The meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the county court room Saturday, October 17.

The fields to be covered and policies to be developed will be on taxation, government in agriculture, state rights, inflation, labor, marketing, education, conservation and natural resources, roads, trade, animal health, and others.

All Farm Bureau members and professional and business people are invited to come and participate, Mitchell said.

Baptists Call Fort Worth Man as New Pastor

The Rev. Glenn Hickey, pastor of Eagle Mountain Baptist Church in Fort Worth, has accepted a call as pastor of First Baptist Church and will be here for services the first Sunday in November, Buddy Carter, chairman of the pulpit committee, announced Tuesday, October 13.

Rev. Hickey recently preached for the Wellington congregation.

The 28-year-old pastor has been attending Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth and completed resident study and oral examinations leading toward a doctorate in theology. He will receive the degree within the next year.

Seminary officials have told the local pulpit committee he was one of the top students in the school.

Rev. Hickey is married and has one son, two and a half years old. The family is due to arrive here during the last week in October.

His native state is Arkansas, and he received his bachelor of arts degree from Ouachita College, in Arkansas.

Since entering the ministry, he has served as associate pastor of First Baptist Church, Ashdown, Ark., of Corinth Baptist Church, Decatur, and for two and a half years pastor of the Eagle Mountain Baptist Church.

NATIONAL PUBLICITY FOR WELLINGTON DEALERS

This picture has brought national publicity for Clark Chevrolet, through brochures recently received by all Chevrolet dealers in the country, with suggestions for the pre-announcement program for new cars. This float was the Clark entry in last year's parade opening the county fair. The gay good looks of the frisky crepe paper pony, suggesting motor horsepower, is enhanced by some of Wellington's loveliest girls. Allen Graves made the photo—that is bringing the Wellington firm publicity.

Complete Revamping

VFW Opens Drive to Remodel Post Home

Plans to remodel the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post Building and revamp and landscape the grounds were announced this week, after initial work was done in a meeting Tuesday, October 6.

Detailed plans will be announced later, according to Louis Berg, commander of the Glenn Moore Post.

The building itself will be remodeled, repainted, and repaired. The back of the grounds will be fenced and grass and shrubbery set out. Playground equipment will be set up for the children who come to meetings with their parents.

To help finance this building program, Members vote to increase membership dues from $5 to $7.50 member.

"This was necessary, since $4.50 per member goes to the state and national departments and to maintain the VFW National Home, and the $3.00 which is left will go into the local post account," Berg explained.

It was pointed out during the meeting that the building is entirely clear of debt and should not

Funeral Here Wednesday for Former Teacher

Funeral services for Mrs. Stella White Evans of Mineral Wells, a former Collingsworth County school teacher, were held at Kelo Chapel Wednesday, October 14, at 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Evans died at Mineral Wells Tuesday after a long illness. The Rev. O. C. Evans, retired Methodist Minister from Shamrock and former pastor of Kelley Methodist Church, conducted the funeral and burial was in West Wellington cemetery under the direction of Kelo Funeral Home.

Mrs. Evans was born January 1, 1885, in Montague County. She came here with other members of her family in 1906 settling in the Kelley community.

After completing work in the Wellington schools, she attended North Texas State College, Denton, then taught in a number of Collingsworth County rural schools, including Kelley, Houselog, Shinnery, Cottonwood and others.

She was married to W. L. Evans of Mineral Wells about 40 years ago and since then had made her home there. Mr. Evans died several years ago.

Mrs. Evans is survived by several step children and by two brothers and three sisters: Winfield White, Fletcher White and Mrs. J. G. Hunt of Wellington; Mrs. E. J. James of Hollis and Mrs. Pat Jordan of Missouri.

Clean-Up Drive Set Here for February

A city-wide clean-up drive is slated for Wellington in February, directed at cleaning the vacant lots of the town.

The drive will be directed by two committees of the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce, the civic improvement committee, headed by Mrs. John Coleman and Mrs. James Sullivan, and the beautification committee, with Mrs. A. L. Fires as chairman.

Plans for the drive were made in a meeting of the chamber of commerce directors last week,

President John Coleman said.

It was pointed out that in past spring clean-up campaigns, it was hard to get owners of mowers to cut tall weeds on vacant lots because of the number of rocks, wire and other debris that damage the mower blades.

"The February drive will be primarily to get vacant lots cleared of these things that hamper mowing, then the weeds can be taken care of much easier in a spring or summer clean-up," N. M. Higdon, C-C manager, said.

New Poll Tax Receipts Show Party Choice

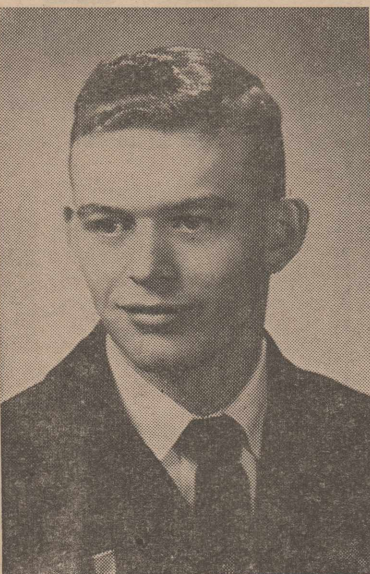

Its poll tax paying time and Miss Louise Fulcher, county tax assessor collector, points out that receipts this year for the first time will have a line on which will be voted by election judges whether the voter is a Democrat or Republican.

This will also make it necessary for the voter to have his poll tax receipt with him when he goes to vote, although the election judges may have the poll tax list at hand, Miss Fulcher pointed out.

It is the nearest approach to a party registration law that has been taken in Texas. It is designed primarily to keep voters from switching on primary election day from one party to another.

However, two important points should be noted on the party affiliation question: (1) the designation "Democrat" or "Republican" is not to be placed on the poll tax receipt or exemption certificate until he or she votes in a primary and (2) the designation will not apply to how a person votes in the general election in November 1960. That is, a Democrat can switch in the general election and vote for a Republican nominee or a Republican can vote Democratic.

On the switching question, the designation means that after a voter makes his or her choice in a Democratic primary election he cannot go over and take part in a Republican precinct convention, or vice versa.

HONORED BY FFA

Gerald Chambers, Vinson Future Farmer now attending Oklahoma State University, has been nominated for an American Farmer Degree, the highest given by the Future Farmer chapters of the nation. He is attending the National FFA convention in Kansas City this week, where the awards will be given.

Troy C. Marsh New Wellington Chief of Police

Troy C. Marsh, young Fort Worth detective who was reared near Wellington, was hired as chief of police by the City Council in a called meeting Monday night, October 12, Mayor Hiram Cudd has announced. He succeeds Jack Brisbin, who joined the buying staff of Morrow-Thomas Hardware in Amarillo.

This was one of the longest council meetings recently, with members staying until 12:30 a.m. to go over the qualifications of all 10 applicants thoroughly.

Mayor Cudd said Marsh would be here Wednesday or Thursday to begin work.

In addition to serving as police chief, Marsh will be city sanitation and assistant city tax assessor-collector.

Marsh, who lives in Fort Worth with his family, works for the William J. Burns Detective Agency out of its Dallas office. He joined that organization after being released from the Air Force in 1955 and has been with them except for several months earlier this year when he was deputy sheriff of Donley County and lived at Clarendon.

Marsh was graduated from Wellington high school and served in the Air Force from 1951 to 1955.

His wife is the former Charlene Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Saunders, Marsh's parents now live in California. The couple has a baby about two years old.

C-C Members Voting on 1960 Officer Slate

Voting on 1960 Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce officers will be completed Saturday, October 31, N. M. Higdon, manager, announced this week.

The slate of candidates was adopted by the board of directors in a meeting last week.

L. B. Bratten and Buster Hughs are the candidates for president; Billy Hatch and Richard Bailey, vice president; and Calvin Hurst and Milburn Derryberry treasurer.

Three directors are to be elected from the following: T. Eldon Holley, Dr. Chas. B. Jones, Sam Adams, M. W. Stangel, Herman Harris, O. B. Raburn, Steve Owens, M. D. Phipps and Robert Lewis.

Ballots have gone out to all members, Higdon said.

Oklahoma Governor Speaks Up

Governor Daniel Asked to Safeguard Salt Fork Dam

Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce has appealed to Governor Daniel for help in safe guarding the proposed Salt Fork Dam and to promote it, Manager N. M. Higdon revealed this week. The action came after Governor Howard Edmondson of Oklahoma pledged his help in securing the water of Salt Fork to the people of his state.

Burglars Enter Dodson Store

Burglars entered Owens Grocery at Dodson Thursday night, October 8, taking a small amount of cash and merchandise, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

"As far as I can tell, probably two subjects broke in through the back door," the sheriff said. "They pried this door apart and reached in and removed the bar across it from the inside."

Only a small amount of cash was in the register and this was taken, along with an undetermined number of cigarettes. It could not be determined if any canned goods was included in the loot, the sheriff said.

The store was closed between 9 and 9:30 Thursday evening.

This quartet recently was honored by students of Quail School and community residents when they were chosen for places of honor. Patsy Norman, left, was chosen high school annual queen; Danny Wheeler, the most handsome boy in high school; Alcie Holliman, grade school annual queen; and Betty Mosley, at right, prettiest girl in high school. These will be featured in the high school annual.

Rockets Open District Play against Childress

The Skyrockets open district play Friday night, October 16, against the Childress Bobcats in Childress.

Game time is 8 p.m.

So far, the Bobcats have won three games and lost three losses, against the Rockets 4-2 record on the victory side. Cat losses, however, have been to three strong teams, Hamlin, Burkburnett and Seymour, and their record is not to be discounted by any means.

Wellington, tied with Quanah, is leading District 5-AA so far with the four-win-two-loss record.

Childress runs a strict T attack, combined with a belly series and fullback trap series.

In Hugh Frith, the Bobcats have one of the best passers in the district and capable receivers make his passes count.

The annual Boy Scout fund raising drive opens Thursday, October 22, following the kick-off coffee that morning, Fred Saied, county finance chairman, has announced.

The breakfast will be held at the REA meeting room at 7 a.m. Last minute instruction will be given and plans discussed. Robert Lewis will be in charge of kick-off coffee arrangements.

The drive will be conducted along the same lines as in the past. There is no goal, as far as funds are concerned, but as much money will be raised as possible, for this is the only fund raising event for the Boy Scout program through the year, it was pointed out.

"In the neighborhood of $83,000 will be required to finance Scout work in the Adobe Walls council this year," Saied remarked.

In charge of general solicitations will be the Rev. Frank Weir. He is picking the committee to help him in contacting business men and others during the drive.

Sandy Parsons, Jr. was named by Saied to head the special gifts committee, and he also is choosing those who will work with him.

Deskins Wells heads the publicity committee; Jack Sanford, prospects and rating; and Jack Aaron is the auditor.

Zook Thomas is Comanche district finance chairman, which planned the over-all drive and George Henry is co-chairman.

Bowie Street Church Builds Pastor's Home

Bowie Street Church of Christ has under construction a new pastor's home, located at 1200 Bowie Street less than a block from the church.

Of white brick, the house has three bedrooms and two baths, in addition to the living room, dining room, kitchen and family room, Min. John Gay, pastor, said.

There is also a 30 by 50 foot basement which will be used for church needs, such as socials and for young people's gatherings.

In charge of building operations is L. A. Johnson.

Present plans are to have the home completed by the middle of November, and within a short time open house will be held so that the public may visit the new pastor's home.

Lots for the building were given by P. E. Starr, member of the church.

Vaughan Again on SCD Board

Orville Vaughan was re-elected supervisor of Salt Fork Soil Conservation District at a recent meeting of co-operators of the Dodson sub-district.

Vaughan's term of office is for five years.

He completed his first term at the time of the election and is serving as chairman of the board of supervisors.

City Women Exhibit in Dallas Art Fiesta

Three Wellington women were among the 400 artists from throughout the world who exhibited work in the Open Air Art Fiesta, held recently at Highland Park Village, Dallas.

A number of landscapes and still life pictures were included in the work of the three, Mrs. D. E. Scott, Mrs. L. A. Gilmore and Mrs. Hubert Bowen. They did not stay for the final day, when pictures were to be sold, as this was not the purpose of their exhibit.

Booths were arranged in the roped-off streets of Highland Park Village, with its old-world style architecture forming an appropriate background for the fiesta.

"We were surprised that there was very little modern art," Mrs. Scott commented, "and it was completely by young men of college age, with the exception of one woman."

The Wellington women were delighted when the president of the Dallas Arts and Crafts Association, sponsor of the show, paid a second visit to their exhibit. "I thought these were the prettiest landscapes in the show," he told them.

The show is scheduled to be held again next year, and the Wellington women already are registered to exhibit.

New State Law Provides for Suspension of Drivers' Licenses

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety has cautioned that a new state law provides for the suspension of the license of any driver convicted of four moving traffic violations within a 12-month period. Col. Homer Garrison Jr., says the new law, passed by the recent session of the legislature and signed by Governor Price Daniel, for the first time defines the term "habitual violator." The definition is as follows: "The term 'habitual violator' as used herein, shall mean any person with four or more convictions arising out of different transaction within a period of 24 months, such convictions being for moving violations of the traffic laws of the State of Texas or its political subdivisions."

Garrison said is a justice of the peace or others designated magistrate finds a driver to be an habitual violator, the Department of Public Safety is authorized to suspend the driver's license for any period up to one year. The law also establishes detailed procedures for appeals of persons whose licenses have been suspended and requires the courts to give priority to the setting of such cases. It designates local prosecuting attorneys to represent the state in such appeals cases.—Muleshoe Journal.

Other Towns Have Learned United Fund Is the Answer

To paraphrase a famous old maxim, "United we stand, divided we're going to be nibbled to pieces."

We're referring to the rash of fund-raising campaigns, most of them for very worthy causes . . . which is just now beginning to get underway and will continue at brief intervals through next March or April.

The Salvation Army drive begins soon . . . it is the first and in our opinion one of the worthiest. But there are many more to come.

Scout finance drives . . . Boy Scout and Girl Scout . . . are not far in the future. Then there'll be Christmas solicitations for various charities, the annual Polio drive in January, Heart and Cancer fund drives in February, Red Cross in March, to name just a few of the most prominent.

For the most part the same groups of people will be called on to volunteer as directors and solicitors for the various campaigns . . . and the same groups of citizens will be solicited for contributions each time.

To avoid this multiplicity of campaigns and duplication of efforts, many communities—large and small—have turned to some form of United Fund under which a single annual drive for charitable contributions is made.

The United Fund campaign is not confined to cities. It is now being successfully employed in Shamrock, and has been successfully employed for a number of years in Booker, a city much smaller than this one.

It's too late to start planning a United Fund drive this year, but it isn't a bit too early to start laying plans for a United Fund organization for next year.—The Canadian Record.

Labor Unions Plan Punishment

It is already evident that one of the principal features of the 1960 congressional campaigns will be an effort by the AFL-CIO to unseat its "enemies" who approved the Landrum-Griffin labor bill on the key vote August 13.

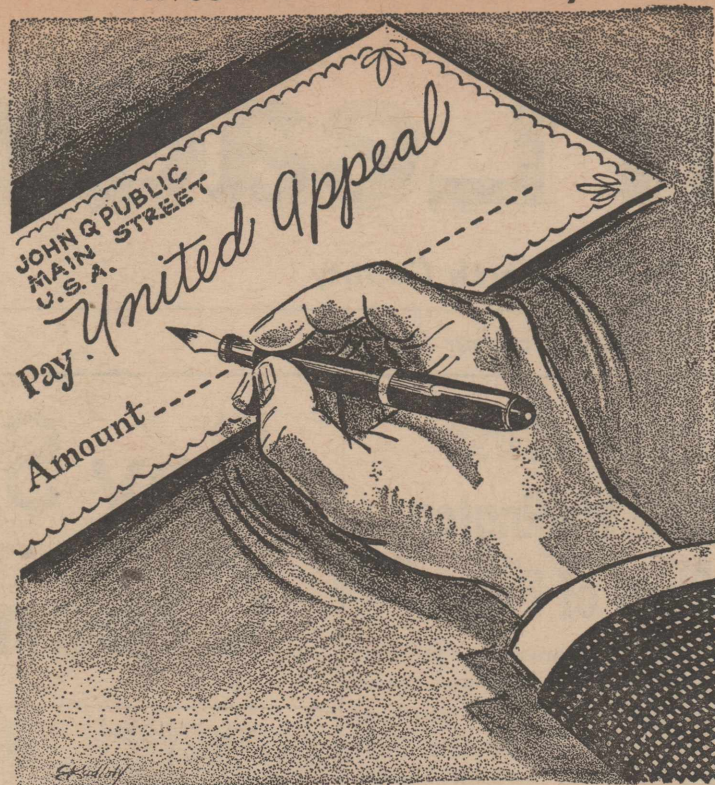

It is equally evident that the South will be the major battleground of this effort, for Southern Democrats, going counter to the leadership of Speaker Sam Rayburn, voted for Landrum-Griffin that day, 84 to 13.

The labor federation's executive council outlined its plans to fight its "enemies" last week. Major strategy includes an Operation Dixie aimed at smashing "unprincipled political machines," and endorsing more Republicans for Congress than last year.

The AFL-CIO has little reason to be dissatisfied with the vote of Northern Democrats, most of whom it backed in 1958 on the Landrum-Griffin bill. They voted 171 to 11 against the bill—and eight of the 11 were from border states, Maryland, Missouri and Oklahoma. And if labor is to endorse more Republicans next year than in 1958, their districts must be mainly in Southern and border states. Labor surely will not favor many of the present Republican members, for they went for Landrum-Griffin, 134 to 17.

Operation Dixie is an ambitious undertaknig. The South as a whole remains conservative, on labor issues as well as others. For instance, 10 of the 19 states with "right to work" laws are in the South.—The Houston Chronicle.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where some girls are fixing to sue Texas A&M College again about letting them in there where the boys are.

My womanphobic neighbor says men used to could find a few places to go for a short intermission from the one-sided battle of the sexes, like barber shops, saloons, the army, etc.

But says most of these sanctuaries have now been invaded by the girls, and about the only place that is left where a man can get away from them is in the dog house.

I see where one of our high Senators on a people-teaching tour says the Russians could wipe out this country in 15 minutes any time they think it's a good idea, and we ought to be spending more money on defense.

My economical neighbor says if 15 minutes is all the grace we get for $40 billion a year, we are getting stung.

And says if he was short-changed like that, say, in some night club, he wouldn't just sit there and order another round; he would sue somebody, or call the Better Business Bureau.

I see where some scientists claim the ability to spell words is inherited, so if a college graduate can't spell it's his parents who are to blame and not his teachers.

My-born-speller neighbor says heredity is a handy item, especially in wiggling out of responsibility for our defects, but says people ought to be more careful about what they hand down to their defenseless progeny.

I see where a House subcommittee is studying the matter of whether commercial deceit has been practiced by some TV quiz programs being rigged.

My so-what neighbor says there is bound to be considerable commercial deceit and political deceit around, but he don't figure it costs him anything to enjoy a well-staged quiz show or wrestling match.

And says if they pass a law that all TV programs have got to be untinkered, some of the performers are not going to look natural to us without their padding or toupees.

I note that whenever the country has a problem, somebody appoints a committee to study about it, and no matter what it is, the committee always finds that more money would cure it.

My hot-collared neighbor says this is like the learned doctors of another age who treated all ailments by bleeding the patient, and if he got sicker they just bled him some more.

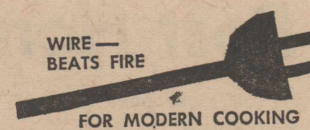

Says now it's money the experts drain off, while they preach on how we can spend ourselves rich, rugged and righteous.

The Living Word

The scriptures are called the "word of life." (Phil. 2:16.) This simply means the scriptures produce spiritual life and agrees with I Peter 1:23 where Peter describes the Christian as "being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever."

From the scientific truth that life begets life, we know the scriptures are living, even as Peter says, "which liveth and abideth forever."

Lessons: 1. The word of God is not a "dead letter." 2. We are brought forth Christians through the word of God. (Jas. 1:18.)

Game Violators to Be Tried in County Court

AUSTIN — All future game violation cases, involving the forfeiture of hunting or fishing licenses, will be filed in county court, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The higher courts have held that a justice of the peace is without jurisdiction to try prosecution wherein money penalty and option or forfeiture of license are both involved. Accordingly, instructions have gone out to all wardens to take these cases to county court. Cases still may be filed in justice court where no license is involved, such as an arrest for fishing with a rod and reel in a home county without a license.

Several counties in Texas already have been filing cases under county court law, according to the director.

Marriage Rule Changes Oct. 15

AUSTIN — A bill passed by the Texas Legislature this summer will make it more difficult to get married—at least for some people.

House Bill No. 48 is likely to make elopement a thing of the past.

Beginning Oct. 15, the parent or guardian of an underage applicant for a marriage license must appear in a county clerk's office to give his consent. No license will be issued without the verbal consent of the parent.

If the parent or guardian is unable to appear by reason of health or incapacity as certified by a doctor or osteopath, the written consent must be acknowledged before a notary public before the clerk can issue the license.

If the applicant has neither a parent nor a guardian, he may be able to get the consent of the county judge of the county of his residence. This must be in writing and acknowledged before a notary.

No license can be issued to an underage applicant until the application has been on file in the office for three days.

Waterfowl Count Due This Fall

AUSTIN — Thirty Texas game wardens have volunteered their services to make a waterfowl inventory in Texas, according to Harold Irby and Bob Singleton, waterfowl biologists of the Game and Fish Commission.

Each warden will cover a highway route of 200 miles every 14 days, during the duck season. They will survey all lakes, tanks and ponds within a quarter-mile of each side of the highway they traverse; thus each warden will survey approximately 100 square miles on each day of work.

The route selected for these surveys will be where maximum bodies of water may be found. Wardens also will compile information as to areas of the lakes and the time when waterfowl concentration is heaviest.

"This is taking the first step in the direction of preferential hunting seasons," the biologist said. "We will learn where the heaviest concentrations are. Then on the basis of our kill reports we can evaluate gun pressure and probably bring about a beneficial adjustment."

42-bushel Average on 165 Acres of Wheat

Kenneth Robinson, successful young West Texas farmer, says: "I have been using Phillips 66 Ammonia for three years on wheat, and for that period my average is 42 bushels per acre. I've watched these yields carefully, checking each year's yield against the amount of ammonia applied. I'm raising my rate of application from 65 pounds to 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia on my wheat, in order to further increase my yields."

"My grain sorghum has responded profitably to Phillips 66 Ammonia, too. Last year, my yield average was 4,800 pounds per acre, with one field running 6,000 pounds."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. Parsons Receives Citation from Commerce Dept.

Sandy Parsons, Jr., Rexall Drug-gist in Wellington, was today awarded a citation from Vice-President Richard M. Nixon on behalf of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The award read, in part, "The U. S. Department of Commerce, Office of International Trade Fairs, having awarded a Citation to the Rexall Drug Company for outstanding service to the United States Government, further extends this recognition of participation in the United States Exhibit in the 1959 International Trade Fair, Poznan, Poland, to Parsons Drug, and all members of the Rexall Family who through the Rexall Family have demonstrated the community service representative of all Rexall Drug Stores. You contributed significantly to world understanding of peace and prosperity under the American system of free and competitive enterprise."

In further commendation of Rexall's service in Poznan, the Department of Commerce invited Rexall to move their entire operation from Poland to Salonica, Greece. So the Rexall Drug Store—which was the first American drug store shown behind the Iron Curtain—is presently being exhibited at the 24th International Fair now in progress in Salonica.

MISSIONARY TAKES REVOLUTION IN STRIDE AS WORK CONTINUES

A Wellington-reared missionary to Lebanon, here during the week end, told of holding religious services in last year's revolution while fighters fired at each other over the church and of seeing the historic landing of the United States Marines at Beirut, when the people of the city went down to the beach to watch.

The Rev. Clarence Bishop, with his family, is in the United States for a year, after 5 years in Beirut, and came here to speak at Fundamental Baptist Church.

He praised the hospitality of the Lebanese.

"Here a pastor may visit in a home for a few minutes, but there, each visit takes about an hour. You visit and drink coffee—not coffee as we drink it, but Turkish coffee. This was enjoyable. We enjoyed it very much," he continued. Most members of his church spoke English or French fluently.

"The political situation is much better," Rev. Bishop said, referring to last year's revolution, "But I can say definitely it is not solved."

Lebanon has the only Christian government in the Arab world, he reminded.

"There are a million and a half people and barely half are Christian; the others are Moslem; and they are surrounded completely by 80,000,000 moslems. This creates a problem, and the general run of people expect more problems and conflicts in the very near future."

"The revolution was a blessing in disguise to my church," he added. "Attendance doubled."

It was not a bloody revolution in the sense of street fighting, or battles as they were fought in the Korean war, the missionary said.

"But it was from the rooftops. Fighters of one side would fire at soldiers of the opposing side, also on rooftops firing," he said. The Bishop family, including the young children, saw the wounded and dead brought to Hotel Dieu, the large hospital near their home.

Americans were restricted to their homes the first day the Marines landed, but they watched through binoculars. After that they went down to the beaches.

"The Marines were scattered through the country, and the chaplains asked the missionaries to conduct services for them. My group was about 600 men and we held services beneath the pine trees," he related.

The work of communism is apparent, but the party is banned.

"The Lebanese government is pro-west, and the Christians, mostly Maronite Catholics, are definitely pro-western, he declared.

Rev. Bishop is the son of Mrs. Melvina Bishop of Oklahoma City and the late W. S. Bishop. After leaving here 16 years ago, he attended Bible Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth and was pastor of Bible Baptist Church, Dumas, five years before going to Lebanon. Mrs. Bishop is from Ada Oklahoma. The couple have four children, Richard, 15, who will remain in the United States to attend Bob Jones Academy at Greenville, North Carolina; Dwight, 9; Vonna, 6 and Marilyn, 3. Oklahoma City will be their headquarters this year.

After Shaky Start

Rockets Tame Tigers by Pleasing 20-0

By Tom Wilkins

After a shaky start, the Wellington Skyrockets got into high gear and blanked the McLean Tigers 20-0. The Rockets pushed across touchdowns in the first, second and third quarter in winning their fourth game of the year.

The Rockets were stunned as Tiger back Davy Crockett made a 65 yard punt return, but a clipping penalty nullified the play and this was the turning point in the game. After this the Rockets held the heralded McLean halfback to only 30 yards rushing.

It was a great night for the Rockets, who went into the game as underdogs. They rolled first downs with ease and then had the power to push across the TD's. All of the Rockets were impressive, especially the linemen. On offense they continually opened gaping holes and were like a stone wall on defense. The Tiger passer was badly rushed all night and he got off few good passes.

The first quarter started with the Rockets kicking. The Tigers began to move but stalled on the Rockets 15. The Rockets couldn't move and were forced to punt. Crockett ran this punt back for 65 yards, but the play was brought back on a clipping penalty. After this the Tigers couldn't move and the Rockets dominated the rest of the game. With three minutes left in the first quarter, Bill Estes stormed over from one yard out. Extra point failed and the Rockets led 6-0 at the end of the quarter.

The second quarter was nip and tuck with the Rockets again scoring, this time from 10 yards out. Estes again did the honor and the Rockets led at halftime 12-0.

The Tigers kicked to the Rockets to open the second half. It took the Rockets eight minutes to muster another score. Bruce Crosby sneaked the ball over from one yard out. Point after good. The final period was scoreless and the game ended Rockets 20, Tigers 0.

through with flying colors at their first game at halfback. Richard Mauldin was also impressive at quarterback. These were the new faces in the backfield and you can bet you'll be seeing a lot more of them. Harry White turned in another very good performance in the line. On defense it was Leo Russell, Granville Killian, Burl Lowe, and Weldon Cleveland who caught this writer's eye. They made the going very tough on the Tiger backs.

Well, Ronnie O'Rear showed us that even though small he too can turn in a very big game.

We have our first conference game this week at Childress. This should be a very fine contest, as both teams will be trying for their first conference win.

I'm glad the Rockets spirit is better than that of the fans. If it weren't, we wouldn't have very many wins. Let's all go to Childress Friday. The Rockets need your support and your cheers and this writer believes the Rockets will be champions that everyone will be proud of. C'MON ROCKETS BEAT CHILDRESS!

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Come Jan. 1 the new auto insurance rating plan will go into effect. Under the new system a drivers auto insurance premium will be raised or lowered according to his driving record.

It will mean lower insurance costs for some, but it will mean increased costs for many drivers. Each accident or ticket for a moving traffic violation puts a black mark on the drivers record and each mark moves his insurance premiums up.

The purpose of the plan is to put the biggest part of the burden for insurance payments on the people who bring about the most damage and expense. People who have a history of numerous traffic violations are the one who have the most accidents. Those with one to five points against them will pay increased rates on a sliding scale, and those with six or more points will pay double the present rate.

Drunken driving, hit and run driving and negligent homicide will be very expensive costing the policy holder 4 points, which seems like it should be in regard to the public welfare. But here is a joker that the lobbyists of the Insurance Companies must of have slipped in without the average person knowing anything about it. It is this: An accident causing damage over $25 brings two points.

Holy Cow! Since when has a dented fender been half as bad as negligent homicide—or the other two offenses that carry four points. You can damage another car might easily simply by backing out of the sometimes crowded streets of Wellington, but that is a far cry from killing another human being or running away from the scene of a wreck. The Insurance Companies really got in a lick for their coffers when they put in that clause about a $25 car damage being half as bad as an unintentional killing or fight from the scene of disaster.

I watched the Texas-O U game on television last Saturday and for the first 15 minutes I thought the Texas boys from north of Red River were going to run the Texas boys from south of Red River out of the stadium. R. T. Savage says there were nine Texans on the Oklahoma starting team and seven on the second squad.

But I thought that the Rocket-Tiger game on Powell Field was about as exciting an event as I have attended in a long time. The favored Tigers were a much better club than the score indicates for it might very easily have been 20 to 14 or 16 instead of the 20 to 0 that it was. Tom Wilkins has a good story in another part of the paper, but he left out one of the most thrilling plays of the game. I thought that was when O. K. Lee intercepted a Rocket pass inside his 5 yard line and took out for what looked like a sure touchdown. At the 50 yard stripe only little Gary West was anywhere close and it looked like he was going to be outrun, and he probably thought so too. About the 20 he made a desperation lunge and caught the fleet Tiger by the ankles to bring him down on the 15 which just about ended the game. A potential additional Rocket score was saved by Lee and a potential Tiger score was saved by West in less than one minute. You can't pack much more action than that in one play.

I was particularly impressed with the Rockets line play and the soundness of the signal calling and the hard running of the backs. They may take Childress, Quannah and Shamrock I don't know too much about Perryton this year.

Stouts Attend Nixon Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stout attended the reception for Vice-president Nixon held at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth. Mr. Stout, Republican County Chairman of Collingsworth, went as the official representative of the county. He said that approximately 200 counties were represented.

He characterized Nixon as a man of poise and charm as well as being a down to earth man who could make you feel like your shaking hands with an old friend.

Methodists to Hold Layman's Day October 18

First Methodist Church will observe Layman's Day Sunday, October 18, with men of the church in charge of the morning service. Bob Lynch will be the speaker, and his subject will be "You are Called." Mack Saied, Jr. will direct the service.

Special music will be given by a quartet, composed of L. B. Bratten, Rudy Burquist, Orville Vaughan and Gene Nelson. There will be prayers by Paul Moble and Sam Thompson and Bill Eller will read the scripture and make the announcements.

The service will begin at 11 a.m. Laymans Day is an annual event of the Methodist Church and this year the theme is "All have a calling in everyday work."

Baptists Build New Mexican Mission Here

Construction has started on a Mexican Mission under the sponsorship of First Baptist Church, which is to be finished about November 1, Lester Hunter, chairman of the Mission committee, has announced.

The concrete tile building is located on Highway 83, near the intersection with State Highway 203, on land bought from Ernest Harwell.

It is 30 by 60 feet in size and will have a seating capacity of 160, Hunter said. The cost is estimated at $8,000.

The Mexican mission program has been under the sponsorship of First Baptist Church for several years and services are now held in a downtown building, with around 60 attending.

Arthur Hernandez, a high school senior, is pastor. A name for the new mission will be chosen by a committee appointed for that purpose.

Serving with Hunter on the Mexican Mission committee, which directs the program, are Charles Cason, Jr., Raymond Terry, Mrs. Ernest Harwell, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Groves and King Bowen.

On the building and finance committee are Temple Slay, Judge Raymond Horton, Ben Ratliff and Cason.

Shields Infant Buried at Quail

Graveside services were held at Quail Cemetery Saturday, October 10, for Darrel Leon Shields, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Shields of near Clarendon, formerly of Quail.

The baby was born October 7 at Groom and died October 9 and 9 p.m.

L. A. Davis, Church of Christ minister, officiated and burial was under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Surviving are the parents and a sister, Tanya Ann, also the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Russell of Quail and Mr. and Mrs. Benton Shields of Willow, Okla.

Ann Messer to State Revue

Ann Ruth Messer, District 1 contestant in the state 4-H Club Dress Revue, will leave this week for Dallas, where the event will take place Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17.

She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. D. Messer of Quail, and Miss Kathryn Potter, county home demonstration agent.

The girls from throughout Texas will model for judging and the contest on Friday at the Hotel Adolphus, and on Saturday they will take part in the public showing at the Women's Building on the State Fair Grounds.

Ann Ruth was winner of the county Revue and one of the five top winners in the district event.

Starkey Better from Attack

Charley Starkey of Quail, who suffered a heart attack 3 weeks ago, is still confined to the Clarendon Hospital according to his wife, who was in town Monday.

Mr. Starkey had gone to Clarendon for a medical check-up and his condition was such that he was placed in the hospital. The heart attack came a short time later, a member of the family said.

Mrs. Starkey says he is improved enough to sit up for short periods of time and can have company for a few minutes each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starr of Toyah were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Crabtree of Quail.

What's in it for Him?

What does he get for a weekend like this—for all the weekends and evening hours put in during the year?

Nothing—or plenty! Depends on how you look at it. For this man—plenty! Plenty, because he's the kind of guy who "knows where he's going" and is willing to take the time—the patience—to point the way to others.

Plenty, because he believes that being trustworthy, loyal, obedient, courteous, and reverent is important to the development of his young "charges."

He doesn't make a penny, but there are plenty of rewards—including the satisfaction of knowing that to those bedded-down kids of his he rates First Class.

How about giving him a hand in his work? Invest in Scouting.... Now!

Five Youths to National FFA

Five Collingsworth boys are attending the national convention of Future Farmers of America in Kansas City, Mo., this week, traveling with a group from over the Panhandle.

Going from Wellington were Tony White, Dan Henard, Jr. and Kyle Lindley. Quail Future Farmers were Walter Neely and Billy Wilson.

The boys left by train from Amarillo Sunday and will reach home Friday. During their stay in Kansas City, they will be at the Hotel Senator.

Boys are chosen to represent their chapters at this national event on the basis of character, cooperation, grades, and popular vote. Approximately 10,000 boys will attend.

The FFA convention immediately precedes the Kansas City Royal Livestock Show.

New Labeling Law Due Soon

You will soon be seeing new tags and labels on draperies, floor coverings, furnishings, bedding and clothing. This should help you get maximum satisfaction and use from fabrics, says Charlotte Tompkins, extension home management specialist for Texas A&M College.

The new fabric labeling law goes into effect March 3, 1960. It requires that names and percentage of all fibers constituting more than 5 percent of the whole must appear on the label and in the order of their predominance. Piece goods must carry the correct label or tag on the roll but pieces sold from the roll need not be labeled if the consumer has had an opportunity to see the label on the original unit.

No one can look at modern fabric or feel it and say with certainty what fibers are contained in it. For this information we are dependent on labels. Maximum performance and maximum satisfaction from a fabric are dependent on the nature of the fiber content, construction and finish of the fiber and its proper use and care. Many manufacturers have been giving this information on labels. The new law should give information on all fabrics and should protect us from mislabeling.
