

AROUND TOWN SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

A letter from the Mountainair, New Mexico, Chamber of Commerce this week left several Hereford people with red faces. The Mountainair men, working in cooperation with the Hereford C. of C., have contributed extensively to the promotion of Highway 60 as the logical route to California—and both organizations advanced money in the fund to place signs in Amarillo advertising Highway 60. In addition, delegations from each of the towns have visited the other during recent weeks.

The "beautiful friendship" teetered in balance, according to the Mountainair letter, when three of the New Mexico citizens decided to check Highway 60 enthusiasm in Hereford. They stopped at three service stations and were told three separate times, "Highway 60 is the best route to take."

Friday afternoon the Hereford Highway 60 association held a meeting at the Lions-Rotary hall. About 16 people attended to hear Earl Phillips declare Hereford was one of the "best and shortest route to California. It is 29 miles shorter to go to Globe on 60, than to go by Highway 70."

"If we are going to have a Highway 60 Association that really works, we are going to need the support of everybody along the highway in publicizing advantages of the road. The effectiveness of our campaign depends upon the real enthusiasm shown by every town on the coast to coast road, and everybody in those towns who depend on the road," said Phillips.

And the paved road discussion still dominates the farmer-rancher conversation. As one man said this week, "Being a farmer I can't go anywhere unless it rains; and livin' in the country I can't go anywhere when it does rain."

At a special Thursday morning meeting of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the group agreed merchants would observe the same closing dates during 1949 that were posted in 1948, chairman Johnnie Pool announced. The majority decided to remain open for business July 4, as this is the busy season for farmers of this area, and the merchants felt it created a special circumstance whereby they should remain open.

The 1949's holiday dates, therefore, will be: Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5; Armistice Day, Friday, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 24; Christmas Day, Monday, Dec. 26; New Year's Day, Monday, Jan. 2.

It wasn't a fire Thursday morning, those short, erratic blasts of the five whistle that made people wonder if the (Continued on Page 8)

Hereford's Building Spiral Continues

Early in February a published survey showed more than six million dollars in buildings completed, and under construction in Hereford during the past three years. Above are pictures of four public service buildings now under construction: No. 1, top, shows preliminary work on Hereford's new $335,000 hotel; 2, Forms are being run on the new $475,000 Shirley School to accommodate the influx of pre-Junior High students; 3, The new $285,000 Deaf Smith County Hospital annex is nearing completion, and picture No. 4 shows the new $50,000 ice plant, also nearing completion.

John Anglin, Negro Tenor, Slated As Second Number On Concert Series

Second guest artist to appear in Hereford under the auspices of the Hereford Concert Association will be John Anglin, 26-year-old negro tenor. Scheduled at 8 o'clock, the concert will be presented at the high school auditorium on Monday, March 14.

Was Boy Soprano Born in Oklahoma City—In 1920, Anglin made his first concert appearance at the age of eight when he sang "Steal Away to Jesus" at the Dunbar School. From that time until he was 16 he sang for many public functions in his boy soprano voice. Fortunately, expert teachers and advisors kept him from singing until his voice was settled, after the change, and as a result, he is one of the few with beautiful boy soprano voices who kept his rare heritage and improved it as a mature singer.

When Anglin began to sing again, he continued study at Xavier University in New Orleans with Sister Mary Elise. During summer vacations he worked with the Negro choir of which he was director and soloist, touring in nearby states. Wherever they sang, Anglin became the topic of conversation among musicians and the public.

No Popular Orchestras Though he has had many offers to sing with popular orchestras, Anglin has consistently refused, being interested mainly in developing his artistic ability through the concert type of music.

Hereford Boys Win Honors In Amarillo Show

Local 4-H and FFA boys, boosted by an enthusiastic crowd of Hereford people, entered the Fat Stock Show and grass identification competition in Amarillo this week, and winners in the Feb. 19 show placed their calves with contenders from other Panhandle points.

Bill Kelly, whose calf won the junior calf show ribbon here, placed 11 in the baby beef show at Amarillo. His calf was sold in Friday afternoon's auction to the American National Bank for 38 cents.

Charles Ralph Springer, blue ribbon winner here, placed twenty-first among the more than 80 calves in the Amarillo show. The calf was sold to Whiteway Food Stores for 37 cents a pound.

Placing third in the class-of-three division, Duane Walker sold his three heaves to Borden and Company, 39 cents; Wilburn Tank Company, 37 cents and to a Mrs. Atchison for 39 cents.

Grass Judging Contest In the Grass Identification Contest, the local FFA team placed fifth among the 22 teams entered. Sponsored by Bill Stanford, the team consisted of Joe Hershey, A. L. Williams, Raymond Cummings with Fred Battersman as alternate.

The Four H team was made up of Jack Flowers, Stanley Slagle and Jim Dodgin with Duane Walker as alternate.

Hugh Clearman, Deaf Smith County Agent, was superintendent of the division.

All of the contestants were entertained Monday night at a dinner in the banquet hall of the First Presbyterian Church, an entertainment given by the Merit Mills.

Bail Set $1,000 In Forgery Case

Charges of forgery were filed Wednesday morning against Richard Bredievo, alias Oliver Bailey, of Denver, Colorado, who forged checks totaling $84 against John Gallagher, Saturday.

The two checks, for $42 each, were given to Hereford Hardware and Phillips and Lawrence Service Station.

Bredievo was arrested Tuesday by Police Chief F. S. Buckalew and turned over to county officials. Judge Leonard Foster set bond at $1,000. Bredievo has been confined to the county jail to await district court action on the felony.

THE WEATHER

Million Dollar Network Of Paved Farm Roads Gets Tentative Approval Saturday

Committee Suggests 100 Miles Surfaced Roads In Farm Areas

Following through upon their request for a network of paved roads running north and south, east and west, over Deaf Smith County, a group of 60 farmers and business men gathered in the Courthouse at Hereford Saturday afternoon to endorse unambiguously a bond issue in support of a paving program acceptable to the majority of the people.

This meeting was instigated after a Monday morning session of the Commissioners Court when interested delegations asked for a farm-to-market road paving program. There is a provision under which the county furnishes the right of way and 75 per cent of the cost; the state pays the remaining 25 per cent and takes over maintenance.

A. J. Schroeter, committee chairman called The Brand office following the general meeting late Saturday afternoon and said the committee, in a preliminary session following the general meeting, had tentatively agreed that it would be practical to surface approximately 100 miles of roads in the county under the proposed plan.

This figure, based on farm-to-market road estimates would run between $800,000 and $1,000,000.

A committee of nine men with two ex-officio members were named at a Wednesday Chamber of Commerce meeting to head the project. A. J. Schroeter will serve as chairman of the committee, working with Clarence Morrison, Lord Hammock, Mal Stewart, Bob Campbell, Ira Ott, Eera Norton, Leo Forrest and Louis Smith. Troy Moore and Fred Blair will serve as ex-officio members.

"The committee was named," said Pete Cowart, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, "to study needs of county and determine where roads should be placed to benefit the most people; to investigate the feasibility of a bond issue to the citizens of the county; and to determine if the program will be acceptable to the State Highway Department."

"Before any appointments were made, we asked the people of the community whom they would like to have serve in the work and they suggested these men we appointed," said Cowart.

Schroeter, speaking for the committee, said they had not yet held a meeting and had no definite report to make. The assembled group gave the committee a vote of confidence on their future plans. Henry Sears (Continued on Page 8)

BRAND ACCUSED OF 'COVERING UP'

Action Demanded On Fire Truck

(Editor's Note: The following letter, signed by 29 Deaf Smith County residents and tax payers, refers to action of the Commissioners Court in session here Monday, Feb. 28, and to subsequent coverage of the meeting carried in The Hereford Brand on Thursday, March 3. The letter, we believe, is self-explanatory—as is the editorial which accompanies it.)

4 March, 1949
Jimmie Gillentine
Editor, Hereford Brand
Hereford, Texas.

Dear Jimmie: We noticed the article in the Hereford Brand, in which it was stated the petition of approximately 300 Deaf Smith County citizens requesting the Commissioners Court to purchase a fire truck and equipment, was turned down, because the county did not have the money. We are surprised that your paper would confuse the issue, and cover up for the Commissioners Court. The petition requested a bond election and not an expenditure from present funds. Undoubtedly you know that the county is in good financial condition and could vote bonds many times this negligible issue requested and undoubtedly, you know that that the payment of a bond issue of $10,000.00 to $15,000.00 over a period of years would not increase the taxes of a single individual more than a few cents annually.

We call to your attention, the following:
1. Every taxpayer in Deaf Smith County would receive benefit from this investment because they own the County Court House; the County Sales Pavilion; County Hospital; and the County School Buildings, and all equipment in each, including road machinery. The county has sustained an increase in fire rates, the same as individuals and will sustain more, and the savings in insurance rates in county property will go far toward the payment for a fire truck.

2. Every person living in Hereford, also lives in Deaf Smith County, and their taxes are used for the benefit of every citizen, and the taxes are pro rated with the Jury fund, Officer Salary Fund, Road and Bridge Fund and every county expenditure. 3. As one resident citizen, 3 miles from Hereford, has stated: (Continued on Page 2)

AN EDITORIAL
The Brand has no apologies to offer for its article covering action of the Commissioners Court last Monday. Reported in the article was actually what happened, and the report was made by a Brand Reporter who attended the meeting. We believe the account covered all facts regarding events which transpired. It is the policy and ideal of The Brand to cover all news items without bias; to report, just as a camera photographs, such events which occur—and to present them to our readers without malice of personal opinion. Editorial opinions of The Brand appear each Sunday on page 3 of the paper. Therefore, we consider the accusation in the accompanying letter one of the highest compliment you could pay us.

On the other hand, The Brand agrees wholeheartedly with signers of this letter from an editorial standpoint, especially when you say: "The people of Deaf Smith County are entitled to express themselves upon this question at the polls." Frankly, it appears to us that the Commissioners Court of Deaf Smith County is giving the 292 petition signers an evasive answer by ignoring the petition clause which asked for a bond election to finance the fire truck—except J. D. Gulpin, Precinct 3, who was quoted in the article under question as saying: "I am not in favor of raising the taxes to buy the truck."

In our opinion, the 292 petition signers are entitled to a direct answer. Although Texas laws may not require the Court to call an election as a result of the petition, The Brand believes that the opinion of such a great number should be given careful consideration—and certainly, these 292 people are entitled to a straight-forward answer.

Upon the answer hinges the people's only alternative: At the polls in the next election of Commissioners.

MONDAY IS DOLLAR DAY

Nylons To Wash Rags—Cheaper

March's Dollar Day catches the early spring bargains and proves Monday is going to be a buyer's market in Hereford. Working girls and housewives alike will welcome the big price reduction in nylons. Watch particularly for the bargains in hose, because they are offering not only dark winter shades, but lighter spring sheers as well. Slips and gowns are also price slashed and spring dresses in this season's styles and colors and budget priced for dollar day to tempt the early season shopper. For the men; watch suit bargains, Easter is only next month. Nylon socks, too, are lower priced than formerly. For the house: Along with spring cleaning campaigns some of the stores are offering towels, and washrags on special to the housewives can restock linen closets. Bed spreads, too, for the women who want a new touch on bedroom interiors when they houseclean are on sale.

Take A Guess! How Many Local Names In February Brands

How many names of people in Hereford and the surrounding territory do you think appeared in The Brand in February?

Make a guess. The operator who sets the type guessed 3,000, declaring there were "more local names than I ever saw in any paper." We all got to wondering, and finally had an audit certified by an accountant. Incidentally, he says if you don't believe him, just try counting them yourself. The results follow:

- Local names 3,301
 - Local News Items 453
 - Around Town Items 189
 - Local Pictures 71
- For more than a year, The Brand has boasted "more local pictures" than any weekly newspaper in the Southwest. Now, we are figuring on adding local names and local news items to the list, all of which goes to prove our point: "The Brand is the only newspaper in the world that gives a darn about Hereford and Deaf Smith County."

Hereford Grocery Prices Point Down In Past Year

Housewives of this area, sparing off budgets and food prices, can find solace in the fact that grocery prices for the last two weeks compared with prices listed a year ago show many food products are on the decline in Hereford.

This is not a blanket fact, however, because some foods are holding their own and a few even show an increase over the same costs listed for the last week of February and the first week of March in 1948.

These price comparisons were made by taking the prices on grocery items in 1948, usually featured as specials, and comparing them with the same articles and same brands listed by the same firms in corresponding weeks of 1949.

A total of 23 items were checked. Thirteen showed price drops, seven were increased and three remained the same.

General downward surge in food costs shows an average of ten cents per item, a total saving on the 13 items with lower prices of $1.34. The biggest drop was in shortening and soap.

Most noticeable cost jump was for coffee, up six cents a pound, and potatoes, up 14 cents each on 10-pound sacks. The seven items, cost-hiked, meant 42 and a half cents in additional outlay.

To get down to cases: two 12-ounce cans of corn sold for 37 cents in 1948; today the same brand costs 23 cents. A three pound can of shortening sold for $1.15; today it is 99 cents. Lard actually showed a drop of over 50 per cent in one store. A three pound carton that sold for 75 cents last March today was priced at 35 cents. Flour was down three cents on a 10-pound sack.

Peaches, two No. 2 cans, were down 11 cents, selling now at 36 cents, and tomatoes showed a two-cent drop to 26 cents. Oranges, which sold at five pounds for 33 cents in 1948, are today offered for 27 cents. Carrots, priced at two bunches for a quarter last year are four cents less.

February Rail Shipments Slow

Santa Fe freight car loadings for February were "pretty slow" according to G. T. Slaughter, agent. A total of 96 cars were received and 102 cars forwarded during the month. Agriculture products or livestock accounted for 93 of the 96 carloads of products shipped out of Hereford, and construction materials were still heading the list of goods shipped in.

Potato cutting season necessitated shipping in 21 carloads of seed spuds.

Record for the month ran: Sent out: Wheat, 19; grains, (mainly milo) 28; cattle, 25; hogs, 2; wheat flour, 12; alfalfa meal, 3; scrap iron, 3.

Received: Wheat, 3; feed, 2; lumber, 8; lime plaster, 8; sand and gravel, 24; trucks and automobiles, 4; oil, 1; potatoes, 21; machinery, 3; fertilizer, 5; brick, 7; pipe, 6 and structural steel, 2.

Mrs. Ettie Mathis flew to Dallas Friday morning of last week, returning Sunday. While here she visited with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Edwards of Denton.

Knowing How To Cook 'In Chinese' Makes Good Cooks Even Better

Acquiring the knack of cooking in Chinese or of making those delicious Oriental sauces that add so much to good American food, is one way of making a good American cook just that much better. Treating food in an Oriental way makes it interesting and delightful, especially when those savory Chinese sauces are combined with meat, chicken or fish.

The Chinese like chicken and many of their favorite recipes are built around chicken, although they are adaptable to beef and fish. To show how few exotic ingredients are required to turn everyday foods into something quite out of the ordinary, here is a recipe that Mrs. Joe Smith has used for years. It calls for chicken but, left over roast beef or pork cut in 1/2 inch cubes may be used.

Chicken Chow-Mein

- 1 hen (medium-sized)
- 2 cups chopped celery
- 2 cups onions—chopped fine
- 1 can bean sprouts
- 1 can pimientos
- 1 small can mushrooms
- 3 tablespoons corn starch (scant) according to amount of broth
- 1 tablespoon Soy sauce
- 4 tablespoons butter

Boil the hen until tender in enough salted water to provide broth, and cut into medium sized pieces. Sauté the onion and celery in the butter, add enough of the chicken broth to cover well and add bean sprouts, pimientos and mushrooms. Simmer for one hour and thicken with cornstarch. Add the Soy sauce, combine all with chicken and serve on beds of rice. Mrs. Smith sometimes serves this on Rice Crispies, which gives variety and delights the children.

The Chinese know what to do with eggs as this method of preparing them indicates. Mrs. Smith who also furnishes this recipe, says it is ideal for supper since it is a whole meal in itself.

Chinese Eggs

- 1/2 cup rice
- 4 hard-boiled eggs
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 2 tablespoons green peppers chopped fine
- 2 tablespoons canned tomatoes
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon onion-chopped fine salt and pepper

Cook rice, drain and season with salt and pepper. Spread in shallow baking dish. Cut eggs lengthwise and remove yolks, then mash yolks well with fork and add 1/4 cup of the cheese, the green pepper, onion and tomatoes and season. Stuff the egg whites with mixture and arrange on rice. Pour around the eggs a sauce made with the remaining cheese and the milk cooked in a double boiler until cheese is melted and blended. Place in oven 350 F. for twenty minutes or until eggs begin to brown. This makes six generous servings.

For the Chinese either one of these dishes would be enough for any meal but Americans like salads and desserts too well to conclude without them. Mrs. Smith uses a shrimp salad that makes a flavorful addition to Chow-Mein.

Avocado-Shrimp Salad

Fill half peeled avocado with fresh shrimp and serve on lettuce. Garnish with French dressing. Even without the Chow-Mein this salad served with broccoli and new potatoes makes tempting luncheon fare. Candied fruits or some of the Oriental candies are desserts that carry out the mood.

Action Demanded

a county fire fighting unit could save several sections of wheat, in case of fire a harvest time.

4. A large number of counties have provided for its citizens, these benefits, and the Commissioners Court would only be keeping in step with other county governments.

5. The poll conducted by the Brand of individuals residing over the entire county, and the petition of approximately 300 names should not be ignored and brushed aside lightly, but should be given consideration. The excuse the county does not now have the money is no answer to the petition requesting the money to be raised by the issuance of bonds.

6. In 1948, out of 36 fires, 13 were outside the City limits, and it is not fair to the citizens of Hereford, who are also citizens of the County, to stand all of this expense.

7. The people of Deaf Smith County are entitled to express themselves at the polls on the question.

8. Personnel of the voluntary fire department should have the cooperation and support of the County officials, as well as all of the people whom we feel sure appreciate their services, and they can not be expected to render good service without adequate equipment.

9. Have you considered the taxable valuations, and the percentage of State and County taxes paid, and the fact that the Commissioners are elected to repre-

THE FARMERS SPEAK OUT

Paving Farm-To-Market Roads Would Benefit All

Twice during the week delegations have gathered in Hereford to promote and discuss the building of paved roads in Deaf Smith County. The first meeting included some 60 taxpayers, mostly farmers, who swarmed in on the Commissioners Court Monday morning; the second meeting held Saturday afternoon, resulted from the first, and was called to secure more public opinion on the subject of paved roads.

Several times during both sessions various persons mentioned an article and map published in The Brand several years ago by former County Judge Fred Baird. The suggestion offered a network of paved roads which would serve most parts of the county, and a similar type network seems to be the aim of most persons today interested in road building.

Since it was established in 1901, The Brand has boosted and worked for any progressive movement in Deaf Smith County. The proposed surfacing program, we feel, is perhaps the most valuable and most important movement to ever come before the people of the area.

County officials Monday said that bonds would have to be voted by the county to carry out any such road building program—and that any road accepted by the State Highway Department might secure 24 percent of the costs in state money, leaving 75 percent to be paid locally. Other officials said they believed the savings in maintenance costs on present roads would pay the bill within a 25-year period.

Benefits to be derived from any paving program are immediately apparent to the county and to the individual in the form of travel, improved property valuations and general community progress. If it is good business for the City of Hereford to build paved roads, the same measure is applicable to the rural areas. Most farmers now have electricity and some form of gas. It is only natural that they should want good roads leading to various points over the county.

Times have changed since 1900, and many of these changes have been wrought by the automobile, which is solely dependent upon good roads. The automobile and the road situation have completely changed the operation of our Federal government, and most of the taxpayers in Deaf Smith County also pay heavily in the form of federal taxes today as a result of this change. Frankly, we believe the people can better build county roads locally than to wait another 25 years for the Federal government to build them—at possibly twice the cost. Certainly, we know that any roads must be paid for if built, whether in the form of county taxes or in federal taxes.

The farmers of Deaf Smith County are speaking out. We are glad to see them express their opinions. Sometimes in the past when a county official has boastfully cited Deaf Smith County as being in the second best financial condition of any county in Texas, we have wondered if the statement might not be a reflection on the operation of the county.

Fifty years ago, land in this area sold for less than $1 an acre. Today, there are still places in the United States where land is selling for less than $1 an acre. These places naturally lack improvements—and good roads.

HEREFORD BOASTS MANY ACHIEVEMENTS

"Since Music Is So Good A Thing"

Hardly an issue of The Brand in the past several months has failed to carry a major story on music. Rarely does an issue miss having music club activities or news of music group presentations.

Group singing is a common inclusion in innumerable stories of social events. In almost every church, congregational singing is a vital part of the service. Music constitutes one of the important branches of curricular and extra-curricular activities in schools and colleges. Great preparation, prestige, and publicity are attached to any type of public concert—in New York City or in Hereford.

Music is commonly referred to as 'the universal language.' The Greeks considered it chiefly as an educational element in the formation of character. Plato said "Musical training is a more potent instrument than any other, because rhythm and harmony find their way into the inward places of the soul."

If music as a medium can bring about the mutual understanding of people from every nation; if it can place on a man a plane of equality the man in the back row of the gallery and the man in the front loge, surely it can form a strong chain, a closer understanding, a unity among the people of one small community.

Music is essentially unselfish—the artist who makes his audience more conscious of himself than of the music he is interpreting is not a real artist. The individuals who use their appreciation of the formal, classical type of music to feed their own egoistic sense of superiority are undermining the very essence of music.

Once music is introduced to the world, it belongs to the world. It does not remain loved and cherished for the glory of the composer, for the glory of the interpreter, nor for the glory of the lone individual who appreciates it. It is for the inspiration, the lifting to esthetic heights or somber moods everyone and any one who hears it, and it glorifies its subject, be it love, joy, sorrow, worship—feelings and emotions which belong to everyone.

From a dissertation on what constitutes good government, Andrew Fletcher says: "Give me the making of the songs of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws."—The lover of music who aids his fellow man to the appreciation of that music is accomplishing an act of good citizenship. Group participation in studying or listening to music is a sign of progress, and an indication of closer unity and harmony among that group. Mass appreciation of music in a community is a tie that binds. —M.B.

of the building, which was constructed for this purpose. The planning and construction was expensive—and forgotten.

Today federal government is big business, which calls for transactions between hundreds of individuals with the various bureaus and agencies from day to day. Most businesses look toward the convenience of their customers, and The Brand believes it would certainly be of convenience to all concerned to have these agencies grouped in one location. Among federal agencies operating in Hereford at present are: Agricultural Conservation Association, Faust Collier, manager; Soil Conservation Association Service, Bill Clutter, manager; Farmer's Home Administration, Walter Johnson, Manager; County Agent Hugh Clearman and Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Tom Draper.

Placing of these offices in the post office building, or at least grouping them on the ground floor of the courthouse, would result in hours of time saved for all concerned.

Another Letter From

The Bootleg

Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher is judging other people by himself, which if you ask us is a poor standard, but we're publishing his letter this week for what it's worth.

Dear editor:

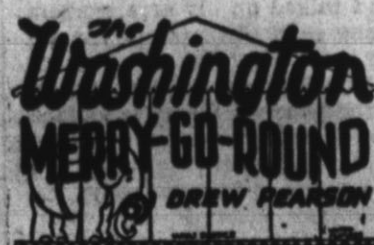

I was out here around Bootleg the other day tryin' to get a whiff of spring, noticin' a certain warmth to the sunshine that means me and my cows just about has the winter whipped, with one-fourth of a bale of Johnson grass hay still left to carry through a sudden March blizzard, which is a great satisfaction, and stumbled on a copy of The Sunday Brand with the wrapper still on it and while that paper makes better fire-wood if you leave it rolled up, I opened it anyway, puttin' intellectual nourishment ahead of physical comfort, and sat down to read where Herbert Hoover and h's commission is gettin' ready to reorganize the Federal government, to make it more efficient.

Then a little further on I read where some legislators has some plans to reorganize the state government, the school system, the prison system, and a few other affairs, to make them more efficient.

Now I don't care much what they do to the federal and state governments, even imagine the county government could stand some improvement, it makes mighty good readin' to hear about plans for makin' government more efficient, but I would like to suggest to them experts that they shouldn't forget that whatever system they install, they still gonna have about the same crew doin' the operatin', and there is some folks who just ain't subject to much improvement, whether they're on a hand-car or a streamliner, they get about the same distance. It don't make much difference in the quality of the politician whether he uses a crank-type telephone or a dial system, whether he legislates in a office heated by a coal stove or atomic energy run by a thermostat. We still get about the same kind of legislation, which must suit most of us as we don't make much change, don't make no difference how many elections we hold.

I had a expert out here lookin' over my farm recently and he made a lot of suggestions on how I could improve it, and I admit if I followed his recommendations I'd be a lot more efficient but what he don't take into consideration is that at the same time I'd be a lot tired-er, and the truth of the matter is what-eyer system I use, this farm ain't gonna produce no more than I'm willin' to produce, and I'm already workin' right up to the limit of my willingness, the same as you and about 95 percent of the rest of the folks—I know.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Show Human Touch

THREE DISTINGUISHED statesmen were on hand to greet the French Gratitude Train when it arrived in Washington—Vice President Barkley and his former colleagues, Senators Connally of Texas, Democrat, and Vandenberg of Michigan, Republican.

These three have served in the senate together for more than a quarter of a century. Sometimes they have been on opposite sides of bitter political battles, but they have never let party politics interfere with personal friendship. They know each other as well as they know the senate—which is better than almost anyone else in Washington. How much Senator Vandenberg knows about the early boyhood of Senator Connally of Texas is his secret.

But at the very conclusion of the ceremonies welcoming the Gratitude Train, as the venerable Tom Connally took a pair of shears and snipped the red, white and blue ribbon sealing the District of Columbia boxcar, his old friend, the senator from Michigan, whispered to the Vice President of the United States:

"I'll bet that's not the first time Tom has broken into a boxcar."

Letters To The Editor

MORE GROWING PAINS

Attn: City Commissioners!

Dear Editor:

Now that our city is so well and brilliantly lighted with some three and one-half miles of new white way lights:

I think it high time to offer up thanks to the Commission for their untiring work in bringing this about, and at the same time we should be thankful for the miles of new paving of streets and alleys.

Looking up and down the well lighted and paved streets of Hereford naturally leads us to think we are now living in a city and not an over-grown town of yesterday, for as matters now stand Hereford is perhaps the most promising city of the Panhandle.

With new oil well outfits moving in, should oil be discovered, the new Hereford hotel of three stories would not be sufficient to take care of the inflow of new people; while we are about it I suggest that the outer walls at least be run up to five stories, with interior of the upper two floors left unfinished for the present. The extra expense of these two upper unfinished floors, as the interior would only amount to a few thousand dollars, and as a stock-holder I would be willing to increase my holdings to bring this about.

Sincerely yours,

L. Baskin.

SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

Dear Editor:

Vigilance has ever been the price of freedom. I told my congregation last year about the long tall boy from Kentucky hills who came down to the little store at the forks of the road and fell in love with a beautiful blue steel rifle. When he found the price was a hundred dollars he stroled back to the door of the little store and looked up toward the hills where he lived for some minutes. Then slowly but resolutely he went back to the counter and counted out the money in bills. The merchant asked him why he had changed his mind finally to buy the gun. He replied, "I was just thinkin' that if'n I ever was to need 'er and not have 'er I'd never need 'er no more." If you ever let your freedom of choice in medicine get away you'll "need 'er but you won't get 'er no more."

This country spends twice as much for liquor as it does for medicine and health now each year and its total costs of all medical help is less than two per cent of our income. Until we have to spend more for medical help than two per cent of our income, and as long as we have 50,000 hospitalization policies in force with 30,000 covering surgery in addition to 33 million Blue Cross policies gaining 45,000 new members each day we are not yet ready to call for socialized medicine. If we could work out a quasi-quid quo day of our hard people with federal money we might carry the program. At present there are thousands of agencies looking for the needs of indigent people. Churches have billions invested in this kind of work that is a blessing to those who give and those who receive. Even the Rockefeller Foundation, such Foundations as the Infantile Paralysis and Heart Research will be ruined with the coming of socialized medicine. Incentive for research will be gone and the spiritual values of charity work will be lost. All medical work will tend to become a matter of government obligation and will watch its soul dry up and die. Voluntary hospitals today do charity work each year running into the millions of dollars and under the help of the Blue Cross are able often to give three dollars worth of service for one dollar in cash. The government would have to pay all cash and it will cost eight billion per year.

Dear Mr. American Citizen, think twice before you sit by while politics takes away from you something you will never get back without bloodshed and revolution. Let your Congressman and Senators know NOW how you feel.

Respectively,

Don R. Davidson

DID YOU KNOW . . .

By HOMER FOX

That James Wallace Robinson played baseball against the New York Giants, and hit a home run?

Back in the Spring of 1918, Jim was playing with the 90th Division and the schedule included a game with the Giants. In the last frame, with the Giants leading 11-to-0, Old "Tubba" came to bat and every Giant player, outfielders and all—except the catcher—ran to the pitcher's box. He slammed one into left field and every Giant player, including the catcher this time, tore out after the ball. Old feet-footed Robinson whizzed around the bases for a home run, and the Giants won 11-to-1. Jim says he probably would have made a homerun, anyway, but some people insist there are some doubts about it.

Press Dyer down in Castro County was one of the best infielders in the country. He also had a habit that always bothered the batters; he seemed to always be right where they hit the ball. Also, he could go a long way after them.

FEBRUARY RECEIPTS CLIMB

Post Office Gains $885 This Year

Postal receipts for the month of February are continuing the five year trend they have shown annually since 1945 by exceeding total volume of the corresponding month for the previous year.

February's totals were $3175.52, up almost 12 per cent from 1948's February figure of $2841.95. The increase amounted to $334.57.

The 28 day month didn't match the January 1949 revenue which amounted to $4,159.25. This was another 15 per cent hike or $554.66, over the $3,604.59 in postal receipts for January, 1948.

Total receipts for the year are $7,334.59, which amounts to $129.94 per day in postal receipts; last year the first two months grossed $3,449.74—giving a total gain of $885.16 for 1949.

Parents-Teen Agers Differ In Opinion On Proposed Curfew Law

What do you think of the proposed idea of having a curfew for young folks up to 18 years of age?

Mrs. S. B. McLallen: "I think it would be a good thing, and I don't think 11:00 o'clock is too early for the young people to be off the streets. The curfew couldn't hurt anything, and it might help."

Grady Poff, (High school student): "I think the curfew will cause trouble. It appears to me that most boys resent the law, and might get into trouble defying it."

C. D. Hardesty: "It's all right. The principle of the curfew is all right. But I really think getting the young folks in early is the parents' problem. Parents should bow curfew rather than city officials. The time set is all right, I believe. However, if the parents can't keep their children in at night, nobody can—schools, churches or officials. A man should have an understanding with his sons about those problems, and a woman should have a mutual agreement with her daughters. It is really their problem."

Glenn Hopson, (high school student): "I don't think that school age children will recognize the authority of city officials to make them stay at home. This is a matter for a child's parents to decide rather than any city governing body."

Roger Corbett: "I don't think the kids should be out even to eleven o'clock. I usually go to bed at 8:00 myself, but when I do have occasion to be in a cafe at 2 or 3 a. m. and see the booths full of kids, I get the feeling they are up to no good. I think the curfew should be strictly enforced."

Rosen-Lance, (High school student): "As far as I know, the students as a whole are against the curfew."

Bill Phillips: "The idea of a curfew is fine. Some provision, however, should be made to take care of the special events—school events, particularly, that last a little later than the usual things. The young folks should have time to come down and have a coke. The curfew will do some good. How much good really depends on how the young people enter into it, and especially, the attitude of the parents toward it. If the parents encourage their children to abide by the curfew, and if they make the children think it is a good thing, the curfew will work."

"CUPID IS STUPID," GIRLS SAY

Valentine Month Void of Marriages

February is Cupid's month; weeks before St. Valentine's Day on the 14th, little Cupid, armed with bow and arrows, begins his march on unsuspecting victims, piercing them through the heart in the twinkling of an eye. He can be seen on Valentine cards, on candy boxes, on gift packages of all descriptions, on decorations for the many sweetheart parties and programs. Yes, February is the month of "hearts and flowers"—but Cupid missed Hereford this year. Not a single couple from Hereford secured a marriage license, and only one was on record for the whole of Deaf Smith County!

BOOKS ON PARADE

'No Place Like Home' -- And These Ideas Help Make It More Enjoyable

By MARGARET BARRETT

There's no place like home, especially when home is the place you have transformed with your own hands, imagination, and ingenuity into the most comfortable background for the kind of life you lead and the kind of personality you have. It used to be the rage to call in a professional decorator to do the home in an ultra-modern or a strictly period setting, often completely ignoring the individual taste of the home owner. Now we have the practical approach: no one knows your needs, likes or dislikes as well as "you." Do your own home—develop your own latent abilities, make your home the most perfect setting for you!

Book On "Know How"
 In the past few years any number of volumes have been compiled around the theme of decorating your own home. One of these, "The American Woman's Encyclopedia of Home Decorating," takes in practically every phase of interior decoration. Prepared by Helen Kowes, for many years director of fashion and director of the studio of architecture, building and furnishing for Good Housekeeping Magazine, this comprehensive volume includes facts and pictures of different kinds of attractive and livable homes which American women are making for themselves. It includes the "know how" of home furnishing from making a slip cover to decorating the complete house. General types of architecture are discussed, together with suggestions about furniture, styles, and color.

How to decorate any type of room, including the proper draperies, bedspreads, and slip covers to enhance it; how to make porches and terraces individualistic and comfortable; how to make use of the small things—ornaments, pictures, mirrors, in making the home more attractive; putting to practical use the things you have—the old furniture, the too-small rooms, the dark hall, the stuffy attic—all of these practical approaches are discussed in detail. A thumb index marking each chapter makes the book readily usable for quick reference.

"Decorating Livable Homes" by Elizabeth Buris-Meyer discusses and illustrates room arrangement, color choices, kinds and use of fabrics, structural and applying finishing, proper choice of floor coverings, and recoginition of different styles of decoration. Traditions and development of domestic design from colonial times to the present are discussed in "American Interior Design," a book by M-gris R. Rogers, curator of decorative and industrial arts at the Art Institute of Chicago.

Curtains and Drapes
 A minutely diagrammed book, "Handbook of Drapery Patterns" by Ina M. Germaine, with drawings by Susan Gabriel, tells all about making and hanging curtains and draperies. The swag valance, tailored jabot, French heading, pinch pleats, traverse curtains—all are pictured in pattern form, together with advice about lining and hanging draperies, making pleats and measuring fabrics.

J. A. Ornstein had an inspiration about people impressing their personalities upon their homes by their own handiwork, and as a result, wrote "Decorating Unpainted Furniture." Ornstein uses peasant art for a decorative motif, giving a step by step procedure of the tools needed, how to use the tools, how to reproduce the art figure desired, how to color it, etc. Pennsylvania Dutch, Scandinavian, and Mexican figures are used in his illustrations.

Another practical source book is "How to Restore Old Furniture" by Raymond F. Yates. Giving old pieces new strength, restoring old finishes, removing paint and varnish finishes, using simple finishes, such as varnish and oils, matching new and old woods, using lacquers—these are some of the things Yates discusses.

Pichard Jefferies' quotation, "Pure colour is rest of heart" serves to introduce Derek Patmore's book "Colour Schemes and Modern Furnishings." Dealing with the psychology of colours, Patmore describes classifications of colours—whether they are warm, cool, rich and brilliant or neutralized—advices on the practical combinations of shades, and discusses color in relation to furniture and fabrics.

Books on practically any phase of home decoration you can desire are available. Many can be found at the County Library, equipped with these helpful volumes and your own enthusiasm, a spring session with your home as a subject, should be something for which to look forward.

Ho-Hum It's Spring!

Did you ever notice how Hereford wakes up in the morning? Of course during the winter it arouses itself reluctantly. Bad weather is never much of a stimulant toward leaving a warm house and venturing forth in the cold to business or the farm.

And during the harvest season there's still another transformation. The morning starts off early—with a bang—like a bounding ten-year-old boy on the first morning of vacation.

But early spring weather is different. Then the town gets up easily, stretches languidly, and walks forth into the day.

It's a pattern; houselights spot on over town; the night silent air is crowded with early morning sounds as bacon sizzles; dishes clatter, electric razors hum, the radio voice drones on, an exasperated mother calls a sleep child for an exasperated mother calls a sleepy child for a nap and is spurred down the street.

The "early bird" risers along Main Street have already paved the way, saying "good morning" with the fragrant aroma of coffee and the smell of fresh baked bread.

One by one the storekeepers unlock their doors, switch on lights sweep off their sidewalks and transform their businesses from stony placidity to their normal functions in the daily routine of life.

The farmer stops by on his way to his cattle or his crops. Coffee groups congregate and on journey after the mail. But the 8:30 post office crowd breaks up, people "get down to business," the school bell rings and the morning rolls along into infinity. Hereford has waked up. —P.R.

District Garden Club Leaders Plan For Hereford Convention

Hereford Garden Club

The Hereford Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. H. E. Miller Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock with Mrs. O. G. Hill, president, presiding. Mrs. Homer Brumley, president of the Hereford Garden Club Council, announced plans for the spring convention which will be held here in April and committees were appointed by the president.

Mrs. Hill also appointed Mrs. Marion Rutter, Mrs. A. V. Hendrick and Mrs. Leroy Aven to serve on the nominating committee.

A roll call was answered by Mrs. A. O. Thompson, who told of the Cooperia, better known as the rain lily, and by Mrs. O. G. Hill who discussed Zephyranthes, and its 50 varieties, one of which is the swamp flower.

Mrs. Will S. Kerr gave "An Evaluation of Daylilies" explaining that one way to evaluate is to compare the evaluations given by both amateur and professional growers. Basing her remarks on the Herbaria Society, she urged growers to watch for new varieties to replace non prolific old ones. Listed among those suitable for this area were Early blooming variety—Zouave, Duncan, Victory, Montevideo, Early midseason—Duchess of Windsor, Ming Toy, Patricia, Dr. Stout, Marcella and Theron. Late midseason—Hyperion, Port, Wolf, Red Bird and Pink Lustre. Late bloomers—Autumn Red.

Mrs. E. Ramey told of "The Uses of Daylilies, calling attention to the fact that the foliage is very attractive and by careful selection of varieties color may be enjoyed in the garden from May to September. She also mentioned the use of daylilies for food in China where the people raise the flowers as crop.

"We get it in America in the form of gum stoy and gum jum," she said.

A round table discussion on the Amaryllis was conducted at the conclusion of the program.

Members present were Mesdames Leroy Aven, Dennis Barnard, Jim Black, Homer Brumley, Roy Crutchfield, C. C. Ferguson, Marshall Formby, W. S. Fruit, E. E. Fridley, E. W. Harrison, A. V. Hendrick, O. G. Hill, John Jacobson, Jr., C. D. Kelton, Will S. Kerr, A. L. Manjeot, E. Ramey, Marion Rutter, A. O. Thompson, Phil Barkley, and the hostess.

Bud-To-Blossom Club

Mrs. J. D. Nellis was hostess for the Bud-To-Blossom Club at a coffee Friday morning. Mrs. Ben Childers directed the business meeting when Mrs. H. H. Caraway, president of the club, was elected the club's outstanding woman for the County Federation chart.

Mrs. Cecil Parker spoke on "Lilies" stressing the importance of drainage and stating that Regal Lilies are well adapted to this section.

Mrs. Chester Wiggalls showed and talked on lily arrangements using calla lilies, lily of the valley and Regal lilies.

Mrs. William Hull showed two arrangements using succulents, one showing a contrast in green in a copper silent butler, and the other a figurine using succulents.

Those present were Mesdames Ben Childers, R. A. Daniel, Jr., Paul Harvey, Tom Howard, William Hull, J. D. Nellis, Cecil Parker, W. H. Patton, Chester Wiggalls and George Olson.

Garden Beautiful Club

A business session was held by the Garden Beautiful Club at two o'clock Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frances Houston. Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, Jr. was named club woman of the year and plans were outlined for the district Garden Club Spring Convention which will be held on April 8-9.

Members voted to contribute ten dollars to the Aubadon Society.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames N. D. Bartlett, Jr., George Graham D. C. Kinsey, J. M. French, F. P. Lyons, R. B. Miller, Forrest Minton, Helen Pipkin, Carroll Whiteside, W. M. Stovall, Lisle Woodford and the hostess.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to loved ones for your presence, your cards, and the beautiful flowers which made my 75th birthday a day I will always remember.

Junior-Senior Banquet Gaiety Is Echoed With 'Revelry In Madrid'

One of the happiest occasions of high school days is the annual Junior-Senior Banquet when members of the Junior Class feted the senior group with feasting and merrymaking.

This year the banquet was held at the First Baptist Church on Thursday night where the fellowship hall was festively and authentically decked to represent a rock-walled Spanish garden with thousands of American Beauty roses traditionally carrying out the theme "Revelry in Madrid."

The dark walls of the garden, the myriads of stars overhead, the flowers that bloomed everywhere and the silver and blue colors that marked the setting were emphasized in candlelight.

The blue and silver colors of both classes, the American Beauty rose, Junior class flower, and the Iris, senior class flower, the class mottoes—senior: "To be rather than to seem" and the junior: "When You Find the Aim in Life Pull the Trigger," were all given accent in memory books, featuring the menu and program inside.

Program of Interest

Danny McLallen, a senior, gave the invocation and Duane Christian, president of the junior class, served as toastmaster. "The Land of Beginning Again" was given by Gayle Foster as a welcome to the guests and Ronny Durham, president of the senior class, gave the response. "Our Colors" The Blue and the Silver, was presented by Nancy Cagle.

A balcony scene, "Ramona and the Caballero" was presented in costume with Martha Jean Brown as the gay senorita, serenaded by Senor Cheo, of Mexico City, a student at Walyand College.

Betty Jo Carnahan read a poem "To Our Teachers" and the Prophecy was presented by Colleen Brown and Pat Corbett. Musical entertainment was provided by the high school sextet which is made up of both Juniors and seniors, as they sang "The Isle of Capri" and "Cuanto Le Gusta."

The main address of the evening was delivered by D. C. Martin, Central School principal, who spoke on "The Silver Lining." John Newsum gave the Class Will followed by "Thanks for the Memory" by Inez Tucker. In conclusion the entire group sang "Moonlight and Roses" followed by the benediction given by Eariena Phillips.

Sponsors of the senior class are Mrs. Eleanor Hudspeth and Pat Sullivan and the junior sponsors are Miss Thelma McMinn and Bill Stanford.

Senior class officers include Ronny Durham, president; Sallie Womble, vice-president; Doris Jean Smith, secretary-treasurer and Patsy Longbottom, reporter.

Junior class officers are Duane Christian, president; Claude Melugin, vice-president; Bobby Jane Sisk, secretary; Alma Faye Knox, treasurer, and Jack Reynolds, reporter.

Sports Round-Up

By "SKEETER" SKELTON

I'm still trying to get their opinion of the new golf club from the "Sports Authorities" down at Homer's place, and they're still ignoring me and talking about the old one. Once those guys get started on an incident which took place 20 or 30 years ago, nothing short of dynamite or the "Podunk Panthers" winning the World's Series can cause them to talk about anything else for days.

The last time I mentioned golf in Fox's store, Roy Smith and Earl Wood threw me to the floor, sat on my chest, and forced me to listen to Homer's tale of the first "One-Stick Tournament" ever played in Hereford. It was a "flag" tournament played with a handicap which the "Experts" explained, means that each player was allowed only a certain number of strokes, according to his skill, and when he had used up his allotment, he hoisted a red flag, usually made of B. V. D. material, which showed how far he had advanced over the course.

In this first tournament, C. C. "Tuffy" Acker found himself matched against some of the expert players who were mentioned in Thursday's Brand.

"Tuffy's" opponents were pretty confident in their own ability to win, since their opinion of his golfing was anything but high. To show "Tuffy" they weren't afraid of him, they didn't impose his 119 stroke handicap on him, but told him that he could play from noon until sundown—at which time he was to stick his flag in the ground, and to go home to await news of the results of the contest.

Dame Fortune smiled benevolently on "Tuffy" Acker that day, for of the three opponents who were out to give him a beating, none finished the match. For obvious reasons, these gentlemen must go unnamed.

Number one, while walking carefully through the bear grass and prickly pears, encountered a rattlesnake and was forced to flog the reptile to death with his nibble. Damage to number one's nerves and to his nibble was so great that he withdrew from the contest.

Number two, attempting to negotiate the course, armed only with a putter, lost his ball, and after three hours of fruitless search for it, broke his club in a fit of pique.

Number three, who had sneaked away from home, was apprehended by his wife and had to go to a bridge party.

An interesting climax to this story occurred the next day, when the losers went down to check on the progress "Tuffy" had made.

Feeling certain that Acker had plenty of time to finish the course in the time allotted him, the defeated contestants began their search for the winner's flag at the ninth hole. They found nothing there, and went on to the eighth hole—but no flag awaited. And so it went; the boys walking from hole to hole looking for the winning banner in vain. At last they decided that "Tuffy," too, had given up the game, and gone home before he finished. Chuckling to themselves about their good fortune in not having lost the tournament to the tyro, they strolled by the first hole on the way to their cars. Suddenly they stopped and stared with amazement toward the sand trap which looked like someone had been digging in it with a steam shovel, was "Tuffy's" B. V. D. banner, waving defiantly in the morning breeze. "Tuffy" had almost—but not quite—finished the first hole, and had thereby won the tournament.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our friends who were so thoughtful during our illness. The cards, flowers and food which you so generously sent us, was appreciated very much.

Mrs. J. B. Sneed and Betty Sneed.

John W. Collier Dies In Amarillo

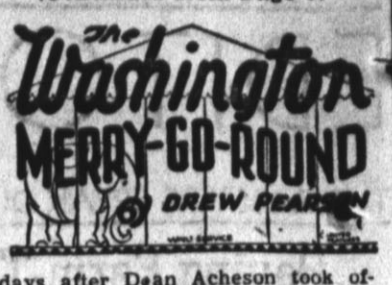

Word was received here Saturday morning of the death in Amarillo of John W. Collier, Hereford resident and salesman for the Parke-Davis Drug Company. Mr. Collier died of a heart attack suffered Friday night, close friends of the family said.

His death was discovered by hotel men who went to call him Saturday morning.

No details of funeral services or interment were available by press time, Blackburn Shaw Funeral Home of Amarillo is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Collier was born in Dallas about 1910. He was a navy veteran of World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Edna Lee, a son, "Skeeter," and three brothers, who live in Dallas and a sister of Fort Worth.

days after Dean Acheson took office.

Bevin sent what amounted to a frantic SOS to Acheson for help to get him enough votes to squeak by an attempted censure of British foreign policy in the house of commons. But after Acheson helped to get him the votes, Bevin, in effect, bit the hand that fed him.

Here is the inside story of what happened:

Just before the debate on Palestine, Bevin was worried sick that the Labor party might be defeated and have to resign. Part of the criticism was because of Britain's policy in Palestine was upsetting American relations. Therefore, Bevin hit on the idea of telling parliament that the Britain and the United States had settled their differences and now agreed completely on Palestine.

Pianist Walter Gieseking gave a concert as scheduled at Carnegie hall because of American protest. He left by plane for Europe 48 hours after he arrived. He refused to avail himself of an offered public hearing to back up his statements of innocence with proof. . . . Just how he managed to get an American visa is another of those state department mysteries the Congress should probe. . . . Who in our government arranged it?

To forgive and forget is noble. To this rule the world must return some day. . . . But it is typical Nazi bad taste to believe the American public would permit a Nazi musician at Carnegie hall at the same time a ship bearing 5,000 war dead was lying in the harbor.

The dead American boys who died to the ear-splitting explosions of Nazi shells have earned at least the silence of a Nazi piano player—while they are being carried home.

An outfit which calls itself the Civil Rights Congress made an all-around nuisance of itself in Washington during Inauguration Week. They button-holed Government officials and made various protests including one against the trial of Communist Party leaders.

The Civil Rights Congress has been named as a subversive organization by the Justice Dept. But what good is listing them as subversive—if nothing is done to stop their subversive activities?

The Post Office department is circulating free (without postage) propaganda against the United States. The same as Hitler did at the expense of U.S. taxpayers. This propaganda is mailed from the Argentine Embassy in Washington. It is a book titled: "Peron Exposed: His Doctrine." It urges all workers to join the Peron Revolution. And it bears the U.S. stamp—which reads: "Diplomatic Mail Free." When, oh, when, Mr. Postmaster-General, will we ever learn? Ladies and gentlemen, if you can spare the time, please send a letter of protest about this to the Postmaster-General at Washington and help fight these rodents.

Mme. Evita Peron had the supreme gall to send clothing to American orphans in Washington. . . . This is conscience money of a kind because her dictatorial husband helped Hitler kill so many American seamen by permitting Nazi subs to refuel in Argentina waters. . . . Better, we think, would be an invitation to visit Arlington Cemetery. . . . Where both the Madam and her husband should be forced to kneel at the graves of the Americans the "neutral" Mr. Peron helped murder.

Fashion Survey Reveals New Styles Made For Fun

By PHYLLIS RADOVICH

Fashion firsts for '49 are going to be "bare-er and bare-er" if resort clothes prove again to be the gauge of spring fashions. In the winter sun-lands the trend of dress is toward undress.

Influence of American playland spots extends even to the color harmonies for spring and summer. The sun and the surf are in style and the color sphere revolves around them. Oranges, yellows, and tans, all the sand colors, are the big news. Even the neutrals have more brown than usual.

Sky colors follow close on their trail—all the blues from bright to navy, will walk in the Easter parade. The third color highlight of the season is white.

stark white to sparkle in the sun.

Necklines Make News
Now that hemlines have settled on 14 inches from the floor, necklines are the big news. Designed to make people sit up and take notice, the new blouses have deep cowl necklines, off shoulder decollete, completely strapless tops or necklines slashed way to here.

And naturally the new bare top fashions brought back a revival of the bolero. So now dress, plus jacket, equals a costume to solve wardrobe problems for any hour and any occasion.

Its the strapless sundress with matching bolero, or stole, that literally stole the show at resorts this season—so watch for them to hit the shops in all designs, materials and colors. cottons, linsens, shantung, and paisley prints are far in the lead. The strapless bathing suit is already old stuff to winter vacationers.

One of the dresses destined for popularity for example is the cotton pique with tiny, near invisible shoulder straps, and knife-pleated skirt. White cotton embroidery decorates the skirt and for a more or less covered-up look a fishnet stole in the same white cotton thread completed the costume.

Prints are hit parade contenders. Wonderful paisleys with a flavor of exotic lands, are enjoying a popularity they haven't seen in two decades. By way of contrast the tiny, demure called numbers, reminiscent of the hurricane lamp era, hit a peak of appeal started last season.

Another popular design is the "ocean-wave" print. Specially designed scallops, in graduated sizes, decorate the material, two inch scallops at the waist grow to 12 inch at the hemline.

Iridescent, chambrays to shimmer in the sun and denim that now has a big-city air are going to be important wardrobe additions, and the silk dress is back again to every woman's delight.

As days get warmer and warmer and town dark cottons give way to something lighter and more feminine voiles and organzies are going to find their way into the fashion world.

After Five Gown
One of the cutest fashions on display at a recent resort style show was a white organza ballet length after-five gown. It featured a double tiered skirt, a simple blouse with wing sleeves and tiny red roses embroidered around the Peter Pan collar. A cluster of red roses were worn at the waistline.

Another applauded number was a paisley print in a muted lavender shade made with a low cut neckline, tiny puffed sleeves and an empire waistline riding high, but fitted oh-so-smoothly into a gored skirt. A matching stole was worn with the dress.

But, although there is always a place for the feminine gown, the frills and flirtation accessories, there is also always a place for the tailored and trim.

Proof is found in the sleek skirt design, the well cut boleros, (watch flare back jackets and cuffed off boleros) and the interest in separate blouses which came back in answer to women's demands.

What to wear with these new fashions? The tailored type has an answer; ribbon bands, crisp and plain on shiny straw hats; a few well-selected scatter pins, small and delicate to sprinkle over suits and blouses; a small cluster of flowers, or one single

Legion Invites Public To Big Birthday Party

Legionnaires have invited the public to their big birthday celebration Tuesday, March 15, at Legion Hall in Veteran's Memorial Park. Bingo games will be the featured entertainment and prizes of aluminum wear pieces will be awarded.

The fête is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. Lloyd Neill was appointed general chairman of the affair when the American Legion held their regular meeting Tuesday night. Hal Blymiller was named publicity manager, T. J. Cray, commander, said.

Members also agreed to sponsor a Junior Baseball team this summer. Ray Hardy will have charge of the project and announce completion of their plans later.

Grant Hannah, adjutant, announced that a quota of 228 in membership had been assigned to the local post, and to date 191 paid up memberships had been accepted.

Beta Eta Chapter Compliments Two Prospective Brides With Shower

Two members of Beta Eta Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority were showered with gifts Monday night when a chapter meeting was held in the club rooms at the court house. Miss Pauline Loerwald was hostess and as a custom in the club, passed a box of chocolates among members to announce her approaching marriage to Bill Howard on March 25. Bettye Kathryn Hodges who will become the bride of Bobby Owen on Easter Sunday was the other surprise honoree.

During the business session of the meeting plans were made for the Chapter's second anniversary dinner which was held Saturday evening at Engman's Cafe.

Miss Loerwald conducted the program on "Connoisseur of Wines and Cocktails."

Refreshments were served to Bess Hagar, president, Jeanne Williams, Marian Plummer, Bettye Kathryn Hodges, Doris Pickens, Frances Young, Troyce Hanna, Ruth Loerwald, Pauline Loerwald, Virginia Curtisinger, Jolene Curtisinger, Adeline Koelzer, Ruth Pickens, Marie Denon, and Ellen Carter, educational director. Mrs. Velma Hodges and Mrs. J. A. Loerwald, mothers of the prospective brides, were special guests.

J. M. French has been in town this week, having returned from seeing after business interests in Del Norte, Colorado.

Larmer, Mrs. Paul Harvey, Mrs. J. P. Slaton, Mrs. S. L. Easley. Mrs. Homer Brumley as president of the Council will serve as general chairman of the convention, assisted by garden club presidents, Mrs. O. G. Hill, Hereford Garden Club; Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, Jr., Garden Beautiful, and Mrs. E. H. Caraway, Bud-To-Blossom Club.

Old Age Pensions Is Topic Before Welfare Workers

Norman Whisenand attended an area staff meeting of field workers from the State Department of Public Welfare at the Potter County Court House in Amarillo, when the problems of the office and the question of new applicants were discussed. Aria E. Holland, supervisor of the area conducted the meeting. One of the main speakers in the discussions was W. E. Scariett, field representative of Region 9, whose headquarters are in Lubbock.

In a forum in which all the directors, the seven field workers and Mrs. Margaret Gregg, child welfare supervisor of Potter County, participated, the three main functions of the department were discussed: Old Age assistance, aid to needy blind and aid to dependent children.

Culminating the program, each field worker was given an assignment which he prepared and discussed for the group on general functions of the office with emphasis on consideration of the new applicant.

Purchase of an organ has been a major project this week of a committee from the First Christian Church. The church group has ordered an Allen organ, which is expected to arrive from Dallas some time next week. Following installation, a dedication service will be held, exact time to be announced later.

The Brand didn't realize it was solving domestic difficulties when it always published two sections of The Sunday Brand. However, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Evans point out they've worked out a regular routine to eliminate arguing about who gets the paper. She takes the society section; he takes the news section. Then when they've finished surveying the stories, they trade. Presumably young David has the funny paper section all to himself because no mention was made of the comics.

'Occupied Territory In Germany' Is Topic Of Dawn Study Club Tuesday

"Occupied Territory in Germany" was the subject for the program when the Dawn Study Club held a meeting in the home of Mrs. R. N. Miller Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. William Wimberley told of the distressing conditions in Germany and of the hunger among the children. She illustrated her remarks with maps in describing the amount of territory in the occupied zone. In conclusion she advocated a union of all agencies in an effort to alleviate a part of the suffering and want in Germany.

Following her talk an open discussion on the needs of Germany was held.

Announcement was made that the next meeting will be held with Mrs. Iverson Leake in Canyon and that Dr. Stuart Condon of WTSC Canyon will be guest speaker.

Members present were Ernest James R. B. Latham, Ernest May, Melvin May, H. V. McCabe, Gayle Neal, Carl Wimberley, William Wimberley, Floyd Walton, C. S. Parker and the hostess.

critic of the Daily Oklahoman, wrote in his Sunday column in 1942: "... One of the most satisfying features of (Anglin's) work, apart from his gorgeous voice and starting technique, was the intelligence and artistry he employed in braving. Evidently he considers words of a song mean something, which is really quite a good idea, but he does not stop with that. He considers each sentence in its whole meaning and arranged his breathing so that the sense of his words will not be broken."

Admission to the Anglin concert will be through Hereford Concert Association membership only.

Million Dollars

pledged the support of the Chamber of Commerce.

Schroeter pointed out that needed to decide on the most important roads in the county, but the state—since they contributed 25 per cent of funds—held some governing on the project.

Traffic Count Listed
Noile Elliston, who asked if state road checks might have some bearing on the roads acceptable to the state for paving, was assured they probably would. Current readings on state gauges place Harrison Highway first; Wyche Road second; Wildorado Road third; Progressive Road fourth; and Ford Road fifth, in road use.

Outlines State Plan
Coward outlined the part which the farm-to-market project had had in the paving projects along Harrison and Highway 51.

"Federal allocations have been made for the past five or six years on this farm-to-market project. For 1949-1950 each county in this 18th district was allotted 8.2 miles of paving. The former program had given them 16 miles.

"County Commissioners, on advice from the State Highway Department (with the traffic count signalling the project) put the 16 miles of paving on Highway 51 and were granted an additional 10 miles to close the paving gap on that road," Coward said.

"In the last program 8.2 miles were put on Harrison, the number one unpaved road in the county. Commissioners got the Highway Department to add 29 miles on this road to complete the paving. These additional allocations came from the secondary road fund, not the farm-to-market money from other counties. All farm-to-market allocations have to be put in on one strip, not divided equally among the precincts," said Coward.

Farm-to-market paving projects run about eight to ten thousand dollars per mile. Harrison highway will cost about twenty thousand dollars per mile.

A bond issue, such as contemplated by Deaf Smith, will if accepted, not affect future farm-to-market allocations, apparently, said Schroeter. The 25 per cent paid by the state will not come off the farm-to-market quota for the county.

Childers Heads VFW, Plans For Ball Club Made

New officers were elected for the following year when Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 4818, held their regular meeting at the VFW Hall in Veterans Memorial Park, Thursday night.

Some 25 members were present and they agreed to work on a membership drive whereby each one would add two new members or two former members now on the inactive list to the active rolls of the organization or pay a five dollar penalty.

Plans for the baseball season were discussed; Larry Loerwald was made planning manager of the team and Earl Woods, business manager.

"Sixteen new baseball suits were ordered this week, and the boys will wear them instead of the softball suits they had last year," said Phillips. "We are going to need the support of Hereford people at our ball games, to help pay for these uniforms, but we're going to have some good games for them to see."

County Records Fifteen Births For Past Month

Records for the month of February show fifteen births recorded in Deaf Smith County. In January 24 births were recorded, making a total of 39 births thus far in 1949.

February births include: Ben Bradley Sudduth, Feb. 1, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Sudduth, Jr.; Connie Joe Lee, Feb. 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lee; Ronald Eugene Huckert, Feb. 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Henley; Sandra Carolyn Chisum, Feb. 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Chisum; Larry John Brown, Feb. 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Brown; Robert Joseph Gallagher, Feb. 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher.

Red Cross Nets

$3,508 Saturday

Red Cross donations are climbing toward the county quota of $5,028 with receipts totaling $3,508.39 by Saturday noon. Dyalitha Brady, executive secretary announced.

"We want to compliment the rural and residential workers, particularly for their marvelous work and to thank them for their co-operation. The response from residential volunteers was one hundred per cent. Rural workers, delayed because of bad roads, are hard at their jobs right now," said Mrs. Brady.

Business districts are lagging behind the others, she said, but were expected to pick up this week.

"We hope to terminate the drive by next Wednesday, if possible. We are still $1518.61 short of the goal," concluded Mrs. Brady.

Mrs. W. E. Springer, Mrs. Maurice Tannahill, Mrs. George Springer, and Mrs. Liston Wilson left Sunday morning for a 10-day trip to New Orleans where they planned to attend the Mardi Gras.

Mr. and Mrs. Urlin Streu and Miss Elizabeth Yarbro are attending gift shows in Dallas and Oklahoma City this week end.

Hereford Riders Club Gains Recognition Over Panhandle

All set for greater accomplishments is the Hereford Riders Club. The group is now incorporated; the new charter has been received, new officers have been elected and new projects are under way.

Officers for 1949 are: J. D. Neill, president; Joe Kendall, vice-president; Nell Spradley, secretary; and Jeff Roberson, treasurer. Board members are J. D. Neill, Ky Lawrence, Joe Kendall, Mrs. Pat Lawhon and T. W. Roberson.

Organized in 1947

On September 18, 1947 the Deaf Smith Riders Club was organized, first of all for fun, but also for service to the community. W. J. Smith, now of El Paso, was the first president and on November 11 that year the Featured on Page 1 of this section will be found pictures portraying members and a few activities of the Hereford Riders Club. The pictures were collected from event to event, and although even color photographs could not do justice to the fervor and flash which the organization injects into parades and festive occasions, the pictures do furnish some background for this article. fare and $75, to Christmas Cheer Baskets were made.

Again on Armistice Day, 1948, the club had a part in the VFW-American Legion parade.

Interest in the organization is kept high by varied entertainments such as the observance of holidays, parties, square dances, picnics and other outdoor affairs. One of the highlights of 1948 was the Christmas party for husbands, wives and sweethearts.

New Hereford Riders

At the first meeting of the club in 1949, the name was changed to The Hereford Riders Club. The emblem will symbolize the king of the corral—the head of a Hereford Whiteface bull—and a combination of the letters "HH" and "R" has been chosen to form the official brand, which will mark all uniforms and regalia. Club colors are royal blue and white.

club rode in the Armistice Day parade in its first public appearance with 28 riders. As the club's first benevolent project, a turkey chase for children was held in Veterans Memorial Park just before Thanksgiving with the hope of giving aid to some family.

Last year the club took part in various activities of Hereford and rodeos in other towns and cities. In February the group rode in the 4-H Club Fat Stock Show Parade and helped in a big way to make Hereford's Fiftieth Anniversary Parade a success on May 8. Jeff Roberson, Pat Lawhon and Lee Hopson served as parade marshals, and that was the first showing of the club's new Texas flag. In June the club took part in the Clovis, New Mexico Pioneer Day parade.

Special Aid Given

One of the club's activities that will be long remembered was the rebuilding of a house for an unfortunate family whose home had been destroyed by fire. Another group provided the materials and fifteen members of the best appearing riding club the club rebuilt the house under the direction of friendly and helpful carpenters.

On July 19, members of the club took part in Amarillo's "Waddy Week" and were guests in the Rodeo. They rode in the Annual XII Roundup Parade in Dalhart on July 30, and in August twenty five members rode in Tucuman's Sheriff's Posse Parade and Rodeo.

Win $50 Prize

Competing with eleven clubs, the Deaf Smith Riders won the Sheriff's Posse's $50 award for in the parade, based on horsemanship, horses and uniforms.

In September the club assisted Friona in the Friona Fair Parade and as a money-making plan for the maintenance of benevolences, chances were sold on a 700 pound calf bought by the members. Many projects were sponsored to swell the benevolence fund and last year donations of $200, to the High School Cafeteria; $100, to County Wel-

Scouters Plan Annual Easter District Camp

A Scout Leaders Roundtable was held at the Scout Hut, Thursday night to discuss the preliminary dedication programs underway in the nation, preparatory to 1950's big Fortieth Celebration in Scouting.

Theme chosen for that nationwide event is "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty," and scouts will work toward that goal by strengthening their own organization in the ensuing year.

Harry Delashmutt, of Amarillo, scouting field executive, interpreted for the 14 men present the public ceremonies planned in other districts, whereby scouts pledge themselves to cooperate in the organization-building program. He asked for the participation of the Hereford associations in such work.

Members present also discussed plans for the annual Easter district scout camp held in Palo Duro Canyon, and a scout leaders' camp training course. This course will consist of seven semi-monthly meetings starting Mar. 11, and terminating in a wilderness camp scheduled for sometime in May.

Present for the meeting were Urllin Streu, district commissioner; John Hicks, assistant district commissioner in charge of scouting; Wilbur J. Hlatt, of Amarillo, council executive; Harry Delashmutt, J. C. Reese, district camping and activities committeeman; O. L. Bybee and T. J. Clay, post 50 committeemen for the senior scout organization. Bob Wear, Lowell Sharp, Pick Harman, and Guy Lawrence, Troop 50 committeemen; Bill Phillips, troop 50 scoutmaster; Gerald Wilson, troop 52 scoutmaster, and Bud Bradley, troop 52 assistant scoutmaster.

White Attends Land Bank Meet

Jim White, one of the directors of the local Federal Land Bank, returned last week from Houston where he attended the annual meeting of representative directors from the 49 land banks of the state.

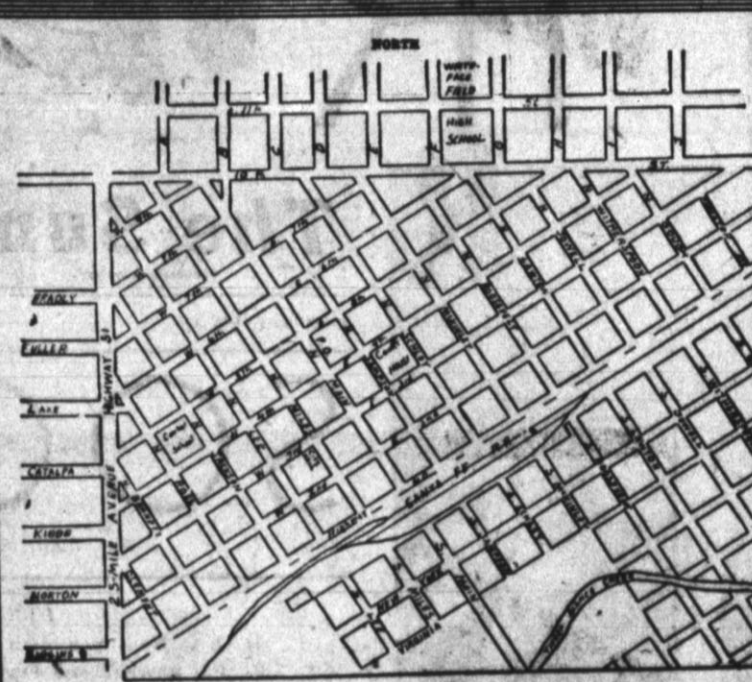

The Federal Land Bank of Houston, headquarters of the Texas banks, entertains these directors who visit the main bank and have the work and project of the system outlined to them.

"It was the Federal Land Bank who pioneered in offering cheap money," they were told by President William Thornton of the American National Bank of Dallas. "Before the land banks came into being, the accepted loan rate was 10 per cent, but they brought it down to the current three and a half or four per cent, putting money within reach, now."

State officials of the banking business were the main speakers during the three day session attended by about 400 directors and guests.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buse for the past two weeks were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jones of Wellington, who stayed with Mrs. Buse while her husband was in the hospital. They returned to their home Saturday.

Aviators have reported swiftness circling about planes which were flying at speeds up to 85 miles an hour.

Take care of your clothes Electrically

EVER stop to think of what a beating your clothes take when hanging on the line on a windy spring day?

That whipping wind tosses them, pulls them, twists them, detracting every minute from their future usefulness to you.

That can be easily avoided through the use of a scientifically designed labor saving home clothes dryer. In this economical machine, gentle puffs of warm air remove the moisture from your wash, leaving it toast dry. You'll avoid, too, the trouble of bundling up to go out to "hang up clothes" and resulting colds and sniffles.

Put an electrical clothes dryer on your list of electrical needs... you'll like it.

Your appliance dealer will gladly give you a demonstration of the efficiency of the new automatic clothes dryers. See him soon.

El Nino Study Club Enjoys Program On Music And Home Management

El Nino Study Club met for a program on "Music" in the home of Mrs. Bruce Woodell Monday night with Mrs. Elizabeth Bonesto in charge of the first half of the two-part program.

Discussing "Music for Children" from "Handbook for Mothers" by William Crevitt, Mrs. Bonesto told of the advantages in developing the appreciation of music while very young and suggested the age of eight as a suitable time for beginning piano lessons. "Other instruments may be taken up later," she said.

Mrs. Alton Biggers conducted the second half of the program and her subject dealt with "Home Management, Problems." She suggested a schedule to fit the size of the family for leisure hours as well as for the actual work of managing a home. Her main thought brought out the need for parents to play and work with their children keeping their time happy and occupied even though other things have to be neglected.

During the business session Mrs. Millard Nobles was named by the club as its outstanding member and Mrs. W. F. Smith was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. R. A. Daniel conducted a true and false quiz on the club's constitution and by-laws with Mrs. Jim Bookout winning the prize for a perfect score card.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames Alton Biggers, Elizabeth Bonesto, Jim Bookout, Ben Childers, Paul Conaway, R. A. Daniel, Jr., Byron Durham, Will Graham, John Jacobsen, Jr., Millard Nobles, W. H. Patton, W. J. Reeves, Ivan Block, Joe Smith and the hostess.

Mrs. Lowell Sharp Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Lowell Sharp was hostess for the Young Mothers Club meeting held in her home Monday night.

A program on "Health" was featured with Mrs. Bartley Dowell reviewing an article entitled "Hang on to Those Tonsils" written by Maxine Davis in a recent issue of Better Homes and Gardens.

The gist of the article was a warning to parents not to rush into tonsillectomy unless the operation is advised by physicians as absolutely necessary.

During the business session Mrs. Richard Barnard, president, announced plans for a joint meeting with El Nino Study Club on March 28.

Members of the club present were Mesdames Delbert Bainum, Dennis Baker, Richard Barnard, Bartley Dowell, G. W. Edwards, Preston Hagans, Paul Harvey, Charles Hill, Don Martin, Joe Rehnauer, John Winkler, Pat Robinson, and the hostess.

W. E. Dameron Honored At Church Class Party

Mayor W. E. Dameron who has been teacher of the Fellowship Class of the First Christian Church for the past twenty five years, was honored by class members Monday night at a birthday party given at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. M. Jones. Forty-two games provided entertainment and a feature of interest was the large birthday cake made by Mrs. Roy Ford and cleverly decorated with sugar-pum buttons and bows interspersed on a musical scale of the song "Buttons and Bows."

Refreshments were served to Messrs. and Mesdames Ira Ricketts, L. Z. Oldham, Roy Ford, J. J. Clark, Harry Seed, Earl Phillips, R. G. Blue, H. M. Thomas, W. E. Dameron, Mr. Rex Tynes, Mesdames C. Ora Cockrell, F. S. Smith, C. R. Smith, A. G. Bell, Nona Jowell, Julia Sowell, Jack Lester, Miss Frances Dameron and the hostess.

Caster Infant Is Buried In Dallas

Funeral services for Sandra Dale Caster, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Caster, were held in Dallas Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Marrs-Mundy-Quill Funeral Home.

Rev. L. C. Craig officiated at the services and burial was made in Grove Hill Memorial Park.

The child was born in Hereford, Jan. 9, 1949, and death followed a seige of whooping cough contracted when her two sisters also had the disease.

She is survived by her parents, who moved to Dallas from Hereford only three weeks ago, two sisters, Mary Darlene and Lona, her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smythe, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Caster.

Burial bearers were Charles Stafe, Nace Maculuso, Charles Forten and Bill Morse. The grandparents, all of Hereford, attended the funeral.

Ruth Class Meeting With Mrs. Tucker

Monthly program and business meeting of the Ruth Bible Class of the First Baptist Church was held in the home of Mrs. F. A. Tucker, 206 Roosevelt St., Friday evening.

Singing of the class song, "Love is the Theme" opened the meeting, after which Mrs. Tandy Legg gave the devotional on Home Life. Mrs. S. B. McLallen gave the prayer.

After a short business session, the meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie" and a prayer by Mrs. R. E. Caddell.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames T. B. Cox, Tandy Legg, Marlin Gilliland, Wayne Lawrence, John Hacker, Veima Hodges, Joe Cufstinger, Sam McLallen, H. E. Miller, F. A. Tucker, and R. E. Caddell, teacher of the class.

Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Fields and son, Johnny, of the Avenue Baptist Church left Thursday for Lubbock to attend the reburial service of a nephew who was killed overseas during the war. They returned today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dameron attended the Fat Stock Show in Amarillo on Tuesday.

Hereford Group In Hot Springs

Fourteen persons formed a party for a three weeks vacation trip to Hot Springs, New Mexico, last week including Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Roberson who were the first to leave Hereford on Sunday, February 27. Thursday Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Waiser, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance and two children, Mrs.

Ky Lawrence, Mrs. Lee Kendall and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kendall left by car. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grady left Friday and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Smith left early this morning.

Fishing, the health baths and possible side trips to near points of interest are included in the plans for the vacation trip.

In its literal meaning, the word perfume is the odor given off with smoke (per fumum).

Fidelis Matrons Covered-Dish Party

Fidelis Matrons Class of the First Baptist Church held a covered-dish supper party and program in the home of Mrs. W. H. Patton Thursday night. Mrs. Alton Biggers was co-hostess.

After the supper an informal business session was held with Mrs. W. R. Hair presiding. The roll call and the devotional dealt with deeds of kindness. Mrs. Carlos Anderson gave the devotional.

Members voted to change the meeting date from the second Thursday to the fourth Tuesday in each month.

Those attending were Mesdames A. L. Manjeot, teacher, Carlos Anderson, C. R. Damron, Oma Lee Dixon, W. R. Hair, Travis Caraway, Ernest Kendall, Alton Biggers, Clinton Jackson and the hostess.

Announcement appeared in the March 4, 1904, Brand concerning a Republican Convention "to meet in Hereford March 12th at 3 p. m. to elect delegates and alternates to the District Convention to meet at Clarendon March 19th and the State Convention to meet in Dallas, March 22nd." The announcement continues, "Only delegates qualified to vote under the Terrell election law will be allowed, and only qualified Republican voters will be permitted to participate." (Signed) J. C. Newman, County Chairman.

68th Anniversary

Under general and state news, the Brand states "Last Wednesday was the sixty-eighth anniversary of the Declaration of Independence for Texas, that great event having occurred on March 2, 1836." "A move is on foot to organize a company among Dallas capitalists for the purpose of reorganizing and refitting the Dallas State Fair. Stock is being subscribed and it is thought that the fair will come to life again." The Brand also carried results of the Japanese-Korean treaty which had been ratified the week before, naming the following provisions: "Korea conforms to Japanese ideas of reform; Japan pledges the safety of Korean royalty and territorial independence. Japan is authorized to resist the encroachment of a third party and to occupy Korean territory if necessary for strategic purposes."

Ugliest Man?

An interesting little story relates that "N. B. Comer called around and subscribed for the BRAND this week and informed us that he has recently been awarded several prizes as being the ugliest man in the state of Texas. Among the prizes mentioned were free subscriptions to both the Dallas News and St. Louis Republic. Mr. Comer had a presentation that he would get in on the BRAND list on the same proposition, but there are a number of men in Deaf Smith county who lay Mr. Comer in the shade by several degrees in the point of uncomeliness, and we were compelled to so inform him, where-upon he "dug up" the usual silver piece and ordered his name added to our list anyway." (Editor's note to John Patton: This rule still exists.)

An ad plugging the local tonorial parlor reads: "You're Next—For a shave, haircut or a bath at the City Barber Shop, George W. Dale, Proprietor, . . . three chairs—two baths!"

"A Free Trip . . . To St. Louis World's Fair" heads an ad of J. F. Harding, Druggist, who announces "Everybody will have a desire to visit St. Louis this summer and see the sights of the great 'Louisiana Purchase Exposition.' I have decided to offer free of cost, a round-trip ticket to the St. Louis World's Fair in September 1904, for one of my custo-

Plan To Observe Campfire Girls Birthday Week

Campfire Girls are busy making plans for commemoration of their "Birthday Week," beginning March 13, with vesper services at 4:30 p. m., in the First Methodist Church to inaugurate the annual celebration.

A candlelight service will be held, followed by an address by Rev. Russell Wingert of the First Presbyterian Church, announced Mrs. LeRoy Aven, who will direct the service.

The complete program of the week's activities will be presented in succeeding issues of the Brand.

"During this annual Camp Fire Birthday Week, the girls make public appearances to their sponsoring organizations and other civic clubs presenting outings of their activities," said Mrs. Aven. "The highlight of the week is usually scheduled for March 17, actual birthday of the organization."

This nationwide club owes its beginnings to a medical doctor, one Dr. Gulick of Maine, who back at the turn of the century began the practice of taking his family of girls camping in the Jew England hills each summer. His daughters enjoyed the outings so much they used to invite their companions to accompany them on the vacations, and as Dr. Gulick's group grew larger and larger they formed a regular organization which they named "Camp Fire Girls."

Parents of the children were so thoroughly in favor of the project that upon Dr. Gulick's death, business men of the town took over sponsorship of the trips. From this beginning the clubs swept the country.

Typical swifts rest by clinging to the inside of hollow trees or chimneys or hanging to the face of cliffs; they never perch on twigs or limbs as do other birds.

HOME DEMONSTRATION NEWS

Talks, Songs And Business Sessions Hold Interest For Three Clubs During Past Week

South Hereford Club
 South Hereford Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Orin Russell. "I would be True" was selected as the official club song. During the business meeting it was decided to receive sealed bids for the afghan, made by club members, which will go to the highest bidder at the next meeting on March 15. Reports were heard on donations to the Red Cross, Texas Heart Association, the club budget and members voted to attend the District Home Demonstration Club meet to be held in Canyon in April.

Ford H. D. Club
 Ford Home Demonstration Club was entertained in the home of the president, Mrs. Hardy Benson, Wednesday afternoon. Texas songs were sung and news of Texas briefly told during the recreation hour.

Roll call was on child welfare and the program was directed by Mrs. George Epting, who discussed "Building Minds as Well as Bodies." Mrs. Earl Dyer's subject was "Adolescent Problems and Emotions." Miss Hilda Straffuss spoke on "Talking With Children."

Members of the club voted to federate and to select the club's outstanding woman according to qualifications suggested by the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs. A discussion of the THDA constitution was given by Mrs. Earl Dyer. Plans were made for an all-day meeting on March 16 in the home of Mrs. L. J. Straffuss when making gloves will be the order of the day.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Lawrence Jentzen, Johnny Spinhirnia, George Epting, Earl Dyer, Maxey Dowd, Miss Hilda Straffuss and the hostess.

North Hereford Club
 Mrs. Otto Mattle was hostess for the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club in her home Thursday afternoon. Roll call was answered as members discussed "The Rights of the Child." Mrs. Dick Barrett won the penny gift.

Reports were heard and Mrs. Paul Hoff was selected as the club's outstanding woman. An all-day meeting featuring a covered dish luncheon at noon

Pup With the Loving Eyes

"Skippy," a toy French poodle which was named the "dog with the most loving eyes" in a New York pet show, is fed by an admirer, Arleen Sajecki. Holding the "lovable" mutt for the operation is his master, Tommy Killian, 14, of New York.

was announced for March 17 in the home of Mrs. Fred Saltzman.

The program leader was Mrs. Frank Brinkman who discussed "The Psychology of Beauty." A reading "Recipe for a Good Life" was given by Mrs. H. E. Pettyjohn.

Members present were Mesdames H. E. Pettyjohn, Frank Brinkman, R. E. Barrett, Paul Hoff, Fred Saltzman, R. A. Fullwood, Earl Virden, M. H. Koelzer, Oscar Vaughn, Otto Olson, W. H. Russell, Mary Bodkin and the hostess.

Mrs. Walser Gives Book Review At Summerfield Club Guest-Tea

Mrs. D. C. Walser reviewed the book "Hound Dog Man" by Fred Gipson at the Summerfield Study Club annual guest day tea held in the home of Mrs. Ray Johnson Thursday afternoon. Mrs. L. L. Cannon was assistant hostess.

Mrs. B. E. Roberson, president, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Walser who described the book as an informal story told in the first person to give the philosophy of a 14 year old boy who hero-worships the Hound Dog Man. "It is a character study in which nature plays a great part and ends on a happy note as Colton Kinney, the boy, is finally enabled to enjoy his beloved wood country.

When tea was served, the refreshment table was attractively decorated with the club flower, red sweet peas and as each guest was served by Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill, the president of the club plucked a corsage from the sweet pea tree and pinned it on her shoulder. Cake squares were ornamented in tiny red blossoms.

Special guests included Mrs. Don Graham of Lubbock, Mrs. Noel Gollehon of Dimmitt, Mesdames Lyle Blanton, J. H. Patrick, L. J. Counselman, Jack Streun, J. M. Wright, Roy Crutchfield, Thomas Shotts, Glen Roberson, Stan Barrett, John Winkler, Roy Lovett, C. D. Carnahan, W. A. Powell, Elmer Patterson, O. B. Mrs. Cowart Reviews The Scarlet Letter

Mrs. Pete Cowart reviewed "The Scarlet Letter" by Hawthorne at a meeting of the Caltopian Club held Thursday night in the home of Mrs. J. T. Carroll.

The classic was presented with the thought of reviving the interest in classic literature and as a background, Mrs. Cowart gave something of the author's life revealing how he came to write the story which is based on records he unearthed in Salem. She mentioned that The Scarlet Letter was a best-seller at the time it was written.

Members attending were Mesdames Richard Barnard, B. F. Cain, Clyde Cave, Pete Cowart, Paul Conaway, W. L. Davis, Jr., Wayne Evans, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., Will Graham, J. E. Kirby, N. E. Milburn, Millard Nobles, Carl Perrin, Elizabeth Womble, Misses Virginia Eberie, Nell Spradley and Genevieve Eberie.

A Linoleum Design Started It

Here is a view of the radically different hexagon Equity elevator at Farnsworth, Texas. Notice the top of the bins, showing the six-sided design. E. N. Puckett, general manager of the Union Equity elevator at Enid, Okla., thought up this design after seeing the pattern in a linoleum rug and built a terminal elevator along the hexagon lines in 1948. This Farnsworth Equity elevator, completed in October, 1948, is the second of the design to be built. It has a storage capacity of 286,000 bushels.

'Texas Day Is' L.A.E. Club Topic

"Texas Day" was observed at the L. A. E. Club meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Suggs. Roll call was answered by members giving a "Texas Brag."

Mrs. J. W. Whelan presented the program on Texas reviewing Texas history and giving important dates, places and characters. Individual maps were distributed and a quiz on topics Texans should know about was conducted. Mrs. T. W. Roberson played familiar Texas songs on her guitar and members of the group gave the titles.

In conclusion of the program the group sang "Home on the Range" with Mrs. Roberson accompanying.

Mrs. W. R. Black will be hostess to the next meeting on March 15.

Those present were Mesdames Allus Higgins, Bill Jones, Boyd Knox, T. W. Roberson, Robert Wagner, Bob Higgins, J. W. Whelan, Sandford Smith, N. D. Bartlett, Jr., and the hostess.

VISITS RELATIVES HERE

Mrs. Frank W. Durkee and daughter, Connie, are visiting their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davis. Lt. Frank W. Durkee who is a jet pilot with the 94th Fighter Squadron, stationed at March Field, California, spent last week end in the Davis home. He made the trip in an F-80 fighter plane.

For the next four months Lt. Durkee will attend a radar school at the Glenview Naval Air Station in Chicago, Illinois.

Deaf Smith County History Feature Of Bayview Club Annual 'Texas Day'

The annual Texas Day event for the Bay View Club was held at the Presbyterian Church Thursday afternoon with Mrs. R. B. Miller as hostess. Arrangements for the program were made by the program committee including Mrs. Bob Wilson, Mrs. Howard Gault, and Mrs. D. H. Alexander. Social committee members included Mrs. Roy Ford, Mrs. Lee Benefield, Mrs. D. H. Alexander.

Decorations in keeping with the theme of the party gave a colorful background. A large Texas flag stood in the foreground where color films of Texas were shown and the six Texas flags served as colorful accent at the other end of the room where refreshments were served. The table featured red and white flowers interspersed with miniature blue flags arranged in a low crystal and silver bowl and backed by six tall white papers representing the six periods of government. Appointments were in silver with Mrs. Howard Gault presiding at the tea service. White cake squares were topped with Texas bluebonnets done in icing.

Mrs. Colby Conkwright, president, welcomed the guests and the History of Deaf Smith County was given by Mrs. Bob Wilson who gave the prayer sung by early day pioneers in dedication to the pioneers of Deaf Smith County. Using material taken from the files of the Hereford Brand, Mrs. Wilson gave briefly, the history of the county since its organization in 1890, telling of the first railroad in 1898, the change of the name from LaPlata to Hereford, mentioning the first two families, the Cox' and the Jewell's and telling of the first schools and business enterprises. She told of the struggles all along through the years and the battle against the elements, quoting from an oldimer "Deaf Smith County gives much but it punishes. It makes many and breaks as many more."

Two color films were shown by Robert Thompson, "The March of Time" and J. B. Elliott's film of Deaf Smith County with cinematography by Elmer Patterson.

Guests invited for the event were Mesdames Frances Houston, W. E. Dameron, Harry Seed, Jim Black, John Jacobsen, Jr., J. A. F. Parker, a former member, Jeff Glibreath, W. S. Pruitt, Charles Hays of Dimmitt, Ralph Hastings, Troy Moore, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., Elizabeth Womble, J. C. Ferguson, Louis Woodford, Edward Roberson, Cecil Gunter, Marshal Formby.

Members present were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley, Lee Benefield, Colby Conkwright, Roy Ford, Howard Gault, E. W. Harrison, George Heard, A. M. Jones, Paul Mathers, John McLean, R. B. Miller, J. P. Stinson, J. W. Spradley, Bob Wilson and Wayne Evans.

Hummingbirds, known to feed on flower nectar, also have a diet consisting of flies, bees, beetles and other insects.

Hummingbirds feed during the daytime; large sphinx moths, which resemble them, feed at eveningtide.

Until 1890 all indigo, one of the most important dyestuffs was obtained from plants. At that time a synthetic was manufactured.

MRS. AMELIA HOFFMAN FINDS "NEW LIFE"

Hunger, Strife And Fear Of Europe, Still Vivid Memory To Newest Umbarger Citizen

Last Saturday morning Mrs. Amelia Hoffman arrived in Amarillo and for the first time set foot on Panhandle soil, the land where she was to make her future home, with her son, Max Hoffman of Umbarger.

Mrs. Hoffman was moving into a good life on a farm in Texas. She was leaving behind her memories of life on the battleground of World War II, and the difficulties of piecing together a life during the aftermath of battle.

In the past 10 years she had struggled to re-adjust herself to the changing conditions in Europe when the East, Germany that was her home regimented for war—and days of ersatz food and deprivation; of hiding out in a cave and living on scraps of food of the post-armistice era, when the Russians controlled her home territory and finally, forced by the Reds to leave, of fleeing to the French zone.

Luckier Than Most

But Mrs. Hoffman was luckier than most; she could come to America. Her son Max came to the United States in 1927. He worked for a while as a farm laborer and then settled at Umbarger, where he bought his own farm and built it into a prospering enterprise.

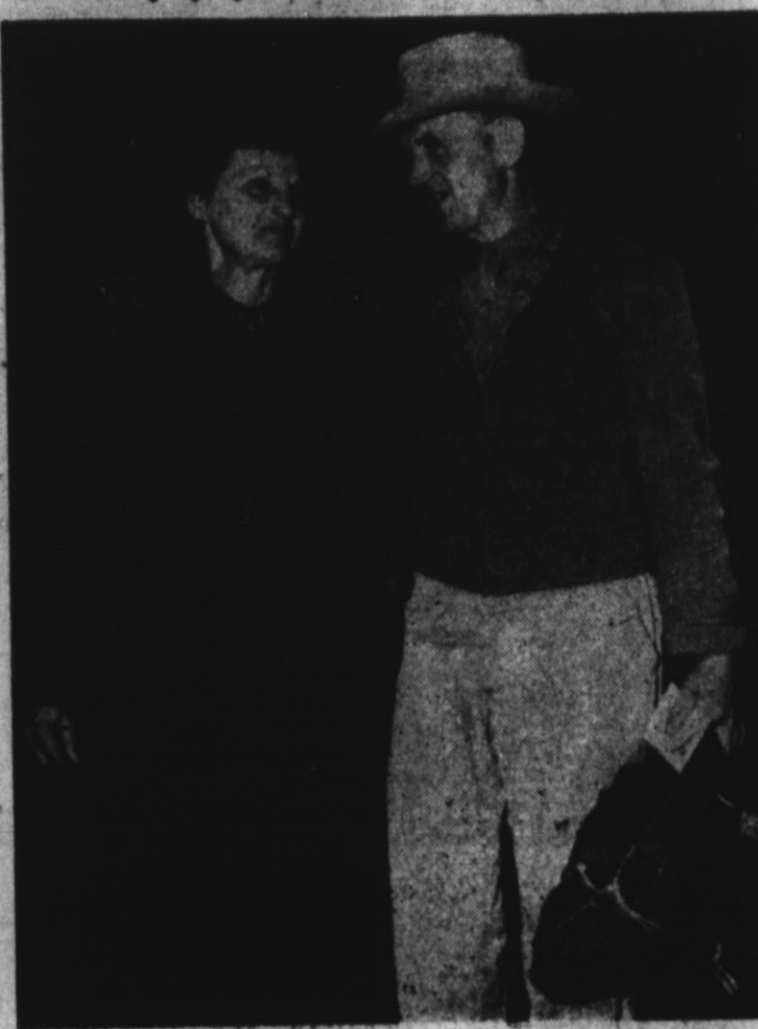

He married an Umbarger girl and the couple have reared seven children.

When war broke out, Mr. Hoffman lost contact with his mother in the home country. Afterward he heard from his sister in France that his mother had been killed in the Russian invasion. Not long after that information arrived, the relieved Max received a letter from his mother and he began work to unite his mother and his sister in far-away France.

Still later he worked for some 18 months battling immigration red tape to book passage for his mother to the United States. Finally, records cleared, she left the French zone of Germany, Feb. 3, and arrived in New York 14 days later, sailing on the USS Marine Marlin. She arrived in Amarillo by train Feb. 19.

Afraid of Russians

Mrs. Hoffman discussed her opinion of German feeling. They are afraid of the Russians, she declared. A great many believe Adolph Hitler may still be alive. The Russian soldiers did not harm them as much as the men who followed them, destroying everything in their wake, stealing and plundering.

But those days are behind her now, even if the memories are still with her. She's now a beloved guest in her son's home, ready to settle down to enjoying what she's always heard about, "The American Way of Life."

Mrs. Pearl Dickerson, who accompanied Jimmie Barnhart to Galveston this week, as his nurse, returned to Hereford Thursday night.

House-guest this week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Aven is Mrs. Raymond Howell, an instructor in the speech department at Perryton High School.

Ancient Romans used much incense, offering it daily in private to family gods and in public sacrifices sprinkled it on the heads of victims.

Mrs. H. M. Smith Sails for Okinawa To Join Husband

Mrs. H. M. Smith left Friday morning for San Francisco, from which she will sail for Okinawa to join her husband, Lt. H. M. Smith.

Mrs. Smith, the former Olivia Benson, and her young daughter, Patricia Lynn, will spend about 18 months on the island, where Lt. Smith is stationed with the Army Air Corps. He has been based there for almost a year.

The United States government supplies a home for the Smiths at Naha Air Base. Mrs. Smith is taking furniture and household goods with her overseas.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Benson of Hereford and her husband is from Fredericksburg, Ind.

Scout Leaders Are Named At Thursday Meet

Scout officials of the district were re-named to their posts Thursday at a luncheon meeting of the group held at Engman's Cafe.

Robert Thompson was re-elected chairman of the district committee and Nelson Welsh of Friona, vice-chairman.

Re-appointed to chairmanship posts were Elmer Dameron, advancement; Roy Ford, leadership training; Bob Wear, organization and extension; J. C. Reese, camping and activities; Paul Harvey, finance; and Dr. W. M. Nobles, health and safety.

The district committee affirmed re-appointment of Urlin Streu as district commissioner in the Llano Estacado Council.

Foreign Students To Present W. M. U.

The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church will hold an all-day meeting at the church on Wednesday Mar. 9. The business session will open at 11 o'clock followed by lunch in the church at 12 noon. The program will begin at 1:15 p. m.

Mrs. George Graham will have charge of the program and Mrs. Carroll Whiteside will conduct the devotional lesson.

Topic for the day will be "The Answer to Racial Tension" and will be discussed by three Wayland College students: Betty Takahashi of Hawaii, Julia Molner of Brazil and Peter Chen of China.

Out-of-Town Guests

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Rudd the past week-end were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ledford of Fortales, N. M. While here they also visited in the home of another daughter, Mrs. R. M. Hiebowicz, Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Rudd accompanied her parents to Dimmitt to visit their granddaughter, Mrs. Glenn Godfrey and the new little great-granddaughter, Peggy Sue Godfrey.

Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Kerr have gone to South Texas for a couple of weeks vacation. They were joined by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kerr of Plainview, for the trip to Marlin where the C. F. Kerrs will spend the vacation.

Don Boyd In Hospital

Don Boyd, son of Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Boyd of Abilene, is in a Dallas hospital where he will undergo the first of a series of four operations to correct poor hearing. Rev. and Mrs. Boyd and Don are former Hereford residents when he was pastor of the Hereford Methodist Church.
