Oil Test for Sutton Is One of 13 Permits for Peerless

Company Has Permission to Drill on Davis Land

EDWARDS GETS 4

One on Paul Turney and One on Mayfield Lands

Thirteen drilling permits, eleven in the Edwards Plateau country and two in the Big Bend, have been granted the Peerless Oil Company by the Texas Railroad Commission.

One of the permits is for a block of more than four thousand acres of the R. Walter Davis land immediately north of Sonora. Two of the four Edwards county permits are on land owned by Sonora ranchmen, one on the Paul Turney ranch and the other on Ed Mayfield's Espy ranch.

No indication has been given as to possible dates of spudding the tests. Some see the application of Peerless for such a large number of permits as a preparation for possible federal regulation of drilling, in order to be ready to go in case new development is restricted. That is merely a surmise, however, and it is possible that some of the tests may get immediate attention.

Peerless has headquarters in San Antonio, and holds extensive leases on West Texas lands.

Other Edwards county locations are on land of A. P. Allison and J. E. Thurmond. Of the other Plateau tests three are in Real county, two in Bandera and one in Kimble. One Big Bend test is in Brewster county and the other in Terrell.

Stokes' Dance Is Delayed Till 19th

Will Coincide with Emancipation Proclamation 72 Years Ago

H. V. "Buzzy" Stokes, sponsor of the "prosperity" dance here to celebrate the end of the depression and the advent of 25-cent wool, as well as recent rains, has announced postponement of the dance from the tentatively-set date of June 12 to the 19th, day on which Abraham Lincoln freed the slaves 72 years ago. "Buzzy" protests that the delay till "June'teenth" has no special significance.

The delay was occasioned because of desire to secure a bigger place for the dance, but complete plans have not been made as to the place. Neither has an orchestra been secured, since it is desired to get the best orchestra available at that time.

Complete plans will be announced next week.

Station A Takes Sonora Club, 5-1

Humble Men Grab Breaks When Errors Cost Local Nine

The baseball team of Station A, inspired by memories of a hard-fought battle on Thursday in which they held the Ozona Giants to a meager 1-0 victory, out played the Sonora team here Saturday afternoon to win by a 5-1 count.

Station A got 6 hits and Sonora got 4, but the local nine made 9 errors on the field to 2 for the Humble crew. The visitors capitalized the Sonora errors to score a number of times. Clark was leading hitter for the Station, with 2. Geo. A. Smith, McGilvray, Glasscock and Castillo got one hit each for Sonora.

Ratliff pitched a good game for the visitors and was given good fielding support. Bud Smith pitched equally as good a game for Sonora, but lost out on fielding errors.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eaton were San Angelo visitors Thursday.

B. M. Halbert was a San Angelo visitor Wednesday.

12 Sonora Scouts Are Commended for Excellent Conduct

Leaderless Boys Draw High Praise from Camp Leaders; J. T. Shurley Among Twelve

The 12 Sonora Boy Scouts attending the annual week's outing at Camp Louis Farr, Mertzon, were commended by B. W. Draper and other Scout leaders in charge of the camp for their excellent conduct in the closing sessions of the week's program Sunday afternoon.

In spite of the fact that the Sonora boys did not have adult leadership during the entire week, and did not have a tent or any form of shelter the first night, they so conducted themselves as to merit the praise of the Scout leaders as the best behaved group in the camp.

Of the 233 boys encamped, 12 were selected as outstanding at the end of the week, and J. T. Shurley of Sonora was one of the group.

The annual mock battle between the Indians and pioneers resulted

Sutton Yearlings Show Good Results

Shurley-Steen Steers Weigh 882 Lbs. After Winter on Feed

One hundred and sixty-six head of steer yearlings fed at Goldthwaite on a contract basis for Collier Shurley and Lawrence Steen sold recently to Maurice Cohen, San Antonio packer buyer, at $5.30 per hundred pounds and weighed 882 pounds. Sixty-six of the steers belonged to Mr. Shurley, the balance to Mr. Steen.

The Shurley calves were among the heaviest shipped from Sonora last fall, weighing 512 pounds. After being fed through the winter and spring they showed a small profit above the cost of carrying them over, and feeding them, figured from the prices prevailing last fall.

Sonora Tree Army Boys in Arizona

Four of Group Working 8,000 Feet Above Sea; Parker an Officer

A letter received Monday by the Rev. Z. E. Parker stated that his sons, Marion and Hermon, and Carl Holland and Dossie Batson, four of the Sonora boys in the U. S. conservation army, were stationed in a re-forestation camp near Satonia, Arizona.

The boys were sent to Arizona from San Antonio where they were formally enlisted three weeks ago. They are now living in the mountain forests, at an elevation of 8,000 feet. The letter stated that all the boys are enjoying the life and also find their eight hours of daily work interesting. Herman Parker has been made a group leader, in charge of 32 men.

Bobbie Allison and Tom Maddox, other Sonora boys in the corps, arrived in San Antonio at a different time from the other group and were not sent to Arizona. Bobbie is still in San Antonio, working as a camp cook.

Mohair Promotion Men Visit in Sonora; Film of Industry Is Used

M. F. Schmitt, publicity man for Collins & Aikman, big New York firm dealing in mohair and its products, was a visitor in Sonora Wednesday morning. He was accompanied by J. A. Thomas and R. E. Thomson, also members of the firm's personnel.

These men are spending some time in southwest Texas becoming acquainted with the grower and his problems and picking up information on the production end of the mohair industry. Based on this experience and knowledge, they will carry out extensive plans for popularizing mohair and spreading knowledge of its virtues. Their work is entirely educational.

While here they conferred with a number of local growers and business men.

With them they carry films of motion pictures showing the various steps in the production of the mohair and the manufacture and use of its products. They showed the film in Rocksprings last week and also in Kerrville Thursday at the executive sesion of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association.

The pictures of the Angora goats on the range were taken in this section of Texas two years ago.

Sonora Lions Have Interesting Meeting

Weaver Baker Tells of Constitutional Amendments up Aug. 26

The Sonora Lions Club members and several guests had an enjoyable luncheon and meeting Monday. Feature ofthe program was a talk by Weaver H. Baker, Junction, district attorney of the 112th judicial district, in which he discussed the provision of two constitutional amendments to be voted on by the people of Texas August 26.

Mr. Baker stated his opposition both to the proposed homestead exemption from state taxation and to the home rule provision. He said that the cost of government would fall with greater severity on the poorer classes and those least able to pay if land is exempt from the governmental burden. He expressed doubt of the practicality of the home rule plan.

The club voted to have a Ladies' Night meeting on June 26 instead of the noonday meeting. New officers will be installed at that time.

Guests Monday were Orville Conner, Eldorado, sheriff of Schleicher county, Johnny Graham, Junction, Kimble county sheriff, Mr. Baker, J. L. Nisbet of Lubbock, and Frank Bond, Sonora.

THOUSANDS KILLED OR INJURED

Don't Wait! Let Us Show You How to Banish Fear of Blow-outs

WHEN you travel at 40, 50 and 60—mile after mile—the heat inside your tire becomes terrific. Rubber and fabric begin to separate. Then a blister forms—and grows bigger and bigger—until BANG! A blow-out! You can't steer : : : you can't stop. And then CRASH!

New Tire 3 Times Safer

To prevent such tragedies, Goodrich has built into every new Silvertown Tire the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This invention resists terrific heat—inside the tire—where blow-outs really start. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form. Blow-outs are prevented by overcoming their cause.

At gruelling speeds on the world's fastest track, the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown, with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, lasted three times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature.

Skid-Resisting Tread

Moreover, actual road tests prove that the Goodrich Safety Silvertown has the most skid-resisting tread. Gives your car extra road-grip : : : reduces danger of skidding to a minimum.

Let us show you these remarkable tires—made three times safer from blow-outs at high speeds. They cost no more than other standard makes!

WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE MOTOR CAR

There is some doubt that people care to hear very much about what goes on under the hoods of their cars.

The driver knows that "driving qualities" are not accidental; they are put there. How the manufacturer creates or evolves those results may not interest him. He judges entirely by the results he gets in driving.

Well, it is not essential to talk "shop"; let us talk Results.

Smoothness. Drive the Ford V-8 and you will find that the engine runs with surpassing smoothness, due to its design and the extra precise methods of its manufacture.

Power. There it is, 75 horsepower (we could say 80) at the driveshaft for the driver's use. With less weight to pull around, the mettle of this car---its life-like response---is rather remarkable.

Economy. Our V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gasoline than any car we have made. Mileage is partly a matter of individual driving, but under average conditions the Ford V-8 does 17 to 20 miles a gallon. Of course, car economy is not only a matter of fuel. Ford V-8 has that too, but it is also economical in the complete sense---initial cost, operation, maintenance.

Appearance. This is woman's contribution. The motor car must not only be useful, but also good-looking. View the Ford V-8 and you will not need our comment on its fine appearance.

Comfort. This also is woman's concern. In 30 years she changed the motor car from a wagon to a coach. Comfort is a quality made up of numerous ingredients. There is no comfort without a quiet, smooth-running engine. We have all the other ingredients too,---color, good taste, quality, ease, safety, roominess and convenience.

PUEBLO INDIANS PRACTICED IRRIGATION LONG AHEAD OF WHITES; WERE GOOD FARMERS

The Pueblos were skillful farmers long before they had knowledge of the white man. They depended chiefly upon agriculture for food though they hunted wild animals and in modern times have owned livestock. From the remote past corn has been their principal crop and at least as early as 1540 they raised cotton. Crops were matured in locations and under conditions that would seem impossible for a modern farmer. They practiced irrigation, even taking advantage of showers to water systematically their small fields, diverting the downpour into channels and furrows where it was most needed.

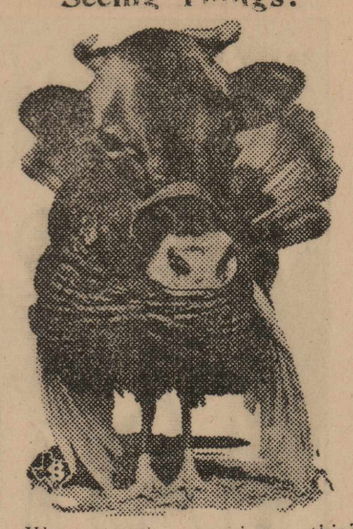

The Mohave Indians, as first known to Americans were a farming rather than a hunting tribe. Corn, beans, pumpkins and melons —and later, wheat—they produced in abundance. For the moisture necessary to grow their crops they had to rely upon annual overflow of the Colorado; so in seasons of low water their fields failed to produce. All the Yuman tribes lived below Needles and cultivated about the same crops and in the same manner as their stalwart kinsmen, the Mohaves.

The Pima Indians surpassed all the other Arizona tribes as tillers of the soil—both as to the extent and skill of their agriculture. Long before recorded history these Indians made use of well-constructed irrigation canals — evidences of which are still plainly visible. Each community had its own ditch, several miles in length into which water was diverted by means of rude dams. Before civilized methods became known to them, the Pimas planted their seed with a dibble. Corn, beans, pumpkins, melons, onions, squashes and cotton constituted their chief crops. Barley and wheat were introduced by the Spanish padres. From the time that the Americans first traveled by way of the Gila the Pima Indians were the only productive inhabitants in Arizona.

Writing in November, 1846, Col. W. H. Emory records in his "Notes of a Military Reconnaissance" the following facts about agricultural methods of the Pimas:

"We were at once impressed with the beauty, order and disposition of the arrangements for irrigating and draining the land. Corn, wheat and cotton are the crops of this peaceful and intelligent people. All the crops have been gathered in, and the stubbles show that they have been luxuriant. The cotton has been picked and stacked for drying on the tops of sheds. The fields are subdivided by ridges of earth into rectangles of about 200 by 100 feet, for the convenience of irrigating. In the houses were stored watermelons, pumpkins, beans, corn and wheat, the three last articles generally in large baskets and placed on top of the domes. A few chicker domestic animals, except horses, mules and oxen. The implements of husbadry were the ax (of steel) wooden plows, shovels and harrows. The soil is so easily pulverized as to make the plow unnecessary."—Frank C. Lockwood in Pioneer Days of Arizona.

Rock work was completed on highway 23 Wednesday morning and either Saturday or Sunday the entire section from Ballinger to Talpa will be opened to traffic. This completes the work on this contract with the exception of the guard fences on high grades and at curves, most of which are now under construction.

The roadbed is now ready to be given triple-A asphalt topping. No contract has been let for this but the best of rumors infer that the project has been placed on the preferred list and will be included in the next lettings by the state highway commission.

Bridges, culverts, guard fences and earthen approaches are included in the present contract and when the road is opened this week-end it will remain open until the asphalt treatment is commenced.

Contractors also have finished topping highway 9 from three miles west of Eden to the Tom Green county line and it has been opened to traffic. Other contracts in Concho county are moving along nicely at this time. Rock founda tion placement is continuing on highway 4 from the Runnels county line to six miles south of Paint Rock and asphalt is expected to be spread on this part of the route about June 20.

The cement bridge and dirt approaches on highway 4 north of Winters at the city lake have been finished and opened to traffic. This eliminates one detour on that road. Good progress is being made on other bridge projects on this highway, which probably will be completed by mid-summer.—Ballinger Ledger.

Jimmie Rodgers of Record Fame Dies

"Yodeling Brakeman" Passes on After Months of Poor Health

Jimmie Rodgers, 38, former Kerrville resident, known throughout the country as the "Yodeling Brakeman," died last Friday morning at a hotel in New York City. The body was forwarded to Meridian, Miss., his native city, for burial. His widow, Mrs. Carrie Rodgers, left the family home at San Antonio for Meridian immediately after being notifeid of her husband's death. He had been in failing health for several months.

Rodgers had written friends in Kerrville only a day or two before his death. He advised them that he was in New York to make a series of 10 new Victor records and that recordings for eight of the new numbers had been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers and their daughter, Anita, moved to Kerrville in May, 1929, while Jimmie was at the height of his popularity. After completing an extensive vaudeville engagement, Rodgers returned here and built a beautiful new home in Westland Hills. The family resided in Kerrville until about 18 months ago, when they moved to San Antonio.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Gulf Stream May Circle the Atlantic

Flow of Current Established by Research of S. S. Atlantis

Miami, Fla., June 8.—Specimens of strange fish and a vast amount of biological "plunder" taken from the floor of the ocean at depths ranging to 6,000 feet were brought into Miami aboard the Atlantis, floating research laboratory of the Woods Hole (Mass.) Oceanographic Institution, returning from a cruise of several months in tropical waters.

Among 300 to 400 species found may be some forms new to natural science, but this will be determined by Dr. Albert E. Parr, chief of the expedition, upon a check with comparative material.

The Atlantis arrived here after a cruise which made a wide sweep out into the Atlantic from the Bahamas, down through the Anegada passage in the West Indies to the Caribbean Sea, thence westward to Cuba and the Florida straits. The principal purpose of the expedition was to check the currents that make the Gulf Stream. World famous natural scientists from various institutions made up the personnel.

The mystery of the Gulf Stream, which has fascinated natural science for years, is now near solution, with the currents that form it checked rather conclusively, according to reports of the expedition. The stream is not, as is popularly supposed, a current flowing merely from the Gulf of Mexico through the straits, up the Florida coast, out into the Atlantic, past the British Isles of the far northern seas.

It really is a vast dynamic current that, after sweeping to Spitsbergen, circles back down through the North Sea, British Channel and Atlantic to the West coast of Africa. Trade winds between Cape Verde and the equator there cause the current to take a westward path that finally leads to the Caribbean, thence to the Gulf of Mexico and back along its circuit.

Waters from the Amazon and Suth Atlantic join it as the current flows into the Caribbean, so the waters that pass Miami are commingled currents of an ocean that touches four continents. The Atlantis made innumerable soundings into the currents that were along its routes. The work was a continuation of the research of some three years by the same vessel, and established definitely for the first time the exact flow in the Caribbean.

DRAW A BUSINESS MAP

A new business map is needed just now, and needed badly. It should be drawn to show Sonora and the territory extending from it for a hundred miles in each direction as the center of reviving prosperity and activity.

No other section of the United States has been placed in a position so admirable, and no other section is favored with conditions so conducive to returning prosperity of a permanent nature as the diversified agricultural region, particularly if its chief commodity is wool. Rapid as has been the increase in general value of farm commodities generally in the last two months, still greater has been the advance in wool values, from 14c in two months ago to 27 now, or from 9 at this time last year to a level three times as high right now.

Mohair, too, is feeling the upswing, and fleece that sold for eight cents a pound last fall recently brought twenty, a gain of two and one-half times in eight short months. Cattle, which never did drop so low relative to former values, have naturally reacted to the upturn more mildly.

All of this improvement in prices is being shown in this section, and will continue to be shown during coming months. Not only is Sonora in the center of a bright area, but is particularly fortunate in that many growers in its immediate vicinity owe little or no money and will be free to spend and invest part of the augumented income. It will mean continuation of building activity in the town, more ranch improvement, new clothes and new automobiles, and new furniture and household equipment—in short, revival of business in all trade lines in this section.

It is a good time for merchants to improve and replenish their stocks, and it is a good time to buy, before the wave of inflation hits the things we need.

35 YEARS AGO

"In those days" they began well ahead of time to plan for big events; as witness the following story in the issue of The Devil's River News for June 3, 1899:

A well attended meeting was held at the court house in Sonora Tuesday evening for the purpose of arranging for a proper celebration of the anniversary of America's Independence.

The meeting was called to order with Jno. W. Hagerlund, chairman and J. B. Hill, secretary.

It was the unanimous sense of the meeting that Sonora should have a grander celebration this year than ever, as the present condition of the range and live stock interests were never better in the Sonora country.

On July 4th the people of the country are always the guests of the town and it was resolved that the usual barbecue be supplemented by a basket dinner with ham sandwiches, chicken, cakes, pies, etc., for our guests.

The citizens of Sonora expect to entertain 1500 to 2000 people on that day and will spare no means or trouble to make the entertainment a memorable one.

The following committees were appointed: To solicit subscriptions; to select the grounds and sell the privileges: R. C. Dawson, G. B. Black, J. J. Ford, and C. F. Adams.

To make all arrangements for the barbecuing, purchasing supplies, providing the dinner, arranging tables, flag display, etc: E. C. Saunders, C. F. Adams, C. J. Nichols, J. J. Ford and A. J. Swearingen.

To arrange programme and secure orator of the day and public speakers: Dr A. L. Taylor, Jno. W. Hagerlund and Mike Murphy.

E. S. Briant was elected Marshal of the day.

It will be seen from the above that the barbecue-picnic-basket dinner part of the celebration is in good hands and the indications are that Sonora's celebration will be up-to-date in every respect.

The meeting also appointed G. W. Morris, A. J. Swearingen and R. S. Carruthers to arrange and get up the racing programme.

The grand ball will be conducted by the Sonora Social Society and will as usual be an attraction for those who enjoy tripping the light fantastic.

Make your arrangements to be in Sonora and give your families a little pleasure. Sonora will do her best to make you enjoy yourself.

Shorter items of interest included the following:

To the public: We have bought out the interest of Sol and Max Mayer in the firm of Mayer Bros. & Co., and expect to continue the business as heretofore. We solicit a share of the liberal patronage that has been given to the old firm in the past and shall do all in our power to merit the same. Very truly, Felix and Alfred Vander Stucken.

Fred Kessler purchased an interest in the Bank Saloon this week and took charge on June 1st. Fred is very popular with all classes of people and we hope he will do well.

Dr. B. F. Berkeley of Sonora arrived in Alpine Wednesday and will ikely locate here. The doctor is not in good health and comes here on account of higher altitude. —Alpine Avalanche.

L. N. Halbert showed us a few days ago a curious formation which his brother dug out of one of their quicksilver claims in this county. It looks like a petrified weed, something on the shape of a celery plant, and of a clear color.—Alpine Avalanche.

Basil Halbert and Dave Woodward came in this week from the quicksilver belt, where they have been doing assessment work on their claims. Mr. Halbert returned to Sonora Wednesday while Mr. Woodward will remain here. In a short while these gentlemen will commence taking out and smelting their ore.—Alpine Avalanche.

Some writer has said that the reason the Americans are such dashing fighters is because of their love for baseball, football and outdoor sports, generally. In no part of the United States is outdoor exercise so necessary as in the Sonora country. The Sonora baseball club has been or is being organized and Capt. W. W. Collins is anxious that more of the boys join so as to complete the formation of two nines. Then if they cannot get some neighboring club to play them at Sonora on the Fourth they will at least be able to interest the public with a good game between two nines.

Mrs. W. E. Glasscock was accompanied to Temple by Mr. Glasssock Tuesday when she was taken there for examination at a clinic where she will probably undergo an operation.

Holmans Here from Del Rio

Sister Visits H. L. Taylor

Typewriter Ribbons, Carbon Paper, Second Sheets. The News.

Mrs. Alfred Scheiwning Better

Mrs. Alfred Schwiening is showing considerable improvement and is gaining strength this week, after returning from Temple last Thursday. Mrs. Schwiening stayed in Temple two weeks for treatment, and was to have undergone an operation, but her weakened condition made it inadvisable and she was brought home to recuperate for a time.

TO THE SENIOR CLASS OF SONORA HIGH SCHOOL

We congratulate each member of the graduating class of 1933. You have done a great task well. You have been sharpening the tools with which you will build your future career. Your friends, neighbors, and your relatives, as well as your teachers, are showering congratulations and praising you for your courage, your persistence and your fine accomplishment. Society will applaud you because you are now more useful than you would have been had you not graduated.

But your high school career has given you general and not specific training. It has lain the foundation upon which you can and should build a structure of exact technical education that will double and treble your ability to do, and, after all, that is what the world is demanding today—action!

The tools with which you are to work need some additional polishing. They must have a keener edge if you are to compete with the millions of other workmen who have not only gone through the same grind that you have, but who have submitted themselves to further discipline which has put keen, cutting edges upon their mental tools and has given them confidence in their own ability to do superior work in whatever field they may invade.

In short, the class of 1933, if you are to compete with other young men and young women, you will have to add to your present education in order that you may have the sureness and confidence as well as the skill that specific training affords. Your own experience, as well as your observation, has taught you that opportunity, like a fast train, never stops at flag stations. If you are ready when opportunity comes along, you have a chance "to grasp it by the forelock" but let it pass you, and your chance is gone forever.

There has never been a more important time for young people to train themselves for business. The affairs of the world are based upon business, and if you want to get ahead and are not satisfied to remain in your present environment throughout your entire life, you will never find a more ideal time to train than now.

Young people who look forward to attending a business college where the very highest type of training can be had are invited to write to the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration for "ACHIEVING SUCCESS IN BUSINESS," which is the school's current catalog. Specific information will be cheerfully given and our earnest sincere cooperation will be available without obligation to anyone interested. Use the coupon below.

RESOLVED BY THE LEG-ISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

ection 1. That Article IX of the stitution of Texas be amended adding thereto a section to be tion 3, which shall procide:

'Section 3. (1) Holding the be-f that the highest degree of local self government which is consist-ent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in the Nation and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local governmental affairs, it hereby is ordained:

"(2) Any county having a pop-ulation of sixty-two thousand (62,-000) or more according to the then last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter, to em-brace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limita-tions hereinafter provided. It fur-ther is provided that the Legisla-ture, by a favoring vote of two-thirds of the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to pro-ceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is re-quired that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereun-der must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once per week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publicatoins shall ap-pear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act mak-ing proposal hereunder may be in-troduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favoring vote of the resident qual-ified electors of the affected coun-ty. In elections submitting to the voters a proposal to adopt a Char-ter (unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total mem-bership of each House of the Leg-islature) the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qual-ified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of any incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and sepa-rately counted, and unless there be a favoring majority of the votes cast within and a favoring majori-ty of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may inconsonantly affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, tax, fiscal, educational, police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing here-in contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Char-ter provision inimical to or incon-sistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such vice shall have validity as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemp-tion of homestaeds as established by this Constitution and the Stat-ues relating thereto.

"(3) a. A Charter hereunder may provide: the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to op-erate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the pow-ers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would de-volve by law on County Commis-sioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Char-ter may provide for the organiza-tion, reorganization, establishment and administration of the govern-ment of the county, including the control and regulation of the per-formance of and the compensation for all duties required in the con-duct of the county affairs, sub-ject to the limitations herein pro-vided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitu-tion), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Judges threrof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appoint-ive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or pro-cedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and|or County Attorney may be confined to rep-resenting the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the Sate's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits ex-pressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to cre-ate, consolidate or abolish any of-fice or department, whether cre-ated by other provisions of the Constitutions or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compen-sation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions to tenure in any such office; save, that no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regu-late the status, service, duties or compensation of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attor-neys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms whereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in ef-fect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of ser-vice by deputies under such offi-cers, may be subject to termina-tion by the admisistrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to op-erate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not ex-ceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed by this Con-stitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon prop-erty, both real, personal and mix-ed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to a mapority vote of the qualified powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the stat-tes of the State for counties.

"(4). Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes law-ful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the Gen-eral Laws of the State, and may is-sue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to re-fund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a ma-jority of all votes cast by those resident qualified votes of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon.. In cases of county obligations, maturing after a peri-od of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obliga-tions may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obliga-tions so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, ex-ceed the then existing Constitution-al limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its support-ing shall constitute a first and su-perior lien upon the property tax-able in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid un-less prior to the time of the issu-ance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not ex-ceed the then existing Constitu-tional limits.

"(5). Such Charter may author-ize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified service, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees pre-scribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same ser-vice. Such Charters as to all judi-cial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the qualifi-cations for services, provided the standards therefor be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State.

"(6) a. Subject to the express limitations upon the exercise of the powers by this subdivision to be authorized, such Charters may pro-vide (or omit to provide) that the governmental and|or proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivi-sion (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be trans-ferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such trans-fer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total mem-bership of each House of the Leg-islature, such a proposal shall be submitted as a separate issue, and the vote within and without any such city, town, district, or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and unless two-thirds of the qual-ified votes cast within the yield-ing defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified votes cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger, it shall not be effected. In case of the mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provision therefor, in so far as may be re-quired to make effective the ob-ject of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the ap-propriate lawful powers, duties, rights, procedures, restrictions and limitations which prior to the merger were reposed in, or im-posed upon, the yielding govern-mental agency. Particularly, it is provided that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be ex-ercised only by such procedures, and within such limits, as now are, or hereafter may be, provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently admini-istered. Such mergers may be ef-fected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as here-inbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions, provided such con-tracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years.

"b. In case of the partial or complete merger of the govern-ment of a city operating under a Home Rule Charter, with the gov-ernment of a county operating hereunder, those city Charter pro-visions affected thereby shall cease to control, and the county Charter provisions shall control.

"c. When any embraced incor-porated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or rede-fining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided, however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contig-uous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns and for the benefit thereof the county, in addition to the pri-mary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as de-fined or redefined, within the lim-its authorized by Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, (or any Amendment thereof) for incorporated cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that exising at the time of such merger or for any added promise shall be imposed up-on any such city or town unless au-thorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under ap-propriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county, provided, how-ever, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State. and no such urban area, when cre-ated, shall be vested with any tax-ing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operat-ing as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitu-tional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of sim-ilar areas when separately incorpo-rated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitu-tional limits as control taxation for a city or a own of like population. Likewise such Charter may pro-vide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Consti-tutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7). No provision of this Con-stitution inconsonant with the pro-visions of this Section 3, of Article IX, shall be held to control the pro-visions of a Charter adopted here-under, and conforming herewith. Charters adopted hereunder shall make appropriate provisions for the abandonment, revocation, and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that here must be a favoring majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may for-bid amendments thereof for a time greater han wo (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-ex-ecuting, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purposes hereof. Further. The Legislature shall prescribe a pro-cedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions."

Section 2. The foregoing Con-stitutional Amendment shall be sub-mitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing author-ity for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to ef-fect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of sepa-rate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

"Against the Amendment to Ar-ticle IX of the Constitution of Tex-as, adding Section 3, providing au-thority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in coun-ties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of sepa-rate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on such ballot, leaving unscratched that particular clause which expresses his vote on the proposed Amend-ment to which it relates.

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation order-ing an election in conformity here-with to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amend-ment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as re-quired by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Secretary of State.

Typhoid Menace Is Big, but Avoidable

Prospective Campers, Boy Scouts, and Vacationists Are Warned

As the summer season approach-es, a word of warning is timely to prospective campers, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, summer vacationists, fishermen, and others who enjoy getting out into the open, relative to the possible dangers that may be encountered from the standpoint of contracting infection under the changed environment. This is es-pecially true of diseases that may be transmitted through food and water supplies.

Typhoid fever is a disease the amount of which is greatest, as a rule, where there is the least sani-tation. It is an unnecessary and preventable disease. It is spread from person to person by water, milk, fingers, flies, and food. Every case is contracted by taking into the mouth some substance contami-nated with typhoid organisms, and these occur only in nature in the bowel and bladder discharges of persons sick with typhoid or from carriers, persons who have had ty-phoid and who after recovery still harbor the germs in their systems.

Persons planning a vacation or trip where sanitation may not be rigidly enforced or where food handlers are not regularly exam-ined should protect themselves against this disease by being vac-cinated. Three inoculations with ty-phoid vaccine, a week apart, are necessary to secure protection against this disease and the immun-ity established is good for two years. The purity of water or milk cannot be judged by looking at it. Play safe and have your doctor pro-tect you.

Car Carries Snake Home Beneath Hood

Ranch Hand Startled at Finding Creature Dead Next Day

That was some rattlesnake thrill experienced down at Postmaster F. R. Hall's ranch a few miles east of town one evening last week. When the car ran over the snake it, in some way, was picked up and wig-gled itself into the dust pan and under the hood.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall went from the ranch house to the river farm. While going down a long incline they saw the snake in the road. The car glided over the snake and was stopped. Mr. Hall got out and looked for the rattler, but it had disappeared. Supposing it had slip-ped away into the grass and bushes he got back into the car and the journey was completed and back home.

Next morning one of the ranch hands came to town in the same car. When he started the car he thought he heard a rattle snake "rattling." After starting he still heard it. He made the rounds. The next morning one of the boys hap-pened to lift one side of the hood and there was a large rattlesnake "done dead. It is supposed the heat of the engine killed the snake.—San Saba News.

Times Are Picking Up

By MARJORY HAINES

DAPHNE STONE sat with dangling feet on the washtub in the kitchenette for the very good reason that there were no longer any chairs to sit upon. They had been packed, along with the other furniture of Daphne's apartment and stored in the basement in hopes that the obliging janitor might later on be able to sell them to some incoming tenant. Daphne's big brother, Robert, leaned nonchalantly against the gas stove from which the gas had been turned off, and their friend, Malcolm Hughes, rested with what comfort he could on the radiator by the window.

They were all eating delicatessen potato salad with pasteboard forks and pasteboard plates. Daphne got down from the tubs to pass a bag of rolls.

"I bought nine of them," she said. "If we each have one now, we can have two each for lunch on the way up. Maybe we can buy some milk and fruit cheap from a farmer."

"Oh, Fred will stake us to dinner before we get there," Malcolm told Daphne. "And he says we are welcome to the provisions he left when he was up in June—coffee and flour and sugar and things like that, and probably we can catch some fish in the river tomorrow."

"Nothing like that fresh country air," agreed Robert. "And Fred says there are still plenty of blueberries. It's practically certain that either Malcolm or I will have work later on, helping the farmers pick apples or pitch hay."

"We'll manage to get through the winter all right—and maybe it's just as well not to have any regular work because we'll have time to read up on farming before it's time to begin planting in the spring," said Malcolm.

Of the three, the young architect, Malcolm Hughes, had been the first to feel the effects of depression. For over a year now he had had no work. His optimism about getting employment had diminished along with his savings. At first Robert Stone had taken his dose of depression in a series of salary cuts. Six months ago he found himself walking away from his office with his last pay envelope in his pocket—thirty dollars plus a little slip that told him his services were no longer needed. Having gone through his own meager bank account he was forced to accept his sister's bounty, and now for three months he had shared her small apartment and simple meals with her. Two weeks ago Daphne had been one of the last interior decorators to be laid off at Bradley and Fields.

And then just as even Daphne was beginning to lose courage, Malcolm dropped in with a letter from Cousin Fred who had heard of Malcolm's plight and had offered him a small upstate farm rent free.

Robert and Daphne had needed no urging and the venture became a real possibility when the accommodating Cousin Fred, on his way to Canada, agreed to take the three to their destination.

It was nearing one when they finished their meager lunch. At half-past one Fred would come to pick them up. Daphne gathered up the paper plates and spoons and was taking one last look from the living room window when the bell boy came to tell Robert that he was wanted on the house phone. Three minutes later he came back, hugged his sister, clapped Malcolm on the back and explained: "It was from Garner and Jones. They want me to come back next Monday. Forty a week to start. Times have been picking up and—"

Daphne's arms about his neck made it impossible for him to go on, then as she gave him his freedom he turned to Malcolm and said: "The first thing I shall do will be to pay you back the $150 I owe you."

Malcolm looked questioningly at Daphne. "I don't suppose it would be just the thing for Daphne and me to go alone to the farm unless she consented to be married on the way."

"We won't talk about that now," said Daphne with a significant emphasis on the last word. "But with Bob paying you back what he owes we won't have to go up. Times surely must be getting better."

"I can get a berth somewhere for four dollars a week and something is likely to turn up next autumn. You know this living on a farm is all right if you're used to it—"

"There are sure to be snakes and spiders," interrupted Daphne, "and if I can't get back as a decorator at Bradley and Fields they'll at least give me a job as an errand girl."

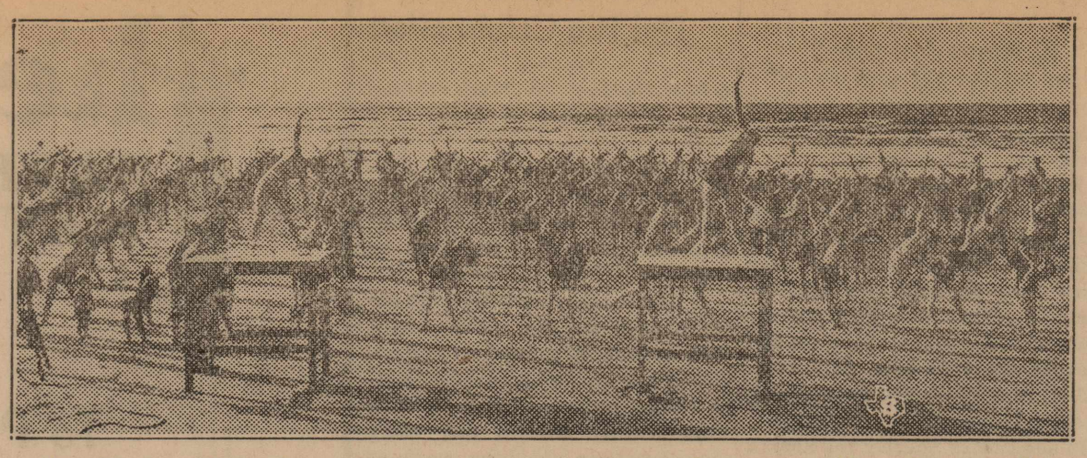

"As far as that goes," Robert assured them, "with forty dollars a week I can look after both of you."

And then Cousin Fred rang the bell and as Daphne opened the door she and Fred and Malcolm all began explaining their change of plans at the same time.

"I'm sorry you can't go along with me," Fred told them when he understood what it was all about. "But I'll say it's good luck, especially as I've had an offer to sell the old place to a neighboring farmer. I was waiting to see how you liked it before I turned him down. Times certainly are picking up."

It is provided that the provisions hereof shall not apply to cities, towns, and villages, and special school districts, and independent school districts unless and until the governing body of any such city, town or village, or special school district or independent school district finds that unusual or excessive default in the payment of ad valorem and poll taxes has occurred, and that an extension of time for the payment of such delinquent ad valorem and poll taxes will promote and accelerate the collection thereof, whereupon such governing body shall adopt a resolution, or ordinance, evidencing such finding, and upon the recording of such findings of fact, the provisions of this Act shall be in full force and effect as to any such city, town, or village, or special school district or independent school district. It is hereby expressly and specifically provided that penalties and interest herein released are released only on delinquent ad valorem and poll taxes and on no other taxes.

"Section 2 authorizes cities, towns and various self-governing districts of the counties to adopt a like plan, or to adopt the ten semi-annual payment in the collection of their taxes.

"Section 3. That all costs of every kind and character that have accrued or attached, or that may hereafter accrue or attach to or by reason of delinquent poll or ad valorem taxes on which said poll or ad valorem tax the interest and penalties have been released by any of the provisions of this Act, shall be and the same are hereby released and no such costs shall hereafter be charged, collected, or accounted for, provided, however, that any costs that are now due and payable to any officer or official shall remain a valid obligation, notwithstanding the provision hereof.

"Section 4. Any one desiring to pay at one time all the delinquent taxes for any one year shall have the right to pay the same under the provisions of this Bill without at the same time paying any other taxes that may be then delinqhent upon the same property."

Two Big Land Deals Are Made at Menard

Mrs. Maude Green Sells 9 Sections; Lee Pfluger Buys 7100 Acres

One of the largest land deals made here in recent years was completed last week when Mrs. Maude Green sold E. L. Martin of Dallas nine sections of her ranch near Ft. McKavett at $11.25 per acre. The land purchased by Mr. Martin includes the river front. Mrs. Green still has five thousand acres in one tract.

Jake Appleton, A. & M. graduate and a former partner of Fritzie Luckenback in the ranching business, will be in charge of Mr. Martin's place. His headquarters will be at the camp house.

Walter Mann of San Angelo was here this morning enroute to Junction where he expected to close a large deal in Kimble county. Lee Pfluger of Eden is buying 7100 acres of Kimble county land, known as the old Peter Higgins place southwest of Junction. The price was reported at between $8.50 and $9 an acre.—Menard Messenger.

this year in victory for the pioneers. The affair lasted all of one afternoon, night and morning.

Parents of the Sonora Scouts drove to Mertzon Sunday morning taking with them a picnic lunch, which was spread under the huge trees along Spring Creek near the camp-site. They then attended the court of honor in the afternoon and brought the boys back to Sonora.

J. T. Shurley stayed for a second week of camping.

In addition to Shurley the Sonora Scouts attending were: W. B. Brantley, Lloyd McGhee, Marion Elliott, Wesley Sawyer, A. W. Awalt, Reginald Trainer, Robert Allen Simmons, Jack Shurley, Bobby Nisbet, Louis Davis and Kenneth Babcock.

Second class rank was conferred on A. W. Awalt and Jack Shurley of Sonora. Merit badges were awarded Marion Elliott and Wesley Sawyer. Reginald Trainer and Lloyd McGhee were entitled to merit badges, but supporting records were not in camp. Their badges will be conferred later.

Worth, and Schaub, San Antonio.

Trainer has invited the Light Crust Doughboys, popular radio entertainers, to attend and provide music during intermissions of the business sessions. Numerous other features, including a dance, are being worked out by Trainer and his committee.

Answers from various persons invited are expected this week-end. In addition to featured speakers short talks and round table discussion topics will be assigned members of the various local organizations in the association. Mayors of visiting towns will also be given a chance to talk briefly.

Richard Vehle, chairman of the foods committee, announces that his plans are progressing nicely. The evening meal will be a sunset dinner in the Woman's Club park, with a menu built around choice barbecued meats prepared by J. T. Penick. Materials for tables are being loaned the local firemen by the Junction firemen, who entertained the convention one year ago.

At a meeting Wednesday night Mrs. J. H. Brasher was presented with an official cap and badge as "Mother" of the department. She expressed her thanks to the department members in a brief talk. Mrs. Brasher will assist the reception committee of the convention in welcoming visiting ladies.

Reports on progress made in securing a federal loan for a fire station and city hall were made by George E. Smith, city manager.

Cash Taylor was made an active member of the department. The resignation of Bobbie Allison, who enrolled in the federal conservation corps, was accepted.

According to letters from Congressman R. E. Thomason, who has been active in the matter, and from Lawrence Westbrook, director of relief work in Texas, four camps have been tentatively allotted to the new canyon state park in Brewster county, recently established by the legislature as a state park at request of Senator K. M. Regan of Pecos.
