He's Keeping His Word

• But His Trail Leads To Bank Robbery

He must have meant his vow when he told officers here he would never go to prison.

Still, he received two 5-year terms in 32nd District Court and extra security prevailed as a safeguard against any escape attempt.

But Donald Gene Richardson, 22, had other court appearances, so off he went in handcuffs to other towns.

Here it was only burglary and theft -- all in one break-in at Jay Adams Chevrolet at about 2 o'clock in the morning of Jan. 16.

Now, the charges are more serious and the young man from Sweetwater is fast becoming one of the most wanted criminals.

Jail breaking and assault of a sheriff in Eastland County May 27.

Kidnapping of six Clyde residents May 29 and car theft in Sweetwater.

Bank robbery in Houston this month that carried away $28,000 in loot.

Police were notified here this week that Richardson, the guy who entered Jay Adams Chevrolet here in January and rode away in a 1969 Chevelle is one of two robbers of the Harrisburg National Bank in Houston.

Richardson was identified by police as the robbery suspect by a palm print found in an abandoned auto used in the bank hiest. A bank teller identified Richardson's companion in the Eastland County jail break, Harvey Dale Webb, 21, of Bossier City, La., as one of the bank robbery pair.

Police have been alerted that the two men, both destined for the state penitentiary when they broke away in Eastland, are probably armed and dangerous.

Before the pair was heard from through the Houston robbery, the last seen of them was May 29 when headed west on Interstate 20 toward Colorado City.

This report came to police after two gunmen - believed to be Richardson and Webb - had kidnapped six Clyde residents and forced them to drive the pair to Sweetwater, where the gunmen stole another car and drove west.

Richardson had been sentenced to two 5-year prison terms in Colorado City April 21, only a month before he fled the Eastland jail.

"He told us he wasn't going to the pen," Police Chief Jesse Browning recalled here Friday.

Sheriff Lewis Claxton, who was warned to be careful in handling the prisoner, said the same.

That's why special security measures were in effect for Richardson during his brief stay in Mitchell County, even when moving from his cell to the bath.

Richardson at that time had a reputation with officers in his hometown and it was spreading into other areas. But his record had more to do with petty stuff when he was a youngster.

However, it was growing into more -- like the burglary at Jay Adams Chevrolet. Still, burglars usually don't turn to armed robbery and kidnapping.

City patrolmen found the abandoned '69 Chevelle a mile south of town on Robert Lee Highway about 3:17 a.m. on the morning of Jan. 16. Further investigation revealed that Richardson and his companion had pried open the auto firm's front door, broken into cigarette machine, got into the box holding keys to cars, looked through an unlocked safe, stolen an expensive set of tools belonging to J. B. Magill.

After retracing their steps, putting the key box in order, re-locking the front door, they broke the chain across the auto lot and drove away in the new model.

When Richardson was arrest-

Museum Likes Park

Natural Setting For Permanent Home

Colorado City Historical Museum's permanent home may be Ruddick Park.

Nothing official, understand, but that is the location which will be recommended to City Council.

If City Council okays the plan, then a longtime question mark will be erased.

Museum board members this week voted for the city park site following a survey of prospective locations with Miss Diana C. Files, museum consultant from Texas State Historical Survey Committee in Austin.

Their recommendation is expected to go before City Council officially July 14, according to Ralph Lee, board chairman.

The city has tabbed $20,000 for the museum and the fact the proposed location in Ruddick Park on city-owned land will stretch those dollars. This fact of economy that will not require site purchase, was influential in the board's decision.

However, other sites in various areas of the city were considered and inspected by the board along with Miss Files, the consultant from Austin.

These included vacant lots on Hickory, Chestnut across street from First Methodist Church, downtown sites on Second St, and on West Third St. south of Courthouse.

The Ruddick Park site also has a natural setting for this locale, is in a park area already well-known and popular to citizens of this area, and will have ready access with State 208 by-pass route on the east as well as with city traffic routes.

Search for a permanent home has been under way for several years. Since its beginning, the museum has been housed in the American Legion Hut, a facility which is leased.

For various reasons, and among these has been the financial bill for purchasing or renovating buildings, prospective permanent sites have been eliminated. These include the Legion Hut and the Cassie Roney Hotel behind the Postoffice now being converted to Colorado City Playhouse.

The Ruddick Park site to be proposed by the Museum board is that area immediately south of the swimming pool and overlooking the amphitheater area now a rose garden.

Miss Files, who also instructed Mrs. Claud Eudy and other Museum officials in cataloguing museum pieces during her three-day consulting here, praised the museum.

She described it as a "wonderful collection for a small town and urged the community to continue its support and interest for expanding the museum.

She complimented the museum for striving to develop its interests for the Mitchell County heritage, which was so important in the history of all West Texas.

"This is an excellent program for a small museum," Miss Files explained, "It allows the museum to pin-point its endeavor for a central theme and to develop a continuity with its artifacts and museum displays."

"Too often small museums make the mistake of deviating from its local atmosphere and heritage," she said. "When this happens, it is likely to spread its interests too thin and fail to develop a central theme or image which the public deserves to see and preserve."

This central theme here in your Colorado City Museum is good," she added.

The Austin consultant told the board she would be available for a return trip to assist the local museum when the board requests.

Water Line Study

Cost Estimates Are Due

City officials are going to get a definite idea what it would cost to loop a 6-inch water main on Interstate 20 by-pass and connect with a similar line on East 10th St.

City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr. asked for authority to obtain costs on the project at the end of a special City Council meeting Friday evening.

Councilmen, who had moments before approved installation of a water line to W. W. Cooper residence north of Interstate 20, threw up no roadblocks to the cost check.

Sadler said he would like to look into the possibility of the 6-inch line, extending east on Interstate 20 from a point near Villa Motel, and servicing the area of Truck Town and other businesses in the area, then looping south back to East 10th Street where another 6-inch line now dead ends.

"This would provide needed fire protection for an Interstate 20 business area," Sadler said, "and the loop, if economically possible, is needed."

Councilman Mike Burt, quick with an affirmative view, also suggested that the manager "look into" the Eastover Addition water problem, too, expecially in the area of East 16th, 15th and 14th streets.

Much of this residential area is serviced by 2-inch lines that began with development after World War 2 and creates a special problem, the manager pointed out.

The extension to the Cooper resident on the old Snyder road will be a 2-inch line from a municipal line now north of Interstate 20 on State Highway 208 (to Snyder).

Cooper and city will share 50-50 in cost of the 5,200 feet extension, each paying $702, Sadler said. Contractor Glenn Hemphill will dig the ditch and city crews will lay the line.

City 'Gases Up'

Joins Rate Opposition

City Council wasted no time Friday in voting to join other Texas cities in opposition to a Lone Star Gas Company proposed rate increase.

The vote to join cities of Texas Municipal League was unanimous in the special called meeting at 6 p.m. in City Hall.

Mayor John Chinn signed the instrument notifying the League's committee that Colorado City would team with the other cities and pay its prorata share of the costs.

That expense, figured at rate of one cent for every gas meter within the city, will probably be less than $22.

Lone Star Gas has requested Texas Railroad Commission for an increase from 35.4 cents to 44.8 cents per thousand cubic feet it pays itself for delivering gas to the outskirts of a city.

In 1960 this rate was upped from 30 cents to 35.4 cents.

After the delivery rate was granted by the Rairlroad Commission, then Lone Star appeared at individual City Halls for corresponding increases in the rates for its residential and commercial customers within the towns its services.

Dallas City Attorney Alex Bickley is heading the committee which will shape up the opposition data and cross examine gas company witnesses at the Railroad Commission Hearing July 28.

The committee, with utilities supervisors from Fort Worth and Dallas backing them up, say the delivery increase asked by Lone Star could result in local residential and commercial rates jumping from 11 to 13 per cent customer.

School Tax Values Up

Colorado Independent School District may gain more than one-third million dollars in evaluations on its new tax roll.

Assessed evaluations, remember, and not tax income.

The rough extimate came Friday from School Tax Director J. S. (Jay) Craddock Jr. following the district's annual board of equilization hearings this week.

Craddock said the local increase - new buildings, additions and real estate - will probably add between $50,000 and $55,000 in new valuations to the roll.

Increases in the oil industry assessments may pick up what the school district lost last year in the same category - around $300,000 in valuations.

The comeback in oil valuations is caused mainly by the increased production in Standard Oil and other oil properties which are increasing production with water flooding process.

In case you think this rise in property valuations means a big jump in tax income, well forget it. The district's tax rate brings in about $15,000 in actual cash for school operations for each million dollars of valuations on the roll.

And that is with 100 per cent collection, which just isn't natural.

So, the increase helps, of course. But the school board is still faced with a problem for additional income to meet higher teacher salaries voted by the State Legislature and other rising costs.

Eighteen persons appeared Wednesday before the school board's tax equalization group of W. J. (Dub) Waldrip, Jeff Taylor and O. B. Trulock Jr.

Less than 10 others - mostly representing oil companies - discussed their tax valuations with Pritchard & Abbott, the schools' tax consultants.

Four minor reductions were granted during the hearing. Notices were sent to owners of more than 150 pieces of property of impending changes in valuations.

Interviews Open Study

Business, Economic Research Here

Mitchell County is one of 30 areas of the state to be involved in an intensive three-year study of the structure of the economy.

Research assistants from Hardin-Simmons University's Bureau of Economics and Business Research will begin conducting interviews with selected firms at communities in Mitchell County between now and next fall.

"The study is an Input-out-put analysis," said Dr. Jim Vinson, head of the H-SU bureau. "It is a technical analysis of the interrelationships between industries. It is a statewide accounting system which will illustrate the sources of supplies of Texas industries as well as the total market."

The project is being conducted through the Division of Planning Coordination of the Governor's Office.

Counties involved in the study in which H-SU research assistants will be conducting interviews include the following: Taylor, Mitchell, Nolan, Callahan, Eastland, Comanche, Brown, Coleman, Stephens, Shackleford, Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Kent, Stonewall. Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Knox, Baylor, Archer, Montague, Clay, Wichita, Wilbarger, Foard, Cottle, Childress, and Hardeman.

H-SU is one of eight institutions of higher learning in the state to assist in the project. Other schools include the University of Texas, Texas Tech, Texas A&M, the University of Houston, the University of Texas at El Paso, University of Texas at Arlington, and Pan American University.

Governor Preston Smith, in letters to business leaders telling of the study, said, "The project will identify and measure markets for products, the source of supply for production inputs, and gross product industry by industry, for the entire state and each of its nine sub-regions.

Smith said that the data, when obtained, "will aid state government in its functions of planning for transportation, education, industrialization, health services, water supplies and in many other activities state government is required to undertake.

The governor's letters began arriving at Colorado City business and industrial firms last week and urged cooperation with the research study.

H-SU field representatives, between now and next fall, will interview selected Texas manufacturing firms in communities in the 30-county region.

Vinson said results of the survey will be made available to those interested in the development of the state. "Immediate returns will be efficiency measures for individual operations and planning for more adequate supply sources and market outlets."

"Texas is one of the few states to employ this relatively new technique," said Vinson. "Few states have been progressive enough to adopt it."

In Vinson's view, Texas will be taking a major step forward by involving itself in such an extensive study.

The H-SU Bureau of Economics and Business Research, headed by Vinson, is nearing the end of its first year of operation. The bureau will maintain economic information obtained by the research assistants in the 30-county area.

Farmers Air Views

Area cotton farmers had an opportunity Thursday night to express their views on a new farm program to replace the Agricultural Act of 1965 which will expire in 1970.

The meeting, one of several held in the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Inc. area, was in the banquet room of the Holiday Inn in Sweetwater and was attended by approximately 50 farm leaders from Taylor, Scurry, Mitchell, Nolan and Fisher counties.

The meetings are being sponsored by officers and directors of the RPCG serving cotton farmers in 32 West Texas counties, according to Charles G. Bragg, executive vice president of the grower organization. J. B. Cooper Jr., Roscoe cotton farmer and president of RPCG, served as chairman of the meeting.

Without exception, farmers in the RPCG who have attended such meetings have expressed opposition to the House-passed amendment to the USA appropriation bill that would place a $20,000 limit on the amount of payments that may be made to an individual farmer under existing federal farm programs, Bragg stated.

Opposition leaders point out that blanket limitations of $20,000 is inequitable and indefensible, that it would constitute class legislation, attack "bigness," discourage initiative, a smack of discrimination and seek to bring all farmers down to one level.

Cotton producers have pointed out that the only payments which will be made to growers on the 1969 crop are to protect farm income while making price support loan rates near the world price level.

Producers receive no payment for taking cotton land out of production. There is no export subsidy, since the loan rate was set at the es-

CONVERSATION CORNER

HALF the fun of getting older is remembering things that didn't happen. . .and remembering nearly everything better than it was.

Remember summer outdoor revivals? Remember when there were as many fans as there were ladies at church? Hey. Remember ceiling fans in all the stores?

Remember screened-in sleeping porches? Remember when ice was delivered daily but you had to go to the post office to get the mail? Remember the three-cent stamp?

Remember when the morning or noon or early afternoon train was the biggest event of the day?

REMEMBER when young swains in white flannel pants and navy blue jackets escorted girls in organdy dresses to "the picture show?"

Remember the super-industrious homemakers who put embroidered covers on fly swatters? Remember "fly paper" in grocery stores and bakeries?

Those used to be the certain signs of summer.

EVER swing across the creek on a grapevine swing?

Ever go swimming in a "barr" ditch? Ever eat a watermelon cooled in a spring?

Ever take turns sitting on the ice cream freezer. . .or been on a real hay ride?

Ever sit on the front porch after supper until it was cool enough to go to bed?

Those, too, used to be sure signs of summer.

SIGNS of summer here and now?

Well, everybody from age two to 100 goes about in dark sun glasses. We have become a race of big dark sunshades where our eyes used to be.

We have become a nation of long brown legs where summer clothes used to be.

'Course there is nothing new about the now fashionable "See Through" phrase. Only it means something quite different in this era.

TIME WAS when no nice girl went forth on a summer day without asking sister, mother or girl friend, to look at her and answer "Can you see through me?"

If the answer was "Yes," a nice girl added another petticoat and that was that.

"See Through" this season, means a sheer blouse or garment worn over nothing but skin--according to those citified columns which record the doings and un-doings of the Jet Set and show world.

AM ALL for progress. And wouldn't go back to "the good old summer time" and that earlier version of "See Through' for $10,000 cash.

Anybody who wants the good old days can have 'em. But if that McCall's magazine article which predicted that by the year 2,000 nobody would wear any clothes any more should come true. . .this old fuddy-duddy reserves the right to go into utter seclusion.

Provided, you understand, that she's still around.

Clothes may not make the woman. But they do make the woman mighty happy.

Never knew a woman in my life with "nothing to wear" who could stand it.

SEEN LATELYS included Gladys Howard wearing a becoming dress of summer white. . .and Wanda Hamilton in the most gorgeous pink dress of the linen-look. Over our way from Loraine was Mrs. Wiley Walker in a summer print.

Saw Floy (Mrs. R. C.) Johnson. . .The nice Curlees, Tandy and Lovess, coffee-breaking together. . .Lora Lady, Mayme May, and Margi Treadway.

Another time, saw Buster Baker and Ross Daniels. Ross and his wife Evelyn returned from a tour of Europe recently. He was particularly intrigued with people of Greece and with Czechoslovakia, says he.

FAMILIAR FACES here and there places belonged to Mona Scott. . .Mrs. E. L. Ashford. Caught a glimpse of Don Benson. . .J. B. Marshall. . .Mrs. Joe Vincent. . .Murrell Blassingame. . .and Clem Myers.

Sitting in a row were Anne (Mrs. Bill) Cook, the golden-haired niece who makes her home with her, Melinda Cook Wallace, and Anne's sister Mary Lloyd (Mrs. R. J.)

Mary and Anne were speaking with fondness of their mother Mrs. J. W. Rice, 80, and her new permanent. Also her summer hobby--jelly making.

THAT story with the by-line "By Brenda Bell" in the Ft. Worth Star Telegram the other day was written by our Brenda Bell.

Graduate of Colorado High School and of University of Texas at Austin, Brenda has been teaching in Austin.

Recently, the journalist genes inherited from her father, Joe Bell, Record publisher, took over and Brenda is now on the Capitol Bureau Staff of the Ft. Worth Star Telegram after working evenings and nights on legislative hearings for Long News Service at Austin.

Craig Bell, son of Madge and Joe, is at Quantico, Va. where he's training in Platoon Leader's Class for 10 weeks this summer at the Marine Corps Officers Candidate School. Student at University of Texas in Austin, he is in the US Marine Corps Reserves.

HEAR TELL that Bob Schauwecker, employee at TESCO'S Morgan Creek Power Plant, and his family are enroute to Yarmouth, Mass., which is on Cape Cod.

Bob, his wife LaVonne, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. Lewis Claxton, and their children Belinda, 9, Steve, 7, and Perry, 4, will visit Bob's parents the Fred Schauweckers for two weeks.

HEAR, too, that Timmy Bell, son of Carl and Mary Lou Bell, is to fly from Dallas to the West Coast and then to Hawaii for a visit!

Did you know that Rusty Steakley and Carl Webb, sons of the Jene Steakleys and the Brice Webbs, are part of the T&P Railroad work crew at Ranger this summer? Carl and Rusty are laboring at shoveling gravel and liking it, according to 'Ree Webb, mother of Carl.

Carl, his wife Rose Ann (White) and their seven-week-old son Carl Brice Webb III, are living at Eastland, and attending evening classes at Cisco Junior College. They will return to West Texas State at Canyon, come fall.

This weekend they're on a fun trip to Ft. Worth while lucky 'Ree and Brice are keeping the baby, here on cloud nine.

Rusty, Baylor University sophomore, lives next door to the young Webbs in Eastland and will go back to Baylor when the work's all done this fall.

Miss Beisel, Moore Exchange Nuptial Vows In Church Rites

Miss Virginia Ellen Beisel became the bride of Michael Ray Moore Saturday in a mid-afternoon ceremony in All Saints Episcopal Church in Wichita Falls.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Beisel of Wichita Falls.

MRS. MICHAEL RAY MOORE, . . . nee Virginia Ellen Beisel.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Moore Jr. of 1120 Walnut Street are parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. H. Edwin Caudill of All Saints Episcopal Church and Rev. Ralph E. Macy of St. Pauls Episcopal Church of Lubbock officiated in double ring wedding vows.

Baskets of mixed summer flower decorated the altar. Candelabra, fern and swags of smilax and multi-colored satin completed the setting. Pews were marked with bows of multi-colored satin and fern.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a bridal gown of Chantilly lace. Fitted bodice was styled with a scalloped square neckline encrusted with crystals and seed pearls and long slim sleeves. Tiers of lace enhanced the fullness of the gathered skirt. An attached cathedral train repeated tiers of lace.

She carried a cascading bouquet of phalaenopsis, stephanotis and white orchid.

Tom Pearce of Wichita Falls was organist. Miss Carol Owen, vocalist, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Song of Ruth".

Mrs. Steven Hadley of Arlington was matron of honor.

She wore a pink gown fashioned with white Schiffilattice lace at the empire waist in back flowing panels. She carried a mille fleur cascade accented with pink rosebuds.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Norman Johnson of Lubbock, Mrs. Harold D. Lanham of Lubbock, the former Cathy Hill of Colorado City; Miss Carolyn Moore of Colorado City, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Kathy Nordeen of Madison, Wis., the bride's cousin.

They were dressed identically to the matron of honor in rainbow colors of yellow, blue, green and lavender. They carried cascades of mixed summer flowers.

Candy Bullington of Wichita Falls was flower girl.

Candles were lighted by Jerry Johnson and Brad Stallcup of Wichita Falls.

Mart Hamilton of Dallas was best man.

Groomsmen were Steven Hadley of Arlington, Wayne Beisel of Wichita Falls, brother of the bride; Clay Strange and Ronald Hillhouse of Colorado City.

Ushering guests were Jerel Graves of Colorado City, Norman Johnson and Harold Lanham of Lubbock.

Home of the bride's parents was setting for a reception following the wedding ceremony.

Bride's table was draped with a pink taffeta cloth and trimmed with swags of bridal smilax. An epergne filled with mixed summer flowers centered the table. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with cascades of mixed flowers.

Members of the houseparty were Miss Karen Hardee, Mrs. Otis Wesley Nichols, Miss Cheryl Shahan, Miss Barbara Miller, Miss Beverly Elranson, Mrs. Larry Negri, Mrs. John Baird, Mrs. James Roderick, Miss Bonnie O'Brien, Miss Carolyn Baggarly, Mrs. Robert Gavin, Mrs. John Meux, Mrs. R. C. Gilbow, Mrs. William Yates and Mrs. Dave Smith.

For a honeymoon trip to New Orleans, La., the bride changed to a pink silk coat dress with matching accessories.

They will be at home at 1900 Baylor, Apt. 6 in Lubbock.

The bride was graduated from S. H. Rider High School in Wichita Falls where she was a Junior Forum Debutante, member of Goal Post Decorators, National Honor Society, annual staff and Quill and Scroll.

She will graduate with honors from Texas Technological University in August with a bachelor of science in secondary education.

At Tech she is a member of Tech Union Committee, assistant chairman of International Interests Committee and has been named to the dean's list for four semesters.

Candy Stripers Add Zest To Lodge Living

By LENA BAUMANN,
Record Women's Editor

Youthfulness, complete with cheery, bouncey chatter and conversation, is very much in evidence at Valley Fair Lodge this summer.

With more than 20 Candy Stripers working at various times each week there is much goings and comings by the high school girls in their crisp pink and white pinafore uniforms.

The Candy Striper program, begun in 1961 as a summer homemaking project, has grown to its largest number this year, according to Mrs. Caddo Matthews, head of the program and a homemaking teacher at Colorado High School.

It was begun as a community volunteer service project, Mrs. Matthews explained, and its benefits to the girls themselves has been very great.

"They have gained self-confidence and self-under-standing," she continued. "It is a means of preparation for the world of work in that they learn to be dependable and get along with supervisors and co-workers."

Some of the current Candy Stripers are interested in vocations that are a service to others and through the program they are beginning now to see progress toward their goals.

The project is a part of the present summer homemaking program for Colorado High School, but the Candy Striper program is open to all girls.

Some Candy Stripers continue their volunteer work after school and on Saturdays during winter months.

For the homemaking students, the project is just one in a variety of projects toward personal development this summer, Mrs. Matthews said.

A review of this summer's Candy Stripers reveals that they are leaders in their churches and community as well as in Colorado High.

Participating in the program are as follows:

Elaine Mike, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mikle, is a member of Wolverines, high school choir, a line officer for local Rainbow Chapter and was an assistant worker in Girl Scout Day Camp.

Leta Miller, CHS junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Miller, is a member of school choir and Future Homemakers of America. She is vice president of her Sunday School Class at Oak Street Baptist Church.

Shirley Childers, sophmore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Childers, is active in Wolverines, GAA and FHA of Colorado High.

Debbie Lee, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lee, is a member of GAA, Wolverines and FHA. She plans some day to have a kindergarten or nursery school.

Sherry Williams, sophomore and daugther of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Williams, is a member of FHA and Wolverines. She is a Mitchell County delegate for 4-H activities and is an officer of her Sunday School Class at Payne Baptist Church.

She plans to be an elementary teacher.

Leada Sanderson, senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sanderson, is a member of Future Teachers and Future Business Leaders of America at Colorado High and attends Oak Street Baptist Church.

Linda Sparks, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sparks, is a member of GAA at high school. She wants to be an interior decorator.

Judy Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Fuller, is a member of Wolf Band and Lone Wolf yearbook staff. Her main hobbies are piano and twirling.

Carolyn Light, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Light, is a member of Wolverines, choir, FHA. A senior Girl Scout, she assisted in this year's Girl Scout Day Camp.

Glenda Anderson, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Anderson, worked in play school in high school this summer. She is interested in science and plans to be a nurse.

Susan Jackson, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Jackson, is a line officer in Rainbows, a member of CHS Wolverines and active in First Methodist Church.

Rachael Jones, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Jones, will be a Wolverine officer next school term and is an active member of FHA. She is interested in teaching and nursing vocation.

Marilyn Newby, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Coleman, is a member of FHA, GAA and Wolverines. She enjoys "candy striping" because "it is a way to help other people and make them happy."

Kathy Collins, sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Collins, is combining her volunteer work with a job at Dairy Frost.

Beckie Camp, sophmore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Camp, is a Wolverine and likes outdoor sports, especially horseback riding.

Dwainna Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Williams, is a member of Wolf Band, FTA in Colorado High and active in First Baptist Church.

Gaye Leonard, junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Leonard, enjoys working part-time at fountain of Colorado Drug and is a member of First Christian Church.

Linda Gonzales, sophomore and ward of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lopez, is active member of Emmanuel Baptist Mission and Mitchell-Scurry County Baptist Associational youth work. She now is making plans to go with an associational group to El Paso area for missionary work this summer.

Bridgett Acuff, sophmore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Acuff, is a Wolverine and member of CHS choir. She plans to be a nurse.

Linda Reddell, a sophmore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Reddell, has already completed 30 hours of "Candy Striping". In CHS she is a member of Girls Athletic Association, FHA and will join Wolverines next school term. She is an active member of Buford Baptist Church.

Kathy Cannon; daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cannon, is a member of FHA and GAA. Because she "likes to help people" she is interested in a career in nursing.

Among duties of Candy Stripers at the lodge are assisting with trays, supplying water for rooms, tending flowers and mail and entertaining patients with games and music.

RICHARDSON

ed in Sweetwater, police found loot from another out-of-town burglary. From there the trail broadened and soon the guy faced felony charges in a list of towns in addition to Colorado City.

It was in Eastland soon after Richardson was sentenced to 7 years for theft that he escaped.

He and Jerry Wayne Baird, 18, of Abilene, under 9 year term for burglary, were being returned from 91st District Court when they attacked Sheriff Lefty Sublett.

Both the sheriff and his wife were injured and before fleeing, the pair released Webb from his jail cell. All three rode away in the sheriff's car.

Baird was recaptured June 1 near Abilene, two days after Richardson and Webb were believed to have kidnapped the Clyde group and traveled west.

Officers here are wondering if Richardson's new traveling companion, Harvey Dale Webb, has not influenced the burglar-thief into the more dangerous, serious path of crime.

Webb, before the Eastland escape, had been sentenced to 75 years for rape and was facing other criminal charges in Fort Worth.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Sir:

It is my privilege to be writing your community to express our deep appreciation for inviting the residents and staff of Unit 5, Big Spring State Hospital, to attend a picnic in Colorado City.

Fifty-four hospital residents and nine staff members arrived via bus and autos to enjoy your hospitality for a day that will be long remembered. The western music was enjoyed by all.

The Circuit Riders' are to be commended for the excellent job they did in organizing this splendid picnic. Many citizens from your community helped with this endeavor - to all of you, we send a very special THANKS.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Betty Duncan

FARMERS

timated world price level instead of domestic level.

Payments for not planting, or diverting acreage from certain crops, will not apply to cotton taken out of production this year. Neither price support or production payments are "something for nothing," Bragg stated. There is a consideration on the part of the farmer.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin has stated that he believes the department can design a sound farm program that limits the amount of money that can be paid to any one farmer for programs following the 1970 crop year. To make such legislation effective, changes are needed, he said. With only the simple amendment that is possible in connection with appropriation bills, the so-called "snap-back" provision for cotton would become effective.

This requires that the secretary, in event of payment limitations, set the price support loan at 65 per cent of parity. At the April parity price of 47.58 cents the support under that provision could be set at no lower than 30.9 cents a pound, compared to 20.25 cents on the last cotton crop.
