Seven-Ton Sputnik Launched By Soviets

By STANLEY JOHNSON
MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union Saturday launched the heaviest Sputnik in history—more than seven tons—as part of its program to develop a heavy-weight space ship for manned flight.

The Moscow radio broke into its scheduled broadcast at 8 p.m. to announce the launching. It made no mention whether an animal or man was aboard and did not specify where or at what hour the Sputnik was launched.

The official announcement, based on a Soviet Tass news agency statement, said the device was circling the earth every 88.5 minutes on an orbit at an inclination of 64 degrees, 57 minutes, reading 203.5 miles from the earth at its farthest point and coming to within 136.5 miles at its closest point.

Apparatus on board functioned normally "while it was being put into orbit and during its further movement along the orbit," the statement said.

"The scientific and technical tasks set for the launching of the satellite have been carried out," it added.

Previous space ships launched by the Soviet space scientists were in the five-ton class.

Last May 15, a space ship was launched to test the separation of the capsule from its carrier, for return to earth on signal. It carried a dummy the size of a man inside a cabin that scientists said simulated temperature and space conditions an astronaut would travel in.

Last Dec. 1, the Soviet scientists sent up a number of animals including two dogs, Belka (Squirrel) and Strelka (Little Arrow), and announced the dogs were brought back alive after 24 hours aloft.

On Dec. 1, the dogs Pchelka (Little Bee) and Mushka (Little Fly) were hurled into space in another five-tonner. In the recovery attempt, the space ship shot off course and burned up in outer space. The dogs died with it.

There were rumors that the Soviet Union attempted and failed in another spectacular space ship experiment to mark Premier Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations last September and October. The Russians kept mum about this and there never was any confirmation.

The weight of the newest Soviet space ship was set at 6,463 kilograms or 14,292 pounds in the Tass announcement.

In terms of the U.S. weights, based on the short ton of 2,000 pounds, that put it in the 7-10 ton class.

By Soviet calculation it was a 6½-ton affair, using metric standards that would make its weight 6.46 metric tons.

Oriental Star Of Movies Is Dead At 54

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Anna May Wong, silken-voiced symbol of Oriental mystery and beauty, is dead at 54. Hollywood's first Chinese star once told a movie columnist:

"When I die, my epitaph should be: I died a thousand deaths. That was the story of my film career."

"Most of the time I played in mystery and intrigue stories. They didn't know what to do with me at the end, so they killed me off."

Miss Wong died of a heart attack Friday night at her home in nearby Santa Monica. Funeral services are pending.

Her trademarks were large dark eyes, high rounded cheeks, dark bangs over her forehead and a soft, musical voice that was unmistakably Chinese—although she was born and reared in Los Angeles.

Her first big success was in the silent film "Tales of Bagdad" with Douglas Fairbanks. She made more than 80 films in Hollywood, Germany, France and England.

Many are now being shown on television. They included "Shanghai Express," "Old San Francisco," "Across to Singapore," "Forty Winks," "Toll of the Sea," "Chinatown Charlie," "Daughter of the Dragon," "Study in Scarlet," "Tiger Bay" and "Daughter of Shanghai."

She often costarred with Warner Oland, the Fu Manchu and Charlie Chan of many Hollywood films.

STREET CARS STALLED IN SNOW STORM—Three public service street cars were abandoned by passengers in St. Louis, Mo., after they became stalled in the heavy snow storm that was sweeping the city. The street car riders, many of them on their way from work, were delayed until buses arrived to continue them on their journey. More than six inches of snow had covered the area. (AP Wirephoto)

Storm Death Toll Mounts

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow buried the northeastern United States Saturday.

It virtually immobilized cities, blocked highways and halted commerce and industry. It turned the region into a creeping, floundering, slow-motion panorama in white.

Tragedy struck, and so did comedy as life skidded and bogged in the swirling sea of snow. Pedestrians were blown across icy streets to sprawl grotesquely in snowdrifts. Good-natured passersby pulled them out, sometimes to slip themselves a few steps further on.

But there was growing tragedy, too. The death toll from the prolonged storm, sweeping in from the Midwest and up from the middle eastern seaboard, climbed past 60. The storm centered late Saturday on New York State and aimed a smothering wallop at New England.

More than two feet of snow were measured in many areas. On the nearly empty, snow-shrouded streets of New York, passengers left buses to push, often in vain. And children built snow statues atop drift-covered automobiles.

The metropolis, since Friday night, had 16 inches of snow, and Mayor Robert Wagner issued an emergency order banning all private traffic. He said stalled cars were filling the streets and blocking snowplows.

States of emergency were proclaimed in Nassau County on Long Island, where 1,500 stranded cars cluttered the snow-bound roadways. Emergencies also were proclaimed in upstate Syracuse and Utica, N.Y., paralyzed by more than two feet of snow, and in Saugerties, N.Y., where seven-foot drifts filled roadways.

Throughout the storm-battered region, ranging from the Carolinas northward and into the central states, transportation was crippled and slowed. Many power lines were out of commission, and normal activities disrupted.

However, the weather generally eased except in the Northeast.

It was the third major storm in six weeks for much of this area, and came in the wake of a record 16 days of subfreezing temperatures, the first time it had been that cold for that long since 1880.

In the midst of the snowfall, the reading in New York edged up to 32 degrees, but then dipped again, as the wind rose from 25 miles per hour toward a predicted 35 to 45.

In neighboring New Jersey, the snow smashed past records, a 17.3-inch fall bringing the seasonal total to 63.5 inches, an inch more than the previous 62.5 inches set in 1947-48.

But snow was a lifesaver for 4-year-old Andrew Leary, who fell from a sixth-floor apartment window in Union City, N.J., but suffered only minor injuries because he landed in a snowbank.

All metropolitan highways were shut down. At Idlewild, four huge planes were so heaped with snow they couldn't be hauled to hangars.

Mail and food deliveries were hampered.

Pennsylvania had a foot of snow, twice that in spots, with biting winds. Harrisburg, 90 inches brought its year's total to 67 inches, breaking a 68-year record.

In Boston, gale winds and high tides came with the downfall, which was expected to reach up to a foot in northern New England. The Boston & Maine Railroad canceled all service.

The New Haven Railroad closed its New Canaan to Stamford line. The Hudson & Manhattan shut down its Newark to Jersey City, N.J., service.

Other railroad lines in the region struggled along, with individual trains canceled or far behind schedule. One New York Central train pushed another broken-down train into Grand Central Station.

On the tail of the storm in the West, a south still was on for a manufacturing executive, William D. Kelley Jr., of Cumberland, Md., who took off from Salt Lake City in a light plane and headed north into a thick snow.

In Colorado, three other persons were missing in a small plane on a flight from Denver to Alamosa. Two others were missing in a plane flying through a snowstorm over southwestern Wyoming.

Two Colorado Springs school students were killed Friday night when a car went off the road in blinding snow.

Generally, however, the brunt of the storm seemed over in the West, with only light flurries still reported in snow-laden Ohio, Illinois and neighboring states, also along the southern Atlantic coast, the sun came out as it began digging out of the snow.

But more snow was forecast in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas.

In Virginia, wrapped in an ice-coated snow blanket measuring up to 14 inches, the skies cleared, but highways remained slick and dangerous. West Virginia was shoveling out of a snow that reached up to 25 inches in spots.

In the Far West, it was sunny. Los Angeles had 76 degrees.

Italians Believe Heartbeats Heard

TURIN, Italy (AP)—An Italian surgeon said Saturday there were heartbeats that might have been heartbeats and heavy breathing on a tape recording of radio signals on a frequency used by Soviet satellites.

The recording was made two weeks ago by Achille and Giovanni Battista, Judica-Cordiglia, who monitored the signals on radio receiving equipment they have set up in their home to intercept American and Soviet space transmissions.

The same short wave signals were monitored by the observatory at Bochum, Germany.

The signals were received before the Soviet Union announced Saturday it had launched a giant new Sputnik. The Turin brothers said the signals were different from those they had heard previously from satellites.

"In addition to the usual bip-bip," Achille said, "it seemed to us that there were sounds indicating the movements of a human being or animal in a physical state of apparatus."

"We could not be sure what these sounds were," said Giovanni, "but we thought they might be moaning or heavy breathing of a being in difficulty in a space ship."

The brothers asked Prof. Mario Dogliotti, an internationally known surgeon, to listen to the recording.

"At intervals a rhythmic noise could be heard which repeated, with a frequency of 80 to 90 times per minute, the fundamental rhythm of the human heart or of the heart of a superior mammal," Dogliotti said in a statement.

"Also audible are some sounds which recall, in an impressive way, difficult breathing. On the whole, the sounds might be those suggested from a human being or other mammal, but it cannot be stated definitely."

The radio signals heard by the Italian brothers were at the same time and on the same frequency as those reported by the Bochum observatory. The observer said it also heard fragments of Russian language speech on another frequency so close to the first one that they seemed to have some relationship to each other.

The observatory located the signals as in or near the Soviet Union, emanating from an object in motion.

Ira Champs Are Picked

IRA—Raymond Clinkenbeard had the champion hog and John Vinson the top lamb in the Ira Future Farmers of America project show here Saturday. The reserve champion hog was a heavyweight barrow shown by Stanley Martin.

In the lightweight class of swine, Clinkenbeard had the first, a 24 1/2 pound animal, while John Vinson's entry was second. Don Kimbrell fourth and Ed "Jay" class J. W. Smallwood had the third.

The mother, Jeanne Heymann, 31, of Long Valley, instructed her husband, Hans, a member of the Long Valley Rescue Squad, after it became apparent the hospital could not be reached in time. Both mother and son were reported in good condition when they finally reached Morristown Memorial Hospital.

Snow Hits Panhandle

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A heavy snow whitened the Panhandle Saturday as a great snow storm spilled down from the Plains and threatened all of Texas with a wet weekend.

Saturday evening the snow measured 11 inches at Higgins, 7 inches at Paryton 47 miles to the northwest.

Light snow and sleet fell as far south as Muleshoe and Childress.

The Weather Bureau said the heavy snow would continue during the night and forecast up to another eight inches for the northern Panhandle by Sunday noon.

Roads throughout the Panhandle were open but became increasingly slippery during the night. Buses fell behind on their schedule. Several minor accidents were reported in the Dalhart area.

Other snow measurements were Spearman 6 inches, Shamrock 5, Amarillo 4, McLean 3, Channing

Russians Agree To Delay Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet government agreed Saturday to President Kennedy's proposal for a six-weeks delay in negotiations on a treaty to ban nuclear weapons tests.

Kennedy has started a restudy of U. S. test ban policy.

The Moscow action, though perhaps a bit slow, was accepted here as another gesture of cooperation with the new U. S. administration. But in another development officials found evidence that the Washington-Moscow diplomatic honeymoon date from Kennedy's inauguration, is likely to be short lived.

This development was the publication in a Soviet magazine, Life Abroad, of sharp criticism of Kennedy's State of the Union message last Monday.

Not only a publication of the criticism a significant event in itself, its focus on Kennedy's unyielding attitude toward Communist ambitions is also seen here as being of central importance.

For the indication is that Premier Khrushchev and his advisers regard the new era of better feeling between the leaders of the two great powers as an opportunity to try to wring concessions from the United States rather than as an opportunity to settle vital problems by mutual compromise.

Such criticism was not unexpected here. It is not taken to mean that Khrushchev will shortly abandon his strategy of seeking negotiations with Kennedy leading to a new summit conference.

Its significance lies rather in indicating what he may hope to accomplish by trying to maneuver Kennedy and other Western leaders into a position where a summit failure would result against them by constituting a severe blow to world peace hopes.

The State Department announced the Soviet's acceptance of

McCulloch Is Appointed NLRB Head

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has chosen Frank W. McCulloch, administrative assistant to Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., to be chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

"It's a terrific challenge and honor," McCulloch told a reporter Saturday after his appointment was announced.

McCulloch, 55, practiced law in Chicago after his graduation in 1929 from the Harvard Law School, and became active in social settlement work. He earned his bachelor's degree at Williams College in 1926.

In 1935, McCulloch was named industrial relations secretary of the Council for Social Action of the Congregational-Christian Church, a post he held until 1946.

In World War II, he was a public member of the Regional War Labor Board, and in 1946 became director of the Labor Education Division of Roosevelt College, Chicago.

He has been aide to Douglas since 1949.

The NLRB chairmanship is a $20,000-a-year position. On the board he will replace Arthur Kimball, who has been serving under a recess appointment.

McCulloch has helped Douglas in the drafting and handling of labor, welfare and other legislation. These duties put him in frequent touch with Kennedy when the President was a senator from Massachusetts and interested in the same fields.

Hogs Judged At Hermleigh

HERMLEIGH—A heavy weight crossbred animal shown by J. B. Robertson and a lightweight Berkshire shown by Sonny Darden were named grand champion and reserve champion, respectively, of three classes of hogs shown Saturday by Hermleigh High School Future Farmers of America.

The animals were shown at the annual FFA project show under supervision of Frank Barnes, vocational agriculture teacher. Burt Browning, county school superintendent, judged the show.

Robertson's grand champion was the top heavyweight, while the entry of Doug Foster placed second in that class.

Behind Darden's reserve champion, the entry of Mike Kearney placed second in the lightweight division, while Wallace Wall showed both the first and second place entries in the medium weight division.

Complete results: Lightweight—1. Darden; 2. Garcia; 3. Gleastine; 4. Beek; 5. Rannefeld. Medium weight—1. and 2. Wall; 3. Wrenken; 4. Beek; 5. Fargason. Heavy weight—1. Robertson; 2. Foster; 3. Chitsey; 4. Winter; 5. Hudnall.

Portuguese Say Uprising Crushed

LUANDA, Angola, Portuguese West Africa (AP)—The government announced it crushed Saturday an armed uprising supposedly timed with the ill-fated seizure of the liner Santa Maria. This is the strongest sign of winds of African nationalism in this Portuguese territory so far.

A communique from Gov. Gen. Alvaro Silva Tavares said three bands of armed Negroes attacked Luanda's police headquarters and the civil and military prisons during the night in an attempt to free prisoners.

"In this they failed," the communique said. "Those responsible are already under arrest and for the most part order is re-established."

The governor general said both sides suffered losses and the attacking force was small. The attackers were reported armed with "naive weapons and firearms."

Portuguese Lestiana News Agency reported in a dispatch from Angola that reliable sources said there were six casualties.

Silva Tavares said that in the past few days he had received information from abroad that changes were threatened in Angola's public order and "this information insisted there was a plan for agitation from within to coincide with the attack on the liner Santa Maria."

If the attack had indeed been planned to coincide with the Santa Maria's seizure, it was ill-timed. It came only hours after rebel Capt. Henrique Galvao surrendered the liner to Brazilian authorities in the Brazilian port of Recife.

Galvao once served as a government inspector in this colony of almost four million people on Africa's west coast, and he is known to have friends in Luanda.

But several days ago opponents of Portuguese Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar told newsmen they gave up their plans for even a "bloodless revolution" here because they were shocked by the way the Santa Maria was seized.

Hargrove In School Race

DR. ROBERT H. HARGROVE, Snyder dentist, is the first candidate to have his name placed on the Snyder Independent School District election ballot.

The election is set for April 1, and two members of the board will be named. The terms of Max West and J. W. Phillips expire this year, and both have indicated that they will not seek re-election.

The school election falls on the first Saturday in April, and the city's general election follows on the first Tuesday in April. Three city council posts will be at stake in the city election, with the terms of Jim Mixon, Bill Eiland and Russell Yorgensen expiring.

A petition requesting that Dr. Hargrove's name be placed on the ballot in the school election was filed late Friday with the board secretary, Doug Flynn. Signing the petition were Russell Yorgensen, D. R. Scott, Clyde Hall Jr., W. D. McNair and M. L. Broman. Signatures of five voters in the district are required on petitions of school board candidates.

Son Is Delivered By Father In Snowstorm

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP)—A son was delivered today by his father in a snow and wind-battered ambulance on Rt. 24.

The mother, Jeanne Heymann, 31, of Long Valley, instructed her husband, Hans, a member of the Long Valley Rescue Squad, after it became apparent the hospital could not be reached in time. Both mother and son were reported in good condition when they finally reached Morristown Memorial Hospital.

Teachers Strike Closes Schools

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Schools in the northern state of Coahuila were closed Saturday by a teachers strike.

The teachers union says that a two-year-old contract calling for salary increases based on wages paid by the education ministry has been ignored. It said no raises were granted this year.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Friday, 47 degrees; low, 28 degrees; reading at 1 a.m., Saturday, 22 degrees.

NORTHWEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy and cooler in south portion. Low, 15 to 20 in south and 20 to 25 in north.

180 CAFE BURNS—Firemen are shown above as they battled a blaze which destroyed a storage room and badly damaged the attic of the 180 Cafe on West Twenty-fifth Street Friday night. The fire was thought to have originated in the attic of the storeroom. Water and smoke damage was extensive to the remainder of the building.

Deliveries Of Water Show Gain

Water deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District in January showed a 7.42 per cent gain over the same month a year ago.

Most of the gain was in municipal use. The member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder consumed 351,182,366 gallons as compared with 323,443,000 gallons in January of 1959. Oil companies took 214,882,186 as compared to 203,506,554 a year ago. The aggregate deliveries were 566,064,526 as compared to 526,950,004.

Odessa drew 188,327,760 as against 183,000,000, a gain of 12.1 per cent; Big Spring took 130,779,600 against 121,599,100, an increase of 7.5; Snyder received 32,073,000, down from the 33,844,000 for January a year ago.

Companies using surplus water for repressuring drew the following amounts in January: SACROC 149,338,626; Sharon Ridge 35,182,300; Lion Oil 24,539,600, and Texas Gulf 5,561,100.

Red Magazine Raps Kennedy

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet magazine criticized President Kennedy in strong terms today and said his State of the Union message contained "irksome cold war echoes."

The magazine Life Abroad said the speech repeated "the hackneyed slogans of American propaganda" and proclaimed a new drive in the arms race.

These comments, published by the Soviet news agency Tass, contrasted with earlier Soviet reactions to Kennedy. Until now, the Soviet press and radio have been restrained and even sympathetic to Kennedy.

COMMISSIONERS-CARPENTER—When Scurry County commissioners discovered the budget allotment would not cover remodeling of the new Scurry County Welfare headquarters, they have to with hammers, saws and muscles to help get the old Horrell Feed Store ready for the increased allotments to be issued Feb. 8. A number of Snyder firms and individuals are contributing both materials and labor towards the renovation. From left above, are Bill Herring of Precinct No. 2; Marion Dabbs of Precinct No. 1, and J. C. Massingill of Precinct No. 4.

Bond Sales Are Reported

During 1960 citizens of Scurry County purchased $336,066 in Savings Bonds, representing 90.8 per cent of the county's goal for the year.

This announcement was made by H. W. Cargile, chairman of the Scurry County Savings Bonds committee.

The total bond purchases in Texas during 1960 were $152,823,432. This figure equaled 92.3 per cent of the year's goal of $165.5 million. December sales of $13,539,528 were the highest totals for one month since last February.

"Last November the members of the Texas Press Association staged a one-month Savings Bond contest. The contest, based on news stories, editorials and advertising donated by each newspaper, resulted in increased savings bonds support by Texas newspapers and played an important part in the record December sales," Cargile added.

The White House has 150 rooms, including solarium, barber shop, and doctor's and dentist's offices, as well as a movie theater, swimming pool and bomb shelter.

Butte, Mont., is called "the richest hill on earth" because of its copper mines, which produce one-sixth of all the copper mined in the world.

Panel To Ask For Sales Tax

AUSTIN (AP)—Tom Sealy, Midland lawyer, said Saturday a statewide committee of "Citizens for a Sales Tax" will be formed.

Sealy asserted most Texas citizens prefer a sales tax "as the best way out of a bad financial crisis in state government."

Sealy, former chairman of the University of Texas regents, said his group is interested in a tax program that will grow with the economy without the need of new tax levies every biennium. He said it should also care adequately for the state's educational, welfare and other needs.

He said an office will be set up here to urge the legislature to pass a general sales tax. Former state Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston will be in charge of the Austin office.

Sealy said a 15-member executive committee to supervise county organizations. They include three regional chambers of commerce presidents—Caldwell McWhorter of Beaumont, Kermit Dyche of Alvin and Carter King Jr. of Albany.

Rabbits Are Cleared From Kelly AFB

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A thousand club-wielding airmen and 20 sharpshooting police went on a rabbit killing spree today. When it ended, Kelly Air Force Base was rid of about 1,600 of the little animals.

The rabbits are regarded as a safety hazard on the big base because of the danger of their being sucked into the air intakes of jet engines and being crushed under the wheels during takeoffs and landings.

Rabbits fell by the dozens as a line of airmen marched along the two-mile concrete runway like native hunters on safari, clubbing rabbits which refused to be driven.

Rabbits which ran ahead of the green-clad line of airmen were herded into a corner at the intersection of two high wire fences, where police armed with shotguns waited.

The officers, members of the security force at Kelly, fired dozens of 20-gauge rounds into the leaping rabbits, which set up eerie screams as they sought to escape.

Scores of rabbits did slip through the lines during the drive, and Air Force officers are resigned to the fact that rabbits being rabbits, they'll have to have another roundup in a year or so.

Two dump truck loads of animals were hauled to the base dump ground and buried by a bulldozer.

Hitler Guard Officer Dies

ANSBACH, Germany (AP)—Former Lt. Gen. Max Simon of Hitler's Elite SS Guard who was tried several times for war crimes and once sentenced to death, died three days ago of a heart attack, the Ansbach state attorney announced today.

The former SS general died in Dortmund where he had been employed with an insurance firm. He was 62.

Simon was sentenced to death in 1947 by a Padua, Italy, court for the execution of Italians and other atrocities. The sentence was later changed to life imprisonment, and he was released in 1954 through a clemency act.

He was tried again three times in Germany—the last time in July 1960—for the wartime execution of three German civilians who had deserted teen-aged soldiers just before the arrival of U. S. troops.

Irving Rites Are Held Saturday

Graveside services were conducted Saturday afternoon in the Snyder Cemetery for Roland Irving of Fort Worth. Mr. Irving was the son-in-law of Mrs. A. G. Scarborough of 2712 Avenue S.

Masonic Lodge No. 706 was in charge of the services with benediction by Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Services were conducted in Fort Worth Saturday morning. Local arrangements were under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Slowdown In Texas Light

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas was able last year, to a great extent, to escape the business slowdown that touched the rest of the nation, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

"The Texas industrial community continued to show solid growth last year," the University of Texas agency said. "Although some industries, notably oil and steel were in trouble, others like aircraft manufacturing were making a comeback by diversifying into different products while chemicals, food processing and apparel were showing healthy expansion."

The report said some state areas had serious economic problems.

"Other areas were growing at a rate faster than the United States as a whole, as witness the Gulf Coast, the metropolitan centers of the Texas Blacklands, the Permian Basin of West Texas and the High Plains of the Panhandle," the report said.

Gas Firms Urged To Go To Hearings

HOUSTON (AP)—Natural gas producers, large and small, were urged Saturday to take part in area pricing hearings before the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

The FPC has scheduled a pre-hearing conference on its new pricing formula at Midland March 6.

D. L. Connelly, president of the general Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, said even producers who do not have gas production in the West Texas Permian Basin should intervene in the case.

"I would urge every producer who is not already a party to the proceedings to file an application to intervene," he said. "There is some question of whether the producer will waive his constitutional right to appear if his application is not in Washington by Feb. 15."

Nearly 500 producers have been made parties to the proceedings by the FPC and their statements of position must be in the hands of FPC by Feb. 15.

Last September the FPC abandoned utility-type controls for regulation of wellhead prices of natural gas that enters into interstate commerce. The FPC announced plans to adopt an "area pricing" formula.

"It is obvious that developments at the Midland conference will set precedents for later hearings in other gas producing areas," Connelly said. "Therefore, the producer owes it to himself to be on hand and learn what the commission is attempting to do."

No date for a formal hearing has been set but FPC has announced the first of the hearings will involve Permian Basin gas sales.

Connelly said most small producers hope the formal hearings also will be held in Midland.

"Many of these operators could not afford either the time or the expense of making a trip to Washington," he said.

1961 Gets Off To 'Wet' Start Here

The year 1961 got off to an encouraging start moisture-wise in the Snyder area.

Precipitation during January amounted to 1.87 inches in Snyder, and some areas of the county got heavier amounts, as showers, snow and sleet made up the weather menu.

The moisture total for January here was the highest since 1949 when 2.30 inches were recorded, and this year's total was some 2 1/2 times the average for the month. Moisture was recorded on seven different occasions during the past month, most of it in rain showers. It was topped off with a snowfall a week ago which added .18 inch to the total.

In the four year period before the Salk vaccine was introduced, there were approximately 30,000 cases of infantile paralysis each year. Since 1955, when the Salk vaccine appeared, the number has continued to drop with about 3,200 cases reported during 1960.

Ministerial Alliance Sets Meeting Monday

The Snyder and Scurry County Ministerial Alliance will hold its regular meeting at 11:30 a. m. Monday at Sallie's Dining Room.

Guest for the occasion will be Truman Black, local manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., who will take the ministers on a tour of the telephone building immediately following the luncheon session.

Local Cagers Take First, Runner-Up

Snyder copped the intermediate championship but was nosed out by Abilene in the finals of the senior division here Saturday in the Scurry County Boys Club Basketball Tournament.

The Snyder intermediates edged Roscoe, 44-42, for the championship in their division, with Edgard Schulz scoring 17 points to pace the winners. Carl Jones of Roscoe led his team with 14 points.

In the senior finals, Abilene squeaked by with a 94-92 decision in a nip and tuck encounter. Jim Wilson of Snyder and Jim Wright of Abilene shared scoring honors with 34 points each.

In the opening intermediate game, Roscoe defeated Abilene, 87-26, while the Snyder intermediate team drew a bye.

Snyder seniors defeated Odessa, 48-30, in their opening, with Wilson of Snyder and Wayne Tucker of Odessa each scoring 16 points.

Johnson Is 2-1 Favorite

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The National Boxing Association will have a new light heavyweight champion Tuesday night, and the odds are 2-1 he will be Harold Johnson of Philadelphia.

The 23-year-old warrior takes on 23-year-old Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis in a 15-round bout at Convention Hall with the winner to be recognized as successor to the venerable Archie Moore, from whose brow the crown was removed by the NBA for failure to defend the title within what was considered a reasonable time.

The veteran and skillful Johnson, four of whose eight defeats were suffered at the hands of Moore, is considered by critics to pack too many guns for his youthful opponent, who jumped into the title picture through a decisive victory over Willie Pastrano.

Neither Johnson nor Bowdry has been defeated in Miami Beach appearances. Johnson fought here three times, his last appearance being a 10-round decision over Bob Satterfield, March 12, 1957. Bowdry has fought here four times, his 10-round decision over Pastrano last Dec. 27 being his most recent showing.

The bout will not be televised.

Say Cards Refuse Offers For Crow

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Globe-Democrat reported Saturday the St. Louis football Cardinals have refused to trade halfback John David Crow even up for the Cleveland Browns' fullback Jimmy Brown.

Brown has been the National Football League's leading ground gainer for the past four seasons, but the Cardinals were said to believe Crow is the best in the business.

Between You And Me
BY JERRY JACKSON

Those ominous rumbles you may have heard around town the last week or two aren't leaning forth from Los Alamos. They're not thunderclaps, either. Only Lacy Boles telling in down-to-earth, homey terminology what he thinks his team's chances are in the coming week's Golden Gloves in Abilene.

"We're gonna win the open and the pee wee divisions," he stated, blushing modestly. Then he answered a dubious look with, "And you can quote me on that if you want to."

Could he, perchance, be talking through his hat, you ask? That, after all, normally the first question posed when the name of the gravel-voiced and garrulous Boles is inserted into the picture. Beyond a doubt's shadow, he is one who could be termed an always-optimistic somebody. But in the case at hand he has some solid testimony with which to back up his statement. Rock-fisted facts.

He'll field a strong, proven team in the usual fling, without a doubt. The record as accumulated to date bears out that fundamental adage. His boys have fared well in inter-city rivalry, with few exceptions. And they're eager to "make their mark" at Abilene beginning Friday and possibly create a little state static at Cowntown later in the month.

Boles' immediate prospects are "weighty" ones, and centers around which boys will make what weight, and which ones won't. A "fer instance..."

"If Adam (Romero) makes open bantam," Boles plodded, "then Donnie (Deere) will fight open flyweight." I could only nod.

"But if Adam DOESN'T make the weight," he continued, "then Donnie'll fight high school flyweight." Once again the nod, but this time with slightly knitted brow.

Rantams scale out at from 113-115, while flyweights are 105-112 pounders. He's, the wholesale jockeying of weights and measures so that no two of his boys will be fighting for one and the same title. Boles... he's a sneaky one.

He has many fine prospects from which to draw, and will carry a team of some 20 boys into the competition. Ruben Gonzales, last year's regional champ and loser of a split decision to the eventual state featherweight finalist at Fort Worth, will be "hooking better than any of them" in workouts, Boles furnished.

Good boys in the open class and a correspondingly colorful crop of pee wee "little guys" should allow the Snyder-Boxing Team to go a long way toward coping the team trophies in those divisions.

His pee wees he has monickered "a batch of fighters' little champs." As deflating team demagogues, they have something to fight about, too. Here's one hopeful vote that they'll repeat last year's stellar performance in the Abilene Gloves.

Houston Team To Train In Arizona

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston entry in the National Baseball League will train at Apache Junction, a little Arizona town about 30 miles from Phoenix. General Manager Gabe Paul announced Saturday.

Houston thus will be near four other major league teams during spring training. The Boston Red Sox train at Scottsdale, Ariz., 22 miles away; the Chicago Cubs train at Mesa, Ariz., 14 miles away; the San Francisco Giants train at Phoenix, 30 miles away; and the Cleveland Indians train at Tucson, 160 miles away.

Olympians To Be Honored At Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Regatta here April 7-8 will be dedicated to the five Texas athletes who were in the Olympic Games at Rome last summer.

They are Stone Johnson of Dallas, sprinter from Grambling College; David Clark, pole vaulter from North Texas; Earl Young, 400-meter, from Abilene Christian College; Jay Arnette, basketball star from the University of Texas; and Humberto Barrera, boxer from Robstown.

Sophomores Len Auletto of Weehawken, N. J., and Tom Boose of Newark, N. J., are the only out-of-state players on the New York University basketball team.

Hermleigh, Ira Score Cage Sweep

Ira's Bulldogs remained in contention for the District 92-B cage crown in Ira Friday night, as they axed the Hobbs Panthers by 61-33, to up their conference record to 7-2 and drop Hobbs to 2-6.

A pair of Sterlings dealt the Panthers the most misery, as Tommy and Mike each poured in 19 points in pacing the Bulldog attack. Richard Raliff topped the Panther effort with 15.

In a game in which the Ira girls displayed their best team effort of the year, Ira rolled to a 33-14 win over the Hobbs girls behind the 19-point onslaught of Lena Farmer. Doy Groves and Carol Walker each chipped in 7 for the losing sextet.

In other Friday action at Fluvanna, league-leading Westbrook romped and stomped to a 36-27 triumph over the Fluvanna Bulldogs. Conway hit for 22, Jesse Watson, 19, and Bill Byrd 12 to pave the way.

Bobby Stansell and Jo Zapata each had 9 for the Bulls.

The Westbrook girls continued their mastery over the remainder of the district by clipping the Fluvanna girls in the opener of the evening, 39-25. Marie Putman was the leading scorer for the winners with 13, but was forced to relinquish high point honors to Fluvanna's Lalean Berryhill, who tended to the bulk of her team's scoring with a total of 21.

The Hermleigh Cardinals kept pace in the 92-B scramble by clouting Lorraine, 43-20, as Wallace Wall bucketed 13 points for the surging Cards. W. Clopton topped the Lorraine output with 11.

Hermleigh held a paper-thin 15-13 lead at halftime in that one, but

Free Shines; Bengal 'B' Wins 6th In Row

By Jerry Jackson

New Sports Editor

Cool, crew-cut Snyder Tiger guard Steve Free cut loose with a prodigious heave from the far court here Friday night as the game-ending horn sounded to up his team's winning total over Lake View's embattled Chiefs to 76-48, the biggest margin of the game.

The victory upped the Bengal boys of Coach J. P. Ward to 4-2 for the 3-3A campaign, and kept them mathematically in the running for the laurels behind Lamesa's Tornados, who won their fifth conference game without defeat by obliterating Colorado City the same night, 96-48, and the Sweetwater Mustangs, who watched from the sidelines Friday and remain in second place with a 4-1 mark.

In a preliminary "B" game between the two schools, Snyder emerged victorious by 53-45 for its sixth win in a row, all over district opponents.

As has become the mode over the entire season, the varsity tilt was a team victory all the way, as 10 of Snyder's 11 squadmen found their way into the scoring column. And they did with a fast-breaking style of play throughout, as Free's mighty game-ending heave and a 20-foot jumper from the side by Mike Moffett in the fourth quarter represented the only two goals sunk by the home team from further out than the radius of the free throw line.

On the other hand, a tight defense as thrown up by the Tigers kept the Chiefs taking potshots from far out throughout the evening, a fair 36 per cent of which they made good on.

Snyder was "death" at the charity line, also, as each of the gladiators sent up a like number of free throws—32—with the Tigers capitalizing on 24 for 75 per cent to Lake View's 16 for 50 per cent.

Foregone Conclusion

There was never the slightest doubt as to the eventual outcome of the game, as Jimmy Don Robinson ploughed in a free throw with only 23 seconds gone to put the Black and Golders into a 1-0 lead, and they were never behind from that point on. Two free losses by Charlie Gladson, plus two more by Moffett and a short jump shot by Bubba Fleming, put Snyder into a quick 7-0 advantage before the Chiefs were able to recuperate and do any scoring of their own.

Coach J. P. Ward utilized the "two-platoon system" to advantage, as he started an all-senior five made up of Fleming, Moffett, Gladson, Robinson and Weldon Ware, then switched off to an alternate unit composed of Free, Eddie Phy, Roger McMennamy, Freddy Miller, and Pooch Hatter as a minute and a half showed to be left to play in the initial quarter. From then on it was a duke's mixture of those ten performers plus senior hustler Mokey Hale, and the various combinations clicked for the most part during the entire contest.

Free Top Tiger

Free, with 17 points, was top scorer for Snyder, and gained him a tie with Chief Bobby Meek for the night's high point honors. Free's game-ending goal was a masterpiece. Three seconds showed to be left in the game as the score rested at 74-48 and Lake View was awarded a free throw. It rimmed out, after which Free grabbed the stray, dribbled out toward center court, and let fly a shot that brushed some cobwebs from the Tiger Gym rafters, 35 feet later it hit the backboard and nestled into the netting to bring on the final count of 76-48.

Other Bengals gaining the elite twin-figure bracket included Ware, who had 13, and Fleming, with his 11. Eight of Fleming's total for the night were racked up on four first quarter field goals.

As a highlight of the evening—prior to the beginning of the varsity game—Miss Margaret Miller was presented as the Tiger cage sweetheart and awarded a bouquet of roses.

Three some Stars
A trio of Tiger shot-makers

paced the "B" team victory, as Larry McNair looped in 15—as did Lake View's Ronnie Blum—and Tommy Cooper and Tim Marcum followed up with 13 each.

Snyder was as cold as yesterday's mashed potatoes in the initial stanza of play, as they hit on only 2 of 18 field goal attempts during the quarter. They rallied in stellar style as the second period got underway, however, and scored 20 points to the Chiefs' 6 to build up an insurmountable 29-17 half-time lead.

The Bengals trailed the visitors throughout the first quarter, but had pulled up almost even at 9-11 as the period ended. A half minute deep into the second stanza guard Johnny Mitchell pushed a 25-footer in from the side to knot the count, after which McNair laid one in less than a half-minute later to give Snyder a 13-11 margin. From then on the Tigers led for the remainder of the contest.

After the icy first quarter the Tiger Bees came back to tally a respectable 22 of 57 field goals for 38.6 per cent for the night.

The Tigers next set action this Tuesday, when they will host the rugged Sweetwater Mustangs in Tiger Gym. Loop-leading Lamesa travels to Lake View the same night.

Casper, Venturi, Maxwell Share Lead At Palm Springs

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Billy Casper, Ken Venturi and Billy Maxwell moved into a tie for the lead Saturday after 72 holes in the 90-hole, $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic.

Playing different courses, each posted a score of 274 and goes into the final round of this desert marathon Sunday one shot in front of Bob Rosburg. The latter carded a 73.

Casper played the swank Bermuda Dunes Country Club's par-72 course in 68, Maxwell toured the Thunderbird club's 71 in 68 and Venturi had a one-under-par 71 at the El Dorado course, rated the roughest in this resort land.

The final round, with the field trimmed to the low 60s and ties, shifts to the exclusive Tamarisk Country Club. It will be nationally televised by CBS from 1:30 to 3 p.m., Pacific Standard Time.

The leader through the second and third rounds, darkhorse Al Mengert, had miseries.

U.S. Open Champion Arnold Palmer, who fired a final round 65 to win this tournament a year ago, faces a rougher assignment Sunday. He took a par 73 at El Dorado Saturday for 279.

"I'm not putting as I should but I hope to do better," said Palmer.

Frogs Swing Into Drills

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Texas Christian Horned Frogs swing into spring football drills Monday.

Coach Abe Martin, who will start assembling his ninth eleven since taking over in 1953, expects 30 candidates for the first drill.

Martin said the team would drill through March 3, but the spring game probably would be held on Saturday, Feb. 25. The NCAA code restricts spring drills to 20 sessions in 30 calendar days.

Martin points to the work ahead "as one of the most rebuilding jobs I've ever had at TCU. We don't know really where we stand. We have only six real proven football players—Lynn Morrison, Buddy Iles, Bobby Plummer, Ray Pinion, Richard Holden and Sonny Gibbs."

Martin pointed to the center spot as the most critical spot. Captain Arvie Martin graduates, and only one letterman, Ken Upchurch of Itasca, will be available.

ANNOUNCING!

Dear Policy Holders:

We take this method of stating that we have sold the Holcomb Insurance Agency to Joe W. Sentell, who has returned to Scurry County from military service.

The business will continue to operate as before but under the new name of JOE W. SENTELL AGENCY. Joe has our good will and the hope for him the same pleasant relations with all of the policy holders that we have enjoyed over the many years we have been in business.

Although the management has changed, we will continue to be associated with the agency as solicitors. Also, Margaret Ann Odstreil will continue with the new management in her position as secretary.

We feel that we can assure you that your insurance needs under the new management will be taken care of efficiently and courteously.

The change in management does not in any way effect your policies.

We want to take this opportunity to thank our many customers, friends and associates in business. Over the many years it has been our privilege to do business as the Holcomb Insurance Agency. We thank all of you, not only for your business, but for the friendly relations and courtesies you have extended us. To sum it all up, we appreciate our friends.

Dear Policy Holders:

I appreciate Tony and Maude's letter to you, announcing the sale of the Holcomb Insurance Agency to me. I will continue to operate at the same location, in the Brownfield Building, under the name of Joe W. Sentell Insurance Agency.

I am pleased to announce that Tony and Maude will continue their association with the agency as solicitors and that Mrs. Margaret Odstreil will continue in her capacity as secretary, a position she has held for the past nine years.

I want to assure you that the servicing of your policies will receive the same careful attention as in the past and we will be glad to discuss and assist our customers with any insurance needs.

We would like to invite you to drop into our office in the Brownfield Building to discuss insurance or just to visit.

The phone number is unchanged. You will find it listed as Holcomb Insurance Agency, HI 3-3791.

Very Truly Yours,

Tuesday Weld Is A Legend At 17

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Is it true what they say about Tuesday? Eyebrows have been lifting and tongues wagging since petite, blonde Tuesday Weld came to movie land in 1958, a full-blown 15. Gossips have chronicled romance after romance, one with an actor nearly three times her age. Their picture has no stranger to liquor, tobacco, gay parties and late hours.

When a movie needs a girl to play a sexy teen-ager, Tuesday is thought of first. She's a living legend at 17—while her contemporaries are still in high school. She gets more publicity than most of the screen's senior sirens—just about all of it.

But does Tuesday try to blow it down? She's more apt to fan it. Ask her what she thinks of the tales they tell and she deplores only the ones that accent her tender years. One reason she doesn't knock the more lurid yarns is because many originated with her. Tuesday is not unaware of the value of publicity, good or bad, and admits she's the principal source of Tuesday Weld tales.

Tuesday is spending her time these days working with two actors whose names figure in the Weld legend: John Ireland and Elvis Presley. The three costar in "Wild in the Country." And Tuesday's the "wild" of the script.

Tuesday dated Ireland when she was 15. He is 45. Her romance with Presley, 25, came later.

Tuesday became a legend without ever having a role that would make her a full-fledged star.

Why? A psychologist might say timing was responsible. Tuesday, blonde, wild, undisciplined, came on the scene as a teen-age nonconformist at the same time "Lolita" became a controversial but best-selling novel.

Although a few years older than the celebrated nymphet of the book, Tuesday soon was labeled as Hollywood's Lolita. Up until a few weeks before the actual casting of the role to unknown Sue Lyon, it was almost a sure bet that Tuesday would play the part. James Mason, who is playing the middle-aged rove in the movie "Lolita," said of Tuesday: "I can't think of anyone else for the part. She's the only 16-year-old who looks 13 and can act too."

Much of the Weld legend was Tuesday's own making. Other movie-teen-agers had dated older men. Natalie Wood used to go out with Raymond Burr when she was only 17.

Lana Turner, Clara Bow—many of the screen sirens—had romances with older men. But none, at first, got the publicity that Tuesday did when she started dating Ireland.

"I got the worst possible publicity," says Tuesday. "If I hadn't had the performances to follow up the publicity, I would have been dead professionally by now."

That remark points up Tuesday's shrewdness. Early in life she has discovered that Hollywood will forgive anything but bad performances in front of the camera.

Movie Business Is On Upgrade

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Things seem to be looking up in the movie business. Studio streets are busy. Sales executives are getting chipper again.

But the indications of prosperity are not merely in these intangible signs. You can also see it in the hard facts as reported in the trade press.

MGM stepping up production to a 13-year high, earnings highest in 12 years. . . 20th-Fox ahead of 1960 in top grossers. . . Paramount invests $214 million in nine pictures now shooting, $80 million in films in preparation. . . Hollywood payrolls up from $149 to $153 average over previous year. . . Universal-International takes biggest stock jump in 1960. Hollywood studio shortage looms.

Producer chief Eric Johnston has cited a "pervasive optimism" in the film business. He predicted 170 films to be made here in 1961 vs. 120 in strike-torn 1960.

Perhaps the most authoritative sign comes from the U.S. Department of Commerce. It estimated American box office receipts for 1960 at $1.37 billion, 7.5 per cent better than 1959 and the highest figure since 1950. And the department estimated that 1961 receipts will be even higher.

The box offices have been clicking nicely in the first month of 1961. Even the high-cost epics "Spartacus" and "The Alamo," which the critics handers said would be heavy losses, appear to be prospering.

Why is business better? I asked 20th-Fox production boss Bob Goldstein, whose studio is humming with its biggest activity in years.

"There's a new attitude in Hollywood," he said. "We have found out that we can get the people out of their homes—if we give them enough incentive. It's entirely up to us now. If we give them enough good attractions, we'll do business."

"We're competing in the open market for the entertainment dollar. Television is a big competitor. It was great for the man who works all day and likes nothing better than to take off his shoes and sit in front of the TV set. . . But there's his wife to consider. She has been home all day and wants to get out. If we can give her enough ammunition to get her husband out of the easy chair, they'll go to the theater. Apparently we're doing just that."

Goldstein speculated that many Americans have grown disenchanted with the sameness of TV and are seeking more varied entertainment in theaters. Whatever the reason, Hollywood is enjoying a lift in morale that it hasn't known in years.

FOUR STARS IN DRAMA—Jack Kelly, the ambitious prosecuting attorney, makes a point to Efrim Zimbaldist, Jr., the judge presiding over the murder trial, as Don Ameche, a U. S. ## Oscar Fever On Annual Rampage

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Strange things are happening in Hollywood at this time of year.

The studios are giving away free movie tickets. Months-old movies are turning up in first-run theaters. Stars considered unapproachable are out cutting ribbons and doing anything to get themselves in print.

The cause for this strange behavior? Oscar fever, which infects the community every year at this time.

Ballots for the major Academy awards will be mailed to voters this week. That means the fever will be reaching its primary, or ignition, stage. The peak will come in March, when final balloting takes place.

These are times that gladden the hearts of all trade paper ad salesmen. Every morning when Estimates open the daily Variety or Hollywood Reporter, they are greeted with little reminders—at approximately $300 a page.

There is Alfred Hitchcock's pudgy figure reminding folks not to forget "Psycho." Academy members are urged to call up for free tickets to "Spartacus." There is Shirley Jones in a slip to recall her work as Lulu in "Elmer Gantry."

"Oscar-wise . . ." begins the daily ad for "The Apartment." Read what the critics said about Greer Garson in "Sunrise at Campobello." Here are two pages with 100 quotes about "The Alamo." And don't forget Milton Berle in "Let's Make Love."

This cannonading continues for weeks, with a vast expenditure. Estimates of an Academy campaign for a single picture range from $10,000 to $35,000.

How is an Oscar campaign run? The obvious device are the trade paper ads. Other means:

1. Secure a list of Academy members—the academy won't give it out, but lists are bootlegged. Invite them to special screenings.
2. Arrange for a picture to be reshown at a local theater.
3. Place posters around the studio to remind local employees.
4. Keep the stars in the public eye via press and TV.

Why all the effort and expense to court Oscar? Much of it is to salvage eggs. But hard economics figure in the campaigns, too. A rule of thumb says that an Academy Award can increase a film's earnings from a half-million to a million, according to those thumb you use.

Research Projects Moving To A&M

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Two major industrial groups plan to move some of their research projects to Texas A&M from Carnegie Tech. Earl Rudder, the college president, said Saturday.

The American Petroleum Institute and the Manufacturing Chemists Association will move their research programs on physical and thermodynamic properties of hydrocarbons and other chemical compounds to the campus about April 1.

A staff of about 15 will work on the projects.

182 New Oil Wells Completed In Week

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission said Saturday drillers brought in 182 oil and 63 gas wells last week.

This year 903 oil and 258 gas wells have been drilled compared with 859 and 196 a year ago. Wildcaters completed 5 gas and 11 oil wells.

Some 193 wells were plugged during the week, bringing the year total to 846 compared with 969 a year ago.

The daily oil allowable decreased 72,192 barrels to 2,770,734.

Come Always Gets Smooth Show Ready

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the mysteries of television is the way, week after week, Perry Como and his staff manage to turn out a smooth, tuneful and imaginative program. Almost any Wednesday the Como program proves more entertaining and better organized than the highly exploited special one-shot variety shows.

Wednesday night's Como show was no exception. His guests were singer Harry Belafonte and comedian Buddy Hackett. Each is a talented performer in his field, yet they are a difficult pair to blend into a well-knit show. But Como pulled it off.

Perhaps one of the secrets is that each program is based on an idea—often a fairly fragile one—but enough to give the hour form and substance. Wednesday night's, for instance, was a "stag show"—no women.

The camera work is always fine. Wednesday night's shots of Belafonte singing were so close one could see the pores of his skin and it was most effective. The sets are always clean and beautifully designed. Como sets a pleasant, even pace. And the program is always in good taste.

NBC's twin specials on Tuesday night—Bobby Darin followed by Jack Paar—knocked off the network opposition, according to an ARB over-night audience rating. Red Skelton and Garry Moore, usually top men in their time periods, were pushed into second places, a most unusual turn of events.

The die is apparently cast as far as the format of the future Jackie Gleason show is concerned. The program will be live Friday night, and Jackie will pull up a chair and chat with viewers—and with a name guest, if a likely one can be signed up. The four panel members of the first unfortunate game-show deal is all off.

Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, for years the voices of radio's classic "Amos 'n Andy," will be heard again in a fall cartoon series scheduled for the ABC lineup. Gosden and Correll will be the voices of a bear and a fox in "Calvin and the Colonel."

CHOIR CAPTAINS CONFER—Tallying up the magazine subscription lists in the choir-bond drive for funds to finance the spring music festival trip, are general chairman Ginny Sims (seated) and choir captains (from left) Joe Fowler, Judy Wallace, and Keitha Walton. The magazine drive will run through Tuesday.

Baptists Set For Session

FORT WORTH (AP)—Texas Baptist leaders meet here Feb. 6-7 to discuss the problems of divorce, planned parenthood and pastoral counseling.

Nearly 500 key Baptist leaders are expected to attend the workshop, the first Baptist meeting of its kind to discuss the theological aspects of complex modern family problems.

Dr. Jimmy Allen, director of the Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission, which is directing the conference, said that he hopes the workshop will clear away some four days.

The pre-lenten fiesta includes several grand parades, street dances, carnivals, grand balls and many other events which is expected to attract thousands from all over South Texas and northern Mexico.

In Mexico they call it "Fiesta del Charro" and across the Rio Grande it's "Charro Days Fiesta." Activities will be split between Brownsville and Matamoros.

Acceptance of the idea of planned parenthood...

...would give us the opportunity to discuss these problems in search for solutions.

Charro Days To Begin Thursday

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—International Charro Days, the "Mardi Gras" of the border, opens here and at Matamoros Thursday for several days.

In Mexico they call it "Fiesta del Charro" and across the Rio Grande it's "Charro Days Fiesta." Activities will be split between Brownsville and Matamoros.

Agency Sold By Holcombs

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Holcomb have announced the sale of Holcomb Insurance Agency here to Joe W. Sentell.

Sentell recently became associated with the agency after returning to Snyder following military service.

Sentell said the firm will continue to operate at the same location in the Brownfield Building, and that the staff would remain unchanged. Both Tony and Maude Holcomb will continue with the agency as solicitors, and Mrs. Margaret Ostreich will continue as secretary for the firm.

Sentell said the firm will now be known as Joe W. Sentell Insurance Agency, and that policies issued through the Holcomb Insurance Agency will be serviced as they have been in the past.

Pair Sentenced In Theft Here

Carl Wells and Ray Wampler, both 18, pleaded guilty in county court Saturday to a charge of stealing a tire and Chevrolet wheel and received 60 to 20 day jail sentences, respectively.

The youths are at present serving sentences imposed a week ago for theft of a tire and a Ford wheel.

Kennedy Plan Debated On Party Lines

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders disagreed Saturday on the effect President Kennedy's anti-recession program will have on the economy.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he thinks an expansion of unemployment benefits, early payment of veterans insurance dividends and action to aid distressed areas will have an immediate uplifting effect.

"The President is watching the situation closely and if there are not definite signs of an upturn in 15 days he will propose additional measures," Mansfield said.

There has been speculation Kenedy might propose a temporary tax cut in that event.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview he thinks the Kennedy program "is bound to be slow moving."

Moreover, Dirksen said Republicans remain to be convinced that the administration justify its estimates," Dirksen said.

"If Republicans can help it, we're not going to extremes because of the President's allegation that the situation is black. He'll have to prove it."

The Kennedy administration will start moving Monday on one element of its anti-recession program—a bill to provide funds for emergency extension of unemployment benefits for workers who have used up their rights.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee will introduce that bill and a companion measure to make payments available to the children of unemployed parents. Such benefits now go to orphans and children who have been deserted.

Added unemployment benefits would be provided for up to 13 weeks. If all states participate, the administration has estimated the maximum cost would be $850 million.

Dirksen questioned whether Kennedy's actions to ease credit and to pump additional cash into the economy will result in any immediate substantial increase in business activity.

He said an increase in savings from $18.9 billion in 1952 to $29.2 billion in 1960 indicates some of this money will find its way into bank accounts rather than being used to buy goods and services.

Dirksen said Kennedy's action in ordering a reduction of interest rates on government-insured housing mortgages could have an adverse effect if capital flows abroad to get higher rates.

Three Youths Being Held In Slaying

LUFKIN (AP)—Three teenagers accused of killing a younger boy who squaled on them, were remanded to jail Saturday on murder charges.

Justice of Peace R. C. Arnett denied bond to the three, accused of killing a junior high school honor student, Jackie Ray Merriman, 14, with a rifle inside this East Texas city last Sunday. The four boys were hunting, the survivors said.

Arrested on the murder charges were:

James Sharp Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp.

Robert Rothrock, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jakes Rothrock.

Eddie Kimble, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kimble.

A celebrated Houston criminal lawyer, Percy Foreman, filed pleas for writs of habeas corpus with Dist. Judge James Moore, seeking release of the teen-agers.

Tuesday, Foreman entered pleas of innocent for all three teenagers.

Lufkin officers said the teenagers had quarreled with Merriman and accused him of telling their parents when they left their homes without permission.

Kimble took the boys to Houston Friday for talks with Foreman. The lawyer surrendered the boys to Sheriff Leon Jones of Lufkin. Earlier, parents had refused to allow officers to talk to their sons.

Officers said the jailed boys laughed and talked in jail, "just like they were in school." He said they showed no concern about the murder charges.

Rothrock's father works for a pipeline company. The other two fathers work for a foundry.

Mothers March Here Nets Over $500

Tabulations show a total of $547.56 collected for the March of Dimes here during the "Mothers March."

The Mothers March, one of the major activities conducted each year in behalf of the March of Dimes, was conducted here last Tuesday night.

Pageant To Recall Feat Of Rangers

By JOE BENHAM
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Two months before the Civil War began, a group of former Texas Rangers captured every Yankee soldier in Texas without firing a shot.

Descendants of some of the men involved will join the United Daughters of the Confederacy and other San Antonio citizens Feb. 16 in re-enacting and commemorating the 100th anniversary of the surrender.

Maj. Gen. David Twiggs, a Georgia-born soldier who became a hero of the Mexican War, signed over the 2,300 U.S. troops and more than $1 million worth of ordnance in Texas after Maj. Ben McCulloch and about 300 volunteers—many of them fresh from a buffalo hunt—rode threateningly up and down the city's military plaza.

McCulloch had been a captain of the Texas Rangers until the state seceded at a bitterness-tinged convention early in 1861. He and the Rangers then became the nucleus of the Confederate volunteers.

The convention, held in Austin, named Samuel Maverick, P. N. Luckett and Judge Thomas Devine as Confederate Commissioners of Public Safety to take over federal posts and equipment. Most of the troops in Texas were in frontier forts set up to defend settlers against Indians. Twiggs' command, included 168 men in San Antonio.

Their surrender was on behalf of all U.S. soldiers in the state. Jim Maverick, a descendant of Samuel Maverick, will portray his kinsman at the pageant.

A bronze plaque noting the anniversary will be unveiled.

Southwestern To Buy Atlantic Life

Southwestern Life Insurance Company of Dallas has contracted to buy substantially all of the capital stock of Atlantic Life Insurance Company of Richmond, Virginia, from Life Companies, Incorporated, also of Richmond, in what is termed one of the largest transactions in insurance history.

The $29,000,000 purchase, subject to approval of the stockholders of Life Companies and the insurance commissioners of Texas and Virginia, was jointly announced by John D. Murchison, Life Companies president; J. Ralph Wood, Southwestern Life president, and R. V. Hatcher, Atlantic Life president.

Southwestern Life President Wood stated that the purchase of Atlantic Life was a milestone in his own company's history, being the first company purchased by Southwestern since 1915. He lauded the management and personnel of Atlantic Life for the fine company they had built.

"We look forward with pleasure to our new partnership with the management team, agency and employees of Atlantic Life and believe that the amalgamation of the two companies will result in a stronger organization permitting increased services to our joint policy-owners and the insuring public," Wood said.

"It is our present intention that the operations of Atlantic Life will continue under its present management and agents without material changes," he added. Upon consummation of the transaction, the officers and staff of Atlantic Life will become a part of the official family and staff of Southwestern Life. Hatcher, Atlantic Life president, will become a member of the Board of Southwestern Life, Wood said.

Southwestern Life was founded in 1903 and Atlantic Life in 1900. Both companies have achieved the highest rating possible in "Best's Life Insurance Reports," which is considered the highest authoritative source in insurance company analysis and reporting services. More than 99 per cent of the stock of Atlantic Life is owned by Life Companies.

Presently, Southwestern Life has more than $2,100,000,000 of insurance in force and Atlantic Life has in excess of $500,000,000. Assets of Southwestern at the end of 1960 were more than $500,000,000 while those of Atlantic totaled more than $100,000,000.

STYLE SHOW—The Cosmorama Club will sponsor a style show entitled "Prelude To Spring" at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, February 25 at 3 p.m. The show will take on a new aire from the regular style shows having been presented here in the past. Individual tables will be used for guests and models will mingle around giving the audience an opportunity to see the costumes more thoroughly. Pictured above from left are Mrs. Jack Bowden, Mrs. W. W. Park, president of the Cosmorama Club and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell Jr. coordinator, making final plans for the event.

SCHEDULE COMPLETE—The flower show committee chairmen of the Twilight Garden Club met this week and completed the schedule titled "Flowers By The Hours." Having had a little peek at the schedule, it sounds very colorful and unusual. Pictured above from

CLUB MEMBERS—Members of various clubs participating in the Martha Ann Woman's Club met recently to start the ball rolling for the "Snyder Follies of 1961" to be presented here April 14 and 15. The last presentation of this kind was such a success it has been decided to give the people of Snyder another one. Pictured above from left are Mrs. Ophelia Blackard, Mrs. Scott Casey, Mrs. Prentiss Bass, Mrs. Thomas Hartley, Mrs. Tim Dennis, Mrs. Wiley Brice, Mrs. R. E. Patterson, Mrs. Billy Smith, Mrs. Gene Dulaney and standing Mrs. J. R. Huckabee, president of the Martha Ann Club.

Library Notes

FEBRUARY — the month of Groundhog Day, Boy Scout Week, St. Valentine's Day, Negro History Week, Brotherhood Week, and birthdays of Charles Dickens, Babe Ruth, Abraham Lincoln, George Washington and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. In whatever area your interest lies, remember to check in your library for further information. For instance, did you know that the custom of observing weather on Feb. 2 to predict the future weather was brought to America by immigrants from Great Britain and Germany, or that in Germany it was the badger who broke its hibernation to observe the skies? And did you know that it was on Feb. 19, 1878, that Thomas Edison secured patent no.

More Adult 4-H Leaders Needed Here

Scurry County is in need of a number of adult leaders to work with 4-H Club groups. Any 4-H club mother or other adult interested is invited to discuss with Miss Ruby Butts, County Home Demonstration Agent, the possibility of serving in this capacity.

"No more rewarding task can be imagined than that of serving as a leader for a group of growing youngsters in this and other youth programs" she said.

Texas Extension Service is developing a series of "Subject Matter" books in food, clothing and money management especially, that are a great deal of help in working as an adult leader in 4-H. The ideal conditions under which to use these booklets is with about five club members and an adult leader meeting with the group meeting usually in the leaders home or in another convenient location where equipment is available. The food books are set up for the members to actually do the food preparation themselves under the supervision of the adult leader. The leaders guide that goes with each set of books offers suggestions for how to direct the meeting to see that the girls get the information intended. This is the best help Extension Service has ever offered its adult leaders.

"Would you like a very satisfying experience in working with youth? Leaders are needed in every community in Scurry County, including Snyder. Why not give it a try yourself?" Miss Butts said.

300,521 on a "phonograph or speaking machine"?

As for February, 1961, many new books will appear on the shelves of Scurry County Library, including Shiraz's "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich." This best-seller has been written by a man who combines the unique personal experience of a top foreign correspondent with the scholarly research of the historian. The student will find Robert Merten's "Amphibians and Reptiles" a rich adventure in exploration and discovery into the lives and habits of the two great classes of vertebrates. House & Garden's Complete guide to "Interior Decoration" is a practical and authoritative encyclopedia of ideas for decorating rooms of all types and periods.

If you haven't read Vance Packard's "The Wastemakers," ask for a reservation; it has had quite a waiting list. Another you may have to wait for is Jean Kerr's "The Snake Has All the Lines."

You won't have to wait to read a daily paper. This year your library has daily editions of the Snyder Daily News, The Lubbock Avalanche Journal, San Angelo Standard Times, Abilene Reporter, Dallas Morning News and Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Patrons of the record library will find a large selection of new recordings available within the next few days. These additions include Hayden's Symphonies No. 99, 102, 103, 104, 100, and 101; Puccini's "La Boheme"; Mozart's "Requiem Mass"; Concertos by Beethoven and Khachaturian; and Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci."

Youngsters will be interested in "The American Speller," Barbara Cooney's adaptation of Noah Webster's "Blue-Backed Speller" for Speller" is part of the American heritage. Before it went out of general use, more than one hundred million copies of it were sold. With the Bible it crossed the Alleghenies to the West, to be used in the homes and schoolrooms of a new and struggling country.

The memory of a man who contributed much to the Scurry County heritage, Judge Henry J. Brice, has been honored by the presentation of lovely new editions to the Scurry County Library. Selections such as "Frederic Remington's Old West," Fenichel's "The UN: Design for Peace," Morris' "Great Presidential Decisions"; Roosevelt's "The Free Citizen"; and a volume of "The Gardening Encyclopedia" reflect his heritage, his work, and his interests.

The Gardeners Corner

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newscaster

THOSE HARBINGERS of spring—seed catalogues—are on their way to your home. Some already have arrived at my door with their tidings of what is new in the garden world.

One seed merchant reports that the mailman will plant three million of his catalogues in your mail boxes long before it is time to put a seed in northern ground. This catalogue has 28 color pages to illustrate what he hopes will give you technical dreams of beautiful flowers.

We've already told you about some of the new flower and vegetable seeds available and some of the old standbys. But each new catalogue brings news of others.

We'd like to pass the word along about some of them. Do you like mums? There are three new All-America Selections for 1961 to add long-lasting fall blooms.

One is "Her Majesty," a white flower with creamy yellow center. "Her Majesty" is the first All-America mum originated by an amateur, Mrs. Grace Mack, who is a busy New Canaan, Conn., housewife.

"Bingo" is a rich red cushion mum of mounded plants 15-18 inches tall. It will bloom from September until heavy frost. The third is "Apricot Sheen," another low variety described as butterscotch yellow and also a September-to-frost bloomer.

There are many new gladiolus. A dozen of them are:

Landmark, ruffled, large-spiked, cream; Joyous, big, ruffled florets of velvety rose with lips of deeper rose; Maxime, ruffled, pink with white throat; Royal Stewart, light red with 5-inch florets; Appleblossom, predominantly white with light cream throat and pink edges; Sparkler, a bright combination of yellow and red; Emperor, purple-trimmed with white; Caribbean, an unusual blue-violet with deeper violet throat and cream spear; Rusty, the first smoky variety to win an All-America award; Gypsy Dancer, scarlet with a yellow sunburst; China Blue, a blue-violet, and Litty Pansy, a miniature in light violet with deep blue splashes.

Two new roses that have come to our attention are Americana, a brilliant velvety red hybrid tea, an offspring of the beautiful New Yorker Americana was chosen as the 1961 rose of the year by a home-rose testing panel of one of the biggest rose growers.

A pink rose likely to be popular is Nobility, a hybrid tea seedling of delightful Peace.

Snyder Unit To Observe Beauty Week

The 11th anniversary of National Beauty Salon Week is being observed during the week of Feb. 12-18, 1961, by members of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association in Texas, and in this city, as well as throughout the nation.

This national professional association for cosmetologists established in 1921 to further the high standards of professional beauty care, dedicates this week to more beautiful women.

The members of this association continue to conduct extensive public service programs, donating of their time and talents to give professional beauty care to people in hospitals, homes for the aged and orphaned, and institutions, thereby contributing to the physical and mental well-being of people in such places.

Sherman Lollar of the Chicago White Sox led American League catchers in fielding last season. He made only tree errors.

Book News

The idea of an American Novel edited by Louis D. Rubin, Jr., and John R. Moore, will be published on February 8.

This book brings together for the first time the best writings on the American novel in one compact and readable volume. It includes critical and appreciative selections from the great novelists themselves: Nathaniel Hawthorne, William Dean Howells, Theodore Dreiser, William Faulkner, and many others. Here also are the most pertinent papers of critics and commentators, including selections from The American Scholar by Ralph Waldo Emerson, Literary Consequences of the Crash by Edmund Wilson, and The American Novel and Its Tradition by Richard Chase. In addition there are unfamiliar opinions of familiar authors: Mark Twain, Hemingway, Faulkner.

The idea of an American Novel will provide every reader with a new insight into American novels and their authors.

Heaviest player in the National Hockey League is Elmer Moose Vasko of the Chicago Black Hawks. He weighs 210 pounds.

Wanda Jean Davis Becomes Bride Of Mike L. Stipe

Wanda Jean Davis became the bride of Michael L. Stipe in services held Jan. 30, at 3 p.m. in the home of the brides parents.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Willie W. Davis, 211 Paso Natural Gas Camp, and Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Stipe, Arak Route.

C. Dale Brooks, pastor of the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ read the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bone colored suit with matching accessories. Her bridal flowers were white gardenias.

Janice White, cousin of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a pink sheath wool jersey dress with pink rose corsage.

Anthony Brooks of Kress, served his cousin as best man.

A reception was held in the home. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of pink roses. Mrs. Robert Houk presided at the three-tiered wedding cake that was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Immediately following the services the couple left for a short wedding trip to Ruidoso. They are at home northwest of Snyder where Mr. Stipe is engaged in farming.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School and attended

Draught's Business College, Lubbock. Mr. Stipe graduated from Snyder high school and Draught's Electronic College, Lubbock.
Out-of-town guests were from Dallas, Fort Worth, Paint Rock and Kress.

Likes Washing

Former heavyweight champ Jack Dempsey was plenty tough in the fight ring, but his early home life was a totally different kind of story.
Devoted to his mother, he frequently helped her with the washing when he was a boy. What's more, Jack says he enjoyed it!

BISCUITS

Tonight for dinner — "bake up a biscuit." You'll have to go a long way to find a more tempting treat than a light, tender, golden-brown biscuit, hot from the oven, with a generous pat of butter or margarine melting over its creamy white inside. Biscuits have an unbeatable flavor, and prepared with enriched flour, they have nutritional benefits that make them even more attractive. Full of health-giving iron and B-vitamins and unmatched flavor, freshly baked biscuits belong in your daily diet.

For Entertaining

Savory pastry for chicken or meat pies, Cornish pastries, and appetizers make party fare out of everyday food. Add 1 teaspoon celery seeds, 1/4 teaspoon paprika and 2 tablespoons chopped parsley to the flour for a crust pie. For best results, remember to preheat the oven to 425 degrees before baking. This prevents a soggy crust and insures flakiness.

Bone Dry, Too Dry

Homemakers who complain about stubborn wrinkles, harshness and stiffness in dryer-dried clothes are over-drying. Home economists recommend that clothing be removed from the clothes dryer while a touch of moisture still clings to the fibers. Over-drying causes schvages on sheets and table cloths to curl and reduces the absorbency of towels.

Minister To Speak On World Tour

Rev. and Mrs. James L. Christianson of the First Christian Church of San Angelo will speak at a Missions dinner at the First Christian Church here Wednesday, Feb. 8.

Rev. Christianson completed a world tour this last Fall which included 16 different countries and plans to talk about them with the help of slides.

The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. at the Christian Church fellowship hall, where a covered dish supper is planned. Each table will be decorated to depict a different foreign country and each member of the Missions Committee will be responsible for their table. They are Mrs. Charles Hartman, Mrs. Frances Stevenson, Vernon Chapman, Mrs. Pat Carnes, Mrs. Howard Milburn and Mrs. Bill Seaker.

Mrs. Christianson will have the devotional entitled, "In Christ There Is No East or West," followed by the slides and Rev. Christianson's talk on his world tour.

Rev. Christianson, besides being pastor of the San Angelo Church, writes a commentary each week for the Teachers' Quarterly of the Bethany Bible Teacher and holds prominent positions in the United Christian Missionary Society and Texas Convention of Christian Churches.

Rev. and Mrs. Alan C. Lynch will also be honored at the dinner. Rev. Lynch became pastor of the First Christian Church here Feb. 1.

Billie Marie Grupsmith And Jerry McLeod Exchange Vows

The Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ was the setting for the marriage of Billie Marie Grupsmith of Dallas, and Jerry McLeod of Snyder on Friday Jan. 27 at 8 p.m.

Robert E. Williams, assistant minister of the church read the double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grupsmith, Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. McLeod, Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a white waltz-length costume. The fitted bodice of white lace had three-quarter length sleeves. The bouffant skirt was of white chiffon. Her shoulder length veil fell from a pearl studded tiara.

The bridal bouquet was a colonial nosegay of frenched white carnations and candytuft, centered with a white orchid.

Margaret Valentine of Dallas was maid of honor. She wore a gray wool suit with black accessories. She carried a colonial nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and feathered pink carnations accented by streamers of variegated shades of pink satin.

David Pursley of Merkel was best man. Robert McLeod of Abilene and Garth McLeod of Snyder, brothers of the groom were subvers.

The musical program included a tape of the Abilene Christian A Capella Choir "Processional", "Recessional", "Because" and "O Promise Me".

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When you're getting ready to buy a house, it's a good idea to look ahead a few years. It can save you money.

A surprisingly large number of persons who buy new houses decide after one, two or three years that they need more space. Or they want to better utilize the space they already have.

Their decisions are carried out in any one of several ways. It may be the finishing of an attic or a basement, the addition of a second bathroom, enlargement of the kitchen, construction of another bedroom or enclosure of the porch or patio. Sometimes two or three of these projects are undertaken at the same time.

While modern financing methods make it relatively easy to handle such programs, the cost, in nearly all cases, would be considerably less if the work were done while the house was under construction. Since most persons make their choices of new houses from a developer's model home, arrangements can be made with the builder to provide the desired extra space. How much can be saved this way, as contrasted with an addition at a later time, depends on a number of factors. But at least one authority estimates that it costs only half as much per square foot to add space to a home. Which is another way of saying that an addition can be built for what amounts to half price. There are two reasons for this. One is that the labor and materials already are on the scene. The other is that there is no necessity for breaking into walls or making other time-consuming alterations.

Orphan In Kitchen

One criterion for judging a kitchen is the location of the refrigerator. It is often the orphan in the kitchen. Refrigerator doors that swing the wrong way create bottlenecks. The door should open adjacent to a work space, not opposite it. The 1961 refrigerators come with right- and left-hand opening doors. They fit snugly to other appliances and cabinets so there's no need to isolate them.

YEAST ROLLS

If your favorite yeast roll recipe makes more rolls than your family or guests can eat at one time, try freezing the "extras." Prepare and shape the rolls as usual. Then partially bake them for about 8 to 10 minutes. Allow them to cool completely; then place in plastic bags or other airtight freezer containers, seal and place in the freezer. To serve, first allow the rolls to thaw (about 30 minutes at room temperature) then bake in a hot oven (400 F.) for 8 to 10 minutes until golden brown.

owner may find it preferable to delay the expansion. He's the fellow who can and plans to do the work himself. Not only will he save the labor costs that way, but he will get the satisfaction of having contributed something to the individuality of his home. He'd better be sure of two things, however; that he actually will carry out his intentions and that he knows what he is doing.

HOME AGAIN—The same Washington house will be home for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dillon, who switched cabinets.

Phyllis Dillon:

Manages Money At Home

AP Newsfeatures
The wife of a Republican who will be in the new Democratic cabinet, Phyllis Dillon, is delighted that she and her husband will be remaining in Washington.

Since Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon is the new Secretary of the treasury, they will keep the big white house they bought in Washington in 1957. They also have a Florida home at Hobe Sound with pool, tennis court and beach house on the ocean side.

Mrs. Dillon is petite, slim, young looking, and has an air of chic and careful grooming.

She was a popular hostess in Paris when her husband was ambassador to France and has traveled much with him on his state department duties.

Former Hoosier
They have two daughters and four grandchildren — Mrs. Joan Moseley, 26, Paris, who has a daughter, Joan, 6; and Phyllis (Mrs. Mark Collins), 27, of Far Hills, N. J., whose children are Frances S. Mark 4, and Clarence Douglas Dillon, who was born last September.

Mrs. Dillon was born Phyllis Chess Ellsworth in South Bend, Ind., Aug. 3, 1919. She attended various private schools including Rogers Hall in Lowell, Mass., and Miss Porter's in Farmington, Conn., and lived for several years with her family on the north shore, Manchester, Mass., then in Boston.

In Boston she belonged to the Junior League and the Vincent Club.

QUICK DESSERT
Drop - in guests? Nothing for dessert tonight? You can bake your favorite fruit or cream pie quick as a wink when your pastry dough has been premixed, rolled and frozen. Take an hour off some afternoon and prepare several recipes of pastry dough at one time, enough for 6, 8 or more pastry shells. Roll each out to standard 8 or 9 - inch size, and then stack between layers of waxed paper. Wrap the stack of pastry rounds in aluminum foil and seal. Carefully place the package on a flat surface in the freezer.

To use, simply open the foil package and remove one or two pastry rounds. Place the round over the top of the pie pan, and while you are preparing the filling, the pastry will thaw right into the pan. Flute the edge and your pie shell is ready for filling.

REV. AND MRS. ALAN C. LYNCH

First Christian Church Has New Pastor, Reception Today

The First Christian Church on Thirty-seventh Street is honored to have as its new minister the Rev. Alan C. Lynch, who comes to Snyder from the First Christian Church in Breckenridge.

The Christian Women's Fellowship will honor Rev. and Mrs. Lynch with a reception in the home of Mrs. C. C. Miller this afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock, with the complete congregation invited. A Nursery will be provided at the church.

Rev. Lynch attended Randolph Junior College, Texas Technological College, Texas Christian University and Brite College of the Bible. He served as a chaplain in the U. S. Naval Reserve and has served in numerous churches among which are the Second Christian Church, Abilene; First Christian, Plainview; First Christian, Sulphur Springs; and First Christian, Breckenridge.

He has held many positions among the Disciples of Christ having served two terms as President of District 2 and one term as president of District 15. He was Chairman of Resolutions Committee at the Texas Convention twice and was a member of the Committee on Recommendations at the International Convention. He has served as a civic worker in various service clubs in his communities.

Rev. Lynch has moved in the church parsonage, 2712 Thirty-sixth Street with his wife, Mrs. Pearl Elmonson Lynch. They have a daughter, Cynthia, who lives in Midland.

Mrs. Lynch completed three years of college work and is active in the Christian Women's Fellowship and teaches in the children's department of the Sunday school and has attended several laboratory schools. She has taught in Vacation School Institute.

The First Christian Church congregation feels fortunate to have so qualified a couple and from his recommendations they feel he is a good pastor and loves the work of the Lord through the church.

enough to combine yolks and whites; beat in milk enough to combine. Gradually stir or whisk in flour until smooth. Butter 6 individual pie plates (about 5 inches across) generously. Divide batter among plates; they should be half full. Bake in extremely hot (500 degrees) oven 5 minutes; reduce heat to very hot (450 degrees) and continue baking 10 minutes longer or until edges are golden brown. Serve at once in pie plates.

DATE ORANGE SAUCE

1/4 cup honey
1/2 cup grated rind of 1 orange
1/2 cup orange juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter
3/4 cup fresh dates

Heat together gently, stirring occasionally, all ingredients except dates. Pit and quarter dates and add; reheat. Serve warm. Makes 2 cups.

Show Off With Just Little Effort

By CECILY BROWNSTINE
Associated Press Food Editor.

DO YOU like to cook a few interesting meals for your family in a no-chillout way, over the week end? To try something new, but simple to prepare, for Saturday lunch or Sunday supper?

Then choose a recipe with show-off abilities that needs no great production.

An American version of the German pannkuchen, or pancake, is one of these. In its original version it's fried, dinner-plate size, in a large skillet and served with confectioners' sugar and lemon juice. To prepare it in streamlined fashion, make up the simple batter and bake the pancakes in small pie plates. This way they don't have to be turned or watched. No worrying, either, whether the skillet is just the right heat.

Instead of sugar and lemon juice, you can serve the pancakes with a sauce that's a delectable combination of honey, orange, lemon, fresh dates and butter.

If you'd like the pancakes and sauce to take dessert honors, serve a chowder or chef's salad first. But if you prefer a one-course meal, offer the pancakes and their sauce with crisp bacon or good little browned pork sausages plus cottage cheese.

A Rare Revolution In Fiction

Passing Time. By Michel Butor. Translated from French by Jean Stewart.

A young Frenchman, Jacques Revel, takes a job for a year as a clerk in a mercantile establishment in a large English city called Bleston.

This city is described in extraordinary detail; it's so important a part of the story, and more, of the way Butor writes his story, that there is, to supplement the text, an actual map.

The railroad station where he first arrives, in Alexandra Place; Horace Buck's house by the river; Sleaz, Matthews & Sons, where he frequents, Oriental Rose, Oriental Pearl and Oriental Bamboo; the Anchor, where he first lives; the home of the pretty Bailey sisters; Ann and Rose; the News Theater where he sees travelogues, particularly of classical Crete; the museum with its pictorial tapestry record of antique Thebes and his adventures — so significant to Revel himself; the Old Cathedral with its Murderer's Window, about Cain; the two Cathedrals which are, between them, the scenes of the crimes in this novel's interior novel, "The Bleston Murderer"; the home of the murder story's author, George Burton alias J. C. Hamilton; and the home of Revel's fellow clerk, James Jenkins, who owns a black Morris like the one which, driven perhaps by another would-be murderer, tries to run down Burton.

Butor's title is the key not so much to this story as to his method of writing. This is a closely knit series of overlapping experiences; the novel keeps taking one step forward and two back — yet definitely getting somewhere. It runs along at different paces, or as Butor remarks, "one's mental analysis of past events takes place while other events are accumulating." So this is a sort of diary in which you inch along, and at the same time race; or see things superimposed on one another as close as the tip of your nose, at arm's length, and at the end of the street. As an example of this exciting reiteration, you find at the finish that you have put the first copy of "The Bleston Murderer" and the second, and the maps, and the pages of the diary, down on the left-hand corner of Revel's work table just as many times — is it 35, or 50? — as Revel has himself.

This is of course a story of real dramatic power; it is Revel's obsession that Bleston hates and foils him, and he imagines a real murder developing out of a fictional one. But the literary-minded will hail this as one of the few revolutionary innovations in fictional techniques since the fabulously fertile 1920s.

The Detroit Tigers will have their first basement in spring training at Lakeland, Fla. They are Norm Cash, Larry Osborne and Dick Gernert.

Job Opportunities On Rise For Mature Women

If you are a mature woman who is thinking of taking an office job now that the children no longer require your constant care, your prospects are excellent. Never before have there been so many employers who realize the advantages of employing older women.

Assuming that you worked in an office before marriage, you will be surprised by how quickly you will regain your former skills. However, just to give you the confidence you will need when you start job hunting, you may want to take a short refresher course, particularly if you are planning on secretarial work or on a job operating modern business machines.

In job hunting, good grooming is important and good grooming includes more than make-up and dress. For example it is wise to use an oral antiseptic as protection against odor-breeding germs which constantly enter the mouth and multiply with every bite of food and every breath you breathe.

Don't be self-conscious about your age, and don't try to make yourself look 20 when you are closer to 40 or 50. It can't be done and will only hurt your job chances. Choose simple, uncluttered lines. Use make-up, but don't over-use.

Deep Snowfall Gets Warm Mud As Ideal Mulch

Snowfall can be a boon or a bane on the landscape, depending upon you.

Snow is one of the best ground covers, but it also is a menace when heavy loads bow favorite plantings. So if it is up to the home owner to make sure prized trees and shrubs get as much protection against disfigurement as possible.

Snow acts as an insulator, regulating soil temperatures. It also is one of the best means of supplying steady moisture deep down to all plants.

But wet, clinging snow may tax pet boxwood, arborvitae or taxus to the breaking point. Too often branches may be forced to spread. Unhappily, maimed plantings seldom spring back to their original shapes come the Spring. To avoid such home grounds injury, the gardener is urged to tie the branches together with a soft rope or to man his broom after the snow storm.

By gently brushing off the snow from a burdened plant, top to bottom, much of the threat is dissipated.

There's one stage where the home owner is well advised to gamble on natural plant recovery. That's when snow has frozen to the branches. Insect rescue work is likely to cause more damage than letting nature take its course.

Among the best things in life that are free is snow on the home grounds. It's a wonderful supplement to the Fall mulching program. And its blessings outweigh the disadvantages.

Refugee Victims Turn On Tormentors

THE DANCING BEAR. By Edward Schaper. Translated from German by Norman Denny. John Day, $3.75.

"I am 23 years old as I write this, and my name is Oscar Antanas Juris Stopnait. My father was a railway maintenance worker. My mother... was the daughter of a small farmer."

Thus begins a curious tale in a land that was first Lithuania, then Germany, then Russia. This land crushed its people, or exiled them, but few could have had a stranger fate than the one that befell Oscar of Switzerland.

Other refugees must have resembled his parents. The father kept watch dutifully, contentedly, by the tracks. Then he saw the great Nazi military trains steam eastward, saw them later pull back, began finally to hear the guns at the front, lost friends and relatives to Red bombers, and fled with his family. In a real sense life then ended for them. They were torn from a birthplace, and the wrench was fatal, though both went on living perfunctorily, inhabiting hovels, working at odd jobs till death came at last to succor them.

But the boy still might expect to make a home elsewhere. He worked in a hotel, learned of a good place in a resort town, and was on his way when he met photographer Lacia. This gulfed stranger took him on as apprentice, established him amid swarming tourists, and dressed him up as a bear to dance for them and draw them before his camera. But Lacia's deceit foiled itself, dumb animal justice seems promised at the close.

Schaper writes a straightforward narrative in a simple and would stop at nothing to prevent a moral from interfering with his story. But he certainly intends us to ponder on the inscrutable fate that reduces man to brute only to create a Frankenstein. Refugees will not all be victimized, he warns, without occasionally turning on their tormentors.

Presidential Press Parley Grows Since Wilson's Day

By ARTHUR EDSON WASHINGTON (AP)—Possibly no one there that day realized history was being made.

Woodrow Wilson was nervous, embarrassed, and full of righteousness.

Reporters gathered around him were willing to listen, but probably were unwilling to be impressed, especially since Wilson's little lecture dealt with how they should run their business.

"I feel that a large part of the success of public affairs," Wilson said, "depends on the newspaper men—not so much on the editorial writers, because we can live down what they say, as upon the news writers, because the news is the atmosphere of public affairs."

Unless you get the right setting to affairs—disperse the impression—things go wrong. If you play up the differences of opinion and predict difficulties you are impeding public business.

Thus, on March 15, 1913, a political institution was born.

Woodrow Wilson had invented presidential news conferences.

Until Dwight D. Eisenhower, with rare exceptions, the president was never directly quoted. Sometimes he wasn't even identified. "A high White House source disclosed today," a news story might begin, leaving the reader to guess how high the source might be.

But Eisenhower, advised by his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, made major changes.

Photographers were allowed to shoot away throughout the conference. Once the transcript of what Eisenhower had said was checked for any real blunders, it was released to reporters for direct quotation, with the words tumbling and stumbling every which way, just as Eisenhower had said them.

Now President Kennedy, ignoring some strong suggestions that the conferences should be restricted rather than expanded, has taken another step—and even his friends admit it could be a risky one.

Kennedy plans to continue his policy of live broadcasts, both television and radio, for all news conferences.

"Now it's on the record, instantly, for all the world to see."

"Do you feel there is any risk?" Kennedy was asked at his first news conference.

Kennedy didn't answer directly. He merely said that Eisenhower spoke on the record, too, and that he thinks the country's interests are as well protected under this system.

Yet despite the presidential disclaimer, it's still a daring move.

All presidents have dealt with the press, of course, but only in the last half century have there been regular question-and-answer sessions with newsmen.

Only at a news conference can a president be asked in person why he allowed, or did not allow, certain things to happen. If the reporters do their work conscientiously, the public's rights can be protected.

Yet if this is true, democracy's effectiveness hangs by a slender thread. For news conferences have no legal support. They are strictly the whim of the president. He can meet with reporters as often, or as seldom, as he cares to under whatever ground rules he wants.

Yet news conferences are so well established, and they can be used so much to his advantage, that each president on entering office usually announces he plans to meet frequently with his good friends, the newsmen.

But a president's honeymoon is soon over. Certainly Wilson, who began by saying he wanted to make friends of the press, never succeeded. He was suspicious of most newspapers, especially when they tried to guess what course he might take.

Whatever else history may say about Warren G. Harding, as a newspaper man himself—he was publisher of the Marion (Ohio) Star—he understood and liked newsmen.

He not only restored news conferences; he also put them on a two-a-week schedule.

But as Harding blundered in his appointments, so did he blunder with reporters.

His classic error came after a Four-Power Treaty session when he blurted out an off-the-cuff answer that was completely wrong, with international complications.

Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover wanted their questions written. But writing a question didn't mean you'd get an answer.

Coolidge ducked so many that reporters finally ganged up on him. Each wrote out precisely the same question, glanced at it, and discarded it in turn.

Since texts of the conferences were printed, and since portions appeared in news reels and on television, here was an excellent opportunity for those addicted to self-advertisement.

Cats Aiding In Tests Of Drug Effects

SHREWSBURY, Mass. (AP)—The cat stares balefully straight ahead, its mind muddled by a drug that gives humans hallucinations.

Now the scientist shines a dot of light in the cat's eyes—and sensitive wires measure the reaction in the cat's brain.

Bit by bit the evidence comes in—as scientists search for some clue to the strange world of the mentally ill.

What does the cat actually see? Has the drug narrowed the world that the cat lives in?

The answers are unknown—and may never be known. But the odd fact exists that cats given the hallucination-producing drugs are more limited in their sensory experience than un-drugged cats.

In humans the same hallucination-producing drugs, LSD-25 and mescaline, produce temporarily some of the symptoms of mental illness.

Dr. Werner Koella of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, is trying to find out why.

Unfortunately the animals he works with cannot tell him what they see. So Dr. Koella must be careful about what he infers from his experiments. But he has shown that the drugged cats receive a less variable electrical message from light shone in their eyes than do the un-drugged cats.

This leads to an interesting comparison with the experiments on sensory deprivation." Dr. Koella says. When persons are shut-up in darkened, soundless rooms, and are immobilized, they too begin to see and sometimes hear hallucinations.

So both sensory deprivation and the hallucination-producing drugs seem to induce these symptoms of mental illness.

But this is merely one approach to the problem. Other Worcester scientists are pursuing an elusive element in the blood of mentally ill persons—a blood element that hampers a rat's ability to climb a rope when the human blood fraction is injected into the rat's bloodstream.

It may mean that in the blood of psychotic mental patients, there is some intoxicating factor that bars their way to reality.

Several years ago, Tulane University researchers reported finding a substance in the blood of schizophrenic patients—a blood split or detached from reality—that caused passing mental symptoms in normal persons injected with it.

No one has been able to duplicate their work exactly. But several research teams have followed their lead with some interesting results.

A highly unstable element from the protein part of blood has been isolated by the Worcester group and researchers from the Protein Foundation, Boston. It may be the same as that discovered by the Tulane researchers.

But oddly enough, this substance can be found in the blood of normal persons too—and it is even more active when taken from the blood of other mentally ill persons who are not schizophrenic.

All of this work—by four independent research teams—doesn't prove that a maverick blood element causes mental illness.

But it is a step toward proving that some chemical disturbance is the cause—whether some fault in a person's genetic background, or a mistake in the body's use of hormones, or some other chemical error.

Younger Men Advancing At All Levels

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
Associated Press Writer

"Let the world go by from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century."

In his inaugural address President Kennedy called attention to the new look in American government—the look of youth. Kennedy, at 43 the youngest man ever elected president, has surrounded himself with young men.

But this trend goes beyond the White House. Throughout the nation younger men are being sent to Congress, to gubernatorial offices, and to legislatures.

Why is the younger set coming to the fore?

Some of the young public servants, reached in a survey by The Associated Press, have ideas. The ideas vary, but generally these men do not feel the young Turks are taking full command.

"I think there is a definite trend toward younger officials, and I think the older folks approve," said the new governor of Kansas, John Anderson Jr., 43. "Probably it is because of the great complexity of a major office today—it takes a person of energy and stamina to handle it."

Gov. Grant Sawyer, 41, of Nevada suggested, "Demands of campaigning and demands of just holding office—physical demands—are such that mature youth has to be considered."

"There is a greater interest in politics among young people," said Alabama governor, John Patterson, 39. "Modern means of communication and more education are bringing this about."

Iowa's new governor, Norman Erbe, 41, said the rising generation of politicians is "bringing fresh ideas and vigor to government," and offering "a new approach to problems."

C. William O'Neill, 44, former governor who has been elected to Ohio's Supreme Court, suggested, "TV has put the emphasis on candidates who are physically attractive and whose personality is projected well. Young candidates fit into this situation well. However, in no sense is it a monopoly."

Edward J. McCormack Jr., 37, attorney general of Massachusetts took a panoramic view: "Today, in almost all fields of endeavor—business, science, medicine, engineering, education—as well as politics," he said, "we find that young people are playing a greater role and are sharing in the making of more important decisions than ever before."

Start looking for these young people and you stumble over them.

The President's Cabinet, which has an average age of 47, includes Attorney General Robert Kennedy, 35; Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, 40; Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, 42; and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, 44.

Others on the Kennedy team include special counsel Theodore Sorensen, 32; press secretary Pierre Salinger, 35; George S. McGovern, 38, administrator of the food-for-peace program, and presidential assistant Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., 43.

Glaborse de Borda Pell, 41, a Newport blueblood, was elected to the Rhode Island seat vacated by Theodore Francis Green, 93, the oldest man ever to sit in the U.S. Senate.

Clark MacGregor, 38, a Minneapolis attorney, ousted Rep. Roy W. Wier, 72, who had represented Minnesota's 3rd District in Congress for six terms.

Tom Adams, 43, Florida's new secretary of state. The old one, R. A. Gray, decided to step out at 78 after 30 years in the office.

Three of the four freshman congressmen from Kansas are in their 30s—Robert P. Ellsworth, Robert A. Dole, 36, and Walter McVey, 38.

Among their colleagues, new or old, in the House in Washington are Richard H. Ichord, 34, of Missouri; James F. Batta, 35, of Montana; Ralph Harding, 31, of Idaho; Melvin Laird, 38, of Wisconsin; Fernand St. Germain, 32, of Rhode Island; David N. Henderson, 39, of North Carolina and Peter A. Garland, 37, of Maine.

In the circle of governors newcomers John B. Swainson, 35, of Michigan; William Guy, 41, of North Dakota; Terry Sanford, 43, of North Carolina; and Donald Nutter, 45, of Montana will join such old heads as J. Howard Edmondson, 35, of Oklahoma; Mark Hatfield, 38, of Oregon; John H. Reed, 39, of Maine; and Gaylord Nelson, 44, of Wisconsin.

Did these fellows rise fast or start young?

A study of their brief careers shows that, by and large, they served apprenticeships in party, city, county, state or legislative positions.

Perhaps the pendulum of politics may be swinging back to the point where it started.

At the constitutional convention in 1787 the average age of the delegates was 42. Thomas Jefferson drafted the Declaration of Independence at 33. Alexander Hamilton was 32 when he became the first secretary of the treasury.

Strippers In Rome Strike

ROME (AP)—Stripping strippers stomp Rome's sole strip show today.

They were striking against a police order saying they had to take it off offstage.

The strippers claim they have the right to undress where they please.

The police said it was all right to appear on the stage undressed—wearing, of course, the few strategic patches required by Italian law. But the police said the clothes had to be shed backstage.

Officers served the order Thursday night at the end of the first of two nightly shows at the Arlecchino Theater. Rome's only showplace devoted entirely to burlesque. The dancers refused to go on with the second show.

Patrons were told today that the show had been suspended until there's a strip strike settlement.

Texan Sentenced In Des Moines Holdups

DES MOINES (AP)—Earl Edward Thompson, 26, a former convict from Wichita Falls, Tex., was sentenced to 25 years in prison Thursday after pleading guilty to charges of holding up two service stations.

County Atty. John McDonald said he planned to file a murder charge against Thompson in the shooting of Joe Dickson Jr., 16, the youth caught Thompson stealing the Dickson car Tuesday night and was abducted. He was driven to a rural road, shot twice and left dead in a ditch.

The two robberies followed the shooting.

Future Of Laos Left Up To United States

By ROY ESSOYAN
 VIENTIANE (AP)—The future of Laos, both Laotians and Westerners here agree, depends on the United States.
 It is generally accepted that the Soviet Union and Laos' Communist neighbors, Red China and North Viet Nam, will continue to block, hamper and threaten the U. S. role here. But they're not expected to move overtly and the decision between peace, war, or whatever can be fashioned in between, rests on the United States.
 For Laos is easily one of the world's most dependent countries, dependent almost entirely on the United States.

dom in the heart of Southeast Asia, has committed itself deeply in Laos.
 Because of spreading civil war the economic scope of U. S. aid is shrinking. But the United States maintains a 162-man task force of "military men in multi" attached to the Program Evaluation Office (PEO) under the U. S. Operations Mission (USOM).
 These men, dressed usually in slacks and short shirts, are all either temporarily detached or returned from the U. S. armed forces.
 They train Lao soldiers in the use and maintenance of American weapons. Under the Geneva agreement they cannot teach military tactics. They are in multi because the Geneva agreement bars U. S. forces here.

 The role of the PEO men in Laos is touchy.
 The Communists denounce them as American aggressors. Britain and France, who prefer a more neutral Western approach to a Laotian solution, have reportedly expressed fears the PEO may be overstepping the bounds of the Geneva agreement.
 U. S. officials here deny this heatedly. But the charge seems generally accepted by other nations.
 Sixty-six PEO men are stationed in eight field teams around the country.
 Caught in the ebb and flow of the swirling civil war and with the Laotians leaning as heavily as they do on the Americans, the line between friendly and international legal advice would be hard to define.
 The Central Intelligence Agency maintains operatives here, too, but as with all intelligence operations their number, activities and degree of influence are clouded in secrecy.
 Their main job is the collection of intelligence. Their critics charge they also try to influence policy.
 Another delicate aspect of the U. S. role in Laos is the amount of American military equipment that has fallen into the hands of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels, who have been harassing the government for the better part of a decade.

"Laos is not even a country," a leading Lao said. "It exists only because of the United States and because of U. S. aid and support."
 Since 1954 when the Geneva agreement ended the Indochina war, the United States has poured $310 million into Laos, 85 per cent of it for the Laotian army, the police force and financial support of the Laotian civil budget.
 The army is equipped, trained, paid and even fed by the United States. Uncle Sam covers 85 per cent of the costs of the police force and contributes $5 million annually to the support of the civil budget.
 Laos earns only a tiny fraction of its own expenses. Its exports totaled $1.6 million in 1960. Its national deficit was $33 million, or about 20 times its export figure. U. S. aid, including military hardware totaled $32 million.
 Laos' biggest export item last year was words.
 It earned $250,000 in cable tolls on stories telegraphed abroad by foreign correspondents covering Laotian crises.
 Tin used to rank higher than words on the export list but French operators closed down their mines recently. Lumber and opium are farther down the list.
 In the old colonial days the French used Laos mainly as a hunting preserve. The United States, which considers Laos as the cockpit of Southeast Asia, takes the country more seriously. The United States entered Laos militarily on the shirtrails of France which still technically has over-all supervision of military training here.
 The French had few resources to spare for training Laotians and the United States took on more and more of the job.
 France's days in Laos appear to be numbered.
 The Laotian government currently is reported pressing the French to give up their biggest military base in Laos and the French government is reported considering the request.
 The United States, concerned over a growing Communist threat to this strategically situated king-

Drivers Pick Wrong Hole

CHICAGO (AP)—A team of truck drivers with 14 tons of coal to deliver pulled up in the alley behind the Boyce Building. They were confronted with two holes—one round, one square.
 After some thought they picked the round one and dumped in a ton of coal.
 The round hole, it turned out, was the wrong one. It leads to the building's sewer connection.
 Coal overflowed from the building's washrooms and cafeteria as the plugged sewer backed up.
 A printing company in the basement stopped the presses as it flooded out.
 After his workers washed down the alley with hot water Thursday, the coal company's vice president, Charles Holland, had a thought about the two holes.
 His men, he said, had made a mistake but after all "the odds were 50-50; they might have picked the right hole."

USCC President Says JFK Not Socialistic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce says of President Kennedy: "He doesn't have a socialistic bone in his body."
 Arthur Motley made the appraisal at a news conference Thursday in discussing the Kennedy anti-recession measures. But Motley was critical, too, at times.
 He said he was convinced that the administration's "pump priming" is designed to energize the nation's sagging economy, not destroy it.
 Then he added: "I'm afraid, though, that President Kennedy doesn't have as much faith as I do in the capacity of the economy to roll with the punches. There is nothing wrong with the country today that a good dose of selling won't cure."
