FT. WORTH YOUTH AIRMAILS SELF TO CHICAGO TO SEE SICK SWEETHEART; GIVES MESSAGE FROM HIS RIVAL

CHICAGO, July 5.—There's no telling what a fellow will do when he is in love and according to Joe Gerock nothing is impossible under such circumstances, especially in a world as modern as this one.

Joe's face was as smug as a star-mailing himself from Fort Worth, Texas, to the bedside of his lady fair in a Chicago hospital.

Joe's face was as smug as a postmark when he crawled out of the cockpit of a Dallas-Chicago mail plane but he lost no time washing up and went right to St. Elizabeth's hospital where Miss Eleta Leggett was reported seriously ill.

He found her out of danger and recovering.

"Gee, it's good to see you," Joe said. Then the nurse stepped out of the room and left her patient and her patient's visitor from Texas alone for a few minutes.

Later the visitor told part of what happened. He said he did the manly thing and gave Eleta a word of greeting from his rival back in Texas.

For it seems that Miss Leggett has two Texas beaux, the other being Charles Fox. Charles didn't come to Chicago because the special permit to ride in the air mail plane allowed for only one passenger.

Charles and Joe argued most of the day Sunday about which one should have the privilege of coming to Eleta's bedside and finally Joe won the argument. That evening Charles took Joe to the flying field in his own automobile.

"Tell the girl I love her," Charles said as Joe climbed aboard. Then he fainted and reports from Fort Worth say he is still in bed recovering from his collapse.

STEEL COFFIN OF TWENTY SAILORS BROUGHT UP TO BE OPENED

SHIP WHICH SUNK EIGHT MONTHS AGO WILL YIELD BODIES

ABOARD U. S. S. VESTAL OFF BLOCK ISLAND (by radio to United News), July 5.—The U. S. submarine S-51 has been raised from the bottom of the Atlantic where it has lain with more than 20 bodies believed to be imprisoned within its steel hull, for more than eight months.

Almost immediately preparations were made to tow the hulk to the Brooklyn navy yard. Acetylene torches will then burn open the jacket to recover the bodies of the sailors who went down with the craft last September when it was rammed and sunk near here by the steamship City of Rome. The trip will take 48 hours.

When the battered nose of the undersea boat broke through the surface, the vessel showed a 15 degree starboard list. Adjustment of the pontoons, lashed to her sides in saddle-pocked fashion, brought her to an even keel.

Then lines were made fast and the accompanying vessels started slowly for shallow water, with the submarine in tow.

Two weeks ago preparations were completed, but the unexpected rising of the submarine's prow, due to the filling of forward pontoons with air, caused the break down of raising operation. The craft sank again and pontoons and chains had to be reset.

Only the most unforeseen circumstances can prevent the successful completion of the task. Navy experts, taking no chance, are waiting for complete calm before towing the submersible to the Brooklyn yards.

When the bodies thought to be within the ill fated S-51 are taken from their watery graves, they will be buried with full honors. Thirty three were lost when the boat went down in 135 feet of water, but several bodies were later recovered.

When finally the S-51 was in full view, official dignity was entirely forgotten. Lieutenant Commander Edward Ellsberg, whose inventions have helped salvage the boat, jumped to his feet, threw his hat overboard and said excitedly to the newspaper men:

"Gentlemen, there she is."

Following the commander's lead, the reporters and crews of the rescue ships hurried their hats and caps into the ocean.

All crews let loose a mighty cheer. On the Vestal, the sailors, numbering 300, staged an impromptu snake dance.

Uncle Sam's Advice On Flowers

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The fact of pioneering and bringing the land under the plow has virtually been accomplished and people now demand that their homes be surrounded by trees, shrubs and flowers.

The rose, chrysanthemum and dahlia are closely identified with the progress of western civilization and as decorative plants have no equal according to the Agriculture Department.

"Roses may be divided into three classes according to the purposes for which they are used. As for lawns and borders, for arbors or trellises, for cut flowers and for other ornamental purposes," Uncle Sam says.

"Native species and those last modified by man's crossing and selection are most suitable for lawn and border planting. Climbing roses used for arbors and trellises may be handled either to give abundance of bloom or to produce shades; they cannot do both satisfactorily.

"Cut flower roses need clean culture, severe pruning and special care, therefore they should be planted by themselves in secluded beds and should not be used to beautify the grounds in place of roses appropriate for lawns and hedges."

Uncle Sam warns that roses are not satisfactory for hedges. Tree roses are not satisfactory, except on the Pacific Coast and the Wichuriana rose is useful as a ground cover.

Chrysanthemums are hardy perennials and stand out above most other flowers so that they form the backbone of any scheme of herbaceous planting. They can be grown with success almost anywhere except in the extreme north.

Although chrysanthemums may be grown from seed, they are usually raised from cuttings or divisions of established plants. These like the seedlings come to full maturity and flower profusely in a single season. In turn they furnish material for propagation the following year.

The plants require for the best development a rich well drained soil abundant of light and air, sufficient room into develop into good bushes and annual division and replanting in newly fertilized soil.

Dahlias are important in the garden during the late summer and fall. The forms and color variations of the flowers furnish so great a range that almost any personal taste or fancy can be gratified, Uncle Sam believes. Dahlias are obtained from nurseries as dormant roots or as growing plants which have been raised from cuttings.

After a season's growth the plants are dug, the tops cut off and the roots dried and stored in a dark, dry frost proof cellar until the following spring. They are then ready to be started into growth and divided into as many species as desired or as there are new shoots starting.

"Milestones" Written By Texas Author Is Praised

An autographed copy of "Milestones," written by Mrs. Maynor D. McGee of Fort Bayard, N. M., has been read by the writer of this column. The book has been off of the press only a few weeks though sales have been numerous. Many notable critics have described the book as one of the year's best, and all agree that it is really an inspiring piece of work.

To fully appreciate the book one must be acquainted with conditions as now exist in New Mexico. The political situation, especially, is brought to light, as are many other things equally important. Summing up the book in a few words one might say that it is entertaining, educational and inspiring. The love story will grip the heart of any mature man or woman; the history given is as good as has ever been published concerning that most wonderful state—describing in detail the aboriginals, the Aztecs and early day Spaniards, as well as the present day Spanish-Americans. Its plea for unity, its bid for progress and its fairness makes it a truly wonderful piece of work.

The author is a native Texas, she having spent her early days in and near Abilene. She is a sister of Dr. J. M. Dawson, pastor of First Baptist church, Waco, and Rev. E. E. Dawson, pastor of First Church, Kingsville. Until a few years ago she resided in this state. Her husband, Dr. E. E. McGee is a surgeon in the army hospital at Fort Bayard, New Mexico, though for a number of years he did a general practice in this state. Both have many South Plains and Central Texas friends who will no doubt avail themselves of an early opportunity to read "Milestones."

The model calls for 2 1/4 yards of silk 36 inches wide, with 1 yard of

The diagram shows the detail of single hemstitching, which is used for the hem and double hemstitching, featured on the skirt and sleeves. Draw the thread where the top of the hem is to be, then turn and baste the hem. As many threads are drawn as the hemstitching is to be wide. Fasten the thread under the hem, which is held downward and toward the sewer. Begin at the left-hand end and work toward the right. Gather from five to seven threads in each group. Bring thread to the right and across the front of this group, holding it in the form of a loop. Point the needle to the left and pass it back of the threads, then out to the left of the group of stitches. Take the hemming stitch through the hem only. TEXAS

By GEORGE B. TERRELL
Commissioner of Agriculture
Texas possesses all characters of soil and climate and can grow all kinds of agricultural products that are grown from the arctic regions to the tropics. Her lands are cheap and productive. She produces nearly one-tenth of all the agricultural wealth of the nation. She produces 40 per cent of all the cotton grown in the United States. Game and fish are abundant. She is the sportsman's paradise.

Her cities of Galveston, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Brownsville constitute ideal winter resorts. In the lower Rio Grande valley the seeker for pleasure can find good hunting, good fishing and delightful climate, and feast upon the delicious oranges and grape fruit in the Magic valley. Ducks and geese have sense enough to come to Texas when the north gets cold.

Texas offers more inducements to the homeseeker, the pleasure seeker, the health seeker and the wealth seeker than any other state in the union.

While ice in the harbor at Reval, Estonia, stopped water transportation between Tallinn and Helsinki until late into the spring of this year, the air plane service between the two cities had such a rush of business that it made five instead of two flights daily.

Ten thousand school children from the provinces recently visited Bogota the capital of Columbia. The tour was arranged by the Ministry of Public Instruction, as the children while in the city attended a session of the National Congress, visited the schools and other points of interest, and were entertained by organizations.

OUR FATHER LOVES US—"Thou shalt

PURE SCHOLARSHIP

President John Grier Hibbens of Princeton University, delivered Harvard's 1926 Phi Beta Kappa oration, makes a fine distinction in the quality of knowledge, urging that the new possessors of scholarly degrees seek something above mere utility in knowledge. "I am convinced," President Hibbens says, "that the one who seeks knowledge for its own sake is far more apt to be affected by such contact than the one who strives to know that he may apply his knowledge in some way to insure greater control of the growing complexities of modern life." Seek knowledge, then, not for any advantageous use to which you may put it, but for the effect that the possession of knowledge may have upon yourself. That is the ideal method, according to Princeton's president. And it is a method toward which our hearts yearn. But in this practical, materialistic age, is there such a thing as pure scholarship? If so, it is all too scarce. In the first place, the demands of the present standard of living make it impossible for any but the independently wealthy to pursue knowledge for its own sake and most of the independently wealthy are busily engaged in becoming even more so. Or they are just as busily engaged amusing themselves. They have no time for pure scholarship. The solution perhaps, is in endowment. Some of our millionaires might be persuaded to create a haven where one might shake off the responsibilities of existence and cultivate one's soul.

CHARACTER AND CREDIT

"Credit," says Edward T. Stotesbury, of Drexel and Company of Philadelphia, "is either good or harmful according to the use to which it is put and the character of the man or organization to which it is extended." This should be considered expert opinion, for Drexel and Company is the Philadelphia branch of J. P. Morgan & Company, one of the world's greatest combinations of financial experts. It should serve, therefore, not only as a fundamental principle of credit operations but as an unerring guide to the credit seeker. Credit is determined by character, both of the project and the projector. Therefore the credit seeker must be upright and honorable and the project must be sound. Both banks and borrowers are in need of this information, judging by some of the unsound schemes sometimes financed and by the wail of would-be borrowers who fail to understand why credit is sometimes denied them.

MORE ELECTRIC POWER

Here are two more big power projects going forward: The Philadelphia Electric Power Company is going to build on the Susquehanna River, in Maryland, a dam nearly a mile long, forming a reservoir of 8,000 acres, and a power plant to develop 350,000 horsepower. That is more power than the Muscle Shoals plant has. The current will be sent, at 220,000 volts, for 75 miles to Philadelphia. The Gattineau Power Company, by a contract signed with the Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario, will furnish 230,000 horsepower produced on the Gattineau River, transmitting it 240 miles to Toronto. This is not an entirely new project, but present facilities are to be greatly extended, with an ultimate development of perhaps 400,000 horsepower. Electrification of this continent is coming on more rapidly than the public realizes. Add to the "white coal" projects the coal-burning plants being established in or near the coal fields, and the present development is tremendous.

POPULAR SUMMER SCHOOLS

Summer schools are open, or opening, in all parts of the country. There are summer courses for every grade of pupil from the little tots to teachers taking post-graduate work. The increasing popularity of summer study for adults may be attributed to the higher requirements for teachers and to the interest in travel and professional advancement. The youngsters go to summer school for various reasons. Sometimes it is because they failed in a subject in regular term and want to make it up instead of staying behind their class. Sometimes it is because they have been absent a good deal during the regular session and, although they could be passed, it is better for them to have a little more practice and training in certain difficult branches before they start the new school year. In still other cases, it is because they want to get ahead, to finish the full school course in a year or a term less time. Finally, some pupils go to summer school for the simple but surprising reason that they like it. The summer term is short. It leaves ample time for vacation fun before the fall term begins. The classes are small. The teachers have time to give individual attention to pupils. A summer teacher in a high school remarked, "the children enjoy the summer work. One little girl told me it was more fun to come to school than just fool around at home." All this popularity of summer schools is interesting. It may hasten the day of all-year-around schools, with short holidays between them instead of two long semesters with long summer vacation.

SILK HATS AND FINES

Visitors to Eaton, England, speak of the surprise they get from seeing the boys in the famous school there engaging in their regular fire drill. The lads, at the sound of the gong, rush to the windows and jump into nets below, scrupulously attired in their traditional costume of "Eaton jackets", striped trousers and patent leather shoes, with their eternal "plug hats" jammed tightly on their heads. They would fight a fire in the same attire. That is the costume they wear on all public occasions. As far as the outside world could tell, they may wear it to sleep in. Those young kids wearing silk hats, when their kind elsewhere would wear straws or caps, is a sight never to be forgotten. It is, of course, the height of absurdity. It is as silly to wear plug hats and patent leathers at a fire as it would be to wear fire helmet and rubber coat at a dignified party or coveralls to church. To be well dressed is to be dressed in clothing suited to the occasion, adapted to the work or play intended. It would be a fine thing for human comfort and efficiency if all our styles of dress could be brought to this rational standard.

THE PRICE OF SENATORSHIP

The Senatorial primary scandals in Pennsylvania and Illinois make a certain famous Michigan case look like a Sunday school affair, and make thoughtful citizens wonder in how many other states this kind of thing has occurred or is likely to occur. Granted it takes more money to reach an entire electorate honestly than it did to run nomination under the old convention-nominating system, where a friendly boss usually determined the nomination. Granted, it is possible at present to spend large sums legally, and possibly without deliberately wrong intent. Nevertheless the spending of millions of dollars in any state, for nomination or election, cannot but have a demoralizing effect on politics, and cannot have good effect on the morals and personnel of the United States Senate. That body is placed again in a delicate position. Its own welfare as well as public policy, should move it without delay to order a reasonable limitation of campaign expenditures. The only important essential in running for such an office is publicity, and that need not cost a million dollars. The Senate is able to cure this evil if it honestly wants to, because it is the final judge of the qualifications of its own members.

EXPERT TESTIMONY REFORM

The effort being made by the Cleveland Bar association to bring about a reform in the matter of expert testimony, should serve as an example to other states to go and do likewise. The injustice attendant upon present practices have created a strong sentiment for such reform. It is probable that upon the success of the Cleveland Bar association in establishing the desired changes will depend similar efforts of other bar associations. While the need of reform is felt in testimony bearing upon civil cases, it is largely in criminal cases that expert testimony is manipulated to defeat justice. The greatest evil of this malpractice is that the high cost of such testimony gives the rich criminal an advantage that is denied the less fortunate. It is hoped for the general good that the Cleveland Bar association may achieve a signal success.

NO NEED FOR ALARM

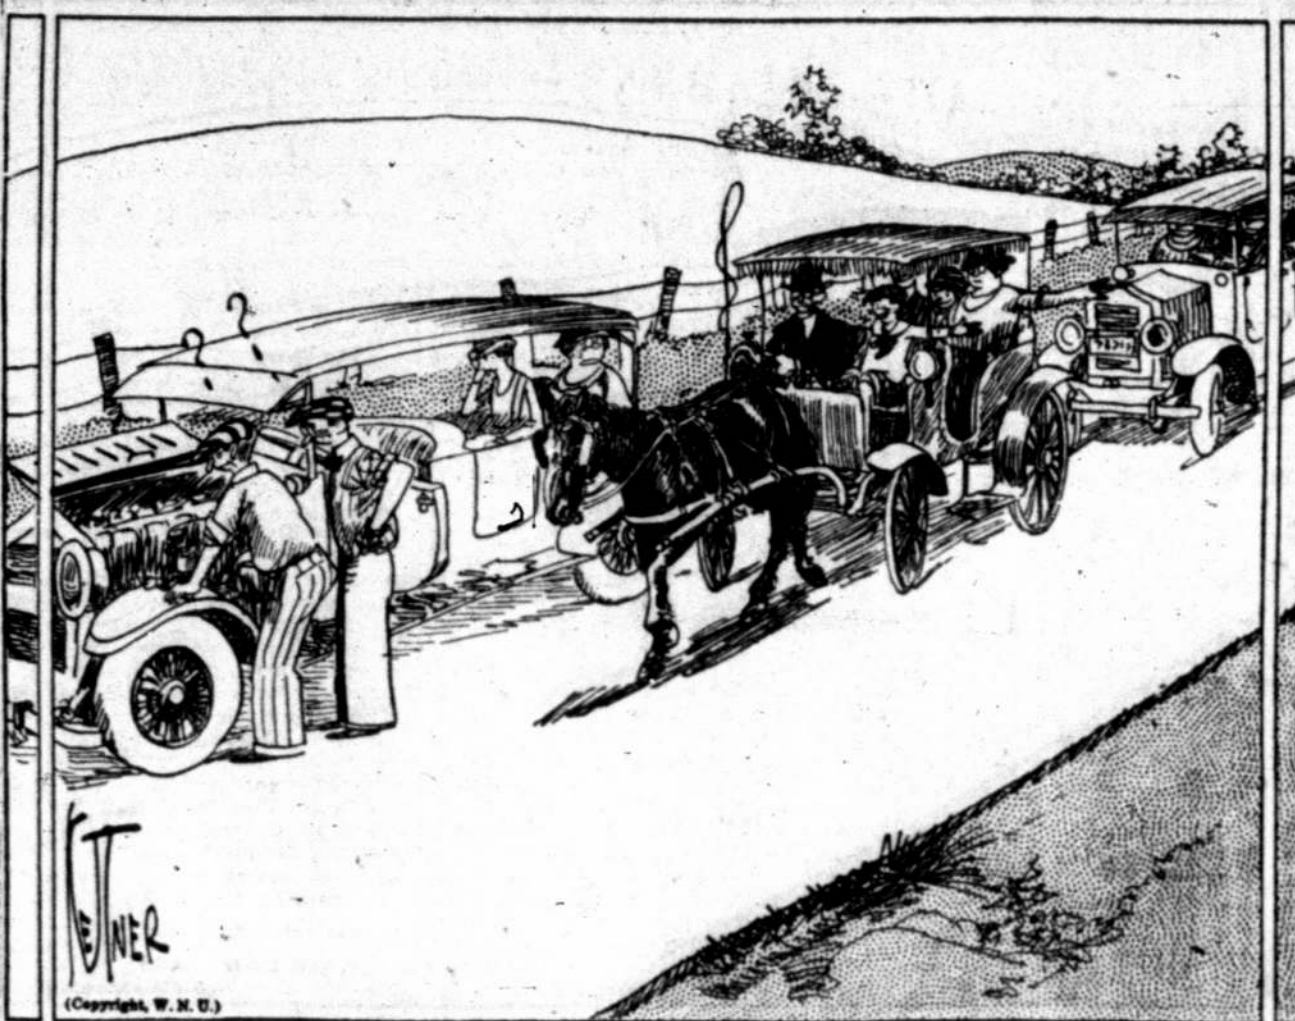

To judge by the noise they make, added to the noise made by alarmists and jingoes one would be led to believe that the number of communists in the United States was large. According to the American labor year book recently published the number communists here at the end of 1925 was 16,325. This is a falling off of 1,604 in comparison with 1924. There's easily ten times that number of intellectual monarchists, international spell binders and alien lecturers, authors and publishers who, while attempting to frighten the country with alarms of a red uprising, need a careful check on their own activities. While one is as bad as the other there's no need for alarm from either source.

SAFE TRANSPORTATION

More than a million people visited Chicago on the occasion of the great eucharistic congress. Of these 800,000 on one day went from Chicago to Mundelein, Ill., and back to Chicago. Not a single serious transportation accident happened. Barring minor injuries and fainting due to the crush of the great crowds, no one was hurt. Such a record as this, those in charge of the congress said had never been approached in history. This is pretty efficient transportation. It's a fine example of the American mind in action. The very size and difficulty of the problem were the great incentive to solving it and competently it was solved.

During this summer season traffic in many resorts has increased until it exceeds many of the larger cities. The spirit of play urges these drivers to become much more reckless than they would be in their own towns. Thus they endanger many, many lives unnecessarily. Drivers on vacation should not shed all their responsibilities and should take even more care when driving their automobiles in vacation crowds.

So Think We

We think there is a reason for most everything. Some people complain that the doctor charges two dollars for taking their temperature, and two dollars more for asking you what you have eaten, but in the days when the doctor did not do that, you could buy butter and eggs at just about half the present price.

We think that woman who came into the office a few mornings ago and told us to stop the paper just because we failed to write her up just as she thought we should is possibly very greatly surprised to know that the Avalanche has been published every morning since then and without apparent loss of business.

We think that people can forget to pay their subscription, and they can forget to pay their advertising bill, and it is perfectly alright, but if the poor reporter or the editor fails to give the people a write up just as they think they should it is criminal, and at least worth stopping their paper for.

We think American people are a pretty determined bunch. We have noticed especially that when a couple of Americans make up their minds to get married they usually do. And if they would only make up their minds that they are going to stay married they would.

We think the greatest difference between poor and rich relatives is that we do not care anything about knowing more about the poor ones, and the rich ones do not care to know any more about us.

We think it will certainly be sweet music to the congregation of the Presbyterian church at Canyon when it is announced that that organization is to have a fine pipe organ, and at no cost whatever to them. A gift from a local lumberman of that city, C. R. Barrow.

We think there is one thing pretty certain about the recent government report on the cotton crop. There is no question that there will be several million bales and then possibly some more, and that will help to fix the price on the stuff anyway.

We think that the financial institutions of Florida will no doubt have learned the difference between banking and collecting on a great number of varied and sundry signatures by this time.

We think that people have no right to let the weeds grow on their vacant lots and endanger the health of the neighborhood by their offensive presence.

We think that since the Fourth of July has passed, and we have learned of patriotism over again that we should now cut the weeds off our vacant lots and around our homes and clean up around the business property, as the first patriotic duty.

We think that in as much as we are made out of dust and that dust is rather a dangerous thing, possibly accounts for some people being almost afraid of themselves.

We think silence is much better than to speak and say something wrong. The most important thing is to try to say the right thing.

It Is Reported

That the completion of the new Hotel Lubbock next month will materially enhance Lubbock's prestige as a wholesale center and traveling men's headquarters. When the chamber of commerce entertains the travelers with the usual annual party this year it will be the biggest ever and all of them will be well cared for. It is remarkable how fast Lubbock is overcoming some of her biggest problems but these will bob up again as it won't be but a few months now until the new hotel will be too small to accommodate all of the travelers working this territory and the other guests.

That the businessmen of Lubbock could do no better work at this time than to urge designation and maintenance of a highway directly west to the New Mexico line to connect with points of interest in New Mexico. The Texas Transcontinental Trail is splendid as far as it goes but it only serves to connect Lubbock, Fort Worth and Dallas. Tourists would like to know where to go from here but the road won't be designated on to the New Mexico line until some real action has been taken. It is Lubbock's move.

That County Agent Eaton and numerous members of his farm clubs are working harmoniously on plans to take some of the big prizes at the State Fair at Dallas. These exhibits will also be shown at the South Plains Fair during the first days of October.

That the storekeepers of Lubbock, their clerks and in fact everyone else who enjoyed a vacation yesterday will be glad to be on the job again this morning. Sunday and a holiday in succession gives all the opportunity for loafing wanted in Lubbock unless one has time to plan a real outing.

That numerous farmers and stockmen of Lubbock county are already beginning to select exhibits for the Panhandle South Plains Fair which is less than ninety days off.

That one plainsman who believes horse power will always be necessary on the farms of the Plains will take a great deal of pride in the hitching demonstration today.

TEXAS

Texas occupies all the continent of North America except the small part set aside for the United States and Canada. Texas owns the north of the Rio Grande, the only dry river in the world; also the only one, with the possible exception of the Trinity, which is navigable for mud cats and peddlars.

Texas is bounded on the north by twenty-five or thirty states, and on the east by all the oceans of the world except the Pacific, and on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and South America, and on the west by the Pacific Ocean, Milky Way and the real side of the universe.

Texas is so big that the people in Brownsville call the Dallas people "Yankees" and citizens of El Paso sneer at the citizens of Texarkana, Texas, as being big snobs from the effete East.

It is 15 miles further from El Paso, Texas, to Texarkana, Texas, than it is from Chicago to New York; Fort Worth is nearer to St. Paul, Minn., than it is to Brownsville. Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New York, Vermont, New Hampshire and Illinois could be placed in Texas, and then 92,283 square miles would be left over, which is enough land for each person in Texas to have a small garden.

The chief occupation of the people of Texas is trying to keep from making all the money in the world. The chief pursuit of the people of Texas was formerly Mexican bandits. But now it is land buyers, steers and Texas crop records. The United States with Texas off would look like a three legged Boston terrier.

Texas are so proud of Texas that they can not sleep at night. If a Texan's head should be opened, the map of Texas would be found photographed on his brain. This is also true of his heart. Unless your front gate is eighteen miles from your front door, you do not belong to society as constituted in Texas. Mrs. King's gate is 15 miles from her front door and she is thinking of moving her house back further so that she will not be annoyed by passing automobiles and peddlars.

Other Texas landlords have whole mountain ranges and rivers on their ranches. One Texan has forty miles of navigable land on his farm. If the proportion of cultivated land in Texas were the same as in Illinois, the value of Texas crops would equal that of the forty-seven states.

Texas has enough land to supply every man woman and child in the whole world with a tract five by twenty feet, and have enough left over for the armies of the world to march around the border five abreast.

Texas grows enough alfalfa, which if baled and built into a stairway, would reach to the pearly gates.

If all the hogs in Texas were one hog he would be able to dig the Panama Canal in three roots.

If all the Texas steers were one steer he could stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, one hind foot in the Hudson Bay, the other in the Arctic Ocean, and with his horn punch holes in the moon and with his tail brush off the mist from the Aurora Borealis.

If all the cotton raised in Texas annually were made into one mattress, all the people in the world could take a nap at one time.

Texas is rightly named the Garden of the Lord, and if all the Bermuda onions grown in the Rio Grande were made into a necklace it would encircle the globe.—"Motor Chat," June, 1926.

MY AUNT'S BONNET

They say life's simple, but I don't know.
 Who can tell where a word will go,
 Or how many hopes will rise and fall
 With the weakest brick in the cellar wall,
 Or how many hearts will break and bleed
 As the result of one careless deed?
 Why my old aunt's bonnet caused more dismay
 Than a thousand suns could shine away.
 She wore it high through her top-knot pinner,
 A perfect kite for a heavy wind,
 But the hat would stick though a gale might blow
 If she found the place where the pins should go.
 One Sunday morning she dressed in haste,
 She'd be late for church. Now the tale begins,
 She didn't take care with those bonnet pins.
 Oh, the wind it howled, and the wind it blew,
 And away from her head that bonnet flew!
 It swirled up straight to select its course,
 First brushing the ears of the eddy's horse,
 With a leap he scampered away in fright.

 A stranger grabbed for the horse's head,
 But stumbled and fractured his own instead.
 After the bonnet a small boy ran,
 Knocked over a woman, and tripped a man,
 The deacon's daughter married the chap
 Who rescued her from the swaying trap,
 And she lived to regret it later on.
 In all that town there abided none
 Whose life wasn't changed on that dreadful day
 When my old Aunt's bonnet was blown away.
 Some were crippled and some went mad,
 Some turned saintly, and some turned bad,
 Birth, and marriage and death and pain
 Were all swept down in that bonnet's train,
 Wives quarreled with husbands! I can't relate
 The endless tricks which were played by fate.
 There are folks today who had not been born,
 Had my aunt stayed home on that Sunday morn.

HUBBERS DEFEAT LAMESA IN FOURTH CELEBRATION 9 TO 0

HUDSPETH HOLDS FORMER TEAM MATES TO TWO BINGLES IN LAST OF SERIES; LOCALS RAP OUT TEN SAFE CLOUTS

The brilliant twirling of "Stingy" Hudspeth, the ace moundman of the Hubbers crew, against his former playing mates, netted the Hubbers an overwhelming victory of 9 to 0 as he led the visitors down with two lone hits during the nine innings of combat, both of which were rapped from the stick of a former Billy Dusch aggregation man, one in the third inning and the other in the last frame.

While the visitors were held to two lone bingles the Hubbers clouted out ten safe knocks, four for two bases and one for three. Gaither, hitting as he did in the battle with the Lamesa nine, Sunday clouted out three for four.

Berry, a last year product of the Lamesa nine and a pitching mate of Hudspeth, was relieved by Adams in the last of the second; but Adams was forced back to the field and Hale was sent in the fifth. Hale, who mired last Sunday's tilt with Lamesa, tied the locals down with one hit for the remainder of the game.

It was a "dollar" day fan day with the Hubbers and the gate receipts together with that which was collected before the game will likely retain the club for the remainder of the month. With the kind consent of the management of the Lamesa ball club was greatly responsible for the good crowd that attended yesterday afternoon.

First inning. Lamesa—Radford drew walk; Ragdale advanced Radford to second with sacrifice and was out Hudspeth to Quatt; Kozelski; Sheppard walked; Anderson doubled to right field scoring Sheppard; Connolly struck out; Quatt drew walk; Gaither doubled to right scoring Anderson and Quatt; Hamilton doubled to right scoring Gaither, but was out at third L. White to Radford to Manning; four runs, three hits, no errors.

Second inning. Lamesa—L. White grounded out to Quatt; Manning grounded out to L. White to Sheppard; no runs, no hits, no errors. Lamesa—L. White grounded out to Quatt; Manning grounded out to L. White grounded out to G. White to Kozelski; L. White singled; L. White struck out; Hudspeth called out on strikes; L. White struck out on passed ball; Jackson struck out; no runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth inning. Lamesa—Kozelski grounded out Hudspeth to Quatt; Adams popped out to Hamilton; L. White walked, stole second; Manning grounded out Hudspeth to Quatt; no runs, no hits, no errors. Lamesa—Sheppard popped out to White; Anderson walked; Connolly grounded to Adams who threw wild to first; Anderson took third and Connolly second; Quatt grounded out Radford to Kozelski scoring Anderson; Gaither singled to left scoring Connolly; Hamilton grounded out Manning to Kozelski; two runs, one hit, one error.

Fifth inning. Lamesa—B. White grounded out Sheppard to Quatt; G. White flew

NEGRO GETS DECISION

BUTTE, Mont., July 5—Chick Suggs, negro sensation of New Bedford, Mass., won a 12-round decision over Dixie Lahood of Butte here this afternoon. Suggs was the only one marked and took what little punishment was given but outboxed the local boy to win decisively. They are bantam welter.

CHILDRESS IRON MEN HERE TODAY

The Childress Iron Men, who have been winning consistently in their neck of the woods, and who have held Amarillo to close scores in several games with the powerful Metropolitans, will be here today and tomorrow to meet the Hubbers. Childress beat Plainview Sunday and have a strong team, which is expected to give Sled and his conquering Lubbockites considerable trouble.

They arrived late yesterday, after beating Plainview again.

NEW TALENT BLOSSOMS FORTH IN PHILADELPHIA MUD AS A. A. U. FIELD EVENTS GO INTO FIRST DAY

By FRANK GETTY
United News Staff Correspondent.
MUNICIPAL STADIUM, PHILADELPHIA, July 5—Ned and brilliant athletic talent cropped up in the rain-drenched mire of Philadelphia's magnificent new municipal stadium Monday afternoon.

The first day of the amateur athletic union's national senior track and field championships produced brilliant performances in the face of adverse weather conditions and it was a crop of youngsters new to national honors, who showed the way.

Five champions of 1925 were all that were able to defend their titles in the 19 individual events on the first afternoon's program.

Lithe limbed athletes of the Hollywood A. C. ran away with a major share of Monday's honors and threatened to snatch the team championship held by the New York Athletic club before the team races that come Tuesday are finished.

Because of the downpour which turned the cinder track into a quagmire and the infield to a grassy morass, world's record times were impossible, but one new American record was established, 3 championship marks were shattered and two equalled.

Philadelphia, celebrating independence day turned its back upon the A. A. U. games and only about 1,000 spectators put in an appearance on the stadium. All but a handful of these departed when the downpour started.

The outstanding individual performance was that of Harry Hinkle, of New York A. C. who stepped on his way to a new American record of 21 minutes, 35.1-5 seconds in the 3 mile walk, actually lapping his field through a driving rain on the quarter mile track.

Second in interest to Hinkle's victory was the brilliant runner of Philip Osif, a dark skinned little Haskell Indian who last Saturday won the junior A. A. U. six mile run and who repeated that performance against the seniors again today.

Osif ran away from his pursuers in his event, jumping into the lead half way through the race and rapidly shaking off pursuers.

For the first 3 miles, it looked as though Ole Anderson, a blond Finn, who looks a little like Paavo Nurmi, the world's record holder in this event, might spring a sensation and win.

Anderson cut out a fast pace with the Haskell Indian content to plod along in second place, 20 yards in the rear.

On the twelfth laps Osif moved up with effortless grace and his dark limbs eclipsed the fair skinned Finn as the red man went into the van, never again to be headed.

Vern Booth, of the Melrose A. A. U., came up from the pack on the 16th lap and passed Anderson. The former Johns Hopkins star set sail after Osif, but the little Indian cut loose with a real sprinter's finish and fairly ran away from his pursuers, winning in the new championship time of 31 minutes, 31 seconds.

Booth was second and Anderson 3rd. This young Haskell student is bound to be heard from at the next Olympic. He has been running only a year, having been inspired to take up the distance game of competing against Paavo Nurmi in the West in 1925.

Another youth who splashed to glory, lowering the colors of a former champion, was Charley Borah, the senator's son, who carried the bright jersey of the Hollywood A. C. to victory in the century dash in 9.45 seconds.

Jackson Scholz of New York A. C. flung himself across the finish line in second place, with dusky Dehart Hubbard of the Century A. A. of New York third. Again it was youth in the van in the far-long sprint, George Sharkey of Miami University, Ohio, defeating Charley Borah and Jackson Scholz in the fast time of 21.2-5 through pools of water.

Other youngsters who won their runs and gave promise of great things for the Amsterdam Olympic, were Kenneth Kennedy of the Illinois A. C., who won the quarter mile run; A. O. Martin, of the Chicago A. A. who sprinted to victory in the club before the team races that come Tuesday are finished.

Because of the downpour which turned the cinder track into a quagmire and the infield to a grassy morass, world's record times were impossible, but one new American record was established, 3 championship marks were shattered and two equalled.

The outstanding individual performance was that of Harry Hinkle, of New York A. C. who stepped on his way to a new American record of 21 minutes, 35.1-5 seconds in the 3 mile walk, actually lapping his field through a driving rain on the quarter mile track.

Second in interest to Hinkle's victory was the brilliant runner of Philip Osif, a dark skinned little Haskell Indian who last Saturday won the junior A. A. U. six mile run and who repeated that performance against the seniors again today.

Osif ran away from his pursuers in his event, jumping into the lead half way through the race and rapidly shaking off pursuers.

For the first 3 miles, it looked as though Ole Anderson, a blond Finn, who looks a little like Paavo Nurmi, the world's record holder in this event, might spring a sensation and win.

Anderson cut out a fast pace with the Haskell Indian content to plod along in second place, 20 yards in the rear.

On the twelfth laps Osif moved up with effortless grace and his dark limbs eclipsed the fair skinned Finn as the red man went into the van, never again to be headed.

Vern Booth, of the Melrose A. A. U., came up from the pack on the 16th lap and passed Anderson. The former Johns Hopkins star set sail after Osif, but the little Indian cut loose with a real sprinter's finish and fairly ran away from his pursuers, winning in the new championship time of 31 minutes, 31 seconds.

Booth was second and Anderson 3rd. This young Haskell student is bound to be heard from at the next Olympic. He has been running only a year, having been inspired to take up the distance game of competing against Paavo Nurmi in the West in 1925.

AMERICAN GIRLS WHO WILL TRY TO SWIM ENGLISH CHANNEL USE DIFFERENT STROKES IN ATTEMPT

By United News.
CAP RIS NEZ, France, July 5.—Gertrude Ederle and Lillian Cannon, the American channel swim pre-tenders now in training here, show a striking contrast in style while in the water. Their personal habits are much the same; both are splendid athletes, and neither smokes or drinks.

Miss Ederle works with that brilliant crawl stroke that has always distinguished her swimming. She still has faith in her ability to continue it for many hours and she believes it is the fastest stroke, requiring the minimum amount of effort.

Miss Cannon is training to adapt her breast and over-arm strokes to channel conditions. She proposes to rely upon these two strokes during her attempt to swim the channel, changing from one to the other frequently. She will also use the crawl at times, working on the theory of using all of her muscle without tiring herself with any one system.

Bill Burgess, who is looking after both girls, does not care what strokes they use, but urges them to swim naturally and use whatever method comes easiest. He believes that while speed is a great help in channel swimming, it should not be struggled for at the cost of strength.

It is significant that all of the five men who succeeded in swimming the channel were slow swimmers. Burgess recites three supreme factors for swimming the channel: endurance, courage and luck. The luck part of it comes with breaks in the weather.

During her swim last year Miss Ederle was repeatedly cautioned by her trainer, Jabez Wolfe, to slow up and to switch to the breast stroke. She used the crawl almost entirely, and when she did change over she appeared to find the going, especially in the rough water, so laborious that she quickly reverted to her half mile race which concluded the program; Paul Harrington, a Boston boy, who scored over 13 feet in the pole vault, E. E. Myers, Chicago A. A., who equalled the giant Wisconsin University weight man who hurled the 16 pound shot 49 feet, 10.1-2 inches.

JACK SILVER WINS

EWING FIELD, San Francisco, July 5—Jack Silver, San Francisco light-weight, outboxed and out-fought Mushy Callahan of Los Angeles to take a well merited decision in their 10-round holiday bout here this afternoon.

RAINS FOR 4 WEEKS

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 5.—Cloudbursts continue to be almost daily occurrences. It has rained every day in Budapest for the last four weeks.

Wolfe regarded her persistence as a great mistake, but others, including Burgess, admired at the time her remarkable swimming, which was a perfect display even when she was tired. With the crawl Miss Ederle is a stylist. Her powerful shoulders and arms carry her along at a great pace, while her leg movement is as finished as the fanning of a fish's fins.

On the other hand, Miss Cannon prefers the breast or the over-arm stroke for long distance work. Madame Sion, the great French woman swimmer uses the breast stroke almost entirely. Miss Lillian Harrison, the Argentine swimmer, who has failed to swim the channel three times, also rarely varies from the breast stroke.

Plainview Loses To Childress Team

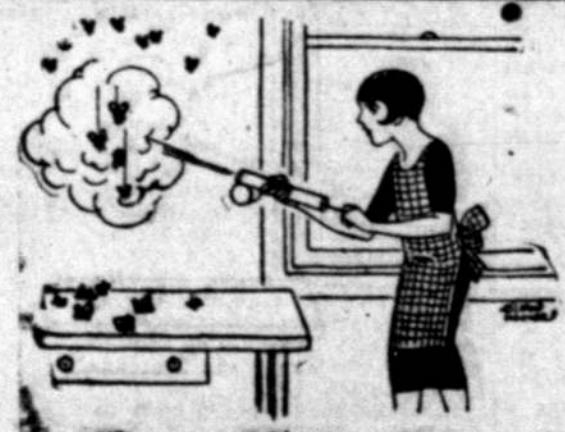

PLAINVIEW, July 5.—Although Whitlow of Plainview held the Childress Iron Men to four perfectly scattered hits while his teammates crashed out twelve, Plainview was defeated three to two in an excellent baseball game at Plainview Sunday to even the count on a three game series. Jeffries of Childress showed unusual ability at pulling himself out of holes, holding Plainview scoreless until the ninth when two men were out, letting Plainview down without a score when they had three men on bases the third and eighth, and striking out twelve men. Errorless ball together with two double plays on the part of Childress was greatly responsible for their victory. Plainview made two errors. The final game of the series will be played Monday.

Girls! Your Health!

San Antonio, Texas.—"My daughter Dovie Lee suffered with a pain in her back and in the back of her head. She would be very nervous when she had those headaches. She often got sick at her stomach and had no appetite. I tried everything for her, sometimes she felt a little better and was soon sick again. Then I put her on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets and sure enough she was better right away. Her appetite improved, she looked better and slept better and her nerves were much better."—Mrs. I. M. Jones, 1702 W. Laurel. Write Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. All dealers. CHICAGO UNIVERSITY STUDENTS SAY CHRIST WOULD ENJOY CAMPUS OF MODERN COLLEGE ABOVE ALL ELSE

By EARL K. JOHNSON

United News Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, July 5.—If Jesus Christ returned to earth today he would find the American college campus more to his liking than the society in which he lived 1900 years ago, according to a group of University of Chicago students who are imitating the Savior's conduct.

After analyzing Christ's character and reducing it to five basic traits the students set out to introduce these into their daily lives on the campus.

Now after three months of the experiment they have drawn the following conclusions:

1. That Christ's traits fit perfectly into the complex scheme of city life in the new world.

2. That Christ would feel more at home on the campus of a large university than in the Holy land or the modern church.

3. That His simple tenets are more applicable today than they were when He walked the earth due to the better understanding that exists among people of all colors and creeds.

Glenn Harding, leader of a group, which started with four members and increased within a few weeks to eight, says there is nothing religious in the experiment.

"We have gone at it in a more scientific way using psychology to learn of the basic traits and sociology to observe their application," Harding said. "We selected Christ because His life seemed to have a greater influence on world history than the great characters of other religions."

"The traits that we are trying to follow are courtesy, humanity, fearlessness, honesty and modesty. We are practicing these because they give us a fuller and happier life."

Harding said that on the campus these traits made relations with their fellows less difficult and that the same was true of their experiences in the city where some of them work between classes.

Recently the students have been making the rounds of churches in the vicinity of the campus and these visits have led them to believe that Christ would not be exactly at home in the modern house of worship.

Harding said that instead of hearing sermons on the Bible and the actual teachings of the Savior, he and his mates had been required to listen to preachments on law enforcement, prohibition, the waywardness of youth, race track gambling and marriage and divorce.

WOULD REMODEL STATE GOVERNMENT

DAVIDSON SAYS EXECUTIVE MACHINE AT AUSTIN NEEDS OVERHAULING

ORANGE, Texas, July 5.—An interested crowd of Orange county citizens listened attentively here this afternoon while Lynch Davidson outlined his ideas of the duties of the chief executive of Texas. Davidson criticized the present administration and declared a civil service system would do away with the political machine, raise the morale of government employees and save millions annually to the taxpayers.

"When I am elected governor, I will be under obligation to no man, political group or faction," Davidson said. "I will be the same plain Lynch Davidson that I am today—a democrat—a governor for all the people. When I get through with the job I never expect to run for office again in Texas again. But I do want the chance now to put this state on a business basis. Economy and common sense business methods can be applied to our public affairs to such an extent that the constitutional tax rate of Texas would be entirely eliminated."

"I propose to take that overgrown, lax executive machine at Austin, lay it to pieces and build it over again. There will be a whole pile of cogs and wheels left to go to the junk yard. When I get through shaking grafters and political henchmen out of the penitentiary system and the highway department, there will be another big heap of scrap left over. No million dollar road contracts or contracts of any other size, will be Lower mathematics for school girls is recommended by the Kansas City Post, among the problems suggested being that of budgeting the income of a husband who earns about $25 a week. If one might be taught how to provide for groceries, clothes, rent, gasoline, cosmetics, haircuts and other necessities out of such an income, with enough left over to pay the installments on the car and furniture, it would be of more practical benefit than a knowledge of trigonometry or even calculus.

Latzo Will Fight For Charity's Sake

NEW YORK, July 5.—When debutant Pete Latzo, shieg of the coal fields and king of the welters, defends his title for the second time within a fortnight next Friday, the champion will top a charity show card of unequalled interest to boxing fans.

It is Jimmy De Forest who gathered together the well balanced array of fistic talent which will swap punches for the benefit of the foot clinics of New York, and the veteran is presenting a card which goes one better than anything Tex Rickard ever did.

Georrie Levine, a fighting film actor who wears "side burns" down to his sport shirt, but can scrap like the hero of a two reeler, is opposing Latzo in the champion's first New York appearance since he took the title from Mickey Walker at Scranton.

Latzo, because of his terrific body punching, should wear down the young Hollywood hero before the end of 15 minutes. It was by body punches that Joe Dundee subdued Levine after the latter had entirely spoiled the career of Tommy Morrison of Scotland. The new welter king broke Willie Harmon's heart with sledge hammer tactics at Newark by switching to the law to knock out the East Side Italian last Tuesday.

In a ten round semi-final, Sid Terris, the faint hearted dancing master, will run 10 rounds with fighting PPhli McGraw, the Detroit Greek, while Rudy Goldstein, a recent victim of the redoubtable A. A. Hopkins, will start his comeback by taking on the tough old veteran lightweight from Philadelphia, Eddie ("Kid") Wagner.

FLAPPERS MAKE BARBERS BREAK LAW

NEW YORK, July 5.—The first arrests due to barbers breaking the new law forbidding tonorial suits on Sunday were due to the insistence of no fewer than eleven flappers that they simply had to have their hair bobbed for "over the Fourth."

MAYOR PROVIDES BOX TO SAFEGUARD KNIVES

MEXICO CITY, July 5.—Due to numerous fatal fights around the slaughter house in Tacula, the mayor of that suburban town has issued a proclamation ordering the butchers to leave their knives in the building when not working.

The mayor presented the management with a box in which to keep all knives. Hereafter police will confiscate any found outside the slaughterhouse.

Free service in the placement of teachers rendered by the Wyoming State Department of Education during the year. If paid for at commercial rates, would cost the teachers nearly $4,000.

ATHLETICS SPLIT DOUBLE BILL WITH YANKS

In the Independence Day double headers Philadelphia was singularly successful against New York teams. The lowly Phils trimmed the Giants in both games, 6 to 3, and 5 to 4, while the Athletics who had waged a very fruitful campaign against the Yankees this season, brought the Hugmen down many percentage points by taking both games, 2 to 7 and 6 to 3.

The St. Louis Browns woke up to win a double header from the Tigrs 4 to 3, and 6 to 3, while the Senators continued their upward climb in the American league race by annexing both contests from the Red Sox, 7 to 4 and 3 to 2. Walter Johnson pitched the first victory while a Mr. Berry, the sterling relief pitcher, went the route in the night cap.

Two pitchers' battles marked the Cleveland-Chicago games. The Indians carried off the first, with Levenson in the box, 4 to 2, but Thomas held them to six hits in the second, the White Sox winning 8 to 0.

The National league race was little altered by the flock of games. Pittsburgh divided two games with the Cubs, winning the opener 4 to 1 but dropping the second 10 to 7. Five Pirate pitchers were mauled in this encounter.

The Reds, leaders in the older circuit, split with the fast moving Cardinals, taking the first game behind Donohue's hurling, 4 to 0, but losing the second 7 to 5 because Rixey, Nehf and Lucas were pounded hard.

The Robins continued to show batting paralysis with Jess Petty in the box and dropped the first game to the Braves 5 to 4, although the left hander allowed only 7 hits. Wilbert Robinson's band came back with a batting hero in the second fracas and won 14 to 5, scoring 7 runs in the opening stanza.
