West Texas Reservoirs Urged At Conservation Convention

FLOOD STORAGE KEYNOTE SPOKEN AT SAN ANTONIO

President of West Texas Chamber of Commerce Boosts Plan

Vest Texas People Anxious For Conservation Work Says Spencer

By The Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 27.—A statewide program of conserving flood waters was discussed at the first days session of the Texas conservation association convention here today. Speakers from practically every part of the state were on the program, many of them telling of steps taken in their vicinity for conserving flood waters.

Spencer Strong Speaker.

Among the speakers were Congressman Tom Connally of Marlin; John W. Gaines of San Antonio; William E. Lea of Orange, president of the League of Texas Municipalities; Major John B. Howle, consulting engineer at Fort Worth; Leonard Tillotson of Sealy, president of the association; Homer D. Wade, secretary; A. B. Spencer of Crosbyton, president of the West Texas chamber of commerce; J. E. Starley of Dallas; W. M. Fly of Gonzales; State Senator T. S. Henderson of Cameron and State Representative A. J. Wirtz of Seguin.

Four of the greatest drainage areas in the state originated in Northwest Texas, Spencer told the convention, attended by 150 persons. The people of that section are particularly anxious to see reservoirs established in the canyons of the plains country so that the rainfall and flood waters may be conserved for use during the dry seasons.

Water from the Panhandle and the Staked Plains is accompanied to central and South Texas by much of the soil, Spencer said.

Gaines advised the conservation association to see that Texans were appointed members of a proposed commission which will draft a new treaty with Mexico on the matter of the use of waters of the Rio Grande.

East Texas Chimes In.

"It is our state that is directly interested in the matter," said the speaker, "and unless we form the proper treaty with Mexico, Texas will lose untold wealth."

William E. Lea of Orange, said flood water conservation is a factor in city building as much as it is necessary to rural communities for agricultural purposes. A good water supply, he said, depends in many instances upon conservation, declaring that the cities of Beaumont and Port Arthur will soon need to find some other means of supply for domestic and drinking purposes.

By The Associated Press.

EASTLAND, Texas, Aug. 27.—Motion for a change of venue was filed in district court here today in the case of L. J. Starkey, charged with the slaying of Elmer D. (Pet) Brown who was shot to death at his road camp near Cisco last May. The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

The motion, introduced by the defense, alleged that there was prejudice against the defendant in Eastland county. The controverting motion by attorneys for the state declared that "in a county of 50,000 population, it is reasonable to assume" that jury could be obtained that would not be prejudiced.

Today's Joyful News

That the recent rains may result in increasing cotton production in Wichita county for this season from 25 to 50 per cent above what was expected, is the opinion of many farmers in this section according to County Agent Jones.

Cotton picking has not opened up to any great extent yet, according to the county agent, but there have been a good many bales of early cotton already ginned. Some of the farmers are preparing the ground for the planting of early winter wheat. This will be used for winter feeding purposes as feed is scarce this year.

Seymour Road Project Going Through In Spite Of Split, Says Jackson

Modesty Dancing Device Looked For

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—A device to be worn by dancers to keep their heads in the proper position and their bodies the correct distance apart is wanted by the American society of teachers of dancing, and to this end prizes of $100, $50 and $25 were announced today at the opening of the society's 46th annual convention in the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria.

With the fox trot and its variations holding forth almost exclusive on the dance floor nowadays, the society is also out for a new dance rythm and is willing to pay $500 to its inventor, according to President R. W. Vizay of Milwaukee

Three Commissioners Say Division of Moneys Should Be Made On 25 Per Cent Basis.

"The Seymour road project is going through, even if the three other commissioners can successfully keep from paying the $27,000 pledged to the propect," J. , Jackson, commissioner of precinct No. 1, said Monday afternoon, following the weekly meeting of the county commissioners.

The Monday county commissioners' meeting was a repetition of the one the previous week, which was characterized by a warm discussion of the attitude of Commissioner Jackson, who insists the division of the road and bridge fund and county automobile tax monies will hereafter not be made on a basis of 25 per cent among the four precincts.

Says Law Backs Him

The fact that the last legislature passed a law which allowed such monies to be divided among the precincts in a ratio to the amount collected from each precinct, has caused the split among the commissioners. Heretofore the monies in dispute have been placed in a lump sum, divided equally four ways, and without respect to which of the precincts contributed the most to the fund by taxation.

Jackson has contended that since this law was passed he is within his rights in insisting that the division be made as the legislature provided, and not on the 25 per cent basis.

The fact that a strict following of the law will deprive precincts 2, 3 and 4 of tax monies that will accrue to precinct 1 has been bitterly fought by the commissioners of the three precincts. Threats of an injunction or mandamus to restrain Jackson from collecting funds under a new basis have been spoken of freely, despite denials to the contrary, according to County Judge B. D. Sartin and other reliable authorities.

To Withdraw Pledge?

The most recent flare from the three commissioners opposing Jackson on the proposition, was the announcement by Commissioners Knauth, Kuntz and Haynes Monday that the $27,000 pledged by them last Monday on the Seymour road project would be withdrawn if Commissioner Jackson insisted on the legislative division of the taxes in dispute.

Monday of last week the commission voted that precinct 1 would pledge $80.00 and the remaining precincts $9,000 each for the Seymour road project. This would make a total of $107,500 county funds to be added to state and federal highway aid to make the road possible.

PIES FLIRT WITH PLANE DEFEAT

San Diego Aviators Trying For Air Record Almost End it All

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 27.—Two blackberry pies in a metal lined bucket to which was attached 50 pounds of lead nearly wrecked the hopes of Captain Lowell H. Smith and Lieutenant John Richter, who are trying for world air record laurels here today. The incident occurred at 11:50 this morning when the fliers, after going aloft at 5:04 o'clock and covering 750 miles at an average speed of 92.44 miles an hour, signalled for some lunch.

Another plane at once went aloft and made contact with Smith and Ritchter's craft, lowering the pies and some sandwiches. Richter wa standing in the cockpit, and had grasped the bucket containing the pies when a sudden gust of wind caused the upper plane to nose up. For a few seconds clinging to the bucket, Richter was literally suspended in midair.

Whips Plane Downward.

Captain G. Irvin, pilot of the contact plane, quickly whipped the nose of his plane downward and Richter settled back in his seat with pies and sandwiches in his hands.

The aviators set a whirling pace on the 50 kilometer course, speeding at 92 miles an hour all day in their effort to break the world's endurance distance and speed records for 2,500 kilometers and over.

Fuel, lubricating oil and food were taken aboard in mid-air with consumate skill and almost incredible rapidity.

Oil Industry In Midst Of Crisis, Says Bedford At Founder Celebration

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 27.—The present crisis in the petroleum industry presents an economic problem which as vitally affects the gasoline consumer of the future as the gasoline user of today, A. C. Bedford, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, declared tonight in an address at services to celebrate the birth of Edward Laruntine Drake—"the founder of the petroleum industry."

"Whatever the outcome," he said, "and it cannot be more than approximately foretold, the extent of the problem of enormous storage for their crude or gasoline must rest upon the success of such expedients as already resorted to, such as the reduction in the price of certain grades of crude, the prorating of runs and other steps designed to curtail production.

"If the task of financing the carrying over a huge surplus of either crude or gasoline is forced upon the industry, it will undertake and accomplish this as it has before undertaken and accomplished tasks beyond its apparent capacity.

"In a highly competitive business such as the oil industry, ultimate solution of the problem will rest with the

PINCHOT TELLS MINERS STRIKE NOT TOLERATED

Holds Executive Session With Representatives Of Coal Unions

COAL QUARREL PUBLIC

Will Confer With Operators This Morning and With Union Today

By The Associated Press.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 27.—Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania served notice on mine operators and miners' union officials today that the threatened suspension of anthracite mining Sept. 1 could not be allowed, and then proceeded to enter upon what may be a lengthy effort at meditation of the controversy.

In executive session with the union spokesmen, Philip Murray, vice-president of the United Mine Workers, and C. J. Golden, Rinaldo Cappellini, and Thomas Kennedy, its three district presidents in the anthracite region, the governor went over the demands which the union has made for increased wages, "check-off" system of union dues collection and other things. He made no compromise proposition in his own behalf today, but scheduled a session with the mine operators' representatives tomorrow morning, and a second meeting with the union officials for tomorrow afternoon.

Quarrel Public Affair.

The governor delivered his preliminary address to the industrial leaders at a semi-public meeting in his capitol offices. Samuel D. Warriner, A. B. Jessup, W. J. Richard and W. W. Inglis, all members of the general policy committee of the employers, faced the union chiefs across the table, which the governor talked. Both sides received his word without rejoinder, except as they acknowledged and accepted his invitation to stay in the city for separate discussion with him.

The anthracite industry's quarrel the governor said, could not be a private one; a public vitally interested, that wants to see justice done to both employer and employe, was nevertheless losing patience with repeated strikes and suspensions.

WAURIKA FEARS NEW TRAIN CUT

Rock Island Branch Line Service to Anadarko May Be Cut

Special to The Record News.

WAURIKA, Okla., Aug. 27.—There has been a good deal of excitement manifested in the towns on the E. and A. branch of the Rock Island that operates between Anadarko and Waurika, over the rumor that one train a day service was to be instituted. That would mean that the train leaving Waurika at 6:30 in the morning and returning at 8:30 at night would be discontinued, making the train service the same as the Sunday service now. Various steps have been taken by the towns up and down the line to prevent the new schedule from going into effect on Sunday, September 2.

The baseball championship of the southwest DeMolay chapters will also be settled by elimination games in the forenoon, and a championship game in the afternoon. The DeMolay program is under the direction of Milo Nelson of Lawton, and the ball games will be supervised by Paul Sponsler of Lawton.

At 12:30 a big basket dinner will be held, when all the Masonic visitors and their families will partake of dinner together. This will be followed by addresses by Mark Seson and Perry Freeman, prominent Masons, and organizers of the Rainbow assembly for girls. Grand Master W. E. Stuart will also speak.

Nelson, Mrs. Ollie R. Dillard, Miss Mary Moore Richardson, D. E. Ackermann, A. G. Collins and Mrs. Lillian M. Coleman.

A large number of patrons of the postoffice have gotten confidential inquiry blanks asking questions in regard to the fitness of the various applicants. When these are returned to the civil service department each candidate will be given a rating, and the three receiving the highest rating will be placed on the eligible list. From these three the postmaster will be chosen. This list will probably not be announced for 60 days.

TAX REVENUE LOWER

Rock Island property valuations have not as yet been certified for Jefferson county by the assessor, but agreement has been reached with the state board of equalization, and the approximate value is known. County officials state that the valuations will be about 14 million dollars, or four million under that of last year.

The county excise board has not fixed levies yet, and can not until the Rock Island valuation has been certified. It is a well-known fact, however, that estimates for roads and other needs will have to be greatly reduced in order to come within the legal limit of taxation for county purposes.

County Superintendent Morris says that many schools over the county will suffer from this. It is expected Waurika schools will hold their own. Valuations have been raised on a number of business and residence properties by the commissioners.

JURY QUOTA ANNOUNCED

Following is Waurika's quota of names for jurors in the fall term of district court, which will convene September 4: W. C. Summers, Donald Stuart, Otto Huffman, J. E. Barrow, R. S. McKinsey, P. W. # OIL INDUSTRY law of supply and demand.

"We are now in the midst of a crisis in the industry and I have no desire to minimize the extremely serious aspects of the situation, but I must confess that if the petroleum industry ever ceased to be abnormal, I think I should find it very dull indeed."

After detailing figures on the production of crude oil and gasoline during the past year, Bedford said that his company, in view of the difficult situation had revised the prices it was paying for crude oil in Louisiana.

"I would like to say here," he said, "that there is no business policy of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey which has anything in common either in connection or execution with the policies of any other unit of the petroleum industry irrespective of any similarity of name or classification."

Bedford traced the history of the petroleum industry from that momentous day—August 26, 1859, when Drake obtained free petroleum from a hole he had drilled in a rock, up to the present time. He said that during his connection of 40 years with the industry he could not recall any time when conditions could be described as normal in the sense that an absolute balance existed between production and consumption.

U. S. Grand Jury At Houston Will Make Oil Probe

By The Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 27.—Federal Judge J. C. Hutcherson, Jr., today reconvened the grand jury and instructed its members to begin an investigation of the use of mails in oil promotion. This action is hailed by local federal officials as the first step in sweeping federal oil probe in the southern district of Texas.

Scores of witnesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jury, the first of whom was called this afternoon.

Before telling them the purpose for which they were recalled Judge Hutcherson questioned each juror about his fraternal affiliations. He told them that he did not want fraternal ties to interfere in any way with their acts as grand jurors.

Six of the men on the panel admitted membership in the knights of the ku klux klan.

"Gentlemen of the grand jury," Judge Hutcherson said, "the main purpose of reassembling this grand jury is to investigate transactions in violation of the postal laws of the United States, designed for the purpose of obtaining money and other valuables under false pretenses and by misrepresentation and upon schemes to defraud, also charges of conspiracy on the part of parties seeking to violate the statutes."

workers and abandon his stand on the tax division. The result is the meeting broke up with nothing definite done in the matter.

The question of whether the three commissioners can withdraw their pledge of the week before was being discussed freely at the courthouse following the meeting.

Raley Gives Estimate

County Tax Collector Guy Raley had been asked to prepare a statement based on the 1922 tax collections, and in conformity with the contention of Jackson in the matter. The ratio as presented by Raley at the instance of the commissioners' court was presented at the Monday session. The ratio as prepared by Raley showed approximately the following division of the funds in dispute, according to the amount paid in by each precinct: Precinct No. 1, 49 per cent; precinct No. 2, 29 per cent; precinct No. 3, 10 per cent, and precinct No. 4, 11 per cent.

On the submission of these estimates, the three dissenting commissioners refused to use this as a basis and still insisted on the division of 25 per cent to each precinct.

The exact amount affected by the division is undetermined. According to the Raley report, based on 1922 taxes, it is evident that Wichita Falls and precinct 1 would, under Jackson's contention, get nearly 50 per cent of the disputed amount, whereas in the past only 25 per cent has been received.

In the past, according to Jackson, each precinct has received about $40,000 from the road and bridge fund, and on a 25 per cent division basis. This totals $160,000, which may be more or less when the matter is settled. County Judge Sartin estimated the amount roughly a $150,000 recently.

Auto Tax Up in January

The question of the automobile tax division will not be acted upon until January 1, because it was been agreed this fund will be divided on a 25 per cent basis, as in the past, until that time. This has not kept the matter from coming up for discussion, and has been a pertinent question, even though its disposal is several months away.

Jackson says that about 70 per cent of the automobile tax fund will go to precinct 1, for that per cent of cars are in his precinct, mainly because of Wichita Falls. Jackson said he did not believe that with his precinct paying more than two-thirds the automobile taxes, the other precincts should come in on the same division basis as in the past.

Until the question is finally settled, County Treasurer Tom McHam is placing the monies in dispute in a fund to itself, and will not issue same until the commissioners settle their wrangle, it was said yesterday.

COAST RANGE

What giant sport was this that set
the mountains romping porpoise fashion—
Laughing until the streams ran down their sides—
May be 'twas here that God pitched quoits with Adam while Eve looked on and smiled—
Then were the flowers born—such flowers—
For Eve looked on and smiled.
Maybe 'twas here He rested in the afternoons
Lying along the couch of flowers that Eve had spread and west winds cooled His brow
And Adam listened to His wisdom While Eve looked on and smiled.

KEEP HIM IN THE FRYING PAN

A clever girl never asks her beau after a pleasant evening with him when she will see him again. A man hates to be pigned down and if all engagement making is left to him the girl can then feel sure that he really desires to see her, and is not doing it out of a sense of duty, or because he could not get out of it.

If he hasn't a definite engagement with her when he leaves he will wonder every evening who she is out with and what she is doing. He will really not have a moment's peace, (if he is in love with the girl) until he knows when he can see her again.

It is far better to keep the man in the frying pan, than bme in it yourself by holding him to an engagement that you are not sure he cared to make.

When he starts to leave, let him go, and unless he asks you when he can call again, never hint at another engagement.

He will notice this in you and admire you for your good taste even if you never meet again.

Heart and Home Problems Solved

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a young married woman 19 years old. I have two small boys, one two years old and one two months old. My husband never takes me any place and he won't keep the babies for me to go. He just wants me to stay home day and night.

He is talking to another woman. He has me in the house with his mother, but he doesn't want me to bother her. What would you advise me to do? He never gives me money to spend. My mother dresses me and the babies.

YOURS TRULY.

Your situation seems pretty hopeless. Since your mother dresses you and the babies, she might be glad to have you come home where you will be free from the unhappiness caused by the way your husband is acting. If you secured a position, you could help your mother with the expenses, and would probably be happier than to remain with your husband in the home of your mother-in-law. When your husband sees that you are not dependent on him, he may change and do the fair thing. Do not return to him unless he is willing to start housekeeping by yourselves, and promises to give you an allowance for clothes every month.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a young girl of 13 and am in high school. I have been receiving letters from a boy friend who is away visiting. I have a very close friend who is an old lady and she does not think it right for me to correspond with this boy. He is a very nice "kid" and does not write mushy letters. Would you advise me to stop writing to him?

CURIOSITY.

There is nothing wrong in letter writing between boys and girls if it is done in the right way. Let your mother read the letters you receive and send, and I am sure there would be nothing wrong in the correspondence. Write every two or three weeks, if you want to. I would not advise a more extensive correspondence because your interest would soon die out.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: We are two blondes, 16 and 17. Is it proper to invite a boy friend to our home? If so, how should we extend the invitation?

How should we entertain boys?

TWO BLONDES.

It is proper to invite a boy to your home, but it is hardly necessary. When a boy is interested in a girl, he asks to call.

When you extend the invitation, taining. Some young people find like to have him come to see you sometime. If he is interested in you, he will ask when he may come.

There are various ways of entertaining. oSme young people find conversation enough. Others play two handed card games, or other interesting games. Music is a great help in entertaining. Candy making also helps to pass the time agreeable.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am anxious to know how to paint grasses and wild flowers for winter bouquets, but have been unable to find any one who can tell me how. I am wondering if you can tell me how it is done.

I would also like to know if you can tell me what to use to remove ink from a colored gingham without fading the colors. It is not a few drops, but a large quantity of ink which was spilled. A. T.

Go to any paint store where they sell the vari-colored bronze paints and they will explain the process.

To remove ink from a colored gingham apply spirits of turpentine to the spot, or better still, ask your druggist for a chemical that will do the work without injuring the fabric.

Bizaire Touch

White is making a strong bid for popularity this fall. In years past it has been regarded asa 'summer color," but now it is likely to be in favor the year round. During the winter months a smart looking white dress is just the thing for informal and sometimes semi-formal wear.

Many women cannot wear an all-white gown because of their coloring. Oftentimes this can be remedied by the introduction of bright colors. In the model shown here the "dead white" effect is avoided by the use of a rather bizarre trimming. Narrow ribbons in striking colors are sewed on the crepe de chine blouse in fanciful designs. Four panels of the skirt are also embroidered with the ribbon.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Gelatin With Berries—Strawberries and raspberries are nice used in this dessert. Use lemon gelatin; flavor well. When gelatin begins to harden fold in well-washed and drained berries and let harden. Serve with cream and plain cookies. When making gelatin, soak in the cold water and then add only enough boiling water completely to dissolve the gelatin. Recipes tell you to add two or three cups of boiling water. It takes a long time for that amount to cool. Sufficient water to dissolve the gelatin will do as well. In fact, experiments have shown that the gelatin may be soaked in cold water and then, by the addition of a small amount of boiling water it may be put directly over the fire and boiled until dissolved. Be careful that it does not burn, for it sticks easily. After it is dissolved, add the remainder of the liquid in the form of cold water.

Stew With Vegetables—Beef, lamb or veal are nice for this dish and whatever vegetables you have on hand may be used. Carrots, potatoes, onions tomatoes are always good. Put the well-washed meat on in cold water and cook slowly until tender, putting the vegetables in about an hour before meal time. The potatoes do not take that length of time. They can be put in half an hour before serving.

Lemon Cookies or Crackers—Two eggs, two and one-half cups sugar, one cup lard, one pint sweet milk, five cents' worth baking ammonia, five cents' worth of lemon. Beat lard, eggs and sugar together. Grate ammonia, put it with oil of lemon in the milk, then add to first mixture. Add all the flour you can mix in as they must be very stiff. Roll thin and cut into small cookies. Bake in moderate oven.

Gingerbread—One cup of brown sugar, one-half cup shortening, two eggs, one cup molasses, one cup sour milk, one teaspoon each cinnamon and ginger or two teaspoons ginger, one and one-half teaspoons baking soda, flour to make as stiff as cake, one-half teaspoon salt. Bake in moderate oven.

Button Saves Button—Heavy buttons sewed on garments are kept in place satisfactorily and will not wear or tear holes in the garments to which they are fastened if small flat buttons, pearl, agate or the common black kind, are sewed on the reverse side of the garment. As each stitch is taken through the heavy button it should be threaded through the eye of the small button on the lining side. Heavy buttons sewed on this way will not lose or pull off for many a day.

Although they are all the children of Samuel and Augusta McCreary, of pioneer American stock, and lived originally in New Castle, Pa., these seven sisters met all together for the first time in their lives recently at the home of Mrs. Porter, at Youngstown, Ohio. The youngest is 56 years old and the oldest 73. The older sisters were married before the youngest were born; others were away from home visiting relatives or at school, so they were never all at home. From every corner of the United States they came to be together. It was an unusual family reunion.

They retrieve the wrecked wheel from the village lockup. No, from the junk room behind the jail. A small room reached by a path between Japanese barberry. A room apparently just large enough to hold the twisted frame of the bicycle that an unthinking little boy, trailing a holiday parade, turned into the path of the oncoming motor car.

The woman does not know why the man must torture himself by taking the wheel home. Neither does he. It is carried on the running board of the car. Examination in the garage shows the frame shapeless. The blow must have come directly in the centerr. Yes, the tires may be all right. They can give them to some other little boy who loves, as this one did, to wander far on a bicycle.

She touches the man's arm.

"Don't look at it any more, Jim. Let's sit on the porch for a while, In the dark."

They have come, within a week, to love the dark. The dark is merciful. It hides things. A week ago the lights of the house shone on the porch, while the little boy played the phonograph.

"You must't fret so," the mother is saying. "It wasn't your fault that I couldn't get you on the telephone—in time."

It seems strange to the man that even his wife recognizes that it is worse with him than it is with her. It isn't because they have been so close. Not because each morning he lifted the boy in his arms and held him close, dimly anticipatory of emptiness. No, it was because of the circumstances.

His absence from the office while the telephone was ringing—wildly, imploringly—less than a week ago. Necessary business outside, he had told her. And she had not questioned. Only—only had the lad lingered a while for the arms which had held that morning. He had wanted to hear the voice which said "Sonny," as though Sonny were a title out of Ivanhoe.

"It's too bad, Jim, but it can't be helped now," she is telling the dark. "You couldn't help the necessary business."

"If I hadn't been away I could have got here—in time."

"Don't, Jim, don't. It wasn't your fault, really. You'll go crazy if you keep on thinking it was."

And maybe he will. The mills of the gods are grinding slowly, exceedingly fine. For Jim has been getting away with this "necessary business" for years. He is "getting away with it" now. Stop staring at the dark, Jim. For that way madness lies. Will you see every day, forever, between 3 and 5 o'clock, a little boy waiting, one hour, two hours, then waiting no longer, for the dad not there to answer his telephone? God knows, Jim. Ask Him. You have? . . . But your wife is speaking. Trust her now, for she has trusted you always. Stop staring, husband and father, and listen to her voice in the dark:

"Come inside, now. It's late. You have to work hard tomorrow, you know. Come and get a good night's rest."

Remember, Jim, a good night's rest. For you do have to work hard tomorrow. And tomorrow. And the morrow after that . . . Some day this hard work of remembering will be over. Some day, they say, the weary cease from troubling. A word is misquoted, Jim, to save you—save you from staring so.

Physical Health means—
Beauty!

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gazes of admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

What Is a Sechrist Pressure Cooker?

THE Sechrist Pressure Cooker is a steam-tight cooking utensil that retains practically all of the heat. The cooker can be used over any kind of stove—coal, wood, gas, gasoline, oil or electric. Do not confuse it with the old-fashioned steamer or fireless cooker which are now obsolete.

The cooker rapidly develops 259 degrees of dry steam heat under 20 pounds pressure, which quickly penetrates the very center of the food, cooking every particle tender and digestible in 1-3 the usual time.

Patented Superimposed Inset Pans permit several different foods to be cooked at the same time. The pressure prevents the flavors from mixing. It is the most wonderful economic invention of the age—actually saving its own cost in dollars many times over each year in adition to its great convenience and labor-saving advantages.

We realize that it is almost impossible to believe the wonderful claims made for The Sechrist Pressure Cooker. All we ask is that you consult us or write us direct for names of satisfied users.

PITY THE LAZY MAN.

Heaven have pity on the lazy man. Even though he has all of the money he needs to satisfy his personal and selfish desires, and has much in the way of this world's goods, he is still entitled to pity.

We all know plenty of lazy men. Just being lazy and shunning work is bad enough, but it isn't the worst feature of laziness.

The main reason the lazy man is in line for our sympathy, is, that because of his nature, he never gets a thrill out of life. And if this life holds no thrills for you, you might as well cash in and drop out of the game.

The really normal human being gets a thrill out of almost everything that occurs in his daily existence. There are no dull days for him, or if they do come, they are far between and due very largely to the condition of his health. If you just will feel that way about it, you can get a thrill out of almost everything you do.

What, for instance, is more thrilling than opening the morning mail? In all of these letters there is sure to be at least one of particular interest. Isn't there a thrill in running through them hurriedly and picking out the ones that may give you the very thing you are looking for. Even if you don't happen to find it, you had the thrill of expectancy, which after all, is the foundation of all our thrills. The morning mail is just one incident of many. There are many others if you are peppy enough to be on the lookout for thrills.

In other words, everyone manufactures his own thrills, and if you don't get your share it is your fault.

There is where the lazy man loses out—he doesn't know the value of an everyday thrill.

COOLIDGE AND GOLF.

Some newspapers throughout the country are bemoaning the fact that President Coolidge is not a golf addict. They point out that as golf is fast becoming the national pastime and as the three last predecessors of the president were golf bugs, the game will naturally receive a setback in this country.

It is not so! To begin with golfers generally are not the type of mind that would permit the mere fact that the head of the nation doesn't play golf to discourage them. No man who will spend 15 minutes looking for the ever elusive golf ball is going to throw his clubs away merely because someone else, even though he be President Coolidge, scoffs at the game.

No siree! Not on your slice. The golfers of the nation will be disappointed of course, to learn that President Coolidge, while he has intelligence and ability sufficient to guide the nation, doesn't appreciate the value of golf. But they are not going to let that spoil their game.

And they know too, that if pressure can ever be brought to bear sufficiently, and a golf club placed in the hands of our new president, that he will fall as other strong minds have fallen, and become a bug. And when that day does come, Calvin Coolidge will be a better president of these United States than he is today.

AND THE OLD WORLD JOGS ALONG

Rev. Charles F. Aked, famous pulpit divine of Missouri, is filling a pulpit in London while off on vacation. He came from England to America years ago and preached in the Rockefeller church in New York.

Dr. Aked sees society going to hell in the United States. He is telling the Britishers that the American church has lost its influence, the only way to fill a church in this country is to provide moving pictures in competition with the movie shows and that the spiritual outlook is very discouraging.

Dr. Aked is a pessimist. There are more real Christians in America than ever before; there are more fanatics in America than ever before; there are more counterfeit Christians in America than ever before, but a vast majority of Americans, in their safe and sane moments, revere the God of their fathers and the constitution that their fathers made.

There is a new civilization in the making. Dr. Aked clings to the old civilization. It is the logic of history that the new civilization will be superior in every way to the civilization that is going.

GET THE MOP!

American women have been notified by one of their own sex who is a famous dress and diet specialist that scrubbing the kitchen floor, if done in the right way, is not only good for the floor but the best kind of exercise for women who dread excess poundage. According to the aforesaid dress and diet specialist women may keep their figures young and beautiful even though gray hair, wrinkles and grandchildren are added to their possessions. Get the mop. Use the mop. Scrub the floor. Keep beautiful at all hazards. That is if you believe the said specialist. Otherwise, use your judgment.

Seven thousand Tennessee cotton growers have signed on the dotted line as co-operatives. Hundreds of Missouri cotton growers have signed on the dotted line. Thousands of Arkansas growers are said to be ready to sign on the dotted line. This principle of co-operation is as old as civilization itself but it appears to be a new thing in the states where the cotton blossom grows.

Now we know why the Turks whipped the Greeks last year. Greece is an autocracy. A degree has been issued by the government disbanding all labor unions and confiscating all the funds in their country. Greeks may be republicans at heart but their government represents an absolute monarchy and real liberty is as dead in Greece.

And the Turk came back to Europe! He won all he lost in the world war. He has been relieved from the payment of all indemnity. Constanople has been given over to him. In days of old they called the Turk the sick man of Europe. If he is a sick man he won in the halls of diplomacy all that his soldiers lost in the fields when the Hapsburgs and the Hohnlzollerns fell

The Letter Of The Contract

Chip goes to Berne on hearing that that is Edith's ultimate destination and meets a man who tells him his marriage is unhappy because his bride is a divorced woman. He alludes to "ghosts."

That, perhaps, was the secret of Walker's curiosity—that he respected him. He would have liked to talk to him—not precisely to ask his advice, but to lay before him some of the difficulties that were inchoate in his soul.

Glancing casually over his left shoulder as he walked on the hotel terrace one afternoon he became aware that among people at the edge of the terrace the stranger was standing. It was an opportunity not to be missed.

"Ce, c'es marveilleux, n'est-ce pas, monsieur?"

The words were banal, but they would serve to break the ice.

"Yes; and I've never seen the view more beautiful than today; but perhaps that's because I've seen it so many times."

Chip was disappointed to be answered in English, and especially in the English of an American. It brought the man too near for confidence. They might easily find themselves involved in a host of common acquaintances.

But something in the composure and way of speaking imposed this new acquaintance on him as a superior. Instinctively he said "sir" to him. Within a few minutes they found themselves seated on one of the benches. The talk was of the conference.

"It's an attractive little town," said the stranger. "But I wonder what a man like you can see in it—to remain here so long?"

Chip was startled, but he managed to say: "It isn't that I see anything in particular. I'm—"

"Waiting?"

"No, resting,' Chip answered.

"Ah, it's certainly a good place for resting" Then, after a pause: "Are you married?"

"I've a wife and little boy in New York."

"Ah!" There was no emphasis on this exclamation. "A happy marriage must be a great—safeguard."

"Safeguard against what, sir?"

There was a faint laugh. "Against everything from which a married man needs protection—pursuing another man's wife, for instance. A man who's happily married doesn't do that."

There was no aggression in the tone, and yet Chip felt a curious chill. Who was this man, and what the devil was he driving at? "Are there any happy marriages?—permanently happy, that is?" asked Walker.

"I don't know, because I'm not happily married," the stranger replied. "I married a lady who had divorced her husband. In divorce, there are some dangerous risks. It's a dangerous risk for a man to divorce his wife. It's a more dangerous risk for a woman to divorce her husband. But to marry a divorced husband or a divorced wife is the most dangerous risk of all."

Chip's voice was thick and dry. "May I ask, sir, on what you base your—your opinion?"

"Chiefly on the principle that, no matter how successfully the dead are buried, they may come back as ghosts."

Chapter XXVIII.
"The Lady Is Ill"

It was a minute before Chip was able to say, in a voice he tried to keep him: "If they have come back, you're not more haunted by them than—than any one else."

"So I understand."

The brief responses had the effect of dragging Walker forward. 'And would it be fair to ask why you say that?—that you understand?"

"Oh quite fair. It's partly because you are here."

"Then you think I ought to go anyway?"

"I think—since you ask me—that you oughtn't to have come.'

"I came—to rest."

"I don't question that. I'm only struck by—by the long arm of coincidence.'

"That is, you believe I had another motive?"

With a gesture he seemed to wave this aside. "That's hardly my affair. You're here; and since you are, I'd rather —"

"Yes?"

"I'd rather you didn't hurry away."

Questions rose to Chip's lips and died there. Was Edith in Berne? Had she seen him? Was she keeping out of his way? Was she being kept out of his way? Was she suffering? Was it through her that he had been recognized?

The fact that he had been recognized brought with it a kind of humiliation. The reference to the long arm of coincidence was stinging. Because it was so he tried to muster his dignity.

"I've no intention of hurrying away," he began; "but—"

"If you like, I'll put it this way," the measured voice broke in, courteously. "If you have time to wait a little longer I should be glad if you'd do it."

"Would there be any point to that?"

"I think you might trust me not to make the request if there were not." He added presently: "It's a wise policy to let sleeping dogs lie; but when they've once been aroused, they've got to be quieted."

"Quieted—how?"

"I can't tell you that as yet. I may have some vague idea concerning the process; I've none at all as to the result."

Chip was not sure that the stranger said good night. He knew he moved away. He watched him as, with stately, unhastening step he walked down the promenade, the Inverness cape and soft felt that silhouetted in the moonlight.

For the next forty-eight hours Walker hung about the hotel like a culprit. He would have sacrificed even a glimpse of Edith to feel free to go away.

He couldn't go away while the other man's plans remained enigmatical; but he wished he hadn't come. He felt his position undignified, grotesque, like that of a boy detected in some bit of silly daring.

Two days later they met again on the terrace of the Kleine Schanse. It was not an accidental meeting. The stranger had walked directly up to Chip to say:

"The lady to whom we were referring the other night—"

But Chip was still on his guard. 'Did I refer to a lady?"

"Perhaps not. But I did. And that lady is ill. You may be interested to know it. She was ill when she arrived in Paris from London ten days ago.

"Then she's here."

"She's here. That's why I'm taking your time in asking you to remain."

Chip forced the next question with some difficulty: "Does she—does she want to—to see me?"

"She hasn't said so."

"Has she—said anything about me at all?"

"That, I think, I must leave you to learn later. But I should like you to know at once that I'm not keeping you here without a motive."

The stately figure moved on, leaving Chip to guess blindly at the possibilities in store.

Chapter XXIX.
"Except the Paris Stroke."

More days passed—nearly a week. Berne would have begun to bore Chip, had it not been for the knowledge that he was under the same roof with Edith.

That gave him patience. It was the kind of comfort a man or a woman finds in being near the prison where some loved one is shut up in a cell.

Then one afternoon Chip's eye caught at the other end of the terrace the figures of a man and a woman almost in profile toward himself, the mans erect, stately form allowing the fact that a woman was clinging to his arm to be just perceptible.

It required no such movement as that of a few minutes later—a movement by which the woman came more fully into view—for Chip to recognize Edith.

His Edith, his wife, clinging to another man's arm clinging to the arm of a husband who was not himself, dependent on him, supported by him, possessed by him, coming and going with him, living and eating with him, bearing him children, sharing with him whatever was most intimate directed by him and dominated by him!—yet, all the while, in everything that could make two beings one except that stroke of the pen called law, his wife!

His first impulse was to get out of their sight, to hide, to find some place where he could grasp the appalling fact in silence and seclusion.

Second thoughts reminded him that there was a situation to be faced and that he might as well face it now as at any other time. What sort of situation it would be he couldn't guess; but he was sure that behind the immobile mask of the other man's grave face there was something that would be worth the penetration. He would give him a chance. He would slip into the little rotunda close beside him. In nearly as possible in full view, but with his face towards the mountains. It gave him a preoccupied air to be seen relighting his cigar.

It was thus optional with the couple who began to advance along the promenade to pass him by or to pause and address him.

Nothing but a shadow warned him of their approach.

"Chip—"

The man who isn't good for anything else usually is a good wisher.

Senator Brookhart hasn't been heard from since he was sued for 30 cents damages. He probably has decided that there is little use to say anything if he can't damage the man he attacks more than 30 cents worth.

The only thing in politics that is worrying us is the danger of having so many presidential candidates that there won't be anyone left to go to the conventions to nominate the man of the hour.

We are told that there is a counterfeit $20 bill in circulation. We harbor no fear that it will fall into our hands. If it was a two bit piece we might have occasion for slight uneasiness, but a twenty—no chance!

"Hope for Stable Mexico" says a headline, referring to the contemplated recognition of that country by the United States. If we recognize Mexico and get on official speaking terms with the tamale eaters, and can't have a "stable" Mexico it will be a horse on us.

A GLOOMY OUTLOOK

I know that propaganda lurks
In many statements statesmen utter,
To guide the easy man who works
To earn his daily bread and butter.
I know that government advice
Is not invariably worth heeding.
In fact I've found it—once or twice—
To be misleading.

But when I'm told the price of coal
Is very likely to be higher,
And I had better spend my roll
For what next year I may require,
No longer for my coal I wait
But fill my cellar full directly,
For well I know these persons state
The facts correctly.

Should some official on me call
And say to me, in accents sober—
"The price of coal is going to fall:
Don't get your stock in till October,"
I'd show the gentleman the door
And bid him sternly to retire
For I at once would know him for
A doggone liar.

For coal is never going to drop,
And everybody is romancing
Who tells you that it soon will stop
Its yearly habit of advancing.
One must not make a sour face,
Or rage, or bid the world defiance,
But on bad news he'd better place
The most reliance!

By MARY BLAKE

VIRGO

During the forenoon (he Moon opposed to Mercury is slightly adverse and suggests caution in promises and agreements. Any one born under the sign of Virgo, and married on this date, will experience unbelievable happiness throughout his married life.

A child born today will be steady and reliable but unresponsive to affection.

If today is your birthday you should be pre-eminently successful in science, for your mind has a certain surety of thought that is indeed unusual. You think in logical consequences but never with great brilliance. Your mind is also analytical and when it has dissected a thing, it carefully classifies it for future reference. That is why your memory is extremely orderly, because of the way you put things into it.

A curious enigma in your character is an occasional tempestuousness of disposition which surprises you as much as it does your associates. You plod along with great regularity for an indefinite period and then suddenly you burst into a gay and reckless spontaneity. At such times you are "the life of the party." Probably if you had these outbursts more frequently you would not be so obstreperous when they do come.

Perhaps this curious duality of personality is due to the fact that you are not easily amused and you have not the capability of enjoying the daily recreation and sports. You are apt to make your life monotonous to the point of nervous collapse, and then you escape it, by means of whatever relief offers, whether it is eating, drinking or dancing.

You have in you a talent romanticism which you would do well to cultivate as a balance to the hardness of your intellect. You are really appreciative of music, literature and art but you are ashamed to admit it and any emotional response to the thrumming to steel wires stretched over a cast-iron frame you regard as beneath human dignity.

It would be well for you to think of every day as one more chance to be useful and happy.

SECRETARY DAVIS GREETS POLES IN THEIR OWN TONGUE

By The Associated Press.

WARSAW, Aug. 27.—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis recently was in this city looking into questions of emigration to the United States, and astonished Polish officials with the display of unexpected linguistic abilities.

As a young man, Secretary Davis was employed in the iron works of Pittsburgh and acquired some knowledge of Polish from fellow workmen. The officials who met him here were greatly moved when he greeted them in their own tongue. Mr. Davis' Polish is so good that he was able to dispense with an interpreter except in formal conferences.

IRRIGATION

By A. M. McPHERSON
Consulting Engineer
Kahn Bldg., Eighth and Indiana

Into What Sized Farms Should The Surplus Lands on the Irrigation Project be Divided? Milk Production.

Milk is the primary product of the dairy. From milk comes cream which contains the butter fat from which butter is made.

Butter is a widely distributed article of commerce. It is used by all civilized nations and by many others not classed as fully civilized.

Butter is a highly valuable and nutritious food product, easily assimulted by the human body, an exceedingly rich in vitamines.

Many butters when made are almost white. These white butters are treated with harmless dyes to give the common yellow color.

Butter has many different flavors unless care is taken in its preparation. This variation in flavor is caused in many cases by the bacterial action that takes place in the ripening of the cream before churning by sterilizing the cream and introducing the proper bacterial cultures the flavor desired is secured.

Butter is made extensively on the farm as well as in the commercial creamery or factory.

Texas stood in the lead in 1919 in butter made on the farm with 49,403,152 pounds but stood 20th in rank in butter made in factories. The factory made butter amounted to 11,257,778 in the same year.

Minnesota is the leading state in butter production with a total from both farm and factory of 160,727,240 pounds in 1919. Texas stood eleventh in the same year in the total of farm and factory produced butter with a production of 90,662,925 pounds.

As factory butter is generally superior and commands a better price than farm made butter it is apparent that there is a great field in Texas for the establishment of creameries and factories.

GETTING TURPENTINE BY "SAPPING" TREES IN MEXICAN STATES

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 27.—Negotiations carried on by El Paso business men and Mexican officials of the states of Durango and Chihuahua have resulted in the establishment of a naval stores industry in those states and in this city.

Vast forests of pine trees, almost untouched heretofore, are being "sapped" for turpentine elements. Thousands of natives of these states are entering the forests there and gathering sap which is distilled and shipped to El Paso.

Already five carloads have been marketed in El Paso. Those promoting the industry say there are 250,000 buckets fastened to pine trees in that part of Mexico, and that eight operating firms are directing the collection of the sap and the distillation of it.

The first carload of turpentine was brought to El Paso in five-gallon cans. Later 50-gallon barrels were used.

Resin, a by-product of the process of turning pine sap into turpentine, is sold to soap manufacturers in Torreon, Coahuila.

The quality of the trees yielding the sap is not injured, it is said. Only big trees are tapped, and these can stand more than one tapping, and there are millions of the big ones. The young trees are not molested.

Mexican officials have been convinced of the possibilities of the industry being made a great asset to the country, it is said.

Office and Headquarters of the Wichita Falls Electric Company

HOLDING AN IMPORTANT PLACE among the towns most necessary institutions, The Wichita Falls Electric Company is conceded to have one of the finest plants of its kind in the entire country. With offices and general headquarters at 800-2 Indiana Avenue and its plant at the corner of Chester St. and Bluff Ave., the electric company serves the city of Wichita Falls and the surrounding towns of Electra, Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Newtown and Henrietta with light and power and is at present time completing a line to Bellvue.

The former idea that each town must be served by its own power plant has given way to the more progressive and efficient system of supplying many smaller towns from a main point of vantage, and assures these towns of a twenty-four hour service if desired.

The Wichita Light and Power Company purchased the former electric plant here from Kemp and Kell in 1913. Until May 26, 1922, the offices of the new organization were located at 811 Indiana Ave., but the building which housed the institution was destroyed by fire, along with two other business buildings on that date. The present quarters were occupied on Apr. 16, this year.

As it now stands, the plant of the company has a capacity of 15,000 horsepower, generated by large turbine engines, which have a speed of 3,000 revolutions per minute. These turbines are supplied with steam from high pressure boilers which generate 250 pounds steam pressure. After the steam leaves the boilers it is fully dried and super-heated up to 600 degrees. The steam then goes into condensers and after being condensed is returned to the boilers as pure distilled water. The condensers are supplied with 10,000 gallons of cooling water per minute. The water, passing through 5,000 copper tubes in the condenser and back into the lake, is cooled by spraying through the air and is ready for use again.

The electric generators, driven by steam turbines, generate electric current at 2,300 volts; the current passes through high voltage oil switches in the switch board of the plant to the various distributing lines over the city.

The transmission lines to the surrounding towns carries a voltage of 22,000. Oil storage tanks, near the plant, with a capacity of 75,000 barrels, supply fuel oil. The grounds of the plant are attractive and well kept.

The Wichita Falls Electric Company not only believes in but practices the policy of trading at home. In speaking of the advantages of this policy, Mr. P. A. Rogers, vice-president and manager of the company, said:

"Successful community building is founded on the policy of trading at home. Every citizen who resides in this section of Texas should regard it as his duty to give the people of this locality the benefit of his trade. He should do this from a purely selfish standpoint if for no other reason. For it is this, more than anything else, that cements the various business enterprises of towns together and builds them for permanency."

Spudders Have Rest; Play Sand Crabs Today

RIP WHEELER DUE TO WORK TODAY AND HAL CARLSON ON WEDNESDAY AGAINST CRABS

Pair of Spudder Hurling Aces Only Ones Who Can Win Regularly; Meine On Shelf With Bad Arm; Tanner and Williams Expected Back In Line Up Soon.

BY BILLIE SMITH.

With a day of rest the Spudders will open a four-game series with the Galveston Sand Crabs today. The schedule calls for only three games, but for the reason of a tie game with the Crabs on the Spudders last trip south, four games must be played to clean the slate.

Rip Wheeler is due to take the mound today against the Crabs, and Hal Carlson will probably work on Wednesday. Just at the present this pair of Spudder hurlers are the only ones that can win with any sort of regularity. The other Spudder pitchers have been bumped regularly on their last times out.

Meine Has Sore Arm

"Heine" Meine has just now found the cause of his bad showing during the past month. Meine discovered in the San Antonio series that his arm wasn't functioning just as it should be, so pulled himself out of the game. When Meine hit his losing streak, he found that he could not get a ball where he wanted to put it, and when it did go over the plate it often went in a groove spot. When Meine is right he will compare with Carlson and Wheeler.

Eddie Dyer, Earl Kunz and Bob Osborne have not been going so well of late. Some days Dyer looks like a wonder, while again he doesn't last long enough on the mell to show what he really has. There is no doubt Kunz can pitch when he is in proper condition. When he came here from Pittsburgh he had warmed the bench for the greater part of the season, and thus was not fit to take his regular turn off the reel. Hal Carlson suffered the same trouble that Kunz did when he first came to the Spudders, but after he had worked regularly for about a month he became a consistent winner. With plenty of work Kunz should come into his own.

Buddie and Red in Soon

Buddie Tanner and Red Williams, both of whom have been out of the game for several days with "charley horses," will probably get back into the Sand Crab series. With these two stars back in harness, the Spudders will be able to present a much stronger offensive and defensive team.

Following the Galveston series, the Spudders play a trio of games with the Buffaloes and return to North Texas to play the Panthers a double-header on Labor day at Fort Worth. After that the Spudders will be at home for the remainder of the season, during which time they will play every team in the league except Shreveport and Dallas.

Curing Your Golf Troubles

By Jim Barnes

Dear Sir:

Will you give me some advice on what is likely to be causing me to slice all of my full iron shots, and how I can go about avoiding such trouble? I have tried changes in grip and stance, but so far have been unable to work out any consistent improvement. I will certainly appreciate any help you can give me.

J. M. M.

Answer.

If I am to infer from your question that you are not slicing with your other clubs, I think probably your trouble is due to trying to hit the ball too hard, and thus rushing your hands through ahead of the club head. You are more than likely tightening up the muscles of the forearms so that you are losing the needed flexibility in the wrists. Try an easy swing for a time, and make a practice of relaxing the muscles of the arms and shoulders before starting the swing.

Also check up to see that you are taking the club back inside the line on the backswing. You can do this by keeping the arms pretty well into the sides.

Also see that you are keeping the weight pretty well back on the heels. For some reason that is rather hard to explain players frequently get into a habit of raising themselves upon their toes too far forward, and the club is carried back outside the ball and then brought down across it from the outside. Keeping the weight back and the arms well in will prevent any trouble of this kind.

(Jim Barnes will suggest a remedy for your golf faults. Write him care of the sport editor, enclosing stamped envelope if you want a personal reply.)

WAGNER OUTPOINTS CHAMPION DUNDEE

Mrs. Jones Leads Large Field In Women's Tourney

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Defying rain and soggy sod, Mrs. Melvin Jones of Olympia fields country club, Chicago, today led 200 competitors with a fine 41-45-86, two under woman's par, in the qualifying round of the women's western golf championship at Exmoore country club. Mrs. Dave Gaut of Memphis, defending champion who qualified by virtue of her title, also got in by scoring 94.

Virginia Pep, champion of St. Louis, tied for second place at 88 with Dorothy Klotz of Chicago, while Dorothy Highee of Exmoor and Mrs. Lee Mida, also of Chicago, had 99 each. All of the rest shot 90 or higher, although until a ruling on the penalty for out of bounds was made, Mrs. F. C. Letts of Chicago, formerly champion, was recorded on the score sheet as having scored 89. Another former title holder, Mrs. F. L. Reinhart, (Elaine Rosenthal) of Dallas, Texas, was the only other player to get 90, but Miriam Burns of Kansas City, Mo., Missouri champion, shared a 91 with Mrs. J. W. Douglas of Chicago.

Don't Forget Grover Alexander

Adolfo Luque, by reason of his wonderful record with the pennant-chasing Reds, has been drawing the lion's share of the limelight in the National league cities. But old Grover Alexander, plodding along with the much weaker Cubs, has kept pace with Luque. If you don't believe it, look over the latest records.

Last Year's Winners Again to Defend

"Let well enough alone." So reasoned the Davis Cup committee, headed by Dwight F. Davis, donor of the trophy, in picking the tennis team which will defend the Davis Cup in matches with the Australian team. Therefore the same four tennis stars who successfully defended America's net supremacy last year were chosen:

William T. Tilden, 2nd, of Philadelphia—Threeyear winner of the singles championship of the United States Wimbledon winner. Holder of the doubles championship with Vincent Richards. Designated throughout the world as leading ranking player of tennis. Member of the winning Davis Cup team, for the last three years America's ace.

William M. Johnston—Runner-up to Tilden in each of the three championships. Winner of the world's title at Wimbledon this summer, losing only one set in the entire journey. Also a member of the United States Davis cup team for the last three years.

Vincent Richard—Has held more championships at one time than any player in the history of the game. Still under age, but universally regarded as the greatest hope for American tennis in the future.

Richard Norris Williams, 2nd—Former national doubles and international champion. Thorough student of the game. Davis Cup player for many years. Captained the successful 1922 team and selected again for this difficult work for this year.

LEGION CARDS RYAN AND ROSE

Thursday Night's Program Above Par

As a result of winning over KO Williamson last week Harry Ryan of Dallas won the right to meet Billy Rose of Sapulpa for the main go on Thursday night's Legion fight program. The winner of this scrap will probably meet Lee Morrisey on Labor Day.

Billy Rose has appeared on the Legion program once before, having fought "Country Boy" Lance of Gainesville to a draw. Rose is the same style of fighter that Ryan is and should match up pretty evenly with the Dallas pug. He is a master at in-fighting and is probably as quick in the ring as is his opponent.

Mickey Savage, who early in the season fought Kid Snyder to a draw will celebrate his birthday by going the route again with the Burkburnett battler. Savage has been in training with Billy Rose in Sapulpa and has absorbed several degrees of expert fighting knowledge since he mixed with Snyder.

"Speedy" Binion of Alvord and "Battling" Paul of Lawton, Oklahoma, are listed to go eight rounds for Thursday night. Both fighters come here with a good reputation back of them. Binion has been working out with the other Legion boxers for several days now and is declared to be in good fighting condition.

"Battling" Jennings of Henrietta is making a determined effort to come-back with a six round go against the speedy "Country Boy" Lance. Both are well known around Wichita Falls and both are similar types of fighters.

Newest Filipino Menace Arrives

Peter Sarmiento

Another Filipino battler has come to the mainland to cop a ring title. He is Peter Sarmiento, a counterpart of Pancho Villa, the Island lad who now holds the world's flyweight championship. Sarmiento comes mainly to get a crack at Joe Lynch and his bantam title, but the Philippine native says he can also train down and take on his Island brother, Pancho, in a flyweight bout. He has the same muscular development that Villa has, as the photo shows.

American Krusaders New Arkansas Klan Group

By The Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 27.—Incorporation papers for a new organization to be known as the American krusaders, said to be similar to the ku klux klan, were issued in circuit court here today. The petition was filed by H. L. McCall, Fred L. Gifford, Martin W. Ross and James A. Comer.

McCall is a resident of Texas and Gifford is from Oregon. Comer is grand dragon of the realm of Arkansas, knights of the ku klux klan.

What'll He Do?

Pat Moran, Cincy Pilot.

Pounding along on "all six" Pat Moran's Reds are cutting down the lead of McGraw's machine which seems to have thrown a tire. Unless the Giants perk up Pat Moran may gallop his chargers right around them in the final stretch of the National league handicap.

BUS DRIVERS HELD IN KANSAS ROBBERY

By The Associated Press.

WICHITA, Kans., Aug. 27 — Two men, who, according to their own confessions to the police, drove the motor car used in making the escape of the bandits who robbed the Valley State Bank of Belleplaine at noon today, were arrested here shortly after the robbery occurred. The men, who gave their names as Lee Baldwin and A. L. Greenleaf, both motor bus drivers, declared they were hired to drive the robbers to Belleplaine and then back to Wichita. They denied any implication in the robbery. Both are being held by the police.

PANAMA CANAL PAYS COST MANY TIMES

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Panama Canal is operating at such a big profit that it has paid for itself many times over, said Colonel Jay J. Morrow, governor general of the canal zone, who arrived on the Santa Ana today. He will confer with officials in Washington.

During the first 15 days of August, according to the governor, more than $1,000,000 in tolls was received.

Appropriate.

A traveler in the West some years ago observed a well-executed portrait on the wall of a dark room in a cabin and asked whose picture it was. "That's my husband," said the woman of the house, carelessly.

"But it is hung with fatal effect," urged the artist.

"So was my husband," snapped the woman.—Houston Post.

Luis Firpo Plays Sweet Music On Sparring Mates

By The Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27.—Using the same 16-ounce mitts that failed to soften the punches he landed on Joe Downey in Indianapolis several weeks ago, Luis Angel Firpo, challenger of the heavyweight boxing title, played pugilistic music on three sparring mates today in his daily workout.

Jeff Clark, the "black ghost" of Joplin, tuned like a banjo, and young Frank Koebele, the Brooklyn zither were instruments used in the fast numbers, while Joe McCann, the New York bass drum, was thumped in the other.

Cottonseed Oil.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Cottonseed oil was heavy in the face of higher lard and comparatively light stocks, owing to liquidation in nearby deliveries and pressure from local bears. ### Many Strong Spots With Sugar Stocks Especially Active

Futures

Total stock sales, 519,000 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 92.48; net gain .88.

High, 1923, 105.38; low, 86.91.

Twenty railroads averaged 79.04; net gain .39.

High, 1923, 90.63; low, 76.78.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Stock prices displayed a firm tone in today's rather listless session.

Higher raw and refined sugar prices were held responsible for the strength and activity of the sugar stocks, American sugar rising three points, American Beet sugar two, American Cane preferred and Punta Alegra one and three-fourths each. Lead shares also profited by the advance in the price of that metal, National Lead closing at a gain of one and three-fourths points.

Baldwin, which closed nearly two points higher, at 122½, registered the largest gain among the so-called pivotal stocks.

Many Strong Spots

Davison Chemical made another spirited advance on a renewal of rumors concerning the use of the silica-gel process which is controls. The stock touched a new high for the year at 44½, and then fell back to 41¼, where it was up 1½ on the day. Other outstanding strong spots were Gulf States Steel, Kresage, Barnsdall A, Stromberg Corburetor, U. S. Rubber, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, General Asphalt, and Foundation company, all up 2 to 3½ points. United Cigar Stores sold 26 points above the previous sales, in reflection of an increase from 8 to 12 per cent in the annual dividend rate. Cosden Oil preferred advanced 8 points on a small turnover, and Woolworth 7½ per cent.

Changes in the railroad group were mixed. Erie issues yielded on profit-taking, despite the publication of a July earnings report, which showed gross income of $11,057,000, as against $11,035,000 in June, and $7,854,000 in July, 1922. The combined gross income of the first 17 class one roads to report in July totaled $173,981,000, as compared with $175,000,000 in June, and 143,-809,000 in July last year.

Call Money Up

Call money opened at 5 per cent, but advanced to 5½ before the close. Time money and commercial paper markets were quiet, with no change in rates. Bankers are offering time funds at 5½ per cent, but brokers bid only 5¼, and most of the business is confined to renewals.

Foreign exchanges were slightly reactionary. Demand sterling dropped nearly ¾c to $4.54⅝, and French francs sold around 5.69½c, off 2 points. Other rates showed little change.

Sugar Buying Renewed

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Reports of a better inquiry for refined sugar led to renewed buying in raw and an advance of ⅛c in prices with Cubas now quoted at 4⅜c, cost and freight, equal to 6.15c for centrifugal. Business was more active and sales included 6,000 bags of Porto Ricos at 6c; 15,000 bags of Cubas and 8,000 bags of Porto Ricos at 6.03; 13,000 bags of Cubas at 6.09, and 46,000 bags of Cubas at 6.15, all for prompt and first half of September shipment. Finals prices in the raw sugar market were at about the best of the day and from 14 to 26 points net higher. Closing: September, 4.32; December, 4.36; March, 3.74; May, 3.81.

The market for refined was firmer in sympathy with the advance in raw, and prices were unchanged to 25 points higher, with prices now quoted from 7.50c to 7.75c for fine granulated. Refined futures nominal.

Historical Data On Antartic Is Aim of Expedition

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 27.—What is claimed to be the longest and most extensive natural history expedition ever undertaken will be started in September under the direction of George Finlay Simmons, Texas naturalist. The expedition, which is sponsored by the Cleveland Museum of Natural History, will cover approximately 25,000 miles and will be in progress for two years.

The expedition will leave New London, Conn., early in September on a specially equipped schooner, commanded by George Comber, who commanded the McMillan Relief Expedition in 1917. The party will visit many volcanic islands and wild regions in the Antarctic and Indian oceans.

After leaving New London the first landing of the expedition will be St. Paul rocks off the coast of Brazil. From there the course will lead directly south into the land of the Antarctic. Investigations will be made and specimens of bird and other life collected on the South Georgia Island, Sandwich and Latter Islands. The last group is covered with ice and snow throughout the year and frequently visited by volcanic eruptions, it is stated.

After visiting several groups of islands in the Antarctic region, the party will move to Cape Town, Africa. The winter season will be spent in Africa. Expeditions will be made into the mainland along the west African coast and visits to St. Helena and Ascension Islands in the middle Atlantic.

On approach of the Arctic summer the naturalists will go into the southern part of the Indian ocean. Life on the Crozet, Desolation and Kerguelen Islands will be studied. An effort will be made to get specimens of the giant sea elephant of the Antarctic region.

The expedition party will include more than 15 recognized naturalists. Director Simmons recently was named as curator of birds and mammals of the Cleveland Museum. He has attained distinction through investigations of bird life on gulf islands off the Texas coast. Formerly he was instructor in the University of Texas here.

Specimens obtained on the expedition will be brought to the Cleveland museum and to the American museum of Natural History in New York, which is cooperating in the excursion according to Mr. Simmons.

Campaign Speaking Made Easy By Voice Amplifier

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Fewer cracked or strained voices as the result of strenuous political speaking campaigns in the 1924 elections, and which at the same time may reach a much wider constituency, is seen in the applications of the loud-speaking device used so successfully by the late President Harding on his tour to Alaska.

Candidates will be enabled to address millions of citizens without vocal strain or discomfort, it is indicated, as the instrument can be installed in any location, while atmospherical conditions cannot affect its operation.

President Harding was able, without straining his voice, to make himself heard to thousands surrounding the observation end of his car. Speakers of experience have stated that ordinarily only a few hundred can hear an open-air address by the average speaker, and then they must be close.

The speech amplifying system is composed of three portable transmitters mounted on the railing of the car's observation platform; a control room in which is located the operating rack with its amplifiers and accessory apparatus; five projectors mounted in a semi-circle on a specially built extension to the observation hood, and the signal system. The sound waves of the speaker's voice are absorbed by the transmitters and conveyed by wires to the control room, where they are amplified and then delivered to the projectors on the roof, which serve as megaphones in delivering the words.

The signal system as arranged so as to enable the audience observer and the platform and control operators to converse by signals. If the observer in the crowd thinks additional volume is needed, he signals the platform man, who makes the desired changes.

RALLIES FOLLOW COTTON DECLINE

Trading Believed To Be Preparation For Crop Report

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—An opening decline in the cotton market was followed by rallies today which seemed to be largely influenced by a strong near months situation. October led the advance, increasing its premium over December, and selling up from 23.96 to 24.60, or 49 points net higher. That month closed at 24.54, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 25 to 43 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 5 to 17 points on reports of further rains in the southwest, the weather, easy showing of later cables from Liverpool, and reports that hedge selling was increasing. December sold off to 23.89 and January to 23.60, but offerings appeared to be quite readily absorbed at these figures and the market turned firmer before the end of the morning. Business was not general and a good deal of the trading was supposed to represent further evening-up for over the approaching government report and the Labor day adjournment. October shorts, however, showed increasing anxiety during the afternoon, owing to the fact that stocks of certified cotton here are now down to less than 3,000 bales. Last prices were within a few points of the best. Two more private crop reports were issued, one of them making the condition 56.3 and the indicated yield 11,001,000 bales, while the other made the condition 55.6 and the indicated yield 11,116,000 bales.

Exports today were 12,604 bales, making 153,799 so far this season. Port receipts today, 15,249; U. S. port stocks, 206,040.

Coolidge Not Old Enough For Golf

Unless President Calvin Coolidge changes his mind the golf links of Washington will see very little of him during his tenure of office. Coolidge being comparatively sprightly doesn't believe he's "old enough" to play golf. Horseback riding is his favorite sport. "General" is his steed. Here they both are.

Fort Worth Livestock

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 27.—Receipts in the cattle yards Monday were ample to meet all urgent requirements, but the supply was not at all excessive. The estimate called for 5,000 head of cattle and 3,000 calves. Steers were 15 cents lower, cows averaged 15 cents to 25 cents down, heifers, yearlings and bulls were weak to 10 cents lower, and the calf market suffered a decline to 25 to 30 cents. On stockers and feeders the trade remained quotably unchanged.

Salesmen got fairly good action in the butcher stock division, but all kinds were weak to lower, and on cows the deal was fully 15 to 25 cents down. Canners made up most of the supply, the good kinds selling at $1.75 to $2.00; cutters brought $2.25 to $2.75. Fat cows brought $3 to $4.50. Heifers and yearlings were very scarce, and most of the run clearing at a range of $3.50@5.50. Bulls brought $2.00@3.75.

Demand for calves was relatively good, but buyers were not interested unless prices were lower, and when sales were made they were mostly 25 to 50 cents down. Good calves sold around $5.50@6.50.

Hog buyers remained inactive until very late in the day. There was no real shipper demand here, receipts being small and quality common, and packers tried to force a small decline. In the end, however, the market was not far from steady. Top was $8.65 for wagon hogs, and $8.50 for a bunch in the carlot division. Most sales made a range of $8.25@8.45. Pigs averaged slightly higher, stockers selling $5.25@5.65; hog house receipts were limited to about 1,000 head.

Stronger prices were paid for sheep a few weathers bringing $8.00 and on lambs the market was 50 cents higher, one deal being made at $12.50. Yearlings sold at $10.50. Receipts were close to 2,800 head, but 1,200 of them were on through billing.

Liverpool Cotton.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 27.—Cotton spot, limited demand; prices steady. Good middling $15.65; fully middling $15.40; middling $15.15; low middling $14.85; good ordinary $14.35; ordinary $14.05. Sales 5,000 bales, including 2,200 American; receipts 4,-200 bales, including 4,200 American.

WHEAT MARKET HOLDS FIRMLY

Top Prices Not Maintained But Closing Quotations Unchanged

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Firmness in the cable news, wet weather in some sections of the grain belt, and strength in the northwestern markets gave wheat values here a firm undertone today. Top prices, however, were not maintained, as offerings increased and values went down to around Saturday's levels. At the finish wheat was unchanged to ½c higher, with December $1.07½ and May $1.12⅝@¾ to $1.12¾; corn a shade to ⅜c lower, oats ⅛c to ⅞@1c down, and provisions varied from 5c off to a like advance.

Trade in corn was limited and featureless, being affected more or less by the action of wheat and the weakness in the cash market.

Oats showed strength early but eased off with other grains later.

Provisions were steady, notwithstanding the large hog movement.

AVIATOR FLIES FROM BERLIN TO LONDON AND BACK IN 1 DAY

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—Berlin to London and back in one day was the record trip made recently by the German pilot, Pieper, engaged in the regular aerial service for mail and passengers.

Pieper arrived at Vremen via Hamburg on the outward flight at 11 o'clock in the morning and an hour and a half later resumed the journey to Amsterdam and the English capital. By 6:20 in the afternoon he was back in Bremen by the same route, and ten minutes later set out for Berlin.

COURT PROVES WOMAN'S SANITY

Jury Declares Iowa Park Woman Should Be Kept Under Restraint

A second time within a week has an Iowa Park woman been asked to appear in county court and prove her sanity and both times she has succeeded, a jury Monday afternoon bringing in a verdict that she was not insane but that she should be kept under restraint.

Last Thursday the woman was charged by her husband of being insane and a jury disagreed with him. From Friday until Monday the husband charged his wife tried to whip a woman up two and otherwise convinced him that she was not in her right mind, despite the verdict of the jury to the contrary.

Willing to Take Treatment.

Judge Guy Rogers of the county court at law was appointed by Judge R. D. Sartin to defend the woman in the Monday trial. Wayne Somerville, assistant county attorney, represented the state. Judge Sartin overruled defense motion to quash indictment on the ground the woman had already been adjudged sane.

The woman took the stand and for nearly an hour recited her relations with her present husband over a period of seven years. She said she was willing to sell her personal property and go to Dallas and take special treatment for her nervous condition. Her brother said he and another brother would help pay the expense.

"There is one of two things going to happen in this matter," Assistant County Attorney Somerville said after the verdict had been brought in. "This woman is either going to Dallas or somewhere and take treatment for her nerves or be arrested and stand trial every time she gets on another rampage at Iowa Park."

Old Home Town Stuff

THINGS YOU SAY, DO AND SEE AND SOME YOU DON'T

The county commissioners Monday authorized the purchase of a new 10-ton tractor for road work.

The report of Mrs. Alma Y. Miller, county clerk, for July was accepted by the county commissioners' Monday.

Guy Foot of the Texhoma production department has returned from a two weeks vacation spent at Dallas and Denton.

Ronnie Allred, court reporter for the Eighty-ninth district court, has returned with his family from a six weeks' vacation to California.

Two men called for jury service who told Judge Wilson his wife was the head of the family would have certainly looked good to old Dixieland.

M. H. Hackney, who has been a member of the county motorcycle speed squad resigned Monday to take a position with the county engineer's department.

T-O Fair to Summarize Progress In Wichita Falls Territory in Year

"The Texas-Oklahoma fair, October 1 to 7 will emphasize all the progress which has been made in livestock raising, home-making, agriculture and children's work in this territory the past year," said C. H. Verschoyle yesterday in a formal statement.

"It will be a wonderful exhibition. The livestock show is always interesting, but it will be even more interesting this year. Fat hogs, sleek horses, cows with bulging udders, and broad-backed sheep will vie with one another in their demand for public approval. Premiums totalling $6,075 are being offered for livestock.

"The tremendous amount of work has been done to interest children in home and farm work the last 10 years has caused the management to give much attention in this field. Boys and girls will give the older folks some mighty strenuous competition in most of the open classes. Other classes, for children only, will have a big entry list.

"Farm products of superior quality will be one of the big displays of the Texas-Oklahoma fair. Grains and vegetables of leading varieties will be brought and shown in number. Fruits of the kind best suited to this locality will be shown in quantity.

"The entertainment program will be a splendid one. The officials have planned an amusement bill which will please the most exacting. Among the leading features will be Al Sweet and his Hussar band, The La Salle trio, Sie Tahar's Tunisians, the Novikoff troupe, the Loretta twins and the Thomas sazo-tette."

German Finance Compulsory Loan

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—The government's forced draft of foreign currency, details of which were revealed today, virtually resolves itself into what is termed here a thinly disguised compulsory loan, with obligatory surrender of gold currencies.

The securities may be exchanged for paper marks at current rates of exchange, for an equivalent participation in the new internal gold loans, or the amounts assessed may be designated as applying on future payment of taxes.

The government is determined to make its internal gold loan a nation-wide patriotic issue in addition to its plan for accumulating a gigantic reserve of gold currencies which will be devoted to an effort to salvage the internal financial situation and also provide a gold capital fund out of which to pay for emergency food purchases abroad.

Bralley Scoffs At Boy Burglary Theory Now Held

Burglaries of business houses which have become a near nightly occurrence here the past two weeks were Sunday night outside the main district and in other parts of the city.

The Floral Heights pharmacy on Tenth street was broken into and $8 taken from the cash register. A grocery store at Barwise and Lake street and the Woody-Hines filling station at Tenth and Lamar were entered but nothing was taken of any value.

An attempt by peace officers to saddle the bulk of the numerous burglaries on small boys is regarded by Juvenile Officer Bralley as a waste of time.

"I do not believe small boys or older juveniles are doing all of these jobs or hardly any of them. It looks to me like the work of more experienced thieves," Bralley said in discussing the matter.

FARM LEGISLATION FUTILE—CUNNINGHAM

By The Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 27.—Financial legislation does not create a market for the farmer nor does federal supervision of the board of trade or the packing industries mean orderly marketing and co-operation as it is practiced in Europe, E. H. Cunningham, "dirt farmer" member of the federal reserve board and former farm bureau official declared today in an address at the Iowa state fair.
