

Fire Destroys Old Landmark, Waldrop Hotel

An oldland mark—one of the oldest in McLean, if not the oldest—was almost completely destroyed by fire Friday morning.

The landmark was the Waldrop Hotel, known to oldtimers in the area as the old Guill Hotel.

The wooden structure was gutted by the blaze, and there is little expected to be of value for salvage.

The building has served as the Waldrop for the past three or four years, and they have kept some roomers in the two-story structure.

Just how the fire started is not definitely known. Vernon Wood, who was in the front portion of the Dysart Motor company building, said that he and others heard a light explosion and rushed to the rear of their building. Smoke was then coming from the old hotel building.

By the time members of the McLean Volunteer Fire Department reached the scene with two trucks, flames were throughout the building. The new pumper truck was placed in use immediately, and hose from the fire hydrant was then laid to aid in fighting the raging fire.

The blaze in the lower portion of the building was soon under control, but smoke was then coming from the attic. Fireman George Terry climbed first to the south half of the roof, in an effort to break through and fight the blaze, and then to the north roof, and finally got a hole through. However, the roof caved in, and Terry barely managed to scramble to safety on the edge of the building.

The blaze was fought by the firemen for more than an hour and a half before it was completely extinguished.

Estimated damage is approximately $10,000. Fire Chief Boyd Meador stated, Mr. and Mrs. Waldrop carried insurance on the structure.

Fortunately, no one was at home when the sudden fire developed. Waldrop was at work, and Mrs. Waldrop had left only a short time before for Amarillo.

The building was constructed in 1903 as a hotel by "Daddy" Guill, and was known for many years as the Guill Hotel, according to John A. Sparks, pioneer resident of McLean.

During the years since that time, it had been operated by Walter Cash, the Baines, the Johnsons, the Irvings, and Luke Graham. During the time it was operated by Irving, an addition was built on the south side of the structure. This addition was torn down only this year by the Waldrops.

BILL MOUNCE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Mounce of McLean, is one of 25 students at New Mexico A. and M. College, who has been named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Mounce is a senior physical education major. He is president of the Barbs, organization of non-fraternity men. He is a member of the Aggie football, basketball and baseball teams. He is also a member of the "A" Club at the College.

Tigers to Close Season With Lefors Game

The McLean Tigers, rejuvenated by their first victory of the year last Friday night over the Wheeler Mustangs, will close out the 1951 grid season this Friday night when they attempt to overcome the highly-favored Lefors Pirates.

The game, to begin at 7:30 o'clock, will be played on the Lefors gridiron.

The Pirates, not regarded too highly at the opening of the season, have come along extremely well, and have only one District 1-A defeat on their books—that to the powerful, league-leading Canadian Wildcats. The Clarendon Broncs did upset the Pirates, but were forced to forfeit the game when it was found that a Bronc player was ineligible. The forfeit cleared the Pirates' record until last week-end, when they went down before the Wildcats.

McLean, on the other hand, has only two conference victories, one of them the forfeit from Clarendon, and the other the last week victory over Wheeler. But they will be out for victory against the Pirates Friday night.

The Pirates rely heavily on the running of Ray Dickerson, who was outstanding in the McLean-Lefors game last season. Jimmy Doom, who has been playing end, has been shifted to the backfield and has been handling in some nice gains lately. Doom scored 7 of 8 touchdowns the Pirates ran up against the once-potent White Deer Bucks.

McLean's running game will again depend on the driving of Wayne Smith and Jack Bentley, and the around-end sweeps of Dan Cooper. The other backfield starter will be Don Crockett, who has done well this season as a blocking back.

B. W. Duncan will play the center position. Guards will likely be Jack Hupp and Max Willingham, and James Jolly and Don Smith will fill the tackle slots. End starters will probably be Don Trew and Gale Plummer.

The United States and the British Empire are the only major countries without universal military training.

Funeral Rites Are Held for Bert Smith

Funeral services for Bert Smith of Clarendon, former resident of McLean, were held at the First Baptist Church in Clarendon Saturday afternoon. Burial was in Hillcrest Cemetery in McLean.

Rev. J. Perry King, Rev. Hal Upchurch, and Rev. L. A. Sartain conducted the rites.

Smith died at his home in Clarendon Thursday morning. Death was attributed to a heart attack. He had been in ill health for several weeks.

He was born in Johnson County, and was 48 years of age at the time of his death. He lived in McLean for a number of years, moving from here to Lelia Lake. In 1931, he moved to Clarendon from Lelia Lake, and had lived there for the past 20 years.

MISS FERN BRANNEN

Miss Brannen Again to Lead Cooking School

Miss Fern Brannen, home service advisor for the Southwestern Public Service company, will conduct the second annual McLean News All-Electric Cooking School, to be held Tuesday afternoon, November 27, in the American Legion Hall.

The school, to be held only one day, will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The public is invited to attend, and both men and women of the area are urged by the publishers of The News to be present.

Practically all electrical appliance dealers of McLean will participate in the school, and will have on display many items of merchandise.

Miss Brannen conducted the school last year, held in August, and it was highly successful. More than 150 people attended to learn the latest in cooking hints, and to view the beautiful appliance displays.

Queen Contest To Be Climaxed At Coronation

The annual Harvest Festival of the McLean Public Schools—postponed from Halloween night due to the dismissal of school for ball pulling—will be held in the Grade School gym Tuesday night, November 20. Festivities will get underway at about 7 o'clock. Superintendent Logan Cummings said.

Highlight of the evening's entertainment will be the coronation of the Harvest Queen. Candidates have been entered by each of the classes in McLean High School, and princesses from Grade School have also been chosen.

The winner of the queen contest will not be known until shortly before the coronation ceremony.

For entertainment, there will be the usual array of booths, etc., and money realized from the booths will be used by the classes sponsoring each booth. A part of the proceeds also goes to the school library.

Queen contestants are as follows: senior, Virgie Pierce; junior, Bonita Bailey; sophomore, Christine Hunt; freshman, Audra Sargent; and 8th grade, Dixie Hampton. The escorts for the contestants had not been chosen early this week.

Grade School princesses and their escorts are as follows: 1st grade, Cheryl Grimley and Don Woods; 2nd, Janice Page and Jimmy Watson; 3rd, Peggy Sharp and Joe D. Smith; 4th, Barbara Croxton and Bill Kingston; 5th, Carla Fay Henley and Jimmy Dawson; 6th, Suzanne Hibler and David Woods; and 7th, Janie Martindale and Carl Lee Henley.

McLean Gins Get 1,178 Bales

The two McLean gins—the Paymaster and the McLean Gin—had ginned a total of 1,178 bales Wednesday morning, a check with L. H. Earhman and S. R. Jones revealed.

The cotton has been coming in very slowly during the past week, due to a lack of boll pullers and the weather.

Ginners said that some of the cotton caught in the freeze was not ready, and many farmers are waiting until the cotton can be harvested with mechanical machines.

However, some cotton is being brought in which is "too green" for ginning. The cotton can be handled, it was explained, but the price is much lower than it would be if the cotton was given more time to open properly.

Club to Sponsor Hobby Show

The Progressive Study Club is sponsoring a Hobby Show December 8 and 9, in the Southwestern Public Service company building.

Everyone is eligible to enter, members said. All hobbies are to be turned in by December 7. Any kind of hobby may be entered, such as china, antique, etc.

Three prizes will be given: $8, first prize; $5, second prize; and $3, third prize.

Action Delayed On Phone Rates

The city council of McLean met Tuesday night in special session to consider the request for higher rates of the Southwestern States Telephone company, but no action on the request was taken.

Mayor E. J. Lander explained that there are several details to be considered before the council will take any definite action on the rate increase request.

An ancient law of India called for the widow to cremate herself on the funeral pyre of her husband.

McLean Lions Club to Play Host To District Cabinet Members

The McLean Lions Club will play host to members of the cabinet of District 27-1, Lions International, next Sunday afternoon, when the cabinet meets here for its fall session.

Boss Lion J. Lester Dysart will preside at a turkey dinner, to be given in the American Legion Hall, beginning at 12:30 o'clock. Local Lions and their wives will turn out for the affair, and about 45 or 50 visiting Lions and their wives are expected to attend.

Following the dinner, a short musical program will be presented by several young people from the Phillips Junior College at Borger. They will be brought here by C. A. Cryer, former Lions district governor, and also a former McLean resident.

At the conclusion of the program, the wives of the visitors will be taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cooke, where Cooke will show the women motion pictures. The cabinet members will remain at the Legion Hall for a business session.

Reserved Seats For Lefors Game Placed on Sale

Reserved seat tickets for the McLean-Lefors football game, to be played Friday night at Lefors, are on sale at The News office, Superintendent Logan Cummings said this week.

The Lefors school is planning a homecoming celebration Friday, and the demand for tickets is expected to be great. Local fans who want to be assured of a good seat for the game are urged to buy them here in advance.

All the tickets on sale here are between the 40-yard lines, Cummings said.

The McLean band will be in Lefors Friday morning to participate in the homecoming parade. A barbecue will be served at noon.

Scoring: McLean 21 (Wayne Smith 8, Jackie Bentley 7, Dan Cooper 6); Wheeler 7 (Bill Crossland 6, David Johnson 1).

No longer can the sports writers call McLean's team the "winless Tigers."

The Tigers found their way out of that title last Friday night by soundly trouncing the Wheeler Mustangs in a District 1-A gridiron contest on Duncan Field in McLean to the tune of 21 to 7.

The local eleven counted twice in the second quarter, and again in the third period to add up their 21 points. Wheeler's lone touchdown also came in the third period after the Mustangs were behind 21 points.

It was an enjoyable game for the spectators, and little David Johnson of Wheeler gave the fans an exhibition of running which hadn't been equaled on Duncan Field this season. His sparkling 34-yard run in the final period was the longest of the game, and Smith, Bentley, and Cooper to run.

The game was the most evenly matched tilt the Tigers have had this season. Although the local lads took the lead and held it, they were never sure of victory until the final whistle blew, for Johnson and Bill Crossland of Wheeler constantly threatened.

The scoring was as follows:

The Tigers took the ball over on downs late in the first period, and Smith and Bentley alternated in carrying to the Wheeler 29 just as the initial period ended. Bentley then picked up three yards, and Smith broke through his right guard, made a nice, twisting run, and went the necessary 26 yards to score. Bentley plunged center for the point. Score 7-0.

Later in the second frame, Johnson punted out on the McLean 25. Smith and Bentley did most of the carrying, but Cooper set up the marker with a 21-yard and a 26-yard run. The ball finally got down to the four, and McLean drew a 5-yard penalty to move it back to the 9. From there Cooper hit left tackle on a reverse play and scored. Smith went through right guard for the point. Score 14-0.

To open the second half, the Mustangs tried a short kick-off, but it failed to go 10 yards, and McLean took over on the Wheeler 7. Then came a quick touchdown. Smith made 7, Bentley 6, it to the 22 before time ran out.

Cooper 6, Smith 9 more, and from the 19, Bentley found a hole in right guard and went on to score. Smith hit left guard for the point. Score 21-0.

The Mustangs came right back to score. Johnson and Crossland, in four plays, moved the ball from the Wheeler 37 to McLean 27. Two more plays moved the ball to the 23, from where Crossland went through right guard, made a beautiful run, and went over to score. Johnson plunged right tackle for the point. Score 21-7.

In the fourth period, the Tigers got to the Wheeler 14, but lost the ball on downs. Wheeler again started downfield and made it to the 22 before time ran out.

BOB BRUMMEL of Amarillo, utilization division manager for the Southwestern Public Service company, will conduct a sales drive for all local business men and women—and any others interested in attending—at the American Legion Hall tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock. The drive is being conducted by the McLean Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a large percentage of the business owners and clerks of the town are expected to be present. A similar clinic for appliance dealers was held recently, and was so well received that the joyous felt it would be beneficial to all business men and women.

DRIVER RESPONSIBILITY

THERE HAS BEEN much publicity concerning the new driver responsibility law passed by the last state legislature, and some of it has become confusing to many automobile owners. The law goes into effect January 1. For that reason we offer the following brief explanation, furnished us by the Texas Department of Public Safety:

The operator of every motor vehicle that is involved in an accident resulting in death or injury to a person, or property damage to any one person exceeding $100, must file with the Texas Department of Public Safety a new report in addition to the regular accident report that is now required by the state's Uniform Traffic Law. The regular accident report must be filed within 24 hours, but motorists have up to 10 days to file the new report form. Both reports are mandatory regardless of who caused the accident.

The law does not apply, except with respect to filing the new report form, to insured owners or operators, provided the insurance covers possible damage claims resulting from a traffic accident, up to $15,000. Uninsured motorists will receive a notice from the Texas Department of Public Safety that they must deposit sufficient security to cover the damage they caused, as determined by the department. This may range anywhere from $101 to $15,000, and the collateral may be in the form of cash or negotiable securities. The deposit must be made with the department within a maximum of 60 days after the accident report was filed.

An uninsured motorist will not be required to deposit security, however if he files satisfactory evidence, within the 60-day period, that he has been released from liability, been finally adjudicated not to be liable, executed a duly acknowledged written agreement to pay damage claims up to $15,000, or that his motor vehicle was legally parked or was being operated without his permission at the time of the accident.

Should an uninsured motorist fail to meet any of these requirements within 60 days after filing his accident report, both his operator's license and registration of ownership will be suspended until he does or until a year has elapsed without court action for damages being filed. Suspension of registration will apply to all cars owned by the defaulting motorist.

LES

By LESTER

A few weeks ago, good old Harry Truman "put his foot in it" again. And this time he really stirred up a hornet's nest.

I refer to his appointment of General Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican, an act which would recognize the Vatican as a member of the nations of the world.

Naturally, the appointment—which has not yet been okayed by the Senate, since the Senate adjourned before approving the appointment—drew worlds of protests from Protestants throughout the land.

The criticism stems from the fact that the traditional American principle of separation of church and state would be broken should General Clark's nomination for the job go through.

Apparently there has been little protest of General Clark himself, or of the Roman Catholics in general. The objection is simply that the U. S. should not recognize the Vatican as a full-fledged nation, which it would be doing if represented there by an ambassador.

Along with thousands of others, I am opposed to an ambassadorship being established in the small Catholic domain. I have nothing against the Catholics. Some of the finest acquaintances I have had, especially many acquaintances made during my time in the armed forces, have been Catholics. Most all of the Catholics I have ever known have been devoted Christians.

But when it comes to recognizing the home place of the Catholic church—the Vatican—as a country within itself, I can't agree with the President.

It appears to me that Harry has again taken on something which he hoped would gain him some votes. Instead it will probably cost him votes.

However, Harry can rest assured that it won't cost him my vote. I never have voted for him, and never intend to. As far as I'm concerned, he is a lost cause.

Never, never have I seen so many people down on one man as they are down on Harry Truman. He has blundered his way into making more enemies than anyone in modern history.

Yet if he chooses to run for president again next year, millions will vote for him.

Their jobs will depend on his re-election.

The daily bread and butter apparently go a long way in determining how one votes.

Did you vote in the special election on the five proposed amendments Tuesday? If not, don't criticize the outcome of the issues. If so, then you have a right to say what you please.

Gonna miss M. D. Bentley about town. He and I had a lot of talks together, about this and that. We saved the nation time and time again—in our talks, that is. We agreed on many of the general issues, disagreed on some things. He was a supporter of Mrs. Clark for Congress last year, and I wasn't, but we never got into any violent arguments over the issue.

Naturally, the thing I liked about Mr. Bentley was the fact that he always read The McLean News through and through. And when he saw something he thought worth mentioning to me, he would mention it. I appreciated the fact that he read the paper, and apparently enjoyed it.

Others will miss him in other ways, but my principal loss will be in the discussions which we had occasionally.

Another pioneer resident is gone.

Members of the McLean Lions Club will play host to the cabinet officers of Lions District 2T-1 next Sunday afternoon. There are about 22 of these cabinet officers, and they all plan to come and bring their wives.

They will be invited to get here early enough to attend church services in McLean. At 12:30

Are you failing to collect old-age and survivors insurance benefits you are eligible for under the new Social Security Act?

John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office, stated the new law makes it possible to honor many claims that had to be disallowed before. However, those affected must file new claims before any payments can be made.

"Back benefits can be paid for only the six months before the month of application," Sanderson explained, "and people who were made eligible by the new law but who haven't been in touch with us since then should inquire promptly at our office or by mail."

He listed the following classes as those most likely to be affected:

1. People 65 and over who have worked as much as a year and a half on social security-covered jobs. These can get benefits if they are retired or if their present earnings under social security do not exceed $50 monthly.

2. People 75 and over who have worked as much as a year and a half on covered jobs. These can get benefits though still regularly employed.

3. Children under 18 of deceased veterans of World War II. The mothers or others having charge of such children should apply.

4. Children under 18 of a deceased mother who had worked under social security. Whoever is in charge of the children should apply.

The Amarillo office will be glad to give all necessary information and assistance in connection with claiming benefits.

How Slow Is "Molasses in January?"

Here's how slow it is—it's as slow and sluggish as your car will be if you don't get that heavy, gummy, dirty summer grease out of the transmission and differential, and let us put in winter weight lubricants.

Your car motor will be as slow as Molasses in January if you don't have free running, tough, dependable winter weight oil put in the crankcase.

If you will let us completely winterize and give a sure-enough motor tune-up, and keep it serviced, your car will be off like a flash the coldest day.

Thousands Going to Mail Order Houses

It has come to the attention of the writer of this article (and the writer is not the editor of the News) that business with the mail order concern, he finds, in many instances, quite a difference in favor of the latter. Naturally his instinct for thrift and economy prompts him to make the saving.

But is it a saving? Suppose, for instance, he owns a farm three miles from town that is worth $30 per acre. Suppose he continues using the mail order houses for everything he needs (his neighbor doing likewise), and in due course of time the town dies a natural death. Suppose our neighbor towns of Alameda, Alameda, Shamrock, Mobette, etc., suffer a like fate. His land would be left 30 or 40 miles from town and practically isolated from a market. A good section of land in that case would be worth about two dollars an acre. How much goods would he have to buy from the mail order concern in order to make a saving of 18 thousand dollars—the difference in the price of his land under the two conditions?

Another thing—When two men meet face to face in the middle of the road, it is necessary for both to vary their course slightly in order to avoid a fatal collision. If which we mean to infer that the merchants of the town could make some radical changes in their routine of business that would help materially in matter of revolutionizing home trade.

Some sort of concerted effort should be made by them to find the cause for the unusual discrepancy in prices. If there is a way to procure dependable merchandise at a lower cost it should be discovered and turned to account. We have no positive information on the subject, but have been frequently told by reliable citizens that most every class of merchandise can be bought at retail cheaper in Mobette, 20 miles from a railroad, than here in McLean. If this is the case, there must be something wrong.

We do not believe that the business men of this town are making exorbitant profits. The idea is ridiculous. But there is evidently something wrong and there must be some way to correct it. It would be the part of wisdom for the merchants to get their heads together and find some means for relieving the present state of affairs. We believe the people will give their half of the road. Let the merchants also turn out and avoid the clash that seems to be imminent.

McLean Well Wisher
The above communication makes upon a subject that is of interest not only to this community, but to every community. It is a matter that should have the careful and diligent study of every citizen, both rural and urban, for upon the success of the farm life depends the success of the town, and vice versa.

U.S. Must Build Civil Defense

RURAL AMERICA HAS IMPORTANT PART IN PROTECTING HOME FRONT

(This is the second of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

Even if forewarned of war, our armed forces cannot prevent attack, for there is no sure way of keeping enemy planes from getting through our defenses. The enemy's first objective would be to upset the war efforts of the civilian population, as well as to destroy property and to kill and injure people. His aim would be to make you quit, leave your jobs, desert your homes and start panic among you. Panic can take a tremendous toll of lives. It also can bring production to a stand-still.

It is the task of the civil defense to organize and train millions of Americans so that each one will be prepared to render the best protective service at the moment it is needed.

Your aim should be to accept that training so that you will know how to rescue the trapped and injured, know how to work with volunteer fire-fighting units, know how to prevent panic and know how to perform any of the specific duties of civil defense, particularly those you have indicated, in your training, that you are best qualified to do.

There are ways to save thousands of people from the effects of blast, radioactivity and heat from the atomic bomb. There are ways to take shelter, to rescue the trapped and injured, and ways to cut fire losses to a minimum. Organized civil defense can do these things.

The atomic bomb is too expensive to use purposefully on a farm community. However, this relative freedom from attack only adds to the responsibility of the people who live in such areas. Civilians away from the target area will be better able, mentally and physically, to cope with situations of disaster.

Farm People Equipped
With cars, trucks and tractors available, farm people are well equipped to aid any stricken area within their reach. Mobile support, rescue and evacuation work are phases of civil defense that rural folk are especially qualified to do. To do any of them without confusion and delay, you must be organized and trained.

Members of the junior class and junior mothers were busy as bees Wednesday noon when they served turkey dinner at $1 per plate in the Lions Club Hall. Serving began at 11 o'clock, and the delicious meal was served to scores of local residents for more than two hours. The money realized from the dinner will be used to aid in defraying expenses of the annual junior-senior banquet.

Early election returns from the special election held Tuesday indicated that only one of the five proposed amendments to the Texas constitution would be approved by the voters of the state. Voting was extremely light.

Leading in early returns was the amendment to allow the sale of $75 million in bonds to expand the veterans land loan program. The other four amendments—one to increase the amount for old age pensions, one to allow the University permanent fund to be invested in stocks of private corporations, another to allow a tax to be voted for rural fire districts, and still another to provide a retirement system for county officials—were trailing in the early returns.

The News will carry a report on the final outcome in next week's issue.

Four members of the McLean Tiger football squad were honor guests at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Lions Club. The four were Arthur Vineyard, Jack Hupp, Kenneth Wilson, and Wayne Woods.

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday next Thursday, The News will be printed a few hours earlier and placed in the mails on Wednesday. Advertisers are requested to have their ads ready a bit earlier than usual due to the earlier publication time. News items will also have to be turned in sooner, in order to make the deadline.

Circle of W. M. U. Meeting Is Held In Edwards Home

The Nina Hankins circle of the Baptist W. M. U. met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. W. W. Edwards.

Attending were Mesdames Granville Boyd, J. C. Claborn, Leroy Williams, Howard Williams, Harry Harlan Jr., Joe Graham, Boyd Smith, Lex Whatley, Una Newsom, Edwards, and Appling; and Miss Marjorie Fowler.

sudden death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mrs. Bentley died under similar circumstances in April of 1948. She was found dead at the Bentley home by her husband when he went home at noon for lunch.

Survivors include two sons, Fred of McLean and Bill of Clarendon; four grandchildren, Bobby and Nell of Clarendon, and Jack and Michael of McLean; and two sisters and two brothers, who live in Georgia.

Bentley was born August 24, 1874, near Crawfordville, Ga., and came to Texas as a young man. He first lived at Witt, in Parker County, and moved to McLean in 1905.

At that time he pioneered the first filling station in McLean, and not long after, he went even farther into a new field by opening the first automobile agency and garage, selling Buicks. He was Ford dealer for a number of years, and in 1925, he sold that agency and went into the insurance and real estate business—a business he conducted until his death.

He was a member of the McLean Baptist Church, and was active in church affairs. He was a great booster for highways, and did much in aiding in the improvement of Highway 66 through McLean.
