against which only one touchdown has been registered since the regular season got into full swing.

"Hold That Ball"

Doped to beat the Matadors, Texas Tech's gridders hope to hold the ball long enough to have its fling at the goal line. "But holding that ball is going to be our problem," quoting Coach Cawthon and Line Coach Smith, who scouted the Aggies last week when they defeated the University of Oklahoma, 14 to 0.

Although a fine spirit prevails in the Matador camp, it was learned yesterday that not all was serene as physical advantages go. Raymond "Whacker" Barton, regular center, may not get into the game. An X-ray revealed that the small bone in his left leg had been cleanly broken in the Simmons game. Whacker didn't know it until yesterday.

"Something snapped, all right," the carrot-topped pivoter grinned, "but I didn't think the leg was broken."

He refused hospital treatment last week, and hung around the practice field all week, although not called upon for duty in practice nor in the Baylor game. Barton, who never knows when he's out, was insistent on working out yesterday, busted appendage and all.

Tickets for the game already are selling fast, according to reports from the J. & J. Sporting goods agency. Fans are calling in to reserve tickets, or are buying them now. The middle section of the grandstand practically is sold out this far in advance.

The largest crowd of the season is expected to be on hand for this, the final and climatic game for 1933 in Lubbock.

"Gabby" Street will be the San Francisco Mission baseball club's ninth manager since the club was formed in 1926.

CONTROL UNIT IS PROPOSED

NEW FEDERAL LIQUOR ADMINISTRATION IS RECOMMENDED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. (AP)—Creation of a federal alcohol control administration to supervise the distilling industry until congress enacts legislation looking to a permanent post-repeal policy was proposed by President Roosevelt's special interdepartmental alcohol committee.

In a code submitted to the farm administration as a substitute for the distillers' draft on which hearings are to be held Friday, the committee also recommended control of production and prices to prevent either a surplus of liquor or high retail costs to consumers that would encourage bootlegging.

Monopoly Abandoned

High officials agreed that the substitute code indicated the government had abandoned, at least temporarily, a projected federal monopoly of liquor distribution to insure reasonable prices. The substitute emphasizes protection to dry states.

The interdepartmental committee also is preparing a bill to submit to congress in January on liquor control. It is to follow the administration's recommendation on federal liquor taxes, $1.10 a gallon.

A representative of the distillers estimated that between 48,000,000 to 100,000,000 quarts of whisky could be sold at about $1.50 a quart retail, including state taxes. However, from other quarters it was reported that liquor prices were being quoted as high as $4 a quart for post repeal delivery in the 19 wet states.

LOVING, TEXAS NEWEST COUNTY, HAS NO CRIME, INDEBTEDNESS, CEMETERY

MENTONE, (Loving county), Nov. 23 (AP)—A county without crime, without bonded indebtedness and without a cemetery—that's Loving county, organized two years ago as the newest in Texas.

Born in the depression, the infant has not fed itself on the rich bottle of credit, even though oil fields are located on the edge of the county seat to furnish potential credit for bond issues.

Cash For Courthouse

The county built its sheet-iron courthouse, 20 by 40, for about $3,000 cash. Its school district owes about $3,000 on its cream stucco school building.

Only one death has occurred in the county since it was organized—a cowboy named Shady Davis who had fallen off a horse in New Mexico died here.

There is not a resident minister and only one lawyer in the county. There have been 39 law suits filed but no grand jury indictments have been returned since the county began functioning. There are 250 registered voters.

Mentone, the county seat, was founded three years ago by Jim Wheat who bought a 7,000-acre flat tract of land and drilled for oil where geologists said none possibly could exist. Wheat got the oil.

Old Town Moved

When Mentone was founded, the town of old Portersville, three miles down the Pecos river, was moved here bodily. Once a prosperous, irrigated district, there today is not a farm in the county. Farms are expected to be established, however, as the waters of the Pecos are made available for irrigation by the building of the Red Bluff dam, about 30 miles away. Six hundred of the county's scant population live in town. The remainder on large cattle ranches.

Mentone has two hotels, a lumber yard, two drug stores, four grocery stores, and four cafes but no dry goods store. A large part of the land in the county is owned by non-residents. There is a large area of university land and some unsold school land in the county.

Golf Course Built

Mentone has a golf course which was built before the courthouse. The department of commerce maintains an airport. There are three miles of paved highway, but no railroad. The town has no power plant.

One of the best roads in the county is the old Butterfield Trail, laid out 100 years ago, which crosses the Pecos river 15 miles from Mentone.

Thirty-five miles down the river are the crumbling adobe houses that mark the site of old Fort Pope where a band of Indians massacred a company of soldiers. Treasure hunters still look for the money said to have been buried by the paymaster before the Indian raid. History says little of Fort Pope but its story is kept alive by legends told around chuckwagons after suppertime.

There is some excellent grazing land in the county which leases for as much as 5 cents an acre although some is leased as low as 1 cent an acre.

Life is leisurely in this flat, sandy country studded with mesquite and cacti. It is a big country and there are few to use it. In fact life is so leisurely that a letter mailed to T. C. Rutledge from Barstow, 30 miles away, reached him recently after being en route for one year and four days.

It has been estimated that the total world divisions of forest areas amount to nearly 8,000,000,000 acres; the total forest area of North America is almost 1,500,00,000.

Rail Fares To Be Cut December 1st

Effective Dec. 1, railway fares between all points on all railroads west of the Mississippi river will be reduced.

The new basis will be in effect daily, according to R. E. Stroup of the Fort Worth & Denver City railway. The new rates are as follows: Two cents per mile for one-way tickets in coaches and chair cars; three cents per mile good in all classes of equipment; two cents per mile each way for round-trip short-limit tickets, good in all classes of equipment, and two and a half cents per mile each way for round-trip long-limit tickets good in all classes of equipment.

The new economies include elimination of sur-charge from Pullman fares, it was said.

Legion Post Will Hold Meet Tonight

Members of Allen Brothers post, No. 148, of the American Legion will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Legion home.

The organization yesterday reported that each of four membership groups assigned a quota of 50 each by Dec. 1 and 75 members each by Christmas already were nearing the 75-mark.

A special program has been arranged for tonight's meeting it was said. Doughnuts, coffee, and "smokes" will be served to ex-service men attending.

Thought For Today

Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is any merry? Let him sing psalms.—James, 5:13.

* * *

Be sober and temperate, and you will be healthy.—Benjamin Franklin.

Mussolini's Plan

Whatever else may be said about Mussolini's scheme for the government of Italy, it is at least one of the most interesting departures from orthodox political practice ever attempted.

To understand fully what it means, it is instructive to make an imaginative transfer of the whole business to the United States. Pretend that Franklin Roosevelt is Mussolini, and that the Fascist scheme replaces the present set-up over here. What happens?

Congress, to begin with, is permitted to die of malnutrition. It is suffered to exist for a few years longer as a sort of vermiform appendix, but its functions are gone.

In its place rises a Council of Corporations. Here we have representatives from the great industries. One group represents the steel trust, another the oil trust, another the tobacco trust, another agriculture, and so on, down the line.

It is a nice question whether you could say that these industries are under government control or that they control government.

At any rate, we go on down the line and find all our existing labor unions put on the scrap heap, to be replaced by huge vertical organizations, or guilds. All the workers in the steel industry are grouped in one body, all the automobile workers in another, and so on. And these unions are not like any labor unions we previously have known. They cannot call strikes. They are not independent.

And in politics? There is only one party — the Democrats. It is a rubber stamp for the president and his advisers. Its members never dissent from the policies of the inner circle. They are disciplined perfectly. Republicans, if they open their mouths, are sent to the new prison on Alcatraz Island. Newspaper editors submit their editorials to Jim Farley for correction. Herbert Hoover and Norman Thomas migrate to Canada. William Z. Foster is shot.

It would be pretty hard to think of a more topsy-turvy arrangement. By imagining what life in such a castiron straitjacket would be like, we can get a new conception of the supreme importance of bringing our democratic institutions through the present trying times intact.

WELL, folks, The Plainsman has been playing hookey the last few days as you probably suspected if you turned to this column on Monday, Tuesday or yesterday.

Your humble servant has been down in Central Texas associating with the Associated Press. Hence the absence of the daily dozen.

For an Associated Press editor, associating with the Associated Press is a very necessary thing, at least once a year.

After all, how can one be associated with Associated Press, without occasionally associating with it?

You can answer that one at your leisure.

THE meeting The Plainsman attended was held at Temple, that beautiful, conservative little city from which many of our citizens have come. And it's an hospitable city, too.

Temple, scene of a banking moratorium debacle, is slowly but surely beating back and the folks down there believe that happy days, while not here again, are on the way.

That country down there, as is true with the section around Dallas, where The Plainsman also sojourned briefly with the Missus' kinfolks, is not in as good shape as this one, however, and we may be thankful for that fact.

Incidentally, it was hot as the hinges of hades in Central Texas — fully as hot as it is here in June.

And when The Plainsman got off'n the train out on the Plains again—stepping into one of our bracing breezes brimful of zest —it was a gra-and and glorious feeling.

Yowzah!

CAN anyone give a job to a young man endeavoring to finish his high school education here at midterm?

Lovell Haynie, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Haynie, is in a switch and if he can't get a job his schooling is going phooey.

* * *

Lovell's parents, after living here for a number of years, have moved out near Morton where he says public education ends with the conclusion of the 9th grade.

And since graduation is so near, the lad wishes to go right ahead and finish up.

He's ready and willing to do any kind of work and isn't afraid to tackle any kind of a task offered.

Anyone interested in him may call phone number 2139 or drop by where Lovell is living, 2503 23rd street.

NOTE to Lubbock theater men: The Plainsman saw the new Marx Brothers squawkie, 'Duck Soup,' Tuesday and it's a riot. Better sign it up pdq. It's good for B. O. (box office to you!)

The picture is full of wise cracks and one of them strikes pretty close to home.

A prime minister is speaking to his cabinet while an enraged populace hammers at the palace gates.

"Gentlemen," he roars, "we have only one thing to do. We must reduce taxes!"

"Taxes? Taxes?", asks the Italian-speaking Chico Marx. "Me, I know about Taxes. I gotta uncle who live in Taxes."

"Not Texas, taxes," screams the prime minister. "Finance, money dollars!"

"Sure, that's all-a right", rejoins Chico. "That's where my uncle he lives—Dollars, Taxes!"

That Man on Avenue Q says it is especially difficult to control a temper that faces an unarmed man 40 pounds lighter.

After reading reports on Lubbock prosperity as given NRA by A. B. Davis, all The Plainsman has to say is that 'A.' in A. B. must stand for Ananias!

(P. S.—In case of threat of libel action we will print an apology and complete retraction, but that ain't gonna change our private opinion any!)

SPEAKING of prosperity in these parts, here's an item that was lugged in by J. Sam'l Lewis, The Journal's rotund, roving reporter.

Mr. Lewis at the michael:

"Wesley Read, the insurance man, reports an unusual incident in connection with the sale of some land in the Acuff community for a cash price of $35 per acre. The land was sold for a company Wesley represents and he spent some time in disposing of the property.

"'Four months ago', he remarked, 'I put this tract on sale with a price of $20 an acre. Nobody seemed to be interested in it. I had no inquiries and it looked like the farm would be a white elephant. Along came this land boom a few weeks ago. I increased the price to $40 an acre and immediately there were a number of inquiries. I finally got an offer of $35 an acre, cash on the barrelhead and I took it up with the company and sold it. The land did not have very much in the way of improvements'.

"Wesley says he has sold 10 or 12 tracts of land in the past six or seven weeks and that there is a greater demand for good farm land as investment property than for several years."

The Hunters Are Getting Into Action Again

Voice Of The Late Senator Tom Walsh Barks At Senate Committee Probing Overton's Election In Long's State

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
The Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. — The voice of the late Senator Tom Walsh of Montana is barking at the special Senate committee investigating the Overton election in Huey Long's state.

It makes the committee look more like a bunch of sick cats than any other that ever spent a taxpayer's nickel.

Dutcher

Young John Holland, the chief investigator, who denounced the Connally committee at New Orleans for its seeming obeisance to Huey, was Walsh's protege. Trusted confidante of that great inquisitor, he learned how Senate investigations were run when prosecuted honestly and relentlessly. Walsh never was afraid of anyone.

Holland dug up the facts for Walsh in the Teapot Dome scandal and watched the old bulldog hound Fall, Sinclair and Doheny to obloquy. Walsh called him in again for the sensational lobby investigations. Walsh had given Holland his first job in the senator's own office here.

So you can imagine how Holland felt when he found senators bottling up his evidence in the election case of Huey Long's other senator, John Overton. There was too much of Tom Walsh's spirit and integrity in Holland to allow him to keep on taking it.

He blew up with an amazingly loud bang—called Chairman Connally "yellow" and charged the committee with "covering up for the rat from Louisiana."

His friends here were astonished. But they knew how he felt. They imagined Tom Walsh would have been proud of him.

Can't Laugh This Off

Holland has prestige and many friends here. The Connally committee can't laugh him off. The Louisiana "investigation" had been considered more or less of a joke. Everyone knew Huey was being handled with gloves.

Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, leader of the Louisiana women's crusade against Long, made a monkey out of the committee in her recent exchange of telegrams with Connally.

Replying to a demand for a "real" investigation, Connally pompously indicated that the lady was spared contempt proceedings only because of her ignorance.

Even Huey's friends admit that Hilda Hammond thereupon skinned him alive . . . The enraged, contemptuous blast of its own investigator only made the committee's position more absurd than ever.

Foot Speaks Loudest

After reading about the New Orleans explosion, I went to hear Harry F. Sinclair tell Ferdinand Pecora about his huge stock market operations. He was the same old hard-boiled, hard-faced Harry who first figured in the Teapot Dome scandal 10 years ago and who once went to jail here.

He wore a tired attitude and his voice, breaking through the very long, straight, tight line of his lips, indicated boredom tinged with exasperation.

But what interested you most, if you could see it, was Sinclair's right foot. Beneath the table it was in a constant state of extreme agitation.

The whole leg, in fact, shook as if palsied, in contrast with the calm exterior of Sinclair above the committee table.

Al Told The Truth

Al Smith wasn't covering up anything when he said politics wasn't mentioned during his White House calls. The origin of earlier reports that he was coming to discuss the New York situation is just one of those mysterious things.

Roosevelt definitely didn't want to talk politics with Al. As if by careful stage management, in came Mrs. Roosevelt and the grandchildren, Sistie and Buzzie Dall. The conversation stayed on grandchildren.

Al wouldn't have talked politics, anyway. He had kept out of the New York mayoralty fight because he thought O'Brien was a dud, McKee a stuffed shirt, and LaGuardia a radical.

He had told other Catholic University trustees that he wouldn't attend their meeting here because his failure to call at the White House would be interpreted as his snub to Roosevelt or Roosevelt's to him. So C. U. fixed up the visit with the White House.

READER EXPLAINS "RIOT" AT TEXAS TECH

Dear Plainsman: I wish to protest against your unfairness toward Tech. I suppose your attitude comes from the fact that they have no fraternities out there and did you know that if the Republicans had nominated Calvin Coolidge and the Democrats Newton Baker and the Socialists yourself, what would the Fee Gees have done? My dear, can you imagine?

For a case in point, take the uprising of Saturday morning at Tech. My son John told me a very different story from the one your paper printed. And it is one that shows much more clearly the true benefits of an American college education. The Tech students, endowed with that conservatism peculiar to the strong and silent men of the West, were moved into active protest when they read of the President's action toward the recognition of Soviet Russia. But is was mere passive resistance and no violence was attempted. Handbills were distributed calling upon the students to "stand by for Mother, Home, and Country, Farm and Fireside". One of the student speakers had by his fervent oratory moved the assembled mob to fever pitch by his tales of "that vicious practice that nadir of immorality, nationalization of womankind. Suppose it were your mother, your sister, your wife?" he continued, with the unanswerable logic of southern statesmanship.

At this critical moment in American history, just as the students were preparing to march on Washington and lynch Roosevelt for this insult to southern womanhood, the school authorities intervened. In a few straightforward sentences the students were shown that the best way to fight the Bolshevist menace was by study and hard work, by the cultivation of the mind. Appealed to on such grounds, the little ones trooped merrily back to class, thirsting for knowledge. And all morning one could hear the merry lilt of the co-ed maids leaping and bounding down the corridors, their youthful voices raised in the happy strains of "Lips That Touch Vodka Will Never Touch Mine." I wish you could have been there; I wish you could have been there and your reporter also. Where did you get that stuff about the student body aroused over a football game?

With best wishes,
Gerald Shat,

Ixnay, Says Judge

PHILADELPHIA—Childhood's mystic language, "pig Latin," had Judge Theodore Rosen stumped but an interpreter saved the day. Mrs. Agnes Devlin, suing her husband for support, presented a letter in the cryptic code which she said was written by another woman. It was signed "Ovela Omefra ourya onkeyma." The judge had to have help to learn this means "love from your monkey."

Bang Bang Bang

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich.—Irving Ledger, 21, has learned that the well dressed man wears red during the deer hunting season.

Attired in a dark blue coat, Ledger was stalking game in the woods when a rifle cracked on a hillside some distance away. One bullet passed through his sleeve, tearing his underwear, and the other whistled past his head.

Apparently, Ledger said, someone thought he was a bear.

Cooks Preferred

MADISON, Wis.—Most University of Wisconsin students prefer a good cook to a prom queen for a life companion, a survey by the student newspaper recently disclosed. There was one youth however, whose ideal was "one who would be willing to sit up six nights of the week and hope I'll come around the seventh."

Disloyal Snake

CHICAGO—After entertaining thousands of Century of Progress visitors with poisonous snakes, Hadj Mohamed, 93, returned to his native Tunis, Africa, only to be fatally bitten by one of the reptiles.

Word of his death was received by Joseph Guez, who said Mohamed failed to give his snakes time to recover their calm after the sea voyage.

WIFE CHARGED IN DEATH OF SPOUSE

PAULSBORO, N. J., Nov. 23 (AP)—A warrant charging murder in the shooting of her husband, Sheldon A. Clark, oil company executive and sportsman, has been served on Mrs. Audrey Smith Clark, 25-year-old former actress and mother of two small sons, in a Woodbury hospital.

Suffering from a deep cut on her head which investigators said was inflicted by a billiard cue wielded by her husband in a quarrel before the shooting at their Paulsboro mansion Monday night, Mrs. Clark became hysterical as the warrant was read to her.

Police said she threatened to take her life "the first chance I get," leading them to place extra guards at her bedside.

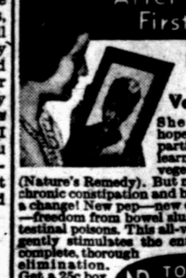

Sobbing her love for her husband, Mrs. Clark maintained ignorance of the actual shooting.

Private Groups To Police Industries

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson in a public statement on the subject of obtaining compliance with codes of fair competition indicated the NRA intended a quick transfer of policing of industries to its own private organization.

The NRA chief warned that until industry's code authorities are able to handle their own compliance work the regional structure set up by NRA will continue to handle complaints and probably will be materially enlarged from its present structure of 26 regional compliance directors.

RAIL WORKERS CALL STRIKE

ABOUT 3,000 PLAN TO WALK OUT SATURDAY IN TWO STATES

HOUSTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Approximately 3,000 Southern Pacific engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and enginmen in Texas and Louisiana laid plans today to walk away from their jobs at noon Saturday.

The time for the start of the strike was set by officials of the "big four" railway labor brotherhoods after they had counted ballots disclosing that an overwhelming majority of their Southern Pacific members in the two states favored the walkout.

Climaxes Long Fuss

The strike decision climaxed a long controversy between the road management and its employes. There were 108 points at issue. Fred W. Lewis, spokesman for the brotherhoods, said the laborers were willing to submit all of them to arbitration but that the railroad had agreed to "arbitrate only on the issues of its selection."

Lewis charged that recent actions of the railroad had increased the hours of work of members of some of the crews, had forced them to take long "lay overs" at their expense and would make it possible for the company to operate with fewer employes.

Among the principal points involved were the railroad's discontinuance of Echo, Tex., as a terminal for through freight crews, its elimination of Rockland, Tex., as a local freight crew terminal, elimination of a local crew to operate between Houston and Beaumont or between Houston and Echo and request for elimination of a mixed train crew between Beaumont and Port Arthur and Houston and Beaumont with thirty days notice.

"Position Unchanged"

After being notified by newspapermen that the strike had been called, W. B. McDonald, general manager of the Southern Pacific, said that the position of the company "remains unchanged." He added that several hundred applications had been received from men who wanted to replace the strikers. While the strike poll was being taken, the company advertised for employes willing to work under strike conditions.

McDonald repeated that some of the problems were "managerial" and that "we as officials of the railroad do not feel that we can delegate them to someone else." "It would not be fair to our owners or to the public and we do not think they are arbitral questions," he said.

Lewis announced after the votes had been counted that 97 1-2 per cent of the brotherhood members among the Southern Pacific employes from New Orleans to El Paso favored the strike.

"Forced To Action"

"On account of the intolerable conditions, the employes have been forced to take this action," he asserted. "This is not the first time the employes have had to take such drastic steps to right a condition on the Southern Pacific."

Lewis said the brotherhood members "understood" the sacrifices and hardships which a long strike would entail and were hopeful that it would be of short duration. He emphasized however that they were prepared to "carry on" if necessary to obtain a satisfactory settlement.

President Roosevelt still can prevent the strike by appointing a board of citizens to hear both sides in open meetings, brotherhood officials said. During the hearing, and for 30 days thereafter, the president can order employes and employers to refrain from taking action. After he receives the board's report he can "suggest" that the differences be settled according to his recommendations, they stated.

CLYDE BARROW

marker leaped out and ordered the Fort Worth men to leave their car quick.

"I guess we were a little too slow to suit them," James said afterward. "The man fired into the window of the police and he and the girl both gave a cussing."

Barrow's two shots sent fragments of glass flying into the faces of James and Reich, cutting them.

Bullets Answer Offer

Another motorist drove up alongside the Reich car to offer assistance and Barrow cut loose with two shots, the bullets tearing up the ground near the man's feet and driving him back into his car. The man hurried from the scene.

Barrow and the woman climbed in the Fort Worth men's car and headed off in the direction of Dallas. Several other cars that came by as the fugitives were leaving were fired on.

Early last night Sheriff R. A. Thmid of Dallas county and three deputies laid in wait for Barrow on the new highway near Grand Prairie, known midway between Fort Worth and Dallas. The officers had information that Barrow, who is wanted for various killings and robberies, was in the vicinity.

Recognized As Desperado

A car approached and Sheriff Thmid recognized as its occupants the Dallas desperado and Bonnie Parker, the woman who has been with him for months while he has been dodging about the country in an effort to evade capture. Barrow and the woman are said to be married.

The officers opened fire with their machine gun on the Barrow car, which was traveling about 25 miles an hour. Barrow fired at the officers and speeded up. The officers had parked their own car a distance away from where they tried to trap Barrow and when the machine gun fire failed to halt him, all they could do was run to a telephone and notify other officers in Dallas of the encounter.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23. (AP)—Cotton started somewhat easier today, although Liverpool was a shade better than due. Sterling was slightly down and there was no change in the price of gold.

First trades showed losses of 4 to 5 points with December at 9.91 and March at 10.19. The market eased further after the start largely due to continued December liquidation in advance of tomorrow's notice day, and there was also some hedge-selling. December declined to 9.87 and March to 10.14, or nine points under the previous close.

At the end of the first half hour of trading the market was steady but at the lows.

The market ruled rather more active then of late during the morning with considerable liquidation of the December position in evidence. Prices were also influenced towards lower levels by a decline in sterling and easier stocks and wheat. December dropped to 9.84 and March to 10.10, or 12 to 13 points under yesterday's close.

Near noon the market was a shade steadier, recovering one to two points from the lows.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady, 1 to 4 lower under active December liquidation which offset higher Liverpool cables. Dec. 9.95; Jan. 10.03; March 10.21; May 10.34; July 10.47; Oct. 10.66.

Business was moderately active at the start. Buying on the relatively steady showing of Liverpool and reports of an increased demand for cotton goods in the primary market here yesterday was supplied by further December liquidation and scattered selling promoted by the firmer ruling of the dollar and the early action of the stock market.

Offering increased slightly after the call with December selling off to 9.90 and May to 10.29, or about 7 to 8 points net lower.

Offerings increased later in the morning. Scattering liquidation was accompanied by talk of a desire to even up long accounts pending further developments in the monetary situation. December liquidation continued in considerable volume, and the market sagged to 9.86 for December and 10.25 for May or about 11 to 12 points net lower. Trade buying was sufficient to steady prices on the decline, however, and the noon market showed rallies of 3 or 4 points from the lowest.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 23. (AP)—Material new downturns of grain values took place early today. Monetary developments overnight were construed as bearish, and so too were reports of wheat moving from western and northwestern markets to Chicago.

Opening 1-4 to 1 3-8 cent lower, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started at 1-4 to 7-8 decline and later underwent additional setbacks.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. (AP)—Stocks caught between the forces battling on the monetary question, backed and filled in narrow area today, apparently undecided whether to advance or retreat.

There was no stimulus from the domestic gold price, which was again unchanged at $33.76 an ounce. The dollar also rallied about 10 cents against sterling and .12 1-4 of a cent in relation to the French franc. Grains generally pointed downward and other commodities were somewhat uneasy. The bright spot on the picture was a rally in U. S. government bonds. Trading in equities was almost at a standstill, with fractional declines predominating.

Shares of Mack Truck got up more than 2 points in the early afternoon and Bethlehem Steel and Consolidated Gas were firm. On the other hand issues of U. S. Smelting, American Smelting, McIntyre Porcupine, Cerro De Pasco, National Distillers, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Schenley, Union Pacific, Allied Chemical and American Commercial Alcohol were off 1 to 2. American Telephone, U. S. Steel, N. Y. Central, American Can, Westinghouse, Chrysler and other leaders were only slightly lower.

Slayer Of Girl Is Victim Of Own Gun

SHERMAN, Nov. 23 (AP)—Beale Turney, 35, who shot himself through the head after he had shot and killed Miss Anne Ables, 25, at Madill, Okla., Tuesday night, died in a hospital here last night.

Miss Ables was shot as she made candy for her Sunday school class in the kitchen of her mother's home. The young woman's grandmother, the only witness to the shooting, said Turney threw open the back door, seized the young woman by one wrist and shot her in the head four times.

Students Urged To Stay Off Streets

Prompted by 8-year-old Robert Eugene Adams' death beneath a truck, The Toreador, student newspaper at Texas Technological college, in an editorial today suggested that Tech students "stay out of the street and avoid accidents."

The collegiate practice of "thumbing" for rides, The Toreador characterized as a hazard and often a discourtesy.

"Students who want to ride should stay out of the street," the editorial continued, "and should show courtesy to their motorist friends. No person who owns an automobile will pass a school student if he gets the right kind of treatment."

Friends At Death Watch Become Ill

ALBION, Neb., Nov. 23 (AP)—A dozen friends attending a wake for Arthur Ternes, 24, fell ill today in the house where he died mysteriously.

Sheriff L. I. Smoyer announced his belief that fumes from the exhaust of a home lighting system were to blame, although a coroner's jury yesterday said poisonous liquor caused Ternes' death.

Ternes died Sunday night and eight other members of a bridge party at the home became unconscious. Some of the eight are still receiving medical attention.

Tusk Of Mastodon Found Near McLean

McLEAN, Nov. 23. (AP)—A tusk that belonged to one of the hairy mastadons of prehistoric days in the Panhandle recently was unearthed in a gravel pit near McLean.

The tusk, 7 1-2 feet long, was curved along the entire length. It was eight inches in diameter at one end, tapering to about three inches at the other. It was in a good state of preservation, although workmen broke it into four pieces in removing it from the pit.

H. A. Davidson, who came to Lubbock in 1909 and purchased a feed store, humorously recalled some of his early dealings. He said there wasn't a vacant business building in Lubbock when he first moved here.

B. O. McWhorter, county commissioner, who came to the Plains in 1888, was a guest at the luncheon.

MONEY POLICY

policy as leading to "unrestrained inflation."

Some consideration was given to President Roosevelt's speech last night in which he talked of fighting the "powerful," the "intolerant" and the "obstinate" for "the things which we believe to be right." There were intimations at Warm Springs that steps would be taken soon to aid silver.

"Bonds Depreciated"

Sprague, in resigning as treasury adviser, argued that gold-buying depreciated government bonds, and that if this were continued federal securities could not be sold, making necessary the issuance of new currency to meet running expenses.

Morgenthau disclosed that money deposited with the treasury from postal savings, Farm Credit administration, federal deposit insurance and debt sinking fund sources was being used to buy governments, supporting their price. The law specifies that this money be invested in government securities. That will be done through the Federal Reserve bank in New York.

Last week purchases by all Federal Reserve banks with their own funds were $2,000,000 as against an average of $10,000,000 for the several weeks immediately preceding and about $35,000,000 just before that.

Warburg Opposes Plan

The latest to allign himself with Dr. Sprague was James P. Warburg, heretofore, at least, a participant in many economic discussions with the president.

In Philadelphia, Warburg, a banker, said he must express "reluctant" opposition to "some of the methods by which he (the president) seeks to attain his goal, some of the misconceptions that seem to becloud his purpose."

At the same meeting of the American Academy of Political Science, Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, held the president's money policy "substantially right." The objective, he continued, is "stabilization but not stabilization relative to gold nor in terms of foreign exchange."

Announcement that the Commonwealth Edison company; the People's Gas, Light and Coke company, and the Public Service company of northern Illinois had voted through their boards of directors to discontinue their annual payment of $6,000 each and that similar action had been taken in regard to the $3,000 the People's Gas subsidiary company had been paying, was made by George A. Ranney, vice chairman of the companies.

STATE'S PRISON, McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 23 (AP)—Trudging at daybreak to the ante-room of the prison death chamber, Earl Quinn, Quondam alcohol runner, awaited today with little hope the final efforts of his attorneys to halt his midnight execution for the Griffith sisters slayings.

Quinn asked only that he be allowed more 3.2 beer, which he said was "pretty good."

Between 75 and 100 fire and casualty insurance agents from the 13th district of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents are expected in Lubbock Friday for a regional convention at Hotel Lubbock. D. K. Bondurant, regional vice-president, said today. The district includes 28 counties from Seymour west to the New Mexico line and from Plainview south to Sweetwater, Loraine and Big Spring.

Opens At 9 A. M.

The meeting opens at 9 a. m. in in the assembly room of the hotel with Mr. Bondurant presiding. There will be a short welcome by a representative of the chamber of commerce and then talks by R. Q. Silverthorne, Plainview and L. Wesley Read and Mr. Bondurant.

Mr. Forman and Mr. Boyce will explain the insurance laws recently enacted, new regulations and other matters pertaining to the business.

At noon the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the Lubbock Insurance exchange will be hosts at a luncheon for the visitors in the ball room of the hotel. Judge Clark M. Mullican and S. J. McFarland will speak.

MURDER PROBE

that he was in Chicago up until a few hours before his wife's body was found in the red brick sixteen room mansion in West Monroe street by Dr. Wynekoop last Tuesday night.

When Wynekoop left Chicago he was bound by motor car with Stanley Young to take advertising photographs in the Arizona cleft of the Grand canyon.

Companion Is Held

Young, was taken into custody by Kansas City police and was quoted by them as saying that he and Wynekoop had spent last Monday and Monday night at the home of Young's uncle, George E. Q. Johnson, former federal judge of Chicago, and left for the west the next morning by way of Beverly Hills, a Chicago suburb, continuing toward Kansas City via Peoria, Ill.

"All indications," said Captain Stege, "point to the slayer as a person in whom Mrs. Wynekoop had full confidence.

"We are studying two possible reconstructions of the murder. In the first we suppose that the young woman was induced to disrobe and get on the operating table. While she was in that position the slayer placed her under an anesthetic, turned her half way on her face and then fired a bullet into her back."

"Our other theory is that the young woman was seized in some other room of the house, a chloroform or ether mask was thrust over her face, and then, while unconscious, she was carried or dragged down to the basement."

Dr. Wynekoop's office is in the basement of the home.

BRUSH FIRE

the city fire departments of neighboring towns, including the city of Los Angeles, were aiding in fighting the fire.

Scenes of hysterical confusion were enacted at Tujunga as the flames spread in the town. Many residents abandoned all their possessions and fled, while others seeking to save their valuables had to be dragged from the scene by firemen.

L. D. Hotchkiss, assistant managing editor of the Los Angeles Times, was among those forced to flee their homes.

At least eight of the homes destroyed were pretentious dwellings of wealthy residents who had located in Tujunga for the dry, mild climate of the 3,000 feet altitude.

Shelter Provided

The American Legion hall and several public buildings were thrown open to women and children, but how long these structures would remain outside of the danger zone was problematical.

First aid stations were kept busy dressing the burns of many of the 3,000 fire fighters, the majority of whom were residents who volunteered to stem the red tide.

From Los Angeles, approximately 20 miles distant, the fire appeared as a long crimson ribbon extending down the mountainside.

The smoke from the blaze all but blotted out the early morning sunrise over Hollywood.

TWO SHIPS ARE IN COLLISION

ONE FREIGHTER BADLY DAMAGED BUT CREW TAKEN TO SAFETY

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. (AP)—Two freighters collided in lower New York bay shortly after midnight today, leaving one so badly damaged that for a time it was feared she would sink.

The damaged vessel was the Ohioan of the American-Hawaiian line, inbound from Seattle. The other was the Liberty of the Cosmopolitan line, which had just cleared for Baltimore and LeHavre.

Crew Is Removed

The Liberty struck the Ohioan amidships and tore a huge hole in her side. The vessel started to sink and coast guard boats which rushed to the scene removed all the members of the Ohioan's crew except the captain and the radio operator.

Several hours later, however, the Ohioan was beached on what is known as West Bank shoals, and the crew returned to the ship. Coast guardsmen said she was in no immediate danger unless a storm came up.

The Liberty, which received only minor damage to its bow, remained at anchor near the scene of the crash until daylight permitted a thorough inspection.

The Ohioan's crew numbered 43 and the Liberty's 37. The captains of both boats reported no one was injured.

The Ohioan, of 5,154 gross tons, was built in 1914 at Sparrows Point, Md., and has been operated by the American-Hawaiian line ever since. She is 407 feet long, with a 53-foot beam.

The Liberty was built for the United States shipping board at Kearney, N. J., in 1918. She is a vessel of 6211 tons, 395 feet long and 55-foot beam.

NEW STUDIO OPENED

SPUR (Special)—E. L. Adams, who has operated a photograph studio here since 1917, has opened a new one in the Campbell building. The new quarters are larger and have a better lighting arrangement.

SENIOR FREED OF CHARGES

ERWIN B. CONWAY IS NO BILLED IN DEATH OF HIS FIANCEE

FRANKLIN, Nov. 23 (AP)—Erwin B. Conway, senior student at Baylor university, has been no billed by the Robertson county grand jury on a murder complaint which charged him with shooting his fiancee, Miss Ledelle Hammond.

Conway and Miss Hammond were motoring from Kosse to Bryan the night of June 16 when they were hailed by a woman standing beside a truck blocking an underpass on the highway ten miles south of Hearne, according to Conway.

Tells of Robbery

Forced to stop, Conway said he was robbed and then both he and Miss Hammond were shot. A bullet penetrated the girl's heart and Conway was hit in the shoulder.

Rangers and other investigators worked on the case for several weeks trying to apprehend the persons Conway described as the slayers of Miss Hammond. Finally County Attorney John R. Grace filed the complaint against Conway.

Conway has repeatedly declared he was innocent of the charge and the parents of the slain girl have expressed their belief in his innocence.

Boy Scout Finance Drive Is Continued

With an estimated $600 to $700 pledged or contributed in an annual Boy Scout financial drive last night, campaigners continued their solicitations today.

Campaigners yesterday reported about $200 in additional subscriptions, according to Scout Executive D. T. Jennings.

The goal is $3,000, for another year's support of the scout movement in Lubbock.

A second and first class and merit badge board of review was conducted last night at scout offices in City hall. The November court of honor will be Friday night.

Jail Newspaper Is Under Blue Eagle

SHERMAN, Nov. 23. (AP)—The Crossbar Gazette, a weekly newspaper issued by prisoners in the county jail, appeared today with the blue eagle inscription.

Said the editors in an editorial:

"General Johnson up in Washington may dislike our using the NRA blue eagle since we have signed no agreement nor conformed to any code, but nevertheless, we feel entitled as we also do our part for 60 men in the county bastile mean jobs for that many more in the free world.

"Not that we hadn't rather "have the jobs."

PROJECT WORK IS STARTED

CATTLE FEEDING PLAN AT LITTLEFIELD TO COST $10,000

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 23 (Special)—Construction work has been started on a $10,000 cattle feeding project here by the Peyton Packing company of El Paso and within 30 days it is expected the feeding of cattle will be started here.

A 40-acre tract of land on the north side of the Santa Fe tracks has been leased. Pens already on the location are being enlarged and scales and a windmill and well being put in.

To Start Buying

According to O. J. Barron, El Paso, in charge of the project, between 4,000 and 5,000 head of cattle annually will be fed out. It is planned to buy cattle within a radius of 150 to 200 miles of Littlefield and ship them here for fattening.

C. M. Gay, also of El Paso, is connected with the project. It is expected the buying of cattle will start soon and that delivery here will be made before Christmas.

Huge supplies of grain and feed are being contracted for. Later it is planned to have a spur switch put in by the railroad to connect with the pens.

There will be 30 to 40 separate pens finished for feeding. small bunches of cattle. The animals will be graded on receipt at the yards and placed in pens according to age and weight. Length of the fattening period has not been definitely announced but it is expected the period will be around 120 to 150 days, or longer.

The project is the largest feeding project in Lamb county and among the largest on the South Plains.

Much Pleased With Cardui

"My first experience with Cardui began when I was just a girl," writes Mrs. Millard Wallis, of Apple Grove, W. Va. "I took it for painful trouble. It gave me great relief. I have taken it at intervals since I was married twelve years ago. Before the birth of my first baby, I was weak and run-down. I was very nervous and did not get the rest I needed at night. I took six bottles of Cardui. I regained my strength and felt fine. I have taken it since as a tonic and to keep from having pains at menstruating time."

STUDENT SUES AS HE FAILS TO GET DEGREE AT S. M. U.

DALLAS, Nov. 23. (AP)—Having spent five and a half years studying at Southern Methodist university without obtaining a degree, due, according to his petition, to the acts of members of the faculty, Herman Evans of San Angelo, Tom Green county, has filed suit in ninety-fifth district court to recover $1,817.15 in tuitition and fees, and $20,000 damages.

Accompanying the petition received by the district clerk's office was a letter from W. A. Johnson, attorney at San Angelo, requesting that the case be filed before a judge who "is not of the Methodist communion." Judge Royall R. Watkins, to whose court the petition was assigned, is a Presbyterian.

Evans' petition said he entered the university June 8, 1926, and continued there both in regular sessions and summer sessions until June 5, 1931, when the acts of the faculty and the hinderances put in the way of his obtaining a degree rendered further attendance impossible.

Beware The Cough Or Cold That Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion.—(adv.)

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. NRA © 1931 C. M. Co.
