Winds Face Mustangs At Olton Tomorrow

In Traditional Thriller

The Floydada Whirlwinds hit the road for the first time this year Friday when they take on Olton in the Mustangs' home stadium. Kickoff is scheduled at 8 p.m.

The Whirlwinds will be trying to rebound from a 14-7 upset loss to Post last week, the first time the Winds have been outscored in a regular-season game since Tulia beat them 8-0 in the second game of the 1971 season. (Littlefield swiped the playoff spot and half the 3-AA title crown that season by downing the Winds by the margin of four first downs, but the Wildcats didn't outscore 'em — the score was 0-0 — and the Whirlwinds treated Tulia the same way last year, when the Hornets came into 4-AA with Floydada and the Winds staged a two-touchdown comeback late in the fourth quarter to tie the Hornets 21-all and win the playoff spot with a 5-3 edge in penetrations.)

Olton, like Post, is a young team. The Mustangs are short on veterans, and most of them are in the line — the Mustang backs are all underclassmen.

They are ably led by sophomore quarterback Jimmy Parker. Big for a soph (6'1", 171 pounds), he can run and throw. Last year's Mustang quarterback, Vic Allcorn, a 6'1", 160-pound senior, has been shifted to end, where he adds a threat in the Olton receiving corps.

Their top runner, according to Floydada head coach L. G. Wilson, is Glen Johnson (5'10", 170), who started last year as a freshman. Another Mustang ball carrier to watch is 5'8", 150-pound Joe Alcorta, also a sophomore, who scored three touchdowns last Friday when Olton surprised Lockney 26-21.

Where the Mustangs have experience is on the line, and they have a lot of it in one man, Jimmy McCurry, a 220-pound senior guard/tackle who is working on his fourth varsity letter this year. McCurry is a potential all-state candidate.

Olton has been a second-half club this year, overcoming a 14-point halftime deficit against the Longhorns (three Mustang TD's came in the final period) and showing some good play in losses to Tulia and powerful triple-A Muleshoe.

It is traditionally a tough, hard-fought ball game, with not much difference in the scores, when the Mustangs meet the Winds, and this one promises to be no exception. Whirlwind coach Wilson said "We know we must be ready to play the entire game against Olton. They'll scrap you all the way."

Wilson said the Winds went through one of the best Monday workouts all year this week after the loss to Post. The Wind head coach said he was happy with the attitude displayed by the team and mentioned the quickness, fire, and "getting with it" shown in workouts.

The Whirlwinds go into the Olton contest somewhat crippled. Steve Moore sustained a badly-sprained ankle in the Post game and is doubtful, and Mike Reeves will miss the game (as he did the Post game) with a dislocated thumb that was injured the day before the Post contest and required surgery to correct.

Wilson continues to shift the defense in efforts to provide some rest for his two-way players. This week at corner linebacker it will probably be Danny Bradford and either Lyle Suggs or Mike Vickers. Rance Young and Kelvin Ratliff are listed as probable starters at defensive halfback.

Ashley Wester and Lynn Becker will be captains for the game.

The probable starting lineup for the Whirlwinds:

OFFENSE

Ends — Marc Smitherman and Lynn Becker
Tackles — Mark Craig and Bill Fulton
Guards — Mike Hatley and Ruben DeLeon
Center — Ashley Wester
Quarterback — John Cagle
Fullback — Danny Bradford
Halfbacks — Rex Yeary and Rance Young

DEFENSE

Ends — Danny Quisenberry and Joel Hendrix
Tackles — Lynn Becker and Mark Craig
Inside linebackers — Mike Hatley and Ruben DeLeon
Corner linebackers — Danny Bradford and Lyle Suggs or Mike Vickers
Halfbacks — Rance Young and Kelvin Ratliff
Safety — Rex Yeary

Bill Hale Re-Elected President Floydada Development Company

Bill Hale was elected to serve as president another term at the annual meeting of the Floydada Development Company Monday afternoon in the bank community room. Re-elected vice president was George Miller and Bob Kirk was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Four new board members were elected: Insurance real estate man Jim Word, Lighthouse Electric manager Alton Higginbotham, district attorney Miller and Southwestern Public Service manager Clarence Denton.

W. H. Simpson Jr., J. M. Willson Jr. and Wendell Tooley were re-elected trustees of the vegetable shed property.

The group devoted considerable amount of time to discussing final plans on the securing of a huge new industry for Floyd County, which Hale and other members of the board have been working on for some three months.

Hale appointed four men to work on getting more members into the Development Company: Bill Flynt, Gene Arwine, Dan Hagood and David Kirk.

Although 58 members belong to the Development Company only ten were present.

SOMETIMES I GET THE FEELING that people just don't want to save. We run stories of invitation to church so they can get their souls saved, we run stories about estate planning, so they can save their estate tax money, we run stories telling some 58 members of the Floydada Development Company about the annual meeting in which we're working on the biggest industry ever for Floyd County (save the county) and only nine showed up.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST INDUSTRIES in Floyd County is The Tye Company in Lockney. It is located on the south side of highway 70 in south Lockney.

At present a huge steel warehouse is about completed at the south end of the industry and this will be utilized in storage of materials and finished products.

The Tye Company manufactures several types of farming implements. Wayne Russell sells their implements here in Floydada.

Tuesday afternoon I enjoyed just walking through the plant... there are over 25 workers in the industry and this is an industry that every resident of Floyd County can be proud to claim.

FJHS Student Council Works To Improve School

The Floydada Junior High School student council is a very enthusiastic group of Breezers hard at work to make this the best-ever year at FJHS.

During football season spirit ribbons are sold, with the homeroom selling the most ribbons being awarded the "Breezer Spunk" banner at the weekly pep rally. This contest has really been "hot" and school spirit is at an all-time high — so far no losses by either the seventh or eighth grade teams.

Other money-making activities this year for the junior high student council will be a spring style show and the showing of three movies — at the beginning of the holidays at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. Another first for the FJHS student council is having a girl, Lori Vinson, as president. However, the boys still outnumber the girls in the total makeup of the council.

To date the service project for the year has not been chosen. Each year the council strives to use their money to improve the school in such a way as will benefit all the students and the faculty.

These young leaders are daily striving to show the characteristics we admire in the youth of our community.

A POLITICIAN, planning to run for office and wanting to know how he stood with the public, hired a pollster. In a week the pollster reported to the politician: "Ninety-eight percent of the people are for you. But it is a funny thing, I only kept running into the other two percent."

County Revenue

Money Benefits Many

From January 1, 1972 through June 30, 1973, the County of Floyd received $177,178.00 from the federal government's Revenue Sharing program. On August 30 a statement was published in the county newspapers showing how the money was spent under Health, Social Services for the Aged and Poor, Multipurpose and General Government, Public Safety, and Recreation and Culture. The Revenue Sharing Fund is not a part of the county's budgeted expenditures.

Listed by item, the county has spent its money for a motor grader for Pre. #3 and Pre. #4 at $20,542.50 each, a tractor for Pre. #1 $9,500.00, pickup for Pre. #2 $2,801.64, motor grader for Pre. #2 $22,500.00, motor grader for Pre. #4 $23,500.00, a pickup for Pre. #1 $2,723.15, and a tractor-loader-backhoe for Pre. #1 at $13,162.63. Other expenditures include $2,000.00 to the Floyd County Historical Museum, purchase and repair of the Justice of the Peace office in Lockney $6,466.67, Central Plains Mental Health Center in Plainview $4,022.80, county jail repair $1,112.93, Floyd County Day Care Center $1,000.00, two adding machines $508.70, and 7.7 acres of land in southwest Floydada on which to locate a county radio tower $7,500.00. Obligated but not spent at the present time is $17,037.00 each to the Lockney and Floydada fire departments for the purchase of fire fighting equipment.

During the coming year from July 1, 1973 through June 30, 1974 Floyd County is due to receive $146,363.00 from Revenue Sharing Funds.

Matador Jail

Resident Flees

MATADOR, Tex. — A 28-year-old Matador man sentenced to prison for rape has made his second escape from the Motley County jail in Northwest Texas.

Sheriff Jinks Wilson said Michael King escaped sometime after 3 p.m. Thursday, apparently by sawing a one-inch steel bar. He said King's wife may be with him.

King was sentenced Sept. 17 to 10 years in prison after pleading guilty to a rape charge before 72nd District Court Judge L.D. Ratliff.

He first escaped the Motley County jail Aug. 15 when he overpowered a jailer. He was recaptured in Matador a few hours later.

BITUARIES

W.C. McCown Maude Reves

Mother and brother-in-law of Elmo Reves of Sterley died recently within two days of each other. Both were residents of Lueders and died after being hospitalized at Stamford for treatment of strokes.

W. C. McCown, 63, died Sept. 15, ten days after suffering a stroke. He had seemed to be recovering and was about to leave the hospital when another stroke killed him instantly. Funeral services were Sept. 16 in First Baptist Church of Lueders. Survivors include his wife Essie, one daughter and one grandchild. Attending the funeral from here were Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Reves, Mr. and Mrs. Duard Reves and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Sanders, and Mrs. Shirley Wright of Tulia.

Mrs. Maude Reves had been hospitalized two weeks when she died Sept. 17. She was 85 years old. Born Maude Nelson, she married George Reves Oct. 9, 1909, in Fort Worth. They moved to Lueders in 1913. Mrs. Reves died in 1956.

Experiments Station Begins Development

LUBBOCK — Farmers throughout most of the cotton producing areas of the nation have fought a continuous battle against the boll weevil for years, but have seen relatively little success in stopping the destructive pest. Researchers at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock are attempting to add a new weapon to the farmer's arsenal in the fight against the cotton boll weevil. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has an extensive program underway at College Station, Texas. Several other state experiment stations and the USDA also are working on this problem. However, this is the first time that this line of research has been attempted in this area, he adds.

"The completion of a boll weevil research laboratory, plus a well-established cotton breeding program have allowed us to expand our research in this area," Rummel explains.

Initially, research at the Experiment Station under High and Rolling Plains conditions will be directed toward an evaluation of cottons developed by existing insect resistant programs at other locations.

"Several modifications of the cotton plant have been found to impart resistance to insects," says Rummel. "These range from a change in the shape of the bract, sometimes referred to by growers as the boll shuck, to an unknown chemical substance in the plant, referred to as the "x" factor.

While research is directed mainly at the development of a boll weevil resistant cotton, other cotton pests such as cotton fleahoppers and bollworms will be considered, he points out.

Rummel concludes that the development of commercially desirable insect resistant varieties is a long term project, requiring close teamwork between entomologists, plant breeders and agronomists.

Research on boll weevil resistant cotton has been conducted for many years in other parts of the Cotton

Community Clothing Center Opens October 2

The Community Clothing Center in Floydada will open Tuesday, October 2, from 1 until 4 p.m. in the basement of the Floyd County Courthouse. The administrator this year is Mrs. Nola Crawford.

After an announcement of opening day in September, it was necessary the Center be moved from Della Plains as all facilities in the building were needed for the school program. Before the Clothing Center could be moved, the basement rooms had to be cleaned, thus causing a delay in opening. Special thanks are extended to those assisting, Thomas Warren, David Crawford and Billy Stringer for help in moving heavy articles to the basement and to Glenn Jarnigan and Al Galloway and their school classes of boys and girls for loading and moving all the clothing and racks from Della Plains to the courthouse; and to the group of women who packed and unpacked and placed the clothing for distribution. Since there was a limited space at the court house, thanks go to those who were helpful in packing and trucking the surplus clothing to the earthquake victims of Old Mexico.

THE lifting of blackouts on televising football games has already shown results according to statistics. On the first day of the regular season, a total of 49,313 persons who had purchased tickets in advance failed to show up at games around the circuit. That figure came from nine games which were televised in the cities where they were played after legislation was passed last week outlawing blackouts of games which are sellouts 72 hours prior to kickoff. I understand it hurt the attendance for the Tech game Saturday but there were several Floydada fans who attended and wished they had stayed at home. Some ended up with sunburns and said it was sure hot on the east side.

WHAT with the lifting of football blackouts after sellouts... comes this little diddy from Bob Lilly's Pro Report: You know, if Congress decided to take over and run pro football the game would probably go something like this:

First of all, vendors would be paid not to sell peanuts. Gar Yepremian would be recognized as a foreign power and be sent foreign aid and an ambassador. Martha Mitchell would do the halftime show. Philadelphia would be declared a disaster area and be granted 16 first round draft choices for next season. The top 50 players in the league would be sold to Russia. A Phase XXIII guideline would set ticket prices at $13.98 each. A bill would be introduced, making it illegal to defeat the Washington Redskins. All coaches would take a junket to Red China during the off-season. And Henry Kissinger would sing the national anthem in his native tongue!

THE R. A. Dysons arrived home Friday by plane from Salinas, Calif., where they spent a part of the summer months in order that Mrs. Dyson could receive acupuncture treatment. While there Mrs. Dyson also underwent surgery for the removal of a gall stone from which she recovered nicely and says she is more comfortable than she has been in months. Mrs. Dyson is also greatly improved from her acupuncture treatment, her husband said. Dyson also had several acupuncture treatments and was appalled, he said, to find that he was now able to move his arms above his head, something he had not been able to do in years due to calcium deposits in the shoulder joints. Mrs. Dyson, who suffered a stroke some three years ago which left her paralyzed, benefitted greatly from acupuncture, her husband said. Altho still taking therapy, she spends a great deal of time "out of bed", visiting over the phone with friends, and taking her meals at the table. Needless to say, the Dysons feel their trip to California for the relatively new treatment in the United States, benefitted them greatly.

AT a high school down-state last week students were confronted with an almost impossible situation! As the students passed through the lunch line, they were served plain peanut butter sandwiches, a salad and chocolate pudding for dessert. The idea of the meal was not so bad, but the idea of no jelly with the peanut butter was almost unbearable! What made it worse was the fact that the pudding wouldn't stay on the fork before it reached the mouth. The students had no spoons and as to why, it wasn't explained. Some of the brighter students used their "ole bean" and came up with the idea of using their straws. Eventually, the students finished their lunch and with slightly empty tummies went off to class.

HAVE you ever tasted corn cob jelly? Well, neither have I, but here is a recipe for same if you would like to make a few jars. Boil a dozen dried red corn cobs in six cups of water for half an hour to extract flavor. Strain the liquid and cool. To three cups of the liquid add one box of Sure-Jell, bring to a boil and boil hard for one minute. Add three cups of sugar, bring to a boil again and boil one minute and 15 seconds. Skim, pour into jars and seal. Another good jelly is to use mixed fruit flavors bought bottled at your grocery. Use dietions to make jelly from Sure-Jell.

WHEN Daniel Boone headed westward, into what was then wilderness, it was getting "too crowded" back where he had been living; he could see the smoke from his neighbor's chimney.

Neighbors are important. The community is important. Challenges are great but by working together folks can solve problems.

The world is getting smaller. But never has it been more important to live and work together as a community! Man cannot live alone.

costs more than war, and the answer has been given — we can't afford war any more.

In this fiscal year of 1974, which began last July 1, military spending is projected to be $79 billion, the highest dollar figure since World War II, which totaled $79.9 billion. It is a staggering sum of money and one which troubles many Americans who are also told by the President that we are entering a period of "general relaxation of world tensions."

The thought is that, with Vietnam behind us and with increasing American relaxation toward the Soviet Union and communist China, the defense budget should be declining. It is difficult to accept the Pentagon's assurance that the proposed defense budget is austere.

Be that as it may, in terms of real dollars, that is, considering inflation, the $79 billion is 28.4 percent of the total Federal outlay and 6 percent of the national income. Actually, these are the lowest proportions since the last pre-Vietnam defense budget in 1964.

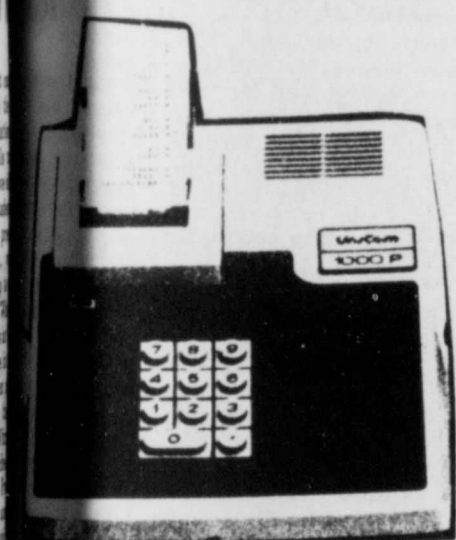

Many factors contribute to the cost of our security. The new B-1 bomber, when built, will cost more than $50 million each. The price of other military hardware has risen like a rocket. More than 56 percent of the Defense Department appropriation goes for salaries, housing allowances, medical care and other benefits to our military personnel while, at the same time, personnel has been decreased. On top of all this, our military faces the expensive task of rebuilding the stockpiles of arms and ammunition that were depleted in our Nation's longest war in Southeast Asia.

Along with all considerations we must never forget that if we are not able to defend ourselves, neither economic well being nor political liberty is possible. We have sometimes spent too much and, at other times, too little. At the end of both World War I and World War II our Nation reduced defense spending and national resolve which contributed to the more recent wars and prolonged their duration.

How much we can afford for national survival is answered by responding to these questions:

Have the aspirations of the communist world changed where we are concerned?

Are the communists continuing to amass the means to destroy us?

SOUTH PLAINS, Sept. 23-29 — Fall officially began Saturday at 11:21 p.m. and this Monday the temperature is 67 degrees, with cloudy weather. All of our community is hoping for dry, warm weather as the combines have begun to roll in the maize harvest. Many are sowing wheat.

Rev. and Mrs. Mike Oden from Amarillo arrived at the South Plains Baptist parsonage Friday evening. The furniture van with their belongings came Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gilbreath and Mrs. Keith Marble and children met the Odens and helped them as they began to get settled. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Paul Sparkman, were here, and took them home with them for the night. Supper was brought to the Fellowship Hall Friday night and Saturday by church members.

South Plains Baptist Church had a good attendance of around 72 Sunday morning, for the first sermon of the new minister, Rev. Oden. Mrs. T. S. Powell has asked for helpers at the Mission Church to get clothes in readiness, so they can be taken for use in the Rio Grande River ministry. Goal is set for $260.00 for the Annie Armstrong Missions offering for Texas. Everyone remember to bring your offering by Sunday, September 30, ingathering day.

A Sunday School party was held in the Cummings home Sept. 25.

Mrs. Bruce Julian of Perryton and son, Clay, brought her sister, Mrs. Ronnie Tucker, Kristi and

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure went to Snyder last Wednesday to see about her mother, Mrs. R. W. Newman, who has been in a convalescent home. They decided to take her to a hospital, and Mrs. McClure has been staying there, while Frank came home Friday to attend to farming chores. They are both still in Snyder this Monday with her sister, Mrs. J. E. Woodson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Marble were among those gone a week on a tour of North and South Carolina textile mills. It was an educational and interesting trip which took them through the Cotton, Inc. Headquarters Research Center at Raleigh, toured Fort Mill, in S. C. where they went through "Spring Maid" finishing plant; the McNair Seed Plant in Laurinburg, N.C. They enjoyed the tours of the plants which show almost the beginning of a bale of cotton to the end product. One night they spent at the golf tournament place at Pinehurst, N.C. The group flew to the Carolinas, and made most of their tours in buses from Raleigh. Brett and Donette stayed with Mrs. Lillian Marble while they were gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Julian went to Lubbock Friday to visit his sister, Mrs. Bill Harper, who was in the University Hospital following an operation on her left hand Monday. CLEAN ENERGY FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

A Natural Energy Home uses natural gas for heating, cooling, water heating, cooking and clothes drying to save you money and help conserve our cleanest natural energy resource... natural gas.

That's because electricity in West Texas is generated by burning natural gas, and in the process of generating and transmitting electricity to your home, 2/3 of the gas energy is lost.

So, by using gas directly in the home for the jobs it can do, you're helping to conserve it and you're getting more energy for your money.

Veterans Urged To 'Keep Eye On Calendar'

Recently returned Vietnam Era Veterans are advised to "keep an eye on the calendar" to avoid overlooking important Federal and State obligations and benefits, according to Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director.

Coker suggested Veterans follow this recommended schedule:

*As soon as possible, register with local State Employment Service office. (Veterans have up to one year to apply for Unemployment Compensation, but applications filed after a long period of unemployment could result in a lower rate of Unemployment Compensation).

*In 10 days, report address to Selective Service through local board (in person or by mail).

*In 30 days, register with Selective Service or any local board, if not already registered.

*In 90 days, apply to former employer for reemployment.

*In 120 days, (one year if totally disabled at time of separation) convert Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (without examination) to private commercial policy.

*Within one year from date of notice of VA rating on disability, apply to any VA office for G.I. Life Insurance based on Service-connected disability.

*Within one year, apply to any VA office for dental care.

*As soon as possible, apply to any VA office for G.I. Education or training, which must be completed within eight years after separation from military service.

VA notes that there are no time limits for Veterans to:

*Apply to any VA Office for a G.I. Loan Guaranty to buy a farm, or buy, build, or improve a home.

*File claims with any VA Office for Compensation for Service-connected disabilities or disease, or apply for hospital care.

*Seek assistance from local offices of State Employment Service in finding employment or entering Department of Labor Job Training Programs.

VA added that its 72 Veterans Assistance Centers around the country are ready to help Veterans get a fresh start in civilian life.

Floydada Care Center Visitors

By Faye Walters

The weather has changed again, but I guess we can expect it at this time of the year. It was almost like winter for a day or two, then back up in the 90's.

We have really had some wonderful devotions this week. We appreciate everyone who takes part in these devotions, as it helps our residents so much. We still need someone to bring the devotion on Fridays. If you only knew what a blessing these residents receive, I'm sure there would be several churches ready to help out. We are working hard trying to get ready for our fair. We had thought we would be able to announce the candidates for our king and queen, but Lillie Luttrell is still in the hospital and we want all our residents to be sure and vote. Maybe next week she will be home - we hope so.

Thursday bingo was fun. Minnie Wood and Bessie Palmer both won five games and Hope Hammonds won four. There were four players who didn't win any games, and this is very unusual.

We have a new employee, Gayle Daniel, and everyone wishes to welcome her. We hope she will enjoy her work here.

The women in the activity room are sure making some pretty things for our fair. Some of the things would make real nice Xmas presents. We have gifts ranging in price from 20c to $6.00. You will be surprised when you see how nice the articles are. We are proud of our little workers, and we have more fun. Sometimes we get accused of being awful loud in the activity room, but after all, we get pretty excited some times. Hope all will be well next week.

The Van Eyck brothers, who lived in the 15th century, were the first artists to use effectively a thin little-used medium - oil paint.

Milton Mensch.

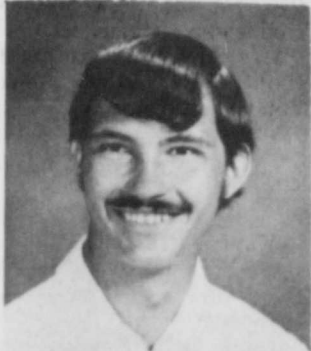

Mrs. Roy McGravy of Memphis and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rudolph McCurdy of Mt. Blanco, visited one day last week with Mrs. O. C. Vinson. Mrs. Vinson visited Wednesday p.m. with Mrs. Luther Holmes and Mrs. Leo Frizzell.

Mrs. R. C. Ross visited Thursday p.m. with Mrs. C. E. Finley.

Visitors with Mrs. Ross Thursday p.m. were Mrs. Clarence Guffee and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher.

Gretchen Green of Peralta, N.M. who brought "Grandma Green" home Friday p.m. (and part of the night), visited friends in Brownwood Saturday night, and was back for church at Calvary Sunday evening, left early this Monday for home.

Letter To Editor

Sept. 21, 1973

Wendell,
After reading Thursday's letter to the editor... Here's a thought to keep in mind... "A committee is a group of the unfit, appointed by the unwilling, to do the unnecessary." Let's let the people who know something about what they are doing do it.

Fred Rink

September 21, 1973

Dear Mr. Tooley:
The letter which you published recently pertaining to Caprock Hospital and the doctor situation brought to my mind some things which I think need to be said.

The business of getting doctors is too important to be left to one man, the hospital administrator. You said that more and more people are asking if anything is being done to get doctors. It seems that only one man is assigned the task. There is considerable question as to whether that one man is the best for the job.

Some doctors would not want to come to a hospital in which the administrator is a nurse and anesthetist. Some doctors would object to the big salary that is being paid to two members of the hospital staff.

If memory serves me correctly, you serve on the hospital board at Methodist Hospital. Would that hospital allow a husband and wife team to hold the positions that a husband and wife team hold in Caprock Hospital?

If you did not own a printing press, would you employ a printing press foreman? Although the hospital has not had a resident surgeon in more than two years, they continue to pay an enormous salary to an anesthetist and operating room supervisor.

When Lockney gets its new hospital in operation, one is left to wonder how Caprock Hospital will fare. One taxpayer has suggested that it will become the biggest pigeon roost in Floyd County.

A good hospital would smell a lot better than the cattle feed lots which some people are trying to get located here. It would render a valuable service to people in a wide area.

It might not be a bad idea to have a public meeting to get some efforts started.

If you choose to print this letter, please do not publish my name.

Yours very truly,
(Name withheld by request)

Price Investigating

Another week has passed and still no positive action has been taken by the cost of living council which will bring relief to farmers faced with a serious nitrogen fertilizer shortage. With our nation's farmers being encouraged to respond to increased consumer and world demands for American Agricultural products, it is absolutely necessary for adequate supplies of nitrogen fertilizer to be made available immediately for fall planting. Unless a change in price ceiling regulations is announced with respect to nitrogen fertilizer, supplies of this commodity will continue to dwindle. In recognition of this serious situation, I have called upon Dr. John Dunlop and the cost of living council to remove the ceiling on fertilizer and allow manufacturers to pass on the increased cost of production to insure that adequate supplies of nitrogen fertilizer will be available.
