

Weapons Being Flown To India

Front Line
Reinforced

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India

hurried more reinforcements to the front today and informants predicted the first airlift of American arms would arrive Saturday to help Prime Minister Nehru's government fight off Chinese Communist invaders.

The American equipment—mostly mountain artillery—is being flown from Turkey.

Turkey agreed to release the arms being provided by the United States after Nehru appealed to President Kennedy for military aid.

Three days after Nehru asked for American weapons, the Indian government issued its first direct acknowledgment of the coming arms assistance.

"We are grateful for the U.S.

government's sympathy and support and their offer to help us in the procurement of supplies required for our defense efforts," a spokesman said.

Terms on which the American arms are being supplied have yet to be arranged. The same goes for weapons sent by Britain and coming from Canada.

Nehru is personally handling these arrangements as well as overseeing the battlefield.

A full has set in along the Himalayan frontier but an official spokesman reported Red Chinese mortar fire at Indian patrols around Jang, a village five miles east of the monastery town of Tawang captured last week by the Communists.

Indian artillery fire had been reported in this area earlier but there was no artillery reply to the Red Chinese bombardment today.

The Communist gunfire dealt no casualties among Indians at Jang, where they are building up for a possible attack on the nearby 15-

940-foot-high Se Pass.

A full in the shooting along the frontier was believed only temporary.

Both sides were preparing for a new round of fighting along the Himalayan border. The Chinese are expected to resume the drives that have carried them into India

at 13 points since they attacked

Oct. 20.

All New Delhi newspapers today hailed Prime Minister Nehru's declaration of Defense Minister V. K.

Krishna Menon, and new demands were made that Menon be ousted from the Cabinet entirely. Nehru,

72, took over the Defense Ministry himself Wednesday and demoted

Menon, his closest associate, to the secondary post of minister of defense production.

The Hindustan Times, which supports Nehru's Congress party, said: "The division of the defense portfolio between Nehru and Menon makes neither military nor political sense."

Some new British weapons already have arrived in India, and the first shipment of U.S. arms was to be flown in today or Friday.

Nehru met with his military commanders today for the first time in his new capacity as defense minister. An official spokesman said they exchanged views on the war. Nehru actually had shoved Menon into the background ever since the border fighting started and had been dealing directly with the military leaders.

Official sources said Menon, who had come under increasing fire for failing to prepare adequate Indian defenses, would have no role in procuring arms from the United States, Britain or Canada.

The Old Borden County Jail at

Gail has been awarded a Texas

Historical Building Medallion, according to John Ben Sheppard of Odessa, member of the Texas

State Historical Survey Commission.

The Medallion is awarded for structures of historical, cultural or architectural significance to the area in which they exist.

The State of Texas awards the Medallion, signifying the structure worthy of preservation.

The Old Borden County Jail was built before the turn of the century. It is of hand-cut stone with walls four feet thick to house the dangerous desperadoes of the West.

The Jail will be included in a map list soon to be published by the Texas Highway Department and distributed at various tourist stops over the state.

Absentee Voting

Deadline Is Near

Absentee voting at the county clerk's office has taken an upturn in the past two days it was reported this morning.

Balloting in the general election of Nov. 6 ends at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

At noon today a total of 53 ballots had been issued. Of these 40 had been returned, and 13 were still out. Ballots must be mailed back to the clerk's office so that they arrive by noon Nov. 6 in order to be counted. Ballots may be mailed out as late as the 5 p.m. deadline tomorrow, the county clerk said.

Criticism By
China Ignored
By Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet

party today ignored Chinese Communist criticism of Premier

Khrushchev's conciliatory strategy in the Cuban crisis.

Pravda, the party organ, in a report on Communist-bloc support for Soviet moves in the crisis, gave a bare one sentence summary of Peiping's reaction: Meetings of solidarity with the Cuban people.

Although words of praise for Khrushchev's decision to withdraw

Soviet missiles from Cuba have come in from most Communist capitals, the Chinese have conspicuously refrained from sending their compliments.

The scarcely concealed anger

over Khrushchev's tactics displayed in comments from Peiping is believed to have deepened the ideological split between Moscow and Peiping.

The Soviets appeared to reply to the Chinese in typically roundabout

Communist fashion today. Pravda published a long editorial attacking a recently purged Mongolian

Communist party Politburo member, who is reliably reported to have been a key figure in a pro-

Chinese faction in Ulan Bator.

The Mongolian Communist, D.

Tumur-Ochir, was accused of a series of crimes including nihilism, nationalism, anti-Marxism and attempting to disrupt Mongolian Soviet friendship.

The prominent play given the reprint of the editorial from the Mongolian Communist party organ was interpreted here as a thinly veiled slap at the dissenting

Chinese.

UF REPORTS
DUE FRIDAY

Scurry County United Fund

Campaign workers are scheduled to attend their final big report session at 8 a.m.

Friday at the Town House.

With over 70 per cent of the $38,000 goal reported at a Tuesday session, campaign leaders hoped tomorrow's session could wind up the drive.

Indications were that the only problem was in completing assignments, as contributions and pledges through

Tuesday were running ahead of similar reports of last year.

However, many assignments had not been completed.

Workers were being urged to work their cards before the Friday session with a view toward concluding the campaign on schedule. This could be done, campaign officials said, if all assignments are completed and the rate of response matches that of earlier reports.

Thant Confers With
U. S., Soviets Again

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—

Acting U.N. Secretary-General

U Thant planned to consult today with the United States and the Soviet Union on the next moves in the Cuban crisis after failing to win Fidel Castro's agreement to U.N. checks on the removal of Soviet missile bases.

Thant said on his return from Havana Wednesday night he had been reliably informed the bases would be dismantled by Friday

an the Soviet equipment shipped out of Cuba soon afterward.

But Thant said nothing about arrangements for U.N. verification of the Soviet withdrawal, the purpose of his trip. This omission, plus the return with him of the military aides he had taken as a nucleus of the inspection group, was taken as evidence Castro would not agree to the foreign inspection.

The United States announced that it was resuming its naval blockade of arms shipments to Cuba at dawn today and that aerial surveillance of the missile sites also was being resumed. Both had been suspended during Thant's two-day peacemaking visit to Cuba.

Soviet First Deputy Premier

Anastas I. Mikoyan left Moscow early today for talks with the Cuban prime minister. Western observers in the Soviet capital interpreted his sudden visit as an attempt to bring Castro into line with the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement to dismantle the missile bases and send U.N. personnel to Cuba to verify fulfillment of the agreement.

Without mentioning the missile bases, Havana Radio said Castro is standing firm on his demand that the United States give up its naval base at Guantanamo and call off all other measures to bring down the Castro regime.

A broadcast said Castro told a group of Havana University students his government will come out of the crisis stronger and with more prestige than before.

The Cuban prime minister scheduled a television speech for later today. Advance radio announcements said he would "fully inform" the Cuban people of his talks with Thant.

Thant after his return from Havana, drove to U.N. headquarters for brief separate talks Wednes-

Fluvanna Carnival On Saturday

Students at Fluvanna are busy in their free hours and after school this week making final arrangements for the annual school carnival to be held Saturday, beginning at 4:30 o'clock, followed by the coronation at 9:30 in the school auditorium.

Students and teachers as well as parents working on the project speak with enthusiasm concerning the Neptune's Court to be featured as part of the festivities this year. Class games, booths, and eating areas are being set up in the gymnasium cafeteria, and on stage in the auditorium. Some unique and original ideas will be presented this year, climaxed with the presentation of the King and Queen and their attendants.

A big crowd is expected to attend the annual function and to eat at the White Kitchen, a tradition of the carnival, where home cooking is featured for the Saturday evening meal.

Parent-Teachers Association sponsors of the event urge area residents to attend the carnival, where fun for all ages is being promised for the Saturday Event.

Dayton Put On Probation

By DON WEISS

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Dayton Flyers, perennially among the top basketball squads in the land, are out of tournament competition for the next two years because of excessive transportation arrangements made for a freshman hotshot in 1960.

The Flyers, 1962 National Invitation Tournament champions, were grounded Wednesday when the National Collegiate Athletic Association council, winding up a three day fall meeting here, ordered a two-year probationary period for the university.

The action, the result of illegal transportation provided on four instances to Roger Brown of New York two years ago when he was a freshman, knocked Dayton out of the post-season NCAA championships as well as the NIT and all other holiday tournaments except one in 1963 to which the Flyers already were committed.

The exception will be the 1963 ECAC Holiday Festival a year from December in New York Madison Square Garden. Prior to the probationary action, Dayton had accepted an advance invitation for the festival and had signed a formal contract to compete.

In Dayton, the Rev. Raymond A. Roesch, university president, said "we accept the penalty imposed by the NCAA committee on infractions and will continue to make every effort to abide by all the laws and by-laws of the NCAA."

Dayton's violations included transporting Brown from his home in Brooklyn, N.Y., to enroll at the university, and during the 1960-61 season, when the 6-foot-7 freshman scored 20 points in his first game, paying his round trip transportation to New York three times for personal matters.

Father Roesch said Brown's trips were for appearances in traffic court in New York following an automobile accident in which he was involved and added: "The athletic department was motivated by what it judged to be a hardship case and felt that it was justified."

Brown still is in Dayton, playing for an AAU team. He dropped out of the university after his involvement in last year's college basketball scandal. According to New York District Attorney Frank Hogan, Brown admitted accepting $250 to act as a contact man for confessed gambler Joseph Hacken, now awaiting sentencing on several counts of bribery and conspiracy.

Two other infractions moves were announced on the final session of the council meeting, both minor. The University of Florida and McMurry (Tex.) College were reprimanded and censured—but not suspended—for basketball violations.

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

Know who has the toughest collegiate grid schedule of them all? Ambitious but witless Illinois according to "The Kickoff," a weekly pep sheet that finds its way to this cluttered desk each Tuesday aye.

It's not hard to reason just why such a distinction fell to the bruised and battered Illinois. In games to date they have been knocked off by Washington, Northwestern, Ohio State, Minnesota and Southern Cal. Still to come are Purdue, Michigan, Wisconsin and Michigan State.

A peek at the latest Associated Press poll finds four of those foes cruising along in the elite top ten circle. Northwestern ranks as the top eleven in the country, while Penn State and Oregon in addition to the always-murderous conference slate of games.

Ranking in order behind Rice as far as rugged schedules in the SWC are concerned are Texas Tech, SMU, Baylor, Texas Tech, Texas and Arkansas.

Ironically, the two title co-favorites have faced the most luster group of non-conference foes. Texas drew Oregon, Tulane and Oklahoma, while Arkansas has pummeled with Oklahoma State, Tulsa and Hardin-Simmons.

Friday's game here against Brownfield—and each successive battle thereafter—will be in the form of a survival test for Snyder's Tigers.

Chances are that the league champ (or co-champ, as the case may be) will be a one-beat-outside within the family circle owing to the comparative strengths of the teams involved. It will come as a big surprise from this corner if either Lamesa, Brownfield or Sweetwater survive without at least one burned finger.

Two losses, on the other hand, would virtually eliminate a team from the title picture, although an extreme dog-eat-dog situation could conceivably see a team get a slice of the district pie even with a pair of defeats.

Winning those final four games is not out of the question. Our hopes and good wishes will be riding with Coach Bostick and all the boys to turn that trick.

In the way of a reminder, that chili supper coming up in the high school cafeteria prior to tomorrow's game is one meal that should be taken advantage of.

It's being staged by the Football Mothers Association in order to raise funds for the annual grid banquet in December, so the cause is a good one and worthy of all-out support.

Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and last until game time, with tickets being just 75 cents each. See you there.

Before leaving the timely topic of Tiger football games, it would be good to mention a certain community service that might go unnoticed otherwise.

It centers around the parking situation at local games, which is eased and speeded up considerably by the help that VFW and American Legion members have given in the past and are continuing to give at each and every home game.

It's a thankless chore to a large degree, but a valuable service to local and area fans.

Contending Field In For Trimming

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference teams this midweek prepared for crucial Saturday tests that are expected to determine who will and who won't have a chance for the title.

The University of Texas Longhorns, dumped from first to fifth place nationally by a 14-14 tie with Rice last week, generally appeared in good physical condition Wednesday as they worked out against simulated Southern Methodist players.

The SMU Mustangs, the surprise team of the season, now lead the conference race with a perfect 2-0 mark and the Saturday clash at Austin is expected to show whether the Mustangs are a flash-in-the-pan or of championship caliber.

Baylor meets Texas Christian at Fort Worth and Arkansas engages Texas A&M at College Station with the losers in each contest facing elimination from title contention. The fourth loop battle finds Rice host to hapless Texas Tech at Houston.

Three players—left halfback Tommy Caughran, right end John Graves and right guard Jack Rhoads—were promoted to the first unit as the Mustangs worked out Wednesday. Caughran replaces Billy Gannon, who twisted a knee in last week's game with Texas Tech.

The Texas Aggies had trouble stopping freshmen quarterbacks playing the role of Billy Moore and utilizing Arkansas plays. Coach Hank Folsberg had his squad working on defenses aimed at curbing the Razorbacks' powerful offense which features Moore the loop's leading rusher.

Meanwhile Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles had his squad plugging away at fundamental drills in preparation for the A&M game. He said the Porkers planned nothing new for Saturday.

Sonny Gibbs, TCU's 6-foot-7 quarterback, was clicking with his passes and halfbacks Donny Smith and Marvin Chipman were running well as the Horned Frogs worked out at Fort Worth. Fullback Tommy Crutcher was nursing a shoulder separation but was expected to be able to play against Baylor.

Rice Coach Jess Neely put his charges through a brisk workout and said he was weary of hearing about the Owls' upset tie against Texas last week.

"We are working just as hard to get ready for Texas Tech as we did for the University of Texas," Neely said. "Nobody's taking them lightly, unless it's downtown Texas Tech fans at Levelland."

Wichita Falls, Irving Battle In Headliner

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Writer

Three of four defending state champions will be making strong bids this week as the Texas schoolboy football campaign swings into November, only a few weeks away from the playoffs.

Wichita Falls of Class AAAA, winner of 20 straight, clashes with another unbeaten, untied team, Irving, in an important District 4 game. The Coyotes will be highly favored but this may be the toughest conference test.

Dumas, the Class AAA kingpin, tackles Littlefield and will be expected to hang up its second district victory. Brownwood, rated higher than once-beaten Dumas, takes on old and traditional enemy Breckenridge.

Class AA's defending champion, Donna, already has dropped a district game and isn't expected to make it to the playoffs. Denver City is the heretofore team of this division. The South Plains powerhouse, averaging 40.5 points per game, moves along the district championship trail against once-beaten Frenship.

Albany, the 1961 Class A champion, still is in contention and appears likely to win its district title but not likely to advance far in the state race. New London is the favorite and it rests this week.

There are 33 undefeated, untied teams in the state and 30 of them will put their records on the line Friday and Saturday. Prospects are that a half-dozen of them will fall.

Only two games match undefeated, untied teams. Wichita Falls vs. Irving is one of them. The other is in Class AA where Stamford battles Winters in the big game of District 6.

At least a dozen of the 96 districts in the state will determine strong favorites for the championships, some even deciding titles outright.

Osney can clinch district 8 of

BREKES PASSING RECORDS

Class AA by beating Quanah. West can sew up District 17 if it defeats Hillsboro and Georgetown can win District 20 if it defeats Lockhart.

In Class A at least four titles are due to be decided. Burnet can take District 9 if it defeats Santa Anna. Clifton can capture District 13 with a victory over Itasca. Rains can win District 16 by beating Willis Point. George West can clinch District 28 by beating Three Rivers.

Classes AAAA and AAA have four weeks to go before deciding district champions. The other classes must wind up in three.

McMurry, Tarleton To Meet In Breck

ABILENE — McMurry College's Indians move over to a neighboring city, Breckenridge, Saturday night for their eighth game of the 1962 season, taking on Tarleton State College in a game sponsored by the Breckenridge Optimist Club.

The Indians are fresh from a 60-20 victory over the University of Corpus Christi Saturday in Abilene and are looking for their fifth victory of the season. McMurry has lost three.

This will be the second meeting between McMurry and Tarleton. Last year the Indians defeated the Texans, 42-8, at Stephenville.

McMurry coach Grant Teaff said Monday, "Tarleton had an open date this past week end, so I am expecting a hard fought game out of them. They have most of the same personnel they had last year, and I imagine those boys remember our game last year. I'm sure they'd like nothing better than to topple McMurry this year to make up for it."

Teaff continued, "We're real pleased to be playing in Breckenridge again. You know, we started this game last year by playing Texas Lutheran there, and we feel like this year's game will be even more successful from the Breckenridge Optimist Club's viewpoint than was the first one."

The McMurry coach was naturally pleased at his team's victory over Corpus Christi. McMurry reserves played most of the game. In fact, Teaff said the first two units were in only 16 minutes of the Corpus Christi game.

"I am real pleased at the showing made by some of our reserves. Our third and fourth units did a real fine job against Corpus Christi," he said.

TO CLASH AT 7:30 IN TIGER STADIUM

Seventh Graders Putting Perfect Marks On Line

Snyder may boast of two undefeated, untied teams within its borders, but that situation will be altered tonight when the Lamar and Travis seventh graders take the field for the "big one" against each other.

The battle-set for 7:30 at Tiger Stadium—opens off the season for both clubs, who sport identical 4-0 records. In addition to its perfect win-loss mark, Lamar has yet to give up a point to the opposition.

Coaching the Lamar first-year men are Bob O'Day and Dub Holt. They have guided their charges to victories of 26-0 over Lamesa, 22-0 over Sweetwater and Colorado City, and 28-0 over Sweetwater in a return match.

At the reins of Travis 7th are Larry Roberts and James Weston. Under their tutelage the Blue Devils have swept to wins of 22-0 and 40-16 over Sweetwater, 18-14 over Colorado City, and most recently 39-0 over Lamesa.

Starting offensively for the Blue Devils will be left end Jerry Smedley, 120; left tackle Loyd Pinkerton, 130; left guard Tommy McDonald, 135; center Albert Rodriguez, 100; right guard Randall Hollis, 90; right tackle James Merritt, 150; right end Jerry Raines, 105; quarterback Jimmy Ramage, 110; left half Mario Tavares, 135; right half Ken Folard, 120; and fullback Ramon Valdez, 125.

Back Eddie Eicke, a 95-pounder; ranked as the sole personnel change planned from a starting defensive standpoint.

The Texans will counter with left end Tony Suttle, 108; left tackle Jackie Greene, 147; left guard Ronnie Malone, 120; center Alton Patterson, 87; right guard Ray Ellis, 127; right tackle Timmy Mitchell, 123; right end Tim McNamee, 112; quarterback Steve Moffett, 85; left half Mickey Almond, 102; right half Z. B. Rinehart, 110; and fullback Pat Vanderpool, 138. Defensive personnel slated to be inserted into their starting line-up include end O. L. Cooper, 110; guard Dwayne Boydston, 88; halfbacks Tommy Bullard, 84, and Bill Ellis, 82; and linebacker Jerry Hardwick, 117.

A glance at the record shows the Blue Devils 9th to have topped Sweetwater twice by scores of 14-0 and 24-0. They were beaten by Lamesa 24-16 in their most recent excursion and have been held to a 14-14 tie by Goliad to be 5-1 for the year.

One road game involving a Snyder junior high outfit is scheduled tonight, also, and will see Travis 9th(4-2) in Big Spring to do battle with Rannels 9th beginning at 7:30.

Lamar 8th is idle this week, while Lamar 9th is slated to take on Midland Lee here in Tiger Stadium Saturday at 6 p.m.

Friday
Travis 7th (4-0) vs. Lamar 7th (4-0), 7:30 p.m.; Big Spring Rannels at Travis 8th (3-1-1), 6 p.m. (both games at Tiger Stadium); Travis 9th (4-2) at Rannels, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday
Brownfield (4-2) at Snyder (2-4), 7:30 p.m.; Colorado City (1-4) at Sweetwater (2-5-1); Lake View (5-1) at Lamesa (5-1); Hermleigh (3-6) at Lorraine; Gail (7-0-1) open; Hobbs (4-3) at Blackwell; McCauley at Ira (6-7).

Midland Lee at Lamar 9th (1-5), 6 p.m.; Stamford B at Snyder B (3-4), 7:30 p.m.

Prior to that showdown fracas—also at Tiger Stadium and beginning at 6 o'clock—Travis 8th will tackle Big Spring Rannels for the first time this season.

Our Electric Service

is efficient!

As pioneers of rural electrification, the people who established the electric cooperatives had to call on ingenuity and skill to build the electric systems that span the rural areas of Texas. There was no blueprint for such service to the remote rural areas. But armed with courage and the will to accomplish the impossible, these dedicated people built the electric systems that are a model of efficiency today.

The capable, competent people who operate these electric systems know more about rural electrification than anyone else in the world. That is why efficiency is more than a word, it is a way of life to these experts who are building a brighter tomorrow for more than a million Texas people.

After that, the sale of tickets will be switched to the gate beginning at 8:30.

Bob Franklin, a defensive halfback from Mississipp, is the lightest player on the 1962 Cleveland Browns roster at 182 pounds.

The Cleveland Browns have beaten the Detroit Lions only once in eight tries in National Football League competition.

McMURRY FAVORITE—Dickie L. Clemmer of Snyder was elected a favorite of the sophomore class at McMurry College and was presented at the festivities of the 1962 homecoming. Reigning over the sophomores with Clemmer were Miss Bobby Parker of Jayton, right, and Miss Alice Frazer of Eastland. Clemmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale L. Clemmer of Snyder. His major course of study in McMurry is a cappel choir; Kiva, men's social club, and the Methodist Student Movement.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

ACAPULCO, Mexico — There was a day when I battled my fellow news scribes for the fat dog assignments. Covering wars or following presidents from place to place, for the mere glory of it all.

Do you think this is the situation today? It is in a pig's eye. I am conserving my energy for old age.

Along comes Our Leader and says, "we need a good, live story on a sunset. A dramatic word-picture of fleecy clouds reflecting the dying rays of this phenomenon. Besides, Abney, you are getting wacky sitting around the office and you drive everyone else wacky. Go out and write a comprehensive study of a sunset. And take several days so we all get a good rest."

Before he can get the period on his sentence, I am gone.

For the guidance of any colleagues who may be burdened with such a task, there are several types of sunsets to report. The kind when the sun casually fades behind a mountain. When it drops into the midst of a jungle. Or when it bubbles into the ocean somewhere.

To view the last type properly, you should visit Acapulco where the avis turista Americanus a-bounds. This bird migrates from the United States to Mexico the year around.

The turista often is called the Sunset Bird. He gets up at sunset and spend the night distributing foreign aid to Acapulco's night clubs. At dawn, he retires and sleeps all day.

But the more domesticated of these birds may reverse the above schedule. Especially if his mate is along or if he has passed a certain age.

Acapulco has several vantage points from which to contemplate the sunsets. The Hotel Mirador, for example, one of several scattered along the top of the cliffs overlooking the Pacific.

Senor Balboa discovered this particular ocean from Panama one day. He waded out in the water and then yelled, "hey, fellows, danged if I haven't discovered the Pacific Ocean."

If Balboa had waited until he got to Acapulco, he could have discovered a lot more of the ocean from atop the cliffs. And seen some sunsets that looked like the world was on fire just over the horizon.

The Acapulco cliffs would be ideal if the world were flat. You could see the sun set over Hawaii, which is in the proper direction although some distance away.

The Lacandon Indians down in Chiapas State have an interesting concept. Their scientists figure the world is a large flat slab floating around in nothing. When the sun sets, it just rolls over the edge and a couple of fellows are waiting to catch it. They carry the sun in a hammock back under the slab so it can start out in the right direction tomorrow.

They do not specify whether the hammock bearers walk upside down or what. But I do not hold to this theory because I could not see Hawaii.

The best observation point I found was on the beach at Pie de la Cuesta, about 10 miles north of Acapulco. There are several palm thatched sun shelters on the beach, all equipped with hammocks slung at the correct angle to watch the sun go down.

Here, a throng of barefoot ladies serve you frosty drinks or platters of fried fish when you wiggle your finger at them. And when the sun drops low enough, you can see fish swimming in the transparent breakers spilling up on the beach.

To do this properly requires intense concentration. It is a very strenuous exercise. Experienced sunset watchers recommend that you lie quietly for several hours, dozing now and then to build up your reserve.

Just as the sun touches the horizon, stare at it and lie motionless with both feet in the hammock. Think of something pleasant. Your empty desk at the office, for instance. Bend your knees slightly, inhale and exhale deeply five times. Or just sigh.

By then your assignment has ended. You have witnessed an Acapulco sunset, which may not be so historical. But it is ever so pleasant.

College Student Tastes Change

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Along with other changes in Georgia, there has been a change in the food tastes of a group of college students.

The Emory University cafeteria reports that Southern black-eyed peas are no longer the favorite vegetable of its student customers.

They have been replaced by green beans.

However, the beans are cooked Southern-style—with plenty of fat-back bacon.

Husband Sells For $10,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An attractive widow accused another woman in court Wednesday of selling her husband to the widow for $10,000.

Dorothy Alzmann, 35, of Glendora, wants her money back. In a suit filed in Superior Court, Mrs. Alzmann said Norma Babcock of Arcadia promised to return the money if Quinton Babcock refused to stay with the widow.

He stayed less than 24 hours, Mrs. Alzmann charged, and Mrs. Babcock gave her back only $3,000, claiming she had a legal right to the remaining $7,000 for "alienation of affections."

Mrs. Alzmann's attorney, W. J. Hyland, said his client started going out with Babcock after her space engineer husband Fredrick died in November 1961. Babcock said he planned to divorce his wife, Mrs. Alzmann claimed in the suit.

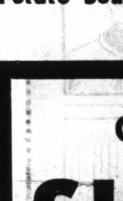

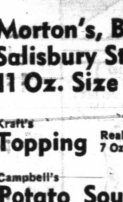

Mrs. Alzmann, charging conspiracy and breach of a quasi contract, is asking $7,000 plus $1,800 she claims she lent Babcock during their friendship.

Emergency Powers Okayed By Cabinet

BONN, Germany (AP) — The cabinet Wednesday approved the draft of a controversial law that would give the government extraordinary powers in a national emergency.

Interior Minister Hermann Hoehner said he hoped Parliament would give the two-thirds majority required for passage.

Simultaneously, the cabinet brought out civil defense measures. These included a requirement that all new buildings be equipped with shelters against radioactivity, heat generated by atomic explosion, and biological and chemical warfare.

Soil Survey At Half-Way Mark

The Standard Soil Survey of Scurry County is 50 per cent complete. The field work is scheduled for completion in December 1953 by soil scientists of the Soil Conservation Service at Snyder. The survey is sponsored by the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors.

The soils are mapped according to their natural characteristics. These are depth, color, texture, slope, amount of free lime, type of parent material, and permeability. Three depths are mapped: very shallow, less than 10 inches deep; shallow, 10 to 20 inches deep; and deep which is over 20 inches deep. The color of a soil is important, a dark colored soil usually indicates organic matter is present in the soil. The texture of a soil is determined by the amount of sand, silt, and clay in a soil.

The surface texture is part of the soil name. The amount of slope is important to determine the tillage and engineering practices needed to control erosion. Usually when the slope increases the depth of the soil decreases. The amount of free lime has a bearing on the fertility and water intake rate of soils. The type of parent material is determined for soil classification and engineering purposes. Permeability is the rate at which water will go through a soil. All these things are important in classifying soils for agricultural purposes.

A soil scientist walks over the land and examines the soils and the information is then recorded on an aerial photograph of the land. When this aerial photo is completed it is then a soil map of that part of the county.

For example, Miles fine sand loam is a deep, red, fine sandy loam soil that is noncalcareous and moderately permeable. The Miles is a series name usually taken from the name of a town, county, or school where the soil was first recognized and described. Most of the Miles soils in Scurry County occupy a large area on a line from China Grove through Dunn, to Irwin and southeast of Knapp. The Miles soils have a sandy clay loam, fine sandy loam, or a loamy fine sand surface 6 to 14 inches thick. The sand content increases and the clay content decreases from the sandy clay loam to loamy fine sand. Miles sandy clay loam is in land capability class II which means that this soil has a slight wind and water erosion hazard.

Miles fine sandy loam has a moderate wind erosion hazard and is in land capability class III. This soil may be deep plowed to help control wind erosion. This soil should be deep plowed 8 to 15 inches deep to turn up some of the sandy clay loam subsoil.

Miles loamy fine sand is in land capability class IV and has a high susceptibility to wind erosion because of the small amount of clay in the sandy surface of this soil. Some of the practices recommended on this soil are, high residue crops on the land 2 years out of 4, and deep plowing to depth sufficient to bring up clay from the subsoil to control wind erosion.

Emergency tillage can be used during the wind erosion season to roughen the surface to help control blowing.

When the field work is completed a soil survey report will be written which will include a complete, detailed soils map of Scurry County.

Star's Expulsion Draws Protests

GRAY, Ga. (AP)—A lot of folks in this small middle Georgia town are fighting mad. The school board expelled the county high school's star halfback because he got married.

Frank Childs, Jones County School Board chairman, told a special public meeting Wednesday night the board felt it best to expel all married students because "females who get in a family way in school are not a very good influence on the other children." He noted the marriage ban first went into effect in 1950.

While Childs was on his feet, Mrs. J. R. Cochran, who has a child in school, jumped up and snapped:

"You've had your say. Now sit down and let me have mine. If Castro were doing something like this I could understand it."

She accused the board of discriminating against the football star, Johnny Arnold, 18, a senior, and other married students. Johnny's wife, 15, a sophomore, also was expelled.

Arnold's mother, Frances Arnold, said she and Johnny's father are separated. She works, Mrs. Arnold said.

"If Johnny doesn't win a scholarship on his athletic ability, I guess he won't get a college education," she said. "We cannot afford to send him to college on our own."

The board refused to budge from the action it took two weeks ago after learning of the halfback's marriage. But it said it would consider at next Tuesday's regular meeting several proposals put forth Wednesday night.

One was that the marriage ban should apply only to girls because as family breadwinner a boy's education is more important. Another was that married boys should be allowed to continue classes but be barred from athletics and other nonclassroom activities.

Young Arnold sat through most of the meeting gnawing at his fingernails. He told newsmen he had hoped to be reinstated so he could play in Friday night's game with a Macon school because a University of Alabama scout was supposed to be there to consider him for a scholarship. He said Florida State University also had indicated it might offer him a scholarship.

Gray, a town of about 2,000, is about 80 miles southeast of Atlanta.

Almost one-fourth of the students enrolled in the Snyder schools were out of classes today as the flu spread a little more here.

A relatively quiet Halloween has passed here. T. L. Steele, police chief said.

Steele said that the usual prank of placing an outdoor toilet on the courthouse square was not pulled this year, but that one was placed in the quadrangle of the high school building.

Plush Brocades Of Eighties, Nineties Are Coming Back

BY INEZ ROBB

Remember the man in pursuit of the latest wrinkle in gracious living who, a few years ago built a conversation pit in his living room? And then, when he climbed into it, discovered that he didn't have anything to say?

Well, sir, he can fill up that hole with concrete now and start all over again, preferably with a white bearskin rug and a tasty addition of stained-glass windows to add 1963 class to home, sweet home.

In recent weeks my friends in the interior decorating field have been hinting that in the gracious living dodge, there is a distinct trend away from the "stark sterile nihilism of modern design" and a rush return to the lush era of the Eighties and the Gay Nineties — plush, brocades, swags, ways and all.

At first I was skeptical that the world was about to give up its passionate affair with iron chairs upholstered in canvas slings and the antiseptic decor abandoned by hospitals some 30 years ago.

Now, however, I realize that the luckiest householder in town is the one who can find in his attic a statue of Venus with a clock in her midriff. This girl, with time on her stomach is a cinch to hit the comeback trail with stained-glass windows and white bear-skin rugs, which are already in demand.

But one thing at a time; conviction that the red plush and gold leaf of another day is in for a revival swept over me when I saw a do-it-yourself advertisement in the Sunday papers. "New, exciting idea for decorating!" it read. "Now you can give any window a radiant, glowing stained-glass look."

You just press plastic panels, in two patterns (swirl or mosaic) onto outdated, clear-glass windows and presto! You and your stained glass windows are the trend away from the "stark sterile nihilism of modern design" and a rush return to the lush era of the Eighties and the Gay Nineties — plush, brocades, swags, ways and all.

If further proof of the return to the Tiffany glass period were needed, it came when I ran into Leo Ritter, the furrier, and he sang me a sad saga of the short supply of polar-bear skins.

Santa Clauses Are Already In Demand

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Employment-Security Commission already has received orders for 11 Santa Clauses. It expects with time on her stomach is a

"Who cares?" I asked. "Who cares?" cried Ritter. "Customers, that's who. Today a white bearskin rug is a status symbol, like a sports car ten years ago. And how many skins have I got. One! The Hudson's Bay Company does me a favor. It sends me one!"

"Why don't you canvas photographers' studios," I suggested. "Think of all those polar-bear rugs on which innocent babies of my generation were posed, wearing nothing but Chanel No. 5 or its equivalent. Those rugs might be coaxed out of hiding like 'coon-skin coats a few years ago."

"And to think that I had a polar-bear in my office," Ritter went on, ignoring my suggestion. "Five or six years ago I gave it away, just to get rid of it!"

"I understand," I said. "I gave our rocking chair away twelve months before Kennedy was elected."

"I gave it away because it was a bloody nuisance," Ritter continued. "It had a great, big head with a mouth full of big sharp teeth. The minute that rug came into my office, it took a vicious dislike to me."

"It didn't trip me up that way, it sank its fangs into my ankles. I was black and blue from the knees down all the time I had it," Ritter declared. "Why people want one is more than I can fathom. Probably because only some 150 to 200 skins come on the market annually."

"There, you have it. Snob appeal," I said. Ritter looked gloomy. "It isn't worth the arnica," he declared. (Copyright, 1962, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Candidates Tired Of Hearing This

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a political candidate gets tired of hearing just before election time: "Joe, this is no time to slow down. Yesterday you only shook 3,000 hands and kissed 75 babies."

"They love you in the 1st Ward all right. It's in the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th wards that you're in real trouble."

"Somehow we got to get up $500 more for placards—even if your wife has to take in washing."

"You've already indorsed tax cuts, motherhood, and the federal highway program. What we need is a hot new issue. How do you stand on the boll weevil?"

"The best argument I can think of for sending him to Washington is that it'll get him out of town."

"Remember, Joe, if you get elected I don't expect you to forget me. After all, I passed out more handbills for you than anybody."

"Eating that hero sandwich and pizza pie put you in solid with the Italian vote. You'll find the stomach pump in the back of the car."

"We could accuse them of character assassination. Our candidate certainly is a character."

"We're coming to another crossroads, Joe. Put your shoes back on. It's time to make another speech."

"What do you mean you can't eat goulash? Don't you realize this is a Hungarian section?"

"The boss from the 3rd Ward just phoned. He says he wants you to do something for his brother-in-law now, not later."

"Promise them anything now. You can always forget it later."

"Sir, as a representative of the Teen-Agers for Better Government Committee, I'd like to ask how you stand on birth control, the tariff, the Common Market, Cuba, thermonuclear warfare and, uh, things like that."

"According to our latest secret poll, Joe, only 10 per cent of the voters are against you. The other 90 per cent don't even seem to know you're running."

"Oops, he dropped a baby. Well boys, there goes the election!"

Three Boys Are Killed

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Three boys, out for Halloween's traditional trick-or-treat, were killed by automobiles in the Muskegon area Wednesday night.

Two brothers—Judson York, 11, and Alvin, 7, were struck by a car one mile from their Muskegon township home. They were dead on arrival at Hickley Hospital.

The driver, Earl Roomsburg, 27, of Muskegon, said the boys were walking along the side of the road when they suddenly turned into the path of his car. Roomsburg asserted, but his right fender struck the boys. He was released after making a statement to police.

David Vaughn, 8, of suburban Fruitport-Township, was struck and killed by a car while he was out celebrating Halloween with his twin brother and a sister.

Arrest Of Eleven Cubans Announced

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Eleven Cubans have been arrested for speculation and crimes against the national economy, Havana Radio reported Wednesday.

The radio said the accused persons included a minor who was sentenced to house arrest, presumably because of his youth. The others drew jail terms of varying lengths.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: When birds migrate, how do they find their way?

ANSWER: For a great many years, students of birds have been asking themselves this question. Such feats as that of the Greater Shearwater, which flies straight to the tiny islands of Tristan da Cunha in the middle of the vast South Atlantic, seem impossible to explain. Yet scientists have recently come up with certain answers. How do seamen find their way over the open ocean? By taking observations of the sun and the stars. Birds do the same thing, say these scientists. They don't have sextants or mathematical formulas, but they do, for instance, know that the sun should be on a certain angle to their line of flight (1). At night, it seems that they use the stars for the same purpose (2). You may ask, since the sun and stars appear to move and are at different parts of the sky at different times, doesn't this throw the birds out? It's difficult to believe, but scientists say that birds have a kind of built in clock system which permits them to allow for different positions of sun and stars for different times of day or night. Birds also follow mountain ranges, rivers and (3) shorelines, say these authorities.

FOR YOU TO DO: Study the birds around you and see if you can find bird habits which are connected with the daily movements of the sun. Birds start singing at sunrise, for example. What other bird-sun relationships can you find?

(Marilyn Humm of Beaufort, N. C., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win $10 or the weekly grand prize of a set of Britannica Junior Encyclopedias.)

Satellite Apathy Influences Krush

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Apathy among the Soviet satellite regimes in Eastern Europe apparently was a factor in Premier Khrushchev's agreement to ship his missiles home from Cuba.

Many diplomats think Poland's Communist government for example, straddled the fence as much as it dared during last week's crisis.

There wasn't even a "hands off Cuba" demonstration outside the American Embassy in Warsaw such as occurred before the embassies in Moscow, London, Copenhagen, Tokyo and Prague.

U.S. diplomatic notes about the arms quarantine were fired back by the Kremlin. Similar notes got only polite oral rebuttals here.

Many a Pole privately abhorred the idea that the Soviet Union might fight over Cuba. "If there is war over Cuba, I have two requests of America," a Polish writer told this reporter. "First, don't use nuclear weapons. Second, win it."

Despite the sustained propaganda buildup, Castro and his bearded cohorts are not regarded as comrades in arms by many East Europeans.

About one-third of Poland's trade is with the West, and the country exchanges mail with perhaps 8 million people of Polish stock in America and Western Europe. These are ties local Communist leaders cannot ignore when they consider a showdown over such a remote place as Cuba.

Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka is thought to have considerable influence with Khrushchev. Presumably he counseled caution on Cuba.

Many Polish officials have indicated they had no advance knowledge of Soviet missiles in Cuba. The secret buildup is now being interpreted in two ways.

Some are surprised and dismayed that the Soviets would risk peace with such a step. Those who think more in terms of strategy feel Khrushchev made a smart move that may pay off for him by prolonging the life of the Castro regime.

U. S. Employment Picture Brighter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's employment picture brightened last month. While the administration saw evidence the economy was improving, Republicans wondered out loud if there really was reason to cheer.

The key statistics released by the Labor Department on Wednesday are these:

Employment, rising seasonally, increased 223,000 from September to 68,893,000—a record for October.

The jobless total declined by 213,000, more than was expected, to 3,294,000—the lowest monthly unemployment figure since 1959.

The seasonally adjusted idle rate dropped from the 5.8 per cent registered in August and September to 5.5 per cent. This meant 55 of 1,000 able and willing workers couldn't find jobs last month.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said in a statement that the job situation was substantially improved over that faced by President Kennedy when he took office in January 1961.

Wirtz acknowledged that there still are far too many unemployed and that much remains to be done if the economy is to operate at its full potential. He said, however, the nation's economy is moving ahead once again.

The Republican National Committee took issue with that view. In its own statement, the GOP said it is difficult to see how the administration "finds cause for rejoicing."

"With a current 5.5 per cent unemployment ratio," the committee said, "the number of jobless people is now exactly what it was in September 1960, when Mr. Kennedy as a candidate was telling the voters how bad things were and promising to bring unemployment down to 4 per cent."

In September 1960, the idle rate was 5.7 per cent and 3,388,000 were reported unemployed.

Trick-Or-Treater May Have Diamond

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Some unknown little Halloween trick-or-treater may find a diamond ring in the sack with candy and other goodies handed out in one Peoria neighborhood Wednesday night.

It is the engagement ring of Carolyn McManis. Miss McManis told police she thinks her ring fell off as she was placing candy in the bag of one of the Halloween-disguised trick-or-treaters who came to her door.
